Shivers, Daniel, Dies, and Ramsey In Lead; County Judge, Sheriff, D.A. Into Runoff

Three County Commissioners Are Returned to Positions

The political season in Scurry County is not over—it's just getting under way.

Approximately 5,000 voters yesterday narrowed the field of contestants but did not give clear victories to many candidates.

According to incomplete, unofficial returns received early today, important offices which will be filled by runoffs Aug. 23 are district attorney, county judge, sheriff, and possibly commissioner precinct No. 1, and commissioner precinct No. 3 and constable race for precinct No. 1.

Election judges stayed up until dawn in one city precinct counting the ballots. The last returns were phoned to the Daily News at 4:45 o'clock this morning. All boxes were in except Lone Wolf and Northeast Snyder. Partial returns were in for Northeast Snyder.

Three of the present county commissioners appear to be in for another term. They are Walter Grant, Doyle Parmer, and Cullen Toombs.

In commissioner precinct No. 4, Doyle Parmer won a clear majority with a vote of 903, compared with the combined total of 661 for his two opponents. Parmer was opposed by Ilar V. Lewis, who got 147, and C. N. von Roeder, who received 517 votes. Parmer led in every voting box in his precinct.

PRECINCT NO. 2

In commissioner precinct No. 2, Cullen Toombs had a vote of 423, and Jones Chapman was second with 371. They were the only two in the race, so there will be no runoff.

In the third commissioner precinct a runoff will be necessary between Haskell O. Beard, who leads with 696, and Pat Moore, second with 500 votes. Others in the race were J. H. Kimmel, 181; Henry Layne, 165; and C. S. Mulkey, 131.

Returns were incomplete from the first commissioner precinct, but totals showed Walter Grant incumbent commissioner, leading with 338 votes but without a majority. If there is a runoff, it probably will be with Hubert Robison, whose incomplete total early today was 192 votes. The only other candidate in the race was M. L. Andress, who polled 146 votes.

DISTRICT JUDGE

Sterling Williams won a majority of the votes in the district judge's race, according to incomplete returns, eliminating the necessity of a runoff in that division. He was opposed by James Rosser and Robert R. Patterson.

The totals were as follows:

Name	Total	Scur'	Borden
Williams	2,590	2,328	262
Rosser	1,431	1,371	60
Pat'son	955	920	35

A runoff between Bob Davie and Renal Rosson appears necessary on the basis of incomplete returns today. Keith L. Merrick, county attorney, ran third in the district attorney race.

The total in the district attorney contest are:

Name	Total	Scur.	Borden
Rosson	2,309	2,168	41
Davie	1,584	1,450	139
Merrick	1,166	1,061	105

SHERIFF RACE

There will be a runoff in the sheriff's race, between Homer Whisnand and either Lloyd H. Merritt, present sheriff, or Ray J. Keenan, according to incomplete totals assembled today.

Whisnand led with 1,390 votes, followed by Merritt with 1,197 and Keenan with 1,126. The several hundred untabulated votes in the Northeast Snyder box will determine which man is in the runoff with Whisnand.

Others in the race were George Lloyd, 454, Earl Strawn, 399, and Jack Fulghum, 62.

COUNTY JUDGE

While County Judge Edgar Taylor led the field, he did not have a majority, and there will be a runoff between him and C. E. Mc-

Borden Voters Throw Election Into Runoff

Complete but unofficial returns telephoned to the Daily News last night showed that a runoff would be necessary in the Borden County judge's race. The vote was 171 for C. C. Nunnally, Jr., 137 for C. S. Harris, incumbent, and 57 for Alfred L. Clock.

Mrs. Dick Cantrell, candidate for county and district clerk, has 199 votes, while her opponent, Burney Kent, had 104. The incumbent, Mrs. Jack Rogers, was not a candidate for re-election.

The county commissioners are:

Precinct No. 1 —Herbert Walker, unopposed, 123 votes.

Precinct No. 2 — Nathan Zant, 43; E. E. Crittenden, 30.

Precinct No. 3 —Borden Gray, unopposed, 68.

Precinct No 4 — T. M. Hughes, 48; C. T. Hunnicutt, 22.

In the district races in Borden County, Sterling Williams, candidate for district judge, received nearly three times as many votes as his two opponents combined. The vote was Williams, 262; Robert R. Patterson, 35; and James Rosser, 60.

In the district attorney race, Borden voters favored Bob Davie, incumbent, who got 139 votes. Keith Merrick was second with 105 and Renal Rosson third with 90.

In the race for state representative of the 90 legislative district, N. C. Outlaw of Post carried Borden County with a vote of 173 to 129 for C. F. Sentell of Snyder.

Sid Reeder, running without opposition for sheriff and tax assessor - collector, received 348 votes, and Mrs. George A. Cathey, unopposed as county treasurer, got 314.

Colt and Hay Are Lost In Big Barn Fire

Property damage was estimated at $12,000 as a result of fire which destroyed a barn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Voss near the south edge of Snyder Friday at midnight.

Fire was believed caused by combustion of newly bailed green alfalfa, a huge stack of which burned with the barn. A colt broken Friday was also lost in the fire, but three calves were saved.

Several volunteer firemen answered the call, although the general alarm was not sounded. Two trucks were taken to the scene by full - time firemen, and later a water truck from Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co. also arrived but was not used.

Location of the fire was about a quarter of a mile east of the Big Spring highway and near the south city limit.

Polio Patient Released

David Patterson Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Wells of Snyder, was released Friday from the polio ward of Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene. The child, one and one-half years old, had been admitted to the hospital for treatment on July 10.

Adlai Picks Sparkman, Demos Acclaim Choice

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, July 26 (AP)—The Democratic party placed Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama by the side of presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson today for the great political wars against the Republicans.

Then it adjourned its 31st national convention in a glow of outward harmony.

Sparkman accepted the vice presidential nomination with a pledge to "take the message of democracy to the people of this country."

'GREATER UNITY'

"I believe, I earnestly believe," he said, "that we will go out of this convention with greater solidarity, greater unity in all sections of the country and in all segments of our party than we have been able to achieve in a long, long time."

Sparkman was the Stevenson choice for a running mate. And the convention whooped it through by acclamation.

The North-South hook-up of the Illinois governor and Alabama senator represented a new found — and incomplete — unity in the party.

The Democratic clans had battled furiously, spectacularly, all week long over candidates, the civil rights issue and a party loyalty oath repulsive to parts of the South.

Even as they turned to Stevenson early this morning to lead them into the 1952 campaign there were cries of "deals" and "payoffs" from opposition camps.

KEFAUVER MOVE

Die-hard backers of Sen. Estes Kefauver, who ran second in the presidential derby, considered entering him for the vice presidential spot, even after it became known that Sparkman was the man Stevenson wanted. Kefauver himself called them off. Usually it's just a matter of routine for a convention to take unquestioningly the person the head of the ticket prefers.

By and large, party leaders were saying Sparkman was entirely acceptable. Here and there on the fringes there was a noticeable lack of warmth toward the Alabama senator.

Executive Secretary Walter White of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said of Sparkman that:

"It will be difficult, if not impossible, for the Democratic party to sell to Negro voters and other civil rights advocates a nominee whose voting record has been one of consistent opposition to the civil rights objectives of the Democratic party."

A Negro congressman, Adam Clayton Powell of New York, called Sparkman "sheer political death" to the Democats.

Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia said he doesn't think Sparkman "is well enough known to be of any help" to the Democratic party in his state.

But Sen. Hubert Humphrey, from the wing of the party that calls itself the liberals, sized up the choice of Sparkman as "splendid." President Truman, in Kansas City, said the selection was "a peach."

Sparkman is a political veteran who made his start on the Washington scene as a House member in 1935, after 10 years of practicing law at Huntsville, Ala. He shifted to the Senate in 1946.

And his record indicates that the administration can rely on him, more than most Southerners, to go along with all phases of its program except civil rights legislation. Even on that, his attitude hasn't been as tough as that of most Southerners.

Sparkman's fellow Alabama senator, Lister Hill, put him in nomination at a listless, final convention session for which many bone-tired delegates failed to show up.

Those who did managed to put on a 17-minute demonstration, parading around this big stockyards auditorium with a forest of "Sparkman for veep" signs waving aloft.

But it was pretty much mechanical — zombie-like persons going through the motions because it is expected of them although they were so weary from long overtime sessions they couldn't put on any blazing show of spirit.

Delegates had spent most of their energy in two marathon stretch-outs in which they put up 11 men for the presidential nomination and then picked Stevenson from among them.

Stevenson was put over with a dramatic coup and accepted in the early hours today an honor he said he never sought.

FROM BEHIND

He had lagged behind Kefauver on two ballots. But he had strength to call up later on. And the opposition collapsed before it when Averell Harriman of New York, the

Precinct Meetings For Both Parties

The four Snyder voting precincts held Democratic conventions yesterday afternoon and elected 25 delegates to the county Democratic convention to be held next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Republicans, gaining strength here as in many other parts of the state, were to hold precinct conventions at 7:30 last night, also electing delegates. Those chosen as delegates to the county Republican convention will meet at 3 o'clock next Saturday. Both Republicans and Democrats will hold county conventions at the courthouse.

DEMOCRATS

Although 11 of the county's 20 voting precincts had scheduled Democratic precinct conventions, reports on any other than the four in Snyder were not available last night. Precinct No. 1, Northeast Snyder, named R. A. Schooling, John R. Covey, Sr., C. H. Callis, Clyde Willbern, Ross Williams, and G. R. Austin delegates. Callis presided as precinct chairman.

Precinct No. 17, Northwest Snyder, elected Joe York, Ray Lunsford, Guy Glenn, Fickas Bell, Bill Grimmett, and S. E. McGowen. Glenn presided as chairman. About 12 attended the convention.

J. L. Browning, chairman of precinct No. 20, said no one showed for the meeting at 2 o'clock and that none responded to announcement at the polls that a convention was to be held. He appointed C. N. von Roeder, John Cox Claude McCormick, E. J. Hardin, and himself as delegates. The precinct is allowed seven delegates.

Delegates elected for the Southwest Snyder precinct No. 18, were H. H. Elland, Giles Bowers, Amos Joyce, Mrs. Lida M. Hardy, Mrs E. M. Inman, W. D. Harrell, the Rev M. W. Clark, and Mrs. Roland Bell, Sr. Mr. Clark presided as chairman. Alternates named were H. J. Brice, H. W. Cargile, and Wayne Baron.

NAME ELECTORS

Delegates in the county conventions will elect delegates to the state conventions Sept. 9, who in turn will choose electors to name a president in December.

Between Sept. 9 and Dec. 5 (the date of the electoral college) the general election will be held on Nov. 4. In each state, the slate of electors chosen on Sept 9 which will be allowed to participate in the electoral college will be the slate repres ng the party whose candidate received the majority of votes cast in November. They do not have to abide by the majority's wishes, however.

Republicans held precinct conventions in at least two precincts, although attendance was not always heavy. In precinct 20, which includes Southeast Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Surratt met in precinct convention at the polling place, electing Surratt delegate to the county convention and Mrs. Surratt alternate. At Fluvanna, Republicans gathered at the Fluvanna Mercantile to elect Lloyd Ainsworth delegate to the county convention.

John White Out Front In Race for Agriculture Head

By The Associated Press

Tall, handsome Allan Shivers will sit in the Texas governor's chair another two years.

And Attorney General Price Daniel was promoted to the U. S. Senate seat which colorful Tom Connally of Marlin is giving up.

That was the appraisal of Texas Election Bureau experts with nearly 250,000 ballots counted in Saturday's Texas Democratic primary election.

The bureau experts said no material changes were expected in the leading races. At 11 p.m. with 243,069 votes counted, Shivers led Ralph Yarborough 146,093 to 91,002 with Mrs. Allene Traylor, San Antonio housewife a poor third with 5,966. Shivers had 60.11 per cent of the total.

Daniel's margin over stocky, energetic Congressman Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater approached the three-to-one mark. E. W. Napier, the Wichita Falls stockman and lawyer, was a poor third.

Martin Dies, who made headlines ten years ago as chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, may go back to Washington.

The Lufkin lawyer was at the top of the heap in the seven-man scramble for congressman - at - large. But it was too early to say whether he would get more than half the vote. If he doesn't, he'll have to face the next highest man in the Aug. 23 run-off primary.

Despite oppresive heat and overwhelming interest in the Chicago conventions, Texas voters turned out in which may be record numbers.

Generally, they liked incumbents. Among those with sure-winner leads was Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, the 48-year-old San Augustine lawyer. Ramsey was ahead of Frank Hessbrook Morales, Austin funeral director, by about five to one.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, the 27 year old former Wichita Falls agriculture teacher, was polling about twice the combined vote of his two opponents. Land Commissioner Bascom Giles was in no trouble with a two to one lead over Guy Patterson, the Eastland real estate man. And John Ben Shepperd of Gladewater held a similar lead over Curt Stiles of Dallas in the attorney general races.

Sam Rayburn, speaker of the house and chairman of this week's Chicago convention, seemed sure of re-election from the Fourth District for his 21st term. But two of the 11 incumbent Texas Congressmen who had opposition were running into difficulty. Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson was trailing Jack Cox, young Breckenridge car dealer, in 10:30 p. m. returns. And Rep. Clark Thompson of Galveston was pushed by colorful Wharton County Sheriff T. W. Buckshot Lane.

But the 11 p.m. count reduced Lane's narrow lead and returned Burleson to the front position.

Shortly after 11 p.m. Yarborough still wasn't conceding in the governor's race. The Austin attorney said "It's too early and the returns are inconclusive." He said he would wait to hear from more small towns and cities before admitting Shivers had won.

In the U. S. Senate race, Beckworth couldn't be reached at 11:30 p.m. for his reaction to Daniel's wide lead. Those phoning his Gladewater home and office were told the young lawmaker was not there.

The Election Bureau's 11 p.m. count showed Daniel leading 63,739 to 52,630 for Beckworth. Napier trailed with 14,836.

The 11 p.m. count in other races:

Governor: Shivers 146,093, Yarborough 91,002, Traylor 5,966.

Lt. Gov.: Ramsey 177,578, Morales 37,773.

Agr. Commissioner: White, 134,425, Beard 39,011, McKay 33,137.

Land Commissioner: Giles, 148,053, Paterson 64, 177.

Railroad Commissioner: Culberson, 159,356, Laird 54,282.

In the congressman-at-large race, interest turned on whether Dies will get more than half the votes —and who will be his opponent in the run-off primary if he doesn't.

State Gives Shivers Vote Of Confidence

AUSTIN, July 26 (AP)—Early returns from Democratic precinct meetings and in the governor's race indicated Texans were giving Allan Shivers the grand slam victory he wanted.

But those persistent anti-Shivers loyalists weren't giving up. From San Antonio came word that Maury Maverick was already organizing "Stevenson for President" clubs in Texas.

The outlook in Democratic circles remained stormy, with another battle over loyalty or binding of presidential electors a sure thing for the September convention.

Early reports from Republican precinct meetings showed an unusual degree of harmony between the new guard Eisenhower people and the old guard who took a beating at Chicago.

Shivers returned home from Chicago, but did not go to his office in Austin. He had no comment on the Democratic ticket, except to say that he thought Stevenson would make a strong candidate.

Shivers flew on to his summer home at Woodville where he'll spend the next three or four days resting after the Chicago ordeal.

Neither faction of Texas Democrats — the Shivers conservatives and the Loyalist liberals—seemed really happy about what happened at Chicago. Several delegates returning to Austin said that the Texans' determination to stick with Russell all the way through was the tip-off on the conservatives attitude toward Stevenson.

The Loyalists said they were pleased, but they came home and put their fighting clothes on immediately.

It was regarded as a certainty that they will demand that Texas' Democratic electors be pledged to vote for the national party's nominees. They obviously were hoping to win national party favor by plugging for Stevenson in the face of seeming apathy by the Shivers organization.

EVA PERON

Long Illness Is Fatal To Evita Peron

BUENOS AIRES, July 26 (AP)—Mrs. Eva Peron, wife of Argentine President Juan D. Peron, died tonight.

The cause was believed to be cancer but this was not officially acknowledged in her long illness.

Her age was officially listed as 30 and this had been used by her political enemies as an argument against her running for vice president in last year's elections. The opposition said under Argentine law she was too young, at 29, to run for that office.

The end was foreshadowed today by three official announcements. One said that she had lost consciousness and was in grave condition.

The third indicated clearly that death was near for the woman who had been a key figure in Argentine political life.

Dynamic, vivacious Eva Peron, as the wife of the president of Argentina, was the most powerful woman politcally in the Western Hemisphere.

Although she held no government post, she was as much a figure in the government as her husband, Juan Domingo Peron, whose regime in South America's richest country was a man and wife affair.

The First Lady maintained her office in the Ministry of Labor and guided labor policies. She headed the multi-million dollar Social Aid Foundation that controlled many hospitals and low-cost government housing. It also ran various welfare institutions and distributed aid direct to individuals in the form of clothing, furniture, medicine and cash.

Her charity once extended to the United States, causing surprise mingled with embarrasment. The Children's Aid Society in Washington had sent a letter to an Argentine embassy attache soliciting a small gift. This was forwarded by him to the Social Aid Foundation. The result was a donation of clothing to care for 600 needy Washington children.

There was some apprehension as to what use Russia might make of the matter, in view of the Soviet propaganda line that Americans lived in pretty miserable circumstances as compared with Russians. But the gift finally was accepted with thanks.

MANY ACTIVITIES

Among other things, the Social Aid Foundation operated a cloth-

FAROUK I

Military Chief Forces Egyptian King to Quit

CAIRO, Egypt, July 26 (AP)—King Farouk I abdicated his ancient throne in favor of his 7-month-old son, Crown Prince Ahmed Fuad, under the pressures of an Army cleanup campaign today and sailed without his family into exile aboard his royal yacht.

The troops of Lt. Gen. Mohammed Naguib Bey, Egypt's new strong man as the Army's self-proclaimed commander in chief, surrounded the royal estates and arrested a number of Royal Guard officers in the showdown at the Ras el Tin Palace in Alexandria, Egypt's summer capital.

MOB HAPPY

Street crowds applauded the outcome. Groups formed everywhere clapping their hands happily, as the news spread.

The Army said Farouk, a fabulously wealthy ex-playboy, sailed into the Mediterranean alone aboard his yacht Mahroussa. He is going to Italy, perhaps eventually to the United States. His 13-year-old Queen Narriman, and the Crown Prince stayed behind.

Queen Narriman said she wished to follow Farouk into exile, but was prevented from doing so because "she must take care of the baby crown prince and help bring him up."

Naguib staged a lightning military coup Wednesday, pledging himself to root out corruption in the Egyptian government. He installed Maher Pasha as the Premier of his own choice. And today Maher Pasha talked twice to the 32-year-old Farouk. Finally came the official announcement from Army general headquarters that the King was through.

A Regency Council was set up to rule troubled Egypt until the crown prince, born last Jan. 16 to Farouk and the beauteous Narriman, comes of age. She is the daughter of an Egyptian civil servant, whom the King married May 6, 1951, for the avowed purpose of producing a male heir to succeed him.

LONG IN DISORDER

The King's abdication climaxed a succession of government crises which followed the disastrous rioting and fires which swept Cairo last January at the height of fierce anti-British feeling. The country has had six different governments in this period.

In Cairo as well as Alexandria tanks faced every entrance to the royal palaces. Field artillery pieces trained their muzzles directly at the main entrance of the Abdin Palace in Cairo. Armed soldiers stood almost shoulder to shoulder. Airplanes flew overhead in both capitals.

Gen. Naguib himself was in Alexandria with Premier Maher Pasha. The first time Maher Pasha entered Ras el Tin Palace to demand Farouk's abdication, he stayed 10 minutes. Then the Premier went into another huddle with his commander in chief. In his second call on Farouk, Maher Pasha remained 20 minutes.

Directly after the second call, U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery drove to the palace and conferred with the King for 10 minutes. As he left, Caffery told newsmen "We discussed the situation." He declined to elaborate.

(The French Press Agency said it had learned authoritatively that Farouk intends eventually to go to the United States. He will sail first to Italy, it said, and will proceed to the United States when necessary formalities are completed.)

After Maher Pasha's conferences with Gen. Naguib, the Premier summoned Egypt's elder statesmen, who gave him assurances they would back him in whatever course he took.

mutual security director, leaped out of the race and swung in behind Stevenson.

That started a stampede. Gov. Paul Dever of Massachusetts, a favorite son, switched over to Stevenson. With a bandwagon under way, it was all over at the end of the third roll call.

President Truman put in an appearance for one of those typical, fighting speeches that took him to an upset victory in 1948.

Truman introduced Stevenson—a man who seemed a bit awed and overwhelmed by the nomination.

"I hope and pray," Stevenson said, "that we Democrats win or lose, can campaign not as a crusade to exterminate the opposing party, as our opponents seem to prefer, but as a great opportunity to educate and elevate a people whose destiny is leadership, not alone of a rich, prosperous, contented country as in the past, but of a world in ferment."

WANTS COMMITTEE

For the outset of his campaign, Stevenson asked Chairman Frank McKinney and the staff of the Democratic National Committee to stay on for the time being.

In a personal appearance before the committee this afternoon, Stevenson said that he lacks an organization, has a limited acquaintance, and will be "utterly dependent" on the committee.

A short time before, it was Sparkman for vice president in the last moments of the convention.

The delegates—those still in town and able to make it—handed the nomination to the senator after women in the party paid a complimentary gesture to Mrs. India Edwards of Maryland, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Judge Sarah Hughes of Dallas.

The names of the women were put in nomination as a complimentary gesture and promptly withdrawn so Sparkman's nomination could be unanimous.

Stevenson and Sparkman appeared on the convention rostrum together. With a joshing reference to the stockyards setting of the convention amphitheater, the governor told the delegates that in the past week they had inspected "some of the finest political livestock in the United States." Sparkman, he said was the "prize" of them all and he preented his running mate "for your approbation."

Sparkman is a non-smoking nondrinking man. But he does chew gum. And the Stevenson speech was so short he had to get rid of a stick of it hastily before he could hop into his own brisk acceptance addrees.

ELECTION

Gaw. Taylor's total was 1,899; McGaw, 1468; and F. C. Hairston, a former county judge, 1,186.

COUNTY ATTORNEY

Wayland Holt appeared to have a substantial lead, polling 2,372 to George Killam's 2,093. They were the only contestants for the office currently held by Keith Merrick.

TREASURER

A hotly contested race ended in Mrs. Mollie Pinkerton, present county treasurer, polling a heavy majority and assuring herself two more years in the office. Mrs. Pinkertons' total was 2,581, compared to 1,827 for her only opponent, Mrs. Dell Smith.

COUNTY CLERK

Pat Johnston, serving his first elective term as county clerk, won over Marshall Auston Bratton. The vote was 2,885 to 1,549.

OTHER RACES

W. C. Davidson was returned to office as justice of peace, precinct No. 1, by a vote of 1,727 to 1,206 for Walter Holmes.

For justice of peace, precinct No. 2, complete returns showed H. F. Carmichael won over J. R. Jennings by a vote of 135 to 110.

Apparently there will be a runoff in the race for constable, precinct No. 1. Tom J. DeShazo led the field with 1,333, followed by R. L. Terry with 775. A. J. Greenway with 510, and 507 for O. O. Dever.

ing factory. In 1951, Mrs. Peron, decked out in pink and serenaded by martial airs, opened a chain of low-priced grocery stores whose advertising set forth: "One more achievement in favor of social justice."

To thousands of needy, she was the Lady Bountiful, the Lady of Hope. To her enemies—and she had her share—Mrs. Peron was an opportunist, a woman who used the welfare organization as a political weapon through the distribution of vast sums of money.

The Eva Peron Foundation [illegible] ments of its income and expenditures.

Mrs. Peron's activities were many and varied. Her hours were long. She held numerous conferences with high and low, with diplomats and ragged poor. She made speeches at political rallies, speaking in an animated, rapid voice. She controlled several newspapers.

It was the president's wife who campaigned successfully to give Argentine women the right to vote and hold office.

VICE PRESIDENT

In the summer of 1951 the government - backed General Confederation of Labor (CGT, the Peronista party) and the Peronista Women's party staged a demonstration by 250,000 persons in downtown Buenos Aires at which speakers demanded that Peron and his wife "lead Argentina forever." There were shouts of "Peron-Peron."

The superior council of the Peronista party proclaimed them candidates for president and vice president for a six-year term beginning in 1952.

Most normal business activities were suspended during the demonstration. The CGT had ordered all its members—it claimed there were 5,000,000 of these—off their jobs to attend the rally. Mrs. Peron's Social Aid Foundation co-operated with the labor organization in catering to the provincial visitors who poured into the city on free fares provided by the government - owned railways.

Mrs. Peron said that the call for her to serve as vice president came as a "a complete surprise." She repeated her frequent assertion that she had "no personal ambition."

Opposition leaders charged that the demonstration was a fake. They said the workers were forced to attend or face possible reprisals if they failed to present check cards to the union bosses.

Crowds Jam Square For Election Returns

Large crowds of Scurry County voters interested in the outcome of yesterday's Democratic primary "camped out" on the courthouse square, remaining until late last night to watch election returns come in.

The spectators rallied around a large board, which had been erected on the south side of the square by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, whose members tallied returns from the county's various voting boxes on the board.

The entire south side of the square, which was roped off by the Junior Chamber, was full of Scurry Countians, and parking space was hard to find within two blocks of the square. The crowd was by far larger than any at any of this year's parades or other events.

James McClure was in charge of the board, while Clyde Willbern announced returns on a public address system.

Close Race In 90th District

Incomplete and unofficial returns from all five counties in the 90th legislative district early this morning indicated a close race between N. C. Outlaw of Post and C. F. Sentell of Snyder with Outlaw ahead by 21 votes.

Totals received throughout the district by 4:45 o'clock this morning gave Sentell 4,371 and Outlaw 4,392.

Scurry County's vote, with 18 boxes complete, one incomplete, and [illegible] reports [illegible] 1,830 for Sentell and 1,726 for Outlaw.

Complete returns from Garza County gave Outlaw 1,152 votes to Sentell's 434. The race was fairly even in Crosby County, with incomplete returns showing 1,114 votes for Outlaw and 1,056 for Sentell. Kent County's incomplete report listed 227 votes for Outlaw and 122 for Sentell. Outlaw was leading Sentell in Borden County, with all boxes reporting a 173-to-129 vote.

Stayed by High Court Agriculture Department

DALLAS, July 26 (AP)—The Agriculture Department announced Friday a new program aimed at stamping out illegal grain handling practices.

C. Hilary Moseley, director of the Production Marketing Administration Office here, said the regional staff of warehouse investigators had been increased from four to 10 in the last 30 days.

In additionl Moseley said, every warehouse storing Commodity Credit Corp. grain will be inspected twice a year. One of the inspections will be a complete physical inventory.

Colorado A & M's football team possesses a title it hopes it won't keep next season. Last year the Rams led the nation in least opposition fumbles recovered.

FIRE SOUTH OF CITY

Shortly after midnight Friday a fire which lit up the countryside just south of town did damages estimated at about $12,000, firemen said. A colt was burned along with a barn full of newly stored hay, but two calves managed to escape. Ivan Gatlin, fire marshal, said heat from the newly bailed hay was probably the cause of the fire. Vice-presidential Choice Of Democrats Is Popular Figure

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, July 26 (AP)—Sen. John Jackson Sparkman of Alabama, who's been called by Gov. Adlai Stevenson for his running mate, is known as an excellent campaigner—and a seasoned television personality.

In the South, Sparkman is a popular figure. Obviously, the Democrats will depend on him to mend convention wounds.

Sparkman is a lawyer, World War I veteran and is considered an expert in foreign affairs, housing and small business.

He is 52 years old and seems to have boundless energy. On that score, the Democrats expect him to prove an equal to 38-year-old Richard Nixon of California, who is running on the Republican ticket with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Sparkman weighs over 200 pounds and stands six one. He has a ruddy complexion and wavy black hair.

Sparkman was born Dec. 20, 1899 on a farm in Morgan County, Ala. He went to rural schools and high school in his native county.

Afterwards, he worked his way through the University of Alabama by firing boilers and later serving as an assistant professor of history.

He graduated with a A.B., M. A. and a law degree. In 1926 he began the practice of law in Huntsville, Ala.

Sparkman practiced law about 10 years.

In 1935 he decided to run for the U. S. House of Representatives.

He was elected and took his seat in 1936 and was assigned to the Military Affairs Committee. He served as an assistant Democratic whip, a party officer who assists the floor leader.

JOHN J. SPARKMAN

He remained in the House until November, 1946, when he was elected to the Senate to fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. John Bankhead II.

His almost six years in the Senate have been marked by a rapid rise in party standing. Today he is on the Foreign Relations and Banking Committees and is chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee and a member of the Joint Committee on the Economic Report.

Since his World War I service, Sparkman has been in the Army reserves where he now has the rank of colonel.

He is a Methodist and taught a Sunday School class in his home town. Since coming to Congress, he has taught a men's Bible class at Hamline Methodist Church in Washington and the class has been named for him.

Monroney Says Stevenson Is One of Greats

CHICAGO, July 26 (AP)—Sen. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma declared today Gov. Adlai Stevenson's speech accepting the Democratic presidential nomination was "a terific thing—one of the very great speeches in political history."

Monroney, who rode downtown from Convention Hall on a subway after Stevenson's three o'clock - in - the - morning appearance, said he found on all sides that the governor had electrified the big crowd.

There is "no doubt at all" that Stevenson will carry Oklahoma this November, Monroney said.

Monroney had been less than enthusiastic toward Stevenson all week. He felt that the Illinois chief executive was showing too much reluctance. In fact, Monroney spent much of his time here participating in a quiet campaign to try to put over House Speaker Sam Rayburn as a compromise.

But the governor's speech won over Monroney completely.

William C. Doenges, Bartlesville, the Oklahoma national committeeman also told a newsman that Stevenson was much more to the liking of Oklahomans than Averell Harriman or Sen. Estes Kefauver but much less so than Sen. Richard B. Russell.

The Oklahoma delegation made no contribution to Stevenson's nomination.

It went along on the first ballot with its favorite son, Sen. Robert S. Kerr, as it was pledged to do, but when Kerr's hopes were smashed on that roll call, the delegation caucused and unanimously decided to swing to Vice President Alben Barkley on the second ballot.

When the third ballot started and it became obvious Stevenson was going to triumph, the Sooners caucused again but decided to stick with the vice president.

Fewer Texas Workers On Strike In July

AUSTIN, July 26 (AP)—Only 12,107 workers were at odds with their employers in June compared with some 30,000 the previous month, the Texas Employment Commission reported today.

Almost all the workers affected by 17 new June labor-management disputes were idle because of the nation-wide steel dispute.

Settlement of nine controversies sent 1,199 workers back to their jobs. The end of June found 43 disputes existing, involving 10,658 employes. Of this total, only 9 830 were actually off the job.

Mahon Is Among Ten Unopposed

By The Associated Press.

Veteran Rep. Paul J. Kilday of San Antonio heads a list of ten congressmen from Texas who—barring unforeseen Republican opposition—take their seats in the next Congress without a campaign.

To members of the House, who must stand for re-election every two years, an unopposed term is regarded not only as a compliment to their record, but as an escape from the gods-awful Campaigns are.

Opposition to re-election does not always mean the Congressman has not done outstanding work in the performance of his duties. Some live in districts where sharply drawn political lines almost guarantee continual opposition.

Neither is an unopposed re-election always complimentary. Some Congressmen represent districts where public apathy is so great that incumbents stay in office term after term.

Kilday, 52-year-old native of Sabinal in Uvalde County, seeks his eighth term from Bexar County, the 20th Congressional District. Highly regarded by other members high-ranking member of the House of the Texas delegation, he is a Armed Services committee.

San Antonio's big Army and Air Force centers make Kilday's committee post highly important to his constituents. Here is a powerful Democratic member of the armed services committee with some of the nation's greatest military installations virtually in his back yard.

Two other Congressional veterans unopposed this year are Albert Thomas of Houston and George H. Mahon of Colorado City. Harris County composes all of Thomas' heavily populated Eight District. Mahon's 19th District is made up of 25 counties in the High Plains area surrounding Lubbock.

Mahon has been in Congress since 1934, and at the age of 51 is an influential member of the all-important House Appropriations Committee. He supported much of the legislation that enabled the U. S. to build itself into a world power, but in recent years has plugged consistently for government economy. He has been an untiring critic of government waste.

Thomas, 54, is a tall, distinguished-appearing native of Nacogdoches, has been in Congress since 1936, and like Mahon is a member of the appropriations committee which controls the nations purse strings.

Thomas has kept himself above partisan bickering. Despite his staunch support of the administration in many controversial affairs, he has—for the most part—kept satisfied a large labor constituency and a heavy representative of capital and industry in a district where Republicans are numerous.

Next in point of seniority among those without opposition is Olin E. Teague, 42, of College Station. A combat infantry colonel during World War II, Teague is a member of the Veterans Affairs committee, the District of Columbia Committee, and was chairman of a committee investigating educational provisions of the GI bill of rights.

Teague upset political stalwarts to first gain his seat. They included the late Tom Tyson, Democratic Party big-wig from Corsicana, and the late Judge Fountain Kirby of Fairfield.

Tyson led the ticket by a substantial count, but withdrew before the run-off election to hand the seat to Teague. Teague, who campaigned on his war record, took the post during the closing days of the 79th Congress. Since then, with no serious opposition, Teague has championed veterans legislation but has criticized abuse of the GI bills.

Rep. J. Frank Wilson, strongly anti - administration, runs unopposed after defeating radio entertainer Jimmy Jefferies two years ago. Wilson, mustachiod Navarro County native, first took office after the retirement of Rep. Hatton Sumners of Dallas.

Wilson opposed Sumners unsuccessfully two years before his election where he drew the veteran congressman's endorsement. He is regarded as one of the delegation's staunchest conservatives.

Rep. Ken Regan, Midland rancher-oilman, seeks a third term. The 59 - year - old Regan, reputedly wealthy, succeeded R. Ewing Thomason of El Paso, now West Texas Federal district judge.

Rep. Walter Rogers, Pampa lawyer, seeks his second term. He won the seat formerly held by Republican Ben Guill of Pampa who succeeded Rep Eugene Worley of Shamrock, who resigned to become a federal judge in Washington.

Rep. Frank N. Ikard, 38, appointee of the late Gov. Beauford Jester to a district judgeship, is running for his first full term unopposed. He was elected to fill the unexpired term of Rep. E.D Gossett who resigned the post to become general counsel for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Rep. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., 31, son of a prominnt Rio Grande Valley family, runs unopposed for his third term. The youngest member of the Texas delegation, he and the chic Mrs. Bentsen are popular in Washington society. Bentsen succeeded the late Rep. Milton West of Brownsville.

An administration Democrat, Rep. Homer Thornberry, is unopposed for his third term. Thornberry won the seat from a large field of candidates who announced when Lyndon Johnson resigned it to run for U. E. Senate.

Gun Battle In Hotel Ends In Puff's Capture

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—One of the nation's top criminals walked into an FBI trap today, but killed an FBI agent before being shot and captured in a blazing gun battle at a Manhattan hotel.

The man, Gerhard A. Puff, 38, was listed among the top 10 criminals wanted by the FBI. He was sought in a series of Western bank robberies.

He battled it out with a dozen FBI agents inside and outside the Congress Hotel, just off Central Park on West 60th Street before he was wounded in the leg and captured.

AGENT DIED

One of the agents, Joseph Brock, 38, died of bullet wounds 40 minutes after the fight.

Police said Puff pumped several bullets into Brock's back.

Two unidentified women also were taken into custody after Puff's capture. Police and FBI officials said the women, Puff and another man had registered at the hotel last Sunday.

The other man is being sought.

Puff was the second of the FBI's 10 most wanted to be captured in two days. An alleged confederate, George Arthur Heroux, 22, was captured yesterday in Miamin Fla.

Authorities said the two couples registered at the hotel here as "Hanson" and "Burns."

BECAME SUSPICIOUS

The hotel management became suspicious and notified the FBI. A dozen or more FBI agents stood by in and around the hotel lobby.

Agent Brock was posted behind a partly frosted glass door which looked out on the lobby elevator entrance from a fire stair exit.

Early this afternoon the two women entered the hotel and went up to their quarters. A short time later Puff came in, telephond upstairs and then went up in the elevator.

However, Puff's suspicious apparently were aroused.

Stealthily he came back down by way of the fire stairs and opened fire with a .38 caliber automatic when he saw Agent Brock from the rear.

After the agent slumped down mortally wounded, Puff jumped over his body and sprinted toward the street door.

All the FBI agents opened fire on him and staggered him with a bullet in the left leg.

He collapsed upon the sidewalk in front of the hotel and the agents grabbed him.

Snyder Industrial Foundation Starts

A president and trustees for the Snyder Industrial Foundation will be appointed next Friday at a meeting of investors.

Leon Huff, manager of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the organization, said yesterday that the group hoped to have reached its goal of $30,000 by the date of the meeting. He said the foundation will probably have a charter from the secretary of state of Texas by Oct. 1.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce industrial committee, with two committeemen will go to Dallas Aug. 9 for a conference with one industrial concern that has shown interest in coming to Snyder if the Foundation is set up, Huff said.

The Foundation was organized this spring with the objective of attracting additional industries to Snyder. It is composed of investors who will be issued stock in the Foundation, which is a non-profit, non-dividend paying corporation.

Enticement to new industry to Snyder will be attempted by the Foundation through financial aid to businesses which might locate here. No cash donations are proposed to businesses, but the foundation does plan to help purchase sites or build suitable buildings on a loan basis which would be repaid, with interest, by the new industries. Then the fund would rotate to other new industrial firms.

Huff explained that several larger industrial areas have organizations similar to the Industrial Foundation, but that Snyder will be the only town between Abilene and Amarillo to have one.

It is expected that standing committees will be appointed at the Friday meeting. They will include a real estate committee, to handle purchase of all land and take options on land for industrial establishment; a finance committee, which will review any prospective industrialist's financial statements; a screening committee, to investigate prospective industrialists to see whether they are sound prospects, and a group of five men who will contact prospects in various officials said the women. Puff and ious cities.

HOMER HOOPEE

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

Trophies were presented to winners of the first three places in the Snyder Bowling League Wednesday night. First place went to a team sponsored by Pasotex Pipe Line Co., second to a Dia-Log team, and third to Patterson's Used Car team. Shown above from left, front row: Mack Edwards, captain of Patterson's team; Troy Council, captain of the Dia-Log team; Jack Sparks, captain of the Pasotex team, and Louis Beuerlein. Back row: Lewis Gore, Ralph Howser, Glen Mills, Clarence Reese, D. L. Wohlford, Oran Bryant, Bob Fore, Mac Smith, and Stanley Williams. The trophies were presented by Miss Marie Zimmerman, secretary of the League. (Lee Watson photograph.)

Detroit In 10-8 Win Over Yanks

DETROIT, July 26 (AP) — Steve Souchok, part-time Detroit Tiger outfielder, crushed the New York Yankees today with his last-minute, home-run bat for the second time in 18 hours. Pinch-hitter Souchock powered a bases - loaded homer in the last of the 11th with one out to give the Tigers a 10-8 victory.

Last night he boomed a ninth-inning homer to beat the Yankees 2-1. Today's blow handed the Yankees their fourth straight defeat, first time this season the league leaders have slumped that far.

Lefthander Ted Gray gave up 13 hits, including Mickey Mantle's bases-loaded homer in the first, as he pitched his ninth victory against 10 defeats.

The Tigers, who for the first time this season came up with a three-game winning streak, had to come from behind twice to do it.

Souchock's homer came on a two-hall, one strike count with reliefer Bob Hogue hurling. Johnny Groth walked, Joe Ginsberg doubled inside first base and pinch-hitter Don Kolloway got an intentional pass that filled the bases. It was Souchock's seventh home run.

The revamped Tigers combined sharp fielding with a 16-hit attack off starter Vic Rasch, Johnny San and Hogue. Detroit came from behind in the fourth to tie it 4-4 and again in the eighth at 6-6.

Snyder Loses Little League Practice Game

The first test of relative strength of the Snyder Little League All Stars came last night when they played the Big Spring Little League All Stars here.

Score in the game was Snyder 0 and Big Spring 3.

The matched game introduced the Snyder All Stars to what they can expect when they play for championship in this district.

First game of the district one-game elimination playoff will be played on the Snyder home diamond here next Saturday night at 8 o'clock. It will be with the Lone Star League All Stars of Abilene. Later playoff games will be played in Abilene.

Snyder's All Stars announced yesterday just before game time are: from the Whiteway Yanks John Ward, Ronnie Baker, and Dick Hayes; from the Lion Cubs Joe Bob Clenbenin, and Earl Allen; the Holder Indians Dickie Martin Harley Merritt, and Neal Boyd; the Kiwanis Braves Bud Morgan and Chuck Warren; and the Optimist Cardinals Mack Haney, Gail Courtney, and Roe Lashaway.

Rex Miller and Hardy Scarborough have been selected as co-managers of the All Stars.

Giants Extend Victory Skein

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—Larry Jansen extended his winning streak over Cincinnati to 12 games today as he pitched the New York Giants to a 7-2 victory over the Reds.

Hank Thompson decided the issue in the fifth inning when he hammered a grand-slam home run. It was Thompson's 14th homer of the season and his second jackpot wallop.

Jansen, unbeaten by Cincinnati since Aug. 29, 1948, scattered nine hits in posting his 11th victory of the season.

MEN AND WOMEN TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles. Just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 32 Pounds

"I am writing to tell you how much good Barcentrate has done for me" writes Mrs. H. J. Fontenot, Box 432, Anahuac, Texas. "I weighed 195 pounds when I started and am now down to 163 and am still taking Barcentrate. I feel better than I have in six years and I cannot begin to tell you how proud I am to lose weight."

And Mrs. J. W. Harp, 205 S. Cedar, Cleburne, Texas, writes to say: "I think Barcentrate is wonderful. I lost 30 pounds taking it—from 140 to 120. I now have my normal weight and feel like a new person."

Humble, WTSB Win Fastball Games Friday

Humble beat Pan American, and the West Texas State Bank beat the National Guard in the two Snyder fastball games here Friday night.

Humble was victorious by a score of 11 to 6 with the aid of homers by Leroy Williams and Gerald Beard.

But the losers in the first tilt were not left out completely in the heavy hitting department. Bob Cain homered for Pan American.

In that game Reb Brown was the losing pitcher and Clay Fagan the victor. Pan Am made their six runs from nine hits, and were credited with only one error for the game. Humble made their eleven runs from 10 hits, and the fielders committed only one error.

In the second game West Texas State Bank out distanced the National Guard to the tune of 8 to 2. Henry Treat was the losing pitcher, and Eric Arnold the winner.

The Bankers made four hits and committed one error. The Guard made three hits and four errors.

Schedule for last night was: West Texas State Bank vs. Sunray, and Magnolia vs. the American Legion.

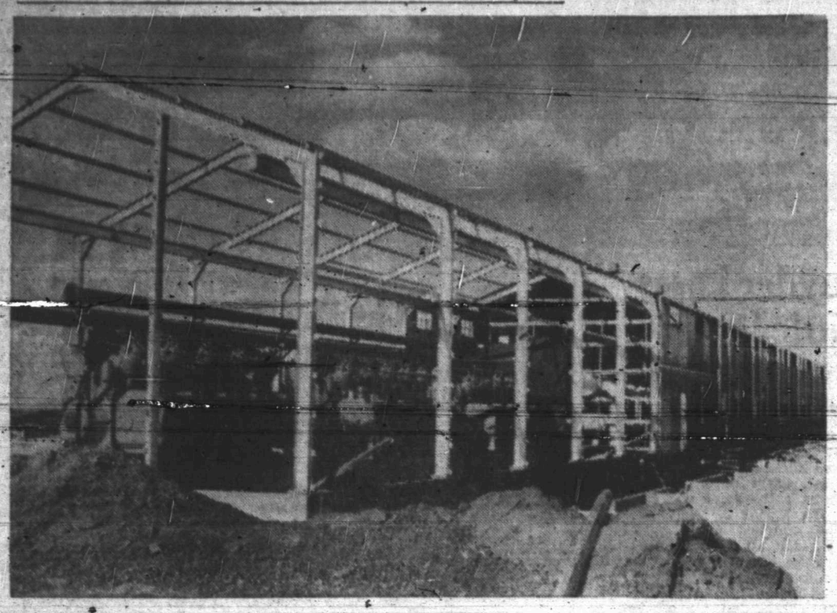
Scurry Gasoline Plants Add To Capacity to Process Gas



The new compressor units now being installed at Snyder Gasoline Plant are pictured above. A similar addition is being made at the Lion Oil Co.'s Diamond M Gasoline Plant. Both the plants went into operation last year, processing casinghead gas from nearby fields. (Staff photograph)

Production at two Scurry County gasoline plants will soon be increased by the installation of additional facilities.

Construction work is now in progress at Snyder Gasoline Plant and Lion Oil Co. Diamond M Gasoline Plant. This is the second expansion for the Snyder plant, operated by Sunray Oil Corp., while the Lion plant is still building toward its original design capacity.

FOUR PLANTS

There are four such gasoline plants in Scurry County, with the other two operated by Standard Oil Co. of Texas and the Texas Co. They all process casinghead gas produced with oil. This gas was formerly flared in the fields, but now provides an additional source of revenue from oil production.

Three new compressor engines are being installed at Snyder Gasoline Plant E. J. Mills, plant superintendent, said. Two were installed in January, and the three new units will make a total of 12 in operation.

The Snyder plant now has an average daily production of 412,000 gallons of liquid products per day. Figures in a recent Oil & Gas Journal set plant capacity at 525,000 gallons. The plant has processed more than 136,817,380 gallons since it went into operation about a year ago.

Actual plant production will probably show only very slight increases from the additional equipment, Mills said. He explained that the gas-oil ratio in the field area served by the plant is increasing, with the result that more gas must be processed to recover the same amount of liquid matter because it contains less usable matter in proportion to gas volume.

LION EXPANDS

Two new compressor units are to go into operation soon at the Lion plant, A. C. Flood, superintendent, said. They will raise the plant capacity from 50 million to 60 million cubic feet of gas per day. The plant was originally designed to process 70 million, although it went into operation with equipment for 50 million.

C. N. Segnar, Standard of Texas gasoline plant official, said additional processing equipment had been installed at that plant recently. It was not intended to increase the plant capacity, now about [illegible] cubic feet per day, but to afford more complete processing.

The Texas Co. declined to give any figures on plant capacity.

New Location Made For Nolan County Test

Rowan & Hope have staked location for a new test in the Rowan & Hope field in Nolan County.

It will be the No. 1 Turner May, located 467 feet from south and 1,853 feet from east lines of section 42-22-T&P. It is slated to dig to 6,500 feet or Pennsylvanian production at a lesser depth starting a once.

Huge Gas Pipeline Project Is Approved

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—The Texas Gas Transmission Corp has been authorized to build about 400 miles of natural gas loop lines in Texas and eight other states at a cost of $33,753,000.

The additional lines will enable Texas Gas to provide increased deliveries.

The Power Commission also authorized Texas Northern Gas Corp. and Louisiana Natural Gas Corp., subsidiaries of Texas Gas, to sell up to 140 million cubic feet a day to Texas Gas.

United Gas Corp., Shreveport, La., was authorized to increase its sales to Texas Gas up to 200 million cubic feet a day.

Largest Flow Of Spraberry Oil on Record

Skelly Oil Co. No. 2 C. C. Reynolds has been completed for a calculated daily flowing potential of 1,346 barrels of 39.7 gravity oil in the Weiner - Floyd field of Northwest Reagan County. That calculated flow is the largest reported for a Spraberry well.

It was completed from perforations at 6,650-6,792 and at 7,500-65 feet, and through a ¾-inch tubing choke. The potential is based on an actual flow of 3,366 barrels of oil in six hours. Gas - oil ratio was 895-1 and tubing pressure ranged from 450 to 195 pounds.

Location is 1,498 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 41, block 36, T-5-S, T&P survey.

Pay section had been fractured with 5,000 gallons.

DRILLING REPORTS

Ada Oil Co. No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, Borden wildcat 20 miles southwest of Gail, is drilling below 6,084 feet in lime and shale following a drillstem test from 5,920-991 feet.

With tool open 30 minutes, recovery was reported to be 50 feet of mud with no shows. The project is located in the southeast corner of section 39-32-tin-T&P, and was slated to drill to 8,200 feet.

Ashmun & Hilliard No. 1-C Long, four miles southeast of Gail, is drilling below 7,492 feet in lime and shale.

In Fisher County, Bay Petroleum Co. No. 1 O. L. Cooke is drilling below 4,975 feet in lime and shale. This wildcat, started to test the Ellenburger, is about six miles south of Sylvester.

General Crude No. 3 Ralph Collins, a five-eighths mile southwest outpost to the Claytonville-Canyon field, is drilling below 4,375 feet in shale and lime.

W. L. (Bill) Horner, vice president of Sunray Oil Corp., Tulsa, explains a map showing location of the new Colorado River dam and water supply line in relation to the Scurry County oil fields. Horner made a talk to the Rotary Club here last week on progress of plans for the unitization program. (Staff photograph.)

OILMEN VISIT HERE

SACROC Officer Talks Unitization

A progress report on plans for a unitization program in the Canyon Reef oil fields of Scurry County was made to the Rotary Club last week by W. L. (Bill) Horner, vice president of Sunray Oil Corp., Tulsa.

Horner, who is chairman of the engineering committee of SACROC (Scurry Area Canyon Reef Operators Committee) told Rotary members that the only delay in getting a hearing on the program before the Texas Railroad Commission is in getting the signatures of a sufficient number of royalty owners.

MANY HAVE SIGNED

He said that 90 per cent of the operators in the Kelley-Snyder and Diamond M fields have agreed in writing to the unitization documents and that 51 per cent of the royalty owners have executed their agreement. The Railroad Commission has notified operators that it will grant a hearing when 65 per cent of royalty owners have agreed to the program.

When requested to estimate the cost of delay in getting the program through, Horner said that in his opinion the delay was costing royalty owners between $300,000 and $400,000 a month.

LIFE OF 40 YEARS!

He estimated that the Scurry fields would produce without decline for 40 years at their present rate of production under a unitization program. He said that operators contemplate large expenditures to purchase, install and operate equipment to be used solely for the purpose of injecting water and gas into the reservior to increase the amount of production.

The Snyder field is at just the right stage of development for a unitization program, Horner said. He showed the results of similar programs which had been applied successfully in other fields and said that in many fields such programs were impossible because the project was not conceived and executed while the field was in the flush stage of production.

"Any delays in acceptance now will reduce the expected gain from a unitization program," Horner concluded.

Coke Wildcat Flows 348 Bbls. From Strawn

Laan-Tex Oil Co. of Dallas has a prolific flowing discovery from the Strawn at its No. 1 Russ Mathers, wildcat in Northwest Coke County.

Operator drilled to total depth of 6,483 feet in lower Pennsylvanian. Five and one-half inch casing is cemented at 6,431 feet. The open hole section has not been tested.

The good flow came through perforations in casing opposite the Strawn at 6,070-73 feet. After fracturing that sand section with an unreported amount, it was opened up and the oil load and residue from the fracturing was swabbed and flowed out.

Then, in 11 hours and 20 minutes, it flowed 348 barrels of 48-gravity oil through a 24-64-inch choke on the five and one-half-inch casing. Casing pressure ranged from 750 to 980 pounds. It was to be flowed for another 50 minutes to make a total of 12 hours flowing and report the recovery as the potential from the Strawn.

Operator was then to run tubing and test the open hole at 6,431-83 feet in the Strawn lime where it showed for production in a drillstem test from 6,439 to 6,455 feet.

This wildcat was drilled as a result of a deal worked up by Randell Harris and James Walton of Midland, independent operators, who work as a partnership under the name of Walton & Harris.

They took a farmout on 240 acres in that region from S. E. Adams and J. Ralph Stewart of San Angelo and Lloyd Davidson of Dallas and turned the acreage to Laan-Tex to drill. They retained an overrride on the acreage which was farmed out.

Location is 330 feet from south and east lines of the north half of the south half of the Windred Scott survey No. 8 abstract 635. It is one and one-eighth miles west of the closest producer on the west side of the Jameson field.

Ector Well Has Shows From 7,498 to 7,640

J. D. Wrather, Jr., and others of Dallas were drilling below 7,830 feet in lime and shale after developing oil and gas - cut mud on a drillstem test in No. 1 G. T. Hall and others from 7,498 to 7,640 feet.

Tool was open three and one-half hours. Recovery was 310 feet of heavily oil and gas - cut mud with a salty taste.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 7, block B-15, psl survey and in Southwest Ector County, four miles north of Judkins.

Gasoline Plant Is Planned in Howard

Special to the Daily News

Casinghead gas from oil fields along the Howard - Borden County line and two fields in Borden County will be processed at a new plant to be built in Northeast Howard County.

The plant, which is scheduled to go into operation about Jan. 1, will be built by Reef Fields Gasoline Corp. of Houston and Skelly Oil Co. of Tulsa, Okla. It will handle about 35 million cubic feet of gas per day, with Reef Fields as the operator. J. R. Butler is president of this firm. This compares with 20 million cubic feet of gas processed by a Scurry County gasoline plant, the Standard Oil Comnapy's plant north of Snyder.

Gas to be processed will come from the Vealmoor and East Vealmoor pools on the Howard - Borden line and from the Reinecke field in Southeast Borden and the Good pool in Southwest Borden County. It is believed that the plant will produce about 200,000 gallons of gasoline, propane and butane daily.

The plant will be located about 17 miles northeast of Big Spring on Skelly's producing lease in the north half of section 20, block 27, H&TC survey. This is in the south part of the East Vealmoor pool.

Pipeline will be laid from the plant to a point about three miles west to deliver processed gas to the El Paso Natural Gas Co. pipeline. Three parallel lines will be laid from the plant south to an undesignated point on the Texas & Pacific Railroad for shipment of gasoline and other products in tank car lots.

The gathering system in the Good and Vealmoor fields is said to be nearing completion. Pipe is now being wrapped and coated at Conhoma for the gathering system in the Reinecke and East Vealmoor pools.

Contractors include Delta Engineering Co. of Odessa, Pettinger & King of Pampa on the compressor stations in each of the four fields, Holder Construction Co. of Snyder on the gasoline and product lines, and United Pipe Protection Co. of Snyder on the pipelines.

Pennsylvanian In Midland To Be Tested

Plymouth Oil Co. is to start drilling immediately at its No. 1-A H. S. (Sherwood) Foster, which is to be a 10,600-foot wildcat to try for production in the Pennsylvanian limes in Central - West Midland County, 14 miles west of the city of Midland.

The prospector is to be 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 11, block 41, T-2-S, T&P, survey. That makes it two and one-half miles northwest of the nearest production on the northwest side of the Parks-Pennsylvanian field just south of Warfield.

This wildcat is being drilled on a block of leases taken about 30 days ago by Robert S. Brennand, Jr., of Midland from H. S. (Sherwood) Foster, the fee owner of the property.

Brennand is reported to have paid Foster in excess of $50 per acre cash for the lease on 2,522 acres out of the Foster ranch.

Brennand also agreed to drill a 10,600-foot wildcat at the location listed for Plymouth prospector.

Plymouth has taken over the obligation made by Brennand to drill that wildcat and in return for that assumption is to get certain lease out of the Foster block. Brennand retains ownership of the remainer of the acreage.

Outpost Staked To Gaines Gas Well

Union Oil Co. of California has staked location for a one-half mile south outpost to the Weltner (gas) field in Southwest Gaines County.

It will be drilled as No. 1 Mrs. Proctor S. Dunbar 660 feet from north and 2,925 feet from east lines of section 25, block A-12, psl survey and eight miles southeast of Hobbs, N.M.

It is to go to 7,250 feet to try for gas production in the Clear Fork.

Union No. 2 Weltner is the discovery well of the Weltner field. It originally was completed as an oiler, but later recompleted as a gas discovery.

Wildcat Staked In Stonewall County

F. Kirk Johnson of Fort Worth will drill a 6,600 - foot Ellenburger wildcat in Stonewall County as No. 1 Mrs. T. K. Smith.

Drillsite is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 142, block 1, H&TC survey, and three-quarters of a mile southeast of Johnson No. 1 A. E. Smith, a 6,104 - foot failure in section 143.

It is three miles southeast of the Frankerk - multipay field in the south part of the county.

King County Wildcat Located by Frank Wood

Frank Wood Associates, Inc., No. 1 G. M. Gillespie is to be a deep wildcat in King County.

Location for the project has been set 467 feet from south and west lines of section 107-F-H&TC, about 15 miles southeast of Guthrie. Projected depth is 6,600 feet, which should take the prospector through the Pennsylvanian and probably into the Ellenburger. Operations are to begin immediately.

Only One Well In Eight Is A Producer

TULSA, July 26 (AP)—Statistics show that only one of eight wells drilled for oil turns out to be a producer.

Nonetheless, petroleum operators last year spent 2½ billion dollars seeking crude from the ocean bottoms to the snow-crusted Andes of South America.

The average cost to drill a well in 1951 comes close to $77,845 but that expenditure cannot represent the personal risks involved.

Take Creole Petroleum Corp.'s venture in Western Venezuela.

The company hacked out a clearing in the steaming jungle and set up operations in the midst of wild Motilone Indian tribesmen.

Drilling crews work in the center of the clearing fixed so it stands beyond range of the six-foot Motilone arrows. Steel gratings protect roustabouts at night.

Creole plans to use helicopters to reach the remote site.

Several hundred miles to the southwest, near Lake Titicaca in Peru, is one of the highest oil producing areas in the world. The field is 12,000 feet up in the Andes.

In the other direction, a prolific off-shore area is exemplified by the Red Fish Bay Field near Corpus Christi, Tex.

Here and in nearby Mustang Island Field, more than 100 wells have been completed although rigs must be floated to the drilling site on barges. High structures on the barges support derrick sub-structures and pump rooms.

Crews use launches as transport to and from the mainland. Life belts are standard equipment.

All marine drilling, however, is not along the oceans.

Phillips Petroleum Co. has 11 oil wells on the Wabash River in Illinois.

Only access to the lease is by boat. Equipment is located on substructures ranging from 15 to 26 feet high.

Many oil fields are far from population centers but the outstanding exception is the Oklahoma City Field, now 20 years old.

The Oklahoma capital city is spotted with derricks, many of them in back yards. They are neatly kept and safety measures are strictly enforced.

Even the state Capitol grounds sport several derricks. Three wells pump oils from under the Capitol itself.

Moscow Doesn't Care For Either Candidate

MOSCOW, July 26 (AP)—The Soviet press today denounced both Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson and Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower, rival U. S. presidential candidate.

The Soviet news agency Tass called Stevenson "the spokesman for the interests of industrial and financial groups of the Middle West." It said Stevenson proved himself "a true partisan of the cold war and total diplomacy."

The agency quoted the Chicago Tribune to the effect that Eisenhower "is a man who doesn't have sufficient background to occupy the post of President and whose views on foreign policy are not distinguishable from (President) Truman's."

Two Earthquakes Are Recorded in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, July 26 (AP)—John Carroll University reports that its seismograph recorded two moderate earthquakes Friday afternoon.

The school, which estimated the quakes to be 5,200 miles from Cleveland in an undetermined direction, announced they occurred at 3:15 p.m. and 3:49 p.m. Both were in the same spot, said the school.

Transmission Has 8 Forward Speeds, 2 Back

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT, July 26 (AP)—An automatic drive that provides eight speeds forward and two in reverse is being built by the automobile industry.

But it isn't now intended for use in a conventional type passenger automobile; it was developed for use in a new military type. Yet it may be the forerunner of a new automatic transmiseion for passenger cars.

The industry's research laboratories are doing a great deal of work on automatic transmissions; many improvements in present systems first were initiated in military vehicles. Similarly, many recent advances in engines, steering and braking grew out of lessons learned in military vehicle design.

So industry experts believe many engineering advances that will mark 1954 and later models will come out of developments in military vehicles being designed and built in automobile facotire today. Automobile engineers now are working on passenger car design for 1954 and 1955.

Probably no motorist would want an automatic drive with eight speeds forward and two in reverse unless they operated very smoothly and quietly. Yet there are widely divergent viewpoints regarding types of automatic transmissions currently in use.

Some drivers prefer actual shifting of gears while others want the torque converter type. Automatic gear shifting is exemplified in General Motors' hydra-matic unit, brought out by Oldsmobile shortly before World War II. Most other automatic transmissions introduced subsequently are of the torque conversion type.

Both types have design and operating features the transmission engineers would like to incorporate in one transmission unit. Much of the work currently under way in the research departments has that end in view.

Stevenson Asks Staff Of National Committee To Remain in Office

CHICAGO, July 26 (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson today asked Chairman Frank McKinney and all members of the staff of the Democratic National Committee to stay in office temporarily.

Stevenson, the new Democratic presidential nominee, surprised the 108-member committee by appearing in person just as it was organizing.

He said he will be "utterly dependent" upon the National Committee because he has almost "no organization" and said his "acquaintance is limited."

"I suggest that Chairman McKinney and the rest of the staff continue temporarily until we have an opportunity to catch our breath and have an opportunity to explore the situation."

Mrs. Otis Temple of Amarillo visited this week with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burleson, 811 Twenty - ninth Street, and with other friends. Mr. Temple visited Friday, and the two drove back. They are former Snyder residents.

Liberals Demand Party Oath, Resist Oath to Constitution

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

CHICAGO, July 26 — When old Cameron Morrison of North Carolina came to the platform Wednesdays to challenge that American democracy is majority rule unchecked by the constitutional rights of states and minorities; and when he said further that unchecked majority rule degenerates into mob rule and mob rule into despotism, he told a truth known to every political philosopher since Aristotle — including all the founding father idols of this convention — but apparently unknown to young Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., who held forth on the sacredness of the majority the night before.

I will never be among the advanced progressives because of their cruel and self-righteous intolerance of deviations from their own opinions. Apparently they think political knowledge is an exact science. That is halfway to Marxism, which thinks exactly that. Not that they are logical as to means. It being part of the progressive creed to fight logical oaths to the constitution of the U. S. A., it is typical that they should demand loyalty oaths to the majority, and in advance of knowing what majority views or candidates will prevail.

With a view to the ticklish constitutional restrictions imposed by southern constitutions there progressives can't do more than to suggest to the southerners that they behave "honorably" — of course, toward the majority. But who is to determine a man's definition of "honor"? I should say that no honorable man will work and fight for what he does not believe in, and no really liberal spirit would ask or wish him to do so, or shut him out from a convention's deliberations in advance.

DEMAGOGUERY:

Its top was reached by that noble, self-effacing wheelhorse, the Gov. of Massachusetts in the keynot address, who also established an Olympic record for audience endurance. The G.O.P., we learned, is the party of the captains of industry, oil tycoons, and the money changers of Wall Street, while the Democrats are the toilers, tillers, and what not. Gov. Dever, before he started his address, had his face made up for television in the presence of his valet, so Jeeves would learn how. Among the 1,200 odd delegates to this convention, more than 10 per cent are millionaires. Herbert Lehman's firm is a "Wall Street moneychanger." There are more oil tycoons in the Democratic party than in the Republican, probably because the oil states are mostly democratic. Soil tillers are largely Republican unless bribed by handouts. California's Ed Pauley isn't worrying about the grocery bill. The national labor leaders occupying suites in the Loop hotels haven't lifted anything heavier than a checkbook in a long time. Many here have greatly enriched themselves by alliances between law and politics, among them the Illinois committee chairman Jacob Arveny. Two candidates — Harriman and Kerr — are millionaires.

LOBBYIST:

Youth has been parading in the Hilton lobby with Harriman banners, singing, "I've been working on the railroad."

I stopped a very young one and inquired, "Why the song?"

"Harriman started on the railroad, didn't he?" he countered.

"Yea, as a brakeman," I said wisely.

"Was that it?" he said.

"Well, tell me, how did he start" ? I called, for he was moving.

"I gotta keep moving," he cried back.

"He worked on the railroad just to pass the time away!" I called.

"Yeah," said the kid, "That's good." He waved his banner at me friendlily.

You've got to say this for universal education. Our youth know how to demonstrate.

PLATFORMS:

The progressives have a strong plank on immigration, against the McCarran bill.

The plank will say (I heard Sen. Lehman report) that "unfair and unjust prejudice" should not influence immigration legislation. Interesting. What is unfair prejudice?

Unfair prejudice, fellow citizens, is the prejudice of others. Sen. Lehman is not unfairly prejudiced for immigration preference for Churches of Christ is not unfairly prejudiced for protestants; the Catholic hierarchy is not unfairly prejudiced for Catholics. Three cheers for everybody's fair and just prejudices.

But I am prejudiced against the adjective. Straight talkers make do with verbs and nouns.

Veteran Negotiator At Tavoy Talks Notes Effect of Inflation

OTTAWA, July 26 (AP)—The man who battled the Communist truce negotiators at Panmunjom says the rise in prices is the biggest change he has found in North America in the three years since he went away.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy told a reporter who spotted him at a tourist camp today that he regained 20 pounds in a post-Korea holiday on Ontario's French River.

He's on his way to Annapolis Md., to assume command of the U. S. Naval Academy Aug. 1. Everything will be fine, he said, as long as he doesn't get tied up in any more truce negotiations.

He left here for Montreal.

Three More Deaths From Polio Reported In Houston Saturday

By The Associated Press

Two young men and a baby boy died of polio at Houston Saturday.

The three fatalities capped off a grim week that ranked among the worst in that Gulf Coast city's long and deadly polio epidemic.

The deaths hiked Houston's polio death toll so far this year to 11.

Late Friday, Houston's health department reported seven new cases, four from the city and three from the county.

The new cases boosted the city total for the year to 279 cases compared to 78 in the same period last year. There were only four deaths during the similar 1951 period.

VOL. 3, No. 75 SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JULY 27, 1952 SECOND SECTION

Mrs. Robert Dawson, who with her husband moved here two months ago from Lubbock, smiles at their son's interest in the milk bottle. Mr. Dawson is distributor for the Borden Co., here. The Dawsons and Jeffrey Dale live on Peach Street.

Map-reading has been a usual occupation for the Art Wadman family, above, who moved here in April. Four-year-old Susan and Eric, 16 months old, are well-traveled children, having lived in Denver, Anchorage, Midland and most recently—Hadacol Corners. The family lives in the isolated house at the Sunray Production Camp, near the Clairemont Road. (Lee Watson photographs)

From Far and Near, Newcomers Still Pour into Scurry County

Finding friends in a new town can sometimes be a problem, but the women pictured on this page have found an organization here just for them. And every member of the group—the Newcomers' Club—has something in common.

Miles and miles lie between here and some of the Newcomers' members former homes, in London and Chicago while native country and families for others isn't so far away.

The A. W. Wadmans, of Sunray's Production Dept., north of town, say they are glad to be set tled again where the children can be taken to Sunday School and they can settle down in an honest-to-goodness house instead of a trailer. Mr. Wadman, a petroleum engineer, has worked in Denver and points south, east and north. Originally, Mr. and Mrs. Wadman were from Chicago.

The family moved from Denver to Anchorage, Alaska, and says Mrs. Wadman, "We can appreciate good roads after traveling the Alaskan Highway." Mr. Wadman was working at an air base in Anchorage, but, as civilians, the family did not have access to the moderately - priced foods at the commissary. They describe living conditions as being extremely expensive there. Texas was the next spot to which Mr. Wadman's work took him. No sooner had the family settled in Midland, than he began commuting to Snyder. Then before moving here, they lived in Hadacol Corner.

Soon after moving here in April, Mrs. Wadman read an article about the Newcomers' Club and had her husband call in a reservation for the club luncheon.

"We like Snyder very much and just hope we can stay here," Mrs. Wadman added. Four-year-old Susan and her younger brother, Eric seemed to agree.

ENGLAND TO SNYDER

Bright zinnias growing in the flower beds at 126 Twentieth Place are the type flowers 6-year-old Janice Lee is accustomed to. But to her mother, London-born Mrs. James Lee, English wallflowers were better known. Mr. Lee, who is associated with Black Sivalls and Bryson, Inc., was moved here several weeks ago from Oklahoma City. While he was stationed in England, he and Mrs. Lee were married, and after the usual governmental red-tape she was able to come to the states in 1946. When her sister also married a United States service man, she thought this would be a touch closer home But the sister, who lives in New Jersey, is almost half-way to England from here.

In 1948 Janice, Mrs. Lee and her sister returned to London for a visit. They sailed on the Queen Mary, and Mrs. Lee remembers the trip as an enjoyable one. But the return trip was a little different.

"We came back on the Queen Elizabeth and the trip could have been very enjoyable. But the second day out to sea, Janice developed measles and we had to stay in quarantine for the rest of the trip," she recounted.

Asked if she still prepared kidney pie and other English dishes, she said she would if her husband liked them. "But to tell the truth, I hadn't done much cooking in England and Jimmie's mother in Holdenville, Okla., taught me to cook American - style," she laughed.

Recreation plans for the family

Seekers live at 905 Twenty-eighth Street, and the Deans live at 1913 Coleman Street.

Mrs. Frank A. Meyers, 1902 Coleman, puts a record on the phonograph during an afternoon session with her neighbors. Mrs. J. T. Rollins and son, Jimmy, seated at left, came here from Odessa a year ago. Mrs. B. A. Underwood, extreme right, calls Freer, Tex., "home." Her guest from Jacksonville, Tex., is Miss Bobbie Jordan, seated on hassock.

Mrs. James Lee and daughter, Janice 126 Twentieth Place, are waiting for stories they heard about Snyder sand to come true. The two-inch rain fell soon after the ed here and the water rose to their door-ste ps. Mrs. Lee is a native of England.

Stepping off in front of the Snyder High School band this fall will be these four majorettes and the band mascot, Jan Johnston. Left to right, the majorettes are Sandra Cooper, Charlotte Colley, Jane Houston and Nancy Jordan. Jimmy Don Boyd will be drum major. Jan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnston, 1901 Twenty-ninth Street. (Joe Dave Scott photograph)

Betty Melton Becomes Bride of Norman Clement

Pvt. and Mrs. Norman D. Clement are on a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M., following their marriage Wednesday afternoon at the home of Boyd D. Fanning, minister of the Church of Christ. Mr. Fanning read the double ring ceremony in the presence of the family and friends.

The bride is the former Miss Betty Vernell Melton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Melton, 2309 Twenty - seventh Street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Maron Clement, 1111 Twenty-third Street.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a blue summer suit with navy accessories. Her flowers were white gardenias.

Miss Ladell McCreight and Miss Janell McCreight, both of Snyder, attended the bride. They wore identical lavender eyelet organdy dresses with white accessories. Their flowers were pink miniature roses.

Wayne Clement, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mrs. L. S. McCreight, Lamesa Highway. Mrs. McCreight served cake and the bridesmaids presided at the punch bowl.

The couple left for Carlsbad following the reception. They are to return today and go to Lawton Okla., where the bridegroom is stationed at Ft. Sill.

Mrs. Clement is a former student at Snyder High School, and the bridegroom is a 1950 graduate of the school.

Out-of-town wedding guests included the bride's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Tarpley; her aunts, Mrs. Garvis Tarpley and Mrs. Ernest Dixon, and Miss Gloria West, all of Merkel, Tex. Miss Shirley Scrivner and Frances Blair, both of Dermott, were among friends attending.

Hi-Lo Club Meets For Luncheon Party

Mrs. S. L. Surratt and Mrs. V. T. Tracy were hostesses to the Hi-Lo Canasta Club Thursday for a luncheon.

Mrs. A. W. Pierce won high prize in canasta. Mrs. Marvin Moats won low and bingo prizes.

Members exchanged gifts. There were eight members present.

Mrs. May Honored At Shower Tuesday

A pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. R. C. May was held in the home of Mrs. John R. Covey, Jr., Tuesday afternoon, Hostesses were Mrs. Covey and Mrs. John R. Covey, Sr.

Those attending were Mrs. Bert Baugh, Mrs. A. M. McPherson, Mrs. A. J. Barron, Mrs. Cecil Moore, Mrs. Olin Johnson, Mrs. Layne Roddy, Mrs. J. L. Roddy, Mrs. John Abercrombie, Mrs. Ronald Hubbard, Mrs. Tollie Faver, Mrs. Charlotte Sutherland and Mrs. C. R. Roberson. Nine women who were unable to attend sent gifts.

Mrs. May has been a teacher in the Snyder public schools for three years.

Rainbow Practice Scheduled Tomorrow

Mrs. Carl Smith, mother advisor of the Order of the Rainbow Girls, has announced that officers and choir members of that organization are to practice at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Masonic Hall. "It is necessary that the girls attend the practice in preparation for the initiation services tomorrow night," Mrs. Smith said.

Masons and Eastern Star members are invited to the Rainbow services tomorrow night, Mrs. Smith added.

15 Women Attend WGA Luncheon

Fifteen women attended the Women's Golf Association luncheon Friday at the Country Club.

Plans were discussed for a duplicate bridge party at the next association meeting, Aug. 8, Mrs. B. L. McKinley said.

Several women played golf during the morning, and bridge games were played in both the morning and afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Cogdell, Sr., Colorado City Highway, are visiting in Waco and Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Cooper, and son, 3007 Avenue S, are visiting Mrs. W. H. Rodgers in Colorado City.

PERSONALS

Bruce Greer, former administrator of the Snyder hospital, had taken a turn for the worse and was in critical condition yesterday at Overman Hospital, Coleman, following a recent operation in Hendrick Hospital, Abilene. Dr. W.M. Smith was to go to Coleman yesterday to be at Greer's bedside.

Miss Mina D. Matthews of Abilene is a guest in the home of Mrs. Mabel Brock, 2000 Avenue S, who is home from Hardin-Simmons University. Miss Matthews is also visiting Mrs. D. M. Cogdell, Jr., Clairemont Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Johnson have returned from Galveston where they visited his father, Sidney Johnson, who is a patient in a hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. Karle E. Baer, 2818 Avenue D, have recently moved to Snyder from Roswell, N.M. Mr. Baer is associated with the Texas Co. seismic crew and replaces Dyane Witherspoon who was transferred to Roswell.

NEWCOMERS

include substituting evenings of canasta for the television they can't receive here. The set matches the Lees' Chinese modern furnishings, which they had just bought for a new home in Oklahoma City.

MANY COINCIDENCES

Not so long ago Mrs. Robert Dean and Mrs. W. H. Seeker, Jr., who had become good friends as neighbors in Big Spring, were wondering how often they'd get to see each other after one family scheduled a move to Snyder. As things turned out, both families moved here, to the delight of the women.

Another coincidence is that both women's names are Betty. After the families became friends in Big Spring, it was discovered that Betty Dean and Mr. Seeker were former schoolmates back in the grades.

A minor coincidence also caused the women to be able to attend the Newcomers' Club. Mrs. P. E. Allen, Mrs. Seeker's mother from Arcadia, Calif., came to visit the same time Mrs. F. L. Nebrig of Wichita Falls visited her daughter, Mrs. Dean. Thus with the baby-sitter situation taken care of by grandmothers, both Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Seeker joined the club.

NEWCOMER NEIGHBORS

Mrs. Frank A. Meyers, another new member of the club, recently moved here from Houston. Her husband is superintendent of construction on the new high school building, contracted by the R. F. Ball Construction Co. Her neighbors in apartments at 1902 Coleman are also comparative newcomers.

Mrs. B. A. Underwood has been here 19 months. Her husband is associated with Acme Well Servicing. Another neighbor is Mrs. J. T. Rollins who came from Odessa when her husband began working for Dowell, Inc., here.

The Meyers' apartment is filled with books and records, and it's easy to understand Mrs. Meyers' policy of staying home with the air - conditioner going full force, except when trips to the grocery store must be scheduled.

HOUSEKEEPER, BOOKKEEPER

Mrs. Robert Dawson, who joined the Newcomers' Club at the last meeting, is keeping busy with housework at her home on Peach Street, meantime trying to keep up with an ambitious crawler, the young son Jeffrey Dale. The baby has already shown his precocity by cutting four teeth before reaching the tender age of six months.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson moved here in late May from Lubbock, when he took over as Borden milk distributor. The Dawson's third bedroom has been equipped for an office, and Mrs. Dawson is putting her degree in business to work by keeping books for the milk business.

Texas Co. Entertains At Picnic

Employees of the Texas Co., in the Snyder area were entertained last night with a picnic at the company camp on the Clairemont Road.

Tom Bliss, Paul Malone, W. S. Groves and B. W. Gordon were those assisting in preparations.

About 150 guests were expected, with the following out-of-town persons included: Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Neal, all of Fort Worth; Mr. Shilpet and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie and Mrs. T. D. Drew and Mr. Cabaness, all of Midland and Phill Woodside of Abilene.

Supper, Bridge Honors Sheridans

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sheridan, who are moving to Lovington, N. M., were honored Friday night at a buffet supper and bridge party. Mr. and Mrs. Garland Smith and Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Surratt were hosts at the Smith home, 319 Thirty-fourth Street.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Myrle Greathouse, David Ludeke, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duggar, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Schraub, the hosts and honor guests.

Mr. Sheridan has been associated with Texas - New Mexico Pipeline here, and the family has lived in the company camp on the Clairemont Road.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Evans, 109½ Twenty-fifth Street, are parents of a boy born at 4:20 a.m. yesterday in Battenfield Hospital.

Stoker-Huddleston Vows Exchanged at Ceremony

Mrs. Huddleston

Miss Martha Frances Stoker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stoker, and Billy Don Huddleston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Huddleston of Fort Smith, Ark., were married last night at the Stoker home.

The Rev. E. K. Shepherd, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the double ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white embroidered organdy ballerina - length dress over satin. She wore a shoulder length-veil and carried a nosegay of white roses. For something old she wore a bracelet belonging to an aunt, and her other jewelry was a strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Ellis Huddleston of Knapp, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man.

The home was decorated with red and white gladioli. A fan-shaped arrangement of the flowers was placed on the mantle. For the reception following the ceremony, Miss McCormick's bouquet centered the table which was laid with a cutwork cloth. Mrs. Jimmy Minor presided at the tiered cake, and Miss Nellie Thornton of Carlsbad, N.M., registered guests. Miss Frances Leath was pianist for the wedding and reception. Also in the houseparty were Miss Betty Lou Wilson and Miss Sue Stoker.

Mrs. Huddlestn is a graduate f Snyder High School and attended Mary Hardin - Baylor College last year. The bridegroom is a graduate of Snyder High and is engaged in farming.

The couple is to live at Knapp.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included the following persons: Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stoker of Breckenridge; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stoker and daughter, Sue, and Clayton Lee, all of Eastland; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Huddleston and sons, Wayland and Weldon, of Fort Smith; and Pvt. Richard L. Stoker, of Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Brice, aunt and uncle of the bride, were hosts for a rehearsal dinner for 37 guests Friday night at their home on the Clairemont Road.

BOYLE'S COLUMN

Bess Beams As Harry Makes His Farewell to Democrats

EDITOR'S Note: Trellis Mae Peeble, America's average housewife, writes her husband that the climax of the Democratic National Convention was better family show than "East Lynne"

By HAL BOYLE

CHICAGO, July 26 (AP)—Dear Darling Wilbur,

There must be something better in life than being President of the United States.

I could see that in the face of Bess Truman last night when her husband came out on the platform to give his farewell address to a Democratic Convention.

A great roar went up as the President quick-stepped out, strutting like a bantam rooster. You could tell the great pride Bess has in that little fighter. I thought her eyes reddened with tears at this last great tribute to him, but if there were tears, Bess didn't bother to wipe them away.

It was a big hour for him as he launched into his favorite sport—giving the Republicans hell. But it was a bigger hour for her, the signal for their return to a private life together after years of swimming in the public goldfish bowl of politics.

Wilbur, you could see they were both having a wonderful time. After the President finished his batting practice against the Republicans, he introduced Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the new nominee.

Well, Reluctant Adlai took a generous stand. He forgave the convention for nominating him, said he was an awfully small fellow for such a big job and then began slashing right and left at the Republicans. He used a rapier, whereas the President had been clubbing at them with a ball bat.

Then the convention wound up its biggest evening with a real old-fashioned family hour. The delegates were introduced to two of Gov. Stevenson's three sons. The veep and Mrs. Barkley came out and finally Mrs. Truman joined them.

It was a contrast between the old and new in politics, the transition of one age to another and the convention felt it and went wild with applause. Somehow I was sorry nobody thought to put a piano on the platform. All that was missing was Harry playing "Home, Sweet, Home," with his daughter Margaret singing the lyrics—and maybe Jimmy Durante closing the show by saying, "Good night, Mrs. Calabash, wherever you are."

Bess Truman was the last to leave. Turning, she waved her hand gaily, and her face shone like a schoolgirl's. I suppose it was because she felt she soon will have at last what every woman wants—her man to herself, for the years they have left.

Well, Wilbur, I suppose you are less interested in woman talk than you are in what kind of a man this Adlai Stevenson is. To tell you the truth, the delegates themselves are rather puzzled at this nominee they were told they drafted—on the third ballot.

Harry Truman looks and acts like a small businessman who suddenly rose to great power and learned how to live with it. But Adlai Stevenson is more like an aristocrat who has gone into politics because he has a sociological interest in the common man. What the delegates find hard to understand is his humility. They aren't used to humility in either aristocrats or politicans.

Your loving homesick wife,
Trellis Mae

P. S. But you take Ike in November. I'm madly for Adlai.

Graying Ace Proves No Age Limit in Air

OIL CITY, Pa., July 26 (AP) — "There's no age limit for pilots," says graying Frank Gabreski, who at 33 is America's leading active air ace.

On the rolls of the Air Force he's Col. Francis S. Gabreski. But when he walks downtown here in his home town he's hailed everywhere as Frank or "Gabby."

Gabreski shot down 28 German planes over Europe and destroyed three more on the ground. In Korea he shot down six MIGs and shared credit for another.

Rotated home after 100 combat missions in Korea, Gabreski waded through the town's big hero welcoming festivities with habitual easy grace. Then he settled back to relax.

"I never thought too much of that World War II belief that youngsters of 19 or so make the best fliers because of better coordination and so on," he said in an interview, adding:

"It's true they can take more physically, but the older man has a better backlog of experience which more than offsets the young pilot's advantages.

"I think age limitations exist only in the mind. If you have a strong desire to fly and aren't handicapped—say, by failing eye sight — I don't believe there is any age limit."

Gabreski just waggled his head when asked if he thought Russians are piloting the MIGS over Korea.

"There's just no way to tell," he said. "We've never captured one of 'em and we never saw a dead one."

He expressed surprise at reports the MIG is superior to the U. S Sabre jet.

"The MIG is not especially superior," he declared. "It is very good at its specific job—intercepting bombers—but I wouldn't say it is better than our ships. Ours should have cannons like theirs, though."

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

Can you imagine going to church in blue jeans?

Girl Scouts of Troop 10, who left Sunday on their grand tour through the West, were to have attended the Church of Transfiguration today, somewhere near Jackson Hole, Wyo. And at this church, said to have the most beautiful view in the world from its windows, the style is to come on horseback and wear ranch clothes.

Mrs. N. O. STARR, whose daughter, Janice, was one of the bus-load of girls, said notes from the Scouts show their good time is living up to expectations.

The girls, who are sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Lambert, had been camping out locally in preparation for the two-week trip. The school board, which has cooperated with Scout activities throughout the year, released school bus No. 18 for the trip.

"The back end of the bus looked like a delicatessen when the group left last Sunday," Mrs. Starr said. Plenty of food and camping equipment was taken along. Miss ILA RUTH NEWTON and Miss GERRY McDANIELS, Scout assistant leaders, accompanied the group.

When the group reached Pikes Peak, they banded togethre to sing "The Eyes of Texas," according to post cards received. The nicest house the girls expected to spend the night in was the Scout Little House in Colorado Springs where Dr. Katherine Chapman, well-known in Scouting as an area coordinator, was hostess.

Both wild and beautiful territories are included in the itinerary, with Teton National Park and Yellowstone included in this week's visits. The group is to leave Yellowstone by the east gate, coming back by Cody, Wyo., and Wind River Canyon.

Last mail from home will be picked up by the girls at Denver next Sunday. They are to stop at Raton, N. M., for a swim, then on home. The mothers have been warned to have the beds turned down in preparation for the tired-but-happy campers.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. SCOTT McDONNOLD, who live out in Towle Place, are home from a vacation trip to Colorado which followed on the heels of a July 4 jaunt to Dallas.

Joan says she went in a Dallas store to get a bathing suit and bumped into Mickey Rooney, who was also shopping. She described Mickey's companion as a tall woman who made short Mickey look even more dwarfed.

The couple took Joan's young brother, who had been visiting here, home to Farwell — the Texas-New Mexico border town which recently made headlines when the town's mayor was convicted. Then they toured through Santa Fe, Taos and Albuquerque and on up to Colorado Springs, Rocky Mountain Nation Park and Estes Park. Back to Denver, they just missed seeing Eisenhower at the Brown Palace Hotel.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. FAGAN, owners of Fagan Electric here, were in town Wednesday on business. The couple, of Abilene, will leave tomorrow to fly to New York, where they'll board the Queen Mary. They plan to visit London, Paris and then go on to Munich where they will be met by their daughter and family, Capt. and Mrs. L. N. Short, Leslie, Mike and Karen. With the Shorts they have planned a trip to Switzerland. Mr. Fagan's plans are to return in September, while his wife will stay until late October.

Miss JUANITA BEAUCHAMP, 2909 Avenue M, is back to her secretarial duties at Clark Lumber Co., after an extensive vacation trip up the Atlantic coast. She left July 3 for New York City, arriving by plane the next day. Then it was on to Boston to visit friends. After looking over historical sights, including Plymouth Rock she and her friends drove through Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island. Miss Beauchamp says she particularly enjoyed Cape Cod. Since she returned Monday, she has been trying to organize in her mind all the places she'd been in the two-week period, crammed with events.

Selective Service Board Asks Help In Locating 10 Men

The Scurry-Nolan-Fisher Counties selective service board has asked assistance in locating 10 registrants whose mailing addresses have been changed without notification to the board.

Scurry County men included in the number are Lesley Dial, Christopher Jose Lopez, Jessie Word, Arnold Derrel Morgan and Virgil Raymond Greene, all with Snyder addresses and Lavender Byrd of Camp Springs.

It is important that all registrants keep their local board informed of any change in address or any other change which might affect their draft status, Mrs. Inez Greene, clerk of the board, said.

Mrs. Birdwell Hostess To So-and-So Club

Mrs. Harland Birdwell entertained the So-and-So Club at her home Tuesday.

Following an afternoon of canasta, a door prize was awarded to Mrs. Jack Terry.

Refreshments were served to eight members and two guests, Mrs. Frankie Richardson and Mrs. Glen McCowan.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Scarborough and family, 2207 Thirty - second Street, have as their guest this week Deborah Harrison of Denver City, Tex. The young guest is the Scarborough's granddaughter.

Mrs. Sterling Taylor, 2208 Twenty-seventh Street, returned Sunday from Amarillo where her new grandson, Michael Murray Gray was born July 16, weighing 7 pounds, 1 ounce. The baby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Gray. Mrs. R. L. Gray, 3300 Avenue U, is the paternal grandmother. On Mrs. Taylor's return to Snyder she visited a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Taylor, Jr., in Lubbock.

Anti-Communists In Malaya Want England's Help to Avoid Anarchy

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya, July 26 (AP)—Dato Sir Cheng Lock Tan, Malaya's No. 1 anti-Communist leader, said tonight that the Malayan Federation would "drift into anarchy and ruin" if it cut the ties which bind it to Britain.

Sr Cheng Lock, who was awarded a knighthood by the late King George VI last January, said the British crown colony needed cooperation and some form of union with Britain.

Sir Cheng Lock, who was awarder of the Associated Chinese Chambers of Commerce of Malaya, held to honor his elevation to the knighthood.

Bonus Given Workers In Mrs. Tucker Plants

SHERMAN, July 26 (AP)—A midsummer cash bonus amounting to 10 per cent of wages earned between Dec. 1 and July 31 by employes of Mrs. Tucker's products was announced today by W. S. Dorset, president.

The bonus amounts to about $325,000 and will be shared by 425 employes. Bonus checks will be issued to emoloyes, both in Sherman and at the new plant under construction in Jacksonville, Ill.

Mrs. Tucker's products, now a division of Anderson, Clayton & Co., for several years had paid a bonus in December. In announcing the July bonus, Dorset pointed out that Mrs. Tucker's fiscal year had been changed to end on July 31 to conform with the fiscal year of Anderson, Clayton.

French Acquit Former Vichy Ambassador

9 PARIS, July 26 (AP)—Georges Scapini, blind former Vichy ambassador to Germany on matters concerning prisoners of war, was acquitted last night of acting against the national defense.

Scapini, 59, was tried in absentia and condemned to five years of forced labor in 1949. He had taken refuge in Switzerland and was not returned to France until last June to face a new trial before a military tribunal. Sent to Germany during the war to try to obtain better treatment of French prisoners, he was accused of having promoted the use of the prisoners in German war industries.

Work Unit Conservationist Is Sent Here; Everhart to Leave

In the big state-wide shuffle of Soil Conservation personnel, Marion Everhart, for more than year work unit conservationist here, will be sent to another location.

Named to fill his place here is Jake Hidges, 31, who has been with the conservation service at Big Spring for the last year.

Everhart said he would be sent to one of three localities but that the exact place had not been determined. Any one of them would represent an advancement, he said.

His promotion is one of 48 in the state, by which men are advanced to the next highest rating as far as pay is concerned, but the jobs will carry the same titles. The difference, however, is that the new jobs will be in areas where the need for conservation work is critical.

In some of these areas, Everhart said, soil depletion and erosion is progressing at such a rate that it may be necessary to sell agriculturists on entirely different use of the soil, such as changing from intensive cultivation to grazing.

Hodges, who will move here when he finds a home, is a graduate in the class of 1944 from A&M. He was the European Theatre of Operations in the Infantry, and after his discharge taught vocational agriculture at Temple. Leaving that post in 1951, he went to Big Spring with the conservation service.

He is married and has three children.

Everhart still has his home in Towle Place, but will sell it when he gets his new assignment.

Mrs. O. M. Fowler, 1912 Thirtieth Street, returned recently from a trip through Carlsbad Caverns. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Jack Ray of Lubbock.

1952-53 School Budget Will Put Operation Back In 'Black'

The school budget of $1,464,051 approved by the board of trustees Tuesday night for the 1952-53 fiscal year, and published in detail below, will operate the system with its new building program and clear a deficit of more than $80,000.

For the last few years, the system has operated with a deficit because of unforeseen increases in the school district's needs. The budget set up last year for the 1951-52 term included a deficit of about $111,000, including one year's deficit of $75,000 plus debts carried over from previous years. A large portion of this was disposed of, and the new budget proposes to clear a present deficit of $80,583, putting the system "in the black" again and operating without creation of additional deficit.

Last year's budget totaled $1,156,462, of which $350.550 was used for bonded indebtedness retirement, and operating and maintenance needs required $806,092.

This year, the operating and maintenance total is set at $1,064,051, and the interest and sinking fund will require $400,000 for bond retirement. Last term the system based its needs on 112 regular teachers, including seven principals and a director of curriculum. This year, the budget provides for 162 teachers, including seven principals and the curriculum director.

The district anticipates collection of taxes based on an estimated property valuation total of $137 million. Last year's valuation total was $82,837,485.

Breakdown of the budget follows:

25 YEARS AGO

(Taken from the files of THE SCURRY COUNTY TIMES for July 28, 1927)

Scattered showers fell over West Texas Friday afternoon, giving new life to cotton and materially aidng late maize crops, but while other spots got showers, Scurry County got a real rain—starting at 8 a.m. and continuing uninterrupted to 12. There were more than three inches precipitation. Scurry County is happy—and rightly so.

Scurry County is being represented in the 1927 Master Farmer contest by J. C. (Com) Ezell of Snyder. Mr. Ezell, who was selected by the local committee, is in competition with the best farmers from counties in every section of Texas.

The contest is being conducted by the Progressive Farmer in cooperation with the Extension service of Texas A&M College and has for its purpose the promotion of safe farming by selecting the fifteen best examples of safe farming each year and holding these individuals up as ideals in the sections from which they come.

Our good friend, T. B. Faver, is another believer in the "living at home" thought. Friday Mr. Faver brought two tomatoes to the office, each weighing a pound—and he further stated that he had a whole back yard, just like them Incidentally, the Junior Editor relished the garden fruit at home that night, and we never relished any better in our life.

The official opening of the Twilight League Thursday was marked off as a win for the Fire Department boys when they triumphed over the Christian Sunday school team 9-3.

The Fire Department boys lined up with Williams, Hicks, Von Roeder, Autry, Yoder, Casstevens, Baze Johnson and Gideon. Casstevens and Autry were the pitchers.

The Christian team included Sparks, Brown, Johnson, Joyce Hutchison, Cotton, Dodson, F Smith and Wilsford.

The Leisure But Lively Club had a most delightful time Friday morning when they went for an early morning plunge at Martin's pool. This was followed by a beautiful sunrise breakfast at Wolf Park. Those present were Misses Nona Carr, Lura B. West, Brooks Lee Carr, Maurice McClinton, Maxine Whitmore, Lessie Lee Houston Eleanor German and Winnie Houston and Mesdames Gus McClinton and Mabel Y. German.

Installation, Initiation Rites at OES

Three new members were initiated into the Order of the Eastern Star Chapter 450, at the chapter's last meeting. Mrs. H. D Mackey Mrs. J. W. Burleson, Sr., and Miss Johnnie Maples were the initiates.

Mrs. Otis Temple of Amarillo conferred degrees on Mrs. Burleson. Mrs. Jack Fulghum was installing officer and Mrs. H. L. Wren was installing marshal. Mrs. Lynn Henderson was chaplain. Ralph Parrot of Hermleigh presided as worthy patron.

Installation services were held for Onnie Martin, associate patron; Mrs. Martin, warder, and Mrs. Sid Worrell, chaplain.

Guests from the Hermleigh OES chapter presented an honorary membership to Mrs. Leona Weathers. Mrs. Mary Neal Mayo, worthy matron of the Hermleigh chapter, Mrs. Barney Drennan, Mrs. Joe Groves and Mr. and Mrs. Parrott were Hermleigh representatives. Mrs. Helen Terrell, also of Hermleigh, dedicated a song to Mrs. Weathers.

Other guests from the Sweetwater chapter were present.

C. E. Goulds Have Out-of-State Guests

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gould, Roby Highway, had as their guests last week her brother, W. M. Clark, and Mrs. Clark, of San Fernando, Calif.

Mrs. Clark's niece, Mrs. Robertson, and three children, of Morton Tex., visited Thursday in the Gould home. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gould, Jr., of Denver City, Tex., spent Wednesday and Thursday visiting here, enroute to Tampa, Fla., for a vacation.

The Goulds are expecting their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gould and son, of Hobbs N.M., to visit today.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Curnutte and children of Bowie, are visiting in the Fritz R. Smith home, as well as with Mrs. R. H. Curnutte, Sr. Mrs. Curnutte and the children visited this week end with friends in Seminole, Tex., their former home.

For First Time In 30 Years, Borden Will Have High School

S. P. Stewart, superintendent of the Borden County school district, lives on a new street in Gail. Along the street are seven new houses, to be provided rent - free to teachers, and at the head of it the new Gail school plant is under construction.

It's all a symbol of a new era in Borden County schools, Stewart believes, explaining that this year will mark the first time in 30 years that the high school grades have been taught at Gail. Borden County has never had a fully accredited high school.

FROM ERATH COUNTY

Stewart has been working and planning for the new system since he came to Gail last January, from Lingleville in Erath County, where he had been superintendent for the past five years. He had been connected with the Lingleville school for 12 years. He received his bachelor of science degree in education from Daniel Baker College in Brownwood and his master of education degree from North Texas State College, Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and their two sons, Boby Joe, 11, and Phillip Darrell, 8, live in a green house on the new street that might well be named Teachers' Row. Their two - bedroom cottage is just like ten others, already built or soon to be finished in Borden County, except that some of the houses have hardwood floor instead of tile, and color schemes vary.

From the Stewarts' kitchen window the view is of Flat-top Mountain and nothing else—proving how far it is to anywhere in Borden County. Nine school buses will carry children to Gail this fall from the far corners of the county, over mostly unpaved roads and through some rather rugged country.

COUNTRY SCHOOLS

Only students in the top six grades will necessarily attend school in Gail. First through fourth graders who live nearer Miller school in the west central part of the county or Murphy in the southeast corner will enroll in the elementary schools. Plains school, a consolidation of Berry Flat and Mesquite schools in the northwest part of the county, will have six grades.

The new program provides for a six-year high school at Gail, besides the elementary school which will also be taught there. In the seventh and eighth grades, which are included in the high school program, courses to be offered are language arts, social science, mathematics, science, creative and recreational arts and vocational work. Courses available in the ninth through twelfth grades are typing, shorthand, general business, bookkeeping, commercial law, general science, biology, history, Spanish, civics, vocational agriculture, home economics, journalism and public speaking.

VOCATIONAL COURSES

The vocational shops and laboratories will be housed in the native stone structure built in 1914, which is being remodeled. A new building under construction will include a wing for elementary classrooms, besides five high school classrooms, a study hall, administration offices, cafeteria and auditorium - gymnasium.

Teachers will be aided in working out the new program by consultants from Texas Technological College and the state education agency, Stewart said.

Salaries will be on the state schedule, but, as Stewart said, "Most teachers consider the rent-free houses as the equivalent of $75 a month."

Teachers in the Gail school will be Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McGee, Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Willoughby, Mr. and Mrs. Homer McBride, Eugene Lay, E. F. Moser, Lois Milstead, Cliff Prather, Richard Burgess and Mrs. Lela Porter. A public school music teacher is still being sought.

The one - teacher Miller school will be taught by Mrs. Richard Burgess. Mrs. Frank Hunter and another teacher still to be employed will teach at the Murphy schools. Plains teachers will be Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hollis and Mrs. Cliff Prather.

U. S. Population Not Passing Ability of Farms to Produce

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—If any Americans are worrying about where their next meal is coming from, or how their children will fare in years ahead, a Department of Agriculture report may put them at ease.

It says the ability of U. S. farms to produce is so enormous it can meet any foreseeable demand for food and fibers—even if there's a war.

But an important part of this farm study is another conclusion its authors reached. They say it now is possible, because of farm know-how, to increase production tremendously without harming the soil. On the contrary, they say, the land would be made richer year after year.

The report says that by 1955 the state studies made by land-grant colleges and the Agriculture Department. It was started shortly after the outbreak of the Korean War to determine how the nation might fare in another world war.

Even without a war and despite huge population increases, the report indicates, standards of living need not be limited because farms can't produce abundantly.

The report say that by 1955 the production of farm products could be increased by one fifth over 1950, which was among the best farm years in all history.

By 1955, it assumed, the population may increase by about 10 million—Census Bureau estimates indicate the gain may be more than this—but even so, it said, the rate of food production could be many times the rate of population increase. Thus the amount of food available for each person would be increased.

"A higher level diet would be provided through more emphasis on livestock and livestock products," the report says. "Total production of meat, including poultry, would increase from 178 pounds per capita in 1951 to 199 per capita for the population expected by 1955."

The increases are possible without substantially increasing the number of acres in crops and without increasing the number of farm workers, the report says. As a matter of fact, war conditions might make fewer farm hands available.

All the increases are possible, the report says, through applying the technical knowledge now available to farmers about growing crops and livestock; giving farmers the incentive (high enough prices) to grow big crops; making more fertilizer available, and producing more farm machinery to take the place of vanishing farm hands.

Farm experts agreed that if all farmers could take advantage of all the know-how available to them today, and farm their lands diligently with these methods, production would be half again as great as in 1950. But they also agreed that as a practical matter not every farmer could apply all this knowledge, or obtain all materials needed, and so they settled for the estimate that it is possible to increase production one fifth.

The report said that in normal times farm production is limited by:

1. Lack of knowledge by farmers of new farm practices developed by scientists and the highest-producing farmers.
2. Uncertainty whether to risk new investments to increase production, or lack of money to make new investments.
3. Limited supplies of key materials, such as commercial fertilizer.
4. Labor problems in some areas.

Tourist Center Is Opened in Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE, July 26 (AP)—An international tourist center has been opened in Brownsville to furnish facilities to visitors from both sides of the border, Ken Gower president of the International Tourist Assn., announced today.

The new center is at the location occupied by Sanborn's Tide Tourist Service. An executive secretary and hostess will be on duty seven days a week to furnish information maps, literature and other assistance ot transient visitors.

Mrs. C. T. McLaughlin returned Friday from a trip to Tennessee. She visited in Knoxville and Gatlinburg, a resort in the Smoky Mountains.

Gospel Ship Off to Africa

VICKSBURG, Miss., July 26 (AP)—The Ark of LeTourneau sailed today for the Liberian jungles with missionaries to teach the natives modern farming and Christianty.

About 50 to 75 friends and relatives of 12 technical missionaries aboard the gospel vessel waved as the craft slid into the Mississippi River at 8:30 a.m. for the trip to Africa.

The vessel will stop at New Orleans for a final checkup.

The vessel, a converted navy landing craft, originally was scheduled to sail last Saturday after it was blessed by Evangelist Billy Graham, but the departure was prevented by loading problems.

The technical missionaries and a cargo of heavy equipment to clear the jungle and turn it into rich farmland will teach the natives Christianity and show them modern methods of farming.

Robert LeTourneau, Longview Tex., millionaire industrialist, orignated the idea because he believed the natives would not be convertd "when their bellies cry for food."

Collision Is Fatal

ALTO, July 26 (AP)—Mrs. Jeter I Dean, 53, was killed today when a car driven by her husband collided with a pickup truck.

Dean and the truck driver, Lee Bates, escaped serious injury.

Taken to Odessa

Mrs. Arthur Townsend was taken from her home west of Snyder to Odessa for treatment Friday night by a Bell ambulance. She was returned home later the same day.

NOT LIKE GOOD OLD DAYS

Presidential Candidates To Spend More Than-Ever Before

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Presidential campaigning this year will be less rugged but much more expensive than in the past.

Candidates from Lincoln to Bryan traveled in buggies and wooden coaches hired for a song. They got just what they paid for though—sweltering heat and cinders in their whiskers.

Now the party standard bearers travel in air-conditioned, diesel-engined streamliners, fast, plush planes, and high-powered motorcades.

And, if Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai Stevenson sought to supplement their special train "whistle-stop" speechmaking this summer and fall wiht television appearances, it will cost $28,000 for a half-hour of "open time" on a national hookup or nearly $1,000 a minute.

This $28,000 would go up to $40,000 or even $125,000, party officers say, if the candidate could find no open time and had to pre-empt a commercialy - sponsored program.

National Committee officials say the 1952 candidates just chosen undoubtedly will do a lot of rear-platform campaigning and also shop around for some good open spots on television.

Taking the candidate and his message into the homes of millions of voters by TV will be a valuable new twist.

Equipment and personnel expenses.

Campaigners still recognize the long-proven need for personal appearances in the flesh. Many a vote has been won by a smile and a handshake.

HIGHER COST

The cost of campaigning modern style has risen considerably. With each National Committee limited to spending three million dollars under the Hatch Act, they will have to spread this quite thin or get around the limitation some way as has been done in the past without violating the law.

Costs have gone up a good deal even since the last campaign. And in 1948 it cost the Republicans $132,344 alone for the special train of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, countless.

The special for Dewey's running mate, Gov. Earl Warren, cost even more—$142,906—because it was on one very long trip while Dewey's made several, shorter ones.

TRUMAN'S CAR

President Truman's private railroad car was a "rolling fortress," air-cooled, with parlor and easy chairs, sofa and radio, several bedrooms and baths, dining room and small kitchen. He traveled 22,000 miles and made 272 speeches starting with Labor Day. He also covered 9,500 miles before the convention.

Vice President Barkley shortened his campaign travel time by use of airplanes — which cost plenty.

Contrast this with the rugged travel of William Jennings Bryan, Democratic candidate in 1896. The "Great Commoner" made 568 speeches and set a record of 24 talks in 24 hours. He traveled three months in hot, dirty wooden coaches, sleepers and cabooses and took many buggy trips over dusty roads.

AUGUST 1 Through 10
I. A. DOUTHITT, EVANGELIST
PLEASANT CRENSHAW, SINGER
SERVICES EACH DAY 10 A.M. and 8 P.M.
Brother Douthitt has made two journeys to the Holy Land. He is a sincere, earnest and able preacher of God's Word. The public is cordially invited to hear him.

There isn't much music coming out of that horn. But one thing's certain: this little fellow is making plenty of noise.
If it happens to be Sunday morning, when the family sleeps late, this sturdy musician isn't going to receive much praise. His lungs are strong, though, and he's going to sit there and toot that trumpet until Mom or Dad takes it away from him.
All of his playmates are at Sunday School, so you really can't blame him for trying to while away the idle hours. Unfortunately, his parents haven't got the Church-going habit, so this boy will probably grow up like them and sleep away the hours in which he could be getting spiritual nourishment.
You've got the right idea, Gabriel. Wake them up to their responsibility!
THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Greenlanders Still Marvel At U.S. Abandonment of Air Base

COPENHAGEN, July 26 (AP)—The slant-eyed, sealskin-clad natives of Marraq, Greenland, are still puzzled by the Americans who came out of the air one fine day, set up a huge airbase in the barren arctic wastes — and then suddenly vanished, leaving millions of dollars worth of runways, equipment and gasoline.

They aren't likely to forget those incredible days when a rootless piece of America was put amidst the vast silence of their black mountains and endless white plains.

RECALL PAST

In the tiny settlements along the West Greenland Coast, they sit in aluminum chairs made for American fliers and excitedly tell to occasional visitors the strange tale of the dead airbase.

The Americans, it seems, discovered Marraq when the fury of the war was at its height. Behind the desolate, rocky coast some 60 miles south of Godthaab they found what appeared to be the ideal site for an airbase. A flat, sheltered sand bank covering an area of some five square miles.

During the summer of 1944 warlike 20th century civilization was brought to the wilderness through the air and in huge barges navigating the treacherous waters of nearby Weeping Fjord.

When the U. S. Air Force was at last installed, Marraq had been turned into a town of 23 buildings It had its own electricity plant cinema, workshops, radio station and cold storage depot.

Seven thousand big steel mats had been rolled out across the sandy expanse as runways, and nine tall radio towers pointed toward the pale arctic sky.

LEFT EVERYTHING

For two years the Americans stayed at Marraq. When the end came, it came suddenly. One day in 1950, the Americans boarded their planes and roared out to sea, never to return. The swarming over the base, pillaging and babbling excitedly at their good fortune.

What they found was incredible. On the dining tables in the messes were half-eaten meals indicating the order to clear out had been given unexpectedly.

But there were other things which delighted the natives far more. Scattered around the base were thousands of barrels of gasoline and a vast confusion of trucks, automobiles, bulldozers, tractors, radio transmitters, spare parts for planes, furniture, electrical equipment and engines of all kinds and sizes.

Today in their primitive homes along Weeping Fjord, the Greenlanders sleep in American beds and relax in comfortable chairs which once belonged in planes.

Godthaab, capital of Denmark's arctic colony, has not had to import gasoline since the Americans flew away.

Peace has returned to Marraq with gasoline barrels and broken-down houses but it is strangely quiet. Only the fox and the grouse leave their footprints on the snow-covered runways and the majestic arctic eagle slowly circles in the skies where American warplanes flew.

Unification of Armed Forces Overshadowed by Korean War

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—The Korean War has engulfed the armed forces unification program which Congress approved five years ago today.

Plenty of money for the military (more than some of the services could spend immediately), a revival of old rivalries and the plain fact that in any war the armed forces operate as a matter of course — all have helped overshadow the project.

On July 26, 1947, Congress passed and sent to the White House the bill to integrate the policies and administration procedures of the armed forces, to provide "coordination and unified direction under civilian control of the secretary of defense" and give the Air Force equal status with the Army and Navy.

By mid-1950 the unification machinery was beginning to run smoothly. Some overlapping operations of branches of the armed forces were eliminated by setting up single agencies. New and needed agencies were formed.

In the beginning, the persuasion of the late Defense Secretary James Forrestal and the iron-hand policy of his successor, Louis Johnson, helped suppress the jealousies and competitions of the services and their chiefs. As even moderating factor was the [illegible] trend in government — sentiment for a tight purse for the military in peacetime.

But the Korean conflict broke out. The military appropriation bill skyrocketed from its original estimate of $13,272,000,000 buying authority for the armed forces to more than 41 billion by the end of the first year of war. The budget has been even bigger in subsequent years.

The competition of World War II days for money, for materiel, for manpower was renewed.

With a stepup in preparedness for a possible Communist expansion of the Korean aggression into full world war, there has been revival too of the rivalries over the missions of the armed forces. The Air Force got money for more long-range, heavy, strategic bombers and won its plea for expansion to a 143-wing force. The Navy, seeing this, reopened the case for supercarriers. With congressional backing, it has authority to build two 60,000-ton flattop — and now advocates construction of at least eight more.

If savings were achieved by the consolidation [illegible] first three years of unification, they have been at least diminished by the Korean War and general rearmament.

Audobun Homecoming

Former residents of the Audobon community, six miles east of Alvord, Tex., will attend the annual homecoming of the community Aug. 10. A basket lunch will be spread at noon under a tent on the church ground and a program has been arranged.

American Major Runs Train Through Germany's East Zone

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The portly man handed his travel orders to the major and asked anxiously: "There won't be any shooting, will there?"

Maj. Charles Woerple smiled and motioned the man aboard the Berliner, waiting on the track for the highball toward the Iron Curtain.

"Nothing to worry about," he said. "It's just another train ride."

As the man swung aboard, Woerple smile broadened into a grin. "We get 'em like that sometimes," he said. "They think a trip to Berlin is like traveling through the jaws of death."

Maj. Woerple runs one of the most unusual trains in the world. Its passengers must have orders written in Russian to ride it under American protection through the East German countryside.

Maj. Woerple is a pretty old hand through World War II in the 32nd Division, where he won the Silver Star, Bronze Star, and a couple of Purple Hearts in the South Pacific. Later he came to Europe and became rail transport officer. Now he's deputy chief of the rail transport section here, and sees that military trains are run by the book.

The Berliner gives him his oddest job.

Since it traverses 100 miles of the Russian Zone of Germany, the Russians take a proprietary interest in it. They keep a close check on the passenger lists.

The Americans keep their own close check, too. From the time the Berliner leaves either end of its run, the train is sealed. Two military policemen, a baggage guard, and a train commander keep things under control.

Military personnel, their dependents, high commission employes and some tourists with good connections, can obtain orders to ride the Berliner.

The Berliner's big stop is at Helmstedt - Marienborn, where the Russian Zone begins. There the train commander drops off with an interpreter and hands over a copy of the passenger list to a stolid Russian officer.

Lt. Ronald D. Smith of Lakotah, N. D., is one train commander who can give and take with the Russians. At Helmstedt the Communist loudspeakers often play American jazz records, heavily larded with anti-American propaganda speeches.

"I just stroll down the platform and listen," Lt. Smith says. "This always makes the Russians nervous. They figure I ought to get mad at 'speeches calling us war mongers. I pretend I like the music and it really throws those guys."

The Russians treat the American military crew with icy politeness and for more than a year have not made any trouble. Sometimes Russian military police talk to their U. S. opposite numbers.

Most annoyances riding the Berliner come from inside the train. Maj. Woerple and his man sometimes have trouble with the Saturday night funster who sneaks a bottle aboard. Drinking on the Berliner is prohibited. There is also the railroad romantic who finds the rules of sex segregation obnoxious. He is dealt with summarily.
