Allred Charges Campaign Under Way To Force Sales Tax

Foes Of Revenue Raising Singled Out In Attack

Lobbyists For Pipe Lines And Oil Companies Said Favoring Sales Levy; Income Tax Is Favored

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 1.—Governor James V. Allred charged today a campaign of propaganda to frighten farmers and little business men had been organized by persons ostensibly opposing new taxes and actually favoring a sales levy.

While a committee of the house of representatives labored on an "omnibus" bill levying taxes on many sources, including oil and utilities, he redoubled his attacks on legislative and other elements maintaining economy in goverment, instead of additional taxes, were needed.

Committees Are Working

In addition to the omnibus measure which it was estimated would raise $9,500,000 annually, the committee, a sub-group of the house revenue and taxation committee, was working on a bill to boost the corporation franchise tax yield $1,500,000. The legislature had adjourned until Monday.

MARCH PLANNED ON CAPITAL

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 1. (AP)—Corpus Christi business men and industrialists, thoroughly aroused by a threatened legislative move to increase oil and gas taxes and levy an income and franchise tax, tonight were organizing South Texas for a no-tax march on Austin sometime next week.

Henry B. Baldwin, noted realtor and oil developer, advanced the idea in an indignation meeting at the City hall this afternoon and the chamber of commerce started calling for enlistments. Telegrams went out tonight to practically every chamber of commerce and civic organization in South Texas, inviting the participation by delegations from their towns.

Baldwin said he believes it possible to raise an army of approximately 1,500 to march down Congress avenue, armed with banners and Governor Allred's campaign pronouncements that no new taxes are necessary.

In a letter to Edgar H. Eggert of Robstown, the governor denied his tax program to finance social security and eliminate a $15,000,000 treasury deficit was anything to be alarmed at, reiterating he sought new revenue from those who were able to pay. He singled out especially the pipelines.

Lobbyists Favor Sales Tax

Lobbyists for all the big pipeline companies and other special interests were in favor of a general sales tax, he said, which would naturally fall on the farmers and working people and on the farmers' commodities.

"Just at present spokesmen for this group, in an effort to defeat my program, are saying we don't need any taxes at all," he asserted. "This is simply a subterfuge. Everyone of them would vote for a general sales tax tomorrow if I would agree to it.

Plan Is Outlined

"The plain is to stave off any taxes as long as possible, until this state gets into such a terrible shape that, in desperation, some future governor will turn to a general sales tax.

"Meantime, they have organized a campaign of propaganda to frighten the farmers and little business men into thinking that my tax program is going to hurt them, whereas, on

Tech Rodeo Queen To Be Selected Today

In an election at Texas Technological college today, the queen of La Remuda, Tech rodeo, will be selected by the student body from candidates announced by the student council.

Candidates and clubs they represent are: Misses Billie Bloom, Lubbock, San Souci; Linda Treadwell, Menard, D.F.D.; Ella Norene Moreman, Post, Ko Shari; Jean Fagala, Greenville, Las Chaparitas; Merle Houston, Stanton, Las Vivaraches, and Estelle Hodel, Lockney, Association of Women students.

A ballot box, under supervision of the student council will be placed in the east rotunda of the administration building and students will vote from 8 to 5 o'clock.

The rodeo sponsored annually by the Block and Bridle club of Tech, is slated for Oct. 9 and is under the direction of Vestel Askew of Del Rio and Joe Christian of Seagraves.

Proceeds of La Remuda help defray expenses of livestock judging teams representing Tech in contests over the country.

Permanent Cotton Plan, Steering Middle Path Between Unlimited Production And Control, Offered

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 1.—Secretary Wallace placed before 3,000 Southern farmers an agricultural leaders today a six-point permanent cotton program steering a course midway between rigid curtailment and unlimited production.

He challenged his audience to array their forces in its defense to enable the cotton belt "to earn a bigger income."

"The lines are already being drawn for and against the new farm legislation which will be needed to carry out" the program, he said.

Advises Unity On New Bill

The secretary advised the agricultural South to unite with farmers elsewhere in seeking a new farm bill "that will serve the long-time welfare of agriculture and the nation."

The ultimate solution to the complex cotton problem, he said, lies in a continuance of a "moderate adjustment of production" such as would preserve the fertility of the soil and "still allow production of at least as much cotton as the markets of this and other countries have been accustomed to take."

Intends To Keep Markets

"The United States intends to keep its place in the world cotton market," he said, by supplementing the market price with payments to cooperating farmers on an allotted cotton production goal," probably financed by a moderate processing tax.

Other points in the program would provide: encouragement of greater consumption of cotton, increased production of home food and feed crops; authority for loans to prevent price collapses; and finally, authority for marketing quotas on the entire crop.

He described the "processing tax as the "farmer's tariff."

Wallace took cognizance of a prospective 16,000,000-bale Southern crop, and 19,000,000 bale foreign crop, which he said would lead to a world carryover next August of from 17 million to 18 million bales.

Year's Building Permits Exceed Million Total

The year's final quarter began its building program Friday with a splurge of building permits authorizing construction and repairs for nearly $15,000 and sent the 1937 total skyrocketing above the million-dollar mark.

It was not until Dec. 31 that the 1936 aggregate exceeded that mark, according to figures released from the office of the City building inspector.

Gain Over 60 Per Cent

Authorization of construction of a $9,000 residence by Dr. W. A. Jackson, dean of the graduate school of Texas Technological college, sent the 1937 total above one million dollars. After tabulating Friday's figures, the year's total stood at $1,010,829.41. On Oct. 1, 1936, the year's total amounted to $619,763.10, only a little more than 60 per cent of the figure for the corresponding period of this year.

Authorities predicted that last year's aggregate of $1,088,730.47 would be exceeded this month with several thousands of dollars to spare.

Figures Are Compared

Comparison of figures for months of this year with last show:

Month	1936	1937
January	$ 14,833.50	$ 73,412.50
February	136,438.00	60,710.00
March	70,117.50	91,602.00
April	19,736.00	122,094.50
May	30,275.00	159,988.00
June	58,714.50	144,143.00
July	100,747.60	45,905.50
August	75,934.00	97,874.91
September	112,967.00	169,560.50
Totals	$619,763.10	$995,290.91

Friday's ten permits represented estimated expenditures of $13,538.50.

Permits were to Dr. Jackson, owner, and R. E. McCurdy, contractor, to construct residence at 3107 Twenty-first street, $9,000; Miss Emma Main, owner, and H. E. Webb, contractor to build garage apartments at 1605 Avenue Y, $1,995; G. E. and Charlie Lockhart, owners, and Webb, contractor, to repair and alter building at 1832 Avenue H, $500; Mid Seale, owner and contractor, to repair and alter residences at 1616 Seventh street and 1614 Seventh street, $300 and $400, respectively; W. Medical Students Are Warned Against Being 'Money Hungry'

GALVESTON, Oct. 1. (AP)—Students of the state medical college and the John Sealy college of nursing were warned against "money hungry" doctors today by Dr. George Herrman, professor of clinical medicine at the college, who delivered the principal address at the 47th annual opening exercises.

Socialization of medicine may come to disillusionize "money hungry" doctors to whom medicine is a racket, he said, and who are opposed to the changing order in medicine for fear of losing their $20,000 and up incomes."

Dr. Herrman stressed the need of larger appropriations for medical research to aid in the solution of maladies which are now challeging the medical profession.

Sweeping Bill On Throttling Of Press Proposed In Canada

EDMONDTON, Alberta, Oct. 1. (AP)—The Alberta legislature had before it today a sweeping government bill "to insure publication of accurate news and information," providing that newspapers must publish government statements of policy and disclose the sources of all other information on demand.

Suspension of publication is included among the penalties for violation of the act.

A. & M. To Get Two Million For Dorms

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 1. (AP)—President T. O. Walton of Texas A and M. college said today that Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance corporation had advised him the corporation would lend the college $2,000,000 for construction of dormitories.

Walton said the college board of directors would meet soon to discuss the loan and that construction of the buildings would begin as soon as plans can be completed and contracts let.

The college plans to add 1,250 dormitory rooms on the campus. The additional facilities will make it possible to give dormitory accommodations to 5,000 students, Dr. Walton said.

Julian Montgomery To Assume Highway Duties On Monday

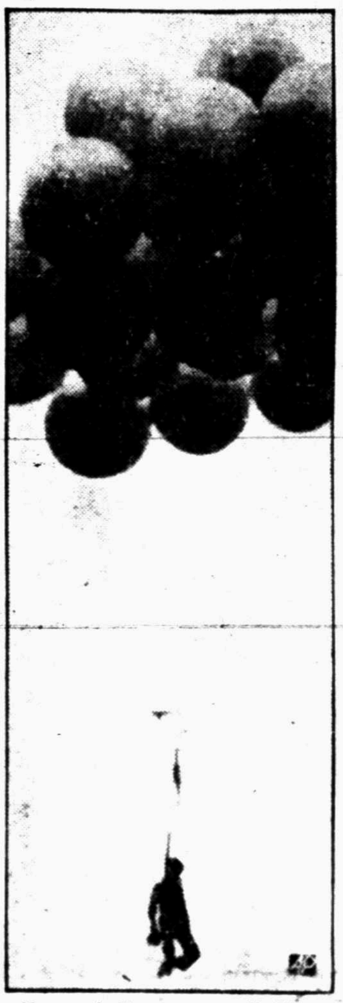
AUSTIN, Oct. 1. (AP)—Executive direction of the state highway department, one of the largest in the state government, will fall on the shoulders of Julian Montgomery Monday.

The former director of Public Works administration in Texas, chosen to succeed Gibb Gilchrist, chief highway engineer for 11 years, is attending the convention in Boston, Mass., of the American Association of State Highway Officials. Gilchrist resigned, effective Oct. 1, to become dean of engineering at Texas A. & M. college.

Fourteen-Year Sentence Given Former Roscoe Nightwatchman

SWEETWATER, Oct. 1. (AP)—Bill Dawson drew a 14-year prison sentence today for killing Mayor Arthur Parker of Roscoe last June. Dawson, former Roscoe nightwatchman who refused to give up his job after repeated efforts of the mayor to displace him, pleaded self-defense. The jury took the case yesterday.

On Unexpected Flight



Newsreel Cameraman Al Mingalone of New York tried Professor Piccard's multiple balloon device for some pictures from the air at Old Orchard Beach, Me. There weren't enough balloons the first time so he came down and added a couple. That was too many and unexpectedly he was jerked into the air, as shown here. After a 13-mile flight he was brought to earth by Rev. James J. Mullen, who shot holes in the balloons.

Chinese Troops Holding Lines

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Oct. 1.—Chinese defenders of Shanghai sent back word from their trenches tonight they were holding their own along the Shanghai front and counter-attacking Japanese in some sectors.

They told of routing Japanese troops in the vicinity of Kiangwan, north of Shanghai. Japanese admitted the Kiangwan civic center buildings had been evacuated but said their lines to the rear were unchanged.

Admiral Condemns Bombing

Japanese bombardment of Hankow and the Hankow-Canton railway Sept. 25 drew condemnation from Rear Admiral Harry Yarnell, commander of the United States Asiatic fleet.

The admiral branded erroneous a Japanese spokesman's statement that Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson had advised the Japanese navy that all Americans and other foreigners had been evacuated from the area by noon of Sept. 26. Yarnell said in reality Johnson told Japanese foreigners would be evacuated from the territory after that date.

Need Safe Route

He stated several thousand foreigners, including 1,000 Americans, are in the Yangtze river valley and added "it is imperative that a safe route" for their evacuation be agreed upon.

Chinese said Japan was considering a further warning to foreign powers to evacuate Nanking to avoid danger of air raids.

Deputy Obligingly Directs Man To His Arrest In City

ALL records for unique arrests here probably went by the board when Grady Harrist, 100 miles from Lubbock, grinned up his sleeve and virtually directed to jail a man he wanted on a pick up order.

Harrist was returning from Vernon with a person charged with forgery. He kept a weather eye peeled for a red automobile bearing New Mexico registration plates.

Somewhere near Paducah Harrist, deputy sheriff, spotted the car and kept it in sight until he pulled into a filling station at Matador.

The other car drove up alongside the deputy's machine and the driver inquired the way to Lubbock! Harrist was all smiles and especially obliging.

He followed leisurely the other machine into Lubbock and made the arrest.

The man arrested was nabbed for Sulphur Springs authorities in connection with worthless checks, said Sheriff Tom Abel.

Final Programs To Be Enlarged Throughout Day

THE curtain will ring down tonight on the 24th annual Panhandle-South Plains fair, one which exhibitors, officials and spectators alike have declared to be the most successful in the association's history.

But before the gates are barred, officials are expecting banner attendance and one which is likely to bring the total for the week second to the all-time record of 144,273 set in 1935. Attendance Friday totaled 18,374, an increase of 1,295 over the 17,079 figure of Friday of last year's show. Indications are that the total attendance may exceed the 125,954 of last year but there is virtually no prospect of equaling the all-time mark. Total for the five days thus far is 105,713 as compared to the 103,579 of the same period last year.

Program Is Enlarged

Several events have been arranged to make the final day of the fair the most interesting of them all. The races this afternoon, starting at 3:30 o'clock, will include six events instead of the usual five. One will be a sort of free-for-all, with the stable owners making their own rules for the contest. The others will be governed by the strict regulations established by the fair association.

The grandstand program at night likewise will be the most elaborate of the entire week. Frank LeMoind, manager of Michael's circus, promised that his own trio will "shoot the works." They have three distinct acts, including slack wire, comedy balancing and an aerial loop-the-loop, and the best will be combined into a single number. The Three Rolling Ramblers, presenting one of the greatest of all roller skating acts, Ahrendts' dog, pony and monkey circus and the cycling wizards, a clown act of real comedy, along with the Three Flying Fishers, will complete the circus part of the program.

To Repeat Fireworks Display

Then, as the grand finale before grandstand lights go out for the last time on the 24th annual fair, William Engelke will present his fireworks exhibition featured by the "Bombing of Shanghai." The particular program, which will include numerous other features, will be repeated by insistent request, officials of the fair association said. A collision of locomotives featured the display last night.

T. J. Tidwell's midway will be in full swing throughout the afternoon and evening, with prospects of a late closing. "Daredevil" Daniels will present his act at the top of a 150-foot pole on the midway about midnight.

The attendance thus far has definitely assured that the exposition

Lower Loan Action Awaiting Wallace

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (AP)—Vice-President John D. Goodloe of the Commodity Credit corporation said today no action would be taken on a plea for a 6 1-2 or 7 cent cotton loan bracket before the return to Washington of Secretary Wallace, but that a decision should be made within a week.

Requests for the new bracket were made by Representatives Marvin Jones of Amarillo and George Mahon of Colorado. They said it would aid farmers in a large West Texas area were the staple is so short it cannot qualify as collateral under the current loan program.

Old Age Assistance Officials Await Arrival Of U. S. Funds

AUSTIN, Oct. 1. (AP)—Old age assistance officials awaited today receipt of federal matching funds before mailing 113,971 October checks totaling $1,562,214.

W. A. Little, acting director, said application had been approved for $2,500,000 federal grant for matching October, November and December pensions and a warrant was expected within 10 days.

Liquor Administrator Insists Board Is On A Paying Basis

AUSTIN, Oct. 1. (AP)—Liquor Administrator Bert Ford insisted today the liquor board—which some legislators want to abolish—is on a paying basis.

Revenues of $5,680,886 for the past 10 months, he said, exceeded by $1,016,076 collections for a corresponding period a year ago and the excess alone was more than the department's appropriation for operation.

Bar Asks Public Hearings On All Court Nominees

Resolution Passes Friday At National Convention To Be Presented To Congress

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 1. — The American Bar association today demanded full public hearings by the senate on all judicial nominations—a last-minute compromise on a week's agitation for some expression on the Justice Black question.

The adopted resolution did not name Justice Hugo L. Black nor did it take cognizance of proposals for an investigation of the Black appointment or a general condemnation of judicial membership in secret, oath-bound orders. But the lawyers made it plain on the floor of the convention that their action was prompted by the Black appointment.

Resolution Is Presented

When the debate had subsided and both the bar's assembly and house of delegates had acted, the expression amounted to this:

"Resolved, that the American Bar association petition the senate of the United States to establish a rule requiring every nomination for judicial office to be referred to an appropriate committee and providing that such committee shall conduct a full public hearing upon matters touching the fitness and qualifications of the nominee for judicial office."

The association instructed that the resolution be placed before congress on the opening day of its next session.

Chicagoan Gives View

Lessing Rosenthal of Chicago, a leader in the demand for senate hearings, told reporters:

"This thing was inspired by what the senate committee did on the appointment of Black. When evidence was to be presented which I regard as being of utmost importance the senate committee refused to allow the evidence touching on the quali-

E. L. Farr Named League Leader

Sixty-five teachers of schools of Lubbock county met in the auditorium of the First Methodist church Friday night and elected officials of the county's Interscholastic league executive committee.

E. L. Farr, superintendent of Shallowater High school, was chosen director-general. Other voting members selected were Mrs. F. F. Dawkins of Cooper, director of declamation; Roy Boyd, principal of Roosevelt Rural High school, director of debate; E. R. Haskins, superintendent of Frenship Rural High school, director of extemporaneous speaking; Miss Bertha McAlister of New Deal school, director of spelling; Miss Thelma Cross of Idalou public schools, director of ready writers' contests; Joseph R. Griggs, county school superintendent, director of rural schools; and Joe Webb, principal of Slaton High school, director of athletics.

Non-voting members selected were James Martin, principal of Frenship Grade school, music memory; and Mrs. O. W. Richardson of Posey schools, picture memory.

Supt. Farr will appoint directors for contests in arithmetic, typing and shorthand, and choral singing.

East Texan Is Given 35 Years In Attack On 6-Year-Old Girl

NACOGDOCHES, Oct. 1. (AP)—For attacking a six-year-old girl Richard Bridwell, 33, was given a 35-year prison term today by a jury which deliberated 24 hours. The defense said an appeal would be taken. The state charged Bridwell attacked the girl Aug. 8.

Jailer Jim Is A Bit Forgetful; Lawyer Overstays His Time

THIS is the sad story of Ben Kucera, Lubbock attorney.

Kucera wanted 15 minutes with a dusky client who was locked in the upper reaches of county jail.

It was okay with Jim Robinson, deputy sheriff and jailer.

But Robinson, after locking Kucera in with the negro, promptly forgot him.

Rather than the 15 minutes requested, Kucera was an enforced guest in the bastile two hours thirty-five minutes!

At the end of that time Kucera had done everything this side of breaking down the barred windows, including yelling at everybody seen walking in the courtyard.

"Say," he bellowed at a fellow slouching past the jail, "go tell that jailer he's got a lawyer locked in up here."

"Lawyer, hell!" the lackadaisical one yelled back. "That's where all of 'em belong."

And kept slouching.

Nation Is Asked To Judge Fitness By Record In Senate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Justice Hugo L. Black said tonight he once joined but later resigned from the Ku Klux Klan. He asked the nation to judge his fitness for Supreme court service by his ten-year senate record.

That record "refutes every implication of racial or religious intolerance," he asserted in an unprecedented radio reply to those who have contended that Klan membership made him unworthy to serve upon the nation's highest court.

Pointedly, he castigated and disavowed any organization which seeks to limit freedom of worship, and, with equal vigor, he accused his critics of attempting, by their "campaign" against him, to "create racial and religious hatred."

He spoke from the modest residence of his close friend, Claude Hamilton, jr., assistant general counsel of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, while a crowd of the interested and curious, outside, brought police to the usually quiet suburban community.

Measured Each Word

In contrast with the vigorous style familiar to his senate colleagues, Black spoke deliberately as though measuring each word, stressing a phrase here, a sentence there, but always with his Alabama drawl predominant.

He indicated plainly that he has no intention of resigning from the justiceship to which he was appointed by President Roosevelt, and declared his address would be his last word on the Klan controversy.

A brief preface devoted to a declaration of devotion to the Bill of Rights, and its guarantees of religious freedom, brought him directly to the section of his address for which all listeners were waiting.

ROOSEVELT STARTS BACK

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 1. (AP)—President Roosevelt started his return train trip to Hyde Park, N. Y., from here tonight apparently without knowledge of the contents of Associate Justice Hugo Black's unprecedented radio address denying charges of present Ku Klux Klan affiliation.

Former Senator Black went on the air in Washington, D. C., while the chief executive was still on his way here by motor from the state capital at Olympia.

Joined But Later Resigned

"The insinuations of racial and religious intolerance made concerning me are based on the fact that I joined the Ku Klux Klan about 15 years ago," he said. "I did join the Klan. I later resigned. I never rejoined. What appeared then, or what appears now, in the records of the organization, I do not know.

"I never have considered and I do not now consider the unsolicited card given to me shortly after my nomination to the senate as a membership of any kind in the Ku Klux Klan. I never used it. I did not even keep it."

(His reference at this point apparently was to charges that he had received a life membership in the klan.)

"I Abandoned It"

"Before becoming a senator," he continued, "I dropped the Klan. I have had nothing whatever to do with it since that time. I aban-

Varied Reaction Expressed To Black's Talk

HOPES SUBJECT IS DROPPED

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 1. (AP)—Senator William E. Borah said tonight "nothing is to be gained by the discussion" of Associate Justice Hugo Black's one-time membership in the Ku Klux Klan and he expressed the hope "the subject will be dropped."

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—John L. Lewis, labor leader, lauded Justice Hugo L. Black's speech tonight as a "powerful and straightforward statement."

Commenting on the address in which Black said he once had joined the Ku Klux Klan but later had resigned and never rejoined, the chairman of the Committee For Industrial Organization said:

"It defines the creed of all Americans, as well as that of Justice Black."

Glass Maintains Stand

Another who commented was Senator Glass (D-Va.) The Virginian said he still didn't think the appointment of the Alabaman was "a fit one."

Questioned on Black's discussion of his Ku Klux Klan membership, Glass said:

"There is no comment to make. He admits he was a member of the Klan, but disavows the things the Klan was understood to advocate.

Conception Hasn't Changed

"I voted against confirmation of Senator Black regardless of the charges that undertook to connect him with the Klan. I didn't think the appointment was a fit one, and I don't think so now. He said nothing that changed my conception of what should be the type of person appointed to the Supreme court."

Fellow justices on the Supreme court had no comment on the unusual address.

Other comment:

Senator Thomas (D-Utah): "I think we ought to take him at his word and accept it 100 per cent."

As Much Fog As Ever

Representative Bloom (D-NY): "It seems to me we are as much in the fog as ever. It was a one-sided debate. I didn't get anything out of his speech. It was 15 minutes of

Will Leaves $10,000 To Assure Feline Good Home Until Death

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 1. (AP)—Kit-Cat, pet of the late Mrs. Linnie C. Beneke, is worth $10,000 (in cash) but there's no noticeable change in the feline's habits or mode of living.

Kit-Cat came into fortune with the probating of Mrs. Beneke's will. Originally the will bequeathed $25,000 to Kit-Cat and a pal, Newsie, but Newsie died and a codicil fixed Kit-Cat's share at $10,000.

The will provided that the money should be used to provide a good home.

Two neighbors were entrusted with administration of Kit-Cat's money. When Kit-Cat, too, dies the neighbors will receive what is left of the $10,000.

Child Dies Here Of Infantile Paralysis

Ila Jene Latimer, about 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Latimer of Littlefield, died in a sanitarium here at 10:45 o'clock Friday night after having been admitted about 24 hours earlier.

Death was attributed to infantile paralysis. At midnight a funeral home at Littlefield had been notified to take charge of the body.

Other than her parents, she was survived by three brothers and at least one sister, it was reported. Names of other survivors were not known here.

Funeral arrangements early today had not been completed.

FALL FLOWER FASHIONS

"LIVING flower jewels," following the mode of heavy barbaric ornaments decreed by fashion for the coming season, are the smartest thing in flowers for wear, according to O. W. Ribble, who with Mrs. Ribble returned Thursday from Philadelphia, where he attended the twenty-eighth annual convention of the International Florists Telegraph Delivery association and witnessed a spectacular show of flowers and fashions staged at Convention Hall before an audience of 10,000 persons prominent in style, social and civic centers of the East.

"These flower jewels take the form of heavy necklaces, armlets, brooches and coronets composed of flowers of rich hues, wine red, sapphire blue, rust and purple," said Mr. Ribble. "In fact, the newest trend is to wear flowers on the person that is not pinned directly on the gown but worn in the hair, on the wrists, around the [illegible], the handbag or on the hat."

FLOWERS for Madame as introduced at the Philadelphia show featured dahlias in corsages, both for street and formal wear. Small flowers were fashioned in calots or skull caps for evening wear and Juliet caps for brides were formed of [illegible] of lilies of the valley. One [illegible] headdress combined [illegible] Pampas grass with bird of paradise flowers. Ivy was used for corsages and boutonnieres for Scotch plaids were made of thistle [illegible] heather and for tweeds were [illegible] and grass.

One top style featured a "dumbbell" arrangement made of two tiny chrysanthemums. The orchid remains the aristocrat of flowers, according to Mr. Ribble. A sophisticated fashion is to wear a black velvet throat band with an orchid jewel in the center.

OTHER features: Twin clusters of flowers worn on the lapel of a tailored suit or on the collar of a fur coat; flowers form buttons down the front of a dress; topknots of flowers are worn with evening veils and Colonial nosegays will be the thing for the [illegible] dress.

Mrs. Bert Schiller McDonald, international flower stylist of the association, was in charge of the show.

COACH'S PHILOSOPHY

THE coach of a famous football team had been called upon to give an after dinner talk to a group of business men in the university town. He chose the principles of his own profession as the basis of a talk on business life and in concluding expounded these lofty phrases:

"After all is said and done, it pays to use football tactics in this old world. Look how nicely a football sails along, and all it is is a bag of wind and a stiff front."

Montana's Grizzlies Attack Texas Tech Here Tonight

Razzle-Dazzle Of Tech To Meet Power Of Montana In Intersectional Tilt

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

The University of Montana, with Milton Popovich and two dozen other lettermen, is here to play a game of football with Texas Tech.

Kick-off time is 8:30 o'clock this very night, and the place is Tech Stadium. The public is not only cordially invited, but definitely importuned, to sit in on this potentially exciting intersectional conflict. There is an admission charge, not at all out of line with value predicted to be received.

Coach Douglas Fessenden, Illinois, '27, brought his squad of 28 well-proportioned athletes from the Pacific Coast conference to Lubbock yesterday afternoon, shooed them through a spirited workout at Tech field last night, and pronounced them fit to play football. The Grizzlies arrived here by bus, ending a long train ride at Amarillo early yesterday. They had broken the 1,600-mile jaunt from Missoula with a nine-hour stopover and workout at Denver Thursday.

THE POPOVICH RECORD

Following is a brief record of the pigskin doings of Milt Popovich, Montana's great back, in 1936:

Carried ball 115 times on rushing plays for aggregate of 495 yards; returned punts for total of 470 yards, twice for touchdowns; returned kick-offs 363 yards, once 102 yards, for touchdown; caught passes for 12 yards; punted for average of 48 yards, and otherwise played a fair game of football.

Not an outspoken person, Fessenden failed to conceal a definite pride in his 1937 Montana ball club, of which folks hereabouts have heard plenty during recent weeks. He agreed that Milton Popovich, his fleet-footed captain, was quite a horse, and apt to lug the leather for quite a ways any time he wrapped his arms around it. Something of a punter, too, this Popovich, whose 1936 record is [illegible]sive, and who started the new season by carrying the mail for 385 yards against Whitman college last Saturday night, 238 of those yards from scrimmage plays.

Not The Only One

But Montana, who won six and lost three last year and who expects to do better with a veteran team—only two players were lost by graduation—that includes 25 lettermen, boasts other stars besides Popovich. There is Bill Lazetich, the other halfback, a fine defensive player, and there is Paul Szakach, plunging, punting, passing fullback and considered by some to be the best all-round player on the squad, and there is Doc Brower, the quarterback and blocking back and line backer. All these, and others, are well liked by Fessenden, who says he has a line to go with his backs.

There is Leonard Noyes, 210-pound tackle who is ticketed for All-American honors, along with Popovich, and Bill Matasovic, huge center, said to be one of the best in the Pacific conference, which as you know, includes such teams as Southern Cal, Washington State, U.C.L.A., U. of Cal., U. of Washington, Oregon and Oregon State.

Clash Of Styles

Fessenden agrees that tonight's game probably will be a contest featuring speed and razzle-dazzle on one hand, speed and power on the other. Texas Tech, with its Notre Dame style, its shift, its fine passing attack and its fleet backs, no doubt will attempt to kick the heavier Montana team with flying tricks and receptive sprinting. With Gene Barnett flinging the leather, Bobby Holmes and Elmer Tarbox slithering off tackles and around ends with it, Captain Red Ramsey and the other ends and the other backs fielding Barnett's and Holmes' aerials, the Tech offense looks very promising indeed.

Montana, running its plays from the single wingback formation and specializing on power plays a la Bernie Bierman, no doubt will mix 'em up with dashes of speed around ends, featuring the highly publicized Popovich, and with spurts of passing from Szakach's good arm.

Battle Of Linemen

Texas Tech, however, can match some of the power plays with Charley Calhoun's plunges, provided the ex-Lubbock High star's shoulder, slightly off its hinge, can stand the gaff. Then there's Ed Smith, quarterback, to cross 'em up with slashes at the line, passes to the terminals, and dashes around end, not forgetting the plunging and running abilities of Babe Curfman, Miles Chapman, Charles Barnard and Maurice Chernosky.

So much for the backs. Tech coaches, especially Line Coach Smith, forecasts a battle of forward walls. "The team with the better line will win the game," is Smith's outlook. He'll stick with Ramsey and Bostick at ends, the young tackles, Davis and Murphy, the veteran but outweighed guards, Owens and Jones, and Guzick at center. He'll call upon Waldrep and White as guards, Wimberley and Taliaferro at tackles, Williams at center, Balfanz, Philbrick, Webb, and Madry at ends.

A great game, this game of football, and it ought to be well demonstrated here tonight.

SEMINOLE BEAT EUNICE, N. M.

SEMINOLE, Oct. 1. (Special) —Seminole put over a fourth-quarter touchdown here this afternoon to outpoint a fighting band of Eunice, N. M. High school gridders, 6 to 0.

Sims handed the ball to Woodward on a reverse play, starting from Seminole's 40-yard line, and the fleet halfback carried to the invaders' 3-yard stripe. Fincher carried over from there.

Here He Is!

There has been a lot of popping off about Popovich, the great running halfback for University of Montana. This is he, boys, or a fair likeness of him snapped in punting stance. He'll be captaining the Grizzlies tonight—and he's the person to watch—especially for the Red Raiders to watch. His number is 77.

Locals Arrive In Oklahoma City

(Special to The Avalanche)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 1.—Lubbock's hardy Westerners arrived late this afternoon for renewal of their series started with Capitol Hill High School last year.

Coach Weldon B. Chapman had little optimism in his voice when he opined that the Redskins would come out at least three touchdowns better than his team. Lamenting the fact that his boys averaged less than 160 pounds on the hoof, the diminutive mentor enumerated weaknesses of his team.

Three Players Out

Husky Herbert Leaverton, a 168-pounder and regular center on the squad, is ailing with a broken hand and will be unable to see any service tomorrow night. Harold Parsons, halfback, likely will not play due to a hip injury.

P. W. Cawthon, jr., who is running a close second as signal caller, is out with side and leg injuries. Cawthon has been receiving treatment during the past week for misplaced ribs.

Capitol Hill is ready to throw its full strength into the fray. Paul Woodson, plunging fullback, will return to the line-up.

Passes Backfires As Slaton Downs Pups

SLATON, Oct. 1. (Special)—Spectacular passing for Tahoka kept the local Tigers in hot water most of tonight, but finally backfired to give Slaton a 26 to 0 edge.

Bulldog heavers connected 8 times out of 24 tosses. Four passes, however, connected with Bengal players and resulted in touchdowns. Henry and Bullard snared Tahoka passes in the third period and ran 55 and 62 yards, respectively, for markers.

Lamb pilfered an enemy heave in the fourth to score after traveling 69 paces. Clack ran one back 22 yards into Tahoka territory from where Slaton later scored. The contest was scoreless for two periods.

Ralls Bows To Lobos After Passes Fail

RALLS, Oct. 1. (Special)—The Jackrabbits' "razzle-dazzle" pass game fizzled in the second half tonight to allow Levelland to put over a touchdown late in the game to win, 13 to 6.

Ralls completed 5 of 6 passes in the first half to match a Levelland touchdown made in the first four minutes of play. Bradley, Lobo back, packed the ball 27 yards to count that early. A heave, from Halfback Land to Reed, Hare end, gained 34 yards and a score for Ralls.

Scoring ceased until late in the fray when pass to Wright from Bradley put over the winning markers, soon after McCann had skirted the Ralls end to gain 20 yards to the Rabbit 27. Land, Reed, and Center Keller were outstanding for Ralls, and Bradley and McCann for Levelland.

Amherst Beats Spring Lake For Second Conference Win

AMHERST, Oct. 1. (Special) —Coach George L. Detrixhe's fighting Amherst High school eleven accomplished their second Class C conference win here today with a 43 to 0 shellacking of Spring Lake.

Amherst's 14 first downs doubled those of Spring Lake, and its gross yardage gained spoke almost as loudly as the final score.

Blanchard, signal barker, Moore, wingman, and Center Smith for Amherst, and Sigman for Spring Lake were outstanding.

Cowhands Drop Heavy Score Game To Littlefield Cats

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 1. (Special)—Littlefield combined passes and a smooth running game to overwhelm Coach Walker Nichols' Lubbock Cowhands tonight in a game dominated by the Wildcats throughout.

The Felines scored in every period to run up a 57 to 0 triumph. Littlefield scoring was divided among 8 players, with Elms counting twice. The entire local team played good football.

Felines Even Up Series Against Arkansawyers

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 1.—Big Ed Selway held the Little Rock Travelers to five bingles, three of them scratches, here tonight and the Fort Worth Cats evened the Dixie Series at one game each by winning 3 to 0.

The visitors started pecking away at Bob Porter's offerings in the sixth to score once, added another in the seventh and a third in the ninth for good measure. Porter went out for a pinch-hitter in the seventh, Poindexter succeeding him.

McDowell led the attack for the Texans, getting four hits in five trips to the plate. Fred Tauby of the Travelers got the only extra base blow, a double.

Bears Gain Easy Win Over Bugs

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 1. (AP)—Coach Morley Jennings gave his squad of 25 Baylor University Bears a combination aerial and ground workout here tonight at the expense of the Oklahoma City University Goldbugs and the Waco gridsters went home with an easily gained 33 to 0 victory.

The Bear second string, used in most of the second and fourth periods, held no advantage over the Bugs but the first eleven pushed over scores in every period.

Returns Punts 80 Yards

Milton (Crazy Legs) Evans, 165-pound Baylor halfback, gave a small crowd of 2,000 its biggest thrill in the third frame when he picked up a rolling punt on his own 20-yard line and shifted through a broken field for a touchdown.

Jim White, Bug fullback, had just brought the spectators to their feet with a beautiful kick from his own 30-yard line that soared over Evans' head and rolled for a total of 60 yards.

The Oklahoma City offensive failed miserably against a heavier Baylor line. The Goldbugs scored only one first down on a pass and could pick up only 26 yards by rushing.

RATTLERS BEAT CHRISTIANS

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 1. (AP)—Striking pay dirt in every quarter, the St. Mary's University Rattlers of San Antonio thoroughly outclassed the Abilene Christian College Wildcats by the score of 38 to 0 here tonight.

Winners Clash In Race Meet Today

The all-round best horse racing meet ever staged in Lubbock comes to the home stretch today with a six-race program at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair track.

Outstanding horses of the meet—and there have been several—compete today in races for "winners." It's the grand climax, the finish, and the largest crowd of the week is expected to overflow the grounds. Leading jockeys and fastest horses will compete in each of the six races, the sixth being an added attraction, an "owners" race, in which owners of the fastest nags send their horses after a nice purse.

Girl Jockey On 2 Winners

Yesterday's races were the best of the week so far, and today's events promise to outstrip them.

The Friday program was featured by the fine riding of 19-year-old Miss Wantha Bangs, Liberal, Kansas, woman jockey and the only one of her sex to compete on Texas track. This is her first competition in Texas, although she has ridden in races for three years. Yesterday she patted Minnie Ha Ha to victory in the opening race, came back in the second to win by two lengths in the race for 2-year-olds, handling the nervous colt, Anna Hancock, like a true veteran of the tanbark. She has ridden in at least one race every day during the fair, has finished in the money in all but one.

Little Ruth, W. E. Ward's 5-year-old mare, finished second to Minnie Ha Ha, Jap Scott's 7-year-old mare, in the first race, a 3-furlong affair for non-winners. Lenord T was third, Time Will Tell, fourth.

In the second, Della M., owned by J. W. Bell and ridden by Williams, finished second to Anna Hancock, owned by W. E. Hancock and topped by Miss Bangs. David's Boy was third in the 3-furlong race for 2-year-olds, and Marsena was fourth.

Jack Howe Is Winner

Jockey Williams rode Cunning H to victory in the 5-furlong race for three-year-olds. W. D. Smith is the owner of the filly. Star Lad, owned by S. Morris, was second; L. Miller's Magic Girl third and Just Sissie fourth.

Jack Howe, veteran 10-year-old gelding, took the fourth race, a five-furlong event, with Jockey Ricord riding him home in 59.2 seconds, fastest time of the meet for the distance and the fastest race of the meet. S. Landers' Chicago Pride was second, Bud Duncan third and Jessie James fourth.

H. T. Deahl's Chester B, once a famous horse on major tracks, came home two lengths ahead of the field in the 6-furlong fifth race. Winters was up. Empress Pelota, a contrary 6-year-old nag, owned by S. F. Whitney, finished second, ridden by Dunkin; Mexican Girl was third, Jolly Pilot fourth.

Buffs Begin Title Defense Downing Frenship, 24-0

PETERSBURG, Oct. 1. (Special)—The Petersburg Buffaloes opened their Class C district title defense today soundly lacing Frenship.

Scoring one touchdown in each the first and second periods and two in the third the Buffs ran up a 24-0 victory. Frenship was never closer than Petersburg's 45-yard line, and was held without a first down by the doughty Bison forward wall.

Mayo climaxed the afternoon's tallying with a 55-yard run on a completed pass. Harland, Gregory and Linn made other pointers. The latter two were stalwarts in Petersburg's offense.

Spur Spoils Defense Attempt For Flomot

FLOMOT, Oct. (Special)—Flomot failed in its first game as defending champion of District 4, Class B, dropping an 18 to 0 decision to the potent Spur Bulldogs.

The locals held the Pups scoreless for half of the game, but fell before a powerful attack in the last half. Spur stuck to straight football to do most damage. Bingham counted in the third quarter.

Murphy intercepted a Flomot pass and ran 65 yards for a fourth-period touchdown. Harrell soon followed with another. Haralson, Harrell and Bumpas paced the Bulldog attack, while Amonette and Brown led the locals.

Ropesville Beats O'Donnell On Latter's Field, 25-0

O'DONNELL, Oct. 1. (Special)—Ropesville was outdone at almost everything but scoring this afternoon, but capitalized on all opportunities to down O'Donnell, 25 to 0.

Late in the first chapter, Baugh intercepted an O'Donnell pass and scampered 80 yards to pay dirt. Payton opened the second quarter by taking another local pass 70 yards before he was downed near the goalline. A line plunge brought another score.

Ivan Line and Burleson, halfbacks, Robinson, fullback, and Tackle Maxwell were outstanding for O'Donnell.

Man Does Have Good Points

GLANCING over a recent front page of The Houston Chronicle, the Editor of the Morning Avalanche noticed that, like other papers, the Chronicle was given over largely to unpleasant stories of conflict, of tragedy, of wars and rumors of wars. But down at the bottom of the front page was a story which, while dealing with man's conflict with fire, was of a different vein and tener. Dated from Baltimore, it told of the heroic rescue of a 2-year old child by her father and a neighbor.

Flames were sweeping the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mislowsky, the story said, when Mr. Mislowsky appeared at the second story window, bearing the form of his daughter, Tanya. At great personal risk and sustaining some burns, the father called for help. His call was answered by a neighbor, Norman Erichton, who braved death under a falling wall and who deftly caught the child in his arms after the father tossed her from the window.

It is events and occurrances such as the one in Baltimore which strengthen man's feeling for man in a world which otherwise is pretty much filled with greed, lust, enmity and guile. Quick thinking and courage in the face of disaster make us feel that, after all, underneath his faults and shortcomings, man is a pretty high class animal.

The Chronicle's story of the Baltimore fire rescue was not an important one. Not nearly so important, for instance, as others on its front page dealing with trouble in the Houston City hall, the conflict in China, the death of the "Oak Park Sleeping Beauty" after five years of coma, and the fight between Governor Allred and Senator Holbrook over taxes and economy in Texas government. But what it brought out — courage and neighborly affection — was important, because upon those foundation stones in some era may be built a civilization such as is only dreamed about today.

The One-Minute Sermon

A prudent man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of fools proclaimeth foolishness.

The hand of the diligent shall bear rule: but the slothful shall be under tribute.

Heaviness in the heart of man maketh it stoop: but a good word maketh it glad.

The righteous is more excellent than his neighbor: but the way of the wicked seduceth them.

The slothful man roasteth not that which he took in hunting: but the substance of a diligent man is precious.

In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death. —Proverbs, XII, 23 through 28.

Murder On The Bluff... By Esther Tyler

SYNOPSIS: A mysterious shot kills Jude Blinshop my old flame, at the start of our stormy week-end at Farrington Bluff, home of Michael's aunts. Strange attacks follow; then we find the body of Michael's mad father below the bluff. Stout, Victorian Aunt Martha is shot in the shoulder and nearly finished with sleeping powder. The Skipper, Mike's tall, tweedy younger aunt, disappears; we find her six hours later, bound in the loft, all but dead. Higgins, the old butler, is shot to death, apparently a suicide. Then I notice the gun is in his right hand. And Higgins was left-handed.

Chapter 49

I SET MY TRAP

I checked them off on my fingers, Gay, Michael, M. Farrington, William, Annie and—yes, and Cook. Ill as she was, Cook could have crossed that hall, fired, pushed the old man over on the bed, placed the gun in his hand and beat a hasty retreat. Any one of them could. And all my efforts at cross-examination only led to lies and defiance. They were shielding either themselves or someone else—every one of them.

I wanted a trap—a trap that no alibi could spring. And I wanted it before they all collected for breakfast and the murderer had a chance to suspect that his plan had not worked.

There was only one question on which any trap could hinge — the reason for the presence of the revolver in Higgins' right hand. It could have been put there because the murderer was ignorant of the fact that it should have been in the left hand, because the murderer forgot in his excitement or because the murderer desired to throw suspicion on someone else. They all seemed good possibilities. The choice depended entirely upon the identity of the culprit.

Of all the people in the house, Gay was the only person who could have done it out of ignorance. She was also the one person in the house against whom there had been not one shred of evidence at any time. She was impulsive and hot-headed. The murderer might or might not be either.

The murderer certainly was cold, logical and capable of swift action. In a crisis Gay was all of those things. It was possible that her rows with Michael had been a safety valve for more nerve strain than we had realized. Yes, Gay was capable of those murders, but I could not even remotely guess at a reason behind them.

Michael, on the other hand, certainly knew all of Higgins' characteristics. If Michael had placed that gun in the butler's right hand, he had done it because he lost his head. And Michael in such a situation would be quite apt to lose his head.

His aunt, on the contrary, would be very cool. And M. Farrington did not like Gay. I could not help feeling that if M. Farrington were ever aroused to the point of committing a murder, she would not hesitate to cast suspicion on any luckless soul who had incurred her dislike.

It seemed as though both Cook and Annie would have lost their heads in such a situation. But William would be cool as ice. But, without exception, every one of them knew that Higgins was left-handed.

I sought a trap that would hinge around those charactertistics as I saw them and around the peculiar circumstances in which the body was found. The sight of the body was not much help. I covered it.

Then I started methodically and worked my way from the bed around the room, under the rug, under the bed, through the pitifully few possessions in the dresser and wardrobe. Not many spoils to show for 70-odd years of hard work. For my purpose, nothing to show at all.

It was a quarter of seven. At any time now the round-up for breakfast was apt to start and something told me that I must question the suspects individually or give up the whole attempt. Hopelessly I stared at that room, trying to wring its secret from it. A trap! I must spring a trap now. And my mind was a blank.

I stared down at the figure on the bed and the idea came! Three strides took me into the hall. Conclusive proof or otherwise I knew what I was going to do.

Panic Seizes Gay

All the way to Gay's door I was thinking of only one possibility. What if she wasn't there? But she must be!

"Come in!" called a cheerful voice. "Oh, hello Jim. I was just going to start down. Why, what's the matter?"

I put a finger to my lips. "Shhh!" I said hoarsely. "Don't let the others hear you. Come quickly."

She gave me one awful look and the brush in her hand fell clattering to the floor. "Jimmie, what is it? Oh—"

But I clapped a hand over her mouth before the scream was fairly started.

"Quiet!" I hissed. "I've just discovered something they'll have to see. You'll have to show me how to break it to them."

I had not underestimated Gay Palmer. She was suddenly as calm as if I had merely come to escort her to breakfast. When the panic was completely gone from her eyes I removed my hand.

"Is it Mike?" she demanded levelly. "Don't fool with me, Jim. Is he all right?"

"He's all right," I said leading her into the hall. That short silent walk to Higgins' room was ghastly. I was obliged to concentrate on all the worst features of the crimes before I could force myself to push open his door. Gay walked in without a sign of alarm, and I followed her, closing the door and putting my back against it. Swiftly her eyes swept the room from the bed to the far wall and back to my face.

"Why—what is it?" she said blankly.

There was a dead, heavy weight in my chest. Whatever she had done, this was the girl that Michael wanted to marry. Violently I wished that my slow wits had been able to devise something quick and conclusive in place of my slow, questionable scheme.

I was banking desparately on the Skipper's evidence. Briefly, I had reasoned that if one of the servants was the culprit, the Skipper's evidence added to the circumstantial scheme which I had built up against them, would be all that was necessary. However, if a member of the Skipper's family or a person who might shortly become a member of it was guilty, the Skipper would lie, and it would be necessary for someone else to prove their guilt.

Going back over the scene of the finding of Michael's body, I had realized that not Michael, Gay or M. Farrington could possibly have seen the body as it lay on the bed. Annie and William had been standing in the doorway, completely blocking off their view. Consequently, if any one of them knew in what position both the body and the gun had been found, that person was the murderer.

I intended to ask each one in turn to help me prove that Higgins was a suicide. The murderer had had plenty of time to ponder over his or her blunders. Therefore, if any one of the three could reconstruct the scene of the crime, satisfying in full all of its peculiar circumstances, that person was the person I wanted. If not, we had simply to wait until the Skipper was well enough to tell her story.

We Hunt The Bullet

"Jimmie! What ails you? Are you sick?"

I shook my head to clear it. "No," I said, "just tired. Listen. We'll have to send for the police as soon as someone gets here from shore. And there's something wrong with this. If Higgins killed himself in here, the bullet ought to be here. It's the first thing the police will look for. And I can't find it anywhere."

"Hmmm," said Gay slowly. "That's so." She paused a moment and then her face brightened. "Well, look! He must have been either standing by the bed or sitting on it. If he was standing, the bullet ought to be in the door. If he was sitting, it must be in the wall above or behind the bed. The darned thing could have gone right between those iron bars."

She was assuming that Higgins had used his right hand, and that there was nothing peculiar about the wounds in his head. Hedging for time, I examined the door carefully, felt along the wall above the bed, and even moved the bed to look at the dust surface behind it.

"That's funny," said Gay.

I had some thinking to do. "Wait," I grunted, moving the bed back into place. "Let me think. Yes, of course! The door was open!"

If there was anything in her face but an unflattering opinion of my intelligence, I couldn't see it.

"Then the thing must be in the hall, you sap!" she said scornfully. I followed her into the hall and examined the wall solemnly. My head wouldn't seem to clear. I had the impression that my bright little scheme was flopping.

Gay's face was worried. "This is ridiculous, Jim. It must be here!"

Was she acting? I played my last card. "Good Lord! Am I a lunkhead! The old boy was left-handed."

Sincere or feigned, there was plenty of disgust in the look she leveled at me. Perhaps I was gullible, but at that moment I was sure that my information meant nothing to Gay Palmer.

Michael faces my test Tuesday.

Former Union Pacific Call Boy Becomes President Of Road

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 1. (AP)—William Martin Jeffers, at 14 a union Pacific call boy, today became president of the road. Upholding the American tradition that no position is beyond the aspirations of the humblest youngster.

Son of a Union Pacific shop worker, the 61-year-old executive never worked for another company, has spent 47 years in the "service." He succeeded Carl R. Gray, who retired at 70 to become vice chairman of the board of directors.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

OFFICIAL Washington's reaction to Wall Street's sharp slump depends on whether you buttonhole a financier, a politician, or a reformer—an Eccles, a Farley, or a Corcoran.

The "brain trusters" privately confide that they wouldn't object seriously to a mild business recession during the fall. They have always been skeptical of the quick recovery because they feel it tends to chill th populace toward further reforms. They suspect the President will stand a stronger chance of winning majorities for "must" legislation in the next Congress—wages-and-hours, farm control, public utilities—if the folks are forced to pull in their belts a notch.

Federal financiers believe a moderate slowdown will prove helpful if it isn't reflected in greater unemployment and longer relief lines. They think the market has been capitalizing industrial and commercial too avidly and rapidly, and prefer a more orderly rise. Politicos like Secretary Roper are scared stiff over the prospect of a "baby depression," and assure all comers that Wall Street no longer functions as a barometer of underlying forces. Since nobody can agree on what's wrong—or why—nobody has hatched a program to fix it up.

ALOOF: The break between A. F. of L.-er William Green and Madame Perkins, politically, and personally may foreshadow a direct clash between union labor's more conservative wing and the White House.

Largely because of the Roosevelt-Perkins-Madden supposed favoritism toward the C.I.O., Mr. Green's executive committee listened to sharp demands at its Atlantic City conference for recommendation to the Denver assemblage of a formal resolution assailing the administration. It was defeated by one vote, though it probably could have been passed if the strategists cared to take that step. They compromised by refusing to ask Miss Perkins to address their Denver gathering.

The Secretary's aides were dumfounded when they heard the news. They immediately telephoned A. F. of L. headquarters to verify the newspaper report. "That's correct," replied a labor spokesman, "she was not invited. No, I do not think it was an oversight." Behind the simmering hostility toward the White House lies the belief that the Green outfit can capture public sentiment by holding aloof from political alliances—and perhaps thereby outsmart John L. Lewis.

PONY: Mr. Roosevelt's tax experts are quietly investigating the LaFollette theory of low-bracket levies as they have applied in the brothers' state of Wisconsin. It may be the keystone of the tax measure which the White House will submit to the next Congress.

Preliminary studies have disclosed that only a few fields remain open to the federal tax grabber. Higher rates on upper bracketeers and corporations will produce precious little additional income, even if the proposed graduated income tax is adopted. Barring a national sales tax, which nobody seems to favor, the most lucrative levy appears to consist of a lowering of exemptions and imposition of a tax on the "little fellows."

Contrary to popular belief, the small taxpayer will pony up only a small percentage of new collections even under this form of tax—probably 8 per cent of all new funds. The big boys will pay—again—because the reduced exemptions and additional levies will operate progressively up the line into the topmost brackets. Folks who pay a lower rate now by a hair-line decision—and some juggling of their returns—will inevitably be forced into a more profitable class—profitable, that is, for Uncle Sam.

CONTROVERSY: Census Taker John D. Biggers and Secretary Perkins have already clashed over how to count the noses of the jobless. Ironically, they differ over the very problem which F.D.R. raised as an argument against an unemployment count for more than two years—namely, the difficulty of classification.

Mr. Biggers insists that everybody who has any kind of work on the day the census is taken, would be listed as employed. He concedes that many people are laboring for less money now than in the good old days, and that they may not be performing work for which they are best trained and suited. Nevertheless, for the purpose of securing statistical date on the whole human picture, he sees no reason for making distinctions between past and present occupations.

Miss Perkins, however, contends that a woman buyer now forced to work as a governess should be regarded as unemployed. She applies the same argument to industrial workers now engaged in private but makeshift work. F.D.R. is supposed to sympathize with her, though so far he has kept out of the controversy. The disagreement explains why few government economists look for any valuable results from the $5,000,000 expenditure.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

IT seems to be generally assumed that revelations of Justice Black's connection with the Ku Klux Klan are manna from heaven for the Republican party. There has been widespread speculation as to how the G.O.P. can make the most effective use of them. The authoritative answer is that those who now control Republican destinies have no intention whatever of pressing the Klan issue. Individual Republicans can of course say what they please, but so far as the party as such is concerned the Klan question does not exist.

Why pass up the golden opportunity? Top-flight Republican leaders privately cite realistic political considerations. They point out that of the major anti-Klan groups, the Catholics are politically strongest in large cities—New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, etc.—and that in these cities the Catholic vote is predominantly Democratic. The Jewish vote is really important only in New York City, where it is normally Democratic also. The negro vote was traditionally Republican until Mr. Roosevelt took office, but has switched its allegiance en masse.

G.O.P. chiefs frankly do not believe they could break up these well cemented party ties by a display of anti-Klan histrionics—if the disclosures themselves haven't turned the trick.

RETORT: The Federal Reserve board is more concerned about the stock market collapse and its threat to business than it cares to admit.

Financial insiders learn that ways and means of maintaining industrial activity were discussed at length at a recent meeting of the board. One official advanced the opinion that if the electric power companies would only go ahead and enlarge their generating and distributing facilities to keep pace with increasing consumption of electricity, continued prosperity of the capital goods industries would be assured. He rather implied that the power companies were lying down on the job.

Utility chiefs retort privately that they would be delighted to expand—if only the government would be so kind as to call off its competitive threats and thus allow them to raise the money necessary for expansion.

CLOUD: Many Congressional primary contests will be held next April in advance of the regular November elections. That's an encouraging thought to New Yorkers who figure that the boys will want to go home early to mend their fences, and that therefore the 1938 session of Congress will be short. "The less time they spend in Washington, the less harm they can do."

But every silver lining has its cloud. In this case it's the fear that prospects for a short '38 session will be an added incentive to F.D.R. to call a special session this fall.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. Howe To Be Conducted Saturday

FALLS CITY, Neb., Oct. 1. (AP) — Funeral services will be conducted here Saturday for Mrs. Clara L. Howe, 90, former wife of E. W. Howe, the Atchison, Kas., editor.

Mrs. Howe died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dwight Farnam, at Westport, Conn.

In 1877 following their marriage the couple moved to Atchison where Howe started the Atchison Globe. Their marriage ended in divorce more than 35 years ago.

The MILK That Builds the BOYS Who Make the Touchdowns

Believe it or not, the game is in the bag when Bell's pure, wholesome milk is in the glass. We mean the glass of milk that young huskies drink three times daily to build pep and energy in their growing bodies. Bell's Grade "A" Milk, Pasteurized is a champion milk for young champions. If your boy wants to make the team see that he gets plenty of milk—best of all, Bell's Grade "A" Pasteurized.

Jane commanded preparations for the dangerous march. All except Prince Sborov reduced their baggage to the barest essentials, but His Highness insisted on four suitcases, which he ordered Tibbs to carry. "I don't think I can do it, sir," the valet protested.

"Well, let Annette carry the small bag," Alexis suggested. Brown exploded. "Annette won't carry any of your stuff, you skunk! And if Tibbs does, he's a darned fool." "I fawncy I rather agree with you, Mr. Brown," the valet said, and dropped all the baggage.

Sborov was enraged. "Why, you impudent little upstart, I'll—" "No you won't, sir I know just what you're going to say, and it won't be necessary." Tibbs drew himself up haughtily. "I am giving notice, sir. I'm leaving your employ—immediately!"

"Oh, Alexis!" Jane exclaimed impatiently, "take an extra pair of shoes and some socks, and come on." Tarzan's mate stepped out into the trail and headed eastward. How could she know that that way lay the most terrible of all the jungle's dark mysteries?

Listen Folks—

Here's what Woody-Kutch says in their market report from Ft. Worth.

"Monday's cattle run of nearly 130,000 around the circuit was the heaviest for one day's receipts in several years. This run followed a general 25c to 50c decline on all grass cattle last week, and was heavy enough to break the general grass beef cattle prices another 25c Monday, and Tuesday barely steady at the decline. There wasn't a single market point in the whole country (except Lubbock) that escaped this wave of depressed prices amounting to 15c to 25c on cheaper cows, and 50c to 75c lower on all better butcher kinds of cows, heifers, steers, with heavy calves, 75c to $1 lower than 10 days ago. Don't sound so good, but when we quote the market conditions a spade is a spade with us."

SPECIAL: We will have some sheep for the sale. If you have any sheep for sale or want to buy sheep get in touch with us.

We wish to thank those who have shipped to us, and we solicit the business of those who have not shipped to us, promising the best service and sales ability possible.

Allred Tax Charges

the contrary, it is designed to help the farmer, the laborer and little business man by placing these taxes where they rightfully belong, on the shoulders of those who are to pay."

Points To Income Tax

In an interview, he then pointed to an income tax as a "sure way to get the money," urging it specifically for corporations and hinting at it even for individuals.

The governor declined to express his opinion as to an omnibus tax bill as a vehicle to provide the revenue for which he called the legislature into special session.

"The main thing is to raise the money, get it from people who are able to pay and not put the burden on the poor," he said.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE

The following rule and regulation has been adopted by the Texas Liquor Control Board, effective on the date of publication.

Rule and Regulation No. 16-N

It shall be unlawful for any permittee or licensee who is authorized to purchase tax stamps, to refuse to procure upon request of the Board or its authorized representatives a sworn statement from out of state distillers, rectifiers, wholesalers, and manufacturers showing the value of the Texas State tax stamps which they are holding for his benefit.

Any permittee who violates any provision of this Rule and Regulation insofar as it pertains to liquor shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year and in addition thereto such person shall be amenable to all other provisions and penalties of the Texas Liquor Control Act pertaining to a violation of a valid rule or regulation of the Board.

Any licensee who violates any provision of this Rule and Regulation insofar as it pertains to beer shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $500 or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and in addition thereto such person shall be amenable to all other provisions and penalties of the Texas Liquor Control Act pertaining to a violation of a valid rule or regulation of the Board.

Dated this the 28th day of September A. D. 1937.
TEXAS LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD
PAT DOUGHERTY
Chairman.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon the Unknown Heirs of Jacob Schieber, Emanuel Schieber, Henry Schieber, Mary Schieber Hieber, Lizzie Schieber Hieber and John Schieber, Deceased, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the county court of Lubbock county, to be holden at the courthouse thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the third Monday in November A. D. 1937, the same being the 15th day of November A. D. 1937, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 1st day of October A. D. 1937, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 2985, wherein David S. Schieber, individually, and Samuel A. Schieber, Millard E. Schieber, Dorothy Schieber, Paul Schieber, Fred W. Hieber and wife Clara Schieber Hieber, Eva Hieber Light joined pro forma by her husband, Ora Light, Gladys Hieber Burgin joined pro forma by her husband, Forrest Burgin, Lula Hieber McDougal joined pro forma by her husband, William McDougal, Grace Hieber Eppler, joined pro forma by her husband, Chester Eppler, Clara Schieber, Harry Schieber, Elsie Schieber Lerch, joined pro forma by her husband, Clare Lerch, Lela Hieber Ross joined pro forma by her husband, Lloyd Ross, Naomi Hieber Hooter, joined pro forma by her husband, Amos Hooter, Mary Hieber Ross, Hieber Carr, Schieber Harshman joined pro forma by her husband, Ralph Harshman, by and through their attorney in fact, David S. Schieber, are plaintiffs, and the Unknown Heirs of Jacob Schieber, Emanuel Schieber, Henry Schieber, Mary Schieber Hieber, Lizzie Schieber Hieber, and John Schieber, deceased, are defendants, said petition alleging that it is an action brought by Plaintiffs to clear Heirship, and for declaration of interest, if any, of said Heirs, in and to that certain lot, tract, or parcel of land situated lying and being in the county of Lubbock, State of Texas, viz:

All of section No. 27, in block 20, H. E. and W. T. Railway Company survey, containing 640 acres of land, and asking that the interest of said heirs, if any, in and to said tract of land, be set up, to make due proof of their claim of heirship and upon final hearing, said petitioners be decreed their interest and that their heirship be determined and fixed for such other and further relief to which they may be entitled, in law and in equity, etc.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 1st day of October A. D. 1937.

STOCKS ON NARROW LEDGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. (AP)—Stocks teetered on a narrow ledge in today's market and [illegible] slipped off despite mild support at the close.

Hoping to maintain balance the greater part of the session was continued buying in gold, copper and miscellaneous issues, although the majority of these finished under best levels of the day.

Traders generally showed an inclination to shift to the sidelines as further talk was heard of a possible extra session of congress.

A [illegible] in France based on political and budgetary difficulties was expected to come to a head tomorrow and this also served to restrain the ardor of [illegible] forces. The franc fell sharply [illegible] in terms of the dollar when [illegible] was withdrawn but came back [illegible] the necessary props.

D[illegible] were the slowest for a [illegible] since Aug. 11. Transfers [illegible] 6,[illegible] shares compared with 1,043,498 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .4 of a point at 56.2.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 1. (AP)—Covering [illegible] market rallied cotton [illegible] minutes of trading today and an earlier decline which had carried most positions to new seasonal lows was erased. The close was steady at net advances of 2 to 10 points.

Hedge selling which had been in fair volume during most of the day dried up toward the close and prospective purchases [illegible] scarce. As a result the market recovered rapidly and last prices showed rallies of approximately 75 cents a bale from the day's lows.

Increased crop estimates, lack of support and hedge selling were the main incentive behind the decline and at the lowest active positions showed losses of from 5 to 15 points below the previous close.

Weather conditions were slightly unfavorable in the eastern and parts of the central sections of the belt but private reports indicated that the major part of the crop has been picked in most central areas and that climatic conditions could do little damage.

Reports of a tropical disturbance in the Gulf caused some apprehension but failed to bring [illegible] in enough volume to rally the market in early trading.

The close was at the best of the day with October at 8.37-bid, Dec. at 8.36@8.37, Jan. at 8.34-bid, March at 8.34, May at 8.[illegible], [illegible] at 8.44-bid and October, new, at 8.56-bid.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. (AP)—Cotton rallied late today on covering promoted by reports of a growing movement in the south to withhold cotton from market.

December advanced from 8.15@8.30 and closed at 8.2[illegible], with final prices 1 to 12 points net higher.

The opening was 1 point lower to 1 higher with steadier Liverpool cables counterbalanced by fairly active hedging. Trade buying absorbed selling and early changes were narrow.

Hedging in late months established further new lows for the movement. This brought in discouraged liquidation by recent investment buyers but trade demand held near months firm. All positions rallied and closed close to the top but recoveries in distant months were relatively modest. December, where price fixing centered, closed 2 points over March, compared with a discount of 6 points Thursday.

A private crop estimate of 16,885,000 bales on a condition of 75.0 represented an increase of 865,000 bales over the indication from the same source last month.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 1. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8.28 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 8.78 cents a pound.

Three Are Injured Near Ropesville

Three persons were injured, two seriously, when their automobile overturned "three or four" times on the paved Lubbock-Ropesville highway three miles east of Ropesville about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Bill Jarmon, about 44, of Jal, N. M., suffered only minor injuries. He was driver of the light two-seated automobile which overturned and was "completely demolished." Mrs. Jarmon, about 46, suffered a laceration over the right eye, a broken rib and possibly internal injuries. Myrtes, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jarmon, was most seriously injured. She suffered a compound fracture of the left leg, simple fracture of the left arm, and possibly internal injuries. Mrs. Jarmon and the daughter were admitted to Plains hospital and clinic about 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon and at midnight were "resting," authorities said.

Jarmon is an employe of the Davidson Drilling company of Midland. He and his family were en route to Madill, Okla. The accident was investigated by R. B. Butler and Jack Reaves of the Texas Highway patrol.

words that haven't enlightened me at all."

Representative May (D-NY): "The speech was very appropriate and extremely gratifying to me. It shows Justice Black is neither intolerant nor prejudiced in either religious or social matters. I think the whole nation will accept it gladly."

Representative Maas (R-Mich): "My reaction is that his admission he voluntarily joined the Klan rather belies the present protest of being tolerant, because the objectives of the Klan were intolerant. It is disquieting to me to know a man who has taken such an oath is to sit on the highest court. I'll be very much surprised if congress will let the matter drop there. I am not prepared to say it would impeach him, but the speech will not lessen sentiment for impeachment."

Representative Robinson (D-Utah): "I was very much impressed with his sincerity and frankness. The facts disclose his experience was not much different from that of anyone else born in the South who has had a public career. I feel the public should take him at his word and that nothing in his experience with the Klan will prove injurious to the liberties, privileges and rights of the American people."

Senator Reynolds (D-NC): "The radio address by Associate Justice Hugo L. Black offers new evidence of his great ability and his record for tolerance. It was an effective answer to the charges of intolerance leveled against him. When I voted for the confirmation of Justice Black, I did so because of my personal knowledge of the man and his record as a senator. His frank statement should convince every right thinking American citizen of his honesty of purpose and sincerity. Justice Black will make an outstanding member of the Supreme court."

Robert Lee Tullis, 73-year-old former law dean at Louisiana State university, made a quiet protest against ignoring his request for a public expression on "the latest appointee to the Supreme court" but was ruled out of order.

It was Tullis who tossed the Black question into the convention at the outset.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 1. (AP)—Export demand for North American wheat dwindled today, and prices of wheat futures averaged lower on the whole, especially in the late dealings.

European purchases of wheat from the United States and Canada totaled today only about 300,000 bushels as against 1,750,000 bushels yesterday. Most of today's buying for overseas consisted of Canadian wheat, with but a small quantity of United States hard winter wheat to be shipped via the Gulf of Mexico and only a little Pacific coast white wheat.

However, Chicago July wheat, a new crop delivery, scored fractional net gains owing to reports of lack of adequate moisture in the Southwest section of domestic wheat territory. A dispatch from Junction City, Kansas, said the past nine months have been the driest on record for that vicinity.

At the close Chicago wheat futures were 1 cent lower to ¼ cent higher compared with yesterday's finish, Dec. $1.07⅜@1.07¼, May $1.08⅜@1.08½, July $1.02¼@1.02¼, corn futures ½ cent off to ½ cent up, Oct. 70, Dec. 63¼@63¼, May 64@64¼, oats ¼ to ⅛ down, Dec. 30¼, and rye showing 1 cent to 1¼ drop, Dec. 79. Provisions results were unchanged to 7 cents setback.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Oct. 1. (AP)—Demand was excellent for wheat and fair for other offerings on the cash grain market here today. Estimated receipts were wheat 44 cars, corn 7, oats 3, and sorghums 1.

Wheat No. 1 soft red winter 1.21¾@1.22¾; No. 1 hard, according to protein and billing 1.21¾@1.24¾.

Barley No. 2 nom 70@72; No. 3 nom 67@68.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. nom. 1.10@1.12; No. 3 milo nom 1.07@1.09; No. 2 white kafir nom. 1.10@1.12; No. 3 kafir nom 1.07@1.09.

Corn, shelled, No. 2 white nom. 82@85; No. 2 yellow nom. 77@70.

Fair Is To Close Down Tonight

will go into the records as a financial success. As in the case of nearly all fairs everywhere during the last few years, the amount offered in premiums is governed by the prospective revenue. However, prizes are offered with the stipulation that they will be reduced if receipts do not permit full payment. Board of directors of the fair association announced Friday, however, that they will be paid in full, involving the distribution of approximately $6,000 in cash in addition to the approximately $3,000 in prizes paid during the race meet. The race prize money has been paid daily.

In connection with the awards, fair association officials announced emphatically that the prize money will be mailed, and will not be distributed personally. They asked those having awards coming not to call for them as the detail of checking records and preparing checks will require a few days. Officials promised, however, that they will be mailed as quickly as possible, and that announcement of the mailing will be made through the Avalanche and Journal, as well as other mediums.

Delegations Here Friday

Yesterday, the guests of honor at the fair were students of Texas Technological college, the editors of the South Plains and the citizens of Littlefield, Abernathy, Hale Center, Floydada, Lockney, Tulia, Amarillo, Silverton, Canyon, Kress, Happy and Muleshoe.

Today's program will be dedicated to residents of Paducah, Matador, Spur, Clovis, Dickens and Tatum, but expectation is that the entire South Plains will be represented when the curtain goes down.

Aerialist Group Recalls Visit Here Of Eleven Years Ago

Eleven years ago an 11-year old girl clipped paper dolls while being interviewed by a reporter for The Avalanche.

Tonight, now a young woman of genuine beauty and a bride of six months, she will make her final appearance here with the troupe representing the feature grandstand act for Michael's Big City circus.

To Sail Through Air

She is Connie Fisher Higginbotham—a girl of the flying trapeze and one of the "Five Flying Fishers," an act of which her father, Charlie Fisher, is head. And she will sail through the air tonight into the hands either of her mother or her husband, Glenn Higginbotham, who are the "catchers" of the troupe. The father, whose two and one-half reverse somersault while blindfolded is duplicated only by his younger brother, Bob, and Forrest Higginbotham, brother of Glenn, are other members of the troupe. Bob, incidentally, appeared here earlier this week with his own act, the Five Fearless Flyers, in Russell Brothers circus.

Father, mother and daughter vividly recalled their visit here when they played the fair in 1926. Their amazement at the growth of Lubbock since that time obviously was genuine.

Couldn't Believe It Lubbock

"I couldn't believe it was Lubbock when we drove in last Sunday," said Mrs. Fisher. "I recall, on the first visit, we had to walk across the railroad tracks where the underpass now is located, and farms were where homes and paved streets now are."

"This is going to be a big city, and this fair is going to become the finest in this entire section," commented Charlie Fisher, drawing upon trouping experience which has carried him to every city of size in the United States.

Their act, which has been the last on previous nights of the fair, will have the No. 3 spot tonight, having been advanced by their request. However, the grandstand program will not start until 9:30 p. m. so as to give opportunity to downtown employes who must work late to participate in the last and the biggest of the celebrations of the entire fair.

Black Admits He Was Klansman

doned it. I completely discontinued any association with the organization. I have never resumed it and never expect to do so."

Then, quickly, he asserted:

"At no meeting of any organization, social, political or fraternal have I ever indicated the slightest departure from my steadfast faith in the unfettered right of every American to follow his conscience in matters of religion.

"I have No Sympathy"

"I have no sympathy with any organization or group which, anywhere or at any time, arrogated to itself the un-American power to interfere in the slightest degree with complete religious freedom.

"No words have ever been or will ever be spoken by me, directly or indirectly, indicating that any native or foreign-born person in our free country should or could be restricted in his right to worship according to the dictates of his conscience.

"I have supported candidates for public office without reference to their faith. In my endorsement of applicants for governmental positions, I have acted without discrimination of any kind or character."

Criticizes His Own Critics

He sharply criticized his own critics:

"During my recent absence on a short vacation abroad, a planned and concerted campaign was begun which fans the flames of prejudice and is calculated to create racial and religious hatred.

"If continued, the inevitable result will be the projection of religious beliefs into a position of prime importance in political campaigns and to reinfect our social and business life with the poison of religious bigotry. It will bring the political religionist back into undeserved and perilous influence in affairs of government. It will elevate the least worthy to political positions because religion or race bars others from a password. It will resurrect practices and arguments from which this country suffered sorely in the nineteen-twenties.

Will Revive Spirit of 1928

"It will revive the spirit which in 1928 caused a national campaign to be waged largely upon issues unworthy of a free people. It will bankrupt many business men whole sole offense is that they have religious beliefs which do not accord with the prevailing religion in their communities.

"It will punish the professional man whose patients and clients boycott him not because of lack of professional ability but because there are in his locality few members of his faith or his race. It will again set neighbor against neighbor and turn old friends into new enemies.

Broke With Precedent

"To contribute my part in averting such a catastrophe in this land dedicated to tolerance and freedom, I break with precedents of the past to talk with you tonight."

Listeners heard a flutter of applause from the small group with Black after he concluded his address.

The justice contended that "an effort is being made to convince the people of America that I am intolerant, and that I am prejudiced against people of the Jewish and Catholic faiths and against members of the negro race."

"I believe that my record as a senator refutes every implication of racial or religious intolerance."

Explaining why he chose to break the precedent against justices speaking on controversial questions outside the courtroom, he said:

Occasion Extraordinary

"I believe that no ordinary maneuver executed for political advantage would justify a member of the Supreme court in publicly discussing it. If, however, that maneuver threatens the existing peace and harmony between religious or racial groups in our country, the occasion is not an ordinary one. It is extraordinary."

Only twice did Justice Black interrupt the smooth slow flow of his words to give more than a casual emphasis to his utterances.

"I did join the Klan," he said, stressing the "did." Again, toward the end of his speech, the sentence "when this statement is ended my discussion of the question is closed" was delivered with a rapidly rising inflection and a sharp emphasis upon the word "closed."

T. A. Henyan was released from Plains hospital and clinic Friday morning after cuts on the fingers of his left hand were sutured. He received the cuts when his hand caught in a belt at Lubbock Cotton Oil company where he is employed.

Last rites for Joy Dean McGuire, 21-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin McGuire of County Line community, were conducted Friday afternoon at Anton Church of Christ. Burial, is Anton cemetery, was in charge of Rix funeral home.

Farmer community residents in Crosby county are to meet Monday night at the school house to form a one-cotton variety group, Ralph Howe, county agent, said here. There is a strong sentiment over the county for the plan, he added.

McAdoo community and the East Plains has a good cotton crop according to G. F. Harris, a farmer living in that section of Dickens county here yesterday. Many have begun their wheat planting, he added.

Robert S. Maureman, recently assigned here with the U. S. biological survey, is taking the place of James P. Galloway, temporarily on a leave, said J. E. Barker, head of the party. Galloway is in Livingston, teaching school and attending college.

Nine men who enlisted in the U. S. Army at Lubbock last month were accepted and one was rejected, Sergt. Rex Taylor, army recruiting officer, said yesterday. Those enlisting the latter part of the month included: Thomas M. Jaggers, 122 Avenue H; Raymond L. Daniel, 509 Seventeenth street, L. N. Emmons, Hobbs, N. M., and J. D. Rudder, 616 Avenue P.

A $500-burglary of a service station at Olton Thursday night remained unsolved last night as have a number of other recent burglaries on the South Plains, according to authorities there. An itemized list of the merchandise taken from the J. Arthur Edwards service station included 14 National automobile tires, 50 inner tubes, 20 cartons of cigarets, $35 in money, and 3 batteries, according to Bill Mabray, police identifications officer who communicated with Sam Hutson, Lamb county's chief deputy sheriff.

W. A. Harris, about 50, of Spur, was given emergency treatment at Lubbock sanitarium about 10:15 o'clock Friday night for injuries suffered when the automobile he was driving was in collision with a Fort Worth and Denver motor train at a crossing at Kitalou, about 11 miles east of Lubbock. The accident happened at 9 o'clock. Harris' automobile was "torn up," it was reported here. It was said the "doodlebug," going west toward Lubbock, was stopped unloading passengers at the time of the accident. Harris suffered a laceration of the forehead. He was traveling west, it was reported.

A Becton negro, about 40, denied before officers that he was guilty of a charge of incest filed against him in the justice court of S. E. McMillan, and said he was a preacher of a branch of the church of Father Divine of New York. The negro, William Dutty, was arrested by Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, after the complaint against him had been sworn to by F. H. Bolen, resident of the Becton community, before Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney. He is charged with "carnally knowing" his daughter. The girl denied her father's guilt.

R. G. Brewer, about 19, a negro wanted in Limestone county on a charge by indictment of theft of cattle, was arrested about 6 o'clock Friday afternoon by members of the sheriff's department. Arrest was near the intersection of Main street and Avenue N. Arresting officers were Grady Harrist, Jas. P. Posey, and Cap Moore, all deputy sheriffs. Shortly after the negro was arrested and before officers had taken him to the jail, police arrived on the scene to arrest him.

Three negro women were committed to the county jail last night after they had been arrested in the "Flats," Lubbock's negro quarters. Sheriff Tom Abel said they would be held pending investigation of complaints that they and three negro men had obtained money from farmers and had promised to pick cotton for in return. The negroes, traveling in an automobile bearing a Missouri license, had told farmers their car was broken and they needed money to have it prepared and in return for the money they promised to pick cotton, officers said. After obtaining the money, the negroes had failed to live up to their part of the contract, it was explained.

Scouts' Contest Closes Tonight

Balloting to determine winners of two handsome "sungold" trophies offered to the Boy Scout troops attracting most visitors to their exhibit building at the Panhandle-South Plains fair will come to a close late this afternoon, Earl M. McClure, South Plains council executive, reminded last night.

One trophy each is offered to the Lubbock and the out-of-town troops scoring most heavily in the balloting. Vote of a parent will count five points and those of friends two points each. Ballot boxes will be found at each entrance to the building, which is almost squarely in front of the fairgrounds entrance and which has been an attraction many visitors to the fair have overlooked.

Troop No. 3 Winner

Grand prize winners in the troop exhibitions were announced Friday, toop No. 3 getting the first award with its display of Indian relics, curios, handicraft and workmanship. The booth space contains hundreds of individual items, ranging from arrowheads to a totem pole. First Baptist church is sponsor and E. V. Hicks is scoutmaster of the troop.

Second grand prize, according to C. R. Frost, superintendent of the department, was awarded to troop No. 40, sponsored by Olton Chamber of Commerce, with a taxidermy exhibit. It includes specimens of stuffed wild life of the South Plains region. I. B. Holt, is scoutmaster of the troop.

Troop No. 8, sponsored by the American Legion, captured third award with a display of homecraft, including furniture made by boys. Jim White is scoutmaster.

Other Troops Have Displays

Other troops with displays include:

No. 25, Littlefield American Legion; Eugene Latimer scoutmaster; display of Indian relics.

No. 7, Asbury Methodist church, L. G. Pierce, scoutmaster; electrical display.

No. 13, Kiwanis club; Cecil Schwalbe, scoutmaster; outdoor woodcraft exhibit, including miniature log cabin.

No. 6, Cumberland Presbyterian church; Douglas Adams scoutmaster; photography exhibit, including cameras made by boys.

No. 5, First Christian church; E. L. Thaxton, scoutmaster; camping and outdoor scenes and woodcarving.

No. 23, Lamesa Methodist church; Leslie Pratt, scoutmaster, display of miniature tents.

No. 20, Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce; F. Galliman, scoutmaster; display of knots.

No. 12, Sanders school; George Hamilton, scoutmaster; electrical and plumbing display.

No. 2, First Methodist church; Roy Lynch, scoutmaster; metal works exhibit, including miniature bridge, highway, water tank, oil derrick and the like.

No. 9, First Baptist church; F. P. Smith, scoutmaster; telegraphy display, including actual demonstrations of sending and receiving.

Another large booth is utilized for Seascouts of whom Robert E. Williams is skipper. Others include one for Scout Cubs, for Lubbock Handcraft club and for council officials.

COUNT THE HAIR FIBRES IN A HART SCHAFFNER & MARX

Rarepack COAT

What fun you'll have! Just buy a Rarepack today, then get a magnifying glass and a pair of tweezers, and you're all set. If you can count one hair fibre every second (and maybe you can) it will take you only 5 years, 5 months, 8 days, 5 hours, 45 minutes and 36 seconds to find out that Rarepack has 171,351,936 fibres.

Maybe by that time Hart Schaffner & Marx will have perfected a better wear-and-luxury coat than Rarepack. But right now there isn't any other coat that so successfully combines lasting durability, luxurious richness and smart styling.

Hart Schaffner & Marx have just sent us a group of new Rarepacks. Come in and see them today. Feel this amazing fabric—think what its extreme density means in terms of extra wear—and you, too, will be surprised to find that Rarepack costs only

Additional Oil Leases Filed

Three major oil companies filed oil and gas leases Friday at the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk, in which they obtained exploration rights on 1,760 acres of land.

And at the same time one of the companies filed assignments of oil and gas leases in which they obtaind rights on 4,817 acres of land which already had been leased.

Total Approximately 60,000

Yesterday's filings sent the total within the last week to 9,210 acres and the total in the county under lease to approximately 60,000 acres, according to estimates from the office of the county clerk.

Five tracts of land were leased by the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company, the right first having been obtained by the oil company's representatives and then having been assigned to the company.

The Texas company filed a lease conveying rights on a section and the Stanolind Oil and Gas company leased a quarter section. The nearly 5,000 acres on which rights were conveyed by assignments, excluding the tracts named in the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company, went to the Stanolind Oil and Gas company.

Mrs. R. S. Veazy Is Hostess To Caldwell Club Women

CALDWELL, Oct. 1. (Special)—The Caldwell Home demonstration club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. R. S. Veazey for a short business discussion followed by a talk by the county agent, Miss Clara Pratt, on food preservation and the importance of a well-planned pantry.

Others attending were Mesdames J. F. Caldwell, Odie Hamilton, J. T. Caldwell, H. B. Pugh, M. O. Pugh and Ralph Young.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Jack Whittle.

The Columbia is sometimes called "The Achilles of Rivers."

Plans For Entertainment Are Discussed By ABC Members

Plans for an entertainment for the club and their ladies, were discussed by American Business club members yesterday at their luncheon and the committee instructed to report next week. Luncheon was held in the Hilton hotel at noon, with President W. M. Ewing presiding.

At the close, Harold Humphries and Tommy Atkinson, co-chairman, invited the club to a "secret" program in the Chimayo room. Motion pictures which Humphries father, W. A. Humphries, took on a recent hunting trip to Canada were shown.

Two members who have been absent for several months and who have resumed active membership were introduced, T. Bruce Craig and Robert Lockard. Both spoke briefly.

J. E. Maisen and others suggested the committee on entertainment arrange a banquet, with a floor show and other entertainment. Decision on the date will be up to the committee. A number of members discussed the plan.

The club's signboard at Texas Tech, and the bulletin board there, will be painted. Garland Newsom agreed to furnish the paint and J. A. Fortenberry and Robert F. Maxey, all three members, will do the painting.

Young Dodge City, Kas., Man Is Killed In Spanish War

DODGE CITY, Kas., Oct. 1. (AP) — Don Henry, 19, of Dodge City, was killed on his first day at the front with the Spanish loyalist army in Spain.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Henry, were notified in a letter received from young Henry's buddy in the medical corps.
