The "race" included a sleep on the part of the comedian, and the loss of the good will of the Beverly Hills police department. The prize money was handed out by the cowboy mayor today when he acted as host to contestants in the race which ended in the small town of yesterday morning. Mr. Rogers and Mrs. J. S. Collins, of Tulsa, the winners, he handed a check for $500 to R. Hutchins and Robert Kloeber of Claremore and A. D. Beattie and J. R. Patterson of Tulsa, who ended second and third respectively, received extra prizes of $125 each.
The first two couples admitted they cheated to the extent of stopping when storms prevented their progress.
Meanwhile telegrams were dispatched today along the road to Oklahoma warning additional contestants that the race was over.
"We can't have Beverly Hills cluttered up with fluffers," said Rogers. "What would the tourists think?"
Meanwhile the chief of police of Beverly Hills, who Rogers had named as a one-man reception committee for the race drivers, threw up the job. Orders were given to divert all Oklahoma arrivals to Rogers himself.

Expected taxes sought to be recovered are for the period beginning June 13, 1927, when the 2 per cent sulphur tax went into effect, and ending March 31, 1927.

NAVY AGAIN IS GIVEN CUSTODY OF OIL RESERVE

COOLIDGE ORDER WILL BECOME EFFECTIVE NEXT MONTH
AGREEMENT MADE
EFFORT TO KEEP OIL UNDER GROUND WILL BEGIN NOW
WASHINGTON, July 14.—Power to Washington today received the order of President Coolidge last March, will revert back to the navy department, the officials announced today. The agreement was reached between Secretary Wilbur and Work under an agreement announced today by the navy, returns control of the reserves and the more than thirty bases on them to the status that existed prior to President Harding's order of May 31, 1921, which transferred authority of the secretary of the interior and under which Albert B. Fall negotiated the leases to Edward L. Doherty and Harry F. Shulard that led through sensational investigation to court litigation.
Coolidge Revokes Order
The 1921 order was revoked by President Coolidge on March 17, and it was on the interpretation placed upon it by the interior and navy secretaries as well as upon the acts of February 29 and June 4, 1925, that the mutual agreements effective the first of next month were made.
The agreement provides that after that date the navy will be responsible for the administration of all leases made in its reserves except three on producing wells in reserve number 2 in California, which were granted under specific authority placed in the secretary of interior by the first leasing act of 1920.
Leasing planning by congress of the navy department in a statement declared its policy under the new arrangements in the light of court interpretation of the two leasing acts, would be one of conservation based on efforts to "keep the oil in the ground for as long a time as possible."

Ludwig Halversen Lee Indicted As Slayer In Brooklyn Axe Murders

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 14.—Ludwig Halversen Lee, junior, was indicted today for the murder of two Brooklyn women, parts of whose severed bodies were discovered in bundles, sewers and ash cans.
District Attorney Dodd, of Brooklyn said today: "We have a pretty strong case against Lee; it is a strong circumstantial case."
Lee, still maintaining his innocence, is held in the same jail with two of his friends, Christian Jensen and Otto Nilsson, material witnesses.
Identification of parts of the body of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Brownell, 69 year old spinster to whom Lee said he was engaged, made possible an indictment for murder as well as that of Mrs. Selma Larsen Bennett, former owner of the house at 28 Prospect place, where parts of both bodies were found.
Two Women Accused
Dodd said the indictments were obtained partly on the testimony of two women. One of these, Mrs. Winifred Kehoe, today picked Lee from among 20 prisoners on the spot as the man she saw throwing a black bag of a bundle into a railway yard near early Sunday morning. At that time, police believe, both Mrs. Bennett and Miss Brownell were dead. Mrs. Kehoe lives seven doors from the house where the hacked bodies were found, and of which Lee was just out. Police completed the alleged parts of the bodies in Manhattan and Brooklyn.
The other woman, whose name was withheld, identified Lee yesterday as the man she saw throwing a black bag of a bundle into a railway yard near early Sunday morning. King Emmanuel, of Italy, is the duke's great uncle.

DOOMED KILLERS BOAST OF WAY THEY WILL DIE

ARMED GUARDS PATROL VICINITY OF JAIL IN ILLINOIS
EXECUTION TODAY
FORTITUDE SHOWN BY TRIO IN FACE OF GALLOWS
(By Associated Press)
JOLIET, Ill., July 14.—Resigned to their fate but defiant, three convicts in the Willis county jail here tonight prepared to go to the gallows in the jail yard tomorrow morning to pay the death penalty for killing a deputy warden of Joliet prison who athey and four other convicts escaped on May 1, 1925.
One of the doomed men boasted he would go to his death with a song on his lips and another expressed the intention of reciting a poem on the triple gallows.
Heavily armed guards patrolled the streets outside the jail from which the convicts twice have attempted to escape since their conviction. Grim faced guards sat outside each of their cells tonight. The slayers tonight professed to newspaper reporters that they were in good spirits and said they would march the few steps down through the jail corridors, down the stairs, across the jail yard and onto the scaffold without assistance.
Only a last minute action of the court stay the carrying out of the death sentences.
While a petition asking for a sanity hearing for Roberto Torres, one of the doomed men, was filed yesterday with the clerk of the circuit court here by a Mexican physician, the circuit court for this district all were reported to be unavailably today. The supreme court has affirmed the sentences and Governor Small previously had indicated that he will not interfere.
The doomed men, Charles Buschowski, Walter Stalesky and Torres ate the usual jail dinner tonight.

Freight Rate Blamed For Farm Losses

WICHITA, Kansas, July 14.—(By Associated Press)
Prevailing freight rates, coupled with low prices for farm products and crop failures, today were blamed at the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing here into freight rates west of the Mississippi river for what was said to be a general agriculture depression in the Texas Panhandle and western Oklahoma.
H. T. Doss, Texola, Okla., grain elevator operator and merchant and a witness before the commission, said the railroads had ruined his business with what he termed unfair freight rates. He also said that 90 per cent of the farms in Beckham county, Okla., and 70 per cent of the farms in Wheeler county, Texas, were mortgaged.
These counties produced an average of only five bushels of wheat to the acre this year.
Answering questions, propounded by Clyde M. Reed, representative Kansas farm organizations, Doss said the general condition of the farmer in the vicinity of Texola was worse today than it was five years ago. He said farmers were forced to pay ten per cent interest on loans because of inadequate securities and that only ten per cent of the farmers in this region had shown a profit in their operations in the last five years.
Questioned by railroad attorneys, the witness said he believed the depression which he pictured, was due largely to high freight rates.

RADIO RECEIVER OUT OF ORDER SAYS MESSAGE
(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Computations on the latest of 7:15 p. m. bearings sent out by Ernest L. Smith and Emory B. Bronie on their flight from Oakland, California, to Hawaii, showed the intruder, driven to be 439 nautical or 785 land miles from San Francisco. This position made the average speed of the plane 52 land miles per hour.
None of the radio stations here had heard from the plane since its 7:15 p. m. report. Efforts were being made to communicate with the Steamer Frank H. Duck, 300 miles out from San Francisco, to ascertain weather conditions and ask her to make radio connections with the plane if possible.
Pigeons Released
Two of the four pigeons carried by the plane were reported released at 3 p. m. to fly back to their San Francisco loft. They had not arrived at 10 p. m., but persons in charge of the loft declared it was possible the birds had reached land somewhere, and as is their habit, the pigeons would alight rest for the night, and continue to the loft in the morning. The first land bird would be likely to strike en route to the coast is the Farrallon Islands 30 miles out from San Francisco.
Reports almost every hour since they took off from the Oakland municipal airport, were received direct by the radio station out from the American Aero, or relayed from ships on the "great circle," the airplane marked by the guiding radio beacons.
Make Fair Time
At six o'clock tonight Pacific time, six hours and 52 minutes after the airplane straggled out from their circling for altitude above Oakland and San Francisco, they reported through the Steamship Maunala that they were in a position 478 miles out an average

The Woman's Day

By Allene Sumner

They talk about hard-boiled, unemotional, cross youth of today! No moonlight and roses and waves breaking on a distant shore for youth, they say. Youth wants to step on the gas and make it fast, peppy, and loud! Sometimes one wonders if youth's "vener of hard-boiledness" isn't a reaction from the too-surely, the over-sentimentalities of the elders.

ARMY-NAVY WAR

There may not seem to be obvious connection, but take this matter of debunking school histories. For the past few years practically every day has witnessed a war between old army and naval men, historical authorities, those who really know what happened, and school board authorities who insist on using certain text books because they like the stories told therein—be they bunk or not bunk.

ALMIGHTY US!

Those who want a debunking say that mythology is being taught rather than history. A mistaken patriotism, which says that no nation may ever admit that it was licked and that it was not the hero of each and every scrimmage, is falling to teach school kids any sense of such a thing as fair play between nations. The bravery and gallantry of the other side is distorted by myth, rather than fact, into cringing cowardice. Our own cowardices are shrouded in glamour until they become great heroes.

INTERRED!

The true happenings of our past become buried in song and legend. Take the battles of Lexington and Concord, for instance. Longfellow wrote, "hearing, rhythmic words about the midnight gallop of Paul Revere, and the lines 'here the embattled farmer stood and fired the shot heard round the world' have done much to make both young and old America forget the real facts of this day when our country was young."

DEBUNK 'EM!

But we are living in a debunking age, an age of youth which insists on seeing straight even if such slight doses give one a view of gray hairs rather than green and gold woodlands. The myths will go. History will dare be synonymous with truth, as it must be if it means anything.

Medicine Rated As Performing Near Miracles

$80,000 for His Discovery

Thousands of former sufferers from stomach trouble—many of whom had given up hope of ever being well—unqualifiedly endorse "Gordon's" the discovery of a well-known Dallas pharmacist, as a medicine for the successful treatment of stomach and bowel troubles. Some go so far as to rate it as performing "near miracles."

"Gordon's" relieves constipation, gas on the stomach, dyspepsia, heartburn, bloating after meals, excessive acid, bad breath, sick headache, nervousness, and stimulates the stomach and bowels to their normal functions.

"Gordon's" is sold by good druggists—$1.50 for 64 doses—less than 3 cents a dose. Your druggist will refund your money if one bottle fails to benefit. Ask for "Gordon's."

Mrs. Fine Tells Of Colorado Farmers' Co-Operatives Visited By Texas Group

(The following article, written by Mrs. C. Z. Fine, of Clinton, is the first of a series by her on the tour of the Texas Farm Women's Special train into western states. Mrs. Fine, a Lubbock county club woman, is representing this county on the tour, and her articles are expected to be a source of much information.—Editor's Note)

BY MRS. C. Z. FINE (Abroad Texas Farm Women's Special)

I wish to thank those of you who have made it possible for me to have this wonderful, wonderful trip. I hope that we, the Lubbock women, will be able to give you a glimpse of the great vision we are seeing.

We arrived at Colorado Springs Monday about 5:30 a. m. About 8:30 a delegation headed by J. D. Panake, secretary of the Beet Sugar Growers association, called for us. There are 31 in our crowd, but cars were furnished and we were taken for a scenic drive. We returned for a luncheon at which we were most royally fed. Am sending the photo bean loaf recipe as served by the A. E. C. (Apprentizing Bean Club) girls.

Organization Young In a talk, Mr. Plummer, president of the Beet Growers association, informed me that this was a young co-op, having been in existence for less than two years. The membership has grown from 300 the first year to 1,600 now. He attributes this great growth to the fact that the members have seen the result of co-operation among wheat growers. It gave interesting facts in regard to the organization of these associations.

We are ready to tell Mr. Overstreet, (R. E. Overstreet, state director of the Farm Bureau Cotton association) when we come home, how to harvest his beans. Today we were given a demonstration of the Judson bean picker, a machine recently invented to clean and grade the beans. These people are striving for quality production.

Club Meets In Home Of Mrs. W. W. Royalty Meeting in the home of Mrs. W. W. Royalty, 2011 Main street, members of the 19186 Needle club spent a pleasant afternoon Wednesday. Mrs. C. E. Morrison was joint hostess with Mrs. Royalty. Sherbet and cake were served to Mesdames R. S. Rodgers, W. D. Benson, O. L. Cline, James Kimmell, E. Ballou, R. E. Strickland, L. D. Rankin, Louise Hawkins, Lawson Howell.

Members Methodist League Attend Party Twenty-two members of the First Methodist Epworth, H. J. Jones, enjoyed a social Wednesday evening at the church. Games were played and a bounteous lunch served. Mrs. E. W. Camp, Miss Elsie Mae Lyle and Richard Cavett were in charge. The affair had been planned in a simple and was changed to the church when the rain fell.

Poultry Raisers Meet Tonight there was a meeting of the thirteen greatest poultry producing communities in this section to discuss ways of organizing a state poultry association.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR ABILENE HIGHWAY TO BE COMPLETED

OVER SIX MILLION WILL BE SPENT ON SYSTEM IN PRESENT PLAN

(By Associated Press) WICHITA, Kansas, July 14.—Tentative plans to expend from $6,000,000 to $7,000,000 in improvements for the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad were announced here today by W. T. Kemper, president, following a meeting here of the company's directors.

The proposed building program, Kemper said, would take effect from October 7 to the extent the present program continued in effect at that time. English capital interests who are holders of Orient gold notes, have an option on some of the company's stock extending to that date.

Eighty-two miles of new track between Abilene, Texas and the Rio Grande giving the Orient a connection with the Pacific coast, is the chief improvement contemplated, Kemper said. This track, costing $2,500,000, was the only new line contemplated.

Other improvements would be included in bridges, stations and improved road beds and trackage on present lines, Kemper said.

Kemper and Clifford Histed, receiver and receiver's counsel, respectively, of the Orient last week were allowed $196,750 by Judge John C. Bollock in federal court at Kansas City, Kansas, for their services. Provisions were made by the court enabling the English negotiators to acquire control of the road. The English negotiators are reported likely to appeal the court's decision.

THE CO-OPERATIVE PLAN

Co-operative marketing, in Texas, is a new project, but it may be truthfully said, "it is a success." Naturally Texas farmers are more interested than any other class for it means added profits, surer profits and a more steady market for their products.

In California almost every product is marketed through an association; in Wisconsin the co-operative plan has made a lasting impression, while in Minnesota people do not know anything else.

Texas has more land than will be found in any other state. Texas can raise any product that is found in America. Texas has the best climate for general farming of any state in the Union, yet Texas farmers have been getting less for their crops than most others. Why? Because Texas farmers have farmed in haphazard manner. They grow big crops and then throw them on the market at the other fellow's price.

If they will produce less--produce just what is needed, and produce better grades, they will profit. The co-operative plan teaches this. Why glut the market with useless produce? Half the crop would have been consumed and appreciated, and our burden would have been lighter.

CLEANING UP AMERICA

Sentiment for a cleaner America can not pass by unnoticed; still we doubt if all the reformers are as sincere as they would have others believe. They want a clean America, but not too clean. They vote against open saloons and buy booze from bootleggers--the transaction is made under cover, and they do not feel so guilty. At least there are not so many people who know your drinking capacity just the bootlegger and he doesn't matter.

In Texas we have voted out pool halls, but still have pool tables. In days of old a fellow, rich or poor, could play a game of pool for five cents. Today he must be a club member and pay more. So have we really made any improvement? When pool halls ran wide open operators knew that officers kept close watch to prevent gambling. When pool is played, behind closed doors officers may or may not watch.

We have state laws that prohibits--at least the law demands Sunday closing of stores. A hardware dealer must close, unless he handles ice cream or bread, and the grocer may stay open all day. In fact there are so many loop holes in the Sunday closing law and so many shyster lawyers looking for them that the law is seldom enforced. People close their stores on Sunday if they choose, otherwise they sell goods. So does our Sunday law really improve church attendance after all?

Horse racing is taboo in Texas, but stud poker is a very popular pastime. Horse racing is a much cleaner sport than crap shooting, but our legislators have banished it forever. So instead of races we have other private forms of gambling. Have we improved conditions?

In Lubbock we have an ordinance that prohibits the sale of "jake," and the meaning of this ordinance is good, still it makes business for the peddler of illegal corn, and we doubt if drunkenness has been reduced.

Maybe we are in need of reforms--we do not dispute the fact. Still we will never make any progress--never clean up the state by moving out one sin and making room for another. If a man gets drunk it makes mighty little difference whether he gets drunk on corn or jake--the result is the same. If a man wants to gamble a horse race is no worse than stud poker, and if it is not a sin to sell milk shake on Sunday we can't see why the oyster dealer should suffer. If a man owes you ten dollars, you want your money, and you are not going to tell him it must be paid in buffalo nickels or Lincoln pennies. A ten dollar bill, two fives, or 10 silver dollars will be equally as good.

In the past we have had some wonderful minds in Austin. They have had the happy faculty of making more bulls than any other like number of men known in history. Most of them are fair farmers, but bum law makers, and if they could knock twice as much as they do they would appreciate their inability to serve as law makers. They would resign and go rabbit hunting.

We have more laws than we know what to do with, but not very many of them will stand the acid test. They look good on paper and are about as useless. They bring about arrests, but no convictions. They leak like a strainer, and any nut-headed law student can prove anything from perpetual motion to philosophy by them.

We have lots to learn in Texas and it seems that it is taking us a long time to get the lesson. Four 10,000 a year legislators are cheaper than a drove of $3 a day men and they will give us laws that will stand up after they leave the legislative halls. Men who are capable of representing the state refuse to do so on account of the pay. A $10-a-day man is not fool enough to sign a contract for $3 a day. No, wise men are not so generous. They charge for their services, and the fellow who works for $3 a day making laws is being overpaid.

But Texas is young, maybe we will pick up a little information in the future. Our intentions are good, but we can't say so much for our qualifications.

CROP PROSPECTS BRIGHT

While a majority of farmers in this section are not looking forward to what is generally termed a bumper crop, most of them feel that their chances for a good crop are excellent. The cotton acreage, on account of the prolonged drought, was cut anywhere from one-third to one-half, but the cotton planted looks fairly well at this time.

There are plenty of blooms and squares in this county, and only in the immediate Lubbock vicinity will you find doubtful looking crops. If we have a late frost we are safe; if we have an early frost the crop will be short.

Feed-crops look well, and most of the early maize and kaffir is now heading. Late feed is growing rapidly, and the rain of Wednesday, which was fairly general over several counties, will greatly aid growing feed crops.

In all probability there will be an enormous amount of feed made this year, and this will tend to lower prices for a time anyway. Of course the farmer who holds his feed until spring will find a good market for it, and this they must do if they are to profit. Texas farmers, unlike farmers in most sections, have an idea that they must market their crops as soon as they are gathered, while common sense teaches them that prices are always lower during harvest season than at any other season of the year. So South Plains farmers should plan to house and hold their feed crops until market prices are favorable.

The farmer who would make a double profit will buy and fatten hogs and steers with his surplus feed. Neither are difficult to handle and as a rule both show a profit. We must think as well as work, and it is high time we were doing so.

HIGHWAY THRILLS

If you are a car driver and are looking for a thrill you won't have to go out of your way to find it. Just drive out of any Texas city and you will find them plentiful.

County commissioners have plenty to do and as a rule they keep up the roads in their various precincts as well as they can with the money they have available. City commissioners do likewise. County commissioners work the country roads almost to town and town commissioners work the streets almost to the country. But there is always a kind of no-man's land between the streets and highways. If you doubt this drive out and see for yourself. Avenue H going north is pretty good until you cross the railroad and then it is a series of bumps and thrills until you get to a point where county commissioners begin their activities. Then you find an almost perfect highway. The same may be said of Avenue H going south. It is excellent for a few blocks and then it is chug-holes and boulders until you come to the county grading. College avenue is another fair sample as is 19th street leading west.

We are not trying to place the blame and Lubbock is not the only city with this condition. Try Plainview, Tulia, Canyon, Amarillo or almost any city--it is the same.

Why can't county and city commissioners get together and keep the connecting link in good repair?

"CRIME NEVER PAYS"

At least one perfectly good American paper--a paper that publishes all the news, begin every crime story with this line: "CRIME NEVER PAYS." The paper we have reference to is none other than the Denver Post, and while the Post is a good paper so far as giving all the news is concerned, we doubt if it ever passes up an opportunity to publish a salacious story.

We admit that crime never pays, but there are times when it pays not to advertise crime. The Post is not to be condemned for publishing the news for the people who read the Post demand. Yet we doubt if the little slogan is really worth while.

OUT OUR WAY

SO THINK WE

We think that a fool is born every second and that most of them live.

We think that Texas Tech will possibly set a new record for attendance this fall. The officials of the college expect more than 2,000 students here for the fall term.

We think that the pioneer is the one who takes the grapes in any kind of an achievement. In a trans-oceanic flight Lindy will always be the outstanding figure as he blazed the trail.

We think that if Cal really wants to see the wild west he might spend a week or so in Chicago.

We think that possibly one of the reasons why so many marriages are failures nowadays is that the bride never gets used to boiled onions.

We think that some men seem destined from birth to go far on the highway to success, while others appear to have been born with an amber light against them.

We think that Trotsky may be right about the Siberia mines but the money in the mines does not help pay their war debt.

We think that to be a husband in the next few years will be very dangerous as the larger universities and colleges are now establishing classes for girls in rifle shooting.

We think that Niagara will begin to like peace if she tries for a few more weeks.

We think that the last week's total for the year in building permits is estimated at something over $60,000, and still Lubbock is not growing.

We think that since the rains have fallen over the South Plains most of the farmers in Lubbock county will be playing the outfield.

We think that loyalty and co-operation will assist many enterprises. Let's all back the Panhandle-South Plains Fair this year and stage one of the greatest exhibitions in West Texas.

TO SEEK A SHOWDOWN

Hudspeth county commissioners are planning to seek relief through the courts in the controversy over large areas of university-owned lands. A suit against the Board of Regents of the university asks the court order compelling the regents to dispose of Hudspeth county land which is untaxed and untaxable and constitutes an actual burden upon the county.

In seventeen West Texas counties there are two million acres of lands to which the University of Texas holds title. Under existing laws these lands can not be taxed for either state or county purposes, and in the last session of the legislature the university was successful in blocking a proposal by Representative Edge of San Angelo to submit a constitutional amendment making the lands subject to limited taxation for county purposes. It was contemplated that a maximum tax of about $12 per section would be levied for county school purposes if the amendment were adopted. Now Hudspeth county seeks to compel the university to sell lands located within its borders citing the constitutional provision that lands shall be sold. Sale of the lands

Hudspeth commissioners declare, would make it taxable and would open up a vast territory for colonization by new citizens.

It is reported that one metropolitan newspaper man visited in the southern part of what is called the Illinois territory of southern Illinois there were about three cases of malaria for every 100 persons. In the river valleys and creek bottoms malaria was found to be highly endemic, averaging 15 cases for every 100 persons. The malaria was always found in the immediate vicinity of some lake, pond or marsh which could be the natural habitat of the malaria mosquito. The district extended about a mile in every direction from the ponds, which marked the range of flight of the mosquitoes.

The fact of the superstitious belief regarding $2 bills as unlucky recently received demonstration in the case of two ascending bankers in an Eastern city who, in gathering up the cash left by trusting depositors, carefully left behind all bills that happened to be of the supposedly ominous denomination. Nobody has been able to explain the origin of this widespread belief. It is suggested that the dislike for $2 bills arose from the chance of handing them out by mistake for $1 bills, but why that peril is any greater than in the case of a $5 or $10 bill is not obvious, unless it be that the larger notes are not so often carried.

That the $2 bills are disliked and feared by many folk is a fact, however, and some of them seem to have no other superstitions of the same absurd kind--Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

Flapper Bandit A University of Texas co-ed robbed a bank and set the country talking about her daring deed--the offense being almost glorified by the girl's reaction to the affair. Civic Achievements

Annual Achievement Week is Good City Advertising BY DON E. MOWRY Secretary, American Community Advertising Association

It is good business for cities to take an annual inventory of their accomplishments and to advertise those accomplishments to the taxpayers and residents. There is perhaps no better method of increasing civic pride.

Toledo, O. put over an internal advertising campaign of this sort in an unusual manner. Suggested by the newspapers, the directors of the chamber of commerce resolved to organize and finance a suitable and appropriate educational campaign to be known as Achievement Week, to be followed by a Forward Toledo Movement, in an effort to make the undertaking an outstanding community enterprise of lasting benefit and permanent value to the city.

The newspapers composed a general committee to handle the project under the leadership of the chamber of commerce. By newspaper publicity by public meetings, exhibitions of products in show windows, and by other similar methods, approved by the committee, the entire city was informed and instructed concerning the steps taken in material progress.

There were also demonstrated prospects the city holds for the near future in matters of industry, transportation, banking and merchandising. The people of Toledo became acquainted with Toledo and what Toledo really is and has to offer. It was not a boasting campaign, but a campaign to sell the city to itself.

Editor's Note: This article concludes the Don E. Mowry series on Civic Improvements.

Your Health

Malaria is practically disappeared as one of the great medical problems in large cities, but the disease is still to be found in many rural communities, particularly in the southern portions of the United States. Dr. J. Lovell Clarke, one of the sanitary engineers of the Illinois department of public health finds much work still necessary to stamp out the mosquito breeding places surrounding the villages of the southern part of that state.

In the hill territory of southern Illinois there were about three cases of malaria for every 100 persons. In the river valleys and creek bottoms malaria was found to be highly endemic, averaging 15 cases for every 100 persons. The malaria was always found in the immediate vicinity of some lake, pond or marsh which could be the natural habitat of the malaria mosquito. The district extended about a mile in every direction from the ponds, which marked the range of flight of the mosquitoes.

Country club ponds must be watched particularly, as these artificial ponds have been found frequently to be excellent breeding places for the mosquito. The malaria mosquito bites most frequently at dusk. If it has fed on a sick person and then bites a well one, the latter is likely to be supplied with some material infection. In summer resorts where the population is mixed, including people coming from all sorts of localities, the chance of infection is greater.

One of the means used to destroy the mosquitoes that carry the malaria organism is to stock all lakes, ponds and sluggish streams with the variety of fish that lives on the larvae of the mosquito. The routine for mosquito control should include, according to Clarke, the clearing of the edges of the ponds of willows, cattails, water grasses and floatage. Thus the bank of the pond is left sharp and clean, so that the fish can swim close to the bank and feed on the mosquito wigglers.

The fish that has been found to be most active in feeding on the mosquito larvae is the little top minnow Gambusia affinis, also called the gold-fish minnow. This little fish swims in the most shallow waters. The Illinois state department of health is arranging to send supplies of these minnows to any village or to any organization in the state that wishes to cooperate and sell-clean the banks in the marshes.

The draining of small ponds of marshes and the use of oil sprays are methods suitable to areas where it is not necessary to preserve the pond for decorative or for amusement purposes.

Today's Poems

"THE GREAT LOVER" These I have loved: White plates and cups, clean-gleaming, Ringed with blue lines; and feathery fairy dust; Wet roofs, beneath the lamplight; Of friendly bread; and many-tasting food; Rainbows; and the blue bitter smoke of wood; And radiant raindrops couching in cool flowers; And flowers themselves, that sway through summer hours; Dreading of moths that drink them under the moon; Then, the cool kindness of sheets, that soon Smooth away trouble; and the rough male kiss Of blinding; grainy hair; live hair; that Shining and free; blue-massing clouds; the keen Unpassioned beauty of a great machine; The lisp of hot water;--furs to touch The good smell of old clothes; and others such-- The comfortable smell of friendly fingers.

Freedom Men! whose blood it is that ye Come of fathers brave and free, If there be any earth, a shrine Are ye truly free and brave? If ye do not feel the chain When it works a brother's pain, Are ye not base slaves indeed, Slaves unworthy to be freed!

In true Freedom but to break Fetters for our own dead sake, And, with leather hearts, forge That we own mankind a debt! No! True Freedom is to share All the chains our brothers wear, And, with heart and hand, to strive Earnest to make others free!

They are slaves who fear to die For the fallen and the weak; They are slaves who will not be Hated, scoffing and shrill; Rather than in silence shrink From the truth they needs must think; They are slaves who dare not be In the right with two or three. --James Russell Lowell

Herb Pennock, King Of Wrong-Arms Yankee Star Among Best In History

While left-handed batters enjoy a decided edge in winning major league batting championships, the same doesn't hold good for the southpaws as far as pitching goes.

Only two pitchers who have worked in more than one series have done so without defeat. They are Jack Combs, former Philadelphia star now one of the baseball coaches at Princeton university, and Herb Pennock.

Combs in three series won five games and never was beaten. Pennock in two series has won victories and no losses to show for his pitching.

Pennock, generally rated as the most valuable southpaw in the major leagues, also is the holder of another sterling performance that closely rivals a world series pitching record.

CORPUS CHRISTI PORT TO BECOME ONE OF GREATEST IN SOUTH SAYS SHIPPER

CORPUS CHRISTI, July 14.—Corpus Christi is now starting on the greatest era of growth and prosperity in its entire history and its new five million dollar deep water harbor is destined to become one of the most important parking places for steamships in the south, according to Maj. G. A. C. Dalton, president of the Emergency Fleet corporation, who arrived in the coastal city July 13th.

Gen. Dalton stated that he made this trip to Corpus Christi to personally conduct an inspection of the deep water port that has established a record for development unprecedented in maritime history by closing seventeen thousand cargo and ten thousand passengers in the first nine months of its existence.

Port Inspected.
Under the guidance of Robert Driscoll, chairman of the Nueces County Navigation Commission, and Roy Miller, acting vice-president of the Intra-Coastal Canal association, Gen. Dalton made a thorough inspection of each unit comprising the port which included the ship channel, breakwaters, the bascule bridge spanning the channel, the land locks, turning basin, wharves, docks, warehouses and railroad facilities.

At the conclusion of the inspection, Gen. Dalton stated that he was very pleased with every phase of the deep water port and he assured officials of the Nueces County Navigation Commission that the Emergency Fleet Corporation would send as many shipping board vessels to Corpus Christi as would be necessary to handle any amount of cargo destined for European ports.

General Dalton was accompanied to Corpus Christi by J. M. Lykes of Galveston, president of the Lykes Bros. Ripley Co.; R. E. Tipton of New Orleans, vice president of the Lykes Bros. Ripley Co.; and Roy Miller who had joined the party in Houston.

HEREFORD ASSURED OF AMPLE WATER

PUMPS INSTALLED FURNISH 2,000 GALLONS PER MINUTE NOW

HEREFORD, July 14.—An adequate water supply, which has formed a serious problem in the rapid development of many of the Panhandle cities, is no longer a worry in Hereford. The "City Dads" of Hereford need not stay awake, trying to solve the water problem, neither do they need to spend money to develop wells before inviting industries to locate here.

The city officials are now installing one of the latest type pumps that is made by Layne & Bowler, with a capacity of 1,500 gallons per minute. This gives the city of Hereford better than 2,000 gallons per minute capacity or about 2,000,000 gallons daily, which is an adequate supply for a city four or five times the size of Hereford.

"We have an adequate supply of pure water, not only for domestic use, but enough for any large industries that might locate here in the future," Mayor E. S. Ireland says.

The new pump was installed 10 better take care of the heavy shipments of water that leave Hereford daily for the railroad shops in Amarillo. Since December 15 of last year, from 25 to 50 cars of water has been shipped from here to the shops in Amarillo each month, and most of it was pumped from the city wells. A loading rack has been installed so that ten cars can be loaded at a time.

Big Spring Sees Much Wildcatting

BIG SPRING, July 14.—Even though the price of oil does not encourage the independent operators toward wildcatting, there are eighteen wildcat drilling jobs in Howard county with twenty-seven companies and independent operators operating in the different fields. The proven field extends over a territory of seven miles wide and twenty miles long with neither extremely wet discovered.

With twenty six drilling companies and twenty seven drilling companies operating out of Big Spring, the oil development in the territory adjacent to Howard is fast centralizing around Big Spring. New locations are being made and the drilling operations are more active at present than has been for the past sixty days.

Littlefield School Has 24 Credits

LITTLEFIELD, July 14.—Superintendent B. M. This places the high school here in the same class with the other large towns in this state, though Mr. Harrison thinks that he will continue to work for additional credits.

Second Floyd Oil Well Is Spudded

FLOYDADA, July 14.—Work has begun on Floyd county's second oil well. Boone number one was spudded in Wednesday evening by the Exploration company, the owners of the land number one. The new well is located nine and one-half miles west of Floydada near the Sandhill schoolhouse. The lease was secured by Gamble Bros. Land company of Floydada and the well was spudded in just exactly six months after work began on securing the lease.

That Floyd county is now and will continue to receive its share of oil is evidenced by the number of geologists, oil promoters and drillers that come to Floydada daily. Recent activities in this section of the South Plains has created considerable interest among oil promoters.

I. D. Gamble, senior members of the firm of Gamble brothers, who secured the leases for the two Exploration wells, is a firm believer in the number thirteen. The firm started work on securing the lease on the well on January 13th, and set July 13th for the day for the spudding in of the well.

RAILROAD BUILDING AT SLATON RAPID

RAPID PROGRESS IS MADE ON EXTENSIVE LIST OF IMPROVEMENTS

SLATON, July 14.—With a large amount of material on the ground and with contractors and their crews of workmen now busy on making extensive improvements in Santa Fe yard facilities here, the project which was started several months ago draws much nearer to completion.

Construction now centers about the new, 129 foot turntable and the six new stalls to be added to the roundhouse. Already, large amount of new trackage has been laid in the yards and still more is to follow soon. A 75-car scale track provided for in the early plans, should be started soon, it is thought.

The whole list of improvements, it now seems likely, will cost $300,000 or more. It is hoped that the enlarged facilities will be finished and ready for use by the time the fall rush in traffic over the Slaton division begins. Greatly expanded ability to handle the traffic will be had when the work is done.

LITTLEFIELD RAINS ARE AID TO SEASON'S CROPS

LITTLEFIELD, July 14.—Local showers which have fallen throughout the Littlefield country during the past few days have covered almost every section. Heavy rains have fallen west and southwest of Littlefield in what is known as the Panhandle, and heavy rains have also fallen from Wilbarger to Levelland south. These rains are all very beneficial to growing crops, and make the prospects very much brighter.

Community Fairs At Taylor Attract

ATHELNE, July 14.—Taylor county people are taking more interest in community fairs than ever before, according to J. R. Masterson, county agricultural agent.

Ovalo, a small town in the southeastern part of this county will hold its first community fair during the coming fall as a result of action taken at a mass meeting held three last week when a permanent fair association was organized with M. A. How on as chairman. An annual feature of the Ovolo fair will be the family exhibits. Several families of that community have already manifested their intention of taking part in that contest.

Tosola and Brantley, other towns in Taylor county will also have community fairs this fall, according to Masterson. He is now assisting leaders in these other communities in working out plans for expositions in those places.

The prize winning exhibits in agriculture, livestock and women's work at each of the community fairs to be held in this county will be shown in community booths at the West Texas Fair to be held in this city September 23 to October 1.

SHORT COURSE TO ATTRACT 1,000

EXCELLENT PROGRAMS ARE ARRANGED FOR BOYS AND GIRLS AT A. & M.

COLLEGE STATION, July 14.—More than 1,000 farm boys and girls of Texas are expected for the eighteenth annual Farmers Short Course at the A. & M. College of Texas July 15-18.

Special group programs have been arranged for the boys and girls of the 6-H clubs. Lessons and intensive training in livestock judging, the judging of grain and feed crops, demonstrations and lessons in canning, bookkeeping and making and home improvement projects have been designed especially for the benefit of these club members.

Both the boys and girls groups will be divided into four sections and the same courses will be given for each section of the respective divisions. The girls will be assigned to quarters in Bessell and Goodwin dormitories and will be chaperoned at all times.

Each of the four groups of girls will elect chairmen at the opening of the course and these chairmen will preside at the meetings.

A feature of the boys and girls meetings will be the appearance of the four representatives from Texas, two boys and two girls, who attended the first annual "Co-operation" in Washington this year. These representatives, selected on the records of their club work out of the thousands of club boys and girls in the state, are Fontilla Johnson, Van Zandt County; Ruth Egan, Jefferson County; Homer Sheffield, Harris County; and L. J. Thornton, Lubbock County.

Interesting Talks Planned

division during the Short Course includes Miss Susan Landon, educational director, Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, who will visit on Farm and Home Life in Denmark from observations made during her visit to that country last year; Mrs. Lily Pearl Chamberlain, head home economics department, John Tarleton Agricultural College, who will talk on How to Enjoy Picnics, using an exhibit of masterpieces from the Chicago Art Bureau in her talk; Mrs. Bernice Claylor, home improvement specialist, Extension Service, who will talk on Attractive Hugs and How to Make Them; Mrs. Bruce Reid, Fort Arthur, who will talk on Our Bird Friends of Texas, and use an exhibit in illustration; Miss Bess Edwards, assistant home demonstration agent, who will talk on Music in the Home, and numerous other speakers.

NAVAL PARLEY

seventy cruisers, in order to protect its lines of communications within the empire, to keep off raiders should war arise again.

Mr. Gibson, speaking extemporaneously, declared that he did not wish to controvert anything said by the distinguished authority Jellicoe, but the American delegation had very serious misgivings in regard to preparing in time of peace for all possible war contingencies.

Moreover, he contended, this gamut of hunting down commerce raiders might fall to the lot of any of the three navies in wartime, and if they all insisted in peace time in building up their ships in order to perform this duty, it effectively shut the door to real limitation.

Expressing confidence that there was no thought of conflict between them, Mr. Gibson believed that each country could be left free within a carefully restricted tonnage limitation, to build in each class as it might see fit.

"For our part," he said, "we have no desire to question this right of others to choose the type of vessels that they desire within the general limitation fixed by the treaty."

Mr. Gibson indicated that the American delegation was prepared to consider in a preliminary way the latest British proposal of an agreement had been reached on the other problems, and was prepared also to suggest that the conference be held at Washington in 1931 be called early in that year, rather than August 17.

BIG SPRING DOING MUCH BUILDING

PROGRESS IS RAPID ON NEW STRUCTURES NOW GOING UP THERE

BIG SPRING, July 14.—The present building program in the city of Big Spring is a little more active than it has been during the past six or seven days. At present there is under construction the five-story wholesale house of Wooten Grocery company, a structure 75 by 100 feet.

Wynn Produce company is building a cold storage plant on East 2nd Street, that will carry commercial storage in addition to space for car load shipments of fresh produce handled by this company.

The work being done on the W. O. W. building is practically complete. The two store buildings in the basement have been finished with plastering completed.

The sixth story is being placed on the Crawford hotel, one more to be added.

The concrete for the foundation for the Collins building on East second and Runnels Street has been poured and the walls will be started within the next few days.

The T. & P. is doing some re-organizing work moving storage houses to new locations and continuing their program of adding more tracks.

The large amount of building that has taken place in Big Spring during the past twelve months has furnished a large number of farm-hands and day laborers with employment who would have been idle had it not been for this development.

Club Boys Meet For Encampment

With a full year of club work ahead of them, more than 125 club boys of Lubbock county will gather at the fair grounds and county park today for their annual two-day encampment.

Registration at the county agent's office in the court house at 10 o'clock for registration, the boys will assemble in front of the building for a picture and then later go to the camp ground at the fair grounds for section organization.

The final contests will be held Saturday afternoon with candidates for the A. & M. short course to be held at College Station, July 25-28.

RATE DISPUTE STARTED

Claim That Memphis Favored Over New Orleans in New Schedule is Offered At Dallas

WICHITA, Kansas, July 14.—(AP)—Claim that a revised rate schedule proposed by the railroads at the Dallas hearing discriminated against New Orleans in favor of Memphis was advanced today at the investigation being conducted here by the interstate commerce commission in proposed revised freight rates on grain and grain products affecting states west of the Mississippi river.

J. H. Rauhman, representing the New Orleans traffic bureau, said that under the proposed schedule a Kansas shipper could ship wheat to Memphis on a proportional rate of 1 cent less than to New Orleans.

Examiner Mackley announced today that the interstate controversy would be disposed of this week. Proposals of the carriers to establish a higher schedule of rates on shipments to the east will be heard next.

T. & P. Improving Rail Side-Lines

ABILENE, July 14.—In order that the many long freight trains being moved over the Texas and Pacific railroad may be handled more rapidly, sidings at all stations between Baird and Sweetwater are to be lengthened, according to F. W. Battle, division road master of Big Spring, who was in this city the past week.

At Tye and Merkel, first and second sidings west of here dumps for the sidetrack extensions are already being thrown up. Extension of from 1,000 to 1,200 feet will be made at each station.

More than 20 freight trains pass through Abilene each day over the Texas and Pacific and despite the fact that quite a bit of that road's program of improvement for this year has been stopped on account of the heavy losses sustained in the Mississippi valley regions from the flood, this part of the program will be carried through a originally planned, W. R. Daniels, general agent for the company, with offices here says.

Daniels thinks that the volume of freight that will be handled by that railroad this year will equal if not surpass that of last year, when the system showed a growth in earnings despite the decline in passenger business.

HAWAII FLIGHT

The actual take off was at 10:40 o'clock this morning, but it was not until 11:08 that the City of Oakland started on its real flight, heading out over the Golden Gate on a direct westward course.

No report of wind conditions was contained in any of the messages, which were apparently transmitted without difficulty, and air experts following their course advanced the theory that the lack of visibility had caused Smith to throttle his motor to a slow speed, a course declared to be uneconomical from the standpoint of fuel.

Wireless Receiver Out

A message received from Bronte later in the afternoon said that the wireless receiving set aboard the plane was out of commission but that it did not interfere with Bronte.

Back in Oakland, where the plane took off for its flight, anxious ears were primed for the slightest word of the fliers' progress. Telephones to the flying field were kept busy by friends of the two men and calls from sponsors and others connected with the flight calling radio stations for "anything new."

The army radio beacon system, put into operation for use by the Smith plane, was reported working well in one of Bronte's brief bulletins. It was not known whether failure of the receiving set would affect reception of the radio signals for the wave lengths on messages and beacon work were 60 and 1,035 meters respectively. It was believed Bronte might still be able to tune in on the higher wave length.

Trade Winds Aid

The fliers were due to gain the benefit of trade winds, breasting them along about twenty miles an hour when they reach 500 miles from San Francisco. At the rate they were traveling during the early part of their trip it was estimated they should strike the winds about tonight.

It all depends on field conditions in Hawaii as to whether the City of Oakland is able to fly back home. It had been planned that the plane should be the first to try a 4,000 mile round trip hop between Oakland and Hawaii, remaining on the islands only long enough to permit refueling, inspection and the take off.

But after army officials in Hawaii announced that Wheeler field, the army's airport 26 miles out of Honolulu, was too short to permit a heavily laden trans-Pacific plane to hop off, it was suggested that Smith and Bronte might land at the Wheeler and then hop over to the island of Kauai, where they might take off from the beach of "Barking Sands." The runway Richard Grace, Hollywood aviator, used recently in his attempted hop off for California. Decision on a return flight was left to the discretion of the fliers.

Realty Transfers Show Prosperity

Lubbock is enjoying increasing prosperity in reflected in the various business activities of the city, especially within the past several days. Real estate transfers alone have been rising higher daily in the city's business barometer and are nearing the million mark for the past two months. June had more than $500,000 while deals totaling $794,900.81 have already been recorded for the first 14 days of this month.

Building permits are also showing a steady gain and are sure to surpass the figure set for the first year's permit records for the city which totalled slightly more than a million dollars. In the past several days, a large number of permits have been issued and since July 1, the total has grown to $1,155,949 for the year. July has had $28,000 worth of building ready.

With the banks showing deposits than ever and good falling at intervals over the city, Lubbock and the South P. are due for a greater era of prosperity, business men and real estate dealers said yesterday. Eaton, county agent, reports an excellent stand of cotton up in every community county.
