Mass Of Cooling Air Is Still Moving Eastward Off Rocky Mountains; Showers Are Believed In Offing

Many Die Saturday

Temperatures Continue Their Rampage; 104 Are Counted Dead In 8 Days In Illinois; Markets Are Affected

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 11. — From the northern Pacific's great refrigeration plant, a mass of cooling air at last was moving eastward tonight to rout the nine days old heat wave.

Millions of sun-baked farms of the drouth states of the northwest and more sweltering millions in cities and towns of the north central states were cheered by the statement of Forecaster J. R. Lloyd.

"Definite indications of a break up in the heat in the northwest are seen.

Moving Toward Region

"A new mass of cool air from the northern Pacific is moving over the north Rocky Mountain region—Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming, causing showers and cooler weather in that section."

A few hours later the Chicago weather office said the cooling temperatures had reached western Idaho and as far south as western Colorado.

But Heat Continues

But heat and drouth continued their ravages over the remainder of the west, the north and southern parts of the country.

Upwards of 730 deaths were totalled as temperatures sored over the 100-degree line from North Dakota to the eastern seaboard.

Illinois' fatalities for eight consecutive days of tropical weather were 104. The temperature at Danville equalled the all time record of

COOL IN TEXAS

DALLAS, July 11. (AP)—Cool breezes have made Texas a veritable summer resort for the last week while northern states have sweltered under a broiling sun.

Temperatures in the Panhandle have been in the 80's consistantly during the hottest part of the day, and have fallen to minimums as low as 62 degrees during early mornings. Gulf areas have remained comfortable.

Only scattered points have reported weather as hot as 100 during the week. The last was Bullinger which Thursday stood alone with a 100-degree day. Average maximum temperatures in the state have varied between 86 and 96 degrees constantly.

Ancient Ritual To Get Rain Effective

GALLUP, N. M., July 11. (AP)—Old men of the Navajos gazed out over greening range lands today and sagely nodded their heads in recognition of the power of Shaman Beninie and the ancient Nagadaltinth ritual.

For to them it was the Nagadaltinth's chanting supplication to the rain gods that brought rains for the past several days climaxed by a downpour last night ranging from showers to a two-inch deluge.

But three days before an estimated 7,000 dusky braves returned to their reservation homes after the frenzied dancing climax to the age old ceremony invoked by Beninie, dean of the Navajo medicine men.

Last week runners carried word to the Shaman that the rain-gods had forgotten the Navajos. The grass was no longer green. Their flocks were in danger. Beninie convened with the gods. The Najdaltinth followed.

Even as the last shrill chant sounded over Navajo nation's rugged dominin and the painted bodies of the lithe warriors went through their final graceful movements of the dance, rain drops spotted the dust underfoot.

Marry Or Pay Taxes Problem For Bachelors

MEXICO CITY, July 11. (AP)—Marry or pay taxes was a proposal confronting Mexican bachelors today.

Twenty women filed a petition with congress yesterday to tax all unmarried men 30 years or older five per cent of their annual income. The petition declared the tax would provide three benefits:

1. Population would be greatly increased.

2. If Mexicans marry young, development of the country's natural resources would be accomplished more quickly.

3. Crime would decrease, for wives would keep their husbands at home and out of trouble.

The women's delegation proposed the tax be used to help younger men get married, construct maternity hospitals and build women's homes.

Congress is to consider the proposal at its September session.

Education Board To Face Issues In Its Session Monday

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 11. — An advisory council of all educational interests in session here today endorsed lump-sum appropriations for the University of Texas and state colleges.

The council also urged restoration of salaries to the 1932 level and was warned that attempts to raise the present $50 matriculation fees will be opposed.

Said Movement Started

Former Senator Tom Pollard of Tyler, a member of the Texas Tech board, said a movement was being started to double present matriculation fees.

The advisory council began sessions preparing to submit budgets of 17 colleges to the state board of education Monday. It is the first time the state board will act under the law authorizing it to review budgets.

Other Issues Up

Two other controversial issues face the board hearing. One is an attempt to fix the level per student allowance the same in all institutions wiping out the variation between $123 annual cost per student for the University of Texas and Texas Tech and $250 at Sul Ross State teachers' college at Alpine.

The other is against recommendations to shift certain specialized instruction away from numerous colleges and concentrate each type in a particular institution. Some members of the board will favor restricting petroleum engineering to A. and M. despite protests of the University of Texas, and others will seek to limit textile engineering to Texas Tech.

Protest Made On Increase In Per Capita

Board Plans To Meet Monday To Set State Apportionment; Realty Official Lodges Protest On Raise

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 11.—The board of education will meet Monday to fix the 1936-37 per capita school aid apportionment with the state teachers association a real estate group at odds over the desirability of an increase.

Unlike other state funds, the available school fund enjoyed a cash balance with a prospective surplus of $1,293,797 on Aug. 31, the end of the fiscal year, despite payment of the largest per capita apportionment in the state's history, $18.50.

Surplus Accrued

Last year the board set the rate at $17.50, a figure mentioned in the statues. At the end of the school year, however, a surplus of about $3,000,000 had accrued and the board added $1.

With prospects for a similar condition next year, the teachers association prepared to ask for a rate utilizing all anticipated income, including retention of a 20-cent ad valorem tax.

J. C. Mytinger of Wichita Falls, president of the Texas Association of Real Estate Boards, contended the maximum apportionment permitted by law was $17.50 and the ad valorem levy possibly could be abolished if the apportionment was not increased.

Would Face High Rate

Mytinger said in a letter to the governor, comptroller and tax commissioner that he interpreted a meeting of the education board to set the apportionment before the automatic tax board set the property tax rate as a plan to force a liability on the tax board to require it to levy a sufficiently high rate to raise the money needed for the allotment.

He contended the legislature did

Investigation Fails To Show Motive For Suicide And Murder

HOUSTON, July 11. (AP)—Investigation today failed to reveal a motive in the slaying of Mrs. Theo McNees and the suicide of James Aldon a few minutes after he had shot the woman four times early this morning at the rooming house she managed for him.

A maid employed in the rooming house told police Mrs. McNees and Aldon went out together several hours before the shooting to dine with friends in observance of Mrs. McNees' 40th birthday anniversary.

Pension Group Is To Gather

Attitude Toward Third Party Is Expected To Be Expressed In Convention Opening In Cleveland Wednesday

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, July 11—The Townsend organization will open Wednesday a five-day national convention in which delegates may possibly signify their attitude toward third party movements.

Two days ago in Denver, Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder of the old age pension organization, mentioned a possible coalition with the Union party headed by Representative William Lemke an dthe forces of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, founder of the National Union for Social Justice.

Must Join Pension Plan

"If they will join our pension plan, we will go along together," he said.

Gilmour Young national secretary, said today however that the tentative convention program does not provide for a formal discussion of the subject.

For People To Decide

"Among members of the board of directors," he said, "there has been no official thought of a third party. Of course it is quite possible that some delegates will raise the subject from the floor. It's a question for the people to decide."

One of the major items of business will be the framing of a national membership campaign to double the Townsend strength and bring the total enrollment to ten million before the fall elections, Young said.

The convention has been planned, he said, as an "answer to the congressional investigation." Dr Townsend withdrew from the hearings of a congressional committee investigating the organization last spring, and instructed his followers to ignore congersional subpoenas.

Governor's Opponents Keep Up Tirade On Him; Sanderford Proposes Three Per Cent Sales Tax In State

(By The Associated Press)

GUBERNATORIAL candidates wound up a hard week of campaigning Saturday night with Pierce Brooks saying he would like to meet his opponents face to face and discuss major political issues.

"Maybe I will be able to get one of them to meet me in the run-off campaign," he said at Greenville, predicting he would gain enough votes to survive the primary.

Need For Better System

Brooks contended there was need for a better business system in the state house and said only a trained business man could install such a system.

East Texans heard F. W. Fischer say he favored ratification by Texas of the federal child labor amendment.

"Any concern that is willing pay its women employes does not object to a minimum wage law," Tyler oil attorney said. "Only those object who would enrich themselves at the expense of the health and morals of the helpless. If I am elected governor a minimum wage law will be passed."

To Rest Today

Fischer brought his week of campaigning to a close with a night appearance at Athens. He planned to rest Sunday.

Roy Sanderford went on record as advocating a three per cent general sales tax, with two-thirds of the proceeds being used to pay in full the old age pensions to all qualifying under the constitution and the other third being used to replace the state ad valorem tax.

"It would not only pay a debt of honor to the aged, but would also relieve real estate of part of the burden it bears now," the Belton canddiate said, speaking at Farmersville and Dallas.

At Nacogdoches, Gov. James V. Allred pressed his campaign for re-

Rains Fall Over Panhandle-Plains

AMARILLO, July 11. (AP)—Reports tonight revealed the part of the Panhandle Plains most in need of moisture received rains varying from showers to one and a half inch downpours that evening.

Dalhart had half an inch and Hartley and Channing each an inch. Texline and Dumas, other North Plains points were wet by showers which brought more than a quarter inch.

RAIN IN OKLAHOMA

GUYMON, Okla., July 11. (AP) — Slashing rains soaked the parched fields of the western Oklahoma Panhandle tonight.

At Boise City, county seat of Cimarron county, rainfall reached one-half of an inch late today.

The rainfall here amounted to three-fourths of an inch. Rain began falling steadily at about 6 p. m. and it still was raining at 9 p. m.

Eva, Okla., and Lake City, Kas., had one-half inch of rain and Elkhart, Kas., one-fourth. Heavy showers fell at Texhoma and Goodwell, Okla.

Man Charged In Setting Steel Traps For Kiddies

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Shopkeeper Hyman Gorwitz pleaded innocent today to setting big steel-jawed traps to catch the hands of little children who assertedly annoyed him.

Two housewives testified Gorwitz, 56, concealed the dangerous instruments under thin layers of dirt in his back yard and baited them with shiny pieces of metal resembling dimes.

The traps were "strong enough to hold a wolf," said Assistant District Attorney Terrence Boyle.

Municipal Judge Daniel S. O'Brien called the traps "the most vicious ever brought into this court." He raised Gorwitz's bond from $500 to $2,500 and sent him off to jail pending the posting of security for release until his trial July 15.

Gorwitz was charged with assault with force to produce great bodily harm. Upon conviction the maximum penalty is ten years in prison, a $5,000 fine, or both.

The storekeeper, who operates a small place in a residential district, complained of "vandalism" by children.

Germany Eases Worries Of Europe In Austrian Move

Independence Given Recognition; Two Separate States

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, July 11.—The German government announced tonight it recognized the independence of Austria—thereby apparently bringing to an end a situation fraught with danger to Europe.

The announcement, made after agreement with the Austrian government, contained the significant provisio that Austria declares herself to be "a German state."

Not To Interfere

In addition to establishing Germany's recognition of Austria's independence, the accord provides that the two nations agree to refrain from interfering in each others internal affairs.

Hitherto, Austrian leaders have contended the Nazi movement in Austria was directed from Germany, alleging that Austrian governments were menaced by German politics.

As Two States

Both nations agreed to cooperate toward the stabilization of the central European situation, this cooperation to be undertaken as two closely related German states.

Although it was stated specifically that Nazism in both countries will be regarded as a strictly internal affair, it was understood that the Austrian government would permit the inclusion of one Nazi minister in its cabinet.

The agreement failed to indicate what attitude might be taken by either country on the question of reestablishing a Hapsburg monarchy in Austria.

REFUSES TO ATTEND

ROME, July 11. (AP)—Italy refused tonight to attend the preparatory session of the Locarno conference on the ground the Mediterranean mutual assistance accord against Italy still hinders her collaboration.

New 48-Hour Clipper Service To South America Announced

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP) — Announcement of a new clipper ship service effective July 15 which will bring almost the entire northern sections of South America within 48 hours of the United States was made today by Pan American Airways system.

The giant flying boats, four-motored with accommodations for 32 passengers each are similar to those that blazed Pan American's airway trail to Hawaii and the Philippines last winter.

Senator Norris Observes His 75th Birthday Very Quietly

MCCOOK, Neb., July 11. (AP)—George W. Norris, Nebraska's veteran senator, quietly observed his seventy-fifth birthday today at his Wisconsin summer home without answering the question whether he would run for a fifth term in the U. S. Senate.

A bi-partisan committee of volunteers is circulating peutions to "draft" Norris for another term. President Roosevelt and the Nebraska state Democratic convention both have urged him to seek reelection.

VOTES FOR BEER

PARIS, July 11. (AP)—Lamar county today apparently voted to retain the sale of 3.2 per cent beer. Thirty-seven of 50 boxes reported unofficially tonight showed a majority of over 500 for the wets.

Newest Member Of Quintuplet Family Is Handed Hefty Cognomen By Parents

CALLANDER, Ont., July 11. (AP)—Joseph Robert Telesphore Dionne was the name given today to the newest member of the quintuplet family.

Joseph was in honor of St. Joseph, patron saint of boys, and Telesphore was for Mrs. Dionne's uncle, Telesphore Demers. The name Robert, it was said, is without particular significance.

FORMAL christening ceremonies are expected to be held at Corbell parish church, near the farm of the parents, July 19 with the parish priest, the Rev. E. T. McNally, officiating.

Mother and baby continued to gain strength, and Mrs. Dionne hopes to pay a visit soon to her daughters in their nursery across the road from the farm.

Death Valley Scotty Is Anxious To Get Back In Desert Where It's Hot

It Got So Hot Saturday That Aged War Veteran Had To Let Go Of A Habit Of A Lifetime

MANDAN, N. D., July 11. (AP)—It was so hot here that Charles Roth, 73, Mandan Indian war veteran, has changed his habit of a lifetime to discard long underwear, he said today.

Roth declared he has worn long underwear all his life but urged by a sun that has pushed the mercury above the century mark for the eighth consecutive day he purchased light-weight shorts.

Ex-Mrs. Dill Announces Her Candidacy For Congress Post

SPOKANE, Wash., July 11. (AP)—"General" Rosalie Gardner Jones Dill announced her candidacy tonight for the Democratic nomination for congress in the fifth Washington district.

Mrs. Dill, divorced this week from Clarence C. Dill, former Washington senator, said she would seek the seat vacated by Sam B. Hill, who was appointed by President Roosevelt to the board of tax appeals.

Mrs. Dill, who says she prefers hereafter to be known as "Miss Rosalie Jones" or "the former wife of ex-Senator C. C. Dill," was urged to run for public office by a group of friends she entertained at "divorce" luncheon yesterday.

Body Of Missing Man Found In His Burned Automobile

JACKSONVILLE, July 11. (AP) — The body of June Fair, 30, missing from his home here since June 26, was found today in his burned automobile on a secluded lane eight miles northwest of Jacksonville.

Justice of the Peace J. H. Odom returned an inquest verdict of suicide.

Investigators decided that gasoline had been sprinkled liberally over the seats and interior of the machine, the windows rolled up, and a lighted match applied. An empty jar and the top to the car's gasoline tank were found nearby.

TERRELL WOMAN SHOT

TERRELL, July 11. (AP) — Mrs. Nellie Brin, 42, wife of Ed Brin, prominent Terrell merchant, was shot fatally today in an accident at her home.

A pistol was discharged when she knocked it off a shelf as she hunted some papers. The bullet struck her in the chest and she died soon after.

He Wants It 130 In The Shade; Snakes Out In Hot Spell

Both Sides Deny Casualties But Incident Causes Tense Feeling; Negotiations For Settlement Opened

Incident Dangerous

Flareup Followed Killing Of Japanese In Shanghai To Create More Fears; Warning Issued By Jap Leader

(By The Associated Press)

TIENTSIN, July 11.—Chinese and Japanese soldiers opened fire on each other today at Taku, east of Tientsin.

Both sides denied there were casualties, but the incident created the deepest uneasiness.

A detachment of Chinese troops was occupying a public park in the village. A Japanese detachment arrived and its officer announced they intended to hold traget practice on the rifle range.

Several Rounds Fired

The Chinese objected. Several rifle rounds were fired.

Officials immediately opened negotiations for settling the conflict.

The incident was regarded by observers as the more dangerous because it followed the killing of a Japanese civilian Thursday in Shanghai.

Vice Admiral Shiro Oikawa, commander of the third Japanese fleet, ordered the flagship Izumo to remain in harbor, although it was to have sailed for Formosa today.

At the same time, Vice Admiral Eitaro Kondo, commandant of the Shanghai detachment of the Japanese navy, warned the Chinese "naval authorities may be compelled to take action."

Giant Triborough Bridge In New York Dedicated By FDR

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP)—Officials of the city, state and nation, headed by President Roosevelt, joined today in the dedication of the greatest Public Works project yet completed, the $64,000,000 system of bridges and elevated highways connecting the boroughs of Manhattan, Queens and the Bronx.

Immediately after the ceremonies, the great modern artery, known simply as the Triborough bridge was opened for public use and continuous streams of traffic started flowing back and forth among the tree boroughs.

Woman Scheduled To Die Paralyzed

OSSINING, N. Y., July 11. (AP)—Literally paralyzed and almost speechless from fear, Mrs. Mary Frances Creighton, 36, mother of two tossed on a cot in Sing Sing's sweltering death house tonight as prison officials made arrangements to carry her bodily to the electric chair Thursday night.

Mrs. Creighton was sentenced to die with Everit Applegate for the poison egg-nog murder of Applegate's ponderous wife, Ada last October.

Attendants disclosed that physicians had satisfied themselves, by thrusting pins into Mrs. Creighton's legs, that she was not shamming. The pin pricks brought no reaction, whatever, they said.

In another cell, Mrs. Dorothy Sherwood, 28, rejoiced at news that the court of appeals had granted her a new trial on a charge of drowning her two-year-old son, Jackie. She will be removed from the death house soon.

As the hour for Mrs. Creighton's execution nears, her only remaining hope of reprieve lay with Gov. Herbert Lehman.

More Attention To Railroad Facts To Be Given This Week

Comparison Of English And French Roads With Those Of United States Offered Here By Local Agent

England's railroads have similar problems to American railroads in the way of fighting opposition by truck and bus; there is very little air conditioning on British lines; freight equipment is not as large as that on American roads and wages and salaries are not as large as here.

These are some of the facts gleaned by E. Kancher, division freight and passenger agent for the Santa Fe and chairman of the local committee on arrangements for second annual Railroad week, July 13-18.

Series Of Questions

Mr. Kancher wrote a series of questions about English and French railroads and has received replies from Shirley U. James, passenger manager for Pickford's Travel Service, general European agents for the Santa Fe and from T. R. Dester, general traffic manager in New York City for Associated British railways, Inc.

England has four main railways: London Midland & Scottish railways, 19,429 miles long; London & North Eastern railway, 16,773 miles; Great Western railway, 8,993 miles; Southern railway, 5,430 miles. In addition there are three others: Cheshire Lines committee, 446 miles; Midland & Great Northern Joint committee, 325 miles and Somerset & Dorset railway, 181 miles. These lines all are under private control.

Five French Systems

France has five main systems, also under private control. They are: Paris-Lyon-Mediterrannee from Paris to the Swiss frontier, the Riviera and also to the Italian frontier; Chemin de Fer de l'Est which works from Paris to the Swiss frontier and German frontiers; Chemin de Fer du Nord which works from the French ports to Paris and Paris to the Belgian frontier; Chemin de Fer de l'Etat which works from Dieppe and Havre to Paris and also through Normandy and Brittany; Chemin de Fer Paris-Orleans-Midi which runs from Paris to the Spanish frontier, etc.

England has several classes of railroad travel: first, second, third. Rates vary from five cents a mile, first class to three cents a mile, third class. There are special rates also the most popular being a monthly ticket issued at the rate of a single fare and one third for the round trip. This is two cents, or one penny (British) per mile.

Entitled To Passes

Railroad employes are entitled to passes. The "weekly paid" staff being entitled to one per annum, and one over a "foreign" line for the same journey. Salaried staffs are entitled up to four yearly, with one over a foreign line. Railroad employes may also buy "privilege" tickets, for about one fourth the standard fares.

Mr. Dester outlined the organization of the London Midland & Scottish company. There is a "chief commercial manager" who is responsible for the compilation of both passenger and freight rates, the solicitation of traffic and all matters appertaining to the commercial side. This department is separate from the operating department, the chief operating superintendent being responsible for all movements of traffic.

Climatic conditions being different than in the United States, need for air-conditioning is not as great, he said.

Special Cars Built

Ordinary freight cars are 21 feet long and carry from 10 to 12 tons. Special cars are built for particular purposes and are up to 50 feet in length.

Wages for train crews in England are about half those in the United States, the differences in living conditions being responsible for this. A train crew includes a driver, or engineer, fireman, a guard and on the express-corridor trains, a "travelling ticket inspector" who works eight hours a day, six days a week. Solicitors receive from $2,000 to $2,500 annual salaries. They are mostly freight solicitors.

Mr. James quotes pay as follows: engineers, 72 to 90 shillings per week; firemen, 57 to 72 shillings, with those whose trips exceed 140 miles per day, receiving one hour's pay for every additional 15 miles; conductors and brakemen or guards, 50 to 65 shillings. The same rate is paid for freight and passenger employes.

The "Cheltenham Flyer" is the fastest start-to-stop steam train; last December 5 it made its 1,000 run of 77.25 miles. Present schedule is 65 minutes. Highest speed reached is 92 miles per hour and the distance has been done in 56 minutes, 47 seconds, at an average speed of 81.6 miles per hour. The engine uses 36 pounds of coal per mile and 3,000 gallons of water, of which half is picked up in 15 to 20 seconds, from troughs. The train operates from Swindon to Paddington. The average is announced as 71.3 miles per hour.

Second fastest train is from King's Cross to Darlington, 232 miles at 70.4 miles per hour. Fifty-one other trains are scheduled at from 60 to 70 miles per hour. Only 14 of these travel more than 100 miles and none exceed 200 miles.

Several booklets, pointing out the same conditions regarding private operation of trucks on highways as against railroads operating on their own tracks, have been issued in England. These booklets are widely distributed over the country.

Whistles Are To Blow On Engines Here Tomorrow

Lubbock will celebrate second annual Railroad week beginning at 8 a. m. Monday with the blowing of whistles on all local engines.

E. Kancher, chairman of the local celebration, has also arranged a series of speakers for service clubs in this section. The Lubbock clubs, and clubs at Plainview, Floydada, Slaton, Levelland and other towns, will hear speakers on railroad problems.

Engines on the three branch lines out of Lubbock, of the Santa Fe, and the switch engine in the local yards, will be steamed up and parked near the passenger station, before 8 a. m. There will also be two engines in the F. W. D. C. yards, ready.

Slaton has arranged a celebration of the same kind. Plainview is also expected to stage a celebration.

Amarillo has arranged for an extensive observance, R. F. Bayless, agent, said.

Two Large Oil Leases Said To Have Been Closed In Valley

RAYMONDVILLE, July 11. (AP)—Two of the largest oil lease deals ever closed in the Rio Grande valley were reported consumated here today, transferring mineral rights on 53,000 acres of Willacy county land.

The Humble Oil company was said to have leased 31,000 acres from the Garcia Land and Livestock company of Brownsville in the northern part of the county, promising to start a 7,500-foot test in sixty days.

The second lease was reported to be 22,000 acres acquired by the Magnolia Petroleum company in the western portion of the county. It was understood tests were planned on this tract.

Bush Contends Sheppard Has Served Enough As Senator

McGREGOR, July 11. (AP)—Richard C. Bush of Waco, candidate for the senatorial post held by Morris Sheppard, expressed his opinion today that Sheppard had served long enough in congress.

"Elder statesmen who have failed to keep posted on the needs of the people" were denounced by Bush.

"We are living in a modern, machine age, and senators with horse-and-buggy minds cannot cope with today's problems. My program embraces definite solution of the unemployment problem, retirement of several million old men under the Townsend plan, and putting back to work younger men, heads of families, men in the prime of life."

Another Set Of Instruments Sent Up In Balloons Is Found

SAN ANTONIO, July 11. (AP)—Recovery of the second of the five sets of cosmic ray instruments sent into the stratosphere with balloons from Fort Sam Houston by Robert A. Millikan, noted physicist, was announced today at the 8th army meteorological station.

The instruments, the fifth and last set sent up, were found near Center Point in Kerr county, 50 miles northwest of San Antonio by Dan Smith of that town.

Another of the five sets was found in Real county Thursday. This leaves three sets still to be found.

County Delegates To Short Course To Leave Today

All of the Lubbock county delegation planning to attend short course at College Station, will leave Lubbock in a South Plains chartered bus Friday morning at 8 a. m. going by way of Dallas and the Centennial.

This was the decision of a meeting of delegates Saturday afternoon, at the district courtroom. Mrs. E. F. Alford presided.

Arrangements were completed Saturday with L. T. Stone, for a rate on two nights at the "tent city" in the Centennial grounds. A rate of $5.60 for two nights, Friday and Saturday, with meals, was arranged. The price for girls and boys will be $4.60, the higher rate being for adults.

Mrs. E. E. Wilson is expected to take the place of Mrs. W. H. Crosby, member of the Slaton club and Mrs. Ray Snider the place of Mrs. W. R. Lewis of the Idalou club. Last minute changes had to be made Saturday.

Lynn county delegates are to join the local delegates Saturday morning. There will be about fifteen from that county.

Potato Salad Is Blamed For Poisoning Of 75 At Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, July 11. (AP)—Potato salad that had been improperly prepared was blamed Saturday for the toxic poisoning which made about 75 Lake Worth picnickers violently but not seriously ill Friday night.

City Sanitary Engineer Walter Dashiell, who investigated, found that a negro had been hired to prepare the supper for an insurance company picnic. He boiled the potatoes Thursday afternoon but did not place them in a refrigerator, Dashiell was informed.

The salad was mixed at the picnic grounds about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon—about three hours before the picnickers were called to dinner.

"Lack of refrigeration" was Dashiell's verdict to the company employes and their guests who Saturday were recovering in hospitals and at their homes from the effects of the poisoning.

Oil Activity Over South Plains Territory Is Reported To Be Increasing

Three Active Pools In Area

Locations In Several Counties Have Been Announced; Survey Of All Operations Reveals Progress

The South Plains has three active oil pools, a gas pool, six active drilling operations, two, possibly three locations and numerous locations planned and tentatively announced, a check of the situation shows.

Oil activities of one kind or another, are in the following counties: Gaines, Yoakum, Cochran, Bailey, Hockley, Terry, Dawson, Lynn, Garza and Dickens.

Pools Are Listed

Pools are as follows:

Garza, with two producers, both shallow wells, near Post; a group of wells, also shallow, near Justiceburg, that have been drilled during the past seven or eight years.

Gaines, one producer, the W. H. Kirk No. 1, last reported as producing 107 barrels daily; gas pool, the Averitt No. 1, shut in now, but listed as a 12,000,000 cubic foot gas producer.

Yoakum, No. 1 L. P. Bennett, shut in but capable of producing up to around 400 barrels at present depth; possibly up to 1,000 barrels.

Drilling Operations

Garza, M. L. Richards No. 1 U. U. Post estate, section 1232; Brown Eagle Oil Co., No. 1 Sullivan, section 30, block 8.

Terry, the J. C. Estes No. 1 F. B. Graham, section 22, block T. O. & W. Ry. survey has been announced but no report of drilling has been received.

Test Said Planned

The Brownfield ranch, east of town, has been reported as having a test planned for section 7. Likewise, in section 54, on the west side of the county, on a Brownfield ranch, another tentative location has been made. One report is this test, may be moved over into Yoakum county, nearer the Bennett producer.

Texas company has about completed negotiations for a test on the Bob Slaughter lands in southwestern Hockley county, near Sundown. Location is to be made later.

Research work is being done on the Slaughter ranch in Garza county and should results show it a likely territroy, it is probable the ranch may be leased for drilling. The county has been leased from south of Post, to near Southland.

Working In Yoakum

A geophysical crew is working on the L. P. Bennett ranch in Yoakum county. On its report, probably depends the location of offsets to the Bennett. The ranch is under one lease and offsets are absoultely necessary, it is understood. It is not expected that offsets will be announced until probably fall.

In Gaines county, around the pool opener on the Kirk ranch, from eight to twelve offsets may be expected within a year, say those in close touch with the situation. That many leases will expire within the next 12 months, or less.

Bringing in of producers in the two Yoakum county wildcat tests will doubtless mean additional locations. There are said to be several tentatively made, but public announcement is not forthcoming. Likewise, the bringing in of a well in Cochran and Hockley counties means offsets.

One location in Gaines prominently mentioned, is about five miles south of Seagraves. Another favored spot is in Cedar lake, near Loop. One or two locations are mentioned around Seminole.

No Further Operations

Dickens county has had a test spudded on the Bird ranch, but no further operations are reported since last year.

Some talk is heard of another Lynn county test, probably on the T-bar ranch. Negotiations also are said to be under way for a test around O'Donnell.

Ray Albaugh is drilling ahead, as best he can, in his test 15 miles west of Lamesa.

Bailey county had some lease play, as has Lamb. There is talk of further leasing in almost every county, including Lubbock, Cochran county is seeing some leasing.

Royalty is being sold in Gaines and Yoakum.

Down on the Means ranch in north central Andrews, there are two operations and more than 15 producers. Andrews county has a number of other operations in the central and southern sections, and some producers.

Forty-Eight Passenger Buses Leave And Arrive At Union Terminal Here Daily And Travel Over 8,000 Miles

Forty-eight passenger buses leave and arrive from the Union Bus terminal, just west of the Hotel Lubbock, every 24 hours. These buses travel more than 8,000 miles daily, in and out of the city, connecting with lines serving all parts of Texas and also transcontinental lines at several points.

During the past 12 months many changes have taken place in coach equipment. A score of new type buses have been added to lines operating here, in that time, representing many thousands of dollars.

Four Lines Operating

Four lines, South Plains coaches, McMakin Motor coaches, Red Star coaches and Pioneer Motor lines, operate here. They have some 65 or more regular employes, the greater majority of them residing in Lubbock. A fifth line connecting across from New Mexico to Fort Worth via Brownfield, Tahoka and Post, and from Spur to Stamford, gives excellent connections.

Service out of Lubbock includes to the summer mountain resort area of New Mexico and also to the Texas Centennial towns of Fort Worth and Dallas. Connections at Amarillo, Clovis, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Wichita Falls and Vernon, give service to many popular centers.

Several Changes Made

Recently several changes in schedules have been made by local lines. Schedules include the following:

To Amarillo, four schedules daily, leaving, 7:30 and 10:30 a. m. and 1 and 9:30 p. m.; arriving from Amarillo, 8 a. m. and 12:50, 3:50 and 9:40 p. m.

To Clovis, N. M., three schedules daily, leaving 6:30 a. m., and 1 and 6:30 p. m.; arriving 1 and 7:45 p. m., and 2:40 a. m.

To Odessa, Hobbs, Carlsbad, McCamey, etc., three schedules daily, leaving 9 a. m., 4 p. m. and 12:15 a. m.; arriving 10:15 a. m., 1 and 9:15 p. m.

Big Spring, two schedules daily, leaving 8 a. m., and 4 p. m.; arriving 10 a. m. and 10:15 p. m.

Sweetwater and San Angelo, three schedules daily, leaving 8 a. m. and 5 and 10 p. m.; arriving, 6 a. m. and 12:15 and 8:30 p. m.

Wichita Falls, three schedules daily, leaving 6:45 a. m. and 1:15 and 9:30 p. m.; arriving, 12:30 and 6:15 p. m. and 12:15 a. m.

Floydada, Vernon and Altus, three schedules daily, leaving 7:30 a. m., 1 and 10 p. m.; arriving, 12:15 and 6:15 p. m. and 12:15 a. m.

Spur, one schedule arriving 8 a. m. and departing 8:40 a. m.

Levelland and Morton, one schedule, leaving 8:45 a. m. and arriving 1 p. m.; Levelland only, leaving, 3 p. m. and arriving 7 p. m.

Special Sunday bus for Carlsbad leaves at 4:30 a. m., returning about midnight.

In addition to carrying passengers, the buses also carry express and small freight. There is a considerable business of this kind to nearby towns by Lubbock wholesale concerns.

Refrigeration Is Advancing

More Than 5,000 South Plains Housewives Now Enjoy Facilities Of Electric Refrigeration, Check Shows

More than 5,000 South Plains housewives now enjoy the facilities of electrical refrigeration, the greater portion of that number having purchased their equipment within the past three years.

Sales of electric refrigeration for the home have advanced by leaps and bounds within that time. There are now carried by Lubbock dealers, some eleven makes of refrigerators.

Many Are Sold

A year ago a check of the territory served by the Texas Utilities company showed approximately 3,900 machines were in use. Since that time it is believed that more than 1,100 have been sold. The company's territory includes from Post on the south to Canyon on the north, from Floydada on the east to the New Mexico state line on the west.

In Lubbock alone, it is estimated that between 1,500 and 1,800 units have been sold to residents in years past. There appears to be a steady demand for machines.

The greater proportion of machines are sold on time payments. Low KWH costs, combined with savings on the food as well as on purchase of ice, has made the purchase attractive to buyers, it is explained. Dealers are offering long time payment schedules.

Over Million Sold

More than a million electric refrigerators have been sold within the past 12 months throughout the nation. There is now an estimated 10,000,000 in use at this time. The sales for the past year exceeded the million mark.

Rapid advances in styles and types are made from year to year. Outward appearance has kept pace with modern streamlining in other motor lines. Even greater improvements in the interior, including greater ice making capacity, colder temperatures, more space for food and also a food saving item are being made from time to time.

Shun Most Powder Puffs, Is Doctor's Advice On Hay Fever

PORTLAND, Ore., July 11 (AP)—Dr. Ray M. Balyeat of the University of Oklahoma advises women afflicted with hay fever to shun most powder puffs.

Dr. Balyeat told the Pacific Northwest Medical society that orris root, used to perfume many kinds of cosmetics was "one of the commonest causes of hay fever and asthma."

Goldenrod, he said, rarely causes hay fever although most sufferers and thousands of others, including 40 per cent of the doctors, still think so.

The principal cause in the east is ragweed and in the west, grasses and thistle offend. Pretty flowers are not a cause.

Barrett Penney's Formal Statement On Commissioner Candidacy Is Given

P. Barrett Penney, seeking re-election for a second term as county commissioner of precinct 1, Saturday made his formal announcement for that office subject to action of the Democratic primaries.

"I deeply appreciate the vote I received for first term as county commissioner of precinct 1 two years ago," his statement read, "and I am urging an investigation of my record as an officer as well as a citizen in asking re-election.

Lists Information

"In order to help the public investigate my record, I will give you the following facts for your information.

"I came to this section of West Texas in January, 1894, worked as a foreman on the old Diamond ranch, located in Hockley, then accepted a position as foreman on the C. C. Slaughter ranch in Cochran county in 1900 where I worked until elected sheriff and tax collector of Lubbock county, to which both Hockley and Cochran counties were attached for judicial purposes. I served in that office two terms and have not held a public office of any kind in Lubbock since until election as county commissioner two years ago, except that I did serve on the City board of Lubbock from 1909 until I moved outside the city limits in 1912.

"I have tried to be a progressive citizen and to help build this section of the country by contributing in every way possible so far as I was able.

Father Of 4 Children

"Married in 1902, my wife and I have reared 4 children, all of whom are grown and were educated in the public schools at Lubbock.

"My candidacy for commissioner of precinct 1 was one of seven two years ago when the late Mr. Claude A. Burrus, who preceded me, and I were in the second primary. My present opponent, Rufus Rush, ran third in the first primary. I remain grateful to citizens for the confidence they had in me to elect me commissioner over the late Mr. Burrus, who was a friend of mine and who made a good record as county commissioner. Endeavoring to handle all business on merit alone, I have tried to show my appreciation by rendering safe, economical and consistent service without showing favors to anyone.

"I believe my training and experience have helped to qualify me to serve better in the future, and my knowledge of tax affairs and my acquaintance with the county's business qualify me to serve the people better in this important office than one who has not had such experience.

"In asking the Democratic voters to be judges of my qualifications and to decide which of the candidates is to serve as precinct 1 commissioner for the next two years, I will abide by the judgment of such voters cheerfully but am hoping you will see fit to retain me for a second term.

P. B. (BARRETT) PENNEY

Partnership Is Reported

Mussolini And Hitler Said To Have Former Diplomatic Pact In Fact Of Efforts To Return Italy To Locarno

By The Associated Press

PARIS, July 11.—Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Hitler have formed a diplomatic partnership, informed sources asserted today, in the face of British and French efforts to return Italy to the Locarno treaty union.

The dictators of Italy and Germany already have agreed on the fate of Austria, diplomats declared, and probably have reached an understanding on the Locarno problem.

Overtures Made

France attempted to gain Fascist friendship by denouncing her part of the Mediterranean mutual assistance agreement, authoritative sources indicated, while Great Britain extended an offer of diplomatic peace through her announced intention of reducing British naval strength in the vicinity of North Africa.

These Franco-British overtures were interpreted by officials as being eleventh-hour attempts to win Italian support in prospective Locarno discussions where the principal subject is expected to be Germany's re-occupation of the Rhineland.

Italy's decision not to attend the Locarno session except under at least one condition was communicated to Hitler yesterday, reported Genevieve Tabouis, French newspaper commentator.

The Fascist condition, she said, was German agreement to form a common front with Italy based on the theory the "have-nots" were to be lined up against the "haves."

Sheppard Friends To Plan For Rally

Supporters of Senator Morris Sheppard in his campaign for re-election to the U. S. Senate, are asked to meet Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the court room to make plans for his appearance here Thursday night.

George R. Bean, long a friend of the senator, called the meeting. He explained that last week he attempted to get a change in the date of the meeting here, but was unable to. It had been hoped that another night than Thursday could be secured, on account of it being "bank night" at local theatres.

Saturday Mr. Bean received a message from the senator explaining the proposed change could not be made now.

Pace In Lubbock County's Political Campaign Quickening As Primary Nears

Candidates In Rally Series

Three Rallies Are Scheduled This Week; Two Major Ones To Be At Slaton, July 23 And In City, July 24

PACE in Lubbock county's political campaigns quickens this week as the first Democratic primary July 25 draws near.

Candidates are looking toward two major rallies—in Slaton July 23 and in Lubbock July 24.

Rally At New Hope

A rally and musical program will be conducted at New Hope school house Wednesday night, said W. P. Basham, chairman. Ice cream and cake will be served and candidates will speak.

United States Senator Morris Sheppard will speak to a Lubbock audience Thursday night. His friends will meet Monday afternoon to arrange for the program.

Abernathy has announced a rally the night of July 21. Candidates will be introduced from the ring at Sled Allen's auditorium the night of July 22.

Many Absentee Votes Cast

Evidence that the candidates are receiving the attention of the voters is the number of absentee votes cast and the number of applications for absentee ballots.

Applications and votes yesterday already had exceeded the total number—327—of absentee votes cast in 1932. In 1934, a total of 606 absentee ballots were marked.

Some observers have declared they will not be surprised if 1,000 persons vote absentee before the deadline for voting in person July 22 and the deadline for returning ballot by mail July 23.

Total Vote Over 10,000

The county's 33 precincts have a total vote of 9,440 as represented by poll taxes paid and exemption certificates issued. In addition, about 1,200 other persons are believed to have permanent exemptions or are otherwise qualified to vote.

BALLOT PRINTED OVER

CROSBYTON, July 11. (Special) — When a typographical error was found in the official Crosby county ballot, the 4,000 tickets which will be offered to the voters of that county July 25 were reprinted.

The name of Burton S. Burks, candidate for district attorney, was spelled "Burke." The Lubbock man offered to pay in full the cost of reprinting the ballots. The county's Democratic committee accepted his offer.

Banker's Son's Bride Still In Coma After Sedative Overdose

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11 (AP)—The Reno bride of Arthur Reynolds, jr., banker's son, remained in a coma as a charity patient in the San Francisco hospital today from what physicians said was an overdose of sedative.

Hospital attendants said today Mrs. Reynolds' condition seemed slightly improved, after a fairly restful night.

Reynolds, whose father is vice board chairman of a California chain of banks was quoted by Police Inspector Harry Husted as saying he and his wife took the sedative because they were unable to sleep.

He was discharged from an emergency hospital yesterday, some 15 hours after he and Mrs. Raynolds were found unconscious in their apartment.

Inspector Husted said Reynolds, who is 32, admitted he was without funds and that a meal purchased for him by a friend yesterday, was his first in 52 hours.

He denied, however, Husted stated that he, or his wife, had thought of suicide.

WEATHER OUTLOOK

Weather outlook for week beginning Monday:

Southern plains and west gulf states: generally fair except occasional showers in scattered southern and extreme western localities; temperatures mostly above normal.

Atlanta's heaviest rainfall for the month of April was recorded in 1881—8.20 inches.

Personals*

Mr. and Mrs. Lyn L. Bethel, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walker of Greenville are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lamm, 1106 Avenue U.

Mrs. Tom Morgan and daughter, Miss Mohota Morgan, of Post, were shoppers here Saturday. Mr. Morgan, who was operated on in Lubbock two weeks ago, and who was taken home Monday, is improving.

Mrs. Wade Anthony of Tyler is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McGee, 711 Avenue O, for a week or 10 days.

Leaving Monday for about 10 days, Mrs. Roxie Crausbay and daughters Elsie and Billie, of 2613 Twentieth street, together with Mrs. J. T. Owens of Austin who has been visiting here, are to visit Austin and Dallas.

Mrs. A. G. Odom, 2402 Fifteenth street, has as visitors this week her daughter, Mrs. R. C. Reed, and children from Sherman.

Earl Ince and family and A. Judd and family are visiting at Menard. Mrs. Elmer Herd, daughter of Mr. Judd lives there.

Mrs. Jack Strickland of Brownfield and her sister, Mrs. Charles R. Limer, of Long Beach, Calif., were Saturday visitors in Lubbock.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP)—Further impressive stock market buying today lifted prices generally to the highest level thus far witnessed in the recovery movement.

While grains broke sharply at Chicago as rains were predicted for some parts of the drouth district, the equities last shook off profit takers and turned in the best Saturday performance in some time.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held a net gain of 4 of a point at 65.2, the highest mark for this index since July 21, 1931. Transfers totalled 867,180 shares, the largest Saturday aggregate since April 4 last.

With prices ranging from fractions to 2 or more points throughout the 2-hour session, trading attention was centered principally on the rails, industrial specialties and selected utilities.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 11. (AP)—Profit taking after this week's extended advance resulted in small declines on the cotton market today.

Losses ranged from 11 to 14 points as liquidation of long lines, hedge selling and a light trade demand kept the market under pressure for the two hours of dealings.

At the close Oct. sold at 12.62, Dec. at 12.60 and March at 12.61. This represented a gain since last Saturday ranging from $4 to $4.50 a bale.

Cables were disappointing and served to start the New Orleans market off a few points lower. The persistent trade and speculative demand of recent sessions failed to make its appearance and prices slid off point by point.

Another factor that exerted pressure on prices was hedge selling against heavy purchases of loan cotton in the interior. Weather was favorable for the most part, with temperatures ranging from normal to a few degrees above.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP)—Cotton reacted moderately today under week-end realizing and scattered hedging following sharp advances on Friday.

October sold off from 12.75@12.80 but recovered part of the loss, closing at 12.67, with the general market steady at net declines of 6 to 11 points.

The opening was steady, unchanged to a decline of 6 points, with selling in response to easy Liverpool cables partially offset by overnight buying orders.

After these had been supplied, the market eased off under evening-up, but after showing net losses of 10 to 17 points, rallied partially. Closing quotations showed rallies of 4 to 7 points from the lowest.

Ed McLaughlin Being Boomed As Rotary Governor

RALLS, July 11. (Special)—Ralls Rotary club is booming J. Edd McLaughlin for governor of the 41st Rotary district.

A charter member of the Ralls club, he is a past president and a former director, and has been designated for special commissions by distirct governors.

McLaughlin is president of Security State Bank & Trust Co., and prominent in civic and church activities of Crosby county.

Amateur aviation is becoming increasingly popular in Turkey, young Turks going in for flying and gliding in a big way.

GRASS CATTLE REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, July 11. (AP) (USDA)—After opening the week on a stronger price basis, killing classes of western grass cattle closed the week very slow.

Grass heifers closed weak to 25c lower and cows lost practically all the advance recorded on Monday and Tuesday. Country demand for stocker and feeder classes was narrow.

On Friday shippers stayed to 10.35. Dry weather and advancing corn prices resulted in a decline of 2.00 or more in value of stock pigs.

Fat lambs are 75@85 higher for the week, yearlings around 25c up. And sheep firm. Choice native lambs on the close sold up to 10.60.

FORT WORTH REPORT

Grains

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 11. (AP)—Frantic sudden general selling plunged wheat down 5 cents today, and corn 3 cents, with corn later rebounding 2½ cents.

Unexpected forecasts suggesting that the end of persistent record-breaking heat and drouth would be witnessed in the North American grain belt by Monday were chiefly credited with bringing about the sensational collapse of quotations.

Wheat closed at a standstill because owing to exchange rules no further offerings at lower levels today were hurried in to 9 cents under yesterday's finish. July 85@85⅝, Sept. 81⅞@82⅝, Dec. 78⅛@78, oats 1⅜ to 2¼ off, Sept. 18@18⅛, and rye showing 4⅛ to 4⅜ setback, Sept. 70⅜. The outcome in provisions was unchanged to 37 cents lower.

Gossip About Station KFYO

Chief Announcer Now On His Vacation; Improvements In Equipment At Local Station Are Being Made

Ollie Cook, chief announcer of KFYO, is taking his vacation. Ollie plans to spend most of the time visiting relatives in Oklahoma. Carson Pierce, formerly with KFPL at Dublin, Texas, is pinch hitting for Ollie. Pierce plans to enter Tech this fall and will likey be heard often over KFYO.

SCHEDULE CHANGED

Regular devotional program of the Avenue G Church of Christ will be heard today at 9:15 a. m. instead of 9 o'clock. The schedule change will be permanent, according to the pastor, Rev. Albert Smith.

QUARTET SCHEDULED

The Wilson male quartet will sing a number of religious songs on the 9 to 9:15 period this morning.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE

Chief Engineer Scott Bledsoe is the busiest man at KFYO nowadays. Scott is engaged in assembling a new set of speech input equipment. It will result in more faithful sound reproduction. As Scott says, "the new input equipment will raise the quality of KFYO's broadcast a lot."

SPARKY IS TICKLED

Harold Sparks, the Burnt Toastmaster of the daily Coffee Club program at 9 a. m., is tickled to death. Sparky sent out a call through this column last Sunday for another call. And Avalanche-Journal advertising really pays, for Sparky received THREE letters during the past week.

NEW SHOW PLANNED

The Mirth Parade runs out within a few days. However, the sponsor is arranging for a new show that will please all the listeners of the West Texas area. It would be telling to disclose the nature of the new program.

Cotton Bolls Make An Early Appearance On Crosby Farms

RALLS, July 11. (Special)—Cotton bolls have made an early appearance on the farm of J. W. Green, in the League Four community near Ralls.

Bolls have been found in 20 acres of his crop, first being noticed July 1.

The general crop outlook is good, better than in several years. Wheat has been harvested and row crops look good.

Unexplained headless mummies, dating back to the ancient "basket-maker" culture, have been found buried in the American southwest.

Beer Ruling Is Explained

Liquor Board Chairman Gives Information On New Beer Ruling; Four Per Cent Or Less Can Not Be Sold

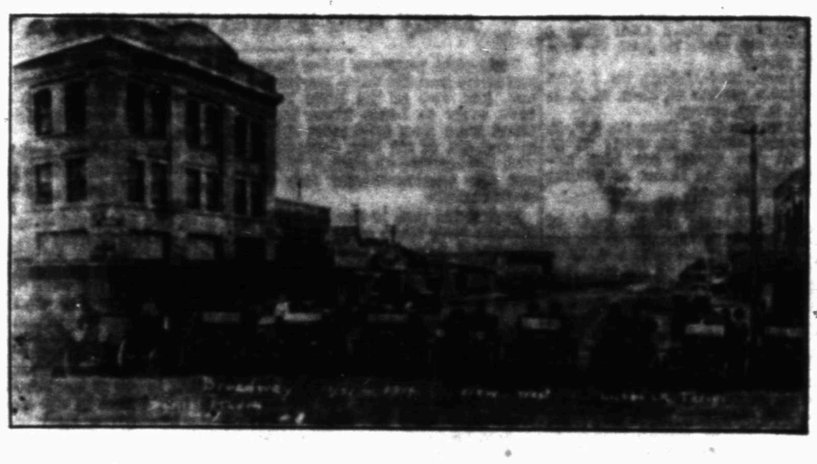

AUSTIN, July 11.—D. B. Benson, chairman of the liquor board, said today beer of four per cent or less could not be sold on prescription by druggists in dry territory.

He said a recent ruling that sale of any kind of liquor in excess of four per cent alcohol by weight under a physician's prescription was legal had been misconstrued in some quarters. It could not permit the sale in that manner, he said, of beer which was four per cent or less.

He said it was reported at least one carload of four per cent beer had been consigned to a dry West Texas point on the misinterpretation that druggists in dry areas could sell beer on a prescription basis.

"It is hoped that druggists generally will not bring upon themselves liability for prosecution or cancellation of permit through selling beer of four per cent or less," Benson said, "and will in no event sell any alcoholic beverages without the prescription of a physician holding a permit from the board."

Wheels of Progress

AUTOMOBILE SCENE BROADWAY—1914

The first car was driven into Lubbock county in 1901, but it was not until about 1905 or 1906 that automobiles became popular on the South Plains. A bus line was run from Lubbock to Amarillo and later only to Plainview, but was discontinued when the railroad entered Lubbock in 1909.

In 1914 the business district extended from what is now Texas Avenue to Avenue J. By this time many business and cattlemen owned the latest models of the popular cars on the market. Fords, Buicks, Cadillacs and Chalmers predominated. The speed of the cars varied from about 15 to 35 miles an hour and their cost ranged from about $750.00 to $2,500.

Science and experiments helped the development of the automobile industry until today it is one of the largest industries in the world. New models, new improvements and better built cars are put on the market each year.

An automobile of ten years ago is now considered antiquated. In the same way gas has taken the place of coal and wood. Natural Gas the Modern Fuel is economical, efficient and convenient.

Natural Gas is the lowest in cost of all practicable fuels. It is especially true in Lubbock where the low gas rate fixed by the Railroad Commission is in effect. This rate is lower than the rate in 891 other Texas cities and towns having gas service.

Preparations For Annual Panhandle-South Plains Fair Started Saturday

Plans Talked By Directors

Annual Exposition Is To Be Conducted, Sept. 28 To Oct. 3; Improvements Planned Before Event Opens

IMPETUS to preparations for conducting the annual Panhandle-South Plains fair here Sept. 28 to Oct. 3, inclusive, was provided at a business session of the fair association board of directors Saturday morning at the chamber of commerce.

A variety of matters were dispensed in addition to authorizing appointment of a committee of six to conduct the election of three new directors from among members of the association.

To Elect Directors

The election committee, which had not been selected Saturday, will meet this week to palce names of six persons on a ballot to be sent association members for the election of three. Retiring directors, who have served three years, are S. E. Cone, R. C. Smith, and George A. Simmons.

Following the election, the official staff will be reorganized by present officers and hold-over members; Parker F. Prouty, president; Don L. Jones, vice-president; Alex McDonald, vice-president; W. T. Gaston, treasurer; Emil L. Klett and Dr. I. E. Barr, directors, and the three new directors.

T Seek Grandstand

A grandstand seating 5,000 persons was a hoped-for improvement in time for the fall celebration. The directors voted to receive proposals on the structure for an immediate letting of the building contract.

Because the grandstand necessitates the removal of an old barn and stable, the horse and mule department was eliminated this year for the only change in exhibits. No new departments were added.

Only Temporary Measure

Directors said that the one department eliminated was a temporary measure and with construction contemplated of a new livestock building or addition during 1937, the department would be reinstated.

Schedule of admittance prices was set at 25 cents and 50 cents for children and adult single admissions, and $1 and $2.50 for season tickets good at all hours. No extra charges will be made for races and other attractions planned inside the grounds.

To Increase Premiums

Raising of premiums for exhibits in the vocational agricultural department was voted. The department, added two years ago, last year received almost double the premiums listed for the first year. Cooperation of vocational agricultural teachers in providing excellent displays was recognized in the premium increase.

Plans for the fair are nearing tentative completion. Contract has been signed with the United Shows of America for carnival attractions, and preparation of the catalogue and premium list was reported.

Fisherman's Christmas Tree?

If you pass by the famous fishing tree at Forked River, N. J., don't doubt your eyes. Those are real fish you see hanging from its branches—and they didn't grow there. Bob Edge, Captain Leopold Gille, jr., and Mark Eno are seen as they observed the anglers' tradition of hanging one fish of their catch on the tree just for good luck the next time out.

Slaton Showing Of Films Scheduled

SLATON, July 10. (Special) — The free showing here of government films on soil building will be held in the high school auditorium Monday, July 20, at 8:30 p. m. The films will be shown in several towns.

The films will be shown in an effort to call attention to a terracing and soil building program, increase crop yields, increase soil fertility, and to prevent wind erosion.

The showing will be sponsored by the new vocational agriculture department of Slaton High school, of which W. C. Young is teacher, and the chamber of commerce.

D. A. Dobkins, chief soil conservationist, of Amarillo will direct the series of screenings.

Farmers and others interested were urged by Young to attend the show and to support the new vocational agriculture program.

TO OPEN PROPOSALS

GROESBEC, July 11. (AP)—Proposals to furnish the government a site for a new federal building here will be opened at the post office July 25, officials said today.

Two Rural Club Parties Are Scheduled During This Week

Two rural club parties will be held this week, the closing ones of the series planned by home demonstration clubs for July.

Union club women will use the Slaton community club house for entertaining Slaton and Posey women Wednesday afternoon.

OIL WORKERS STRIKE

PUERTO RICO, Mexico, July 11. (AP)—Twelve thousand oil workers went on strike today to force acceptance by employers of 108 separate demands.

The workers in eight Vera Cruz oil fields of the British-controlled "Aguila" Oil company broke off negotiations with operators and representatives of the labor department. Employes in one field, however, refused to join the walkout, assailing union leaders now in Mexico City for "needlessly" calling the strike.

Famed Road To Be Rebuilt

"Experimental Road" Between Temple And Belton Is To Be Improved; Bridge Is To Built Over Leon River

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 11.—The "experimental road" between Temple and Belton, a much discussed strip of the main highway from Fort Worth and Dallas to San Antonio, is to lose its identity within the near future.

Highway Commissioner John Wood announced today that he had signed an order calling for a new asphalt top on the eight-mile section and a new bridge over the Leon river near Belton. Harry Hines, chairman of the three-man commission, had approved the order earlier.

To Start Before Fall

Wood expressed the opinion that construction would be started before fall. The state highway engineer was authorized to advertise for bids as soon as plans are complete.

"The road is needed and we intend to get it soon," Wood said. "I believe the present road will make a first class base. We intend to provide a good all-weather road by laying asphalt on the present location and giving it a non-skid surface."

To Cost $46,500

Preliminary plans called for expenditure of approximately $46,500 on the new surface. The bridge was expected to cost around $50,000.

All motorists who have traveled over the "experimental road" remember it. It has brick runways with asphalt between. The asphalt is "humped" in the middle. Many persons have complained that they found it difficult to stay on the runways. The proposed asphalt surface will cover the brick and make the highway level.

The road was built for experimental purposes in 1925 during the first administration of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson.

Bob Silver And Texas Girl Wed

HUNTSVILLE, July 11. (AP)—J. R. (Bob) Silver married Margaret Foster, 20, of Marshall, Texas, an hour after he was released from the Texas penitentiary this morning.

The 33-year old Kansas City man who four times prepared for the electric chair, was released after serving a reduced life sentence.

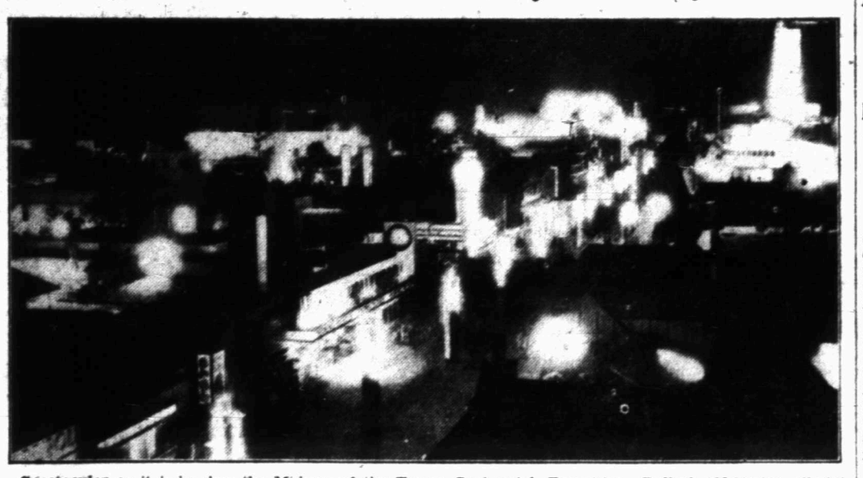

Justice of the Peace L. L. Leonard married the couple at Huntsville.

Warden W. W. Wald said the romance started in prison and that Miss Foster had visited Silver several times.

Two Fugutives From Stonewall Jail Are Back In Cells Again

ASPERMONT, July 11. (AP)—Having been convicted of burglary in Cheyene, Wyo., and after serving nearly two years of six-year terms in the Wyoming penitentiary since their escape from the Stonewall county jail on June 10, 1934, George Clayton of Ranger and Glenn Little of Arlington were back in the Stonewall jail Friday night for a brief stay.

Sheriff Bailey Bingham, whom the pair locked in a cell when they fled—in the sheriff's car—returned the two to Texas, arriving in Aspermont Friday. Saturday he took them to the Haskell county jail, for safekeeping until November when they will again face trial in 39th district court. They are charged as habitual criminals and for robbery—of the sheriff's car, the indictments having been returned after their escape.

First Term To End This Week

Examinations Are To Be Held At College Friday And Saturday; Registration For Second Term Monday

Concluding the first summer term, examinations will be conducted Friday and Saturday at Texas Technological college. The second term will open with registration the following Monday.

Schedule for examinations follows: Friday, 8-11 a. m., examinations for classes meeting regularly 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. or any time between those hours; 2-5 p. m. for classes meeting 10-11:30 a. m.; Saturday, 8-11 a. m., examinations for classes meeting 8:30-10 a. m.; 2-5 for classes meeting 7-8:30 a. m.

Classes of the second term will begin Tuesday, July 21.

INJURY IS FATAL

DALLAS, July 11. (AP)—Betty Jo Ward, 17, of Blum, Hill county, died here today of a broken neck, received when she dived into a shallow swimming pool from a 10-foot board Tuesday.

The body was taken to Cleburne for burial. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ward.

NORGE Shows Facts WITH THE ECONOGAUGE

The TRUTH DETECTOR of Refrigeration

Norge throws the spotlight of accurate, fact-revealing investigation on the Rollator Refrigerator—shows exactly how cold it is inside regardless of how warm outside—shows how much of the time the motor runs, how much current is used.

Proof of Norge's Surplus Cold

Norge dares to test with the Econogauge—the "Truth Detector" of refrigeration—because only Norge has the famous Rollator cold-making mechanism that is able to create more cold than you'll ever need with more economy than you've ever known. See proof on the dials of the Econogauge that Norge gives greater food protection on hottest days because of surplus cold.

Proof of Norge's Greater Over-All Economy

The Econogauge proves that Norge runs for less time—for shorter periods—to give complete, dependable, economical refrigeration. Naturally, the less a motor runs the less current it uses. Norge with its surplus-powered mechanism doesn't have to work as hard or as often to give you greater food protection—greater over-all economy. Don't miss this great test—dramatic evidence of the superiority of Norge Rollator Refrigeration. The Norge being tested is a standard model in every way—you can buy one just like it. Come in today.

THE ROLLATOR COMPRESSOR.. smooth, easy, rolling power instead of the hurried back-and-forth action of the ordinary refrigerating mechanism. Result—as proved by the Econogauge—more cold for the current used.

Roswell Pitcher Gives Up 4 Hits Yesterday As Mates Work On Slide Hurler For Twenty-One Bingles

Baseball fans of the town and countryside may be treated this afternoon to the most promising single stand of the season when teams of Roswell and Lubbock clash at 3 o'clock on the College Avenue field.

The Lubbock team, sponsored by Sam Rosenthal's Hub Clothiers, face an opportunity to gain revenge for a 5-4 defeat they took at Roswell earlier in the season, but unless the Hubbers are exceptionally hot, they'll again have a bit more than they can handle.

Show Hitting Power

Roswell came to town yesterday, A snappily dressed ball club poured out of its special bus and proceeded to give an all-star aggregation from the Slide community a terrific licking. The score was 17 to 5, the New Mexico group proving considerably above the class of the Slide club, taking things in stride to overpower the Lubbock county outfit in nearly all departments of the game.

Doubles, triples and home runs caromed off the Roswell bats to provide scoring in six of the nine innings. A six-run splurge in the seventh stowed the victory away for Roswell, whose sluggers ganged Pitcher Hardy of Slide for 21 safe bingles.

Patterson, Roswell pitcher limited the Texans to four hits, which were turned into five runs with the help of Roswell errors. Thirdbaseman Jordan was in trouble nearly all afternoon, but otherwise the Roswell fielders performed well on the strange field.

Qualls Leads At Bat

That there is power a plenty in the Roswell bats was demonstrated by four doubles, a triple and three home runs. Corbitt, short stop, McKnight, first baseman, and Teas, catcher, slashed for the circuit, and Qualls, right fielder, added a triple to a double and two singles to lead the New Mexico slugging.

After a night's rest, the Roswell crew is sure to be ready to go this afternoon against Manager Chape Chapin's club. Tracy Watson, who pitched five-hit ball at Roswell early in the season only to lose when Roswell scored as many runs, may get the starting nod this afternoon. He was "right" last Saturday to pitch a glittering game against Muleshoe, and should be ready to take his turn today. Doggie Monroe will be ready to replace Watson.

City Open Net Joust All Set

Entries Draw This Morning At 9 O'Clock; First Matches Get Under Way Today; Hot Shots Of City Entered

The annual Lubbock City Open tennis championship tournament got under way this morning at the Cogdell courts. Tennis club courts, 709-28th street, with some of the outstanding netters of Texas Tech and the city at large ready to match lobs and volleys.

The entry remains open until 9 o'clock this morning, when the field will draw for first round matches at the courts. Play will get under way immediately, to last probably through the week. Finals are tentatively set for next Sunday.

There will be no admittance charge, and the public is invited to watch the tournament matches. If enough public interest is displayed, local tennis enthusiasts believe it will go far toward the campaign for new and better courts in Lubbock. There is a paucity of adequate tennis facilities here.

Included in the early entries are: Marshall Gordon, defending champion and Borger conference title holder; Wilson McKirahan, former West Texas and Tri-State champion; W. B. "Dub" Rushing, former city champion; Larry Taylor, Northwest Texas doubles partner champion and former No. 1 man on Texas Tech's team; Renfrod Taylor, former West Texas and Northwest Texas and Abilene City champion, former No. 1 player at McMurry college, Abilene; Happy Dalton, former Tech varsity player, and Hubert Burgess, veteran southpaw star of many local campaigns.

Considered possibly the strongest doubles combination is Larry Taylor and W. B. Rushing, runners up in the recent holiday tournament at Big Spring. Renford Taylor will pair with Wilson McKirahan, and Marshall Gordon with Hubert Burgess in other strong doubles teams.

If the City Open tournament is successful, from entry and spectator angles, the local club plans to conduct a junior tournament and, in August a West Texas Open.

Tahoka To Invade Ropesville Today

ROPESVILLE, July 11. (Special) Ropesville's baseball club is set for a heavy afternoon Sunday, but confidently, when Manager Skip Taylor brings his veteran Tahoka club here for a one-game session.

The game is to start at 3 o'clock on the Ropesville field, and is one of the highlights of the local season.

Blue Graham or Pete Edwards is expected to start for Skip Taylor on the mound, with Karr Wells catching. Nettles or Hammonds will pitch for Ropesville, with Manager Wilburn Chambers behind the plate.

Texan Defeated By Champion In Arkansas Valley Net Go

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 11. (AP)—Champion Gerin Cameron of Tulsa moved into the men's singles finals of the Arkansas Valley tennis tournament here today.

Cameron, who hasn't lost a match in two weeks of tournament play, continued his smashing game today with a straight-set semi-final victory over Gordon Pease of San Antonio, Tex., former University of Texas star. The score of 6-3, 6-0, 6-4.

Anton Club Plays At Wilson Today

Chances for South Plains baseball fans to watch a pre-showing of two clubs who will be entered in the Lubbock Invitational Baseball tournament July 26 and 27, will be afforded when Wilson and Anton meet at Wilson at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Neither club has lost many games this season and both have met some of the best teams in the section.

To further perfect his club's strength, "Doc" Cook, Wilson club manager, seeks a game July 19.

Anton's club is managed by Fred Rich.

Those who have watcehd the clubs this year say they are well balanced, having power both, at bat and in the field. Each manages to get good pitching, as well.

Sarron And Manuel To Open Fort Worth Training Camps

DALLAS, July 11. (AP)—Barrel-chested Peter Sarron, National Boxing association featherweight champion, and Baby Manuel, Cuban left hander, give promise of drawing Texas largest fistic fathering here July 22 for the state's first title bout.

Brisk advance sales were reported tonight by Promoter Dickie Griffin and plans have been made to move the card from an indoor arena to the infield of the Dallas baseball park should ticket sales pass the capacity of the roofed stadium.

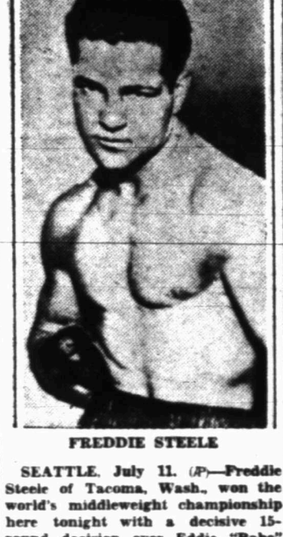

Manuel, here for the last ten days, will start heavy work tomorrow, including several rounds of boxing daily. Sarron is due to arrive here by plane Monday for a ten-day training period.

Russell Ball Of El Paso Is New Midwest Tennis Champ

OMAHA, Neb., July 11. (AP)—Russell Ball of El Paso, Tex., won the Midwest tennis tourney singles championship here today by defeating Carl Smalley of Yorktown, Tex., in a bitterly fought match.

Ball won the first two sets, 6-4, 10-8, but Smalley rallied and evened the match 8-10, 1-6. Ball then won the fifth set and the title 6-3.

New Champion

FREDDIE STEELE

SEATTLE, July 11. (AP)—Freddie Steele of Tacoma, Wash., won the world's middleweight championship here tonight with a decisive 15-round decision over Eddie "Babe" Risko of Syracuse, N. Y. The Tacoma boy scored the fight's only knockdown in the first round when he put Risko on the floor for a six count.

Steele weighed 156 3-4 pounds, Risko 158.

Mrs. Cliff Dean Wears City Open Golf Crown; Wins Over Mrs. M. M. Brown In Finals

Medalist Comes Through To Win Title Without Loss Of Hole In Final Round; Mary Jarrott Is Consolation Winner; Mrs. Stiles Wins First Flight Honors

The pressure of her first tournament championship golf, a pressure accepted as nothing but natural, told sharply on Mrs. M. M. Brown, the tournament "dark horse" yesterday and she proved no match for the vastly more experienced and favored Mrs. Cliff Dean, who ascended to the championship of the Lubbock Women's City Open without losing a hole in the final match.

Mrs. Dean, playing her own consistent game, replaced Mrs. Sam Edmisson, who did not return to defend her title, as champion of Lubbock's feminine golfers with a 9 and 8 victory over the struggling Mrs. Brown.

Beat Two Favorites

It was Mrs. Brown, however, who added the most color to the tournament by defeating Mrs. J. R. Parmer in the first round and upsetting the long-driving Mrs. K. L. Riggs in the semi-finals. Mrs. Parmer and Mrs. Riggs were considered favorites in the matches, but Mrs. Brown won over the former, 5 and 3, and defeated the latter, 2 up.

It was another strange case of the medalist coming through when Mrs. Dean won yesterday. She earned medal honors with an 81, but ran into trouble in both preliminary rounds, coming from behind to beat Miss Mary Lois Thompson in the first and again rallying to eliminate Mrs. Guy McAfee in the semi-finals. She fired a 39 over Meadowbrook's front nine yesterday, won every hole but the eighth, which was halved. She took the tenth, then, for match and tournament victory.

Championship flight consolation winner was Miss Mary Jarrott, the young miss who threatens the supremacy of Lubbock's veterans. She defeated Mrs. W. F. Helwig, a more experienced golfer, 2 and 1, in the final yesterday.

First flight honors went to Mrs. J. H. Stiles, who won from Mrs. Charles Hagler, 1 up yesterday. It was an exciting match, Mrs. Stiles winning the 18th hole for the match.

The consolation prize in the first flight went to Mrs. Charles Taylor of Slaton, only out of town entrant, who defeated Mrs. Glenn Smith, 2 and 1.

Neck, Gizzard Play Today

Country Club Golfers To Play In Annual Chicken Tourney Today; Matches Scheduled To Start At 1 O'Clock

All golf playing members of Lubbock Country club, male and female, are urged to report at 1 o'clock this afternoon for one of the club's most important delightful events of the month.

It's the annual "neck and gizzard" tournament, in which the "necks" pair off against the "gizzards" and the losing side pays for the chicken barbecue.

There was not a lot of response to the tournament yesterday, and all players who plan to enter are urged to telephone Manager Cotton McAfee or Caddy Master Truman Bradshaw at the clubhouse this morning. If it is inconvenient to call, members are urged to be present for pairings at 1 o'clock anyway.

Captains were announced last night. Dr. J. H. Stiles and Cliff Dean are to captain the men's teams, with Mrs. Cliff Dean and Mrs. Sid Thrash acting as captains of the women's division. An equal number of men and women will be on each side, and efforts made to arrange matches on a handicap basis. In other words, matches will be as nearly even as possible.

Katherine Rawls Wins Place On American Olympic Squad

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP)—Katherine Rawls of Miami Beach, King Neptune's little jack-of-all watery trades, swept the waves in the final American Olympic team swimming trials with a victorious double today by winning in the 100-meters free style and the three-meter diving championships.

Katy first beat a field of 10 of the nation's spring board queens to pile up 78.74 points in the three-meter dive to capture first place by .02 of a point from 13-year old Marjorie Gestring of Los Angeles. A half hour later she skimmed over the three-foot deep Astoria Park pool to capture the 100-meters first in a dramatic blanket finish that pushed her in front in the time of 1:11.1.

Nation's Taste Cops Hyde Park Stakes At Arlington

CHICAGO, July 11. (AP) — Mrs. Ethel V. Mar's Nation's Taste won the $5,000 Hyde Park stakes for two year olds at Arlington Park today, beating Hal Price Headley's Apogee by a nose in a stirring finish. Fair Lead, entry of the Nothway stable was third in the field of fifteen starters.

Nation's Taste, which escaped the public's fancy paid $17.80 to win, $9.40 to place and $5.60 to show. The winner sprinted the five and one half furlongs in 1:08.

Cardinals Beat Giants, Gain Full Game As Dodgers Defeat Cubs; Dizzy Dean Is 'Kayoed'

Big Diz Suffers Concussion When Hit By Line Drive Off Whitehead's Bat; Leaders Take Giants, 9 To 3

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—Jerome H. (Dizzy) Dean, star Cardinal pitcher, regaining consciousness today after being hit by a line drive from the bat of Burgess Whitehead, Giant infielder, insisted on driving his own car to a hospital.

Dr. Robert F. Hyland, club physician, declined to permit this but the indications were the great hurler was not critically injured. Hyland diagnosed the injury as a severe concussion.

He "Sees Stars"

Dean remarked it was the first time he had been hit hard enough to "see stars" and also that he recently said of Whitehead, a former Cardinal, "there's a guy who might knock you right back to the minors."

The drive in the sixth inning struck Dean on the right side of the head and raised a lump. He was given first aid and carried to the dressing room.

ST LOUIS, July 11.—The Cardinals lost their ace pitcher, Dizzy Dean, today, but won their third straight victory over the Giants, 9 to 3. Dean suffered a concussion of the brain in the sixth inning when struck by a line drive hit by Burgess Whitehead.

Young Corbett Back In Box Fight Picture With Victory

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11. (AP)—Former Welterweight Champion Young Corbett of Fresno, was back in the pugilistic scramble again today after a year's lay-off, with a seven-round knockout over Johnny Dias of Fall River, Mass., 154 pounder, to his credit.

Twelve months after he announced his retirement from the ring, following a defeat by Lou Brouillard, the Italian left-hander started a comeback try, with a easy seven round knockout over the tough Easterner who fought in the New England states under the name of Frankie Britt.

Smith, Coffee To Play Final

Dallas Star To Meet Ft. Worth Player In Cleburne Country Club Finals Today; Coffee Defeats Ed Stewart

CLEBURNE, July 11. (AP)—Reynolds Smith of Dallas nosed out a victory over Ed White, Bonham flash, in a battle of Walker Cup players here today for the right to meet Billy Bob Coffee, Fort Worth linksman, in the Cleburne Country Club golf tournament finals tomorrow.

Off to a slow start—he was three down when five holes were played—Smith made a strong comeback to win in 19 holes.

White's long and accurate drives rushed him into the lead, which he held through 17 holes. The slender intercollegiate title holder thumped birdies at Smith with abandon, recording three in a row on holes 3, 4, and 5.

The Dallas star gradually whittled down the three-hole lead White had accumulated at the end of the first nine holes and dropped a par 3 on the short 17th to take charge of the match.

White Wins 18th

White, however, birdied 18 to square things. Smith duplicated the feat on the extra hole to win.

The match was easily the best ever played in the eight years of the tournament.

Coffee beat Ed Stewart of Fort Worth, 1-up, in what was considered an upset. Coffee was one down at the end of the first nine but shot par golf to erase the lead.

In quarter-finals during the morning, Smith beat J. T. Hammett, Eastland, 1 up; Coffee defeated A. W. Fredde, Dallas, 2 up; White eliminated Houston Cole, Ballinger, 2 and 1, and Stewart defeated W. H. Aker, Commerce, 6 and 4.

Amherst To Face Big Spring Today

AMHERST, July 11. (Special)—In anticipation of one of the greatest crowds ever to see a baseball game here, additional bleacher seats have been installed at Welch park for this afternoon's meeting at 3 o'clock of the Amherst team and the powerful Cosden Oilers of Big Spring.

Admission charges will be 15 and 35 cents, said Business Manager H. N. Tapley.

The Oilers, who last Sunday slashed out a 14 to 5 win over the San Angelo club, have one of the most enviable records in the state.

Manager Roland of the Amherst club expects to start elongated Lefty Gaut Hambright, who earlier in the season set down the Big Spring contingent when playing in the uniform of Odessa.

The game is expected to be Amherst's greatest test of the season.

Softball Lead Changes Hands

Terry & Childress Take Lead, With Tip-Top Second; Local Clubs Make Plans To Enter Littlefield Tournament

The Terry and Childress Hardware company team was at the top of the Lubbock softball heap after last week's play as a result of its victory Friday over City Bus.

The standings changed considerably, the former leaders, Lubbock Poultry & Egg company losing two games last week to fall to third place, while Tip-Top Cafe, most improved team of the circuit, came up with two victories to take charge of second place.

Officials and club managers of the local association met last night and discussed plans for entering the South Plains district tournament in connection with the Amateur Softball association of America. The tournament is to be held at Littlefield, probably the last week in August. Business men of the Lamb county town have underwritten the tournament, and have agreed to send the winning team to the state tournament at Fort Worth early in September.

Teams seeking entry in the district tournament are requested to write the sports department of the Avalanche-Journal for application blanks. To be eligible for the district tournament, teams must become members of the national association, and must be sanctioned.

Lubbock plans to send at least three teams into district competition.

The standings:

Teams—	Won	Lost	Pct.
Terry-Childress	9	3	.750
Tip Top Cafe	8	4	.667
Lubbock P & E	7	4	.636
Ray's Grocery	5	7	.416
City Bus	3	8	.272
Southern Auto	2	9	.250

Monday's schedule: City Bus, Tip Top; Terry & Childress vs Southern Auto Stores.

Western Amateur To Start Tuesday

OMAHA, Neb., July 11. (AP)—The 37th annual Western Amateur tourney starting here next Tuesday will see 150 or more of the nation's best golfers, headed by Charles Yates of Atlanta, Ga., the defending champion, in action over the Happy Hollow club course, tourney officials stated today.

In addition to Yates, the entry list includes such stars as Jack Munger, Walt Emery, Fred Haas, Reynolds Smith, Gus Moreland, Jack Westland, Johnny Lehman, Paul Leslie, Don Edwards, Rodney Bliss, jr., Spec Goldman, Verne Stewart, Leland Hamman, O'Hara Watts, Benman Miller, Bob McCrary and others who have competed in leading tourneys throughout the nation.

At Last—A Wrestle Royal For The Auditorium

To an ordinary person who didn't get around much, it would seem that two rough-house battlers, and referee, just about fills up a wrestling ring. But wrestling fans are not ordinary persons, and they crave excitement.

Promoter Sled Allen is giving it to them this week in a large dose. He finally has tumbled for the "rassle royal," and this is the week.

Six main eventers will enter the ring at the same time. The gong will sound and they'll leap into each other for a brief but colorful free-for-all. They'll do this until four have been vanquished.

When but two remain, whole and standing, when the other four have been murdered, pinned or kayoed, the referee interferes, stops the proceedings, and after a little while they start all over again.

But not the same way. The first two to be eliminated come back for the preliminary. The next two fight the semi-final, and the two who remain more or less intact come back for the main event.

As a matter of fact, eight wrestlers will appear on Wednesday night's card. The veteran Ernie Arthur will initiate a newcomer to the circuit when he meets one Buck O'Neal, from Oakland, Calif., in a 15-minute curtain raiser. These two will have no part in the battle royal.

The men in the wrestle royal? Look 'em over—Hy Starman of Salt Lake City, Jack Hagen of Shreveport, Cyclone Mackey of Amarillo, Buck Lipscomb of Indianapolis, Dory Detton of Salt Lake City—and Sailor Watkins of Post!

And the referee — and what a referee!—the one and only Dutch Mantell.

It appears that wrestle royals are so fierce that the referee is the most important man in the ring, and who could handle a tough situation better than the ancient Adolph?

Wykoff, Owens Set Dizzy Pace In Olympic Qualifying Final; Terry Off Form

Two Places On Team Clinched By Jess Owens

Ohio State Flash Takes 100 Meter And Broad Jump; To Seek Third Berth Today; Cowboy Star Is Third

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 11. — Jesse Owens, Ohio State's triple Olympic threat, led America's athletic march toward Berlin today by winning two of the three events decided today in the opening half of the final United States track and field tryout.

The negro athlete made it look easy as he finished off two-thirds of his competitive job. He whipped his dusky rival from Marquette, Ralph Metcalfe, by a full yard in the final of the 100-meter dash, timed in 10.4 seconds, and then won the broad jump with the second of his two efforts, measuring 25 feet, 10 3-4 inches. Tomorrow Owens will seek his third Olympic berth in the 200 meters.

Crowd Disappoints

Today's competition, inaugurating the new Randall's Island stadium, located under the newly dedicated triborough bridge, began in blistering hot weather, finished between showers.

The stadium was scarcely two-thirds occupied by a crowd estimated at 15,000 fans. This was a blow to the gate receipts. If repeated tomorrow for the finals, it will further complicate the Olympic financial situation and perhaps compel officials to curtail team selections, despite the previous decision to take a full track and field squad to Germany.

Sharing today's spotlight with the machine-like Owens were Frank Wykoff, Southern California sprint veteran who clinched a place on the Olympic team for the third time by placing third in the 100-meter final, and long-striding John Woodruff, University of Pittsburgh negro runner who came within one-tenth second of equalling the world 800 meter record in his trial heat.

Wykoff Beats Wallender

To reach the final Wykoff had to run an extra heat, after placing fourth to Owens in the first preliminary. He was off the marks in old time form in the extra heat, run to decide the seventh finalist, and easily beat Harvey (Chink) Wallender of Texas in 10.7 seconds.

Wykoff was no match for either Owens or Metcalfe after passing the half-way mark in the final. He finished two yards behind Owens and a yard back of Metcalfe.

With places in the Olympic 100 confined to the first three finishers, the fate of the other finalist depends on what the American Olympic committee decides to do tomorrow night about the makeup of the 400 meter relay team. Woodruff startled onlookers by beating Ben Eastman, the former Stanford university star, and breaking the tape in the first of two 800 meter tests in 1 minute, 49.9 seconds. This was only a shade off the world mark of 1:49.8 which Eastman shares with England's Tom Hampson, 1932 Olympic champion.

Following Eastman's pace most of the way, Woodruff simply let out a few extra links in his amazingly long stride, eating up at least four yards with each step and winning easily. Eastman not only was unable to match Woodruff's finish, trailing the winner by six yards, but he was beaten out for second place by Abe Rosenkrantz of Michigan Normal.

Hornbostel Is Beaten

The second heat of the 800 went to Southern California's Ross Bush, who stood off Chuck Hornbostel's closing rush to win by two yards in 1:51.8.

New England's hammer throwers topped off the day's scramble in a thunderstorm by capturing all three Olympic places in the third event to be completed. Henry Dreyer of the New York A. C. and Province, R. I., topped the field by two inches with a toss of 171 feet, 11 1-2 inches, as Bill Rowe of Rhode Island State and Donald Favor of Portland, Maine, landed the other team qualifying positions.

John Brooks, former University of Chicago negro, cleared 25 feet, 3 3-8 inches to finish second in the broad jump.

Qualifying trials in six events, paving the way for finals tomorrow in a total of 14 individual specialties, were marked by a series of upsets, apart from the elimination of Eulace Peacock, Temple university negro, in both the 100 meters and broad jump competition.

Peacock, 1935 national champion and erstwhile conqueror of Owens, failed to come back after being given special permission to enter the final trials. Still handicapped by a pulled leg tendon, he ran seventh and last in his one attempt at the 100, then cleared only 23 feet, 3 inches in the broad jump.

Heavy Javelin Casualties

Gordon Dunn, qualifying in both weight events for tomorrow's finals, topped the discus throwers at 197 feet, 7 1-2 inches. In the shot put the two favorites, record-holding Jack Torrance of Baton Rouge, La., and Jimmy Zaits of Boston, barely qualified as Sam Francis, University of Nebraska, achieved 50 feet, 4 inches, to lead the field.

The casualties were heavier in the javelin in which two prime favorites, John Mottram of the Olympic club, national champion, and his club-mate, Bob Parke, both fell short of 200 feet and failed to qualify.

The veteran Lee Bartlett of Detroit, point-winner in the last Olympic, came through with a fine javelin throw of 223 feet, 3 1-4 inches, to top the qualifiers. He led Malcolm Metcalf, former Dartmouth star now competing from Los Angeles, by more than eight feet. Third place went to Alton Terry, the Texas star, with 213 feet, 11 inches. This was considerably off the new American record of 226 feet, 2 3-4 inches that Terry set in the national collegiate championships at Chicago.

O'Brien Cinches Trip

Eddie O'Brien assured himself a trip to Berlin, as a relay runner, by struggling home to gain the seventh and last qualifying place for the final of the 400 meter run.

Archie Williams captured the first heat in the sparkling time of 46.7c seconds, with Al Fitch second, and Bob Young third, and O'Brien fourth.

Another negro Jimmy La Valle of U. C. L. A. took second heat in 47.2 seconds with Harold Smallwood of U. S. C., Harold Cagle of Oklahoma Baptist and Jack Weierhauser of Stanford fourth.

Forrest Towns, overcome a poor start to win his heat of the 110 meter high hurdles in 14.3 seconds. Towns finishd a good yard ahead of Frits Pollard, jr., negro star from the University of North Dakota.

Roy Staley won the second qualifying test for tomorrow's final. Al Morreaux, Louisiana veteran, was at Staley's heels in the second heat. Leroy Kirkpatrick of the Olympic club and Sam Allen of Oklahoma Baptist, third place men, qualified for the final, along with Phil Good of Bowdoin college.

Hardin Easy Winner

The 400 meter hurdles trials, to decide seven finalists, developed no outstanding surprises.

Louisiana State's Glenn Hardin did not extend himself to take the first heat in 52.9 seconds, with Bob Osgood of Michigan Ham Hucker and Estell Johnson trailing. Dale Schofield of Brigham Young university won the second heat in 52.8, with Joe Patterson of the Navy, Philip Doherty of Evanston, Ill., and Benke next.

The 1500 meter runners including Glenn Cunningham, Bill Bonthron, Gene Venske and Archie San Romani, were ready for the starter's gun, when a sudden decision was made to put the entire event off until tomorrow. The steeplechase, also will be run as a final on the closing program.

Bush Baseball Marches On

THERE'S a right smart of baseball scheduled for the South Plains area this afternoon, prominent among which is the Lubbock-Roswell contest booked at the College Avenue park, 3 o'clock.

Ranking next in importance, or right along with the Lubbock occasion, is the Amherst-Big Spring booking at Amherst's Welch Park.

The Anton club invades Wilson for what should be a hot affair, and Skip Taylor's Tahoka veterans play Ropesville on the latter's field. Muleshoe and Sudan play at Muleshoe.

Other games may be scheduled, but these are the only ones reported to date. They're enough to show, however, that baseball is far from being a dead soldier even in this unorganized neck of the bushes.

And did you note that the Chicago White Sox signed up four youngsters from the little Evangeline and East Texas leagues the other day? For spring delivery? With organization, West Texas could be doing the same. That's about the only difference between the sections, but the scouts visit the leagues.

Club managers of the territory are invited to scan another story in this section regarding the annual Lubbock Invitation Baseball tournament, bids for which are going out now. The eight clubs with the best records, or with possibilities of playing the best tournament baseball, will be accepted.

Tech Attracts 'Em

THOSE strangers you've been noticing around town lately aren't all newcomers to the middleweight wrestling circuit. They're high school and junior college graduates here to pursue higher education at Texas Tech this summer, or to investigate the situation with an eye to a college sheepskin.

To say that a goodly number of them are blessed with bronzed backs, rippling muscles and firm tonnage is but to commend them for their apparent physical fitness for the rigors of college algebra and technical engineering.

Added thought: They look as if they might play a little football on the side.

Off hand, we would say that Texas Tech's freshman foot-ball prospects for 1936 look rather bright, judging from the first impressions these new citizens make. We say citizens, because they are rapidly becoming naturalized, most of them. Once they drift in, no doubt of their own initiative, they are offered considerable encouragement to stay. Cawthon takes them around to meet the downtown coaches, who have glowing words of commendation, and then escorts them over the campus, usually winding up in the neighborhood of the athletic department.

To get down to cases, Texas A. & M., S. M. U., Rice, Tulsa U., and a few others aren't monopolizing the young football talent by any means. Texas Tech may not be getting its share, in proportion to the enrollment, because it can not compete with the wage scale in effect at some of the schools mentioned, but it is attracting a goodly crowd of corn-fed country boys who usually turn out better than Class A prima donnas sought by the richer schools.

AT least seven good freshmen prospects and one junior college transfer who will be eligible for varsity duty this year are already under Tech's wings. Maybe you never heard much about them, some of them, but don't go to criticizing until you look 'em over.

The varsity prospect is named Louis Alexander, who comes by way of Bacone Indian school and St. Louis. Yep, another heap big Injun, and a pert looking person, standing 6 feet, 1 inch, and weighing now just a mere 170—but he'll fill out to about 190. He's a center, and already Tex Wiginton and Frank Guzick are having the nervous jitters. Unless we're mistaken, you'll be giving Chief Alexander a big hand before September is over.

One of the prize freshmen "catches" is Jack Price, from Santa Anna High. He was "wanted" by several Southwest conference schools, and some outside the conference. He's just a mite of a lad, weighing only 197 pounds—and he's a backfield hustler! He doubles in track and field, and has heaved the shot 53 feet, 7 inches. He kicks and passes, has bigger legs than Mule Dowell, and is fast.

Another back, and one due to become extremely popular, is Erby Davidson, a rather handsome, bright-eyed youngster from Panhandle High school who looks like another Morris White. He's built along the White lines, is exceptionally fast, weighs 175 pounds, and comes recommended as the best athlete ever turned out by Panhandle High school. A natural ball carrier, he is, and an honor student.

Lester Perl is a tackle prospect who hails from Junction. He stalked into coach Cawthon's office with Elva Baker the other day—and Baker looked like a middleweight alongside. Perl, big, rugged, red-headed, but not fat weighs all of 214 pounds in shorts. Well you can use your own judgement.

FROM Winters, Texas, comes Clyde Woods seeking higher education at Texas Tech. Woods incidentally is a football player an end. As a high school graduate he weighs only 184 but he has plenty of time to grow. There was no doubt that Woods was the outstanding lineman of the Winters Class B, district last year.

The other three we're mentioning here are well known to all and sundry football followers of Lubbock, because they hail form Lubbock High school. And the first thing Coach Cawthon says is: "They're the three best looking prospects we've ever had out of Lubbock High."

That is saying something, because some mighty good men, have gone up from the Western ranks. The three comer uppers this year are Dixie White, tackle; Primo McCurry, guard, end or anything, and Charles Calhoun, lineman or back, as the coach wishes.

This bureau's praise for White, McCurry and Calhoun is nothing new; they're an all right trio of boys, smart, healthy, ambitious, and it is with sincere and heart-felt gratification that we learn they're ticketed for Tech. They'll get along.

Work Outlined For Pupils At Coach School

Francis Schmidt And Bernie Moore To Head Staff When Coaches Go To School At Fort Worth Next Month

FORT WORTH, July 11. (AP) — Work, and more work is the schedule for the "student body" which will matriculate for the annual coaching school of the Texas High school coaches' association at T. C. U. the week of Aug. 3-8. According to a schedule release today by H. N. (Rusty) Russell, president.

The "pupils" will file into class rooms each morning at 7 o'clock and there will be something doing every minute until 6 o'clock at night.

Instructors will be Francis Schmidt of Ohio State, Bernie Moore of L. S. U., Raymond (Bear) Wolf of North Carolina, Dutch Meyer, of T. C. U. and Matty Bell of S. M. U.

Players for the "Schmidt" and "Moore" squads are being selected from the ranks of Texas boys who have completed their high school eligibility. After the week's work, the two groups, one from the upper bracket of the Texas Interscholastic league and one from the lower will meet in a full game at La Grange Field Aug. 8.

Chapman To Help

The committee in charge of selecting the players for the Northern bracket is headed by Redman Hume, former S. M. U. star. Weldon Chapman of Lubbock and Harry Taylor of San Angelo are working with him. P. E. Shotwell of Longview heads the group selecting the lower division players. Claude Kellum of San Antonio and Standard Lambert of Austin are assistants. Schmidt will coach the "Northern" team and Moore the "Southern."

Race Officials Favor Trial Of Away-From-Track Wagering

AUSTIN, July 11. (AP) — R. H. Anderson, member of the state racing commission, announced that officials of major Texas tracks had responded favorably to a proposal for installing an away-from-the-track betting system this fall under state supervision to combat outlawed bookmaking.

Anderson said the track operators had advised him they wanted to curb illegal bookmaking and favored experimentation with the plan during the next racing season in an endeavor to divert money from the outlawed form into pari-mutuel play sanctioned by the legislature.

He said the question of official approval of the plan likely would come before the commission at an August meeting, expressing belief a majority would approve trial of it.

Freeport Kingfish Rodeo To Be Staged July 17 And 19

FREEPORT, July 11. (AP)—Mayor Charley Watson of Freeport, general manager of this town's first kingfish rodeo, said today the event, postponed once because of choppy waters, would be held July 17-19 inclusive.

Boatmen have pronounced fishing conditions good again after several days of bad weather. Watson said ample boats and accommodations for visitors have been assured and entries from various sections of the state are expected.

The boats will leave the docks at 4 a. m. daily and fishing will cease at 3:30 p. m.

Eligible fish and the number of points for each one have been named, with jackfish leading the list at 200 points.

Skeet Shoot Scheduled At Local Club Grounds Today

Skeet shooters of the Lubbock Skeet and Gun club and affiliated clubs are invited to participate in the regular shoot this afternoon.

The traps have been overhauled and put in fine condition, and Manager Walter Shields expects a large turnout this afternoon.

The shooting begins at 2:30 o'clock.

Big League Batting Races Undergo Changes; Gehrig Manages To Retain American Lead But Others Altered

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP) — The batting races in both major leagues underwent a major upheavel this week, with only the American loop leader, Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, retaining his position among the first ten hitters in each circuit.

For the second straight week, the National League had a new leader, as Paul (Big Poison) Waner of the Pirates belted the ball at a near .500 clip.

The leading ten batters in each league:

Bids For Lubbock Baseball Tournament Are To Go Out This Week; Play Starts July 26

Eight Teams To Be Selected For Tournament Play During Week Of July 26-Aug. 2 At College Avenue Park

Invitations go out this week to baseball clubs of the South Plains for the section's most outstanding annual event—the Lubbock invitation tournament.

Eight outstanding clubs of the area have been or will be selected to play from July 26 to August 2 inclusive in what promises to be the most successful tournament in the history of the event.

More than ten teams already have applied for entry. The eight with the best records for the season, or with possibilities of playing the best tournament ball will be pitted in a week of double elimination tourney play.

Six Teams "In"

At least six of the eight are almost definitely assured. They are Lubbock, the defending champion; Amherst, one of the outstanding clubs of the South Plains; Anton, a stubborn, hard-hitting, troublesome rival; Abernathy, which is confident of running away with the championship; Wilson, which has played prominent roles in previous tournaments and is strong again this year, and one of the Tahoka teams.

Both Tahoka clubs, the team of veterans managed by Skip Taylor, and the youngsters supervised by Coach Prentice Walker, have indicated desire to enter the tournament. It is possible that both of them may enter.

Another likely entrant is New Moore, the Lynn County team which put up stubborn opposition last year. Manager M. L. Sullivan of the New Moore club has made application, and the team's record shows it to be qualified.

Ropesville, Meadow, Levelland and Muleshoe are other clubs which have demonstrated interest in the tournament, and one or more may be accepted.

Managers of the teams named and of other teams interested are urged to write the sports department of the Avalanche-Journal regarding their records, etc.

Definite lineup of the tournament will be announced next Sunday, or earlier, together with full tournament rules and regulations.

The tournament will be conducted as it has in the past, each club putting up an entry fee which also serves as bond, and which goes into the prize fund.

A minimum guarantee of $200 will be the starting prize fund. Gate receipts, after expenses have been deducted, will be added, and there probably will be additional prizes offered by merchants and business men of Lubbock and the towns represented.

To be eliminated from the running, a club must lose two games. Double headers will be played each day with the exception of one, beginning at 2 o'clock each day. First two tournament games will be played Sunday, July 26.

Managers of teams will draw July 22 for first round opponents and starting times, after which the tournament committee will match winners against winners, losers against losers so far as possible.

Germany Defeats Yugoslavia For Davis Cup Berth

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia, July 11. (AP) Germany's two-man team today qualified for the inter-zone final of the Davis Cup tennis competition when Baron Gottfried Von Cramm and Heiner Henkel won the doubles for the third and deciding victory over Yugoslavia in the European zone finals.

The Germans will meet Australia's team of Jack Crawford and Adrian Quist at Wimbledon July 18, 20 and 21, with the winner earning the right to challenge England for the coveted trophy.

Robert Riggs To Meet Frank Parker In Spring Lake Tilt

SPRING LAKE, N. Y. July 11 (AP) Robert Riggs, Los Angeles, advanced to the final round of the battle for the Clifford Hemphill tennis trophy today, defeating J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange 6-3, 6-8, 6-2, 5-7, 6-2.

He will meet Frank A. Parker, favored to win his fourth consecutive championship on the bathing and tennis club courts tomorrow.

A NAME
WANTED

WE WILL GIVE ONE MONTHS BEAUTY SERVICE TO THE LADY WHO SUGGESTS THE MOST APPROPRIATE NAME FOR OUR NEW BEAUTY SHOPPE "FINEST IN WEST TEXAS."

TO BE LOCATED AT
1108 AVENUE M
IN NEW PIGGLY-WIGGLY BUILDING
THE ONLY BEAUTY SHOPPE IN LUBBOCK THAT IS AIR-CONDITIONED."

Due to the large volume of business given us since the opening of our shop about six months ago, it has become necessary for us to secure new and LARGER QUARTERS, more conveniently located for everyone.

We believe that we have one of the best, if not the best, locations in the city, and have plenty of space so that we will not be crowded.

It is our intentions to have this new shop in operation about August 1st, and we feel that we can offer you a service that will be unobtainable elsewhere in Lubbock.

If you have a clever name for this new shop, one that will not be more than 18 letter total, submit it before July 22rd.

J. J. Dillard Issues Formal Statement On Candidacy For County Judgeship

J. J. DILLARD

J. J. Dillard, pioneer Lubbock resident, Saturday issued his formal statement of his candidacy for Lubbock county judge.

"I have resided in Lubbock county since 1896. I am married, have a wife and mother-in-law to support. My mother-in-law is totally blind, 87 years old and an invalid. I need the salary of the office to support my family.

Established Lubbock Avalanche

"I taught school in Lubbock in its early days. I established the Lubbock Avalanche on May 4, 1900, and published it for eight years. I was in active practice of law for many years, had average degree of success and participated in much important litigation in the early development of the county.

"I was elected state representative in 1910 and served in the 32nd legislature. I was co-author of the suspended sentence law, and of the Rural school aid bill, which became a law during my term and it is the law today. Perhaps the most beneficial law passed during my term was the establishment of the State experimental farm at Lubbock. I also introduced a bill to establish and locate an Agricultural and Mechanical college in my district, which was defeated because I stood alone in my fight, but the question never ceased to be a live issue, and ten years after, I had the pleasure of seeing Texas Technological college established at Lubbock.

Promises Impartial Service

"If elected your county judge, I will conduct your court in a fair, just and impartial manner, dispatching cases with consideration for claims of the litigants and to the tax payers.

"It has been the practice in Lubbock for the county court to hear and determine juvenile cases. In all cases involving the future of dependent, neglected or delinquent children, I will do all in my power to help the situation by proper and practical advice. I insist that no officer in the state has a greater opportunity to influence good citizenship on the lives of children of tender age and to make useful citizens of them than the county judge.

Cites Need For Space

"The court house is badly crowded for office space. The south entrance has been converted into an office. One of the justices of the peace has no private office. There is a basement some 80x110 feet that cost the county approximately $5000 that can be improved to accommodate quarters for the constable, with cells to be used by the constable as a lockup for his prisoners arrested at night. A convenient joint courtroom could be easily arranged for each justice of the peace, with private offices.

"I believe that every man who asks for an office should have positive views on all public questions and to better qualify you in your selection of a county judge, I submit the following:

"I am opposed to the issuance of any more tax free securities.

"I favor the secretary of the treasury calling in all outstanding interest bearing bonds and paying them with non-interest bearing U. S. treasury notes.

Favors McGroarty Bill

"I believe in and favor early enactment of the McGroarty bill into a national law. It is a plan whereby young workers shall contribute to the purchase and receive a retiring annuity. I believe in perpetuating the present profit system with proper federal control of excessive individual and corporate ownership of wealth, with the larger share of the profits earned by man labor saving machines, which displace labor going to the displaced laborer.

"The Townsend recovery plan will give increasing purchasing power by retiring four and one-half million men over 60 years of age from active and gainful employment and replacing them with young men and women, while eight million men and women alloted $200 per month make positions for seven and one-half millions more, thus giving employment for the unemployed.

"I favor taxing the untaxed; untax the overtaxed.

Favors Registration Fee

"I favor the right of suffrage being extended to all citizens on the payment of a small registration fee of twenty-five cents in lieu of our present detestible, obnoxious and undemocratic requirement to pay $1.75 for a poll tax in order to qualify for the right to vote.

"I favor discharging our sacred obligation to our old men and women by convening the legislature at once and enacting laws to provide funds to pay those eligibles under the National Security act $30 per month as contemplated by congress.

"I subscribe wholly to principles of local self government, with enforcement of all laws administered honestly by local authorities, without discrimination, to the extent that excessibe bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishment and right of trial by jury, shall remain inviolate.

"I am a Democrat. I have consistently voted the Democratic ticket from constable to president since I reached my majority. I believe the will of the people as expressed and delegated to them at the primaries, special and general elections should be complied with to the letter.

"I am soliciting your active support and vote in behalf of my candidacy for the office of county judge, for which I shall be forever grateful."

"Respectfully, J. J. Dillard."

Ruling Given On Transfers

County Tax Assessor-Collector Carpenter Gives Data On Voting Regulations; Tuesday Is Deadline For Move

Those persons who by a change of residence are required to transfer their names to their new precinct list in order to establish eligibility for voting in the first primary should do so by Tuesday, July 21, Hurley Carpenter, tax assessor-collector, announced Saturday in issuing governing regulations.

"All persons expecting to vote in one of the city of Lubbock precincts, who have paid a poll tax in another county and moved into this county, or who have moved from one precinct to another in the county since the issuance of their poll tax receipt, and are to vote in a city precinct, must present their receipt or exempti no certificate to the county tax office and have it transferred to the new precinct in order that their names may be placed on the list of qualified voters of the precinct to which they have moved," Carpenter stated.

"A person who moves to Lubbock or who has moved from one precinct in this county into another precinct and expects to vote in some precinct outside of the city, need not have his poll tax receipt transferred. However, he must satisfy election officials that he is the identical person described in the poll tax receipt, and that he then resides in the precinct in which he offers to vote, and that he has resided in the state one year and in the district and county six months."

Higher Prices Of Food Seen

Grocery Dollars Shriveling Under Drouth's Ravaging Campaign, Survey In City Reveals Saturday

Drouth, stalking in seven league boots throughout the nation's food basket, has left an imprint in the Lubbock area not by withering crops nearby but by shriveling the value of grocery dollars.

Such was the decided opinion Saturday among three Lubbock wholesale grocery managers, although they were unable to quote a definite percentage figure indicating either a present or expected height of increase in the price of groceries bought here.

Is To Reduce Supply

What definite information has come to them, however, gave the impression that the sun's blistering rays over normally productive planting belts of the Mid-West were fiery enough to sere crops and thereby cut farmers incomes, affect the production of canneries, reduce shelf goods volume handled by brokers, stir wholesalers to a search for goods to meet expected orders from retailers, and finally, fiery enough to reach right down into the pocketbooks of Mrs. Lubbock Housewife.

The condition all came about some two weeks ago, the wholesale managers said — about the time newspaper headlines took cognizance of the prevalence of dry spots.

Quotations Compared

Within that period, the trend, said evidenced distinctly through the following quotations on items and wholesale prices delivered here: flour, up 30 cents a 48-pound sack or some 12 per cent higher; corn meal, up 15 to 16 cents a 20-pound sack for a 30 per cent increase; shortening, higher by 1 1-4 cents a pound; dried pinto beans, an unusually stable commodity, higher by 60 to 75 cents for 100 pounds or 22 per cent; condensed milk, a quarter higher by the case; and corn syrup, almost half more than what it was.

The higher prices are now in effect on these and perhaps other commodities, or will be soon, at retail grocery stores, it was said.

Wheat And Corn Rise

While the greatest increase has been noted by the wholesalers in quotations on wheat and corn products they indicated a question mark of drouth effects on the canned vegetable market.

The immediate effects are—refusal of brokers to take new contract orders for almost all varieties of canned vegetables and particularly tip per varieties, since there is no assurance from canneries that crops will be anywhere near normal, and likelihood that existing contract orders may be necessarily pro-rated when time comes to fill them.

Hope For Improvement

Unless rains fall soon in the dry zones, and the moisture would save an unestimated portion of growing vegetables, their attitude reflected lighter grocery baskets in proportion to what the same money now buys. They admitted there was still hope for an improvement in the market, although tendencies looked higher.

Practically the only items which have not reflected a possibly shortage are sugar and canned fruits, they declared.

One wholesaler anticipated generally higher prices, if conditions fail to improve, on foods whether their production was affected by the drouth or not.

"With pea packers in Indiana and Illinois facing a shortage, producers of dried beans hit in New Mexico and Colorado, prospective tomato crop shortages likely in Arkansas and Missouri, increased feed prices boosting higher the prices of milk for condensing, Iowa corn canneries and mills lacking produce; Dakota, Minneapolis, Oklahoma and other mills lacking wheat to grind, those in areas which have a nearly normal raw material supply will raise the prices 'out of sympathy'."

Kicks of horses, mules and cows claimed the lives of eight Kansans in 1935.

Trade Agreement Between Soviet Union And U.S. Is Extended Another Year

Russia More Than Doubled Its Purchases Of Goods From America Under Old Pact; Policy Is Extended

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, July 11.—The Soviet-American trade agreement, under which the Soviet union more than doubled its purchases form America in the past year, was extended today for another year.

Extension of the pact was effected through an exchange of notes between the two governments.

Promised $30,000,000

The agreement signed by American Ambassador William Bullitt and Foreign Commissar Maxxim Litvinoff July 12, 1935, was accompanied by a Russian promise to buy at least $30,000,000 worth of American goods in the succeeding year.

Purchases actually totalled more than $35,000,000 against an average of $12,000,000 annually in the three previous years.

Signed Under 1934 Act

Charge d'Affaires Loy Henderson negotiated the prolongation. The agreement was signed under authority of the act of June 12, 1934, which amended the tariff act of 1930.

It grants the Soviet Union the same most favored nation treatment extended to other nations with which the United States had agreements under the 1934 act, excepting Cuba, which has special concessions also excepting in the case of coal.

Increase In Trade Is "Gratifying" To U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP) — In announcing that trade agreements between the United States and Russia had been extended for another year, the state department said today "the increase in the trade between the United States and the Soviet Union which has taken place under the agreement of July 13, 1935, is gratifying."

The state department estimated the value of the exports to the Soviet Union in the 11 months ending May 31 increased 101 per cent and the imports 31 per cent. The state department said "in view of this expansion of trade under the present commercial agreement, the extension of that agreement for another year may be expected to contribute further to the success of the administration's efforts to restore our foreign trade as a whole through the trade agreements program.

State Per Capita

not intend for the apportionment to be fixed before the tax rate was determined and "it certainly was not the intention of the legislature that the apportionment should exceed $17.50 per capita." He questioned the policy of the education board in meeting before the other as possibly nullifying the authority of the tax board.

Usually Delays Action

The tax board is required to meet between July 20 and 25, but it usually delays setting the rate until a recess meeting. Current levies aggregate 62 cents, including the constitutional maximums of 35 cents and seven cents, respectively, for the general and Confederate pension funds, both deep in deficit. The school tax rate of 20 cents was 15 cents below the constitutional maximum.

C. N. Shaver of Huntsville, legislative chairman of the teachers association, said it had been estimated an apportionment based on retention of the 20-cent rate would be between $19 and $21.

Properties Not Mentioned

Although economic conditions generally are much better, he said, the schools are "a long way from out of the woods yet," explaining that buildings and equipment were not properly maintained during the depression.

"Many people think that the only reason we are asking for a high per capita is that we want to boost teachers' salaries," he said. "Salaries are important but that is not the only reason."

Others To Appear

John Gregory of McAllen, president of the association; H. L. Mills, business manager of Houston schools, and others will appear before the board to outline needs of schools, Shaver said.

Meanwhile, the comptroller's department prepared for the board a recapitulation of income during the past year with estimates for next year of all types of receipts other than ad valorem tax collections.

Receipts during the year totalled $29,814,400.98, including $5,196,170.50 from the ad valorem levy. Receipts next year from sources other than the property tax were estimated at $24,519,294.98.

Had Balance On Hand

On July 1 last year, there was a cash balance of $4,258,555.87, making a gross total for the year of $34,072,956.85 compared to the balance a year ago, the comptroller reported a net balance June 30 of $784,686.90 with a probable balance Aug. 31 of $1,293,797.55.

The apportionment this year was paid for 1,556,686 scholastics. Statisticians in the department of education estimated the number next year would be between 1,562,000 and 1,566,000.

CONDITION GRAVE

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 11. (AP) Physicians at the Hollywood hospital said this afternoon that the condition of Alan Crosland, screen director, critically injured in an automobile accident yesterday, still was too grave today to permit the taking of x-ray pictures to determine if his skull is fractured.

NEWS BRIEFS

Fire Chief W. E. Twitty and J. Scotti Hollingsworth, fireman, left Saturday for College Station where they will attend an annual firemen's short course at Texas A. & M. college.

Second statements of campaign expenses may be filed by candidates starting Monday. The statements, which are required, may be filed with County Clerk Ed D. Allen.

R. E. Stroup, F. W. D. C. agent, returned Saturday from a vacation and fishing trip to Wonder lake, Cowles, N. M., near the headquarters of the Pecos river. Mrs. Stroup accompanied him. Mrs. Jack Barr was in the party. They reported a very fine catch, the fish biting exceptionally well.

Total of 1,907 work sheets have been signed by Lubbock county farmers, County Agent C. C. Johson said yesterday. The papers will be forwarded to College Station.

Two young men who recently enlisted in the U. S. Army, will leave Monday night for Fort Bliss to complete their enlistment, said Sergeant George H. Creary, local army recruiting officer. They are: Billie Donaldson, Post and Jefferson A. Hooper, Morton. Earl Hairwell, of Nashville, Ark., is to report Monday. He will be sent to El Paso. Flagel W. Stewart, 606 Sixteenth street and Gersld Bridgewater, Lamesa, will be sent to Fort Bliss Monday night.

Miss Dorothy Davis, sister of Mrs. A. J. Humphreys, is in Lubbock for a visit and will be associated with the chamber of commerce, where she was employed before being granted a three-months leave of absence in Louisiana.

Fire Chief W. E. Twitty and J. S. Hollingsworth, drillmaster, left Saturday morning for College Station, where a week's short course for firemen will be conducted at Texas A. and M. college.

Appreciation to the chamber of commerce for cooperation in conducting a 4-H club boys and girls encampment here recently, was written by Miss Gladys Sanders, assistant home demonstration agent, and by Chas. A. King, assistant county agricultural agent.

Fine of $1 and costs of $16.65 Saturday were assessed Jack Mears, who pleaded guilty before J. T. Trigg, justice of the peace, of swindling by $3.50 worthless check. No arrest had been made of a man charged in a similar complaint. Ida Netman was complainant in each charge.

J. R. Thomas, jailed here May 13 and against whom a complaint had been filed in Hockley county, Saturday was released after $750 bond had been posted, said Jas. P. Posey, deputy sheriff.

A. D. Ryan, assessed $100 and costs and given 30 days in jail early that week after being convicted of violation of prohibition law, Saturday began serving time, county jail records showed.

Bond of $300 Saturday was posted by J. C. Hamby, charged in county court with violation of liquor law. He pleaded not guilty upon arraignment before County Judge E. L. Pitts.

A 40-year-old Lubbock woman and her 15-year-old daughter Friday night were held by police after they had been arrested that afternoon upon disturbance complaint of a neighbor. Authorities said both were drunk. Another girl, who had been in a cell with the mother and her daughter, had been released and no charge had been filed.

Police Saturday made a heavy haul on speedsters, a motorcycle patrolman that night estimating tickets had been issued to 10 motorists. Five-dollar basic fines are stiffened by $1 per mile over the limit.

Three hundred fifty absentee votes had been indicated when the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk, closed Saturday afternoon, of which 244 were represented by applications for ballots to be mailed. The figure is running ahead of expectations, said the clerk.

E. B. Speck will discuss issues affecting his campaign for congress, at the lawn west of City hall Saturday night. Congressman George Mahon has been invited to address the audience at the same time, giving an account of his stewardship while representing the 19th congressional district.

Clyde Rutledge and Woodine Dagley are leaving today for Dallas, where they will take a course in individual hair styling. Walter Wilson will be the instructor. They will learn the very latest methods and newest styles for the hair.

Two small girls, Effie and Laverne Moore, 8 and 5 years old, respectively, of Shallowater were sought Saturday night by police. Officials said the children went into a department store and evidently became lost. One wore a yellow, the other a pink dress. At midnight they had not been reported found, said police.

Van Curry, 10, son of Wyley Curry of Tahoka, Saturday night was rushed to Lubbock sanitarium for the treatment of a bad laceration of the right knee, an abrasion of the left elbow and a small scalp wound. X-ray examination disclosed no fracture. The boy and his brothers had rushed in from a field where they had been hoeing and when they were about to drive away from their home in the family automobile, accidentally struck and knocked down Van. The machine passed over him without its wheels touching him, Van said. He probably will be released this morning, it was believed. His condition early today was satisfactory.

Lyn L. Bethel of Greenville, Saturday was in Lubbock in interests of the candidacy of "Cowboy" Kal Segrist for commissioner of agriculture. Segrist formerly played baseball with the Fort Worth entry in the Texas league. Bethel is his brother-in-law and is campaigning for him in West Texas.

Mrs. Len Coker of route 5, Lubbock, early today was treated at Lubbock sanitarium for injuries suffered in a 12:30 o'clock automobile mishap on north Avenue H. She suffered lacerations of the face and several loosened teeth. Her husband was driving a car which struck a post, it was explained to police investigators. Mrs. Coker was to be released following completion of emergency aid.

Police early this morning sought a man alleged to have peeped into several houses in the vicinity of 1700 block Texas avenue.

election with a plea to voters to consider "performance—not promises." He said tax reduction had become an actual fact under his administration.

"For years candidates have promised the people a reduction in their ad valorem taxes," the governor said. "Under the administration of your centennial governor, this has actually been done."

Hunter Continues Attack

Speaking at Decatur in his home county, Tom F. Hunter continued his attack on Gov. Allred for operations of the old age pension plan. He said:

"The real pensioners at present are employes of the liquor control board and the old age assistance commission. In May, 41 per cent of the total receipts from the liquor tax were sapped up as salaries and expenses by these two boards."

Hunter said the old age pensions must be met in full as contemplated by the constitutional amendment, and pledged himself to see that this legislation be carried out as willed by the people."

wits had planned an out-of-town trip and because of past troubles had set the traps to protect his property.

"Gangs of kids," Gorwitz said, had made repeated raids on his property and "stole everything they could carry away."

"I made complaints to the police," he added, "but the vandalism continued. I then set the traps, but they were not open."

Mrs. Blanche Orton, one of the arraignment witnesses, testified Gorwitz, set the traps, waved a hatchet at her and shouted:

"I'll kill those kids! I'll get them, if they come into this yard."

Mrs. Orton said the "kids" referred to were her children, Betty, 6, and Geraldine, 4.

winders and the mountain bulls. The side winders, 18 to 36 inches long, travel sideways and leave parallel cross bars in the sand. The mountain bulls leave serpentine tracks, and are about three feet long and thick as a man's wrist.

No Visitors, Neighbors

"I don't have many visitors in the summer. No neighbors for a hundred miles. That's when I can go out in the rocks and get my work done. You know I got about $700,000 in ore out in the rocks."

Scotty has been out in Death valley more than 30 years. During his visits to civilization he has been a spectacular spender. Up in Grapevine canyon he has a luxurious $2,300,000 castle, with a complet electric works and huge ice plant.

HIT BY LIGHTNING

MCKINNEY, July 11. (AP)—R. E. Byrd, knocked from his riding plow by lightning while working in a field near here yesterday, was in a serious condition toady at his home. The farmer was found unconscious by a son a short time after the accident.

TRADE HITS PORTUGUESE

LISBON (AP)—Representatives of Portugal's textile industries recently asked the government to aid them in meeting Japanese competition in Portuguese colonies. The industrialists said the Japanese are flooding colonial markets with cheap goods and threaten to annihilate Portuguese industries.

FLAG MEMORIAL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mrs. Emelie Andrews lost her son, Machine Gunner Alfred Marlow, in the World war. A silk flag given her by General John J. Pershing has been presented the school Alfred attended.

A theater seating 1,500, to be dedicated to students killed in the World war, is under construction on the Stanford university campus.

Heat Wave Is Nearing Close

Mass Of Cooling Air Is Said To Be Moving Toward East From Rocky Mountains; 730 Are Counted Dead

there of 111. Michigan's deaths from heat and drownings touched 100 as the mercury reached that mark again in Detroit. Missouri burned in its eighth day of 100 degrees, so did Kansas. New York's mortalities mounted toward 70 with conditions alleviated in the perspiring metropolis by the half holiday for thousands of office workers.

Wheat Breaks Limit

The prospective death for the torrid wave electrified the domestic grain markets. A downpour of selling orders flooded the Chicago pits and wheat broke the five-cent limit. Corn, its critical period of maturing now at dead center, dived and swooped even more erratically. After fluctuating through a range of seven cents a bushel, it finally closed 1-4 to two cents down. September delivery was 82 1-2 cents a bushel at the close of one of the wildest Saturday short sessions in months. Its net gain during a week of punishing heat for the nation's crop was 11 cents. July and September wheat closed at $1.04 1-2.

Still Has Good Chance

The hint of an answer to their supplications for rain was most important to the Corn Belt farmers. Their crop, already damaged in spots, still has a good chance if moisture comes within the next few days.

That event would also provide the final answer to Secretary Wallace's recent intimation that the magnitude of 1936's drouth as compared with the 1934 devastating visitation, would be disclosed by conditions at the end of a three weeks period, winding up around July 22.

Program Progresses

In the meantime, the federal aid program for relief of drouth sufferers moved on. The first week of its operation in North Dakota, one of the most severely hit states, found 4,000 cropless farmers enlisted in WPA projects.

In Birmingham, Ala., resettlement Administrator Rexford G. Tugwell estimated 50,000 farm families of Georgia, Alabama, and South Carolina were destitute from the drouth. He said his agency expected to make direct emergency grants of approximately $15 monthly per family to half of the number.

Encouragement Brought

Forecasts brought some encouragement that the extended drouth and sultry spell in the south might be broken by the middle of next week.

Te cooler temperatures in sections of Colorado were accompanied not only by showers but by snow. The snow storm was on Pike's peak to the accompaniment of freezing mark temperatures. A dust storm blew in the southeastern part of the state to complete a varied weather picture.

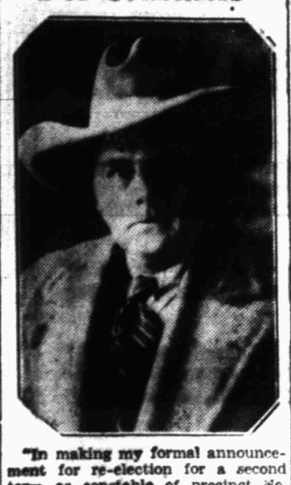

Fighters Claim Victory

Forest fire figthers in the Sundance, Wyo., area claimed victory in battle with a stubborn blaze at Bear Lodge forest.

Fervent prayers for rain went up from parched fields which used to boast the fruitful name—"nation's bread basket." Whole communities fell to their knees in supplication.

The loss from heat's ravage was roughly placed at $250,000,000, mostly in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Montana and Wyoming. Grasshoppers chewed what the sun had spared. Chinch bugs and cut worms swarmed in the trail of desolation. Spring wheat estimates went down from 236,000,000 to 134,000,000 bushels. Rye losses were placed at 30,000,000 bushels.

For Constable

"In making my formal announcement for re-election for a second term as constable of precinct No. 1, I respectfully solicit your support. I feel that I have a thorough knowledge of the office and the duties thereof, and have served you for the past two years to the best of my ability, and believe this experience will better qualify me to serve you in the future. Owing to the fact that the duties of the office have required my personal attention I have been unable to see each of you and solicit your support as I would like to have done, but assure you that your support will be appreciated."—J. C. Roberts.

GETS YEAR IN JAIL

LAREDO, July 11. (AP)—Sergeant Charles Lagae of Fort McIntosh was given one year in jail today on a charge of failure to stop and render aid after an automobile accident which resulted in the death of Pedro Ayala, policeman. Ayala was killed when he was struck by an automobile.

Scouts Leave On Trip Today

Bus Loaded With 25 Youngsters And Scout Officials To Start Trip To Camp Site In Sacramento Mountains

A chartered bus filled with Boy Scout officials and 25 Scouts will leave this morning at 6:30 o'clock for an encampment site in the Sacramento mountains near Weed.

The group today will attend church services at Hobbs, N. M., have dinner, and spend the night in Carlsbad. Monday it will explore the cavern and that night reach Camp We-hin-a-pay.' The week spent there will be interspersed with swimming, fishing riding, and a pack animal trip high into the mountains.

To Start Home Monday

The return trip will begin the following Monday and the party will reach Lubbock next afternoon.

Earl M. McClure, Scout executive, said all correspondence to the boys should be addressed to Weed.

Scouts who had registered for the trip were: Watson Carlock, Julian Zellner, Carrol Claiborne, Bedford Raley, Marvin McLarty, Jerry Nash, Russell Myrick, Edward Hamilton, Lester Grimes, Fritz Sandlin, and Ben Alexander, all of Lubbock; Raymond Steele of Lamesa, James Stobaugh of Lorenzo; Briggs Robertson, J. E. Eckert, jr., Maurice Middleton, Jimmie Jefferis, James Eubanks, Billy Batey, and Jack Brown, all of Slaton; Leon McCarty of Muleshoe, Ormond Samson of Post, and Wendell Smith, Kyle Adams and Lucien Greenfield, all of Brownfield.

Eighteen Cases Of Beer Are Seized In Slaton Saturday

Eighteen cases of beer were confiscated in two raids conducted at Slaton late Saturday afternoon by Lubbock and Slaton officers. Three men will be charged Monday in county court at Lubbock.

Sixteen of the cases were found in possession of one man, the remainder at a place operated by two men.

The following officers were in the raid, which was conducted at 6:30 o'clock: Deputies Sheriff Bedford F. Carpenter and Grady Harrist of Lubbock; Louie Ayers, Santa Fe officer, R. L. Wicker, police chief, Austin Yates, nightwatchman, and Ragan Reed, constable, all of Slaton.

Daisy Uncoils To Train For Rattler Derby

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 11. (AP)—Daisy, pride of San Diego serpents, uncoiled today, and went into training for a $5,000 match race against a speedy Texas rattler here July 20.

Exposition officials said Daisy's owner, Major A. T. Tremp, had posted 2,500 as his share of the purse, confident his entry would wriggle to victory.

Receipts of $2,500 from Jack Chaney of El Paso, Tex., whose diamond back, Peso, won a recent rattlesnake derby at Carlsbad, N. M., was awaited today.

"It's a crime to take Chaney's money," Tremp declared. "Why, Daisy's so fast I may put in Periwinkle or Penelope, her stablemate to make it interesting for the spectators.

"Daisy's just a yard of greased lightning."

Injuries Received In Fall Prove Fatal To J. C. Branch

Paralysis and other injuries resulting from a broken back suffered July 4 in a fall, at 10 o'clock Saturday night in a Tyler hospital brought death to J. C. Branch, jr., 21.

Branch, former Lubbock resident, and friends had gone to Tyler for attendance at a program. Heat induced a weakness which caused him to fall down a flight of steps and break three vertebrae, said Mrs. R. L. Goad of 1634 Tenth street, Lubbock, an aunt. Mr. and Mrs. Goad were to leave Lubbock Saturday night for Tyler.

The body will be sent to the Greenville home of Branch's parents and funeral and burial rites will be conducted there, said Mrs. Goad.

Cats Send Pitcher Gravin To Jax Of East Texas Loop

FORT WORTH, July 11. (AP) — Pitcher Jim Gravin is being sent to Jacksonville in the East Texas league by the Cats, it was announced today by Cecil Coombs, business manager of the Fort Worth ball club.

Gravin is the young right hander secured from Davenport in the Western League.

Coombs will visit the East Texas and Evangeline leagues next week before joining the Cats on their trip South.

Seek To Avert Labor's Split

Two Warring Camps Of Union Organization Hold Series Of Conferences; Tuesday Is Day For Action

BY JOSEPH L. MILLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Hampered by bitter, personal feeling, American Federation of Labor peace-makers strove today to avert a split that would divide the federation into two warring camps of labor unions.

Secret conferences were the order of the day. The federation's executive council slated to act Tuesday on a motion to suspend 12 unions led by John L. Lewis, was in recess. Those members opposing suspension, however, discussed the issue throughout the day with those who want to oust the president of the united mine workers and his allies for "dual unionism."

Other Developments

Other labor developments included:

(1) The labor relations board charged the Goodyear tire and rubber company with complicity in three assaults on United Rubber Workers organizers in Gadsden, Ala.

(2) An agreement was reached to end the seven-week strike at the Wheeling Steel corporation's Portsmouth, O., plant.

(3) In response to a request from Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, the International Longshoremen's association agreed to postpone for two weeks a strike in all ports from Wilmington, N. C., to Pensacola, Fla., which had been scheduled for Monday. McGrady will attempt to arrange a settlement.

Progress Reported

(4) Labor department officials reported they had made progress toward settlement of the Remington-Rand strike. The company postponed opening its Norwood, O., plant, set for Monday. The labor relations board charged the company with "wholesale discharges for union activity" and other alleged violations of the Wagner labor disputes act.

(5) McGrady left for New York. Observers thought he might plan to see Remington-Rand officials, as well as Radio Corporation of America officials about the strike in the RCA plant at Camden, N. J.

In 23 years at San Quentin prison, Dr. Leo Stanley has attended 30,000 prisoners and witnessed more than 100 hangings.

Stars From All Over World Gather For Fort Worth Show

Frontier Centennial To Open On Saturday; Arrangements To Entertain Great Crowd Are Being Made

FORT WORTH, July 11. (Special)—Preparations for entertainment of the largest crowd in the history of the city at the opening of the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial, Saturday, July 18, are now being made and will be completed in a few days. The various shows as well as all structures have already been completed.

The galaxy of song, dancing and novelty stars, showgirls and musicians assembled in Fort Worth for final rehearsals on the four major shows of the Frontier Centennial made the town look like Forty-second and Broadway this week.

Paul Whiteman Arrives

Paul Whiteman and his orchestra arrived Friday to go into the final week of rehearsals with the 250-member cast of the Casa Manana revue. Joe Venuti and his orchestra will play for ballroom dancing in the same vast cafe-theater.

The Casa Manana revue, spangled with such names as Everett Marshall, baritone star of Ziegfeld's "Follies," Sally Rand of the fans and bubbles, Ann Pennington of the "Follies," the Lime Trio of "Life Begins At 8:40," Walter Dare Wahl of vaudeville and the "Follies" and young Gareth Jopelin of the movies, will last for a little over an hour.

Between shows in the cafe-theater, the 130-foot revolving stage floating on water, will be moved forward to a level with the terrace so that the guests may dance.

Reservations Pour In

Reservations already were pouring in this week for tables in the fabulous cafe-theater for the opening night. Dramatic critics from every newspaper and theatrical journal in New York will be here to witness the unparalleled venture in entertainment.

The Casa Manana revue will be one of four major shows at the Frontier Centennial. Surprise treat of the four, it appeared this week, may be the Honky-Tonk revue whipped together quietly and without much hullabaloo for the Pioneer Palace.

Tom Patricola, dancing star of George White's "Scandals," was engaged this week for one of the Honky-Tonk principals. A hefty, chest-heaving blond named Lulu Bates will sing such ballad gems as "I Fell In Love With A Handlebar Mustache" and "The Lady Known As Lulu." Both have punchy dance hall lyrics knocked out by Billy Rose.

Old Dance Hall Line

The Honky-Tonk revue will be presented with old-fashioned dance hall line of 16 girls on a stage in the wall above the 40-foot bar. Mirror above the bar will move back to reveal the stage.

Actually the minor show of the Frontier Centennial—and one you get free with meals and drinks in the Pioneer Palace—the Honky Tonk revue shows promise of a great punch in rehearsals.

Other major shows are Billy Rose's "Jumbo," moved down from the New York Hippodrome and installed in a breath-taking new version of an old-fashioned indoor circus building, and "The Last Frontier," a wild-riding cowboy, Indian, cavalry and square dance spectacle. Capt. Irving O'Hay, New Mexico soldier of fortune dubbed the "Connoisseur of Wars" by Irvin S. Cobb, will be announcer for the old-west melee. Picturesque figure who has rushed to every war in the world since the Cuban insurrection, he was broken in as an after-dinner speaker by the late Will Rogers, has had contact with the show business off and on for 25 years.

In addition to these major attractions, such smaller shows as Sally Rand's nude ranch, Beauty and the Beast (semi-nude girl dancing in a cage of lions) and regular midway attractions fill the grounds.

West Texas exhibits and a room containing the ranch and old west collection of Will Rogers have been installed in the old-fashioned railroad station. Other mementos of the southwest, including rooms set with the furnishings of the early pioneer, are arranged in buildings on Sunset Trail, the pioneer village street.

Colorful characters will enliven the section of a frontier town with the lusty goings-on of an outpost village. On the little street called Sunset Trail, Broadway and the Old West will join hands for four months of fun.

SAVES LIFE TWICE

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP)—Henry Douchet, 34-year-old railroad brakeman, saved the life of Harold Peters, 5, twice. Seeing the boy trapped on a railroad trestle, Douchet clung to the cowcatcher and pushed the boy into the river below. Then he dove from the cowcatcher and rescued the lad from the water.

Hundred-Thousandth Car Is Tested In Angelo Campaign

SAN ANGELO, July 11. (AP)—The 100,000th motorist drove his car Friday through the safety lane set up here to test automobiles for defects which might cause accidents.

Purpose of the campaign being conducted in West Texas this month by the state department of public safety is to keep cars tested and in condition so as to cut down traffic fatalities.

Eight men, using four automobiles equipped for the work, are putting on the tests. From San Angelo, the tests will be moved to Ballinger, July 14-15; Coleman, July 17-18; Brownwood July 21-22-23; Big Spring, July 27-28-29; Del Rio, Aug. 3-4; Abilene Aug. 10-11-12; Sweetwater, Aug. 14-15; Stamford, Aug. 17-18; Anson, Aug. 19; Colorado, Aug. 21-22; Cisco, Aug. 24-25; Breckenridge, Aug. 26-27; and Albany, Aug. 29.

The tests are voluntary and purely for service and safety of motorists. Brakes, mufflers, lights, horns, steering apparatus and windshield are tested.

Whole Body Ached, Pained; Attacks Of Indigestion Awful

Gly-Cas Again Unfailing In Reaching Mrs. Sewell's Stubborn Case; Stomach Now Fine, Soreness And Pains Have Left Her Muscles And Joints

"I did not realize any medicine could be as wonderful as this new Gly-Cas," said Mrs. Lee Sewell, 510 Main St., Temple, Texas. "My entire system had been greatly upset. For five years I had suffered with gall bladder attacks. My stomach became affected, gas would form in abundance after every meal I ate, foods soured and attacks of indigestion were awful. My arms and hands became sore and stiff, ached and pained so and I could not close my hands my fingers seemed to be so crippled. Before I realized it these pains were in my knee joints until I could hardly walk, in fact the pains were all over my body. There were many foods I had to leave clear out of my diet for the suffering they would cause me was unbearable. There was some talk of an operation for me which I did not want but in spite of all else I tried I could find nothing to fit my case. It was terribly discouraging and I did not know what to do next when I began to hear so much praise for this new Gly-Cas on everyside so I put it to the test on my stubborn case and found it just as wonderful as everyone said I would."

"By the time I had taken this new remedy just a short time my digestive organs were functioning properly again," continued Mrs. Sewell, "That dreadful gas, bloating, indigestion and sour stomach has been relieved as if by magic. The soreness has left my arms, knees and joints and I now have the full use of my arms and hands again. I even walked to town and back a distance of approximately a mile, without any ill effects whatever. Is it any wonder I am lauding Gly-Cas so highly after the seemingly impossible results it has given me."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Marland, Smith Planning Run-Off

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 11. (AP)—Governor E. W. Marland opened his campaign for the Democratic nomination for United States senator today emphasizing what he said was the need of public works of permanent nature.

Marland assuming he had gained run-off position with the leader of Tuesday's state-wide primary election, Rep. Josh Lee, went ahead with plans to press for the nomination at the July 28 second primary.

But so did Gomer Smith, national vice president of the Townsend pension organization and another candidate for the Democratic nomination. Smith scoffed at the nearly complete unofficial returns which showed Marland leading him for second place by more than 2,300 votes. He declared he would dive into the run-off campaign himself Sunday, claiming reports to his own headquarters showed he was in second position.

Morrison's Resignation Is Announced 'With Real Regret'

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—The White House announced Friday the resignation of Ralph W. Morrison of Texas as a member of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve system had been accepted by the president yesterday "with real regret."

Morrison's resignation was submitted many weeks ago after reports of differences over policy with Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the board.

The Texan, who was appointed when the reserve board was reorganized last winter, in accord with the banking law enacted last year, served only a few months.

A big contributor to the Roosevelt campaign fund in 1932, he had also served as a member of the American delegation to the London economic conference.

Among the royal stamp collectors, in addition to the late kings George V of England and Fuad of Egypt, are the queens of Italy and Belgium, King Leopold of the Belgians, and the Crown Prince of Sweden.

Production Of Water May Be Prorated In East Texas Area

KILGORE, July 11. (AP)—C. V. Cottingham, chief petroleum engineer for the Texas Railroad commission said he had been considering the possibility of prorating water production as a means of maintaining bottom hole pressure in East Texas.

"I have been thinking about it, either proration or requiring that water be returned to sand for some time and have talked about it with the commission. Whether it can be done I don't know and the commission has never decided," he said.

Water Is Produced

"I believe the estimate is that about 27,000 barrels of water is being produced in the East Texas field daily. That is where our pressure is going. Cottingham said the commission was facing a very difficult problem in conserving pressure. He said the conservation law sets a minimum of 20 barrels daily for wells of the depth of those in East Texas.

"The law sets a minimum of 20 barrels daily and the same law prohibits waste. Which of these would, be upheld by the courts is the question," he said.

GIVEN WAGE INCREASE

PORT ARTHUR, July 11. (AP)—All employes now being paid on an hourly basis have been given a five per cent wage increase by the Gulf Refinery here. The increase was announced as going into effect August 1. About 4,000 employes were effected.

Merger Of Two Railroads Is Proposed By Chairman Jones

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—A suggestion that two railroads—the Western Pacific and the Denver and Rio Grande Western—merge into a new system stretching from Denver to the west coast, has been advanced by Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction corporation.

Both roads are indebted to the RFC and both are in process of reorganization.

Frock That Is Ace High

COCOA brown triple sheer silk makes this spectator sports model, typical of a trend which is a big favorite just now. It is finished with a small "schoolgirl" collar, a tailored belt of the same material and glass buttons. The big white Breton hat worn with it is bound with cocoa brown ribbon of the same shade. The bracelet is of wood.

Holden Party To Sail From New York City

Travelers Leave Here At Noon Saturday For East; Longs To Sail From San Francisco On Three Months' Trip

JULY is the month for vacations and scores of local residents are leaving for sea voyages or trips to places of interest inland as midsummer gets underway.

A party sponsored by Dr. W. C. Holden, acting head of the history department at Texas Technological college, left by automobile Saturday at noon for New York City, from where they will sail for Europe on a two months tour.

Those going were Mrs. Holden, Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, Miss Jane Alice Brownfield, Mrs. W. G. McMillan, Mrs. Byron C. Dickinson, all of Lubbock, Tom Holden of Sierra Blanca and Mrs. Zuleki Stroud, of Beverly Hills, Calif., aunt of Mrs. Dickinson.

Tour Ten Countries

They will sail on the steamer Geroistein Belgium, France, Switzerland, Italy, Jugo-Slavia, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Austria and Holland are included in the itinerary. The group will tour the countries in two automobiles.

Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Long have been informed that they planned to sail Saturday from San Francisco for Honolulu, arriving there Wednesday. They will spend 3 months with Mrs. Long's sister, Mrs. L. C. McCallum and Mr. McCallum.

Upon their return to the states, Mr. and Mrs. Long will visit the Texas Central Centennial exposition at Dallas and visit his mother, Mrs. J. W. Long.

Is In Paris

Cards received from Roger Knapp, son of Dr. and Mrs. Bradford Knapp, who is on a cruise of the world with an aunt, show that they had toured London and were visiting in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Boyd, who are on their wedding trip, have written that they went up Pike's Peak last Wednesday. Mrs. Boyd was Miss Evelyn Babb before her marriage at Raton, N. M. Saturday night, July 4.

Miss Margaret Cosby of Gilmer, who is the guest of relatives, is being complimented with informal parties. She is a former resident of Lubbock.

The younger set has enjoyed a breathing spell since the hectic weekend of the Fourth. Sub-Deb club is planning for an annual visitors' week early in August.

Miss Betty Alice Gordon is visiting in Dallas.

Miss Elizabeth Dryden, who returned Friday from Mexico City with a group which had taken a six weeks' archaeology field course, will remain here until after the Ko-Shari club reunion, which will begin Thursday night and continue through Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Godeke of 3001 Twenty-first street have returned from Madison, Wis., where they visited friends and relatives. They have been gone six weeks.

Goes To New York

Mrs. R. M. McCollom of 1508 Avenue K has gone to New York to spend three weeks with her son, R. N. McCollom.

Mrs. M. H. Adkisson and small son, Dan, 2427 Twenty-second street, will spend this week visiting Mrs. Adkisson's sister-in-law in Amarillo and a sister in Groom.

Miss Dorothy Vandagriff and Mrs. W. C. Young are to return tonight from Big Spring, where they are attending a house party.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. Davis are expected to return home today from Tyler, where they went for their daughter, Molly, who visited there about three weeks.

County Will Be Well Represented At A. And M. Short Course

The Woman's Angle

BY MARGARET TURNER
Woman's Editor

SHATTERED bodies, shattered glass, wreckage, sudden death—all because a carload of people on an outing cannot be contented to enjoy the good outdoors for wanting to get home to wonder what on earth they can do for the rest of the day.

THE LITTLE THINGS

ONE of the current songs runs something about "these things remind me of you," listing a number of simple things. You know we people really are a rather simple lot, often foolish but so much alike in the things that we admire deep in our hearts. Thinking on the theme of the song we were reminded of the "little things" that recall the following to our mind: Any Teutonic haircut—Pete Cawthon; hearing a car roar out late at night without the muffler, Weldon and Gaylord Hankins during high school days; pink carnations, Dr. M. C. Overton; The Matador song from "Carmen," W. R. Waghorne; tiny tot revues, Patricia June Lindsey; "My Friends," President Roosevelt; in praying, "Our Father and Our God," Dr. Jack M. Lewis; philosophical discussions, Tom B. Morrison, now of Hobbs, N. M. and Dr. John C. Granbery, now of Georgetown; Scottie dogs, Mrs. Sled Allen's kennels.

THE Four Marx Brothers are named Arthur, Julius, Leonard and Herbert. You'll have to identify them, however. . . . They've changed the Astaire-Rogers new picture title from "I Won't Dance" to "Swing Time." . . . Jack Kirkland, the man who wrote "Tobacco Road" was once the press agent of Tom Mix and his horse. . . . Bread that is too fresh to slice thinly for sandwiches can be cut easily if placed in the refrigerator to chill for an hour or so. . . . John Rosenfield, jr., and Jimmy Lovell, dramatic critics on the Dallas Morning News and Dallas Times-Herald, respectively, had quite a lively little spat last week over the relative press value of Roberts Ripley and Taylor. Each paper had practically ignored the other's attraction with the News holding the Taylor banner and the Herald rooting for Ripley. A lotta fun we'd say. . . . Dr. W. C. Holden discovered after he had taken a room in a hotel in Mexico City during his recent visit there that it was the one occupied by D. H. Lawrence during the time he wrote "Plumed Serpent." . . . Local folk who have seen a preview of "The Green Pastures" are most enthusiastic in its praise.

ON FALLING ASLEEP

IF you suffer from insomnia you'll be interested in the sleep-producing secrets we learned of recently. A woman in Kansas says that a glassful of grapefruit juice taken immediately before retiring, makes her sleepy. A New York girl solved her insomnia troubles when she learned to cover her eyes with tiny cotton pads and to tie these in place with a narrow bandage. If not a ray of light seeps through her lids into her eyes she is able to go to sleep quickly.

Several people insist that a glass of hot milk before going to bed is the answer. Others say that it is a mistake to eat or drink anything. From these conflicting opinions, it would appear that you have to solve your own sleeping problems by the trial and error method.

THE SHORT SKIRTS

IT's past the time to bemoan that "skirts are going to be shorter." My friends that time has already arrived! Paris says wear your skirt to where the calf of the leg begins to bulge. That means 13 inches from the floor for some; even 18 inches for others, depending on the height and build of the woman.

If you have declared all along that you would not shorten your dresses no matter who decreed it well and good. But we wager that you join the line of feminists who will be trying to pull scant skirts over dimpled fat, skinny or bony knees. You may not like it, but you'll do it.

TAKING VACATIONS

THE annual debate is on as to whether a man and wife should take vacations together or apart. One man says he wants to go off to a lodge way back in the hills and fish and hunt with some of the boys. His wife asks "Oh yeah?" in an ugly undertone, insinuating that he wants to go off and play around with some women.

How can there be a rule when circumstances so alter cases? To an onlooker it appears that about this time of the year workers of the opposite sex begin to tire of working around each other. They'd like a little free time off to think, to play or just to loaf.

AREN'T WE ALL?

WE know girls who are tired of hearing about baseball, golf scores, blistered backs, the sight of polo shirts, smelly pipes and political talk. They'd like to escape just as much as the men would like to get away from the sight of dresses and cosmetics and other feminine junk. Office glamor is best pictured at the cinema; it rings false in true life.

Delegates To Leave Friday

Visit To Dallas Centennial Exposition Is Scheduled; Speakers Are Well Known In This Section

Lubbock county home demonstration work will be represented at the 27th annual short course at Texas A. and M., College Station, July 20-25, by eight girl delegates and eleven women delegates, it was announced Saturday by Miss Norfleet Grimes, home demonstration agent.

The county has been assigned ten women delegates, and as many state officers as may reside here. Mrs. E. F. Alford, Carlisle, is state chairman of the education department, and as such, is not included in the limited number.

Several days ago four additional girl delegates were assigned the county, owing to the fact that other counties in the district did not use their allotment. These will be selected at a meeting to be held Monday by Miss Gladys Sanders, assistant agent in charge of the girl's work.

"Counties with a home demonstration agent may have up to ten delegates, in addition to any state department representative," Miss Grimes explained. "Those counties with only a county agent may send one woman delegate. I expect Lubbock will have one of the large delegations at the short course."

Lubbock County Delegates

Besides Mrs. Alford, the following women are to attend: Mrs. W. B. Copeland, Slide club, former president; Mrs. A. B. Allen, Southwest Ward, a wardrobe demonstrator; Mrs. W. A. Martin, Hurlwood, president of that club; Mrs. E. B. Shipp, Homemakers, wardrobe demonstrator; Mrs. C. F. Hedges, Hardy, president of that club; Mrs. J. H. Barnett, Broadview, to represent the county in the state clothing contest. She will wear a dress and slip that she made.

Mrs. John King, East Side, council delegate from the county home demonstration council; Mrs. Luther Green, East Side, wardrobe demonstrator; Mrs. W. H. Crosby, Slaton, wardrobe demonstrator and club delegate; Mrs. W. H. Lewis, Idalou, president of that club.

Present plans call for the party to make the trip in a chartered bus, leaving Lubbock some time after lunch Friday, July 17, and spending the night en route, arriving in Dallas about 9 a. m., Saturday. Stop will be made at Tent City, Texas Central Centennial.

Special arrangements have been made for the stay there. A rate of $4 will include the following: Luncheon, dinner and lodging the first day; breakfast and luncheon the second day. Guides will be furnished when the party visits the Centennial exposition.

Leaving the grounds some time after noon, Sunday, the party will reach College Station before night.

Besides Mrs. Alford on the program, Miss Lida Cooper, district home demonstration agent, also is on the program.

Mrs. Isle Mae Chapman, former Lubbock county agent, is another speaker as is Miss Ruby Mashburn, leader of district No. 1 and formerly agent in Lamb county.

Other women known in Lubbock county, include: Mrs. Maggie W. Barry, extension sociologist in rural women's organizations; Miss Lois Blair, foods and nutrition specialist; Mrs. Bernice Claytor, home improvement specialist; Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, extension editor; Miss Mildred Horton, vice-director and state agent; Miss Grace Neely, food preservation specialist.

programs was "Effective Democracy." This was traced through a study of democracy, efficiency in government, neutrality policy of the United States, fair distribution of wealth, international relations, the press, and improvement of the caliber of the race and liberty.

Guest speakers during the year were George W. Dupree, Mrs. William G. Dingus, M. E. Ogdon, H. C. Pender, Miss Jonnie McCrery and Chas. A. Guy.

Suits With Accessories Inspired By Texas Centennial Exposition

White suits are big favorites for casual occasions at the country club. These are made of spun rayon suiting, tailored on trim lines and worn with colored Ascot scarfs and Panama hats. One of the bags is linen, printed in cattle brand design; the other is "saddle brown" patent leather—both inspired by the Texas Centennial exposition.

For County Clerk

G. K. WATKINS

G. K. Watkins of Lubbock county, Saturday made his formal announcement as a candidate for county clerk, subject to action of the Democratic primaries. "I am a university graduate," said Mr. Watkins, "and have had ten years experience in a clerk's office. I have been a resident of Lubbock county for 18 years and desire to become your most efficient county clerk."

TREASURY REPORT

Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1) $94,026,230.60; expenditures $203,481,757.84, (including $36,074,-800.31 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures $109,455,527.-24. Gross debt $33,581,160,995.23, a decrease of $40,294,970.25 under the previous day. Gold assets $10,623,-562,236.05.

WOULD FINISH HIGHWAY

OLTON, (Special)—A petition signed by more than 500 persons, has been sent to Governor Allred asking that highway 28 in Lamb county be completed. The Lamb county sector is the only unfinished section, it is claimed, on the highway between Wichita Falls and Parwell.

Sam Ainsworth and Frank Turner have returned from a week's vacation to points of interest in New Mexico.

ENDORSE SANITATION

MANILA (AP) — The sanitation work in the Philippines promoted by the United States for more than 20 years would be continued under bills introduced during the June session of the new national assembly. Measures for water systems in several towns were backed by arguments that safe drinking water, assuring public health, is an integral part of national defense.

From Lou To Louella

Wee Bits Of Gossip Giving Comings, Goings, Doings Of Well Known People

DEAR Louella: What with everyone running away on vacations and Lou stuck to her desk, this attempt to extract sparkling paragraphs from the daily routine keeps me pecking under the surface of things.

I was caught in the act while pecking for something which looked as if it might be sure fire in holding you beyond the first paragraph. But for the modesty, or maybe there is another reason, of a local young man I could have given you a description of Robert Taylor from a new angle. A local store employe met him in Hollywood WHEN. His description might have been incoherent, however. He didn't even notice the color of his eyes.

One Less Stag

One less figure will grace the stag lines this fall, when Bryan Harper leaves for San Antonio to become a flying cadet at Randolph field. He passed the examination recently and he is happy about it. Bryan was graduated in June from Tech. "There's something about a uniform" and I guess Bryan and the uniform ought to panic 'em.

I'LL bet I would like Mrs. J. E. West, who lived here only four and one-half months before she was off for New York to embark on her 11th voyage, (and most of us looking with yearning eyes toward our first). She will spend four months in Manchester, Eng.

I just read in the Dallas Morning News about some persons I know. The Gus Fords were among guests at an entertainment in Dallas for a visitor, Mr. and Mrs. Ford left Lubbock last spring when he obtained a leave of absence from Tech to work in the historical division of the Centennial.

I noticed Joe Hill, jr., Canyon, who was a member of the last Byrd expedition, rated a paragraph by Alyce Siemens, visiting columnist for the News. Joe, who was kept running back and forth giving lectures in towns in this and other territories when he returned from the Arctic trip, "was voted the Congressional Medal of Honor for his bravery," the columnist informs.

Sees Mr. Taylor

Dorothy Blair and Willette Waters ran into George Zaralonetis when in Dallas July 4. George is the former local boy for whom we have words like dark and handsome. Just to mention Robert Taylor once more, Willette was on the same dance floor as the actor.

TECH'S student council president of the last two years is at present a black sheep among engineering graduates. Leon Ince is plant superintendent in a Dallas dairy. When he entered Tech, Leon surprised some by saying he already knew about dairies and he wanted some other course.

I heard that Lloyd Glover, journalism graduate from Tech, has become editor of Monty's Monthly, lower Rio Grande publication similar to West Texas Today. Lloyd already was editor of the Valley Press, Pharr newspaper.

Anna Cecil Evans is here for the summer after serving in Porto Rico as exchange teacher from Houston for a year.

FERNE HOLLAND, who is in Iloilo, Philippine islands, wrote to Leona Gelin of 1415 Avenue M that "teachers in Honolulu are just as anxious for a year in U. S. A. as we would be for a year in Honolulu — so they arrange it so that (provided qualifications are satisfactory, etc.) you can take a Honolulu teacher's place while she takes your place in U. S. A. — for a year only."

Sounds Perfect

I think that would be a perfect arrangement.

Ferne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Holland of 1311 Fourteenth street and is on a Dollar Steamship lines excursion.

In Honolulu, Ferne was the guest of Mrs. Albert Mangiesdorf, the former Celeste Ellis of Lubbock.

Five leis were presented to the Lubbock young woman after she had arrived in Honolulu harbor while bands played at 7 o'clock in the morning.

Yours, Lou.

New Building For City Is Reported

Remodeling of seven residences and building of three new ones accounted for construction activity covered by 10 building permits filed during the week to Saturday noon, D. A. Forbess, city building inspector, reported.

The permits totalled $17,655 for the week, raising July totals to $27,-282 and those for the year to $387,-966.50.

Owners of the property and improvements are:

R. C. Goodwin, brick veneer residence at 2803 Twentieth street, $6,500; B. M. Wells, frame residence at 312 Paris, $550; and Claude Tatum, frame residence at 1602 Avenue C, $300, all new construction.

Myrtle Dunn, remodeling at 2012 Fourteenth street, $2,500; B. F. Hodges, remodeling at 1416 Avenue E, $275; Dave Carruth, remodeling at 602 Avenue E, $175; W. Brophy, remodeling at 2310 Fourteenth street, $100; J. C. Kerr, remodeling at 1811 Twenty-fourth street, $3,-605; Guy L. McAfee, remodeling at 2008 Main, $1,000; and John A. Mathis, addition to home at 2113 Fourteenth street, $650.

TREAT MANY ACRES

OLTON, (Special)—About 25,000 acres of land in this county has been treated to prevent wind erosion. Practically all the land was contoured. Farmers cooperating received approximately $5,000 or 20 cents an acre, for the work.

Gossip Of Filmland

"Gimme-Gimme" Is The Tune Of Fan Mail Received By Majority Of The Stars

BY ROBBIN COONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, July 11—The middle name of many a movie fan is Gimme.

Gimme-a-photograph is a fellow who writes to every player, even to players who have never appeared in a film.

GARY COOPER

But photographs and autographs by no means end the demands. Money, money, money is an endless refrain, varied by such pleas as these:

A New Yorker would like Gary Cooper's latest sports suit.

A rubber nose from Charles Laughton, who had six made for "Cyrano de Bergerac," would be appreciated by four different fans.

'Send Me Your Dog'

GEORGE Raft's neckties have a special appeal to a certain English fan.

"Party ideas" from Carole Lombard would please several fan hostesses. (But Jane Peters of Rockland, Ill., wanted just a letter from Carole signed with her real name, Jane Peters.) A woman in Milwaukee lost her pet dachshund—she thinks the Lombard pooch would substitute admirably. Stuart Erwin, the candid camera addict, can please several fans who want no more than an Erwin-snapped photo of Garbo in her dressing room.

Wanted: Blueberry Pie

UNA MERKEL

Ann Harding, Jean Harlow, Ginger Rogers get requests for locks of hair, but Mary Boland was asked for the combings from her brush.

A Rochester, Minn., woman wants her son to have medical education. She wrote 15 different players about it.

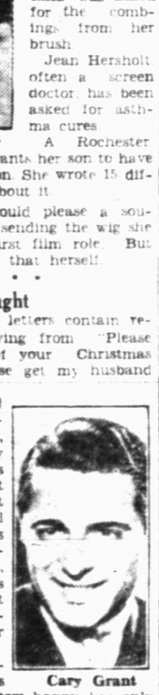

Myrna Loy could please a souvenir hunter by sending the wig she wore in her first film role. But Myrna treasures that herself.

Bail Bond Sought

MAE WEST'S letters contain requests varying from "Please send me one of your Christmas cards" to "Please get my husband out of jail."

Cary Grant and many other players could adopt, right now, any of several youths who think it would be a great idea. Usually all the fan asks is a job and servant's quarters, but one lad has written Grant with the adoption plea for three years.

Cary Grant

"The Green Pastures," Billed At Palace, Today's New Offering

Dark Angel Is Broadway Hit

"White Fang" On At Lindsey; "Don't Get Personal" Is At Lyric While Tech Is Offering "China Seas"

PALACE—Sunday, Monday and Tuesday: "The Green Pastures" (Warner). Rex Ingram, Oscar Polk, Eddie Anderson, Frank Wilson, Myrtle Anderson.

A man, teaching his black pickaninnies in Sunday school, tells them what heaven was like before the world was created. Story of Adam and Eve is bared and the battle of Jericho and at last when "De Lawd" returns to heaven filled with love and compassion.

BROADWAY—Sunday, Monday and Tuesday: "The Dark Angel" (Goldwyn). Fredric March, Merle Oberon, Herbert Marshall.

Tragedies in the lives of a girl and two men. She loves one of them and the other loves her. The war fakes both men and in the trenches the man who never loved comes to a realization of his adoration. He tells her when home on leave but their plans to marry are cancelled by a sudden call. He is reported killed and her life is broken.

LINDSEY—Sunday, Monday and Tuesday: "White Fang" (20th Century-Fox). Michael Whalen, Jean Muir, Slim Summerville.

A man is persuaded to guide another to a gold mine far in the north. Miles of trackless snow prove too much for the man and he goes mad and jumps over a cliff. The guide is overcome but is guarded by a wolf which he later adopts. Posing as the mine owner he takes possession. Later the real owner is found with a bullet through his head. The guide is accused but is saved by the wolf and sister of the man he is accused of slaying.

LYRIC—Sunday, Monday and Tuesday: "Don't Get Personal" (Universal). James Dunn, Sally Eilers, Pinky Tomlin.

Two broke young graduates decide to sell their services at auction. They are saved on the block by a pretty girl. Then the fun begins when they set out on a cross country tour to return her to her family in Ohio.

TECH—Sunday, Monday and Tuesday: "China Seas" (MGM). Clark Gable, Jean Harlow, Wallace Beery.

TEXAN—Sunday and Monday: "The Country Doctor" (Fox). Jean Hersholt, June Lang, Slim Summerville, Dorothy Peterson, Dionne quintuplets.

The story of a country doctor's long fight to better conditions of his people in the north woods and then of the great miracle of quintuplets being born and of his fight to keep them alive. He becomes famous overnight but never forgets his purpose in life.

PALACE—Wednesday and Thursday: "Spendthrift" (Paramount). Henry Fonda, Pat Patterson, Mary Brian, George Barbier.

A young man is besieged by creditors after going through a fortune. He sells his polo ponies and hopes for a win of the Kentucky derby with his race horse. The horse loses. He marries but the girl leaves him when she finds he is broke. He finds romance again and this time is happy and goes to fame as a radio sports commentator.

BROADWAY—Wednesday and Thursday: "I'll Love You Always" (Columbia). Nancy Carroll, George Murphy.

LINDSEY—Wednesday and Thursday: "Educating Father" (Fox). Jed Prouty, Shirley Deane, Dixie Dunbar, Spring Byington.

A picture dealing with the efforts of the younger members of the family to bring dad up to date. But father is a well-meaning, small town druggist who lives only to bring happiness to his wife and children, and enjoy an occasional fishing trip.

LYRIC—Wednesday and Thursday: "Break Of Hearts" (RKO-Radio). Katharine Hepburn, Charles Boyer.

The romance of a music student's sorely tried love for a dashing concert master, the devastating heartache of a lost love and the ecstasy of the rebirth of that love.

TECH—Wednesday and Thursday: "Pursuit" (MGM). Chester Morris, Sally Eilers.

Carefree romance of a young couple spiriting a child out of another state, site of a guardianship suit. They dodge motor patrolmen, hide in auto camps, barns and other places and have thrilling adventures along the Mexican border.

TEXAN—Tuesday and Wednesday: "The Petrified Forest" (Warner). Leslie Howard, Bette Davis.

A young transient wanders into a wayside inn where he meets a girl who falls in love with him at first sight. They are held captive by a gang of desperadoes and their love blossoms in the center of danger and is brought to a climax when he is shot.

TEXAN—Thursday: "Stars Over Broadway" (Warner). Pat O'Brien, Jane Froman, James Melton, Jean Muir, Frank McHugh, Phil Regan.

Private lives, loves and struggles of radio stars. A young theatrical agent is about to say goodbye to the world because he is unable to find any clients. Then he hears a porter in his hotel sing and carries the young man to fame and fortune.

PALACE—Friday and Saturday: "Three Cheers For Love" (Paramount). Eleanore Whitney, Robert Cummings, William Frawley, Roscoe Karns.

A carefree collection of kids set out to turn a broken down boarding school into a modern course in melody and they have a swell time doing it.

BROADWAY—Friday and Saturday: "Hitch Hike Lady" (Republic). Alison Skipworth, Mae Clark, Arthur Treacher.

LINDSEY—Friday and Saturday: "The Courageous Avenger" (Supreme). Johnny Mack Brown, Warner Richmond, Helen Erickson.

A young range rider and terror of bandits takes the trail to clean up after the bandits continually steal gold from a mine and then kidnap the girl of his heart.

LYRIC—Friday and Saturday: "Song Of The Trail" (Ambassador). Kermit Maynard, Evelyn Brent.

A rodeo champion and crack marksman takes a hand to rid the town of a gang of hoodlums who have made it their especial headquarters and territory.

TECH—Friday and Saturday: "Wake Up And Dream" (Universal). Russ Columbo, Roger Pryor, June Knight.

A vaudeville trio finds it tough sledding keeping in coffee and doughnuts. One of them is engaged to sing in a big musical through the use of the other's wits. They're uncovered, however, and leave town on the rear end of a truck. Then they arrive in Hollywood one jump ahead of the sheriff but meet up with an amorous woman and things break a little better.

TEXAN—Friday and Saturday: "Blazing Justice" (Spectrum). Bill Cody, Gertrude Messinger.

An adventurous cowboy is falsely accused of murder and robbery. To prove his innocence he is forced to fight his way through a band of ruthless killers.

"China Seas" is the current attraction at the Tech, starring Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Wallace Beery.

Military Board At Fort Sill Investigating Fatal Crash Of Friday; Two Others Are Critically Injured

FORT SILL, Okla., July 11 (AP)—An army balloon crash which killed two men and injured two others was investigated today by a military board at the army post here.

The 53,000 cubic foot spherical balloon burst into flames late yesterday when it lost altitude and struck a wooded hilltop near Cogar, Okla., in northeastern Caddo county.

Farmers running to the crash scene found Master Sergeant Ralph J. Rumple, 46, Milwaukee, Wis., dead, and Sergeant Douglas M. Tucker, 33, Fort Sill, so badly burned he died soon after he was taken to an Anadarko hospital.

The pilot, Sergeant Joseph Murray, 31, Fort Sill, was in a hospital at the army post with severe shoulder and leg burns. Minor injuries were suffered by Capt. Frederick D. Lynch, San Antonio, Tex., who had been transferred to Fort Sill only a week ago.

Tucker and Capt. Lynch were passengers, while Rumple and Murray were in charge of the craft.

The balloon was on a monthly flight from the Fort Sill base to train men in what to do should an observation balloon break from its moorings.

As the balloon neared the end of the four-hour flight problem it dropped lower and lower.

"We were having a hard time to stay above the ground," Murray explained. "We tried to clear the hill but saw we couldn't make it so we pulled the rip-cord for a crash landing."

The balloon took fire when the cord was pulled, he said. "I can't understand why it burst into flames," he added. "We would have landed all right if we hadn't caught fire."

FRIDAY EVENING BIBLE CLASS
M. H. Duncan, teacher
Tabernacle Baptist Church,
1501 Avenue N

The lesson for next Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock continues the study of the second chapter of the Epistle to the Hebrews—the Christ who became man and suffered that he might become our Great High Priest. This book is closed to those who do not understand the types of the Old Testament and a special study will be made of these types including the Levitical priesthood and the worship connected with it. This is the most neglected part of the New Testament and yet the richest, and any believer will be greatly blessed by looking into its teachings. All are invited to come and join us in this study for just one hour each week.

Brief Bits Of News About Automobile Dealers, Sales And Activities Of The Industry In Local Circles

SOME SIMPLE RULES

Automobile owners—but not filling stations—could profit by abiding by a series of simple rules worked out by a General Motors company engineer calculated to turn 100 per cent of the gasoline used in a motor car into comfortable and economical transportation.

It's up to the motorist, but if he wishes to save on gasoline, and at the same time save his machine, these rules might aptly be applied:

Accelerate gently. Tamping on the accelerator pumps more gas into the cylinders than can be used. Keep the foot steady.

Holding the car in second gear until it gets up to high speed may easily double the gas used in getting under way.

Always try to coast to a gradual stop. It costs money in gasoline to rush up to a stop light and then jam on the brakes.

Faulty spark plugs may waste as much as 10 per cent of the gasoline. It's a good idea to have them tested occasionally.

44 NEW CARS DELIVERED

Lubbock agencies delivered 44 new gasoline consumers and 70 used machines last week, with three agencies not reporting.

Scoggin-Dickey Motor company experienced a heavier than usual Pontiac and Buick week. A Pontiac four-door sedan was delivered to White Star Coaches of Brownfield, a Pontiac master coupe to G. H. WEEK JULY 13-18

Our Railroads

The courage and vision of pioneer railroad builders live again today in the hearts and minds of 750,000 workers who make up the human side of Western Railroads and their allied interests. The railroads are pushing on to new frontiers... frontiers of finer, faster service at lowest cost per mile.

Get acquainted with your railroad employees. Phone, write or call your railroad agent for information about travel or shipping by train to any part of America.

"FIRST in Lubbock "1ST On The South Plains"

SUNDAY AVALANCHE-JOURNAL

Published every Sunday Morning by the Avalanche-Journal Publishing Co., Inc., 1211 Texas Avenue.

CHAS. A. GUY, Editor and Publisher — PARKER F. PROUTY, General Manager

It is not the intention to cast reflection upon the character of anyone knowingly, and if through error we should, the management will appreciate having our attention called to same, and will gladly correct any erroneous statement made.

An independent Democratic newspaper supporting in its editorial columns the principles which it believes to be right and opposing those questions which it believes to be wrong, regardless of party politics; publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times.

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Postoffice at Lubbock, Texas, according to the provisions of the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879 and under the ruling of the Postmaster-General.

Prepare Yourself To Vote

TWO weeks from today a scattering of people over the South Plains will be saying to their relatives and friends:

"I didn't know who to vote for for such-and-such office yesterday so I just voted for the one whose name I'd heard".

Or:

"I didn't know whom to vote for in that race, so I scratched 'em both".

Don't YOU be one of those who will go to the polls uninformed; don't YOU let yourself be in the position of voting for or against some candidate without first finding out why you should vote for or against him.

One of the greatest of our public faults is procrastination at election time.

Texas—and every other state, too, for that matter—is full of men and women who are always "too busy", or "too tired", or "not interested enough" to get the facts about the candidates who seek to carry on the public's business. Texas and its sister states often elect an incompetent and defeat a competent, simply because the individual voters won't find out who is who and what is what before entering the voting place.

Every voter on the South Plains still has plenty of time to find out the facts concerning all the candidates from governor to public weigher.

Every voter can make the opportunity to learn the issues and weigh them before election day arrives.

YOU should be one who arms himself with facts so you can vote intelligently.

Get busy tomorrow!

THE COTTON SITUATION

Report of the federal crop reporting board in Washington that there would be approximately 30,621,000 acres of that crop this year caused the price of cotton to jump approximately $3 a bale higher.

The board estimated acreage increase would be 9.8 per cent over last year. The 1935 crop acreage was estimated at 27,888,000 acres; the 1934 crop, 27,860,000 acres; the 1933 crop, 40,248,000 acres. Production last year was 10,628,000 bales; 1934, 9,636,000 bales; 1933, 11,047,000 bales.

Five year average, 1928 to 1932, was 41,424,000 acres, with a record crop in 1931 of 17,005,000 bales.

Cotton is the South's cash crop and, based on the same production as last year, 1936 production should exceed 11,000,000 bales. Of this, Texas should gin about one third.

Should the condition that now prevails in virtually every community in the 20-odd counties in this area be maintained throughout the growing season until harvest, the largest crop in the history will be gathered adjacent to Lubbock.

Conditions at this time are excellent, farmers and cotton men agree. Let us hope they will continue. With cotton selling for 13 to 15 cents a pound we'll be going places this fall.

ACTIONS AGAINST ACCIDENTS

President Roosevelt's approval of plans for a nation-wide study of the cause and prevention of automobile accidents certainly should be warmly welcomed.

When the traffic toll of a single week-end is nearly 75 deaths in 22 states, not to mention innumerable injuries, surely it is high time that some federal action be taken.

The measure which the president has approved authorizes the secretary of agriculture to make a nation-wide survey of highway targedies and find ways to avoid these accidents, which annually claim thousands of lives and maim additional thousands. The co-operation of every state, town and city accordingly is going to be necessary.

It should be given freely, so that a gigantic mass attack can be made on this problem.

Relief won't spoil Americans permanently. The caviar folks of 1929 quietly returned to hash when they had to do it.

We don't believe the support of W. R. Hearst need worry Landon, as he wouldn't have it after 1938 anyway, if elected.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also; knowing that tribulation worketh patience;

And patience, experience; and experience, hope;

And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.—Romans, V: 3-5.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON

By Ray Tucker

DEMOCRATIC higher-ups face the fact that the drouth may cost them five states in the so-called "dust bowl." It may mean the physical disappearance of votes from territory where they cannot be spared.

Agricultural experts estimate that 35,000 farm families have already emigrated to coastal states from regions ravaged by dust, drouth, grasshoppers. Every day more people are moving out, and emergency plans contemplate the exit of additional thousands. They will have no vote in November, and since they were presumably pro-Roosevelt, it amounts to a definite, mathematical loss. Moreover, they have quit states where the Lemke-Coughlin-Townsend ticket may cut most seriously into Mr. Roosevelt's strength—the Dakotas, Montana, Colorado, Nebraska.

This new catastrophe upsets other New Deal arrangements. It cuts down the sum Harry Hopkins will have for relief work elsewhere. It will stop or reduce repayments by farmers on loans advanced by various federal agencies. Politico-economists see it as FDR's worst break so far.

FORESTALLING: FDR was putting in a good word for himself when, speaking of Thomas Jefferson, he said: "He was a great gentleman. He was a great commoner. The two are not incompatible."

It was the closest the President has come to expressing his deep, personal resentment of his own class—the wealthy and socially prominent. It was his covert answer to the indictment that he has deserted and betrayed his brethren—and breeding—to side with the "forgotten man," the "underdog" and the "common man." That's the grudge which many of his "economic royalists" hold against him. It accounts for the personal nature of anti-Roosevelt feeling in these circles. Their talk has reached the President's ears, of course. When it doesn't amuse him, it angers him.

Mr. Roosevelt also forestalled political baiters, who have been making the same charge in reverse. They have pictured him as a land-holding plutocrat more concerned for his own aggrandizement than for the masses' millennium.

FINANCES: National Chairman Farley's decision to keep campaign costs down to $2,000,000 amounts to making a virtue of necessity. The pickings are lean for the Democrats this year.

Former contributors are making out checks to the Liberty league and the Republican National committee. At least 50 heavy angels of 1932 won't show up as Democratic bag-fillers in this fight. Some have bluntly rebuffed Messrs. Farley and Morgan by letter and wire. Others have not taken time or a three-cent Farley stamp to acknowledge begging letters.

The party's money boys figure that Jackson and Jefferson Day dinner receipts, convention book sales and advertising and 6,300 nominators' meetings will eventually net $800,000. They will try to collect the balance from state organizations, wealthy office holders (diplomats especially) and friends of FDR. They want to avoid a deficit, for it's not easy for a defeated or reelected administration to liquidate debts.

SERIOUS: Don't be deceived by this government's apparent indifference to any tieup between Tokio and the Japanese official who bought navy secrets from the ex-yeoman recently convicted of treason. It confirms the belief of navy intelligence that Japan had been scouting our sea and land defenses for years.

Secretary Hull cannot afford to take public cognizance of Japan's activities. But it escaped nobody around the State department that neither the Tokio Foreign Office nor Ambassador Saito offered regrets, apologies, or even a demurrer. To everwatchful and suspicious sea dogs the silence was significant.

Cynical Washington has often scoffed at navy intelligence's spy fears and scares, and some of their tales sound as incredible as Baron Munchausen's. But Japan's aplomb in the face of this scandal has stirred hard-boiled higher-ups.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

THERE are persistent reports in informed Republican circles that Alf Landon will take the bit in his teeth with respect to monetary policy and pledge himself to return the dollar to a full gold standard within four years if elected. His indicated intention to flout the careful hedging of the G. O. P. platform has New York party leaders worried. Regardless of their personal views about money, they cannot see this course gaining any votes not already in the bag for him, and it would certainly jeopardize Republican chances of regaining the vital farm vote. Mr. Landon will be urgently reasoned with along this line.

Landon's selection of Charles P. Taft and Ralph West Robey as advisers adds credence to these reports. Taft is known to have conferred with Ogden Mills and other Eastern monetary conservatives before the convention. Robey is as confirmed a sound moneyite in the traditional sense as you can find in New York.

The ever-present race question is also plaguing New York G. O. P. chiefs. Numerous protests have been sent to Landon because no Jew was honored by a place at the speakers' table when John Hamilton staged a party here recently. That's a dangerous oversight in this state. To date Mr. Landon has not replied to the protests.

POKER: The Postoffice department recently announced that six airlines had agreed to a settlement of their claims against the government as a result of Farley's cancellation of their mail contracts.

There was plenty of intricate dickering behind that settlement. All of the lines whose contracts had been annulled filed suit for damages as well as for money due but never paid them for the last six weeks in which the old contracts were in effect. Government lawyers privately advised the Postoffice some time ago that its defense was very weak and recommended negotiations for a compromise adjustment. The Postoffice accordingly obtained an appropriation to cover the unpaid portion of the old contracts and turned on the heat to induce the airlines to accept this amount and drop their suits.

It was a lively game of poker while it lasted. The appropriation was earmarked to return to the general fund if the airlines did not agree to the settlement by June 30 of this year. The Postoffice used this time limit as a squeeze, pointing out that if the companies didn't take the money now, there was no telling when they would get it—if ever. The lines for their part stalled and bickered to the last minute.

Another complication: Some lines were just as glad to settle in order not to have to go to court. Others—which had not taken part in Walter Brown's famous "collusion conference"—balked. The Postoffice tried to make the former bring pressure on the latter in order to clear up all claims. But it didn't work. Neither United nor Eastern Airlines settled in the end and their damage suits remain alive—to the great chagrin of the Postoffice. Both have clean skirts on the "collusion" charge.

TAMMANY: President Roosevelt sent a very kind message to Tammany at its Independence Day celebration—in marked contrast to Jim Farley's chilly attitude towards the Tiger at Philadelphia. The Tammany lads applauded publicly, snickered exultingly in private—and will continue to plan to lick FDR by failing to turn in a normal Democratic majority in New York City. Kind words have about as much effect on those boys as a slingshot on an armored car.

THE NEW BOOKS

Carl Carmer, Author Of "Stars Fell On Alabama," Pens Another Book, "Listen For The Lonesome Drum;" Biographies Of Missionaries In Week's List; Hobby Books Out

"LISTEN FOR A LONESOME DRUM," by Carl Carmer; Farrar and Rinehart, N. Y.

CARL CARMER'S "Listen For A Lonesome Drum" is another of those loosely articulated chronicles such as "Stars Fell On Alabama" and likewise another example of Mr Carmer's genius for titles. Or perhaps of his publishers' genius for titles. You want very much to know what the lonesome drum might be.

It's a noise heard in parts of New York state, and nobody knows what it is. It's also the least important part of Mr. Carmer's new book, a kind of thin thread for the sewing together of his collection of New York state lore and legend. There's much better to be had.

Does A Little Sneering

There is, for one, the story of Oneida Community, which recently was told at full length by another writer. Mr. Carmer's attitude toward the eugenic experiments of the Community is tolerant and rather charming. For another, there is the story of the little Fox sisters, which leads into a modern chronicle of a spiritualist meeting at Lily Dale or some such place. This he gently sneers at; he also uses it for somewhat less gentle sneers at Chautauqua.

A small part of the Mormon story also is included. There is much more of it connected with New York than Mr. Carmer had had time, or energy, to include. The Rochester neighborhood comes in for a raking—some of the statements made about the city and its cultural activities will be challenged. Or perhaps nobody will take the trouble.

Other Stories Related

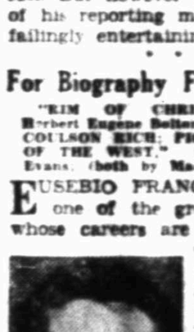

The man who was supposed to have been murdered because he threatened to expose Masonry is mentioned; so is the fabulous figure of the Universal Friend, a delightful example of religious zealot who liked the good things of life and knew how to get them. The Shakers, rattlesnakes, the Seneca Indians, the Covenanters, the Caleboguers—hundreds of people, things, superstitions, legends are mentioned. Obviously Mr. Carmer could do no more than skim the surface of his material. But however superficial most of his reporting may be, it is unfailingly entertaining.

For Biography Fans

"RIM OF CHRISTENDOM," by Herbert Eugene Bolton, and "CHARLES COULSON RICH: PIONEER BUILDER OF THE WEST," by John Henry Evans. (both by Macmillan, N. Y.)

EUSEBIO FRANCISCO KINO is one of the great missionaries whose careers are California and Catholic legends. But like many of these, he is only a name or less than a name to most of this country. Herbert Eugene Bolton has been collecting material about Kino for 25 years, has traveled a great many thousands of miles and spent many thousands of dollars. And at last he has brought him to life in a biography he calls "Rim of Christendom."

Forced Methodically

The book runs to 644 pages, and a higher percentage of its content grows from original research than is the case with 99 per cent of biographies. Kino is traced methodically from his home village in the Tyrolean Alps of Italy, through Germany, Mexico, the southwest as we understand it. He was an explorer, founder of missions, cattle man, cosmographer, wise man—he even chased pirates. Dr. Bolton's narrative is (within the limits of exact biography) rapid and readable. His references are numerous and all made explicit in the notes. In short, the book is a beautiful example of civilized, scholarly biography.

Less impressive in a literary way, but more directly connected with current American life, is John Henry Evans' "Charles Coulson Rich: Pioneer Builder of the West." Rich was an early day Mormon, one of those who worked and suffered in Illinois and Missouri, and crossed the plains to Utah. He too was a missionary in California, of a very different faith. He was also a missionary in Europe, a military commander of ability, a good business man, and when he wanted to be, a diplomat.

Was A Man's Man

But beyond those things, he was a man's man in a rough world. When he was treacherously shot at while departing from a conference under a flag of truce he could give his assailant one look, and resume his leisurely departure. He was fair, sincerely a believer in his faith, and useful to his community.

Even more, he was a man who could make six wives happy at once, and be the impartial and interested father of 50 children. There are not many such.

Tips On Hobbies

MODERN man seems to be in search of a hobby these days. He has more time on his hands than he ever had before—altogether too much time, in some cases—and he is hunting for something to do with it.

If you fall into that category, you ought to know about the little pamphlets that are being published these days by the Leisure League of America. So far some 27 of these have been printed. Offered at 25 cents apiece, they give the man in search of a hobby all kinds of tips.

Titles Best Guide

A glance at the titles is perhaps the best guide to the fields these pamphlets cover. Here are a half dozen or so, chosen at random from the list:

"Tropical Fish," "Photography for Fun," "Quilting," "Stamp Collecting," "Hiker's Guide," "Motor Camping," "The Knitting Book," "Better Bridge," "Working With Tools," "How to Sail."

On Using Tools

"Working With Tools," for example—it's written by Harry J. Hobbs—is designed for the man who wants to beguile his spare time with a bit of carpentry, model-making, or wood carving.

It tells what sort of tools he will need, how much he will need to spend, and how he can use his tools after he gets them.

"How to Sail," by Samuel Carter III, is for the landlubber who would like to do a little sailing; it tells him what sort of boat he is apt to need and how to use the craft after he has bought it.

If your book store does not have these pamphlets, the offices of the Leisure League are at 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York.

He's King — But Remembers Old Pals

Many Americans Are Among Friends Of British Ruler

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 11.—"I am better known to most of you as the Prince of Wales. . . . And, although I now speak to you as the king, I am still that same man. . . ."

On March 1, 1936, King Edward VIII said this in his first broadcast message to the British people.

They took it to mean that all the things which lay near to his heart in his day as Prince of Wales would still be his care—promotion of British trade, care for the unemployed and the ex-soldiers, and wiping out of city slum areas.

But high society took still another view of it. For social lights it meant there would be no Prince Hal business. That famous character, as drawn in one of Shakespeare's historical plays, was a good fellow while a mere prince, but turned a cold shoulder on his old-time cronies when he became king.

No such change in King Edward was anticipated and no such change has occurred. His friends of the old days are his friend today—so far as the record of the new king's social doings has been made up.

Things will not go to full blast until after October, when court mourning for the late King George formally ends.

But, in the meantime, King Edward has already shown a difference between his reign and that of his father. King George very rarely accepted the hospitality of his friends. King Edward in the last few months has already done so a number of times.

Guest Of Dudley

His first week-end at a private house party was spent with the Earl of Dudley at Himley Hall in Worcestershire. The Earl, who is the same age as the king, having been born in 1894, was one of a small circle of intimate friends of the then Prince of Wales.

He was himself, as heir to the earldom, then only Viscount Ednam and sat in the House of Commons. His lovely wife, daughter of one of the Dukes of Sutherland, was the bright light of a charmed circle. She was killed in a flying accident in 1930 and that tragedy, if anything, brought ruler and friend closer together than ever.

Lord Dudley is a great owner of coal fields and recently visited America to confer with American steel kings, he being also the head of the British Steel Institute.

Not long after his visit to Himley Hall, King Edward was the week-end guest of the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland at Sutton Place near Guildford.

Duke Very Wealthy

THIS host is not one of the small army of "dumb dukes." Very rich, owning most of the county of Sutherland, he has been under-secretary for the colonies, under-secretary of state for air, one of the chief officers in the great Tory organization, the Primrose League, and president of the Navy League.

He and his duchess have made a great success of their married life. Both are in their late forties. Both are film fans. Both have traveled in America and together have visited their properties in Canada.

Partly owing to the mourning period and partly because he cannot move about as freely as he did when Prince of Wales, the king misses the theater and cabaret. So his friends have brought both to him.

Not long ago Lady Cunard, an American by birth, gave a big dinner party for the king. The midnight entertainment was an entire act from one of the theatrical hits of the season, presented by the original company.

Pianists Score Big Hit

Shortly afterwards, Edward was the dinner guest of Captain and Mrs. Evelyn Fitzgerald. Captain Fitzgerald is the youngest son of the late

Chess And Checkers Players' Corner

Problems And News Concerning Those Old Favorites

WIDESPREAD interest in checkers and chess over the South Plains area has prompted this "corner" of the Sunday Avalanche-Journal's editorial page. Several score persons are actively engaged in chess play and chess clubs; several hundred belong to checkers clubs and play that grand old favorite.

Here is the latest checkers and chess news, along with problems and comment.

The Checker Board

The 28th annual Texas State Checker Tournament starts in Dallas tomorrow, and Vinson Stanphill (the hero of checker players around Lubbock and Gainesville) intends to be there. We expect to see him win the state championship again this year, but won't be surprised if he doesn't, as there will be players from far and near there. And then luck is a big factor, too.

Stanphill's tactics in checker tourneys are well known to his gang here in Lubbock. He knows book-play, but after he and his opponent make their first moves (on the opening they draw) he usually trys to make several queer and odd looking moves, to get his opponent on strange ground, then he cuts loose with his dazzling crossboard style of play.

10-14, 24-19 is a strong game for the white men. There has been a lot of play published on it lately. Here is some: 10-14, 24-19; 11-16 (Note A) 28-24; 16-20, 19-15; 7-10, 24-19; 9-13, 22-17 (Only move, but a good one) [illegible] Drawn.

Note A—If 6-10 (probably best) 22-17; and black has the hardest game but can draw on most variations.

Note B—1-5 loses, for example: [illegible] White wins.

Note C—1-6 again loses like in variation B. 7-11 is given to draw in "Scientific Checkers Made Easy" published by Willie Ryan two years ago, but the experts now claim it loses. Here is a variation copied from King Row Review recently: [illegible]

This week's problem is from Kear's and can be a life-saver sometimes when you are a man down. Place black kings on 22 and 23, and place white men on 31 and 30 and white king on 3. Black can play and draw.

Solution to last week's problem is easy. Place black men on 4, 5, 6, 11, 19 and 28, and place white men on 13, 14, 21, 30 and 32. Black moves and wins as follows: [illegible]

The Chess Board

Three players last week were tied for first place in Lubbock Chess club's club tournament. The standings:

Play will be continued when the club meets at 8 p. m. Monday in Hilton hotel. At least two men who are entering the tournament have reported no games played.

Government's Water Conservation To Be Stressed In Film Showing In Area

First Films On This Week

Seven Communities Of County Are To Be Given Chance To See Program; Advantages Of Work Are Stressed

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

FIRST of a series of film showings, to carry out the government's campaign for water conservation to stop wind erosion, will be held in Lubbock county Monday night with G. A. Dobkins, Amarillo of the soil conservation service presenting films.

Seven will be shown for the first series; later other films are expected to be brought here. The showings will be in school houses and the general public is invited.

Sponsored By Teachers

Pictures Stress Idea

In discussing the work, R. L. Burdette, vocational teacher at the Lubbock high school, and past president of the county group of teachers, said:

"Possibility of conserving and storing moisture for crop production, and to prevent wind erosion will be the principal idea that will be stressed in these pictures.

"Soil treatment and a winter covering of soils, to prevent blowing, has been worked out by the Soil Conservation service. Farmers who are interested in terracing their land this fall, will learn from them the type of terraces, height, width and the spacing that will fit each condition. Many times, terraces have failed to serve this purpose, because they were not properly spaced or constructed.

Becoming Interested

"Pasture improvement, by contour furrowing, is becoming increasingly interesting to South Plains farmers. Contour furrowing may increase the carrying capacity of a pasture or field, from eight to ten times. Furrowing holds the rain on the pasture, instead of allowing it to accumulate in lakes. Mr. Dobkins in his talks in connection with the films, will explain and discuss pasture improvement."

There are now some 8,120 acres of land in the county, terraced at the present time, according to a check by teachers. More than half of this was terraced during the past year. Present indications are that several times that amount will be terraced this year.

Would Increase Production

"If the remainder of the over 500,000 acres in Lubbock county were terraced, our crop production would be increased by one third, in wet years, to one half in dry years," said Mr. Burdette, "over what it is at the present time. Hundreds of farmers are now ready to terrace and they will be greatly interested in Mr. Dobkins' ideas on construction."

During the past winter, the then five vocational teachers and County Agent C. C. Jobson and his assistant, Charles A. King, jr., worked on a terracing program. Night schools were held at which the subject was discussed by teachers and others.

Some county machinery for road building, was used in the construction of terraces. Levels owned by the county, were used in drawing lines for the terraces and for contouring. Many demonstrations were held by the agents to show farmers how to run lines.

CLOTHE NEEDY

McPHERSON, Kas. (AP)—Kansas sheep, sacrificed because of the drouth a year ago, also provided clothing for the needy they helped feed last year. Women relief workers on WPA projects here converted the skins and wool into garments.

Seven Hundred Cars Of Onions Are Purchased By Government

COLLEGE STATION, July 11. (AP)—The commodities purchase section of the United States Department of Agriculture recently completed a purchase program of approximately 700 cars of onions from Texas producers for about $250,000, J. F. Rosborough, extension agriculturist, announces.

Rosborough said the price paid was on a basis of U. S. number one onions ranging from 45 to 55 cents a bushel. The onions will be distributed to relief agencies throughout the nation.

"There has been more onion planting this year than in any previous time of onion production in the state," he said. "The growing of Bermuda onions in Texas started more than 25 years ago near Laredo. Since then the growing of this crop has spread until it involves about 23 Texas counties, usually shipping from 6,000,000 to 8,000,000 bushels a year to eastern markets.

"Today the bulk of Bermuda onions used in the United States comes from Texas. With a normal crop," he said, "onions should bring about $3,000,000 a year into the hands of Texas growers.

"This year, because of increased acreage, prices dropped to as low as 30 cents a bushel, which is below the cost of production."

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Edwin Watts Chubb, who has taught nearly 10,000 students in his English classes since coming to Ohio University in 1900, will retire this summer as dean of the college of arts and sciences to devote his time to writing and lecturing.

Farm Yields Are Forecast

Practically Every Crop Over U. S. Is To Be Decreased This Year; Report Figures Gathered Before Drouth

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The department of agriculture forecast wheat production this year at 638,399,000 bushels, combining the winter and spring wheat crops, and corn production at 2,244,834,000 bushels.

The forecasts were based on the July 1 condition and gave an indication of the effects of the severe drouth to that date.

Lower Last Year

The combined winter and spring wheat crops last year totaled 623,444,000 bushels, as revised on complete census statistics, and the average production for the five years, 1928-32, was 836,564,000 bushels.

Corn production last year was 2,291,629,000 bushels and the five-year average, 2,553,424,000.

Winter wheat production this year is 512,085,000 bushels, compared with 481,870,000 bushels indicated a month ago, 646,203,000 bushels last year, and 622,252,000 bushels, the 1928-32 average.

Spring Wheat Lower

All spring wheat production indicated this year is 126,314,000 bushels, compared with 159,241,000 last year and 241,312,000, the 1928-32 average.

Durum wheat indicated production is 9,610,000 bushels, compared with 22,957,000 last year and 54,020,000 the 1928-32 average.

Other spring wheat indicated production is 116,704,000 bushels compared with 136,284,000 last year and 187,292,000 the 1928-32 average.

Other Crops Estimated

Indicated production based on July 1 conditions, of other important crops was reported as follows, with comparative statistics of last year's crop and the 1928-32 average, revised on census data.

Barley, 164,866,000 bushels, compared with 282,226,000 and 281,237,000.

Rye Crop Short

Rye, 26,380,000 bushels, compared with 58,928,000 and 38,212,000.

Hay (all tame), 65,743,000 tons, compared with 76,146,000 and 69,533,000.

Fruits Decreased

Grapes, 1,776,000 tons, compared with 2,455,000 and 2,200,000.

Sweet potatoes, 63,806,000 bushels, compared with 83,198,000 and 66,368,000.

Conditions Reported

The condition of the various crops on July 1 was announced as:

Corn, 72.8 per cent of a normal; all wheat, 60.9; winter wheat 66.3, all spring wheat 45.7, durum wheat 34.7, other spring wheat 47.0, oats 60.0, barley 60.3, rye 50.9, hay (all tame) 64.7, pasture 58.1, beans 76.6, peanuts 70.2, potatoes 73.5, sweet potatoes 58.8, sugar beets 80.9, hops 53.9.

The acreage, condition on July 1 and indicated production of important crops by principal producing states were announced as follows: Corn: Texas, 4,262,000; 56 and 57,537,000; winter wheat: Texas, 2,295,000; 77 (x) and 17,672,000.

Rubber-Tired Tractor May Cut Costs On Farm; Power Output Is Increased

Tractors such as these, featured by rubber tires, are said to make possible a reduction in fuel consumption.

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

DETROIT, July 11 (AP)—A new type of farm tractor which runs on rubber tires and plays its own radio while planting is credited by C. G. Krieger, agricultural engineer, with starting a mechanical revolution in American farming.

All in the last six months, he says, the lumbering farm tractor has been modernized, turned into high-compression, six-cylinder counterpart of the 1936 streamlined automobile.

Power Output Increased

"The average tractor," he says "works about 500 hour a year, using about 1000 gallons of motor fuel and 30 gallons of oil. If the 1,250,000 tractors now in service were changed over to high compression there would be a saving of over $30,000,000 in fuel and of $13,750,000 in oil costs per year.

"Rubber tires on tractors will also either increase the drawbar pull of the tractor by at least 25 per cent or will accomplish a 25 per cent reduction in fuel consumption.

Krieger estimates the possible saving of power used per acre of tractor cultivation at 50 per cent in the new machines.

Save Labor

They are lighter than those even of six months ago, he states, and are capable of performing heavier work in shorter time.

They have self-starters, electric headlights, spotlights and four speeds. "Finger-tip" steering and easily operated clutch and gear shifts are claimed as new items in saving human labor.

EXPECT LARGE CROP

LAREDO, July 11. (AP)—The largest citrus fruit crop in the history of this area is expected to be gathered in November. Trees in orchards in the surrounding country and yards of Laredo homes are bearing heavily, especially tangerines and grapefruit, and growers say the fruit is unusually large for this time of year. A number of growers are planning to increase their grapefruit acreage next year.

Fifty-Five In Farm Contest

Much Interest Being Shown In Master Farmer Contest Being Staged By Institute And Avalanche-Journal

Fifty-five farmers of the South Plains have made application to enter the Master Farmer Contest being sponsored by the Institute of Agriculture and the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, Mart G. Pederson, secretary, announces. These came in the first week after the entry blanks were sent out to county agents and vocational agriculture teachers over the territory.

While most of the entries so far, have come from Lubbock, Crosby and Hale counties, there have been a number from other counties.

Blanks may be secured by interested farmers from the county agent or from the vocational agriculture teacher.

Many farmers are enthusiastic over the contest, Mr. Pederson pointed out. They believe that it will stimulate more interest in a better program of farming and community development.

ONION PLANTS SHIPPED

RAYMONDVILLE, July 11. (AP)—Nearly 94,000,000 onion plants were shipped out of Willacy county to all parts of the world during the 1935-36 season, it was estimated here from figures gathered by the Raymondville Chamber of Commerce.

Uses Old Axiom
Planters Reminded By Agent's Advice

ROCKINGHAM, N. C., July 11. (AP)—Anna Lea Harris, home agent here, reminds planters of the old saying:

Retired Ease Is Reward For Lifetime Of Hard Farm Work

BARNHART, July 11. (AP)—Times have changed for Mr. and Mrs. Clint Owens, at least for Mrs. Owens.

She used to cook for seven men and milk 10 cows twice a day. She and her husband once lived in a tent and herded stock on the open range.

They accumulated 26 sections of land, and in 1908 divided 13 sections among their 10 children.

HONESTY PAYS

ENID, Okla., (AP) — Four Enid boys appeared before C. L. Owen, utility manager, and offered to pay for an $11 street light their baseball had broken.

"No charges, lads," Owen said.

He wrote each of the four a personal letter of commendation for display of sportsmanship.

He's King

Lord Fitzgerald of Kilmarnock. He was an officer during the World War and is now a wealthy stockholder.

To entertain the king, he had Riwacz and Landauer, pianists from Vienna, play duets. They are a big feature act in one of the hotel cabaret shows. The king liked them so well that he got them to play on and on, giving him the Viennese and Hungarian tunes he learned to love when he was in Central Europe last year.

The result was that the pianists did not get back for the hotel show until nearly 1 a. m., but they received an ovation when it was learned they had been entertaining the king.

Friend Of Commoners

BUT the monarch is not always entertained in ducal palaces or the town houses of the very rich. There are the Ernest Simpsons, for instance. Simpson is a Canadian, educated partly in America. He served in the Guards during the World war, and is now connected with shipping interests in The City—London's Wall Street. His wife is a Baltimore girl.

The Simpsons are not rich as society London rates riches. But they have a charming apartment in aristocratic Bryanston Square. It has a quiet, homey atmosphere. Here the king used to come before he mounted the throne and here he continues to come.

Sometimes it is for tea. Sometimes it is for "pot luck" at dinner or lunch. And the Simpsons are in turn often week-end guests at Fort Belvedere, the king's own private residence.

When he was Prince of Wales, he and the Simpsons often formed three of a small, select crowd at a congenial cocktail party or went to some successful show and dance later at the Embassy Club.

Favorite Dance Partner

Occasionally, although invited, Simpson could not go along. Thus, last year, business kept him in London, but Mrs. Simpson joined the other men and women in the prince's party at Biarritz in France and later in the Austrian Tryrol and Budapest.

The royal host likes Mrs. Simpson as a dancing partner and enjoys her witty talk. Their delightful freedom from an inferiority complex and their power to amuse has always made American women favorite table companions with the king.

Just the other day social London sat up and took notice when it read in the Court Circular the announcement of one of the king's first formal dinner parties.

Americans In Forefront

THE guests were Prime Minister and Mrs. Stanley Baldwin and Duff Cooper, minister or war, and his wife, Lady Diana—all old and valued friends.

Then there were the king's kinsman, Lord Louis Mountbatten, and wife; the First Sea Lord and Mrs. Chatfield, Lord and Lady Wigram and the king's equerry, the Hon. Piers Legh and wife.

The other guests were Lady Cunard, Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh, and the Simpsons. So the dinner had a decided American tinge.

In addition to the Lindberghs and Mrs. Simpson, Lady Cunard and Mrs. Piers Legh are also Americans by birth.

The Circular was a Simpson triumph. It sealed the fact that husband and wife were social superlatives. It also proved that England's king valued his friends for something else than titles or vast bank accounts.

Trephining, or brain surgery, was practiced successfully by American Indians thousands of years ago.

Give Me "Summer-Lay" and I'll Give You Eggs

All hens like Summer-Lay because it keeps them cool, healthy and laying. Flock owners like this feed too, because it makes them more profit with less worry.

SUMMER-LAY IS THE ONLY SUMMER FORMULA EGG MASH MADE.

Two things vitally important to all flock owners are . . . Health and Production, for, all profits depend on them. Summer-Lay is one feed that delivers the goods. . . . That's why most poultry men prefer

THE TARZAN TWINS, No. 91

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Dick and Doc took turn about snatching short naps, for they decided that one of them must be constantly alert during the long jungle night. They were safe from marauding lions, but there were other savage beasts, such as panthers, which could climb the tree.

Morning came at last with its welcome, inspiring light. Ukundo urged them to descend and continue their flight. "Must go hurry!" the pygmy exclaimed; "pretty soon Galla Galla come with many warriors. They catch us, and this time finish us for sure! . . .

. . . Though the Tarzan Twins were thinking solely of evading a pursuing fate, the intrepid Tarzan was hurling a new challenge into the very teeth of death. With seeming recklessness he was leading his warrior apes in a desperate attack on Gudah, the mad elephant.

To distract Gudah's attention so that Tantor, the friendly elephant, might strike a mortal blow, Tarzan leaped to Gudah's back. What was more, the valiant ape-man crept slowly toward Gudah's head, as if inviting the demoniac beast to seize him in that mighty trunk!

Two Congressmen, Seven State Judges, Five Senators Have No Opposition

Twenty-Eight House Members Also To Coast To Victory In First Texas Primary July 25

Six Congressional Districts See Candidates Supporting Townsend Plan; Fewer Seek Office Than In 1934

TWO candidates for Congress, seven for the district Courts of Civil Appeals, five for the State Senate and twenty-eight for the lower House of the Legislature will be nominated without opposition in the Democratic primary of July 25.

The number of contested congressional seats, nineteen out of twenty-one with a total of seventy-one candidates, set a new record for July primaries. In 1934 there were seven unopposed candidates, with fifty-six aspirants. The recent withdrawal of David M. Phillips, leaving Patman unopposed in the First District, kept the year's number of contested seats from being twenty out of twenty-one. R. E. Thomason of the El Paso district is the other unopposed candidate. District 8 (Harris County) reports fourteen candidates the largest number reported by any one district.

Six candidates in as many districts are reported as supporting the Townsend plan. They are Will A. Harris, District 4; C. A. Sherman, District 11; Adolph Seidemann, District 14; Noble G. Cofer, District 15; E. B. Speck, District 19 and Dr. H. F. Miller, District 21.

Only 446 candidates seek seats in the lower house of the Legislature this year against 510 in 1934. Twenty-eight are unopposed against twenty-four in 1934.

Thirty-four candidates aspire to the sixteen seats in the State Senate to be filled this year, against fifty-four in 1934. In the latter year only one candidate was unopposed.

Twenty-one seek places on the eleven Courts of Civil Appeals against twenty in 1934. Seven are unopposed against eight in 1934.

Trio Charged In Kidnaping

Mother Denies Any Plans For Kidnaping Daughter; Claims That She Was Taking Her On A Trip To Lubbock

FORT WORTH, July 11. (AP)—A mother, her husband and a grandmother were released from Tarrant county jail today on bonds of $3,500 each to await an examining trial Tuesday before Justice of the Peace Marvin Beaty on charges of kidnaping 14-year-old Juanita Hicks.

The defendants, arrested Wednesday in Anson and returned here Thursday, are Mrs. Corrine Bender, 29, the mother and bride of one week; K. C. Bender, her husband, and Mrs. Mary Coleman, mother of Mrs. Bender.

The complaints filed here probably will be turned over to the county grand jury next Tuesday or Wednesday for an investigation, Assistant District Attorney Dawson Davis said. Davis and Deputy Sheriff John S. Renfro signed the complaints which were filed in the justice court.

The girl allegedly was lured from the home of her father, Marshall Hicks of Fort Worth on the pretext of getting some clothing that belonged to her. But instead, the girl claimed, the defendants headed for the open country.

Mrs. Bender, former wife of Hicks, denied any plans to kidnap her daughter. She explained that her husband, whom she married in Marietta, Okla., last Saturday, is a salesman and that they were taking the girl with them on a trip to Lubbock.

After the Hicks were divorced a year ago, he was given custody of the daughter and she was awarded custody of a son, Kenneth 12.

Education To Be Given Ethiopians

ROME, July 11. (AP)—Ethiopian children may go to school but they will not be forced to attend, Italian colonial officials decided today.

"Obligatory education for African natives just does not work," an official explained. "You have your school packed the opening day and the next day—nobody."

Accordingly, the Italian conquerors of the East African kingdom have drafted plans for two types of schools to provide facilities for all children whose parents want them to be educated.

The first will be for native children with male teachers. The first classes are expected to open in October.

Others have been designed for Italians and foreigners and in some cases there will be women teachers.

For the Ethiopian children the schools will be largely elementary, emphasizing practical training in agriculture and the crafts. Some, however, will provide comparatively complete courses for the education of native professional men.

When Mrs. Agnes Wisansky was granted a divorce in Milwaukee the court ordered her to pay alimony to her jobless former husband.

Comfy-Down Innerspring Mattress

For the "REST" of your life!

Special $39.50 Value

$19.50

COMFY-DOWN Innerspring Mattress is covered with beautiful imported Belgian damask, or a herringbone stripe design. Tufting for durability, and widely-spaced for comfort.

COMFY-DOWN contains TEN POUNDS MORE cotton felt than the ordinary mattress sold by retail stores. Arranged into layers for lasting resiliency.

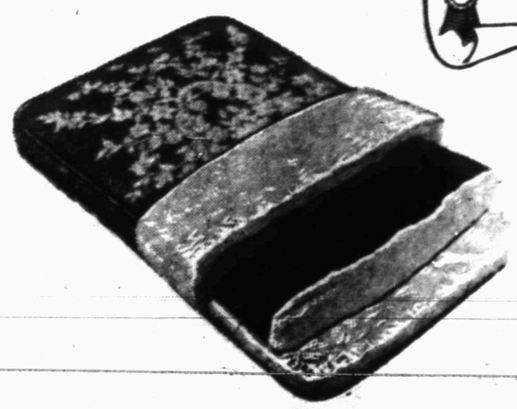

COMFY-DOWN is carefully made, insuring a lifetime many years longer than the ordinary mattress, and is guaranteed to give lasting satisfaction.

GUARANTEE

Only the finest materials and workmanship of the highest quality have been used in making this Comfy Down Mattress. It is guaranteed against defects of every kind and to be exactly as represented. Furthermore, it is guaranteed to be equal in quality or better than mattresses regularly sold by retail stores at a considerably higher price.

Direct Mattress Co.

COMFY-DOWN Tuftless is a unique combination of two mattresses in one. The inner mattress, covered with separate ticking and tufted for durability, is surrounded by hundreds of layers of cotton, making the entire mattress as soft and comfortable as can be imagined. There are no innersprings in this mattress.
