Conference With Cypriots Set In London

By ALEX EFTY

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriots will join in a conference with Britain, Greece and Turkey in London late this month in an effort to end the bloodshed on Cyprus and preserve the island republic.

Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, and Dr. Fazil Kutchuk, Turkish Cypriot vice president, agreed Thursday night to send representatives. Their decisions came after a day of intensive diplomatic activity by Britain's on-the-spot mediator, Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys.

Sandys flew back to London for personal report to Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and the British Cabinet.

"There will be problems and things may go wrong," Sandys told newsmen in London, "but I think the situation is under control."

He warned of the possibility of more fighting, saying, "there is a large number of irregulars who are not controlled by any of the people who will be sitting around the table.

Exact date of the conference has not been announced. After the opening session, a committee of Greek and Turkish Cypriot representatives will be formed to work with a British chairman on proposals for revising the Cypriot constitution and the treaties linking Britain, Greece and Turkey to the Mediterranean island.

Acceptance of the British proposal for a peace conference came 12 days after the outbreak of renewed fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots, who long have regarded each other with enmity.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government has put to the nations of the world a proposal to sign an international agreement renouncing the use of force in settling territorial and frontier issues.

A Tass digest of the message said Khrushchev had told world leaders in messages delivered Thursday:

"At the present time such a situation has arisen when it is possible to practically pose and solve the problem of excluding from international life the use of force in territorial disputes between states."

The message says the international agreement should contain four main provisions:

First, a solemn undertaking by the parties not to resort to force to alter existing state frontiers;

Second, acknowledgment that the territories of states should not, even temporarily, be the object of any invasion, attack, military occupation or any other forcible measure directly or indirectly undertaken by other states for whatever political, economic, strategic, frontier, or any other considerations;

Third, a firm statement to the effect that neither differences in social and state systems, nor refusal to grant recognition or absence of diplomatic relations or any other pretexts may serve as a basis for the violation by one state of the territorial integrity of another;

Fourth, a committment to solve all territorial disputes solely by peaceful means such as negotiations, mediation, conciliatory procedures, and also other peaceful means chosen by the parties concerned, in conformity with the United Nations Charter.

The Tass summary of the message added:

"The Soviet government is deeply convinced that an undertaking by states to settle territorial disputes by peaceful means only would go a long way toward putting international relations in order.

"It can be said with confidence that in the new situation created by the conclusion of an agreement on the renunciation by states of the use of force to settle territorial disputes it would be much easier to find a solution to other fundamental international problems. This applies above all to the problem of disarmament.

"The Soviet government has arrived at the conclusion that while continuing to work tirelessly for the solution of the problem of general and complete disarmament it would be useful simultaneously to redouble our efforts in eliminating acute frictions in relations between states and centers of tension."

Tass said Premier Khrushchev pointed to Formosa:

"This island since ancient times is a component part of the Chinese state. The unlawful occupation of Taiwan (Formosa) by American troops must be terminated. The island is an inalienable part of the People's Republic of China and would have been reunified with it long since were it not for the external interference of another state." (meaning the United States.)

US Studies Red Proposal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
A.P. Diplomatic Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U.S. officials began a careful study today of a reported new proposal from Soviet Premier Khrushchev for a worldwide pact pledging peaceful settlement of international disputes over territory.

The proposal was made by the Soviet leader in messages Thursday to President Johnson and other world leaders. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said while it was being translated into English that in its emphasis on peaceful settlement it seemed to be in line with a long established U.S. policy.

Rusk said the 21-page message would be carefully studied. President Johnson is getting a complete text delivered to him at his ranch in Texas.

The message evidently is part of the Soviet peace offensive which Khrushchev undertook with the beginning of the new year. This parallels a peace drive opened this week by Johnson with a call for breakthroughs toward East - West agreement.

Rusk told a news conference Thursday that the United States will begin work shortly with the Allied governments principally interested in German issues — West Germany, Britain and France—on possible "new initiatives" which the Western powers may put forth in future discussions with the Soviet Union. The whole U.S. disarmament policy is also under review in a search for new ideas and revamped proposals to be made when the Geneva disarmament conference is resumed Jan. 21.

Rusk also confirmed reports that there has been some discussion of a "bonfire" disarmament proposal for destruction of various types of weapons, such as jet warplanes, which the nuclear powers might otherwise sell or give to smaller countries.

It was learned that the United States has suggested to the Soviet Union an agreement to ban the delivery of such weapons to other countries. The suggestion is understood to have been made by Rusk when he met with Soviet leaders in Moscow last summer for signing of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

Trio Charged In Sinatra Kidnaping

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A federal grand jury — after hearing testimony which reportedly included that of Frank Sinatra Jr. — dealt swiftly and impartially with three men accused of kidnaping him.

All three were charged with six counts of kidnaping, conspiracy, placing ransom calls, and possession of ransom money.

No quarter was shown John William Irwin, 42, first of the trio arrested, who was reported to have helped the FBI after having his own brother turn him in.

In fact, it was disclosed, the FBI didn't need Irwin's help to crack the case.

U.S. Atty. Francis Whelan, who announced the indictments, said that the matter was all but settled when Irwin was arrested Dec. 13 near San Diego.

The grand jury concluded its hearing on the case Thursday with the presentation of a true bill against the three men — Irwin, Barry Worthington Keenan and Clyde Joseph Amsler, each 23.

The three defendants will be arraigned Monday.

Hope Raised For Crew Of Downed Plane

HONOLULU (AP) — A "Gibson Girl" transmitter with an hour-glass figure raised the hopes of searchers today as they combed the Pacific Ocean for the crew of a downed cargo plane.

Nine men aboard the missing C124 aircraft — eight Air Force men and a sailor — were believed adrift somewhere in a massive expanse of water, hundreds of miles from the nearest island.

A portable radio transmitter named because of its shape, the "Gibson Girl" transmitted distress signals which narrowed down the search area to an "L" shaped expanse of the Pacific roughly 750 nautical miles west of Hawaii.

The signals — strong on one occasion Thursday night when they were picked up by an inbound military Air Transport Service C124 Globemaster — led searchers to believe that at least some of the plane's occupants were alive.

The transmitter must be hand-cranked so that the distress signal can be given out.

Fighter Of Yellow Fever Succumbs

DENVER (AP)—A former Air Force officer whose mercy flights helped control yellow fever in Costa Rica, Panama and Nicaragua died here Wednesday

Relatives of retired Maj. John R. Peacock, 42, said a heart attack was believed cause of death.

The government of Costa Rica struck a gold medal in 1951 for Peacock, who flew doctors and serum into the jungles by helicopter to fight disease among natives.

He made similar flights into jungles of the other countries.

The Brazilian government honored him for evacuating survivors of an airplane crash in the jungles of Belem in 1952.

Peacock was a native of Wisconsin and a graduate of the University of Missouri. He enlisted in the Air Force in 1943 and before coming to Lowry Air Force Base here in 1958 was stationed at Albrook AFB in Panama, at Keesler AFB, Miss., and at March AFB, Calif.

After retiring from the service Nov. 30, he piloted helicopters for a firm here.

Requiem high mass will be sung here Tuesday. Burial will be in the Ft. Logan National Cemetery.

Wheat Export Subsidy Okd

By OVID A. MARTIN
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has approved an application by the Continental Grain Co. for an export subsidy on 12,862,500 bushels of Durum type wheat for sale abroad, presumably to the Soviet Union. The wheat will come from surplus government stocks.

This could be the first sale to Russia since Soviet leaders indicated last fall they would like to buy U.S. wheat.

The department said it had agreed to a request by Continental that details of the application, including the destination of the wheat and the terms of the subsidy, be withheld until late today.

Nevertheless, high department sources said they definitely understood that the wheat will be sold to the Soviet Union.

Among details that were disclosed are these:

The Agriculture Department will sell the wheat from its surplus stocks to Continental at $2.50 a bushel for No. 2 Hard Amber Durum, F.O.B. the East Coast.

Then, upon export of the wheat, Continental will get a subsidy of 72 cents a bushel on half of the wheat, to be shipped during January and February, and 73 cents on the remainder, to be shipped during March and April

The total subsidy will be about $9,314,000.

For years, the government has paid subsidies on exports of wheat because the domestic price, due to price support programs, is higher than the world price.

However, authorization for subsidy sales of wheat to Soviet bloc countries was only approved a few months ago by the late President John F. Kennedy.

The subsidy rates approved on the Continental application are somewhat higher than those the department had been posting daily for exports of other classes of wheat, such as hard winter, spring, soft and white. Rates on these latter classes ranged from 51 to 65 cents a bushel yesterday, depending on type and port.

Durum wheat is used for making macaroni, spaghetti, and similar products. The other classes are used for making flour for bread and other baking purposes.

The department has not been posting subsidy rates on the durum type. Instead, it has left determination of such rates on an exporter offer basis.

Less Red Ink Seen In Budget

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson's new budget will be in the neighborhood of a record $100 billion, but he hopes to cut red ink spending below the current level.

The budget estimate for fiscal 1965, disclosed Thursday night by a White House source, is less than anticipated. Still, it will be a new peak for government spending.

Soon after taking office Johnson suggested he would have difficulty keeping the spending total below $102.5 billion or $103 billion. He blamed unavoidable increases already authorized by Congress.

The reduced figure is in keeping with the economy drive he has called for since then.

Balanced against the $100 billion spending total for the government year that begins July 1 will be forecast revenues of more than $90 billion. Johnson will tell Congress that revenues on this scale are dependent on early enactment of an $11 billion tax cut retroactive Jan. 1.

The combination of Johnson's spending and revenue predictions would yield an indicated deficit of less than $10 billion.

A year ago, the late President John F. Kennedy recommended fiscal 1964 spending of $98.8 billion, a new high. Kennedy forecast revenues of $86.9 billion and a deficit of $11.9 billion.

Johnson kept his economy campaign rolling Thursday. Postmaster General John A. Gronouski was called to the LBJ Ranch to confer with the President and then told a news conference his department planned some savings.

The postal payroll will be trimmed by 5,000 workers in the next six months, Gronouski said, and fund requests for expansion and modernization of facilities will be reduced from $43 million to $10 million.

The President also conferred with Robert C. Weaver, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, who later told newsmen the administration will send Congress a comprehensive housing bill calling for a significant stepup in the public housing program and expansion of Federal Housing Administration activities.

Rail Mishap Kills 4 Arizona Crewmen

SELIGMAN, Ariz. (AP) — Four members of a railroad maintenance crew were killed Thursday when a Santa Fe freight train ran down two handcars. Workers on a third car were not hit.

The accident occurred 30 miles west of Seligman in northern Arizona.

Yavapai County Deputy Sheriff Lee Inscoe said the train, an extra, rounded a slight curve and rolled through a mountain cut only 100 yards from the impact point.

Exiled Cubans Group Complains To OAS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Cuban Judicial Association in Exile said today it has sent to the Organization of American States a list of 278 alleged acts of aggression or subversion by Premier Fidel Castro's Cuban government against Latin-American nations.

New York Has Big Junked Auto Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — The problem: What to do with old automobiles abandoned in city streets. There were 13,600 last year.

One solution: Dump them in the Atlantic Ocean off Long Island where they'd make homes for fish — as wrecks do — and perhaps improve the fishing.

Commissioner Frank J. Lucia of the Department of Sanitation said Thursday his idea may get serious consideration unless the price of scrap increases. Junk cars bring $5 each, C.O.D.

GOP Nomination Hopefuls Preparing To Do Battle

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York returns to New Hampshire today, convinced that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona will be his chief opponent for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller is reopening his campaign on the day that Goldwater is to announce in Phoenix, Ariz., whether he, too, will seek the nomination and enter New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary on March 10.

A source close to Goldwater said in Phoenix Thursday night the senator will make the race.

There was little, if any, doubt of it in the Rockefeller camp. Ex Gov. Hugh Gregg, campaign chairman for Rockefeller in New Hampshire, renewed a challenge Thursday for Goldwater to meet the governor in a series of public debates.

Gregg said he was doing so "on the eve of Sen. Goldwater's long-delayed decision to announce his candidacy."

Rockefeller flies to Portsmouth for a major speech at a public meeting of the Portsmouth Young Republican Club tonight.

After the speech, Rockefeller will go to Concord, the capital, and spend the night. Saturday morning he will make a brief handshaking tour, hold a news conference and then fly to New York City.

Most New Hampshire politicians say they see no evidence that Rockefeller has been the beneficiary of any loss in political strength Goldwater may have suffered after President Kennedy's assassination.

Goldwater, despite a slip in the polls, is still considered the front runner in this state.

* * *

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater—whose name means conservatism across America—will declare himself a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination today, a source close to the Arizona lawmaker said.

At the same time, the Goldwater associate said, the senator will announce plans to file for his third Senate term.

Goldwater will make his twin declarations at a private meeting with Arizona Republican leaders and a patio news conference at his sprawling, hillside home overlooking Phoenix.

The senator was said to feel he must formally enter the presidential race because of the groundswell of support and the hundreds of thousands of campaign dollars raised by his conservative followers across the nation.

But the source said Goldwater plans to hang onto the insurance of another Senate bid. Filing deadline for the Arizona primary is July 10—three days before the GOP National Convention opens in San Francisco to choose the party's presidential standard bearer.

Goldwater called 27 top Arizona Republicans to his Phoenix home to tell them of his plans. After he talks to them in his spacious study, he'll hobble to the patio to tell the nation his decision.

The private gathering was scheduled for 11 a.m., Mountain Standard Time, the outdoor news conference a half hour later.

Goldwater's right foot is still in a cast after surgery to remove a calcium deposit from his heel.

Should Goldwater capture the presidential nomination, the source said, he would withdraw from the senatorial field.

Arizona Atty. Gen. Robert Pickrell has ruled Goldwater could run for both offices.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I read a letter in your column from a married couple who had been counseled during some marital difficulties by their clergyman. They said there was no mention of a fee, so they didn't know whether to wait for a bill or to send him a check to show their appreciation for his help. You replied, "Since no fee was mentioned there probably was none. Send a check to the church for their building fund or missionary work. Churches can always use money."

Well, what about clergymen? They can use money, too, and most of them need it desperately. It was like telling people if they went to show their appreciation for the fine service they had at a hotel to send a "tip" to Conrad Hilton. Please reverse yourself.

A CLERGYMAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Now that you put it that way, I think you're right. I am hereby reversing myself.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who is almost 14, and I like a boy who is 15. He acts like he likes me when there is nobody around, but as soon as he gets with his friends, or when anyone else is there, he acts like he doesn't care anything about me. But when I look at him it is as though his eyes are saying, "I Love You." What does this mean?

DEAR THRILLED: It doesn't mean a thing, Honey. In this case, the "eyes" don't have it. What does his MOUTH say?

DEAR ABBY: When I was 17 I married a man, 37. We had a son, and stayed married for six years. After we were divorced I met a man my age and we were married. My ex-husband and I remained friendly because of our son. My ex-husband got sick and asked if he could come to live with us until he got better. My husband said yes. I took care of him. Well, it has been eight years and he's still here. He is now 77 and drinks seven nights a week. He gets a pension and also some income from property. My husband drinks with him and won't work any more. Now I have two drinking men in the house, nobody works, and we all live off my ex-husband. Can this problem be solved?

DEAR WEST VIRGINIAN: Yes. And it's your move. Move your ex-husband out, and give your husband a chance to be a man. And if they're both too blind to find ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS in the telephone book, it's the first listing under "AA".

DRIVER SERIOUSLY INJURED — James Edward McKay, 57, of Cameron, was driving this cable-type dump truck when the raised bed struck the Santa Fe overpass north of Snyder on Highway 84 at about 12:15 p.m. today. The truck was headed south, and came to rest on the south side of the overpass. Owned by the J. C. Mullin Transport Co. of Gonzales, the truck was working on the new highway by-pass. Texas Highway Patrolman Royce Stowe and a passerby kicked out the windshield in order to get the driver out. He was taken to Cogdell Hospital by Bell Ambulance. He is reported to be in serious condition with multiple cuts and unable to move either leg.

Humphrey Top Choice In LBJ's 'Running Mate' Poll

By FRANK CORMIER

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey topped the balloting, but results of a national poll of Democratic county chairmen heightened speculation that President Johnson's running mate may be someone closely identified with the late John F. Kennedy.

More specifically, several Johnson aides suggested today that the results added up to a plus for the potential candidacy of Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps director and brother-in-law of the assassinated President.

The poll, conducted by The Associated Press, turned up notable support for both Shriver and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as among the party's best choices for the November vice presidential nomination.

Humphrey, a Minnesotan who is assistant Senate Democratic leader, paced the balloting with 185 votes.

He said "I am honored and flattered by the national poll. It is always gratifying to have friendly consideration by your fellow Americans. The decision for vice president, however, will be made by the Democratic convention, which I am confident will respect the wishes in this matter of President Johnson."

Robert Kennedy, a close second with 166 votes, declined comment on the poll.

Shriver ranked fifth with 43 votes, trailing Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York—both regarded as dark horse possibilities.

Some politically oriented Johnson associates said they were struck by the combined strength of Robert Kennedy and Shriver, as well as the scattering of votes for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, youngest brother of the late President, and for Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

They suggested the attachment of party leaders to the Kennedy image was most likely to benefit Shriver, who is on much closer personal terms with Johnson than the attorney general.

Some of those close to Johnson report that Shriver already is regarded by the President as the running mate he would find most acceptable under present circumstances.

Robert Kennedy's strength in the poll was viewed by one presidential aide as readily transferable to Shriver.

The attorney general's No. 2 ranking in the poll also was interpreted by some as tending to dispel any idea that Robert Kennedy is unpopular with local party leaders.

About half the county chairmen and other Democratic leaders who were questioned by Associated Press correspondents declined to list a vice presidential preference.

The poll was conducted during the last three weeks of December.

The 10 potential candidates receiving the most votes were: Humphrey, 185; Kennedy, 166; Stevenson, 75; Wagner, 47; Shriver, 43; Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California, 37; Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, 28; Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, 24; Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., 21, and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, 14.

Others who received some support included Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Sen. Frank L. Lausche of Ohio, Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington and Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman.

Says US Must Maintain Power

By HOLCOMB B. NOBLE
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP)—House Speaker John W. McCormack says that as long as the Soviet Union adheres to its "policy of subversion" the United States must maintain an alert and powerful military force.

He said the nation must not expect any quick or easy end to the cold war but must continue to be strong both militarily and spiritually if it is to combat Communist aggression.

In an interview with The Associated Press, he also expressed his thoughts on the proposed tax cut, the recent fight for the passage of the foreign aid bill, and civil rights.

After the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, McCormack, as speaker of the House, became first in succession to the presidency in the event of the death of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

McCormack, tall and slender at 72, was quick to scowl at mention of suggestions by some critics that he resign because of his age. He said he is in good health and has no intention of resigning.

On foreign policy, McCormack said that at this time his thinking would not differ from that of President Johnson, who he said has expressed an interest in keeping him fully informed on security and foreign affairs.

He favors continued East-West negotiations and a continued U.S. foreign aid program as affirmative steps to achieving world peace.

"Still," McCormack said, "those who live in a dream world of hope, no matter how honest the view, might be reckless in the world of today."

He then mentioned the congressional battle last month that preceded passage of the 1963 foreign aid bill.

He said the program is becoming harder to get through Congress and will become more so unless there is an "awakening of public opinion to the needs and importance of foreign assistance."

The speaker called the civil rights bill the most important piece of legislation before the Congress, more important than the tax cut bill "because it involves a moral question."

Urges Gifts For Widow Of Oswald

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. K. Owen White of Houston, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, says gifts to the widow and children of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald "would be a wonderful opportunity to demonstrate the fact that our faith is warm and personal."

Dr. White, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Houston, made the plea in an article published Thursday by the Baptist Standard, official weekly newspaper of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

He was joined by Baptist Standard editor E. S. James, who urged Baptists to remember Marina Oswald, as well as Mrs. J. D. Tippit, widow of the Dallas policeman slain the day President Kennedy was killed.

The two influential Baptists praised Americans for their aid to Mrs. Tippit, but urged Baptists not to forget Mrs. Oswald. Oswald was charged in the deaths of both President Kennedy and Tippit.

Dr. James said the Oswald family "not only must face life with a stigma they did not bring on themselves, but they must do it without many relatives or friends on whom they can depend for help."

Dallas police officials say they believe funds for the Tippit family will pass the half million dollar mark. The Standard said about $30,000 has been contributed to the family of Oswald, who was shot by Dallas night club operator Jack Ruby.

Umpire For Kids Said Ultimate Test

VACAVILLE, Calif. (AP) — If a convict can survive as a Little League umpire, he has a good chance of readjusting to society.

That's the thinking behind a program at the California Department of Corrections facility here, which is experimenting with a one-year program to prepare convicted violent criminals for parole by testing them in a variety of demanding and stressful jobs.

Umpiring Little League games is part of the stress.

"There's nothing tougher," says program director Werner J. Einstadter. "A Little League umpire hasn't got a friend, no matter what decision he makes. He can't win either way."

Unless he holds his temper and wins parole.

Hot Tar Kills Men

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Five men were killed when boiling tar was splattered over a highway department work crew by a produce truck that overturned and slid into the tar wagon.

State troopers said the truck, driven by Isaac Evans Jr. of Birmingham, apparently was trying to pass a car on U.S. 31 Thursday when Evans saw a flagman in the highway. They said he slammed brakes, but the truck went out of control and hit the flagman, who was fatally injured.

The truck then flipped over and slid into the container of bubbling tar, splashing it on several convicts who were working on the road. Three were burned to death along with Evans.

Arlington National Cemetery originally was part of a 6,000-acre grant made by the Virginia colonial governor to a ship captain, Robert Howsen, for bringing colonists to the New World.

Opera Is Entertainment, Director Declares

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of people just have the wrong slant on grand opera, says Nathanial Merrill.

"You can't regard it as something on a pedestal and treat it with kid gloves," he insists. "Opera shouldn't be approached as an art, but as entertainment."

A director of productions for the Metropolitan Opera, Merrill feels the time has come to rid musical classics of the arty awe that surrounds them, and find new ways of making them exciting to audiences.

"Don't forget," he declares, "up until 1850 at least, operas were written to enhance personal reputations and hence they had to be popular entertainments.

"And don't worry. If a work has great artistic qualities, they'll come through safely."

Merrill is opposed to something else.

"There's a terrible attitude that what isn't understood must be good. That is ridiculous."

Suiting his actions to thoughts, Merrill this season has provided a new production of "Aida" that has sparked animated critical discussion and lively spectator interest. ("Audience reactions are not necessarily the same as critics' at all," he notes of comments about fresh dance rhythms injected into the presentation by his choreographer, Katherine Dunham.)

Merrill, who has been with the Met since 1955, previously has restaged four other works — "Turnadot," "Elisir d'Amore," "Adriana Lecouvreur" and "Die Meistersinger." Each season he supervises also the presentation of a dozen other performances in established versions.

For the next season he has been commissioned to create a new concept of another favorite opera. Its title is still a managerial secret, but elaborate preliminary planning is already under way.

"The creative period comes about a year ahead of the physical presentation," says Merrill, who insists on linking freshness of approach with meticulously exact backstage precision.

"What you face is transforming an oral experience — the composer's score — into a visual experience. It is unlike any other theatrical undertaking, for the composer has interposed very specific time demands."

Merrill likes to saturate himself through reading in the composer's era — "so as to reconstruct what he knew and to understand why he did certain things." Simultaneously he goes into a huddle with the designer of sets and costumes.

"The most important single ingredient in the whole undertaking is the director - designer collaboration," he says. Merill's associate in this job is Robert O'Hearn.

The staging problems are intricate, to make sure that vocalists are strategically placed at dramatic high points, to guarantee that everyone has a clear view of the conductor — a neat trick with 100 singers or more — and to get exits and entrances performed on split - second clues.

"The details and the chorus are the elements in which you can communicate fresh ideas," explains the director.

On time - space matters, Merrill enjoys one advantage — he went to Dartmouth College to major in mathematics. Only in his senior year did he switch to musical theory, with the sudden objective of becoming a composer.

After college his training activities for the first time opened up the world of opera. — "and I realized I wasn't going to be a composer," Prior to arrival at the Met. he worked at the Tanglewood, Mass., Festival, and with opera companies in Hamburg. Wiesbaden and Glyndebourne.

"There is one thing opera has that is missing in all other forms of theater," he points out — "you can have five or six people singing related or opposed motives all at the same time, and have it come out a unity. Try something like that in a play."

Although his personal preference leans toward Italian composers — a group in which he brackets Vienna's Mozart — Merrill feels that "a good conductor and excellent singers are the most important elements in a performance — then what opera one does isn't quite as important."

He feels that it would be an improvement too if operas in most places — other than at such international centers as the Met where stars from all over the globe are guests — were translated into English.

"It's not a bad language to sing in at all — and a lot more people would realize they could enjoy opera."

Merrill draws the line at one way of widening opera audiences — on television.

"On TV it is terribly boring," he avers. "Big scenes are reduced to tiny meaninglessness. Closeups are worse — there is nothing photogenic about the human larynx."

Leftover Beef Can Be Served Quite Enticingly

If a splendid beef roast graced your table at a special holiday dinner, perhaps you're pondering how to use the remaining portion. Of course, you could simple heat and serve the slices in their natural juices or gravy, but Reba Staggs, authority in the meat field, offers these helpful and tasty suggestions.

Heat the beef with one of the many packaged dehydrated sauce or gravy mixes on the market, such as sour cream sauce or onion gravy. Many combinations generally used as dips for crackers and chips make delicious spreads for [illegible] cheese spread would be particularly delicious.

One more attractive idea marinates beef slices several hours in a spicy oil-vinegar mixture. The meat then goes onto a cold meat platter or is served with potato salad.

Marinated Roast Beef Slices

1 pound cooked roast beef slices, cut ⅛ inch thick
1-3 cup vinegar
2 tablespoons salad oil
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon prepared mustard
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
4 teaspoons sugar
1 medium onion, thinly sliced.
Parsley

Mix together vinegar, salad oil, pepper, mustard, salt Worcestershire sauce, sugar and onion. Marinate beef slices in vinegar - salad oil mixture and chill in refrigerator about 3 hours. Remove meat and onion from marinade and serve on a cold meat platter or with potato salad. Garnish with parsley. 6 servings.

Ever melt semi-sweet chocolate and spread over the inner surface of small paper liners for cupcake pans? Keep in a cool place until set, then remove the liners by stripping them off. Fill the chocolate shells with vanilla pudding mix and garnish.

When you are using frosting for both filling and covering a layer cake, you can add fruit or nuts (or both) to the portion to be used for sandwiching the layers together. This trick adds interest!

STEALING HIS FAVORITE PLAY!

Krush's Cordial Greetings Often Superficial Gesture

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Khrushchev makes a habit of sending best wishes for the New Year and hopes for peace to American presidents although there have been some notable gaps between his wishes and performance.

He did it with Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy. Now he has done it with President Johnson. He gave Kennedy some miserable days. He seems to have quieted down a bit since then. But that's only maybe.

If Johnson takes his cue from Kennedy he will have a summit conference with the Russian before the 1964 presidential race next fall. Whether or not it relieved international tensions, it would be good American politics.

Khrushchev sent two New Year's messages in 1961, one to Eisenhower, the retiring president, and one to Kennedy, who was then still only president-elect. Then the Russian sent congratulations when Kennedy was sworn in Jan. 20.

Kennedy responded. The two men expressed a desire for a fresh attempt at negotiations on East-West problems. For extra measure, Khrushchev threw in a goodwill gesture.

Five days after Kennedy's inauguration Khrushchev released two surviving crewmen of a U.S. Air Force RB47 jet shot down in the Barents Sea off northern Russia the previous July 1.

Even though Kennedy and Khrushchev may have doubted they would accomplish anything if they met, they probably wanted to take each other's measure close up. So they had a summit meeting in Vienna June 3-4, 1961.

Nothing tangible, at least nothing that could be put in writing, came of it. The two men issued one of those typical diplomatic communiques expressing good intentions. As it turned out, Khrushchev's intentions weren't very good.

Khrushchev, after meeting Kennedy face-to-face, must have figured he had a soft touch because he didn't lose any time trying to break the President's back. He began putting on pressure to drive the Allies out of Berlin.

Then, on Aug. 15, 1961, Khrushchev's Communists began building their famous—or infamous — wall between East and West Berlin. If Kennedy had ordered it battered down, there might have been war.

He did the next best thing. He assured the West Berliners this country would stand by them.

Kennedy made a nationwide television address that probably gave the Russian second thoughts. And he asked Congress for authority to call up 250,000 reserves. Congress gave it to him in a hurry.

While all this was keeping the world edgy, Khrushchev hit Kennedy from another direction. He announced Aug. 31, 1961, Russia would resume nuclear testing. And it did. So did the United States. That got everybody upset.

Nevertheless, on Jan. 1, 1962, Khrushchev sent Kennedy another one of his New Year's greetings. And it was that same year he tried to slip his missiles into Cuba. That was in the fall of 1962. Kennedy backed him down.

And on Jan. 1, 1963—just as if getting caught with his missiles in Cuba was hardly more than getting caught with his hand in the jam pot, which is what it may have seemed like to him—Khrushchev sent Kennedy New Year's greetings.

By this time Kennedy had about given up hope, it seems, that Khrushchev would ever agree to a nuclear test ban treaty. But Khrushchev did, and a treaty was wrapped and delivered by Oct. 7, 1963. It banned tests in the atmosphere, outer space and under the sea.

Khrushchev did more, too. He agreed with Kennedy to set up a "hot line"—a direct teletype communication — between the White House and the Kremlin so the two men could get in touch fast in case of crisis. That was in 1963, too.

'64 Likely To Provide A Mixture

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — What's in store for us in 1964?

A deep peer into our clouded crystal ball shows we can look forward to the mixture as before—but with some surprises.

On the international front, it seems safe to predict, Soviet Premier Khrushchev will find at least 700 million reasons to grasp the Western world in an ever more cordial embrace—and all the reasons are Chi-

In Washington, as a result of stringent belt-tightening by the Democrats in their new federal economy program, the government will announce it has used 1,364,283,195 fewer paper clips than during any year of the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration.

Republicans will counter with an accusation that a number of employes of the U.S. Department of Agriculture have been secretly taking hom government-bought pencils and letting their children use them to do their home work.

Both political parties will call vigorously for a reduction in taxes—and 99 million taxpayers will give a big fat yawn. They know that if one level of government takes less from their pocketbooks, another level of government will take more.

In an unexpected goodwill gesture, the taxicab drivers of Paris will raise a fund to build a monument to the American tourist. As a matter of national pride, however, the statue turned out by the sculptor will closely resemble President Charles de Gaulle.

A more inexpensive way of handling the nation's grain surplus will be found. It will be stored in government-built bomb shelters. In case of an emergency, the citizen will merely shovel out the grain, or crawl in and pull it over his head.

In medicine the big news will be the discovery of two more sure cures for the common cold. After trying them both, the average man will find the only sure thing about them is that they sure don't work.

As a result of continued automation, more people will be working less — and enjoying it less, too. But business will be generally on the upgrade, and the competition for the big buck will go on unchecked.

All in all, 1964 promises to be a zany, wonderful year, and life will remain what it has always been—the only thing worth living. Be sure to do your share of it.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

QUESTION: Is it true that amber is found in water?

ANSWER: Perhaps our questioner is referring to ambergris, which is a valuable substance formed in the intestines of sperm whales, and which is sometimes found floating on the surface of the sea. It is used in the making of perfume.

Amber, however, is something entirely different. Between 60 and 70 million years ago, there were heavy pine forests in Northern Europe. Upheavels of land, especially in the area around the Baltic sea, led to the burial of many such forests, under water or land or both. The pine trees had a resinous sap which, under pressure of land or water and over the long period of years, hardened into lumps which are almost like stone. These lumps are amber. Some amber is light colored and this is known as "bone amber." But the most beautiful pieces are clear, like crystal, and are in many shades of yellow and gold; they have been used from 9000 B.C. as ornaments.

A remarkable thing about amber is that insects of prehistoric days were often trapped in the sticky resin and were thus preserved when the resin hardened. It is one of these that big John is showing to his little brother. As the picture to lower right shows, every detail of such an insect may be visible. Amber is sometimes mined from the ground, sometimes fished up from the Baltic Sea.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: An insect in amber is a great prize for your rock or fossil collection. Try to get one, by buying from a rock dealer or swapping. 1-3

Dodgers' Sandy Koufax Is Named Male Athlete Of '63

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax, a Brooklyn boy who didn't really make good until the Dodgers moved west, was named Male Athlete of the Year for 1963 today in The Associated Press year-end poll, capping a long list of honors he has received for his amazing pitching feats.

Koufax, a left-hander reputed to throw a baseball faster than anyone in the major leagues, led the Los Angeles Dodgers to the National League pennant, winning 25 games and then won two more in their four-game sweep of the World Series against the New York Yankees. Previously he had been selected as the National League's Most Valuable Player and had been awarded the Cy Young Award as the top major league pitcher.

In recognition of his selection as Male Athlete of the Year, Koufax will be presented The Associated Press Eagles Trophy at the Chicago Baseball Writers Dinner Jan. 12.

Another Dodger, speedster Maury Wills, won the trophy last year.

In the voting by sports writers and broadcasters in the AP poll, Koufax outdistanced two of the top quarterbacks of the 1963 football season, Y. A. Tittle of the pro New York Giants and Roger Staubach of Navy.

Sandy's name was first on 93 of 147 ballots. Tittle, who passed the Giants to the National Football League's Eastern Conference championship, received 22 first place votes. In point scoring on a 3-2-1 basis, Koufax was an easy winner with 341 points to Tittle's 170. Staubach was a distant third with 84 points.

Others in the top 10 in the voting were Jack Nicklaus, winner of the Masters and PGA golf championships, with 40 points; heavyweight boxing champion Sonny Liston, 27; pole vault record breaker John Pennell, 23; U.S. Open golf champion Julius Boros, 22; Milwaukee Braves pitcher Warren Spahn, 19, and golfer Arnold Palmer and Cleveland Browns fullback Jimmy Brown, 17 each.

Gillman Respects Boston Defense

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Coach Sid Gillman firmly believes his San Diego Chargers will run into "about as good a defense as there is in professional football" when they play the Boston Patriots for the American Football League championship Sunday.

"They talk about the defenses of the Chicago Bears and the Green Bay Packers and the New York Giants. But that Boston defense is about equal to any," Gillman said today.

The Chargers, nevertheless, are favored by about six points.

Gillman's estimate of Boston's defensive strength is not likely to be endorsed by acclamation in National Football Football League circles. But, so far as it pertains to the AFL, his finding is unassailable.

The Patriots ranked first in the league in total defense, allowing an average of 265.3 yards per game. They were first in rushing defense with an average of 79.1 yards allowed, and fourth in pass defense—only 6.2 yards behind the leader—with an average of 186.2 yards allowed.

The Chargers flattened the Patriots 50-17 in a pre-season game and barely beat them twice, 17-13 and 7-6, during the regular season. Gillman was asked to explain the high score of the pre-season game.

"They don't play much of a pattern in pre-season games," he said. "They play you about as simply as you could hope they would. But when the bell rings things change a little bit."

Gillman said trying to get a good running game going will not be San Diego's only problem Sunday. "We've got to run a little and we've got to be able to throw," he said. "And if any phase of our game suffers, we'll suffer."

Says Patriot Coach Mike Holovak: "They aren't going to run."

This will be the third title game for the Chargers. They lost one to Houston in 1960, when they were still in Los Angeles, and another to Houston in 1961.

The Patriots won their first Eastern Division title by defeating Buffalo in a playoff Dec. 28.

Report Bud Will Resign

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The Lincoln Star said Friday Bud Wilkinson will step down as football coach at the University of Oklahoma "within the next few days" and will be replaced by his assistant, Gomer Jones.

Wilkinson is reported weighing a decision on whether to remain at Oklahoma as athletic director or go into politics, the newspaper said.

There has long been speculation that Wilkinson, 48, might seek a Senate seat from Oklahoma.

Wilkinson is both athletic director and football coach at Oklahoma. Since 1947, he has 139 wins, 27 losses and four ties. During the season just ended the Sooners won eight and lost only to Texas and Nebraska.

Jones, 50, has been an assistant at Oklahoma since Feb. 1, 1947. He is a graduate of Ohio State and the author of two books on football strategy. He is associate athletic director to Wilkinson.

Lead Regained By Bowling Green Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Howard Komives hasn't had a thing to say about it, but in the space of two weeks the Bowling Green star has lost his major college basketball scoring lead and regained it.

Komives, a 6-foot-1 back court man, has scored 35.5 points per game, good enough to lead the point race through games of Dec. 28, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau said today.

NCAA Truce Is Due To Continue

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association heads into its 58th annual convention facing its biggest challenge ever and shackled by an agreed-to dictum that says "thou shalt not."

Affiliates of the mammoth, complex organization started their meetings today with the parent organization very much in evidence—unofficially — but standing by until the group starts its official convention next Monday.

The challenge and the dictum both involve the temporary truce with the Amateur Athletic Union over their struggle concerning the sanctioning and accreditation of amateur mets and athletes throughout the country.

The squabble threatened to wreck the United States' team for the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo until Gen. Douglas MacArthur, at the request of former President Kennedy, stepped in and forged an agreement between the warring parties to cease fire until after the Olympics.

Both groups agreed to abide by the agreement and the NCAA through Executive Director Walters Byers, says it will observe the truce in its convention.

"A number of organizations plan reports and we may have some action," Byers said, "but nothing to disturb the truce."

Aside from the in-fighting involving the AAU, the major developments were expected to concern reports and recommendations by the NCAA Council and the Football Rules Committee.

The Council, executive ruling body of the organization, is expected to consider and rule on a number of alleged violations of the recruiting code. It has the power, among other things, to suspend from membership a school found to be violating the code.

The Football Rules Committee has circulated a questionaire concerning the controversial substitution rule used this year for the first time. Results of the questionaire may be made public, but the Committee recommendation may be withheld for some time.

AFL Steps Up Drive To Lure Stars

By The Associated Press

The American Football League is starting to pull teeth for a share of this season's collegiate talent package.

Kansas City literally paid a dentist's bill Thursday to land a draft choice as AFL clubs made some headway in their uphill signature struggle with the rival National Football League.

The Chiefs shelled out $42,500 to Pittsburgh tackle Ernie Borghetti, a 1962 "future" selection, but the big lineman cost them more than the announced figure. Borghetti's two-year, no-cut contract also stipulated that the club would pay his three-year tuition at dental school.

The Oakland Raiders signed another 1962 "future," 270-pound tackle Rex Mirich of Arizona State College at Flagstaff, and the Houston Oilers bagged Alabama halfback Benny Nelson, their No. 5 pick in last year's draft and the No. 13 choice of the NFL Detroit Lions.

Fullback Mike Fracchia, another member of Alabama's Sugar Bowl champions, took the NFL road, agreeing to a St. Louis Cardinals' pact. Fracchia, who was hobbled with injuries the past two seasons after an outstanding sophomore showing, was another 1962 "future."

The NFL also collared Nebraska's Dave Theisen. The Cornhuskers' defensive specialist, whose pair of field goals provided his team's victory margin over Auburn in the Orange Bowl, signed with the Los Angeles Rams. Theisen was the Rams' 11th 1963 draft choice.

Giardello Bout Under Discussion

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Middleweight champion Joey Giardello's attorney and heavyweight champion Sonny Liston's adviser are discussing the possibility of matching Giardello in a nontitle semiwindup to the Liston-Cassius Clay title bout in Miami Feb. 25, it was learned today.

An unimpeachable source said Giardello's attorney, Mike Delcollo, met with Liston's adviser, Jack Nilon, Thursday in a preliminary discussion. No firm offer was made. Several opponents for Giardello were mentioned, including Florentino Fernandez.

Quarterback Duel Due In Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A possible repeat of the George Mira-Jack Concannon duel of Miami's North-South game was put in the hopper today. The two ace passers were named for the starting duties in the 15th annual Senior Bowl football game Saturday.

Concannon, of Boston College, passed and ran the North team to a 14-0 lead at Miami. But Mira took charge and passed the South to a 23-14 come-from-behind victory.

Mira, the University of Miami whiz the past three years, completed 27 of 42 passes for 336 yards, all records for the game. His passes were good for two touchdowns and he set up a third.

Concannon finished the game with 12 completions out of 25, good for 366 yards.

Backing up Concannon for North Coach George Wilson of the Detroit Lions in Saturday's game will be Dick Shiner of Maryland and Bill Munson of Utah State, both topnotch passers themselves.

South Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys tabbed Larry Rakestraw of Georgia, star of the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, and All America Billy Lothridge of Georgia Tech for quarterback duty in relief of Mira.

Lothridge also has been picked as a safety man on the defensive unit.

The South has won nine of the 14 Senior Bowl games and the North has taken five.

The game will be nationally televised with an area within 100 miles of Mobile blacked out. A near sellout is expected in 40,605 capacity Ladd Stadium. Kickoff is at 1 p.m., CST.

TOP CAGE CLOWN—Richard (Honey Bear) Morgan, is one of the top clowns performing for the Harlem Stars, who will meet the "City All-Stars" tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Tiger Gym. Honey Bear is acclaimed as the most colorful player ever to perform for University of New Mexico, where he was a college star. Boid Buie's Harlem aggregation is coming here under sponsorship of the Snyder High School Science Club. Admission prices will be $1.50 for adults, $1 for students over 12, and 50 cents for children 12 and under.

Future Ph. D. In Path Of Packers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The hard-running Green Bay Packers are drilling to cope with a budding doctor of philosophy's passes and the Cleveland Browns' offense.

The future PH. D. (in mathematics) is Frank Ryan, who hopes to complete work for the doctorate at Rice next summer. Ryan completed 135 forwards for 2,026 yards and threw 25 touchdown passes in the regular National Football League season.

The teams will meet Sunday in the Playoff Bowl playoff, traditional for the runners-up in each of the league's two divisions.

Kickoff time is 2 p.m. EST and the telecast of the game will be blacked outlocally. Promoters are hoping for a 50,000 crowd.

Mountaineer Cagers Off To Bad Start

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It never should have happened to West Virginia, especially with the Mountaineer basketball team helping the state celebrate its 100th birthday.

But it did, and West Virginia distinctly shows the effects. The effects, that is, of playing without a Rod Hundley, a Jerry West or a Rod Thorn.

This is the first season in 10 that the Mountaineers don't have one of those stars or one of similar ability. The results so far, a 6-6 record following the latest loss, a 65-57 upset at home by weak Furman Thursday night.

The start is West Virginia's worst since the 1953-54 season. Not too coincidentally, that was the season before Hundley started playing varsity basketball. West followed Hundley and himself was followed by Thurn, who graduated last year.

None of the nation's top 10 teams were scheduled on the light basketball night.

In other major games, Pitt trampled winless Dartmouth 107-63, St. Louis downed Tulsa 70-63, Bradley romped over North Texas State 100-78, Virginia Tech squeezed by Virginia 62-60, Richmond whipped Florida State 69-65 and Houston edged Air Force 64-63.

Johnson's Economy Efforts May Crimp Pentagon Plans

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson's announced peace drive and his ambition to clip a billion dollars from the next military budget could crimp some business plans as well as those of the Pentagon.

If the sum for military spending is trimmed in the fiscal year starting July 1, it would mark the first drop from a preceding year since 1955 — although 1960 outlays held about level with 1959.

Individual companies looking for military hardware orders thus could be more competitive than ever. And some communities housing defense plants or those of suppliers to the various defense industries could find unemployment a rising problem if first the economy drive and later the peace offensive cut demand for military hardware and closes defense installations.

At $51 billion, the proposed military spending would still be about half of the expected federal administrative budget for the next fiscal year. It has ranged from 59 per cent to 52 per cent in each year since the Korean War.

And at $51 billion the military spending would be about 8.5 per cent of Gross National Product, unless this measure of the nation's output of goods and services rises well above the current rate. The range since the Korean War has been 12 per cent in the 1953 fiscal year to 8.3 per cent in 1960. The GNP has risen each year, but almost always at a faster rate than the increase in military spending.

Since the end of World War II, spending under the defense budgets has totaled $600 billion.

If the economy trend catches on, and Congress approves, and if the aim of a peace offensive leads to less world tension, some now see a chance of military spending dropping to $45 billion by fiscal 1969.

Some businesses and some communities are bound to feel the effects. But at the same time there is evidence that savings in military outlays will furnish funds for more government spending in other lines, perhaps furnishing orders and employment for some civilian product makers or services.

New Pentagon thinking already has led to order cancellations to the dismay of companies and communities. It has led to new orders to the joy of rival companies and other communities.

The already risky business of defense production may get tougher with economy drives and any easing of world tensions.

Romney Not Yet Out Of Picture

By GENE SCHROEDER

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney, whose national image has had the ups and dows of a political roller-coaster, doesn't count himself out of the national picture.

But Romney is not referring to speculation that he might be the 1964 Republican presidential nominee. The governor has steadfastly maintained that he is not a candidate and will not become one.

"I'm concerned about the national picture," Romney said in an interview. "And properly so, because after all, what happens nationally has an important bearing on what happens to Michigan."

Romney, Michigan's first Republican governor in 14 years, has not announced whether he will run for re-election.

Best guess among most Lansing observers is that he will try for at least one more two-year term, despite his occasional expressions of distaste for politics. He is a former president of American Motors.

Romney's political stock soared last spring with adoption of the new State Constitution, which he helped to write as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

Romney lists its adoption as the No. 1 achievement of his year-old administration.

But his leadership image suffered a severe blow this fall when the Republican-dominated Legislature failed to adopt the fiscal reform program for the state, frequently beset by financial troubles although now enjoying a booming economy.

The governor's fisal program was keyed to a controversial state income tax on both individuals and corporations.

Romney said that despite the failure of the reform, legislature achievement under his regime has been high.

One of these, he said, is the reapportionment of Michigan's congressional seats. The state acquired a 19th congressman last year, but the seat has been filled on an at-large basis.

Plan To Fight Import Of Fuel Oil

By CHARLES HASLET
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new fight on imports of residual fuel oil is planned by the coal industry.

"We know . . . that as long as imports of residual fuel oil continue to increase, as they have during the past five years, coal will not be permitted to share fully in the growth market for industrial fuels on the east coast," Jopseh E. Moody, president of the National Coal Policy Conference, said in a year-end statement.

Sales of natural gas at "dump" prices are another 1964 problem for the coal industry, Moody said. He called such sales "unfair competition."

Only the government has the power and authority to correct these and other problems of the coal industry, Moody said.

Fuel oil imports, sales of "dump" gas and government subsidization of civilian nuclear power "remain real and pressing problems, as does the need to remove unfair regulatory restrictions on railroads in their commendable effort to improve even further the transportation of coal," his statement continued.

He said the industry was encouraged by support in Congress for bills to limit residual oil imports to 50 per cent of total consumption of such fuel east of the Rocky Mountains. The bills still are pending in Senate and House committees.

But Moody said such a restriction would not wipe out "the many unwarranted increases in oil imports which have been granted under the so - called mandatory control program."

Chimp Rushes To Trainer's Rescue

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—An angry 87-pound male chimpanzee broke open the gate of his cage at the Denver Zoo Thursday and headed for a group of spectators including women and children.

Trainer Clyde L. Smith, 51, wrestled with the ape and was bitten severely on the arm.

Then Christie, 5-year-old female cage-mate of the male chimp, rushed out the gate and leaped onto the other ape.

"She started chewing on his back end, and he had to turn away from me to get at her," said Smith.

Confused, the male chimp fled to a storage shed. An attendant killed him with a shotgun blast.

Smith said Christie probably wouldn't have helped anybody else.

He and his wife raised her in their home for three years before giving her to the zoo.

Join With Independents

NEW YORK (AP)—The executive board of a 10,000-member Local 1101 which pulled out of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America has voted unanimously to affiliate with the independent Teamsters Union.

The local represents plant workers of the New York Telephone Co. in part of the New York metropolitan area.

Members voted Monday night to withdraw from the communications union but left the future of the local in the hands of the executive board.

The board's decision was announced Thursday.

The announcement of the decision to affiliate with the Teamsters praised John J. O'Rourke, Teamsters Union leader in New York City who is reported at odds with Teamsters President James R. Hoffa. It made no mention of Hoffa.

New Cotton Legislation Is Planned

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson Administration is expected to broaden its cotton legislative recommendations to further reduce production as well as making the crop more competitively priced in domestic fiber markets.

An Agriculture Department spokesman outlined Thursday a proposed voluntary acreage diversion program, designed to cut cotton production this year and next below market needs to make room for the large surplus stocks.

Under this plan, growers would be paid $40 to $50 an acre on a national average basis for underplanting their cotton allotments. This is similar to an acreage diversion program now in use for reducing grain surpluses.

Under recommendations of the Kennedy administration, Congress started work last session on legislation to eliminate a price advantage foreign buyers of U. S. cotton have over domestic buyers. Foreign buyers get the benefit of an export subsidy.

The Johnson administration will continue to press for legislation to meet this price problem.

The department spokesman said, however, the greatest need is for legislation to control an excessive buildup in surplus cotton stocks.

The present cotton control program does not permit national planting allotments to be less than 16 million acres. This allotment has been producing too much. As a consequence, reserve and surplus supplies nearly double the reserves needed.

The proposed acreage diversion plan met immediate resistance. A spokesman said the American Farm Bureau Federation would oppose it, since it has constantly criticized the grain acreage diversion plan. It contends this solution to the surplus problem is ineffective and too costly.

Under the cotton diversion plan, farmers would idle at least 20 per cent of their allotments. They could not divert more than 50 per cent. Farmers with allotments of 15 acres or less—About 70 per cent of the cotton farms—could divert their entire allotment under the payment plan.

Payments on the diverted acres would be around 10.5 cents a pound on their normal yield of cotton. Funds would be obtained from sale of surplus government cotton. Officials figure the plan would cut this year's prospective crop of 13.8 million bales to 10.8 million. Surpluses would be sold to help fill demands.

Officials estimated such a program would cut costs of government cotton programs at least $200 million a year. This year's cotton program will cost about $728 million.

When the mother coyote produces a litter, usually seven, she ostracizes her mate but he brings food faithfully to the den. As the pups grow older, both parents spend all their time foraging for the family.

Mexico Visa Now Free

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico opened the new year by eliminating fees on certain tourist cards and visas, the U. S. Embassy announced here Friday.

Effective Jan. 1, the Mexican government began issuing 30-day tourist cards without charge to all bona fide tourists planning to visit Mexico.

U. S. authorities also now grant multiple entry visas good for one year—free to all bona fide Mexican tourists applying to visit the United States.

Both governments had charged nominal fees for tourist cards and visas.

The new arrangements are designed to reduce inconveniences to travellers, speed up processing of tourist applications, and increase tourist travel between the two countries.

In 1963, the U. S. Embassy in Mexico City alone issued over 80,000 tourist visas. Mexican tourist authorities estimate about 900,000 American tourists visited Mexico last year.

United States farmers use enough electricity annually to furnish all the power needed by Baltimore, Chicago, Boston, Detroit, Houston and Washington.

Mexican Navy Saves American Yacht

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican Navy rescued the American yacht Low Tide this week after it radioed for help when it went adrift in heavy seas, the Navy reported Thursday.

The Navy said the Florida-registered yacht was towed into Tampico and her crew was safe.

Heavy squalls battered the Mexican Gulf coast ports of Tampico and Progreso for two days this week, damaging several fishing vessels and drowning a sailor who was swept overboard from a pilot boat.
