County Using New Fogging Method

Judge John D. Wendell said today that Aransas County is using a new fogging method to wage war more effectively against mosquitoes in this area.

The same type equipment used by federal authorities to annihilate insects in areas hit by hurricanes is now being employed here, the judge reported.

A low volume spray is produced by a unit mounted on a jeep. The method is a new concept in insect control and the device that makes it work is a cold aerosol generator.

"With this new sprayer, we now are able to use full, concentrated insecticide instead of diluting with diesel oil, as was the case in the past," Wendell explained.

The insecticide comes out under extreme pressure, with a blower dispersing the mist which is less visible that the former fog but which, according to Wendell, "is highly effective up to a distance of 1,000 feet."

Because of the effectiveness of this new method, the vehicle transporting the generator will move along at a speed between 10 and 15 miles per hour instead of the 4 or 5 miles per hour needed for thorough spraying under the old system.

"At the higher speed and with the new equipment," Judge Wendell said, "we will be putting out the same protection, saving money for the county, and serving the public more quickly and more effectively."

Wendell said the insecticide used is either Diabrom No. 14 or Malathion (95 per cent). Pointing out that these insecticides are "somewhat toxic," the judge warned parents that the sprayers often are out early in the day and "children should not run or ride their bicycle behind the fogging machines."

"To say the least, the mist will 'smart' the children's

MOUNTED SQUARE DANCERS GAINING NATIONAL FAME

The mounted square dancers of the Aransas County Riding Association are attracting attention throughout the nation and are receiving invitations to perform at many rodeos and horse shows.

W. T. Johnston, president of the Riding Association, reports that "as far as we know, ours is the only organization in the United States that has a group of about 30 riders who put their horses through the actual maneuvers of square dancing with a professional caller doing the calling."

Johnston said the mounted square dancers started practicing four months ago and after lots of work. "We have now reached the point where the riders and the horses are attuned to the various moves that produce on unusual and interesting performance."

On June 10, the ACRA mounted square dancers will participate in the Youth Rodeo parade at Alice and perform during the first night's presentation, with Earl Smith of Corpus Christi, a professional square dance caller, doing the calling.

On July 4 and 5, the mounted square dancers will present two performances at Horseshoe Inn at Corpus Christi, with Smith again doing the calling.

Johnston said an indication of the nationwide interest in the ACRA mounted square dancers is the fact that "Horse and Rider Magazine", a national publication, has announced plans for a lengthy feature store, with photographs, of the unique group.

...-Sr. High PTA To Be Discontinued

The Rockport-Fulton Junior and Senior High School PTA met April 27 in the Junior High cafeteria. The Executive Board recommended that a referendum ballot be mailed to each member as to whether this PTA would continue or discontinue as an organization. They recommended that each ballot should have a special seal to insure that only valid members could vote, that a stamped, self-addressed envelope be included, that the ballots be unsigned, and that May 8 be the deadline for the return mailing of the ballots.

The board also stated that it would abide by the outcome of the referendum ballot. It was moved, seconded, and adopted by the members present at the regular meeting.

The Scholarship Committee reported that Roque Garcia, third highest graduating senior, had been selected to receive a $100 scholarship.

The Executive Board met May 15 in the High School to count the ballots. Of 102 ballots returned, 39 voted to continue and 63 voted to discontinue the Rockport-Fulton

School Board Honors 4 Students

The School Board has honored four students of Rockport-Fulton High School by passing resolutions published in full elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot.

Miss Laquita Sue Balderree was honored for winning first place in All-State competition Class AA shorthand.

Robert E. Harrist was honored for being selected as a member of the All-State Band.

Richard J. Anderson was honored for earning a place on the All-State football team.

Jonathan Morgan Teague was honored for winning second place in All-State competition in Class AA science.

High School Awards Banquet

As the crowning point for the 1969-70 athletic year, the men who have represented Rockport-Fulton High School were in attendance at the annual Awards Banquet May 14 at the Junior-Senior High cafeteria.

The program consisted of a fine banquet dinner, the recognizing of guests, a definition and explanation of University Interscholastic League and Rockport-Fulton High School Athletic Awards Systems, the presentation of awards, and a look ahead at the 1970-71 football season.

A total of 168 awards were handed out to boys who lettered in the six sports participated in by the Pirates of Rockport-Fulton. This outstanding number of awards was given to 101 boys, clearly showing the versatility of some boys who were fortunate enough to letter during the year in more than one sport.

The year 1969-70 provided some of the highest moments possible, and yet some of the most unexplainable moments for teams, individuals, and coaches, ever imagined by Rockport-Fulton athletes and fans. Twenty-one of Rockport's athletes will graduate this May, leaving a large void to be filled by the boys coming up from the ranks of the juniors, sophomores, freshmen, and 8th graders of 1969-70.

Unfortunately there were some who did not meet the standard set for earning awards, but next year they will have an opportunity to provide help for the teams of 1970-71, an opportunity open to all who will offer their best to represent their school.

Centennial Plates Selling Well

Although Aransas County-Rockport Centennial commemorative dinner plates arrived only this week, more than 300 of the 48 dozen plates ordered have been either sold or reserved, Mrs. James C. Bracht chairman of the committee in charge, said Tuesday. She predicted the entire allotment of 576 plates would be sold before the Centennial celebration opens June 13.

"Everyone who has seen the plates, which are done in avacado green on white, has been enthusiastic about the attractiveness and desirability as a collector's item," she said.

Eight Aransas County and Rockport scenes of historical interest are depicted on the face of the plates, surrounding a reproduction of the Centennial's sailing ship seal.

Not only have scores of local residents placed advance orders for the plates, but mail orders have been received from as far away as California. Collection of commemorative plates has become a popular hobby in recent years, accounting part for popularity of the Centennial plates.

The plates will be available at the Country Store in the Rockport Art Association gallery, 105 S. Austin Street, at $2.50 each as long as the supply lasts. Those who placed advance orders are asked to pick up their plates as soon as possible.

Crooks Speaks On Public Relations

"Public Relations as a Career" was discussed by David H. Crooks, public relations counsel for First National Bank of Rockport, at a meeting of students and faculty members of the School of Business, Texas A&I University, in Kingsville May 14.

The meeting was one of a series of symposiums sponsored by Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity, to explore various career possibilities. Also at the dinner meeting were members of Phi Gamma Nu, women's professional business sorority, as well as Dean Dennis Ford, head of the business school.

Crooks said the profession of public relations has grown tremendously during the past 20 years since the business began to appreciate the importance of a favorable public image. He asserted that a good reputation was something which must be earned by good performance.

He also stressed the importance of good citizenship on the part of a business firm and its employees, adding that usually the public judges a company by what its employees do and say.

To illustrate his points, Crooks cited public relations projects of First National Bank and of Kroger Co., national retail food firm which he formerly served as public relations director. He pointed out that public relations problems and solutions are basically the same regardless of the size of the company involved.

Crooks was introduced by Raulie Lee Irwin, graduate of Rockport-Fulton High School and son of Mr. and Mrs. Raulie Irwin of Rockport. The youth is a student at Texas A&I and a member of Delta Sigma Pi. His father was a guest at the dinner.

Dennis Clark, Jose Mora and Donald Wright were among the 53 youths who registered with the Selective Draft Board at Sinton during the month of April.

Although prices were higher, U.S. citizens consumed 113 pounds of beef per person, average, in 1969, the same as in 1968.

FUN IN THE PRESS

Shortly after her husband's death the widow married her husband's brother. Hoping to avert criticism of such a hasty remarriage, she hung a large picture of her late husband in the living room.

This worked for awhile but one day one of her friends heard a stranger ask her who was the fine looking man in the picture. "Oh," she answered that's my poor brother-in-law. He died recently." Orlano Centennial.

Youth Tractor Operators School

The County Program Building Committee of Texas A&M and the San Patricio County Farm Bureau are sponsoring with the support of the USDA Rural Development Committee, a three weekend Youth Tractor Operators School. The school will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Fridays and from 8:00 a.m. to noon Saturday on the weekends of May 22-23, May 29-30 and June 5-6, at the County Show Barn in Sinton.

The school is designed to exempt 14 and 15 year-olds from the hazardous occupation order and help alleviate the shortage of farm labor as well as provide youth the opportunity to make some money operating farm tractors. The Agriculture and Child Labor Requirements under the Fair Labor Standards Act, prohibits any minor under 16 years of age from being employed at anytime in an agriculture occupation declared hazardous by the Secretary of Labor. The only exceptions are on the child's own home farm with employment by his parents.

May I take this moment of your time? I wish to thank each of you individually for the cooperation, courtesy and personal help given me during the past several months—and particularly the months of April and May, in handling the publicity for our crusade campaign.

With your personal attention to my many questions, you have each helped me with learning the use of "slicks" "mats" fillers, offset printing —and numerous others I'm sure in my job as publicity chairman for the American Cancer Society.

I wish to extend warm appreciation from the entire Aransas County Unit of the A.C.S.

The Kinsey Report

Ours is a strange household, as far as animals are concerned.

When we bought Pancho, our black Labrador retriever, he was house trained. When he wanted to go out, he scratched on the door. When he was ready to come in, he scratched on the door.

That was fine, but he had one tendency that most dogs don't have. He always had to go out sometime during the night, generally about 1:30 a.m. And he might not scratch to get back in until maybe 4 a.m. Rather disturbing to one's sleep.

Obviously, we should not have started out letting him sleep indoors, but we're rather fond of old Pancho and in cold weather we thought it was too cold for him to sleep outdoors and in hot weather we knew he would prefer air conditioning.

So for several years either my wife or I have been getting up once or twice a night to accommodate our pooch.

The other night I let him out at 1:30 a.m., couldn't go back to sleep, and at 2:30 he scratched to get back in. It took me at least another hour to get back to sleep.

Next morning, Mrs. K and I decided on a course of action which has worked so far. When we get ready to go to bed, we open a back door of my wife's four-door sedan. Pancho loves to sleep there. Next, we put one of our bicycles in front of the front door so Pancho can't scratch the front door. The back yard is fenced in so he can't get close to any of the rear glass door-windows to scratch. Pancho seems satisfied, and we sure are.

The next animal problem has to do with a mouse my wife discovered in a storage unit in our porte cochere. Ordinarily Mrs. K hates, and is afraid of mice, but of this one she says:

"He's so cute. He really doesn't really look like the average mouse. He's longer, thinner and sleeker and he has the cutest whiskers. When I open the storage door, he often sits up on the top shelf and looks down at me as if to say 'What are you doing here'."

So, we have a dog that sleeps in a car, and a mouse that finds safety in a storage place.

Ladies Attend TOPS Convention

Mrs. Frances Bailey, Mrs. Eva Henderson, Mrs. Margaret Floyd, Mrs. Mary Gilliam and Mrs. Reba Vick attended the TOPS (take off pounds safely) Convention in Houston May 14, 15 and 16 at the Astroworld Hotel and the Astrohall. Over 3,000 men and women joined in the fun.

Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Henderson graduated as K.O.P.S. (keep off pounds safely), having achieved their weight loss goal in 1969. The ceremony was very impressive as over 100 graduated. (Ten ladies from Rockport became K.O.P.S. in 1969 but only two were able to make the trip. A graduation will be held later for the remaining ladies.)

The International Queen lost over 200 pounds in 1969 and the International King lost 172 pounds.

The Rockport chapter was highly honored, having two ladies win State Trophies for weight loss. Mrs. Floyd won second place in Division 3, with a loss of over 70 pounds. Mrs. Julie Mercer won second place in Division 5 with a loss of 27¾ pounds.

The five ladies attending the convention came to the conclusion that there are no fat ladies in their chapter; they are only pleasingly plump.

Thursday night was "Fiesta Night" and the ladies wore their "Centennial dresses!" They really made a big hit and have not stopped smiling yet for all the pictures that were taken.

About 140 high schoolers turned out for the program.

Charlie mentioned afterward that he really enjoyed hosting the youth of Rockport that night because "everyone danced so much"! He offered to return here sometime in June for a Saturday evening dance. Please watch this paper for the exact date.

Thanks to all who prepared the hall for the dance. Special thanks to the high school principals, Chester Barre and Pat Smith, for their co-operation in publicizing this event at their schools.

Jr.-Sr. High PTA—

Junior and Senior High School PTA.

The Executive Board, abiding by the referendum ballot results, decided the Rockport-Fulton Junior and Senior High PTA to be discontinued.

This is the third year that continuance of this PTA has been up for discussion because of lack of support and attendance. In spite of an intense membership drive and a strong publicity campaign this year, support and attendance has been poor.

Out of approximately 1,000 parents and teachers, only 141 joined this year. Out of 141 members, a small percentage has attended the four regular meetings.

Without the support of time, money, and attendance and with the results of the return ballot, the organization can no longer achieve the goals of the National and State Congress of Parents and Teachers.

This is to take nothing away from those who have worked so hard or served so loyally this PTA in the past, but even they cannot carry the full responsibility for an active, productive PTA.

LUNCHROOM MENUS

The following luncheon menus will be offered in the schools next week:

Note: These menus are subject to change without notice, depending upon availability and delivery of foods.

Bank Sponsoring Patriotic Messages

A series of 20 patriotic messages will be broadcast next week by radio station KEYS under sponsorship of First National Bank of Rockport, it was announced Tuesday by James H. Sorenson, Jr., president of the bank.

Five of the messages will be broadcast each day starting Tuesday, May 26, and continuing for the next three days, ending Friday, May 29, the day before Memorial Day.

"At a time of considerable disrespect for our flag and for the principles which helped make this nation great, we felt it desirable to speak out for the vast so-called silent majority who love the United States", Sorenson said.

In keeping with this philosphy, First National distributed thousands of small decal American flags last year. Many of them still may be seen on automobiles of local residents.

First National sponsored the hour-long annual concert of the Rockport - Fulton High School Band last Sunday on radio station KTOD.

Trailer Park Is 'Classroom' For Two Boys

Charles E. Barnes, Jr., 12, and his brother, Cary, 10, of Cary, Ill., "go to school" every morning at a picnic table at Trailer Inn by the Bay while the sun is coming over beautiful Aransas Bay.

When they return home next month and pass special tests, Charles will get credit for completing the sixth grade course and Cary will successfully will successfully move up from the fifth grade.

Accompanied by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Barnes, Sr., the boys have been studying all their courses for the past six months in travel trailer courts in 27 states, Canada and Mexico.

It all started last November. The father, who had developed a device for concrete wall forming and had set up a manufacturing plant, decided to take an extensive business trip throughout the country to set up distributorships.

He got to thinking. "Why not take my wife and the boys on the trip?" Mr. and Mrs. Barnes asked Dr. Ronald Eastman, superintendent of schools at Cary, if it would be possible for their sons to drop out of school, take all their school textbooks with them on trip, study every day, and get credit for the year.

Dr. Eastman checked with the Illinois State Office of Public Instruction and was informed that the boys would get the necessary credit if they successfully passed special tests when they got home.

So, since last November, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and their sons have been traveling throughout the country in a station wagon, pulling their travel trailer, combining business, pleasure and schooling.

They Have gone through Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Washington, D.C., New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Maryland, Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Vermont, Ontaria, Canada, Arkansas, Tennessee, Alabama, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, Texas and part of Mexico.

Not only do the boys apply themselves seriously to their studies under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Barnes, but they also take advantage of going through museums, planetariums and libraries to supplement their school work.

As Charles, Jr. put it, "This trip has given us a chance to learn so much that we didn't know. We see many things that we had only read about. We have learned a lot about birds, sea shells, fish, stamps and coins. And one thing I have noticed is that when we are going through states where the Civil War was fought, we understand much more about the war than just reading about it in a book."

The entire family enjoys this way of living so much that they are considering the same kind of trip in the future, with one exception. "If we do it again," Barnes said, "I'd get a pickup truck and camper to pull our trailer and try to employ a tutor or student teacher to instruct the boys."

They came to Rockport on the recommendation of some people they met in Austin who said, "Fishing is wonderful in the Rockport area." And the Barnes family found it so.
