SHS graduation tonight...

Cave, Kerr top scholars

Graduation will begin at 8 o'clock.

Sterling Cave has been named class valedictorian and David Kerr is the salutatorian. Both will speak for the students during tonight's ceremonies.

Cave is the daughter of James R. and Lois Cave. She had an honors point average of 7.3944.

Cave, a member of the National Honor Society, was this year's recipient of the Bill J. Hood Academic Award. She was ranked in the top 10 of her class all four years of high school. She participated in UIL accounting and literary criticism, advancing to state as a junior She was named SHS's top math student.

She was a member of the SUN Club, the French Club, the choir and the Student Council for three years. She participated in area and regional choir as a sophomore and junior.

An athlete as well, Cave played basketball and volleyball. She was first-team all-district in volleyball this year and second-team all-district as a junior.

Kerr is the son of Dr. Tom and Carol Kerr. He had an honors point average of 7.1859.

Kerr, president of the senior class, ranked in the top 10 throughout high school. A member of the National Honor Society, he was a member of the high school quiz team and decathlon team and was named the top student in science and Computer Science I. He participated in UIL academic events, winning top honors in district and regional events in science and math.

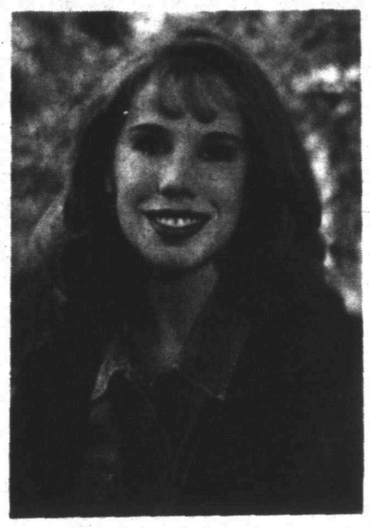

He also participated in cross country as a junior and track as a senior, and participated in volleyball in Canada before his family moved to Snyder.

Drama instructor Jerry Worsham will present the graduates, who will receive their diplomas from school board trustees Geraldine Parker and Richard Chambers.

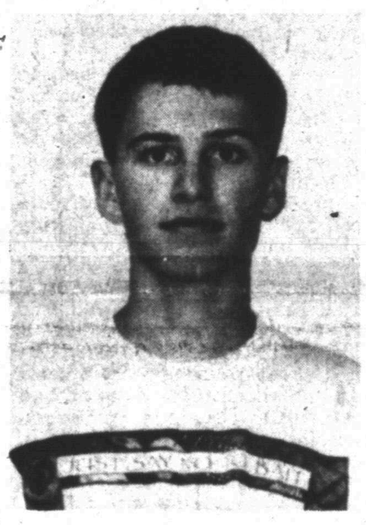

Superintendent Gayle Lomax will present the acknowledgements while principal Larry Scott will present scholarships and make closing remarks.

Kay Kennedy, assistant band director, will provide the processional and Katie Thornton will lead the class song, "I Will Remember You."

Industrial park timetable presented to DCOS board

A compilation of reports presented Thursday at the Development Corporation of Snyder board meeting provides a rough timetable for events at SnTx Park I, the city's industrial park.

The reports indicate that if everything proceeds smoothly, Lorber Industries could have a plant in place at the park before the end of the summer, 1997.

Action taken by the DCOS board Thursday included approval of by-laws for the park owner's association, a request from the Texas Economic Development Council and a bid for a phase-one environmental review.

Approval of bills and previous minutes were the only other items of business on the agenda and they were passed unanimously.

The reports indicate that utilities construction at the industrial park being undertaken by E.D. Walton Construction Co. should be complete by mid-July. At that time, the county should be able to resume roadwork and have it completed by mid-September.

Executive Director Doug Hutchinson said that a projected starting time for construction of the Lorber plant appears on target for early to mid-fall this year. It will take about eight months for construction of the plant.

Parallel with this would be construction of a power substation at the park by Midwest Electric Cooperative. The board learned Thursday that Midwest estimates a 10-month permitting process, plus about two months for actual construction.

It is not necessary for the substation to be completed before construction of the plant. However, board members expressed a desire that Lorber and Midwest Electric be made aware of each other's timetable so that completion of the plant and the substation can coincide.

In taking care of business related to the park, DCOS board members awarded a bid of $2,000 to McK Engineering to undertake phase one of an environmental review. Freeze & Nichols had

THE SDN COLUMN

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Life is like riding a bike. You don't fall off unless you stop pedaling."

—Think Rain!—

He's not a neighbor, but a columnist for the Kansas Daily News had some thoughts concerning the many high school graduates.

"You know this isn't high school any more when you wake up and realize there is no one telling you what to and what not to do.

"You are going to miss having teachers who know everyone in your family, who shop and worship in your neighborhood. Believe me, to the university professors, you're just another face. You'll have to siphon from the well of their knowledge, as they will not force you to drink from it.

"Never again will anyone remind you to do your homework on Sunday night. You can party all weekend. It's your life. Waste it, only if you dare.

"You are about to jump into the deep end of the pool of life. Let no one throw you in too soon. There is no shame in waiting. If you aren't ready for this much responsibility and independence, then take some time off first. Read, travel. College will be there when you get back — when you will be more equipped to take what it has to dish out.

"Campus life will not so much build your character as reveal it. Brace yourself now for the relativism you will find. Some will suggest to you that the rights and wrongs learned at home are just circumstantial grays. Stick to your guns. These people are not your friends.

"If you must choose between what Mom and Dad told you is right and wrong — and what a college philosophy professor tells you, my money is with Mom and Dad. They have a bigger investment in you.

"One last thing. Don't be surprised by the tears. Parents weep because they remember yesterday when you were little frogs and snails and puppy dog tails. They have no earthly idea when you turned into this cocky, young adult. It is a surreal, mind-altering experience that will be much clearer when your own kids leave for college...

"Remember always who you are, stand up for what you have become, but for crying out loud, stand up straight, before I count to three!"

Assisted-living facility planned here, seniors told

The announcement Thursday that an assisted-living apartment unit for the elderly is scheduled to be built in Snyder was met by a round of applause at the Snyder Senior Center.

The facility will be patterned after Cottage Village in Lubbock, only on a smaller scale, said one of the owners, Bob Berryman of Birmingham, Ala.

The 15-unit-complex is scheduled to be built adjacent to Western Texas College. Negotiations are currently underway with landowners with property just east of WTC, said Berryman. Construction on the project is expected to start in six to eight weeks and take at least four months to complete.

Berryman, along with longtime Abilene physician W.O. Akin, are officers of the corporation planning to build the facility, which is expected to be located on at least a five-acre plot.

Berryman said the facility will be built with private funds, but added he does expect to seek some form of tax abatement.

The overall cost of the project is expected to be $600,000.

Rescue workers search for body of 18-year-old

Rescue workers today were searching for the body of an 18-year-old Coahoma High School senior believed to have drowned at Lake Thomas early this morning.

J.J. Johnson, who was scheduled to graduate tonight, was swimming with two other Howard County residents when he went under water, according to reports. The three youths were swimming in the area of the main boat dock and were attempting to swim to an island around 1 a.m.

The Howard County sheriff's office was notified of the incident at 1:56 a.m. and they, in turn, notified Scurry County officials.

Howard County game warden Wayne Armstrong is heading up the investigation and is being assisted by Mitchell County game warden Randy Bullard.

Memorial Day events slated; offices to close

Activities will begin at 8 a.m. with a flag ceremony at the Veterans of Foreign Wars post home, followed by similar ceremonies at the American Legion, Snyder Cemetery and Hillside Memorial Cemetery.

About 9 o'clock, a ceremony will be held on the north side of the courthouse. Charles Day, pastor of Avenue D Baptist Church, will conduct a brief memorial service.

Day-long activities will be held at the post home for veterans and their families, including a barbecue at 5 p.m., catered by the Red Barn. Dywaine Beal and Larry Richards will furnish emu meat for sampling.

In recognition of Memorial Day, city, state and federal buildings will be closed Monday. These include City Hall, Scurry County Courthouse and the post office.

Scurry County Library will be closed Saturday through Monday.

Also closing will be all local financial institutions and the chamber of commerce.

News conference set for Dole's successor

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — While looking for Sen. Bob Dole's successor, the governor didn't have to go very far to find his leading candidate: Lt. Gov. Sheila Frahm.

Gov. Bill Graves scheduled a news conference for today to discuss Dole's successor. The senator leaves office next month to focus on his presidential campaign.

Republican sources, speaking on condition of anonymity, said they understood Frahm had agreed to accept the appointment and would run for election to complete Dole's term, which expires at the end of 1998.

Graves has said Frahm is the leading contender. On Thursday, a Graves spokesman refused to confirm or deny that she was the governor's choice.

Frahm, who said she would attend the news conference, declined comment.

If appointed, she would still have to win Kansas' Aug. 6 Republican primary and the general election in November to serve out the remainder of Dole's term.

Potential opponents in the Republican primary include U.S. Rep. Sam Brownback and former state Sen. Eric Yost of Wichita.

Brownback has already declared his candidacy. Yost, who ran unsuccessfully for Congress four years ago, has said he might run if Graves does not appoint a person who is strongly anti-abortion.

Frahm and Graves support Kansas law, which guarantees a woman's right to an abortion but prohibits late-term abortions unless they are necessary to save the life of the mother.

Q—Wednesday's information on values listed the estimated tax rate for Snyder ISD as $1.5326. Is this right?

A—It is correct — that's what it would take to bring in the same amount of tax dollars as last year — but, by law, the district can't actually exceed $1.50 per $100.

IMF nations to create emergency fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of 21 countries, ranging from established economic powers such as the United States and Japan to rapidly growing economies in Asia, will create a new $49 billion fund to cope with future Mexican-style economic crises.

The agreement was announced Thursday by U.S. officials following a meeting in Paris that ended a lengthy negotiating period.

The emergency bailout fund, which will be administered under the International Monetary Fund, was strongly pushed by the Clinton administration as a way to insure that when the next financial crisis hits, the United States will not be forced to shoulder as much of economic burden.

When the Mexican currency crisis exploded in early 1995, President Clinton had to use his own authority to provide $20 billion in emergency credit and heavily lobby other nations to authorize the IMF to put up a record $17.8 billion.

Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin praised creation of the new permanent rescue fund as a "sound and prudent" arrangement that would help "protect U.S. interests in future financial emergencies."

"It is not always easy to get things done in the international arena, but we are now starting to see some real, concrete, specific things happening that I believe are very important to the global market," he told reporters.

While certain details still must be worked out, U.S. and Italian officials said an agreement had been reached during a meeting in Paris that was attended by 21 donor countries.

Mario Draghi, director general of the Italian Treasury and the head of the negotiating effort, said in a statement that agreement had been reached on the "broad principles and on the key substantive points" needed to establish a fund with the equivalent of $49 billion in resources.

Draghi said the final agreement probably would be signed by participating countries at the Oct. 1-3 annual meetings of the IMF and the World Bank.

The deal will result in the doubling of a current emergency line of credit that is being supplied by the G-7 countries along with the Netherlands, Belgium, Sweden, Switzerland and Saudi Arabia.

The United States, which is providing $6.12 billion for the original emergency credit line, agreed to contribute an additional $3 billion.

The Clinton administration will have to win approval from Congress to participate in the new fund. Republicans already have announced opposition, contending that the Mexican bailout was a mistake that should not be repeated.

Creation of the bailout fund was endorsed last June in Halifax by leaders of the world's seven richest industrial countries, but it proved far more difficult than first envisioned to obtain the necessary pledges of support.

The Group of Seven countries — the United States, Japan, Germany, France, Britain, Italy and Canada — were willing to contribute. But new economic powers in Asia and several additional European countries that were asked to pledge funds balked because they did not believe they would have as much say in how the funds were distributed as the original contributors.

Those objections were overcome Thursday in Paris, officials said.

The new donor countries from Asia participating in the Paris meeting were Australia, South Korea, Malaysia, Singapore and Thailand. The new participants from Europe were Austria, Denmark, Luxembourg and Spain.

New York bans ephedrine products

NEW YORK (AP) — New York banned sales of non-medicinal stimulants containing ephedrine, fearing they were being dangerously embraced by young people as a legal alternative to street drugs.

The ephedrine products go by suggestive brand names such as Herbal Ecstasy and Cloud 9. Fifteen deaths have been linked to the stimulants.

Anyone caught selling the products banned by the state government Thursday face a maximum fine of $2,000 and up to a year in jail.

When mixed with caffeine or some other products, ephedrine can cause a range of reactions, including dizziness, stomach distress, psychosis or death.

Health Commissioner Barbara DeBuono said the stimulants are being marketed to young people via the Internet and magazine ads, and in displays in health food stores, drug paraphernalia shops and skateboard shops.

Fully Equipped Vacation Condo Comes With Its Own Handgun

DEAR ABBY: Family vacation season is almost upon us, and I'd like to share an experience that my husband and I will never forget. Several years ago, my husband's family gathered for a reunion at a resort in the Midwest. When we arrived, we found our rented condos well-maintained and spotlessly clean.

While my husband and adventurous 5-year-old son explored the grounds, I put our 14-month-old daughter to bed for a nap and started unpacking.

Next to the Bible in the bedside table drawer — within easy reach of inquisitive children — I discovered a handgun. I called the security office and demanded they remove it immediately.

Several hours later, I received a call from Housekeeping indicating there was a problem with our accommodations and that someone would be right over to take care of it. I informed them that I had already found the "problem" and it had been removed by Security. The housekeeper apologized profusely and admitted that the maid had reported the handgun, but Housekeeping had forgotten to remove it. It wasn't until they saw on the hotel registration that young children were also occupying our unit that someone remembered.

Abby, please remind your readers that just because accommodations are clean doesn't mean they are safe. My 5-year-old could just as easily have discovered that weapon. (But the danger could have been something else — a syringe, a condom or prescription medication.)

I'm happy to say that we had a wonderful vacation and returned home healthy and in one piece. I hope this letter will help others do the same.

MARION W. ATHEARN,
FALL RIVER, MASS.

DEAR MARION: Thank you for a valuable reminder that travelers (especially parents) should make it a top priority to thoroughly check their accommodations (drawers, closets, cupboards) before they unpack.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Our parents are getting a divorce after a long and unhappy marriage.

Soon after Dad filed for divorce, he met and started dating a woman who is a few years younger. She seems very nice. The problem is, Dad made us promise not to tell Mom that he was dating.

We agreed not to talk about it, but Mom found out from someone else, and now she's angry at us for having kept it from her. Our grandmother sides with Mom. Both say we were disloyal for not telling her.

We don't think it was our duty to share such information, especially since we were pretty sure Mom would be upset to hear the news. Were we wrong?

TWO BROTHERS AND A SISTER

DEAR BROTHERS AND SISTER: No. Your parents have put you in the middle of what appears to be a bitter divorce, and it's unfair of them to put you in a compromising situation, or heap guilt on you.

You should not be forced to take sides. What your parents do should be their own business, and children should not be forced to withhold information or be stool pigeons.

Restaurants sold

PHOENIX (AP) — An Arizona company has purchased all 41 Whataburger restaurants in the state from the Texas-based burger chain.

Terms of the deal weren't disclosed, but Arizona Fast Foods said it plans to add 50 more Whataburger outlets in the state in the next five or six years.

The acquisition makes Arizona Fast Foods the largest franchisee of Whataburger restaurants in the nation, with more than 1,100 employees and expected 1996 revenues of $30 million, officials said.

Whataburger Inc. is based in Corpus Christi, Texas, and operates 500 restaurants in seven states and Mexico.

Is this a first?

By Phillip Alder

As Tom Moore, the Irish poet, pointed out, "There's nothing half so sweet in life as love's young dream." At first, that's true. But then reality slowly seeps in. It's sure to happen. In contrast, it is probable that this deal, like tomorrow's(!), features something that hasn't happened before and may never happen again. It occurred during the Swiss Teams in Brighton, England, last August.

With that North hand, I would bid four hearts, not two, over one spade. This would be defeated only by an unlikely diamond lead. Where South found his third no-trump isn't clear either.

Now the spotlight turned on West. As South was surely prepared for a spade lead, probably West should have guessed to lead a minor-suit ace. But when he selected his fourth-highest spade and the hearts obligingly split 2-2, South had nine tricks: two spades and seven hearts.

If you thought that auction strange, wait until you hear about the other table. Over West's one-spade opening, North passed! East responded one no-trump and West raised to two no-trump. North passed again! Hoping his club suit would run, East went on to three no-trump.

Once more, the lead was critical. Not being psychic, South selected the diamond five. Declarer called for dummy's queen and, when it won, ran for home with two diamonds and seven clubs.

No doubt you spotted what was unusual. This was a double game swing with both pairs from the same team bidding and making three no-trump. And both did it by winning two tricks with an ace-queen combination and running a seven-card suit.

Medication was not the culprit

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My son is asthmatic. A year ago he had a serious lung infection and was placed on Amoxicillin and Slo-bid. He didn't feel well one evening and doubled up on the Slo-bid. He then went out and consumed about 10 beers. To make a long story short, he shot someone and has been charged with three counts of first-degree murder. He's been sentenced to 30 years. We are trying to prove that his mind was "clouded," and that he was under great stress with his infection. The manufacturer of Slo-bid says no studies have been done mixing the product with alcohol. Is it possible to get a doctor who would say the double dose of Slo-bid and alcohol did "cloud" his mind? My son is 18 and never had a record before this disaster.

DEAR READER: While it's true that infection and fever can affect the way people feel, there is no evidence that these conditions will turn patients into felons. Similarly, Slo-bid and other drugs used to control asthma can cause toxic reactions, such as irregular pulse, convulsions, excitability, irritability, and headaches. However, these prescription medicines do not lead to unlawful behavior.

Now, with respect to the beer, the story changes. Alcohol has many effects, one of the most serious being that it alters judgment. It's been said that the conscience is alcohol-soluble, meaning that people often behave inappropriately while under the influence. Questions of right or wrong become irrelevant. Inhibitions disappear. When drunk, people perform acts they wouldn't dream of doing while sober.

From your brief description, I must conclude that your son got tanked up and committed a horrendous crime while under the influence. I blame the 10 beers, not the infection or the medication.

Unfortunately, your son must take responsibility for his actions. He made a choice that led to tragedy. He cannot blame bacteria or the pharmaceutical industry for what he did wrong, no matter how much you or his lawyer would like to prove extenuating circumstances.

If you can find a doctor who will testify to the contrary, he should be ashamed of himself. This would be a travesty for the millions of patients who take prescription drugs, drink responsibly and behave themselves.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Your dissertation on fat in the diet is on the mark, but you need to take it one step further. When you take something away, you have to give something back (child psychology 101). Fat is the flavor we all crave and grow up with. Learn to substitute herbs for the flavor and you quickly lose the yen for fat. I lost 80 pounds in six months by sticking to a regimen of 30 grams of fat daily, and the weight is staying off.

DEAR READER: OK, this seems like a promising observation. Nutritionists lament the high level of fat in Western diets, because — while fat, as you point out, adds flavor — it also may contribute to cardiovascular disease.

Therefore, we'd all probably be healthier if we ate less fat. If herbs can help achieve this goal by increasing the tastiness of food, I'm in favor of this approach. On the other hand, raw vegetables also are an acceptable substitute.

To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Eating Right for a Healthy Heart." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

'Stinger' victims seek payments

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Innocent motorists got stung by the "stinger," a 16-foot strip of 110 spikes police use to slow fleeing drivers.

Now the victims want the state to pay for their punctured tires.

State Police used the experimental device Monday in trying to stop a driver accused of leaving a gas station without paying. He missed the spikes, but eight passing cars ran over them, deflating a total of 20 tires.

Cars jump track

An engineer suffered minor injuries in Thursday's derailment.

A ground employee "mistakenly threw a switch as the train was passing by," said railroad spokesman Ed Trandahl. Part of the train went on one track while the rest went on the other.

PRACTICE—The annual Raggedy Ann & Andy golf tournament at the Snyder Country Club tees off next weekend with a practice round on Friday before play begins Saturday. The field will be limited to 60 teams, pre-flighted. The format will be six-hole alternate shot, six-hole scramble and six-hole low ball. Getting ready for the couples tourney recently were (L to R) Bill and Finnie Seale and Suzy and John Reed. (SDN Staff Photo by Brent Taylor)

Unlikely players help Royals down Rangers

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Kevin Appier's contract negotiations seem to be going nowhere. His fastball is moving down and in with great effect.

Appier's pitching, a steal of home by Kansas City for the second straight game and unlikely home run support from Craig Paquette and Sal Fasano enabled the Royals to defeat the Texas Rangers 4-2 Thursday night.

Appier, who this week rejected the first firm contract offer from the Royals and can become a free agent at the end of the season, struck out seven in 7 2-3 innings with a moving fastball. He allowed two runs and eight hits.

Appier (4-4) got the best of Rangers starter Darren Oliver, an eight-year veteran who was sidelined most of last year with rotator cuff surgery and has had three other surgeries in his career. Oliver (3-2) went 7 1-3 innings.

"It's been up in the air so much you try not to get caught up in it when you come here," Appier said of the contract negotiations. "When you have time to talk about it, you talk to your agent. When you're doing stuff to get ready to go on the field, you do what you need to do to get ready to go on the field."

Appier is the highest-paid player on a Royals team that has cut its payroll from $42 million to $18 million. General manager Herk Robinson has said the team wants to keep Appier, who started 11-2 last year to make the All-Star team before a sore shoulder put him in a slump for the second half.

Appier has said he will take less money to stay with the Royals, but Robinson's offer was too much less.

Appier has been subject of trade rumors. He would be a prime acquisition for a team in a pennant race late this summer, and that could be why the Royals are delaying a deal. The theory is the cost-conscious Royals can get talented youngsters from somebody for Appier.

"I'm disappointed," Appier said, declining to say for publication what he was offered, but saying it represented a pay cut. "Herk's just doing his thing. He's doing his job.

"I think we can get something done relatively soon. Two weeks. Probably within a week. If it's not done in a week then I think it probably will get pushed back."

Appier gave up a second-inning run to the Rangers and then plowed through the lineup until Darryl Hamilton led off the eighth with a double, scoring on Mickey Tettleton's single off reliever Hipolito Pichardo.

"You tell me," Appier said, throwing his hands in the air when asked how to get Hamilton out.

"I would not have believed (my) batting average against him until you just told me," Hamilton said. "I don't read the papers because you don't want to get too caught up in it when things are going bad, and you don't want to get too caught up in it when things are going good.

"It's weird. I don't go to the plate thinking about a specific pitcher. He has a tendency to bear down when guys are in scoring position."

Fasano singled with one out and took third on Howard's double in the third. After Bip Roberts popped out, Tom Goodwin hit an RBI single that moved Howard to third.

Howard kept edging down the line with the encouragement of third base coach Tim Foli. Goodwin then faked a start to second, drawing a throw from the left-handed Oliver, who had his back to third, and Howard easily beat the throw home from first baseman Will Clark for a 2-1 lead.

"I thought, 'Somebody's going to yell something (from the Rangers dugout),'" Howard said. "No one did."

Paquette homered in the fourth inning and Fasano homered in the seventh, the third for both.

Tech loses opener in tourney

The Fresno State starter came within one out of pitching a nine-hit complete game against the redoubtable Red Raiders as the Bulldogs beat Tech by a resounding 12-5 margin in the first round of the NCAA Central Regional II baseball tournament Thursday.

In earlier Central II action Thursday, Oklahoma State defeated Arkansas 6-5 and Southern Cal steamrolled Akron 20-10.

Weaver (12-5) allowed the Raiders more than one hit in just two innings, retiring the side in order on four occasions and 11 of the first 13 batters he faced.

Fresno teed off on five Tech (47-14) pitchers for 16 hits and scored at least one run in every inning but the first.

Third baseman Matt Curtis led the Bulldogs with three doubles, a single and drove in four runs. Derek Feramisco added a home run, double and RBI single.

The first-round victory means the Fresno (36-22) will face Oklahoma State (42-19) in a winner's bracket contest at 7 p.m. today.

In the previous game, the Cowboys' Jeff Guiel scored when the Arkansas outfielder Keith Bradley dropped Danny DiPace's seventh-inning fly, snapping a 5-5 tie and giving Oklahoma State its 6-5 margin.

The two teams each scored three runs in the second and Arkansas (39-19) took a 5-3 lead with two more in the third. The Cowboys tied the contest with single runs in the third and fourth frames.

Brian Thomas (2-1) got the win in relief for the Cowboys, while Razorback reliever Lance Frank (9-3) suffered the loss. Dave Maurer picked up his third save for Oklahoma State.

In the tournament opener, Jacque Jones' 3-run home run led a 21-hit Southern Cal attack as the Trojans beat Akron 20-10.

The 20 runs tied the season-high for USC (42-14-1), which broke open the game with a nine-run, eight-hit cascade in the second inning.

Lowrance fires 76 in 2nd round of NCAA

LaQUINTA, Calif. — Brooke Lowrance had a better round, but her team dropped in the standings after two-rounds of the NCAA Women's Golf Championship taking place on the LaQuinta Resort Dunes Golf Course.

After shooting an 81 in the opeing round Wednesday, Lowrance came back with a four-over-par 76 in day two for a total of 157, good for a tie for 20th in the individual race.

"She (Lowrance) played pretty good all day," Texas Tech golf coach Jeff Mitchell said. "There were only 13 scores better than her's on the whole day. She's really played steady all year long, and today's (Thursday) her birthday. It was nice for her to play that well on her birthday."

As a team Texas Tech fell to 15th place with a 646 (321-325). The Lady Raiders trail first-place Arizona State by 22 strokes at the midway point of the four-day, 72-hole event.

Snyder residents will have a chance to see the final two rounds on a tape delayed basis on Prime Sports (Snyder Cablevision Ch. 14). The third round will be shown at 1 p.m. Saturday and the final round at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Big Spring and Andrews continue playoff run

The road to the state baseball tournament continues for four teams in Region I with the regional semifinals starting tonight.

The Andrews Mustangs and the Sherman Bearcats start a best-of-three series in Graham tonight at 8. Game two will be at 1 p.m. Saturday with game three, if needed, to follow.

The Mustangs advanced by defeating Dumas in a one-game playoff, 7-2. The Bearcats knocked out Snyder in two games, 12-2 and 13-0.

In the top half of the bracket, Big Spring will take on Fort Worth Arlington Heights in a three game series. Game one will be at 8 o'clock tonight in Abilene at Hunter Field. The second game is set for 11 a.m. Saturday with game three, if necessary, to follow.

Big Spring took the best-of-three series with Dumas last weekend, 7-5 and 10-0, while Arlington Heights won two over Frenship, 4-3, 3-0.

The winner of the series between Andrews and Sherman will take on the winner from the Big Spring-Arlington Heights series in the regional finals next week. The winner of the regional series will advance to Austin for the state tournament.

Secretly recorded jailhouse confession will not be used

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Without admitting legal wrongdoing, a prosecutor who secretly recorded a murder suspect's jailhouse conversation with a priest says he won't use the tape.

"There are some things that are legal and ethical, but are simply not right," District Attorney Doug Harcleroad said Wednesday. "I was wrong to authorize the taping of that conversation."

Conan Wayne Hale, 20, is a suspect in the Dec. 21 shooting deaths of three teen-agers in a forest near Springfield, about 110 miles south of Portland. He is in jail awaiting trial on related burglary and theft charges.

The Rev. Timothy Mockaitis spoke to Hale on April 22 as part of a Roman Catholic church Sacrament of Reconciliation. Harcleroad said he knew the priest was going to hear a religious confession and arranged for it to be taped. He had suggested that the state may try to use the tape in court.

At a news conference today in Portland, the Rev. Michael Maslowsky, director of pastoral services for the Archdiocese of Portland, said the archdiocese will go to court to see that the tapes are destroyed.

"While we accept the apology and the admission by the district attorney that he was wrong, there are still two crucial issues," Maslowsky said earlier. "Our position has remained and will remain that the tapes must be destroyed and the practice be stopped."

Details of the conversation have not been revealed. The tape and transcripts have been turned over to a judge and sealed, Harcleroad said. A sheriff's investigator, two deputy prosecutors and a secretary have heard the tape, he said. It was not clear whether Harcleroad knew the contents.

William Donohue, spokesman for the Catholic League for Religious and Civil Rights in New York, said he would petition members of Congress to introduce legislation that would "recognize the sanctity of the priest-penitent relationship."

"We were looking for a statement that he was wrong legally and wrong morally," Donohue said. "This statement suggests he is caving in to public pressure. We welcome his epiphany, but he still needs to be educated on morals and on the law."

Child molester ends 2-day standoff

HOUSTON (AP) — A convicted child molester who fled California before his sentencing has surrendered to FBI agents, ending a two-day standoff.

John Patrick Brown, 51, who barricaded himself in his apartment when agents came to arrest him Wednesday morning, surrendered to federal agents Thursday night without incident, FBI spokesman Jim Conway said.

"He had a weapon, and we didn't want him or anyone else hurt," Conway said.

Brown was taken to the Harris County Jail and was scheduled to appear before a federal judge Friday.

Conway said proceedings will begin to extradite Brown to California, where he was convicted in Santa Ana in 1981 on two counts of lewd acts with a child. He fled before his sentencing.

Brown was arrested for fraud in 1994 in Montclair, N.J., under the name Joseph Larry Lindeman. It was later, when his fingerprints were processed, that authorities discovered the man was actually Brown. By that time he had fled.

A federal warrant for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution was obtained later. Conway said agents recently located Brown in west Houston, living under the name Larry Hill.

City officials won't search landfil for gloves

AMARILLO (AP) — City officials who were notified that up to 12 pairs of possibly contaminated gloves from the Pantex Plant may have been shipped to the Amarillo landfill have decided not to search the dump.

City Public Works Director Mike Kennedy said the decision was made after officials learned that the gloves could only contain low levels of tritium, a radioactive material used in nuclear weapons, watches and smoke detectors.

"The contaminant level is extremely low," Kennedy said. "It being a municipal landfill, you start digging it up searching for something, you're going to induce a potential for much more serious hazards than what this poses."

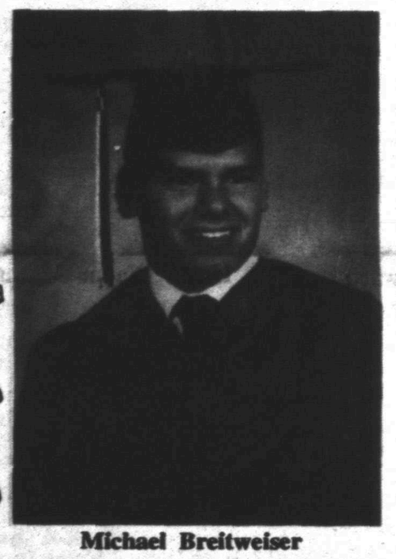

Although tritium may be present on the gloves, Pantex officials said the material posed no safety or health threats.

Pantex officials notified the city Thursday about the possible shipment and offered to pay a contractor to search for the gloves.

Aurora Borealis

The Aurora Borealis is known as the Northern Lights and is seen in the Northern Hemisphere. It appears in a wide variety of forms. Sometimes it's a quiet glow, almost foglike in character. Other times it's vertical streamers in which there is considerable motion. There are many colors, with white, yellow and red predominating.

The parents of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, a brilliant military leader and five-star general, were confirmed pacifists.

Rebuffed at federal level, lawyers to take cigarette lawsuits to state

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dealt a stinging defeat in federal court, lawyers representing smokers say they'll take their massive class-action lawsuit against cigarette makers to historically more lenient state courts.

The filings could begin as early as today, attorneys said.

On Thursday, a three-judge panel of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans unanimously rejected a class-action lawsuit that sought to represent virtually every smoker who claimed to be hooked on cigarettes.

The court ruled that a case of such magnitude would be too unwieldy. It did not address the lawsuit's core issue: Smokers' accusation that cigarette makers hid early knowledge that nicotine was addictive and that manufacturers manipulated nicotine levels to hook smokers.

The ruling ending the so-called Castano lawsuit was a huge victory for the embattled tobacco industry.

"We have never lost a case in 40 years of litigation," R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. attorney Charles Blixt said. "This ruling recognizes that fact."

The ruling should prompt anti-smokers "to stop the insanity in our nation's courts," Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp. said in a statement.

Tobacco stocks soared on the news, and anti-smokers recognized the defeat.

"It is a setback," acknowledged Rep. Henry Waxman, D-Calif., whose 1994 congressional hearings on nicotine prompted federal perjury investigations of tobacco executives and contributed to evidence in the New Orleans lawsuit.

But the tobacco wars are far from over. Castano attorneys immediately changed tactics, saying they would begin filing today identical class-action lawsuits in almost every state.

"We had a feeling this might happen, so we went to Plan B," explained lead attorney John Coale. "We may not go to Kentucky, avoid the tobacco states, but we'll see."

State courts historically are more receptive to class-action lawsuits, said John Banzhaf, a legal expert at Action on Smoking and Health. Indeed, two class-action suits already have survived appeals court challenge in Florida, one filed by smokers that is similar to the Castano case and another filed by 63,000 flight attendants exposed to secondhand smoke on airplanes.

The tobacco industry has appealed again, to the Florida Supreme Court.

Tobacco makers also are facing lawsuits filed by eight states seeking to recover Medicaid funds spent on the medical bills of smokers.

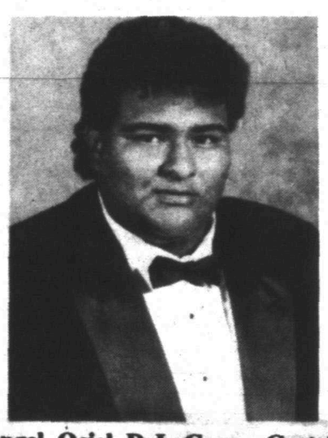

And under Thursday's appeals court ruling, the Castano lawsuit can still go forward on behalf of the original plaintiffs — three smokers and Dianne Castano, whose husband died of lung cancer.

Close to half of the urban space in American cities goes to accommodate automobiles.

Group meeting to talk about juvenile justice

AUSTIN (AP) — Attorney General Dan Morales says Texas cannot afford to keep building prisons and would do better by keeping young people from becoming criminals in the first place.

Morales' comments opened a two-day "Juvenile Violence and Minority Communities" conference Thursday, at which participants will search for ways to improve the juvenile justice system, directing more effort toward crime prevention.

Raul Yzaguirre, president of the National Council of La Raza, said that in juvenile justice, "an ounce of prevention is worth about ton of cure."

"We simply can't build enough prisons," Yzaguirre said. "We need to understand that it is a very good public investment to begin to devise strategies to make sure that our future, that our kids of the future, don't get involved in the juvenile justice system in a way that makes their lives a dead end."

Morales said the state's nearly 150,000 prison beds are the most of any prison system in the nation and possibly the world. He said the thought of reserving prison space now for elementary-age children is a sad commentary on state priorities.

"What we are doing in a very real sense is looking at 4- and 5- and 6-year-olds of today squarely in the eye and telling them, 'We're sorry, we don't have enough money to take care of you today by way of adequate investment in your public education, substance abuse and child abuse treatment prevention and counseling services.

"'We don't have enough money to take care of you today, but we are reserving you a room in 10 years. And for that room we are willing to shell out and plan for shelling out $50,000 to construct it and an additional $20,000 every single year to keep you there,'" Morales said.

"I would question whether that reflects the sort of prudent, visionary public policy-making all of us have a right to expect."

First deaf child will compete in spelloff

SPRING HILL, Fla. (AP) — The National Spelling Bee is just around the corner, and 11-year-old Jimmy McCarthy is in no mood for teasing.

"Unfortunately, in my state of preparation right now, I can't be very funny," he says, rolling his eyes at his father, who just joked in sign language about whether Jimmy should also study the Korean dictionary this weekend.

The sixth-grader is the first profoundly deaf youngster to make it to the annual Scripps Howard National Spelling Bee, which begins Wednesday in Washington, D.C., with 248 U.S. pupils who won a series of school and regional contests.

To Jimmy, it's a chance to prove himself. He says he's tired of being teased at school and misunderstood when he tries to communicate with people who can hear.

"I've kind of kept to myself at school and around hearing kids. This is my chance to be more than the boy behind the book," he said Thursday night, speaking out loud as his parents signed him questions.

"Hearing people don't always pay very good attention to deaf people's needs," he said. "It's important to show them that, given the chance, deaf people can be just as good as hearing people, maybe even better."

Other Bee contestants have been hearing-impaired, but Jimmy is the first profoundly deaf competitor. When he uses both his hearing aids, he can detect some sound but not much.

At the Bee, he will wear a radio device that will allow him to better hear words from the announcer. His interpreter will then mouth and sign the words he must spell — if she can.

There are roughly 400,000 words in the dictionary but only about 40,000 in sign language. So his school interpreter, who is making the trip with him, often has to define the word rather than sign it.

For instance, Jimmy won the regional Suncoast Spelling Bee in St. Petersburg by correctly spelling "quadrilateral," after interpreter Sea Sanderson gave him the sign for "four-sided." For "malaria," she signed "mosquito-sickness disease."

Contestants — who have to be in eighth grade or lower — are allowed to ask for definitions, or to have the word used in a sentence. When Jimmy spells a word, he will have to vocalize the letters and sign them because the judges fear they might not be able to understand him when he speaks, Bee spokeswoman Paige Pipkin said.

Jimmy was first diagnosed as hearing-impaired when he was 9 months old. Fortunately, his parents, Dennis and Sally McCarthy, already knew sign language.

"Of course, we know a lot more words now," Mrs. McCarthy said.

Jimmy's older sister, 13-year-old Annie, also knows sign language and the two often sign rather than speak.

Jimmy goes to Pine View Middle School in nearby Land O' Lakes because it has a strong program for the hearing-impaired, and except for one class, he learns with children who can hear.

Same film plays on many screens

NEW YORK (AP) — Looking for a movie to see? How about "Mission: Impossible?" Or maybe "Mission: Impossible." And then there's always ... "Mission: Impossible."

As part of the hype surrounding the new Tom Cruise flick, a handful of multiplex theaters in Manhattan are showing the movie on all screens — all day.

"Now showing 'Mission: Impossible' on six screens," reads the listing at one Sony theater. "Showtimes start at 11:30 a.m., and run every half-hour until 11 p.m."

The decision was up to the theaters and not part of a national marketing plan, said Blaize Noto of Paramount Pictures.

"Mission: Impossible" earned a first-day record $3.4 million on Wednesday, according to industry estimates. The debut broke the $3.1 million mark set in 1993 by "Jurassic Park."

Man who killed teen is indicted

WACO (AP) — A McLennan County man who police said held a teen-age burglar at gunpoint long enough to call 911 and the youth's mother before allegedly shooting him has been indicted on a murder charge.

A McLennan County grand jury Thursday indicted Donald Floyd, 38, on a murder charge in the Nov. 29 shooting death of Michael Paul Anderson, 15.

Floyd told deputies he heard breaking glass, grabbed a shotgun to protect himself and confronted an intruder in the hallway of his home about 7 p.m. the night of the shooting.

Police said the youth was unarmed, had none of Floyd's possessions and apparently didn't try to escape. Police records show Anderson had apparently surrendered to Floyd, who then left him alone at least two times to make telephone calls.

BIBLICAL ARCHERY!

THE FIRST MENTION OF ARCHERY IN THE BIBLE IS TO BE FOUND IN GENESIS. WE LEARN THAT ISHMAEL, ABRAHAM'S SON BY HAGAR, GREW UP TO BECOME AN ARCHER (GEN. 21:20). ARCHERS, OR BOWMEN, WERE AN IMPORTANT PART OF AN ARMY--LONG BEFORE THE SWORDSMEN COULD MAKE CONTACT WITH THE ENEMY, THE ARCHERS WERE DOING THEIR DAMAGE AT LONG-RANGE WITH THEIR BOWS! IT IS RECORDED IN FIRST CHRONICLES THAT HALF THE TRIBE OF MANASSEH, VALIANT MEN "...ABLE TO BEAR BUCKLER AND SWORD, AND TO SHOOT WITH BOW AND SKILLFUL IN WAR, WERE FOUR AND FORTY THOUSAND..." (I CHRON. 5:18) IN THE TRIBE OF BENJAMIN, NOTED FOR THEIR SHARP EYES AND THEIR SKILL AT HITTING THE MARK, THERE WERE MANY ARCHERS OF GREAT RENOWN. AT LEAST ONE KING WAS STRUCK DOWN IN BATTLE BY THE ARCHER'S EXPERT USE OF THE BOW--AHAB, KING OF ISRAEL, DIED AS WAS PROPHESIED, FROM A SYRIAN ARROW! (I KINGS 22:34-35). BOTH JOSHUA AND KING DAVID, GREAT GENERALS THAT THEY WERE, ALWAYS MADE PROPER USE OF THEIR BOWMEN TO THEIR ENEMIES' DISMAY AND DISCOMFORT!

Divers cutting holes in sunken ferry

Bodies of hundreds who drowned trapped inside

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Two divers took turns today slicing open the hull of a ferry to recover the bodies of hundreds of people who drowned when the ship sank to the bottom of Lake Victoria.

Ninety feet above, other divers retrieved 92 bodies that had floated free earlier in the clear, blue waters. In all, 120 bodies have been recovered.

A total of 549 people are believed to have died when the overloaded MV Bukoba capsized Tuesday near the port of Mwanza, 60 miles northwest of the capital, Dar es Salaam. There were 114 survivors.

Passengers trapped inside an air pocket had pounded on the hull and begged for help for hours. Seven hours after the ship capsized, rescuers cut two holes in the hull with a torch, but pulled out just three people before the ferry suddenly sank.

President Benjamin Mkapa made a plea Wednesday for international help to retrieve the bodies from the ship. Divers from the ferry owner, the state-run Tanzania Railways Corp., police, navy and army are poorly equipped.

Kenya sent 16 navy drivers, and a private Kenyan company sent two more, plus underwater cutting equipment. Twenty more divers were scheduled to arrive from South Africa late today, said Shukuru Sudi, spokeswoman for the Tanzania Railway Corp.

The divers were using underwater blow torches today to carve a 20-square-foot hole in the ferry's hull.

Jones files motions to unseal documents

DENVER (AP) — An attorney for Oklahoma City bombing suspect Timothy McVeigh is asking a federal judge to unseal his response to allegations by prosecutors that he leaked information to the news media.

In a motion first made public and then ordered sealed, Stephen Jones, lead attorney for bombing suspect Timothy McVeigh, on Monday accused federal prosecutors of using victims and government employees as surrogates to get around a judge's gag order.

McVeigh and codefendant Terry Nichols are charged with murder and conspiracy in the April 19, 1995, bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building, which killed 168 people and injured more than 500 others. If convicted, they could face the death penalty. The next hearing is scheduled for June 27-28 to consider defense motions to suppress evidence.

In the nearly 1,000-page filing that was later sealed, Jones also accused the government of "prosecutorial McCarthyism" — using innuendo to accuse defense lawyers of improperly disclosing evidence in the case. He denied allegations by prosecutors that he was the source of media leaks.

Copies of the documents were obtained by The Associated Press and some newspapers before they were ordered sealed by the court.

In the motion filed Wednesday and released Thursday, Jones urged U.S. District Judge Richard Matsch to unseal the documents.

Jones said he was only responding to allegations made against him and his client. He said he felt he had a right to respond publicly, which is why he released the documents.

"The government used its opportunity to respond to the Nichols Motion as a vehicle to publicly criticize Stephen Jones, lead counsel for Mr. McVeigh. Selectively sealing the McVeigh response denies Mr. McVeigh and counsel the opportunity to respond," Jones said.

"The conclusion is inescapable that the Government Response amounts to a thinly veiled attempt to publicly malign Mr. Jones and to poison public opinion against both Mr. Jones and Mr. McVeigh."

submitted an offer of $4,400 for the work.

The board also approved by-laws for the SnTx Park I Owner's Association, Inc. The by-laws establish a board of directors consisting of five people, three of whom will elected by members of the owner's corporation. The other two will be appointed by the DCOS board and Snyder City Council, respectively.

The board agreed to contribute $250 to the Texas Economic Development Council, Inc. The funds, along with funds contributed by other cities which collect a sales tax for economic development, will be used for a study of the positive impact as a result of the tax. The effort is to head off legislation being proposed by large cities — including Dallas — which attempts to place all economic development sales tax funds under a uniform cost/benefit formula.

Board member Jack Gorman told board members that taxable bonds of $985,000 for work at the industrial park had been purchased by Snyder National, West Texas State and American State Bank as of May 17.

Gorman also updated the board on the DCOS' plan to have its accounting handled through Yorgesen & Coronado.

As the meeting began, Bill Seale was presented with a plaque for his years of service to the DCOS. Seale, who announced his resignation last month, was an original board member, taking office in March of 1992.

No action was taken following an executive session to discuss the status of the executive director.

All board members were present, to include Gorman, Roy McQueen, John Fagin and president Roy Baze. Also present were city engineer Beverly Coots, city manager John Gayle and mayor David Holt.

Schools and grads in dispute over ethnic graduation dress

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — An American Indian who hung an eagle feather from her mortarboard and two blacks who wore a multicolored African tribal cloth with their graduation gowns were denied their high school diplomas.

The school district said they violated a policy against wearing ethnic symbols at graduation.

The district is withholding their Muskogee High School diplomas and transcripts until they complete 25 days in summer school as punishment.

"I'm not going to be defined by the white man anymore," Danaj Battese Trudell, an American Indian, said Wednesday.

Ms. Battese Trudell and the two others, Garrica Johnson and Sydney Watts, are seeking the American Civil Liberties Union's help.

"We do feel these young ladies have had their rights violated," said ACLU lawyer C.S. Thornton, who plans to meet with the students and the district. Thornton said he was told other students had been allowed to wear crosses.

Muskogee Schools spokeswoman Derryl Venters said the school board approved the dress code May 14 to restore dignity to a ceremony that had taken on "a carnival quality." Students participating in Saturday's ceremony were required to sign a statement saying they understood the dress code.

About 30 percent of the high school is black, and about 16 percent Indian. About 300 seniors participated in the graduation ceremony.

Astrologers say stars favor Yeltsin

MOSCOW (AP) — Even the stars are succumbing to President Boris Yeltsin's steamroller re-election campaign.

A constellation of prominent astrologers joined the growing list of pundits, pollsters and politicians predicting victory for the Russian president in the June 16 election.

"Astrologically, this is an excellent year for Yeltsin," Vladimir Kopylov of the Russian Astrological Society was quoted as saying in an article Thursday in the Moscow Times. "His sun is in the 10th house — the house of power and fame and the highest peak of the horoscope."

Yeltsin went into the race as an underdog, but he and his team have mustered the considerable powers of incumbency to turn the campaign around.

Most polls now show the president, an Aquarian, with a slight lead over his main challenger, Communist leader Gennady Zyuganov, a Cancer. The two are likely to go head to head in a July 7 runoff.

Mickey Mouse, Mickey D sign up for 10 year deal

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Get ready for a decade of McDisneyburgers. And who knows? Maybe there's a graceful way to work Ronald McDonald into the plot lines of Touchstone movies.

The Walt Disney Co. and McDonald's Corp. confirmed a 10-year alliance Thursday. In January, McDonald's will become Disney's primary promotional partner in the restaurant industry, sharing exclusive rights in more than 93 countries.

McDonald's 18,700 restaurants will promote Disney movies, theme parks and home videos. It will sponsor the Dinoland attraction at Disney's Animal Kingdom, opening in 1998 at the Walt Disney World Resort in Florida. It also will have restaurants at the Walt Disney World Resort and Disneyland Paris.

"I can see Walt Disney and Ray Kroc (who started franchising McDonald's restaurants in 1955) sitting up there and saying, 'This is perfect. This is what it's all about,'" David Green, McDonald's senior vice president for marketing said by phone from corporate headquarters in Oak Brook, Ill.

Disney President Michael S. Ovitz said companies whose brands are best known and most trusted will succeed in the expanding world marketplace.

"McDonald's and Disney are two such brands," Ovitz said in a statement from Disney's Burbank headquarters. "Our alliance will further enhance recognition of our pre-eminence in our respective industries."

Terms of the deal weren't announced. Disney spokesman John Dreyer said McDonald's movie promotions would focus on Walt Disney films, though those from Disney's Touchstone or Hollywood Pictures studios, which focus on more mature themes, aren't ruled out.

"There are opportunities for that, but it's primarily Disney films, the Disney brand," he said.

The alliance revives Disney-McDonald's ties that went slack after a 1990 dispute over Disney's flop "Dick Tracy." Disney mainly turned to Burger King, the No. 2 hamburger chain, to promote movies including "Aladdin," "Lion King" and "Toy Story."

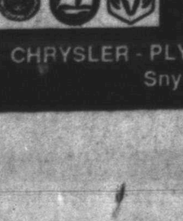

Drowning

Dive teams from Sweetwater and Big Spring were on the scene this morning as well as Scurry County deputies. The body had not been located as of noon.

Thirty-three people have drowned at Lake Thomas in its history. Johnson would be the 34th.
