Four Die In Train Wreck

WELLINGTON, Ohio (AP) — A 10-car New York Central passenger train roared through a crossover at an estimated 80 miles an hour in mist and fog Sunday night and hurtled off the rails. At least four persons died and more than 30 were hurt.

As far east as New York City — when the speeding train crumpled into a jagged line of steel in the wreckage of 3,000 feet, 37 miles southwest of Cleveland.

Leaking diesel fuel caught fire and flashed up to a height of 50 feet for a brief period, the flames mingling with the fog.

Two cars took the brunt of the smashup. One was a combination baggage-passenger coach which spilt sideways across the tracks and was smashed broadside by the coach which followed it.

Coroner Paul Kopsch of Lorain County said bodies of these persons had been recovered.

Phil J. Lehman, 46, of Cleveland, a fireman on the wrecked train, said he saw the train's engine, a 100-foot long locomotive, and three diesel locomotives, and that two of them indicated the speed of 80 m.p.h. The third train was questionable.

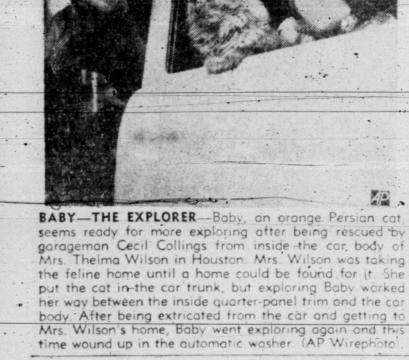

The train's engineer, H. W. Kirshstein, 62, of Cleveland, Ohio, was injured and taken to a hospital.

Marion Tudor, 20, a shipping clerk who was "witness to the accident," said he pulled Kirshstein from the cab window. He quoted the engineer as saying his brakes and speedometer were not working.

There were about 135 passengers aboard — some with destinations as far as New York City.

Nazi Racism Is Protested

By The Associated Press
Youth and religious leaders kept in the vanguard today of a mounting counterattack against a revival of Hitler-like racism.

Thousands of young people in Paris and West Berlin took part in demonstrations Sunday protesting a revival of Hitler-like racism.

Protestant clergymen — including evangelist Billy Graham — warned the wave of Jew-baiting "shows a central organizing force among some vicious type that existed in Nazi Germany."

Swastika signs kept popping up in widely scattered corners over the weekend — including on the wall of a Roman Catholic church in Brazil and a Catholic college in Ypsilanti, Mich.

In West Berlin the showing of a French-made documentary film about the horrors of Nazi concentration camps drew a capacity crowd of 1,200. It was sponsored by a youth organization of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party.

The Paris demonstration against anti-Semitism saw the presence of Protestant pastors, Roman Catholic priests and two members of the French Communist party's Politburo joining about 1,000 young people.

They marched in a parade organized by the Representative Council of Jews in France. Some in the parade wore the striped uniforms of concentration camps.

The marchers filed past a memorial to an unknown Jewish martyr then went on to the Paris town hall, shouting "Down with the Nazis" and "Death to the haggards."

Fifteen teen-ager-16 to 18 — were arrested in New York City for painting "Down with Jews" on a municipal building. Two others, 12 and 13, were seized Saturday for

29 Persons Die In Mexico Bus Crash

VICTORIA, Mex. (AP) — Twenty-nine persons died Sunday when a passenger bus sailed off the Pan American Highway at a horseshoe curve and crashed in flames at the bottom of a 100-foot ravine.

The bodies were badly charred and only the driver, Miguel Aceves, was identified immediately.

The bus belonging to Transportes de Oriente was on the way from Reynosa, just across the Rio Grande from Texas, in the state of Tamaulipas, to the Gulf port of Tampico.

There was no immediate indication that any U.S. citizens were aboard the bus, which was on a second-class service run.

Police said fire marks appeared at the sharp curve on the Laredo to Mexico City highway about 35 miles south of this capital of Tamaulipas state.

Police said fire marks appeared only made by the same bus on previous curves indicated the brakes were faulty.

Tops of trees growing in the ravine near the highway were not damaged, but the bus did not tumble into the ravine but was going so fast the vehicle sailed

Steel Wage Settlement In Line, Mitchell Declares

DETROIT (AP) — The steel wage settlement is in line with others negotiated this year and causes no inflationary effects, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said today.

And there will be no steel price increases for some time to come if management and labor try to increase the rate of steel production, Mitchell added.

Mitchell's comments were made in an address prepared for the Economic Club of Detroit.

Mitchell, credited with playing a major role in last week's settlement of the 116-day steel strike, also said there may never again be a major steel strike in this country.

"With good will and good sense and with awareness that an economy institution like a steel corporation or a labor union must serve the public interest as fully as its own interests, it could be possible on the basis of this settlement — that the United States will be able to meet its steel needs," Mitchell said.

Mitchell said that in the new settlement the steel companies and the United Steelworkers Union have cut the postwar wage increase trend by half.

Mitchell said some news stories on the settlement created misunderstanding. He said they did not take into account the fact that the steel settlement has been deferred to the late afternoon meeting were leaders of the Senate and House and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations and Appropriations committees.

Top Solons Get Briefing By Ike

WASHINGTON, AP — Democratic officials were asked to lend Democratic approval to an Eisenhower excursion in personal diplomacy which the Republicans are certain to emphasize in the presidential campaign, Eisenhower said today.

By others took the position that the Democrats must stand behind the President without regard to later political developments.

Those who expressed this viewpoint contended that Eisenhower's position in bargaining at the forthcoming summit conference would be impaired if there were any signs of lack of support at home.

This incident, minor in itself, illustrates the Democrats' difficulty in dealing with the prospect that Eisenhower will attempt to transfer the peace image he is creating to the next Republican presidential party members that they called the agreeable news about Nixon. He added "we believe we have a candidate who is a winner."

Sparked both praise and criticism during the week-end.

The two chairmen agreed on one point: They told a television audience that religion will not be an important factor in the fall elections.

One of the announced chairmen for the Democratic nomination is Sen. John F. Kennedy, D-Mass., and no one else has appeared for challenge.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., the State Republican leader, said he was prepared to challenge Nixon.

The insurance schedule covered property and equipment valued at $2,500,000, will cost $18,000 for 10 or 15 years.

The schedule was presented by Mrs. Hilda McTear of High Boren and Son Insurance Agency, the county's servicing agent.

Sen. Symington Talks Of Israel

By HENRIETTA LEITH
NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington for president Sunday night, and Judy Adams promised to run his campaign. But the senator said, "I'm not one word about politics. He talked about Israel."

Before appearing at the Astor Hotel dinner sponsored by the Israel League, Symington said reporters he wasn't planning to announce any political intentions that night or any time soon.
But he had no sooner got up on the stage—along with Eddie Fisher, Elizabeth Taylor and Harry Belafonte—and taken his seat along with the Israeli League's president, Carmine De Sapio, Democratic national committeeman, than Jessel was calling him "Mr. President."

College Professor Runs For Congress

EDINBURG (AP)—Dr. John Westburg, Pan American College professor, said today he would be a candidate for Congress from the 15th District.
Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen, who is in his second term, will seek re-election.
Dr. Westburg, 41, said he will formally file Jan. 22.
"A field of selected, rich special interests have hogged the congressional representation from the Lower Rio Grande Valley long enough," he said. "It is high time that all the people of the district and not just a small segment have a representative who will look out for their interests and really represent them."
The 15th District includes Cameron, Dimmitt, Frio, Hidalgo, Jim Hogg, LaSalle, Medina, Maverick, Starr, Webb, Willacy, Zapata and Zavala counties.

Bell System Shows Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The Bell System earnings for the 12 months ended Nov. 30 totaled $1,131,841,000, the company reported today.
Of this $1,100,781,000 was applicable to American Telephone & Telegraph Co. stock. This was equal to $5.16 a share of AT&T stock.
E. Frederick Kappel, president of Bell System and AT&T, said the gain in telephones for the 1959 year probably reached about 3,300,000, an all-time record.
Noting that construction expenditures in 1959 totaled about 2.4 billion dollars, Kappel said, "We expect that continuing expenditures of this order, requiring large amounts of new capital, will be necessary to meet the country's needs for communication service in our expanding economy."

Operation Porklift

LE MARS, Iowa (AP)—"Go hog wild—eat fresh pork!"
That's one of the slogans of the Le Mars Chamber of Commerce in using for its campaign opening today to get people to eat more pork.
"Operation porklift" originated in the northwest Iowa County seat of what Le Mars calls "the top hog-producing county of the state which is the pork capital of America."
E. W. Rogers, chamber of commerce manager, said "with 60 million families in America, the consumption of just one additional pound of fresh pork per week would remove 240 million extra pounds of fresh pork from the market each month."
Rogers said the farmers are faced with a tremendous over-crop and a large hog crop and in turn low prices for both products.
The price of live hogs has dropped from $18 to an average of near $10 a hundredweight in less than a year, he said.

Soviet Tests Could Start New Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union's newly announced rocket tests in the central Pacific may be the start of a new campaign of missile diplomacy. It may be aimed to impress Asian nations as well as the United States and European countries.
U.S. officials note that the Moscow warning for ships and aircraft to remain out of the target zone between Jan. 15 and Feb. 15 neatly brackets two important diplomatic events.
1. The formal signing of a new 10-year security treaty between the United States and Japan scheduled to take place at the White House on Jan. 19. Japan's Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and President Eisenhower will be present.
2. The 10-day visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to neutral Indonesia, due to begin in mid-February.
Any prestige gathered by spectacular space accomplishments would come, too, just ahead of a series of European diplomatic negotiations leading up to next May's four-power summit conference and Eisenhower's visit to the Soviet Union in June.
Another less immediate objective may be a Soviet desire to boost Communist prestige in Asia following the great success of Eisenhower's recent visit to South Asia.
Psychologically the Soviet rocket move could also be expected to call attention to the presence of Soviet fleet units in the Pacific high seas area, generally recognized as having been under U.S. control since World War II.
Khrushchev has cautioned Japan in the past of what he described as the dangers of a military alliance with the United States.
Also, Khrushchev told former New York Gov. W. Averell Harriman last year during a Moscow interview that the Soviet Union would support Communist China with rockets if necessary in any trouble over Formosa.

Boy's Story Marks Trail

NEW YORK (AP)—Alan Waldman, 14, honor student disappeared from his Brooklyn home last Thursday.
The boy's personal savings plus $130 his mother was saving disappeared with him.
Alan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Waldman, said the boy had threatened to run away from home when he is 16.
The youth, a clever mathematician, liked to write short stories. Sunday, Waldman found his latest, entitled "The true story of Vincent Hoy," crumpled in Alan's wastebasket.
This is the story of a young boy who set out from his home in Brooklyn to make a fortune, the story went. "He had a lot of dreams, some impossible, some all too possible. He had some money saved up. He likes to read a lot and never worked a day in his life. He likes to gamble but always loses."
And then came the clincher: "He has an infallible method for beating Las Vegas roulette tables."
Alan thought Waldman, and noted police.
Within hours, young Alan was picked up in Las Vegas. New. After traveling 2,000 miles by train, he was nabbed almost the minute he arrived in the gambling capital. His infallible method for beating Las Vegas roulette tables remains untried.

More Men Taken From Arctic Floe

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—The Air Force today stepped up plans to remove 20 men manning a scientific outpost on a crumbling ice floe in the Arctic Ocean.
The floe, known as Station Charley, was reduced to a fifth of its original size when two huge chunks cracked off the ice pack Sunday night. The floe has been slowly disintegrating since Wednesday.
It originally had been planned to keep the men on the island until all scientific equipment had been removed. But officials at Ladd Air Force Base here said a flight to the station today would pick up four men.
The latest ice disintegration tore off about 200 feet of runway, but the Air Force said the loss was not expected to affect aircraft landings or takeoffs.
The floe, originally two miles wide and four miles long, has crumbled to an area one mile wide and one mile and a fourth long.
It takes seven hours to make the roundtrip flight from Ladd AFB. The floe is located 400 miles northwest of Barrow, Alaska.
Three of the four men to be evacuated were identified as Sgt. Thomas A. Boger, Greensboro, N.C.; Airman Hilton H. Carter, Ft. Smith, Ark.; and Airman Franklin D. Yates, Ypsilanti, Mich.
The 20 men on the island include 14 of the original party. The other six were flown to the floe to aid in packing and removing the 180,000 pounds of scientific equipment.

Nasser Opens Egypt Plant

ASWAN, Egypt (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser celebrated some more-Sunday as he opened a new $5-million dollar hydroelectric plant 4 1/2 miles up the Nile from the site of the Aswan dam.
Nasser, launched work on the billion-dollar dam at ceremonies Saturday. Sunday he spoke again to cheering thousands at the power plant and millions more listening to the powerful voice of the Arab Radio station.
The plant initially will produce 22,000 kilowatts. Eventually output will be expanded to 351,000 kilowatts. Eighty per cent of this will be used by a nearby fertilizer plant.
A French firm began construction of the power plant but pulled out after the British and French invaded the Suez Canal Zone. West Germans aided engineers of the United Arab Republic in completing the work.

If Entertaining Scares You, Try A New Modern Brunch

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

If planning all the courses of a party lunch or supper sometimes give you a slight case of jitters, try asking friends to noontime Sunday brunch.

Set the table Saturday night. Fruit juice and dry cereal can be on hand ready to serve. For the main course it's easy to cook small link sausages just before the guests arrive and keep them warm in their heavy skillet (with fat poured off) over very low heat. Eggs can be scrambled at the last minute; if you have an electric skillet do it at the table. Your husband or one of your guests will willingly take over the toaster and pour the coffee.

It's a good idea to make the table centerpiece a bowl of fresh fruit and put it to pass around at the end of the meal. Don't forget to provide nut crackers and picks.

We find that brunch guests usually like a bonus of coffee-ice cream. This you can make your own by putting a cup of coffee in the morning and adding a little of the coffee-ice cream to the coffee. It's made with bran and we vouch for its interesting texture and good flavor. It's topped with fruit preserves and will well entrance eaters who like the sticky-but touch.

COFFEE-TIME GINGERBREAD

INGREDIENTS: 1/2 cup apricot preserves, 1/2 cup browned walnut meats, 1/2 cup ready-made bran, 1/2 cup water, 1 cup sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 3 tablespoons shortening, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 cup molasses.

METHOD: Spread apricot preserves evenly in bottom of a well-greased 8 by 14 inch round cake pan. Sprinkle with walnut meats. Mix bran and water; let stand flour, baking powder, soda, salt, ginger and cinnamon. Blend shortening and sugar; beat in egg well. Stir in molasses and bran mixture. Add sifted dry ingredients. Stir only until mixed. Spread in prepared pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) oven about 40 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Remove from oven and let stand about 5 minutes. Turn upside down on serving plate and let stand a few minutes longer before removing pan. Cut into serving pieces and serve warm.

WHO ELSE !!

Way Of Life May Be In Jeopardy

By SAUL PETT
NEW YORK (AP) — These are indeed parous times. A whole way of life may be in jeopardy. A culture, an economy, a philosophy, an entire set of customs, habits and values may shortly be shattered. Why? The Internal Revenue Bureau says that this year it will examine more closely the over- deductions for business entertainment, travel and other expenses. This may be the beginning of the end of the age of the expense account. Consider what might happen if the government suddenly began to disallow many of the income tax deductions it now accepts.

The liquor industry would receive its worst jolt since Carry Nation picked up her hatchet and went party-popping. Credit cards, now such handy proof for the tax collector, might easily disappear and be replaced by that ancient, gauche, germ-ridden thing called cash. Restaurants, clubs, — At least a hundred famous restaurants around the country, where people come to be seen despite or because of the outrageous prices, nightmarish decor and modish food, might have to shut down and be replaced by supermarkets or pizza parlors.

In the big cities, the big black limousines rented by visiting business men would revert to their original function — funerals. Many private and corporate yachts, only yesterday the scene of lavish and deductible business entertainment, would begin rusting at their moorings. Private and corporate airplanes, whose fuel was the expense account, would be grounded. Country club memberships would be going for people willing to pay for their own. Hotel waiters would find smaller tips in their palms and the age of the deductible grand gesture would end. Americans once more would return to the ways of their forefathers and start out-tipping each other for the check. It might even make waiters civil.

Ominous Signs Are Noted On U. S. Financial Horizon

By INEZ ROBB
If I had enough money to worry about, I would now be in search of two items to help me preserve it — a tin can in which to squirrel it away and a shovel I would need the latter to dig a hole under the rose bush in the back yard where I could stash my money until the current signs and portents, so reminiscent of '29, have passed.

What is worrying me about my current two cents worth is not the sudden hedging of so many financial experts about the Big Rock Candy Mountain in the Sixties. Right down to the tape of the 'Sixties, these experts were predicting that all any American citizen had to do to be rich in the present decade was sit still and pick up the money as it fell.

Now a great many of these experts seem to be a little queasy. They are not quite so certain all of a sudden of every man his own Morgan. They are delicately hinting of a recession in the present year; maybe a declining market before the election and other sinking spells in this decade that only months ago they were promising would be all gold and a mile wide.

No, it is not this niggling that bothers me. What has me troubled is my distinct memory of the life and times of the Twenties that preceded the debacle of '29. The same signs and portents that showed themselves then are visible today. And I am not referring to such stuffy factors as carloads, or interest rates, or tight credit, or other such standard financial tea leaves.

When I diagnose financial trends, I get down to brass tacks. First, there is the recent $250,000 ball given by a Detroit motor monarch for his debutante daughter. Even allowing for inflation, this tops the $75,000 debutante ball at which Barbara Hutton made her debut in 1930 just before the financial ceiling really fell in on the nation.

However, my real uneasiness began last autumn when the fashion writers began to crone over "daytime diamonds" and "the ladies who wear them with their turtle neck sweaters and Hoover aprons. I remember only too well the winter of 1928-29 in Palm Beach when one belle never appeared on the beach without both her bathing suit and her diamond necklace, a classy party for that day.

Well, then has 'em wears 'em. And I might have worry-warted along with "daytime diamonds" on women. But daytime diamonds on dogs is "too much." Oh, I am all for the affluent society, but I read in a New York paper of a poodle whose jeweled collar is set with an itty-bitty watch, so his mistress can see-time running on and on, rather than out, my impulse is to head for the cyclone cellar.

But the news that really raised my hackles is that women across the nation are eagerly stretching nylon lace stockings at $45 per pair! And this in a nation that cannot afford to ante up the money to meet the Russian challenge in missiles and space exploration! Debutante parties at $20,000 a throw we can afford, and daytime diamonds, and jeweled watches for dogs, and lace stockings at $45 per pair.

But not the money that would put us at least even with the Soviets in the missile and space age! Just the money for daytime diamonds! For dogs.

Ah, well, enough of this gloom and doom. Let us eat, drink, wear and...

Panels Poised To Justify Existence

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON, AP — This is the week its first full week back on the job, when Congress gets down to work on its budget. Congress went through a brief, self-conscious, hairshirt period in the 1940s when, astounded by the committees it had, it cut out some. But it now has more committees and subcommittees than ever, more than 150 of them.

Since they usually try to justify their existence by finding something to do, in hearings of inquiries, they'll get busy. It takes time. Congress doesn't really get rolling until President Eisenhower submits his spending plans, which he will soon do in his annual budget message.

Pretty nearly everything revolves around this since it is in this message that Eisenhower outlines how much he thinks his programs should cost. Since the Democratic-run Congress usually has other ideas, this is a good start for a year-long fight. But last week Eisenhower surprised Congress by tipping his hand, in his State of the Union message. He said his budget would call for spending almost 80 billion dollars a year for peacetime.

Each year for years now Eisenhower has been submitting record-breaking budgets while calling on Congress to keep down spending. He did that again this year. But this time he gave Congress a welcome surprise by revealing that while he expects spending in the fiscal year beginning July 1 and ending June 30, 1961 — to hit almost 80 billion dollars, he also expects government revenues to be so high there will be $4,000,000,000 left over.

Telling Congress that was like inviting it to spend the money. Congress may want to use that surplus, in part anyway, to pay for some programs Eisenhower didn't want or to pay more on some programs that he did want.

Whether Congress tries to defy Eisenhower or just talks about trying it, is something which will unfold as the year unfolds. If the Democrats run true to last year's form, when Eisenhower made them self-conscious by calling them spenders, they'll do more talking than doing.

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Mon., Jan. 11, 1960 5

Steers And Hogs To Clash Tonight

The Southwest Conference rolls into its second week of championship competition Monday night with Arkansas' dangerous Razorbacks challenging resurgent Texas in Austin.

The Longhorns, playing under new coach Al Bradley and with high scoring Jay Arnette and Brenton Hughes leading the way, seem to be the only outfit that may be able to stop the Aggies. But then there's Arkansas, always potent, which points up the fact that Monday night's Texas-Arkansas game may produce the real challenger for the high-flying Aggies.

Where Texas has two men in the first 10 high scorers, Texas A&M has one—Garrett—Broussard and Arkansas has Ronnie Garner with 178 points and Clyde Rhoden with 165.

Arnette, the big Longhorn, has 229 points with 76 field goals and 77 clutch shots to lead the field in scoring. Steve Strange of SMU, who was held to 6 and 10 points in SMU's two games last week is third with 213 points. Strange encountered difficulty against the zone defenses of Texas and Texas Tech.

OPEN CHAMP IN TROUBLE—Bill Casper, the U.S. Open titleholder, explodes from a trap guarding the eighth green during the opening round of the $44,500 Los Angeles Open golf tournament. It was the second trap he visited on the hole, but managed to get his par 5 by dropping this shot within four feet of the cup and then holing the putt (AP Wirephoto).

CALL THIS IMBECILE OFF

Bad Boy Bolt Explodes In South African Play

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—"The worst mannered golfer ever to visit the Union," cried the Johannesburg Express today on a shakedown tour.

Tommy Bolt, the hot-tempered U.S. Open champion from Crystal River, Fla., was the object of the Express' wrath.

Bolt won a challenge series against South African Gary Player of the British Open champion, a couple of weeks ago.

The Express demanded the South African Golfers Union make an official complaint to the U.S. Professional Golfers' Assn. for Bolt's "appalling behavior."

The Express objected mostly to Bolt's salty language. It claimed he cursed one official who offered him a cool drink.

In another match, complained the Express, an official took a look at Bolt's lie in the rough, and Tommy yelled to Player: "Say, Gary, call this imbecile off."

Continued the Express: "It is safe to say that at each and every course on which Bolt played, he insulted at least one official. Frequently Player had to apologize for his manners."

"Never on one sports field has one man made so many enemies, in so short a time."

But Tommy had some supporters. Sid Bromer, president of the South African Professional Golfers Union, shrugged it off.

Tommy gave color to the game here even if he splashed it on rather heavily at times," he observed.

"When you play man of the Yanks, you've got to switch off your hearing aid," Locke remarked dryly.

At the moment, Bolt is on an indefinite probation by the U.S. PGA for his frequent outbursts. However, of late, he has been on his best behavior and has refrained from his old habits of tossing clubs and arguing with spectators.

because of Bolt's "psychological treatment."

"I'm going to visit the attorney general Tuesday for some further talks and also see the New York State Athletic Commission."

Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz has been conducting an investigation into the promotion of the fight last June in which Johansson won the title from Floyd Patterson.

NEW YORK (AP)—World heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson is taking no chances of having his fingers burned twice.

"Absolutely nothing has been signed and absolutely nothing has been promised on my next fight," Johansson said today.

Johansson and his adviser, Edwin Alghiswarr arrived Sunday night from Sweden and immediately went into a huddle with representatives of the attorney general's office.

List Of Unbeatens Narrowing Steadily

By DON WEISS Associated Press Sports Writer The storm signals are up in college basketball today and by another week the skymap list of major unbeatens could be non-existent.

That includes Cincinnati's top-ranking Bearcats as well as the relatively untested Texas A&M, Villanova and LaSalle teams, the trio that joins Oscar Robertson & Co. in making up the current perfect record class.

Cincinnati, which has swept past 12 straight opponents, faces "Challenge Week" within the rough Missouri Valley Conference meeting in St. Louis in Cincinnati Wednesday before moving on to Peoria, Ill., for a Saturday game with Bradley.

The Bearcats, whipped, Bradley 86-71 (Bradley's only loss in 14 games in December, but had two big factors going for them then. First, the Bearcats were at home. Second, they had hunking 64 Bob Wiesenhahn, their best defensive player and a solid rebounder, available to take some of the pressure off Robertson.

Now Wiesenhahn is out with a foot injury and in his two-game absence so far, Robertson's team has been held to 27 and 24 points, well under his normal 40-point pace, while he attends more to rebounding and defense.

St. Louis, 12th-ranked nationally with a 10-3 record, has the height and muscle to more than match Cincinnati while Bradley, fourth-ranked nationally and unbeaten in 24 games, has the scoring power to beat Cincinnati unless the Big O can concentrate on shooting.

The Aggies meet SMU 84-74 Tuesday, a club they edged 88-81 in the Southwest Conference Christmas Tournament final, and then go against Texas (8-3) on Friday. If Villanova survives its game with Temple (8-3) Wednesday, there's the rugged matter at Morgantown, W.Va., Saturday against West Virginia, 12-1, the nation's third-ranked team, and underdog in its home floor in 30 consecutive games, LaSalle, which squeaked by Duquesne 68-65 Saturday, has a road test tonight at Morehead State (14-3).

In some tonight's key games, Tulane, along with Georgia Tech, the surprise Southeastern Conference leader, gets its big test at Kentucky while Georgia Tech (10-1) sixth-ranked nationally plays twice - beaten Mississippi ninth-ranked Illinois plays at Purdue and Iowa, home to Michigan State in Big 10 features, and West Virginia tries for its 57th straight Southern Conference victory against William & Mary at home.

What's in store for the elite was indicated last Saturday when fifth-ranked Utah and eighth-ranked Wake Forest were beaten, and California, West Virginia, Bradley, Ohio State and Southern California—other members of the top 10—had to come from behind to win. Cincinnati ran its two-season win streak to 13 with an 85-50 romp over Tulsa, Illinois downed Minnesota 90-82, and Georgia Tech had an easy time with Mississippi State, 82-60.

The usual Friday night fight show on television has been blocked out for a week by a bowling program. Many other boxing centers are finding it difficult to arrange attractive programs.

As a result of the skippy program, Johansson's trip to receive the Edward J. Neil Memorial Award as "Fighter of the Year" from the Boxing Writers Assn. of New York and his conference in regard to a rematch with Floyd Patterson will dominate the news.

The top fight of the week is scheduled for Wednesday night at Mobile, Ala. Along with Kenny Lane, Stuskyon Mich., and Ralph Dupas, New Orleans, Dupas won a decision in 1955 and Lane in 1956 in two previous battles.

Ring magazine rates Lane No. 6 and Dupas No. 8 among the welterweights although the National Boxing Assn. lists Dupas No. 10 among the welterweights and places Lane No. 1 challenger to Carlos Ortiz in the junior welter ranks.

Lane, a southpaw, was wopped on cuts in a junior welter title match with Ortiz last June. He got back to work in October when he beat Virgil Atkins in his latest outing he stopped Ray Lancaster, Dec. 29 at Minneapolis.

Dupas a clever boxer, bounced back from a defeat by Rudolf Stitch Oct. 7 to stop Pat Lowry Nov. 17 in New Orleans. The bout will be carried on net-works (ABC) television at 10 p.m. EST.

Buffalo, once a real hot fight town, is excited about a meeting of two young unbeaten lightweights Tuesday night, Jackie Donnelly, Buffalo, who has 17 victories and one draw on his record, boxes Dickie Diverencia, Carmen Basillo's protégé from Syracuse, unbeaten in 23 fights.

Frick Now Seeking Congressional Help

By JACK CLARY Writer Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick leaves today for talks with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) concerning the relationship of the embryonic Continental League and the present baseball structure, major and minor.

Frick's jaunt to the nation's capital was necessitated by one made last week by Continental athlete Branch Rickey and Bill Shea when they talked with Keating of the troubles they have encountered in getting their league started.

After Keating offered to act as an informal mediator between the American and National leagues, and the Continental, he also indicated strongly that he favored starting the new league.

Frick was spurred to action by the mediation offer, for which he sees no use at this time and will presumably so tell Keating.

"I have the greatest confidence in Mr. Keating," Frick said "I want to make sure he knows the whole story. The only reason I'm going down there is to let him know our stand."

Frick reiterated that the Continental will be a welcome addition to the majors if it fulfills the requirements for such status set down last summer in a meeting at Columbus, Ohio. He ever offered a few concessions.

"If they have a park which seats 18,000 instead of 25,000, okay," he said. "If their players aren't major leaguers now, okay too. But I must insist on two things: That the players be included in a pension plan like ours and that the minor leagues be taken care of."

QB Banquet Is Slated For Tonight

The Snyder Quarterback Club will hold its annual banquet tonight in the High School Cafeteria beginning at 7:30.

The banquet will honor all football players of the Snyder school system, who will be guests of the club. Tickets for Quarterback Club members are $1 each.

A program attraction will be an address by Polk Robinson, head basketball coach at Texas Tech.

Junior High cage contests originally scheduled for tonight have been postponed in order to avoid conflict with the banquet.

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer The arrival of Ingemar Johansson, the world heavyweight champion from Sweden, overshadows most of the boxing news on a week in which there is only sporadic firing around the nation.

Banks Likes Kids; Money Is Secondary

By JOE MOOSHIL Associated Press Sports Writer CHICAGO (AP)—When a star athlete begins getting awards, "the most this and the most that" it usually means extra cash in various ventures and appearances.

Such, however, is not the case with Ernie Banks, the slugging Chicago Cub shortstop, who became the first National League player to be named most valuable player twice in succession.

"If something comes my way that's fine," said Banks. "But I like working with kids. They need help and when I appear in behalf of the Little Leagues or something like that, naturally, there's no fee."

Banks has a genuine affection for children. He thinks nothing of hanging around the ball park an hour or so after a game signing autographs.

"You can see a gleam in their eyes when they get an autograph," says Banks. "And to me that's something. Some kids get my autograph a hundred times. I know them by sight. But the minute they get it again, they're off running and jumping with joy, just like it was the greatest thing that ever happened to them. It's just their way of having fun."

"Kids look up to athletes," Banks continued. "They all have their idols and favorites. Mine was Stan Musial. Although I never saw him play outside of exhibitions in Dallas, I wanted to become just like him. I'm glad I picked Stan because when I got to the majors, I really found out what a great guy he is."

Banks, who will be 29 Oct. 11, had a great season last year and is looking forward to a better one in 1960.

The slender wrist buster slugged 43 home runs and drove in 143 runs. In addition, he set a new record for a single season with 12 errors. Snyder's only regular player to average .300 this season.

Favorites In BC To Clash

By The Associated Press Border Conference basketball crown fight will meet Monday night at Tempe, Ariz., for the top spot in the championship race.

New Mexico State, with a 2-3 record for the season, challenges the Tempe crew on its own court. Arizona State University has an 11-3 record going into the game.

Both teams won their initial go into the circuit with unblemished league records.

Texas Western invades Tucson to meet Arizona in the other Monday night Border contest.

Both lost their opening conference encounters last week, and neither Arizona (3-6), and Texas Western (4-9), have much to be proud of in season play.

West Texas State meets the Oklahoma City Chiefs, a strong test for any basketball team, in a non-conference game at Oklahoma City Wednesday night.

Hardin-Simmons, 4-8 for the season, meets Arizona on the Tucson court Friday night to reopen league play. Both lost their opening last week.

Arizona State will try to fatten its average Saturday night when Hardin-Simmons invades Tempe, while New Mexico State will attempt to keep the pace against Texas Western at El Paso.

West Texas State, with a 102-84 victory over Hardin-Simmons last week, seems to be the conference's most-improved team. But until this week's play is finished, New Mexico State and Arizona State remain ranked.

Colorado State, which has 12 wins and 10 losses, is looking for a better record than its 12-10 average.

Familiar Signs On Capitol Hill

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Familiar signs and portents herald the return of Congress to Capitol Hill. Executive communications, for instance.

After three months with practically nobody to write to, agency officials are again busily communicating their hopes and aspirations to legislators.

Returning congressmen hardly had time to hang up their travel souvenirs last week when the mailman was at the door with the first of the new stream of executive communications.

It was from Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, and said he hoped Congress would do something about alien adult honeybees.

Benson suggested Congress amend the Honeybee Act to prevent the importation of adult members of the honeybee families of A. (for Apis), Indica, A. Florea and A. Dorsate.

They have mites, Benson complained.

This is no joke. Benson assured Congress, because it could practically wipe out the honey industry in the United States.

Another sure sign Congress is back in business is the return of televised reports to the people. These are transmitted TV shows in which members of Congress are the sole stars. These reports are put on video tape and sent back to home town TV Stations for broadcast.

A standard show usually goes something like this:

Announcer: "Well, we're certainly glad to have you back, senator."

Senator: "Well, I'm certainly glad to be back."

Announcer: "Yes, sir, it's good to have you back."

Senator: "Yup, good to be back."

To the less sensitive there are other, sure signs that the mighty are again in residence—the attitude of the Capitol police.

Salutes are again in evidence when a congressional license plate comes in view. Reserved parking places are carefully protected from tax-paying tourists.

Silence Is Golden At UD Session

DETROIT (AP)—Silence was almost golden Sunday night, it cost up to five bucks a ticket.

The occasion was a "silent record concert and recording session" with benefits going to the University of Detroit Chorus tour fund.

While the silence from the stage was punctuated by some rather loud noises, the audience churned up sound waves with laughter and applause.

Much of it was for TV comedian Henry Morgan, who tipped onto the stage in stocking feet and delivered a silent monologue, then erupted into some loud witticisms.

The U. of D. chorus gave a silent rendition of "When the Saints Come Marching In." But a record billed as "Scottish Highland Silence" produced the loud wail of bagpipes.

The program was an outgrowth from a silent record craze that started at the University of Detroit when students complained that jukeboxes in the Student Union interfered with studying. Records were produced which gave three minutes silence for 90 times. Songs were played so often they produced noisy needle scratches and had to be replaced.

The program requested ladies to remove their costume jewelry so it wouldn't clank. But then the audience of about 600 in a downtown theater was urged to take part in shouting the chorus from an ancient Greek play—which somehow became involved in the program.

The concert ended with a rendition of the Anvil Chorus. Rubber mallets were hammered on anvils topped with foam rubber.

Cox Lashes At Daniel

AUSTIN (AP)—Jack Cox said today that Gov. Price Daniel is making a political football of the public school problem.

"Cox says he will run for governor against Daniel.

Cox, former Breckenridge legislator and executive secretary of the conservative Freedom in Action organization, said he understands Daniel will promise a special session to meet public school needs in the summer after the election.

"This is a new political promise," he says. "The promise for September, 1959, and January, 1960." Cox asked in a statement, "This administration has been in a trail of broken promises."

"It is obvious political trades are being made. It is also obvious the school children of Texas have been losers in these trades."

"It is regrettable that the governor has seen 24 to place education in the position of being a political football."

Cox said he has 20 speeches scheduled between now and February 1 and that he will begin a state-wide campaign in February.

Solon Sees Good Chance For Liberals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) sees a better chance for liberal legislation in the Senate this year.

Proxmire was one of a group who asked at a party caucus last week that Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas call more frequent meetings of Democratic senators.

Proxmire, who last year took the Senate floor several times to criticize what he called several one-man rule by Johnson, said today:

"I believe we are making much better progress than I had anticipated before the caucus. I had thought it might take several years to get any results, but I believe we will get results this year."

Johnson said he did not consider as a challenge to his leadership the demands made at the caucus. However, he agreed to call the group together in the future when asked to do so.

Anticipating the first request, he has scheduled a caucus for Tuesday.

Proxmire's criticism was that Johnson called only one party conference in each of the last two years and that this provided no chance for the average Democratic senator to have a chance in shaping party policy or in deciding what legislation would be called up in the Senate.

Missing Deb Goes To Paris

ANTWERP, Belgium (AP)—A missing heiress, Gambia Benedict today was traced to Paris after a freighter trip from New York with a married-Romanian-born chauffeur.

New York police said the 27-year-old New York debutante, escorted from New York Dec. 31 aboard the freighter Edga with Andre Porumbeanu, 35, onetime chauffeur-builer for Mrs. Arde Bulova, widow of the watch king.

The freighter arrived in Antwerp Saturday. Both Miss Benedict and Porumbeanu remained aboard Saturday night, sources in Antwerp said.

Police said they are closing the case since they are satisfied Miss Benedict voluntarily left her fashionable upper East Side home Dec. 27 after a society party. Friends had reported seeing her several times in New York since then.

Her grandmother, Katherine Geddes Benedict, who is under a physician's care, reported the girl missing. Friends said Mrs. Benedict, widow of Henry Harper Benedict, former president of the Remington Typewriter Co., had objected to the girl's seeing Porumbeanu, whom she met last summer at Mrs. Bulova's Long Island home.

Police said the break in the case came when an official of the Cosmopolitan Shipping Co. reported the couple had sailed on the Edga.

The official said Miss Benedict and Porumbeanu occupied separate cabins during the 10-day crossing.

The Benedict family attorney, Robert Hoffman, said he might go to Europe to try to return Miss Benedict.

A friend of Porumbeanu, Miron Butariu, said Porumbeanu is the son of a Romanian colonel and is separated from his wife, who lives here. They have a daughter, Butariu said, Porumbeanu was last seen Dec. 30 when he checked out of a rooming house near Mrs. Benedict's home and told his landlady he was leaving to marry the girl.

Butariu said Porumbeanu enlisted in the U.S. Air Force and after an honorable discharge attended Columbia University on the GI bill. Later he held a job with the Standard Oil Co. Last summer Mrs. Bulova hired him as chauffeur-builer at her Southampton home.

Butariu, who works for the Assembly of Captive European Nations, said Porumbeanu told him "I'm in love with a society girl. This time I'll do better in marriage than before. I'm in love with a truly beautiful girl."

Butariu said Porumbeanu's wife Helena had worked here as a clerk in an advertising agency.

Miss Benedict, who made her debut at the Cotton Ball Dec. 21, was a freshman at Briarcliff College. Her mother, the former Josephine Benedict, died of an overdose of sleeping pills in 1946. The girl's father, Dr. J. Douglas Sharpe, a psychiatrist, signed away his share of his wife's estate after her death. He tried later to regain his share.

Miss Benedict and her brother Douglas, 19, have lived with their grandmother since their mother's death.

Tulsa Gets An Odd Coin

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—It's a penny, or maybe a quarter. But to Tulsa C. O. Riley it could spell dollars.

Riley, a coin collector, has come up with a coin the color of a penny, slightly larger than a nickel and containing markings of a quarter.

The coin was received by a Tulsa bank in a shipment of new quarters and is what dealers term a "minting error."

Riley recalled a similar mistake was made in 1954 when a half dollar was stamped on a quarter planchet—a disc cut the size of the coin to be minted.

"The man who owns that coin was offered thousands for it," Riley said.

Chances for such an error escaping U.S. Mint inspectors is considered one in a million.

Pilot Killed In Crash Of Plane

KENDALIA, Tex. (AP)—A single engine Beechcraft crashed and burned Sunday night on a ranch near this Hill Country town 40 miles north of San Antonio. The pilot was killed.

The State Highway Patrol said the pilot, apparently the only occupant, was burned beyond recognition. They said, however, he had been identified as Jim Bailey of 43 Rom. Okla. and was en route from El Reno to San Antonio at the time of the crash.

The plane's wreckage was scattered over an area of 200 yards on the Joe Neugebauer Ranch, 7 miles east of U.S. Highway 80 in Jimba County.

PIGS OUT OF THE POKE. These pigs try to make most of a brief period of semi-freedom at the Future Farmers of America project show Saturday at the Towle Memorial Park exhibition building. The FFA members scramble to get their animals under control for showing.

Peace And Harmony Sought By Governor Jimmie Davis

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Ballot-tasting Jimmie Davis, winner of Louisiana's Democratic runoff for governor, today sought to return Louisiana's political life to "peace and harmony."

The 53-year-old former governor said he would create a state sovereignty commission to preserve segregation. Negroes have pressed suits in three parishes (counties) to begin school integration.

"I've been all over the nation," Davis said, "and I'm convinced the Southland is the happiest place in the nation. I think right-thinking white people and right-thinking colored people believe that."

Davis also pledged to keep hands off an independent Legislature and promised he would not build a political machine in this state that remembers the web-like control of Huey P. Long.

A record turnout signaled the end of the Long era. The ticket of lame duck Gov. Earl K. Long, Huey's brother, was soundly whipped in the Dec. 5 primary.

Davis piled up a 71,000 vote lead over New Orleans Mayor Leche and S. Morrison, seeking to become Louisiana's first Catholic governor since 1884. Davis, a Baptist, got 426,965 votes to Morrison's 414,253 with returns in from all but three of 2,108 precincts. His decisive bulge carried Davis' entire ticket to victory.

Farmer, businessman and teacher, Davis rose in the American political tradition. He was a schoolteacher's son, one of 11 children reared in Jackson Parish in north-Louisiana's red hill country.

It was the overwhelming Davis vote in the predominantly Protestant testament north and central parish. Davis in his salad days, at 12, he came out of a public service commissioner's job in Shreveport in 1944 to win the governorship.

He had a boyish look and a winning smile. He charmed weary voters on the stump when he sang and made famous his own "You Are My Sunshine" to the twang of hillbilly guitars.

"When folks are singing they aren't fighting," drawled Davis. Davis rode the crest to Hollywood where he made grade-B Horne operas while in office. Opponents criticized him but he left behind a surplus in the budget, sunders-snapping Long. "Will I continue singing? Sure I will," said Davis. "I don't suppose I'll stop until I'm 100 years old."

Brigitte Bardot Has 7-Pound Son

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

PARIS (AP)—France's reigning movie queen, Brigitte Bardot, today said she had a 7-pound boy.

"We are naming him Nicolas Jacques," the proud father, film actor Jacques Charrier, beamingly told a news conference. "He has blue eyes and a strong 'tone' voice."

Miss Bardot and Charrier, both now 25, were married last June. Her previous marriage, to film director Roger Vadim, who directed her rise to fame as one of the world's most popular sex symbols, was childless.

Charrier was at his wife's side when their son was born about 2:30 a.m. in their Paris apartment.

Dr. Louis Bonnet, who delivered the baby, said it was a beautiful boy with brown hair. It "cried lustily," he added.

Miss Bardot had insisted on remaining in the apartment for the birth. She said she did not want to go to a hospital, and a small maternity clinic was set up in her home.

The film beauty was reported to have undergone the delivery "very peacefully" she was in labor about four hours.

Brigitte, a super-curved little blonde, is the daughter of a French industrialist.

At 18 she married Vadim, the movie director who disappeared here and made her semi-nude figure and her sexy pout famous in a series of widely circulated films. That marriage lasted five years.

Her romance with Charrier started when he appeared as her leading man in the movie "Babette Goes to War." At that time she was supposedly engaged to a crooning guitarist, Sacha Distel.

While awaiting the birth of her baby, Brigitte made plans for her future movie career.

Raoul Levy, who produces many of her movies, said he wanted her to play more dramatic roles instead of specializing in the strip.

Michigan State's football team drew an average of 57,885 fans for five-games this season, the third best home average on record.
