BROUGHT TO WICHITA

City Police and Deputies Of Sheriff's Office Carry Out Campaign

Continuing a drive that started late last week to clean up Electra of bootleggers, Electra city police, aided by deputies from the office of Sheriff W. G. Bradley at Wichita Falls, rounded up nine more persons in a series of raids Wednesday. Forty-seven one-half gallon jars of corn whiskey were seized.

One Woman Involved.

Eight men and a woman, the latter the wife of one of the men, were arrested and brought to Wichita Falls. It was understood that some of them were prepared to make bond.

The whiskey was seized in the home of one of the men arrested and for whom officers had a warrant. A new coupe, heavily loaded with liquor jars cleverly concealed, was confiscated by the officers.

A number of places were raided by the party and small quantities of liquor found with those placed under arrest.

14 People Caught In Electra.

In the last four days, 14 people have been jailed on charges of possession of intoxicants.

Mayor George Ragland of Electra took an active part in the raids last night, carrying out an announced policy of being in the forefront of a drive to rid Electra of a bootlegging element that has become too flourishing of late. Ragland was assisted by Chief of Police Taylor and city officers Tom Shook, Bob Miller and Ed Cooper, and Deputy Sheriffs Sid Johnson, Cliff Kiersey and W. W. HAMBONE MEDITATION

Bones Of Jersey Heifer Stampede House

BY HENRY YELVINGTON,
Universal Service

AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—A jersey heifer that cost the state of Texas $175 and didn't give but eight pounds of milk per day when she blossomed into cowhood, almost stampeded the house of representatives today.

The heifer was bought Sept. 15, 1921, by Dean J. Thomas Davis of John Tarleton Junior Agricultural college at Stephenville, from his father-in-law, J. A. Wilson, but, in the language of Representative George Purl of Dallas, "a smelling committee went out there and dug up her bones and rattled them all over the hall of representatives."

Representative Purl did not blush when he called the joint senate and house committee appointed by the first called session of the 39th legislature a "smelling committee." It was composed of Senators Carl C. Hardin of Stephenville, and Eugene Miller of Garner; Representatives W. T. Graves of Stephenville, Henry Webb of Odessa, and Bowen Pope of Hamlin.

The committee brought in a report criticising the management of John Carleton college, and accusing Dean J. Thomas Davis of padding executive traveling expenses and charging excessive college fees. All the committee except Representative Pope signed the majority report. Mr. Pope brought in a minority report in which he attacked the method of securing evidence, saying the committee had refused to let the dean sit in the committee room when he was being criticized and refused to allow his lawyers to be present at the hearing. The fireworks started when Representative Purl moved that the majority report and the minority report be submitted to the committee on education.

Then Representative Webb went into action. He charged the minority report had been drawn by lawyers for Dean Davis and that the report was false.

Skinned the Heifer

Representative Pope, who is an elderly man, is not much of a speaker, but he defended his position as the only position he could consientiously take. He left it to Representative Purl to do the rest. Purl did the rest. He did it neatly. He skinned that Jersey heifer, hair, hide and all.

He said that because Dean Davis was not a politician and would not

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Henry Ford has been offered a billion dollars in hard cash for his colossal motor car enterprises "within the last 30 days—and he turned it down.

This amazing revelation was made in the Couzes tax case here today by John W. Prentiss, of New York, partner in the investment bank concern or Hornblower and Weeks. Prentiss was the man who made the offer.

Twice he made the attempt to buy it before this last offer, Prentiss said. He started in 1916, when his firm and all Wall street were hungry for a share in this industrial Aladdin's Lamp that Ford had rubbed. And always the answer was "nothing doing."

Would Sndicate Stock.

"I wanted to buy it for myself," he said. "Of course no one man could buy out an enterprise like that. But my firm would have formed a syndicate of banking houses to sell the securities to the public."

Henry Ford's antipathy to big bankers found vivid illustration in the "side-light" stories prentiss from time to time volunteered.

He told of going to Detroit in 1916 and arranging with one of Ford's officials for an introduction to the motor car wizard;

"While we were sitting there," said Pretiss, "Henry Ford sud-

PARDONS HELD AS CAUSE OF TEXAS CRIMES

Houston Police Put Blame For Excess Trouble At Door of Ex-Convicts

NEED LAW REVISION

Legislative Action Sought To Bring Better State Conditions

HOUSTON, Feb. 2.(AP)—The crime wave gripping Houston is symptomatic of conditions throughout the state and nation, Chief of Police Tom Goodson said in a statement Wednesday afternoon. "It is aggravated," he said, "by the presence of at least 500 pardoned convicts together with criminals driven out of other cities by police campaigns who have drifted in here. We are thoroughly alive to the situation and with the additional men the mayor has given us will be fully capable of handling it.

Reasons Apparant.

"Reasons for existence of the crime wave are easily apparent when one considers that more than 3500 convicts were turned loose on the state by the last administration. At least half of them have undoubtedly resumed their criminal careers. We have not less than 500 of them in Houston. Out of the 50 or more men lined up in the show-off every day for the past two weeks, there have been at least ten ex-convicts.

MEASURES PLANNED TO INCREASE PROTECTION.

HOUSTON, Feb. 2.(AP)—A committee of five Houston business men is to be appointed within the next 24 hours to draft speedy measures for exerting pressure for passage of remedial laws in criminal procedure, it was decided at a meeting of a group of Houston business men here Wednesday.

Judge Norman Atkinson, chairman of the meeting which was called by the Houston chamber of commerce, said he would name the committee members in time for report to be ready.

Crime Organized.

"National crime is organized," Frank Wozencraft, former mayor of Dallas, and chairman of the board of regents of the boy scouts of America, the principal speaker at the meeting declared. "It pays its attorneys, devises loophole laws, and otherwise watches out for its own. But the good citizens of the country are not organized and it is time that something was done to protect life and property."

The league for the supression of crime has been organized and the judicial reform measures advocated by the American and Texas Bar associations have been heartily endorsed by the Dallas group which has incorporated, Mr. Wozencraft said.

They invited the President to visit Texas this Spring or Summer. Incidentally, they back the candidacy of H. H. Haines for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

$1000 OFFER INVOLVED IN AUSTIN COURT

Dale of Bonham, Moore Of Cooper Arrested By Rangers

COMPLAINTS MADE

Men Alleged To Have Taken Money To Influence Legislation

AUSTIN, Feb. 2.(AP)—Representatives F. A. Dale of Bonham and H. H. Moore of Cooper Wednesday night were charged in Justice of the Peace Frank R. Tannehill's court here, with accepting a bribe of $1000 to influence pending legislation.

Former Ranger Captain Frank Hamer signed the complaint against Dale, while Ranger Captain Tom Hickman signed the complaint against Moore.

The complaints set forth that Willis Chamberlain gave them the money.

Arrested At Hotel

Dale was arrested as he started to walk into a local hotel lobby. He is alleged to have been handed a roll of bills amounting to $1000 in an alley by the hotel. Ranger Captain Hamer took $1000 from Dale in bills of various denominations.

Moore was arrested in his room in the hotel.

Both tonight declined to give out any statement, except Dale declared with some heat, "There's nothing to the charges."

While District Attorney J. D. Moore was preparing the complaints, Moore insisted on being allowed to go. He several times said he would "like to get off to attend a meeting of my committee tonight."

Mr. Chamberlain is said to be an optometerist of Houston.

Moore's bill, seeking to place a $50 license tax on stationary optometerists, the same tax that is now placed on peregrant optometerists, was scheduled for hearing Wednesday night before the house committee on revenue and taxation, and the committee waited for a time for Moore to appear.

Hearing Is Held

Hearing was held by the committee Wednesday on a bill by Moore and Dale, increasing the gross production tax on oil from two to four cents.

The complaints filed charge Dale and Moore, while "active members of the 40th legislature, accepted a bribe of $1000 with the intent then and there to influence legislation pending before the legislature with the further intent to support and influence a certain committee to make a report on a certain bill and purported law."

Dale and Moore were kept in the office of Sheriff Horace Burleson for about an hour while Justice of the Peace Tannehill was called from his home.

Both Laugh

Both laughed several times while they were waiting for the district attorney and justice of the peace to appear. Moore requested the sheriff to "hurry up" and said he wanted to be released, promising to "come back at 7 o'clock in the morning."

Dale only once broke his apparently unconcerned demeanor.

"You boys aren't going to play this stuff up, are ayou?" he asked the Associated Press.

Moore, one-armed and sweating vigorously, protested he knew nothing of court matters. Dale is a lawyer.

Hamer and Hickman were in a jovial mood. Both are noted officers, Hickman having been the object of numerous congratulatory resolutions since he, with other officers, killed two bank robbers at Clarksville, several months ago.

Hamer said Hickman and he saw the money handed to Dale and arrested him immediately. They then went to Moore's room and arrested him.

Hamer declined to say exactly what evidence he will attempt to introduce against Moore but declared "it'll be enough."

Both men were released on $5,000, each shortly before 11 o'clock tonight. Bonds were signed to T. H. McGregor, former senator, Representative Cecil Storey of Vernon, Sam E. Bateman and W. H. Ratliff.

Hassell, Facing Death, Concerned Over Possible Loss of Victim's Clothes

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 2. (AP)—Belief that the bodies of a woman and three children whom he had killed in Whittier, Calif., had been found and concern for the safe delivery of a trunk containing the dead woman's clothing, which, he said, he had sent to his first wife in Abilene, Texas, were mingled in a statement of George J. Hassell, from his death cell at the penitentiary here today. Hassell is awaiting electrocution later in the month for the murder in Texas of his wife and her eight children.

"I am glad they found the bodies," he told Warden J. S. Speer today. "They know now that I told the truth. I was afraid," he said, "that when the bodies were found that somebody else might be accused of the murders, and that would have been awful," he added.

Unconcerned Over Fate

Apparently unconcerned about his fate, the warden said Hassell exhibited considerable anxiety about the trunk. He would like, he told Mr. Speer, that the matter of the trunk be traced. He shipped it from San Francisco, he said, to his first wife at Abilene in care of W. J. Laughlin, her father. He had never heard, he said, whether it had been delivered. "I would like for that to be investigated," he told Mr. Speer.

While the warden said Hassell was very talkative, he was disinclined to discuss the actual slayings. He did s— however, that he sent a picture of the boy whom he killed at Whittier to the mother of the woman with whom he was living and whom he killed, at her home in Pittsburgh, Pa. Tears, the warden said, came into Hassell's eyes when he told of that incident. It reminded him, Hassell said, of his own little boy by his first wife whom he had not seen since 1924.

Seem Like A Dream

The Whittier murders, Hassell told the warden, "seem like a dream."

"He just seemed to go to pieces," the warden said, "when they were mentioned. His emotion was so great, Mr. Speer said, that he could not discuss the actual slayings today as he previously had when the warden interviewed him.

Other incidents in his personal history he discussed freely. A convict at Rusk, Texas, in 1905, he later served a sentence of one year at Leavenworth for army desertion. He also served a sentence, he said, in a northern prison for desertion from the navy. He roamed around the country, he said, for a number of years and finally met Mrs. Marie Vogel with whom he lived and slew in Whittier. He became a rover again, he said, after he left Whittier until 1924, when he married his brother's wife for whose death and that of her eight children he is to die in the electric chair here.

Hassell, Warden Speer described as a chubby m— He is about five feet eight inches tall, weighs about 160 pounds, looks inoffensive, chuckles occasionally over incidents not related to the murders and wears a —in most of the time. He is about 38 years old and told the warden he was born in the vicinity of Fort Worth.

BOOTLEGGERS AFTER TRADE

Kentuckian Says Salesmen Busy In Capitol

WASHINGTON, Feb. (AP) — Bootleggers have waited in congressional lobbies while their cards were sent into members, Representative Johnson, democrat, Kentucky, declared in the house today.

"One even had the impudence to solicit me," he added. "And when they are caught and convicted they boast their influential friends will get them out of their troubles."

The Kentucky representative was attacking the treasury's medicinal whiskey bill which he described as an instrument to defeat prohibition. He contended the "subsidized" corporation set up by the bill would be empowered to distribute liquor in any way it chose under the guise of dispensive medicine.

MANSION RAZED

$7,000,000 Home In New York To Be Torn Down.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (AP)—The $7,000,000 granite mansion of the late Senator William A. Clark, Montana copper king, is the latest Fifth Avenue landmark to give way before New York's architectural renaissance.

Anthony Campagna, operator and builder, has purchased it for less than $8,000,000; a $7,000,000 twelve-story co-operative apartment house, the suites of which will sell as high as $350,000, will be erected on the site.

HIS FEET EFFECTIVE

HOUSTON, Feb. 2. (AP)—G. Lanig kicked a negro bandit into unconsciousness on the street here Tuesday night and then ran to call police. When he returned the negro had gone. Lanig told police when he kicked the negro in the groin a pistol fell from the bandit's hand and that he dropped to the ground writhing in pain.

NEGRO LYNCHED

WILLIS, Feb. 1. (AP)—Tom Payne, 25-year-old negro, was taken from two officers by an unmasked mob of white men near Willis Tuesday night and hanged to a tree.

Refuses Billion

denly bobbed into the room. I was introduced.

"'What do you do?' asked Mr. Ford.

"'I sell bonds and stocks,' was my reply. "'Where?' Mr. Ford wanted to know.

"'Good gracious!' exclaimed Mr. Ford. "You're not one of those Wall street guys?'

"He took all the wind out of my sails," Prentiss laughed.

"But I proposed that he recapitalize his company on the basis of $500,000,000. I told him Hornblower and Weeks would be glad to take any part of the new stock.

"Mr. Ford laughed!"

Prentiss didn't try again for eight years. According to his testimony. He offered a billion for the business in 1924, porposing to form a syndicate to market the stock, repeated this offer, through a representative, to Edsel Ford the following year, and renewed it again "within the last 30 days." The billion offered the Fords, like the crown tendered Ceaser, was thrice refused.

The last time, Prentiss testified, he acted because of a "very persistent rumor" that the Ford family wanted to recapitalize the company. Prentiss disbelieved this, but called a Detroit associate who took it up with the Fords.

"He telephoned me in the afternoon that there was 'nothing doing'," said Prentiss.

Alexander W. Gregg, 27-year-old general counsel of the internal revenue bureau, who is pitted against a battery of 16 lawyers representing James Couzens, of Michigan, and his associates, in the case, fought the admission of this testimony, but was overruled.

Couzens Sells Out.

Couzens and his associates sold out their minority stock in the Ford Motor company to Ford in 1919 for about $13,500 a share. To fix their taxable profits on the sale the government contrasted this price with the value of the stock in 1913, when it was fixed at about $9,500.

Now the government is attempting to upset the latter figure as erroneous and substitute $3500. This would require the Couzens group to pay more than $30,000,000 in income taxes, besides the $20,000,000 they paid on the old basis.

ROAD IS BLOCKED

And Bandits Hold High Revel At Expense of Motorists

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 2. (AP)—Highway men held high revel along the Hot Springs-Arkadelphia highway last night and today about a score of luckless motorists are poorer to the amount of about $500 in money and an undetermined amount of jewelry.

According to police reports the men stationed themselves at a point in the road, set up a barrier and when the cars came to a stop, forced the occupants of the automobiles to disemvark and disgorge.

A social climber expects eventually to be a high flier.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—Adv.

RECORD CROWD AT CLARENDON

Big Attendance Out For C. of C. Meeting

CLARENDON, Feb. 2.—A record crowd for Clarendon attended the annual banquet and election of directors of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce here this week at the Hotel Antro, Clarendon's new $140,000 hotel.

Secretary George of Amarillo board of city development was present and delevered the principal address of the evening.

H. Mulkey president of the organization for the past year presided as toastmaster.

Secretary A. T. Holcomb of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce in his report of the year's work stressed the fact that the organization was larger in numbers and in amount of budget than at any time in his less than two years' work. The past year was one of record in street paving, residence and business house construction, trade extension, advertising the town and county and amount of co-operation received from the farmers of the county in helping them to carry out their program of living at home.

J. T. Putman, J. R. Porter, G. G. Kemp and Joe Goldston were the newly elected directors who succeed H. Mulkey, Sam Braswell, O. C. Watson and F. E. Chamberlain, the holdovers from the 1926 board were C. C. Powell, B. W. Moreman and W. C. Stewart.

Definite plans for the 1927 projects with the committee personnel of each committee are to be announced at the regular meeting of the directors in February.

NEGRO BANDIT SHOT

HOUSTON, Feb. 2, (AP)—Arthur Davis, negro bandit, who, police believe, has terrorized proprietors of several ward stores within a month, is in a hospital here today with a bullet wound in his chest. He was shot Tuesday night by W. T. Butler, grocer, and former policeman, while he was attempting to hold up Mrs. Butler in the store.

A NEW ALARM.

NEWARK, Feb. 2.—George Strum thinks no burglar alarm could be better than an unexpected one he found protecting his restaurant. Opening up in the morning he heard loud cries of "get out! get out!" He was amazed till he saw burglars' tools about. Then he deduced why his parrot Loretta had been yelling. Nothing was missing.

FAVORS SHOWN MAYFIELD BILL

Committee Reports Well On Cotton Measure

AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield's bill requiring government estimates of the grade and staple of cotton carried over from one season to the next, has been given a favorable committee report, and is now before the senate for a vote.

This became known here when copies of the senate committee report were received by Texans who are following progress of the measure.

This bill, when it becomes a law, is expected to prevent decline in the price of cotton because of the presence of a large unused carry-over of low-grade cotton from a previous crop. Much of the cotton so held is worthless for spinning, it has been insisted, but publication of present government estimates, showing only the total number of bales carried over, is blamed for forcing down cotton prices.

The pending Mayfield measure calls for a government report of statistics or estimates "concerning the grades and staple length of stocks of cotton, known as the carry-over, on hand on the first of August of each year," and of periodical estimates of grades and staple length of the current crop.

ALL OUT OF TUNE

8,000,000 of 10,000,000 Pianos Not True, They Say

DALLAS, Feb. 2. (AP)—Of the 10,000,000 pianos in the United States, about 8,000,000 are out of tune and are merely "thump boxes," Charles Deutschmann of Chicago, president of the National Association of Piano Tuners, told the Dallas Piano Tuners here last night. Only 15 per cent of pianos are tuned regularly, he said. Jazz artists wear out a piano faster than exponents of the classical do, partly because they keep banging on the same keys, Deutschmann declared. Real musicians have more "range" in addition to a kindlier touch, he asserted.

MRS. CHITWOOD TELLS SECRETS OF SALADS FOR EVERY OCCASION

MEN OF HOUSE PREFER POTATO

Party Salads In Dainty New Styles Shown Women

Salads—when one hears the word, what is the first thought? Something appetizing, colorful—appealing to the eye as well as the taste and above all, something nutritious. Such was the subject of the lecture and demonstration at The Record News Cooking School at the Palace theater Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Ida Chitwood as instructor. More than 450 women were registered for this third session of the school and with an interesting and most practical subject for today's lesson a record crowd is expected.

"How to prepare various meats. How to boil meats and retain the original flavor. How to prepare and decorate vegetables," will be included in the lecture this afternoon at 2:30.

Old Salads—New Styles.

Nutritious in their make-up, decorative and tasty, simple enough for any household might be characteristics applied to the salads prepared yesterday.

"I am not demonstrating with any manufactured foods that one has never heard of before and always hopes to see at a gathering of this sort. I am using precisely the same old-time foods that you have been using in your salads ever since you started to keep house. Only—they are arranged in a different way. I am giving them a new name and using new combinations of fruits, vegetables or meats," Mrs. Chitwood said.

Just as a suggestion to the clever wife and mother that any house-wife may be, Mrs. Chitwood told how husbands and children might be induced to eat dishes put before them that under ordinary circumstahces they would absolutely refuse.

"I do believe in decorative foods. If they are pleasing to the eye they are all the more pleasing to the palate. Give them an irresistible attraction and they will be no longer pushed aside with an "I don't want it," by some or several members of the family. That is my method of making people eat things."

Mrs. Chitwood lectured and demonstrated several classes of salads. Party salads, everyday salads and economical salads. At the conclusion of the class 12 colorful and appetizing salads were placed on a table in the lobby of the Palace theater for the inspection of the audience.

Party salads blossomed forth in the shape of apples cut like roses, filled with a delicious stuffing and salad dressing. Molded salads with a pleasing color combination worked out in fruits took their place among the decorative dishes. Economical salads using inexpensive ingredients and utilizing left-over foods were in the exhibit. An everyday salad or "man's salad" of good old-fashioned Irish potatoes was strongly stressed for the bride who strives to please and make a good impression on her newly acquired husband.

"Every man likes potato salad," said Mrs. Chitwood. "It may be in different styles of mixture, but as long as the potato is there, he will relish it."

Principles in preparing potatoes for salads were given. Boiling with the peeling on was recommended because of the nutritious value in the part next to the skin. Carbohydrates and fats are contained in the peeling itself and if boiled with the peeling on, these will be incorporated through the vegetables.

Talks on Economy.

A useful household secret revealed by Mrs. Chitwood in boiling potatoes so that they will not split or break apart was to wrap or cover the potatoes with a piece of muslin after the water had reached the boiling point.

A talk on economy and budget system was given by Mrs. Chitwood regarding the system soon to be used by the City National bank.

"It will assist you greatly in saving your earnings or money to put aside for future use. It is the only bank in this part of the country to use this system and is in reality a school of instruction as to how to handle your budget. Announcement will be made later through The Record News concerning this most economical step taken by this bank," Mrs. Chitwood said.

Bank Aids Housewives.

Among the food products recommended by Mrs. Chitwood and used in her cookery Wednesday was Gebhard't Chili meat and Chili powder. She claims that they are idispensible in her making and flavoring salads. Gebhardt's chili was served to those attending at the conclusion of the lecture.

In connection with cleansing around the kitchen, Mrs. Chitwood prefers Gate's cleanser. Though a recent product on the market she finds it unusually satisfactory and entirely harmless to her hands.

CHITWOOD APRONS

Housewives At Cooking School Given $1.50 Bargain at 45 Cents.

Co-operating with The Record News Cooking School now being conducted by Mrs. Ida Chitwood, the Noble-Little Hardware company is offering a special apron for housewives at 45 cents. The apron sells for $1.50, but is offered to those attending the cooking school for only 45 cents. An unusually large number of the aprons have been sold and an additional supply ordered.

The apron is a dainty affair, suitable for home work, and has a rubber lining. The Noble-Little Hardware company is also showing in a special window all the articles used by Mrs. Chitwood in her cooking school.

NEGRESS INJURED.

Della Walker, negress, was slightly injured shortly after noon Wednesday when she was struck by an automobile driven by Miss Jessie Morris of Iowa Park. The accident occurred as the woman alighted from a street car at the corner of Ninth and Burnett Street. She was taken to the General Hospital.

MOTHER IN LAW GETS BLAME

But She Often Proves Friend Says Sophie Loeb

BY SOPHIE IRENE LOEB

Once upon a time there was a mother-in-law. A mother-in-law is a woman who has been credited with every sin and debited with very few virtues. She is always in the case as an accessory either before or after the fact.

Only one thing can keep her from being a mother-in-law if her offspring marries, and that is her own "shuffling off." There has been only one woman in the world who had no mother-in-law. And that was Eve.

It was a wise providence that made Eve mother-in-law. Else she would have blamed her downfall on Adam's mother—by some reasoning or other. For, the mother-in-law usually gets the blame, whether she's in the game or not. Strange to say, the choosing of a mother-in-law does not always come with the choosing of a husband.

Somehow or other the very name of mother-in-law tightens the heart strings and places the chip on the shoulder for the least little wind to strike it off.

Thus, Mary dreaded John's mother. Not that she knew anything against her particularly, but, in truth, that she did not know her at all. This mother-in-law, being a twentieth century one, left the two that had become one quite severely alone, except as they wished otherwise. Mary at once thought she was offish.

She crawled into her shell a bit. When she gave a little party to her women friends she never thought of including her mother-in-law, for, as she confided to her chum, Genevieve, the mother-in-law would likely "snoop around." Thus distance lent enchantment in this home that practically knew no mother-in-law.

One day infant Johnny fell ill with the measles. It was a new thing for the young woman, John timidly suggested, "Send for mother." But the anticipation of unknown horror rather put cold water on the suggestion.

The baby's fever seemed to rise. Mary, in desperation, agreed. Now Mary had studied "what to do until the doctor comes." But the thought of what to do until mother-in-law comes sent her flying from garret to cellar to note if this, that or the other thing was "in order" and if things were in the house for the newcomer's comfort, etc. For, a dread of her prying into the running of the house filled Mary with terror.

She came. She went right up to Mary and said:

"Just give him to me, dearie. You and John go out for a nice long walk and you get some red roses in your cheeks. Don't bother about the baby at all and don't pay any attention to me. For I have been a mother a long time and I will only give him up to one who has superior right—to you."

Mother-in-law stayed a few days. She attended to her business, the business she had come about—being the help in time of need. She did not discuss family affairs or ask the whys or wherefores of anything.

Now Mary had never heard of a mother-in-law being a friend. But here she found she was mistaken. So, often mother-in-law came and always assumed the guise of a welcomed friend rather than a relative-in-law. For she always put Mary in the place she had been in many years ago.

In a word, Mary came to feel the need of her. And verily the "in-law" was dropped. She even went so far as to say:

"Indeed, there must be many good mother-in-laws in the world."

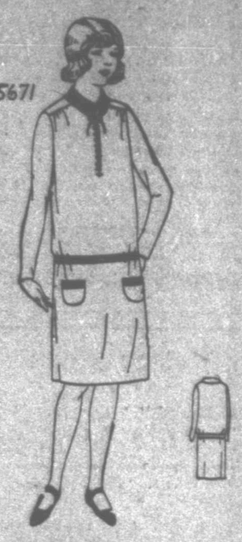

Moral: Don't be too hasty about blaming the mother-in-law. Give her a chance!

PASSING OF A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR

A PUBLIC benefactor has passed on. Dr. J. T. White has gone to his reward. He has served as director of the Pasteur Institute since its establishment 20 years ago. He pioneered this whole section of the United States in making serum to save human beings from the rabies after being bitten by mad dogs and other rabid animals.

He was a recognized authority in the work and notwithstanding "his long and highly successful service to the state of his nativity in the cause of humanity, his salary had never been raised beyond $3000 per annum."

It is said that he received many offers to commercialize his services, but he remained to continue his research work in the interest of humanity even though he remained a poor man.

He has gone to his reward. In that world unknown he may find its rulers more appreciative than the fellow mortals he left behind him. Public benefactors should receive a reward somewhere. They may get it on the other side of the river.

His was a life of service here below. Why shouldn't it be a life of recognition or reward in the world invisible?

VIEWS OF A NOTED BAPTIST MINISTER

"I THINK it a blunder and foreign to the New Testament faith to lay hold on legislatures and the civil power to compel certain interpretations of the Bible."

Now just who said it? Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, and of the Baptist World Alliance, in an address before the Southern Baptist Educational association in the city of New Orleans. And then he continued:

"It is a reversal of our Christian position. The provocation is sometimes great, as when wanton attacks are made upon christian religion by teachers in state schools, but Christ's religion calls for spiritual weapons of defense, not laws and penalties, courts and juries."

Dr. Mullins is one of the noted scholars and orators and writers of the Baptist church and those who are close to him say that he is as fearless as Rogers Williams, who fled from the Puritans in the early days of New England to dwell in the midst of the savage redskins.

GOULD OF MAINE

SEN. ARTHUR GOULD of Maine admitted that his associates in a business deal made $100,000 campaign contribution to the cause of the prime minister of New Brunswick and his political organization. His counsel declared that the $100,000 had been paid in 1912 to save Gould and his associates from ruin.

These Candadian purists in the political world of New Brunswick had Gould and his associates on the hip, according to the testimony, and "stand and deliver" was their demand. Now what will happen to Gould of Maine? Will he be seated or ousted?

If ousted, what will happen to the millionaires and multi-millionaires, including many large financiers and industrial captains, who shelled out $10,000,000 for campaign purposes in the Harding campaign and a like sum in the Coolidge campaign of 1924?

Just when is campaign money tainted? If it is tainted when it elects a senator, isn't it tainted when it is used to elected a president of the United Sates?

VALUE OF COLLEGE EDUCATION

A COLLEGE education is not essential to succeed but it saves a lot of fumbling. This is the verdict of Dr. Stockton Axson of Rice Institute. To quote from the vocabulary of a politicial writer, Dr. Axson, "said a mouth full." This is his argument:

"Colleges now aim to bring students closer to practical things of life. If not, they ou. to. A person may be highly educated without going to college, but the probabilities are that children get a better preparation for the actualities of life with a college education. Such an education ought to save a certain amount of fumbling and false moves."

Warlike nations spent $350,000,000,000 counting the loss of property and not the sacrifice of human life, in the great World war of fire and slaughter.

If the statesmen of the world would spend $50,000,000,000 to educate the boys and girls of the world, that is, to develop their brains and train their hands along the proper lines, poverty would be minimized, superstition would be banished, bigotry would be bludgeoned, the bandage would be removed from the eyes of justice and the dawn of the millenium would not be ten billion miles away.

RUSSIAN REDS ARE HAPPY

"WE ARE happy to establish fraternal relations with the workers and toilers of your country, who are continuously menaced by the avaricious and rapacious imperialism of the United States," was the message wired from Moscow by the Russian Reds to the central Union Workers of Columbia, a South American republic.

Now just how far is the Panama Canal from the boundary lines of Columbia?

Bear in mind the Panama Canal was built by the money of the American people and the wisdom and statesmanship of Theodore Roosevelt made it possible. Why should the Russian Reds be permitted to establish Soviet Republics on the fringe of the Panama Canal, a waterway tor the ships of all nations and a civilizer beyond compare.

A DIVIDENT MAKER

WASHINGTON COUNTY shipped thirty car loads of pecans to the buying centers of the north and east in the year 1926. The shippers received fancy prices for the nuts. Texas is the home of the pecan, and the pecan is a nut that is not a nuisance. It is a dividend maker. This, the farmers of Texas are fast finding out. It is very much like the turkey, ever in demand in the consuming centers of the nation.

1985 POLL TAXES

Large Number Paid Out In Clarendon Offices.

CLARENDON, Feb. 2.—A total of 1985 poll tax receipts were issued by the collector's office of Donley county up to the close of business January 31, which is better than the average for non-primary years in this county.

The usual poll tax list of the county is around 2500 on primary voting years.

A little over 90 per cent of the state and county taxes have been collected thus far as against the 97 per cent of 1926. This amount is unusually good when the enormous cotton and grain crop that was grown here is giving the farmers such low returns for their labor.

MARCHANT ON C. OF C. BOARD

Electra President Put On Regional Work

By Universal Service.

ELECTRA, Feb. 2.—S. B. Marchant, newly elected president of the Electra Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, was appointed national councillor at the board of directors meeting today to represent the local chamber in national and regional meetings of the chamber of commerce of the United States.

The directors of the Electra chamber approved recommendations of the irrigation committee relative to raising a fund of approximately $3000 to finance a preliminary outline survey of the proposed Pease and Red river valley irrigation district. The directors pledged themselves to see that one-third of this amount, Electra's portion, were raised at once. The chamber of commerce of Vernon, Burkburnett, Quanah and Crowell have already indicated their interest in the proposed project and will be invited to assist in raising the funds to finance the preliminary survey.

The purpose of the preliminary survey is to prepare an outline sketch of the proposed district showing the approximate route of the main canal and approximate boundary of the district. The directors of the irrigation association expect to receive a report from the state board of water engineers on or about April 1, showing the approximate amount of water which may be impounded by the proposed dam [illegible] the Pease river and the [illegible] which it may be possible to irrigate from this water supply. These data will all be compiled and will form the basis of organization of a permanent irrigation and water improvement district.

The HOLLYWOOD GIRL

© JOHNSON FEATURES INC. 1926

By Beatrice Burton

Author of "Love Bound," "Her Man," "Honey Lou," Etc

"But that's not true of every girl who gets ahead," Lottie told her.

READ THIS FIRST:

BOBBIE RANSOM, a demure school teacher of 22, is anything but the flip sort of girl whom you'd expect to be "movie-struck." She is, however. She tries to borrow money from her father and her AUNT GERTRUDE to take her to Hollywood where she hopes to break into pictures. They refuse to lend her a cent for such a purpose, and so does ANDREW JERROLD, who's in love with her and wants her to marry him.

Finally she borrows $500 and goes to Hollywood with a full purse and a high heart. At MRS. MANGAN'S boarding house she meets STELLA DELROY, an extra in the movies. Through Stella she gets a few days' work at the Magnifica Studios where a great director, ROY SCHULTZ, and his wife, LOTTIE, take an interest in her more as a person than an actress. The assistant director, GUS MACCLOUD, falls in love with her and she with him. Later she learns that he has been married, and that his wife is divorcing him. She forbids him to make love to her.

Gus is a man of many loves. Stella hints that he once was in love with her and dropped her. Later she commits suicide and leaves him a letter telling him her life isn't worth much to her with him out of it.

Another Magnifica player, MONICA MONT, tells Bobbie that Gus is fickle and rather brutal in his love affairs, but Bobbie goes right on caring about him.

Bobbie goes home for her aunt's funeral. While she is there Monica gets a fine part in a Roy Schultz picture and moves to a luxurious new flat. Her salary, together with what she gets out of systematical "gold digging," keeps her in style. Bobbie learns that Gus often goes to see her, and she becomes jealous of her. She, herself, insists that there be no love passages between herself and Gus until his wife frees him.

One day, while Bobbie is making some extra money by teaching JOLLY SCHULTZ, aged six, her letters, Gus calls her up and tells her he has a small part for her in a picture, and asks her to ride out to "location" at Laguna Beach with him.

Lottie calls up and advises her not to go with him, and tells her to come to see her, and she'll explain why.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

There was a walled garden behind the Schultz's pink stucco house, and in it were all kinds of lovely old-fashioned flowers that Lottie raised.

She was at work in it when Bobbie got to the house that morning. She stood up, shading her eyes with one cotton-gloved hand, and smiled at Bobbie as she came toward her between the flowering hedges that bordered the path.

On a stone bench 'gainst the sun-baked wall was a coffee tray and a folded newspaper. Lottie was a coffee fiend, and wherever she was for any length of time there was also a pot of coffee.

"Hello, infant," she called out. "I suppose you think I'm crazy, asking you not to go down to Laguna today, don't you?"

Then she lowered her voice, and glanced across the garden toward Gus MacCloud's house. His cream-colored roadster stood gleaming in the sun, beyond the pepper trees and the beds of flowers.

"Sit down and let me talk to you like your Dutch aunt," she said quietly, and she put her arm around Bobbie's waist as they sat down on the bench.

"I found out from Roy that some of the company really are driving down to Laguna today," she went on, "and, of course, Gus has to go to pick out a good location. But there's no reason on earth why you should go."

She shook her head and looked squarely at Bobbie with her big honest brown eyes. "No reason in the world," she repeated firmly.

"I suppose not," Bobbie answered, and after that there was a long pause filled by the low humming of bees and the sound of the garden spray on dripping plants.

"Do you know anything about Gus?" Lottie asked suddenly, and Bobbie shrugged her shoulders.

"Not very much," she answered. "I know that he's been married, and that he's getting a divorce—or that his wife is getting one, rather."

"She has it," Lottie broke in quietly. "Gus has been a free man for a week or two. He told Roy so, at any rate. But he never mentioned it to you, did he?"

Bobbie shook her head with its shining mass of hair. The toe of her slipper moved restlessly, nervously in the gravel path, making little circles and squares.

"No, he didn't, Lottie," she said, without looking up, "but even before I knew he'd been married, he told me he wouldn't marry the best woman on earth. He said he didn't believe a man connected with pictures should marry. He said there was too much temptation in his daily life."

"Temptation, fiddlesticks! I don't believe Roy is tempted very much by the beautiful women he sees. He says he isn't, anyway. He says he's so used to them that they all look alike to him."

"You're jealous of him, just the same!" Bobbie said to her in her heart.

"Now, I'll tell you what I think about all this business—this Laguna trip," Lottie ran on, picking up the newspaper and creasing it with her gloved fingers. "You can go if you want to. You're a grown woman, and Gus is a grown man. He's a director, and you're an extra—and you're both working in this picture of Roy's. So nobody's going to say anything if you two people go down to the beach and see each other every minute of the day."

"No, I suppose not," Bobbie slowly said, still making little circles with the shining toe of her slipper.

"But you know it isn't the right thing to do," said Lottie who had brought some of her schoolma'am morals along when she came to Hollywood. "You know as well as I do, that when two people who are in love with each other the way you and Gus are, get away by themselves—" She hesitated. "Well, you shouldn't go with him on this trip, and you know it!"

Her eyes were still on Bobbie's face when she finished. But Bobbie did not look at her. She was looking dreamily across the garden at the cream-colored car standing before the door of its owner's house waiting for him.

She thought of the long drive down to Laguna under the blue sky and the clouds that blew across it like silvery-white yachts on a blue sea. The long drive with Gus beside her. The beach under the moon that night, with the two of them sitting on the sand, perhaps cheek to cheek.

"Perhaps he'll ask me to marry him. Perhaps that's what he wants me to go with him for," she thought.

Then another thought pulled her up with a jerk. If he wanted to marry her, why hadn't he told her yesterday that he was free? Instead of just telling her that he was mad about her?

"Of course, he doesn't want to marry me," she told herself sanely and sensibly. "He doesn't want to marry anybody. He just wants to trail around, getting a little thrill here and a little thrill there."

She knew that that was the truth about him, and it certainly hurt. She felt sore and aching and down-hearted as she made up her mind what to do.

"I won't go, Lottie," she said, drawing the outlines of a heart with an arrow through it on the gravel at her feet, "I've made up my mind."

She stood up as if she were going to go, then dropped down on the stone bench again, and pulled an envelope from her handbag that once had been a swagger thing of scarlet leather. It was shabby and discolored now.

She laid the envelope in Lottie's lap. "You can see that I haven't opened it," she told her. "I know all about the letter inside without reading it. I know it's a letter from a man back home who wants to marry me—and I know that in that letter, he's asking me to come home and get married. That's what he always writes, in all of his letters. But I stay here, because I'm going to get into pictures, somehow, and because—if you want to know it—I'm just crazy about Gus. I can't help it."

Lottie looked at Andy Jerrold's fine dashing handwriting across the envelope. "Don't you care for this chap?"

"Of course, I care for him," Bobbie said. "But not the way I want to care for a man when I marry him. Andy's making a lot of money. He's terribly good looking—but I just don't love him the way I should. I guess I know him too well, maybe."

Lottie's lips went up at the corners in an odd little smile. "Think of a girl giving up a man like that for—this." With a wave of her hand she took in Hollywood, spread out below them like a puzzle picture, and Gus MacCloud's house and car, too.

Her voice was full of quiet scorn, and Bobbie got the impression suddenly that Lottie didn't care much about Gus MacCloud.

"I know you think I'm crazy to stay here, Lottie," she said, "when it seems that I haven't any more chance of making good than hundreds of other girls in this town—but I just can't go until I've proved it to myself. Monica says I'll never make good until I get on the right side of some director and persuade him to give me good parts."

"Monica Mont you mean?" Lottie asked with a little frown and unfolded the paper on her lap. "Did you see the picture of Monica in this morning's Examiner?"

There it was! A double-column photograph of Monica, all bare shoulders and smiles and pearl beads, on the motion picture page of the morning paper!

"See, there you are!" Bobbie cried, her eyes round with surprise. She hadn't expected Monica to make good quite so soon. "Monica makes eyes at everybody on the Magnifica lot from Edmund Van Pelt right down to the electricians. She vamps every man on the place—and the result is that she stands in with them, and gets her picture in the papers!"

"But that's not true of every girl who gets ahead in this business," Lottie told her. "Some of the biggest stars are nice respectable girls who wouldn't let a man make love to them unless he came to them with an engagement diamond in one hand and a marriage license in the other."

Bobbie's dark eyebrows went up. "Maybe that's true," she was thinking, "but I know I'm not going to get a part in this picture unless I go to Laguna with Mr. Angus MacCloud. That's what I know about myself and my own chances!"

As she was thinking it, she caught sight of him. He had just come out of the house and was standing beside his car while the Japanese manservant put his bags and a small trunk into it.

He was in tan knickers and sweater, and the sun made his blond head gleam like a metal helmet.

"Go and tell him you're not going with him," some still small voice deep down within her said. And quickly, before she could silence that small voice and change her mind she was across the lawn, through the evergreen hedge, and at his side.

Her face, lifted to his, was as sweet as the roses in Lottie's garden. She put her fingers on his arm, and swayed toward him because whenever she was close to him she wanted to be still closer.

It was unbelievably hard for her to say what she did: "I'm not going down to Laguna Beach with the rest of you, today. Lottie wants me to go on teaching Jolly for a while, and I'm going to do it."

He looked her up and down, and then lifted his eyes to the hill-side garden where Lottie's white dress showed white among all the green.

His face changed, hardened. His blue eyes looked as cold as ice.

"In other words, you've been taking Lottie's advice," he said frigidly. "In other words, you don't trust me. You won't go down to Laguna unless Roy and Lottie are along to chaperon you. What do you think you are, a kindergartner? Let me tell you something, Bobbie, you'll never get very far in this movie business if you listen to a lot of oldfashioned people pulling a lot of old-fashioned talk on you. Now, how is it going to hurt you to drive down to Laguna Beach with me and a lot of other people in the company I ask you!"

Bobbie gulped. "Lottie doesn't think I ought to go."

He sneered openly, and sent Lottie a look that was ugly.

"I don't think I ought to go, myself," Bobbie went on bravely. "If I were back home, I wouldn't go on a trip with a man and a lot of other people unless there were some chaperones along. Why, my Aunt Gertrude never would let me."

"Your Aunt Gertrude!" Gus gave a snort of harsh laughter. "Your Aunt Tessie!"

He got into the car, quivering like a great beast to be off and away.

"All right, Little-White-Feet-on-Hollywood-Boulevard!" he said, borrowing Monica's nickname for Bobbie, "you do as you please. But let me tell you this—that I'm off you for life if you don't go on this trip. You can't treat me as if I were a murderer or a moral leper, and get away with it."

"But I'm not," wailed Bobbie.

(To Be Continued)

Somebody rides to Laguna with Gus. Read about it in the next chapter of this story.

In the lips of him that hath understanding wisdom is found; but a rod is for the back of him that is void of understanding.

Wise men lay up knowledge: but the mouth of the foolish is near destruction.

The rich man's wealth is his strong city; the destruction of the poor is their poverty.

The labour of the righteous tendeth to life; the fruit of the wicked to sin.—Proverbs 10:3-16.

BO BROADWAY ..... By Joseph Van Raalte

NEW YORK, (EFS)—Every once in awhile some old bird whose name used to be blazoned on Mazda Lane in those far distant nights, "when a round of the town was a round of delights," gets hold of a cub reporter or some woman trying to earn a living in the Capital of Commouplace by writing "feature" stories for the Sunday papers, and lets loose a wad of varied and pleasing flow that, while they make good reading, sure do gum the records.

* * *

There's Jim Churchill, for example. Jim used to run a comic opera restaurant on the Street of Queer Percentages when Willie Collier, Lillian Russell, De Wolf Hopper, Fritz Williams, Pete Daly, Fay Templeton, Dave Warfield and John Kelly all appeared on the same bill in a Weber and Fields show.

Churchill started life as a cop, became a police captain and finally achieved public attention by cashing in on his knowledge of human nature through the medium of his alleged filet mignon bazaar.

* * *

Churchill's was the place to which, 25 years ago, the Out-of-Town-Man-About-Town could repair with a female acquaintance, and over a 3 o'clock in the afternoon bottle of champagne, explain to her just where his wife's understanding of him fell short.

Churchill's was the Finishing School for the Sap at large on Broadway and the Middle Distance for certain ladies, without visible means of support, who had graduated from Gallagher's and hoped to achieve Sherry's.

Jim's stock in trade was a flashy facade. He always reminded me of The Last Chance saloon out of Arizona way, with the two-story wooden fake front and the half-story rear.

* * *

When prohibition hit town Jim just naturally curled up and passed out of the picture. His experience lay in one direction only. He was totally incapable of twisting a new situation to meet his exactions.

A couple of Chinks moved into the place Churchill vacated and demonstrated to the old-time "wise guy" that much money could be made in the restaurant business by dispensing mineral water and stenks.

Jim had cleaned up enough, however, to sit back and dabble in real estate, take a jaunt to Europe or Florida when the spirit moved him and occasionally to "submit" to an interview "touchin' on an' appertainin' to" the dear old days of the dead and busted past.

In one of these interviews recently, he said:

"If it hadn't been for prohibition I'd still be open today—without a cover charge—and making money. It seems to me that with the enactment of the prohibition amendment, New Yorkers became a drinking and not an eating populace.

* * *

Jim knows better than that. He simply guessed wrong seven years ago and is trying to alibi his poor judgment.

Since the advent of prohibition the number of eating places and two-by-four coffee joints has tripled. There's one block on Eighth avenue near the New Garden, with six hash houses on one side of the street and four on the other. Such a thing would have been possible in the old days.

The night clubs don't break into bloom until after theater hours. The speak-easies are dank, uncomfortable places and men, missing their old gin-mill hangouts, just naturally gravitate to the eating places where they kill their spare time continuing futile arguments that were under way round the mahogany bars of the town when Volstead interrupted.

With Jim Churchill's acquaintance among the Powers That Be and his diamond-shirt-stud temperament, he could have tripled his fortune if he'd had the courage and judgment to hang on and see just what prohibition amounted to.

But he got scared and ran out. He was afraid to take a chance.

New York needs today exactly the sort of place Sir James used to run. There were flowers for the ladies, bon-bons for the babies—and if a wayfarer chanced in, starving to death, Jim could always manage to rustle a lamb chop for him with a slice or two of French fried potato.

"The hilarity in night clubs of the present seems to me to be forced," concludes the Worthy Brother, "I doubt if many of them make money."

Poor old Jim Churchill—raised out on a bluff!

KILLED IN CRASH

One Youth Dead, Another Critically Injured

HOUSTON, Feb. 2. (AP)—One youth was killed and another seriously injured early Tuesday when the driver of a motorcycle failed to see a string of moving tank cars on the Houston Belt and Terminal tracks on the outskirts of Houston. Robert Lee Whitaker, 17, of Pasadena, died an hour after the accident. Royola McRobinson, 17, will probably recover, it was said at the hospital.

Group Two Guests At Buffet Luncheon

Members of Group Two of the Alatheau Sunday school class of the First Baptist church were delightfully entertained by Mrs. John T. Abbott at a buffet luncheon Wednesday. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion in cut flowers and ferns, and the dining table was especially pretty with a silver pheasant embedded in sweet peas, forming the centerpiece.

Two of the members, Mrs. J. O. Haynes and Mrs. George Smoot, were remembered by the group with gifts in appreciation of their loyalty to the group and class the past year.

Those present included Mesdames Bahbeat, E. J. McWilliams, O. G. Stephens, J. A. Hood, F. H. Elam, J. O. Haynes, George A. Patterson, D. L. Hill, Frank Parrish, L. T. Francis, B. C. Hess, E. C. Austin, Ray Wilhite, George Smoot, Homer McGregor, J. L. Nikkel, P. M. Buchanan, Charles R. Daniel, Wells Smith and Nydia J. Young.

Mrs. J. C. Berney made announcements concerning the Grant Overton lecture to be given before the Forum and their guests Feb. 17.

Those present were Mesdames Roy Jones, L. I. Lucey, N. W. Gant, E. E. Clair, W. H. Newell, A. P. Terrell, Paul Steed, A. L. Williams, E. E. Fisher, R. H. Stocks, King Davis, Grady Taylor, Earl Buffner, A. J. Newby and Miss Pearl Bandy.

FASHIONS By Sally Milgrim

The Smartest Black Frocks Are Enlivened by Contrasting Trimmings.

Owing to a lavish use of contrasting trimmings, black frocks are among the most youthful of the season's creations. When color is undesirable, arresting effects are achieved by means of white combined with steel beads or rhinestone effects.

It would be difficult to imagine a more thoroughly individual frock than the afternoon model sketched today—a youthful affair of black crepe satin, white chiffon and rhinestones.

The yoke, with its interesting geometric edge outlined with rhinestones is white chiffon. It is finished with a soft standing collar and further accentuated by a cluster of white gardenias. The bodice is otherwise plain save for a cape in the back split in the center.

The white chiffon yoke on this black satin frock is edged with a line of small rhinestones. This trimming appears again on the cuffs.

RCA Makes This Offer as a Contribution to More Widespread Enjoyment of the Vastly Improved Broadcasting Programs of the Day.

In October, 1926, the Radio Corporation of America announced the formation of the National Broadcasting company as the logical means of elevating and stabilizing the art of broadcasting.

The establishment of the famous Blue and Red Networks has already brought a flood of congratulations from both press and public. Everybody who has a radio is commenting upon the better programs available.

Now RCA makes still another substantial contribution to home radio by setting a price on Radiola 20 which makes its purchase an easy matter for almost every home. The price is now $78 (less equipment).

QUALITY RECEPTION for Quality Broadcasting

From its first appearance a year and a half ago Radiola 20 has been an acknowledged leader. When it was designed, high standards of radio performance took precedence over mere price considerations. Now Radiola 20—with all its high standards—is put in the lower price field.

Radiola 20 was created by the same engineers (RCA, Westinghouse, General Electric) who are responsible for the construction of the greatest broadcasting stations. It provides 100% home reception of broadcast programs.

Price Complete With

—100

$169.75

May Be Equipped to Operate From Your Lighting Socket

Radiola 20 can be operated with batteries, or with lighting socket devices. This, of course, does not affect the musical performances of Radiola 20 one way or another. It is merely a matter of personal preference. You can buy Radiola 20 at this price and then equip it with devices for operating from your lighting socket, or use batteries.

Twenty Times as Selective as the Ordinary Antenna Set

In building Radiola 20 special attention was made to securing a degree of selectivity which would meet the conditions brought about by the increasing number of broadcasting stations.

You get the stations you want and only the stations you want. For average reception, Radiola 20 provides ONE DIAL TUNING. For far-off stations, there are two minor controls for sharper tuning.

ASK FOR DEMONSTRATION in your own home. You will be surprised how easy it is to own a Radiola. Pay a small amount down—balance monthly

MODISH MITZI — Mitzi Begins at the Beginning — By JAY V. JAY

"I began my spring shopping with this hat," says Polly admiring her own headgear of felt and straw sprinkled with pearl beads. "I began mine with my corsets," says Mitzi, "and this is only one of them." It is a girdle of satin and elastic fastening on one side and boned in front.

This, too, fastens on one side and it is made of silk plaid topped with a frill of organdie. Both this and the first girdle are for daytime wear—it's best to begin at the beginning, Mitzi thinks, and plan the foundation of one's wardrobe before one buys the frocks.

This is for evening wear—a girdle and brassiere in one. The brassiere top is of lace, cut very low to allow for the decollete of one's evening dresses. The lower part is of silk elastic and satin and the whole garment fits snugly to give smooth supple lines under a gown.

Another evening combination is a step-in model of silk elastic which rises in front to prevent a break in the smooth front-fitting of a dress. "You know," says Polly, "there's a lot to be said for your system. I think I'll take this hat back and get credit on corsets, instead."

These Kissing Bugs Are Not So Good At This Husband Business

Advice to the Girl Whose Fiance Is a Kissing Bug Instead of a Conversationalist — Can a Tyranical Husband Be Cured? — Where Can Miss Twenty-Three Find Handsome, Moral, Rich, Intelligent Husband?

Dear Miss Dix:—When I first started going with my young man friend we indulged in kissing in order to entertain ourselves, rather than to sit up in silence, for he simply can't carry on a conversation. I have to do all of the talking and he doesn't even try to help, but I'm tired and disgusted with all of this petting and want to quit it. Yet I like this boy and hate to give him up. What would you advise? JEANNETTE.

Answer: Well, if I were you, Jeanette, I should gently waft my kissing bug out into the air.

For, believe me, my child, matrimony is a sure cure for petting, and if the only parlor trick your young man possesses is kissing, he is due to make a mighty dull husband to the woman who is unlucky enough to get him.

Don't marry a man who can't talk and out of whom every remark has to be corkscrewed. A dumb husband is as depressing an object as you have around the house. He may not really be glum and grouchy, but he always gives that impression, and, anyway, a wife can do nothing with him because she never knows what he thinks. She never knows whether he is pleased or displeased, and she can never guess what he is going to do, nor has she the slightest inkling of his plans. No wife can establish any sort of comradeship with a silent husband.

Furthermore, the dumb husband is like a douche of cold water. You can't rouse him to any enthusiasm over anything; you can never have any happy times talking things over together and building air castles about all the wonderful things you are going to do when you ship comes in. And half of the joy in being married comes in that.

He never pays you a compliment. He never tells you that you look pretty or that he likes your new hat, or that you can make better biscuits than his mother can, and so you will go starving for a little praise all your days.

And you will never have the bliss of having him tell you that he loves you, and that his guardian angel must have been working overtime when he got you for a wife. It won't be any satisfaction to you to know that he is probably thinking all sorts of wonderful things about you.

The greatest menace to domestic life, Jeannette, is boredom. The reason that most husbands and wives who go astray wander from their own fireside is because they were simply bored stiff by the women and men to whom they were married.

Therefore, they started out to hunt up somebody who could entertain them, somebody who was interesting, somebody who carried a nifty line of chatter about the news of the day and books and music and theaters and neighborhood gossip.

So really in picking out a husband about the most important thing to look for is his ability to entertain you, to keep you amused and interested and feeling that you could listen to him forever without getting tired of him. Don't marry a man until you find one of this caliber.

Pick out a glib talker, a man who loves the sound of his own voice, a man who can tell a good story, who gathers up all the little interesting incidents of the day and relates them gayly. That kind of a man makes the sort of husband who chatters across the dinner table to his wife and doesn't sit up like a graven image of an evening and only grunt when he is asked a question. Neither a store dummy nor an oyster is a woman's ideal of a companionable husband.

Don't marry a man who can only entertain you by kissing you, because he won't even kiss you after marriage. He will just give you a peck on the cheek as he passes by. DOROTHY DIX.

* * *

Dear Dorothy Dix:—What can you do with a man who turns what should be a happy home into a place of torment by his petty tyrannies? My husband is a good man, moral, a hard worker, a good provider for his family, but he is a chronic grumbler, and keeps us all right under his thumb. We have several grown girls, dear, sweet, good daughters, that their father bosses as if they were little children. Every time the boys come to see them he is furious about it and at 10 o'clock he mortifies the girls by calling out to them and sending the boys home. If they go to ride on Sunday afternoon and fail to get back before dark, he raises ructions, and generally makes everything so unpleasant that I live in fear that my girls will leave home. Is there any way to change such a man? SUBSCRIBER.

Answer: I fear not. You've given in to him too long. The time to stop a man from tyrannizing over his family is before he begins it—not after it has become an ingrained habit.

Your husband is one of those men who, as the French say, are the joy of the street and the misery of the home. They are cowards who bully and browbeat their wives and daughters because they are helpless and dependent on him, and cannot defend themselves against him. They take out on their families all of the temper and irritability they are too politic to show people whom they wish to please.

Such men are to be despised, and yet they are to be pitied, too, because they are so shortsighted, and because they throw away the rich reward they might have. For, after all, they do toil and sacrifice for the sake of their families. The only pay they can get for this is in the love and admiration of their families. Yet by their conduct they kill every impulse of affection and gratitude that their wives and daughters would have for them. For nobody loves a jailer, no matter how well he feeds them.

Perhaps your husband doesn't perceive that he is standing in the way of his daughters' future by driving young men away from the home by his surly conduct, but he is. Eligible young men are scarce in these days, and they only go where there is welcome printed on the mat and where they are treated with courtesy and consideration.

Perhaps if your husband realized that he was alienating his children from him and driving them away from home, he would mend his manners. DOROTHY DIX.

* * *

Dear Miss Dix:—I am a girl of 23. I wish to marry and have a home of my own. Where can I get a husband who is good-looking, moral, industrious, intelligent and rich? ALICE.

Answer: Heaven knows, Alice! I don't. The best place to look for such a paragon would be in a museum, where, if you found him at all, you would find him dead and stuffed. If you want to marry, you had better moderate your demands. DOROTHY DIX.

Woman's Day Of Work and Play

Want a Film Career?

There are futures in Hollywood and New York film studios for women who haven't the good looks or "personality" requisite to screen success, but who have alert brains.

Women are reading and synopsizing books for the selective editorial departments of the big companies. The selective editorial department decides upon the stories from which pictures are to be made.

Many women are writing adaptations, which is the new name for an elaborate form of scenario. Some women doing this work are employed by production companies, others are free-lancing. Some of the best continuity writers in the business are women. Both adaptations and continuities pay exceedingly well.

Young women work with directors as script clerks and get valuable first-hand education in the details of production.

A few women are directing pictures or assisting directors, and a few are designing sets and costumes.

Reference libraries and the research departments in the big studios are run almost entirely by women, most of them trained librarians who, alas, have carried a standard of low salaries into an industry that pays higher wages on the whole than any other.

There are some very expert film cutters and title writers among he weaker sex. A woman does the final editing of all pictures produced by one of the largest companies in the world. A woman heads the selective department of another big company.

Several women are cast-directors who make an important contribution to the success of a picture by selecting types that are suited to the parts portrayed.

There are many prominent women press agents and personal representatives of women stars.

There are comparatively few women in the distributing end of motion picture work. Distribution is highly specialized selling and it is work that either does not interest women, or in which they have not gotten a foothold.

Positions with motion picture producing companies are in great demand because they offer wide opportunities and pay well. In this respect this industry does not differ from others. You must have proven your ability to do work that is needed to start in a small job, watch your opportunity and work up.

Buzzed Frez Jabes Gardner on the situation, if any. The noble man tossed both hands high, wrinkled his countenance in the well-known cinema register of holy horror and, "Great Scott! Man, don't say anything about that. I can't tell you anything. Just let 'em alone and don't tease any of 'em."

And that is so much of that and no more.

How Do They Get That Way?

After the meager showing made last Summer to wit, one step out of the cellar merely because Waco had bogged so deep in it that Wichita Falls found it almost impossible to root her out of the mire and nudge down in for place, most of the boys should feel highly complimented they are even proffered contracts to return for another try. Proud prima donnas of seven-rung club ought to be ashamed of themselves for entertaining such thoughts.

THE OLD MORAL SUPPORT.

Relative to comment carried in this col yesterday about tight rules placed on Wichita Falls basketball players thereby taking very much of the spice from the games, and in connection with the Goodrich tire company's offer to donate a number of prizes to individuals in the women's basketball league, Norman D'Olive, an ardent cage fan, pens a series of thoughts. D'Olive is the official scorer of both the Commercial and women's league. His missive:

DEAR BLONDY:

Top o' the Morning to ya.

I agree with you, "it ain't like it use to was" in playing the basket ball game without getting the "outside, James" verdict from too many infringements on the personal foul laws of the basketball pastime. The old "eye for an eye" boys' game has evolved into that "Oh, Pardon Me" effeminate style of wage court battles which forces Hon. referee to wear out his whistle, but notwithstanding these trusted rules which mean the bars to the bench for playing the game too ardently, there are among the ranks of the boys' City League cagers, a number of basketeers who have displayed good clean sportsmanship which, if put to a vote, merits commendation. These fellows have endeavored to avoid the accusations of hacking, holding, charging, etc., as much as possible at the same time puttin' up their best fight for their teams, and have further displayed their good sportsmanship by accepting the referee's decisions in a good natured manner that has prompted many fans into expressing their admiration for such players.

And now comes along the Mesura, Symon and Sharpe and the Goodrich Tire firm who display their interest in the girly-girl basketeers by putting up trophies for the best individual lady hoopers of the season. Its fans like these who create an inspiration for the girls who compete for individual honors in a healthful pastime which contradicts the pessimists who shout to the world that the flappers are a generation of weaklings, etc. As yet we are to find any of these so-called weaklings in a bevy of pretty, healthy and trim girls in the Hippodrome, Conoco, P. B. M. and Electric lineup, eh?

Yours for greater city league basket ball,

NORMAN D'OLIVE.

GRIP CAPTURES FLUKE VERDICT OVER MANTELL

Dutch Puts Charles In Bad Way But Referee Says Pinned Himself

Wichita Falls fandom saw its wrestling idol defeat himself Wednesday night at the Palace. At least, so the referee said.

For Dutch Mantell was left holding the burlap in a wild affair with Charley Grip, the Lithuanian. The Buffalo bullet-head copped the deciding fall sans application of a hold. The Prince of Luxembourg had Charles in a bad way more or less with some kind of a freak tie-up when he (the P. of L.) inadvertantly sank his (the P. of L.'s) shoulders to the canvas and began steaming up more pressure. Umpire Theo Jensen patted Grip on the stomach and ordered a break. Charles jumped to his feet all heated up to yelp a protest that he hadn't quit yet and his blades certainly weren't pinned, but Theo startled Grip and more than half the roaring multitude by raising the Lithuanian's right paw, signifying victory for the man who thought he had been beaten. The fall came in 14 minutes of milling.

Socking Sally

Grip grabbed first honors in a punch-and-kick 15-minute flurry with a toe hold and hammer lock. Dutch balanced accounts in 40 minutes with a pin fall that in a way was a gift itself. The irrepressible Luxembourger put Grip very much on the run with a salvo of socks to the head and body followed by a few random kicks in the slats. Charley, floundering about the ring in distress, suddenly stumbled into a corner and hooked the ropes with both mitts. He refused to break at the referee's command, so Theo snapped on a headlock and pulled him loose. Grip then made the mistake of trying to wrestle Jensen instead of the man he had been matched with. He came off third best, for Jensen broke into the clear and Dutch dived on top and flattened Charles in a couple of twinkles. A three-man free-for-all followed with Dutch coming to the referee's rescue again and bouncing Grip on his dome. Matchmaker A. Ross staged a rear advance into the hempen square and carted Charles off to a dressing room.

Quelsser Behaves

Police Commissioner Frank Quelsser, who before the match declared he would not frighten any of the wrestlers, kept his word. The crowd got its money's worth. But a portion of it departed with a sour taste in the mouth, result of the trick finish.

Jensen won in a walk from some guy introduced as Adam Bruce in the prelim. John Ellis was billed for the bout, but Bruce subbed. The Swede took the opener in 15 minutes with a body scissors and Bruce made some kind of a faux pas on the comeback, flopped himself groggy and was pinned in four minutes.

Mother, Son Nearly Break

Division of Spoils Menaces Happiness of Youngs

BY EDMOND BEHR.
Universal Service Staff Cor.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2.—The sorry spectacle of a mother and son quarreling as a result of his sudden leap to fame and wealth was displayed here today when Mrs. Jean Young, mother of George Young, 17-year-old Toronto youth who swam the Catalina channel last month, took steps to break her son's contract with Henry O'Bryne, his trainer, who receives 40 per cent of his earnings.

Break Averted.

Mutual friends of the two were confident that the threatened break in the family happiness would be averted as soon as George and his mother have a chance to talk things over alone.

Mrs. Young today served notice that she would not recognize the contract between her son and O'Bryne, who financed the youth during the training period for the Catalina swim.

As the youth is a minor, he can make no legal agreements or sign any checks without his mother's consent.

Different Opinion.

The entire trouble seems to be a difference of opinion between the mother and son as to who shall manage his affairs. George is apparently satisfied with O'Bryne and Levy, who have been approved by William Wrigley Jr., donor of the $25,000 swim prize. But Mrs. Young does not agree with him.

"I do not think George is in the care of the right people," Mrs. Young said today. "I want him to get all the benefits possible from his success. But I want him to be handled by the right people."

TEX IMPORTS DARK HORSE FOR HEAVYWEIGHT TOURNEY

Paolino Uzcudun Has Eighteen Knockouts in Twenty Starts

BY ROY GROVE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The darkest of light horse, in Tex Rickard's elimination tournament, his effort to find a suitable match for Gene Tunney, is an importation—much likened to Firpo, the man who made the strongest bid for a knockout over Dempsey.

Paolino Uzcudun, the Basque wood chopper, bull fighter, champion tree chopper of the Pyrenees mountains, Sunday fighter, strongest heavyweight in the game or what have you—can hit harder than Dempsey. Figure that out.

Paolino puts in the strongest bid to undo that which the world's champion marine has built up, and from the looks of his past record we're just a bit leery that all is true.

Lincoln may doubt his wood cutting ability, but Paolino shows us a record of 18 knockouts in 20 starts (guess we won't have to figure that out). They tell us he has a terrible right-hand punch and he uses it with that dangerous Jeffries crouch. If that is true, and he does actually get his 215 pounds behind that crouching shoulder action, then we'll get up at sunrise and listen to popping rifles.

He seems to be a fast sort of foreigner and shows an easy naturalness for a man built with the many bulging muscles of a Turkish wrestler. He is much stronger than the very strong "Bull of the Pampas," which is something to ring up the hospital about. Georges Carpentier said Paolino hit him twice as hard as Dempsey, that was in a palyful bout, but Carp would have to be dead to prove that.

In scoring his 19 sleepers the wood choper of Basque, has fought some mighty good and reputable boys. Paul Journee and Marcel Niles are two who have tasted his leather, likewise Art Townley. They wallowed in resin the first year of Paolino's boxing lessons.

The Basque wood chopper outpointed Mr. Cook in the Spaniard's fourth bout which is something, considering the experience and boxing skill of the Englishman. He also smeared Frank Goddard around the ropes and shortly afterwards cauliflowered Phil Scott. The German champion, Hans Brittenstatter, and the Belgian titleholder, Jake Humbeck, were also darkened to championship aspirations.

Paolino won his European heavyweight title when he outpointed Cpalla in 12 fast and furious stanzas (as they say in boxing.)

This Spalla lad is worth mentioning for he is the same guy who gave Gene Tunney one of the red hottest evenings the champ ever had, back in 1924. He slapped the marine so hard over the eye that the bout had to be stopped in favor of Spalla in the seventh round, on a technical knockout.

But after all the Spaniard may prove only another Firpo, but we'll say this, he has a far more impressive record than Firpo had when he landed on the Golden Coast in quest of world titles.

27 ANSWER TRACK CALL

McCallum Starts Coyotes Off On Season's Grind

Bud McCallum started off the 1927 Coyote track team here Wednesday afternoon with 27 men answering the roll call at the first meeting after school. The boys were then put through a short limbering up exercise under the leadership of Captain Roy Porter.

Short talks were given at the meeting by Coaches McCallum and Hall followed by another from Captain Roy Porter.

Coach McCallum also announced the Coyotes would enter in several big meets this year in addition to the Fat Stock show in Fort Worth and the Oklahoma relays at Norman, Okla.

Four letter men are back this year with the Coyotes and much is expected from them. They are Captain Roy Porter, Bill Miller, Filmore Meredith, Walter Pinney, and one man that lettered in 1924, Joe Krikland, Bob West, Raymond Strong, Luther Churchwell and Doug Van Allman are men back this year that went out last year, but failed to letter. The new men out are Maurice Allred, Elmo McCaleb, J. P. Davidson, Clarence Powell, Ross Saye, Raymond Mitchell, Babe Anderson, Marion Barrett, Rollin Dixon, Edwin Bell, Russell Cumley, Eggleston Ramey, John Weller, Harrold Klummell, Fred Adams, Truman McCoy, Dick Crocker and Howard Scott.

With the district track meet to be held in Wichita Falls, work will start soon on the laying off of the track and the building of the bleachers to seat the crowds.

Moving On

George Harper, after 10 years in the big show and nearing the end of his career, finds himself a member of the New York Giants, his goal when he set out on baseball's highway.

He was traded to the Giants in the recent cross-wide trade with the Phils, Dodgers and Buffalo club.

Harper, an outfielder, broke into the game with Paris, Texas, in the Texas-Oklahoma league in 1913 and played with Kansas City and Fort Worth before getting a chance with the Tigers in 1916. Remained with Detroit until the 1918 season, when he was sent to St. Paul. Later he played with Oklahoma City and then went back to the big show as a member of the Cinci Reds. Phils acquired him from Reds in 1924 in exchange for Curtis Walker. Had his best year in 1925. Was a holdout last season and when he did report was stricken with appendicitis.

Every once in a while a cloud comes up from the south, and it was only the other day we bumped into a brand new lad who had never been knocked off his feet after engaging in 102 fights.

Those little things told in an unassuming tone caused us to stop and stare and wonder where the kid has been all these years and find he is only getting started.

The boy in question is Armonds Costillo, born down in San Diego, Cuba, 21 years ago. He is practically too fast even for himself. Three of his fights have been draws and he holds a score of knockouts.

The best way we can describe him to the world is to liken him to Abe Attell in action, and is the nearest approach to Joe Gans this writer has ever seen; but what he can do and Joe Gans did, are two different stories, and with his start and age he has plenty of time to catch up to Joe.

We'll leave the icy world awhile
And journey to the south
Where we'll start out training
First from hand to mouth.

The time is now right for Tex Rickard to dive into all the difficulties of matching fighters. He has them booked so far ahead that their contracts interfere with fights previous to the date of battling agreement.

Maloney found this true in trying to get into a fight with Johnny Risko and now we have Paolino making an effort to call off his probability of being eliminated.

Neither fighter, however, will be successful if taken in the light of the New York boxing commission.

Rickard will see more of this before he finishes with his trust. He has so completely sewed up the fighting game that some day he may awaken to find a few dozen boxers left over.

Browns Depend On New Leader And Coach To Put 'Em Up Ladder

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 2. (AP)—A new manager, Dan Howley, and the coaching staff which assisted the St. Louis Nationals to a world's championship last year will endeavor to push the St. Louis Browns up the column in the American league this year.

George Sisler, last year's playing manager at first base, has signed up to play under Howley this year and expects the relief from the cares of management to bring back his lost laurels in batting. Sisler's new contract is said to call for $15,000 a year with a bonus if his batting improves. With Sisler signed, Howley, who came from the pilot's post of the Toronto Internationals, was able to turn his attention to bolstering the club in other respects.

Build The Old Morale.

Owner Phil Ball expected Howley to produce chiefly the morale which was lacking last year and his first act was to attract Bill Killifer away from the Cardinals to coach the Browns. A $10,000 salary was said to have been the inducement.

A three-way deal in which the Browns transferred their second baseman, Marty McManus, brought them a southpaw and two promising infielders, Otis Miller for shortstop and Bill Mullen for third, from Detroit.

Same Roster.

The outfield presents the same roster as last year and with the infield rearranged Howley started strengthening his pitching corps. Blaeholder, one of the leading righthanders of the Western league at Tulsa, was added and Ernie Nevers, coast football star, is expected to be ready for a regular turn in the box this year. He was given the chance to start games last fall and showed well under fire.

Eight other veterans of last year's mound staff will be on hand, Van Gilder, Zachary, Wingard, Gaston, Giard, Davis, Ballou and Falk. In the Detroit deal Howley turned over Bill Hargrave, catcher, and to fill his place as reserve backstop he sent to Toronto for an old comrade, Steve O'Neill, former American leaguer.

After Ty Cobb.

The Browns are making the most determined effort of the American league clubs to land Ty Cobb for what the Georgia Peach has said will be his final year in baseball as vindication that he never was involved in a crooked deal and still retains the old batting eye. Undoubtedly Cobb, if he can be persuaded to sign with the Browns, would raise the spirits of the team immediately, even if his presence in the outer garden was only intermittently.

Manager Howley was in Augusta, Ga., Wednesday prepared to make an offer to Cobb, who was expected home from a hunting trip on Thursday.

"I don't know yet whether Cobb is going to play baseball," Howley said, "but if he is, I want him."

Pretentious Heavyweight Bouts to be Staged

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (AP)—The most pretentious array of heavyweight bouts ever arranged for the indoor season was completed today when Jack Sharkey, Boston contender came to terms for a 15-round match with Mike McTigue, the fighting Irishman at Madison Square Garden, March 3.

With less than a month, from Feb. 7, to March 3, the garden will be the scene of four bouts bringing together all of the leading contenders for Gene Tunney's crown except the former champion, Jack Dempsey. The other bouts are:

February 7—Young Stribling of Atlanta vs. Eddie Huffman of Los Angeles, ten rounds.

February 18—Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., light heavyweight champion vs. Jimmy Maloney of Boston, ten rounds.

February 25—Paolino Uzcudun of Spain, the European heavyweight champion vs. Knute Hansen of Wisconsin, ten rounds.

March 3—Jack Sharkey of Boston vs. Mike McTigue of New York, 15 rounds.

The results of all four bouts will pave the way for the two big outdoor shows which Rickard plans to determine Tunney's challenger in a September title bout at the Yankee stadium. One more elimination bout may be put on indoors, however, possibly, between the winners of the Stribling-Huffman and Paolino-Hansen encounters.

ELECTRICS AND CONOCOS JUMP UP WITH WINS

Indians Tag Draughon Five, Whippets and P. B. M. Falter

STANDINGS

	W.	L.	Pct.
Electrics	1	0	1.000
Conocos	1	0	1.000
P. B. M.	1	1	.500
Whippets	0	2	.000

The Conocos rallied in the fourth quarter after being on the short end of the score through three periods of the game and turned back the Whippets in the curtain raiser of the Women's Basketball league program Wednesday night on the Junior college court, 16 to 8.

The speeding P. B. M. sextet was halted flat by the powerful Electric company squad in the second contest and was nudged out, 18 to 15.

Herb Ludgate's Indian reserves trimmed the Draughon's Business college team, Commercial league entrant, in the final tilt of the evening, 24 to 16.

Chubby Neal's Whippets displayed a surprising reversal of form against the Conocos. In fact, led Frank Ramsey's team all the way until in the last half Mabel Wright, fighting guard, and Shorty Smith, a veritable buzz-saw at running center, were given the gate on personal fouls. When Wright left the court, the Conocos began edging up on the Whippets and when Smith took air a few minutes later the Whippets were beaten, although the score at that stage still was in their favor. The automobile outfit popped up with a better-drilled team than on its last two appearances and showed a couple of new faces in Maurine Foster at center and Virginia Walker at forward.

Thelma Holt and Abbott tied up on high point honors in the Conoco lineup, each taking five. Wright, Whippet guard, put up a defense over Abbott which reduced her scoring far below that of her first game, played last week. Crump, Conoco center, got into the affray late but roved about over the court at a nice speed, intercepting the Whippet passes. Smith chalked up four points for the Whippets before going to the bench via the personal foul route. All in all, the Whippets showed up in better form and poise against the fast Conoco cagers than demonstrated last week. Covey and Young did their guarding on an airtight basis, passing the ball swiftly back up th ecourt into their goal territory.

Lots of Pep

Electrics and P. B. M. played a jam-up game which the lassies started with a pep and speed that kept up throughout the affray which ended 18-15 victory for the Electri csextet. The fair maids developed neat passing which clipped off at a fair rate through the first quarter. Jessie Doke, dependable Electric forward, was sole scorer in the first period, sinking eight points, while Ollinger registered the only two points for P. B. M. Doke came back in the third quarter and looped four more points, which, together with one free goal from Ruby Doke, ended the half, 13-8, with the Electrics leading. The Kilowatts broke up the passing on the part of the P. B. M. girlies and kept the ball in their territory, feeding it to Jessie Doke who sank 'em gracefully before four personal fouls brought her out of the contest.

Hallman Still Shoots.

The P. B. M. ladies got organized and staged a rally at the beginning of the second half and ran the score up to a 13-13 deadlock momentarily. At this point of the game, the girls got down to hard playing, passing close and short. Hallman, P. B. M. center hopped into the spotlight with a two-point shot giving the P. B. M. club a lead with a minute and a half to play. Enthusiasm and spirited fight reached a climax and during the mad rush Ruby Doke slipped in a one-point goal followed by Garner's four successive one-pointing, ending a tight and hard-fought gam e18-15 for the Electric beauties.

Ludgate's Indian reserves and Metzger's Collegians put on the final cage act by playing a steady and interesting game of 24-16 in favor of the junior college bucks. Huffman, Draughon's forward and Wagenfuehr, Indian forward, led in goal shooting. Captain Metzger was short of men, but switched 'em about on positions, keeping the Indian braves stepping right smartly. Duncan, Draughon guard got the gate on fouls about the same time Coach Ludgate run in Captain Crites to center and Sturdy McAnich at guard, which enabled the Indians to stack up the final score of 24-16.

White Mixes With Hull Here Feb. 10

Tommy White of Texas City and Clyde Hull, the St. Paul phantom, two welterweights who were very popular in Wichita Falls ring circles a year or so ago, have been matched for a ten-round battle at the Palace Theater Feb. 10 under auspices of the Wichita Falls boys' band, it was announced Wednesday night.

White copped a decision over Hull in a match here a year ago. Hull was awarded a decision over White at Fort Worth about three weeks ago. Both verdicts were of the hairline variety and neither to date has proved any clear superiority over the other.

Hornsby Serene Despite Lawsuit

Giants' New Second Sacker Has Confidence

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 2. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, second baseman and captain of the New York Giants, second largest stockholder and a director of the St. Louis Cardinals and a defendant in three suits totaling $70,000, said today he was more interested in the 1927 pennant race and his own batting record than in outcome of all the litigation.

Hornsby predicted the Giants would win the pennant would be near the top in National league batting. Last season while managing the Cardinals and while suffering from boils, Hornsby slumped in batting after he had led the league for six consecutive seasons.

Hornsby Unworried

"I'm not worried about all this mess," Hornsby says. "It's natural for slickers to try to get a slice of your dough when they hear you're getting a good salary."

"I'm in fine physical condition. My back is strong and I've regained all the weight I lost during my siege of boils and illness last summer. And morale? say, I'm full of it. I'm going to get out there and get a flock of base hits for all my friends, and another for all the birds who have sued me. And I'll tell you this: I won't say right out that I'm going to lead the league, but I'll say that if anybody else leads the league in batting, that leader's name will be right above the name of Hornsby.

Flag A Cinch

"Another thing, the Giants are going to breeze in. They've got the pitching and they've made some trades that won't hurt the team. And they have morale. Everybody will be satisfied and working together."

Hornsby said there was "no chance" the trade sending him to New York might be called off. He said he expected to be able to sell his Cardinal stock at a fair price.

William Fahey, Hornsby's attorney, said he was considering a suit to compel Sam Breadon, Cardinal president and controlling stockholder, to declare back dividends on the 1167 shares held by Hornsby but he would have another conference with Breadon and make further efforts to find a buyer to take action.

From Tee To Green

By AL ESPINOSA

How about your first lesson in golf this spring?

What shall it consist of, knocking the ball 200 yards down the fairway?

How about learning to hit the ball first? It is conceded that the drive is one of the most valuable lifts in golf. It enables the player to get as near the green as possible, making his second shot shorter—and more accurate.

But—the long accurate shot is as valuable as the long drive. A combination of the two is one of the tricks of golf.

The long second shot is your golf game. Irons, mashie-irons and mashies make golf. Cage your drive to average 200 yards and your iron shot to average half that distance, but shoot straight and straighter. You have two putts left on the hole and nine times four is 36. An average of 36 is championship golf.

Three putts on a green is inexcusable.

Start your golf game this spring with a mid iron. Know what that club is all about. There are many rusty iron clubs in the present-day golf bag. Play the club off the tee if you are to get acquainted with it. More drivers are worn out and less golf played in the modern-day game than all the clubs put together.

There are only 18 drives in a round of golf. Take those 18 on the practice ground before you start from the tee.

In the future, they said, they would insist on the costs involved in proceedings being paid in advance before papers were served.

Old-Time Hurlers Traveled Full Nine-Inning Games, Regardless

By GEORGE MORARITY
Manager Detroit Tigers.

Does the pinch hitter or the lively ball create a demand for more pitchers per game in modern baseball? Opinions are divided. Judging by the way the sphere is clouted to all corners, the lively ball has much to do with the frequent changes of pitchers.

It is common to see from four to seven pitchers take part in a nine-inning game today. Not long ago I saw nine pitchers exhibit their skill, or lack of it, in a nine-inning major league game. Quite naturally, the club limit of 25 players makes possible such pitching changes.

The plan of sending up the pinch hitter for the pitcher, has a discouraging effect on many hurlers.

The pitcher may be a run or two behind when he is taken out, and faces the predicament of having all to lose and nothing to gain, while the new pitcher may snatch victory out of the fire by pitching an inning or two, provided the needed runs are made. Bill Carrigan, the old and new Red Sox pilot, was deeply interested in the modern pitching problem when I saw him at mid-winter baseball gathering. "Connie Mack told me that the pitchers look over to the bench for help more often than they use to do," said Bill.

"It wasn't like that in the olden days, but of course a whole lot can happen in the 10 years that I have been out of the game," remarked the veteran.

Undoubtedly Carrigan was thinking of the great nine-inning pitchers that he once bossed, such as Wood, Leonard, Ruth, Shore, Mays, Jones, Bendient, et al.

It is recalled that Connie Mack developed some of his star pitchers of the old days, by allowing them to remain on the mound regardless of the thickening base hits. That plan is not so practical today.

Sometimes the painful part of inserting a pinch-hitter is the inability of the succeeding hurler to pitch as well or better than his predecessor. Of course, that is a matter of speculation on the manager's part.

How many fans remember the pinch-hitting Dode Criss, who was with the Browns 15 years ago? When he joined St. Louis he was ballyhooed as a great pitcher and an exceptional outfielder.

He proved to be neither, but the way he could lambast the ball was nobody's business. Sammy Strang, once with the Giants, was a corking good pinch hitter, and Eddie Murphy was one of the most proficient because he was a great waiter and seldom delivered his hit unless the count was 2 and 2, or 3 and 2.

Joe Harris is the most potent pinch-hitter in the big show today, due to his habit of flattening the curve ball instead of the fast one. The majority of pinch hitters pass up the curve and swing on the fast one.

YOU—like thousands of other motorists—have been enjoying the extra miles which are crowded into Conoco Gasoline. You've found that under normal motoring conditions Conoco is the one gasoline that is always dependable.

But perhaps your motor has abnormal fuel requirements. Maybe the cylinders are lined with carbon and you get a knock when going up a slight grade, or perhaps you can't develop full power because of long continued use of your car.

But don't let that worry you. Modern science has come to your rescue! It has made Conoco's extra miles absolutely knockless under practically all operating conditions.

This new, knockless, extra-mileage fuel is called Conoco Ethyl Gasoline and is now available at all of the up-to-date Conoco Service Stations. It costs 3c more per gallon than regular Conoco, but if you really want an ultra-smooth, sweet-running motor, you'll say it's worth it.

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline is a combination of Conoco, the extra-miles motor fuel, and Ethyl Brand of Anti-knock Compound—the result of constant research centering in the great research laboratories of the General Motors Corporation.

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline absolutely knocks out that "knock" and turns carbon into power. In fact, the more carbon you have the better Conoco Ethyl Gasoline performs!

But, remember this—there is no substitute for Conoco Ethyl Gasoline. This old established company lends its name to nothing but products of proven worth! Nothing is comparable to Conoco Ethyl Gasoline. A tankful will convince you of that.

ROAD SCHOOL OPENS TODAY

City Officers To Give Traffic Demonstration for All

A traffic school for motorists and pedestrians downtown will be inaugurated today by the city police traffic department.

Four uniformed traffic officers will be stationed at the four corners of the intersection of Eighth and Indiana, to give instruction in the city's traffic laws. They are C. C. Chapman, L. N. McKelvey, A. L. Stubblefield and G. W. Wright.

Observe Rules

The purpose of this school, according to Captain Lyle Donohue, head of the traffic department, is to teach motorists and pedestrians to observe the traffic rules in order to reduce accidents.

"A large percentage of the accidents occur in the business district, and because someone has failed to observe a law," he said.

"In this school we hope to teach everyone the importance of the traffic regulations."

For instance, he said, no pedestrians will be allowed to cross the street until the bell has stopped ringing, and neither will motorists be permitted to drive in violation of the signal system. Other rules of traffic etiquette will be taught, he stated.

Another Friday

"This intersection was selected because it is probably the busiest in town," Donohue declared.

"Friday the officers will conduct a similar school at Eight street and Scott avenue."

The hours of the school will be from 9 a. m. until 12; 1 p. m. to 3 p. m., and from 4 p. m. to 7 p. m.

NURSERIES PRAISED

Wichita Falls Institutions Given Highest Rank.

Reports of "A-1" for the white day nursery here, and of "A" for the negro nursery were filed Wednesday by Mrs. Theo Reese, state inspector of childrens homes, who is in Wichita Falls this week.

In discussing the report, Mrs. Reese declared that the white nursery was the "most excellent in the state," and that the negro nursery was also best in its class.

She said that the latter would have received the highest grade possible had it not been for the fact that the nursery did not have a drinking fountain.

Mrs. Reese went to Bowie and Montague Wednesday afternoon and will return to this city today.

PROWLERS REPORTED

Two burglary calls were received by night police early Wednesday morning, but in both instances the officers arrived after the prowlers had been frightened away.

At 1207 Polk street the burglar apparently "lost his nerve" before he attempted to gain an entrance, while a woman at 2262 Ninth street frightened a man away when she awakened and screamed, it was reported.

Wayne King of Archer City, is staying at the Holt hotel during a short business visit in this city.

Civic Club Brings Benefit Only To Members Who Serve, Optimists Told

"No man can really understand the true benefits of a civic club, but it is a fact that we, as members, can get out of our association here only what we put into it," Claude Miller told members of the Optimist Club at the regular weekly luncheon at the Wichita Club Wednesday noon.

Mr. Miller was the principal speaker on the Optimist program. His talk was opened with a short review of his recent visit to New York City.

"The successful business men who really get the most out of life are the ones who are only overgrown boys," he said.

J. H. MacGregor led a singsong program.

February 18 is the date of the Optimist dinner, to be given by wives of the members at the Wichita Falls Country Club, it was announced. A committee composed of Ralph Hyer, Woodie Featherston, and Floyd Friberg was appointed to arrange for financing the dinner.

Weak, Nervous Spells

"SINCE I took Cardui, I am no longer bothered with weak, nervous spells," says Mrs. Sallie E. Laughrun, of Huntdale, N. C. "I consider this medicine a very excellent one," adds Mrs. Laughrun, whose picture is printed above.

"For about fifteen years I suffered from weakness. Sometimes it grew so bad I had to go bed. I did not have strength enough to walk around the house. I was constantly complaining and was as nervous and cross as I could be. My back and sides ached, and I was very low spirited. I tried two or three things that were suggested to me, but they did not seem to help.

"Someone said, 'Try Cardui,' and told me how other women had been helped by it. I hadn't much faith, but I consented to take it for a while. Shortly I began to feel stronger. I was hungry at meal time, and much less nervous. This pleased me so much that I continued taking Cardui for several months, and, at the end of that time, I felt better than I had in years. I slept well and had a good appetite."

Cardui is a mild, medicinal, purely vegetable tonic, with no bad after-effects. Try it!

Today { At the Theaters

By Ruth Morrison

Majestic: Five acts Interstate vaudeville; Aileen Pringle in "The Mystic," comedy and news.
Olympic: "Paradise," with Milton Sills; comedy and Fox news.
Strand: "The Great Gatsby," and comedy.
Mission: "Cyclone Cavalier" and comedy.
Garden: "Salt Lake Trail," with Art Mix and "Call a Cab," comedy.
Gem: "Sundown," with Roy Stewart and comedy.

Through the hectic rush of a thing far removed from the columns of the theaters, the trials and tribulations of which have nevertheless been pounded out on this typewriter—namely, a cooking school, I am more than ever convinced that the movies hold an everlasting charm for Wichita Falls folk. Even though housekeepers may sit through an afternoon of cookery and pots and pans, they are still eager to see the Majestic—the Olympic and all the others.

In spite of the extreme briefness of the information on this week's bill at the Majestic, Manager Sparks claims that it is a live one. And for feminine vaudeville fans it has worlds of attraction considering the one that was here last week. This program boasts a number of clever male comedians, a serious lack of which was noticed last Thursday and Friday. The men liked it, of course, for obvious reasons!

Dorothy Kamdin has a collection of singers, born boys and girls who are the headliners of the bill. "The Frivolity Five" are peppy and interesting.

Then there are Weston and Luckie in "Listen to the Mocking Bird" who are 50-50 partners in fun. In addition to this they can sing in a way that will delight the audience.

Margit Hegedus, violinist, with McLean Todd at the piano, both claim distinction for their musical ability.

A clever comedy skit "Her Bashful Romeo" is introduced by Frank Fisher and Eldrie Gilmore. The modern Juliet with all the sophistication of the modern flapper are extended by Miss Gilmore. It is a lively laugh as a whole.

Paul Remos and his Wonder Midgets will present some new ideas in gymnastics. Their stunts require skill and ability, all of which they possess.

On the screen is Aileen Pringle and Conway Tearle in "The Mystic."

Everything that goes to make an "audience picture" will be found in "Paradise" with Milton Sills at the Olympic Theater today, Friday and Saturday with a cast composed of Sills, Betty Bronson, Noah Beery, Kate Price, Charlie Murray, Lloyd Whitlock, Claude King and Ashley Cooper.

Produced by Ray Rockett and directed by Irvin Willat, "Paradise" is heralded as one of the outstanding pictures of the year and one of Milton Sills' best screen offerings.

The picture has romance, heart interest, comedy, thrills and pathos with dramatic moments that fairly lift you from your seat. London and the South Seas are the two locales.

Next Wednesday, Feb. 9, "The Student Prince" comes to the Palace. Those who have seen it in Dallas or heard of its successful showing there some time ago will be more than anxious to see it again and recommend it to your friends.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product for only 75 cents. It is improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. —Adv.

DO WOMEN SUFFER MORE THAN MEN?

Physicians tell us that the nervous system of woman is more highly organized, more delicately poised, and, therefore more sensitive to disturbances than that of man. It may be added that her nerves are more susceptible to the influences that produce "nerve tension" (strain) which is only another name for "pain."

Women especially appreciate and profit by the use of Capudine, a pleasant tasting, quick acting liquid compound which relieves high nervous tension and pain by soothing instead of deadening the nerves. For nervous headache, lagrippe, neuralgia, rheumatic and periodical pains, attended by nerve strain, nothing is so quickly effective and satisfactory as Capudine. If a thorough course of Capudine does not give you permanent freedom from headaches, you may be sure that they are caused by some organic condition which should receive the attention of your oculist, dentist or family physician.

Physicians and druggists recommend Capudine as the safe, quick and dependable agent for relieving nervous pains and high nerve tension. Every home should be supplied with Capudine. Get a bottle today at your druggist's and if you do not like it far better than anything you have ever tried, the manufacturers will cheerfully refund the price upon request. Family size, 60 cents; individual, 30 cents, at all drug stores.—Adv.

THROW OFF THAT COLD BY TAKING KLOK-LAX

Don't go around choked up with a cold this winter!

Take Klok-Lax at the first sign of distress and you will throw it off.

Stop using sickening drugs that get your stomach all out of fix. You have got to clean out the clogged wastes in your intestines and start a free bowel movement before you can get rid of a cold.

Klok-Lax is the new, improved way to treat a cold. It thoroughly cleans out your entire 28-foot intestinal canal. Then, the most miserable cold will disappear.

Better still, keep your bowels cleaned out all the time—keep your system purified by taking Klok-Lax regularly — and the chances are you will never take a cold.

Everybody is using Klok-Lax now! It's the thorough, effective way to keep from having constipation. That's why it is the best treatment for colds.

Get Klok-Lax at any good druggists.—Adv.

AFTER THE "FLU" IS OVER —YOU NEED A TONIC

Help is Needed to Restore Your Wasted Strength and Energy

"Flu" leaves the body weakened and rundown. In such cases, a tonic is clearly indicated. Restore the appetite and rid yourself of that let-down feeling.

"Flu" is a very enervating disease. It leaves its victim so weak and debilitated that there is as much danger from the after-effects as from the disease itself. In other words, after an attack of the "flu," you need a selective tonic to rebuild the system so that you may have your old-time strength and energy restored.

S. S. S. is unequalled for restoring strength and vitality.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S. S. S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable. S. S. S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.—Adv.

WASH POISON FROM KIDNEYS

Drink Water All Day Long And Take Salts If Your Back Hurts

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation.—Adv.

STALEY HOST AT BARBECUE

Wichita Falls Boy Gives Cadets a Treat

SAN MARCOS, Feb. 2.—A buffalo barbecue was the unique form of entertainment staged on Talbot field at San Marcos Military Academy Monday evening when Joe Staley of Wichita Falls, cadet in the school, was host to his fellow-cadets, and to President Brown, Dean Abney, Major Harvin and Captain Taylor as honor guests.

The feast was furnished by J. T. Staley, father of Joe, who had sent down from his buffalo ranch at Goodnight, Texas, a fine, fat, young bison, which, with all the barbecue "fixings," made a royal repast.

School spirit and good fellowship ran high throughout the evening. The feast over, songs, yells, and speeches kept things lively around the campfire circle, cadet, president, dean and instructor vying with one another in adding zest to the unusual occasion.

Hub Waldrup Faces Jury For Slaying Man

CHILDRESS, Feb. 2. — The "Hub" Waldrup murder case went to trial here Tuesday noon, following a day and a half of work in selecting of a jury. Monday eight jurors were selected and the four remaining ones on Tuesday morning.

The prosecution began putting witnesses on the stand Tuesday noon and some of them had testified before court adjourned at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday night, to reconvene again this morning. The prosecution is almost ready to rest.

The prosecution is endeavoring to show that Waldrup and Barney White, whom he is charged with having murdered, had a fight at a dance hall near Carey, one Saturday night in January, and that the defendant renewed the fight later. That in the second bout White was stabbed in the leg with a knife, from which he died two hours later from loss of blood.

The question of a juror's convictions on the death penalty came up during the selection of the jury, indicating that the state might ask the electric chair.

OVER-ACTIVE KIDNEYS, BACKACHE! TORTURE!!

Shumake Quick Relief

Excessive kidney action is almost sure to cause backache and other tortures to men and women. The strongest constitution will break down under the strain of continuously interrupted sleep caused by over-active kidneys.

Liquid Shumake is prepared specially for over-active kidneys of both adults and children and relieves kidney weakness by removing the cause.

Many good druggists now recommend and sell Liquid Shumake with full directions on the bottle.—Adv.

BRIDWELL AND HEYDRICK MAKE ADDITION TO GRIFFIN POOL

GRIFFIN 'ONE' BROADENS POOL

Pay Found At 1818 To 1822 Feet In New Producer

BY TOM TRULY.
Oil Editor Record News.

With an oil production of 60 barrels daily practically certain, the Griffin No. 1 of the Bridwell and Heydrick Oil company extends production limits of the Panhandle-Griffin pool in Wichita county almost one mile to the northwest. Sand was encountered at 1818 feet in this test over a week ago but weather conditions and impassable roads prevented drilling in until yesterday.

Total depth of the hole is 1823-1-2 feet but the last foot is being plugged back due to a salt water flow which was at first thought to lessen the possibilities of making a well. This menace has been removed and the owners are sure of completing a paying well.

Located across the horseshoe bend in Wichita river and in the Spillers survey this test is considered the most important producer drilled in that section since the discovery as it either opens a separate pool or makes the Panhandle pool one of the largest in South Wichita.

Geology for the test was worked out by U. B. Hughes, geologist for Bridwell and Heydrick. It is expected that a flock of tests will be started as soon as a production gauge is made.

Some censure was heard regarding drilling the sand six feet and encountering salt water but when it is considered that practically all of the wells in the main pool have from 10 to 25 feet of sand it is plain that, drilling slowly, an operator would feel safe five feet below the top.

News of The Fields

CHRISTIE-MOORE, FISH

Christie and Moore are reaming down to reset pipe on a good looking sand at 1399 to 1401 feet in their No. 1 Fish, located in section 85, John W. Harris subdivision of the club ranch in Archer county and about three miles east of the Green-Fowler pool.

GOSS-WARD, WARD

Goss and Ward have made location for No. 1 Ward in the extreme southwestern part of Hardeman county, being in the center of the northwest quarter of section 9, Jno. Stevens survey, abstract 703. This test is north and west of nearest production which is in Wilbarger county.

AMERICAN, DENNIS

Derrick is up for No. 7, 300 feet south of No. 4 and in the southwest corner of the lease.

GULF, BLACKMAN

The Gulf Production company has made location to drill two more wells in the new southwest Vernon pool. Gulf's No. 2 Blackman is a location 618 feet east of No. 1, the big producer, in the W. A. McKinney survey. No. 2 Milner will be drilled in the southeast corner of the 20-acre lease in section 30, block 2, H. & T. C.

MURCHISON, AYERS

RED BANK, PARROTT

The Red Bank Oil company's No. 5 Parrott in section 971, Preisium survey, Throckmorton county, is drilling below 4175 feet and should reach the pay, if any, within a short time. This company's No. 4 Parrott is drilling at 1559 feet and No. 1 Cole, north offset to No. 2 Parrott producer, is around 3000 feet deep. The Red Bank has a daily production of 550 barrels on its Parrott lease.

TO DEEPEN JOHN TEST

The old well formerly drilled to a depth of 2080 feet by the Brazos Bend Oil company, on the Johnson farm in Knox county, has been taken over by H. H. Kirk of Cisco and will be drilled deeper. The test is in the northeast edge of Knox City and in section 90, block 2, D. & W. R. R. survey.

Royalties Bring Wealth to "Land Poor" Couple

Special to The Record News.

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 2.—Mrs. Della Bowen of Colorado City, and her husband who a year ago pitched a tent on the only section of land in Upton county that they own, have realized a reported $75,000 from the sale of royalties by holding onto their property until oil came.

Last summer Mr. Bowen tramped the streets here in an effort to sell the royalty on that section, but found no buyers. So he camped on the land and watched tests by Marland go down in the vicinity. Today there are six producers and five tests drilling that bear the designation Della Bowen after their numbers. Before oil was struck the land was worth not over $4 an acre.

LEAHY PAID WITNESS SAYS

Two Twenty Dollar Bills Used By Slayer

GEORGETOWN, Feb. 2. (AP)—Testimony that Harry J. Leahy paid Roberto Martinez two twenty-dollar bills was given Wednesday in the trial of Leahy here for the slaying of Dr. J. A. Ramsey, whose body was found four months after he disappeared under unexplained circumstances. The witness testifying she saw the money paid over Martinez returned after he had left Laredo a short time before Dr. Ramsey disappeared.

Martinez On Stand

Martinez was still on the stand Wednesday when court opened and on cross-examination testified that when Leahy told him to strike Dr. Ramsey and Martinez refused, Leahy asked him if he was not "a man."

"Not at this place," Martinez testified he told Leahy, whereupon the latter, he said, told him he had "a good lawyer and bondsman."

Sheriff Frank Hunt of San Patricio county was one of the principal witnesses at the afternoon session and told of having sold the old Leahy ranch under execution. Dr. Ramsey being the purchaser, and testified that there was litigation between Leahy and others, and that Leahy showed considerable ill feeling toward Dr. Ramsey.

TO ELECTRIFY REAGAN FIELD

W.-T. Utilities Builds High Line To Texon

Special to The Record News.

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 2.—Building of a 66,000-volt transmission line from San Angelo to Texon, primarily to electrify the Reagan county oil field, has been started this week by the West Texas Utilities company. A crew of 100 men is scheduled to build the 80 miles of line in 100 days, at a cost of $3500 a mile.

Utility officials conferred Tuesday with Sherwood and Mertzon citizens to decide whether those towns shall be served by the line. The first substation west of here will be installed at Tankersley and one may be erected at Barnhart. The line will not enter Big Lake and Best, which already have electric light plants, as it is intended primarily to furnish power for pumping wells and other purposes in Reagan county.

The West Texas Utilities company already maintains high lines out of San Angelo northwestward to Sterling City and east to Ballinger and other towns. Approximately $1,250,000 is being spent in converting the power plant here into a super-station. It and a similar system at Abilene will furnish the "juice" for lines serving 65 West Texas towns.

STOCK MARKET STILL STRONG

Sales Give Good Accounts Of Themselves

By BROADAN WALL.
Universal Service Financial Expert.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The stock market gave a good account of itself today with interest centered in selective stocks. Although the market continues extremely professional the "right people" show disposition to pick up high-grade stocks. A large short interest is still lodged in pivotal stocks.

Railroad consolidations and working agreements are being reflected in railroad stocks and the Standard issues are rising on investment buying. Bankers look for a reduction in the rediscount rate in the near future which should stimulate activity in the stock market.

Money loaned at 4 per cent. Commodities and exchanges were generally higher.

W. and L. E. Higher.

Wheeling and Lake Erie and Western Maryland were higher. Strength of the latter followed reports that the Rockefeller interest had disposed of a block of stock to the Baltimore and Ohio. New Haven went higher. The Pennsylvania may disclose the extent of its interest in New Haven stock, of which it has long been a large holder. The roads are closely allied by reason of their joint control of the New York controlling railways. Rock Island held firm. Directors voted to place the stock on a $5 annual dividend basis. Canadian Pacific was in good demand throughout the day at rising prices. Buying was notable also in Chicago Great Western.

Tobacco held steady. This group is believed to be behind the market. Action of the stock suggest plans for a comprehensive campaign developing. The logical leader of the group would be United Cigar Stores, as that is the fundamental stock of the whole group. Tobacco products is the chief stockholder and should stand to benefit from any increase in the dividend. Consolidated Cigar rose steadily on good buying. There was no pool in this stock. It is rising on its own merits, based on earnings for 1926 of about $12 a share.

Special Method.

Because tobacco companies as a rule do not have as large assets as railroads or steel concerns, the public is often at a loss to know what their stocks are worth in the open market. Investors familiar with the industry, says a prominent broker, have a special method of appraising such stocks. They consider the rate of sales made each year as an addition to the profit of that year. Thus, suppose United Cigar Stores earns $10 a share and the rate of sales is $5 per share in sales. Then the earnings would be considered not $11 but $15 a share.

Persons not familiar with the industry would consider this stock as earning $11 because the balance sheets would show only that amount. The tobacco man knows that the $5 a share in sales is equivalent to a permanent investment and increases the value of the stock in that proportion.

It will usually cost a dollar in operating expenses for every dollar of increased sales, and experience proves that it is a real profit. On the other hand any decline in sales loses double because the expense of developing the sales is subtracted from the assets of the company.

General Motors recovered in the afternoon and the pool resumed operations in Yellow Truck. Directors of General Motors are expected to declare an extra dividend in March. Briggs Body is being picked up. Buying is said to be for the account of insiders. Hupp Motors moved against the shorts and Mack sold above 95.

Oils Are Better.

Oils acted better. Phillips reached a new high on earnings outlook and dividend prospects. Producers and Refiners is another favorite of the speculative public. Strength of Houston and General Asphalt is put down to progress of subsidiary companies. Asphalt has for years been put back a large amount of warnings into the property.

Speculative interest centered in Houston Oil. Some years ago the old stock sold at 150 when land values in Texas were much lower. Houston owns considerable acreage in thirty different counties of Texas and reserves all mineral rights when land is sold for agricultural purposes. In addition the company has thousands of acres under lease.

Taking the oil industry as a whole, gasoline production and consumption indicates are very pretty at present. The only pessimism heard arises from the expectation of increasing flush production in Seminole County, Oklahoma. Many shorts were bought and others sold. Liquidation was noticeable in Southern Dairies "A" and lower prices are predicted for the issue. Tobacco Linseed preferred continues unsettled. Rumors prevail that directors will pass the preferred dividend. The company is understood to have taken a blanket of the purchase of Linseed.

Maytag is being picked up on prospects of an extra dividend. In 1924 the company earned $2,000,000 profit on sales of 100,000 washing machines. In 1925 $4,400,000 producing 212,000 machines and in 1926 it will show $6,500,000 on a production of 315,000 machines. The company has no bonds, preferred stock or bank loans.

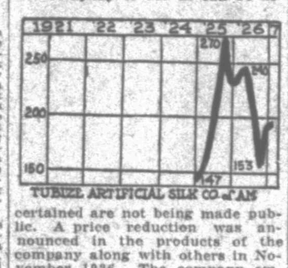

Remington Typewriter closed unchanged. The banking director is said to be in favor of a 3% dividend, or no more than $6, while other interests in the company seek an $8 annual rate. The view is held on Wall Street that no more than $6 will be declared, in that case the stock is thought to be selling too high as a $6 issue.

STOCK-A-DAY

The Tubizing Artificial Silk company of America was formed in 1920, in close alliance with Fabrique de Soie Artificielle de Tubize, a Belgium company which had been in successful operation for 20 years near Brussels. The American company began operations in 1921 supplying the hosiery manufacturers and other textile makers with artificial silk yarn manufactured on the nitro cellulose principle.

The company has large plants at Hopewell, Va., and uses under license, the patents and processes of the Belgium company. Earnings of the company so far as can be ascertained are not being made public. A price reduction was announced in the products of the company along with others in November 1926. The company employs more than 3000 workers and turns out a large quantity of fiber annually.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 2. (AP)—After an opening slant downward, cotton prices pushed laboriously up-hill today until they reached gains of from three to five points over the previous close. The close was steady. Lower Liverpool than due started the tobogran which ended after a slide of from six to seven points was checked by a scarcity of offerings and covering by ring shorts. A gradual advance swerved prices upward until they reached gains of 10 to 11 points above the opening lows and four to five points above yesterday's close. The highs of the day were two points above that figure.

The downward movement carried March to 13.28, May to 13.46 and July to 13.62, but trading thereafter swung prices rapidly again to 13.40 for March, 13.75 for July and 13.57 for May. The close was near the top.

Exports for the day totaled 21,263 bales.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.(AP)—The cotton market was quiet but steady today. May eased off to 13.50, at the start, but rallied to 13.60 and July to 13.80. Offers failed on a little trade buying and covering by near month shorts. May sold up to 13.62 or nine points net higher and closed at 13.60, the general market closing steady at net advances of four to six points.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of three to six points under scattered selling and liquidation. Trade interests were moderate buyers at the decline, however, and prices soon turned steadier on buying of March and May which was generally attributed to the covering of recent sellers.

Demand was not active or aggressive but contracts seemed to be comparatively scarce. Trading was light and orders had been executed, and the market worked gradually higher during the afternoon. May advanced to 13.61, July to 13.82 and October to 13.97, or 10 to nine points net higher. The close was within three to four points of the best.

The buying of March and May was supposed to be influenced by the failure of Southern spot offerings to weigh on the market since the filling of January engagements and the continued absence of hedge selling in any substantial volume. Some selling of the new crop months during the day presumably the hedge purchases of spot cotton in the south, but there was not enough of it to make much impression on the market.

Some of the early selling may have been due to reports that business in the Liverpool market was restricted by the unsettled Chinese situation, but private cables said there was good demand for cotton cloths in Manchester, with the continent buying more freely.

Port receipts 29,386. U. S. port stocks 2,855,365. Exports today 21,214, making 6,761,734 so far this season.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 2. (AP)—Wheat prices moved upward anew today helped by likelihood of farm relief legislation and influenced also by threatening developments as to China. The close for wheat was unsettled, ½ to 1c net higher, corn ¾c to ½@¾c up, oats at a shade to 3-8c gains, and provisions 7@10c to 11c down.

Corn and oats as well as wheat are firmer on account of expected farm relief legislation. Country offerings of corn to arrive were small, and weather conditions were adverse, with selling reported as stopped altogether at many points.

The government report on live stock was construed as bearish on provisions and bullish on corn. An increase of 500,000 hogs was shown, whereas many traders had looked for a decrease.

"DODGER" ARRESTED

Man Held In New Orleans For Hotel Thefts.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 2. (AP) James Kelly, known as "the artful dodger," and by numerous other aliases, said to be one of the country's most notorious hotel thieves, was arrested here today and recognized by a veteran police officer as a man he held in custody on similar charges 20 years ago.

Kelly, seventy-three years old, was charged with looting the room of guests at the Roosevelt hotel of $76.

Arrested on suspicion at the hotel, he said his name was Burt Shaw and that he occupied a room there. Taken to the room he indicated was his the amount of money he was alleged to have stolen dropped from one of his sleeves.

SUIT DISMISSED

$500,000 Action Against Shaw's Sister Dropped.

The dismissal became known when Frank P. Walsh filed a motion to reopen the case. It was on the calendar for Monday and when it was called no one representing Madame Modica was present and the case was ordered dismissed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (AP)—Dismissal of the $500,000 alienation of affections suit filed by Madame Madeline Helen Modica against the Countess Margaret Thaw Carnegie de Perigny, sister of Harry Thaw, became known today.

INDIAN SLAIN

Seminole Justice Meted Out In Everglades.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 2. (AP)—The immutable justice of the Seminoles once more has meted out the death penalty of a tribal murderer. Out of the expanse of swamp and saw grass of the Everglades, a fragmentary tale was borne today by braves of the Musa Isle camp. Dr. John, their venerable medicine man, has been executed to atone for the killing of Little Bill at a redskin jubilee in Big Sypress swamp. The ancient code of "an eye for an eye" has been invoked and the body of the victim has disappeared.

POSTMEN STRIKE

All Austria Without Mail Service As Result.

VIENNA, Feb. 2. (AP)—All Russia was without mail service today because a postoffice employe did not take off his hat in the presence of the postmaster of the Vienna district. The postmaster reprimanded the employe for his carelessness and his fellow workers took offense, calling a general strike of postmen and mail wagon drivers.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (AP)—Speculators for the advance regained control of the price movement in today's stock market in which the rails were again the feature. Final quotations disclosed a long list of net gains ranging from one to nearly seven points with only a sprinkling of losses of a point or more. Trading showed a substantial increase in volume with commission houses reporting a gradual reawakening of public interest.

The day's trade news was largely favorable in character, one of the most interesting developments being the inauguration of dividends on the common stock of the Rock Island at the annual rate of $5. Freight car loadings in the third week of January showed a substantial increase over the same week last year, and the daily average of crude oil production fell off considerably last week which was construed as bullish on the oil situation. The weekly trade reviews reported a further expansion in operations, but stressed the fact that business was highly competitive with the price tendency still downward.

JUNIOR COLLEGE HERE "FINEST IN STATE," SAYS EDUCATOR

U. OF T. HEADS VISIT HERE

School Is "Finest Example" Of Work, Says Shelby

Declaring that "Wichita Falls has set the finest example in the state of a junior college," T. H. Shelby, dean of the extension department of the University of Texas, freely discussed the value of junior college work, in an interview Wednesday.

Dean Shelby, accompanied by Dr. W. T. Mather, professor of physics, and Dr. H. Y. Benedict, dean of the College of Arts at the University of Texas, and Tom Sharp, business man of Austin, arrived here at noon Wednesday for a brief business visit and will leave this morning for Austin.

"I am especially interested in the encouragement and development of junior colleges throughout the state," he said. "There are now about a dozen such institutions in operation, and colleges will be established at Texarkana and Edenburg this year."

Approves New Bill.

Speaking of the proposed legislation regarding junior colleges, Dean Shelby stated that a number of bills had been introduced before the Legislature, most important of which was one compiled by a special board of junior college officials requiring the institutions to be standardized.

"In my mind, the practical point that this bill will accomplish is that of preventing 'shoe string' colleges from forming. It would require every city to have a certain taxable valuation and the high schools to have an enrollment of at least 600 students in order that the college could maintain a suitable attendance.

"Whether these colleges are to be maintained financially by the state or by the districts in which they are situated, I do not care. Wichita Falls has had unusual success with her college. It is the finest example in the state."

Scholastic League Booming.

Dean Shelby said that the Interscholastic League, of which he is an official, was rapidly organizing for the year.

"There will be more than 4,000 schools enrolled this spring, and we expect the year to be the greatest in the history of the league. The schools are now preparing for the state basketball tournament to be held sometime in February."

Dean Shelby is an ex-president of the Austin Rotary club and is well known in Texas.

"Benny" On Vacation.

Dr. Benedict, the beloved "Dean Benny" to hundreds of former students of the university, said last night he was just "tagging along" on the visit to Wichita Falls for a short vacation.

American Lays Out New Capital City For Australian Government

Just as Washington was laid out 150 years ago, new capital of Australia, Canberra, is rising on waste areas 60 miles from coast. The work, begun in 1913 on plan of W. B. Griffen of Chicago, winner of world wide competition, is nearing completion. Photos show (1) the capital itself; (2) Civic Place, axis of boulevard system; the Cotter dam, which will supply water and power for the city, and Griffen.

Heifer's Bones

let politicians down at Stephenville run the college they had determined to oust him.

He said Dean Davis is recognized as one of the best educators of the Nation in charge of Junior colleges.

"If Davis was a politician instead of an educator he would never have bought that pure bred Jersey cow to try and start a dairy herd," Purl declared, "because he would have known that some legislative smelling committee would go down there and dig up her bones and rattle them all over the legislative hall."

He ridiculed the committee for going back to 1921 to try and find something on which to bring charges against the Dean.

Telegram Is Read.

Before the vote was taken a telegram was read from the ex-students association of John Tarleton representing 5,000 persons, expressing the utmost confidence in Dean Davis and declaring him above reproach as an educator and a man.

The house took all day on the John Tarleton battle. The Senate got away before noon until Wednesday morning after passing a few minor bills, receiving new ones and hearing committee reports.

Senator Smith from Breckenridge introduced a bill to cut down to 15 per cent of its capital stock the amount of money a state bank or trust company can loan to one customer or company. The limit is now 25 per cent. The national banks can loan only 10 per cent.

The barbers' bill, which creates a barber commission, was reported favorably out of committee. This bill would guarantee smoother shaves as it provides that all barbers must stand an examination in barbering before being licensed.

The beauty parlor bill was also reported favorably. It will regulate beauty parlors and their conduct to the extent of "more and better manicures," according to one of the Senators.

Sons of Gread Lord Gladstone Up In Arms To Defend His Memory

By Universal Service.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—William E. Gladstone, prime minister in the victorian days, spent much of his fortune in reclaiming the fallen women of London.

Such was the testimony today of Lord Gladstone, his son, in a libel action of Peter Wright against Lord Gladstone who called Wright a liar and a coward for having stated in a book that the premier was a hypocrite in matters of sex.

"I forced the present suit merely to do justice to the memory of my father," said Lord Gladstone.

He added that he had personally known Olga Novikoff, a Russian whom Wright says wielded an influence over the premier's policies. He said there was no secrecy about the meetings between his father and Olga and that in the 23 years of correspondence between them "there was not the slightest hint of impropriety."

During his testimony he pointed his finger at Wright and exclaimed: "Whenever my father's name is mentioned in connection with that of any woman, that man thinks of it in terms of sex."

New $30,000 Brick Parish House Replaces Landmark of Early Days

With the opening Wednesday afternoon of the new Episcopal Parish house, one of Wichita Falls' oldest landmarks was replaced by a new $30,000 brick structure.

It is the old church building, situated on the south side of the Episcopal church at the corner of Tenth and Burnett streets, that has, in recent years, served as a parish for the Episcopal congregation.

Built in Early Days

Erected as a place of worship years ago when Wichita Falls was still a "cow town" of only a few hundred inhabitants, the old church originally stood on the site where now the new Hamilton office building is under construction at the intersection of Eighth street and Lamar avenue. When the present Episcopal church was built the frame building was removed to the lot adjoining to be used as a parish.

Hundreds inspected the new building between the hours of 4 and 5:30 p. m., Wednesday when it was thrown open for the first time to the congregation and the public by the wardens and vestry of the church. The opening was informal and no program was prepared for the entertainment of the visitors.

Auditorium for 500

The first floor of the building is divided into individual class roons, a kindergarten department, and a large auditorium, while the vestry room, kitchen, and a second auditorium and stage are located on the second floor.

The two auditoriums have a seating capacity of more than 500 persons.

NO PARDONING PLEAS TO DAN

Not One Application Yet Made To Governor

AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—There has not yet been a single pardon application made to him late this week, Gov. Dan Moody revealed.

So far as the pardon-hunters were concerned, the first 10 days of his term of office were wholly untroubled. And nobody had come in to break the record at the time Moody said he had not been asked for a single pardon.

Moody's attitude on the question of pardons has been one of considerable concern, since his campaign was based partly on a criticism of the pardon liberality of his opponent.

Governor Moody has said, "I am opposed to the indiscriminate granting of pardons." Nowhere has he declared that he will refuse to grant any clemency.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

Large Crowd Hears Talk At First Christian Church

A large crowd which filled the auditorium of the First Christian church last night heard Dr. Floyd A. Bash lecture on Channing Pollock's play, "The Fool." Dr. Bash gave the play in lecture form, accompanied by stereopticon slides. R. E. Shepherd led the song service which opened the evening service. The program on Channing Pollock's play is the third of a series of illustrated lectures being given at the First Christian church.

Second Training School Planned

Plans were discussed Wednesday night at the Wichita Falls district standard training school at the Floral Heights Methodist church for holding a session next Fall. The school has heretofore been held only once a year but it is likely that this year two sessions will be held, it was announced.

E. F. Bohmfalk, educational director of the First Methodist church will deliver the principal lecture tonight during the assembly period on "Sunday School Literature." Dr. W. J. Johnson, presiding elder of the Wichita Falls district, was the principal speaker last night when he spoke on "The Sunday School an Agency for Evangelism."

Eleven churches are represented by those taking the training course.

Word was received here Wednesday of the death of James E. Kuykendall, formerly of this city, who died in Kansas City on January 31. He is survived by two sisters and two brothers, including C. D. Kuykendall of Breckenridge.

CIVILIANS ON TRAFFIC GUARD

Business Men To Act As Special Officers

In order to reduce the number of traffic violations in Wichita Falls, a number of business men are to be sworn as special police officers, with the authority of regularly employed policemen.

This was promised by Chief of Police George Hodgins at a safety meeting Wednesday noon, attended by officers of the Wichita Falls Safety council, members of the city council, Chief Hodgins, and Lyle Donohue, director of traffic of the city police department.

In discussing this move, Chief Hodgins said at the meeting that business men, given the authority to make arrests, would do more to regulate traffic and cut down the number of accidents due to careless driving than any number of officers.

The chief also said that a larger budget would be asked for the police department this year in order that the number of traffic officers could be increased by 50 per cent.

P. A. Rogers, chairman of the traffic division of the safety council, in a brief talk said that the business men were supporting Chief Hodgins and Captain Donohue in any move they attempted for a better regulation of traffic conditions.

"Stars of Future" Give Lions Thrill

Discussion of plans for the "Children's Day" parade and show at the Palace, sponsored by the Lions, Saturday, constituted the greater portion of the Lions club luncheon session Wednesday.

Two of the midget players billed in the show performed before the club. They were "Baby Jane" Hamilton, who gave a reading, and Suzette Paull, who did a toe dance and a Charleston, the latter on her toes also.

Paul Seeds, director of the boys' band, urged Lions to take still closer interest in the youngsters and aid him in keeping the organization intact and attending practices in full force. The band is sponsored by the club.

A. B. Ross, in charge of the "Children's Day" show, detailed a number of plans for the performance and declared the show will be one of the greatest of its kind ever staged.

Bill Davenport lined up a number of new members like a chain gang and read the club code of ethics to them. The men were W. M. Ford, Roy Carter, F. H. Williams, Harry W. Durem, Dutch M. Burgan and T. L. Sorey.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Grieve, advance agents for the Biederwolf revival company, trilled a couple in duet with J. S. Pitman at the piano.
