Holy Land Visit Planned By Baptist Minister, Wife

On the eve of his nineteenth anniversary as pastor of First Baptist Church, members of the congregation are presenting the Rev. John E. Lewis with an opportunity to visit the Holy Land, his wife to accompany him.

Presentation of the Gift Certificate Award for many years of service was made at the Sunday morning service, July 28, as a surprise to the recipients when they returned home from vacation.

Plans for the trip are incomplete at this time. Consideration is being given to accompanying Dr. A.B. Lightfoot on his tour during Christmas holidays, the pastor stated.

The minister came to the First Baptist Church Nov. 20, 1955, from Seymour. Prior to that he had served as pastor at Henrietta, Rogers, Oglesby and Friendship, a small church near Altus, Okla.

He had attended Baylor University during 1929, but depression days caused him to drop out of school and go to work. He made his decision to enter the ministry in April 1937 at Quanah. He re-entered Baylor that fall.

There he met and later, June 1938, married the former Miss Cathryn Ferguson, also a student. The next winter he again dropped out of school to pastor the Friendship church. Returning to Baylor for more formal education, he became the student-pastor at Oglesby. Mrs. Lewis completed her work to earn a degree in English, and taught during her pastor-husband's last year at the University.

It was during time spent at Southwestern Seminary that he was pastor of the Rogers church. From there he moved to Henrietta, then to Seymour.

When the minister came to the Olton church he was impressed with good attendance, good response from the people, and the unusual number of young couples that offered great potential for the church.

He reminisced, "Of the pulpit committee who came to Seymour to invite me, only one is left, James Cowart. Horace Cates now lives at Roswell, N.M.; Hubert Waldrop makes his home at Startford; L.O. Langley and George Bohner are deceased."

He continued, "I have seen a lot of changes in the town and in the church through the years. Many of the older ones have passed on, some have moved away, moved to the southwestern part of the city. It was after the Rev. Godsey left that the new sanctuary was constructed. In 1968 a fire caused much damage to the interior of the structure, much renovation was required.

present Baptist church was completed during the latter months of 1952.

When the Lewis family moved to Olton the elder daughter, Joanna, was in sixth grade, Elaine was in fourth grade and a son, Johnny, was four years old. "Olton school was the only school Johnny ever attended," he mused, "and this is rather unusual for a 'preacher's kid'."

The family lived for about one year in "the old pastor's home" before the present one was completed.

The Lewis children and grandchildren all live elsewhere. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gassiot and son are in Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Holliman and three daughters in Houston; Johnny and his wife, the former Miss Sunya Sorley, also live in Houston.

Mrs. Lewis began teaching in junior high school in 1956, and has held that position continuously since.

When asked if he had always dreamed of a tour in the Holy Land he stated, "We have always thought it would be wonderful, but we had never really planned to go. We are deeply grateful for the opportunity and we hope it will reflect in our ministry. Men who have gone tell me it really inspires one, and makes a difference in their preaching."

Football Workouts To Begin Monday

Shoes were issued to Olton Mustangs Wednesday night and two-a-days begin Monday morning at 10 a.m. for some 45 sophomores, juniors and seniors and 15 or 20 freshman, according to Athletic Director and Head Coach Ed Miller.

Getting ready for scrimmage with Crosbyton at Crosbyton Thursday, Aug. 22, Miller said the boys would work out in shorts until Thursday, at which time they would be issued pads and begin workouts in pads. Uniforms will be issued to them Thursday, Aug. 15.

Another scrimmage which will be played here is scheduled against Ralls, Aug. 29.

Workouts are open to the public and "we encourage all those who wish to see the boys working out to come on out. We'll work out each morning at 10 and each evening at 8," Miller said.

Boys expected to see action, according to Miller include four boys on defensive secondary that started at least one game last season. They are Bryan Allcorn, Scott Roberson, Freddy Stockdale and Kevin Workman. Others on the secondary include Mark Stroebel, John Rodriguez, Steve Johnson and Ricky Smith.

In front, seven defensive players who were starters last year, are Clarence Johnson at nose guard, Michael Franks, defensive end; J.D. Caudle, defensive end; Paul Almanza, defensive end; Ray Rodriguez, defensive tackle; and line-backers, Pat Britton and Glenn Johnson.

"Also playing some up front," Miller said, "will be Greg Gregory, Leslie Gary, Jim Walters and Robert Sanchez."

"Our offensive line will consist of three backs that started last year, Joe Alcorn, All District full-back; Glenn Johnson, tail back and Jimmy Parker, quarterback. We think Stroebel will be a fine back up as quarterback for Parker. Buster Lloyd can play both fullback and tailback. Clarence Johnson can help some at fullback."

"There will be some that haven't played before in the offensive line that will see action probably. They all have potential to be good football players," Miller said.

"Lineman returning will be Pat Britton, J.D. Caudle and Paul Almanza. Other line prospects are Marvin Tillman, Jim Walters, Robert Sanchez, Kent Pittillo, Leslie Gary, Michael Franks, Ricky Garcia, Mark Watt and Larry Kirk. We could use Greg Gregory and Ray Rodriguez if we had to, but we'd like to keep them off the offensive if we can."

"Three flankers that played a lot last year," Miller continued, "will see action again this year...Freddy Stockdale, Bryan Allcorn and Scott Roberson."

Miller said, "We've named a lot of names, but this is pure speculation. We haven't seen them work out yet. We've probably overlooked some, because every year some come in and make good players and this year is no exception. We have six or eight that could become good players."

"We are anxious to get started. We are real optimistic too, in that we have a bunch of boys with playing experience this year. Our first game is going to be tough and the district is no easy one, but it

Visit To Brazil Makes Girls More Appreciative Of America

Two young students from Olton High School have just returned from a six weeks visit in Brazilian homes as part of Lions International Youth Exchange program.

Misses Linda Miller and Eloyce Castillo left Lubbock June 25 as representatives of Olton Lions Club for the South American venture. Neither had traveled so extensively, nor had been absent from their own homes for such a period of time.

Neither had flown, so the 28 hour flight, via Dallas, with one refueling stop in Panama before arriving in Rio De Janeiro, was in itself an experience. They were not alone in their excitement, 95 other young exchange students were abroad the chartered jet.

Each girl has returned to America with a new set of values. Each said she did a lot of thinking while away, and much that they had once taken for granted in their homeland, now seems very precious.

Many times they felt defensive for their nation, as Watergate or the Patricia Hearst kidnapping became topic for conversation. But each time they tried to think defensively, they became more aware of the freedoms it stood for, and their own appreciation for these values grew.

The students were met in "Rio" by Lucio de Souza, head of the Lions exchange program for Brazil. Coming from Belo Horizonte, he had brought several youths with him to serve as interpreters, and to help the visitors exchange their money (at the rate of 6.75 for 1).

One student remained in Rio De Janeiro. One flew to the capital city of Brasilia. The other 95 boarded two buses for a ride to the highland city of Belo Horizonte. There they were distributed to their respective homes in the area.

Arrival in the city came in the midst of the excitement of a soccer game victory, and the girls say, "They really do get excited." Among the crowd at the bus station to week, and a maid 'lived in.' The food seemed bland and lacked salt, but she made the adjustment. At one point she made a

Because she was a foreign visitor to the city she was welcome the Americans was Miss Claudia Carvalho of Nova Era, a student who had visited in Olton.

Miss Castillo and eight other visitors flew farther inland to Goiania, a city of 500,000. Again they were welcomed by a crowd and their individual families. Her Brazilian parents were Mr. and Mrs. Paulo Rodriguez de Oliveira. The family included three 'sisters' and one 'brother', all of whom she learned to love dearly because of their friendliness and hospitality.

Eloyce found no race distinction in the land. "Everyone is Brazilian first of all, made by the same God. I wish it were the same here," she said, "But there seems to be no middle class people. There were the Government people (highest ranking), the wealthy and the very poor."

Her family had no washer nor dryer, though there were some other small electric appliances. A laundress came in twice a Guacamole salad for her hosts, but they could not accept such a use for avocados, neither could they tolerate salt on watermelon.

Miss Castillo was privileged to make a visit to Brasilia, the famed capital city built according to one man's dream and drawing. From the air, she stated, the city resembles an aeroplane. To keep the pattern perfect no buildings are allowed to be built to mar the overall picture.

"It is a very beautiful city, but once you see the beauty of it you begin to feel that it is very cold...it is so modern. Guards police the homes of government workers, but neither guards nor any other laborers live within the city. Their homes are a distance away, they commute to work."

"Streets and public places are very clean," she continued, "The rich get it dirty, the poor clean it up. All litter is thrown down, knowing that someone will soon pick it up. People are allowed to tour the Governor's Palace. Not too many are allowed this privilege. She also visited a Catholic Cathedral which she termed very modern and very beautiful.

Another sidetrip of great interest to Eloyce was a visit to Pousada, 'The fountain of youth.'

Possibly the most impressive person Eloyce met was her elder 'sister', a University student. They had many long, confidential talks and made comparisons and contrasts of their native lands. At one point as the American was defensive about the Watergate issue saying "At least we bring it out in the open" the Brazilian lamented "I wish we could say what we think."

Automobiles in Goiania were all small imports. Government employees use Ford Galaxies, several years old, and she knew of only one Corvette in the city of a half a million. She was informed it cost $30,000. Gasoline was about $1 per gallon.

Eloyne thinks this trip came to her at a very appropriate time in her life. "I thank God, and am very grateful to Olton Lions Club for this privilege. I did a lot of thinking, and I intend to do a lot of changing. I hope to go back to Brazil following my graduation next spring, possibly with one of the programs, "Youth For Understanding" or "American Field Services, for a six months stay. I wish there were some way to bring these two continents closer together. I want to do what I can."

Miss Miller who will be a junior, remained nearer the boom city of Belo Horizonte. She was the only American assigned to the village of Para de Minas, which translated means "Stop the Mines." Located in the heart of mining country, dairy cattle were also important as were large milk cooperatives.

As Linda struggled with the Portuguese language, she sometimes longed for someone to speak a word of English.

Her Brazilian family, Mr. and Mrs. Jose Varela and seven children, was also very warm and friendly. They made her feel very much at home during her stay. The two elder sons, 21, were twins, the youngest son was twelve. One other boy and three daughters ranged in between.

She found the people fun-loving. Especially friendly, they loved to get together, to sing, to eat and to dance.

"Education is very important in Brazil. All the people who have money send their children to the United States because schools are so much better. Hard work in that country, without an education, will get you nothing but tired," she remarked. "Without education there is no progress for an individual."

"Parents try to see that their children are prepared for marriage, for life and for a livelihood. Boys rarely marry before age 25, some are older. Long engagements are commonplace, as long as six to eight years."

Linda's family also had a maid that 'lived in' but she and her 'sisters' kept their own huge bedroom. She chuckled, "One of my sisters was very neat by choice, the other by necessity and I tried to get along with both. The girls were very pretty, delicate and clothes conscious. Everyone wore a lot of jewelry, and make-up was very important. In fact they studied it as an art. Cosmetics were imported from France and America." Clothes were outrageously high, Linda thought, especially when she had to purchase warmer clothing for the climate. She was intrigued by the beautiful hardwood floors she saw everywhere. Made in patterned blocks, she was greatly puzzled as to where they started building.

Miss Miller was also impressed with the many beautiful sights shown her. Just outside Para de Minas stood a statue of Christ on a mountaintop. She attended boat races, soccer games, and had a short stay at a fazenda, which means farm. Unlike the farms of our area, however, a fazenda is a place Brazilians go to rest.

She enjoyed the food very much, especially the great variety of fruits served. They have a choice of five different kinds of bananas. Television shows include many popular American programs dubbed in Portuguese, such as Bewitched, Hawaii Five-O and others. Brazilians like American music, they know the English words to most popular songs, some are very fond of the Beatles. Linda's friends did not like hard rock. Frank Sinatra owns the radio station which may account for popularity of American music.

"It was hard to leave, with everyone insisting that I stay, but now that I'm home I can look at it all more objectively. When I went down I was thinking of only fun. While I was there I was caught up in the excitement of it all. I would like to go

MRS. RICK HOWARD

Rick Howard, Paula Strain Exchange Wedding Vows

In a candlelight ceremony, Saturday, Aug. 3, Miss Paula Strain and Richard Howard pledged wedding vows. The Rev. John E. Lewis, pastor, directed the twin ring service held in First Baptist Church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Strain. Richard Howard, Dallas, and Mrs. Ben Cates, Commerce, are parents of the groom.

Harold Carson, organist, presented nuptial selections and accompanied Rick Hudson, soloist, as he sang "Twelfth of Never," Walk Hand in Hand and "The Lord's Prayer."

The altar area was centered with an arched candelabra with Memory Candle attached, and flanked with spiral candelabra. All were entwined with tropical greenery and white statice and fitted with white cathedral tapers. Baskets of white gladioli, carnations, red roses and white statice completed the nuptial setting. Large satin bows, alternating red and white, marked the bridal aisle.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of white mira-mist over white peau de soie, fashioned by her mother.

Styled along Empire lines, the gown featured a fitted bodice, high rise waistline, square front neckline and full length sleeves. The gored A-line skirt swept into a self train. The waistline, sleeves and lower edge of the dress were enhanced with re-embroidered Chantilly lace held in place by seed pearls. Flower motifs, also enhanced with pearls, were scattered down back skirt and train.

A chapel length veil of silk illusion edged with scalloped re-embroidered Chantilly lace, fell from a Juliet caplet of lace encrusted with seed pearls.

Atop a white Bible, the bride carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, and red baby roses centered with a white orchid.

For "something old" she carried the handkerchief carried by her mother as a bride; "borrowed" was the white Bible belonging to Mrs. Floyd Prentice, her bridal attire was "new" and she wore the traditional "blue." In her shoe she carried two pennies, minted in the years of the couple's birth and marriage.

Miss Relda Strain served as her sister's maid of honor. Other bridal attendants were Mrs. Santos Diaz Jr., of the city and Miss Dianna Mobley of Dallas. Miss Shawn Williams, Denton, cousin of the bride was junior bridesmaid.

Feminine attendants wore carpet length gowns of white polyester flocked with red flowers, styled with Empire waistlines, princess seamed skirts and bell sleeves. Wearing white garden hats, banded with red satin ribbons, each carried a long stemmed red rose tied with red and white streamers.

Little Miss LeChandra Hall was flower girl and Timothy Hall was ring bearer. Both, cousins of the bride, were from Liberal, Kan. Miss Hall wore a floor length white eyelet gown, with red satin accent at the waist line. Timothy carried a heart shaped satin pillow with flower motifs held in place with seed pearls. Rings were tied in place with satin ribbon streamers.

David Clark of Dallas, served as his step-brother's best man. Groomsmen were Monty Howard, Dallas, brother of the groom and Kent Gunter. Buzz Howard of Commerce, brother of the groom, was junior groomsman.

The groom wore a white dinner jacket, black velvet tie, black trousers and white shirt trimmed with red. Fathers and groomsmen wore black dinner jackets, black velvet ties, black trousers and white shirts trimmed with red.

Guests were registered by Miss Keila Williams of Denton, and were seated by Kenny Spain and James Edwards. Candles were lighted by Chris and Richard Ray of Claude, cousins of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Strain chose a carpet length gown of turquoise double knit lace with matching accessories. She added an orchid corsage. The mother of the groom wore a carpet length gown of pink double knit lace, matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

A reception in Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony, honored the young couple.

Underlaid with white, a white sheer cloth edged with lace covered the bride's table. Featuring the traditional three-tiered wedding cake, the table was centered with a centerpiece of red roses, white carnations and statice. White streamers were inscribed with the names of the honored couple. Crystal and silver appointments were used to serve the cake and red reception punch. Presiding at the table were Miss Cindy Day of Floydada and Mrs. David Clark of Dallas and Miss Joyce Lamborn of Fort Worth.

Members of the houseparty included Mmes. Floyd Prentice, Elmer Lewis, Larry Witten, Robert Edwards, W.A. DeBerry, Bob Duncan, Don Spain, Melvin Rape and Bob Hipp.

Miniature prayer scrolls were distributed as guests arrived for the wedding by Miss Mitzi Howard of Lindale, aunt of the groom. During the reception, background music was furnished by Miss Howard.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howard and Tim Pruitt; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith, Richard Howard, Mrs. Ella Long, Mrs. Jackie Dibrell; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ray, Mr. and Mrs. T.L. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Lockett Guffee, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Guffee, Miss Phylliss Guffee, Ross Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Day Jr. Also Mr. and Mrs. Walter Howard, Arletta and Alicia, Mrs. Que K. Calder, and Thomas Rust, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Powell, Marc and John, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jones and Jennifer, Douglas Johnson, Jimmy Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Audie Noland and Sarah, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hume, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. James Hall and Rhenda, Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson, Miss Amy Moorhouse, Mrs. Paul Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Don Crawford and Billy Williams.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride chose a red double knit ensemble with white accessories. She added an orchid corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet.

A 1972 graduate of Olton High School, the bride has attended Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth for two years as a music major. She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, music sorority. She plans to enter East Texas State University this fall.

Howard, also an Olton graduate, has attended Mountain View Junior College, Dallas, two years. He plans to enter ETSU at the fall term. He is presently employed with United Parcel Service.

JANICE JOHNSTON

Cook Of The Week

French Canadian cookery is shared this week by pretty Janice Johnston who is visiting in Olton through the Lions International Youth Exchange Program. A guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R.V. Allcorn, Brynea, Bryan and Brad, our cook hails from Brussels, Ontario.

Janice, a junior at the University of Western Ontario at London, loves cooking gourmet dishes. She did not become genuinely interested in cooking until she had her first apartment while she was attending the university.

If her schedule will permit, Janice plans to enroll in a gourmet cooking class at school this fall. She does not know yet if it can be arranged for it will depend on whether she will have a night lab course. She has had classes that lasted until 10 p.m.

Noting the difference of Canadian and West Texas cooking, the Canadian miss says her country has fewer fried foods. Canadian foods are not as hot and spicy, she also adds.

Janice had never tasted okra until her visit here. She "just loves it" and wonders why Canadians haven't been growing it. She had eaten black eyed peas before but says they do not have them back home. She likes them but, helping shell them, discovered she has some allergy to them.

"We use lots of cheese," she says. Maybe syrup, unlike that purchased in local food stores, is another important item for Canadians.

Food is not the only new area in which Janice has encountered a "first" in her Texas visit. She had seen American western movies and the annual Calgary Stampede, but got her own taste of western life when she helped her host and Bryan and Brad round up cattle. She enjoyed it but laughingly described the experience as "totally different."

Janice accompanied the chapel choir of the First Baptist Church on a four-day tour this week to Denver, Colo. She loved Denver and enjoyed all the activities of the bus tour. She also enjoyed a visit to the chapel at the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs but was amazed at the obvious expense of the chapel and academy. "It was beautiful though," she exclaims.

Popular goodies at home, Janice shares a recipe for Butter Tarts which her landlady prepares frequently for her during school. The recipe is taken from a cookbook prepared by Lambeth United Church Women. A collection of recipes "from Lambeth kitchens," the cookbook was first printed in 1952 and then updated and re-released in 1972.

BUTTER TARTS

1/3 c butter
1/2 c corn syrup (better with maple syrup, Janice says)
1/2 c brown sugar
1/4 t salt
1/2 c raisins
1/2 t vanilla
1 egg

1 t white vinegar
Melt butter, sugar, corn syrup and salt over low heat. Add raisins. Cool and add beaten egg and vanilla. Place in tart shells and bake 10-15 minutes in 450 degree oven.

FRENCH ONION SOUP

4 T butter
1 lb yellow onions, chopped
2 T flour
4 c water
5 beef bouillon cubes
1/2 t salt
6 slices French bread

2 oz cheddar cheese, grated
Melt butter in heavy saucepan. Add onion and flour and cook 15 minutes or till brown but not crisp. Lower heat, add water, bouillon cubes and salt to the onions and heat to boiling, stirring to dissolve bouillon cubes. Cover tightly and simmer 15 minutes. Place slices of bread in boiling mixture, sprinkle with grated cheese and place under broiler until cheese is melted. Serves six. (You may toast bread slices and place slice of toast in soup bowl, ladle soup over and top with grated cheese and serve.)

WELSH RAREBIT (RABBIT)

1/2 lb cheese, cut in small pieces (use mild American or cheddar cheese)
1/4 c cream
1/4 t salt

1/2 t dry mustard (or prepared mustard to taste)
few grains cayenne

1 egg, slightly beaten
Put cheese, cream and seasonings in double boiler. Melt over hot but not boiling water, stirring occasionally. Add egg. Cook and stir till thickened. Serves four.

Janice also shares her favorite way of preparing baked ham. When ham is almost done, place pineapple slices over ham. Pour orange juice over (about one cup, depends on size of ham). Baste with maple syrup.

MRS. RONALD QUINT DANIEL

Daniel-Mills Wedding Held In Santa Anna

Miss Suzan Lynne Mills recently became the bride of Ronald Quint Daniel in a double ring ceremony in Northside Church of Christ of Santa Anna.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.G. Mills of Santa Anna, former Olton residents. Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Daniel are parents of the groom.

Bill Dodgin directed the exchange of vows before an archway decorated with greenery, yellow roses, daisies and miniature doves.

Given in marriage by her father, Bill Mills of Denver, Colo., the bride wore a formal length gown of silk organza over bridal satin fashioned with Empire bodice of Chantilly lace. Matching lace appliques adorned the full bishop sleeves and A-line skirt. A satin bow held her cathedral length train of lace edged organza.

Enhanced with seed pearls, her satin and lace headpiece held a chapel length veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of Shasta daisies surrounding yellow roses. For "something old," she wore her grandmother's engagement ring. A pendant, gift from the groom's mother, was "new" and she "borrowed" diamond earrings from an aunt. She also wore the traditional touch of blue.

Glenda McDonald of Abilene, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a formal length gown of yellow dotted Swiss with yellow straw picture hat. She carried a white basket filled with shasta daisies.

Jim Cole Brown of Eastland, cousin of the groom, was best man. Billy Riley and Rickey Jones were ushers.

A reception was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents. The bride's table was laid with a ruffled cloth of miramist and centered with an arrangement of yellow roses and daisies. The three-tiered wedding cake was trimmed with yellow roses and topped with miniature doves within a heart.

Presiding at the bride's table were Gayla Mills, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Randall Jameson of Ft. Worth, aunt of the bride. Debbie Harris and Lisa Herring assisted. Marla Mills, sister of the bride, registered guests.

Rice bags were distributed by Debbie McDonald, cousin of the bride, Casey Vanderveer, cousin of the groom, and Lisa Templin, sister of the bride.

For a wedding trip to Lake Brownwood, the bride chose a white knit pantsuit with accents of navy and red. She wore navy accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Attending from Olton were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mills, Gayla and Marilyn.
