Garza's oil output up million barrels

Garza County's oil production for 1975 totaled 6,789,702 barrels, a 10 percent increase over 1974, according to statistics released this week by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

While overall Texas oil production continued to drop for the third consecutive year in 1975, Garza County was reported its second straight major boost in annual production.

The association said that despite the continuing decline in Texas crude oil production last year, the state once again set the pace among U. S. oil producing states, accounting for 40 percent of total U. S. production.

Information furnished by the association showed that Garza County last year was producing at the rate of 18,602 barrels of oil daily.

Since the start of production in 1926, the county through 1975 has produced 141,956,733 barrels of oil.

"This continued decline in the production of Texas key natural

Registration set for May 7

Spring round-up for all pupils who will enroll in the first grade and kindergarten this coming fall will be held Friday, May 7, from 3 to 4 p. m. Principal Jack Alexander has announced.

"If you are unable to attend the roundup," Alexander said, "please come by the office and register before the end of May if at all possible."

Parents and children are requested to enter the east door of the primary building for the roundup. Children will be assigned a room, after which parents are requested to go to the auditorium. While in the auditorium, parents will receive forms and general information.

All kindergarten and first grade pupils for the current school year will be dismissed at 2 p. m. May 7 in preparation for the Spring Round-up.

Youngsters now attending kindergarten do not need to come to the roundup registration. They already are on the first grade roll for the 1976-77 school year, Alexander said.

Primary interest centers on sheriff, commissioners

Many voters to new boxes

Garza County Democrats will go to the polls Saturday for their first presidential primary. Most of the interest, however, and as usual, will center on the contested county sheriff's race and hot county commissioner races in Precincts 1 and 3.

Either or both of the county commissioner races could be forced into a June runoff.

The Republicans won't get the opportunity to choose between President Ford and Ronald Reagan in their presidential primary. Garza is one of the 50 Texas counties which won't hold a Republican primary.

County Demo Chairman N. C. Outlaw is ill in Garza Memorial Hospital. That may be the only quiet place to be Saturday when many voters try to figure out where they will vote, and actually which county commissioner precinct they are now in.

This will be the first election since the county commissioners' court "equalized" the county commissioners' precincts back in January by taking a lot of territory and voters from Precinct 1, some from Precinct 2, and added a bunch to Precinct 4.

Precinct 2 got some of Precinct 1's city voters to make up for their loss in equalization to Precinct 4.

The Dispatch published four maps of the old and new precinct lines on Jan. 22 but doesn't have a gratis page to republish them again this week. Even with the maps, rural voters couldn't be sure about their precincts.

The Dispatch in this edition is printing gratis, however, the primary ballot on page 3 so all voters can study it carefully before going to the polls. That will save them some surprises.

In the Presidential primary, Democrats can choose among delegates for Jimmy Carter, George Wallace, Lloyd Bentsen, or uncommitted delegates. The voter picks three.

Voters will find ballot instructions in both English and Spanish on the same ballot to conform to the national voting rights act.

In the only contested county race, Sheriff Ewell E. (Gene) Gandy is opposed by Jim Pippin, a former deputy here, for a full four-year term. Gandy was appointed sheriff last spring to fill a vacancy and put together the present joint city-county law arm.

In the two county commissioner races, T. D. (Buck) Craft, Silas Short and Sam Ellis

Dispatch will give primary returns

The Dispatch office will be open Saturday night to provide Garza primary election returns.

Since polls do not close until 7 p. m., no complete voting box returns are expected to be reported to the courthouse before 8 to 8:30 p. m.

Even though the county commissioner districts have been "equalized" the bigger Post boxes are expected to require until 10:30 p. m. and later to complete their vote counts and determine outcome of the three contests within the county.

Those wanting returns should not call The Dispatch before 8:30 p. m. for even the first returns.

Bus, Cadillac 'totaled' in three vehicular fires

Three vehicles did the burning, at considerable loss, in and around Post in the last few days with a TBM&O chartered bus and an Eldorado Cadillac being "totaled" in two of the three calls answered by Post's volunteer firemen.

The third vehicle fire did considerable damage to a pickup truck owned by Fred Miller about 6:30 p. m. Saturday on Fourth Street.

The big bus, "guessed" to be worth from $60,000 to $80,000, was completely burned out 23 miles southeast of Post on US-84 at 9:37 p. m. Sunday.

The bus was carrying a load of Lubbock youngsters home to Lubbock after a weekend outing down state.

Gov't controls to car design

"The Camel is in the tent," Harold Lucas, local car dealer, told Post Rotarians and a Texas Tech home economics class of 26 students Tuesday noon at city hall in passing along highlights of a talk by a General Motors executive on government encroachment.

Lucas cited the fact that today there are more public workers in government than production workers in our factories, that the government takes up to 40 percent of all the wealth created in America, that 5,000 different federal forms are sent out of Washington annually with the cost of government paperwork to the taxpayer totaling more than $15 billion annually.

The talk went on to cite the growing weight of government on the automobile industry with no less than 17 congressional committees and five federal agencies now dictating the design of future cars "with reason to believe that most Americans won't be able to afford them."

Lucas said in conclusion the question now is not whether we are going to have change in the automotive industry, Detroit is preparing to spend $15 billion to retrofit new models over the next four years.

"The question," Lucas emphasized, "is whether government planners are going to shape that change or people, as consumers speaking through the marketplace."

Wage boost at Postex Plant

A wage increase for all hourly employees of Postex Plant was announced Tuesday.

Plant Manager Ed Bruton told The Dispatch Wednesday that the new salary increases will become effective June 14. He said the new rate schedules have not as yet been received so he would not want to comment on the size of the increase at this time.

The last Burlington boost for employees was in September, 1975.

Steve White wins honors in livestock judging

Steve White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel White and a member of the Garza County 4-H Judging team, came home Saturday with "high individual overall" honors after the livestock judging was completed.

Steve also was second high individual in the Swine Division of Saturday's judging.

The Post livestock judging team consisting of Steve, Dana Bird, Bruce Sanderson and Mike Dye won third place in a field of approximately 400 boys and girls competing in the District 2 contest. The team was just edged out of second by Lamb Co. Only the first and second place winners in the event won the right to represent their county in the state contest that will be held at College Station in June.

Competition for the day included livestock, dairy cattle, and horses, judging and rifle skills.

Lamb County took top honors in livestock judging. Bailey County won in horse judging. Parmer County was first in dairy cattle judging, and rifle skills was won by Floyd County.

Placing second in livestock judging was Crosby County; horse judging, Hardin County; and dairy cattle, Gaines County. Lubbock County was second in rifle.

To qualify for state competition, a team or individual must have a first or second place win in the senior division which is for 14-years and older.

The Garza County 4-H junior judging team, Scott Lewis, Lance L. Dunn, David Poole and Jay Young entered the contest also, but results of the judging were not known at

Jan Hall wins top PE award

LEVELLAND — Jan Hall of Post was recognized Monday at the annual department awards convocation at South Plains College as one of the 39 students who have excelled through scholastic achievement in the academic, vocational, technical and occupational programs.

Miss Hall was chosen by faculty members to receive the highest award bestowed in women's physical education.

James Dooley hurt in fall

James Dooley, who lives northwest of Post, fell off the roof of the old Space self service station in the 500 block South Broadway shortly after noon Wednesday and was rushed to Garza Memorial Hospital by ambulance for emergency treatment.

Nature of Dooley's injuries or his condition was not known at Dispatch press time.

According to Sheriff Gene Gandy, Dooley was tearing down the station when he fell.

Cowboying via pickups

Talk about modern cowboying.

When a steer being unloaded at the Jackson Brothers Meat Packing plant here Tuesday afternoon from the Pitchfork Ranch jumped out of the trailer, into the back of the pickup, and thence into the street, the chase was on.

City Councilman Jim Jackson drove a pickup pulling a trailer from which Bob Moorehouse of the Pitchfork Ranch attempted to rope the runaway steer.

The steer went west down Main street and then turned north on Broadway.

Finally cornered by a bevy of pursuing pickups, the animal was roped in the 500 block and choked to death by pulling the rope too tightly around his neck in attempting to break away again.

Youth charged with assault

Ruben Solis, 19, of Post is out on $1,500 bond on a charge of aggravated assault in an altercation with Gene Seals, also 19, of Post in the 300 block of East Main street between 10 and 11 p. m. Saturday.

Seals is in Garza Memorial Hospital suffering from a skull fracture and a deep scalp laceration after being hit on the back of the head by a bumper jack.

Seals was taken to the hospital by investigating deputies called to the scene and Solis was arrested at the scene. Seals is reported doing well and is expected to be released from the hospital in a few days.

First summer movies booked

Librarian Pee Wee Pierce told Post Public Library trustees last Thursday morning that she has booked the first two children's movies in the upcoming summer series.

They are Hansel and Gretel which will be shown Thursday evening, June 3, and "So Dear To My Heart" which will be shown June 17.

Mrs. Pierce also announced that the Post eighth grade class has purchased a set of Laura Ingalls Wilder's books for the library in memory of Mrs. Jo Ann Mitchell, who was their fifth grade teacher.

Why join the Chamber?

When any Chamber of Commerce launches its annual membership drive, the business or professional man or woman who is not a member invariably asks the question: "Why should I join the Chamber of Commerce?"

Here are six answers, not only one. They make sense. In other towns they have resulted in many new members who agreed with these answers.

Read them for yourself and see if you don't agree as well, then if you're not a member, join up.

Because . . . You are a citizen doing business in Garza County and sharing in its prosperity. The obligations of business citizenship challenge every man and institution to subscribe actively to the advancement of the community of which he is a part.

Because . . . you prosper as Post prospers. By helping to build a thriving community your investment is strengthened and your opportunities are broadened. You have a personal interest in these objectives.

Because . . . progress and prosperity depend on the development of a sound economic and social structure. These result from vigilant aggressiveness and a continuing program of activities designed to cultivate opportunities and capitalize on advantages.

Because . . . the support of all business and professional men is necessary to bring about the economic improvement of our city and the civic and business development demanded by our modern standards of living.

Because . . . the Chamber of Commerce is the only organization consistently and exclusively engaged in promoting the civic and economic development of YOUR community.

Saturday's primary

If Jimmy Carter wins big in the Democratic presidential primary in Texas Saturday, following his Tuesday win in Pennsylvania, he may be beyond Hubert Humphrey's reach.

And if President Ford administers a real licking to Ronald Reagan in the Republican heat it may be the end of the political trail for the one-time Hollywood movie star.

Thus we approach the day of decision in Texas' first presidential primary, organized originally to promote the now faded presidential ambitions of Senator Lloyd Bentsen.

On page 3 of today's Dispatch, readers will find a sample ballot and their choices of four sets of convention delegates, one set pledged to Carter, another to George Wallace, a third to Bentsen and a fourth uncommitted.

In different districts and different counties

there are different presidential aspirants on the ballot, but Carter, Wallace and Bentsen are the big three for the Texas primary.

By each convention delegate's name is the presidential candidate he will vote for. Each voter gets to select three. If he or she desires they can be split among three of the four delegate blocks.

A few weeks ago Texas' presidential primary didn't figure to be much. But Saturday it could make or break candidates in both parties.

Actually, Democratic aspirants haven't spent much time in the state but Ford and Reagan have devoted more campaigning time to Texas than any other.

So we'll see what happens Saturday.

AUSTIN — Major presidential candidates are making last minute appeals for support of Texas voters in the May 1 primary of both Democratic and Republican parties.

President Ford budgeted three days and a night to the Texas GOP primary battle with Ronald Reagan. Counting his two earlier days of campaigning, the president will have spent more time in Texas than any primary state this year.

Reagan also will make his third appearance in the state two days before the primary.

Democrat front-running Jimmy Carter will be back April 30. He made a fast trip to Houston April 20.

U. S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen is on the scene every day, combining his re-election and favorite son campaigns.

Alabama Gov. George Wallace, faltering as a national contender, was in Texas for a second wide-ranging swing last week to keep his potential delegates in line.

In addition to the presidential preference primary and the Senate fight, the May 1 Democratic ballot offers a hot contest for Railroad Commissioner and three statewide appellate court races. One of the latter is for the State Supreme Court and two for the Court of Criminal Appeals.

$50 Million "Wasted"

Unwise and outdated investment policies have cost the state at least $50 million over the last five years, Comptroller Bob Bullock claimed.

Bullock said a six-month study of state money management practices by his planning and research staff showed Texas has the worst problem with idle funds earning no interest of any state in the nation.

Most idle state money is kept in big city banks, with four banks alone keeping an average of $175 million and earning $10 million last year off the state deposits, the comptroller stated.

Texas, according to Bullock, has an average daily balance of more than $300 million in checking accounts earning no interest. He argued that 75 per cent of that money could be in time accounts drawing interest.

Allowable Set

Texas Railroad Commission for the 50th consecutive month set the state's oil allowable for May at 100 per cent.

While the allowable permits 3,931,778 barrels daily, estimated production actually is only 3,207,000.

Once again, the commission restricted the East Texas field and the Kelly Snyder field in Scurry County to an 86 per cent allowable.

Nominations by crude oil buyers declined by 16,368 barrels a day from the previous month.

The four-week average of crude oil imports, meanwhile, increased 458,000 barrels from the January 2 average and 1.3 million barrels from January 3, 1975.

Short Shorts

Texas' unemployment rate dropped three-tenths of one per cent in March — to 5.1 per cent, one of the lowest rates in the nation.

Agricultural prospects brightened with rains, but more moisture is still needed in East and West Texas. Agriculture Commissioner John White said.

The South Texas cotton planting deadline has been extended to May 1 due to weather problems.

Storm damages pose problems in gardens

COLLEGE STATION — Violent spring thunderstorms are beginning to roam over Texas, and that means home vegetable gardeners can expect some damage to their crops.

"Home vegetable gardens are highly susceptible to high winds, heavy rains and hail that often accompany spring thunderstorms," points out Sam Cotner, horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"If such weather causes heavy damage to vegetable crops, the gardener must decide whether to leave the damaged plants or to start over and replant."

Plants that often suffer the most from violent weather are squash, cucumbers and beans, notes the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Where garden space is available, Cotner suggests leaving the less damaged plants and replanting the remainder of the crop.

"Most vegetable seed will germinate rapidly once the soil has warmed, so replanting is often the best alternative. Of course, if transplants can be obtained, you can gain several

Hail Storm Checks!!

We approached our BIG HAIL STORM ADJUSTMENTS IN A SOBER - METHODOICAL MANNER . . . first by not writing checks on the spot. WHY?

IT IS THE POLICY OF THIS AGENCY IN A GENERAL LOSS - LIKE WE HAD APRIL 14TH TO:

1. NOTIFY ALL POLICYHOLDERS TO EXAMINE THEIR PROPERTY FOR LOSSES.
2. NOTIFY ALL POLICY HOLDERS NOT TO ACCEPT ON THE SPOT SETTLEMENTS—NOT BECAUSE ADJUSTERS ARE DISHONEST, BUT BECAUSE THEY ARE IN A HURRY, OVERWORKED & COULD OVERLOOK SOME LOSSES.
3. EXAMINE ALL PROOFS OF LOSS FOR ERRORS & COUNSEL WITH CUSTOMERS BEFORE ACCEPTING PAYMENTS.

This agency — unlike some others — won't use adjusters that pay on the spot. Once you receive a check it is a closed issue. We want time to examine your losses.

As a result of this policy, we examined all proofs of losses and 23 Pct. of those losses, agreed upon between the insured and the adjuster, we increased substantially after we were able to point out oversights.

This agency acts for the customer's benefit. We did not allow high percentage roof depreciations for example.

Those estate tax changes

One of the most important legislative proposals pending in Congress as it affects individual Americans deals with improvements in the federal estate tax laws.

It is the Burleson-Curtis Estate Tax Bill, which has 84 sponsors in the U. S. House of Representatives, including 11 from Texas, and 13 Senate sponsors, including Senator Tower of Texas. It is expected to come up for a House vote in the next few weeks.

The changes proposed in this bill, principally through increased exemptions, would assist in keeping small businesses and farms and ranches operated as family units after the death of the owner. Primarily the bill takes into consideration the tremendous inflation that has occurred since present estate tax laws were passed in 1942, some 34 years ago.

The bill proposes three changes in the federal estate tax law:

(1) Increase the federal estate tax exemption from $60,000 to $200,000.

(2) Increase the marital deduction from 50 percent of the gross estate to $100,000 plus 50 percent of the gross estate.

(3) Provide an option to value farm and ranch estates at their agricultural value rather than their sales value.

Estate tax reform has some powerful backing in addition to its many congressional sponsors. President Gerald Ford in his State of the Union message advocated estate tax changes so that family businesses and family farms can be handed down from generation to generation without having to be sold to pay taxes. The Ford proposal however, does not go as far as the Burleson-Curtis bill.

Our own congressman Omar Burleson should be commended for being the chief sponsor of this bill in the House.

Certainly federal estate tax exemptions need raising substantially to help America's "little guy" who over his lifespan usually pays more than his share of federal taxes.

To the Voters of Garza County Pct. 3

...I have been your county commissioner of precinct 3 for several years and wish to stand on my record as to the sincere and dedicated way in which I have tried to stretch your tax dollars.

I have done this by being out with the equipment and at the same time giving Garza County an honest day's work. I always know what is going on.

I have always made the court meetings and have made my own judgments as to what is best. Each year I learn more, as would anyone else.

Precinct 3 is in good financial condition. Therefore, I ask and pray you will consider these things when you go to the polls.

Who'd want to invest in a bunch of revolutionaries?

They didn't exactly look like winners. But then our revolutionaries beat the British at Saratoga in 1777. And people recognized Washington's men as an army, rather than a band of marauders. So faith was won as well as battle. And investments in our government's security started picking up. It took courage to take stock in America back then. But it paid off. And it can do the same for you now. Just join the Payroll Savings Plan, or buy U.S. Savings Bonds at your bank. There's no safer, easier way to build your savings. So, buy the specially designed Bicentennial Series E Bonds. Those brave revolutionaries would be proud.

Series E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Recycling Boom Will Affect Plastics, Tires

As environmental pressures mount, efforts to recycle chemicals from scrap tires and plastic wastes gain impetus.

In Germany, the government and plastics industry are building a pilot plant to recover methane, ethylene, styrene, benzene and waxes from used plastic.

In the U.S., Goodyear and the Oil Shale Corp. will use a similar technique to process 15 tons per day of discarded tires by early 1976. If this test program succeeds, it could lead to 15 plants recycling the 165 million tires worn out yearly in the U.S.

Phil Gramm Blasts Federal Controls for Rural Health

COLLEGE STATION

Phil Gramm, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, blasted the Health Planning Resources Development Act and Lloyd Bentsen, who voted for the bill which establishes two hundred health system agencies to restructure the delivery of health care in rural America.

Gramm charged that the Health Planning Resources Development Act will turn rural hospitals into clinics and first aid stations and deprive rural physicians of adequate tools with which to practice their trade. A result of the program, Gramm charged, is that the already physician-starved areas of rural Texas will have great trouble holding the physicians they already have and little hope of attracting new physicians to meet their medical needs.

Gramm said that the bill, which seeks to concentrate the delivery of medical services geographically, will bankrupt many small hospitals in rural Texas, eliminate facilities required for the modern practice of medicine, and even close down nursing homes because of the physician shortage it may produce.

"We have one of the paradoxes produced by incompetent and irresponsible government," the Democratic candidate said. "The government spends money to build hospitals and then passes legislation which will effectively close many of their doors."

"The Health Planning Resources Development Act is another case of poor planning on the part of elected officials. It is doubtful that Lloyd Bentsen realized the implications of this bill when he voted for it, and was clearly guilty of oversight and negligence for not representing the people of Texas," Gramm said. "I will vote to repeal this law and to develop programs which will bring more medical care to rural America, where the people need it."

More pork specials due to be featured

COLLEGE STATION - More pork "features" will appear in Texas grocery stores—since the supply is larger with more attractive prices, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt predicts.

Good values are most likely on Boston butt roasts and quarter-loins cut into chops, she added.

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System.

"Beef is still a bargain. This may be a good time to put extra cuts into the freezer. For best buys watch the ads and purchase cuts when they're featured at 'special' prices," she advised.

"Fryer chickens also have attractive prices — with the whole bird offering the best value on a cost-per-pound basis."

At vegetable counters, head and leaf lettuce show good quality and reasonable prices, as do the larger quantities of fresh asparagus, the specialist said.

"Economically priced items in most stores include cooking greens, cabbage, carrots, potatoes, turnips and dry yellow onions. Melon supplies are increasing, but prices are still relatively high."

At fruit counters, Mrs. Clyatt reported "reasonable" prices on Navel oranges. She said quality grapefruit is still available and described apples from "controlled Atmosphere Storage" as being "good quality." At frozen food chests, consumers may find special prices on assorted frozen dinners, orange juice, strawberries, cream and a variety of vegetables.

Former Post resident dies

Funeral services for Billie L. Williams, 62, of Tyler, Tex., were held last Wednesday at the First Baptist Church, Tyler with the Rev. J. Daniel officiating.

Mrs. Williams was a former Post resident, moving Lubbock, and then to Owenton, Tex., seven years ago. She was a Baptist.

Mrs. Williams died Sunday at a Tyler Nursing Home after a long illness.

She is survived by her husband, Louis Lee Williams, Owenton, seven sons, Mickey, Bobby, Roger, William, Tyler, Aubrey, William, Grand Prairie, Wayne, Roanoke, Va., James, of Rock Hill, S. C., a sister, Mrs. M. Bass of Gainesville, and 17 grandchildren.

Two Chicago authors guests in Cash home

Burleson Fredrick and his wife, Juanita Burleson, both of Chicago, Ill., were guests last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cash in Post.

Mrs. Fredrick was born in Chicago, completed high school at Hyde Park, received her B.S. from Central State University at Kalamazoo, Mich., and her M.A. from Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. She is the author of two books, her first "No More Big Enough to House" and her second "Where Did You Find Me?" The second is a book of verse and songs.

Mrs. Cash was a hostess for a tea in their honor in her home Wednesday to acquaint them with some of her friends in Post.

Visiting along with the two ladies were their father, Blaine Burleson, Mrs. Fredrick's daughter, Erica and her nephew, Blaine Lowe. They had been in Dallas and were on their way back to Chicago.

The school libraries and the Post Library have some of Mrs. Fredrick's works.

MANAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Holtman of Childress announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Nancy Diane, above, to Kyle Mark Josey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Josey of Post. Members of the groom-to-be are Mr. and Mrs. Josey and Mrs. J. E. Mickey, all of Post. The couple will be married Friday, July 23, in the Childress Church of Christ. Miss Holtman will receive her degree in May from Lubbock Christian College. Kyle is a Post High School graduate and a major in agriculture at LCC where he plans to continue his studies.

JAMS, JELLIES JUST AS GOOD MADE WITHOUT SUGAR

Jam and jelly don't have to be "forbidden fruit" to people on sugar-restricted diets. Just use artificial sweetener instead of sugar when making them.

Diet jams and jellies must be refrigerated or frozen unless they are made by the long boil method. And storing them in the freezer keeps the natural color and flavor of Texas strawberries, peaches or dewberries at peak quality. Leave at least one-half inch head space in the container before freezing.

Fresh strawberry jam can be made to suit special dietary requirements. To prepare fruit for jam, sort and wash fully-ripe fruit. Remove any stems or caps. Crush the fruit.

For jams, the method of combining ingredients varies with the form of pectin used. Powdered pectin is mixed with unheated crushed fruit, and liquid pectin is added to the cooked fruit and sweetener mixture immediately after it is removed from the heat.

Cooking time is one minute at a full boil. Full boil stage is reached when bubbles form over the entire surface of the mixture.

Jams made without added pectin or gelatin require longer cooking than those added with pectin. Cook the mixture to a temperature of 221 degrees F.

If making the jam without pectin or gelatin and a thermometer isn't available, just cook the product until it has thickened slightly. Allow for additional thickening as the product cools. Jams made without sugar tend to be thinner than those made with the addition of sugar. Also, when preparing jams, be sure to stir constantly to prevent scorching the fruit.

STRAWBERRY JAM WITH PECTIN

One quart clean strawberries, 1 1/2 ounce packaged powdered fruit pectin, red food coloring as desired, 3 to 4 teaspoons artificial sweetener.

One quart clean strawberries, 1 1/2 ounce packaged powdered fruit pectin, red food coloring as desired, 3 to 4 teaspoons artificial sweetener.

One tablespoon lemon juice. Crush the strawberries in a one and one-half quart sauce pan. Stir in artificial sweetener, food coloring, powdered pectin and lemon juice. Bring to a boil and boil for one minute. Remove from heat. Continue to stir two minutes. Pour into freezer containers, cover and freeze. Thaw before serving. Store in the refrigerator after opening. One tablespoon provides five calories.

Shower given Mrs. Patterson

A layette shower honored Mrs. Willie Patterson April 15 in the community room of the First National Bank.

Approximately 30 guests registered between 7:30 and 9 p. m.

Special guests for the affair were Mrs. Arlys Welch of Lubbock, Mrs. Donna Marshall of Lubbock and Mrs. Mona Harris of Idalou.

Hostesses were LaGayluah Feagin, Delores Redman, Lanelle Clary, Martha Compton, Pearl McBride, Rita Nelson, Linda Waldrip, Molly Conoly, Pam Carpenter, Kay Lamb, Pat Heidelberg and Margie Pennell.

Lingerie shower for Miss Diane Holtman

Miss Nancy Diane Holtman, bride elect of Kyle Josey of Post, was honored with a lingerie shower in Lubbock, April 25.

The serving table was centered with a large arrangement of spring flowers. Blue and white, the honoree's chosen colors were used to complete the serving table.

Attending from Post were Mrs. Lester Josey, Mrs. J. E. Mickey and Mrs. Jim Schooler.

MR. AND MRS. STEVEN ALAN BUSCH

Spring rush on for sorority

"Things are Happening" has been the theme for the spring rush events of the Gamma Mu Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority.

A spring luncheon, "especially for you" was hosted Saturday by the chapter for all the prospective rushers. The Women's Club was the scene for the salad luncheon.

The serving table was covered with a white cloth and centered with yellow and white flower arrangement in a china rabbit. The dining tables were covered with yellow cloths and centered with yellow candles and tiny jonquils entwined in English ivy.

Honored guests were Lomela Epley, Loveta Josey, Barbara Palmer and Sharlot Sparlin.

Activities, events and projects of the sorority were discussed in a round table group.

President Laveta Norman welcomed the guests and introduced each one present. Jane Mason led the group in prayer.

May 10 banquet is planned

Mrs. J. E. Parker was hostess to the Hospital Auxiliary Monday night in her home.

A short business meeting was held and the treasurer's report given.

The auxiliary banquet was also planned and will be held May 10 in the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall at 7:30.

New officers will be installed at the banquet and will be announced at a later date.

Priscilla club meets with Mrs. Cockrum

Mrs. Dan Cockrum was hostess to the Priscilla Club when it met in her home Friday, April 24.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Gladys Hendrix, Stella Brashear, Thelma Epley, Irene Mitchell, Annie Laura Francis, Vada McCampbell, Velma Lee Lane, Nettie Barrow, Evelyn Neff, Emma Mueller and Vi Terry.

Eastern Star will honor three May 4

Mrs. Beatrice Dodson, Worthing Matron, has announced that the Post Chapter Order of the Eastern Star will honor one 50 year member, one honorary member and one lifetime member at a Friends Meeting in the Masonic Hall May 4th.

Supper will be held at 7:30 with program to follow and all members are urged to attend.

Gamma Mu chapter has quilting instruction

An enthusiastic group of the Gamma Mu Sorority took part in an old fashioned quilting bee at the Monday evening model meeting of the chapter.

Presenting the informative quilting program were Mary Cowdrey and Jennie Lou Cowdrey. They showed the complete construction of a quilt from selecting your pattern, cutting it out, piecing the quilt top, putting up the frames, attaching the quilt, lining, putting in the thickness and the quilt top. Then the sorority members did some quilting, many for the first time. Several quilts were displayed, some very old and two new beautiful Bicentennial quilts made by Mrs. R. E. Branson.

The "quilting bee" was the educational program for the evening in the Community Room of the First National Bank building.

Following the program, the group was served refreshments by hostesses Orabeth White and Jane Mason. Cake, fresh fruit, salad, crackers and iced tea were served.

The opening ritual was read and the meeting conducted by President Laveta Norman. Chaplain Johnnie Norman presented two readings.

Highlight of the business meeting was planning the upcoming annual spring home tour. The tour will be Saturday, May 8, from 1:30 until 4:30 p. m. with the group meeting at the community room of The First National Bank. Four lovely homes will be included in the tour. Two of the homes are on the Cross H Ranch east of Post and belong to Judge and Mrs. Giles Dalby and Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Gannon. The other two are in Post, one at 902 West Main owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Epley, and the other at 111 N. Ave. R owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox. Transportation for the tour will be provided by the sorority members. The four groups will return to the community room for refreshments. Everyone, men and women, is encouraged and invited to attend.

There will be a $2 per person fee charged for the tour with proceeds from the event going to the sorority scholarship fund to be presented to a May graduate of Post High School.

A date of Tuesday, May 11, was set for the annual Founder's Day banquet at which time the incoming officers will be installed.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the chapter was honored to have two new members sign pledge forms. They are Barbara Palmer and Sharlot Sparlin.

Others attending were Kathy Fluit, Sara Holder, Cindy Mitchell, Julie Hudman, Helen Mason, Johnnie Norman, Orabeth White, Jane Mason, Laveta Norman, and the two guest speakers, Mary Cowdrey and Jennie Cowdrey.

'Pounding' for McCallisters

Mr. and Mrs. Randy McCallister who have recently moved into the Graham Community were honored with an "old fashioned pounding" Saturday night in the center.

A potluck supper was also held and approximately 75 were present to welcome the new couple.

A short business meeting was held following the supper and two new directors, Q. R. Maxey and Noel White were elected to these positions.

SING SONG ENJOYED

Approximately 50 persons enjoyed a get-together at the Arnold Sanderson home, Friday night and enjoyed listening to several local groups play and sing.

Last week in a medium sized American city, a local paper took a poll. It was not scientific. It was not complicated.

Random interviews were held at a shopping center. 50 teen-agers and adults were asked, "What important event took place in 1776?" About one-half either said they didn't know, or gave incorrect answers.

One man remarked, "Well, it was too early for the Civil War." A woman guessed, "1776 was the year America was discovered." The survey does make a point. It could be representative of the entire country. We move into the Bicentennial year with some pretty foggy notions about the reason for the celebration.

200 years ago a cursory survey of then America would have been incredibly difficult. Today a visit to a well stocked library can give a better picture than anyone could have given in 1776.

Such a survey would show 2.5 million people; a fifth of them black. The blacks were not considered Americans. They were merchandise to be used, bought, or sold.

The rest of the 2 million were divided about equally into free men and bonded servants; with a majority of the free men disenfranchised. Scattered sparsely over 200,000 square miles, there were concentrations of people drawn together by national backgrounds and religious convictions.

The area had 13 political entities, administered by agents of a government 3,000 miles away. Ignorance of colonial affairs equalled the miles.

There were some angry quarrels between the colonies. Pennsylvania and Maryland disputed their common border. Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon were called in to fix it. It became the Mason-Dixon line.

New Hampshire and New York fought over what is now Vermont. New York offered a substantial reward for the capture of Ethan Allen, a leader in the contest.

Some of the bitterest confrontations were internal: between the established eastern seaboard, and the western frontier; between the city and the country. In 1763, the "Paxton Boys", disturbed by indifference about Indian uprisings marched on Philadelphia. Benjamin Franklin managed to prevent bloodshed.

How did such diverse, divided, dispersed people ever become united? Well, they were dedicated to the same dream, vaguely pursued for 150 years. It was with the Pilgrims, with the Puritans, with Roger Williams and William Penn. It was dimly embraced by thousands of men as they were bound in servitude.

The dream found expression in 1776. It became the common denominator. 11 troubled years later — the Constitution and the United States of America.

And now 1976; compartmentalized America; with truckers, and Doctors and firemen, and garbagemen and nurses, and unions, and postmen, and teachers, and lawyers, etc., etc., all doing their thing.

Is the magic still there. Can a Bicentennial invoke another common denominator? Or has the dream departed?

Dinner Hours Are Hazardous

A survey conducted by the National Bureau of Standards and the Consumer Product Safety Commission notes that, of 33,000 households surveyed, 2,463 reported fires in the last year.

Results of the survey showed that 65 per cent of these fires started in the kitchen, with the peak time between 5 and 6 p.m.; over 60 per cent of all fires involved appliances, and more than half of these involved ignition of grease and other foods.

Advice on Apples

If you're baking apples make sure you use firm-fleshed varieties such as Rome, Northern Spy or Winesap.

Use tart or slightly acid apple varieties such as Grimes Golden, Jonathan or Newtown for making pies and apple sauce.

Ponds can produce 1,000 pounds of fish to acre

COLLEGE STATION — Texas boasts an abundance of farm ponds but most are producing fish far below their potential.

That assessment comes from Don Steinbach, fisheries specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Texas has about one-half million acres of small farm ponds. Stocked with channel or blue catfish, these ponds can produce up to a thousand pounds of fish per acre annually if managed properly," points out Steinbach.

"On the other hand, annual fish production may be only 50 to 75 pounds per acre for unmanaged ponds with such fish species as small sunfish."

As far as proper management of a farm pond is concerned, the Texas A&M University System specialist outlines these steps.

"Aquatic weed control is one of the first steps to a productive farm pond. Once weeds are identified, chemical treatment should be applied during the March through May period.

"When it comes to stocking a pond with fish, channel or blue catfish offer the best potential. Demonstrations have shown that a one-acre pond can produce up to a thousand pounds of this type of fish a year with supplementary feeding."

"For top production, fish must have food, and that comes from a commercial ration or proper use of fertilizer. Apply 100 to 150 pounds per acre in April or May to produce the phytoplankton (microscopic plants) which are vital to the food chain for fish."

Steinbach notes that there are three Extension Service publications available at any county Extension office that

Glass Recycling Is Paying Off

Recycling centers of Owens-Illinois, Inc., the nation's largest glass container manufacturer, purchased more than 262 million glass containers from the public for recycling in 1975—enough to fill more than 2,600 railroad freight cars. (A 40-foot rail hopper car holds about 25 tons of uncrushed glass containers.)

In return for the waste glass, environmentalists throughout the U.S. were paid more than $1.3 million for their efforts.

The glass container industry as a whole collected well over 1.1 billion containers last year, up substantially from 1974's record levels. Since the industry began its bottle buy-back program five years ago, civic, church, fraternal and environmental groups have collected about $25 million from the more than 90 public glass collection stations operated by glass container manufacturers located throughout the U.S.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—If you have ever been turned down for a credit card, refused the full amount of a loan you are requesting, or denied an increased line of credit at a store where you customarily trade, you may be puzzled why.

It may be due to information received on you from a consumer reporting agency (a credit bureau), a company that gathers and sells credit information to creditors, insurers, employers, and other businesses.

Credit bureaus themselves do not grant or refuse credit. They merely supply information on which individual creditors such as a loan company, credit union, or department store make their own decisions.

But some consumers are concerned that inaccurate information may be in their credit files which is causing them to be unfairly turned down for credit. Our Consumer Protection attorneys and spokesmen for the Consumer Credit Commissioner say that the Fair Credit Reporting Act is designed to protect consumers from circulation of inaccurate or outdated information.

If you feel you have been denied credit, insurance, or employment, or if you have had difficulties in getting these things due to a credit report, you have certain rights.

Any credit grantor who has turned you down for credit must tell you the consumer reporting agency that supplied the information which caused you to be denied credit. If you check with the consumer reporting agency, you have the right to learn the type of information, the substance, and the sources (except for certain medical and investigative reports.)

If you have been denied credit, insurance, or employment within 30 previous days, you are entitled to the information free. If not, the credit bureau may charge you a reasonable fee.

The credit bureau must tell you who has received a report on you in the preceding six months, or within the preceding two years if the report is for employment purposes.

You can ask that the bureau re-investigate incomplete or inaccurate information. If it cannot be verified, it must be removed from your file. If the agency has sent this incorrect or incomplete material to creditors, you have the right to ask the bureau to notify them that the information has been deleted from your file.

If there is a dispute between you and the bureau about information in your file, and it cannot be resolved, you can place your version of the matter in the file and it must be included in future consumer reports. You can also ask the credit bureau to send your version to businesses you name for a reasonable fee.

The credit bureau cannot issue a report to an unauthorized person (anyone other than you or a creditor) and it cannot report adverse information after seven years, with the exception of bankruptcy, which can be reported for 14 years.

The Fair Credit Reporting Act does not give you the right to request a report on yourself directly from the credit bureau, or to handle your own credit file, although many bureaus do allow this. The law also does not force creditors to do business with a certain consumer.

Post 7th graders fourth, 8th graders are fifth

Post placed fourth in the seventh grade division of the district junior high track meet here last Wednesday with 71 1-5 points, and fifth in the eighth grade division with 45 1-2 points.

Scott Walker was the individual standout in the eighth grade portion of the meet winning the high jump, long jump, and 70 yard high hurdles and taking second in the 230 yard intermediate hurdles for a total of 38 of Post's 45 1-2 points.

Slaton won the seventh grade division with 135 1-5 points and Frenship took the eighth grade division title with 136 1-3 points. Each was runnerup to the other in the division it didn't win and Roosevelt was a strong third in both.

Team standings by points: Seventh grade: Slaton 135 1-5; Frenship, 96 2-5; Roosevelt, 91; Post, 71 1-5; Denver City, 52; Cooper, 25 1-5; and Tahoka, 25. Eighth grade, Frenship, 136 1-3; Slaton 130; Roosevelt, 94; Tahoka, 46; Post, 45 1-2; Denver City, 28; and Cooper, 16 1-6 points.

Post won two events in the seventh grade division, Jessie Taylor winning the 230 yard intermediate hurdles in 31.6 seconds, and Gary Baker taking the pole vault, clearing the bar at 9 feet, 6 inches.

Complete results of the meet are as follows:

Lopes lower school mile relay record

Post's Edward Price won the 100 yard dash and the Antelope mile relay team set a new school record of 3:28.1 in winning its event in the regional qualifiers meet at Mason Saturday as a final tuneup for the AA regional meet this Friday and Saturday at Odessa.

Price ripped the century sprint in 10.1.

The mile relay team of Alfred Pena, Randall Wyatt, Steve Davis and Price, who won their event at district in 3:30.5, clipped 2.4 seconds off that time in Mason.

But they probably will have to do even better at Odessa Saturday if they want to qualify for the state meet at Austin, May 14-15.

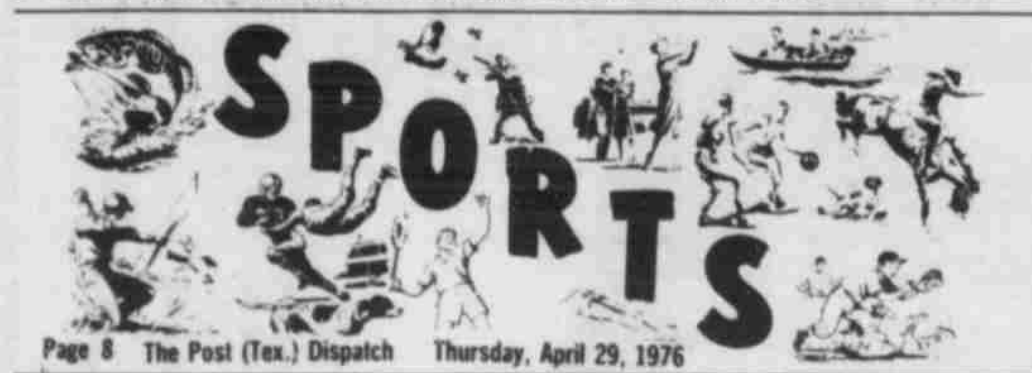

The Lope quartet's 3:30.5 district time is only the sixth best among the regional qualifiers and Van Horn is the team to beat with a 3:25.0. Only first and second finishers Saturday will qualify for the trip to Austin.

Pole vaulter Jimmy Dorland cleared the bar at 12 feet, 6 inches for third place at Mason Saturday, but probably will have to go over the 13 foot mark to have a chance to go to state. His best vault of the season has been 13 feet, 3 inches, so he is capable although he will face two other 13-foot and better vaulters at Odessa.

Also participating in the Mason meet Saturday, but not scoring points were Evans Heaton in the pole vault, Butch Both in the 440 yard dash, and Ralph Howell in the mile run. Heaton, who finished third in district, has been qualified for regional competition in vault because the second Tahoka boy has been ineligible because of grade. Booth, who ran the mile at Mason is the mile relay alternate for the region.

The schedule for the Friday will put Price in the yard preliminary heat at 6:05 p.m., Howell in his preliminary at 6:06 p.m., the mile relay team preliminary at 6:25 p.m., the pole vaulting final at 6:30 p.m., the mile run final at 6:30 p.m., and the mile relay final at 6:30 p.m.

On Saturday the dash final is scheduled p.m., the mile run final at 6:30 p.m., and the mile relay final at 6:30 p.m.

Price wins 220 at regional

Brenda Price, Post's junior sprinter, won the 220 yard dash in the Class AA regional at Odessa Saturday and Post's 440 yard relay team also qualified for state by finishing a close second to Roosevelt in its specialty.

The relay team is composed of Karen Williams, Patricia Bilberry, Jodine Tipton, and Price.

Overall, Post placed fifth in the regional with 36 points with the four girls the only qualifying for the state meet in Austin May 7-8.

Price, who was runnerup last year in the state meet, won the final in 25.3 but recorded her best time of the spring with a sizzling 25.2 in her preliminary heat.

The local 440 yard relay team finished .05 of a second behind Roosevelt, the defending state champions in the 440 yard dash. Roosevelt's quartet was timed in 49.20 seconds and Post in 49.25.

The two teams may well fight it out in two weeks for the state relay crown. The state record is 49.0 seconds, held by Roosevelt. Roosevelt won the Odessa regional with 56 points.

Other Post points at the regional came on a fifth by the mile relay team of Bilberry, Genetta and Karla Kennedy and Tipton in 4:14.8; and a fifth by Joni Hays in the shot with a throw of 35 feet, 13-8 inches.

Genetta Kennedy ran an 11.8 in the 100 yard dash, her best at that distance this spring, but did not place. She will be the alternate for the 440 yard relay team at the state meet.

Also competing for Post in the regional were Dana Giddens who had a 12.3 in the 90 yard hurdles; Christi Conner with a 2:42.7 in the 800 yard dash; and Karla Kennedy with a 4 feet, 5 inch high jump.

Price and the 440 yard relay team will compete in the state qualifiers meet at San Angelo Saturday as a final tuneup for the state meet.

Tennis clinic Saturday

The Texas Tech women's tennis team and its coach, Mrs. Emilie Foster, will conduct a one day tennis clinic in Post, Saturday, May 1 at the Post tennis courts.

Team members are Miss Joneen Cummings from Seminole, a former Texas 3A state singles champion and currently ranked number one on the Texas Tech tennis team; Miss Mamie Bevers of Odessa, number two on the Tech team, and Miss Carla Weathersby also of Odessa, and ranked number three on the Tech team.

The clinic will begin at 9:30 Saturday morning with the first session ending at 11:30. The lunch break will be from 11:30 to 1:00.

An exhibition singles and doubles match will be conducted from 1:00 to 2:00 in the afternoon. The afternoon session will start at 2:00 and end around 3:30.

Students participating will be grouped according to skill level rather than age. The various technical skills to be covered will be: 1. Ground strokes, (forehand and backhand); 2. volley shots, (forehand and backhand); 3. lob shots; 4. overhead shots; 5. drop shots; 6. stop volleys; 7. serves (four types); a. slice, b. American twist, c. spin, and d. flat.

Rules of tennis will be taught as well as strategies of singles and doubles. Pointers will also be given on how to run a tournament.

Everyone attending the clinic should bring his or her own tennis racket, a thermos of water, and a sack lunch for a picnic at the park with the team members and their coach.

Mrs. Emilie Foster, the Texas Tech coach, is a very talented tennis player having been the State 4A U.I.L. singles champion in 1965. She attended LCC on a tennis scholarship and Trinity University. She played tennis for Trinity and in 1968 and 1969 she was the United States Intercollegiate singles and doubles champion. In 1967 she played on the United States Pan American team. From 1966-1969 Emilie was on the Junior Wightman Cup Team serving as its captain in 1969.

She was a quarter finalist in singles at Forest Hills in 1969 and in 1970 was ranked thirteenth in the U. S. in women's singles while being ranked fourth in women's doubles at the same time.

Mrs. Foster coached at Arizona State for one year makes the team in the fall he also will receive room without charge.

Howard Payne University plays football in the Lone Star Conference. Three other high school players who were announced this week as having signed pre-enrollment applications with the Howard Payne University Yellow Jackets were Elvin Brown, Stanton fullback; Bobby Kelley, 6-3, 195-pound quarterback from Jayton; and Clifton Payne, tackle from Houston's Sam Houston. Payne is 243 pounds and only 5 feet, 9 inches.

Davis gets scholarship

Bryan Davis, the Post Antelopes' all-district quarterback who also was named to the All South Plains Class AA team, has signed a letter of intent to attend Howard Payne University at Brownwood next fall.

Head football coach Dean "Beyton" plans to use Davis in the fall wherever he fits in with the need best and then give him a shot at quarterback in spring training. Davis told The Dispatch after his return last week from Brownwood.

Davis will receive a full athletic scholarship less $200 a semester for room and if he

JUDGE CHAMBERLAIN

VOTE for Jerome Chamberlain

In May 1 Demo Primary for Court of Criminal Appeals

Judge Jerome Chamberlain is currently presiding as a criminal district court judge in Dallas County, Tex., and has served as a judge since 1964.

Prior to going on the bench, Judge Chamberlain was an assistant district attorney in Dallas County. Judge Chamberlain is a graduate of Southern Methodist University and the National College of State Trial Judges at Reno, Nevada.

Judge Roberts, the incumbent, is the only judge on the Court of Criminal Appeals whose total reversals exceed the total affirmances. Judge Roberts voted for reversal more than twice as often as the average for the other judges.

Students hold banquet in honor of employers

MARY ANNE SANCHEZ, Home Economics Cooperative Education Class held an appreciation banquet for their employers April 22 in the City Center. The theme "Welcome to the City" was carried out in the decorations, place cards, and menus made by the students.

Edward Price, vice president of the class, closed the program by summing up what most students gain by working in a study program while in high school. He also expressed appreciation to the employers for taking their time to train the students and make them a part of their businesses, classes and organizations.

Students and their employers present at the banquet were Mary Abraham and her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Collier; Charlie Clanton and Joel Nesmith employees of Piggly Wiggly and their guests Mr. and Mrs. Russel Bauer; Bryan Davis and Edward Price employed as Physical Fitness assistants at the Elementary School and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Babb and Mrs. Bobby Davis; Mike Hays, employed at Cox Lumber Company;

Diana Hernandez employed as a child care aide in the kindergarten program and guests Mr. and Mrs. Ben Owen and Mrs. Glen Norman; Kim Trammel and Kathy Manuel, also child care aides with the first grade, and their guest Mrs. Albert McBride; Michele Mason employed at Twin Cedar Nursing Home and her guest, Mrs. Sara Whitley; Mary Anne Sanchez employed with G. F. Wackers, and her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Shaw. Sammy Torres, employed at Hudman Furniture Company and guests Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hudman.

Members of the advisory committee were invited as special guests. Those attending the banquet were Mrs. Bob Collier, chairman; Mrs. Billy Hahn, Mr. Jack Alexander, and Mrs. Ben Owen.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wheatley attended the banquet. Mrs. Wheatley is supervisor of the Home Economics Cooperative Education Program.

Shooting the Breeze

By NAN HAIR

Saturday, May 1, the public is invited to attend the senior class play. The play is a wacky Bicentennial melodrama. Tickets are now being sold by several seniors for $1.50 for reserved seats, general admission tickets will be sold for $1 at the door. Everyone needs to come and enjoy the fun of cheering the hero and condemning the villains.

Congratulations to the state-qualifiers of the Doe track team. Brenda Price, Karen Williams, Jodine Tipton and Patricia Bilberry will be running against stiff competition in the 440 relay. Brenda Price will also be going to state this year in the 220 yard dash. Brenda is running faster now than she did last year. At Austin last year Brenda tied for first place but lost the toss. Other state qualifiers traveling to Austin had better beware of these athletes because they are wanting to win it all. The state meet will be held May 7 and 8.

Seniors to present play Friday night

The Senior Class play "The Labors of Love" will be presented in the Primary Auditorium, Friday night at 8. Tickets are on sale now and can be purchased from any senior. The tickets are selling for $1.50 for reserved and $1 general admission at the door. The play is a bicentennial melodrama with a few musical numbers. Everybody is invited for a night of fun and entertainment.

The junior class has begun making plans for the junior-senior banquet this year. The banquet will be held May 15th with the theme and decorations to remain a secret until that time.

Congratulations to Kim Mitchell, Valedictorian; Bryan Davis, Salutatorian; and Patricia Bilberry, Historian who were given these honors because of their outstanding grade point average. Jennifer Miller and Lesa Windham were also selected for the "top five" of the graduating class of '76.

The Antelope Band attended UIL concert and sightreading contest at Abilene Wednesday. Results were not known at the time of the Dispatch deadline.

The junior high band will also be attending the UIL concert and sightreading contest Saturday, May 1, at Floydada. Good luck to these young musicians.

Six attend convention

Representatives of the Post junior and senior Future Homemakers of America Chapter are attending the 1976 state meeting of the Texas Association of FHA, along with 5,000 members and advisors from across the state.

"Let Freedom Ring" is the theme of the 1976 meeting, which is being held in the Convention Center in Fort Worth today and Friday.

Attending from Post will be Tracy McAllister, Mary Ann Sanchez, Dawn Fielder, Belinda Fluit, Mrs. Marion Wheatley and Mrs. Carolyn Sawyers.

Keynote speakers and representatives by Future Homemakers will highlight the two-day convention. The group will attend a business meeting Thursday night followed by a talent contest, and a musical presentation by a state choir made of 100 FHA members from around the state.

New state officers will be elected and will replace the outgoing officers during a meeting Friday night.

DEAR FRIENDS

I want to make this final statement before the May 1st Primary. I feel everyone in Garza County knows me as a person willing to work for, and with the people of this county.

It takes all the commissioners and the people together to make good things happen in our community.

Let me show you that I am a person willing to work with the people, all of the time with sincerity.

Let's work together and expand the works of our precinct and county.

Give me a chance to show you what I can do as your commissioner. I ask for your support May 1st.

Sincerely,

ARNOLD PARRISH

Storm windows pay for themselves: install them and save up a storm!

Here's one which is guaranteed to stump your friends: What can you buy which will contribute greatly to the comfort and liveability of your home — and which will pay for itself?

There are precious few items which fit in this category, but Frank Gorell likes to cite the product he manufactures and backs up his claim with official Government figures.

Frank Gorell is president of Season-all Industries, Inc., the world's largest makers of custom storm windows and doors and replacement windows.

"If you don't own storm windows," he says, "you're paying for them, whether you realize it or not, in the form of heat loss."

The U.S. Government puts it just as bluntly: "Storm windows will cut in half the heat that is needlessly lost through the windows of your house."

While every homeowner knows that the jump in his fuel bills has been "dramatic," perhaps not as many are aware that the payout period for an investment in storm windows has been shrinking steadily.

The National Bureau of Standards used to estimate that an investment in storm windows would pay for itself within a decade, and thereafter return an annual dividend of 13% or more on the investment. This applied to areas where the average winter temperature was 45°F; for colder climates, the payout was estimated at less than seven years with an annual return of 18% or more.

Since oil prices have gone up considerably since these estimates were made, the Federal Energy Office has now cut its estimates of the payout time to four years for storm windows and five years for storm doors. Obviously, as fuel prices go up even more, then these figures will have to be revised downward once more.

Another "hidden" maintenance cost is frequently overlooked by homeowners, who feel that their fuel bills stop when they shut down their heating plants in the spring. The use of air conditioners, whether the window type or a central system, is more expensive than it has ever been — again thanks to soaring fuel bills. Here, once more, the use of storm windows and doors will cut heat gain in summer and effectively reduce the load on the cooling system, cutting fuel bills.

Storm windows and doors go to work, as soon as they are installed, on the job of cutting fuel bills — winter and summer. And that's precisely what Frank Gorell means when he asks, "What can you buy which will contribute greatly to the comfort and liveability of your home — and which will pay for itself?"

ONLY $27 MILLION DOWN

Sounds like a pretty attractive piece of property. Just the kind of place you'd like to set down roots. Raise a family. Start a country.

Only trouble was, England ruled this country. And so those early Americans engaged in a struggle for freedom.

A struggle that took seven long years, and over $27 million that was raised from the brand-new citizens of a brand-new country.

People really took stock in America back then. And just as importantly, they still do. By buying U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan at work.

After all, Savings Bonds are still the safe, dependable way to save, set down roots, raise a family.

In fact, you could look at Bonds as a really smart investment in land.

Your land.

New E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Hang it all . . .

Originality, drama with hanging house plants

The quaint old-fashioned technique of arranging prim, neat little rows of potted plants on window-sills has given way to massive gardens of breath-taking hanging plants and container gardens.

Today, dramatic and decorative plants are hanging from all sorts of containers beautifying otherwise plain areas everywhere in the home, reports "The Facts of Light," a new garden book from the Ortho garden series.

About the only thing you have to be careful with in hanging plants, is to make sure they get enough water since hanging plants dry out more quickly than those on ground level, and to make sure you've taken care of the drainage.

If your hanging container has no drainage hole on the bottom, place a handful of gravel, or pieces of broken crockery under the soil, to ensure proper drainage. And, if your container does have a drainage hole, it would be wise to put a glass pie plate under it, to catch the water, or your floor will do the job.

There are various methods of hanging decorative plants, described in "The Facts of Light," but one particularly good idea is to use a pulley.

Pulleys add a great deal of flexibility to your indoor garden. Not only do they let you raise or lower the plants for more or less light, but they help you garden as well. With a pulley, you can lower your plant for convenient watering, misting and grooming.

For a lavish display, use a large pulley with a long bar or square frame, from which several plants can be hung in staggering positions. With this technique, one simple operation permits you to raise or lower an entire garden at one time.

For those who like to stick to the simple stuff, use one pulley for each plant. Simply, decide where you want your plant to hang; then, put a pulley in the ceiling above that spot. Next, place a cleat in a convenient location on a nearby wall, where you can tie your rope to anchor the pulley.

That's all there is to it, but you must realize that with this method, your plants are sure to have their ups and downs.

College for only pennies a day.

Nowadays, it takes a bundle of money to pay for a college education. No matter how you figure it.

But with United States Savings Bonds, you can count on having the money when you need it.

In fact, when you join the Payroll Savings Plan or the Bond-A-Month Plan, saving can work out to just pennies a day.

You see, a little is set aside to buy Bonds for you. Regularly. Automatically.

And before you know it, those pennies add up to a pretty nice education.

So buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

They make saving for college more than just an educated guess.

Meistersingers concert well attended at Graham

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS
The program on Wednesday that the Meistersingers presented was so very good and well attended.

Larry Overton of Lubbock
spoke at both services Sunday at the Church of Christ in the absence of Homer Jones.

Mrs. Kenneth Cook and sons of Amarillo spent part of last week visiting her parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Mack Ledbetter and other relatives here and in Post.

Belinda, Russell and Steven Fluitt spent the weekend down at Possum Kingdom with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs.
Clinton Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thomas of Hereford spent the weekend in Post with his mother, Mrs.
Innis Thuet. Other Sunday
guests were Mr. and Mrs.
Wagoner Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stone visited Sunday afternoon in Tahoka with Mr. and Mrs.
Orville Stanley. Mr. Stanley is recovering fairly well after the surgery he had sometime back. The Stones visited late in the afternoon with the Pete
Pierce family in the Canyon
Community east of Lubbock.

Mrs. Bill McMahon has had a number of visitors since she has been ill. We don't have a list of names.

Mrs. Johnnie Rogers has been a visitor of her niece and nephews in Lovington, N. M.

Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fluitt were
Mr. and Mrs. Pat Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Fluitt and family.

Sunday luncheon guests of the Lewis Mason family were Mr.
and Mrs. Larry Overton and little daughter of Lubbock, Mr.
and Mrs. Quannah Maxey and Mr. and Mrs. Noel White and family. Evening visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Graves and family.

Mrs. Dave Oakley and children visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Maxey and attended evening church services on Sunday.

Mrs. Pearl Wallace and Mrs.
Clovis Tucker visited one afternoon last week with Mrs.
Mack Ledbetter.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hodges on the birth of a daughter and Mr. and Mrs.
Delton Moore on the birth of a son.

Mmes. Jewell Parrish, Rene Fluitt, Pearl Wallace, visited
Tuesday afternoon with Mrs.
Brenda King and Mrs. Elmer Cordrey.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ritchie of Springdale, Ark., have been visitors of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs.
Aubrey Ritchie and with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr.
and Mrs. Ambers Parrish and Ronnie.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan returned home last week from their home on LBJ Lake.

We extend sympathy to all the relatives of C. W. Dodson or Charlie as most friends knew him. He was a former resident of this community.

Edd Carpenter passed away in Denton last Saturday. He was the last member of his family. He is survived by his wife and children and his brother's wives are still living.

He and his family were former residents of Garza County. We extend sympathy to this family.

Mrs. Bill McMahon returned home last Friday from a stay in Garza Memorial Hospital. She is doing fairly well. One of their daughters, Mrs. Don Brown of San Antonio is with them.

Mrs. Rene Fluitt visited in Tahoka last Thursday with her mother, Mrs. Gandy.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Williams,
David and Mrs. Esther
Ward visited in Lubbock
Sunday afternoon. They visited at the hospital and saw little Sara Sue Hodges.

Mrs. Elmer Cordrey visited
Saturday afternoon with Mrs.
Bill McMahon, Mrs. Betty
Newberry and Mr. and Mrs.
Fred Gossett.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Peel visited relatives at Springtown from Thursday until Monday.

The potluck supper in the center Saturday was well attended with plenty of food to enjoy.

The Melvin Williams visited
Saturday evening with the R. L.
Simpson family.

Joe Barr of the Children's Home spent the weekend with the Melvin Williams family.

CANDIDATE — Ron Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Morris of Clovis, N. M., was a recent candidate in the Mr. and Miss Plainsmen Contest of Clovis High School. Ron is the grandson of Mrs. Vera Gossett, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Morris all of Post, and Buck Gossett of Stryker, Montana.

"The only thing better than a close friend is a generous friend."

Beef cattle production is one of the major agricultural enterprises of the Texas Plains, and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service has named a beef cattle specialist to provide leadership in educational programs related to this industry.

The new specialist is Dr. John W. McNeill, who will be headquartered at the Extension District 1 office in Amarillo, effective June 1. McNeill will serve the 26-county area of District 1 along with a number of counties in Extension Districts
2 and 3 (South and Rolling Plains). He fills the position vacated by Dr. Cal Parrott who resigned recently to enter private business.

"We feel Dr. McNeill is capable of giving strong leadership in educational programs
designed to boost the beef cattle industry of this area of the state," said Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture at Texas
A&M University and acting Extension Service director, in announcing the appointment.
"Management of cattle is becoming more and more critical due to economic pressures, and Dr. McNeill will be giving particular emphasis to increasing production efficiency.
He will be working closely with county Extension agents and county program building committees in planning and conducting educational efforts."

McNeill has been associated professor and acting head of the Department of Animal Science at West Texas State University at Canyon for the past two years. He also was an assistant professor there for two years prior to beginning work on his doctoral degree.

The new specialist is a native of Armstrong County. He was graduated from Happy High School where he was an outstanding FFA member. He is also a 10-year veteran of 4-H and has many awards to his credit. McNeill attended Texas Tech University for three years and then completed his B. S.
degree in animal science at Texas A&M. His M. S. degree in animal nutrition is also from Texas A&M while his Ph.D. in ruminant nutrition is from the University of Kentucky.

While at Texas Tech McNeill was on the Dean's Honor Roll.

At Texas A&M he was a Distinguished Student and was elected to the Gamma Sigma Delta honor fraternity. He also won a scholarship award from the American Society of Animal Science.

He and his wife Judy have three children.

BRUCELLOSIS PROGRAM AND HEARING

A hearing on the adoption of the proposed regulations for the eradication of bovine brucellosis was held in Austin, Texas April 15.

The members of the Texas
Animal Health Commission voted to adopt the new proposals following comments
by members of the Texas livestock industry. Copies of the new regulations will be sent to all County Extension Agents as soon as they are available. In the interim, the proposed regulations previously sent out will serve to outline the program in effect at present.

At the hearing, numerous livestock operators stressed the importance of continued research and adequate financing in order to improve methods for diagnosis and control of brucellosis.
Registered breeders commended
Texas Animal Health Commission members on avoiding a federal quarantine which could have seriously impaired exports of breeding cattle from Texas.

The use of Strain-19 brucella abortus vaccine in heifer calves was recommended in order to increase the immunity of breeding animals in areas where Bang's disease has been a problem. Beef heifers should be officially vaccinated between the ages of 90 to 210 days, dairy heifers 60 to 180 days.
Individuals wishing to start a vaccination program should contact their local veterinary practitioner for recommendations in their area. Information from Texas Animal Health officials indicate that free vaccine for calfhood vaccination is available in limited quantities, but will only be used in herds having problems with brucellosis, and then only on the owner's request.

Judge Truman Roberts

TRUMAN ROBERTS has established an outstanding record over the past five years as judge of the state's highest court in criminal matters. Before election to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals he served 11 years as County Attorney and District Attorney, then 10 years as Presiding Judge of the 52nd Judicial District.

Judge Roberts has been endorsed in his race (over a Dallas opponent) by 76.4 percent of more than 11,000 attorneys voting in the State Bar of Texas poll.

Vote to keep a man with this excellent experience and recognized ability. Vote in the Democratic Primary on May 1 to re-elect Judge Truman Roberts to a second term on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

As It Looks From Here . . .

OMAR BURLESON, M. C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — At intervals during the last year or so, attempts have been made to call attention to the new budgetary process under which the Congress is now operating. We have commented that the legislative machinery is now in place to get control over spending but that it will take real determination on the part of Congress to make it work.

The resolution setting ceilings on expenditures for various programs and estimates of revenues to pay for them has now been voted out of the Budget Committee in both the House and Senate. The Resolution really pleases no one. The liberals object mainly because the recommendation provides defense spending more than they like and they claim curtails social programs too severely. Conservatives are unhappy because the recommended outlays are too high and a deficit too big.

The liberals contend that more spending and larger deficits are needed to create jobs and sustain a strong economic recovery from the recession. Conservatives warn that severe inflation may be triggered again unless the budget is tightened more.

The resolution will be up for debate, tentatively the week of April 26. It will be a hard and long fight from both sides.

For the 1977 fiscal year starting next October 1, the Resolution calls for a ceiling on spending of $412.7 billion with estimated revenues at $363.1 billion. This leaves a deficit for next year at $50.6 billion whereas the latest administration estimates for the 1976 fiscal year project a deficit of $76.9 billion. Although the spending totals recommended by the budget committee were substantially above President Ford's budget, they are about $11 billion below the amount which would be required to pay for existing programs to keep up with inflation and population growth.

Social programs were increased significantly above the administration's budget recommendation but, even here, they were restrained some as compared to immediate past years. The committee held defense preparedness pretty near what the military requested.

By pulling together the present practice of fragmented spending, this process is intended to set deliberate budget policies and gain fiscal control over the Government's huge operations. As stated earlier, it remains to be seen how the Congress makes the process operate. Those of us who feel that the spending limits set are too high and that the deficit is too great, will attempt further reductions in certain programs by amending the resolution when it is up for debate.

The liberals will want to add more to social programs and create make-work schemes to reduce unemployment. There is already $2.2 billion in outlays in the resolution for this purpose. It was adopted by a one vote margin and an effort will be made to remove it by amendment later on.

Another amendment adds $100 million for preliminary work on National Health Insurance which has not yet been enacted into law. This amount is included in anticipation that such legislation will be passed.

Those opposed to larger military expenditures will attempt reductions. Allowing for inflation, the amount for national defense barely keeps us

25-year-old class history reprinted

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Bobby R. Pennington, vice president of the First National Bank of Arizona at Phoenix, was cleaning out an old desk of his recently and came across this copy of his Post High graduating class of 1951 — 25 years ago — written by class historian Sue Gillham. He sent a copy to The Dispatch. We think our readers might find it interesting a quarter century later.)

CLASS HISTORY 1950-51
After viewing this outstanding class of 1951, you no doubt wonder how this class acquired its various members.

It all started on one bright sunny September day in the year of 1940. As we enter the first grade room we find it of our present class mates sitting stiffly in their desks wondering what would happen next. Can you imagine Pat Stephens, Robert Smith, Billy Guinn Jones, Anita Kennedy, La Rue Stevens, O. K. Bowen, Mary Nell Bowen, Leon Miller, Tinker Beauchamp, Gay Pierce and Billy Joyce Ticer sitting stiffly? Later that year, Don Brown joined the class. The year had hardly begun until it was over.

Our second year in school, because of a new school law, was really our third grade year. During this year Billy Guinn Jones left Post to enter school at Garza and Tinker Beauchamp moved to Fort Worth. Even though we lost two, we gained Annie Mae Pierce from Southland, Leon Miller decided that he wasn't satisfied with Post so he moved to Hart Camp for a month of that year, but soon returned. Our fourth grade year broke even as we lost Pat Stephens to Graham Community and gained Giles Dalby, moving here from Lubbock.

As the fifth year began, our new pupil was Gene King from Barnum Springs Community. However, losing Gay Pierce to Navada and Billie Ticer to Fort Worth didn't increase our class enrollment any. Billie Ticer, however, soon returned about the time another old classmate Anita Kennedy found her way back to Post.

Rowena Hodges from Lubbock and David Tyler from Verbena decided their sixth year would be the best time to join such a prosperous class and they liked us so well that they decided to remain a member of this group. Tinker Beauchamp also chose this year to return to Post from Ft. Worth.

About our seventh year we had all made up our minds that we were completely grown and felt that we were fully qualified to tell anyone anything that they would like to know about any subject. We had five new pupils to try out intelligence on and I presume they didn't mind as they decided to remain and learn to know us better or perhaps they stayed to see if we knew what we were talking about. Whatever the circumstances were, we were glad to welcome Sam Bevers and Norman Cash from Justiceburg, Geraldine Dunlap and Pearl Self from Grassburg, and Gay Pierce who returned to Texas from Nevada. Giles Dalby left our class to enter Peacock Military Academy at San Antonio.

Finally the big year had come, the year that we got to move to the high school building. Of course we were not high school students, but it didn't matter to us as long as we got to be in the same building with them. This year is well remembered as it was our first real chance to do something and be somebody. It held our first real classmeeting and that feeling of importance when we were elected a class officer. But having our very own personal picture in the annual was just more excitement than an eighth grader could stand. Mildred Boren from Crain joined us on our journey and Melvin Garner returned to be with us for a few months. Class officers this year that still remain with us were President, O. K. Bowen, treasurer, Mary Nell Bowen; reporter, Leon Miller, and sponsors, Mrs. Erma Cash and Mrs. Loree Thaxton. They served their offices in a wonderful way. Something else that was new to us was electing class favorites who were La Rue Stevens and Norman Cash.

Halloween Princess representing our class was Peggy Johnson.

Then after twelve long months came that very special year. Now we weren't just in the high school building, but we were really high school students. We gained lots of new friends this year as 12 more pupils were added to our class. They were Ronald Joe Babb, Donald Gossett, Glenda Young, and Jo Ann Shepherd from Graham Community. Mary Ann Davidson and Bobby Terry from Close City; Dowe Mayfield from Southland; Jack Schmidt from Gladewater; and regained two old members, Bill Jones from Garza and Giles Dalby returning from San Antonio. The parties, football games, basketball games, and carnival helped make this year lasting in our memories. Officers elected were vice-president, Anita Kennedy, reporter, Roy Josey, and sponsors Mrs. Storie and Mrs. Jones. The other officers have left us in previous years. Our favorites were deserving Ronald Babb and Peggy Johnson. Cheer leader representing our class was Barbara Lewis.

In 1948 we started the year as sophomores. New pupils entering were Martha Johnson from Seamore and Gene Wyatt from Tahoka. Officers elected were President Giles Dalby, vice president, Ronald Joe Babb, treasurer, Mary Nell Bowen; and sponsors Mrs. Ray Smith and Mrs. Storie. This year marked the half way point in our high school year. Members of our class receiving honors were Leota Howell and Jerry Odam as favorites and Peggy Johnson as cheerleader. Glenda Young was sophomore representative at Halloween Princess.

September 1949 — yes, we were juniors. Our class had decreased in number as some had fallen by the wayside and others had moved away. At our first junior class meeting, we honored Norman Cash by electing him president. Other officers were vice-president, Bill Jones; secretary, Mary Nell Bowen; reporter, Leon Miller; treasurer, Mildred Boren and sponsors, Mrs. J. F. Storie and Mrs. Carol Bowen. Later in the fall came the junior play, "Perils of Prudy." Members of the cast were La Rue Stevens, Mary Nell Bowen, Mary Wilhite, Giles Dalby, O. K. Bowen, Leon Miller, Billie Joyce Ticer, Billy Guinn Jones, Melvin Garner, Anita Kennedy and Rowena Hodges. The play was directed by our sponsors and was considered a success both dramatically and financially. During the junior year a number of our group developed into outstanding athletes. Our junior-senior entertainment was one of the social highlights of our school career. We outdid ourselves in showing last year's seniors a good time at the banquet. Our favorites this year were Mary Nell Bowen and Roy Wade. Cheer leader remained Peggy Johnson and La Rue Stevens was honored as Halloween Princess. New students gained this year were Martha Johnson leaving and returning the same year from New Home and Mervin Garner returning from Hereford.

Then comes 1950-51. Ah! we are dignified seniors now. Just one more year to go. Our class officers were President, Leon Miller; vice president, Ronald Joe Babb; secretary, Mary Nell Bowen; treasurer, Sue Gillham; reporter, Tinker Beauchamp; and two swell sponsors, Mr. C. D. Lee and Mrs. G. E. Fleming. The senior play was given March 16. The following seniors were members of the cast: Mary Nell Bowen, Leon Miller, O. K. Bowen, Rowena Hodges, Giles Dalby, Martha Johnson, Annie Mae Pierce, La Rue Stevens, Pat Stephens, Dowe Mayfield, and Billie Joyce

Ticer. New members of this class this year were Sue Gillham and Virginia Sanders. Members of the senior class were the outstanding members in every phase of school life. Football season and the football parties were wonderful. Both boys and girls basketball were a success. Honors given were class favorites, Glenda Young and Gene King; school favorites, Sue Gillham and Norman Cash; football queen, Mary Nell Bowen; band sweetheart, La Rue Stevens; cheer leader, Nita

Kennedy; and Halloween Queen Tinker Beauchamp. One of the outstanding events of the year was when the juniors entertained us with a banquet. It was really wonderful, and was given by a swell class. Then there was the senior trip which was the real climax of the year. We spent three days of real enjoyment in Ruidoso, N. M. Our Baccalaureate speaker was Mr. Forrest Moyer. And then we came to the end of 12 wonderful years of school life. Thank you, Sue Gillham.

Burlington reports hike in earnings for quarter

NEW YORK — Burlington Industries, Inc. today reported consolidated net earnings for the second fiscal quarter ended March 27, 1976 of $23,752,000 or 85 cents per share and net sales of $568,813,000. These results reflect a continuation of the improving trend of business, showing an earnings increase of 13 per cent over the prior December 1975 quarter earnings of $21,007,000. In the 1975 March quarter consolidated net sales were $456,180,000 with net earnings of $3,559,000, or 13 cents per share.

For the six months ended March, 1976, consolidated net earnings were $44,759,000, or $1.60 per share on 27,976,000 average shares outstanding and net sales were $1,105,434,000. For the comparable six months last year, net earnings were $12,757,000 or 46 cents per share on 27,790,000 average shares outstanding and net sales were $958,450,000.

Horace C. Jones, chairman, stated, "We are pleased that our March quarter 1976 results continue the pattern of gradual improvement in sales and earnings which started in the spring of 1975. Apparel demand continues to be the bellwether of this upturn with demand for woven products being especially firm. Some weakness exists in the coarser gauge double-knit market and in the demand for textured polyester filament yarns, but this has not had a significant effect on our results. Our home furnishings lines are also now experiencing a steady improvement that reflects the willingness of consumers to spend increasing amounts of income for semi-durable products such as carpeting, furniture and other home furnishings items. We should also note that our industrial products are evidencing a firmer tone and better results are starting to occur in this segment of our business."

"Burlington's financial position remains strong which reflects the continuing close control that is being exercised over inventory levels and costs."

Burlington's Board of Directors today declared a quarterly dividend of 30 cents per common share payable June 1, 1976 to shareholders of record at the close of business April 30, 1976.

Tips on care of home canning jars given

COLLEGE STATION — Home canning jars can last 10 years or more if used and stored properly. Marilyn Haggard, a foods and nutrition specialist, says,

"It's a good practice always to use standard home canning jars which have the name of the manufacturer on the side of the jar. These are mechanically shock-resistant to withstand minor bumps against other jars and the pressure required to process low acid fruits, vegetables and meats," she explained.

Miss Haggard is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She cautioned against using packers jars, such as empty mayonnaise and pickle jars. These should not be put in the pressure canner because they

Top women's rodeo May 14

HEREFORD — Coast to coast competition at the All-Girl Hustlin' Hereford Hall of Fame Rodeo will be held May 14-16.

Events will get under way in the 2nd annual professional women's rodeo in this area at 7:30 p. m. on Friday, May 14, and wind up with induction of honorees in the Hall of Fame on Sunday afternoon.

The world's top professional cowgirls will be on hand to compete in seven major events including bareback bronc riding, barrel racing, goat tying, team roping, tie down calf roping, steer unloading and bull riding.

This is scheduled to be the largest women's professional rodeo in the nation with more than 450 entries who will be competing for a $7,700 added purse.

The rodeo is open to GRA members or girls who file for a permit. Contact Lydia Moore, Sec.-Treas., 8909 NE 25th St., Spencer, Okla. 73084, Telephone 405-769-2119.

TO THE CITIZENS OF GARZA COUNTY, TEXAS

I am a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Garza County, Texas. I am fully certified as a law enforcement officer by the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) and have had five years of practical experience as a law enforcement officer.

During my campaign I have tried to see and talk with all the citizens of Garza County, however, I may have missed or overlooked many people due to lack of time. To those I may have missed, I apologize and hope that you will consider me for the office of Sheriff.

To all the citizens I ask for your support and vote in the May election.

Thank you,

Jim Pippin

When others were trying to cut back on agricultural research, Lloyd Bentsen led the fight to expand it.

And he won.

The new American prosperity must reach into every community—from the hearts of our greatest cities to the smallest rural villages. A healthy economy will require sharply increased farm production—to feed every American and also to strengthen our dollar through increased farm exports.

That is why Senator Lloyd Bentsen has fought for stable growth of farm markets abroad and stepped-up agricultural research here at home. Born and raised on a farm, he knows that the new American prosperity will begin where America began—on our farms.

We've never had economic health in our cities without economic health on our farms.
The new American prosperity will begin where America began — on the farms.

1976 target cotton price is 43.2 cents

The 1976 target price in the government's upland cotton program, which is voluntary, is 43.20 cents per pound, Joe Barnes, county executive director of the ASCS office here, has announced.

The preliminary loan rate is 37.12 cents per pound for middling one-inch and the disaster payment rate is 14.40 cents per pound.

The upland cotton program under the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 is designed to enable farmers to produce for the marketplace to meet the demand for U. S. agricultural products.

At the same time, this program helps protect income for farmers so that they can be assured of partial relief should disaster strike their cotton crops or should prices drop drastically.

Eligibility for loans and target and disaster payments is limited to farmers who have an upland cotton allotment.

Disaster provisions include one on prevented planting and another of abnormally low yield.

Prevented Planting: If, due to a natural disaster, a producer is prevented from planting his allotment to cotton, he may be eligible for a payment. His actual payment will be computed by multiplying the established farm yield by the underplanted acreage and then multiplying this figure by 14.40 cents.

Abnormally Low Yield: A producer may be eligible for a disaster payment if, due to a natural disaster, the total quantity of cotton harvested on the farm is less than two-thirds of the allotment times the established yield (adjusted to reflect actual historical yields for the county). His actual payment will be computed by multiplying the established yield by the allotment and subtracting the farm's total actual production. This figure is then multiplied by 14.40 cents.

For both types of disaster payments, an on-site farm inspection is necessary. Producers who felt that they may be eligible for payment should not destroy the evidence of the affected crop prior to contacting the county ASCS office for an inspection.

If the national average market price during 1976 is below the target price of 43.20 cents, producers will receive a target price payment. The per-pound payment will equal the target price minus the higher of either (1) the loan rate or (2) the national average market price. To compute the actual payment, multiply the per-pound rate by the farm's allotment and then multiply the resulting figure by the farm's established yield.

The 1976 upland cotton allotment is 11 million acres. Acreage allotments are used only to determine payments to a producer under disaster and target price provisions. Allotments in no way restrict the acreage a producer may plant to upland cotton.

In 1976, it will not be necessary to withhold any land from production as a condition of eligibility for target price or disaster payments or loans.

Allotment history can be lost if a producer fails to plant at least 90 percent of the allotment to either cotton or a substitute crop or if he fails to protect the allotment history through lease or release. A substitute crop is any annual nonconserving crop (except peanuts, certain types of tobacco and extra long staple cotton) or conserving crop (including approved volunteer cover.) If the producer fails to meet this condition, he will lose an amount equal to the percent that he underplanted (up to 20 percent) the following year. If the acreage planted (or regarded as planted) is zero for three consecutive years, the entire farm allotment will be removed.

Allotments can be transferred by sale or lease to farms in other counties within the state, if authorized by county ASC committees. Transfers by sale or lease may be made to farms with no cotton allotment. A person who owns or controls more than one farm in the same state may transfer allotment between the farms.

Small farm bonus provisions: If target price payments are made, a small farm bonus payment of 30 percent of the target price will be made to certain producers on some small farms. (A small farm, for this purpose, is one with an upland cotton allotment of 10 acres or less or one on which the allotment times the payment yield is 5,000 pounds or less.)

Payment limitation: A person can receive a maximum of $20,000 annually under the wheat, feed grain and upland cotton programs combined — including both target price and disaster payments. Loans and purchases are excluded from this limitation.

Participation in the upland cotton program is open to all eligible producers regardless of race, color, religion, national origin or sex.

If you have questions concerning the 1976 upland cotton program, contact your county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASCS) office.

DAUGHTER VISITS

Mrs. Madlyn Downey of Kansas City, Mo., is in Post this week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sanders, who have been ill.

West Texas Chamber told highway program is hurt

DEL RIO — The Texas highway program is caught in the grinding jaws of increased costs and a leveling off of revenues, Charles E. Simons, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation commissioner, told West Texas Chamber of Commerce members today.

Commissioner Simons also said, "Add to these factors a prospective decrease in revenues as more fuel efficient vehicles come into use and the outlook becomes gloomy."

Speaking at the annual business session of the West Texas Chamber, the commissioner assured his listeners that his department was not "crying wolf" and was not throwing in the towel.

He pointed out that the five cent per gallon Texas gasoline tax, the lowest in the nation, does not all go to the transportation agency. One fourth of it goes to the Available School Fund and the equivalent of another penny pays for the entire cost of the State Highway Patrol.

To meet the situation, Commissioner Simons said the department has cut the number of employees about 5,400 from Sept. 1, 1973, to the present time. He added that other actions had been taken, such as not picking up litter as often as before, declaring a moratorium on the purchase of some rights of way and cutting out the annual safety and betterment program this year.

Commissioner Simons said, "It is not our function to recommend methods of funding — this must be done by the people through their elected representatives. But it is our responsibility to keep the people of Texas informed. They have a right to know that their highway system is in trouble and that their future mobility is in serious jeopardy."

Post pharmacist attends seminar

Jim Wells, R.Ph. attended a continuing education seminar concerning "Patient Communication — Drug Interactions" recently in Lubbock sponsored by the Texas Pharmaceutical Association.

Pharmacists from throughout West Texas heard lectures concerning adverse drug reactions and interactions and how the pharmacist can communicate more effectively with patients and physicians in the interest of improving patient care.

Five hours of continuing education credit were earned for participating in the seminar.
