SUEZ CANAL FIGHTS

Commandos Attacking In Jordan

By The Associated Press

Dozens of Egyptian troops crossed the Suez Canal Sunday night but Israeli forces repulsed them, killing at least three, an Israeli Army spokesman said today.

The attack came at about the same time as Israeli commandos crossed into Jordan south of the Sea of Galilee and attacked Jordanian artillery positions.

They blew up a section of the East Ghor irrigation canal which was largely financed by American money. Sources said the raid was intended to serve "as still another warning" to the Jordanian Army to "cool off" military activity.

A spokesman said the rupture of the Ghor Canal was meant "to show them what we can do if they keep it up."

The Israelis said that the canal battle with the Egyptians was the biggest in many months. The Egyptian force crossed five miles south of Quantara on the northern section of the canal after a heavy artillery and mortar bombardment, spokesmen reported.

They said the Israeli troops returned the fire, engaged the commandos and pushed them back across the canal.

The Egyptians left three dead on the Israeli side. The Army spokesman said one Israeli soldier was wounded.

An Egyptian communique in Cairo today said their forces killed 18 Israelis in the raid.

Overcome By Gas

Johnny Johansen, city parks superintendent, was hospitalized shortly after 9 a.m. today, after he was overcome by chlorine gas in the pump room of the city swimming pool.

A park attendant drove him to Cowper Hospital, where he was admitted for treatment. Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, said the injuries were not believed serious, but Johansen will require several days hospitalization.

Double Jeopardy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The constitutional prohibition against double jeopardy is applicable to state criminal trials, the Supreme Court ruled 6-2 today.

Reversing the larceny conviction of a Maryland man, the court held that the ban on double jeopardy, "like the right to trial by jury," is clearly "fundamental to the American scheme of justice."

Double jeopardy is the principle by which a person once acquitted, cannot be tried again for the same offense.

The decision today marked a re-examination of past rulings in which the court consistently declined to apply the double jeopardy provision of the Fifth Amendment to state criminal proceedings.

Jap Leftists Stage Rallies

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese leftists staged rallies and demonstrations in the rain today to mark the start of their full-scale campaign to scrap the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

Either the United States or Japan can discontinue the treaty with one year advance notice after June 23, 1970—a year from today. The leftists claim the treaty, revised in 1960, will embroil Japan in a war. It was the subject of riots and demonstrations in 1960, too.

Texans Wilt Under Hot Sun

By The Associated Press

A cool front was aimed at the Texas Panhandle today but it is expected to do little to drop the 100 degree temperatures hitting the state.

Texans wilted under the hot sun with the only rain reported a few thundershowers in Red River and Lamar counties in Northeast Texas. The Weather Bureau placed the two counties under a brief weather warning early today, then dropped it when storms failed to hit.

Some low cloudiness stretched across the Coastal Plains into South Central and Eastern Texas at dawn. The rest of the state was clear to partly cloudy.

Early today, there wasn't a trace of rain anywhere in the state.

At dawn, temperatures ranged from the 60s and 70s and 80s elsewhere.

The Panhandle was expected to be warm today, but compared to the rest of the state, it was cool as more 100-plus readings were practically assured.

Man Holding 'Explosives' Hijacks Jetliner To Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — A Spanish-speaking man holding a knife and a bottle marked "explosives" hijacked a jetliner with 89 persons aboard to Cuba. His wife and teen-aged daughter were with him.

The Newark-to-Miami Eastern Airlines DC8 returned safely to Miami Sunday after spending several hours in Havana.

The hijacker and his family, who had been issued tickets under the names of "Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Perez," remained in the Cuban capital.

Second Officer David Savage said a bottle labeled "Danger: Explosives" was tied to the hijacker's wrist by a string.

"It looked like pink sugar and inside this was a test tube of what looked like methiolate, with wax on top of it," he said.

"It probably was just a diversion, but you don't know what it is, of course."

Stewardess Rose Mary Evans of Atlanta said the man called to her and drew a knife.

"He couldn't speak English but he beckoned me to unlock the door," she said. "He didn't say anything."

The pilot, Capt. Bernard L. Hutain, said the incident occurred just south of Norfolk, Va., and the man in his 50s with a deeply lined face said "Havana, Havana." Hutain added, "I got the message."

"His daughter, who said she was 15, came into the cockpit and acted as interpreter. She was short but attractive, with shoulder-length black hair and brown eyes. She indicated they were from Newark and that she had been in high school," Hutain said.

"The man was behind me and very nervous. I explained we'd have to open bags to get maps but Eastern would cooperate.

"I gathered the family was having difficulty with our language and adjusting to our cultural differences. The girl wore a mini skirt and was very calm.

"He mentioned the language problem and the daughter said Cuba was their country and they wanted to go back," Hutain said. "About every 15 minutes I talked to the passengers to keep them assured."

"When we were over Miami, I told the man it was his last chance to change his mind, but he said 'Havana!'"

Most of the 78 other passengers did not see the hijacker until they left the plane.

It was the 30th hijacking to Cuba this year, the third in a week.

Army Strength To Be Slashed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced today plans to draft 29,500 men in August as well as a decision to allow Army strength to drop by 13,000, partly in connection with the Nixon administration's plans for withdrawal of troops from Vietnam.

The August draft call compares with this year's monthly high of 33,700 in February and the low of 22,300 announced for July. All the August inductees will go into the Army.

In announcing the new call, the Pentagon said about 8,000 soldiers who are among the 15,000 Army men about to come out of Vietnam will not be replaced when they leave service.

In addition, the Army does not plan to replace another 5,000 men "whose terms of service expire due to reduced support requirements associated with the lower Army strength."

The manpower reduction will leave Army strength around the world at just above 1.5 million men.

Defense officials also indicated there would be a savings of around $130 million in the Army budget as a result of the cutback. This is based on a rule of thumb estimate that it costs about $10,000 annually to keep a man in Vietnam.

A total of 25,000 U.S. troops are to be replaced in the next few months by South Vietnamese forces under the decision announced by President Nixon after the Midway Island conference.

The Pentagon gave this timetable for the return of the first of the 15,000 Army men who will be coming home in July and August:

The 9th Infantry Division's 3rd Battalion, 60th Infantry, is scheduled to leave Vietnam on July 8 and arrive the next day at McChord Air Force Base, Washington.

Red Boiling Springs Flood

RED BOILING SPRINGS, Tenn. (AP) — Flash floods roared through this little Middle Tennessee resort village this morning. Hours later, the town was virtually underwater.

Tennessee Highway Patrol Sgt. Norman Farley said five persons were missing.

The flooding also extended into adjoining Allen County, Ky., toppling trees and disrupting telephone and electrical service. Trammel Creek, fed by the high waters from Red Boiling Springs, spilled over its banks in southern Allen County and created hazardous conditions around Adolphus and Mount Union in Kentucky.

But most of the damage was in Red Boiling Springs, a town of 900.

Court Backs CATV Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the broad authority of the Federal Communications Commission to allow CATV to enter small television markets.

The court backed the FCC by turning down an appeal by operators of television stations in the Colorado Springs-Pueblo area.

They had tried to force the FCC to hold a hearing on their claims that entry of community antenna television (CATV) in their market could kill stations in their area.

The FCC said it was required to hold an evidentiary hearing only in the top 100 television markets. Colorado Springs-Pueblo ranks 138th.

Welfare Mothers Win Funds For Food Stamps

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Up to $50,000 in federal funds will be made available as an emergency service to local mothers on welfare to buy food stamps, it was announced today.

Armando Macaluso, of the Economic Opportunities Development Corp. here, said the grant would be provided by the regional branch of the Office of Economic Opportunities in Austin.

The announcement came during a meeting between protesting mothers on welfare and city and state officials that was called in an attempt to settle the women's grievances over local welfare program policies.

The $50,000 is part of emergency food and medical service funds, Macaluso said the money will go only to people whose assistance grants were cut by the state May 1 due to lack of funds.

It will be available only to purchase food and will be used to cover that part of food money which was specifically reduced, he said.

The meeting came after 30 or 40 mothers on welfare and their children staged camp-ins and sit-ins at the state Public Welfare Department administrative headquarters three days last week.

About 30 mothers and children, who are demanding free food stamps and changes in the welfare distribution system, gathered again today in front of the welfare offices.

The groups later broke up to attend the meeting, where County Judge Blair Reeves presented the county's $12,500 portion o $50,000 pledged locally to alleviate the welfare situation here.

Welfare recipients' payments were cut earlier this year due to lack of state fund. A statewide election this summer will decide whether to raise the state welfare ceiling from $60 million to $80 million.

Earl Warren Steps Down From Bench

WASHINGTON (AP) — Warren Earl Burger was sworn in at 10:42 a.m. today to be the 15th chief justice of the United States.

The simple and sedate ceremony marked the retirement of Earl Warren after 16 years as chief justice and 52 years in public service.

President Nixon, in an unprecedented action, spoke to the high court, and said of Warren: "The nation is grateful for that service."

At the conclusion of the ceremony, Burger stood behind the bench and in a firm, clear voice swore to defend the Constitution and to administer justice faithfully and impartially, to do equal right to the poor and rich.

The 61-year-old veteran federal judge rested his hand on a Bible held by the outgoing chief justice.

They were flanked on both sides by the seven sitting associate justices.

Nixon is believed to be the first President in office to address the court. A lawyer, he spoke as a member of the court's bar.

The President said Warren's service as chief justice was especially characterized by three things—fairness, integrity and dignity.

Speaking of the court itself, the President said: "No institution of our government has been more responsible for continuity with change."

Warren, replying to Nixon's remarks, thanked the President for what he said but spoke mostly for the court itself. His voice at the breaking point on occasion, the chief justice said of the court: "We serve only the public interest as we see it, guided by the Constitution and our own conscience."

After Warren administered the oath to Burger, the court was declared adjourned for the summer recess. It will sit again on Oct. 6, with Burger then presiding.

The two men, their wives and the President emerged from the Supreme Court building together and stood at the top of the steps. They were cheered and applauded by hundreds of tourists and others who had gathered outside.

Nixon's role in the transition ceremony, a brief speech, helps underline the contrast between the old and new chief justices.

Warren, an old political enemy of Nixon's, spent his 16 years as chief justice leading the court through its most activist and liberal periods. The 61-year-old Burger, on the other hand, spent the last 13 years as a little-known federal appeals judge building a legal reputation as a strict constitutional constructionist who advocated a hard approach to criminal law.

Although Nixon's political differences with Warren apparently were put behind them earlier this year, when the President appointed Burger, he stressed that the Minnesota native was his kind of "law and order" judge who would take a more traditional approach as chief justice.

Warren, at 78, was eager to step down from the bench. Actually he announced his intention to retire nearly a year ago, but stayed when the Senate refused to confirm his originally-appointed successor, Abe Fortas.

Birthday Seen As Rededication Time

By JOE PICKLE

The Big Spring State Hospital marked its 30th anniversary of operation Sunday and came through with sizzling colors. Several hundred friends braved 104-degree heat in a cloudless sky for the open-air ceremonies cut somewhat short by merciful speakers.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, in deference to the weather, trimmed his speech as he looked upon the occasion as one of time for rededication.

Earlier, Dr. John Kinross-Wright, state commissioner for the department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, had lauded Dr. Preston Harrison, hospital superintendent, as one of the best in the country. And he quoted from an international journal and appraisal of the hospital here: ". . . We would have to say on balance it is the best mental hospital we have seen in this country."

Scores of officials flocked to Big Spring for the occasion, among them Elbert Hall, Abilene, and Jess Irwin, Austin, members off the state board for MH&MR. With Dr. Kinross-Wright were Dr. Gary Miller and other members of the central office staff; also W. G. Kirklin, Austin, a member of the department's business staff and a booster for BSSH in the days when he was in the Texas Legislature.

Several members of the Legislature were here, among them Sen. David Ratliff, Stamford, who represents this district and is among the senior state senators, who had praise in introducing Lt. Gov. Barnes. Others included Rep. Temple Dickson, Sweetwater, who represents this district; Rep. Elmer Tarbox, Lubbock, a former Big Spring businessman; Rep. Frank Calhoun, Abilene; Rep. George Baker, Fort Stockton, and also a former Big Springer; and Rep. Ace Pickens, Odessa.

Among administrators of other state hospitals here were Dr. Luther Ross, head of the Kerrville hospital; Dr. Bernard Rappaport, head of the Wichita Falls hospital; Dr. Frankie Williams, head of the Vernon center and until recently clinical director here; and Bill Cain, Abilene State School, Larry Mildren, Abilene, regional coordinator for MH&MR, was on hand.

Also in the audience was Edward F. Hildebrandt, Brenham, who designed three of the original buildings in conjunction with W. T. (Tanlac) Strange. With Hildebrandt was a son, W. A. Hildebrandt.

Here For Anniversary

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes (left) was welcomed by Dr. Preston Harrison, State Hospital superintendent, here Sunday for the 30th anniversary celebration of facility.

Legislators Expect Difficult Session

It will be a tremendously difficult task for the Texas Legislature to enact a complicated tax bill for the state's two-year needs in a 30-day special session, members of the Legislature said here Sunday.

Sen. David Ratliff of the 24th district, here for the Big Spring State Hospital anniversary program, as were others, was one who saw the difficulty.

"I doubt that it can be done," Ratliff said. "We might get the groundwork done in 30 days and then go back and finish the job in a second special session. There are many new approaches that will have to be taken."

Ratliff said he voted for a two-year tax program, as favored by Gov. Preston Smith, when it first came before the Senate, but when a conference committee later reported out the one-year program, he accepted that. "I felt we had to be practical about it," Ratliff said.

Rep. Temple Dickson of this district also saw problems in meeting such a complex program in a 30-day period. "There will be new approaches, new ideas, and different viewpoints. I just hope the divergence of views doesn't lock us up into an impossible situation."

And Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who was the principal speaker at the hospital program, expounded at length on what the state must contend with in forecasting two-year needs. He has been a staunch advocate of a one-year program, and noted that the previous Legislature adopted such a program, "at a saving to the taxpayers."

Barnes stressed that much uncertainty in the state's revenue picture will be reflected in Washington actions. "If the 27½ per cent depletion allowance were to be reduced, it would certainly affect the oil and gas tax revenues in Texas," he said. "The repeal of the seven per cent credit can affect Texas business. The Congress' action on the surtax will have its effect. I just don't see how we can make a long range forecast in the face of these uncertainties."

Barnes also cited what he called a genuine taxpayers revolt. "I think we should save every cent we can, and I think this can best be accomplished with a one-year budget-tax situation. I will ask anybody whether we would rather start paying in 1969, or hope for a better picture in 1970, and I think I know the answer I'll get."

The common reaction from all legislators here Sunday was that there is a tough road ahead, the answers are not yet in sight, and "it's tough to be in Austin in August."

20 Persons Die In Boating, Drowning Mishaps In Texas

By The Associated Press

Summer began on a tragic note in Texas as 20 persons died in boating and drowning accidents to lead the state's violent death toll for the weekend.

In all 48 died in widespread violence, including 16 killed in motor vehicle accidents, 4 killed by gunfire, and 8 in miscellaneous violence that involved fires, lethal drugs, stabbings and a wasp sting.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued through midnight Sunday.

Harvey Woods, 39, of Azle swam ashore Sunday morning to report the deaths of six persons he had been boating with Saturday night.

Woods said the 15-foot boat ran out of gasoline and then was swamped by rough water that blew up on Eagle Mountain Lake near Azle during the night. Woods was the tragedy's only survivor.

Lost in the accident were Wood's wife, Mrs. Jackie Woods, 32; Charles Seaburn, 40, of Azle; Mary Clay, 33, of Azle; Leo H. Ball, 26, of Fort Worth; and four-year-old twin girls, Brenda Kay and Linda Fay Thorn of Fort Worth.

The boat was swamped in about 18 feet of water.

Three persons were killed and three injured, at least two critically, Sunday in a three car pile-up on US 75 between Buffalo and Centerville. Eight persons have died on the stretch of highway since Jan. 1.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Linn and their 5-year-old son. Margaret Tobin, 62, driver of the second car, and an older Linn son were taken to Waco's Providence Hospital where both were listed in critical condition.

Taft Gillespie, 60, of Teague, whose car smashed into the wreckage after the Tobin and Linn cars collided, was taken to a Teague hospital with what officers termed minor injuries.

Mrs. Horace Woodward of Fort Worth, her 5-year-old son Horace, and two nieces drowned Saturday in the Brazos River 12 miles southwest of Weatherford. The girls were identified as Stella Woodward, 11, and Jane Woodward, 9, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wince Woodward of Fort Worth. Officers said the four victims apparently stepped off a ledge into deep water as they waded in the river.

Mrs. Pearl Hayden, 84, was beaten to death Saturday as she sat in her wheel chair at a San Antonio rest home. Police arrested a suspect who later died in jail of what officers termed an apparent overdose of drugs. He was Army Pfc. Terry Akers of Westminister, Calif., assigned at Randolph Air Force Base.

Clarence Maxwell, 30, of Flint in East Texas was found shot to death in his car Saturday. Officers were looking for a Tyler man in connection with the incident.

Larry J. Wassom, 22, and Janice Allen, 18, both of Medina, were killed Saturday night when the car in which they were riding hit a stone wall while attempting to pass another vehicle. Two other persons were injured, at least one critically. The accident occurred three miles west of Ingram in South Central Texas on Texas 39.

Opal Marie Thomas, 9, of Beaumont drowned Sunday in Willard Lake near Silsbee. Fred E. Thomas managed to rescue another daughter, Sharon, who slipped off a flotation ring with her sister.

Thomas William Wren, 49, a Kerrville grocer died after he was stung by a black wasp on his r a nch. He died shortly after he was stung in a Kerrville hospital Saturday night.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: George (made up name) and I have been married for 27 years. We have six children. Two are married and we have grandchildren, too. Abby, I really love this man with all my heart.

Recently an old girl friend of George's found his name in a telephone directory and she wrote him a letter, asking him to reply. Well, he CALLED HER UP, long distance, and they talked for 20 minutes.

George told her he was happily married and had six children. She told George she had married an alcoholic, who deserted her four years ago.

Well, I thought that was that, but in a couple of days here comes a letter from this woman. She told my husband her whole life history since they had last seen each other, which was 30 years ago, and she closed by saying, "Let's keep in touch."

Now, Abby, I can't see any good in his "keeping in touch" with her, can you? George says there is no harm in reviving an old friendship, but I know they were more than friends.

Don't you think George is just looking for trouble? Please put your answer in the paper as he reads you faithfully and respects your advice.

GEORGE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: George is not looking for "trouble" — he's looking for excitement. But trouble is probably what he will find. Tell him you love him, you're jealous, and if he "keeps in touch" with this old flame from 30 years back, he'll break your heart.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: No offense intended! I am one of your greatest fans. However, this letter is prompted by the one you received and answered about singers and musicians at weddings not being part of the wedding party.

Come on, Abby, I have played piano and organ at weddings for several years and have always been included in the wedding party. To leave out the musicians in my book is bad taste, especially if these services are performed at no cost to the couple. I have never charged for my services and I am a professional. I consider it a personal favor for those getting married. Yours, sincerely,

JOHN BROWN

DEAR JOHN: When I answered that letter, I had in mind only musicians and vocalists who were paid to perform a service, not those who did it as a favor to the couple. So I'll take 20 lashes with a vocal cord and a swat on the derriere with an old swell pedal.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have just started to date, and I have a problem which is common to most girls my age. It seems that every time I go out with a boy, if I let him kiss me on the first date I never see him again. But then if I DON'T let him kiss me, I never see him again, either. So how is a girl supposed to know what to do? JUST WONDERING

DEAR JUST: She can assume that whether she kisses a boy or not on the first date has nothing to do with whether she ever sees him again. And go to work on other possible causes for being a one-date-dolly.

Bridge Test

—CHARLES H. GOREN

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
(c 1969 by The Chicago Tribune)

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠743 ♡AK8 ◇AJ9 ♣8652
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. This hand is not of the type that lends itself conveniently to a take-out double. You need only visualize that your hand will be the future dummy and that it will have very little trick-taking power for partner. There is the further disadvantage that you will be forcing your partner to bid at the level of two.

Q. 2—Partner opens with one heart and you hold:
♠KQ75 ♡A76 ◇6542 ♣72
What is your response?

A.—Two hearts. This is superior to a bid of one spade, because you have only a fair hand and cannot afford to bid both spades and hearts.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, opponent opens with one diamond and you hold:
♠AKJ105 ♡A1053 ◇K32 ♣5
What do you bid?

A.—Double. If partner responds with two clubs, you are strong enough to bid two spades with reasonable safety. If your answer was one spade, stay after school.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠J107654 ♡K975 ◇42 ♣64
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1◇	Dble.	?

What do you bid?

A.—One spade. With this distribution including so many cards in the major suits, surely you will wish to take some action. If you wait, the bidding may get too complicated for you to enter the conversation conveniently, and you will thus be shut out.

Q. 5—You are South, vulnerable, with a 90 part score and hold:
♠AJ6 ♡A95 ◇K8432 ♣72
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1♠	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—Two spades. With the advanced part score you are not in position to temporize, since a two diamond response would not be considered forcing. The bid least likely to complicate matters is a simple raise. Since it is a bid over score, partner will recognize that you may have more than a normal raise so that, if he has excess values, he will be in position to proceed.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AK ♡A4 ◇852 ♣A98652
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1♣	Pass	1♡	1♠
2♣	Pass	2♡	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. A cue bid forcing to game. Now that partner has rebid hearts, you can safely prepare to play for a game in that suit or it might lead to a sound contract of three no trump.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AK6 ♡AQ82 ◇AQ7 ♣J83
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1♠	?

What do you bid?

A.—Double. This hand, containing 20 points, is too big for a one no trump overcall. It is necessary, therefore, to double and bid two no trump over partner's response of two in a suit.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠Q752 ♡AK754 ◇KJ ♣93
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1♠	Pass	3♠	Pass
4◇	Pass	4♡	Pass
5♣	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—There is little doubt that your partnership will reach at least a small slam in spades, but, the better to investigate grand slam possibilities, bid five diamonds at this point to show possession of the king. If partner makes a further drastic try by bidding something like six clubs to show the king, we would then bid six hearts to show the second round control of that suit.

LSD Led To Death Of Army Private?

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Medical examiners were investigating today the possibility that LSD may have led to death of an Army private who died after his connection with an elderly widow's beating death.

Pvt. Terry Akers, 20, of Westminster, Calif., died in Bexar county jail Saturday night. He was subdued by officers about four hours earlier near a nursing home where the wheelchair-bound woman was killed.

The woman, Mrs. Annie P. Haydon, 85, of San Antonio, was struck about the face and suffered a broken jaw in the fatal Saturday afternoon beating, officials said.

Dr. Ruben Santos, chief county medical examiner, said preliminary results of an autopsy Sunday indicated Akers died of an overdose of drugs. He said it would be about mid-week before final autopsy results would be available.

The medical examiner said he was checking for the possibility that the mind-expanding drug LSD or amphetamines may have killed Akers.

The slender private, who was assigned to an intelligence detachment at Randolph Air Force Base here, was arrested near the nursing home by police who had to wrestle him to the ground. They finally were forced to use a blackjack to subdue him.

Officers said he apparently did not know Mrs. Haydon.

Police were questioning witnesses to the slaying and Akers' acquaintances.

Akers was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil W. Akers of Westminster.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Do whatever will make your home a haven of charm and good will for others to enjoy as well as yourself. Make your relationships with others more ideal. Now you know how to do it.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get together in a cooperative spirit with regular partners in routine affairs and state your finest new ideas. Go out to see the key people who can extend the favors you most want. Be witty.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Show warmth and charm with everyone. Your reward: You will gain their devotion and respect. Tell them of your finest ambitions. Ask for favors in a very diplomatic way. Why not be productive instead of just wishing?

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have so many wonderful ideas that you would be wise to prepare to make them public soon. Try to serve others well and help to restore their confidence. This helps you indirectly, also.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you do some thorough investigating and studying, you can get the statistics you need a tthis time. Find out what you most want to do, socially. Then go ahead with your plans. Be sure to dress smartly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) It is important that your good friends give you some information so that you can clear up conditions that have been bothering you. Show your gratitude. A powerful person you know can extend the favor you want so much at this time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Stop procrastination. Go after your goal now in the most clever and efficient way you can. Join a group affair that devotes its time to idealistic pursuits.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Find some way to show your appreciation to those who have extended to you many favors. Don't be emotional or maudlin. Save some time to get on the good side of one who has information you want.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Plan quietly how to get those who are vital in your life to cooperate with you. Then carry out your plan subtly. Live the life of sensitivity and charm that appeals to you. Be your true self.

Likes Watermelon

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — Police have an eye out for a thief who likes watermelon. They say he stole 175 melons from a parked truck in Paris recently.

MRS. GEORGE A. WEST (Curley's Studio)

Miss Lee Married To George A. West

Miss Rhonda Jo Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Lee, 305 E. 19th, and Spec. 4 George Allison West, son of Mrs. C. G. West, 3233 Cornell, and the late Mr. West, were married Saturday evening in Trinity Baptist Church. The Rev. Claude Craven, pastor, officiated for the double ring rites.

The bridal aisle was illuminated with votive candles accented with smilax and stephanotis, and the altar was adorned with a large arrangement of white gladioli, spider mums and emerald foliage. To each side were candelabra garlanded with lemon leaf, and at the center was a white satin prie-dieu.

The violinist, Leonard Moody, was accompanied by Mrs. Moody at the organ as he sang "Always" and "Twelfth of Never."

The bride's traditional gown was of white lace over satin and featured a bodice sprinkled with sequins and a bouffant skirt of tiered ruffles. The long sleeves ended in petal points. Her veil of illusion was held by a rose cluster trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestones, and she carried a cathedral strand of stephanotis and ivy topping a prayer book.

Mrs. James K. West of Odessa was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Claudia Lee of Willcox, Ariz., and Miss Colleen Duggan, Odessa. Mrs. West wore a street-length dress of mint green, and the other attendants wore identical dresses in lime green. All had matching headpieces and carried cascades of yellow spider mums tied in lime green ribbon.

Spec. 4 Fred Riggan was best man, and groomsmen were Louis Palmer of Odessa and Tommy Coats. Michael Gamble and Johnny Rutherford served as ushers, and the ring bearer was Raymond Randy Isbell of Snyder. The flower girl, Janet Lee Bronough, carried a nosegay of white and green flowers.

Following a wedding tour of West Texas, the couple will make their home in Budingen, Germany, where he will be stationed with the Army. Mrs. West attended Big Spring High School and will continue her education in Germany. Her husband attended BSHS and Howard County Junior College.

For traveling, Mrs. West wore a white knit dress, accented with a scarf, and bone accessories. Her corsage was a cymbidium orchid.

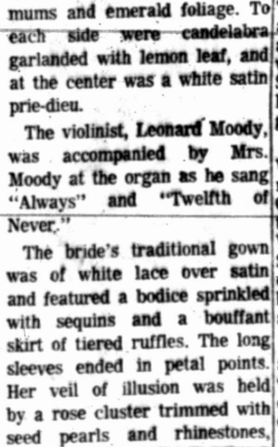

Mrs. Andy Gaston registered guests at a reception in the fellowship hall where other members of the house party were Mrs. Glen Hughes, Mrs. Andy Coots and Mrs. C. E. Rayvon.

Guests attended from Snyder, Midland, Odessa, Arizona, Oklahoma and Kansas.

The refreshment table was covered with a floor-length white bridal satin cloth caught at the corners with lily of the valley and white satin wedding bells. The three-tiered cake was trimmed with roses and topped with bridal figurines.

Club Has Meeting

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. C. V. Wash was hostess for Tuesday's meeting of the Pioneer Sewing Club. Four guests, Mrs. Mary Archer, Mrs. A. L. Hawkins, Mrs. T. S. Henry and Loudean Parker of O'Donnell were guests. The next meeting will be July 1.

Sets Date

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Fenley, 624 Settles, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Linda Darlene, to Jackie Nobel Bowen, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bowen, 1714 Purdue. The couple will marry Aug. 9 in the Phillips Memorial Baptist Church with the Rev. Alf H. Skognes of Abilene officiating.

The T. D. Breithaups and Karen of Odessa are guests of the J. H. Cardwells.

The Rev. and Mrs. Virgil Drewery and Shirlene recently visited in Austin.

The Burl Griffiths have returned from a vacation at Brownwood Lake.

TEL Class Gives Help To Mission

The TEL Sunday school class of First Baptist Church donated $25 toward building a mission church in Piedras Negras, Mexico, at Thursday's monthly meeting and luncheon. Most of the funds for the building are being provided by the brotherhood of the church.

Mrs. W. H. Younger, vice president, presided, and prayer was led by Mrs. G. G. Morehead, teacher. The devotion was given by Mrs. Gene Turner.

Following luncheon, the women tacked two comforts to be given to the needy and worked on 30 garments which were mended, sized and pressed for the Crises Closet at the church.

Seventeen members and two guests, Mrs. J. P. Allen and Mrs. P. P. Daniel, were in attendance.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

It took me quite a while to get used to my new electric stove.

Whenever I wanted to bring something to a boil and then turn it down to a simmer, things either boiled over waiting for the burner to cool, or the pan cooled off too much if I set it off the burner 'til it cooled.

Well, I finally got smart! I turned one burner on high to bring the food to a boil and another burner on simmer. Then just switched burners when the time came.

Sure saved a lot of lost time, wasted food and frayed nerves. . . . Mary Dean

Dear Heloise:

We keep our heating pad nice and clean by using a baby pillowcase over it. Fits perfectly.

We hold it on with a safety pin (through the case only). When necessary, just remove the case for washing. Sure protects the pad. . . . Mrs. Freilich

• • •

Dear Heloise:

We needed a small umbrella for the beach, so we got the old head thinking and came up with the idea of using Dad's worn-out rain umbrella.

We carefully took off the covering to use as a pattern. Then we cut a new cover out of an old shower curtain, sewed a strip about four inches around the edge for a "hangover," and added a fringe all around.

Down at the local hardware store we got a 35-cent clamp to go on the end of it. Now we have an umbrella that can be clamped on the arm of any beach chair—all for only 35 cents!

If you don't have an old umbrella . . . make a trip to your Goodwill store and for just a few nickels you can buy one.

Sure is nice, even for patio. . . . G.M.

• • •

Dear Heloise:

My teenage daughter had trouble with her shoes slipping and wearing out the heel of her nylons. We decided to try a strip of foam weatherstripping that has adhesive on one side.

We cut it to go around the inside of the heel of the shoe, peeled off the backing, then stuck it in the shoe.

No more slipping! . . . Mrs. M.W.M.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

When my children were small, there were days when they were all in the house and made so much noise I could have screamed . . .

One day I decided, "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

I got out all my metal lids and some old pans and spoons.

We then put marching records on and spent about 10 minutes marching follow-the-leader style — and playing our "instruments."

After all that racket, everyone was glad to have a quiet time. Helped everyone let off steam and even Mother's tensions relaxed too.

Nowadays, whenever I hear a rousing march, it brings back very happy memories. . . . Peggy McCallen

• • •

Dear Heloise:

My 18-year-old granddaughter taught me an unusual way to shell an egg. My eggs always came out so messy.

She cracks gently around the egg with the edge of a knife. Then takes each side of the egg in both hands and turns gently in opposite directions.

Do it carefully, as the shell comes off slick as a whistle and can slip out of your hand before you know it. . . . Pam's Grandmother

Milk Adds Body

To give nylon, dacron or fiber curtains more body, add a half cup powdered milk to the last rinse water during washing.

Take Wedding Trip To Dallas

The wedding of Mrs. Marsha Weddle and James M. Stewart was solemnized Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Nona Roberts, 1807 N. Monticello, with the Rev. James A. Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple performing the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Carlton of McCamey, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. H. D. Stewart Sr., of Big Spring and the late Mr. Stewart.

The bride was attired in a slender A-line dress of mint green fashioned with long sleeves, and she wore a gardenia corsage. Mrs. Roberts served as her honor attendant and wore an apricot knit suit with gardenia corsage.

H. D. Stewart Jr. served as his brother's best man.

A graduate of McCamey High School, the bride attended Sul Ross College and is employed as a bookkeeper at the Security State Bank. The bridegroom attended Big Spring High School and attended a barber college in Houston. He is employed at the Center Barber Shop. Following a wedding trip to Dallas, the couple will reside at 1110 Mulberry.

Among those attending the wedding from out of town were the bride's parents and her brother, Butch Carlton, all of McCamey.

Following the ceremony, a small reception was held for family members and a few friends. The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth, and a crystal punch service was used. The tiered wedding cake featured adornments of white roses and was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Forsan Residents Take Short Trips

FORSAN (SC) — Loudean Parker of O'Donnell spent the week in the home of Mrs. Mary Archer, returning home with her parents, the L. D. Parkers.

Recent guests of Mrs. P. P. Howard were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Admire of Roanoke; Mrs. Sadie Collins, Abilene; the Charles R. Howards of Odessa and Sherrie and Dianne Merchant, both of Houston.

Mrs. Bob Nelson and children of Atlanta, Ga., are guests of her mother, Mrs. Mamie Gandy.

G. L. Monroney and Mrs. W. E. Heideman are hospitalized in Cowper Clinic and Hospital in Big Spring.

Joe B. Hoard is a patient at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital in Big Spring.

Credit Club Has Luncheon Meeting

Fourteen members of the Big Spring Credit Women's Club, International, met for a business luncheon Thursday at Hotel Settles, with Mrs. Ray D. Caudill winning the attendance prize. A swimming party and hamburger supper was planned for Aug. 5 at the home of Mrs. R. L. Nall, 1305 Scurry. The next business meeting will be July 3 at the hotel.

Bridal Luncheon Held For Miss Cynthia Pond

A bridal luncheon honoring Miss Cynthia Pond, bride-elect of Kenneth Leon Baxter, was held recently at Big Spring County Club. Hostesses were Mrs. Horace Garrett and her daughters, Miss Ann Garrett and Miss Sue Garrett.

Included in the 15 guests was the honoree's mother, Mrs. Joe Pond. The prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ralph Henry Baxter of Pampa was unable to attend. Mrs. John Dublin attended from Midland.

The tables, arranged in a U-shape, were covered with pale pink cloths and festively decorated with white wedding bells and arrangements of white daisies, pink gladioli and pink carnations.

The hostesses presented Miss Pond with a yellow candlelabra and matching candles.

The couple plans to be married June 28 at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church.

A LOVELIER YOU

Don't Let Throat Get 'Permanent Press'

By MARY SUE MILLER

Permanent-press pleats are a wonderful thing. But not in a woman's own throat!

Perhaps you have noticed the pleated condition. It comes plain when a woman turns her head and one side of her neck develops pleated folds, while on the other side the tendons stand out to form seamy ridges. The effect is neither fashionable nor beautiful. Let's eliminate it:

The condition has its beginnings in a tense, overaction of the neck muscles. A nightly massage with throat cream helps to relax the tendons and soften lines.

There is a trick that models use before the camera that seemingly overcomes this problem. Even their young and lovely necks can appear a mess of pleats unless the ruse is brought into play.

To learn the action, sit before a mirror and raise your chin so that it parallels the floor. Then turn your head to the left and at the same instant, tilt it a bit to the right. Then reverse directions — turn your head to the right and tilt to the left.

Observe how those movements release the tendons and prevent pleating. When you make a habit of the action, you gain an advantage other than immediate improvement in appearances. Your neck is less likely to wrinkle prematurely. Lines already in residence are not so likely to become more deeply entrenched. They might even iron out a little.

CREPEY THROAT

To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and makeup. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, "Banish Crepey Throat & Chin." For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 15 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

"Bad News" Given To Smokers

"More Bad News for Smokers" was the title of a program given by Mrs. Lowell Shortes when the TOPS Plate Pushers met Thursday evening in the Texas Electric Reddy Room. The talk was based on a magazine article noting reasons why people should not smoke.

Mrs. Frank Russell presided, and Mrs. L. O. Shortes won a bowl of fruit.

Mrs. K. C. Webb presided at a previous meeting of the group when Mrs. Earl Glazier was named monthly queen and presented a basket of fruit. The salad supper event was hosted by Team A, captained by Mrs. Lillie Hendricks, for Team B, headed by Mrs. R. H. Washburn. As entertainment, Mrs. Hendricks sang and did a pantomime.

Rice Bag Party Held Thursday

Miss Cynthia Pond, bride-elect of Kenneth Baxter, was honored with a rice bag party Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. J. C. Pickle, 415 Hillside.

The honoree was presented a novelty corsage of spice and rice and wedding rings. She was attired in a white and brown dress. Her mother, Mrs. Joe Pond, was given a pink carnation corsage.

Miss Merry Lee Dibrell presided at the guest register. At the refreshment table were Miss Brenda Greene, Miss Peggy Irwin, Miss Debra Irwin and Miss Joan Robertson.

The table was centered with a branched silver candelabrum arranged with spring flowers. Candles were yellow, pink and green. Mixed flowers were used at focal points in the entertaining rooms.

Guests brought recipes which were placed in a book presented to the honoree by the hostess.

Among the guests was Miss Monica Barrdunge of Sweden, who will spend several weeks in the Pond home.

Class Initiates Prayer Meetings

The Friendship Class of Wesley Methodist Church met for a business luncheon Saturday in the Downtown Tea Room. Mrs. Joe Jacobs presided, and Mrs. J. W. Brigance gave the invocation.

The class will start a regular prayer meeting which will be held at 4 p.m. on Saturdays, in the Brigance home at 602 Tulane. All church members are welcome to attend.

A gift was presented to the retiring president, Mrs. Florence Odom, and two guests, Mrs. Lena Henderson and Mrs. Abbie Andersen, were introduced. The birthdays of five members were celebrated.

CATHERINE HOPE HAZELWOOD

Reveals Engagement At Saturday Coffee

STANTON (SC) — A coffee to announce the engagement of Miss Catherine Hope Hazelwood to Karl Lee Herzog was held Saturday morning in the home of Miss Hazelwood's aunt, Mrs. Paige Eiland. Cohostesses were Mrs. L. C. Hazelwood Sr., Mrs. Joe Latty, Mrs. Jess Angel and Mrs. Bob Hazelwood.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hazelwood Jr., and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Herzog. Both are 1968 graduates of Stanton High School and will be sophomore students at Texas Tech in September.

As she greeted guests, Miss Hazelwood was attired in a pink linen A-line dress with scoop neck and short sleeves. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

The serving table was appointed with silver and centered with a pink rose tree with pink ribbon streamers printed with the couple's names and wedding date. Arrangements of fresh flowers were placed throughout the entertaining area. Mrs. Mike Hull of Midland and Mrs. Janie Boadle of Big Spring served.

Mrs. Ronnie Tucker and Miss Jane Hodges attended the guest register, and out-of-town guests included Mrs. Wyatt Berry, Garden Grove, Calif.; Mrs. Maedelle Davidson, Big Spring, and Mrs. Homer Howard Sr. of Big Lake.

The couple will marry Aug. 9 at the First United Methodist Church.

A Devotional For The Day

"My peace I give to you; not as the world gives do I give to you." John 14:27, RSV)

PRAYER: Lord of all life, help us to spread our wings of faith. May we ourselves be at peace as we serve in Christ's name and for His Sake amid the storms of this day. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

ROTC Serves Useful Purpose

Under pressure from a small minority of militant students (and some faculty members), a few college and university administrations are restricting or downgrading Reserve Officer Training Corps. As yet, none has dropped ROTC — while scores of applications are still pending — but if such a trend should swell and accelerate it could have grave consequences.

The first ROTC program was started in 1819. The programs became widespread in 1862 when the Morill Act provided land grants for colleges agreeing to offer military courses. ROTC was established in its present form by the 1916 National Defense Act, and scholarships and pay for participating students were broadly improved in 1964.

ROTC graduated 18,000 officers in 1968, with an increase to 25,000 expected this year. The crucial point is this: The Army will get 16,800 second lieutenants from ROTC this year, 8,700 from service-operated officer candidate schools, and only 760 from West Point.

Obviously, if ROTC were abolished, which is extremely unlikely, the military services (particularly the Army) would have to get its officers from another source. Brig. Gen. Clifford P. Hanum, Army deputy director for ROTC, assumes that would be college graduates assured officer candidate school training and a commission on enlistment.

But he fears that could lead to a military professionalism, or elite, a loss of the traditional "civilian-military character" in the armed forces that would be dangerous for a democratic society. He feels, and we think rightly, that the ROTC programs provide a civilian leavening in the military establishment that makes it more amenable to constitutional civilian control.

It seems incredible that the current, and hopefully temporary, anti-ROTC movements on some campuses could destroy a 150-year-old tradition. But even that remote possibility should be sufficient cause for genuine public concern.

Read The First Sentence

If you read this sentence at a normal pace, about 39 persons will have been born somewhere in the world by the time you finish it. We know, because we timed the sentence at approximately 10 seconds. According to the latest World Population Data Sheet, 3.9 infants are being born every second this year. Ten seconds — 39 more human beings on our planet.

This does not mean that the human race is expanding at quite that awesome rate. On a global basis, there is about one death for every two births. The current death rate is about 1.7 per second. Consequently, the actual population growth throughout the world is not 3.9 but only about 2.2 persons per second.

But "only" does not seem to be just the appropriate word. At that rate, as the worldwide statistical compilation shows, humanity is swelling by more than 1.3 million persons a week — 190,000 per day, 132 per minute.

The crucial factor to bear in mind when considering this explosive growth is this: Other things being equal, the larger the population base the swifter the actual rate of increase. It took man all the long milennia until about 1800, for example, to reach his first billion. The second billion was built up in approximately a century and one-third: That mark was reached about 1930. Since 1930 we have added another billion and a half, and mankind will reach the four-billion level by 1975.

Those are the gross figures. The point is also illustrated by considering annual rates of increase. At the time the two-billion mark was passed in 1930, world population was growing at the rate of about 20 million per year. Now, only 40 years later, the rate of increase is around 72 million a year, and rising.

And rising fast — faster every year. This swift burgeoning of humanity, with all its attendant social and economic problems, is a momentous threat which has thus far brought a gravely inadequate response.

Burleson Reports

We Can Not Afford To Be Wrong

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Those of us who have served in the Armed Forces remember very well many instances of waste and extravagance. Probably this individual helped burn about as much powder as anyone not to have hit any more effective targets. The shell fired from one certain type of gun meant the price of an $18.75 war bond each time one went out the end of the barrel. In addition to training practice there was a lot of firing at nothing.

THIS IS A VERY small example but multiplied thousands of times over, plus cost all the way down the line, proves that war and most any military activity is excessively expensive. As a matter of fact, it seems that the very nature of any governmental activity, civilian or military, is more costly than it should be.

On May 1, 1969, this space commented on the development of the ABM (Anti-Ballistic Missile). Not only has this specific issue emerged into great controversy but now goes far beyond to involve our total national defense. Sincere people question the huge sums expended for military purposes and would use those funds for the many social reforms such as rebuilding our decaying cities and providing a guaranteed income for those at the poverty level.

While many are entirely honest in this approach, the opposition attracts the pacifists, the anti-war advocates, those who trust the Communist world "military-industrial complex" is said to be dominating our society and and the actual subversives. Except for the latter, the others seemingly place their trust on the good intentions of the Soviet Union and Red China, raher than our capability to defend against their possible aggression. Of course the subversives support anything against the interest of the United States.

DURING THE LAST several days, about any newspaper from the big cities of the North and East is loaded with publicity about the actions of those opposing, not only the ABM, but the military in general. Fresh blasts occur against the Pentagon with every issue. The whole exhausting our wealth.

A congressional committee has been formed and invites all members of Congress to join in a plan to establish "priorities" — domestic programs over military preparedness.

Sure enough, vast sums of money have been poorly spent on tanks that won't run, some planes that won't perform as they were represented and some defense contractors have fudged as to the ultimate cost on some military items. Something is being done about it, but none of this should have occured in the first place. It now serves as a vehicle for the critics to attack our defense preparedness.

THE SOVIET UNION is continuously expanding her military capabilities including an ABM system. The Soviets acted first to develop long range, intercontinental, surface-to-surface missiles. They acted first to test-fire an ABM against an incoming nuclear-armed missile. This was back in 1962, and they are the only nation to have done this. The Soviets acted first to test a 60-megaton bomb, the only nation to do this. They were the first to develop and deploy a fractional, orbital bombardment system, a first strike oriented weapon and they are the only nation to have developed or deployed such a system. Next, the Russians have acted first to deploy an ABM setup and they have been testing, improving, and updating the system ever since. Today they have over 60 anti-ballistic missiles deployed on launch pads. We, on the other hand, have not yet deployed an ABM setup of any kind. Yet the critics of the ABM in today's debate, say we are escalating the arms race.

Those who would leave us naked of power in such a dangerous world are deluding themselves in a time when we can not afford to be wrong. Our position of strength gives the greatest assurance against a nuclear war.

Billy Graham

Please explain the Bible verse which reads: "All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them." F.D.

This verse is found in John 10:8. In it Jesus is explaining the dangerous fact that many people have professed to be saviours, and they have always had a following. People are like sheep and they can be very easily led astray.

In the day of Christ they used to have large sheepfolds in which the sheep of many different shepherds would be kept. This was to protect the sheep during the night from wild animals. In the morning the shepherd would come by and call his sheep.

Jesus said that His own sheep would recognize His voice. Many shepherds had come before His time, but they did not hear them. Jesus was actually giving out the evidences of the genuineness of His mission as He said this. Even today there are many false prophets and many false shepherds and they lead silly people like silly sheep in very strange directions. Only Christ is the true Saviour, and only He came to provide true deliverance from sin.

Law And Order In The Marketplace

NEW YORK (AP) — What appears to be a long, hot and disturbed summer for the riotously expansive American economy seems to be taking shape every day now. Law and order, we are told, must prevail in the marketplace.

In Washington, where the House Banking Committee is holding hearings this week, the nation's bankers heard themselves accused of conspiring to rig the price of money, or in other words, to boost the prime interest rate.

REP. WRIGHT Patman, the Texas Democrat who heads the House committee and who likes to spray teargas at bankers, made the conspiracy reference. But those responsible for administration policy also are getting in their shots.

Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy, testifying before the committee, suggested that perhaps bankers were getting "the message" because of the ever tightening anti-inflation methods of the Federal Reserve.

SPEAKING in Copenhagen, Denmark, where last week the nation's biggest bankers retreated for their 16th International Monetary Conference, Dr. Paul McCracken, the president's chief economic adviser, said much the same thing.

Addressing his "friends in the banking community," McCracken said, "Earlier this year I found myself rather frequently told . . . 'We don't think you really mean it in Washington.'"

Was there a "had enough" or "get the point" message in McCracken's statement to the bankers, who now are complaining loudly that they have almost no money to lend?

WITHOUT money to sell, bankers are little more effective than grocers without carrots and spinach or milkmen who have nothing but empty bottles to leave on the doorsteps of their best customers.

But there is a message for everyone in the statements of administration policy makers.

The bankers might be those at whom the weapons are directed now. But the warning is for all Americans who, we are told, are spending themselves into chaos.

The most frightening weapon that could be brought into use is that referred to by William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, and long the fiscal conscience of America. The weapon: enforced savings.

MARTIN spoke in Copenhagen, and then declined to expand much on the meaning except to say it could mean higher taxes. It suggests other things as well, and some people were inclined to draw dire meanings.

Pierre Rinfret, the economic consultant to industry, said that on the surface it smacked of fascism. To tell people where they can put their money, he said, is to tell them how to "vote" with their dollars.

To tell people how much they should save also might be unconstitutional in the opinion of William Freund, vice president and economist of the New York Stock Exchange.

Home Is A Worrisome Place

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Home may be more of a worrisone place than a business office. It has been found housewives take twice as many tranqualizers as executives. The use of nerve calmers is particularly high among women in families with three or four children and an annual income of $10,000 or more.

THE WORLD'S biggest ice cube is Antarctica. Its massive ice cap, if melted uniformly, would release enough water to match the flow of the Mississippi River for more than 50,000 years.

We are munching popcorn now at the rate of half a billion pounds a year. Moviegoers eat the most, followed by baseball fans and television viewers.

Men between 21 and 35 years old, a recent survey indicated, are our worst litterbugs—twice as bad as women.

QUOTABLE notables: "The graveyards are full of women whose houses were so spotless you could eat off the floor. Remember the second wife always has a maid."—Heloise Cruse.

The high cost of higher education: Expensive as college is now, it could be a lot worse—and probably will. According to the U.S. Office of Education, students in private colleges now pay only about 65 per cent of the total cost of their education. At state universities, students pay only 21 per cent.

TONGUE in cheek: A New England doctor has suggested that instead of bearings printed health warnings, cigarette packs contain coupons redeemable for medical treatment for lung cancer, heart attacks, emphysema, bronchitis and other ailments believed to be smoking-connected.

The long hair worn by hippies today reflects one of man's oldest superstitions—that the hair is the vital seat of life and strength. Some primitive tribes never allowed children's hair to be cut until they were a year old, fearing that if they did it would lessen the children's vitality and make them prey to illness.

What Low Blood Sugar Can Do To You

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
(First in a series of three articles)

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could low blood sugar affect one emotionally or mentally? I was told by a doctor that I have this condition and low thyroid, but he said it makes a person tired and sleepy. I get the most awful feelings and sensations. — Mrs. L.D.

"Awful feelings and sensations" is a little too vague for me to try to give a yes or no answer.

This I can say, though: low blood sugar (hypoglycemia) most decidedly can affect the emotions and thinking processes, among the other things it can do.

In your case, you have two problems, the low blood sugar and the low thyroid activity. It is not at all uncommon for the two conditions to be present in the same person — although either can, of course, be present without the other.

Low thyroid activity — which usually can be corrected quite readily — can make a person tired and sleepy.

Low blood sugar has a different type of reaction.

I have written about this quite a few times in this column, but from the number of inquiries which still come in (in fact, the number is increasing sharply), I am of the opinion that I still have not written enough about it. It bothers a great many people.

Low blood sugar is different from many problems in that it is not ordinarily a continuous condition. It comes in spurts, and it fluctuates. It is dynamic, not static.

To understand it, keep in mind the source of the body's energy. The "fuel" is blood sugar, in the form of glucose, carried by the bloodstream.

The amount rises after we have eaten, then declines gradually as we use up our sugar. If we reach a point at which the sugar level is too low — and especially if we reach this point too abruptly — we can have "symptoms of low blood sugar."

These include such things as hunger, weakness and an "all-gone" feeling, trembling, headache, visual disturbances. Since the brain gets all of its energy from blood sugar, paucity of sugar can affect both thinking and emotions. Some folks become unaccountably crabby or neurotic, and in some instances there may be blackouts or (more likely) a feeling as though you were going to faint but do not actually black out. There can be mental confusion.

With such a range of troubles that can arise from these dips in the blood sugar level, it is no wonder that much attention is now being aimed at overcoming the trouble. I have, in fact, just completed a booklet on the topic, "Help for Hypoglycemia — Low Blood Sugar." For anyone interested, the booklet is ready for distribution and will be sent in return for 25 cents to cover printing and handling, and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send requests to Dr. Thosteson, care of The Herald.

Meantime, tomorrow I will discuss what can be done to prevent trouble from low blood sugar.

Around The Rim

The Outrages Of Vandalism

Texarkana may be having its miseries with its burgeoning rat population but we have vermin of our own and little is being done to contain menace.

They are happily grouped under the title of "vandals" and what they are doing to our parks, countryside and public buildings — not to mention privately-owned concerns — is a caution.

I say they are happily grouped because if they are caught — and they rarely are — they invariably get off with a wrist slapping or a pointless lecture.

GO INTO any park and you see their calling cards — carved-up tables, concrete benches that have been chipped or broken by blunt instruments, street lights shattered by thrown rocks or gun fire.

The litterbugs who help to contaminate every area they touch are no help either. They leave in their wake beer cans, paper plates and empty potato chip sacks.

Our lakes, which could be charming places, are desecrated by this disreputable type of human. They are prone to walk to the water's edge with a half-eaten sandwich in hand. With trash cans in evidence all over the premises, they choose instead to jettison their debris into the water or else abandon it along the shoreline.

A SELF-RESPECTING pig would shudder at the thought of calling this sort of person a cousin.

Only God can make a tree, Joyce Kilmer kept insisting, but any number of the people built in His image take a certain sadistic pride in trying to destroy it—especially if it is a thing of beauty in some public playground.

The vandal's approach is systematic. He either attacks such plant life by exerting pressure on its branches or seeks out its life line with knife or hatchet.

INDIVIDUALS BENT upon such mayhem take special delight in taking apart a child's ride, by working at its moorings until it collapses into ruin or concentrating on its bolts until it disintegrates.

Invariably, the sort of people who must answer to those kind of crimes contribute the least toward creation of such play areas, yet offer the most toward the cacophony of protest that a community doesn't do enough to provide recreation for its residents.

A PROGRAM to educate much mischief makers on the errors of their ways might help, but I doubt it.

Two things could reduce the incidence of such wanton destruction; (1) a more concerted effort to arrest them in the act; and (2) greater penalty if they are caught. Anyone bent upon such outrages might think twice before doing it if they ran the risk of having to restore everything they did damage or destroy.

The 'Old' And 'New' Approach

WASHINGTON — Sen John McClellan, who first came to Congress in 1937, was stolidly taking testimony on the causes and cures of campus disturbances.

That same morning on Capitol Hill, four senators who came to Washington only this year, January, 1969, were conducting another sort of public meeting. Along with four representatives, they were stressing "a positive approach to new priorities in America." The four senators were Republicans Cook of Kentucky and Saxbe of Ohio, Democrats Cranston of California and Hughes of Iowa. They had a cumbersome name for their group — Congressional Conference on the Planning of New Priorities.

BY SWITCHING between committee rooms, a reporter is able to catch two meetings on the same day, and I can't remember when it was more worthwhile. For here in the same time frame were law-makers who were dealing with the same momentous problem — revolution in the United States, no less — but doing so with contrasting methods. McClellan, a veteran and a traditionalist is past 70. Cook, Saxbe, Cranston and Hughes, all newcomers and experimentalists, are in their vigorous 40's and 50's. All are earnest and concerned men. But how different their approaches.

McCLELLAN HAD in front of his Permanent Investigations Subcommittee, several staff fact-finders who were reporting on the leaders and doings of the Students for a Democratic Society and three other violence-groups. The hearing had not as yet developed sensational findings, but was laying the groundwork of generally known facts. It is generally known that there are radical groups, some of them Communist-connected, which are dedicated to the overthrow of the United States by force and violence. We have become accustomed to living with such knowledge, much as people become accustomed to living on the slopes of the volcanic Mount Vesuvius.

BUT THE veteran McClellan, not willing to play the fatalist and give up the country to eruptive forces, was in there trying. A law-and-order man, through and through, McClellan believes that rebellion can be quelled if the rebels are exposed in their crimes and brought to justice.

The four freshmen senators were not fatalists either. They did not exactly propose to give up the ship. But their attitude toward the mutineers was altogether different from McClellan's. Cook, Saxbe, Cranston and Hughes stressed that they were fresh from the people in the 1968 elections, and that they had had personal contact with the rebellious unrest. They were the New Men.

IF THEY SPOKE a word about law-and-order, it escaped my attention. These new law-makers were for placating the mutineers. In order to do so, they had to get Federal money, and they proposed raiding the national arsenal for these funds. By "new priorities," they meant less for military defense and more for domestic spending. All four, it developed, were against the latest nuclear defense weapon, the ABM Safeguard, and also against the latest nuclear offensive weapon, known as MIRV, and moreover less against the Armed Services Committees of Senate and House.

THERE WE HAVE the contrast. It is too clear to need any further demarcation. If McClellan, the old traditionalist, is right, we must not allow the mutineers to run the ship. If the freshmen senators are right, we must compromise both with the mutineers and with our national defense.

The People Are Speaking Up

WASHINGTON — In recent elections for mayor in each of three cities — Los Angeles, Minneapolis and New York — the voters now have expressed themselves emphatically on the 'law and order' issue. They disapprove of the reluctance of local authorities to use the police promptly and deal with riots and disturbances effectively. The simple truth is that the people are frightened, and they are giving their support at the polls to those candidates in any of the political parties who seem to be willing to protect the citizenry.

IN THE PRIMARY last Tuesday, Democratic and Republican voters in New York City heavily supported candidates on the "conservative" side in casting ballots for the nominations for mayor. It was, in fact, a turning against the incumbent leaders of both parties. There has been an old rule in politics that, when an administration in power doesn't do enough about an issue which has awakened deep emotions, opposition rises irrespective of party.

The people are not interested in whether the candidates or men in office call themselves "conservatives" or "liberals." They are concerned with what is going to be done to make the streets safe again, and what restrictive measures will be applied. Rioters — using the excuse of "free speech" — have deliberately upset the peaceful life of many a community.

EDUCATORS THEMSELVES are puzzled or frustrated by the tactics of the demonstrators who seek publicity in various causes on the ground that they have a right to use almost any means to emphasize their dissent. But the common sense point of view of the average voter is that there are plenty of places where public issues can be discussed — in stadiums or convention halls — and that there is no justification for the seizure of buildings, whether public or private.

RESENTMENT IS rising all across the land. Members of Congress are going to feel it in the 1970 elections although the preservation of law and order is largely the responsibility of the states and cities. Pressure is growing inside Congress currently for legislation that will invoke federal power in order to help put down incipient rebellion.

This is described by the intellectuals as a trend toward a "police state." But the American people are tired of reading about alleged "police brutality" and the demands that the police power be used only gently. They want results.

THE DISSATISFACTION which has emerged all over the country is due not only to acts of irresponsible groups which have provoked riots and disturbances but to the failure of governmental power to prevent crime.

So some of the candidates for public office and prominent persons who have argued that the answer to America's problems is not in the use of more police power but in spending more money on poverty and sociological problems are not convincing the voters that this is a solution. The theory on which America has developed its form of government is that there must be obedience to authority and that, while discussion may be legitimate, violence cannot be condoned under any circumstances.

THE VOTERS are losing patience with rhetorical explanations and intellectual alibis. They want action by local governments as well as by the national government.

Carol Beats All Other Waitresses

DETROIT (AP) — Carol Zaccardelli of Detroit said Sunday "I'm the happiest girl in the world" after hustling 440 yards with four glasses of champagne.

Carol beat all the other waitresses in the 15th annual Waiters and Waitressses Race at Detroit, but it was waiter Roohy Naubash who claimed most of the glory with a world record time of three minutes, 28 seconds for the event. Naubash topped the old record by 12 seconds.

BOTH GROUPS CALL NEWS CONFERENCES

SDS Sharply Split

CHICAGO (AP) — Students for a Democratic Society, the radical group prominent in recent campus uprisings, ended its national convention today sharply split, with its so-called regular faction electing Mark Rudd, leader of 1968 Columbia University disorders, national secretary.

The other faction of SDS, headed by the Progressive Labor party, elected an entirely different slate of officers.

Both groups ended their conventions at different locations, both called separate news conferences for today to announce names of officers, and both claimed to be "the real SDS."

The PL faction ended its meeting in the Coliseum convention hall on the South Side, where SDS started its convention as a single group Wednesday.

NEW OFFICERS

Elected officers by the PL were John Pennington, national secretary; Alan Spector, educational secretary, and Mrs. Pat Forman, interorganizational secretary.

Fred Gordon, educational secretary for the last year, gaveled the PL faction's convention to a close in the Coliseum.

Besides Rudd, the SDS regulars elected as officers Jeffrey Jones of San Francisco, interorganizational secretary and William Ayres of the University of Michigan, educational secretary.

The "regulars" ended their meeting in a church on the West Side.

The PLs called a news conference for the University of Illinois, Chicago, to introduce their slate. The regulars called a conference in the organization's regional headquarters.

Outgoing officers, besides Gordon, are Michael Klonsky, national secretary, and Miss Bernardine Dorhn, interorganization secretary.

EXPELLED

Early Sunday, the PLs had been expelled from SDS by the regulars, backed by their allies, the Black Panther party.

Fist-clenching Panthers had warned that SDS would be judged by action it took against PL. Delegates from PL, strongest at Harvard and the University of California, responded with hisses and catcalls.

"You had best not forget you're in Chicago, PL," one Panther shouted. "Any more of that and we'll take care of you."

At that point some 500 SDS members began the caucus that ended in the PL expulsion.

PL spokesmen said they advocate world revolution by all workers rather than movements such as the Panther party, which they attacked a "black nationalist."

TIGHT SECURITY

Convention security was tight. Delegates and observers were searched from hair to shoes. Wallets and purses were ransacked for any evidence the bearers might be newsmen or police.

SDS security forces said the procedure had stopped two sheriff's deputies and numerous newsmen. Searchers were also directed to confiscate weapons and narcotics.

In spite of the security measures, some reporters and undercover investigators managed to get in. One large insurance company placed two observers inside to learn how revolutionaries planned to infiltrate business.

Tornadoes Kill Five, Hurt 30 In Missouri Lead Belt

OLD MINES, Mo. (AP) — Tornadoes left five persons dead and more than 30 injured in the Missouri lead mining belt southwest of St. Louis Sunday night.

At Old Mines, one twister destroyed nearly a dozen homes. Roy Pratt, a 45-year-old strip mine employe, and his 5-year-old son Francis were killed.

Seven other members of the Pratt family were injured when they were trapped in their frame dwelling, which collapsed.

Two elderly brothers, Jacob and Herman Herbst, died when another twister tore into their home near Farmington about 22 miles southeast of Old Mines.

The fifth victim, a Carbondale, Ill., motorist, was killed when a tornado lifted his car from US 67 near Farmington and slammed it into a rock bluff. Farmington Community Hospital withheld his identity.

"We heard this awful roar, just like a railroad train," said a neighbor of Pratt, Clyde Boyer. "It took the doors right off the storm cellar and my wife and my boy and I crouched down on the floor until it passed."

Most roads in the area were blocked by fallen trees.

The twisters downed power lines and telephone wires and an electrical storm made two-way radio contact nearly impossible in the stricken area for hours, leaving a virtual communications blackout.

Hospitals at Farmington, Ironton and Potosi reported treating about 35 persons, most of them for minor injuries.

A spokesman for the Weather Bureau in St. Louis said the tornadoes were spawned by "typical summer storms."

Late Saturday night and early Sunday another batch of tornadoes struck in central Kansas, injuring about 100 persons and causing damage estimated at more than $10 million.

Hardest hit was Salina, a city of 40,000, where 37 of 43 planes were battered at the airport, 26 houses, 17 business buildings and 12 mobile homes were destroyed, and heavy damage was done to 110 houses, 21 business buildings, three churches and three schools.

Cancer Kills Rep. Bates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William Henry Bates of Massachusetts, top Republican on the House Armed Services Committee and an advocate of a nuclear Navy, has died of stomach cancer.

Bates, 52, died Sunday at Bethesda Naval Hospital where he had been receiving X-ray treatment from March 19 until about two weeks ago. His wife was with him when he died, an aide said.

Bates' death left the House political lineup at 244 Democrats and 188 Republicans, with three vacancies.

Bates was elected in 1950 to succeed his father Rep. George Bates who had been killed along with 54 other persons when their airliner, coming in to land at National Airport, collided with a military plane piloted by a young Bolivian.

New Interfaith Facility Idea

COLUMBIA, Md. (AP) — Representatives of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths manned shovels to break ground Sunday for a new interfaith religious facility in Columbia.

The building will serve Catholic, Missouri Synod Lutheran, American Baptist, Unitarian Universalist, Jewish and United Methodist-Presbyterian congregations.

The cost of the facility, including land and architect fees and furnishings, will top $1 million, said the Rev. Clarence Sinclair, executive minister for the Columbia Cooperative Ministry.

Each religious organization using the structure will lease it, paying a fee in ratio to the extent of use.

There will be four worship areas of varying sizes. The largest will seat 600, another 350 and two will have a capacity of 70. The center will also include office space, with secretarial and service areas, to be shared by all.

Refugee Running For Coveted Title

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Three years ago Gabor Garai was an unknown Hungarian schoolboy applying for political asylum in America. Today he is the 1969 Outstanding Teenager of Pennsylvania.

The 17-year-old refugee is among the nation's 50 finalists for the coveted title of Outstanding Teenager of America for 1969. President Nixon will make the $1,000 scholarship award later this summer.

Garai couldn't speak a word of English when he stayed behind on a three month's visitor's visa in 1966.

This fall he goes on a scholarship to Harvard. He has already won and turned down other scholarships to Yale, Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania. At George Washington High School here he scored 1410 in his college board exams, was class president and head of the student association.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases — to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests by doctors proved that in case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H®. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Guest Learns About Heat In West Texas

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stitzell, Garland, who stopped here for a weekend visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Moody, had with them a guest who didn't know it could get so hot as it has been recently in Texas.

He is Martin Spangfors, 17, Stockholm, Sweden, a member of their family under a Lions student exchange program.

The weekend they picked for a tour of the Southwest turned out to be one when the temperature rocketed suddenly above the 100-degree mark and remained there. They took Martin through the Carlsbad, N.M., caverns, then over to the White Sands at Alamogordo, then up through the Billy-the-Kid Country around Lincoln.

Last summer when the Lions International Convention was held in Dallas, Stitzell met with Martin's father, Sip Spangfors, an engineer, and hosted him to a Texas steak barbecue. Then in January, when he learned that Martin might be coming to the United States under the exchange program, Stitzell put in an application for Martin.

The Stitzells returned to Garland Monday morning. He is to yield the office of president at an installation ceremony for the Garland Evening Lions Club this evening. He was for many years secretary of the Big Spring Downtown Club.

Truck Burned

The Coahoma Fire Department answered a call to a truck fire five miles north of Big Spring on US 87 about 3:30 a.m. Sunday. Police said the truck, owned by Permian Corporation, Midland, was heavily damaged. There were no injuries and cause of the fire was not known.

Lions To Host Appreciation Day Meeting

The Downtown Lions Club will be hosts Wednesday when the community stages Big Spring State Hospital Appreciation Day.

Everyone is invited to share in the luncheon affair, but those who are not club members should contact Clyde McMahon Jr., president, or Bob West, (Cosden), secretary, in order that adequate provision may be made for food.

Dr. John Kinross-Wright, Texas commissioner for the department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, will be the speaker for the occasion. Dr. Preston Harrison, hospital superintendent, also will be on hand.

"We urge all who can to be present as an expression of our admiration and affection for the hospital," said McMahon.

Thursday evening, another major event marking the 30th anniversary week of the hospital will be the awards program at the Allred Building on the hospital campus.

PILLS, DIVORCES, ILLNESSES, DEATH

'We Love You Judy!'

LONDON (AP) — "Audiences have kept me alive," Judy Garland once said. But a London surgeon says the star was "living on borrowed time," and time ran out Sunday for the 47-year-old singing star.

Miss Garland, who made more than 35 films but was best known for her role as a little girl named Dorothy in "The Wizard of Oz," was found dead by her fifth husband, Mickey Deans, in the bathroom of her London home.

British newspapers labeled the death "sudden and mysterious" but Scotland Yard ruled out suicide and police said there was no suspicion of foul play. An autopsy was scheduled today.

Dr. Phillip Lebon, a prominent London surgeon who had treated Miss Garland for several years, said she had cirrhosis of the liver and that death could have come any time. "How she lived this long I don't know," he said.

A Scotland Yard spokesman commented: "It was a simple plain case of sudden death."

Miss Garland had been married to Deans, a 35-year-old former New York discotheque manager, for 100 days. A friend, singer Gina Dangerfields, said: "Judy was feeling on top of the world. They were very much in love and it seemed that she had found happiness at last."

The Judy Garland story was one of pills, divorces, on-stage collapses, illnesses, audiences that booed her and finished by yelling "We love you Judy!" She reportedly attempted suicide several times. In the most publicized attempt, she slashed her throat at the age of 28.

But just when Miss Garland appeared washed up, she bounced back again. After she married Deans March 15, she told newsmen: "Finally, finally I am loved."

Born Frances Gumm on June 10, 1922, in Grand Rapids, Minn., she was the youngest of three daughters of a vaudeville team. It is said she made her first stage appearance in a Grand Rapids theater at the age of 30 months, singing "Jingle Bells," and that she was so thrilled by performing that her father had to pull her off the stage after she'd sung the number seven times.

A widely travelled child star from the age of 3, Miss Garland changed her name at the suggestion of George Jessel. Her first film in 1935 was a two-reel short called "Every Sunday Afternoon," but her first well-known movie was "Pigskin Parade." Her 1939 role in the "Wizard of Oz" catapulted her into the hearts of millions.

Find Judy Garland Dead

Entertainer Judy Garland was found dead in her London, England, home by her husband, Mickey Deans, on Sunday. She was 47.

In 1940, 1941 and 1945 she was named one of the 10 highest-paid stars in Hollywood, earning $150,000 a film. Her series with Mickey Rooney in the Andy Hardy stories was a national hit, still revived occasionally on the late-late show.

Her movies are estimated to have earned $100 million, but tragedy dogged her. At 18 she was under psychiatric care and consuming many kinds of pills.

She was divorced four times —in 1944 after a three-year marriage to composer David Rose; in 1951, after a six-year marriage to director Vincent Minnelli; in 1965, after a 13-year marriage to Sid Luft, her manager; and finally from actor Mark Herron, after a marriage of 19 months.

She has three children: Liza Minnelli, an entertainer, and Lorna and Joey Luft, all three were in the United States when they learned of their mother's death.

Dancer Fred Astaire said: "She was unlimited in her talents and learned everything very quickly. . . one of the most talented women who ever lived."

"She was—I'm sure—at peace, and has found that rainbow. At least I hope she has," said Mickey Rooney.

NEWS BRIEFS

Three Named In Charges

Two men were charged Saturday night with assaulting a police officer and a third man with driving while intoxicated following a Saturday afternoon fracas which left a policeman with a broken hand.

Pete Armendariz and Blaz Armendariz, 509 NE Johnson, were charged with assaulting an officer, and Elias Villa Armendariz was charged with driving while intoxicated. Justice of the Peace Walter Grice set bond at $500 each, and they posted bond.

The three men were jailed after Elias Armendariz was stopped by officers in the 600 block of North Johnson about 3 p.m. for a traffic violation. The two other men drove up and tried to prevent officers from arresting the man, according to Police Chief Jay Banks.

Banks said during the disturbance a crowd gathered and the three men broke away from the officers and ran into a nearby house. The men were armed, Banks said. Patrolman Jess Bedwell received a broken hand in the disturbance.

Men Angry And Bitter

DONG TAM, South Vietnam (ap) — The first American infantry battalion scheduled to be withdrawn from Vietnam is going home in name only, and the men are angry and bitter.

"They are just kidding the public," said 1st Lt. Paul Caputo of Brooklyn, N.Y. "Telling folks the 3rd Battalion is going home when in fact only the colors and standards are going home."

Under President Nixon's withdrawal order, the 3rd Battalion, 60th Infantry of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division is scheduled to fly to the United States July 8 for demobilization. But it will actually be a composite battalion of 900 men.

Men with a few months left to serve in Vietnam will be transferred to other units. Their places on the trip home will be filled by soldiers from other battalions who have completed or almost completed their 12-month tours.

"We don't feel good about people going home with our patches on their uniforms," said Spec. 4 Jerry Valcante of Long Island, N.Y.

Many of the men have already received letters from home and are angry that their families will be disappointed.

"We all expected to be here and we are not trying to get out of it," said Lt. Harold Hector, a platoon leader from Cambridge, Mass. "It is just the way it was announced.

Laird To Testify At Closed Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and CIA Director Richard Helms were called to testify today before a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the Soviet offensive missile capability.

Laird in the past has contended the Russians are aiming at a nuclear first strike capability, a position some Democratic senators are skeptical about.

"We've heard so many things around here that weren't so, that I think the attitude of a lot of us is that 'it ain't necessarily so'," commitee chairman Sen. J. W. Fulbright said.

Fulbright, D-Ark., had said earlier he didn't think intelligence findings supported Laird's contentions about Moscow's missile program.

It was a similar challenge which caused Laird to demand that Helms be called to sit beside him to substantiate his position that there are no administration differences over intelligence evaluations.

Fulbright said he favored separate appearances. He praised Helms, saying he has a feeling that the latter "is a professional and he has been straightforward."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., a committee member and a supporter of the administration's missile defense system, said he interprets the intelligence controversy and recent efforts to halt development of a multiple-target missile as desperation tactics by ABM critics.

BIRTHDAY

decades of the hospital as a humanitarian effort and noted that it was not just for Big Spring but for West Texas and all the state.

Dr. Harrison observed that anniversaries were for living things and that the hospital here had suffered its share of hardships and deficiencies, but also its portion of successes and joys and "has grown bigger and stronger and better able to serve." He heaped praises upon his staff.

Texas, said Lt. Gov. Barnes, may rank too far down the list in its investments in mental health but it is making its dollars do more. Within the past four years Texas has vaulted from 50th to sixth place among the states in community mental health development. BSSH is among the leaders in this field, he noted.

"Soon we will land a man on the moon," he said, "and it would be a shame that in time of great accomplishments we neglected all of our basic and primary responsibilities — taking care of our fellow man." Texas need not take a back seat to any state in the care and treatment of mentally ill.

"So after 30 years, we take the opportunity to rededicate ourselves, that we as Texans and Christians are ready to accept the challenge to provide the rehabilitatin programs, the exposure to treatment so that our people may live happy, useful lives."

Dr. Kinross-Wright recalled how BSSH came into being about the time mental hospitals were on the verge of changing from custodial care to active treatment, and how it had been a leader in this trend. He observed that BSSH had pioneered in new types of treatment including the unit concept (grouping patients according to geographical background) the open door policy, the Halfway House and Community Home, the Work Village, and others. The hospital also was setting the pace for community centers with ones at Colorado City, Snyder and Lamesa in operation, and others starting soon at Seminole and Pecos. A dozen will cluster around this hospital, he said.

Numerous county judges and commissioners were present. Dr. Harrison took occasion to recognize Mrs. Arthur Tamplin, who was a nurse when the hospital opened and who is also now on the staff, and Dr. W. B. Hardy, the hospital dentist who was the consulting dentist when BSSH began. Tours were conducted after the program.

Bag With $345 Skipped By Thug, Stereo Stolen

Police are investigating one incident of vandalism and two burglaries reported during the weekend.

Mrs. Taylor Rudd, 1700 Settles, told police $100 was taken out of a bank bag locked in a car parked in front of her residence. She said $345 was left in the bag.

A portable stereo, valued at $129, was taken from the home of Mrs. Dorothy Smart, 700 N. Lancaster, according to police. Mrs. Smart told police two light switches also were removed from the wall and estimated property damage at $10.

Lonnie E. Hattenbach, 1806 E. 15th, told police two boys with slingshots damaged the car he was in Saturday night behind Gandy's Creamery, 3210 E. Marcy. Hattenbach said the windshield was cracked, a window on the passenger side of the car was broken, and the hood was dented.

Paving Program Changes Head Up City's Agenda

City Commissioners will discuss a request by the contractor to cut back approximately one-third of the city's paving program Tuesday night in the regular commission meeting at 7 p.m. in City Hall.

Also on the agenda are the disannexation of part of the Kentwood Addition, change from slant parking to parallel parking in the 300 block of Runnels, the widening of Twenty-fifth Street, and the US 87 Improvement Project.

W. D. Caldwell, paving contractor, said tax liens on property involved in the city paving program would prevent collection of payment for the paving on 12 streets.

"This is the first request to have the paving program cut back because of back taxes," Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said. "However, we have another list to add to the program if these blocks are dropped from the project."

The blocks in question are Thirteenth Street, from Dixie to Settles; Fourteenth, Dixie to Settles; Northeast Tenth, Main to Runnels; Lorilla, West Seventh to US 80; Austin, Fifth to Sixth; Northeast Tenth, Goliad to Benton; Northwest Third, Trades to Dundee; Northwest Fifth, Scurry to Main; Northeast Eighth, Main to Goliad; West Eighth, US 80 to Andree; Northwest Eighth, Aylford to San Antonio; and Trades, Northwest Third to Northwest Fourth.

The US 87 Project involves paving from Marcy Drive to the south city limits, including construction of curbs and gutters and drains and culvert where necessary, in cooperation with the State Highway Department.

Ted O. Groebl, Jerry Currie and Dr. Harold Lindley are petitioning commissioners to disannex part of Kentwood.

City merchants in the 300 block of Runnels have also petitioned commissioners to change from slant parking to parallel parking to help prevent flood damage caused by run-off water striking cars and being deflected into the stores.

Commissioners will also call for a public hearing on the new zoning ordinance approved June 12 by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

Last Rites Tuesday For Capt. Snell, Viet Casualty

LAMESA — The body of Capt. Mike Snell arrived at noon today in West Texas, far from Vietnam where he fell in battle last week, and yet a long way from the sod of West Point, N.Y., where he will be laid to final rest.

Memorial services for Capt. Snell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Snell, long-time Lamesa residents, will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church. After the rites, his body, accompanied by his family, will be flown to the cemetery of the United States Military Academy for burial.

Capt. Snell, a 1962 graduate of Lamesa High School, and a 1966 graduate of the Academy to which he was appointed by Rep. George Mahon, was on his second tour of duty in Vietnam when he gave his life.

After graduation from the Academy he finished Ranger school and airborne training at Fort Benning, Ga., preparatory to taking up his assignment with the 101st Airborne Division which was then headquartered at Fort Campbell, Ky.

He was a part of the division at the time it air-lifted from Fort Campbell to Bien Hoa Air Force Base, Vietnam, which was the largest mass movement of troops by air in the military history of this country. This airlift took place in December, 1967.

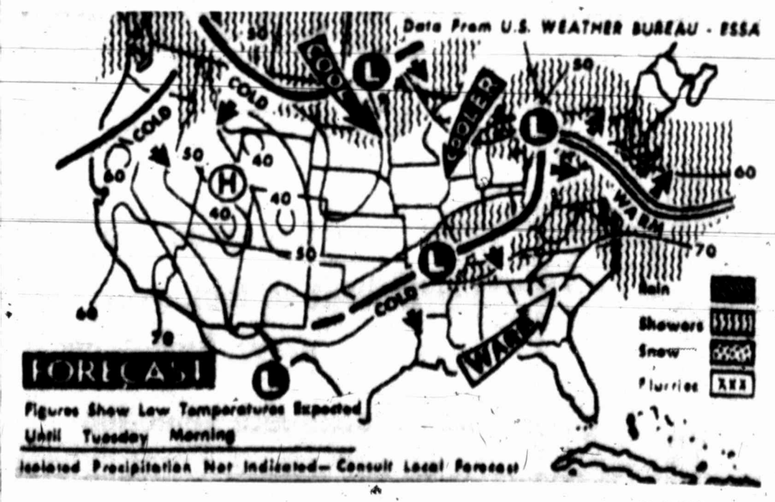

CAPT. MIKE SNELL

Since that time Capt. Snell completed one-full year tour of duty with the 101st Airborne Division, serving in various official capacities until his return to this country two days before Christmas last year. After a brief tour of duty at Fort Ord, Calif., he was re-assigned to duty with the 101st Airborne Division, which had become headquartered in the vicinity of Hue in North Vietnam.

At the time of his death, June 14, he was participating in the Apache Snow Operation in the A Shau Valley, when his fire-support base came under heavy attack and the troops became engaged in hand-to-hand combat. He was then serving as liaison officer from the 320th Artillery to the 327th Infantry, working with Lt. Col. Herring, San Angelo, Tex., who commanded the 327th Infantry.

Capt. Snell is survived by his parents and two sisters, Mrs. Pat Bloom, Cynthia Snell, and a younger brother, Tim Snell.

Mrs. Bloom's husband is 2nd Lt. Ronald Bloom who is a platoon leader with the 9th Infantry Division operating South of Saigon in the Mekong Delta of South Vietnam. Under orders of the Department of the Army, Lt. Bloom is serving as special escort for the last trip home for Capt. Snell.

Weather Forecast

It will rain Monday night over a large portion of the East Coast extending from the central states through New England. Rain also is forecast for most of the states on the Canadian border. Sunny and dry weather will be confined mainly to the Plains, the Southwest and the western Midwest.

Bell Helicopter Plants To Reopen

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Bell Helicopter plants will reopen today after a two-week-old strike was settled Saturday, Bell spokesmen said.

The strike closed 13 North Texas facilities and idled about 10,000 workers.

Saturday, workers ratified a contract they had rejected June 8.

The Bell spokesman said that because of technical problems, full assembly line production would probably not resume before Wednesday.

Bell is the leading supplier of helicopters used in the Vietnam war.

United Auto Workers Local 218 decided to conduct Saturday's second election after meeting with federal mediators in Washington.

Union representatives had recommended acceptance of the contract, but workers shouted it down June 8. Bell had said the contract would give its employes higher wages than those paid by other aerospace firms.

Critics said the contract concentrates pay benefits in the higher-pay categories. A cost-of-living clause was also a point of contention.

The contract will give workers a wage hike, with yearly increases of 13 cents each in 1970 and 1971. Top hourly pay at the end of the three-year contract will be $5.14 on the day shift and $5.33 on the night shift.

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — The Paris School Board has reported collections going well after approving a new, one-year contract for its delinquent tax attorney. His name is Roy Bean.

Lack Of Mishap Called 'Miracle'

PENTICTON, B.C. (AP) — A heavy Canadian Pacific rail scooter zipping down the tracks at top speed raced unattended for more than 17 miles, including part of this city of 14,000, before railway crewmen derailed it.

On the way it sped through 20 railroad crossings without mishap. Railway officials described the lack of an accident as a "miracle."

The scooter started its tour Saturday down a steep grade toward the city when its motor was ignited as it rested on a steep grade. It had enough gasoline, a railway spokesman said, to have traveled at least 40 miles more.

Resentment Of Dirksen's Leadership Breaks Open

WASHINGTON (AP) — Resentment by the younger crop of Republican senators of the leadership policies and tactics of Everett M. Dirksen is breaking into the open and there are signs the public criticism may increase.

Last week freshman Sen. Charles E. Goodell of New York made a floor attack on the veteran GOP leader for his attempts to block nomination of Dr. John H. Knowles as the nation's top health officer.

And Massachusetts Sen. Edward W. Brooke, also serving his first term, has been eager for a showdown with Dirksen over the Knowler affair.

These moves are symptomatic of growing feeling among the newer GOP senators that Dirksen is out of step with the times.

While the critical Republicans are unlikely to dislodge Dirksen now from the party leadership he has held for a decade, they could pose a threat should the 1970 election bring another influx of younger, more liberal GOP senators as happened in 1966 and 1968.

Two-thirds of the GOP senators elected in those two years, plus two appointees, favor greater GOP initiatives in the domestic area, an end to the Vietnam war and a lessening of emphasis on military matters.

In this they join such GOP veterans as Sens. Jacob K. Javits of New York, Clifford P. Case of New Jersey and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky who have always stood to the left of the party's leadership.

"They're closer to the mood of the country," one Democratic leadership source said privately of the GOP newcomers.

One of the new Republicans agreed.

Referring to efforts by himself and Sens. Richard Schweiker of Pennsylvania, Charles McC. Mathias of Maryland and Marlow Cook of Kentucky, Sen. William Saxbe of Ohio said "We feel certain things that people who haven't run in some time, or who run in more rural states haven't found."

Saxbe said "I'm real disturbed" by Dirksen's belated efforts to block or change a resolution now before the Senate to reassert the Senate's role in any commitment made by the executive branch to foreign countries.

"During the campaign," he said, "there was so much talk about Congress shirking its duties and giving a blank check to the President. It puts Republicans who were here and said this last year into a tight position."

Making It Official

John Pennel is a happy man as he signs the record sheet after breaking the world's pole vault record Saturday night, with a jump of 17 feet, ten and one-quarter inches during the Sacramento Invitational track meet in Sacramento, Calif.

Pennel Conquers 17-Ft., But Sets Sights On 18-Ft. Mark

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)— John Pennel stopped in the middle of signing an autograph. The lanky pole vaulter glared at the beam suspended in the night air above him. "Now I want that 18-foot record," he muttered.

Minutes before, Pennel had gotten something else he'd been after.

"I just wanted that record back — it's been two years," he shouted above the commotion after soaring 17-10¼ to smash the world record by one and one-quarter inches.

Now, after stunning the thin crowd late in Saturday's Sacramento Invitational track and field meet, he joked about his performance — acting nevertheless as if the record and that 18-foot mark were his by divine right.

"That record was all that counted. That's what I came here for. I knew I could do it!" After all, he mentioned pointedly, hadn't he been the first one to clear 17 feet?

That was five years ago, before a series of injuries placed him in the shadow of former record holder Bob Seagren of the University of South California and others.

If he had shattered that old barrier, why not the next one? He tried Saturday. Three times he sped down the runway and rocketed toward the sky. It wasn't even close. Twice he went under the 18-0 foot bar, once he jarred it loose before he'd hit his peak.

Optimists Beat Pirates, 11-7

The Optimists of the Hi Teen League used a 16 hit attack to defeat the Pirates 11-7 Saturday, behind the five-hit pitching of Dave Duncan.

Jeter Grant and Ricky Stone each blubbed home runs in the winning effort, both in the initial stanza off losing pitcher Johnny Sevey.

The victory gives the Optimists a 5-1 season mark, while the Pirates now stand at 4-2.

Rockets Stave Off Sabres, 10-9

The Sabres made a valiant bid with a three-run rally in the bottom of the last frame, but it fell short as the Rockets won 10-9 and ran their season record in the International Little League to 13-1. The Sabres are 7-6.

Mike Venezuela helped his own cause Saturday night with own cause Saturday night with a two-run double that broke a 6-6 tie in the fifth inning. Bob Johnson followed with a two-run double for insurance that was barely enough. Monty Low gave up seven hits and was charged with the loss. Andre Harrington had two doubles for the Sabres. IDOL OF CROWDS

Pietrangeli To Face Laver In First Round

LONDON (AP) — Nicola Pietrangeli, a 35-year-old Italian tennis veteran, went smiling to the opening of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships today to face Rod Laver of Australia, the reigning champion who is rated by the bookies as the odds-on favorite for the title.

"Who do I play in the next round?" joked Pietrangeli.

A first-round draw against Laver gave the popular Italian the honor of leading off the big open tournament on the center court, where around 15,000 fans were expected to cheer him on as the underdog.

Pietrangeli has been an idol of the Wimbledon crowds since 1954, although he has never come near to winning the crown.

Traditionally, the defending champion plays the first match of the two-week event on the center court.

Laver remained an overwhelming favorite despite two defeats in less important open tournaments in the last 10 days.

Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner, the U.S. Davis Cup stars and the top American contenders for the Wimbledon title, both faced tough first-round matches today.

Ashe, of Richmond, Va., who has been struggling to find his form while touring Europe in the last two months, had to play Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill.

Graebner, of New York, who has one of the biggest services in the business, needed to get past Australia's Ray Ruffels, an old Davis Cup foe.

Two top Americans faced each other in another intriguing match. Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles, 41-year-old artist who has spent most of his career on the professional touring circuit, was paired against Davis Cupper Charlie Pasarell, of Santurce, P. R.

Colts Are Finally Blanked At Home

The Big Spring Cardinals beat the Midland Colts 6-0 Sunday behind the clutch pitching of Junior Mendoza. It was the first time in 11 years that the Colts had been shut out at home.

Felix Martinez led a 12-hit attack for the Cards, getting three hits including a triple that drove in two runs in the fourth. Pano Rodriquez had two hits as did Abel Ramirez. Tony Martinez rifled a triple and Pat Martinez Jr. got two RBIs with a single and squeeze bunt.

Joe Sanchez had three hits for the Colts. Joe Sanchez was charged with the loss and had to have help from Nick Sanchez.

Andy Gamboa made the most sparkling defensive play in the third with a great throw to cut down a runner at third. The box score:

Rebels Edge Orioles, 5-4

The Rebels of the Sophomore league kept a winning season intact Saturday, by defeating the Orioles 5-4, behind the four-hit pitching of Snickle Beal, whose last inning squeeze play salvaged the victory.

David Coates was charged with the loss, although he gave up only four hits. The Orioles now have a 4-3 season mark, and the Rebels stand 7-0.

Abilene A's Rally Defeats Webb

LAMESA — The Abilene A's, the team that Webb AFB shoved into the losers bracket, bounced back Sunday afternoon to win three straight games, two of them at Webb's expense, and capture the Lamesa Invitational Softball tournament.

Abilene had to win two games in the losers bracket in order to progress to the finals against Webb. The first game was scoreless until the seventh when the A's catcher poled out a homer to win it 1-0. With this encouragement, the A's proceeded to blast Webb 6-3 for the championship.

There were 18 teams in the field. Perhaps the most exciting game of the tournament was the 12-inning endurance contest in the wee hours Sunday morning when Reese AFB finally edged Morton's of Big Spring with a score of 3-2. The Lubbock airmen got to Thelbert Camp for a single and double to take the victory. The box score on this marathon:

Grand Slam Beats Tigers

Green's grand-slam homer for San Angelo Southside Lions in the top of the ninth blasted the Big Spring Tigers here Sunday 8-7, although the Tigers came back with a five-run rally in the bottom of the same frame.

J. Flores weathered a shaky start to scatter six hits well through the eighth. After Green's big blow in the ninth, the Tigers gave up another run on an error, wild pitch and infield hit.

Mendoza's triple in the ninth was the big punch for the Tigers in their bid to catch up. The loss left the Tigers at 7-4 for the season. Sunday they go to San Angelo for a game.

Surprising Mets Pull Up On Cubs

By The Associated Press

New Mets never die . . . well, hardly ever . . . and a couple of old ones aren't exactly fading away.

Gary Gentry, New York's current pitching prodigy, and Jerry Koosman, its 1968 rookie sensation, hurled the torrid Mets to a 5-1, 1-0 doubleheader sweep over the struggling St. Louis Cardinals Sunday.

Tommie Agee, a second-year Met, and rookie Rod Gaspar also played key roles as the former expansion misfits delighted a Shea Stadium crowd of 55,862—largest in the National League this season—and climbed within 4½ games of Chicago's stumbling East Division leaders.

New York has won 18 of its last 23 starts—including three of four against the defending NL champs.

The Cubs, who had lost six of seven previous starts, beat Montreal 7-6 in the opener of a doubleheader with a four-run ninth inning rally capped by ex-Met Jim Hickman's two-run homer. The winning pitcher? Met castoff Dick Selma.

Montreal bounced back for a 5-4 victory in the nightcap, which was called after six innings because of darkness at lightless Wrigley Field.

Los Angeles blanked Cincinnati 5-0 (the second game of their scheduled twin bill was rained out) and took a one-half game lead in the West over Atlanta, which divided a pair with San Francisco, winning 7-5 after a 5-1 loss. Pittsburgh trimmed Philadelphia 6-0 before bowing to the Phillies 3-2, and Houston downed San Diego 2-0.

Angels Stop Giants, 9-5

The Angels of the Sophomore League mounted a big five-run last inning Saturday to defeat the Giants 9-5.

Going into the final stanza, the Giants held a 5-4 lead. Pat Ray and Donald McKee got base hits, and an error on Bob Priebe's ground ball knotted the score at 5-5.

Losing pitcher D. Morales then loaded up the bases, and had two outs, when Ronald McKee slammed an inside the park home run to supply the winning margin.

Thomas Gonzales was the winning pitcher, giving up only two hits, while Morales yielded six. The Giants now have a 1-6 season mark, while the Angels have a 4-3 record.

Frazier Given Edge In Quarry Battle

NEW YORK (AP) — Fistic fireworks are expected to explode early tonight when jolting Joe Frazier risks his six-state piece of the world heavyweight title against optimistic Jerry Quarry at Madison Square Garden.

Both were on record as predicting a quick finish of the 15-rounder which will be telecast on closed circuit coast-to-coast with New York blacked out. Starting time is 10:30 p.m., EDT.

Frazier, winner of all 23 of his pro fights including 20 by knockouts, is an 11-5 favorite to repel the challenge of the fast-firing, 24-year-old blond bomber from Bellflower, Calif. Quarry has a 31-2-4 record including 18 knockouts.

"I expect to get him in five rounds," said Quarry, who boasts he can punch faster and harder than the 25-year-old champion. "If I lose, they're going to have to carry me out."

"There ain't no way he's gonna go five," said Frazier, a 25-year-old, non-stop puncher of the Hammerin' Henry Armstrong school. "He's gonna get burned earlier than that if he comes after me like he says he will."

The oak-thighed Philadelphian promised he'll "come out smokin'" like he always has.

Frazier has no other way of fighting. He comes right after an opponent in a straight line, blasting away with both hands to head, body and arms at a better than 10 punches a round rate.

Neither has been stopped so far.

But with both talking knockout, a crowd of upwards of 15,000 is expected to pay more than $500,000 at prices ranging from $10 to $100.

With the ancillary receipts, including closed circuit television, thrown in, Frazier can earn from $350,000 to $500,000 and Quarry from $250,000 to $350,000. A princely sum even in these inflationary days for a couple of youngsters who have been fighting pro about four years each.

Three Games Set Monday Evening

Competition in the Summer Basketball league will be resumed in the Runnels Junior High gymnasium Monday evening, with three games scheduled.

Teams Nine and Ten vie at 6 p.m. Teams One and Six square off at 7 o'clock while Teams Two and Eight have at it at 8 p.m.

In play Thursday night, Team Four battered Team Eight, 93-63; Team Five edged Team One in overtime, 92-90; and Team Two outlasted Team Three, 71-59.

Top scorers included:

Team Four — Eddy Nelson, 36 points; Team Eight — Tommy Tompkins, 20; Team Five — Robert Evans, 25; Team One — Jimmy Farris, 22; Team Three — Tommy Butler, 26; and Team Two — Gilbert Rodriquez, 17.

Douglass Outlasts Palmer Charge For Kemper Victory

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The galleries were roaring, the noise from the vast army sweeping in waves over the course, as Arnold Palmer made his charge.

"Everybody was excited," Dale Douglass said. "I could hear them."

"I got pretty excited, too. But for a different reason."

But the excitement wasn't enough to shake his game and the placid, articulate Douglass cruised in with a final 67 and a four-stroke victory in the Kemper Open Golf Tournament Sunday.

He had a 274 total, 14 under par for the 7,205-yard, par-72 course, and claimed the biggest check of his nine-year-old pro career, $30,000. His only other victory was in the Azalea this year.

Charles Coody, who had a course record matching 65 and was one of several to challenge Douglass in the sweltering heat, finished second at 278.

South African Gary Player, with a 69, and Australian Bruce Crampton, with a 70, tied at 279.

Palmer, the defending champion, made a run at it with a final 66 but finished at 280. He was tied with Joel Goldstrand, 69, Masters champion George Archer, 72, and England's Tony Jacklin, 71.

Lee Trevino had a 74 for 284. U.S. Open champion Orville Moody had a 70 for 286 and PGA champ Julius Boros, 76 for 286.

Douglass, a 6-foot-2, 155-pound stringbean from Denver, started the day with a one stroke lead and had to face the challenges of Palmer, Archer and Coody in that order.

Moyers Surges To Win C-City Golf Tourney

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Bob Moyers, 33, an Abilene resident since November, came from third place Sunday to win the Colorado Country Club Invitational Golf Tournament. Moyers is a former resident of New Market, Va., and an employe of Aileen Ind. of Abilene.

Moyers was eight over par at the end of Saturday's play, but put together three rounds of 37, 31, 33 for a two day 45 hole total of 179, four over par, but it was good enough.

Saturday leaders, James Pritchitt, Midland, and Tommy Wilkerson, Big Spring, had two over par 72s at the close of play Saturday. Pritchitt fired rounds of 34, 38, 37 for total of 182 and second place. Wilkerson dropped to a fifth place tie with Sunday rounds of 46, 38, 42 and a total of 192.

George Powell, Colorado City, was even par for two rounds Sunday, his first and third but the second nine brought a disastrous 42 and total of 187 and third place.

Ted Gross, Big Spring, tied for fourth Saturday, and ended with a fourth place 188.

Other championship flight players surviving the cut at the end of two Sunday rounds were Adair Ratliff, Fort Worth, 192; Marvin Williams, Big Spring, 194; Graham Mackey, Midland, 194; John Adams, Donalsonville, Ala., 196; Bob Craig, Llano Park, Calif., 198; Bill Patton, Big Spring, 202; and Jackie Thomas, Big Spring, 205.

First flight winners, who played two rounds of medal play Sunday, as did all the flights, were H. H. Hudson, Carlsbad, N.M., 72; J. P. Ward, Snyder, 73; Lonnie Wyrofdick, 79.

Second flight: Howard Tartt, Loraine, 78; W. E. Hopkins, Stanton, 80; Ted Reese, Midland, Luke Coffman, Colorado City, 85.

Third flight: Lynn Hamilton, Loraine, 77; Bob O'Day, Colorado City, and Buddy Urbanczyk, Knox City, 78; O'Day defeated Urbanczyk in an extra hole.

Fourth flight: C. J. Reese, Knox City, 78; Jim Garnett, San Antonio, 81; Bob Ratliff, Colorado City, C. C. Shelton, Knox City, 83.

Fifth flight: Elton Garnett, Irving, 79; T. L. Griffin, Colorado City, 80; J. R. Fuller, Colorado City, 87.

Sixth flight: Harris Hamilton, Loraine, 82; Ray Blum, Big Spring, 83; Rae Furlow, Loraine, 88.

Consolation winners were first flight, J. P. Ward, Snyder, 75; second flight, Ted Reese, Midland, 78; third flight, Wayne Dodson, Colorado City, and Gerald Beard, Snyder, 83 (Dodson won on a coin toss); fourth flight, Dan Lewis, Big Spring, 73; fifth flight, Bill Bowles, R. Rule, 86; sixth flight, Jack Nance, Colorado City, 92.

SUMMER CLASSES IN SPEED READING SET FOR BIG SPRING

The famous Cutler AcceleREAD method of SPEED READING created by Dr. Wade E. Cutler, a Ph.D. in psychology, will be taught here this summer in day and evening classes. The average persons reads about 200 words per minute with 60 per cent comprehension. This course guarantees its graduates will read at least 1,000 words per minute with a definite increase in comprehension. Most graduates of the course far exceed the guarantee and should end up at 2,500 words per minute with a profound improvement in comprehension. Concentration, memory and pleasure will also be greatly improved. This means a person should read books of average length in 45 minutes or less and understand, remember, and enjoy them better than ever. The course is offered by ACCELERATED EDUCATION SCHOOLS which has permanent classes in Denton, Sherman, Tyler, Longview, Amarillo, Clovis, Roswell and some 30 other cities and towns in Texas, N.M., and Okla. The course has over 10,000 successful graduates due to its common sense approach and closely supervised professional teaching staff. A series of meetings have been scheduled for those who would like more details about the course. At these free one hour orientations the full details about speed reading and the AcceleREAD course will be given in complete detail. There is no cost or obligation to enroll by attending one of these most informative meetings so be sure to attend and find out how you can make 1969 a more successful year. The meetings are open to all ages and will be conducted as follows: No. 1 meeting room of the Settles Hotel, 200 East 3rd, Big Spring, Texas. THURS., June 26 at 7 and again at 8:30 p.m., FRI., June 27 at 5:30 and again at 7:30 p.m., SAT., June 28 at 10:30 a.m. 1:30 p.m. and again at 3:00 p.m., SUN., June 29 at 2:30, 5:30 and again at 8:30 p.m.

Seminoles Fight For $35 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The final battle in what is the longest and often bitterest Indian dispute in the nation's history is being fought in an obscure government agency with nearly $35 million at stake.

Seminole Indians have asked the Indian Claims Commission, which opens hearings today, to approve a $40 million claim for 32 million acres of Florida the tribe owned in the 18th and early 19th centuries.

The government has offered the Indians $5.8 million.

The Seminoles owned most of Florida when Spain gave up the territory to the United States in 1819. They claim the American white man robbed the tribe of the land at arms point and through false treaties, a point not contested by the government.

Attorneys for the Seminoles figure the land was worth an average of at least $1.25 an acre when the government took it in the 1820s. Government lawyers estimate its value at about 18 cents per acre.

Some of the Florida land was quite valuable—containing forests of live oak trees, in demand then by shipbuilders and particularly for naval vessels. Much of the land was the Indians' hunting grounds. Crops were raised on portions of the land.

The long Seminole dispute started in 1816 when Gen. Andrew Jackson invaded Florida to punish the tribe for hiding fugitive American slaves and didn't end officially until a peace treaty was signed in 1934. The first Seminole war, waged by Jackson, ended in 1818, a year before the United States had legal rights in the territory.

Through armed force and a series of forcibly imposed treaties the Seminoles gradually lost their Florida land until 1832 when some tribe leaders agreed to give up all claims and move their people to what is now Oklahoma.

However, many Seminoles refused to leave and in 1835 the second Seminole war broke out. Before it was over, the Seminoles under chief Osceola, had killed more than 1,500 federal troops and cost the government $20 million.

Attorneys for the tribe estimate about 1,500 Seminoles still live in Florida and 3,500 more reside in Oklahoma, which would mean about $7,500 for each if the entire $40 million is awarded.

However, Congress will determine how the money will be allocated when and if it appropriates the funds.

Rocky Eager For Fourth

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he is pleased with the results of his third fact-finding mission to Latin America and is eager to begin his fourth.

The New York governor landed Sunday night at Kennedy airport and boarded a helicopter for his North Tarrytown estate. He had visited Brazil, Paraguay and Uruguay as President Nixon's special envoy.

Rockefeller will conclude his mission next week with visits to Argentina, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Jamaica, Barbados and Guyana.

He had been scheduled to visit all Caribbean and South American nations except Cuba, but has indefinitely postponed trips to Venezuela, Peru and Chile at the request of their governments.

Speech Defects Program Has Eight Enrolled

Last week the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center began its summer program to help children get ready for school this fall by clearing up speech defects.

The program continues all summer and even after school starts, as long as there are children who need therapy. About eight children are currently enrolled in the program, though anyone who needs help may enroll.

Jim Thompson, the center's director, said the program is necessary because a speech defect will often prevent a child from having normal relations with others in school. This could lead to emotional and adjustment problems.

When a child comes in for therapy, his speech is evaluated and the nature of his defect pinpointed. He is then given group or individual therapy, which continues for as long as needed.

Appeal Case Mistrial Ruled

A mistrial was declared Friday afternoon in Howard County Court on the appeal case of Larry Edgar Burklow, when it was discovered that the complaint by the arresting officer was improperly filed.

Burklow was appealing a speeding case from Corporation Court, and George Thomas was his attorney. The mistrial was declared by County Court Judge Lee Porter after the trial had been in its fourth hour.

It was the second mistrial of the day for Thomas, who defended Manuel Cuellar Jr., on a speeding appeal which was also declared void.

In other court action Friday, Andy Monroe Patterson pleaded guilty in County Court to driving while intoxicated and was fined $50 plus costs and given a six-months probated sentence.

Freezer For Welfare Food To Be Fixed

Howard County Commissioners moved through a quick session Monday.

Mrs. Ruby Phillips, county welfare director, told the court that the welfare department's deep freeze is broken, and that it must be repaired to hold commodity foods which will arrive Wednesday. The court said the deep freeze should be fixed if possible, or a replacement purchased.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, said she had received the master list of personal property, including farm equipment and livestock, from Davis and Wilson Appraisers in the recent revaluation of rural property. However instructions for mailing notices to property owners were not received, she said.

Notices on values of farm and ranch land are ready to be mailed, she said, and the personal property valuations will be included. Notices must be mailed 10 days prior to the meeting dates of the board of equalization, which will convene July 7-9.

The commissioners also approved an easement for a crude oil pipeline by Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. running through part of the Howard County Airport.

Cub Pack 236 Takes Bike Ride

Cub Scout Pack 236, with cubmaster Bob Roever and assistant cubmaster Bobby Henson directing, took a six-mile bicycle ride Saturday.

After the ride, parents joined the cubs at Roever's home for the pack meeting. Gold and silver arrow points were awarded Tim Barbee, Tommy Scott and Tim Poteet.

A party of cake and homemade ice cream finished off the evening.

The pack was rechartered last month under the sponsorship fo the Sand Springs Lions Club. Other leaders besides Roever and Henson include James Herm, Webelos leader; Mrs. Gary Poteet and Mrs. Bob Roever, den mothers; Mrs. James Herm, treasurer; and Marshall Day, Roland Beal and Kenneth Scott, committeemen.

Woman Quizzed In 7 Forgries

A 31-year-old Big Spring woman was being questioned today by Howard County Sheriff's deputies in connection with seven forgeries in the area.

Howard County Sheriff A. N. Standard said the woman gave a statement, but no charges have been filed.

Standard also said Eugene Moten, wanted in Howard County for charges of transporting, was being held by Belton authorities, and Frankie Henry Johnson, under indictment here on two cases of assault with intent to murder, was being held by Abilene law officers. The men will be brought to Big Spring this week.

Troop 16 Back From Scout Ranch

Sunday, Boy Scout Troop 16 returned from a week at the Boy Scout ranch in the Davis Mountains which included a three-day burro pack trip.

Making the trip were Gage Mims, Steve Corson, Bob Highley, Joe Alexandra, Mike Owen, Dennis Day, Jerry Mason, Bobby McDonald, Wes Thixton, Tony Thixton, Asa Von Reefschneider, Tim Raney, Ralph Hammach, Lonnie Gillihan, and Scoutmaster Bill Mims and assistant scoutmaster Dub Day.

Police Seize 'Cool' Burglar

CHICAGO (AP) — Police said they captured a burglary suspect red-handed—and bare-bottomed—outside a liquor store Sunday.

An 18-year-old was charged with burglary after police watched him slide down an ice chute in front of the store completely naked.

Authorities said the youngster told police he removed his clothes to climb through the ice chute into the liquor store on the Southwest Side to get ice for a picnic.

DESPITE BATTERING BY BOMBERS

Reds Attack 2 Outposts

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces attacked a besieged American Special Forces camp and two of its outposts in the central highlands today. Spokesmen said the camp was surrounded and cut off by an estimated 2,000 enemy and under daily bombardment by heavy artillery.

About 30 mortar and recoilless rifle rounds slammed into the Ben Het Special Forces camp 290 miles northeast of Saigon, spokesmen said, killing one American and wounding five members of a U.S. artillery position there.

North Vietnamese troops also attacked two government outposts near Ben Het before dawn —only hours after U.S. B52 bombers dropped 360 tons of explosives on the enemy formations massed around the camp. South Vietnamese headquarters said 34 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed while government casualties were one civilian irregular killed and 11 wounded.

Earlier Sunday night, Ben Het came under a 70-round artillery barrage that caused light casualties among South Vietnamese civilian irregulars and wounded seven of their dependents.

Military spokesmen said the camp has been under siege for two months, and U.S. air and artillery strikes and ground probes have failed to break it. Ben Het is manned by the American artillery battery, a small team of Green Beret advisers and South Vietnamese units.

U.S. headquarters said the North Vietnamese 28th Regiment has deployed up to 2,000 troops a round Ben Het in deeply dug fortifications, difficult to knock out with air strikes and artillery.

The North Vietnamese 40th Artillery Regiment also is reported to have moved into the area with big guns zeroed in on the camp from Laos, Cambodia, and the intervening six-mile stretch from Ben Het to the border.

Because of the fierce artillery bombardment—100 rounds hit the camp Saturday — supplies are dropped in by Air Force cargo planes and helicopters fly in only to lift out the wounded, headquarters said.

Attempts to push an armored column through route 579 from Dak To to open a land route to the beleaguered camp have failed, according to military spokesmen. South Vietnamese patrols venturing beyond two miles of the camp perimeter have been hit hard.

Elsewhere across South Vietnam, ground action tapered off sharply with only scattered clashes reported over the weekend.

In one early today, the headquarters base of the 11th Light Infantry Brigade near Duc Pho was hit by about 100 mortar and recoilless rifle shells and rocket grenades, followed by a sapper attack.

Reports from Da Nang said a few of the North Vietnamese demolition experts penetrated the perimeter wire but were thrown back after one was killed. U.S. casualties were listed at eight men wounded.

North of Duc Pho near Quang Ngai City, troopers of the 101st Airborne Division reported they found another enemy hospital complex the second in two days. It included 10 huts, nine bunkers, two kitchens and a mess hall, according to the report.

In a village eight miles south of Da Nang, a plastic charge exploded in a ballot box during voting Sunday for a new village chief, killing two militiamen and two village officials and wounding three other persons.

Twenty-six enemy rocket and mortar attacks were reported overnight, causing light casualties and damage over-all, spokesmen said.

Air Controllers Warn They Will Not Tolerate Probes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization has warned it will not tolerate further government investigation of last week's slowdown, raising the possibility of a new—and possibly worse—air transportation crisis.

But the director of the Federal Aviation Administration's Air Traffic Service, William J. Flener, said the probe would continue.

Between 250-300 controllers called in sick last Wednesday and Thursday, while those who reported enforced FAA safety rules to the letter, forcing airlines to cancel hundreds of flights and delay others for hours.

OVERWORKED

The controllers complained of being understaffed and overworked.

When the slowdown ended Friday morning, FAA investigators began quizzing every controller who reported sick, asking each to furnish a physician's statement. Flener said the interviewing was stopped Sunday but was to be resumed today.

"If this is continued today, we think the whole thing will blow up and aviation will come to a stop," the organization's vice chairman, James R. Ean, said in New York. He said he feared an "emotional and spontaneous" reaction by controllers in key cities, even though organization officials were urging members to "cool it."

In Boston F Lee Bailey, counsel for the controllers, echoed the prediction. "If it happens again Monday these men will walk out," he said. "They all have lawyers and if the investigators want to talk with them, we are available."

Bailey said he protested to the Department of Transportation over the weekend it was "harassment" when investigators called controllers from their radar sets to be questioned.

Flener said the goal of the investigation is "to find out the nature of the so-called spontaneous illness." The next step, he said, will be up to Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe and FAA Administrator John H. Shaffer.

Shaffer, he said, ordered the investigation.

FORBIDDEN BY LAW

The controllers are forbidden by law to strike, and the FAA threatened disciplinary action if they conducted what amounted to one.

Last Thursday Jack Maher, national coordinator of the organization, said controllers were enforcing air safety rules. In addition, he said, "we are telling our people if there is any indication that physically or mentally they are not able to do top-notch jobs, they should not go to work, call in sick, have everything they need taken care of. And if they are working, to try not to overextend themselves."

Friday Shaffer said there "is recognized need for additional air traffic control staffing to meet the demands on the system."

Sunday the controllers sent a telegram of protest to Volpe, Shaffer, the airlines, the Airline Pilots Association, the Flight Safety Foundation and the National Transportation Safety Board.

'Killer' Says Story 'Hoax'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Police say a man who "confessed" killing two girls and a man has admitted it was a hoax.

Ernest Paul Sims, 26, detained at the metropolitan jail on a charge of misuing credit cards, signed a confession Sunday admitting the slaying of two Michigan teenagers and an Oklahoma City taxi driver.

Lt. Kenneth Reasonover said Sims changed his story after further questioning and a visit with members of his family.

Sims was quoted by Reasonover as saying the confession was a "fabrication" and that he changed his mind when his sisters told him they wanted to move from Nashville because of the publicity he had brought them.

'You Go Your Way And I'll Go Mine'

NEW YORK (AP) — King Boyle, 28, of Jersey City, N.J., was driving across the George Washington Bridge toward New York City when he stopped his car, got out and climbed one of the 650-foot towers.

Police said he was unhappy with a family dispute, apparently with his wife and mother-in-law, who were in the car.

"You go your way and I'll go mine," Boyle told a policeman who tried to talk him into climbing down. After two hours, several policemen subdued him and took him to Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center for observation.

France's New Foreign Minister Dampens Idea

PARIS (AP) — Maurice Schumann, France's new foreign minister, dampened today any idea that his appointment might mean a change in the policies of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

"The foreign policy defined by the founder of the Fifth Republic will be carried out by the new government," Schumann told the opening of a world medical assembly. He said this policy, based on the independence of France and of Europe, served the peace of the world.

The new Cabinet, appointed Sunday by President Georges Pompidou on the recommendation of Premier Jacques Chaban-Delmas, meets for the first time today at Elysee Palace.

There had been those who thought Schumann's appointment, and that of Valery Giscard d'Estaing as finance minister, heralded the beginning of a new liberal era in French foreign policy.

Pompidou and Chaban-Delmas were under intense pressure from Gaulliste and Centrists for representation. While the cabinet retains a Gaullist coloring there are Centrists in three important ministries.

Schumann replaces Michel Debre, whom Gaullists had wanted kept on as foreign minister to reflect continuity in policy. Instead, Debre was named defense minister.

Buys Paris Ranch

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&M head football coach Gene Stallings has purchased a ranch near Paris, including a lake and a lake house.

Stallings says he will add cattle to his present herd of four horses.

Beef Bought For Barbecue

Gibby Morehead, general chairman of the Kiwanis Club's Rodeo Barbecue organization, said today that 1,500 pounds of beef has been bought for the meal. He said that the committee is anticipating about the same number of diners it had in 1968.

Fires in the barbecue pits at the Big Spring City Park will be lighted at 6 p.m. Tuesday. When they have burned down to the proper level, the 1,500 pounds of choice meat will be put on to cook. It will be ready to serve by 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Meantime, Kiwanians were busy this afternoon picking over 200 pounds of beans. The bean-picking activity was in the Runnels Junior High School cafeteria and began at 4:30 p.m. Roscoe Newell is bean-picking chairman.

Morehead said the menu will feature barbecue, beans, potato salad, pickles, onions, bread and iced tea. Serving at both the park and the rodeo grounds gets started at 5 p.m. and will end in time for all to attend the opening night of the 36th Annual Howard County Cowboy Reunion at the Rodeo Bowl.

Tickets are on sale from all Kiwanians and can also be bought at the City Park and at the rodeo arena Wednesday evening. Price is $1.25 per plate.

The Kiwanis Club has served these annual opening night rodeo barbecues for the past several years.
