Texas Delegates Reported In Favor of Davis As Second Choice

6 ARRESTS MADE IN ATTACK ON LOCAL BOY

13-YEAR-OLD BEATEN WITH BLUNT WEAPON

Proprietor of Soda Water Stand Believes Negro Did It

MYSTERY DEEPENS

$25 In Cash Taken From Register In Daylight

With only a spark of life dwelling in his slender frame, 13-year-old Wesley Ashmore lies dying at the General hospital as the result of a brutal attack by some unknown person Tuesday afternoon at about 2 o'clock. Young Ashmore's head is completely crushed by three blows from some blunt instrument and attending physicians say that there is no chance for recovery.

The attack took place at about 2 o'clock in the cold drink establishment of G. C. Johnson at 1411 Ninth street at which place young Ashmore was clerking alone. According to Mr. Johnson, he left the store at noon and left Ashmore in charge. At about 2:30 o'clock R. McAbee, a worker in Bellevue park stepped into the cold drink establishment and found the youth lying behind the counter with his skull beaten to a pulp. No one has been found that entered the store between the time that Johnson went home to dinner and the time that McAbee found the boy in a dying condition.

Six Negroes Held.

Officers from the sheriff's office, city police department, and constable's office rounded up six negroes last night and managed to establish what they said was some connection with the assault with everyone of them. After about three hours of questioning that lasted until 2 o'clock this morning they were all locked up, in the hope that a night in jail might make them a bit more talkative.

One of the negroes arrested lives in the vicinity of the store and claims to be able to identify another of the group under arrest as having left the store at a trot about 1:30 yesterday afternoon, under very suspicious circumstances.

Another is a yellow negro with a bit of fuzz on his upper lip. This negro tallies exactly with the description furnished officers of the negro who was searching for the thread. An attempt will be made to identify him as such this morning, it was said.

Negro Cannot Hear.

Still another yellow negro in custody can hear nothing and has defective eyesight. He has a term in the reformatory behind him and seems none too intelligent. It is established that he had a billiard cue billy club in his hand about the time of the assault. Questioning him proved a difficult and untrustworthy medium, all questions having to be written on paper.

The negro identified by another as coming from the store about the time the assault is supposed to have taken place does not answer to any descriptions officers have but tells a tale that may have some connection with the case, although it changes from time to time.

Officers last night were non-committal in regard to their prisoners, declining to make any statement until this morning when the actions of each about the time of the affair will be investigated.

An incidental search was also being made for approximately $25 in cash, taken by the miscreant from the cash register of the G. C. Johnson cold drink stand at 1411 Ninth street where young Ashmore was employed and where the attack occured.

Doctors who attended the lad last night stated that his death was a question of time. The skull was crushed in three distinct places, one across the left temple, one across the forehead and the other squarely on the top of the head. He was beyond the help of medical skill from the first, they said, and, unconscious he clung to a spark of life that was expected to flicker out at any moment.

Clue Leads to Fort Worth.

DEBS IS CHOSEN SOCIALIST HEAD

New Office of National Chairman Given Affectionately

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, July 8.—Eugene V. Debs was elected national chairman of the socialist party of Auerica, a new office, by the national convention of the party here today. Too ill to continue his activities with the national executive committee, Debs was given the new place by acclamation after Morris Hillquit of New York had explained that the federal election laws required the election of such an officer.

Mexican Runner Killed By Agent

By The Associated Press.

DEL RIO, Texas, July 8.—James Malone, special agent for the Southern Pacific railway, last night shot and killed a Mexican one mile east of Uvalde after the man attacked him. The officer said the Mexican was carrying a sack of bottled liquor and he attempted to keep him off the train. Malone himself was shot twice by the Mexican, bullets penetrating his abdomen and left shoulder.

'DUN' LETTERS CAUSE ARRESTS

Clothing Store Chain Operators Charged With Libelous Dealings

By The Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 8.—Charges of violation of the postal regulations through the mailing of alleged "threatening, defamatory or libelous dunning letters," have been filed here against Askin and Marine company, a chain concern operating forty clothing stores in various parts of the country, federal officials announced today.

The local representatives of the concern, L. J. Cunningham, manager, and I. Heyman, credit manager, have been arrested and are at liberty under $5,000 bond. The others against whom the complaint was filed are Sam Askin, owner and president; C. L. Foster, general manager, and F. J. Welch, superintendent of accounts, all of New York. Warrants for the arrest of the New York officials will not be served, it was stated, until after the federal grand jury meets next week. Postal inspectors said that the company had a large credit business locally and that "defamatory" letters were sent to its debtors when payments for clothing were due. These letters, they charge, were written in the form of court documents in order to frighten debtors into making payments and were sent three or four times daily by special delivery. They further charged that the envelopes containing the letters were marked "credit" in large red letters.

PREPARE TO PAY LAST RESPECTS TO CALVIN, JR.

Hush of Death Wraps White House And City

BODY LIES IN STATE

Services At Washington Today; Burial At Plymouth

WASHINGTON, July 8—The hush of sorrow enveloped the White House today, while President and Mrs. Coolidge gave over all to the preparations for the funeral of Calvin, Jr., who died last night.

How they bore their grief none but the closest knew, for they cut the channels of official and personal communication to be with their dead. Guarded gates at the White House enclosure, a white spay at the door and the flag on the mansion at half staff were the only outward indications of the mourning within.

Although preferring the simplest arrangement, a concession was made because of the status of the president as the leader of the nation and the casket lay in the great east room of the White House surrounded by a military guard of honor. Six sailors from the presidential yacht Mayflower, on which the 16-year-old boy had often cruised, and six marines alternately stood vigil.

Tributes.

Floral tributes in great numbers were banked about, while from personal friends, government officials, members of the diplomatic corps, citizens from all sections of the nation, and rulers and high officials of foreign countries messages came in a rising flood expressive of the common sorrow.

Two Services.

The funeral will be marked as much as possible by the simplicity which the parents desire. A simple service will be held at the White House at four o'clock tomorrow after which the body will be taken to Northampton, Mass., for a second service and thence to Plymouth, Vermont, for burial.

The White House services will be attended by intimate friends, cabinet members, chiefs of diplomatic missions and such justices of the supreme court, members of congress and high officers of the army, navy and marine corps who may be in the city. The Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational church, which the Coolidge family attended here, will offer prayer and read from the Scriptures, and a quartet will sing hymns.

At Northampton.

Leaving here tomorrow night, the funeral party will arrive at Northampton Thursday, where services will be held at 10 o'clock in be Edwards Congregational church, of which Calvin was a member.

At that place the Rev. Kenneth B. Wells, pastor of the church, will officiate. The party then will proceed to Plymouth, Vermont, where interment will be in the family lot, where lie the president's mother and sister. The return to Washington will then be immediately made.

In addition to the President and Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, those who will accompany the party will include Secretaries Weeks, Wallace, Wilbur and Attorney General Stone and Postmaster General New; C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to the president; E. T. Clark, personal secretary to the president; Major James

Balloting Will Resume Today at 10 Wichita Time

McAdoo Drops Below 200 on Century Vote While Davis Shoots Into Second; McAdoo Favors Meredith.

By The Associated Press.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York July 8.—After a session of balloting during which the two leaders—Smith and McAdoo—offered to withdraw from the race for the democratic presidential nomination—the democratic national convention adjourned at 4 o'clock this Wednesday morning to meet again at 12 o'clock, noon, eastern daylight saving time, in an effort to make a choice.

Adjournment came at the conclusion of the 100th ballot, just 41 more ballots than any democratic convention had voted before in history, and after McAdoo, who had led the voting practically all the way, fell to 190 votes and dropped into third place. Smith led with 351.5 while Davis was second with 203.5. Meredith, whom convention gossip said McAdoo favored for the nomination, was fourth with 75.5, and it was predicted he would be given "a ride" when balloting resumes today.

Senator Samuel M. Ralston, whose votes had reached formidable proportions, notified the convention before night balloting began that he had withdrawn from the race and would not accept the nomination if it were offered.

Smith's offer of withdrawal came early in the night when his manager, Franklin D. Roosevelt, addressed the convention, saying his candidate would withdraw if McAdoo would do likewise.

While McAdoo did not so state in his withdrawal, it was generally expected that Smith would consider it an acceptance of his proposal.

McAdoo's Letter Booed

Mr. McAdoo's letter was read to the convention by the secretary after the 99th ballot. It was addressed to Chairman Walsh and began by expressing gratitude to those who had with such loyalty supported him. It added that the convention appeared to be "unable to make nomination under the two-thirds rule" and that as a result party success was imperilled.

"I feel that if I should withdraw my name from the convention," the letter went on. "I feel that I should be untrue to the many people who have sent delegates here to support me."

Mr. McAdoo added that he was unwilling nevertheless to contribute to a hopeless deadlock and must leave the future conduct of his candidacy to his friends.

When the secretary read a passage saying that McAdoo had made the fight for the defeat of the "reactionary and wet" elements, there were boos from the floor and galleries, followed by hisses which drowned out the reading.

Text Of Letter

Mr. McAdoo signified his action in a letter to Chairman Walsh of the convention which was read as follows:

"Dear Senator Walsh:

"I am profoundly grateful to the splendid men and women who have with such extraordinary loyalty supported me in this unprecedented struggle for a great cause.

"The convention has been in session two weeks and appears to be unable to make a nomination under the two-thirds rule. This is an unfortunate situation imperalling party success.

"I feel that if I should withdraw my name from the convention, I should betray the trust confided in me by the people in many states which have sent delegates here to support me. And yet I am unwilling to contribute to the continuation of a hopeless deadlock. Therefore I have determined to leave my friends and supporters free to take such action as in their judgment may best serve the interests of the party.

"I have made this fight for the principles and ideals of progressive democracy and righteousness and for the defeat of the reactionary and wet elements in the party which threaten to dominate it. For these principles and ideals I shall continue to fight. I hope that this convention will never yield to reaction and privilege and that the democratic party will always hold aloft the torch which was carried to such noble heights by Woodrow Wilson."

"Cordially yours,

(Signed) WM. G. M'ADOO."

Immediately after the reading of the McAdoo letter an attempt was made to adjourn and it first was defeated in a viva voce vote 460 to 62 1-2. When McAdoo's letter was read to the convention he stood almost exactly even with Governor Smith after two weeks of balloting. McAdoo had 353.5 votes and Smith had 353.

Mr. McAdoo's friends and associates in the convention disclaimed that in releasing his delegates he was making any attempt to say where they should go, but some of the prominent McAdoo people were busy attempting to transfer the McAdoo strength to E. T. Meredith of Iowa, former secretary of agriculture in President Wilson's cabinet. There was a report about that Mr. McAdoo had declared himself to his lieutenants in favor of Mr. Meredith but that his campaign manager, David Ladd Rockwell, wanted McAdoo strength to fall to Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, permanent chairman of the convention.

Davis Sweeps On.

Meanwhile the tide of the convention fortune had been sweeping the votes upward for John W. Davis of West Virginia as they went down for Ralston of Indiana and when the McAdoo release of delegates was announced, Mr. Davis' strength stood at 210 votes, its high water mark.

The question to be determined was whether the McAdoo strength now set free could be delivered anywhere and if it could, whether it could be made effective against the growing column of votes for Davis.

The collapse of the McAdoo fight came at the end of another dramatic day and night which were the climax to the record breaking convention of American political history.

After an over-night raid on the McAdoo forces which carried them to a new low level, the convention met yesterday morning (Tuesday) and accomplished little in its session. In the interval before the night session, Governor Smith and McAdoo met for a personal conference and discussed the deadlock but came to no conclusive agreement. The one result of their meeting, was that Governor Smith sent his floor leader, Franklin D. Roosevelt, to the night session of the convention to make a statement declaring that when Mr. McAdoo signified his withdrawal from the contest he would do likewise. Mr. Roosevelt's statement in behalf of the governor was made at the opening of the twentieth session of the convention as it was going into its third week with

They Stuck to Their Guns Like Old Alabam' Stuck to "Os" Underwood

The now famous bull-dog tenacity of William Gibbs McAdoo et al had nothing on the heroic persistency of a small group of Texas democrats who braved the dangers of wives and mothers to the wee small hours to follow the doings of that same coalition and others to the bitter end last night and this morning.

They stayed until all was over except revolution in Mexico.

Ballot followed ballot in monotonous progression, but these staunch Wichitans held the ship.

The Record News bulletin board resembled the morning after an auction sale window, but the loyal ones talked politics and wagered on an outcome.

They stayed until run home by the first flush of a new-born day, and until "no nomination" was megaphoned for the umpteenth time.

The homing bell came at the "century."

It was a large and vicifierous gathering up until after one o'clock, and when the last word for the nonce was said at "two bells," the last of the old guard filed sorrowfully away and so to bed.

With only a spark of life dwelling in his slender frame, 13-year-old Wesley Ashmore lies dying at the General hospital as the result of a brutal attack by some unknown person Tuesday afternoon at about 2 o'clock. Young Ashmore's head is completely crushed by three blows from some blunt instrument and attending physicians say that there is no chance for recovery.

The attack took place at about 2 o'clock in the cold drink establishment of G. C. Johnson at 1411 Ninth street at which place young Ashmore was clerking alone. According to Mr. Johnson, he left the store at noon and left Ashmore in charge. At about 2:30 o'clock R. McAbee, a worker in Bellevue park stepped into the cold drink establishment and found the youth lying behind the counter with his skull beaten to a pulp. No one has been found that entered the store between the time that Johnson went home to dinner and the time that McAbee found the boy in a dying condition.

Six Negroes Held.

Officers from the sheriff's office, city police department, and constable's office rounded up six negroes last night and managed to establish what they said was some connection with the assault with everyone of them. After about three hours of questioning that lasted until 2 o'clock this morning they were all locked up, in the hope that a night in jail might make them a bit more talkative.

One of the negroes arrested lives in the vicinity of the store and claims to be able to identify another of the group under arrest as having left the store at a trot about 1:30 yesterday afternoon, under very suspicious circumstances.

Another is a yellow negro with a bit of fuzz on his upper lip. This negro tallies exactly with the description furnished officers of the negro who was searching for the thread. An attempt will be made to identify him as such this morning, it was said.

Negro Cannot Hear.

Still another yellow negro in custody can hear nothing and has defective eyesight. He has a term in the reformatory behind him and seems none too intelligent. It is established that he had a billiard cue billy club in his hand about the time of the assault. Questioning him proved a difficult and untrustworthy medium, all questions having to be written on paper.

The negro identified by another as coming from the store about the time the assault is supposed to have taken place does not answer to any descriptions officers have but tells a tale that may have some connection with the case, although it changes from time to time.

Officers last night were non-committal in regard to their prisoners, declining to make any statement until this morning when the actions of each about the time of the affair will be investigated.

An incidental search was also being made for approximately $25 in cash, taken by the miscreant from the cash register of the G. C. Johnson cold drink stand at 1411 Ninth street where young Ashmore was employed and where the attack occured.

Doctors who attended the lad last night stated that his death was a question of time. The skull was crushed in three distinct places, one across the left temple, one across the forehead and the other squarely on the top of the head. 'DUN' LETTERS CAUSE ARRESTS

Clothing Store Chain Operators Charged With Libelous Dealings

By The Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 8.—Charges of violation of the postal regulations through the mailing of alleged "threatening, defamatory or libelous dunning letters," have been filed here against Askin and Marine company, a chain concern operating forty clothing stores in various parts of the country, federal officials announced today.

The local representatives of the concern, L. J. Cunningham, manager, and I. Heyman, credit manager, have been arrested and are at liberty under $5,000 bond. The others against whom the complaint was filed are Sam Askin, owner and president; C. L. Foster, general manager, and F. J. Welch, superintendent of accounts, all of New York. Warrants for the arrest of the New York officials will not be served, it was stated, until after the federal grand jury meets next week. Postal inspectors said that the company had a large credit business locally and that "defamatory" letters were sent to its debtors when payments for clothing were due. These letters, they charge, were written in the form of court documents in order to frighten debtors into making payments and were sent three or four times daily by special delivery. They further charged that the envelopes containing the letters were marked "credit" in large red letters.

MEREDITH FOR V. P.

Would Have Iowa Man As Running Mate For West Virginian

By The Associated Press.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 8.—The Texas delegation today definitely gave up hope for the nomination of William G. McAdoo. They were ready to go to Senator Ralston, but Tom Taggart, the astute Ralston manager, could never bridge the gap between the 190 votes he had and the place where he desired to pick up Texas votes.

Tonight as the convention went into session all the talk was of Davis, West Virginia, for president, and Meredith of Iowa, for vice president.

PREPARE TO PAY LAST RESPECTS TO CALVIN, JR.

Hush of Death Wraps White House And City

BODY LIES IN STATE

Services At Washington Today; Burial At Plymouth

WASHINGTON, July 8—The hush of sorrow enveloped the White House today, while President and Mrs. Coolidge gave over all to the preparations for the funeral of Calvin, Jr., who died last night.

How they bore their grief none but the closest knew, for they cut the channels of official and personal communication to be with their dead. Guarded gates at the White House enclosure, a white spay at the door and the flag on the mansion at half staff were the only outward indications of the mourning within.

Although preferring the simplest arrangement, a concession was made because of the status of the president as the leader of the nation and the casket lay in the great east room of the White House surrounded by a military guard of honor. Six sailors from the presidential yacht Mayflower, on which the 16-year-old boy had often cruised, and six marines alternately stood vigil.

Tributes.

Floral tributes in great numbers were banked about, while from personal friends, government officials, members of the diplomatic corps, citizens from all sections of the nation, and rulers and high officials of foreign countries messages came in a rising flood expressive of the common sorrow.

Two Services.

The funeral will be marked as much as possible by the simplicity which the parents desire. A simple service will be held at the White House at four o'clock tomorrow after which the body will be taken to Northampton, Mass., for a second service and thence to Plymouth, Vermont, for burial.

The White House services will be attended by intimate friends, cabinet members, chiefs of diplomatic missions and such justices of the supreme court, members of congress and high officers of the army, navy and marine corps who may be in the city. The Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational church, which the Coolidge family attended here, will offer prayer and read from the Scriptures, and a quartet will sing hymns.

At Northampton.

Leaving here tomorrow night, the funeral party will arrive at Northampton Thursday, where services will be held at 10 o'clock in he Edwards Congregational church, of which Calvin was a member.

At that place the Rev. Kenneth R. Wells, pastor of the church, will officiate. The party then will proceed to Plymouth, Vermont, where interment will be in the family lot, where lie the president's mother and sister. The return to Washington will then be immediately made.

In addition to the President and Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, those who will accompany the party will include Secretaries Weeks, Wallace, Wilbur and Attorney General Stone and Postmaster General New; C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to the president; E. T. Clark, personal secretary to the president; Major James

Balloting Will Resume Today at 10 Wichita Time

McAdoo Drops Below 200 on Century Vote While Davis Shoots Into Second; McAdoo Favors Meredith.

By The Associated Press.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York July 8.—After a session of balloting during which the two leaders—Smith and McAdoo—offered to withdraw from the race for the democratic presidential nomination—the democratic national convention adjourned at 4 o'clock this Wednesday morning to meet again at 12 o'clock, noon, eastern daylight saving time, in an effort to make a choice.

Adjournment came at the conclusion of the 100th ballot, just 41 more ballots than any democratic convention had voted before in history, and after McAdoo, who had led the voting practically all the way, fell to 190 votes and dropped into third place. Smith led with 351.5 while Davis was second with 203.5. Meredith, whom convention gossip said McAdoo favored for the nomination, was fourth with 75.5, and it was predicted he would be given "a ride" when balloting resumes today.

Senator Samuel M. Ralston, whose votes had reached formidable proportions, notified the convention before night balloting began that he had withdrawn from the race and would not accept the nomination if it were offered.

Smith's offer of withdrawal came early in the night when his manager, Franklin D. Roosevelt, addressed the convention, saying his candidate would withdraw if McAdoo would do likewise.

While McAdoo did not so state in his withdrawal, it was generally expected that Smith would consider it an acceptance of his proposal.

McAdoo's Letter Booed

Mr. McAdoo's letter was read to the convention by the secretary after the 99th ballot. It was addressed to Chairman Walsh and began by expressing gratitude to those who had with such loyalty supported him. It added that the convention appeared to be "unable to make nomination under the two-thirds rule" and that as a result party success was imperilled.

"I feel that if I should withdraw my name from the convention," the letter went on. "I feel that I should be untrue to the many people who have sent delegates here to support me."

Mr. McAdoo added that he was unwilling nevertheless to contribute to a hopeless deadlock and must leave the future conduct of his candidacy to his friends.

When the secretary read a passage saying that McAdoo had made the fight for the defeat of the "reactionary and wet" elements, there were boos from the floor and galleries, followed by hisses which drowned out the reading.

Text Of Letter

Mr. McAdoo signified his action in a letter to Chairman Walsh of the convention which was read as follows:

"Dear Senator Walsh:

"I am profoundly grateful to the splendid men and women who have with such extraordinary loyalty supported me in this unprecedented struggle for a great cause.

"The convention has been in session two weeks and appears to be unable to make a nomination under the two-thirds rule. This is an unfortunate situation imperalling party success.

"I feel that if I should withdraw my name from the convention, I should betray the trust confided in me by the people in many states which have sent delegates here to support me. And yet I am unwilling to contribute to the continuation of a hopeless deadlock. Therefore I have determined to leave my friends and supporters free to take such action as in their judgment may best serve the interests of the party.

"I have made this fight for the principles and ideals of progressive democracy and righteousness and for the defeat of the reactionary and wet elements in the party which threaten to dominate it. For these principles and ideals I shall continue to fight. I hope that this convention will never yield to reaction and privilege and that the democratic party will always hold aloft the torch which was carried to such noble heights by Woodrow Wilson."

"Cordially yours,

(Signed) WM. G. M'ADOO."

Immediately after the reading of the McAdoo letter an attempt was made to adjourn and it first was defeated in a viva voce vote 460 to 62 1-2. When McAdoo's letter was read to the convention he stood almost exactly even with Governor Smith after two weeks of balloting. McAdoo had 353.5 votes and Smith had 353.

Mr. McAdoo's friends and associates in the convention disclaimed that in releasing his delegates he was making any attempt to say where they should go, but some of the prominent McAdoo people were busy attempting to transfer the McAdoo strength to E. T. Meredith of Iowa, former secretary of agriculture in President Wilson's cabinet. There was a report about that Mr. McAdoo had declared himself to his lieutenants in favor of Mr. Meredith but that his campaign manager, David Ladd Rockwell, wanted McAdoo strength to fall to Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, permanent chairman of the convention.

Davis Sweeps On.

Meanwhile the tide of the convention fortune had been sweeping the votes upward for John W. Davis of West Virginia as they went down for Ralston of Indiana and when the McAdoo release of delegates was announced, Mr. Davis' strength stood at 210 votes, its high water mark.

The question to be determined was whether the McAdoo strength now set free could be delivered anywhere and if it could, whether it could be made effective against the growing column of votes for Davis.

The collapse of the McAdoo fight came at the end of another dramatic day and night which were the climax to the record breaking convention of American political history.

After an over-night raid on the McAdoo forces which carried them to a new low level, the convention met yesterday morning (Tuesday) and accomplished little in its session. In the interval before the night session, Governor Smith and McAdoo met for a personal conference and discussed the deadlock but came to no conclusive agreement. The one result of their meeting, was that Governor Smith sent his floor leader, Franklin D. Roosevelt, to the night session of the convention to make a statement declaring that when Mr. McAdoo signified his withdrawal from the contest he would do likewise. Mr. Roosevelt's statement in behalf of the governor was made at the opening of the twentieth session of the convention as it was going into its third week with

The now famous bull-dog tenacity of William Gibbs McAdoo et al had nothing on the heroic persistency of a small group of Texas democrats who braved the dangers of wives and mothers in the wee small hours to follow the doings of that same coalition and others to the bitter end last night and this morning.

They stayed until all was over except revolution in Mexico.

Ballot followed ballot in monotonous progression, but these staunch Wichitans held the ship.

The Record News bulletin board resembled the morning after an auction sale window, but the loyal ones talked politics and wagered on an outcome.

They stayed until run home by the first flush of a new-born day, and until "no nomination" was megaphoned for the umpteenth time.

The boning bell came at the "century."

It was a large and vicifferous gathering up until after one o'clock, and when the last word for the nonce was said at "two bells," the last of the old guard filed sorrowfully away and so to bed.

RALSTON QUITS RACE FINALLY

Indiana Senator Says He Would Not Take Nomination

By The Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 8.—United States Senator Samuel M. Ralston late today definitely instructed Thomas Taggart to withdraw his name from further consideration as a candidate for the democratic nomination for president, in a telegram sent to the Indiana leader.

The telegram, addressed to Taggart, as given out here tonight by Senator Ralston, follows:

"Withdraw my name from further consideration by the convention. Great as the honor would be, I do not want the nomination. Am lastingly indebted to those who have favored me at the convention. My unswerving support will be given to its nominee."

When asked regarding the reports that he might be chosen as the candidate for the vice-presidency, Mr. Ralston said: "I am giving that matter no consideration whatever."

The assertion was made after he had been asked what he would do if the convention refused to accept his withdrawal. He said he desired to withdraw his name because he felt the linking of his name with the ku klux klan would make it impossible for the party to unite behind him and felt his nomination would only widen the present breach.

Senator Ralston said he had received reports from the Texas delegation which promised him its 40 votes if Indiana would support the campaign of Alvin Owsley for the vice presidential nomination.

BOY BEATEN

reported at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon were centering their search for negro youth, under 20 years of age who was seen at three different points immediately prior to and after the attack. What is believed to be one of the warmest clues has led to Fort Worth where officers are searching for a negro whose name and address is known here. But while waiting reports on this, the city was being combed in search of something tangible locally. Five negro youths were arrested during the afternoon and evening but all were released when Mr. Johnson, who is positive he can identify the one against whom strongest suspicion is directed, was certain that they were not the ones wanted.

Negro Supplies Clue.

The clue pointing to Fort Worth was supplied itself by a negro youth who reported to Constable Frank Morgan yesterday that a negro boy, carrying a sawed off billiard cue, had held a conversation with him about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and had said that he was going to Fort Worth The description of the black as reported to the officers by their negro informant was identical with that furnished by Mr. Johnson.

He was about five feet seven or eight inches in height, both reports said, weighed about 165 or 170 pounds and was exceptionally well proportioned. He was of a light complexion, wore a thin line of fuzz on the upper lip and was apparently about 17 or 18 year of age. He were dark trousers, a light shirt and a straw hat.

Black Seemed Agitated.

The negro reporting to the officers declared that the suspected black had talked with him on Burnett street about 2 or 2:30 yesterday afternoon and had intimated his intention of taking a Fort Worth and Denver train going south about that time. He seemed agitated and carried the butt end of a billiard clue.

Officers were inclined to attach importance to the story because a few minutes before the conversation of the two negroes, a youth answering the description of the suspect entered the grocery of W. P. Collier, 1298 Burnett street, and asked for a spool of thread. A similar request was also made by the suspect late Tuesday morning when he entered the Johnson stand on Ninth street when Mr. Johnson and another man were in the place. About 1 o'clock, also, a negro youth believed to be the same one walked into the W. Cook cold drink stand at 13th and Lamar, carrying a billiard cue in his hand. He made no purchase here, however.

Descriptions Tally.

Inasmuch as descriptions furnished by Mr. Johnson, Mr. Cook, Mr. Collier and the negro boy all tallied exactly in essential details, officers feel that it was the same one in all cases. The Fort Worth reference also sounds plausible, they say.

The attack in the Johnson stand was a picture vividly plain yesterday although no eyewitness saw it and young Ashmore lay unconscious, possibly for half an hour, before he was discovered. The position of his body, its condition and other factors in the case told the story as plainly as could words.

Was Filling Cream Cones.

Two ice cream cones, partially filled, lay near the unconscious form of the lad when he was found by R. McAbee, a city park employee. His feet lay near the opened cream freezer with the head and trunk curved around a counter in the center of the floor. His glasses, unbroken lay nearby. The emptied cash drawer was open.

It was plain to see, officers said, that Ashmore was struck down as he was filling the two cones, presumably ordered by his assailant. The first blow is believed to have been struck across the temple and the others pounded full in the face as the boy reeled to the floor under the impact of the first. Any of the three would have crushed the skull. With his victim silenced, the robber evidently stepped over the body, opened the drawer and removed the cash.

No On Saw Assailant.

No one saw him leave the place, a fact that caused some wonderment yesterday because Ninth street is a fairly well traveled street. A number of persons were also in Bellevue park, directly across the roadway at the time the attack must have occurred. Mr. Johnson himself, who lives at 1405 Ninth, was at home but neither he nor members of his family saw anyone emerge from the store.

Assuming that the negro theory is correct and that the suspect in question is the one actually guilty of the attack, robbery of the stand was premeditated and was being attempted as early as 12 o'clock. At that time, according to Mr. Johnson, he was in the stand with a customer while young Ashmore had gone to his home at 1319 Ninth for dinner. A negro youth carrying a sawed-off billiard cue came in about that time, Mr. Johnson said, and in a shaky voice asked for a spool of thread. On learning that none was available there he left.

Nothing more was seen of him around the stand but subsequent reports from the Collier and Cook stands bear out the supposition that he could have visited those places between noon and the time Ashmore was struck down. Mr. Johnson left the place about 1 o'clock when the boy returned. He knew nothing more of the affair until summoned by Mr. McAbee. The attack may have taken place a few minutes after the proprietor left or it may have been delayed an hour or more.

The only clew that the police have to work on was supplied by Mr. Johnson, the proprietor of the store:

Negro Enters Store.

"While talking with a customer at about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, a negro boy entered the store. He weighed about 160 pounds, rather stocky built and of medium height. He was wearing dark trousers, a light shirt and a straw hat. The negro was about 18 years old and had a slight mustache on his upper lip or I had better say fuzz as I don't believe he had ever shaved. He was of a yellow complexion and as negroes go was a fine looking boy. The significant thing that I noticed about him was the fact that he had a heavy stick or billard cue in his hand. He seemed upset when he saw two people in the store.

Asks for Thread.

"In a shaky voice he asked for a spool of thread. When I told him that I didn't have any thread he turned and walked out of the store. I do not know who committed this dastardly crime and do not know that it was the negro but if he was brought before me I could identify him instantly as the one that was in the store during the morning. Young Ashmore has only been working for me for two weeks and was one of the finest boys that I ever knew. My little girl has been in the store considerably during the past month and I know that the murderer would have done the same thing to her as the boy was just a lad of 13 years," Mr. Johnson said after the crime.

Ashmore, of course, has been unable to tell anything concerning the thing.

While leaning strongly to the belief that a negro was responsible for the crime, police last night were not ignoring other possibilities. The fiendishness of the attack suggested that perhaps some one mentally unbalanced might have been responsible. One negro said to be mentally deficient and who answered in a general way the description of the one sought was arrested by officers but was released when Mr. Johnson was unable to identify him.

The police hunt was being made by every man that could be spared from the city department and by the sheriff's and constable's department as well. Chief of Police George Hodgins was directing the work of his men, while Deputy Sheriffs George Hawkins, W. F. Belcher and Lee McDonald were at work on the case from the county side. Constable Frank Morgan and several deputies were busy, as was Juvenile Officer W. G. Bralley, Deputy U. S. Marshal John Saye, State Rangers W. W. Belcher, McCormick and Aldredge. Fred K. Smith, ex-sheriff, said he had begun a private investigation.

A score or more residents dropped in at the city hall last night to offer their services in anything tending to apprehend the assailant.

The victim of the attack was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ashmore, 1319 Ninth street. He had been working for Mr. Johnson for about two weeks and was described as an exceptionally bright and likable boy. His father, mother and a sister, Miss Mary Ashmore, were nearly prostrate with grief last night but were in constant attendance at the hospital.

Warm Weather Brings More Vain Pleas For Milk-Ice Fund Aid

Warm weather again arrived in Wichita Falls yesterday and with its arrival more demands for ice and milk were received at the Salvation army. During the past few days of cool weather The Record News Milk and Ice Fund for the Salvation army has decreased considerably and therefore many callers for milk and ice were turned away from the doors of the Salvation army headquarters simply because there was not enough money in the fund to give ice and milk to all who needed them.

The Salvation army has one caller that it cannot refuse, no matter how low the funds may be. For the past few months an old man, well passed 70 years of age, has called at the army's headquarters every day at about noon for a loaf of bread and a little milk. He is in such a pitiful condition that he can eat only bread and drink milk and these two things he depends on the Salvation army to supply him. He lives with a widowed daughter who makes enough only to support herself and her children. Every contribution to the milk and ice fund helps some case like this as the officials in charge of the work at the Salvation army are very careful in investigating every case before aid is rendered.

More money is needed or else some children will go hungry or without nourishing milk. More money is needed or else some old man like the case given above will be deprived of the only thing that keeps him alive. Any contribution sent to The Record News or to the Salvation army will be used for the purchase of ice, milk, and nourishing food for those who need it to keep alive.

MAY CHANGE RECORD ON RECENT PURCHASES

An opportunity for purchasers of local property since the first of the year to make the proper alterations on the county tax rolls will be given by County Tax Assessor Irvan Deaton if papers presented at his office showing that such purchases have been made.

This will be necessary to keep the rolls straight for payment of taxes in the fall. Considerable trouble will be caused if, after property has been rendered by one party, a second appears to settle for taxes on it.

GALVESTON, July 8.—Preparations are under way at Fort Crockett to entertain Governor Pat M. Neff at the annual encampment of the Texas national guard, thirty sixth division, within the next few days, it was announced here today. The governor is expected to review the troops and probably will make an address.

Practice firing, the usual schools of instruction and drills, were on today's program which is planned to conclude with a regimental parade, the first ceremony of its kind at this encampment.

Yesterday, Major General John Hulen, commander of the division, and staff officers began the study of may problems dealing with warfare. Their men meanwhile were attending school, drilling or doing sentry or police duty.

The camp yesterday reached a strength of 4,597 officers and men, which was 1,463 short of full strength.

La. Resolutions Condemn Demos

By The Associated Press.

BATON ROUGE, La., July 8.—Resolutions voicing the "merited indignation" of the rank and file of the democratic party against the conduct of the national democratic convention, were introduced today in the lower house of the Louisiana legislature by Howard E. Brunner of Arcadia. It cannot be acted upon until tomorrow.

Filippino Reds Are Arrested

By The Associated Press.

MANILA, July 8.—Twenty-three alleged leaders of a secret clique formed among the Philippine scouts to advance demands for allowances and pay equal to those given white soldiers were arrested at Fort McKinley today. Eight were arrested previously, and in sworn statements declared it was the intention to form a secret soldiers' union among the Philippine scouts for the purpose of obtaining equalization of pay by a peaceable strike.

The twenty-three were held for investigation.

These leaders are understood to have planned a demonstration for August 2, when they intended, military authorities say, to present a petition for increased pay and allowances to Governor General Leonard Wood and the commanding officer of the Philippine department of the army.

SHERMAN CEMETERY SCENE OF SHOOTING

By The Associated Press.

SHERMAN, Texas, July 8.—Ed Hall, 30, was shot and is thought to be fatally wounded, at eight o'clock this morning. The shooting occurred in West Hill cemetery. Immediately after the shooting City Sexton Craig Riggs surrendered to city officers. Hall was working for him.

FIRE DESTROYS BOACH STUDIO

CULVER CITY, Cal., July 8.—Damage estimated at $175,000 was done when fire last night destroyed the largest of several stages owned by the Hal Roach studios, Inc. The blaze, according to studio officials, was started by a smoke pot used during the afternoon in filming a scene.

Guardsmen Line Up For Initial Review Since '19

By The Associated Press.

GALVESTON, Texas, July 8.—Two brigades of infantry lined up today at Fort Crockett for the first brigade parade of the annual encampment of the Texas national guard. The 4356 potential fighting men marched to the blare of bands and in the opinion of their officers showed considerable improvement in appearances at the result of their brief training.

The parade was the climax of a routine day and was in preparation for the review of the division tomorrow by Major General John Huff of Houston, its commander. It will bring together in military formation the largest number of troops of the thirty-sixth since it was mustered out after the world war. It also will be the first time it has been reviewed since it left France when General Pershing reviewed it.

Recreation plans for the division were in the making today. Lieut. Colonel Lawrence Westbrook of Waco announced that baseball elimination and boxing contests are to be arranged with a view of deciding the division championship in such.

SCRIBE TELLS OF TEXAS, RALSTON

DALLAS, July 5.—A staff correspondent of the Dallas Times-Herald at the democratic national convention in New York this afternoon sent the following to his paper:

"After remaining loyal to William Gibbs McAdoo during the long, weary grind since the balloting began at the democratic national convention a week ago Monday, members of the Texas delegation (40 votes) were ready this afternoon to abandon his cause and vote for Ralston of Indiana. Taggart, the Ralston manager, however, was holding the Texas vote off until strategy dictated the time to use it."

GERMAN POLICE GET DEATH SENTENCE

By The Associated Press.

STETTIN, Germany, July 8.—Sergeant Kaws and former Sergeant Engeler of the Schutz police today were sentenced to death for the murder of Lieut. Graff, a Belgian officer in the Duisberg area, a year ago, prior to the occupation of the Ruhr. Corporal Schwirat was acquitted. The court recommended that the two convicted men be pardoned on the ground that the murder was committed through a patriotic motive.

1,000 TEACHERS EXPECTED HERE

Five Counties Will Be Represented At Institute

Teachers to the number of 1,000 are expected to attend the joint county teachers' institute which opens here September 1. The junior college will be headquarters for the institute.

Hubbard Is Director.

L. H. Hubbard, dean of students of Texas university, will be general director, according to County Superintendant Burl Bryant. Mr. Bryant is secretary.

The counties of Archer, Baylor, Clay, Wilbarger and Wichita will send teachers from both rural and independent districts. Childress and Quanah independent districts were represented here last year, and it is believed these counties will send all their teachers here instead of holding separate institutes.

Following heads of the different departments have been announced:

Dallas Man Heads Section.

J. F. Peeler, assistant superintendent of Dallas schools, intermediate section; Mrs. Ella F. Little, primary superintendent of Temple schools, primary; W. L. Hughes, professor of rural education of A. and M. college, rural; Professor Hubbard, high school.

The tentative daily program will open with a general gathering in the auditorium at 8 o'clock, sections then to hold classes until 1 p. m. According to Mr. Bryant, the committee on programs will obtain several well known educators of the state to speak at the morning meetings.

Hitler's Break With Socialists Drops Ludendorf

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 8.—Adolf Hitler's resignation of the leadership of the national socialists marks a definite break between the Hitler and Ludendorf wings of the party.

The resignation of Herr Hitler, made known today, means the definite decendency of Ludendorf leadership and the shelving of Herr Hitler who since the unsuccessful November uprising has lost ground continuously. It is understood that the former leader's withdrawal was caused by his disapproval of the party's parliamentary course and of General Ludendorf's impose upon the cultural and religious issues.

Girl of "Blues" Party Killed In Elevator Shaft

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, July 8.—Belief that Miss Blanche Pearce, of Madison, Kan., whose body was found at the bottom of a freight elevator shaft in a downtown apartment hotel here early this morning met death accidentally was expressed tonight by police officials after an all-day investigation.

Miss Pearce plunged ten stories down the shaft after leaving a party in the rooms of William Skiff and Pete Scott, members of the Kansas City American association baseball team.

Detectives assigned to the case said indications were that Miss Pearce opened the elevator door by mistake, thinking it was the door to the rear steps.

MEXICANS FIGHT OVER ELECTION

Charge Both Parties With Trickery, Force, And Bribery

By The Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, July 9.—Followers of both presidential candidates, General Plutarco Elias Calles and General Angel Flores, resorted to trickery in the elections Sunday, according to the ministry of the interior. In one state the governor, an ardent partisan, is said personally to have visited various polling booths, gun in hand, carrying off the voting urns.

Both the Callistas and Floristas are claiming the victory but the meagre returns thus far give no indication of the outcome.

BRAZILIAN TROOPS HALT INSURRECTION

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Brazilian troops have taken possession of the city of Sao Paulo and "have the situation in hand," according to an official communique forwarded to the state department today by Sheldon L. IF SICK TODAY! TAKE NO CALOMEL

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Straightens You Up Better Than Salivating, Dangerous Calomel and Doesn't Upset You—Don't Lose a Day's Work—Read Guarantee

I discovered a vegetable compound that does the work of dangerous, sickening calomel and I want every reader of this paper to buy a bottle for a few cents and if it doesn't straighten you up better and quicker than salivating calomel just go back at the store and get your money back.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your thirty feet of bowels of the sour bile and constipation poison which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable.

I guarantee that one spoonful of this harmless liquid liver medicine will relieve the headache, biliousness, coated tongue, ague, malaria, sour stomach or any other distress caused by a torpid liver as quickly as a dose of vile, nauseating calomel, besides it will not make you sick or keep you from a day's work.

Calomel is poison—it's mercury—it attacks the bones often causing rheumatism. Calomel is dangerous. It sickens—while my Dodson's Liver Tone is safe, pleasant and harmless. Eat anything afterwards, because it can not salivate. Give it to the children because it doesn't upset the stomach or shock the liver. Take a spoonful tonight and wake up feeling fine and ready for a full day's work.—Adv.

JUSTICE IS ON DECLINE--STONE

Attorney General Tells Bar Association War Much To Blame.

By The Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, July 8.—Attorney General Harlan F. Stone, addressing the annual convention of the American Bar association tonight, declared that "notwithstanding the improvement, actual and potential, in our static law," the actual administration of justice in the United States was not improving and that there were multiplying evidence that it was in a period of decline, which began before the world war and was greatly accelerated by the war.

"That decline," he said, "is not due ither to the form or substance of our legal structure, which has been steadily improving for a generation, but is to be attributed rather to our failure to develop that facility in translating legal rules into actual control of action which is essential to an adequate legal system."

"The tradition mode of dealing with failure in law administration, on the part of lay public, is by hue and cry for a victim; some failures of justice, some scandal in its administration, apparently fortituous but more often inevitable since these are but the external manifestations of an internal disorder, stir the public conscience to demand action and reform."

COOLIDGE

F. Coupal and Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone, White House physicians and Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns, personal friends. John Coolidge, the president's father, will join them at Northampton.

Family Bears Blow.

Friends of the family said that both the president and Mrs. Coolidge, although worn by long sleepless nights at the sick bed and bowed by their grief, were bearing up as well as could be expected. Mrs. Stearns remained much with Mrs. Coolidge during the day while Mr. Stearns and Secretary Clark were with the president.

The executive visited his office for a short time this morning and was visited by officials who extended sympathy but he soon withdrew to the mansion, where behind closed doors the family remained in closest seclusion.

John, the 17-year-old son and inseparable companion of his brother, Calvin, was with his father and mother, and friends said it was with difficulty that he bore up.

Yacht Mates.

Among those most sorrowful at the White House today was Captain Adolphus Andrews, commander of the Mayflower. All aboard the presidential yacht had learned to love young Calvin and so proud were they of his soldier-like conduct in his last illness that they wanted to pay tribute in some manner.

It was at their request that the guard of honor out of their number was allowed by the president to be placed about the casket.

Calvin enjoyed most about the White House, perhaps, his few trips on the Mayflower. During these he delighted to mix with the crew and particular admiration was held out by him for the marines.

A trip on the Mayflower was planned last Friday, the day Calvin first became critically ill, and during his moments of delirium at the hospital, it was said, he talked of plans for the cruise.

Tomorrow six marines of the Mayflower, as fond of the boy as he was of them, will cease their guard over his body and carry it to the train. They will continue to Northampton and Plymouth, bearing the casket to the grave.

Details of Attack.

Details of the early stages of young Calvin's illness became known tonight for the first time. While the blister on the right foot through which the poison darted into the body was worn a week ago Monday afternoon during a tennis match, the first signs of the illness were not felt until Wednesday night.

At that time Lieut. Commander Boone dropped in at the White House on his usual call. Calvin had gone to bed although it was early in the evening. Dr. Boone went up to see him, but the boy laughed and said he was only tired, and that he had played too much tennis the day before. Feeling his forehead, however, the doctor detected a fever. Further examination revealed swollen glands on the groin, inquiring if he had any sores on the body, as these glands are normally swollen only through injection of poison, Dr. Boone then learned of the blister. Again Calvin made light of the matter, saying he had almost healed the sore already. Such was the case, but the disease had gotten its root and leaving the source to heal over, had already shot through the body.

CONVENTION

what delegates who remained weary and worn and many of them broke.

When Mr. Rockwell, Mr. McAdoo's manager was asked what answer he would make to Governor Smith's proposal, he replied: "Nothing, except more votes."

McAdoo Out For Raid.

With that it was evident that the McAdoo forces were out for a night raid. It turned out that McAdoo himself had given orders for it because he wanted his sagging vote to be restored as nearly as possible to its high water mark before he quit the contest.

At the close of the 94th ballot, Smith had 364.5 and had lost his own veto power while McAdoo had regained his.

The next ballot, however—the 95th—found the McAdoo leaders elated over the turn in their fortunes. They openly declared they would run Mr. McAdoo's total up to more than 400 and somewhere around its former fighting strength.

On the first roll call McAdoo gathered in Kansas again and despite the fact that a decided drift to Davis had begun to set in, the end of the ballot found the McAdoo total up to 417. At the same time, the tide carried Smith upward and left him at 367 and a half. Thus a veto power was restored to both the principal contenders and the dead-lock was made tighter than ever. Meantime, a new high record had been made for John W. Davis and gave him 139.5.

McAdoo Calls Leaders.

While the democratic convention still was wrestling with its dead-lock early this morning, a dozen of the principal McAdoo leaders were summoned to Mr. McAdoo's headquarters in a hotel near the convention hall. The conference discussed the possibility of the candidate's withdrawal and how it might be done.

Mr. McAdoo was first urged by some of his closest friends to withdraw in favor of Ralston and he was said to be giving serious consideration went around the effect began wrecked his own boom by declining to be a candidate. Then a study of the other candidates was started.

It was pointed out to McAdoo that his chances of winning the nomination under the two-thirds rule were poor and the best he could hope for in the existing situation was to name the candidate. He also was advised that if he withdrew gracefully he might be in a position to be a candidate later.

One report that went the rounds of the convention floor while the conference was on was that Mr. McAdoo was preparing to withdraw in favor of Senator Walsh of Montana, prosecutor of the oil committee and permanent chairman of the convention.

Mr. McAdoo prepared a communication to the convention which it was explained by some of those about him could not be described as a withdrawal, because Mr. McAdoo felt he should not be in a position to withdraw from the race. It was described, however, as a document which would indicate to its supporters and the convention that he would be satisfied if the convention accepted Mr. Meredith.

Wife Settles It.

After a conference with his delegation leaders and others Mr. McAdoo's statement was perfected and finally he talked it over with his wife. Meanwhile word went around the convention that some statement might be expected from Mr. McAdoo soon. While awaiting developments, the convention continued with the dreary roll call in which McAdoo was regaining lost strength, Smith was standing about still and John W. Davis was steadily gaining.

While the next ballot was going on, McAdoo's manager, David L. Rockwell passed among the McAdoo delegations teling them what was taking place. The delegates interpreted the impending action as a withdrawal, which would at the same time force the withdrawal of Governor Smith by the governor's own agreement.

Falls to Abrogate Rule.

Between ballots, Ed M. Seamans of Oklahoma City presented a resolution to abrogate the two-thirds rule but it was rejected without debate and without roll call. The strong negative response when the question was put left no doubt that the two thirds needed for adoption of the proposal were lacking.

A provision to abrogate the rule previously had been presented and rejected but on that occasion the issue had been complicated by inclusion in the resolution of several other propositions. Tonight it stood alone and the reaction of the majority of the delegates to it was in no doubt.

As the balloting proceeded tonight the heat of the re-vitalized combat between McAdoo and Smith swept the convention time and again with cheering—almost lacking in the weary grind of recent days. It was almost like starting a dead-lock over again. There was more life and color on the floor than for almost a week.

Demonstrations Continue.

The California delegation kept up its flourishing of banners and blaring of trumpets to greet McAdoo votes and the Smith people tried hard not to be out done even if they again were outnumbered. When the chairman of the Massachusetts delegation announced his vote on the ninety-fifth ballot, he got the Smith contingents on the floor and in the galleries cheering by phrasing this way: "Massachusetts cast two and a half for McAdoo and until kingdom come and hell freezes over, thirty three and a half for Smith."

Vote down Adjournment.

A motion to adjourn until morning was voted down after the 97th ballot and then Mrs. Frank B. Lucas of Ponca City, Okla., offered a resolution to abrogate both the unit rule and the two-thirds rule without a roll call. It was rejected by what appeared to be an almost unanimous vote.

The next resolution came from Hawaii. It was offered by N. D. Godbold and provided that the convention remain in continuous session until a nomination for the presidency had been made. There was a loud response on both sides when the question was put and Chairman Walsh, bringing down his gavel with a preemptory whack, announced that the "noes" have it.

The ninety-ninth ballot showed the leaders standing as follows: McAdoo 355.5, Smith 353, Davis 210, Meredith 37.

This was a loss of 43 1-2 for McAdoo, a loss of one for Smith and a gain of 15 1-4 for Davis.

The convention convened tonight after a six hour rest, during which delegates attempted to agree on a compromise candidate.

Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana, had already notified the convention that he would not accept the nomination under any circumstances.

The ninety-fourth ballot, the first taken at tonight's session, resulted in substantial gains for McAdoo, which again put him into the lead largely due to the return to the fold of states that had been voting for Ralston.

The leaders stood as follows on this ballot: McAdoo 395, Smith 364.5, Davis 81.75.

It was a gain of 81 for McAdoo, a gain of nine for Smith and a gain of 13 3-4 for Davis.

Despite their losses, and amid threats of others, a central group of the McAdoo supporters kept up their courage tonight and even attempted a return of the old convention floor enthusiasm of the first days of the balloting. The California delegation came in with a new supply of state flags and streamers and with small trumpets and other noise-makers.

Just before the session began, a number of women delegates who have been supporting McAdoo with almost a religious zeal from the start called on the candidate and were assured by him that he had no intention of giving up the fight. The meeting was turned into a revival service at which the women sang again their McAdoo campaign song. As they came marching into the convention hall among the first arrivals and kept up their singing as they marched around the arena, waving above them the many-colored banners with which they have signalized the casting of every vote for McAdoo since the convention began.

The session was called to order a few minutes after 9 o'clock and opened with an invocation by the Rev. Wythe Leigh Kinsolving, chaplain of the Virginia Society of New York.

Senator Walsh, the chairman, then read to the convention without comment the telegram from Senator Ralston to Thomas Taggart asking that his name be withdrawn. When the reading was concluded there was a wave of handclapping over the hall, and the band struck into "The Banks of the Wabash," but most of the delegates had heard the news beforehand and the demonstration soon died out.

Roosevelt Withdraws Smith.

Almost the whole convention came to its feet and cheered when Mr. Roosevelt was recognized and began his speech withdrawing conditionally the name of Governor Smith.

As the first ballot got under way, it brought some scattering indications of the currents that were at work under the new situation created by the withdrawal of Senator Ralston and the conditional withdrawal of Governor Smith. Delaware, switching for the first time since the balloting began from Senator Saulsbury, gave her six votes to Senator Robinson. Indiana took the 30 that had been going to Ralston from his home state and gave 25 to McAdoo and five to Smith.

There was continual cheering as the Smith states continued to vote solidly for him despite his withdrawal, and the McAdoo people retaliated by applauding with a renewed fervor the vote of every McAdoo state that had remained faithful to the McAdoo cause. California, with its new flags and trumpets, led in the McAdoo demonstration.

Michigan to Copeland.

When Michigan was reached, 16 of the votes that had been going from that state to Ralston were transferred to Senator Copeland of New York, one time mayor of Ann Arbor. It was the first time more than a scattering vote or two had been given him. Mississippi then returned to the McAdoo column which she had left previously to get aboard the Ralston boom.

Amid the applause the chairman of the Missouri delegation who had been voting for Ralston consistently announced that "as a compliment to his patriotism and unselfishness, we still cast 36 votes for Samuel M. Ralston."

The 20 votes Kansas had been giving to Ralston went back to Governor Jonathan Davis. After a poll, Nevada, which also had been voting for Ralston, returned under the unit rule to McAdoo and Oklahoma did the same.

On this ballot, Robinson and Glass got 37 each. It was a gain of 19 for Robinson and 10 for Glass.

When Senator Ralston's withdrawal was announced, Taggart was greatly affected. After a few ballots he became convinced there would be no nomination tonight, so he went to his hotel and retired. He told friends that he worked hard all day yesterday and today and had but little sleep last night. It was nothing more serious than exhaustion, it was declared.

Smith and McAdoo Confer.

During the evening session, it became known that Governor Smith and Mr. McAdoo had had a personal interview during the afternoon. All of their advisers were extremely reticent regarding what ook place, but it was indicated that the meeting had been arranged in a hope that there might be an agreement for a simultaneous retirement from the field of candidates.

Chairman Hull of the national committee and Chairman Walsh of the convention were present at the conference and are said to have urged that some step be taken to extricate the convention from its plight.

Try to Move Convention.

Encouraged in their success in staging a come-back, which lifted McAdoo again into first place on the first ballot of the evening session some of the McAdoo men started a movement to have the convention wind up its session in New York and reconvene in Cleveland early in August. The proposal had not advanced tonight beyond the stage of informally sounding out various delegations regarding it.

Charges that a "hostile atmosphere" has handicapped the McAdoo campaign in New York and that Smith supporters have "packed the galleries" have been made repeatedly by the McAdoo managers. A proposal that the convention adjourn to Kansas City already has been voted down.

The 95th ballot ran along much like its predecessors until Michigan was reached. The 16 Michigan votes which had gone to Senator Copeland on the previous ballot were turned to Davis along with three taken from McAdoo. Missouri followed suit by casting her thirty-six for Davis.

Kansas Again Wavers.

The McAdoo forces were having trouble again holding Kansas. When the vote was cast for McAdoo a poll was demanded but it resulted in eleven for McAdoo and seven for Governor Jonathan Davis, with the rest of the delegation absent and under the unit rule, the state's twenty votes were given McAdoo.

On the ninety-sixth ballot the leaders stood as follows: McAdoo 421, Smith 359 1-2, Davis 171 1-2.

This was an increase for McAdoo of three and a half, a loss of eight for Smith, and an increase of two and a quarter for Davis.

Six more futile ballots today, bringing its total to 93, found the democratic national convention adjourning for a six-hour rest, during which conferences were planned in the hope of finding some way through the whirlpool. McAdoo lines continued to disintegrate during the day's balloting. Governor Smith's forces held fast and the much discussed and looked-for booming movement for Senator Ralston was actually developed on the floor. The word went out to flop in the votes for Ralston and in today's balloting his place had risen to third on the list with a total of 196 1-4.

McAdoo's Lowest.

The McAdoo numbers were hammered steadily downward during the day's balloting to a new low record—310 votes—the lowest point the McAdoo fortunes have touched since the convention began. They did recover a bit, however, on the last ballot of the day and stood at 314 when the convention adjourned. Meanwhile the Smith vote closed at 355 1-2 within 15 of its highest mark in all the balloting. The McAdoo forces had suffered losses between the close of last night's balloting and today's opening.

John W. Davis closed well toward his high mark, standing at 68, Senator Ralston, beginning at a figure surpassing his previous high water mark, was run up in the day's balloting from 98 to 196 1-4.

Glass to Ralston.

Glass, in the meantime, suffered a slump, losing in the aggregate 40 votes. Much of his loss and the losses of others were due to the accretions to the Ralston boom.

The talk about the convention hall was that the Ralston movement was going to be given its full chance to develop and if it did not do so, the coalition forces would be centered upon some one else.

"Last" Adjournment.

Today's adjournment came on the motion of George Brennan of Illinois, the leader for Governor Smith, who wanted time for conferences. There was a growl from the convention at the proposal of early adjournment. Bruce Kremer of Montana, floor leader for the McAdoo forces, taking the platform, seconded the Brennan motion for adjournment and gave notice that if in the meantime nothing had been accomplished by conference he would oppose any further adjournment of the convention until a presidential nominee was made.

Charles K. Hay of St. Louis, a McAdoo worker, also seconding the Brennan motion, denounced the unyielding tactics of the coalition opposed to Mr. McAdoo.

"BROKEN OUT" FACES ARE NOT IN STYLE

The girls who can't wear clothes which are in style because they have eczema, rash, tetter, scrofula or a "breaking out" where it would show are more to be scolded than pitied, because there is no need for them to be unattractive in out-of-style dresses when they can get rid of these skin troubles so easily now.

Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are surprising thousands of girls who have had to deny themselves the attention which more attractive girls get, because they quickly remove all trace of these skin troubles.

They are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—Adv.

Round trip from Wichita Falls to Denver

WHY swelter in the heat when Colorado's Skyland—cool, restful, healthful—is right next door to you?

Run up to Colorado for a while this summer. Let glacier breezes blow away your hot weather weariness. Rest yourself amid the beauty of snow-capped peaks, cool, shady forests, and snow-fed lakes and streams. And sleep beneath blankets at night!

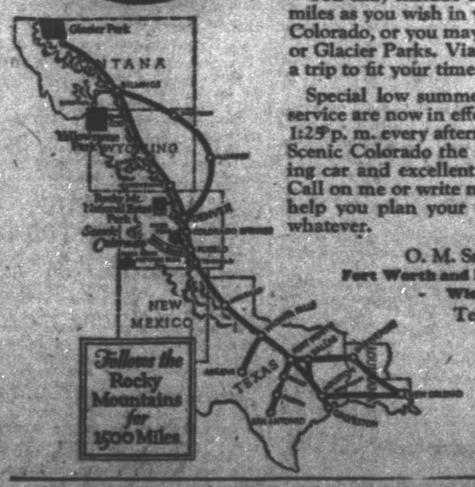

All of Colorado's glorious vacationland is near you. Thousands travel for days to reach this famous mountain playland. But no need of that for you. A matter of hours only—and you are in the heart of the Rockies. And, because the trip is short, it is surprisingly low in cost.

The Denver Road is the direct, quick route to Colorado. It takes you at once into high, cool altitudes. Then it follows the Rockies for 1500 wonderful miles.

You may include as much or as little of these 1500 miles as you wish in your trip. You may go farther than Colorado, or you may, if you wish, go on to Yellowstone or Glacier Parks. Via the Denver Road you can arrange a trip to fit your time and vacation allowance.

Special low summer tourist fares and summer train service are now in effect. The Colorado Special leaves at 1:25 p. m. every afternoon. You step off in Denver and Scenic Colorado the next morning. Observation sleeping car and excellent dining car service for all meals. Call on me or write me for further information. Let me help you plan your trip this summer. No obligation whatever.

Presenting
The "LIFEGARD Swimming Belt"
Teaching a Nation to Swim in Safety

Every man, woman and child can now enjoy the pleasure of swimming without the annoyance of learning. Simply strap on a feather weight "Lifegard Swimming Belt," plunge right into the water and you can swim, float or dive to your heart's content.

The "Lifegard" Is Your Teacher and Safeguard

Whether you are a beginner or an experienced swimmer, you need a LIFEGARD BELT — you are not safe without one.

Statistics show that the majority of all persons drowned in the United States the past year were experienced swimmers. As a guard against drowning through cramps or treacherous under-currents, the LIFEGARD BELT has already proven its worth.

The LIFEGARD BELT has been adopted as a standard equipment of the Life Saving Service of the City of New York and is heartily endorsed and recommended by the Y. M. C. A.

With a "Lifegard" You Enjoy All Water Sports in Safety

Navigating in the water is no longer a gamble of lives. The LIFEGARD BELT has created a new standard of safety in the water. All danger is entirely eliminated when you wear a LIFEGARD BELT.

When You Are—
Fishing, Yachting, Canoeing, Rowing, Sailing and Swimming

Wear a Lifegard Belt

The "Lifegard Swimming Belt" is inflated with two lungs full of air. Easily adjusted and very comfortable. Shown in all sizes,

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

JULY 9, 1924.

THE END OF ENMITY:—When a man's ways please the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.—Proverbs 16:7.

PRAYER:—O God, help us to live in Thee, and then Thou wilt stop the enemy, even as Thous didst stop the mouths of the lions for Daniel.

NORTH DAKOTA NON PARTISANS.

North Dakota is the state where the non partisan party was born. For six years the non partisan controlled the state. Two years ago R. A. Nestos, republican, was elected governor f North Dakota. All the conservatives, regardless of party, voted for Nestos. All the radicals regardless of party, voted for the non partisan candidate for governor. Now Nestos has been denied a renomination and A. G. Sorlie, his non partisan league opponent, is the republican nominee for governor.

There is no democratic party to speak of in North Dakota, no organization worthy of the democratic name and there is no telling where the few survivors of the family of Thomas Jefferson will go this year.

These non partisan leaguers are in the saddle; they have two of their chieftains in the senate of the United States and now they hope to capture all the state offices and the legislature.

How can a non partisan leaguer be a republican? How is it possible for him to swallow his own party platform and then gulp down the national platform of the republicans made in the city of Cleveland?

There are queer political lineups in the year of our Lord 1924.

SHE PLAYED HADES.

Mayor Edwin J. Brown of Seattle, Washington, made the trip to New York to sit as a delegate in the national convention of his party. Before leaving Seattle he designated Mrs. Henry Landes as acting mayor. Well, the lady gave the chief of police twenty-four hours to effect reforms in the city of Seattle and in his department. He ignored the order, the acting mayor removed him from office and proclaimed herself chief of police and director of public safety.

Mayor Brown was called home. He made the journey. He reinstated his chief of police and now Mrs. Henry Landes, who is the wife of the dean of science in the University of Washington, is minus her office but not her laurels. She held the center of the stage for four days and made the police department of Seattle the talk of the country.

Woman has the ballot. Woman is holding high place. Woman is smashing precedent. Woman is giving the practical politicians of the male persuasion something to think about.

Now where are the women voters going to plump their ballots on November election day?

COTTON.

This early cotton crop sharps are predicting an indicated yield of 11,800,000 bales. Crop condition is placed at 68.4. If the American crop this year centers around eleven million bales there should be a fancy price paid for the crop of 1924.

Regardless of what pessimists say, conditions abroad are improving for the reason that the workers of Europe are digging their way out.

All wealth is created by the human brain or the human hand and all wealth comes from the soil. It is the history of the ages that those who do the sweating are the creators of the raw wealth.

BAKER OR BRYAN.

Newton D. Baker was a war secretary of the United States. He is the foremost champion of the league of nations. William Jennings Bryan is a fromer secretary of state. He is a foremost champion of a referendum. After his defeat the former secretary of war said:

"Four years ago the democratic party was for the league. Now it is neither for it nor against it. It is affectionately inclined but not disposed to marry it."

Four years ago the democratic party was for the league. Then came the election and the democratic party was driven from power by a majority of seven million.

This year the party is dedicated to the principles of Woodrow Wilson but not to the policies of Wodrow Wilson. Where do we go from here?

PANTOMIME -:- By J. H. Striebel

LOOKS LIKE THEY TRIED TO SEE WHICH ONE COULD HOLD HIS BREATH THE LONGEST.

"OLIVER OCTOBER"

"Hello, Uncle Horace," was his greeting. "Sorry to have kept you waiting. And I'm in a bit of a hurry, too. Some friends coming down on No. 17, Mr. and Mrs. Sage—you remember them, no doubt. Anything in particular you wanted to see me about?"

"Yes, there is," said Mr. Gooch harshly. "I came over here to demand an apology from you, young man—a public apology printed over your signature in the newspapers. I wrote you a very plain and dignified letter in which I told you what I thought of the underhanded way you acted in regard to those dead old ladies, Mrs. Bannester and her sister. You know as well as I do that it was my intention to restore their property to them, absolutely tax free and without a single claim against it. You simply sneaked in and got ahead of me. And what did you say in reply to my simple, straightforward letter? You said you wouldn't trust me with one hand, or somethink like that. If I don't have a written and published acknowledgment from you that you deliberately misrepresented me, that you played me an underhanded trick simply for political purposes, I'll—I'll—"

"I'll make it so blamed hot you you'll wish you'd never been born," grnted Mr. Gooch. It rests with you, young man, whether a certain investigation takes place or not."

"What do you mean by investigation?" demanded Oliver, his eyes narrowing. "Just what are you driving at?"

His uncle leaned forward and spoke slowly, distinctly. "Is there any evidence that your father ever left this place at all?"

Oliver looked his uncle straight in the eye for many seconds, a curious pallor stealing over his face.

"There is no evidence to the contrary."

"There's no evidence at all," said Gooch, "either one way or the other. There has never been anything like a thorough search for him—in the neighborhood of his own home. I don't believe Oliver Baxter ever ran away from home. I believe he's out there in that swamp of yours. Now you know what I mean by an investigation, young man—and if it is ever undertaken I want to say to you it won't be under your direction, and it won't be a half-hearted job. And the swamp won't be the only place to be searched. There are other places he might be besides that swamp."

"I think I get your meaning, Uncle Horace," said Oliver, now cool and self-possessed. If I agree to withdraw from the race and perjure myself in the matter of the Bannester tax scandal, you will drop the investigation and forget all about it—even though I may have killed my own father?"

"I am not here to argue with you," snapped Mr. Gooch, his gaze sweeping the ever-increasing group of spectators. "Your candidacy has nothing to do with my determination to sift this business to the bottom." he went on, suddenly realizing that he was now committed to definite action. "I shall appeal to the proper authorities and nothing you do or say, young man, can head off the investigation. That's final!"

CHAPTER XIV
A Star's Homecoming

The return of Mrs. Sage after an absence of 23 years was an "event" far surpassing in interest anything that had transpired in Rumley since the strange disappearance of old Oliver Baxter.

Hundreds of people, eager to see the famous "Josephine Judge," crowded the station platform long before the train from Chicago was due to arrive; they filled the depot windows; they were packed like sardines atop the spare baggage and express trucks; they ranged in overflow disorder along the sidewalks on both sides of the street adjacent.

The train pulled in. The crowd tiptoed and gaped, craned its thousand necks, and then surged to the right. Above the hissing of steam and the grinding of wheels rose the voice of Sammy Parr far down the platform.

"Keep back, everybody! Don't crowd up so close. Right this way, Mr. Sage—How are you? Open up there, will you? Let 'em through. Got my new car over here, Mr. Sage—lots of room. Hello, Jane! Great honor to have the pleasure of taking Mrs. Sage home in my car. Right over this way. Grab those suit-cases, boy. Open up, please!"

Mr. Sage paused aghast half-way down the steps of the last coach but one. He stared, open-mouthed, out over the sea of faces; his knees seemed about to give way under him; his nervous fingers crept near relaxing their grip on the suitcase handles; he was bewildered, stunned.

"In heaven's name—" he groaned, and then, poor man, over his shoulder in helpless distress to the girl behind him—"Oh, Jane, why didn't we wait for the midnight—"

But some one had seized the bags and with them he was dragged ingloriously to the platform. Jane came next, crimson with embarrassment. She hurried down the steps and waited at the bottom for her mother to appear. As might have been expected of one so truly theatric, Josephine delayed her appearance until the stage was clear, so to speak. She even went so far as to keep her audience waiting. Preceded by the Pullman porter, who up to this time had remained invisible but no appeared as a proud and shining minion bearing boxes and traveling cases, wraps and furs, she at length appeared, stopping on the last step to survey, with well affected surprise and a charming assumption of consternation, the crowd that packed the platform.

Now, a great many—perhaps all—of those who made up the eager, curious crowd, expected to behold a young and radiant Josephine Judge; they had seen her in the illustrated Sunday supplements and in the pictorial magazines; always she was sprightly and vivid and alluring. They were confronted instead, by a tall, angular woman of 52 or 53, carelessly—even "sloppily"—dressed in a slouchy two-piece pepper and salt tweed walking costume. What most of the observers at first took to be a wad of light brown fur tucked under her right arm was discovered to be a beady-eyed "Pekinese."

But the minister's wife was still a vividly handsome woman. She had taken good care of herself; she had made a business of keeping young in looks as well as in spirit.

In a clear, full voice, trained to reach remote perches in lofty theatres, she spoke to her husband from the coach steps:

"Herbert, dear, have you the checks for my luggage, or have I?"

"I—I will attend to the trunks—" he began huskily, only to be interrupted by the indefatigable Sammy.

"Don't give 'em another thought, Mr. Sage. I'll see to everything. Give me the checks and—right this way, please, Mrs. Sage."

"Thank you—thank you so much," said Mrs. Sage graciously, and, as Sammy bustled on ahead, inquired in an undertone on Jane at whose side she walked: "Is that the wonderful Oliver October I've been hearing so much about?"

"No, mother—that is Sammy Parr. I—I don't see Oliver anywhere. I wrote him the train we were coming—"

A few paces ahead Sammy was explaining loudly to Mr. Sage: "I guess something important of a political nature must have turned up to keep Oliver from meeting the train. We had it all fixed up to meet you with my car and he was to be here at four sharp. Doc Lansing's up at Harbor Point, Michigan, for a little vacation. Won't be back till Sunday week. Muriel's out here in the car, Mr. Sage. She'll drive you home while I see about the baggage."

Mr. Sage had recovered his composure by this time. He leaned close to Sammy's ear and said gravely:

"Luggage, Sammy—luggage."

"Sure—I get you," said Sammy, winking. "But just the same I'll call it baggage till I've got it safely out of the hands of Jim O'Brien, the baggage master. Here we are! Hop right in, Jane. Permit me to introduce myself, Mrs. Sage. I am—"

"I remember you quite well," interrupted the great actress (pronouncing it "quate"). "You are Sammy Parr—little Sammy Parr."

"I say, Herbert, old thing, you can't make me believe this is Rumley. You are deceiving me. I don't recognize a single—Oh, yes, I do! I take it all back. I would know that man if I saw him in Timbuktu. The old Johnnie in the car we just passed! It was Gooch—the awible Gooch—and, my word, what a dust he was raising!"

CHAPTER XV
Oliver's Disappointment

Oliver, pedalling furiously, arrived at the parsonage 10 minutes behind the Sages. The minister greeted him as he came clattering up the front streets.

"Sh!" he cautioned, his finger to his lips. "Don't make such a noise, Oliver—if you please. She's—she's resting. Sh! Do you mind tiptoeing, lad?"

So Goes It

By BURNS HEGLER

It is a hard thing to put temptation aside. Temptation, like all things alluring, is persistent. This spring and summer a small voice has been coaxing us to go fishing. We withstood the attacks of the tempter for a time; we listened to the yarns of our friends about the big ones and we thought we were going to get by. But we didn't.

We stuck it out until a pair of days ago, and then we fell. But we had a perfectly good alibi. We have been hanging around the office so long—it seems like three or four years—waiting for the democrats to name a presidential nominee, and we thought maybe if we would disappear for a few hours they might at least get ready to do something.

So it was that we arose at an hour no sane man should arise, and under cover of darkness snuck out of town in company with a fearefully chosen partner in crime. He guided us to one of these "guaranteed" fishing places, that they tell you about in hushed whispers, at the same time exacting from you a promise that you will not reveal the fish spot to anyone else.

After an hour and a half's travel over the roughest roads in the United States of America—bar none—we arrived. The day was ideal. It looked interesting, but it wasn't. There may have been fish in that puddle, but if there were it was a greater secret than our informant lead us to believe it was. The fish, too, seemed determined to keep it a secret too.

Now we are not unreasonable about our demands when we sally forth in a fisherman's role. We do not insist that the fish ensnare themselves on the cruel hook with which we seek to entice them. But we do expect them to play with it a little—that they let us know they are there. But no one would ever have known there was a fish in that pond or lake, or whatever it was.

We did get one bite but it was suspiciously like that of a turtle. There undoubtedly were fish there, but they just refused to respond. And as far as we are personally concerned, they will remain there until they have grown to pordigous size, and till the mind of man recalleth them not.

The only chance we see for getting a kick out of that fishing trip is to whisper the secret that it is "a bully good fishing place" to some other hopeful soul.

CLASS LOSERS PUT ON PARTY TODAY

The Van H. Thompson, Bible class of the First Christian church, which is finishing a six weeks' contest in membership and attendance, is being entertained by the losing side, the Blues, this afternoon at Sandy Beach.

The class is composed of twenty five boys. The entertainment is to be a swimming party and picnic at the new pool which has recently been opened. The young men will meet at the church at 2 o'clock and go from there to the picnic ground.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

GOLF AND COURTESY

Whenever a club-swinging bounder,
A drive or a brassie has sped,
With a bellow of "Fore" as the spherical tore
An inch or two over my head,
I have cursed the timidity in me
That I didn't emit a low cry,
And land on his lunch with a haymaking punch,
Or brutally blacken his eye.

Whenever an elderly foursome,
Refusing to let me go through,
Has dubbed on the green and the fairway between,
What seemed like an hour or two,
I have often bewailed the politeness
That kept me from shouting out "Hey!
You had best look alive, for I'm going to drive!
Do you think you can camp there all day?"

I have recently read of a statesman,
Who always insists on the rights
That are his on the course, by resorting to force,
Which means that he sails in and fights.
If chesty young urchins drive past him,
If dotards won't let him go through,
He steps up and lands with his good strong right hands,
And it helps out his game a lot, too.

But me, I am gentle by nature,
All violent, rough stuff I hate;
I often see red when a foursome's ahead—
However I sit there and wait.
I let the young huskies drive past me
And pretend that I haven't got mad;
It's the nice thing to do, in the pacifist view,
But it does put one's game to the bad!

Let Things Alone

Pascal said that most of the evils of life come from "man's being unable to sit still in a room."

Certain it is that we have all often fared badly by acting without sufficient thought beforehand.

The trouble is with our inherited traits. In the simple early times of the human race the man who worked the hardest, the man who killed the most deer, the man who caught the most fish, was the man who succeeded.

All the inducements of early society were to immediate action, and all the penalties fell on the man who paused.

Times have changed, however. Civilization has become complex. It is no more so important to get up and go somewhere as to sit still long enough to know where you are going.

Back of all the bustling folk who "do things" are the quiet folks who think up things for them to do.

Sailors could not find their way in the markless waste were it not for the dreamy astronomer gazing at the stars and the mathematician poring over his logarithms.

All the bustling activity you see in the factory, the department store, even in the battle, depends for its efficiency upon some brooding mind that plans in the stillness of thought.

Nothing is idler than the person who is always busy, just as no one says less than the person who talks all the time.

Every actual deed is a sort of running jump, where how far you jump depends on haw far you run.

Irrigation

SOILS AND SOIL PHYSICS.
Growing Crops on Drained Land.

We have been telling about a large tract of land on a western irrigation project which became water logged and which had to be drained and the alkali washed out. We told how crops failed to grow on the reclaimed soil even though chemical analysis showed that they should.

After the weeds which started the second year had been disced under several times it was decided to try sowing seed on a few of the worst spots to test the soil out again.

It was late summer when these crops were sowed but most of them grew. Some very well, others very poorly, but the amount that died out completely was comparatively small.

This so encouraged the writer that he decided to crop the entire drained area the following spring.

Wheat, barley, and rye were sowed. It was expected to harvest these crops but they were also intended to serve as nurse crops for sweet clover and alfalfa.

Sweet clover requires a firm seed bed so, it was planted on the denser soils while alfalfa was planted on the more porus types.

Both the sweet clover and the alfalfa seed were inoculated with nitrogen producing bacteria and put in the ground with drills. Care was taken to prevent the inoculated seed from being exposed to the direct sun light as the actinic rays of the sun are fatal to nitrogen fixing bacteria.

A good stand of all the crops planted was obtained. Some of the grain ran as high as forty bushels to the acre.

Ruff Residence Burglarized But Nothing Taken

Although the house was ransacked from top to bottom, nothing of value was missed Tuesday from the William Ruff residence, 2304 Tenth street, when city officers searched it for clues as to the identity of thieves who went through it Monday night. Drawers had been opened and the contents strewn about the place.

No one was at home at the time, it was reported the family being out of the city for the summer. Entrance was gained through a rear window.

No money was in the building but the thieves did not molest the silverware or other articles of value. It is believed that they were frightened away before they could pack up loot they had intended taking.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

CANCER

Today's aspects are quite benin and favor all restful occupations and social, as well as family, intercourse. They do not counsel any great activity, nor warrant unusual energy; rather do they portend conditions of tranquility and an atmosphere of contentment. It is a suitable opportunity for an atmosphere of contentment, it is a suitable opportunity for light recreation, or for reading—not necessarily study.

A child born today will be as erratic in health, as in character. It will, even with the utmost care and vigilance, suffer from many ailments—more or less severe—in its early years; it will recuperate just as quickly as it falls sick. In the period of adolescence, it will attain a permanent condition of good health, and be healthy and strong. Its disposition will be variable, and its character will at times, show signs of great weakness, and, at other times, exceptional strength. It must be given plenty of outdoor exercise, and compelled to participate in the "give and take" of youthful sports; and its defects of character must not be compromised with, but corrected forcefully and energetically.

If today is your birthday, you cause yourself endless worry and anxiety by your efforts to do, as others do, and be as they are. You, lacking the virtue of self denial, are not only subject to your own foolish desires, but are in bondage to others who are like-minded with yourself. What others do, you do.

You live according to the artificial standard of your neighbors, spending like them, regardless of the consequences, at the same time aspiring after a style of living higher than your means. You cannot resist the temptation of doing this, even though it may be at the expense of others; you are, possibly, gradually becoming reckless of debt.

In all this there is great weakness of character, pusillanimity, and want of independence. In order to get out of life that to which, given your natural characteristics, you are entitled, you must have the courage to live within your means, rather than upon the means of others. Shaftesbury somewhere says that a restlessness to have something which we have not, and to be something which we are not, is the root of all immorality.

Today's Poem

SONG.

Who has robbed the ocean cave,
To tinge thy lips with coral hue?
Who from India's distant wave
For thee those pearly treasures drew?
Who from yonder orient sky
Stole the morning of thine eye?

A thousand charms, thy form to deck,
From sea, and earth, and air are torn:
Roses bloom upon thy cheek,
On thy breath their fragrance borne,
Guard thy bosom from the day,
Lest thy snows should melt away.

But one charm remains behind,
Which mute earth can ne'er impart;
Nor in ocean wilt thou find,
Nor in the circling air, a heart,
Fairest! would thou perfect be,
Take, oh take, that heart from me.

—John Shaw.

Instructions On Patterns Given At McClurken's

Mrs. M. Brewer of New York City is in Wichita Falls at the W. B. McClurkan department store demonstrating the new features of the Ladies' Home Journal patterns. With each pattern is a chart bearing numbers showing how each piece of material should be cut.

"The Journal patterns are the easiest to use of any patterns made," Mrs. Brewer stated. "They have been used by school girls in their work, because of the very simplicity of the chart. These patterns have been used for the last three years by the students of sewing in Columbia university."

A number of women have shown their interest in the patterns and have called at the store to talk with Mrs. Brewer. Each pattern contains all instructions for the making of the garment, and suggestions for trimming, finishing and color combinations are also given. Mrs. Brewer will probably conclude her work in Wichita Falls this evening.

FLANNEL FABRIC IS PROVING VERY SMART FOR SPORT WEAR

By MME. LISBETH.

A lot of nerve strain has been eliminated by the invention of the overblouse and middy. The tuck-in style of blouse, while it had its good points, was nevertheless more or less of an annoyance. For instance, there was the question to pin or not to pin. If you did pin the material was liable to tear at a sudden strain. If you did not the blouse was quite likely to pull out from the skirt in an unseemly manner. We bore these burdens patiently as long as it was the thing to wear a tucked in blouse, but many of us are heaving sighs of relief over the fact that the "staying put" problem has been taken away from the blouse habit and there is one less thing to worry about.

Now take the sports costume pictured here. I defy you to say it isn't smart, and as to comfort—what could be more so? It is fashioned by biscuit colored flannel, but that is immaterial as you may choose your own color. The skirt is pleated and the overblouse is as like a middy as it well could be and is piped in white, which adds a festive note. It is slip-over style with sailor color, vestee, pockets and very short sleeves, and is girlish withal.

The prevailing styles in sports coats are what make me gasp. Surely the world of fashion has gone mad when it uses chints and cretonne for top coats, trims them with linen and lines them with crepe de chine. It's being done in the very best circles this season. These coats are unspeakably colorful and attractive, too. The worsted coats are equally good and stripes, blocks and plaids are very prevalent.

Unless one has a well padded pocketbook I would not advise buying the novelty garments no mater how great the temptation. A good looking woolen coat in a fairly conservative pattern will be a good companion while strolling on the beach in the moonlight, cuddled up in the sand before the beach fire or listening to the splash of the waves against the boat as it ploughs its way through the water. And also, we almost forgot to say, on the motor ride.

Negro Tries To Shoot Farmer

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., July 8.—Dropping to the ground just as a negro, Floyd Bethel, pulled the trigger of a revolver, saved the life of Wes Donahoe, farmer, Saturday night, according to the story related by witnesses of the shooting affair. They said the negro fired twice at the white man before he could be subdued and that he cut another negro in the back when the latter attempted to act as a peacemaker. The shooting occurred at a negro picnic on the Donahoo farm. Donahoo was dispensing cold drinks at the picnic.

Bethel is charged with shooting to do bodily harm and four other negroes are charged with fighting in connection with the affair.

Color Cut-Outs

Here Comes the Sheriff.

After the stage coach had passed across the stage at the Color Cut-outs' Wild West show and gone out again, Jack came out, dressed as a sheriff. He looked all around. "I heard there's a plot on to rob the stage coach on its return trip," he said. "A strange Mexican bandit has been seen hanging around, and maybe he's mixed up in it. I guess I'll just take a look around and head off any trouble before it gets a good start."

The sheriff then took his trusty water gun out of his pocket and sneaked carefully out of the ring, as though he were looking for some one. The girls and boys waited breathlessly for what would happen next.

Color the sheriff's shirt and trousers tan and his hat and shoes brown.

Managing a Husband Is a Matter of Technique, and the Wise Wife Studies Her Subject to Ascertain Method That Will Make Him Yield Quickest

A young woman writes:

"I am going to be married, and I will be grateful if you will give me a reliable recipe for managing a husband. By 'managing' I do not mean ruling. I have no desire to boss my husband, and no ambition to be a henpecking wife. I simply use the word 'manage' in the feminine sense, which means handling your husband with gloves, and possessing the gentle art of sidestepping his peculiarities, and getting what you are entitled to without fighting for it, and living with him in peace and harmony instead of strife."

Well, my dear, there are just as many ways of managing a husband as there are different varieties of husbands, and all of them work if applied to the proper cases. It is a matter of technique, and that has to be adapted to the individual idiosyncracies of the particular man you have drawn in the matrimonial lottery.

The method which is a sure-fire hit with one husband is a flivver with another, for some husbands have to be bluffed, while others have to be jollied. Some wives have to use strong-arm methods, while the patient Griselda stuff wins out for others. Some husbands can be worked by tears, while the key to others has to be greased with salve. It all depends on the man.

Let us consider some of the common or garden variety types of husbands:

First, the sensitive husband who is always getting his feelings hurt and who pouts and glooms around the house, and when asked what is the matter, replies, "Oh, nothing," and wears the general look of an early Christian martyr.

He is easy. He wants to be petted, and petted, and kissed, and told he is the most beautifulest sing in the world, mudder's fair-haired, precious boy. The wife with this sort of a husband should be her own press agent, and call his attention to every single, solitary thing she does for him, and tell him how she considers his taste in every bit of the food she buys for dinner, and how she runs the house to please him, and what a precious privilege it is to put the studs in his shirt. This will soothe his ingrowing sense of importance, and make him eat out of her hand.

Then there is the bossy man. The man with the head-of-the-house complex. It is mere child's play to manage him, if his wife will only take the trouble to seek his advice on every subject from buying her lingerie to asking him what she thinks she thinks. No woman can come nearer to doing as she pleases than the wife of the bossy man, because he is so swelled up over her asking his advice that he never notices whether she takes it or not.

Then there is the self-conceited man. Any girl baby can manage him, if she has the industry to fan him with hot air. All that his wife has to do is to tell how great and how wise and how handsome he is, to convince him that she is the only woman in the world. All that she needs to do to get whatever she wants is to make him believe that he originated the idea of buying a new car, or moving into a better neighborhood, and the trick is done.

There's the high-tempered man, who flies into mad rages and swears and curses. The way for a wife to handle a man of this sort is to beat him to it, and get so much angrier than he does, and make so much more of a scene and say so many shrewish things that she terrorizes him. And a woman can do this if she will. When it comes to the use of the tongue no man can hold his own with a woman. He lacks swiftness and staying powers.

There are three ways to deal with a grouch. One is by his wife calling his bluff, and telling him that she will not stand for his acting like a spoiled child, and that he has either to cheer up or get out, until he can be human once more. The second is by ridicule, and by holding him up as a figure of fun for the household to laugh at. The third is for the wife simply to ignore that hubby has gone into a state of frozen silence, and that every one is being punished for something having gone wrong by having the sunlight of his presence withdrawn.

There isn't a bit of fun in grouching if nobody notices that you are doing it, and it apparently doesn't incommode any one, or interfere with their pleasure. To try to placate a grouchy husband, and win him out of his back mood is a fatal mistake. It encourages him in them, and furnishes him with a weapon to hold over the heads of the family.

The best way to manage a tightwad husband is by appealing to his vanity. He will generally come across with an allowance rather than let his wife carry out her threat to get a job as a dress model in order to get the clothes she needs. Also the combination to the safety lock on his pocketbook is the suggestion that he isn't as good a business man as Mr. Jones, and can't afford to give his family what the Jones' have.

But when a man is really miserly nothing but chloroform will do the work, and the only way his wife can get money out of him is to arise in the night and go through his pockets.

And so it goes. To each man his own method, and wise is the wife who studies her husband, and ascertains to which mode of treatment he yields quickest and easiest.

A Warm Weather Dish

One Mother Says:

A dish for a very hot day when meats seem unappetising is asparagus with eggs. After a bunch of asparagus has been boiled until tender, about 20 minutes, place in a deep pie dish and season with salt and butter. Beat four eggs, yolks and whites separately, add two tablespoons of cream, one tablespoon of warm butter, and salt. Pour over the asparagus and bake about eight minutes or until the eggs are set.

Americans Rout Finns Third Day Olympics

U. S. TAKES ALMOST 2 TO 1 LEAD IN POINT GATHERED

Two of Uncle Sam's Athletes Crowned as New Olympic Champions—Britain Wins 400 Meters.

OLYMPIC STADIUM, COLOMBES, France, July 8.—The Stars and Stripes waved triumphantly tonight over the Olympic stadium, the third day of the Olympic games having witnessed a great battle for international athletic supremacy, in which the United States put its strongest rival, Finland, to rout in two of the three finals contested and took almost two to one lead in the point struggle.

The two Americans crowned as new Olympic champions were Dehart Hubbard, the University of Michigan's negro star, who won in the broad jump, with 24 feet, six inches, and Clarence Houser, University of Southern California, whose winning toss in the shot put was 49 feet 2½ inches.

Easy Victor in Shot.

The United States scored an unexpectedly overwhelming victory over Finland in the shot put, taking four of the six places, with Glenn Hartranft, Leland Stanford, second and Ralph G. Hills, Princeton, third, thus for the first time in 1924 games sending Old Glory up three standards to the tunes of The Star Sprangled Banner, and amid one of the most enthusiastic demonstrations ever witnessed.

Although the United States came through sensationally in the field events, scoring altogether 36 points in the broad jump and shot put honors, the third final of the day went to Great Britain whose great half miler, G. A. Lowe, won the thrilling 800-meter run from the fastest field of middle distance men in the world.

Top O'Morn

BLONDY

An even break on the Panther lot is as good as any team in Texas can hope to get, and that's what Tanner and his crew put over Tuesday. Jake Atz probably went wild in that first contest when the Spuds took the lead, lost it, and then broke out for three tallies in the twelfth.

There will be more tough competition for the Spudders this afternoon. Two days with Ike Sablosky's Bovines and a possibility of three games in all.

Back to the home lot Friday with Bernsen's Exporters for a stand until the night of July 20. Then off again for a lengthy tour.

Rumors are going the rounds of the Texas loop to the effect Wichita Falls may lose its baseball franchise, and an Oklahoma ball city be added to the circuit because of poor attendance at Athletic park. But Colonel Harvey, Spudder boss, has heard nothing of this. Although not satisfied by a great deal with attendance figures, Harvey has no intention of giving up the ship.

This palaver about taking the Spudder franchise away lines up as pretty far-fetched as long as Harvey is backing the club. Support at the Cat series here Saturday, Sunday and Monday was as good as any over the loop. And with the team picking up as it has done since the season's split, the figures are destined to mount still higher.

Richard Morgan, sterling starboard chunker of the Spuds who has been on the casualty list for the past several weeks, will probably be back in harness by time of the Beaumont series. With Morgan in shape the Tanner staff will be a formidable one.

Harvey is on the lookout, has been for nearly two weeks, seeking another worthy infielder. The club president believes that with his slab corps in condition and the addition of a good athlete on the inner gardens he will have a team which should be very hard to stop.

Who will leave the Spudders when another infielder is brought in Harvey declares himself in no position to state. "But anyhow, we hope to add a player just as soon as we can find the man we want," he said Tuesday.

REDS SPLIT WITH PHILS

Clubs Battle 26 Innings In Heated Mound Duels

CINCINNATI, July 8.—Cincinnati and Philadelphia went 26 innings into an even break in today's double header, the visitors winning the first game 3 to 1 in 10 innings and the home team taking the second contest, 2 to 1 in 16 innings. Each team used only one pitcher in each game, all four of the hurlers doing good work. The Phillies won the first game from Luque in the tenth on an error by Critz and three hits, Hubbell holding the Reds safe. The second game lasted until darkness and was won in the last half of the sixteenth on a single by Rixey, safe bunts by Critz and Daubert and a long drive by Roush. Scores:

Methodists Lose To Presbyterians

First Methodists staged a hitting rally in the seventh inning, netting four runs, but the lead of the First Presbyterians was too large, the Presbyterians winning Tuesday's Sunday School loop tilt, 11 to 9.

The game was featured by erratic fielding on both sides, and the ability of players of each team to slug the ball.

McMahon and M. Robertson poled two-baggers. Donaldson tripled.

Out to Hold Uncle Sam's Athletic Supremacy

Interest in the Olympic games at Paris is at its height these days as the track, field and swimming events—the contests that furnish the biggest thrills—are being staged. Above are some of the stars on whom Uncle Sam is depending to maintain his supremacy, established in previous games. Aileen Riggin, dainty diving champ, with the Star Spangled Banner, exemplifies the spirit of America at the games.

Give Me Joe Burnam, Shouts Red Lewis—He May Get Him, Says Don

Atkins Sprains Ankle While Doing Road Work—Whittington and Sparks Ready For 12-Rounder.

Jack Atkins, Childress heavyweight, billed to do battle with Joe Burnam of Los Angeles ten rounds on the Legion ring card Thursday evening, sprained an ankle while doing road work this week, and may not be able to appear. "But whadda we care?" chirps none other than the wild and as yet not nearly domesticated Red Lewis, saffron locked heavy from Galveston, who has for a number of weeks afforded local fandom great gobs of joy in his rampant attacks on all comers.

"Give the big boy to me; I like 'em rough and husky," advises the belligerent Red. And Promoter Don Wofford is just about in the state of mind to satisfy this warlike member of his stable. It'll probably be Lewis versus Burnam in the Legion ten-round bout of the double windup card.

Sparks Has Enviable Record.

In the meantime, both pugilists are working out daily in preparation for whatever may come. Burnam is plodding along in earnest search for sparring partners willing to stand up before his gigantic swings, while Red is romping about in his conditioning sessions just as spry and care-free as ever.

Fred Whitting, middleweight who tangles with Speedy Sparks in the final go, a 12-rounder, is present, and ready for the gong.

Sparks showed up Monday, and went right to work. And here's another enthusiastic customer for you—probably the reason for that front monicker, "Speedy." This lad, always full of pep, has squared off with the best and the worst, both going and coming. And it's his boast that he has lost but one bout out of his last 52 scraps. That fight went to Jock Malone, the veteran, and a sterling battler if there ever was one. Sparks, on the other hand, has poured it on a number of the good boys, and produces a well stocked scrap book to prove it.

The Tabby Levine-Johnny Rivers, eight-round semi-final, also scheduled, will be the renewal of an old grudge. Levine, although a number say he won, fought Rivers to a draw here a good while back, and both boys are out to gain a decision this time. They are featherweights.

All the boxers billed will top off their training this afternoon at the Legion arena. Fans will be admitted free to the workout.

SOX BREAK EVEN IN YANK TILTS

Thurston Captures First Game, Making 13 Victories

NEW YORK, July 8.—The New York Yankees broke even in a double header with Chicago here today, the White Sox winning the first game 10 to 2 and the Yankees taking the second 8 to 5. Thurston won his thirteenth victory of the season in the first game. Ruth did not get into the second game until the seventh inning, when he batted for Hendrick and drove in a run with a single. Ruth injured his hip in the recent Washington series. Scores:

Texhomas Beat Security Bank Score 7 to 5

After shuffling their pitchers to advantage, Texhomas finally came out with the long end of Tuesday's Twilight league game against the Security National bank nine, 7 to 5.

Griggs started for the victors, and pitched a beautiful game until the last of the fourth when he was forced to the showers by five consecutive hits, which netted four runs. Kellog came to Griggs' rescue with one man on, walked the next batter and struck out C. Brown for the third out. Homer Sanderford, former Baylor star, took over the pitching and hurled the last two innings in beautiful style.

Gordon Hits Homer.

Andree and C. Brown pitched nicely for Securities, but errors behind them proved their downfall. They allowed Texhomas only four hits, two of which were garnered by Gordon, and two by Leach, the latter's both two-baggers. Gordon hit a home run and a triple.

Kellog Fields Brilliantly.

Taylor, Ramsey and Glidewell hit well for the Securities, each getting two safeties.

Kellog's playing at first base was spectacular. He snared several long fouls which seemed sure to land on the ground far from his position.

BEAUMONTERS BLANK BEARS

Shippers Rout Winters In First — Foreman Is Invincible

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 8.—Foreman was invincible today and Beaumont won the second game of the series 7 to 0. A first inning attack drove Winters out when the Exporters scored five runs. Foreman allowed but two hits until the ninth when Galloway's double following a pass to Warwick sent the first Bruin runner to third. The first inning required 13 minutes and the game was then finished in short order. Rabbit opened the first inning with a home run. Score:

Lina Motor Wins First From Lions

ELECTRA, July 8.—Second half of Twilight league opened today when Lina Motor scored a victory by making seven against the Lions three.

A nice double play was enacted in the second inning when the Lions had the bases full and McCracken hit a slow infield ball to Jennings, pitcher, who threw out Ray at home, and trotten, catcher, caught Corbell at third base, retiring the side.

Score by innings:

FORT WORTH, July 8.—Wichita Falls and the Panthers divided a double header here today, the first going to the Spudders, 5 to 2, in 12 innings, and the second, a five-inning game, to the Cats, 10 to 2.

Drake proved Fort Worth's master in the initial contest until in the seventh he got in hot water, and gave way to Fussell who hurled a sterling game the rest of the way. A three-bagger by Jonnard and a single by Weis coupled with purposeful walks played a great part in pushing over three runs for the visitors in the twelfth.

Fort Worth jumped on Fussell in the first inning of the second tilt, and scored three runs. Atzuen again got to the Wichita southpaw with a vengeance in the second inning, and forced him from the mound. Wright relieved Fussell, but five runs were run across the plate before the Cats could be retired. Hulvey had things practically all his own way, and with the enormous lead given him by his mates, the Fort Worth pitcher was in no real danger.

Spuds One in Third.

The Spudders scored one run in the third inning of the first game on walks, and a double by Fitzgerald. White and Jonnard walked. On an attempted sacrifice Drake forced White, first to third. Fitzgerald doubled to left, scoring Jonnard and sending Drake to third. Coombs was called out on strikes. Locker flied to right.

Spuddess came back in the fourth, and counted another on double by Weis and single by Callaghan. Weis doubled to left. Turgeon went out, third to first, Weis taking third. Callaghan shot a single through the box, scoring Weis. White hit into a double play, third to second to first.

Cats Tie It Up.

The Panthers evened the count in the seventh when Drake became a bit erratic. Bischoff singled to left. Hulvey batted for Head and walked. Bescher ran for Head. Calvo bunted and Drake threw late to third in an effort to force Bischoff, filling the bases. Phelan singled to left, scoring Bischoff. Bescher also scored when Weis fumbled. Calvo went to second. After Sears had fouled Drake's first two offerings, Fussell went to the mound. Sears popped to Jonnard. Turgeon tossed out Kraft, Calvo taking third. Palmer went out over the same route.

Win in Twelfth.

Both teams were blanked until in the twelfth, Wichita Falls stormed home plate for three runs. Jonnard tripled to center. Fussell was called out on strikes. Tanner batted for Fitzgerald and was purposely passed. On a squeeze play, Kraft fumbled Coombs bunt, Jonnard scored. Tanner went to second and Coombs was safe at first. Locker was purposely passed, filling the bases. Weis singled to left, scoring Tanner and Coombs. Turgeon was hit by a pitched ball. Callaghan fanned. White went out, short to first.

Spuds Start Second With Run.

An error and a single by Turgeon went a long way toward giving Wichita Falls one run in the first inning of the second game.

Fort Worth returned to old time form in the same inning, and got to Fussell for three runs. Calvo walked. Phelan got an infield hit to third. Sears walked, filling the bases. Kraft walked, forcing in Calvo. Palmer forced Phelan at the plate, Turgeon to Smith. Edington hit to Locker and Sears was safe at the plate on Locker's low throw. Tavener forced Edington, Turgeon to White, Kraft scoring and Palmer taking third. On an attempted double steal, Palmer was out at the plate, Smith to White to Smith.

Cats Five More.

Five more did the Cats garner off Fussell and Wright in the second frame. Moore singled past third. Hulvey popped to White. Calvo bunted down the first base line and both runners were safe when Fussell fumbled. Phelan walked. Sears walked, forcing in Moore. Wright now pitching for Wichita Falls, Bescher ran for Sears. Kraft hit a home run over the left field fence, scoring Calvo, Phelan and Bescher. Palmer fouled out to Coombs. Edington flied to Callaghan.

Turgeon Again.

Wichita Falls scored another in the third. Infield hit by Weis, an error by Phelan and a single by Turgeon accounted for the run.

The Cats wound up their scoring by getting two more in the last half of the third. Tavener beat out a bunt down the third base line. Moore singled to left, sending Tavener to second. Hulvey fanned. Calvo singled to center, scoring Tavener. Phelan singled to right, scoring Moore. On an attempted double steal Calvo was out at the plate, Jonnard to Turgeon to Jonnard. Bescher singled past third, and Phelan was out at the plate, Weis to Jonnard.

TENNIS ENTRIES MAY PRACTICE AT MUNY CLUB

Entries of the all-city feminine and Municipal club men's tennis tournaments will be allowed the privilege of practicing on the muny courts free of charge, beginning with today. This altruistic spirit of the club officials was shown yesterday when R. R. Fisk, speaking for Harry Bunnenberg, made the announcement.

Each contestant, however, must produce an entry card at the club house before using the courts. Women and girl players must get notes from either Miss Margie Bright or Mrs. H. R. Van Emden signifying that they intend to take part in the tournament. The men will receive cards from either M. A. Ellis at the Security National bank or C. F. Greene, 1001 Scott street.

Use of the showers and dressing rooms will also be given to the entries.

TWO KANSAS CITY PLAYERS SUSPENDED

KANSAS CITY, July 8.—William Skiff and "Pete" Scott, catcher and outfielder, respectively, with the Kansas City baseball team, were suspended indefinitely today by George E. Muehlebach, owner of the club. Skiff and Scott were questioned in connection with the death of Miss Blanche Pearce, who was killed early today when she fell down an elevator shaft in a local hotel after attending a party in the ball players' room.

Mr. Muehlbach said he was not passing judgment on the two players but desired the incident to be cleared up entirely before permitting them to play again.

U. S. FENCERS ARE ELIMINATED

PARIS, July 8.—The United States fencing team today was eliminated in the semi-final round of Olympic competition, being beaten by the Portuguese team. The final round will be contested by France, Italy, Belgium and Portugal.

Humble Oil & Refining Co. Cuts Gulf Coast Crude Prices 25 Cents

BOTH GRADES GET NEW SLASH

Other Companies Hold Back And No Other Cuts Announced

By The Associated Press.

HOUSTON, July 7.—A reduction of twenty five cents a barrel on Gulf Coast crude both grades, Mexia, Powell and Currie, and Ranger districts, was announced today by the Humble Oil and Refining company. This afternoon other oil companies here had not determined to follow the cut.

HUMBLE SETS CASING AND STANDARDIZES ON ORTON LAND TEST

The Humble Oil and Refining company has set casing in its No. 1, B. Orton, northwest corner of the northeast quarter of section 2, SPRR survey, abstract 1209, Archer county, at a depth of 1,588 feet, and is standardizing to drill in. There is a small showing of oil in the hole.

MAHLSTEAD AND MOOK HAVE CASING TROUBLE, WILSON 1

Mahlstead and Mook have casing trouble in their test in the southeast corner of lot 8, section 20, L. F. Wilson lands, ATNCL, Archer county. Casing was set on top of the sand at 1600 feet with the sand encountered at 1601 feet and entered to a depth of 1606 feet. When the drill stem was put back into the hole it could not be put to the bottom, a steel line run showing the obstacle to be 800 feet down. It is not known whether the casing has collapsed or parted.

This test is a diagonal offset to the northwest of the Simms-Woodburn No. B-3, producing from the sand encountered about three feet lower than in this test.

SHAMROCK STARTING 4 SWASTIKA TESTS

The Shamrock Oil company has started four new wells in the Swastika district, its No. 2, Richardson "B" lease, and No's 4, 5, and 6 Goldsmith. No's 4 and 5, Goldsmith have spudded and the other two are rigging up and will spud this week.

WAITE PHILLIPS HAS 2 DRILLING TESTS; SHUT DOWN ON THIRD

Waite Phillips is drilling below 1,753 feet on his Chancellor land test, block 31, Harris subdivision of Club ranch. The test on the Henry Ford land, J. S. B. ks survey, abstract 17, southeast of Holliday, is drilling below 1,208 feet, while the S. Wilson land test, Wm. Horrits survey, abstract 646, between Dundee and Archer City is shut down temporarily with the bottom of the hole below 1,400 feet.

CUMLEY ET AL CLAY CO. WELL PLACED ON PUMP MONDAY

Cumley, Stump, and Callendar placed their well on the Stine brother's land, Clay county, on the pump yesterday and are running the oil into a 500-barrel storage on the lease preparatory to making connections with the Texas Pipe Line company who have run a line to the lease.

Texhoma Feeling For 1400 Ft. Sand Test N. of Panhandle Well

The Texhoma is drilling at 1420 feet on their No. 4, Kemp and Kemner, southeast corner of quarter section 63, section 2, Archer county, and expect to pick up the 1400 foot sand today or last night. The test is a north offset of the Panhandle's No. 2, B. Orton, recently completed 200-barrel producer from the 1500 foot sand.

O'Donohoe Down 1160 Ft. In Test Near Hambro, Okla., Well

John F. O'Donohoe's test in Jefferson county, Oklahoma, near the Hambro Oil company's Sun producer near Ryan, is drilling below 1160 feet and is expected to reach the sand of the Hambro well sometime this week. The test is located in the east 1-2 of the northeast 1-4 of section 5, township 7, range 5 west.

WIGLEY LAND TEST DRILLING DEEPER

Brown and McAlister are drilling deeper in their test on the Wigley land in the bend of the river, north bank, Wichita county, after testing a sand at 1640-54 feet and getting salt water. This water was at first believed to be coming from above but when the casing was reset found to be in the sand which showed but little oil.

BOYD SALMON WELL WILL GO ON PUMP

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, July 8.—It is understood here that preparations are being made to place the No. 1, Salmon, of the Boyd Oil company about ten miles north of here on the pump. Bailing was stopped a day or so ago and oil rose to the top of the hole.

CREATH ET AL PULL CASING TO ABANDON

Creath and others are pulling casing to plug and abandon their test in section 22, abstract 1047, H&TCRR survey, Archer county, having reached a total depth of 1,750 feet, contract calling for 1,715 feet.

Shappel Drilling Below 1,000 Ft., KWVFL Test

T. O. Shappel and Sons are drilling below 1,000 feet on their No. 5, Kemp Wichita Valley Farm land, H&TCRR survey, abstract 733, just across the line in Wichita county, northwest corner of quarter section 40, and expect to reach the sand sometime this week.

Simms Oil Company Gets Third 1600 Foot Well in R-F, S-T, Nichols and White Land Group; 50-bbl. Producer

The Simms Oil company has completed its No. 1, A. P. Nichols, northeast corner of lot 10, section 30 ATNCL, Archer county, south offset to Ray and Featherstone's No. 1, Nichols recently completed producers from the 1600-foot sand in this section, and are standing with the expectation of making a 40-50 barrel well from the sand at 1605-16 feet.

This is the third 1600 foot producer in this district. Ray and Featherstone completed the first about a month ago for an initial 300-350 barrel producer. This well has since gone down until not it is making about 100 barrels a day on the pump. Stidham and Thrasher completed the second in the deep sand, their No. 2, J. H. White, east offset to the Ray-Featherstone well, and in the southwest corner of lot 2, block 35. This well is now pumping about 160 barrels a day although completed some two weeks ago. The Simms well is the third in the group. Stidham and Thrasher completed their No. 1, White, about two months ago in the northwest corner of lot 3, block 35, and the well is now making about 25-30 barrels a day on the pump from a 1400 foot sand.

Stidham and Thrasher have started a twin well to their No 1 to go to the deeper sand at 1600 feet directly south of their No. 1. This well is drilling around 1100 feet.

The Prairie Pipe Line company has a two-inch line to the district.

TWO NEW WELLS FOR TEXHOMA

No.'s 4 and 5, Burnett, North Of Maer et al Group Completed

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company has completed and placed on the pump its No. 4 Burnett, north of the Maer Stamiforth and Gwynn producers, Wichita county, and had completed and swabbed yesterday its No. 5, Burnett, a location to the east of No. 4.

The first day's guage on the No. 4 showed 198 barrels from the sand 1,565-80 feet, No. 5 was showing for an even better well.

No. 6, a location to the west of No. 4, is drilling at 1,325 feet, No. 7 at 650 feet and No. 8 at 450 feet.

Will Bail Today On 2 Tests East Of Archer City

Doe Brothers will finish running their casing this morning in their test east of Archer City and will probably bail this afternoon, bottom of the hole now at 1316 feet.

Holmes and Haskell have set casing in their test to the east, Sanford Wilson lands, section 2, J. Scott survey, abstract 859, Archer county, and will probably bail today.

Oil Personals

V. E. Jackson, Iowa Park Producing and Refining company, is away from Wichita Falls for a short stay in Chicago, and is not expected back until Saturday.

UNITED CENTRAL SETS CASING, McCARTY 7

The United Central Oil company has reached the sand in its McCarty No. 7, depth being given as 1674 feet. Casing was to be run last night and set above.

Gasoline Now 19 Cents In Wichita Falls

The retail price of gasoline in Wichita Falls has been cut from 20 cents a gallon to nineteen cents, the change taking place last Friday following a tank wagon cut to sixteen cents on Thursday. All companies here made the cut at once and here was no variance in prices at any of the filling stations at any time.

The cut, coming as it did on the Fourth enabled the large number of people using the Fourth for motoring to take advantage of the cent reduction.

New Brokerage Office Opens

A new brokerage office, R. E. Flowerree and company, correspondents of Fenner and Beane of New York and New Orleans, was opened in Wichita Falls Tuesday with quarters in the basement of the Staley building. Leonard T. Harris is the resident manager.

Private wires have been installed to the main exchanges and also to the company's various offices throughout the cotton belt.

A general brokerage business in cotton, stocks, grain, bonds, cotton seed oil, provisions, sugar and coffee is handled.

Total stock sales 856,400 shares.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Stock prices gave another impression of strength in today's active market, more than two score issues attaining new peak prices for the year. Buying was influenced by a continuation of easy money rates, reports of improvement in the steel trade and indications that the democrats would select a conservative candidate as their presidential nominee.

Chief speculative interest was divided between the public utility and rails shares, which combined, furnished more than half of the day's new high records for the year. American Water Works common continued its sensational climb by moving up 7 1-4 points to 104 1-4 or about 22 points above last week's low. General Electric touched a new peak price of 244 5-8 and then eased to 242 1-4 where it was up to 1 1-4 points on the day.

New high records in the railroad group were registered by Union Pacific at 137 7-8, Illinois Central at 108, Northern Pacific at 64 1-8, Baltimore and Ohio at 60 1-4 and St. Louis-Southwestern at 43 1-4. Southern Railway and Louisville and Nashville touched record highs for all time at 66 1-2 and 9 93-4, respectively.

Steel shares, which have been inclined to heaviness in anticipation of another unfavorable tonnage report by the U. S. Steel corporation on Thursday, rallied with the rest of the list. U. S. Steel common crossing 101 for the first time in four months. Oil shares continued to hold relatively firm despite the extension of crude price cuts to the mid-continent territory.

WHEAT CLOSE IS UNSETTLED

Broad Active Demand Advances Corn To New Season Record

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 8.—Broad active demand for corn today both for immediate and future delivery led to a sharp new advance in price. July corn smashed the season's top record, and number two yellow here commanded $1.03 a bushel, likewise a new high record. The corn market closed strong, 1 1-4 to 1 7-8 net higher, July 98 3-4. In wheat the finish was unsettled, 1-4 to 1-4 down, with oats 1-4 to 3-8 to 5-8 up and provisions varying from unchanged figures to 7 advance.

Scarcity of receipts together with unwelcome showers and relatively low temperature had much to do with the eager buying which sprang up in the corn market. Texas reported crop damage in some sections.

Wheat values were bearishly affected by increased movement of new wheat in the southwest and consequent hedging sales.

Complaints of smut and blight had some bullish influence on the oats market.

Provisions reflected the corn market advance and the firmness of hog values.

March	23.43	23.11	23.30 bid	23.00

NEW ORLEANS, July 8.—The cotton market developed unexpected strength today because of continued rains in the eastern belt, and claims that the crop in that section was being damaged.

Liverpool also was better than expected, and was reported to be a free buyer in American markets of forward deliveries of new crop. The trading was confined mainly to October and December. July developed little interest until the middle of the morning when it traded up to 26.90, or 30 points net higher. It lost all of this later, closing unchanged. October was 12 points up at the start and advanced to 23.61, or 57 points net higher. December advanced from 23.08 at the start, 16 points above yesterday's to 24.38, or 56 points net higher. The market eased off in the late trading on realizing and the close showed net gains of 32 to 33 points on active new crop months.

MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds, and Investments

In the long run a man-made law will prove ineffectual if it breaks an economic law.

In the United States there are 48 state legislatures and the congress grinding out about 12,000 new statutory laws each year and about 12,000 new decisions are permanently recorded annually.

Judges are trying to interpret statutory laws which have no clear meaning, because they are the results of political compromise, and neither party wanted the intention of the other to be clearly evident.

Economic law is composed of a few relatively simple principles of cause and effect. It is not made through political compromise. It already exists. It can't be tampered with nor misconstrued, because its meaning is clear to any one who will take the trouble to study it out.

It might be said to be the result of centuries of study in the "School of Hard Knocks." How could a law evolved by political compromise be superior to an economic law?

If an economic law is broken, sooner or later the penalty will be paid in full, even though artificial conditions and man-made laws may temporarily delay reckoning.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION.

Relating to Granting of Confederate Pensions.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 10

Proposing an amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the state of Texas to provide that the legislature may grant pensions to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows, who have been citizens of Texas since prior to January 1, 1910, providing that all soldiers, sailors and their widows eligible under the provisions hereof shall be entitled to be placed upon the rolls and participate in the pension fund created hereunder; levying a tax of seven ($.07) cents on the one hundred ($100.00) dollars valuation of property in this state for the payment of such pension, providing that the legislature may reduce the rate of pension for such purposes, fixing a time for the election to be held on such amendment and making an appropriation to pay the expenses thereof.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 51. The legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever, provided, however, the legislature may grant aid to indigent or disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and to their widows, in indigent circumstances and who have been bona fide residents of this state since January 1, 1910, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors prior to January 1, 1910, and to indigent and disable soldiers who under the special laws of the state of Texas during the war between the states served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raiders or Mexican marauders and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the state of Texas who were in active service during the war between the states and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1910, provided that the word "widow" in the preceding lines of this section shall not apply to women born since the year 1861, and all soldiers and sailors and widows of soldiers and sailors eligible under the above conditions shall be entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls and participate in the distribution of the pension fund of this state under any existing law or laws hereafter passed by the legislature, and also to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law, provided the legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together, in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas a state ad valorem tax on property of seven ($.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and militia of the state of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity.

Section 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1924, at which all voters shall have printed or written on their ballots: "For amendment of Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been a resident of this state since January 1, 1910," and "Against amendment to Section 51 of Article 3, of the Constitution, authorizing the legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers and their widows."

Section 3.—The governor is hereby directed to issue the proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the constitution and laws of this state, and the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the general funds of this state not otherwise appropriated for expenses of publications and elections thereunder.

Approved, March 20, 1923.

S. L. STAPLES,
Secretary of State.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Wichita.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the honorable 30th district court of Wichita county on the 5th day of July, 1924, by A. F. Kerr, clerk of said court, for the sum of seventeen hundred ninety-seven and 64-100 ($1797.64) dollars, and costs of suit, under a certain judgment in favor of Benton County National bank, in a certain cause in said court, No. 13728-A and styled Benton County National bank vs. N. O. Monroe, and placed in my hands for service, I, W. W. Murphy, as sheriff of Wichita county, Texas, did, on the 8th day of July, 1924, levy on certain real estate situated in Wichita county, Texas, described as follows, to-wit: Lot No. sixteen (16) in block No. twenty (20) of Floral Heights addition to the city of Wichita Falls, Wichita county, Texas, and levied upon as the property of N. O. Monroe and that on the first Tuesday in August, 1924, the same being the 5th day of said month, at the court house door of Wichita county, in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., by virtue of said levy and said order of sale, I will sell said above described real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said N. O. Monroe.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Wichita Falls Record News, a newspaper published in Wichita county.

Witness my hand, this 8th day of July, 1924.

W. W. MURPHY, Sheriff
Wichita County, Texas
By Mrs. W. E. Carter, Deputy.

TAX VALUATION FOR CITY HIGH

Unrevised Total of $32,742,000 Figure Far Above 1923

The rendered tax valuation for the city for 1924, subject to revision, is $32,742,000, according to reports made Tuesday by City Tax Assessor and Collector Hyer. This is by no means the city's actual valuation, it was pointed out, because the unrendered roll remains to be compiled and a meeting of the board of equalization next Friday will probably result in some more cuts being made.

It is believed that the unrendered roll this year will be approximately $1,000,000 with little likelihood of its going over this figure. Last year it was $1,777,000.

Whatever changes are made now, the city is still assured of a higher valuation than in 1923 when the figures dropped to $29,631,166. An approximate $32,000,000 total this year seems assured.

DADS ENTERTAIN MUNY TONIGHT

Mixed Two-Ball Foursome Tournament This Afternoon

It'll be a rare occasion this afternoon and tonight at the municipal club, so say local golf wizards. For the city officials, members of the club, will serve in the capacity of hosts at the weekly family day fiesta.

There is to be a two-ball mixed foursome tournament, and swimming this afternoon, to say nothing at all of the heated horseshoe and croquet contests billed.

Mayor Won't Talk.

This evening, all will gather around the festive board, and the officials will pronto strut their stuff. The program had originally called for a bit of palaver by Mayor Frank Collier, who last week defeated R. W. Wade 4 and 2 in the finals of the annual Nafziger cup handicap golf tourney, but the mayor is a quite sort of chap, and would rather have somebody else do his talking.

Enticing Program.

The program calls for a song by Mrs. Louella B. Thompson. Then comes a reading by Mrs. W. R. Hyer, accompanied by Miss Carmer Yeager. W. E. George will give an address on some subject related to the trials and foibles of the ancient and royal pastime of golf. Miss Yeager will render a piano solo. A few impromptu talks will be interspersed, and then Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Huckabee will sing a duet.

Nine Receive High Diplomas Thursday Noon

Dr. Nat F. Grafton will deliver the address to the graduating class at the high school auditorium Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, when nine students will receive their diplomas. Several musical numbers and readings will complete the exercises.

Summer school is closing the most successful session in its history, according to reports from A. K. Pearson, principal in charge. Over 400 were enrolled during the term, taking subjects ranging from primary to junior college.

The class of nine is the first graduating class to receive their diplomas at the end of a summer term.

Fire Destroys Two Residences Early Tuesday

A loss estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000 was sustained Tuesday morning when fire destroyed the residence of Kirk Smith, 1307 Fillmore street, virtually ruined the home of Noble Gray, 1305 Fillmore. The building and contents of the Smith home were completely consumed, while the other place was damaged almost as badly.

Firemen were at a loss yesterday to explain the cause of the blaze. The Smith home was a mass of flames when they arrived and the fire had also gained a good start in the Gray residence.

Neither the Smith nor Gray families were in the city Tuesday and until they arrive the exact loss cannot be determined.

POLL TAX RECEIPTS MUST SHOW ADDRESS

Poll tax receipts must show the exact residence of voters if they are to be passed in the July 26 election, according to rulings from the attorney general which suggests that residence changes be noted by the tax collector on the receipt. Accordingly, it is advised that citizens of Wichita county who have changed their local address since paying their poll tax have the matter straightened out at the tax collectors office. This must be attended to five days before the election.

FIELD EXECUTIVE FOR BOY SCOUTS RESIGNS

W. R. McKelo, of Graham, field scout executive for the past several months, turned in his resignation Tuesday morning, according to F. H. Creighton, scout executive. Mr. McKelo served as an assistant to Mr. Creighton but spent all his time visiting different scout headquarters in the seven counties under Mr. Creighton's jurisdiction.

Mr. Creighton said Tuesday that thus far he had not appointed a successor to take the retiring field executive's place.

Smith Sanderford, of Sanderford's Booteric, is reported ill.

The appearance docket for the July term of the 89th district court was called Tuesday morning by Judge H. R. Wilson of the 30th district, who is handling affairs of the 89th during the absence of Judge P. A. Martin. Hearing of motions and setting of cases followed the docket call.

The marriage license business picked up considerably Tuesday with four being issued by the county clerk. Two divorces were granted in the district courts yesterday.

Polite Young Chap, Lost, Broke, But Say, He Loved His Dog

"Lady," a little boy gravely said as he walked to the desk of the Travelers' Aid in the Union station Tuesday afternoon, "Lady," and the child nervously fingered his cap, for the words seemed difficult to say.

"Lady, I have lost my money and I want to go home," and no more words would come. The youngster put his head between his folded arms and bent over the desk, and great sobs shook his little body.

In a short time he composed himself enough to tell the secretary that he lived at Burkburnett and he had been waiting to take a stage home. He had arrived here at 1:15 o'clock from Seymour. Somehow he had lost his money and he had waited four hours, spending most of his time looking for the lost coin.

It was 4 o'clock, and the secretary telephoned the stage driver and told him of the plight of the child. It was not long until the driver came to see about his passenger, the lad looked a little perplexed, and he asked to get his baggage.

In a moment he returned from the waiting room carrying a small bag and a crated box, in which was a curly white dog, the youngster's friend. With a sidewise glance, half smiling and very pleased, and a doff at his cap, the child trudged with the driver to the stage which was to take him home.

CRIMINAL CASES UP BEFORE ROGERS TODAY

Trial of criminal cases will be taken up in the county court at law this morning by Judge Guy Rogers, it was announced Tuesday. A number of defendants now in the county jail will be given opportunity to enter their pleas.

No criminal matters have been held in the court for some time and several cases are now pending on the dockets.

AUTO DEALERS IN PLANS FOR BIG SHOW

Cost of the proposed removal of a hangar between two others at the fair grounds to house all auto exhibits in one building will soon be considered, it is declared.

Directors of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair association accompanied by representatives of the Wichita Falls Automobile association visited the grounds to look over the situation first-hand.

FISH LAWS ARE NOW IN EFFECT

Anglers Must Watch Step In Lake Wichita Activities

Effective today, no game fish taken from the waters of Lake Wichita can be sold, nor can more than 10 bass 11 inches long and 20 crappie 7 inches long be caught in one day.

The ordinance regulating catching of fish in the lake, passed recently by the city council, went into effect at midnight Tuesday and today state game wardens will have jurisdiction over fishing in the city's reservoir. These officials have promised co-operation in regulating the fishing.

No limit has been placed on the number or size of cat fish that can be caught.

NEW BOULEVARD PLAN PROPOSED

Police Officials Agree With Idea Presented By Auto Dealers

Favorable reception of a proposal to create in the city four boulevards with right of way traffic regulations resulted at regular weekly luncheon of the Automobile association at the Wichita club Tuesday.

Police Commissioner John Young and Chief of Police George Hodgins expressed themselves as favorably inclined toward such a move, and offered suggestions for bringing official attention to it. Mr. Young stated he would present the matter at next meeting of the city council. Mr. Hodgins suggested a "Safety Week," when citizens and organizations would discuss safety plans and traffic regulations with the police department.

Plan.

The streets affected in the suggestion are Eighth, Ninth, Tenth and of the traffic committee Eleventh. According to the plan of the traffic committee, these thoroughfares would be through traffic streets, with the right of way from Lamar avenue, west. Automobiles entering these streets from cross streets would be made to stop at fixed lines before coming onto the boulevard.

Time Saver.

The chief value of this would be to make for time saving in going from the resident section to the business section, as well as eliminating cause for many accidents, according to J. M. McFall, chairman of the committee.

Keys Wins Suit In 15 Minutes

After a deliberation of less than 15 minutes, the jury in the case of George Keys vs Mrs. E. T. Anderson returned a verdict favoring the plaintiff at the conclusion of the trial before Judge H. R Wilson in the 89th district court Tuesday. It was one of the most speedy verdicts ever returned in local courts.

The suit was in the nature of a trial for title suit with some property on Grant street under dispute.

Several special issues were submitted to the jury by the court and all were answered in favor of the plaintiff.

Holliday School To Be Enlarged

Construction of a $10,000 four-room addition to the present two-story school building at Holliday will start within a few days, it is reported. Plans and specifications call for completion of the work before school term opens in September.

The addition will double the capacity of the school, it is declared, and further that there will be sufficient students to comfortably fill the added space.

Voelker and Dixon, Wichita Falls architects, are in charge of plans, and R. C. Cato of Wichita Falls has the contract.

VOTERS USING ABSENTEE LAW

Over 20 Ballots Sent Out On Request Past Few Days

A number of Wichita county voters are to avail themselves of the opportunity of taking advantage of the absentee voting law this year, according to reports from the county clerk's office where in the past two days 20 or more official ballots have been sent out on request. Under the law, qualified voters who will not be in the city July 26, the date of the election, can cast their ballot any time after the 20th day preceding and not later than the third day preceding the election.

These ballots will be marked, returned to the clerk and counted as are other ballots on the day of the voting.

Parking Limit At P-O Drops

Fifteen-minute parking signs were placed at the federal building Tuesday by the city police department. A new ruling recently went into effect regulating parking there but has not been strictly enforced through lack of proper warnings for motorists.

Suitable signs have now been prepared and the driver of any car left parked at the building more than 15 minutes will be liable to prosecution.

AUSTIN STREET PAVING IS NEARLY COMPLETE

Paving work on Austin street between Eighth and Ninth was virtually completed Tuesday and a start has been made on the same street between Ninth and Eleventh. A concrete mixer has been busy since the first of the week.

Other paving projects in the city are at more or less of a standstill owing to lack of material.

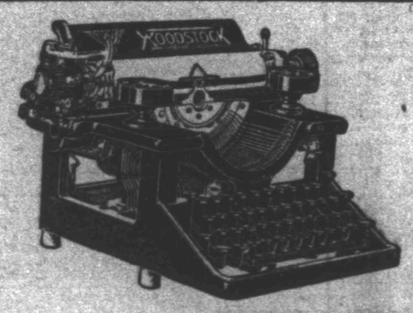

GRAND JURORS MAY TAKE SHORT RECESS

The possibility of another short recess being taken today by the grand jury of the 30th district court, now in session, was suggested yesterday when it was announced that the jurors were making headway in their examination of witnesses.

No report will be made today as some time will be required for officials of the district attorney's office to draw up bills of indictments found by the grand jury.

POLICE BLOTTER LIGHT TUESDAY

Five new cases made up a light docket of municipal police court Tuesday morning. One affray case brought a $10 fine and the others were vags, drunks and traffic violations.
