75 CONVERTS "HIT SAWDUST" AT REVIVAL

"You Have to Work to Get To Heaven," Biederwolf Tells 2500

HE SCORES SHIRKERS

Tears and Smiles Mingle When 75 Pledge "Allegiance to Lord

Attesting their allegiance to God, 75 men and women "hit the sawdust trail" in the Union Revival tabernacle Tuesday night after Dr. W. E. Biederwolf had delivered his sermon to a congregation of 2500 persons.

At the conclusion of the evangelist's sermon the converts walked to the front of the tabernacle and stood in front of the pulpit while they repeated after Dr. Biederwolf the oath of allegiance to the cause of the Lord.

Tears rolled down the cheeks of a large number of the converts; some had a smile of contentment; others an expression on their faces that manifested their belief that they were taking another turn in the road of life.

Talks On Work

Dr. Biederwolf took for his sermon text the sixth verse, fourth chapter, Book of Nehemiah. "So we built the wall." The subject of the sermon was "Work."

Shirkers in church work came in for a denunciation by the evangelist.

"Some church people sit down and wait for bliss," said Dr. Biederwolf. "But they generally get blisters waiting."

There are always some church people who are classed as "joy-killers" or "knockers" and can never see anything good coming from suggestions made for the advancement of religion, Dr. Biederwolf said.

"The 'joy-killers' are the ones who will offer their services," said the evangelist, "as pallbearers before the man is dead."

The trouble with some people, according to Dr. Biederwolf, is their inclination to plead physical inability to work for the cause of God.

How to Get to Heaven

"These people," he said, "who plead that they cannot work for the Lord because of physical inability generally spend most of their life in the roundhouse waiting for repairs."

People who think that when they join the church that they are on the road to Heaven are mistaken, Dr. Biederwolf said.

"It takes work to get to Heaven. You can't get a free pass on a Pullman car, with a porter to wait on you. You've got to work a handle on a hand-car if you expect to reach the Golden Gates."

The services were opened by the choir, comprising 250 voices, led by Prof. George Dibble, singing "Give Me a Blessing," the campaign song of the meeting. Miss Mary Lewis was the accompanist.

Noonday Services

Prof. Dibble sang a solo, "They Ring Those Golden Bells." He was accompanied by Miss Lewis. Prof. Dibble and Miss Lewis recently recorded this song for one of the prominent phonograph companies of the United States.

Dr. Biederwolf announced that starting Tuesday noonday services would be held every Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in the Olympic theater.

Dr. Biederwolf's sermon follows in full:

"Nehemiah was having a great time in the palace of old King Cyrus, but sad news had reached him concerning Jerusalem the city of his fathers. The walls were thrown down and the gates were burned and his brethren there were in great distress. And Nehemiah said, "I prayed to the God of Heaven." That's a good place, by the way to direct your prayers. A fellow got up in Boston some time ago and prayed, and he went through a fine recitation, and

Chinese Order Execution Of Russian Prisoners

Manchurian War Lord Commands Death Penalty for Passengers Seized on Ship

LONDON, March 8.(AP)—Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war lord, has ordered the execution of all the Russian prisoners, with the exception of Mme. Michael Vorodin, seized aboard the Soviet ship Pamiat Lenina, says the Peking correspondent of the Westminister Gazette.

The despatch says that the executions have been ordered on the ground that the Chinese and Russian communists were aboard the Pamiat Lenina with a mass of propogandist literature, with the intent to aid the Cantonese, or southern nationalists, whom Chang Tso-Lin is fighting.

The correspondent says the incident is expected to lead to a rupture in relations between Soviet Russia and the Peking government.

Seizure of the Soviet Pamiato Lenina on Saturday by Shantung troops was the subject of a note from the Russian embassy at Peking to the Chinese foreign office. In its note to the Peking goyernment, the Soviet embassy demanded that the vessel, its crew and passengers be released immediately. The embassy declared the Chinese government would be held responsible for their safety.

Shanghai dispatches today said it was rumored there that Mme. Borodin, wife of Michael Borodin, advisor to the Canton government, was aboard the Pampiat Lenina. Japanese sources at Nanking reported that Mme. Borodin was escorted to Tsinan-Fu by Shantung troops.

THREE-POWER TREATY

Coolidge Negotiates With Britain and Japan on Pact.

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, March 8. — President Coolidge is negotiating with Great Britain and Japan for a three-power naval treaty to limit submarines, destroyers, fast cruisers and other ships of war left untouched by the last Washington conference, it was announced at the White House today.

Undaunted by the flat refusal of France and Italy to enter a five-power agreement for naval curtailment, the Coolidge administration has been conducting "informal inquiries" with both Great Britain and Japan.

The response from the two naval powers are understood to be favorable thus far.

The situation among the three countries is being carefully studied to determine whether any fruitful disarmament results could be achieved even if France and Italy stay out, it was said.

SINCLAIR CASE

Government Practically Completes Contempt Case Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, March 8.(AP)—Blocked in its efforts to get into the record what was in senatorial minds in the asking of questions which Harry F. Sinclair refused to answer in the senate Teapot Dome inquiry, the government practically concluded today the presentation of its contempt case against the millionaire oil operator and sportsman.

Presentation of the defense's case and long argument on points of law probably will be started tomorrow with the prospect that the case will reach the jury late Thursday or early Friday.

Boy, Nine, Goes to Prison On Palestine Burglary Charge

PALESTINE, March 8.(AP) Palestine's baby burglar, a youth only nine years of age, who was arrested several weeks ago charged with burglarizing a residence and taking $35 in money was taken Monday to the state reformatory at Gatesville by Sheriff Archie D. Brown.

The boy had been held for some time by county authorities in the hope that some charitable family would adopt the youngster and give him a fair chance to grow up in good surroundings but none could be found.

TWO KILLED IN GAS BLAST

Five More May Die After Refinery Line Breaks

HOUSTON, March 8.(AP)—Two men are dead, another is believed to be dying and physicians are working with pulmotors to save the lives of five others, as the result of bursting of a high pressure gas line, carrying deadly fumes in the Baytown refinery, near Houston, of the Humble Oil and Refining company Tuesday afternoon. The dead are Robert L. Perry, 20 and Guy Lansford, 25, both refinery workers. Charles Baker, lies near death. James Edens, Ed. Blessingame, Jim Hurta, Cecil Carter, a stillman; and J. Parker, shift foreman, were injured.

The men were at work in the receiving room of the plant, when a pipe which carries fumes from the dome of a still burst over their heads, filling the chamber with the gas.

Those nearest the break met death, the others staggering out of the building badly gassed.

The particularly deadly fumes carried by the pipe that bust are distilled from Crane-Upton crude which has a heavy sulphur base.

FERGUSON HITS W. C. T. U. "ANTI BREW" SLOGAN

Former Governor Issues Two Caustic Statements Monday

"JIM" FOR. SEN. REED

Compares Missouri Senator To Julius Caeser And Henry Clay

AUSTIN, March 8.(AP)—Bitter denunciation of the W. C. T. U. in its reported adoption of the slogan "I serve no home brew," and a virtual promise to support Senator Jim Reed of Missouri for the democratic presidential nominee are contained in two statements issued today by former Gov. James E. Ferguson.

Hits "Home Brew" Slogan.

Ferguson caustically referred to the Woman's Christian Temperance union as a "witch burning prohibition organization" and declared he "never thought the time would ever come when I could answer the brewery charge of the prohibition fanatics and say that prohibition has transferred the location of the brewery from the city to the home and moreover, I never dreamed that the time would come when I could prove the statement by the words of the president of the W. C. T. U. and yet such is the case. It is true—it is a pity. It is a pity it is true."

Ferguson paid his respects to Reed by saying: "he is as brave as Julius Cesaer, as able and fearless as Henry Clay and as honest as Paul. The Forum (Ferguson's newspaper) predicts now that the man who is nominated by the next democratic convention will have to bear Jim Reed or go back and sit down."

Favors Reed.

Ferguson declared Reed "can carry every state that Gov. Al Smith of W. G. McAdoo could carry If they were nominated and he could carry many states that neither Smith nor McAdoo could carry. Jim Reed is anti-prohibitionist—anti-ku klux—anti-league of nations. If he were nominated there would be no doubt of his carrying the south like there would be if Governor Smith were nominated. On the other hand, if McAdoo were nominated he would not carry such states as New York, New Jersey, Illinois or Missouri, which would be fatal to his election. Senator Reed could carry all these states."

Druggist Sentenced For Selling Three-Layer Medicine

BIDDLEFORD, Maine, March 8.(AP)—For selling a three-layer patent medicine combination in his drug store Louis Pelletier was sentenced to 14 months in jail and fined $1400 today. The top layer was cod-liver oil, the middle layer honey and the bottom layer rum.

The evidence showed that customers by pushing a straw through the top layer could get two good sized drinks of rum and honey for a dollar without tasting the oil. Prohibition officers seized the stock.

MILLER GIVEN 18-MONTH TERM

Former Alien Custodian Must Pay $5000 Fine

NEW YORK, March 8. (AP)—Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, today was sentenced to serve 18 months in federal prison and pay a fine of $500 when arraigned in federal court.

Miller, alien property custodian in the Harding administration, was convicted last Friday for conspiracy to defraud the United States of his honest and best services in connection with the allowance of claims for $7,000,000. Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, was indicted with Miller, but the jury disagreed on Daugherty and the indictment against him was dropped.

2500 Dead, Hundreds Injured And Homeless in Japanese Earthquake

By Universal Service Staff.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—More than 2500 persons were killed, an equal number were injured, thousands are homeless and property damage estimated at millions of dollars was the toll of the earthquake which rocked western Japan yesterday, according to a message received here tonight from Tokyo by the Japanese-American, a vernacular newspaper.

Many Die of Exposure.

Railroads are carrying refugees free of charge. Navy destroyers are speeding to the ports of Osaka and Kobe with food, clothing and medical supplies for the striken area. Emergency shelter stations and food kitchens are being hurridly erected by soldiers who are assisting the municipal authorities in caring for the injured and homeless.

This is the first serious earthquake felt in Japan since the 1925 disaster which hit the Kyoto district with heavy loss of life. Yesterday's quake left a toll of 2000 dead in Kyoto prefecture, destroyed 6500 houses and rendered thousands homeless.

Scores of persons forced to flee their homes have preished from exposure due to the cold weather.

The authorities in Hyogo prefecture reported 8 killed and 26 houses destroyed, while Osaka prefecture reports 130 injured and 150 houses razed by the quake. In the cities of Osaka and Kobe, but small damage occured, the message received here stated.

Shocks Continue.

A famous crepe silk factory and more than 1000 houses were destroyed in the town of Mineyama prefecture. The towns of Iwataki and Kaetsu in the same province were totally destroyed, the report stated.

Traffic communications between Tokyo and the striken area was still unrestored at a late hour.

Frequent shocks were felt in the striken area today, increasing the anxiety of the homeless who scurried through snow covered streets and braved cold winds to find places of shelter.

BOY ADMITS HE HURLED BOMB ON DAD'S BED

Dallas Youth Confesses He Threw Dynamite In Bed Room

EXPLOSION PREVENTED

Father Jerks Burning Fuse From Dynamite In Nick of Time

DALLAS, March 8.(AP)—Howard Barr, 15, tonight made a written statement to Detective Chief Charles Gunning concerning the tossing of a lighted dynamite bomb into the bedroom of his father, H. Jack Barr, contractor and young Barr's step mother at 4 a. m., today. The boy said he wanted to go to California to visit his mother, whom he had not seen in nine years.

Made for Boy.

Examination of the bomb, from which he succeeded in tearing the fuse without an instant to spare, convinced the elder Barr that it had been made by John Walker, a negro in his employ, the cap, stick and fuse having been set with the aid of a grease in a fashion he had invented and taught the negro. Walker arrested, said that he made the bomb a week ago at the request of Howard Barr who had declared he wanted to dynamite fish.

Young Barr's statement to the detective chief confirmed Walker's explanation of the bomb and absolved him of any knowledge of any ulterior design concerning its use.

The mother of Howard Barr, whom he said he wanted to go to, lives in San Diego, Calif.

Father Weeps.

Tears streamed down the cheeks of the elder Barr as he listened to the report of the findings of the officers. He said that he carried life insurance totalling $40,000 to protect his family and declared he had done all in his power to rear his son well.

All indications, the elder Barr earlier in the day told police, indicated that some one familiar with his household had tossed the bomb on the bed in which he and Mrs. Barr were asleep, since neither he nor his wife were awakened by the movement of any one in the house. Had not the dynamite stick struck Mrs. Barr on the head and awakened her both doubtless would have been killed, he declared.

Law to Take Course.

W. A. Hamilton, principal of the grammar school from which young Barr was ready to graduate, declared Howard had been one of his best pupils and that he could hardly believe him capable of crime.

The elder Barr told officers that he did not want to see his son punished too severely, but that he wanted the law to take its course.

MOODY URGES EXTRA WEEK

Governor Wants Action Taken On Textbook Bill

TOBACCO TAX VOTED.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 8. (AP) — Championed as a means to keep down ad valorem taxes and augment school funds by $6,000,000, the tobacco tax bill passed to engrossment in the house late tonight by a vote of 67 to 41, after the longest debate on one measure this session.

By Universal Service.

AUSTIN, March 8.—The house just can't get set on the bill providing an occupation tax on cigars, cigarets, tobaccos and its substitutes and after debating the question all the afternoon the lawmakers came back to the capitol tonight to talk about it some more.

Passage Indicated

As the night wore on indications for the passage of the measure appeared more favorable as legislator after legislator climbed to his weary feet and pointed out that the proposed tax would yield more than $5,000,000 annually to the school fund.

Before the house got away to a flying start on the cigar tax bill, Gov. Dan Moody made a brief address in which he urged the lawmakers to forget the salary question for the time being and remain in session a week longer so that some kind of action can be taken on several constitutional amendments which are now pending on the calendar.

In urging that action be taken on the text book bill, Gov. Moody bitterly assailed the provisions of the present text book law which he said, were designed to protect the interests of text book publishers.

Asks School Protection

"I want a law that will protect the school fund of this state," the governor said, and judging from the commotion on the house floor, the governor will get just what he asked for.

The chief executive also recommended the enactment of a law he recommended in his first message to the legislature abolishing manslaughter from the criminal code.

"In the interest of human life, I urge that you pass this bill," the governor said.

Under the terms of a bill passed to third reading in the house a course in fire prevention will be established in the public schools of the state.

Senate Battles

Over in the senate a bitter verbal battle developed during debate on a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee to investigate lobbyists who, it was charged, are spending enormous sums of money to assure defeat of the tobacco tax bill.

Charges flew back and forth and several physical clashes were narrowly averted by the senators who, in the end, refused to adopt the resolution, referring it to the committee on state affairs where it will accumulate dust.

JOHNNY MOSTIL SEEKS DEATH BY OWN HAND

White Sox Player Almost Cut to Pieces When Found in Room

MOTHER HYSTERICAL

Young Outfielder's Attempt To End Own Life Mystery to Friends

SHREVEPORT, March 8. (AP) Johnny Mostil, centerfielder of the Chicago White Sox, is dying in a local hospital here as the result of self-inflicted knife wounds.

Little Hope.

Mostil cut his throat, arms, wrists and stabbed himself in the left side while alone in a room in the Hotel Youree where the Chicago American league baseball team is quartered.

At the sanitarium where Mostil is being cared for, little hope was held out for his recovery.

There was no practice on the field today and Mostil with the other players, remained in and about the hotel.

Pat Prunty, an ardent Chicago baseball fan and close friend of Mostil, said Mostil had been feeling badly in the morning.

Door Locked.

Prunty had left Mostil's room about 4 o'clock this afternoon and upon returning about 6:30 found the door locked. He obtained a pass key and upon entering found Mostil in the bath room.

Mostil was taken to a hospital where physicians pronounced his condition serious. The wounds consisted of two deep gashes in the left side of the neck just below the ear and a superficial cut on the left slide of his body about the waist line.

CHICAGO, March 9. (AP)—Mrs. Casper Mostil of Whiting, Ind., widowed mother of Johnny Mostil, Chicago White Sox centerfielder, tonight declared she knew of no reason why her son should attempt to take his life nor of any enemies who might attempt to slay him.

Mrs. Mostil became hysterical and collapsed when she learned of her son's condition.

A sister of the star outfielder said that when Johnny left to go south to the training camp he was apparently carefree and looked forward to the coming season with much enthusiasm.

Mostil was not married and lived at Whiting with his mother.

Whiskey-Crazed Man Fires Seven Shots in Garage, Endangering Lives

Several persons narrowly escaped injury about 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when a whiskey crazed man walked into a small garage at 116 Indiana avenue and began to shoot wildly with an automatic revolver.

Seven shots were fired before C. E. King, owner of the garger, wrested the gun from the maniac's grip.

According to King, the man came to the door of the garage where several men were working, and without saying a word drew the gun and began shooting. King said that he grappled with the man before the shooting stopped.

The man was arrested and is being held in the city jail.

75 CONVERTS AT REVIVAL

Biederwolf Sways Crowd In Powerful Sermon

the next morning the newspaper said, "The Rev. So and So delivered the finest prayer ever addressed to a Boston audience."

Meant Business.

"But Nehemiah meant business; and he asked God to let him go and build again the walls of Jerusalem. And God always honors the prayer of faith and so he moved the heart of the old heathen monarch to let him go.

"I don't think there is any finer picture in all history than that of this old hero of the Faith, with his little band of chosen followers, riding around the dilapidated walls of Zion's once glorious city, under the star-lit skies of Judah, halting now and then in the shadow of some palm or olive tree, surveying the ruins, contemplating the task he had come to perform, thinking of the opposition he knew he was bound to encounter, and then breathing a prayer to the God of Heaven, ride on and enter the city.

"I sometimes think we overlook the principal character on that midnight ride; for God was with Nehemiah, and God encouraged him and strengthened his heart and sent him into the city with a resolution that no kind or amount of opposition could unsettle.

Enemies Got Busy.

"But Nehemiah had no sooner started work on the wall than the enemy got busy. And like Remus at the walls of Rome they began to ridicule him. "Why?" the said, "Nehemiah what are you trying to do? Do you think you can build a wall that can keep us back? Why, a fox could go up and break down your puny wall." But Nehemia was not there to be bluffed, and so the trowels kept up their music.

"Then they thought they could lick the old Jew in a pitched battle but Nehemiah had them hanging over the ropes in the first round.

Then they thought they would put one over on him. They would try a little strategy, and they said, "Well, Nehemiah, it's too bad for two parties both of whom are doubtless well-intending to have any misunderstanding; suppose we meet down here in one of the villages in the plains of Ono and talk it all over." But Nehemia said, "They thought to do me mischief." Nehemiah was there to build that wall. He got his commission from God and he proposed to carry it out in spite of all that hell could do to stop him.

"I like to see a man who is determined. Like the colored fellow who was out in the field standing under a big tree during a lightning storm, and the lightning struck the tree. About two seconds later the darkey pulled himself together about 30 feet away from the tree, and he rolled his big white eyes around as he go up from the ground, and he walked back to the tree and threw his shoulders up against it, and said, "I is gwine to stand here." My, what could the church not do if we had a determination like that born of the Holy Ghost.

Three Divisions.

And Nehemiah said to the heathen, "I am doing a great work, and why should I leave the work and come down to you?" And, Oh men and women think what a great work the church of the living God has got to do in Wichita Falls and what the Individual Christian needs is a soul-stirring conception of the relative importance of this work as compared with anything else that could possibly engage your time and your attention. But alas, instead of being on the wall with sword and trowel in hand all too many of the Wichita Falls church members are down in the plains of Ono making compromise with the world, the flesh and the Devil. And that's the point of this whole sermon because Nehemia's troubles did not all come from the outside; in fact the most of them came from the inside, from the members of his own crowd.

"Somebody has said that the members of any kind of an organization can be divided into three classes, workers, shirkers and jerkers. And I am sure that this is true of the church. It reminds me of the very old story of the stage coach that used to wait at the station for the train to come in. Along the top was printed, "First, Second and Third Class Passengers, 15, 10 and 5 cents." But when the passengers got in they found the accommodations were all just alike and they began to complain and ask the driver why it was. He shouted down, "Just keep your seats and you'll find out after while." And finally as the lumbering old thing rolled down the dusty road they came to the foot, the bottom of a steep hill and the stage coach stopped, and the driver shouted down, "First class passengers please keep their seats: Second class passengers will get out and walk and third class passengers will get out and push." And that was the difference. And do you know, we have got all too many first class passengers in the House of God, members who are just riding along and causing the chariot of the Lord to go heavy by reason of their weight: And we've got all too many second class passengers, members who are just watching the thing go, the do-nothings; and what we need is more of the third class kind that will get down and put their heart and shoulder to the wheels of the Kingdom of God and do their bit in shoving it along.

"I never could understand some church members. You seem to think because God has saved your soul that you've nothing to do but to sit down and fold your hands and let the rest of the world go to the devil in its own sweet way. You seem to think that all you've got to do is just to sit down and sing your way into everlasting bliss. Well, you keep that sort of thing up long enough and as a friend tered all right enough before you get through."

1. "Now Nehemiah had all three classes in his crowd. He had his jerkers. In chapter four it says that certain of the Jews came to him 10 times in one day and began to whine out their miserable 'Can't.' 'You can't do it, Nehemiah, the enemy will certainly overpower you. It is a hopeless undertaking; you'd better give it up; it can't be done.'

"And so in our church we have our jerkers, our proverbial wet-blanket throwers, our fault-finders. This is the discouraging thing about church work. It takes a strong pull, and a long pull, and a pull all together to make things go as they ought, but it's mighty discouraging for the lead horses when the wheel horses lay back on the breechbands and sometimes balk altogether. The trouble with a lot of you church members in Wichita Falls is that you wear out a dozen pair of holdbacks to one pair of tugs. You are like the boy on the football team: Mrs. Flannigan said to Mrs. Finigan,

"They tell me your son has got a position on the college football team."

"Yes, indeed," said the proud mother.

"Well," said Mrs. Finnigan, "what position is it that your son plays?"

"Sure, and I don't know," said Mrs. Finnigan, "but I think he is one of the drawbacks."

Fools Can Find Fault

"It doesn't take any brains to find fault. Any fool can do that. Some people find fault with everything. Somebody has said that when God was making the universe He finished up with the rattlesnake, the vampire, the toad and the skunk; and then He had some awful substance left and He didn't know what to do with it, and He made a knocker out of it. No man has a right to be a knocker as long as there is a pool of water big enough to drown himself in. Judas Iscariot was a knocker, but he was gentleman enough to go out and hang himself.

"Some people find fault with everything. They find fault because I preach without a vest; but God promised me when I began to burn out my life for Christ and His gospel that I could be comfortable while I was doing it, and if you think that I am going to get into a straightjacket or put on a corset to please your fastidious taste, why you've got another 'think' coming, that's all.

"You find fault about my grammar and complain that I say, 'Git.' But bless your little soul, I used to teach grammar. They find fault with the way this tabernacle is built and they couldn't build a respectable chicken coop to save their necks. They find fault with the singing, and they don't know any more about music than a backyard feline knows about Handel's Messiah, or the Hallelujah chorus.

Some Deplore Everything

"But you know there are some folks whose chief concern it seems to be is to deplore the state of things in general and to be everlastingly opposed to what the pastor and the majority want to do. Instead of their prayer book they have always got out their hammer. They are always ready to offer their services as a pallbearer before the patient is quite dead.

"Like a Scotchman who wanted to be an elder, and they said to him:

"'If you want to be an elder, what can you do? Can you lead the prayer meeting?'

"'No,' he said he didn't think he could make a good hand at that.

"'Well,' they said, 'can you lead in prayer?'

"'No,' he said he never was very much of a hand to lead in prayer in public. 'Well, they said, 'if you want to be an elder; what can you do? Can you visit the sick?'

"'No,' he was never very good at that.

"'Well,' they said, 'if you want to be an elder, what can you do?'

"'Well,' he said, 'I can object.'"

"Well, an objection may be a good thing once in a while; but why not be wings instead of weights? Why not instead of always trying to find fault try to find something to do? And what I pray is that the church members and Christian people of Wichitta Falls may come into sympathy with the thought of God for this hour. And remember what dear old Moody used to say: 'All your criticism never saved a single solitary soul.'"

"II. Then Nehemiah had his shirkers. In chapter three there is given a long list of the people who went to work, but the chapter closes by saying "certain ones of the nobles of Judah put not their necks to the work of the Lord." Notice is was the 'nobles' who wouldn't work. The high-toned members who were too busy playing bridge whist. Oh, yes, they pay all right—but that's about all they are worth. There are too many church members who are living in the Twenty-Third Psalm where it says 'Lord, make me to lie down,' and God is calling upon you to get up and get to work.

"Now here is a little bit of profound philosophy. It may not sound like it, but it is. It is this 'A Christian ought to be a Christian.'

"You don't go to a carpenter shop to get your hair cut. And you don't go to a blacksmith shop to get your teeth filled or your fingers manicured. But when these men hang out their sign and advertise their business you know exactly what to expect when you go there. And when you join the church and hang out your sign and advertise to the world that you are a Christian, the world has a right to expect that you shall deliver the goods you advertise.

Members Need Spirituality.

"Every Christian—every church member, ought to be a great spiritual locomotive full of divine life and power, headed for Heaven with a whole train load of souls coming after you; but too many of you spend most of your time in the round-house waiting for repairs.

"Some people seem to think that when they join the church they have a through ticket to glory with a Pullman berth and a porter to wake you up when the train arrives. But you try getting there that way and you get a hotbox on your hands as sure as you are sitting out there alive and breathing tonight.

"Some people pray, 'Thy kingdom come,' and then they live and act as though they didn't care whether it came or not.

"A man said one time, 'I get mighty tired of having people ask me if I am a Christian: and I've been a member of the church for 33 years.'

"Now how much do you suppose that man's life was counting for, for God, if he had been a member of the church for 33 years, and people had to keep asking him if he was a Christian to find out? I would like to know how you are going to tell whether a man is a Christian or not. Some people seem to think the church register will settle any doubt you might have about the matter; but you'll have to have a better record than any church register can ever furnish you before the pearly gates of God's glory world will swing wide open for your soul in the day of judgment.

"It is just as much the business of the church to save souls as it is the business of an automobile factory to turn out automobiles. The only reason why I am here tonight is that more than 25 years ago a Godly sister, now in heaven, put her hand on my shoulder and said: 'Son, don't you think you ought to be a Christian?' But God pity us, here we are and we don't seem to have the slightest conception why God ever saved us. We think we are saved to be wafted off to glory when we die—and cursed with the chill of indifference, the damning current of sin and worldliness sweeps on, and thousands right here in your city are being swept away with it. Oh, that God might arouse us!

Nehemiah's Workers

"III. And then, thank God, Nehemiah had his workers. It says: 'The people had a mind to work.' Thank God, in his day, the most of them worked.

"You never get anything done without work. The canvass of the Sistine Madonna would never have spoken to us with its voice of living color if it had not been for the months and years of patient toil by Raphael, its creator. George Eliot worked as much as six months on a single chapter in some of her novels. Thomas Edison tried to make his phonograph produce the sound of the letter 's' and he couldn't do it. He wanted the machine to say 'Span,' but it always said 'Pan.' And he worked 15 hours a day for 18 months and one day when he started the cylinder going and the phonograph began to sound like this is what it said: 'Span, Span, Span.' Work! Work! It takes work but work will do anything.

"They used to have greased paper for window panes, but now they've got the transparent glass. They used to have a crooked stick for a plow, but now they've got the modern steel plow, 60 feet wide with 30 plowshares on it pulled by three traction engines and plowing up 150 acres of soil a day. Man used to live in a dugout, but by and by it got through his thick skull that one flat stone would lie on top of another and now we've got the handsome stone front of the modern millionaire. But it took work.

"And then think how work has annihilated space. We used to carry our mail by the lumbering stage coach, but now we shoot them right through the air without even a wire to run them on. We used to travel by the old wooden ox-cart, but now we've got the mighty, throbbing steam locomotive hitting it off on the steel rails 60 miles an hour. We used to have the old canoe hollowed out of a tree trunk, but now we have the mighty ocean greyhound making 24 knots an hour and going all the way from Liverpool to New York in a little less than five days. I went up in an airship once. I was a fool for doing it. It was in the days when no matter what your nationality was when you went up you usually came down a 'nigger.' I was scared white. We made a mile a minute. I felt like a huge bird with white wings 30 feet long on either side. It was a hydroplane and went up over the water or I would have been a dead man tonight. And sure enough when we got up a good ways the bloomin' old thing broke. Then the aviator began to cuss. I knew then there was no danger, because men never cuss and profane the name of God when they know they are going to die.

Matter of Cussing

"It's the little coward that knows he's safe that engages in that dirty business. And he said: 'There's no danger; we always turn the engine off anyhow when we go down.' And he just turned the beak of that old bird down and turned her tail up and we glided down and out over the surface of the lake as gracefully as a seagull dips down from the skies. Then he ran out to the end of the thing to keep it from rolling over backwards and signaled to the shore. They came out and towed us in. He got out his pliers, fixed the little thing that was wrong and said: 'Come on; we're going up again.' And I said: 'Good night; nothin' doin'.' Why I expect to see the day when you can get into an electroscoot at Wichita Falls and arrive in San Francisco two hours before you start. Yes, figure it up and see.

"But it all means work, and a lot of it. There is a religious sect out in Los Angeles that don't believe in work. Los Angeles is a city of nuts anyway. But these folks say that Jesus taught us to pray and say: 'Give us this day our daily bread,' and they propose to live a life of absolute faith and let Him give it to them. They say they are not going to pray: 'Give us this day our daily bread,' and then insult God by working for it. But I'd as lief be a Weary Willie and expect to dine three times a day on the choicest delicacies of the land as to loaf around with a bunch of religious cranks like that and expect God to keep my body and soul together and never hit a lick myself. That isn't God's way. He says here is the earth. I'll give you the seed and the sunshine to make it warm and the rain to make it moist, but you'll have to tear up the soil, and plant the seed and care for the tender growth if you want the harvest. He says here are the mountains ribbed with iron and stored with gold and silver and lead and zinc, but you will have to cut into the bowels of the earth and dig it out; I won't mine it for you, and I won't smelt it or refine it for you.

Works and Faith

"And that's just the way it is with the cause of Christ. James says: 'Faith without works don't amount to shucks.' He doesn't put it just that way, but that's what he means. And that's the trouble with the church today. There are too many living around on God's territory with a dead faith. You expect the preacher to do it all.

"You say that's what we pay him for. Well, the Lord knows you pay him little enough, and the preachers didn't tell me to say this either, although I expect some of them are saying 'Amen' in their heart. And then you go around and gossip among yourselves and say: 'Oh, the preachers, they are a sorry set.' Well, maybe they are, but I reckon we are doing the best we can with the material we got to work on. God himself couldn't make a good sword out of some kind of steel unless he put a new temper into it. God expects us to work.

"A young man was dying and as his mother went by his bedroom door she heard him say: 'Lost! Lost! Lost!' and she went in and said: 'Why, my boy, what do you mean by saying that? You are a member of the church and you have been a good Christian!' 'Yes,' he said, 'Mother, I know I am saved so far as myself is concerned, but I have lost my life; in all my life I never led another soul to Jesus Christ.'"

Must I go and empty handed;
Thus my dear Redeemer meet;
Not one soul with which to greet Him,
Lay no trophy at his feet.

AUTO SHOW VOTED

Wichita Falls Association Sets Date For April 1

The Wichita Falls Automotive Dealers association met last evening in the show rooms of the Fox-Brown Chevrolet company. Practically every dealer was represented. The main purpose of the meeting was to discuss plans for the coming Spring Automobile show. It was voted unanimously to hold the show about April 1, in the new garage building now being constructed at 809 Travis. This building will be 100x150 feet which will afford ample room for the spring attraction. A number of out-of-town visitors were present, Mr. Brush of the National Automobile Equipment association was introduced, who extended the dealers and members of their organizations an invitation to be present at a meeting of the A. E. A. to be held here on March 19.

SHEPHERD SPEAKS

Mayor on Program at Borger's Birthday Party.

One of the principal addresses made at the first "birthday" celebration held Tuesday in Borger was made by Mayor R. E. Shepherd, who left Wichita Falls Monday night for the oil city.

The celebration was held to commemorate the founding of the Hutchinson county municipality one year ago. In March, 1926 the site upon which Borger now stands was nothing but a bald prairie. At the present time there are approximately 25,000 citizens living in the town that "oil built."

Representatives from practically every West Texas city and town attended the birthday celebration.

SINGER WINS CLUB OVATION

Oil Company Head Speaks At Luncheon Here

One of the few times in the history of Wichita Falls luncheon clubs that an entertainer has been given a rising ovation for his efforts occurred Tuesday when attendants at the Advertising club luncheon in the Kemp hotel rose to their feet while they applauded Prof. George Dibble for his singing of "Mother Machree."

Members of the club were unanimous in expressing the opinion that Prof Dibble had delivered the song of old Ireland in a remarkable way.

Prof. Dibble, who was accompanied on the piano by Miss Mary Lewis, is music director of the Union revival meeting being held in the tabernacle. Miss Lewis, an accomplished pianist, is also connected with the evangelical party.

The address of the day before the Advertising club was made by F. D. Zimmerman, advertising and publicity director of the Continental Oil company, with headquarters in Denver.

Zimmerman said advertising is a method of letting people know that there is a commodity or a service for sale.

"It is also used for other things," Zimmerman said. "The first advertisement of record was 3000 B. C. when a Roman slave owner cut an advertisement in a stone offering a reward for an escaped slave."

SCHOOL CENSUS

Co-Operation of Parents Asked By Secretary

Principals of Wichita Falls schools are now engaged in taking the scholastic census for 1927, W. W. Brown, secretary of the school board, said Tuesday.

All children above the age of seven years on September 1 and those under the age of 18 on that date will be enrolled in the census.

The co-operation of the citizens of Wichita Falls in assisting the principals of the schools to take the census has been asked by Brown due to the fact that the state pays the city $14 for every student enrolled. The money is used in the maintenance of schools.

PROPERTY SUIT

City property valued at $15,000 is involved in a trespass to try to try title filed Tuesday by T. R. Boone and Harvey Harris of Wichita Falls, naming Arthur Nutt et al of Uvalde county as defendants.

It is alleged that on Jan. 1 the defendants unlawfully seized and possessed the east half of lots 8 and 9 in block 147 of the original townsite, located at the corner of Seventh and Burnett streets.

SERVANT'S HOUSE BURNS.

A servant's house at 1107 Holliday street was partially destroyed by fire about 9:30 o'clock Tuesday night. The origin of the blaze is unknown, according to firemen. The damage was estimated at $250.

IN THE GLOW OF THE CAMP FIRE

Project and program planning featured the meeting of the Guardians Training course session held at the First Presbyterian church Monday afternoon. Roll call was responded to with repeating the seven laws and the laws and Camp Fire Girls' credo.

The Camp Fire Girls program is not a matter of little programs of entertainment where songs, recitations, etc., constitute the activities. This type of meeting is an exception rather than a rule. The weekly meetings of the group are planned so that every girl has some definite part in the activities. The honor bead system and the ranks form the basis of program planning. The special holidays at different seasons are used for special projects.

On Thursday evening R. O. Jonas will talk on "Psychology of the Adolescent Girl" as the subject will be "Understanding Girls."

CITY SCHOOL VOTE APRIL 2

New Members of Board To Be Named

Election of members for the board of education will be held April 2, W. W. Brown, secretary to the board announced Tuesday.

There will be four vacancies. The terms of W. B. Chauncey, Mrs. L. R. Buchanan, C. H. Clark and Carter McGregor, present members, expire this year.

No petitions as candidates have yet been received, Brown said. Polling places for the election will be at the city hall and Reagan Junior high school.

Dear Mr. Wilshire: I came to California from Nebraska to try and get relief from a severe stomach trouble; and after consulting several well known physicians without any noticeable results, I was recommended by a neighbor to try the I-ON-A-CO.

I got instant relief with the first treatment, and only had two mild attacks during the next week. I purchased an I-ON-A-CO, and after two weeks' treatment my trouble entirely disappeared.

1107 Castro Street, Oakland, Calif. W. G. ARNOLD.

Literally hundreds of I-ON-A-CO users have reported complete relief from stomach trouble within a few weeks after beginning I-ON-A-CO treatments. Their names and addresses will be supplied as references, upon request. But better yet, give the I-ON-A-CO a trial yourself. Judge it by what it will do for you.

Come in and take a delightful 10-minute FREE TREATMENT

In many other ailments, the I-ON-A-CO has produced similar results. It may do so in your case. At least it costs you nothing to find out. You will not be obligated or urged to buy. Isn't it but a matter of plain, common sense to make this test? A treatment takes about 10 minutes and is delightful. Don't put it off. Visit us today.

BRISCOE FAIR DATES NAMED

Catalogue to Give Events At Silverton Show

SILVERTON, March 8.—At a recent meeting of the officials of the Briscoe County Fair association, the dates for the 1927 fair were set for Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1. A catalogue will be printed in the next few weeks and the officers are planning for one of the best county fairs in the Panhandle this year. A. P. Dickerson is president and W. M. Gourley, secretary of the association.

POULTRY SCHOOL OPENS AT SILVERTON.

Beginning March 1, and continuing until March 21, a poultry school is being conducted in the district court room on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week. The school, which is under the direction of Prof. W. M. Gourley, teacher of vocational agriculture in the public schools here, is open to the public, and lessons will be given on conducting poultry raising along lines of business economy.

SEYMOUR SOCIETY

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, March 8.—The King's Daughters, a splendid class of young matrons of the Baptist church met in their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Culver, with Mrs. Mont Lankford Jr. as joint hostess.

Mrs. Easter Hayley led the devotional service followed by the usual business session. Mrs. F. E. Culver presiding as president. A delightful social hour came, when Mrs. Roy K. Whiteside, one of their loved members was honored and surprised by the shower of many lovely little gifts from class members. Mrs. Frank Davis read two very appropriate poems for the occasion and the presentation of gifts was made in a novel way by little Joyce Lankford, dressed in fairy costume who, with her magic wand turned into a fishing pole, fished for the gifts from behind the honoree's chair and in turn presented them to her.

A dainty refreshment plate of marshmallow pudding, angel food cake and mints, carried out in the colors of the class of pink and white was served by the hostesses.

Teachers of the Sunday school honorary members of the class were honor guests of the afternoon and were Mesdames J. M. Edwards, Geo. Andrus, Joe Blanks, Loyd Jones, G. A. Barrett and C. E. Rupe. Class members enjoying the happy affair were Mrs. Roy K. Whiteside, honoree, Mesdames W. F. Kirkland, E. A. Newman, C. N. Jarrell, B. W. Bradshaw, Emmett Golden, M. E. Nichols, Pruitt, Joetta Ford, W. A. Holman, Mary Frazier, Bob Barber, Klice Rhea, F. E. Culver, J. B. Lankford, Frank Davis, Otis Avery, C. L. Caldwell, L. W. Dalton, D. A. Holman, Mont Lankford Jr., W. T. McWilliams, J. E. Culver and her mother, Mrs. H. H. Fancher. Little folks present were Joyce Lankford, Alice Newman, Nan Sue Avery, Baby Pruitt and Gene Culver Jr.

Delphians Meet.

The Delphians met Friday afternoon with their president, Mrs. J. M. Roach. The subject of lesson was the formation of the German Empire. Mrs. O. McDaniel was leader of the afternoon, when an interesting lesson was enjoyed. Topics discussed were: "The Rise of Prussia." "Stein and the German Confederation." "Bismark's Ministry to 1870." "The Franco-Prussian War." "A Scholar's Picture of Schools." "The Spirit of Modern Germany." Club members present were: Mesdames S. W. Pistole, O. McDaniel, J. M. Roach, J. M. Edwards, W. E. England, Miss Lucille Rupe.

Priscilla Club.

Members of the Priscilla club enjoyed a delightful afternoon on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Chas. Randal with Mrs. J. T. Burns joining in the hospitality. The games of "pigs" and "spoof" were played with much pleasure and at the close, lovely refreshments were served to Mesdames Mollie Taylor, R. T. Dickson, W. T. Finn, J. T. Burns, S. Gorman, Hugh L. White, P. N. Taylor, R. E. Fowlkes, R. L. George, Mary Pierce, A. A. Grossman, Chas. Randal. Guests of the hostesses besides club members were: Mesdames L. E. Shawver, Mattie Ingram, J. M. Fuller, Chloe Shawver, C. M. Randal, and W. R. Sikes.

The next meeting will be in April with Mrs. Joe A. P. Dickson as hostess.

Choral Club Meets.

The Choral club met on Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. J. E. Lankford. Members present were Mesdames G. A. Buie, director, Mrs. F. H. Bunkley, pianist; W. R. Alexander, C. M. Randal, W. B. Craddock, D. L. Kenan, B. W. Bradshaw, Ruby Nolen, W. T. McWilliams, G. H. Williams, J. E. Lankford, Misses Aline Briggs, Vera Allen, Thelma Dickson and Lucille Rupe.

NOT SO MUCH

Denver Tunnel Through Cap Rock Draws Great Crowds to Quitaque

ESTELLINE, March 8.—Hundreds of automobiles are passing through here every day enroute to Quitaque to view the big tunnel being blasted through the Cap Rock, for the new Fort Worth and Denver railroad, going out of Estelline south to Demmitt.

It estimated by parties that spent the day there Sunday that at least 5,000 people came during the day to view the tunnel which is just a few miles south of Quitaque. Work on the tunnel is being rushed from both top and bottom of the Cap Rock. Visitors viewed the work from the Quitaque side and then drove over the Cap Rock and watched the workmen in their blasting on the top of the rock.

HEAVY BLASTING AT TUNNELL SITE.

QUITAQUE, March 8.—Work on the Denver railway tunnel some twelve miles southwest of Quitaque is progressing very rapidly. It is estimated that more than 5,000 visitors and prospectors visited the tunnel scenes last Sunday. Visitors from all parts of the state and other states were present. It is estimated that more people were gathered together on this occasion than in the history of Briscoe county. There is much blasting being done at this place. Several excavating machines being used at the tunnel. Tracks have been built extending back in the tunnel and small cars are used to convey the dirt and rock as it is blasted loose, the cars are drawn by horses or mules, as the case may be.

DONLEY BANK DEPOSITS GAIN

Livestock Prosperity Shown In Business

CLARENDON, March 8.—The Donley county State bank of Clarendon at the close of business March 5 showed a deposit of $913,891.85 as compared with $807,756.08 at the close of business on the same date in 1926. A total comparison of the three banks of the city on the same dates showed for March 5, 1927, deposits of $1,382,347.31 as against $1,369,195.41 at the close of business March 5, 1926.

The upward trend of cattle prices and the feeding out of so many young steers, sheep, swine and the sales of farmers products during February are given as reasons for the better conditions in this county.

COUPLE HERE WED 50 YEARS

Golden Wedding Anniversary Observed at Electra

ELECTRA, March 8.—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marriott, who reside at 1308 18th street in Wichita Falls, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Edward Schlaffke of this city recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Marriott were married Feb. 27, 1877 in the Saint Paul Catholic church in Wylie, Texas, and spent the next few years near that city but for the past 15 years have resided in Wichita Falls. Mr. Marriott is known throughout West Texas as a prominent stockman and ranch owner, still holding extensive property in this section of the country. Mr. Marriott who is 78 years of age and Mrs. Marriott, who is 70, have spent most of their life in Texas, Mr. Marriott being a native of Kentucky, but coming to Wylie as a child. They have been prominent civic workers and community builders.

Seven children were born to the union, all of whom are still living, with five being present for the celebration. The children are: Mrs. J. J. Moran, Mrs. J. H. Ossenbeck, Mrs. M. V. Posey of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Edward Schlaffke of this city, J. W. Marriott of Wichita Falls, with J. T. Marriott of Terrell and E. F. Marriott of Electra. Those absent from the reunion were J. T. Marriott of Terrell and Mrs. J. H. Ossenbeck of Wichita Falls.

There are sixteen grandchildren with no great grandchildren. Twenty were present for the dinner, including the families of each of the children and their husbands, with the exception of E. F. Marriott of Electra, who claims the distinction of bachelorhood.

After the dinner which was served at high noon a large number of relatives and old friends of the couple visited for awhile, in some cases bringing gifts and wishing them well. Mrs. E. B. Marchant of this city, sister of Mrs. Marriott, was present.

Mr. Marriott is a brother of J. H. Marriott, prominent oil man of this city.

Texas Pioneer Praises Tanlac Brought Back Lost Health

W. S. Wells, Well Known Grocer of 914 West Myrtle St., San Antonio, Tells of Breakdown. Tanlac Built Him up Again And Earns His Prise

Mr. Wells comes of an old hardy stock, having entered Texas in 1876 via his father's mule team. His health remained perfect all through those years till at last hard work took its toll. "Stomach and liver disorders set in," said Mr. Wells, "and a general rundown condition resulted. I could not rest at night, had neither appetite nor energy, and lost weight steadily. I read what Tanlac had done for others under similar conditions and I decided to try it. But frankly, I was skeptical.

"But a couple of bottles convinced me, for I noticed a great improvement. I kept on till ten or eleven bottles were finished and I honestly say they put me in an entirely different condition. Tanlac gave me a ravenous appetite, put my stomach and liver in normal condition again and steadied my nerves. I sleep regular, too. I'm in splendid health now, and as I took no other remedy, the whole credit belongs to Tanlac."

If overwork or neglect have run you down, try Tanlac. It is nature's own tonic, made of herbs, barks and roots. Your druggist has it. Over 52 million bottles sold.—Adv.

The Gossard Line of Beauty

A Gossard Tedetite for slim and average figures, made without a bone or elastic insert. Supple, soft, controlling. Model 3676, satin tricot, $5

The Glass of Fashion

Reflects the Slim, Natural Curves of the Corseted Silhouette

Ideally natural figures, naturally supported—that is the dictum of Paris today for truly fashionable women. The natural contour of the bust—firm and rounded—the slim, unrestrained waistline, the long, gracefully curved hipline, all blend into one natural, flowing, perfectly proportioned silhouette through the aid of a supple, supporting foundation garment.

Gossard Anticipates Fashion's Whimsical Trend

Each figure variation finds its answer to the mode in The Gossard Line of Beauty. Gossard foundation garments are always the most fashionable gown accessories—they anticipate the slightest changes in silhouette. Gossard designers and stylists travel from Paris to Los Angeles, to every corner of the world where fashionable women congregate, to gain knowledge of the many shadings and variations of silhouette, and to answer them with skillful and exquisite foundation garments—the real key to the chic of every fashionable garment.

A boneless girdle, hooking down the side, with elastic inserts, finished with a frill of net. Designed for the slender figure. Ask to see model 504, $5

Civics Department Hears Talk On Need of a City Forester

"Unless Wichita Falls employes a forester to look after the trees of the city, I am afraid we are not going to have many in a few years" Mrs. J. A. Kemp told members of the civics department of the Womans Forum at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. Declaring the trees to be in a deplorable condition on account of the large number of bag worms which are becoming more numerous on them each year, Mrs. Kemp told the women that the time has come when an expert is needed to look after this condition. Mrs. A. R. Bleakley and Mrs. J. C. Berney also talked on the subject urging the need of a city forester.

Mrs. Alvin Horwitz gave the principal paper on the program for the afternoon discussing "Our Supreme and Federal Court."

During the business session Mrs. C. C. Randle was re-elected chairman of the department; Mrs. W. S. Curlee, vice chairman; Mrs. W. M. Huff, treasurer and Mrs. Hugh Bassett, secretary.

Chairmen of the various departments gave reports including one form Mrs. A. R. Bleakley, chairman of public affairs; Mrs. W. B. Jarrell, chairman of the clean-up campaign committee; Mrs. Edward Mulligan, chairman of welfare work, and Mrs. Johnson of the City Beautiful department.

There were about 30 members present.

Large Crowd Attends All Day Meeting

One hundred and sixty-one members of the Floral Heights Methodist Woman's Home Missionary society attended the all-day session held at the church Monday with 82 of the number present for the Bible study hour during the morning hours.

Mrs. R. J. Claypool directed the lesson on the healing power of Christ, taken from the text book, "The Life of Christ," and Mrs. C. B. Montgomery led the devotionals.

Guests of the society were members of the Biederwolf evangelistic party and Dr. Paul Henry Packard, pastor of the Highland Heights Christian church. Brief talks were made by Dr. Biederwolf, Dr. Packard and Mrs. George Dibble during the noon hour when under the leadership of Mrs. Frank Elkins, luncheon was served by members of Circle Four.

Mrs. T. R. Boone, the president, presided over the business session when Mrs. C. M. Goodwin reported on the work being done by the Intermediate league and Mrs. Charles Crowell reported on the Junior church, a recent organization which now has 68 members. Mrs. J. A. Curtis, superintendent of the baby division reported a membership of 100, with 23 life members.

Mrs. Will Ellis talked on the "Federated Missionary Society" and Mrs. J. A. Gardner discussed the "Missionary Voice." Mrs. R. E. Schoolfield gave the social service report as follows: 1142 visits; $284 clothing; cash $164.80; 101 bouquets; 156 magazines; 182 hours spent in social service work.

Mesdames Boone, A. L. Lane, C. M. Goodwin, P. B. Cox and Jewell Childers were appointed delegates to the North Texas conference which will meet in Paris, March 28 to 31.

Circle reports were given by Mesdames Schoolfield, C. E. Lasky, John Kay, Ray Hanks, W. B. Chauncey and Rhea Howard.

The meeting was concluded with prayer by Mrs. W. H. Roper.

Bride-Elect Honoree At Pretty Shower

A pretty affair of Monday afternoon, complimenting Miss Donna Mitcham, bride-elect, was the bridge party and silk hose shower given by Mrs. John Akin at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. S. Ford, on Alma street.

MANY DESERVE SECOND CHANCE

Sympathy Great Need In Business World

By SOPHIE IRENE LOEB

A man signing X. Y. Z. writes as follows:

"A number of years ago I received a bad conduct discharge from the United States navy because I stayed away one week. Since then I have married and worked steadily and never drank. I have tried to enter a city department but have been turned down.

"I also wrote to the war department, offering my services, but was refused. I could fill a page with the names of companies that have turned me down. Now, isn't there something I can do about this? Thanking you in advance, and hoping to see your answer, I am, respectfully."

This letter rings true, as I know of several such cases. Perhaps you who read this, like many others, say to yourself: "It can't be possible; every man gets a chance somehow." Perhaps he does. But often it is after his spirit has become weary with seeking and his soul is sickened with the closed doors he has encountered.

When, oh, when, will man realize that the biggest thing he can do in the human game is to show his strength by reaching down to help lift someone else up? Many an employer thinks he has done his big part when, after receiving a well-worded recommendation, he extends the job to the seeker of work.

Many such a man "pats himself on the back," believing he has given the chance to the man who needs it. Yet when it is all summed up he has simply taken the chance to secure somebody he wants—someone who seems to fill the requirements and will be of worth to him.

Yet, my dear X. Y. Z., there are people in the world who are imbued with something that came from a simple man, one who turned with sympathy to even a thief—a sympathy that has come down through the ages and is growing every minute. How much better and bigger is the individual who is not too selfishly seeking his own needs in the employer-employe situation, but who is willing to be patient, who will sacrifice a little—who employs the doctrine of kindness which after all makes life worth living.

There are many such people. They are not the brass band reformers who write out checks in order to get their names in the papers.

Instead they extend the clasp of a sympathetic hand, the word of encouragement, the willingness to give another chance. They are the builders of humanity, the purifiers of the race.

By their acts they help men "to rise on stepping stones of their dead selves to better things." No greater glow can come to anyone than that which comes at the end of the day in which he can reflect that he has refused to turn down the fellow who has made a mistake.

When all is said and done, while it is necessary to punish for wrongful acts, yet must society forever be punishing without mercy? The man who deserves to "pat himself on the back" is he who really takes a chance in order to give one. He does not forever practice the first law of nature.

He recognizes the truth that self-preservation is only worth while when it is accompanied by self-respect; and next to preserving one's own self-respect is helping another to retain his.

Always there is before us the fact that each may some day seek the same treatment.

Usually it is the wrongdoer who has never been in jail who refuses the appeal of the man who wants to "go straight." He it is who may well take to heart, "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

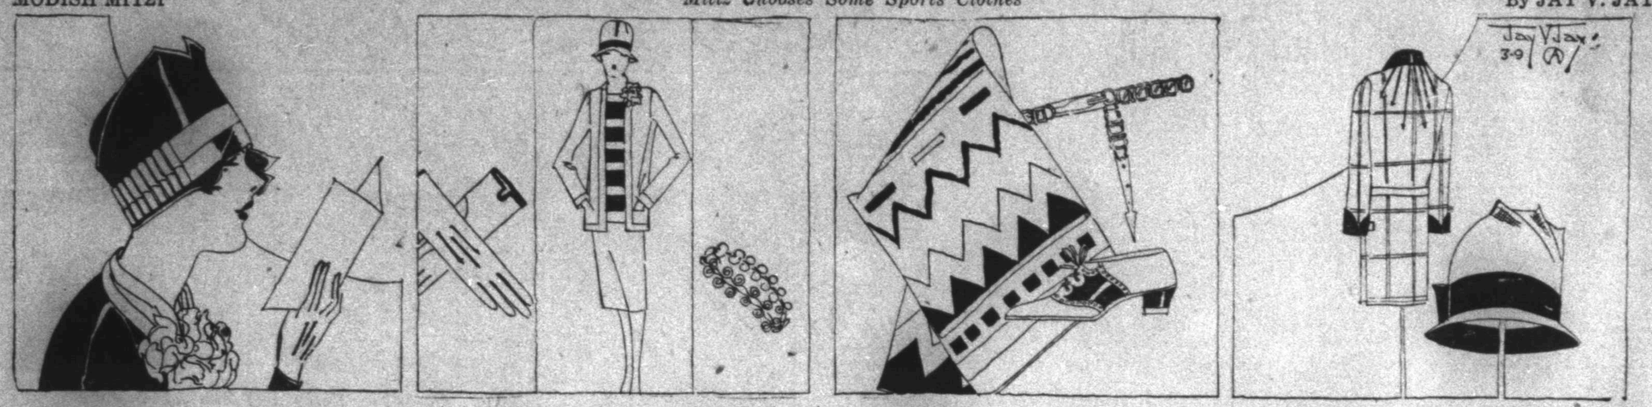

SPECIAL VENIRE

Folsom to Go to Trial Today On Charge

A special venire of 100 men has been announced for the trial of Frank Folsom, charged with a statutory offense, which opens in the 89th district court before Judge P. A. Martin Wednesday morning.

Folsom's daughter, who is said to be under the age of 15 years, is the prosecuting witness. Assistant District Attorney E. F. Fruechte will lead the case for the state.

MODISH MITZI — Mitiz Chooses Some Sports Clothes — By JAY V. JAY

"He loves golf. I know you won't mind buying some sport things," writes Eleanor to Mitzi. Mitzi puts on her new hat with the upturned brim in front already on her way to shops. Eleanor is going to have the smartest sports clothes on the campus and her new young man is going to know it, too.

A sweater suit is absolutely essential. A three-sweater suit with the cardigan jacket and the striped undersweater is what will knock Eleanor's young man's golf completely—off. Pull-on doe skin gloves and a felt hat with a narrow brim come next. This flexible silver bracelet may be worn upon occasion too.

What's a sports costume without a scarf? The new scarfs have gay and gorgeous Navajo patterns brushed on them in loud and clear colors. The snakeskin belt with a metal tab and braided links is new. The golf shoe with the saddle of black and the rest in fawn or gray is smart.

The feature of the ombre block woolen coat is the tucked back that slides into the collar. The hat to go with it has an unusual crown. The crown, ribbon and underbrim give a chance for using three compose colors. Eleanor's young man has as good as lost his frat pin right now, thinks Mitzi!

"Slacker" Wife Is Slickest of Swindlers, Says Dorothy Dix

The Slacker Wife Who Gets a Divorce Without Just Cause, Who Breaks Up a Home and Takes the Children With Her, and Then Compels a Man to Pay Alimony Is a Heartless Thief and Slickest of Swindlers.

A woman who was free, white and 21 and of sound mind got married. She married of her own volition and picked out her husband for herself. No force, either open or secret, was used to induce her to enter into the holy estate. She was neither overpersuaded by an ardent lover nor forced into it by tyrannical and sordid parents. She was absolutely a free agent in the matter.

The man the woman married was of the very highest type of manhood. He was moral, cultured, refined, kind, tender and generous. In every sense of the word a gentleman. He adored his wife, and lavished upon her the most exquisite consideration. He was well off and provided her with a good home, and not only the comforts but the luxuries of life.

Two children were born of this marriage that their father favors dearly and in whose companionship he finds infinite joy. For he is one of the men in whom the parental instinct is bound up in his his happiness is bound up in his family and his home.

But now the woman has decided that she is tired of married life, and aweary of her husband and that she wants to be free. She does not even claim that she has any grievance against her husband, or that he has failed her in any way. On the contrary, she declares that he is the best man in the world, that he has been goodness itself to her, and that she has the highest respect for him.

The only thing that has happened is that she has, somehow, lost her taste for him. He no longer thrills her. Her love for him has cooled down from the boiling point to the lukewarm state, and so she wants him to give her a divorce.

She doesn't want to give up her children, however. She still loves her little boy and girl and does not want to be parted from them, and as she has no money of her own and knows no way of making a dollar, she expects her husband to continue to support her and the children apart from himself.

And because a decent man doesn't want to compel a woman to live with him against her will, the chances are that she will get away with her outrageous hold-up. Plenty of men are toiling to support quitter wives, who reneged on their matrimonial vows, for no other reason than they got bored, and it was pleasanter to collect alimony than it was to do housework.

If you should tell these women that they are yellow to their backbones, that they are slackers, that they are heartless thieves and robbers, they would be highly indignant, yet it would be no more than the bare truth. No confidence artist ever pulled off a slicker swindle than is perpetrated by the woman who uses a temporary marriage with a man to make him permanently support her. Nor has the green-goods man who sells counterfeit money anything in chicanery on the woman who leads a man on into matrimony in the belief that he is going to get a hundred per cent dividend on his investment, but who defaults and skips out with the cash when the times comes for them to make a payment.

The alibi of these women is that they were mistaken in their feelings when they got married. What they thought was the grand passion turned out to be a passing fancy. They've got tired of their husbands and instead of a plain business man they desire a romantic sheik. They find domesticity monotonous and yearn for sensations and heart throbs. They are tired of getting three meals a day and seeing the same face 365 time a year across the table, and they crave adventure and change and freedom.

And it never occurs to them that because you get tired of a contract and it isn't as alluring from the inside as it looked from the outside, doesn't give you any right to chuck it, and that this holds true of marriage just as much as it does of a business venture.

Their part of the matrimonial bargain was to make their husbands good, comfortable homes, and so long as their husbands do their part and are faithful and kind and considerate, the wives have no more right to welch on their contract than they would on any other kind of a trade. Thrills and palpitations have nothing to do with the matter. It's a plain case of honor and duty and living up to your obligations.

Nor do these disgruntled wives of good husbands consider the fiendish cruelty of not only breaking up a man's home but robbing him of his children. They act as if mother-love was the sole parental passion. They would shriek to high heaven against the injustice of it if their husbands, without cause or reason, would snatch their babes out of their arms, but they give no thought to the father who has his little ones taken away from him.

Yet there are thousands upon thousands of men who love their children far better than their mothers do, who sacrifice more for them, and who get far more joy out of them. And to rob these fathers of their children is to take away from them everything that makes life worth living. Callous selfishness finds its ultimate expression in the woman who, to gratify her own whim and to secure what she believes to be her own happiness, breaks up a home-loving man's home and sends him out alone and desolate with empty arms that ache for the little forms that used to nestle in them.

And that these women who have thrown down their jobs and quit cold, who have defrauded the men they married, should still demand that their husbands continue to support them is the most sublime exhibition of nerve in the world! And that their husbands should be compelled to support them is the most unjust thing in it!

It is because women know that the courts will give them their children, unless they are conspicuously unfit to have them, and because the father will be compelled to support the children, that so many women who are slackers and grafters break up their homes and leave their husbands for no cause at all, except that they are whimsical and discontented.

If these slacker wives knew that a worthy father could keep his children, and that they would have to hustle out and support themselves, they would stick to the good things they have. Alimony is first aid to divorce. Which is a thing divorce court judges would do well to bear in mind.

SALLY'S SALLIES

Love begins with carats and ends with carrots.

Try This on Your Son.

Parents who worry about their son's failure to stick to one girl may be comforted by the advice of Professor Jesse E. Wrench, of the University of Missouri, who says that the wider a man's friendship is with girls, the better it is for him. He advises one date a week, and every week a different girl. Unfortunately, taste may be developed or ruined, depending on the individual.

Woman's Day Of Work and Play

Flays Women's Clubs.

"It is only when women are parents of modern children in their teens, that they become humble," we are reminded by Mrs. Frederick L. Paist, president of the National Young Women's Christian association, who attacked the "dictator" method prevalent in women's organizations, at a conference held recently in New York City.

"Women think that they are divinely appointed by God to settle the problems of the universe," said Mrs. Paist, suggesting that women must cease "flouncing" out of their organization if the majority of the committees were of opposing opinions to their own. Mrs. Paist regrets the little groups of directors in women's organizations and is anxious to see the disquieting members go with the majority as gracefully as possible.

Women have advanced in many ways, but it is hard for them and harder still for them to abandon their own opinions. But they must learn to do it if their organizations are to exert any far-reaching power. It is difficult for them to get over the old idea of working against one another and of working constructively together.

Trust M·J·B to steer a safe course each morning—

It is easy enough at 7 p. m. to convince ourselves that we are "captains of our souls" and all that sort of thing, but at 7 a. m.—it's a different story. For it so happens that you and I and the rest of us are human beings—not saints. And, being human, we are just as likely as not to greet the new day with a grouch that is strong, medium or mild.

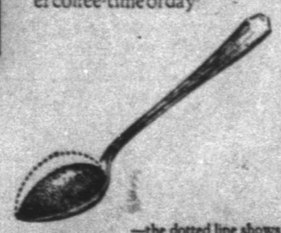

Yet, if you only know how to start the day, said grouch will go up with the first wisp of smoke that sets sail from your M·J·B coffee pot. For M·J·B is a past master at piloting you past the reefs and shoals that mean breakfast blues and stormy-tempered days.

And it's all because of a flavor—a rich, full-bodied flavor that fills you with contentment and good feeling. What's more, this flavor is always in the cup, no matter how you make it or how you drink it; strong or mild or happy-go-between.

Yes, you can trust M·J·B to steer a safe course each morning—and every other coffee-time of day!

M·J·B meets every taste in Coffee

—the dotted line shows how much less of M·J·B you can use to each cup because of its concentrated strength and richness

BLANTON ON BLOOM

REPRESENTATIVE THOMAS L. BLANTON hails from the Abilene country. He knows when and how to get the center of the stage. He knows the value of publicity. Blanton of Texas had a row with Bloom of New York. Bloom is a democrat. Blanton of Texas is of the opinion that the newspapers of the country are not according him fair play. This is his version of the Bloom affair:

"You believe in fair play. Because I've prevented Washington citizens from paying for their civic expenses out of the United States treasury and forced them to pay as other cities do, the press here tries to punish me by never permitting any reference to my work except that which is derogatory to reach our Texas papers. Here are the Bloom facts: For years our committee has fought to pass a reasonable Sunday closing law for wide-open Washington. It is not a blue law but permits amusements to open between 2 and 7 p. m., is less drastic than any state now has, but it provides one rest day each week for the hundreds of men and women now employed by Washington theaters, picture shows, dance halls, amusement parks, barber shops and other businesses. Millionaire owners of amusements from big cities have blocked us for years. With congress about to adjourn our committee wanted to report the bill. We have patiently heard all opposition. Congressman Sol Bloom, an interested millionaire from New York, has been heard for hours. He was not a member of the committee, yet attended every session, interrupting the committee and leading the opposition. On this morning the opponents had packed the room with 1000 propaganda spectotors, who loudly applauded every attack on the bill, would interrupt, ridicule and jeer committeemen who insisted that such a hearing should be a proper one. Bloom continually interrupted the committee. Both Chairman McLoud and Read of Chicago were against the bill, yet they repeatedly called Bloom to order.

"Bloom had some buffaloed. A government printing office employe as an opposition witness testified that when he took the oath of allegiance, ending with "so help me God," he crossed his fingers in mental protest. He was loudly applauded. Another Bloom witness posing as a Baptist preacher claimed that he appeared for 11,000,000 Baptists who were against Sunday closing. Not believing him McLeod, Read and myself challenged him to prove it and Bloom attacked the committee. I told him that he mustn't let his New York amusement interests cause him to interrupt any more, and he said my statement wasn't true and started toward me. I caught both his wrists and held him back against the table so he couldn't move. A Sunday amusement park owner named Sloss ran in to attack me and was knocked to the floor. Thus our committee controlled its own meeting and resumed its hearing. That is all that happened. And that night by a vote of four to two we favorably reported the bill. I don't like to fight. I never engage in one unless it is forced on me. But when it is necessary to fight to perform one's duty, I don't run. If one didn't fight here once in a while he wouldn't do very much.

THOMAS L. BLANTON."

Blanton of Texas is a great copy maker for the newspapers. Bloom of New York is a copy maker of considerable weight. Blanton and Bloom are democrats. They represent the minority party in control of the government. They should get together and fight republican program. This would make it more interesting.

MORRISON ON BOX

ARE Mexicans undesirable as workers? Congressman John C. Box says they are and that a large percentage of Texas farmers do not desire them. R. W. Morrison, president of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, who has joined in a call for a meeting to consider the Mexican labor problem, says that Mexican immigrants "form a gentle, industrious, law abiding citizenry." R. W. Morrison is a large land owner and capitalist and widely known throughout southwest Texas.

In his call he points out that Mexican labor has been a great aid to agriculture in the southwest and far west, and gives some of his own experiences with Mexicans. They are employed on his ranch, they do all kinds of work, they are not looters, they are law abiding. His doors are unlocked and the contents of his buildings are never removed by the Mexicans on his possession. This is the Morrison viewpoint. He is a ranchman and a business man. Congressman Box is entitled to his viewpoints. He is a political stateman. Against the Mexicans are the labor organizations of the country. They believe in skilled labor and high wages. It is the old old question in the southwest, "if the Mexicans are barred who is going to do the labor on the ranches and the farms and in the cattle and sheep districts?"

A DRASTIC LAW UPHELD

AND now the New York court of appeals has upheld the constitutionality of a provision of the so-called Baumes anti-crime law, which makes life sentences mandatory in the cases of persons convicted of a felony for the fourth time. The point has been a subject of legal controversy since the Beaumes statutes went in effect last July. Now the court of last resort has spoken in the great state of New York and life sentences are mandatory in the cases of persons convicted of a felony for the fourth time. Leading New York newspapers and leading prosecutors say that third and fourth offenders are giving the empire state a wide berth. A life sentence is going to be a life sentence in the empire state until the statute has been set aside.

The Man Nobody Knows

INSTALLMENT XXXII.

An Old Idea.

You will hear the discovery that business woke up to be proclaimed in every sales convention as something distinctly modern and up-to-date. It is emblazoned in the advertising pages of every magazine.

Look through those pages.

Here is the advertisement of an automobile company, one of the greatest in the world. And why is it greatest? On what does it base its claim to leadership? On its huge factories and financial strength? They are never mentioned. On its army of workmen or its high salaried executives? You might read its advertisements for years without suspecting that it had either. No. "We are great because of our service," the advertisements cry. "We will crawl under your car oftener and get our backs dirtier than any of our competitors. Drive up to our service stations and ask for anything at all—it will be granted cheerfully. We serve; therefore we grow."

A manufacturer of shoes makes the same boast in other terms. "We put ourselves at your feet and give you everything that you can possibly demand." Manufacturers of building equipment, of clothes, of food; presidents of railroads and steamship companies, the heads of banks and investment houses—all of them tell the same story. "Service is what we are here for," they exclaim. They call it the "spirit of modern business"; they suppose, most of them, that it is something very new. But Jesus preached it more than ninteen hundred years ago.

One afternoon in a Pullman car the late George W. Perkins was talking about the reasons why men succeed and fail.

"I am amazed by some of the young men who ask me to use my influence to get them better positions or increases in salary," he said. "Such an attitude on their part shows an absolute failure to understand the fundamentals of success. In all the years that I was with the New York Life Insurance company I never once asked what my salary was to be, or my title. None of us who made that company ever wasted time over such questions. We had a vision of extending the company's service throughout the world, of making it the finest, most useful institution of its kind. We made it that, and it made us rich."

That sounds sensible — good business sense. But how does this sound?

"If you're forever thinking about saving your life," Jesus said, "you'll lose it; but the man who loses his life shall find it."

Because he said it and he was a religious teacher, because it's printed in the Bible, the world has dismissed it as high minded ethics but not hard headed sense. But look again! What did Perkins mean if it wasn't that he and his friends buried themselves in their great undertaking, literally lost their lives in it? And when they found their lives again, they were all of them bigger and richer than they had ever supposed they could be. Would such success have come to them if they had been careful about themselves? "We mustn't overdo this thing," they might have said. "This is a good company and deserves to grow, but every man must look out for his own interests. Just what is there going to be in it for us?" With such an attitude they might have moved up to well paid positions; but never to outstanding success!

What did Henry Ford mean, one spring morning, when he tipped a kitchen chair back against the whitewashed wall of his tractor plant and talked about his career?

"Have you ever noticed that the man who starts out in life with a determination to make money, never makes very much?" he asked. It was rather a startling question; and without waiting for my comment he went on to answer it: "He may gather together a competence, of course, a few tens of thousands or even hundreds of thousands, but he'll never amass a really great fortune. But let a man start out in life to build something better and sell it cheaper than it has ever been built or sold before—let him have that determination, and give his whole self to it—and the money will roll in so fast that it will bury him if he doesn't look out.

"When we were building our original model, do you suppose that it was money we were thinking about? Of course we expected that it would be profitable, if it succeeded, but that wasn't in the front of our minds. We wanted to make a car so cheap that every family in the United States could afford to have one. So we worked morning, noon and night, until our muscles ached and our nerves were so ragged that it seemed as if we just couldn't stand it to hear any one mention the word automobile again.

"One night, when we were almost at the breaking point, I said to the boys, 'Well, there's one consolation. Nobody can take this business away from us unless he's willing to work harder than we've worked.' And so far," he concluded with a whimsical smile, "nobody has been willing to do that."

What did Theodore N. Vail mean when he said that only once in his life did he set out with the deliberate intention of making money—that all the rest of his fortune had come from work which so gripped him that he forgot about the money? The one occasion to which he referred was his trip to South America where he found a mine that did prove profitable, and doubtless still is.

He made that trip because he had lost all his money in an effort to establish a big central heating plant in Boston—to give people better warmth, as he had already helped to give them better communication. The heating plant failed, and he paid his debts with the South American mine. But the bulk of his fortune came from the achievement for which he will always be remembered—the establishment of the American Telephone and Telegraph company. To that great enterprise he gave everything he had—"threw his life into it," as we say—"lost his life in it," as Jesus said. And it gave him back larger and richer life, and a fortune and immortality.

"THE SOB-SISTER"

A STORY OF MYSTERY, SUSPENSE AND LOVE

By CLIFFORD WEBB AND ROSE ELO

ILLUSTRATED BY R. U. SCOTT

© JOHNSON FEATURES, INC., 1927

READ THIS AND BEGIN THIS GREAT NEW STORY TODAY.

DIANA BROOKS, beautiful daughter of ROGER BROOKS, owner and publisher of the Catawba City Times and a chain of nine other daily newspapers, was kidnaped from the veranda of her home, but released, unharmed, Roger Brooks redoubles his efforts to overthrow the corrupt city administration and defeat politicians of the Ring and the Underworld, and then himself disappears. EDNA "TEDDY" FARRELL, reporter and SOB-SISTER, accompanied by BILL CANFIELD, city editor, and DINNY MORRISON, city hall reporter, wait at 3 a. m. in the editorial room of the Times for news of the missing publisher. They are joined by Diana and DONALD KEENE, literary editor of the Times and guardian of Teddy.

Diana has received a possible clue to her father's whereabouts. The entire company go to meet the woman from whom Diana has received the tip. She tells them that Brooks has been removed from his original place of concealment and promises to phone Diana of further developments.

Teddy, by her actions, betrays to Diana her secret love for Don.

* * *

CHAPTER III.

"I just felt it in my heart, somehow," declared Diana, as she climbed into the seat at Donald Keene's side in his sedan, the others taking the rear seats. "You know I told you I had a premonition that we were going to be disappointed. Oh, Daddy, Daddy!" she broke out, sobbingly, and buried her head against the convenient shoulder of the driver. After a moment she straightened up.

"Don't you think, Don," she began, turning a supplicating gaze on the man at her side; "if we told th' police he was being kept somewhere in K— street they might be able to find him?"

Donald Keene shook his head.

"No," he said firmly, "I don't think it would be advisable to ask their help. If we did th' kidnapers would know it in less than an hour. We stand a better chance to wait for this woman to get th' number. To be perfectly candid, Dia," he added earnestly, "I don't trust th' police in this matter th' least little bit. It's my belief there's something distinctly rotten in that department!"

"That's precisely my opinion, Don!" supplemented Bill Canfield. "There's certainly something damn queer about this kidnaping business, right under th' noses of th' police!"

Diana Brooks turned to speak to the girl in the rear seat and saw that her eyes were closed.

"Poor kid, she said softly, her heart swelling at sight of the tired droop of the little reporter's lips, "she's just about all played out. I'll take her home with me and see that she gets a good rest."

Leaving the girls at the Brooks home, Teddy having accepted Diana's invitation with a grateful smile, Donald Keene, with Canfield and Dinny Morrison, drove across the city to K street in the faint hope of picking up some clue.

"Ransom is th' motive back of this thing, wouldn't you say?" asked Canfield, after answering some remark of Don's regarding the kidnaping of the publisher. "What other possible reason could there be?"

"It's difficult to say what motive is back of th' thing," replied Donald, "in view of the strange experience Diana had. Otherwise I'd say ransam was th' most likely possibility. But possibly—" He didn't speak the rest of the thought which quickened his heart.

The drive through K— street brought no results other than a useless burning up of gasoline. It was in the poorest, most poverty-ridden section of the city, the inhabitants made up mostly of aliens.

The afternoon, however, brought information that opened Don's eyes to possibilities of which he had not thought.

He was busy at his desk when a man entered his office and introduced himself at James P. Gordon.

"I was told, Mr. Keene," said the visitor before Don had a chance to even acknowledge the self-introduction, "that you had some Brooks newspaper stock you wanted to sell. Was I informed correctly?"

Don looked at the man in surprise. Who could have told him such a thing?

"You certainly were not!" he replied after a moment of recovery. "Whoever told you that was speaking without the least bit of authority. Do you mind telling me who your informant was?"

"Why—er—really, Mr. Keene," the man answered hesitantly, evidently chagrined at the other's manner. "I could hardly do that. The information was supposed to be confidential, you know."

"Well, confidential or not," returned Don shortly, "it was not correct—it was misinformation, in fact. It is true I have 1,000 shares of Brooks stock, but I wouldn't sell them for 10 times th' market price right now. In fact, I wouldn't sell at any price just at present."

When the visitor had gone Don picked up the telephone and called several acquaintances he knew who were holding some Brooks newspaper stock. He discovered that each one had been approached that very day by would-be purchasers who had offered them the market price for their stock and $100 bonus for blocks of 1,000 shares. Some had sold, Don learned, and some had held back, desirous of getting at the cause of a bull move in a stock on the outside of the market.

One of the men with whom he talked referred him to John W. Walden, senior member of Catawba City's leading law firm, Walden, Higgins & Walden. The junior member was John W. Walden Jr., a "popular young man about town" and a very persistent suitor for the hand of Diana Brooks.

"I think I'd better see th' Waldens right away and have a talk with them on this matter," mused Don, when he had hung up the receiver. "Old John Walden and Pop have known each other for years. He's better posted in stocks than I am and may be able to wise me up to something."

An hour later he was sitting opposite the junior member of the law firm in his private office. He had made the other acquainted with the facts as he understood them regarding the evident attempt to corner all the outlying shares of Brooks holdings.

"What is th' game and who is back of it? That's what I'd like to know!" asserted Don, with a pugnacious setting of his square jaw.

John W. Walden Jr., studied the tips of his manicured fingers to mask a closer study of his visitor's face.

This was the first time that Don Keene and young Walden had ever met, despite the latter's acquaintance with Diana Brooks and the fact that he moved in the same circles with Don. It was with some curiosity, therefore, that Don looked the other over and was looked over in return.

"I'll take th' matter up with my father when he gets back to town. He's out of th' city for a day or two," was the more or less evasive reply vouchsafed the newspaperman. So thus it happened that Donald departed after more inconsequential words, as wise as he was before he came—and no wiser.

"There's some connection between this sudden move in Brooks stock and th' kidnaping of Pop," he told Bill Canfield upon his return to the Times office. "It's a moral certainty that two such uncommon events—or three, if we include Diana's experience—wouldn't happen almost simultaneously just by chance!"

The city editor nodded in agreement.

"It's th' working out of a well-cooked scheme," he said with conviction. "Th' abduction of Diana Brooks and her release 24 hours afterward was done to scare Pop. There's no chance about it. And th' devil of it is," he went on worriedly, "Brooks newspaper stock hasn't been paying any dividend for more'n two years. Th' six papers have showed a nice profit, but it takes all their earnings to keep th' four 'white elephants' in th' swim. Pop's been fighting tooth an' toenail for six months to put those four sheets on th' right side of th' ledger. But—"

A significant shrug that spoke volumes supplemented his speech.

"You mean failure to pay a dividend is scaring people into selling their stock?" asked Don, in his direct way of speaking. "Even so," he continued quickly, "why should th' buying up of this outlying stock affect th' organization as a whole?"

"That's just it, therein lies th' nib of th' little secret. I'll bet on it! Who and what is back of this plot? Why was Diana Brooks kidnaped, held 24 hours and then released? When th' reason for Pop's disappearance—th' purpose of his kidnaping is shown—then he'll know what this drive on the organization's stock means!"

"Do you suppose th' Waldens could possibly know who is at th' bottom of it?" queried Don, his mind reverting to the equivocal answer young Walden had given him that day.

Bill Canfield's sensitive mouth twisted curiously and the look he shot at his associate held a world of meaning.

"I don't know what your opinion is of John Walden Jr.," he said, slowly, picking his words with extreme care, "As for me, I—well, th' fact is I—I just don't fancy him. I know there's a rumor that Diana Brooks and he are engaged. I don't believe it myself. I don't believe he's th' type of man she'd come to love and from talks we've had—she and I—I dont believe she'd marry a man she didn't love. Whether he or his father could be mixed up in this stock buying deal—well, I'd hate to accuse anyone without just cause. At th' same time, as I said before, I don't like John W., Jr.!"

To this somewhat voluminous answer to his question Donald Keene listened without comment. But he smiled his appreciation of the city editor's characterization.

(To Be Continued.)

What's the answer to this enigma? Is John W. Walden wielding the mysterious power confronting Brooks? Read tomorrow's instalment.

"I was told, Mr. Keene," said the visitor, "that you had some Brooks newspaper stock to sell."

BO BROADWAY ..... By Joseph Van Raalte

NEW YORK, March 8.(EFS)—Fred C. Kelly, Sage of Hickory Hills, Ohio, whose daily syndicated "Kellygrams" are read and enjoyed from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, breezed into town last week to rub elbows with greatness and to absorb a little human nature on the half shell.

Fred wore an Irish Terrier suit, and fearing someone might miss him, he wrapped a red-and-tan striped cravat around his epiglotis.

Hiding behind this scenery he proceeded to get sassy, because the telephone operator in his hotel muffed a call he had left for the following morning.

Fred wanted to spring from his rosewood couch with the Manhattan lark that never starts to pipe before 10:30 a. m.

He awoke at 11:20, looked at his watch, reached for the telephone and forthwith proceeded to pour into the mouthpiece a pint or two of old English adjectives he'd brought with him from Ohio for just such an emergency. The switchboard operator's abili was that at 10:30, the hour he signified he wanted to be called, the phone in his room was busy.

The truth of the matter is this: The operator thought that a gent from Hickory Hills would just naturally be hanging around the hotel lobby waiting for the dining room doors to open for breakfast along about the time the night watchman was going off duty, and that at 10:30 he'd be planning lunch instead of snoring his head off. She didn't take his overnight call seriously. Her idea was he was merely putting on the dawg, to show her that he was acquainted with the ropes.

Later in the day the Rev. John Roach Straton—or it may have been Dr. Senator Royal Copeland—called him on the phone at his hotel.

"Have you a Mr. Fred C. Kelly from Hickory Hills, Ohio, registered there?" inquired the caller.

"You mean the guy with the funny Airedale suit and the sunny disposition? I'LL SAY WE HAVE!"

Mr. Kelly realizes now, when it's too late, that them ain't no clothes to wear when you want to tell a New York telephone operator where she gets off.

Fred said it had been his intention to quit that hotel the next day but that he's going to stay there now, for revenge.

The current indoor sport among the intelligensia these March evenings is seeing who can think up the "smartest" answers to the queries in: "Ask Me Another—The Question Book."

Most of the questions are inconsequential, along this order: "What was Omar Khayyam's mother's maiden name?" "Who is the leading novelist of Paraguay?" etc.

Tom J. Geraghty air-mailed a series of these questions and answers from Hollywood the other day to a New Yorw gent who sandpapers paragraphs for a morning newspaper. Among them he included:

Q.—What is Scotland Yard? Ans.—Two feet, 11 inches.

It's a wise crack that knows its own author.

According to a New York clergyman, what America needs is more and better whiskers. "I foresee brighter days for this favored land," he says. "If beards of propriety return. With the glory of whiskers departed, old age has lost its picturesqueness — the authority which comes from reverence."

The Rev. Doc is wrong. Whiskers are germ carriers. They are mussy and silly and past their potential value as a trade-mark in the cough drop industry, their chief claim resides in the owlish air of the sapience they import to mediocrity.

"What's become o' your sody clerk, Doc?"

"Oh, he growed a set o' whiskers an' become a cheerupodist!"

* * *

It was 2 o'clock in the morning. The proprietor of a little, side-wheel spaghetti joint had his chair tilted back of the cash register, teasing the strainge of O Sole Mio from the ragged lungs of an asthmatic accordion. Half a dozen swarthy patrons full of spaghetti, red ink and contentment were lolling back, smoking dreamily over their coffee in the dim, rose-colored light.

A policeman entered.

"Where's yer cabaret license?" he demanded. "Th, law says ye can't furnish music in a rest'rant without a license."

The patrons hastily arose, bundled into their coats and scampered away. The lights of the little place went out and Signor Tony D'Angelus journeyed round to the police station with Officer Cornellus O'Shea, and thence to court, where it was made clear to him that you can't serve O Sole Mio with spaghetti in New York without a permit.

"MAN IS A SPIRIT"

Wednesday

"The Spirit Should Dominate"

SCRIPTURE: Read—Romans 8:5-17.

"For if ye live after the flesh, ye must die; but if by the Spirit ye put to death the deeds of the body, ye shall live" (Rom. 8:13). "Ye therefore shall be perfect even as your heavenly Father is perfect" (Mt. 5:48). "And if thy hand or thy foot causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee" (Mt. 18:8).

See—Romans 8:2; Ephesians 4:22-24; I Timothy 4:8.

MEDITATION: If it is a question between love and luxury, if it is a question between using possessions selfishly or magnanimously, the spiritual-minded man suffers from no uncertainty; he values the spirit above everything. Yet so strong are the bodily appetites and the lesser instincts that rigorous discipline is necessary to attain spiritual dominance.

"No man can steer his way through the ocean of life whose eye is not on the stars."

HYMN:

Christian, rise, and act thy creed,
Let thy pray'r be in thy deed;
Seek the right, perform the true,
Raise thy work and life anew.

Hearts around thee sink with care;
Thou canst help their load to bear.
Thou canst bring inspiring light,
Arm their faltering wills to fight.

Come then, Law divine, and reign,
Freest faith assailed in vain,
Perfect love bereft of fear,
Born in heaven and radiant here.
—F. A. Rollo Russell, 1893.

PRAYER: Pray for—spiritual power; the alert mind that sees clearly; the discouraged.

Collect—O God, who dwellest in the beauty of holiness, we praise Thee for the beauty of the earth, for lovelines embodied in noble men and for the revelation of Thyself in Jesus Christ the incarnation of thy conquering love. We are covered with shame at the thought of Thy faithfulness for we have not been ever true to Thee. Keep us from infidelity to Thy friendship. Save us from treachery of soul. From the choice of evil and from the enthronement of the lesser things deliver us. Awaken in us a living sense of Thy spirit. Give us hunger and thirst for righteousness. May our hearts burn with the presence of Christ in us. So would we enthrone Thee, trust Thee, love Thee, obey Thee; all by the grace of Christ. Amen.

Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful; and the end of that mirth is heaviness.

The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own ways; and a good man shall be satisfied from himself.

The simple believeth every word; but the prudent man looketh well to his going.

A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil; but the fool rageth, and is confident. — Proverbs 14:13-16.

CALLED OUT ON STRIKES.

Write into the chronicles another kick-over of the dope bucket. Again the mighty has flopped!

For the noble Stutz faltered in defeat Tuesday morn. Lost a lopsided decision to a crippled Ford and a couple of burly constabulary persons who by careful trickery staged a nefarious 2 a. m. rush and caught the Stutz scampering around sans license tag adornment.

* * *

OUTNUMBERED.

But it was a moral victory more or less and today the proud little old battler lacks a heluva lot of bowing her radiator cap in sorrow, nor is she tucking her differential in anything that can be likened to shame. It took two of 'em to whip her, boys. Two of 'em and several days gumshoeing and sleuth work. On top of which, they had to lie in wait almost four hours straight before they could catch her drifting away from her moorings.

* * *

THOSE PROVERBS.

Everything comes to him what waits, or something similar, gurgled a smart-cracker of the old Grecian league. And the undying patience of a Mr. Blackie Wilson and an L. P. Lile, members of Mr. F. Morgan's constabulary corps, Tuesday a. m. finally was repaid. They started Monday night and wound up Tuesday morning. But as the great northwest mounted would say, "they got their Stutz." However, brother, were it not for the unsophistication of this humble writer and the innocent trust inadvertantly manifested in two apparently honest-mugged, undesigning fly-coppers the Stutz would have answered the challenge in characteristic manner, to-wit, by flipping dust into their glims and displaying a trim pair of rear Goodriches in a hurry. Looks are deceiving, gargled some other wise bimbo back in the bushes subsidiary to the Trojan loop. Correct.

* * *

SURPRISE SORTIE.

Stutz and I were heading for the feathers after a heavy day's toil—yus, yus. Eased around Lamar's corner at Ninth when what should a limping Lizzie do but wobble right up in front, fall down and block the advance. A funny squeak-squeak which I learned later was an officer's whistle, disturbed the atmosphere momentarily. I thought at the time it was the dying wheeze of Lizzie as she tottered to a halt. She looked ready for the cemetery, Esconced within I saw a pair of rough but fairly respectable appearing persons. You always can tell 'em no matter how they're garbed. "Oh, ho," thought I, "couple of noble coppers on somebody's trail. Must wantta ask me for some information. Well, I'll tell 'em to dial 113."

* * *

ANOTHER POOR GUESS.

That's about all. The Stutz and I were surrounded too quickly for us to stage a rally. There was one of these dramatic showdown scenes—you know the kind, when copper piles out, looks you over front to rear and then flops himself into the seat beside you. After which we visited the court house. Mind you, it was 2 a. m. in the morning, and the Stutz was locked up because I didn't feel like giving bond. Figured I might argue the judge out of it the next day. The dope was wrong.

* * *

COSTLY INNOCENCE.

Then lots of conversation. Mr. Morgan's men talked. I talked. The Stutz said nothing. Mr. Morgan's men confessed they had been spotting the Stutz right along daily hoping to catch her in action, the worst part about this being she would slip out and make a getaway almost every time they turned a head and they just couldn't work fast enough to overtake her, or something. And so they waited. And they'd still be waiting if I was of the least suspicious nature and hadn't stopped when the officers rudely got in the way, for the Stutz takes back-talk from nothing that runs on four wheels or less and the constable chariot was staggering along on less.

* * *

Valor Should Be Rewarded.

Later in the morn I shelled out $11.80 toward upkeep of the county, Justice R. V. Gwinn, Mr. Morgan and the county attorney. Somehow or other a soft chord within me was touched. All three of the boys, Justice, Blackie and Lile, looked pretty hungry. I think the county, the attorney and Mr. Morgan should relinquish their share of the haul to be divided between the judge and the perseverring deputy constables.

* * *

HURRAH!

One point brought home by the little episode with Lizzie, the Stutz and the Men of Morgan is apparently Wichita Falls is quite free of crime, or, at least, sufficiently free to enable a brace of deputy constables time-out to devote several hours on this particular Monday night and Tuesday morning, to say nothing perhaps of other such nights, to watching an impecunious newspaper reporter's car for a missing license.

CONOCO MEETING

20 Players Report For First Baseball Practice

About 20 players met Tuesday with the Continental Oil company team and prepared to start the baseball season. They will hold their first practice this afternoon on the old refinery diamond and all hands are expected to be out.

Gerard Boone and Andy Taylor were two of the old stars at the meeting, but others are expected in within the next few days. No manager has as yet been appointed.

COBB PILOTS BRYAN

BRYAN, March 8. (AP)—Curtis Cobb, star football and basketball player, has been elected captain of the 1928 Bryan high school basketball team.

SPUDS ASSUME WICKED FRONT

LaFayette, Lamb, Kiefer And Deviney Arrive

All they lack of being ready to step now is a third sacker and Mr. H. Fitzgerald in center field.

LAMB

The sacker no doubt will be uncovered soon by Manager C. Williams and Mr. Fitzgerald is expected on hand almost any day.

The new 1927 edition of Jabez Gardner's Wichita Falls Spudders assumed a formidable aspect Tuesday afternoon with arrival of Joe Kiefer, the Harlem wonder; Al Deviney, elongated spitballer; the great George LaFayette, initial cushion custodian deluxe; and the famous Lyman (Lucy' Lamb of the blonde thatch and acrobatic outfielding ability.

Mr. Lamb greeted the boys with careful and studied rudeness in the fag portion of a varsity-frosh affair during afternoon calesthenics when he pinch-swatted for somebody or other and whammed the leather for a life-size triple away out in the right center shrubbery. Lamble looks the part of a youth in full bloom. Working out in a Joplin Young Men's Christian association (yes, there are Christians in Joplin, declares our Lucy) Lyman has come up in pretty fair condish. Went in for a bit of gymnastics and basketball.

FREDERICK, Okla., March 8. (Sp.)—Ben Brannon, Manager of the Frederick Boosters, baseball team, which will meet the Wichita Falls Spudders here March 12 and 13 has a formidable array of ball tossers gathered around him practicing daily. Players from all over the county are on the team.

Joe Not So Pudgy

Harlem Joe, the pudgy right-hander, isn't quite so pudgy. Says he weights 197 pounds but he looks lighter than he did last summer. Joe's in pretty fair shape, too, thanks to a round of heavy bunting during the cold months and quite a bit of basket ball strife.

KIEFER

Deviney declares he's in great pre-session trim and he looks it. The lengthy right-hander, purchased from Beaumont at the close of the 1926 drive, had a touch of tonsilitis during the winter. Dispatches sent out here and there from Houston were to the effect that Hal was down with pneumonia and near death. Nothing to it, declares the big pitcher.

Flowers For George

LaFayette blew in late during the afternoon. Neither he, Kiefer nor Deviney arrived in time to workout. George appears to be in pretty snappy shape himself. Says he's rearing to step and feels by many degrees better than he did last summer when he came to Wichita Falls in deal that sent Washburn to Portland. Williams expresses belief that LaFayette will be the class of the Texas league's first basemen this summer not only in fielding but with the willow, stacking up as the best all-round initial bagger.

The Spudders paced through sessions yesterday, closing out with a practice tilt in the afternoon. Two drills are on the card Wednesday but the next scrimmage affair probably will not be held until Thursday afternoon, according to Williams.

Wiley, White, Hodge, Lapan, Clark, Ross, Roberts, Peschek and Gildewll formed one of the teams drawn up for battle yesterday. Turgeon, Mann, Jenkins, Kimbrough, Bulleck, Jones, Estell, Tobin and Hollingsworth were the varsity starters. Hodge and Lapan poled a couple of stiff ones for the freshmen. Clark laced out a spiffy triple and Peschek performed in noble fashion behind the plate. Jenkins and Tobin walloped two for two. All the rest of the Turgeon outfit larruped a safety each.

Shooting 'Em Over In Texas Camps

By Universal Service.

FORT WORT, March 8.—If Fort Worth doesn't throw a pennant winning combination out on the field this year, they will at least have one of the greatest outfield blankets in the league with Eddie Moore, Joe Bonowitz and the age defying Ziggy Sears ranging the outer gardens. This trio has taken every ball hit to them thus far, the fleet Eddie Moore covering a good part of right and left field in addition to this center field territory. Twenty-five athletes exercised on a soggy field today while at the club headquarters Carl Hubbell, left hander obtained from the Toronto club, and Bill Moore, a right hander purchased from Rochester of the International league, reported.

SLIM JOINS STEERS.

By Universal Service.

MINERAL WELLS, March 8.—The Steers were willing to admit this afternoon that Spring training is not what northern baseball fans think it is. Driven hard yesterday by the tireless Snipe Conley, the herd kept up a killing pace today despite complaining sore muscles. The only new addition to the herd was Slim Love, the southpaw who dealt out so much misery to New Orleans in the Dixie series last year. Love just flipped a few and then quit for the day.

BUFFS GET COCKY.

By Universal Service.

HOUSTON, March 8.—With two infield combinations cavorting the damp inner works, the Buffs went through a strenous drill this afternoon. For a time this morning it looked as if Jupe Pluvius would go on one of his rampages and throw his water bucket around indiscriminatingly. Joe Mathes is getting more interested in the coming pennant chase as his players round into shape. The pitchers, many of them erstwhile stars in leagues of higher classification than the Texas league, have developed rapidly and as Joe said today, "Woe to the team that hits the Buffs when those beavers are right."

Art Crandall and Edgar Clough, southpaws, Jake Jacobus, who tosses the ball in the natural way, right handed, and Pepper Martin, infielder whose eyes are now riveted on an outfield berth where there is less work to do, reported today. Johnny Kane, turned back to the Buffs by the Chisox, is expected to arrive here Friday from Shreveport.

ERNIE IN CAMP.

By Universal Service.

BEAUMONT, March 8.—Well, well, if it isn't old Ernie Vache back again. The stockey Ernie, away to a bad start with the Cats last season and to a worse finish with the Mission club of the Pacific Coast league, checked in today and shagged fungoes in a way that only Ernie knows how. Ernie used to be a pretty good ball player a few years ago but last season illness kept him from getting into tip top shape. Vache is a slugger when right and perhaps the sea breezes off the gulf, if they penetrate this far inland, will help the popular Ernie. About 34 players are in the Exporter camp and from here on out, "Bad News" Jim will snap the Bull whip.

SPORTS LOOK 'RESPECTABLE'

By Universal Service.

SHREVEPORT, March 8.—With pitchers Grady Adkins, infielders Whochers, Distil, Barnes, Dilduff and outfielder Nason, checked in, Manager Art Phelan of the Sports had a respectable squad out for practice today.

The old reliable Bill Whittaker exchanged his brogans for spiked shoes and took his turn in the bull pen when not called out to chase fungoes bounding past the densly populated outfield. The outfield at Sports park is still rough from the heavy rains of the last few days. Another arrival in the Sports camp was Roy "Peaches" Graham, a backstop from the Pacific coast who has won considerable fame for his handling of rookie pitchers. He is the third catcher on the roster.

HONUS BECOMES PROUD.

By Universal Service.

SAN ANTONIO, March 8.—"A better club, offensively, than last season, and the best defensive club in the league," Honus Mitze declared today and his opinion is shared by hundreds of Bear fans who have followed every move of the Spring training season since the gong started the ball rolling last week. Kal Segrist is the only Bear romping outside the San Antonio backyard. Waller Nufer was out in uniform for the first time today. The Nebraskan, whose contract was purchased from the St. Joe club of the Western league during the winter rounds out an infield that probably will include big boy Leslie at first, little Roy Lhashkamper, as full of pepper as ever, cruising around short and the tall Frank Philbin, active as a cat and apparently a pretty fair hitter, at third.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 8. (AP)—The White Sox series here with the Shreveport Sports of the Texas league is to be a baptism of fire for the rookie pitchers. The first game is Saturday and Manager Art Phelan is working out his young twirlers with the idea of letting them see what they can do in the early battles with the Sox.

Ogden, Rainey, Williamson and Lewis are on the mound daily during batting practice. Arrivals yesterday included Pete Kilduff, late of the Pacific Coast league, and C. K. Allen, from a former Michigan league, both infielders, and Peaches Graham, catcher.

Along Cauliflower Alley

BUFFALO, March 8. (AP)—Jimmy Slattery, Buffalo, won a technical knockout over George Gemas, Philadelphia, three rounds. Billy Wallace, Oakland, and Bobby Tracy, Buffalo, drew, six rounds.

NEW YORK.—Tony Canzoneri, New York, outpointed Joe Lynch, California, ten rounds. Johnny Ventri, New York, beat Leonardo Garcia, California, ten rounds.

PHILADELPHIA. — Sandy Seifert, Pittsburgh, knocked out Tony (Jim) Herman, Portland, Ore., eight rounds.

BOSTON.—Joe Monte, Brockton, beat Joe Woods, Los Angeles, eight rounds.

NEWARK.—Eddie Roberts, Tacoma, Wash., won from Danny Irish, Fagan, Newark, ten rounds.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa.—Newsboy Brown, Sioux City, won a technical knockout over Artie Shiera, St. Paul, four rounds.

SCRANTON, Pa.—Mike Chasin, Scranton, won a technical knockout over Clyde Jones, Atlanta, three rounds.

DAYTON, Ohio.—Johnny Daito, Cleveland, and Merle Alte, Indianapolis, drew, 12 rounds.

PITTSBURGH.—Al Corbett, Cleveland, beat Tommy Crowley, Pittsburgh, ten rounds.

MIAMI, Fla.—Frankie Oster, Tulsa, Okla., and Dick Leonard, Savannah, Ga., drew, ten rounds. Dandy Dick Dorland, Tulsa, scored a technical knockout over Jack Lundy, Toledo, eight rounds.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—Jimmy Reed, Miami, Fla., and Young Ross, Syracuse, N. Y., drew, ten rounds.

ESTELLINE GETS SWEATERS

Five Basketball Players and Coach To Receive Awards

ESTELLINE, March 8.—The Parent Teacher association voted to buy sweaters for the Estelline "Sanderabe" basketball team, in a meeting Tuesday.

The Estelline team won the county meet and went to the final game in the district, being defeated by the fast Kirkland team from Childress county.

Five men and their coach will receive sweaters, among whom are the following: Bill D. Hart, Joe Eddins, Raymond Ewing, Richard Whaley, Jack Baccus and Coach O. A. Harrison.

Romonoff Loses To Speedy Hindu

Grip Pulls Uphill Fight For Victory Over Kanthe

Results: Basanta Singh beat Billy Romonoff, two falls in three. Charley Grip beat Eddie Kanthe, two falls in three.

Charley Grip, the Buffalo dynamite package, fought an uphill battle to defeat the rugged Eddie Kanthe of Kansas City in the opening match of the boys' band weekly wrestling program Tuesday night at the Palace.

Kanthe put the skids under Grip for initial honors, scoring after 18 minutes of speedy milling with a headlock that won a straight, pure and simple pin fall. Grip apparently had met his master. But, as he has done in practically every one of the many battles he has participated in locally, the sturdy Grip tore back to wrest victory from the clutches of defeat by sneaking a body-slam. Grip caught Kanthe off balance and hoisted him overboard. On the fall outside of the ring, Kanthe apparently hurt his head. He returned none the better for the trip and fell snap pray to the potent slam. The fall was scored in 20 minutes. Grip was master of the situation on the return, taking the decider in seven minutes with a toe hold. Kanthe conceded the fall.

Charley Grip didn't realize much profit from his match with Kanthe for the bullet-head forgot to check his valuables. That's enough said isn't it? Charles left his $50 watch in the dressing room. When he returned the timepiece was absent. The great grappler offers a liberal reward for the watch's return. He attaches quite a bit of sentiment to it, a gift from a dear but now quite dead friend.

The phantom Basanta Singh won more fame and popularity by downing the flashy Billy Romonoff in the feaure battle, a clean, well-fought bout. Singh checked off first blood by taking a fall in 22 minutes with a body scissor and smother.

Romonoff came back strong and balanced accounts in 26 minutes with an alligator leg split. The Russian seemed well on the road to the victor's laurals, but dropped the rubber fall in 17 minutes. Romonoff was the aggressor on the comeback, but while endeavoring to pin Singh from a standing position with the Hindu's legs clasped to his Billy's) chest, Romonoff caught a sound cuff on the chin from a pair of flailing feet, knocking him cold. Singh had him pinned before he could recover.

Matsuda Tags It On Jimmy Jones

EL PASO, March 8. (AP)—Jimmy Jones of Canada won the first fall in 28 minutes in his wrestling match with Matty Matsuda here last night, with Matty taking the two following falls. Jones was the aggressor throughout and at times the "peerless Jap" was in considerable danger of losing his championship belt. Jones took the first fall with his famous "wheel barrow glide."

TILDEN CUTS UP

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 8. (AP)—William T. Tilden, II., former national net champion, vanquished three opponents in straight love matches today to enter the quarter finals of the annual Florida state men's championship tennis tourney here.

HAGEN AND HUTCHISON PLAY TO MIAMI FINAL

MIAMI, Fla., March 8. (AP)—Walter Hagen and Jock Hutchison will meet Bobby Cruickshank and Tommy Armour in the 36-hole final of the annual international four-ball golf matches at the Miami-Biltmore course tomorrow. Hagen and Hutchison went into the finals by beating Bill Mehlhorn and William Burke, one up in the sensational match today, and the Armour-Cruickshank combination stopped Al Espinosa and Gene Sarazen, 3 and 2.

BENGALS JUST TOO HEALTHY

Moriarty's Men Rounding To Form Speedily

By Universal Service.

SAN ANTONIO, March 8.—The Detroit Tigers continue in the best of health, disgustingly healthy and happy, and the training camp "war correspondents," their eagle eyes lighting up at every shout in the hope of a broken leg or at least a smashed finger to write home about, have become a morose lot.

They had a chance to rush around Bernie Devireros, recruit shortstop from the Beaumont, Texas, league club, today, when the diminutive Portugese went down under the impact of a bad hopping grounder that caught him full in the face. But he was up in an instant and Trainer Jimmy Dugan, after counting his teeth, had to admit sadly that all the damage was a bruised lip.

Even the sore shoulder that was worrying Pitcher Frank Watt felt better today and the big boy was twirling with the morning squad.

A rain Monday night kept both squads off the infield but the players had a hard workout in the grassy outfield.

Moriarty spent much of the afternoon personally instructing Pitchers Gibson and Walkup, the latter a star left-hander, with Fort Worth in the Texas league last season. The Tiger boss believes both are excellent prospects.

Babe Continues Heavy Bombing

Senators Hook Up With Phils In Opener Today

ATLANTA, Ga., March 8.(AP)—Rain dampened the uniforms but not the ardor of major league baseball teams training in Louisiana and Texas today, but it was all sunshine in Florida, where exhibition games were scheduled.

At San Antonio, a wet infield restricted the practice session of the Detroit Tigers to outfield work and limbering up. The entire squad is in camp and all in fine condition except Frank Watt, pitcher, who is troubled with a sore arm. Harry Heilmann, noted for his slashing cut at the ball and dangerous stance, has sent a number of balls out of the park already.

* * *

Bill Carrigan's Boston Red Sox, divided into a rookie and regular nine, had started off a lively pace in a practice scrap in New Orleans when rain drove them inside. The Yannigans were leading, 2 to 0 at the halt. Ira Flagstead joined the team today.

Manager Ray Schalk found the field at Shreveport entirely too wet for his White Sox and gave them informal skull drills.

Down in the famed "Land of Flowers" the menu was exhibition games. The New York Giants were hosts to the Philadelphia Americans at Sarasota, while the Cleveland Indians visited Orlando for a game with the Cincinnati Reds. The Cardinals met the University of Florida during the afternoon at Avon Park, while the Buffalo Internationals and St. Louis Browns crossed bats at Palmetto.

* * *

Along the same fronts the bombardment continues throughout the week. The Reds and Indians get together again in a return game at Lakeland. Thursday, the Washington Senators visit Bradenton to pry the lid off for the Philadelphia Nationals. Stuffy McInnis has one of the largest training squads the Phillies have boasted in years. He sent his outfit through a morning and afternoon session today. As to his probable lineup he will give no intimation.

* * *

Babe Ruth continued shelling St. Petersburg today with his long range hits. Yesterday he dropped a couple of drives in Crescent lake and he directed his guns in that direction again this afternoon. He will be in the line-up Thursday when the Yanks clash with the Reds at Orlando.

Hafey and Douthit cheered Bob O'Farrell in the Cardinal camp this morning by their pepper; Thevenow is still absent, but Flowers is going wild in his shortstop position.

Some of those scintillating most in other camps include Hornsby of the Giants, and Bob Reeves, who came from Georgia Tech, with the Senators.

Fewer than a dozen holdouts are missing from all camps combined, including Sherry Smith, Cleveland; Jack Scott, Phillies; Hugh Critz, Adolpho Luque, and Wally Pipp, Reds; Flint Rhem and Thevenow, Cardinals, and Eddie Roush, Giants.

Moriarty to Teach School of Umpires

SAN ANTONIO, March 8. (AP) George Moriarty, former American league umpire and now manager of the Detroit Tigers, will be called upon to tell the boys "how to call 'em as they see 'em and how to call 'em right" when a school for umpires starts in session in the army Y. M. C. A. hall under the direction of E. E. Ellis, former umpire in the Western league, next Monday night.

RISKO SCORES KAYO

NEW YORK, March 8. (AP)—Johnny Risko of Cleveland tonight knocked out Eddie Huffman of California, in the eighth round of a ten-round match at the Pioneer club here. Risko weighed 186 3-4; Huffman 180.

JAKE TRIMS HOPPE

WASHINGTON, March 8. (AP) Jake Schaefer of Chicago, re-established the triple tie for first place in the world championship 18.2 balk line billiard tournament tonight by defeating Willie Hoppe, present titleholder, 400 to 90.

Tom Estell Has Partner Now

HAL DEVINEY

Your old friend Hal Deviney, the noble slobber ball thrower, returns to the Texas circuit this year in different spangles and those are none other than Spudder spangles. The erstwhile Beaumont heaver was bought by the Gardner interests during the winter. He jogged into camp Tuesday all pepped up, apparently quite enthusiastic over the move that placed him with Carl Williams' crew and declared himself in fine pre-training fettle.

FOUR OUNCES OF FLESH, 400 OUNCES OF TEARS

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—Because he was four ounces overweight, Bert Colima, Mexican boxer, forfeited $2000 this afternoon, when he weighed in for his fight tonight with Ace Hudkins.

The forfeiture was the biggest sacrifice a boxer has ever made for being overweight, under the new California law. The excess cost Colima $750 an ounce.

Coyote Runners Beat Burk Team

Hood Cops Mile For Bulldogs And Relay Four Wins

The Coyote track team captured a dual meet from the Burkburnett Bulldogs on the Wichita Falls track Tuesday afternoon. The Coyotes had the advantage over the Bulldogs by a goodly margin and won the meet with ease.

The outstanding star with the Bulldogs was Pat "Bannanas" Hood, mile man. Hood had no competition in the mile-run and was far ahead of the rest of the field in the final.

The 100-yard dash was won by Frank Williams in 10.3 seconds. Truman McCoy and Dempsey Moore finished second and third respectively. All were Wichita Falls men.

Pat "Bannanas" Hood captured the mile by a long margin for the Bulldogs. His time was 5.3 minutes. He was the only Burkburnett man to get a first place in the meet, but the Bulldogs won the 440-yard relay.

Kirkland and Saye of Wichita Falls captured the honors in the 880-yard run, Kirkland's time was 2.18 minutes.

Meredith ran the 440 in 56 flat to capture first place. Mitchell was second.

Dempsey Moore won the 220-yard dash with Truman McCoy second.

Walter Pinney led the Coyote colors to victory in the 120-yard high hurdles and made the time of 17.5. Elmo Caleb was second.

The relay team of Eddy, Blair, Moore and Goodwin led the Burkburnett to victory in the 440-yard relay. Their time was 51 flat. Guelder, Newman, Scott and McCoy were the Wichita Falls entries and they captured second.

West, Kouri, and Dickey led the field in the 220-yard low hurdles and again the Cardinal and Black was the victor. The time was 29 flat.

Edwin Goff won the pole vault when he cleared the pole at an altitude of 10 feet. Barrett went over the pole at 9.6 and both Dickey and Pinney cleared it at nine feet.

Miller, Mitchell, Saye and Meredith won the mile relay in 4.50 time.

BAN PUT ON HULL

New York Commish Concurs With Penn Suspension

NEW YORK, March 8. (AP)—Clyde Hull of Dallas, who recently outpointed the welterweight champion, Pete Latzo, will not be permitted to box Billy Leonard here next Monday unless the Pennsylvania boxing commission raises his suspension in the meantime, the New York State Athletic commission ruled today.

The local authorities gave no reason for concurring in the action of the Pennsylvania body, which is understood to have suspended Hull for violation of an agreement to meet Latzo in a return match. The champion's title was not at stake in the recent bout.

LEAGUE MAKES MONEY

COLLEGE STATION, March 8. (AP)—Receipts from the interscholastic league high school basketball tournament held here last Friday and Saturday amounted to $1858, which is $768 more than last year, A. and M. college athletic officials announced today. Last year 75 per cent of the expense of the high school athletes were refunded.

Hall Picks Entries For Competition in Fort Worth Meet

The Coyote track team will leave early Saturday morning for the Fort Worth fat stock show track and field meet.

Coach Hall annuonced who would be carried on the trip, and what events they would enter. The list included Captain Roy Porter, but it is very doubtful about him getting in to the competition. He was on the field Tuesday afternoon at the Wichita Falls-Burkburnett meet with crutches.

Those who will go on the trip and the events that they will enter are:

High hurdles, Pinney, Caleb and Perry; 100-yard dash, McCoy and Mitchell; 880-yard run, Gueider and Saye; low hurdles, Allred and West; 440-yard dash, Meredith and Miller; 220-yard dash, McCoy and Mitchell; mile-run, Kirkland and Churchwell; mile relay, Meredith, Miller, Say and west; pole vault, Porter and Pinney; shot, Downing and Francis; discus, Weller and West; high jump, Porter and Scott; broad jump, Miller, Anderson and Kouri; javelin, Nantz and McCaleb.

Oilers Strive to Turn Back Pennant-Bound Kilos

THE CARD.
Conocos versus Electrics.
Whippets versus P. B. M.
Time: 7:30 Wednesday night.
Place: Junior college gym.

As the women's league basket ball race nears a finish Charley Spragins' Kilowatts apparently have an inside track on The Record News championship trophy. The first half champs are leading the league again and have but two more games to play. However, if the Conocos could upset the Electrics in Wednesday night's match there still would be a chance for either the Whippets or P. B. M. to nudge out for the last-half title.

Frank Ramsey's doughty Oilers come back for blood. Throughout the race to date, the Conocos, arch rivals of the Electrics, will leave nothing undone to forge a clean-cut victory over the Red jersied crew tonight.

A defeat for the Electrics will throw the race into a tie with either the Whippets or P. B. M., which ever team captures the finale on tonight's program.

Both the Whippets and P. B. M. squads have been training hard for this game. Neal's revamped automobile outfit hopes to trim the department store lasses and then wrest the crown from the Electrics in the final game of the schedule next week.

McCallum Splits Football Squad

The spring footballers were divided into two squads Tuesday afternoon by Coach Bud McCallum and placed under the coaching of old lettermen. Coach Coyal Francis is leading the "Black team" and B. D. "Red" Ewing and Melvin McKinney are the leaders of the "Crimson team." The two started work with their men Tuesday.

The name of each team was decided by the color of the hair of its coach.

Both coaches started their teams off at signal practice and other fundamentals of the game. The two teams will clash soon for the right to meet the Vernon Lions at a latter date.

Several men are showing up good at practice sessions and some good material is being shown for the 1927 Coyote team.

With the Reds there are Shorty Hicks, Maurice Bullard, Eggleston, and Randel Hanks looking like good prospects.

Red Harben, Chick Chewning, Lefty Watson, John Bell, Ray George and Edwin Bell are showing up well with the blacks.

STECHER BEATS GARDINI

Zbyszko Throws Cutler, Londos Wallops Joe Devito

NEW YORK, March 8. (AP)—Joe Stecher, claimant of the heavyweight wrestling championship, won a best two out of three fall match from Renato Gardini of Italy here Monday night.

Stecher won the first and third falls, both with body scissors. Gardini took the second fall with a headlock. The times were 33 minuts, 36 seconds, 10:15 and 10:39.

Waldek Zbyszko threw Charles Cutler of Florida in a single fall match in 14 minutes, 15 seconds. Jim Londos won from Joe Devito with a headlock in 11:57.

REALTY CLUB TOLD OF LOANS

Baldridge Gives Chief Talk At Luncheon

The relationship of the land loan business and real estate, and the connecting link between the two, were discussed by William Baldridge, prominent realtor of this city and an officer in a large loan concern, at the regular luncheon of the Wichita Falls Real Estate board Tuesday noon.

Mr. Baldridge told of the difficulties of loan companies in granting loans on property, and of the precautions they were forced to take in the placing of a proper loan.

All Mortgaged

"There are no two classes of businesses so closely allied," he said. "Fully 99 per cent of the property has some sort of a mortgage on it.

"A few years ago, most of the land loans were carried by individuals. Now they are carried largely by corporations, for it is much easier to obtain a loan from a concern in that business than from an individual. A man is able to get more considerations from a company than he would be from an individual."

The speaker said that the loan concerns always desire liens against saleable and rentable property in order that they may dispose of it quickly if they are forced to foreclose and the property becomes their own.

Mistakes Easy

"It is just as easy for a concern to make a mistake in placing money as it is for you to make a mistake in buying it."

He said that the second lien problem will confront the real estate dealers as long as land was bought and sold and that it gave realtors more trouble than it did the loan companies.

Mr. Baldridge also spoke on the speculative loans and their damage to the concern and realtor.

"The builder has nothing in it, and he is procuring his loan at 100 per cent. The loan man, in this sort of a deal, gets only the discount on the second lien."

THEN AND NOW

He Married Them In 1914, Now Aids in Securing Divorce

"I made a mistake, your honor," an attorney from a neighboring city told Judge W. W. Cook during the progress of a divorce trial in the 78th district court Tuesday morning.

Back in 1914 he said when he was a judge of the county in which he resided, he had married the couple. Tuesday he appeared before the court as attorney for the plaintiff in the suit.

Wichita Falls

Folks, Facts, Fancies

The case against a man, held in connection with a whiskey raid by Federal prohibition officers some time ago, was dismissed at a habeas corpus hearing in his behalf Tuesday morning when his attorneys proved that formal charges had not been filed. The federal officers who testified at the hearing said that no complaints were filed because of the absence from the city of United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz.

G. C. McDermett, attorney for the Willys-Knight-Whippet company, has gone to Dallas where he will meet the officials of the company from the factory and will also attend a banquet to be given in honor of John Willys, president of the company.

Jimmy Brandon of the Pure Oil company at Nocona was here Tuesday on business.

F. W. Suggett, oil producer, has returned from a business trip to Fort Worth.

T. F. Hunter is spending a few days in Amarillo on business.

Through negotiations with the United States government and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, life in the United States Marine Corps, aboard battleships, in barracks and in the field in action, has been filmed in what is probably the most elaborate attempt ever made to picture the actual life of a great government service.

This was done in "Tell It To the Marines," the new epic of the Marine Corps, coming Saturday to the Majestic theater. It was played aboard battleships and in Marine barracks, on the field with regular members of the Marine Corps in battle and maneuvers, in a romantic story in which a notable cast tells the life story of the "soldiers of the sea."

Lon Chaney plays the principal character role in the gigantic production, in which the great battle fleet practice of the Pacific fleet is shown; in which the huge guns are seen in action; in which Marines, in the field, fight a battle against Chinese bandits in which 1200 men take part, and other thrilling details.

The picture was staged on a huge scale; entire Chinese towns were built and destroyed; the whole Pacific fleet co-operated in some of the most spectacular scenes of the big picture, and the camera followed the Marine Corps all over the world.

George Hill directed the new picture, with William Haines in the romantic lead as a recruit under Chaney's tutelage, Eleanor Boardman as the heroine, and a cast that includes Carmel Myers, Eddie Gribbon, Mitchell Lewis, Maurice Kains, Daniel C. Tomlinson, and others of note.

Several hundred regular Marines and officers take part in the spectacular details on board ship and in action in Manchuria.

Uruguayan Trans-Atlantic Fliers Held Prisoners by Moors in Africa

MADRID, March 8.(AP)—The first direct news from the Uruguayan aviator, Major Tadeo Larre-Borges, who, with three companions, is believed to be held for ransom by Moriah tribesmen, was received here today and stated that he and his crew were in perfect health and were being well treated.

The news was received at the foreign office from the director of Spanish Morocco who transmitted the message from the representative of the high commissioner at Cape Jubi, which is 60 miles from the spot where the shattered trans-Atlantic airplane of the Uruguanyan aviators were found last Saturday.

The high commissioner's representative at Cape Jubi heard from Major Larre-Borges through a letter delivered by a native. There was no indication in the representative's message of where the Uruguayan aviators were or of any demands for ransom. The message delivered to the foreign office read:

"The commander of the airplane, Major Tadeo Larre-Borges, has communicated with me by means of a letter, delivered by a native, asserting that he, as well as the rest of the crew, is in perfect health and is being well treated. He urges me to communicate the news to his family in Montevideo as well as to the Uruguayan government."

Last Man Freed by Ma Ferguson Faces Charge of Bigamy in Iowa

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 8.(AP)—Emmett T. Vestal, the last man pardoned by Governor "Ma" Ferguson of Texas, was in jail here today, while police investigated allegations that he is the husband of two women—one the mother of his four children; the other an expectant mother. He was arrested yesterday on complaint of Mrs. Ella Stanford, who, police say, is his second wife.

Mrs. Offie Vestal, his first wife, the mother of six children, four of whom are Vestal's declared she and Vestal came to Des Moines two weeks ago to escape interference from Mrs. Ella Stanford Vestal, who arrived here a few days later.

Mrs. Vestal No. 1 said her husband was convicted of murder in Texas about 15 years ago, was confined to an insane asylum, escaped and came to St. Louis where they were married in 1920; returning to Texas he was sentenced to die, and then given a life sentence, from which he was pardoned by Governor "Ma" Ferguson.

Both women declared they loved him.

Regular appearance day in the 78th district court brought many suits before Judge W. W. Cook Tuesday morning. Eleven divorces were granted.

PETROLEUM-UNITED NO. 3 LOVE IS RECORD WELL FOR NEW POOL

TEST SWABS ONLY 6 HOURS

Same Companies No. 4 Cemented On Rich Sand

Petroleum Producers and United Producers companies have probably the largest well to date in the M. A. Love pool southwest of Iowa Park in Wichita county in their No. 3 which topped the sand at 1,808 feet and drilled eight feet of the pay.

The well was swabbed less than six hours Tuesday and no gauge was made of its output. It is conservatively estimated that the well would swab between 400 and 500 barrels in a 24-hour test. However, no further swabbing will be done, the test being equipped for pumping Tuesday night.

This is the second big producer completed recently in the Love pool which is located in the W. S. Kennard survey, abstract 171. Cooper and McLaughlin having swabbed over 400 barrels initial from their No. 2.

Petroleum-United No. 4 has set pipe on the sand at 1,808 feet and will drill in before the end of the week.

The new producer, No. 3, further proves up the territory north and east of the discovery which was drilled by these companies last December.

News of The Fields

BURNS, TURBEVILLE.

L. T. Burns is getting another big well on his Turbeville-D lease, block 142, Robert Carson survey, Archer county, in No. 8 which is swabbing 300 barrels from sand at 1,438-59 feet. This carries production in this pool farther north and makes the "E" lease look promising. In block 124 Burns' No. 1-E has set and cemented on sand at 1,437 feet. His No. 9-D is drilling at 500 feet and No. 10-D is drilling below 1,400 feet, expecting the pay Wednesday. No. 2-E, located 300 feet east of No. 1 has spudded and is down 300 feet.

SIMMS, TURBEVILLE.

Simms Oil company and Burleson in No. 8 Turbeville, block 142, Robert Carson survey, are swabbing 200 barrels daily from the sand at 1,448-70 feet.

GULF, WILBARGER.

The Gulf Production company will be ready to bring in a brace of producers in Wilbarger county within a day or two with No. 2 Blackman in the Wm. McKinney survey cemented on the sand at 1,459 feet and No. 2 Milner in section 31, H. & T. C. survey, at 1,463 feet. Gulf's No. 1 Milner is swabbing 175 barrels.

BRIDWELL, WAGGONER.

Bridwell and Mayfield have set pipe on the sand at 1,884-86 feet in their No. 3 J. & J. Waggoner, located in block 12, Hezikiah George survey, Wichita county.

SIMMS, WAGGONER.

The Simms Oil company is drilling at 1,893 feet in lime in its No. 1 J. & J. Waggoner, located in block 12, Hezikiah George survey, southwest of Iowa Park in Wichita county.

STONEWALL COUNTY.

The hustling little city of Aspermont is still located in Stonewall county county despite intimations in this column Tuesday that it had hopped over in Dickens county. A couple of new wildcat locations near Aspermont were credited to Dickens county which error would be even more serious had it dealt with successful wildcat completions instead of locations.

RAMSEY WILDCAT

Hole Bridges After Shot In Important Test

BOISE CITY, March 8.—W. R. and W. S. Ramsey's discovery well in Cimarron county of the Oklahoma Panhandle, No. 1 State, in the center of the northwest of the northeast of 27-5-5, 12 miles north of Boise City, was given a 80-quart shot and the hole bridged 1000 feet off bottom.

The well originally topped the pay at 4090 feet and is in to a depth of 4,150 feet, and it was this 50 feet of formation which was shot after which the oil rose in the hole. Mr. Ramsey estimated that when the bridge is drilled out, the well will make from 300 to 500 barrels. Fishing for bailer is also in progress at this important wildcat. The oil is 39.5 gravity.

INCOME DECLINES

NEW YORK, March 8. (AP)—The Texas company earned $5.47 a share in 1926, against $6.02 a share in 1925. Net income declined to $36,043,330 from $39,605,078. Gross earnings, after deducting cost of materials, were $166,172,512 against $159,396,627 the year before. Expenses were around $9,000,000 larger. Profit and loss surplus was $128,262,541.

$393,000 EARNINGS

NEW YORK, March 8. (AP) January and February earnings of Lion Oil Refining company, before depletion, were $393,000 compared with $309,000 in the same period last year. Sales for 1926 were the largest in its history, $8,555,320. The company controls 5000 acres in Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.

Consolidated Pool Comes to Front With Promise of Two New Producers

Activity in the Consolidated pool of southeast Archer county picked up with considerable gusto Monday and Tuesday when two drilling wells in that sector reached the sand.

Consolidated-Underwood No. 4 in section 1378, T. E. & L. survey is setting pipe and cementing on sand showing lots of oil at 1041 to 1044 feet which is nine feet higher than the Consolidated-Marland discovery well, one-half mile to the northeast. The No. 4 tested the shallow sand but was drilled deeper.

Their No. 3 which is located 300 feet south of No. 2 in section 1379, is also cementing pipe on the regular pay at 1010 feet.

With these well completed as producers as is expected it will bring the total to seven for the Consolidated, Marland and Underwood interests and proves up at least 200 acres in the pool which now appears to be the most promising discovery well in south Archer county in several months.

The Texas company and Consolidated Oil company have encountered the pay on their No. 2 J. A. Love in S. P. R. R. survey No. 2, abstract 815, Archer county and are setting pipe at 1365 feet.

OIL OUTPUT IN HEAVY SLUMP

Oklahoma Accounts For Most Of Decrease

NEW YORK, March 8. (AP)—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States decreased 22,300 barrels for the week ended March 5, totaling 2,464,050 barrels, says the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute today. The daily average production east of California was 1,818,450 barrels, a decrease of 24,800 barrels.

Daily average production in Oklahoma was 701,400 barrels, a decrease of 16,550 barrels; Kansas 116,400, increase 700; Panhandle Texas 128,200, decrease 2,150; North Texas 91,500, decrease 1,550; West Central Texas 178,250, decrease 1,200; East Central Texas 43,450, decrease 900; Southwest Texas 37,500, decrease 400; North Louisiana 52,550, decrease 500; Arkansas 125,650, decrease 1,500; coastal Texas 139,950, increase 4,200; coastal Louisiana 14,200, increase 2,900; Eastern 106,000, decrease 1,500; Wyoming 56,750, decrease 6,050; Montana 13,550, unchanged; Colorado 8,350, increase 300; New Mexico 4,750, decrease 800; California 645,600, increase 2,500.

Daily average imports of petroleum at principal ports for the month of February totaled 203,072 barrels compared with 179,419 barrels for the month of January, and for the week ended March 5, 205,286 barrels compared with 180,714 for the previous week.

SEMINOLE FIELD

TULSA, March 8.—Production in the Seminole pool is now over the 300,000 barrel mark, but is 25,000 barrels below the peak of Feb. 22. Production for the 24 hours ending Sunday morning was 305,454 barrels. There was little change on the following day, the pool making 305,624, a decrease of 170 barrels from the previous day. The production is from 253 wells.

NEW FINANCE HELPS MARKET

Syndicates Gain Confidence In New Program

By BROADAN WALL
Universal Service Financial Expert

NEW YORK, March 8.—Shorts were squeezed in a number of issues on the stock exchange today. The complexion of the market has changed considerably. The treasury financing program has given a number of syndicates renewed confidence. Prospects are that the country is facing a period of easy money conditions which is likely to last for a long period.

Money loaned at 4 per cent. Foreign exchange was steady and commodities higher. Chicago looks for higher prices on wheat. It is contended that the pit should reflect the bullish situation in Canada. Little attention was paid to the increase in brokers' loans for the month of February.

Loans In Gain

While loans show a gain for the month, nevertheless, they are below the level of a year ago. This may surprise many in view of the fact that the stock averages are higher than those for February and March of 1926. The answer is that the growth of investment savings last year was so pronounced that large amounts of stocks and bonds carried on margin in 1926 are now owned outright, or if pledged as collateral they are hypothecated at a lower proportion of their value.

The big rise in stocks without an increase in speculative loans is caused by an overflow of money from the bond market. A contributing factor is the lower level of commodity prices—it takes less money to transact a given volume of business, measured by tonnage, after prices have dropped 5 or 10 per cent. Existence of a larger supply of investment capital is reflected in the lower rates for call and time money.

Capital Is Factor

This large amount of capital is one of the big factors in the sustained strength in the stock market and with indications of a large amount of credit at easy rates, and prospects of a lower rediscount rate, the bears are expected to make little headway in their raiding tactics.

Now that the theatrical stocks, with the exception of Shubert, have had a move, traders are directing their attention to Shubert. The company earned $4.50 a share in the last six months of its fiscal year, which are dull in view of the warm weather. The company, it is estimated, will earn approximately $12 a share this year—for the 12 months ended June 30, 1927. The dividend of $5 annually was almost earned in six months. The company earned more than $10 a share in 1925. One of the company's latest productions, it is said, alone may add $5 a share to the stock this year.

White Motors was sold following publication of its annual report for 1926 which showed only $3.20 a share earned. Shorts in General Motors, on the other hand, were given a squeeze. Hudson resisted in good shape the efforts to depress it and sold around the high of the year.

Steel common closed higher on prospects that the regular dividend will be declared on the additional stock. Buying occurred in American Radiator and the shorts in American Woolen were instrumental in keeping both classes of stocks above water despite the deficit reported. Julius Kayser was again bought. International Combustion sold at a new low for the move, but recovered toward the close. Houston Oil advanced sharply in the face of another cut in oil prices. Production in the Seminole field, it is said, will be cut 20 per cent. Railways were quiet but firm.

"Cut" Extended

Magnolia Includes Panhandle And Spindle Top

DALLAS, March 8. (AP)—Magnolia Petroleum company announced further extension of recent price cuts, meeting the reduction from $1.25 to $1.05 for all gravities in the Texas Panhandle field and extending its Texas-Oklahoma-Kansas-Louisiana schedule to the Eldorado, Ark., field. No change was announced for the Eldoraro east field or Smackover.

In the Spindle Top, Texas, field, grade "A" was cut from $1.40 to $1.30, while grade "B" the price was cut from $1.40 to $1.25 for gravity below 25 with a three-cent differential instead of a 5-cent one making the price for 31 gravity and above $1.46.

The schedule extended to the Eldorado field ranges from $1.20 for below 28 gravity to $1.95 for 52 gravity and above.

Livestock

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK.

FORT WORTH, March 8.(AP)—Reduced receipts of cattle calves on the Tuesday livestock market made for activity and some stronger values. Hogs steady on a generous supply and sheep were unchanged.

Beef cattle improved their position selling around 15 cents better than on Monday. The small supply furnished part fed cattle at $7.40 in car loads with small drafts selling at $6.50@8.25.

She stock furnished car loads of butcher cows at $5.25 and beef cows up to $6.50 with intermediate sales at various prices from $5.50 and up. Canners and cutters relatively scarce and moved at rates not differing in those at close of Monday.

The calf supply was on the plain order selling steady at $8.50 for one car of heavies, other drafts at $7.00 to $8.00.

Bulls not numerous, the range $4.25 to $5.50.

From the limited supply of young slaughter stock yearlings went at $7.50 to $10.000 and heifers $6.25 to $7.75.

Vegetables

TEXAS VEGETABLES.

SAN ANTONIO, March 8.(Texas Market News Service.)—The return of Virginia to the commercial movement of spinach was a feature of the car lot shipments of vegetables. It had been earlier estimated that this section would resume shipment around 10 of the month and the activity of the demand at present possibly called for the cutting of young stock of the new crop earlier than anticipated. The movement for Texas was 64 freight and five express cars and for Virginia 10 cars by freight and one by boat. Shipments from Texas of other commodities in the day were listed as: Cabbage 35 cars with a 47-car pick-up for the previous day; lettuce one, sweet potatoes two, mixed vegetables two. There was also a pick-up for the previous day of 31 cars of mixed vegetables, one of strawberries and one of lettuce.

Spinach shipping point trading was less active around 85@90c cash track and 90c to $1.00 on wire orders yesterday, however some cash business was reported lower. Cabbage was stronger with sales of bulk cars advanced to $15 @17 per ton. Beets and carrots were also strong around $1.00@1.15 for beets and $1.15@1.25 for carrots.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, March 8.(AP)—Wheat values underwent a quick setback today after an official report that the reserve stock of domestic wheat on farms is larger than expected. Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at the some as yesterday's finish to ⅝c lower, with corn ⅜ to ⅝c off, oats ⅜ to ½@⅝c down, and provisions varying from 20c decline to a rise of 5s.

Corn broke nearly 2 cents a bushel from the day's high point, official figures on farm reserves of corn being 64,000,000 bushels in excess of the highest private estimates. However, the report on corn showed only 71 per cent marketable, against 78 per cent a year ago. Oats paralleled the action of corn and wheat, ruling firmer most of the day, but receding at the last.

Provisions, although tending higher at first with hogs, showed sympathy later for grain weakness.

Cotton

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, March 8.(AP)—The cotton market was quiet again today, with prices lower in response to slightly easier Liverpool cables, and reports of a less active spot demand. May contracts sold off to 14.19, or 15 points net lower, and closed at 14.26, the general market closing steady at net declines of eight to 12 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of three points to a decline of two points. Near months were relatively steady at the start on covering, but soon eased off with the general market selling lower during mid-day.

Notices representing about 2500 bales were reported in circulation and seemed to cause some near-month liquidation, which eased the price of March off to 14.05, or about 16 points net lower.

Later months responded to the near-month weakness but were sustained to some extent by reports that rains were delaying farm work in the month, with October declining to 14.55, or about 14 points net lower.

The widening out of the March-May difference seemed to have rather an unsettling effect on the tone of the market, but it seemed the March notices had been stopped and there was some covering by near-month shorts in the late trading.

March closed at 14.13, or eight points up from the lowest, while last prices were within a point or two of the lowest on new crop months. October sold off from 14.68 to 14.55, and closed at 14.58.

Private cables attributed declines in Liverpool to hedging and London selling, but said there was a better demand for cotton cloths from India and an improved demand from Egypt.

Exports for the day 41,325 bales, making 7,902,478 so far this season. Port receipts 49,684; U. S. port stocks 2,712,317 bales.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, March 8.(AP)—Fears that the cut in cotton acreage for next year might not be as large as desired caused cotton prices to ease downward today and despite an afternoon rally on large exports and trade buying, the close was steady with net losses for the day of 11 to 12 points.

First trades were two points up, despite lower Liverpool cables, influenced by unsettled weather. Liquidation and hedge selling set in late in the morning, which swung May down to 14.18, July to 14.34, and October to 14.45, 14 to 19 points below the opening figures.

The market steadied at noon and under the influence of exports and trade buying May steadied up to 14.25 by the middle of the afternoon with July moving to 14.41 and October 14.52, seven points above the morning's lows. In the final hour prices eased off a few points but the close was steady.

The day's exports totalled 41,235 bales.

COTTON GOODS STEADY.

NEW YORK, March 8.(AP)—Cotton goods markets held steady today with finished goods lines in active demand for early shipments. Wool goods markets were quiet with prices irregular on spot goods, where mills were willing to clean up styled lots at concessions. Burlaps were stronger and higher abroad, and firm here.

COTTON SEED OIL.

NEW YORK, March 8.(AP)—The cotton seed oil market declines six to 12 points for active positions early today in sympathy with the crude market and with cotton, which resulted in more or less liquidation and hedge selling. Better demand developed at the decline, however, with quite active covering and some buying by commission houses and prices rallied, closing steady at five points net higher to one lower. Total sales for the day were 28,200 barrels. Prime crude 7.75; prime summer yellow spot 9.50; March closed 9.40; May 9.42; July 9.59; September 9.59; October 9.43.

MARKET GOSSIP

J. H. Baldwin and Co., brokers, basement Bob Waggoner building, today received the following from New York, New Orleans and Chicago connections:

Wheat: Market held within a narrow range during the early part of the session withe trade light and without feature. The government farm reserve report issued at 1 o'clock was construed as bearish as compared to expectations, there being 130,444,000 bushels back on farms, whereas private reports were mostly under 120 million. Stocks in country mills and elevators were given as about 86 million, or a little less than shown by private reports. Southwestern receipts continue quite liberal with no change in demand. Mills are taking the better quality at fair premiums, although flour business is still slow. Locally the demand does not show any improvement although it is said that some number 2 red wheat will start loading shortly for shipment at the opening of navigation. Territory east and south of this market continue to quote soft wheat at a discount under Chicago. Winnipeg market showed an easier undertone as compared to our market during the early part of the session, but firmed up towards the close. Liverpool market closed ⅜ to 1d lower due to increased offerings and failure of foreign buyers to follow advances. We still feel that a broader cash demand, both domestic and export must be in evidence if advances in prices are to be maintained.

Corn: Strong and advanced rather sharply during most of the session and was at its high point about the time the government report was issued. As soon as the figures were posted prices declined 1½ cents per bushel very quickly, as supporting orders were not in evidence and local traders who were heavy buyers attempted to liquidate. Cash demand shows very little improvement even though some smaller receipts are predicted. Shippers are offering corn out of here at considerably less than could be obtained by holding and delivering on May contracts, but even these discounts do not seem to attract buyers. The amount of corn on farms as reported by the government is 1,113,691, or about 55,000,000 in excess of private reports, and the report is construed bearish. We feel corn will work to lower levels until a better demand prevails.

Oats: Up on the issuance of the government report prices declined about one cent a bushel. The estimate of 424 milllion on farms was in excess of private reports. Shipping demand has shown some improvement, and for this reason we feel that purchases on moderate breaks are advisable.

Rye: Followed other grains with trading very quiet. Very little was heard of export, although it is said that there are bids below the market.

Cotton: Opened about unchanged under a fair demand, but early buyers were quickly filled up, and the market sagged 10 to 12 points by mid-afternoon. Weather clearing in western part of the belt, with rains general in south central part and moving eastward. New York reported some southern selling. News on textile business remains favorable, and sales of spots in Liverpool were large at 14,000 bales. Some of our southern advices indicate a belief that reduction of acreage would be small in the western part of the belt.

Stocks: The stock market was greatly unsettled early in the day, but later displayed more firmness with the motor groups showing considerable strength. Hudson made a new high on the movement and General Motors was also in big demand. The reversal in form in the motors suggests that that group will do better for a time. RFO opened 9; high 10⅛; low 9; close 10⅛.

WOOL QUIET.

BOSTON, March 8.(AP)—Wool is very quiet but a few factors have noted a slight improvement. Fine territory combing wools continue moving to mills. There is just a little more activity in medium grades both of territory lines and of bright fleeces of worsted steady as the result scattered initial orders on heavy weight goods. The volume of this business is very moderate.

PREVENT WASTE

TULSA, Okla., March 8. (AP) A 20 per cent reduction in the production of oil in the greater Seminole area was ordered into effect today by the advisory committee of the Mid-Continent oil and gas association.

The committee explained its action by declaring it was necessary to prevent waste of oil in the area. The order is to be effective for 30 days.

Second-hand goods of all kinds are offered on the Record News Classified page. Read them.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, March 8.(AP)—The stock market displayed a complete reversal of form today, selling off sharply on a renewal of selling presure in the morning and then rallying briskly in the afternoon. Final quotations were irregularly higher, a long list of net gains ranging from one to seven points being offset by a small number of one to four point declines. Trading, which had been dull on the decline, picked up measurably on the rally, though total sales were well below the daily average of the past few weeks.

From a stock market standpoint, one of the most interesting developments of the day was the decision of the United States treasury to retire the second Liberty 4¼ per cent bonds with an issue bearing a coupon rate of 3½ per cent. This proposal, following soon after the announcement of short term financing on a 3⅛ and 3¼ per cent basis, was accepted as indications of continued easy money for some time to come, and more than offset the increases in brokers' loans reported by the New York federal reserve bank and the New York stock exchange.

Early selling was associated largely with reports of a decline in current gross railway revenues and the disappointing White Motors report. With the establishment of new high records by at least five different United States government bonds, the prompt over-subscription of the $22,000,000 Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Detroit railroad bond issue and the official denial of rumors of a Canadian embargo on further gold shipments, increasing interest developed in the credit situation, stimulating the activities of pools, which in turn, induced heavy short covering. The decision of Mid-Continent Oil producers to restrict production 20 per cent, in the greater Seminole area, also was regarded as a constructive development.

Houston Oil, which has been more or less a "mystery stock," for some time, leaped into prominence again today when it rallied from a low of 112½ to 124¾, and then eased to 121½ for a net gain of 6⅛ on the day. Buying was credited to interests actively identified with recent moves in Texas Gulf Sulphur, motors, which are believed to harbor a large short interest, showed remarkable recuperative powers. General Motors rallied from 164¼ to 169⅝, closing at the top for a net gain of 2⅛. Hudson showed a net gain almost as large after touching a new 1927 high at 71⅞.

United States Steel common closed a point higher at 158. The February tonnage report, due Thursday noon, is expected to show a decrease of about 250,000 tons in unfilled orders.

Continental Baking A moved counter to the general trend, rallying to 63⅝, when the rest of the market was heavy and then breaking to 58 for a net loss of more than four points in the late rally.

Pittsburgh and West Virginia closed three points higher, at 130, but most of the other rails were inclined to heaviness.

Call money held steady at 4 per cent all day. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

The return of Argentine paper pesos to parity for the first time in nearly seven years overshadowed all other developments in the foreign exchange market. Demand sterling held firm around $4.84 13-16 and French francs just above 3.90 cents.

GAS MILEAGE RECORDS FALL

District Winners Selected In Ford Contest

A new era in economy of gasoline consumption was inaugurated in the Ford economy road test made by fourteen stock model cars on the Henrietta highway Tuesday afternoon. All cars were the latest Ford models equipped with Ford's latest achievement, the Ford Vaporizer.

The participants of this contest were the winners in the preliminary contest held last Saturday by Langrod Motor Co. and associate dealers in this trade territory. A total prize of $200 was given $100 given to the contestant running the greater number of miles on a gallon in an open car and like amount with the closed model: $50 was given each to the next highest.

V. Brandon, Burkburnett, won first honors in the open car test, making 55 miles on one gallon Gulf gasoline with a Ford roadster. C. P. Russell, Iowa Park won second money with a Ford roadster. H. M. Wallen, Burkburnett, won first money in the closed car field with a Ford coupe, making 50.5 miles using Panhandle gasoline, and F. E. DuBois of Henrietta took second honors with a Ford coupe, making 40 miles using Magnolia gasoline. The total average of the fourteen contestants was 41.9.

Each car was drained of gasoline then one gallon of regular gas was poured into each tank and sealed before four judges, composed of Oral Jones, finance commissioner, Frank Queisser, fire and police commissioner, W. D. Goodlet, Wichita Falls Record News and Jerry Moffett, Wichita Falls Daily Times.

New Flu Cases In Electra

City Is Remarkably Free Of Contagious Disease

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, March 8.—In spite of bad weather during the past month Dr. Frank D. Shepherd, local health officer, reports that the city is remarkably free from contagious disease, there not being a single case on file, and a comparatively small amount of influenza and colds, considering the size of the city. Electra may be called one of the healthiest cities in Texas, with the school attendance keeping up remarkably well during the winter months.

A campaign for a more thorough clean-up will be staged in a month or so, when the bad weather gets warm enough to attract mosquitoes.

DRUGGISTS TO ORGANIZE

LONGVIEW, Texas, March 8. (AP)—A meeting of 10 prominent East Texas druggists has been called for Tyler March 10 to organize the East Texas Druggists association.

COMMUTES SENTENCES

Former Negro Soldiers Gain 18 Months Freedom

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, March 8. President Coolidge today commuted the sentences of 20 negroes, formembers of the 24th U. S. infantry originally sentenced to life for participating in the so-called Houston riot of 1917.

The prisoners are the last remaining under sentence for the rioting in which a number of soldiers, led by a sergeant, seized their rifles and went on a rampage through the streets.

Under the commutation, their sentences are reduced by 18 months. Their life terms had been reduced to 30 years, and the president's action further advanced the date of completion of one-third, or ten years of their term, when they become eligible for parole.

Sixteen of the men will now be eligible for parole this June, two in November and the remaining in February, 1928.

NEGRO VOTERS

Supreme Court Decision To Have Little Effect in Texas.

DALLAS, March 8. (AP)—The United States Supreme Court decision allowing negroes to vote in Texas Democratic primaries will have little effect on the party's policies in the opinion of Jed C. Adams of Dallas, Democratic national committeeman.

He said the solution of the problem was to allow the party to control its own internal affairs rather than attempt to regulate them by law. He said he did not favor abandoning the primary system.

Leonard Withington, secretary of the republican state executive committee said his party is opposed to the Texas primary. He favored a bi-partisan board for revising the primary and election laws as was urged in the Republican platform of 1926.

PEACE DELAYED

Rebel Leader Will Not Accept Diaz As President

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, March 8—Hopes for an immediate peace in Nicaragua received a set-back today upon receipt of terms under which Gen. Jose Moncada, rebel leader, will lay down his arms.

Moncada sent word to the state department through Minister Eberhardt that he is willing to accept any government administered by the United States until a "fair election" can be held in 1928, except that of President Diaz.

The rebel chief likewise said the terms must be accepted by Dr. Scasa, liberal leader, and that unless they are agreed upon, he is prepared to launch an offensive, probably against the city of Bonco.

Reorganization of Texas Lower Judiciary Seen After Fee Decision

AUSTIN, March 8.(AP)—Reorganization of the Texas lower judiciary system eventually must be the result of the decision of the United States supreme court yesterday which held that judicial officers are disqualified from sitting in cases where they are financially interested, Attorney General Claude Pollard said today.

Gov. Dan Moody likewise made a similar statement promising, however, to make a detailed summary of his opinion tomorrow.

The decision, Pollard said, vitally affects Texas as justices of the peace, constables, sheriffs and county judges in misdemeanor cases are paid by the fee system.

"It will not be long," he said, "until our own law will be before the supreme court of the United States for construction."

While higher court officials here were reluctant to discuss the situation as they were when the opinion appeared last night the more complete reading they were able to obtain today apparently left some of them partially dissenting on the opinion expressed by the attorney general.

Chief Justice Cureton of the state supreme court declined to discuss the matter, except to point out that the state constituion provides no judge may sit in a case where he is "interested," leaving out the word "financially."

Judge F. L. Hawkins of the criminal appeals court would not make a definite statement but from a cursory reading of parts of the opinion indicated he believed the opinion may not greatly affect Texas.

Wichita Falls
Folks, Facts, Fancies

Mrs. J. J. Lefan of Greenville, Tex., associate Grand Matron of the Eastern Star, is in the city to attend the Eastern Star school to be given Wednesday evening in the lodge room of Chapter No. 227, Masonic temple. She will spend a few days with her daughter, Mrs. C. F. Cawning, 1319 1-2 Collins street.

Curfew will ring at 9:30 o'clock each evening in the future for all children under the age of 14 years, according to an announcement Tuesday by J. T. Cabe, Wichita county juvenile officer.

"All children under 14 must be off the streets at 9:30 p. m.," he said. "I have given instructions to all peace officers in Wichita Falls to enforce this rule."

Cornelius F. Chewning of the Taylor Brothers Construction company of this city, returned Monday night from Denton, Tex., where he has been for the past few days, bidding for the contract on the new city auditorium at that place.

Ike Garner of Paris, was in Wichita Falls Tuesday and visited Constable Frank Morgan, an acquaintance he had not seen in more than 18 years.

J. S. Fore has gone to Mineral Wells where he will spend several weeks.

OPTIMIST CLUB

Denver Oil Man and Club Officers To Speak Here.

An address by F. D. Zimmerman of Denver, advertising director for the Continental Oil company and governor of the Denver district of International Optimists, will feature of the Wichita Falls Optiture of the regular luncheon promists club at the Wichita club Wednesday noon.

Mr. Zimmerman will speak on the coming International Optimists convention to be held in Denver in July, it was stated.

WINIFRED JAMES.

Funeral services for Winifred James, year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. James of Clara, who died at 6 a. m Tuesday in a local hospital after a week's illness with ptomaine poisoning, were conducted in the Burkburnett cemetery Tuesday afternoon. The body was taken overland by the Burris-Shepherd Undertaking company.

APPROVE PAYMENT PLAN.

PARIS, March 8.(AP) — The chamber of deputies today "provisionally" approved Premier Poincare's provisional agreement with the United States by which the French government will pay $10,000,000 on the Washington debt settlement for 1927.

BUNKLEY HEADS SEYMOUR C-C

Organization Holds Annual Banquet Tuesday

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, March 8.—F. H. Bunkley was elected president of the Seymour Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night in the annual banquet held in the basement of the Municipal building and attended by a large number of Seymour boosters.

Other new officers elected to the board of directors were E. A. Newman, vice-president; Dutton J. Bailes, secretary; and Roy Whiteside, treasurer; R. E. Baskin, R. L. George, Morris Randal, R. G. Quisenberry and J. Donnel Dickson, directors.

J. J. Taylor, State Press in the Dallas News, was the principal speaker of the evening. The meeting was unique in that more music was provided in the program than speaking. Alva R. Wilkgus of Wichita Falls, rendered a solo and led the crowd in several songs.

The Midnight Melody Boys, local orchestra, also furnished music.

Taylor's address kept the more than 350 banqueters in constant laughter. His theme was that there is nothing new under the sun. He paid a stirring tribute to the early pioneers of Texas.

Hubert Harrison, W. B. Hamilton, Alva Wilgus and J. H. Allison of Wichita Falls were among the visitors. Other out-of-town guests were from Vernon and Bomarton.

NOSE CLOGGED FROM A COLD OR CATARRH

Apply Cream in Nostrils To Open Up Air Passages.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, mucous discharge, headache, dryness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold gone.

Don't stay stuffed up. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.—Adv.

VICK REFUSED BOND IN CASE

Martin Remands Physician To Jail in Hearing

Bond for Dr. J. T. Vick, charged with murder in connection with the death of an 18-year-old mother of a 7-months-old baby last Saturday morning, was refused by Judge P. A. Martin in a habeas corpus hearing in the 89th district court Tuesday morning.

In the same case Dr. Vick was remanded to jail without bond Monday afternoon in the preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace R. V. Gwinn.

Bond in the second case of murder against the physician, growing out of the death of another woman, aged about 25 years was lowered from $10,000 to $5000 by Judge Martin in the hearing Tuesday morning. The defense introduced testimony to show that the doctor was unable to make a bond of the size set by Justice of the Peace O. L. Gibbs in an examining trial Monday.

OFFICER SUES

Sinclair Asks $3924 Damages In Action Here.

A suit asking for damages aggregating $3924, was filed in the district clerk's office Tuesday by Cecil Sinclair, a motorcycle officer employed by the City of Wichita Falls, against Harry Donnelly of this city.

The petition alleges that on Dec. 18 Sinclair was injured in a collision between his motorcycle and a delivery truck owned by Mr. Donnelly, and his motorcycle completely wrecked.
