

Mike Krutton, Motel Owner, Dies Sunday

Mike Krutton, who has operated King Kourts for 11 years, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday, July 5, about 8 a.m. He had been in failing health for several years.

He was 71 years of age. Mr. Krutton came to Wellington from Borger after he had retired from the cafe business, in which he was engaged for many years.

Michael Gus Krutton was born Nov. 25, 1892 in Imroz, Turkey. When he was 9 years old, he came to the United States with an older brother, and they lived for some years in New York City.

Later he lived in Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco, and it was in these cities that he owned and operated cafes.

He came to Borger in 1939. He was married to Miss Dorothy Worley in Borger Dec. 31, 1939, and together they operated a cafe and apartments until they moved to Wellington.

Before his retirement, Mr. Krutton was active in many civic enterprises, especially on the West Coast.

He was a member of the Greek Orthodox Church. Although he never returned to Turkey after leaving his home there, through the years Mr. Krutton remained in close contact with his family there.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Kelso Chapel, with the Rev. Chester Harmon, pastor of Faith Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in the North Wellington Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Surviving Mr. Krutton are his wife, of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Phillip Brown of Midland, and one granddaughter, Christine, also of Midland.

Other survivors are two sisters, Maria Cano and Kalyopi Samaklis, both of Imroz, Turkey.

Youth Treated After Accident

Jesse Charles Hunnicutt, 9, was treated in St. Joseph's Hospital Monday, July 6 for injuries received when he was hit by a pickup. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hunnicutt.

Driver of the vehicle was Walter Deger of the Aberdeen community, according to Sheriff John Rainey.

Rainey, who investigated, said the accident occurred about 10 a.m. in front of Junior Davis' food store, as the youth rode his bicycle onto Highway 83 in front of the on-coming vehicle.

Mrs. Bartlett Elected

Crawford New Principal of Elementary School

C. A. Crawford, science teacher in Wellington high school 10 years, was named by the school board to be principal of the elementary school, succeeding Jack Davis, who is retiring.

Crawford's election came in a called meeting of the board Thursday night, July 2.

At the same time, Mrs. Earl Lynn Bartlett was elected to teach English in high school, according to J. L. Harper, superintendent.

Crawford, reared in Collingsworth county and a graduate of Wellington high school, received the bachelor of science degree from Texas Tech, with a major in agriculture education. He received the master of education degree from West Texas State University and has completed most of his work toward an administrator's certificate.

Twice he has received National Science Foundation grants to study math and biology, once attending Tech and the other time WT. Last year he was selected to attend, along with a student, a Nuclear Science Symposium at the University of Texas.

Before coming to the Wellington schools as a teacher,

AN EXTRA PAIR OF STIRRUPS HELPS

These six-year-olds will be too young for most of the events in the VFW Youth Rodeo Friday and Saturday, July 10 and 11, but they will be on hand to see the older boys and girls ride and rope. Paul Hanna, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hanna, has an extra pair of stirrups added to help him sit tall in the saddle. At right is Jim Bob Nall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nall.

Two Night Run

Youth Rodeo Opens Here Friday Evening

Youth will sit tall in the saddle Friday and Saturday, July 10 and 11, as they compete in traditional events at a rodeo all their own.

The first VFW Youth Rodeo will be held in Wellington this week end, at the completely rebuilt arena in northeast Wellington.

Mid-week indications are that 200 boys and girls, all of them under 18 years of age, may compete from most of the surrounding towns in the eastern Panhandle and southwest Oklahoma, according to Herbert Bearden, one of those working on the plans.

Rodeo headquarters are at Memphis PCA office.

Eliminations will be Friday evening, starting at 7 p.m., and the finals will start at 8 p.m. Saturday.

There will be six events, some of them with as many as three divisions, based on age. These will include:

Barrel racing, three divisions—9 to 11 years; 12 to 14 years; and 15 to 17 years.

Pole bending, three divisions—9 to 11 years; 12 to 14 years; and 15 to 17 years.

Calf roping, two divisions—13 years and under; and 14 to 18 years.

Steer riding, two divisions—13 years and under, and 14 to 18 years.

The other two events are expressly for the youngest cowboys and cowgirls:

Boot race, 10 years and under.

Calf scramble, 10 years and under.

Trophies and rosettes will be awarded the winners and every participant will receive a ribbon.

The rodeo is open to any boy or girl still in school and 18 years of age or under.

Employee Training

Full Class Due for 4-Day C-C Course

There are openings for a few additional men and women in the employee training course which opens Monday, July 13, and will continue through Thursday, July 16.

The course is sponsored jointly by the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce, the Extension division of the University of Texas and the Texas Education Agency.

It will be held in the Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., directors' room at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Mary Frances Bowden, supervisory and management training specialist, division of extension of the University will return here to conduct the course. Mack Saied Jr., chairman of the retail committee of the C-C, is handling local arrangements.

"This course is designed to help managers of all business in using the best possible training techniques to get results through on-the-job training of both new and experienced employees," Saied explained.

The course will develop how

Equalize Taxes in Two Sessions

The Commissioners' Court will sit as an equalization board Wednesday, July 8 and again Wednesday, July 22.

The July 8 session, beginning at 10 a.m. will be given over to fixing and equalizing values on oil and gas properties in the county, County Clerk Lorene Jenkins said.

Approximately two dozen notices of change in valuation of oil and gas properties were sent the owners, almost all of them to companies rather than individuals, Mrs. Jenkins said.

The session July 22 will concern the equalization of other properties.

Mrs. Jameson, Early Area Settler, Dies

Mrs. Mattie A. Jameson, whose family pioneered in this area, and who had lived at Dodson about 60 years, died in the Hollis Hospital Sunday, July 5, at 12:50 a.m. She had been confined to her bed since breaking her hip March 9.

Mrs. Jameson was 86 years of age. A church leader wherever she lived, Mrs. Jameson was one of the charter members of the Dodson Church of Christ. This year, more than 50 years after its organization, the congregation completed its new building, in which Mrs. Jameson was also vitally interested, and she attended the first services held in it.

The first Church of Christ in Wellington also was organized in her home, during the time she and her family lived here, between 1906 and 1909.

Mrs. Jameson was born Mattie Abbott, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Abbott, in St. Jo, Feb. 7, 1878, and she was still young when the family moved to the Madge community.

She was married to Charley Hunt, whose family had settled north of Dodson, and the couple moved to Idaho. Mr. Hunt died shortly after they returned to Dodson.

She was married to R. S. Jameson about 1901, and except for the few years in Wellington...

Farm Bureau, Memphis PCA Plan Open House

Open House will be held at the new Farm Bureau office building at the corner of 9th Street and Highway 83 on Sunday, July 12, from 2 to 5 p.m. and the public is invited to visit during that time.

The event will be held jointly by the Farm Bureau and the Memphis Production Credit

Association, which have offices in the building, and announced by their managers, Dee Burba of Farm Bureau and Herbert Bearden of PCA.

The new office building culminates a dream long-held by the Farm Bureau.

The building is 50 by 50 feet and is of buff brick and matching 26-gauge construction metal, a functional construction method not previously used in Wellington. It is engineered to withstand 100-mile-per-hour winds and 18 inches of snow on the roof. Steel girders provide the support.

The interior of the office building is finished throughout with birch paneling. Floors are of tile, and the building is completely air conditioned.

The two organizations occupy similar suites of offices, each with an outside entrance. There is one additional office space in the Farm Bureau section.

Todds Attend Church Meeting

The Rev. Ellis A. Todd, pastor of First Methodist Church, and Mrs. Todd, were in Dallas for the South Central Jurisdictional Conference of the church. The meeting opened Monday, June 29 and closed Friday, July 3.

Of interest to Collingsworth Methodists was the transfer of Bishop William Kenneth Pope from the Arkansas Area to the Dallas-Fort Worth Area. Bishop Pope once lived in Wellington, when his father, the Rev. A. J. Pope, was pastor of the Wellington Methodist Circuit.

He, too, preached in these rural churches—Quail, Salt Fork, Marella and others—while he was still a college youth.

Born in Missouri, Bishop Pope attended Clarendon College and received the B.A. and B.D. degrees from Southern Methodist University in 1922 and 1924, and the D.D. degree from Southwestern University in 1937.

He was elected to the episcopacy in 1960 from First Methodist Church, Houston, then the largest Methodist Church in the world.

He returned here a few years ago to visit the area where he had preached as a young man.

Personal

Mrs. Cora Gosnell has returned to town after a three months visit with relatives in Temple, Lubbock, Clovis, N.M., California, and Colorado.

Mrs. Don Morton and Gary of Alamogordo, N.M., have been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wooldrige.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanford for the past week have been their niece and nephew, Miss Pat Sanford and Roger Sanford of Wichita Falls. They are here while their parents are in New York City. The Sanfords and their guests went to Possum Kingdom Lake for the Fourth of July holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hutchinson left Thursday of last week for Denison, Iowa where they spend part of each year. Mrs. Hutchinson, who has been confined to her home for the past few months, is much improved and made the trip to Iowa in a car.

Bishop Eugene Slater, a former Amarillo pastor, was transferred to the San Antonio-Northwest Area, which includes this conference.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Our trip to the N.E.A. convention and the World's Fair has been filled with familiar people and new sights. The first people we ran into at Love Field were Mrs. Bill Wells and her nieces Joyce and Nancy Holton and Mrs. Mildred Starr and her daughter Pat, who were returning from the Fair. The next were Mrs. Cleo Clement and her aunt from Lewisville, Texas. Mrs. Clement and her husband and Louise and Henry made a trip to Mexico City with a group a few years ago.

Our trip from Dallas to New York was short and interesting for it was the first time the three of us had ridden a jet liner. Shortly after becoming airborne the plane was pointed up at a sharp angle — you could tell by watching the receding landscape. We had not much more than loosened our safety belts until the captain announced that we were over Nashville, Tennessee and that we were flying at 37,000 feet and our speed was 640 miles an hour. In 2 hours and 40 minutes we landed at Kennedy International Airport. It required 40 minutes to get to the Commodore Hotel in downtown Manhattan. The route from the airport runs right through Flushing Meadows; so we got our first look at the World's Fair within five minutes after landing.

Upon arriving at the hotel we began running into familiar faces, some were members of the National Editorial Association we had known for years and others were some of my traveling companions on my trips to Canada and Alaska. With the exception of New York, the host state, Texas had the largest delegation at the convention. This was natural since Max Thomas of Kerrville was president of the association during the past year. Fourteen Texas towns were represented and since most brought their families there were about 40 Texans at the convention. Those from the Panhandle were: the Gillentines of Hereford, the Turners of Olton, the Hudsons of Perryton, and H. M. Baggerly of Tulla.

The first night in New York the old folks went to a reception and dinner; but the young people were not interested in a big dinner and speeches. Sarah and Buzz Gillentine and Henry set out the first night to start seeing as much of the great city as they possibly could in the short time they would be there. They had their subway maps, street maps, guide books and their own personal lists of things they wanted to see. The next day they were joined by Eddie Berger of Hondo and in various combination they made the most of their time. I judge that Henry saw about twice as much of the Fair and New York City as his mother and father did.

Friday, June 20 was our first day at the Fair and it was a long and exciting one and Louise and I spent 14 hours on the grounds whereas Henry and his Aunt Jean spent only 12. They thought we had left early which we intended to do, but a Miss Jean Morse told us that we must see "Give My Love to Broadway," the musical extravaganza at the Texas Pavilion, which we did in company with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Turner. Incidentally, Miss Morse is a niece of Mrs. Clint Small, Jr., of Austin. We met her through Mrs. Cleo Clements on whose paper she worked last summer as an exchange journalism student.

"Give My Love to Broadway" is a must in case you get to go to the Fair either this year or next. It is as good as any of the $10 shows you might have seen in former years in downtown Manhattan. It must have cost Angus L. Wynne, Jr. the creator of "Six Flags Over Texas" a fortune to produce. The costumes are as elaborate as Zeigfeld ever put on the stage on Broadway and the singing and dancing talent of the cast is superb. In this musical you hear most of the best remembered melodies that were smash hits on Broadway from 1890 to 1960. The show is full of nostalgia and mirth and the part about the roaring twenties is a scream. As I said it is a must if you get to the Fair. Mr. Wynne is also footing the bill for the Frontier Palace which is a restaurant designed like an old Western dance hall and featuring "Six Flags" barbecue, but southern fried chicken is an alternate dish. There is sawdust on the floor and it has a 40 foot stage where dance hall girls put on a continuous entertainment like those that once roused the blood of the pioneers. I understand that the cost of the Texas Pavilion was about 6 million dollars.

We found that Eunice Bird Pickering's estimate of prices and lines was accurate and even her opinion of the weather was fairly accurate. We ate lunch at the Wisconsin Pavilion and had sirloin steak (excellent), baked potato and vegetable salad with cheese dressing of course for $1.19. Drinks were extra. That evening we were guests of General Motors at an elaborate buffet dinner at the Belgian Village — seafood, turkey, roast beef and pork and everything else you might imagine. If we had bought it ourselves it would have been $1.95. That was the advertised price; but of course General Motors might have been putting on a little extra dog.

The weather was comfortable while we were in New York with the exception of Saturday which was rough. Thursday and Friday the temperature was in the upper seventies and we were quite comfortable; but Saturday it rose to 90 with a humidity of 80. We do not think much about 90 degrees here in Wellington with the humidity 20 or 30; but get that moisture on up to 80 and it is not only sticky but it is sometimes sickening.

At the beginning of our tour of the Fair, we were briefed by Maj. Gen. William E. Potter (USA Ret'd) who is executive vice president of the World's Fair Corp. The Fair is located at Flushing Meadows the exact location of the World's Fair in the late thirties. It will be the last fair held at this location. At the end of 1965 most of the buildings will be torn down and a gigantic series of city parks will be created. A few of the sturdier buildings will be saved for auditoriums in the parks. Half a billion dollars was invested and risked to make the 64-65 fair a reality. Over 100 million was spent for underground work and nearly 400 million is invested in the buildings, fantastic exhibitions and entertainment facilities the visitors see above ground. In addition to this awesome cost the Unions must have the Fair Corporation by the throat. Naturally Gen. Potter did not tell this to the editors; but the maintenance and repair costs are exorbitant, almost unbelievably high you might say, and the editors made their own deductions about who was doing what. In spite of this my guess is that the Fair will make a profit for the visitors are pouring through the gates and over the grounds by the millions.

The lines in front of the free exhibitions are long; but they are not as formidable as they look and due to the rapidity with which they handle the crowds you do not stand in line very long. We stood in line to see the General Electric Exhibit along with the Gillentines of Hereford and the Turners of Olton and it did not take long to reach the comfortable moving seats that move you in air conditioned comfort through the show. After that you have all the time you want to spend in the vast building to study the developments the company has completed and is planning for the future. You could spend half a day in this one exhibit and still not learn one-tenth of what they are trying to teach you. I believe I did acquire an understanding of how the laser ray works in a few minutes observation of one demonstration and yet I have been reading about this astounding ray for months without any clear conception of how it generates such power.

This is the general pattern of all the great exhibits and how they handle the crowds — General Motors, General Foods, Eastman Kodak, etc. I intend to leave the description of some of these exhibits to Henry if I can persuade him to write about them. He and his Aunt Jean are much better walkers than his mother and I. In fact I think the long-legged Henry could match strides with the Lee O'Neill of thirty years ago who was a real walking man at a fair.

There was a bit of irony in the editors standing in line to see the exhibits that first day; but perhaps it is just as well for we can describe what other visitors will face. The N.E.A. goofed on its printed information sheets and it was not until we returned to the hotel that night footsore and weary that we learned that there was an easier method for us if we had known. Then they told us. We could have gone to the exit of the building instead of the entrance, shown our N.E.A. badge and we would have been presented with a pass that would have admitted us to one of the moving seats instantly. We made full use of the privilege the next day. H. M. Baggerly of Tulla nearly had apoplexy when I told him about this. He stood in the Ford Motors line exactly an hour and ten minutes, so he told me.

There's more of this on the back page or somewhere — if you want to read it, look it up.

Myths Persist About Eyes

Unfortunately, many misconceptions and myths about the eyes are still popular today.

Take eye strain, for example. Ophthalmologists — physicians who specialize in eye care — usually agree that there is no such thing as eye strain. Those pains and discomforts that sometimes follow long hours of watching a jumpy TV screen actually are due to eye fatigue. Your eyes need rest, too.

Children do not outgrow crossed eyes, and this condition should be treated as early as possible. Otherwise, some loss of sight could result.

Good vision is important to safe driving of an auto, but perfect vision is by no means required. The driver who has a few drinks under his belt is much more dangerous than a nearsighted driver whose defect is reasonably well corrected with glasses.

You've probably heard that eating plenty of carrots is good for your eyes. Eating carrots, however, does not necessarily improve vision. Carrots do contain Vitamin A but only a very small amount of it is needed. And it is found in many of the foods we eat as well as carrots.

Congratulations...

Collingsworth County Farm Bureau
Memphis Production Credit

As a business dealing largely with farmers and ranchers of the area, we appreciate the value of the two fine organizations holding open house Sunday. We hope you will visit them.

The many services they have rendered the basic Collingsworth industry — agriculture — for many years, cannot be calculated in dollars and cents. We believe, as does Farm Bureau and Memphis PCA, that our county and our nation can thrive only if there is a prosperous agriculture.

Installed June 30 as officers of the Wellington Rotary Club were these three. At the center is the president, Trusten Thomas, who succeeds Billy

Salaries Up for College Grads of 1964

COLLEGE STATION.—Starting salaries for prospective college graduates are of concern to many young people.

Here's information about beginning average salaries being offered to male college students receiving a bachelor's degree this year, according to Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

With a few exceptions, the industry making the most job offers also was providing the highest salaries. For instance, electrical engineering students were offered 647 jobs from the aircraft and space industry with an average monthly salary offer of $633. The high was $692, the low $574.

If the same students were interested in working for the electrical machinery and equipment industry, the number of jobs available was 226 and the salary average $619. The aircraft and space industry ranked highest in the number of job opportunities for five of the technical curricula.

Average beginning monthly salary offers quoted include: Humanities and social sciences, $452; marketing and distribution, $459; business, $453; accounting, $538; metallurgical engineering, $600; civil engineering, $607; industrial engineering, $610; mechanical engineering, $617; physics, chemistry, math, $617; aeronautical engineering, $628; electrical engineering, $633.

In humanities and social sciences, job offers were more evenly divided among all the categories of employers. The highest number—32 offers—came from banking, finance and insurance, with an average of $452. From the merchandising—retail and wholesale—field came only 27 offers, but the average salary was a little higher—$468.

Congratulations...

on your Open House . . . Farm Bureau and Memphis P.C.A.

We join the many friends of Farm Bureau and Memphis Production Credit Association in extending congratulations on your move into your new home.

As the electrical contractor, I am proud to have been a part of the team that put up the new Farm Bureau office building. It is indeed an addition to the business life of Wellington, and a credit to the forward-thinking organization, its officers and men, who chose to build at this time.

At Valley Forge

Two City Youths Will Attend Scout Jamboree

Two Wellington Scouts are among the 120 boys and their leaders who leave Thursday, July 9 for the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

They are Alan Fires, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fires and a member of Explorer Post 31; and Tony Hurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Hurst, who belongs to Scout Troop 31.

The boys will travel by bus, camping out at night in parks at Fort Smith, Ark., Jackson and Bristol, Tenn., en route. They will tour Washington, D. C., on June 13 and New York City June 14.

They will set up camp at Valley Forge June 15, then on the following day they will visit nearby Philadelphia. The camp itself will be from July 17 to 23, with more than 50,000 boys from all 50 states camped on the site where troops of General George Washington camped during the winter of 1777-1778.

The Panhandle group will return by Columbus, Ohio and St. Louis.

Both Wellington boys entered the Scouting program as Cubs when they were 10 years old. Alan, now 14, is a Life Scout and Tony, 13, is a First Class Scout. Alan has attended Camp Kiowa four years and Tony one.

Each has an older brother who attended the last National

Spawning Cats Set Fast Pace

WACO.— Hatchery assistants J. L. Coleman and R. C. Ash at Eagle Mountain State Fish Hatchery, report channel catfish spawned enmasse this year. Twenty of 28 pair placed in the hatching pens spawned the first week. The next step is to move the newly hatched fish to rearing ponds to circumvent any parental cannibalistic ideas. Fingerling cats for restocking need to be large enough to forage for themselves before leaving the hatchery, so they are not available for release until the fall.

Some People Can't See the Side Benefits of Trading with Their Neighbors

In fact, a good many of us who don't wear blinders may be inclined to lose sight of the numerous side benefits we get for our money when we spend it in our own neighborhood.

Of course, we all know that we find prices and goods about the same here as they are in other places, but it's very easy to forget that the dollar we put into our own community trade channels does much more for us than just paying for goods or service.

It builds our area trade volume, creates a better job and business climate, more opportunities and better living facilities . . . which can be worth far more to us than the items of merchandise or service we get in immediate return for our dollars.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

A Community Survey can chart the road to community development

Community development is one of the fastest growing activities in America today. Many communities, both large and small, are attacking the problems with new vigor and vitality.

While there is no easy road to success, no simple formula to follow, one thing is certain . . . a community must start with a thoughtfully planned and soundly developed Community Survey. It assesses and evaluates both favorable and unfavorable economic and civic factors which affect community growth, and discloses factors which can be used to solicit new business and industry.

To be fully effective it must be a continuing study, since conditions change as economic handicaps are eliminated and economic advantages multiply. The survey has the added value of helping to clarify a community's aims and objectives in the field of improvement, growth and development.

Such a community survey then becomes the PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

WTU's area development representatives will assist growth-conscious communities in planning a continuing community survey for economic development. This service is available on request through your WTU local manager.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

This started out on another page, so you'll just have to hunt for the first part of it.

I sat with Editor Bagley the next day at a luncheon at which another former Texan, C. W. (Tex) Cook made a remarkable speech on the present harassment by the government of the food processing industry and a factual analysis of the tremendous strides this same industry has made in providing better foods at lower costs to the consumer. John Coleman and Dan Henard will be delighted to know that Mr. Cook is a graduate of A&M with a degree in Engineering. He is also one of the best informed speakers I ever heard. He must have taken a short course in speech some summer at The University of Texas.

The day I had lunch with H. M. Baggerly and about 300 other editors was the day that Louise had to go out to the fair grounds again for a luncheon for the ladies and it was the day the temperature was 90. She returned to the hotel almost prostrated. So I arranged for a boat trip around Manhattan Island thinking that the cool breezes from the water would help her which they did. This trip, which is three hours long and cost only $2.75 is a good deal for anyone who has not made it before. You start out on the Hudson River, travel by the shipping docks where the giant liners such as the U. S., the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth dock, proceed around the Statue of Liberty, Ellis Island and on into East River. From the East River you cruise into the Harlem River and back into the Hudson. On the trip you get four different views of the famous Manhattan skyline.

On the boat trip I was sitting next to a fine looking young man who remarked that he was 10,000 miles away from home. Noting his somewhat British accent I asked if he lived in Australia.

"No," he replied, "my home is in Auckland, New Zealand."

A spirit of mischief seized me. Using my best Texas drawl, I said: "We live in Wellington" and said no more.

He looked at me curiously and speculatively and after a period of silence he said: "Our capital is Wellington."

"Yes, I know, but I live in Wellington, Texas."

I went on to tell him that once crossing the channel from Dover to Calais I had occasion to send a cablegram and learned that there were 113 Wellingtons in the world.

The young man was Phillip

FARM BUREAU SERVICE MANAGER
Dee Burba is service manager for the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau, which Sunday will observe open house in its new office building at the corner of 9th Street and Highway 83.

Fire Fighting Planned

Farm Bureau Serves Area in Many Ways

The Collingsworth County Farm Bureau, under the leadership of its president, Earl Patterson, has had as its major project over the last year and a half, building its new office, where open house will be held Sunday, July 12.

Now a new project is announced. The Farm Bureau is working toward getting an aerial applicator to be used in fighting grass fires, Dee Burba, Farm Bureau manager, announced. Details are being worked out.

This is a new form of fire fighting, and supplements the rural fire department truck and individual work, but it does not replace either of them, Burba pointed out.

Collingsworth Farm Bureau representatives have studied this plan as it is worked out by Oklahoma State University, where it has had much success. Burba described the method:

Liquid fertilizer mixed with water is used and sprayed in a band ahead of a grass fire, stopping it when the blaze reaches the sprayed area. There remain pockets of Gates, a representative of a New Zealand importing firm. He sells grass seed, vegetable seed, flower seed, etc. Can you imagine that?—traveling 10,000 miles to sell seed in the U.S. Oh, well, they are selling us enough wool, beef and mutton, so I don't suppose it will have any noticeable effect on the gold reserves of our nation.

I have many more notes; but it seems to me that this is enough travel talk to satisfy even Dick Richards for one week; so I will close.

Earl Goforth Dies Monday in Amarillo

Earl Goforth, retired Amarillo lumber yard owner and contractor, died in an Amarillo hospital Monday at 1:15 p.m. He lived here before moving to Amarillo in 1938 and through his long career in the building business, he was responsible for many of Wellington's better buildings.

Funeral services were conducted at Polk Street Methodist Church, Amarillo, Wednesday at 2 p.m. Officiating was the Rev. Lester L. Hill, associate pastor, and a former pastor here. He was assisted by the Rev. Howard G. Lyons of Tascosa Baptist Church. Burial was in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Earl Richard Goforth was born at Detroit, Texas June 20, 1896.

He was married here to Miss Lola Davis.

The family moved to Amarillo in 1938.

Mr. Goforth was a member of Polk Street Methodist Church, and an honorary member of the board of stewards.

Surviving are his wife, of the home; two sons, Don of the home and Elmer E. of Redding, Calif.; two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Marie Alexander of Elmonte, Calif.; Mrs. Billie Lumley of San Diego, Calif.; and Frank Goforth of Wellington and Amarillo. There is one grandson and three great granddaughters.

Bob Goforth here is a nephew and Mrs. Jones Singley a cousin.

Singing Sunday at Trinity

The Second Sunday singing convention will be held at Trinity Methodist Church Sunday, July 12 at 2 p.m., W. S. Brewer announced.

"We expect a number of area towns to be represented and the public is invited," he said.

Mrs. Jameson

ington, Dodson was her home since then. The quality of her life that has stood out clearest with those who knew her, especially in earlier years, was her care for the sick of the community. Many remember how she took her lantern and walked across the pastures at night to care for someone who was ill.

She also was interested in the schools of her community and saw to it that her own children received the educational opportunities they wanted.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jameson were conducted at the Dodson Church of Christ Monday at 2 p.m. Officiating was Min. Frank Duckworth of Muleshoe, a grandson-in-law.

Surviving are her two sons and two daughters: Mrs. Pete O'Brien of the Arlie community, Mrs. Van Bonneau, Gilbert Hunt and R. T. Jameson of Dodson. There are 14 grandchildren and 32 great grandchildren. One sister also survives, Mrs. George Spurlin of Vinson.

Harris Opens Body Shop

Milford Harris this week announced the opening of the Harris Body Shop at 713 Arlington Street, in the building formerly occupied by Bob Stephenson Feed Store.

Harris said he will specialize in glass installation, all types of body work, and painting.

He has had 14 years experience in all types of body work in Wellington shops, and prior to that he attended the GI body school and had on-the-job training in glass installation.

He has invited his friends to visit him in his new business.

Richard Bailey Executive of Nocona Bank

Richard Bailey, long-time Wellington banker, has been elected a vice president and director of the Peoples National Bank of Nocona, it was announced recently by S. D. Howard, president and chairman of the board.

Since mid-January, Bailey has been with the First National Bank in Sentinel, Okla., although his family remained here.

Prior to that, Bailey was with the Wellington State Bank and one-half years.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey and their sons, Tim and Ted, will move to Nocona when a house is completed for them. Their daughter, Mrs. Clayton Dunahoo, lives in Arlington.

A native of Collingsworth county, Bailey lived here all of his life until taking the Oklahoma job. He was Fire Chief, a director of the Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the board of First Methodist Church, and a trustee of Michael House.

He was active in Boy Scout and Little League work.

Damage Suit

The plaintiff's original petition alleges negligence. It also sets forth that the accident occurred as Charley Austin Emmert was operating a tractor to pull a loaded truck up a hill, when the tractor overturned.

The accident took place in the northeast part of the county near the Emmert and Tittle ranches.

Surviving are her husband, six daughters and eight sons, as well as several sisters.

Youth Rodeo

Many of the Wellington entrants are members of the 4-H Riding Club, operating for its second year. Directing most of the work of the club is County Agent Cecil Regier and Richard Nall. But working with them have been a number of other men, especially members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

It is emphasized, however, that a youngster doesn't have to be a member of a riding club to enter.

The rebuilding of the Rodeo arena was a joint project of the VFW and the Wellington Future Farmers Chapter, and it was completed only recently.

It is now a modern arena surrounded by a cyclone type fence, with steel posts. The chutes are wood. The arena was enlarged and entrances changed.

Spectators may drive their cars to the fence and watch from there.
