Local Youth Escapes From POW Camp; Enroute Home

from the War Department the following information: "At least two Texans were among 61 American prisoners who marched out of a Japanese prison camp at Tsuruga, about 450 miles from Tokyo, bluffed their way aboard a train loaded with Nippon soldiers and reached safely in Tokyo."

PVT. KNUTE DOWERS

from aboard the American hospital ship Benevolence to which Knute was evacuated from Tokyo.

"The Texans are PVT. Albert Dowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Dowers of Perryton, Texas, and PVT. Wilbur W. McEntyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. McEntyre of Orth."

"Dowers, who was born and reared in Ochiltree county, was captured at Corregidor and McEntyre at Batavia. Both had been together in various Japanese prison camps for two years. They were in fine physical condition when I talked to them."

"McEntyre had the unpleasant task of riding during the famous

March of Death while his countrymen were forced to drag along under the lashes of the Japs. "For ten days during the cruel march, McEntyre, who served with the Hospital Group No. 2 on Batavia, was forced to drive a staff car. As he sat at the wheel of the car he saw wounded and sick comrades lying in ditches, but was powerless to give them medical aid. He did manage, however, to throw candy and cigarettes to them secretly."

"The Texans at one time during their imprisonment labored with picks and shovels constructing dry docks for Jap ships. They were victims of the typical barbaric punishment bestowed upon Allied prisoners, including standing at rigid attention and then being slapped down by ruthless Japs."

"Dowers and McEntyre learned enough Jap language to get by so long as the language helped them, but when the Japs wanted some prisoner for something disagreeable they quickly became dumb and learned to goldbrick in a first-class manner."

"The Americans described their captors as stupid. They arrived in Japan on Thanksgiving Day, 1942, and their meal consisted of rice, a tiny piece of fish and vegetable soup."

"When the group of 61 decided to get out of their prison they told the stupid Jap guard at the railroad station that they were going to visit friends at Camp Short. A short distance away was a train loaded with Jap soldiers and they got aboard and spread out through the cars. They were not molested. Then they decided on some bluffing."

"We made a Jap sergeant and a private move out of their seats," the youths said. "They didn't like it much but they moved anyway." "We soon changed trains and told the railroad agent to wire ahead and have some food ready for us at the next station. All we had brought along was a mess kit of rice. Then at the next station the food was there all right but it was more rice."

"The 61 men arrived at Tokyo on Sept. 4 and located some Americans who brought them to Yokohama and the navy hospital ship Benevolence."

While in college at Canyon, Knute Dowers enlisted in the U.S. Coast Artillery in February, 1939, and was soon sent to the Philippines. He was on Corregidor when the Japanese took the island. Knute was first reported missing in action and then later his parents were notified that he was a Japanese prisoner."

More Than 200 Are Expected To Attend From Southwest Texas and Other Points

Plans are practically completed and the stage is set to receive more than 200 peace officers expected to converge here from all over the Southwest for their regular quarterly conference to which Perryton and Ochiltree county will play host Thursday, September 20, under the direction of Sheriff W. H. Lance. The officers will assemble at Lake Fryer at 1 p. m. to begin the business session and program for the afternoon which will be culminated with a barbecue served by Earl Glasgow at 5 p. m.

Musical Instruments Needed by School Band

With a good turnout this year of students in the band and orchestra classes in the Perryton Schools, and acute shortage of musical instruments has become a problem, announces Bob Jack Low, Jr., band and orchestra director. Approximately 100 pupils have enrolled in the elementary, junior and senior bands with practically 30 percent unable to locate instruments to date.

Any former student or other person desiring to sell any type of musical instrument to the students are asked to get in touch with Director Low, who will maintain a list of the instruments suitable for purchase and use by pupils.

Members of the Lions and Rotary Clubs and the Perryton Chamber of Commerce will assist Sheriff Lance and staff in the general coordination of details for the event.

Headlining the conference program will be Col. Homer P. Garrison, head of the Texas Department of Public Safety, who will address the group on coordination among peace officers, stressing in particular communication problems between different sections in efficiently carrying on officers' duties. Ed Gormley, head of the Automobile Theft Association of Dallas and president of the Texas Police Officers Association also plans to be in attendance and will bring a message.

Among those also present will be M. E. Cantrell, first vice president of the Texas Sheriffs' Association and sheriff of Randall county who has just completed a 14 week FBI course in Washington. D. C. Mr. Cantrell will discuss some of the aspects of his training.

D. A. Bryce, agent in charge of the FBI office in Oklahoma City and one of the leading pistol shot experts in the nation intends to be present and will give an exhibition of marksmanship.

Sheriff Lance states that an effort is being made to obtain equipment to present a walkie-talkie radio demonstration emphasizing its value in law enforcement.

An invitation to attend the Perryton conference was carried Tuesday to a group of more than 70 peace officers gathered for a similar meet at Liberal, Kansas. Attending the Kansas conference were Sheriff Lance, Lee Welch, Southwest cattle brand inspector, and Ray Phagen, deputy sheriff. Accompanying the Perryton group was Captain Polk Ivy, of the State Highway Patrol office, Amarillo.

Home is Partially Destroyed by Blaze

In answer to a call about 3 p. m. last Thursday, the Perryton fire department extinguished a blaze at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Dodson on the east side. The origin of the fire was not determined and was detected by a neighbor, Mrs. Charlie Jackson, who saw the smoke after most of the floor burned through, permitting air to fan the blaze. The house was closed as the owners were away temporarily.

A check of the damage indicated the possibility that a short in the wiring could have ignited the house. While the amount of damage has not been ascertained the loss is partially covered by insurance.

War Time Will End On Sunday, Sept. 30

War time will be abolished as of Sept. 30, congressional leaders have decided. Committees voted without dissent to end the daylight savings time at 2 a. m. Sept. 30. Not a single dissenting vote in the House or Senate is expected when it comes up. This means that on Sunday, Sept. 30, we'll get an extra hour's sleep. The change back to regular time will be welcomed in Perryton. Perryton is located on the extreme western edge of central time and under war time, it was pitch dark in winter at eight o'clock in the morning, the hour when most business houses opened. As a result of war time, the most business houses, either opened for business in the darkness of the pre-dawn or opened at a later hour in daylight. War time has been in effect since Jan. 20, 1942.

Arch Talley, president of the Perryton Golf Club, has called a meeting of all golfers in Perryton at the City Hall, Tuesday, Sept. 18, 8:30 p. m. Virb Conley is secretary of the club.

Due to rationing of auto tires and gasoline, the club has been inactive during the war as the golf course is located about 10 miles from town.

Mr. Talley says that the purpose of the meeting is to ascertain if there is sufficient interest in golfing to justify the lease of the grounds. He adds that if golfers are interested and turn out for the meeting, then a membership and fund raising campaign will be staged. The lease renewed and the course put in first class playing condition.

Mr. Pounds was a resident of the Booker community for many years and at present is living in Booker until housing can be located in Perryton. Mrs. Pounds, formerly Miss Hazel Puls of Booker, will accompany her husband here.

During the past two years Mr. Pounds has been associated with the Firestone Service at Lubbock and is an experienced dealer in this line of endeavor. He states that after looking over several areas in which to locate, the possibilities and potential growth of this territory surpassed all others. He is a veteran of World War II, having received a discharge in the early part of 1942 due to ill health.

The new firm will be known as Pounds Home and Auto Store with Gene Hedgepeth and Jack Collins assisting Mr. Pounds in the operation. It is the desire of the staff to HERALD NEWSMAN—First of the Ochiltree County Herald staff to enter the armed services and the first to return is Master Sergeant Morris M. Payne who started back at his desk in the Herald office this week. Morris enlisted in the United States Army Aug. 22, 1941 and sailed from the States for Hawaii on Sept. 3, 1941. He served almost three years as an administrative NCO with the Medical Corps in the Islands. When Admiral Chester W. Nimitz established CINCPAC-CINPOA, advanced headquarters for the Pacific Fleet, Morris was picked as a member of the joint army-navy staff in Nimitz's headquarters. With 95 points to his credit, Morris left Guam July 21, flying to Pearl Harbor, then by ship to Seattle, thence to Fort Sam Houston for discharge on Aug. 28, 1945 with four years and six days of service. Among Morris' most prized possessions is a photograph of Admiral Nimitz, inscribed as follows: "19 July '45, To M/Sgt. Morris M. Payne, AUS, with best wishes, C. W. Nimitz". Morris says that the Admiral presented photographs to him and two other men who left at the same time for discharge.

Treat Small Grain Seed For Smut

COLLEGE STATION—Chemical treatment of small grain seed before fall planting is a cheap and safe insurance against losses from disease, says E. A. Miller, agronomist for the A&M College Extension Service.

Wheat, oats and barley are subject to fungus diseases called smut. Under favorable conditions the diseases often cause reduced yields and further loss from dockage when infected grain is marketed. Accordingly, Miller urges farmers to thoroughly clean and treat their planting seed unless they are certain that it is free from infection.

Wheat is affected by two types of smut disease. Stinking smut can be controlled readily by fanning the seed wheat or cleaning it by other methods to remove the smut balls, and then treating it with either two ounces per bushel of 50 per cent copper carbonate, or one-half ounce per bushel of etelner-phosphate called "improved pearsan."

The grain may be treated in a commercial seed-treating machine or in a home-made container with a tight fitting lid. An oil drum with a pipe soldered diagonally across it and extending about one foot from each end to permit it to revolve easily will do the job. For small amounts any type of container will do. The important thing is to get the powder well distributed over each kernel.

The other type, called loose smut cannot be controlled by chemical treatment. The best safeguard is to use seed known to be uninfected. Barley and oats smut can be controlled by treating the seed with one-half ounce per bushel of improved ceresan. Another approved method is to mix one pint of

As part of the invasion forces he saw action in Sicily and Italy.

Big Oil Drilling Program Going On

Actual completions of oil wells in the United States in 1944 were 194 more than the 24,000 scheduled, according to the American Petroleum Institute. These comprised 20,273 development wells and 3,827 exploratory wells.

While the 27,000 new wells scheduled for 1945 are threatened by lack of materials and manpower, it is hoped that the end of the war in Europe will enable the schedule to be met.

As a part of this development program, an all-time high of 522 geophysical and 50 core-drill crews have been at work this year in United States looking for prospective oil fields to replace those that are being exhausted so rapidly by the huge demands of war.

The minor league record for hitting safely in consecutive games was made in 1919 by Joe Willett of Wichita, in the Western League. His total was 67 games.

commercial formaldehyde with 10 gallons of water at 60 to 70 degrees temperature. Sprinkle the solution uniformly over 40 to 50 bushels of seed while it is being shoveled from one pile to another on a clean floor, or in a tight wagon box. Then pile the seed and cover it with a wagon sheet for at least four hours or over night. It then should be sown or spread out to dry, Miller says.

How-de-do, Dumplin'

Now that the strict ban on fraternization is a thing of the past for American soldiers in Germany, scenes like this—an American officer manifesting desire for sociability—are common in Germany. The girl, who incidentally seems not to have suffered from Europe's dearth of food, apparently is against non-fraternization as much as any soldier.

ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Labor Unions

BABSON PARK, Mass.—I have received a telegram from a returned serviceman who has just arrived from Europe. He states that, after paying certain bills and providing for his board and lodging, he is broke. "But," says he, "I cannot get a job until I pay a labor union $20 or more. Please wire me some money immediately."

Postwar Employment

I am continually being asked, "What will the employment situation be now that Japan has collapsed?" I have replied that we will have a slow-down for a few months during the change-over of factories from war to peace goods; but after that we should have a few years of excellent business and fair employment. Certainly, there need be no serious unemployment while people have excess money in their pockets and bank accounts.

Every employer is prepared to take back such returning servicemen as were in his employ when they were drafted. After this, a difficulty will come in deciding who shall next be in line for jobs, the young fellow who never had a job before entering the service, or the man who has been employed in shipbuilding, airplane construction or munitions manufacture? Certainly, many married women and old people will be expected to step aside and return to their prewar status.

Labor Unions—"Big Business"

But then I am asked a second question: "How long will this postwar prosperity last?" To this I am prepared to answer: The length of the postwar prosperity depends largely upon the labor union leaders. They can make the prosperity short or they can have it extend over a long number of years, according to how they act. As to what they will do, no one—including themselves—knows. Why? Because the actions of these labor leaders will be determined by the returning servicemen and we do not know what their attitude will be.

There is little real democracy in a big labor union. Members vote as ordered; they have far less freedom than the stockholders of any corporation. Often even the officers of the union are mere figureheads without real authority. The typical labor union today is a "big business" run by dynamic leaders primarily for their own advancement and profit. They make demands and call strikes to have their members think they are doing something.

Watch Returning Servicemen

Labor leaders can bluff their present membership which has become docile from browbeating and blackmail. But these labor leaders may meet their match in the returning soldier. He is no namby-pamby. Hence, the important question is, "What will the attitude of these returning servicemen be toward the labor union leaders?" If

Making Gasoline Better

No better example of the value of co-operative research in making better products for Americans exists than that of the long continued effort in that direction conducted jointly by the automotive and petroleum industries.

Back in 1919, the interdependence of the internal combustion motor and the fuel that went into it was recognized. Joint committees from the two industries went to work on the problem. That research has continued ever since with marked advantages for the American people.

Dr. Robert E. Wilson, noted petroleum authority, points out that:

"Due largely, though not entirely, to improvements in the quality of gasoline and lubricating oil, the modern aviation engine is about ten times as powerful, weighs about a quarter as much per horsepower, and has about 40 per cent greater thermal efficiency as compared with those of the last war. These factors have increased the load-carrying ability, range and performance of military planes far beyond anything dreamed of even a dozen years ago. Ford Car Owners

We want to thank the Ford car owners of this area for their cooperation and patience with us in regard to keeping their Ford Cars and Trucks in running condition. We well realize that many times you had to wait for repair work when you needed your equipment. Of course as you know, man-power has been scarce and also the parts situation has been such that many times parts and complete assemblies had to be rebuilt in our shop.

We hope that in the very near future we will be able to supply all the new equipment needed but until that time let us keep present cars and trucks in running condition for you.

Bring your Ford equipment to a Ford dealer who can supply you with genuine Ford parts. We have at the present time the largest stock of Ford parts that we have been able to obtain in many months.

Miss Mary Beth Johnson Is Bride of C. D. Haines

The marriage of Miss Mary Beth Johnson, formerly of Perryton, and Mr. C. D. Haines of Spearman was solemnized Thursday, Sept. 6 at 7 p.m. in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Johnson, Lubbock. Rev. B. P. Harrison, cousin of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony.

Baskets of pink and white gladioli, between which the couple stood, and a large bouquet of pink and white asters and carnations, palms and ferns basking the fireplace, formed the decorations in the living room.

The bride chose a street length dress of royal blue crepe with blue accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias. For something old she wore a watch which belonged to her mother, on a gold chain which was brought her by the groom from Germany. For something borrowed she carried a hand-made handkerchief which was sent to Mrs. R. C. Johnson by her, R. C. Jr., who is in India with the air force. Journalism Course Resumed at WTSC

CANYON — Instruction in journalism will be resumed at West Texas State College in the 36th joint session opening Sept. 18. Capt. Olin E. Hinkle, for the last 28 months in the Army Air Force, has returned to the campus to reopen his work as associate professor of journalism and publicity director. He also is sponsor of the Panhandle High School Press Association, which has maintained restricted activity during the war and will now restore its varied program, including an annual convention at West Texas State.

In addition to writing courses, the journalism curriculum will include a class in photography. College publications — newspaper and yearbook — are without editors and business managers for the first time in many years because of postponement of appointments last spring. Immediate tryouts for these and other positions will be started by Capt. Hinkle. He pointed out that students, including freshmen, have an unusual opportunity to obtain writing experience on college publications this year.

Type High, the college press club, will open its membership to students who demonstrate journalistic ability and dependability.

Soldiers Want More Chicken

COLLEGE STATION — Victory has not decreased the demand of Uncle Sam's fighting men for chicken, says U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson appealing to poultry producers in Texas and other designated states to furnish 125,000,000 pounds of dressed poultry to be held for the preparation of canned poultry for the armed forces. Canning will begin Oct. 1.

A month ago the secretary issued an order, effective Aug. 13, designed to effect "the equal sharing by the armed forces and civilians of all poultry handled in authorized plants" in Texas and a group of other states. Under the order, the U. S. Army Quartermaster Corps, buying poultry for the army, navy and marine corps, will purchase 50 per cent of the poultry killed, bled and plucked in authorized plants in designated areas. The remaining 50 per cent will be made available for civilians immediately after selection by the QMC of the share for the armed forces.

To facilitate a flow of live poultry from producers through established channels to which the army has access, authorized processors and their buyers or suppliers will be given official stickers for their duck windshields. The plants or buying stations of authorized processors, suppliers and all others qualified to obtain live chickens under the order will be identified. With such identification producers easily can make certain that their poultry likewise actually is reaching the armed forces and legitimate trade channels for civilians, Secretary Anderson believes.

The secretary attributes the greater need for canned chicken primarily to the shortage of refrigeration in tropical areas. All of the inaccessible hot spots of the world can be served by canned chicken, but without refrigeration many places cannot be supplied with fresh poultry. Accordingly, "there's simply got to be more available for canning," he said. In his order the secretary en-phased that farmers and poultrymen are not being urged to sell their laying hens. "We must not jeopardize the nation's 1946 egg supply," he said. "I am asking merely that when the farmer or poultryman, in carrying on normal culling operation, has hens to sell that he sell them only to authorized suppliers providing army poultry under this program."

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Employment of Handicapped

Both as an inducement for industry to hire handicapped veterans and a protection to both industry and the veteran, 28 state legislatures have now enacted second-injury-fund statutes which, in general, require employers to pay workmen's compensation only for specific second injuries.

The fund pays the additional costs of permanent total disability resulting from the loss of a hand, arm, foot, leg or eye, following a previous loss of one of these members or organs. The fund is usually financed by payments of fixed amounts by an employer or a service company in the case of death of an employee having no dependents. Freed from the fear of heavy permanent total disability charges in these cases, employers are much more willing to employ handicapped workers.

According to records submitted by the department of labor, the cost of maintaining second injury funds is small, for recent studies show handicapped workers are actually more careful than normal employees and have a lower accident frequency.

Employers have been reluctant to hire these handicapped veterans lest they suffer second injuries, become permanently and totally disabled and cost employers increased workmen's compensation charges.

States which have established these second injury funds include Arkansas, Idaho, Illinois, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Utah, Arizona, Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Maryland, Oregon, Tennessee, Washington and Wyoming. Wisconsin, North Dakota, Ohio and West Virginia have equivalent arrangements while California, Connecticut and Pennsylvania have such legislation pending.

Questions and Answers

Q.—Can the mother of an illegitimate child file an application for family allowance, if a soldier is the father?

A.—Yes, the mother may file application for the child, but she must either have a court order declaring the soldier to be the child's father, or she must have a statement from the soldier admitting parenthood. She must also have a certified copy of the child's birth record. The mother herself is not entitled to family allowance.

Q.—Can a dishonorable discharge be changed to an honorable one?

A.—A former officer or enlisted man or woman may request a rehearing or a review of his case before a five-member board in the war and navy departments. The discharge may be corrected in accordance with the facts. However, these boards may not change the sentence of a court martial.

Q.—Is there an artificial hand available that looks like a hand, and different from the ordinary "books" which are most common?

A.—Yes, the navy has developed an artificial hand, made of plastic, that looks like a hand and eliminates the necessity of wearing gloves. It has the consistency of pure rubber and is tinted to match the individual skin. It is operated by a one-pound cam mechanism hidden inside the hand, spring controlled and made of duralumin and permits natural movement of the fingers. Mechanism is operated by a tiny cord running up the arm and around the shoulder, controlled by action of the shoulder muscles.

Q.—I was in the regular army before the war and was discharged due to injury in December, 1940. I have since been working in a war plant and I have a pretty good business opportunity. Do I come under the G. I. Bill of Rights or have I waited too long after my discharge to apply for benefits?

A.—As long as some of your service was after September 16, 1940, you are eligible for G. I. benefits. Assuming you had other than a dishonorable discharge, you may still apply for benefits, since the law requires they must be claimed and secured within two years after discharge, or the end of the war, whichever is later.

Q.—When a soldier's wife receives maternity care under the EMIC government plan, must the application be filed with the Soldier's Relief for payment from the war department?

A.—No, the application should be filed with the state health department, through the personal physician or the hospital.

Q.—May a young man marry while he is a cadet in the U. S. Coast Guard Academy?

A.—The navy department says that cadets are not permitted to marry until they have graduated from the coast guard academy.

Grain Needed For Holland

The people in this section of the Panhandle can help impoverished Holland by giving wheat or money to purchase wheat under a nationwide program by Americans to aid in the feeding of the populace of that stricken country, according to announcements made here this week.

It is factual that the Netherlands are facing the most critical food shortage in the history of their country. Their lands have been inundated with sea water caused by the destruction of dykes, dams and canals during the war. At least five years will be required for the land to be brought back to productivity and the people need help now.

The Netherlands government will pay transportation costs for wheat collected at a reduced rate generally offered by the railroads. Cargoes of wheat are being assembled in all grain producing areas through donations.

Those desiring to donate wheat or pay for the equivalent are asked to see any of the following: J. V. Stump, Perryton; Dave Hummer, Loke; Allan Demmon, Farnsworth; P. E. Rhine or Marvin Groves, Waka.

The above named men are offering their time and effort in taking care of all details connected with the handling of wheat received, and state that if everyone helps in this cause a carload or more of grain can be shipped from the Perryton area.

daughter, Mrs. Van W. Stewart since Mr. Keith's death, Feb. 3, 1940. She is survived by the one daughter, a sister, Mrs. Hank Kankin, Canlon, N. M., and one granddaughter, Miss Carmen Keith, Perryton.

This another Southwest pioneer passes in Mrs. Keith, born in Arkansas, lived in Kansas in early girlhood, coming to this country in 1886. On Nov. 22, 1893, she was married to Frank Keith, one of the early day cowpunchers. Two children blessed this union, a daughter, Jessie, now Mrs. Van W. Stewart; and a son, Kramer, who died in early manhood.

In 1903, the Keith family, like many early day ranchers in the Southwest, lost their herd of cattle in the destructive blizzard that swept the Plains. They moved to Topeka, Kansas where they resided until 1916 when they returned to their Beaver River ranch. Here they lived until 1924 when they moved to Perryton. In 1932, Mr. and Mrs. Keith moved to near Canlon, N. M., where they once more engaged in ranching. After Mr. Keith's death in 1940, Mrs. Keith leased the ranch and made her home in Perryton.

Lake Patton and Chester Thiessen in Pickup Spill

Lake Patton and Chester Thiessen received minor cuts and a thorough bruising when the Plainview Hardware delivery pickup in which they were riding turned over on the highway west of Farnsworth last Thursday.

Mr. Patton received deep cuts on both his left arm and leg. Mr. Thiessen escaped with a good shaking up. Both of them were thrown clear of the car, which turned completely over, coming to rest right-side-up on its wheels. The car went out of control when a rear tire blew out.

Luke Priha, a former pastor of the Perryton Church of Christ, is once more a resident of this city. He has accepted a position as salesman at the Kent & Apple hardware department store. Mr. Priha has been living at Idalou, Texas recently.

He was one of the charter teachers of the Nashville Christian Institute College for teaching and training of preachers among the colored people of that area under the sponsorship of the congregations of the Church of Christ in Nashville.

Born in Savannah, Ga., in 1915, Mr. Rawlings received his education through the high school in that city followed by graduation from Richard's College of Savannah. Subsequent schooling included completion of work at David Lipscomb Bible College, Nashville, Tenn.

His last post was with the East Point Church of Christ, the second oldest congregation of the church in Georgia, established in 1918. It is one of the most active congregations in Georgia in mission work and evangelistic endeavor as well as one of the largest in that area.

Mrs. Rawlings, former secretary to the president of David Lipscomb College and three year old daughter, will accompany him to Perryton, where they will reside at 521 SW Third Street. Arrival of the family is expected about Sept. 21.

A good attendance is expected for the opening services to be conducted by Mr. Rawlings.

In 1943 word was received here that he had been transferred from a Philippine prison to the home island of Japan at Osaka.

A year passed with no word until a Japanese propaganda broadcast revealed that he was still alive from several Christmas greetings beamed to the states and intercepted by the war department.

In January of this year his parents received a card from Osaka, POW Camp, Nippon, stating that he was still well.

His parents are anxiously awaiting word of his arrival in the states and plan to meet him at the port of entry.

Knut's release as a prisoner of war accounts for three of the four local youths held prisoners by the Japanese and who were captured in the vanguard of the war.

Pvt. Wesley Hoch, reported as "missing in action" for almost two years was reported as a prisoner of war in January of 1944 and is still presumed to be alive despite no recent word. Pvt. Hoch, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Thiessen, was captured in 1942 at Java and was imprisoned in Burma.

Lt. Lee Clinton Tucker and Lt. O. Kenneth Fueseler were killed in action on a Japanese transport Dec. 15, 1944. Both young men volunteered and were sent to the Philippines in August, 1941, and were taken prisoners when the Japanese captured the Philippines. They were being transported in connection with a prison camp transfer when killed.

Although the team did not attend a pre training course at the Ranger Camp at Canyon this year, the boys are undergoing stiff daily workouts to limber up joints and generally work into shape. Plenty of weight is in evidence with a good showing in return material from last year, among which is included many lettermen.

Among last year's first string and lettermen turning out are the following: End—E. R. Bell; tackles—Merl Cudd and Gene Stinson; guards—Delmar Igou and Bob Watchous; center—Keith Flowers; backs—Keith Bray, Vernon Flowers, Keith Fuller, Billy D. Stone and Billy Jones.

Rounding out an excellent Ranger foundation to include those returning with valuable experience gained during last year's play and new additions are such lads as Russell Revis, J. C. Jones, Floyd Enterline, Larry Slaughter and J. B. Seago, ends; Wendell Cook, Morrison Osborne and Inel Seago, tackles; Paul George, Ray Osborne, Glen Johnson, Carlos Smith, Lloyd Dean Slaughter, Dane Hummer.

Judge Lindsay said he had never tried gin and ginger ale, but he had tried several who had.

Release Rubber Items

Rubber toys for Christmas are in prospect as well as thousands of other familiar objects that disappeared during the war years, according to the Rubber Bureau of WPB, which has lifted all restrictions on products manufactured of reclaimed and scrap rubber and all synthetic-purpose type used chiefly for tire inner tubes. Natural rubber as well as butyl remains under rigid control.

Other items freed include combs, beach balls, bathing caps and rubber beach bags; bath mats, bottle stoppers, hair curlers and such household items as rubber gloves, rubber fly swatters, soap dishes, dish drains and squeeze window wipers. WPB's action also permits the use of sponge rubber in cushions and mattresses, rubber for unrestricted manufacture of weather stripping, stair treads, rubber flooring, battery cases and such automobile manufacturing uses as pedal pads and floor mats.

Sport shoes and cleats, hockey pucks, boxers' mouthpieces and a number of other athletic goods items will be made available in greater quantities.

Stating that it is too early to determine the degree of success in store for 1945's Rangers, Coach Murry was enthusiastic in surveying the prospects.

Judge Lindsay said he had never tried gin and ginger ale, but he had tried several who had.

JUST HERE and THERE

Price de-control needed!

Farmers want new machinery; housewives want washers, refrigerators; John Q. and Mrs. Public want a new car, new radio . . .

Making and delivering these and many more new things will provide jobs for veterans, for other workers . . .

Manufacturers want to make them, salesmen and dealers want to supply them . . . It's as simple as that. Or, it should be!

But, there's the OPA. Created to maintain necessary price control in wartime, it refuses to recognize the practicalities of peace.

Large volume production, with consequent large volume of employment, can only be attained under fair prices which yield fair incentive profits.

Such prices should recognize all current costs, including those of administrative and selling expense, plus the profit margin experienced in the highly competitive prewar years of 1939 or 1940, or an average of the two.

This is what business asks, and certainly it seems reasonable.

NEWS OF PERRYTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Meet the Teachers

Who was that short, dark, handsome man who just went down the hall? Why, don't you know? That's the new coach. To those of you who don't know Coach Floyd Murry from Floydada in Floyd county, here are his vital statistics.

COACH FLOYD MURRY

He has a wife and not one, but three children.

He attended college at Canyon, where he majored in both educational administration and physical education. After teaching hither and yon for several years, he went back to teach in the public school system of Floydada.

Everything from hoofs to feathers had better watch out from now on, because hunting is this little man's hobby.

Coach Murry likes fried chicken, but T-bone steak is his real specialty. Spencer Tracy and Wallace Beery are his favorite actors and "Objective Burma" was a pretty good show in his estimation.

His reading material? Just anything on sports.

The Edward J. Neil Memorial Trophy, given annually to the boxer who did the most for boxing the preceding year, was awarded in 1943 to the 4,019 boxers in the armed services and those yet to take up arms.

Henry Hudson, who discovered the Hudson River, was set adrift by his crew and abandoned on June 22, 1611, in Hudson Bay. With him was his seven-year-old son and some sick sailors. They were never heard from again.

El Toro

Mary had a little bean; She also had a system. And everywhere that Mary went I went, too.

Lloyd Dean S. was a woman hater, for a week. Nina Raye Phagar seems to have changed him. Better watch him, Nina. There are some new girls.

Now that there are two more classes in senior high, this reporter will be kept busy. Jerry K. and Marian D. started me off with a bang. Verlin H. was left sitting, but not for long. He's interested in Spearman.

Wonder if Gwen V. impressed J. C. Jones a couple of weeks ago. Nice work, Jesse Claude. Hm! Tears? Why? Because "Squeaky" Walker isn't here this year. Wonder if he's shedding any.

Don S. has finally captured a female, Roberta B. Or is it vice versa? By the way, he's been throwing wistful glances and howls at new girls lately "Crevie".

Ruth W. says a certain summer romance was a mistake. It sure wasn't a mistake from where I was sitting.

Barbara B. is still slinging hints toward Lloyd Dean. Keep it up! You can't ever tell what will happen, can you, Lloyd Dean?

Claudine C. seems to be doing okay with her out-of-town romance. Ask Jim how Helen Marie is getting along, Claudine.

There seems to be a love affair between Pat A. and Bill L. something.

Hasn't anybody seen "Blonde Bomber" Ranson running around, besides the boys? Keep trying, Janet.

Jane P. has a new flame, or at least a flame. Wonder if he couldn't be a junior?

Rita Ann, how do you and Gene S. like the new merry-go-around? Quite well, I've heard!

Wonder what business J. C. and Keith had in Berger. Well, well! Veva Jo likes boys who go to Canyon to college. Is ne black-headed or blond?

Velma Lee Bowles is on the prowl. Men, beware! Especially new ones!

Has anybody noticed "Handsome" Johnson crawling around? Girls, see if you can't ruin his woman-haters' club.

What was that streak of light? Oh, it was just "Wolf" after a new boy, or at least a boy.

Pat Barlow is organizing a "Lonely Hearts" club. Veva Jo had better join.

Clara R. seems to like the presence of a certain junior and to dislike the presence of Rita Ann. Hint! The band has been invited to Canyon later this fall. Wonder if Jim Hill will have a good time, not saying anything of the rest.

That's all for now. Until next week, then, I'll be following Mary!

Water Fountain Woe Revealed by Student

My sole purpose is to expose forever the vicious nature of a certain water fountain located halfway down the wall at the east end of the Perryton high school study hall. To that end I shall spare myself no expense nor embarrassment. I shall unveil to all, this high school's most dangerous enemy.

To begin at the beginning, which is where every story should begin, it was a beautiful morning, with birds singing and, beside my bed, the musical blast of my alarm clock.

I arose promptly, after three shouted announcements of the time from my loving mother, and a short nap which I used to recover from shock. After some calculation I found my way to the window for a look at the weather. The day was beautiful, and I decided to assemble my attire accordingly.

I was unable to remember under which bed or behind which door I left my fair-weather dress, however; so I wore my other one.

Being a little late leaving my room, I decided to try a faster-than-usual way of reaching the kitchen by way of the back door. I crawled under the back fence, sneaked down the alley, and presented myself at school.

When I arrived at school, something told me I was thirsty. Something else told me I was late for study hall. The only way out was a drink from the study hall fountain. I waited my turn in line, having been put in line by a few healthy pupils who had arrived before me and were just as thirsty as I was. After each had drunk his fill and I was sure there was no water left in the fountain, it was at last my turn. Bravely I stepped up and with one weak hand turned the handle. There it was—a stream of water. I bent to drink and the nasty fountain snarled and gathered its last ounce of strength to gush at me.

I saw it coming, but what could I do? My stooped position remained stooped. I prayed, I sweated, and in one short minute I saw my life pass before me as a doomed man's life should pass.

Then it hit! It gushed upon my glasses and trickled down my chin. Still my stooped position remained stooped.

Turning my head, I saw that I was lucky; not more than a hum-dred people stared at me with disgust—people who used to lend me their algebra. I looked at them and they looked at me, and still my stooped position remained stooped.

Many people take showers daily in the study hall fountain. It is alleged that many drink there and depart showerless. To these I would gladly give my junior G-man badge if they would let me in on their secret. On second thought perhaps I should save my badge to give to my fellow shower-sufferers—out of compassion.

Shade of the Hat

If you've been wondering who those new faces in the senior high halls belong to, maybe this will help you.

Big companies have always had research labs to develop new products and improve old ones.

Now, lots of big companies also have "people labs."

I mean, well-staffed personnel departments which study employees to find out what will keep them healthy, happy and harmonious.

The old-fashioned idea of hiring people, using them up, and kissing them good-bye is out, in most plants.

Modern companies now know that employees are far more important than raw materials, machinery or anything else.

J. C. Jones and Keith Bray were in Amarillo Tuesday.

Beth Trullinger was unable to attend the first week of school because of the flu.

Bob Jack Low, the new band director, was in Oklahoma City the first of last week for an army physical examination.

Jeanine and Arline Truax, former PHS students, were seen on the campus Thursday and Friday. Their father, Glen Truax, who was for several years music director in the Perryton schools, was also a visitor. Capt. Cyrus T. LaMaster has been assisting the coaches for the past week.

Ninth Grade News

Beginning this fall, ninth grade students in the Perryton school system are freshmen in senior high, and sixth grade pupils are junior high school freshmen.

Rooms which the 76 freshmen would have occupied are now used by the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. One room formerly occupied by the lower grades is being utilized this fall by senior high school aeronautics and geometry classes.

The changes have been made to take care of increased enrollment in the lower grades, and especially to keep ninth grade classes as nearly as possible in one building. For the past few years, ninth grade students taking such senior high courses as shop, homemaking and agriculture have gone from one building to another between classes.

Under the new arrangement, pupils will graduate from junior high school at the end of the eighth grade. Members of the present ninth grade class will receive their diplomas as soon as they have completed their ninth grade work.

Meet the Seniors

On Christmas morning, 1928, Santa Claus left a little bundle under the Christmas tree at the Bell's home. You guessed it. It was E. R. This six-foot senior has blue eyes and light brown hair. And what made him such a big boy? He says his secret is angel food cake. E. R. earned a jacket and a letter in football last year. Besides football, boxing is his favorite sport. E. R.'s favorite actor and actress are Alan Ladd and Esther Williams. E. R. says "Salty O'Rourke" is the only movie for him. His pet peeve is "rough weather." He has an unusual hobby, flying. He has soiled and been granted his permit. E. R. belongs to the National Honor Society. Keep up the good work, E. R.

A cute, mischievous little girl entered this world on Aug. 4, 1929. Brown eyes and ash-blond hair tell you she's Pat Barlow. According to Pat, Turhan Ezy and Jennifer Jones are tops in the acting profession. "Song of Bernadette" is her favorite movie. The mention of chocolate pie works like magic on Pat. "I Dream of You" is her song. The hobby Pat likes best is interior decorating. Her pet peeve is people who wear slacks with high heels. Beware of the wolves, Pat!

Miss Kemp is organizing a Texas shelf composed of books by outstanding Texas writers. She has already received several new books to go on this shelf; some of them are "The Raven," "Texas, a World in Itself" and "On the Long Tide." She has also received some best-sellers: "The Apostle," "Yankee From Olympus," "The White Cliffs" and "Image of Josephine." The library will open every day during the week at 9:30 a.m. and close at 4:30 p.m.

Miss Kemp stated that she hoped everyone would read a great deal, and help her keep the new books and the new equipment which is expected to arrive soon, in good order during the school year.

Library News
Perryton's two public school libraries, under the supervision of Miss Monnie Kemp, opened this Monday, with more than 4,757 volumes on the shelves. Miss Kemp runs the libraries with the help of assistants selected from the student body. The library regulations are kept on the bulletin board, and each week a list of fines is posted.

Count Thirteen Before You Leap

Woodrow Wilson, World War I president, had one superstition. Namely that 13 was his lucky number.

As a boy he was called "Tummy"—Thomas being his first name. But when he reached manhood, he dropped the Thomas, preferring to be known as Woodrow Wilson. That name had 13 letters.

True to his hunch, it became a famous name. Especially after 1912, when he took office as president of the United States.

Darryl F. Zanuck's "Wilson," the 20th Century-Fox technicolor masterpiece, which will be seen for the first time at regular prices when it shows Sunday and Monday, Sept. 16-17 at the Ellis Theatre, reveals the story of the most dramatic years in the life of the World War I president. And the actor playing the title role is right in line with the Wilson superstition attached to the number 13. Alexander Knox also has 13 letters in his name, and when chosen for the part was celebrating his 13th year as an actor.

Movie Enhanced By Ex-Dietician

Hillary Brooke, attractive featured player in Universal's Sherlock Holmes mystery drama, "The Woman in Green," shows at the Ellis Saturday night preview, Sept. 15, once planned to be a professional dietician. She studied dietetics at Columbia University after graduating from James Madison high school in Brooklyn.

Fortunately for screen audiences, Miss Brooke changed her mind and became an actress. Incongruously, she not only dislikes cooking today but usually eats the "wrong" foods.

In "The Woman in Green," Hillary appears as a hypnotist associate of a notorious blackmailer, Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce are co-starred in the new picture. Roy William Neill was the producer-director.

Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the engrossing new picture has a supporting cast which includes Paul Cavanagh, Henry Daniell, Eve Amber, Sally Shepherd and Matthew Boulton. Bertram Millhauser wrote the original screenplay.

Market New Gas

Improved qualities of regular premium grades of gasoline to come on the market will mean that consumers will get more than the quality of these grades for civilian use during the OPA says. Regular grade gasoline since mid-1944 has been sold at about 70 octane, but octane rating will move up to at least the normal level of 73 octane and may in some cases be in excess of 73 octane, according to advice received by OPA from the industry. Premium grade gasoline is also being improved and result, OPA has lifted the octane rating qualifying for premium grade gasoline from octane to 73 octane.

WHEN Grandma was a farm girl, she tended the chickens, milked the cows, churned the butter (72 percent of the nation's butter was home-churned then; less than 20 percent today). When she produced more eggs and butter than the family could eat, she would trade the rest for "pin-money" or frills.

Today, Grandma's "pin-money" has become BIG money. Last year it added more than five billion dollars to the income of U. S. farmers. That's more than hogs brought in—or cattle—or sheep. Just look:

1944 Gross Farm Income
Dairy Products	$2,969,000,000
Poultry Products	$5,264,000,000
Hogs	2,796,000,000
Cattle and Calves	2,607,000,000
Sheep, Lambs and Wool	450,000,000

And believe it or not, dairy products alone returned more money to farm families than the entire corn and wheat crops combined!

Any way you look at it, cows and chickens are a great industry. It is nation-wide, too. California and Texas are crowding close on the leaders—Wisconsin, New York, Minnesota, Iowa, and Pennsylvania. From millions of small dairy herds and chicken flocks in every state, as well as from large-scale operations, comes the enormous volume of dairy and poultry products that are such a vital source of our nation's food.

In these days of mechanized farming practically everyone is familiar with the gears that make the wheels of tractors, combines, and other equipment go 'round. We know that should one gear be removed or get out of line—or even if a single gear-tooth is broken—the machine won't run smoothly, if at all.

It is much the same with the livestock and meat industry. The three main gears are the producer, the processor and the retailer. When any one of these "driving gears" gets out of order, then the entire industry suffers. Coordination of their interests can contribute greatly to the smooth functioning of the industry as a whole. None of us gains by insisting too vigorously that our part of the industry is the only one which has problems that matter. We gain more by trying to look at our particular problems as they affect all of us. In other words, whatever hurts or helps the producer hurts or helps the processor and the retailer also.

The livestock and meat industry is an important part of the national economic structure. We at Swift & Company believe that we can contribute most to the welfare of America—and ourselves—by promoting harmonious practical working relations between producers, processors and retailers.

Reclaim Croplands with Wheatgrass

Ranchers who have need of extra grass can often bring abandoned croplands back into production with crested wheatgrass. In tests conducted by the Colorado Agricultural Experiment Station, in cooperation with ranchers, and reported by Clinton H. Wasser, good stands of crested wheatgrass established on abandoned croplands in northeastern Colorado have supported as much stock per acre as two to four acres of good native sod will in the spring and early summer. And it makes pasture two or three weeks earlier in the spring, and later in the fall when the moisture is good.

Time to Reseed: September is a good time to reseed lands to either crested or western wheatgrass. The job may also be done in the late fall or early spring. For best results, try six to eight pounds of seed per acre drilled into grain, sudan, sorghum, millet or weed stubble. Land badly grown up to perennial weeds may first require heavy disking or even plowing before seeding.

LIVESTOCK MOVIES FOR YOU

We will lend you films for school, church, or other meetings: "Livestock and Meat," "A Nation's Meat," "Cows and Chickens . . . U.S.A.," and two brand new animated movies—"By-Products" and "Meat Buying Habits." All for 16-mm. sound projectors. You pay transportation one way only. CULL THE NON-LAYERS NOW

Hens in your flocks that are still producing eggs regularly in the early fall months are superior layers. They are the ones to save for breeding stock, writes H. L. Kempster, chairman of the department of poultry husbandry at the University of Missouri.

Mr. Kempster says it's easy to select the good layers. They are the hens with white blended shanks and with old, frayed and brittle plumage. The slick hens with yellow legs and smooth feathers are the ones that should be used for poultry meat. They should be culled out of the flock to make room for mature, ready-to-lay pullets now on the range. As it doesn't pay to lay hens, try to examine all individuals in your flock carefully. A red comb and moist, expanded vent are sure signs of a layer. If the vent is puckered and yellow, you may be certain the hen has stopped laying for some time.

ROY GUY REALLY KNOWS SHEEP

When Roy F. Guy, head lamb buyer for Swift & Company at Chicago since 1931, was a lad of 17, he answered an ad in a Kansas City newspaper. That led to his first job with Swift as a 4-a-week messenger boy. Before his first year ended, he had doubled his salary and was getting a start in buying. At the ripe age of 22, Roy Guy was a calf buyer at Chicago. He held this post for years and then went back to the starting line with lamb buying. In his 46 years with Swift, Roy Guy has bought many million lambs and judged in many a show ring. But his greatest pride is in the boys he hired and trained who have made good with the Company. "I always told new boys to be careful in choosing his Company . . . and to stay with it," he says.

WE WISH THAT EVERY FARMER IN THIS AREA COULD HAVE NEW JOHN DEERE EQUIPMENT NOW!

As your John Deere distributors of John Deere Tractors and farm implements, we know better than most how urgently you need new equipment.

You have waited long. We are deeply appreciative of your patience, your confidence and loyalty as evidenced by the many inquiries that we receive each day in regard to new John Deere equipment.

We wish it were possible to deliver a new John Deere Tractor now to every farmer who wants one. Victory has brought that day closer. Yet it will take time to supply the pent-up demands of peace.

Keep in touch with us in regard to new machinery. We pledge our best efforts to supply equipment just as rapidly as the factory is able to deliver them to us.

THANKS

TO

John Deere Farm Machinery Owners

YOU OWNERS of John Deere Farm Equipment deserve great credit for your part in keeping your machinery rolling. With shortages of manpower and parts, we've been able to do our share of the job only because you have been patient and co-operative. And we thank you.

Repair needs mounted swiftly as machinery grew older. Parts have been scarce. We have done our best to supply parts when needed.

You saw and understood our great problems. You set an example of fair play and common sense, and you helped us by being patient during this critical period.

Your farm machinery may still have quite a long way to go. Probably they already have gone much farther than normally would be the case. We are in hopes that new machinery will be available in the near future.

Don't neglect your present machinery. Working together we can get all the "extra" work that John Deere built in. Keep on bringing your John Deere equipment "home" for the best service possible.

Modern Kitchen Is Flexible

POST-WAR kitchens will be completely equipped with kitchen cabinet sinks and both floor and wall cabinets without the necessity of building them in, to exact wall or floor measurements. The right units to fit any available kitchen floor and wall space may be selected from a line of a dozen uniformly-designed sink and cabinet units and placed in any arrangement desired. A Crosley home economist is shown above in one of the model kitchens arranged by The Crosley Corporation to demonstrate its post-war kitchen cabinet sinks and its wall and floor cabinets.

Christian Science

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 16.

The Golden Text is, "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen" (Hebrews 11:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it; and God doeth it, that men should fear before him" (Ecclesiastes 3:14).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life, and Love are substance, as the Scriptures use this word in Hebrews: The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." (page 468).

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Capacity for Both
Good and Evil
Displayed by Judah

The International Sunday School
Lesson for Sept. 16
Scripture: Genesis 43-44

JUDAH was a man with a none too savory past when events of this lesson occurred. It was he who, more than anyone else, was responsible for Joseph being in Egypt. Reuben, it may be recalled, had persuaded his brethren to cast Joseph into a pit, when the brothers were conspiring to kill him, intending to go back and rescue Joseph and deliver him to his father. But before this could happen, a caravan of Ishmaelites hove into sight, and Judah suggested that they sell Joseph to them—the first step of his going to Egypt. Later Judah was mixed up in a nasty affair with his daughter-in-law. The story is in Genesis 38.

In both of these affairs, he seems to have displayed a well-intentioned but muddled moral sense. He suggested selling Joseph, instead of killing him, because he was "our brother and our flesh." It isn't quite a brotherly act to sell one's own kin into slavery, but at that it was better than murder. When he suspected his daughter-in-law of sin, he ordered that she should be burnt to death, but when his own part in the affair was brought home to him, he acknowledged his sin with frank honesty, and did what he could to atone for the wrong.

Judah was a man, like many others, with a great capacity for good or evil. The seeds of good were in him, and now in the testing time of a great opportunity, they were bearing fruit. Where he had formerly been willing to sell Joseph, he was now urging that he be allowed to sacrifice himself so that his brothers might take back home with them little Benjamin, the son of Jacob's old age, who had taken the place of Joseph.

The story is one of intense dramatic setting, as if Joseph had planned it all to evoke Judah's passionate plea, and evidence of his moral restoration before the climax when, overcome with emotion and unable to restrain himself longer, he made himself known to his brethren.

We have moved again and now are living in a school house, which is pretty nice, but isn't anything compared to the private homes we just moved out of. It's pretty nice to move into a town and look around and pick the home you want, then tell the people to move out by a certain time. Then you move in. Usually they take most of the furniture with them. But the last place we were in was complete.

Our Defenders Speak!

The Herald asks that men and women from this community serving in the armed forces write letters to this department for publication. Letters to relatives that would be of interest to the public will be published under this heading.

Neustadt Aisch

10 August 1945

Dear Van and Jessie:

Speaking from the experience gained from 2½ years of shuffling papers in the army, I would say that the regulations regarding mailing of weekly newspapers which appears in the July 19 issue of the Herald runs right true to form. Though I don't know much about navy directives, their sounds as if it, too, were right in keeping with the old service slogan, "Confuse 'em, brother, confuse 'em." It looks as if the army brass hats regard newspapers, even weekly newspaper, as somewhat of a nuisance which should be discouraged.

Of course, they never did read any of the letters which are sent home by servicemen praising their hometown papers to the high heavens.

The Herald is on the top of the heap as far as praise goes, and though it is a constant wonder to me how you do manage to do all the things you're doing, I leap with joy at each copy I receive. In fact, I don't let the army hear this; I'd even prefer to receive the Herald than the copies of "Army Talks," orientation papers, and the rest of the "poop" that somehow finds its way into army channels and down to us. So keep right on pitching and don't let the war department strike you out.

Thanks for the pat on the back you gave me regarding my promotion. Probably the most encouraging thing I can say about the raise, besides the increase in pay, is the fact that I am now officially addressed as "Mister." Which sounds good to me, though it is close as I'll be for a long time to a civilian. The redeployment and everything else seems to have shot right over me, and I shall still be doing business at the same old stand here for some time to come.

I don't know what your reaction is to the lifting of the non-fraternization ban over here, but I'll tell you that in my opinion it denotes a woeful lack of will power and intestinal fortitude on our part. We're not being tough enough, we're giving away rations to Germans, and it makes me sick to see soldiers gazing calf-eyed at the German babes. Not that lots of them aren't good looking. Far from it. But I do believe that the exercise of a little self-restraint would do much more to convince the Germans of their low position in society than making much ado over them. The only way to make the non-fraternization ban stick, I guess, would be to forbid American soldiers from talking to any Germans save the females between 18 and 30 years of age.

We're catching lots of Germans on falsification of the Fragebogen now. The Fragebogen is their questionnaire which they fill out when applying for a job, or when they are any sort of a public official. There is space on this questionnaire for party membership, and all that business. A number of the Krauts forgot that they had been Nazis, and when a week or so passed without their being called on it, they felt pretty good about getting away with it. But every Fragebogen undergoes a constant check and countercheck, little bits of odd information is added to the file, and pretty soon, it develops that the man wasn't fooling anybody. Today we had seven cases of falsification, all minor members of the city government. They got 50, 30, 30, 20, 15, 10 years in prison at hard labor for said falsification. Most of them said that they didn't realize they had done wrong, and were sorry and all that. They'll have plenty of time to lament, unless some time in the future all is forgiven, and these people are turned out. Which seems unlikely.

I went over to Nurnberg this week and looked over the court where the War Crimes Commission is meeting. It looks to me as if they are doing a lot of fooling around. But they say a man is innocent until proved guilty, and maybe the big Nazis were really just nice fellows trying to make a living. Who knows? It will be extremely interesting to note what the boys down in Luxembourg are doing. Goering, Streicher, and the rest, will get.

Well, I guess I've talked enough for now. Best of luck, and "keep 'em printing." Yours, Harold. W/O Harold R. Hudson, W2132728 Det. H273, Co. C, 3rd MG Regt. APO 403, c-o Postmaster, New York City.

Dear Van and all,

Today I am celebrating my third anniversary in the army and I'm going to start the day off by writing you and expressing my sincere thanks for the many copies of the Herald that I have had the pleasure of reading the past three years. Next to letters from friends and loved ones it is the best morale builder that a soldier can have.

I think you should be commended for the wonderful paper you are editing as I am sure you are working under wartime handicaps. I am now in Czechoslovakia "sweating out" a return to the states. I have five battle stars to my credit and have spent almost two years in the ETO.

ARE YOU DRIVING A LEAPING LENA?

THEN CHANGE TO THIS
New Fighting AVIATION OIL

Your car doesn't have to be an old jalopy to run like a "Leaping Lena." Reduced wartime speeds and too much stop-and-go driving can sap its pep and power, causing it to lose its smooth operation.

So let your favorite mechanic check the motor and tune it up. Then change to Champlin HI-VI... the new fighting aviation oil.

Champlin HI-VI (High Viscosity Index) motor oil is refined by an entirely new solvent process... from 100% Paraffin Base Mid-Continent Crude... the finest obtainable. It not only resists sludging, but actually washes away sludge already present in your motor.

Through regular use, Champlin HI-VI tends to increase compression, and to reduce valve sticking. You'll get by with less oil, and your car will run smoother, last longer.
