INTEREST SOARS IN COUNTY'S HIGHWAY PROBLEM

TO LAY PLAN OF CAMPAIGN HERE TONIGHT

PUBLIC URGED TO BE ON HAND FOR SESSION AT COURTHOUSE

The flames of public interest in the forthcoming $1,000,000 road bond election, set for Saturday, January 12, mounted higher today as citizens in all parts of the county continued to study the problem which will either assure the county a system of hardsurface highways or will postpone such construction at least temporarily.

Announcement was made last night that The Taxpayers, an organization favoring passage of the bonds, would hold a session at the courthouse tonight, beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock. The announcement, made by C. E. Maedgen, general chairman of the organization, included an invitation to all interested persons to attend.

J. J. Clements, who was chairman of the drive held in an effort to pass the road bond election the last time the people voted, asked The Journal today to make an appeal for a large attendance at the meeting tonight.

Mr. Clements particularly urged that every man who worked in the first campaign be on hand at the courthouse tonight.

Gilchrist Changes Plan

On the heels of the meeting announcement came the information that Gib Gilchrist, of Austin, State Highway engineer, would be in Lubbock Saturday but a telephone call to George A. Field, division high-

BUILDING TAKES SPURT IN LUBBOCK

The heaviest spurt of building activity this year was experienced yesterday afternoon and this morning with the issuance of four permits for a total of more than $20,000.

Total for the month and year now stand at $28,300 for eight permits. Three permits were issued yesterday and one this morning. Today's permit was to G. E. Waler for the construction of a $6,500 brick veneer residence at 2504 23rd street.

The others follow:

A five-room brick veneer residence, to cost 3,500, will be erected at 1916 Twenty-seventh street, for G. H. Summers, the contractor named being W. S. Masoner.

A brick and tile business structure, size 26 by 125 feet, is to be erected at 918 Avenue J, at a cost of $7,500. This building is being built for M. C. and L. R. Ragland, the contractors being H. H. Shell & Son.

H. W. Thompson was given a permit to construct a five-room brick veneer residence at 2013 Tenth St., costing $3,300.

CONCRETE ROADS CLAIMED ESSENTIAL

H. T. KIMBRO ISSUES STATEMENT ABOUT BONDS

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series of articles being published by the Avalanche-Journal papers and bearing upon the Lubbock county highway question. In this series the Avalanche-Journal hopes to present all of the information available, both for and against the issuance of bonds.)

Taking the stand that concrete construction should be assured before the voters of Lubbock county approve the issuance of $1,000,000 in bonds to cover the county's part in building a system of hardsurface highways, Henry T. Kimbro, member of the Tech Board of Regents and prominent local resident, has prepared a statement in this regard.

Mr. Kimbro, in his statement, points out that no certain type of highway construction has been recommended by the County Commissioners' court and cites figures, which he says have been prepared by authentic sources, to show that the $1,000,000 issuance of county bonds is inadequate to assure concrete construction over the state and federal designated highways in this county.

The complete statement, as given the Avalanche-Journal by Mr. Kimbro, follows:

LUBBOCK COUNTY'S PROPOSED $1,000,000 BOND ISSUE

"On Monday, December 10th, the County Commissioners of Lubbock considered a petition for the calling of a county wide election to vote $1,000,000 with which to build certain roads.

The Commissioners through Judge Nordyke have stated the election was called for January 12th.

The petition calls for the following roads to be paved, the County's part being the amounts set out after each road below:

Texas State Highway No. 7	$275,000.00
Texas State Highway No. 9	218,000.00
Texas State Highway No. 53	275,000.00
Road west toward Levelland	110,000.00
Road north from Idalou through Becton	100,000.00
TOTAL	$978,000.00
Plus purchase of road district bonds	$22,000.00
TOTAL FOR ROAD BOND ISSUE	$1,000,000.00

"NO TYPE OF ROAD SPECIFIED"

"The petition does not call for any particular type of road. The proponents of the proposition claim they will build concrete roads.

"The County Commissioners say they will make no recommendations as to the type of road to be built.

The petition does not say definitely that the county cannot pay more than one-third the cost of the roads, or any one road, but indicates

NEW HOSPITAL RUMORED HERE

WILL BE LOCATED ON AVENUE Q; PLANS NOT COMPLETE

Work on a new hospital for Lubbock will be started within the next sixty or ninety days, if financing arrangements now being sought for the venture are carried to consummation.

The proposed hospital, which is being planned by a group of prominent Lubbock physicians and surgeons, would entail an initial expenditure and an ultimate outlay of perhaps $150,000, it was learned from authorative sources today.

Tentative location for the new hospital has been announced as on the east side of Avenue Q between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets. Plans now call for an L-shaped structure, three stories in height. Another "L" would be added later, leaving the building in the shape of an incompleted square.

Doctors connected with the enterprise were recitent to release any information on the venture yesterday although it is known that negotiations are in progress to secure a location on Avenue Q and that arrangements for financing the venture are being planned.

Modern equipment will be installed in the ne wsanitarium and it will serve as a combination clinic and hospital.

INFLUENZA TAKES ANOTHER IN CITY

Influenza claimed another victim yesterday with the death of Mrs. S. W. Rhodes, 67, 1808 Avenue J, at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, following a short illness.

The body of Mrs. Rhodes was sent last night to Grand Saline by Bynum Brothers where burial will be today. The family has been residents of Lubbock only since June, moving from Marlin. Mrs. Rhodes came to Texas with her husband in 1906 from Stoddard county, Missouri, where he was county judge. He later served in that capacity in Motley county.

Other than her husband she is survived by four sons: J. Paul, Lubbock; J. M. ,Houston; C. V. Gladwater; B. W., Amarillo; and two daughters: Mrs. V. R. Pittman, San Anglo; and Mrs. V. S. Johnson, Lubbock.

RAINFALL OF YEAR NORMAL

DECEMBER DRIER AND LESS WINDY THAN AVERAGE MONTH

Total precipitation in Lubbock for 1928 was almost exactly the normal amount for the year, being only .14 of an inch more than the average. Precipitation in 1928 totalled 19.74 inches as compared to a normal of 19.60 inches.

These figures were included in the regular monthly summary of weather conditions issued by Don. L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment station east of the city.

The report further shows that during the month of December that although the temperature varied over a wide range the average was 2.44 degrees warmer than the usual month of December. The temperature ranged from 81 to 12 degrees. During the month there were nineteen clear days, five partly cloudy and nine cloudy.

PLANE SOARS ON, BREAKING TIME RECORD

MAN'S MASTERY OF AIR LIMIT OBSCURED BY "QUESTION MARK"

(By Associated Press)

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, Los Angeles, Jan. 4—The limit of man's mastery of the skies in heavier-than-air craft remained undetermined today as the Question Mark, mastering adverse elements and minor mechanical imperfections, droned onward toward a distant aerial goal after having broken all existing world's endurance records.

Nearing the end of its third full day aloft the army's tri-motored enigma, which ascended at 7:26 a. m., January 1, steadily advanced toward lighter than air records this morning after having returned to America one of the two principal airplane endurance flight records held abroad.

The time of the second European record, a continuous flight without refueling, was surpassed at 1:51 a. m., today, coast time, at which hour the resourceful five-man crew had held the ship aloft for 66 hours, 25 minutes, a full hour longer than the record set six months ago by the Germans, Johann Risticz and William Zimmerman.

The monoplane, groping its way over a wide section of Southern California in an effort to avoid creeping fog blankets and cloud banks, need only land at this airport, possibly several days or a week distant, to get official credit for eclipsing that record as well as the refueling endurance record of 60 hours, 7 minutes, held by Belgians, which fell last night.

Aeronautic regulations specify endurance planes, in order to set a new record, must remain up an hour

Drag River After Body Of Convict

HOUSTON, Jan. 4 (AP).—A sheriff's posse today was dragging the Brazos river in search of the body of Prarice Hamilton, only one of 12 convicts in a break from the Imperial state prison at Sugarland yesterday not recaptured.

Fellow convicts and guards feared that Hamilton drowned while attempting to swim the river. Eight convicts were recaptured after they had reached the opposite bank from the farm.

Hamilton was convicted of theft in Bell county and was sentenced to a five year term.

Lone Hi-Jacker Stages Five Dallas Robberies

DALLAS, Texas, Jan. 4—(AP)—Single handed a hi-jacker sent three people to the hospital, was successful in four out of five attempted robberies and obtained $223 and two automobiles here last night and early this morning.

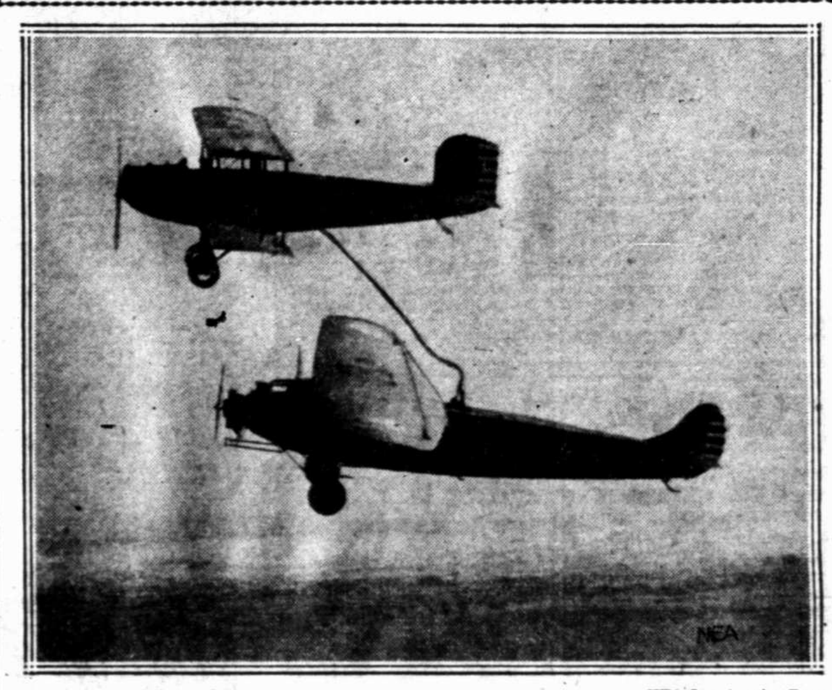

It all started when R. M. Hester offered a man a ride to town. Hester's car and $4 were taken and Hester had nine stitches taken in the wound the bandit's gun made in his scalp. A moment later Hester's car pulled up beside a parked car in which W. A. Herold and a companion were seated. The bandit took the car and $2 and struck Herold over the head with his pistol causing severe bruises.

A filling station was the next call and the attendant, Clifton Luther, had to go to the hospital for ten stitches in his scalp after the bandit had felled him and taken $16 from the cash register. Luther's employer drove up as the bandit left the filling station and trailed him to a drug store. As the bandit alighted, apparently to rob the pharmacy, his pursuer opened fire, but the man regained his car and escaped.

A short time later he appeared at another drug store in another part of town and took $200 from the cash register. M. D. Chapman, a customer, was forced to accompany the bandit from the store, acting as a screen for him. After driving for a few blocks Chapman was released but the bandit forced him to give up his overcoat in return for $52.50 which the bandit gave him for the garment.

PARRISH ASKS TAX FOR MALT

SENATOR-ELECT CLAIMS VAST QUANTITY IS SOLD IN LUBBOCK

On the eve of his departure for Austin for the coming session of the legislature, Senator Pink L. Parrish of this city last night intimated that he probably would introduce a bill providing for a tax of perhaps $1 on every can of malt extract sold in Texas, increasing the state's revenue more than $1,000,000 yearly.

Stating that the almost universal use of malt extract, the enormity of the traffic in illegal brewing and selling of beer made from the malt, is so staggering when you dig into the evidence everywhere to be found—considering the hundreds and hundreds of thousands of dol-

COTTON STILL BEING PICKED

EATON STAYS WITH HIS ESTIMATE OF 35,000 BALE CROP HERE

With the Lubbock ginning total for this season near the 30,000 bale mark, County. Agent D. F. Eaton this morning stated that unharvested cotton was scattered throughout the county.

The cotton is now moving rapidly, however, and should all be harvested in the near future, he said.

Mr. Eaton declared that the ginning total for the county would aggregate between 35,000 and 40,000 bales. This was his original estimate of the Lubbock county cotton yield and he has stuck by it in spite of many predictions to the contrary.

Virtually all of the feedstuff of the county has been harvested Mr. Eaton reports.

BOUFFANT SKIRTS ARE FAVORED FOR EVENING

By MME. LISBETH

Novelty fabrics come and go but tulle and taffeta are perennially popular for evening frocks for the younger set. A velvet gown is lovely in mid-season, but at the approach of spring it is a bit inappropriate, so the girl with the average income usually leans toward a dress that will be "good" for more than just a few months.

At left is a lovely tight-fitted godice frock of Nile green taffeta. Crystals, outlining a V, are the only trim used. The bouffant scalloped skirt is finished with a fold of transparent net.

Rose tulle, in many ruffles, lends a demure touch to the dress in the center which also features the jeweled bodice.

A flower motif in brilliants adorns the plain neckline of the dress at the right. The very voluminous skirt is made snug fitting at the hips by an adroit use of shirring.

It is interesting to note the sparcity of trimming on both the taffeta models. Designers are depending upon the richness of the cloth for the desired effect rather than ornaments.

Living and Loving

WHAT'S WRONG WITH ME? ASKS GIRL WHO LACKED THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

The holidays have passed on their way again. And here is one young woman who pours out a tale of disappointment over the fact that she seemed to be "out of things" over the Yuletide season. Perhaps there is food for thought in her letter. Perhaps you would answer it differently. But here is her confession and my suggestion.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: The holidays have come and gone and once more I find myself fighting the feeling that on the basis of gifts received, desire for my company during the holidays, and the comparative happiness and companionship evident among my friends, I am sort of 'out in the cold.'

"My gifts are taken calmly. I find in looking over presents received that mine do not include many of the personal, intimate, little gifts that many other girls and young women receive.

"I am not bringing into this the lack of interest shown toward me by male friends. I have never cared much for any men and did not have any of the usual "crushes" of youth.

"What I am trying to tell you is that through some cause I seem to miss much of the Christmas spirit that is apparent on all sides of me. And yet it doesn't seem to be my fault. I make and buy many gifts for other folks as other young women in my set do. And yet, as I say, these gifts bring little response—and few gifts come my way.

"Why? MISS J."

I may be unjust to you, Miss J., but I am going to start this answer by being brutally frank. The tone of your letter would indicate that the spirit of Christmas, to you, means mainly gifts—material gifts—virtually the exchange of these, gift for gift.

Now there may be instances in every circle where gifts are exchanged simply on a "duty" basis, but I fear that you are not aware of the fact that basically Christmas giving is but an expression of sentiment that has existed between persons during the months intervening—expression of friendship, and love perhaps, that has been built up over periods of years. These gifts are presented, therefore, with no thought of the possible value of gifts to be received in return.

Your admission that you never had any "crushes" when you were young and do not now "care" for any of the opposite sex may indicate that as well as other intimations in your letter that you are self-centered—too satisfied with yourself.

My suggestion is that you try to carry through the coming months the spirit of "doing" and good fellowship that is evidenced by your friends — among themselves — at Christmas time. Observe them closely during these months, too, and I believe you will find that they carry that spirit.

The friendships made and held by kindness, affability and comradeship during the year are of much greater value than the material gifts of the holidays.

Think this over.

"A Wonderful Friend": I cannot advise your girl friend to make any move to attract the young man. If a man loves a girl he does not usually go out with others or act so indifferent. He has not even been courteous to your friend. She should go out with others and make an effort to forget him.

His speech was so well received that his services for a speaking tour were immediately sought. He was transferred to another department of the company shortly afterwards and became unavailable for the tour.

Sulley will will be in Texas for one month touching only the leading trade centers of each section. In petitioning for the speaker to come here, the Lubbock Retail Merchants association pledged a good attendance not only from this but surrounding towns on the Plains.

Store Allegation Of Bloomer Theft Brings Long Fight

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 4—Mrs. Grace L. Layton won another step today in her court fight for slander damages against a store in which she was accused of stealing a pair of bloomers.

The supreme court awarded her a mandamus order compelling the Beaumont court of civil appeals to certify the case to the supreme court on conflicts found with another civil appellate decision in a similar case.

In the hearing of other persons, an attache of the Perry Brothers Variety store at Nacogdoches accused Mrs. Layton of making off with some bloomers. A district court jury found the charge unjustified and awarded her slander damages, but the appeals court at Beaumont reversed the decision. This reversal, Mrs. Layton charged on appeal to the supreme court, conflicts with a decision in the Koehler vs Sircovich case, involving similar issues.

Baby At Last Is Believed On Way To Recovery

CINCINNATI, Jan. 4—(AP)—A feeling of great relief was evident among attendants at the Mithoefer hospital here today where Frankie Brooks, 18 months old Asco, W. Ca., baby was on the road to recovery after suffering more than two weeks with a toy motorcycle lodged in his throat.

Surgeons late yesterday inserted an esophagus scope in the boy's throat and drew the obstruction out, the actual process requiring only one minute. No incision was made and no anesthetic administered, physicians said.

The baby developed pneumonia after he was brought here and physicans were not hesitant in stating his condition was grave. It was because of his weakness that the toy was not removed.

Frankie swallowed the toy when eating a package of pop corn in which it had been concealed as a prize.

The previous sentence of death was set aside.

Prosecutor Harry Ditchburne told the jury today the state expected to show that the woman's baby was born alive but was allowed to die and then was burned in the hospital furnace.

MATADORS TO PLAY WAYLAND

JACKRABBITS HERE FOR RETURN BATTLE WITH TECH

After four days of serious training, Matador cagers of Tech take on their first opposition of the new year in the college gymnasim tonight as the Wayland college basketeers invade the stronghold of Coach Payne's basket loopers in a return engagement. An early season game between the two teams founds the Matadors and Jackrabbits battling neck and neck for supremacy of the hardwood court, and the locals are expecting an even harder contest tonight. The game starts 7:30 o'clock.

Having cut his squad of basketball candidates down to a mixmum of 20 players, Coach Payne has put the scarlet and black stalwarts through stiff practice sessions this week in an attempt to find the most effective combination. The contest tonight will likely find several teams on the floor.

The all-stars of the Spur Athletic club will furnish the opposition for the Matadors tomorrow night, and next week the A. C. C. Wildcats come to Lubbock for two games.

WOMEN OPPOSED TO 1932 OLYMPICS

NEW YORK, Jan. 4—(AP)—Opposition expressed by the women's division of the National Amateur Athletic Federation to participation by women in the 1932 Olympic games will not prevent that part of the program from being carried out in full according to Olympic and A. A. U. leaders.

Addressing the fifth annual meeting of the women' division yesterday, Ethel Perrin, chairman of the division's executive committee, reported that her committee had endorsed the launching of a campaign to educate girls in schools and colleges and other girls of school and college age not to train for competition in the next Olympic games to be held in Los Angeles.

Most Olympic and A. A. U. officials thought the woman's organization's opposition would have no effect on the program.

"Dead Ball" Fumble Boosted By Yost

FAIRMONT, W. Va. Jan. 4—(AP)—Fielding H. Yost, director of Athletics at the University of Michigan football coaches, does not believe and one of the country's foremost a football rule making a fumbled ball dead would slow up the game or make it less exciting.

"A fumble is a mechanical error on the part of one player and I do not believe an entire team should suffer from this error," said Yost, who was called to Fairview, near here, several days ago by the serious illness of his mother.

Lomski Will Meet Griffiths Jan. 18

ABERDEEN, Wash., Jan. 4 (AP)—Leo Lomski, the "Aberdeen Assassin" was on his way to New York today to meet James J. Braddock, conqueror of Tuffy Griffiths, in Madison Square Garden on Jan. 18.

Eddie Eicher, Lomski's manager who accompanied him, expressed the opinion that Lomski would fall heir to the light heavyweight crown without again meeting Tommy Loughran.

Lomski has been training here and his manager said that he would enter the ring in fine trim at 174 pounds.

Swedish Track Star On Visit To U. S.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4—(AP)—Edvin Wide, the Swedish schoolmaster and track star, has arrived in the United States but not, primarily, to run.

An official of the Swedish School Gymnasium department, Wide will spend the next seven months studying the public schools in various United states cities and in addition to observe under what conditions Swedish athletes will have to compete in the 1932 Olympics at Los Angeles.

Reinhart Released To Houston Buffs

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 4 (AP).—Arthur R. Reinhart, left hand pitcher, has been released on option by the St. Louis Cardinals to their Texas league farm at Houston.

Addition of Reinhart to the Houston staff is expected to compensate for the loss of Bill Hallahan, whom the Cards recalled.

"Strangler" Lewis Meets Sonnenbery

BOSTON, Jan. 4—(AP)—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, and Gus Sonnenberg, a former Dartmouth football player, meet in a championship match at the Boston Garden tonight.

Lewis, who tipped the scales at 235 pounds, had a 35 pound weight advantage over Sonnenberg.

Copyright, 1929, NEA Service, Inc.—Transmitted by Telephoto

One of the shining stars of Georgia Tech's 8 to 7 victory over University of California at Pasadena on New Year's Day was "Stumpy" Thomason. All-Southern halfback, who went over with the winning touchdown. This NEA picture shows California linemen surrounding Thomason just before he was thrown on a fast play in the first quarter. It was Thomason who fumbled the ball that Roy Riegels of California recovered and ran 70 yards toward the California goal line, but this fumble was offset by the fast Georgian's performance throughout the rest of the game.

MUSTANGS TO PLAY PORKERS

GREEN METHODIST FIVE MUST TEST CAGE CHAMPIONS

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Jan. 4.—It falls to the lot of a green Southern Methodist university quintet tonight to find out if the gun is loaded.

Coach Francis Schmidt and his Arkansas university Porkers, perennial basketball monarchs of the Southwest conference, hit town today, aching to get started on their march to a fourth consecutive crown.

Although the lanky team from the Ozarks is not exactly intact from last season, it has the main springs from the great 1928 machine and is regarded by some critics as every bit as powerful. Coach Jimmy St. Clair of the Methodists has indicated he entertains slight hope of halt the Razorbacks tonight and tomorrow night.

After playing here the Porkers will hop over to Fort Worth to sample the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs Monday and Tuesday. These games also will serve to open the conference race for the Christians.

way engineer with headquarters in Lubbock, said that Mr. Gilchrist would not be able to get here tomorrow. He suffered a slight attack of influenza in Amarillo yesterday and returned to Austin instead of coming here. Mr. Field said, however, that Mr. Gilchrist would be in Lubbock probably within the next ten day period. Whether he will be here prior to the local election or not, cannot be said.

Mr. Gilchrist's visit here will be incidental to his study of construction work already under way in Hale county.

Trip Planned Tuesday

On Tuesday Engineer Field, with C. E. Maedgen and Monroe G. Abernathy, proponents of the local bond issue, plan to visit with Floyd county people in the interest of procuring state designation on the highway between Idalou, through Becton, Petersburg, and Lockney to Silverton or to Quitaque. It is possible that several carloads of Lubbock people will make the trip to secure aid of Floyd county citizens in pushing the designation.

State designation on the highway from Idalou to Silverton or Quitaque would set the stage for extension of the Lubbock trade territor to the northeast, a very desirable plan according to business men.

LOCAL MEN QUERIED ON THEIR STANDS

W. K. Dickinson, sr., pioneer Lubbock county citizen and a veteran advocate of good roads, told the Daily Journal this morning that he is at this time both "for and against" the local project.

Mr. Dickinson said that the objected to the pencilled notation placed upon the election order and approved by the commissioners court and describing the designation of the Lubbock-Idalou highway when petitions passed for signatures of citizens did not include the notation. However, he said that he was in favor of paving state and federal designated highways and that he felt that the people of Lubbock county were "standing in their own light" when when they did not see that a system of hard surface roads is necessary.

Some Are Silent

Senator Pink L. Parris, interviewed just before he boarded a train for Austin to sit in the state legislature, declined to make a statement "one way or another" on the highway question. B. Sherrod, president of the Lubbock Board of City Development, likewise said that he had not statement to make. Mayor Harley Woods, R. J. Murray and O. L. Slaton also declined to be quoted in the matter.

Emil L. Klett, local attorney, reported that he is "strong for the passage of the bonds" and his stand was concurred in by E. W. Provence, business manager of Tech college.

Horn Favors Paved Roads

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the college, said that he had not familiarized himself with the local question but that speaking generally he was in favor of paved highways. "You may say for me," he said, "that I believe a system of hard surface highways would benefit the college as well as the city."

PARRISH

lars in profit being made daily," that the state should get some benefit from this to be applied to the need of the public school or the state colleges, he predicted that such a tax would decrease the sale of malt extract very little.

It is suggested that the sale could be decreased, however, by making purchasers sign an affidavit to the effect that it was to be used only for legalized purposes, then making it a felony for those who swear falsely. He said that he had been informed that in 1927 five car loads or 25,000 cans of malt extract were sold in Lubbock, explaining that with one can capable of making five gallons of homebrew, this amount represented about 125,000 gallons or about 1,000,000 pint bottles or beer in that one year.

Senator Parrish declared that the homebrew bootleggers would still have ample profit even at the present prices after paying an extra dollar for the malt. On the basis of one can of malt sold in each county yearly one can delve into statistics to reach the startling unofficial conclusion that some 50,000,000 bottles of home brew were made in Texas in one year. At 25 cents a bottle this amount would total more than $12,000,000.

If other bills expected to come before this session of the legislature, Senator Parris said that he expected the proposed $350,000,004 statewide road bond issue would take up most of the time. He predicted that the people of Texas would not vote this. He said he favored the bill permitting the legal operation of theaters on Sunday, and expressed himself as optimistic as to the future of Texas Tech.

HE RAN THE WRONG WAY

Here is Roy Riegels of the University of California team and captain-elect for 1929, who made a sensational 70-yard run in the New Year's Day game with Georgia Tech at Pasadena—an excellent run except that he got confused and ran in the wrong direction. Riegels grounded the ball one foot from his own goal line. On the next play Lom's punt from behind his goal line was blocked and it was a safety and two points for Georgia Tech which later enabled the Golden Tornado to nose out an 8 to 7 victory.

IDALOU WILL PLAY SLATON

IS FIRST OPPOSITION OF THE SEASON FOR WILDCATS

Coach L. F. Swinney's Idalou Wildcats will meet their first strong opposition of the season at Slaton tonight when Coach Paul Wright's Tigers come out of their lair to battle their rivals in county basketball competition.

With seven letter men returned and a host of recruits showing considerable promise, the Idalou aggregation takes on the aspects of a formidable cage machine. Four members of the squad measure slightly over six feet in their stocking feet and several others on the first string five are almost as husky. The Wildcats have won two of the three games played thus far.

The fact that Slaton and Idalou are the only class A basketball teams who will compete in the county meet here next month will add interest to the contest tonight. The championship of the county will likely lie between these two teams.

Return to form of Givins, six foot center on the Wildcat quintet, has brightened up the prospects for the Idalou five.

PRIZE 'BONER' IS RECALLED

MISCUE OF LUMPKIN AT OAK CLIFF IN 1924 TOLD BY COACH

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Jan. 4—In view of Roy "Father" Lumpkin's splendid play at fullback for Georgia Tech against the California Golden Bears New Year's Day at Pasadena, a story told by Coach Howard Allen, of Oak Cliff high school here on the big, blond ball lugger is particularly timely.

Allen, in fact, recalled Lumpkin's amazing boner after reading about Walter Riegel's now famous dash for Tech's goal line.

It was in 1924, when Lumpkin played on the Oak Cliff eleven which won the state high school title. At the start of the season the big fellow was playing in the line, and he had it drilled into his head day atfer day that his sole function was to obliterate the man opposing him.

Lumpkin got that phase of the game down to a fine point, then in mid-season, Coach Allen made the important discovery that "Father" was wasting his time on the line and shifted him to the ball carrying department.

In his first game Lumpkin broke through the line with the ball unin front o fhim except for the safety in front o fhim except for the safety man. Straight toward the prospective tackler he ran and it appeared a simple matter for him to sidestep at the proper moment and race on to the goal line.

But Coach Allen's coaching had made a deep impression on the former lineman when about five yards from the cringing safety man, Lumpkin suddenly threw down the pigskin and proceeded to dispose of his adversary in an efficient manner. He knocked him down, made certain he would stay put and then turned around to retrieve the ball. But it had long since been vocered by an enemy grabber.

York City. He said the dead man was Willie Hightower and the robber who escaped was Davis.

Hightower was wounded as the robbers sped through Auxvasse, about 12 miles south of here. He collapsed over the stering wheel and when Davis attempted to control the machine it skidded into a ditch. Davis and Bruck took to the woods, a posse capturing Bruck soon after.

Nine thousand and five hundred dollars was recovered near Auxvasse.

HIGHTOWER WAS DALLAS RESIDENT

DALLAS, Jan. 4 (AP).—Willie Hightower, reported killed in an escape after a bank robbery at Mexico, Mo., yesterday, was a former resident of Dallas, police said today.

Hightower, a mother and a brother lived at 2100 Garrett street here, police said.

BANDITS KIDNAP TRIO IN OKLAHOMA

(By Associated Press)

ASHER, Okla., Jan. 4.—Two bank robbers, who late yesterday took between $2,000 and $3,000 from the Canadian Valley State bank here, and who kidnaped two bank officials and an Olahoma farmer but later freed them, were at large today.

The two robbers, entered the bank about the closing hour. After taking all cash and currency in sight, the men forced W. M. Hampton, cashier, and Carl Cochrane, bookkeeper, into a sedan and fled.

A posse gave chase, overtaking the car where it had been abandoned on the highway, with bearings burned out, three and a half miles southeast of St. Louis, Oklahoma oil town. Posse members were told the bandits had stolen a motor car belonging to Arthur Beeman, and had kidnaped Beeman, forcing him to drive the car into which they had forced their other two prisoners.

A few miles beyond, they ordered the car driver into a thicket, where they forced the two bankers to change clothes wit hthem. After dark the bankers were freed near Vamoosa, Okla. Beeman was held, but the robbers told Hampton they intended to release him.

KELLOGG TREATY IN FIRST PLACE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP).—Holding its position before the senate the Kellogg peace treaty was due for its baptism of fire today after Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee, its sponsor, had concluded his plea for ratification, begun yesterday.

Senator Borah brought the treaty before the senate late yesterday without even a skirmish by the naval construction bill advocates who have agreed to sidetrack their measure for a "reasonable time" to permit action on the pact. He propelled the document renouncing war on its way in a two hour address which went over until today when debate developed.

Senator Borah will find his principal opposition in his old ally in the fight against the League of Nations and the World Court, the silver-haired Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, who listened intently to yesterday's proceedings.

FARM HAND HANGED

BARRIE, Ont., Jan. 4 (AP)—George O'Neil, farm hand, was hanged in the jail here shortly aftern midnight for the murder of his 72 year old employer and the latter's daughter. No motive had been established for the crime.

DEMPSEY GIVES ONE-MAN SUMMARY OF HEAVYWEIGHT FIGHT SITUATION

MACON, Ga., Jan. 4 (AP)—En route to Miami, Florida, to talk it over with Tex Rickard, Jack Dempsey is issuing a one man conscensus of the heavyweight situation, and as interpreted by his interviewers along the line, it runs something like this:

"The winner of the Stribling-Sharkey fight at Miami Beach February 27, will be the next champion of the world.

"I am willing to meet the winner of the Stribling-Sharkey fight, but I will have no announcements to make until I see Rickard.

"I'm not sure yet that I want to box again.

"I will not referee the Miami Beach fight.

"I believe George Godfrey, the negor, is the best among the crop of heavyweights just at present."

BARNEY GETS FRIENDLY

It is interesting to observe that the social items out of New York have frequent reference to the friendly visits paid to the officials of the New York Giants by Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburg Pirates.

There was a time not so many years ago when the chief of the Pirates couldn't be dragged or pushed into the company of the Giant owners when the exigencies of business did not make it imperative.

There was a time also when business couldn't have had the exigencies important enough for Dreyfuss to break social break with his arch-enemy, John J. McGraw.

But times have changed. Dreyfus apparently has forgotten the names that McGraw called him several years ago. He forgot them enough last winter to pay a social call at the New York office.

SLIPPED ONE OVER

He went to the Giant office to extend the holiday greetings and he left with Burly Grimes. Mr. McGraw wasn't around when Dreyfus paid his social call and if McGraw had been around he certainly would have had something to say when the Pittsburgh boss was persuading Charley Stoneham and Jim Tierney that Vic Aldridge was a better pitcher than Grimes.

Stoneham and Tierney fell for dridge. Aldridge ended the season the line and traded Grimes for Alin the International League and Grimes almost pitched the Pirates into the pennant. If Grimes had won all the games for the Giants that he won for the Pittsburgs the Giants surely would have won the National League pennant.

Old Barney seems to be softening up on his hates but he doesn't lose any of his sagacity.

For years Dreyfus carried on a feud with Garry Herrmann, former president of the Cincinnati Reds and at one time the chairman of the National Commission.

When he was chairman of the commission Herrmann had almost as much authority as Commissioner Landis has now and he had to pass a decision upon the quarrel over the property rights to George Sisler that was being disputed by the St. Louis Browns and the Pirates.

Herrmann gave the decision that Sisler belonged to the Browns and Dreyfuss was so pained by the decision he said he never would get over it and it wasn't until recent years that he did begin to get over it.

Dreyfuss thought he never would be able to get another ball player like Sisler but he had such a swell break in falling into the ownership of the Waner boys that he decided he had been more than evened up and he became cordial again with Herrmann.

REWARD OF MODESTY

Paul Scull, captain of the Pennsylvania team and the All-America fulback, stood in line before the ticket window for an hour before the Cornell game and when he arrived at the window he asked the young man inside:

"I wonder if I could please buy two tickets for the game. If there are any in midfield I would like to have them."

And the young vendor inside sold him two beauts back of the goal line, not knowing him.

GOLFERS PLAY AT SAN DIEGO

PROFESSIONALS FLOCK TO 72-HOLE COURSE FOR NEXT TILT

(Special To The Journal)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 4—(AP)—The knickered brigade, marching over the West's golf courses in search of cash and fame, occupied San Diego today.

Having put behind them the La Jolla, Calif., open tourney, with it's $2,500 purse, the army of professionals and amateurs turned to the San Diego Country club for the start of the 72-hole San Diego Open today.

The field that competed in the La Jolla tournament was to be augmented by the presence of Walter Hagen, and Leo Diegel, the newly crowned national professional king. Neither competed in the La Jolla event which closed yesterday with Johnny Golden of Paterson, N. J., winner and $750 the richer.

It was sound, steady golf that Golden played through the 54 holes to win. He was but two strokes over par figures for that distance, scoring 70-73-72-215.

Horton Smith, young Joplin, Mo., professional, displaying sensational golf at times, finished second with a total of 75-73-69-217, winning $450.

SOLVE MYSTERY OF LUMSDEN CAR

AUSTIN, Jan. 4 (AP).—Hopes of solving the mystery of the tragic death of Lawrence Lumsden, wealthy Texas university student, who was found dead in his automobile, shot through the head, after a fraternity dance here 10 days ago, were lessened yesterday with discovery that a blood stained automobile which officers had attempted to link with the student's death merely had figured in a fist fight between several boys and a bootlegger.

Flu And Pneumonia Are Fatal To Woman

MEMPHIS, Jan. 4 (AP).—Mrs. W. K. Sibley, 21, died today of influenza-pneumonia, an hour after her husband had killed himself, presumably because of worry over her illness. The couple lived in Meridian, Miss., and had come to Memphis for a holiday visit with Mrs. Sibley's relatives.

ROAD SCHEME TO DOMINATE

LOOKS LIKE OLD TIMES AROUND CAPITOL LOBBY TODAY

BY L. B. DILBECK
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Jan. 4—(AP)—It began to look like old times around the state house today. The legislature is about to meet. Some of the lawmakers are already here. Some of the lobbyists are here. Talk of bills is in the air.

Governor Moody is snatching all the time he can from other business to complete his message to the legislature, convening here Tuesday in biennial regular session.

He worked on the message for some time yesterday. He expects to complete it by Monday night. So far, he has not indicated what it will contain. It is expected to embody at length his ideas on highway, prison and university land leasing reforms. These are the three main items of legislation as seen from the present perspective.

Highway matters may dominate the session. Numerous highway programs will be offered. A state-wide bond issue and proposals for a gasoline tax of from two to five cents a gallon will be the central themes.

It was believed today that the governor will ask the legislature to amend immediately the 1925 University land leasing law, which is the crux of the current controversy between Land Commissioner J. T. Robinson on one side, the governor, university regents and attorney general's department on the other.

An expected bill to centralize the now scattered state prison system will probably engage the legislature at length as it did two years ago when it was defeated.

Half the legislature will be composed of ne wmembers. They will hold the balance of power on many questions. A state civil servive bill was defeated by the 40the session. It might pass this year.

First business of the house will be to elect a speaker to succeed R. L. Bobbitt of Laredo. Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, will preside until a speaker is elected. Two of the three announced candidates established headquarters here yesterday. They are W. R. Montgomery of Edinburg and W. S. Barron of Bryan. The third, Grady Woodruff of Decatur, will not have headquarters. He is expected to return here Saturday.

WAYS TO AVOID CATCHING FLU

Declaring that the influenza was on the sharp increase in Lubbock and that it would reach serious epidemic proportions in the near future if everthing the near future if everything against it, Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health official, today issued a list of precautions to avoid the disease.

The list follows:

Avoid indoor crowds.

Close contact with a person who has influenza or even a "bad cold" is dangerous.

Do not send an ailing child to school. Keep it home and call your doctor.

Cough or sneeze into your handkerchief, or better, a soft, paper napkin which can be burned; pocket handkerchiefs so used should be thoroughly boiled.

Do not visit a home where there is a case of influenza.

Keep your feet dry and warm. Avoid sudden chills and drafts, undue exertion and exposure.

Avoid undue fatigue.

A simple domestic remedy advocated in early stages of cold and influenza, is large doses of baking soda, a level teaspoonful about every two hours. Drink large quantities of fluids.

Medical treatment by a physician can considerably mitigate and shorten the duration of influenza and lessen the danger of complications, the symptoms of which can not always be appreciated by the patient.

Obtain at least nine hours sleep in each twenty four hours. Avoid overexertion.

Don't forget the importance of having plenty of fresh air all the time, whether at work or play, asleep or awake.

BOY KILLS MAN THEN SUICIDES

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 4 (AP).—A 17-year-old high school boy, without apparent motive, shot and killed a man whom he called to the door of his home today, and then committed suicide.

The boy, Orin H. Hoover, son of Clayton Hoover, a farmer near here, went to the home of Joe Skablankas, 38, just outside the city limits. To a query of "who's there?" the boy thrust his fist through the glass of te door. Mrs. Skablankas opened te door and the boy stepped into the room.

"Why don't that man say something?" Hoover asked and pointed at Skablankas, standing behind his wife.

Without further warning he pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired, killing Skablankas almost instantly. Then without a word, he placed the weapon against his own head and again fired.

SNOW PREDICTED

PADUCAH, Tex., Jan. 4 (AP).—Newcomers to this portion of the state who had not heard the adage on strangers and Texas weather were predicting snow as a slow rain fell in lowering temperatures.

KIDNAPED GIRL IS FOUND TO BE SAFE

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 4 (AP).—Kidnapers, death threats, drugs, and a dirty shack formed the melodramatic sequence of the story told today by a pretty high school girl who was found bound and gagged after two days' absence from home.

Doris Turner, Hoke Smith high school athlete, collapsed last night in a filling station. She had been found nearby, bound at the ankles. Two hours later the girl said she had been released unharmed by a "kindly old man with a cane," for whom police had been searching for two days.

Blindfolds, she asserted, had kept her from discerning where she was after being held most of the two days in a dirty shack.

LAST MINUTE FIGHT STARTS

CONDEMNED PAIR WILL DIE SATURDAY IF EFFORT FAILS

FRANKLIN, La., Jan. 4—(AP)—Lying on a stretcher, Mrs. Ada Bonner Lebouef was brought into the courthouse today. She was preceded by Dr. Thomas E. Rreher, who walked between the sheriff and a guard.

Sheriff Pecot, who has ministered to the needs of the condemned man and woman during their 18 monts of imprisonment, said today he had sent to New Orleans for an executioner.

"I have made final arrangements for the execution," the sheriff said.

FRANKLIN, La., Jan. 4.—Counsel for Mrs. Ada Bonner Lebouef and Dr. T. E. Dreher entered a last ditch fight today for the two, condemned to hang tomorrow for the murder of the husband of the woman, James J. Lebouef.

Sleepless and emanciated after their long death cell waits, the widow and the doctor nervously awaited the decision of Judge James Simon in parish court here today on the application for appointment of a sanity commission.

When Mrs. Lebouef and Dr. Dreher were told yesterday by Sheriff Charles Pecot that Governor Huey P. Long had disregarded the recommendation for commutation from the pardon board, both broke down and sobbed.

Mrs. Lebouef's 19-year-old son, Ernest, fainted at the door of her prison cell while visiting her.

Counsel for the condemned prepared to apply to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus to compel the trial judge to appoint the commission should their petition before him meet with refusal.

Today the breach between Governor Long and Lieut. Governor Paul N. Cyr, member of the pardon board, widened over Cyr's charge of favoritism in commutation of sentences.

Governor Long, in a statement issued at Baton Rouge, declared that after careful study of the records "in my mind there was not the slightest doubt that Ada Lebouef and Dr. Dreher were guilty of as cold blooded a murder as was ever plotted and carried out in the state of Louisiana.

"Not one person in Louisiana thinks that any pistols or guns went off accidentally on Lake Palourde when James Lebouef died. The dismembering of Jim Lebouef's body and the weighing of it down with angleirons was no accidental happening."

Mr. Cyr, in his statement, attacked the governor, saying, "if Ada Lebouef and Thomas Dreher are hanged it will be a case of Judician murder."

Lebouef was killed July 1, 1927, during a night boat ride on the Lake Palourde.

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinies now felt right at home. Said Coppy, "Every time we roam we meet some dandy people. We're a lucky lot, I think. I see a stream, far, far below and I suggest that's where we go. I'm feeling very thirsty and I want to get a drink."

"Oh, wait," said Carpy with a smile. "I want to look around a while. This seems to be a dandy place to hide. I'll be that we have real fun here. There must be heaps to do."

"You're right," a little fairy said. "But first of all you should be fed. I've brought some lovely sandwiches. Now please eat all you can." The fairy set a basket near. The Tinymites began to cheer. "We're very hungry," Clowny cried. And off the fairy ran.

When they had finished with their meal, said Coppy, "Oh, how good I feel. And now let's take this pathway and we'll find where it comes out." They followed it, and traveled 'round until they reached the lower ground. Some little dwarfs then gathered near and all began to shout.

"Hello, there, Tinymites," they cried. "We guess you've had a dandy ride up in your little engine and we're glad you made the trip. Please join us now. Come on the run and we'll play games and have some fun. Be careful though. The ground is wet and some of you might slip."

Soon Clown found a fairy queen who said: "I'll help you make a scene that's bound to make the others laugh. Just kindly follow me." She soon gave him a pair of wings and Clowny said, "What funny things." However, he began to fly as nicely as could be.

Bond Not Yet Made On Liquor Charge

Bond of $1,000 was set yesterday afternoon in Justice of the Peace Scott's court in the case of Richard Moore, arrested Wednesday night on a charge of violating the prohibition laws. The bond had not been made this morning.

Moore was arrested after a search warrant had been made to search his room in a local hotel from which it was alleged he had been selling liquor. Only one pint of liquor was confiscated with his arrest.

CONCRETE ROADS CLAIMED ESSENTIAL IN STATEMENT BY HENRY T. KIMBRO

such is the intention of the issue.

"The following highways are on State and Federal system:
State Highway No. 7
State Highway No. 9
State Highway No. 53 from Lubbock east to Crosby county line.

"The following highways are on State system only:
State Highway No. 53 from Lubbock southwest.
State Highway from Lubbock toward Levelland.

"The following road is not on either State or Federal system:
Road north from Idalou through Becton to Hale county.

"The State Highway Department has estimated the cost of these roads to be constructed out of concrete as follows:

State Highway No. 7	$324,684.24
State Highway No. 9	274,216.35
State Highway No. 53	370,866.37
Levelland Highway	134,456.57
TOTAL ESTIMATED COST	$1,104,223.53

"This does not include the cost of the Idalou Becton road, but adding the $100,000 included in the proposed petition, will give a total of $1,204,223.53. Deducting the $22,000 for road district No. 1 bonds from the proposed $1,000,000 bond issue, leaves only $978,000 with which to build these roads, or a deficit of $226,223.53 if these roads are to be built out of concrete.

First Check Was Made

"Before the past bond issue was called the highway department requested that if Lubbock county expected any aid or assistance in building her roads, that the election not be called until a special representative could be sent here to check the amounts to be voted on each road. This was done and the figures as set out above were approximate amounts called for.

"The state and federal policy is to give two-thirds aid on highways on both state and federal systems, and one-half aid on highways just on state system. It is claimed that Lubbock county can get more aid than this on some of her roads. The highway department says "no." They grant the aid and they ought to know.

"This being the case it is probable that we can never get highway No. 53 from Lubbock southwest, the road west to Levelland, and the road north from Idalou because these roads are allowed only one-half aid, and our proposed bond issue purports to allow the county to put up only one-third of the cost.

"As the highway department has given the county's part of the cost of the proposed roads constructed out of concrete on the one-half and two-thirds basis aid, it is not likely they will grant more than this.

"This leaves several contingencies:

1. The county will have to put up additional funds in the way of warrants, or from other sources, if these roads are to be constructed even after the bonds are voted, or
2. Just part of the roads will be built, that is, if they are to be built out of concrete, the county will only have sufficient money to pay the cost of any particular road a part of the way across the county, leaving the balance unpaved, or
3. A cheaper type of road than concrete will be built. The state and federal governments will join the county in building different types of roads. They do not require the county to build concrete roads. If the county does not have sufficient money with which to build concrete roads, the state and federal governments will meet the county on the one-half and two-thirds aid basis on a cheaper type of road. This seems to be the only thing we can get under this proposed bond issue.

"We are of the opinion that the county commissioners could pass a resolution that they would not put up the county's part of the money for the construction of any kind of a road but concrete but this has not been done and from Judge Nordyke's published statements they have no intention of doing so. Therefore, it is likely that they will take the funds from this bond issue and meet the highway department in building cheaper roads than concrete. This is the only conclusion that can be drawn.

"The people want concrete and not gravel or asphalt roads."

Dynamite Used To Wreck Booze Plant

DOVER, Del., Jan. 4 (AP).—Dynamite was used by prohibition agents and deputy sheriffs today to wreck a huge liquor distilling plant found in the woods near Felton. Three youths, charged with having been operating the still were arrested. The plant consisted of ten stills, each of 250 gallons capacity. All were alleged to have been in full operation when the agents appeared.

BIG SPRING, Jan. 4—(AP)—The body of an as yet undentified man was found in a box car here today. In his pockets were found the addresses of E. M. Whaley, Roscoe, and L. P. Pleasant, El Paso.

TAKE NUMBERS ON CARS HERE

THOSE DRIVING MINUS NEW LICENSES ARE GIVEN WARNING

Names and numbers of car owners driving without 1929 license plates were being taken yesterday afternoon and this morning by John Kellar, district weight and measure inspector of the state highway department, and Fred Hickman, highway officer of the Amarillo district. The drivers were warned and given only a designated length of time in which to procure new registration tags.

After this designated time arrests will begin and fines ranging from $1 to $200 and costs will be assessed. In some instance when the owners were not in their cars, the 1928 license number was taken down and a certain time allotted before arrests will be made.

Up until noon today approximately 4,350 new licenses had been purchased from the offices of County Tax Collector A. J. Clark. This is slightly more than half of the number of automobiles in Lubbock county.

A sub-station will be opened at Slaton next Monday to care for the car registration in the southeastern part of the county.

MAMMOTH CAVE BOUGHT

Thought For Today

Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ.—Colossians 2:8.

Don't tell me of deception; a lie is a lie, whether it be a lie to the eye or a lie to the ear.—Dr. Johnson

A Horrible Prospect

The next war, apparently, is going to be a nice, civilized, pleasant affair for everybody involved.

Dr. Hilton Ira Jones, research chemist, gave a little picture of it in a recent speech in Chicago.

He told of a new gas—cacodyl isocyanide—which is in the possession of all the great powers of the world, and which is so deadly that it makes all other gasses previously used in warfare look mild and harmless. It would destroy a whole army as quickly as a man snuffs out a candle. Furthermore, it would not simply incapacitate its victims—it would kill, outright, everyone who whiffed it.

"War, if it comes again and is to be a war of extermination, will never be fought with shot and shell" said Dr. Jones. "It can't be, for it is much cheaper to destroy life on the wholesale with this new gas. It may be manufactured at the rate of thousands of tons a day and it costs much less than powder and cannon. Yet it will destroy more armies, more thoroughly, more effectively and more effectively and more quickly."

Nice picture, isn't it? But Dr. Jones isn't through.

He showed a new metal, twice as strong as stell, but light as cork in weight. An airplane, using engines made of this could carry untold quantities of the new gas. Furthermore, the airplane could be made of still another new material which is practically invisible against a light background, such as sky or clouds. And he asks us to imagine a nation, using such airplanes to drop tons of bombs containing the new gas on armies and cities.

Of all the frightful pictures which have been given to a confused modern world, this one is the frightfullest.

Science is a strange thing. It is only within the last few decades that man has become familiar with it; but already it has worked miracles. It has wiped out space and time, obliterated pestilences, placed in our hands tools with which we can literally remake the world within the next half a century; and we use it, not to build, but to give us a weapon with which we can destroy ourselves by the million!

There is no use talking about pacifism, militarism or allied subjects; mankind simply can not afford to let loose on itself another large-scale war. A repetition of the last war, for instance, would probably destroy European civilization. In sheer self-defense, we must find some other method of settling our troubles. War is altogether too dangerous.

The Injunction

George W. Wikersham, former attorney general of the United States tells an audience in New York that he is opposed to the Shipstead anti-injunction law now pending before congress, and complains that there ought to be a better understanding between labor and capital, adding that "labor has come to regard the injunction as hostile."

A better understanding, doubtless, would be a fine thing. Meanwhile, labors does suspect the injunction, and with good reason. Let Mr. Wickersham read the record of the injunction's use in such affairs as the Pennsylvania coal strike, and see if he can understand labor's attitude.

The bill in its present form may, as Mr. Wickersham says, have grave defects. But it might be pointed out that existing methods of using the injunction in labor troubles have grave defects, also. It is hardly to be wondered at if labor is seeking a rather drastic remedy.

THE PLAINSMAN

Thas Girl on Broadway says she doesn't see why people want to spend a million dollars on highways. What this country needs is more quiet, private parking places.

* * *

You know, customer, it is slowly but surely dawning upon The Plainsman that there seems to be a difference of opinion concerning the approaching road bond election. Yes sir! Just what will have to be mapped out to get Lubbock county an adequate system of hardsurface highways appears to be a problem and, if you as the opinion of your humble servant, it begins to look like some gallons of water will flow under the bridge before a solution is reached.

* * *

Confidentially, The Plainsman is getting a little "burned out" on this business of paved roads anyway. That's all you can hear no matter where you go. Why it's gotten to the point where a man can't even argue with his wife without controversy finally getting around to the bond issue. If The Plainsman is rightly informed, even women's bridge clubs are leaving decks unbroken and the prizes are going to the ladies who can put up the best arguments, for or against the bonds.

* * *

Further than that, it is being rumored rather promiscuously that one or two of the study clubs have turned their attention from Mesapotamia and the literature of the 14th century Mongolians to a careful perusal of advertisements of asphalt companies, while the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs are alleged to have forgotten all about World Peace, Wilson's Fourteen Points and how to act toward a competitor in public in order to permit members to become better acquainted with the problem of highways. You don't know just how far this business has gone!

For the past few years The Plainsman has been resigned to his fate in the matter of finance. He's so dog-gone poor it's painful for the average man to behold and has just about bowed his head before the inevitable when up jumps the road bonds argument and wishes he had some money. Honestly, fellow sufferers, if this writer had a hundred million dollars, more or less, he'd put a stop to the whole darn business by paving the roads without the necessity of the election. And The Plainsman's program—if he were carrying it out—wouldn't leave a square foot of unpaved ground in Lubbock county. No, sir!

It is confidently expected that before this question is decided the pastors of the city will take their texts from the 22nd chapter of a book on civil engineering and the cradle roll teachers in the Sunday schools will teach a lesson or two from the figures compiled on some Texas highway campaigns!

* * *

Seriously, though, if all of us would do more thinking and less talking, more working and less playing, we'd all be better off and the time between now and the counting of the ballots would pass more rapidly and pleasantly. This ends our evening lesson—as far as the road bonds are concerned.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says what Lubbock needs in 1929 is more and better downtown parking places.

The "chain" idea of business operation, as has been noted before in this one-man forum, is rapidly reaching out into new fields. Lo! and behold! It has already expanded into the car washing and greasing racket and it looks like perilous times ahead for the colored boys who work around the filling stations.

* * *

Late spring visitors to Dallas, Houston and San Antonio will see duplicates of an auto laundry which The Plainsman recently inspected in Tulsa. The company behind the plan is already operating 18 such concerns in large cities and plans three in Texas early this year. Forty men work on each car brought in for a wash and grease job and the whole thing is done in fifteen minutes time! That's an example of mass production.

The plant the writer saw in operation represents property, building and equipment totalling $250,000. Most anyone can readily see that a lot of cars will have to be washed and greased to pay back the principal—not to mention a respectable return on the investment. In addition to the washing and greasing work, which is done as the car is moved slowly along on a circular electrically operated track, there is an enameling department, a brake and battery station and several other sidelines. Altogether it is possible for a motor car owner to spend about 50 bucks by patronizing all departments but the wash and grease job only sets him back a dollar and four bits.

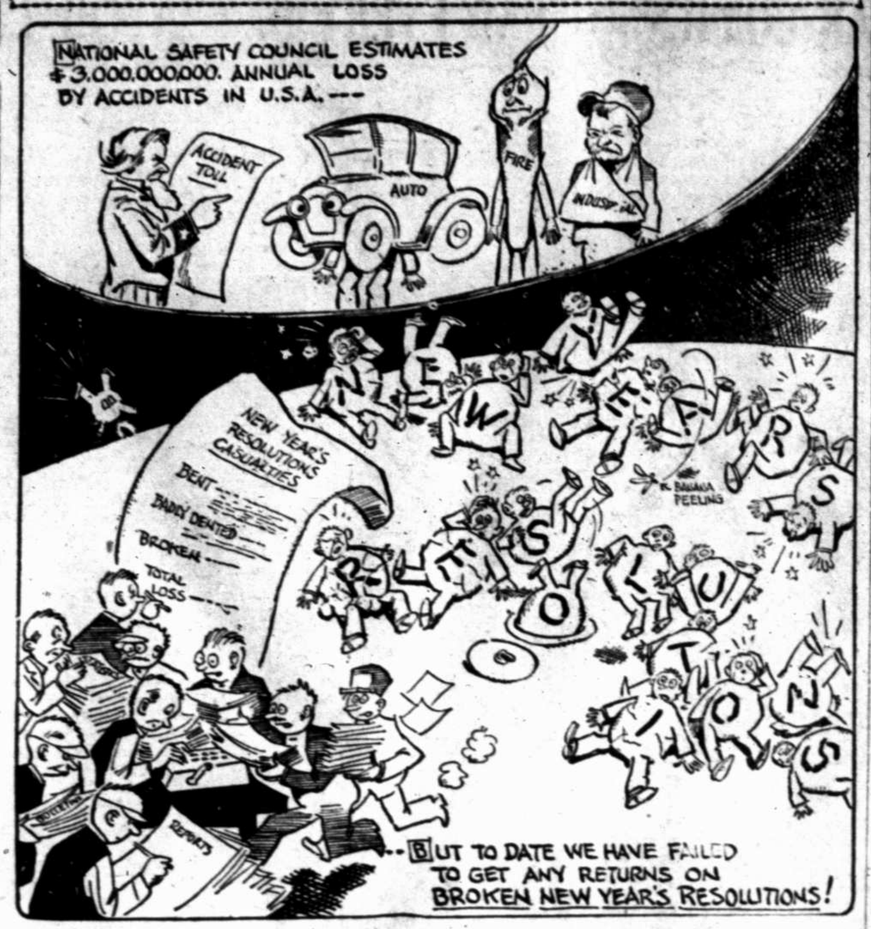

* * *

An old country boy like The Plainsman, can get as much kick out of watching one of these auto laundries as he can a cage of monkeys. It just goes to show that no job is so unimportant that "big business" won't take it up if enough money can be made.

* * *

Incidentally, the fellow who figured out the auto laundry plan was a taxi driver and has already made several million dollars out of it. Not so bad—not so bad!

REGULATION NOT RESTRICTION

Motor truck line operators, meeting at Dallas Monday to organize the Texas Motor Carriers association, took steps to "ward off possible unfavorable legislation." At the same time they launched a campaign for new members of the association; operators who attended the meeting were, almost altogether, from the north Texas area, but it is the intention of the organization to include in the membership other motor truck line owners throughout the state.

The operators will watch the legislative course carefully during the forthcoming session, and do what is possible to prevent the introduction of acts which they regard as dangerous to the industry.

It is a procedure against which no fair minded person could enter any objection. The operators—although the report did not so state—doubtless are not antagonistic to reasonable regulation. Probably their opinion parallels that of the operators of motor bus lines, which not only declined to oppose prospective regulation, but openely welcomed it. There is a distinct difference between regulation and restriction; the former is desirable, the latter is not.

A few unscrupulous and irresponsible operators of motor buses and motor bus lines brought suspicion upon the whole industry. It was as much to protect the responsible operators as to protect the public that motor bus regulation became necessary. So it is with the operators of motor truck lines. Parenthetically, it seems strange that the legislature, in framing legislation to regulate the operation of motor bus lines, did not include motor trucks in the same act.

The responsible operator of a motor transportation line need fear no reasonable regulation, for he is protected threreby from the cut throat competition of fly-by-night operators. He will know, under regulation, what to expect; will know that rates, routes and such essential matters, will be uniform and fair; will know that unscrupulous operators will not cut into his established business with poor equipment and irresponsible management.

The railroads are organized to oppose any legislation which they believe will be unfavorable to railroads as a whole. None questions their right, nor their purpose, in doing so. Motor transportation is becoming an established industry, and will become more so as the years roll by. It is only wisdom upon the part of the pioneers in that industry to take steps to safeguard themselves against unfair legislation.

The interests of the public will be served best by the same regulation which serves to establish motor freight transportation upon a sound basis.—Corpus Christi Caller.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another of a series of stories by Rodney Dutcher, Washington correspondent for The Journal and NEA Service, who accompanied President - elect Hoover's party on the good-will tour of Central America and South America.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer with Herbert Hoover

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (By Mail) Jan. 4.—Down here where the equator runs across, which is why this country is called Equator in Spanish, you might suppose it would be pretty hot. But as late as the December day when the Hoover party came here it was altogether comfortable. The heat doesn't come before late January or early February.

Sailing up the Guayas river to this port was too cold for some of the boys in tropical suits.

But the climate is more or less steady the year around and Guayaquil somehow reminded your correspondent of a big summer resort. In more than one respect it resembles Ocean City, Md., Rye Beach, N. H., Rehoboth, Del., and Oak Bluffs, Mass.

Alligator Hunting

It's about 70 miles from the mouth of the Guayas estuary to Guayaquil, giving the city a piece of the world's best motor boating, which is well utilized for frequent races. Along this great river motorboats and native dugouts, a fort on one bank and an occasional tiny patch of thatched houses are the only sign of human life. Sharks are plentiful and there's splendid alligator hunting up some of the side - creeks. Now and then a freighter appears — your correspondent counted one British, one French and two Ecuadoran in the 70 miles.

The Guayaquil waterfront would pass for oriental, but large, new modern buildings of ornate architecture begin to heave into sight. Members of the Hoover party won't forget the handsome Ecuadoran military cadets lined up beyond the dock, with their plumes, black and gold helmets, white coats and olive stripes—a sight not seen by the ordinary new arrival in Guayaquil.

The British consulate looms up impressively along the main water-front street, but the larger American consulate turns out to be placed strategically, for advertising purposes at least, at the corner of the same street and Guayaquil's grand boulevard.

"Perpetual Spring"

One gets the impression of a summer resort because the boulevard is so smooth and up-to-date and the side streets so rough. Again because the buildings are mostly wooden framed and limited to three stories. And there are hardly any store windows. The stores are wide open all day and at night huge sliding doors are pulled down or across to cover them up. Padlocks are everywhere used for locks, even on the doors of hotel rooms in most instances. Restaurant tables on the sidewalks add to the summery atmosphere. Ecuadorans claim theirs is a land of perpetual spring. No one ought to visit Guayaquil without going to see the alligator market. Your correspondent didn't get a chance. They bring the alligators in to sell for their skins. It's perfectly safe because the snouts of the animals are firmly bound.

Guayaquil is full of American flivvers of both makes. That is, there are nearly 700 of them in this city of 120,000 persons.

First-Class Newspapers

There's a first-class newspaper plant in Guayaquil, El Telegrafo. It is the biggest newspaper in Ecuador, though its daily circulation is only about 14,000. It was founded in 1884, installed its first linotypes in 1912 and its first rotary press 10 years later. It has a city staff of six reporters, three more men at Quito, the capital, and correspondents in all large cities. Senor Santiago Castillo, the editor, who with his two brothers and father owns El Telegrafo, spent six months studying at a photo-engraving school in the United States.

Guayaqual, Senor Castillo explained, was now eight days and nights from New York, thanks to aviation, compared with the fast steamship time of 14 or 15 days. Every week a plane carrying mail and special packages leaves for Panama, taking two days for the trip. The cargo goes on to Havana by steamship, requiring five days. Then it's a brief air hop to the United States

In New York

By Swan

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—In those myriad places where fiddlers fiddle and cornetists toot, they will tell you that the old dyed-in-the-wool musician is passing from the scene.

Up and down the street of folly and frolic you can see musicians tramping the pavement, as actors are now tramping the pavement, looking for work, and you'll hear the prediction: "This winter the musician will starve!"

It is not necessary to keep your ear to the ground to hear also that soon there will be but concert artists and jazz bandists. And when you ask for the answer you will hear —"The talking pictures."

Up and down the street of frolic and folly, the theaters have come to depend for their music upon the canned variety that goes with the synchronized films.

And after some weeks of doleful predictions, I did a little personal checking—although I detest statistics—and found that 60 per cent of the Broadway theaters which once produced films with orchestrad accompaniment now use the musical celluloids. Only the three key theaters, which present prologues with their pictures, maintain the usual symphony orchestras.

The sidewalks statisticians will ask you to remember that sound equipment is being installed in thousands of theaters across the land and where this happens the orchestra disappears—that is, in a majority of cases.

There remains, then, the symphony orchestras—and there are a limited number of these—the jazz bands, to which the old time musicians are not attuned and the concert artists. If the musical celluloids continue their invasion, the necessity for orchestras will disappear. Thousands, I am told, will be out of work this winter, and the problem is one which brings premature gray hairs to those organizations heads which look after the interests of the musician.

The army of women gamblers has grown to such an extent since the recent sales spurt in the stock exchange that most of the big brokerage concerns now have a "ladies' room."

Time was when brokers discouraged women margin gamblers, and some actually refused to take their account. Women, it was said, were bad losers and had a habit of committing suicide when wiped out or faced by a heavy loss. This, of course, was bad for the reputation of the stock market.

In the recent waves of buying and selling women have been among the heaviest players. They are, for the most part, the wives of rich men—the sort of women who used to play bridge for heavy stakes, having nothing much else to do; or those Park avenue ladies of luxury whose lives are financed by some sugar daddy; or young women of the theater who overhear good market tips while going about the night resorts with the heavy Wall street spenders.

The newly arrived women margin players are not exactly the delight of a broker's life. The subject of a hundred amusing cartoons could be found in their amusing questions and orders.

There have been any number of cases of women who have been tipped off only to place their order when a given stock has already taken a spurt. "But I want to buy it at $52." they will say, in their best bargain sale voices. "But you can't," the broker will tell them, "it's already at $56." "Well, that's certainly funny, for only last night I was told I could buy at $52....." And the phone bangs up.

GILBERT SWAN.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

You must reduce sanely.

In order to reduce intelligently, you must have a knowledge of the caloric or energy value of foods and you must limit your number of calories so that your excess fat is called upon to supply some of your energy needs. The average height person of normal weight, of moderate physical activities needs approximately 2,2000 calories a day. If you cut down 1,000 calories a day — leaving 1,200 — you will reduce on the average of one-quarter of a pound a day, or approximately two pounds a week for you will cause your excess fat to contribute the 1000 calories. And one-quarter of a pound will be used up for one pound of fat gives off 4,000 calories.

If you can increase your exercise and other physical activities you need not limit your diet quite so much for these also use up calories. If you can not exercise and can walk, do walk, at least one hour a day. For each hour you walk will use up approximately 200 calories. You use up 100 calories while sitting. If you walk briskly you will use up 300 calories.

When fat is burned completely in the body, it is broken down to carbon dioxide which is eliminated by the lungs and whater which is eliminated through the skin and kidneys. You will probably notice while reducing that you eliminate more water than usual. Don't be alarmed at this. This is one of the evidences that you are using up your fat. Drink all the water you want. It is not fattening.

Today is the third day that those of you who started after New Year's Day to reduce, have been on your liquid or semi-liquid diet.

Today I am going to give you a day's menu totaling 1,200 calories.

The World And All

BY CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

FOR WISE CHILDREN

"Alice in Wonderland" is about the most entertaining book, all around, that I have read to my children. Entertaining all around, I say, because it entertained me even more than it entertained the children, and they didn't miss a line of it.

"Alice" is hard to beat, and maybe it never will be beaten. But there is no good reason why somebody shouldn't try his hand at doing something just as good along similar lines, modernized.

That's just what has happened.

I've just finished reading to the children "Cinderella's Garden," by W. Macneile Dixon, published by the Oxford University Press, American branch. I read it in chapter installments, one chapter each night, after the girls had been tucked in. It was great medicine.

Strange it is, but true, that the best books for children are books that make a strong appeal to adults. There is much sly satire in "Alice," and also in "Cinderella's Garden," and this satire escapes the child, but the adult, reading the story aloud to the children for the story's sake, gets a great kick out of the satire that the children miss.

"Pilgrim's Progress" is a great book because it has a powerful appeal to the children and the adult alike. Hendrik Willem Van Loon owes much of his popularity to the fact that he can write history for children in language that is appreciated by the parents too. Dr. William T. Hornaday's "Wild Animal Interviews" is popular because, while children can understand it and appreciate it, it conveys much valuable information to adults who like animals.

On my list of children's books, "Alice" comes first, but "Cinderella's Garden" comes second, without any apologies whatsoever. And for reading aloud to modern American children, there is very little choice between the two. In fact, both are absolutely essential to the educational entertainment of modern children.

Tuxhorn Fails To Make New Record

MARSHALL, Mo., Jan. 4—(AP)—Although failing to break the world's refueling endurance flight record in their tiny open cockpit monoplane, Blaine M. Tuxhorn and Leonard Rhiner today laid claim to another world's record—that of staying aloft nearly eleven hours through refueling from the ground.

Inadvertently disqualified in their effort to exceed the present record of 60 hours, 7 minutes, the pilots, nevertheless, calimed a thorough and satisfactory tryout of a synchronized refueling catapult perfected by Tuxhorn, which he believes will be used successfully by air mail planes in taking on mail at non-stop points.

January traded off to 19.33, march 19.36 and May 19.26 or 8 to 9 points down from yesterday's close. At the end of the first hour the market was practically at a standstill with prices near the bottom.

The market ruled quiet all morning and prices ruled off gradually particularly after the mill takings for the week proved 15,000 bales smaller than last weeks. January traded to 19.25, March 19.27 and May 19.31 or 14 to 16 points under yesterday's close.

As very little selling pressure developed however the market steadied near noon and recovered 3 to 4 points off the lows.

NEW YORK TRADING

The forenoon decline extended to 19.41 for March but a little trade buying appeared at the level, while the selling tapered off and the market steadied up later on covering. March rallied to 20.02 or within 3 points of closing quotation yesterday and the market was quiet at net declines of about 3 to 6 points.

Stocks And Money

WALL STREET TRADING

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP).—The record-breaking expansion in stock exchange member and federal reserve brokers' loans brought a flood of selling orders into the stock market at the opening today, causing sharp recessions throughout the list. Radio quickly broke 7 points, General Electric 5, Nash Motors 4, and American Smelting, Johns Manville, General Motors and Prairie Oil & Gas 3 points or more.

With the average yield on high grade securities less than 5 per cent and the cost of carrying them on margin averaging 7 per cent or more, a downward readjustment of quoted values was regarded as inevitable by many brokers.

Early selling was directed chiefly against the merchandising, oil, motor and copper shares and high priced specialties which have been under pool sponsorship. Abraham & Straus fell back 7 1-2 points and Wright Aeronautical, aNsh Motors, Johns Mansville, Interstate Department stores, Greene Cananea Copper, Kolster Radio, American and Foreign power and Bordens fell back 4 to nearly 6 points. Early losses of 3 points or more were recorded by U. S. Steel Common, Montgomery-Ward, Allied Chemical, Mexican Seaboard and Atlantic Refining.

With the exception of a 6-point break in Missouri Pacific common, most of the rails showed good resistance to selling pressure.

Radio quickly recovered its early loss of 8 points and Victor Talking Machine moved up nearly 2 in anticipation of an official announcement of merger terms later in the day.

Foreign exchanges opened firm, with sterling slightly higher at $4,85 5-32.

LEGAL NOTICES

CITATION

The State of Texas, to the Sheriff or any constable of Lubbock county, greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon W. L. Lowrance by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the 99th Judicial District Court of Lubbock county, to be holden at the court house thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the 2nd Monday in January A. D. 1929, the same being the 14th day of January A. D. 1929, then and there to answer an amended petition filed in said court on the 28th day of September A. D. 1928, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court as No. 3386, wherein the Liberty National Bank, a corporation, is plaintiff and Mrs. Jessie F. Summers Killen, wife of H. E. Killen; Jas. L. Dow, J. B. Jay, Chas. F. O'Neall, T. T. Fisher, J. O. Garlington, D. B. Jay, and Mrs. D. B. Jay, W. L. Lowrance, Magnolia Petroleum company, a corporation, The Peacock Bank, a partnership, and W. H. McKinzie, member of said partnership, are defendants, and said petition alleging. This being a suit on a note executed on the 19th day of January, 1926, by Mrs. Jessie F. Summers Killen, then a single woman, whose name was Mrs. Jessie F. Summers, to Barniff Investment Company, a corporation, in the sum of Eighteen Hundred ($1800.00) Dollars, with interest from said date until maturity at eight per cent per annum, and from maturity until paid at the rate of ten per cent per annum, said note was payable in semi-annual installments that on January 19th, 1926, Mrs. Jessie F. Summers Killen, at that time a single woman whose name was Mrs. Jessie F. Summers, executed a Deed of Trust on Lot No. Five (5) in Block No. Thirty-one (31) of the Overton addition to the Town of Lubbock, in Lubbock County, Texas, for the purpose of securing to the said Barniff Investment Company the payment of the note above described; that by Deed of Trust the said defendant conveyed the said property to G. Tom Beaver, Trustee. That after the execution of the said note and Deed of Trust the said Mrs. Jessie F. Summers, by deed of record in Volume 95, page 372, Deed Records of Lubbock County, Texas, conveyed the said property to T. T. Fisher, who assumed the payment of the note above described. That by deed of record in Volume 113, page 314, Deed Records of Lubbock County, Texas, T. T. Fisher conveyed the said property to Jas. L. Dow, who assumed the payment of the said note.

That by deed of record in Volume 115, page 497, Deed Records of Lubbock County, Texas, Jas. L. Dow, joined by his wife, conveyed the said property to J. O. Garlington, who assumed the payment of the note. That by deed of record in Volume 126, Deed Records of Lubbock County, Texas, J. O. Garlington, conveyed the property to J. B. Jay who assumed the payment of the note; and for a further consideration, J. B. Jay executed to Chas. F. 'Neall his note for $850.00 secured by a Vendor's Lien against the said property. That J. B. Jay by deed of record in Volume 134, page 155, Deed Records of Lubbock County, Texas, conveyed the said property to Mrs. D. B. Jay, who assumed the payment of all indebtedness against the said property.

That the defendants have failed and refused to pay the taxes on the property for the year of 1927 which is due in the sum of $46.66.

That on March 16, 1926, the Barniff Investment Company, by an Assignment of record in Volume 109, page 7, Deed Records of Lubbock County, Texas assigned, transferred and delivered to the plaintiff the note hereinbefore described and the lien securing the same, that the plaintiff is now the legal owner and holder of said note and Deed of Trust, which is due and unpaid except the sum of $150.00 principal and all interest up to the first day of August, 1927.

That Chas. F. O'Neall, Magnolia Petroleum Company, W. L. Lowrance and The Peacock Bank, are each separately asserting some interest in, or lien against the property hereinbefore described, but if said defendants, have any lien against said property, the same is inferior and subordinate to the lien of the plaintiff.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays for judgment against Mrs. Jessie F. Summers Killen, T. T. Fisher, Jas. L. Dow, J. O. Garlington, J. B. Jay, and Mrs. D. B. Jay, for its debt, interest, cost of suit, and attorney's fees; and against all of the defendants for a foreclosure of its lien; and that any and all liens against the said property claimed by any of the defendants, be adjudged inferior to that of the plaintiff.

Plaintiff's original petition having been filed herein August 7, 1928.

Herein fail not, and have you before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 12th day of December A. D. 1928.

NORDYKE EXPLAINS NOTATIONS ON ORDER FOR ELECTION

RETIRED COUNTY JUDGE MAKES STATEMENT ON HIGHWAY CAMPAIGN

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second of a series of articles bearing upon Lubbock county's million dollar hardsurface highways campaign. Others will follow between now and the election day, January 12.)

Explaining pencilled notations on the Commissioners' court order calling the $1,000,000 road bond election in Lubbock county on January 12, which notations described the route of the Lubbock-Idalou highway state designation No. 53, as "Texas State Highway No. 53 via Idalou on S. side and adjacent to Crosbyton branch, P. & S. F. railway company, to intersect Highway No. 9, north of Lubbock, Lubbock to Wolffarth." former County Judge Chas. Nordyke last night issued a statement for publication.

In his statement Judge Nordyke, whose tenure of office came to a close on December 31, 1928, declares that his pencilled notation, which did not appear on election petitions circulated for signature throughout the county, in no way affects the original court election order and upholds action of the county commissioners' court in approving the election order.

He further states that "as to the quality or kind of roads that will be built, that is a matter which lies wholly within the discretion of the State Highway Commission and the Federal Highway department" and brings out that the Commissioners' court, in making the election order, "felt that a bond issue of $1,000,000 is ample to pave every mile of Lubbock county's state and federal designated highways, even with concrete and have a considerable surplus left."

Judge Nordyke's statement, in full, follows:

Nordyke's Statement

"The importance of the coming road bond election set for January 12th, 1929, should vitally concern every citizen of Lubbock county, and being concerned and so vitally affected by it, the people as a whole should be given every fact that is available, and to this end I have set myself the task of giving this information.

"First, I will discuss the location of No. 53 from Lubbock to Idalou. And this shall be mostly by giving you what the state highway officials have had to say about it. Following is a copy of the order locating this highway.

"Re: Highway No. 53 in Lubbock county:

"Motion by Judge Ely, seconded by Mr. Johnson, that the permanent location of Highway No. 53 in Lubbock county be as recommended by the State Highway Engineer: That is, following the Santa Fe railroad from Idalou to a point intersecting Highway No. 9 about 1.5 miles north of the town of Lubbock, south of the proposed underpass under said railroad. Motion carried.

"I, Claude D. Teer, secretary state highway commission hereby certify that the above and foregoing are true and correct copies of orders passed by the State Highway Commission in open session on January 16th, 1928.

Claude D. Teer.
Secretary state highway commission."

"Quoting from letter R. S. Sterling, state highway commissioner and chairman of the commission, of April 5th, 1928.

"You are quite familiar with the agreement made with the two factions and that was at our own time we would send a disinterested engineer to make this location. We sent Mr. R. A. Thompson, the then highway engineer, who located the route which we adopted."

"Quoting from letter Judge W. R. Ely, highway commissioner, of May 14th, 1928.

"In regard to the location of Highway No. 53, from Lubbock to Idalou, you are respectfully advised that you or your court had nothing whatever to do with it. It was agreed by and between the commission and the citizens' committee appearing before the commission that the matter would be left to the report of a disinterested engineer. Mr. R. A. Thompson went over the situation carefully and recommended the location. Recently Mr. Sterling and myself went over the route recommended by Mr. Thompson. It was our judgment that Mr. Thompson was eminently correct."

Quotes Cone Johnson

"Quoting from a letter from Mr. Cone Johnson, member highway commission of date 4-12-28.

"There were no private hearings; both sides were given a hearing at your suggestion. The commission spent much time on the matter, and with the engineer visited Lubbock and looked over the situation. The state engineer recommended the route which was finally accepted as the best and most practicable."

Quoting from a letter from Mr. Gib Gilchrist, state highway engineer of October 10th, 1928, containing two telegrams one from me to him and his answer.

"Your telegram reading as follows received:

"'When Lubbock county tenders state 100 feet right of way on Highway 53 from Lubbock to Idalou will you accept same and at once take over and maintain said highway from Lubbock to Idalou. Answer.'

"To which we replied as follows:

"'We expect to begin maintenance new routing Highway 53 into Lubbock when right of way from Lubbock to Idalou is secured but will expect county to secure for us additional right of way from Idalou to county line as outlined previously.'

"We will not let the right of way situation from Idalou to the county line deter us from taking over the route into Lubbock. Just as soon as you assure us that the right of way has been secured and Mr. Field can get the grade in shape to turn traffic over it, we will maintain that route.

Gib Gilchrist,
State Highway Engineer."

Quotes Petition

"All the foregoing letters were addressed to me while I was county judge, dated the dates given in each.

Quoting from the petition signed by the tax payers of Lubbock county, for a bond election, and on which petition the One Million Dollar bond Election was ordered and which will be voted on January 12th, 1929.

"We further pray your Honorable court that the proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds to the extent of $978,000.-00 if necessary, be expended in the construction, maintenance, and operation of paved roads and highways, or in aid thereof, in Lubbock county, as are now designated or may hereafter be designated, in accordance with the amount set opposite each of the following sections or unites of road construction, or so much of said amount as may be necessary, to-wit:" Here follows the different roads which I will not include for the sake of space.

"Route Was Designated."

"Now, this paragraph, in the petition bound the construction of roads and highways as are "Now Designated." Where is 53 designated? If language means anything, and the speakers be honest, there is no question but 53 is located down the railroad to intersect with No. 9, north of Lubbock about 1.5 miles. Here is the order of the commissioners' court of Lubbock county ordering the bond election, as it relates to that particular part of 53 from Idalou to Lubbock. "Texas State Highway No. 53 via Idalou on S. side and adjacent to Crosbyton Branch P. & F. R. R. Co., to intersect No. 9, North of Lubbock, Lubbock and Wolffath."

"The clause 'or may hereafter be designated' was put in the petition and the bond order to take care of the situation on the Levelland road, which is only a conditional designation and not permanent, and the possibility of the designation of the Idalou-Becton road, which is not even conditionally designated at this time.

"Bear in mind the commissioners' courts' order for the bond election is not the petition for the election, but is an order for The Election and Shall CONFORM to the petition.

The petition called for roads as are Now Designated. Did the courts' order Change the Location of 53? I say it did not It merely clarified it, or said where 53 was located as given by the State Highway Commission. But why give the detailed designation of 53? For the same reason that this article is being written and published. It seems that some people think there is still a doubt as to the loaction of this highway, and this question is before the people. The commissioners' court felt it was nothing but fair, right, and that every body was entitled to know the facts. And knowing the facts, they would have no complaint to make after the votes were counted. If the people want to defeat the bond issue because the state highway department has located 53 where it is, they have a right to know where it is so they could cast their vote accordingly. The commissioners' court wanted to act not only fairly but above board and does not want a man or woman to cast his or her vote under a misguided conception. We felt for I was a part of them then, that nothing but a frank statement of the true facts would be dealing honestly with the voters of Lubbock county, and that to leave this question unstated would be dealing, with some at least, in a way that was not fully explained.

"Quality Defined by State

"As to the quality, or kind of roads that will be built. This is a matter that lies wholly with in the descretion of the state highway commission and the federal department.

It is the policy of the state highway department never to specify or state just what class of road that will be built; that is whether it shall be concrete, asphalt, graveled, or other kind of road. They call for bids on a number of kinds of road. The value of this is obvious, entering the open market for bidders on all classes, bidders, or materialmen not knowing what class of road will be built, the commission can, and will get better bids, saving money for the state and county as well, than if they were to advertise for bids for only one kind of oad. For this reason it is not only unlawful, but would be an infringement on the right of the highway commission for the commissioners' court to specifically name the kind of road that was going to be built, and for this reason our commissioners' court did not so name the kind of road to be built and why they are going to continue to refuse to attempt to name the road to be built.

"Highway No. 7 from Lubbock to Slaton is already built with the dirt and drainage structures, (and paid for) and all there is to do is surface this road, The highway from Lubbock to Levelland is not yet under state control and maintenance. The road from Idalou to Becton is only a talked-of proposition.

"Then there is the state wide bond issue being talked of and no one knows what it will amount to. This one thing is sure in the minds of all people well informed on the highway situation and that is, there is going to be some other way worked out other than the way it is now being financed.

"With all these things confronting the court, they felt that a bond issue for $1,000,000.00 was ample to pave every mile of Lubbock county's state and federal designated highways, even with concrete and have a considerable surplus left, that in the event the Idalou to Becton road was established it could be built, with very little, if any additional money even though we had, at that time, to continue financing road building under the present system.

"If the bond issue for state-wide bonds, carries, and either that or some other way will be worked out before we get our roads built, it will be long before we will have spent all our million dollars on our roads. And when that event happens, the state will take over, immediately, all highway construction under the new system of financing. Then we will not need the money, and will not have to issue all the million dollars worth of bonds.

"Other Funds Discussed"

"But should all proposed financing systems fail to happen, and all the roads named be built, and concrete were placed on them, then we have almost, if not quite, sufficient money to do it, and in the event of falling short, by that time the added money received by the county from the increased returns from automobile registration will be considerable, and there is a real possibility that the commissioners court would be able, even without any additional bond issue, to finance this shortage. And if there be a shortage, and the commissioners cout would be unable to finance this out of their money, this bond issue would not be needed for from three to five years, and such a small bond issue for the finishing of these new roads, if they are ever established, would be easily passed.

"The Court acted with the sincerest of honesty, and I am persuaded they acted very wisely. These men have been elected by the honest vote of the citizens of Lubbock County, and it was because they were considered honest, just and faithful men; they all feel the obligation keenly and whatever criticisms, taunts, accusations that may come, they have too much manhood to allow the unkind words from the misguided or those who are not misguided betray them into being traitors to themselves or unfaithful to the citizens of Lubbock County and the trust that has been committed to them. Their first concern is the welfare of Lubbock County, and that every individual citizen in the County has his interests served fairly, honestly and equitably. Private individuals may have private or individual interests to see after, and where these take him to the Commissioners' Court, and he does not get them all served as he thinks his interest demands certainly he can see it only from the private and individual standpoint, while at all times the Court is being guided from its country-wide obligation, and I am sure a diligent and fair scrutiny and criticism of all acts of the Commissioners' Court of Lubbock County, will reveal only honest, faithful and impartial service to Lubbock County as a whole, and untainted with any selfish motive or underhanded design.

My last appeal: Citizens of Lubbock County, know your Commissioners' Court, work with them, understand them, devine their motives, feel their heart beats, then this assurance is mine: YOU WILL NEVER doubt their honesty, and very seldom your honest judgment will disagree with them."

(Signed) CHAS. NORDYKE,
Former County Judge,
Lubbock County.
