Time Running Out On Killer

Odds Say 19-Year-Old Buster Northern Will Die In Electric Chair Saturday

(By The United Press)

HUNTSVILLE, April 12—Time was running out this week for Buster Northern, 19-year-old stomp killer, and only a last-minute show of new evidence can save him from going to the electric chair in state prison early Saturday.

The state board of pardons refused yesterday, by a 2-1 vote, to intervene.

R. A. Smoot Schmid, former Dallas county sheriff and now chairman of the board, voted to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment. Members Walter Strong and L. C. Harris were in the majority, however, and they declined to recommend any intervention by Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

Northern was barely past 17 when he was arrested at Dallas and convicted a first time of stomping to death Mrs. Fannie McHenry, an elderly Oklahoma woman who picked him up as a hitchhiker.

The state Court of Criminal Appeals stirred up a legal storm when it reversed the conviction and remanded the case, noting that the indictment against Northern was faulty because it did not specify that the stomping was done with his feet.

Northern was re-tried under a "corrected" indictment and a jury sentenced him again to death. The governor has twice given Northern 30-day reprieves while an unorganized and scattered campaign for clemency was undertaken.

The last reprieve ends at midnight Friday and the odds today were that Northern would be put to death in the electric chair a few minutes after midnight Saturday morning.

Sen. McGrath Claims Demos Seeking Action

Delay On European Aid Bill Admitted; Dixiecrats Needled

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 12 — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) denied today that Republicans are waging any deliberate slowdown in Congress against administration legislation.

Senator McGrath of Rhode Island, the Democratic national chairman, had raised the issue previously. He said in a statement that the Democrats are "on the side of action and the Republicans are on the side of inaction."

Taft, who heads the Senate GOP policy committee, told a reporter "it just isn't so."

"There is no deliberate attempt to slow down legislation on the part of the Republicans," Taft said. "Of course, the responsibility for passing legislation rests on the Democrats. For that reason, we haven't seen any necessity to keep our people from talking where they have a legitimate subject to discuss."

Filibuster Cited

Senator Brewster of Maine, the GOP senatorial campaign committee head, said that while Senate Republicans took up time talking about the European recovery bill, they weren't responsible for other delays

"Republicans did most of the talking for 13 days recently but they certainly can't be charged with the Democratic filibuster that took up more than two weeks of the Senate's time," Brewster said.

On the other side, five Republicans yesterday asked why there hadn't been any committee action on revising the displaced persons law criticized by President Truman in his campaign last year.

The five included Senators Ives of New York, Ferguson of Michigan, Smith of New Jersey, Morse of Oregon and Saltonstall of Massachusetts.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) told a reporter that a subcommittee is working on the bill and will be ready to report in less than a month.

Would Ban Segregation

While the Republicans might not be deliberately slowing down the Senate's processes, as McGrath charged, there is evidence

Kidnaping Branded As Hoax

Sheriff Claims Plot Made To Fool Creditors

Hedging On Story Noted By Officer; $1,000 "Returned"

(By The Associated Press)

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., April 12—Kidnaping of a five-year-old youngster for $33,000 was reported today to police, but Chief C. H. Anderson branded it an attempt by the father to "get publicity."

"It looks like one of those deals," said Anderson. "My theory is that he wants a lot of publicity to satisfy gambling debts."

The boy, blond Joey Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Goodman, was released unharmed after his mother said she paid over the $33,000. In his hand was an envelope containing $1000.

Quizzed Father

Anderson said he considered that Goodman, "by the publicity," hoped to convince his debtors that he couldn't meet their demands because he had been forced to pay out a large sum of money.

"If this were the case of kidnapers," the chief declared, "there would be no money returned."

The chief identified Goodman, 40, as a "known gambler," and said he is an ex-prizefighter from Norfolk, Va.

He said Goodman was arrested in November, 1945, on suspicion of robbery at a Los Angeles gambling house. Twelve others arrested at the time, Anderson said, included Mickey Cohen, Harry Rothman and Paulie Gibbons. Rothman was assassinated last fall in Cohen's haberdashery shop. Gibbons earlier was slain gangland style.

The chief said he had quizzed Goodman for several hours and "he hedged on every point of the story."

Abductor Not Stranger

Anderson said he believed Goodman's wife, Mary, a Sunset boulevard dress shop owner, had acted in good faith when she obtained the $33,000 from her bank account and a safety deposit box yesterday without her husband's knowledge. The boy is a military academy student.

The chief said the boy reported he had seen his abductor in the Goodman home "with papa one night. He was wearing dark glasses today (during the kidnaping). Anderson said the report of the

America Is Opening Her Pocketbook To Reward Heroes Who Lost Their Grim Race With Death

(By The Associated Press)

SAN MARINO, Calif., April 12.—America is opening her pocketbook today to reward the heroes who lost their race with death in their attempt to rescue little Kathy Fiscus.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce reports that money is coming in from all parts of the country for the 50 to 60 men who toiled under most hazardous conditions long beyond the normal exhaustion point.

The chamber has formed an over-all committee to consolidate the collections. The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars are sponsoring fund drives.

President Earle V. Grover of the chamber said one of the committee's first jobs is to consider recommending the engineers and sandhogs for Carnegie hero medals.

He explained the purpose of the fund is not to pay the men for the long, hazardous hours they donated, but rather to give them financial recognition. The fund address is: The Rescue Fund committee, c/o Postmaster, Los Angeles.

Meantime, H. E. (Whitey) Blickensderfer, "foreman" of the rescue effort, expressed the feelings of his gangs when he said:

"I'm no hero. It was just a matter of simple humanity."

Dr. Paul Hanson, family physician, said 3½-year-old Kathy might have lived through the hours of rescue work if her knees had not been

Special Message Sent To Senate Urging Approval

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 12—President Truman called on the Senate today to approve the North Atlantic treaty as a means of preventing Russian Communism from smashing the free nations of western Europe as it has those in the east.

"The people of the North Atlantic community have seen solemn agreements, designed to assure peace and the rights of small nations, broken one by one and the people of those nations deprived of freedom by terror and oppression," Mr. Truman declared in a message.

Text Also Sent Along

The President sent his message to the Senate along with the text of the treaty and a report on it by Secretary of State Acheson.

In his message, Mr. Truman said the treaty would be a long step "on the road to peace," that it was framed within the terms of the United Nations charter and the American constitution, and that it is "based on the realities of the situation we face today."

He made no reference in the message to an issue in which many senators have shown even more interest than the treaty itself—the issue of supplying American arms and military equipment to western Europeans of the alliance.

An arms program possibly costing around $1,250,000,000 is in preparation.

Details Are Wanted

Some senators have been taking a stand that the Senate ought to know details of this plan—particularly what it is to cost—before a vote is taken on the treaty.

Since a vote is many weeks off, the Senate may yet receive those details before a decision on the treaty.

Mr Truman did say that still other steps beyond the treaty, must be taken to assure peace.

"This treaty is only one step—although a long one—on the road to peace," the President declared.

Must Work Patiently

"No single action, no matter how significant, will achieve peace. We must continue to work patiently and carefully, advancing with practical, realistic steps in the light of circumstances and events as they occur, building the

Gas Tax Bills Take Beating In House

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 12—Backers of two proposed tax bills levying on natural gas took a beating, and soldier bonus advocates won a victory in the House today.

The House voted 69 to 70 against restoring the natural gas tax-rural road bill by Rep. C. S. McLellan of Eagle Lake to a preferred spot on its calendar.

It voted 76 to 62 to remove the bonus proposal by Rep. J. A. Benton of Wylie from the constitutional amendmenst committee to state affairs, which he considered more friendly.

Gas Levy Proposed

It refused 71 to 59 to remove Rep. Deno Tufare's natural gas tax bill from the committee on revenue and taxation and send it to the committee on highways.

The Tufares bill proposes a levy of a cent and a half per 1,000 cubic feet on natural gas. Income would go to eleemosynary institutions, rural schools and rural roads.

Backers of McLellan's bill failedby the one-vote margin to persuade the House to reconsider yesterday's action sending the measure back to committee.

Rep. J. A. Benton of Wylie told the House his proposed constitutional amendment providing a 300 million dollar bonus fund has not gotten a fair hearing in the various committees to which it has been referred and re-referred.

Committee "Friendly"

House action on McLellan's bill came after an hour-long bitter parliamentary struggle.

The bill would tax natural gas at the rate of three-fourths of a cent per 1,000 cubic feet. One-fourth of the income would go to schools, three-fourths to a found to building country feeder roads.

Net effect of today's action was

Peace Hopes Raised As HST Opens Fifth Year In Office

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 12—President Truman began his fifth year in office today, convinced that the world is moving slowly but surely along the road to enduring peace.

Four years after taking over the reins of a government which has engaged in two devastating world wars, he is known to feel that the goal is at last in sight.

It can be stated authoritatively that Mr. Truman thinks another two years will bring an assurance of peace

Turning Point Reached

The turning point, in his opinion, was when the United States made its crucial decision two years ago to aid Greece and Turkey against the threat of Communist envelopment

The Marshalll plan with its European recovery program, and the signing of the North Atlantic pact, he believes, are further developments in the successful march to prevent aggression.

Mr. Truman, who will be 65 next May 8, looked cheerful and well when photographers called in his office yesterday to make anniversary pictures.

He weighs 178 pounds, 11 more than he did when he was summoned to the White House April 12, 1945 to take the oath of office.

German Admits Killing Boys, Cooking One And Serving Meat To His Family

BREMEN, Germany, April 12 (AP)—A German ship's steward calmly related in court today that he wantonly killed two young boys and he served some of the flesh of one of them to his unsuspecting family.

"I just had the urge to kill someone," Bodo Fries, 39, testified, his face impassive.

Fries is charged with murdering the two boys in 1945 and 1947. He is not charged with cannibalism as there is no such offense in German law.

The parents of both slain boys, Ernst Spenger, 12, and Wolfgang Windrat, 9, were in court to hear Fries tell of the crimes.

Spectators gasped when Fries testified that at one time he was a cook for an American Army unit in Bremen.

Murdered Girls' Friend Says She Has Been Given Warning

(By The United Press)

MILWAUKEE, April 12 — One of slain Patricia Birmingham's closest girl friends, who wandered away from home in a daze, was picked up at Kenosha, Wis., early today and told police of receiving a warning note to "watch your step."

Carol Leszynski, 15, was found wandering in downtown Kenosha early today by Patrolman Ralph Fox. The slim, dark-haired girl, believed to be a key witness in the slaying of Miss Birmingham, disappeared late yesterday after starting home from high school at suburban West Allis.

An Emotional Wreck

Her father, Joseph Leszynski, drove to Kenosha to bring her back, and told Kenosha police that she has been "an emotional wreck" since 16-year-old Patricia Birmingham's body was dredged up from the bottom of the Milwaukee river March 20.

Milton Babich, 19, who eloped with Miss Birmingham's older sister, Kathleen, subsequently confessed shooting Patricia to death and dumping her body in the river last Feb. 10.

Leszynski, who worked at a West Allis farm equipment plant, told police he believes the warning note his daughter received recently indicates that Babich had an accomplice. The youth has been in custody since his arrest with his bride in Minneapolis March 24, and presumably could not have written the note.

Her father said she received the warning note "a few days

Burglars Step Ahead Of Law

Burglars who Monday night broke into Peterson's cafe at the west end of Nineteenth near the so-called Brownfield-Levelland road junction were tracked by a sheriff's deputy approximately three miles before the trail played out, it was announced this morning.

Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton, assisted by Cline Peterson, followed tracks along the north side of the Santa Fe railroad right-of-way, then to the Levelland highway, back to the railroad and over to the Brownfield highway.

Picked Up In Car

After following the trail along the side of the highway it became apparent to the trackers the suspects must have been picked up by a passing automobile.

Approximately $10 in change was removed from a juke box. Burglars also took cheese, ham, candy and several fresh tomatoes, and evidence showed they ate the food as they walked along.

A 1941 black Chevrolet coach, license AS 5887 was reported stolen from Bud Fiedler of 2501 Twenty-second. Further description: red wheels, with sidewall tires. A new raincoat had been left in the car, Fiedler said.

Other Thefts Reported

Two rural area thefts were reported. Russell D. Townsend of Lubbock route 1 said a 100-pound butane bottle and 75 feet of hose

Truman Seeks Hike In Funds For Vets

WASHINGTON, April 12 — President Truman asked Congress today to vote an extra $595,890,000 for GI readjustment benefits. He reported an increase in veterans' unemployment.

The extra money would be for use during the fiscal year ending next June 30. It would include funds for other GI benefits such as education, in addition to jobless pay.

Fire At Post Fatal To Boy

Larry D. Evans, six-year-old son of Mrs. Mabel Martin of Post, died at 5:15 a. m. today in Lubbock Memorial hospital of burns suffered early Monday night at Post.

The youth's entire body was severely burned when his clothing caught fire while he was playing with other children about an open fire.

Rites Still Pending

The children had been playing with "fireballs," gasoline-soaked rag bundles set afire and twirled at the end of a wire. Family members said the Evans boy apparently had spilled some gasoline on his clothing, and that it caught fire as he played about the open blaze.

Hudman Funeral home ambulance brought the boy to Lubbock Memorial hospital at about 9 p. m.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Hudman Funeral home will be in charge of burial.

Survivors include the mother; four sisters, Virginia and Joy Evans, and Mrs. Harlan Morris, all of Post, and Mrs. A. T. Beauchamp, of Corpus Christi; and two brothers, L. W. Evans of Post and J. E. Evans of Lubbock.

Farm Dispute Aired To Jury

Whether an act of God caused $2,500 in damages to the Deaf Smith wheat farm of Charlie Hoover, or whether the farming practices of G. K. Horton on land adjoining Hoover's contributed to it—that was the contrasting picture drawn this morning before a 99th district jury.

Counsel for Hoover, plaintiff in the action, continued efforts to prove to the jury that Horton plowed his land shallowly with discs—or "one-wayed" it—and that the practice resulted in "dust mulch" that is a "blow hazard" from December through March.

Tendency To "Take Off"

Fred Collett, who farms 14 miles from the Horton farm in Deaf Smith county, said when called as one of the morning's three witnesses for the plaintiff that Deaf Smith land so plowed has a tendency to "take off" in a slight wind, but that land plowed deeply with a chisel or a lister has a tendency to resist being freighted into fields of other farmers The reason, it was testified to, is because clods

Dallas Traffic Toll Hiked By Two Deaths

DALLAS, April 12 (U.P.) — The city's 1949 traffic toll climbed to ten today with two fatalities last night.

Mrs. J. M. Rainwater of Houston, 71, was killed when an automobile was crushed between a streetcar and a power pole just north of Fair Park, in East Dallas. Her son-in-law, W. C. McGinnis of Dallas was seriously injured. He was driver of the car.

Mrs. Rainwater was pronounced dead on arrival at Baylor hospital. Her death was attributed to head injuries and shock.

A short time later, Mrs. Vera Rogers, 21, Dallas, died at a hospital where she had been in critical condition as the result of a two-car collision Sunday night.

Setback Given To UT "Gang"

AUSTIN, April 12 (Special) — Dudley K. Woodward Dallas attorney who authored the college building amendment and engineered it through the Texas legislature and finally to approval by a small majority of the people of Texas, received his first setback here lat Monday when directors of the state teachers colleges voted to withdraw from the "joint committee" set up by Woodward to sell the bonds.

Woodward had already selected the bank, attorneys and even the printers for the bonds and had all the details arranged, reports say.

Opposition Mounts

But then several of the teachers college president and others decided everything had been too cut and dried, and opposition began to mount after a meeting in a Dallas bank last week when Woodward did most of the talking.

Monday's action by the teachers' directors is said to be the first of a series of divorce actions which Woodward and his "University Gang" face in the bond program. It was reported that Texas State College for Women plans similar action. Texas Tech's board did not take any action in the matter.

As a result, the University and A. & M. will probably market their bonds separately from the other schools.

The bonds, originally estimated at $60,000,000 over a 30-year period, may total more than $100,000000.

Girl, 9, Is Found Murdered; Second Child Left In Woods

(By The United Press)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 12—Police wondered today if the man who took three-year-old Bobby Dean Howell for a "candy ride" yesterday was the same man who murdered nine-year-old Phyllis Carver near here Sunday.

The little Howell baby was found crying in the woods north of here yesterday, only a few hours after the Carvar child's slashed body was discovered in another wooded area on the outskirts of town.

J. L. Layne, a Lewisburg, Ala., coal miner, found Bobby Dean on his way to work, after she had been missing several hours He said he saw a bareheaded man of about 20, wearing a gray overcoat, leaving the scene just before he heard the girl cry out.

Bobby Dean was hysterical but otherwise not visibly injured. From her story however, officers believed she might have been the victim of an unnatural attack.

She had gone to a neighborhood store for candy, she told police, and a man picked her up, bought her candy

NY Students Start Picketing After Police Stop Near Riot

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 12 — Student strikers marshaled pickets again today at the College of the City of New York after losing a brawling round in their fight against two faculty members.

Night session students now have joined day students in the mass demonstration for removal of two men they charge with racial discrimination.

The striking students seek open trial and ouster of Prof. William E. Knickerbocker head of the romance languages department, accused of anti-Semitism; and William C. Davis, an economics instructor, alleged to have refused to allow white and negro students to share dormitories.

Violence that police said was of near-riot proportions flared yesterday as more than 1,000 chanting, placard-waving students picketed the college's uptown buildings.

Fists flew as students and police battled on the streets and campus.

German Social Democrats Plan Strong Centralized Government

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—Plans for a new western German republic soon may be tossed back into the laps of the big three foreign ministers. They whipped these plans into shape here only last week.

Disturbed American officials gave thought to this possibility today after leaders of the German Social Democrat party rejected terms as outlined by Secretary of State Acheson, British foreign secretary Bevin and foreign minister Schuman of France.

The Socialists are strong enough to block necessary approval by the German parliamentary council at Bonn. The council has been at work for months on a constitution for a federal state which would direct most domestic affairs of the 45,000,000 people in the western occupation zones.

Might Effect Cold War

Officials hope that German differences over the plans may yet be ironed out without referring the whole project back to the three western diplomats—a move which might be a hard blow to the west in the struggle with Soviet Russia.

A meeting is scheduled later this week between a Bonn parliamentary delegation and the American, British and French military governors in Germany.

The possibility that the Germans might balk was foreseen when the foreign ministers announced Friday they had reached full agreement on their future course in Germany—including a step to return a large measure of self-government to the defeated nation.

Bevin advised then that "If the Germans are wise they will respond."

Civilian Control Wanted

The Social Democrat party is holding out for a stronger central government than the allies are willing to grant. The foreign ministers had favored placing authority over foreign trade and foreign exchange in the hands of a civilian, three-member allied high commission, which would take the reins now held by military governors.

The new plan would become effective after the new German constitution has been ratified by the occupying powers and approved by the western German voters.

Officials have been saying this might be done by July 1. Now that the hitch has developed there is less talk of any specific target date.

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Britons Will Eat Whale, Barracuda And Beaver But Hominy Is Just Corny Idea

LONDON, April 12 (AP)—Britons winched today at the news that American corn—hominy grits—may soon be set on their dining tables.

"Now the Yanks expect us to eat the ruddy stuff," was the explosive reaction on all sides.

Southerner's Idea

Even the helpful suggestion of editor Ralph McGill of the Atlanta Constituption gave them little comfort. McGill said his favorite is a dish of hominy grits baked with milk and eggs and sprinkled with cheese. He also suggested a garnish of butter.

It was thoughtful of the gallant southerner to send along the recipes, said one housewife. Will he now please send along the eggs, cheese and butter?

The word that congress may require 15 percent of all corn shipped under the European recovery plan to take the form of cornmeal or hominy grits reached London by way of the Daily Herald.

English Pig Food

To the English corn is a grain fed to pigs in England but consumed with mystifying relish by those strange folk across the Atlantic.

British housewives have dutifully followed government suggestions on how to prepare whale meat, beaver fillets, canned barracuda and cereal-stuffed sausage for dreary years without flinching. But now—they just sat down perplexed.

Identity Sought For Man Struck By Train

SAN ANTONIO, April 12 (AP)—An unidentified man, about 45, died Monday night under the wheels of a speeding passenger train just outside the south city limits.

Authorities said the body was mutilated beyond any recognition and numerous tatoo marks were their chief clues in attempted identification. It was the third such death here in about 10 days.

Mary Haworth's Mail . . .

Young Woman Is Asked To Be Attendant In Wedding Of Former Fiance, Close Friend

DEAR Mary Haworth: Some time ago I was in love with a very nice young man, I shall call him Don. But after keeping company for a year we broke up, because it was impossible for us to marry and it seemed unwise to continue dating in the circumstances.

One of my closest girl friends, Ruth, was going to a banquet with Ralph, I'll call him. But at the last minute Ralph was called out of town, and to avoid breaking the date, he asked Don to take Ruth for him. Although Ruth knew how much Don and I had cared for each other, and how I still felt, she went with him anyway.

However when we discussed the matter he said she wouldn't go with him again; but they had another date the following weekend and it has been that way ever since. They continued to date and Ruth always informed me where they went and what they did.

IS BRIDE-TO-BE SHOWING MALICE?

I WAS HURT at losing Don, who in my thoughts constantly, and also because I had lost an intimate girl friend. Of course our friendship continued superficially, but it hasn't been the same; and last week Ruth asked me to be an attendant at her wedding to Don In June—and that's the problem.

I am no longer in love with Don, but I hesitate to be in the wedding party, for it might be awkward to walk down the aisle where Don will be waiting for Ruth, after we had planned our wedding many times. I feel Ruth is doing this for spite. Should I consent; or if I refuse, what excuse can I give? I know some people will talk, either way.

Signed: P. B.

GIVE THE WINNER BENEFIT OF DOUBT

DEAR P. B.: Possibly Ruth is the sort of person who has a strong competitive drive and gets a kick out of "besting" others, particularly members of her own sex whom she unconsciously admires or secretly envies for qualities they have that she hasn't got, she feels. This may be her way of trying to stimulate belief that she is "better" than the person who sparks her envious interest.

And possibly there is an element of triumphant gloating implicit in her desire to include you as attendant in her wedding party. If so, she isn't much of a friend and Don is grabbing a hairshirt-wife on the rebound; but my advice is to give her the benefit of the doubt and be her attendant, wreathed in smiles.

DON'T LET MIND WALLOW IN BATHOS

IN ANY CASE, whatever her motives, she is giving you opportunity to take disappointment in stride with banners flying; and the experience of facing the music, of actually assisting at the wedding, will be better for your morale, than staying away and brooding forlornly as the day drags on.

As for seeing Don at the end of the aisle waiting for Ruth instead of you, it needn't be an ordeal if you don't think sentimental hokum about it, before and during the ceremony. Since marriage was "impossible" for you and Don, you were smart to break with him instead of drifting; so don't back down on your good sense. Rather give thanks to Providence for putting an end to latent suspense.

In preparation for Ruth's wedding, to get yourself in a happy state of mind, you might study Emmet Fox's book, "Make Your Life Worthwhile" (Harper & Brothers), which demonstrates that highhearted thinking is the preface to poise in any situation, and the master-secret of success, once you get in the habit of it.

Accidental Deaths May Be Minimized With Precaution

By ELLEN MILLER
Of the Woman's Staff

After hearing the pathetic story of Little Kathy Fiscus, many mothers held their own children close for a moment, and perhaps breathed a silent prayer that these very special children would be spared accidental death in childhood.

People are shocked, that the well into which Kathy fell was left unplugged, its jaws waiting to swallow a child alive. People are always shocked after a preventable accident occurs.

Accidents Probable

All in all, it is improbable that a child in this area would fall into an unplugged well. But it is highly probable that in the coming months children in this area will shoot themselves with "unloaded" guns, will drown because they have not learned to swim, will be run over because they have not learned to watch for cars, and will be poisoned because parents have carelessly left cigarettes, shoe polish, lye and adult medicine around where children can reach them.

One-fifth of all accidental poisonings occur during the second year of life. And materials most frequently responsible are ordinary household items, such as laxative and tonic pills that contain strychnine, kerosene, gasoline, benzine, oil of wintergreen, lye, insect and rat poisons and nicotine in cigarettes and insect sprays. One eaten cigarette or a teaspoon of gasoline can be dangerous for a one-year-old.

The "no no" system may be all right in teaching children not to tear up books and not to eat all the cookies in the jar, but it is not dependable in teaching them to keep away from poisons. Materials that are truly dangerous should be kept out of a baby's reach, under lock and key if necessary. That cabinet under the sink may be a convenient place for cleaning powders, ammonia and shoe polish, but it may be a death trap if a toddler gets into the kitchen.

And poisons, of course, are not the only items that can hurt a baby. Guns should be kept totally out of grabbing distance. Kitchen knives should be kept out of reach. And babies should be taught early not to run with sharp pointed pencils, scissors or other sharp instruments.

Infants should not be left alone in a tub of water . . . if the child can't be taken out of the tub into a cold room, its mother should just let the telephone ring. Whoever it is will call back, but if baby drowns in a few inches of water while mother answers the telephone, there is very little that can be done.

Electric cords should be kept in good condition, and babies should not be allowed to chew them. Unused electric plugs should be covered, either with a "blind" or with Scotch tape. Empty talcum powder cans are not suitable toys, for the powder remaining in an "empty" can is capable of causing a lung disorder if sucked into the lungs.

Broken glass should not be allowed to accumulate around the house. And babies should be kept away from strange dogs and other pets when the child is at an age when he might frighten or hurt the animal. Screens on upstairs windows should be securely fastened.

Others Not Accident-Proof

These precautions are for the very young. But older children are hardly accident-proof.

All children should learn to swim, and should not be permitted out on a lake in a boat until they are proficient. Wading, even in a familiar lake, is dangerous until a child can swim, because there is always danger of an unexpected hole on the lake bottom where a child could suddenly sink into water over his head.

By the time a boy is old enough to go hunting with his father, he is old enough to learn how to handle a gun, including laying it down on the ground while he goes through a fence.

And before a youngster is permitted to take the family car alone, he should have been taught safety very thoroughly. Not only should parents urge safety when their own children are driving, but they should encourage their offspring not to ride with other reckless drivers.

Parents should know a little about first aid treatment. Information can be obtained from the family physician that may in an emergency, save a life.

There is something bitterly heartbreaking about the death of a happy child.

Not all fatal accidents that befall children are as spectacular as the one that claimed little Kathy Fiscus . . . but many would be just as easily preventable, and all are as cruel to the ones who love the child.

Dinner Held By Sorority

An arrangement of red carnations and acacia and red and gold candles decorated the dinner table.

PROGRAM OKAY SLATED TODAY

House Passage Of Aid Bill Is Assured

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 12—The House lined up the new European recovery program for swift passage today after a battle over how much it should cost.

Approval looked like a cinch after the way a team of Democrats and Republicans methodically smashed all but one attempt to change the program yesterday.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) predicted the same lineup would mow down efforts to trim the total, holding it "as is" at $5,380,000,000, plus a $272,000,000 guarantee to private investors.

Senate Approves Plan

An the assistant Democratic floor leader, Rep Priest (D-Tenn), saw "no more than 50" votes stacked up against the 15-month second installment on the Marshall plan

The Senate approved a $5.-580,000,000 European recovery bill by a 70 to 7 vote last Friday, after 13 days of wrangling debate. It differs slightly from the measure now shaping up in the House. These differences must be ironed out by a joint Senate-House committee before final passage of the program.

Rayburn and Priest gave their forecasts to a reporter after arranging for the House to meet an hour earlier than usual for the showdown.

Rayburn said it might all be over in "a couple of hours or so." He said he expected plenty of attempts to slice the bill but "not much trouble" battling them back.

Priest, in charge of rounding up ballots for crucial tests, said he was so sure of the outcome that he wasn't bothering with an official nose count.

"We are in no danger of any cuts as it appears now," he said.

Yet some members who want to keep on helping Europe think the aid should be on a reduced scale. In that class were men like Rep Lawrence Smith (R-Wis) and Rep Preston (D-Ga), who offered economy amendments.

Foes of the entire program made no claims they could block passage. But they said they did have "a chance" of putting across a cut.

The House bill would authorize the Economic Cooperation administration to spend $1,100,000,000 between now and June 30 and $4.-280,000,000 in the following year.

The Reconstruction Finance corporation would be allowed to put up $1,000,000,000 until Congress provides the actual cash in a separate appropriation bill.

Woman Depressed By Mate's Cancerous Face Disfigures Her Arms With A Razor

CHICAGO, April 12 (AP)—A young wife's misery over her husband's cancer-ravaged face led her to disfigure her arms with a razor.

"I did it because I wanted people to look at me instead of him," Mrs. Joan Bierds 20, told Judge Harry P. Beam today in woman's court.

Her arms were heavily bandaged when she appeared to answer a charge of disorderly conduct resulting from her self-inflicted slashes yesterday.

Mrs. Bierds, a pleasant-looking blonde, was composed as she told Judge Beam that she had plunged to the depths of despondency after receiving a letter Saturday from her husband, Chester, 26.

He is a patient in the Bronx, N. Y., veterans' hospital. He had written, she said, that he did not intend to leave the hospital again after someone had told him "he looked like the villian of Frankenstein."

Tammany Hall Snubs FDR, Jr., For Sol Bloom's Congress Job

NEW YORK, April 12 (AP) — A group of Tammany Hall leaders turned down Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr.'s bid for a Democratic congressional nomination, and picked a city judge as their candidate.

After his rejection, Roosevelt declared Monday night:

"I Was Knifed"

"I am an organization Democrat." There is a little group in Tammany trying to knife me just as a little group—not the same group — tried to knife my father."

Roosevelt made the statement in a speech at the political club of Robert B. Blaikie, the only one of the dozen Tammany leaders in the 20th congressional district who backed him.

A majority of the leaders picked Municipal Court Justice Benjamin Shalleck Monday for the west side Manhattan seat of Rep. Sol Bloom, veteran Democratic congressman who died more than a month ago.

Young Roosevelt, who is assured of the nomination of New York state's Liberal party, has said he would run also on a "four freedoms" party ticket in the May 17 special election if he did not get the Democratic nomination.

The principal publicly stated opposition to Roosevelt's candidacy has been that until recently he lived outside the district—in suburban Long Island.

The Republicans and the American Labor party have not yet named their candidates.

Door Opens, Father Runs Over Daughter

HOUSTON, April 12 (U.P.)—Little Carol Louise Wherridge's funeral was planned today, after the two-year-old tot was crushed Monday by a car driven by her father.

W. W. Wherridge, 27, told investigators the door of his car suddenly swung open as he backed from a driveway, and that Carol fell into the street under the wheels.

Wherridge did not know she had fallen until he heard her screams. Carol Louise died of a fractured skull an hour and a half later.

New Undulant Fever Drugs Are Disclosed

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP) — Medicine has two new and quicker-acting drug weapons against Undulant fever, a group of scientists reported today.

Undulant fever, or brucellosis, is the disease caused by drinking raw milk from cattle infected with "Bang's disease"—or from handling raw meat from infected cattle or hogs.

The scientists said either aureomycin or chloromycetin — two of the newest "wonder drugs" —can overcome the acute stage of the disease within 72 hours.

Texas Dairymen Plan Advertising Program

Texas dairy producers are preparing to make June Dairy Month a period of active effort to build markets for milk and milk products. Dairy leaders in the South Plains area are playing an important part in this program.

Basis for the plan is a voluntary advertising program in which all the directors of the American Dairy Association of Texas will serve without pay. They will guide the year-around promotion of dairy foods through the ADA.

Texas is one of 40 states uniting in the action where dairy farmers will set aside one penny per pound of butterfat during the 30 days of June. The accumulated fund will then be used for a 365 day advertising plan.

Members of the state ADA board from the South Plains and Panhandle region include; Chester Eliff, Tulia; Coy Stewart, Roby; Glen T. Hackney, Lubbock, Holstein-Friesian Association of Texas; Dr. J. J. Willingham, Lubbock, Texas Tech dairy manufactures department; Henry Teubel, Tulia; and Wallace Louthan, Plainview.

Rites Set For Shock Victim

MULESHOE, April 12 (Special) —Funeral services for Joe Kenneth Dillard, 20, Muleshoe man who was accidentally electrocuted at about 2:30 p. m. Monday in Lariat community, were to be held at 2 p. m. today in Muleshoe Church of Christ.

J. E. Randol, minister, was to officiate.

The body was to be taken overland after services here to Plainview for burial in Plainview cemetery. Graveside rites, under direction of Muleshoe Funeral home, were to be conducted there.

Dillard, a Southwest Public Service company employe who had lived in Muleshoe about a year, was killed when he came into contact with a company truck which had accidentally become highly charged with electricity.

Killed Instantly

At the time Dillard, a lineman, was working with a construction crew erecting powerline poles in Lariat, about 13 miles northwest of Muleshoe.

It was reported that Dillard and several other workers were raising a pole, working it up through the lines, when the pole slipped and the wire on it energized the "A" frame of the company truck below. Dillard, it was understood, stepped backward, and his head touched the truck frame. The heavy electrical charge killed him almost instantly, it was said.

Dillard had been an employe of the company about four years, it was reported, and had formerly lived at Plainview. He was born July 7, 1928, at Petersburg.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Freda Dillard; two children, Sandra Beth, 3, and Rita Gail, 9 months; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dillard of Plainview; four brothers, Jim, Buster and Gene, all of Plainview, and Wesley of Silverton; four sisters, Mrs. F. E. Sinclair, Mrs. J. W. Case, and Mrs. Christine Watkins, all of Plainview, and Mrs S. C. Thompson, of Edmonson, Tex.

Optimists See Color Slides Of Guatemala

Showing of colored picture slides of Guatemala City by James H. Roberts highlighted today's weekly Optimist club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock.

Roberts, who resides at 3116 Thirty-first, is to leave later this month for Guatemala City, where he and two associates are launching a building-block manufacturing business.

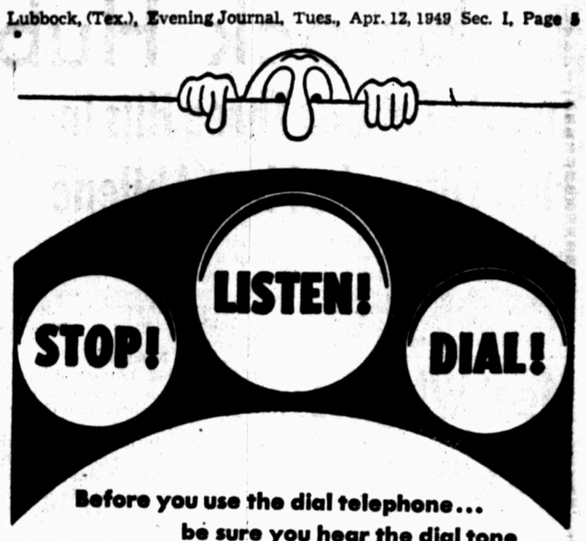

The colored slides viewed by Optimist club members today were taken by Roberts on a recent visit to the picturesque Central American city.

After showing the pictures, Roberts gave a brief talk on the business and social aspects of the republic of Guatemala, and answered several queries from his audience.

An Optimist club board of directors meeting was announced for 6:30 p. m. Monday in Hotel Lubbock. All directors were urged to attend.

Two out-of-town guests, Fred Wondeli of Dallas and J. M. Finley of Austin, were introduced.

G. C Stewart presided at the luncheon, with invocation by J. Holland Cox.

Lubbock Hubbers Batter Vernon, 10 To 4

Duarte Collects Three Hits In First Tilt; Hubs Meet Abilene

VERNON, April 12 (Special)—In an exhibition game here last night, the Lubbock Hubbers pounded out a 10-4 decision over Vernon although the tilt was called after the seventh inning.

A crowd of approximately 100 persons sat in the cold, damp park for the game and the temperature hovered in the lower forties following rain earlier in the day. Tonight the Hubbers stop in Abilene for a game, coming on to Lubbock Wednesday.

Too Much Power

Lubbock had too much power for the Vernon nine, making 10 hits off four pitchers, two of them doubles.

Herby Pitts turned in a nice performance on the mound, but in the third inning he got into trouble as the Vernon team got to him for four hits, three walks, and four runs, along with an error. But in the final four innings only four men reached base.

Veterans stood out for the Hubbers, and Jackie Wilcox collected two hits and knocked in four runs. Frank McAlexander hit safely twice in three times at bat. Newcomer Al Duarte, playing his first game for the Hubbers, hit three for four.

Lubbock exploded for four runs in the first and sewed up the game in the third with four more.

Dooley Gets Double

McAlexander singled to lead off and went to second on a passed ball. Bubba Kaine walked and Mike Dooley doubled to left center scoring McAlexander and sending Kaine to third. Pitts walked, and Wilcox drilled a single to right field scoring Kaine and Dooley and sending Pitts to third.

Pearson grounded into a double play, the lone double-killing of the day, Pitts crossing the plate on the play. Duarte beat out a hit to third base. Jim Prince hit, but Joe Wisniewski fanned to end the inning in which the Hubbers batted around.

Pitts picked a man off first base in the first inning in a good play, and Mike Dooley made a fine throw to Wilcox in the second inning to catch Don Vietch sleeping off base in the second. Kaine made a great stop behind second of Lou Ehlinger's drive, and threw to Wilcox to force a runner at second base in an almost impossible stop of the ball.

Royce Mills, veteran Hubber pitcher, coaching at first base, was thumbed off the field in the sixth inning for protesting a decision at first.

Tuesday night the Hubbers stop in Abilene for a game before coming on to Lubbock Wednesday.

Six doubles teams finished in the money. Jim Buckner and Bill Nelms finished with 1,201; Ersel Blackburn and Bob Gressett had 1,200; Carl Roberts and Hank Rogers totalled 1,182; Gene Roberts and Lowell Caddell tipped the pins for 1,173; and Morris Cooper and George Tate scored 1,162.

Taking the singles title with 677 was Homer Wright. Finishing second was Frank Douglass with 640; Ray Ellis and Ken Kimble tied for third with 628; Aubrey Faulkner had 626; Al Simmons scored 624; James Battin carded 609; L. Bell finished with 605; and Jim Bragg placed with 604.

Winner of the all-events division, an aggregate of team, double, and single games, was Jerry Henderson. With the aid of his handicap he had 1,837 pins. The all-events scratch award went to Ben Brown, without a handicap, who had 1,770 pins.

Winner of the team award after the games Friday night was the S and Q Clothiers team with 2,975 pins. On the quintet were Red Meyers, R. Z. Abell, Clyde Curlee, Ken Kimble, and Tubby Reed.

Fishing Licenses For Texoma Asked

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 12 (AP)—Joint Oklahoma-Texas fishing licenses for Lake Texoma are proposed by the Oklahoma Senate.

Seventy per cent of the big lake lies in Oklahoma, the rest in Texas. Numerous arrests have resulted among fishermen working both sides of the line.

The Senate yesterday proposed a uniform season license to cost $5. Oklahomans could fish their side of Lake Texoma for the $1.25 state license, however.

Duarte Joins Hubber Squad

VERNON, April 12 (Special)—Al Duarte, heavy-hitting outfielder who was assigned to the Lubbock Hubbers Monday after signing a Greenville baseball club contract, got off to an auspicious start with his new team mates here last night.

The heavy hitting left fielder came through with three hits in four trips to the plate, one of them a double as Lubbock chalked up a 10 to 4 decision over Vernon last night. He was expected to appear again tonight against Abilene in an exhibition game there.

George Schepps, Hubber general manager, talked to Duarte only a few minutes before announcing that the Portuguese fielder had agreed to terms.

Former Amarillo Player

Duarte is in his fifth year in organized ball, breaking into the game with the Amarillo Gold Sox in 1940. The following year, after hitting .346, he went into the Army and served for five years. One of those years he played in Hawaii, his native country, with an Army team.

He returned to Amarillo for the seasons of 1946 and 1947, gaining recognition as one of the best outfielders and hitters in the West Texas-New Mexico league. He hit .327 in '46 and .356 in '47, while being among the top men in runs batted in and doubles.

Duarte went up to Greenville of the Class B Big State league last year and hit .332 in 106 games. After playing in 100 tilts, he broke his leg while filling in one night at first base. He was out of action several weeks, but finished the final six games of the season.

Has Good Record

His record during 1948 was outstanding. He batted 389 times, scoring 75 runs, got 129 hits good for 201 bases and drove in 77 runs for the eighth place ball club. Duarte had 23 doubles, five triples, and 13 home runs to his credit and fanned only 19 times.

Duarte is 27 years old, stands five feet nine inches and weighs 160 pounds. He throws and bats left.

Manager Jackie Sullivan expressed a desire from the beginning to obtain Duarte, if possible, and the fleet outfielder readily consented to play in Lubbock, where he is no stranger. He is happy over the prospect of playing for Sullivan and the Hubbers.

Acquisition of Duarte gives the Hubbers three veteran outfielders, Chick Fowler and Lloyd Pearson rounding out the list. Whether all three will be kept remains to be seen.

Joe Campbell, a limited service infielder and outfielder, today refused to accept Hubber terms and was scratched from the original list. As a result, Sullivan is bringing 16 players into Lubbock, instead of the 17 planned. Campbell probably will be sent to Corpus Christi of the Class D Rio Grande Valley league.

Players making the trip into Lubbock include Mike Dooley, catcher; Royce Mills, Oscar Kuver, Cotton Russell, Herby Pitts, Don Hensiek, and Charles Willis, pitchers; Jim Prince, Jack Wilcox, Frank McAlexander, Bubba Kaine, and Sullivan, infielders; and Fowler, Duarte, Pearson, and Joe Wisniewski, outfielders.

Branca And Hatten Will Oppose Nats

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 12. (U.P.)—Right-hander Ralph Branca and southpaw Joe Hatten will divide the Brooklyn Dodgers' pitching chores against the Washington Senators here today.

The Dodgers yesterday split their squad into two teams for as many exhibition games but both contests were rained out. Meanwhile, Brooklyn officials announced the optioning of Infielder Bobby Morgan to Montreal of the International league.

Washington's game with Spartansburg of the Tri-State league at Spartansburg, S. C., yesterday also was rained out.

National Rodeo Is Won By Sul Ross

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12 (AP)—Led by all-around grand champion Harley May, Sul Ross State Teachers college of Alpine, Tex. won the championship at the first national intercollegiate rodeo last night.

Sul Ross accumulated 345 points to nose out California Polytechnic college, with 300 points.

The difference was the placing of Harley May and Cotton Rosser of Cal Poly, the rodeo's two outstanding performers, in the brahma bull riding. May placed first in the event, scoring altogether 225 points of his team's total. Rosser was fourth in the event and finished with an individual score of 195.

Westlake May Pace Pirates This Year

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 12 (AP)—Wally Westlake, husky outfielder who was sniffing the trade winds with apprehension a year ago, may provide the answer to the Pittsburgh Pirates' pennant hopes.

Westlake has been hitting the grapefruit league pitchers as if he owned them and he's always been a dependable man in the outfield. Manager Billy Meyer says "This is Westlake's year" and if the sophomore Buc manager is correct it could easily be "the Pirates' year."

In 69 trips, Westlake has compiled a .406 batting average. That's second only to Catcher Eddie Fitzgerald who has hit .435 in 24 appearances.

Meyer, of course, doesn't expect Westlake to continue his torrid pace. The Buc skipper will be well satisfied if Westlake hits .300 or better. Something he's failed to accomplish in his two seasons with the Bucs.

Meyer says Westlake has continued to show all-round improvement this spring. Eight of his 28 hits have gone for extra bases and he's driven in 18 runs, more than any other Pirate.

BROWNS DRUB WICHITA

SHERMAN, April 12 (U.P.)—The St. Louis Browns scored an easy 11 to 3 victory over Wichita Falls of the Big State league yesterday as Paul Lehner, Andy Anderson and Bob Dillinger each chipped in with home runs. Chuck Embree scattered 11 hits and became the third Brownie pitcher to go the distance this spring.

Crippled Baseball Team Goes To Altus

Westerner Track Squad Will Bid For Plains Relays Title

Stiff competition faces the track and baseball teams this weekend, as the baseball team goes to Altus, Okla., for three games and the cinder squad stays home to participate in the South Plains Relays April 15-16.

Saturday at the Texas Tech oval, the cinder squad made a good showing in the district meet, winning nine first places in the events and tieing for another first. High man of the meet was Donald Decker who won the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, and the 200-yard low hurdles.

Face Stiffer Competition

But this week the competition will be much stiffer, and the locals will be doing good to place in the first three positions in team standings. Near top shape should be reached this week if the weather continues fair and warm, and most of the injured sprinters have recovered from sprained muscles.

Malcolm Young, who last week was limping from a pulled muscle, finished second in the 220-yard dash in the district meet. And Wayne Stroud is regaining his strength after being sidelined with a throat infection several weeks ago.

LUBBOCK NINE TO FACE TOUGH FOE AT ALTUS

Coach Fred Taylor's baseball team has won its eighth straight contest, that being a 12-1 victory over an independent team from Texas Tech.

But this week the high school nine will be up against its toughest opponent of the season thus far. The Oklahoma team has been a consistent power in high school circles and should be a match for the Westerners. One game will be played at 8 o'clock Friday night, one Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and the other at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

Only two starting pitchers will be available for the three games with Altus. Mac Taylor dropped from the squad yesterday, and Jim Wilson is no longer coming out for the team. That leaves Jimmy Hamilton and Lefty Bennie Day, a sophomore.

Pitchers In Good Form

Thus far the two boys have shown promise as pitchers and have been partly responsible for the good record of the team to date. Hamilton has been consistent all season, and Day has been developing fast after a slow start: however, he still has a long way to go, being rather wild at times. When he conquers his wildness, he should be a valuable pitcher.

Coach Taylor said that he may have to rearrange his lineup to have enough pitchers to last throughout the three-game series. Morris Turner, now catching, may be called upon to go four or five innings on the mound, and Charles Galey, Jimmy Sexton, and Jimmy Richards are other possible prospects.

An intra-squad game may be played today at Chapman field diamond, provided several new players can be rounded up. Only 17 boys are on the roster at present.

Texas Nine To Face Mustang Club Today

(By The Associated Press)

The University of Texas Longhorns pit an unbeaten record in the Southwest conference baseball race today against the hot-and-cold Southern Methodist university Mustangs.

The game at Dallas was postponed yesterday because of rain.

The Texas Christian university Frogs added another scalp to their belt yesterday, walloping Rice Owls, 12-1, at Fort Worth.

In a non-conference game, Texas A. and M. defeated Houston of the Texas league, 4-2.

Rookie Hurler Sparks Yanks

FORT WORTH, April 12. (U.P.)—Try as he might, Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees couldn't come up with a valid reason today why rookie Pitcher Paul Hinrichs should be sent to the Kansas City Blues, to whom the hurler technically is under contract.

Hinrichs, still officially on the Kansas City roster, turned in another fine performance yesterday as he gained credit for the Yankees' 9 to 6 triumph over Dallas of the Texas league. Hinrichs pitched the last five innings, yielding four hits and one run. The run off him was the first he allowed in 16 innings this spring.

Two other rookies, Outfielder Hank Bauer and Infielder Gerry Coleman, also played a big part in the victory. Bauer's fifth-inning homer broke a 5-5 deadlock and Coleman, filling in for Phil Rizzuto, collected three singles in four times at bat.

The Yankees meet Fort Worth's Cats today and then swing north into Indiana.

REDS MEET PHILLIES

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 12. (U.P.)—The Cincinnati Reds, only a hop, skip and a jump from home, opened a two-game series against the Philadelphia Phillies here today preparatory to moving into Crosley field.

At Montgomery, Ala., yesterday, the Reds trounced Montgomery of the Southeastern league, 11 to 0, with Ev Lively scattering five hits in seven innings. Homer Howell contributed two three-run doubles.

The Phils were scheduled to meet the Nashville Vols of the Southern association at Nashville, Tenn., yesterday but were rained out.

ORIOLES BEAT BRAVES

BALTIMORE, Md., April 12. (U.P.)—Billy Southworth's Boston Braves left Baltimore with no misgivings today, bound for Hartford, Conn.

For the second straight time, the Braves bowed to the Baltimore Orioles, 3 to 2, yesterday when Glenn (Red) McQuillen hit a two-run homer in the sixth inning. Bill Voiselle pitched three-hit ball for the Braves for five innings and Charley Barrett, his successor, was nicked for the homer.

The Braves are idle today but meet the Boston Red Sox at Hartford tomorrow.

PIRATES, CHISOX CLASH

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 12. (U.P.)—With their series deadlocked at three games apiece, both the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago White Sox were looking for victory number four today. The two clubs were to have met in the seventh game of the spring series at Mobile yesterday but rain cancelled the contest.

Columbia University's baseball team opens its season on April 2 against Manhattan College and closes June 4 with a game against Army at West Point. Sixteen games are scheduled.

DAWSON SINKS HOLE-IN-ONE IN MASTERS—John Dawson, left, Los Angeles amateur, reaches into the cup to retrieve his ball after he holed out his No. 4 iron shot from the teet on the 190-yard 16th hole at the National Golf club course in the Masters tournament at Augusta, Ga. Gene Sarazen stands by to congratulate Dawson. (AP Wirephoto).

Former Schoolboy Baseball Star On Hub Hurling Staff

(This is the second in a series of articles describing members of the Lubbock Hubbers. The information was gained while the Lubbock team was in spring training).

By JOE KELLY
Journal Sports Editor

GREENVILLE — Baseball wouldn't be baseball without a rookie.

So the Hubbers have come up with one of the most experienced rookie players they've ever had on their roster in Charles Willis of Dallas.

The good looking righthander is 22 years old, stands a deceptive five feet 10 inches and weighs a well-distributed 175 pounds. He's an Army veteran with 18 months in the European Theater of Operations behind him and a hardness on the outer surface that doesn't penetrate. He also has a fine sense of humor.

Willis Reared In Dallas

Willis was born and reared in Dallas, where he was under the watchful eye of George Schepps, Hubber general manager, who never missed a bet while heading the Dallas Rebels. Schepps kept his baseball eye on Willis and finally talked him into coming to the Greenville-Lubbock-Corpus Christi spring training camp here.

The Dallas player impressed the veteran players here because of his form and ability on the mound. He seemed to know what he was doing and why. He had an easy delivery with good stuff—and he was in shape.

Willis lived all his life in Dallas except for Army duty and graduated from Dallas Tech high school. He played fullback on the football team and hurled for the schoolboy nine. And in both he received recognition.

Then he left high school days behind him and pitched amateur ball. In 1944 the Army grabbed him and shipped him to Germany, where he campaigned with the 36th and 70th Infantry Divisions.

Star Halfback For Army

He also found time to play football and baseball. One of his biggest thrills was being named to the 7th Army all-star team at halfback. He was pitching on the 70th Division team that was beaten in the European playoffs.

He returned home in 1946 and the following summer found him hurling for the Karlin Brothers baseball team in Dallas. He had a good year but stayed out of baseball entirely in 1948. His explanation: He didn't feel like playing.

Willis is another Hubber that the women can stay away from this summer. He married the former Miss Josephine Grace in December, 1947, and is happily married.

Charley is pretty proud of having played on the same baseball team overseas as Earl Torgerson now first baseman for the Boston Braves. They were pretty good friend and it is one of the reasons he is partial to the Braves.

But his biggest thrill was being named to the all-Dallas high school baseball team, as well as the all-state high school nine in 1944. He throws and bats right.

Willis may well give the Hubbers the rookie strength on the mound for which they are looking. At least he'll be trying.

Red Sox Favorites In American Loop

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

ORANGEBURG, S. C. April 12—It looks from here like the Boston Red Sox over the Cleveland Indians in a two-club race for the American league pennant.

WILLIAMS

New York and possibly Philadelphia have a look-in on the big prize but the Red Sox and Indians carry the heavy guns. Detroit needs plenty of breaks to figure in the race and St. Louis, Washington and Chicago are in over their heads.

The Oct. 2 finish (not guaranteed):

1. Boston
2. Cleveland
3. New York
4. Philadelphia
5. Detroit
6. St. Louis
7. Washington
8. Chicago

A year ago most American league owners feared a Boston runaway and hoped the Yanks could make it a race. Cleveland, with all its veterans having their best years, upset the apple cart.

Now the Yanks, with Joe DiMaggio still the big question mark, are an uncertain factor. Boston and Cleveland are the teams to beat.

If the Red Sox get consistent pitching they have the power to break the race wide open. The big bats of Ted Williams, Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr pack a tremendous wallop.

Joe McCarthy, starting his second year as Sox manager, figures to get more pitching help from Tex Hughson and Mickey Harris, who were of little value last season. Jack Kramer, Joe Dobson and Mel Parnell form the nucleus of a pretty fair staff. Hughson can make all the difference if he pitches up to his spring form.

Cleveland should get much better pitching than the Sox from Bob Feller, Gene Bearden, Bob Lemon and Steve Gromek. Manager Lou Boudreau the "player of the year" in 1948, fields the best infield in baseball unless veterans Ken Keltner and Joe Gordon should slip.

Boston, left at the post in 1948, should improve on its start but it hardly can better its July and August performance. The Indians left a lasting imprint by going into Fenway park and beating the Red Sox in their own back yard in the tie playoff game for the pennant.

Another year like 1948 for Boudreau, Keltner, Gordon, Mitchell, Lemon and Beardon and the Indians are "in." That seems to be asking too much.

TIGERS, MEMPHIS TIE

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 12. (U.P.)—Detroit Manager Red Rolfe, who thinks his Tigers need more power, expressed himself as well pleased today with the Bengals' newly-discovered home run punch. Vic Wertz hit two homers yesterday and Walt Evers and Bob Swift one each. Despite the blows, Detroit had to settle for a 13-inning 8 to 8 tie with Memphis.

Joe Vetrano of San Francisco made the only extra-point-by dropkick in the three-year history of the All-America Conference last season when he dropped a poor pass from center and botted the ball cleanly through the uprights.

National Boxing Group Will Lift Ban On Rocky Graziano; Bout With Foster Seen

NEW YORK, April 12 (U.P.) — The National Boxing association today prepared to lift its ban on tempestuous Rocky Graziano and the former middleweight champion probably will celebrate his "coming out" party by meeting Omaha's Vince Foster sometime this summer in an outdoor ring.

Abe Greene, N.B.A. commissioner, said today the restriction on Graziano will be lifted "automatically" as soon as the California athletic commission rescinds its ban on the "bad-boy" New Yorker within the next two weeks.

Graziano and his manager, Irving Cohen, laid the groundwork for Rocky's clean bill of health by paying California promoter Jimmy Murray $1,200 last week. The money was paid Murray for expenses incurred when Graziano failed to go through with a bout against Fred Apostoli at Oakland, Calif., last December. It was for that runout that Rocky was suspended by the NBA.

"As soon as the California commission lifts its suspension, we will also lift ours automatically," Green said.

Meanwhile, a tournament of Champions' spokesman revealed that Foster has been offered a $50,000 guarantee to meet Graziano in an outdoor ring this summer. Foster is coming east to discuss the proposal and if the bout is arranged, it probably will be held in Jersey city's Roosevelt stadium.

In the event New York State also lifts Graziano's suspension, the T. of C. will stage the bout in New York's Polo grounds.

Youths Caught In Wild Chase

FORT WORTH, April 12 (AP) — Twenty-six police officers in 13 cars took part in a high speed chase which ended early today with the arrest of two teen-age suspects. One shot was fired.

The youths fled toward Fort Worth on the Dallas-Fort Worth highway when officers E. R. Horne and C. Breckenridge tried to question them at Grand Prairie.

Crashed Into Car

The fugitives outdistanced the Grand Prairie officers and an Arlington police car took up the chase. Eleven Fort Worth cars later got into the race.

In Fort Worth, the fleeing car crashed into an automobile in the center of a street. One of the youths started to run, but stopped when a shot was fired. Both were arrested.

The car they were driving was stolen. The two said they were on their way to Houston.

Atlantic Pact

structure of peace soundly and solidly."

The treaty was signed here by 12 nations on Monday of last week.

It pledges them to aid each other in event that one of them is attacked by an aggressor.

To become binding on the United States, the treaty must receive the Senate's ratification. That means approval by a two-thirds vote.

Long Debate Expected

Administration leaders are confident that the Senate will eventually ratify it, but a long debate is expected once the treaty reaches the Senate floor.

The first step at the capital will be for the Senate foreign relations committee to hold hearings. The hearings will give opportunity for the backers and critics of the treaty—outside of Congress—to express their views

Throughout Mr. Truman's appeal for Senate approval of the pact ran the theme that neither the United States nor any other nation can "achieve peace independently."

To Do All Possible

Mr. Truman said that this nation has determined to do everything possible to insure that peace is maintained in the knowledge that "we can not escape the great responsibility that goes with our great stature in the world."

It was for this reason, he continued, that the American people accepted the United Nations charter in 1945 and have sought since to make it "a more effective instrument."

He cited, too, the European recovery program as a move "important to the prosperity and peace of our country and the world."

His message went on:

"The North Atlantic treaty is further evidence of our determination to work for a peaceful world.

"It is in accord with the action of the Senate last June when it signified its approval of our country's association itself in peacetime with countries outside the western hemisphere in collective arrangements, within the framework of the United Nations charter, designed to safeguard peace and security."

Refers To Resolution

This reference was to the so-called Vandenberg resolution in which the Senate went on record as favoring a regional security arrangement along the lines of the Atlantic treaty.

That resolution was introduced by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich).

Without referring directly to the Soviet union, the President said the people of the "North Atlantic community" have seen "solemn agreements" broken, the rights of small nations destroyed and the people of small nations "deprived of freedom by terror and oppression."

"They are resolved," Mr. Truman said, "that their nations shall not, one by one, suffer the same fate."

At another point, the President said "the 12 nations which have signed this treaty, undertake to exercise their rights of collective or individual self-defense against armed attack, in accordance with article 51 of the United Nations charter, and subject to such measures as the security council may take to maintain and restore international peace and security.

Will Do Utmost

"The treaty makes clear the determination of the people of the United States and of our neighbors in the North Atlantic community to do their utmost to maintain peace with justice and to take such action as they may deem necessary if the peace is broken."

Less than an hour after his message officially reaches Capitol Hill, Mr. Truman was scheduled to arrive there for a buffet luncheon to which all of the Senate and House leaders of both parties have been invited.

Information Is Asked

While the occasion was a social one—observing the fourth anniversary of Mr. Truman's move into the White House—some senators hoped to get the President's ear on legislative matters.

For one, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, said he wants to tell Mr. Truman that he won't be saving any time if he asks the Senate to act on the treaty without having full information on what military supplies will be needed by American Allies in the venture.

"The administration had just as well make up its mind to lay all the parts of the program down at once," Wherry said. "They are not going to gain any time by debating the treaty alone."

OIL DIVIDENDS DECLARED

NEW YORK, April 12 (AP) — The stock market closed today with a thorough mixture of gains and losses, most of them fractional.

Buying expanded about half way through the session following news that Standard Oil (NJ) directors had voted an increased dividend but the demand lacked punch.

Prior to the dividend news, the general tendency of the market had been downward with losses running to top of around a point. Many of the morning declines were either trimmed or changed into gains.

With a few exceptions trading was slow. Turnover was at the rate of around 800,000 shares for the full season.

Standard of Jersey lost a minor fraction before the dividend announcement but almost immediately advanced more than a point. The size of the dividend was apparently a disappointment.

Higher prices were paid late in the day for U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Glenn Martin, Kennecott Copper, General Electric, Allied Chemical, American Woolen, Southern Pacific, and Loew's.

Holding back were Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, International Telephone, Radio Corp., American Tobacco, Santa Fe, and Union Pacific.

WHAT THE AIRSTREAM DOES TO PILOT'S FACE—Navy tests of human endurance produced this sequence of pictures showing the effect of air blasts up to 325 miles per hour on a man's face. The subject, his eyes protected by a mask, sat in a wind tunnel as an airstream of gradually increasing velocity moved at him, simulating conditions a pilot bailing out of a plane moving at high speed would encounter. He was given no warning when the blast was coming. Sequence, left to right top and bottom, shows the skin of his cheeks and neck affected first with his mouth distorted gradually as the air speed moved up to 325 miles per hour. These pictures were made in June, 1948, during tests at the Navy Air Materiel Center in Philadelphia and were just released by the Navy. (AP Wirephoto from Navy.)

The Air Force now has two groups of B-36 bombers, a third in formation and a fourth planned. Each group will have 30 planes when it receives its full complement.

50 Students Gassed, Ancient Bus Blamed

GRAYMONT, Ga., April 12. (U.P.)—School officials today absolved a bus driver of all blame in the carbon monoxide poisoning of some 50 seudents during their ride to classes in a crowded school bus Monday.

The fumes left two children, aged 12 and 7, unconscious, a doctor said. Four others were "seriously affected," and all the children showed some ill effects from the gas, he said.

They were given first aid and all recovered.

M. E. Nichols, school principal, blamed the "obsolete, run-down bus" for the incident and said driver Dent Roundtree was "not to be blamed."

"It was a case of our not having the money to keep the bus in better condition," Nichols said.

ing regular swims in the White House pool in an effort to reduce his waistline.

Mr. Truman is celebrating his fourth anniversary as President by lunching with old colleagues on Capitol Hill at 1 p m EST.

During those four years, Mr. Truman has travelled over 124,433 miles, more than 65,000 of them by air.

He did his greatest traveling last year—45,826 miles, 32,574 by railroad. This included his 31,500 miles of campaign travel.

It was four years ago today that he sat in the office of his old friend, Speaker Sam Rayburn, on a leisurely, story-telling afternoon.

He got a call from Stephen Early, a Roosevelt secretary, (named a few days ago by Mr. Truman as undersecretary of defense)—to hurry up to the White House.

Asked For Prayers

Upon his arrival there, he was informed of Mr. Roosevelt's death in Georgia. That evening he was sworn in as President

Almost everyone he saw he asked to "pray for me," and he told reporters that the great assignment was like having "the moon and all the stars" fall on him

The President Truman of today is a far different man in some respects. He has more confidence and greater ease in the nation's biggest job. He is more familiar with the routine and has been able to work out a system for the handling of the flood of executive papers which he must handle daily.

Guatemala placed high import duties on Swedish matches to protect the hard-pressed domestic match industry.

Kidnaping

incident runs like this:

Man Phoned Home

On Sunday night, a man phoned the Goodman home and said:

"This is the Page Military academy. We will be unable to pick up Joey in the station wagon but someone will be over there in a car. Have him ready at 8:15 a. m. (Monday)."

The parents sent the boy out in the morning, when the car appeared and honked. At 11 a. m., the phone rang again and the man said:

Then, to answer Mrs. Goodman's doubts, the boy was put on the phone to talk. The man followed:

Would Cut Throat

"We don't want you to cry out or tell anybody, or we'll take a knife and cut his throat. Meet us in two hours at the subway terminal building. We will know you."

Mrs. Goodman went to the bank, got $33,000 and went to the terminal. There she said a dark, curly-haired man approached her, took the money and told her to wait in a telephone booth for word of the child.

Five minutes later, a man phoned and said:

"Come to the back of the Ambassador hotel and get your boy." She said she did and found the boy there.

Joey said:

"They were real nice to me. They gave me a yo yo and milk."

Politics

they have the political needle out for the Democrats.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) has proposed a civil rights amendment to the administration's housing bill. He would ban segregation in housing built with federal aid.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader dubbed this a move to kill the housing bill and called his party colleagues into conference to find out whether Southern members would filibuster.

But Senator Maybank (D-SC) was reported to have told a closed meeting that he isn't worried about the southerner's having to talk.

Passage Threatened

Maybank noted that Senator Douglas (D-Ill), a strong civil rights advocate, had opposed Bricker's amendment in committee because he said it threatened passage of the housing bill

Maybank thought a Senate speech by Douglas against the Bricker proposal would ease the minds of Dixie lawmakers who usually start talking when any civil rights question is brought up jammed against her chest.

Dr. Hanson said the jack-knifed position in the 14-inch casing prevented her from breathing except with great difficulty. A preliminary autopsy report blamed suffocation for her death.

Dr. Hanson and Dr. Robert J. McCullock said the child probably died painlessly and likely within an hour and a half after she fell 90 feet into the abandoned well at 4:30 Friday afternoon. They said said she was conscious when a rope was dropped to her but she couldn't hold onto it and somehow fell another four feet. Dr. Hanson said he believed it was at that time that that her legs became wedged against her chest.

He said the rope was entwined around her body and both legs as she had been instructed to do by shouting from above. But her wedged position prevented her from being lifted.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Fiscus, said in a statement that thousands of messages of condolences have been received. The parents urged friends who planned to send flowers to Kathy's funeral tomorrow to send the equivalent amount of money to the children's hospital in Los Angeles.

Through such contributions, they explained, "we feel that our little Kathy's untimely death might be the cause of saving some child for a useful life."

Student Strike

tors—including five women—were taken into custody, but only 18 of them were formely arrested. Most were charged with disorderly conduct.

Thousands of students cut classes as the strike started under auspices of the student council after referendums were held.

But the demonstration failed to force the hand of the C. C. N. Y. president, Dr. Harry N. Wright.

Saying he "despises" discrimination "on the basis of race, religion or country of origin," Dr. Wright declared in a statement, however:

"Prof. Knickerbocker and Mr. Lewis have been exposed through processes of investigation, and action was taken where justified.

"Accordingly, to respond to pressure from any direction which would violate the civil and tenure rights of these men is unconscionable. It is equivalent to lynch justice."

The student strike committee claimed more than 75 per cent of the 7,230 day students joined the walkout yesterday, but a college spokesman said a check at noon showed 45 per cent were in class.

to leave the bill in a friendly subcommittee of the House committee on revenue and taxation. The committee sent it there last night.

Benefits Said Narrow

The House yesterday sent the bill back to committee by a vote of 69 to 68. If backers of the bill had succeeded in their effort to pump new life into the measure today, it would have been restored to the calendar for possible action next Monday.

Proponents of the bill urged the House to take back what it did yesterday on grounds that floor amendments would remove most of the major objections to it.

Opponents argued again that the bill needs reworking, that benefits from it are too narrowly restricted and would not help solve the legislature's spending problem.

Floor action was concentrated in the House this morning. In the Senate, there was an apparent effort to delay debate on a proposed constitutional amendment that would permit women to serve on juries in Texas.

Farm Dispute

are lifted to the surface.

Hugh Clearman, Deaf Smith county agricultural agent, had said when he testified Monday afternoon that such clods break the wind current and cause eddying.

Other witnesses at the morning session of court were Jim Prince, formerly a tenant on land farmed by Horton and now a tenant on Hoover's farm; and Herbert Hoover, a son of the plaintiff.

Branded Act Of God

The defense, through cross-examination of G. H. Nelson, of the firm of Nelson and McCleskey, contends sand from Horton's land—if that was the sand that sifted onto Hoover's farm—was placed there by winds that were an act of God; that all farms of that affected area gave up sand when the wind blew; that no witness could say for certain that the sand complained of came from Horton's land, but only from that direction. It took the inferential position that the plaintiff should not be allowed to dictate the farming practice of another person.

The plaintiff, chiefly through examination of witnesses by George W. Dupree, of the law firm of Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam, sought to prove that Horton's manner of farming contributed, at least, to damage created by sand blown into the Hoover field by the wind.

There was no indication of the sides as to when testimony will be completed The case was commenced Monday with the selection of a jury.

Judge G. V. Prdue is presiding.

ago," but he said his daughter refused to talk about it and never told him who gave it to her or whether it came in the mail.

Carol was questioned extensively by police after Patricia's body, weighed down by a concrete building block, was holsted from the river. A note she had written Patricia was found in the dead girl's clothing, but detectives finally dismissed it as schoolgirl correspondence.

Carol was reported missing yesterday under circumstances strangely similar to her slain friend's disappearance. Both last were seen leaving the high school they attended together.

Failed To Meet Them

Carol's father said he and his wife regularly picked their daughter up in the family car and drove her home from school, but yesterday she failed to meet them at the appointed place.

When picked up in Kenosha, she could not explain how she got there and until her father arrived she refused to talk. She had $3 in her purse and was dressed in a yollow jacket, gray skirt, bobby socks and flat heeled shoes.

She gave no reason for running away.

Tech Directors Accept Pantex Site; Building Plans Deferred

AUSTIN, April 12 (Special)—Texas Tech's board of directors voted here Monday to accept the sprawling 16,093-acre Pantex ordnance plant near Amarillo from the War Assets administration and discussed at length a proposed building program under provisions of the college building amendment.

But the question of who will replace the three "lame duck" members on the board kept bobbing up throughout the day's meeting. Three members of the board, Kyle Spiller, Jacksboro; O. B. Ratliff, Lubbock; and Robt. Price, El Paso, attended Monday's meeting only on the insistence of Chairman Chas. C. Thompson after three other members had reported they would be unable to attend. The trio's terms expired on Feb. 19 and Gov. Beauford Jester has failed to submit nominations to the Senate as replacements.

Appointments Delayed

Again Monday, Jester said he had not made up his mind on the appointments, so Chairman Thompson appointed Ratliff to serve with Chanslor Weymouth, Amarillo, and himself on the Pantex committee.

Acceptance of the Pantex plant contract, carrying 21 WAA stipulations, which if adhered to strictly might be an expensive operation, came from board members after it was explained that several of the stipulations would not have to be carried out to the very letter of their terms.

Tech's President D. M. Wiggins revealed that the Pantex gift was the largest to be made by WAA to an educational institution in the nation and declared that there was a clear understanding between Tech officials and the WAA that the vast plant would be used for agricultural research work only and not operated as a branch of the college.

Buildings Demanded

Weymouth, Thompson and Ratliff will work with Dr. Wiggins in a survey of the vast plant and suggestions on disposal of leases on certain buildings, equipment, etc.

Immediate demands for buildings costing $3,750,000 which would include addition of two wings to the Administration building, a music hall, science building and engineering wing were discussed at length by the board in Monday afternoon's session, but final action was deferred until a May 9 meeting in Lubbock.

The May 9 meeting will be held prior to the inauguration of Dr. D. M. Wiggins at Tech's president on May 10.

The administration wing additions would cost an estimated $345,000 per wing and besides additional offices for administration would provide approximately 40 more classrooms with a capacity of 50 students each.

Repairs Okayed

Acceptance of Pantex and the building plans discussion highlighted Monday meeting in the Stephen F. Austin hotel.

Other matters acted on included:

Approval of an additional $5,000 for maintenance of buildings;

Approval of a pay schedule of $1,000 each for 29 graduate assistants in lieu of part-time instructors and laboratory assistants;

Authorization of removal of the old book store building just to the left of the Broadway entrance to the campus;

Changing of the name of the graduate committee of work to the graduate council;

Leaves Are Granted

Granting of leaves of absence for the 1949-50 session to John E. Harding, assistant professor of economics and management, to work on his Ph. D degree at the University of Colorado; and to Ivan Little, assistant professor of philosophy, to work toward his doctorate;

Approval of a summer geology field trip at Las Vegas, N. M.;

Acceptance of a scholarship of $50 per semester from Mr. and Mrs. W. D. T. Storey of Littlefield in memory of their son, David Storey, killed during the war;

Senators Kilmer Corbin of Lamesa and Pat Bullock of Colorado City were guests of the board at a luncheon at noon. In the afternoon, following adjournment, board members greeted members of the state teachers college board, who met here today also.

More Nationalization Is Planned In Britain

LONDON, April 12 (AP) — Britain's ruling Labor party disclosed today a 1950 election platform calling for public ownership of five more major industries.

Earmarked for nationalization were cement, insurance, sugar, water supply and "all suitable minerals."

Two other major industries—shipbuilding and chemicals — were warned to get in step or face government control or ownership.

The party also promised more benefits for the people — more houses, speedier rebuilding of blitzed areas, and a better chance for old folks to keep working. It said socialized medicine will get "steady development."

More and better vacations were promised for working families through cheap travel and improved accommodations, including space in publicly-owned old mansions. More and higher education was pledged. Rent control will stay.

The party, however, did not promise to end rationing or cut taxes — two of the heaviest burdens on the British people.

Fort Worth Officer Is Claimed By Death

FORT WORTH, April 12 (U.P.)—City Detective Inspector H. E. (Ed) Chapple, 63 died early today in a Fort Worth hospital, where he had been a patient since March 22 after a heart attack at his home.

Ironically, death came as he looked forward to returning home. His doctor had told him yesterday that he might permit him to be moved home today.

Chapple, a dimunitive officer standing five feet eight inches and weighing around 132 pounds, had been detective inspector since the fall of 1945, but had been with the police department since 1921 when he joined as a uniformed officer. His younger days were spent as a cowboy on ranches around San Angelo.

Horseplay 'Necessary,' But It Costs

Ways Of Texas' Legislature Strange To Visiting Writer

By C. W RATLIFF
Journal Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 12—It's a good thing the people of Texas don't make a practice of coming to Austin very often to see the Texas Legislature "at work."

It's quite possible that some of the boys might not be re-elected every two or four years as is the present custom

They tell me that all the horseplay is necessary but to a layman who visits the capital city only at infrequent intervals, there seems to be a lot of time wasted. And that time is costing somebody some money.

Show Staged

For instance, Monday afternoon the House spent most of the time arguing over "gas" bills and putting on a show for approximately 600 Farm Bureau, Grange and other rural visitors.

And over in the Senate, a similar scene was being enacted, only there weren't so many of the boys on the floor heckling the man who was trying to speak.

As Dave Cheavens, manager of the Austin bureau of the Associated Press, summed it up: "Monday was send-it-back day" for both houses and there was no worthwhile action by either group.

So many forces are at work here that it's amazing any laws of any benefit to the people of Texas are ever passed.

The "natural resources" boys have the situation under better control this session than in many years past. They've got everybody all upset over the Gilmer-Aiken school bill, the basic science law and a lot of other legislation which doesn't affect taxation of oil or natural gas.

The grapevine has it that the G-A bill will be approved because that's what the "big boys" want It brings about more centralization of school matters in Texas and places them under a little bureaucracy here at Austin

The same thing goes for the basic science bill.

Students Jam Talk

So it makes one wonder what it's all about as you sit here at the press table in the House of Representatives and see a line of university law students yelling through a mike on the floor at a man who is trying to get across some point in support of or in opposition to a proposed measure.

Just as a tip, watch for the veteran's bonus measure to be brought out in the House again Wednesday. It will probably have a horse-racing rider or some other highly controversial matter tied to it in order to provoke long debate and forestall consideration of more important legislation like the money bills.

Presbyterian Men's Fellowship Meets

Young people of the present wish to know more about the Bible and must be given the answers in Sabbath School. Dr. J. C. Cross, head of the Texas Tech biology department, told the Westminster Presbyterian Men's Fellowship last night.

Dr. Cross said churches are failing if they do not meet this responsibility in providing interesting and instructive classes to people of all ages.

J. Winstead Laymance, Tech junior journalism student, sang two selections, accompanied by Miss Vicki Martin at the piano.

Plans for beautification of the grounds at the new Westminster church, Thirty-third and Tyler avenue, were discussed. Jake Maisen was named to head a committee next month will make recommendations on the project.

The meeting, held in Mackenzie park party house, was attended by 48 members and guests. Vern Waldron, Fellowship president, presided.

Wichita Falls Has Second Polio Case

WICHITA FALLS, April 12 (U.P.)—Health authorities and service clubs laid plans today to spray the entire city as a polio preventive measure.

The second polio case in three days was reported yesterday. The first case was reported last Saturday when the illness of Linda Sharon Cearley, 5, was diagnosed as infantile paralysis.

A similar diagnosis was made yesterday in the illness of Beverly Cooper, two-year-old daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Virgil Cooper. She had been under observation at the Sheppard Air Force base hospital three weeks.

If you have this Borderline Anemia, you need Ironized Yeast Tablets! They are specially formulated to help build up faded, puny red blood cells to healthy redness and size, and thus permit your color and energy to come surging back. Take them to reclaim your vitality, your healthy color, your enjoyment of life!

Some Of Yesterday's Stars Try Comeback

Remember Pola Negri, Clara Bow? They're Still Around

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 12. (AP)—Where are they now?

What has happened to the Glenn Fords and the Ava Gardners of yesteryear, the men and women whom fame has touched and then has left behind?

Recently AP foreign affairs analyst Dewitt McKenzie presented me with a list of his oldtime movie favorites and asked what has happened to them. Herewith are my findings about them, as well as some others who slipped from stardom:

Von Stroheim Back

Gloria Swanson and Eric Von Stroheim, once great feuders, are back in Hollywood to do a picture together. She has been dabbling in television and he has acted in France. Sessue Hayakawa, another recent resident of France, and Ramon Navarro, lately a real estate man, have also made recent film comebacks.

Pola Negri and Mae Murray were recently in town, trying to peddle their memoirs to the studios. Beverly Bayne has been doing parts on the New York stage. Her former husband and co-star, Francis X. Bushman, acts in radio soap operas in Hollywood.

Billie Dove is married to socialite Robert Kenaston. She lives here, and friends say she is as beautiful as ever. After a session as a producer here, Bebe Daniels has returned to England, where husband Ben Lyon is an executive for 20th-Fox.

Charles Farrell operates the Palm Springs Racquet club, favorite resort for the movie crowd. His former co-star, Janet Gaynor, is retired and married to designer Gilbert Adrian.

William Haines, Mary Miles Minter, Jetta Goudal and Gloria have all gone in for interior decorating businesses in this area. Reginald Denny has made his hobby pay off. . . he runs a model airplane business.

Clara Kimball Young is retired and lives alone in a Hollywood bungalow. Maurice Costello and his daughter Helene live at the Motion Picture Country Home and he does occasional bit roles. Dolores Costello, once wed to John Barrymore, is now married to a Los Angeles doctor.

Chester Conklin, Mae Marsh, Matt and Tom Moore, Anna Q. Nilsson, Jack Mulhall, William Farnum, Alice White and Gertrude Michael do bit parts in pictures.

Among the former film queens who have married and retired are: Theda Bara to Director Charles Brabin; Corinne Griffith to the Washington Redskins' owner, George Marshall; Marian Nixon to Director Bill Seiter; Laura LaPlante to Irving Asher, MGM official in London; Ann Harding to Conductor Werner Janssen; Louise Fazenda to producer Hal Wallis.

Clara Bow and Rex Bell live on a Nevada ranch. Colleen Moore is wealthy and retired in Chicago. Rod Laroque is a real estate man here and Vilma Banky keeps house for him. Nils Asther is a civil service delivery clerk, earning $1 an hour.

Tim McCoy is making westerns for television. Buster Keaton is a gag man and actor at MGM; Monte Blue does character parts at Warners. Ralph Graves and Sally Eilers were recently making acting comebacks.

TEACHER OF YEAR—Phyllis Haag, 38, who teaches English in Washington's Burdick Vocational High School, was picked as the nation's best teacher of 1949. She receives a $2500 cash award. The winning letter nominating Miss Haag was submitted by a 16-year-old student who was ready to quit school three years ago until the teacher instilled in her the desire for learning.

Magnolia's Drill Test Boosts Oil Hopes In Andrews County

Recovery of a large amount of free oil on the third Devonian drillstem test by Magnolia Petroleum company No. 18-B Cowden strengthened the probability of a discovery from that horizon in southwest Andrews county, two miles east of the Dollarhide field.

The examination was for four and one-half hours at 10,088-120 feet, using a 1,440-foot water water blanket. Gas showed at the top in one hour and 25 minutes. Recovery was the water blanket, cut with gas, followed by 370 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud plus 3,600 feet of 39.1-gravity oil. There was no formation water reported.

1,200 Pound Pressure

Flowing bottom hole pressure was 1,200 pounds and 15-minute shutin bottom hole pressure, 3,525 pounds.

The venture was last reported taking a drillstem test at 10,118-145 feet in the Devonian.

The current formation has yielded 450 feet of clean oil on a test of 10,035-060 feet and 180 feet of clean oil at 10,068-90 feet.

Originally, the development was scheduled to drill ahead to the Ellenburger. Whether that procedure will be carried out or whether the project will complete in the Devonian has not been revealed.

Two weeks of colorful campaigning saw posters cover the campus and all the other familiar political tactics came to a close last night at the college with a big pre-election rally. Reese Heading Teacher Unit

A B. Reese, distributive education teacher in Lubbock Senior High school, last night was re-elected to serve his third term as president of the Lubbock Classroom Teachers association, when members of that organization met at O. L. Slaton Junior High school for a business meeting and election of officers.

Other officers named for next year include J. Herbert Priddy, teacher in Central Junior High school, vice president; Miss Ouida Buzbee, teacher in K. Carter school, secretary; and Miss Bessie Bullock, commercial teacher in Senior High school, treasurer.

Committee Reports Made

Reports of all committees were heard, including the welfare committee, headed by N. J. Robnett; and the legislative committee, whose chairman is W. C. Watts. A treasurer's report also was given.

The group voted to put out four association bulletins next year.

Members were remined of the association banquet, which is to be held in Hilton hotel the evening of April 25, at which Frank Potter, of Houston, executive secretary-treasurer of the Texas Classroom Teachers association, will speak.

Outgoing officers include Norman Heath, teacher in O L. Slaton Junior High school, vice president; Mrs. Novelle Newsom, teacher in Senior High school, secretary; and Miss Martha Mathis, teacher in Central Ward school, treasurer. All had served two years.

Approximately 160 members attended.

Beer Vote In Crosby Is Set

CROSBYTON, April 12 (Special)—The Crosby County Commissioners court Monday ordered an election to be held May 7 to determine whether or not the sale of beer of not more than four per cent alcoholic content be permitted in Crosby county.

The move had long been rumored and widespread interest has been shown over the South Plains in the circulation of a petition in Crosby county calling for the election.

Ralls Editor Sponsored Move

The petition was presented to the court Monday, containing 400 signatures. Of the total, 266 names were certified. Only 200 were necessary for the court to take action calling the election.

Earnest Joiner, editor and publisher of The Ralls Banner, and an outspoken foe of what he has termed "open bootlegging" in Crosby county, sponsored the petition "in an effort to settle the issue legally," he explained some time ago when first announcing plans to circulate the petition.

Joiner also explained that there was a question in some Crosby county lawyers' minds as to whether the city of Ralls legally had even been voted dry. In 1941, a technicality involving the commission in the typing of the name of Ralls in election results certified to Austin brought about the legal question it was explained.

The Ralls newsman last night also explained that many new residents had moved to Crosby county, including more than 1,000 returning servicemen, and that the election would give them an opportunity to express themselves.

The potential vote in Crosby county is 2,003. An estimated 1,800 ballots is expected in the May 7 vote, Joiner said.

Judge Rules Woman Isn't That Pretty

TAMPA, Fla., April 12 (AP) — A plain little 42-year-old housewife admitted today she had received thousands of dollars from lonely hearts correspondents by describing herself as young and beautiful.

U. S. District Judge William J. Barker placed the woman, Mrs. Windlow Doolittle Libby, on probation for two years. He made her promise she wouldn't write to any man except her husband, whom she said she met through a lonely hearts club, during that time.

She pleaded guilty to a nine-count indictment charging use of the mails to defraud.

OPAL DIXON

THE QUESTION

What is a good gardening practice, particularly for this area?

THE ANSWERS

MRS. LORA HANKINS, 2602 Ruby: "You have to work it and have plenty of water. Keep the ground stirred. You don't want to let the ground bake. That has been my experience in gardening. If you plant too late, the hot winds come on. I think now is a good time to garden."

Mrs. C. S. TRAMEL, 3617 Overton Drive, housewife: "Plenty of water the year around. You just cannot give this country enough water. As for planting time, I just watch the weather. I always plant my peas and beans earlier than most people. If you happen to lose them by frost, you don't lose much and if you don't you have them earlier and they taste better."

Mrs. W. A. HENSON, Lubbock route 5, housewife: "It takes lots of work and water. I water once a week in the evenings. I think that is the best time of day to water a garden."

C. H. THOMAS, Shallowater, farmer: "I don't think much of a garden if it isn't an early garden or a late fall garden. As a rule, a garden burns up too bad in summer. An early onion is sweeter than a late onion. We had some onions left in the ground from last year and had some to eat the other day. They were the best I ever ate. They were volunteers, you might say, but why shouldn't you plant them earlier so they will grow earlier. I'm for early planting on lots of things. That's my own experience and what I have learned from listening to the old timers. Good Friday is the best time for planting tomatoes. The first day of May before sunrise is the best time for planting cucumbers and muskmellons. We've tested that. An old gardener told us that and we started doing it. I don't know why it is that way, but it works."

JAMES C. TEEL, Levelland, roustabout for Magnolia Petroleum Co.: "I don't know what is a good practice, but I know it's a lot of hard work. More hard work and more hard water are my ideas for good practices, I believe."

MRS. CLARA TADLOCK, 611 Ave. E, finisher at Hilton hotel laundry: "I think keeping the ground cultivated and plenty of water. Those are the maing things. I think in the afternoon is the best time to water. That gives it all night to soak in."

Lubbock Runner-Up In Sanitation Test

Lubbock won second place for sanitation at a state convention of the Association of Plumbing Contractors and APC Auxiliary, held in Fort Worth Thursday through Saturday.

At Senior High school, the program is to be presented by students from Carroll Thompson Junior High, Cottage, K. Carter, McWhorter, Central Ward, Sanders, and Guadalupe elementary schools. Royal Strip-Teaser Walks Out On Show

BALTIMORE, April 12 (AP) — Things that shouldn't happen to royalty happened to Princess Wah-Wah Taysee, 6-foot-3 featured strip-teaser at the Gayety burlesque theater, last night.

First the 150-pound dancer, billed as a member of Indian royalty, said she stormed out of the theater in a huff after the management refused to admit four of her friends free of charge.

Gayety managers would not comment on the fracas, but stated simply that the princess had been released from her scheduled week's engagement here because "she had not lived up to her contract." She did not appear in the last show.

Then later, to add insult to injury, the statuesque stripper's feathered costume accidentally caught fire from a cigarette while she was posing for newspaper photographers in her hotel room. It was quickly extinguished before the princess was burned.

Montgomery, Ward Head Faced With Top Management Crisis

BY WILLIAM FERRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, April 12 — Sewell Avery — the grey-haired, hard-driving boss of the nation's second largest retail merchandising firm —today was confronted with another blow-up in his top management group.

And this time the eruption came within two weeks of the annual Montgomery, Ward and company stockholders meeting. Avery himself is up for re-election as a director at that meeting, scheduled for April 22.

Two more vice-presidents resigned from the battle-scarred company yesterday. One hinted broadly that Avery had broken his promises to attempt to bring some stability to the dissension-torn management group.

There were rumors that at least one more vice-president would quit.

Of the top management group in control of the company a year ago only Avery and Vice-President Albert Steffey are left. Ten top men have got out. It was over Steffey that the resignation rumors were flying.

The crash of Ward's executive personnel is virtually without precedent in recent American business history, particularly for a company which is rolling along with record sales and earnings. It all revolves around the 75 year old Avery.

Charles Odorizzi, one of the vice-presidents who resigned yesterday, called attention to the fact that several vice-presidents quit last summer. Odorizzi said he stayed because he expected a "sincere effort" would be made to stabilize the management.

But, Odorizzi said, "these expectations have not been realized."

The other vice-president who resigned yesterday, Arthur Romer, recalled that he had been with the company 32 years. But, somewhat sadly, he said, "I do not intend to go through another management crisis such as the company is now experiencing."

Other vice-presidents have said the upheaval within the past year merely repeats a pattern which has occurred several times since Avery came to the company in 1931.

The dispute which has brought on the present crisis is believed in financial circles to be based on a desire of other executives to have more authority and responsibility than Avery gives them. Avery is said to want to run the company down to the smallest management detail.

Odds On Avery

Despite everything, La Salle street financial sources were betting Avery will be re-elected a director at the stockholders meeting. They pointed out no one is running against Avery, and the only proxy vote solicitation has been for Avery and three Avery picked nominees.

When Avery came to Ward's the company was running up staggering losses. Last year it reported record-breaking earnings, equal to $10.28 for each share of common stock. Much of this recovery is attributed to Avery's business ability.

Avery once said he "banana-peeled into this place," meaning he slipped in unexpectedly when he didn't want to come. Financial men doubted he'd meet the same banana-peel April 22.

Midland Bank Head Speaks At Lamesa

LAMESA, April 12 (Special)—Stressing the importance of the adoption of "protective thinking in legislative matters" on the part of United States citizens, M. C. Ulmer, president of Midland's First National bank, Monday night warned members of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce and their guests that the world of tomorrow would come only through human effort.

The occasion was a National Affairs conference held in the Mesa room of Liddel's restaurant here. The conference sponsored by the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce and by the United States Chamber of Commerce, was attended by some 150 persons.

Ulmer, the principal speaker for the gathering, urged a return to the old and basic principles of free enterprise and warned against an increase of federal controls.

Connally Baldwin, president of the Lamesa chamber, gave the official welcome and introduced guests, who attended from Seminole, Big Spring, Seagraves, Brownfield, Lubbock, Hobbs, Fort Worth, and Midland.

He introduced H. J. Dollinger, assistant manager of the Southwestern division of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who in turn presented Ulmer.

Following the principal address, Tom V. Watson a graduate of Lamesa High school and of Texas Tech college, who is national affairs advisor for the Southwestern district of the chamber of commerce, spoke on "You and the 81st Congress," in which he discussed various legislation currently before Congress. He also discussed the opinion polls which the United States chamber is taking among its members, information from which it is sending to Congressmen.

A round table discussion was conducted, with Dollinger as moderator.

Invocation for the gathering was offered by Rev. Troy Dale, assistant pastor of the Lamesa First Baptist church. The conference is one of five which are to be held in the area.

Rites For Floydada Resident Set Today

FLOYDADA, April 12 (Special) Funeral services for Mrs. Lon M. Davis, 56, long-time Floydada resident were tentatively scheduled for 1:30 p. m. today in the First Christian church.

Interment was to be in Canyon cemetery.

Mrs. Davis, born in 1892 in Wilbarger county, had resided in Floydada since 1920.

She died at 9:30 a. m. Monday.

Survivors include the husband; one son, Lon M. Davis, jr.; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bradford of Canyon; and two sisters, Mrs. W. C. Black of Canyon and Mrs. Irby Carruthers of Waco.

"What fools we are to allow traitors in our midst to plan our downfall," said C. M. Routt, head of New Zealand's Motor Unions, protesting against the government's granting of a gasoline license to the Communist Party there.

Standards At Tech Raised

In a meeting in Austin Monday the Texas Technological college board of directors took action on scholarship requirements which Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Tech, said "will bring Texas Tech's graduation and institutional requirements up to the level of the better institutions of Texas."

"The purpose of the new requirements is to reduce the tendency of some students to make of college a glorified country club and to give more diagnostic and remedial attention to those who really face serious difficulties," Dr. Jones went on to say.

Point System Revised

Under the new regulation a grade point average of 1.00 (a "C" average) will be required on all courses for which the student registers in meeting degree requirements. Thus, a second registration in a course previously failed adds another three points to the total required. In this way failures will cost in time as well as money.

The old system stated that a student had only to have the same number of grade points as he did course hours in order to graduate. Under the old regulation a student was able to fail a given course one or more times and only have three grade points added to his graduation requirement.

Another action taken by the board in revising scholarship probation will place emphasis on sustained progress toward graduation. At the present time a student may continue at Texas Tech for an indefinite period of time by managing to pass 10 hours of work during a semester.

Quality To Be Emphasized

The new requirement, which goes into effect in the fall semester of 1950, says a student who lacks 15 grade points of attaining a 1.00 grade point average shall be placed on probation. Thus a student whose record accumulates too many "D's" as well as "F's" will at all times be clearly reminded that attainment of quality must accompany accumulation of credit hours.

The same viewpoint is emphasized by the additional quality requirement on the grades which must be made to remove the student from probation. The student must make passing grades in nine hours and also accumulate a minimum of nine grade points in a given semester or a minimum of eight hours and eight grade points during summer school.

Other Standards Raised

Another new measure to emphasize quality has been placed under the heading of "Enforced Academic Withdrawal" and says a student who lacks 30 grade points of attaining a 1.00 grade point average shall be dropped from school not later than 20 days after the beginning of the term in which the deficiency develops.

This is being compensated somewhat by the fact that heretofore a student could not apply for readmission to the college if he had been dropped from the rolls more than three times. Now he is allowed to enroll after the third time if he cooperates fully in all studies of his individual situation including his choice of curriculum according to vocational aptitude and interests as revealed by aptitude and achievement tests.

None of the above requirements will go into effect before the fall semester of 1950 as one year notice is required before taking such measures. All entering students, both freshman and transfer, will be subject to the new ruling at that time.

Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show Moves Into Guernsey Judging

BY EDWARD WELCH
Journal Staff Writer

PLAINVIEW, April 12 — The second day of the greatest dairy show in the Southwest, the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show got underway here this morning at 8 o'clock when the Guernseys of the senior division were led into the judging arena. The entire day will be devoted to this breed.

Immediately following the completion of the judging, sometime late this afternoon, there will be a Guernsey sale. This evening at

WEEK'S EVENTS AT SHOW
Tuesday — Senior Guernsey Class, Guernsey Sale, Breeders Banquet.
Wednesday—Past Presidents' Breakfast, Senior Jersey Class, A&M Round-Up, Jersey Breeders Banquet.
Thursday—Judging Milking Shorthorns, Breeders Annual Banquet.
Friday—Judging Holstein Class, Shorthorn and Holstein Sale, Holstein Breeders Banquet.

7:15 the Guernsey Breeders will hold their annual banquet at the Blasingame restaurant.

Record Number Entries

The 22nd annual show opened yesterday morning with 502 entries, the largest number ever to be listed for the week long event. This exceeds by 67 the previous record set in 1946. All entrants are registered stock.

There were 190 Jerseys, 175 Milking Shorthorns, 85 Holsteins and 53 Guernseys in the record total.

Both Manuel W. Ayers, general superintendent and Raymond Lee Johns, manager of the show, said that the size of this year's entry list had surpassed their most optimistic expectations. Not only was there a larger number of heifers and bulls entered in the show but the quality was generally above that of previous years. Entrants also came a greater distance this year. The show continues through Friday.

Plainview Team Wins

The first day's events devoted to club boys started off with contests in dairy cattle and dairy products judging. Awards were given to school teams all FFA members and to individuals. In cattle judging the Plainview team walked off with the top honors. Other schools in the order of rank were: Tulia, Plains, Dimmitt, Canyon, Hedley, Claude, Muleshoe, Tahoka and Sudan.

The individual honors went to R. Shaw, Sudan, who was also a member of his school's team. A. Orr, Brownfield; V. Thomas, Plainview; L. Moore Plains; E. House, Tulia; M. Jones, Farwell and B. Harris, Hedley, placed in that order.

The dairy products judging first place went to the Clarendon school FFA team and the individual high scorer was Gene White, Plainview, milk division and Stanley Bailey, Hedley, cream.

Other teams and individuals placing in second and third positions were: Hedley and Olton schools; Earl Powell, Olton and Bobby Whitaker, Clarendon, milk; Doyle Littlefield, Clarendon, and Clifford Carlisle, Olton, cream.

Champions in the four breeds shown were; Jersey, Aldan's Masterman Hazel, owned by Earl Edwards, Floydada; Holstein Hales Inka Lulu Lee, owner Ruby Lee Hales, Amarillo; Guernsey, Napoleons Skinnys Dianna, owned by Dan Throckmorton, Levelland; Milking Shorthorn, Circle V 2nd. owned by Max Vaughn, Olton.

E. R. (Hico) Eudaly, judge of the calf club entrants who has been attending the Panhandle-Plains show since it first started, said that there could be no doubt of this year's show being the best yet. Eudaly, a livestock expert with Universal Mills, Ft. Worth, said that everyone of the 69 dairy cows on exhibition the first day were highest quality.

Interest Multiplied

"They not only look good," Eudaly said, "but they show better than in most of the past years. This indicates a lot of work is being done by the boys, their FFA vocational agriculture teachers and the county agents."

A. M. Meekma, assistant dairy husbandryman at Texas A. & M., aided Eudaly in the calf club judging.

Ollie F. Liner, Parmer county agent, was superintendent of the first day's show and R. H. Gibson, new Floyd county agent, was his assistant. To help the show move along R. N. McClain, Brownfield, and W. R. Kimbrough, Crosby county agent, assisted the superintendents.

Liner was another official who was more than well pleased with the response to this year's exhibitions and sales.

"We have known that interest in dairying has multiplied since the end of the war but we are still surprised at the large numbers of entries and the fact that we have drawn visitors and contestants from such distant towns and counties" Liner added.

In the judging contests the officials were Dr. J. J. Willingham and L. M. Hargrave, both of Texas Tech. Each of these two officials voiced opinions similar to those above. They indicated that efforts of the college and the extension service of A&M were paying off in increased interest in dairying. Both agreed that the Panhandle-Plains area was well suited to high grade dairy cattle and that the near future would see a considerable increase in the number of herds as well as a big improvement in the quality of the herds.

According to show manager Johns, the naming of a queen for the show was dispensed with this year. Activity was geared to those things in which the most persons were interested, he said. A picnic luncheon was served to all the club boys at the city shelter house at noon and a big combination circus and vaudeville show was held in the city auditorium Monday evening.

The show included a variety of acts such as, band numbers, a trained dog act, a magician, hillbilly tunes, jugglers, comedians and dance numbers. The show was produced by Limie Stilwell, Ft. Worth.

The dairy calf and heifer winners in the various classes together with the registered name of their entrant is as follows:

Stay-Active Approach To Old Age American Way, But Rocking Chair Group Is Largest

ST. LOUIS, April 12 (INS) — An official of the committee on human relations warned today that every individual must someday make the decision to "stay young —or grow old gracefully."

The statement was made at the institute for aging, meeting at Washington university, St. Louis.

The spokesman for the committee, Robert J. Havighurst, secretary of the organization at the University of Chicago, offered a portfolio of statistics to support his conclusions.

Sex Is Factor

He said that "the stay-young, keep active approach" to old age is "the American way," but added:

"There is also the 'grow-old gracefully - rocking chair' approach."

Havighurst offered some other statements that may stead some of the mirth from the gag-writers' efforts for radio and stage. He said:

"Men tend to hold the stay-young theory, while women tend to glide into the rocking chair roles." He offered in explanation:

"The difference between the sexes is partly a continuation of a difference that started in childhood and continued through adulthood, the male being active and the female passive.

"This difference is heightened by the fact that women on the average live to be older, and the older one is, the more likely one is to be in the rocking chair group."

Calling old age an "American problem," Havighurst cited population statistics indicating the age group over 60 has expanded by 60 per cent during the last 40 years and will double itself in the next 40 years. He added:

"Characteristically, the upper-middle class business or professional is awakward at growing old . . . He insists on playing young or denying the fact of his age even though it has become patent to everybody else."

He explained some men fight to "stay young" by saying:

"Old people are not wanted in the labor market in spite of the fact that many retired men in their sixties and seventies are still capable of doing 80 per cent as much work as they did in their prime."

The employment records disclose that "only 42 per cent of the men in this age group were employed in 1940 in camparison with 74 per cent in 1890."

Some Eire residents are trying to change its "crack-brained" saloon closing law, under which closing time in towns of 5,000 or under is 9 p.m. and in towns of over 5,000 is 10 p.m.

Secretary-General Lie Ready To Fight Back At Russian Blast Against Plan For UN Guard

retary-General Trygve Lie was reported ready today to fight back at Russia's blast against his plan for an 800-man force to guard U. N. peace missons over the world.

The heat was taken off the husky Norwegian U. N. chief temporarily, however, when the delegates of the general assembly shifted this morning from committee meetings at Lake Success to a series of plenary meetings at Flushing Meadow Park, New York.

Russia was expected to renew efforts at the meetings to bar detailed U. N. debate on the Communist prosecution of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty in Hungary and 15 Protestant clergymen in Bulgaria.

There appeared to be little chance the Russians would succeed in side-tracking this debate.

Some delegates also hoped the assembly would be able to decide whether they could vote directly on Israel's bid for U. N. membership without sending the application to a committee for more debate.

The Soviet attack on Lie's guard proposal developed yesterday in the assembly's political committee. Both Soviet Delegate Jakob A. Malik and Polish Delegate Juliusz Katzsuchy charged the Lie proposal violates the U. N. charter.

Malik went farther and described the plan as a scheme to by-pass the security council and give the United States and Britain a chance for military and political interference in the affairs of other countries.

A. H. Feller, director of the U. N. legal division, retorted in the committee that Lie had initiated the idea for the guard force "without dictation or even suggestion from any member governments or their officials."

Feller added that Lie would continue to act "in the same spirit in the future as regards this and all other matters connected with the organization."

The committee voted yesterday to set up a special body to study Lie's proposal and report back to the assembly next fall.

A U. N. spokesman recalled that this was not the first time Lie had been under fire from the big powers. He indicated Lie was not greatly concerned by criticism as long as it came fairly evenly from both the East and West.

Instances in the past when Lie came in for sharp criticism included these:

1. The Iranian case. When Lie in 1946 volunteered a legal opinion that the security council had to drop an Iranian complaint against Russia because the Iranian government withdrew the complaint. This opinion was challenged by the western powers and the council endorsed their position.

2. The Spanish case. When Lie himself proposed that the issue be placed on the 1947 agenda of the assembly. Some countries then attacked Lie but his action was not reversed.

3. The Berlin dispute, when Lie in Paris last fall joined assembly President Herbert V. Evatt of Australia in appealing for a meeting of the heads of the four big powers. Representatives of the western powers privately expressed their irritation at the move because it came in the midst of a so-called Russian "propaganda peace offensive."

While the assembly was meeting at Flushing Meadow park, activities at Lake Success were limited to the meeting of an 11-nation subcommittee which was named yesterday to screen applications from groups which claimed the right to speak for inhabitants of the pre-war Italian colonies.

The assembly's political committee will resume debate on the disposition of the former Italian colonies either Wednesday or Thursday.

"MISS AIRWAYS" — Vivian Kennedy, 21, has been chosen "Miss Airways of April" by the KLM Royal Dutch Airlines. Vivian loves to dance and ice skate, but most of all wants to marry and have a large family—at least four or five youngsters. Her intended is a six-foot New York state trooper, enough to scare off potential wolves.

Bid Date Due On Courthouse

Lubbock county commissioners court may set a date at the next regular meeting April 25 for receiving bids for construction of the new $1,250,000 six-story courthouse.

At the same time, they were assured by L. H. Kirby of Haynes and Kirby, architects who are designing and will supervise construction of the structure, that plans and specifications will be completed about May 1 for release to bidders.

Phone System Planned

Kirby and M. C. Stevens, commercial representative of Southwestern Bell Telephone company, spent a good portion of Monday afternoon with the court working out details of an automatic dial private branch exchange telephone system for the building.

The building will face Texas avenue. With overall dimensions of 178 by 96 feet, the building will be set back 63 feet from Texas avenue, leaving space for grounds and trees. The ends will be equidistant from Broadway and Main.

In other action, the commissioners adopted a resolution creating a joint city-county air-zoning board to control heights of buildings in an area within a three-mile radius from the center of Municipal airport.

Robert H. Bean and Ernest Exum were named members of the board. Previously, the city commission had passed a similar resolution and appointed Robert J. Walker and Ray F. Hinchey to the board.

Resolution Adopted

The commissioners court adopted the resolution after City Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson and the city airport director, Ed Colby, appeared to explain the purpose of the board and to point out that the Civil Aeronautics authority requires such a board to control building heights on federally-financed airports.

Colby pointed out that $6 million has already been invested in Municipal airport and that uncontrolled building near it might render runways partilly useless.

The commissioners authorized purchase of a maintainer for Commissioner Ottis Isom's precinct 3 to be paid out of road and bridge fund 5. Probable cost of the maintainer will be $12,000. It was explained that Isom's precinct has 459 miles of roads, or nearly twice the mileage of some other precincts.

Waggoner Carr, county attorney, appeared to request authority to hire an attorney to assist him during the current "emergency" clean-up of bootleggers demanded by a 99th district grand jury last week.

The court agreed to hire the attorney on a temporary basis.

Other business of the court was routine.

They accepted a contract from the Panhandle and Santa Fe railroad to permit the county to construct a road across Santa Fe property two miles northwest of Shallowater.

Another $2,000 was added to the Shallowater park fund.

Returns of the April 2 school district trustee election in rural and common school districts of the county were canvassed.

Wichita Falls Gets Change In Officials

WICHITA FALLS, April 12 (U.P.) —A new city council took office last night and immediately shook up the ranks of appointive officeholders.

The council asked for the resignation of City Manager George Fairtrace and City Attorney Kearby Peery. It also accepted the resignation of Fire Chief George O'Steen. Guy McNeely was appointed as Peery's successor. Fairtrace agreed to remain on duty until his successor is chosen.

For Better Life in Texas

Recreation and Health

The San Jacinto Monument, tallest stone memorial in the world, 570 feet, commemorates the victory of the Texans over the Mexican army near Houston April 21, 1836, the beginning of independence and better life in Texas.
Big Texas is noted for its great outdoors, but deep in the hearts of its crowded areas, Texas cities provide parks and recreational facilities for the health and happiness of our people. By the purchase of $20,862,424 of Texas State, County, and Municipal Bonds during its nearly half century of service to Texas exclusively, Southwestern Life has helped these communities to provide these facilities. Protected by Southwestern Life Insurance, Texans relax in security to enjoy better life in these Texas parks and playgrounds, planned for your recreation.

CHASE OSBORN DIES IN GEORGIA

Former Lumberjack, Governor Loses Long Race With Death

POULAN, Ga., April 12 (AP) — Chase S. Osborn, who rose from a log cabin to Michigan's executive mansion and great wealth, died Monday.

The tough, 89-year-old political reformer author and adventurer finally lost his stubborn, five-year battle for health. Death came at his picturesque Possum Poke home in Possum Lane, near Poulan, in southwest Georgia.

At his side was his bride of two days, 55-year-old Stellanova Osborn. Mrs. Osborn had been his constant companion for 23 years, first as his secretary, as his adopted daughter for 18 years, and finally as his wife. The adoption was voided shortly before their marriage Saturday.

Ill Since 1944

Death was attributed to the after-effects of pneumonia. It was the last of a series of illnesses which plagued the crusty old former governor since 1944.

He died Monday evening about two hours after taking a sudden turn for the worse and lapsing into unconsciousness. Close friends said that just before Osborn went into his final sleep, his wife kneeled by his bedside and said:

"I love you."

His last words were:

"I know that honey. I am well aware of that and you have made me immensely happy."

Near Death Sunday

His physician, J. J. Crumley said Osborn was near death Sunday, but a few hours later reported his patient had made another of his remarkab rallies. He was reported improving until his final relapse.

Osborn made two fortunes—in timber and iron ore—but in his later years he contributed most of his wealth to schools, charities and friends.

He was governor of Michigan in 1911-13. His administration emphasized reform in legislation and taxation. He authored one of the first workmen's compensation laws in the nation and pulled the state out of a deep debt.

Helped Draft "Teddy"

A staunch Republican, Osborn was a friend of nine presidents. He helped draft Theodore Roosevelt for the unsuccessful Bull Moose presidential campaign in 1912.

Born in a log cabin in Huntington county, Ind., the rugged campaigner saw service as dock worker, ore prospector, foreign correspondent, newspaper publisher and lumberjack.

Services will be at the Presbyterian church in Saulte Ste. Marie. Burial will be on Duck Island.

Unusual Show For Plains Residents Set For Tonight

Lubbock and South Plains residents will be given an unusual show tonight when the moon moves to within a mere 222,500 miles of the earth and the earth's shadow, three-quarters of a million miles long, engulfs it in a total eclipse, visible throughout North and South America.

Dr. R. S. Underwood, professor of mathematics at Texas Tech, said last night that partial eclipse begins at 7:32 p. m. Lubbock time, when the moon enters the outer fringe (or penumbra) of the earth's shadow. However, he said, the average person won't see much until 8:28 p. m., when the moon enters the direct shadow (the umbra) and, moving from west to east, will go into total eclipse from 9:28 until 10:54 p. m.

Fair Skies Forecast

However, even at mid-eclipse, the moon will remain visible, Dr. Underwood said, since the earth's atmosphere refracts, or bends, light toward the moon, causing it to give off a dull, ruddy hue.

Although the moon comes out of total eclipse by 10:54, it will be partially eclipsed until after midnight, or 12:50 a. m., to be exact.

Brightness varies considerably because of different atmospheric conditions, such as cloudiness, suspended dust, and the like. However, residents of Lubbock and vicinity stand a good chance of seeing the lunar eclipse without atmospheric handicaps. The U. S. Weather bureau station north of Lubbock said last night that the vicinity is in store for mostly fair skies today and Wednesday.

At least, the moon isn't likely to pull one of those rare disappearing acts that had astronomers pretty worried back in 1844.

To Check Calculations

A dispatch last night from International News Service quoted Robert R. Coles, associate curator of New York's Hayden planitarium, as explaining that in that year (1844) unusually heavy cloud formations kept the sun's rays away from the moon, and the moon just slipped from sight. The same thing could happen tonight, Coles said, but likely won't.

He said that conclusive proof that the earth is round wil also be visible to the naked eye if things go as expected. The proof: The curved shadow, resulting from the curvature of the earth, will cover the moon.

On a more scientific basis, Coles explained that the eclipse gives astronomers an opportunity to check their calculations of the speed and motion of the earth, sun, and moon.

They know, Coles said, that the moon travels through space at some 2,000 miles an hour; that the earth is moving at about 66,600 miles per hour, and that tonight the moon will come within 222,500 miles of the earth—the closest it ever gets, incidentally, for it's usually 250,000 miles or so away.

Dr. Underwood explained that lunar eclipses usually occur in pairs. So in case you miss tonight's show, you may catch the next, the night of October 6.

Crop Forecast Good For Year

WASHINGTON, April 12. (AP)—Farmers appear headed for a bountiful—if not a record—crop production year.

In its first general crop report of the season, the agriculture department said Monday that prospects are favorable, that spring farm work has progressed about normally, and that the second largest winter wheat crop on record is indicated.

Farmers were said to be feeding livestock heavily—a practice which soon will be reflected in larger supplies of meat, milk and poultry products.

The favorable start for the spring season is speeding up government plans for extending prewar crop controls in 1950 to prevent burdensome surpluses.

Monday's winter wheat forecast of 1,019,000,000 bushels raised the possibility of acreage allotments and marketing quotas on the 1950 wheat crop. The final decision will depend largely on acreage seeded to spring wheat and weather conditions during the growing season.

Indications that the spring wheat crop may be larger than expected were seen in the department report that many acres of winter-wheat killed by cold weather are being reseeded to spring wheat.

Officials have said that marketing quotas may be extended to cotton and corn as well as wheat in 1950. It all depends, however, on the final crops. The controls are in effect this year on major types of tobacco and peanuts.

Farm stocks of livestock feed grains were reported to be the largest on record for this season—in sharp contrast with a year ago, when supplies were very short and resulted in curtailed livestock pro-resulted in curtailed livestock pro-

NEW YORK, April 12 (AP)—Ten-months-old Robert Rubinstein played in his Brooklyn home today, unaware that he is marked for a swift and painful death.

Everyone has given him up as doomed except his mother and father. Baby Robert suffers from Tay-Sachs disease, an unusual and fatal malady.

"We are told we just must wait for him to die," said the child's father, Emil, a store clerk. "But we won't do that."

Effect Of Television On Radio Years Away, Broadcaster Says

CHICAGO, April 12. (AP)—Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, said today it may be 10 years before television's effects on radio are determined.

Miller, just re-elected to a five-year term to the $50,000 a year office as spokesman of the nation's broadcasters, said he believes the impact of television on sound radio has been over-emphasized.

He made two points clear:

1. There is no question but that television will have some effect—a considerable effect—on sound radio as we know it today.

2. It appears unlikely that television ever will completely replace sound radio, which he expects to retain a vital place in the nation's roster of mediums of public communications.

Problem Is Adjustment

"There are some forms of listening for which you can't substitute television," he said at a news conference.

Among them he listed automobile radios, portable radios at beaches, and listening while you work or read in your home.

Miller pictured the coming competition of standard radio frequency modulation radio and television not as a struggle among different industries, but as an adjustment within a single industry—the broadcasting industry.

Miller pointed out that some 75 per cent of FM stations are operated by AM (standard) broadcasters, and that better than four out of five television stations are operated by AM broadcasters.

"And so long as AM broadcasting has to foot the bill for television, I don't think there's any question supplanting AM radio," Miller observed.

Supply Important

Miller's comment followed closely a speech to the NAB convention here by Chairman Wayne Coy of the Federal Communications commission, who said he felt there was no question but that television would become the dominant broadcasting medium of the future.

Coy, however, did not predict any immediate changeover from sound radio to television. He said he did not feel it would be an overnight proposition—that a great deal depended on the ability of radio set manufacturers to turn out enough television sets to give the new medium real nationwide coverage.

At the same time, Coy sautioned that the opening of a new sound radio station at the present time was a serious financial gamble.

He emphasized not only the coming competition of television, but also the great increase in the number of radio stations since the war. The number has increased from less than 1,000 to some 2,700.

The theme of the convention, which runs through Wednesday, is the return of keen competition for the advertising dollar and the need for broadcasters to do an intensive selling job if they intend to survive.

Mrs. Berndtsen, 72, of Copenhagen, Denmark, recently cycled 12½ in 57 minutes, ran 220 yards in 43 seconds and walked five miles in 74 minutes.

Colorful Neckties, Perambulators Mark Arrival Of Spring

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK — Ya-a-a-wwww-www-n-nnnn!

Guess spring is really here. Spring fever is anyway. And the season of gentle melancholy and pleasant foolishness is upon us.

It is a time of dreamy peace for the common man, as his mind and body prepare for the chemistry of summer. But it is also a time of great wars. Ambitious leaders through all history have picked this season to unleash the armies they have built up through the winter. The ground has firmed for the martial foot.

But this year looks like another of the years the world treasures—a year of peace. The bugle hangs on the wall, brightly polished but unblown. No mighty armies are massed for attack . . . that we know of.

Spring comes to the city in small surprises. Down where I live you can tell it best by the sudden increase of peramulators. The poor man on the lower East Side may never hope to own a motor car. But he will go without a suit to see that his new baby rides in the finest buggy in the neighborhood.

Brighter Neckties Seen

Across the East river a few buds burst open on the tree that grows in Brooklyn. And here in Manhattan you'd thing the cold skyscrapers themselves would erupt in greenery — thrust out limbs and leaves to catch the warmth. And perhaps some day they will, and turn this stony wilderness into a green garden of the spirit.

There isn't much the average man does here to show how spring affects him. He dares a brighter necktie. He dawdles and day dreams more. And I think the doodling on his desk pad changes in a subtle way. But that would take a cryptographic Dr. Kinsey to interpret.

The girls, as always, are more demonstrative. Oh, the girls, the beautiful girls of New York. They break out in more colorful dresses. They plump in unexpected places. And is it only imagination that there is more of a waggle in their walk?

By these signs you know it. Spring is here—the best show in town.

Woman, 64, Confesses Choking Boy To Satisfy "Urge To Kill"

CLEVELAND, April 12 (AP)—An elderly neighbor woman four-year-old Bobby Shaw befriended has admitted she choked the child to death in her home to satisfy "an urge to kill."

Mrs. Tillie Maschmeier, 64, a slight, gray-haired housewife who has a baby grandson of her own, signed a two-page statemen last night admitting the killing, Detective Lieutenant David E. Kerr said.

The blue-eyed, brown-haired Bobby, who lived in an apartment immediately behind the Maschmeier's home, came to se Mrs. Maschmier yesterday afternoon, she said in the statement.

No Charge Filed

When the woman's husband, Henry F. Maschmeier, a plumber, came home from work about 6 p. m., he found Bobby lying on the living room floor.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber ruled death was caused by strangulation. He added that the crime appeared to be the act of a deranged person.

No charge was filed against Mrs. Maschmeier last night, and police continued questioning her today.

The victim's mother is a department store employe here, and his father, Clement D. Shaw, is a mechanical engineer in Florida.

Nazi Officials Are Convicted

NUERNBERG, Germany, April 12 (AP)—A U. S. war crimes court today convicted a German diplomat and a former SS (elite guard) general of helping the Nazis to exterminate 6,000,000 Jews.

The convicted diplomat is Gustav Steengracht Von Moyland, 46, bright young man of Hitler's foreign office. The general is Gottlob Berger, 52, who headed the main office of Hitler's notorious SS forces.

Both also had been convicted yesterday of atrocities against allied prisoners of war. Moyland is a typhoid fever patient in a hospital.

Sentences Due

The reading of the court's 833-page verdict against 21 high officials and diplomats of the wartime German government brings three years of American war crimes trials to their semi-final stage.

The pronouncement of sentences, which may range up to the death penalty, is scheduled for Thursday—the final step in the last of the trials.

Eight convictions have been announced by the tribunal since it started reading its judgment yesterday. It still is only part way through the reading of four of the seven separate counts against the 21 defendants.

Two Partially Acquitted

Moyland was acquitted today of having any part in Hitler's church persecutions. So was Baron Ernst Von Weizcaecker, the late Joachim Von Ribbentrop's No. 2 man in the foreign office.

Ernst Woermann, chief of the foreign office political division, also was acquitted of church persecution today. He had been convicted yesterday of plotting for war and complicity in the massacre of civilian populations.

The three-judge tribunal, headed by William C. Christianson of Red Wing, Minn., devoted hundreds of pages to a grim description of horrors inflicted upon Jews by the Nazis, and of the convicted defendants' roles in those atrocities.

"Nearly 6,000,000 European Jews were thus exterminated," the court declared.

Jews Tortured

Moyland, the court ruled, "consciously participated" in that program, and organized the Nazis' "office for anti-Jewish action abroad."

He was convicted of assisting in the deportation of Hungarian Jews to German death camps, and helping to block allied efforts to rescue 5,000 Jewish children from extermination.

The court found Berger was an active participant in the "persecution, enslavement and murder of Jews."

The court said Berger created a battalion for partisan fighting which "immediately started on a career of savagery, plunder and corruption" under leadership of his old war-time pal, a man named Dirlewanger.

Dirlewanger, the verdict said, had a pet pastime of arresting young Jewesses, calling in a group of his friends to watch while the women were stripped nude, beaten and injected with lethal doses of strychnine, to die for the spectators' amusement.

"It was a practice of Dirlewanger's brigade to seize villages, shut the inhabitants in barns, set them afire, and shoot down the living torches when they tried to escape," the court said.

Berger, the verdict said, "not only permitted, but attempted to justify" this death crew's actions.

'Queen Of Diamonds' Dies After Strokes

NEW YORK, April 12 (INS) — The death of Mabel Boll Cella in Manhattan state hospital for the mentally insane was revealed today as the attorney for the 55-year-old one-time "queen of diamonds."

Orrin G. Judd, the attorney, said Mrs. Cella, who won her queenly appelation by appearing in public wearing $1,000,00 in diamonds died Sunday morning after suffering two strokes.

The illness which finally claimed the life of the daughter of a Rochester, N. Y., bartender was first reported March 28. It was divulged then she had been committed March 15 by court order.

Judd said that her condition had improved markedly until the strokes.

One of Mrs. Cella's last public appearances was at a night club party New Year's day. She wore her famed 62-carat diamond ring.

Mrs. Cella's five marriages — her fifth was to harpist Theodore Cella — her diamonds, and her long list of suitors kept her in the headlines for much of the 1920's and early 1930's. A French actor once tried to kill himself outside her door because he had been spurned.

Judd said that no will had been found.

THE HOME OF GREATER VALUES

BY DREW PEARSON: FOUR YEARS AFTER FDR DIED ALL HIS CABINET MEMBERS GONE

Truman Bawled Out Stalin At Potsdam Conference

WASHINGTON. — It seems a long time since that day in April when Franklin Roosevelt passed away. It's only four years, but it seems like ages—ages in which we've sort of lost something. . . the hopes for peace which he cherished for mankind. . . . It was a lovely spring day in April four years ago. The cherry blossoms seemed a little prouder of their beauty. The weeping willow trees along the Potomac drooped a little lower, and the shad came nosing up the muddy waters that FDR loved and so long lived beside a little earlier. It was just the kind of spring he would have loved.

PEARSON

Then suddenly through the loveliness came that flag-draped caisson bring the dead warrior home. . . . People stood and watched—watched and wept and prayed. They had never met him, many had never seen him, but he belonged to them. . . So the dead warrior passed down Constitution avenue, which when he came into office 12 years before had been lined with vacant lots and ramshackled remnants of the bonus army. . . He had passed down that avenue on a March day 12 years before—when the world seemed falling apart. A ragged homeless army of 20,000 war veterans had even stormed the capitol and the three drawbridges across the Potomac for the first time in history were raised to keep them out.

Now it was April, 12 years later. The world was on the verge of ending the greatest war in history. America had weathered the storms, but the captain of the ship would not see his vessel dock. . . He had made mistakes, plenty of them. He had his faults—all great men do. He was untrue to his friends—when his friends became liabilities to the public trust. . . But the people overlooked his faults because they knew he was working for them. . . . And they knew it would be hard for them to get another such friend.

Henry Wallace's Calm

So as the caisson passed, the people watched and wept and prayed. . . and the cabinet wept. . . Henry L. Stimson, nearly 80, a member of two Republican cabinets, a candidate for governor of New York when FDR was a young and carefree senator in Albany, wept. . . Stimson, who has opposed Roosevelt, but who loved Roosevelt and served in his cabinet, wept and was unashamed. . . Ickes' face was worn and drawn. . . Only Henry Wallace, then secretary of commerce, was calm. Watching Harry Truman take the oath of office as president of the United States—Harry Truman, the man who defeated him at Chicago and in whose shoes he otherwise might have been, Wallace quietly observed: "Roosevelt was a great man. But perhaps what the country needs now is a man of the people. That man"—and he nooded at Truman — "that man may have the Lincolnesque greatness the country needs." . . . There was no bitterness. With the switch of a few votes, Henry Wallace would have stood in the place where Harry Truman stood. But he was not bitter.

SO after 12 long years the champion of the common man went to his final resting place and his successor, the common man, boarded the funeral train . . . He was humble and the world applauded silently cheering, fervently hoping that Henry Wallace was right—that a new Lincoln had come to America . . . One by one, the new President called the members of the Roosevelt cabinet into his car as the funeral train steamed toward Poughkeepsie. One by one, he implored them to stay on . . . Also slipping into the presidential car went an ex-bootlegger from Kansas City, John Maragon. Cockily he whispered to Col. Harry Vaughan, the new president's new military aide . . . The world did not then know that these two were to appoint judges, demote generals, influence affairs in Greece. The world did not know that even on that funeral train a new era had been ushered in.

The Roosevelt cabinet members are gone now. Not one who traveled on that train remains . . . Jimmy Byrnes, the secretary of state, who traveled not only on the train but to Potsdam to decide the peace of the world, has also departed. He saw the new President first hand as he sat down with the world's greatest leaders at the conference which was to map out the peace of the world . . . Churchill, Truman, Stalin—the big three.

. . . Transportation was difficult, many important diplomats were left behind. Not so Harry Vaughan and his ex-bootlegger friend, John Maragon. They were also present at that historic meeting of the world's most powerful leaders — and boasted of selling black-market wrist watches.

Stalin Gets Scolded

That meeting was important not only for what the public knew but for what the public didn't know . . . The humble little president was humble no more . . . It was his first meeting with Stalin, with whom he hoped to write a lasting peace, and with whom at that time the U.S.A. enjoyed reasonably happy relations. No important differences had then developed . . . But the once-humble president proceeded to give Stalin a tongue-lashing. Addressing a man he had never met and from whose army he wanted help in defeating the Japanese, the new president talked like a Dutch uncle about the schedule he expected to be followed at Potsdam . . . Churchill raised his eyebrows, looked at Jimmy Byrnes. Neither could interrupt or reprove the President of the United States . . . . Stalin has deserved many another bawling out on other matters since, but not during the first few minutes of a conference at which he had not even had time to disagree.

After the first day's session, the little president drove off. With him in the limousine were Jimmy Byrnes and Harry Vaughan . . . "That was great chief!" exploded the military aide. "You certainly did pour it on him! It was great! Do it again!" . . . . The new president beamed. His new secretary of state had planned to issne a note of caution about antagonizing the chief of a country before negotiations even started. Now it was obvious that the new president was pleased with his performance. Adulation, not criticism, was the cue for the day—and for many other days during the four years thereafter.

The Potsdam conference ended pretty much in failure. High - sounding announcements were issued to cover up the failure, but the public as always found out in the end . . . Joe Stalin has deserved plenty of bawling out since then, but diplomats have wondered whether, if Truman hadn't bawled him out at the very start, he'd have been more cooperative. Maybe not . . . Maybe if Truman hadn't bawled out Foreign Minister Molotov the minute after he arrived for the U.N. conference we'd also have got along better with the Russians at San Francisco. May not . . . Maybe if Roosevelt had lived we wouldn't have been in the mess we are with the Russians. Maybe not.

Anyway it seems a long, long time since that quiet day in April when the body of a great warrior was borne down Constitution avenue, past the new buildings he built, past the Washington he loved, past the people who watched and kept and prayed..

Judging from speeches made in Congress by our good friend, George Mahon, the secrets of the Atom Bomb and other American military might are known to everybody in the world but the American people.

STEVE MATTHEWS, Lubbock's new city manager, read what we had to say the other day about Lubbock's need for street-lighting. So he came by to tell us that he agrees that the need is paramount and, furthermore, he intends to do something about it as soon as is humanly possible.

"Lubbock is very poorly lighted," said Mr. Matthews. "As a newcomer, I noticed it probably more than citizens who have been here a long time. Down at City Hall, we are in the process of getting the metal poles and the fixtures and we want to make Lubbock one of the best lighted cities in Texas instead, as it is, one of the darkest cities of its size in the nation."

Good for Mr. Matthews. .

The job, of course, is a big one. It can't be done overnight. In fact, Mr. Matthews says it probably will be two years before the task is complete.

But when it is complete, he says, nobody will have to apologize for Lubbock's darkness. People will be able to walk around town without stumbling and without fear of hijackers and burglars taking advantage of the darkness in which to ply their arts.

"Why," says Mr. Matthews, "people going West on Nineteenth street past College will even be able to see where to turn off to the South!"

Glory be—and bless the day when that happens!

THE NEW traffic dispersal cut-offs we have in Lubbock now are mighty fine and they're going to be better, when the entire program is completed. However, it will occur to most people who study the new routings that more sign information is needed at points where cut-offs branch off of the highways, per se.

Take the Traffic Circle on South Avenue H, for instance.

The uninitiated gets into the circle and all he knows from reading the signs is that one route is a cut-off to Fort Worth, another a cut-off to Brownfield, etc. Unless he is thoroughly familiar with Lubbock, he doesn't know how to get to various parts of the city, itself, without going through the Big Middle of town.

Why don't we have signs saying "to East and North Lubbock," "to West and South Lubbock," etc., at points where the cut-offs begin?

That would help a lot.

There's no doubt about it, the recession is on. Noses now are being turned up no higher than 60 degrees over a 10 per cent tip.

THERE is an abiding lesson to be drawn from the tragedy which snuffed out the little life of three-year-old Kathy Fiscus in an abandoned well over the weekend just past.

That lesson is one in tolerance, in understanding, in human sympathy.

When the word got out in San Marino, Cal., that little Kathy was in the well those who could be helpful appeared by the score to do what they could.

Nobody asked if little Kathy were Catholic or a Protestant, a Jew or a Gentile, a negro or a white child.

Nobody stopped to ask if rescue work were to be paid for at time and a half, or whether only union or non-union men could work at it.

Everybody who could help did help.

As the press and radio carried the tragic story of the attempted rescue across the nation and around the world, millions who never before heard of Kathy Fiscus, or her family—and who likely will never hear of them again—took personal interest in the case.

None of them stopped to think of the color of Kathy's skin, or the church in which her parents might worship. They just thought of a little child in the cold, dark well and of her parents and other loved ones.

Tens of thousands of them prayed—each in his own words, each in his own way—that the life of the child might be spared.

WHEN the word finally got out that little Kathy was dead it is probable that millions of pair of eyes were momentarily wet. It is certain that millions of hearts experienced heaviness.

All because a little girl—a stranger of unknown race and creed—was the victim of cruel fate.

There is something fine in every human being and that something fine comes to the surface when tragedy strikes. Isn't it too bad that same something fine isn't always at the surface?

If we could only remember, and call upon, our finer sensibilities, our innate sense of justice and fairness and compassion, in everyday life, as we do on special occasions, wouldn't this be a wonderful world?

We wouldn't need any "civic rights" legislation, or argument about it.

We wouldn't need any Atlantic Pacts; and multi-billion dollar appropriations for national defense; and National Conference of Protestants, Catholics and Jews. Nor would there be any hospitals crowded with the husks of once strong men damaged in defense of their country.

Little Kathy Fiscus is dead and most of us who mourned, genuinely, the terrible fate which was hers will settle down again in our more selfish ways, wrapped in our choicest prejudices.

But it is possible—just possible—that some few of us, if not many of us, have learned a lesson from the compassionate thoughts which Kathy's accident caused to cross our minds.

Perhaps some of us are better people—perhaps some of us will be kinder to others always—as a result of the sad occurrence.

KATHY'S case proved something. It proved that the men who work with their hands, the engineers who know excavation, the men in the offices who pass on expenditures—human beings of all stations and degrees of education—are, basically, pretty much the same.

In times of stress they think alike, they react alike. Their generosity, their selfishness, their compassion are the same.

Isn't it too bad that these talents of the soul aren't given more free play in every-day affairs as every-day problems are attacked?

If they were, we'd all be so much happier.

Lucky Book Purchase Rewards Producers With New Show Hit

THE BROADWAY lights: Pulitzer Prize Play winner Sidney Kingsley's new hit, "Detective Story" (Hudson Theatre), got critical superlatives fit for a Kingsley. The drama detectives flung orchids at everything connected with it, the writing, the set, the staging and the cast of wizards headed by Ralph Bellamy, Meg Mundy and Horace McMahon. It is crowded with all the attractions that make following the New York police prowl cars a passion with some of us on the all-night beat. It's a Signal 30 from curtain to curtain—the most breathless of the police short-wave calls — homicide — "come - with - your - guns - drawn. They-may-be-armed!" . . . The other first-night was down on Bleecker Street where a drama christened "The Sun and I" premiered. The actors were pattycaked for their good intentions, but the script betrayed them. . . The show season is strewn with costly wreckage. More than 30 flops cost backers $3,000,000.

WINCHELL

The Cinemagicians: "El Paso" is an acceptable sagebrush hell-raiser. John Payne packs a hot shootin' iron, but Gail Russell carrier the more potent ammunition in a torso-hugging frock. . . "Corridor of Mirrors" is an attention-catching British horrifier with a pip-pip performance by Eric Portman as the Beatleh Rotter. . . "Hideout" offers your old buddy, the jewel-snatcher. But the picture is hardly a gem . . . "The Woman Who Dared" is a listless Franchie, and what is surprising (for a Gallic film), it is also lustless.

BACKSTAGE Talk: Producer Leland Hayward paid only $5,000 for the book, "Tales of the South Pacific," reported a smash show in Boston. He tailored the show from only two of its stories and has enough left to make three films. Broadway showmen say of him "he doesn't seem to make mistakes—everything he touches clicks!" . . . The playwrights are getting pretty grim. Three recent dramas wind up with the suicide of the chief character . . . William Roos, who wrote the book for "As the Girls Go" (the M. Todd hit-musical at the Winter Garden) is better known as Kelley Roos, the top murder mystery writer . . . Dick Smart, heir to the Dole pineapple fortune, just left "All for Love." He is said to be richer than the producer, fabulous Tony Farrell . . . John Griggs will again stage the annual John Barrymore Wake, the event of the showfolk year.

The Airistocrats: The sustained excellence of Milton Berle's television shows confirms the high opinion expressed by his mother. Being Berle's video competition is the most thankless task in the entertainment field . . . Sat. eves are when a barn full of adenoidal comics hill-billy all over the dials. They sprout enough corn to make Iowa envious . . . If most microforums leave you platitude-drunk, we offer "People's Platform," which hits you like a cold shower. The speakers are always quietly authoritative and arresting . . . The comedy famine on video was emphasized last week when three different clowns did the seltzer-in-the-kisser bit . . . Variety again clinches the argument the Hooper is pretty accurate. It publishes both the Hooper (a phone survey) and the Neilsen (scientific) . . . The Hooper rates us at 26.1 . . . The Neilsen at 27.1 . . . Some difference.

THE Story Tellers: "Franklin Roosevelt at Hyde Park" will be published on April 12th by the American Artists Group. It has 174 drawings and text by Olin Dows, artist-author and Roosevelt neighbor . . . T. S. Eliot, the poet who hates democracy but is loved by the Nobel Prize electors, should have quit while ahead. His latest, "Notes Toward the Definition of Culture," got the hook from almost all the critics . . . How the outnumbered people of Palestine defeated all the Arab armies (and the British backers) is breathlessly reported in "Israel: A History of the Jewish People" . . . Magazine Digest hit bingo with its timely piece containing this startler: That more than two million people in the U. S. work as paid wire-tappers . . . Holiday's New York number is one of the most exciting of all mag issues. The most striking feature is the more than 150 photos of The Biggest Burg's scenesations.

The Press Box: The N. Y. Times editors apparently were being ironic when they ran these two headlines on Page 21 of the March 23rd edition: "Clay Bars New Ilse Koch Trial" and "Youth in Germany Seek Strong Man" . . . At a farewell dinner for Forrestal the President said: "I hope I am as well though of when I leave public office as you." O, brotherrrrr . . . Headline: "Soviet Wants Ilse Koch." Probably running short of monsters . . . Newspapermen hear that the Trib seeks an editorial cartoonist and that the top candidate is a sports caricaturist now working for Paramount Pictures . . . One report said the reason those Presidential Key West newsreels (and pix) were confiscated was that Mrs. Truman told her husband never to be snapped in a bathing suit. But such a photo of him was published days before . . . Every editor in town offered a bonus to reporters if they learned where the visiting Russians dwell.

QUOTATION Marksmanship: E. W. Howe: People always say they are not themselves when tempted by anger into betraying what they really are . . . E. B. Chaffee: The majority of us are for free speech only when it deals with subjects concerning which we have no intense convictions . . . French proverb: Marriage is a duet or a duel . . . Anon: Living without loving is like loving without kissing . . . A. A. Milne: There was a full-length novel in her sigh.

It's Your Responsibility Now, Joe!

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

ONE of my readers wants to know: "Can a woman avoid being middle-aged?"

No, of course not. But she can avoid being "typically middle-aged."

What's a typical middle-aged woman like, anyhow?

These are the main characteristics, aren't they?

She's a little overweight. She dresses without any zip or individuality. She's more concerned about things than about ideas. So her eyes brighten when talk turns to draperies, washing machines, or how some other woman is decorating her house. Her eyes wander when the talk jumps outside the home, husbands, children.

MILLETT

She's mentally lazy, though physically she may be a demon for work. She gets most of her ideas ready-made from her husband, her clubs, or the social leader of her own small group.

She doesn't enjoy doing anything on her own or by herself. So when she gets interested in something she joins a group and dabbles—instead of going to work on her own to really accomplish something.

She reads book reviews instead of books, and listens to the woes of soap opera heroines to take her mind off the fact that there are some problems in her own life that need to be solved.

By Bennett Cerf

"Try And Stop Me"

AN OLD southern colonel told his physician, "Doctor, we bein' ol' friends and soldiers together, I don't intend to insult you, suh, by offerin' you cash fo' your services. I intend, however, to leave you a handsome legacy in mah will."

The doctor reflected momentarily and said, "That is mighty kind of you, suh, and I deeply appreciate yo' delicate sentiments. Meanwhile, would yo' jus' let me have that prescription again fo' a moment? There is a slight alteration I want to make in it."

A SENIOR in the Pulitzer School of Journalism observed, "Even barbers make more money than authors today. I don't know whether to take a job in Greco's barber shop when I graduate, or write novels." Dean Ackerman suggested, "Toss a coin, my moy. Heads or tales!"

(Copyright, 1949, Bennett Cerf.)

You can watch her face a long time and never see it lightened by a mischievous twinkle or a smile of good-natured tolerance.

VOICES HER COMPLAINTS

YOU wouldn't describe her as a happy woman, for she complains a lot. If it isn't about her health or about her husband it's about the children, the cleaning woman, or the rush she's in.

She sees the same people over and over and is not the slightest bit interested in meeting new people with different ideas.

Her social life follows a set pattern. When she entertains it is because she "owes" certain people a dinner and an evening of bridge.

She may be a good woman—but she's deadly dull, because she's a type. And the type is so common that a woman in her middle years has to fight against becoming a "typical middle-aged woman."

It's so much easier to follow the pattern than to work out one's own design for living which is the only way in the world for a woman to stay young in spirit and personality, after she is no longer young in years.

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Author Sees Financial Mouse Turn To Gold Coach-And-Four

NEW YORK, April 12.—When the fabulous "Tales of the South Pacific" opened last night to the first batch of ticketholders in a record $500,00 advance sale, I halfway expected to see the author, wrapped in a ragged shawl, out front selling matches to the first-nighters.

RUARK

The Broadway report was that Jim Michener had been flim-flammed out of his author's rights for a sum ranging from $500 to $5000, and must stand by in helpless rage while everybody else got rich off his baby. This sort of thing occasionally happens, when a hungry writer releases his brain-child for peanuts, in the face of economic press.

However, it's a pleasure to report that in Michener's case this is not true. He is well in on the musical comedy deal, and will get rich somewhat beyond the dreams of his own avarice, since Michener's avaricious dreams were never very elephantine.

Freakish Success

"Tales of the South Pacific" is certainly one of the most freakish expeditions into inverted success that was ever recorded. Michener wrote the book when he was in the service. It was a collection of loosely tied short stories, and it hit print at a time of public set against the war. It was an excellent piece of writing, but attracted no special attention.

It didn't sell spectacularly, either, and in a very short time was off the stands. It was both out of sight and out of mind last year when, bless Pat, it won the Pulitzer prize for novels. Mr. Michener could have been felled with a feather. But even after sale was resuscitated by the award, it was no great shakes as a seller. Michener kept his job with a publishing house, for eating money, and started whacking out another book.

NOW THIS novel, which wasn't a novel, turns up on the stage as a romantic idyll—with, of all things, an opera star named Ezio Pinza playing the lead. The prize war novel which wasn't a novel is now a musical which will likely outgross "Oklahoma!" It will certainly run as long as it pleases. It will certainly sell for a prodigal price to the movies. Its technicians are the fabled teams of Oscar Hammerstein and Richard Rodgers, who traffick only in hits, and Leland Hayward and Josh Logan, who are millionaires on "Mister Roberts" alone. Mary Martin in the lady lead doesn't hurt it any.

But it's Michener's baby — a long shot that finally paid off against all expectation.

When the word got around that Hammerstein and Rodgers were interested in the book, all sorts of cagy folk approached Michener with offers to purchase all future right sto a sales-exhausted volume. Some offers were as small as $500. It just happened that Michener, oddly enough for an author, didn't need any dough at the time. He said no to everybody.

With Healthy Slice

Mr. Michener came out of the hoss-swapping with a healthy slice of the author's royalty. In addition to that interest, Hammerstein and Rodgers — known as tough traders in a tough town—lent Michener the money, interest free, to buy a fat chunk of stock in the show. This was at the time when the production was a sure thing, and investors were clamoring to buy in. It literally amounted to a gift.

Atop that, Michener still retains full participating rights in the other 17 stories in his book, since only two were used for the musical. And he has an even divvy in the subsidiary rights to the unused portion, in which interest is already being shown.

Mr. Michener is a prime believer in the magic that lies in a typewriter keyboard. He sired a financial mouse, and patiently watched it turn into a golden coach-and-four. Every night, when Mr. Michener seeks his cot, he gives thanks to God for his own patience—and for a good lawyer.

Today's Journal Editorial

THERE'S NO HURRY

Even the most vigorous critics of the Gilmer-Aikin Public School Reorganization bill are likely to approve the deliberation with which the Texas House of Representatives is considering the measure.

The members have rebuffed many efforts—the most recent last week—of supporters of the bill to high-pressure it to speedy enactment. The House appears to be proceeding slowly and carefully before taking final action on a measure which would mean the greatest upheaval in the state's public school system in history.

What the final action may be, when taken, cannot be predicted with assurance now. The indications now appear to be that it will be passed. But observers say the opposition is growing as legislators hear from more and more of their constituents. This snow-balling public reaction may explain why the House is refusing to be rushed now.

But, whatever the reason, caution can do no harm. It will provide added guarantees that the action finally taken, whatever it may be, will be in accord with the best interests of Texans, as judged by the legislature after thorough and mature deliberation.

Radio Quiz Addicts Place Bee On Back Of Answer Man, Staff

By JOHN ROSENBURG
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 12.—Each year Bernard O'Donnell corresponds with 3,000,000 strangers who live in all parts of the United States.

Sometimes he exchanges as many as 30 letters with the same person. And often the letters run to 1,000 words.

O'Donnell doesn't sell or solicit anything. He merely answers questions. Questions such as:

"What was Hiawatha's canoe made of?" and "Who was Whistler's father?"

O'Donnell is the answer man for some of radio's best known quiz shows.

Soothes Fans

He explains that it's his job to soothe tactfully ruffled feelings of thousands of fans who disagree with their favorite quiz master.

"Quiz fans will write a letter of protest at the drop of a question mark if they think the master of ceremonies or a winning contestant is in error," O'Donnel says. "Few radio stations are equipped to handle the flood of mail that follows a quiz show. That's where I come in."

O'Donnell, a former newspaperman, has contracted with "Stop the Music," "Juvenile Jury" and "Twenty Questions," all network shows, to answer their mail. He organized for the job three years ago under the title of "The Radioland Mail Service" and since then has answered 7,000,000 letters.

Many Assistants

"The task has grown to nightmare proportions," O'Donnell saids. "We've been forced to move three times. We now operate out of the town hall of Hollis, Long Island."

O'Donnell, who started with a staff of three people, often hires as many as 175 to assist him. His own hours are from 5 a. m. to 9 p. m. seven days a week. Paid on an hourly basis, his employes often earn $125 a week.

O'Donnell said his latest problem was to appease 70,000 irate writers who disagreed with emcee Bill Slater of "Twenty Questions" on a query concerning Martin Luther.

The judging panel asked Slater if the subject (unknown to them but revealed to the audience) was known for his musical achievements.

"Not primarily," Slafer answered.

Learn About Luther

O'Donnell and his crew, buried under an avalanche of mail, discovered that Luther, a theologist, had actually written some of the greatest of regilious hymns. In the Hymn Book of 1525, they learned, Luther was the author of four selections. In a 1545 edition of the same book, he was the author of 37. One of the pieces, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," is still a favored hymn.

O'Donnell also cited these facts: (1) the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, as a subject, drew the greatest response from quiz fans; (2) Was Casey Jones a real or fictional character?" was the most controversial question; (3) letter writers were from all economical levels; (4) most writers were grateful for answers to letters (O'Donnell received 5,000 Christmas cards last year); (5) writers are equally divided between men and women, and (6) criticism is generally intelligent and not made by "crackpots."

Worker Buried Alive Under Wet Concrete

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April 12 (AP)—A 62-year-old workman—his first day on the new job—was buried alive under 300,000 pounds of freshly-poured concrete in the collapse of the roof of a five-million gallon city reservoir.

The roof fell yesterday with a thunderous roar, slightly injuring 14 other workmen. The body of Robert Lacey, 62, of nearby Venice, was dug out of the debris after three hours of frantic work by 50 men. The reservoir is being built for Santa Monica.

Lacey was pushing a wheelbarrow directly under the forms when it gave way. The others were atop the roof or nearby.

Clifford Kohler, Santa Monica resident engineer, said some of the underpinnings snapped and set up a chain reaction, causing the flat, nine-ich thick cocrete area to go down.

Frankie, Bing Co-Defendants In $1 Million Promotion Suit

LOS ANGELES, April 12 (AP)—Crooners Frank Sinatra and Bing Crosby are co-defendants in a $1,000,000 suit filed here as an aftermath of a Nevada hotel promotion.

The superior court action yesterday was brought by five stockholders of the Nevada Inn, Inc. alleged owners of a large tract of land and buildings at La Vegas.

The action charges that without consent of the corporation directors, its president, Stanley Burke, transferred title to the property to a "dummy," Lillian Nelson.

The suit contends that Burke formed a new company with Sinatra called "the New Horizon." The new company is constructing a mammoth resort hotel including a racetrack, the suit alleges.

Sinatra Denies Contact

Sinatra, through his business agent, denied being associated with "The New Horizon" by his brothers, Everett and Larry Crosby, who the action describes as "dummies" for Bing. The suit also names Larry and Everett.

The plaintiffs are Ernest E. Gagnon, Ethyl D. Clines Bernard Martin, Adelaide M. Martin and the Gagnon Co. They claim that when they purchased stock in 'Desert Inn, they were told Bing Crosby had exclusive rights to build a racetrack in Las Vegas and had the "pull" in Washington to obtain the materials.

None of the Crosbys was available for comment.

The Royal Pakistan Navy announced purchase from Britain of the destroyer Offa, which fired the first shot in the invasion of Europe from the sea in the last war.

Joe E. Brown Given Anniversary Party

WILMINGTON, Del., April 12 (AP)—When Joe E. Brown returned to his hotel room after a performance of the play "Harvey" last night, his mouth popped open a little wider than usual.

Members of the "Harvey" cast were there to give the comedian a surprise party marking the 48th anniversary of his first public appearance—as a circus performer at the age of nine.

The hotel suite was gayly decorated with balloons, streamers and clown pictures to remind Joe of April 12, 1901, when he first joined "The Five Marvelous Ashtons" with the old Sells, Downs circus at Chanute, Kan.

That act, Brown recalled, lasted only five weeks. He later joined another circus and remained a tanbark performer for a number of years before going on the stage and appearing in motion pictures.

Brown recently left the Philadelphia Naval hospital after undergoing treatment for a recurring type of malaria contracted while entertaining U. S. troops in the Pacific during World War II.

All Women Officials Inaugurated Again

DENNING, Ark., April 12 (AP)—"Petticoat government" is more than just a phrase in this small Arkansas town.

For seven years Denning has elected all women officials.

And the women were inaugurated again last night.

A slate of women, headed by Lois Dixon for mayor, defeated a male ticket at the municipal election a week ago.
