N. Koreans Accused Of Ambushes

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI) —An American admiral accused North Korea in an icy confrontation today of committing vicious and savage acts by staging ambushes that left seven allied soldiers dead during the past five days.

Stony-faced Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-kuk, a North Korean known as "frog face" to the Americans, absorbed the browbeating with his usual lack of emotion at a meeting at this Korean truce village.

Navy Rear Adm. John V. Smith made the accusations. He is senior United Nations command delegate to the Korean Military Armistice Commission.

Smith, son of the late Gen. Holland M. (Howling Mad) Smith, the World War II Marine Corps commander, charged the North Koreans with being "butchers." Facing Pak across a table, he protested an Easter Sunday ambush that took the lives of two American and two South Korean soldiers only 1,000 yards from Panmunjom, the village where the Korean war armistice was arranged 15 years ago.

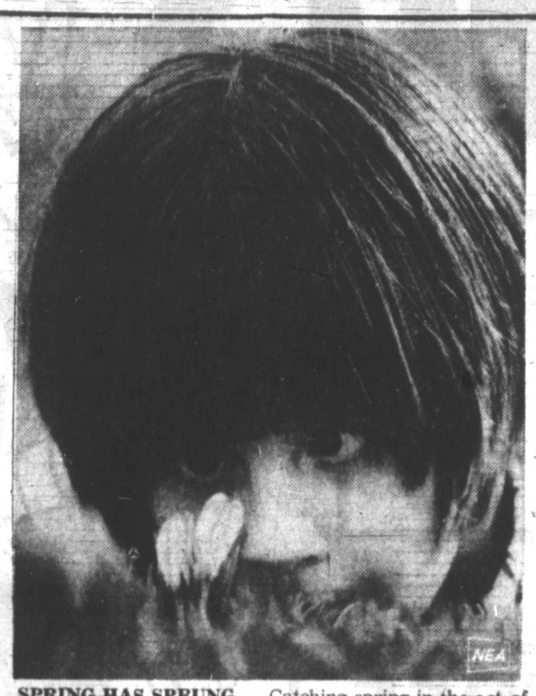

Wednesday three more South Korean soldiers died when bushwacked as they patroled about 330 yards south of the demarcation line that separates the two Koreas. The attack occurred in the central sector.

The ambush incidents continued tension in Korea which itensified earlier this year with a North Korean terrorist raid on Seoul and the seizure of the intelligence ship USS Pueblo.

As President Johnson and Park Chung hee, South Korea's president, met in Honolulu to discuss the Korean situation Wednesday, North Korean radio branded the talks an extension of aggressive acts of the U.S. imperialism.

The commentary said the meeting was "aimed at spurring up the war preparations in Korea by dispatching new servants of aggression into South Korea and by materializing their war plans at the talks."

In the Wednesday ambush an estimated 20 infiltrators used light machineguns to attack an 11 man South Korean patrol. In addition to the three dead, South Korean casualties included three wounded. The patrol fired back but no Communist casualties were reported.

B-52s Saturate A Shau Valley

By JACK WALSH

SAIGON (UPI) — For the second day in a row, U.S. B52 Stratofortresses bombarded the Communists' A Shau Valley infiltration route with an unsurpassed 10 strikes today, American spokesmen said.

Military observers said the saturation bombing could be the softening up for an American ground thrust into the jungle valley that stretches like a dagger from the Laos border to within 15 miles of the northern coastal city of Hue.

The eight-engined jets struck in wave upon wave as U.S. intelligence sources reported large numbers of Communist troops and trucks rumbling through the valley toward Hue and the ripening rice crop on the coastal plain. Intelligence officers said about 10,000 Communists troops are strung out through the A Shau valley.

In Saigon, American spokesmen said 363 U.S. troops were killed in action last week. It was the highest death toll in five weeks. Another 2,694 Americans suffered wounds in combat last week, spokesman said.

Allied troops last week killed 3,071 Communists. It raised to 327,993 the number of Communist troops killed since 1961. American losses in the same period now total 21,417 men killed and 133,752 wounded.

South Vietnam said 293 of its troops were killed last week, 985 were wounded and 32 reported missing.

In war action, American spokesmen reported fighting underway throughout the northern provinces. It is this area that is fed Communist men and arms through the A Shau Valley's Ho Chi Minh trail route from North Vietnam via Laos.

For the third day North Vietnamese artillery was hammering Khe Sanh, the Marine fort just under the northern border's Demilitarized Zone (DMZ). Marine intelligence officers said the breaking two weeks ago of a 77-day Red siege of the bastion did not mean fighting was over there. UPI correspondent Raymond Wilkinson quoted the Marines as estimating that 10,000 North Vietnamese troops still were in the fort's area. Some are wedged tightly around the base.

Teen Drinking To Get 'Educational Approach'

School trustees decided Wednesday night to stress the "educational approach" to teenage drinking in Pampa and agreed to ask local law enforcement officials to speak at Pampa High School and the two Pampa junior highs on moral and legal reasons for temperance.

The board's meeting Wednesday with city and county law enforcement officials and interested persons was sparked by a "marked increase in problems related to teenage drinking," according to John Gikas, board president.

The board and officials agreed with County Judge S. R. Lening Jr., who stated a majority of Pampa's teenagers do not create this problem for themselves and are generally law-abiding citizens, but something must be done about the minority who do "(cause the problem)."

While agreeing the major emphasis on "evils of teenage drinking," should be in the home by parents, the board recognized schools have a "responsibility" to double the education efforts on alcohol."

Officials attending the meeting with trustees were Corporation Court Judge John W.Warner; County Judge S. R. Lenning Jr.; Juvenile Officer Bill Leonard, Police Chief Jim Conner; Jack Nichols, Robert E. Lee Junior High School principal; Cameron Marsh, PHS principal; and McHenry Lane, acting school superintendent.

After the discussion on juvenile drinking problems, the board met with Lane and voted to accept Athletic Director Swede Lee's proposed summer work program for assistant coaches.

The board authorized assistant coaches' salary payments for 10-month periods, beginning in August, and also set basketball coach Terry Culley's salary at $10,000, a raise of $1,196 from $8,804.

Candidate For Superintendent Is Interviewed

Pampa school board members today interviewed the first of some 30 applicants for school superintendent.

John Gikas, school board president, said it is planned to interview two or three applicants a day starting again next week. He said he planned to schedule additional interviews by long distance telephone this afternoon.

"We want to set definite dates for the interviews and proceed as rapidly as possible to the selection of a superintendent," Gikas said.

This morning's interview was conducted at a two-hour executive session of the board in Coronado Inn. Only one candidate was interviewed.

The board met last night with Dr. Kenneth Laycock, dean of teacher education at West Texas State University, who was employed to screen applicants and submit them to the board with their qualifications for the superintendent's post.

When interviews are completed the board hopes to come up with a successor to acting superintendent McHenry Lane who has announced he will retire May 31.

Lane has been acting superintendent since the ouster of Dr. John Damron last Jan. 16.

Optimist Club's Oratory Contest Slated Tomorrow

Three local boys aged 13 through 16 will be competing tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the First Methodist Church in the Pampa Optimist Club Annual Oratorical Contest with hopes of going on to the international contest where a $4000 college scholarship is awaiting the winner.

Dr. Nicholas Kadingo, chairman of the local contest said today, "We have three outstanding boys in our contest this year.

"The oldest is Tim Doke, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Doke of 121 Starkweather in Pampa. The contest is restricted to boys of ages 13 through 16," Dr. Kadingo commented.

"Curtis Thornton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Thornton of 1048 Cinderella in Pampa, and Kevin Walls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon L. Walls of 2113 Hamilton in Pampa, are the other contestants; both are 13 years old," continued Dr. Kadingo.

The boys will make speeches of four to five minutes which they wrote themselves with some aid from parents, teachers and friends. The winner qualifies for the zone contest in Amarillo April 28. The winner in Amarillo will go to the district contest which may held in Dallas. Dr. Kadingo stated this site has not been chosen as yet.

From the state contest, the boys will go to the international contest where scholarships will be given to the first four finishers. First prize is a $4000 scholarship with the next three prizes scholarships of $1000 each.

Dr. Kadingo said he expects around persons to attend the event with a meal to be served starting at 7 p.m.

The theme for the international Optimist Clubs contest this year is "The Golden Opportunity of Youth."

'Third Parties' Make Negotiation Efforts

By JAMES C. JACKSON
United Press International

The government of Pakistan announced today in the capital of Rawalpindi it had agreed to a request from the United States that it offer its territory as a site for preliminary Vietnam peace talks.

The announcement took on added signficance because of the current visit to Pakistan of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin who urged the United States Wednesday to accept Hanoi's offer "immediately."

Hanoi has suggested the talks be held either in Phnom Penh, the capital of Cambodia, or in Warsaw. The United States found those two sites inacceptable and proposed New Delhi, Rangoon, Vientiane, Geneva and Jakarta.

The Communist world was pressing the United States to accept Warsaw or Phnom Penh, and a Hanoi broadcast indicated no other site would be acceptable.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville today offered Paris as a site for eventual Vietnam preliminary peace talks and pledged France's support to finding "the solution of a difficult problem."

But a Hanoi Radio broadcast tonight renewed North Vietnam's insistence the talks be held either in Phnom Penh or Warsaw and said the United States has shown a "stubborn attitude" about the talks and has deliberately delayed them.

Try To Mediate

However, several third parties including Russia were reported to be trying to mediate. United Nations Secretary Thant also was reported in contact with Hanoi and Washington to try to end the impasse. He has suggested Paris or Geneva.

The Pakistani announcement said the offer was in response to a cabled request from the U.S. State Department received in Rawalpindi today. It did not say whether the U.S. request specifically designated Rawalpindi or some other Pakistani city, but it was the first time Pakistan has been mentioned as a possible site.

Pakistan has remained officially neutral in the Vietnam conflict although former govern-

Coed About To Get Right To Live With Man

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sophomore coed Linda LeClair claimed victory today in her campaign to topple a rule barring unmarried Barnard College students from livin' with men.

The school's student-faculty judicial committee Wednesday declined to recommend her expulsion for sharing a two-room apartment with her boyfriend. The committee merely banned the blonde, 20-year old sociology coed from the campus snack bar, cafeteria and recreation room.

It also recommended that the college's president, whose decision on Linda's case will be final, make a "thorc revision" of Barnard's hou. g rules "with a view to eliminating any suggestion of discriminatory practice or infringement of basic human rights."

The 79-year-old college is affiliated with Columbia University which, unlike its women's branch, allows students to arrange their own living accommodations.

Miss LeClair's boyfriend, Peter Behr, 20, is a sociology student at Columbia, across Broadway from Barnard. The students have been living together for two years.

"Beautiful, terrific," said Miss LeClair's supporters as she read out the committee's decision.

Barnard President Miss Martha Peterson will review the committee's recommendations after she returns from a business trip for her inauguration April 29. Past presidents usually have accepted the judicial committee's decisions.

Attorney General Warns Against Allowing Police To Shoot Looters

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The racial unrest smouldering in the nation's cities could be dangerously escalated if police are allowed to shoot to kill or maim arsonists and looters, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark warned Wednesday.

In an indirect clash with Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago over his controversial order to his police force to shoot looters and arsonists, Clark said that if police "overact" with excessive violence during civil disorders, it would force more blacks to adopt "terrorist and guerrilla tactics."

While Clark, speaking at a meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) here, warned against use of deadly force except in extreme circumstances, Daley Wednesday was reiterating his order to shoot to kill arsonists and "shoot to maim or cripple" looters.

Although Daley did not retreat from his hard line, his statement to the city council was couched in milder terms than his bitter off-the-cuff criticism of his own police Monday for not using tougher tactics against rioters.

"There can be no possible jusitification of a deliberate criminal act which results in helpless and homeless victims of a holocaust," the mayor said.

"Men poised with Molotov cocktails, incendiaries or fire bombs of any kind are the same as the assassins who pulled the triggers on the guns that killed the Rev. Martin Luther King and the late President John F. Kennedy."

Clark, asked directly about Daley's get-tough order, warned it could heighten tension in the ghettos. "I do not believe that the use of deadly force by law enforcement officers is permissible except in self defense or when it is necessary to protect the lives of others," he said.

Milk Price War In Reverse In Pampa Stores

Prices on milk rose an average of about 10 cents per half gallon yesterday following an increase in prices by area milk producers.

The price increase was also reflected in the prices of canned and powdered milk.

A half gallon of milk which had been selling for from 47 to 51 cents rose to 57 to 59 cents throughout Pampa stores yesterday following the producers' price raise several days ago.

"We didn't have any choice but to pass the price raise on to the consumer," one store manager said, "but we've been selling milk cheaper here in Pampa than in surrounding areas and I think we'll all continue to do that if we can."

Rumors of another milk price increase by producers were also in the air. Some store managers thought the increase might come the first part of May. Most were uncertain whether they would be able to hold the price of milk in local stores at current levels if another increase did come.

Safety Poster Contest Held By Pythians

Winners in the Knights of Pythias Highway Courtesy and Safety Poster Contest will be announced April 23, according to B.B. Altman Jr., secretary of Pampa K of P Lodge 480.

Altman said 102 posters were entered in the contest by students of Mrs. Floyd Sackett, art teacher at Pampa High School. The entries were judged by Mrs. Sue Jones and Charles Ely, Pampa school teachers, and Paul Geiser, Texas highway patrolman.

Altman said purpose of the poster contest was to promote highway safety "thinking" among students who recently have become drivers and to call attention of all drivers to the causes of mishaps and means by which accidents can be prevented.

Names of the three contest winners will be made public by Paul Sackett, chairman of the Pythian Youth Committee, at the lodge's public speaking contest next Tuesday.

Local winners will be entered in the national contest in August and will be eligible to share in $900 in cash prizes to be shared by 15 winners.

Winning posters in the local contest will be placed on display in the store windows of Pampa merchants.

Officers Suspect Two In Killing

DEL RIO, Tex. (UPI) —Deputy Sheriff Calvin Wallen said today that most investigators believe at least two persons were involved in the killing of four members of a Mexican family. The dead included an 18-month-old baby, two women and a man.

"One of the women weighed close to 190 pounds and you just can't handle something like that alone," Wallen said.

In addition to the four killed, two other children were seriously wounded, one with a knife and one with a gun. The sense-

Galt's Brother May Be In FBI Custody

By HENRY P. LEIFERMANN

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)— FBI sources indicated today that the "alleged brother" of Eric Starvo Galt may be in their custody, helping them search for the man accused of slaying Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The FBI also apparently had reason to believe that Galt, a mysterious graduate bartender with a rural accent and several aliases, may have returned to Birmingham after disappearing in Atlanta.

The FBI would not comment on whether it had anyone in custody in connection with the assassination. But a source in the FBI said that after Galt purchased a gun at a Birmingham sporting goods store about a week before King was killed, he took it to the man he said was his brother.

His brother, the source said, told him "that's not the gun we need." The source refused to say whether the knowledge of this conversation meant that the unnamed second man in the alleged conspiracy was in their custody.

A check of rooming house operators in Birmingham revealed that within the past three days, FBI agents have been making the rounds asking them if a man answering Galt's description had stayed with them in the past two weeks.

The FBI charged Galt in a warrant Wednesday with conspiring to violate the civil rights of King, slain by a sniper in Memphis April 4. Memphis police later filed a murder charge against Galt. Only the FBI warrant mentioned the alleged brother, and it did not include him in the charge.

FBI Denies It

In Washington, an FBI spokesman said "The FBI has no one in custody in connection with Dr. King's slaying." The "brother" has not been formally charged with any part in the slaying.

The FBI also released a photograph of Galt, 36, described as a "loner" with a "rural quality" in his voice. There was immediate conflict or uncertainty among witnesses who said they had seen Galt.

"No, that's not him," said Peter Cherpes, operator of a rooming house where Galt stayed from Aug. 26 to Oct. 7, 1967.

"I can't be sure," said Percy Strickland, a roomer at the house.

The woman who runs the Memphis flophouse from where the killer shot King as the Negro leader stood on his motel balcony also was undecided about the picture. "I just don't know if it's him," said Mrs. Bessie Brewer.

But the FBI insisted the picture was of Galt. "It's him, all right," said Joseph H. Gamble, special agent in charge of the Birmingham FBI office. He said the photograph was taken this year, "in March, I think."

The FBI issued two pictures of Galt, also known as Harvey Lowmeyer and John Willard. Galt's eyes were closed in one photo. The other featured eyes sketched in by an FBI artist.

The FBI complaint, filed in Birmingham, charged that Galt and an individual "whom he

$500 Bail Is Posted In Driving Case

A 21-year-old Pampa man was released on $500 bail by Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford today on a charge of DWI after he was apprehended by Pampa police last night following a high-speed chase.

Bennie Ray Coffee, of 728 Deane Drive, was also given traffic citations by Pampa police for speeding and running stop signs.

According to a police report, Coffee refused to acknowledge a signal from a patrolman to stop after running a stop sign in the 900 block of W. 23rd St.

He allegedly reached speeds up to 90 m.p.h. in the 30-m.p.h. zone from the 900 to the 1600 block of W. 23rd.

He later turned west on a country road, according to the report, and reached speeds up to 120 m.p.h. Police followed him for approximately seven miles. The man then turned around on the road, almost turning his car over, then headed east again. Police caught him a short distance away after his car had apparently jammed in first gear.

Burglary Trial Underway Here

Trial got underway this forenoon in 31st Judicial District Court here in the criminal case of Homer E. Beard, indicted on four counts of burglary.

Also on the docket are two other criminal cases: Jim Lee Bradshaw, also indicted on four counts of burglary, and Thomas J. Malone, indicted for theft by false pretext.

Hearings are expected to continue through tomorrow. The court has been in session since Monday, concluding three days of hearings yesterday in the civil case of Texas Pipeline Co., Inc. vs. Shaw Tank Cleaning Co., Inc by awarding Texas Pipeline damages in the amount of $80,000.

Curriculum Demonstration Set For School Tomorrow

Dr. Tom Fairclough of Midwestern University will conduct Nebraska English Curriculum demonstration lessons tomorrow afternoon at Pampa High School, according to Curriculum Coordinator Mrs. Marjorie Gaut.

He will work with a group of junior students teaching composition.

The program is a part of a continuing series of demonstration plans designed to introduce new concepts in learning and teaching to Pampa schools.

● Killing

less brutality of the killings aroused residents of this Southeast Texas area. The bodies and the two wounded children were discovered Wednesday.

Ranger Alfred Allee returned at dawn today to where the bodies were found and slowly tramped through a field of bluebonnets and knee high grass, seeking clues.

Allee directed the inquiry. Other investigators looked for leads by questioning residents who may have seen the family before the killer or killers arrived.

The family was marooned on the highway because of two flat tires.

Whether the wounded children could help with the investigation was problematical.

Man Sought In Exposure Case

Two Pampa girls reported to police yesterday that they had just seen the man who indecently exposed himself to them Monday night at a local skating rink.

One of the girls telephoned police yesterday afternoon to say she had just seen the man at a local drive-in restaurant.

Police said the man had departed when they arrived.

alleged to be his brother entered into a conspiracy" to harm King, and Galt purchased a rifle in Birmingham about March 30.

Trace Weapon

A 30.06 caliber Remington pump rifle with a telescopic sight was found near the Memphis flophouse and FBI agents traced the weapon to a Birmingham sporting goods store where records showed it was sold to Galt.

A white Mustang car—resembling one seen speeding from the murder scene—was found abandoned in Atlanta the day after the slaying. It was registered to Galt at a Birmingham rooming house, where residents had not seen him in three months. The FBI said Galt purchased the 1966 car from a private citizen in Birmingham last Augusst in put 19,000 miles on it—driving to such places as Los Angeles, New Orleans and Mexico.

Rotary Conference Is Discussed In Meeting

An outline of the program of Rotary International's District Conference in Amarillo was presented to members of the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

Cliff Milnar of Amarillo discussed the conference which is being held today, Friday and Saturday in the Villa Inn. Milnar is Panhandle Division Manager for Southwestern Public Service Co.

In other business, Ben Sturgeon and Terry Culley urged club members to join and support the "Harvester Club," Pampa's new athletic booster organization.

Pampan To Sing With Baylor U Choir in Chicago

Donald Leroy Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Turner, 2226 Duncan, is a member of the Baylor University Chapel Choir which will be in Chicago April 21-23.

Turner, a freshman journalism major, will sing with the 78-voice choir when it presents a full concert in Orchestra Hall there next Monday.

The choir will be in Chicago Baptist churches on Sunday, April 21, to present concerts at morning and evening worship services.

On April 23 the choir will sing on "Don McNeill's Breakfast Club", a radio program carried by ABC. At noon the group will sing for the Chicago Rotary Club.

Firm Receives $80,000 Damages

Texas Pipeline Co., Inc. was awarded $80,000 in damages yesterday in 31st Judicial District Court here against Shaw Tank Cleaning Co., Inc.

The 12-man jury decided on seven issues before returning the judgement in the civil suit shortly after 5 p.m.

The suit was filed in 1961 by Texas Pipeline, alleging that negligence by Shaw Tank Cleaning Co. resulted in a fire and explosion which destroyed one of their crude oil storage tanks near Lefors. Texas Pipeline had submitted a petition asking for $94,631 in damages.

Judge Grainger W. McIlhany presided.

Talent Show Rehearsals Set

Rehearsals will be held at 7 p.m. tonight at Harvester Field House for the Pampa High School Talent Show.

The show will be presented Saturday night and proceeds will go to the American Field Service, an organization which sponsors student exchange programs

Diplomats In Tour Of HemisFair

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Thirty-four diplomats from eight foreign countries gave HemisFair '68 an added international flavor today by touring the grounds and visiting the now open Tower of the Americas.

The diplomats, as guests of the International Visitors Council of the Chamber of Commerce, represented Afghanistan, Korea, Spain, Sierra Leona, Honduras, Sweden, the Philippines and Haiti.

They were scheduled to meet with Ed Clark, former Australian ambassador and now commissioner of the U.S. pavilion at HemisFair.

The group arrived Wednesday, just late enough to be able to visit the revolving restaurant at the top of the 622-foot tall Tower of the Americas.

The restaurant opened to the public 11 days after the grand opening of the fair itself.

Fair officials expected an increase in attendance now that the "tophouse" restaurant is open.

So far, 326,969 visitors have passed through the HemisFair gates—below what had been expected. Of those, 52,684 have been up the high-speed elevators to the observation platform on the tower.

From the observation platform, one can see the state Capitol in Austin 80 miles away to the north, or the LBJ Ranch country to the northwest.

Telephone Strike Slated Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Communications workers were prepared to strike the Bell Telephone system today in a walkout that could slow down phone service throughout the nation.

If prolonged, the strike could seriously disrupt all phone services, even regular dial telephoning.

The coast - to - coast strike, termed "inevitable" by government and union officials, was to begin at 3 p.m. EST. It would be the first nationwide walkout in 21 years against the Bell system, which operates 83.7 million telephones, about 85 per cent of all the phones in service in the United States.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said no bargaining was going on in the wage dispute between Bell and officials of the Communications Workers of America (CWA). The union's president, Joseph A. Beirne, said Wednesday it was "now too late to avoid a strike."

ment officials criticized U.S. involvement there. President Mohammed Ayub Khan also sided with the French view during a state visit to Paris in late 1966, opposing U.S. involvement.

Kosygin, speaking at a banquet Wednesday night in Rawalpindi, said: "It is common knowledge that the government of the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam recently proposed to the United States that talks begin which would open up prospects of a political settlement."

He accused the United States of intervention and dictation both in Vietnam and the Middle East and said the United States should accept the Hanoi offer and immediately enter into talks.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk warned that the U.S. willingness to talk did not arise from weakness. He cautioned Hanoi "not to lose this opportunity" to negotiate.

Eugene Locke Feels He's In The Lead

Editor's Note: This is another of a series of on-the-spot reports on the campaigns of the major candidates for governor.

By DAVID ANDERSON

DALLAS (UPI)— Eugene Locke said today he believes he leads all the other Democratic candidates for governor, but some of his major supporters fear he will miss the runoff unless he switches to a "give 'em hell" style of campaigning.

Locke bases his optimism on polls that showed him leading in Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and possibly Houston.

"I see no reason why the trend should be different elsewhere in the state," he said.

However, none of the polls was statewide, none was taken within the last two weeks, and each showed a high proportion of undecided voters.

Locke said he has no plans to change his campaign strategy.

Personal Contact

His schedule for the remaining two and one-half weeks before the primary calls for more of the same exhausting personal contact that he did in the Dallas area Tuesday, when he put in a 14-hour day, attended 17 meetings and receptions, delivered his standard speech 13 times, and met about 1,000 voters.

He said he does plan to step up his television campaign with a series of five-minute spots during the last two weeks detailing his positions on issues.

Some of Locke's most important friends want him to step up the tempo of his campaign by sharpening the distinctions between him and his opponents, on both personalities and issues.

They want him to come out swinging at the other candidates. They have suggested he forfeit the "dry" vote and present himself as "the liquor by the drink candidate." Locke is for local option mixed drinks, but does not emphasize it.

Locke will not do it.

No Character Attacks

"The best way to win an election is to be positive on your own, talk about your own program and stay off the others," he said. "I'm not going to engage in character attacks or anything of that kind."

That is the approach he takes in the standard speech he has used since the beginning of the campaign. He begins by saying, "The overriding issue in this campaign is leadership."

The voter is supposed to find the answer in Locke's background: Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of Texas at 19, top 10 per cent of the class at Yale Law School, a lucrative Dallas law practice, Gov. John Connally's campaig manager in 1962, state Democratic chairman from 1962 to 1964, and President Johnson's ambassador to Pakistan and deputy U. S. ambassador to Vietnam.

Connally's Choice

At 49, Locke is Connally's personal choice for governor, but he is unknown to many of the voters.

Despite his massive billboard and television advertising, many of the people he approached Tuesday didn't recognize him.

His speaking style is that of the board room or diplomatic conference, not the soap box. Occasionally he abandoned that style in favor of punch lines like "take the handcuffs off the police and put them on the criminals."

When he did, the crowds responded, perhaps indicating that they too would like to see him hit harder.

Those Expecting SS Benefits Need Proof Of Age

Persons who will become eligible for social security benefits within the next few years were urged today by Stanley White, Pampa social security office manager, to get proof of age now rather than wait until the claim is filed.

White said the most frequent cause of delay in processing claims is waiting on proof of the applicant's age.

He suggested that persons over 55 born in Texas, who do not already have proof of age, write to the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State Department of Health, 410 E. 5th St. Austin, and request a search for birth records.

White said it would be necessary to send a check or money order for $1.50. The bureau also will need information on place of birth and the full name of the applicant's mother and father.

Birth records have been kept in Texas, he stated, since 1903.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Thursday, April 18, the 109th day of 1968 with 257 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1775 Paul Revere began his ride through the Massachusetts countryside, calling, "The British are coming."

In 1906 the San Francisco earthquake began. When it ended three days later, 500 persons were dead.

In 1942 Lt. Col. James Doolittle and a squadron of 16 B-25s bombed Japan for the first time.

In 1964 two troop planes collided over Ohio, killing 17 servicemen.

A thought for the day: British statesman John Selden said, "they that govern the most, make the least noise."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Newton D. Zinder of E. F. Hutton & Co. says the market has behaved very well in recent sessions with the anticipated profit taking rotating from group to group rather than depressing the entire list. Zinder thinks there still is a large pool of cash reserves in the background, ready to pick up stocks at the slightest sign of reaction and this is likely to keep any near term reaction limited in scope.

Spear and Staff Inc. says several weeks of consolidation seems logical at the present time, possibly followed by another large advance. The analysts, therefore, feel large rallies should not cause traders to retreat to the sidelines but "rather, they should be used to replenish and refurbish portfolios before a major upturn has a chance to gather full momentum."

Marvin Hollander of Filor Bullard Smyth says whie the improved prospects for peace in Vietnam should be a cause for enthusiasm, it should be tempered by the fact that peace has not yet been achieved and that the United States still has many other basic social and economic problems to solve.

FEAR MARKSMAN

TOKYO (UPI)—The construction of Japan's tallest building near the official residence of the prime minister prompted officials to order bulletproof glass installed in windows of the residence, the government said today. They said a rifleman in the 36-story building would be able to fire into the west rooms of the residence.

Weight Watchers Deserve Pie Too

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

There's a new magazine on the stands called "Weight Watchers." It includes articles on insights into obesity, overweight children, advice for self-help, and ways to add zest to nonfattening diets. In general, it attempts to look at weight problems with a sense of humor.

Whether or not this is humorous, it's definitely good to eat. So if you read "Weight Watchers" (or don't) try this.

CHOCOLATE ORANGE PIE

1 envelope (4 serving size) low-calorie chocolate pudding and pie filling
2 cups nonfat milk
One 8-inch Low-Calorie Crumb Crust
Orange sections (optional). . . .

Place pie filling mix in sauce pan. Add ¼ cup of the milk. Stir until blended. Add remaining milk. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Cool 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Spoon into crumb crust. Chill until firm, at least 2 hours. Garnish with orange sections. Makes one 8 inch pie, or 6 servings.

LOW-CALORIE CRUMB CRUST

¾ cup graham cracker crumbs (about 10 crackers)xx
1½ tablespoons melted butter. . . .

xx(Or use zwieback crumbs.)

Combine crumbs with butter. Press into an 8-inch pie pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 8 minutes. Cool thoroughly. About 425 calories in entire crust. About 70 calories in each 1-6 -slice of crust.

COOK'S TOUR

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK — Some ideas for entrees, eggs and left overs:

When you shop for the main course, either ham or lamb, remember that most roasts today have a small proportion of bone and fat to lean meat — so you will need to allow only 1-3 to one-half pound per serving for meat with the bone in, only one-fourth pound per serving for boneless roasts. Figure on more than one serving per person for hearty eaters.

Following are a few recipes and garnishing suggestions:

Glaze a ham with a spicy apple-orange mixture. Combine one cup of canned apple sauce with ¼ cup each of orange marmalade and chopped raisins, 2 tablespoons of vinegar and ⅛ teaspoon of ground cloves in a small saucepan. Bring to boil. Spoon over ham during the last 30 to 40 minutes of baking. Makes enough for a 10- to 12- pound ham.

Leg of lamb, a European tradition for special dinner is delicious with an untraditional minted crumb coating. Coat the roast with it during the last half hour of roasting — just long enough for the coating to brown. Mix together 1½ cups of fine dry bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon of chopped mint, ¼ cup of chopped fresh parsley, ½ teaspoon of seasoned salt and ¼ teaspoon each of pepper and celery salt. Makes enough for a 6-7 pound leg of lamb, bone in.

Even 1 cup of chunky pieces of leftover baked ham is enough for a main course of two portions. Render 1 tablespoon of cubed fat from the ham, or melt 1 tablespoon of butter or margarine in skillet on low heat. Blend in 3 tablespoons of brown sugar, 1 teaspoon of flour and ½ teaspoon of dry mustard. Stir in ¼ cup each of cider vinegar and water; cook until clear and thickened. Add the cup of ham, and stir until heated and well glazed. To extend servings, heat raisins or green pepper squares and drained pineapple chunks with the ham in the glaze. Serve on cooked rice or mashed sweet potatoes.

With 3 cups of leftover diced ham you can make a one-dish meal for 4 servings. Blend 1 (10½-ounce) can of condensed cream of mushroom soup with 1 cup of milk, 1 teaspoon of dehydrated vegetable flakes and ¼ teaspoon of celery seed in saucepan. Add the 3 cups of diced ham and 1 (10-ounce) package of frozen Italian cut green beans, cooked and drained. Place 4 medium cooked, peeled, sliced yams in casserole. Cover with ham and vegetable mixture. Bake 15 minutes or until hot in a preheated 350-degree oven.

Make fancy egg salad to serve as salad in hollowed-out tomatoes or as sandwich filling for pumpernickel bread. Chop 5 hard cooked eggs coarsely and mix lightly with ½ cup of diced celery. Stir together 1 tablespoon of sherry, 3 tablespoons of mayonnaise and ¼ cup of crumbled blue cheese. Blend dressing into eggs and celery. Makes 4 servings.

Try Onion-Cheese Casserole Dish

8 slices enriched bread
8 (1 ounce) slices process American cheese
3 cups thin onion rings
2 eggs
2 cups milk
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika. . . .

At Your Leisure: Trim crusts from bread. Place 4 slices bread across the bottom of an (8 inch) square baking pan. Place a cheese slice over each bread slice. Sprinkle half of onion rings over cheese. Repeat bread, cheese and onion layers. Cover and refrigerate.

When Mealtime Approaches: Beat eggs slightly; add milk, mustard, salt and paprika. Mix well and pour over mixture in baking pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 40 minutes. Serves six.

Answers To Food Questions

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Nutrition Editor

Q—What are amino acids?

A—They are the building blocks of protein and man obtains amino acids from the food protein he eats, such as meats, milk, eggs, fish and cereals. According to a recent article in Today's Health, "Protein found in the foods we eat cannot be utilized directly by our bodies as the molecules are too big to get through the delicate structures of our absorptive mechanisms. Thus, the proteins are broken down into amino acids by enzymes in the digestive tract These tiny amino acids are able to pass through the walls of the intestines into the blood stream and are then distributed to the body where they are needed. The amino acids are 'put back together' in almost unlimited varieties of combinations to construct the required body proteins. The best way to be sure you are providing your body with all of the essential amino acids is to eat a good variety of protein-rich foods each day."

Q—Is it true that oranges will cost more?

A—Undoubtedly, fresh juice oranges will be higher this year because of lower supply in Florida and California.

Q—Is it true that peanuts are in big supply now?

A—Yes. The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for this month place them as No. 1. Last year there was a record breaking crop of 2.5 billion pounds. That surplus continues to give ample supplies of peanuts and peanut products, such as peanut butter, peanut oil and many other peanut-realted products.

The same list of plentiful foods this April includes eggs. Egg supplies are bigher than last year. We have larger flocks and have more eggs per hen. So use them more frequently.

Cheese and milk products also are on the very plentiful list.

So are pork, potatoes and dry split peas. So buy these products for family meals. They all should be lower in price.

Dessert Combines Peaches, Almonds

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Here's a springlike dessert — frozen peach slices combined with rich topping made of heavy cream, yogurt and almond extract, and topped with toasted almonds. It's the kind of thing you won't have to plan to serve tomorrow. Everyone loves this kind of calorie-rich and very appetite teasing combination.

DOUBLE PEACH MOLD with ALMOND CREAM

2 packages (12 ounces each) frozen peach slices, thawed
3 packages (3 ounces each) peach gelatin
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
½ cup plain yogurt
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon almond extract
Slivered toasted almonds. .

Drain peach slices and reserve juice. Cut large peach slices into two thin slices. Add enough water to the juice to make 6 cups liquid. Bring 2 cups of the liquid to a boil and use to dissolve peach gelatin. Stir dissolved gelatin and lemon juice into remaining juice.

Arrange half the peach slices in a pattern around the bottom of a 6-cup ring mold. Spoon enough gelatin into mold to hold slices in place. Chill until firm. Add remaining gelatin to mold and chill until firm.

Mix cream, yogurt, sugar and almond extract. Dice remaining peaches and fold into cream. Dip mold into lukewarm water for a few seconds. Tap mold to loosen; invert on serving platter. Fill center with whipped cream mixture. Chil until ready to serve. Sprinkle cream with slivered toasted almonds.

Makes 1 9-inch ring mold.

Try Marmalade and Ham For Sunday Brunch Menu

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

If you are looking for something different for Sunday brunch, try this marmalade ham ring. Served warm, it is quite impressive and tastes particularly good.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that weekend shoppers will find ample supplies of meat and poultry and good stocks of some fresh vegetables and fruit in food stores and supermarkets.

Broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys head the list as being the most abundant meats. Pork cuts in the abundant category include chops, roasts, bacon and ham. Smoked picnics may be in the abundant class in some areas. Ample cuts of beef should also appear in most areas with roasts, ground beef, and steaks being featured. North Pacific halibut steaks and fish fillets are fish buys to watch for, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Cabbage, carrots, and potatoes are the most abundant available fresh vegetables. Celery may join this group in some areas. Fruits in the abundant class are bananas and apples; and grapefruit and oranges, in some areas.

MARMALADE HAM RING

Pkg. (13¾ oz.) hot roll mix
1 egg
6 tbsp. orange marmalade
2-3 Cans (4½ oz.) deviled ham
Orange Marmalade. . . .

Prepare dough according to package directions using egg, through first rising. Punch down, divide in half, refrigerating half until ready for shaping.

Roll half dough to 12x9-inch rectangle on floured surface. Spread almost to edges with 3 tablespoons marmalade, then with 1½ cans deviled ham. Starting with 12 inch side, roll jelly-roll fashion. Place on a greased baking sheet, seam side down, sealing ends together to form ring. With scissors, make cuts ½-inch apart around outer edge, 2-3 way through to inside of ring. Turn each slice on its side, cut side up, cover, let rise 15 minutes.

Bake at 425 degrees for 15 minutes until golden brown. Repeat for second ring. While still hot, "frost" top of rings with more marmalade. Each ring makes about 16 slices. Serve warm.

NOTE: Baked rings may be frozen and reheated (without thawing) at 350 degrees about 35 minutes, or refrigerated and reheated 15-20 minutes.

GREENER PASTURES

COVENTRY, England (UPI) —Husuf Daar, 25, a Kenya Asian who became Britain's first colored policeman, announced Monday he planned to quit the force. He said he had been "very happy" but was not earning enough money to get married.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My 21-year-old daughter is moving into her own apartment, and she claims that the furniture in her bedroom, the piano, and some other items are HERS to take along because I bought them for her —like her clothes.

I feel guilty not letting her take these things, because altho I DID buy them for her, they were for her convenience and comfort only as long as she lived at home.

Abby, if all my other children decided to move out and take their bedroom furniture, desks etc. with them, I would be left with an empty house, and I certainly can't afford to refurnish right now.

Have times changed so much in 25 years? When I left my mother's home, it never would have occurred to me to take anything but my clothing.

Please answer this in your column for other parents who must have been faced with this same problem.

B.B.J.

DEAR B.B.J.: You have no reason to feel guilty. Any mother's "child" who is old enough to leave home, should not expect to take half of "home" with him.

DEAR ABBY: Last week my sister had the flu, so I went to her house to help her out. I did her laundry and when I went to put it in her linen closet, I couldn't help but notice an unusually large supply of soap and toothpaste. They were "free samples"—the kind I recently got in the mail, addressed to "occupant."

My sister's husband is a postman, so this might give you a clue. Another thing I noticed, they have every magazine under the sun and they all have little square "holes" on the covers, where the names and addresses have been cut off.

If these magazines and all those free samples of soap and toothpaste are undeliverable, I am sure there are plenty of institutions that could use them.

If my brother-in-law is typical of all postmen, they must be the cleanest, sweetest-smelling men in town.

NO NAME, OHIO

DEAR NO NAME: I smell something—and it's not your brother-in-law. Ask your sister if she can explain the "free goods."

DEAR ABBY: For "Likes 'Em Real," who got in such a flap over foam-rubber fannies, etc., and suggested "truth in packaging," or verification cards for the ladies, may I suggest one for the gentlemen, too? One might read:

Hair: Natural color— Gray. Uses hair color. Also wears hair piece to cover baldness.

Teeth: Dentures. (Lost his own when hit in the mouth, after the "pinch test" for rubber fannies.)

Shoulders: Natural width — 32". With padded shoulders in jacket—44."

Chest: Actual measurement— 32". With abdominal belt — 44."

Waist: Actual measurement— 44." With abdominal belt — 32".

Height: Actual — 5'8". With elevated shoes — 6'1".

Many men could be in trouble under the same law, if it were passed. Right?

M.R.M.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Houston PTA Has Student Program

Sam Houston School Parent-Teacher Association met recently for a performance by students. Troop 120 directed the Pledge of Allegiance for the Fathers' Night program. LeRoy Kretzmeier was in charge of the program.

Charles Meech directed the Sam Houston band and Miss Eloise Lane the school's choir in the program. Miss Lillian Mullinax won the door prize which was baked by Mrs. L.G. Greer.

Members will meet at 2 p.m. May 9 in the auditorium for the next program.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

(FOR FRIDAY, APRIL 19)

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early part of the day finds you able to organize conditions in such a manner that your whole future can be more satisfactory but then later you want to make some drastic changes in such arrangements which would be most unwise, so be sure to let others see and realize you are the one who has it in your power to control such impulses.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) —You can cement better relations with one who is very vital in your life, but don't permit some other friend to interfere. Steer clear of social clique that does little other than gossip. Be profitably employed.

—TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) —Showing that you are wide awake to new outlets and interesting people gives you a chance to advance now. Keep out of the way of that pompous higher-up, though. Contact that expert who gives right advice.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) —Avoid that temptation to join with the ultra-ultra fashionable who could well be on the wrong tangent. Get the approval of the one who means the most to you instead. Show that you are a stable, intelligent person.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Morning is a good time to make the right contracts with associates, and if problems arise later, do something constructive about them. Remain cheerful even though others may be quite contentious.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Show others that you will do your fair amount of work, and then make conditions about you much better. Cooperate with co-workers in a.m. and then you can carry through on your own with true enthusiasm.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) —A different form of entertainment is all right during a.m. or in business matters, but be careful later in the day. Don't take any chances that could bring you ruin. Later you will be less radical.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) —Your kind expect you to attend to certain duties which it would be wise to do, though you may have other commitments. You need to have a firm foundation beneath you. Get busy and do just that.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Make the right decisions during a.m. and then go ahead and do work necessary to bring you success. Labor constructively. Be carful in driving and do not argue with others, or you get into trouble.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Others are doing their utmost to get ahead, so be sure you do the same, especially in the evening. Show that you have good practical sense and all is fine. Stop dreaming so much and get busy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — You are able to advance a vocational interest during the morning, but tonight take care you are not spending extra-vagantly. Show others your finest talents and you get big results. Stop fooling around.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Show allies that you are capable of keeping a secret in a.m. and then see what you can do to better your future. Assist one who is in trouble during morning. Studying would be fine tonight. Be better informed.

PICSES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) —Listen to what a good pal has to say in a.m. so that you have more success in the days ahead, then get busy handling unfavorable situations quietly. Some personal aim can be achieved during morning, too.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY. . . he, or she, will be one of those charming young people who has constructive ideas during early youth and will early accomplish a good deal ina financial way, but later in life this person will want to get into all sort of New Era outlets.

Women Hear Report On Norman Rockwell

Twentieth Century Forum met recently in the home of Mrs. McHenry Lane, 1815 Williston. The president, Mrs. H. Joe Franklin, presided over the business meeting, and welcomed two new members to the group, Mrs. B. J. Storseth and Mrs. Emory Davis.

The program was presented by Mrs. Robert W. Harmon who discussed the life and works of Norman Rockwell.

Norman Rockwell was born in 1894 in what he describes as "the back bedroom of a shabby brownstone front on 103rd St. in New York City.

"At a young age his talent was apparent, but this did not prevent him from leading the exciting life of a normal, city-bred boy. He studied first at the National Academy and later at the Art Students League, where small freelance jobs helped to pay his way through school," Mrs. Harmon said.

"In 1911 he did his first job of illustrating, a children's book entitled 'Tell Me Why Stories'. Most of his early work involved children. He painted them from what he imagined was their viewpoint. He treated their activities and concerns seriously, almost humorlessly with the grave romanticism in over-all conception and the strict realism in details which he thought characterized their view of themselves," she said.

"He did his first cover for The Saturday Evening Post in 1916, and continued to do them more than 40 years. Some of his covers include the memorable "Rosie the Riveter", "Casey the Politician", and the much acclaimed "Four Freedoms". His work has also appeared in books, stories, calendars, advertisements, and on the covers of numerous magazines.

"Rockwell will always be remembered for his portraits of presidential candidates. He has painted portraits of Dwight Eisenhower, Adlai Stevenson, Richard Nixon, and John F. Kennedy.

"Opinions vary greatly in the world of art about Norman Rockwell. It's naturally difficult to take seriously an artist who provides as much fun as he does, and he is not often taken seriously by the people who live in the world of the fine arts," she said.

"He is qualified because he knows the craft of putting life in the round on a flat surface. His work evokes a response which in terms of people is probably greater than that of any artist who ever lived. This vast audience responds naturally, without art- appreciation classes, and it appears to include a full range of intellectual, environmental, and age levels.

"When the last half century is explored by the future, a few paintings will continue to communicate with the same immediacy that they have today. Many believe that some of Norman Rockwell's will be among them," Mrs. Harmon concluded.

Art Club Sponsors Exhibits

The Pampa Art Club sponsored a tea and an exhibit recently at Lovett Memorial Library.

The club is the oldest art club in Pampa having organized in 1948. The purpose of the club is to have fellowship and help each other with painting and working on crafts.

The art club also promoted art and is responsible for keeping a changing display of paintings at the Coronado Inn and the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. Every year the club donates art books to the Lovett Memorial Library. The current project is a set of Art Encyclopedia with a volumn being added each year.

Members participating are: Mrs. Vernon Hall, president; Mrs. C. P. Pursley, general chairman, and Mmes. A. D. Hills, A. C. Houchin, A C. Cox, Jack Crites, O. W. Appelby, Clyde Vanderburg, Cecil Shirley, John Parker, Walter Flynnt, Gerald Doggett, Gordon Lyons, Fred Hart, Given Vance, Dewey Palmitier, Ann Heskew, and James McCune and Dr. E. T. Hicks.

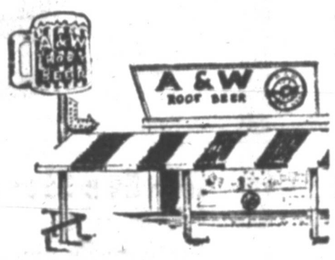

Several paintings and crafts by members were displayed.

Crafts to be dssplayed were metal sculpture, copper enamel, papier mache, jewelry (copper enamel, cast silver and gold, hand wrought silver), china (hand painted), contour glass ceramics.

Canned shrimp that have been pre-chilled tend to hold shape and texture better. when added to hot mixtures. Pre-chilling in the can firms the meat, helps shrimp stay curled, plump, pink, and unbroken in the can until ready for use. If you rinse the shrimp before using, always use cool rinse water.

Water Importation To West Texas Discussed Monday at Groom Meet

GROOM (Spl) — Water importation to West Texas and Eastern New Mexico can be a reality in 20 years, Col. Cliff Chamberlain, executive director of Water, Inc. told a group of Young Farmers Monday night in Groom.

But it can only succeed if it has widespread support in the areas to be benefitted, he emphasized.

Chamberlain outlined plans being considered for importation and outlined possible routes.

A reconnaissance plan for water importation to West Texas and Eastern New Mexico is expected to be completed by 1972.

The reconnaissance plan is expected to be the first concrete step toward realization of the multi-million dollar dream conceived last year by Water, Inc. (Water Assn. to Enrich Resources).

The reconnaissance study is being carried out by the Bureau of Reclamation under a $200,000 appropriation made by Congress. An additional $467,000 was requested by President Johnson in his 1969 budget.

Purpose of the reconnaisance will be to study the feasibility of different routes for water importation.

"We're still considering several sources," Col. Chamberlain said.

These include the northwest part of the North American continent, the Columbia River basin, the East Texas basin, the Mississippi river basin and the Central American area.

Col. Chamberlain emphasized that dove-tailing reports by the Bureau of Reclamation and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers would most likely wield the most influence on the final decision. Indications are now that the Corps of Engineers favor the Mississippi River plan.

But he pointed out that none of the plans was finalized and a decision could be fluid because of political factors.

SINGLE MINDED

DENVER (UPI)—The University of Denver student senate has proved its willingness to take no for an answer.

A referendum to be conducted by the senate was called off Tuesday when it was discovered that ballots on the proposed rule change contained space only for "yes" votes.

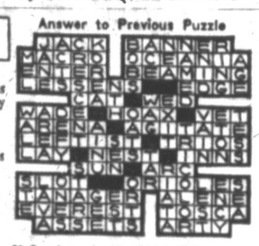

JOLLY TAXPAYER

CHICAGO (UPI)—Want to know what's new besides "ho ho ho?" The Jolly Green Giant earned $600 last year as a pea-picker.

At least, it is so alleged on a 36-by-26-inch blowup of Form 1040 received just before the Monday night deadline at the Internal Revenue Service office here. The return was prepared by Elmer Ely, an accountant.

Seminar Slated By Two C.L.U. Organizations

A lawyer who specializes in the areas of trusts and estates and is a recognized authority on business and estate planning will be in Canyon Wednesday, April 24, to speak at an all-day seminar co-sponsored by the Amarillo and Lubbock Chapters of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters and the Department of Continuing Education, Bryn Mawr, Penn.

Lecturing at the morning session will be Robert J. Piro, Esq., a graduate of the University of Texas Law School and associated with the firm of Baker, Botts, Shepherd and Coates in Houston. He will lecture on "Recent Developments in Texas Community Property Law—Impact on Life Ins. and Estate Planning." Gerald J. Randall, C.L.U., Director, Business and Estate Plans, Connecticut Mutual Life Ins. Co., Hartford, will discuss "Using the Corporate and Trust Dollar to Solve Personal Problems."

The West Texas C.L.U. Seminar will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Old Administration Bldg., West Texas State University. Arrangements for the seminar are being handled locally by E. L. Henderson, C.L.U., and Myron Marx, C.L.U., both members of the Amarillo chapter. Tickets are available from either of the men, MO 4-2943 or MO 4-3521. The cost is $12 per person which includes luncheon at the University and the Seminar notebook. The program is designed to be of particular interest to insurance men, attorneys, accountants and trust officers.

The Amarillo and Lubbock Chapters are two of 165 chapters of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters, the national professional organization for persons in life and health insurance who hold the C.L.U. designation. The Society has more than 1,200 members throughout the U.S.

TOO LATE

LONDON (UPI)—The wine firm of Peter Dominic got the money, but it apparently didn't deliver the goods.

The order for 500 gallons of "best Marsala wine" which recently came to light in the firm's files, was sent in on March 19, 1800, by Adm. Lord Nelson. The order is marked "Paid," but there is no record of delivery.

Pampa Plays Lubbock

By CURTIS MONTGOMERY
Sports Editor

Now is the time for all good fans to come to the aide of the Harvesters.

The place is Optimist Park. The time is 4 p.m. tomorrow. The subject on the agenda is a game invented some time ago by one Abner Doubleday. It's called baseball.

The Harvesters won only three games in the initial round of District 3-AAAA play, but tomorrow is another day and another brand spankin' new round of play.

Coach Bobby Stephens said this morning he will put his team on the diamond unless it snows. However, the weather bureau stated this morning that chances of snow are nil but there will be some showers this afternoon and a little chilly but no rain Friday.

There will be decreasing cloudiness tomorrow and no fat chance of precipitation for the time at which the game is scheduled.

Stephens plans to start Dick Henley if the star hurler's back muscle is healed. Henley was caught in a run down in Tuesday's game with Plainview and suffered a bad strain.

If Henley, who beat Lubbock in the first outing by 4-1, does not start tomorrow, Hal Clabaugh—magnificent in defeat Saturday against the Amarillo Sandstorm—will go to the mound for PHS.

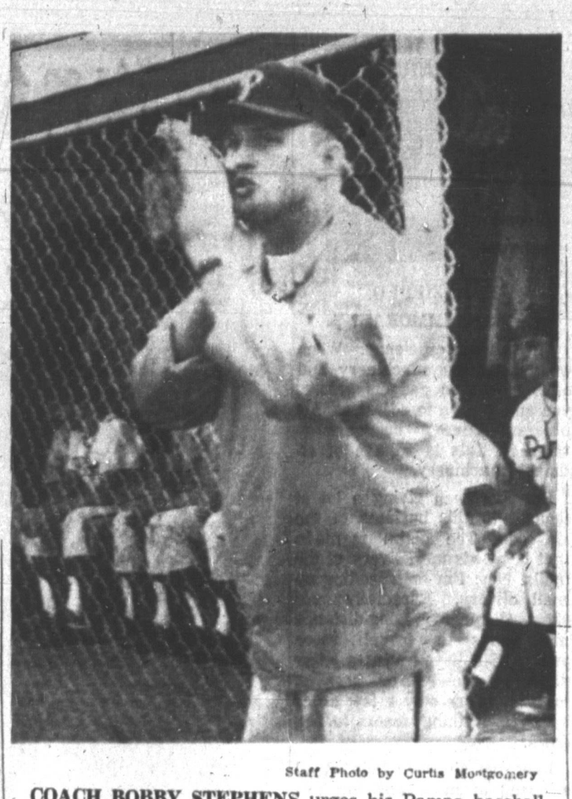

Claubaugh will hold down the hot corner if Henley is on the mound and vice versa if Clabaugh is on the mound Henley will be at the third sack.

Monterey-rated by the coaches in District 3-AAAA in a preseason poll as the top team in the league—will be coming to Pampa Saturday to face the Stephens-men, at 1 p.m.

Stephens's squad, led by the now departed Alan Woodard, drummed the Monterey bunch in Lubbock in the first half by 5-0.

Stephens line up for tomorrow's game at which a wrap would be in order will be about the same.

John Jenkins will start at first. At second base will be Larry Turcotte at Short, Alvin Oshord who hit two round trippers in one game early in the year; in the outfield, Gary Parrish, Mike Stephens and former catcher and now ace outfielder Steve Summers. Energetic Eddie Hopkins will be behind the plate catching those pills for Pampa.

COACH BOBBY STEPHENS urges his Pampa baseball team on toward a 3-2 victory over the Palo Duro Dons last Friday. The Harvesters get a fresh start in the District 3-AAAA baseball race Friday with the Lubbock High School team coming to Pampa's Optimist Park to play at 4 p.m..

LITTLE LEAGUE TRYOUTS END TODAY IN PAMPA

This is the final day for tryouts for getting on a Little League baseball team for the summer of '68.

Yesterday was the final day for boys of ages nine and 10 and today at 5:30 p.m. was the final date for trying out for boys of ages 11 and 12.

The "auction" will be held Friday to decide who gets whom, and the action should be heated, according to American Little League President Charlie Hammons.

Hammons said today they have been having good turnouts for the tryouts the first three days.

If there is a boy who wants to play but did not make it out this week for some reason, call MO 5-5637 and tell President Hammons or MO 4-2942 and talk to National League President Ed Henley.

SURGERY SUCCESSFUL

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—Linebacker Tommy Addison, captain of the Boston Patriots American Football League team, was expected to be ready for summer training camp after successful surgery Wednesday to repair a torn cartilage in his left knee.

Booster Club To Meet Again

The Harvester Booster Club, formerly the Quarterback Club, which seeks to support the Pampa school system's athletic program in all facets, will hold a meeting next Tuesday instead of Monday because of conflicting events at the high school cafeteria.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night in the PHS cafeteria. One topic of discussion will be the upcoming basketball banquet at which the featured speaker will be former All-American Jim Bond, cousin of PHS postman on the 67-68 team, Beau Bond.

Rev. Bond, who chose to go to Pasadena College instead of a big school such as Kentucky, which had expressed an interest in him, now pastors the College Church of the Nazarene in Nampa, Idaho.

Former Sports Editor of the Daily News here, Warren Hasse, said recently, "Pampa has been fortunate to have had as many good boys as we have had. But Jimmy Bond is one of the very best."

The banquet is slated for April 29 at the PHS cafeteria. Tickets can be purchased at many of the businesses in the Pampa area: Tarpley's Music Store, Richard Drug, Thompson's Parts, and several individuals about town. Call the high school or Coach Terry Culley for tickets.

Weldon Trice, PHS vice-principle, expressed a deep concern yesterday about the number of people who attended the "name-changing" meeting recently at which many of the plans for the banquet were made. Less than two dozen were present.

Trice hopes more people will attend the meeting this time to show their interest in an all-around athletic program and make more plans for the club.

Trice said, "The tickets are going like hot cakes." Buzz Tarpley has called Trice for more tickets. They are about out of adult tickets. All together counting students we have sold 200 adults at $2.50. The student ticket is $1.00.

Trice said that Bond, the speaker at the banquet was possibly one of the best Christian boys who has ever played in Pampa. This opinion is shared by many of the local citizens.

Bailey Makes All-Academic

The All West Texas Academic Basketball Teams have been announced by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. And Pampa's George Bailey was on the first team in AAAA.

Boys and Girls teams were named in all classifications which fielded teams. To quality for nomination to these teams the students had to be classified as seniors, maintain much better than average grades and he must have been selected to represent his school on an all district team.

President Wooten stated "We feel that exceptional academic achievement in addition to athletic ability should be recognized and encouraged in West Texas high schools. Too often there is too much honor bestowed for athletic achievement without regard to scholastic attainment."

Because of Texas Interscholastic rules there will not be any prizes awarded to these honorees. A letter of selection has been mailed to each student selected on the teams and a copy of the letter sent to his coach. Announcement of the selections will be made in the individual schools at proper school functions.

Earlier in the year All West Texas Academic Football teams were named for all classes from AAAA to B.

The Education Committee of the WTCC anticipates that the naming of these Academic Athetic teams will become an annual event so that greater emphasis will be placed upon the "total education" of the student.

TWO MORE STARS

Two area high school basketball players along with Pampa's George Bailey have been named on the West Texas All Academic team, Terri Bryant of Lefors and Mike Helton of Groom.

Miss Bryant averaged 18 points per game according to her coach and in the class room she averaged 96.8. Helton averaged 95.3.

Bailey averaged 93.2 on the AAAA team.

GEORGE BAILEY added another honor today with the announcement that the senior Pampa Harvester forward has been selected for the All-West Texas Academic Team which was selected from more than 400 high schools in 132 counties. Bailey is being sought by numerous universities and colleges along with several other senior Harvesters, but none of Coach Terry Culley's team has decided on a college as yet.

Celtics Hold On By Hair

By DICK DEW
UPI Sports Writer

BOSTON (UPI)—The entire National Basketball Association season comes down to one game on Friday night between the title favored Philadelphia 76ers and their aged but willing Boston Celtic challengers.

The Eastern Division championship, and with it the role of heavy favorite in the NBA playoff finals against Los Angeles, will be settled when those two teams tangle in the seventh and final game in their best-of-seven series at Philadelphia.

That was ordained Wednesday night when the Celtics, who once dominated the pro basketball sport, called on aching muscles and tired bones for a 114-106 victory.

The decision, before 14,780 screaming partisans at Boston Garden, deadlocked the series at three wins each and left the Celtics only one victory short of an unprecedented comeback. No NBA team has ever fallen behind, three games to one and come back to win a seven game set.

But there was still a crucial win to go and 76er Coach Alex Hannum was confident when he remarked, "We worked all season long getting the home court advantage. We've still got it."

The socalled home court advantage has been anything but in these Eastern finals, however, since Philadelphia already has been beaten twice at home and the Celtics got decked twice at the Garden.

Captain John Havlicek led the Boston attack with 28 points, ten rebounds and six assists over a grueling 48 minutes.

The Celtics staggered to the Wednesday night triumph despite a fantastic shooting performance by Philadelphia's Hal Greer. He collected 40 points by hitting on 15 of 24 floor shots and ten for 13 from the foul line.

The Celtics front office force, displaying supreme confidence, announced that if Boston wins Friday night, the final series with Los Angeles will open at the Garden on Sunday afternoon and continue there Tuesday evening.

Pipers, Bucs Go For All The Marbles Today

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pipers and the New Orleans Buccaneers begin playing for all the marbles tonight when they open their best-of seven American Basketball Association championship play off series at the Civic Arena here.

Pittsburgh Coach Vince Cazzetta figured the series to be a tight duel but felt the Pipers had the advantage with the first two games scheduled for the team's home court.

"It will take the breaks to win," Cazzetta said. "The teams are similar in styles and average about the same in height. The Bucs, like us, resort to fast breaks."

It was fast breaks, quick moves down floor and snappy passing that carried the Pipers to a first place finish in the ABA's Eastern Division and seven victories in eight division playoff games with Indiana and Minnesota.

Cazzetta said victories in both home games would provide the Pipers with the lift that could give them the league title.

"But if we lose one of the first two in Pittsburgh it will be tough," he said.

The second game in the playoff series will be played at the Arena Saturday night. The next two wil be in New Orleans April 24-25. If they are necessary, the fifth will be in Pittsburgh April 27, the sixth in New Orleans May 1 and the seventh in Pittsburgh May 4.

Roberto Gets Mucho Sympathy

NEW YORK (UPI)—Roberto De Vicenzo's plight in the Masters won him a lot of sympathy—but it's not going to cause the U.S. Golf Association to change its scoring rules.

The USGA has been the target of much criticism because De Vicenzo lost a shot at a playoff when he signed an incorrect scorecard. Golf association has said it will continue to present policy but welcomes any constructive suggestions for improvement of the rule.

Hord W. Hardin, president of the USGA, defended the rule as the "best known solution" to the problem of keeping score in major tournaments.

Hardin said systems with someone other than the players keeping the scores have proved unsatisfactory in the past.

"So many errors and other problems arose from the use of non-players that a number of years ago, the USGA decided to appoint only players as scorers for one another," he said.

Under the current rules of golf, a player if obliged to check the scorecard kept by his opponent and then sign it to indicate he accepts it as correct. Once a card is signed, no alteration is permitted.

De Vicenzo, in his excitement, failed to notice that Tommy Aaron had put him down for a "4" on the 17th hole instead of the "3" he actually shot. The penalty shot gave him a 278 total to a 277 by winner by Bob Goalby.

FRIEND PITCHING

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Bob Friend, former frontline pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates who retired from baseball to become Allegheny County controller, docked himself a half day's pay Wednesday to attend the Pirates home opener.

Friend, who tossed out a ball before the Pittsburgh-Houston game, spared taxpayers the cost of his extra-curricular activities by notifying the county payroll office to dock him $25 for the time spent at the ballpark.

TENNIS WINNERS

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—Tom Okker of the Netherlands and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., captured the men's doubles championship in the South African tennis Tournament Monday with a 6-3, 6-2, 3-6, 4-6, 6-3 triumph over defending Wimbledon doubles champions Bob Hewitt and Frew McMillan.

Houston Stars Sparkle in Win

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Houston Stars opened their home season Wednesday night in the Astrodome with an impressive 5-0 win over the Toronto Falcons.

Houston picked up nine points with the win bringing their total to 22 in North American Soccer League play.

HARVEY ON TAP

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Doug Harvey, 43-year-old playercoach of the Kansas City Blues, was called up Wednesday by St. Louis for the deciding game with Philadelphia in the National Hockey League's Western Division semi-final Stanley Cup playoffs.

THOMFORDE CAPTAIN

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI)—Center Chris Thomforde, who averaged 12.2 points a game this season, was elected captain of the Princeton basketball team Wednesday for the 1968-69 season.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Digests Scorns Nostrums

Made-in-Washington nostrums are adding to the sickness of America's cities instead of alleviating it, according to author Earl Selby writing in the April issue of Reader's Digest. Thus, for the third time in recent months, the Digest takes practical and moral issue with a major governmental program which, supposedly designed to solve problems, has actually created them and, in the process, taken this nation deeper into the swamp of socialism.

In earlier issues, the Digest exposed the so-called Social Security program as a bankrupt nightmare of fiscal insanity and the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) to be operating, in many instances, more like the Mafia than a public service.

The "made-in-Washington nostrum" scored by Selby in the Digest is that of "federal aid" and its application to so-called urban-renewal and welfare programs.

"While protesting its devotion to the dispossessed, the federal government itself has been a major cause of driving the poor deeper into 'ghettoes,'" says Selby, reporting on a three-year study of federal aid to cities.

Quoting Professor Scott Greer, of the center for Metro Greer, of the center for Metropolitan Studies at Northwestern University, Selby noted that "government urban renewal programs, costing three billion dollars, have 'materially reduced the supply of low-cost housing.' Its FHA policies, oriented to the suburbs, have encouraged middle-class whites to flee the cities. Its welfare policies pouring in as much as two billion dollars a year in rental payments for families who can find only substantial housing, have been a 'slumlord's' best friend."

The result, the author points out, is a truly vicious cycle in which federal policies help render cities less able to pay their way thus forcing them to look increasingly to Washington for "salvation." As recently as 1932, Selby said, local governments collected more than 50 per cent of all taxes; by 1967, they were down to 14 per cent.

But how much does, or can, Washington know about the needs of individual localities? the author asks.

Very little, if any, according to evidence documented in the Digest article. For example, says Selby, Labor Secretary Wirtz testified in 1966 that in every metropolitan area there were 15 to 30 separate manpower programs, all supported by federal funds and all operating in isolation to the confusion of prospective "clients."

In over 30 years the author added, the federal government has committed over $7.7 billion for low rent housing units; yet, "less than one tenth of one per cent of all government research and development funds has gone to find new techniques in housing and urban affairs."

And again, according to the author, a total of seven billion dollars was spent by government on cash and food grants for welfare recipients in 1966; but, says Selby, "according to social scientist Daniel Moynihan, nothing was done to give welfare clients the basic resources that people need to go into the world, which is a reasonably stable family a reasonably stable neighborhood."

What stands out in all of this, the author concludes, "is a sense of what one local expert calls 'an innocence of local problems' on the part of federal planners. . .centralized bureaucratic decisions" are substituted "for on-the-spot determinations."

Local planners, with hands outstretched for Washington plunder, might take note.

Barr Risks Losing His Job

"I'll either get fired or impeached before I get out. . ."

This was the comment of Undersecretary of the Treasury Joseph W. Barr after telling the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the United States cannot have both its guns in Vietnam and butter at home.

His was the unregimented answer to this most serious problem confronting America today — and he stands to lose his job because he spoke his honest conviction.

The sad truth is that the Johnson Administration isn't facing up to the facts of life. Politics or no politics the U. S. must show her ability to balance the budget or fail to regain the confidence of the free world in the value of the American dollar. Continued lack of confidence in the gold crisis will tumble the temporary two — price system on gold and lead to devaluation of the dollar, with the danger of a subsequent world-wide depression of grave proportions.

Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee insisted on concrete evidence that President Johnson will cut domestic expenditures by about ten billions before the committee will approve an additional surtax of the same amount. He has good reason, because there's a big credibility gap between White House promises and performance. And performance is necessary if we're going to prevent a rise in the price of gold — which means dollar devaluation.

Officials who are in a position to know recognize the danger. Barr has the courage to say so. Our friends in the free world and the international bankers passed the word to President Johnson when they adopted the two — price system in order to give the U.S. time ot act. The President isn't acting.

We commend both Undersecretary Barr and Chairman Mills for their forthright, courage and principles.

The Spiraling Tax Take

Even without an income tax surcharge, Americans will be paying more in taxes this year than they did last year.

According to Tax Foundation estimates, the total federal state and local government tax take will be $217 billion in fiscal year 1968 (July 1, 1967 to June 30, 1968). This would be an increase of $10 billion over fiscal 1967.

Federal tax collections are expected to rise to $148 billion in 1968 from $1 billion in 1967. State and local collections will climb from $46 billion to $69 billion.

It all figures out to about $3,550 in taxes for each American family in 1968 —up $134 from the previous year and nearly double the amount 10 years ago.

"Economic growth" of the country is credited for the rise in federal income. The federal tax rate has remained unchanged since it was cut in that long ago, halcyon year of 1964. It's on the state level that taxes have both increased in rate and multiplied in scope.

Seven new state income and retail sales taxes, plus 49 increases in existing sales, income, gasoline, cigarette and selected excise taxes were enacted by the several starts last year. Thirty states now levy both general sales and income taxes.

On the local level, property taxes supply seven-eighths of county, city and village income.

IS UNZIPPED MAIL IMMORAL?

I'm all for efficiency. When we use modern machinery and have electronic gadgets galore, you and I have to adjust to this process. There's no question about it. This is an age of efficient machinery.

But I've been giving a lot of thought to this business of the zip code. The claim is made that it speeds up delivery of the mails. Now I'm for speeding up mail dlivery. Especially over short distances. Long-distance mail seems to travel more swiftly. But if you want a letter delivered locally, or between towns that are only a few miles apart, everything seems to bog down.

Does the zip code help? Well a friend of mine sent out two letters to the same person on the same day; one with the zip code, the other without. The one without the zip code arrived a day ahead of the other.

The published propaganda about the zip code is that by using it, letters can be sorted by machine. This would certainly be helpful. Going over all the mail by hand, with one pair of eyes having to read each address, and make decisions about it, is bound to be tedious and time-consuming.

May I suggest that you check your local post office and take a good look at the machine they have that helps them sort the mail electronically. (My post office doesn't have one. The zip code doesn't help our local postmaster one bit. In fact, if he added the machine he'd have to have a bigger post office, because he couldn't get it into the present building.)

But what about the machine? Well, it may be that a few of them have been put in the big post office buildings at strategic spots around the country. But most mail isn't routed through them. Or perhaps it is, and that's what's taking the time. If, for instance, there's a big machine in Chicago, then mail from the entire Midwest may have to be routed to Chicago first in order to obtain local delivery. So a fellow in Minneapolis writing to a friend in St. Paul, may have his letter go to Chicago first for sorting. If so, it helps to explain why it takes so long to communicate the ten miles between the Twin Cities. Perhaps that's what's holding things up.

But let's inquire as to just what kind of wisdom the machine must have in order to adapt itself to everyone's handwriting and to all the printed ways of reproducing the nine digits and the zero of the arabic numeral system we employ. One and zero are easy. It might be that a machine could be made which could determine the difference betwen a one and a zero no matter how you did it. But what about such contrary fifures as eight and three? Even in print they are so nearly identical that most of us have developed a kind of sixth sense in deciphering Grandma's scrawl. We know what she intended when she wrote the number.

Machines aren't telepathic.

we've been warned for years about the IBM cards that have the little rectangular holes. We are told not to mutilate, fold or even bend these cards. Why? Because the slightest deviation in the precision of the punched hole gives the IBM computers the whim whams.

You think you can take a miscellaneous fist-full of mail addressed in nearly indecipherable scribbles, as well as in neat, clear type, and the machine can iron out the variations? Somebody's got to be kidding. Either you can fold, spindle and mutilate IBM cards and the machine won't mind, or you've got to follow one particularly style in affixing the zip code and if you don't the machine will mind.

You know what I think? I think the boys in the govern ment are doing nothing more than trying to condition us to abandon our names and go around with numbers. And the government wil issue us little stamps that will make the IBM machines very happy course, we'll all be unhappy until we're thoroughly conditioned. After that, at least in theory, we won't give a hoot.

Oh' well. Now that the price of postage has gone up again, very few of us will be able to afford letter writing anyway.

Communist Buildup in Laos, Thailand, And Safe Areas of N. Vietnam Reported Following Bombing Cut-Back

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — That bright Vietnam peace glow is beginning to look more and more like a dark smoke screen to cover a new Communist buildup in Southeast Asia.

Now that the U.S. and North Vietnam are on the threshold of direct talks, Hanoi is moving increasingly large numbers of troops and supplies into Laos and Thailand.

This apparent move to widen the Vietnam conflict into a full-scale Southeast Asian war started late in 1967 and appears to have escalated in the past month.

Since President Johnson put into effect the so-called "Acheson-Rostow" plan of systematically cutting back on U.S. bombing of North Vietnam and Communist-held areas in Laos, Hanoi's troop and supply movements in these two countries have more than tripled.

The Johnson administration's de-escalation plan prepared by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Dr. Walt Rostow, controversial White House adviser, halted the bombing first at the 20th parallel, with progressive halts following at the 19th, 18th, and later the 17th parallel — the dividing line between North and South Vietnam.

The North Vietnamese immediately began taking advantage of the staged bombing halt to move tons and tons of supplies from Haiphong harbor, through which comes 85 per cent of their military imports from Russia and China, into newly built bases in Laos and areas of North Vietnam off-limit to U.S. bombers.

Other military supplies and a considerable number of Chinese Communist troops are being rushed into North Vietnam over the two rail lines and the eight main truck routes from the mainland of China, as bridges and tunnels are repaired.

OPENING NEW FRONTS — In addition to restocking all their military supply bases in Laos and Cambodia, the North Vietnamese military forces are widening the guerrilla war in Thailand on another front.

The new battle area is in the eastern part of Chiang Rai Province in northern Thailand along the mountainous border with Laos.

According to Thailand's intelligence, the new terrorist groups are a mixture of North Vietnamese, mountain tribesmen, Thai communists, and Chinese communists trained at the guerrilla center of Ho Binh, 50 miles south of Hanoi.

In their latest report to U.S. military advisers, Thailand army officials stated that they have killed already several hundred North Vietnamese. From the scene, these officers estimate that in the past month more than 1,000 Communist terrorists moved into this new front in Thailand.

In the country's southern panhandle, Thai army officials have been fighting Communist guerrillas for more than a year. These forces appear to get their arms from Malayan Communists and from Cambodia.

CHINESE GETTING READY —Even more ominous is the Central Intelligence Agency's most recent report of a substantial buildup in recent months of a vast military logistical base in Southern China along the borders of Laos and North Vietnam.

U.S. intelligence in Hong Kong sent an estimate earlier this month to Washington that more than 250,000 Chinese Communist military personnel are now in North Vietnam.

This CIA estimate compares with the State Department's announced figure of 50,000 Chinese support troops in North Vietham for repair work on the transportation systems and air defense.

Another 20,000 to 30,000 Chinese troops are also known to be camped in northern Laos, apparently waiting to move into the southern section of that strife-torn country on a signal from either Hanoi or Peking.

China has an army of 2,500,000 well-trained men, organized into 170 combat divisions. As long as the port of Haiphong is open, the Chinese Communists can turn Vietnam into another Korea —if they choose. Without this strategic port, U. S. intelligence experts say, Peking could not supply a large invasion force for any length of time in Vietnam due to the limited transportation facilities.

Several highranking U.S. intelligence officers have warned the White House the President's onesided de-escalation plan could lead to a wider war in Southeast Asia, not peace in Vietnam.

COSTLY MISTAKE — While the President's military advisers are not openly condemning the latest curtailment of U. S. bombing of North Vietnam, they aren't happy about it.

General John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, and one of the most outspoken proponents of continuing the bombing of North Vietnam, in private talks with members of Congress, attacked the new limitations in carefully chosen language. He argued that "direct air attacks and interdiction strikes are the most dynamic factors influencing the outcome of the war in Vietnam."

As a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, all of whom opposed the recent curtailment, General McConnell told lawmakers the bombing is necessary to keep the North Vietnamese from launching a Korea-type invasion of South Vietnam.

Despite the new F111A fighter-bombers' poor record in Vietnam, General McConnell said the Air Force will "be successfull in realiding the expected dividends, from this new weapon system after it is fully tested in battle."

VIETNAM FALLOUT — Captured Communist documents in Vietnam suggest Hanoi is ready for months of grueling bargaining and a lot more fighting in the months ahead. Their objective: "disintegrate and isolate" both the U.S. and South Vietnam government from the rest of the world so both can be toppled by a combination of internal and external forces. Hanoi's immediate objective is to get a total cessation of air strikes before the end of May. The North Vietnamese have left a top CIA agent in their country. His connection with the super-secret agency has been known by Hanoi for several months.

The American Way

BY D. R. SEGAL

Wouldn't you know it! Just last week I got an invitation to the White House and now it turns out to be from a lame duck politician.

I expect invitations to the Mansion are going pretty cheap these days and it's a fact I never made it back when it Really Meant Something. Mostly us Texas boys would be invited to the ranch for barbecue and at one time I think I enjoyed the distinction of being the only employed journalist in the state who hadn't been asked. I never assayed as high as the White House, but I thought it wouldn't have hurt him none to have thrown another chicken on the pit and invited me to the ranch. How it came about I was invited to the White House is not greatly to my credit either, inasmuch as I got the invitation under false coloration, as you might say. You see, I am nominally the hancho of a Spanish-language publication, in addition to my other backbreaking duties; and I am on the list of Latin American editors the Administration has been wooing pretty good for the past year or two. The State Department has periodic "briefings" on foreign policy—these consisting of some pretty slick news management and an hour or two of cocktails on the taxpayers. I haven't been attending, not being much for this form of recreation (news-managing, not cocktails) and when Dean Rusk asked me to come out and hear all about it a few weeks ago, I put the letter in Deep Six. But I'll be dogged if I didn't get a telegram just the other day asking me to come by the White House while I was in town, using a special door. (I will not disclose which door, believing as I do in voluntary censorship where our country's security is involved. (I lost the telegram anyway, so I guess I couldn't attend if I wanted to.)

I don't know why Lyndon is messing around with us Latinos any more. We're pretty much in the pocket of Don Roberto from New York. When Ted came to Texas the kids followed him around shouting, "Viva! Kennedy." I guess some of them thought he was John F. and others had been promised refreshments.

It occurs to me that with Lyndon out of it if one may believe what he said we liberals are free to go where our heart truly lies, with Bobby. Just the other day I visited a university campus and I should say six out of ten were very much in favor of Bobby. If they ever let 18 and 19-year-olds vote, he's got it made.

But, in the meantime, I have some doubts about Lyndon. Why did he invite me to the White House if he knew he was getting out of partisan (what other kind is there?) politics? Notice he said he would not accept his party's nomination. Does that mean he'd accept the nomination of the GOP or the States' Rights Party, or the Prohibitionists? Surely not the last-mentioned.

They say Lyndon wants to be a statesman in the history books. Them ears would take up lots of Mount Rushmore granite. But I am not entirely sure he's out of politics any more than an old fox ever gives up chicken-stealing.

Not while he's breathing anyway.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK J. MARKEY

There's no doubt General Douglas MacArthur's name will live in our history, but we wonder why the Post Office Department has never issued a commemorative stamp in his honor. Less than four months after the death of Sir Winston Cuurchill, a Britisher, he was honored with a U.S. stamp and it only took three months following the death of Adlai Stevenson to bring out another honoring his achievements. We doubt if either ever did as much for the U.S. as MacArthur during a lifetime of distinguished military service. Now it is four years after MacArthur passed on and it's curious that no one has thought of honoring his illustrious deeds.

Today's smile: A college coed said to her pal: "I understand that young man from Chicago is teaching you to play golf. What have you learned so far?" Her pal answered: "I've learned he's 21, single, has an offer of a good job after commencement, and just inherited $30,000."

Well, it's got so you can't even kill your own hog. Back in Iowa a grand jury has indicted a farmer cause he shot his hogs. Of course, they had to dig pretty deep to find a law to do it.

What they done was go back to a law passed in 1919 that says you have to notify the health department before you do any slaughterin.

It just goes to show that we have got so many laws on the books now that we are all lawless one way or another. We might not know about it but if the bureaucrats want to persecute you they have got a law around somewheres to do it with.

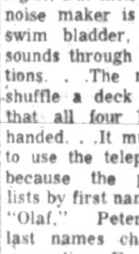

There's a law around someplace else that says you ain't supposed to thrust your sickle into another man's corn. But that don't apply to hogs, I guess that don't apply to hogs, I guess.

I was figuring to decapitate a chicken for supper tonight. But I suppose I had better call up the health department first to check on it. Imight get myself indicted.

You should always read the fine print in any contract you sign to buy an automobile, washing machine or other appliance on a time-sales basis because there's where the seller makes his money. New York state now has a law prohibiting fine print in such contracts as a protection to the buying public. Maybe the other states should enact one too.

Thoughts while shaving: Stockholm, Sweden, is said by some to be the most expensive city in Europe and a friend just back from there agrees. He says Bourbon whiskey costs $10 a bottle there. Cigarettes sell for 75 cents per pack. At those prices we could easily swear off drinking and smoking. . .Today's highways are generally made from asphalt, which was first used by the ancient Babylonians. They used it for floors, waterproofing baths and for paving streets. It is also believed that Noah used it for caulking the famous Ark. . .Any extremists planning riots next summer should think twice. The Justice Department can spot them in minutes through a computer. Cards inscribed with statistics concerning persons engaged in riots anywhere can be fed into a "think" machine, which can give a reliable answer to as their habits, activities, etc. . Fish make noise by gnashing their teeth, snapping their jaws and moving pelvic jaws and vertebrae, says a marine biologist. But their most important noise maker is a gas bag, the swim bladder, which give off sounds through muscular vibrations. . .The next time you shuffle a deck of cards notice that all four kings are left-handed. . .It must be confusing to use the telephone in Iceland because the phone directory lists by first name only—"Eric," "Olaf," Peter," etc. There last names change with each generation. For example: Eric Gunnerson is Eric, the son of Gunnar, but Peter, Eric's son, will shift his last name to Ericson and his son, Olaf, becomes Peterson. That's even more confusing than dialing the area codes and seven-digit numbers in this country. . .The Milwaukee (Wis.) JOURNAL headlined a story: "Police Sober A— it Drunk Test. Maybe they flunked it.

Country Editor speaking: "The latest thing in the toy departments is the welfare doll. You wind it up and it doesn't work."

H. L. Hunt Writes

PATRIOTIC STUDENTS

While much publicity is given to students who riot demonstrate, and denounce their own country, we must not lose sight of the many loyal, patriotic students on the campuses of our nation's colleges One group of California students has inaugurated a program to demonstrate their patriotism.

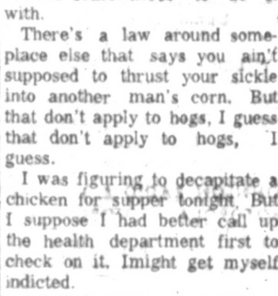

Each morning at Taft College in California, a special ritual takes place. Some of the students hoist the U. S. flag while the other members of the student body stand reverently. At the same time, "America the Beautiful" is played on the college chimes.

The student council initiated the flag-raising ceremony "to show that sutdents are not, in the majority, a group of draft card burners and protest marchers."

Student body vice president Dale Lardy says student response to the ceremony has been completely favorable. A few students were confused at first because they did not know how to show proper respect for the flag, but the student council distributed information about flag etiquette and the ceremony has now become an important part of campus life. The administration of the college gives its full support to the project, but it is carried out entirely by the students.

Students on other campuses throughout the country may follow the example set by Taft College. They should find appropriate ways of expressing their patriotism and their belief in sound values. Like Youth Freedom Speakers, such students counteract the bad name that a few rebels have unjustly given to all students, and show U. S. citizens and the world that the youth of this country are willing to stand up for what is right.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The play that had the longest continuous run on Broadway was Clarence Day's comedy, "Life With Father," which went 3,213 performances, says The World Almanac. With 3,182 performances, "Tobacco Road" was the longest running drama. "My Fair Lady," with 2,717 performances, was the longest running musical.
