U.S. denies new Libyan raid

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Anti-aircraft fire broke out for a half-hour today in the capital, and Libyan officials said the target was a U.S. reconnaissance plane. Reporters heard small arms and mortar fire and saw apparent street skirmishes near Col. Moammar Khadafy's headquarters.

Libya radio claimed U.S. jets today raided the Tarhounah area, 50 miles south of Tripoli, and Allous, 40 miles east of Tripoli, and that four U.S. jets were shot down. It said the U.S. jets failed to hit their targets. In Washington, Pentagon spokesman Fred Hoffman denied the Libyan claim. "There is no U.S. military activity in Libya," he said.

The radio had also claimed four U.S. warplanes were shot down in a raid Tuesday night, but U.S. officials said the only American attack was before dawn Tuesday.

As for reconnaissance flights, Pentagon sources, speaking on condition of anonymity, acknowledged efforts have been made to survey the Libyan targets using satellites and aircraft.

Khadafy failed to appear today for a promised news conference, which was to have been his first public appearance since the bombing. Libyan officials insisted he was unhurt by the bombing and denied reports he had fled Libya.

About 70 reporters in a bus were nearing Khadafy's sprawling headquarters compound for today's news conference when small arms fire started about 500 feet from the vehicle.

"Gunfire started and they wheeled the bus around and started back. I turned and saw rounds ricocheting off the street," said Associated Press correspondent Robert H. Reid, who was on the bus. He said it was not clear who was involved in the fighting.

"As we went back through neighborhoods in a rush, traffic was crazy. People were trying to get out of the way," he said.

Ibrahim Seger of the Foreign Information Department said, "It's anti-aircraft fire. When they heard an American plane overhead, they started shooting."

Libyan radio said a U.S. SR-71 Blackbird reconnaissance plane had violated Libyan airspace.

Libyan officials reacted angrily when they heard short-wave radio reports relaying the journalists' stories of street skirmishes. "It's not true, it's not true," Seger said.

Journalists in the Hotel Al Kabir saw a Libyan patrol boat fire cannon rounds along the Tripoli waterfront, but it was not clear who was

Day 2

European TV networks show Khadafy's film

LONDON (AP) — Television networks in Europe showed film of Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafy that state-controlled Libyan television said was shot after the U.S. air raid on Tripoli, but more than a day after the attack Khadafy had not appeared in public.

Libyan officials insist Khadafy survived the Tuesday assault which included his barracks. A doctor said his adopted infant daughter was killed and that two of his sons were injured.

The Libyan TV footage was distributed to the British Broadcasting Co., and French and Italian channels which showed brief segments showing a weary-looking Khadafy talking with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Anisimov.

The television station claimed to have made the tape after the early morning air strike, however there was no way to determine when the tape was made. The shot was taken in what appeared to be an office.

In Rome, an editor at Italy's state-run network Rai said the Libyan TV footage appeared to have been taken Tuesday. But the editor, who spoke on condition of anonymity, added, "With the Libyans it is impossible ever to be certain of anything."

The Iranian news agency, monitored in London, said today that Iran's President Ali Khamenei spoke to Khadafy by telephone Tuesday night and pledged Iranian support.

"The Libyan leader assured President Khamenei that the 'nose of the aggressors will be smashed,'" the agency said.

Syria's state radio said Tuesday that the Libyan leader called Syrian President Hafez Assad, his closest Arab ally, from the Libyan capital of Tripoli three hours after the attack and "discussed the American air strikes against civilians in Tripoli and Benghazi."

84 percent favor another assault on terrorism

By The Associated Press
More than eight of 10 Americans surveyed say the United States should attack Libya again if it is linked to terrorism, according to results of a poll published today.

The poll by the newspaper USA Today also found that 61 percent believe the U.S. bombings increase the chances of war in the Middle East, and 26 percent said it increases the prospect of a war between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The random poll of 690 Americans also found that 29 percent of the respondents said the United States should support efforts to assassinate Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy, 66 percent disagreed and 6 percent weren't sure.

It also found that 84 percent would support another attack on the North African country if it is linked to another act of terrorism.

No margin of error was given.

In other polls, more than two-thirds of the 534 adults surveyed one hour after the attacks Monday night said they supported the strike, according to the NBC News-Wall Street Journal Poll.

Absentee voting set for county

Voters who are over 65, disabled or who will not be in town May 3 can cast an absentee ballot at the Howard County clerk's office now until April 29.

The office will even be open Saturday, April 26, to accommodate voters from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m., a spokeswoman for the clerk's office said.

On the ballot for both Republican and Democratic primaries May 3 are candidates for county, district, regional and statewide office.

Parolee serves time on mistaken identity

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

A Big Spring parolee spent 4½ months in prison as a result of an aggravated assault charge that eventually was dismissed.

The charge apparently stemmed from a case of mistaken identity. "I was innocent of this thing and shouldn't have gone back" to prison, says 25-year-old Willie Ray Myles.

He was sent back to the Texas Department of Corrections by the state Board of Pardons and Paroles to do "time he had left on a marijuana conviction" after his arrest for assault, said parole officer David Harman of Big Spring.

The board revoked Myles' parole on April 25, 1985 — 16 days after the defendant underwent a parole hearing at his request. According to inmate records from the public information office at TDC, Myles was housed at the state penitentiary from April 11 to Aug. 30, 1985.

On May 23, 1985, while he was in prison, a Howard County grand jury indicted him on the aggravated assault charge. His case was last set for trial March 31 in 118th District Court. But instead, the case was dismissed that day by District Judge James Gregg at the request of District Attorney Rick Hamby.

Basis for the dismissal was that the victim, Robert Walker, "identified another person as his assailant," Hamby said.

Assistant District Attorney Robert Morris said Friday afternoon that Bob Smith, a special investigator, had obtained written affidavits from witnesses saying Myles had been misidentified as Walker's assailant. Smith was recently assigned to the case on a motion filed by Myles' court-appointed attorney Robert Miller.

"We only paid attention to the affidavit from the victim," Morris said. "He didn't think it was Willie Ray Myles anymore so we dropped the case."

Why Walker changed his mind remains a question to Morris. He said he didn't know whether the state would investigate the case further.

"He (Walker) is still a victim. No doubt the man was hit in the head with a hammer. The question is, who hit him?" Morris said.

A parole process that landed the defendant back in the state pen begin when Myles voluntarily turned himself in to Howard County sheriff's deputies for arrest March 4, 1985 — the same day an emergency warrant was issued from the state parole office in Austin.

Wayne Henry of Big Spring drops his income tax return in the slot seconds before the midnight deadline. He was the last person to mail a return before midnight at the local post office. Postmaster Frank Hardesty said about 500 tax returns were mailed here Tuesday night. All those mailed before 3 a.m. Wednesday received a Tuesday postmark, he said.

It was the time of reckoning for procrastinators as the last hours, then minutes, ebbed away and those 1040s and Schedule A's and Moving Expense Forms had to be on their way to Uncle Sam, or else.

Across the land, Americans who left it to the last minute to settle their affairs with the government swarmed on post offices and mail boxes in what has become an April 15 tradition.

Hance gets area GOP support

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Three area Republican chairmen have joined a list of county chairmen endorsing Kent Hance for the party's gubernatorial nomination.

Glasscock County Chairman Charles Harris, Dawson County Chairman R. D. Newberry, Borden County Chairman Jack McPhaul and 31 other chairmen signed a letter of support for Hance sent to Republicans, one of the endorsing chairmen announced Tuesday.

Stressing a recurrent theme of Hance's campaign, the letter said that Hance stands the best Republican chance of beating Democratic incumbent.

Names in the news

MOSCOW — Pianist VLADIMIR HOROWITZ played a romantic etude for the 86-year-old daughter of Alexander Scriabin during a visit to the home of the late composer.

The 81-year-old Horowitz said he had played for her father as a 10-year-old and that the composer had scared him.

Scriabin's daughter, Yelena Alexandrovna, chatted with Horowitz for a few minutes Tuesday in front of a television camera crew before he played the romantic C-sharp minor Etude, Opus 2, No. 1.

Horowitz returned to the Soviet Union on Monday for the first time since he left his homeland in 1925. Visiting under the renewed U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange, he will play concerts in Moscow on Sunday and in Leningrad on April 27.

RAY CHARLES
 ...honored by lawmakers

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Singer RAY CHARLES, honored by Florida lawmakers, says he remembers coming to the state capital in bare feet to listen to Cannonball Adderley and other great jazz and rhythm and blues artists.

Charles, who grew up in the panhandle town of Greenville and overcame blindness and poverty, on Tuesday visited the House and Senate, which gave him a resolution in braille lauding his accomplishments.

"It's a wonderful thing to come back to where it all began," Charles said. "You do have my heart."

After recalling his trips to Tallahassee to hear Adderley,

Charles then sat down at a piano and serenaded the senators and a packed gallery with "Three-Quarters Time," a Merle Haggard song.

LOS ANGELES — Actor NATHANIEL TAYLOR, who played Rollo on television's "Sanford and Son" series, has been arrested and booked for investigation of burglary, police said.

Taylor, 48, his brother, James, 41, and Shing Pang, 38, were arrested Tuesday, police said. About $200,000 worth of stolen computers and typewriters were seized. The arrests came hours after the Sports Connection athletic club in West Los Angeles reported the theft of 10 IBM typewriters and a computer, Police Lt. Howard Hughie said.

Nathaniel Taylor played Rollo Larson, a friend of Lamont Sanford who eventually became a partner of Fred Sanford, on the "Sanford and Son" show, which ran on NBC-TV from 1972 to 1977. The character continued on the reteoled series called "Sanford," which ran from 1980 to 1981.

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. — Actor TODD BRIDGES of the ABC-TV show "Diff'rent Strokes" has been ordered back to court after pleading innocent to three felony counts charging him with bombing a car.

The 20-year-old Bridges is accused of detonating a plastic bomb in a Mercedes-Benz owned by his automobile customizer, Gregg Tyree, on March 26. The explosion caused only minor damage and there were no injuries, prosecutor Michael Knight said.

Bridges pleaded innocent Tuesday to exploding a destructive device, possessing a destructive device and possessing materials to manufacture a destructive device.

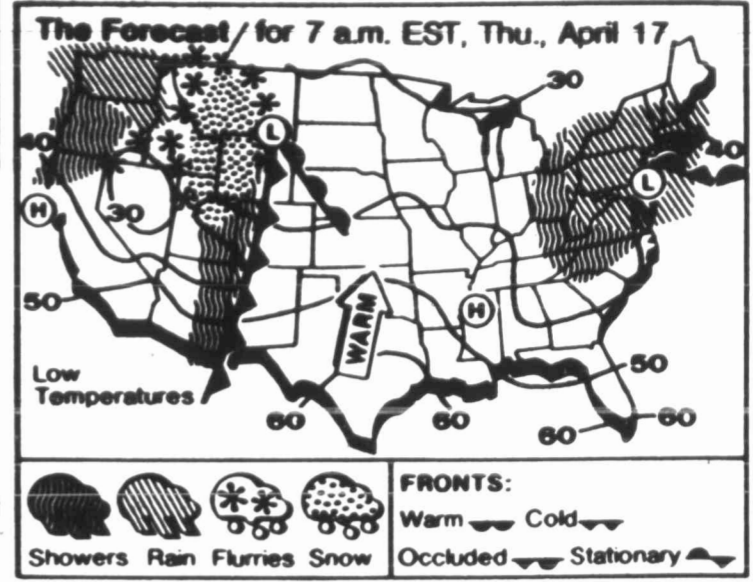

He was ordered back to court for a May 21 preliminary hearing and remained free on $10,000 bond. Knight said Bridges was upset with Tyree, who had been hired to customize the actor's Porsche sports car, because of the cost and the time the work took.

OTTAWA — PRINCESS MARGARET, younger sister of Queen Elizabeth II, will visit Canada in July, Gov.-Gen. Jeanne Sauve says.

Monday's announcement said Margaret would visit British Columbia, including Expo 86 in Vancouver.

Her visit is the third recently announced royal visit to Canada. Prince Charles and Princess Diana are scheduled to arrive in British Columbia on April 30 for an eight-day visit. Princess Anne will visit New Brunswick, Ontario and Alberta from June 20-27.

Weather

Forecast

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday with widely scattered thunderstorms tonight and scattered afternoon thunderstorms Thursday mainly in the north sections, a few possibly severe. Lows tonight upper 40s north to the low 60s big bend. Highs Thursday mid 70s panhandle to the mid 90s along the big bend.

State

High pressure extended from central Canada, through the nation's plains, into Texas early today, as high clouds covered most of the state.

The only exception was in the deep south and middle Rio Grande plains, where low clouds and a moist layer of gulf air was poised. A southeast wind of 5 to 15 miles an hour flowed from the extreme south into West Texas, while a light and variable wind calmed the rest of the state.

"I've made this midnight run the last four years," said the Rev. David Jongewaard of Jacksonville, Md., who was dropping off his returns at the Baltimore post office. "I must get a high off the adrenaline. This is dumb. I think it's going to be simpler every year, but it isn't."

"These are my mom's taxes," said Pam Hurd, a 28-year-old Los Angeles teacher, explaining why she was part of the crowd at the post office there. "She's in the hospital."

"This is pretty interesting," she added. "I didn't know what I was missing."

The pretty interesting scene in Los Angeles was similar to that in other cities: Bumper-to-bumper traffic lurched down the street in front of the post office, while postal workers stood at curbside, taking envelopes from motorists and stuffing them into canvas bags. Inside the building, hundreds more people crowded into long lines.

The Internal Revenue Service estimates that perhaps 10 million of the 104 million couples and individuals filing returns this year waited until the final day.

An additional 4.4 million filed requests for a four-month extension, officials estimate.

Liquor-by-drink petition close to goal

By SPENCER SANDOW
 Staff Writer

Citizens for Choice is within 300 signatures of victory in getting the liquor-by-the-drink issue on the ballots, said attorney Ben Bancroft, spokesman for the group.

County Tax Assessor-Collector Dorothy Moore said 2,213 signatures had been validated as of Tuesday afternoon, "and we're still counting." The group brought in several petitions this morning, which the office hasn't finished checking yet, she said.

Monday is the deadline for petitioners to have the less than 300 valid signatures still needed to meet the 2,421 names required by law. About 50 petitions are still in circulation, Bancroft said.

If enough signatures are collected, Moore must go before the county commissioners at their next meeting, May 12, to declare them valid, she said. The commissioners then set an election date, 21 to 30 days after the declaration.

Bancroft said the new strategy of turning the petitions in as they are completed, instead of turning all signatures in on deadline, has paid off.

Up to 10 percent of the collected signatures have been invalid, he said, but petitioners are able to go back to those signers and get them to correct the matter in some cases.

This is the third effort in two years to get the issue on the ballots. The last petition drive died when hundreds of signatures were ruled invalid because they did not conform to the signature on the signer's voter registration card, as the law requires in issues involving alcohol.

Sheriff's Log

Home damaged by vandals

Someone broke a window of a trailer owned by Charlie Upton of Neil Road, south of Anderson Road, according to sheriff's reports.

Deputies found a brick on the front porch, pry marks on the front door and the trailer unplugged from its electrical supply. No one appeared to have entered the trailer, according to the reports. The crime occurred between 6:45 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Police Beat

Trailer window is broken

Kent Brown of 3311 11th Place told police Tuesday afternoon that someone caused $995 damage to his home by throwing rocks through the windows and doors at an unknown time.

Luanna Lopez of 1502 Mesa Ave. told police Tuesday morning that someone stole a $936 stereo system, a small color television valued at $25 and a glass bottle containing $60 in cash.

The break-in occurred Tuesday morning with the burglar entering through a back door after causing $25 damage to a window.

John Roger Turner, 35, of Route 1 Box 487 was released from jail at 7:50 a.m. today on credit for good behavior. He was serving time for aggravated driving while intoxicated, sheriff's reports said.

Stephen Douglas Debritto, 31, of Hyattsville, M.D. was transferred to Rockville, M.D., authorities at 8:50 a.m. Tuesday. He was arrested on a Rockville warrant for violation of probation, sheriff's reports said.

Arrested in the same incident was William A. Ross, 27, of Motel 6. Police suspect him of giving a fictitious name when asked by an officer to identify himself.

Myles

Myles was on parole at the time for a July 17, 1979, Nolan County conviction for possession of marijuana. He was placed on parole August 8, 1984, after serving four years and six months of his sentence.

The state board warrant ordered that Myles be arrested and detained because he was suspected of assaulting Walker with a claw hammer during a party March 2, 1985, at a residence in the 1500 block of E. 11th Place.

Harman, who investigated the case and requested the emergency warrant, said Walker picked Myles out of a photo lineup before the parole hearing was conducted.

"He doesn't even know who in the heck hit him — how can he file a complaint?" Myles said about Walker's actions.

The complaint as Myles said he understood it claimed that Walker had hit his assailant first and knocked him to the ground. As he turned around and began walking away, Walker said his assailant jumped from behind and struck him three times on the left side of his head with the weapon.

Harman said a determining factor in the parole hearing that led to Myles' revocation was the result of a polygraph test that the defendant "readily submitted to" prior to the hearing.

"He flunked the polygraph," Harman said. "That's why we revoked him."

Drew Mouton, an attorney who was hired by friends and family of Myles, objected to the use of polygraph results as evidence in court, Harman said.

Mouton's objection was overruled by parole hearing officer Ted Welch, Harman said, on grounds that the hearing was classified as "administrative," which allows all facts relevant to the case to be admissible.

During the hearing, Harman said, Myles summoned three friends who testified that he was at another party at 15th and Benton streets the same night.

"After the hearing was all said and done, the hearing officer (Welch) didn't believe Myles or his friends," Harman said. "He recommended that parole be revoked."

Harman said he gave Myles "benefit of the doubt," when he initially learned of the assault.

"I was leaning toward believing Willie," he said.

Harman said, however, that his feelings changed after Myles flunked the polygraph.

Myles said he lived in fear of his life during the last stint in prison. As self-described paralegal, he said he filed several legal motions during his term "to make them drop the case or do something with it."

"Like I told them, I said, 'Hey, I'm innocent of this thing. Why don't you all believe me?'"

School board to discuss new career ladder policy

Adoption of a career ladder policy is on the agenda for the Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees' regular meeting Thursday.

The meeting will begin at 5:15 p.m. in the board room at Big Spring High School.

A proposed policy to be submitted by the career ladder committee is more detailed than the current policy, said Superintendent Lynn Hise. Evaluation of teachers on a point basis is included in the proposed policy, he said.

Also, two citizens will address board members at the meeting, Hise said. The Rev. Keith Gibbons will speak about school policy on leaving school for adoption purposes. Dr. Bob Riley, president of Howard College, will speak about the college's program to grant all Howard County graduates a scholarship to the college.

In other business, possible changes in the kindergarten program will be discussed. The district may set up a kindergarten center, Hise said, depending on enrollment projections and the public's reaction to the proposal. House Bill 72 requires a ratio of 22 students per teacher for younger students.

The board also will select an attorney for delinquent tax collections and consider requests for student transfers to the Big Spring school district from out of town.

Contras vie for power

WASHINGTON — As the House debates military aid for Nicaraguan rebels, top Contra leaders are engaged in a fierce power struggle that could decide who will run the war against Nicaragua's leftist Sandinista government, according to sources close to the movement.

The sources, speaking only on condition of anonymity, said the Contra leaders and the White House have tried to keep the internal battle out of public view to avoid jeopardizing congressional approval of President Reagan's request for $100 million in Contra aid.

But at stake is whether Adolfo Calero, head of the Nicaraguan Democratic Force, FDN, the largest rebel army, will remain the dominant figure in the Contras' political umbrella group, the United Nicaraguan Opposition, UNO, the sources said.

Charity has motives

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — A survey of 135 American millionaires indicates they give money to charitable foundations for reasons ranging from tax incentives to "ego satisfaction."

The survey was sponsored by the Council on Foundations and Yale University's Program on Non-Profit Organizations and presented Tuesday at a conference of the Council on Foundations, a Washington, D.C.-based organization of more than 1,000 foundations and corporate grantmakers.

Teresa Odendahl, a Yale faculty member who conducted interviews, said those surveyed were mostly white, Protestant and well-educated — more than half graduated from Ivy League schools.

Two sketches released

HOUSTON — FBI officials released two composite sketches of a man suspected in the recent tampering of Contac, Teldrin and Dietac capsules, saying he continues to be a threat to society.

The FBI on Tuesday also released a tape recording of the suspect, who calls himself Gary.

The sketches are based on information from witnesses who believe they watched a man place contaminated capsules in an Orlando, Fla., store on March 19. The sketches show a white male of undetermined age. In one photo, he is wearing glasses.

Rapist put to death

HUNTSVILLE — Texas prison inmate Jeffrey Allen Barney, with a tear in his eye and proclaiming he deserved to die, was executed early today for raping and strangling a Houston-area minister's wife in 1981.

"I'm sorry for what I done," Barney said in a final statement. "I deserve it. I hope Jesus forgives me."

Barney, 28, a native of Dayton, Ohio, had asked that no appeals be filed in an attempt to halt the lethal injection, the second in Texas this year and the 12th since the state resumed the death penalty in 1982.

About 50-60 demonstrators marched and carried signs Tuesday afternoon outside the McNamara Federal Building in Detroit, chanting "Hands off Libya, Reagan is the Terrorist" and "End U.S. wars from Libya to Nicaragua."

Raid fallout

Opinions differ on Libyan air strike

Americans had mixed feelings about the U.S. military strike on Libya, with some hailing it as a blow against terrorism and others saying it would create new problems.

In Woodbury, N.J., eight men marched carrying American flags and shouting slogans to show their support for the air strike.

Motorists in Lucasville, Ohio, blared their horns Tuesday as they passed a sign saying "Honk if you're proud to be an American" in front of Valley Intermediate School. On Monday, the sign, part of the school's Patriotism Week celebration, was practically ignored, said principal Paul Miller.

President Reagan said he ordered the bombings because of Libyan responsibility for the terrorist bombing of a discotheque in West Berlin that killed two people, including an American serviceman, and wounded more than 200.

After hearing of the U.S. retaliation, an American serviceman seriously burned in the terrorist bombing told his mother, "It's about time."

"He was elated that they had finally done something," said Frances Hawkins, mother of Spec. 4

David Jackson. Uli Derickson, a stewardess on TWA Flight 847 when it was hijacked by Shiite Moslem terrorists last summer, said the U.S. should resort to military action only as a last resort in the battle against terrorism.

"If only some of our diplomats and some of our leaders would understand that if there is a time bomb ticking in the world, you don't kick that time bomb to see if it will go off. You try to defuse it," she said during an appearance in Bloomington, Ind.

"I know that the Middle East is a series of time bombs within time bombs. And even if we defuse the largest one, there will still be others that will tick on because we have waited too long," she said.

"I don't know whether we are right or wrong," said Marie DeStefano, of Manchester Township, N.J., who was a passenger on the cruise ship Achille Lauro shortly before it was hijacked in the Mediterranean Sea last year. "I am frightened for us."

Another victim of terrorism, Eric Jacobsen, a Huntington Beach, Calif., resident whose father, David, is among the American hostages in Lebanon, said it may be premature to celebrate.

"If violence begets more violence, the attack is something we cannot be happy about," he said.

Captors free socialite

DUBLIN, Ireland — Police freed kidnapped socialite Jennifer Guinness unharmed early today from a house they had surrounded in Dublin, and arrested three men suspected of holding her captive for eight days.

"I am absolutely delighted. I was treated very well," Mrs. Guinness shouted through the open window of a police car that sped away from the scene in a convoy of eight police vehicles, their sirens screaming and lights flashing.

Mrs. Guinness, 48, was freed after a five-hour siege that ended about 6:30 a.m. (12:30 a.m. EST).

Stalin's kin returns

LONDON — Olga Peters, the American-born granddaughter of Josef Stalin, returned to Britain after 18 months in the Soviet Union saying she missed the West and was excited about reporting to school today.

The 14-year-old arrived at London's Heathrow Airport late Tuesday on a flight from Moscow. Smiling and glad to be speaking English again, she told reporters she had no regrets about being taken to the Soviet Union by her mother, Svetlana Alliluyeva.

"No, I'm not sorry that I went. It was a really great experience for anybody," she said. "I'm just glad to be back and I'm looking forward to seeing my friends at school."

OPEC takes day's break

GENEVA — OPEC oil ministers broke off their formal conference today in order to meet privately for a day on ways to increase oil prices, a cartel spokesman said.

James Audu told reporters after a two-hour morning session that the ministers from the 13-member Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries would consult in small groups during the afternoon on possible oil-production cuts aimed at reversing the oil market collapse.

He said the full conference would reconvene Thursday.

Audu declined to provide any details on the morning talks, except to say the ministers had finished discussing the American air raids on Libya. On Tuesday, OPEC publicly condemned the attacks.

Marcos accused of fraud

MANILA, Philippines — Government lawyers said today they had filed a complaint with a government commission accusing ousted President Ferdinand E. Marcos, his wife, and 24 associates with embezzling at least $5 billion in foreign loans and other funds.

Solicitor General Sedfrey Ordenez said he filed the complaint April 7 with the government's Commission on Good Government, which has been investigating charges that Marcos and his associates made off with billions of dollars when they fled the country at the end of February.

Opinion

Editorial writers react to U.S. raid

Here is a sampling of editorial reactions to the United States' bombing raids on Libya.

Nashville (Tenn.) Banner: "The air attack that the United States launched against Libya Monday was measured and appropriate. There can be no question about the provocations that brought it about.

"There can be no assumption that Monday's raids will cause terrorist activities to cease, and Mr. Reagan said as much in his address. The raids demonstrated to Libya that terrorism has a price. It was a step the U.S. had to take. And it may be one that has to be taken again and again."

Milwaukee Sentinel: "The nature of the war against international terrorism changed dramatically Monday when American planes attacked selected bases in Libya. President Reagan clearly warned Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy that the United States would not sit still for more abuse.

"Reagan, whose record includes a recovery from a gunshot wound, may never before have shown more courage as president. While the United States can clearly outgun Libya in any area of warfare, Reagan ran the risk that Khadafy would step up selected dagger-in-the-night type terrorism against Americans.

"Without question, the president deserves the support of all Americans in taking this initiative. As Reagan said: 'Self-defense is not only our right, but our duty.'"

Daily News of New York: "America is at war, by Libya's choice. The Libyan government ordered its agents and embassies to attack Americans. That's an act of war. There are many ways to respond to aggression. Libya isn't imperial Japan or Nazi Germany. The U.S. is a superpower that can afford patience. President Reagan said, 'We tried quiet diplomacy, public condemnation, economic sanctions and demonstrations of military force.' When they all failed, he ordered Monday's strike. ...

"It's quite possible, as the Europeans have pointed out, that the attack won't stop Khadafy. It is entirely possible that the U.S. will have to strike again. If that comes, the U.S. must be in a position to put forward for worldwide consumption convincing — compelling — evidence of the Libyan offenses that justify further action."

The Louisville (Ky.) Times: "While the raids were popular with Congress and struck a highly responsive chord from an American public fed up with Col. Khadafy's bloody mindlessness, the greater question is whether they achieved their goal. In the cold light of the following day, it is doubtful.

"If anything, the attacks strengthen the hand of Col. Khadafy.

"If the result is an escalation of terror and increasing restraints upon the freedom of Americans to move safely about the world, then the price has been too high."

The Deseret News of Salt Lake City: "It's easy, of course, to criticize the U.S. raid, as many around the world are doing. Among them, incredibly, are some ostensible American allies and some nations that have as much, or more, to fear from Libya's aggression as the U.S. does. ...

"But efforts to reason with Khadafy have been tried repeatedly and haven't worked. Neither have U.S. diplomatic and economic sanctions against Libya. Neither have efforts to pillory Libya in the United Nations for its acts of terrorism and outright aggression against more than a score of nations."

The New York Times: "Countries cannot — should not — respond to every terrorist act with force. ... But sometimes, clear conditions permit and even require a forceful response, as they did in this case. ...

"For the United States to have failed to act, when all these conditions were clearly met, would have said to the world: 'Go ahead. Shoot. Bomb. Kill. This tiger never bites.' There have been times in the shadow war of terror when the tiger could do no more than snarl and twitch his tail — and there will be others. On Monday, for once, America could justifiably send a different message. This tiger bites."

Seattle Post-Intelligencer: "Although the ultimate wisdom, or lack of it, of the joint Air Force-Navy attack cannot be immediately assessed, Americans have good reason to fully support President Reagan's decision. Yet we cannot lose sight of where we are today: The United States has escalated a defensive war against an escalating terrorist threat. ...

"President Reagan has taken a gamble, but some risk-taking is necessary if the United States is to fulfill its legitimate role as the free world's leader in the fight against international terrorism."

Libya hatched many plots

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA
WASHINGTON — A series of State Department cables disclose the far-ranging, Libyan-sponsored acts of terrorism and subversion that aroused the Reagan administration's ire against Libyan troublemaker Moammar Khadafy.

The cables covered five years of incidents, from the Italian island of Sardinia to the deserts of Sudan — each one chronicled in detail by American Embassy officials in the countries targeted by Khadafy and his assassins. A 1981 report by the State Department's intelligence and research bureau, which had been classified Secret, attempted to sum up what was then known about Khadafy and to share this information with U.S. embassies.

"Libya has been an active supporter of international terrorism since at least 1972," the intelligence analysis noted, citing evidence that Khadafy had "targeted several world leaders" and carried out assassinations of Libyan exiles and dissidents in Europe and the Middle East.

"Khadafy's current focus is on subversion of neighboring North African states," the report warned. It specified that Sudan, Niger, Mali and Chad "have been among his targets." The intelligence experts estimated that Khadafy had spent "hundreds of millions in support of international terrorism since the early 1970s."

Among the disruptive actions Khadafy's oil millions financed were "operational assistance" to subversive militants, provision of safe houses and weapons, the use of Libyan embassies "as support bases for terrorist operations," and the sharing of intelligence.

Interestingly, the 1981 report noted that Libya also "provided false documentation for a variety of terrorists" — exactly what it was accused of doing for the terrorist who attacked the Rome and Vienna airports last December.

Reports from U.S. embassies in the next few years confirmed the 1981 intelligence warning. Here are some highlights of these cables reports, which were obtained under the Freedom of Information Act by our associate Lucette Lagnado:

• In July 1982, the Madrid embassy learned of a Libyan plot to assassinate Saudi Arabia's King Fahd. "The group which would carry out the murder had access, through a U.S. agency intimately connected with the CIA, to the Saudi royal family's security measures," the embassy cabled.

• In March 1984, the embassy in Amman, Jordan, reported on a plot to destroy the Jordanian embassy in Libya. The cable said the Jordanian prime minister had provided details about the planned attack.

• In December 1982, the embassy in Rome reported a Libyan plot to help "separate Sardinia from Italy." Fifteen Sardinians had been arrested in the conspiracy. An Italian political party was implicated, as was "a Libyan by the name of Geri Mehmed Tabet, currently at large, with whom the separatists apparently had contact in October 1981." The Libyan government was to supply money for the breakaway militants, who planned "to undertake a number of ambitious acts of sabotage at airports and a NATO military base ... (and) to kidnap an American military officer."

• In June 1984, a Libyan airline employee gunned down a Libyan-born shop-owner in downtown Athens. The victim, who survived, was the publisher of an anti-Khadafy paper. Three other Libyans in Greece were killed the following month.

• In July 1984, the embassy in Khartoum, Sudan, reported a plot by Libyan-backed terrorists to assassinate then-President Gaafar Nimeiry and blow up the American Embassy and other targets. The plotters were caught and confessed that their Sudanese revolutionary movement was led by "a Libyan hireling."

PENTAGON WATCH: When Congress passed a law in 1969 requiring ex-military personnel to report their employment with defense contractors to discourage favoritism among old service buddies, a sponsor of the bill remarked: "Sunshine is a great disinfectant." Unfortunately, the Pentagon's less than enthusiastic enforcement of the law has produced an environment more suited to mushroom-growing than disinfecting. Only 13.6 percent of former Army personnel comply with the law, according to a General Accounting Office investigation. About 18 percent of former Navy and Marine Corps people comply, while some 60 percent of ex-Air Force employees do.

Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

Prospect of future raids not discounted

By TIM AHERN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Even as American bombers were streaking away from Libya, dump trucks were pulling up around the U.S. Capitol — a frontline of the precautions that American security forces must take to blunt the possibility of a new round of retaliatory terrorism.

President Reagan, mindful of the dangers unleashed by his strike into Libya, warned Moammar Khadafy to end the cycles of terrorism.

"Today, we have done what we had to do. If necessary, we shall do it again," Reagan said during a nationally broadcast speech Monday night.

The trucks were around the Capitol to block any attempt to deliver a bomb by car or truck, similar to the devastating 1983 attacks on two U.S. facilities in Beirut — the American embassy and the Marine barracks.

If Khadafy chooses to retaliate, his targets are numerous. American tourists and business people are among the world's leading travelers and can be found almost anywhere, from the busiest cities airports to the smallest and most remote outposts.

While Reagan's action won immediate support in Congress, some legislators worried about what comes next.

Future acts against the United States will also require military retaliation, said Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan. "Once you start down this road, there isn't any turning back." Senate Minority Leader Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., noted that Reagan promised to repeat the U.S. attacks if necessary.

"Are we going to do this again and again and again?" Byrd said. "I think the president gets himself into a box by saying he's going to do it again and again. And what if there is a clear track (of terrorist activity) going to Syria or Iran? What do we do then?"

Even Reagan raised the prospect of future strikes. "When our citizens are abused or attacked, anywhere in the world, on the direct orders of a hostile regime, we will respond so long as I'm in this Oval Office."

There will also be consequences for American foreign policy. One thing that is clear is that U.S. standing in the Arab world is certain to be harmed. An immediate consequence will be more damage to the already stalled attempt to forge a peace between Israel and its Arab neighbors.

While Khadafy has been privately criticized in the past by his Arab neighbors, those nations have also rallied around him and have — with the notable exception of Egypt — ignored Washington's appeals to join in the anti-Khadafy effort. Arab leaders can now be expected to rally behind Khadafy, no matter what they think of him privately.

In Europe, America's allies have consistently refused administration entreaties to join forces against Libya. Most of those NATO allies have stronger economic ties to Libya

Positive signs on cityscape

By HANK MURPHY
If you can look beyond the recent wave of violence breaking across the city, the trashed lots and buildings and layoffs in the oil business, you can see a number of positive developments on the horizon.

Economically, there are some good signs in the wind, like the hiring of 44 additional people at the state hospital. Most of which we're told will be local.

Also, sales tax rebates are up 4 percent over the same period last year. The rebates are a barometer of retail sales activity.

Then, too, unofficial word has it that Western Container is planning a $6 million expansion. A source close to the plastics industry told me the plastic bottling industry should continue to grow for the next 10 to 15 years, which means a stable area employer for the next decade.

This is aside from the work of the Downtown Steering Committee, whose efforts to improve the quality of life in Big Spring are commendable.

Besides some good economic news, the city has struck several blows against a nagging apathy that until recently had a choke hold on the town.

Consider: More than 4,000 voters turned out in the city's mayoral election, a whopping 135 percent increase over the last election.

Consider: About 150 citizens of all ages and ethnic persuasions turned out Saturday to clean the Big Spring, symbolic of the effort needed to make the city of the same sparkle. Many of the groups and individuals I talked to signaled a willingness to move on other parts of town. Furthermore, individuals are hinting of action on the city's litter problem by pushing for an ordinance aimed at sharply curbing the number of glass and plastic bottles strewn about the city.

Consider: A group of merchants are banding together to help police put a damper on business burglaries.

Lastly, the city is moving forward with capital improvements that will build water pressure in parts of town suffering an inadequate flow and will improve streets and water lines on the north end of town.

Some people have said Big Spring is a dying city. But by the look of things, the town seems far from ready to cash in its chips.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the staff writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the newspaper's management.

Oil import fee plea renewed

IRVING (AP) — Saying the nation "desperately needs predictability" in oil prices, Gov. Mark White joined five other governors in urging President Reagan to impose a variable oil-import fee to battle the swelling glut of petroleum.

"The entire productive sector of America has been decimated" by a Saudi Arabia-induced flood of oil, the six governors said in a statement compiled Tuesday after a day-long oil summit.

Attacking the problem from an economic angle will get nowhere, but pegging it to national security and two days of violence in the Mediterranean may be enough to convince President Reagan and Americans that something must be done, the governors said.

Reagan has already rejected the idea of an oil-import fee, but the six said the U.S. air attacks on Libya and Col. Moammar Khadafy's ensuing bid for and OPEC oil boycott may help change his tune, they said.

OPEC ministers meeting Tuesday in Geneva condemned the bombings. Libya's oil minister had said he would ask the organization for a boycott of oil shipments to the United States, but it was not clear whether the request was brought before OPEC.

"The events of yesterday and today point out more dramatically than anything that could be said about the tenuous world oil situation," said White, who called for the meeting with other oil-state governors.

A committee representing the governors will meet with Reagan Tuesday to hash out their differences over the import fee, which would vary as the price of oil changed, as well as to urge the president to ditch the Fuel Use Act and the windfall profits tax.

"We must maintain the ability to chart our own course toward energy sufficiency, and we urge immediate action before further irreparable damage is done," the governors wrote.

New Mexico Gov. Toney Anaya noted that approaching the problem from an economic angle is a losing battle, even though oil-producing states are being devastated by the oil-price plunge.

"From a consumer point of view, I would like to see prices even lower," Anaya said. "But from an economic point of view, it's a losing battle. ... We need to develop a rational approach" that reflects not self-interests of the six governors' states but of the nation as a whole.

The governors and other officials representing 10 oil-producing states were told by industry analysts that the United States may be importing 75 percent of its oil by 1995, a statistic they said bodes ill for national security.

"The light at the end of the tunnel is changing from yellow to red," said Wyoming Gov. Ed Herschler. "It's time for this nation to consider the implications of this oil situation."

Weekend golfers to bear steepest leap in charges

By HANK MURPHY
Staff Writer

City Council's 83 percent proposed hike for annual membership to the Municipal Golf Course has been trimmed considerably in the most recent fee package brought before the council Monday.

That's good news to regulars at the course who buy annual memberships, but not so good for those who play weekends and use golf carts.

With the final package readied for vote, golfers can expect the following rates: An annual adult membership will cost $200, up from $175. Senior citizens and junior members will see a $10 and $5 jump in their fees respectively. Rates will be nudged up a dollar for weekend golfers, 75 cents for juniors. Those hitting the links on weekends will see a $3 leap in fees.

People who previously used golf carts at no additional charge will be subject to a fee for both storage and use on the course.

The council expressed approval at a $200 yearly storage fee and a $2 per cart per day trail fee or a $150 annual trail cost.

Along with steeper fees for golfers, tennis players, swimmers, those who reserve park pavilions,

Moss Lake goers, those who use the Dora Roberts Community Center and city softball teams can expect a jump in fees this year.

Final council action on the fee package is expected May 13.

Firefighters' pay

Besides wrapping up work on fees, the council made a decision on the firefighters retirement plan, clearing the way for final action on the revised city budget.

Councilman Russ McEwen had asked that budget action be delayed until the council resolved questions about how much if any the city would match in firemen's contributions to their retirement plan.

Under state law, the fireman are allowed to put up to 9 percent of their pay into a retirement fund which must be matched by the city. They are now stashing 6 percent in that fund.

The firefighter's association had asked the council to consider giving firemen a 3 percent raise and still match up to 3 percent more their salary for the retirement fund.

But the council, led by Harold

Hall and Johnny Rutherford, remain adamant about not giving firemen anything beyond the 3 percent raise the council budgeted for all city employees.

McEwen recommended the council approve a 3 percent across-the-board city pay increase, and "as a good faith gesture" match up to a 1 percent firefighter contribution to their retirement fund.

"Fellas, we're looking at a state law," McEwen said. "My opinion is we can be forced to (match up to 3 percent)."

Rutherford said the law states the city must appropriate matching funds, it does not say from where. He said any matching funds could come from firemen's salaries.

After about 45 minutes of debate, the council, on the recommendation of City Attorney Doyle Curtis, decided to give the firemen a 3 percent raise divided between the retirement fund and salary as the firemen wish. But, council agreed the city will not go beyond the raise in matching any retirement contributions.

International brige opens

AUSTIN (AP) — State highway officials predicted Tuesday that the opening of an international bridge between Presidio and Ojinaga, Mexico, would benefit the area economically.

Dignitaries from both sides of the Rio Grande attended the opening ceremony on Tuesday.

The $2 million bridge, a joint project between Texas and Mexico, offers a more direct route into the interior of Mexico as trucks must now travel to El Paso or Del Rio to gain entry to the Chihuahua region of Mexico, the state highway department said in a statement.

Work on the two-lane, 791-foot bridge began in October 1984.

Highway engineer Luis Ybanez of the department's El Paso district designed the bridge and translated the design standards into Spanish for Mexican engineers.

Although minor differences exist in the seven spans of concrete — four built by Mexico and three by Texas, Ybanez said most people will not be able to differentiate between the Texas-built side and the Mexico-built side because "the bridge facing conforms to the same look overall, even if there are slight variations in design."

Floyd pulls out of race

Travis Floyd said Tuesday he is withdrawing as an active candidate for state representative in the 69th District due to "health and personal problems."

Floyd had filed for office as a Republican and was to face John R. "Rich" Anderson in the Republican primary election May 3.

Floyd said he has leukemia which had been under control at the time of his early January announcement for office, but has been a problem for him lately. He said he has been considering withdrawing in the last three weeks.

"I decided I couldn't devote the energy and time to the race" that is needed, he said.

Neither Anderson nor incumbent Larry Don Shaw will get his endorsement, he said. "I would like to see a good write-in candidate" in either primary, he said.

Because of the lateness of his decision, Floyd's name will appear on the ballot for the May primary, he said.

Analyst: U.S. bombing may drive up prices of OPEC oil

By WILLIAM GARLAND
Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — The U.S. strike against Libya could lead OPEC to cut back on production and push up oil prices — partly to retaliate against the United States, a leading energy and Middle Eastern specialist in Washington said Tuesday.

Saudi Arabia and other Arab members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries would "like to put distance between themselves and the United States" by driving up prices, said G. Henry M. Schuler of Washington's Georgetown Center for Strategic and International Studies.

"The champion of the price war is Saudi Arabia and Saudi Arabia is embarrassed with its relationship with the United States," said Schuler. "They don't want to be identified with United States interests at this time ... when you get a high visibility event like this" in the Arab world, he said.

He added that the Libyan situation is only the most recent pressure on other Arab countries on Saudi Arabia to agree to cutbacks in production.

Schuler said he did not know whether agreements on cutbacks could come as early as this week at the OPEC meeting in Geneva, where oil ministers on Tuesday discussed the strike against Libya but did not agree to an oil embargo against the United States. The Libyan oil minister said he would request such an embargo.

Other analysts have predicted that OPEC probably would not reach production agreements this week.

Rep. Jack Fields, a Republican whose congressional district includes parts of Houston, also suggested that an attack against oil facilities would be the most devastating blow to the Libyans.

Libyans inspect the damage to homes and autos caused by U.S. warplanes, which attacked Tripoli early Tuesday.

firing or their target. Gunfire also was heard from the southern and northwestern sectors of Tripoli.

After the shooting ended, the reporters again were put on a bus to go to Khadafy's compound, several miles from central Tripoli. Khadafy lives and has his military headquarters there.

The Khadafy residence, a two-story blue and white cement building, was peppered with shrapnel from a bomb that left a large crater 10 yards away. Some interior walls were knocked down and plaster was piled up.

Dr. Mohammed Muafa, director of pediatrics at the Fatah University Hospital, said Tuesday he had come to the residence to treat Khadafy's wounded children. He said Khadafy's 15-month-old adopted daughter, Hana, died, and his sons Kanis, 3, and Sefh al-Arab, 4½, were wounded.

Western diplomats estimated the death toll from the bombing at 100. Libyan officials would say only that many people were killed, and hospitals said up to 100 people were injured in one residential area.

President Reagan said he ordered the attack because evidence showed Libya plotted the April 5 bombing of a West Berlin discotheque in which a U.S. soldier and a Turkish woman were killed.

A U.S. Embassy employee was shot in the head and seriously hurt Tuesday in a suburb of Khartoum, Sudan's capital, U.S. officials said. They said they had no information directly linking the attack to Libya, but an official at the U.S. Embassy in Khartoum said the attack occurred near the Libyan embassy.

Libya claimed to have destroyed a U.S. maritime navigation station on Italy's tiny Lampedusa island, 175 miles north of Tripoli, in a retaliatory attack. But U.S. and Italian officials said two missiles fired from a ship or warplane fell short.

Today was the first time reporters were allowed near the Khadafy compound since the attack. A tennis court in the Khadafy compound had bomb and shell holes, and bits of shrapnel and debris littered the area. Trees had their branches blown off and power lines were down.

Herald Recipe Exchange

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor

Featured in this week's Recipe Exchange are recipes from the cookbook Call Fries to Caviar. These delicious desserts would highlight any sesquicentennial party.

Janel Franklin and Sue Vaughn, authors of the cookbook, will present more recipes from their cookbook at a cooking school with a sesquicentennial theme, sponsored by the Junior Women's Club April 17 at 7 p.m. at Garrett Hall in the United Methodist Church.

If you have a special recipe you'd like to share, write to the Herald Recipe Exchange, in care of the Big Spring Herald P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring Texas 79720.

TEXAS RANGER COOKIES

These go fast

Cream:

- 1 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup brown sugar

Add:

- 2 eggs

Stir in:

- 2 cups flour
- 1 tsp. baking soda
- 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 2 cups oatmeal, uncooked
- 2 cups Rice Krispies
- 1 cup coconut
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Mix well. Mold with hands into balls the size of walnuts. Press flat with a fork. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven for 12 to 14 minutes. (May substitute 2 1/2 cups Corn Flakes for 2 cups Rice Krispies.)

Yield: 4-5 dozen

SUGAR COOKIES

Mam-ma Cook always sent these to the lake for the kids

Cream together in large mixing bowl:

- 1 cup sugar
- 1 stick margarine or butter

Add, one at a time:

- 2 eggs
- 2 tsp. milk
- 3 tsp. baking powder
- 2 tsp. vanilla

Stir in:

- 2 cups flour (my need more)

Chill 10 minutes so dough will handle better. Turn out onto a lightly floured board or waxed paper. Roll to about 1/4-inch thick. Cut into desired shapes. Place on cookie sheet. Bake in preheated 325 degree oven for 15 minutes, or until only slightly brown.

Yield: 7-8 dozen

RUM DUMS

Mix well, using hands if necessary: 3 cups very finely crushed vanilla wafers

- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 1 1/2 cups nuts, chopped very fine
- 1 1/2 tsp. cocoa
- 2 tsp. white Karo syrup
- 1/2 cup Rum (May use 1/4 cup Rum and 1/4 cup orange juice)

Form into small balls about the size of a pecan. Place powdered sugar in a small bowl and roll balls until coated well. Wrap in waxed paper. These freeze well.

WHISKEY BISCUITS

Always found at Mussy's house at Christmas

Cream together in a large mixing bowl:

- 1 stick butter, softened
- 1 cup brown sugar, packed

Add:

- 4 eggs, slightly beaten
- Mix until dissolved and add to sugar mixture:
- 3 tsp. soda
- 3 tsp. buttermilk

Stir in:

- 1/2 cup Whiskey (may use orange juice)

In a large bowl, put:

- 3 cups flour
- Stir into flour:
- 1 tsp. cloves
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. allspice
- 1/2 box white raisins (may use cut up dates)

- 1 pound candied cherries
- 1 pound candied pineapple
- 2 pounds pecans

Combine flour with creamed mixture. Drop by teaspoonful on cookie sheet, 2-inches apart. Bake in a preheated 375 degree oven for 8-10 minutes. Do not get too brown. Cookies should be slightly soft. Store in air-tight container. Will freeze well.

Yield: 12 dozen

CARAMEL-NUT PIE

Calories: One zillion

Mix in medium saucepan and cook over medium heat

- 1 can Eagle Brand milk

1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
Dash of salt
Cook until thick. Stir in:
1/4 cup pecans, chopped
Cool mixture and put into baked pastry shell.

Sprinkle over mixture:

- 1/4 cup pecans, chopped

Whip until stiff:

- 1 cup heavy cream

Fold in:

- 1/4 cup powdered sugar
- Spread on top of filling. Garnish with toasted coconut. Refrigerate.

Yield: 8 servings.

'HIGH AS THE SKY' STRAWBERRY PIE

In a small mixing bowl, whip:

- 1/2 cup whipping cream
- Set aside. Chill a medium mixing bowl and beaters. Combine and beat for 15 minutes at high speed:
- 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen strawberries
- 2 egg whites
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. lemon juice

Add:

- 1 tsp. vanilla

Fold the two mixtures together gently. Pour into a pre-baked pastry shell. Swirl the top. Place uncovered in the freezer. Serve frozen. Garnish with whole strawberries.

Yield: 8 servings.

SYRUP PIE

Really more of a caramel pie. Recipe has been in the Franklin family for 150 years

Mix all ingredients in a medium skillet:

- 2 eggs
- 2 tsp. flour
- 1 cup white Karo syrup
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar

Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture reaches a rolling boil. (It will probably stick, but this does not affect the results of the pie.) Continue cooking for 2-3 minutes. Add 1 tsp. vanilla. Pour into pastry shell. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven for 15 minutes. Texture resembles caramel. Serve warm or cold.

Yield: 6-8 servings.

JAYME J'S CALYPSO PIE

Melt:

Cassie Fillingim, left, and Cheryl Harris are preparing for the cooking school April 17. Tickets are $5 and can be purchased from any Junior Women's Club member or at the door that night.

1/4 cup butter

Add:

- 18 crushed oreo cookies
- Press into a 9-inch pie pan. In a medium saucepan, melt:
- 3 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 1/4 cup butter

Remove from heat and stir in:

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- Blend well. Gradually add, mixing well:
- 1 can (13 oz.) evaporated milk

Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, for about 4 minutes or until thick. Remove from heat and stir in 1 tsp. vanilla. Chill in refrigerator.

Soften 1 quart mocha ice cream (or any other flavor). Put ice cream into crust. Pack down and put into freezer. Cover with cooled chocolate fudge sauce. Top with whipped topping that has 3 tsp. powdered sugar added to it. Garnish with silvered almonds. Return to freezer until ready to serve.

Yield: 8 servings.

$25,000 CAKE

Mix well:
1 box German chocolate cake mix,
dry
2 eggs, well beaten
1 tsp. almond flavoring

Batter will be very thick. Grease and flour 13x9x2-inch oblong baking dish. Spread mixture evenly in bottom of pan. Carefully spoon over batter, 1 can cherry pie filling. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven for 25 minutes. Remove from oven and spread frosting on white cake is hot.

CAKE COATING: for a quick, delicious icing, spread warmed honey over cake and sprinkle with chopped nuts or grated coconut.

$25,000 CAKE FROSTING

Combine in a small saucepan:
1/2 cup milk
1 cup sugar
5 tsp. butter or margarine
Bring to a boil. Cook 1 minute. Remove from heat and add:
6 ounces milk chocolate chips
Stir and frost cake in pan.

Dear Abby

Couple's endless arguments cause bedroom problems

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I fight and argue all the time, but we never settle anything. He clams up because he's afraid if he really got mad, he will blow up, so he tells me to drop the subject and he won't let me talk anymore. When I drop it, a lot of resentment builds up, and the next time we fight, I bring up the last one which wasn't settled.

The big problem is that this causes problems in the bedroom. I, for one, cannot get intimate and living when things are bothering me from our last fight. I have tried to tell him this, but he says stored-up resentment has nothing to do with intimate relations.

Don't say, "Go to a counselor." We have been to two — one for three years. It hasn't helped. We can't get a divorce either, as we are bound by God's word. Besides, we have no grounds for one. We have one child. What should we do?

RESENTMENT IN OKLAHOMA
DEAR RESENTMENT: Your husband is wrong. Stored-up resentment has everything to do with intimate relations. If two counselors have failed to explain this, you need a third, because that is the root of your problem. And in order to resolve it, it's imperative that a professional counselor teach you how to settle an argument and let go of the resentment, so it doesn't surface in the bedroom.

DEAR ABBY: As a licensed hairstylist, I have been asked the same two questions at least once a day for the last 25 years, so maybe if you answer them in your column, people will quit asking.

Question No. 1: "What do you charge for just a little trim?" First of all, the client pays for the barber's expertise — not for the amount of hair that is cut off and swept up. Also, "a little trim" usually requires some styling, shaping, thinning and cutting, so the price is the same as a regular haircut.

Question No. 2: "How much do you charge for children?" For some strange reasons, most people seem to think that a child's haircut should cost half as much as an adult's. Actually it should cost twice as much, because it takes twice as long to give a child a proper haircut, and it's twice as much work. (I personally feel as though I've wrestled 10 rounds with a gorilla after cutting a child's hair.)

Please print this, I'd like to frame it and hang it in my shop.

JACQUES THE CLIPPER
DEAR JACQUES: Here it is, for those clients who expect you to trim (or shave) your prices.

DEAR ABBY: I read you faithfully in Korea and need some motherly advice. I am a young woman who became engaged five months ago. The problem is that I am in the military in Korea and my fiancé (also in the military) is stationed far away.

Being so far from my fiancé, I needed someone to spend some time with, so I met this other guy (also in the military, but he is stationed here), and we eventually fell in love. The truth is, I love them both and don't want to hurt either one. They both want to marry me. I am in a very confused state. Please tell me what to do.

ONE MAN TOO MANY
DEAR TOO MANY: Since you can't decide which man to marry, don't marry either one. If you were really in love with your fiancé, you would have been too emotionally committed to him to have "needed" another guy to spend time with. Infatuation? Yes, ma'am. Love? No, sir!

(Getting married? Send for Abby's new, updated, expanded booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 and a long, stamped (30 cents) envelope to: Dear Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 3888, Hollywood, Calif. 90028.)

Extension homemaker council prepares for upcoming events

The Howard County Extension Homemakers Council met recently with four clubs represented. Upcoming events and topics discussed were:

- The 4-H Method Demonstration will be held at the Dora Roberts Fair Barn April 17 at 7 p.m.
- A National Consumer's Tour will tour through the ranch, feed lot, packing plant, slaughter house and meat market April 19 and 23.
- The Health Fair will be in the Big Spring Mall April 26. Extension Club members will serve as volunteers.
- Dr. Bill Bazzell will give a Leader Training Meeting on Alzheimer disease April 28 at 2 p.m. at the County Library file room.
- The Northside Community Center and its need for food and clothing was discussed.

- A Regional Breast Care Center in Odessa is available for club programs.
- May is the deadline for year book materials to be turned in.
- A sesquicentennial tour to Annie Riggs Museum and St. Genevieve Vineyards with wine and cheese tasting will be held for district 6 in Ft. Stockton May 8.

The life of Don Pablo Casals is presented to Music Study Club

Mrs. Walter H. Christensen hosted a recent meeting of the Big Spring Music Study Club and presented a program on the life of Don Pablo Casals. Casals was one of the world's greatest musicians and humanitarians, she said. He was equally celebrated as a cellist, as an impassioned antagonist of dictatorships and of restraints to human liberty, according to Christensen. When he was 84, he embarked on a peace crusade of his own using as his weapon his oratorio "El Pesebre" (The Manager) which he composed while he was in self exile in Prades as a tribute to world peace, she said. At the conclusion of her presentation, Christensen introduced Sam Woodward, an accomplished cellist in Big Spring who is involved in the Big Spring Symphony Orchestra. Woodward played "The song of the Birds," a song Don Pablo Casals played at the conclusion of all his concerts and festivals.

Club makes sesquicentennial quilt

The Sew and Chatter Sewing Club met recently in the home of Adele Tibbs. Plans were made to contribute to the Northside Community Center community cupboard and to take cookies to the State Hospital. The club is working on a red, white and blue sesquicentennial quilt to be placed in the county fair. Next meeting will be April 23 at 3 p.m. in the Rock House Tea Room with hostess Mrs. Ruby Haynes.

A player worth keeping

The start of each baseball season brings both excitement and anticipation. Who will play consistently well enough to end up in the Series? Will there be a triple crown winner this season?

But the start of this season has been gloomy for me. For the first time in 19 seasons, one of my all-time favorites won't be out there with the rest of the "Boys of Summer." Rod Carew will undoubtedly be introduced with great ceremony into baseball's Hall of Fame in a few years.

But Carew, who isn't ready to hang up his spikes just yet, apparently is being ushered out a side gate as a player. The California Angels made the move by giving the first base job to rookie Wally Joyner. Then the Angels didn't offer Carew a contract. Their excuse was they'd hate to ask him to take a pay cut from the $900,000 he made last season to $250,000, the average pay of reserve players.

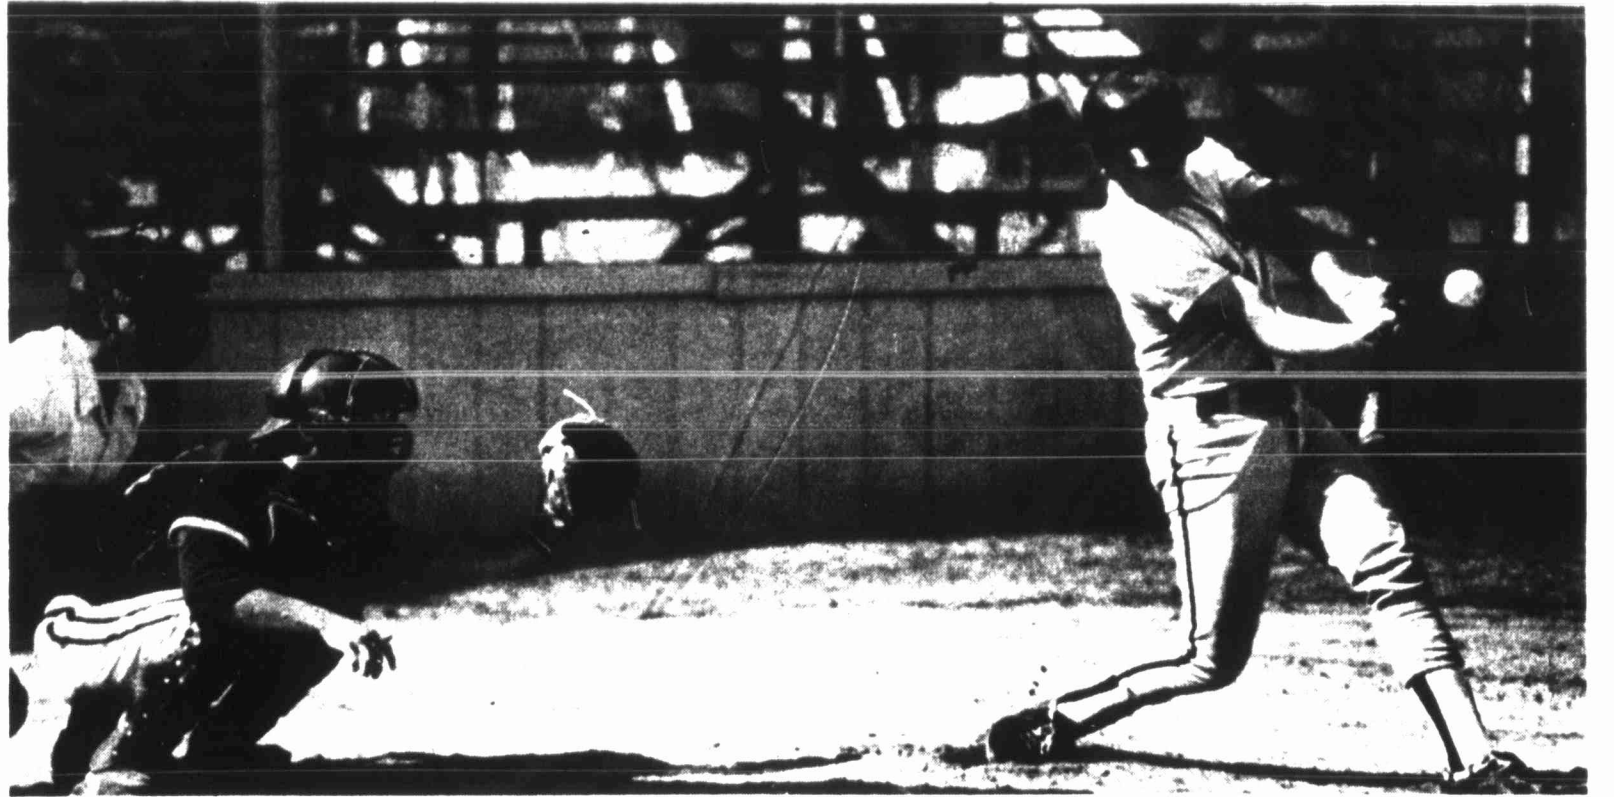

But money wasn't the issue for Carew, he's financially secure and he'd be the first to tell you so. The only goal for the man who has surpassed the 3,000 career hits milestone was to play one last season and retire. "I'm 40 years old and it seems that everyone is going for youth," said Carew. "I just hate to go out like this."

Carew hates to exit this way because he proved last season that he still has what it takes to make the grade in the Big Leagues. For the fifth time in the last six years he led the Angels in batting with a .280 average, only the fourth time in his 19 seasons that he's been under the .300 mark.

What I can't figure out is why no other major league teams haven't picked him up, especially when Carew says money doesn't make much difference. There are a lot of players who make in the $750,000 range who don't carry a .280 lifetime average.

So for now it looks like Carew's career has come to a sudden halt. Like I said earlier he's got a ticket to Cooperstown. He's been a great influence on the sport and his marks will be around for a long time to come. Fifteen .300 seasons, over 3,000 career hits, a lifetime .328 batting average and a seven-time batting champion.

He summed up his fate by says: "I'm not bitter, but I'm disappointed. I think I could help a club. I know I can still hit and be a role player for a team." I couldn't agree more.

Big Spring Steers third baseman Randy Hayworth takes a big cut at a pitch by Midland Lee pitcher Tvey Rankin in first inning action Tuesday at Steer Field. Hayworth flied out to center field but the Steers scored two runs in the inning.

Steers rally past Lee, 5-3

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Writer

The Big Spring Steers played the "waiting game" for the most part of their District 4-5A baseball encounter against the Midland Lee Rebels yesterday at Steer Field.

Coach John Velasquez's Steers waited for five innings before they finally brought home runners in scoring position. Fortunately they didn't wait too long as they took a 5-3 win over Midland Lee, keeping themselves in the race for a playoff spot.

The Steers, who left no less than eight runners stranded in the first five innings, came alive in the sixth inning and scored three runs to ice the game. The rally preserved the win for sophomore lefty Aaron Allen, who pitched a masterful game while going the distance.

"The main thing is we were hitting the ball and not striking out," said Velasquez after his team won its sixth game in the last seven tries. "Charlie Ogle came up with two outs and the bases loaded twice, and hit hard shots right at someone."

"I was starting to get worried though, I told the kids if we ever got a man on third and one out again, we would try to squeeze the run across. Fortunately it didn't come to that."

Leading 3-2 going into the bottom of the sixth inning, Lee seemed on its way to its second consecutive one-run win over the Steers. Rebel starter Tvey Rankin had managed to escape a bases loaded jam in the third and left two Steers on base in the fifth.

But the Steers showed they had enough of that in the sixth.

Shortstop Raymond Ontiveros started the inning off with a bloop single. Chad Wash followed with a walk. Pinch hitter Mike Dodd fanned for the first out, bringing up Eli Torres, who had already had two singles in three trips to the plate.

Torres continued his hot hitting by driving a two-bagger against the left field fence, scoring Ontiveros and Wash. This gave the Steers a 4-3 lead.

Allen followed with his second single of the game, driving in Torres with the final run. This was enough to get Rankin out of the game. He was relieved by Jerry Jenkins. Rankin surrendered five runs on nine hits.

While his teammates were squelching scoring opportunities, Allen was in command on the mound. He kept the Rebels off balance with his fastball and breaking pitches. He was touched for only three hits and gave up one earned run.

"Aaron has been the only one who has pitched the distance for me this season," said Velasquez. I thought about taking him out in the fourth after he walked the leadoff batter. If he hadn't gotten the next batter out, then I would have."

The Steers jumped out to a 2-0 lead after one inning of play. Torres and Allen both hit hard singles and Olivas got an infield hit, loading up the bases with two outs. Designated hitter Billy Frankin cracked a single up the middle, scoring Torres and Allen.

Lee got a run back in the second when Chad Jordan got an infield hit. Jordan went to second on a passed ball and advanced to third on a balk by Allen. He scored on a wild pitch.

Lee took a 3-2 lead in the third thanks to two errors by the Steers. Terry Baxter and Jay McCarthy each singled in the inning. It would be the last hits Allen would give up the remainder of the game.

"We are still in this thing" (playoff chase) said Velasquez of the Steers who advance their league record to 6-5. "We must win the rest of our games. We are through playing the top teams but they still have some games left with each other."

Big Spring is now 9-9 overall. Lee is 11-11 overall and 4-7 in district play.

The Steers will take on Odessa High Tuesday at 2 p.m. in Odessa.

Wolfpack star to turn pro

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina State center Chris Washburn may not be ready to handle all that comes with being in the NBA now that he's forfeited his eligibility, says teammate Bennie Bolton.

"I think he is ready physically. But I think a lot of things will be thrown at him in pro basketball and I think Chris is going to have to be strong mentally," Bolton said Tuesday after Washburn announced he was giving up his final two years of eligibility at N.C. State to enter the NBA draft.

Bolton, a junior, said he had recently talked with former teammate Spud Webb, a member of the Atlanta Hawks, on the rigors and pitfalls of pro basketball.

"Without a doubt, Chris has the talent to be one of the top players in the NBA," Bolton said. "I talked to Spud and he really emphasized money is just coming at you at all angles and you really don't have anything to do with your money. I'm concerned about Chris in that aspect."

"He's like 19 or 20 years old and things are going to be coming at him real fast," Bolton said. "You have to be strong. Spud is a strong person. Chris is the type of person that likes to experience a lot of things. I'm concerned about Chris at that point."

The 6-11 Washburn led the Wolfpack in scoring last season with an average of 17.6 points per game and 6.7 rebounds.

In his freshman year, Washburn was suspended from the team after being charged with stealing a stereo from the dormitory room of a fellow student. He was convicted on misdemeanor charges stemming from the theft and was sentenced to 320 hours of community service, a $1,000 fine and counseling.

The incident led to a revelation of Washburn's academic record. Court documents showed he had scored 470 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test, 70 points above the minimum possible score and well under the average of 1,030 for freshmen entering N.C. State.

Hawk baseballers in action

The Howard College Hawks will be in action today in a non-region double-header against Lubbock Christian College starting at 1 p.m. at Jack Barber Field.

The game was originally scheduled for Thursday but a conflict in the LCC schedule prompted the double-header to be held today.

USA rolls in hockey championships

MOSCOW (AP) — While the strong Soviet team scored its third victory at the World Ice Hockey Championships, defending titleholder Czechoslovakia fell for the third time and the surprising United States squad continued its winning ways.

Gibson Player of Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit outfielder Kirk Gibson, who batted 476 with two home runs and six runs batted in, was named Player of the Week in the American League.

Through games of Sunday, Gibson compiled a .952 slugging average and an on-base percentage of .560. Both of his homers came on opening day.

Rangers pull miracle on ice

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The New York Rangers already are talking about a second miracle.

They completed the first Tuesday night with a 5-2 victory that eliminated the Philadelphia Flyers from the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Rangers' 3-2 triumph in the best-of-five first-round series sends New York into a best-of-seven series against the Washington Capitals for the Patrick Division championship.

The last time New York won a deciding game in a series was Game 5 of the 1928 Stanley Cup finals over the Montreal Maroons.

The magnitude of their success of the final period, but the Rangers frustrated them with two open net goals in the final 40 seconds.

The Rangers took a 1-0 lead at 11:36 of the first period on a goal by Pierre Larouche.

The Flyers tied it at 6:26 of the second period as Ilkka Sinisalo scored from 35 feet.

Then came Huber and Osborne's goals, the first at 9:45 of the second and the second 71 seconds later at 10:56.

When the Flyers pulled goalie Bob Froese, Kelly Miller and Maloney scored into the empty net in the final minute.

Now, the Rangers go from first place Philadelphia to second place Washington. Can the team from 34th Street create another miracle?

Blues 6, North Stars 3

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Wherever Greg Paslawski and Doug Gilmour go, the puck seems to follow.

And the two linemates put the puck into the goal often enough Tuesday night to lift the Blues to a 6-3 victory over the Minnesota North Stars in the decisive game of their best-of-five first-round NHL playoff series.

"It seems like I give Doug the puck and I just go," said Paslawski, who scored three goals and added two assists for the Blues.

St. Louis will host the Toronto Maple Leafs Friday night in the opening game of the best-of-seven Norris Division finals. The Leafs stunned the Chicago Blackhawks, the regular-season Norris champions, with an opening-round sweep.

"He knows where I'm going all the time," Paslawski said of Gilmour, who assisted on the first five St. Louis scores. "Doug played an unbelievable game. It seems wherever I go, he gets the puck to me."

Said Gilmour: "You give it to (Paslawski) and he scores. He can really shoot the puck."

The North Stars saw more than enough of that dynamic duo to carry them all summer.

"They both played great hockey," said North Stars Coach Lorne Henning, whose first season at the helm ended in disappointment. "They are great hockey players, especially Gilmour."

Blues Coach Jacques Demers went Henning one better with his praise of Gilmour, who had two goals and six assists in the series.

NHL

over the Flyers had hardly been absorbed before the Rangers began pumping their egos for an upset of the Capitals.

The key to the fifth game triumph was the goaltending of Vanbiesbrouck and two goals 71 seconds apart in the second period by Willie Huber and Mark Osborne.

They gave the Rangers a 3-1 lead the Flyers never could overcome. Philadelphia pulled to 3-2 at 11:36

Parker's three-run shot paces Reds

By The Associated Press

Dave Parker, who found new life in Cincinnati after fading numbers had finished him in Pittsburgh, showed the Atlanta Braves on Tuesday night that he might repeat last season's figures.

"I think he's the best player around," Reds Manager Pete Rose said after Parker's three-run homer paced the Reds to a 5-3 victory. "He's just picking up where he left off last year."

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Astros 8, Giants 3
Houston won the home run derby, but Giant rookie Will Clark won the admiration of the San Francisco fans with two singles and his second homer of the season in the opening game at Candlestick Park. Bob Brenly also homered for the Giants, but the Astros got two homers from Phil Garner and one each from Glenn Davis and Kevin Bass.

Baseball

Padres 2, Dodgers 1

Garry Templeton lined a bases-loaded single with two outs in the 12th inning. It was the ninth consecutive one-run game for the both the Dodgers and Padres, extending their major league record for one-run games at the start of the season.

Expos 4, Cubs 3

Montreal's home opener was decided when Mitch Webster walked to force in the winning run after Tim Wallach was intentionally walked by loser Lee Smith. Wallach's three-run earlier wiped out a 3-0 Chicago lead. RBI doubles by Jody Davis, Ron Cey and Ryne Sandberg provided the Cub runs.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Yankees 6, Indians 2
Joe Niekro scattered four hits over 7 1-3 innings and Mike Easler drove in three runs as New York won its fifth straight game. Brian Fisher got his first save, allowing Cleveland two hits, including Andre Thornton's second homer of the season. Dave Winfield and Ken Griffey had three hits each for the Yankees.

A's 8, Twins 2

Four hits by Alfredo Griffin led a 16-hit Oakland attack while Moose Haas scattered five hits, struck out five Minnesota batters and walked one in improving his record to 2-0.

The victory was the third straight for the A's. The Twins have lost four in a row.

Mariners 9, Angels 4

Seattle jumped on California's Don Sutton in the first inning with Ivan Calderon hitting a two-run homer. Rookie Danny Tartabull hit a grand slam — his fourth homer in four games to go with a league-leading 14 runs batted in — to make it 8-0 and finish Sutton, who was looking for his 296th career victory.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 1986

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Early in the day get a jump on upcoming influences of a planetary nature by adopting a new perspective on whatever has to do with your routines.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You are eager to get everything working properly under your own roof so spend as much time as you can.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Day hours bring good luck in financial and property affairs, but later steer clear of a con artist.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan how to handle financial affairs so that you can have a reserve for times of emergency. Set up a good budget for the future.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Plan how to improve conditions around you so that the future will be rosier for you.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Experts can give you excellent advice during the day, and then make a good plan for the future.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study various ways for gaining a vital interest and choose the one that seems most feasible.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Do whatever can gain you greater prestige during the day hours, but don't be forceful in the evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have an opportunity to learn much that can be helpful to you in the future, so be alert to such.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A person in business can show you how to be more wise in your investments, so listen carefully.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get together with a business person and work on a new project that can be mutually profitable.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Some activities you have not handled lately should be made to work like a charm now. Avoid a meddler.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Plan a good time for yourself early in the day, and be romantic. Try to improve your health this evening.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be very success-minded and will formulate a workable plan and study hard to make it a reality. One who will know when it is wise to rest and have a busy and fruitful life. A sports-minded individual here. Don't neglect spiritual training.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!
