COMEDY-DRAMA GIVEN BY BASKET-BALL TEAM IS FINANCIAL SUCCESS

The three-act play that was presented at the high school building last Tuesday night under the direction of Mrs. Grady Kindrick was a pronounced success. The theme of the play depicted the life of a Carolina shore-lighthouse girl from her stage of illiteracy to the time when she was an educated society girl and in her rightful place as the daughter of a very wealthy and influential man. Those who took part in the play were well trained and knew their parts well. The play was a good one and those who were present enjoyed several good laughs as well as some tense and exciting moments.

Fairlee Linn took the part of Nan, the principal character in the play. In the first two acts of the play, she charmed the audience with her earnestness, simplicity, and wild-roose beauty. In the last act, she fulfilled the prophecy of Ned Blake, in that she had become a hot-house plant.

Temple Boone, who took the part of Ned Blake, the hero of the story, could have charmed any girl with "his" handsome face and "his" love-making.

Norval Blackburn, who acted as lighthouse keeper, proprietor of the lighthouse, furnished the most comical part of the play, and the contrast between "his" affection for drink and "his" affection for Moll Bummer, the gentle Antelope of his bosom, made the most comical laugh.

John Bummer, who took the part of Moll Bummer, made a most wife, for she did the ruling and saw that her husband obeyed.

Keith Sandherr, who acted as Sir Artie Choke, of the English nobility, of course was courted by Hortense Enlow, the city belle, but at the same time, he saw the beauty and attractiveness of Little Nan.

Elsie Bessent, who acted as Honorable Sarah Chumley Choke, furnished Little Nan amusement by her queer mannerisms of speech.

Margie Montgomery, who played the part of Mr. Enlow, won the admiration of all by "his" big heartedness and excellent judgment.

Lorena Couey, who acted the part of Hortense Enlow, was typical of the class of American girls who think life holds nothing dearer than a foreign title.

Flossie Boone, who played the part of "Injun Jim," the escaped convict, struck terror to the hearts of the audience by "his" blackmailing threats and muttered oaths.

The play was a financial success, and, judging by the praises of those who attended, it was a success in other ways.

The Basket Ball Girls and Mrs. Kindrick wish to thank all who co-operated with them in making the venture a success.

Golf Tournament For Women April 18-19

All women interested in playing golf are requested to register for the golf tournament that will be held in Junction April 18 and 19, beginning at 8 p. m. In order to be eligible to enter the tournament for women three games must be played between April 11 and the date of the tournament. The score cards will be filed with Mr. J. R. O'Bryan at the golf course.

Mrs. E. R. Borden and Mrs. C. G. McDonald compose the committee and state that attractive prizes will be offered. All women interested in the tournament are requested to get in communication with Mrs. Borden or Mrs. McDonald for information.

Mrs. Mattie Patterson and little daughter, Patricia, were San Antonio visitors last week.

Fritz Hotel Adding Fourteen New Rooms

Contractor E. D. Porter broke ground this week for the enlargement of the Fritz Hotel. This popular hotel has been unable to take care of the large numbers seeking accommodations for many months. The directors have been planning for some time to enlarge the hotel and recently closed a contract with Mr. Porter.

Eight rooms will be built on the east wing and six rooms will be built over the lobby, making fourteen new rooms at this time. Other improvements will be made at the time, and before the next winter season a steam heating plant will be installed. The Fritz is one of the most popular hotels on the Old Spanish Trail between San Antonio and El Paso and the traveling public and tourists will be glad to learn that the hotel is being enlarged.

JUNCTION V. A. CLASS PART OF GREAT ARMY OF SCHOOL WORKERS

The Vocational Agriculture Class of the Junction High School is a unit of a great organization. In Texas there are 2,500 boys who are studying agriculture and related lines along with their other school work. They are members of vocational classes under the supervision of C. L. Davis of the Department of Education. Recently President Coolidge signed a bill which will double the Federal appropriation for vocational work, and it is expected that the number of schools in Texas will be increased by more than 100 per cent.

The progress made in vocational work in Texas has been astonishingly rapid. The efficiency of the work is even beyond expectations, for a large portion of the boys enrolled live on farms. In order to encourage these boys and to continue their efforts along practical lines, a charter has been granted the organization by the State of Texas, and they are now officially recognized as the "Future Farmers of Texas." The incorporators are C. L. Davis, Supervisor of Vocational Education in Texas; E. R. Alexander, Professor of Agricultural Education at A. & M. College, and Dean Winkler of A. & M. College.

It is to be expected that the Future Farmers of Texas will be better farmers than the present generation. They are being given the opportunity to study the problems of agriculture in a manner not known to their fathers, and in them, along with the 4-H boys, lies the hope of the future.

The classes in each community study the problems peculiar to that section. The Junction boys are studying goats, peacocks and such other subjects as are of vital importance to this section of Texas. Mr. A. J. Bierschwald and his class have accomplished wonderful results during this school term.

LILAC TIME

The Texan Theatre is bringing to Junction next Monday and Tuesday, April 15 and 16, Colleen Moore in "Lilac Time," a First National Picture.

The management of the Texan is putting forth every effort to bring good pictures to Junction and believe that the public will appreciate this good picture. All that is beautiful in Springtime and Love time is blended into this greatest Colleen Moore picture.

ROOSEVELT TRUSTEES

In the election last Saturday the following were elected trustees of the Roosevelt school:

Capt. H. W. Rieck, J. M. Walker, C. L. Lawler, Henry Lifeste, Burl Fisher, Bud Goodall and August Simon.

MRS. GUY E. WYNNE GIVES MUSIC RECITAL IN SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

Interesting drills, beautiful vocal selections and well rendered piano numbers featured the recital given by Mrs. Guy Wynne's music class at the high school auditorium last Friday evening. The auditorium was fairly well filled with people to see and hear this good program.

The "Creepy Scare Crows," a drill by several beautiful little girls, and the "Japanese Dance" by twelve young ladies brought forth much applause. The vocal numbers by Miss Mildred Hodges and Blackie and Brownie Motley and the well rendered piano selection were enjoyed.

The following program was rendered:

Piano duet, "March of the Classics," Julia Weathered and Lucille Taylor.

Piano solo, "Bonsoir Marie," Pauline Roberts.

Piano solo, "Wild Roses," Lucille St. Clair.

Vocal solo, "Night Brings the Stars to You," Mildred Hodges.

Piano solo, "Fairies' Dance," Roberta Ragland.

Piano solo, "Rambling in the Forest," Lucille Williams.

Vocal Duet, "Lonely Night," Blackie and Brownie Motley.

Piano solo, "Dainty Gavotti," Evelyn Patterson.

Piano sextet, "Through the Meadow," Mary Ellis Blackburn, Sarah Schneider, Eunice Northcutt, Leola Jetton, Pauline Roberts and Harry Ethel Hubbard.

Piano solo, "Valse Marie," Elsie Martin.

Piano solo, "Night Fall," Mary Farmer.

Piano solo, "In Rose Garden," Raymond Schneider.

Piano quartet, "Les Sylphs," Lucille Williams, Elsie Martin, Mary Ellis Blackburn, Maxine Wright.

Piano solo, "Polish Dance," Julia Weathered.

Piano solo, "Scenes of September," Leola Jetton.

Piano solo, "Among the Flowers," Madeline Ragland.

Drill, "Creepy Scare Crows," ten little girls.

Piano solo, "Dawn on the Mountain," Eunice Northcutt.

Piano solo, "Joyful Peasant," Maxine Wright.

Piano solo, "Scenes de Ballet," Harry Ethel Hubbard.

Piano solo, "Folk Tune," Juanita Glossbrenner.

Drill, "Japanese Dance," twelve young ladies.

Two New Men Elected Local School Board

In the election for trustees of the Junction school district last Saturday four names were on the ticket with two to be elected. Odie Wright and Lester Hodges were elected to succeed W. P. Riley and E. R. Borden who were not candidates for re-election. On the ticket were the names of Odie Wright, Lester Hodges, W. B. Buster, and George R. Pepper. Mr. Wright led the ticket with 200 votes and Mr. Hodges received 168 votes.

An election for an independent school district has been ordered for April 19. At this time seven men will be elected to serve if the election carries. A ticket has been filed with Judge Randolph containing the three trustees of the district as it is now and four others as given in another article in this issue of the Eagle.

The B-C Music Shop installed a beautiful Universal Electric Refrigerator in the Bob Turner home this week. People living in the country are availing themselves of all the comforts enjoyed by their friends living in the towns.

KNIFE WOUNDS PROVE FATAL TO JESUS RAMOS MR. WILLIS IS ARRESTED

Last Friday evening about dark Sheriff Frank Patterson received a telephone message to come to the McBee Filling Station quickly. On arriving at the station Martinez Willis met him and said, "I am the man who called you. I have killed a man." Upon questioning Martinez Sheriff Patterson learned that he had cut Jesus Ramos with a knife, and Martinez told the sheriff that he thought Jesus was dead.

The sheriff put Martinez in the Kimble County jail and then took Manuel Muzquiz, who was at the Willis home when the fatal stabbing took place and who accompanied Martinez to town, and Dr. H. E. Luehrs and went to the George Willis home in "Little Mexico" where they found the lifeless body of Jesus Ramos. Ramos was a son-in-law of Willis, but he and his wife had been estranged for several months. His wife and five children were living with Willis. Martinez in his statement to Sheriff Patterson stated that no one knew Jesus was near until he was seen standing over his wife with a drawn knife. Martinez, in order to protect his sister interfered, and says that he inflicted the wounds that caused Jesus' death.

At the Willis home at the time of the tragedy were George Willis; his son, Martinez Willis; his nephew, Manuel Muzquiz; Jesus' wife, a daughter of Willis, and the deceased's five children, one of whom was seriously ill with pneumonia. The sheriff had the body of the deceased moved to the Schreiner-Hodges Co. undertaking house where it remained until the next day when the body was embalmed and shipped to Bracketville for burial.

Martinez is in the Kimble County jail awaiting the examination trial which will be held Friday, April 12. The cause of the delay is that Judge M. E. Blackburn, employed on the defense has been attending district court in Menard this week. Literally hundreds of people visited the undertaking house of the Schreiner-Hodges Company last Saturday to view the body of the deceased and examine the wounds.

New Beauty Spot Made In Courtyard Park

One of the real beauty spots in Junction is the courtyard. Judge J. B. Randolph takes great interest in keeping it attractive and beautiful. The most recent beauty spot is a bed of ferns. Native rock was hauled from the Perry and Beasley ranches out of which a real beauty spot was made. A mound of leaf mold was covered with the rocks over which were planted maiden hair fern, sword fern and black stem fern, as well as other plants requiring a great deal of water. The black stem fern is a rare specimen in this section.

Judge Randolph has made three trips to various parts of the county to secure native plants for the mound which is nearly five feet high. A fountain is placed on the top of the mound. It will be only a few weeks until this will be as beautiful as the fern cliffs on our beautiful running streams in the country.

Mrs. Philip Joseph had as her guests this week Mrs. Frank Handelman and Mrs. K. Kroll of Marlin and their aunt of Philadelphia.

Fishing Gets Some People Into Trouble

Mr. F. M. Cowser is kept busy these days looking after the violations of the fishing law. The docket of the justice of the peace shows that several of our local citizens have been contributing very liberally to the up-keep of our government by paying fines for law violations. One of our citizens tried to out run Mr. Cowser Sunday afternoon. When pursued too closely he threw three small fish into deep water, but Mr. Cowser waded out into the water, secured three small bass. It cost the man $26.85.

Mr. Cowser tells many interesting stories about how those violating the law try to conceal their catches. He regrets to file complaints against his friends and neighbors, but there is no other course for him when they willfully violate the laws he is sworn to enforce.

GOVERNOR DAN MOODY VEToes ANTI-BOLTER MEASURE BY WIRTZ

Because if it became a law "it would prolong the bitterness" aroused by the split in the party during the last presidential campaign, and "continue to widen the breach," Gov. Moody vetoed the anti-bolter bill.

It was written by Senator A. J. Wirtz of Seguin and passed both houses after a bitter fight. It would have empowered the state Democratic Executive Committee to bar as voters and candidates in future primaries those who left the party to vote for President Hoover last November.

"It may as well be discussed from its effect upon the Democratic party and thereby its effect upon the State at large, in view of the fact that the Democratic party has been, is now, and I hope in the interest of the general welfare, will continue to be the predominant political party of this State," the Governor said, in giving his reasons for vetoing the bill.

"I have nothing to say about parties controlling their own destinies as voluntary organizations. Under ordinary circumstances, a bill of this kind would excite little interest and it would have my approval. However, the bill comes at this time as one of the indirect results of the division which occurred in the Democratic party in the campaign preceding the recent general election. It appears evident to me that if the bill becomes a law it will prolong the bitterness which that campaign aroused and will continue to widen the breach in the Democratic party. I am of the opinion that the welfare of the party and the welfare of the State are to be advanced by promoting harmony among those whose views are in accord with the principles of the Democratic party."

ELECTION OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES APRIL 19TH

An election notice in this issue of the Eagle calls for an election on April 19 to determine whether the Junction common school district shall be changed to an independent district. At the same time seven school trustees must be elected to serve in case the election carries.

Monday, April 8, was the last day for names to be filed to get on the ticket and a petition was filed with Judge J. B. Randolph with the following names that will be printed on the ballot:

Chris Schraub, Odie Wright, Lester Hodges, Wilson Buster, L. R. Hodges, R. H. Loeffler and Walter Tinsley. The first three are the trustees of the district at the present time.

Mr. J. J. McWright is able to be up after an illness of about two weeks.

U. D. "TURK" KINDRICK WINS GOLF TOURNAMENT C. A. GOODWIN SECOND

Kimble County's first golf tournament was completed Tuesday afternoon at 6 o'clock with Turk Kindrick and Ches Goodwin as the final winners of the club prizes. Until the very last hole had been played the score was in doubt as to the winner, as both low score men were playing a fine game of golf. Kindrick finally nosed out ahead of Goodwin after a hard game by the narrow margin of one stroke. A large crowd of enthusiastic followers watched the game throughout the entire afternoon, several of these being expert players and they spoke very complimentary of the type of golf that the men were playing.

The club prizes, a handsome set of golf clubs including the bag will be presented to the winner at the regular monthly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce. The second man in the race will be presented with a Brassie.

Those playing in the tournament were: Messrs. G. E. Kindrick, Henry Bosman, C. A. Goodwin, U. D. Kindrick, Clifford Hamer, Guy Munn, Irvin Jarvis, C. Sevier, Dave Turner, B. O. Newby, Norman Ray, C. Taylor, Joe Ray, C. T. Orth, L. R. Hodges, Dillard Motley, Frank Cowser, C. R. Snider, Perry Deckert, Dr. L. E. Standifer, Howard Blackburn and Joe Bissett. The four of this number that qualified for the final flight were: G. E. Kindrick, Henry Bosman, Ches Goodwin and U. D. Kindrick. Out of these four merged the final two—U. D. Kindrick and Ches Goodwin, Mr. Kindrick being the winner.

From a wilderness of undergrowth, stumps and timber, Mr. J. R. O'Bryan, the golf course manager, has conditioned and is now offering to the public one of the best golf links in this section of the State. For beautiful surroundings, picturesque conditions and pleasant climatic conditions, we have no hesitancy in saying that the course is one which the people of Junction are proud to possess and to invite their friends to play on. Mr. O'Bryan is rapidly bringing the greens into a good condition and is to be highly recommended for his work in presenting to our sport lovers this recreation center.

Little Theater Play Coming April 26th

The Junction Little Theater will give its production of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" Friday evening, April 26th. Rehearsals are going on regularly and the play is assuming finished proportions rapidly. Costumes and wigs have been ordered from San Antonio and Dallas, and stage properties from New York and Chicago. No effort is being spared to make the play a success.

Christine Schraub will be presented as Snow White, the Little Princess with the cruel step-mother, who sought protection with the Dwarfs in the Deep Forest. Mrs. Forrest Weldon is to play the role of the Wicked Queen Brangmar, step-mother to Snow White. Mary Ellis Blackburn is cast for the part of the famous Witch Hex and with Marvin Blackburn as Sir Dandiprat will furnish the humor of the play. Carleton Wright is to be Prince Charming and Herbert Newman will carry the role of Berthold, the sorely tried Chief Huntsman of the evil Queen. Nevada Blackburn will appear as the Gypsy Peddler woman, in whose disguise the Queen seeks out the Princess in the home of the Dwarfs.

The large cast will include maids of honor to Snow White, ladies in waiting to the Queen, pages, elves and fairies, black cats for the Witch and of course the Seven Dwarfs.

Cowser-Corder

Mr. Orville Cowser and Miss Lorena Corder were married at the Lon Cowser home in Junction Wednesday, April 5, at 11 o'clock a. m. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. L. Batchelor. The wedding was a quiet home affair, only a few near relatives being present. After the ceremony a tempting dinner was served and joy was king.

The bride is one of Kimble's most popular young ladies and has a wide circle of friends.

The groom is a prominent young stockman and farmer, and a splendid young gentleman, and is to be congratulated for his good fortune and good judgment.

POULTRY COLUMN

(By F. W. Kummer)

Safe to Feed Milk

For a long time the information has been put out that milk should never be fed in galvanized iron vessels or fountains, claiming so doing would poison the chicks. It has been fairly well proven however that this idea was not founded on facts, it was rather based on belief. We have for the last six years been feeding all of our milk in galvanized iron pans, with completely satisfactory results. To make double sure that you will be safe in doing so, it is recommended that when you buy new galvanized pans, trough, pails or vessels for this purpose, that you fill the container to the top with sour milk and let it set that way for 24 hours, then throw the milk away, after that you can use the container safely for milk feeding for baby chicks or growing chicks as well as mature stock. So there goes another old foggy idea, as being proven worthless.

Milk Wonderful Feed

We truly believe that milk is a wonderful feed for baby chicks, growing chicks and laying hens. There is nothing better than milk. Feed it any old way, sweet, sour, buttermilk, skim milk, or in any other form, as long as it honestly can be called milk. Feed liberally of milk, it will help you raise well developed chicks. We would rather buy milk for our chicks than patent medicine and White Diarrhoea cures. If you will feed plenty of milk, your chicks won't need medicine. One factor in feeding milk successfully, is important, and that is to make plans to feed it regularly. Feeding it spasmodically is not nearly so satisfactory. Provide plenty of dishes or troughs so they never have to creep around them.

Look Out for Mites

Warm weather and chickens breed mites. Better plan an energetic campaign against these blood sucking parasites. Use any of the good disinfectants, kerosene, crude oil, crank case oil, carbolineum or any of the other cures, but be sure you use it regularly and start soon enough. Inspect the roosting quarters, lift up the roost poles and look into the cracks and crevices about the house. If you look close enough you will find the mites. Don't fool yourself to believe you can kill these blood suckers by drugs you can mix in the feed or add to the drinking water. It is not being done, except maybe on paper.

Fake Stock Remedies
"There are no known drug remedies for contagious abortion in cattle, hog cholera, influenza of hogs, horses and other animals, tuberculosis of cattle and poultry, distemper of dogs, cats and foxes, heaves of horses, bacillary white diarrhoea of chickens, fowl cholera, roup or diphtheria, chicken pox, and blackhead of turkeys." That is the consensus of present-day reliable veterinary medical opinion, according to Dr. P. E. Dunbar, assistant chief of the Food Drug and Insecticide Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

COULDN'T LEAVE HOUSE FOR SIX LONG MONTHS

"I had just about given up hope of ever being well again when I heard about Sargon. It is just wonderful what it has done for me."

MRS. J. W. MANESS

"I was in a dreadfully run-down condition as a result of stomach trouble. I became so weak I was confined to the house for six months and for four months was on a milk diet. I suffered terribly with gas and cramping pains. Awful sick headaches forced me to bed for hours at a time. I lost weight and strength and my color was unhealthy. I was so nervous that life was a misery. I simply couldn't sleep well."

"After the first few doses of Sargon, my appetite returned and I eat anything I want. I don't suffer with gas or cramping pains any more, nor do I have these dreadful headaches. My nervousness is entirely gone and I sleep just fine. Doing the housework now seems just like play compared to what it used to be. I'm rid of constipation, my color is good and I've gained six pounds."

"Sargon did more for me in a few weeks than all the other medicines and treatments put together did in years."

The above statement was recently made by Mrs. J. W. Maness, 1510 Pearson St., Houston, Texas.

Sargon may be obtained in Junction from J. A. Heyman.

MAY I PROCLAIMED CHILD HEALTH DAY

Austin Governor Moody issued a proclamation Friday designating May 1 as "Child Health Day," and inviting the aid and co-operation of nurses, physicians, welfare workers, health agencies, schools, churches and all other organizations interested in child health to co-operate with the State Department of Health in providing suitable activities for the promotion of a public interest in the health and development of the children of Texas.

"Believing that every child should be offered an opportunity to engage in the kinds of play and other exercises that will cause it to become strong and healthy, I ask that the people of our State awaken to the necessity of a year-round program for protection and development of the health of the children today," the Governor said in his proclamation.

CONGRESSMAN REFUSES OFFICE NEXT TO NEGRO'S

Asheville, N. C.—George M. Fritchard, a newly elected Republican Representative from North Carolina, who has been assigned a room next to that of Oscar DePriest of Chicago, a negro, and also a new Republican member, has ordered his secretary to close the office and take his name from the door.

"Office room No. 132 is unsatisfactory," Fritchard wired his secretary. "Vacate immediately. Lock door and deliver key to superintendent of House Office Building. Remove my name from the door. We will secure offices when I arrive."

Fritchard declined to comment other than to say he had sent the telegram immediately upon hearing that he had been assigned an office next to that of DePriest.

"My telegram is sufficient," he said. "I think I need comment no further."

The Federal Reserve Board in a statement today warned member banks that unless they voluntarily complied with its request of Feb. 7 for co-operation in restraining the use of federal reserve credit in speculation that it might adopt further methods to induce compliance in order to release credit for use of trade.

ERADICATION OF TICKS IN HAYS COUNTY STARTS

San Marcos, Texas.—Systematic tick eradication in Hays County began April 1 under the supervision of Bob Taylor. The Livestock Sanitary Commission has put on four men, Tom Massey of Mount Sharp, I. B. Dobie of Wimberley, Charlie Beecham of Henley and Will Morgan of San Marcos and the United States Bureau of Animal Industry has put on two other men, Sid Allen of Buda and P. O. Follis of Dripping Springs.

Taylor and his assistants are asking the full co-operation of the citizens in order that they may be able to clean the county of ticks as soon as possible. So far as possible the vats were leased from the owners by the county commission, according to Taylor.

First Anniversary of Handy-Andy Store

The celebration staged by Handy-Andy on last Saturday in honor of his first Birthday in Junction was an overwhelming success and met with an enthusiastic response from the public which was very pleasing to the management. During the day hundreds of customers availed themselves of the alluring Birthday Specials with which the store was filled and were served with coffee, cake and candy by Mrs. J. M. Livingston who graciously presided at the refreshment table. In addition to the "eats" each lady was given a dainty nosegay of sweet peas and each gentleman a cigar while bags of candy went to the youngsters.

A large number of friends was present to participate in the cutting of the lovely Birthday Cake at 5 o'clock and try for the luck coins which it contained. Handy-Andy is very grateful for the liberal patronage received during his first year in Junction and for the many congratulations and good wishes for the future extended to him on his Birthday.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS

Thursday evening the Heart of the Hills Bible Class met in regular monthly meeting in the Sunday School room of the Methodist Church. A business session was held with Mr. Ovie Buster, class president, presiding. Following this an hour of hilarious games was enjoyed. At the close of the meeting ice cream and cake were served to Messrs. Ovie Buster, I. W. Myers, Joe Oliver, Brown, W. M. Taylor, Black Davis, G. H. House, Jas. A. Miller, Roy King, B. F. Neal, A. J. Bierschwald, W. B. Buster, Joe Bissett, Ramsey Randolph, Frank Bissett, Dr. L. E. Standifer and Rev. Milton F. Hill.

Mr. J. S. Fleming was hurt Monday while roping a sheep. He stepped on a rock which turned and he fell across another one bruising his leg between his ankle and knee. His son, Slaton Fleming, is also suffering from a sprained ankle. In trying to hold a young horse he had roped he sprained his ankle which has been very painful.

KID PONIES

West Texas reared and can't ride! isn't much of an atmosphere for Junction boys or girls to take with them to college—East or North or anywhere. Give your child a present that will always be remembered with a smile. "A little paint pony I rode everywhere when I was a kid."

Guaranteed ponies can be bought at the Cardwell ranch. Order yours by name for June 1st delivery.

Chummy—black and white. Half size. Gentle.

White Sox—peach of a red with white stockings and a few lightning splashes over him. Half size.

Goobar—a small one to begin on. Black, white face and legs. Chrysalis—a miniature daughter of Butterfly. Goobar's baby sister.

Calico—dun and brown and white. Half size.

Pancho—brother to Chummy, a splashy black and white. Half size.

Glassey—dun, glass-eye, heavy mane and tail, gentle as a dog. Half size.

And others that will suit. Ponies of any kind. Sturdy, heavy ranch ponies, polo ponies. Cardwell Ranch, Junction, Texas.

MRS. D. L. VARNUM DIES

Mrs. Mattie Bell Varnum, wife of D. L. Varnum and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Porter, died at the home of her parents on April 1, 1929, after an illness of four years. She was born at Kingsbury, Texas, February 26, 1902 and was married to D. L. Varnum at San Marcos January 27, 1923. She moved to Junction three years ago for the benefit of her health, but has grown worse until relieved from her suffering on April 1.

When eleven years old she was converted and united with the Baptist church and remained a faithful and devoted member until her death. Those who know her best say that she lived a consistent Christian, and during her long illness did not murmur. She was anxious to live to rear her little girl, but was willing to submit to God's will.

She is survived by her parents, husband, five year old daughter, three brothers and four sisters, who mourn her untimely death.

The funeral, conducted by Rev. Milton F. Hill and Elder J. S. Newman, was held at the Junction Cemetery on April 2, 1929.

Value of Pure Bred Live Stock

Every breeder of purebred animals, and every farmer who is looking to improve his herd or flock knows the value, or at least he should know it, yet it does seem that many when casting about for new blood for improvement want to buy something at a low price, considering the quality.

We are short-sighted who believe that any breeder of purebred animals or birds will sell the best individuals at the price of scrubs or meat stock. It costs a lot of money to raise and develop a certain line, no matter what breed or race. Improvement along these lines has been wonderful within the past few years; we have come up from the barnyard hen which produced 50 eggs to the 300-egg mark. Our dairy cows have done likewise; beef, pork and mutton values in breeding animals have risen many fold; but not without expense, and a thorough system of selection and careful breeding. Why then should we not expect to pay a reasonable price when we select from these flocks animals that have the ability to go on producing after they have reached our own farms? That is exactly where their value lies—in their ability to transmit to their offspring their own valuation qualities bred in them over a long term of years by careful selection and rigid culling.

If you can increase the weight of your lambs five pounds each by breeding your ewes to a certain purebred sire, would it not be dollars in your pocket to breed from such a ram, rather than the scrub which gives you the lower rate?

The price of the purebred we will say is $50; the price of the scrub is nothing. Which are you breeding from, and do you know which ram gives you the value? These are things for the breeder on the farm to think about. Remember that it costs no more to produce a fine animal for killing purposes than it does to raise a scrub. The only extra expense is in your initial investment for a breeding sire prepotent enough to stamp his quality on his get from grade ewes. It is not only true with the sheep but with every other line of farm animals with which we have to deal.

A man writes me that he is discouraged with the goat business, as he has been stung so many times. He says the first doe he bought was "supposed to give five quarts a day, but gave a pint. The next doe gave nearly a quart, but only milked for a few months and then went dry." I asked him how much money these goats cost him, and he replied that $10 "was the most he had paid. I have tried to point out to the goat owners, and would-be owners, that milk goats do not give five quarts—not to any great extent, anyway—and if such animals could be purchased, the price would be prohibitive because such animals would be almost priceless. Three quarts for any milking doe is a good yield. I am not speaking from hearsay, but actual experience over a long period of goat breeding.

And it is not all in breed. There's a lot in feed, and still more in the man who carries the feed pail. Common sense and good judgment count for much in livestock breeding and feeding. We must learn how to care for animals to get the most out of them—otherwise they may become a failure and we have our labor for our mistakes.

The prices of all farm animals have increased in proportion to other commodities within the past few years, especially milk breeds. Time was when $30 was a good price for a fresh cow; today that same cow in the same section is worth $100 or more.

I believe there was never a time when the outlook for purebred animals for breeding purposes was greater than at present; likewise market values for meat stock are well up, and in spite of the big prices we are forced to pay for grain, there is still a fair margin of profit in producing block animals, the best of which always come from high-producing sires from families famous for their qualities in these respects.—Exchange.

APRIL IS GOOD MONTH FOR PECAN BUDDING

"Small native pecan trees may be successfully budded to paper-shell varieties at this time of year, for the sap is up and the bark slips easily," says J. F. Rosborough, Extension Horticulturist. "Larger trees should be top worked in the winter when the wood is dormant and buds applied on the suckers the following summer. This is probably the quickest way to get into paying production of improved pecans, but owners of native pecan groves should not overlook the fact that the cheapest way and one always to be recommended to some extent, at least, is that of budding the smaller trees. Reports of county agents show that 2000 people in 601 communities in 90 counties last year budded native pecan trees to improved varieties, and the demand is increasing all the time for more assistance of this sort."

A precious one has gone and left us,
In our minds he will be no more.
It has left our hearts all broken.
But we'll meet on the other shore.

He has gone to our precious Saviour
Where no sorrows ever roam;
He now dwells in that beautiful mansion
Where no heart-aches are borne.

He was so precious in our presence,
We will miss him evermore
But our great Reaper has called him
To that bright and beautiful shore.

Thou art gone, our precious darling,
We will see him here no more;
One by one we will join our loved one
When our pilgrimage is o'er.

THE NEW FORD

An official test of the Model A Ford motor in Switzerland, with the Alps as the proving ground, has demonstrated that the new Ford could be operated for a long, continuous period over abrupt, steep hills, without lifting the hood.

The Ford motor was kept running for a period of SIX days and during virtually all of that time the car was enroute over the most difficult Alpine passes, a relief taking over the operation while the driver rested. Day and night the test continued. No attempt was made for distance or speed, the sole object being to determine the reliability and power of the automobile.

Automobile registrations for Texas for the month of February show 4565 Ford against 2841 for the next most popular low price car.

You won't find many hills you can't take in high when you drive the new Ford. Watch, too, how it gets away in traffic, its road clearance, its smooth speed and balance on the open road. Combine these features with riding comfort and you will know why so many people say "It's a great car."

Come in and see the new Ford. We will be glad to show you and let you drive it yourself. This does not obligate you in any way and a demonstration costs you nothing. Ask the one who owns one how he likes its performance and last but not least, why not SAVE the DIFFERENCE?

School Notes

We, the Senior Class, are wondering why Virginia has a sty on her right eye.

At the Senior Class meeting Monday afternoon, it was decided that the seniors should give a play sometime in the near future.

Mrs. Frank Patterson acted as substitute for Mr. Cowles, who was absent Monday and Tuesday.

There is a number of absentees this week. Mrs. Felps seems to think that Max is learning quite a bit of English. It is his custom to report to class once a week.

Miss Palmer, a representative of the San Angelo Business College, was here last week for the purpose of enrolling students for the summer term. Elsie St. Clair enrolled for the term beginning June 10.

This is the last week of the fifth term of school; there remain only six more weeks. The seniors are anxious for the report cards to be handed out, for they will tell their doom.

The number of people affected with sleeping sickness increases daily as spring progresses.

The District Meet will be held at Kerrville April 20-21. We are hoping that Junction will win many points, and that others besides the contestants will attend.

Othal seemed to have the blues last Thursday and Friday, but we can't imagine what it was all about.
