Tragedy Stalks Smith Reunion

THREE MEMBERS OF FAMILY DROWNED IN TANK

(Special To The Journal)

SPUR, Aug. 7.—Tragedy transformed the happiness of reunion of the C. J. Smith family, among the oldest pioneers of this section of West Texas, into a funeral dirge today as the score of relatives unite around the biers of a trio whose lives were claimed by watery graves late Tuesday.

Herman McBroom, 12, his father, Escell McBroom, 36, of Brownfield, and McBroom's brother-in-law, Henry Smith, 32, of Lamesa, were drowned in a tank on the S. M. Swenson properties, 25 miles southwest of here, while an attempt was being made to save the life of the lad who had waded into water over his head.

Funerals Today

Funeral services will be held in this city this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of C. J. Smith, father of Henry Smith. The three will be buried side by side in the Spur cemetery.

The father lost his life in attempting to save that of his son and Smith in turn died in an effort to prevent his brother-in-law's death.

Planned Final Celebration

The tragedy occurred at a fishing party and picnic planned by the men attending the reunion. Gathered here from various parts of the state 22 members of the family were planning final celebration before leaving today for their homes.

While on the trip, the boy Herman, wading in the shallow water on the opposite side of the tank, suddenly stepped into water over his head. His piercing screams as he sank beneath the surface of the water, caused his father to dash in with all his clothing on. The lad was never seen again alive after going down for the first time.

The father was sinking when he was reached by McBroom. The two men, holding one another in a vice-like death clinch, floundered helplessly for a short while in the deep water, then sank for the third and final time, before Will and J. R. Smith, brothers of Henry ,and E. B. George, , a brother-in-law, could reach them. One other man in the party, C. J. Smith, 55, in whose honor the reunion was held, helplessly looked on from the bank as

MEXICAN SENORITAS RESOLVE TO "DRESS LIKE CIVILIZED HUMANS"

(By Associated Press)

LEON, Guanajuato, Mexico, Aug. 7.—Two hundred senoritas held a mass-meeting here to protest against use of lipstick, rouge, short skirts and bobbed hair by the girls of Mexico City, and resolved to issue a proclamation to the nation calling upon girls to "have decorum and honor the memory of their ancestors" to "oblige the flappers of the capital to act and dress like civilized human beings."

The senoritas of Leon recently agreed to abandon bobbed hair and not wear short skirts, whereupon Mexico City girls, in interviews published in one of the leading newspapers, termed the attitude of the "provincialities" ridiculous. One girl went so far as to say that the Leon senoritas "are ugly."

These interviews prompted the mass meeting here, at which speakers asserted that the metropolitan girls "paint their lips like circus clowns" and "have their hair shorn because they like the barber to tickle their faces."

Another speaker charged the Mexico City girls with "imitating the inspired Yankees" and "forgetting modesty to follow the styles of New York."

peared in an automobile, and efforts to pick up their trail were unsuccessful.

The Martin Dry Goods company building was broken into but nothing was stolen. Small change of undetermined amount, a goodly supply of gasoline and oil were stolen at the Motor Inn service station. A door to the building of Snodgrass Chevrolet company was torn and entrance was affected, but nothing was missing at this location today.

Lubbock officers were notified of the series of robberies early today and a close lockout has been kept on roads in this county. Floydada officers expressed belief that the robbers passed through Lubbock following depredations in that city.

fused to show his credentials following the boarding and searching of their boat. Mrs. Heath appeared before customs officials and gave her version of the affair. She told Mr. Frederick that her husband had communicated with her and expressed fear he might meet with violence if he appeared for questioning.

The official version of the affair was that Sandlands and Milton Larson, customs border patrol inspector, seized the cruiser early Saturday and that the latter went to report the seizure, leaving Sandlands to guard the boat and its occupants. When Larson returned Sandlands, the Heaths, and the cruiser were missing.

As Yoakum county has no county agricultural agent, Terry county agent, Roy B. Davis, has been giving assistance to farmers of this newly-recognized agricultural area. He spoke of insect control, deep plowing experiments made in Terry and Gaines counties, and other problems of the section.

Prof. Bower's address was on the subject of soils and soil conservation, while Eaton spoke on the topic of poultry and livestock. R. J. Powell told the gathering of how to get their farms rid of prairie dogs, which work he is engaged in, stating that their county was scheduled for definite attention by the U. S. Biological survey during next December.

Engineer Aboard

C. P. Burgess, a civilian engineer attached to the navy, will be a passenger as far as Friedrichshafen.

Other Americans who will leave the airship at Friedrichshafen are Nathan Wexler and William Weber of New York, John E. Larney of Brooklyn, and Shumofsky of New Rochelle, N. Y.

The passenger list of 18 includes several Germans who arrived on the Graf on her flight from Germany.

Hans Von Schiller, one of the pilots of the Graf, said he expected the airship would reach Friedrichshafen early Sunday. The ship will be grounded there for four or five days then set out for Tokyo and to Los Angeles. The trip eastward across the United States is estimated to consume two or three days, which will bring the airship to her starting place here about September 3.

Miss Mary Eleanor Quick, Richard S. Pence To Be Married In California

Miss Mary Eleanor Quick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Quick, 1401 Main street, is to be married to Richard Sherman Pence, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Pence, 2213 15th street, on August 18 at Redondo, Calif., according to announcement made yesterday afternoon at a tea given by Mrs. Quick and Mrs. Pence in the home of the latter.

The wedding is to be in the home of the groom's aunt, Mrs. Sam Wright, and after a short honeymoon, the young couple will be at home in Los Angeles where the groom is with Swift and Company. He was in Lubbock until last January.

Guests called at the Pence home in three groups yesterday and received the announcement in a unique way. Doors into a room adjoining the living room were thrown back to reveal Martha and Roger Kuykendall dressed as bride and groob, standing before a bank of flowers and greenery. Above the children there was a placard announcing the Pence-Quick nuptials.

A program was given, consisting of readings by Miss Tommie Jo Pence, vocal solos by Mrs. Carl Scoggin and a violin solo by Miss Margaret Halsell. Mrs. Mamie I. Neal accompanied Mrs. Scoggin and Miss Halsell.

Result of Poaching

George J. Mintzer, an assistant U. S. attorney said that the warfare which broke out in Chicago last Sunday and resulted in the killing of one Chinese there, two in Boston, one in Newark, N. J. and one here, was the result of poaching on commercial territory claimed by each of the rival tongs.

The peace conference was held in the office of Sameul S. Young, Chinese consul general in New York who cooperated with Mr. Tuttle in the negotiations.

ONE MORE SHOT IN CHICAGO TONG BREAK

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. (AP)—Just as the troubled air of tong warfare was being cleared with news of peace negotiations in New York, a shot rang out in Chicago's Chinatown last night and Joe Wai a Hip Sing tongman, fell seriously wounded.

The usual Oriental methods employed by tong gunmen were discarded by Wai's assailants in favor of the typical system of the Chicago gangster. Wai was "put on the spot." by a supposed friend who led him into the hands of three enemy tongmen. He was forced to accompany them to an alley then shot in the back.

Chin Jin, member of the On Leong tong, was named by Wai as the man who shot him and was being sought by police.

SNOOK TRIAL

Wife and Mother Testify

He went to the witness chair after his wife, Mrs. Helen M. Snook, and his 67-year-old mother, Mrs. Abner Snook, had faced the crowded court room to tell their belief that in the last few years Dr. Snook had changed.

Both women kissed him before they took the stand and his wife remained at the defense table until he started to testify. Then she left.

The wife who refused to desert him after he was arrested for the killing of "the other woman," testified that she had no knowledge of the affair between her husband and the girl.

Displayed Unrest

Both the wife and mother testified that recently Dr. Snook had displayed a mental unrest that had been in contrast to the calm and placid disposition that had been his before he met Miss Hix.

Dr. Snook did not recall how he was introduced to Miss Hix.

"I frequently had conversations with her at certain times of the day when I had to go to her office to have some stenographic work done. At first we talked about how she happened to come to the veterinary building to work. She said she did not have enough money for her school work and consequently was forced to accept employment part of the time.

Affairs Discussed

"In general our conversation was discussion of her affairs. She spoke of being left alone then (during the summer of 1928). I... of the students had gone away and she mentioned that her "boy friend" had gone also. She did not speak much about her "boy friend" at that time (later Dr. Snook learned that friend was Marion T. Meyers, who was employed in the horticultural department at the university.)

"During the first two weeks of our acquaintance we talked about companionate marriages. She said she thought companionate marriage was allright "but when you lost your companion, it wasn't."

Dr. Snook said that after the first automobile ride he proposed to drive the girl out a country road and she agreed.

"On the way back some remark was made about my being married," Dr. Snook said, "and she got out of the car four blocks from where she ...

He said he talked to her at intervals during the next four or five weeks and shortly after they began discussing books on sex and three or four weeks after, their intimate relations began.

Dr. Snook said Miss Hix ... asked his advice about personal matters. During the summer of 1928, he said he taught her to shoot and gave her the gun he later claimed he thought she had with her the night she was slain.

and the injury of 18 other persons in Louisiana, about eight miles from Orange, Texas yesterday.

The bus overturned, killing Barbara Jean Carter, 3, and her brother, James, age 3 months. The mother, Mrs. Dan Carter of Port Arthur, Miss O. Mignon of Orange and Henry Mettacher, New Orleans, were injured seriously.

PRATT, Kas. Aug. 7. (AP)—Donald Phillips, 20, was killed and his 19-year-old bride of a few days, the former Frances Goodman of Lone Jack, Mo., was perhaps fatally injured late last night in a motor car accident which occurred when the couple attempted to elude a charivari party here.

Driving away from the home of his father, S. F. Phillips, wealthy farmer, where a noisy party of friends had gathered, Phillip's car struck another driven by Herschel Green, 15, son of a Byers, Kas. banker. Both cars overturned and that of Green caught fire. After rescuing three girls who were in his own automobile, Green pulled Mrs. Phillips from the wreckage but Phillips, pinned underneath, died almost instantly.

Later Green collapsed and his condition was reported serious at a hospital.

CAMPBELLSVILLE, Ky., Aug. 7. (AP)—A rebuilt plane piloted by a youthful unlicensed student pilot and powered with a motor of a type declared obsolete by the war department fell into an alley in the center of the town late yesterday, and the pilot and his two passengers met death as the wreckage was consumed by flames.

Hundreds of persons saw the plane go into a spin at an altitude of about 500 feet and careen to the earth, but were helpless to rescue the three from the flames.

The pilot was Francis Mitchell, 25, of Louisville, and his passengers Carl E. Carter 23, drug store owner, and Flave Courts, 23, a clerk in the store.

CLINTON, Ia., Aug. 7. (AP)—Tom Mulholland only merchant at Malone, near here, was shot and killed and Robert Vale was seriously wounded today by Ed Crampton, who then killed himself. Vale, Crampton's brother-in-law, is not expected to live.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 7. (AP)—Each shot through the right temple, Belmont Pugh, 36, night lieutenant of police in Wilkinsburg, a suburb, and Miss Louise Stine, 28, were found dead in the woman's apartment early today.

Police were unable to decide if it was a case of double murder or murder and suicide.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7. (AP)—Two men were slain here last night, one at the door of a hospital and the other on a street in the east end district. Police described the slayings as "mob killings" believing they may have resulted from a continuation of gang fighting.

One of the victims was Steve Monastero, alleged racketeer, and the other was Tony Lilo.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 7 (AP)—Two dead, one dangerously injured and fifty workmen momentarily stunned was the toll of an electrical storm north of Oscola yesterday.

Miss Mildred Blanchard was killed when lightning struck her home near Deepwater. Other members of the family were uninjured.

Paul Maloy, of Vista, was killed and 50 workmen were stunned when lightning hit a camp of oil pipe line workers ten miles from Deepwater. One of the injured was removed to a hospital.

PRINCETON'S OLDEST GRAD IS ONLY LIVING SIGNER OF TEXAS LAW CODE

HUNTSVILLE, Aug 6 (AP)—The oldest living graduate of Princeton university also is the sole surviving signer of the present Texas constitution, drawn up in 1875.

He is Judge Andrew Todd McKinney, husky at 91, Huntsville's most eminent retired citizen. His half century of legal and educational leadership in Texas covers several pages in the state's history.

Historic Nassau hall at Princeton claims Judge McKinney as its oldest living resident. He stayed there two years prior to his graduation in 1858. Transferring to Princeton as a junior from Austin college, then at Huntsville, he became editor of the Nassau literary magazine in April, 1858.

For years they called Judge McKinney dean of the Texas legislature. From 1883 to 1911, he saw 16 years of service in the house of representatives. He also was a district court judge. A native of Illinois, he studied law in Tennessee, fought in the confederate army under General Lee, only to be disabled in 1863. For two years he taught at the University of Texas, and later was on the school's board of regents.

His father, the Rev. Samuel McKinney, once was president of Austin college. One of his sons, Sam, now is Huntsville's mayor.

Forest Fires Face Defeat In Northwest

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 7. (AP)—The fire demon which for two weeks had resisted an army of fighters in the northwest seemed to be facing defeat today on fronts that extended through parts of three states.

After having ravaged thousands of acres in Montana, Idaho, and Washington, several hundred fires in the national forests of those states were being subrued by a combination of weather and efforts of forest department crews, timber protective association men and volunteers.

While the total area of these fires was unknown, reports indicated that it would be considerably more than 35,000 acres, with losses running into millions of dollars.

the prison coal mine. The first of approximately 400 convicts to reach the surface, they produced pistols that presumably had been smuggled in to them and captured four unarmed guards and four other prisoners whom they used as a shield against bullets to gain a gate in the prison wall. The convicts forced the gate and emerged in the open to be met with a fusilade of shots from a sentry on the outside guard line.

Using the guards and prisoners as a shield they passed the sentry and after gaining the shelter of a small ravine a quarter of a mile from the prison, released their prisoners. Meantime an alarm had been sounded at the prison and Deputy Warden Hudspeth and Assistant Day Captain Arthur Graham organized the prison guards for pursuit.

Hudspeth, Graham and several Lansing merchants armed with shotguns came upon the convict party on the Leavenworth-Victory Junction highway a half mile north of Lansing, and shot it out.

ACTION ON BOLTERS IS UNDECIDED

STATE DEMOCRATS NOT TO ESTABLISH OFFICE NOW

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 7—Judge D. W. Wilcox of Georgetown, chairman of the democratic state executive committee for the present at least knows of no action to be taken against party bolters, Albert Sidney Johnson, committee secretary, said here today on his return from a conference with Judge Wilcox in Austin.

The Austin conference developed that the party will not establish a permanent state headquarters for some time Johnson revealed.

The secretary explained that Mr. Wilcox feared that establishment of a permanent headquarters at present would interfere with the primary elections.

NEED SEEN FOR TREATY

SPEAKER ADVOCATES U. S.-CANADIAN PEACE PACT

(By Associated Press)

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 7—The need of a separate arbitration treaty between the United States and Canada, in addition to the Kellogg pact, was urged today by Dean P. E. Corbett of McGill University, international relations expert.

Speaking before the Canadian American relations round table of the institute of politics, Dean Corbett said, "there should be a simple, frank treaty between the United States and Canada which will carry disputes between the two nations to arbitration.

"There is a sense of anxiety in Canada, especially among business men whose interests are divided between the two countries, because there are many gaps in the treaties which now exist between the United States and Canada.

There are times, said Dean Corbett, when in Canada there is much animosity against the United States and in such times a treaty between the two countries would safeguard the feelings of the people.

Lubbock Brick Mason Says He Feels Better Than In the Past 20 Years Since Taking Orgatone

Yes, sir, I would go before a notary any time and testify to the wonderful benefits I have received from Orgatone," said James E. Riddle of 1620 Fifteenth street, Lubbock, Texas. Mr. Riddle is one of the best known stone cutters and brick mason in this section.

"My health has been badly broken up for the past 20 years," Mr. Riddle continued. "I was in a general run-down condition and suffered from some ailments or other all the time. I had headaches continually, my stomach was out of order and I was nervous, weak and dizzy. Sometimes I was bothered with indigestion, so bad, that I could hardly stand it. Gas formed on my stomach and pained me so bad that I felt that I would die. I had awful pains in my sides and back and was so nervous I just couldn't get a good night's rest.

"I reckon I took 50 different kinds of medicines trying to get relief, but nothing did me any good and no one can realize what terrible feelings I had unless they had the same troubles. I read an advertisement for Orgatone and a friend advised me to try it and I am certainly very grateful for the results I have received. I feel better than I have for the past 20 years and am enjoying about as good health as anybody. My suffering is gone, my appetite is splendid, and my stomach trouble seems to be a thing of the past. Before taking Orgatone I wasn't able to work but two or three days a week but now I work every day and feel fine. Things are quite different with me now, and I feel that I wouldn't be doing the right thing not to tell others about the medicine I have reaped so much benefit from."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowens Drug Store, who are direct laboratory agents.—Adv.

AL WILLIAMS, NAVY SPEED FLIER, TO CARRY COLORS OF UNITED STATES IN INTERNATIONAL SEAPLANE CUP RACE

BY ALLEN QUINN
Associated Press Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Whether the United States will have an entrant in the International Schneider seaplane trophy race in England will be determined largely within the next few days at Annapolis, Md., in tests by Lieut. Al Williams, navy speed flier, of his little Mercury racer.

The plane is known to have a speed of more than 300 miles an hour, but just how much more will be ascertained in the tests. It has been indicated Williams will not take the ship abroad unless it can exceed substantially the present world's record of 318 miles and hour.

Has Packard Engine

The tiny blue racer is a middle wing monoplane of 26 1-2 feet wing spread. It is powered with a Packard 24 cylinder "X" engine which develops in excess of 1,100 horsepower.

The twin floats of the seaplane have been utilized as radiators to cool the engine while it is taxing on the water.

The Packard "X" engine has undergone radical changes to reduce the frontal area and make it more efficient. It has four carburetors and four intake manifolds, 48 spark plugs and four distributors.

Fuselage, wings and tail members are constructed of wood, and the control surfaces are of metal. The plane weighs approximately 4,400 pounds, and each square foot of its wing area will support about 36 pounds of weight when in flight.

Lieutenant Williams plans to take the tiny plane into the air this week for a few minutes to see how it performs, and later give it a high speed test over a measured course. If the performance is satisfactory, Williams will take the plane to England for the Schneider races at Cowes, Isle of Wight, September 6 and 7.

"Old Soak's" Rule As Head Man In Danger

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. (AP)—"Old Soak," Secretary's Stimson's parrot, must look to his laurels as the first parrot of the land.

A rival as the most interesting bird in America, a very rare imperial parrot, presented itself today in custody of Dr. W. M. Mann, director of the U. S. Zoological park.

While "Old Soak" can speak for himself, the rival has the honor of being the largest of all parrots and the second of its kind ever to come to America.

The imperial was secured in the West Indies, on the Isle of Dominica, by Stephen Hawes, amateur naturalist and former companion of Dr. Mann on African hunting expeditions.

Cinderella

and the Three proud cigarette brands

A Modern Fable

Once upon a time a Mighty Prince set forth to find a perfect cigarette. Being very wise, he netted down his search to the four National favorites . . . that quartette of popular sister brands known as the "20 for 15c" family.

The three elder cigarette brands rushed forward to meet the Prince with all the proud pomp in the world . . . each vying with the other in urging her charms upon him.

"Smoke me!" said the eldest, "I am the class of the field."

"Smoke me!" said the second, "for I am beyond compare."

"Smoke me!" said the third, "all the world acknowledges me to be the best."

Then, from the background, the youngest brand . . . the Cinderella of the family . . . quietly spoke up. "If you please, Sire," she suggested, "why not smoke all four of us . . . and compare us fairly and impartially, letting your taste decide which one of us you like best?"

"Why, that's a common sense idea!" exclaimed His Highness. Whereupon he covered the names of all four brands with paper masks; lit them and smoked them reflectively, with all brand prejudice removed.

One cigarette seemed to capture his fancy, far and beyond the others. "I don't know which cigarette this is," he declared, "but, unquestionably, it is the cigarette for me."

Whereupon he removed the mask and found it to be . . . Well, Cinderella is the "story-book" name but in America today that winning brand is known as OLD GOLD.

MORAL: It is easy to make big claims, but you can't smoke claims. The only sound way to discover the cigarette you like best is to let your taste decide.

FORT WORTH CATS BACK IN RACE FOR TEXAS LOOP LEADERSHIP

ATTORNEY-GENERAL ORDERS FIGHT LAW ENFORCED

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

Failure of Alex McColl to appear on the scene lost another ball game for the Lubbock Hubbers Sunday at Lamesa. The big righthander had told Manager Wilson that he would be on hand for the tussle with the Loboes and no attempt was made to gain the services of another chunker. When McColl failed to make his appearance Red Gaither, an infielder, was pressed into service on the mound. Raymond Ater, shortstop, followed Gaither.

Infielders are not supposed to win ball games as pitchers and so long as this proceedure is followed, the Hubbers are not likely to add to their win column. Lefty Fonken, who hurled effectively for the locals in the Amarillo tournament, is slated for mound duty in next Sunday's game at Merrill Park against the Loboes. With Fonken in the box, the Hubbers should be able to turn back their formidable rivals, but if he decides at the last minute to go elsewhere it will be the same story all over again.

Local golf fans who witnessed the 36-hole match Sunday between Peck and Higginbotham at the country club course were given an exhibition of golf seldom seen in the ranks of amateur golfers. Both finalists displayed a cool nerve and bested par golf throughout the long grind. So closely matched were the two men that almost half of the 36 holes were halved. Three hundred yard drives were common and approach shots made near-by spectators gasp as the tiny pellet neared the pin.

In addition to the loving cup that goes to the champion, Bob Peck was flooded with prizes offered the winner by local merchants. The various service station awards offered the new title holder are likely to give Peck's "Lizzie" enough attention to last several months. Bob hopes that a "marcelle" will be included in the fixings.

Harry Meyers, local dry goods merchant, has just returned from New York City where he saw the Yankees of Miller Huggins perform. It was the first opportunity of the Lubbock business man had to see the champions in action in two years and the Yanks of 1929 are far from the New York club of two years back, Mr. Meyers said.

"The Yanks looked more like a Class D club than a contender for the world's championship," Mr. Meyers stated. "The entire team was booting the ball around like a bunch of rookies."

Fort Worth's overwhelming defeat of the Houston Buffs Monday and their second straight triumph Tuesday must have given Frank Snyder considerable satisfaction. The Fort Worth-Houston series is interesting from several standpoints. From the neutral standpoint, the series bordered on the crucial variety since both clubs are fighting for berths in the first division. Additional interest is added to the struggle in view of Snyder's recent transfer from Houston to Fort Worth as manager.

Members of the Houston club very naturally would like to beat out their old pilot and the Buff owners at the same time want to show up the man they turned loose. It is a known fact that "Pancho" has no love for the Buff management since his year-old quarrel with President Ankerman. Tuesday's victory was the sixth straight for the Kittens and it left them in second place, one and one-half games behind the first place Spudders.

The Fort Worth pitching staff is backed by a club with worlds of batting punch and it would not be at all surprising to see Snyder bring the Cowtown entry out on top of the last half pennant chase. This would give the fans another playoff between the Steers and Panthers, one that would carry more drawing power than the Dixie Series.

Dick Whitworth was credited with winning both Monday's and Tuesday's games. His fine relief hurling enabled the Cats to win out Monday and Tuesday found him in the same role.

LOCAL GOLFERS MEET PLAINVIEW

Headed by Captain Ross McWhorter and their mascot, Oscar Lykes, the Lubbock Country Club golf team will invade Plainview Sunday with both barrels loaded to match strokes with the golfers of the Lenaware Municipal course.

The ten-man Lubbock team which is to make the trip to the Hale county capital is conceded the point of being the strongest golf unit ever organized in this city.

Although illness may prevent Clinton Bussey, West Texas champion of this city, from taking his place on the team, the winner of the Stamford tournament will make the trip if possible. Other local golf illuminaries, including Bob Peck Grady Higginbotham, finalists in the City Open tournament, will be on hand for the match Sunday.

Other members of the Lubbock team who are likely to make the trip are: E. T. Daniels, V. O. Jennings, Jack May, John Jarrott, Bill Yager, L. H. McLarty, J. O. Smith, John Edmisson and Hal Arnett.

The Silesian Aviation school at Brunau has constructed a two-passenger air glider.

PANTHERS IN SECOND AFTER QUICK CLIMB

SNYDER'S INJURY MAY HEAL TO AID CLUB IN VICTORY

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Panthers can maintain anything like their present clip until Boss Frank Snyder's spiked ankle heals and he can lend his big bat to the cause, the club that captures the second half is likely to get some serious opposition from the Kittens.

With Snyder on the bench for several weeks, the Cats have shown enough class to force up into second place. Their pitching has been about the most cosnistent in the circuit for a fortnight, and when that department has fallen down as it did yesterday, the batters have come to life and whaled out a victory anyway.

Down Buffs Again

By way of making their second berth a little more secure, Pancho's club blasted out a second straight triumph over the Buffs yesterday, 10 to 9. They had to summon a four-hand rally in the ninth to do it. Both teams used three pitchers, and of the six only Dick Whitworth final Cat flinger, did any good. Jim Lindsey, Buff wheelhorse, lasted only two innings. Hack Miller, 1926 Texas league homerun hero, signed by the Buffs several days ago as a free agent, belted one for the circuit.

Andy Messenger, of the fancy price tag, began paying the Spudders dividends when he kept 12 Beaumont blows scattered and set the southerners down, 11 to 4, in the middle game at Wichita Falls. He whiffed five. Bennett and Stapleton supplied most of the punch to sink the two shipper hurlers, Estill and Vaughn.

Cubs Square Series

The Cubs squared their series at Dallas by falling on Sarge Tom Connally in the seventh for five runs to win, 5 to 3. Up to the fatal frame Connally had not allowed a single hit and had walked only one batter. When the Cubs finally got started, however, they slammed six hits, including two doubles, in succession, before Tauscher subdued them. Earl Caldwell pitched another of his good games.

San Antonio went down the thirteenth straight time as Shreveport copped the second, 11 to 6. Hobo Carson, licked the previous day, tried it again, and again had no luck against the Sport sluggers.

HUBBERS TO MEET LAMESA

LOBOES HERE SUNDAY IN RETURN GAME; FONKEN TO TOSS

With promise of first class hurling, the Lubbock Hubbers will make a home stand against the Lamesa Loboes at Merrill Park next Sunday, determined to avenge their latest defeat at the hands of the slugging White aggregation.

Lefty Fonken, the youngster from Happy who carried the pitching burden for the Hubbers in the recent Amarillo News-Globe tournament, is slated to oppose the Loboes here Sunday and from all indications will make the going plenty stiff for the visitors.

Fonken pitched the locals to a pair of victories in the Amarillo meet, displaying worlds of stuff and will to win.

Manager H. B. Wilson will have the same lineup in Sunday's game that made the trip to Lamesa last week with Taylor on first, Rigney on second, Atter at short and Gaither on third.

Brothers, Wilson and Waller are the starting outfielders and Gailey will start behind the bat.

McWhorter is likely to be on the mound for the Loboes.

THE LAST OF THE OLD GUARD

The old guard dies but never surrenders, and here are two of its members. Red Faber, left, is the White Sox's great spitballer, and a figure in the big leagues for the last 19 years. To the right is Jack Quinn, Connie Mack's veteran moist ball thrower. Jack has been playing ball for 29 years and has been in the big leagues since 1909. Faber and Quinn are two of the few remaining pitchers allowed the use of the spitball. The picture was taken at Philadelphia the other day, where the White Sox were playing the Macks. Several pitching duels have been staged between the two men this year, with the honors about even.

JACOB SAYS CAREY DENIES REPORT ON SHARKEY-SCHMELING BOUT; PLAN MADE FOR FIGHT SOMETIME IN FALL

SEATTLE, Aug. 7.—Joe Jacobs manager of Max Schmeling, German contender for the world's heavyweight boxing championship declared here today that William F. Carey, head of Madison Square Garden, New York, had denied to him over the long distance telephone that he had closed negotiations for a Jack Sharkey-Schmeling fight. A dispatch from New York today said that Carey had announced that the bout, set tentatively for September 19 at Detroit was off indefinitely.

Jacobs, who was in Seattle with Schmeling today on an exhibition tour, issued an ultimatum to Carey that unless he makes a formal denial of the statement credited to him, Jacobs will give the match to Jack Dempsey. The German fighter's manager said in that case the bout between the black Uhlan and the Boston Gob would be held in Agua Caliente, Mexico, on either Thanksgiving day or early in December.

SUIT IS BARRED ON JOCKEY CLUBS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 7. (AP)—The state's suit against the Kentucky Jockey club, Churchill Downs, Inc., and the Latonia Jockey club was held to be barred by the statute of limitations in a decision announced late today by Judge Eugene Dailey in common pleas division of circuit court.

The decision sustained the demurrer of the defendants to the commonwealth's suit asking revocation of the charters of the racing groups and $1,000,000 damages on the grounds of political activities. The suit followed a bitter political fight at the polls in 1927. Petitions involved Judge Dailey also.

In passing upon the legal questions overruled the commonwealth's motion for a subpoena to force Churchill Downs and the Kentucky Jockey club to bring their books and records into court and overruled the commonwealth's demurrer to the special plea of the Latonia Jockey club, operating in Kenton county, that the petition does not charge that the latter committed any offense in Jefferson county, where the suit was filed.

Attorneys for the commonwealth immediately entered and were granted an appeal to the state court of appeals.

GOLF TOURNEYS OCCUPY ATTENTION OF PLAYERS OVER U. S.

(By Associated Press)

FOREST PARK, ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7—A little Italian day laborer from Brooklyn, Frank Fabrizio, was perched in the whip seat as the final 18-hole drive for medalist honors opened at the eighth National Public Links Golf championship at Forest Park today.

Coming to the tournament as a rank outsider known only in his immediate neighborhood, Fabrizio gained his advantage yesterday by thumping old man par and a record smashing field of municipal aces. He breezed around the rainsoaked course in exactly 70 strokes two under par, and the closest rival he had among his 140 opponents was Connell Kersey, a 17-year-old youth from Louisville, Ky.

Golfers scores yesterday for the ihitial 18-hole round were low enough to indicate a 158 would be required for 36 holes to qualify for the bracket of 32 who will compete by match play for the title starting tomorrow and ending Saturday. Thirty ended the first round with better than 80 and all the favorites including Karl Kaufmann of Pittsburgh who has worn the crown for the past two years, appeared certain of qualifying.

MACDONALD SMITH IN LEAD ON LONG ISLAND

SALISBURY PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 7. (AP)—It's a long stern chase today for all but one of the 60-odd golfers who survived the first 36 holes of the Long Island open championship and very few have good prospects in the pursuit line.

After the first half of the 72-hole test yesterday, Macdonald Smith, pro of the Lakeville Country club, Great Neck, had run up a lead of six strokes and his nearest rival, Gene Sarazen appeared the only one who had much chance of cutting it down in today's two rounds. Smith negotiated the hard No. 4 of the Salisbury Country club course yesterday in 71 strokes, one under par, then came back on the No. 3 layout, considered a much easier course, with a brilliant 69 to take the lead with a total of 140 strokes.

Sarazen jumped far into the lead in the morning round, shooting a fine 67 over the No. 3 course, but slipped badly in the afternoon, requiring 79 strokes for a 146 total. Ernest Catrops, an unattached pro, reached the half-way mark in the third place with rounds of 72-75-147.

ILLINOIS SOPHOMORE IS JUNIOR MEDALIST

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. (AP)—A group of 32 golfers—some college stars, a few former caddies and a sprinkling of high school boys—survivors of an army of 242 who attempted to qualify, today entered the first round of match play of the western junior championship tournament at Lagrange Country club.

The medalist, Fred Lyon, a tall University of Illinois sophomore, who turned in a qualifying score of 74, two over par, was paired with Frank Flegel, of Berwyn, Ill., who scored a 77 to get into the championship flight.

The Lyon-Flegel match promised to be a real battle, but the feature contest of the first round was expected to develop between Dick Mullin of the Lagrange club, defending champion, and Charles Becka, of Chicago, who has been an outstanding figure in caddy tournaments. Mullin shot a 77, one stroke better than necessary to qualify, while Becka was high among the selected, with a score of 75.

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 7. (AP)—The Shreveport club of the Texas league which sought Joe Kelly, outfielder of the Memphis club of the Southern Association on option, turned him back today. A report from Memphis last night stated that Kelly was to be released because of his poor hitting.

CHICAGO FANS PRAYING FOR SUCCESS IN BRUINS' MARCH TOWARD PENNANT; LEAD IS STILL 7½ GAMES ON PIRATES

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sped by the prayers of a million Chicago fans, the Cubs are on the march today seeking a final conquest of the east.

In two swings along the Atlantic seaboard this year, the Bruins have won nineteen games and lost nine; a continuation of that pace through the sixteen engagements of the impending invasion would send the young men of Joseph McCarthy back to the west late this month all but assured of their pennant.

Despite a 5 to 4 defeat by Brooklyn before a record mid-week crowd of 35,000 at Wrigley Field yesterday, the Bruins are eastward bound with their lead of seven and one-half games intact. The Pirates also lost—to the Giants by 5 to 3—and must face the clan McGraw in another game today.

Bill Walker performed upon the mound against the Pirates and pulled out of a mean hole in the ninth to preserve the slender lead Giant hits and Pittsburgh errors had given him in the eighth. With the bases filled by three singles and two men out, he forced Pie Traynor to roll weakly to the infield for the final out.

Jess Petty went the route for the Buccaneers, and permitted the Giants to bunch their hits where they would do the greatest damage.

Rain interfered with the Cardinal-Brave game at St. Louis and the Phils and the Reds were not scheduled.

While Chicago was cheering its Cubs, American League contenders were, in effect, marking time. The Athletics bowed to the Browns by 8 to 3 in the first game of a doubleheader, but came back strong to win the second by 11 to 3 behind Eddie Rommel's knuckle ball. The Senators trimmed the Yanks by 13 to 9 in the opener, but Freddy Heimach pitched a three-hit shutout in the nightcap, winning for the champions by 8 to 0.

Cleveland nosed out Detroit by 6 to 5, and entered into a tie with the Browns for third place. The Sox, White and Red, were not scheduled.

HERE'S FIRST GRID YARN

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. (AP)—Here is the first football yarn of the season.

Within six weeks the boys will be in their moleskins, and Amos Alonzo Stagg, the "grand old man of the midway," will be ready for them.

Stagg, dean of America's gridiron coaches, is in training, like his players, for the opening of the practice season, September 15. He will be 67 years old, August 16, but he is playing his usual game of tennis daily with his son, Paul, junior champion of Illinois, to get into condition to direct his squad. Despite his age, he frequently beats his son.

Stagg will start his thirty-eighth season as coach of the University of Chicago team.

WAYLAND HAS GOOD OUTLOOK

JACKRABBITS LOOKING FOR GOOD SEASON IN FOOTBALL

(Special to The Journal)

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 7.—With nineteen members of last year's Jackrabbit grid team returning, fifteen of them letter men, Wayland college football prospects are the brightest they have been in years. In addition to the men who are returning, several other excellent prospects are expected to line up with the Jackrabbits this fall.

Despite the hardest schedule the blue and gold warriors ever were called upon to face, Coach Frank Kimbrough is optimistic. The Jackrabbits open the season September 20th when the West Texas State Teachers' College Buffaloes come to Plainview. September 28th will see the Jackrabbits arguing with the Texas Tech Matadors at Lubbock. October 5th the Jackrabbits will journey to Roswell, New Mexico, where they will take on the fast New Mexico Military Institute.

Four games away from home follow the Roswell contest: Wichita Falls Junior College, Cordell Christian College, El Paso School of Mines and Montezuma at Las Vegas.

Clarendon will come to Plainview for the homecoming game, Nov. 11. The Panhandle A. and M. will be played at Goodwell, Okla., November 16. Cameron A. and M. will come to Plainview November 22, and the following week Wayland will go to Clarendon for the last game of the season.

DALLAS BOUT TO BE HALTED BY DECISION

McCRAW ORDERS BAN ON BATTLE THURSDAY NIGHT

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 7.—Enforcement of the Texas anti-prize fight law as it applies to the scheduled slugging match between Kid Kober of Dallas and Duke Trammel of Fort Worth at Dallas Thursday night when no admission will be charged to witness the hostilities, is strictly up to District Attorney William McGraw, of Dallas county.

The attorney general's department, in an opinion today holding the proposed fight in violation of the law and a "clear intention to evade the criminal law of this state," said, "as to whether the exhibition is a violation of the law is purely a question of fact to be passed upon by those of the state charged with the enforcement of the law and not by this department."

Pollard Quoted

The opinion was written by Assistant Attorney Jack Blalock and it was accompanied by a statement from Attorney General Claude Pollard, in which he said his department had never been communicated with by either District Attorney McGraw or Governor Moody in regard to the matter. The opinion was addressed to Adjutant General R. L. Robertson, in command of the Texas Rangers and the Texas National gaurd. General Robertson is now at the annual encampment in Palacios.

DALLAS, Aug. 7 (AP)—In view of the Attorney General department's ruling that the proposed boxing match here Thursday would be in violation of the law, District Attorney William McGraw today notified the sheriff's department to stop the bout should an attempt be made to hold it.

"Dusting Off" To Stop, Chief Says

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. (AP)—American Association pitchers who persist in aiming fast balls at the heads of batsmen, will be severely disciplined from now on.

President Thomas J. Hickey has sent notice to umpires and managers that the practice of "dusting off" batsmen, which has become so common as to cause fist fights on the fields, must stop immediately. Alleged attempts to beam batsmen were said to have been responsible for two serious fights between Minneapolis and St. Paul players recently.

HOOVER HAS PLANS FOR PEN PROBLEM

PRESIDENT TO ACT IN PROVIDING MORE ROOM IN U. S.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. — Convinced that the federal government can delay no longer in relieving crowded conditions in governmental prisons, President Hoover today outlined a plan to provide more accomodations for federal law violators in the institutions.

When congress convenes for its regular session, the president will ask the necessary authority and appropriations for a revision of the federal penal system. The plan includes an appropriation of $5,000,000 for extending the prisons at Atlanta and Leavenworth and the probable construction of a new prison somewhere in the northeastern section of the country.

Plans Probation

The president also hopes to relieve congestion by the appointment of a larger number of probation officers so that more prisoners can be placed on probation.

Mr. Hoover said he considered overcrowding in the prisons the cause of "infinite demoralization and the direct cause of outbreaks and trouble." He declared the increased number of prisoners is due to the general increase in crime which led him to create a commission to investigate federal law enforcement and court procedures.

Statistics which have been placed in the president's hands show that the Atlanta prison is 120 percent over capacity with Leavenworth housing 87 percent more inmates than intended for its quarters.

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Wee Clowny seemed real satisfied to have the small girl by his side. She was the little fat girl that the circus boasted 'bout. Said Clowny, "I have heard of you, and of the clever things you do. You are a big attraction with the circus, there's no doubt."

"Oh, you are kind," the girl replied. "'Tis true that I have always tried to please the little kidlets who come out to see our show." And then she added, "I believe it's nearing time for us to leave for some new town to show our acts. I wonder where we'll go."

The other Tinies then came near and Clown shouted, "Look who's here." And then he introduced his friend to all the Tinymites. The girl said, "I am glad to meet you all. This sure is quite a treat. We'll all have fun while traveling and seeing brand new sights."

The bunch then heard the engine scream as it was working up good steam. The Tinies bid the girl good-bye and rushed into their car. The engine stack began to choke and send up puffy clouds of smoke. The train then started off and each one hoped they'd travel far.

'Way up a hill they traveled fast until they reached the top at last. "Oh look!" exclaimed one Tiny. Tiny. 'There's another hill ahead. I guess we'll climb and climb and climb and all have quite a dandy time. But, as they reached the second hill their car slipped back instead.

"There's something wrong," scared Clowny cried. "Instead of going up we slide." And, sure enough, their little car was heading down the hill. To stop it seemed of no good use, 'cause from the train they'd broken loose. The Tinies never thought that they would get this sort of thrill.

PEOPLE OF U. S. ARE SECTIONALLY MINDED, UNIVERSITY MAN DECLARES

UNIVERSITY, Va., Aug. 7.—The people of this country are sectionally rather than nationally minded, Dr. Charles G. Maphis, director of the institute of public affairs at the University of Virginia, said here last night informally welcoming the visitors to the third session of the institute which is to continue through August 17.

The south is still provincial, he said, but no more so than other sections of the country where, in his opinion, a national outlook should join a continental outlook in molding opinions.

The institute of public affairs here, he said, was founded primarily to remove provincialisms and to stimulate an interest in public matters. Ignorance and indifference, he held, are the dual foes which must be vanquished to realize the goal sought by this body.

Thought For Today

Deliver me not over into the hands of mine enemies: for false witnesses are risen against me, and such as breathe out cruelty.—Psalms 27:12.

Cruelty, like every other vice, requires no motive outside of itself; it only requires opportunity.—George Eliot.

Praise

Visitors, if they are well bred, are always polite.

Accordingly, the party of European editors that recently concluded a tour of the United States had nothing but good things to say about the country.

They said they were amazed by our prosperity, deeply impressed by our clean, orderly cities, awed by the grandeur of our scenery, enthralled by the sturdy patriotism of our citizenry and delighted by our general industry and activity.

It was all very nice. The editors seem to have been given cordial receptions everywhere they went, and no doubt they enjoyed themselves very much.

But listening to people say nice things about us is by way of being our national weakness. We are so addicted to it that if no visitors are handy to say such things we will say them ourselves.

All of that is perfectly natural. It does, however, tend to make us more optimistic than we always ought to be. There are times when it blinds us to things that need correcting. A dose of bad-mannered criticism, now and then, is an excellent tonic.

Suppose that a party of distinguished foreigners, after touring America, should say something like this:

"Your prosperity is impressive but uneven. It provides high wages, but it is a bit ruthless about throwing men out of jobs, and it is working a real hardship on the eluderly or middle-aged worker.

"Your cities are sometimes beautiful, but nearly all of them have vast slums that are pretty terrible. And why do you let filling stations, barbecue joints and hot dog stands litter up all your nicest roads?

"Conditions in some of your soft coal fields are quite as bad as anything in Europe. Your agricultural regions seem to be sunk in depression, and some of your textile towns are a disgrace to your country.

"Most of your politicians and office holders seem very mediocre men (to say the least), and no European city has a fifth as many criminals as your big cities harbor. Your police are sadly inefficient, a lot of them are just plain crooks and your criminal courts are the most antiquated contrivances we have ever seen.

"The worst thing of all is that you are so satisfied with yourselves that you don't try to improve these conditions much."

A little outburst like that would probably be in bad taste; but it probably would be good for us.

To be sure, if taken by itself it would give a false picture of the real state of affairs.

Yet we are so eager to see our own good points that we sometimes forget that there are things that need improving. A dose of unpleasant truths every now and then is something the national system needs rather badly.

By Plane

The flight of the "Houston—Billion Dollar City," opens a new and slightly terrifying idea about aerial advertising.

Planes have advertised cities before—as witness Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis." But now we have not only a city's name, but a mouth-filling slogan as well. And every paper that prints a story about the doings of this plane must, of necessity, place before its readers Houston's billion-dollar boast.

This sort of thing has possibilities. Are we eo see airplanes bearing such names as "Drive the Skidmore Sedan," or "Eat That German Excelsior Cereal"? If we do, these Houston flyers can get the credit—or otherwise—for starting it.

The new sun tan cosmetic has one advantage, anyway—it doesn't hurt so much to get slapped on the back.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says her lack of desire for "personal liberty" saves her stomach a lot of wear and tear.

The American public is made up of the most unappreciative group of people in the world. All of us who go to make it up strive for something—then when we get it we can't be further interested so we dash forth to get something else.

For instance, take ankles. Once upon a time there were few ankles to be seen and those who did view one now and then considered themselves fortunate. Now, a man who doesn't see a couple of dozen ankles to the block is either blind or getting old—but do we appreciate it? We do not.

The word has come out of Paris, or some other foreign point, that skirts will be longer this fall. Whether it is because nobody believes the announcement will be taken seriously—or because they don't care it it is—folks aren't very perturbed. We've become so used to viewing feminine pulchritude a la one jump this side of the bathtub that the scenery has become common and whether it continues to obtain or not makes little difference to us.

Now this isn't a plea for bigger and better appreciation of ankles. It is merely a psychological observation which may be applied to easy credit, installment plans, motor cars and electric thing-a-majigs so dear to the heart of the lazy housewife. In other words we Americans are becoming too bloomin' blase and most of us are so experienced, so cosmopolitan and so worldly-wise that we wouldn't give two-bits to see 16 drunken men fight with hatchets.

The Plainsman, for one, doesn't believe we're as happy, as a people, now as we used to be when life generally was more simple and the "big events" came so seldom that everybody got a kick out of quitting work to enjoy them. It' getting so now that even working folks, like you and The Plainsman, can't think of any reason to go anywhere to see anything and because we can't we spend most of our time going places and seeing things in which we have little or no interest.

You wouldn't have thought that we'd ever gotten into such a deep dissertation by starting out with "ankles" as our subject but we have—which goes to prove that it's hard to talk about ankles and keep your mind on your business.

That Man on Avenue Q says some people drive while intoxicated and others drive that way because they can't help it.

Thomas Atchison White, district manager for what The Plainsman humorously refers to as the "Southwort-Bill Telyfoam Company", has decreed that the operators on the local exchange will no longer be forced to say "thank you" after getting a number from a hopeful subscriber. The young ladies who spend their time furnishing wrong numbers to the populace will be permitted now to say "all right", "betcha boots", "o. k. baby" or anything they like—which The Plainsman believes will be a great boon both to the girls and to the customers.

It has been this writer's displeasure to listen to several types of telephone users in their dealing with the operators and how the girls were ever able to say "thank you" is more than he could understand. There's the "smart click" type—wise-crackers who answer a civil "number pleez" with a snappy "wot numbers yuh got", then there are the natural-born sheiks—self-appointed "answers to the maiden's prayer", who feel it their bounden duty to be stickily sweet, and the third class who demand in strident tones "well, why in the blankety-blank doucha git that number?" For your information, the latter class is composed almost entirely of men who are afraid to talk that rough in personal conversation and who take it out on folks far enough away that they are in no danger of swinging a haymaker.

The Plainsman has never tried being a switchboard operator but somehow or another he has never figured that he'd be much of a success at it. Saying a sweet "thank you" to some boob without the aesthetic qualities to appreciate it has never appeared to this writer to be much of a pleasant pastime.

You may judge a man by the size of the triumph required to give him a swelled head.

Public utilities concerns, like the phone company, have to do a lot of "missionary work"—theoretically "tickle the public under the chin"—in order not to excite demands for more and better services so it isn't likely that the girls will be able to answer subscribers as some of the subscribers deserve to be answered. However, The Plainsman would be glad to see Manager White let the bars down even further and permit the gals to answer callers in the same way the callers talk to them—only worse. The sympathy of The Plainsman is with the girl at the switchboard every time—even when she lets her mind wander in Arkansas while completing a call.

All Is Quiet In Washington Says Senator J. Boom-Boom McWhorter, Who Forecasts Happy Tariff Bill Solution

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 — Senator J. Boomboom McWhorter's most recent weekly news-letter to the newspapers of his home state:

"Oil's well on the Potomac. In other words, everything is lovely. At no time within my recollection have there been such manifold reasons for contentment and pleasure on the part of the voters over the patriotic efforts of their duly chosen representatives in Washington, especially the Senate in its wisdom.

"As my able colleague Senator Goosegrease has often and truly said, we all ought to be humbly thankful that we live under the rippling folds of Old Glory with all the other countries owing us money and with 95 per cent of the world's automobile production.

"I suppose my readers are wondering what old Uncle Boomboom has to say about the tariff. Well, Uncle Boomboom, although he can not tell all he knows, predicts this: We are going to have a tariff law that will protect both the producer and the consumer. It will protect the consumer from low prices, which are bad for him, and the same goes of course, for the producer. I can promise with reasonable assurance that there will be no increase in duty on ice water, gypsy moths, chop suey, Cape Cod oysters, thunder and lightning, bobbed hair, Mohammedans, debt payments—if any, homing pigeons, birthday suits, barnacles and fog.

"Above all, this tariff law is going to be something that the republicans will cheer about and the democrats will squawk about. What more can you ask from a tariff bill than that? Everybody will be happy.

"Somebody is all the time writing in to ask where I stand on prohibition. I do not like to get such letters because they indicate that there is some doubt about where I stand on prohibition. For the benefit of new voters, however, I want to reiterate for the thousandth time that McWhorter stands for the Stars and Stripes, the rights of the working man, the sanctity of the home and all other experiments, however noble.

"Now, take world peace. I think we are all agreed that peace is a fine thing when it isn't abused. What an inspiring spectacle it was the other day when our nation told Russia and China not to do any fighting. But I do not want my readers to think that we have thereby given Russia and China the right to ask us to stop whenever we want to do some fighting of our own. Just let those heathens try it and see where they get off! Of course, we all know that when our country sends soldiers or marines to fight anybody it is only in a holy cause and noe of anybody's business.

"I am sure that you are now all convinced that each and every one of us has something to be happy about as he contemplates our national affairs. Mr. George W. Wickersham has achieved the impossible and said something that made both the wets and the drys happy at the same time. The drys think it is just wonderful that Mr. Wickersham and President Hoover want to make the states help enforce the dry lawn and the wets are happy because the more enforcement there is left to the states the less those states will have which don't want it."

Today's Fish Story

NEW YORK — Today's fish story. William Beebe, naturalist, with a radium baited hook caught one with an extensible stomach permitting the swallowing of another fish three times as large as itself, and a second species that had regular fishing lines with hooks fastened to its flippers.

"Easy" Town

PHILADELPHIA — Somebody told Herman Baxter and Fred Trayner of Portsmouth, Ohio, that this was "an easy town." A few minutes after they stuck up a filling station, netting $21.60, they were in jail under $2,500 bail each.

Offer Insufficient

PITMAN, N. J.—No "ladies" for Rev. Billy Sunday. He announced at a camp meeting that an offer of $1,000,000 was not sufficient to lure him when "the church has its back to the wall." Changing the subject, somewhat, he expressed the opinion that Jack Dempsey could "knock the block off" of Schmeling, German title-hope.

Pitch Too High

VIENNA—Chorus and stars of the state opera cast have complained that the pitch of the proposed program is to high for them. The management admits that the pitch has been raised a bit each year because of the better effect gained for string instruments.

BARBS

S. S. Van Dine, writer of detective stories, has been appointed police commissioner at Bradley Beach, N. J., and as such one of his duties will be to censor bathing apparel. Very appropriate to appoint a man with a lively imagination to that job.

She is 26 years of age and pretty. Miss Rumley denied that Texas police "had a thing on her."

Going Places With Swan

THE CALIFORNIA SEA COAST IS THE PROMISED LAND

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—Scattered notes from a ramble about southern California.—

Ventura, sparkling by the sea in the bright new clothes that came with sudden oil wealth, . . . And with this wealth and fine raimment came suitors aplenty . . . From a pleasant, sleepy little town by the sea Ventura is suddenly a city. . . . A city climbing up its backyard hills.

The new Malbu road along the ocean front . . . By means of which one can now motor from San Diego and the Mexican border to Santa Barbara, with the surf beating at the car's wheels . . . The new stretch linked Santa Monica with Hueneme . . . And a lovelier drive is to be found nowhere upon this earth . . . If you're one of those who didn't see America first, at least see part of it last! . . . By the way, they build their roads out here with a small tax on gasoline . . . The motorist pays for his own roads. . . . Bright idea.

In Hueneme, which once was a rolling chaos of sand dunes and tumble-weed with an old wharf at the harbor door, you'll hear rumblings of many things to come . . . You'll hear the Henry Ford's secretary has started work on an umpty-thousand dollar summer home just up the beach . . . You'll hear rumblings of a new Ford plant with a sea outlet. . . Hueneme is a striking instance of the dead coming to life . . . The southern California boosters, of course, shrug their shoulders and remind you that "anything can happen down here."

Riverside is restful and peaceful as the interior of its missioions. Somehow, thanks to nature and architecture, it has managed to reflect through the years its picturesque mission background . . . Even its street lights are mission bels . . . And one enters the Mission Inn almost on tip toes. . . . I have seen strangers begin to speak in that half whisper they use when walking into the Notre Dame, the Sacre Coeur — or any church, for that matter . . . And if you care to get safely back to your wife, never go about Magnolia drive at sundown. . . . There's a languorous quality about the perfume that's almost lethal.

And a brooding sense of the lonely desert off against the skyline.

Redlands rises to the pagodas of Smiley Heights on one hand and to the rugged crests of mountains on the other, while caught in the valley between is the lush green vista of orange groves . . . Here, and spreading all about, is a workshop of nature, aided by man's husbandry . . . The industries which are man's can be found down the line at San Bernardino, where man has conquered desert surroundings to get nature's products to a market place.

As usual, the best of the fruit goes to Manhattan and the eastern markets . . . I asked for orange juice in two "orange belt" soda fountains and was given queer looks . . . However, the natives tell me I should have tried the larger drug stores.

Thanks to a highway system such as I have found nowhere else, all California has become a veritable carpet of Bagdad upon which one can be whisked from the warm beach sands to the mountain snows, from the desert wastes to the tropical green of the palms; from the sequoias to the mountain lakes and all, seemingly, in the twinkling of an eye.

Californians have less sense of space and distance than most . . . And almost everybody has a car.

Los Angeles 'old town" and Chinatown change but slightly as a great city grows all about. The quaint and charming flavor of adobe still clings to the plaza section, with its swarming Mexican life, its chili parlors and its curbstone-loungers. Chinatown breaks off from this point in a sudden angle, its fringe dotted by those 23 a la carte Italian dinner resorts which in Greenwich Village, come under the general heading of "bohemian."

Plans Started For Red River Bridges

AUSTIN, Aug. 7. —Engineers of the state highway department have started preliminary plans for construction of three bridge across Red River, which will be erected in conjunction with the Oklahoma highway department, the two states charging the cost proportionately. They will offer motorists a means of escaping tolls.

Although no definite location for the bridges has been made, one likely will be built between Ringgold and Terral, another at Gainesville and a third between Denison and Durant.

Cowboy Band To Play At State Fair Rodeo

In proportion to its population, England is tenth on the list of countries using telephones.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

Practical Urinalysis (Part II)

In this series of papers I am giving you some lessons which, I have been led to believe by your correspondence, you need sadly. Some of you are needlessly worrying over your kidneys and others not worrying enough.

I told you yesterday about the general appearance and the amount of urine If you are interested, please get yesterday's newspaper.

Color. Urine is normally a shade of yellow. Its intensity depends on its concentration, concentrated pious urine being light. Certain urine being a deeper shade and co-foods and drugs, such as rhubarb and senna, make it darker. Red urine may indicate the presence of blood unless the patient is taking certain drugs which will also color the urine. A microscopic examination will differentiate.

Odor. The odor of urine is characteristic. Its intensity depends on the concentration. The odor is normally affected by eating certain vegetables such as garlic and asparagus. Urine which has been standing for a long while after passing (especially in warm weather) has an offensive ammonia-like odor. This is due to the decomposition of the urea. When this strong offensive ammonia odor is present right after voiding, it indicates that there is some infection of the urinary tract, with perhaps an abnormal retention in the bladder.

Chemical reaction. The chemical reaction of fresh normal urine depends mostly on the concentration and the diet. Under ordinary conditions, it is slightly acid. This acidity can be increased (sometimes markedly) when too little water is taken and by a diet which has too many acid-forming foods. This will cause general acidosis and if persisted in, kidney and other inflammations.

With a diet that contains practically no acid-ash foods and liberal amounts of water, the urine may be normally slightly alkaline or neutral.

Tests for reaction. The routine test for the reaction is with the use of paper dipped in red or blue litmus. (These you can get at the drug store or surgical supply houses) The blue litmus turns red in an acid medium; the red turns blue in an alkaline medium. Small bits of each are put in a fresh sample of the urine. If it is acid the blue litmus turns red, while the red remains unchanged. If it is alkaline, the red litmus turns bluish while the blue litmus remains unchanged. If both retain their original color, it is eommonly said to be neutral but is really both acid and alkaline and they balance each each other (a reaction called amphoteric).

More delicate tests for the reaction are used by the laboratories when necessary.

After standing, urine is first more acid from acid fermentation. After long standing, it begins to decompose and becomes highly alkaline.

I am going to tell you how to test your urine for sugar. You have to get a little outfit for this, and so long as you have the outfit, I shall in the following paper tell you a simple test for albumin, which you can do at the same time. The diabetic specialists believe that the sugar test will disclose many cases of diabetes in the early stages when it can be cured or controlled. I asked a noted specialist in kidney diseases (Dr. Martin H. Fischer) on the advisability of giving you the albumin test also, and he things it will be as helpful in detecting early kidney disease as the sugar test is to detect early diabetes.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice If she considers your questions of general interest, they will be answered in the column. In turn. Requests for articles on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each, for the pamphlets on "Reducing and Gaining," "The Kidney and Its Excretions" and the "Hygiene of Women" 10 cents in coin (for each) and fully self-addressed, stamped envelope must be enclosed. (These charges are to cover the cost of printing and handling). Address Dr. Peters in care of this paper.

Who's Who In Timely Views

PROTECTION VIEWED AS VITAL TO FUTURE OF SUGAR INDUSTRY

BY SAMUEL MORGAN SHORTRIDGE, Senator from California

(Samuel Morgan Shortridge was born at Mt. Pleasant, Ia., Aug. 3, 1861. He received a high school education, was admitted to the California bar in 1884, and has since practiced law in San Francisco. He was elected to the United States senate in 1921 and is now serving his second term. He is widely known as an orator on political topics.)

The full principle of protection indevelop its domestic sugar industry by way of tariff and also bounties.

The "principle of protection" in tariff legislation, as it applies to sugar, applies to any industry which has been or can be developed in the United States.

In a word—that principle, or that policy, protects the American product, raised, mined, or manufactured by American high labor cost, from competition in the American market with like products raised, mined or manufactured by low labor cost.

The second act of congress, approved by Washington, July 4, 1789, was avowedly a protective tariff law and from that day until now the wisdom of such laws has been vindicated by results.

I would apply this "principle of protection" to our sugar (cane and beet) industry and to other American industries.

I have only to add that there is a very easy way to put out an American industry—simply repeal the protective tariff law and let the foreign product flow in! But does any sane man think that would be a benefit to our people? Does any thoughtful man think it advisable to lower our wage scale to the foreign level?

Sen Shortridge

Applying the rue "principle of protection" to ane and beet sugar industry would develop hat industry in he United States nd I do not hesitate to add that n my opinion it would be a benefit to us as a people if we should so develop that industry as to produce all the sugar we consume. Why not?

Does anyone suppose that we should be dependent on any foreign country for a prime food necessity?

Does anyone imagine it would be economically better for the American people to rely on China for their sugar?

Why is it that every independent nation on earth is endeavoring to

Hillsboro Woman's Burns Form Mystery

CORSICANA, Aug. 7. (AP)—Funeral services for Mrs. Yetta Gerrick, 27, wife of a Hillsboro merchant, who was burned fatally in her home Tuesday, were held here Tuesday afternoon.

How Mrs. Gerrick caught fire remained a mystery. She was carried from her home by city employes of Hillsboro after their attention had been directed to her home by smoke issuing from a window. When they found the woman her clothing were in flames. She died shortly after reaching a hospital.

Surviving are her husband and two children.

Shuler's Complaint Case Is Dismissed

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7. (AP) — A complaint of assault and battery filed in municipal court by the Rev. R. P. Shuler against Clayton C. Stafford, El Monte, Calif., grain merchant, was dismissed today on motion of the district attorney's office, as Stafford was convicted in an Alhambra, California court on a prior complaint for the same offense and fined $250.

RENEWAL ON STOCKS MADE

OPENING OF MARKET IS IRREGULAR TODAY; UTILITIES DROP

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (AP)—Renewal of selling pressure against some of the public utility stocks featured the irregular opening of today's stock market. General Public Service dropped 2 points and Southern California Edison and International Telephone a point each. Newport company, opened 3 1-4 points higher at 79 1-4, a new high record. Initial gains of a point or so were recorded by New York Central, American International, Calumet and Arizona and Columbia Graphophone.

Uneasiness over the situation created by the recent sharp decline in some of the middle western public utility shares brought further selling into the power group in today's early trading. American and foreign power extended its loss to 4 points, American Telephone to 3 1-2 and American Water Works to 2 points.

Auburn Drops

Auburn Auto dropped 6 points and Southern Pacific, American Can, Westinghouse Electric, Union Carbide, International Harvester and Bristol Myers fell 1 to 2 1-2 points.

Pool operations were not entirely abandoned, however, but were generally restricted to issues in which special developments were pending. American Tobacco A, which Wall Street expects will be split up on a 2 to 1 basis before the end of the year, ran up 3 points. Air Reduction also advanced 3 points and German Metals and Borg Warner 2 each.

Foreign exchanges opened firm, with sterling cables slightly firmer at 84.85 1-4.

TEXAS RAINS HALT COTTON

SLIGHT ADVANCE LOST ON REPORT FROM AMARILLO

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 7. (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 4 to 5 points in response to relatively favorable Liverpool cables. Values continued to advance after the start mainly on reports of continued drought in Texas, October selling up to 18.88 and December 19.09 or 7 to 9 points above yesterday's close.

Later the market turned easier when the weather map showed an unexpected rainfall of 3 inches at Amarillo in the Texas Panhandle At the end of the first hour all the early gain was lost and prices traded around yesterday's closing levels.

The weekly weather and crop report was considerable favorable and induced further selling by recent buyers. October eased off to 18.75 and December 18.94, or 13 to 15 points down from the early highs and 6 points below yesterday's close.

Near mid-session the market was quiet but steadier and prices showed recoveries of 5 to 6 points from the lows.

ADVANCES LOST ON RAIN REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 2 points on May but generally 1 to 6 points higher on covering and local buying inspired by relatively steady cables and talk of continued hot weather in the southwest.

The advance to 19.03 for October and 19.40 for March was checked by realizing, however, and a little more selling developed after the posting of the weather map which showed some rain in the Texas Panhandle. By the end of the first half hour October had declined to 18.93 and March to 19.38, or to about yesterday's closing quotations.

WHEAT OPENING HIGHER TODAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Wheat scored sharp early advances in price here today. Opening 3-8c to 3 5-8c higher, Chicago wheat afterward continued to point upward. Corn and oats were also stronger, with corn starting 3-4c to 2 3-4c gain, and subsequently reacting somewhat. Provisions kept steady.

Spur Advertising Annual Exposition

(Special To The Journal)

SPUR, Aug. 7.—The Northwest Texas Fair association has received five hundred bumper strips for advertising the fair this year, the dates for same being October 10, 11 and 12.

The association plans the biggest exhibit of livestock and poultry thus far ever shown in the Spur country. Exhibitors are invited from any distance, and premiums of a more attractive value will be given, than has ever been offered before. The idea of the old time fair catalog carrying advertising will not be carried out, but the several merchant will have the privilege of awarding prizes for the farm products whether it be livestock, garden products, or field crops in which the particular merchant may be interested.

The present outlook for crop exhibits are not as favorable as they were this time last year, but with the increased number of high quality dairy animals and poultry the fair should be the best yet.

On the lake front an emergency landing field has been prepared, and a portion of the lake inside the breakwater has been set aside for the landing of seaplanes, flying boats and amphibians.

The aeronautical exposition in the municipal auditorium, will be the largest yet held in the United States. More than 200 manufacturers of airplanes and accessories, transport operators and flying schools have taken the 200,000 feet of floor space.

Derbies Planned

Nine air derbies, one from Canada and 35 closed course events will make the 10 days of events alive with interest for spectator and aviator altke.

For the first time women will have a place on a national air race program. A cross-country race from Santa Monica, Cal., and four closed course events have been set aside for them.

Prizes Offered

Both men and women may enter a contest to break the world's solo endurance flight record. The sum of $5,000 is offered the winner of a contest to break the world's non-stop distance record, and another $5,000 awaits the men who can break the 420-hour refueling endurance record of the St. Louis Robin.

In connection with the races, the first national glider contest ever held in this country will be staged by the National Glider association.
