Santa Claus Coming; Drawings To Be Held

Preparations were completed for three big drawings to be held Saturday on Olton State Bank parking lot, according to Mrs. Lois Brimhall, manager of Olton's Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

To better receive Santa Claus, when he makes his appearance atop Olton Fire Department's most powerful vehicle, the parking lot will be roped off, and possibly the adjacent street will be blocked from traffic. Vehicle parking will be available elsewhere.

The parking lot will be kept free for pedestrians and the small fry who will be anxious to make contact with the red-suited gentleman from the North Pole.

The first drawing for a $100 gift certificate will be held at 2 p.m. Sometime before the second drawing at 3 p.m., Santa Claus is expected to arrive.

Also expected to be named during this drawing period will be the winner of the Aireloom ceiling fan given to some contributor to the Fund for Boy Scout Troop 220, sponsored by Olton Lions.

Ten Oltonites were made happy last week as they were made richer by posting wins in the Holiday Treasure Hunt sponsored by Olton merchants.

Listed as winners in 10 places of businesses were the following: Betty McCall, winner at Carmen's Western Wear; Enid Givens, winner at Bizzell's; Mrs. D.Y. Ray, winner at Holton's Pharmacy; LeaBelle Hooper, winner at Duncan's 5 and 10 Store; Melinda Rose, winner at Leon's Grocery; Bobby Walden, winner at Olton Farm Supply; Bonnie McClain, winner at Mini Mall; Sue Cure, Country Lad's winner; Mrs. Fay Foster, winner at Pay-N-Save Grocery; and Fanny Clark, winner at Northside Gift Shop.

White's Auto Store has not had a matching number presented for either week. They are holding both prizes open for lucky number winners. If none are forthcoming, then an in-store drawing Saturday, Dec. 20 will determine the winners of two prizes.

Similarly, Olton State Bank's savings bond has not yet been claimed. Registration is still underway this week at the Bank. From these names a winner will be drawn Saturday, Dec. 20 when drawings for the big prizes will be held on the bank parking lot.

Merchants are still giving 'lucky' tickets with each $5 purchase. Winners will be named in three drawings Saturday at 2 p.m., 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. At each of these hours, a $100 gift certificate will be given to the lucky ticket holder who is present to claim his prize.

Bizzell's diamond ring has not yet been drawn. Tickets are given for this drawing with each $10 purchase. This, also, will be an in-store drawing.

Registrations are still be accepted at the Enterprise Studio for the valuable gold leaf picture frame offered as a holiday gift by that firm. Tickets for this drawing are being offered with each $5 purchase.

Shopping at home among friends is always an enjoyable and profitable experience. It is made even more attractive during the holiday season by these added inducements offered by local merchants.

Young Farmers Donate $400 To 'Jaws' Fund

Olton Chapter of Young Farmers of America recently made a $400 donation toward the purchase of "Jaws of Life" to be added to the rescue equipment of the city's volunteer fire department.

Steve Kennedy, treasurer of YFA made the presentation Wednesday to Mayor K.Y. Givens.

Kennedy and Billy Carson, president of the organization, expressed appreciation for the support given recently to the turkey shoot sponsored as a money raising project.

They also announce Steve Graham as winner of the shotgun given to the lucky ticket holder during that fund drive.

Area Cotton Harvest Gets Underway Again

Halted for almost four weeks, the area cotton harvest was resumed this week under sunny skies and more favorable weather conditions.

Unseasonable snows began falling Nov. 15 and a repeat performance one week later was followed by rain squalls leaving harried farmers walking the floor and "wishing for west winds".

Gins of the area were able to haul most of the existing modules of pulled cotton during early hours when ground was frozen, and processing of that portion of the cotton crop continued.

Olton Coop Gin reports they were able to haul all but four such modules to the gin for processing, these four they hope to be able to bring in within a few days.

Meanwhile, favorable weather conditions for the past ten days has dried the sandier soils enough to support the heavy harvesting equipment. Freshly pulled cotton has been brought in from east of the city, southeast and south, with a few farmers to the west beginning to harvest.

Growers to the north and northeast, however, received heavier falls of moisture and report fields are still 'boggy'.

Bill Smith, manager of the Coop Gin, states that the fiber is ginning well..."the cotton is dry, it is only the ground that is still wet."

He estimates the harvest to be 55 to 60 percent complete, but states that even if good weather continues..."we'll be ginning until January."

Olton School Personnel Attend State ATPE Convention In Austin

Five educators from Olton I.S.D. attended the state convention of the Association of Texas Professional Educators in Austin recently.

A full day of in-service programs was provided Friday, Dec. 12 ranging in scope from a workshop entitled, "My Students Can't Read; What Can I do?" to a session on practical help for teachers who have gifted students in their classes.

Dr. Willis Tate, president emeritus of Southern Methodist University and currently the chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Public Education, delivered the keynote address to more than 800 delegates from across the state.

In his remarks Dr. Tate emphasized the need for the return to more local control of public education in Texas. He also called for an end to social promotion but pointed out that if this practice is terminated then the remedial program will have to be expanded.

Beverly Joyce Bimes, who was selected National Teacher of the Year in a program sponsored by Encyclopedia Britannica, Good Housekeeping Magazine, and the Council of Chief State School Officers, presented workshops on dealing with stress as it relates to the teaching profession. Bimes is a high school English teacher from St. Louis, Mo.

Other highlights of the two-day meeting included the election of new state officers and the discussion of legislative goals pertinent to education.

ATPE represents nearly 30,000 educators and is led by President Alafair Hammett. Hammett, who teaches junior high math in Santa Rosa, Tx., began her thirtieth year in the classroom this fall.

Delegates who attended from Olton were Keith Cameron, Gayle Allcorn, Bobbie Hutson, Teresa Akin and Mrs. Edna Price.

'Farm Sale' In Offing If Enough Interest Shown

Olton Chapter of Young Farmers of America is considering sponsoring a "Farm Sale" if sufficient interest is indicated by the general public.

Persons wishing to sell one or more items should contact Billy Carson, YFA president, either for listing the articles or for inquiry.

Should the organization find it advisable to promote such an auction sale, they plan to exact a portion of the usual commission as payment for organizing and conducting the sale.

The sale would be area-wide in scope and could be of great benefit to individuals who have only a few items to offer for sale.

Newspapers Mailed Early; Office To Be Closed

Next week's paper will be mailed the day before Christmas, and dated December 25 even though it will be the issue that would normally come out Saturday, Dec. 27.

Also, the following week, the paper will be mailed the day before New Year's Day. It will be the issue regularly scheduled for delivery Saturday, Jan. 3.

The Wisdom of Big Brother VI

Representative Gene Snyder of Kentucky recently came up with some very interesting statistics. From 1973 to 1977, there was 339 drug discoveries worldwide. Seventy-four of those drugs were discovered in this country, but all but 18 of them were put to use in other countries before being approved here. Thus, while the U.S. ranks first in discoveries worldwide, thanks to the FDA, we are only ninth in overall speed in putting them to use saving lives.

A typical example: In the 1950's, a medical miracle was discovered in the form of a body glue, which, when applied as a fine mist, could stop bleeding from open wounds and glue human tissues together. The process was used extensively in Vietnam where it saved hundreds of lives, and it held great promise as a future cure for internal bleeding, ulcers and strokes.

But today, 25 years later, Rep. Snyder notes the companies have finally given up trying to gain FDA approval of their body glue. So instead of marketing it as a miraculous medical tool, they are now selling it in discount stores - as a general purpose household glue.

How Fast Do Your Nails Grow?

Now before you start thinking the FDA has just been sitting on its hands all these years, doing nothing to protect the public, let me set the record straight. As it turns out, for the past five years, the agency has been conducting some very intensive research of its own - on nail biting and thumb sucking. So intensive, in fact, that now the FDA has become knowledgeable enough to: alert us that nails normally grow at the rate of 0.1 millimeter daily, and that for those who bite their nails the rate is double; inform us that nail biting occurs in 45 percent of preadolescent children, 25 percent of college students and 10 percent of adults; warn us that nail biting is sometimes a matter of discontent, pressure, or maladjustment, and most often occurs "in a stressful situation," and, finally, reassure us that thumb sucking, "usually stops spontaneously at about age four."

Feel better now?

How Fast Do You Read?

The U.S. Chamber has a federal spending clock in its lobby so visiting taxpayers can see how fast the government is spending their money. Currently, the second hand must tick off over a million dollars a minute just to keep pace with the federal budget.

Senator Gordon Humphrey of New Hampshire recently devised another means of describing Uncle Sam's austerity in action. It goes like this:

If you are a person at least 21 years of age, with average reading skills, earning approximately the median income (about $13,000 a year), and planning to work till the age of 65, then by the time you have finished reading the rest of this sentence, the federal government will have already spent more money than you could make at your present salary for the rest of your working life.

Homemade Work Is Against The Law

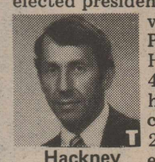

Mrs. Duffany is a nice woman who stays home and makes ski hats, which she then sells to CB Sports, Inc., in Bennington, Vermont. She makes these hats to supplement her husband's Social Security. She makes them at home because she is an invalid.

The Department of Labor showed no compassion when it recently tried to take Mrs. Duffany's job away. The Labor Department did this when it sued CB Sports for violating the Fair Labor Standards Act by letting employees work at home. This Act, in case you've forgotten, was designed to stop "sweat shop" abuse in large cities by requiring all work be done in a regulated factory environment. As to whether Mrs. Duffany, who considers herself self-employed, cares to be protected in such a manner, the assistant administrator of DoL's wage and hour division, Herbert Cohen, replied: "(The Department) doesn't work to let workers decide if they need protecting."

Don't Kill The Golden Goose

"Two economists at Texas A&M have been using laboratory rats for experiments in economic behavior. And what do you know - even rats respond to the rules of the free market. For instance, in controlled experiments, the rats decide how much to work at various pay scales, and take more time off when wages are high. They also make consumption decisions that depend on their income and on commodity prices. All of this is flawless free-market behavior. But when the researchers simulated government meddling, with 'welfare' payments to the rats, their behavior become erratic and inequality of income increased - precisely the opposite of socialist theory. We'll bet this is the first time the socialists have refused to believe findings based on laboratory rats."

Everything But The Kitchen Sink!

By Mozelle Trotter

A legend in his time, Kentucky Colonel Harland Sanders died this week and Kentuckians were joined by people across the land in paying tribute to the stately white-haired gentleman.

Colonel Sanders - his title is honorary - has become such a legend that the mere mention of the words "fried chicken" can bring his image to mind for millions.

Most people are also aware that Sanders was a self-made man who turned his own recipe for fried chicken into an empire that stretched to 48 countries with some 6,000 restaurants offering the delectable "fast food."

Particularly memorable to yours truly - and family - is the very first "Kentucky Fried Chicken" I ever ate, at the very first franchise which launched the Southern gentleman.

Fishing has never been my "cup of tea" although I have been a good sport and gone along with my crowd at times. It's been so long ago, I can't remember the exact year, yours truly and family made a vacation-fishing trip to Ocean Lake, Wy.

Our crowd included the Better Half, myself, Number One Son and Little One (perhaps five and three years old which would date this experience to 1955) and "Pappy" (my dad, Ezra Whittington).

Perhaps I really was the good sport I thought I was because after five or six days of "fun" at the isolated fishing camp (no modern conveniences and fish three times a day for eats), I was offered my "reward."

Our return home, if I desired (and I desired!) would be a sight-seeing route by Salt Lake City. Fantastic! The evening we arrived there is my fried chicken memory day.

Looking for a place to have supper, we spied a busy restaurant whose sign proclaimed "Kentucky Fried Chicken" and nothing sounded tastier after my dreary week of fish, fish, fish.

It wasn't the fast food restaurant which later marked Harland Sanders' chicken. We placed our order and waited while the luscious stuff was cooked! Never has there been a more tasty morsel than that supper of white meat chicken and palate-pleasing hot rolls.

Of course, it wasn't until he was a well-proclaimed success that I learned that that busy restaurant was the first to sell the Colonel's chicken. I'll never forget it.

ENTERTAINING IDEAS

HOW TO MAKE A POPCORN WREATH

Your family probably eats plenty of popcorn all year 'round because it's so good tasting and provides an inexpensive snack. Holiday time offers an extra dimension to corn popping; everybody can make a popcorn sculpture. Here's a chance for a great neighborhood party. Just buy plenty of that pop-in-the-package popcorn and three or four friends can be popping corn at the same time. Below are the directions for a popcorn wreath which hangs prettily on door or mantle.

JIFFY POP® DELLA-ROBBIA WREATH

1 bag (3 oz.) spearmint gumdrop leaves
1 bag (3 oz.) French Burnt peanuts
1 package (5 oz.) Jiffy Pop® Popcorn
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/2 cup water
1/4 cup butter or margarine

Extras needed: one 9" tube cake pan, Christmas ribbons for bows.

Prepare popcorn according to package directions. Place popcorn in large pan or bowl. Heat sugar, corn syrup, and water in saucepan to 250°-260° (120° C) or until a drop of syrup in cold water forms a hard ball. Remove from heat and stir in the butter. Pour over the popcorn and mix thoroughly with a large spoon.

Grease inside of tube cake pan thoroughly. Grease hands, also. Working quickly pack the popcorn lightly into form. Allow to sit for 15 minutes. Remove the popcorn "wreath" from form and place on plate or tray. Decorate with spearmint leaves and berrie-shaped French Burnt Peanuts. Add ribbon bow. Hang on door or mantle.

Pepper is the most important commercial spice and accounts for over 60 percent of the volume of the spice trade.

MELODY AYERS

Oltonite's Granddaughter Is Miss Teen-Ager Finalist

An Olton man's granddaughter, Melody Ayers of Anderson, Mo., will be competing in the Miss Teen-Ager Pageant next May on the campus of Stephens College in Columbia, Mo.

Fifteen years old, the young pageant finalist is the granddaughter of L.B. "Les" Kennedy and the late Mrs. Kennedy. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ayers of Anderson.

Theme of the state pageant is "What's Right About America". Each contestant is required to write a 100-word essay. Contestants will be graded on their essays, academic achievements, poise and personality. State winners will go on to competition in the National Miss Teen-Ager Pageant.

Miss Ayers is a member of her high school drill team, the Scarlet Spurs. She is treasurer of McDonald County High School's Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Questions Asked About Eyes

Q. I dread trying to select a new eyeglass frame since I cannot see how I look with my eyeglasses off. Is there anything new that can help this?

A Yes, there is. Many have this same problem and up to now there has not been a satisfactory solution. Mirrors that magnify help a little for some. Clip-on lenses which approximate the patients prescription have been tried, but this only distracts from the new frame.

In our office, we have solved the problem by using closed circuit television...one of those electronic wonders.

Q How does it work?

A The patient tries on a new style of frame and a TV camera records their picture in a closeup shot on video tape. Several different styles of frames may be tried on and recorded in full color. The patient then puts their old eyeglasses on and the video tape is played back instantly on a TV monitor where the patient can see themselves and make a selection best suited to their facial characteristics and needs.

Q That sounds good....how successful has it been?

A We have had it only a few months, but so far it has been very successful and our patients have been very enthusiastic about it.

Q Is it true that some frames look good on some faces and the same frame is not flattering at all to another facial type?

A Yes. This is why we have so many styles of frames from which to choose. Our frame stylists as well as to our patients. They can literally demonstrate to the patient which frame looks the best and why.

Q Do other offices have the closed circuit TV in their dispensing area?

A To our knowledge, there is only one other office in this area which has closed circuit TV. Eventually many more will be installed, but right now it is a new idea.

THEN and NOW!

THEN: Holly Hobbie was a gifted young artist, married and with one child (now there are three) whose friends and family were blessed on birthdays and holidays by receiving greetings from her in the form of watercolors and drawings of delightful charm. One friend suggested she pack off a portfolio to a greeting card company just for fun. American Greetings Corp., which rarely accepts unsolicited artwork, decided to buy her designs and see what would happen. The first Holly Hobbie cards were marketed on a limited experimental basis. They caught on.

NOW: Holly Hobbie still favors friends and family with her drawings, and yet her art has made her name a household word around the world. One of Holly's most familiar designs, the one that has become virtually an emblem of her work, is the Blue Girl, the standing figure of a serene, young girl in profile whose face is concealed by a fancifully large calico bonnet. Her blue bonnet and highlaced shoes, her patchwork apron and the bouquet of wild flowers in her hands, are evocative of a time whose simplicity and repose seem rare today. Holly's designs, a mainstay of American Greetings' card business, has been adapted to numerous products ranging from dolls and toys and garments for children to sheets and wallpaper and items for collectors of

Weight Control News

A lot of people on diets just give up the whole enjoyable aspect of dining out, and that's a shame because a little common sense can keep you on the straight and slim.

All you have to do is alter a little of your thinking and a lot of your intake. It isn't that hard. Take a good hard look at how you feel, what you order, and be honest about your bad eating habits when dining. Then you can find ways of replacing them with good habits.

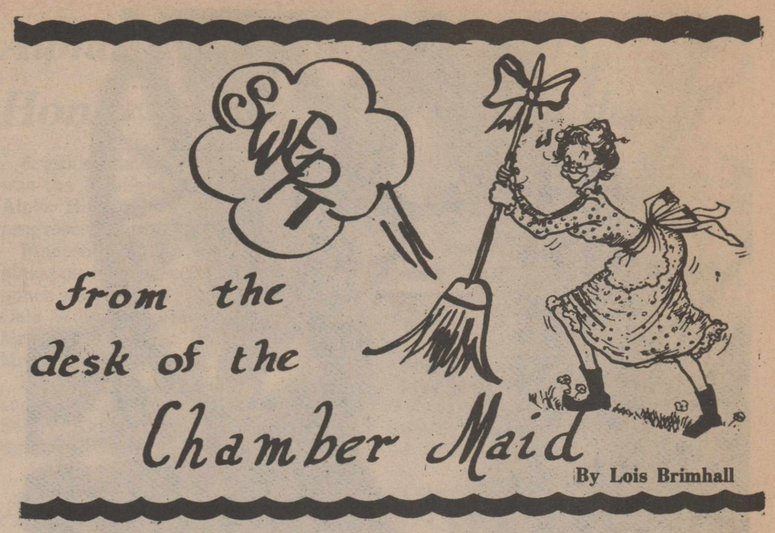

If a restaurant is known for its "magnificent, splendiferous desserts" and they are a pitfall for you, then don't go. Particularly if that's about all the place is famous for. Choose a restaurant with a variety of cooking where you can be sure of a choice of at least one or two broiled entrees. Stay away from the fried foods.

Don't rush into the meal. Relax. Have a vegetable or fruit juice cocktail or a non-caloric drink. If you want something alcoholic, try a wine and club soda, or fool yourself and have a club soda with a dash of bitters and a twist of lemon.

Tell the waiter to skip the bread and butter because you know it won't skip you if it's on the table. When you're ready to order try not opening the menu. Ask the waiter to suggest a good broiled fish, chicken, or meat entree. Substitute a vegetable or salad for rice, potatoes or pasta. If you've just got to have a starch (and why not occasionally), don't load it with butter or sour cream or fancy sauces. That's where the calories really come into your diet.

Take small bites. That doesn't make you dainty, just civilized. And chew your food well. Skip dessert or have a simple fresh fruit. Actually it's one of the most elegant of desserts.

Another means of helping you resist the heavy calories is a product called Dietac. It's a safe and very effective appetite suppressant that can help make dining out a lot easier and a whole lot more enjoyable.

Nominations are starting to trickle in for the citizens we wish to honor at this year's Chamber of Commerce banquet. I know everyone is busy this holiday season but at least clip out the ballot you will find in this week's paper and save it until after Christmas - then send (or bring) it to the Chamber office. If I am not in the office, there is a box on my desk where the nomination may be deposited. In the meantime, be thinking of who you think would be most deserving of this honor.

There are many outstanding citizens in Olton who give generously of their time and labor to make this a better community in which to live and work and it is always a difficult choice for the selection committee to choose the one person to receive this honor. This is where you can be a great help.

If all you want to do is fill out the nominating ballot with the names of the people you wish to nominate that will be just fine and a help to the selection committee. If you wish to take a little more time and, on a separate sheet of paper, mention your reasons for nominating this person, it will be an even bigger help. Maybe you don't know all the good things your nominee has done for the community but perhaps someone else will be able to tell the things you don't know about and the selection committee will be able to add it all together.

The person we are looking for as Man or Woman of the Year may be someone who has done a series of small thoughtful things for the Community over a number of years or maybe someone who has, in the past year, done an outstanding job of service to the community. Either type of service is deserving of recognition.

This year, as a new feature, we honoring the farm family rather than farmer of the year. We are looking for the type family that exemplifies the basic rural values that are the backbone of our country. Since farming is an occupation that usually involves all members of the family, we want to give recognition to the entire family.

I would like to wish each and every one a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year. You all have been good to me and I consider everyone in Olton my friend. I have really enjoyed being Chamber of Commerce manager this past year and look foreward to many more years of being your "Chambermaid".

INSUR-MATION

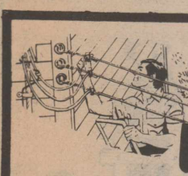

Our five-year old son warns us to expect a great deal of stress on the roof and through the chimney. He is certain our roof will be required to support numerous reindeer hoofs and sleigh runners plus a rather large man climbing around and down our chimney late December 24th. Are protected in case of problems?
Yes, I believe our homeowner policy has a special "Claus" for this sort of emergency even though we have never had a claim filed. As a matter of record, every time the above incident occurs, we have found the household involved actually receives a premium (rather than a loss) in the form of brightly wrapped packages, stuffed animals, etc. From all of us, to all of you, we certainly hope this rooftop incident will insure you a VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS!
