Hancock...

Area grad named new Ira principal

Ira school board members have selected an area graduate with 23 years in education as the school's new principal.

Tommy Hancock, a 1966 graduate of Borden County High School, was named principal during the board's July meeting Thursday.

Hancock comes from Aspermont, where he has served as principal for the past two years.

He began his career in Canadian, where he taught agriculture for two years. He served as ag teacher for eight years in Olton and five years at Floydada, and as science instructor at Friona for four years. He was junior high principal at Friona for two years before being hired as principal at Aspermont.

He received his bachelor's degree and master's degree from Texas Tech University, his mid-management certificate from West Texas A&M and his superintendent's certificate from Sul Ross.

He and his wife, Stacy, have two grown children.

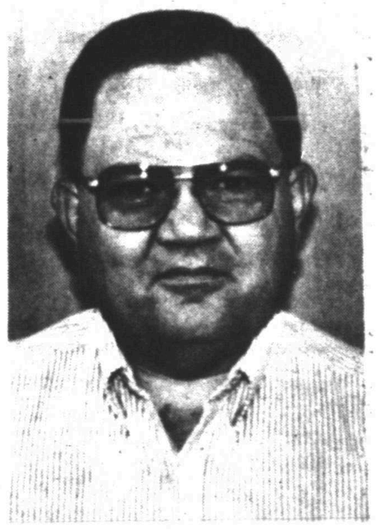

Hancock will work part-time on campus through the end of the month and take over the principalship officially on Aug. 1.

He replaces Jane Matlock, who resigned earlier this year to pursue an elementary principal's position.

In other action Thursday, the board accepted the resignation of Luann Slover, homemaking instructor. She is resigning after five years to move to Dalhart. A search for her replacement began today, said Supt. Rick Howard. Applications will be accepted at the school through July 29.

The board also made minor budget amendments, approved a revised handbook, selected Great American Reserve as carrier for athletic insurance and set the next board meeting for Aug. 18.

All board members were present.

Quick times highlight rodeo's opening night

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

Timed event specialists took center stage Thursday in the opening performance of the 59th Annual Scurry County Open Rodeo.

Tight chases in barrel racing, calf roping and breakaway roping highlighted the first night of competition at the county rodeo association arena.

The rodeo will continue with 8 p.m. shows today and Saturday.

Tickets are $4 in advance for adults and are available at Bar-H-Bar Family Outfitters. Admission at the gate will be $5. Children under 12 wil be admitted free.

Each performance of the TCRA-sanctioned rodeo will be followed by a dance featuring Terry Sneed and Up The Creek.

Performances tonight and Saturday will feature Jerry Cox, furniture factory manager at the Price Daniel Unit, in benefit bull rides for local charities.

The closest competition in Thursday's timed events was in the barrel race where each of the nine contestants cracked the 19-second mark.

Andrews' Jessica Perser leads the event after flashing a 17.677. Perser leads second-place Jackie Barton of San Angelo, who turned in a 17.945, and former Western Texas College cowgirl Brandye Bitters of Mineral Wells, who registered an 18.048.

Calf ropers Bruce Tackett of Bluff Dale and Clyde Himes of Stanton were waging their own battle Thursday.

Tackett came out on top and captured the early lead in the event with his 8.42 time. Himes was just off the pace with an 8.742.

J.J. Hampton of Stephenville posted a speedy 3.302 to snag the opening-day lead in breakaway roping Thursday. Trailing Hampton after one show are Abilene standout Lari Dee Guy, who was good for a 4.150, and Canyon's Jaylene Himes, who rang up a 4.479.

Team ropers John Rosansky and Kenny McLaughlin will carry the time to beat into tonight's rodeo after their Thursday 7.397.

Amarillo bull rider Lance Reed tallied a 75 and Lubbock's Dale Gideon earned a 73 to lead their event, while Snyder saddle bronc rider John Foster and bareback rider Randy Koehn of Guymon, Okla. each topped their events with scores of 74.

Special ed proposal sent back for study

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Managing Editor

Snyder public schools trustees, meeting in a budget workshop Thursday, put on hold a proposal to headquarter special education at the old North Elementary building.

Board members also reviewed some changes in the proposed 1994-95 budget.

Thursday's discussion on special education was a follow-up of a proposal presented to trustees a week earlier.

The proposal calls for converting four former classrooms, currently being used for storage, into office space at North Elementary. The plan also calls for the construction of a portable building at the junior high and a smaller portable at North, both for special education classrooms.

North currently houses Head Start and Snyder Child Day Care Center. Placing younger special education students in that setting would meet guidelines requiring that the students be in an environment where they can interact with their peers.

To pay for the portables, administrators would use $141,000 in federal funds.

Trustees have been told that present housing for special education — Humble-Smith School — is seriously overcrowded. Administrators are also concerned that special education students must cross 37th Street to West Elementary twice each day to eat in the cafeteria.

Thursday, Supt. Gayle Lomax recommended that the board approve the project. He noted that Barbara Granato, director for special education, and the Texas Education Agency have both voiced praise for the plan.

In a previous meeting, some trustees questioned moving a portable building to a campus which the district closed. The closing of North met with resistance from a number of citizens several years ago.

"While it may conjure up things from the past, North affords those wonderful former classrooms that can be used for offices for staff," said Lomax. He noted that federal funds cannot be used to build new offices for staff, nor can they be used to build permanent classrooms. They can, however, be used to build portable classrooms.

Lomax said that the funds must be spent in 18 months to two years, or sent back to the government. He anticipated a five to six-month turnaround, saying that it would probably be the start of the second semester next school year before the portable buildings could be constructed and ready for use.

Trustees had mixed reactions to the proposal, but only Mark McCormick and Luann Burleson endorsed it.

"I'll go with the recommendation...we hire these people and we need to listen to their advice," said Burleson.

"All I can say is what we have right now (Humble-Smith) is almost an embarrassment....I agree with his recommendation and I place my confidence in Mrs. Granado as well," said McCormick.

Trustee Janet Stribling suggested using two of the rooms at North for classrooms and two for office space. "That would give them a great deal more room than they have right now...and it would give this an opportunity to see if it will work. I'm not for placing a building on a campus that we have

Personnel requests, budget amendments ok'd by board

By JOHN McMILLAN
SDN Staff Writer

Snyder school board on Thursday approved the appointment of a new assistant principal at the junior high, among other personnel actions. But official unveiling of results from the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills test administered last school year has been delayed.

Gayle Lomax, superintendent, announced that the TAAS scores are "very, very nice, and you're going to like them when you see them."

Later in the meeting, Lomax praised the parents of Snyder ISD for instilling a strong study-skills commitment among their children.

Results from the TAAS test were not presented at Thursday's board meeting because the two SISD employees who had been scheduled to present the results that evening — Ann McClatchey and Wendell Sollis — were unable to attend for personal reasons, Lomax said.

Also on Thursday, the Snyder school board unanimously approved the appointment of Roy Rosson of Snyder as assistant principal for Snyder Junior High.

Lomax praised Rosson, who has served Snyder ISD for 11 years, as "outstanding."

Rosson taught at Roosevelt ISD in Lubbock for a year and taught in Snyder elementary schools from 1975 until 1983 when he accepted the position of computer assisted instruction coordinator at the junior high. Rosson left SISD after the 1985 school year and returned in 1993 as a junior high computer literacy instructor.

Rosson holds a B.S. from Angelo State University and a M.Ed. from Sul Ross State University.

Trustees also unanimously approved the appointments of Wynola Early as a computer science teacher, Virgnia Lomax as an English teacher, and Bill Boles as a physics teacher, all at the high school; and Robert Bailey and Jerilyn Marshall as junior high resource teachers.

The board unanimously accepted the resignations of Kay Hopper, high school English teacher; Robin Turner, English

The feller on Deep Creek says, "If you can read a bumper sticker in L.A., there is no earthquake."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

The Lamesa Press-Reporter noted recently that its city council had done an about-face concerning development of a landfill.

The council is now looking at either building a new landfill or modifying the existing one to meet all the state and federal mandates.

Also familar sounding in Lamesa is the use of state prison inmates on city projects. Preston Smith unit inmates are being utilized to convert a burned-out eyesore on the west side of the square into a useful downtown park/plaza.

The Rotan Advance reports that things are getting tight in that community.

The city administrator told the town council it needed $76,000 to pay past and current bills. One of the bills was $43,000 owed by the city to the Rotan Water Authority.

One possible solution was to float a loan.

In Andrews, a city-owned ground storage water tank gave in to metal fatigue and split open, causing the tank to burst. It sent an avalanche of water to knock down a cinder-block fence and flooded two homes.

The 400,000-gallon tank was more than 50 years old.

The Colorado City Record reports that a former Snyder resident and WTC employee, is the new director of the Wallace Center.

The new director is Sue Sewell who lives at Lake C-City. She was selected from four finalists interviewed by the C-City ISD board of trustees.

Two sisters will stand trial for gouging sibling's eyes

DALLAS (AP) — Two Louisiana women will stand trial on charges of gouging out their sister's eyes in an attack blamed on an evil hoodoo spirit, says a prosecutor.

George West, Dallas County assistant district attorney, said Thursday that attorneys for Doretha Crawford and Beverly Johnson have not presented valid reasons for halting the prosecution.

"It's fish or cut bait time," he said. "We will go to trial unless they can come up with a good reason not to."

The Arcadia, La., women are scheduled for arraignment Aug. 3 before State District Judge Mike Keasler on aggravated assault charges in the attack on former schoolteacher Myra Obasi.

The 30-year-old woman, who still resides with Ms. Crawford in Arcadia, had asked that her sisters not be arrested and prosecuted.

"But we have enough evidence, at least in my opinion, to take them to trial," said West.

Ms. Crawford, 34, and the 35-year-old Ms. Johnson are accused of beating Ms. Obasi with their fists, then blinding her with their fingers during a prayer session March 18 at a church-home in south Dallas.

The defendants contended that a demonic spirit invaded their Caddo Parish sister after the trio left Arcadia March 17 for a car trip to Texas. Ms. Obasi was later brought to Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas by her sisters.

"I've been educated beyond my wildest dreams as to the distinction between hoodoo and voodoo, the bottom-line distinction being what form of spirit they are dealing with, either one from a Biblical type of passage or one from something made up through a native culture," West told WFAA-TV.

He said Ms. Obasi's attack was associated with hoodoo, which combines elements of voodoo from Africa and Haiti with Biblical verse and Catholicism. But the beliefs did not excuse the attack.

"'The devil made me do it,' that's not going to wash with me under any circumstances," West said. "I mean it's not recognized in Texas law and I don't recognize it."

He said that attorneys for Ms. Crawford and Ms. Johnson did not provide additional pre-arraignment information in the case to the district attorney's office by a Thursday deadline.

"The DA's office in Dallas County, they do a lot of weird things," Lela Washington, a Dallas attorney representing the defendants, said. "I think it's a waste of the taxpayers' money, effort, time but they continue to prosecute."

West said he would move to set the case for trial at the arraignment unless the defendants plead guilty or no contest. Then, he said, the sisters could negotiate a plea bargain with prosecutors or ask the judge for leniency.

Although Ms. Obasi has been uncooperative, other witnesses can testify for the prosecution, said West.

"But not having a cooperative complainant worries me," he said.

Napoleon's army of 363,000 men began its advance on Moscow in June of 1812. Men and horses were sickened by sunstroke and bad fodder, making Napoleon's plan for an early success impossible. By the end of the year when the French forces retreated from Moscow, the casualties from fighting, cold and starvation had reduced France's army to a third of its original size.

Astro-Graph By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Thursday, July 14, 1994

Your pattern of friendships in the year ahead could be a bit more unusual than that to which you've been accustomed. It looks as though you may simultaneously form several little circles of pals.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your independence might mean too much to you today, and this may cause you to fail to cooperate with others in ways that could be mutually advantageous. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N.Y. 10163.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's best not to assume assignments today that could exceed your talents. No one will think less of you if you recognize your limitations.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be on your best behavior socially today, because someone on whom you're trying to make a good, lasting impression and who you're anxious to have admire you might be observing you from a distance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Competitive developments must not be handled indifferently today. If you underestimate your opposition, you might finish back in the pack instead of first.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Plans not predicated on realistic premises could have small chances for success today. Be practical, be purposeful, and be methodical.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Joint ventures that require you to put up cash in advance should be reviewed in detail today. Be sure you understand all of the ramifications before participating.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) For the sake of expediency today, you might be tempted to agree to something before weighing all the alternatives; later you'll wish you hadn't.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) In order to perform at your best today, you'll need some type of consistent motivation. Lukewarm interests are not apt to generate your most earnest efforts.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A friend with whom you might be involved today has a bad habit of gossiping about others. Be careful what you say to this person, because he/she may talk about you when you're not present.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Success could be denied you today if your goals and objectives are not clearly defined. You must know what you want, why you want it and exactly how you intend to get it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Someone with whom you might be involved today may not be as frank and forthright as you are. Be a bit skeptical and don't believe everything he/she tells you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be very watchful today in your involvements with others where there is something of material value at stake. Be sure the facts and figures you are given all add up correctly.

Mireles involved in joint exercise

Navy Fireman Apprentice Anthony Mireles, son of Ted Mireles Sr. and the late Consuelo D. Mireles of Hermleigh, recently participated in the joint/combined exercise RIMPAC '94 abroad the aircraft carrier USS Constellation, homeported in San Diego.

An acronym meaning Rim of the Pacific, RIMPAC teamed the U.S. with four Pacific nations, Australia, Canada, Japan and the Republic of Korea, for a major maritime exercise near Hawaii.

The exercise involved more than 50 ships, 200 aircraft and 25,000 sailors, airmen, Marines, soldiers and Coast Guardsmen. Multinational exercises like RIMPAC enable naval forces from different countries to improve their ability to operate together.

Mireles is one of more than 3,500 crewmen aboard the aircraft carrier which is capable of carrying 75 aircraft.

All services are enhacing and streamlining their capabilities to maximize efficiency, particularly in joint and combined operations. The Navy complements the other services and allied forces, finding new ways to minimize duplication, and thereby efficiently meet the challenges of the new security environment, from the sea.

He joined the Navy in 1993.

Snyder FFA member named to area post

Shayla Jeter of the Snyder FFA Chapter has been elected to serve as the Texas Area II FFA secretary. Jeter will be a senior at Snyder High School this fall.

She has been actively involved in the FFA for the past three years. She has also been an active student. Her Supervised Agricultural Experience Program (SAEP) program has included both show hogs and commercial steers.

Shayla has shown in the Scurry County, San Antonio and Houston Livestock Shows. These projects allowed Jeter to receive the Lone Star FFA Degree, the highest honor a state can bestow upon its members.

She has also been actively involved in the leadership aspect of the FFA where she has participated at the district and area levels.

Jeter has served as the Snyder FFA president and Lone Wolf FFA district president before being elected to serve on the Area II officer team. During the next year, Jeter will travel extensively in West Texas presenting programs about the FFA organization to high schools and other civic groups.

She will speak to a wide diversity of people and will aid in spreading the news about today's agriculture. Jeter will also represent Texas at the National FFA convention in Kansas City, Mo. in November.

She is the daughter of Carolyn Jeter. Her agricultural advisors are David Frazier and Bob Hand.

Dear Abby

Sturdy Locks Keep Little Hands Out of Big Trouble

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1994 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My children (ages 5, 3 and 2) cannot read chemical formulas or lengthy warning labels — but they all know that a skull and crossbones means "poison."

I collect old patent medicine bottles, and I recently brought one home that had the skull and crossbones. My 3-year-old took one look and said, "Oh ... poison?"

Now, I know we all do our best to keep such nasties out of the reach of children, but I think a return to a nice, old-fashioned picture of the skull and crossbones would be a great idea. Marketers should take note!

PRAGMATIC PARENT,
MICKLETON, N.J.

DEAR PRAGMATIC PARENT: The best insurance against small children ingesting anything that could be hazardous to their health is placing sturdy locks on medicine cabinets and cupboards where dangerous products are stored.

The Poison Control Center of Los Angeles and Orange County (California) advises that even if a regulation were passed stating that the trusty old skull and crossbones be dragged out of retirement, there is no regulatory agency to decide which products should carry the label, nor is there one to enforce it. Any number of products can be hazardous if ingested or used for a purpose other than their intended one.

DEAR ABBY: I have never seen the following poem in your column, but I think it's worth printing. The title is "Myself," but I do not know the name of the author. I'm enclosing the original — which, as you can see, is yellowed with age.

A FAITHFUL PHOENIX READER

DEAR FAITHFUL: That poem has been in my personal collection of favorite poems since 1936 B.C. (Before Column).

I have published it several times, but it certainly is worth printing again:

MYSELF
by Edgar Albert Guest

I have to live with myself, and so,
I want to be fit for myself to know;
I want to be able as days go by
Always to look myself straight in the eye;
I don't want to stand with the setting sun
And hate myself for the things I've done.

I don't want to keep on a closet shelf
A lot of secrets about myself,
And fool myself as I come and go
Into thinking that nobody else will know
The kind of a man I really am;
I don't want to dress myself up in sham.

I want to go out with my head erect,
I want to deserve all men's respect;
But here in the struggle for fame and pelf,
I want to be able to like myself.
I don't want to think as I come and go
That I'm bluster and bluff and empty show.

I never can hide myself from me,
I see what others may never see,
I know what others may never know,
I never can fool myself — and so,
Whatever happens, I want to be
Self-respecting and conscience free.

It is still kosher

By Phillip Alder

Do you enjoy reading amusing stories built around bridge deals? If so, you'll want to buy "Kosher Bridge 2" by Australian Ron Klinger and Englishman David Bird, published by Gollancz. It is available for $16.45 from The Bridge World, 39 West 94th Street, New York, NY 10025-7124.

The deals range from intermediate to advanced, but studying the analysis will help almost everyone's game. Take today's deal from the book. After West leads the spade 10, how would you try to make seven no-trump? Taking it in isolation, how would you play this diamond suit for four tricks?

South, Eric, bid what he thought he could make. But when the dummy appeared, Eric saw that his partner, the rabbi, had opened with a minimum hand. Some would even say sub-minimum.

After winning trick one with dummy's spade king, Eric contemplated how to attack the diamond suit. He knew that whether he led low to the jack, playing East for king-doubleton, or started with dummy's queen, playing East for K-10-x, the odds were identical. South opted to run dummy's queen. But West produced the king: one down.

The rabbi, after receiving permission, looked at West's hand. He noticed that if South starts with two rounds of spades, the 6-1 split comes to light. Then South can cash three heart and three club tricks, finding out that West follows all the way. This means West has at most one diamond. And for the suit to be played for no losers, South must assume West holds the singleton king. South plays a diamond to his ace and claims when the king does drop.

Snyder winners in area dog shows

SAN ANGELO — Some Snyder residents were included among the winners in last weekend's Concho Kennel and Big Spring Kennel Clubs shows.

Local winners included Kevin, Darla and Jessica Brooks, with 15-inch Beagles Vinla's Sweet Petunia and Vinla's Sarah Jane. Each won championship points.

In addition, they also won Best of Breed honors with 13-inch Beagle Ch. Vinla's Midnight Maverick.

Competing at San Angelo's Coliseum were 1,020 dogs from 108 of the American Kennel Club's 136 breeds. The dogs were from 21 states. There were also five foreign dogs. Eleven AKC-licensed judges officiated.

Hulk Hogan admits he used to take steroids to bulk up

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — He was presented as a role model to thousands of young fans, a chiseled 300-pound wrestler who urged the kids to "eat their vitamins and say their prayers."

But Hulk Hogan ate more than his vitamins — he also took steroids. And, he says, most of the World Wrestling Federation also was chemically enhanced.

In a courtroom packed with autograph hounds and teen-agers, Hogan admitted it for the first time Thursday: "I used steroids to get big."

In the past, Hogan said he had only used steroids to treat injuries.

Hogan was called by the prosecution and testified under immunity in the steroid conspiracy case against WWF head Vince McMahon, his former boss and the man who transformed the Hulkster into a multimillion-dollar marketing phenomenon. The trial began a week ago.

After taking the oath under his real name of Terry Bollea, Hogan admitted that for 13 years ending in 1989, he injected and swallowed steroids.

The federal government banned steroids in 1991 for all but therapeutic uses. They can damage the liver, kidneys, testicles, heart and bones.

Hulk maintained that McMahon never ordered him to take steroids, but he testified that he sometimes ordered them through McMahon's personal secretary at the WWF's Stamford, Conn., headquarters.

Carpenter enlists in U.S. Navy

Courtney Carpenter recently enlisted in the U.S. Navy for guaranteed training at the Navy's Hospital Corpsman school.

Carpenter is the daughter of Marsha Lovelady of Snyder. Enlisting under the Delayed Entry Program, Carpenter reports to the Recruit Training Center Orlando this month for active duty, where she will undergo basic training.

Following basic training, Carpenter begins 14 weeks of schooling in Great Lakes, Ill., in the Hospital Corpsman Program.

Hospital Corpsmen assist professionals in providing health care to service members and their families. They act as pharmacists, medical technicians, food service personnel, nurses aides, battlefield medics, X-ray technicians and more.

Carpenter's recruiter, Petty Officer Glenn Jones of the Abilene Recruiting Station, noted that Carpenter may go on to additional schooling, or be assigned to any one of the Navy's duty stations around the world.

Taylor named to honor roll

SHAWNEE, Okla. — Snyder resident Betsy Taylor is listed on Oklahoma Baptist University's President's Full-Time Honor Roll for the 1994 spring semester.

Taylor, a freshman biology major, is the daughter of Don and Jean Taylor.

To qualify for the President's Full-Time Honor Roll, a student must complete at least 12 semester credit hours with a grade point average of 3.7 or above and no grade below a "B."

Daly struggles through second round at Open

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP) — John Daly worked his way among the leaders — then blew it all in two holes — early in today's second round of the 123rd British Open.

The 1991 PGA champion was 3-under-par for the day and within reach of the lead when he made the turn in crisp, cloudy weather on the Turnberry links.

Then it all went wrong.

Daly, a winner in Atlanta earlier this year, hooked his drive on No. 10 onto the beach and about 100 heavily-bundled spectators immediately poured onto the sands near the Firth of Clyde in search of the ball.

They never found it.

The disgusted Daly eventually declared it lost, went back to the tee, reached the green with his fourth and then three-putted for triple bogey-7.

But his troubles had only started.

He was just short of the green on the par-3 11th, putted up to about 7 feet, missed that one, then lipped out a 12-incher. It was a four-putt and a double bogey. The triple-double disaster dropped him from 5-under-par for the tournament to even in two holes.

Tournament leader Greg Turner of New Zealand also had his problems.

Turner, who set the first round pace with a 65, got to 7-under for the tournament after seven holes, then dropped three strokes on the next two holes.

He was bunkered in two on the eighth, just got out, chipped on and two-putted for a double bogey, then bogeyed the ninth after missing the green.

He reached the turn in 1-over 36 and was 4-under for the tournament at that point.

All-Stars win sixth straight; with 5-1 victory over Wylie

ABILENE — Snyder's Little League All-Stars continued their amazing run at the District V Baseball Tournament Thursday with a 5-1 win over Abilene Wylie.

Snyder is one of only four teams left in the tournament, and the only team not from Abilene.

The All-Stars, who have won six in a row after falling to Abilene Northern, 7-2, in the first round, will battle Abilene Dixie today at 6 p.m. at Dixie Field.

Today's other contest pits Abilene Key City against Abilene Eastern at 8 p.m.

Snyder took advantage of four Wylie errors in Thursday's win, including two that led to runs in the bottom of the fifth.

Already holding a 3-1 lead, the All-Stars got a 2-run double from Adam Beck that scored Duane Allred and Josh Ward, who both reached on Wylie miscues.

Beck's hit was his third double in the last two games. He also has six RBI in Snyder's Wednesday and Thursday wins.

Snyder took a 2-0 lead with a run in the second and one in the third.

Josh Ward started the scoring for Snyder after getting to first on an error and stealing his way around. Jerek Brown, who also placed on the basepaths via an error, came home after a Sonny Cumbie double and an RBI single by Ward in the third.

Ward finished with a pair of hits in three at-bats, an RBI and a run scored. Andy Parker also wound up with a pair of hits and drove in a run.

Wylie answered with its only run of the game in the top of the fourth when Ryan Gibbs doubled and scampered home on an error that put Curtis Ward aboard.

Both pitchers posted good numbers in the matchup. Cumbie fanned eight, walked only one and gave up four hits for the win, while loser Darryl Tyler issued just two walks, struck out six and was touched for six hits.

The difference was defense. Wylie's four errors all resulted in runs, while Snyder committed a single error that caused no harm.

A win by Snyder against Dixie would put the All-Stars in Saturday's semifinal game against the Key City-Eastern loser.

The tournament winds up with Tuesday's championship game. The tourney winner advances to the 8-team regional tournament in Iowa Park for a shot at the state event in Waco.

Cowboys open training camp

AUSTIN (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys open their 24th training camp today with only the third coach in their history. Welcome to "Switzerland."

And more than just the near-100 degree Texas heat will be on former Oklahoma coach Barry Switzer.

Tom Landry and Jimmy Johnson each won two Super Bowls with the Cowboys. Switzer, who won three national championships for the Sooners, will be considered nothing less than a failure if he doesn't produce a Super Bowl victory.

He knows it. And he's ready.

"No coach in the NFL will have more focus on them than I will this year," Switzer said. "That's OK. I can handle it."

Switzer has already been involved in long-range sniping with his predecessor, Johnson, who said Switzer "will be alright as long as he doesn't make any suggestions."

Switzer, who used to coach with Johnson, replied that he didn't appreciate Johnson being in "the catbird's seat" making catty remarks.

"It's uncalled for," Switzer said. "I understand I'll be second-guessed on how the season goes."

Johnson will serve as an analyst for Fox Television this fall on NFC games.

There won't be the adoration for Switzer in Austin that there was for Johnson.

Switzer's feud with former Texas coach Darrell Royal didn't make very many friends in Travis County.

"That was a long time ago," Switzer said. "We're all working for the same thing now."

The defending world champions, who have defeated Buffalo in the last two Super Bowls, report to St. Edward's University and have their first workouts on Saturday.

Palmer paces Rangers in win over Blue Jays

ARLINGTON (AP) — Dean Palmer bats sixth in the power-laden lineup for the Texas Rangers, but that doesn't mean he's a slap hitter.

Palmer hit his 18th homer of the season in Thursday night's 7-3 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays. Those aren't the power numbers of a guy who hits sixth in the order, but the Rangers are so explosive they can afford such a luxury.

"He's ideal in the sixth spot," Rangers manager Kevin Kennedy said. "Once you get past Jose Canseco, Will Clark and Juan Gonzalez you still have Deal Palmer, Rusty Greer and Pudge Rodriguez to face. We've got a strong lineup when we're healthy."

The Rangers third baseman added a second-inning double and Manuel Lee keyed the four-run second with a two-run double as the Rangers won for the eighth time in their last 12 games.

Palmer is 24-for-64 (a .375 clip) over his last 17 games with 10 homers and 20 RBIs.

The All-Star break certainly didn't cool off Palmer, who has 10 homers in his last 32 hits at home.

"I think the three days off were needed for this club," Kennedy said. "Deano's just continuing what he's been doing. He has produced. You don't take anything for granted but he can have the same type of numbers he had last year — 30 homers and about 100 RBIs."

Palmer started slowly and was hampered by back, wrist, and hamstring injuries before catching fire. He said the time off was welcome, however.

"Even though I was swinging the bat well, deep down I knew I needed the rest," Palmer said. "We all did. It was well-needed days off."

Palmer said he could point to nothing specific that triggered his offensive surge.

Hitting instructor Willie Upshaw said Palmer's extra sessions in the batting cage are paying dividends.

"All the work is paying off for him," Upshaw said. "He's hitting the breaking ball and he's seeing the ball. When he gets behind in the count he's going to a zone and not missing."

Juan Gonzalez started the second-inning outburst with a one-out single. Gonzalez went to third on Palmer's double, then Todd Stottlemyre hit Rusty Greer with a pitch to load the bases.

Houston falls to Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jon Lieber didn't find his slider until the late innings, but it hardly made any difference. Darryl Kile's control left him, and so did his defense.

Kile threw pitches over batters' heads, threw pitches behind them, threw pitches in the dirt, and rarely threw them where he wanted. He hardly looked like the pitcher who was an All-Star last season, and the Astros hardly looked like the NL's second-best defense.

The Pittsburgh Pirates got only one extra-base hit, Carlos Garcia's sixth-inning double, but they didn't need any to beat the defenseless Astros 8-2 Thursday night behind Lieber's complete game.

"We kept giving them too many outs, and that will always come back to bite you in baseball," Craig Biggio said after the Astros' slightly less than audacious start to the second half.

Too many outs? For a while, the Astros didn't look like they would get out of the fifth inning — and the Pirates were barely getting the ball out of the infield:

— Don Slaught singled for his 11th hit in 13 at-bats before Lieber, surprising a defense that was anticipating a bunt, punched a single past a pulled-in third baseman Ken Caminiti for his third hit in 25 major-league at-bats.

Lieber has been working on his hitting — not with hitting coach Milt May, as might be expected, but pitching coach Ray Miller.

"He told me to open up my stance more," Lieber said. "It must have worked, because I sliced it through there."

Tovar dies in Venezuela

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Cesar Tovar, one of only two major leaguers to play all nine positions in a game, died Thursday in Venezuela. He was 54.

The Minnesota Twins, for whom Tovar played from 1965-72, announced his death on the Metrodome scoreboard Thursday night and asked for a moment of silence before the game against Milwaukee.

Benpress, the national news agency in Venezuela, said Tovar would be buried Friday. He died in a hospital in his native Caracas, but the cause of death was not immediately known.

In 12 seasons, Tovar had a career batting average of .278 with 46 home runs and 435 RBIs. His best year was 1970, when he led the American League in doubles with 36, and triples with 13. He holds the Twins' record for games played in one season, 164 in 1967.

Tovar also shares the major league record, with Eddie Milner, for having his team's only hit in a game. He did it five times, and in 1969 broke up no-hit bids in the ninth inning by Baltimore Orioles' Mike Cuellar and Dave McNally.

On Sept. 22, 1968, Tovar played one inning at every position in Minnesota's 2-1 victory over the Oakland A's. He joined Bert Campaneris, who did it in a 13-inning loss for Kansas City on Sept. 8, 1965.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Honey, we've had a power failure here, so I'll be a little late getting home."

"WHAT'S WRONG? I'M STAYIN' COOL AND I GOT A SOCK FULL OF PENNIES!"

Daly struggles through second round at Open

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP) — John Daly worked his way among the leaders — then blew it all in two holes — early in today's second round of the 123rd British Open.

The 1991 PGA champion was 3 under-par for the day and within reach of the lead when he made the turn in crisp, cloudy weather on the Turnberry links.

Then it all went wrong.

Daly, a winner in Atlanta earlier this year, hooked his drive on No. 10 onto the beach and about 100 heavily-bundled spectators immediately poured onto the sands near the Firth of Clyde in search of the ball.

They never found it.

The disgusted Daly eventually declared it lost, went back to the tee, reached the green with his fourth and then three-putted for triple bogey-7.

But his troubles had only started.

He was just short of the green on the par-3 11th, putted up to about 7 feet, missed that one, then lipped out a 12-incher. It was a four-putt and a double bogey. The triple-double disaster dropped him from 5-under-par for the tournament to even in two holes.

Tournament leader Greg Turner of New Zealand also had his problems.

Turner, who set the first round pace with a 65, got to 7-under for the tournament after seven holes, then dropped three strokes on the next two holes.

He was bunkered in two on the eighth, just got out, chipped on and two-putted for a double bogey, then bogeyed the ninth after missing the green.

He reached the turn in 1-over 36 and was 4-under for the tournament at that point.

SPORTS

All-Stars win sixth straight; with 5-1 victory over Wylie

ABILENE — Snyder's Little League All-Stars continued their amazing run at the District V Baseball Tournament Thursday with a 5-1 win over Abilene Wylie.

Snyder is one of only four teams left in the tournament, and the only team not from Abilene.

The All-Stars, who have won six in a row after falling to Abilene Northern, 7-2, in the first round, will battle Abilene Dixie today at 6 p.m. at Dixie Field.

Today's other contest pits Abilene Key City against Abilene Eastern at 8 p.m.

Snyder took advantage of four Wylie errors in Thursday's win, including two that led to runs in the bottom of the fifth.

Already holding a 3-1 lead, the All-Stars got a 2-run double from Adam Beck that scored Duane Allred and Josh Ward, who both reached on Wylie miscues.

Beck's hit was his third double in the last two games. He also has six RBI in Snyder's Wednesday and Thursday wins.

Snyder took a 2-0 lead with a run in the second and one in the third.

Josh Ward started the scoring for Snyder after getting to first on an error and stealing his way around. Jerek Brown, who also placed on the basepaths via an error, came home after a Sonny Cumbie double and an RBI single by Ward in the third.

Ward finished with a pair of hits in three at-bats, an RBI and a run scored. Andy Parker also wound up with a pair of hits and drove in a run.

Wylie answered with its only run of the game in the top of the fourth when Ryan Gibbs doubled and scampered home on an error that put Curtis Ward aboard.

Both pitchers posted good numbers in the matchup. Cumbie fanned eight, walked only one and gave up four hits for the win, while loser Darryl Tyler issued just two walks, struck out six and was touched for six hits.

The difference was defense. Wylie's four errors all resulted in runs, while Snyder committed a single error that caused no harm.

A win by Snyder against Dixie would put the All-Stars in Saturday's semifinal game against the Key City-Eastern loser.

The tournament winds up with Tuesday's championship game. The tourney winner advances to the 8-team regional tournament in Iowa Park for a shot at the state event in Waco.

Cowboys open training camp

AUSTIN (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys open their 24th training camp today with only the third coach in their history. Welcome to "Switzerland."

And more than just the near-100 degree Texas heat will be on former Oklahoma coach Barry Switzer.

Tom Landry and Jimmy Johnson each won two Super Bowls with the Cowboys. Switzer, who won three national championships for the Sooners, will be considered nothing less than a failure if he doesn't produce a Super Bowl victory.

He knows it. And he's ready.

"No coach in the NFL will have more focus on them than I will this year," Switzer said. "That's OK. I can handle it."

Switzer has already been involved in long-range sniping with his predecessor, Johnson, who said Switzer "will be alright as long as he doesn't make any suggestions."

Switzer, who used to coach with Johnson, replied that he didn't appreciate Johnson being in "the catbird's seat" making catty remarks.

"It's uncalled for," Switzer said. "I understand I'll be second-guessed on how the season goes."

Johnson will serve as an analyst for Fox Television this fall on NFC games.

There won't be the adoration for Switzer in Austin that there was for Johnson.

Switzer's feud with former Texas coach Darrell Royal didn't make very many friends in Travis County.

"That was a long time ago," Switzer said. "We're all working for the same thing now."

The defending world champions, who have defeated Buffalo in the last two Super Bowls, report to St. Edward's University and have their first workouts on Saturday.

Palmer paces Rangers in win over Blue Jays

ARLINGTON (AP) — Dean Palmer bats sixth in the power-laden lineup for the Texas Rangers, but that doesn't mean he's a slap hitter.

Palmer hit his 18th homer of the season in Thursday night's 7-3 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays. Those aren't the power numbers of a guy who hits sixth in the order, but the Rangers are so explosive they can afford such a luxury.

"He's ideal in the sixth spot," Rangers manager Kevin Kennedy said. "Once you get past Jose Canseco, Will Clark and Juan Gonzalez you still have Deal Palmer, Rusty Greer and Pudge Rodriguez to face. We've got a strong lineup when we're healthy."

The Rangers third baseman added a second-inning double and Manuel Lee keyed the four-run second with a two-run double as the Rangers won for the eighth time in their last 12 games.

Palmer is 24-for-64 (a .375 clip) over his last 17 games with 10 homers and 20 RBIs.

The All-Star break certainly didn't cool off Palmer, who has 10 homers in his last 32 hits at home.

"I think the three days off were needed for this club," Kennedy said. "Deano's just continuing what he's been doing. He has produced. You don't take anything for granted but he can have the same type of numbers he had last year — 30 homers and about 100 RBIs."

Palmer started slowly and was hampered by back, wrist, and hamstring injuries before catching fire. He said the time off was welcome, however.

"Even though I was swinging the bat well, deep down I knew I needed the rest," Palmer said. "We all did. It was well-needed days off."

Palmer said he could point to nothing specific that triggered his offensive surge.

Hitting instructor Willie Upshaw said Palmer's extra sessions in the batting cage are paying dividends.

"All the work is paying off for him," Upshaw said. "He's hitting the breaking ball and he's seeing the ball. When he gets behind in the count he's going to a zone and not missing."

Juan Gonzalez started the second-inning outburst with a one-out single. Gonzalez went to third on Palmer's double, then Todd Stottlemyre hit Rusty Greer with a pitch to load the bases.

Houston falls to Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jon Lieber didn't find his slider until the late innings, but it hardly made any difference. Darryl Kile's control left him, and so did his defense.

Kile threw pitches over batters' heads, threw pitches behind them, threw pitches in the dirt, and rarely threw them where he wanted. He hardly looked like the pitcher who was an All-Star last season, and the Astros hardly looked like the NL's second-best defense.

The Pittsburgh Pirates got only one extra-base hit, Carlos Garcia's sixth-inning double, but they didn't need any to beat the defenseless Astros 8-2 Thursday night behind Lieber's complete game.

"We kept giving them too many outs, and that will always come back to bite you in baseball," Craig Biggio said after the Astros' slightly less than audacious start to the second half.

Too many outs? For a while, the Astros didn't look like they would get out of the fifth inning — and the Pirates were barely getting the ball out of the infield:

— Don Slaught singled for his 11th hit in 13 at-bats before Lieber, surprising a defense that was anticipating a bunt, punched a single past a pulled-in third baseman Ken Caminiti for his third hit in 25 major-league at-bats.

Lieber has been working on his hitting — not with hitting coach Milt May, as might be expected, but pitching coach Ray Miller.

"He told me to open up my stance more," Lieber said. "It must have worked, because I sliced it through there."

Tovar dies in Venezuela

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Cesar Tovar, one of only two major leaguers to play all nine positions in a game, died Thursday in Venezuela. He was 54.

The Minnesota Twins, for whom Tovar played from 1965-72, announced his death on the Metrodome scoreboard Thursday night and asked for a moment of silence before the game against Milwaukee.

Benpress, the national news agency in Venezuela, said Tovar would be buried Friday. He died in a hospital in his native Caracas, but the cause of death was not immediately known.

In 12 seasons, Tovar had a career batting average of .278 with 46 home runs and 435 RBIs. His best year was 1970, when he led the American League in doubles with 36, and triples with 13. He holds the Twins' record for games played in one season, 164 in 1967.

Tovar also shares the major league record, with Eddie Milner, for having his team's only hit in a game. He did it five times, and in 1969 broke up no-hit bids in the ninth inning by Baltimore Orioles' Mike Cuellar and Dave McNally.

On Sept. 22, 1968, Tovar played one inning at every position in Minnesota's 2-1 victory over the Oakland A's. He joined Bert Campaneris, who did it in a 13-inning loss for Kansas City on Sept. 8, 1965.

Invasion of Haiti appears inevitable

WASHINGTON (AP) — An invasion of Haiti may not be imminent, but it appears inevitable unless military leaders give up control of the Caribbean country, some members of Congress say. The White House said today the situation in Haiti "continues to deteriorate."

Adding to the invasion speculation, U.N. Ambassador Madeleine Albright said Thursday that 12 Latin American countries have agreed to contribute troops to a peacekeeping force.

And the Pentagon said an invasion-control ship will arrive Saturday in the Caribbean, joining the Navy fleet off the Haiti's shores.

Meanwhile, the White House said Clinton signed a directive Thursday authorizing the use of American helicopters and other equipment to tighten enforcement of U.N. sanctions against Haiti along the border with the Dominican Republic.

Vice President Al Gore said an invasion of Haiti "certainly is not imminent."

Proposal not accepted

closed."

"I hate to start up North again," said Glenn Clarady. "I don't think we need to open it up again. If we are going to do it, I think we ought to go all the way and open up the whole campus again."

Richard Chambers said North "has always been a bur in everybody's saddle" and noted that "no one likes to build portable buildings." He suggested, however, that the district use the four existing storage rooms at North as classroom and office space, "save $140,000, and see how it works out."

Charles Anderson, board chairman, said, "I'm for doing something, but I want to wait. I want to see it studied thoroughly." He suggested the proposal be put on hold for now.

Trustees briefly discussed insurance Thursday. Business Manager Lee McNair told the board that renewal rates for insurance would go up about $8 per employee, resulting in a $36,000 increase for the district. He said insurance agents are working on different plans (higher deductible, higher stop loss and other methods) and that that information might be available as early as next week.

Trustees also briefly reviewed a list of proposed budget decreases amounting to $104,568. These include a two-year phase-in on para-professional salary increases that would save $40,568 for 1994-95, and deletion of a 71-passenger school bus, which would save $40,000.

Those cuts would reduce total expenses to $15,395,072.

The board is considering a 1994-95 budget with revenues of $15,195,500 — based on a proposed tax rate of $1.43 per $100 valuation.

The difference between anticipated revenues and expenditures leaves a deficit of $200,000, which could be taken from reserve funds.

Administrators note that a tax rate of $1.43 is eight cents above the 1993-1994 rate of $1.35, but seven cents below the cap of $1.50 per $100 valuation.

An increase in the proposed tax rate of one cent would mean about $49,000 in tax revenues.

SISD's effective tax rate — the rate needed to bring in the same amount of tax dollars as the previous year — would be $1.59. School districts are limited to the $1.50 cap by law, however.

The board will meet again in a budget workshop set for 6 p.m. Aug. 11. A regular board meeting will follow at 7:30.

teacher and coach at the high school; Barbara Knowlton, librarian at Central Elementary; Mary Williams, resource teacher at Northeast Elementary; and Dell Davis, special education teacher at West Elementary.

Also, the board scheduled a budget workshop to begin at 6 p.m. Aug. 11, followed by a regular school board meeting to begin at 7:30 p.m. that day.

The board also scheduled a special meeting to begin 7 p.m. Aug. 15 for a budget hearing, to be followed by adoption of the budget.

In other action, trustees:

• Approved budget amendments permitting the payment of $53,000 toward hoistway construction and construction of a new elevator at Snyder High School.

• Approved a budget amendment permitting the expenditure of approximately $44,000 in state funds remaining in the current fiscal year for the Special Education Budget for SISD.

• Approved by a 5-0 vote, with two abstentions, a budget amendment permitting a total payment of approximately $33,000 in Teacher Compensation Allotment funds to 22 SISD teachers. Abstaining were Mark McCormick and Luann Burleson.

• Approved a budget amendment permitting an increase in SISD budget's contribution to Hobbs Co-op from the previously budgeted amount of $150,000 to $175,000. The higher amount was necessitated by an increase to $24 per student in the rate charged to SISD for participation in the co-op. SISD sends an average of 45 students per day to the co-op.

• Approved the school district's workers' compensation plan for the next fiscal year, which begins Sept. 1. All of the approximately 380 full-time employees of SISD and all of its part-time employees as are covered by the plan. No employee of SISD is currently receiving benefits under the plan.

• Designated Lomax as the authorized representative for the National School Lunch Program.

• Approved payment of the bills on approximately 10 different funds. Abstaining were Mark McCormick and Glenn Clarady.

All Snyder school board members attended the meeting on Thursday.

NANAWADE VAUGHN

Nana Vaughn

1909-1994

Services are set for 2 p.m. Saturday at the First United Methodist Church for Nanawade Vaughn, 85, of Snyder. The Rev. Ernie McGaughey, pastor of the church, will officiate. Burial will follow in Hillside Memorial Gardens.

Mrs. Vaughn died Thursday at 5:20 p.m. in Cogdell Memorial Hospital following a brief illness.

Born on May 16, 1909, in Sallis, Miss., she married W.A. "Bill" Vaughn on April 2, 1925 in Snyder. He died on Dec. 3, 1986. She came to Snyder when she was nine years old. Mrs. Vaughn, a homemaker, was a member of the First United Methodist Church.

Survivors are one son, J.D. Vaughn of Snyder, and one granddaughter, Nancy Vaughn of Post.

T. Sterling Jr.

1929-1994

Services are set for 4 p.m. Saturday at the First United Methodist Church for Tommy Sterling Jr., 64, of Goldthwaite. The Rev. Ernie McGaughey, pastor of the church, will officiate. Cremation will follow.

Mr. Sterling died at 2:08 a.m. Thursday in the Abilene Regional Hospital.

Born on Dec. 8, 1929, and reared in Scurry County, he was the son of the late T.J. and Pearl Sterling. He married Doris Beckham on March 19, 1955, in New Mexico. Mr. Sterling was a farmer and lived in Tahoka from 1956 until four years ago when he moved to Goldthwaite.

Survivors include his wife, Doris Sterling of the home; two daughters, Ginger Sterling of Nashville, Tenn., and Gwen Kauffman of San Angelo; one sister, Doris Spikes of Snyder; five brothers, Buford Sterling, Howard Sterling, Mickey Sterling, all of Snyder, J.M. Sterling of Vincent and Curtis Sterling of Lubbock; and one grandson, Tommy Kauffman of San Angelo.

Memorials may be made to the New Horizon Ranch & Center, Box 549, Goldthwaite, Tex. 76844.

Mary Lambert

1910-1994

Funeral mass for Mary Ann Lambert is set for 2 p.m. Sunday in St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church. Father Liam Sweeney will officiate. Burial will follow in the Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home.

Rosary for Mrs. Lambert will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home Chapel.

Mrs. Lambert died at 12:55 a.m. Thursday in Snyder Healthcare Center after a long illness. She was 84.

Her parents, Joseph and Mary Nachlinger, moved to Hermleigh from Smithville, and she was born on Jan. 28, 1910 in Hermleigh.

After graduating from Hermleigh High School, she attended San Marcos College. She taught school at the German School from 1931-33 and later taught at the Katherine Ryan School.

She married Addison Casstevens, owner of Casstevens Tin Shop in Snyder, in 1933. He died on March 8, 1959. She married Hilton Lambert on June 15, 1963, and he died on June 9, 1978.

Mrs. Lambert was a member of the St. Elizabeth Catholic Church and was a life member of the Martha Ann Woman's Club, and was a previous member of the Snyder Garden Club.

Survivors include three brothers, Frank Nachlinger of Hermleigh, Pete Nachlinger of Snyder and W. J. "Bill" Nachlinger of Byron, Calif.; two sisters, Helen Wadleigh and Viola "Peg" Gracey, both of Snyder; 20 nieces and nephews and numerous great-nieces and-nephews.

She was preceded in death by a brother, Leo Nachlinger; and a sister, Della Gannaway; and her parents.

Pallbearers will be nephews Bobby Joe Nachlinger, Jack Nachlinger, Butch Nachlinger, Larry Nachlinger, Lanny Wadleigh, Pete Wadleigh, Tom Wadleigh, Jerry Gannaway and Dick Nachlinger.

The family suggests memorials to the St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, 3005 Ave. A., or to the American Diabetes Association, 2209 N. Big Spring, Suite 5, Midland, Tex. 79701.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

ISRAEL'S FIRST KING

AMIDST CRIES OF "GOD SAVE THE KING," A YOUNG BENJAMINITE, THE CENTER OF ATTENTION, IN THIS HUGE THRONG OF ISRAELITES STANDS OUT LIKE A BEACON ON A STORMY NIGHT. HANDSOME, MODEST, TALLER BY A HEAD AND SHOULDER THAN ANY OTHER MAN, THIS IS HIS GREATEST MOMENT FOR HE HAS BEEN ANNOINTED KING OVER ALL THE TRIBES OF ISRAEL. WHAT A PITY THAT FROM SUCH A MOMENTOUS START THIS MAN'S DESTINY WILL LEAD HIM TO THE DREGS OF DESPAIR, DEFEAT, AND A VIOLENT END. SAUL, SON OF KISH, THE FIRST KING OF ISRAEL, WHOSE FUTURE EXPECTATIONS WERE SO GREAT BUT WHOSE REALIZATIONS WERE DOOMED TO IGNOMINIOUS FAILURE. ALL OF WHICH HAS BEEN RECORDED IN SAMUEL, CHAPTERS 8, 9, 10.

Sleep aid ingredient linked to aches

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: A couple of years ago I had [illegible] sent for through the mail. Then the manufacturer sent me a letter indicating it contained L-tryptophan and I should discontinue the product. I suffer hair loss, joint pain and rashes. My doctor did blood tests that indicated my white count was up. He said he didn't know of any other tests to take to see if I had an infection. What tests should he perform?

DEAR READER: L-tryptophan, a natural food product, was previously widely used as a sleep aid. Several years ago, however, many medical reports were published incriminating L-tryptophan as a dangerous compound that caused extreme muscle aches and weakness, and a syndrome called eosinophilic fasciitis, which resembles scleroderma, and is characterized by inflammation of tendons and tissue that covers muscle. The reason why L-tryptophan caused this syndrome was never discovered.

To diagnose this condition, you need blood tests (including an analysis of blood proteins) and a biopsy of affected skin and muscle. Ordinarily, the white blood cell count is not affected by L-tryptophan; in your case, the elevation may be due to a relatively [illegible].

Although many patients with fasciitis recovered completely without therapy (except to discontinue the L-tryptophan), other more seriously affected patients required treatment with cortisone drugs.

Because of the hazards connected with its use, L-tryptophan is no longer used as an ingredient in medicines, either over-the-counter or by prescription.

To give you more information on general medications, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Consumer Tips on Medicine." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have essential hypertension for which I take Corgard, potassium and Maxzide. I've recently suffered from lumbar and knee pain. Anti-inflammatory medications could not be tolerated. Therefore, I was told by my internist to take either a 10 grain aspirin or extra-strength Tylenol for the pain. This doesn't control the excruciating discomfort, and I'm at a loss as to [illegible].

DEAR READER: Because your arthritis is not related to the problem of hypertension, return to your doctor for prescription anti-arthritis drugs, such as Voltaren, Feldene or Lodine. If taken with another drug called Cytotec, these medicines will not cause stomach upset, indigestion and peptic ulcers.

Although I rarely favor using one drug to counteract the specific side effects of another, it sounds as though you need help. Your physician can assist you.

Plano store sues Lotto Texas

McKINNEY (AP) — A Plano retailer's lawsuit accusing the Texas State Lottery Commission of several anti-trust violations has been transferred to federal court.

Stan Frenzel, who owns Stan's Discount Beer and Wine, claims in his lawsuit that lottery officials created a monopoly that violates several federal acts. He is seeking more than $370,000 in damages.

Frenzel says lottery officials are effectively denying computer access to selected businesses because the issuance of a Lotto computer terminal is based on the sales of instant scratch-off tickets from each licensed location.

The suit also contends the Texas Lottery is violating the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Act by "grandfathering" instant ticket sales from one business that was sold to another.

Finally, the lawsuit claims that lottery officials are violating the Texas State Lottery licensing procedures by allowing licensed retailers with felony and misdemeanor offenses to sell tickets.

Assistant Attorney General Rodney Geer said the office filed a response Thursday denying the lawsuit's claims. Geer said the office asked that the case be transferred to federal court because Frenzel "has made federal claims in the petition."

Frenzel said he views the move as an advantage.

"The federal government has a tendency to be stricter on state issues than the state does, and the federal issue is only one third of the case," he said.

McCoo and Davis to renew vows

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don't sound the wedding-bell blues for singers Marilyn McCoo and Billy Davis Jr. They celebrate their 25th anniversary this month.

"We are fortunate that we began our relationship as friends, and that same friendship has brought us through many challenges," McCoo said Thursday in a statement.

The two planned to renew their vows July 26 in Beverly Hills.

McCoo and Davis were founding members of the group The 5th Dimension, known for such hits as "Up, Up and Away," "Wedding Bell Blues" and "Aquarius."

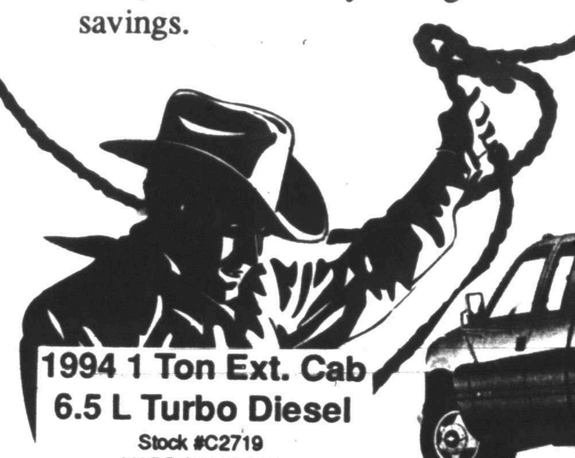

They left the group in 1975 and launched a career as a duo, which included the No. 1 single, "You Don't Have to Be a Star (To Be In My Show)."
