FATAL ACCIDENT: Colorado City resident Sonja Lawson, 42, was killed in a two-vehicle wreck Saturday night three miles south of Snyder in which a Snyder man was also killed. Lawson was the driver of this vehicle which was struck head-on by a vehicle in the wrong lane of traffic with its lights off driven by Clyde Leverett, 19. The accident occurred about 9:55 p.m. The vehicle driven by Leverett had been reported stolen only minutes before to the Colorado City Police Department.

Junell supporters attend dinner

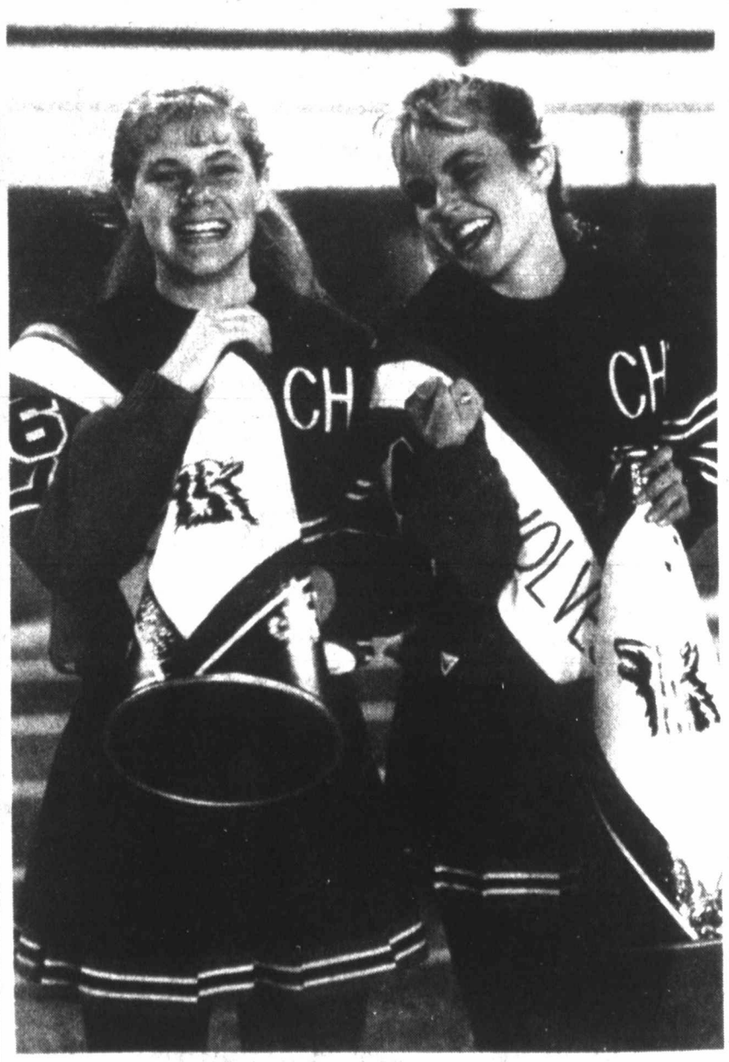

Some 170 supporters of Representative Rob Junell attended an Appreciation Dinner for the San Angelo resident Monday night at the home of Corky and Gaye Houston. The dinner, in which everyone in the county was invited, was given to honor Junell for his outstanding support of Mitchell County on the prison projects and other projects.

Organizers had hoped for 100 people to attend but they said the larger than expected attendance was "just wonderful".

Besides Junell and his wife Beverly, State Senator Bill Sims and his wife Sue attended as did Rep. David Counts of Knox City.

Junell said Tuesday morning that he was "very appreciative of Gaye and Corky Houston opening their home to Beverly and myself and also to Jan and Bobby Lemons for helping host the special occasion".

"I am very fortunate to be able to represent the fine people of Mitchell County," said Junell, "and I am very, very grateful for the kindness shown to Beverly and me."

Head-on accident kills two

Sonja Lawson, 42, a secretary at Colorado Middle School since August, 1990, was killed in a two-vehicle head-on wreck Saturday evening some three miles south of Snyder on Highway 208.

Services for Mrs. Lawson were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church with burial in the Colorado City Cemetery.

Her two daughters were also injured in the accident and treated at Cogdell Memorial Hospital before being transferred to St. Mary's of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock.

Sara Lawson, 12, suffered head injuries and 16-year-old Jennifer Lawson was treated for facial lacerations.

Sara remains in the intensive care unit at the hospital while Jennifer was able to come back to Colorado City for her mother's funeral Tuesday afternoon but did have to return to the hospital for additional treatment.

Nineteen year old Clyde Monroe Leverett of Snyder was also pronounced dead at the scene by Snyder municipal judge, Tommie Mills.

Services for Leverett were held at graveside at 2 p.m. in the Colorado City Cemetery.

According to DPS reports, the Leverett vehicle, a 1981 Volkswagen pickup, was travelling north on Highway 208 when it crossed into the southbound lane and struck the 1988 AMC Eagle driven by Mrs. Lawson.

Mrs. Lawson and her children had attended the Colorado City-Muleshoe football game Friday night and had spent the night in Lubbock. She was expected to be in Colorado City by 7 p.m. Saturday and was planning on conducting a prison ministry in Big Spring later in the evening with her long-time friend, Golda Redwine.

DPS Trooper Oslel Gamez, of Snyder, said the pickup was apparently travelling without lights when the accident occurred about 9:55 p.m. The vehicle had also been reported stolen in Colorado City just minutes before the accident took place.

Colorado City patrolman Jeff Dever was taking the stolen vehicle report when he heard Trooper Gamez advise over the police radio that the stolen vehicle had been involved in the fatal accident.

Bracy wins 1st in football contest

Robert Bracy won first place in the Record's Football Contest this week and wins $30 in "Football bucks' for his entry which contained only three misses. Bracy incorrectly guessed the outcome of the Baylor, Georgia and New Orleans Saints games.

Several people only missed four and the tie-breaking score of the Dallas Cowboy game had to be used to determine the winner of $20 in "Football Bucks".

J. B. Marshall was the winner as he came closest to picking the score between Dallas and Green Bay.

Others missing only four includes Slim Geiger, J. B. Bolin, Light Rivera, John Ybarra, James Franco and Ferron Forbes.

Flu clinic set

A special flu immunization clinic will be held at the Wallace Community Education Building on Oct. 14 from 8:30 a.m. until noon and at the Loraine Senior Citizen Center on Oct. 20 from 8:30 until noon.

The Texas Department of Health has warned that anyone who may be at increased risk of complications of influenza should be immunized before the 1993-93 flu season.

And since fly vaccines are subject to yearly change, and effectiveness of the fly shots declines with time, annual doses of the recommended vaccines are necessary for people most at risk.

Wolves open district Friday

While the Colorado City Wolves and the Sonora Bronchos have eight losses between them in non-district action this season, those games don't mean a thing as a brand new season starts for both teams this Friday night in Wolf Stadium.

District 6-3A play gets underway in West Texas as Big Lake will take on Kermit and Crane will battle Greenwood.

This will be the last home game for the Wolves until Greenwood comes to town on Oct. 29. Next week will be a road trip to Crane followed by a long trip to Kermit on Oct. 22.

The Bronchos will bring a winless team to town Friday night but Wolves coach Mark Howeth describes them as "the best 0-4 team in the state."

Sonora has lost to Wall, Ballinger, Ozona and most recently, Breckenridge. Coach Bob Bellard said the player to look out for on his team is a returning 1000-yard rusher from last year - Joey Guerra.

"It goes without saying that this is a very important game for both teams since it is the first district game," said Bellard, "I think we are both looking for a new season to start."

The Wolves are coming off a loss to Muleshoe last week that was close in some respects. Colorado City should be healthy for the game and did not lose any players to grades for the first six weeks in the ninth through the twelfth grade.

Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. at Wolf Stadium.

LORAINE PERSONALS

When God made grandchildren,
He knew what he was doing.
For when we reach middle age
Sometimes we feel doomed.
Bet when that little grandchild
Climbs upon your knee,
And says Grandma,"Read this book to me"
Something melts your heart inside
To feel that little cheek next to yours.
And, once again you feel alive!
Yes, we also love our big grandchildren too -- don't you??

***

Artis Hayslip visited his grandmother, Gladys Payne, last week. She was real happy to see him, even though he is one of those big grandkids.

***

Betty Hackfeld had major surgery last week, but is home doing fine. She will know more about her condition after her check-up. Do put her on your prayer list that she will be well and strong again. She is a nice person -- but then Raymond is also!

***

I have intended to tell you this since Homecoming, but I always forget it. I talked to Garland Faulkenberry after lunch and he said his health was not good at all anymore. I really hated that. He and Earline are such nice people. I did not talk to her, she was visiting with other friends at the time. Garland said he never felt very well. Say a prayer for these friends and classmates during this time.

***

Iva Armstrong met her sister Emma Dean Patterson in Big Spring for a visit. Then when Iva was coming home she had her first blowout ever. She did not know what to do with it and while she was looking at it this nice couple stopped and he changed the tire for her. Of course, she was very happy about this. When he had finished she asked what she owed him. The answer was "all I ever ask from ladies in distress is a fresh baked lemon pie." Guess what!! Iva is going to bake that pie and deliver it to them in Odessa. Oh, yes, Gus did buy her two new tires!

***

We would like to invite you to the First Baptist in Loraine at 6 p.m. this Sunday evening. The choir from the Canaan Baptist Church will sing for us. A concert type deal. Come along and listen. They are very good!

***

We went to Abilene on Monday to the eye clinic for Earl to get a checkup. It turned out well. I kinda enjoy going because we meet the nicest people.

***

I talked to Estelle Lee the other day and she sounded real good, but she needs help to get up and down. She still is in lots of pain most of the time. We hope you will soon feel much better!

Our football team went to Wilson on Friday night and brought home a nice victory that we are all pleased with. I believe the score was 59-12. The report is that all our kids played a good game. I believe the team is finally all back together again and, of course, when that happens the game turns out better.

Auther Garcia is ready to play again and did real well along with Corey and Craig, James, Kyle, A. Crawford, Steve, D. Starling and all the rest. We are real proud of every guy out there even Brian Butler -- though he seems to get more injuries than anyone else. Butler will grow up soon and then they can't run over him!! Friday night, Oct. 8, we play in Trent at 7:30 p.m. Go if you can and yell for our team. It will help them. We are down to what counts now!

Our fire department was invited to what we call the China Grove tank farm but it actually is West Texas Gulf Pipeline and is owned by Chevron. Our own Woodrow Hill is the head guy at this job site and he set up a nice deal for our firemen.

All our guys really did enjoy it and learned a lot. In the first place, most, maybe all of our firemen had not had a guided tour of the plant before. It was really a learning time for them because Woody really explained well how everything works and what a fireman should do just in case he was called in to help with a fire or accident.

Also, you know the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, so Woody and others had a picnic lunch for them. The men enjoyed it and the wives appreciated it because they would have had to feed their husbands when they got in. Thank you Woody Hill for the demonstration and all that went with it. The Hills own the Roy Holland place here in town.

***

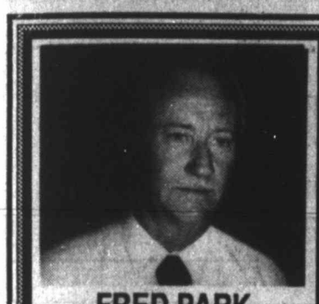

I visited with Mr. Alverez a few minutes at the bank and he told me he had 3 or 4 other children other than Faben, who has been here recently. That makes us a good percentage of our graduates going to college. We are pleased about this. The Alverez kids are in San Angelo State University.

***

Dayla Graham's, who is Roger Graham's wife, mother had major surgery on Monday in Sweetwater. Mary Helen told me she came through it real well and we are glad to hear this. Dayla's dad is also not well at all. They are having to make some changes in their lives because of these illnesses, such as a smaller house, smaller yards to keep, etc. We hope they both can soon be better. They are V.O. and Shirley Alderman of Sweetwater.

***

Matt Preston, Shona Sugarh, Ben Preston, and Aimy McShan were guests of Iris Preston in Abilene Tuesday for lunch. Mr. Tom Cole and Beki Cole appeared on the scene. Beki is a 1993 Loraine graduate and is a classmate of Ben in one class.

TDA accepting applications for loan program

The Texas Department of Agriculture is accepting written comments through September on its Young Farmers Loan guarantee Program, and applications for up to $50,000 in loan guaranties through the program will be available after Oct. 1.

About $1.7 million has been raised for the program from a $5 farm motor vehicle fee that was collected beginning Jan. 1, 1992. However, in order to keep the program constitutional, this year's Legislature designated the $5 fee as voluntary. Those who paid the fee between Jan. 1, 1992 and Aug. 29, 1993, and who want a refund must file for a claim by Nov. 1 with the state Comptroller. After Nov. 1, refund requests will be processed by the local county tax offices.

Written comments about the program and loan application requests should be sent to Robert Kennedy, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Reflex herbicide not approved for use in West Texas

Environmental concerns by the manufacturer prevent Reflex herbicide from being approved for use in West Texas. ICI Agricultural Products, which manufactures Reflex, has decided not to support the registration of additional uses or use in new areas. Until the company reapplies, supports the use and supplies data, TDA cannot get this pesticide approved for use in West Texas, Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said today.

Concerns about Reflex include its potential to leach into groundwater and the lack of sufficient data or data applicable to West Texas conditions. Field studies in North Carolina indicated Reflex residue in groundwater 17 months following treatment. The sandy loam and loamy clay soils typical of West Texas increase the chances of groundwater contamination. Reflex has shown moderate to high mobility under these soil conditions. Another consideration is the annual rainfall, which is less than 20 inches per year. Dry surface soils have less dense microbial populations, making them less biodegradable. This persistence may result in accumulation if the treatment is repeated the following year. According to ICI data, persistence could occur in all areas outside the current label, but until ICI does the needed studies under West Texas conditions, it will not be available for additional use.

Ison is honored on 90th birthday

Mrs. Henri Gay Ison was surprised Monday afternoon with a birthday party at Mesa Springs in Abilene. She celebrated her ninetieth birthday.

The hostess of the institution told Addie Mahoney and Chrystene Hall that we could sing Happy Birthday as vigorously as possible because all the residents were depressed this Monday, October 4.

Mrs. Ison was dressed and up walking; she practically ignored the wheelchair. All went to her room and left gifts that she wanted hung on the wall, and then we left for the dining area for refreshments and visiting. The color sheme was rose, mauve and purple carried out in the lei and wristlet presented by Addie. Robert Mahoney sent a rose laden cake stating "Happy 90th Birthday Henri Gay." Chrystene Hall, a former student, took the centerpiece with balloons bearing messages such as "#1," "Gay," and "People who live a long time have may birthdays."

It was a wonderful day because of her improvement; really an extended party. She followed us almost to the entrance upon our departure.

Mrs. Ison has traveled the world over and gone to Israel three times. She enjoyed Alaska, also.

She taught in the Abilene schools and colleges, always in demand for a Latin and Spanish teacher. She was the best.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

"People in rural areas of Mitchell County are actually going to get telephone service within the next few months," bragged the Colorado RECORD in February of 1948. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company planned to provide the service to some 300 rural local subscribers. The project was made possible by working with Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, which allowed the use of their "wire facilities."

"We did have private rural phones (in 1948) owned by ranches," recalls Mrs. Robert J. (Mary) Lloyd who went to work for the telephone company in 1937. "They had to keep up their own lines. The Renderbrook Ranch had an old line and it stayed down there for years and years."

Southwestern Bell was planning to extend its service to Highway 80, Looney, Colorado City west, Strain Oil Field, Champion Creek, North Buford, Cuthbert north, Cuthbert south, Payne and Spade. Soon, other areas were to be added.

The company's maintenance man and chief trouble shooter was Dean Headstream. Mrs. Lloyd fondly remembers him.

"He called me once and asked, "Mary, how many Byrds are on this line?' There were several families out toward Westbrook that were named "Byrd," and I said, 'Well, Dean, I can't see how may birds are on that line." She adds Headstream always enjoyed a good laugh.

Mrs. Lloyd remembers "there were eight parties on each line and there were four on the "W" side and four on the "J" side. Our numbers were like 5-6-0-W and 5-6-0-J. We had one key that rang the J's and the other key rang the W's. When you had four on one side, everybody's phone rang. They all had to listen to see if it was one, two, three or four rings."

Abbie Northcutt, who says his first name is spelled with 'ie' and not 'y,' "because if you spell my name with a 'y' everybody in the country will be writing asking me about their lovelife," is now 78 years old and he still remembers his first telephone.

"Ours was two rings," he says. And while he admits the telephone was revolutionary, it's really electricity he would rather talk about.

"You can't imagine what it meant to that community (Lowe). There was a busload of children there at that time and the whole community lighted up that day we got electricity. We bought radios, refrigerators, we bought irons; you can't imagine how much easier that made it on the woman," Northcutt said.

But what about the telephone, Abbie? How did it affect your lives?

"You can't imagine what a difference it made," he continued. "Our children were going twenty miles to school (in Colorado City) and when we wanted to get in contact with them, we didn't have to go to town. It revolutionized everything, just like electricity did."

Course, there were times when interruptions occurred in the rural telephone service. Like when hunters took aim at birds on highlines and hit the lines instead of the birds.

"We had some road hunters then, and we still have some now, and when they hit the line, that knocked us out of service," Northcutt recalls. Then slowly, he added, "People seemed a little closer then. We had time for our neighbors. We depended on one another. We had to."

71-year-old Bill Cooper and his wife, Ruth, had settled in the Plainview community in 1946 and they still live in the same place today. He remembers the arrival of telephone service in 1948.

"The first telephone we had was installed by Lone Wolf Electric. It was a big glass box about a foot square and it was on the side of the wall. It had a bunch of radio tubes in it and it went out over the Lone Wolf Electric's lines."

Like Abbie Northcutt, he remembers his first ring. "We had a long and a short ring," he says. Until the telephone era was ushered in, messages had to be delivered in person. "We just drove back and forth to town," he added.

Also like Northcutt, Cooper would rather talk about the day electricity came to rural Mitchell County. He says when he and his wife moved into their new home, they didn't even have electricity.

"Poles and wires were still rationed. We bought a brand new Frigidaire refrigerator and it set in our kitchen for about three months before we got electricity," Cooper remembers.

And when electricity did reach rural parts of the county, it was a day to remember. Ask Abbie Northcutt!

"The lights really did shake me up. You don't know what it is to be where you can't see one light for 20 or 30 miles. Not a flicker, not a light," he recalled.

Back to the telephone ... both Cooper and Northcutt said they enjoyed the new fangled invention. We asked then if they ever listened in on other people's calls.

"Oh, yes," Cooper readily confessed. "When we first got it, it was kind of a novelty. That's how we kept up with the news."

And Northcutt ... did he eavesdrop? Well, yes I did if they sounded pretty interesting," he 'fessed up. "Course, if it was just a regular conversation, I didn't listen. Sometimes it was a little bit interesting."

It's probably fair to say the telephone introduced a new level of snooping, but Northcutt says there was a sort of gentlemen's agreement on those party lines.

"They listened to me, too! Turn about is fair play."
