Filipino Race Riot Assumes Serious Proportions Rock Island Contests Proposed Santa Fe Extension

First Challenge To Program Made In Rail Hearing

Attorneys Demand Grounds
For Justifying Dumas To Spearman Line Up Before
I. C. C. At Amarillo

Re-Routing Asked

Examiner Thomas Sullivan Hears Testimony Seeking 380-Mile Construction In Four States

(By Associated Press)
AMARILLO, Jan. 23.—First open challenge to the Santa Fe Railroad company's extensive building program proposed in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado came from the Rock Island Railroad company today during an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing here before Examiner Thomas F.
Sullivan.

Attorneys for the Rock Island demanded to know what grounds the Santa Fe felt it was justified in wanting to build from Dumas to Spearman in Texas, a 50-mile branch, one of the three projects included in proposed 380-mile construction program.

Gallagher Testifies.
T. B. Gallagher of Amarillo, general freight and passenger agent of the Santa Fe, testified that the extension was justified solely for the mileage saving it would give the Santa Fe and the reduction in operating expenses. The road would be a profitable investment to the Santa Fe without regard to any interstate route that might be developed along the 50-mile stretch, he said.

Opposition to the branch was offered by the Rock Island on the ground that the Amarillo-Liberal line of the Rock Island was adequately serving the North Plains of Texas, and on the basis that a proposed new line of the Rock Island from Dumas to Morse would be paralleled by the Dumas-Spearman extension.

This was the only opposition from competitive lines to any of the proposed Santa Fe projects. Citizens of Lamar and Springfield, Colo., protested the routing of the 16-mile line from Amarillo to Las Animas, Colo., and cross-examined a number of witnesses at length.

Seek Re-Routing.

committee from residents of south end of Avenue H and the city engineer was instructed to submit as

Jim Ferguson Relates Dream

AUSTIN, Jan. 23. (AP)—Former Governor James E. Ferguson, who fell out of bed at his home here Saturday night and fractured a collar bone today described the dream that troubled him.

"I dreamed that I was attempting to swim the Mississippi river on a high rise," he said. "As strange as it may seem, I saw a small house come floating down toward me with none other than my esteemed friend, Judge W. C.
Morris on the front gallery. I thought I heard him call to me to look out, and in an attempt to make an overhand lunge to surmount the waves I lunged out of bed landing on my neck and chest."

"When I awoke the wave had vanished and my friend was gone."

Mexican Legation To Leave Moscow

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 23. (AP)—The Mexican government today ordered its entire legation in Moscow to leave Soviet Russia as a protest against the recent communist demonstrations before the Mexican embassy in Washington, Buenos Aires, Argentina and Rio Janeiro, Brazil.
Senor Estrada, in handing out the written statement to the press, made no mention of the status of the Russian minister to Mexico.
The statement said that Mexico does not hold any of the countries where the demonstrations occurred responsible for the happenings.

The foreign minister refused to amplify the written notice, and Alexander Makar, Russian minister, also declined comment of any sort.

Great Sea Power Nations Outline Needs At Parley

Equality Of Naval Power
Between Great Britain
And U. S. Is America's Position In Session

Security Is Asked

MacDonald Declares Life
Of Britain Depends On Free And Open Access
To The Whole World

By FRANK HAVILAND KING,
Associated Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Jan. 23. (AP)—The five great sea power nations today proclaimed the fundamental nature of their naval needs.

In Queen Anne's drawing room at St. James' palace, and under the eye of a great portrait of King George the Third, Secretary of State Simon declared that "equality in naval power between the United States and Great Britain" was the basis of the American position.

Depends on Access.
Prime Minister MacDonald pleaded that the very life of Britain's tiny isles depended on free and open access to the whole world.

"Our navy is us," he said, repeating the formula he had used at the opening plenary session of the disarmament conference on Tuesday.
For France, Premier Tardieu intimated that everything depends on some arrangement for European security. He pointed out that the French home fleet had to be cut into three parts because France had coast lines on three seas. But, he went on, "if the decisions of this conference result in an increased sense of security for France, so much the more will it be possible for France to reduce."

Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy asserted his country's claim to naval armament equal to that of any other continental European power.

He said the conference must consider the problem of security in a relative, reciprocal way.
For Japan, Premier Premier Wakatsuki said that his country's policy was based on peace and economy, and urged "actual reduction" by all the powers.

Bar Association To Meet Monday

The Lubbock County Bar association will meet next Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the district court room in Lubbock at which time members will listen to report of the committee recently appointed to work out a constitution and by-laws, according to an announcement yesterday by R. A.
Baldwin, president.

The meeting was formerly scheduled for last Monday but due to the fact that the committee was not ready to make its report, was postponed until January 27.

The association, for some time rather inactive, recently was reorganized with a force of new officers and R. A. Baldwin, of Slaton, as head for the year 1930.

Mr. Baldwin stated that other matters of interest to bar members possibly would be taken up and discussed.

Accomplice Tells State Version Of Waybourn Murder

Aged Witness Tells Sordid
Story How Woman Hired Mexican For $300 To Murder Her Husband.

(By Associated Press)
GEORGETOWN, Jan. 23. (AP)—The sordid story of the murder of W. W. Waybourn at his home in Southville March 10, 1925—the state's version—was told in court here today at Mrs. Waybourn's trial for her husband's murder, by Hugo Middleton, admitted accomplice to the crime.

Middleton, a bald, 50 year old man, since convicted of his father's murder, at first told the story without faltering. Later, as he approached the climax of the actual killing, he faltered, frequently resorting to "I don't remember" under questioning of counsel.

Waybourn Slugged.
Middleton testified that Mrs.
Waybourn had meditated ways of "getting rid" of her husband for several months, and that at her instance he approached Joe Morales, a Mexican known as the "nose-breaker" with her proposition—$500 to kill him at home, $500 to kill him on the railroad tracks where he worked.

Morales had conferences with

Byrd Antarctic Party Is Facing Bitter Privation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Swiftly and forcefully, the American government's diplomatic resources have been utilized today to assure that the only possible means of saving Rear Admiral Byrd and his Antarctic exploration party from a winter of bitter privation.

Under-Secretary Cotton at the state department last night directed Minister Swenson at Oslo to request that the Norwegian government induce Norwegian whaling companies to enter their search vessels, now in the vicinity of the Byrd party, to assist in the relief. At the same time Ambassador Dawes at London

Poisoning Of U. S. Alcohol Attacked

Plans Go Forward In Both Houses For Strengthening Prohibition Enforcement;
To Resume Hearings

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Poisoning of industrial alcohol by the government was attacked again today as plans went forward in both branches to formulate legislation to strengthen prohibition enforcement.
In executive session, the house expenditures committee ordered Prohibition Commissioner James W.
Doran to furnish information on alcohol withdrawals in prohibition district thirteen, which includes Chicago. The committee, considering legislation for the transfer of the prohibition unit from the treasury to the justice department, will resume hearings tomorrow.

Commissioner Doran's stand for wood alcohol for industrial purposes came under the fire of Representative Strovich, democrat, New York, who is sponsoring a bill to eliminate poisons from denatured alcohol. The New Yorker read a statement which he said was written by Doran to the effect that the prohibition bureau considered "oil compounds more effective as a denaturant and less easy to remove."

Eight Jurors Are Selected To Pass On Fate Of Brady

Three New Veniremen Are Chosen Thursday In Trial
Of Former Appeals Judge
For Murder Of Typist

(By Associated Press)
COURT ROOM, AUSTIN, Jan. 23.
John W. Brady left this courtroom late today with the faces of eight of the men who will try him for murder fixed in his mind. The lawyers, with much subtle mental grasping among themselves, had selected five new jurors to join the three already chosen.

These five new jurors were picked from 43 veniremen, the others falling usually because of fixed opinion or objection to the death penalty. Eighty-seven men were left in the venire. One or two were excused for illness or similar reasons.

Brady, accused of killing Miss Leah Highsmith, 23, with a long bladed knife on the night of November 9, was customarily erect and alert during the long session.

He stayed in the courtroom for a few minutes after the adjournment seemingly dreading his walk through the curious to the jail. He spoke a moment in whispers with his brother, Will Brady, of California, then walked away with his father.

The five men who satiated the attorneys that they were unbiased unopposed to the death penalty and cared not what religion a man, be he murder defendant or not, had, were John Dittmar, 58-year-old farmer; R. P. Burke, sign painter;
Fred Erskus, 31, mill-hand; W. C.
Fruth, 52, also a sign painter, and William Turner, 37, farmer.

Drastic Steps Are Taken By Authorities In Effort To Prevent Repetition Of Serious Disturbances

(By Associated Press)

WATSONVILLE, Cal., Jan. 23. (AP) —With one Filipino shot to death, believed the victim of one of the mob that terrorized Filipino residents and workmen of this section, the race feeling situation assumed serious proportions.

Engendered by resentment over employment of Filipinos as agricultural laborers and by employment of white girls in a Filipino dance hall, anti-Filipino demonstrations reached their peak last night when a mob of whites wrecked the interior of several Filipino homes and beat their occupants.

Drastic Steps Taken Authorities of Monterey and Santa Cruz counties took drastic steps to prevent a repetition of the disturbances and, with offers of assistance from the American Legion post of Santa Cruz, Salinas and Watsonville, expected to maintain order.

Watsonville legionnaires, meeting today in response to a request by Acting Chief of Police Mathew Graves, offered their cooperation in checking the race riots through patrolling the streets and endeavoring to persuade gatherings to disband.
One of the points brought out at the meeting was that unless check-ed, violence done local Filipinos might bring reprisals in the Philippine Islands.

Murder Charge Is Echo to Slayings

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan.
23. (AP)—A coroner's jury late today held that George W. Moore, alleged bootlegger, murdered two federal prohibition agents, killed last Saturday when they attempted to search the Moore home for liquor.

Robert K. Moncreux and F. R.
Patterson were the men slain. Justice T. M. Rickett immediately announced he would issue a warrant holding Moore for the grand jury.

The defense bitterly contested the case throughout the inquest, bringing witness after witness in an attempt to prove that the agents had attempted an illegal search, after nightfall with daytime warrants.

Witnesses, including Mrs. Moore and her 14-year-old daughter, Ollie, testified that the agents did not ring the doorbell of the residence before attempting entry and that the raid was made after dark.

Wurzback Hearing On Election Goes Into Its 4th Day

Cross Examination Of Bexar County Clerk Resumed In Contest Before Election Committee Of House

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. — Cross examination of Jack R. Burke, Bexar county clerk, was resumed again today as the Wurzback-McCloskey election contest hearings before the house elections committee went into their fourth day.

Questioning revolved as yesterday about the ballot count, John H. Bickett, Jr., attorney for Augustus McCloskey, who holds the contested 14th Texas district seat, in the house by virtue of election returns which Wurzback charges were fraudulent, resumed his effort to establish integrity of the ballots.

Recount Urged
He urged that the committee recount the ballots as the "true and conclusive" method of determining the winner of the long disputed election.

Hugh R. Roberson, attorney for Wurzback, has contended McCloskey claimed the election by virtue of the returns which he has charged are fraudulent and that the issue hinges upon that question.

Two Other Witnesses
Other witnesses available before the committee included Lamar Seabloom, district attorney of Bexar county, and Perry Robertson, county judge.

McCloskey, a democrat, holding the seat through a certificate from Governor Dan Moody, sought to bring out that ballots under discussion had not been tampered with since the election.

Harry M. Wurzback, former representative and only republican representative from Texas in his time, endeavored to show there had been opportunity for altering ballots.

No Decision Reached
No decision was reached as to whether the ballots would be recounted.

Many Texans, including a number of officials, testified.

McCloskey's attorney declared during the trial: "If tally marks and ballots were found changed (in the ballot boxes) we would concede that a charge of forgery had been proved."

Contributions to King Are Denied

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. — (P) — Senator King, democrat, Utah, denied today he had accepted any contributions from H. A. Metz, New York dye importer, either in 1922 or 1923.

Questioned by newspapermen after testimony had been heard by the senate lobby committee that Metz had contributed $1,000 to King's campaign funds in 1922 and had sent him a check for the same amount in 1923. Senator King denied emphatically that he accepted any money from the importer.

He said, however, that Metz had sent him a $1,000 check in 1923, which was never used because "I didn't want to receive money from my friends and be under obligations to anyone." He produced a part of the check which bore Metz's signature as evidence that it had been destroyed.

Questioned about testimony by Samuel Russell, his former secretary, before the lobby committee that Metz had contributed $1,000 in 1922 King said: "I never heard of it."

Jail Dentist Is Called in Probe

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. — (P) — Charged with accepting valuable gifts from Harry F. Sinclair and Henry Mason Day, wealthy oil men, Albert E. Kling, dentist in the District of Columbia jail, where the men were held, today was cited to appear before a special board of inquiry Saturday.

Decrease In U. S. Criminality Aim Of Law Enforcers

Chairman Wickersham Of Enforcement Commission Outlines Purposes In Radio Talk Wednesday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. — (P) — Chairman Wickersham of the law enforcement commission, explained to the country tonight over the radio that the real purpose of the commission is to bring forth if it is possible, deep-seated and positive reforms which will decrease criminality in the United States and secure greater respect for law.

"Despite much clamor and many lurid statements," he said, "the enforcement of prohibition is only a part, and not the most important part, of our task. Complaints of the inadequacy of the American system of criminal prosecution and judicial procedure were acute before the eighteenth amendment was adopted."

Inquiry Made
Speaking under the joint auspices of the National League of Women Voters and the National Broadcasting company, Mr. Wickersham in the jail. Immediately upon receiving the report, George S. Wilson, director of the board of public welfare, set the date for the appearance of Kling before a special board.

said the first inquiry the commission addressed itself was: "What is the crime wave so constantly spoken of in current discussion and why is it not more effectively dealt with? Especially what are the difficulties found in the enforcement of the prohibition law and what improvements may be suggested for speedy adoption to remove obstacles to the administration of this particular law?"

At an early date, he said, "Certain things have appeared obvious to the commission," and accordingly it transmitted to the president the recommendations which he in turn sent to congress.

Opposition Met
"The recommendations have met with opposition in some quarters. Probably no change affecting so contentious a subject as prohibition could be recommended without arousing opposition."

"But we believe there is a great body of calm balanced sentiment in the country, which believes in obedience to the law, which responds to an appeal to support the institutions of the country, and which will support conservative measures for improving the machinery of law enforcement."

"This sentiment, however, inarticulate under ordinary conditions, at times exercises a strong pressure upon political opinion, and when aroused is as restless as the flooding tides of the ocean. It is that body of public opinion to which we shall look for support of the recommendations we have made and which we shall make in the future."

A CLEAR SKIN comes from within

Lack of appetite, loss of strength, skin eruptions, that "tired feeling" and other human ills may be due to a lack of red-cells in your blood.

If you are tired—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—maybe, give it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S.

"MY despair was so great I could have cried. The good cheer and merry happiness of others only mocked at my condition. I had begun to wonder why life could be so cruel. No appetite. No strength. Skip blemishes always embarrassed me. Aches and pains coursed through my body. I wanted to restore my health and live. What was I to do? ... happily the day came and I found the right road to health when a friend recommended S.S.S."

You may be one of the thousands with a low blood count—to this may be attributed "run-down" systems, skin troubles, and even more serious ailments. It is very dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells you will be on the right road to health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

You owe it to yourself and friends to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unalloyed letters of gratitude. All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the large size. It is more economical.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—In feeling which could endanger lives along the border, and lack of Mexican labor which would hamper development of the Southwest, were depicted to the house immigration committee today as results which might come from raising the bars against immigrants from Latin-American countries.

Appearing with a group from the Southwest to present the opposition of agricultural interests to place western hemisphere immigration on a quota basis, Judge H. L. Yates of Brownsville, Tex., said that if the supply of Mexican labor were cut off it would stop development of the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Would Be Serious.
The pictures presented by Yates and by Burton P. Fleming, manager of the Elephant Butte reclamation project in New Mexico, of the serious effects that might come to the Southwest from cutting off the supply of Mexican labor led Chairman Johnson of the subcommittee to announce that subcommittees would be sent there for a study before making a final draft of the bill.

Fleming said cotton growers needed this labor and proposed a system of seasonal passports to assure pickers at harvest time.

Yates said that if ill feeling should result from the legislation, lives of citizens along the Mexican border might be endangered. He also cautioned against the danger that this dissatisfaction would injure American commerce with Central and South America and Mexico.

No Competition.
The witness contended this labor did not compete with American labor, because Americans would not go into the fields and do the work required on the farms. Restriction by 65 per cent of the influx of Mexicans in the past 10 years through establishment of more stringent requirements for immigrant visas, he added, "already has affected economic and commercial development of this community."

CORPUS CHRISTI, Jan. 23. (AP)—The South Texas Chamber of Commerce today announced the appointment of Col. W. B. Tuttle of San Antonio as chairman of the immigration committee and special representative of the chamber at the joint hearing of the senate and house in Washington.

The committee has announced it would hear testimony from representatives of the border states which might oppose restrictive immigration legislation, similar to that proposed in the Borah and Johnson bills facing federal legislators.

California, Texas, Arizona and Colorado representatives now are in Washington. W. R. Kinnebrew, president of the South Texas chamber, wired Tuttle authorization to represent the chamber. Kinnebrew had been urged personally to appear.

The South Texas chamber has announced it opposes the type of legislation contemplated in the bills.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

A PRISONER IN UNDERGROUND WAS ONLY PERSON SAVED IN MT. PELEE ERUPTION:
The eruption of Mt. Pelee, of Island of Martinique in the West Indies, completely wiped out the town of St. Pierre. By some curious fate the only person spared out of the population of 45,000 was a solitary prisoner in the local jail. His escape was due to the situation of the jail in an underground cell of the old fortress.

An old Syrian fable has it that when the gods had created the world and made it ready for human habitation, they called man and told him of the adventure upon which he was about to embark. "A new life, and a new order of things," the gods told man, in a place far removed from these heavens, and their joys. "But because we love you," said the gods, as they were bidding farewell to him on his journey to the new-made earth, "Because we love you, and because we wish you to remember your old home in the heavens, we have decided to allow you to take with you to the earth some emblem of heaven. Any one thing of your own choosing may go with you to earth from heaven. Then man roamed his heavenly home, and let his heart play with all the joys he had known there. One by one he held by beauties of the heavens between his fingers pondering which should go with him to the earth as a dear remembered token of his heaven.

After he had considered them all, which of heaven's glories do you suppose he chose to accompany him earthward? The stars, which he had been wont to gaze at silver balls in moments of play? Or the moon, which was a golden horn to pipe upon to while away the long to-night upon?

Or the fleecy clouds, which the children of the heavens merrily chased as woolly sheep and trocked with across the yard of the sky? None of these came to earth with man, says the Syrian fable, but are still suspended just without his reach. None of these did he choose to bring with him. But he did choose to bring with him—Color.

Color; poetry made knowable to the eye. Perfume made knowable to the nose; music and song made knowable to the ear. Color—it is the language of the soul. It is the alphabet with which the unseen goddess of beauty spells out her sonnets for man to see.

I do not have very much patience with people who assert that color is barbaric. As small details that sunset is in poor taste, or that a rose, a violet, a cherry blossom, is a savage uncultured thing. We should take more delight than we do in this lavish gift of the gods. We should surround ourselves with it, revel in it, avail ourselves of the inspiration it brings, and take the spiritual assurance it bestows.

I believe that the individual whose home is bright with the fresh warmth of color, artistically employed of course, is a happier person than the who is fearful of the brightness. Certainly that home is the more inviting which has the friendly glow of color. And she who in her clothes gathers the enchantment of the rainbow tints (one at a time, 'tis true, is best) is a happier soul than she who is devoted to drab "gentle" grays and browns and blacks. Think over your list of friends. Isn't it a coincidence that the cheeriest welcome goes to those who have an inescapable addition to brightness and color in their clothes and their homes?

Mother's noiseless alarm gets Dad and John up earlier

"I USED to have so much trouble getting those two up," Mrs. Burton told a neighbor. "Sometimes they wouldn't even hear the alarm clock. Other mornings they'd turn it off and go right back to sleep."

"Then you'd have to call them half a dozen times—like I do with Edward and his father," the neighbor put in, understandingly.

"Sometimes a dozen," Mrs. Burton added. "The breakfast would get cold and John would be late for school and his father for work. Oh, it was a fright."

"But those days are over. I get them up with one call now. Both of them love White Swan Coffee. I put two cups of coffee on a tray and set it on a table in their room. Then I wake them."

"You ought to see how the aroma of White Swan Coffee makes them come to life. Of course, I put it out of reach and they have to get up. You try that yourself—but be sure it's White Swan. It has an aroma and a flavor all its own."

Fathers and sons who rise to the occasion of breakfasting with White Swan Coffee always find that the promise in White Swan aroma is richly fulfilled in the satisfying flavor of every cup.

Skillful roasting and blending—the result of more than a half century of experience—completely develops and nicely balances the flavors of selected native coffees in achieving the famous White Swan blend.

White Swan Coffee always comes to you with its flavor fresh. Fresh, not only from the sealed tin in which it is packed, but fresh from the roaster. Prompt distribution is effected through 22 Waples Platter Houses strategically located to serve the 10,000 White Swan dealers. Fleets of motor trucks operate over a network of routes, making regular deliveries from the nearby Waples Platter House to your grocer.

By going to the very source for its product, by controlling every step of its preparation and distribution, this sixty-year-old institution of the Southwest makes sure that no finer coffee can be brought into your home for the price you are asked to pay.

To guarantee this, the Waples Platter Company has become roaster and packer, as well as distributor of the inimitable White Swan Coffee... available at your grocer's in one and three pound cans.

Low Temperature Holds Sway Over U. S. On Thursday

Widespread Floods Add To Suffering In Mississippi Valley; Southwest Now Resigned To Zero Mark

CHICAGO, Jan. 23. (AP)—Abnormally low temperatures held throughout most of the United States today, and in the Mississippi Valley widespread floods added to the suffering.

The Rocky Mountain states and the Southwest, after a fortnight of it have become resigned to sub-zero weather. In the middle west the cold wave has been unbroken for a week. Even Dixie drivers, and the east was threatened today.

Few Warm Readings.
A 70 at Los Angeles, an 80 at Miami, a 78 at Tampa and a 66 at San Diego provided about all the warm readings. The temperature chart had to offer yesterday. The Pacific Coast states and the midwest 10 at Walla Walla, Wash., being the only sub-zero recorded there.

Alaska, strangely, basked in what it regarded as mild weather, with the temperature in some places just under 30 above.

These were exceptions. In Fort Smith, Ark., the reading of 10 above was 34 degrees below what the weather bureau regards as the seasonal normal.

Report 30 Below.
Only one city in the group classified as "West Central States" failed to report a below-zero reading yesterday. That was Little Rock, Ark., and the drop there was to two above. Temperatures in the Dakotas were as low as 30 below, though the average in the middle west was 28 degrees higher.

The Mountain states continued cold, with the mercury around 26 below in Wyoming. Readings in Canada were much more temperate, with Calgary and Edmonton being on the plus side of the cipher.

Many Suffer.
The Banks of the Wabash in Indiana and Illinois, were scenes of suffering, with some relief for a few families afforded by airplanes and rescuers in boats. The severe cold, extending even to the southern reaches of the flood area, was proving an aid to rescue workers, some of whom were successful in getting through on aids, but at the same time the cold added to the misery of those stranded by the flood waters.

A report from Mt. Carmel, on the Illinois side of the Wabash, said many persons in the bottom lands had scarcely enough food to last a week, and in some cases the food supply already was exhausted. A slight recession of the flood waters was reported there.

Rescue Crews.
Rescue crews, defeated in their first attempt by frozen flood waters, sought today to remove several hundred ice-bound and water-trapped families from the Big Lake area of Arkansas.

Advisers from the stricken territory to Walter Over, national Red Cross representative at Blytheville, were that many of the families were ill, without fuel and short of food. The mercury hovered around zero.

The area was flooded by the breaking of levees on Big Lake and along the St. Francis and White rivers.

In Mississippi the Tallahatchie river has flooded 20,000 acres in Tallahatchie and Quitman counties and marooned a number of families.

HEADS BUSINESS MEN.
BIG SPRING, Jan. 23. (Special.) J. B. Pickle, was today elected president of the Big Spring Business Men's club to succeed Curtis G. Combs, resigned. Mr. Pickle is active in civic affairs, a member of the city commission and a director in the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

As Floods Imperiled Mid-West

With the worst floods since 1913 threatening Ohio and Indiana, hundreds of persons were forced to flee their homes while workers fought to dam the overflowing rivers. The upper picture shows where the city of Vincennes, Ind., built a mile-long sand bag levee after 200 residents were driven from their homes by rising waters of the Wabash river. The lower picture shows the water within a few inches of the floor of the bridge on national highway No. 50 when the river rose far above flood stage.

Banking Situation Probe Is Delayed

Senate To Await Outcome Of Pending Tariff Debate Before Tackling National Bank Problem

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—After receiving a new proposal for senate investigation of the national banking situation, the senate banking committee agreed today to await the conclusion of the pending tariff debate before tackling this problem.

Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, offered a substitute resolution for that of Senator King, democrat Utah proposing an inquiry into the banking system. Committee members were said to have expressed approval of this proposition.

To Offer Bill.
The Virginia senator, a former secretary of the treasury, also informed the committee that he was prepared to offer a bill proposing several changes in the national banking and federal reserve acts, including a restriction of chain or group banking and a curbing of the use of federal reserve facilities in the speculative markets.

Senator Norbeck, republican, South Dakota, and Senator Fletcher of Florida, the latter the ranking democrat on the committee, indicated they favor the Glass proposal for an inquiry.

Senator Glass joined in the suggestion for definite action on the inquiry until the tariff is settled. He disclosed that he might include in his bill a provision for separation of the secretary of the treasury from the federal reserve board. The treasury head is now chairman ex-officio of the board.

WAR ON SPEAKEASIES.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—A new move in the efforts to dry up Washington and have the Capital the model city of the land was made today by real estate men through organized action pledging their support to the United States attorney's office to report all information that might lead to the closing of speakeasies or the stopping of other prohibition violations.

CONSUMPTION HIGH

Million Gallons Used Here Daily, Figures Show

According to figures announced yesterday at the city hall Lubbock's average daily consumption of water is slightly in excess of 1,000,000 gallons.

During the past 12 months the city of Lubbock consumed 355,614,000 gallons.

The consumption is expected to lead from the normal 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 or 2,000,000 gallons a day for a short period at least, when warmer weather thaws out frozen pipes in the city.

The daily flow during the past ten days due to frozen arteries has been considerably lessened, according to officials of the city water department.

Dawson County Is Awaiting Warmer Weather For Area

Feed And Water Shortage Threatened For Livestock With Continued Low Temperatures

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Jan. 23.—Dawson county and Lamesa citizens were today awaiting with high hopes a promise of warmer weather for the remainder of this month as the extreme cold wave, which hit this section over two weeks ago, continued to keep the thermometer below the freezing point.

The lowest temperature recorded during the cold spell came Friday night, January 17, when the thermometer reached six degrees below, according to R. Sam Moore, government weather man here. This is believed to be the lowest temperature recorded since 1918, when it reached 10 degrees below, it is said.

During the last two and a half weeks of snow, sleet, ice and cold winds, the thermometer has risen above the freezing point only once to be shoved back again to another cold mark.

---the hardware age

This is the age of hardware. No one doubts this when he pauses for a moment to realize the multiplicity of conveniences—in every conceivable form—that are bought and used daily to further human happiness. You start the day by lighting a Reznor heater; you perk the coffee—more hardware; you pour it in the saucer—more hardware; you open the door to leave, and it swings on hinges from a hardware store. In fact, almost every move you make is vitally connected with hardware. It may be a tiny screw or hinge, a food preserver such as General-Electric, or again, something electric—a radio—or a set of Pyrex—Sherrods have it.

---for home convenience

Master minds are working each day to improve just common necessities; new conveniences are daily becoming necessities—all is a transition from the old to the new. Keeping up with the times in the hardware business is to use modern merchandising methods; yet it requires a most discriminating taste for things worthwhile. New and staple merchandise has stood the test of time. We are ever striving to serve you satisfactorily—we are keeping up with the times in a hardware age—all for home convenience.

New York Golfer Wins $10,000 In Classic Tourney

Biggest Money Purse Ever Offered Is Distributed Among Professionals; Al Espinosa Ties For 2nd

BY WALTER B. CLAUSEN
Associated Press Staff Writer.
AGUA CALIENTE, Lower Calif., Jan. 23. (AP)—Ten thousand dollars was pocketed by Gene Sarazen of New York tonight for four days of golf here. It was the biggest money purse ever offered in tournament play. He galloped into leadership of the Agua Caliente open, just like he broke into fame in 1922.

Coming from behind, he established the course record here with a 68, but instead of just taking a one-stroke lead, he did it in the 1922 National open from Bobby Jones and John Black at Skokie, Chicago, today he passed up Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., and Al Espinosa of Chicago by two strokes.

The ups and downs of the four days on this new and treacherous course was much like the ups and downs across the highway on the green base of the roulette and other gaming tables.

And pay-off night, tonight, was like the eternal hopes of those who crowd the gaming tables, for the winnings came high.

Look these figures over:

Gene Sarazen, New York, $10,000, score 285.
Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., $3,750, score 297.
Al Espinosa, Chicago, $3,750, score 297.
Olin Dutra, Santa Monica, $1,250, score 298.
Mortie Dutra, Tacoma, Wash., $1,250, score 298.
MacDonald Smith, Long Island, N. Y., $750, score 299.
Al Watrous, Detroit, $650, score 300.
Joe Kirkwood, Philadelphia, $550, score 301.
Henry Cluck, Bridgeport, Conn., $450, score 302.
Bobby Cruikshank, New York, $375, score 304.
Charles Guest, Los Angeles, $775, score 304.
Paul Runyon, Little Rock, Ark., $225, score 305.
John Farrell, St. Augustine, Fla., $225, score 305.
Harold Long, Denver, $200, score 306.
Ace Espinosa, Chicago, $200, score 306.

Harry Cooper, Buffalo, N. Y., $200, score 306.
Neil Christian, Portland, Ore., $200, score 306.
Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente, $200, score 306.
Neil McIntyre, Indianapolis, $100, score 307.
John Golden, Paterson, N. J., $100, score 307.
Walter Murray, Gary, Ind., $100, score 307.
Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del., $100, score 307.

Others Not So Lucky.

That's what some people get for playing golf, and of course there are those tonight, who feel like many others in this salubrious Mexican climate, that Dame Luck has just turned against them. Take Walter Hagen of Detroit, for instance. He came here with the record of $80 won in tournament play this year and failed to bring de Babe to record. And there were others, too.

Scores for the meet included:
Ted Longworth, Port Worth, Tex., 77-80-76-311.
Larry Nabholz, Houston, Texas, 77-78-81-311-306.

Shooting a 295 for the 72 holes of the Agua Caliente gold tournament, yesterday captured first place $10,000 prize, in competition with the nation's best. Horton Smith, middle, and Al Espinosa, below, tied for second place and divided $7,500. The second place winners turned in a gross score of 297.

self. "Here you are, with de highest priced star in de game off baseball and whud he id getting you?" "Nudding," replied himself to Colonel Jake. "That is I mean almost nudding. Wouldn't you be silly to pay de Babe $35,000 a year just to swell the attendance for de college feller in de American League?"

"Sure ting," himself replied to Colonel Jake. "But whud are you goin' to do about dat?" "You know what I ought to do?" said Colonel Jake with some heat. "Well, I should charge de odder guys sometin' to bring de Babe to his ball parkin'. De Babe makes as much money for them as he makes for me. And when dey come to New York dey get more money dan dey do anywhere else. Y? It's de Babe, of course! Y? You'd write to de odder feller and ask dem to pay part of de Babe's salary?"

"I might do dat," said Colonel Jake, "and I did think once of doing dat very ting. But do you know odder feller would tell me dat dey should be so dumb as to pay de Babe to hit home runs for me in de nint inning wid de bases full, and beat their ball clubs?"

BOY BANDIT COULD TELL HIM

The colonel, of course, should have sought better counsel than himself. He should have gone and had his heart-to-heart talk with the Boy Bandit, Jimmy Johnston, who manages Phil Scott, or another of the fight managers whose cost of arms is nothing more than a chief rampant in a patch of Mr. Mellon's spinach.

Jimmy Johnston would tell him to go and have the Babe incorporated and charge the fans an extra nickel for every game in which the Babe hits a home run. The fans would pay their nickel on the way in, and if the Babe hit no homers that day, they could detach the separate nickel coupon, call at the box office and get their money back.

CHIDES HIMSELF
"You've just a darned odd philandering," said Colonel Jake to him-

Primo Carnera Makes Bow In American Ring Tonight

Army Captain for 1930 Has Peculiar Record at School

Dropped from the rolls as a cadet once and now captain of the West Point football team for 1930 is the peculiar record of Charles J. (Polly) Humber, of Easton, Conn. He was chosen by his mates while the Army team was returning to West Point from the Stanford camp, on the coast. Humber, a plebe, entered West Point in 1925, after attending Georgia Military and North Georgia Aggie colleges.

As to his fighting ability, little is known or expected. His chief battles were fought in Europe a few months ago with Young Stripling, the grown up Macon school boy and both ended in fouls with the decisions "easy." The general impression is that Carnera can't fight much but is a whale of a thing to look at. He is a 5 to 1 favorite to dispose of Peterson in rapid fashion.

Carnera, aided by an impressive ballyhoo, has packed a local gymnasium for his daily workouts since his arrival here several weeks ago. He is already famous for the size of his feet, his appetite, his dancing ability in night clubs and his playfulness. Because of these attractions no one seems to have bothered much about his fighting ability.

In the midst of the Carnera hysteria, Phil Scott, the leading lawyer of London, ready to start training for his 15-round engagement with Jack Sharkey at Miami February 27. Phil brought with him the "secret punch" with which he has promised to dispose of the Boston sailor man.

Neither Scott, nor an all-American end this year, nor Van Alstyne, an all-Southwest tackle, would give a definite answer to the proposal.

Plans are being made for the district basketball tournament which will be held in Big Spring February 14-16, in which champions of seven surrounding counties will be entertained.

Quartet Tied For Low At San Tone

San Antonio Golfers Split Honors With Visiting Sharks In First Round Of Annual Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 22. (AP)—San Antonio golfers split honors with visitors in the qualifying round of the first annual San Antonio Country Club golf tournament today. The end of the round found a quartet of club swingers tied for low with 97.

These were Gaston Peek of Galveston, Logan VanZandt of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Tod Menefee and Captain J. L. Dikes of the local forces. Peek and VanZandt each had 39-40-70; Menefee reversed the process and Captain Dikes had 41-38-70.

High scores resulted from the cold and still moist condition of the course.

Scores of 87 qualified the amateurs for the first flight of play, with 92 the limit for the second flight. Ninety nine was the dividing line for the last flight. There were ties in all three divisions necessitating drawing to see who stayed in and who stayed out.

Two rounds of play will be held Friday, two Saturday and the final Sunday. Those eliminated in the first round Friday will compete in three consolation flights.

Dope Gives Frogs Edge Over Aggies

But Coach Schmidt Is Not Letting Up In Preparation For Fray Tonight; Purple Still In Race

(Special To The Avalanche)
FORT WORTH, Jan. 23.—The Texas Christian university basketball team, which plays Texas A. & M. in College Station Friday night, is no longer working under the necessity of topping the Aggies from the Purple in the upcoming game.

The Rice Owls took it upon themselves to perform this duty, and incidentally get rid of their whippers at the same time.

As the Horned Frogs defeated the Owls comparatively easily last week, they seem to have the edge over the Aggies in the contest Friday night. T. C. U. defeated Rice, 33 to 21, and Texas beat A. & M. 23 to 17, which leaves the odds decidedly in favor of the Frogs. However, as the dope rarely runs true to form, Coach Francis A. Schmidt of the Horned Frogs is not letting up on his practice sessions.

The Christians' chances to get in the race for the conference title this season depends upon their ability to win every game left on their schedule. As Texas and Arkansas have lost only one game each, T. C. U. can not lose another contest and still remain in the running. Baylor must also be conquered with, as the Bears defeated 5. M. U. Tuesday night, 32 to 24. Baylor, however, lost its first game to Texas and still has the Razorbacks to play.

New Orleans Fire Proves Fatal For Score Of Horses

$20,000 Damage Results As Valuable Race Horses Die In Blaze; Three Men Are Seriously Burned

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 23. (AP)—Fire that destroyed two barns at the fair grounds race track at dawn today killed 18 race horses, two lead ponies and sent three men to the hospital.

Starting from an exploded oil stove, the flames swept swiftly through the long frame barn, and spread to an adjoining barn. The fire broke just as the stablemen were arising. Many of the barely awakened men were just able to stumble to safety.

The shrieks of the horses and the cries of men could be heard blocks away as desperate efforts were made to get the animals out of the barns. Recusers had to break in a door to save Wilfred May, apprentice jockey, J. W. Smith and Phil Chism, stablemen. They were sent to the hospital suffering from smoke inhalation and burns, but were expected to recover.

Prince, a large alreade dog, trained to guard the moon at night against intrusion, mistook the rescuers for intruders and stood off a dozen men who attempted to save the horses. He chewed one man on the leg and would not yield, until he had been stabbed to death with a pitchfork.

The horses were valued at from $1,000 to $5,000 each. The property damage was estimated at $20,000.

Golden Bears Have Opportunity To Bowl Over Texas Longhorns Saturday Night At Austin

Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Jan. 23. (AP)—Baylor University's Golden Bears have to lose a monkey wrench into the Southwest conference basketball machinery this week end. They will have their opportunity when they encounter the speedy Texas University Longhorns Saturday night at Austin.

The Longhorns, to all intent and purpose, are engaged in another duel with Arkansas for the court crown. They are tied with the champion Razorbacks, each with three victories and a single loss. What the Baylor quintet has in mind is to sock the Steers, thus leaving Arkansas at the top of the heap, and then to deal firmly with the Razorbacks when the Champs visit Waco next week.

Bruins Have Chance
Although they are in no better than a three-way tie for second place in the standing, the Baylor loopers look like the only outfit with an outside chance of upsetting Texas and Arkansas.

Coach Francis Schmidt's Texas Christian squad, meanwhile, will include in its second road trip of the season. The Frogs, who suffered a complete washout in their invasion of Fayetteville two weeks ago, tackle the Texas Aggies tomorrow at College Station and Saturday night heard the Rice Owls in their Houston roost.

That is, the Frogs hope to beat the Owls. If Schmidt's loopers win the luckless Owls will have to go until February 8 before indulging in a shave. They promised themselves two conferences before removing the stubble. They got one of them against the Aggies Tuesday night, 23 to 17, but they still have one to go. They will be battling for alma mater and a flock of hot towels Saturday night.

IT WAS A REAL GRUDGE FIGHT BETWEEN "MYSTERIOUS BILLY" SMITH AND GALLAGHER

There are many interesting stories about the savagery of "Mysterious Billy" Smith at times was really ferocious and had to be held back by main strength when he went into the ring. Marquis of Queensbury rules cramped his style somewhat.

The Mysterious One and Oakland Billy Gallagher were both at danger's point the night of their battle back in '96. The men were bitter, the papers printed everything each said about his opponent, the training camp attaches were smoked up. The climax came in the dressing rooms when each fighter was told the other was going to bite his head off.

Both fighters profanely shouted that two could play at that game. The antipathy was so great that Mike Sullivan, who refereed, went to each corner to give instructions. Instead of calling the men together. Each fighter told the world he'd cripple the other.

At the going, both leaped to the center of the ring, and crashed. You could hear teeth snap as well as gloves thud. Gallagher bit Smith's shoulder. Smith jerked loose back-headed Gallagher, and threw him so hard his head bounced on the floor.

In these days, a fighter had to go to his own—not a neutral—corner, when an opponent was down. Gallagher lay between Smith and his corner.

Instead of walking around him, Mysterious Billy stepped on Oakland Billy's face and stomach as he strode to his corner. The fight ended there. Referee Sullivan calling it "no contest."

After the fight, they met in a cafe, and it was necessary to throw hot water on the pair to separate them, so vicious was their rough-and-tumble on the cafe floor.

(Special To The Avalanche)
LOCKNEY, Jan. 23.—More than 400 people from Lockney and surrounding communities attended the annual banquet and "get-together" of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday night. About one-half of those present came from the rural communities in spite of bad roads and sub-zero weather, thus enabling them to charge of the program to feature the possibilities presented by the proper cooperation between people of the town and rural communities. More than 500 people received invitations to the banquet.

Speakers of the evening stressed the possibilities presented with the coming of more people to this section combined with the proper development of the city and surrounding communities. Each speaker urged the building of hard-surfaced roads through Floyd county, the development of small scale, irrigation farming, the securing of better rural schools together with a constructive program of county development sponsored by the people of both the town and rural community.

Expenditure of Tariff League in '28 Election Defended as "Educational"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (P)—Expenditure of $43,513 by the American tariff league in the 1928 presidential campaign in advocating a protective tariff was defended as for educational rather than political purposes before the senate lobby committee today by W. W. Barbour, treasurer and former president of the league.

The senate investigators, have challenged Barbour's failure to report this expenditure to congress as a violation of the corrupt practices act.

Activities Probed
Probing the activities of the league, the senate committee learned some new appellations for the western republican independent group, which has bolted the republican tariff bill before the senate. The terms "conspirators" and "renegades" were used in an editorial of the tariff review, published by the league, in referring to the western independent bloc. Barbour said he knew nothing concerning the editorial.

Senator Blaine of the lobby committee remarked upon the reading of the editorial that "other endeavoring terms" had been applied to this group, including the designation of "sons of the wild jackass" by Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire.

Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, asked Barbour about his statement that he did not know what lobbying was, after which he produced a document sent out by American tariff league officials which said that, under the provisions of the Cawaway bill proposing to require registration of lobbyists, the league would be classed as a lobbying organization.

"I have no knowledge of the letter," Barbour replied.

Barbour testified that the average budget of the association was about $75,000 a year and disclaimed knowledge of a letter purporting to have been written by him November 1923, which said "the present income" was almost $100,000 a year and that it was established "we ought to have an income of close to $300,000 a year for the next three to five years."

Approve Program For Improving Of Federal Prisons

Prohibition Is Blamed For Overcrowded Conditions In Institutions; Three New Prisons Proposed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (P)—The administration's $7,000,000 program to enlarge and improve the federal penal system was approved by the house today as a climax to debate in which wet members blamed prohibition for present overcrowded conditions.

The program was incorporated in have been written by him November 1923, which said "the present income" was almost $100,000 a year and that it was established "we ought to have an income of close to $300,000 a year for the next three to five years."

five bills, all of which were passed without record votes and sent to the senate.

Plan New Prison
Reorganization of the administration of the prisons, establishment of three new institutions, creation of a single parole board and diversification of employment for prisoners to relieve idleness, constituted the program. The house also passed a bill to remove the age limit at the United States industrial reformatory at Chillicothe, Ohio, and one to authorize federal judges to appoint probation officers.

In the measures providing for setting up industries in the penal institutions, the house struck out all provisions whereby prison made goods might compete with free labor. The products of the institutions to be established would be used only by the government for prison purposes.

No Appropriations
No authorization for appropriations was carried in the measures for the new institutions. Attorney General Mitchell previously had advised the house judiciary committee, which reported the bills, however, that the program would cost about $7,000,000, to be spread over a number of years. One of the penitentiaries is to be in a northeastern state, and a reformatory for men is to be constructed west of the Mississippi river. The sites for these and a hospital for the criminal insane are to be selected by the attorney general.

Representative Schafer, republican, Wisconsin, charged that prohibition had resulted in overcrowded penitentiaries as did Representatives Sabath, democrat, Illinois and Laguardia, republican, New York. All are wets.

A financial campaign was started Wednesday in Seagraves.

Claim Victim on Boat With Liquor

DETROIT, Jan. 23. (P)—Statements that Walter Grund, 27, shot by a customs border patrol inspector at Wyandotte last night, was attempting to land a liquor laden rowboat were made today by Ward Culver, assistant prosecuting attorney, by the two officers involved in the affair.

Grund, who was probably fatally wounded, denied he was armed or that his rowboat carried liquor. Clare B. Hopper, inspector who shot Grund, told Culver he and William H. Redford, another officer, had been waiting for three boats expected to attempt to land a liquor cargo last night. He told of seeing the approaching craft and running out on the dock to halt them.

TEMPERATURES RISE
WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 23. (P)—After a cold night, temperatures were rising here today, standing at 14 above at 8 o'clock. Other cities in this section reported temperatures from 14 to 21 above. The minimum here last night was 13 above.

ON DISPLAY TODAY

THE NEW OAKLAND 8

$1045 AND UP

General Motors' Lowest-Priced Eight . . the Car with Superior Performance

Today a new eight-cylinder motor car makes its appearance. It is the newest General Motors eight and by several hundreds of dollars the lowest in price. It is the New Oakland Eight with smart new bodies by Fisher.

Superior Performance
The New Oakland Eight develops 85 horsepower and is the first stock car of its size and weight to employ an engine of such high power. Since performance depends largely on the ratio between horsepower and weight, the New Oakland Eight is exceptionally fast and powerful because it produces one horsepower for every 37 pounds of car weight.

Eight-Cylinder Smoothness
The New Oakland Eight has all the smoothness which results from the overlapping power impulses inherent in eight-cylinder engine design. In addition, it enjoys exclusive mechanical advantages which make it even smoother and more delightful to drive.

Sound Basic Design
Several of the engineers who participated in creating General Motors' first eight back in 1914 were responsible for the development of the New Oakland Eight. So this latest task they brought a wide knowledge of eight-cylinder design. It is reasonable to expect that the Oakland is a finer eight because of this fact.

Moderate Price

We believe the New Oakland Eight will appeal to you all the more forcibly when you consider its very moderate price. And a demonstration will reveal how well it merits the description "the car with superior performance."

The New Oakland Eight, $1045 and up, f.o.b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers, rear fender guards and spring covers extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

NEW SERIES PONTIAC BIG 6

$745 AND UP

A Famous Name—A Finer Car . . Introducing Important Improvements

The announcement of the first Pontiac in 1926 brought to the low-price field a new order of beauty, performance and reliability. And each Pontiac announcement since that time has introduced a car which represented an improvement even over its own highly regarded predecessors.

Important Improvements
Now comes the New Series Pontiac Big Six—an even finer car with a famous name. It retains all those excellent qualities which have been responsible for Pontiac's success in the past. And in addition it introduces many improvements.

New bodies by Fisher make this latest Pontiac Big Six more beautiful than ever.

Greater Smoothness and Safety
The smoothness of Pontiac's 60-horsepower engine is further increased by the use of improved type rubber engine mountings. Pontiac's large non-squeak four-wheel brakes have been made even more efficient. A new sloping non-glare windshield also adds to its safety. Greater-than-usual handling ease is accomplished through the use of a new type of steering mechanism. Improved Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers give increased riding comfort.

Time-Tried Performance

In speed, power and pick-up the New Series Pontiac Big Six continues to uphold the Pontiac reputation for spirited performance. Come now to our showroom and inspect this finer car with a famous name—the New Series Pontiac Big Six.

The New Series Pontiac Big Six, $745 and up, f.o.b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Shock absorbers standard equipment. Bumpers and spring covers at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (f.o.b.) price when comparing automobile values. . . Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

Rash Romance

head coddling to his shoulder. Both were smiling and they looked as though the interview had been a love feast.

Tony maintained the pose of filial devotion and sweetness throughout the evening meal. She remained with Judith and Arthur when coffee was served in the living room hovering about her father, bringing him his pipe, the evening newspaper, and placing an ash tray at convenient reach.

Judith marveled at the change. At length Tony suggested hesitantly:

"Father, darling, I just wish I could stay home this evening! I'd have managed to some way if only I'd known you and Judith would be here. But Caroline Mitchell asked me to make a fourth at bridge with her and her parents so I suppose I'll really have to go. I'm dreadfully sorry!"

"Mitchell?" Knight asked. "Caroline Mitchell? Oh, yes, I remember—just a couple blocks down the street. Well, get in early, Tony. Remember we were through with all this whoopee-making and late hours."

"Yes, father. I'll be home early."

Tony disappeared for wraps and presently was back again. She was wearing the gray fur coat and a bright red beret hid her hair.

"Bye-bye," she called gaily from the hallway. Then the door closed upon her.

Judith could hardly resist asking questions but she forced herself to wait. Arthur would tell her all about it, given his time.

He did. Tony had been gone only a few minutes before the man settled back comfortably in his chair removed his pipe from his lips, blew the smoke swirling toward the ceiling.

"You know, Tony's really a swell kid," he told his wife. "Crazy little fellow has been getting into scrapes all his life but she never means anything by it. Now take this with you, Helena."

Tony's Aunt Helena had written her brother very pointedly, it seemed. She had said that the width of the Atlantic ocean was not too broad as a barrier between herself and the niece she had so recently been chaperoning. She had even implied that Tony's escapades culminated in an affair with a good-looking named Mickey Mortimer, were the talk of the American colony and a disgrace on the family honor.

Aunt Helena had wound up with the declaration that not for love or money would she undertake responsibility for Tony Knight again.

"But that's all right," Arthur pointed out to Judith. "Because I've persuaded the kid to stay right here all winter. Home's the place for her, you know, and now you're here. Judith, you can look after her. Oh, I know, it has to be done tactfully but you're a genius at tact."

"But, Arthur, you know how she feels toward me—"

Knight patted her arm. "That's all right now. It's all right. Tony and I talked everything over. She isn't going to make any trouble from now on. Tony's agreed to stop running around nights, stay at home and behave himself."

"Yes, sir," he mused contentedly. "Guess I'll have to get off a letter to Helena tomorrow and tell her a thing or two. Really I'm sure she misrepresents affairs."

"Well," said Judith uncertainly. "I hope you're right about it."

Arthur Knight looked such a picture of satisfaction just then the girl did not voice her misgivings.

Judith was learning that Arthur, who had been such a perfect companion for idle days in Bermuda, was an entirely different sort of person in New York. He had accustomed himself to a routine of years' standing and it was not easy to vary this. It was harder still to persuade Arthur Knight that his routine might need varying.

The two years preceding, during which he had lived at the club, had made it easy for Knight to slip into the habit of spending longer and longer hours in his office. Often he would return evenings after dinner to frantically scribble on an important conference or study a file of correspondence.

Evenings devoted to social pleasures had become rarer and rarer. Now that he had acquired an attractive wife, reopened his suburban home and could find there each evening a good dinner, congenial companionship and every comfort for three or four hours of quiet relaxation from the day's work, Knight was less and less inclined to suggest the opera, theaters or a concert.

Those things were all right when you got to them. Leaving an agreeable chair before your own fireplace to battle through traffic for an hour and a half was to much of a strain.

Judith, therefore, was finding her days, and evenings too, more and more confined to the four walls of her new home. There were times when this grew a bit irksome.

Neither the girl nor her husband knew at just what hour Tony Knight arrived home that evening she had promised to be "in early." It was some time after they had retired. Tony slept late next morning as usual. She surprised Judith though by appearing at 11:30 in knitted sport dress.

It was unusual to see Tony at such an hour of the day and it was unusual also to see her about the house in anything but negligee garments.

Furthermore the girl announced she would have breakfast downstairs instead of in her room. All she wished was coffee and fruit.

It was a good sign. Perhaps Tony actually did intend to live up to her program of reform! Judith smiled happily as she went to tell Cora to send in Miss Tony's breakfast.

Thirty minutes later Judith returned to the dining room. Tony had finished eating. Just then Judith heard a cry from the hallway:

"Why, Andy! Andy Craig—when did you get here?"

Judith hesitated. Tony was evidently welcoming a caller. She heard a man's laugh and heard a rumbling, indistinct answer. They would go into the living room, of course, Judith thought. She decided to slip through the hall and up the stairs where several tasks awaited.

She stepped to the hall entrance, saw too late that Tony and her companion had both turned at the sound.

"Oh—Judith," said the younger girl. "This is Andy Craig. Andy's an old, old friend and father's idea of perfection in modern youth. Andy—my stepmother."

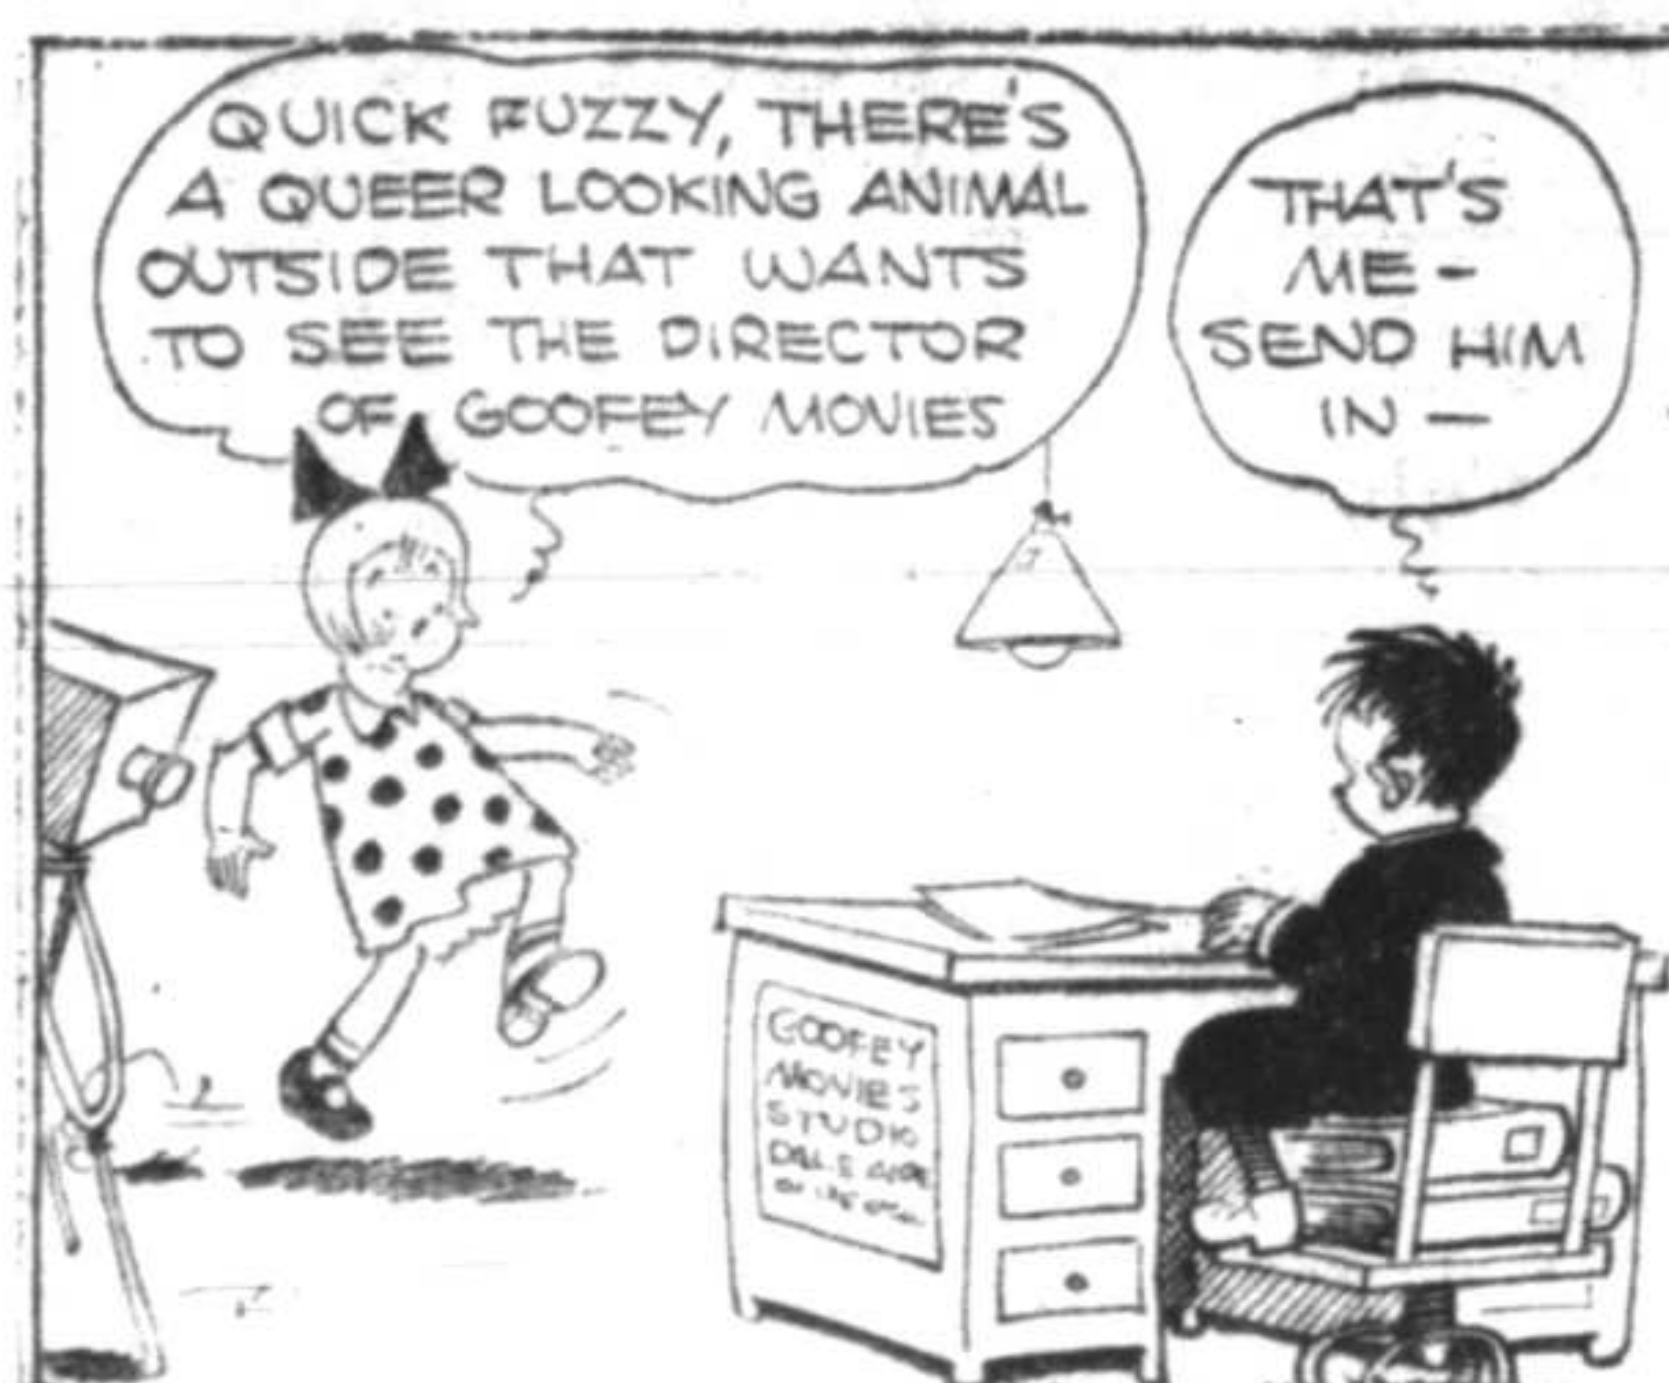

Judith went forward smiling. "How do you do, Mr. Craig. I'm glad to know any of Tony's friends."

Andy Craig laughed easily. He was so tall he seemed to fill the hallway. He still wore his topcoat but had pulled off a felt hat to reveal bristling, close-cropped red hair. Andrew Craig had blue eyes, very light blue, which were filled with good humor.

"I'm—I'm awfully glad to know you, Mrs. Knight," he said and then he stopped short.

COLD AT LAREDO

LAREDO, Jan. 23. (P)—Coldest weather of the winter prevailed in the Laredo section today, the mercury tumbling from a maximum of 41 Wednesday afternoon to 16 today. Old Trouble Is Thing Of Past

Organo Restores Mrs. Givens Health And Relieves Stomach

"About all that is left of my many months of suffering," said Mrs. W. W. Givens residing at 713 N. Scott, Wichita Falls, Texas, in relating her experience with Organo.

"If I could only have found Organo a long time ago," she continued, "I would have been feeling better today, and I would have saved many a dollar besides for I have spent several hundred dollars with doctors trying to find something that would help me. My doctor doctored me for a long time and said that I had heart trouble but it didn't seem to help me much. I was nervous and restless most all the time and couldn't eat anything but what it would sour on my stomach. Gas formed after each meal until I was almost afraid to eat anything and this would cause my heart to palpitate and I was afraid that sometime it would result to be serious for me. I was just in a very badly run-down condition."

"I saw where Organo was advertised so highly and so many local people were taking it and what it was doing for them that I decided to try it and I am certainly glad that I did for I am feeling like a different woman. I have a good appetite now, and rest and sleep better, and my food digests better now, my heart doesn't bother me now, and I know that it must have been my stomach which was the trouble. I noticed the improvement right away. Organo has helped me so much I am buying two bottles now in order that my husband may take it. It's proven it's worth it to me."

Genuine Organo may be obtained in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store.

Cotton Declines; Stocks Are Boosted

Declines Follow Early Advance On Ginning Figures

Values Recede About One Dollar Per Bale After Bullish Ginning Report Is Made Thursday

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 23. (P)—An early advance on bullish ginning figures met liquidation by longs and hedge selling in the cotton market today and values receded about $1 a bale from the high. Trading as a whole was generally more active today than for the past week and although the demand was limited, offerings were readily absorbed at the decline. March contracts after selling up to 17.20, gradually declined to 17.00 and closed at 17.00 for a net loss of 14 points. The general market closed steady at net declines of 13 to 17 points.

Liverpool cables were unfavorable and the local market opened irregular, one point up to one down. The census bureau's report, showing ginnings prior to January 14, of 14,577,773 bales, was construed as bullish and resulted in moderate buying after the start. Under the demand March sold up to 17.20 and May 17.02, or 4 to 6 points over the previous close.

At these levels the market encountered liquidation by the long interests and hedge selling. Prices receded over $1 a bale from the high with March selling around 17.00 and May 17.02, or 21 to 23 points down.

Cotton Little More Active On Thursday

NEW YORK, Jan. 23. (P)—Cotton was a little more active today with prices lower under selling or liquidation by recent buyers, who appeared to be disappointed over the failure of comparatively light ginning returns to have a greater effect on demand, and relatively easy Liverpool cables. March contracts sold off to 17.20 and closed at 17.27 with the general market closing steady at net declines of 3 to 13 points.

The census report was just about in line with expectations. The smaller ginnings for the last period than those of last season came in for some bullish comment, particularly in view of unfavorable weather since the date of report, and the figures were interpreted by some traders as pointing to a crop somewhat under the government estimate. Possibly this view was reflected by the early buying, but the demand was supplied by the New Orleans and Liverpool selling in the relatively steady market here.

Liverpool cables reported an inactive market and said that cloth demand from India was less insistent with yarns freely offered.

naval policies at their first business session this morning the chief delegates gathered again in Downing street later, and by nightfall they had agreed upon a working plan for procedure in their attempts to harmonize divergent viewpoints in a common international agreement realizing the reduction of fleets.

They drew up a program by which the "big five" delegation leaders will act as umpires or referees while the individual nations strive to settle their differences with another.

The "big five" are Prime Minister MacDonald, Secretary of State Stimson, Premier Tardieu, Foreign Minister Grandet, and Premier Tamm.

Wakatsuki. This is the method the Americans favored in order to expedite negotiations.

Thus the London conference slowly got under way like a great ship moving out of port toward seas that are possibly stormy.

Assurances Given
Prime Minister MacDonald, its chief pilot, gave renewed assurances today that it was headed on its true course.

If his general air of cheerfulness and his willingness to talk indicated anything, it was that the five-power party has had an auspicious start. Yet to the layman it is just beginning to become clear why the negotiations are likely to last for many weeks, possibly even for three or four months, as President Hoover intimated.

Contrary to popular opinion, the cat cannot get better at night than in the day time.

Wheat Values Are Headed Downgrade

Bear Crowd Given Its Worst Scare Of Entire Month

Stock Market Boosted Out Of Narrow Trading Range Held For Past Fortnight In Wall Street

Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23. (P)—A stampede of shorts in Fox Film gave the bear crowd its worst scare of the month today, and boosted the stock market out of the narrow trading range in which it has been languishing for a fortnight.

After the close of the market, Bethlehem Steel Corp. published its annual and fourth quarter earnings statement. Profit for the final quarter showed moderate contraction from the record levels of the two previous quarters, despite the disturbing influence of autumn stock market panic. The results for the entire year showing no profit of about $11 per common share, calculated on the total now outstanding, set a new pace time record, and inspired optimistic predictions as to United States Steel's report next week.

Wall Street was somewhat disappointed that the Bank of England again announced no change in its 5 per cent rate, which again proved an accurate guide to the action of the directors of the New York Reserve bank, meeting later in the day on its 4 1-2 per cent rate. In the excitement of the bear episode in Fox, and the appearance of the Bethlehem figures, however, this disappointment was soon forgotten. The market was the liveliest so far this year.

Joe Peterson, Dawson county poultryman, presided at tonight's gathering. He explained that the sole purpose of the short course is to "encourage poultry raising on every farm in Dawson county."

Music and songs were furnished by 4-H club members. Speeches were made by Luther Peterson and Olgie Cowen. Two 4-H boys who won trips to the St. Louis Dairy Show last year in a contest sponsored by the National Cottonseed Crushers association, H. C. "Fellow" Wright, another club member, mentioned as making the highest record in the state of Texas, for which he won a trip to Washington.

County Agent W. W. Evans talked shortly, introducing Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Echols. Mr. Echols has recently been announced as one of the 10 best farmers of Texas and Evans told of him moving to Dawson county many years ago, settling as one of the first farmers on the Plains, living for a few years in a dug-out and building the solid foundation in agriculture that has put him among the state's leaders.

Schols explained that when he first landed in Lemhi he had $11.68 in cash and utilized that as a start toward agricultural independence.

Local Men Talk
Talks were made by County Agent Roy B. Davis, of Brownfield, Terry county; D. P. Eaton, county agent of Lubbock county; R. B. Galloway, poultry specialist in charge of extension work for the Panhandle Lumber company; H. J. Power, professor of agronomy at Texas Tech; G. S. Dowell, O'Donnell; Elbert Smith, editor of the Lamesa Reporter, and Henry Ansley, agricultural editor of the Amarillo News-Tribune.

Galloway declared that there is no reason why the Panhandle-Plains section can not be the leading poultry area of the southwest. He said other parts of the United States had their eyes upon this section and already are recognizing it as one of the most promising poultry countries. He urged determined effort for purebred stock, bred for production, in the poultry flocks of the area.

Prof. Bower announced the Texas Tech Farmers and Home Makers Short Course February 3, 4 and 5, urging attendance at that gathering.

Program for Friday at the poultry short course is to be as follows: Subjects: "Trapping Records, Control of Insects and Diseases of Poultry." At 6 o'clock in the morning D. H. Davis will speak on "Culling by the method of the Panhandle-Plains section." At 7 o'clock in the morning the subject will be led by Joe Peterson and W. W. Evans. At 1 p. m., "How to Build a Useful Organization," will be the subject of Elbert W. Smith. "How to Prevent Disease," will be J. H. Barron's and Roy Meyers. "Sanitation" is Galloway's subject. At 3:30 p. m., the public sale of demonstration equipment will be held.

BUS FIRE ECHOED
Line Official Sues For Damage To Bus

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 23. (P)—An echo of the bus fire December 9, in which three persons died, was heard here today when Joe Amberton of the Union Bus Lines, filed a suit for $2,500 damages against the Paramount-Famous Lasky Corporation for the loss of the bus.

The bus was transporting one box of films to Eden and one to Mason. When about 11 miles northwest of San Antonio one can of films exploded, setting fire to the other can, the petrol tank, and burning the bus.

The bus line carried no insurance on the bus.

It is alleged the loss to the company was caused by negligence of the defendant.

SEARCH CONTINUES
EDINBURG, Jan. 23. (P)—Search for William Grass, 35, who disappeared from his home near here yesterday afternoon charged with theft of an automobile in this city last week.

Carver was arrested in Amarillo several days ago and was returned to Lubbock by Sheriff Wade Harty. The automobile was recovered at time of the arrest, and it has been the property of Max Coleman.

NEW AIR LINE
DALLAS, Jan. 23. (P)—Texas will have a new air passenger line after Friday which will connect with the two present southern air transport lines running south from Houston.

The new line will connect Houston and San Antonio, and also will connect with the Crowley Air Lines which operates daily passenger ships between San Angelo and San Antonio.

Of all the nations in Europe, the French have the least children and the Irish the most.
