House Passes Bill Calling For Juryless Trials In Minor Liquor Offenses

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

Checking up on the financial end of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention Abilene finds that about $8,000 was expended in holding the convention and that it was held with a deficit of only $2,000 left in the convention fund. Seventeen hundred persons, more than half of them being citizens of Abilene, registered for the convention, paying a registration fee of $2.50.

Abilene came out much better financially than most of the cities in which this convention has been held. In Brownwood, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and other cities being host to the convention was much more expensive. With much of the hurrah eliminated from the organization it is probable that conventions of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will become less costly and perhaps Sweetwater next year can entertain the convention with a much smaller deficit than Abilene had this year.

One of the large book publishers is out with an announcement of a line of new books retailing at a dollar. The paper is of poorer quality and the bindings are less attractive and typographically the books are said to be less attractive than the higher priced volumes that have been on the market. It now remains to be seen whether the public will buy them in greater numbers.

Public vanity is the greatest obstacle to the introduction of paper bound books and cheaper books generally, says Dr. William John Cooper, U. S. commissioner of education. "The public has itself to blame for the present high cost of books," Dr. Cooper said, "because it prefers to buy books with expensive bindings. The publishers have been marketing what the people are willing to buy."

Talker believes a good book deserves an attractive cover, even if something is added to the cost to provide it. And some books require very attractive covers to get the attention of buyers. Between cheap writing bound in expensive covers, and good writing bound in cheap covers the public will choose the latter.

A small reduction, we are told, is to be made in the assessed valuation of ground values of Wichita Falls property. The reduction, city officials modestly tell us, is made possible because of new buildings and added personal property now taxable. That is only part of the story. Without economical administration there would have been no reduction in assessed values, but with a larger amount of taxes delinquent because of conditions over which the city authorities have no control Wichita Falls property owners would have been paying taxes on higher assessed values or else at a higher rate.

Everybody ought to be glad to see some indication of a check to the rising tide of taxes. It is a hopeful sign and we hope the tide has turned in Wichita Falls.

The Quanah Tribune-Chief reports that the Acme cement mills and plaster board factory have been operating day and night for several weeks. One of the reasons for the day and night operation, says the Quanah paper, is the increased demand resulting from the revival in building operations and another is that the manufacturers are attempting to fill as many orders as possible before an increase in freight rates becomes effective.

Federal engineers are reported to be making a survey of the Pease river valley in connection with the proposed flood prevention and irrigation project. Engineers are also making surveys of Red river. These surveys will some day result in big improvements, but they will necessarily be slow in coming.

The sympathies of the staffs of the Record News and Times go to John Gould, editorial writer of The Times, in the death of his mother, Mrs. Richard Corner.

Sweetness and charity had made Mrs. Corner's life one of blessing. Her own faith and hope robbed death of all its terrors. Her life is a bright memory for her children and her friends.

Do any large firms use a 13-month calendar, Talker is asked. The Pathfinder answers the question for him as follows:

"Many large business firms in America have adopted the 13-month calendar for commercial purposes. Some of them are Eastman Kodak, Sears-Roebuck, Western Clock, Kendall Mills, the Upson, Billings & Spencer, Carter's Ink, C. F. Church, R. H. Foederer, Wm. Gilbert Clock, Fuller Brush, Graton & Knight, Hearst Publications, Hickok, Jewel Tea, Maytag, McCallum Hosiery, and Todd Protectograph."

Girl Flier Completes London-Sydney Hop

SYDNEY, N. S. W., June 4. (UP)—Miss Amy Johnson, 22-year-old British flier, completed a 29-day flight from London today amid a tremendous welcome from the people of Sydney.

Whistles on ships and factories blew long and loud as she piloted her tiny Moth plane across the city, escorted by 20 Australian planes, and landed at Sydney airdrome.

ALTERATION OF COURT SYSTEM IS APPROVED

'Petty Offenders' Would Be Tried by Commissioner Under Measure

4 BILLS TO SENATE

House Shows Speed on Hoover Enforcement Program

WASHINGTON, June 4. (UP)—A bill providing for United States court commissioner hearings in "petty offense" prohibition cases involving a gallon or less of liquor, designed to replace in part the grand jury and jury trial machinery, was passed by the house today.

The vote was 218 to 170.

Most of the wets and some drys opposed the bill, which was heartily supported by President Hoover and his Wickersham crime commission.

Revolutionize Procedure

This bill, proposed by the Hoover-Wickersham commission and sponsored by Representative Christopherson, Republican, South Dakota, embodies the major part of a proposal to revolutionize federal court procedure in regard to prohibition. The other three bills, providing for waiver of jury trial in all criminal cases if desired, defining petty offenses as those involving a gallon of liquor or less, and specifically defining felonies as those punishable by more than one year, were passed by the house yesterday.

All four bills now go to the senate, where their chance of early passage is regarded as slim due to the press of tariff and other business.

Strong Opposition

Two members of the judiciary committee, Chairman Graham and Representative Bachmann, Republican, West Virginia, waged a battle against the bill, but both supported the measure after an amendment was adopted which they contended would safeguard dry law defendants.

This amendment, proposed by Bachmann, requires a waiver of the present formal court hearing before the new machinery for a commissioner hearing can be put into

REPEAL ASKED

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 4. (AP)—The Democratic state committee by unanimous vote today adopted a platform calling for a repeal of all national and state prohibition statutes.

Grundy Campaign Cost Increased to $382,250

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 4. (UP)—United States Senator Joseph R. Grundy filed late today his primary election campaign expenditures with the state election bureau showing a personal expenditure totaling $382,250 in his unsuccessful campaign for the Republican senatorial nomination.

When he appeared before the senate primary campaign investigating committee at Washington, Grundy testified to personal expenditures of $291,000.

House Fight Stirs Virginia Politics

Routed in the 1929 gubernatorial election, Virginia Republicans have girded themselves to retain three seats in the national house of representatives. The Republicans have nominated C. Bascom Slemp, former secretary of President Coolidge (left), Mrs. Sarah Lee Fain, seeks the Democratic nomination and John W. Flannagan (right), will oppose Slemp.

MOODY DENIES PRUITT'S PLEA

Dallas Slayer Must Die Early Friday

AUSTIN, June 4. (UP)—William (Dagger) Pruitt, sentenced to death for murdering William Mann, Dallas High school youth during an attempted robbery, will die in the electric chair at the Texas state prison early Friday. Gov. Dan Moody late today refused to interfere with the execution.

Although Pruitt's mother and his attorneys had pleaded with the executive for a reprieve and the state parole board had recommended 30-day respite, Governor Moody declined to take action.

Oscar H. Calvert, defense attorney, charged that certain Dallas officers who assisted in bringing Pruitt to trial had beaten his mother and forced her to leave town. He asked that the governor grant the condemned man a reprieve in order that the charges could be proved.

PRUITT KNOWN AS LONE "CRIME WAVE"

DALLAS, June 4. (UP)—William (Dagger) Pruitt, condemned to die at midnight Friday for the murder of a Dallas High school boy, conducted a city-wide "one man crime wave" here two years ago, staging a series of robberies, brutal beatings and shootings that ended when he barricaded himself in a house and surrendered to officers only after he had been wounded.

William Mann, returning from a church service with Miss Mildred Drennan, was held up on Sunday night, Jan. 6, 1928. Mann was killed when he grappled with the bandit and the girl was wounded. Pruitt was sentenced to death for the murder.

PRISONER KEEPS CHEERFUL MOOD

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, June 4. (UP)—With only 24 hours to live, William Pruitt, Dallas, tonight remained cheerful, sitting on the edge of his bunk and reading.

Warden Harrell early tonight had not told the condemned man that Gov. Dan Moody had refused to grant him a reprieve.

Strickland Life Term Affirmed

Court Upholds Sentence Of Clay County Jury In Slaying

The court of criminal appeals in Austin Wednesday affirmed the 99-year sentence assessed against R. P. Strickland, Clay county farmer, for the murder of R. L. Williams in the Strickland home near Henrietta last year.

Strickland was tried in Henrietta several months ago. He claimed that Williams was shot as the two fought for possession of a gun in Strickland's home.

MEYERS LIFE TERM UPHELD

AUSTIN, June 4. (AP)—J. W. Meyers of Dallas must serve 99 years in the penitentiary for robbery by firearms of N. H. Howard, manager of a Dallas store, the court of criminal appeals held today.

According to the record Meyers held Howard up with a pistol and relieved him of $2,470 at the height of a Christmas shopping rush in 1928. Meyers was said to have elbowed his way through a store full of purchasers and boldly climbed the stairs to the mezzanine floor where Howard had his office. There he found a corps of employes counting receipts of the day's trading, preparatory to depositing the money in a bank. He ordered every one on the floor and raked the cash into a handbag. After he left the office, an alarm was given and Meyers was apprehended before he left the building.

Texas Pair Charged With Dallas Murder

DALLAS, June 4. (AP)—Lucile Mills, 20, and H. C. Middleton, 30, of Royce City, were charged with murder today in the slaying of Charles H. Brown of Houston here the night of May 26 as he wrestled with a hi-jacker.

Miss Mills accompanied Brown to the scene of the slaying. Officers advanced the theory that a woman and man conspired to rob a second companion of Miss Mills at the spot where Brown was slain.

Kansas Auditor Cleared In Embezzlement Trial

TOPEKA, Kan., June 4. (AP)—Will J. Fench, state auditor, late today was acquitted by a jury on charges of embezzlement. The jury returned its verdict after deliberating less than one hour and a half.

Italian Sentenced for Offence to the Pope

PARMA, Italy, June 4. (UP)—Eugenio Bassani, stationer, was sentenced today to spend five months in jail and pay a fine of 1,000 lire for making utterances offensive to the pope in the presence of women customers of his store in Borgotaro.

The sentence was suspended during good behavior. It was the first trial of its kind since the pope regained his temporal power under the Lateran accords.

Red River Flood Menace Subsides at Pineville

ALEXANDRIA, Texas, June 4. (UP)—Although immediate danger of flooded Red river breaking over levees and inundating Pineville, across the river from here, had passed, scores of volunteers tonight maintained their vigil along the retaining dam.

Additional bags, filled with gravel and dirt, were piled along the top of the levee and sentries patrolled the wall, watching for possible breaks.

DISTRICT AND COUNTY RACES START SLOWLY

Filings of Candidates Fail To Show Enthusiasm Of Former Years

PARTY MEET CALLED

Executive Committee to Lay Plans for Holding Primary Election

With the final date for filing of candidacies for state and district offices in districts comprising more than one county already past, candidates for county and precinct offices have until Saturday, June 14, to file their applications with the Wichita, county Democratic executive committee. June 14 also marks the last day for filing of candidacies in districts containing only one county.

Last Monday was the closing date for applications for the places of district attorney, state representative from the 112th district, and judge of the 30th district court. For district attorney, Sam B. Spence, present holder of that office, remained unopposed at the closing time. John Derryberry and Albert G. Walker, both of Vernon, filed their candidacies for state representative from the 112th district, comprising Wichita and Wilbarger counties. For the place of judge of the 30th district court, covering Wichita, Archer and Young counties, Allan D. Montgomery, present judge of the court, and J. W. Akin had filed their applications Monday.

Meeting Scheduled

Other political dates in the near future include the meeting of the Wichita county Democratic executive committee on June 16, two days after the last day for filing of candidacies. The committee at this meeting will determine the order of names on the ballot and estimate the expenses of holding the election. Six places on the committee, left vacant at the last meeting, will also be filled at the meeting. This session will be held one week after the meeting of the state committees of both parties, to be held Monday, the Democratic session at Austin and the Republican at Houston. June 23 will mark the last day for candidates to pay the assessments for their shares in the expense of holding the election.

With the absence of Judge Edgar Scurry, chairman of the Wichita county Democratic executive committee, who is attending the Confederate reunion at Biloxi, Miss., a

Waggoner Building Threatened by Fire

Dense columns of smoke and the red glare of flames coming from a third floor window of the Waggoner building shortly before midnight Wednesday threw late-night workers in the block on Scott avenue into a near panic, as word circulated among the crowd that almost the whole interior of the office building was in flames. Judging from the reflection of the blaze on the thick smoke, the belief seemed correct.

Firemen discovered a divan in the office of Taylor, Muse & Taylor, attorneys, to be the cause of the blaze. The building night watchman reported that employes of the law firm had been working late Wednesday night and had probably dropped a cigaret on the divan, which smouldered until it burst into flames after they had left. The smoke was so dense in the corridors of the building that firemen could barely see their way about. The blaze had been practically extinguished by Billy Prince, head usher at the Majestic theater, who ran into the office and used the emergency fire hose in the hall to put out the fire.

The alarm was turned in by Patrolman I. N. Austin.

Contempt Charge Looms As Cannon Declines To Answer Senate Queries

By EDWARD L. RODDAN

WASHINGTON, June 4. (US)—The shadow of possible senate contempt proceedings rested over Bishop James Cannon Jr., of Virginia, tonight, as a result of his flat refusal today to tell the lobby committee about his political activities in the 1928 presidential campaign.

The issue is scheduled for a showdown tomorrow when the presence of Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho will insure the committee of a quorum.

Although the bishop defiantly declined to answer questions today, Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, acting chairman, admitted he was powerless to act because only himself and Senator Blaine, Republican, of Wisconsin were present.

Borah Called In

When Walsh let it be known he desired a quorum present tomorrow, Borah responded:

"Of course I shall be there if the chairman wants me."

The probability is that Bishop Cannon will be asked the same questions which he declined to answer today, if he refuses again, the committee must then decide whether it will cite the facts to the senate for contempt, action.

The fact that such a prominent clergyman has openly courted possible penal action stirred up one of the most heated and unusual political controversies which Washing has known in years.

Doubts Authority

As the case stands now, Bishop Cannon apparently has the support of two members in his refusal to tell about his activities against Al Smith in 1928.

In stating his case, the bishop quoted Senator Caraway, committee chairman, now in Arkansas, to the effect that the committee has no authority to inquire into his political activities.

Likewise Senator Robinson, Republican, of Indiana, a dry and also a Methodist, has stated it will be "impossible" for him to attend sessions while Bishop Cannon is on the stand. The absence of these senators makes it difficult for the committee to obtain a quorum.

Breaks His Rule

Despite Bishop Cannon's refusal to answer, both Walsh and Blaine asked him so many pointed questions that the witness frequently "broke his rule" and told about his handling of political funds.

In fact he answered so many of these questions, that he told about everything except what he did with $48,300 of the money contributed by E. C. Jameson, wealthy New York insurance man.

Cannon was especially perturbed when Blaine openly stated the evidence indicated that this money was actually handed to Jameson

HOW FUNDS WERE USED

WASHINGTON, June 4. (UP)—Bishop James Cannon Jr., tonight made public the use of the long contested and unaccounted for $48,300 which was contributed to his anti-Smith campaign by E. C. Jamison, New York financier, and which he flatly refused to reveal before the senate lobby committee in two days of questioning. In making public the use of the money the militant dry leader at the same time reiterated his denunciation of the lobby committee in its effort to obtain information about his anti-Smith campaign.

Cannon showed the division of the funds among the 10 congressional districts of Virginia in his statement.

Famed Nassak Diamond Is Plain 'Gem' to U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 4. (US)—The famed Nassak diamond that graced a temple of India in the eighteenth century, and the sword hilt of an English warrior noble in the nineteenth, must enter the United States as a prosaic "gem, cut and unset."

The United States court of customs appeals so decided today, in a ruling that the finest of white diamonds and "one of the 24 great diamonds of the world" is not a "work of art." The importer therefore will be required to pay a duty of 20 per cent, estimated at from $50,000 to $60,000, the intrinsic value of the gem being between $250,000 and $300,000.

Scoutmaster Drowns In Main Concho River

SAN ANGELO, Texas, June 4. (UP)—Arthur Olds, 32, San Angelo Boy Scout master, was drowned in the Main Concho river near here late today while on an outing with his troop. It was believed he was seized with the cramps. His body was recovered after a half-hour search.

Raskob's Money Keeps Democratic Party on Its Legs

WASHINGTON, June 4. (INS)—National Chairman John J. Raskob is financing the current activities of the Democratic national committee, the committee's quarterly financial statement filed with the clerk of the house today disclosed.

Raskob's loans to the committee total $150,000, of which $40,000 was loaned between March 28 and May 21. Contributions in the three month period ending May 31 amounted to but $990.27.

Total unpaid obligations of the committee to date are $540,258.71 including $375,000 owed the Bankers Trust company of New York and the amount owed Raskob.

FINE WEATHER SPEEDS GRAF

Rain-Soaked Seville Awaits Homing Plane

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, June 4. (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin notified the Zeppelin works here at 7 p. m. E. S. T., that she was not certain she would land at Seville because of bad weather and was heading for Lisbon. If the airship did land at Seville, it was added, the landing would not be made before 6 p. m. tomorrow, Spanish time, or 1 p. m. E. S. T.

SEVILLE, Spain, June 4. (AP)—Stormy night descended upon Seville with the Graf Zeppelin plowing its way peacefully toward the Spanish coast through fine weather conditions that promised to bring the returning dirigible to this city by daybreak.

Heavy rains swept most of Spain and the Mediterranean region tonight.

Tidings from the Graf just at nightfall cheered official circles, where there had been anxiety. No previous message had come since mid-afternoon.

The weather had caused virtual abandonment of plans for a rousing welcome at dawn to the homing airship. With continued pessimistic forecasts from the government weather bureau, it was thought possible that Dr. Hugo Eckener, the Graf's master, would not attempt to bring her down until visibility and other conditions insured a safe grounding. It was thought the ship might cruise around a while to better obtain its bearings.

Spanish officials and German agents repeated tonight that despite the storm they felt no alarm. They predicted the Graf would finish her voyage to Seville "any time" after five o'clock in the morning."

About 500 Spanish soldiers are on hand ready to haul the Graf down and bind her in to her mooring mast, where it is expected she will remain several hours before proceeding to Friedrichshafen.

Frisco Brakeman Loses Both Legs

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., June 4.—D. H. Jones, Oklahoma City, brakeman for the Frisco, lost both legs from the knee down in an accident of the road just outside Altus about 9:30 Wednesday night. J. I. Carter Jr. rushed to the aid of the injured man and took him to the emergency hospital here where his condition was pronounced critical.

The brakeman was struck by a loading platform 200 yards from the station and knocked under the wheels of the moving trains. Mr. Jones, who has been with the Frisco for about 10 years, was making a run from Quanah, Texas, to Oklahoma City.

Small Town Mechanic Claiming He's Noted Pilot Vanishes Mysteriously

ELK CITY, Okla., June 4. (UP)—When a cross-road garage mechanic claimed to be a famous aviator, long missing, he set to work several nationwide organizations and engulfed himself in a mesh of damaging evidence which caused him to leave town under the shadow of disgrace.

The mechanic drifted into Elk City several weeks ago and while renewing old acquaintanceships stated he was Maurice Graham, famous Western Air Express mail pilot, who disappeared in a snowstorm early in January this year.

The announcement created much local interest and for several days "Graham" basked in the floodlight of publicity. Old acquaintances remembered his former exploits and recalled he had been a pilot before coming here several years ago.

Interest in the mechanic became nationwide when officials of the air company and the flier's wife, living in Los Angeles, sought further information regarding the

Governor Nonchalantly Dodges Questions of Reporters

AUSTIN, June 4. (AP)—Gov. Dan Moody leaned back nonchalantlike in the chief executive's swivel chair late today and left the impression with newspaper reporters he would not be a candidate for a third term.

He would not talk about politics, as hard as the reporters tried to get him to discuss the situation. Further, he intimated as strongly as one could do so without saying so that he had had his last "say" in the gubernatorial campaign.

Sterling Partisan

The clear-cut intimation was that with R. S. Sterling of Houston, whom he described as a "staunch political friend" he "would not like to run against" for governor, in the race, he would politely stay out, not only as a candidate but as a partisan.

Without his talking for publication and very little "off the record" the reporters gathered that the governor would reluctantly go the even tenor of his way without putting his finger in the gubernatorial pie from this point on out.

Hasn't Withdrawn

He reiterated his former statements that he had not told his East Texas friends, who certified his name as a candidate, that he would acquiesce in their desire and become a full fledged aspirant for a third term. Likewise he said he had not taken steps to withdraw the application filed by his friends

COURT UPHOLDS LOVE DECISION

AUSTIN, June 4. (UP)—A special state supreme court late today refused to rehear its decision granting Thomas B. Love of Dallas a writ of mandamus compelling the Texas Democratic executive committee to place his name on the primary election ballot as a candidate for governor.

The committee first had barred Love from the race because he supported Herbert Hoover for president in 1928. Love carried his fight to the special supreme court and the action of the Democratic committee was held illegal.

The committee, in the rehearing, sought either reversal of the original ruling or the right to exact a pledge that candidates will support all candidates nominated in the primary "without mental reservation."

In defending his right to vote according to the dictates of his conscience, Love said he would always vote for whom he pleased, whether or not the candidates had been nominated in the Democratic primary.

LOVE ASSAILS JAMES YOUNG

DALLAS, June 4. (UP)—Thomas B. Love, running for the Texas gubernatorial nomination upon endorsement of anti-Smith Democrats, today accused former Congressman James Young of Kaufman of being the Tammany candidate for governor.

"There can be no surer signs of Tammany in Texas than the spectacle of the wets running a dry candidate for governor," Love said. "At a Tammany mass meeting in Austin, Aug. 11, 1928, a former congressman, now running for governor, was elected and installed as John J. Raskob's field manager in Texas."

Australian Flier Plans Transatlantic Attempt

Huge British Airship, R-100, Goes Back to Factory After Test Flight

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE
(Copyright, 1930, by Universal Service)

LONDON, June 4.—The British air ministry has turned back its hoodoo airship, the R-100, into the hands of the builders, the Airship Guarantee company. That drastic action has been taken by the air ministry following the collapse of 30 feet of the ship's tail during the 24 hours flight which was concluded on May 22.

Though an air ministry official today insisted to Universal Service that the flight to Montreal would be carried through as scheduled "about the first week in July," it learned from other authentic source that the date likely will prove to be as tentative as the date set about this time last year. It is no secret that there has been great antagonism between the air ministry and the Airship Guarantee company, and this feeling is now brought to a climax by the action of the ministry in throwing the airship back on the hands of the builders.

These dramatic developments gain a highlight by contrast with the performance of the new Graf complete list of the candidates who have filed their applications for county and precinct offices could not be obtained Wednesday. Judge Scurry will probably return Monday or Tuesday, in order to allow time for receipt of all applications before the following Saturday.

Legislature Race

For state representative from Wichita county, Bob Long, present holder of place No. 1 and Joe Proctor Hatchitt, candidate for place No. 2, have announced their intention of filing their applications before June 14. J. D. Avis, present holder of place No. 2, is expected to be a candidate for re-election. Mrs. A. B. Eichelberger, candidate for district clerk and present holder of the office, is unopposed.

In the offices of the county, candidates for five places remained unopposed Wednesday and it was thought likely in political circles that no other candidates for these places would file with the county executive committee. These are John P. Marrs, county judge; Irvin J. Vogel, judge of the county court at law; Miss Elizabeth Hall, county clerk; Max Shumake, county tax assessor; and T. W. McHam, county treasurer, all candidates for re-election.

For County Attorney

For county attorney, L. V. Abernathy, present assistant county attorney, and E. F. Fruechte have announced their candidacies. Three candidates have announced for county tax collector, Roy A. Jones, present chief deputy; Arthur C. Howard and Jim Robinson. The race for sheriff promises to be one of the most exciting in the county, four candidates having announced and others likely to enter the race before June 14. Those who have made known their intention of running for this office include W. G. Bralley, present sheriff; Perry Browning, Fred K. Smith and George H. Hodgins. Burl Bryant, present county school superintendent and J. A. Hood and Mrs. A. J. Newby have announced their intention to make the race for county superintendent. For commissioner from precinct No. 1 (Wichita Falls), M. A. Bundy, present commissioner, and M. H. Pearce and J. H. Patton have announced their candidacies.

In offices of the precinct, Frank Morgan, present constable, and Luke Rowell have made known their intentions of being candidates for constable, and the possibility remained Wednesday that one or more additional candidates would enter the race. R. V. Gwinn, justice of the peace, place No. 1, remained unopposed Wednesday for re-election, while for justice of the peace, place No. 2, both O. L. Gibbs, present holder of the place, and A. E. Brown had announced their candidacies.

Central Texas and East Coast Swelter

TEMPLE, Texas, June 4. (AP)—Temperature of 96, the hottest this year since the March hot spell when the mercury went to 100, was registered here today.

NEW YORK, June 4. (AP)—The hottest weather of the year was recorded in New York today with the thermometer reading 90 degrees at 4 p. m. Two deaths were attributed to the heat.

Souring filling in cream pies caused the poisoning of 15 persons throughout the city yesterday, the first day of the heat wave, health authorities announced.

Seventh Suspect Added To Gem Theft Roundup

NEW YORK, June 4. (AP)—A seventh prisoner and $15,000 in jewels were seized today by police in their roundup of an alleged nationwide stolen jewelry ring. The roundup already had yielded five men and one woman and an estimated $500,000 worth of gems.

The latest arrest was that of Max Nadel, 55, who has a long criminal record as a thief and pickpocket. In his pockets police said they found a three and a half carat diamond. They said he offered no objection to their taking from his safe deposit box the remainder of $15,000 worth of jewelry seized.

Crops Threatened by Drouth on East Coast

WASHINGTON, June 4. (AP)—With drouth prevailing over most of the eastern half of the country, weather bureau officials predicted today that crops would be severely damaged unless this summer's rainfall was unusually heavy.

The spring drouth, one of the most severe and prolonged on record, has continued, virtually unbroken, in South Atlantic and Ohio valley states since last December. The total rainfall, the bureau said, has been slightly more than half of normal for a six months' period.

It also brings into prominence today the elaborate alibi of Lord Thomson in the house of lords late last night, in which he is quoted as saying:

"I do not want to say anything against the excellence of the Graf Zeppelin. I do not think you can compare it, as to structure, with the R-100 or the R-101."

When I approached an official of the Airship Guarantee company today, asking him regarding the status of the R-100 and when the flight to Montreal is likely to take place, he said:

"You must get your information from the air ministry, who have taken over all charge of the flight and in whose hands the R-100 now rests."

But the air ministry official said: "The air ministry has returned the R-100 to its builders following the development of structural weakness in the 'fairing piece' at the extreme end of the tail behind the last gas bag. The R-100 is not the property of nor under the control of the air ministry until it has completed certain specified long flights."

Blenheim Wins English Derby

EPSOM, England, June 4. (AP)—Blenheim, owned by the Indian potentate, the Ag Khan, who is the religious leader of a sect of Mohammedans and a lavish patron of the European turf, won the 151st running of the Derby today with Iliad second and Diolite, the favorite, third.

Jockey Harry Wragg rode Blenheim to victory in a field of 17 with the betting 18 to 1 against.

Blenheim's time of two minutes, 38 1-5 seconds, for the mile and a half course was the slowest turned in by a Derby winner in four years.

Lions-Optimists To Play June 14

On Saturday, June 14, at Spudder park, members of the Lions and Optimists clubs will cross bats, it was announced at the noon luncheon Wednesday.

Just to make it an all-Optimist-Lion event, such members of those clubs as are not sweating on the field of honor will be at work as concessionists, it was announced. Proceeds of the affair will go to The Times and Record News Milk and Ice fund.

Members of the Optimist club Wednesday heard Joe Witherspoon Jr., winner of first place in the "My Home Town" original oration contest before the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Abilene last Saturday, deliver his prize-winning address on Wichita Falls.

Willard Underwood, tenor, sang two numbers to complete Wednesday's program, using a Fred Watherly ballad of sailors' romance, "Three for Jack" and "Giver of Dawn," words and music of which were written last week by Mrs. Underwood, who played the accompaniments. The program was arranged by Dr. George T. Singleton. Marvin Smith spoke briefly in appreciation of the work of Matt Toole, who will leave next Sunday to make his home in Dallas.

Physicians Called to Attend Elizabeth Morrow

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., June 4. (US)—The slight illness of Elizabeth Morrow, sister of Ann Morrow Lindbergh, was reported as the reason for the presence of doctors and nurses at the home of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow this afternoon.

Reports early in the day that Mrs. Morrow had canceled all speaking engagements for the next week or 10 days in order to be with her daughter, Anne, led to the supposition that the medical forces had been called to attend Mrs. Lindbergh.

STEEL ROADS

LONDON.—Roads of steel are scheduled for the future if one such road built on the King's Road, Chelsea, proves practical. It is a continuous network of tough steel, whose interstices are filled with concrete. On the surface, however, the metal grid is directly exposed to the wheels of vehicles. It is expected to last twice as long as any other road.

Take No Chances With Ugly Boils

To kill infection, draw out poison and heal up sores, ulcers, boils, carbuncles or any kind of skin abrasion, apply Gray's Ointment. This powerful antiseptic salve relieves all pain, clears up inflammation and heals like magic. Best for over 110 years. Used personally by President Andrew Jackson. Guaranteed. 25c a package at drug stores, or from W. F. Gray Co., Nashville, Tenn.—Adv.

Juryless Hearings Voted on Favorably action. This virtually gives the prisoner his choice of the two methods of procedure.

Another amendment was adopted providing the federal judge involved shall fix the compensation of the commissioner who holds hearings, at any amount up to $5 each. At first the bill provided for a flat $5 fee for each hearing in which a plea of not guilty is received and testimony is taken, but the point was made this might influence commissioners to induce "not guilty" pleas as a money making venture. The fee for a commissioner for accepting a plea of guilty is fixed at $1.

Judge Sets Sentence

The bill in its final form provides the commissioner can report the plea, evidence and make recommendations, but no analysis of the evidence. The federal judge will decide as to sentence, in the "petty offenses," the maximum being six months in jail without hard labor and $500 fine.

This is the second major proposal of the Hoover-Wickersham program to be passed by the house. The first, the prohibition transfer bill, has been enacted into law. Effective July 1.

MUST BE HEALTHY

BERLIN.—A German court has decreed that a health certificate may be demanded before a marriage is entered into. Recently a young couple had become engaged. The girl developed a chronic cough and as she refused to undergo medical treatment, the young man broke the engagement. The court upheld his action.

Elk City 'Pilot' Does 'Fade-Out'

man. The company pointed out thousands of dollars had been spent in attempting to find the missing pilot and discredited the claimant's statements.

From Salt Lake City, advices said the description of the claimant did not fit those of the missing pilot. The claimant's account of his flight and of his family in California did not correspond with conditions as told by the company and by the flier's wife.

At noon today, "Graham" eluded townspeople, announcing he was going to get a "bite to eat." Previously he had collected $11 in back wages from his employer. This, however, others did not know. Before R. C. Calhoun, formerly chief clerk of the Western Air at Salt Lake and a personal friend of the missing flier, could arrive here from Amarillo, Texas, by plane, "Graham" had disappeared. Calhoun, however, definitely established the mechanic was not Graham, thereby setting at rest the claims of the mechanic to fame.

It is likely a new mechanic will be employed at the garage tomorrow.

Laredo Dry Officers Make Record Haul

LAREDO, Texas, June 4. (AP)—Laredo customs officers today conducted their largest raid of the year, seizing 2,400 bottles of bonded American whisky, tequila and champagne and arresting three men.

The men were captured after a thrilling chase and two automobiles were confiscated. Officers believed that the cargoes had been loaded on this side of the Rio Grande after the intoxicants had been brought across the river by swimming dogs.

CANNON FACES CONTEMPT BILL

Showdown Due Today in Bishop's Quiz

by C. Bascom Slemp, of Virginia, with the understanding that he was to pass it on to Cannon.

This statement of Blaine's was one of the highlights of the hearing.

The hectic days of the senate oil hearings were recalled as Bishop Cannon sat in the witness chair, blandly defying the committee's powers to interrogate him.

Bishop Annoyed

"I decline to answer," was the bishop's usual comment when Blaine returned again and again to his anti-Smith activities.

On a few occasions, however, Blaine aroused Cannon's ire. On one occasion Blaine said:

"I confess that I'm impressed with the fact that something is being hidden."

Cannon responded with some heat:

"Oh I don't doubt that you and the people who believe as you do, think so."

For the most part, however, both Cannon and his questioners maintained an even temper in their repartee, resulting in a keen forensic battle which delighted the roomful of listeners.

When he first defied the committee's power to question him, Cannon read a statenfent which said:

Threat to Rights

"I consider that such an assumption of authority by any committee of the senate or of the house of representatives is an intolerable infringement upon the rights of the American citizens to entire freedom in their political activity, and seems to be intended as a threat to independent citizens against repetition of the uprising of 1928.

"I am pleased to note that my interpretation of the jurisdiction of the committee is confirmed by a statement contained in the press this morning by the chairman of the committee, Senator T. H. Carraway."

Not a Gift

When Cannon concluded reading his prepared statement, Walsh said:

"Perhaps I should have stated to you, seeing that you are not here with counsel, that the refusal of a witness to answer proper questions propounded to him by a congressional committee becomes a penal offense."

Upon one occasion, Bishop Cannon "broke his rule" about refusing to testify, when Blaine read Jameson's testimony saying he had given the bishop a "gift" of $7,300 after the 1928 campaign was over.

"It was not a gift but a political contribution," the witness insisted

Many Wichita Falls Women Leaving Sunday For Europe

For the seventh time, Miss Elizabeth L. Brown will leave America for an annual tour of Europe, sailing June 14 as leader of a representative group of Wichita Falls women and women from other cities. The party will return to Montreal, Canada, Aug. 24.

The party will leave Wichita Falls June 8 on the Texas Special for St. Louis. From St. Louis to Washington, they will have a private Pullman over the Pennsylvania railroad to Washington, where they will spend two days sightseeing. Two days will also be spent in New York.

Ten countries will be visited, including England, Scotland, Holland, Germany, Austria, Czecho-Slovakia, Italy, Monaco, Switzerland and France. All of England, Scotland and Holland will be done by motor.

Accommodations have already been engaged for the party, in the home of Anton Bierling, Oberammergau, the man who plays the part of Jacob in the Passion play.

They will sail from New York June 14, in the Scythia, one of the large cabin ships of the Cunard company. It is a palatial vessel, built for cruise purposes. On their return to Montreal, Aug. 20, there will be the lovely voyage up the St. Lawrence river, stopping for a day in Quebec.

Mrs. E. B. Carver and Miss Bess Greer are returning to Houston in the French line ship De La Salle, and will stop in the Canary islands and Cuba.

Members of the party going with Miss Brown from Wichita Falls are Misses Ellene Collins, Mary Sue Collins, Madge Davis, Delta Kemp, Ellen Parker, Lucia Powell, Margaret Kendall, Maude Stonecipher; Miss Stella Wilcox of Austin, and Misses Dorothy Smith and Bess Greer of Beaumont; Mesdames E. B. Carver and J. W. Stringer of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Emma Ballard of Temple and Mrs. Walter Greenwood of Navasota.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Little towns left stranded by a changing river or builded believing vainly a railroad would come near! They are like people one sees stranded on the path of life.

We know such towns and such people. In a corner of southeast Missouri there's a small town to which one must drive by bus from the railroad a mile and a half away.

Clean little old-fashioned houses have velvet green lawns, and lilacs and snowballs and crabapple trees grow in almost every yard. Inside the "city" limits, we remember two orchards climbing two different hillsides; one of cherry trees and one of appletrees.

The "parlors" have organs and on the tables are plush covered albums filled with pictures of honored ancestors, and steoroptican pictures of all parts of the earth also entertain visitors.

They grow currants and gooseberries to make pies and red and black raspberries and cultivated blackberries that are served with thick lumpy cream. And apple sauce is a staple dish on the tables.

There's a Methodist and a Baptist church and there's preaching at one of them each Sunday. Bees buzz round one's head in the sunny Sabbath morning meetings and at times at night a bat, frightened himself, frightens timid worshipers.

They still celebrate July 4 in an old-fashioned way. The G. A. R. veterans march behind a band playing "Maryland, My Maryland," and place flags on graves in the quiet graveyard where weary old bodies rest.

Miss Celie Jones' life is just such another picture as the town left stranded early in the 90's. Miss Celie is far along in life but her cheeks still carry the pink of a faded sweet pea. And her old time garments are fresh as the newly white washed trees and fences in the old town. Her skirts have always reached the ground, but she lifts them daintily.

She teaches art! Such art as would remind one of none but amateurs. She has her unframed oils fastened all over her studio walls and everyone who takes from her does the same studies. The students grow fewer with each passing year.

She sings alto in the old Methodist church choir and her white skin and pink cheeks make a pretty picture beneath the much beflowered hat. It is the old-time songs she likes, as she revels in ice cream suppers and lawn parties. The rising tide of "youth" has not worried Miss Celie yet.

Prohibition with her stands just as it always did and as an elocutionist, she often offers the same speech she said as a girl, "The Lips That Touch Liquor Shall Never Touch Mine."

And every Saturday Miss Celie goes to the cemetery where she keeps the family lot clean and garnished. Her life is a placid stream and despite the excitement of her neighbor's arguments, no modern debate has ever raised stormy waves.

There's another town we know that was once a flourishing Mississippi river landing. When they built a levee in the Mississippi delta, they built it back of that old town. Then a sand bar crept up to the landing and boats passed far away.

It is almost eight miles to a railroad and one reaches that village by a road that leads to no other point. Travelers are few and residents still living there are bitter. A thick, green vine has grown over many of the old houses. And those who could, have gone elsewhere to live.

People, as towns, sometimes have shifting careers. And we have known men and women to grow embittered when adventure passed them by. Some grow morose and criticise the set who still flirt with life. And some settle into a calm acceptance of time's changes, living their own lives and smiling over the adventures that excite youth.

Fifty carloads of diatomaceous earth, a deposit traced back to the Miocene age, are shipped from San Pedro, Calif., monthly.

New Idea Club Meets In Last Spring Session

Mrs. D. Dellis was hostess Wednesday afternoon to members of the New Idea club in the last spring meeting.

Embroidery and conversation were the diversions of the afternoon and recipes taken at The Record News and Daily Times cooking school were exchanged. As many members are leaving for the summer, it was decided to hold no more meetings until October.

A delightful ice course was served by Mrs. Dellis to Mesdames C. A. Andree, M. E. Carey, C. W. Corkhill, R. F. Gutzler, W. M. Morrison, M. L. Hooker, J. J. Simon, H. T. Thornberry, J. E. Wolf and Mrs. Lank Thornberry.

Prominent Club Woman On Radio Thursday Morning

Announcement has been made that Mrs. M. N. Chrestman, radio chairman of Texas Federation of Women's clubs, will speak over station WFAA Thursday morning, June 5, at 10 o'clock, using as her subject one of the objectives of the federated clubs for the 1930-31 term, "Dean of Girls in High Schools."

Mrs. R. F. Lindsay, in writing the district presidents, requested as much publicity as possible as it is her desire that every federated club woman, ever father and mother with a daughter in high school, and every school board in the state hear the address.

Modern Wife Too Expensive, Says Dix in Article

Time was when marriage was about the only gainful occupation open to women. A husband was not only a Prince Charming, he was a meal ticket and a charge account at the shops. Parents heaved sighs of relief at their daughters' weddings, because they felt that they had got them safely settled in life and every girl looked forward to marriage as a safe, sure way of providing for her future.

One of the reasons given as to why women are not more efficient and more successful in business is that they do not intend long to support themselves. They expect to marry a living. They regard stenography or salesmanship or accounting or whatever they do as just a bridge of sighs that reaches from the schoolroom to the altar, and so they never bother even to try to become experts in their profession.

So embedded in tradition is this idea that when a girl marries "she has somebody to take care of her," as the old phrase went, that it is a shock to learn from a bulletin issued by the women's bureau of the department of labor that marriage nowadays offers "no economic security for women."

The government publication goes on further to say: "A large proportion of families living in cities depend largely upon the earnings of women, and in many homes the entire income is earned by the wife and daughters." In a word, as the old song used to say, "everybody works but father," and even when father works he is not able alone and unaided to support the family.

So it has blasted the rosy dream of the girl who looked forward to "quitting work," as she naively expressed it, when she got married. Unless she has the luck to get a go-getter, and all men are no more invariably gifted with financial genius than they are with tenor voices or the looks of a sheik, the girl who marries nowadays has even more necessity of earning money after the wedding than she did before and instead of bettering her condition from a financial standpoint, she has made it worse, for she has added to her regular job the additional job of making a home.

The fact that the modern wife must be a crutch to her husband instead of his being a staff upon which she can lean is partly due to economic conditions which neither can control and partly to the woman's own fault.

When the man of the past was the sole breadwinner of the family, it was satisfied with bread and didn't demand cake, as it does now. In those halcyon days there were no radios to buy, no gasoline tanks to fill, no movies to attend, no night clubs to go to, none of a million things to spend money on that we have now and without which we consider life cinders, ashes and dust.

When grandma got married, unless grandpa was a millionaire, she retired from the world to the kitchen and the nursery, and her only stepping out was to church and the prayer meeting and occasionally over to the neighbors'. She didn't expect to go on running around and having a good time and being noted as one of our best-dressed young matrons. She didn't have to have silk stockings to wear every day and high-heeled snake-skin shoes and chiffon lingerie and Paris clothes.

So it wasn't such a trick for grandfather to pay grandmother's bills as it is for the young man of today to pay his flapper wife's. Maybe if the wives of today cost as little for their upkeep as grandma did their husbands would be able to afford them.

And maybe, as so often happens in life, the man wouldn't want the plain little thing that was within his reach and would crave the luxury that was a rank extravagance; maybe he wouldn't be satisfied with the dowdy little wife in the cheap clothes and would yearn for one all dolled up in finery. It is hard to go back to near-beer when you have a champagne thirst.

But the main lesson conveyed to women by the government's warning that they can no longer regard marriage as "economic security," is that whatever occupation they undertake is likely to be a life work and that they must prepare themselves for it accordingly. They must not look upon their jobs as something merely temporary. They must not do the sort of work that they can just get by with. They must not be satisfied with earning only a few dollars that will buy them enough good clothes with which to snare a husband.

For, after they catch their husband, it is written on the cards for most of them that they are going to have to keep on earning money outside the home if they continue to live in the style to which they are accustomed or, possibly, if they continue to eat at all. They can't sit down and fold their hands and let George do it, as grandma did. They rave to continue to be self-supporting and, alas, not infrequently they have to support George, too.

The average boy at school does not display more intelligence nor more energy than the average girl, but when they start out to work side by side the boys soon outdistance the girls. This is because the boy expects to have to support himself as long as he lives and he knows that his success depends upon how well he does his work and how much he knows about it. Perhaps when girls realize that they have the same necessity and that marriage is not going to emancipate them from toil, they also will become more efficient.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps, for each pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, style number and size wanted.

Our pattern book of new spring and summer styles is fifteen cents, but only ten cents when ordered with a pattern. Address all mail and orders to Record News Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

J. F. Hulse Weds Miss McClure in Pretty Ceremony

A flower garden motif was the pretty setting Tuesday night at the First Presbyterian church when Miss Macie McClure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. McClure, became the bride of J. F. Hulse of El Paso. The impressive ceremony was read by Dr. N. F. Grafton, pastor of the church.

The bridal party entered from the rear stairway where palms, ferns and southern smilax emphasized the garden decoration. Huge baskets filled with gladiolus and tall cathedral candles added color to the scene.

The pre-nuptial music included organ numbers by Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey, a violin duet by Misses Nell and Virginia Hulse, and a song, "Because," by Mrs. W. M. Priddy.

The bride was lovely in a wedding gown of white chiffon with tulle veil caught with orange blossoms.

Miss Loreign Russell, maid of honor, wore a gown of pastel green. Mrs. Lenley Humphries, matron of honor, wore blue chiffon and Misses Ruby Murrell and Ellen Hooker, bridesmaids, wore contrasting frocks of orange and yellow. The rainbow colors were completed by the pretty flesh colored chiffon worn by Miss Myra Humphries, junior bridesmaid.

Mr. Hulse had for best man, Dick Chapman, city attorney of Waxahachie.

The bride is a graduate of the local Junior college, the University of Colorado and was instructor of music in the Huey school.

Mr. Hulse is a graduate of the state university law school and is at present connected with the firm of Turner, Culwell, Burgess & Pollard, attorneys at El Paso.

After a brief wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Hulse will make their home in El Paso.

New Way Closes Ugly Pores

—blackheads disappear!

Whenever I see a face that would be beautiful—if it weren't for disgustingly large pores, blackheads and oily skin that spoils make-up—I feel sorry.

For out in Hollywood they have a wonderful recipe for a lotion that so easily corrects these flaws and quickly makes the skin nice and smooth.

The very minute you pat it on the face and neck it gets down deep into the skin and cleans out the dirt. It removes blackheads, closes the pores and erases tiny tell-tale wrinkles. Soon the skin becomes silken in texture, youthfully fresh and healthy. There is no oiliness to fight or perspiration to damage make-up and make you look done-in.

Just get 3 ounces of Orchard White from any druggist, mix it with the juice of 2 lemons and you have a full quarter-pint of a lotion far finer and more effective than any special soap, cream or liquid you have ever used.

Note: In the summer this Hollywood recipe keeps the skin free of freckles and guards against that leathery look caused by wind and sun.—Adv.

Mission Lessons Will Continue Through Friday

Mrs. Q. B. Lee presided Wednesday morning when the third lesson of the mission study week was given in the parlors of the First Methodist church. Mrs. J. C. Russell gave the devotional and made a comparison of the interest created in Paul's sermons by the few who went to hear and told their friends, and the civic influence of this day when a woman will plant flowers and cultivate shrubbery in her yard and neighbors will be influenced by her efforts to start beautifying on their own account.

Mrs. E. F. Bohmfalk gave two readings, "Hullo," and "Did You Give Him a Lift?" both of which spoke of the brotherhood of man and demonstrated the aid of an outstretched hand.

Mrs. E. L. Gerhardt gave the lesson on "City Counterforces," speaking of the emotional effect of tall buildings and crowded streets and telling how one force draws people to the city but a desire for peace of mind drives them into the suburbs. Suburban life creates problems for the city, she stated, making government for the suburbs a necessity and presenting the problem of the less fortunate persons who will the vacated places in the crowded parts of the city. Congested areas were discussed as they affect tuberculosis and infant mortality and enlightening statistics were given relative to crowded city districts. Favored and unfavored districts were compared in their relation to chances for education, social habits and race discord and the "will to live," given as the cause of the suburban trend. The church in connection with city problems was an interesting discussion.

Mrs. Wayne Somerville made the lessons more interesting with charts showing birth and death rates and school rates in favored and unfavored city districts.

Mrs. B. P. Williams discussed the social work being done at both the white and colored day nurseries and made suggestions that will probably lead into more social service work among the negroes and Mexicans.

Mrs. C. A. Spragins will talk Thursday on "Remaking the City." Other interesting talks will be made and Mrs. C. Y. Tully will give a solo number. The meeting will begin promptly at 9:45 and interested friends are invited to attend. The series of lessons will end Friday with a special program closing with Mrs. W. W. Fraser's dramatization of "The Crowded Ways," and a solo number by James Guest.

Members present Wednesday were Mesdames J. C. Hanks, S. S. McKenney, A. W. Karrenbrock, J. W. Downing, Q. B. Lee, B. P. Williams, W. W. Cook, J. C. Russell, E. L. Gerhardt, K. B. Dodge, Homer Lee, Wayne Somerville, E. F. Bohmfalk and Miss Ruth Downing.

The First Baptist church of Emporia, Kan., no longer passes a collection plate, but instead has placed a box for contributions near the door.

Popular Young Couple Are Wed At Noon Thursday

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday at high noon when Miss Stella Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith of Wichita Falls, and John D. Reiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Reiger of Ferguson, Mo., were married in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. C. M. Beyer, pastor, reading the impressive ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends.

The bride wore a powder blue chiffon gown with accessories to harmonize and carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds and baby's breath.

Miss Loneta Smith, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and was attractive in a smart frock of pink chiffon.

Mr. Reiger had for best man, Herbert Hausler of this city.

An informal reception was held directly after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Elizabeth street and guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Reiger, Misses Lola and Alice Leath, Loneta Smith, Messrs. Herbert Hausler, Edgar Smith, Master Bobby Smith; Messrs. and Mesdames W. S. Pettitt, R. W. Muse and W. E. Smith.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Reiger left for Colorado where they will remain until June 20 on a honeymoon trip. After that date, they will be at home to their friends at 1407 Travis.

Mrs. Reiger, who is a graduate of the Wichita Falls high school, is head of the statement department of the First National bank and Mr. Reiger is assistant auditor in the same institution.

Industrial Mart Gives Plans for Art Display

Space in the Industrial Mart, 911 Eighth street, is to be given for display of paintings by artists in this and surrounding communities as a means of encouraging local art work and providing better means of showing and selling them, according to plans announced Wednesday by Mrs. W. B. Ward and Miss Ethel Chamberlin, permanent committee on art exhibits.

Exhibits will be subject to loan or sale and only a limited amount of time will be allowed for each display, it was said. Provision of suitable wall space and good lighting, it was pointed out, is expected to afford the public better opportunities for appraising the works of local artists, and to encourage greater activity in this line.

Exhibitors will be furnished display space free of any charge, and will be notified by card on date of expiration of their respective display periods.

LUCKY BREAK?

LONDON.—Sidney Fox, recently executed for the murder of his mother, got a lucky break. The day after he paid with his life, he was cited to appear as a co-respondent in a divorce suit. At least he was spared the scandal of a divorce suit even though he did suffer the penalty of death for murder.

COURT TO SCAN OWENS PARDON

Oklahoma Legislator May Become Candidate

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 4. (UP)—Whether the state supreme court will challenge Gov. W. J. Holloway's authority to pardon O. O. Owens will not be determined until Monday, it was indicated at the capital today.

The governor granted the wealthy Tulsa legislator and oil man a pardon from serving the remainder of a year's sentence in jail for contempt of the supreme court.

While observers pondered probable action of the court, it was learned Owens was considering filing as Republican candidate for lieutenant governor in order to carry his fight against certain supreme court justices, two of whom are Fletcher Riley and Charles W. Mason, are up for re-election.

Three members of the court, Chief Justice Mason, Riley and Hunt, were out of the city and were not expected to return until early next week.

Atty. Gen. J. Berry King, whose office represented the court in Owens' fight to the federal courts, will take no further action in the controversy unless directed either by Governor Holloway or the court, King said.

King explained that the attorney general is subject to direction either from the governor or the court. Former Governor Henry S. Johnston directed the attorney general's office to represent the court in federal litigation.

It was understood the court was divided on the question of challenging the governor's authority. Holloway did not ask King for an opinion on his authority to pardon Owens.

PARDON INVALID, SAYS JOHNSTON

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., June 4. (UP)—The pardon of O. O. Owens by Gov. W. J. Holloway is void and unconstitutional, former Gov. Henry Johnston said today.

"The pardon was part of the system of pay-offs of Governor Holloway to members of the legislature who 'elected' him governor," Johnston said. "The bargain was made in advance that for those who would vote for my impeachment he would pay them in patronages and other favors. The major part of Owen's compensation is his pardon by Holloway. The act is void and unconstitutional."

Olustee Farmers Begin Harvesting of Oats

Special to The Record News.

OLUSTEE, Okla., June 4.—The first grain cutting at Olustee started Tuesday when a field of oats on the Amos Montgomery farm was cut. Wheat will not be ready to cut before the second week in June.

P. W. Walker, master farmer of Blair, thinks the best wheat in Jackson county, will not average over 12 bushels to the acre and very few fields will reach that average.

Young cotton is looking well but the growth is retarded by the continued cool weather. P. L. Spiva, who has been a successful cotton farmer at Olustee for 13 years, states that he had 200 acres up to a fine stand. Spiva said the best cotton crop he ever made was planted on June 8.

Stern Judge Softens After Rich Woman Defendant Weeps for Hours

DENVER, June 4. (INS)—Mrs. Martha F. Carson Hosmer, prominent young society matron, wife of a St. Louis, Mo., tea company official today dodged a 30-day jail sentence for violation of the prohibition law here only by the very narrowest of margins.

After appearing in court alone and admitting to having purchased and had under her arm a gallon of alcohol with which she intended to entertain guests in her apartment, Mrs. Hosmer appeared dumfounded when Judge Orahood's "30 day" pronouncement fell on her ears.

"But can't I pay a fine and go?" she asked. "My friends said I could."

The answer was negative.

Tears streaming down her face, she pleaded that she be spared the ignominy of imprisonment. The court remained adamant. He was tired, he said, of having wealthy law violators trooping into his court and going out again with an idea that people with money don't have to go to jail.

All morning the pretty young society woman sat in the courtroom and alternately wept and pleaded with the judge. He was immune.

With the arrival of the patrol wagon which was to transport her to Denver county jail, the judge relented and changed the jail sentence to a $100 fine.

Mrs. Hosmer went away promising hereafter to serve her guests with her husband's tea product.

STORY BEGINS JAIL SENTENCE

Denton Bandit Must Serve Hundred Days

DENTON, Texas, June 4. (AP)—Yancy Story was back in his home town today—in jail beginning a 100-day jail term for turkey theft.

Story, who was denied admittance to the state penitentiary after he had been reported a fugitive from justice for some time, repeated his story that he had seen both Sheriff Ted Lewis and County Attorney Earl Street during the time he was reported missing. The officers reiterated an indignant denial.

Still in a talkative mood, the convicted robber of the Krum bank, sentenced to five years for that offense, denied he had been hiding out. He said he had been to Denton during the past few weeks a number of times.

"Of course, I didn't have any business at the sheriff's office so I didn't call 'there,'" he said.

Story said he still could not see why "they" did not permit him to begin serving his bank robbery sentence at Huntsville but instead brought him back to Denton.

Arrests Follow Building Collapse

GENOA, Italy, June 4. (AP)—Police today arrested the proprietor of the Immigrant's building and several others for criminal negligence in connection with the collapse of the structure in which two were killed and 16 injured.

With the proprietor were arrested his son, a contractor, and the superintendent who directed the erection of the building.

The collapse on Monday night caught several hundred persons in the wreckage and scores suffered slight hurts.

Search in the debris today continued when it was reported that some immigrants were missing.

Many of the victims lost their savings of years in the crash.

New Olney Buildings Nearing Completion

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, June 3.—Construction work has been completed on the new brick building to be occupied by Z. V. Williams as the Newport cafe. Specially built fixtures are being installed and the new cafe will be opened to the public within the next 10 days.

This new structure adjoins another brick building being built by J. T. Hutchings on Avenue C. The Hutchings meat market was burned out last month in the fire that destroyed the Olney hotel. Dr. Hamilton is building another new brick hotel on the former site.

With the completion of the board of trade building, the Pittsfield building will lose its reputation as the tallest Chicago building. It is 557 feet and the board of trade 608.

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

*In his book, "Get Rid of That Fat," Samuel G. Blythe says: "Any man or woman who is twenty pounds overweight is sick." We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky instead," you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

On Broadway

Error

Not caring much, I paced a dingy street
And turning right I found myself to be
At water's edge—I heard the plaintive bleat
Of tugs and felt the ancient witchery
That ships at night possess—I watched their light
Throw eerie shadows on the water's breast.
And sharply I remembered one dead night
When you and I had watched them on their quest—

I know it had been fever hot all day,
But dusk brought breezes fresh and comforting.
We watched a lighted ferry ply its way
And claimed it was our dream ship, which would bring
A precious cargo to a ghostly pier—
How very wrong we were that night, my dear!

—BROOKE EDISON.

The Morning Mail

"Dear Sir: Have been reading your column for a number of years and recently I blush when I look at the photos of the undraped actresses that appear on your theatrical page in the Mirror. My wife has accused me of admiring those shapely ladies and I'm worried. I have been married for 14 years and still love my wife, and would certainly hate to lose her. So wouldn't you, please, move your column to another page so I can have both? My wife and your column? —Ben Stahl, 2069 Mapes Ave., N. Y. C."

And they shoot scenes!

A Form of Criticism

Bert Lahr, the "Flying High" star, heard a stew in a stay-up-late asylum complain about the real reason why prohibition is a failure.

"The trouble," he growled between hiccoughs, "is that there isn't an honest federal agent in America!"

"Oh, yes, there is," interrupted a clown. "He's up in the museum of natural history."

"Yeah?" flipped the stew. "Then he must be stuffed with bribes!"

Incidentally

Speaking of dishonest federal agents, one local night club owner will tell you that he regrets the night that he permitted a pal to straighten matters out with an agent who had "made a buy."

"I could have bought him off for $500 at tops," said the night clubber, "but a mutual friend fixed things. And am I sorry? A few weeks later the agent lost his badge and job, and he has cost me over $5,000 since then."

"How come?" we queried.

"Well, he gave me a break," was the reply, "so how can I complain when he comes in my place every night with a party or six or eight and orders the best steaks and wines?"

The Other Side of It

The recent controversy here over the unnamed but much-medalled hero has aroused numerous readers, who vigorously object to the anonymous letter writer who belittled the soldier in question. We quote one letter: "Considering that the man has been decorated by every warring nation and that America distinguished him with the congressional medal of honor and other awards, he might have been spared the humiliation. Surely, we all know the lad he meant. And I assure you that Father Duffy and Colonel Donovan, of the 69th regiment, do not subscribe to your contributor's sentiments."

The anonymous belittler probably was his valet.

By Way of Report

Several readers and students of Latin object to a recent paragraph in a "Things I Never Knew Till Now" col'm. They argue that we are wrong in saying that "because of the limited vocabulary it would be impossible for anybody to carry on a satisfactory conversation in pure Latin."

So we dusted off the library and found this engaging paragraph in "Nuggets of Knowledge," by George W. Simpson (Sully): ". . . Catholic clergymen speak and write what is known as ecclesiastical or church Latin, which is based on classic models grammatically, but which contains words from the Greek, Italian and other modern languages in addition to the regular Latin vocabulary. These words from other languages, of course, are given Latin forms and pronunciations. Through this medium priests and churchmen from different countries can converse freely with one another and church Latin serves for them as an international language. Most of the official documents of the church are written in ecclesiastical Latin."

The customer isn't always right.

Why?

A well-known Broadway rounder who had been separated from his wife and children for a few years found diversion in the Tungsten territory, spending heavy coin on the local sirens. After living and loving in the blazing manner with beauties whose names have been front-paged frequently, he recently reconciled with his wife.

The same day—he went out for a newspaper and was killed by a truck.

Quinso, Quinso

La Guinan wonder why people pick on those lit-tul gir-ruls who work in her night clubs. "They do not wear many clothes," says Guinan, "but you can see that their hearts are in the right place."

Nowadays any child of three who hasn't had a couple of major operations, says a writer, couldn't hold up its head in a prep school. That's why so many, on reaching college, feel privileged to take cuts at will.

Eskimoes, explorers tell us, never spank their chldren. Probably because the worst an Eskimo kid can do in his mother's pantry is to swipe a cake of ice.

Today's simile: As significant as a French ambassador in Italy.

The Days of Brutality

IF YOU have numbered among your ancestors an old-time sailing-ship mate—a "bucko mate" of the old days—it might be well for you to go out to the cemetery and have a look at his grave. The chances are that he has recently turned over in it.

The reason for this lies in an obscure little news item that may have escaped your attention altogether; a story telling how the United States supreme court the other day upheld the award of $12,000 to a sailor, who had sued the steamship company that employed him because a petty officer knocked him down with a monkey wrench.

This sailor was struck and floored because he was late in coming on watch. He sued and won his $12,000; the company appealed the case, claiming that the occurrence was simply a brawl common among seamen and not a thing for a which the company could be held liable. The supreme court turned the appeal down, and the sailor will get his money.

So, we repeat—the graves of the old-time mates of the days of square sail had better be inspected. For if there is anything on earth that would make one of those old ruffians turn over in his last resting place it would be the news that a ship's officer can no longer knock down a sailor at will.

Our old traditions seem to be passing fast. Nope was ever better entrenched than this tradition of brutality at sea. While American sailing ships were winning fame for speed and seaworthiness all over the world, they were also becoming notorious among sailors everywhere for abuse and hard treatment. It was common to speak of an American ship as a "hell wagon." To discipline a crew with fists, belaying pins and sea boots, all applied freely where they would do the most good, was known as giving them "Yankee music."

This brutality was closely interwoven with the American record at sea. A man who shipped before the mast in an American ship, especially in the latter days of sail, when expenses were pared to the bone, crews were small and crimps shanghaied the witless dregs of the waterfront to serve as able seamen, expected to be kicked and walloped. The prime function of the mate was to rule with an iron hand, and he generally did it with a whole-souled earnestness.

There was one tradition whose passing no one need lament. The American sailor today gets decent quarters, decent food, decent pay and decent treatment. His officers have no greater privileges than the foremen in industrial plants ashore, which is as it should be. If a sailor is struck he can get damages. The hard-boiled era of "the glorious days of sail" has died forever, and it is a good thing.

Jefferson Davis—Leader of a Lost Cause

JEFFERSON DAVIS and Abraham Lincoln were native sons of the dark and bloody ground. Abraham Lincoln found fame and fortune as an adopted son of Illinois. Jefferson Davis rose to eminence as a soldier and statesman as the adopted son of Mississippi. Abraham Lincoln was the president of that section of the union of states which fought against the right of a state to secede and for the abolition of chattel slavery.

Jefferson Davis was the first and the only president of the Planters' republic, a Confederacy that fought for the right of the state to secede. Armed conflict followed and the cause of Lincoln triumphed and the cause of which Jefferson Davis was the recognized voice perished at Appomatox courthouse.

Jefferson Davis had a remarkable career. His forebears fought in the war of independence and his three brothers were rifle bearers at the last and decisive battle at New Orleans in the second war of the American revolution.

He was a West Pointer. He fought in the Mexican war and prior to that in the Indian wars and his achievements as a soldier are splendid pages of the history he made from early youth. He was a member of congress before the Civil war; he was a secretary of war in the cabinet of a democratic president, he was three times a senator of the United States from the state of Mississippi.

He was a prisoner of war when the Stars and Bars were furled forever. He was indicted for treason to his country. He was represented by one of the greatest lawyers America has known, Charles O'Conner of New York, and O'Conner and Horace Greely, most ultra of Republicans, were his friends and his bondsmen when he needed friends. His story of the rise and fall of the Confederacy was an after the war contribution to American history.

He died years after peace had come. He was a cultured, high-minded, gallant American and he lived and died like a Christian and a man. His cause was lost, but down deep in the hearts of millions of men and women there remains even to this day a warm spot for that president of the Planters' republic who was a bold and undaunted champion of the rights of the state, and who gave all he had in defense of the cause that was lost by the decision of the sword.

Foods for a Traveler

A RECENT United States dispatch from New York presents some interesting statistics on sectional preferences in food in the United States.

Corned beef hash, it develops, is New York's most popular restaurant dish. Philadelphia's favorite is, of course, scrapple. New Orleans diners like their food highly seasoned. In the Middle West the reverse is true. Minnesota goes for steaks in a big way. California is extremely fond of salads. Boston baked beans are popular everywhere, although the eating of them has become a Saturday night ritual nowhere but in their native city.

Travelers often complain that American cooking is too standardized; but there are still sectional preferences and local favorites. The traveler who takes pains to inquire about these local dishes and ask for them can still enjoy considerable variety as he goes about the country.

Expert researchers, who can get you any information on any subject, are at your command, without charge to you. A two-cent stamp will bring you a personal answer to any inquiry of fact you may make. Thousands of newspaper readers use this great service. Try it today. Make your inquiry easily read and easily understood, and address The Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—How should the problem of making a will be approached?—H. W.

A.—It may be simply stated as a disposition of your life insurance, of your general estate, and of personal keepsakes. The administration of the will is the other weighty problem. The choice of executor is of great importance.

Q.—On this continent, in what country was the burro first used? —L. M.

A.—The burro is a descendant of the first donkeys brought over by the Spaniards, and was first used on this continent in Mexico.

Q.—What was the fur cap called which was worn by some of the American soldiers in the revolution? It was made of a squirrel skin with the tail left on.—H. T. M.

A.—Such a cap was called a squirreltail and the soldiers wearing such headgear were called squirreltails.

Q.—What is a person called who fears Russia, its influence or its policy?—J. H.

A.—He is called a Russophobe or Russophobist.

Q.—What city has the largest number of Phi Beta Kappas?—A. B. L.

A.—In proportion to population Princeton, N. J., has the largest number of members of Phi Beta Kappa in the country.

Q.—How is optical glass different from other glass?—B. C. M.

A.—Optical glass is glass of the highest quality used for telescopes, microscopes, camera lenses, and scientific instruments. Its fusing requires great care. After it is melted it is stirred for some hours to obtain homogeneity and freedom from bubbles.

Q.—What is the song so often broadcast which is known as the Home Sweet Home of Mexico?—C. H. S.

A.—It is La Golondrina by Sarradell. The translation of this is The Swallow, and it is one of the most popular songs on the air today. It has been sung for many years, and it is referred to as the Home Sweet Home of Mexico, as it is generally played as the concluding number of a dance or other festivity.

Q.—Is it true that a gold star mother who does not take the trip to France to visit her son's grave, will be awarded the cost of the trip.—J. A. M.

A.—It is necessary for the mother or widow of a soldier buried in France actually to make the pilgrimage to the A. E. F. cemetery in France in order to take advantage of the government's offer. No monetary substitute for this pilgrimage can be considered.

Q.—How many girls who go to Hollywood succeed in getting in the movies? Are many extras employed now?—N. F. N.

A.—Contrary to popular impression, there are not as many movie-mad girls as formerly. It is estimated that less than 20 per cent of the young women who go to Hollywood do so with the idea of entering the movies. Of this number, less than one per cent succeeds in obtaining even a single screen engagement. Less than one-fourth of one per cent of those eventually engaged is ever seen in pictures. There are said to be 17,541 extras registered at the Central Casting bureau. Of these, an average of 840 work every day.

Q.—How much did Frank Smith, who was refused the seat in the senate from Illinois to which he had been elected, spend in his campaign?—T. H. S.

A.—He spent $458,792.

Q.—What is the seating capacity of Wimbledon, England, and what is the largest recorded attendance at a tennis game there?—B. D.

A.—The United States Lawn Tennis association says that the seating capacity of the center court stadium at Wimbledon is approximately 14,000. In addition it has other stands around, what is known as the No. 1 and No. 2 courts. The association cannot give the figures of the record attendance, but in 1929 the All-England club, which conducts the tournaments returned something like $225,000 in ticket applications which the club was unable to fill.

Q.—Has Lawrence Tibbett, the Metropolitan baritone, and star of The Rogue Song, any brothers and sisters?—E. O.

A.—He has two brothers and two sisters. All have fine voices.

Q.—What did the Clayton act do in the way of modifying the Sherman anti-trust law?—F. G. N.

A.—The Clayton act of 1914 prohibits local price discrimination, tying contracts, holding companies, and interlocking directorates.

"SHEILA"

Love and Mystery
Humor and Tragedy

A Story of Wichita Falls
By GORDON TURNER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Maisie Brown writes this story for practice in a story-writing correspodence school course, never intending it to be published. She intersperses it with notes to her instructor. She is confidential secretary of Frank Sheridan, wealthy young lawyer, whose hobby is the solving of crime mysteries. Sheldon is called in by Joseph Hedley, assistant prosecuting attorney, to find a burglar who robbed a safe at the home of William Oliver Wilber. Hedley is engaged to marry Wilber's daughter, Sheila, whose cousin, Andrew Masters, is a frequent visitor at the Wilber home. A diary of Wilber's wife, now dead, has been stolen from the safe. The diary holds a secret of Sheila's birth. Sheridan inserts a $500 reward want ad in The Record News for return of the diary. Andy Masters takes Sheila's chum, Edna Rogers, to dinner at the Kemp hotel. There they see Hedley dining with Pauline Murchison, Sheridan's married sister. Edna thinks Hedley is unfaithful to Sheila. Homer Menton, a criminal lawyer and pal of Andy, and Mercedes Riverton, Menton's stenographer, also are Kemp dinner guests. Mercedes accosts Andy and derides him in Edna's presence about his conduct at a wild party he had given in his bachelor home. Edna quarrels with Andy and the next day tells Sheila of her experiences at the Kemp. Maxie Brown had already explained to Sheila that Hedley's attentions to Mrs. Murchison were innocent. Edna promises Sheila to forgive Andy. Hedley, unaware of Maisie Brown's intervention on his behalf, begs Sheridan to set him right with Sheila.

Now Go On With the Story

CHAPTER 8

Sheila's eyes twinkled while Sheridan was earnestly explaining to her the circumstances of Hedley's meeting with his sister, Pauline. She was having great difficulty in maintaing her mask of outraged maidenhood.

"But Joe was not frank with me," she complained in carrying out her role of knowing nothing. "He pretended to a business engagement. I hate deceitful men. He has shattered my faith; I never will be able to trust him again and that is no pleasant prospect for a long married life."

"Oh, please be reasonable," pleaded Sheridan, "It was all my fault in pledging poor old Joe to silence. You really ought to be proud of him; a man who is loyal to a friend even tho it compromises him in the eyes of those he loves, will be doubly loyal to those loved ones."

Sheila's heart glowed under this sincere praise of her fiance. She wanted to applaud, but held her ground firmly.

"That's all very well," she replied, "but your eloquence leaves me cold. I suppose it is natural for you men to protect each other in your peccadillos, but what about me? How do I know how many of my friends saw them together acting, according to all reports like a pair of lovers? Edna Rogers saw them and tho she knows Joe and me well she wasn't able to laugh it off. Others probably are laughing in their sleeves. A nice situation it puts me in!"

Sheridan threw up his hands in despair. "Was there ever a woman who would listen to reason?" he cried, "and to think they let 'em sit on juries!"

A trill of laughter escaped Sheila. "Oh, well, there's no use putting on the brakes after you've hit the pedestrian. I'll forgive you both if you'll promise to come to my dinner party next Wednesday night."

Wilber was seated at his desk in the laboratory, toying abstractedly with the papers spread out upon its broad surface. He finally picked up a newspaper clipping and turned to Sheridan.

"A new complication has arisen in the safe robbery affair," he said, "and I want your help and advice. I feel that I can trust you fully and I am going to speak frankly altho it is a very painful subject. I do not want to make any false move." He handed the clipping to Sheridan. "That is an advertisement clipped from the classified section of last night's Record News," he explained. "I had been running over the columns in search of the $500 reward

"Oh, please be reasonable!" pleaded Sheridan.

advertisement when I came upon it. What do you make of it?"

Sheridan studied the clipping for several minutes. He read:

HEIRESS SOUGHT

Information wanted as to the whereabouts of a girl now 22 years old, who was born at Dallas City Hospital, in March, 1907, of Houston parents, and secretly adopted by Wichita Falls couple. Mother of girl, now wealthy, desires to make her heir to estate. Must be no publicity. Any communication must be held confidential. Address M-160, care Record News.

"Of course," Sheridan said, "I see the connection. I'd be very dense if I didn't see it after your explanation of the contents of Mrs. Wilber's diary. The woman who inserted that advertisement, or caused it to be inserted, is Sheila's real mother."

"It could be none else," said Wilber, "the dates and places and circumstances are identical. There couldn't possibly have been a similar case. The question now is: what is to be done about it?"

"Ignore it, I would say offhand," Sheridan replied. "It is evident from the advertisement itself that the advertiser has no clue to Sheila's present identity. And Sheila does not need the inheritance of which the advertisement hints; you have plenty."

"Ah, you are wrong and that's just the point," said Wilber sadly. "I have very little to leave Sheila. This," he made a wide gesture which included the house and a vista of the spacious grounds from the open window—"this is largely sham."

"I see I must tell you something of my business affairs," he went on. "Despite surface indications I have very little money. I do not own even a controling interest in the electrical business which bears my name. My income is practically all salary which would end at my death and this has been spent and still is being spent in the upkeep of our home and the giving to Sheila of the place in society to which her mother and I felt she was entitled. I have no surplus, no outside investments and very little life insurance. Understand, I regret none of this on my own account, but Sheila's future worries me."

"But Sheila is to marry Hedley," Sheridan reminded him, "and Joe ought to be able to provide well for her."

"Hedley has good prospects in his profession," Wilbur replied, "but human life and human fortunes are uncertain, as I know only too well. I could not bear to be separated from Sheila. I want them to live here with me, but if anything happened to me, this house would be a white elephant on their hands. I am pinning some hope on my invention—I mentioned it the other day when you were here. I was working on it when you came in today. Let me explain it to you."

Sheridan joined him at the workbench on the opposite side of the room. On the wall above the bench was a large switchboard panel. Heavily insulated wires ran to meters and other apparatus on the bench. Two wires were connected to spring clips on either end of a wide strip of bakelite, which formed the base of an experimental jig. Resting between the clips and held firmly in place by them, was a small, hollow cylinder of some metallic substance, about six inches long and two inches in diameter. Wilbur lifted the cylinder from the jig and handed it to Sheridan.

"That," he said, "is the invention. Not much to look at, is it? But when only a light current of electricity passes through it, it glows like a small sun. The secret of its light-making properties lies in its chemical composition, an alloy of metals, especially treated. I, alone, know the formula and processes, and I believe it defies analysis, but of that I am not certain. Its commercial value lies in cheapness of production and economy of use. It produces powerful illumination on low current consumption and incandescense is obtained without resort to a vacuum which is necessary in present day electric light globes. In fact, circulation of air about it is essential chemically, yet it is a 'cold' light. You can see its commercial possibilities."

"It ought to be worth millions!" Sheridan replied enthusiastically.

"Yes," replied Wilbur, "but the inventor seldom gets the millions. It might be years before it could be put into production. I have neither capital nor financial backing to develop it independently. The only course open to me is either to sell the patent rights outright or market it on a royalty basis. I prefer the latter, and already have opened negotiations with an eastern concern. Two representatives of Demorel-Electric company of Utica, N. Y., are to be here Wednesday." He shook his head doubtfully.

"The outcome is problematical. The new light must be demonstrated to their satisfaction and its full success even then is not assured. Many inventions work well in the laboratory stage, but are found to be impractical in mass production. Any contract I enter into will be conditional, allowing for exhaustive tests and possibly months of additional research work. So you see, too much reliance cannot be put upon this invention to insure Sheila's future."

"You are pessimistic; you are looking only on the dark side," Sheridan protested.

"I am looking the facts squarely in the face," Wilber replied. "That is why I am deeply concerned by this advertisement. It might be to Sheila's best interests if I got in touch with this woman, who undoubtedly wants to make Sheila a substantial bequest. If it could be done without Sheila's knowledge, I wouldn't hesitate, but I can't bear to let her know I am not her father and I feel certain the mother will want to claim her own."

Sheridan, though sympathizing with Wilber in his dilemma, was glowing with inner satisfaction. What an unusual study of conflicting emotions and cross-purposes! It would be his role to untangle the skein and reknit the threads of these haphazardly interwoven lives into a new and better pattern. It was the sort of psychological puzzle which appealed most to his mind.

"You will not want to communicate directly with this woman," he said. "Leave it to me to answer the advertisement as your attorney. We thus can get all the necessary information without committing you to any line of action. I think, however, it will be well to defer inquiry in this quarter until we have recovered the diary. The $500 reward offer has not yet drawn a peep from the burglar, but I have a line on him and if he doesn't take the reward bait, I feel sure that I can run him down. With the diary again safe in your possession and that possible leak stopped, we can take up this other complication and deal with it then as the developments indicate."

Wilber brightened up under Sheridan's optimism.

"Your interest in my sorry affairs and your confidence in the outcome are very reassuring," he said warmly. "Do as you think best; I place myself in your hands, my boy, unreservedly."

Liquor Indictments Accuse Officials

TOPEKA, Kan., June 4. (INS)—One hundred and twenty-five defendants including several public officials of Kansas counties, were indicted by a federal grand jury here today charged with violations of the prohibition law and for selling jamaica ginger as a substitute for liquor which caused nearly 1,000 cases of paralysis.

Included among the officials indicted is Everett Minner, county attorney of Ford county, who was suspended from office yesterday by the supreme court.

The suspension is pending disposition of ouster preceedings brought by William A. Smith, attorney general, following Minner's arrest by federal agents on charges of attempting to bribe John Madden, assistant prohibition administrator of Kansas.

Attempted Assassination Investigated in Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Texas, June 4. (AP)—Bowie county officers today opened an investigation into the attempted assassination last night of Cy Denison, indicted last week for operating a gambling hall here.

Denison said he was fired upon six times as he drove into his garage last night. One of the bullets pierced his hat and another drilled a hole in the windshield of his automobile. Two bullets were found nearby.

Denison could give officers no help in identifying his assailant.

Old Quanah Cornerstone Yields Documents Twenty-two Years Old

Special to The Record News

QUANAH, Texas, June 4.—A metal box deposited in the cornerstone of Travis school building 22 years ago was removed during the razing of that building and its contents placed on exhibition at the local newspaper office.

The box contained a copy of the Quanah Tribune-Chief of April 30, 1908, with printed articles on the Joe Bailey campaign. A copy of the Quanah Observer of same date was also enclosed. Advertisements in these newspapers are of firms long out of business. The survey of the new railroad promoted by L. Simpson, N. L. Jones and others which was to connect Quanah and Hollis is mentioned, and quotes C. W. Strain as saying that the Frisco would soon extend southeast out of Quanah, which in the light of the recent permit to the Rock Island-Frisco to build is almost prophetic.

Quanah's then noted real estate man, Chris Hagelstein is quoted in these papers as saying that Bell brothers, the great wheat growers of Foard county, would make from 30 to 40 bushels per acre.

Gen. Grenville M. Dodge, builder of the T. & P. and Denver railroads and the founder of Quanah, considered the future of Quanah very bright in his published account of visit here with friends that week.

Col. Cecil Lyon had just returned to his home in Sherman following a visit to his damsite farms, finding crops in great shape; and referred to Quanah's industries being stimulated by the new oil mill here.

A number of business and candidates' cards had been deposited in the box, all in good state of preservation. One was of John R. Southern, architect of the building, who died two years ago in Fort Worth. Another was of Frank Walker, candidate for sheriff, who died about 10 years ago in Burkburnett.

The Mothers club had its brief history recorded having, been organized March 19, 1908, with a membership of 40. The officers were Mrs. L. Simpson, president; Mrs. W. E. Coffey, vice president; Mrs. C. T. Watkins, secretary; Mrs. Jeff Rodgers, treasurer, and Mrs. L. D. Smith, corresponding secretary.

A few coins and other trifles composed the balance of the contents.

This school building is being torn down to make way for a new, modern structure to be erected on the site, contract for which has been let, and work will begin June 16.

Dr. James G. Needham, professor of entomology at Cornell, has been awarded the King senior memorial medal by the Peking Society of Natural History.

Woodman Circle Plans Meeting at Duncan

Special to The Record News

MANGUM, Okla., June 4.—A dozen members of Grove No. 533, Mangum Woodman circle, will go to Duncan Friday to attend a district convention.

Mrs. Fannie B. Goff of Altus, district manager, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting, a feature of which will be the initiation of 100 candidates. Mrs. Margaret G. Meadows of Fort Worth, national director and state manager of Oklahoma, will be guest of honor and principal speaker. She will preside over the initiation, assisted by the Lawton drill team. Mrs. Meadows, who is national chaplain and a member of the home committee, will tell of the organization's new home for aged members and orphaned children at Sherman, Texas. In recognition of their field work, both Mrs. Meadows and Mrs. Goff have won trips to the home-coming dedication to be held in Sherman, June 25, 26 and 27.

Many Oklahoma members plan to join the pilgrimage to the shrine of fraternity when the first building of the home is dedicated. Members in this state have contributed more than $1,100 to the fund.

LAW PROTECTS SCHOOL EDITOR

Irate Students Clamor for 'Slanderer' of Co-Eds

TUCSON, Ariz., June 4. (INS)—A police riot call was sent out today to protect William Kimball, 21, University of Arizona junior and year book editor, from a mob of more than 200 irate students seeking vengeance for alleged slander of several women students in the comic section of this year's annual book.

Kimball, locked in his home, was protected from the mob by fraternity brothers until the arrival of the police who were requested by President Homer Leroy Shantz to continue patroling the campus during the day.

The action, taken in the presence of high university officials, does not bar Kimball from classes but it excludes him from student activities.

Extradition of Sooner Suspect Expedited

MEXICO CITY, June 4. (UP)—Extradition of Joy Harper, wanted in Pennsylvania, Oklahoma and elsewhere on forgery charges, was believed to have been expedited today by submission of two affidavits to the court.

The affidavits, made by residents of Oklahoma, previously had been useless because uncertified by the state department, but they were properly submitted today.

United States officials who were informed yesterday that evidence for extradition was not sufficient said they believed the new affidavits would be sufficient.

Olney Organizes For Clean-Up Drive

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, June 4.—Dates for the annual clean up campaign have been announced as June 9 to June 14, according to Mayor Chas. S. Richardson who this week has issued a proclamation requesting that everyone cooperate in this movement. The campaign is being sponsored by the Olney Lions club with all other organizations in the community assisting.

The downtown business section has been divided into blocks with a captain in charge of each. The business houses will be requested to close for two hours on the initial day of the campaign and everyone will assist in cleaning the block in which they are located.

Letters were sent out this week appointing one woman in each residence block as chairman of her district and requesting that she inform her neighbors of the campaign. Rev. Gid Bryan, pastor of the First Methodist church is general chairman of the campaign.

Others serving on the Lions club committee are: Dr. D. R. Woods, Bernard Lunn, Chas. S. Richardson and Joy Graham. A committee appointed by Wright McClatchy, president of the chamber of commerce to cooperate with the Lions club is composed of F. M. Miller, S. M. J. Benson Jr., and A. S. Acker.

TRAMPLING ART FOR PROFITS

FOR all its virtues, modern industrialism can run amuck under the spur of greed for profits. Witness, the ruin threatening the Art of Music.

300 musicians in Hollywood supply all the "music" offered in thousands of theatres. Can such a tiny reservoir of talent nurture artistic progress?

The true function of the machine is to increase the value of the product fed into it—not to debase it. Therefore mechanical music, as a substitute for Living Music, is a spurious form of progress—Like a loom converting good wool into shoddy.

The grind organ, however operated, is a grind organ still. For music is an emotional art, a form of social intercourse, and hence dependent upon human contact.

Who profits by the elimination of genuine music from the theatre? Not the music-loving public! Not the musician!

If you agree that theatre patrons are entitled to real music—in addition to talking and sound motion pictures, for the price they pay—HELP SAVE THE ART FROM RUIN. Enroll with millions of others in the Music Defense League. When the public's voice is raised its will must be served!

CLEANLINESS IS NEXT TO IMPOSSIBLE

with some types of soaps which contain "filler" and foreign matter. You can get such soap for a few pennies less, but it will cost you time and trouble in the end.

Clever housewives insist on White King Granulated Soap. It is absolutely pure and safe—even for the most delicate washing. And because it's condensed, a little goes a long way. One teaspoonful in a basin of water, one cupful to the tub is ample.

White King Granulated Soap is made of pure vegetable oils good enough to eat—the most harmless and effective cleansing agent known. For heavy washing, dishes, or dainty things, it's safe, effective, and economical. Your grocer has it.

Vacation rates for idle residence telephones

One solution (provided you're planning a vacation of 30 days or more) is to place your telephone on vacation half-rates while you are away.

It's a convenient way to save money. And—this to folks who sometimes have their telephones taken out—it spares you inconvenience on your return.

That's because:

1. You pay just half the regular rate.
2. Service is reconnected quickly after you return—usually within 24 hours after you notify us.
3. You keep your present telephone number. (You'd lose it if you had your telephone removed!)
4. Your name remains in the telephone book.

If you wish, while you are away we will refer your calls to another telephone—that of relatives, for instance.

Vacation rates are available for periods of more than 30 days, but not over four months. They apply only to residence telephones.

JURY PROBES WATER CHARGE

Oil Companies Blamed With Stream Pollution

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, June 4.—Oil company heads will be called before the grand jury which goes in session Thursday morning to answer charges of stream pollution being made by Stephens county farmers, according to District Attorney L. H. Welch. Mr. Welch said Wednesday that numerous complaints had been made by the farmers and ranch owners to County Attorney Robert Bowers, who in turn requested Mr. Welch and the grand jury to investigate these complaints.

According to Welch, several oil companies are refusing or neglecting to follow out the laws governing pollution of streams and lakes. Farmers and ranchers are complaining that salt water from wells is being turned into the fresh streams and bodies of water, thus endangering stock that drink there and making the water unsuitable for irrigating farm land.

Laws governing this action forbid the oil firms from turning the salt water directly into the streams. Special tanks and drying vats are supposed to be used by the companies for catching the salt water.

Several farmers have complained that they have lost stock after they had drunk from the polluted streams.

Use of Tobacco Blamed for Cancer

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 4. (AP)—Protracted use of tobacco was called the principal though remote cause of mouth cancer at a meeting today of the Dauphin County Medical society.

It also was said that tobacco may be rid of much of its danger by cleanliness of the mouth.

"There is no question," said Dr. Joseph Colt Bloodgood of Johns Hopkins, "that the most common cause of cancer of the mouth today is the long continued use of tobacco. The second is ragged, dirty teeth. Cancer of the mouth must have been very rare before the discovery of tobacco in America.

"It is since the discovery of tobacco that we have learned that some barbarous tribes in Africa have cancer of the mouth following the chewing of betel nuts. It was the smoking of the short pipe in Ireland that first called attention to cancer of the mouth and lip. We have no evidence, now that we have our recent experience, that it makes much difference whether it is pipe, cigarets, cigars, chewing tobacco or snuff, or betel nuts. Apparently it is the irritation that is the chief cause."

President, C. H. Sanders; first vice president, B. H. Davis; second vice president, Roy Holt; third vice president, R. H. Kiesee; secretary, Frank Stubblefield; treasurer, C. A. Jemison; tail twister, H. M. McClair; lion tamer, M. A. Cassidy; directors, J. E. Childers, H. I. Goodwin, H. N. Taylor and R. H. Cochran.

Art Wright of Frederick was a guest of the club. Several musical selections were played by Miss Pauline Harris.

Total of 64 Dead In Columbian Ship Wreck

BOGOTA, Colombia, June 4. (AP)—A total of 64 dead was the latest figure received here today in dispatches describing the sinking of the river steamer Goeraga off Teneriff, in the Magdalena river Monday.

The steamer struck a large tree trunk under the water. The shock broke the bottom of the steamer and when the water hit the boilers they exploded. The explosion was followed by fire.

Caught by fire and water the passengers and crew had no choice but to leap overboard or be burned to death.

It is stated that 64 persons lost their lives, although only 40 bodies have been recovered.

Murder and Suicide End Couple's Lives

KENDALLVILLE, Ind., June 4. (AP)—The bodies of Emma Menzel, 22, of Kendallville, and Marion Casebeer, 30, of Montpelier, Ohio, were found today in an automobile three miles south of here under circumstances that indicated murder and suicide. Both had been dead several days.

Miss Menzel had been shot through the head and heart and apparently had been strangled. Empty poison bottles indicated the method taken by Casebeer to end his life.

Panic of News and Events Marks Another Day of Indian Disorders

BOMBAY, India, June 4. (AP)—India's intermittent fever of discontent swung back today to its quiet phase following 24 hours of bitter clashes between police and followers of Mahatma Gandhi's program of passive resistance to British authority.

From the Punjab to Madras there was a panic of either news or events. Only in Delhi was a suspicious incident reported, burning of the National Bank of India and several shops, causing damage of about $550,000. The fire was in the Gandhi Chowk, principal street, where some days ago serious rioting occurred. Its cause was not known.

Politically the congress volunteers believed their position had strengthened by alignment with them of a strong section of Moslem sentiment expressed in a mile-long parade of Moslems in the streets of Bombay and the adoption, afterward in a mass meeting, of a resolution supporting the all-India national congress program.

The group appealed to all their fellows to support the Mahatma Gandhi civil resistance movement and boycott British goods. It also declared that so long as the congress and the Moslem council did not support the impending round table conference, no Moslem should attend it.

The action indicated a decided change of heart by the Moslem wing of the population.

Troops today were withdrawn from the Worli salt raiders' internment camp where yesterday 88 persons were injured. The rioting occurred when Hindu women tried to bar troops from repairing the pen's barbed wire entanglements. Volunteers had escaped its confines in a concerted rush. Heavily armed police remained in the vicinity.

In salt rioting at Cholinganallur, yesterday, 20 persons were hurt, Madras reported.

Rangoon, too, was quiescent. Both Hindu and Burmese laborers have resumed work where last week dock strike riots caused bitter and fatal encounters with the authorities.

Rawalpindi reported that Surdul Singh, president of the Punjab congress committee, has been arrested for sedition and taken to Lahore. He was one of V. J. Patel's appointees. His mission was investigation of the recent Peshawar disturbances, which the government tabooed. The official inquiry into the riots now has been concluded, the committee announced.

Men's Bible Class Gives Annual Banquet at Olney

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, June 4.—More than 100 men attended the banquet given here by the Young Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church. Rev. Ross A. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist church, Breckenridge, delivered the principal address of the evening.

The Young Men's Bible class has been meeting for several years in the Palace Theater building and Monday night Olin Calvin spoke on the origin and history of the class. Special music by a quartet composed of Jack Lynn, Henry Craig, L. C. Boyd and J. P. McGee, featured the evening's entertainment. J. P. Alexander presided at the meeting and Rev. W. H. Townsend, local pastor, appeared on the program.

WOMEN PLEDGE 'DRY' SUPPORT

Federation Delegate Will Reiterate Stand

DENVER, Colo., June 4. (UP)—Three million American women will pledge their support to prohibition when 10,000 delegates meet for the 20th biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs here this week.

Leaders among the delegates, most of whom will arrive before the opening session of the convention Thursday, said today the federation will go on record stronger than ever for the 18th amendment.

The prohibition resolution to be presented before the convention will declare "there are sinister influences seeking to undermine the efficacy of the 18th amendment and to render the laws for enforcement thereof impotent."

Among other resolutions to be considered by the convention will be the one endorsing ratification of the London naval treaty and the Pan-American treaty, one giving approval to the naming of a mountain peak in Colorado after Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and one lending its influence to a proper celebration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

EXPORT LIQUOR CARGO SEIZED

First Execution of New Law Made in Canada

WINDSOR, Ont., June 4. (AP)—Ontario provincial police today reported the first seizures of liquor under the new Canadian law which prohibits export into the United States.

The barge GW-4 was seized on Lake St. Clair at Stony Point, Inspector Sidney Oliver reported. He said 1,500 cases of beer were found.

A speedboat also was seized at Stony Point and three men were arrested.

An Ontario highway traffic officer at Essex, Ont., 16 miles east of here found 12 bags containing whisky in a field in which an airplane was landing. The plane took off again and several men in another part of the field ran to an automobile in which they sped away.

Colonel Fierro to Take to Air Friday

SAN ANTONIO, June 4. (UP)—Col. Roberto Fierro, Mexican aviator who plans to make a non-stop flight from New York to Mexico City, told the United Press this afternoon that he would not leave here for the former city until Friday.

Earlier plans to take off today were changed after Colonel Fierro was in communication with Mexico City. He has been here since Monday when he arrived after spending Sunday night on a ranch near San Angelo. His plane was forced down for lack of fuel caused by a leaky gas line.

Loaded Revolver Found In Bandit's Jail Cell

CHICAGO, June 4. (UP)—Willie Niemoth's last hope of escaping extradition to Baltimore on a pay roll robbery charge was gone today after a loaded revolver was found in his cell and a special squad of seven police was detailed to forestall a jail delivery by his hoodlum friends.

Lewis Continues Bribery Defense

LOS ANGELES, June 4. (UP)—After scoring two points in his defense but failing to obtain a directed verdict of not guilty yesterday, S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian Petroleum corporation, today continued his defense to jury bribing charges.

Superior Judge Victor McLucs, in denying the promoter's motion said that the prosecution had failed to show that the "defendant had bribed anyone," but suspended judgment on the point raised by Lewis in the motion.

Lewis declared he could not be convicted on the testimony of an accomplice, and contended that Mrs. Caroline Love, juror, whom he assertedly offered $20,000 and J. H. Weaver, agent in the bribery negotiations, were accomplices.

Mme. Roger Sudreu Is Awarded Divorce

PARIS, June 4. (INS)—A divorce was granted by the Seine tribunal today to Mme. Roger Sudreau, the former Jacqueline Lebaudy, daughter of Jacques Lebaudy, the so-called "emperor of the Sahara" who was murdered at his Long Island home some years ago.

The Sudreaus were married on Jan. 21, 1922. Mme. Sudreau charged her husband with infidelity.

A divorce also was granted to Mrs. Fred Blow of Chicago, the former Madeleine Gauthier, who was married on June 2, 1927. She charged desertion.

HEFLIN URGES DEMO MEETING

Alabama Senator Asks Party to Reconsider

WASHINGTON, June 4. (INS)—Senator Heflin, Democrat, of Alabama, today publicly appealed to Chairman Pettus of the Alabama Democratic state committee to call another committee meeting to rescind its action in barring "Hoover Democrats" from the forthcoming Democratic state primary.

He said 50,000 Democrats of the state had condemned the committee's action at public meetings and that one member of the state supreme court, Judge Thomas, had declared it "null and void". He said four-fifths of the Democrats of Alabama felt the committee's action was "outrageous."

Heflin, a candidate for re-election, is barred from the primary by the committee's ruling. He declared the action had placed the "Roman-Tammany political party" in control of the Democratic party in Alabama.

He declared that friends of Smith were seeking to run him again in 1932.

"I fought him in 1928, and if they run him again in 1932," he added, "I'll fight him again."

Largest Meteorite On Record Shown

CHICAGO, June 4. (AP)—A meteorite, believed by officials of Field museum to be the largest single one ever to fall upon the earth, has been presented to the museum by Stanley Field. It was placed on exhibition today.

The stone, known as the Paragould meteorite, weighs 820 pounds, which is 175 pounds heavier than any previously reported. It fell at Paragould, Ark., Feb. 17, 1930, and penetrated hard clay to a depth of nine feet.

Dr. Oliver C. Farrington, curator of geology said, "this meteor attracted attention in three states, Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas. Its light was so bright that persons in St. Louis who saw it thought it was an airplane going down in flames. At Paragould nearly every one in town was awakened by the detonation, and livestock was stampeded.

CORNS

INSTANT RELIEF

100% SAFE

Keeping rid of corns is simply a matter of using the right method—Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. Their soothing, healing medication ends pain instantly. Their protective, cushioning feature removes the cause—friction and pressure of shoes.

Once a corn is gone, it will never come back, if Zino-pads are used at the first sign of irritation from new or tight shoes.

Cutting your corns is dangerous—invites blood poisoning. Harsh liquids or plasters often cause acid burn. Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads are safe, sure. Doctors recommend them. Sizes also for Callouses and Bunions. Sold everywhere—35c box.

CROQUET FANS PLAN LEAGUE

Players Meet Tonight to Arrange Schedule

A league of Wichita Falls croquet players will be organized Thursday evening at the Memorial auditorium in the office of the park department preliminary to the first scheduled match play, which will take place Friday evening, according to an announcement Wednesday of Tom McCarty, recreational director of the park department.

The organization meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening and all persons desiring to enter the league have been urged to turn in their names by 8 o'clock of that evening in order that the schedules might be prepared before the opening of play Friday evening. Players in the new league will also discuss plans for future tournaments at the meeting.

Friday night's matches will begin at 7:30 o'clock on three different courts, those across from the Junior college, those at Twenty-third street and Princeton avenue and those in Scotland park. Players will also have use of the courts at Bellevue park but no lights will be available for the Friday evening games, Mr. McCarty said.

A city-wide tournament will be held on the last Friday in June, when prizes will be awarded the winners of each division. During August another tournament will be played, the winner to represent Wichita Falls in the annual state tournament to be held at Marine park, Fort Worth, on Labor day, Sept. 1.

Electra News

Rev. Burn Shoffner was in charge of the young people's meeting at the Church of Christ Sunday evening. The opening song, led by Miss Alma Bates, was "Where We'll Never Grow Old," and was followed by prayer by Myrl Russell. Rev. Shoffner was in charge of the lesson that was taken from the new class book, "Bible Studies." The closing song was "Oh, Happy Day," and Gilbert Birdsall led the closing prayer. There were 34 young people present.

Methodists Hold Meeting Monday

Mrs. W. C. Martin, president, presided over the meeting of the Methodist Ladies' Missionary society Monday afternoon in the basement of the church. The opening song was "I Am Thine, O Lord," with Mrs. H. C. Hill at the piano. Mrs. B. J. Lamar led the opening prayer after which a responsive Scripture reading taken from the fifth chapter of Matthew was given. Reports were given by circle A, circle B and circle C regarding the circle meetings last Monday. Mrs. A. C. Rippy gave the treasurer's report.

Plans were made for the members to serve a banquet on June 20 for the 1926 graduating class of the Electra High school. Committees were also appointed for the church social night which will be Wednesday night. The reception committee is composed of Mesdames W. C. Martin, O. A. Basham, H. C. Hill, A. N. Richardson. Mrs. Kate Wolf is chairman of the telephone committee and Mesdames C. L. Bounds and W. C. Kiker will preside at the register.

Circle Six, Baptist W. M. U. Meets

Circle six of the Baptist W. M. U. met at the home of Mrs. W. S. Smith on West Roosevelt Monday afternoon. "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" was the opening song and Mrs. C. W. Moore led in prayer. Mrs. E. B. Holcomb brought the devotional which was taken from the 13th and 14th chapters of the book of Acts. Mrs. A. S. Kerby gave the secretary-treasurer's report. Mrs. John Brownlee, who has been leader of the circle, resigned and a committee was appointed to select a new leader. Mrs. Harris was in charge of the mission study.

Those present were Mesdames A. S. Kerby, Dan Twomey, Tom Miller, Harris, C. W. Moore, Ben Rohrer, W. L. Allen, E. B. Holcomb and the hostess.

Circle Five Plans Pageant

At a meeting of circle five of the Baptist W. M. U. Monday afternoon plans were made to give a pageant next Monday evening when circle five will entertain the business women of the general W. M. U. who are unable to attend meetings on Monday afternoon. Special music and numbers will also be arranged. Members of circle five are formulating plans to hold a meeting on the second Monday evening of each month instead of in the afternoon so the business women can attend at least one meeting each month.

Plans will be made next Monday evening to organize a business women's circle. Mrs. R. T. Eudaley, leader of circle five, is in charge of the entertainment.

Methodist Plan Social Session

A church social night will be held at the First Methodist church Wednesday evening, and a large number of people are expected to attend. The Methodist Ladies' Missionary society are in charge. The reception committee is composed of Mesdames W. C. Martin, O. A. Basham, H. C. Hill and A. N. Richardson. Mrs. Kate Wolf is chairman of the telephone committee and Mesdames C. L. Bounds and W. C. Kiker will be in charge of the register.

Young People Meet Sunday

The Christ's Ambassadors of the Assembly of God church met at the church Sunday evening at 6:30. Miss Estelle Barnett was in charge of the program. The opening songs were "Beautiful" and "I Will Never Turn Back," followed with prayer by Calvin Davids. The remainder of the program included: Reading, "Our Watchword," Jack Woods; girls quartet, "Call Me Home From the Foreign Fields," Mildred and Olive Bonnar, Mary Jo Barnett and Dolly Broutherton; reading, Mary Jo Barnett; girls' quartet; reading, Calvin Davids; song, "Go and Tell" by all; reading, Beatrice Whorton; reading, Edith Andrews; missionary talk, Estelle Barnett; closing prayer, Mrs. E. B. Crump. There were 46 present and Calvin Davids was appointed the leader for next Sunday.

Women's Council Studies Missions

The Women's Missionary council of the Assembly of God church met at the church Monday afternoon at 2:30 with the president, Mrs. E. B. Crump, in charge of the meeting. The opening songs were "Living by Faith" and "Blessed Rock." Mrs. Bussey led the opening prayer. Topics discussed were "The Latin American Bible School," Mrs. Fred Hollis; "How Prayers Stop Mobs in China," Mrs. E. L. Sims; Bible lesson from the 10th chapter of Matthew, Mrs. B. E. Beebe; "Work in Japan," Mrs. J. F. Long; closing prayers by Mesdames M. S. Pierson, Fred Hollis and Baljew, and dismissal by Mrs. E. S. Ray.

Those present were Mesdames Bailew, Fred Hollis, E. L. Sims, J. F. Long, M. L. Martin, B. E. Beebe, Bussey, A. Hollis, E. S. Ray and E. B. Crump.

Colombian President Honored by Stimson

WASHINGTON, June 4. (US) — President-elect Enrique Olaya of Colombia tonight was the guest of Secretary and Mrs. Stimson at their Woodland home. It was one of the most colorful functions yet tendered the Colombian as guest of this nation.

Senor Olaya will remain here until June 15, when he will go to New York for a series of conferences with bankers and business men. Out of these conferences is expected to come an important loan for Colombia.

AND STILL RUNNING

LONDON.—The oldest passenger railway engine in England is still in active service. It is the "Ryde," built in 1864, and which is now running on the Brading-Bembridge line in the Isle of Wight. The engine has run more than 1,500,000 miles.

Stolen Wichita Car Recovered in Kansas

The presence of a brief case containing papers which bore the name of Bridwell Oil company of Wichita Falls in an automobile seized by officers in Burlington, Kan., Wednesday evening led to the holding of a man who will be returned to Tulsa, Okla., to face charges of stealing the car, according to information given at police headquarters here following a telephone conversation with officers in the Kansas town.

Police here called J. S. Bridwell after notification from Burlington officers and ascertained that the car, belonging to the Bridwell company, had been stolen from Tulsa Tuesday. At that time it bore Texas license plates. At the time of the man's arrest in the Kansas town, the machine bore Kansas license plates which had been stolen after the car was taken from Tulsa. Officers reported the man made an attempt to escape when he was stopped for questioning and was not taken into custody until after a fight. He will be returned to Tulsa, where charges will probably be filed in federal court, since the stolen property was transported across the state line.

Bomb Murder Suspect On Trial for Life

ROCKVILLE, Md., June 4. (AP)—An attempt to weave a web of circumstantial evidence about Leroy Brady, young farmer and mechanic, accused with his brother Harman of the New Year's day bomb murder of the latter's 18-year-old bride and two members of her family, was made today as several of the state's 65 witnesses took the stand. Herman obtained a separate trial.

The explosion of the bomb, which arrived bedecked with Christmas seals as a belated holiday gift, took place in the home of the parents of Herman's bride, Mrs. Naomi Hall Brady, at Seat Pleasant.

Escaped Pair Evades Pursuit of Police

SHAMROCK, Texas, June 4. (UP) —Officers still were searching tonight for two prisoners who escaped from the county jail at Wheeler early today after attacking a jailer. The two prisoners, James Howard, Pampa, and Bob Russell of Clarendon, were believed to have fled in a stolen automobile.

Services Today For Mrs. Corner

Death Claims Mother of John Gould

Funeral services for Mrs. Richard Corner, mother of John Gould, editorial writer and columnist for the Daily Times, will be held in Waco Thursday morning from the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Early. The body will then be forwarded to Austin for interment. Mrs. Corner died in Waco about 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. Mr. Gould was at the bedside, having left here Tuesday.

Mrs. Corner, a native of Brazos county and a member of a pioneer Texas family, had been seriously ill for several months. She was taken from home in Austin last January to Waco for treatment. Austin had been her home for the past 38 years.

Survivors include the husband and six children, John Gould of this city, Mrs. Serena G. Early and Miss Kathleen Gould of Waco, Mrs. M. E. Farris of Lubbock, Richard Corner Jr., and Josephine Corner of Austin, and nine grandchildren. Three brothers and a sister also survive.

Jury Censures Pilot Of Capsized Craft

SANTA MONICA, Calif., June 4. (UP)—A coroner's jury today returned a verdict criticising the pilot of the fishing boat Ameco, which capsized May 30 with 16 possible deaths by drowning, and at the same time, urged that laws be passed to guard against a similar disaster in the future.

The inquest was held over Margaret Kellar, 18; C. E. Barnett, 26, and J. W. Lockhard, 26, three victims whose bodies were recovered soon after the pleasure craft was struck by a huge wave and poured several score of passengers into the ocean.

According to the best possible accumulation of figures since the disaster, 13 persons still are missing and 54 were saved.

Wichita Boy Injured When Horse Kicks Him

Woodrow Sowell, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Sowell, 1010 Pecan street, suffered probably fractured ribs and severe bruises when he was kicked in the chest by a horse at his home about 7 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The youth was rushed to the Wichita General hospital in an emergency ambulance from the Alberts Funeral home. Attendants said Wednesday night he was not in a serious condition and that X-ray photographs would be made of the injured chest Thursday morning to determine the extent of injuries.

Four sets of twins attended class in the same schoolroom at Morristown, N. Y.

TRIO HELD IN WHISKY RAID

Officers Seize 48-Gallon Liquor Cargo

Wichita Falls police officers, assisting federal prohibition agents, late Wednesday night arrested three men and seized a cargo of 96 half-gallons of whisky just as the load of liquor was driven up to a house on the main highway about seven miles this side of Henrietta, according to information given at police headquarters here, where the men were jailed.

Investigations conducted by the federal agents led to the action Wednesday night, information that the shipment of liquor and probably other shipments would be delivered at that time having been obtained through the network of government prohibition forces. W. E. McDonald and A. L. Stubblefield, detectives on the police force, assisted the federal officers in the raid. While these officers were returning to Wichita Falls with the arrested men and the liquor, the federal agents continued their activities with the expectation of catching a second load of liquor believed to be coming from the vicinity of Nocona. One of the men will be charged with possession and transportation of liquor and the other two probably with conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws, all federal charges, officers said.

Fire in Vacant House Causes $1,500 Damage

Flames of undetermined origin caused damage estimated at $1,500 to a vacant house at 903 Eleventh street about 10 o'clock Wednesday night, according to reports at Central fire station. The damaged structure was a large two-story frame house. The blaze had gained considerable headway before the flames were discovered and the alarm turned in but the fire was quickly brought under control. A second alarm was turned in about an hour later when smouldering embers in the house flared up again, but this blaze was extinguished by the chemical truck company.

Pup Replaces 'King Tut' In President's Kennel

WASHINGTON, June 4. (US) — President Hoover's police dog "King Tut" is dead and has been replaced by "Pat," a dog of the same breed.

"King Tut" became vicious and snapped at almost everyone about the White House except policemen in uniform. He walked with them about the White House grounds during the night and grew suspicious of all except policemen.

His demise was announced today as a six month old pup took his place and played about the south grounds with the other dogs.

A motion for rehearing of the suit involving the Great Southern Life Insurance company and H. I. Johnson, justice of the peace at Burkburnett, on Johnson's claim to compensation as a result of an accident, was overruled by the supreme court Wednesday, according to an Associated Press dispatch to The Record News.

Johnson's claim grew out of the loss of his leg through the accidental discharge of a gun. The suit thrown out of the supreme court Wednesday was the second of similar nature to have been filed against the insurance company on the same claim. In the first suit Johnson asked payment of a first installment of $2,000 claimed due him under the terms of his policy and judgment for this amount was awarded by a jury in district court here. The judgment was affirmed and collected after the appeals court approved the action of district court. The second suit was filed when the next installment claimed by Johnson fell due, according to terms of the policy. After a second judgment for Johnson in district court here, the insurance company carried the cause to the higher courts and a motion to remove the suit from the supreme court was overruled by the commission of appeals about a month ago. The court itself, however, overruled the motion for a rehearing of the case Wednesday, leaving the judgment in Johnson's favor.

J. L. Hair Heads R. A. M. Chapter

J. L. Hair was elected high priest of Squire Walkup chapter No. 427, Royal Arch Masons, at the annual election of the chapter held Wednesday night in the lodge rooms. C. W. Staley was elected king.

Other officers selected were H. E. Thomas, scribe; C. J. Greene, treasurer; G. W. Curd, secretary; Eli F. Morgan, captain of the hosts; Lawrence Rollins, principal sojourner; J. A. Spivey, royal arch captain; B. O. Howle, third veil; M. M. Ingham, second veil; W. R. Worley, first veil; and E. J. Beeler, guard.

Rites at Alvord for Edward C. Stockton

Funeral services for Edward C. Stockton, 70, 206 Bluff street, who died suddenly from a heart attack about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, will be held at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon in Alvord. The body will be forwarded to that city Thursday morning by the Hines mortuary. Mr. Stockton was a pioneer of the state, having lived near Alvord for the greater part of his life. He had lived in this city for the past eight years.

Survivors include the widow, two sons, Edward C. Stockton Jr., an employe in the mailing room of the Times Publishing company, and John L. Stockton; and a daughter, Miss Zena Stockton, all of this city.

Mental Inhibitions and Complexes

In this age when psychoanalysis, psychology and behaviorism are almost household words, many people have had their attention called to the fact that the conscious thinking occupies only a very small part of our mental processes. Most of our decisions, our likes and dislikes, and even or beliefs, are not the result of conscious reasoning, but the result of subconscious processes and impressions.

Have you ever considered why it is that you may act quite differently when in the company of certain people? Most of us do react and feel differently under different stimulations. A man's wife and children may never actually know him as he appears to his business associates or to his fellow club members. Indeed, he may be actually unacquainted with his own chararter. Much of one's true self may be hidden below the layer of consciousness, and one of the principal aims is studying psychology is to make us better acquainted with ourselves so that we will have the many favorable qualities and the vast store of information of our subconscious mind available for us as the occasions demand.

Even though one's intellect may be developed, it is rare that one acts from intellectual impulses. Almost all of our actions are governed by our emotions. The older systems of psychology laid great emphasis on studying the intellect, but the latest methods investigate the sources of our emotions and why we react in some special way to an external stimulus.

Several men may react to the same type of stimulus in different ways, for example, if one man is held up by a highwayman, he will immediately submit and turn over his cash. The second man even though he has very little money in his pocket, will try to kick the pistol out of the highwayman's hand and fight. The third man may turn to his heels and run, while the fourth man might be so frightened as to be almost paralyzed. These men probably do not react so differently from an intellectual reasoning that one method or the other is the best thing to use under the circumstandes, but because certain emotions such as fear, anger, or covetousness influence their behavior.

There is no doubt that many of the mental complexes are formed during childhood by wrong trainining and influence, and the whole afterlife may be handicapped unless the viewpoint can be corrected. The complexes which are so easily formed may be much more difficult to untangle. You should make every effort to get rid of them just as you would a weed in your garden which was crowding out some choice flowers or fruits.

Many people are thwarted in their efforts to attain the things they desire, but this should not be discouraging or an indication to quit. Some of the finest things in life are difficult to obtain, and the striving to obtain them is often more valuable than the actual attainment.

It is a good plan for us to form good habits every day of our life, for then we will instinctively do the proper thing. If one is slovenly in appearance at home and carless with one's speech one is also apt to do this in company, when one desires to make a good impression. Even when no one is watching it is well to be neat and orderly and when alone to think kind and generous thoughts.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cure Stomach Ulcers First

Question: Mrs. G. writes—"I recently had an X-ray examination, and the doctor states that I have both stomach ulcers and adhesions. Would you advise me to take the diet for stomach ulcers first, or to have the manipulative treatments for the adhesions?"

Answer—I would advise you to follow the milk diet until the stomach ulces have have been healed before you take any vigorous exercises or manipulative treatments for the adhesions.

X-Ray Burns

Questions: Mrs. I. O. W. writes—"My sister had eczema very badly for about five years. She went to several doctors who gave her expensive medicines and ointments, but she grew steadily worse. She was finally persuaded to try X-ray treatments with the result that the doctor gave her an over-dose and burned her face and neck very badly. Her face is swollen and very rough and scaley, also her eyebrows were burned off. We wonder now if there is any treatment that will cure her. She is terrible to look at, and specialists say her face will never look right again. Do you think that anything can be done? Her face and neck are greatly inflamed and sore, and she smokes incessantly."

Answer—X-ray burns are difficult to correct, but the best treatment I have found is the use of the ultra-violet or actinic light rays Your sister's condition of eczema is no doubt a complication which remains, as the toxins responsible could not have been eliminated by her previous treatments. I believe it would be a good plan for her to follow a fasting and dieting regime to clear up the eczema and, at the same time, try to get some treatments from a doctor who employs the actinic light treatments.

Mexican Bandits Murder American

WASHINGTON, June 4. (UP)—Consul Maurice W. Altaffer informed the state department today in a telegram from Nogales, Sonora, that Charles Koehler, an American citizen, had been murdered June 2 by Mexican bandits at the Silver Plume mine, 25 miles south of Cananea, Sonora.

Altaffer said the murderers were believed to have been formerly employed by Koehler at the mine. The state department has no record of Koehler's American address. The dead man was about 50 years old.

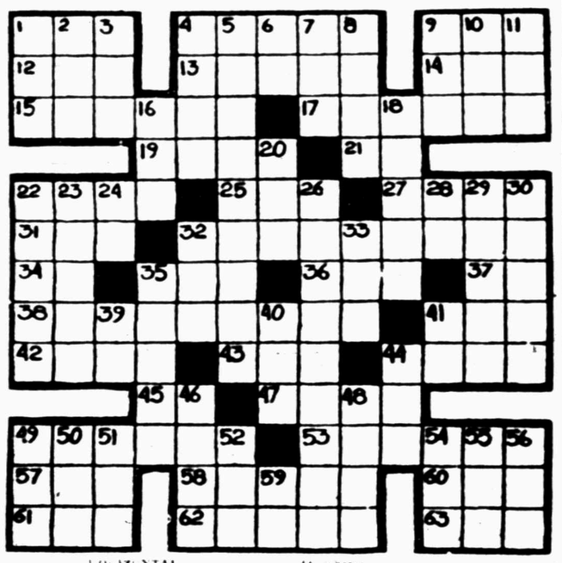

Chinese Revolutionaries Win Sweeping Victories

LONDON, June 4. (INS)—A sweeping victory for the rebellious northern armies in China was reported in dispatches to the evening newspapers here today.

Aided by the communist "ironsides" division, the northerners put to rout a strong Nationalist army in the vicinity of Chang-Sha, and are now preparing to enter that city.

Steps are being taken to evacuate all foreigners from Chang-Sha, the message said.

SPUDDER HOME RUN RIOTS ROUT SHIPPERS IN DOUBLE BILL

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

Two distinguished visitors are in our midst, mates, at least for one more day. They are R. L. Stuart, president of the Beaumont Baseball club, and Jack Zeller, business manager of the Detroit Tigers. Jack you will remember as the man who helped Fort Worth assemble its string of pennant-winning teams in other days. At present he is busy helping Beaumont assemble a pennant winner, and his efforts so far have produced at least a team more than worthy of the first division.

The Spudders arranged a little reception for these two gentlemen last Tuesday. They beat the socks off their charges. Of course, Mr. Stuart and Mr. Zeller were a little taken aback. They weren't exactly accustomed to the Spudders' methods of staging a welcoming reception. We hope Mr. Zeller and Mr. Stuart will be given the opportunity of getting accustomed to the way our Northwest Texas baseball players do things. And we hope our ball players will not lag in their social duties. In fact, it would be a fine thing to give Mr. Stuart and Mr. Zeller a nice send-off when they depart hence. A little celebration strictly in keeping with our good old West Texas manners. In short, it would be fine if we could lick the socks off Mr. Stuart's and Mr. Zeller's ball team again today and send these two fine gentlemen back to the shipyards with a vivid memory of how attentive the Spudders are.

Mr. Stuart is a fine man, mates. He's a gentleman, and he's proud of his group of baseball players. He has good reason to be. It has been a long, long time since Beaumont produced such a whirlwind combination as the present machine. Nearly every man in the lineup is a slugger. Naturally it does not strike us as a team capable of matching the pace set so far by the Williamsmen. But if ever a team deserved to climb into the top position and stay there, it is Mr. Stuart's machine. It is a fast working group of young players who work easily and cheerfully together.

While on the subject of Beaumont ball players, a story told by J. Alvin Gardner might fit in well. It is about Mr. Mallett, of the Exporter pitching staff. Several years ago, the story goes, Mallett broke in under George Stallings in the Rochester club. Stallings was known as a good natured, but temperamental manager. He could never watch a play when his team was in a pinch. When one of his batters went to the plate with the bases loaded, George would hide his head until the batter fanned or hit it, and then ask someone sitting nearby what his man did. The strain was too much. Well, to get on with the story, Mallett, then a youngster, was called upon one day to defend the team's honor as a pinch hitter. Two men were out and two strikes had been called on the batter whom Mallett was sent in to relieve. The bases were loaded. Mallett took his stance, and Stallings buried his head in his sweater. Mallett fanned. Coming back to the dugout he found Stallings in an uproar.

"What do you mean by doing a thing like that?" says he. Aren't you ashamed of yourself. Go on to the clubhouse and take your uniform off and burn it. It's a disgrace for you to wear it."

Now George had often bloomed forth in such language but all of the players understood George and never took him literally. But not so Mallett. The clubhouse was directly across from the grandstands, and Mallett went therein, changed clothes, came out, and in front of 5,000 people poured gasoline on his uniform and burned it.

Stallings was amazed. He came over to young Mr. Mallett, who, of course, was waiting to get a pink slip and a final cash settlement of what was due him before departing for another job, if any. Stallings came up to Mallett holding $50 in his hand.

"Here," said Stallings, "Take this."

"But," said Mallett, "I've got more money than that coming to me. My salary, you know, is . . ."

"Yes, but this isn't your salary," quoth George. "It's a bonus. I've told men for 10 years to go off and burn their uniforms, but you're the only one that has actually gone ahead and done it!"

Giants Drive Lucas Off Mound With 6 Straight

NEW YORK, June 4. (AP)—Six successive hits, two of them home runs, drove Red Lucas from the mound in the first inning today and started the Giants off to an 8 to 5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. Ott and O'Farrell hit the homers for New York, while Heilmann made one for Cincinnati in the ninth. Score:

RALLY WINS FIRST, 6 TO 4

Homers Win Both; Foes Lose Last, 14 to 1

BY FRED D. THOMPSON

A home run barrage that started late in the first game and lasted through the second game with Beaumont Wednesday afternoon littered the pastures in all directions near Athletic park with well-swatted balls and sent the Spudders sailing to a double victory over the boys from the shipyards. The final scores were 6 to 4 and 14 to 1, and as the score indicates, the first was a real scramble for the decision. The Spudders won it in the eighth inning only after a determined rally. But the second was a one-sided affair from the very first, and the Williamsmen took every opportunity to increase their batting averages by soaking nearly everything that Martin and Mallett, the Exporter chuckers, had to offer.

Five Game Lead

The two-headed victory sent the Spudders into a five-game lead over the astounded Bisons of Houston, who Monday dropped their second straight to the Dallas Atzmen, 6 to 5.

The swatting orgy the Spudders indulged in was thrilling from beginning to end but the one swat that caused some 1200 people to leap from their seats was Bettencourt's homer in the first game, which probably was the longest hit in the park this season. The ball left Larry's bat and didn't give a sign of starting it's earthward drop until it had soared over the center field boards about half way up the flag pole.

The two teams meet today at 4 p. m. in the last game of the present series.

The Spudders were far from their best in the first game. Wiltse was hit in every frame except the last, and it began to look as if the Spudders would be proud to even split the double bill. The Exporters kept the lead until the very last, in spite of the fact that Crouch sent one sailing over the center field wall in the second to give the Williamsmen the honor of scoring the first run in the game. The Exporters tied it up in the third when Stapleton scored on a single to left, Mullen's walk to first when he was hit by a pitched ball, and Storti's bad throw to Levey when Shiver smote to the infield.

Shippers Take Lead

Then in the sixth they took a determined lead with a three-run rally which started with Easterling's infield hit. Wade grounded out, Euller to Burns, and Easterling took second. Then on Schuble's double to left, Easterling scored, and Schuble continued to third when Kloza booted it in left. Baker strolled and Newman singled to center scoring Schuble from third, and when Euller let Fitzgerald's return of the ball from center get by him, Baker scored from first and Newman took second. Stapleton grounded out, Storti to Burns, and Mullen flied out to Fitzgerald to close the inning.

In their half of the inning the Spudders pushed over their second run on Burns' double to center and Bettencourt's single in the same direction. Things looked gloomy, however, until the eighth when Newman, starting pitcher for the Exporters, suddenly weakened after a very creditable showing in the earlier frames. His let down becoming evident, the Spudder sluggers did their worst. The inning opened tamely enough with Kloza whiffing. Burns, however, doubled to right, and then Bettencourt tried to knock a spring shower out of a low-lying cloud with his famous home run, which scored Burns and himself, to tie the score at 4-all. Crouch walked, and Euller drove in the two winning runs with a sailing homer that cleared the left field boards, scoring Crouch and himself. After this Newman was sent to clean up and Mallett relieved him. Mallett walked Wiltse. Levey flied out to center and Mallett walked Storti. Nothing came of it, however, for Fitzgerald fouled to third. Mullen, Shiver, and Holley were retired in order in the ninth, and the first contest was history.

Caldwell Pitches Second

Ferl Caldwell took the mound for the Spudders, and Martin for the Exporters in the second game, which opened with the Spudders taking the initiative and pushing over a run in the first inning after Caldwell had blanked the Shippers in the opening half. Levey started the works with a double to center. He went to third on Storti's infield out and scored on Kloza's single past second. The second went scoreless, but in the third Martin did the incredible and allowed the Spudders to score five runs in an inning in which they got only one hit. The result was two-fold. Martin joined Newman in the bathhouse and the Spudders got in some good practice for a second scoring orgy which was to come.

Storti opened the riot when he slammed a home run over the left field palings. Fitzgerald was given the first of a great number of passes which were to come. Kloza grounded out, second to first, and Fitzgerald took second. Burns strolled. Holley muffed Bettencourt's infield hit, and Bettencourt got first to fill the bases. Martin walked Bradbury, forcing Fitzgerald home. Mallett then assumed the role of relief hurler for the second time during the day, and his first act was to walk Euller, forcing in Burns. Caldwell sacrificed to center, scoring Bettencourt. Holley committed his second error of the inning in muffing Levey's grounder, a bungle on which Bradbury scored, Euller went to third, and Levey went to second. Storti grounded out to first unassisted to bring things to a temporary halt.

The Exporters made a lame start in the fourth by finally scoring a run on Holley's base on balls, a wild pitch and a passed ball, and Eckhardt's double to left.

The Barrage Starts

But the Spudders came back in their half to go even further into the lead. Fitzgerald flied out to center. Kloza reached first on an error by Bouton, who had replaced Schuble at short. Burns then sent a home run over the left center field wall, scoring Kloza ahead of himself. Bettencourt reached first when Stapleton muffed his infield hit. Bradbury walked, Bettencourt taking second. Euller singled to right, Bettencourt taking third and Bradbury second. Caldwell hit to the box and Bettencourt was thrown out at the plate. Euller went to second and Bradbury to third on the play. Then with the bases loaded, Levey hit a home run over the left field wall, scoring Bradbury, Euller and Caldwell ahead of himself. Storti doubled to right, but was left stranded when Fitzgerald grounded out, pitcher to first.

The 13th and 14th Spudder runs came in the next inning when, with Kloza on the paths, Bettencourt hit his second home run of the day, scoring Kloza and himself.

Tenth Inning Home Run Gives Victory to Sox

CHICAGO, June 4. (AP)—Johnny Kerr became a baseball hero today by hitting a home run in the 10th inning to give the White Sox an 8 to 7 victory over the New York Yankees. It was his third hit of the game and came after two were out in the extra inning.

Babe Ruth had tied the score in the seventh inning by driving out his 18th homer of the season with two on base. The clout sent Pat Caraway out of the game and Hal McKain, who relieved him, gained the victory by pitching airtight ball. Score:

Wichita Falls Golfers Defeated In Trans-Mississippi Golf Tourney

Mrs. F. C. Rochon and Mrs. R. R. Fisk, both of Wichita Falls were eliminated in the second round of play in the Trans-Mississippi golf tournament at Tulsa Wednesday, according to Assicated Press dispatches to The Record News.

Mrs. Fisk was defeated by Virginia Pepps, St. Louis, 6 and 4. Mrs. Rochon was defeated by Mrs. George Hipple, Hutchison, Kan., two up.

Feminine representatives of five states remained in the meet after the day's play.

The 1930 Oklahoma champion, Mrs. Tom Wallace of Sapulpa, Mrs. R. E. Drennan of Tulsa and Mrs. Hulbert S. Clarke, former state titleholders were upholding Sooner Land's colors.

Missouri was in second place with Miss Virginia Pepp and Mrs. R. J. Kohn, both of St. Louis.

Mrs. Dorothy Klotz Pardue, of Sioux City, Iowa; Mrs. George Hipple of Hutchinson, Kan., and Mrs. Stanley Alexander of Camden, Ark., were the others in the race.

Mrs. Hipple was one down to Mrs. Rochon at the 15th but spurted to score a 5, 4, 5, on the next three holes to win the match two up. At the start of the second nine, Mrs. Rochon shot four 4's and one 3 at her Kansas opponent. Mrs. Hipple scored a splendid 83, the low medal for the day.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 4. (AP)—A favorable view of the day's weather news combined with relatively easy Liverpool cables, encouraged a continuance of yesterday's selling movement in cotton during today's trading. Offerings were not particularly active or aggressive, but the buying was limited and new October contracts sold off to 14.22 or 21 points net lower and closed at 14.24. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 11 to 21 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 9 to 16 points under selling promoted by favorable view of the weather map and the easy showing of Liverpool. July sold up from 15.77 to 15.88 or within 2 points of yesterday's closing quotations, while the old October contract rallied from 14.57 to 14.68 compared with 14.73 at the close of the previous day. This bulge met a renewal of liquidation which seemed to be coupled with some local and southern selling on a favorable construction of the detailed weather reports, and the market reached the lowest price of the day in the later trading. July sold off to 15.76 and the old October contract to 14.53 and the close was within 2 or 3 points of the lowest.

Liverpool cables reported continental and Bombay selling absorbed by scale down buying in that market. Port receipts today 5,036.

U. S. port stocks 1,728,641. Exports 13,155, making 6,500,963 so far this season.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 4. (AP)—Cotton was nervous but fairly active today.

Liverpool came in 7 to 11 points worse than due and first trades here showed losses of 18 to 28 points. The market eased after the start mainly on the weakness abroad and the further decline in silver until July traded to 15.53, down 20 points from the previous close. October dropped to 14.29 and December to 14.38, down 34 to 37 points.

The market rallied moderately on covering, gaining 10 to 16 points, but selling was soon resumed and July dropped to 15.48, down 25 points while October declined to 14.24 and December to 14.31, down 41 to 42 points.

The market was steadier in late trading on covering and rallied a few points. July closed at 15.54, down 19 points. October closed at 14.26 and December at 14.32, down 40 points net. January closed at 14.31, 41 points down.

Unusually Quiet Stock Session Sees List Effect Light Recovery

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, June 4. (US)—Another quiet trading session on the stock exchange today resulted in moderate recovery of prices among the industrial and utility shares, while the railroads declined under light pressure. Transactions were even lighter than on Monday, aggregating 1,689,500 shares. Public participation again was absent, activities being confined chiefly to professionals, with however an occasional display of genuine investment demand. Some renewal of aggressive sponsorship in a few groups was encouraged by a more cheering tone to the Weekly Iron Age Review which reported the first upturn in steel scrap prices since February. The main body of the market however continued to fluctuate within a narrow range, price changes generally being less than a point net among the leaders. Spurts in individual favorites failed to have more than momentary influence on the list, but competent observers were much impressed by the market's undertone, particularly its resistance to additional depressing trade news and bearish attacks on vulnerable issues. Most stocks closed near their best prices of the day.

People familiar with the trend of the steel industry placed considerable importance on the higher price for steel scrap. This has been an almost infallible index to the price of steel stocks. It would require however additional evidence of stronger tone to steel scrap prices to indicate a definite turn in the trend of the steel industry. Continued strength in the scrap market would undoubtedly confirm the belief in important quarters that a turn for the better in the steel trade may be only a month off. This is normally a season of lower operations, so that the reduction in plant activities now taking place is not unusual. Steel common displayed greater strength following the Iron Age report, and it is understood that the supply of steel common in commission houses is unusually small, normally a favorable market sign.

Throughout the morning, when the general list was inclined to sluggishness, the two favorites of strong interests, Foster-Wheeler and Case Threshing Machine, were steadily absorbed. Foster continued its advance into record high territory and closed up over two points. The stock has been absorbed by leading utility interests. Case, in which significant banking buying was reported here, closed up nine points for the day. Recent selling of the stock, which followed some important liquidation, has been mostly professional and these Bears were quick to cover when the new and important buying appeared. Copper stocks remained unattractive and some additional selling was brought into the group in anticipation of Anaconda reducing its dividend, a natural step in view of the action of the other leading copper companies. Chrysler was a feature among the motors, advancing a full point in response to knowledge that its shipments last week were ahead of the same period a year ago. General Motors was steadily taken throughout the day and United Aircraft, which of late has been responding suspiciously to almost every fluctuation in motors, also improved.

Food stocks as a group performed most encouragingly. General Foods, in which important buying was reported, close to its year's high price, in response to buying by interests who recently obtained virtual working control. The biscuit stocks were also well taken. United Biscuit has been bought by the most powerful banking interests. The biscuit companies are particularly favored by the low price of wheat and the record low quotations for sugar. National Biscuit and United Biscuit earnings will reflect this favorable condition. Coco-Cola also approached within a point of its record high price. This company's product utilizes a tremendous amount of sugar, so that the less-than-production-cost of sugar means a tremendous saving to Coca-Cola. Canada Dry is another company benefiting from this condition. Hershey is a beneficiary not only from the low sugar prices but also from prevailing low cost of cocoa.

Utility stocks continued to lag, presumably awaiting adjournment of congress, but strong buying continues in various of these issues, particularly Consolidated Gas. Oil stocks responded somewhat to the tide water development, Sinclair in particular being well taken. Houston was a feature among the specialties, advancing over five points on large-scale trading. This company's natural gas possibilities are such that its sponsors declare ultimately it will have to be taken into one of the various gas combines now being formed. Houston possesses not only large supplies of natural gas, but also has the additional advantage of a developed market. Freeport-Texas company, generally recognized as purely a sulphur company, has natural gas possibilities, which accounts for persistent buying of the stock, although efforts are being made not to attract attention. Briggs became more active and advanced to its former high as dividend talk was renewed. Fairbanks Morse reflected absence of active interest.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, June 4. (AP)—Wheat prices on the Fort Worth market followed the sharp decline in contract values Wednesday but no sales were reported at the decline, therefore quoted prices are entirely nominal with dealers unwilling to commit themselves on trades. Rather heavy receipts of old crop wheat here led to the belief that country elevators are being prepared for the new crop which is expected to begin moving heavily next week.

Offers led to quotations of around $1.07½@1.09 as the possible values of No. 1 ordinary hard at this time.

Sorghums were the strong spot of the Wednesday market with milo marked up 2c and kaffir 5@7c higher.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carlots delivered freight paid to Texas common points:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 95@96c; No. 2 white $1.00@1.01; No. 2 yellow 99c@$1.00.

Oats—No. 2 red 52@53c.

Barley—No. 2 nominally 61@62c.

Barley—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $2.10@2.12; No. 2 kaffir $1.83@1.85.

Dealers, also quoted as follows: basis delivery group one points—No. 2 mixed corn 93@94c; No. 2 white corn 98½@99½c; No. 2 yellow corn 97½@98½c; No. 3 white oats 51@51½c to which add 1c for delivery group three.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 4. (AP)—Jolted by news that Canadian wheat fields suffering from dust storms have received the best rain of the year, wheat prices today plunged downgrade. The break was accompanied by big selling to stop losses on the part of holders of future delivery contracts. Timely moisture in the spring wheat belt south of the Canadian border also tended to topple the market.

Closing quotations on wheat were at about the days bottom level, 2@2⅝c per bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅝@1⅛c off, oats ⅛@⅜c down, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2c.

Virtual collapse of the wheat market today came in the final hour of trading. From the outset, however, houses with connections northwest were prominent on the selling side of the market, and during most of the time there was a decided absence of support from buyers.

Corn and oats gave way owing to sympathy with wheat weakness. Corn planting was reported as rapidly nearing completion.

Provisions ruled firm on account of scattered buying despite a late downward trend of hog values.

Closing indemnities—wheat, July $1.04⅛@1.06½; Sept. $1.07⅜@1.07½; $1.09⅜@1.09½; Dec. $1.11½@1.12, $1.14½. Corn, July 80¼c, 81⅜@81½c, Sept. 81¼, 82⅛@82⅝c, Dec. 75½, 76¼@76½c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, June 4. (US)—Canadian and domestic Northwest news will be watched closely in the wheat trade tomorrow. There was some doubt as to the sufficiency of rains in some localities and there were some who believed that selling by houses with northwest connections may have been for local account.

Corn continued to show decided strength, but trade was not broad enough to support prices in the face of the extreme weakness in wheat.

Liverpool market will be closed Saturday, June 7, and Monday, June 9.

Trade in July wheat is growing lighter with most of the new interest coming into the deferred months.

Nat C. Murray estimates spring wheat acreage in the prairie provinces at 23,053,000 acres, compared with 24,169,000 acres a year ago. He figures condition at 96.5 per cent of normal, against 97.5 per cent a year ago and adds that there is still a deficiency of subsoil moisture which he considers is a very important factor in yield in those areas.

India was reported the only country offering wheat freely in the Liverpool market today. The previous day, according to Broomhall, England purchased a few parcels of Indian stuff and French garlicky wheat at low prices.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, June 4.—The wool market is fairly active with 64's and finer and 48, 50's receiving bulk of demand. Strictly combing 64's and finer Ohio and similar wools bring 30@31c in the grease or around 75c scoured basis. Original bag territory wools or similar quality bring 70@75c scoured basis. Offerings available at prices as low as 70c are quite restricted.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, June 4. (AP)—(USDA)—Increased supplies of cattle at most all of the larger markets influenced a weak to lower trend in values of all killing classes. Choice weighty beeves and a few strictly desirable light yearlings held close to steady but medium to good grades which predominated in arrivals were slow at 25@50c lower with many still in first hands at the close of the session. Best weighty steers $13.75 at Chicago. Receipts at 11 markets totaled 44,400, an increase of 7,000 over last Wednesday and around 6,000 in excess of the same day a year ago.

Choice light weights reached $10.50 at Chicago for the day's best price. Arrivals 92,500 as compared with 92,647 last Wednesday and 98,306 the corresponding day last year.

Fat lamb prices were under considerable pressure. Choice California and sorted native lambs $13.00 at Chicago. At the river markets comparable kinds $12.00. Mature classes weak to 50c lower rates. Best fat ewes $5.00@5.50. Arrivals were 46,900 against 48,943 a week ago and 51,229 a year ago.

COMMITTEE TO STUDY OIL LAW

Enforcement of Pipe Line Measure Planned

DALLAS, June 4. (AP)—A committee of six, composed of two representatives each from the Oil Purchasers association, the Independent Producers association, and the Mid Continent Oil and Gas association, was authorized today to recommend a method of enforcement of the new state pipe line law.

Robert R. Penn of Dallas presided over the meeting of oil interests at which the committee was authorized. Members of the group will be called to meet in the near future to draft recommendations to the railroad commission, Penn said.

Charles I. Morgan of Fort Worth, member of the Independent Oil Producers' association, said that the new law protected the individual operator from discrimination and prevented discrimination among fields.

Penn said that if the producers would work in harmony they would not only save themselves but benefit the state. "On the other hand, if we are divided and do not take advantage of the opportunity presented by the new pipe line law, the commission may decide to make us a political football," he added.

A resolution was passed calling upon crude oil importers to decrease imports in proportion to the curtailment of domestic production. This proposal was introduced by Tom Cranfill, president of the Texas Independent Oil Producers' association. The committee of six was advised to employ a group of engineers and economists to make an expert survey of oil conditions in Texas.

Huge Gasoline Line Described

NEW YORK, June 4. (AP)—In a letter to stockholders, the Phillips Petroleum company states that it has started construction of a $15,000,000 pipe line for the transportation of gasoline from the Texas Panhandle to Wichita, Kansas City, St. Louis and intermediate points.

This line will be built and operated by a new subsidiary, Phillips Pipeline company. It will be 800 miles long, the longest gasoline line ever built, and the first to be built in the midcontinent area. It will be constructed of 8-inch pipe, for which a contract has been let to the Republic Steel corporation. The laying of the pipe will begin in about 30 days. The line will be operated by 10 pumping stations.

Pipe lines have heretofore been used largely for the transportation of crude oil and natural gas, although the Standard Oil company of New Jersey has converted oil lines extending from New York to western Pennsylvania into gasoline lines.

Oklahomans Move To Enforce Rules

TULSA, Okla., June 4. (AP) — A move looking to erection of safeguard against possible infraction of Oklahoma oil conservation orders was under way today with the appointment of C. C. Hearndon, president of the Kansas-Oklahoma division of the Mid Continent Oil and Gas association and chairman of the Oklahoma proration commission, of a committee of lawyers to study statutes and court decisions relating to conservation and proration orders of the Oklahoma proration commission.

The commission represents large Oklahoma producing interests. W. C. Franklin of the Tidal Oil company was named chairman of the body.

Meeting here yesterday the committee discussed plans for its work, which will involve at the outset considerable legal research for compilation of pertinent statutes and decisions.

Board of Control Opens Budget Hearings Today

AUSTIN, June 4. (AP)—The board of control will start its hearings tomorow on the budget for the next biennium to be submitted to the 42nd legislature in January, J. D. Hall, of the budget division, announced today. The College of Industrial Arts' requests will be the first considered.

Young Blames Factions For 'Costly' Leadership

GONZALES, Texas, June 4. (AP)—Jim Young, candidate for governor, today blamed factionalism for the "costly leadership" of the past four years and said the election of Thomas B. Love, Earl B. Mayfield, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson or Barry Miller meant more factionalism. The former congressman also attacked R. S. Sterling.

GRAHAM FIELD

T. B. Slick-Pitzer & West No. 1 Morrison, located in the Paul Pier survey, abstract 219, in the Graham pool in south Young county, is drilling in lime at 3875 feet. This test, which is a direct south offset to the Nash & Windfohr big well No. 1 McCloud, has apparently missed the productive formation from which the gusher received its output, and at this time chances for the completion in this depth lacks a rosy hue.

NEAR NEWCASTLE

Flowing at the rate of 850 barrels in a period of 24 hours the Dr. Riggs No. 5 Larrimore located in the southwest quarter of section 2247, T. E. & L. survey, north of the town of Newcastle in southwest Young county, is a record shallow well for this county. The well topped a sand at 699 feet and drilled 11 feet when it began flowing by actual gauge 35 barrels per hour.

PETROLIA TOWNSITE

Merrick & Goldsmith have made location to put down an 1800-foot test in block 49, Petrolia townsite in Clay county, and are skidding a rig to the site. Securing of enough acreage to warrant the drilling of the test was made by the pooling of all lots located in block 49, owned by Bryhill, Frasser, Gibbons, Householder and others.

NORTH OF MEGARGEL

Vigil Oil company has placed its No. 8 Harmel well located in section 2490 T. E. & L. survey, north of Megargel in southwest Archer county, on the pump as a 50 barreler from the sand at 1420-38 feet.

ARCHER CITY OREA

Charles Abercrombie and associates No. 1 Fee, located in the Wm. Cound survey, abstract 798, in Archer county, is a dry hole at a total depth of 1476 feet.

FAIN & M'GAHA-HAMILTON

Fain & McGaha No. B-1 G. B. Hamilton is drilling on their location 150 feet south and west of northeast corner of block 1, Crawford pasture subdivision in southwest Archer county.

CLAY COUNTY LOCATION

Mid-Continent Holding corporation No. 1 H. Boddy is a location for a 1200-foot test to be drilled 150 feet each way from the northwest corner of its lease out of the Boddy ranch in Humphries survey, abstract 195, northeast of the city of Henrietta in Clay county.

TOWNSITE DRY HOLE

Featherstone and associates No. 1 townsite, located in lot 6, block 9, townsite of Olney in north Young county, soured up and was abandoned at a depth of 1096 feet.

NORTH OF METROPOLIS

Consolidated Oil company No. 1 L. H. Tarr, located in the north 100 acres of block 136, Harris subdivision in north Archer county, and just north of the city of Archer, is spudded in and drilling ahead.

OFFSET TO BO. MINNICH

King & Hays No. 1 Morehead is rigging up in the southeast corner of Mary Covington land in the J. Richards survey, abstract 367, and will be a south offset to the Bo. Minnich Archer county townsite well.

OIL RUNS SHOW SMALL DROP

Oklahoma-Kansas Plants Do Most Curtailing

Special to The Record News

TULSA, June 4.—Refiners of Kansas and Oklahoma practice what they preach—curtail crude oil runs to stills to improve the Mid-Continent refinery business, but refiners in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas have not followed suit.

Reports for the week of May 31 show that crude oil runs to stills averaged 355,991 barrels a day against 361,488 barrels a day the week previous, a decrease of 5,497 barrels a day. Other oils run to stills averaged 20,208 barrels a day, compared to 18,271 barrels a day the week before, showing an increase of 1,937 barrels a day.

Crude oil runs by states follow: (Barrels a day).

Area	Last Wk.	Prev. Wk.
Oklahoma	123,153	125,925
Kansas	52,642	67,839
N. C. Texas	71,062	71,981
West Texas	42,225	44,181
La.-Ark.	56,909	51,359

Production of gasoline totalled 50,014,000 gallons, compared with 50,955,000 gallons the week before.

Shipments of gasoline approximated 46,974,000 gallons against 46,648,000 gallons the week before, and stocks totaled 165,185,000 gallons, an increase of 3,040,000 gallons, while the week before stocks increased 4,337,000 gallons.

Output of kerosene totaled 7,036,000 gallons against 7,248,000 gallons the week before. Shipments for the week totaled 6,586,000 gallons as compared to 6,391,000 gallons and stocks increased 450,000 gallons to a total of 24,143,000 gallons.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, June 4. (AP)—Cotton goods were in improved inquiry during the day in the gray cloth division. Sheer wash fabrics and printed wash good were more active. Figures of the silk movement in May showed the smallest stock on hand in this country for several years but the largest stocks ever carried in Japan. Mill deliveries were the smallest in 2½ years or more. Imports were the smallest in record for years while prices are on a pre-war level. Moderate filling in business is reported on dress goods and worsted piece goods. Burlaps were unchanged.

North Carolina vegetables have a high iodine content, says Prof. J. Arthur Wilson, head of the chemistry department of North Carolina State college.

Our courteous ad taker will receive your Classified Ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the next day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for the convenience of our patrons in transacting business over the telephone.

Classified Ad patrons desiring to have ads charged must have a telephone listed in their own name. No book record is made by the publishers on account of the great number of transactions, hence the necessity of collecting promptly.

Correction of errors in Classified Ads must be made before the second insertion. No allowance will be made for more than one incorrect insertion.

Cancellations and instructments regarding errors should pe telephoned to the Classified Ad department between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Ads accepted for afternoon paper up until 11 a. m. same day.

Morning paper up to 6 p. m. for the following morning.

Sunday paper up to 1 o'clock Saturday night.

Same copy in both papers.

THE CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT IS OPEN ON SUNDAYS from 4 to 6 p. m. and telephone orders for classified ads to be inserted or to be discontinued will be accepted.

Exceptions: Want ads will be accepted over the telephone for all excepting the following classifications: Situations Wanted and Wanted to Rent. Ads for these classifications are cash with the order and will not be accepted over the telephone.

The Times reserves the right to classify all Classified Ads under the appropriate headlines and to revise or to withhold from publication any ads deemed objectionable.

'JOURNEY'S END' OPENS JUNE 13

Great War Play Booked Here for Six Days

Opportunity to see a play universally hailed as one of the greatest produced in recent years, and of which the public has read more favorable comment than on any other theatrical production in the past 24 months, will be afforded with the showing of "Journey's End" at the Strand on Friday June 13, and the ensuing six days.

"Journey's End" transcends the limitations with which most dramatic efforts are faced. It has gripped the interest and emotion of mixed audiences all over Europe and the United States by its revelation of human nature as it underwent amazing metamorphosis in the war zone 15 years ago. Said to have been written by R. C. Sherriff, its author, primarily as a means of passing hospital and convalescent time, it has proven one of the most realistic and illuminating pieces of character analysis ever provided for the stage.

As elaborately discussed in a full page Literary Digest article (May 3), the talking-picture production wisely adopted the play as it was given on the ligitimate stage in New York, London, Chicago and other large centers. Only slight changes have been made. One of the changes mentioned in many reviews is the showing of an advance across no-man's land on the screen, rather than asking the audience merely to imagine it, as was necessary on the stage.

The plot is brief. Four officers, veterans of long service in the world war, occupy a front-line dugout. A young lieutenant, fresh from his studies in England, joins them. One by one he is robbed of his ideals as the stark reality of the conflict is impressed upon him. Then comes the solution to the situation, and—"Journey's End." It will be played by Colin Clive, Anthony Bushell, David Manners, Ian Maclaren and Billy Bevan—with supporting atmospheric hordes.

Committee Named for Industrial Mart Work

Ways and means of bringing the Industrial Mart, 911 Eighth street, more generally to the attention of the public are being sought by the manufacturers and jobbers division of the chamber of commerce, and the industrial development committee of the Junior chamber of commerce.

Members of these two groups held a joint meeting Wednesday morning for consideration of this matter, and voted instruction to L. H. Estes, chairman of the manufacturers and jobbers division, to appoint a committee of five to make definite recommendations on publicity for the Industrial Mart. Appointment of this committee is expected to be made by Thursday, it was said, and its members will be asked to report to the next meeting of the division on Wednesday, June 11.

More than 40 local firms have displays in the mart and it has received considerable attention from visitors to this city since it opened more than three weeks ago. Cases for the Junior chamber of commerce museum are now in place, and exhibits loaned or donated by persons in this community are being arranged as a municipal show place on the second floor of the Industrial Mart building.

At the Theaters

By W. L. UNDERWOOD

STATE: "Dixie Lee, Frank Albertson and Whispering Jack Smith in "The Big Party," romantic comedy with musical features. Talking comedy. Sound news.

MAJESTIC: Betty Compson in "Street Girl." Revealing the fact that Betty plays the violin—Jack Oakie is in this revue. Krazy Kat comedy. Sound news.

STRAND: "True to the Navy," last day, with Frederic March making a Clara Bow picture. She's always Clara, but never in character. Golf comedy, with Walt Hagen and Leo Diegel. Sound news.

MELBA: Al Jolson in "The Singing Fool," Vitaphone sound production. Comedy.

GEM: "The Canyon of Missing Men," western. "Flannels and Flivvers," comedy.

Talking-picture house No. 4 is presented to Wichita Falls' theatergoers through the recent conversion of the old Queen on Seventh street into the Melba for showing of second-run sound productions. Vitaphone sound projecting equipment, modern cooling and adequate acoustics combine to provide satisfactory filming of standard talking-screen attractions. Thursday and Friday's offering will be Al Jolson's "The Singing Fool."

Betty Compson sports a brand new dialect in "Street Girl" at the Majestic (through Friday), plays a violin which is obviously her own, and looks pretty while doing so. One still suspects, however, that Betty remained true to the 18-day starvation diet too long, or too often chooses a smoke in place of a sweet. The struggle to remain youthful, in which she scores a quite hefty percentage, would be easier with a shade more of her former plumpness.

But to come back to her "Street Girl." There is a new male exciter, John Harron, who might not be chosen above all others as a model for styled male attire, but who does play a clever hand as cornetist, pianist, and jealous lover all rolled into one. In this musical comedy festival of popular airs, Jack Oakie's usual grin looms from behind a well-tootled clarinet; and Jack pounds a right foot with orthodox ferocity. Mr. Oakie personifies the spirit of jazz—facial, pedal, and instrumental—with abundant spizzerinktum.

Moving gracefully in the vicinity of Betty, and against the background of Jack's Oklahoman style the personable Ivan Lebedeff supplies a highly pleasing prince as in Will Rogers' "They Had to See Paris." He speaks slowly, but naturally—a little trick which all those who boast or affect accents would do well to emulate.

In its musical score, "Street Girl" presents a good brand of jazz, particularly the "Is She That Way Sweet and Lovable?" bit. One of the peppiest tunes thus far handed out by the revues, this number is delivered by "The Four Seasons"—Jack Oakie, Mr. Harron, and two assisting gentlemen. An appealing Viennese melody goes along with the "Is She" song.

"Street Girl" carries through a story slightly more plausible than that given to most musical comedies. Still, one must suffer that slight discomfort which always follows a bite just a few centimeters too bulky for comfortable swallowing. Betty plays her violin well. Children are more kindly treated than usual in the supporting shorts—a "Doll Shop" sketch which offers exceptionally pretty dancing, and the ever popular Felixkat in one of his most wildly imaginative flights.

Political Oratory Sways Lions in Club's Election of Tail Twister

Politics held sway at the weekly meeting of the Lions club at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon, with various aspirants for the office of Tail Twister projecting most of the competitive verbal fireworks.

Those who delivered themselves of impassioned oratorical pleas Wednesday, each speaking in his own behalf, were K. C. Spell and W. C. Krause. Their petitions to the membership varied, however. Mr. Spell announced his intention of running on an independent ticket since the nominating committee overlooked his qualifications. Mr. Krause emphatically withdrew his name from the ticket to espouse the candidacy of L. O. Albritton, the other proposed nominee of the committee.

Members of the Lions club voted to play a baseball game with the Optimist nine at Spudder park on Saturday, June 14, proceeds of which will go to The Times and Record News milk and ice fund. Milton Gaines will direct that Lions' athletic contingent, while Frank Haley will John McGraw for the Optimists.

Mrs. C. N. Cameron, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Lucile Brooks Huff, sang Dudley Buck's "The Skylark's Song." "Estrellita," by Manuel Ponce, and "Rickety Coo" from "Katrinka" at the close of the luncheon.

Fisheries of Oregon, Washington and Alaska produced $85,000,000 of new wealth last year.

Canadian muskrats to the number of 2,685,197 were slain last year to supply the demand for furs.

BUILDING PERMIT

A building permit for $2,500 was granted Wednesday to B. P. Henderson by F. M. Rugeley, city engineer, for the erection of a new residence at 2104 Joline street. Construction work will begin immediately.

450 Families Given Aid Here

Twenty new cases brought the total of families receiving relief at the hands of the Family Relief association during the month of May to 450. The actual relief expenditures of the association was $770.08 of which the largest item, $586.83 was for food. Milk ranked next with a total of $160. Transportation, rent, household supplies and hauling were minor causes of expense.

In causes for application, unemployment ranked first while illness and desertion were minor.

Wichitans Leave for Meeting at Plainview

John Boswell and Wilburn Page, general manager of the chamber of commerce and secretary of the Junior chamber of commerce, respectively, will be in Plainview Thursday, Friday and Saturday, in attendance at the annual convention of the Texas Commercial Executives association.

Four chamber of commerce executives from other Texas cities were guests of Mr. Boswell here Wednesday morning before the group left for Plainview. The visitors were J. P. McCullough, Bryan; Jack Williams, Itasca; George Buchanan, Marland, and Fred Prewitt of Gatesville.

Mr. Boswell will speak on "Machinery of Organization" during the morning session of the convention Thursday, opening the convention proper at 11:10 a. m. with his address.

B. Y. P. U. HOLDS DISTRICT MEET

315 Young People Gather At Seymour

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, June 4.—One of the largest B. Y. P. U. meetings in this part of the state was held here Tuesday when 315 young people were the guests of the First Baptist church of Seymour. There were representatives here from Vera, Benjamin, Gilliland, Bomarton, Shady, Shawver, Plainview, Truscott and Red Springs, each delegation wearing distinctive banners and badges with lots of decorated cars.

The initial gathering was held at the church, where each town was assigned sections, and instructions were given about the parade which formed at the church. This parade was led by Mrs. M. H. Harrison, a pioneer citizen of Baylor county and one of the founders of the Seymour church, and the oldest B. Y. P. U. worker in this part of the state. She was seated in a decorated car, which was followed by a couple of members carrying a banner 10 feet in length bearing the inscription "District B. Y. P. U. Convention." Then came the drum corps followed by the 300 members, four abreast. The parade stopped at the courthouse square and sang the theme song, "I Love to Tell the Story." The group wah welcomed by Mayor J. A. Britain.

The main meeting place was the city park where the program of the day was carried out. Rev. Ralph Diggs of Wichita Falls gave the main address of the day, after which an old-fashioned picnic dinner was enjoyed. After the lunch each organization was asked to perform some stunt which furnished amusement. Music was furnished thorughout the day by Miss Esta Donehoo and Miss Hazel Bullion.

Edward Faast, Montrose county, Colo., farmer, won the title of "Potato King" by raising 672.20 bushels of the Bliss Triumph variety to the acre.

First Vaudeville Show Tonight

Announcing several additional numbers on the program for the first free vaudeville to be given under the direction of the city park department, C. C. Bunnenberg, park superintendent, urged every child in the near vicinity to be on hand for the entertainment which will begin at 8 o'clock sharp on the Memorial auditorium grounds Thursday evening.

In addition to the Swanee River minstrels, the program will include numbers by the Holland fiddle band and by the Playground band, under the direction of Paul Seeds. Several comedy songs will be given by George Taylor and Thurston Fox will entertain with a tap dance.
