Ten Charges Listed Against Chief; Senate Adjourns Until Monday; Johnston Ignores Opposition

(By Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 18.—Impeachment charges voted against Governor Henry S. Johnston by the Oklahoma house of representatives reached a total of four late tonight when the house adopted two more of the ten articles reported to it this morning by its investigating committee.

Voted In Rapid Order

The last two articles adopted, similar in nature, were voted in quick succession. Both involved the governor's issuance of deficiency certificates to provide for the continued operation of the state legislature did not make appropriations for it. One charge alleged that an illegal deficiency certificate was issued for the fiscal year of 1927-28 and the other for 1928-29.

Two other articles, charging illegal issuance of deficiency certificates for the state banking department, were voted this afternoon and tonight.

Discuss Special Agent

The article next taken up by the house related to the governor's employment of J. W. "Buck" Eldridge as a special agent. Diversion of funds was alleged on the basis of testimony that Eldridge had done no work for the state bureau of criminal identification and investigation, though his name was on the pay roll.

Governor Johnston today defended his employment of Eldridge in a statement to newspaper men exhibiting a copy of a contract stipulating that Eldridge would receive his orders from the governor and Charles W. Worley, former superintendent of the bureau. J. M. Barker, now head of the bureau, testified.

Prohibition Enforcement Fund Measure Continues To Occupy Congress

Leaders in Senate Wrangle Over Appropriations To Be Allotted for National Enforcement; Robinson Flays Opposition of Pros During Recent Campaign

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The senate heard another prohibition debate today as an attempt was made to decide how much, if any, additional money should be appropriated to enforce laws under the Eighteenth Amendment.

The discussion sought to determine primarily how far political influence affected enforcement, but the debate ranged over the efficacy of the Volstead act, its administration under Secretary Mellon and the best means to demonstrate its success or failure.

Appointments Dictated An observation by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, that prohibition appointments are dictated largely by political influence gave an opening to Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, and that party's nominee for vice-president in the recent campaign who declared prohibition workers had been mobilized to work for the election of the republican ticket.

"The controlling consideration," Robinson said, "is to get men into office who will be loyal to the administration who would recognize the republican party as its first and dominant master."

Compromise Basis Proposed A possible basis for a compromise on the proposal by Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, to add $15,000,000 to the enforcement fund—which has stirred up two days of debate—and the proposal of Senator Jones, republican, Washington, to make $1,250,000 available for dissemination of law observance appeals and enlargement of the field force, was seen in a recommendation by Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia.

He proposed an appropriation of $250,000 to be used by the president, to make a searching investigation of prohibition, something which President-elect Hoover has indicated he intends to do.

Finance Groups Of House and Senate To Discuss Funds

Rural School Aid Bill To Be Topic of Discussion In Joint Hearing Next Thursday Night

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—John F. Wallace of Teague, chairman of the house appropriations committee, announced today that group had accepted an invitation by the senate finance committee for a joint hearing Thursday night on rural school aid measures, several of which have been introduced in both houses.

While the senate invitation was regarded in some circles as a move to pass appropriations measures during the regular session, Wallace said the point committee meeting was "only for the purpose of obtaining information on rural aid legislation when the bills come before the house at its first called session."

At Odds On Appropriations For three days the two legislative branches have stood at odds on the appropriations question, the senate having voted to dispose of "money" measures at the regular session and the house burying the proposed action under an avalanche of bills.

Tom Pollard, senate finance chairman announced that several prominent state figures and citizens would

Senate Launches A Constitutional Convention Move

Three Activities Feature Senate Sessions Friday; Senatorial Textbook Investigation Authorized

Proposed Election Holbrook Leads Plan For State Convention; Bolting Party Measure Is Introduced From House

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—Authorization of a senatorial textbook investigation, the launching of the biennial move for a constitutional convention and a proposal to make Texas party loyalty more rigid were the most important developments in today's legislative.

The move for a textbook investigation was made in an effort to clear up difficulties the commission is having over a clause which requires Texas to purchase her textbooks as cheaply as any wholesale buyer.

Doubt Contract Legality. Some doubt as to the legality of pending contracts has arisen and the senatorial investigation would go into prices, to determine whether the state is getting the lowest price quoted by the publisher, and into the matter of amending the law, if amendments seem desirable.

After the vote was over, cattle prices slumped and as other cattle men quit, Bivins remained. His loyalty was repaid and the last three years had seen a tremendous rise in his fortune.

Lubbock Attorneys Oppose New Court

Members of Lubbock County Bar Association To Meet At 9 O'Clock Today To Discuss New Proposal

At a meeting of the Lubbock County Bar association, to be held at 9 o'clock this morning at the courthouse, some member of that organization will more than likely protest to represent the body in the Texas legislature against the creation of a proposed new district court.

The proposed new district court would include the counties of Crosby, Floyd, Dickens, Briscoe and Motley. Attorneys in this section feel that the court is unnecessary, and that its creation would be useless expenditure on the part of the state. Several miles of motor chase resulted, when the alleged bootlegger is said to have quit his car and struck out across a cotton patch, escaping in the darkness. Poultry Industry In Lubbock Shows Excellent Growth

A reflection of the rapid increase in interest of poultry raising, and a growing demand for better stock, is revealed in the record of progress made by the R. E. Swain Feed and Hatchery company during the past year. Starting a hatchery of 47,000 eggs capacity every 21 days, the first of last year, capacity was doubled within just a few months, the present capacity being 94,000 eggs. The first hatch of 1929 started on January 10, baby chicks swarming every available space in the company's store since that date, with new chicks pecking through egg shells every day. Raisers of pure bred poultry in this county last year were the recipients of more than $10,000, by the Swain company. Many poultry raisers obtained an income of $200 a month from 350 hens. A total of about 10,000 chicks were shipped from this hatchery last year, in addition to the custom hatching, this year's total for the plant's business alone expected to be in the neighborhood of 50,000 chicks.

Three marriage licenses were issued on my own hook, at least to the extent of organizing and heading the Wichita association which we now hope to extend to a national scope. The Wichita association takes an active part in the aviation affairs of that thriving city where six factories turned out a large percentage of the commercial airplanes used last year in this country. Members attend a study hour each week and lectures are delivered at intervals by leaders in the industry. Service is rendered visiting fliers at the airports. Mrs. Roos is not a pilot but has flown thousands of miles in the ships of her husband.

Wouldn't Risk It Selling Fish Said to Be Bad Work

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Selling game fish is more dangerous than selling whiskey in Texas, according to a fish market of Dallas, which turned down an offer of a ton of crappie each week for a dealer in Louisiana. His letter to the dealer, a copy of which was sent to the game department says: "We have your letter . . . After reading both the penalties of selling crappie and whiskey, I believe it would be better to sell the latter. I am sure I would not know how to get around the Texas law on this fish." After quoting the law, the letter continues: "A deputy State Game Warden passes our place four times a day and never fails to look in our display window. It would be his great joy to find anyone violating the same law, even to his brother. If there is any special arrangements that can be made I would be glad to take up this matter again."

Mrs. Armistead Is Victim of Suicide

(By Associated Press) HOUSTON, Jan. 18.—Mrs. George D. Armistead, about 40, wife of the late George D. Armistead, political writer for the San Antonio Express and former postmaster at San Antonio, was found shot to death tonight in a room she had engaged here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Turner.

She had been shot once through the heart with a small automatic pistol, found in bed beside the body. The justice of the peace who conducted the inquest, returned a verdict of suicide.

Had Been Despondent Mrs. Turner, in a statement to the justice, said Mrs. Armistead had been despondent since she rented a room at her home Wednesday and had expressed a desire to join her husband, who died in San Antonio in September.

Mr. Armistead, before his death, was a well known figure in Texas political and journalistic circles. He was political editor of the Express and was a staff correspondent for that paper at Austin. He was a close personal friend of Governor Moody and assisted him in his first campaign.

Storm

Two homes were destroyed in Fort Branch, but while the storm struck several other nearby towns, little damage was reported. The Express and telephone communication with Evansville, were restored tonight after being cut off for several hours.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Three men were drowned and five or more injured today by a wind and rain storm that swept Kentucky, unroofing buildings and paralyzing wire and rail facilities for several hours.

Roy Luter, 21, and Clinton Mahoney, 24, lost their lives when the skiff in which they were crossing the Ohio river was upset by the high wind. William Thresher, 47, workman, was blown from a bridge under construction across the Ohio river here and drowned before aid could reach him.

Laundry Demolished Five employees were injured when the storm demolished a laundry at Elizabethtown. One of the injured suffered a fractured skull. Other injured were Miss Alice Patterson, Mrs. John Yaeer, her mother and Mrs. Alfred Merithin.

More than a hundred roofs were torn from houses, street cars were derailed and telephone and electric light wires were blown down in Louisville. Damage was estimated at more than $100,000.

SHELBY, Miss., Jan. 18.—(AP)—At least one man was killed, three or four more persons injured, one seriously, in a heavy windstorm here this afternoon.

Emelia Ferrell, about 65, was injured fatally when the roof from a three story building, which housed a hardware store and the Masonic lodge, was blown across the street upon his shoe shop. The three story building was lost.

Nearby Mrs. Ruth Edwards, who was in the hardware store, is in a serious condition. A negro who also was in the store has not been found. Willie Dobson, another negro, was injured. Fred Lanford, proprietor of the hardware store received cuts and bruises.

Many homes in the residential district were damaged.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 18.—(AP)—At least three deaths were charged tonight to cold weather and snow flurries which made driving on city streets and highways perilous throughout Eastern Kansas and Western Missouri.

A skidding motor car killed a 6-year-old girl near Smithville, Mo., a 15-year-old boy died of coasting injuries at St. Joseph, Mo., and a woman was asphyxiated by fumes from a heating stove in Oak Park, suburb of Kansas City.

and gas developers in the Texas Panhandle, and proceeds from that endeavor added to a fortune he had won with cattle. When he died at Wichita Falls yesterday at 62 he owned more than 500,000 acres of land in the Panhandle, including the famed "LX" ranch, where unnumbered thousands of cattle roamed.

Worked For City Among other things, Bivins was Amalio's mayor, interest in many enterprises here, and an ardent supporter of education and civic development. Until his death he conducted his own business, which extended into half a dozen southwestern states and Mexico.

His body was returned to Amarillo today, escorted by his son, Miles. City Manager Jeff Bartlett and City Commissioners J. H. Harris and Wade Rymer. Funeral services are to be held Sunday. His widow and two sons survive.

Impeachment

fied that Eldridge had never done any work for his office. The ten articles of impeachment drawn up against the governor charged:

Pardoning Dewey Crosshwaite, convicted murderer. Unwarranted executive interference with the 1927 legislature's attempt to impeach the governor. Diversion and misappropriation of funds on appointment of "Buck" Eldridge, special agent for the governor.

Unlawful issuance of deficiency certificates for the state banking department. (Two charges.) Employment of Kirby Fitzpatrick, active supporter of the governor in his 1926 campaign.

Unlawful issuance of deficiency certificates to continue the state insurance commission after "refusal" of the legislature to make appropriations.

The governor's calling out of the national guard to disperse the 1927 attempted impeachment session. Unlawful and wrongful attempts to interfere with the functioning of the committee on investigation.

General incompetency. OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 18.—(AP)—The state senate adjourned late today until 1:30 p. m. Monday making improbable before that time the suspension of Governor Henry S. Johnston, against whom ten charges of impeachment were returned this morning by the investigating committee of the house of representatives.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Surrounded by his family tonight, Governor Henry S. Johnston denied any intention of resigning from office as he discussed the action of the house of representatives today in voting charges of impeachment against him.

"I don't run," he declared emphatically. "I never have run yet, because I do nothing to run for." The governor said he had not formed any plan for retaining an attorney to defend him before the senate impeachment court, if the charges should reach that body. "This will mean," he added, however, "I will have to obtain help."

"Not a one of them thinks I'm guilty," the governor continued. "Some men voted in the affirmative for the impeachment who know better. That may be the way to play politics, but it is a type of politics with which I never have intended to learn."

New Court

jurisdiction for many years to come, it is claimed. Counties Taken Away To create the district court would mean that Judge Homer L. Pharr, of the Seventy-Second district court, would have Crosby county taken from his jurisdiction, leaving him only Lubbock, Hockley and Cochran counties. It would mean that Judge I. B. Newton, of the Seymour district court, would be deprived of the counties of Dickens and Motley, and that Judge Charles Clements, of the Plainview district court, would be deprived of Floyd and Briscoe counties.

The Lubbock County Bar association has already appealed to the legislature in protest to a bill to be acted on, seeking to create this new court, have been informed that at a meeting of both the house and senate judiciary committees on next Tuesday night, some representative from here would be listened to in presenting formal protest in person.

W. T. KEMPER, JR. KANSAS CITY, Jan. 15.—(AP)—At 25, W. T. Kemper, Jr., is president of three banks and vice president of two others.

The young man, member of a family well known in middlewestern and southwestern finance, has been president of the Citizens National bank at Frankfort, Kas., for more than a year. Last November he became head of the Kemper State bank at Boonville, Mo., and recently he was elected president of the First National bank of Independence, Mo. He is also vice president of the Bank of Cyril, Okla., and the Bank of Drummond, Okla.

He is unmarried and lives with his parents in Kansas City. Young Kemper's father, W. T. Kemper, is democratic national committeeman for Missouri and former president of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad.

Box Speech

there were no questions. When he finished, several members, including republicans, applauded.

Box started by reading a newspaper article which said that John J. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee, had been a republican before the campaign and had continued to be one while he directed the democratic party.

"If I could I would free the party from subverting influences and republican control," Box said after affirming faith in the principles of the party and allegiance to it.

Box said some dissatisfaction had been expressed "in certain political circles" over his Roosevelt letter, adding this must be "because I candidly stated the situation as I see it and future developments as I foresee them, or because I let the public know what I was saying about public affairs of vital public importance."

Had Not Been Denied Box said the report that Raskob had been and was a republican had not been denied so far as he knew.

"Early in the recent campaign democrats heard with dismay that their national party organization had been placed in charge of a master of finance of the republican party faith, who, without becoming a democrat, took charge of the dishonored and perverted organization largely for the purpose of using it to repeal or emasculate the Eighteenth Amendment, ratified and cherished by every safely democratic state and overwhelmingly adopted by the nation in a constitutional way."

"Governor Smith may correctly estimate some of the people of some parts of the country, but in making the arrangement mentioned he demonstrated that he greatly underestimated the independence, self-respect and patriotism of the democratic hosts of the cities, towns and open spaces of America.

Senate Bills

prevent bolters from coming back into the part as candidates in the next election. The measure, by Representative Mankin of Georgia, is opposed to Senator Tom Love's "freedom of conscience" bill, which would prohibit any party demanding that a man "violate his conscience" at the polls. Love was a "Hoover democrat."

Representative Petch of Fredericksburg introduced a bill which would give directors of A. and M. college the duties now administered by the commissioner of agriculture and abolish that position.

Ground work was laid for an exhaustive study of prison reform problems when the senate passed a concurrent resolution to pay the expenses of the joint committees on a tour of prison property.

The house today joined the senate in a memorial to congress asking that ranch and farm products be favored with an increased tariff.

The senate was unanimous in endorsing a resolution declaring that the present dry laws, if properly enforced, "will rebound to the public good."

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton

Copyright by NEA Service, Inc.

As a rule parents can tell if children have anything wrong with their eyes, but not always. I knew a girl who reached fourteen before it was thought necessary to have her eyes examined.

When she got her glasses and went to school the next day, she acted as though she was seeing a circus for the first time.

She came home in great excitement and cried as she opened the door. "Mother, I saw the blackboard today!" Her mother determined to investigate the exact meaning. She saw the blackboard. She should have so!

So to school that afternoon she went and after dismissal she and the teacher did some experimenting. Couldn't See Board at All! Absolute dismay possessed her teacher too, when they discovered that without glasses the child literally was blind as far as the blackboard work was concerned, even in the front seat.

Most large cities now have a free school clinic that tests eyes as well as ears, nose and throat, but not all. If a teacher notices vision discrepancies and sends word home, don't become indignant, good parents. She may be only guessing and she may be wrong, but she may have noticed trouble that has escaped you.

Don't allow a child to keep on rubbing his eyes day after day without trying to discover the cause. It may be irritation of the conjunctive, the fine membrane that lines the eyelids, but if it does not disappear after a few days of bathing with mild boracic solution or other good eye-wash, be sure it comes from strain. Take your child off to a good eye doctor as soon as possible.

Watch Those Blinks Blinking may be habit, but I never have seen children blink who haven't good cause for it.

Cross eyes! There is a thing that certainly should be attended to—this your child is young. So much can be done, even without an operation. Treatment and glasses work wonders! One can readily understand the box office interest in such cases. Funny, isn't it, if people are really allured by the spice of life more often children have to wear glasses only for a year or two; seldom permanently, unless the trouble is serious. Muscular astigmatism is one of the things that can be cured if taken early.

The Woman's Day

By Allene Sumner

THE WOMAN'S DAY

The whole colorful sweeping panorama of our nation's history has been culled for the new spring frocks. Fashion says that prints portraying various high-lights of America's development are the thing.

At first thought it seems almost sacrilegious to use the blood and history of our forebears to make a Romna holiday in the way of spring clothes. But after all, if lively retail can be lovely and also retell the story of our nation's rich past, more power to it!

OH, ALMA!

Alma Rubens, one of the screen's loveliest ladies and most frequently at her loveliest in a very angelic, spiritual role, is charged with annoying her neighbors with "wild parties."

Said neighbors complain that Alma looks into people's windows with a flashlight; that she has the cute little habit of turning out everybody's lights, and so on. Alma, of course, will "hold to strict accountability all the people who say those mean things."

WE SHOULD BE RESIGNED

To be sure, we should be quite accustomed by this time to realizing that actors are one thing and their personal lives another; it's not only disillusioning but absurd to expect the two things in one.

Still, many of us childishly hope that Alma's accusers are proven wrong! One can readily understand the box office interest in such cases. Funny, isn't it, if people are really allured by the spice of life more often children have to wear glasses only for a year or two; seldom permanently, unless the trouble is serious. Muscular astigmatism is one of the things that can be cured if taken early.

Brownfield Area Finds Past Year To Be Profitable

Bank Deposits Total Near Million Mark; Crop Production Trend Turns To Diversification

(Special To The Avalanche)

BROWNFIELD, Jan. 18.—December 31 statements of the Brownfield State and First National banks of Brownfield show deposits of $325,000, with loans of $318,000, of which $50,000 is payable on demand.

These figures are very interesting, when it is known that the cotton crop of 1928 was nearly 23,000 bales for the county and nearly 15,000 bales in 1927, while the crop of 1929 will barely reach 7,000. Yet deposits at the close of the past year are $375,000 greater than the same period two years ago with loans nearly $100,000 less.

Diversification Pays In searching about for a reason for the improvement in the face of the constantly decreasing yield of cotton, it has been discovered that practically every farmer in the county has cows, chickens, turkeys and hogs and that after his home requirements are met there remains a sufficient amount to pay for the clothing of his family and such food as is required to feed his family. It has become a very rare occurrence for a farmer to request credit from his dealer and if he does so, only for a few days time is desired and a consequence, the amounts received by him for his cotton and corn deposited in banks or used to pay off indebtedness of real property.

The statements of banks above referred to do not include towns other than Brownfield and it is said that if the statements of two other banks who are dependent upon the production of the county for their business, was included, that the total deposits would reach nearly $1,500,000.00, which is greater than any previous showing.

Mrs. Miller Has Gained 26 Pounds Health Restored

Only Weighed 90 Pounds When She Began Taking Sargon; Has Taken 17 Bottles

"Since I began taking Sargon I have gained twenty-six pounds," was the remarkable statement made a few days ago by Mrs. Nellie Miller, residing at 407 N. Main St., Memphis, Tenn. Mrs. Miller is a prominent church worker.

"When I commenced taking Sargon I only weighed ninety pounds," she said, "and I now weigh one hundred and sixteen. I feel better than I have in ten years.

"For years I suffered with a bad form of stomach trouble, constipation and pains in my side. I became so weak I could hardly get around.

"I had no appetite at all scarcely, and what little I did eat caused gas on my stomach, and palpitation of the heart, headaches and dizzy spells. I was awfully nervous. I worried about myself until I could sleep and rest but little. I never knew what it was to retire at night without taking some kind of strong purgative.

"After I had given up all hope of ever being well again a friend of mine persuaded me to give Sargon a trial. I shall always thank this friend from the bottom of my heart, for Sargon helped me from the very first day. I have taken seventeen bottles of Sargon and now I feel like I have been made all over again.

"I now have a splendid appetite. Those terrible pains in my side have disappeared and I sleep like a child. I am no longer nervous, and when I get up mornings I feel refreshed, cheerful and bright. I really feel as if I had started life all over again.

"I believe Sargon Soft Mass Pills had a lot to do with my recovery, and think they should always be taken in connection with Sargon. They are entirely different from any other laxative I ever took, because they are so mild and easy in action."

Sargon may be obtained in Lubbock from City Drug Store, and in other cities from City Drug Store.

Selection of City Airport Expected Within Few Days

Site For Landing Field Is Likely to Be Announced Soon; Fort Worth Airman Visits City

Although no final arrangements have been completed, it is very likely that Lubbock's municipal airport site will be definitely selected within a few days, according to George E. Benson, chairman of the board of city development's airport committee. A number of sites are being considered for permanent selection, and following the request of the airport committee, William G. Fuller, manager of the Fort Worth municipal airport, made a visit to this city for the special purpose of investigating these sites.

Mr. Benson, who, with Charles A. Guy, managing editor of The Avalanche, represented Lubbock at the two-day aviation school conducted at Fort Worth early this week, by the Texas Air Transport, Inc., is very enthusiastic about Lubbock's possibilities for developing one of the state's best airports. Situated as this city is, with natural landing conditions ideal, and adjacent to transcontinental air routes, with first-class airport facilities available, this city should soon become one of the most important centers in aviation activities in Texas.

Especially has Lubbock a great future in aviation, with the probability that a complete course in aviation, from mechanical training to actual flying, in connection with Texas Technological college, will soon likely be established.

Four fines collected by Judge J. T. Immon, city recorder, were for $24, three of them having been paid by drivers of automobiles who violated the city traffic laws. The fines included, one for disturbing the peace, $15; one for speeding $5; one for making a left turn, $3; and one for double parking $1.

Because one woman "cussed" another during a neighborhood quarrel in this city yesterday, a fine of $5 and costs, in all $14.15, was paid by the one doing the "cussing" in Judge G. R. Scott's justice court Friday afternoon.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday in the United States district court by Walter Preston Babb, of Brownfield. Babb lists liabilities at $14,471.91, and his assets at $22,704.02.

Three white men were arrested late Friday afternoon by the sheriff's department, at a place two miles southeast of Lubbock for disturbing the peace.

Oil Notes

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 18 (AP)—Oklahoma City's second well south of the city today was showing for a small producer, but probably will not be completed at its present depth, officials of the drilling company intimated. The well is the I T I O—Foster Petroleum company's number 1. Trooper et al. in O N E-SW 12-11-3 W, a mile and a half north of the discovery well.

The well made 193 barrels of oil in 14 hours with gas gauged at 5,900,000 cubic feet a day. Gas blew in yesterday while drillers were bailing after drilling the plugs. Gas was blown in the air and probably will be permitted to flow another 24 hours before mudding off to go deeper.

For the second consecutive day greater Seminole field today reached a new high production for the year, gauging 291,783 barrels from 1,330 wells. This was an increase of 1,129 barrels over yesterday's gauge and a 48 hour gain of 4,234 barrels. Four new wells have been added since yesterday.

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 18 (AP)—Magnolia will pinch back to 50 barrels per day, its Earlboro pool test number 1 Moore. This well flowed and swabbed 435 barrels the past 24 hours from pay sand drilled from 4,210 to 4,224 feet.

Sinclair Oil and Gas company's discovery well in the Wilcox sand at Allen, is today flowing steadily 90 barrels per hour, or at the rate of 2,160 barrels daily. It was deepened one foot Thursday to a total depth of 4,170 feet. This well is now 12 feet in the Wilcox horizon, it having been topped last September at 4,133 feet.

Amerada's number 1 Green in Maud pool, flowed 1,530 barrels the past 24 hours and is being completed at a total depth of 4,124 feet.

The Shell Oil Corporation has shut the water off in its No. 1 Floyd Triller in the northeast end of the Bruner field, and the well has been put back into the production class, making around 150 barrels a day. The well first came in flowing oil, but later showed water.

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 18 (AP)—Gypsy Oil company is running tubing to apply the air lift to its Number 2 Roundmond in 26-7-4, west side of the St. Louis pool. This test produced 615 barrels on the swab yesterday and has Simpson sand from 4,075 to 4,095 feet.

Magnolia has 3,000 feet of oil in the hole from four feet in Wilcox sand topped at 4,572 feet, No. 7 H. E. Youts lease in 20-7-5.

New Faces Will Be Plentiful With Cleveland Indians

Business College Wins First Half Title In City League Basketball Race

Only Two Members Of 1928 Club To Get Old Position

Almost Half of Ball Players Indians Had Last Year Go By Way Of House Cleaning

By BOB MATHERNE,
NEA Service Sports Writer
Only a few weeks more than a year ago a group of millionaires acquired ownership of the Cleveland Indians. They scanned their new property and found they owned 40 ball players. Even a less number than that, to be frank, and some of them were veterans about through as players and some were fellows who never should have reached the majors.

The Bradleys and their associates knew much of real estate and paint and railroads and ships but their knowledge of baseball management wasn't so great. They knew it but were willing to learn and ready to spend plenty of money in learning provided—what they spent in time and money would mean a winning team, eventually, for the home town.

It didn't take them long to realize that accessibility to less than 40 players was not anything for a major league club to brag about. Nor did it take many weeks to get the idea that the few players they wanted to keep were the only ones other clubs were anxious to get. Money alone they found not enough to pry stars from other clubs.

About to Start New Year
All of this is reshaped at this time because of the fact that the Indians are about to start their second campaign under new national management—and that a difference in player personnel one year has made!

Only two players will trot out to the same position for the Indians who were in the opening day lineup of the 1928 team. And instead of having less than 40 players at their call, the Indians, with their minor league connections, get hold of at least 100 within a few hours.

It can't be said how the Indians will start their opening game, but only Jamison in left field and Luke Sewell back of the plate will be playing where they played opening day last year. Joe Sewell is to be at third instead of shortstop. And the other spots will be taken care of by fellows who showed some class last season or who were acquired this winter.

The Indians own two minor league clubs and they have working agreements with three others. It is from this fact that one can say the Indians have approximately 100 players at their command. All are not owned outright, but all can be brought to Cleveland if wanted.

New Faces Plentiful
General Manager Billy Evans knew some new faces were needed in the lineup and that one had to part with some of the old faces if that was to be realized. Youngsters don't enjoy having too many veterans around when they're trying to make good. The veterans can, if they wish, make it too hard for fellows after their position.

Evans knew that and he has had recourse to make use of that knowledge a few times since he became connected with the Indians. There was the Lutzke-Hodapp case.

Lutzke, despite his protest, was released. Evans called Johnny Hodapp in and showed a contract with a false raise in the back and told him he was the third baseman. "And you haven't got any worry about anything," he said. "Lutzke is gone and the job is yours as long as you can keep it."

Have Many Players New
Hodapp, under his got hurt, held that job. And then he played at first base a few games, where he is more than likely to perform this season.

Summa, who had played right field for a number of years, was sold to the Athletics, a few weeks back for the same reason—to assure the young outfielders, especially Porter and Averill, who cost plenty of dough, that they were going to get all the chance in the world to play regularly.

In cleaning house the past year the Indians have released or traded almost half of the ball players they had a year ago. Lutzke was one of the first to leave, and since him have gone, perhaps not in this identical order—Burns, Cullop, Gollard, Cerkow, Levens, Uble Summa and other lesser lights.

For every one that has been sent away the Indians have acquired accessibility to at least three. And come are of much class.

The Indians are building for future years and they're ready to talk trade or money any time they see a chance to help themselves.

But they're players are concerned, at this time that they were a year ago when the new owners started to learn the racket.

Saints Nose Out Indians, 24 To 23
ABILENE, Jan. 18. (AP)—The St. Edwards University Saints grabbed a roaring practice fray with the Murray College Indians heretofore, 24 to 23, when Jansing fired a field goal in the last 30 seconds of play. A few seconds previously Mitchell had scored from the field to put the Indians in the lead.

Strolling Down Sports Lane

With Allan Carney, Avalanche Sports Editor

East Texas Teachers loom as one of the most dangerous basketball teams in the state following their recent double triumph over the Austin College Kangaroos. The Commerce quintet was one of the first to stop the stampeding herd from West Texas and has been equally impressive in all its games up to date. Following the defeat at the hands of the East Texas five, the Canyon crew came right along with a brace of wins over Baylor University.

If Coach Vic Payne's Tech cagers continue to improve their floor work, the Matadors should be able to win at least three out of the five games they will play in Abilene next week. Even the most casual observer could see that the A. C. C. Wildcats were playing far above their heads in the second game of the series played here last week. And to make matters worse the Matadors had apparently lost every precept of how basketball should be played.

Little is known concerning the strength of the McMurry Indians, but one can rest assured that Medley will have a scrappy aggregation. On the other hand we do know that Simmons will be a tough egg to crack. The Cowboys did what they could in the Abilene News called the impossible when they downed the West Texas Teachers on successive nights. T. C. U. managed to eke out a win over the Cowhands by a three point margin.

Lubbock High basketballers meet the Quannah Indians here Saturday night in the first of a seven game grind the Westerners are facing. Coach Moran is taking advantage of the absence of the Matador cagers to use the Tech gymnasium for games next week with Athens, Crosbyton, Abernathy, and Canyon. Local basketball fans are promised plenty of action next week beginning Monday night with the Athens Hornets, 1927 state champions and runners-up last season.

Two near-by teams are liable to give the Lubbock basketball loopers plenty of trouble before the season ends. Ralls and Monroe have both defeated Coach Morgan's aggregation in early season contests, but there is yet time for the Gold and Black to stage a comeback on the contest. Unlike football, basketball championships have no respect to large or small towns. Usually the smaller towns turn out the best cage teams. The reason for this is self-evident. Monroe, for instance had played more than a dozen games when Lubbock was defeated. Ralls had likewise been in training longer than the local basketballers. In schools where the enrollment is too small for football, the athletes are forced to take up basketball during the football season and thus have a start over the basketball teams of larger towns where football is the leading sport.

Texas University Longhorns meet their first conference foe in an Austin gymnasium tonight when the S. M. U. Mustangs invade the state capitol. Although the Steers have no hopes of wresting the conference title from the Arkansas Razorbacks, they do have high hopes of winding up the season in second place. The Ponies now loom as dangerous contenders for this position and the game tonight should prove interesting. The feud between Baylor and Arkansas which was started last night will continue in Fayetteville tonight. At the same time the T. C. U. cagers, who have played three conference titles and lost three, will meet the Texas Aggies at College Station.

The Texas Conference also gets under way tonight. Trinity meets Austin College, St. Edwards meets Simmons and Southwestern plays Howard Payne.

Texas Aggies Couldn't Beat Matty Bell, So They Annexed Him
Young T. C. U. Football Mentor Is Hired by School That Was Unable to Beat Him for Four Years; Forced To Bid High For His Services

FORT WORTH, Tex., Jan. 18.—There's an old saying down in Texas that the thing to do if you can't beat somebody is to make 'em fine you!

That is what Texas A. and M. has done with Matty Bell. They haven't been able to beat Bell's Texas Christian University football team in four years, so they have given him the coaching job made vacant when Dana X. Eible went away to Nebraska.

Bell, a youthful and handsome fellow who learned his football at Centre College with "Bo" McMillan, Red Roberts and those other famous stars has coached four Texas Christian teams and each one either defeated or tied the Texas Aggies.

The first time Bell's team played the Aggies, it won. In 1928, the Aggies were tied, 12-12, in 1927, with the great Joel Hunt in harness, the

Porkers Stampede Over Baylor Five To Tune of 59-24

Champions Are Far Ahead In Conference Chase With Five Straight Wins. Wear Schoonover Is Star

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Jan. 18.—Wear Schoonover, rangy Porker forward, led the Arkansas University basketball quintet in a 58 to 24 stampede over the Baylor University Bears here tonight. It was the champions' first appearance on their home court and put them far ahead in the Southwest Conference chase, with five straight victories.

Schoonover's play was brilliant. His 26 points topped the total of the entire Baylor team and put him in the van of conference scorers. He has scored 70 points in five games. Tom Pickell, his teammate, rang up 14 points tonight to fall into second place with 69.

Second Team Enters
After his six-foot starting line-up had run up a comfortable lead over the Bears, Coach Schmidt ran in his second squad, which held its own. The score at the half stood 31 to 13.

The play of diminutive Aubrey Smith was outstanding in the Baylor attack. He led his team's scoring with nine points.

The teams play here again tomorrow night, while Southern Methodist University is meeting Texas University at Austin and the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs are tackling the Aggies at College Station.

TO GIVE AWARDS

Women Athletes of T. C. U. To Be Recognized
FORT WORTH, Jan. 18.—The Women's Athletic association of Texas Christian University expects to award five blankets, seven sweaters, five "T" pins and more than one hundred felt letters for class teams this year.

The felt letter is awarded to each member of a class team. Awards will be made at the annual banquet of the W. A. A. just before the close of school in the spring.

STEPHENVILLE, Jan. 18. (AP)—Athletic supremacy of eight years standing was shattered here tonight when the Abilene Christian College Wildcats defeated the John Tarleton Plovers, 32 to 26 at basketball.

Cuba Bantam Is Sensation In Gotham

Scalfaro Caught The Kid On The Chin With The First Punch Of The Fight And Deposited Him On The Canvas. Chocolate Fought Right Up And Got Down To The Serious Business Of The Evening And Although The Decision Was A Draw Ringers Agreed The Cuban Had The Edge

KID CHOCOLATE
LATER...
You've been hearing a lot about Kid Chocolate and you are going to hear plenty more as soon as the great little bantam returns to the States this month for a final drive for a championship.

At present he is vacationing in his native Cuba, after a sensational season in New York, where he had the boxing public in the aisles.

Fighting in the smaller clubs around New York, Chocolate started a meteoric rise that landed him in the Madison Garden ring, as great an attraction as has been seen in the big town in the last decade, among the boys below the welterweight division.

His last fight with Joe Scalfaro established him as a boy with the stuff of a champion.

Scalfaro caught the Kid on the chin with the first punch of the fight and deposited him on the canvas. Chocolate fought right up and got down to the serious business of the evening and although the decision was a draw ringers agreed the Cuban had the edge.

Kid Chocolate has prizing "it." He possesses everything a champion should have except a flair for "wilding." If his backers can steer him clear of the Harlem bright lights Chocolate should win himself a nice belt and a lot of money soon.

Wichita Poloists Win Second Tilt

North Texas Entry Downs Twelfth Field Artillery While Air Corps Trims Midland Cowboys

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 18. (AP)—While Wichita Falls romped away, 19 to 6, with the twelfth field artillery today in the low goal event of the sixth annual southwest winter polo tournament, Air Corps Training Center of Kelley Field defeated the Midland Cowboys, 15 to 11. It was the second victory for Wichita Falls which defeated the 15th Field Artillery 16 to 10 Wednesday.

Wichita Falls and the 12th field artillery played from scratch today, each being handicapped six goals, while Midland spotted the Airmen one goal. It was the first game for the Cowboys and they proved to be the best scoring combination that the Airmen have faced in a year. One cause that may be attributed to the Midland defeat is that the Cowboys' ponies had not been rested up from their journey.

Bryant and Kelsey Lead Bookkeepers In Win Over National Guard Five To Take Championship Of Initial Half

Business College Girls Also Emerge With Perfect Record Over Three Other Teams In Women's Loop

The Nut Cracker
By Joe Williams
A headline in a New York newspaper says "Tex's Successor to be picked from the Garden." Let's hope the pickers don't gather a lemon.

They'll find someone to take his job all right says O'Goofy, but no one to fill it.

When Tex opened his desk at the garden several years ago he put one white sheet of paper on it. That same sheet of paper was there when he left it, unmarked.

They don't pick Rickards out of Gardens—his variety thrives out in the open spaces and samples are few and far between.

What a terrific handicap for a man to start under—taking Tex Rickard's place.

Now that Sharkey has signed to fight Stripling, it is to be hoped most earnestly that Stripling will really decide to fight Sharkey.

Girls Basketball Starts at T. C. U.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 18.—The girls' basketball season opened at Texas Christian University this week with thirty four girls signed up for teams. Kate Phillips, manager of basketball for the women's Athletic association, expects to have material for three class teams; freshman, sophomore and junior-senior.

Under the ruling of the W. A. A. of T. C. U., each member of the class teams is required to make thirty practice hours and take part in at least three interclass contests. A variety team will be chosen from the sophomore and junior-senior team members.

PARIS, Jan. 18. (AP)—Pulling away in the last minute of play after the count had been tied 23-all, Burleson College of Greenville defeated Paris Junior College 28 to 23, here tonight. Parkhill led the Burleson scorers with 11 points. Briggs scored nine for Paris.

Girls of Assam do all the proposing and if the man accepts the marriage takes place and the husband must live with his wife's people.

Entering the contest facing the possibility of overtaking the Business College five, the Soldiers fought valiantly throughout the fast game but were unable to fathom the passing game displayed by the bookkeepers. "Bulldog" Hale and his mates stayed on the heels of the fast-flying Kelsey and Bryant in the first half, but the pace was too fast for the army crew. The second half found the Business College five pulling away from the losers despite the fact that Kelsey was forced to leave the game with too many personal fouls credited him.

Sharing honors with Kelsey and Bryant in the scoring attack of the winners, Kerr sank three field goals and one free toss to tie with Bryant for high score on the Business College team. Hale led both teams in scoring with 10 points, sinking a number of field goals from long range. Balentine at guard for the College five was a big factor in the Business College victory.

Although the schedule for the second half of the City League race has not yet been worked, it will likely begin Monday night.

Highway Improvement Program Gets Under Way With Laying of Gravel Base; Roads Constructed

(Special To The Avalanche)
SWEETWATER, Jan. 18.—Work of laying the gravel base on the 8 mile road paving project on Highway 70 near Blackwell is to begin within about a week. Resident Engineer S. C. Daugherty announced this morning. Two gravel pits have already been stripped and work has started toward stripping a third from which gravel for the base work of this project is to be secured.

The contract for this road project was let to R. V. Sparks, contractor, by the state highway commission late last year on a bid of $58,995.14. A hundred and fifty working days are allowed the contractor for completing the project. Time started counting on December 28th.

Eleven inch loose gravel base will be laid on this road which, when compacted will be about 8 1/2- to 9 inches thick. It will be laid down 19 feet wide. After the base has become compacted an inch of asphalt topping will be put on the road.

About 3 1/2 miles of base remain to be put down on Highway No. 7 north of Roscoe and about 3 1/2 miles of base has already been put down. The construction gang has moved to the Mitchell county line and the men are working south laying the caliche base.

Dry, Dry Kansas Campaign In State Is Launched

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 18. (AP)—Stringent efforts to dry up Kansas, where state prohibition has been in effect for nearly a half century, have been inaugurated under the leadership of the new chief executive, Governor Clyde M. Reed, and the state capital already has felt the crusade.

Fighting squads of federal and state prohibition officers launched into action here Wednesday and ten arrests were made. Announcement followed that raiding would continue until the town was dried up.

Given assurance that the legislature was ready to take up his proposal for a special fund of $40,000 to be expended under his direction for dry work, the executive has turned to the state law enforcement machinery to put his ideas into effect.

Following a lengthy conference with the governor yesterday, Attorney General William A. Smith directed personal letters to all county attorneys advising them that they were expected to vigorously enforce the prohibition laws.

How to Achieve Beauty

Now that we leave "all-four" behind, the prime essential for cultivation is balance. Let us assume that we accept the evolution theory in toto. Embryonic man has now reached the urge to stand on two uncertain feet. Naturally, his entire internal organization must undergo certain changes. And what is even more important, his gradually growing weight must be shifted from a four-way balance to a two-way balance. That requires certain adjustments. Adjustments that to this present day we have not wholly encompassed. All the awkwardness of poor poise comes from this failure to adjust our muscles to proper balance.

TOYO, Jan. 18. (AP)—The foreign minister announced to the cabinet today that an agreement had been reached in tariff negotiations between China and Japan.

Broadway Crowds Crane Necks To See Giant Night Flying Billboard

NEW YORK, Jan. 18. (AP)—Brilliantly lighted billboards that wall Broadway around Times Square now have a rival in the sky.

A huge tri-motored bomber of the type used by the United States army air corps now flashes messages out of the sky, advertising products to Broadway's throngs—who are attracted by the roar of the plane's motors.

The "winged billboard" keeps Roland Rohlf, one-time holder of the world altitude record busy nightly, as he flies over Broadway barely above the buildings carrying messages to the throngs below.

The lower wing, extended several feet beyond its regulation dimensions, has a span of 95 feet. On its under surface red neon light signs,

AUTO HIGHWAY REGISTRATION LAWS

The public seems to be rather up in the air over the Highway Registration laws. All of them know that plates must be obtained.

Some, at least, of the journalistic delegation bring back complaints, nevertheless. Many changes were made in their dispatches which could not possibly have been of the slightest interest to the captain of a man-of-war.

The consensus in Washington correspondential circles seems to be that the censorship really signified very little insofar as the tour was concerned, but that it looks decidedly like presenting Mr. Hoover's conception of the freedom of the press as something altogether different from the newspaper men's.

As for the present law the motor vehicle owner is caught between two financial milestones which exert terrific pressure upon the average pocket-book—Christmas and the regular tax-paying period.

This is tax paying time, and many of the people are going before the collector and making their annual contribution to the government.

The important part about this is summed up by being a full fledged citizen. Pay your poll tax so that you will be in position to vote when the time comes.

ALL NEWS CENSORED DURING HOOVER TOUR BY CHARLES P. STEWART Washington Correspondent

ASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Explain it as Mr. Hoover's friends may, there is no getting away from the fact that a censorship prevailed throughout the whole of the president-elect's Latin-American tour.

That the tour was without sensations of much consequence is pretty well proved by the failure of Washington newspaper men to discover any in the course of the investigation which they instituted on the day immediately following the disclosure that correspondents who accompanied it might have been denied the right to transmit the tidings, had any occurred.

Of reasons for the restrictions placed upon correspondents a number were given. The captain of a man-of-war is entitled, under the regulations, to exercise a censorship over anything sent from his ship by wireless.

And in the last analysis, as it was pointed out, the tour's chroniclers had full liberty of access to the commercial cable stations wherever they were able to land.

Some, at least, of the journalistic delegation bring back complaints, nevertheless. Many changes were made in their dispatches which could not possibly have been of the slightest interest to the captain of a man-of-war.

COLD SORES, CHICKEN POX AND SHINGLES ARE RELATED BY DR. MORRIS FISHER

The disease commonly called shingles is known scientifically as herpes zoster.

A similar variety of this disease is herpes simplex, also called cold sores.

The type which occurs about the body following the root of a nerve is a more serious condition than the cold sore.

Shingles usually occurs following some infectious disease, but in many instances it is impossible to associate the condition with any definite disorder.

When the inflammation subsides, the shingles disappear so that the chief attention of the physician in such cases is given to keeping the person in a state of good nutrition and free from infection.

The Mysterious Stranger

SO THINK 'E

We think that Oklahoma is having plenty of political troubles. It may wind up in an impeachment, and if it is for the good of the state we say go to it fellows. Politics need a good cleaning every once in a while, and sometimes it needs to begin at the top.

We think there should certainly be some great change made in Texas. The Governor should be paid more money for his services, and there should be a change in the manner in which the legislature operates.

Take the Texas Technological College as an example. Who could figure out the needs of that institution for two years. With its rapid growth, see where we will be in two years time.

And then who would have thought that in the past two years, and what has happened in the past four years. From a tract of pasture land to a college campus. Who would have thought it.

Texas is developing rapidly. Even now industries are opening up and going two years before a session of the legislature meet in regular order, so you will know by this that there is need for more sessions of the legislature, or longer sessions.

It looks like the city of Lubbock is liable to wake up to the importance of an airport. There seems to be increased interest in this and Lubbock certainly should have one of the best in this section of the country.

We think it is looking very encouraging indeed to see the down town alleys being paved, and now they should be well lighted, and the police department will have very little trouble in keeping the stores well protected at night from burglar raids and it will be much easier to keep the alleys clean and sanitary.

Now is the time to plant shrubbery in Lubbock. Make the home of the city attractive. It also adds comfort to the home to have a neat appearance.

We think the best thing for the school board to do at this time is to erect and equip a real modern high school building. It is completed now, and before it can be occupied, it will be indispensable. Lubbock keeps going forward, none of us would stop her. The thing is to take care

THIS HAS HAPPENED

ASHTORETH ASHE, poor but beautiful (a stenographer from Boston), meets Death while cruising through the Caribbean.

A few hours after Mona's beautiful body is taken ashore at Guadalupe, the boat puts in at Dominica. Wandering alone about the streets, Ashforth sees a white man coming toward her and recognizes him as HOLLIS HART, her millionaire employer.

"But why?" demands Mr. Hart, in dumfounded astonishment. "They go to a little tea house for ices and Ashforth tells the exciting story of the voyage. Some passengers were so pointedly that Ashforth is impelled to confess that they all treat her like the dirt beneath their feet."

"But why?" she cried. "That's just it. They're stupid as they can be." "But what have you done to them?" he asked. "And what makes you think they don't like you?"

"Well—" Ashforth hardly knew what to say. "Sadie has such a lot of sex appeal," she finished lamely.

"Sex appeal!" he exclaimed. "Well—maybe. I'm no authority on the subject. But downright feeble-mindedness, I'd call it." "Oh," Ashforth informed him. "Sadie isn't feeble-minded. She's quite smart, really. Only it's not to your standards, Mr. Hart. That is, she doesn't know anything about conversation."

"There are a million cold-shoulders could be made. When a girl's smart, she marries a man." "Oh," Ashforth revolved it in his mind.

"I'm living in a little house up on the mountains," he said. "A shack rather. But the view from there is gorgeous—simply beyond words. And I've a cook who prepares the most wonderful native dishes. I'm wondering when the boat leaves. Do you suppose you'd have time to come and call on me? You'd enjoy it I know."

"That's all right," he assured her. "Nobody does much real riding in this country. The mountain is so steep that the horse only crawls. It takes an hour or so to get up. And you should stay for two hours anyhow. If we have four or five hours now, we can do it quite comfortably."

"That's all right," he assured her. "Nobody does much real riding in this country. The mountain is so steep that the horse only crawls. It takes an hour or so to get up. And you should stay for two hours anyhow. If we have four or five hours now, we can do it quite comfortably."

Now she was thinking how very like the great Roman Hollis Hart was. The same straight nose, and thin lips. And a sort of quiet, humorous look. She wondered if they possessed any of the same attributes.

As they passed the table where the Simpsons and the Dunks and Mrs. Hatch sucked their pipes, she looked quite proud and possessive and leaned just a trifle on Mr. Hart. She elevated her chin, and called past them like a queen.

"Good for you," he approved. "That's giving them all they ever gave you, I guess." "Oh, you don't know," she exclaimed. "They've been so frightful. They stroled in silence for a while."

"You could never imagine how surprised I was to see you," she said finally. "You've been so frightful. They stroled in silence for a while."

"That's where I started for," he explained. "I took a leisurely little coastwise vessel down through the islands and meant to go on from Trinidad on one of the bigger boats. But I stopped off here at Dominica, and I don't seem to be able to get away. It is quite the loveliest place on earth—up in the mountains I mean. Of course you don't see a thing down here in the village. . . . By the way, how is Sadie Morton?"

"Oh, she's fine," she said. "She has some other girls living with her now, and she's still in the apartment." "I told my attorney," she remarked carelessly. "I made what ever settlement she wanted. And then I thought I'd rather duck out for a while."

"That little girl taught me a lesson," he said. "I'm going to be a very cautious fellow after this." "Well—" Ashforth hardly knew what to say. "Sadie has such a lot of sex appeal," she finished lamely.

"Sex appeal!" he exclaimed. "Well—maybe. I'm no authority on the subject. But downright feeble-mindedness, I'd call it." "Oh," Ashforth informed him. "Sadie isn't feeble-minded. would have left.

"And what," demanded that sobering little voice that pious people call Conscience, "what will happen then?"

But Ashtoreth shut her ears to its tiresome questioning. She felt suddenly very gay and very young, and more adventurous than ever before. As if her soul had put away its make-believe wisdom—and all its silly little pretensions—and donned, by miracle, a jester's twinkling cap and fluttering skirts.

"I'm happy," rejoiced her soul. "Oh, I'm so happy. And something just beautiful is going to happen."

Mr. Hart was delighted. He called a little black boy, and spoke to him in patois.

"I've told him to get us a horse," he told Ashtoreth, "and have him tricker out to the foot of the mountain. Now we'll get a car, and I'll begin to show you the sights."

U. S. Steel Soars To New All-Time High On Exchange

Old Time Favorite Leads Stocks In Powerful Bull Movements; Brackets Loans Influence Market

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER, Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—Under the banner of their old time leader, U. S. Steel, some of the most powerful bull contingents on the stock market launched a buying movement today which sent about a score of important issues up to nearly 15 points. Steel was bid up to a new record for all time at 180 1/2, up more than 8 points.

Their most spirited efforts, however, failed to dissipate the uneasiness caused by the announcement last night of a rise in brokers loans to near the December record, and nervousness was aggravated during the day by increases in bankers and acceptance rates and a firmer tone in time money. About a dozen important issues receded 2 to 6 points, and trading, while showing considerable expansion over recent sessions, fell short of the 5,000,000 share mark. Sales totalled but 4,526,587 shares, although the tape reflected a number of individual transactions of from 5,000 to 35,000 shares.

The bullsibly inclined were disposed to regard the increase of $71,000,000 in brokers loans as largely offset by the reduction in member bank borrowings. Call money was in unexpectedly abundant supply, renewing at 6 per cent for the first time in a week, and funds were available at less than that in the "outside" market.

Rate Likely to Stand.

While the federal reserve authorities are known to look askance at any record-breaking speculation at this time, Wall street believes that the reserve institution would hesitate to raise its rediscount rate for a time, as such action undoubtedly would bring a flow of gold from London and embarrass the bank of England.

Otis Elevator mounted nearly 15 points, and Johns Manville climbed 13, but lost more than its gain. Later, St. Joseph Lead sold up about 9 points to a new high, on reports of the discovery of a new ore body.

The independent steels were buoyed up by the strength of U. S. Bethlehem, Republic, crucible and Vanadium and making substantial headway. With the exception of Greene Cananea, which made an extreme gain of over 7 points, coppers turned heavy, Kennecott losing more than 3. Cananea Pacific lead the rails with an extreme gain of about 6 points, and Pennsylvania was heavily bought in expectation that valuable rights will be granted in connection with its new financing.

Numbers Lose Points

Allied Chemical and Wright Aero were soft spots, losing about 6 points while Burroughs Adding Machine and General Electric fell back about 4. Motors were rather heavy, Chrysler and General Motors losing about 2 points each. Montgomery Ward, American Car and Foundry, Goodyear, Columbia Graphophone and Chesapeake and Ohio lost 2 to 3 points.

The commodity markets were steady to firm. Corn gained about 2 cents a bushel in response to further reports of drought in Argentina, and wheat improved sympathetically. Cotton was dull and moved in a narrow range.

Foreign exchanges were quiet with sterling slightly firmer.

"I HAVE NEVER SEEN IT'S EQUAL" HE SAYS

"I Feel Like A Different Person Since Taking Orgatone," Says Amarillo Man

"For several months before I found out about this Orgatone I simply wasn't worth a nickel so far as my health was concerned," said W. H. Russell, a well known employee of the Louis H. Smith Tire Shop, who lives at 1303 A. Wash. St., Amarillo, this day.

"I was in a general run-down condition," he continued, "had no appetite and in a few months time had went down in weight from one hundred and fifty pounds to one hundred and thirty-five. I nearly always had a nauseated feeling after eating and my liver was sluggish. I did not rest well at nights and would wake up in the mornings with that tired dull hazy feeling and would just have to pull myself out of bed. In fact, I just felt all worn out and good for nothing most of the time."

"I am just on my third bottle of Orgatone and I never thought of it doing me so much good in so short a time. I can eat anything I want and that sick, nauseated feeling has disappeared. My food seems to digest and I am gaining in weight and strength right along. My stomach is beginning to feel like a new one, my nerves are in better shape than they have been some time and I can do my work without feeling all tired and worn out like I did. I am feeling like a different person already and I never saw the equal of Orgatone, and I am glad to tell others about the medicine that is doing so much for me."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called secret or patent remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowers Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.—adv.

Texas Livestock And Ranges Are Classed As Good

General Condition of Cattle Is Above Average; Few Affected by Winter; Sheep and Goats Hold Up

AUSTIN, Jan. 18. (U. S. D. A.)—In general the condition of livestock and ranges in Texas is very good. There are a few localities in which cattle are thin and pastures poor. If the winter does not prove unusually severe cattle will fatten early. Some calves are beginning to come. Trading is slow. Steers are being contracted for May-June delivery. Sheep and goats are wintering well, and a large lamb and kid crop is expected.

The snow and rain in the northwest have been somewhat hard on stock cattle causing them to draw and lose weight. Where ranges are poor in scattered localities over the State, cake and pear are being fed. The feed supply is ample in most sections. Ranges have been sold rather closely and there is not much trading. The condition of cattle, 87 per cent, coincides with the 5-year average; it is a point above that a month ago and 2 points above that of January 1, 1928.

Cattle In Good Shape
Cattle have gone into the winter in good shape. The ranges have held up as well as usual. Up to the period of freezing weather in late December there was quite a lot of green grass and weeds left and small grain pastures were good. Stock water and soil moisture are ample now and with more rain in February the spring prospects should be very good.

Most of the sheep and goats are in the best condition in years. The winter has been mild until recently and the ranges are mainly in good shape. There have been some losses recently from eating bitter weed, and during the year the deaths from screw, and stomach worms were severe in many instances. Feeding has been found necessary on overstocked ranges. Fall lambs are doing well. Prices remain satisfactory and everything sells that is offered. January rains have been most beneficial.

DUN'S REPORT
NEW YORK, Jan. 18. (AP)—Dun's Review tomorrow will say: More than half of January has passed with few conspicuous alterations in business, stability remaining a prominent characteristic of the situation. Changes in commodity prices have been more numerous and this year have tended in buyers' favor, yet unsettlement barely has appeared. Existing phases of demand and supply apparently preclude any generally disturbing movements in wholesale channels, and recent concessions have not indicated a widespread weakening of the status of sellers. Persistent lowering of hide markets, which has affected allied branches, is not representative of conditions elsewhere, and it is overshadowed by the continued buoyancy of the great steel industry. Weekly bank clearing $13,295,000, an increase of 29.3 percent over a year ago. One London building contains 120 fast-moving elevators for the use of customers and staff.

Cotton Gains Four Points Friday In Uneventful Buying

General Market Closes Steady; Renewal of Long Liquidation Causes Prices To Recede; Gain Later

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 18. (AP)—A renewal of long liquidation caused cotton prices to recede 7 to 8 points in early trading today but the decline met re-buying by early sellers who found contracts scarce and March which had sold off to 19.49 rallied to 19.62 and closed one point under the latter figure for a net gain of 4 points. The general market closed steady at net advance of 4 to 6 points.

Liverpool cables were higher than due at the start here but the market opened relatively easy. First traders were one point up to one down and a renewal of liquidation right after the start, started the market downward. Although enough trade buying developed at one time to absorb offerings on the scale down, January ultimately sold at 19.62 and May 19.65, or 13 to 16 points up from the lows of the morning. Final prices were at or near the top.

Receipts 25,056; for week 157,684; for year 7,600,274; last year 6,507,540. Exports 29,422; for week 123,747; for year 5,172,009. Last year 4,233,493. Stocks 2,314,120; last year 2,412,381. Stock on shipboard 154,001; last year 140,780. Spot sales 26,315; last year 16,053.

Develps Steadier Undertone
The market developed a steadier undertone in the afternoon trading due to efforts by early sellers to cover. The rather free liquidation by the long interest and the absorbing of contracts by the trade was said to have improved the technical position of the market and may have

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK
FORT WORTH, Jan. 18. (AP)—The supply of livestock today was very light and generally lacked quality. The trading demand was rather included in the subsequent advance as probably did talk of a better spot demand. At any rate prices traded to new highs for the day in final trading when January reached 19.59, March 19.62 and May 19.65, or 13 to 16 points up from the lows of the morning. Final prices were at or near the top.

Receipts 25,056; for week 157,684; for year 7,600,274; last year 6,507,540. Exports 29,422; for week 123,747; for year 5,172,009. Last year 4,233,493. Stocks 2,314,120; last year 2,412,381. Stock on shipboard 154,001; last year 140,780. Spot sales 26,315; last year 16,053.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, Jan. 18. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—All buying interests displayed considerable interest in the fresh supply of hogs and trading was fairly active at steady to 15c higher prices; the days top of $9.50 was scored at St. Louis on choice, different but sales men were able to collect about steady prices on those that sold. About seven loads of slaughter steers included in the receipts and ranged from very common light steers to good fed steers. No early sales with a demand that suggested lower values.

No bulls of any consequence included in the day's trading, but the few old head that came sold steady, common light ones cleared around 6.25. No good bulls offered.

Mixed loads of cows made up the majority of the cattle supply. The bulk of sales about steady with occasional low bids. Very few cows here good enough to sell in the 700 range, but a few reached 8.00. Canner and cutters sold at 4.50 to 5.75. Very few under 4.50.

Slaughter yearlings and heifers consisted mostly of package lots. Odd head sold up to 12.75 and 13.00 sizeable packages around 11.50. Hardly enough calves here to test market, but sales mostly steady, home selling at 10.75 and 10.85 and a few at 11.25. The bulk of the cull calves sold at or around 6.00.

Practically no stocker cattle included in receipts. Quality considered, hogs called ten cents higher, best rail butchers sold at 9.25 and the truck top at 8.75.

The bulk of the 175-250 pound sizeable packages around 11.50. Hardly enough calves here to test market, but sales mostly steady, home selling at 10.75 and 10.85 and a few at 11.25. The bulk of the cull calves sold at or around 6.00.

Trade in fat lambs was somewhat uneven, most markets were on a steady to strong basis although slight declines were registered at Omaha and Kansas City, shippers paid 17.25 and 17.35 at Chicago for choice closely sorted fed lambs, desirable fed westerns sold up to 16.50 at most of the river markets; mature classes were relatively scarce and prices held fully steady; receipts totalled 44,700 against 40,949 a week ago and 27,529 a year ago.

Limited supplies of cattle at all the larger markets held prices on a mostly nominal basis; Chicago reported a very dull trade on limited between grades of steers and yearlings with closing sales weak to unevenly lower; not enough good to choice grades were offered at any market to test values; the stock sold about steady; stockers and feeders were scarce and no change was registered in price levels; total offerings around the circuit were estimated at 11,850 as compared with 13,627 last Friday and 13,376 a year ago.

FORT WORTH GRAIN
FORT WORTH, Jan. 18. (AP)—wheat: export bids 1.28 1/2 on basis No. 1, hard delivered Gulf. Mill bids as follows: Basis delivered Texas common points: No. 1, ordinary milling 1.29 1/2 to 1.31; 13 percent protein 1.33; 14 percent 1.37; 15 percent 1.41; 16 percent 1.46.

Corn: basis delivered Gulf export rate. No. 2 mixed 1.06 to 1.08; No. 2 white or yellow 1.10 to 1.12. Oats: No. 2 white delivered group 1 at 62 to 62 1/2; group 3 at 1c more.

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK, Jan. 18. (AP)—The cotton market showed a generally steady tone today. A moderate early decline was followed by rallies on covering combined with some trade and commission house buying promoted by encouraging trade reports from the Manchester goods market, steady Liverpool cables, and reiterated reports of a steady spot situation in the south.

March sold up from 20.10 to 20.26 and closed at 20.24. The general market closed steady at net advances of 3 to 8 points. Comparatively light offerings were readily absorbed on a decline, and the market steadied up on the better tone of southern spot advices. Trading was not active. Selling was limited after the offerings had been absorbed and the market worked gradually up to about 20.18 for January, 20.26 for May and 19.88 for July or 6 to 9 points net higher. Closing quotations were within a point or two of the best on most positions.

According to private advices, some southwestern spot interests were buying nearly everything offered in the New Orleans section. Cable advices from Manchester said the cloth market there was improving with increasing sales for China, although offers of cloths for India were disappointing. According to these reports, British manufacturers are strengthening their position but yarns are quiet.

There also were reports of a fair business in the local goods market, which contributed to the steadier tone noted during the afternoon. There may have been some buying on the week-end figures, which showed a decrease of 9,999 bales in the world's visible supply of American cotton, compared with 106,670 last year.

If Benjamin Franklin Could Advise You Today, He Would Say,

.... "The Generous Use of Electricity Is An Investment In Home Comfort"

We believe, in all sincerity, that Benjamin Franklin, were he alive today, would be an advocate for the more generous use of electricity in the home—in making the house work lighter, cleaner and more comfortable. Its a long step in progress from the time he discovered electricity to the present day when every home in every City can be given all the advantages of this great servant of nature in almost every conceivable manner—at a generally lowering cost.

The generous use of electricity is an investment in a higher standard of living, a good Thrift investment and one that will stand every test of spending wisely.

Sunday-School Lesson
 BY DR. J. E. NUNN

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR JAN. 23, 1929

General Topic: Christ the Saviour
 Scripture Lesson: Luke 15:3-7; Rom. 5:6-10.

Luke 15:3. And he spake unto them this parable, saying:
 4. What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost until he find it?
 5. And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing.
 6. And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and his neighbors, saying unto them: Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost.

7. I say unto you, that even so shall be joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine righteous persons, who need no repentance.
 Rom. 5:6. For while we were yet weak, in due season Christ died for the ungodly.
 7. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: for peradventure for the good man some one would even dare to die.
 8. But God commendeth his own love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.
 9. Much more then, being now justified by his blood, shall we be saved from the wrath of God through him.
 10. For, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, shall we be saved by his life.
 11. Time: Jesus spoke the parable of the lost sheep in A. D. 30, in the last three months of His life. Paul wrote the Epistle to the Romans in A. D. 57, in the course of his third missionary journey.
 Place: The parable was spoken in Peraea. Romans was written in Corinth.

Golden Text: And thou shalt call his name Jesus; for it is he that shall save his people from their sins.—Matt. 1:21.
 Introduction.
 The sequence of our topics is appropriate: after considering God the Father, we turn to the first lesson of this quarter, and sin in the second lesson, it is natural that we should turn to the Christ in whom the Father fully reveals himself as such, and who is sin's Saviour.

Last week's lesson on sin would have been too depressing if we had studied only the origin of sin and its terrible results; the Lesson Committee did well to give us relief from the sad picture, a glorious glimpse of the work of Jesus Christ in providing a remedy for sin. This salvation we are now to consider more fully, and we shall find it to be the most inspiring, as it is certainly by far the most important, of all these lessons on the Great Christian Teachings.
 "A Saviour Is Born." Luke 2:11
 The essential fact of the angel's proclamation is, not that the Christ had at length come to Israel, but that a Saviour had been born. Before his birth Joseph and Mary had been instructed in his name was to be Jesus, meaning Saviour. The Jews had associated many things with the advent of the Messiah—Isaiah, indeed, described it in terms of salvation, "The Lord hath made known his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God."—Isaiah 52:10—but when he came those who recognized him thought instinctively of his name as Simeon here (cp. Luke 3:6). No matter by what other names we call our Lord, "Saviour" added gives that name a fuller, more satisfying meaning.
 Two Kinds of Helpers.
 "There are two kinds of benefactors: the one is largely concerned with general principles, or with helpfulness and betterment on a big scale, touching the whole world, perhaps; say, some famous social reformer or multi-millionaire philanthropist; the other carries a banquet of flowers to a sick child! There is the Christian who preaches to crowded audiences or to an infinite host by radio; and the other who spends an evening trying to persuade his neighbor to accept Christ. Jesus may be said to represent both these types. The sweep of his salvation is universal and timeless; but also the one lost sheep, the one man, the one soul, the one little child, the one poor blind beggar, is certain of his particular way of saving attention! His salvation is specific as well as general. I rejoice in the fact that he is saving the lost world on the cross; but, too, I am happy in knowing that he is saving me there.
 The Christ of Prophecy, Acts 3:18.
 Our Saviour is not rightly seen at all unless he is seen against the background of prophecy. His life on earth cannot be comprehended except as part of the plan of salvation. In our last lesson we found a fore gleam of Christ in the story of the first man. All down through the history of the Chosen People this gleam is growing brighter. It shines with increasing splendor in the writings of Isaiah and the latter prophets. The Jewish expectation of the Messiah waxed ever more insistent all the days of John the Baptist, the Herald of the Christ. Peter said at Pentecost that Christ fulfilled prophecy. "But those things, which God before had shewed by his mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled." Acts 3:18.
 The Christ of Bethlehem.
 Luke 2:11, 30-32.
 At length, in the fullness of times, the Babe of Bethlehem, forever consecrating childhood and humanity. The marvelous record is: "There is born to you this day in the city of David a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord." The line of prophecy was continued in Anna and in Simeon, Luke 2:25-38, the latter speaking of Christ's salvation as "prepared before the face of all peoples," and as not only the glory of Israel but "a light for revelation to the Gentiles," thus anticipating, even in those days of Jewish exclusiveness, the progress of Christianity over an unpopulated world.

 The Christ of the Future.
 Phil. 2:5-11.
 This is one of the noblest passages in all Paul's writings, in all literature. It portrays the pre-existence of Christ "in the form of God," his incarnation "in the likeness of men," his obedience "unto death," and finally his supreme exaltation, God having given him "the name which is above every name."
 "That is the name of Jesus every knee should bow, things in heaven and things on earth and things under the earth, and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is the Lord, to the glory of God the Father." This is a picture of the triumph of missions, the ultimate glory of the church.
 Why the Saviour Came, Luke 15:3-7
 "And he spake unto them this parable: Of the most precious and blessed chapters of the entire Bible gives Christ's three-fold answer to the scribes and Pharisees when they criticized our Lord for associating with publicans—and sinners. Christ's reply was in three closely related parables, those of the lost sheep, the lost coin, and the lost boy (the prodigal son). The answer to the Pharisees, in brief, this: The Messiah has come to earth to seek and save the lost.
 The Saviour of the Lost, v. 4.
 "And go after that which is lost, until he find it?" The loving care and pity of the Good Shepherd, Christ's picture of God, is in the strongest possible contrast to the cold indifference of the gods of heathen mythology. Their attitude is well expressed in the Arab saying that God has divided pity into a hundred parts and kept ninety-nine for himself—the exact antithesis of the parable. "That he loved once for all is an earnest of the blessed things his life with the redeemed sinner will do in and for him, through ages of ages.
 "Leave the keeping with him, and fall into line with the inspired logic: "If, when I was an enemy, I was reconciled by his blood, how much more, now that I am a friend, shall I be kept saved by his life?"—Rev. Archibald G. Brown.
 The Seeking Saviour
 "Lord, thou hast here thy ninety and nine:
 Are they not enough for thee?
 But the Shepherd made answer,
 "This of mine
 Has wandered away from me.
 And, although the road be rough and steep,
 I go to the desert to find my sheep!"—Elizabeth C. Celpman.

HE SUFFERED FOR TEN YEARS
 Then ALL-BRAN Brought Relief in 2 Months—Doctor Recommended It
 Constipation is dreaded not only for its own insidious self, but because of the many serious conditions and diseases it causes. Mr. Lind was a sufferer—but read how he found relief.
 "For the past 10 years I have suffered from piles. At times I have been unable to work. I have tried suppositories, ointments, etc., but to no avail.
 "Two months ago my grocer called my attention to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I began taking it regularly. Immediately the pain and annoyance from the piles was relieved. I found that it requires very little ALL-BRAN to give nature a fair chance to effect a cure."—WALTER J. LIND, R. 2, Box 127, Appleton, Wis.
 Don't neglect constipation. At any time its poisons may take terrible toll from your health and well-being. Protect yourself. Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly—two tablespoons daily, or in chronic cases with every meal. ALL-BRAN brings sure, natural relief. It is what doctors call a bulk food. It sweeps the intestine clean and stimulates normal action.
 Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Also try the recipes on the package. Results guaranteed. Doctors recommend it because it is 100% bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Served in hotels, restaurants, and dining cars. Sold by all grocers.
