A few parting shots on the general election:

Texas Senator Lloyd Bentsen undoubtedly expresses the sentiments of many Democrats, especially in the South when he plugs for a change in command for the party.

It would appear logical for the party to look around for new leadership in the wake of last Tuesday's crushing defeat. It is true that the defeat can be laid mostly to George McGovern personally, but that only makes a change in party leadership all the more desirable since Jean Westwood, the national chairman, was his personal choice for that position.

The name of Robert Strauss, who formerly served as the national treasurer, emerged in Bentsen's statement, and it is a logical one. Such Texans as Strauss, Bentsen and other non-extremists could well be prominent in the party machinery that picks up the fragments of the party that were scattered by McGovern and Co. And if John Connally decides to enter the picture, even more strength could be added.

The so-called "coat-tail" advantage that a lot of Republican candidates enjoyed also will be the subject of discussion for some time to come. The Dallas County Democratic Chairman complained that candidates there, especially for district offices, were handicapped because "they had the national ticket around their necks."

Ben Barnes, the deposed Texas hopeful for political fame, called attention to one factor that may be important from the standpoint of lesser candidates riding a Republican President's coat-tails into office. The four-year terms for state officials approved Tuesday by Texas voters means that this state will not elect another governor during a presidential election year. The governor's term beginning this coming January is for two years, and after that the terms will be for four years.

One of the interesting sidelights to the "sweating out" process while votes were being counted Tuesday night was noted by The Dallas News in an interview with Robert Johnson, who heads the Texas Election Bureau. The TEB has tabulated Texas votes for news media for half a century and has long been noted for its accuracy.

Therefore, it came as a surprise when Johnson revealed that at no time during the count Tuesday night did Dolph Briscoe trail in the governor's race. Those reports showing Henry Grover ahead for some three hours were "projections" which came out of a computer in New York. The Network Election Service, an organization of television networks, was gathering figures of its own from what it regarded as "key" precincts and feeding them, along with figures from the TEB, into the computer. Actually, they proved to be off the mark as many of the so-called key precincts were in Dallas and Houston where Grover made his strongest showing.

But it was the NES projections that were going to the networks of the electronic media and to the press wire services. The race was close all the way, but Briscoe led all the way on the actual count.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Sunday, Nov. 12, the 317th day of 1972. There are 49 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1941, during the second World War, Russian troops halted German invaders at the outskirts of Moscow.

On this date:

In 1812, Napoleon Bonaparte's army reached the Russian city of Smolensk in its retreat from Moscow.

In 1866, the founder of the Chinese Republic, Dr. Sun Yatsen, was born near Macao.

In 1927, Joseph Stalin became the dictator of the Soviet Union as Leon Trotsky was expelled from the Communist party.

In 1937, the Japanese captured and occupied the Chinese city of Shanghai.

In 1948, a war crimes tribunal in Japan sentenced former Japanese Premier Hideki Tojo and six other Japanese war leaders to death.

In In 1968, the United States warned South Vietnamese leaders that unless they agreed soon to take part in Paris peace talks, the talks might proceed without them.

Ten years ago: The island of Guam, in the Pacific, was devastated by a typhoon.

Five years ago: The freedom of information committee of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism society, said some high officials of the Johnson administration were deliberately misleading the public.

One year ago: U.S. Army helicopter gunships accidentally killed eight South Vietnamese northeast of Saigon.

Crew Names Spacecraft, 'America,' 'Challenger'

By PAUL RECER
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The spacecraft in the United States' last planned mission to the moon will bear the names "America" and "Challenger", the astronauts of Apollo 17 have announced.

Apollo 17 Commander Eugene Cernan said Friday the names were selected to pay tribute to "an impossible dream that became America."

Cernan said the name of the command ship will be America and the lunar module, which will land on the moon, will be called Challenger.

Flying with Cernan on Apollo 17, the last of the Apollo moon missions, will be Dr. Harrison H. Schmitt, who will land on the moon with Cernan, and Ronald Evans, who will remain aboard the command ship in lunar orbit.

In explaining the names, Cernan said, "We wanted those names to mean something. We wanted to pay tribute to the people who dedicated their lives toward making the space program what it is."

Challenger was selected for the lunar module said, Cernan, because "I think the thing that has made American what it is today is that we have never turned our back on challenge."

Cernan said that Apollo 17, though the last of the Apollos, is "the last flight of a very, very important beginning in all our lives, an important beginning in the history of this world. When you look at what's been done and you look into the future, I don't think that any of us can say that anything is impossible."

Apollo 17 is scheduled for launch from Cape Kennedy Dec. 6. It will go into lunar orbit Dec. 10 and about 12 hours later Cernan and Schmitt, aboard Challenger, will land in a flat area among rugged mountain peaks and wide craters.

Apollo 17 will splashdown in the Pacific Ocean south of Hawaii Dec. 19.

Military Aid To Cambodia

SAIGON (AP)--The United States has expanded its crash military aid program to include Cambodia as well as South Vietnam in efforts to build up its allies prior to an Indo-China cease-fire, it was learned today.

The aid program to Cambodia was in evidence this morning as 10 U.S. C141 Starlifter transports unloaded 20 propellor-driven Skyraider bombers at Phnom Penh airport. Their wings had been detached for transport. Transports also hauled in other supplies, including munitions.

The U.S. Military Command declined comment. But other high-level sources said that the United States is giving more aid to Cambodia than has been publicly acknowledged and accounted for.

"This is a deal to give Cambodia extra help," one source declared. "They've still got the Khmer Rouge and the North Vietnamese to fight."

"They want to get this additional aid to Phnom Penh before there is a settlement," said the source. "In other words, all of the assistance is being tied together prior to the signing of any agreement."

South Vietnam has received hundreds of new aircraft and other equipment in the past two weeks that sources say will boost Saigon's air force to more than 2,000 aircraft and make it the third largest in the world.

A draft peace agreement worked out in Paris last month between U.S. Presidential Adviser Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho stipulates that after the agreement is signed the United States can replace equipment for South Vietnam only on a one-to-one basis.

Walls Rites Are Set Here

Newt Walls, 80, died in his home Friday morning. Mr. Walls was born June 6, 1892, in Oklahoma and had been a resident of Scurry County since 1919. He was a retired farmer and carpenter.

Funeral services are set for 2 p.m. Sunday in Bell-Seale Chapel. Burial will follow in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Hatley Lewis of Snyder, Mrs. Mutt Flippen of Odessa, Mrs. Harold Williams of Andrews and Mrs. Buster Woolever of Salida Colo.; a son, Art Walls of Monahans; ten grandchildren and two-great-grandchildren.

NEARING GOAL—R.L. Sleeper, left, representing the Oil and Industry Division of the Scurry County United Way campaign, and Bill Gilliland, general campaign chairman, check figures which show the Oil and Industry Division the top unit in the drive with 96 per cent of its goal attained. Over-all, the United Way had 78 per cent of its goal accounted for in its Friday afternoon report session.

United Way Hits 78 Per Cent Mark

The Scurry County United Way campaign was knocking at the $30,00 mark at conclusion of a general report session Friday.

Contributions and pledges totalling $29,731.20 were tabulated. This represents 78 per cent of the campaign goal of $38,000.

The Friday session was the last general report meeting scheduled and campaign leaders now will survey the situation and make arrangements to try to complete any unfinished assignments.

Several divisions in the campaign are within striking distance of their respective goals. Topping the field is the Oil and Industry Division, which had accounted for $5,481.95, or 96 per cent of its goal.

The complete results after the Friday session were as follows:

Advance Gifts Division, $5,141, or 80 per cent of its goal; Special Division, $815, or 42.9 per cent; Professional Division, $912, or 48 per cent; Utilities Division, $2,881.60, or 84 per cent; Rural Division, $1,164.30, or 61 per cent; Educational Division, $3,574.25, pr 86 per cent; Public Employe Division Division, $1,160.45 or 61 per cent; Commercial Division, $6,593.50, or 75 per cent; Oil and Industry Division, $5,481.95, or 96 per cent; Branch House Division, $1,395, or 73 per cent.

US Planes Step Up Attacks In North Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes stepped up their strikes against targets in North Vietnam, the U.S. Command said today. It also disclosed the loss of three U.S. aircraft over the North in the last 24 hours, with one pilot missing and two others rescued uninjured.

The Command said the warplanes flew more than 200 tactical strikes over North Vietnam in the past 24 hours. There were 180 strikes in the previous 24 hours, which was a doubling of the average number of raids since President Nixon put much of North Vietnam off limits Oct. 22.

The latest strikes destroyed or damaged 19 trucks, two warehouses, a fuel depot and several other storage areas and caused fires and explosions, the command said. The bombing is intended to slow up the movement of enemy supplies south in anticipation of a cease-fire, officers said.

All of the latest raids were below the 20th Parallel, which is roughly 75 miles south of Hanoi and 210 miles North of the demilitarized zone. Nixon put the area north of the parallel off limits to U.S. warplanes as a goodwill gesture during peace negotiations.

There were also U.S. bombing strikes in South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, also aimed at slowing the movement of supplies. About 30 strikes were flown along the DMZ, the command added.

It was the first time in a month three U.S. planes have been lost in 24 hours, the Command said. The three losses raised to 122 the number of American aircraft reported by the Command as lost over North Vietnam since April 6. It said 130 airmen have been killed or captured during the raids.

On Friday, Communist gunners shot down a big South Vietnamese helicopter just moments after it took off from a base on the central coast. Field reports said 27 government soldiers were killed and 10 injured.

The twin-rotor CH47 Chinook was hit by antiaircraft fire 43 miles northwest of Qui Nhon as it was ferrying infantrymen to a landing zone for a sweep operation.

It was the second Chinook shot down with heavy casualties in less than two weeks. Enemy gunners hit one 40 miles southwest of Saigon Oct. 31 and at least 17 Americans were killed.

To the north, South Vietnamese paratroopers trying to grab territory in anticipation of a cease-fire reoccupied Fire Base Ann 8 miles southwest of Quang Tri City, and encountered no resistance, the Saigon command said. The base fell April 4 in the early stages of the North Vietnamese invasion across the demilitarized zone.

The Saigon command reported 84 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks in South Vietnam during the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. today, nearly all of them by rockets and mortars.

No big ground battles were reported and Communist attacks continued a pattern of harassement and cutting of highways.

Haig And Thieu Confer Again

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., President Nixon's special envoy, conferred for more than three hours today with President Nguyen Van Thieu in an extraordinary lengthy meeting on a proposed Indochina peace package.

There was no official word on whether their conference, the second in two days, had brought the Indochina war any closer to a settlement. The two had met for two hours Friday.

A spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said Haig was spending the night at the villa of U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker. He refused to disclose Haig's schedule beyond that and said he did not know whether the envoy would see Thieu again before leaving Saigon. A White House announcement earlier this week had said that Haig would return to Washington on Sunday.

A senior South Vietnamese official confirmed that Haig carried a personal letter from Nixon to Thieu, and reported it reaffirmed the U.S. commitment to military and economic support of Saigon and said the United States would impose neither a coalition government nor a political solution on South Vietnam.

The official said the letter told Thieu the Nixon administration fully understands that the National Council of Reconciliation and Concord, which is proposed in the draft cease-fire agreement, would be only an "administrative structure" and not a coalition government.

Dispute over the meaning of the draft agreement's language on this point has been a major obstacle in the negotiations so far, with Thieu contending that it would allow the Communist side to impose a coalition on the Saigon government.

But North Vietnamese peace negotiator Xuan Thuy told Agence France Presse in Paris Friday there was nothing to be changed in the draft agreement's provision for a post-cease-fire "administrative structure" composed of representatives of the Saigon government, the Viet Cong and neutralists.

Thuy said the proposed council "will not be a government."

Meanwhile, the official Saigon Radio acknowledged publicly for the first time there has been a disagreement between South Vietnam and the United States over the nine-point draft cease-fire proposal worked out in secret talks last month between U.S. Presidential Adviser Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho.

"General Haig's presence here," Saigon Radio declared, "would indicate that more than ever the United States would have to pay heed to the viewpoint of the government of Vietnam that South Vietnam must be regarded as a separate state in the Indochinese peninsula and any acceptable compromise must respect three basic principles.

Barnes Rites At Hermleigh

Mrs. Ida N. Barnes, 87, of Hermleigh died at 11 p.m. Friday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Funeral service has been set for 2 p.m. Sunday at the Central Baptist Church in Hermleigh, with the Rev. Fred Boatman officiating. Burial will be in the Pyron Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

A native of Coryell County, Mrs. Barnes had been a resident of Scurry County for the past 72 years.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Frank Roemisch and Mrs. Edgar Wemken, both of Hermleigh, and Mrs. Buford Patterson of Sweetwater; a sister, Mrs. Tommy Murdock of Odessa; a brother, Charlie Voss of Odessa; 12 grandchildren, 23 great-grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren.

Candidates Line Up For Leadership Race

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The race is on among Senate Republicans and House Democrats lining up as candidates to fill three vacant leadership positions.

The defeat of Sens. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and Gordon Allott of Colorado in Tuesday's election removed the chairmen of two key GOP organizations and contests are expected in the choice of replacements.

The House also will have a leadership fight in filling the vacancy left by the disappearance of Majority Leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana whose airplane vanished in Alaska almost a month ago.

And there will be seven new committee chairmen in the House due to election defeats and retirements.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett of Utah said Friday he would like to replace Mrs. Smith as head of the Senate Republican Conference, the organization of all Senate Republicans.

Bennett, a conservative, is expected to have opposition from party liberals.

Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois and Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, both big re-election winners, are regarded as the most likely candidates for either the conference post or the chairmanship of the Republican Policy Committee vacated by Allott.

Another possible contender is Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, also a conservative.

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the GOP leader, was not up for re-election, but could find himself challenged when the Republicans choose their officers for the 93rd Congress. He barely edged out Sen. Howard H. Baker of Tennessee two years ago, and Baker, another big winner Tuesday, says he will say something about his plans in a few days.

The House race for majority leader has drawn only two candidates so far—Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., the party whip, and Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., who has no leadership post but is trying to break into the lineup.

One of the biggest changes in the House leadership lineup will take place peacefully, however. That will be the replacement of Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., as chairman of the Rules Committee, by Rep. Ray Madden, D-Ind.

Colmer, a conservative, retired from Congress and the liberal Madden succeeds him under the seniority system.

It has been 20 years since top House Democratic leaders have had a Rules Committee chairman friendly to them. Colmer took over six years ago from Howard W. Smith of Virginia, who was the leader of the southern Democrats.

The Southerners' hold on the Rules Committee, which must clear all legislation for the House floor, led to the bottling up of bills they didn't like and forced Democratic leaders to grant concessions to the conservatives in order to get action on the leadership program.

Court Upholds NTSU Right

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The right of North Texas State University to fire a teacher accused of using profane and obscene language against the school's administration has been upheld here by a federal appeals court.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals overturned a lower court ruling which had stopped the school from denying employment to Elizabeth Duke.

The lower court said the woman couldn't be fired because the school didn't give her an impartial hearing before a review board.

The 5th Circuit said administrative hearing bodies such as the president's cabinet could not be disqualified "from hearing internal university matters solely for the reason that the members are employes of the board and because some of them participated in the initial investigation of the incident and initiation of the cause under consideration."

In the absence of evidence to the contrary, the court said, it must be concluded that Mrs. Duke received a fair hearing from the president's cabinet and, on appeal, from the university board of regents.

Applying a U.S. Supreme Court ruling in a similar case, the appeals court said:

"The college had no right to control her speech or to curtail her freedom of association, but they did have a right to terminate her employment as a classroom instructor at the point where the exercise of her constitutional privileges clearly over-balanced her usefulness as an instructor."

The opinion concluded: "As a past and prospective instructor, Mrs. Duke owed the university a minimal duty of loyalty and civility to refrain from extremely disrespectful and grossly offensive remarks aimed at the administrators of the university. By her breach of this duty, the interests of the university outweighed her claim for protection."

Mrs. Duke acknowledged addressing an unauthorized meeting of incoming students at an unauthorized rock concert on campus during an orientation period.

J. H. Wilburn Dies At Tulsa

Word has been received here of the death of Jasper H. Wilburn, 77, a former Scurry County resident.

Mr. Wilburn, who lived at 4705 Blundell Dr., Corpus Christi, died on Nov. 1 in Tulsa Okla.

Funeral services were held on Nov. 3 and burial was in Seaside Memorial Park.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. L.D. Richardson of Okmulgee, Okla., and Mrs. T.M. Jarvis Jr. of Corpus Christi; a son, Dale E. Wilburn of Corpus Christi: four sisters, Mrs. A.H. Jackson of Colorado City, Mrs. Berniece Bingham of New Braunfels, Mrs. Monty Simpson of Irving and Mrs. Dewey Lacy of Nederland; a brother, Jim Wilburn of Houston; six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

ABA Disputes Agnew's Claim

CHICAGO (AP) — A ranking member of the American Bar Association says there are few facts to support Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's criticism of a federal program providing free lawyers for poor people.

William R. Klaus, chairman of the ABA's Committee on Legal Aid and Indigent Defendants, said that the issues Agnew raised must not be stated in "current political phraseology" and accused the vice president of attacking the program "in the broadest of generalities with almost no supporting evidence." Agnew's "emphasis on minor imperfections in the program is really an attempt to discredit the whole," Klaus added.

Agnew wrote in the September issue of the ABA Journal the Legal Services Program of the Office of Economic Opportunity has become a vehicle for politically motivated attorneys wishing to impose on the public their own ideas of how society should be structured.

He cited instances where the program has become involved in issues such as draft counseling, prison inmates' rights, antiwar protests and free-speech movements.

"The list of causes is endless," Agnew wrote. "But the important thing to note is that they have little or nothing to do with poverty and the problems peculiar to the poor.

"And equally important, while most programs now turn away individual poor clients with routine legal problems, many nevertheless find time to engage in practically every cause celebre that comes along."

Answering Agnew's charges in the November issue of the journal, Klaus said "facts do not exist" to support Agnew's claims.

"There is no support for the innuendo that the program has typically served middle-class dropouts in esoteric legal matters while a 'destitute mother of five can't get legal help with an eviction notice," Klaus said.

Lt. Massingill Is Honored

SEOUL, Korea—First Lt. Gary L. Massingill, USAF, of Austin was one of 28 U.S. Forces, Korea, servicemen honored recently by the Republic of Korea (ROK) Ministry of Defense (MND).

The men were selected from all component services from commands throughout Korea for their outstanding performance of duties. The ROK MND hosted the men to a two-day stay in Seoul as part of the annual ROK Armed Forces Day observance. Their activities included viewing the Korean Armed Forces Day ceremony, tours of Chang-dock Palace and the ROK National Cemetery, and evening of entertainments at a Seoul resort area and a reception by the ROK vice minister of National Defense.

Lt. Massingill is a vehicle maintenance officer with the 51st Transportation Squadron at Osan Air Base, Korea. He entered the Air Force in December, 1969, and was last stationed at Bergstrom AFB. A 1964 graduate of Snyder High School, he received his bachelor of science degree from West Texas State University in 1969. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Massingill, live on Route 2, Snyder and his wife, Gayle, lives at 4402B Shallowbrook, Austin.

Library Is Qualified For System

Scurry County Library is one of 12 libraries in the 31-county area that surrounds Abilene that have qualified for membership in the Abilene Major Resource System organized under provisions of the Texas Library Systems Act. Administered by the Texas State Library, the Systems Act gives public libraries that meet certain standards of local support the right to join a system for carrying out cooperative programs of various kinds.

Abilene Public Library serves as the Major Resource Center for the system. Serving as area libraries are Ballinger Carnegie Public Library, Reagan County Library, F.M. Buck Richards Memorial Library, Mrs. J.A.B. Miller Public Library, Mitchell County Public Library, Comanche Public Library, Scurry County Library, Sweetwater County-City Library, and Stamford Carnegie Library.

Under the Statewide Plan for Library Development, Texas has been divided into 10 areas. The largest library in each serves as the Major Resource Center. Other libraries serving more than 25,000 persons and meeting other qualifications are area libraries. Smaller libraries are designated community libraries.

Guns Linked Family

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Guns used by a nomadic family of laborers in a supermarket holdup and police shooting last June set in motion an investigation that has linked the family to a cross-country robbery-murder spree, authorities say.

Sherman McCrary, 47; his wife Carolyn, 45; their son Danny, 19; their daughter Ginger McCrary Taylor, 22, and her husband Carl Raymond Taylor, 38, were questioned Friday by state and federal officials about at least 11 slayings in six states, police said.

The elder McCrary is in Folsom Prison and Taylor is in San Quentin. They are serving terms of five years to life for the market robbery and shooting.

Other members of the clan are serving nine-month sentences in the Santa Barbara County Jail for harboring fugitives.

AIME To Hear Wall

"The Future Belongs To Those Who Prepare For It" will be the topic of Philip T. Wall, Manager of Sun Oil Company's Newhall, Calif. Production District, as he speaks to the members of A.I.M.E. Tuesday night at the Snyder Country Club.

Wall, a 16-year employe of Sun, has a B.S. degree in petroleum

Joining Sun in 1956 as a petroleum engineer, Wall was a trainee at Fremont. He later became petroleum engineer and the area petroleum engineer in the Robert Lee area, West Texas. In 1969 he was appointed district petroleum engineer in the Colorado City district where he was named district engineer in 1970.

In July of 1971 he was named to his present position in which he is responsible for all of the company's onshore drilling, producing and gas plant operations in California.

Wall and his wife, the former Johnnie Hazelwood of Dallas, have two daughters and a son.

The A.I.M.E. meeting will begin with a social from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. at which time dinner will be served. The public is invited.

In a business meeting the members will discuss the A.I.M.E. Video-Tape Program.

Snyderite Gets Scholarship

ABILENE—Janice Shelburne, freshman from Snyder, is among students qualifying for achievement scholarships awarded by Hardin-Simmons University.

Achievement scholarships averaging $150 per semester for eight semesters are offered to students graduating from accredited high schools who are in the upper 10 per cent of their classes and have American College Testing composite scores of 27 or above. Or, they may have total scores of at least 1350 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Students must maintain a cumultive grade point average of 3.5 to remain eligible for the scholarship.

Says Voters Nixed 'Cultural Revolution'

By GREGG HERRINGTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans viewed the presidential election as a referendum on the so-called "cultural revolution" and voted emphatically against it, says voting analyst and author Ben. J. Wattenberg.

"When the perception came across that George McGovern was the candidate of the militant women's libbers, the militant gay libbers, the stop-bombing-the-dikes people, the lettuce boycott, the pro-schoolbusers and pro-welfare-rights groups, he got tarred with a heavy brush and there was no way to get the tar off," Wattenberg said in an interview.

The author was one of scores of political observers probing Tuesday's election returns for the reasons behind President Nixon's landslide victory over the Democratic nominee.

Pollster Louis Harris attributed the Nixon sweep to McGovern's suggestion of a $1,000-per-person welfare reform plan and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey's criticism of it during the California presidential primary.

Turning to the Democratic party's future, Wattenberg predicted:

"The fight in the party for the next four years is going to be whether we can put together a party leadership and an image that the Southerners and the ethnics and the middle-of-the-roaders can look at and say, 'well, by God, I am a Democrat after all.'"

Those blocs, he said, will bolt the party permanently if it "is preceived of as going over to the left wing."

If Democrats in 1976 are to regain the voters who comprised the party's center, Wattenberg maintained, they must shift away from the leftist image.

McGovern tried but failed to rid himself of the "radical" label, but perhaps no candidate could have done so, suggested Wattenberg, co-author of "The Real Majority" and other books on election and census analysis.

"You could have run superman coming out of that Democratic convention in Miami with that coalition of 'new politics' behind him and you wouldn't have won," he said.

"When the American people saw the convention in living color on television, what they said, I think, was 'here are all the things I've detested that have gone on in this country for the last five years and here's this guy McGovern apparently shilling for them and representing them and I wouldn't vote for him even if I found out the President was bugging telephones.

"And they did find that out and they still didn't vote for McGovern."

Borden Soldier Ends Training

FORT POLK, La.—Army Private Darrell W. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Taylor of Gail, recently completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center, Infantry, Fort Polk.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

The 19-year-old soldier is a 1970 graduate of Borden County High School.

LETTER TO EDITOR

To The Daily News:

I need to apologize, or stick my head in the sand, for being dumb and sticking my neck out again.

I am thankful that vote on County Development Board carried. I had not taken time to find out WHY we needed such a board, that of course had to be paid by taxes, until I had spent money advertising against it.

Of course, I realize that ball work on public functions is piled on a few people, just as donations come from the same ones always.

When Texas Tech was to be built, Snyder had an opportunity to get it. My father and brother each pledged a good sum for that; but there were not enough interested poeple who did, so Lubbock got it.

Debbie Banks, Billy Blevins Recite Wedding Vows

Debbie Raye Banks and Billy Nathaniel Blevins exchanged double ring wedding vows at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 28 at the First Assembly of God Church with the Rev. Jasper Conner, pastor of the church officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E.F. Banks of 4000 Ave. U and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kenny of North Ave. U.

The altar of the church was centered by a brass arched candelabra holding 15 white burning tapers. Matching candleabras with 14 tapers and garlands of boxwood complemented the main arch and matching baskets of white gladiolas completed the church decorations.

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, wore a gown of bridal satin which featured an empire waist, lace panels and small seed pearls in the front. A satin train attached at the the waistline. The high neck and long fitted sleeves of the gown were enhanced by lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of cascade design with a lavender cottelya orchid complemented by purple statice, white and pink feathered carnations, English ivy and satin streamers.

For something old and borrowed, the bride wore a pair of diamond earrings belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Zane Johnson. A blue garter and pennies minted in the birth years of the couple completed the tradition.

Shirley Waters of Snyder served as matron of honor and bridesmaid was Jamie Doan of Snyder. Tammy and Tonja Banks, nieces of the bride, served as junior bridesmaids.

The attendants wore long gowns of purple satin with puffed sleeves fashioned after that of the bride. Their heads were covered by veils of purple satin illusion and they carried nosegays of happiness pink carnations with purple streamers.

Lennie LaRoux of Fort Worth, niece of the bride, and Debroah Kenny of Snyder, sister of the groom, served as flower girls. They wore long purple dresses fashioned like the bridesmaids and carried baskets of pink carnations with pink satin streamers. Candle lighters were Tracy Banks of Snyder and Darena Strovel of Rosenburg, nieces of the bride. They wore long pink satin dresses and wristlets of pink carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Banks wore a long blue crepe gown featuring long sleeves with sequin trim. The groom's mother chose a long orchid dress and both mothers wore white cymdium orchids.

James Waters of Snyder served as best man while Garland Vaughn of Snyder was groomsman. Junior groomsmen were Ricky Balderma of Snyder and Chuck West of Amarillo, cousin of the bride. Ushers were Jimmy Banks, brother of the bride, David Stroe of Rosenburg, brother-in-law of the bride, and Ray LaRoux of Fort Worth, brother-in-law of the birde.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Cheri Hollis, pianist, and Mrs. Judy Conner, soloist, who sang, "More."

The reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered by a white linen cloth and centered by pink carnations and purple statice. The three-tiered wedding cake was trimmed with small pink and purple flowers.

Presiding at the table were Mrs. Zane Johnson of Snyder, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Patsy Stroud of Rosenburg and Mrs. Sharon LaRoux of Fort Worth, sisters of the bride.

The groom's table was covered by a beautiful cutwork cloth made by the groom's mother. A chocolate cake was centered by silver candle holders holding purple tapers and a silver coffee service. Mrs. Betty Banks, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the table.

Miss Kathy Gaines of Fort Worth registered guests.

All house party members wore long gowns of pink crepe and corsages of white carnations.

For a short wedding trip to Abilene, the bride chose a blue knit skirt topped by a long sleeved blouse.

Mrs. Blevins is a student at Snyder High School. Her husband attended Snyder High School and was in the Army for a short time. They reside at 510 North Ave. T in Snyder where Blevins is employed by Bill Atwood Construction.

Out-of-town guests were from Big Spring, Electra, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Rosenburg and Fort Worth.

TOPS Club Discusses New Contest

TOPS Club 56 met Tuesday night at Stanfield Elementary for its regular meeting with Ruth Hardy, leader, presiding. There was good attendance at the meeting and a good weight loss was recorded.

A large Christmas basket was filled with gifts for the patients at the Big Spring State Hospital.

It was voted on to prepare a box for a needy family for Thanksgiving.

A new contest which will begin with the next meeting and continue until the Christmas party was discussed. A very decorative red fireplace was made and each member is to hang a red sock with their name on it on the fireplace. If the person gains, their sock will be removed. The one losing the most weight will get a prize at the end of the contest.

Governor Wants To Retain Tolls

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Wendell Ford hopes to retain the tolls on the 40-mile Kentucky Turnpike from Elizabethtown to Louisville and use the proceeds to improve the highway.

Ordinarily the road would be toll-free in 1974 when the last bonds are paid. Congressional approval is needed to continue tolls.

ON THE HOUSE

The varieties of plywood are almost endless, but none is a synthetic product, as some persons are inclined to think.

Webster puts it this way:

"A structural material consisting of wood glued or cemented together with the grains of adjacent layers arranged at right angles or at a wide angle."

The key word there is "wood." But it would take several pages of any dictionary to delve into the many types, classes and grades of plywood. The most common kind of plywood is Douglas fir, which is what you get when you walk into a lumber yard and buy a piece of 4 by 8 plywood without giving any specifications. It is strong, has a wide range of applications and is the least expensive.

When you want plywood for a special purpose, tell the dealer what that purpose is. This is especially important if you intend to use the plywood outdoors where it will be continually exposed to the elements. In that case, you will need exterior plywood, which has completely waterproof glue between the veneers. Interior plywood is highly moisture resistant but the bond is not 100 per cent waterproof. Also, the veneers used in the inner plys may be of lower grade than those in the exterior type. But interior plywood may be used anywhere it will not be subject to continuing moisture conditions or extreme humidity.

Sheets of plywood have all kinds of markings on them. Here is what a few of them mean:

A-A—For applications where both sides of the plywood will be on view.

A-B—For applications similar to A-A but where the appearance of one side is less important yet two smooth solid surfaces are necessary.

A-C or A-D—Where the appearance of only one side is important.

B-B Has solid surfaces but generally used where the plywood will be painted rather than given a clear finish.

B-C or B-D—For use as utility panels.

Plywood comes in both softwood and hardwood, the softwood—pine, Douglas fir, spruce, poplar, etc.—being the big seller. Hardwood-faced plywood is more expensive generally, but is distinguished for the beauty of its grain and color. It has four common grades, 1 to 4, the lower the number the higher the over-all appearance and quality.

Many plywood sheets have various kinds of special finishes, including hardboard surfaces, striations, grooves and plastic coats. It is safe to say that there is a plywood for every possible use.

(Patching plaster and concrete, eliminating sweating windows and walls, fixing squeaky floors and stairs are among the 35 subjects in Andy Lang's helpful handbook, "Practical Home Repairs," available by sending $1 to this newspaper in care of Box 5, Teaneck, N.J. 07666.)

Quotable Women

By AP NEWSFEATURES

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"All my best wishes are with Sen. McGovern and Sargent Shriver." Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis as she voted in Manhattan.

"I'm voting for America; I'm voting for my father." Tricia Nixon Cox as she voted in Westhampton Beach, N.Y.

"I would really prefer to live on this side of the Atlantic." Ballerina Natalia Najarova, who defected from Russia two years ago and now says she'll stay in Europe rather than the United States.

"I am grateful to God, my family and my doctors for the successful outcome of this operation, because I have much more to accomplish before I am through." Shirley Temple Black after undergoing surgery for removal of a cancerous breast.

"All I heard was a lot of crashing, a lot of screaming. It's just a miracle we're both alive." Mary Donal after she and her husband were rescued from the Brunswick River after the collapse of the Sidney Lanier Bridge near Brunswick, Ga.

PRACTICE WRAPPING—These three girls are polishing up their gift wrapping techniques which they, and other Senior Girl Scouts, will be doing during the Christmas season this year. Pictured above are Diane Chastain, Jo Ann Hudson and Debra Biddle.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q.—Someone asked you recently how to hold down ground moisture in a crawl space under his house. You suggested laying down heavy roll roofing, overlapping the edges and cementing them together. I would like to suggest a better and easier method that I have used. After overlapping the edges of the roofing sheets, I held them down with ordinary sand. I did this more than a year ago and the roll roofing is still securely in place. I think it is a lot easier to place the sand on the overlaps than it is to use cement in a cramped area.

A.—Thanks for the owners of homes with crawl spaces.

Q.—I won a loving cup in a bridge tournament some years ago and left it on a shelf in our finished basement. It is now covered with a dark color. I don't know what the cup is made of but believe it may be sterling silver. I'd like to get the stain off but don't want to risk anything that might ruin the finish. Can you advise me?

A.—There are several products on the market for removing tarnish from sterling silver. Follow the directions on the label and the silver will not be damaged. You may find that several applications are necessary.

Q.—We soon will be having a new roof put on our house. The roofer says that a white roof will keep the house cooler. Is this true?

A.—Yes. Studies show that almost any roof which is painted white will reduce interior temperatures by as much as 20 degrees. It's the reason why most houses in tropical areas have white roofs.

Q.—I know that drapes in a room help to absorb sound. I saw some carpeting material the other day that was suggested for use as wall material. Will this have this same effect as drapes?

A.—Yes. Wall carpetings used in some motels and offices have proved to be good sound barriers.

Q.—How far away from a house should a dry well be?

A.—Dry wells generally should be installed at least 10 feet away from foundation walls, although there are special situations —where drainage is extra good—where 6 or 8 feet may be sufficient.

Q.—Is there a special way to apply enamel to make a smooth finish?

A.—Enamel should be flowed on from a full brush, parallel to the grain, with a minimum of stroking. After the initial lap, immediately cross stroke a less fully loaded brush, following this, go over the surface with the tip of a nearly dry brush, this time following the grain.

Unique Wine Is Expensive

HOUSTON (AP) — Jan Pruitt, a Houston housewife, wanted something unique as a Christmas surprise for her lawyer husband, Ronald.

She bought him a bottle of wine.

Unique?

Well, it cost her $9,600.

Mrs. Pruitt was the high bidder at a wine auction at a downtown department store. The bottle she bought is indeed a rare wine—Chateau Mouton Rothschild 1925.

Only eight jeroboams of it were vinted. Six of these jugs—each four-fifths of a gallon—have disappeared. The seventh was auctioned recently in New York for $9,200.

Mrs. Pruitt said she knew very little about wine.

But she said her husband, who is putting in a wine cellar at their home, has given her so many nice things.

"He's such a unique man," she said. "He's the one man who ought to have this wine."

VANILLA COCONUT BARS

An exceptionally good cookie.

1 1-3rd cups unsifted flour
1¾ cups firmly packed light brown sugar
¾ cup butter
3 eggs
¾ teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
2 cans (each 3½ ounces) flaked coconut
1 cup chopped (medium fine) walnuts

Remove 2 tablespoons of the flour and set aside. In a large mixing bowl stir together the remaining flour and ¾ cup of the sugar. With a pastry blender cut in butter until particles are fine; keep mixing with pastry blender or your fingers until mixture holds together. Pat evenly into a greased pan (13 by 9 by 2 inches). Bake in a preheated 350-degree over for 20 minutes. In the same mixing bowl lightly beat together the eggs, salt and vanilla. On wax paper stir together the reserved 2 tablespoons flour and remaining 1 cup sugar; stir in coconut and walnuts; add to egg mixture; stir together. Gently spread over baked layer. Return to 350-degree oven and bake until topping is firm—30 minutes longer. Place pan on wire rack to cool. Cut into about 3 by 1 inch bars (makes 36). Store in a tightly covered tin box with plastic wrap or wax paper between layers.

Book Tells Of J. Beckwourth

JIM BECKWOURTH. By Elinor Wilson. University of Oklahoma Press, Norman. $8.95.

Jim Beckwourth—the name often is spelled Beckwith—was one of the strangest persons ever to prowl the West in the early days.

He was explorer, a war chief of the Crows, trader, mountain man, guide, scout and trader.

Beckwourth, however, made the biggest name for himself as a liar.

He had that reputation long before he dictated a book. It appears that his lies were a part of storytelling around the campfire, and since this often was the only recreation in the West, his big yarns can be called more those of the artist than anything else.

For no one accused him of dishonesty in dealing with his fellow men or of failing to tell the truth when it mattered.

Strangely, he was accepted without discrimination at a time when outspoken racism was the rule.

He was the son of Sir Jennings Beckwith and a slave girl about whom nothing is known. He was born about 1800 in Frederick County, Va.

Sir Jennings moved his family and slaves to the wilderness of St. Louis in 1810 and not long thereafter he three times recorded deeds of emancipation for his son.

Elinor Wilson is a professional writer.—The AP (REF).

Miss Stuard, McDonald Say Vows At Stanton

Before an altar adorned with an arch with sunbursts of jade greenery topped by a pair of white doves, Mary Carol Stuard became the bride of James William McDonald. The double ring ceremony, which was at 7 p.m. Nov. 11 at the First Methodist Church of Stanton, was performed by the Rev. Johnnie Kahl of Alpine.

Other church decorations included a pair of candelabras with white tapers and jade greenery entwined with pink gladiolas.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John O. Stuard of Stanton and Mr. and Mrs. William E. McDonald of Mathis.

Giveninmarriagebyherfather, the bride chose a formal-length whitesatin gown fashioned empire style with lace sleeves gathered at the cuffs. The gown featured a high-tiered neckline. A wide satin belt formed a bow at the back which extended to the floor. Appliqued lace enhanced the bodice and the A-line skirt. The bride carried a cascade of white catalaya orchids accented with stephanotis.

Mrs. David Foster of Freer, sister of the of the groom, served as matron of honor and Mrs. Monte Allison of Midland was bridesmatron with Miss Vickie Hardgrave of Sonora serving as bridesmaid. All were attired in shocking pink velvet floor-length gowns featuring bell sleeves. The gowns were empire style with scooped necklines. The attendants carrie nosegays of light pink and shocking pink feathered carnaathered carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Kenneth McDonald of Mathis. Groomsmen were Jerry and Ricky Bomer and ushers were Jerry Don Stuard, John Luedecke, Ray Brown and Gary Jostes. Johnny Ray and Damon Dale Stuard served as ring bearers.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Roy Pickett, organist; Mrs. David Dunn, pianist; and Mrs. Wayne Woody, soloist.

The wedding reception was held at the Cap Rock Auditorium. The house party included Mrs. Bernadine Pecheck and Jerri Goettle, Regina Trainer and Teresa Welborn.

Following a three-day wedding to Carlsbad, N.M., the couple will return to Sul Ross where McDonald attends school.

Mrs. McDonald, a graduate of Sul Ross with a B.S. Degree in elementary education, was president of Texas State Teachers Association at Garden City Independent Schools. Her husband was a member of Young Farmers of Mathis and president of Range Management at Sul Ross. He will graduate from Sul Ross in May with a B.S. Degree in agriculture.

Buck Schiwetz, a Texas native, has been painting for 50 years, sometimes on advertising assignments but more often for his own enjoyment.

He has said he wishes to leave a story of Texas as it is, hence the "legacy" in the title.

Certainly he has captured a large part of it in this new book of 48 black and white and 48 color drawings and paintings.

They are 10½ by 6½ inches, large enough for the detail to be seen. Detail is not considered the function of the artist in these times, but it is very suitable for this collection. Schiwetz did have a fling at abstract art but apparently has abandoned this approach.

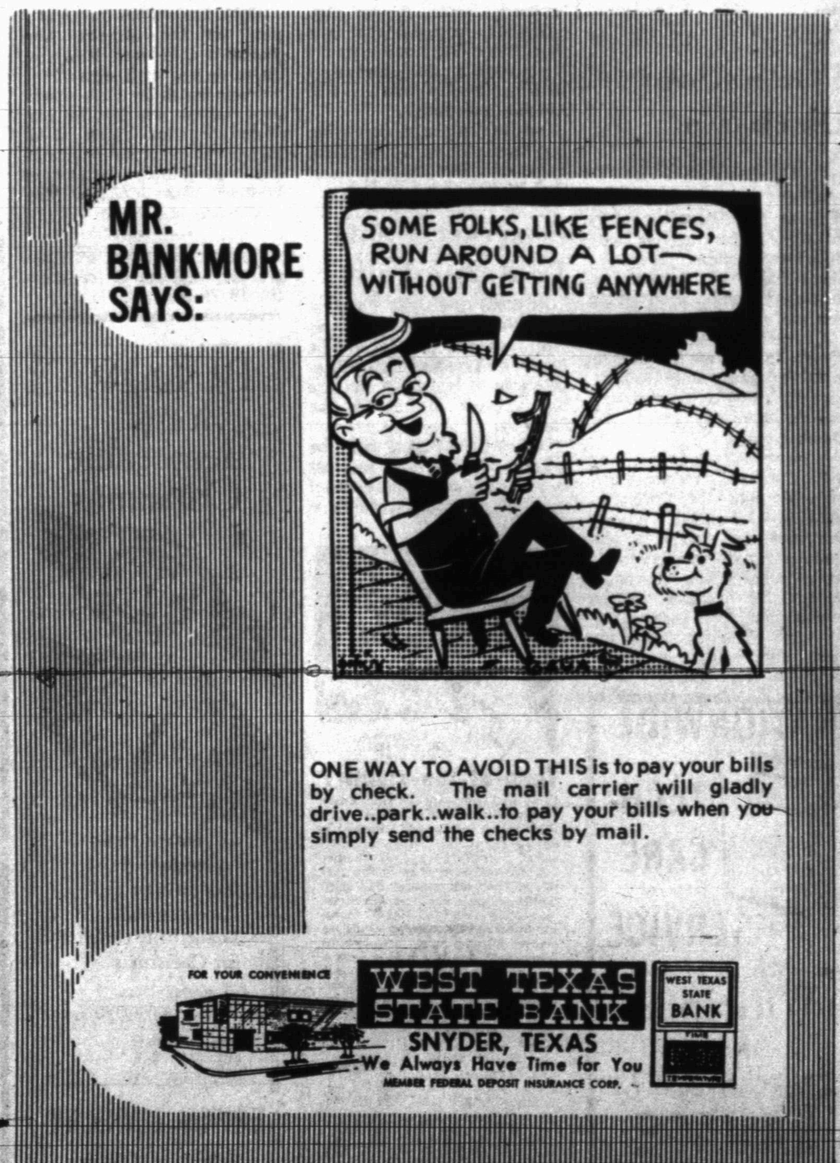

Schiwetz was born in Cuero of German stock, and now lives on a ranch at Hunt, Tex.

He graduated from Texas A&M with a degree in architecutre but never practiced. Yet this background clearly is evident in this collection. He may be painting a commonplace shack, but like all fine artists he points up the beauty until it isn't commonplace any more.

In addition, he has a thing about windmills and birds. Few paintings now hanging in his collection are without them.

After you've enjoyed these pictures as a whole, scan the backgrounds. There is equal enjoyment there.—the AP (REF).

Reading To Shape Future

Career Corner
by Joyce Lain Kennedy

Dear Joyce: I hope to be accepted in a medical school and become a physician. I know it is very difficult to become one of the chosen few who make it. Could you please tell me how, or refer me to a book on how to get into medical school? -- J.E., Chicago

You face the same problems of every potential physician or dentist: Not only how to get into a medical or dental school, but what to do with your preprofessional training if you are not accepted.

Advice from A to Z is given on your question in a new book, "How To Get Into Medical and Dental School" (by G.J. Shugar and others, Arco Publishing, 219 Park Ave. So., New York, N.Y. 10003, $4). The authors note that thousands of qualified applicants are not admitted for sometimes minor reasons, and give tips on how to avoid these minor problems. I can't recall seeing a more comprehensive treatment of the medical school admissions question.

Dear Joyce: In one of your columns you confessed to being unable to locate anything on invisible reweaving. Did you ask the public library? Enclosed are just 2 titles which would be of assistance. No doubt the reader's own library would have these or others. -- Maryan E. Reynolds, Washington State Library

For the hundreds of women readers who have written in about learning to do invisible mending for extra income, many thanks. Unfortunately, both of the titles given are out-of-print, and readers will be lucky to find them in their own libraries, but why not try? The books are: "Reweave It Yourself," by Virginia Saunders (Van Nostrand, 1958) and "Invisible Mending" produced by Culver Products Co. (Culver City, Calif., 1951). After checking exhaustively with the library and other sources, I still can't locate current in-print books or booklets on invisible reweaving.

Dear Joyce: I appreciate many of the booklets you mention on small business operation, but I don't recall seeing a mention of any one book that covers most aspects of small business. Is there one? -- M.M., New Orleans

There are quite a few. "How To Run A Small Business" (Revised by J.K. Lasser Tax Institute, 3rd edition, McGraw-Hill, $7.95) is one practical guide for the small businessperson. It covers financing, taxes, accounting, insurance, office management, promotion, and other specialized business activities. It discusses how to start and profitably operate a small business, be it retail store, small plant or office.

Dear Joyce: Where can a 16-year-old boy get a home study course to finish high school? He is my son, and he needs the last 2 years. Is there a book which tells you how to pick a good school? I see these advertisements on matchbook covers, but I'd like to be a little more sure of what I'm paying for. -- B.A., Columbus, Ohio

"The Teenager and Home Study," by Henry Wellman (Richards Rosen Press, 29 E. 21st St., New York, N.Y. 10010, $4.20 by mail). Among its chapters are "Finishing high school at home" and "How to choose the right school."

Briscoe Seeks 'Hired Hands'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Democrat rancher Dolph Briscoe looked for hired hands today to help him as governor after belatedly claiming victory over Sen. Henry Grover, who says he's not ready to admit defeat yet.

Grover, a Houston Republican, said he was waiting until his lawyers have a chance to check out alleged election irregularities which have been reported to his staff.

Although he did not concede, Grover, bidding to become Texas' first Republican governor since 1874, told a Capitol news conference Friday he would run again in 1974.

To overcome Briscoe's popularity with country folk, Grover said, "I'll start campaigning in the rural areas immediately."

He said he needed just an extra $50,000 for half-page newspaper ads prior to Tuesday's election to put him over the top.

Later, in Dallas, Grover said, "I can't speak for the future, but usually, just based on experience, we do better in the off year because there are fewer of the traditional straight ticket Democrat votes."

He said he would go back to Houston Baptist College, where he is an administrator, "because I like to eat."

Briscoe noted that the Texas Election Bureau's near-complete unofficial tabulation gave him a margin of nearly 100,000 votes over Grover.

Asked if he was claiming victory, Briscoe replied, "I think it is obvious, yes, I am." Election bureau reports showed he carried 234 of 254 counties, Briscoe said.

"Clearly," Briscoe told a news conference in the same room where Grover had held his five hours earlier, "it makes it clear that my duty now is to start putting together a staff." All jobs are open, he said.

"Unlike others," he said, "I'm not ready to announce today" for re-election.

Better budgetary control and crime prevention "are high on my list of priorities" for the 1973 Legislature, Briscoe said, adding that he was sticking by his pledge for a no-new-taxes budget.

Interstate 30 Is Dedicated

EMMET, Ark. (AP) — The last 8.9 miles of Interstate 30 were dedicated here Friday by Gov. Dale Bumpers, making Arkansas the first state to complete its rural Interstate system.

The opening of the segment makes four-lane and six-lane divided highway available for the entire 313 miles between Dallas and North Little Rock.

Bumpers said in his dedicatory speech that new highways are of little value without competent drivers.

"After 4 p.m., you can assume that one out of every 50 cars you meet will have a driver that is so intoxicated that he cannot properly operate his automobile," the governor said.

He said more state police patrol units are needed, and he suggested moving the 60 or so troopers who work at issuing driver's licenses and other such tasks to highway patrol duty.

"These other jobs can be turned over the civilians," Bumpers said.

Officials said the highway is expected to ser[illegible] 1,332,375,000 vehicle miles of travel annually by 1990.

NATO To Tackle Traffic

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer

BRUSSELS (AP) — Holding the Soviet forces in check could be child's play compared with the next problem to be tackled by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It's going to try to figure out how to get rid of the urban traffic jam.

A pilot project is due to be launched next week at a meeting of NATO's Committee on the Challenges of Modern Society. Among the devices it will study:

—Traffic free zones.

—Special lanes for buses and taxis, which have been tried with some success in Paris and Johannesburg.

—"Draining" commuters from outlying districts for more efficient use of trains and buses: for example, by setting up systems which enable passengers to telephone for a minibus.

—Forecasting the growth of cities, a slow and expensive process that needs to be standardized.

—Improved use of delivery trucks.

Work is expected to take about two years under the supervision of Lee Huff, who deals with policy and planning at the U.S. Department of Transportation. There will be help from France, West Germany and other NATO members.

At the end there will be recommendations to the national governments.

This will be the eighth project the committee has started since President Nixon proposed its organization more than three years ago—partly to give NATO a less military image. The United States already runs three other pilot projects: on air pollution, health care and auto safety.

Club Fire Is Probed

CARRIZO SPRINGS, Tex. (AP) — A $5,000 fire at the Pan American Club east of here is being investigated today by a deputy state fire marshal.

The club is owned by Mike Perez, a Raza Unida Party member, and school board trustee at Crystal City, who said he felt the blaze was "politically motivated."

Perez said Vernon Ray, a state fire marshal from Austin has been called to look into the Thursday night fire.

Perez, a vocal critic who has broken ties with the party, said he aired a critical broadcast of the party before last Tuesday's election.

Lib Foes Give Mice To Senate

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Five women who say they don't believe in women's liberation claim that the all-male state Senate is made up of mice, and not men, who somehow went astray.

So they gave little white mice — live and gift wrapped in boxes tied with red or pink ribbons — to 28 state senators who voted in favor of a resolution ratifying the equal rights amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

The resolution passed the all-male state Senate Wednesday 28-9. It now must be approved by the Assembly.

The five women, all from the Los Angeles area, made the deliveries Friday.

The result: Capitol secretaries squealed, legislators fumed, and the police were perplexed.

"This is our way of saying you're mice, not men," said Gloria Macklin, a Los Angeles mother of eight.

State Sen. James Wedworth was not amused.

"We can't put up with this...It's not a joke," he said.

Said state Sen. Jerry Walsh: "If this Capitol cannot be policed in a proper manner, then something ought to be done about it."

State police took the five women and as many mouse boxes as they could find to their office in the Capitol while they tried to figure out what to do.

After about half an hour police released them without charges.

Officers said they had asked the ladies to leave, and take their mice with them.

While at the Capitol, the women took out small American flags and waved them while they sang "God Bless America."

They also performed a homemade song to the tune of "Three Blind Mice."

The words — referring to the California legislature's upper house — went like this: "A house full of mice, a house full of mice...see how they run...see how they run...they're running away from the good life, they're all deserting the housewife, did you ever see such a sight in your life as a house full of mice."

Mexico Service Date Set

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — An official of the Amtrak railroad system said here Friday that passenger service to Mexico from St. Louis will begin about Christmas.

James Bryant said the service will be routed from St. Louis through Little Rock, Texarkana, Dallas and Austin to Mexico. Bryant said the rail link may be extended to include Chicago.

A bill providing $9.1 million for expansion and improvement of the system has been approved by President Nixon with $4.1 million earmarked for the St. Louis-Mexico route.

Bryant said negotiations are still underway with the Mexican government for operation of the train south of the border.

'Slide' Pleases Businessmen

By CAROLE MARTIN
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen, in general, breathed easier this past week.

President Richard M. Nixon's landslide victory over George McGovern reassured much of the business community which had been concerned about the Democratic candidate's economic philosophy.

The financial community, for the most part, regarded the re-election of President Nixon as a positive development for the national economy and the capital markets.

Although there were some within the business and financial community who supported McGovern, a survey of more than 1,200 of the nation's business executives by the New York Times reported that more than 91 per cent planned to vote for Nixon.

A hint of what 1973 might be like came Wednesday from the New York Stock Exchange annual survey of 32 prominent U.S. economists. It found that "a sustained high level of economic growth is in prospect for 1973, but inflationary clouds are likely to hover over the landscape."

The consensus was that growth patterns in the individual economic sectors generally would parallel those in 1972. The survey said the economists agreed that the present wage and price controls would continue next year, although with some modifications possible, because of continued expectation of inflationary pressures."

In Washington on Wednesday, the United States and Poland signed an agreement which American officials predicted would triple trade between the two countries in the next several years.

Commerce Secretary Peter G. Peterson said current trade between Poland and the United States totaled $200 million a year. He said the United States might realize a trade surplus with Poland by 1973, and that total trade between the two countries probably would grow to $600 million in the next few years.

Overhaul Spadework Done Early

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Much of the spadework for President Nixon's promised overhaul of the federal bureaucracy was done even before election day, White House sources say.

Although deputy press secretary Gerald Warren insists Nixon has made no decisions in his quest for a leaner, more efficient governmental structure, other sources said the President charted at least the general outline of his moves well in advance of his landslide victory on Tuesday.

Warren himself volunteered to newsmen Friday that in one area — a remodeling of the foreign policy apparatus — "a great deal of staff work on this matter" had been accomplished in the weeks before the balloting.

Nixon disclosed his plans to reform the bureaucracy on the morning after the election. Since arriving at his bayside home Wednesday night Nixon has been holding a series of conferences with his top advisors.

The White House spokesman gave no specific hint of what Nixon has in mind for the diffused foreign policy apparatus.

DPS Commander Retiring

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Maj. Harry W. Hutchison, commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety's 46-county Region 6 at Waco, is retiring Nov. 30, the DPS announced Saturday.

Hutchison has been with the DPS since 1931, when he became a highway patrolman.

Before coming to Waco in 1967, he headed the regional headquarters at Waco and served as officer-in-charge of the Highway Patrol office in the Dallas area.

Economic Controls Face Uncertain Life Span

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's Phase 2 wage-price controls, a year old this Tuesday, face an uncertain life expectancy as President Nixon prepares to review his anti-inflation program.

While his economic advisers are hinting the lid on wage and price boosts probably will be needed through 1973, the President has another month or two before he commits himself to retaining the complex control system, dropping it abruptly, or changing it.

Next year will bring other crucial economic decisions as many big labor contracts expire and as the economy pushes closer to the point which could trigger demand inflation.

The law under which Nixon imposed controls expires next April 30 unless Congress decides to extend it. Because it usually takes Congress weeks to enact a bill, Nixon is expected to unveil his recommendation early in the year.

Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. says his agency is going ahead as if the program will continue through 1973, but he refuses to predict what Nixon will decide.

Phase 2, as it became known within the administration, went into effect Nov. 14, 1971, with the Cost of Living Council as the overseer, the Price Commission dealing with prices and the Pay Board with wages.

Since that time, consumer prices have gone up 3.5 per cent, more than the Price Commission's goal of 2.5 per cent. But measured since the wage-price freeze which began Aug. 15, 1971, consumer prices have gone up about 3 per cent.

Grayson said the control system "has gone a long way toward reaching the President's goal" of reducing the rate of inflation to the range of 2 to 3 per cent by the end of the year.

He said commission studies have shown that the rate of inflation is 1 to 1½ per cent lower than it would have been had Nixon not imposed controls.

In addition, Grayson said, people sense that inflation is less today than the rate of about 6 per cent before the freeze.

Officials at the Cost of Living Council feel that this attitude about inflation will help moderate wage demands during next year's heavy bargaining calendar.

They pointed out that in 1970 workers felt frustrated because of a high rate of inflation, so demanded and won large three-year contracts with considerable catchup pay.

"In my judgment, you would have had a heck of a time holding any kind of wage standard back in 1970," said one official "Next year, it will be different. The standard will be much less vulnerable."

The Pay Board's general wage standard is 5.5 per cent, with another 0.7 per cent for qualified fringe benefits. There will soon be a review to determine whether that standard should be changed.

When asked whether the 5.5 per cent figure would be lowered to reflect a declining rate of inflation, Board Chairman George Boldt told newsmen, "I don't know and I don't think anybody else knows ... I have no feeling about it."

But officials said much will depend on what happens to the rate of price increases in the next few months. The 5.5 per cent standard allows for a price rise of about 2.5 per cent and a 3 per cent rise in worker output per man hour.

If Nixon decides to keep controls, there appears to be some evidence that the complex price control system will be changed—and it may get even more complex.

Grayson said the commission is studying whether the agency should adopt changes to remove some of the distortions, inefficiency and inequities that go along with controls.

But he said he didn't know whether this would lead to a loosening or tightening of the system, adding that the administration could go either way.

One approach would be to use an industry-by-industry control system, rather than controlling the profit margins and price markups of individual companies, he said.

This would imply controls on the price of automobiles, gasoline, bread and other such products, rather than on individual firms.

The trouble with this approach, Grayson said, is that it is not always easy to define an industry and it would create problems in controlling large conglomerates which have diverse operations.

"Any time you move toward more equity, you move toward more complexity," the chairman said. "The other way would be to go to a lighter form of control system."

Many people inside and outside the government believe that Nixon, if anything, will opt for a lighter control system, hoping he can hasten the day when controls will be phased out.

Making the controls any tighter, they believe, would lengthen the period of controls, add to the bureaucracy, and possibly harm the economic recovery.

The administration has been able to enforce the controls with 3,000 Internal Revenue Service employes and another 1,000 workers in the Washington supervisory offices.

"There has been minimal red tape compared with other control systems in our history," Grayson said.

While the commission has approved hundreds of price increases, it has ordered 98 price rollbacks and noted hundreds of voluntary price rollbacks by companies that saw they were in danger of violating price rules.

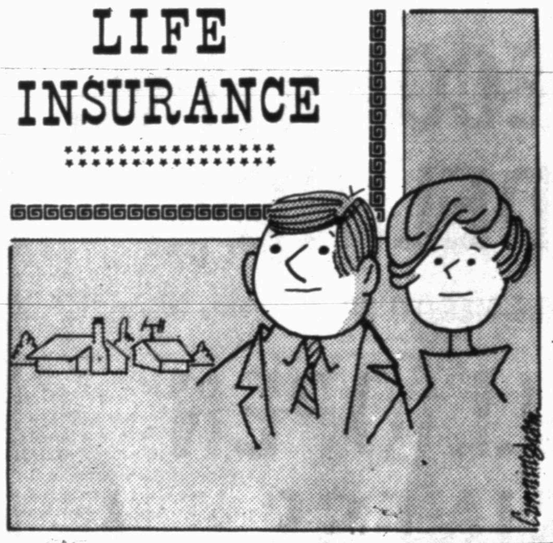

The government has controlled prices in two basic ways: Prices are allowed to rise only to reflect allowable costs, and margins of profit are held to a "base period" level, defined as the average of the best two of the last three fiscal years.

Despite some speculation that the profit margin system will be relaxed, Grayson says no changes are under consideration.

The commission has estimated that roughly 20 per cent of the nation's companies with annual sales over $100 million will bump up against the profit ceiling by the end of the year if they haven't already.

Junior Editors' Quiz on LIFE INSURANCE

QUESTION: When was life insurance first sold in the U. S.?

* * *

ANSWER: The first life insurance company in the U. S. was the Presbyterian Ministers Fund of Philadelphia, founded in 1759. It was "a corporation for the relief of poor and distressed widows and children of Presbyterian ministers." It is still in existence.

This company was preceded by the Amiable Society for a perpetual assurance, a life insurance company established in England in 1705. In 1762, the Equitable Life Assurance Society of London was founded and used scientific data in establishing rates. Life insurance has expanded in the United States. There are many large companies and enormous sums of money are invested.

Life insurance originated in the Roman Empire. The Romans had a Soldier Fund that bore a resemblance to endowment insurance. They had burial societies and guilds which protected the members financially during their lifetime and provided funds at death. In the 16th century, sea captains had an insurance covering death at sea and capture by pirates.

Hermleigh Defeats Southland

Hermleigh zonked the Southland Eagles here Friday night 69-21 to keep a three-way tie going in 4-B, six-man football.

The Cardinals did all the scoring in the 1st quarter running up a total of 38-0. Their attack was led by Charles Kuss, who went over the 1,000 yard mark along with teammate Dale Peterson.

At the half the Card's were well in command with a 47-7 lead. By the end of the 3rd quarter the game was decided. Hermleigh stood at 69 to Southland's 21 and the game was called on the 45 point rule.

Hermleigh Coach, Rusty Hackler said of the three way tie in 4-B District between Hermleigh, Bula, and Ira, "The coaches and the school superintendants will probably sit down and toss a coin to see who goes to the Bi-district playoffs."

The winner of that coin toss will probably be playing either Trent or O'Brien of 5-B play to be decided in a game Nov. 17.

COBB RAMBLES—Snyder High School's Welton Cobb (34) rambles for yardage against the Hereford Whitefaces in Tiger Stadium Friday night. Richard Gorman (14) has already thrown a block while Willie Smith (66) gets ready to clear the area of defenders. The Herd's Joe Coleman (70) closes in from behind. Cobb was the leading ground gainer for the Tigers getting 63 yards on 17 carries.

McCarthy Proud Of New Coach

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — University of Texas-El Paso athletic director George McCarty says he is "extremely proud" that Tommy Hudspeth will be head football coach for the Miners next season.

Hudspeth joined the Miners' coaching staff last season. He has been acting head coach since Bobby Dobbs resigned following a UTEP loss to New Mexico earlier in the season.

He coached at Brigham Young University before coming here.

McCarthy said in announcing the appointment Friday, "Hudspeth is the best available for this position. We're very happy and proud to have a man of this caliber with us."

BEATS BULA 14-12

Ira Throws 4B Race Into Tie

IRA—The Ira Bulldogs, turning in their best defensive performance of the year, threw the District 4B six-man football race into a snarl Friday night by edging Bula, 14-12.

Coach Patrick Sadler, who had high praise for his defensive troops, watched his Ira Team overcome an early 0-6 deficit to take a brief lead, then fall behind again before half-time, before snatching away the victory with a fourth quarter TD.

Bula scored early in the first quarter, but was unable to convert its extra points.

Ira retaliated with a six-pointer when Tom Daves crossed the goal line from three yards out, with Kriby Sterling contributing the extra points to give Ira the lead, 8-6.

It was Bula's turn again, but once more the visitors couldn't put the extra points on the board and went to the half-time intermission with a 12-8 lead.

The third quarter was a standoff, but Ira broke through the Bula defense in the fourth period when Richard Daves pulled in a 40-yard scoring pass from Donald Sellars and Ira had its 14-12 lead.

Ira's victory threw the district race into a three-way tie between the Bulldogs, Bula and Hermleigh. There is one more week of play in the regular season and if the tie still exists after that, there will probably be a coin flip to determine which team advances to bi-district play.

Sadler said his entire defensive team turned in a spectacular performance. If there was an outstanding individual it would have to be Kirby Sterling, Bulldog linebacker. Sadler also had special praise for Bobby Haddox, defensive end, who started his first game. He played well all evening and intercepted a Bula pass.

Fluvanna Flails F. Grove, 36-13

FLUVANNA—The host Buffaloes erupted for three touchdowns in the second quarter to take command of their District 4-B gridiron match with Flower Grove here last night and ultimately score a 36-13 victory.

The victory leaves Fluvanna 2-3 in district play while Flower Grove fell to 0-5.

The visitors scored first on a 73 yard run by Martinez in the initial period, but the bid for extra points failed.

Richard Gill connected with Larry White on a 15-yard touchdown pass for Fluvanna early in the second quarter to knot the count at 6-6.

Later in the period, Fluvanna went ahead on a 19 yard touchdown pass, this time from Richard Gill to J.W. White, Gill kicked for two extra points as the hosts had a 14-6 advantage.

Late in the second stanza, J.W. White passed 28 yards to Richard Gill for another touchdown as the count soared to 20-6.

In the third quarter, Larry White broke loose on a 25 yard touchdown run around left end, and Gill kicked the PAT for a 28-6 lead.

Still in the third quarter, Richard Gill scored on a 55 yard romp around right end. His PAT made it 36-6.

In the last few seconds of the game, Flower Grove's Rose hit Farrington with a 7 yard scoring pass, and the same combo clicked for extra points.

Fluvanna amassed 267 yards rushing & 196 passing compared with 102 rushing and 94 passing for Flower Grove. Charley Hightower was outstanding on defense for Flower Grove. Center Steve Stansell and end Chuck Jones were outstanding on defense for Fluvanna.

Fluvanna will be at Union Terry Friday.

Squires Hit Conquistadores

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The numbers were all on Virginia's side of the ledger and after the kind of third quarter the Squires had, it didn't take a bookkeeper to know that San Diego would come out on the short end of their American Basketball Association game Friday night.

The Squires hit a torrid 63 per cent, scoring almost two of every three shots in that period, and broke the game open to wallop the Conquistadors 125-97.

In the only other ABA games played, Kentucky topped Carolina 122-117 and Memphis downed Dallas 122-115.

In the National Basketball Association, Detroit whipped Golden State 121-96, New York trounced Philadelphia 125-106, Milwaukee thumped Baltimore 120-82, Boston edged Buffalo 106-104, Phoenix defeated Houston 115-109, Los Angeles ripped Cleveland 118-88 and Kansas City-Omaha trimmed Seattle 111-106.

The Squires, who used a red-hot third period to beat Indiana the night before, stayed with that formula against the expansionist Conquistadors. Virginia, up by six points at halftime, outscored San Diego 40-28 in the third quarter to put the game away.

Julius Erving led the spurt, scoring 17 of his 34 points in the first 6:41 of the period. Erving also had 17 rebounds while William Franklin added 20 points for the Squires.

Stew Johnson led San Diego with 25.

Western Cagers Will Be Improved This Year

"We'll definitely be improved at every position this year," declared Coach Sid Simpson as his Westerners prepare to open the 1972 basketball slate for Western Texas College.

The Westerners meet Southwest Christian College of Terrell at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Scurry County Coliseum.

However, Simpson quickly qualified his remark by stating the schedule is considerably tougher this season.

"They (Southwest Christian Christian) won 15 ball games last year and have an 18 man squad from all over the United States," Simpson pointed out. He added Southwest is fast and has good shooters. Although they don't have great size, they score a lot. Simpson said the key to the outcome of the opener will be Western's ability to stop the fast break.

"Depth will be our strong point this year," Simpson pointed out.

Speaking of weaknesses, he said the Westerners don't have great overall height and are inexperienced at key positions.

"If the squad can pull itself together and become a cohesive unit, then we should have a good team this year," the veteran mentor declared. He pointed out the Westerners have a lot of individual talent, but that they have to learn how to play well together as a team.

There are six returning starters from last year's team. They include Joel Dyess, 6-4, from South Garland, who started at post last year; Walter Hannibal, 6-4 from Fort Worth Kirkpatrick, who started at wing last season; Jimmy Hill, 6-4 from Amarillo Tascosa, who started at wing last year; James Houston, 6-3, from Charlotte, N.C., who was a part time starter at wing; Johnny Neff, 6-0, from McAdoo, who played guard last year; and, Steve Sparks, 5-9, from Krum, who started at guard last year.

Only two of the returning regulars are slated for first string duty this year. They are Walter Hannibal and Johnny Neff. Hannibal led the Westerners in every category last season, and he has improved, especially on defense. He does every phase of the game well and is expected to have a great year. Neff is a great team leader and the best defensive player on the team.

Simpson said the other starting guard probably will be Danny McDaniel, 6-1, freshman from Little Rock Central, who made all state last year. He's a real smooth guard and a good shooter, the coach said.

Starting at post probably will be Harold Ward, 6-5 freshman from Passiac, N.J., and Ronnie Allen, 6-4 freshman from Fort Worth North Side. Ward made Little All-American last year. He is a great leaper with outstanding speed and moves to the basket. However, he need to improve his defense and ball handling. Allen is a good leaper and a good rebounder, who has a great attitude.

The Westerners are hoping they can improve on a 12-12 record which they posted in their first season of competition. The slate this year includes 28 games and the regional tournament if the team qualifies for it.

"The schedule is four times as tough this year," declared Simpson.

Hannibal and Neff are the co-captains, elected by the team. Other squadmen include Fred Allen, guard from Little Rock Central, James Batteau, post man from Hondo, Luis Blanco, guard from Fort Stockton, Eric Grant, guard from Honda, and Kent Horsley, post man from Snyder.

Simpson had several things to say about his returning regulars. He said Jeol Dyess is a good hustler. He said Jimmy Hill has improved on defense and is a good rebounder. He will be a good reserve wingman with a good scoring touch. James Houston is a real good spot player on the post and wing. Although he's improved, he has a tendency to foul. Steve Sparks was the second leading scorer last year and is good shooter, although he is small.

Fred Allen was a Little All-American last year. He has great natural ability and is an outstanding shooter with great potential when he adjusts to the style of play.

Batteau is the strongest lad on the squad. He is a good shooter, but he needs experience and to work on his defense. Blanco is a good all-around player who makes few mistakes and has a good attitude. Grant lacks experience but he has a great attitude. Horsley needs to develop strength and quickness but he's improving every day.

The schedule:

Monday, Nov. 13—Southwest Christian College.

Thursday, Nov. 16—Fort Worth Christian College.

Saturday, Nov. 18—Cisco Junior College.

Tuesday, Nov. 21—Schreiner Institute at Kerrville.

Western Golf Team Is Second

ODESSA—Western Texas College's golf team fired an 18-over par 306 to capture second place at the fifth Western Junior College Athletic Association golf tournament here Friday.

The match was held at the Odessa Country Club. There was medal play with the four low scores of five players counting in the standings. The host Odessa team won first place with an eight over par 296. Scores of other teams: South Plains 307, New Mexico Junior College 307, Howard County Junior College 314, Amarillo College 329, New Mexico Military Institute 332, Franks Phillips 335, and Clarendon College 340.

The Westerners' Danny Walters fired a one under par 71. Max Tenorio carded a 76, Mark McCraney fired a 79 and Barry Hays and Steve Rutherford each shot 80's.

Three golfers tied for medalist honors. They are Danny Walters of WTC, John Hester of South Plains, and Brad Schmierer of Odessa.

Team results after five conference tournaments:

1. Odessa College, 43 points; 2. WTC, 41 points; 3. South Plains 35½ points; 4. NMJC, 29 points; 5. Howard County, 22½ points; 6. Amarillo College, 22 points; 7. Frank Phillips, 14 points; 8. NMMI, 10 points; 9. Clarendon College, 8 points.

First place in each tourney gets nine points with eight points for second, etc. This will be the last tournament for the WTC golf team until the second semester. Four conference tournaments and non-conference will be played in the spring.

TOUCHDOWN PLAY—Snyder High School's Richard Gorman (14) plunges across the goal line from the two yard line during the second quarter of the Tiger-Hereford District 4-AAAA gridiron clash here Friday night. The Tiger fullback gained 42 yards on 14 carries. An unidentified teammate (on ground) had cleared a path for Gorman. Hereford's Wallace Hill (78) arrives too late to bar the door to the goal. The Herd won 18-6.

Determined Tigers Fall To Thundering Herd 18-6

Give the Snyder Tigers A for effort.

They were down two touchdowns at halftime, but they didn't give up. They fought a talented Hereford Whiteface team—a 25 point favorite—on even terms in the second half, although the visitors chalked up an 18-6 decision in a District 4-AAAA gridiron match in Tiger Stadium Friday night.

All of the scoring occurred in the second quarter. The Herd's James Harris, a substitute tailback, launched the visitors on their first touchdown drive with a brilliant 67 yard punt return late in the first quarter.

That set up first and 10 at the Tiger 23, and Hereford spanned the distance in five plays with the touchdown coming in the first minute of the second quarter. Wesley High, the district's leading rusher, chalked up the six points on a six yard scamper. Terry Poindexter's extra point kick was blocked by Welton Cobb, Tiger linebacker, who played an outstanding game defensively.

The Tigers took the kickoff and couldn't move the ball, but Hereford, exhibiting a smooth attack, marched 51 yards in seven plays on its next possession to take a 12-0 lead with 7:09 remaining in the half. James Harris, a swift, elusive runner, set up the TD on a 20 yard burst to the one, and he carried over guard on the next play. Randy Alexander's PAT kick was wide. Another key play in the drive was a 16 yard pass from talented quarterback Keith Kitchens to wingback Terry Champ.

Snyder took the kickoff but couldn't move again. The Tigers punted out and on the next play from scrimmage senior Tim Holder intercepted a Kitchens aerial at the Hereford 40 yard line and returned it 22 yards to the 18 to set up the Tiger touchdown. Snyder marched the 22 yards in five plays. Fullback Richard Gorman carried three straight times, gaining, 7, 5 and 2 yards to the 4. Welton Cobb added two, then Gorman crashed over for the remaining two yards. Mickey Gonzalez' kick for extra point was low, but the determined Tigers had cut the Herd margin to 12-6 with 2:46 remaining.

Hereford has a well-balanced offensive machine and the main cog in that machine is the tailback, Wesley High. He was the game's leading rusher with 119 yards on 21 carries. He was instrumental in the next drive which covered 68 yards in eight plays and required only two minutes and 11 seconds.

After Johnny Adams started the drive with a two-yard gain to the Hereford 34, High burst into the secondary on a quick opener and weaved in and out of heavy traffic for a 24-yard gain to the Snyder 42. After an incomplete pass, Kitchens, who engineered all three touchdown drives for the Herd, connected on a long pass near the west sidelines to James Harris, who runs with the speed of an Olympic spring man. Harris was bounced out of bounds at the eight after a 34 yard gain. Kitchens lost two, then threw an incomplete pass. Then he fired a 9-yard strike to Champ at the one yard line. High took it over on the next play with 35 seconds remaining in the half.

The Tigers did a good job of containing the explosive Herd offense in the second half. The visitors took the kickoff opening the second half and drove from their 40 to the Snyder six where they were stopped by a magnificent goal line stand. Big play in the drive was a 38 yard aerial, Kitchens to Champ.

Snyder threw Kitchens for a loss on fourth down back at the 11, and the Tigers marched out to the 30 on two nice runs by Hubert Crayton and by Welton Cobb. Then Steve Neiman intercepted a long pass by Tim Jones to halt the drive. Hereford took over but couldn't sustain a drive and punted out at the 10.

Snyder marched from its 10 to the Hereford 49 with the drive being halted early in the fourth quarter. Cobb and Gorman made most of the yardage in the 41 yard march.

The ball changed hands five times in the last stanza as neither team could sustain a drive. Linebacker Eddie Bane stopped the Herd twice in the last stanza with a fumble recovery and an interception.

Near the end of the period, Hereford marched from its 21 to the Tiger 12. They did their best to score, but the Tigers were determined to keep them out of the end zone. The last bid by the visitors ended with the Tigers breaking up four successive passes by Kitchens at the 12.

Snyder made one other drive worthy of notice, marching from its 25 to the Hereford 41 in the first quarter with Cobb and Gorman doing most of the damage.

Hereford now is 3-1 in district play and has a mathematical chance to grab a share of the crown. The Tigers are 0-4.

In losing Friday night, the Tigers have nothing to be ashamed of. They tried their best against an excellent football team.

Pokes Host St. Louis

Vikings, Lions In Key Game, Sunday

DALLAS (AP) — Super Bowl champion Dallas, desperately trying to stay within striking distance of Washington in the National Conference East, hosts hapless St. Louis Sunday and it couldn't come at a better time for the creaky Cowboy defense.

The old Dallas Doomsday Defense of the past has surrendered 78 points in the last three games and if the Cowboys weren't leading the NFC in offense goodness knows where they would be in the standings.

St. Louis has the worst offensive team in the NFC and should give the Cowboy ship a chance to right itself.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry admits the 1972 version of Doomsday is well below the standards of the National Football League title outfit of 1971 but says "I haven't started to panic yet."

The Cowboys have a serious problem at left cornerback and defensive tackle Bob Lilly, hampered with a bad foot, hasn't been putting his usual pressure on the passer.

"When Lilly gets going it will make a great difference," Landry says. "I imagine St. Louis will come out throwing at our left corner like everybody else."

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Just about every coach has said at one time or another: "We play them one game at a time." It's usually in reponse to a question about how his losing team plans to handle a winner several games in the future.

Bud Grant was no different when his Minnesota Vikings, defending champions of the National Conference's Central Division, were stumbling along with a 2-4 record in last place.

Now, however, after a pair of convincing victories, the Vikings are again a contender. And with a little help from the Chicago Bears, they can shoulder their way into a share of the divisional lead.

The Vikings face Detroit Sunday in a key National Football League game. If they beat the Lions and the Bears upset Green Bay, the Vikings, Lions and Packers would all be tied for first with 5-4 record and the Bears, at 4-4-1, would be a mere half-game back.

Sunday's other games have Kansas City at Pittsburgh, St. Louis at Dallas, the New York Giants at Washington, Denver at Los Angeles, Oakland at Cincinnati, New England at Miami, New Orleans at Atlanta, Buffalo in New York to face the Jets, Baltimore at San Francisco and Philadelphia at Houston. On Monday night, Cleveland is at San Diego.

Pittsburgh, closing in on what it hopes will be its first title in its 40-year history, grabbed the Central Division lead in the American Conference with a 40-17 clobbering of Cincinnati. Now the Steelers face another leader in Kansas City, which beat Oakland 27-14 to move atop the West. "We're not underestimating the Steelers," says Kansas City Coach Hank Stram. "Anybody that does that is nuts."

The Cardinals, who have scored but one touchdown in their last period, had to settle for a tie last Sunday against Philadelphia, their contender for the East's basement, while the Cowboys, after rolling up a 31-0 lead against San Diego, had to scramble to hang on for a 34-28 triumph.

Raiders' quarterback Daryle Lamonica was forced out of last Sunday's game with an injured ankle but he'll be ready to start against the Bengals.

Borden County Rips Bearkats

GARDEN CITY—Borden County's Coyotes remained undefeated in District 4-B Six-Man football here Friday night, turning back the Garden City Bearkats 46-6.

Gail scored in every period. The Coyotes held an 8-1 edge in penetrations, a 27-5 edge in first downs and a 369-121 margin in net offense.

Garland Williams crashed over from the three to climax a 50 yard drive in the initial period. Randy Hensley ran over for the two bonus points.

Minutes later, Williams scored again, this time on a 10 yard run. Randy Crittenden passed to Steve Lockhart for the two extra points.

In the second quarter, Randy Hensley tallied on a 25 yard run, but the try for extra points failed.

Just before halftime, Hensley scored again, this time from three yards out to cap a 65 yard march. Rex Cox ran over for the two extra points as Gail built a 30-0 halftime lead.

Cox shook loose on an 8 yard touchdown run to climax a 50 yard march in the third quarter. Randy Hensley added the two extra points.

Gail drove 40 yards for its last touchdown with Steve Lockhart getting the six points on a five yard run. Randy Crittenden added the two bonus points.

Late in the game, Garden City scored on a 60 yard pass and run play.

Coach Bob Dyess said the Coyotes made a good team effort. They host Sterling City Friday night.

Mason Knocks Sonora, 26-8

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sonora, the top-ranked Class A team in Texas high school football, and Port Neches-Groves, third on the totem pole in Class 4A, lost their games Friday night, but it took two other ranked teams to accomplish it.

Sonora was knocked from its lofty perch in the Associated Press poll 26-8 by No. 3 Mason, and the sixth-rated 4A team, Port Arthur Lincoln, outscored PN-G 27-24.

All other 4A teams in the top 10 that saw action Friday night won their games and were watching for the result of Saturday's contest pitting top-ranked San Antonio Lee against San Antonio Holmes.

In other 4A frays Friday night, No. 2 Odessa Permian stopped San Angelo 27-14, fourth-ranked Austin Reagan clobbered Austin Lanier 53-0, No. 5 Killeen blanked Waco High 19-0, No. 7 Longview beat Texarkana 14-3, No. 8 Wichita Falls swallowed Euless Trinity 44-0 and ninth-ranked Baytown Sterling sliced Houston North Shore 7-0. Tenth-ranked Denton was idle.

Uvalde and Brenham, first and second in Class 3A most of the season, continued to roll, but three other of the 3A elite lost. Uvalde slugged San Antonio Southwest 49-7 and Brenham walloped Hearne 54-0. Elsewhere in 3A, No. 3 Ennis slipped past Waco Moore 17-8, No. 4 Cuero blanked Gonzales 34-0, fifth-ranked Mount Pleasant slashed Gilmer 49-26, sixth-ranked Monahans was shocked 27-7 by Pecos, No. 7 West Orange was upset 22-20 by Bridge City, Lewisville edged No. 8 McKinney, 29-28, ninth-ranked Belton beat Cameron 14-6 and 10th-ranked Gregory-Portland whitewashed Tuloso Midway 20-0.

For the second straight week all of the Class 2A top 10 emerged unscathed. Top-ranked Childress beat Shamrock 25-7, second-ranked Jacksboro whipped Henrietta 48-7, No. 3 Friendswood trampled Bellville 40-0, No. 4 Rockwall hammered Van 58-6, No. 5 Mathis ousted George West 20-7, sixth-ranked Tomball blanked Hempsteady 14-0, No. 7 Devine lowered Carrizo Springs 35-0, No. 8 Rosebud-Lott rammed Centerville 59-0, No. 9 Needville slipped past Sealy 14-6 and 10-th ranked Floydada sealed Lockney 55-14.

Mason's big victory gave it a clear path to No. 1 in Class A as its two closest challengers in the poll were held to ties. The No. 2 team Schulenburg, fought to a 12-12 deadlock with Somerville, while fourth-ranked Falls City tied Three Rivers 6-6. Also in Class A, No. 5 Wallis shut out Louise 23-0, sixth-ranked Rankin blanked Iraan 35-0, No. 7 Franklin beat Hubbard 22-6 and 10th-ranked Waskom whitewashed James Bowie 34-0. Ninth-ranked Comfort, a one-time No. 1 team, fell 41-0 to Bandera. Eighth-ranked Agua Dulce was idle.

WITH SONG ABOUT 'COMIN' DOWN

Rankin Is 'Comin' Back'

EDITOR'S NOTE—Singer Kenny Rankin was about to break into the big time. Then he slipped into the no time world of drugs—no days, dates or hours. And now he's "comin' down ... comin' down, and comin' back."

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Kenny Rankin sat in the plain wood chair and hunched over his guitar. A television camera edged forward. "I don't have anything," he sang softly. His eyes were closed. " ... and I can't keep my head straight ... this is insanity.

"Whoa, I don't know if it's too late," he sang, pausing for a quick deep breath. "Comin' down ... comin' down ... "

The last note was a high B natural. Rankin strained to hit it. But he strained far harder to write the song. He says it took him five years. He got it right only in the last 18 months of that period.

The song is about coming down from a drug high—involving speed and other stimulants—that helped him float into a personal hell with no day, date or hour.

The 18 months was the time he spent coming out of it, helped by his wife, Yvonne, his friends, and New York's Phoenix House program, founded by former addicts to help current ones.

He passed a personal milestone of sorts last June when he appeared on the "Tonight" show. It was his first television appearance in 2½ years. He was coming home.

His career got under way on the "Tonight" show in 1967. The audience saw a thin, dark-haired kid with an incredible melodic sense, a modern madrigal merchant competing against the roar of acid rock.

Rankin sings like a softer-voiced Jose Feliciano. Like Feliciano, he plays the musically complicated, yet melodic kind of guitar.

All this got his foot in the door and gave him a small, but growing following. He made two albums that didn't sell, appeared on a lot of television shows that kept the rent paid and had his wife and three kids to keep the love going.

And then it started coming apart at the seams. No hard stuff. Just a pill here, a tab there, to keep the world straight.

It soon added up.

He talked about it before rehearsals recently for ABC's "Dick Cavett Show."

"I got into drugs because I was weak," he said. "That's it, plain and simple."

He said it started by accepting one pill, then more, "and before you know it, you're tripping. And before you know it, the years have gone by. And I just decided that I'd had enough.

"So I pulled up to a pit stop and got my head screwed back on and got back to the music business."

He voluntarily entered the Phoenix House program.

Rankin blamed his problem partly on the frustration of the music business. But he reserved the lion's share of the blame for himself.

The return home was gradual. He stayed at a Phoenix House outpost in upstate New York, venturing forth on weekends to be with his wife and children in Manhattan. And edge into concert dates again.

He has a lot of praise for comedian Flip Wilson, who was the guest host on Rankin's "Tonight" appearance last June.

"He gave me those votes of confidence a person really needs when he's down," Rankin said. "He'd say, 'Come work with me. Open my show.'"

The shows were the concert dates, the one-nighters Wilson played shortly before he became a television superstar. For Rankin, they were a process of getting mind, timing and voice ready for performing again.

The money is coming in again and the concert dates and TV shots are keeping him running. Where does he hope it all will lead?

"I'm there already," he laughed. "I'm just going to make as many records as I can, sing for as many people as I can and advance musically."

Belli Accused By State Bar

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Melvin Belli has been accused by the State Bar of California of unprofessional conduct and the organization has asked the state Supreme Court to suspend the famed trial lawyer for one year.

The bar, which forbids the state's 36,000 attorneys to advertise or solicit clients, said Friday that Belli breached the rules by hiring a lecture tour manager and "using forms of public communications containing self-laudatory statements to publicize his skill as a lawyer."

Belli predicted the state Supreme Court would reject the complaint.

Judge Dismisses Waterbed Suit

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — An American's constitutional rights don't include having a waterbed in an apartment, a judge says.

The Patriotic American Citizens' Committee for Waterbed Rights contended in a lawsuit that a number of landlords had violated their constitutional rights by refusing to permit waterbeds in their apartments.

But Alameda County Superior Court Judge Robert L. Bostick dismissed the suit Thursday, declaring the group had no legal cause for action.

Accidental death— a haunting experience

By Abigail Van Buren

[c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.]

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column where someone had sent artificial flowers to a funeral and the family of the deceased returned them, saying they only wanted "fresh" flowers. You said that was rude and I agree, but speaking of returning flowers, how about this?

A few years ago, an elderly uncle was struck and killed while crossing the street. It was a dark and rainy night and my uncle crossed the street in the middle of the block. Three witnesses swore that Mr. X, the driver of the car, was going slowly and it was not his fault.

When they buried my uncle, Mr. X sent a beautiful arrangement of flowers, and my aunt asked the funeral director to send it back!

APPALLED IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR APPALLED: Let's be charitable and assume that your aunt was still in shock when she sent the flowers back. Now, a word about one who has accidentally killed another: Unless he has actually lived thru that nightmare of self-recrimination, remorse and unearned guilt, one cannot appreciate the agony of such a haunting experience.

DEAR ABBY: We have 10 grandchildren who are the "real" children of our sons and daughters. We have nearly that number of stepgrandchildren thru our childrens' having married divorcees with children. In some cases [not all] they have legally adopted these children.

Anyway, we want to leave our money to our REAL grandchildren, and we do not want to leave anything to our stepgrandchildren because it will cut what we want to leave our real grandchildren practically in half.

It's not that we don't love our stepgrandchildren to a certain extent, it's just that we want our money to go to our own.

I know we will feel a little guilty doing this, but we want to know if it's legal? Or can it be contested by the stepgrandchildren?

JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: Simply instruct your lawyer to draw up a will, stating specifically how much you want to leave and to whom. You may leave everything to an orangutan in the Como Park Zoo if you want to, and if it's so stated in your will, nobody else will get peanuts. [P. S. Since you mentioned "feeling guilty," perhaps you ought to reconsider, and leave the stepgrandchildren something, too.]

DEAR ABBY: A brokenhearted mother in law is "hurt" because her daughter in law, whom she says she couldn't love more if she were her own daughter, has never called her ANYTHING in person, and since they live in different states, all her letters start "Hi" or "Hello."

I want to defend that daughter in law because I know how she feels.

I have a mother in law who is one in a million, and I love her deeply, but for the five years I went with her son, I always respectfully addressed her as "Mrs. Johnson."

After I married her son we moved to another state, and for a lack of a better salutation, I addressed my first letter to her with a cheery "Hi," and that practice has gone on for 22 years. We had no children, so "Nana" or "Grandmother" was out.

I truly love her or I wouldn't have written to her faithfully every week, keeping her posted on our activities. Probably because my own mother is living, to call another woman "Mother" or "Mom" would sound insincere and forced to me.

I know girls who call their mothers in law "Mother" to their faces, but you wouldn't print what they call them behind their backs.

NO PHONY

DEAR NO PHONY: Your explanation makes sense. I hope it serves to soothe some aching hearts.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Grants Recommended

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Criminal Justice Council executive committee recommended approval Friday of $624,524 in federal grants.

The grants recommended to Gov. Preston Smith included $6,250 to El Centro College in Dallas to offer 10 noncredit courses, as part of an experimental rehabilitation program, for prison inmates.

Other grants recommended to the governor include:

—$11,610 to plan police consolidation for Port Neches, Nederland and Groves in Southeast Texas.

—$43,889 for a juvenile and adult probation officer in Hale County.

—$45,462 to establish a system of volunteer probation officers in Tarrant County.

—$13,232 for the prison system to continue training inmates as electric linemen to work while they are in prison and later on the outside.

—$8,250 to allow Amarillo police to record all radio and telephone communications.

Bakers Request Price Hike

By DON DENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's bread bakers, citing a 43 per cent rise in wheat prices because of huge sales to the Soviet Union, again have asked the Price Commission to allow an increase of at least one penny per loaf.

Joseph M. Creed, general counsel for the American Bakers Assocation, said Friday that an industry-wide price hike is necessary if small bakeries are to survive.

The commission, which earlier turned down a similar request, told bakers on Oct. 24 that relief must be sought by individual firms on a case-by-case basis.

Noting that the commission has approved some bread price increases for large firms, Creed said smaller bakers still are suffering financially and "are bearing the brunt of Nixon administration economic restraints."

Creed said in a letter to the Price Commission dated Nov. 9, two days after the election, that the massive wheat sales to the Soviets last summer—some 400 million bushels, or one fourth of the U.S. crop—were the root cause of spiraling flour costs.

Figures provided by the bakers showed the amount of flour in a one-pound loaf of bread cost about four cents before the sale of wheat to Russia, but now costs bakers more than five cents.

Creed asked that the additional cost be "passed through" to consumers, meaning a bread price hike of at least one cent per loaf and perhaps more in retail stores.

The Agriculture Department, meanwhile, said Friday that wheat prices, the highest in nearly a decade, are likely to remain up for the foreseeable future.

Howard Payne Names New President

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — Howard Payne College has a new president today, Dr. Roger L. Brooks, former dean at East Texas State University.

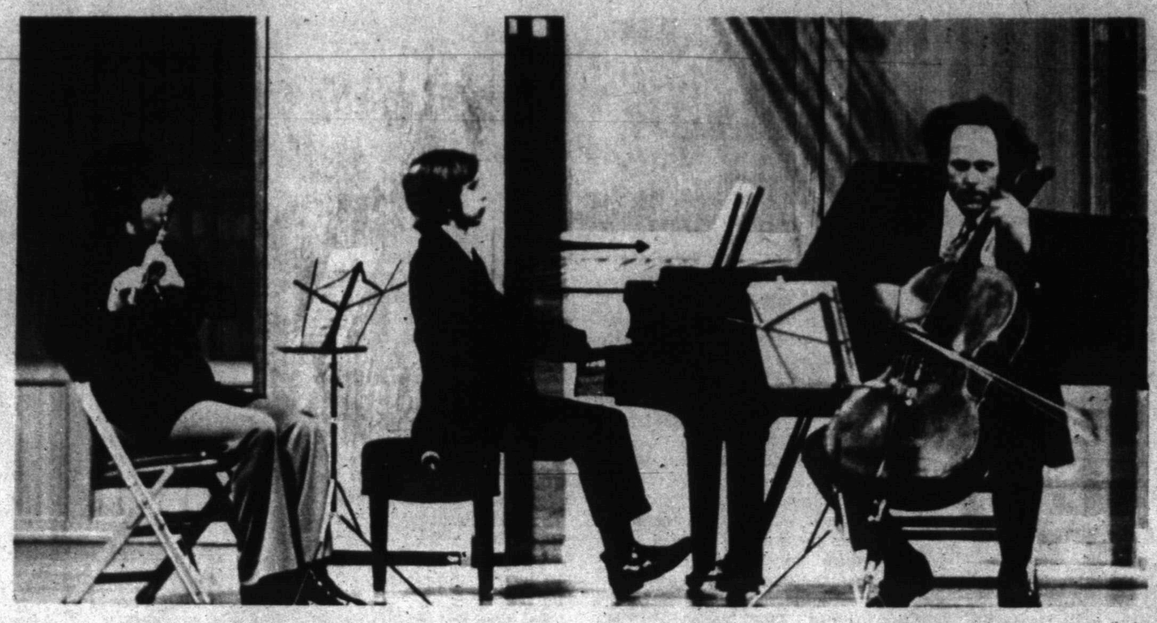

Brooks, 45, was named Friday to succeed Dr. Guy Newman. Newman, at his own request, was named to a new position as chancellor of the school's board of trustees.

A native of Arkansas, Brooks will assume his new post Jan. 1. He graduated from Baylor University and earned his doctorate from Colorado University.

Brooks was described by Paul Cates, president of the college board of trustees, as a "distinguished academician, highly qualified to lead Howard Payne as president."

Brooks is a Baptist deacon.

Traffic Death Up Slightly

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Traffic deaths in Texas continue to run slightly ahead of last year's pace, with 2,994 fatalities reported since Jan. 1, the Department of Public Safety said Saturday.

During the comparable period of 1971, 2,970 had died in motor vehicle accidents.

The DPS said there have been 2,513 fatal accidents this year, up 3 per cent from a year ago.
