New Levies To Slash Deficit May Be Asked

Reductions In Some War Excise Rates Favored By Solons

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—A general revision of federal tax laws was assigned top priority today for congressional action in 1950. It may produce some new taxes in a drive to balance the nation's budget.

Whether the new tax law will bear any resemblance to President Truman's now-abandoned 1949 proposal for a $4,000,000,000 increase—no one now can say. As a general rule, Congress is not disposed to raise taxes in an election year—which 1950 would be.

Excises May Be Cut

There were indications that, while hunting for new sources of revenue, Congress may actually reduce some levies—probably in the excise list. Some members believe the wartime excise rates to be burdensome both to taxpayers and to business.

House Speaker Rayburn disclosed the tax bill priority for 1950 in calling for immediate House action on a pending measure calling for expansion of the government's social security program.

The idea, Rayburn said, is to clear the way for the House ways and means committee to tackle overall tax revisions early next year.

The speaker did not say definitely what he expects in the new tax law but he did comment, significantly, that the government cannot indefinitely continue deficit financing—that is, borrowing to pay for day-to-day spending.

Deficit Estimated

This followed a recent statement by ways and means Chairman Doughton (D-NC), top Democratic tax manager, that "I am opposed to deficit financing except in case of war or serious economic emergency. . . A balanced budget in the near future, in my opinion, is essential to the economic stability and prosperity of the country."

Some experts are estimating that the government, in the current fiscal year ending next June 30, will go into the red by more than $5,000,000,000.

Deficit spending as a policy of government, Doughton said in his statement, is highly objectionable. He suggested a middle course, as follows:

"To provide some reasonable

Peeping Laid To Boy Friend

Police said a young man's belief that his girl friend was going about with someone else got him into a jam early today.

James Harold Smith, 24, of 2419 Eighth, posted bond for jury trial after pleading innocent of a charge of disturbance by window peeping, they said.

Police gave this official version of what they allege happened.

Smith went to the window of a kitchen in 1600-block Seventeenth, so that he could observe the girl's movements.

Girl Calls Police

But he made a noise, and the girl heard it. She called out, asking what was wanted, and received no answer.

Thinking a drunk was lying outside the window, she called the police. They arrested the suspect in 1500-block Ave. T, took him to the girl's residence where "she identified him," at 1 a. m.

RIOTS THREATENED IN OREGON

Violence In Labor Dispute Is Feared

(By The United Press)

The nation waited today for breaks in the steel and Ford labor deadlocks while violence threatened in Oregon as a result of the Hawaiian longshore strike and in Pennsylvania as result of the coal walkout.

About 1,500 CIO longshoremen in Oregon were reported converging on The Dalles, where municipal docks are not organized, to prevent unloading of $800,000 worth of pineapple from a barge that slipped away from docks struck by the longshore union in Hawaii.

Firemen were reported unlimbering high-pressure water hoses for use in breaking up possible rioting if officials went ahead with plans for unloading with non-union help.

Police Protect Mines

Police were assigned to protect 30 non-union shaft and strip mines in western Pennsylvania where non-union miners voted to return to work today despite efforts by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers to keep them idle during the current UMW strike.

A group of UMW men staged a sitdown strike in the Gilmer county courthouse in West Virginia in an attempt to force authorities to release two men arrested yesterday when 1,200 roving UMW pickets beat three non-union men and forced six mines to shut down operations.

Meanwhile, the CIO Electrical and Westinghouse if the companies fail to give way in negotiations scheduled to resume beginning Oct. 4.

Strike Deadline Near

With a nationwide steel strike deadline less than 100 hours away, government officials looked to Pittsburgh in hopes of a major break in the deadlock between the CIO Steelworkers union and

Pickpocket Loses Face As Detective (Woman) Nabs Him

TOKYO, Sept. 27. (AP)—Ten times pickpocket Yasutaro Sasaki, 59, went to jail for filching purses without complaint.

Each time he was arrested by male policemen.

Caught for the eleventh time today, Sasaki felt he had lost face—a woman detective arrested him in a department store.

"I didn't know they had women detectives," Sasika whined to the magistrate.

Farmers Face Labor Troubles

HARLINGEN, Sept. 27 (U.P.) — Rio Grande valley farmers found it difficult to hire alien workers today, but keeping them was a much harder problem.

Some employers reported that workers they hired at the processing center here were "stolen" by other farmers. No employers could be sure of his new hired hands until he had them in trucks and en route to the fields.

Shortage Of Workers

A distinct shortage of "wetbacks"—laborers who swim the Rio Grande to work on Texas farms—caused the competition.

The Border Patrol, on orders from Washington, had notified all lower Rio Grande valley farmers to "legalize" their wetbacks. Best estimates were that 50,000 aliens were involved.

The order specified that the workers must be registered at the Harlingen processing center under provisions of the United States-Mexico international labor agree-

Schools Recess, City Closes Up On Special Day

Special Features Are Promised For Crowds Attending

By EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

"Lubbock Day" jumped attendance at the 32nd annual Panhandle-South Plains as schools recessed and a majority of business houses closed shop today.

Two divisions of swine and the female division of the dual purpose livestock class were judged at the morning session. Judges, superintendents and spectators were unanimous in the opinion that the quality of the animals exhibited this year was better than in any previous year. The number of animals being shown is fewer than in the past.

The grand champion of the female division of the dual purpose cattle was Duallyn Mary Lou, a seven-year-old cow owned by Rothwell and Howell, Dimmitt. This entry had stiff competition all the way from the junior champion owned by V. M. Peterman, Amherst, crowding the champ all the way.

More Exhibitors Wanted

W. B. Griffin, Lynn county agent and livestock superintendent of the fair, said that the entries were "remarkably fine cattle but I'd like to see a lot more exhibitors than we have here today."

Ollie Liner, Parmer county agent, head of the dual purpose division, and R. E. Gracey, Roscoe, judge of the division, voiced similar sentiments. W. R. Kimbrough, Crosby county agent, assisted Liner.

The same complaints of too few entries were voiced by swine superintendent L. C. Herron, Garza county agent, and Lee Roy Colgan, Dawson county agent. Fred Hale, head of the swine experiment station at Texas A & M, was judge of the swine classes.

Prizes Are Awarded

In the boys show, for 4-H and FFA boys, Durocs and Poland China pigs were shown. No champions were named. In the senior section the grand champion Duroc sow was owned by T. H. Duval, Roaring Springs. The grand and junior champion boar was the entry of Bobby Warren, Dimmitt. Breeders young

Reading Housewife Breaks Own Record In Altitude Flight

READING, PA., Sept. 27 (AP) —Just a day after she claimed a new altitude record for light planes, Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman, 27-year-old Reading housewife, soared to an unofficial new mark of 26,400 feet.

Instruments in the plane she used yesterday were flown to Washington for official confirmation of her record claim by the National Aeronautics association.

Sunday Mrs. Zimmerman took her PA-11 to a height of 26,200 feet.

The present record-holder is Betty Skelton, of Tampa, Fla., who reached a height of 21,900 feet a year ago.

Reds' Island Base Sighted

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Sept. 26. (AP)—A passenger flying here from Tokyo was quoted by the Anchorage Times today as saying a Russian fighter plane zoomed close alongside a Northwest Airlines transport last Saturday over the northern Kuriles.

The Times said its information came from Bruce Aichison, Tokyo attorney and a director of the Japanese chamber of commerce American club. Aichison's story, told in an interview with a Times reporter, was:

Making his 22nd flight on the great circle route over the North Pacific, Aichison glanced from a window of the NWA airliner and noticed a huge airport on an island in the Russian-held northern Kuriles.

No Passes Made

Moments later a fighter plane with Russian insignia, apparently an American type given the Soviets during World War II, shot up, flew for some time beside the big U. S. commercial plane and looked it over carefully.

The fighter pilot did not try to change the course of the airliner, and made no threatening "passes" with his plane. After following alongside for several minutes, he turned back and disappeared.

(In Tokyo, the NWA Haneda airport station manager, I. A. Groe, said Northwest pilots have reported similar experiences "perhaps five or six times in the last 18 months." Groe did not identify the convoying planes but said they presumably were Russian craft on dawn patrol along the Kuriles.)

British Profits Tax Boosted One Fifth

Businessmen Are Warned On Breaking Away From Voluntary Dividend Limit

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Sir Stafford Cripps raised Britain's profits tax by one fifth today to offset the inflationary effect of cheapening the pound.

The tax on profits now is 25 per cent. Cripps told the House of Commons he is increasing it "as from today" to 30 per cent.

The chancellor of the exchequer also warned British men:

"If there is any further breaking away from the voluntary limitation of dividends I shall consider myself at liberty to introduce legislation to restrict dividends in the next finance bill."

Cripps opened the crucial debate in the House of Commons on the devaluation of the pound. He was fortified by a Labor party caucus which, informations said, decided to stand behind the government on the currency issue.

Cripps Has Authority

A treasury spokesman said Cripps has authority to raise the tax on business and industrial profits at once. Later, the spokesman said, the chancellor presumably will submit some sort of formal motion asking House of Commons approval, which would be virtually automatic in view of the heavy Labor majority.

Informed observers saw the action as a sop to rank and file labor which has been complaining that the little people will suffer most from the cheapening of the pound from $4.03 to $2.80.

The Trades Union congress has been insisting that even a slight rise in the cost of living would prove unbearable to the lower paid British workers. The TUC has not yet given the government,

Truman Declares His Critics 160 Years Behind The Times

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 —President Truman said today American prosperity is the best guarantee of world peace, and he urged public support of his program to keep the economy booming.

In a radio broadcast that was openly political, Mr. Truman said critics who accuse him of seeking a "welfare state" are 160 years behind the times. He said "they want us to forget the language of the constitution."

He said the Democratic party stands for—and the 81st Congress is acting on—measures to improve housing, education, health, and social security, and to protect the wages of workers and incomes of farmers.

Legislation Sought

He said the party is determined to keep the economy growing and expanding. To make this possible, he said, Congress is working on laws to assure better use of natural resources, to develop more electric power, and to bring water to areas that are arid.

"Above all else we want to keep the United States prosperous and strong because we know that our prosperity is the best guarantee of peace," he said.

"Every measure to promote the general welfare in this country is a measure to promote peace in the world.

"The program of the Democratic party is a program for prosperity and peace. It can be made effective only through the united efforts of our citizens."

Mr. Truman spoke from the Police Seek Feet To Fit Burglars' Shoes

FORT WORTH, Sept. 27—(AP)—Police seek feet to fit two pairs of shoes today.

The burglars got $250 from the safe, but in their haste to escape they lost their sandal-type shoes.

Texan Breaks Law To Get Medical Aid

LARAMIE, Wyo., Sept. 27 A 65-year-old pipefitter deliberately broke the law so he could go to jail and get medical treatment.

"There's no one to take care of me unless it is the sheriff's office," Harry Claude Brown of Dallas, Tex., said in his cell today.

A sympathetic shopkeeper watched the elderly man deliberately steal some goods in his store and then telephoned police and entered a charge of shoplifting.

Obliging police arrested Brown and took him to his cell on the third floor of the courthouse. He was so weak yesterday when his arraignment came up that he wasn't able to leave his cell. Officers carried his plea of guilty to the courtroom.

"He is a very sick man," Undersheriff Ed Wood said.

The peace justice gave Brown 60 days in jail.

Fair Weather For Week Is Forecast

Continued fair weather through the rest of the week was foreseen by the weather man today.

Today's temperatures were slightly cooler than Monday, which had ideal weather for both the cotton harvest and the Panhandle-South Plains fair.

Monday's maximum temperature of 79 degrees during the afternoon was followed by a minimum of 52 degrees early this morning, and today's maximum was expected to range between 73 and 75 degrees.

Only occasional partly cloudy conditions were foreseen. Monday night saw some thundershower activity in the vicinity of Clovis, N. M.

Thirteen Dead After Mishap In Oklahoma

Names Of Victims In Fiery Tragedy Are Not Revealed

(By The United Press)

Airplane crashes in widely separated parts of the world claimed an estimated 61 lives today with more than half of the victims the crews of British and American air force bombers.

Thirteen officers and men went down last night with a B-29 Superfortress that crashed and burned in a rugged mountain area of southeastern Oklahoma.

In England, 14 British airmen died last night when two four engined Royal Air Force Lincolns collided during a mock bombing raid on Staythorpe, 120 miles north of London.

Eleven Dead In Guam

The U. S. air force reported from Guam that 11 members of a 14-man Superfortress crew were killed last Friday in a takeoff from an airfield there.

Among the dead was S-Sgt. Victor G. Samford, jr., 23, radio operator, Kilgore, Texas.

In Mexico, 23 persons, including two Americans, were feared dead in the wreckage of a Mexican airline plane which crashed yesterday against snow-capped Popocatepetl volcano, 45 miles southeast of Mexico City.

FLAMES MAKE WORK OF RESCUE IMPOSSIBLE

(By The Associated Press)

TALIHINA, Okla., Sept. 27 — A B-29 air force bomber crashed and burst into flames near this southeastern Oklahoma town early last night, possibly snuffing out the lives of 13 crew members.

Tinker air force base officers in Oklahoma City said the plane was on a non-stop navigational training flight from Smoky Hill base, Salina, Kas.

Air force authorities did not disclose names of the 13 men who boarded the plane on its takeoff.

Counted 10 Bodies

City Marshal Jack Bishop said he counted 10 bodies near the molten mass shortly after midnight, five hours after the four-engine craft plunged earthward.

Flames made it impossible for rescue volunteers to get within 100 yards of the plane after gasoline spread over the area. Intense heat after the fire died out also delayed a close view of the wreckage.

Some observers said they thought they heard the plane explode in midair. Bishop and Ora

Ship Ploughs Into Volcano

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 27. (U.P.)—Searchers said today that all 23 persons aboard a missing Mexican airline transport probably were dead in the wreckage of the plane which crashed on the three-mile-high slopes of a dormant volcano.

Rescue parties started climbing the jagged snow-capped peak at dawn to search for the two-engined DC-3 and possible survivors. Among the passengers were possibly two Americans and Gabriel Ramos Millan, head of Mexico's corn commission and often mentioned as a possible presidential candidate for 1952.

Plane Hours Overdue

A Mexican peon reported he saw a "large plane" crash on Popocatepetl volcano, 45 miles southeast of here, at 1:40 p. m. yesterday. Campania Mexicana De Aviacion, a Pan American Airways subsidiary, said its plane was hours overdue from Tapachula, on the Guatemala border, and radio reports indicated it had struck the 17,882-foot peak.

The plane last reported its position about 10 minutes before the crash from Puebla, about 15 minutes from the mountain, the second highest in Mexico.

An airline official said that Eugenia Goldsmith and George Graham, believed to be Americans, were aboard the transport. Their addresses were not immediately available.

Had Good Weather

The airline said the plane, enroute to Mexico City, had good weather conditions along the flight

Residents Of Two Towns Ready To Move Out

Forest Fires Out Of Control In Pacific Northwest Areas

(By The Associated Press)

Residents of two Oregon coastal towns prepared today to move out of their homes as a mile wide forest fire licked down a mountain side and near their doorsteps. Farm families in another Oregon area in flames were moved out last night.

The fires were among dozens that burst out of control in western Oregon and southwest Washington Monday.

Smoke hung over timbered mountain ranges in great clouds and hampered the aerial survey plans of foresters. There were no reports of injuries among the two thousand men working the fire lines last night. More men and school boys were being recruited today.

Foresters said the burning areas totaled up to ten thousand acres.

The most menacing fire was near the coast resort communities of Cannon Beach and Tolovana park. A few families left their homes last night. Others had packed their be-

Nervous Defendant Weeps During Recess

Jury Verdict Is Awaited In Treason Case Of Tokyo Rose

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27—The fate of Iva Toguri D'Aquino, charged with treason as the "Tokyo Rose" of wartime Radio Tokyo, is still in the hands of the jury today.

At 11:11 p. m. last night, weary court attaches, newsmen and scattered spectators were informed that the jury of six men and six women was retiring for the night. Deliberations will be resumed at 9 a. m. (12 noon E. S. T.)

The jury received the case from Federal Judge Michael J. Roche at 11:44 a. m. yesterday. With time out for meals and requests to the court, it had deliberated 8 hours and 48 minutes when it called a halt last night.

The 33-year-old defendant, Los Angeles-born Nisei, was palpably nervous. She wept once during the forenoon recess. When the jurors filed out to start deliberations, it required five minutes and two efforts to get her out of the courtroom.

DELAY IN CONGRESS EXPECTED

Truman Still Plugs For Aid To World's Backward Areas

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 — Bareheaded on bright, cold Jan. 20, President Truman stood on the temporary wooden stand at the capitol and delivered his inaugural address, beginning his full, four-year term.

In that address he outlined four roads down which he thought the U. S. should travel in its international relations in the years ahead. He listed them as four points in his country's foreign program:

1. We should continue to stick by the United Nations. This the U. S. is doing.

2. We should continue our programs for world recovery. For example, the Marshall plan. Later this year Congress voted to continue the Marshall plan.

Arms Aid Voted

3. We should help strengthen friendly nations against fear of aggression. Congress has acted on that, too. It approved the Atlantic pact, linking us in a military alliance with western Europe. And then it voted arms for our allies.

4. We must set out on a "bold new program for making the benefits of our scientific advances and our industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped areas." On this Congress has done nothing this year, is not expected to act before next year.

But since that January day the "bold new program" has been known as "point four." It has received a lot of attention. And Mr. Truman and his advisers have been pushing for it.

They think point four should be carried out in two main ways:

1. By investing American money—meaning American businessmen investing their money—in backward areas to help build them up. When businessmen invested their money that way it would be understood they'd be investing to make a profit.

2. By technical and scientific help. For example, American engineers would be sent into the backward areas to teach the people there some of the skills which have made this country so advanced industrially.

Mr. Truman's advisers have sent two bills to Congress to get approval on those two main plans for carrying out point four:

Under No. 1, Congress would guarantee that American businessmen would get some protection on the money they invested in the backward places. For example, a guarantee that this country would protect them against loss if their investments were seized.

Under No. 2, Congress is asked to vote $45,000,000 to cover the expenses of getting the technical part of the program under way. For example, the expense of sending engineers, scientists or economic advisers into the backward places.

Today James E. Webb, undersecretary of state, was to go before the House foreign affairs committee to plug for that second part of the point four program: money for technical help to backward areas.

Because Congress is so close to finishing up its work for 1949—or all the work it wishes to finish before going home—no action is likely on point four before Congress returns in January to start its 1950 work.

Meanwhile, the U. S. is taking part in various programs to help backward countries through international tie-ups. For example:

The Food and Agriculture organization and the World Health organization, both of which have sent experts into countries which need help in health and farming work.

Screen Comeback Of Eleanor Powell May Be Permanent Affair

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27. (AP)—Eleanor Powell, who tapped her way through many a musical a few years back, may make a permanent thing of her film return.

The long-stemmed tapster is set for a guest appearance in "Duchess of Idaho" with Esther Williams. Her old home lot also wants her to sign on for one picture a year for the future.

This information comes from her husband, Glenn Ford, on "The White Tower" set. He next returns to his old alma mater, Columbia. Glenn turned down a chance to co-star with Lana Turner in "A Life Of Her Own;" he didn't like the role. That's getting to be a problem picture, what with Lana reportedly balking at doing it, too.

New Radio Stunts

John Garfield will skip doing a Broadway show this season. He will take on another picture after "The Big Fall" and produce his own "The Italian Story" in Italy next summer. John is still a commuter from New York; says it gives him a fresher approach to movies not to live here. He is now in a hospital for a check up after a dizzy spell. Nothing serious, the studio says.

Ralph Edwards says new and unusual stunts will be his answer to the FCC's ban on giveaway air shows. His latest on "Truth or Consequences" is his own entry to swim the English channel. Don't be surprised if the swimmer has flippers.

Celeste Holm, free from her studio contract and glad of it, heads for New York after "Champagne and Caesar." She has a couple of play deals cooking and if one jells, she'll give movies the go-by for a year.

Oklahoma Will Vote On Liquor

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27 (AP)—Oklahoma, the last prohibition stronghold in the United States besides Mississippi, will test its 42-year-old constitutional ban on liquor for the sixth time today.

A constitutional amendment to repeal prohibition will be voted upon at a special election. A $36,000,000 bond issue for public buildings, sponsored by Gov. Roy J. Turner, also is on the ballot.

Fair weather is forecast and predictions call for a half-million vote turnout, which would be a record for a special election.

David C. Shapard, attorney for the United Dry association, forecast a cautious 50 to 2,000 margin for continuance of the liquor ban.

Wet Margin Predicted

Albert G. Kulp, president of repeal-advocating Oklahoma Economic institute, predicted a margin of 55,000 votes for the wets with 550,000 votes to be cast.

Church groups have led the fight for prohibition.

Governor Turner put repeal on the ballot with his bond issue after the OEI presented a petition with 212,000 signatures asking a repeal vote last March.

If either repeal or the bond issue is approved, a special session of the legislature will be necessary to enact enabling laws.

Kansas repealed its dry laws last November, leaving Oklahoma and Mississippi the lone states in the nation where intoxicating liquor is prohibited.

Judgment Of $2,300 Is Entered In Suit

Judgment of $2,300 in favor of the plaintiff L. G. Walters and against W. A. Edwards was entered Monday afternoon in the civil action of L. G. Walters against J. B. McPherson and others, for damages and return of abstract, 99th district court officials said.

Judge G. V. Pardue denied any recovery against McPherson.

When court was reconvened Monday afternoon, the case was withdrawn from a jury selected that morning, by agreement of counsel. Judge Pardue heard evidence, then announced his decision. The law firm of Allred and Boedeker represented Walters. McPherson was represented by the law firm of Nelson and McClesky. The defendant Edwards was not represented by counsel.

The $2,300 represents a forfeit referred to in a sales contract precedent to Walters' sale of a piece of property to Edwards, through McPherson, officials said.

AUTOMOBILE PRODUCTION CITED AS EXAMPLE

Signs Show Russia Not Ready Industrially For Stockpiling Atom Bombs, Senator Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said today every sign indicates Russia doesn't have the industrial know-how or facilities to stockpile atomic bombs.

O'Mahoney, who led one congressional group in the drive to tighten the secrecy around American atomic developments, told a reporter he doesn't agree with Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) that information leaks may have speeded Soviet efforts to fire an a-bomb.

"The basic scientific information has been no secret," the Wyoming senator said. "It's the industrial know-how of making the bombs that is important.

Autos Are Example

"The Russians just don't have the technical abilities nor the facilities to stockpile bombs. Just look at their attempts to produce authomobiles. They are far behind and this certainly is a much more complicated matter than producing automobiles."

Hickenlooper told the Senate yesterday that "loose security policies" by the Atomic Energy commission had "permitted vital information to filter out of this country."

"I have no doubt that they have helped step up Russia's time table for the production of an atomic explosion by a very substantial period of time," he declared.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) of the Senate-House atomic committee took sharp issue with Hickenlooper.

McMahon said an investigation by the committee of Hickenlooper's charges of "incredible mismanagement" against the AEC and Chairman David E. Lilienthal hadn't produced a single bit of evidence that loose security policies helped the Russians get atomic knowledge.

Alertness Shown

"On the contrary," he said, "the evidence showed a profound and constant concern for security on the part of the commission."

If there were any security leaks, McMahon said they must have occurred when the Army had charge of the project during the war and before the civilian commission took over.

He said that the basic work on producing atomic energy had been done in many countries before the war began, adding that "Russia has the bomb today because its development was principally a matter of time and hard work."

"This is not a time for groundless accusations," he said. "We must concentrate all our energy and wisdom, not upon seeking an innocent scapegoat, but upon finding a solution for the monumental problem that confronts us."

Hickenlooper told the Senate that more than 4,000 persons had been employed by the commission under temporary security clearance without FBI investigations.

"There have been a number of cases where later investigation, after weeks of employment, have shown employs to be very doubtful security risks," he said.

O'Mahoney was chairman of a Senate appropriations subcommittee which forced the AEC to agree to a policy of having FBI investigations made of persons chosen to receive government fellowships to study in non-secret scientific fields connected with atomic developments.

Lubbock Man Treated After Auto Accident

Gordon A. Acker, 34, of 2103 Eighth street, was dismissed from West Texas hospital after treatment for minor injuries received when his car collided with an asphalt truck at 7 p. m. Monday in the 2800 block on Thirty-fourth street.

Ted Peters, 34, of Lubbock route 6, driver of the 1946 White truck owned by the West Texas Construction company, was not injured, but the left rear of the truck was heavily damaged.

Acker's 1940 Plymouth coach was heavily damaged on the front and left side. Acker, a laundry foreman, received lacerations on his face, bruises and cuts on his right arm. He was taken to the hospital by a McDonald Funeral home ambulance.

Peters was driving west on Thirty-fourth street, police records showed, while Acker was driving east on the same street. Acker was given a traffic summons charging negligent collision, police said.

Many rents recently were increased 100 per cent, in Paraguay.

Housing Is Problem For LAFB Personnel

Off-base housing for military personnel at Lubbock Air Force base is still a big problem, despite scores of placements made last week.

Officials at the base estimated that an additional 400 houses of various sizes are needed to alleviate the situation. The largest demand is for small two and three room apartments and houses for couples with children. Larger units for families with from one to six children are also desired.

First Lieut. Reed T. Peter, housing officer, urges all owners or agents for rental property of all kinds to contact him at Lubbock Air Force base, 3-1951, extension 144. After hours telephone operators at the base will forward calls to him for listing of rental properties.

Eyes Wide With Fear, Flower Girl Blocked Wedding Processional; Father Is Worried

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 39 and my wife is 38. We have three children — a daughter nearly nine, another four and a half, and a son just two years old. I am writing about the middle child, Elsa.

Recently Elsa was asked to be flower girl at the wedding of a younger sister of my wife's sister-in-law, in a small town church 80 miles from our home. We didn't discuss it too much or in any way emphasize the event in advance; and two days before the wedding Elsa left with her uncle, aunt and small cousins (one of whom was to be ring bearer), so that the wedding party would have a chance to rehearse before the ceremony.

When my wife and I arrived the morning of the wedding, we were told that Elsa had refused to practise and that no pressure had been applied. We questioned her attitude in an offhand way and she said that she didn't need to practise, that she knew what to do; and after my wife had dressed her, she showed us that she did know.

CHILD'S MOTHER WAS VERY UPSET

HOWEVER, when the processional started and it was Elsa's turn to enter the church from the vestry, she sat down in the doorway, her eyes wide with fear, and started to cry. After a few seconds' persuasion I removed her from the floor so that the bride and her father could enter. Elsa shook with what I suppose was fear and continued to cry. My wife was terribly upset and hurt.

He had to coax a great deal to get her to join the wedding party for a picture, but she finally did do that; and that's about the story except for my question: Was her reaction normal, or was it a forerunner of some emotional disturbance that should be watched and corrected?

Elsa has never been a shy child, more to the contrary if anything, although my wife has many fears and did exactly the same thing when she was six years old. Although Elsa doesn't go to church every Sunday, she has been often enough that it isn't a novelty, but she has always gone to a church of a different denomination, however. What is your interpretation of her behavior? Signed: E.B.

SIMPLE INSTANCE OF UNPREPAREDNESS

DEAR E. B.: It seems to me that Elsa's ignominious flop in the wedding processional was simply a matter of smarty-pants taking a tumble.

She was acting too big for her britches, as the saying goes, in refusing to rehearse—on the theory that she "knew" what to do and didn't need to practise,—and consequently when the time came to deliver, she flunked because she wasn't prepared to go through her paces automatically.

However, this hoity-toity assumption of hers and its dismal denouement may be rightfully charged to her parents' innocent error in treating her part in the forthcoming ceremony just too, too casually,—your intention being, of course, to put her at ease about her "leading" part in the big undertaking, so that she wouldn't get nervously apprehensive of failure in advance.

Your question indicates concern as to whether she may be neurotically inclined, fundamentally anxious or latently hysterical to an abnormal degree. In my opinion, her performances as described doesn't afford significant evidence for thinking so.

DISCIPLINE HELPS CONTROL EMOTIONS

THE FACT that she set forth blithely (I gather) with her uncle and aunt and small cousins, taking leave of her parents for a couple of days (and a longish journey) without whimpering or clinging, suggests that she has normal security-feelings for a child her age,—and so also does her bland refusal to practise with the weding party, simply because she didn't want to.

Further, the fact that her parents, on learning of her balkiness, only questioned the attitude by delicate indirection, suggests that Elsa is accustomed to much more approbation and tolerance than objective discipline from them in the rearing process,—and this, I believe, gets at the root of her distrait behavior described.

It occurs to me that your too-velvety training methods leave her too much at the mercy of stampeding emotions in big moments when you can't act for her. And need I remind, the essential good of schooling a child in obedience to reasonable authority is to assist the youngster in developing rational reflex-control of infantile fears.—M.H.

JOINT COMMITTEE ACTS SWIFTLY

Arms Program Agreement One Answer To Atom-Bomb Claim

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Swift agreement in a Senate-House committee on a $1,314,010,000 (b) overseas arms program sped along today one U. S. answer to Russia's a-bomb claims.

The news of an atomic blast in Russia served to speed agreement among the lawmakers that friendly nations must be strengthened against the threat of Communism.

Economy Move Dropped

A Senate-House conference late yesterday sidetracked a House economy move and agreed, in three hours, on the higher cost program voted earlier by the Senate. The discarded House figure was $869,415,000, or $444,595,000 less than the agreed-upon Senate figure.

The conferees worked on final small points today. This will clear the way for final congressional action, first by the House and the Senate.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee told reporters the Russian atomic reports "have given the arms program new strength."

Republican Senators Bridges of New Hampshire Knowland of California agreed.

Money Division Given

Usually, conferees appointed to settle Senate-House differences reach agreement by an in-between compromise. In this case the House members dropped any pretense of fighting for the lower figure. And as the authorization bill now stands it contains:

$1,000,000,000 (B) for the North Atlantic pact nations;

$211,370,000 (M) for Greece and Turkey;

$27,640,000 (M) for Iran, Korea and the Philippines;

$75,000,000 (M) which may be spent by the President—as he sees fit—in the China area;

Permission to ship $450,000,000 (M) of surplus arms.

House members insisted on only relatively minor changes in the arms plan voted by the Senate.

Briefly, the program would authorize the bulk of arms aid for western Europe and make $125,000,000 (M) available immediately to get the aid program underway. This money would come from the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

The remainder of the crash and contract authority would be provided by appropriation. The aid for western Europe is divided, $500,000,000 (M) in cash and $500,000,000 (M) in outhority to enter contracts.

Only $100,000,000 (M) in cash could be spent immediately. The remainder would become available only after President Truman approves defense recommendations made by the Atlantic pact military committee.

The Senate insisted on putting this string on the spending to tie the program more closely to the operations of the North Atlantic security council and the defense committee.

The House members gave ground, too, in accepting aid for the China area. The House had voted nothing for China.

The conference action does not bind either House to accept the bill. Most lawmakers, however, had little doubt about the bill getting quick approval.

Man Is Convicted Of White Slave Charge

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 27 (AP)—A Georgia furniture store executive has until Oct. 6 to get his affairs in order before beginning a three-year federal sentence for using his wife in white slavery.

Judge C. B. Kennamer granted the suspension yesterday to James R. Little of Austell, Ga. Little is free in $3,000 bond.

The 35-year-old Little admitted in court that he permitted his wife to be a prostitute. He said he solicited "dates" for her through a hotel bellhop.

Both Little and his wife denied, however, that she was brought to Montgomery from Jackson, Miss., for immoral purposes. U. S. attorneys made that contention.

FBI agents said Little is vice president and sales manager of an Austell furniture firm.

Deanna Durbin Files Second Divorce Suit

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27. (AP)—Deanna Durbin has filed suit for divorce from her second husband, movie director Felix Jackson.

The complaint said the couple had been separated since Jan. 6, 1947. They were married in Las Vegas, Nev., June 13, 1945. Miss Durbin was his fourth wife. She has been married once before. The actress was divorced in 1943 from Vaughn Paul, also a film producer.

LONELY HEARTS TRIAL CONTINUES

Youth Blames Argument Over Widow For Shooting Of Man

DOVER, Del., Sept. 27—(AP)—The prosecution is expected to delve further today into testimoney of 16-year-old Robert Brennan that he killed his mother's lonely hearts suitor in self defense after an argument over a young war widow.

Young Brennan, testifying at his murder trial yesterday, said he shot and killed Wade N. Wooldridge after Mrs. Dolly Dean insisted he force the 67-year-old Stone Mountain, Va., carpenter from the Brennan farm.

The state contends Robert shot Wooldridge last Oct. 10 at his mother's orders, buried the body in a pigpen, later burned the remains and put them on a dump. The mother, Mrs. Inez Brennan, 45, met Wooldridge through lonely hearts correspondence.

Robert is being tried on a murder charge and his mother as an accomplice.

Robert testified Mrs. Dean, 26-year-old former housekeeper on the Brennan farm, threatened to tell his brother, Raymond, that she and Robert had illicit relations if he failed to get Wooldridge to leave.

Mrs. Dean, Robert said, was "Raymond's girl."

When Assistant Attorney General C. Edward Duffy asked whether Robert had made a statement to police that he killed Wooldridge at his mother's prompting, the youth declared:

"What I did was because of my humiliation over my relations with Dolly. That meant more to me than anything. I didn't know how serious it was against mom."

Mrs. Dean, who is one of the state's star witnesses in the trial, buried her face in her hands as Robert testified. She later was led sobbing from the courtroom.

Incident Described

Soon after Wooldridge arrived at the Brennan farm, Robert testified, "Dolly came out of the kitchen and said Wooldridge was getting fresh with her and was putting his hands on her."

"She told me," the youth added, "I would have to tell him to get off the farm. She told me that if I didn't do it, she would tell Ray I had forced her to have intimate relations with me."

Robert then said that he and Wooldridge went to the barn, that they got into an argument over Mrs. Dean and that Wooldridge "pulled a knife."

"I ran up the barn steps to the loft," Robert said. "He followed up the stairs. I yelled for Ray. Mr. Wooldridge kept coming and I told him I would put a shot in him."

"Did you shoot him?" he was asked.

"Yes, sir," Robert replied, "But only one shot.

The state contends young Brennan fired at Wooldridge twice with a 12 gauge shotgun, the second time at his mother's bidding.

Earlier, Mrs. Dean testified Robert killed Wooldridge and quoted him as saying" I finished the old man—I shot half his face off."

All In A Lifetime — A Dog's Life

Indian Accused Of Whippings

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 27 (AP)—A Creek Indian missionary accused of whipping three Seminole Indian girl members of his congregation has been dismissed by the Southern Baptist Home Mission board.

The superintendent of the Seminole agency under the Office of Indian affairs announced yesterday that the action had been taken against Stanley Smith.

Kenneth A. Marmon, the superintendent, said Smith was a "disturbing influence" among the Florida Indians.

Told Of Dance

Smith came to the Dania reservation in 1943 from Oklahoma and organized a church of more than 200 members from among the 823 Seminoles on three reservations.

Marmon said he had affidavits signed by Juanita Fewell, 23-year-old Seminole girl of the Dania reservation, who charged Smith whipped her and two other young Indian women—Agness Billie and Sadie Tommie—with a "light cord doubled four times."

She charged Smith beat her after she told him she had been to a Fort Lauderdale dance hall with his son, Joseph Smith.

Smith was unavailable for comment.

Red Sox Shade Yankees, 7-6

Boston Plays Nats Tonight

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The possibility was strong today that the nation's railroads—and not New York's famed subway system—will transport the participants in the 1949 World Series.

The right of way between Boston and St. Louis is the expected route of the series personnel instead of the hour ride via the underground from Ebbets field to the Yankee stadium.

New Yorkers' hopes of a "subway" World Series suffered another rude jolt yesterday when the torrid Boston Red Sox defeated the New York Yankees, 7-6, to snap their first place tie and move a game in front of the floundering Yanks in the American league race.

The dreams of a dime classic were jarred Sunday when the St. Louis Cardinals moved a game and a half in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers by downing Chicago while Brooklyn succumbed to Philadelphia.

Dodgers Are Idle

Both the Red Sox and the Cards renew their pennant drives on foreign fields today while the Yanks entertain the better equipped Philadelphia Athletics. The Cards meet the sixth place Pirates in a night game at Pittsburgh.

Joe Dobson (13-11) has been nominated to pitch for the Red Sox against Senator ace Rae Scarborough (12-11). The Yanks will send Vic Raschi (19-10) against Dick Fowler (14-10).

Big Red Munger (15-7) has been picked to pitch for the Cards against Lefty Bill Werle (11-12).

Both the Red Sox and Yanks have five games left to play. The two contenders wind up the season in the stadium with single games Saturday and Sunday following their three game series against Washington and Philadelphia.

Cards Face Pirates

The Red Sox outlook is brighter than the Yanks. The spirited men of McCarthy have beaten the Senators 13 straight times. The Yanks have won 12 out of 19 engagements with the A's.

St. Louis will have its work cut out beating Ralph Kiner and company. The Pirates, despite their lowly perch, have split 20 games with the Red Birds.

The Dodgers return to action tomorrow when they open a two game set with the fourth place Braves in Boston.

A disputed squeeze play, that climaxed a four-run eighth inning rally gave the Red Sox their triumph over the Yanks before 66,156 paid onlookers.

Bobby Doerr bunted Johnny Pesky across with the big run. Doerr dropped the ball down the first line. Tommy Henrich's throw had Pesky beat but Umpire Bill Grieve called Pesky safe. He said later the Red Sox runner slid under Yankee Catcher Ralph Houk.

The Yanks immediately swarmed around Grieve like a bunch of hornets, claiming that Houk had blocked off Uesky. Houk, a major in the Rangers during the war, was the most enraged of the Yanks.

Kinder Blanks Yanks

Ellis Kinder, who shut out the Yanks in Boston Saturday, blanked the New Yorkers in the last two rounds but an amazing catch by Zarilla saved the game in the ninth. With one down in the home ninth Henrich whaled a drive to right. Zarilla sprinted to his right, leaped while in full stride, caught the drive, tumbled to the ground but held on to the ball. Kinder then walked Yogi Berra but Hank Bauer flied out to end the game.

The Red Sox opened the game by scoring three runs in the first inning against Tommy Byrne and Fred Sanford.

Young Mickey McDermott held the lead until the fourth when the Yanks moved ahead with a four run rally. McDermott almost received his walking papers in the second but Zarilla came up with a tremendous catch against the right field stands to rob Johnny Lindell of a three-run homer.

No other games were scheduled.

Sox Stage Dressing Room Celebration

Clock "Strikes Twelve" For Yank Manager Casey Stengel

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Casey Stengel, the cinderella manager, was listening to the clock chime twelve.

His seamed face quivered and his faded blue eyes were hidden behind a suspicious film as he slumped on a couch in his tiny office deep under Yankee stadium.

After leading the American league all season, his Yankees just had been knocked off that perch by the onrushing Red Sox. Now only five games were left and time was running out fast.

So were old Casey's ancient dreams. This chance had come late for the blocky man from Kansas City. Four other years he had managed in the majors, but never did he have the class going for him and fifth was the best he ever did. Then, out of nowhere, came his chance to run the Yankees, and despite ceaseless injuries old Case had kept them up there in first place—until now.

Now they had tumbled to second, and the pressure was all theirs. And Stengel's lined face showed every day of his 58 years.

"No photographers," he said in a husky, wavering voice. "No pictures of 'em dying."

But in the adjoining dressing room the Yankees, who must have heard the bell tolling for old Case, too, weren't dying. They were mad, clean through.

Little Johnny Pesky had scored the winning run in the eight by sliding home under Yankee Catcher Ralph Houk's tag. Houk stormed then almost enough to get thrown out of the game, and the Yanks still were boiling as they virtually mobbed Umpire Bill Grieve on the way to the dressing room.

Umpire Is Assailed

"How much did you have on the game?" blasted Outfielder Cliff Mapes, with added reference as to Grieve's antecedents.

Umpire Charley Berry pulled them apart and Grieve, in his cubicle, said simply that "I called it as I saw it." Big Cal Hubbard backed him up.

But the Yankees still were raving in their dressing room, agreeing unanimously, and naturally, that Houk had tagged Pesky out at home. They talked about in various forms of undress, heatedly assuring each other that Grieve was "the worst robber of the lot."

It took them a long time to cool off. Then it hit them fully. Now they were a game back and faced three with the tough Athletics and two more with these same rugged Red Sox. It was enough to shake anybody's pumpkin coach apart, and they glowered in heavy silence.

Over in the Red Sox dressing room it was another story, a bedlam of yelling, pounding, embracing players who acted as if they just had won the World Series.

Joe McCarthy, the poker-faced Irishman who manages the Bosox, was trying to hide his elation.

"Just another win, sure a good one," he said, but his smile sneaked around a big, brown cigar and his eyes twinkled happily. "We've got five more to go, you know."

You could see that first place looked good to Joe—as well as to those chattering ball players. And the big hand went to Ellis Kinder, who came in with one day's rest to stop those booming Yankee bats, and Outfielder Al Zarilla, who made two sensational catches of almost certain home runs.

"Five more," somebody yelled. "Now let's get those Senators."

Mel Parnell, a 25-game winner, walked over and shook hands with Kinder, the 23-game winner who had gone in to save this big one against the Yanks. They looked up together at that crack about the Senators.

"We'll take it from there, Ellie," he added quietly.

Kinder nodded—and the phantom clock seemed to chime again for the broding Stengel, still slumped dejectedly in his office down the hall.

Coaches Speak At Club Meet

The Quarterback club, meeting in the main ballroom of the Hilton hotel, had an unusual night Monday.

Not one of the three coaches speaking before the group offered an alibi, although only one of the three teams represented suffered defeat over the week end.

Coach Damon Hill of Dunbar High school, Coach C. R. Pattison of Lubbock High school and Coach Dell Morgan of Texas Tech were the speakers. Coach Hill worried more about the Midland game this week. Coach Pattison expressed praise for his team. And Coach Morgan stated merely that the Aggies had thrashed Tech soundly.

Texas Tech dropped a 26-7 game to Texas A & M in San Antonio. The Westerners drubbed North Side, Fort Worth, 38-0 And the Panthers tripped Amarillo's Black Sandies 20-7.

Hill Is Surprised

Coach Hill said that he was a little surprised by his team's victory over Amarillo, but was pleased with the play of the boys. The Panther's drubbed the Black Sandies in high style, but Hill said that when the Amarillo club started rolling, he was frightened. Coach Hill announced that the Panthers will play Midland here Thursday night and a big crowd is expected.

About Midland, Coach Hill said that "they don't graduate any of their players! Why, when I got out of the Navy, some of the boys still playing on the Midland team met me. They're going to be rough. We tied 'em last year and I'm scared."

Pattison Lauds Players

Coach Pattison paid tribute to the fine thinking shown by his players and also their fine passing attack, along with great blocking. He said that the boys showed alertness at all times and that it paid off. He especially praised the hustle shown by the Westerners.

Discussing the two games played so far, Coach Pattison remarked that the opposition was weak and he hoped that it would grow tougher. He also said that Lamesa was lying in wait with a good team and would cause trouble. Coach Pattison explained that teams usually were overconfident, or didn't have enough, but that this year's team had, at the present time, hit a happy medium. In fact he said that they had had a good workout Monday and were in good shape.

Coach Morgan said that Tech was going to keep playing teams on the schedule, but when they found one they could lick, they were going to cancel the remainder of the schedule and just play that one team. He offered no alibis for the Aggie victory, saying that the Farmers had gone into the game determined to win and had.

The Red Raider mentor remarked that punting had been one of the biggest weak spots so far in the Raider offense and defense. It put them in a hole against Texas and again Saturday aginst the Aggies. And the ironicl thing about it was, according to Coach Morgan, tht he and the team had talked it over just before the game and they had agreed that it wouldn't happen again.

Quarterback club members voted unanimously to send a telegram of condolence to Don Williams, big Tech guard, who was operated on Sunday for a knee injured in Saturday's game.

Presentation of "Players Of The Week" awards, issued jointly by KFYO and The Avalanche-Journal, were made. Garnet Reeves and Wayne Stroud received them for their work in the Childress game and Ike Stuver, halfback, received one for the Abilene Christian game and Don Williams received one for his work in the Texas game.

Red Raiders Hold Drill

Scrimmage Is Slated Today

Leather probably will pop today at Texas Tech, following a light workout for the varsity yesterday.

The Raiders, bruised and weary from their rough Saturday night game against Texas A & M, went through a light drill on the practice field, while the reserves were sent through a rough scrimmage against the freshmen. Coach Dell Morgan left the varsity to the attention of assistant coaches and they drilled at one end of the field.

This group worked on pass plays and polished blocking as they settled down to work for Saturday night's game here against West Texas State college. The Raiders completed only one of 12 passes thrown Saturday night and the coaches were not satisfied. And not all of the trouble was due to bad throwing.

Tech coaches know that they have a job on their hands this week buoying the spirit of the Raiders and trying to get them in a mood to break loose against West Texas. The Buffaloes consider this their big game of the year and are always at their best, while the Raiders generally take the visitors lightly.

The Raiders aren't in good condition for their game Saturday night, with the hospital list still growing. Coach G. B. Morris remarked yesterday that "we must be snake bit" and it appears that way.

Loss of Don Williams, who is recovering from an operation on his knee performed Sunday in San Antonio, hurts the Raider team immensely. However, Milburn Haydon, a regular last year, is on hand to take his place.

But the injury jinx remains wtih the Raiders. End Jack Davis still is limping on his sprained ankle. End Luke Thompson came down with a sore ankle yesterday as a result of the Aggie game. Halfback Ike Stuver is limping from a hip bruise. Tackle John Andrews still is bothered with a bad shoulder. And several of the players carry cuts and bruises that bother them.

Coach Allie White, who scouted the Buffaloes twice, brought back a word of warning. White told the coaches that they could forget the 34-7 score McMurry rolled up Saturday night. He related how tough the Buffs were for at least two of the four quarters and warned that they had a fine ball club.

There is a strong suspicion among the Raider coaches that the Buffaloes were playing McMurry with their minds on Tech. It is a fact that each year the Canyon team is given little chance to win, but always comes through with a fine game and nearly beats the Raiders.

The "vacation" is due to end today, when the Raider varsity probably will be sent through a long scrimmage to correct mistakes made Saturday and to strengthen the offense.

Lubbock Deadlocked For Fourth Spot

Port Arthur Leads Gridiron Poll; Amarillo Gets Second

DALLAS, Sept. 27 (U.P.)—Port Arthur's Yellow Jackets moved back to their old familiar place at the top of the weekly Dallas News football poll which determines the 10 top Texas schoolboy teams.

Port Arthur steamrollered Houston Milby, 56-6, last week and received 228 of a possible 240 points handed out by 24 voting sports writers who contribute each week to the newspaper poll.

Austin, the No. 1 team last week, dropped to third place with 183 as Amarillo wedged into the No. 2 spot with 193 points.

Wichita Falls moved up a notch into a fourth-place tie with Lubbock.

The second five teams included three new aggregations—Texarkana, Dallas Sunset and Corsicana. They replaced Abilene, Breckenridge and Houston Davis.

Abilene slipped to 12th place after bowing to Amarillo. Breckenridge dropped to 14th in losing to Wichita Falls and Davis tumbled out of the top 20 oy coming on the short end of a 27-7 upset fray with Freeport.

Texarkana stormed into sixth behind Marshall and ahead of Baytown, which got by Lufkin, 8-0.

Francis Ouimet, Chick Evans, J. D. Travers, Bobby Jones and Johnny Goodman were the only amateurs ever to win the U. S. Open golf title.

SLEEPY HEAD

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U.P.)—Theater manager John Graber isn't too keen on youngsters going to sleep in his movie house. A four-year-old boy got his head caught under the arm-rest and they had to use a hack saw to release him.

Lubbock Preps For Plainview

Contact Work Is Scheduled

The Westerners got over the usual "Blue Monday" with a lot less errors than expected yesterday in practice, but there is and always will be room for improvement.

Timing on offensive plays was considerably off as the team went through offensive and defensive drills. New plays were run through in a dummy scrimmage, and today a full-fledged scrimmage will probably be seen, with offensive and defensive maneuvers coming in for lots of atteniton Wednesday and Thursday in preparation for Plainview.

It is not likely that Coach Pat Pattison will underestimate the strength of the Plainview eleven, and the fact that the Westerners will be away from home the first time will make the game even rougher.

Last week the Westerners romped to a sound 38-0 victory over the Steers from North Side of Fort Worth, displaying a fine aerial game as well as sparkling play on the ground.

In winning over North Side, the Westerners overcame stiff competition in the first half, going scoreless, but then rushed back to score 13 points in the second quarter, 19 in the third and seven in the final stanza.

A new team of scorer's was uncovered, and fewer penalties were assessed against the Westerners. But the extra-point kicking was off, only two being made all evening in six attempts.

Ends Rough On Defense

Defensively the ends were the most rugged obstacle to the Steers. Garnet Reeves and Billy Wright broke through repeatedly to down the attempted passer, and Halfback Charlie Williams helped stop them once they got through the line. Williams recovered one fumble, and Reeves recovered another. Reeves' most outstanding play of the night was a recovery of a Lubbock kickoff which gave the Westerners the ball deep in North Side's end of the field and resulted in a score.

Leading the scoring Friday was Charlie Williams with 12 points. He took a 10-yard pass from Bob Brown for the first counter, and then in the fourth period broke loose for an 86-yard touchdown jaunt.

Scoring single tallies were Reeves on a pass from Turner covering 15-yards, Fullback Malcolm Young on a three-yard plunge through the middle, Turner on an end sweep for two yards, and Halfback Billy Tooke on a pass from Turner for the final tally which came from 10-yards out. Turner and left halfback Wayne Stroud kicked one extra-point each.

Passing honors were divided between Brown and Turner. Brown completed four of nine tosses for 57 yards and one score before retiring late in the second quarter with an injury. Turner, in relief, connected with three passes in six attempts, two for touchdowns, all covering 46 yards. One pass was intercepted. Tooke and Brown each intercepted one North Side pass.

On the receiving end Reeves gathered in three passes for 42 yards, Tooke snagged two for 31 yards, and Williams caught two for 25 yards.

In nine tries from scrimmage, Williams made 137 net yards for an average of 15.2 per carry, helped measurably by his long run. Young picked up 36 yards in eight tries, an average of 4½ yards per carry. Brown carried once for 24 yards on a nice run when he could not spot a receiver.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

Fears were aroused at Texas Tech yesterday that the school had another Billy Joe Whitehead case on its hands when Hudson Routh, an Olney freshman football player, came out of a scrimmage play feeling not well. Routh said that he was all right, but that he felt funny. They took him out of the scrimmage immediately, and it was after that that the fears began. He threw a tantrum in the dressing room while he was apparently out of his head. His eyes were slightly bulging and he twitched his hands. Suddenly he came out of it, but Marshall Gettys and others, who were here when Whitehead died from a head injury received in a scrimmage session, were shaky. To Routh, who is West Texas hospital, we send best wishes for a quick recovery.

Tech coaches are afraid that despite the brilliance of Brad Rowland Saturday night at Canyon, West Texas State college's football team wasn't playing McMurry. They're afraid that the Buffs were going through the motions of playing McMurry, but that they actually were thinking of the game in Lubbock this Saturday night. The Buffs always play over their heads in the Hub City, while the Red Raiders usually take the game lightly and are almost beaten. Last year the Raiders played under wraps in winning 19-0, but the year before the Buffs had Tech down 13-0 at one point. That was after the Raiders had taken lickings from both Texas and the Texas Aggies. It could be that history will repeat itself here Saturday night — if the players fail to realize that potentially they should crush the Buffs.

Coach Pat Pattison is moaning that the Westerners have not yet met a team that has extended them and the players need it for their own good. That's true, to a certain extent, but they can pick up as much polish winning by large margins as they can by winning the close games. On the other hand, Pat doesn't know how they will respond to a tight game in which possibly they even trail. And, for that reason, he needs a tough game. Unfortunately, none lurks on the horizon at present. The Westerners are scheduled to meet Plainview, Vernon and Pampa before clashing with Amarillo. Not one of those teams is expected to prove too difficult for the Westerners to handle easily.

North Side was expected to be tough to handle, but the Westerners took them in stride. The Steers had a big team and they had played John Reagan of Houston a good game before losing 25-12. Reagan is said to have one of the best teams in the City Conference. If so, it makes the Westerners look that much better. But Pat is happy about one thing. The sportswriters in the state have taken the monkey off his back in their weekly polls. No longer is Lubbock on top. In fact, the Westerners are no better than fourth, which still isn't a low position. But at least they aren't listed as the top team, the one everyone shoots at. Without having seen a Westerner game and with only practice sessions and reports to guide us, we look for the high school eleven to have a wonderful season.

Tech, you might be interested to know, has lost a couple of players. Judson Brawner of Atmore, Ala., who was an all-state halfback, left after only 10 days or so in football camp this fall. Brawner surveyed the situation and didn't think that he could make the grade. In addition, he was said to be in love and that, as much as anything, influenced him in his decision. He suddenly packed up and left without a word to anyone. The second case was similar. Kenneth Cochran of Fort Worth, whom Dutch Meyer was after, but who decided to attend Tech for the engineering course, also suddenly disappeared. Cochran talked to one of the coaches, but without waiting for further action, left — without packing. He is now enrolled at TCU and out for freshman football. Several of the freshman players said that he was in love and there is a strong suspicion that he is married. In fact, one of the fish players said that he knew Cochran was married.

We can't see any breathing points on the Tech schedule from here on out. WTSC will be rough, Tulsa is a greatly improved ball club, Tipp Mooney says that Baylor is one of the better clubs. Arizona is better than last year, Rice is a leader in the SWC, Texas Western apparently has it again this year, New Mexico will be double tough in Albuquerque and Hardin-Simmons isn's a tea party any year anywhere. And if the injury bugaboo continues, the Raiders will do well to win the Border Conference title again. They've lost two ball games so far, once to a good team and once to a team that, for one night, was a good team. Surprisingly enough, the Raiders have been playing pretty fair ball themselves. Maybe when, like water, they reach their own level they'll begin to roll.

THE ROUNDUP: Don't miss that Dunbar-Midland game at Chapman field Thursday night . . . J. W. Thompson went into the Aggie game Saturday unexpectedly. In fact, he didn't even have his hip or shoulder pads on . . . Unless the Yanks do a powerful lot of rallying real fast, the Red Sox finally are going to make Mplti-Millionaire Tom Yawkey happy . . . Morley Jennings says that there are plenty of tickets available for the WTSC game . . . Sporting News apparently thought the Yanks were in too. You ought to read the spread on them in the latest issue . . . The word is going around that Satchel Paige is on the way out, along with several others, at Cleveland . . . Dell Morgan says that Texas A. & M. "borrowed" the same plays with which Tech beat the Aggies in 1948 and rammed them down Tech's threat Saturday!

Ty Cobb scored 2,244 runs durinng his 22 years in the major leagues.

Robinson Leader In National Batting

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP) — Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn second baseman, leads National league batters today by five points although his average during the past week slipped a point.

While Robinson's average continued its steady decline the hit production of Enos (Country) Slaughter, St. Louis swatsmith, suffered even more.

Today's figures, including games of Sunday, show Robinson out in front with a .343 aggregate, Slaughter second at .338 and Stan (The Man) Musial, another Cardinal hero, right behind with .337.

Carl Furillo of Brooklyn, is fourth with .314.

Others in the top 10 hitters are: Bobby Thomson of New York, .308; Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh, and Willard Marshall of New York, each with .306; Whitey Lockman of New York, .305; Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati, at .304; and Red Schoendienst of St. Louis and Del Ennis of Philadelphia, each at exactly .300.

Kiner upped his average four points during the week and also clouted a quartet of home runs to move his total of four-base blows to 53.

Behind Kiner in the home run derby is Musial with 34.

Robinson and Musial dominate in most of the other departments.

Vernon Washington Wins Batting Title

LONGVIEW, Sept. 27 (AP)—Vernon Washington of Gladewater, veteran Texas baseball player, won the East Texas league batting championship with a lusty .387.

Washington's mark was 16 points better than runner up Johnny Stone of Henderson.

Glenn Burns of Longview led the Class C circuit in runs batted in with 136. Washington was second with 133.

Stone, L. D. Meyer of Gladewater and Jack Jones of Longview tied for first in home runs. Each hit 21.

George Yanen of Paris was the league's top pitcher. He won 22 games.

Michigan Bids For New Football Mark

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—By beating Stanford and Army in its next two games, Michigan can tie the modern collegiate football record for winning streaks—2. Cornell wove such a skein in 1921-24.

Army's great wartime team, featuring Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis, won 25 in a row in 1944-46.

The longest unbeaten string was achieved by California's Bears from 1920 through 1925—fifty victories and four ties without a setback. Notre Dame now has gone 29 games without a defeat but has been tied.

Corpus Christi To Battle Big Spring

BIG SPRING, Sept. 27 (AP) — Corpus Christi and Big Spring tomorrow night open a best four out of seven game series for the class D baseball championship of Texas.

Corpus Christi last night beat Brownsville, 19-1, to win the Rio Grande valley league title in four straight playoff games.

Big Spring won the Longhorn league crown recently by defeating Midland in four straight games.

The teams will play two games here and then move to Corpus Christi Saturday to conclude the series.

Cats, Oilers In Final Tilt

(By The United Press)

Fort Worth's Cats and the Tulsa Oilers were locked in a do-or-die grip today as they squared off for the final game of their Texas league championship playoff.

Eddie Chandler pitched six-hit ball last night as the Cats shut out the Oilers, 1 to 0, in a thriller that put both teams on even terms at three games each.

Cats Score Run

Fort Worth scored the only run of the game in the third when Jack Lindsey scored from third on a sharp single by Second Baseman Wally Fiala.

Otherwise, Dave Jolley pitched a steady game for Tulsa and yielded only three other hits.

The all-important rubber game of the best of seven series will be played at Fort Worth tonight. The winner will meet the Nashville Vols in the Dixie series, starting Thursday night in Nashville. Nashville won the Southern association championship last night by defeating Mobile's Bears, 5 to 4, in their final playoff.

Manager Bobby Bragan probably will start Bob Milliken on the Fort Worth mound against Walker Cress, ace Tulsa right-hander.

Ted Williams Tops Hitters

CHICAGO, Sept. 27 (AP)—Only a stretch-run slump apparently can keep Boston's Ted Williams from capturing his third straight American league batting title and his fifth since 1941.

Official figures computed through Sunday's games gave Williams a .349 listing, sev points ahead of Detroit's injured George Kell, who had .342.

The league's 10 leading hitters include five Red Sox players.

Other leaders include: Dale Mitchell, Cleveland, and Bob Dillinger, St. Louis, .315 each; Dom DiMaggio, Boston, .314; Johnny Pesky, Boston, .313; Cass Micheals, Chicago, .309; Bill Goodman, Boston, .304; Vic Wertz, Detroit, .303; and Bobby Doerr, Boston, .302.

Williams last week surrendered the leadership in hits to Mitchell, who had 193, but the splendid splinter continued to hold the top in four other specialized departments—homers with 43; runs-batted-in with 158; two-baggers with 39; and runs with 147.

Handicap Tournament Set At Meadowbrook

The Meadowbrook Woman's Golf association Wednesday will begin a three-day match play handicap tournament.

First matches will begin at 8 a. m. Wednesday. Prices, which have been donated by local merchants, will be awarded immediately after Friday's finals.

All women golfers in the area are urged to take part in the tourney.

Mrs. Charles Moore was the winner of last week's association flag tourney at the Meadowbrook course.

GARCIA GETS WIN

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27 (AP)—Buddy Garcia of Galveston kayoed Jerry Sargent of Shreveport in one minute, 20 seconds of the third round in the main event of a professional fight card last night. Garcia weighed 140, Sargent 141.

SWC Gridders In Good Shape

BY WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Conditions are almost perfect at Southwest conference football camps.

Most of the seven teams came out of Saturday's full schedule of games in near perfect shape.

One, Baylor, had only a few charley horses to report.

Texas Christian, which tied Oklahoma A. and M. 33-33 in a bruising night game, turned up yesterday without a serious injury. The Frogs expect wingback Jimmy Hickey, who suffered a broken nose against Kansas, in uniform today.

Joe Watson Hurt

Rice Center Joe Watson and Guard Carl Schwarz nursed minor hurts that Coach Jess Neely said would be okey by the game time Saturday with Louisiana State.

Southern Methodist university had two casualties—Bobby Collier and Ken Blackburn, both tackles and both with broken noses. They'll be able to play against Missouri Saturday night in Dallas, however.

Texas had five players on the injured list, but only two—Guards Errol Fry and June Davis—may miss the Idaho game this week. Fry suffered a hand injury and Davis twisted a knee. Byron Townsend, sophomore halfback, re-injured a shoulder the game with Temple, Halfback Bubba Shands and Ben Proctor had hurt knees.

Arkansas had one key performer —Sophomore Quarterback Don Logue—on the doubtful list for the Texas Christian game Saturday. He has a groin injury.

Regulars Get Rest

Texas A. and M. Coach Harry Stiteler gave his regulars a break yesterday, only a brief workout, but sent his reserves through a stiff scrimmage.

Some of the coaches had a bit to say about the way their teams performed Saturday. Six of the clubs won and there was one tie.

Rice Coach Jess Neely admitted he felt "pretty good" over the Owls' 33-7 victory over Clemson.

"Our offense looked as good as could be expected but I guess the boys were a little too pass conscious on defense.

Texas Wants Competition

"The defensive halfbacks were hanging back too much."

Texas' Blair Cherry said he hoped Idaho would be a tougher foe than Texas Tech or Temple.

"We're still in the dark on a lot of things simply because we haven't met any tough competition," Cherry said.

Texas Christian's L. R. (Dutch) Meyer said he was "much happier" over the Frogs' 33-33 tie with Oklehome A. and M. than he was their 28-0 victory over Kansas the week before.

Southern Methodist's Matty Bell moaned about the Missouri game.

"Red McClain (SMU scout) says they are 50 per cent better offensively than last year. And you know they beat us last year.

"But we'll show up for the game. There's always a chance of winning in a football game and besides there are the gate receipts to consider."

Gladewater Winner In Playoff Series

(By The Associated Press)

Gladewater finished off its interleague series with Hammond, La., last night, 6-3.

The Bears, champions of the East Texas league, whipped the champion of the Evangeline league four straight games.

Vic Stryska held Hammond to six hits while his mates collected an even dozen.

Tech Freshmen To Battle WTSC Team

Varsity reserves yesterday offered Texas Tech freshman probably as stiff a test as will West Texas State college yearlings here Friday night and the Picadors came through in good shape yesterday.

Offensive and defensive units for the first year men looked good yesterday in a long scrimmage session against the varsity reserves and Coach Allie White appears to have a good squad on hand. But there were a lot of mistakes made and Coach White was both encouraged and discouraged by what he saw.

Frosh Look Good.

The freshmen looked good the early part of the scrimmage, but Coach Dell Morgan and Coach G. B. Morris, supervising the reserves, goaded the latter into more fight, and when they did, they slowed up the freshmen considerably.

Hudson Routh of Olney, a freshman back, was injured during the practice and may be lost for this week's game. Routh came out of a scrimmage saying that he felt all right, but that he felt a little funny.

He was taken to the dressing room, where he collapsed partially, then began thrashing madly. He was calmed and later was taken by Trainer Mason Borby to West Texas hospital, where he spent the night. He was to be x-rayed this morning for a possible concussion.

Coach White's freshman team, with Waldo Young of Monahans, who is recovering from a sprained ankle seeing little action, manhandled the varsity reserves for much of the afternoon. They were charging hard, opening good holes and scotting backs through for good gains.

On defense, the freshmen looked good for a while, but when Coach Morgan and Coach Morris began needling the reserves, they tightened and the freshmen didn't do so well. The reserves were composed of Bill Sharpley and Lewis Crossley, ends, Bill Glidewell and Jack Cockburn, tackles, Don Anthony and Walt Edrington, guards, Bob Hix, center, and Milton Rathbone, Eural Ramsey, Walter Maloney and Bill O'Grady, backs.

Coach White opened with James Thames and Jerry Thompson, ends, Marland Ribble and Charles Goff, tackles, Buddy Barron and Don Gray, guards, Sam Jones, center, and Carl Madison, Chuck Reynolds, Denton Lambert and Ronnie Miller, backs. His defensive backfield consisted of Don Decker, Jim Turner, Carroll Drye and Jerry Killian. Later, W. H. Barker and Young saw action in the backfield and Joe Harris and Ed Briggs saw service at tackles.

Madison, the little slip of a back from Atmore, Alabama, was doing a good job of running the freshman. He passed well and ran the eleven smoothly. Good gains were turned in by all three offensive backs and even Madison, on a quarterback sneak, gained some good yardage.

Most pleasing thing about the scrimmage was the form showed by Fullback J. W. Thompson of the varsity. Thompson, giving the foot from which a bone was removed 10 days ago its first test, turned in an impressive performance.

The Odessa back broke loose on three long runs for touchdowns from scrimmage, muck of it through his own fine broken field running. He showed that he is ready to take his place again in the Raider backfield.

More heavy work is on tap for the freshmen today, with Coach White going after mistakes showing up yesterday.

Truman Speech

White House on a program sponsored by the women's division of the Democratic national committee. The program was in observation of the party's annual "Democratic Women's day."

The President directed his appeal mainly to women, inviting them to "look beneath the labels" of his proposals and of the attacks on those proposals.

"All groups in our nation depend on one another. That is what the term 'general welfare' means. The general welfare is the sum total of the welfare of all the groups in our country," Mr. Truman said.

"The constitution was established to 'promote the general welfare.' Those are the words of its preamble. And that is the duty of our government."

He said the Democratic party proposes to see that the federal government carries out this constitutional responsibility.

Replies To Criticism

"We will do so in spite of the outcries of certain people who say there is something alien or dangerous in the idea of a government that works for the welfare of all our citizens," he asserted.

"Those people are just about 160 years behind the times. They want us to forget the language of the constitution."

Mr. Truman said his program is one of practical measures, not "a set of platitudes concocted by a group of corporation lawyers in a smoke-filled room." He said it is an expression of the people's desires, and "is as American as the soil we walk on."

Mr. Truman has been under steady fire from Republican orators on the ground the measures he advocates will lead America to socialism or the "welfare state." His broadcast was an obvious reply to this criticism.

It also was a bid for popular support for some of his proposals on which action is lagging in Congress, or on which Congress has balked altogether. He covered most of the ground, but notably made no mention this time of repealing the Taft-Hartley law.

Treason Case

wait in the U. S. marshal's office were her sister, Mrs. June Hori of Los Angeles and her father, Jun Toguri, now of Chicago.

She went to trial on July 5, charged with treason for wartime broadcasts aimed at lowering morale of United States troops. She broadcast on Radio Tokyo's Zero Hour as "Orphan Ann." But it was she, charged the government, who became known to thousands of GIs as Tokyo Roce.

The government did not ask the maximum penalty—death, for treason in wartime. The minimum is five years imprisonment.

Judge Roche told the jury that to sustain conviction there must be proof of treasonable intent.

"If there was no intent to betray, there was no treason," he said.

A treasonable act, he said, "must have been performed knowingly, wilfully, feloniously and intentionally. If the act was not voluntary, it was not treasonable. It was treasonable if the person who performed it was not in fear of immediately impending death or serious bodily harm."

His condition was described as "not serious," but he was held overnight for observation.

More than 400 reservations have been made for the event by Rotary clubs from the Panhandle-Plains area.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Gibson of Lubbock are attending an annual six-day managers' meeting conducted by the Borden Co., at Fort Clark Guest ranch at Brackettville. Approximately 50 managers from six southern states are attending. reduction in governmental expenditures, to require some increase in taxes where the increase can be borne without unduly disturbing the economy, and to provide a reduction in those taxes which are crippling enterprise and interfering with business expansion.

"In the last group I place a great many of the war excise taxes, particularly those imposed on the services of communication and transportation."

However, Doughton then advised consumers there is no likelihood of early cuts in excises—on such things as furs, jewelry, luggage and other items, and he added: "I believe it is important to make this clear so that consumers will not postpone the purchase of goods subject to tax in the hope of an immediate reduction."

Doughton said "we should find new revenue sources, if necessary, to maintain a balanced budget by increasing taxes in areas less oppressive."

Daily Market

Stock Market

LEASES ARE SLOWER

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP) — Late demand for stocks of aircraft companies contrasted with generally lower prices elsewhere in the market today.

A mid-morning gust of selling pushed leading shares fractions to around a point lower. The market steadied at the lower levels and numerous stocks managed to recapture a small portion of their losses.

Final prices in most cases were above the lows for the day.

Growing signs that steel labor and management negotiators were getting nowhere fast in current contract stalks tended to frighten off buying support.

A dividend reduction helped lower Union Oil of California. The stock opened 2¼ lower at 30 and later extend the decline.

Also lower were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Coca-Cola, American Smelting, McIntyre Porcupine, American Can, International Paper, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), and Gulf Oil.

Cotton futures eased on a late flurry of liquidation and hedging.

Lubbock Goes To The Fair

herd of Durocs prize went to Duval.

In the Poland China class John Adams, Tulia, took top honors with Udell Adams, Tulia, taking first place for breeders young herd. Tuesday has been set for judging Spotted Poland Chinas. No division was set for Berkshires.

A. D. Wenzel, Brownfield, a Berkshire breeder, said: "They are extra nice looking swine here but I would sure like to see a Berkshire section."

Rules Are Criticized

Several of the exhibitors and judges said they felt the rules for this year's show were causing exhibitors to stay away. The rule limiting an exhibitor to two prizes in any one class was the chief target. Many stalls are empty this year.

D. O. Bomer, Lubbock breeder, said: "If a man has better hogs than I have I think he ought to get the prizes no matter how many he has won."

T. H. Duval also expressed this opinion and was seconded by F. E. Burgess of Earth. One man, S. W. Duffy, Meadow, took a dissenting view and said that in his opinion the rule ought to spread the honors over a lot more exhibitors. Duffy would like to see eight instead of four places.

Duval countered by saying: "I know of several men who have shown pigs at stock shows and fairs all year but they did not come to Lubbock this year." Duval also said he brought fewer pigs and was holding his best stock for the Dallas fair.

Schools recessed at noon and nearly all business houses closed at 1 p. m. to allow students and employes to make the most of their special day at the exposition.

The day almost invariably has brought out one of the biggest crowds of the week at the annual fair.

Special Features Set

Special features this afternoon included special ride prices on the Forsythe & Dowis carnival midway for the children, the first performance of the Lucky Lott Hell Drivers in front of the grandstand, and the Hugo Zacchini "human cannonball" act at 6 p. m., which will be repeated at 10:30 o'clock tonight.

Lubbock day then will be followed by two more of the days which usually are among the biggest of the fairs. They will be children's days on Wednesday and Thursday. Thousands of children from all portions of the South Plains will be brought here in their school buses during the two days.

New Entrance Ready

Because of the expected rush this afternoon and tonight, fair association officials advise those attending to make use of the new entrance on Avenue A. It can be reached from downtown Lubbock by driving north on Avenue H to the first traffic light beyond the underpass, turning right and follwing the markers to the fairgrounds.

The climax of Lubbock day will be the second performance of the musical revue, "A Trip to Wonderland," which more than measured in the opening presentation Monday night to its advance billing as topflight entertainment. Larry Griswould, in particular, proved a close approximation of a one-man riot in a comedy trampoline act.

Parmer County First

Among the many opening day highlights Monday was the completion of judging in the agriculture department and in the Hereford division of the livestock department.

In the agriculture department, Parmer county took the blue ribbon in the county exhibit division, repeating the victory scored in 1947. Floyd county, which won last year, placed second.

In the vocational agriculture division, Lamesa High school won top honors, with Roosevelt placing second and Tahoka third.

In the veterans vocational agriculture division, Idalou placed first, with Becton, Slaton, Shallowater and Roosevelt capturing second to fifth prizes in that order.

In the Hereford division, R. T. Alexander & Son exhibited the grand champion, a 1,275-pounder registered as "Atomic Tone 70th." W. D. Collier, of Ralls, showed the reserve champion.

Others sharing in the prize money in the county agriculture divisions were, in the order listed, with the names of those who supervised the arrangement of the exhibit:

Castro, Raymond King; Hale, Manuel Ayers; Bailey, J. K. Adams; Garza, Lewis Herron; Crosby, W. R. Kimbrough; Terry, Truett Babb; Lamb, D. F. Eaton, and Roosevelt, N. M., J. F. Leo.

Ollie Liner was in charge of the Parmer county exhibit, which won the $100 first prize, and R. H. Gilmore of the Floyd county display, which will receive $85. Other prizes ranged down to $25.

Meadow Takes Fourth

Other prize winners in the high school vocational agriculture department were, in the order listed: Meadow, Brownfield, Idalou, Lubbock, Shallowater, Wellman, Hale Center, Lorenzo and Anton.

Earl Sears and Dave Atwood arranged the blue-ribbon winning Lamesa exhibit, G. K. Bullock the Roosevelt display and Virgil Carter the Tahoka booth. First, second and third prizes were $50 each and others ranged downward to $35.

In charge of the veteran's vocational agriculture prize winners were: Idalou, E. C. St. Clair; Becton, S. L. Garrison; Slaton, Ray Bowen; Shallowater, Frank Hayes, and Roosevelt, Charles Rivers. These awards ranged from a first of $40 to a fifth of $30.

Judges Praise Exhibits

Dean Emeritus A. H. Leidigh and T. L. Leach, of Texas Tech, judged the vocational agriculture divisions, and Knox Parr, of Amarillo, district superintendent there of the Texas Extension service, the county displays.

They and George "Scotty" Samson, of Post, general agriculture superintendent, agreed the agriculture exhibits as a whole are the finest they ever have seen in a Panhandle-South Plains fair. They will remain on display in the Agriculture building through the remainder of the week.

The crowd which saw the initial performance of the "Wonderland" revue was somewhat disappointing, filling only about a third of the 4,000-seat grandstand. But it was above average for open-night attendances at grandstand attractions in the past.

Show Is Pleasing

The spectators, however, appeared more than pleased with the quality of the entertainment presented by Gertrude and Randolph Avery.

The show was light, tuneful, colorful and well paced. Costumes were striking. The chorus of 16 girls is shapely and well drilled. The lighting was highly effective. The stage dressing is artistic. An excellent band provides the musical accompaniment.

Several of the production numbers were spectacular—notably the "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," "Snow White And The Seven Dwarfs," "Fantasy of the Flowers," and "Fiesta."

Improvements Made

A trio, the "Debutantes," sang tunefully; the "Mar-Vels" presented probably the most spectacular teeterboard act ever seen in this portion of the southwest; the Arwoods gave an amazing exhibition of balancing; the "Three Jerks" were amusing, and Griswold almost ran away with the show. The pantomime of a drunk on a diving board kept the crowd in an uproar.

Zacchini also more than lived up to advance billing his his cannon act, witnessed by several thousand spectators. His flight from the cannon to his safety net carried him high above two intervening ferris wheels.

Several improvements have been made in the Forsythe and Dowis carnival since it played the 1948 fair. These include a number of new rides. All were almost spotlessly clean. Prices were reasonable—the highest 25 cents for adults, including tax. Tent attractions are few but superior.

Dr. Young Describes Conditions In Europe At Optimist Luncheon

Dr. M. Norvell Young, pastor of the Broadway Church of Christ, today told members of the Lubbock Optimist club that Americans have more to be optimistic about than the residents of the 15 European and Near East countries he visited during the summer.

Speaking at a luncheon meeting in Hotel Lubbock, the former instructor of history and political science said one of the principal economic problems facing Europeans is not enough land to go around.

"Their economy is even more hampered by too much red tape and outmoded business traditions," he added.

English Energetic

He said England reminded him of a business man trying to improve his business and yet remain solvent while France and Italy reacted the way a man does who has already become bankrupt and is enjoying himself without his former responsibilities.

"The English have done a remarkable job of cleaning the bomb debris from their cities and towns while other European nations affected by the war are still cluttered by rubble and crumbling buildings," Dr. Young explained.

"There is little danger of Germans living in the Western zone turning to Communism," he predicted, "but there is still some danger of nationalism."

Jerry Holleman introduced Dr. Young. G. C. Stewart presided.

of which it is the most powerful pillar, its public support on the devaluation policy.

In his address today Cripps insisted that food price increases "are not likely to come either in large measure or soon." The price of bread, however, already is up a penny. Cripps said that it may be that by the end of the year the cost of living index figure may be up about a point.

Cripps said he does not intend to raise government food subsidies, which are intended to keep prices down for the lower income groups. He had insisted earlier this year that the subsidies could not be permitted to rise any higher.

The government asked business last year to hold dividends at the 1947 level. Most companies complied but a few balked and passed out more to their stockholders as postwar profits rose. The compulsory hold down order on dividends would be part of the next budget, due at the end of March, 1950, but the chancellor can bring in a special budget anytime he sees fit.

B-29 Crash

Dill, another policeman, discounted this theory. They said the wreckage was heaped compactly into a wooded patch on a small hill.

In Prairie Country

Talihina is in the Ozark national forest area but the crash scene was in prairie country inhabited by ranch families. It is 180 miles southeast of Oklahoma City and 75 miles southwest of Fort Smith, Ark.

Some farmers living near the scene expressed belief it would have been impossible for anyone who stayed with the plane in its fatal plunge nose downward to survive.

Shortly after midnight observers at the scene said they sighted "something resembling flares." A search of a two-mile area failed to locate survivors, who might have parachuted.

Crash rescure teams from Biggs air force base, El Paso, Tex., and Lowry field, Denver, were en route by plane to direct the search for possible survivors.

To Fly To Scene

A security convoy from Tinker base reached the scene shortly before 2 a. m. An investigation board of officers were scheduled to fly to the scene from Oklahoma City at 7 this morning.

There was no radio contact to indicate the plane was experiencing trouble. Some residents reported hearing the plane circling as if attempting a forced landing.

Robert Grubb, a radio operator for Mid-Continent Airlines at Fort Smith, said he was in communication with the plane at 25,000 feet, the scheduled flying altitude for the flight.

First word of a plane crash came in a radio report from a joint Mexican-American foot-and mouth disease field team at Amecameca, near the base of the volcano. The team reported an unidentified plane had "suffered an accident in the vicinity of Popocatapetl."

Searchers reached the base of the volcano last night but waited until morning before starting their treacherous climb up the peak. Several roads, mostly on the northeastern slope, lead up to about the 15,000 foot level of the volcano.

ment. Then, they could be re-employed.

But farmers complained that involved paper work was requiring up to three weeks to legalize the front cracked and they gave in re-hiring of the badly needed laborers.

A typical example of the difficulty in hiring workers was offered yesterday when J. F. Bell of McClennan county appeared at the center.

Bell was the first farmer from this county to be approved for hiring the workers. But he couldn't find a single alien to sign up.

McClennan and 10 other counties had been blacklisted by Mexico while it investigated charges of "discrimination" against its nationals.

"TAXES ON TAXES" IS PROTESTED

Flynn Can't Win On Alimony Payments To Old-Model Wife

By RALPH DIGHTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27.—Errol is over a barrel.

The income tax he pays on Lili Damita's alimony keeps pyramiding in cost every year. But still, says Lili's attorney, it means less out of Flynn's pocket than if she paid it herself.

Two wives ago, in 1941, Flynn (who since has married and been divorced by Nora Eddington, now Mrs. Dick Haymes) entered into a property settlement agreement with Miss Damita. He agreed to pay her $18,000 a year.

Provision was made in the agreement that Flynn should reimburse her for any increase in her income tax caused by his payment to her of the $18,000 alimony.

Pyramiding Described

In 1944, says Adrian Kragen, her lawyer, Flynn paid Miss Damita $18,000 alimony, plus $10,000 taxes on the 1943 alimony. The government held that all this was income to Miss Damita, so she was required to pay taxes on $28,000, which amounted to $17,000. Flynn reimbursed her for the $17,000 in 1945, and additionally gave her the regular alimony.

That was a total of $35,000 he gave Miss Damita in 1945. The tax on $35,000 was $21,000, so in 1946 Flynn gave her $21,000 plus $18,000, or $39,000.

In 1947 the tax rates were lowered. The tax on $39,000 was only $21,000, the same as it had been on $35,000 the previous year. So Flynn gave Miss Damita $39,000 again in 1947.

In 1948 Flynn gave Miss Damita $18,000 alimony plus $22,000 on the previous year's combined income.

One Bright Spot

In 1949, Kragen estimates, Flynn will have to pay $18,000, plus $23,000 on the 1948 combined total of $40,000. The totals are deductible from Flynn's income tax report.

However, says Kragen, Flynn's income is so high (reportedly over $200,000 a year) that the deduction means more to him than the $22,000 he paid Miss Damita last year for her income tax. A superior court last week held the agreement was valid, despite protests by Flynn's attorney, Robert Ford, that Flynn was paying taxes on taxes. Ford said he would appeal.

The agreement stands good, says Kragen, until Miss Damita dies or remarries.

Ford figures the agreement already has cost Flynn $50,000 in addition to alimony, "and may run as high as $100,000."

One bright spot in the picture: Flynn has already settled in full with Nora, his second wife.

Officers Caution Fair Visitors To Lock Homes, Cars

Following three burglaries in Lubbock Sunday, police officials cautioned Lubbock residents and visitors to the Panhandle-South Plains fair to be especially careful to lock automobiles and homes when leaving them.

Police Chief Lewis Kittrell and Sheriff Grady Harrist gave special warning not to leave keys in automobiles as an encouragement to theft.

The warnings came on the heels of breakins and a rash of minor thefts over the weekend. Usually this time of year, such thefts from cars parked over the city, especially on weekends when such autos may have recently purchased merchandise in them, increase rapidly.

In past years, many automobiles have been stolen at the fair and during the fall season, usually to be driven until the fuel is used up, then the car quite often has been stripped of everything that can be pried loose.

Taken from autos have been such items as spare tires, clothing, outside mirrors, fender skirts, fog lights, radios and even batteries.

To avoid inviting such incidents, Chief Kittrell Monday said car owners should roll up all windows and lock their car completely. Anyone seeing a person acting suspiciously around a car or home should notify the police department immediately, he said.

Residents in the city were urged to lock their homes securely when they leave for any lengthy period of time.

Homes left unlocked have often been entered and ransacked at this time of year, although the loot taken may be very little or none, Kittrell added. Caution should be observed in the keeping of valuable papers, as papers for which the burglar has no use are sometimes taken only to be destroyed.

With policemen working extra duty to patrol the fairgrounds, every effort will be made to prevent thievery, but extra caution by visitors cannot be replaced, Kittrell said.

Both the police and the sheriff's departments urged that people observe the warnings concerning homes and cars and keep up a special vigilance throughout the fall months.

Firefighters Battle Blaze In California

TRUCKEE, Calif., Sept. 27. (AP) The forest service today threw all available men and equipment into a battle to control a fire which at one point yesterday roared to within two miles of Truckee.

The prevailing westerly wind late yesterday diverted to within half a mile of the four-day-old Horseshoe Bend blaze before the wind changed again, late last night, and sent the blaze backtracking against in the direction of Truckee.

No concern was felt for the safety of the town. Nor did any other inhabited places appear threatened.

Couple Arrested In Houston Cleared Of Slaying Amarilloan

HOUSTON, Sept. 27 (UP) — A couple arrested here last night for questioning in the tourist cabin murder of Tex Thornton in Amarillo last June 23 has "no connection" with the crime, detectives said today.

Homicide Capt. George Seber said the man, 24, and his companion, a 23-year-old blonde, would be released today.

Woman From Chicago

They were picked up last night because they answered the general description of the couple last seen with Thornton, the 57-year-old president of the United States Nitroglycerine co., and world-famous for his skill and daring with all types of explosives.

The man admitted his home is in Amarillo, and that he is at liberty on bond on a robbery charge in Coleman, Tex. His lady friend said she was from Chicago.

Auto Is Taken

Detective Lt. Sid Roe said they were taken to police headquarters because they had been seen with two other persons, well-known to police.

Thornton was killed in a vicious attack at an Amarillo tourist court. His skull was battered, and he was garrotted with a towel. His killers, believed to be a young couple seen with him the day of the slaying, robbed him of some $3,000 in cash, his Cadillac automobile and a diamond ring.

High Czech Officer Flees To U. S. Zone

TIRSCHENREUTH, Germany, Sept. 27 (AP)—A high-ranking Czech government official and his wife have fled from Prague to the American zone of Germany on foot, the German border police reported today.

Police said Vladimir Kobylka, director of the technical department of Czech President Klement Gottwald's chancellory, and his wife gave themselves up to German border police officers Sept. 20 at Waldsassen, on the Czech-Bavarian border.

The couple were turned over to American authorities for questioning.

An American military government officer said Kobylka and his wife declared they fled their homeland for political reasons. They said they planned to go to London to join their son and other Czech friends living in exile there.

Eskimo, Hawaiians And Japs On Staff

Big Dan Liu Is Police Chief Of Polyglot Honolulu Force

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK,—There is an Eskimo patrolman among the pineapples of the paradise of the Pacific.

And that doesn't seem at all unusual to the top cop of Honolulu—big Dan Liu, 40, a six-foot-one inch Chinese.

"We have at least a dozen nationalists on our police force," he laughed. "And don't think we're without Irish cops." I don't know where the Eskimo came from—just drifted in from somewhere I suppose. Now he's walking a beat for us."

Worked Through Ranks

Liu is proud of the fact he himself worked up through every rank to become the first Chinese chief of police of an American city. His force reflects the polyglot population of the island melting pot.

"One third are Hawaiians—they really love to be policemen," said Dan.

The other two thirds are Caucasians, Japanese, Chinese, Samoans and Filipinos.

Liu came to the mainland to attend an international cop caucus, at which he reported in Honolulu's measures to avoid "another Pearl Harbor."

"We were the first police force to organize for atomic defense," he said. "If an atom bomb falls on our city we'll be ready to discharge our responsibility to the community."

Full Sports Program

Then he smiled as he added:

"Of course if our police are within a two-mile range of the explosion—well, they'll be out."

His force has a full program of sports, hobby training and recreational activities for Honolulu youngsters, and it mixes the kids of all races together at an early age.

"Youth holds the key to our future democracy," said Dan. "It is for that reason we try to work among the young so much—to teach them the American tradition of good will and tolerance."

Liu sets his police officers a good example by his own off-duty civic work. He is a leader in the local council of churches ,the YMCA and Boy Scout activities.

Warren Huey, regular end on four Spartan football teams, has been appointed to the Michigan State physical education staff.

Doctors, Dentists Are Needed At LAFB

Authority has been given the Lubbock Air Force base to hire civilian doctors and dentists in view of the shortage of medical and dental officers now existing throughout the Air Force.

Civilian personnel is needed at the base on either a full or part time basis. Doctors and dentists will be accepted for duty two, four, six or eight hours a day at the rate of from $5,200 to $6,300 a year for full time.

LAFB also needs two women hospital attendants, grade three, at a rate of 76 cents an hour; an optometrist, P-4, at $5232 per year on a half day basis, working from 12:30 to 4:30 p. m. or from one to five; two general nurses at a salary of $2,974.80 a year and a laboratory technician, SP-5, at $2,724 a year.

Disabled veterans and other veterans will be given priority on all positions. The civilian personnel office is now located in the headquarters building, T-1, at the base.

Senator Vandenberg Is Having Checkup

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 27 (AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich) rested today in the University of Michigan hospital, where he is undergoing examination and diagnosis.

The nature of his illness, his physician reported last night, "is not definitely known."

Several days will be spent in examination, "Dr. John Alexander added. "Whether or not the senator is to have an operation will naturally depend on the conditions we find."

Early this month, Vandenberg, the Republicans' outstanding spokesman on foreign policy, stopped at the hospital for a hurried check. He was on his way to Washington from his home in Grand Rapids.

LAST RITES TODAY

GEORGETOWN, Sept. 27 (AP)—Last rites were to be held today for Dr. J. N. R. Score, 53, president of Southwestern university.

The veteran educator and Methodist pastor died yesterday at his home. He had been ill since May with a heart ailment.

Germans Reported Building Rockets For Russian Use

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 27 — German scientists are producing for Russia trans-ocean rockets they designed for Hitler just before the war ended, Soviet zone informants claimed today.

The informants, who have access to offices of the Soviet-backed East German police, said the mammoth underground munitions plant at Peenemuende on the Baltic coast, is turning out rockets at full speed.

Allied intelligence officers said they know of "certain activity" at Peenemuende but declined to elaborate. One of them explained:

5,000-Mile Range Claimed

"If Russia is making munitions in Germany it's a high level matter and not for discussion here."

At the end of the war the victorious Allies agreed that Germany's war potential should be destroyed.

The new rocket, said the German informants, was dubbed "fire lily" by the Nazis who never had a chance to use it.

The name comes from the way the rocket blossoms into eight to ten separate aerial bombs when it arrives over the target, scattering destruction over a three square-mile area, informants said. It's range and accuracy are enough, the report said, to hit a target 5,000 miles away.

Launching Sites Built

Earlier today both Allied and German sources confirmed that Russia had installed a chain of rocket launching platforms in eastern Europe, stretching all the way from the Baltic to the Black Sea.

Peenemuende was wrecked by Allied bombers during the war, and then rebuilt by Russia, with labor from the war prisoner camp at Blagovostroi in the Ural mountains, the informants said.

Russian technicians supervised the installation of machinery, but Germans who built the rockets for Hitler's war machine are said to be in charge of rocket production begun early this year.

Senate Okays REA Telephone Program

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP) — The Senate voted today to authorize $25,000,000 in government loans for the proposed expansion and improvement of rural telephone service.

It also approved $250,000 for administrative expenses of the Rural Electrification administration in handling the program.

The funds and loan authority are aimed at getting a quick start as soon as Congress approves seprate legislation for the telephone work. The House already has passed such a bill.

The money was provided in a catchall appropriations bill carrying more than $104,000,000 in extra funds for various agencies during the fiscal year ending next June 30. The appropriations measure now goes to a conference with the House, which had voted a total of only $72,790,000 for the various agencies.

MARIJUANA CASE IS REOPENED

Official Investigates Report Mitchum Victim Of Extortion

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27. (AP)—Was Robert Mitchum's marijuana arrest framed?

The district attorney's office says it is investigating "reports" that Mitchum and bit actress Lila Leeds may have been victims of Hollywood's purported extortion ring.

H. Leo Stanley, chief investigatorfor the district attorney, questioned Miss Leeds yesterday as the Mitchum case was reopened.

Waited For Mitchum

Mitchum and Miss Leeds served time after narcotics officers raided the beauteous blontie's Laurel Canyon cottage a year ago. Also arrested in the raid but later freed was dancer Vicki Evans.

Miss Leeds told Stanley:

"I was putting up Vicki's hair and I was smoking a marijuana cigarette. Why didn't the cops, who were outside watching, as I found out later, pinch me then?

"They didn't. They waited until Mitchum got there."

Stanley said legitimacy of the arrests is not questioned, but his office is interested in reports they were "engineered."

Charge Denied

The knowledge about the extortion ring was given to the grand jury in a memorandum by Paul Behrmann, ex-actor's agent. In testimony, he labeled Miss Leeds and Miss Evans as "prostitute extortionists," a charge which Miss Leeds has denied "unequivocally."

Miss Leeds told Stanley she once hired Behrmann as her agent but broke the contract after six months. Formerly Mitchum's agent, Behrmann is in jail pending appeal on a conviction of bilking $10,000 from another client. Mitchum's testimony in Behrmann's trial strengthened the state's case.

A hearing is scheduled for today on a contempt citation against Behrmann for refusing to answer some questions before the grand jury.

Houston Man Dies Of Severe Blow On Head

HOUSTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—A 54-year-old Houston man, John Powers, died yesterday without being able to tell how he received a fatal head injury eight days ago.

Powers was found near his hotel by a friend and former business partner. He was taken to the Veterans Administration hospital.

Detectives Frank Murray and Earl Adams complained police were not called in soon enough and hospital attendants had not cooperated in their investigation.

Tech President To Speak At Ceremony At Hardin-Simmons

ABILENE, Sept. 27 (Special) — Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Tech, will speak at the cornerstone laying of Sandefer Memorial hall here Saturday, Oct. 8, according to an announcement by Rupert N. Richardson, president of Hardin-Simmons university.

Dr. John L. Hill, editor of the Broadman press, will give the dedicatory address at the formal meeting preceding the cornerstone laying.

Dr. Wiggins was chairman of the department of education at Hardin-Simmons while J. D. Sandefer, for whom the building is dedicated, was president. He left H-SU in 1935 to become president of Texas Western, then Texas Mines.

Short Service Slated

Dedication of the building will be part of the annual Homecoming activities. The building will be dedicated at 10:30 with the message by Dr. Hill. There will then be a short service at the building itself. Music will be played by the Cowboy band.

A barbecue is to be held at noon at the campus park, immediately behind Mary Frances hall. A pep rally and parade, sponsored by the student council, will be held in the afternoon. An Ex-cow girl get-together will be held at 3 p.m. at Marston gymnasium. Alice Mayfield is president of this organization. A football game with Arizona will be played Saturday night.

The Sandefer memorial is now being used to almost capacity. The administration offices on the main floor have been used since May, while the library was opened at the beginning of the fall semester, Sept. 17. The building is a four-story structure of red face brick.

JUSTICE TRIUMPHS

SAN ANTONIO, (U.P.)—Police officer E. J. Fivel wanted to be helpful when he saw a stalled motorist. He gave him a push in his patrol car but the bumpers locked. When the officer got out, the motorist thought it was time to depart—on foot. It developed the motorist was driving a car stolen four hours earlier.

LUBBOCK FOUND TO BE FRIENDLY

Mexican Industrial Engineer Inspects Oxygen Plant Here

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

A Mexican industrial engineer who is spending a few days in Lubbock finds the city very much to his liking, he said Monday.

"Lubbock is very modern and beautiful, and the people are—how do you express it?—so very friendly and hospitable," commented Julius Roman of Monterrey, Mexico.

Sr. Roman, who looks more like a typical Lubbock businessman than one who has lived in Mexico most of his life, nevertheless has a little difficulty in getting his ideas across in English.

When an eager reporter offered to try to use his college Spanish, Roman spared himself the ordeal by saying he needed the practice in English.

Oxygen Use Studied

Roman is visiting Bill Hord and George Turner, partners in West Texas Oxygen company here, and the Lubbock men found they are getting as many ideas from the engineer as he is getting from them.

An independent engineer concerned with improving and expanding the industrial uses of bottled oxygen, Roman is obviously an expert in his field.

He explained how his research in Monterrey is uncovering a myriad of uses for manufactured oxygen.

For example, the Monterrey steel mills use pure oxygen to increase capacity of open hearth steel furnaces, thereby increasing steel production considerably.

Another novel use of oxygen with which he has been working is in the incubation of baby chicks. He has found that feeding pure oxygen into the incubators lowers the death rate by five or six per cent.

And what promises to be a most useful application of industrial oxygen is the preservation of milk by use of oxygen.

Roman explained that his experiments indicate milk may be kept fresh for five to six weeks by applying oxygen, which appears to destroy the microbe activity.

His personal history is equally interesting. A native of Romania, Roman immigrated to Mexico 27 years ago and has lived there ever since.

Work Coordinated

He has served as an official in two different cigaret manufacturing plants and as superintendent of three oxygen plants in Mexico.

In addition to consulting for the oxygen plant in Monterrey, he also works with similar plants in Mexico City, Piedras Negros, and Chihuahua City.

He says the Mexico City oxygen plant is larger than any in South America.

By oxygen plant standards, Roman and the Lubbock men are virtually next-door neighbors. Hord and Turner's plants here and in Odessa are the nearest ones to Monterrey with the exception of a plant in Houston.

Sr. Roman drove up to Lubbock,

JOAN PROUTY

THE QUESTION
Do you think that the United States should rearm friendly nations in order to check Communism?

THE ANSWERS

GEORGE A. BAGWELL, Hereford, farmer: "Within limits, yes. There is a limit, however, to what the taxpayer can stand. It is really just a gift from the United States to those nations. Will it really help to stop Communism?"

W. S. COLVILLE, 2311 Twenty-ninth, student at Tech: "I think if it's controlled right it will be all right. It would be awfully easy, though, for the money or arms to get into the wrong hands. Then it might be used to gain control over small countries, rather than help them. If we're going to do that, just a little help will be worse than none at all. We'll have to go all the way."

GUY BARCLAY, Route 7, maintainer at Hemphill - Wells Co: "I think they should make any preparations necessary. If we would quit giving out so much information instead of money, it would stop the Russians. But I do think that this money will be well spent."

SMITHS KEEP GOING

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (U.P.)—The Smiths are not losing ground here. The new telephone book lists 2,233 Smiths. Sesond place went to Johnson, with 1,576 listings.

ROBERT MORGAN, 2102 Fifteenth, owner of ABC Diaper service: "I think so. It's cheaper to do it now than later; 'Just a stitch in time.' Whether it will put a stop to Communism or not remains to be seen."

O. K. MONTGOMERY, 1609-A Ave. Q, assistant finance officer at the Veteran's Administration: "I certainly do, for our own protection. I was in the last war, and I don't want to go again. It will hold the Communists, anyway, if they should strike in Europe."

MRS. EDITH AUTRY, 3005 Walnut, marker at Stinson cleaners: "Yes, I do. If we arm those nations it will help keep Communism down. And they will also be able to defend themselves if attacked."

Carmen Miranda And Movie Producer Part

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27 (AP) — Carmen Miranda and Dave Sebastian, film producer, are undertaking a trial separation.

They announced yesterday through studio representatives that the amicable separation is due to a "diversity of interests" and expressed hope that a reconciliation could be effected.

The 34-year-old Brazilian actress and her 40-year-old husband were wed here March 17, 1947. Neither had been married before.

Production In Scurry Found

Standard-Fryer Drilling Company No. 1 Wilkinson, central Scurry county wildcat, two miles northwest of the town of Snyder, and in the undeveloped area between the north Snyder and the Kelly fields, has proven for production in a drillstem test in the top of the Canyon reef lime at 6,619-50 feet.

The tool was open one hour and 15 minutes. Gas showed at the surface in 14 minutes. Mud came to the surface in 44 minutes and oil flowed out in 53 minutes.

The well was flowed to pits for 22 minutes. No official estimates on the flow are avaliable. Some observers calculated that the flow was at the rate of 50 barrels of oil per hour.

To Cement Casing

A string of 5½-inch casing is to be cemented at 6,615 feet and the well will be completed and put on production.

Top of the Canyon reef was corrected by electric log to be 6,601 feet, by electric log. Elevation is 2,375 feet.

The well is at the center of the southwest quarter of lot 24, section 17, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Wildcat Exploration

Ray & Harris of Dallas, and others No. 1 Laura B. Smith is to be a wildcat exploration in southwest Scurry county, one and one-quarter miles east and one-quarter mile south of the nearest Canyon producer in the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field.

It is understood that the prospector will drill to around 7,000 feet to explore the Canyon reef, the pay in the Sharon Ridge field.

Drilling with rotary tools will get under way in the near future.

The drillsite will be 660 feet from north and west lines of section 159, block 97, H&TC survey and diagonally across the section from D&R Oil Company No. 1-A A. C. Martin, scheduled 8,000-foot wildcat now drilling past 7,151 feet in Pennsylvania lime and shale. The No. 1-A A. C. Martin is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 159, block 97, H&TC survey.

Both projects are about 15 miles southwest of Snyder.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company has staked location for its No. 1 W. T. Stiles, scheduled 9,000-foot WANTS LETTERS AND CARDS—It's hard for a fellow to stay out of school while his friends are going and 7-year-old Doyce Atteberry, jr., above, finds letters and cards make it easier to stay home. He is pictured at his home at 1503 Leland Ave., east of Lubbock, looking at one of the cards he has received since becoming ill. He hopes the public will send him many cards and letters, which may be addressed to Doyce Atteberry, jr., Box 655, Lubbock, Tex. Doyce became sick several months ago. He entered the second grade at East Broadway this fall, but had to leave after one week because of illness. He becomes ill unexpectedly at times, but is able to be up most of the time. He originally was treated at Plainview and Houston. He was believed earlier to have polio or a brain injury, but his illness now is attributed to a spinal injury, said his mother, Mrs. Garland Flinn. SANTA MONICA, Cal. — This is the old, old story of the letter carrier who spent his days off taking nice, long walks in the country.

Along with The Little Woman, I came out here the other day to spend the first vacation I've ever had.

"No writing," I told myself. "No thinking about Columns. Just resting and loafing. Yes, bo!"

But that was last week. Now I'm so fed up with just resting that I'm about to go nuts and I'm cussing myself for not bringing my typewriter along and thus making it necessary to borrow a mill in the newsroom of the sprightly Santa Monica Evening Outlook.

Santa Monica is a very nice city, indeed.

It is an especially nice city for resting.

Spread out along the rolling Pacific 17 miles west of Los Angeles proper, but in reality a part of that sprawling metropolis, Santa Monica boasts 60,000 souls—not one of whom is ever in a hurry.

Every day — morning and evening — looks like Sunday afternoon. The people on the streets just sort of mosey around.

Pretty with an overlay of the old Spanish influence, neat as a pin and as spic and span as a freshly scrubbed pickaninny, Santa Monica would be a great place to recover from a nervous breakdown.

I'm coming out here sometime and spend a whole Winter.

The Winter when I'm 86, that is.

TO SAY that there's nothing to do in Santa Monica wouldn't be true.

There's something very nice to do — especially for an inlander.

The visiting fireman can stroll along Ocean Avenue overlooking the Pacific, on a series of walks flanked by palm trees, flowers and shrubs.

He can wallow through the endless miles of neat beaches, dotted with public and private bath houses, and he can swim in the restless surf.

He can walk, or drive, the lovely tree-lined streets of this old city and marvel at the well-kept lawns, each of which appears to have been administered to by a careful barber using both scissors and clippers.

He can nap in the parks, along with dozens of other people, flinging down a quilt on which to loll; or he can doze on municipal benches, or in folding chairs which he may tote along with him for the purpose.

But if he's on the sunny side of 70 and inexperienced in the art of loafing, he soon gets fed up with indolence.

Then he either takes to the bars (open from 6 a. m. to 2 a. m.) or he borrows a typewriter and goes to work.

Since we were coming out here to Rest, with malice afore-thought we made reservations at one of the hostelries dedicated to the pursuits of the idle. There we made no mistake

Santa Monica's famed Miramar hotel, replete with palms, gardens, flowers, a swimming pool, shaded walks, etc., etc., and a jolly old etc., is quite a place. Make no mistake about that.

As plushy as a New York night spot and as serene as your favorite cemetery, the Miramar caters mightily — and with proud ponderance—to People With Nothing to Do —and Satisfied to Do It.

We recommend it highly as a most dignified hostelry which carefully screens its customers — beg pod'n, its clientele — from the rest of the world.

Even its electrically operated paging system is soft and its shaded bowers are exactly right for old ladies, carrying canes, who may be looking for a fourth at bridge.

SERIOUSLY, however, the Miramar is a very wonderful resort hotel and, to be entirely honest, is at least one cut—and maybe three or four—above Colorado Springs' famed Broadmoor.

And just as seriously, Santa Monicans — those born around here and the others who moved in from Iowa — can teach us West Texans a lot about the ins and outs of gracious living.

Lubbock, still boasting of being "the cleanest city in Texas for eleven (count 'em) straight years" looks like a littered carnival ground on the morning after when compared with Santa Monica.

We West Texans, who are so all-fired proud of our "get-up-and-git" would live longer and have fewer heart ailments if we slowed down even half-way to the leisurely pace of the Santa Monicans.

Why this very day the Rotary club met here for an hour and 40 minutes and nobody got up and left before the speaker finished.

No one hour time limit there. Why be in such an all-fired rush? Tomorrow's coming, ain't it?

Most people have the idea that Los Angeles is one big city and that as one big city it is pretty much the same from one end to the other.

That isn't true at all. Los Angeles is Los Angeles—plus a collection of a score or more outlying, adjacent and often connected municipalities. Of this score or more of connected municipalities, Santa Monica is one.

One cannot tell when he moves from Los Angeles into West Los Angeles; thence into Beverly Hills and on into Santa Monica as he wends his way along the justly famed Wilshire Boulevard. There's no more sense of a change in municipalities than there is in crossing Nineteenth at College and moving on to South or Southwest Lubbock.

But Santa Monica, like most of the rest of Los Angeles' suburbs, has its own system of city government, its schools, its civic, church, social and all other organizations which go to make up the average American city.

Climatically, Santa Monica is no more like Los Angeles than it is like Pheonix, say, or El Paso. It can be—and often is— as hot as the hinges of hades in Los Angeles and as cool as the proverbial cucumber in Santa Monica, courtesy of the ocean breeze.

In fact, today the mean temperature of downtown Santa Monica was 75; on the ocean front it was about 69 —and in downtown Los Angeles it was a sweltering 100-plus.

LIKE all the rest of the Southern California communities, Santa Monica is spread out—not nearly so congested as an ordinary city of comparable population.

Because of the proximity of Los Angeles, Santa Monica and the other suburban communities are not as good business towns, either, as their counterparts elsewhere over the U.S.A.

But all of them have it on the average inland city in the matters of traffic control and off-the-street parking.

Here in Santa Monica, the pedestrian is king.

Whenever he crosses a street at an intersection where there is no traffic light, the cars stop for him. This is true on the busy boulevards as well as on the side streets—and woe be unto the motorist caught taking advantage of the street-crossing pedestrian!

He gets fined—but quick!

As for off-the-street parking, the business people here have been very wise in arranging it.

Every store of any importance has its free parking lots paved for patrons and filling stations are required to have sufficient space that they need not employ public streets or sidewalks as working area, as is so often the case in Lubbock, and elsewhere.

This sort of thing makes for a much more orderly city than otherwise could be the case—and, in the case of the parking areas, attracts business which otherwise would go into the big town.

THE BEACHCOMBER: Dr. Louise Crawford Allen and other Lubbock exponents of The Independent Woman, will be interested to know that Santa Monica has a jim-dandy, two-story Women's club building. It is located downtown and has an ornate facade. It probably would cost around 150 Gs if it were built today . . . The architecture throughout the business area is Spanish with a heavy touch of the modern. Pastel shades predominate. The J. C. Penney store, for instance (are ya lissenin', Bro. Parsons?) has forsaken the usual Penney color scheme and looks more like a combination lounge and airport administration building . . . Street lighting here is super and the pedestrian can read a newspaper strolling the sidewalks after dark . . . nearly every home has its flower gardens, front, or back, or both, and the local paper presents a full page of garden news and advice every Friday afternoon . . . One of the richer communities of the nation, Santa Monica has at least 50 per cent of its residential area taken up by homes of the $15,000 to $35,000 classification. That's because so many of the townspeople have moved out here from other sections of the country to take it easy after "making a stake."

BY DREW PEARSON: RUSSIA'S POSSESSION OF A-BOMB CALLS FOR NEW DIPLOMACY

We Must Win Over Soviet People To Prevent War

WASHINGTON — Last week's news that Russia had unloosed her own atom bomb caused this writer to do some digging into his own columns written during the Christmastide immediately after the first A-bomb was exploded.

PEARSON

We have all become a little more calloused, a little more hardboiled a little more weary than in those breathtaking days when the war was just over in 1945. But the ideas set forth at that time probably apply just as much as ever, and with apologies they are reprinted herewith:

"Sometimes it takes the abyss of pessimism and hopelessness to arouse people to new and revolutionary measures.

"The atom is a revolutionary weapon, the most revolutionary in all history. It needs revolutionary diplomacy to combat it. Old-fashioned talks between three or four diplomats, who sit for a few days around a green baize table and then issue brief communiques to the public aimed to cover up what they didn't accomplish, will not cure the gnawing suspicion, the selfish ambition, the lust for power that breeds war.

Christ Was Revolutionary

"Only diplomacy of the most revolutionary kind, based upon the Sermon on the Mount can counteract the revolutionary weapon of the atom bomb. Many of us have forgotten that Christ was a revolutionary. Sometimes the world has forgotten this just as woefully and completely as it has forgotten the principles which he taught.

"At the time Christ was born, a much higher standard of moral ethics existed than there is in the world today, and the prophets of Israel had repeatedly warned their people that if they did not live up to those standards they would be destroyed.

"Later Jesus epitomized all this teaching and brought forth the highest expression of moral and ethical standards ever given to man in the Sermon on the Mount.

"Now 2,000 years later, in the heart of Christian Europe, where more professed Christians live than any place else on the globe, people have virtually destroyed themselves with a war of their own making. They chose to disregard the teachings to which they gave lip-service.

"IN the United States a scientific capsule has been given man which offers the world two distinct and definite alternatives:

"1. We can get into another war and see the globe made into a ball of fire by the hand of man himself; or

"2. We can use practical Christianity to prevent war, and by harnessing the energy of the atom, make the world a virtual Garden of Eden.

"Perhaps the prophets of Israel have now come back as scientists of the atom to warn us that the end of the world can come, not by flood but by fire.

"The problem is immediate and urgent. We have to decide now whether we are going to fight for peace just as vigorously as we fought for war, or whether we are going to drift—which eventually means another war.

"We have got to make up our minds whether we are going back to the basic teachings of the man who was born 2,000 years ago and whether we are going to carry them out militantly—as militantly as connoted by the hymn, 'Onward, Christian Soldiers'....

Heading Off War

"Congress doesn't seem to realize that the time to head off war is long before it starts. And if they would spend a fraction as much money harrowing the international ground for peace as they paid for the weapons of war, then the next geenration could live in security.

"No good businessman could ever think of neglecting his advertising or of hiring poor salesmen to make the rounds of customers. He would go out of business in no time. But we as a nation fail to apply the same good business practice in regard to the most sacred thing in our possession—the lives of the next generation. We select diplomats for political reasons, or because they have enough private cash to live abroad on the miserly salaries we pay them; and we fail to give them an advertising campaign to supplement their work.

"This may not sound much like religion. But to me religion is a question of doing, not merely having faith. As I understand Christ's teaching it is a doctrine of going out and administering to others, and is necessary, rowing with money-changers and driving them out of the temple.

"CHRIST was a man who went out and worked at his religion. He didn't stay in one place. He didn't hide his candlestick under a bushel. He battled so hard for his cause of peace on earth, good will toward men, that eventually he sacrificed his life.

"He had what he thought was a great idea and he traveled day and night trying to sell it.

"Now we in this country have a great form of government and a great basic concept of getting along with our neighbors. And it's time we went out as Christ did and tried to sell our American religion.

"We can't sit passive in big, ornate houses as most of our ambassadors do, giving ritzy cocktail parties for upper-crust old ladies and other hasbeens. Our diplomats have got to go out and talk to the real folks that make up the backbone of the country.

"This is not just theory. It works out in practice that when the people of a country are behind you, and don't have to worry about their government—even an out-and-out dictatorship—can't make war on you. The people won't let 'em.

"However, if the Russian people are fed by a controlled press and radio only what their politburo wants them to know about us, then the problem becomes more difficult. The boys in the Kremlin are now much more afraid of the spread of democracy than we are of communism. They are adopting exactly the same system toward us that for 17 foolish years the State department adopted toward tem.

"They don't want their people to mix with ours, they don't want American newspapermen or preachers to circulate over there. They don't even like children of the Russian embassy in Washington going to our schools.

"This makes the problem difficult but not insoluble. After all, use of the atom up until a short time ago was considered insoluble.

"The solution, as I see it, is to go over the heads of the Soviet isolationists and win over the Russian people."

The above ideas, written in December 1945 when Russia did not have the a-bomb, are even more appreciable today when she has.

Rude Awakening

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

A YOUNG wife who has gone to live in her husband's home town confesses to me that she is miserable every time they are invited to a large party.

"I get almost tongue-tied when I'm left with someone I've never met before or know only slightly," she says. "Is there any way to get over this? I know it is a handicap to my husband to have a wife who can't 'fit in' with his friends and acquaintances."

MILLETT

Of course, you can overcome it. Make some before-hand preparation before you go to a party.

Ask your husband who is likely to be there, and get him to tell you something about those you'll probably meet. Store those facts away in your mind.

Then think up several general remarks you could make to anyone, in case you find yourself having to make conversation with a complete stranger.

You don't have to think of anything witty, or profound, or anything the other person will remember—just something to get you over that tongue-tied feeling and give you a chance to show that you are a friendly, agreeable person.

And if you should find yourself feeling self-conscious because you are all alone in a crowd, don't forget that if you'll look about, you you'll find someone looking just as unhappy as you feel.

START RIGHT TO WORK

GO UP to that person and make one of those "general" remarks you have tucked away in your mind. Then ask a question or two and before you know it you will have a conversation started.

The other person will be so grateful to you for singling him out he'll probably go away remembering you as a kind and gracious person.

Don't fool yourself into thinking that the socially adept persons who can go from group to group making light chatter are bound to be smarter or more amusing than you are.

Either they know enough people well enough to feel at ease, or they are making themselves behave in a sociable manner.

You can do the latter, too. The first few times you try may be painful, but after that it should be easy.

Today's Thought

Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man.—Job 8:20.

Man is his own star, and the soul that can Render an honest and a perfect man,
Commands all light.

'Try And Stop Me"

COLSTON LEIGH, whose lecture bureau supplies over half of the country's literary clubs with speakers—at so much a syllable—has troubles of the usual sort with his temperamental artists. Bad billing, late trains, inferior accommodations, discourteous chairmen—he's heard those run-of-the-mill complaints a thousand times, and can salve the wounded sensibilities of his charges in his sleep.

On one unfortunate day last month, however, he received two unusual complaints that were harder to laugh off. One very dignified English poet had been frightened off the platform in the middle of his speech by a big dog who strolled amiably on to the platform and innocently began sniffing the back of the poet's pants. And an even more unfortunate artiste—a soprano on the shady side of forty—had minced girlishly from the wings in a mid-Western auditorium and promptly fallen through a trap door careless stage hands had left open.

Tulsa's Oilman's $500 Haircut In Old-Time American Spirit

NEW YORK, Sept. 27—Amongst all the talk of pound devaluation and snarled economics for everybody, everywhere, I am pleased to bring you an immigrant's dream of extravagance. I expect I know about the most expensive haircut ever bought, and that includes the job Delilah did on Samson.

RUARK

My barber, Louis Meli, is still a little unsteady with the shears when he tells his tale. Louis is unaccustomed to $200 tips, or the act of spending five days on one job. But it appears that a Mr. Boots Adams, president of the Phillips Petroleum Co., was flying in from London and Mr. Adams was feeling a trifle unkempt. So he wired Louis to meet him at Idlewild for a fast once-over-lightly before his private company plane arrived to whisk him off to Tulsa.

But the unshorn oilman's homebound plane was a couple of hours late, and its arrival coincided with that of the private, Tulsa-bound aircraft.

Shaves With Coffee

"My God," says Louis, "before I can count 10 they have got me in the airplane and we are at 10,000 feet. Mr. Adams say 'shave me, Louie'," and I say 'is no hot water on the plane and we are hitting too many air pockets' but Mr. Adams say there is plenty of hot coffee and so I will shave him with the hot coffee and we will take our chances on the bumps in the air.

"Is the only time," says Louis, "that I ever shave a man with brown lather."

Louis says he had to be very careful of Mr. Adams' moustache, because Mr. Adams is a very particular customer, but he finally got him shaved and trimmed. Louis was wondering whether he would be forced to parachute to get back to his shop, but they decided to take him on to Tulsa.

"THEY put me up in the biggest suite in the best hotel in town," Louis says. "They say long as I am in Tulsa, I might as well see the town. So they give me a limousine and a chauffeur and for three days I live like a king. I see everything, go everywhere—oil wells, ranches, everywhere.

"After three days they pay a fortune for my hotel bill and buy me a ticket on the Constellation—cost $88.50 for the ticket. Then Mr. Adams says thank you very much, Louie, and gives me $200. Two hundred bucks tip for one haircut!" Louis chortled. "I tell you, I been here 25 years now and she's still some place to live."

For some obscure reason Louie's adventure pleases me at the moment. Certainly a man who is freighted back and forth in a private plane can wait until he gets home to have his locks lessened. Certainly a man who is being met by his corporation's duded-up DC-3 could delay a necessary 20 minutes if he really felt tense about getting shaved. Certainly five or six hundred dollars is an unnecessary extravagance, and Louie's $200 tip might well have gone to some deserving charity or other.

Likes Man's Spirit

But under the current tax structure I am glad there are a few lusty spenders left who can afford half-a-thousand for a buck-fifty service. Under the current cautions and admonitions and restrictions and beetling threats of disaster on the morrow, the wanton act of Louis's patron is vaguely reassuring. It is not the act of a breed which will hold still for complete domination by the heavy planners.

It seems I remember that sheer whimsical extravagance was supposedly parcel to the growth of the nation, and was believed—especially by foreigners—to be vital to the American personality. We also had a hoary old statute, somewhere, that if a man earned his money, that money belonged to that man, and he could spend it, swallow it or set fire to it if so he desired.

As a nation we have lately been broadly and grandly contemptuous of money, and have scattered it round the globe. The only quirk is that the big spenders have used other people's money, not their own, to buy $500 haircuts for the world.

One thing that frets me about Louis' adventure is maybe Mr. Adams believes that soon, with a marked trend to devaluation, all haircuts, everywhere, will cost $500, and he is just getting in early to see how it feels.

NEW PALSY TREATMENT CENTER

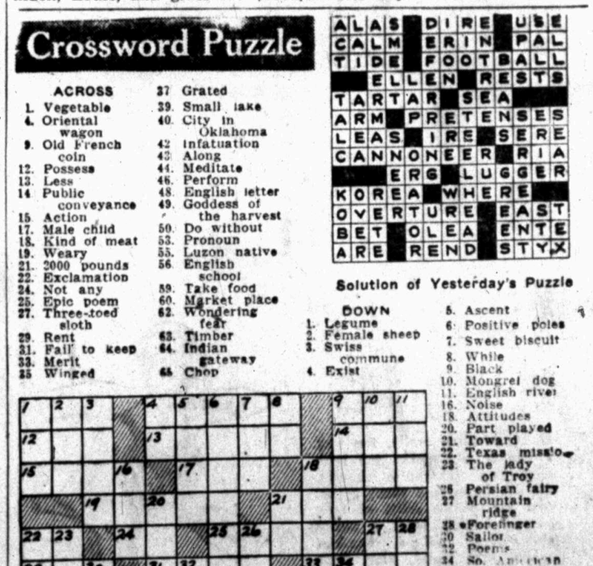

Ground-breaking a few days ago for the Lubbock Cerebral Palsey Treatment center at Thirty-fifth street and Avenue N marked another important milestone toward a splendid humanitarian achievement.

Only during relatively recent years has any large-scale concerted effort been made to provide adequate treatment for the victims of this affliction. People of Lubbock are justified in pride that this was one of the first cities to conduct clinics for palsy patients.

The occasional clinics now are expanding into the full-time Center at a cost of more than $50,000 where treatment will be available without regard to rance, color, religion or financial status of the patient.

It is a fine thing the generous, compassionate people of the community have done, are doing and, without question, will continue to do. It speaks a citizenship of the quality which should cause anyone to feel humbly honored to be numbered among them and to be jointed in the humanitarian effort of which the new Center is a symbol.

Hike In Newspaper Readers Is Shown

ATLANTA, Sept. 27 (AP) — Thirty-seven per cent more people are reading daily newspapers today than before the war.

Regional director C. Parker Persons of the U. S. Commerce department made that report today, based on census figures.

Persons' report covers papers in Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee. The aggregate circulation per issue of daily papers in those states in 1947 was 7,251,309, a gain of almost 2,000,000 over 1939 figures.

Cold-Killer Pill Discovered Accidentally By U. S. Navy

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Development of a "cold-killer" pill—is reported by the U. S. Naval Medical bulletin.

The bulletin says the pill was discovered accidentally by the Navy as several doctors were treating patients with anti-histaminic drugs to relieve hay fever and other allergy ailments.

The "cold killer" is available now only on a physician's prescription.

The remedy, which comes in tablet form, has a red coating containing a small amount of the newly-perfected anti-histaminic drug, chlortrimetin. The center of the tablet contains aspirin and other common cold compounds.

The name of the "cold-killer" is "coricidin," derived from scientific words describing the tablet's function.

The naval medical bulletin says Capt. John M. Brewster, of the Naval medical corps, did research on the role of anti-histaminics as cold preventives. The work was done at the U. S. naval hospital, Great Lakes, Ill.

His report said in part:

"All symptoms were aborted in 90 per cent of the patients in whom treatment with anti-histaminic drugs was begun within the first hour after onset of symptoms, and in 87 per cent of patients treated within two hours of onset. Seventy-four per cent of patients who received treatment within 12 hours of onset were also cured."

Girl, 13, Will Go On Trial In Death Of Young Playmate

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 27 (U.P.) — Testimony was expected to start today at the trial of 13-year-old Diana Allen, charged with the "urge" slaying of her seven-year-old playmate, Charles "Snookie" Johnson.

Four jurors remained to be selected before attorneys made their opening statements. In its statement, the prosecution was expected to reveal what type punishment it wants if she is convicted.

The chubby little girl, dressed in saddle shoes, bobby sox, blue jeans and a yellow shirt, watched the wrangling of opposing lawyers with bored resignation.

Killing Admitted

The attorneys used all of yesterday to select eight of the jurors who will decide whether she is guilty of murder for the slaying of the Johnson boy.

She has already admitted that she submitted to an uncontrollable "urge" to kill him and held his head under the water of a creek near their home last April 30th.

Diana's attorneys were expected to hinge their defense on her "responsibility" and knowledge of right and wrong and they carefully questioned the veniremen on these subjects. They also questioned the prospective jurors on their opinion of insanity pleas.

Six of the eight jurors selected were women.

Hungary Tough On Tito's Men

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 27 (AP)—Hungary has accused the Yugoslav legation here of spying and has given 10 of its officials until sundown tonight to get out of the country.

The foreign ministry handed the legation a note declaring Hungary will make sure in the future that "spies and assassins" do not come to Hungary disguised as diplomats.

Three Sentenced

The note added that last week's Budapest treason trial had proved that Marshal Tito's regime had plotted to kick out the communist Hungarian government, kill off its leaders and restore capitalism. Former Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk and two others were sentenced to death last Saturday on charges of plotting with Yugoslavs and Americans against the Hungarian communist regime.

The expelled diplomats included the legations first counsel, Dusan Sakota, second secretary Slavko Zecevic, and military attache Kilibarda Mahajlo. The other seven were secretaries and clerks.

Bitterness between the two countries heightened Saturday when Tito accused Hungary of joining a "warmongering" scheme to replace his government with one "servile" to Soviet Russia.

Tito declared the Budapest treason trial marked a change in Hungary's policy of friendship to one of hostility.

Dime Store Weapon Not So "Harmless"

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 27. (INS)—A Young Chicago woman was convinced today that there is no such thing as a harmless toy gun.

The young woman, Miss Mickie Berkowitz, 20, carefully examined the array of cap guns, magnetic guns, air rifles and dart guns displayed in a dime store.

Finally the petit young woman's eye lit on a 59 cent pop gun. She told the clerk: "This certainly could not hurt a four year old," but as she handled the "harmless" toy, the gun snapped on her finger.

She transferred the gun to her other hand. The salesman watched. The gun snapped again.

Mustering her poise, the young woman replaced the gun on the counter and asked where she could buy two bandages.

Russia To Free Two Young U. S. Cyclists

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 27. (AP)—Two young American cyclists who have spent more than six weeks in Russian custody will be freed tomorrow, U. S. officials announced.

U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy said yesterday the Americans—Warren Oelsner, 21, of Oyster Bay, N. Y., and Peter Sellers, 19, of Philadelphia—will be turned over to young Oelsner's father in Hamburg for their return to the states.

The youths were seized by the Russians as they tried to bicycle through the Soviet zone to Berlin without proper papers.

The two boys were reported in good health on Sept. 6, after Brig. Gen. W. Hess, chief of the U. S. military mission at Soviet military headquarters in Potsdam, was permitted to visit them.

Kansas Drys To Try Switch In Strategy Since Voters Legalized Liquor In State

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 27 (AP) — Kansas Drys, unsuccessful at keeping liquor away from people, are now going to try keeping people away from liquor.

That switch in strategy was outlined by the Rev. C. D. Walker, superintendent of the Kansas United Dry forces.

"Our old strategy was prohibition — keep drink away from the people," Walker said.

"That failed so we have gone into reverse.

"The theory today is to keep people away from liquor."

Education Is Keynote

The legal sale of liquor began in Kansas July 19 after the state voted last November to end 69 years of state prohibition.

The Dry chief said education is the keynote of the program. A course of alcohol instruction for public schools will be planned.

"The liquor industry is spending millions of dollars to teach youth to drink. I think it's time for Christians to spend a little of the Lord's money to teach them not to drink," he added.

Walker spoke at the Kansas Christian church convention yesterday.

Smith Says Reds Far Behind In Atom Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP) — Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, former U. S. ambassador to Russia, says he believes it will take the Soviets ten years to catch up with this country's present stage of atomic bomb development.

Smith, who now commands the First Army, made the estimate last night in addressing a meeting of Army reserve officers.

Man Charged With Blowing Up Plane To Kill Wife Held Sane

QUEBEC, Que., Sept. 27 (AP)—A Quebec jeweler, accused of blowing up a plane with a time bomb to murder his wife and collect $10,000 insurance, is sane, according to police.

They said the jeweler, J. Albert Guay, was found sane yesterday by Dr. Gustave Desrochers, Quebec psychiatrist, and other experts, after a mental examination.

Police said Guay, held on a murder charge, had two motives in killing his wife—to collect the insurance on her life and get rid of her because he loved another woman.

Authorities charge Guay arranged to have a home-made bomb placed aboard a Canadian Pacific airlines transport in which his wife was riding. The plane blew up Sept. 9 en route from Quebecc to Baie Comeau, killing Mrs. Guay and 22 other persons, including three executives of the Kennecott Copper Corp.

Mrs. Arthur Pitre has admitted, authorities said, that she placed the bomb aboard the plane, but contended she did not know what the package contained. No charge has been placed against her.

after visiting at El Paso. Hord is going to take him to the Odessa plant after the Lubbock visit is completed.

Part Of Extensive Tour

The visits are part of a nation-wide tour of such plants that Roman is making by easy stages, returning to Monterrey between laps.

When asked about the future possibilities of Mexico industrially, Roman was careful to say that he was an industrialist and not a politician.

He said he looked forward for the country to progress gradually through work and industry. He said industry is growing up and expanding with the devaluation of the peso.

He is being introduced widely in Lubbock. Hord and Turner were hosts at a supper for him at Lubbock Country club, and he spent Monday afternoon visiting with Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of Texas Technological college, and other officials on the campus.

Roman has some grandchildren of whom he is particularly proud. He has three sons, two of whom are engineers and the third is an auditor.

But his principal interest is in oxygen and its industrial applications. He expressed the opinion that industrial use of oxygen is still in a state of infancy.

New Producer Is Developed

wildcat to test the Devonian in Northwest Andrews county, five and one-half miles west of the Fullerton pool.

The drillsite will be 660 feet from north and west lines of section 8, block A-38, psl survey and three miles northeast of Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 B. B. Ralph, which was abandoned as a dry hole after drilling to 8,416 feet in 1943.

Drilling will be with rotary tools.

Samedam Oil Corporation and W. D. and R. S. Anderson No. 1-E. A. Andrews, central-south Gaines county wildcat, adjacent to the Robertson field. Found the water in the Devonian after logging a 35-foot pay section in that formation which showed for a possible production of 40 barrels of oil per hour on a drillstem test.

The discovery is to drill ahead to about 12,500 feet to explore into the Ellenburger.

The exploration is 15 miles southwest of Seminole, and 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 19, block A-24, psl survey, and about three miles northwest of the Flanagan field, where there is some flowing production from the Devonian.

The present production in the Robertson field is from the Glorieta and the Clear Fork of the Permian above 7,200 feet.

Open Three Hours

The show for production in No. 1-A. A. Andrews came in a drillstem test at 10,062-090 feet. The tool was open three hours.

There was a string blow of air throughout the period, and the drill pipe started to flow oil at the top at the end of three hours. The tool was then closed and the fluid in the pipe was reversed out. Total recovery was the 2,000 foot water blanket and 8,000 feet of clean oil. Operator representatives estimated that the oil in the pipe represented a fill up of 40 barrels per hour.

Another drillstem test was run at 10,092-10,125 feet. The tool was open three hours. Recovery was the 2,000-foot water blanket and 7,625 feet of sulphur water. There were no signs of oil or gas.

Top of the Devonian is picked at 10,055 feet. Elevation is 3,332 feet.

Test To Be Made

Cabot Carbon Company No. 1 Bice, northeast Gaines county wildcat, two miles northwest of the nearest production in the northwest side of the Welch field, and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 2, block C-31, psl survey, was bottomed at 4,904 feet in San Andres lime, and was taking an electric log survey, preparatory to sunning casing and making a production test.

This prospector diamond cored the section at 4,904-54 feet. The enture interval showed porosity, but there were 17 feet of streaks in the section which showed good porosity.

In formed sources think the venture has a good chance to make an oil well from the current horizon.

C. L. Norsworthy, jr., No. 1 D. D. Feldman, central-east Surry county wildcat, 10 miles east of Snyder and five miles northeast of Hermleigh, topped the Canyon reef lime at 5,980 feet, on an elevation of 2,357 feet.

It is making hole below 6,154 feet in lime. The zone at 6,101-09 feet showed good oil flouresence. The project has not yet run a drillstem test in the Canyon.

It is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 63, block 3, H&TC survey.

Gun Totin' Texans Caught By Law Can Keep Shooting Irons

AUSTIN, Sept. 27 (AP)—Gun'totin' Texans caught by the law don't have to give up ownership of their shooting irons to the state.

That was the ruling today of the attorney general, who said county courts have no legal authority to confiscate weapons owned by persons convicted of unlawfully carrying arms.

Texas' pistol-packin' law deals with more than pistols. It says:

"Whoever shall carry on or about his person, saddle or in his saddle bags any pistol, dirk, dagger, slungshot, sword cane, spear or knuckles made of any metal or any hard substance, bowie knife, or any other knife manufactured or sold for the purposes of offense or defense, shall be punished by a fine not less than $100 nor more than $500, or by confinement in jail for not less than one month nor more than one year."

Assistant Attorney General Burnell Waldrep went back to a case decided in 1878 to rule on the question put by James C. Martin, Nueces county attorney at Corpus Christi.

This decision held unconstitutional a part of what the law then was, providing for forfeiture to the county of the weapon in case of conviction.

He said article 51 of the penal code now specifies that "there shall in no criminal case be a forfeiture of any kind to the state."

FISH FARMING PAYS

Four Tech Students Awarded Scholarships By Exes Group

The first sons and daughters of ex-students of Texas Technological college to win scholarships given by the Ex-Students association received their fall semester awards of $100 each Monday.

The Ex-Students association provided $1,000 for five $100 scholarships to be given during the fall semester and the same number to be given during the spring semester.

Slaton Student Qualifies

Those qualifying for scholarships this fall were:

Richard Lee Vardy from Slaton, winner from the arts and sciences division, whose father, Philip Lee Vardy, superintendent of schools at Slaton, received a bachelor of arts degree in mathematics in 1929 and a master of arts degree at close of the 1937 summer session, both at Texas Tech.

John Pinson, Lubbock, engineering division, whose mother, Mrs. Bert Pinson of 2217 Seventeenth, was graduated from Texas Tech, with a major in history, in 1929.

Miss Silva Mae Loyd, Dimmitt, home economics division, whose mother, Mrs. Grace Loyd, received a degree, with education major, at close of the summer session in 1945 and who now teaches the fifth grade at Dimmitt.

Jim Bryan, Lubbock, business administration division, whose father, H. B. Bryant of 2405 Thirty-first, attended Texas Tech from 1926 to 1929, majoring in history, and who now is Lubbock county tax assessor and collector.

Scholarship rules require that the winner of a scholarship be a son or daughter of a Tech ex-student who attended at least one semester in a long term and received 15 semester hours' credit that the student must have at least 30 semester hours, exclusive of semester hours credit received in summer school, must have at least a "B" average in college work, and must maintain a "B" average during the fall semester when the scholarship goes into effect to receive the $100 award during the second semester. The scholarship is awarded on application only. If more than one student applies for each award, the qualified applicant with the highest grade point average receives the award. There were 10 applications this fall.

Winners are determined by the Ex-Students association executive board.

Although scholarships were available in each of five divisions, students qualified in only four divisions this fall.

ARMED FORCES GET PAY RAISE

Senate Turns To Salary Hike Proposal For Top Executives

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (AP)—The Senate, having agreed to raises in military pay, turned more critically today to President Truman's idea of boosting salaries for top federal executives.

A house-passed bill increasing the pay of cabinet members and other upper-bracket officials is the next major legislation on the Senate schedule. It was listed for action late in the day after some other matters are disposed of.

It follows in the wake of Senate passage by voice vote late yesterday of a bill giving pay raises to members of the armed forces in almost every grade at a cost of about $300,000,000 annually.

Compromise Offered

A similar military pay bill passed the House earlier. House and Senate conferees now will attempt to iron out the differences, which are minor. Raises in the Senate bill range from about $5 a month for recruits with five months service to $300 and up for generals with over 30 years service.

Much more controversy has developed over the executive pay bill, for which Mr. Truman made another plea yesterday in a letter to Vice President Barkley.

After a huddle of senators in the office of Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois, Senator McFarland (D-Ariz) said that 34 senators —20 Democrats and 14 Republicans—have offered a compromise which "is being accepted." McFarland is leader of a group which wants to scale down the pay raises Mr. Truman asked.

Salary Scale Changed

McFarland said that under the compromise no government officials except cabinet members and a few White House aides would have their pay raised above $15,000 and none would receive more than a 50 per cent increase.

For cabinet members, that would mean a boost in pay from $15,000 to $22,500 instead of the $25,000 provided in the pending presidentially backed bill.

McFarland said the compromise also would cut the $16,000 salary provided in the bill for seven White House assistants to $15,000. But the President would be allowed to employ two at $20,000 and three at $18,000.

At present the White House salary scale for presidential assistants ranges from $10,000 to a top, for one position, of $15,000.

Clark M. Clifford, special counsel to the President, presumably would be one of those moved up to the $20,000-a-year level if the bill should pass.

Some Raises Large

The bill is scaled to give increases comparable to those for cabinet members to the heads of other executive departments and their top assistants.

But under the compromise outlined by McFarland, the pay of under-secretary of Defense Stephen Early, for example, would go up only to $15,000 instead of $20,000. Early, former aide to the late President Roosevelt, now gets $12,000.

Some of the arises provided in the bill as it passed the House and as the Senate civil service committee recommended it amounted almost to 100 per cent.

If raises like that are passed out to government officials, McFarland said, "we can't very well tell industry to keep things on an even keel."

President Truman contended in his letter to Barkley, however, that "the proposed salaries are very modest in relation to the responsibilities of these positions."

"If they appear to be high in relation to the present salaries," he added, "that is because the present salaries are ridiculously low."

Man Jailed For Gun Blasts In Backyard

HOUSTON, Sept. 27 (AP) — Police arrested a 39-year-old lumber salesman today who claimed he had a "constitutional right", to carry firearms, and who made a regular proving grounds out of his landlady's backyard.

Mrs. Woody Haile called officers when, after four days, she decided tenant Charles Stanley's withering volley had to go. She filed against him for discharging firearms in the city.

The whole thing started, said Mrs. Haile, when Stanley stalked into her backyard last Friday night and began firing. He did the same thing Saturday night, called a halt on the Sabbath, and then resumed at 6 a.m. today.

When Mrs. Haile called police they suggested she file a charge against Stanley. She did.

Stanley returned from work at 11 a.m. today, she complained, fired a single shot into the garage, reloaded the gun and fired five shots more. He loaded up a second time, and on the last trip let go at the garage with seven quick shots, said Mrs. Haile.

When patrolmen reached the scene, Stanley barred himself in his room and yelled that he wouldn't submit "even if you've got a warrant."

Seconds later, he walked calmly out and said he wanted to get arrested.

"I want to prove the law is wrong and that I have a constitutional right to carry a gun," he said.
