

Firemen Work While Cotton, Lemons Burn

Colorado City fire fighters answered four distress calls late this week as fires broke out in a cotton gin and in a refrigerator freight car loaded with tons of fresh lemons.

Flames Wednesday night threatened to destroy the China Grove cotton gin, 10 miles northeast of Colorado City.

The cotton gin blaze was the second reported at the gin in the past week. Local firemen extinguished flames in two of the gin's lint houses last Wednesday.

Fireman J. A. Sadler said Saturday that slight damage resulted from the China Grove fire, which was reported to city firemen at 11:30 p. m. Wednesday.

The blaze, which apparently developed in a lint house, spread to the gin itself, threatening equipment.

At 11:45 p. m. Thursday, firemen were summoned to battle flames in a Texas and Pacific refrigerator car, half way between Westbrook and Iatan.

Sadler said the car, loaded with lemons, apparently caught fire from a "hot box." The floor at the front end of the car was burned out.

When flames were apparently out, firemen returned to Colorado City, but were called again at 2:53 a. m. Friday when the fire broke out a second time.

Firemen returned to the scene this time finding a siding at Westbrook where the burning car had been left and again doused the blaze.

But the fire was still not thoroughly extinguished. Sadler said, and local firemen were called a third time at 5:30 a. m. Friday.

Flames started the third time as the car was being unloaded.

17 Practices Okayed For County Program

Mitchell County farmers may receive federal funds for 17 Agriculture Conservation Practices in 1958, according to the Colorado City Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office.

Fourteen of the conservation practices may be undertaken by county farmers under the federal Cost Share program starting Jan. 1, 1958, according to Allen Worley, local A.S.C. office manager.

Three of the conservation practices approved for county farmers may be started before Jan. 1 if they are needed, Worley said. These include establishing permanent sod waterways by seeding perennial grasses, terraces and diversion terraces.

Farmers who wish to receive government funds for the 1958 soil conservation practices must file an application of the Colorado City, A.S.C. office before beginning the practice, Worley said.

Although the exact amount of money which will be available for farmers in Mitchell County under the Cost Share program has not yet been set, A.S.C. officials said Saturday that the figure would probably be available by some time next week.

All of the Agriculture Conservation Practices scheduled for use in the county during 1958 are designed to both build and protect farm soil.

Many of them are concerned with preventing wind and water erosion, building a protective cover for the topsoil and getting rid of brush, mesquite and other non-beneficial plants which rob the soil of needed moisture for crops.

The list of Agriculture Conservation Practices approved for Mitchell County in 1958 includes:

Ketner was born Dec. 25, 1910 in Snyder and graduated from Abilene High School. He was a veteran of World War I and was a meat cutter by profession.

He had lived around Snyder and Colorado City all his life.

The body will lie in state at the chapel until time for the services.

Collisions Cause $2,000 Damage

A continuing series of accidents late this week accounted for automobile damage estimated by police at $2,000.

In the first of three major accidents at 8 a. m. Friday, two cars collided at the intersection of Sixth and Vine streets. Loss to the two vehicles was set at $1,250.

The collision occurred when a 1957 Ford driven by Howard Raymond Weaver, 18, 849 S. Cedar, and a 1953 Mercury driven by Mrs. David Ferren, 141 Vine, crashed at the intersection.

Police said that Weaver was driving west on Sixth and Mrs. Ferren's auto was traveling north on Vine.

The second smashup in the series occurred at 8:35 p. m. at the intersection of 4th and 10th streets. A 1957 Plymouth driven by Mrs. Margaret Shropshire Wilson struck a parked automobile.

The parked car, a 1953 Ford, was owned by Will C. Cyprien.

No injuries were recorded in the three accidents.

Earlier in the week, however, at the intersection of Second and Cypress, a 1952 Ford pickup truck driven by M. Haskell Miles of Route 4, Colorado City, was involved in a collision with a 1953 Ford driven by Jack J. Fredenburg, 339 Cypress.

The pickup driven by Miles was damaged.

Agriculture Meet Set for Feb. 19

Feb. 19 has been set as the tentative date for a major agriculture meeting in Colorado City.

The meeting, which will be held across West Texas, will be sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and Texas & Pacific Railway in cooperation with the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce.

Local agriculture leaders met this week in Civic House with a group from Big Spring, where a program is also planned, and Loyan Walker of Texas & Pacific and C. B. Senter of WTCC, both of Abilene.

Meeting with the group were Elmer Martin, chairman of the local Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee, Jack Burkhalter, county agent, Perry Bowles, J. C. Costin and R. J. Habach.

A list of tentative speakers has been selected for the meeting.

Included on the list are C. B. Senter of the Cotton Seed Crushers Association in Dallas and Paul Marion of Spur Experiment Station.

Other outstanding authorities will speak on various phases of agriculture, Martin said Saturday.

The February meeting, which will be known as an Agri-Business Conference, will be an all-day affair dealing with many aspects of West Texas agriculture.

Farmers from a seven-county area will be invited to participate in the conference.

According to Martin, the purpose of the meeting will be to discuss agriculture.

Rivalry Blamed for Red Missile Lead

Colorado City Congressman George Mahon took time out from a hometown Thanksgiving visit Friday to point a finger of accusation at U. S. armed services in the red-hot question of the nation's missile program.

Mahon, chairman of the key House subcommittee on defense appropriations, in speaking of rivalries between the branches of the U. S. armed forces, said that necessary "team play" between the services was lacking.

"We have been retarded in all our missile programs by inter-service rivalry and bad management," Mahon said.

In an interview with the Record, Mahon also leveled blasts at the U. S. Defense Department and the Bureau of the Budget for blocking funds needed for the nation's ballistic missile program.

In discussing the urgency of the missile program, Mahon said, "It will take us first with the atomic bomb, about three years to achieve a relatively satisfactory position in the field of guided missiles."

Mahon said that stepped up production of the International period number of long-range

PO Requests Early Mailing For Holidays

Colorado City Postmaster S. A. Palmer Saturday emphasized to residents the need to shop and mail early this Christmas season to help speed the processing of holiday mail.

Palmer cautioned that putting off mailing Christmas cards and parcels until the last moment results in a heavy burden being placed on postal employees and postal facilities of the local station and slows up the processing of mail.

Every facility of the local post office will be pressed into maximum service again this year so that the post office will be cleared of all Christmas mail that has been deposited in time for delivery by Dec. 25.

The postmaster praised the fine cooperation that has been extended by many local groups in past years when recent mail loads were being processed and delivered.

By following such suggestions as making early wrapping, carefully plainly printing addresses and return addresses and using zone numbers, Colorado City citizens will be assured of safe, timely arrival for their Christmas mail, Palmer said.

Palmer said that the members of the local school board would be invited to the Tuesday night game as guests.

The band will not play during the contests, only at the dedication program.

R. L. MOSELEY

the 'seniors' at Col-Tex

This is the 15th in a new series of special Col-Tex presentations recognizing long and valued service of those employees who have been associated with Col-Tex 10 years or longer. Col-Tex is proud of its workers who have contributed their efforts so many years for the company's success.

Good health and Col-Tex go together for R. L. Moseley. For Moseley moved here in 1920 from Sulphur Springs in East Texas in hopes to ease an asthmatic condition.

West Texas brought him good health ever since and along with it, a career at Col-Tex Refinery that stretched for almost 20 years.

Moseley is a welder at Col-Tex. His job includes just about every type of welding as he plays a major part in the repair of tanks, welding of pipes and other machinery. And through all the years at the refinery he has had no mishap more serious than a smashed thumb.

The veteran Col-Tex employee began his career at the refinery June 2, 1938. Six months earlier — Christmas Eve 1936 — he and Miss Velma Serrells were married here in Colorado City.

In the Moseley family now are three children — Rayvel, a Colorado High senior; Richard D., a junior at Colorado High, and Ronnie, 10, a student at Hutchinson Elementary.

Home for the Moseley family is 505 Pine. Their church is First Baptist.

Moseley, in his spare time, keeps busy with "fixing up" as a sort of carpenter and handy man mixed into one. He did all the remodeling, too, that converted a garage apartment into the beauty shop which Mrs. Moseley operates.

Wolves Meet Merkel In New Gym Tuesday Night

Colorado High Wolves basketball team officially gets the 1957-58 season underway Tuesday night when they host the Merkel High Badgers.

It will be the first game for the Wolves in their new modern gym which seats 1,400. The gym was completed shortly after the finish of basketball season in the spring.

A large crowd is expected for the game which will feature a dedication ceremony shortly before 8 p. m.

The B-team tilt will start at 6:30 p. m. followed by the A-game at 8 p. m.

Not only do the Wolves have a new playing site this year, but they have a new coach.

He's Homer Jefferson, who produced winning cage teams at Caldwell the past three years.

And Jefferson inherits a good group of players that could produce a winning team this season. There are eight lettermen back from the team that finished with a 11-19 record last season.

In fact, the Wolves didn't lose a man from last year's club since there wasn't a senior on the squad.

This year's team is headed by Richard Campbell. He was the team's leading scorer, made second team all-district and was fifth in the District 3-AAA point-making race with 108 points.

Other lettermen returning are Marion Flippin, 6-6 center; Barton Smith, 6-3 forward; Bob Caffey, 6-1 forward; Jim Richardson, 6-1 forward; Don Black, 5-10 guard; Joe Merritt and Jerry Treadwell, a couple of shorter guards.

Expected to make the starting line-up is a B-team performer of last season, Raymond Weaver, 6-3 junior.

Jefferson said Weaver has been showing well in practice sessions and may get a starting call Tuesday night.

Jefferson said he didn't know who would start against Merkel, but he could field a starting quintet that averages 62.

Others working on the A and B teams are Bill Davis, Dwain

Thomason, Dickie Richardson, Larry Moer, Danny Fisher, Jimmy Brown, Ronnie Bass, Steve Smith, Freddie Harrison, John Johnson, Kerry Kendrick, Charles Ruthwell, Jimmy House, Jay Shiner, Truman Stinson, Jerry Lady, Don Dodd and Carl Merkel.

Jefferson said he will change the style of play from what the Wolves used last season under Coach Ronald Servies.

Several important rule changes have been made this year, especially the widening of the free throw lanes.

Also, after a double foul this year, the teams jump center instead of the usual free throws by each team.

And after a team commits four personal fouls, the opposition players receive two tries at the free throw line following each foul.

Jefferson has arranged a 17-game schedule for the Wolves, plus three tournaments. Nine of the 17 games are here.

The tournaments are Dec. 12-13 at McMurtry College; Jan. 3-4 at Brownfield and

Jan. 9-10 at Reagan County in Big Lake.

Wolves will play a double round robin schedule with District 3-AAA opponents Snyder, Lamesa, Sweetwater and Lake View.

The complete schedule:

Dec. 3 - Merkel (H)
Dec. 5 - Ector (Odessa) (T)
Dec. 10 - San Angelo (H)
Dec. 12-13 - McMurtry Tourn.
Dec. 17 - Ector High (H)
Dec. 21 - San Angelo (T)
Dec. 31 - Roscoe (H)
Jan. 3-4 - Brownfield Tourn.
Jan. 7 - Merkel (T)

Don Maynard Candidate for BC Honors

Three Texas Western College football players are strong candidates to be named to the all Border Conference team for the second year in a row, while a fourth player who was named to the all-star second team last year also may be considered high on the list.

Left end Dick Forrest of Carlsbad, N. M., left halfback Don Maynard of Colorado City, Texas, and quarterback Bob Laraba of Niagara Falls, N. Y., are the players who could repeat on the honor team. All were first team selections by the coaches of the conference last year.

Tackle Dan Boyd, 200-pound junior from Abilene, was named to the all-conference team last year, his first full year of action, and could move to the first team this year.

Forrest was the team's captain, and is one of the finest defensive players in the conference. He also is the second leading minor pass receiver. He's fast and strong, and a four-year regular.

Maynard is one of the greatest pass receivers and defensive players the conference has ever seen. He averaged almost 28 yards for each pass caught this year, and scored six touchdowns on passes. He led the team in scoring in interceptions in punt returns and was among the top men in rushing. A 9.7 sprinter, Maynard does the team's kicking off and kicks extra points. He is one of the finest defensive players ever to perform for Texas Western.

Laraba was Texas Western's leading passer, a good runner, and a strong punter. He has been called on to play the defensive half back in critical situations.

All-District Teams To Be Named Dec. 8

District 3-AAA's official All-District football team is now being compiled.

The first and second teams for the all-star group will be released in the Record, and other area papers, next Sunday.

Brush Control Conserves Moisture

Worthless trees and brush along fence rows rob crops of valuable moisture and soil nutrients resulting in loss of production and lower profits for the farmer, warns G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist.

Trees have wide spreading roots that may reach out 100 feet from the tree trunk, says Hoffman. These sapling roots rob moisture from crops and during a dry year can reduce yield on a 50 to 100 foot wide band around the field. During a wet year the damage is not so great because there is usually enough moisture for all plants.

Winter is a good time to chemically treat fence row brush, points out the specialist. Usually this is a slack season for brush, leaves are shed from the trees and weeds are dead, and it is possible to get close to the tree, thus a better job can be done. Too, there are few susceptible broad-leaf plants growing at this time of the year which might be damaged by the chemical.

Hoffman says that an ax, a hand-sprayer, 2,4,5-T chemical and diesel oil are all the equipment and materials needed to kill fence row brush.

Mix one pound of the 2,4,5-T liquid chemical in six gallons of diesel oil and pour the chemical solution in the hand-sprayer. On trees less than five inches in diameter apply the solution to the lower 12 inches of the tree trunk allowing it to run down the back channels to the crown. Chemical solution around the crown prevents resprouting.

On trees more than five inches in diameter, a frill should be made near the ground line with the ax. Apply chemical solution in the frill to make it bubble out of the cuts. If the tree is cut off, apply the solution to the freshly cut stump, allowing it to run down to the crown.

A thorough application of the chemical solution is necessary for best results, advises Hoffman. "But don't apply the solution during a high wind," he warns. The cost of killing a five inch tree is about two cents.

Here's the Answer

Church Attendance Not Enough Alone

If church membership honest with one another, the meant vital religious living, Christian spirit if it operates and fidelity to all church members, there would be at most revolutionary changes in the world.

St. Paul counseled us in his epistles to bodies of established Christians of the early church. He lay great emphasis on the basic fact of the Christian life and the motivations of the good church member.

First, there must be the deep and true relationship to Christ. It is the power of the resurrected Christ that should be the dominating force in the life of all Christians.

Paul expresses this more definitely when he says elsewhere:

"I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave Himself for me."

On this foundation is built the life that is free from base desires, unworthy tempers, and every form of ill will or unkindness. Wrath, malice and anger—all such things have no place in the Christian life.

Church members must be

LOCAL BUSINESS

Newspapers Help Build Retail Trade

By JOE BOATRIGHT

Record Advertising Mgr. Some of our friends occasionally accuse us of letting our enthusiasm for newspaper advertising run amok. That may be. But our enthusiasm is based on experience. We know what a newspaper can do to help build a retail business. Results obtained by merchants are constant proof that good newspaper advertising is an integral part of prosperous retailing.

Admitting, however, that a newspaper man may be prejudiced in the matter, the case for newspaper advertising is well supported from neutral sources. Such a source would be an advertising agency charged with finding the best medium in which to spend millions of dollars to advertise a client's products.

Mr. Melvin, formerly of Needham, Louis & Brody, one of the nation's great advertising agencies, was asked why he chose newspapers as the major medium for promoting a wash-day product. He listed the following advantages of the newspaper:

1. The effect that can be obtained from tremendous circulation and readership by both men and women.
2. The impact that may be obtained from a full page newspaper advertisement.
3. The flexibility of newspapers.
4. The low cost per thousand and people reached.
5. The friendly cooperation of newspapers in helping with merchandising.

Well, Mr. Trorby has presented the case for newspapers better than most of us in the business could state it.

No one could accuse Mr. Trorby of being prejudiced in favor of a particular advertising medium. He selects his fees for making an objective department director, of the medium which will do the best job for his client.

Austin's Lawmakers' Still Splitting Educational Hairs

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association. Legislative machinery is not built for speed. This was demonstrated as Texas lawmakers finally passed in their third week of work a bill designed to prevent occupation of schools by federal troops.

A multi-hour filibuster by Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez late last week bogged down proceedings in the upper chamber. House members marked time to wait for Senate action. This apparently was to allow the House committee to consider both the Senate and House proposals before reporting.

Earlier, both House and Senate committees heard a number of religious and educational leaders speak against the bill. Protesters said, in effect, that the measure would be detrimental to the school system and would encourage violence.

Legislative proponents reported the witnesses seemed more interested in cramming social dogma down our throats than in educating our children.

SHUT IT

Texas are ailed about the tidelands again.

A suit filed by U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell the day before he left office seeks to establish the tidelands boundaries of Gulf Coastal states including Texas at three miles out.

Texas claims tidelands 10 miles out by virtue of its 110-year-old annexation agreement with the U. S. A law passed by Congress in 1933 requires the federal government to respect the states' "historic boundaries."

Gov. Price Daniel called on the Legislature to protect to President Eisenhower concerning Brownell's action. Daniel, who co-sponsored the 1933 tidelands bill, read a letter from the President which said, in effect, that he would continue to honor Texas' claim.

House immediately passed a resolution in keeping with the governor's request.

Daniel said that Brownell "added insult to injury" by asking in his suit that Texas be required to pay to the federal government money received from leases on tidelands beyond a three mile limit. This would amount to more than $26,000,000 which the state has relied away in the public school fund.

House also passed a resolution asking Congress to call a constitutional convention. Purpose would be to draft amendments limiting the power of the federal government where it infringes on state powers.

Lake Study Promised Governor Daniel promised advocates of free use of rural lakes that they will have their study.

A number of legislators from rural areas have tried during the special sessions to change the law which limits water in small (200 acre feet or less) farm ponds to livestock and domestic use. Freedom to use the water for irrigation is sought.

Present law requires a special permit from the State Water Board to gain irrigation privileges. Farmers say getting such permits is complicated and too expensive.

But spokesmen for cities and downstream users vigorously oppose a change. They fear wholesale irrigation would dry up the streams leaving no water for them. Governor Daniel said he would not submit this issue for the special session which is dragging enough as it is. But he promised a study of the problem with a view, perhaps, to making permits easier to get.

State Capitol NEWS

Insurance Unit Senate investigating committee continued to put the Insurance Department employees on the carpet to determine how well that agency is carrying out its functions.

Asst. Comm. Paul Connor took full responsibility for a three-months' delay in action on a critical report concerning Preferred Life of Dallas. It was handled as quickly as possible "under the circumstances," said Connor. He pointed out the department was in a period of reorganization at the time and that it received hundreds of such reports.

T. W. Goad, for 17 years a department examiner, testified that examiners' morale was at an all-time low. He attributed this to (1) legislative cutting of examiners' per diem pay and (2) hostility from companies which feel state charges for an examination are too high.

More Money Texas has been getting richer faster than the average U. S. citizens in the past 27 years.

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports Texas average income increased 447 per cent from 1929-57. U. S. average increased 279 per cent. But there's a less rosy side. Last year Texas per capita income still hadn't caught up with the national average. It was $1,680 compared to $1,940.

Also death and farm depression have slowed Texas' rate of increase in incomes. However, said the Bureau report, some improvement in the farm incomes is expected this year.

Rural Roads Governor Daniel had more

TO TEXAS COTTON

Rains Cause Loss Of $100 Million

By JOHN C. WHITE

Agriculture Commissioner. The long-awaited rains came to Texas this year and came again, and again, and again.

Now that blessing has become a kind of curse in many cotton areas of Texas. Ill-timed fall rains on the harvested cotton have caused a crop quality loss conservatively estimated as over $100 million.

Cotton farmers in the rain-soaked areas are suffering economically go almost as much as they did during the drought, particularly in central and East Texas. Many of them made their first cotton crop in several years, only to see it slowly ruin in the rain.

In early November, an estimated 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 million bales remained unpicked in Texas fields. The pickers could not get in the muddy rows to gather the cotton.

On the brighter side, prospects for winter gains were considerably increased by the fall moisture. But this is poor consolation to a vast number of farmers whose main cash crop is still cotton.

Most of the cotton still unpicked will eventually be harvested, even though the grade is poor. In this respect, Texas joins Mississippi this year where rains also damaged one of the best crops of a decade.

Hunters Drawn by Deer and Turkeys

By L. A. WILKIE
There was turkey on the table on Dec. 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, as will be the case with many other hunters this year. Turkey season opened on Oct. 16, along with the season for deer. Turkey season is a long season, and hunters are still out there. Most of the birds were killed until next Sept. 1, unless you are in the Edwards Plateau. After that, the shotguns can be used. The birds are wiped clean and put away. A visit to any boat dock area will reveal many boats with six inches of water in the bottoms. The recent rains have almost filled them. If boats are to last a long time and give good service, they need care. Mark it on your calendar to dedicate the next pretty weekend, or at least a portion of it, to checking your boat. Perhaps it might need to be hauled out of the water for a good scrub. Inside and out, or a coat of paint. Paint is helpful to the life of a boat, as well as to its appearance. You may want to dry-dock your boat for the winter, but this isn't necessary in Texas. There'll be plenty of work ends during the winter months when you can get in some good fishing or boating. While you're at it, check your trailer. See that the bearings have plenty of grease and that the tires are in good condition. Crappie Are Plentiful Most of the fish being caught now are crappie and sand bass. Every lake and stream in Texas is producing plenty of crappie. Most of them are on the small size, but they are big enough to make a good meal. During the past year, there have been many fishing barges and doughnut shaped barges built on the major lakes. They are baited down and furnish ideal spots for crappie fishing. Some of them are steam heated. There is one on Whitney that even provides TV. Other fishermen just tie their boats up to dead trees, sticking out of the water, or anchor at well-marked spots and catch their crappie with minnows. For sandies most of the fish caught right now are following the gulls and fishing. With a limit of 25 sandies, you can have plenty of fun during the day. One of the favorite lures is the Dixie Jet, which, by the way, is made at Houston. It is a spoon of exactly the right weight to get these sandies. There is one good trick to remember. If you've never fished this way before, a light rig is very important. Say a 6 1/2 foot light action rod with a 6 lb. 3 pound test line. Let your lure go to the bottom, take two or three turns on the reel, quiver the rod very slightly by moving the tip slowly up and down. The sandies bit almost invariably on the downward motion. For that reason they usually are on the hook when you start the upward movement. If you aren't careful you can yank the hook out of its mouth before it has been set. A couple of good fishermen with a little practice and a few of these Dixie Jets can fill the bottom of the boat in a few minutes of hot fishing. Try it. Are You Ready? If you haven't made arrangements yet for a place to hunt quail, you'd better hurry. Every indication points to the very best season in years. There was a tremendous hatch and survival this year, of the native birds. In addition thousands of birds from hatcheries were released throughout the state. There'll be a new quail for Texas shooters this season. It is the Coturnix. It's an Asiatic bird recently brought to this country. Several thousand were released in Texas during the late summer. They were hatched at the Game & Fish Commission farm at Tyler. The Coturnix is a most interesting-looking bird, slightly smaller than the bob, but looking somewhat like it. It is a fine bird for training dogs, but a hard bird to get up. You can almost walk on one before it will take flight. The Coturnix is a migratory bird, however, and is expected to move about the state quite a bit. Because of this it usually can survive a drouth better than the bob. These birds all have been banded. If you get one, be sure and turn the band over to your local game warden, or send it to the commission in Austin. In C-City Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Thornhill of Laramie spent Thanksgiving in Colorado City with their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Treadway and daughter, Kay.

SNEAK PLAY—Plugging like an All-American back, this youngster takes the play away from the professionals of the National Football League in San Francisco. He's eluding some other kids to make off with the football. The youthful fans swarm down on the field whenever a kick bounces out of the end zone. They keep the ball, provided they can escape the police on duty as well as the other ballhaws.
