Policy Issues On Tap

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Continued federal funding of Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty will be the first of a series of foreign policy issues confronting Congress when it returns from a month-long summer recess Wednesday. The Senate has scheduled four hours of debate on a bill to authorize $50.2 million of financial assistance to the two radios for the 12 months that began July 1.

Other foreign policy issues awaiting final decision are the size and shape of the foreign aid program, operating-fund authorization for the State Department, and legislation to limit the war-making powers of the President.

The bill to fund Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty under a new Board for International Broadcasting was approved 13-3 in July by the Foreign Relations Committee.

Those voting against it were Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansifeld, D-Mont., and Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., acting chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Fulbright has offered an amendment to require the two radios, to get at least half their operating money from non-federal sources, beginning next year.

The two radios, long financed secretly by the Central Intelligence Agency, began their broadcasts of news and political commentary to listeners in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe in the early 1950's.

Fulbright views the radios as a perpetuation of cold war irritants in an era of increasing normalcy in Soviet-American relations.

Congress uncovered CIA involvement in the radios January 1971 and last year, for the first time publicly provided $39.7 million to fund them through the year. At the same time, a presidental commission headed by Dr. Milton Eisenhower was appointed to examine their activities.

The commission determined that the radios still are performing a worthwhile function and recommended continued federal support to supplement meager non-governmental contributions.

Later this month the Senate will act on a $1.2 billion foreign economic aid program with priorities on food production, population planning and health, education and human resource development.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Sept. 3, the 246th day of 1973. It is Labor Day. There are 119 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1783, the Revolutionary War between the United States and Great Britain ended officially with the signing of the Treaty of Paris.

On this date—

In 1826, the USS Vincennes, an American warship, left New York harbor to circumnavigate the globe - the first warship to accomplish the feat.

In 1894, the United States observed Labor Day as a legal holiday for the first time.

In 1916, the Allies turned back the Germans at Verdun, in France, in World War I.

In 1917, the Allies invaded the mainland of Italy in World War II.

In 1925, the U.S. Navy dirigible Shenandoah was torn apart in a storm over Ohio, killing 14 crewmen.

In 1930, some 2,000 lives were lost in a hurricane which struck the Dominican Republic

Ten years ago: The Soviet Union cast its 101st veto to block a UN resolution condemning the killing of two Israelis by Syrians.

Five years ago: Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota said he would not become a fourth party presidential candidate.

One year ago: U.S. Air Force jets wrecked one of North Vietnam's biggest air bases 10 miles north of Hanoi.

HOTEL DEATH TRAP—General view of the top floors of the back buildings of the Copenhagen downtown hotel "Hafnia" after being swept by fire in the early morning hours Saturday. Police say majority of victims were trapped here as flames scorched through staircases and corridors. Death toll now exceeds 30 and bodies are still found in debris, charred and almost impossible to identify.

Man Held In Hotel Fire

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Police are holding a 34-year-old Danish convict who allegedly told other survivors of the Hafnia Hotel fire that he was responsible for Saturday's blaze in which 35 persons died.

The police filed a charge of willful arson against Bent Willy Nielsen. A magistrate's court ordered him held for a week while the police investigated further.

Nielsen, who was on leave from prison, denied the charge, and the magistrate noted that the police had presented no proof of arson.

Nielsen checked into the hotel under a false name an hour before the fire broke out, escaped fully dressed soon after the fire started and was taken to a hospital for treatment though he was unhurt. The police said he told an American couple at the hospital, "Isn't it terrible, and it's all my fault."

Nielsen denied this when he was brought to court Sunday. He said he was in bed when he smelled smoke, found the corridor filled with smoke, dressed quickly and stood at his window shouting until a fireman took him down a ladder.

He said he had registered under a false name because he was violating the conditions of his prison leave by staying in a hotel.

Libya To Raise Oil Prices 30%

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Libyan government plans to follow up its nationalization of the oil industry in Libya with a 30 per cent increase in oil prices and will no longer accept U.S. dollars in payment, the Beirut newspaper Al Anwar reported today.

It quoted Libyan Premier Abdel Salam Jalloud as saying the price of Libyan oil will be raised to $6 a barrel, which is more than double the price of Persian Gulf crude as well as 30 per cent higher than current prices in Libya.

Jalloud's announcement was certain to shake Western oil customers with fears of a chain reaction of price increases by the Persian Gulf states.

When Libya took over 51 per cent of Occidental Petroleum's Libyan holdings in July, the parent American company agreed to buy the production from its former concessions for $4.90 a barrel for 40-degree gravity crude. That was 30 cents a barrel over posted prices.

A Libyan decree Saturday nationalized 51 per cent of the remaining foreign oil companies in Libya: Amoseas Oil Co., jointly owned by Texaco and Standard Oil of California; Mobil Oil; the Esso Standard group including Atlantic Richfield, and Royal Dutch Shell.

Christine, Delia Gain Strength

By JON BRODER
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tropical Storm Delia will likely reach hurricane force by late today and is expected to strike the Louisiana coast sometime Tuesday, the National Hurricane Center said.

If Delia reaches hurricane strength — sustained winds of over 74 miles an hour — it will be the third hurricane of the 1973 Atlantic season.

At 6 a.m. today, Delia, with winds reaching 60 miles an hour, was centered near latitude 25.0 north and longitude 89.0 west or about 340 miles south-southeast of New Orleans. The storm was moving north-northwest at about 10 m.p.h., according to Robert Simpson of the National Hurricane Center.

Tropical storm Christine, which had been losing strength late Saturday, began to intensify. At 6 a.m. today, Christine was packing maximum sustained winds of 60 m.p.h. and was moving west-northwest at 9 m.p.h. It was centered at latitude 16.3 north and longitude 59.3 west or about 1,600 miles southeast of Miami.

Simpson said Christine would pass near Antigua tonight.

Delia developed rapidly from a depression that formed Saturday between Cuba and Mexico's Yucutan Peninsula and moved into the southern Gulf early Sunday. Simpson said Delia was expected to hit land within two days.

"Delia is of more critical importance right now," Simpson said. "She's a fast developer and her chances of her becoming a hurricane before she reaches the coast are very good. But one can never be sure."

A tropical storm becomes a hurricane when its sustained winds reach 74 miles per hour.

Delia Is Threat To Some Texans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Weather Service said it likely would issue a hurricane watch for the northern third of the Texas Gulf Coast later today as tropical storm Delia intensified and moved northwest toward Texas.

The storm this morning was about 400 miles southeast of Galveston, moving northwest at 12 miles per hour, with top winds at 60 miles an hour.

Weathermen said the Texas coast from Orange to Wharton likely would be threatened later should the storm continue on its present course.

Since a tropical storm or hurricane often changes course with little warning, coast dwellers were advised to keep close watch on the situation.

At the same time a new cool front was starting to shove southward through the Texas Panhandle, touching off thundershowers in that section while other were scattered from the coastal plains into Central Texas.

Temperatures near dawn sagged to 55 degrees at Dalhart, in the Panhandle behind the forward edge of the latest front, while it was still 78 at Galveston and 79 at Corpus Christi on the coast.

These compared with top marks Sunday afternoon as high as 98 at Mineral Wells and San Angelo.

With damp air flowing inland from the Gulf of Mexico, forecasts promised thundershowers spreading deeper into the state along the cool front while others fell along the coast and out over the Gulf.

Snyderites Take Holiday

Many Snyder area residents were taking a holiday today as the nation observed Labor Day.

Most retail business firms were closed, along with offices. The city hall and courthouse offices were closed, along with those of other government agencies, and public schools had suspended classes for the holiday.

Normal business activity is scheduled to resume Tuesday.

At that time, Western Texas College will greet students for its fall term. Dormitories on the campus will be open tomorrow and registration of sophomores is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. Public schools will resume there classes that have been underway since Aug. 22.

Besieged Capital Gets Aid

PHNOM PENH (AP) — A Cambodian navy convoy reached the besieged provincial capital of Kompong Cham today with reinforcements and U.S. arms and ammunition, the Phnom Penh command reported.

It said the 14-boat convoy completed the voyage from Phnom Penh up the Mekong River in 25 hours with little resistance.

The command reported earlier that five government soldiers were killed in the latest battle at Kompong Cham, 47 miles northeast of Phnom Penh. The city has been cut off for two weeks.

The command also said that only half a mile of Phnom Penh's highway to the sea remained to be cleared of insurgent forces after hard fighting Sunday in which 13 government troops were killed.

A communique said Highway 4 was still blocked at Sala Kruos, 15 miles west of Phnom Penh. The government claimed the Khmer Rouge insurgents suffered heavy losses Sunday, and in addition to admitting 13 government troops killed, it said two armored personnel carriers were destroyed and three were damaged.

In another battle about 11 miles south of Phnom Penh, at Kompong Kantuolt on Highway 38, the government claimed about 50 Khmer Rouge killed but gave no details.

In Phnom Penh, a terrorist threw a hand grenade into a police booth in a market, wounding two policemen standing next to the booth and slightly wounding three nearby women vendors. The terrorist escaped into the crowd of morning shoppers.

Nation Marks Labor Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As much of the Eastern Seaboard and Midwest kept sweltering amid a prolonged heat wave, millions of Americans took to beaches and the mountains today for a last fling of summer.

Few traditional Labor Day parades were planned, but labor leaders fired off their customary blasts at politicians — with the Nixon administration and its economic controls a prime target.

The National Safety Council in Chicago estimated that the long weekend would claim 550 to 650 lives in highway crashes, drownings and other accidents.

Muggy 90-degree weather continued to predominate east of the Mississippi, but cold rains and icy temperatures were reported in some plains and mountain state areas. There was snow above the 8,000-foot level in Utah.

In Miami, forecasters at the National Hurricane Center kept close watch on two rapidly developing tropical storms. One storm, Delia, was reported moving northward toward the central Gulf of Mexico states.

Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, was among labor leaders lashing out against current economic policies. He noted that food prices have gone up 21 per cent in the past year.

"The 'business of the people' has fallen on hard times — the business of the great corporations prospers as never before," said Woodcock.

Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan conceded that "there are still problems facing our economy that we must work together to solve." But Brennan said "we can look back over a year of real gains — for all Americans." He cited an employment rise of nearly 3 million jobs.

In Chicago, some 100 Wobblies showed up for a convention of the Industrial Workers of the World, a left-oriented union founded in 1905. Most of the delegates from the United States and Canada were college graduates in their 20s, but old-timers didn't seem to mind.

DEATH TOLL MOUNTS

Violence Takes No Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four motorists died in a single shattering highway crash and the violent death toll mounted steadily for the Labor Day weekend in Texas.

With some of the heaviest traffic yet to come before the holiday period ends at midnight, the toll stood today at 34 fatalities since 6 p.m. Friday. It included 21 deaths in auto accidents and 11 homicides.

The worst single accident half a mile east of Chillicothe in the Texas Panhandle took four lives as a head-on collision fused two vehicles into a single piece of wreckage late Sunday. Barry Summers, 18, and Gary Baker, 19, both of Chillicothe, and Billy Dodson, 18, of Van Horn died in one car and Bill Hicks, 47, of Pampa in the other. Hicks' wife Ina, 46, suffered critical injuries.

These were among the other victims:

Police reported John Mittlesdorf, about 40, was killed by a .38 caliber bullet at a residence in Southwest San Antonio shortly before 2 a.m. Monday in an argument over a woman. They held a man, 28.

Theldon E. Palmer, 55, of Dallas was killed late Sunday as his car hit a telephone pole in the north part of the city.

A sister, Creasy Smith, found Cora B. Anderson, 87, burned to death at her Beaumont home Sunday while taking lunch to the elderly victim. Police said the flames apparently started from Kerosene.

Police said a fist fight ended in the fatal shooting of Clarence R. Bennett, 30, early Sunday in Port Arthur. They sought his assailant.

Authorities said Rick Lathrop, 21, apparently drowned Sunday after his motorboat caught fire and he tried to swim ashore in Lake Texoma northwest of Denison Dam. A search was being made for the body.

Camilo Daniel Jr., 17, of Abilene was found dying of a gunshot wound Sunday night in an Abilene park. Police said they were seeking three suspects.

A collision Sunday at San Leon in Galveston County killed Jack Snow, 58, and his wife Willie, 57, of Huffman in Harris County. The accident occurred at the intersection of Farm Road 517 and Texas 146.

Myrtle Lee Preston, 82, of San Antonio was struck and killed Sunday afternoon by an automobile in a San Antonio shopping center. Police said she may been the victim of a robbery attempt.

Holiday Traffic Toll Mounts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As the Labor Day weekend entered its third and final day, traffic death toll rose to 396 by 11 a.m., EDT, today.

The count began at 6 p.m. Friday and will continue until midnight tonight.

Zionists Want Act Modified

HOUSTON (AP) — Zionists called Sunday for watering down the National Environmental Protection Act, saying that would ease the U.S. energy crisis and keep this nation's foreign policy from becoming pro-Arab.

In a policy statement adopted on the closing day of the 75th national convention of the Zionist Organization of America, the group called on President Nixon and the Congress to "initiate a crash program for the development of all alternate sources of domestic energy to forestall the possibility that Arab nations may use the U.S. dependence on Middle East oil resources as a lever to influence American foreign policy in the area."

The Jewish organization also called for modification of the Environmental Protection Act "to eliminate frivolous intervention and endless delay in the licensing of nuclear power plants and other facilities necessary for the domestic supply of the nation's energy."

Bernard S. White of Washington, D.C., chairman of the resolution committee, said the organization has noted with increasing alarm the growing energy crisis which would ultimately have an adverse effect on U.S. support of Israel.

Long term supply arrangements with Arab countries, growing Arab investment in the U.S. economy and "the exploitation by such companies as Standard Oil of California and Mobil Oil Corp. of temporary domestic shortages to agitate for a shift in American Middle East policy that would be submissive to Arab economic and political demands," were cited by White.

White said modification of the National Environmental Protection Act was necessary to halt environmental and ecology groups from subverting the intent of the act "by throwing every legal roadblock in the path of domestic energy resources development."

The policy statement also called for immediate construction of the Alaskan pipeline "under government auspices if necessary," rapid construction of storage facilities for accumulation of strategic oil reserves and greater government scrutiny of American oil companies to insure that U.S. national interests are protected in any deals the companies make with foreign governments.

One Of Top Ten Arrested

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Herman Bell, described as a "high echelon officer" of the Black Liberation Army and one of the FBI's 10 most wanted, was held in a New Orleans jail under a $500,000 bond today.

Bell, 25, was arrested Sunday without resistance by FBI agents, New Orleans police and New York City police detectives.

Divorcee's nightmare night before wedding

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My first marriage was a disaster so I got a divorce. Then I met Hal. We fell in love and decided to marry. Hal wanted a large church wedding so we went to his family minister [a Baptist] and made all the arrangements. We were in heaven.

It never occurred to Hal or me to tell the minister I was married before. I didn't think it mattered, because I knew many divorced Baptists who had married in the church. Hal's mother knew I was a divorcee. This same minister married Hal's younger sister when she was four months pregnant.

At the wedding rehearsal, the night before the wedding, we showed the minister our license and he said: "Why, I can't marry you—you've been married before!"

What happened after that was a nightmare. I begged and pleaded, but the minister refused to marry us. Luckily I found a minister who would, but I had to change the location of the wedding. I cried all night, and got married with red and swollen eyes. It was terrible.

My question: Since when can't a Baptist minister marry divorced persons? STILL BURNING IN TEXAS

DEAR STILL: There is no universal ruling in the Baptist denomination which prohibits divorced persons from being married in the church, but some groups of Baptist churches have guidelines relative to this issue which their clergy will follow. Unfortunately, you appear to have picked one of this group.

DEAR ABBY: Re the "bra" situation: I can't resist submitting this little whimsical bit of trivia, entitled, "BRA-BEATEN":

Hanks of hair and bones have I
But here's why I'm disgusted:
With all my "raw material"
How come I'm so flat busted?
My rear is measured by the pound
My front is by the ounce—
A dreadful situation when
It's what's up front that counts!
To bra or NOT to bra, alas!
This problem I have NOT
My bra just captures and protects
What little bit I've got!

NOTHING TO HIDE IN SCOTTSDALE

DEAR ABBY: For those who have private swimming pools and do not mind sharing them with neighbors and friends, but occasionally want their privacy, the "flag" signal is the best idea yet.

Erect a flag pole where neighbors can see it. When the flag is UP, they are welcome to swim; when it is DOWN, no guests are welcome. Neighbors can see for themselves, and thus there is no embarrassment for the pool owners.

Further advice to pool owners: 1. At the outset, ask guests to please bring their own towels. 2. Do not overdo the hospitality bit by providing soft drinks and refreshments or you will soon be bankrupt. 3. Be firm in insisting that NO children swim without an adult who can double as a lifeguard unless YOU yourself want to assume the responsibility. POOL OWNERS

DEAR POOL OWNERS: Cool advice. Thanks for sharing.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Soviet Harvest Smaller

By EDMUND PINTO
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A record grain crop has been [illegible] but the Agriculture Department says the harvest will be smaller than had been expected.

The prediction comes despite reports of severe weather conditions in some areas where threshing had not been completed.

"Nevertheless, it does not appear that conditions have been sufficiently bad to date to have caused serious problems with respect to harvesting losses or to grain quality," the Foreign Agriculture Service said in a report Sunday.

Forecasts call for record 195 million tons gross weight of grain to be harvested, less than the 197.4 million that had been Moscow's goal for its wheat, rye, oats, barley and corn crops.

"That's still good as far as the information we have now is concerned. From the little hints coming through, things sound pretty good," said Roger Euler, chief of the Communist countries branch in the Economic Research Service.

The 1972 grain harvest in the Soviet Union grossed 168 million tons, a low yield that led to massive purchases of U.S. grain.

The Foreign Agricultural Service said that as of Aug. 20, about 55 per cent of the Soviet grain acreage had been cut in the first phase of Soviet harvesting procedures.

The second step would be to use combines to thresh the grain from windrowded plants. Windrowing means to shape the plants into long ridges over which the combines will travel during threashing.

As of Aug. 20 the Agriculture Service said 23.5 million acres of crops were formed in windrows, "significantly more than on these dates in any of the past three years."

And, despite heavy rains in some areas causing some deterioration, the report says indications were that no serious problems had developed for the harvest.

Waldheim Arrives In Jordan Sunday

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim is making the final stop on his five-nation Middle East tour.

Waldheim arrived in Jordan Sunday amid heavy security precautions. He is to confer today with King Hussein and Premier Zaid Rifai.

He visited Syria, Lebanon and Israel before going to Egypt.

Barron's Kin Denied Ban

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Relatives sought unsuccessfully Sunday to obtain an official ban against William R. Barron, charged in a $125,000 extortion plot, talking with newsmen.

U.S. Commissioner Philip Sanders did direct, however, that Barron consult doctors before permitting him to go free under $35,000 bond.

Barron, 36, a mild mannered bachelor, was jailed last Thursday when authorities accused him of trying to extort $25,000 to $50,000 from three federal and state air pollution officials. He was suspended as information director for the Texas Air Control Board.

Sanders released him to custody of his stepfather and his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Barron of Houston. Lawyer Charles Richards said, however, that the defendant intended to stay in Austin pending trial.

"One of the conditions of the bond is that he consult with medical personnel," Sanders told Barron's mother at an unusual Sunday morning bond hearing. "He can't be released unless he agrees to that.

"This has nothing to do with the criminal charges. This is just for the protection of everybody, to be sure that he is ready to come to court."

Mrs. Barron asked Sanders to order also that Barron not hold any news conferences.

"No, I can't do that," the commissioner said. "That is none of my business."

Barron's aunt, Rowena Kimmey of Austin, said, "For his own protection and good we don't want him to have any press conferences."

"I'm not going to talk with anyone," Barron told his aunt in a low voice.

Richards said later that for the present he would advise his client not to talk with the reporters.

Barron, dressed neatly in a blue and white sports shirt and checkered slacks, sat quietly at the hearing. He and Mrs. Kimmey held hands at times.

A formal hearing will be held Tuesday, when the federal court clerk's office reopens and bond papers and certified checks for the bond are placed on file.

A preliminary hearing on the charges is set for Friday.

Barron is accused on one charge of trying to extort $50,000 from Arthur W. Busch, Dallas, regional administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, and on another charge of attempting to extort $25,000 from Austin Banker Cad E. Williams in March 1972. Dr. Herbert McKee, Houston, chairman of the Air Control Board, reportedly also received a letter asking $50,000.

Both complaints allege that Barron used the mails to threaten "to injure the reputation" of the officials.

Barron has denied writing the letters.

Canadian Railmen Returning

TORONTO (AP) — Railway workers began returning to work across Canada on Sunday following orders from Parliament to end their nationwide strike. But not all were prepared to obey the back-to-work order.

Trains in eastern Canada warmed up and got rolling. But west of Ontario, service was slow to resume.

Seven of the eight striking unions agreed to return to work. But leaders of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers, which represents about 18,000 of the 56,000 striking non-operating employes, said no general decision among all its locals would be reached until midnight tonight.

The brotherhood includes ticketsellers, clerks, truckdrivers, janitors and other employes, most of them employed by Canadian National Railways.

The legislation ordering all rail employes back to work at 12:01 a.m. Sunday was signed by the governor general Saturday. The main change in the original bill was a Conservative amendment raising the minimum average hourly wage to $4.19 by July 1, 1974 from the $4.15 proposed by the Liberal government. The current rate is $3.54.

Officials of Canadian National in the Atlantic provinces reported trains and ferries running again and CN's bus service back on the road in Newfoundland.

CP Rail commuter travel in Montreal was back to normal. Most CP Rail and CN Ottawa-to-Montreal trains were expected to be running soon.

Sale Set By Spade Ranches

Spade Ranches, one of the southwest's oldest and largest reputation Hereford ranches, will hold its First Simmental Production Sale at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 8. The sale will be held at the famed Renderbrook-Spade Ranch located 22 miles south of Colorado City on Highway 163.

The offering consists of more than 100 bred percentage Simmental females. Approximately one-third of these cattle will be bred Half-Simmental females with ¾ heifer calves at side. About one-half of the offering will be bred Half-Simmental heifers and 15 of the lots will be bred ¾ Simmental heifers. The offering includes females from the Chappell-Spade Ranch at Tucumcari, New Mexico, as well as females from the Renderbrook-Spade Ranch. The majority of the cattle will be Simmental-Hereford in blood with a few Simmental-Angus and Simmental-Brown Swiss.

Spade Ranches has used the most popular Simmental bulls available to develop its high quality Simmental herd. The Simmental sires represented in this sale include: Amor, Beat, Bismark, Capitaine, Florian, Held, Mars, Pacific, Parisien, Rebel, Sultan, Toni and Ueli.

Two Mishaps Are Reported

Two traffic mishaps occured in Snyder over the weekend. The first took place at 11:15 a.m. Saturday when the 1970 Ford owned and operated by Jeraldine T. Anderson of 3906 Muriel Drive was in collision with the parked 1972 International Trevelall owned by Jack Cummins of 2706 Forty-seventh St. The mishap occurred in the 2500 block of Avenue R.

The second occurred at 12:34 a.m. Sunday. Robert Darrel Mitchell, driving a 1965 Chevrolet pickup, was in collision with the 1973 Dodge owned and operated by Thomas Joe May of 215 Thirty-fourth St.

Astronauts Eye Earth Resources

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Skylab 2's astronauts scheduled their first earth resources [illegible] rope today on the 38th day of their 59-day space journey.

The 9,000-mile pass starts over South America and passes over Chile, Paraguay and Brazil before crossing the Atlantic to Spain, France and northern Italy.

Alan L. Bean, Dr. Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma have made several resources runs over South American countries, but today lighting conditions are right for the first time for a European mission.

The European photo and sensor objectives included geology surveys in Spain and France, a study of relationships between the Pyrenees and Alps mountains, observation of a volcano in Tuscany, Italy, and an examination of the distribution of a terrace system that contributes sediment to a shelf surrounding the Island of Elba.

The astronauts also planned continued observations of tropical storms Christine and Delia, taking pictures that might help meteorologists better understand the nature of these massive disturbances.

Also on schedule were medical experiments, including the drawing of blood from each astronaut, and seven hours of telescopic observations of the sun.

Pilot Injured In Plane Crash

SAN LEON, Tex. (AP) — The crash of a light plane into Dickenson Bayou here Sunday critically injured pilot George Harold Sage, 40, of Galveston.

Don Phillips, co-owner of a nearby marina, said Sage was doing aerobatic stunts in his small craft when it appeared to go into a high speed dive and slammed into six feet of water about 200 yards offshore.

Sage was trapped in the plane's cockpit and completely under water for about five minutes until Phillips and another man could get to the crash site and pull him out, Phillips said.

A Coast Guard helicopter flew Sage to Galveston County Memorial Hospital in Texas City, where he was placed in the intensive care unit suffering from head and internal injuries and broken legs, a hospital spokesman said.

He was listed in critical condition early today.

MRS. BOB RAY COVEY

Miss Moore Becomes Bride Of Bob Covey

Kathleen Moore became the bride of Bob Ray Covey August 18 at 4 p.m. in the St. John Vianney Catholic Church of Houston. Rev. David Kennedy, the church priest, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Moore of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. John R. Covey Jr. of Snyder.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a candelight gown of silk organza and cluny lace. The tucked bodice featured a lifted ribbon trimmed waistline and a victorian neckline appliqued in the lace. The long tapered sleeves buttoned at the wrist and were accented with a lace ruffle. The slightly gathered skirt featured flowing lace down the front with satin buttons centered on the lace. Tucking was repeated on the lace trimmed skirt. The cluny lace edged the hemline and the sweeping court length train. The bride wore a Juliet cap of matching cluny lace supporting the cascading illusion veil of court length.

Daphne Smith of Houston served as bridesmaid for the ceremony. Other members of the bridal court were Sharon Heiman of Kerrville, Corine Mund of San Antonio, Diane Howell of San Antonio, Nancy Palmer of College Station, Brenda Wasson of Matador, Susie Palmer of Pampa and one sister, Barbi Moore of Houston. Flower girl for the occasion was Catherine Elizabeth Schwartz of Houston, cousin of the bride. The bride's attendants were gowned alike in lilac voile embossed fashions with white baby's breath patterns. The scooped necklines were shaped by a pert ruffle and short puffed sleeves. A narrow grosgrain ribbon of lilac banded the waistline.

Bill Harris of San Antonio was best man for the wedding. The court of groomsmen were Charlie Michalk of Mathis, Billy Wayne Kaiser of Jourdanton, Dennis Smith of Hondo, Matt Champion of San Marcos, Bill and Chris Covey, brothers of the groom, Pat and John Moore, brothers of the bride, Chip Klinar of Alvin and Randy Southard of Pampa.

Ceremonial organ music was furnished by Elle Seburg. The soloist was Mary Ann Smith of Hondo, singing "The Lord's Prayer" and "Whither Thou Goest." A trio composed of Mary Lynn Michalk, Sherry Smith and John Gamble sang "The Wedding Song" accompanied by Richard Guthinds.

The bride's parents hosted the reception in their home at 13327 Indian Creek, Houston.

After a wedding trip to Alcapulco, Mexico, the couple plans to reside at 299 King's Point Drive, Apt. 140, El Paso.

The bride is a 1969 graduate of Westchester High School, Houston, and is a senior at the University of Texas at El Paso. She has lettered two years in volleyball.

The groom is a graduate of Snyder High School and Southwest Texas State University. He plans to pursue his Master of Education Degree at the University at El Paso. He is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and was chosen All University Favorite.

Out of town guests for the ceremony were from Snyder, Fort Worth, Dallas, Richardson, San Antonio, San Marcos, Austin, Lubbock, Amarillo, Tyler, Hurst, Kerrville, La Porte and Los Angeles, California.

Male Author Uses Feminine Names

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

NINE BUCK'S ROW. By T.E. Huff. Hawthorn Books, New York. 246 pages. $5.95.

T.E. Huff, a large, youngish-appearing fellow who lives in Fort Worth, Tex., has struck a blow for men's lib.

Just out is his newest Gothic novel under his own name.

Huff has been writing under the improbable pseudonyms of Edwina Marlow and Beatrice Parker.

The feminine names were not Huff's idea. There was and is a myth in the publishing industry that only women can write Gothic novels.

They currently are big sellers and there is no way to tell how many are written by men. Publishers don't tell.

"Gothic novel" is a little difficult to define. But you recognize it when you read it.

In its basic form, the Gothic requires that a beautiful maiden wander through a sprawling old house, preferably in the British Isles. She is constantly in danger from some unidentified person. There must be a strong undercurrent of romantic love.

The ladies eat these novels like candy.

Huff has written a number of Gothics, mostly for the paperbacks.

He turned to the Gothic, he says, after he couldn't stand the sight of the rejection slips he received for his soulful, significant books full of deep meaning and absolute boredom.

"Nine Buck's Row" is the story of a young and innocent woman whose only close relative is killed by Jack the Ripper.

She is taken in hand by another relative of such distance in the family that a romantic interest is possible. More heartthrobs are aroused by a boarder who lives in the attic in the heroine's temporary home.

The story is partly predicated on a recent revival of speculation about the origins and fate of the Ripper.—The AP (REF).

Labor Leaders Hope For End Of Controls

By RANDOLPH E. SCHMID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hopes for an end to controls on the economy were expressed over the Labor Day weekend by two of the nation's most powerful labor leaders.

"Lets go back to a free economy. Lets get rid of all controls," said AFL-CIO President George Meany in an appearance on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

Meany said the current wage and price controls should be phased out over the next six months. He accused President Nixon of refusing to "face up to the problems of the economy."

Meanwhile Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, also expressed hope that the controls will be lifted by the end of the year.

"You can't run an economy by political reaction," Woodcock said.

Woodcock, appearing on NBC's "Meet the Press" also commented that a UAW strike against Chrysler Corp., is a strong possibility later this month unless the firm changes its stand against voluntary overtime.

He said, however, that he was hopeful that a settlement can be reached.

Meany said he would like to see a return to the economic conditions that existed in August of 1971 when Nixon first imposed wage-price controls.

"He may not agree publicly, but I am sure Richard Nixon would like to be back on the economy where he was in August of 1971," Meany said.

In an earlier Labor Day weekend interview with reporters Meany said he foresees increased militancy among American workers next year unless the cost of living is brought under control.

"The unions are not looking for strikes," but "it will be inevitable that some of them are going to take the strike route," he said.

Meany repeated his prediction of a recession by the end of the year, saying that this is inevitable regardless of what action the government takes.

Turning to other topics, Meany said that by and large, the American people have lost confidence in the President. He said Nixon should be impeached if he refuses an order from the Supreme Court to surrender the tapes sought in the Watergate investigation. However, he added: "I don't believe he will defy the Supreme Court."

Prince Phillip In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh and husband of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II, is in Moscow for a three-day visit before heading to Kiev for the European equestrian championships.

Philip arrived Sunday. His daughter, Princess Anne, went to Kiev with the British team last week.

Rock Fest Ends Day Early

By PATTI LEE
Associated Press Writer

HOLLAND, Vt. (AP) — A rock music festival disrupted by gate crashers and gunfire ended a day early Sunday when promoters ran out of money.

State Police Sgt. Arthur Yeaw said several fires were set shortly before midnight Sunday in wooden latrines and an old barn on the festival site at this tiny northern Vermont farming community.

He said the fires were started by a crowd of about 2,000 — all that remained of the 36,000 persons who had attended the festival at its peak.

"The group that's left is the rowdy element," Yeaw said. "There was a big exodus ... of the people who are peace loving."

Yeaw said state troopers and fire equipment at the scene did not move in because the structures would have been dismantled after the concert anyway and police would have been outnumbered 100 to one.

"Mac's Party," which had been scheduled to last three days, was marred by a gate-crashing incident Saturday night that left nine injured, at least four with shotgun wounds.

None of the injuries reported was serious. Four persons suffered superficial shotgun wounds, authorities said. Only two remained hospitalized Sunday, and both were listed in good condition.

Vermont state police, in a statement quoting Orleans County State's Atty. John Howard, said no law enforcement officers were involved in the shooting.

Gary Schultz, a festival security guard, said he was a member of the Lord's Club, a New Britain, Conn., motorcycle group. He said most of the security people hired by the promoters were from similar groups.

Schultz said the first shots fired were at the security men from a crowd outside the fenced festival area. He said some security people got guns and fired back.

Snuffs Out Yard Lights

NEW BALTIMORE, Mich. (AP) — For three days last week folks in nearby Chesterfield Township were forced to rekindle their front yard gas lights during the night.

The homeowners were finding notes attached to the lights saying the gas had been turned off in a conservation move.

But Sunday night, the lamps were not being snuffed out.

Two teen-agers have been identified by Michigan State police as being responsible for putting out some 60 gas lamps.

The leader of the group, known by State Police as the "Midnight Skulkers," is "a serious ecology-minded young lad," said trooper David Womack.

The 17-year-old and a 16-year-old friend told police there were 71 gas lights in the area but they were unable to get to the others because of "technical difficulties" — large dogs and alert neighbors.

The suburban guerrillas have been at it since last Wednesday. Their notes, taped to each extinguished lamp, said there was an "energy crisis" and the lights were being shut off "to conserve this natural resource."

The Pecos River runs 735 miles from Mora County, N.M., to Rio Grande in Texas.

Junior Editors' Quiz on THE WOOD PEWEE

QUESTION: What is a wood pewee?

* * *

ANSWER: A wood pewee is a small bird about 6 inches long, bearing a close resemblance to the phoebe. It is an inconspicuous little bird which lives in Canada and through various sections of the United States, southward into Texas, California and Florida. It winters in Central America and belongs to the fly catcher family.

The wood pewee lives in tall, majestic trees in the woods. It is not an active bird, but sits on a high limb among the leaves and dashes out after passing insects. One of the first bird songs of early morning comes from the pewee. It can be heard for a long distance. It is a sweet, plaintive, melancholy song. The notes are of clear quality, whistled and slurred. This utterance is a pee ah wee sound and gave the bird its name.

The eastern wood pewee has upper parts of dark, grayish brown and under parts faintly grayish, with sides and breast darker. Wings have two white bars. There is a touch of yellow on the lower face. It may be distinguished from the phoebe by its rigidly held, motionless tail. The phoebe has a habit of bobbing its tail as it utters the familiar fee-bee call.

Official Ignores Law, Helps Seal

By PAT SHERLOCK
Associated Press Writer

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, Maine (AP) — A wounded baby seal bled helplessly for 14 hours on a resort beach because of a jurisdictional dispute. Finally a state official ignored federal law and came to its aid.

The seal, suffering from a gunshot wound in its stomach, was left suffering Sunday because state wardens were prohibited by a new federal law from aiding the mammal, officials said.

"It was really disgusting the way no one was allowed to do anything, the way everyone kept saying the federal government wouldn't let them touch the seal," said Patricia Rodgers, a Belmont, Mass., guest at the resort, the Newagen Inn.

"We began telephoning everyone we could think of early in the day, but they all said they couldn't help because of the federal jurisdiction. So several of the guests placed a towel under the seal and then covered it with another towel. We kept placing water on the towels to keep the seal moist. He was convulsing and spitting up blood all through the day," Mrs. Rodgers said.

By 9 p.m. Sunday, with the seal still on the beach and the government wardens yet to appear, Sea & Shore Fisheries Commissioner Spencer Apollonio picked up the seal, placed it in his car and drove it to his department's nearby laboratory for the night.

Appolonio had said earlier in the evening "There's nothing we're allowed to do anymore in a situation like this. The Marine Mammals Act of 1972 places juridiction for injured mammals with the National Marine Fisheries Service."

But Appolonio changed his position when the wardens failed to arrive.

Federal officials were not available for comment Sunday night. The seal was found on the beach shortly after dawn Sunday. Local wardens were notified and they in turn notified the federal marine agency.

Local officials said it was about the ninth seal shot in this area within the past week. The others were found dead. The officials had no explanation for the shootings.

Names Makes A Difference

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Your child is likelier to be an A student if he's named David than if you named him Elmer, according to a pair of psychologists studying the phenomenon of "loser" names.

Unpopular names such as Elmer, Otto, Hubert, Percy, Gladys, Gertrude and Rhonda tend to trap pupils into stereotypes as losers among their peers, say Drs. John McDavid and Herbert Harari.

McDavid, an educational psychology professor at Georgia State University, said he and his associate stumbled onto the name phenomenon while investigating relationships among elementary school children in South Florida.

Harari is pursuing the study in California.

The psychologists asked fourth and fifth graders to make a list of the names they felt were most desirable and then compared the lists with the students judged most popular by their peers in other classes.

"The children found to be most popular were in general the ones with the most popular names," said McDavid. "These were names like Susan, Sally, Elizabeth, David, Michael and Stephen.

"From this, we began to wonder if teachers have the same sort of 'bias,' he said, "and sure enough, they have the same stereotypes.

"They thought Elmer, Maude, Hubert and Oswald sounded like names of dull or 'dumb' children and they thought of Michael, David and Stephen as more attractive in the classroom."

In account of the research published recently in a professional journal,Harari noted:

"Teachers know from past experience that a Hubert or an Elmer is generally a loser. Because he is taunted by other children, he reacts by becoming belligerant, aggressive and antagonistic toward others, including his teacher.

"One thing he doesn't do is study."

Hunt Man In Rice Shooting

HOUSTON (AP) — Police were searching today for an unidentified white male who shot and wounded two guards on the Rice University campus Sunday night.

Willie J. Anderson, 37, an armed security guard on campus, was shot once in the head. He was listed in critical condition early today at Ben Taub General Hospital.

Cecil Tipton, 65, an unarmed night watchman, was shot in the leg. He was reported in good condition.

Officers said they obtained this account of the shooting from Tipton:

Both officers were standing outside the Rice Memorial Center when a man stopped his car and asked directions to a dormitory.

After being told the directions, the man pulled over his face a ski mask he had been wearing as a hat and drew a pistol.

Anderson, lacking time to draw his own weapon, leaped for the man's pistol. There was a scuffle and several shots were fired.

The man then drove away as Tipton manged to hobble about 120 yards to the school security center and summon aid.

Majority Are For Hearings

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Gallup Poll says a recent survey shows 52 per cent of Americans think the Senate Watergate committee's hearings are good for the country but 41 per cent hold the opposite view.

The Aug. 17-19 survey also showed 57 per cent believe the committee is more interested in gathering facts than in discrediting the Nixon administration. However, 28 per cent said the committee wanted more to discredit the administration. Nine per cent had no opinion.

The 1,052 adults from across the nation also were asked if news coverage given the Watergate hearings would make it "less likely for these men (the witnesses) to get a fair trial or don't you think it will make any difference?"

Thirty-six per cent said the news coverage would make fair trials less likely, and 56 per cent said they thought it wouldn't make any difference. Eight per cent had no opinion.

Horse shows and competitions evolved from the desire of hunt club members to compare their horses and riding skills.

Middle East Wild West Is Only Beginning

EDITOR'S NOTE — Israel entered the cattle business in 1967 after capturing the Golan Heights from Syria. Now, it's developed into a Middle East wild west — complete with cattle, cowboys, corrals, range, even rustlers and shoot-outs.

—By JON BRODER
Associated Press Writer

NEVE EITAN, Occupied Syria (AP) — The Wild West may have been tamed in America, but it's only beginning in Israel.

It is all here on the Golan Heights: The cowboys, the cattle, the corrals, the range, even rustlers and shoot-outs.

Israel seriously entered the breed cattle business when it captured the Golan Heights from Syria in the 1967 Mideast War and opened 500,000 acres of grazing land east of the Sea of Galilee.

Every spring, gun-slinging Israeli drovers herd 30,000 head of Brahmas, Herefords and cross-breeds from small northern ranches up to the rocky, brush-covered slopes of the Heights, sometimes only a mile from the tense 1967 cease-fire lines.

"It's wide-open, rugged country up here," says an American-born cowboy, Eugene Mayer. "And since we don't have the modern machinery that American cattlemen have, it's more like the Old West ... round-ups on horseback and branding with an old, red-hot poker."

Mayer adds Israel has nothing like the romantic Old West's Chisholm Trail, where cowboys drove their herds up from Texas to Kansas. Prosaically, Israeli truckers must transport the cattle to kosher slaughter houses near Tel Aviv.

The Israelis get about 65 per cent of their beef, valued at $35 million, from South America. The rest comes from Israel.

Mayer, a former Chicago salesman, works for the Neve Eitan kibbutz — one of 15 Israeli cattle collectives in the country's north and on the Golan Heights. He describes the life of an Israeli cowboy:

Every dawn, Mayer and 10 others drive to the range and herd 2,000 cattle into corrals for high-protein feeding, injections, breeding and branding.

At sundown, the cowpokes move the herds back to the range where two rifle-toting ranch hands stand guard — like the "night hawks" of the old American West.

"If we get hungry, we occasionally hunt down a wild boar or some grouse and have a cook-out," says Mayer.

There are no Indians. But land mines, Arab guerrillas and rustlers keep Israeli cowboys on the alert. Last August, one of the hundreds of mines left over from the 1967 war exploded, killing nine cattle and wounding a cowhand and his horse.

Army sappers still comb the range removing old mines.

Arab guerrillas, disguised under cowhides, sometimes slip through anti-infiltration fences and rustle the cattle. "It's an old Indian trick," Mayer says.

"They killed a cowboy last May, and gunfights between terrorists and Israeli patrols sometimes are close enough to stampede the cows," he adds.

Israeli-Arab rustlers also plague the herds, Mayer says. "They steal a few cows and try to sell them back to us. But we recognize the brand so it's easy to catch the thieves.

"But if we catch anyone stealing on the range, we shoot first and ask questions later. We're out to tame the land," he says with cowboy gusto.

"But," he adds quickly, "we don't want it too tame — I might as well be a salesman again."

Education For Workers

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain Kennedy

Too many students get out of school knowing little, if anything, about the content of various jobs. They're expected to make occupational choices before they even have experienced what it's like to work. By now, practically everybody knows this after-the-fact approach is a dismal failure. Workers gripe about jobs and employers gripe about workers. So what's the answer?

CAREER EDUCATION — a movement to put an emphasis on education as preparation for work while not detracting from other worthy objectives of education — is one obvious remedy. But educators alone can't possibly cope with the gargantuan task of introducing students to the "real" world of work. Effective progress will be made only with vastly increased help from business, labor and industry.

In a new discussion guidebook, "Career Education and the Businessman," published by the Chamber of Commerce of the USA, 10 specific aid concepts are spelled out for consideration by local groups of interested persons. (The guidebook costs $1.50 each, less for volume orders, and may be obtained from the Chamber at 1615 H St. NW, Washington, D.C. 20006.)

The concepts range from exchange programs in which school and businesspeople swap places for a period of time, to the idea of providing paid or unpaid work experience for all high school students.

To illustrate how the concepts can be used in discussion groups, here's a capsule of one.

BASIC IDEA: Many career education programs have established large lists of workers from a very wide variety of occupations. Each worker has volunteered to respond, through either phone calls or personal contacts, to requests that come from students, teachers or counselors for information about his or her occupation. In addition, some volunteer to present information and answer questions before groups of students in the classroom.

SOME OF THE PROBLEMS: Suppose the group agrees this concept is worthwhile. What mechanics need to be considered?

(1) To what extent do workers need special training in order to perform this service? Who will provide it?

(2) Should both workers who are happy and those unhappy in their occupations be on the list? If only fully satisfied persons are selected, are we unduly biasing youth?

(3) Will industry let people off to speak to students in schools?

ACTION SUGGESTIONS: Each discussion group considers what nuts-and-bolts action is needed to accomplish those concepts it approves. For instance, among the suggestions one pilot discussion group made about the use of occupational resource persons are these:

(1) Occupational resource persons from industry need to be trained to perform this function. Their training must enable them to discuss LIFE STYLES associated with their occupations as well as the ability to describe the work.

(2) Workers volunteering must feel that their companies support them and will give them time to participate.

(3) For a smooth operation, there must be a central organizational structure both in industry (perhaps provided by the local chamber of commerce or a consortium of employers) and in the school system.

THERE ARE NO right or wrong answers in this discussion guidebook, only a roadmap for initiating action to help students understand work. If the business-labor-industrial community wants better workers, wholehearted cooperation with schools is logical and urgent. I'll be writing about other programs to achieve this goal in future columns.

Dryland Crops Need Moisture

COLLEGE STATION, TEX. (AP) — Dryland crops in the northern plains and in western sections especially need of moisture, Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says.

Harvesting of cotton, corn, grain sorghum and rice was active in southern counties and in the coastal plains last week although rains caused some interruptions, he said.

Grain sorghum and corn yields in Central and North Central Texas have been generally good, Hutchison said.

Rice yields are better than expected but second cuttings will be limited due to the lateness of the crop, he said.

A shortage of baling wire still caused some problems with hay making, he said. Four cuttings have been made in some East Texas counties while second cuttings were under way in some southern counties.

Hutchison said range and pasture conditions remained generally good although hot weather caused some deterioration in northern and western sections. Livestock were in good condition with marketings increasing, and fall shearing of sheep and goats was active in western counties.

District agricultural agents gave these reports:

Panhandle: Some wheat is being planted. Corn silage is being harvested in Deaf Smith County. Cattle are generally in good condition but grazing is becoming short in some counties due to lack of moisture.

South Plains: Hot, dry conditions are causing some dryland cotton to shed its fruit. Irrigated cotton is making good progress. Grain sorghum is maturing rapidly with weather expected to reduce some yields. Harvesting will begin soon. Irrigation is under way on castors and soybeans. Some wheat is being planted. Ranges and pastures need moisture.

Rolling Plains: Most counties need moisture. Some early grain sorghum is being harvested. Some mung beans are being harvested in Wilbarger County. Range fires are a problem due to dry conditions. Stock water is short and a number of counties.

North Central: About 85 per cent of the grain sorghum crop is complete. Yields are above average. Land preparation is active for wheat and oats. Some fall vegetables are being planted but need rain. Pecans are shedding due to scab and dry weather. Pastures are declining although plenty of forage is still available.

Northeast: Rain is needed throughout the area. Soybean look generally good. Some dryland sweet potatoes are being dug. Melon harvesting is slowing. Livestock are in good condition but grazing is deteriorating with dry pastures.

Far West: The hot, dry weather is excellent for cotton development, but other crops and ranges need moisture. Livestock are generally in good condition. Marketing of calves and lambs has slowed. Fall shearing of sheep and goats is active.

Mao Says Seagull Book For Birds

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The Chinese Communist party has a dangerous new enemy: Jonathan Livingston Seagull.

The way the Red Guard commentary group of the No. 1 Middle School of Chouning County, Fukien Province, sees it, Richard Bach's high-flying — and best-selling — bird is a tool in the hands of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime on Taiwan.

They say Chiang just wants to make the people there think their future is brighter than it would be under Mao Tse-tung.

The Fukien Front radio of the People's Liberation Army broadcast the commentary recently under the title: "The Chiang Gang's Insidious Motive in Advocating the Seagull Character."

In the book, Jonathan Livingston Seagull is a bird. He is not like any other bird, and maybe that's the trouble. Chairman Mao doesn't approve of individualists.

"Tasteless and absurd as the book is, the Chiang gang has gone all out to extol and popularize it and has even made it into a movie," complain the Red Guards.

"Everyone knows that the reason the Chiang gang is advocating the seagull character and the pursuance of the goal of perfection is to prevent the young students and other intellectuals from developing their latent potentials and doing well what they like best.

"The Chiang gang has seen the increasing disaffection among the intellectuals over its rule, and seeing their earnest hope for unification of the motherland, it is using this book to arouse those so-called weak-willed and short-sighted persons to follow it in opposing communism and opposing the people, instead of remaining idle and being satisfied with the present state of affairs like ordinary seagulls.

"Prominent personages of the Chiang gang have even openly called on the people to act like this particular seagull, pursue an ideal and live to work, rather than work to live. However, everyone knows that the intellectuals and other compatriots in Taiwan do not have a bright future under the Chiang gang's dark rule."

In short, Mao's Red Guards feel that Jonathan Livingston Seagull, which has no human characters, is strictly for the birds.

Mail Rates To Be Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service says it plans to raise rates for newspapers and magazines "as soon as administratively possible," probably within two weeks, based on a Cost of Living Council ruling.

The council on Friday exempted the increases from Phase 4 price controls.

The increases will affect second, third and fourth class mail, which primarily includes newspapers, magazines, pamphlets, books and records.

Rates for first class, air mail and packages will remain the same.

Aging Jurgensen Keeps On Firing

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — Running back Duane Thomas of the Washington Redskins declined to talk, as usual, and nobody really cared. Quarterback Sonny Jurgensen was THE story.

Thomas turned in another fine effort, but Jurgensen overshadowed everybody on the field Sunday night in rallying the Redskins to a 35-14 National Football League exhibition victory over the New England Patriots.

"Don't come around bothering me," the controversial Thomas said after scoring one touchdown and gaining 49 yards in 13 carries.

Few writers wanted to "bother" Thomas. Everyone sought out Jurgensen, a 39-year-old veteran readying for his 17th season after suffering a torn Achilles tendon during the 1972 campaign.

"When the hell is that guy going to retire?" New England Coach Chuck Fairbanks said with a wry grin. "We were doing okay until that old man took us apart in the second half."

The Redskins spotted the upstart Patriots a 14-0 lead before narrowing the gap on Herb Mul-Key's fourth-down one-yard scoring run with 16 seconds left in the half.

Bill Kilmer, who directed the Redskins to the Super Bowl after Jurgensen was injured last year, was frustrated for most of two periods. Jurgensen watched from the sideline and was ready.

Jurgensen, whose 3,747 passing yards are the most in NFL history, came off the bench and destroyed the New England defenses with his deadly passing. He hit on his first seven passes, had one dropped in the end zone and then completed five more.

He moved the Redskins into a commanding lead by connecting on 12 of 13 passes for 179 yards and then mercifully stayed on the ground. He passed to tight ends Mike Hancock and Alvin Reed for touchdowns, and set up a short scoring plunge by rookie Moses Denson.

In Saturday's NFL exhibitions, Detroit edged Cleveland 16-13, the New York Jets beat New Orleans 28-17, Pittsburgh topped Green Bay 30-22, Chicago whipped St. Louis 31-20, the New York Giants overwhelmed Philadelphia 42-21, Dallas trimmed Kansas City 27-16, Oakland defeated San Francisco 23-17, Houston downed Baltimore 20-9, and Cincinnati took Atlanta 31-20.

N. M. Ags Get First '73 Upset

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico State University's new Coach Jim Bradley says his team showed less than a third of its offensive plays Saturday as the Aggies upset Drake University 27-12 in a Missouri Valley Conference football game.

"We played well," said Bradley, a successful Las Cruces Mayfield High School coach for eight seasons. "We controlled the football, and our defense should take the bulk of the credit. They played a heck of a game.

"The thing that surprised me was that we only showed less than a third of our offense plays. We had planned a lot more, but stuck to basic power plays—in fact we didn't even drop back to pass a single time."

Quarterback Joe Pisarcik did drop back once in the third quarter, but it was for an "intent of a draw play" and he slipped.

A school spokesman said Saturday's game was the best Aggie performance on defense in at least a decade.

NMSU held Drake to 164 yards total gains, including 74 yards rushing and 90 passing. The New Mexico team limited the Bulldogs to an average gain of 2.1 yards per play.

Drake downed NMSU 28-10 last year and became a tri-champion in the Missouri Valley Conference. West Texas State and University of Louiville also shared the honor.

Bradley became only the third Aggie coach in history to make a successful debut.

No Pressure In Trojans Camp

By RON ROACH
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Southern California Trojans say they feel no great pressure as the No. 1 team in the preseason college football poll.

"The good part about defending the championship," said J.K. McKay, junior split end, "is that somebody has to take it from us. If we win, we deserve to remain No. 1. If we lose, we don't deserve it."

Pat Haden, junior quarterback: "I don't feel pressure. I feel we are as good as anybody we play. First of all we're going to the Rose Bowl, then we'll think about the national championship."

Anthony Davis, junior tailback: "I feel they have to outplay us. We're a tight unit, the type it takes to win."

Lynn Swann, senior flanker: "I personally feel no great pressure. We're just another team, except we're not starting out on the bottom. We have an excellent chance to repeat as national champions if we don't let things run wild, if we don't look ahead to games against UCLA and Notre Dame."

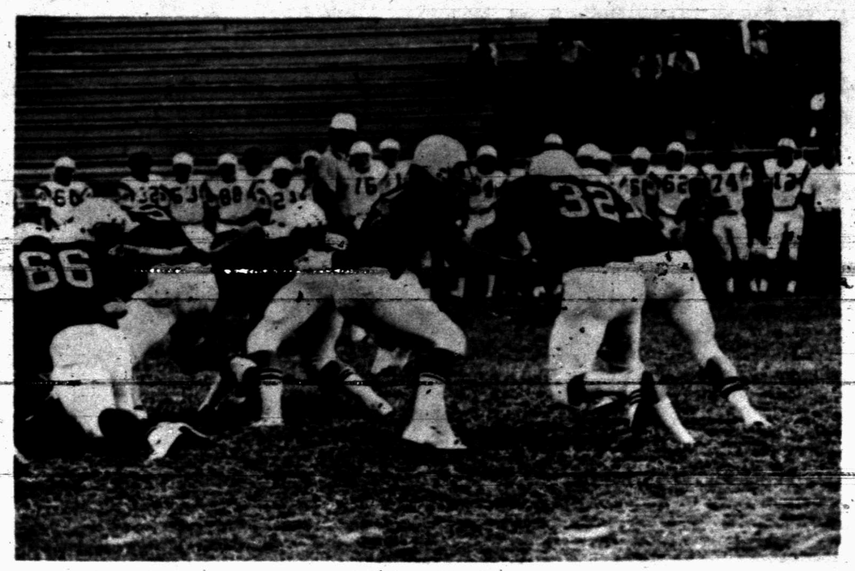

The Trojans, 12-0 last season when they were voted the title unanimously in The Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters, received 55 of 63 first-place votes in the preseason balloting released Saturday.

The Trojans' 1,238 points give them a commanding lead over Ohio State, 42-17 loser to Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl. The Buckeyes got two first place votes and 896 points. Texas, Nebraska and Michigan round out the top five.

The Top Twenty with first place votes in parentheses and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

20.	Texas Tech	23

Other receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Air Force, Arkansas, Boston College, Bowling Green, East Carolina, Florida State, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Iowa State, Louisville, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, Oklahoma State, Southern Methodist, Stanford, Syracuse, Texas A&M, Tulane, Washington State, West Virginia.

BIG GAIN COMING UP—Tommy Welsh (32), Snyder High Fullback, takes a handoff from Quarterback Richard Gorman and begins a jaunt that resulted in a big gain against the Midland Bulldogs in a practice scrimmage Friday night. Shown blocking at left are Willie Smith (66) and Grant Knipe (75). The Tigers prevailed in the scrimmage by scoring four touchdowns while holding Midland to one.

Hartford Open Up For Grabs

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Billy Casper exaggerated: "There're a hundred guys within five shots of each other. Any one of them could win it."

But that's not true. There were only 30 within five shots—and nine within one—bunched at the top going into today's final round of the $200,000 Sammy Davis Jr.-Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament.

Casper was among them. So was Arnold Palmer and Gary Player and Lee Trevino. All are within two shots of the top spot, but the lead is shared by Hubert Green and Australian veteran Bruce Devlin.

They had matching scores of 199—14 under par on the 6,588-yard Wethersfield Country Club course and just one stroke off the best 54-hole total of the year.

But it was just one stroke in front of Palmer, Player, Casper, second-round leader Jimmy Wiechers, John Mahaffey, Bob Payne and Dave Eichelberger, tied at 200.

The erratic Green continued to have a 10-stroke swing each day. He went from 63 on the opening day, to 73 in the second round and back to a 63 in the third round.

Devlin, who has been struggling since winning two titles last season, came out of the pack with a string of three consecutive birdies beginning on the 14th hole.

Here are the top scorers after the third round:

Bruce Devlin	65-67-67—199	John Mahaffey	66-69-65—200
Hubert Green	63-73-63—199	Dave Eichlbergr	68-68-64—200
Jim Wiechers	65-66-69—200	Bob Payne	70-66-64—200
Arnold Palmer	68-65-67—200	Lee Trevino	67-65-69—201
Gary Player	66-67-67—200	George Knudson	67-66-68—201
Billy Casper	67-65-68—200	Lee Elder	67-68-67—202
		Richard Crawford	67-68-67—202
		Paul Harney	70-66-66—202
		Butch Baird	67-67-68—202
		Tom Kite	68-71-63—202

WHO'S IN FIRST?

Anybody's Guess In NL

By FRED ROTHENBERG
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Who's on first?" is how the old comedy routine starts.

But the National League's East Division has changed it to to "Who's IN first?"

With four of the six teams bunched within 4½ games of the division's top spot and the St. Louis Cardinals trading the position with the Pittsburgh Pirates as the season's final month progresses, "Who's in first?" is anybody's guess.

—The Cardinals, who began Sunday's action just .0001 behind Pittsburgh, came from behind to top the New York Mets 7-4 and take a one-game lead over the Pirates, who lost to the Chicago Cubs.

—The Cubs, 3½ games back after leading the division by as much as 7½ games, topped Pittsburgh 5-3, defeating a team that had been 10½ games behind on June 27.

—Meanwhile, Montreal, also 3½ games off the pace, got a homer, two triples and a double from first baseman Hal Breeden to rout the Philadelphia Phillies 12-0.

And don't forget the Mets, still in striking range at 5½ back, or the Phils, who still have a chance at seven games back.

In other National League action Sunday, the San Francisco Giants swept a doubleheader from the Atlanta Braves, 5-4 in 10 innings and 11-3; the Cincinnati Reds blasted the San Diego Padres 6-1, and the Houston Astros crushed the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-0.

Cubs 5, Pirates 3

The Pirates' stay in first place lasted about 18 hours. The 5-3 loss to the Cubs further jumbled the topsy-turvy pennant race. "It's going to be close like this all the way down to the end," said Lockman.

Billy Williams' two-run homer in the seventh inning snapped a 3-3 tie and lifted the Cubs to victory.

Expos 12, Phils 0

Breeden's hits accounted for 12 total bases and set a club record.

He highlighted a five-run first inning with his three-run homer, and Terry Humphrey added two-run double. The lead built to 7-0 in the third and 8-0 in the fourth on Breeden's RBI triple.

Astros 9, Dodgers 0

Houston' Lee May hit two homers and drove in four runs to back the seven-hit pitching of Dave Roberts in the Astros' triumph over the slumping Dodgers 9-0.

Giants 5-11, Braves 4-3

Bobby Bonds smashed two homers, helping the Giants to a 5-4, 10-inning opening-game victory over the Braves.

Dave Kingman's two-run homer and Chris Speier's two-run double, both in the fourth inning, sparked San Francisco to its 9-3 victory in the second game.

Reds 6, Padres 1

Ross Grimsley scattered eight hits and Cesar Geronimo drove in two runs, pacing the Reds to their fourth straight victory, 6-1 over San Diego.

Sunday's American League scores were: Detroit 2, Cleveland 1; Baltimore 1, New York 0; Texas 2, Minnesota 0; Chicago 13, California 3; Kansas City 6, Oakland 5 and Boston 10, Milwaukee 4.

Arkansas QB Has Surgery

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Scott Bull, the University of Arkansas No. 1 quarterback who was injured in a scrimmage Saturday, was listed in good condition at a Fayetteville hospital Sunday afternoon.

A spokesman for Washington General Hospital said Bull underwent surgery about noon Sunday for torn ligaments in his left knee.

Dean Weber, Razorback trainer, said Bull would be in a cast for about six weeks and probably will not be able to play football this season.

Bull was tackled while running with the ball and went down clutching his left knee. He had to be helped from the field.

Coach Frank Broyles said earlier Mark Miller would be moved to quarterback.

Bob Gibson On Doubtful List

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Veteran pitcher Bob Gibson is a doubtful starter for the remainder of the season, St. Louis Cardinal medical officials said Sunday.

Gibson, 37, underwent surgery Aug. 8 to repair torn cartilage in his right knee suffered during a game with the New York Mets four days earlier.

Veteran Racer Dies In Crash

MONROE, Wash. (AP) — Two late-model stock cars skidded out of control through the infield Sunday, killing one man, injuring another and souring Jack McCoy's eventual victory in the 125-mile event.

Samuel "Pat" Pattison, 42, of Long Beach, Calif., was killed when a car driven by Ron Gautsche of Truckee, Calif., apparently hit an oil slick and veered out of control through the infield.

Pattison's wife, who had watched from the elevated judges box as the accident unfolded, said later, "he's been in racing for 25 years. He lived it and breathed it."
