Hollis To Head Chamber Office

Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce has a new manager effective Feb. 16.

Jack Hollis of Lake Colorado City was hired by the board of directors during Thursday's regular monthly meeting.

Hollis, 62, and his wife moved to the lake area about a year ago from Midland after he retired as a sales representative for Texas Electric Service Company.

Hollis has been active in community work and involved with the Midland Chamber of Commerce for more than 20 years.

He served on the chamber industrial team, membership committee and industrial site committee.

When asked why he had decided to retire at the lake, Hollis answered, "Because it is a good but cheap place to live." He stated his intentions to work with com-

Chamber of Commerce Thursday.

Andrew S. Kovich of Map and Brochures Company appeared before the board and requested the chamber sponsor the map project at a cost of $85.

He displayed several other maps produced by his company. Each map was printed on glossy paper and in color.

County Faces A Lengthy Agenda

It will be business as usual when Mitchell County Commissioners meet Monday at 1 p.m. in the courthouse on the 100th anniversary of the first commissioners court ever held in Mitchell County.

During the meeting, court members will open and award bids on two trucks and a water tank for use in Precinct Four.

Also on the agenda for consideration is a report from the Commission on Jail Standards in regard to their last inspection.

Commissioners will appoint a member to the library board to replace Roy Byrd who resigned and moved out of the county last month.

Tax Assessor-Collector Mike Burt will address the court in regard to the recent District Court trial in which Colorado Independent School District brought suit against Valero Energy Corporation (formerly Lo-Vaca Gathering Company) for non-payment of taxes.

The county is also owed back taxes by the company but due to technicalities did not participate in the suit.

A County Depository for 1981-82 will be designated by the court. Currently, the City National Bank serves as

Appraisal District Told No Courthouse Space

County Commissioners met with representatives from the Mitchell County Tax Appraisal District in a special called session Friday to discuss a possible location for the district's offices.

District Representative J.D. Clifton addressed the court and indicated the district will require about 1,500 square feet of space to accommodate the office personnel and equipment.

Clifton noted that this estimate of space was made by projecting future district needs.

Required in the space are a reception room, two private or semi-private offices, a store room, a map room, work area for six employees, restrooms and a board or meeting room.

This space is recommended by the state agency, Clifton said.

Required in the space

"The taxpayers are not going to stand still for tax dollars being used to construct a new building to house the district," Clifton said.

"So, we have come to the county to see if there is space available for us," he noted.

Clifton noted that the space would have to be accessible to the elderly or disabled.

During the discussion, it was suggested that the county and district tax offices be housed together in order to save the extra expense of sending separate statements.

County Attorney Pat Barber was contacted earlier and letter on the subject was written to the state's attorney general, requesting a ruling on the legalities of the situation. Answer to the request is not expected for several weeks.

Girl's Enthusiasm For Life Defeats Long List Of Illnesses

By DONNA WATSON "Debbieitis," what is it; where does it come from and where does it lead from here?

If these questions were asked of Debbie Kelly (remember the actress who portrayed Susy in "Wait Until Dark"), the answer would be a series of long term ailments that can't be explained and are currently leading her to an exciting and slightly frightening visit to New York.

If these questions were asked of one of the many acquaintances Mrs. Kelly has made since moving to Colorado City six months ago, the answer might well be, an infectious laugh, enthusiasm for life and love of God, all leading to happiness and contentment in life.

If these questions were asked of the many physicians who have treated Mrs. Kelly in the past ten years, the answers would be a little more difficult to understand because most of the physical problems this 25-year-old woman has suffered have long technical names.

Debbie Kelly is, in fact, making medical history as her body continues to function daily despite repeated predictions by members of the medical profession that it will fail.

Although, the wonders of modern medicine can and do effect "miracle" cures all across the world, the mystery of why and how the human body functions as it does continues to baffle men of medicine.

Mrs. Kelly's almost continual contact with physicians began when she was 15-years-of-age. At that time, she and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Staats, lived in Kansas. She has two brothers and a sister, Dwight, Dwayne and Dianne.

The family, except for Dianne, has since moved to Colorado City. Walter Staats is a coach and teacher in high school and Mrs. Staats is employed as a secretary at the Chiropractic Health Clinic.

"Up until age 15, I had been perfectly normal," Mrs. Kelly said. Then quickly asked, "Of course, what is normal?"

Mrs. Kelley, then Miss Staats, was affected at that time by what doctors first diagnosed as some type virus.

For two years, Mrs. Kelly was treated almost continually for diarrhea.

"This would happen at least twelve times a day and I would have about a 40 second warning," Mrs. Kelly said.

She suffered side effects from the drugs. Muscle and skin tissues began to break down and salt deposits began to form in ankle and shoulder joints.

The cause of the diarrhea went undiagnosed for that two years and the affliction became known as "Debbieitis."

"It was very hard to be 15 and not potty trained," she jokingly remarked.

"I give most of the credit for surviving the problem to my parents. When I went to the hospital that first time,

Saturday is Valentine's Day, a bit commercialized but still a special day to show how you feel about that unique person in your life. Even a card can bring a smile and a special feeling of being loved.

I'd like to take this time to say "Happy Valentine's Day!" to my family, friends and loved ones.

It is nice to have the hostages home, but I feel the situation, as a whole, was blown a little out of proportion. I think it probably had a lot to do with the Presidential election and the fact that the United States needed a crisis to bring it together, a need to work with each other.

Since the Viet Nam War, or Conflict as it was referred to, we have not really been united and I believe it took this to create unity and patriotism that we needed. In the same way, everyone worked together when the United States went to war with Japan in World War II. It's like we're a great big family that has to stick together to survive.

I don't know if many people have watched "That's Incredible," a weekly show that comes on television. I have only watched it a couple of times and it is really fascinating, that is if it isn't so far-fetched.

I am not from Missouri, but I am the kind of person that doesn't believe everything I'm told. I need some evidence to make up my mind. This show actually shows you and even then, it is a little hard to comprehend.

One particular segment of the show last week was about a man and his German Shepherd dogs. The thing that was so remarkable about the dogs was they actually understood everything he was saying.

A question that amused me was when he asked the dog how much 3 x 4 was and I was sitting there waiting for the dog to bark 12 times or something along that line. But the dog went and picked out this card with a 12 written on it. Not more than a minute later, he asked the dog the first numeral he used in the multiplication. The dog then went and picked out a card with a 3 written on it.

This really makes me think a little too. I might treat Graysey (my cat) with a little more respect.

Inventions and new "whatchamacallits" never cease to amaze me. Have you ever heard of a "Cangaroo"? Me neither, that was until the other day. A "Cangaroo" isn't this giant mouse with a pouch carrying his little one around but, in fact, it is a self-service aluminum beverage can recycling machine.

Hollis was hired by the board on a part-time basis, a minimum of 20 hours a week, at a salary of $350 monthly, plus $150 for expenses.

He was hired on a six month trial basis.

They were Kelley Dockrey, Yancy Spivey, Mark Piland, Marjori Maddox, Kim Hardegree, Toni Hutto, Robert Godina, Julie Davila, Laurie Mercer and Kim Fuller.

The high school stage band launched the show, playing John Lennon's "Yesterday" and "And I Love Her." The theme song to "Hart To Hart" was also played.

Conductor of the stage band was Don Chandler. Featured in the trumpet section were John Ballard, Robert Gomez, Mike Griffith and Charles Dillard.

Billy Gilstrap and Trey Cade played the trombone.

Tracy Womack accompanied the band on the piano.

Bass player was Ronney Womack and the drummer was Jon Horton.

Karla Joiner, Kerry Wright, Melissa Gorham, Tanya Sorrells and Kelley Dockrey all participated in the saxophone section.

Dwight Staats and Mike Bailey presented a magic show.

Dwight Staats portrayed the "Best Magician in the World" and Mike Bailey was "Bertha the Beautiful."

The flag corp did a rainbow flag routine to "Rainbow Connection"

from the Muppet Movie.

A routine to the theme of the "Electric Horseman" was done by the twirlers.

Closing the evening were the cheerleaders dancing to the modern day version of "Yankee Doodle."

Commissioners will consider appointment of County Clerk Joan Beach as acting registrar for births and deaths in Precinct Four.

State Department of Highways Representative Joe Smoot will speak to the court on the subject of the proposed new farm to market road right-of-ways.

A revenue sharing budget workshop date will be set by the court and Mrs. Beach will request extra office personnel for use in the county clerk's office.

Commissioners will discuss a cost break possibility on the purchase of products from American Petrofina with sales department representative Bob Renshaw.

Commissioners have also been requested to reconsider approval of Mitchell County as a flood prone area under federal guidelines.

This decision would enable insurance companies to furnish flood insurance to some area residents.

taxpayer would receive one bill and make payment at one place.

He noted this was looking down the road two or three years.

Hunter said the bill will probably be changed to some degree in the next few years and noted there are several items of legislation now under consideration which apply to the bill.

"At the present time, it is the decision of each entity whether or not to go into the collection part of this," Hunter said.

Clifton indicated he believes it will save taxpayers money ultimately if the change is made the first time and not made in several steps along the way.

Hunter noted he would not like to see the county enter into the collection phase unless all the other entities involved decided to enter, too.

Commissioner Johnny Shackelford suggested a meeting of all of the entity representatives be called to discuss the situation.

Commissioners decided there is no space in the courthouse that is available that would meet the district's requirements.

The tax district is currently housed in the Colorado Independent School District Administration Building.

If the district elects to remain in the building, a request will probably be made for county assistance in constructing a parking area to accommodate taxpayers.

The district is currently using the CISD Building without cost to the district.

The unique self-service machine is an experiment of the Alcoa Company for consumers to recycle aluminum cans in the grocery stores. Procedure is: you put your empty cans into the machine and receive a penny apiece.

Alcoa is trying to increase the rate of aluminum cans being returned for recycling which now is about 35 per cent across the nation. Recycling aluminum saves 95 per cent of the energy required to produce new aluminum from ore.

There were 7.6 billion aluminum cans recycled by Alcoa in 1980, which is about 331 million pounds of aluminum. Another interesting fact is that this is equivalent to 3.3 million barrels of oil and the consumer received more than 90 million dollars by returning the used cans.

San Angelo will be the closest place where "Cangaroos" will be available. It was decided to test the "Cangaroo" in San Angelo because of its population, the ready availability of aluminum containers and the presence of three Safeway Stores, as that is where they will be placed.

Faster than you can say, "What will they think up next?" someone will come up with another startling invention.

Wisdom is defined in lots of ways and it means different things to different people, but this really seems to be the best, written by Dickens, "A loving heart is the truest wisdom."

From that time on, my

"It made things a lot

just accepted it," she said.

After hundreds of tests and several major clinics, the first attack
of "Debbieitis" was finally diagnosed as ulserated colitis (a disease
of the lining of the large intestine).

In October, 1975, surgeons performed an ileo-stomy on Mrs. Kelly.

"This is a process whereby they remove the large intestine and bring the small intestine
through an opening in the wall of the abdomen.
The rectum is sewn together and a disposable plastic bag is attached to the stoma (outside of the open intestine)
where it comes through the abdomen," Mrs.
Kelly said.

The operation relieved the diarrhea and she went to college and lived in the dorm with other women.

"I named the bag Illabell and although the girls at school were interested, most accepted
the bag. Most were surprised to find I wore the bag because it can't be seen under clothing,"
Mrs. Kelly said.

"I try to explain to people that the bag is really a blessing. Before the bag, I couldn't comfortably go on dates or take trips. Now I go camping and even diving," she said.

The bag is changed
whenever necessary in a five minute process.
"It becomes a normal
part of the body," she
said.

Mrs. Kelly faced another medical ordeal
when in July, 1976, it became necessary for surgeons to remove her spleen.

The spleen began to enlarge, she suffered acute anemia and, as her blood count began to drop, the spleen enlarged from the average
five ounce organ to a five pound organ.

Testing began again,
this time for blood disorders, such as leukemia and cancer disorders of the lymph glands. The spleen was removed and the blood count came back to normal. Then, after a short while, it dropped again.

Doctors began giving her treatments of chemotherapy and once again, between the miracle of medicine and the unknown powers of the human body to heal itself, Debbie Kelly found herself on the road to recovery.

Near disaster hit again two weeks later
when, due to her weakened condition, she was stricken with hepatitis and yellow jaundice. Again the prognosis was not good, her body had suffered too
many traumas and the doctors were pessimistic about her recovery.

However, whether through her own self determination or the modern wonders of medicine, she did recover and returned to college and a normal life style.

"We joke about that period in my life. My mother says it's her fault that I got the jaundice because she prayed my paleness would be replace by color and I turned yellow," Mrs.
Kelly said.

For the next two years, Debbie Kelly lived a full and normal life. She met and married her husband, Tom,
in 1978. She continued her education and they moved to Odessa in 1979.

Then, problems began to develop with her health again. She was continually threatened by lung disorders such as pneumonia.

"Another seige of diarrhea began. This time
it frightened me because everything had already been done medically that could be done.
I went back to the doctor who had treated me
before in Kansas," she
said.

She spent three weeks
there, away from her husband for the first time, alone and somewhat frightened.

Doctors performed a biopsy on the small intestine and treated her
for dehydration.

Tests proved negative
and she returned to Texas where she went through Scott and White
Medical Center in Temple.

There, the reason for her diarrhea was diagnosed as "Spru" or eating too much wheat and flour. The tiny fingers
within the intestine
walls had worn away
and her food was going straight through her system. Her diet was restricted at that point
and she stayed on the diet until January, 1980.

Mrs. Kelly weighed 76 pounds when she began her diet and now weighs 105 and eats normally.

Her good health remained until April when her feet began to swell
and her hemoglobin
dropped.

In high spirits and not in the least tired, she said she went to the doctor and was surprised to learn how low her blood count was.

She was given trans-fusions and specialists
were contacted and chemotherapy was undertaken again.

Now the real work began, her body had ceased to produce red blood cells. Medication was given to try to shock the body back to normal.

They failed and a condition of extreme anemia existed. Mrs. Kelly was given high dosages of gamma globulin.

She and her husband
moved to Colorado City,
where he contracted to
teach in Middle School.
Blood transfusions continued, then, Mrs. Kelly was referred to a research clinic in New York.

She and her husband
moved to Colorado City
where he contracted to
teach in Middle School
and she began work for Thompson and Rees in January. Blood transfusions continued, then Mrs. Kelly was referred to a research clinic in New York.

Fees for the clinic are paid through government funding. Lodging and food are included in the funding, but transportation must be paid
for by the patient.

At the clinic, doctors made many tests and spoke of bone marrow
transplants, Mrs. Kelly recalled.

Red blood cells are produced by bone marrow, she said, and a donor is necessary for the transplant.

In this case, her two brothers and sister were tested.

One brother qualified
and one was eliminated,
her sister proved to be the most likely candidate for the transplant

donor.

Mrs. Kelly returned to Colorado City and will go back to New York
Feb. 18 for more testing
and a look at a sterilization unit in which she will live for several weeks following the transplant.

This will be necessary because all of Mrs.
Kelly's bone marrow
will be removed and radiation used to eliminate her own body's resistance before the transplant takes place.

Bone marrow will be removed from the spine
of the donor with a long
needle and given to Mrs.
Kelly intravenously (like a blood transfusion).

The bone marrow will seek its own location in the bones, Mrs. Kelly
said.

She will then be given large amounts of antibiotics to reduce the chance of infection.

Mrs. Kelly's mother, Mrs. Walter Staats, will follow her daughters to the clinic to give moral support once the testing
is completed.

"This is something I have to face myself, so I am going up alone this time and if the tests are positive, Tom will join me later," Mrs. Kelly
said.

"I do a lot better by myself because when he's there, I tend to lean too heavily on him and feel sorry for myself,"
she said.

"When this all started, I felt cheated and like it was unfair. I was missing proms and all the things teenagers normally enjoy. I was full of hate, because I didn't understand.

"Finally, I realized
there are more important things than school
proms and I realized
what those who care for me feel," she said.

"This thing has brought Tom and I closer together and our faith in God has gone a long way toward helping us. We cry together and we pray together.

"One day not too long ago, I found myself praying to God to make me well, then I suddenly realized how often God had answered my prayers. He has made me well one disease at a time.

"Sometimes I wonder what I would have been like if I hadn't gotten sick and I don't think I would have been as happy as I am right now or have appreciated life as much," she said.

Mrs. Kelly and her husband, in their spare time, visit with persons who have similar problems and explain how much better life can be through the modern miracle of medicine.

She has also given talks to nurses on the subject of the ileostomy
and the problems these patients face.

with today's technology.

Lovingly handcrafted in natural oak and antique nickel trim, the Country Junction phone is a classic that blends with period settings and makes an attractive statement with the crisp,
cool lines of contemporary taste.

No matter where the telephone is placed — kitchen, den, family room, living area — this is a phone that will be seen and admired. Because it has modular components, installing it is as easy
as hanging a picture.

In a busy, bustling world, the Country
Junction telephone is a pleasant reminder of those times when all phone conversations began with the voice that smiled.

"I like the people I work with and the members we serve,"
says Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative billing and data processing clerk Sue Taylor. "I also enjoy the everyday challenge of the job that makes even the routine exciting!"
she adds.

Sue began her career with Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative as a cashier in 1969. Since that time, she has moved up the ladder and today stays quite busy meeting deadlines for member billing and data processing.

Sue and her husband, Bill, have two sons. They are Randy ployed by the Cosden Oil and Chemical Company of Big Spring.

In her free time, Sue most enjoys being with friends and family, and she likes to camp, fish, and work with crafts.

All told, we at Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative are glad to have Sue Taylor aboard, and we hope when our members are in the area of the Cooperative headquarters building in Colorado City, they'll stop by to say "hi!"

Safety In Every Aspect Is Number One Concern With Dowell Employees

By LULU TURNER
Dowell Safety Week will be observed by the 77 Colorado City Dowell employees as they join some 6,500 Dowell employees nationwide, in an effort to work on safety precautions and safety orientation.

This is the third annual "National Safety Week" and there will be three sessions where all of the men employed with Dowell will attend one. They are set for Monday through Wednesday at 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. in the C.C. Thompson Room.

According to Haskell Rogers, district manager for Dowell's Colorado City district, the men will be divided into three groups in order to continue their service in the fields.

"Safety is always foremost in the minds of Dowell employees," commented Rogers. "Our motto is, 'If it can't be done safely, don't do it,' and we live by that motto."

As a result of the awareness of safety by Dowell employees, they have achieved one of the best records in the industry. In 1980, the employees of the division completed the safest year in Dowell's history, stated Rogers.

According to Roland

Powell, safety and training supervisor, "Every Dowell employee goes through driver training before ever getting behind the wheel of Dowell equipment."

Pat Gill, district service manager, said that every Dowell employee wears nomex, a fire retardant clothing, hard hats, safety shoes and safety glasses on the job.

Before every job begins, the employees have a safety meeting to determine how the job can be accomplished in the safest possible manner, Gill said.

"But most importantly," Gill added, "we strive for safety all the time, every day of the year. During 'Dowell Safety Week,' we stress this attention to safety even more and look for ways to make our work environment even safer. That makes everybody happy; Dowell, the employee, our families at home and our customers who benefit from better, more dependable service."

Rogers said that Dowell is a division of Dow Chemical U.S.A., and provides services such as cementing, well stimulation and drilling fluids to the oil and gas industries, as well as industrial cleaning services and mining and construction services. The Colorado City office is only one of 150 locations throughout the United States that provides these services to the customers.

The correct operation of equipment is important safety.

Before jobs, equipment has to be interchanged and checked to insure safety.

Safety is a must with the heavy equipment in the shop.

Before any job, all employees are briefed by their engineer on the job, weather, road conditions, etc...

The most hazardous conditions prevail in the field and employees tackle each job with precaution.

Big Spring State Hospital To Conduct Seminar Friday

The Big Spring State Hospital will conduct an alcoholism seminar Friday, Feb. 13. It will be held in the auditorium at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Speed Kills
Slow Down
And Live

These seminars are made possible through the Big Spring State Hospital and are being held in conjunction with Howard College.

Sue Jane White, certified alcoholism counselor and consultant-trainer, currently in private practice in Austin, will be the consultant for the day-long seminar.

Ms. White has also worked as consultant-trainer with the Texas Commission on Alcoholism, served on the faculty for the Annual Institute of Alcohol Studies and as State Project Director for the Texas Association for the Prevention of Alcohol and Drug Abuse.

This seminar will be of interest to those working in the field of alcoholism and to those of the general public who are interested in learning more about this problem. This seminar will involve reacquainting ourselves with our own most basic resource as helpers, ourselves! What we do, who we are is basically what it is about. It will be a time for refocusing on the basics of helping—our humanness, our skills and our attitudes. The goal of the day will be to clarify our role as helper and ourselves in that role and to share practical, useful skills and experience with people who do the same thing.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. The general session will begin at 9 a.m. A registration fee of $1 will be charged, with an additional charge of $1 for those wishing to receive Continuing Education Units from Howard College. (Persons wishing to receive credit for attendance will be expected to remain the entire day).

The theme for the day will be "Back To The Basics of Helping." Additional information may be obtained from Clyde J. Alsop, Training Officer, Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Program, Big Spring State Hospital.

Play For Deaf Is Planned

"Play of Our Own-III," a three-act play written by an instructor at the Southwest College Institute for the Deaf of Howard College in Big Spring will be performed March 12, 13 and 14 in the Howard College Auditorium in Big Spring.

Stephen Baldwin, author of the play, will produce and direct the play with a cast of SWCID staff members and residents of Big Spring.

Baldwin wrote the play in 1979 and it premiered in Boston the same year before a crowd of 600.

The play is being sponsored by SWCID. Admission is $2 for students, $3 for people over 65 and $4 for everyone else. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Performances will begin at 8 p.m. each night.

Baldwin, who is an instructor in the Preparatory Programs Division at SWCID, will make his professional acting debut May 20 in Dallas in the Tony-Award-winning play "Children of a Lesser God."

This is the first time Colorado City has hosted a twirling meet but they hope to make this an annual event, stated Ms. Hines.

Timothy Lelek

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I have some small and large antiques on display in my store. I placed them there for all to enjoy, but, would you believe, someone (and I know who) took a pair of gold rimmed granny eye glasses from the display.

Sure, they were available but there are some things that are worth more than money and that was the value to me.

Someone took a small cup of Santa Claus from the display during Christmas that had belonged to my children when they were little.

Don't people have any values or standards anymore?

If anyone has these items, please place them back where you got them (no questions asked).

I thank you in advance.

Foster Parents Needed For Neglected And Abused Children In County

Battered, abused and neglected children need temporary homes in this area.

Orand Carroll of the Department of Human Resources is travelling throughout the district to try to locate possible foster parents for these children.

"It is the main goal of our department to provide temporary care for children until their own home environment can be made safe and suitable for their development," Carroll said.

"We believe a child has the right to physical care, education and emotional nurturing," Carroll said.

Foster parentry is a commitment to provide a meaningful period in a child's life, it is not a lifetime commitment to the child, he noted.

People should be aware of the differences between adoption and foster parenthood, since some people mistakenly assume fostering is a stepping stone to adoption, he said.

"We sometimes have foster parents adopt, but if a couple is looking for adoption, they need to go that route. What we need are people who are willing to provide some temporary care for a child or children," Carroll emphasized.

There are currently four foster homes in Snyder, two in Sweetwater and one in Mitchell County.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Howell, natives of Colorado City, have been foster parents for two years and have had two children in their home during this period.

Mrs. Howell stated,

"We have enjoyed it very much. It has its ups and downs, but overall, it has been very rewarding."

Children who are placed in these homes have been before a judge and ordered placed in a temporary home.

"During their stay with a foster family, the state reimburses for expenses and medical bills incurred by the child."

"We try to consider the whole picture when accepting foster parents. If a single person has a good stable environment for a child and has adequate child care arrangements, we may place a child with them rather than seek a couple situation," Carroll said.

"Some of the children will have medical problems from abuse or neglect. A case worker will continue to work with the child and family after placement to assist with any problems."

"The state also provides for a 15 hour training course and workshops," Carroll said.

"We try to keep placements as short as possible because of the emotional attachments formed by the foster parents and the child," Carroll stated.

Once a foster parent has applied, placement of a child in the home is strictly on a voluntary basis.

There are many qualifications required to become a foster parent.

References are required, medical examination for tuberculosis must be made for both foster parents and their children and environmental regulations are specific.

"The period of the stay may be from an emergency overnight stay to a stay of several months," Carroll said.

Musical Program Presented At Meet

Beta Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma presented a musical program for the membership, featuring Frank Bassham, organist and pianist, Tuesday night at 7 p.m. in the C.C. Thompson Room.

Hosting the meeting were Mmes. Orin Feaster, Lynn Halbert and John Merritt.

Mrs. Caddo Matthews introduced the local musician who shared his talent all through his school years here. Bassham explained the melody he had put together. It included a wide range; popular, patriotic, religious and classical. He used his own electronic organ, bringing out its broad range in tone, resonance and balance.

Mrs. Matthews led the group in a sing along. Mrs. Earline Sellier accompanied on the piano. Refreshments were served between the program and business meeting.

Mrs. Halbert presided at the coffee service. Mrs. Feaster and Mrs. Majors served cheese cake topped with cherries. A gilded candelabra entwined with grape leaves and grapes held six tapers.

President Sellier presented Mrs. Robert Aycock, Jr., who explained the Time Capsule which she held, then opened for the Delta Kappa Gammas to fill with pictures, forecasts and any other thing which would have a later value. The capsule will be opened in 1986.

Committees were appointed in preparation for Area X Regional Meeting to be held in Colorado City in the Fall.

Committees are as follows: Decorations and place cards: Mrs. C.C. Burt, Mrs. Aycock, Mrs. H.H. Bodine, Mrs. Newby Pratt and Mrs. Martin Weaver.

Coffee: Mrs. J.S. Craddock, Jr., Mrs. Bunky Girvin, Halbert, Mrs. Buck Geer, Mrs. Merritt and Mrs. Arnel Smith.

Program and Invitations: Mrs. Gerald Gordon, Mrs. O.B. Trulock, Jr., and Mrs. A.G. Furlow, Jr.

Registration and Fees: Mrs. Bass Hines, Mrs. Byron Bruce and Mrs. Ben Sparks.

Publicity: Mrs. W.D. Conaway and Mrs. Bob Ratliff.

Place and luncheon menu: Mrs. Curtis Latimer, Mrs. Jerry Reynolds and Mrs. M.N. New.

Music: Mrs. Trulock and Mrs. Matthews.

President's Breakfast: Mrs. Godwin and Mrs. Feaster.

Next meeting will be March 17 in the home of Mrs. Ben Sparks.

Chili Supper Slated

The youth of the St. Luke's Methodist Church will have their annual chili supper Wednesday from 5:30 p.m. until 7 p.m. in the church.

The children are having the chili supper to raise money for youth projects.

Everyone is invited to the supper.

Joann Jameson

Jameson Receives Honor At Howard College Recently

Joann Jameson of Colorado City and a sophomore at Howard College, was named to the Howard College Cum Laude Honors List, announced Dr. Bobby Wright, vice president for instruction at Howard College. Jameson was among 66 Howard College students to make the honors list.

In order to qualify for the honors list, a student must be enrolled in at least 15 solid hours, which excludes physical education and orientation.

In addition, the student must have 48, 49 or 50 grade points and no grade below a C to be named to the Cum Laude Honors List.

Gregory Is Named To Head CF Drive

Ann Gregory has accepted the Chairmanship of the 1981 Cystic Fibrosis Spring Special Event to be held in Colorado City.

Proceeds from the fund-raising event will support the research, education and care programs of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Cystic Fibrosis (CF), the number one genetic killer of children, is an inherited, incurable disease affecting the lungs and digestive system of its young victims. CF claims three lives every day.

Approximately one in every 20 Americans is a symptomless carrier of the recessive CF gene. At present, there is no test to identify these 10 million people who might pass on the gene or the disease to their children.

Children born with CF today have a 50 per cent chance of reaching their 19th birthday.

Moore is planning a concert for July 4 as a part of the centennial celebration.

Jay Boy Adams and his country band have been contacted to perform for the concert along with two other bands.

Moore offered to allow the chamber to sponsor a share of the $10,000 estimated cost of producing the concert in return for that same share in the profits.

Mrs. Perkin said the centennial committee plans to produce the concert even if the chamber decides not to share in the cost. She said the committee anticipates between $40,000 and $50,000 in ticket sales for the concert. The committee believes it would be an opportunity for the chamber to share in a money making project.

Board members expressed interest in the project and will make a decision after more details are presented.

A request from the Opt-Ms Club for financial assistance to support the youth basketball program was denied by board members and a board policy was passed that the chamber not donate money to outside organizations unless a project is co-sponsored by the chamber.

Committee chairmen were appointed during the board meeting.

Van Mills will head the agricultural committee; Eddie Piland will be in charge of the business and industrial committee and Joe Kirschbaum will oversee the governmental affairs committee.

Mac Perkin was appointed to head the merchants' committee; Rick Schaffer will be in charge of the Fly-In and Brad Rose will head the housing committee.

Mildred Free was selected to be in charge of the annual chamber banquet and Rick Schaffer will also head the cultural committee.

Betty Williams will preside over the ambassadors and John Lowrance will head the highways and parks committee.

Barbara Gray was appointed to be in charge of the educational committee; Travis Cawthron will oversee the rodeo and Mac Perkin is in charge of arts and crafts committee. Brian Bassham will co-chair this committee.

Omero Valdez will act as sports and tourist committee head and Betty Williams is in charge of the chamber centennial committee.

Murrell Blassingame will direct the membership committee efforts.
