Highway Deaths During Holiday Below Estimate

Farmers To Get Aid Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson announced today that farmers in areas where 1956 crops are not too far advanced will be permitted to "bank" some croplands this year under the new billion-dollar soil bank program.

Under this program, authorized by a new farm law signed by President Eisenhower Monday, the department will offer payments to farmers for reducing plantings of such surplus crops as cotton, wheat, corn, rice, peanuts and tobacco.

Payments will not be offered, Benson told a news conference, on crops that already have matured. He said he did not believe the public would look with favor on this.

Benson said he could make no forecast as to what percentage of the farmers will take advantage of the soil dank on this year's crops, or how much money will be paid out. He said the lateness of the season undoubtedly will hold down participation.

Benson anpounced rates which will be offered for taking land out of cotton, wheat, corn and rice. Rates for tobacco and peanuts will be announced within a few days, he said.

The rates are: corn 90 cents bushel; cotton 15 cents a pound; wheat $1.20 a bushel, and rice $2.25 a hundred pounds. These rates are equivalent to about 60 per cent of parity in the case of corn, cotton and wheat and 50 per cent of parity in the case of rice.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they pay.

WHOOPING CRANE MAKES DEBUT—The first whooping crane hatched in captivity sits beside Josephine, its mother, who in turn sits on another egg. The little crane, hatched in the Audubon Park Zoo in New Orleans, La., is the 31st of the species known to exist.

Ike Proposes Idea Exchange

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today called a White House conference for June 12 to explore ways of developing "better people-to-people contacts and partnerships throughout the world" in the interest of world peace.

American leaders in many non-government fields have been invited to take part.

The White House said the goal is to promote contacts with peoples in Iron Curtain countries as well as in the free nations.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said one logical result could be implementation of the President's proposal at Baylor University last week and America's great Universities and large private foundations help establish science and cultural education centers in needy free nations.

The President already has invited 34 American leaders from such fields as business, education, agriculture, advertising, the motion picture industry and church groups to the conference.

In his letter of invitation, the President said the government at present "has a relatively modest apparatus for trying to make the United States' objectives and principles better understood throughout the world."

Alluding to the program of the U.S. Information Agency in that field, Eisenhower noted he has asked Congress for additional funds "to strengthen this activity." Then he added:

"But, clearly, there will never be enough diplomats and information officers at work in the world to get the job done without help from the rest of us. Indeed, if our American ideology is eventually to win out in the great struggle being waged between the two opposing ways of life, it must have the active support of thousands of private independent groups and institutions and of millions of individual Americans acting through person-to-person communication in foreign lands."

Two Dead In Train Crash

PARKERSBURG, W.Va. (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio's westbound National Limited derailed coming out of a tunnel about 30 miles east of here early today. The engineer was killed and two other crewmen were missing.

Two of the train's sleeping cars were destined for Texas.

The diesel engine of the fast westbound New York-St. Louis train apparently struck a boulder as it emerged from the tunnel in the rain-drenched Hughes River Valley. The engine and a baggage car overturned. Eleven cars to the rear were towed back to Clarksburg, then rerouted over a side line.

Several passengsrs were treated for minor injuries, but none was reported hurt seriously.

The engineer, J. C. Riley of Grafton, W.Va., was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital here.

The accident occurred at 2:22 a.m.

Riley Shaver, an ambulance driver, said the engine lay in the swollen river, and the baggage car lay on its side at the tunnel's mouth.

Shaver brought back William Baum of Parkersburg, a mail clerk, who was treated for shock and sent home.

The derailment occurred where the tracks emerge from the tunnel onto a bridge spanning the usually small and placid stream. It is about half way between Parkersburg and Clarksburg, near the small settlement of Cornwallis.

Missing were the fireman, identified as Paul R. Hooten of Grafton, and another crew member, unidentified.

The five sleeping cars and their destinations were listed as follows:

The Quail to Louisville; The John Erickson and Wabash River to St. Louis; the Eagle Light from Washington to Fort Worth, Texas; and the Sangamon, from Washington to Dallas.

SCHOOL IS OUT

School was out at about noon today for the 3,650 students in the Snyder school system.

The schools here remained in session about a week longer than the average schools in the state.

Students will return to school on the first Tuesday in September, according to Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent, while teachers will report Aug. 27.

Beginning Aug. 14, there will be a pre-school program for children who will be in the first grade next fall to help them bridge the gap between home and school. It will last two weeks.

Registration for elementary school students will be held Aug. 20-21. Students in junior high and high school registered last week, and those who have not registered will do so on the first day of school next fall.

101 Killed During Day

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents across the nation Memorial Day took a toll of 101 lives, about 10 per cent fewer than the 110 predicted by the National Safety Council.

Twelve states and the District of Columbia observed the holiday without a single traffic fatality.

Ned H. Dearborn, safety council president, hailed the traffic picture as "encouraging" and called for greater effort to hold down the forthcoming July 4th holiday toll.

"It is encouraging that certain communities and states were able to hold their traffic toll to very few or even no deaths," Dearborn said. "And while the total of 101 deaths for the nation is distressing, it was below the figure that might have prevailed had not extra effort been made to hold down the toll.

"We are hoping the Fourth of July holiday will bring even greater effort and a lower toll."

In San Francisco, Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California blamed public apathy for his state's mounting traffic toll. He said the state would set a "humiliating" record this year unless steps are taken to curb traffic slaughter.

The holiday traffic toll this year occurred over a 30-hour period from 6 p.m. (local time) Tuesday to midnight Wednesday.

In other violent deaths, 29 persons drowned and another 30 lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents. The total of deaths from traffic, drownings and miscellaneous violence — 160 compared with 111 reported in an Associated Press survey on May 16, a non-holiday Wednesday.

On that day, 70 traffic fatalities, 8 drownings and 33 deaths from miscellaneous mishaps were reported.

The record traffic death rate for any one-day holiday was set on Christmas 1946, when 253 persons were killed on the highways.

Last year's Memorial Day holiday extended over a three-day period—a weekend—and 369 persons lost their lives in motor mishaps. Total accidental deaths were 596.

Generally mild weather lured millions of motorists to the highways yesterday in the first holiday of the spring-summer season.

Roby Trial Is Started

ROBY — Proceedings got underway here yesterday in 104th District Court in the civil suit of Scott Snodgrass, Jr., of San Angelo vs. MKT Railroad.

The case, being tried for the second time, is expected to run through tomorrow. The case was first tried in February, 1955, and a new trial was granted.

Next week's court docket is expected to be light, and that for the third week of the court's term is not yet complete.

District Judge Owen Thomas of Abilene is presiding. Attorneys in the civil case are Truett Smith of San Angelo and Morris G. Watson of Roby for Snodgrass and O. O. Touchstone of Dallas, Hubert Watso of Stamford, and Clay Coggins of Rotan for the defendant.

Jurors selected for the case are Ellis Markham, T. J. Gilliland, Mrs. J. T. Stanford, Roscoe Wiley, Richard Floyd, R. L. Myers, Jack Stephenson, Willie A. Martin, Russ Callen, Fred Kemp, Thompson.

Brazilians Protest Fare For Streetcar

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — President Juscelino Kubitschek today ordered the Brazilian army, navy and air force to take over police duties in Rio de Janiero if necessary to suppress riots of students protesting increased streetcar fares.

Sporadic student attacks on the streetcars have been occurring for a week. They developed into serious riots Tuesday night and continued yesterday. Last night almost the entire city was thrown into turmoil when police battled mobs of demonstrating students.

Steel Bargaining Session Started

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Eight men representing the nation's biggest three steel companies and the United Steelworkers today met in an unprecedented session to bargain on costly union demands for new labor contracts.

Representing the union at the bargaining table were USW President David J. McDonald, I. W. Abel, secretary treasurer, Howard R. Hague, international vice president, and Arthur J. Goldberg, general counsel.

The steel companies' representatives are Thomas F. Patton assistant president and first vice president of Republic Steel Corp., John Morse, legal counsel for Bethlehem Steel Corp., John A. Stephens, vice president in charge of industrial relations for U.S. Steel Corp., and his legal counsel, Heath Larry, assistant general solicitor for the firm.

Both union and steel negotiators said they would refrain at this time from making any further statements to newsmen.

Results of the negotiations—scheduled to transfer to New York next Wednesday—likely will set the pattern for contract settlements throughout the basic steel industry.

Labor agreements with 172 steel firms and iron ore mining companies expire at midnight June 30th. The union would be free to call an industry-wide strike if a settlement is not reached by then.

One Person Killed In Car-Train Crash

DENISON, Tex. (AP)—One person was killed and two injured in a train-car crash here today.

A car carrying three persons and a north-bound Missouri-Kansas-Texas passenger train were involved.

A man and woman, passengers of the car, were taken to a Denison hospital. Names of the dead and injured were not immediately available.

Solon Seeks Buildup Of Air Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) suggested today that money cut from President Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid budget could be used to finance a faster buildup of U.S. air power.

McClellan is a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, now working on a defense budget of nearly 33½ billion dollars which some air power exponents contend may not assure supremacy for U.S. air strength over Russia's.

The budget for the year starting July 1 calls for roughly 15½ billions for hte air force, 10 billions for the Navy and 7½ billions for the Army.

McClellan, a vigorous critic of past foreign aid policy, lined up with those calling for more money for air power. The issue has touched off a new interservice row in the Pentagon, with echoes in Congress.

McClellan declined to give a specific figure he thinks the Air Force should get. Sen. Chavez (D-NM), head of an Appropriations subcommittee handling the defense budget, has predicted the full committee will vote to boost the Air Force budget by one to two billion dollars and perhaps vote more money for the Army too.

"We should emphasize Air Force strength," McClellan told a reporter. "I am not at all satisfied with the progress being made. It should be accelerated, and we should provide whatever is needed."

He said foreign aid should be considered separately from the defense spending problem, but that reduced foreign aid could make more money available for defense.

Eisenhower's foreign aid program has been acted upon only by the House Foreign Affairs Committee, which recommended a cut of $1,109,000,000. The House is due to vote on it next week, the Senate later.

Two Republican members of the Appropriations Committee, Sen. Duff (R-Pa.) and Sen. Thye (R-Minn) said it was too early to try to settle on dollar totals for the forces.

Land Mine Explodes At Base In Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A landmine exploded today at the new British military base being built on the south coast of Cyprus. A timekeeper was wounded.

British troops searched the base and found eight unexploded mines in a building under construction.

Cypriot workers at the base—being built at Episcopi to replace the Suez Canal station—immediately went on strike apparently fearing further blasts.

Meanwhile, Cyprus braced itself for furhter violence. Five people died yesterday as a result of the bitter struggle for union with Greece.

Nudist Magazines Cleared By Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled today the Post Office Department interfered with freedom of the press in barring from the mails, without a hearing, two issues of nudist magazines.

Dividing 2-1, the appellate court struck down a lower court decision which upheld the Post Office Department contention the magazines were unmailable because they were "obscene, lewd, lascivious and indecent."

Involved in the case were the February, 1955, issue of Sunshine & Health magazine and the January-February, 1955, issue of Solaire Universelle Nudisme magazine.

The magazines are published at Mays Landing, N.J., and advocate nudism and the nudist mode of living.

The majority decision said "First Amendment considerations are involved" in the case.

Judge George T. Washington, spoke for himself and Chief Judge Henry W. Edgerton, said the texts were found by the Post Office Department and Dist. Judge James R. Kirkland "not to be obscene."

"But both the department and the district court thereupon proceeded to deal with the illustrations in the magazine merely as such," Washington wrote, adding:

"Yet an examination of their opinions . . shows no effort to weigh the material considered objectionable against the rest of the contents, or to weigh the risk in permitting the former to circulate against the limitations of freedom of the press implicit in halting circulation of the latter. Furthermore, neither the department nor the district court appears to have investigated or considered the intent of the publisher, one of the important elements in obscenity cases."

Russia May Widen Its Invitation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some informed U.S. officials believe Moscow will follow up its successful bid to Gen. Nathan F. Twining with invitations to other American military leaders to visit Russia.

Members of the Soviet high command may be asked to come to the United States in return.

Secretary of the Air Force Donald A. Quarles announced yesterday that "with the authorization of the President" Twining had accepted an invitation to a Soviet Aviation Day celebration June 24. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, will be accompanied by several subordinate officers.

Quarles said the decision to accept had been approved also by Secretary of Defense Wilson and Secretary of State Dulles, who is presently on a 10-day vacation. The Russian embassy was advised of the decision.

Thus ended half a dozen days of speculation.

The decision for Twining to accept was speeded by a weekend report from Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen in Moscow making clear the bid was a firm one. This indicated that the Soviet government was not interested for the moment in inviting other members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff for a tour of Russian military establishments.

Comments from the White House and Defense Department showed they would welcome a broadened invitation, but when it became evident that this would not be promptly forthcoming the decision was made for Twining to accept.

As a matter of policy, it appears that Soviet moves for increasing military contacts with the United States have confronted Eisenhower and his chief advisers with a choice of difficult and risky alternatives.

The central problem is this:

1. How can the United States enter into friendlier military relations with Russia without causing its allies and the free world generally to lower its guard and relax vigilance against Soviet communism?

2. On the other hand, can the United States afford to cold-shoulder Soviet moves for more normal relations in the military field without appearing to other countries to have a kind of Iron Curtain of its own?

Korea Commission To Halt Operation

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—The U. N. Command today clipped the wings of the four-nation commission supervising the Korean armistice, charging the Communists have used it as a blind for an illegal buildup of arms in North Korea.

Commission members were ordered to halt their operations in South Korea and pull back into the neutral zone.

Britain disclosed the 16 nations making up the U. N. Command, which is headed by the United States, have turned down a new proposal from Red China for a conference to unite Korea and withdraw foreign troops.

A British note dispatched to Peiping on behalf of the 16 said the Communist governments of China and North Korea have provided no evidence of the good faith needed for such a conference to "serve any useful purpose" and accused the Reds of frustrating any effective supervision of the 1954 Geneva armistice agreement.

North Korea countered with a broadcast from Pyongyang reporting it will discharge 80,000 men from its armed forces by Aug. 31 and calling on South Korea to follow suit. The Pyongyang radio said the reductions would speed talks on unification. In another dispatch, it reported Premier Marshal Kim Il Sung has accepted an invitation to visit moscow at some time in the future.

North Korea is estimated to have about 400,000 soldiers of its own in uniform, in addition to the many Red Chinese troops still in the country. South Korea has an army of about 600,000 men.

The armistice supervisor commissions is made up of representatives of traditionally neutral Sweden and Switzerland and Communist Czechoslovakia and Poland. A blistering statement from the U.N. Command accused the North Koreans of armistice violations and said the Czech and Polish members of the commission covered up illegal Red activities.

'Cinderella Day' Parade Is Slated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"A Cinderella Day" parade will march up Market street Sunday, with brass bands leading contingents of charwomen, garbage collectors, street cleaners and others who work by night to keep the city clean.

The parade is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as part of a June clean-up to get the town spic-and-span for the Republican National Convention in August.

The farm, on Sauvies Island near Portland, Ore., is surrounded by the flooding Columbia River. Cattle are safe in the barn and there's only one foot of water in the basement. Mrs. Hoak says "our milk is going out by boat."

Six Injured During Riot By Teen-Agers On Lake Vessel

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A holiday outing ended in a voyage of terror for passengers aboard a Lake Erie amusement park vessel last night as teen-agers rioted aboard the ship.

Reporters aboard the crowded Canadiana for the 15-mile trip from Crystal Beach amusement park in Ontario to this city described it as "a nightmare of flashing knives and sobbing, frightened" passengers.

Rioting aboard the Canadiana flared up after a day of disorders by white and Negro youths at the amusement park.

Cpl. J. E. Legate of the Ontario provincial police at Crystal Beach was quoted by the Buffalo Courier-Express as saying the disorders were "strictly racial."

But F. L. Hall, general manager of the amusement park, said the disturbance there was "not a race riot."

Six persons were treated for injuries at hospitals in Buffalo and Fort Eric, Ont., and at least 10 others were treated for minor injuries at a first aid station at the park.

Provincial police arrested nine Buffalo youths at the beach. Five were Negroes and four whites.

The Negro youths were charged with unlawful assembly and the whites with creating a disturbance. All were released under $500 bail each.

Buffalo authorities took three Negro teen-agers into custody when the Canadiana docked here shortly before 11 p.m.

Police said no charges were placed against them immediately.

It was not known what set off the disturbances at the beach. An estimated 15,000 to 20,000 persons, mostly Americans, were reported at the park yesterday.

Margaret Wynn and Dick Hirsch of the Buffalo Courier-Express, who were aboard the three-decked steamship, reported that "nearly 40 white youngsters, several beaten or cut, cowered below decks in the ship's dining room for most of the trip after being attacked or threatened by the many Negro teen-agers who made up the majority of the passengers."

The reporters estimated that of the approximately 1,000 passengers, 80 per cent were Negroes.

"Members of the ship's crew and private police," the reporters wrote, "vainly attempted to keep order, but when one fight was broken up, another flared in a different portion of the weather-beaten boat."

"Most of the trouble," they continued, "was caused by gangs of Negro girls who walked the deck, attacking and molesting young white girls.

"Firecrackers were carelessly flung at passengers, exploding at their feet. Several received powder burns. Switch-blade knives were brandished. Youngsters were shoved to the deck by the rampaging mobs which rushed back and forth over the decks.

"Many older white persons were segregated by worried crew members. They sat quietly in roped-off sections of the slow-moving ship, attempting to comfort their crying, terrified children."

Mexico Runs Short Of Farm Laborers

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The National Confederation of Small Farm Owners said yesterday there was a shortage of farm hands in Northern Mexico and asked that all braceros be required to work a minimum of four weeks in Mexico before going to the United States.

The confederation said the shortage was alarming and asked that the four weeks of farm work in Mexico be made a prerequisite to getting a permit to work in the United States.

Only persons without work are supposed to get permits as migratory workers in the United States and the confederation asks the government ministry to tighten proofs on the requirement.

Climbers Are Killed

MATSUMOTO, Japan (AP)—Three Japanese mountain climbers died yesterday atop 10,463-foot Mt. Hodaka while trying to recover the bodies of two other climbers who perished there three days earlier. All five were caught in storms on the summit and froze to death.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Wildcats Set In Three Counties

Wildcat locations have been named in West Texas areas.

B. B. Somerford and Carl B. Schuster of Dallas will drill a 2,500-foot wildcat six miles southeast of Iraan in Crockett County.

Drillsite for No. 1 Noelke is 330 feet from the most westerly north line and 990 feet from west line of section 32, block GG, three miles west of production in the Noelke field.

Goldston Oil Corp. No. 1 E. J. Carpenter is to be drilled as an 8,500-foot wildcat in Northeast Howard County, 17 miles northeast of Big Spring.

Drillsite is 660 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 36, block 33, T&P survey, 3½ mile south of the Vat (Ellenburger) field.

Humphrey Oil Gas Co. No. 1-C Edwards A. Gate is to be drilled as a 5,200-foot project in Irion County, 9½ miles northeast of Barnhart.

Drillsite is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 21, WCRR survey, three miles southeast of a recent Clear Fork discovery.

A. G. Hill, Trustee, of Abilene No. 1 Harry, wildcat in Central Nolan County, is making production tests in the Canyon sand.

An initial 24-hour pumping gauge of 41.45 barrels of 36-gravity oil and 11.39 barrels of water has been reported from perforations at 5,440 to 5,458 feet and 5,462-5,470 feet.

Perforations were treated with 500 gallons of mud acid.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 22, block E, T&P survey and one and one-half miles south of Sweetwater and two miles east of the Lake Trammell (multipay) field.

General Crude Oil Co. has staked location for an 8,200-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Northeast Borden County as to Vic T. M. E. Jones.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 21, WCRR survey, three miles southeast of a recent Clear Fork discovery.

Von Roeders To Attend Cat Spring Celebration

Several members of the Von Roeder family will go to Austin County June 8 to attend the celebration of 100 years of agricultural progress at Cat Springs.

Attending from here will be Mr. and Mrs. Nolan von Roeder and Von Roeder's sister, Mrs. Jim Sorrels. Also going will be Dr. and Mrs. H. S. von Roeder of Marion.

The celebration is being staged by the Cat Spring Agricultural Society, the oldest continuously operating agricultural society west of the Mississippi River.

The society was organized June 7, 1856, with 40 members signing the original charter. The community of Cat Spring is even older. It was the site of a settlement made in 1882 by a group came as a part of Austin's original colony.

The society was formed by the early settlers as a mutual aid for studying agricultural problems of the day. They studied available printed material and conducted experiments to find better ways of doing things on on the farm. The leaders worked closely with the U. S. Patent Office, which handled agricultural matters prior to establisment of the U. S. Department of agriculture.

Included in the group of early settlers were members of the Von Roeder family of Germany. Four of the family came ahead of the others to find and prepare a home in this country for the large family.

After 60 days at sea the second group had landed at New Orleans. They heard bad tidings of conditions in Texas but decided to go on and reunite with those who had gone before them. After eight days on a schooner they were shipwrecked near Galveston Island. All passengers and most equipment were saved.

Later, at San Felipe, they heard about the other members of their family who had preceded them to Texas, and they found them about 14 miles northwest of there near what is now Cat Spring, living in crude hovels. Two had died. The party went to Cat Spring, since the armies of Santa Anna were active along the coastal area. Santa Anna later looted and burned what they had left. During that time some of the Von Roeder family had erected living quarters at Cat Spring and had put in about 10 acres to corn and cotton. The living quarters were two small houses.

When Santa Anna's armies came close, the family decided to stay and defend the home. Some of the family had previously fought at San Antonio, and at that time Ludwig Siegmund Anton French Revolution, and other members of the family fought in the battle of San Jacinto.

Some groups came to Texas as early as 1821 but failed to survive. The actual founding of German settlements in Texas began in 1831. The Cat Spring settlement began about the same time.

The first to settle at Cat Spring were the Von Roeders and Ams-Roeders killed a wildcat at one of the springs on the San Bernardo, and that gave the community its name, Cat Spring.

Among the early agricultural experiments conducted were those dealing with use of green manure crops and conservation of brands was started in the 1860s. Early experiments with cotton had to do with the amount of seed to plant per acre and spacing of plants in the row.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Von Roeder came to Scurry County in 1908 and settled at Knapp. It had been their sixth home. Experiments in agriculture continued here with cotton, fruit trees, and other crops. The Von Roeder family here now operates a cotton breeding industry, as well as orchards.

Fitting Facings Is Topic Of Program

A demonstration on fitted facing was given by Alma Nell Hillis at the meeting of the Plainview 4-H Club Monday in the home of Mrs. H. W. Rodgers. All members were present.

Miss Hillis also led the group as they stood and said the 4-H Club motto, pledge and prayer. Business was then discussed and it was decided that the time of meeting would be changed to 3 p.m. because school is out. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Lowell Thornburg.

Refreshments were served by Ruby Marsh and Joyce Rodgers to the members and two guests, Connie and Karen Rodgers.

Bible Thought

Yea, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the Lord. Zachariah 8:22.

EDITORIALS

Food For Thought

According to Life magazine the British frogman Lionel Crabb was "exploring the underside" of the Soviet light cruiser Ordzhonikidze in Portsmouth harbor when he disappeared from mortal ken. He was, the Life story goes, working in behalf of some patriotic private British group or some low-level British government official or group.

Crabb, whose spectacular career as a British Navy diver won him many distinctions and medals in and after WW II, was "penniless and tradeless," and had told friends he was taking the job of inspecting the Soviet "bottoms" for a stipend of $176 (60 Guineas). He had been turned out to grass—or perhaps to seaweed—last year as being too old to dive, it being rather the fashion among governments to hand out honors to their heroes in lieu of something that can be converted into food, clothing and shelter in old age.

Crabb is believed to have been among the frogmen who last year inspected the bottom of the Soviet cruiser Sverdlov, sister ship of the "Our Johnny Kids You," which is the way Life says Ordzhonikidze" is pronounced, then in Portsmouth harbor.

What would Western navies like to know about the new Russian cruisers and submarines? Many things, and particularly why it is the Russian ships are faster, more maneuverable and sleeker than anything the West has. (Remember the Reds carted off the brains of the old Germany Navy.)

The Crabb incident furnishes much food for thought. If he was indeed acting for some unofficial surreptitious individual or group, even of the highest patriotic and responsible sort, the incident leads to this thought: What if some fanatical individual or group hired some compliant frogmen to slip in under a warship in a foreign harbor and blow the thing to Kingdom Come?

Remember the Maine? That started a war.

We predict the world's navies will take extraordinary precautions to insure the safety of foreign warships in their ports hereafter. Especially those belonging to an unfriendly nation.

Wanted: Executives

This is the Age of the Executive. Never before in history has the demand for executives been so acute, particularly in the junior and middle levels. In the steel industry alone management openings are running 60 percent ahead of last year.

But it's a long, hard grind to reach executive rank, as the May issue of Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine, points out. If you have any weak points in your make-up, better eliminate them or turn your ambitious thoughts in some other direction.

Indeed, ambition is the first requisite to executive success, the magazine says. The strong, continuing kind. Studies show that only one in ten who have been with a company five years are willing to study, work harder and accept heavier responsibilities in order to advance.

Secondly, you need a strong body and emotional stamina. You must take a crisis in stride, refuse to become despondent, be unafraid of failure, and take criticism without flinching.

Thirdly, you must not quail at sacrifices. You'll have to give up a lot—much of your social life, hobbies, time, and being with your family.

Finally, you must be willing to take risks. The higher you go the more often you will be forced to make decisions and to stand by them.

And you must watch out for the pitfalls. Some of these are inability to delegate responsibility, lack of general knowledge, personnel organization and administration; inability to analyze and evaluate, to make decisions, to cooperate or judge people.

Very few people are able to meet all these requirements for executive leadership. That is why so many openings in this field, at a time when everything is becoming more and more complex and demanding.

No Fire, No Water

LAS ANIMAS, Colo. (AP) — This town of 3,223 went five hours without a fire. And it's a good thing, too. The city had no water.

A welding crew repaired the city water tank, and opened a valve to turn the water into the tank. Heat from the welded portion of the tank caused pressure that kept the water out for five hours.

Dulles Can Rest Assured That Demos Will Use Him As A Target In Campaign

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Every day is going to seem like Decoration Day to Secretary of State Dulles once the presidential campaign gets under way. The Democrats will be pinning charges all over him for his handling of foreign affairs.

They're already doing it. So when he said a few days ago he favors a "pretty thorough airing" of foreign policy in this year's campaign it was the same as if he had said "I can't stop it from raining."

It can't be much of a surprise to Dulles that the Democrats so early in the election year are banging away at his — and President Eisenhower's — conduct of foreign policy.

Dulles himself was so eager to attack the Democrats' foreign policy in the 1952 presidential campaign that he resigned early that year as a special adviser to the Truman administration so he could speak his mind freely.

And speak he did, right up to election day. He was one of the most persistent Republican critics of the Truman foreign policy although, after becoming secretary of state, that was the basic policy he followed himself.

When the Democrats rip into the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign policy this year they'll have less emotional appeal than Dulles was able to muster up four years ago.

In 1952 the Korean War was still being fought, and the American people were sick of it. No one knew whether that small war might be extended into a big one with Russia and Red China.

Now the Korean war is over. Red China has quieted down.

Russia is not only not growing but has promised tot take 1,200,000 men out of military service. And the world is breathing easier than it was in 1952.

If some of the words the Democrats this year use against Dulles sound strangely familiar—like words Dulles used against them in 1952 — it doesn't necessarily mean politicians have a limited vocabultary. It may be coincidence.

In 1952 Dulles accused the Democrats of conducting a "rear guard action" against communism instead of grasping the initiative.

This year Adlai Stevenson, one of the Democrats' presidential hopefuls, said, "It is high time . . . that we . . . take some iniative to allay the world's misgivings."

In 1952 Dulles said the Russians were "winning by default" because they have not "had to meet the vision, the imagination, the resourcefulness . . . of which the American people are capable."

Averell Harriman, another potential Democratic nominee, said this year that what American foreign policy needs is a "fresh start, are thinking, an imaginative and creative new approach."

In 1952 Dulles siad the Democrats had become a "victim" of their "own war propaganda about Soviet Russia."

This year Sen. Estes Kefauver, a third Democrat with eyes on the White House, said the Eisenhower administration and Dulles "have become prisoners of their slogans and promises."

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

POZITANO, Italy (AP) — If anybody will listen, we'll reveal a haven of retreat for the exhausted, frayed executives and performers of that distant American world of television and radio.

Here in a fascinating village beside the blue Mediterranean there is no competition, no rating systems, not a single sponsor. Here at the Casa Maresca, between towering mountains and shining sea, there is not even a radio or a TV set or a telephone.

In the words of John Maresca, warm host, genial philosopher and unsurpassed chef of this superb pensione, "the radio and the television have a place, but it's not here at the Casa Maresca. There's enough life in Positano without bringing more through the air."

Indeed there is. There's a lesson in leisure to be learned here for those who have forgotten that life is more than a bitterly competitive battle.

Wake to the proud cries of roosters and step to the marble balcony in the rising sun. The white and pink buildings of Positano spill down the steep mountainside to the blue sea.

Fishermen clatter up the steep stone stairways of the village on wooden clogs, bearing wicker baskets of fish.

Ask Maresca to pack you a delicious lunch and descend by 395 stone steps to the beach. Rent a boat there and row up the coast. The sea sucks noisily at black cliffs. A thousand feet above clings and twists the Amalfi Drive which skirts Positano. Row on and eventually you'll find an isolated beach where you land and swim and eat lunch and read.

On another day climb far up the mountains, past the luxuriant terraced gardens which yield three and four crops a year. Looking far down on Positano, you see a village that has survived the vicissitudes of time. A leisurely place, yes, but a perfect place to work too, as numerous writers and painters of many nations have discovered.

Conservationists Urge Revival Of Nature Study

By DION HENDERSON
The Associated Press

Remember when every school child knew all about the birds, and bees and hte flowers?

Well, times have changed. Today's kids may be right up to here with information on guys and dolls, but details on how the birds and flowers—to say nothing of bears and trees—operate has escaped them.

Worse yet, conservation officials and educators agree, an understanding of the natural world and the place humans have in it has escaped a good many teachers as well.

Discovery of the situation, and prompt efforts to do something about it, seem to have been made in a number of states and provinces at approximately the same time.

State and federal agencies, private and industrial scientists and educators themselves have banded together in many instances to refresh the occupants of the schoolhouse on the ecological facts of life that man depends on the field, the forest and the streams for a good deal more than recreational hunting and fishing.

The conservation sciences, of course, are immensely complicated and still-developing fields calling for highly specialized instructors. But still one of the basic requirements in the public schools—called for constitutionally in some states, such as Wisconsin—is for instruction in reading, writing, arithmetic and the conservation of natural resources.

Conservation Education Assn.

On the national level, the Conservation Education Assn. was organized in 1953 as the successor to the National Committee on Policies in Conservation Education. Headed by Howard Michaud of Purdue University, the CEA aims at "the development of effective resource education programs in schools and colleges and in youth and adult programs."

But the CEA, which holds its natural four-day conference Aug. 25-29 at Clemson, South Carolina, deals with over-all problems and philosophies.

"HELP, POLICE!!"

Polio Victim Among Happiest In Group To Receive College Degree This Year

BY MARGARET P. MCDONALD

SHREVEPORT, La., May 30 (AP) —Of all the students across the nation who have walked down the aisle for college degrees, none was be more proud than Charles Hopkins Perry, who had to be pushed.

Perry, 26, rode down in a wheelchair yesterday to accept his B.A. at the 141st annual commencement at Centenary College.

Beneath the Texan's black academic gown was a portable chest respirator, without which he would probably soon die. He wasn't be able to take his diploma from the hands of the college president, Dr. Joe J. Mickl, for his fingers have been useless since October, 1949.

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, says that so far as he can determine Parry is the first youth in the nation to earn a college degree while confined to an iron lung.

Parry is a polio victim. He was stricken as a freshman at Louisiana State University nearly seven years ago and has since been paralyzed from his neck to his heels. His personal campus in four years at Centenary has been a bed in a polio ward.

The native of Waco, Tex., had set out to be an architectural engineer before the disease struck. Then, for three years, he lay in an iron lung at Charity Hospital, New Orleans.

"I didn't do much planning for the future during those first few years after I became sick," Parry said.

"I did more praying than anything else. Then, when I had to face the fact that I wasn't going to be able to walk again, I decided the time had come for me to decide what to do with my life."

By 1952, when he was transferred to Shreveport Hospital, Parry had made up his mind. Legs and arms might not be absolutely essential to a teacher, and with this profession as a goal, Parry enrolled as a history student at Centenary.

A two-way telephone communication system enabled him to participate in classroom discussions while remaining in his bed in the polio ward at Confederate Memorial Medical Center.

He usd a tape recorder to record the lectures, and friends and fellow students transcribed the recordings on typewriters so that he could consult his notes later.

An electric page turner flipped the leaves of textbooks as he studied, and a specially - built table kept his reading material at proper level. Parry operated the tape recorder, telephone hookup system and page turner by means of levers, which he pressed with his chin. His movements are limited to turning his head from side to side on the pillow.

The handicaps under which he studied did not show up in Parry's grades. He was admitted as a "c" student—but will be graduated with better than a "b" average.

Although his studies occupied most of his day, Parry managed to find time—and heart—to pursue several hobbies. He took up painting, holding the brush between his teeth. One of his oil paintings won a special award at the sixth annual Centenary artists' conference as the "most promising of any young painter" entered in the competition.

Although he still spends each night in a large iron lung, Parry has learned to "frog breathe" for a maximum of 20 minutes. By gulping, he can keep his lungs supplied with oxygen for short periods. But indications are that he will spend the remainder of his life alternating between iron lung and portable respirator.

When news of the Salk vaccine broke in Shreveport, no one was more pleased than Parry, whom it could not help.

"I don't think much any more about getting well," he says. "I'm more concerned with living each day as fully as I can and leaving the rest to God. It really doesn't make a great deal of difference to me anymore whether or not I get well. I've learned to live with my handicap."

Men Doing Their Bit In Stifling Culinary Arts

By INEZ ROBB

Men's inhumanity to man — his own sex — is a scourge about which boys had better do something drastic before it is too late.

In front of me is a gruesome piece of evidence of man's continuing abdication as his brother's keeper. It is, heaven forfend, a so-called cookbook by a man who boasts that he can't cook and certainly proves it to my dissatisfaction with more than 200 recipes whose chief ingredient is that wretched instrument, the can-opener.

The author fortifies this instrument of torture from time to time by frozen foods, packaged mixes and pre-cooked breads that require only browning in the oven. A cursory investigation (my stomach is too weak to withstand a protracted study) leads me to the conclusion that the only original or primary task imposed upon the "cook" by this volume is the tiresome one of cracking eggs, plus the occasional blighting labor of separating yolk from white.

Even these two fatiguing jobs could have been spared this male cook's disciples if he had not rushed into print so precipitately. For only yesterday I read that the housewife of the immediate future will be relieved of the tedium shelling and separating eggs by a simple new process that encases the denuded egg (either whole, white or yyolk) in a plastic case. (Who or what will relieve the cook of the tiresome chore of peeling off the plastic, deponent knoweth not.)

This is a cookbook in which even potatoes — ugh! — are taken out of cans, if the cook — bless his or her little pointed head — only knows which end of the can is up.

Obviously peeling, washing or cleaning any type of vegetable, berry or fruit is regarded as a form of serfdom and un-American. And as for building a pie, cake or biscuits from the ground up, well! That is not only slavery but subversive.

If a woman had committed this cookbook, every man in Christendom, and particularly the boy columnists would be racing through the streets crying, at the top of their collective lungs, "Fire, Arson, Treason, Murder, Help!"

It is men, for whom women traditionally cook and love it, who are putting the onus instead of a bonus on cooking such as mother, grandmother and great - grandmother used to do.

George P. Larrick, commissioner of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration, recently predicted that frozen foods will reduce cooking to "a hobby" in another 15 years.

And to further aggrevate the situation, Jan Mitchell, New York overlord of Luchow's Restaurant, has just said that he doesn't see why women "bother" to cook at all, with frozen and packaged meals for the buying.

Okay, men. You see now by whom you are being betrayed and yoc digestive tracks subverted. Quit screaming at the Little Woman. Get in there and fight, all right, but pick on someone your own size and sex.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Mrs. Douglas Takes On Moving Day In Stride

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Sooner or later, we all have to face the confusion of a moving day.

How would you like to break off in the middle of it and go to four or five parties, besides seeing that the kids ate properly and did their homework? And suppose you had to see that the right things were sorted out for a summer that was to include running the middle fork of the Salmon River in Idaho and hiking the rugged coast line of the state of Washington?

Mrs. William O. Douglas, young and attractive wife of the associate justice of the Supreme Court, engulfed in such a situation, took it all instride. In fact she seemed to enjoy it. The Douglases have just moved into a charming, sunny house.

Though she was scheduled to go with her distinguished husband to a series of late afternoon and evening functions, and the eight-room house was abuzz with the traffic of assorted workmen, Mrs. Douglas, a small blonde in blue jeans and plaid jacket, cheerfully took me on tour.

Having lived in an apartment, she was happy at last to have plenty of room for all the family—she has two children by a former marriage, Michael, 15, and Joan, 12—a den on the first floor and study on the second for the justice and a proper setting for the many interesting paintings, art objects and rugs picked up by her husband on his extensive world travels.

The indefatigable justice has ambitious plans.

"He wants to walk the coast line of the State of Washington from Neah Bay to the mouth of the Columbia River," Mrs. Douglas told me. "I don't know how many miles it is, but it isn't a few.

"I can do 15 miles at a time, but don't like to go as far as he does," she continued. "We will have to pack packs, his twice as heavy, so I can coast along and still keep up. I like going along on these trips. It gets me away from all the housekeeping. He does all the camp cooking."

The justice also wants to travel down the isolated middle fork of the Salmon River. "You get in a boat and hope you stay on top," Mrs. Douglas said. "It will make a good picture-taking trip."

The justice would also like to ride the Cascade Crest Trail, a trip his wife says she would most enjoy, since she's been riding horses from age 4.

Unsophisticated Era Is Past In The South Pacific

By JIM BECKER

HONOLULU, May 31 (AP) — The dreamy, unsophisticated South Pacific is no more. The island natives, via radio and war-gained knowledge, are strictly up to date.

Loin-clad baseball teams sporting pitchers with a wicked curve, school teachers strictly up on the racial situation, and natives who turn down cigarettes of the wrong brand are the things that travelers find now.

The Navy destroyer escort Whitehurst found the baseball team on a palm-rigged atoll named Lukunor. The chief of the island challenged the sailors to a game.

The bases were made of palm leaves and driftwood and there was an outrigger canoe in centerfield. The natives had no gloves or shoes and their uniforms were loin cloths, but they could play baseball.

Lt. (jg) Tom Kelleher from Salem, Mass., the ship's athletic officer, got up a team of pretty confident sailors—until they got to bat.

The natives won 7 to 4.

"The only reason we got any runs at all was because their second baseman couldn't field a ground ball," Kelleher said.

The lieutenant struck out the first time up, and singled the second. It was the only really solid hit the sailors got.

"I never saw anything like that pitcher. He had a really wicked curve," said Kelleher, who played three years of college ball.

David B. George of Honolulu, back from an eight-month cruise in the South Seas, said he visited an island in the Fiji group that hadn't had a white man on it in 20 years.

A native walked up and asked him:

"Mac, how are you handling the racial problem in the United States, now?"

The native was a school teacher and an avid listener to radio newscasts.

In the Cook Islands groups, George reported that the natives turned down his offers of cigarettes.

"Wrong brand," he explained. "The Army had an air base there during the war and the natives got spoiled. Anyway they like these filter tips."

No Sanctuary!

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Police said Raymond Cecil Gibson, taxi cab dispatcher, outran a scout car and reached what he thought was a safe refuge—but he was still arrested. Officers finally convinced Gibson they could arrest him even though he beat them to his home and drove up in the yard.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

EARTH, SKY AND SEA. By Auguste Piccard. Translated from French by Christina Stead. Oxford.

The Swiss Piccard has been up in the air 10 miles in a balloon, down in the ocean two miles in his bathyscaphe, as he tells in this book. That set an up-and-down record of 12 miles.

But he disclaims any attempt to set or break records. His goal is to expand man's knowledge, and to go about his experiments scientifically, doing his figuring ahead of time, playing it safe with dummies, models and other novel devices.

If this cuts down the dangers, it doesn't eliminate them, but Piccard's book is none the less interesting for having few hair breadth escapes. On the contrary, you may find the ingeniousness, perceptiveness, and scientific trickery more thrilling than run-of-the-mill catastrophes.

Piccard has learned his lessons in odd places — from the lion trainer getting out of the cage, from the circus juggler balancing a cane, from the dolphin slithering through water. He has found fundamental likenesses in the methods of penetrating the depths and scaling the heights. He notes that the stratospheric balloon as well as the bathyscaphe may catch up with the ballast it has dumped; and that warm air checks the ascent of one craft as cold water slows the dive of the other.

There are technical matters, too, But this is not for hte technical-minded. This is the story of an adventure in three exciting places, beneath the sea, in the air, and in man's mind. It has the benefit of a distinguished translator.

CHAOS REIGNS—This was the scene at the southwest turn of the Indianapolis Speedway as spinning racers crashed together in the annual classic. Sam Hanks (4) and Keith Andrews (89) spin against each other. Troy Ruttman (53) spins into the inner apron. Another car is spinning in the background. Jim Rathmann (24), foreground, and Fred Agabashian (42), next in line, gets safely past the mishap.

Flaherty In Close Win In Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—If any race driver still thought green was a bad luck color (an ancient superstition in the trade), they could get a sound argument today from George Francis Patrick (Pat) Flaherty, who won the 40th 500-mile race at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Flaherty, a red-haired, 29-year-old racing veteran, roared unscathed yesterday around a track littered with oil and debris from seven bad wrecks and innumerable spins and skids.

Two drivers, two pit crew members and two spectators were hurt as cars splattered against the concrete retaining walls and banged into one another.

Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., suffered a fractured collar bone and Jimmy Daywalt of Indianapolis suffered a burned arm when their cars crashed into the walls in separate accidents. They were reported in good condition at a hospital.

Flaherty, who runs a bar when he isn't racing, didn't put a scratch on the big green shamrock painted on the front of his helmet.

He started on the pole as the fastest qualifier in speedway history and he beat veteran Sam Hanks of Burbank, Calif., to the finish line in the closest windup since Wilbur Shaw nipped Ralph Hepburn by 2.15 seconds in 1937.

Flaherty took the 41-year-old Hanks by 20.46 seconds, or about a third of the 2½-mile track.

The racing during competition was the fastest ever but due to an hour and 11 minutes of slowdowns for wrecks the final average was 128.49 miles an hour compared with Bill Vukovich's 1954 record of 130.84.

Flaherty missed Dick Rathmann's spinning car about two feet by splendid driving.

Flaherty, car owner John Zink of Tulsa, Okla., and master mechanic A. J. Watson of Glendale, Calif., won't know how much they won until the annual victory dinner tonight but Pat picked up $19,200 in lap prizes alone — $150 for each lap he led. The speedway sets hte purse according to the gate, which looked like more than 100,000 customers in spite of overnight rain.

The purse, including awards from accessory firms to cars using their products, was $270,000 last year and Sweikert won $76,138.

Don Freeland of Redondo Beach, Calif., finished third unofficially, followed by Johnnie Parsons of Van Nuys, Calif., the 1950 winner; Dick Rathmann of Trenton, N.J., who pulled out of the spin that menaced Flaherty and then crashed on the south straightaway after crossing the finish line; Sweikert; Rodger Ward, Los Angeles; Bob Veith of Oakland, Calif., highest rookie finisher; Jimmy Reece, Oklahoma City; and Cliff Griffith, Indianapolis.

Ex-Mustang Signs Green Bay Pact

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers announced today that Forrest Gregg, former Southern Methodist tackle and the No. 2 Packer choice in the 1956 draft, has signed a National Football League contract.

WITH .636 MARKS

Two Tied For Pony Bat Lead

Two Pony League batsmen share the individual batting lead through games of Tuesday night with scintillating .636 percentages.

Richard Mahan of the Von Roeder Red Sox and Mickey Winters of the Hermleigh Cardinals have each banged out seven hits in 11 trips for their outstanding marks.

Following these two in batting is Tommy Minton of the Lions Club Phillies who has colected seven hits in 14 trips for an even .500 mark.

Five others are hitting .400 or better. Douglas Brunson of the Red Sox is the fourth top batsman with 5-for-11 for .455.

Four are tied for the No. 5 spot, all having four hits in 10 trips for a .400 percentage. Hitting .400 are Roland Key of the Phillies, Terry Lee of the Court House Tigers, Norman Gladson of the Tigers, and Larry Denson of the Cardinals.

The Tigers' Lee has the most hits — 8 — while his team-mate, most runs — 11.

Following are the top 25 batsmen in the Pony League who have at least 10 official times at bat:

Four Games Slated In Kid Baseball

Four games are on tap tonight in the Snyder kid baseball ranks after a day's layoff, two games each slated in the Pony League and Little League.

In the Pony League, the Von Roeder Red Sox will meet the Scurry Butane Dodgers in the first game at 7 with the Lions Club Phillies taking on the Line and Line Yankees of Ira in the second game at 9.

In the first Little League game tonight, the Trinity Methodist White Sox will meet the Holder Construction Indians in the first game at 7 which will be a American League contest. The second game, a National League affair, will pit the Kiwanis Braves against the Quarterback Club Giants at 9.

Rounding out the wek's card tomorrow night will send the Red Sox and Tigers together in the Pony League opener and the Dodgers and Hermleigh in the nightcap.

In Little League tomorrow, the Rotary Cardinals meet the Lions Club Cubs in the first game and the West Texas Bank Athletics and finals.

Each of the three leagues have unbeaten leaders. The Tigers are 5-0 in the Pony, followed by the Dodgers, and Red Sox, each 3-1; Phillies, 2-3; Yankees, 1-4; and Cardinals, 0-5.

The Yands lead the American LL with 2-0 followed by A's Athletics, 2-1; Indians, 1-1; and the White Sox, 0-3.

In the National LL, the Cubs lead with 3-0, followed by the Cardinals with 1-1; Braves, 1-2; and Giants, 0-2.

Dallas Ends Buffs' 13-Game Win Streak

By The Associated Press

The Houston Buffs still led the Texas League Thursday, but their all-time high winning streak of 13 games lay a heap of rubble under the talons of the Dallas Eagles.

The Eagles beat Houston 8-2 and 2-0 in two nine-inning Memorial Day games at Dallas to move to two games behind. Shreveport beat second-place Fort Worth 7-5 to leave the Cats a game and a half behind the Buffs.

Tulsa whipped San Antonio 4-2 and 11-8 in both ends of a twin bill and Austin crushed Oklahoma City 15-2 and 5-3.

Braves Hold Lead In NL

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It's been a long time coming, but Bobby Thomson finally looks ready to deliver the payoff for the Milwaukee Braves in that ill-fated deal they arranged to get him from the New York Giants in 1954.

The Swattin' Scot was the man the Braves figured they needed for the pennant, and so they packaged pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, catcher Ebba St.Clair, infielder Billy Klaus and about $50,000 and sent them to the Polo Grounds for Bobby and catcher Sam Calderone.

You know what happened. Thomson broke an ankle in spring training, hit only two home runs and the Braves finished third. The Giants won the flag — with Antonelli winning 21 games.

Last season, Thomson hit 12 homers while playing on a part-time basis and the Braves finished second to Brooklyn.

Now Thomson has eight home runs so far this season and the Milwaukees lead the National League by a game. Bobby slammed four homers, had six hits in nine trips and drove in seven runs as the Braves split a double-header with the Chicago Cubs yesterday.

All told, the two clubs combined for 15 home runs among the record 50 which were blasted in the 16-game Memorial Day card.

For all the records and Thomson's great day, however, most of the excitement was set off by Mickey Mantle's "nearmiss." The Oklahoma strong boy, jolting his 19th and 20th homers of the season as the New York Yankees swept Washington, smacked one against the facade on the third tier in right field that missed by 18 inches of being the first fair ball ever hit out of mammoth Yankee Stadium.

Thomson hit two homers in each game — his first "double" since Aug. 22, 1953. A pair of two-run homers by Hobie Landrith and Dee Fondy in the sixth got the job done in the opener for the Cubs, however, 10-9. Thomson's three-run blast triggered a four-run sixth that helped Milwaukee to an 11-9 edge in the nightcap.

Cub pitcher Russ Meyer and Billy Bruton were banished from the opener after exchanging blows when Meyer conked Bruton on his protective helmet with a pitch.

Cincinnati replaced St.Louis as the NL runner-up, sweeping the Cardinals 6-3 and 6-5. Ray Jablonski's three-run homer in the eighth won the opener. Doubles by Frank fired a six-run third that won the nightcap.

Pittsburgh held fourth place, 1½ games back in a split with the New York Giants. Dale Long's triple on the opener in 10 innigs 5-4 for the Pirates. A two-run double by Al Dark broke up the nightcap for the Giants in 15 innings, 5-3.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia also split, the Dodgers scoring six in the sixth off Robin Roberts to win 6-5 in the opener. Then the Phils with seven unearned runs, ran off with a 12-3 decision.

The Yankees beat the Senators 4-3 and 12-5. Mantle's big belt with two on gave them the lead in the opener. Mantle's 20th homer cracked a 3-all tie in the nightcap and a five-run sixth iced it.

Billy Pierce needed help, but won No. 100 in the majors and third straight over Cleveland as Chicago clipped the Indians twice 6-3 and 9-8.

Baltimore twice edged Boston in the ninth, 2-1 and 5-4. Bob Hale's single broke up the second game. Bob Nieman's single ended the opener.

Virgil Trucks, despite a swollen ankle that benched him for 10 days, three-hit Kansas City as Detroit beat the A's 5-1 in the second half of a morning-afternoon pair on a two-run homer by Al Kaline and a three-run shot by Frank Honse. The Tigers took the opener 11-3.

Pro Golfers More Content Nowadays

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Golf is a far cry these days from Harlingen, San Antonio and numerous other places of a few years ago. Now the boys just play golf and if there is any bickering it is kept away from the public.

In the time of the Rio Grande Valley Open at Harlingen the most widely read reporting was about the rows among the players, their disagreements with the sponsors their criticism of the courses and their statements in the press that got them in bad with the PGA.

Few tournaments were played in which there wasn't a flare-up of some kind. One that set off a chain of unfavorable publicity for golf was the many-pronged rhubard at Harlingen. It got so bad—an argument over the rules of play—that it looked for a time like the Rio Grande Valley Open would be be closed at the midway mark. Then came some fisticuffs between two of the golfers.

The next big flare-up was the following year when some of the players passed up Harlingen to play in the Mexican National Open. It took away some of the big names from the Rio Grande Volley Open. Harlingen was mad about it, so mad the sponsors quit putting on a tournament. The golfers were fined by the PGA.

The golfers felt justified in playing in any tournament they wanted to—they were paying their own expenses and couldn't figure the PGA or anybody had any right to tell them where and when to play. But the absence of the stars from a tournament damaged that tournament, so the sponsors had a side in the argument, too.

It was solved by the PGA requiring enough prize money at the tournaments to make it worth the while of the golfers to play in all of them and not go traipsing off to some foreign country where the picking might seem better.

Another thing that helped solve the problem was the increase in the number of players. So many golfers began following the tour that it became a free-for-all—few players could win more than one tournament. Each time there was a tournament there would be 30 fellows capable of winning it. There were no great standouts in golf as in the days when two or three dominated the field. So if some of them passed up a tournament it didn't matter. There were plenty of good ones left.

Today you seldom ever hear about an argument either among the golfers or with the sponsors and officials. The golfers couldn't be prima donnas because they knew they would get nowhere with a demand for special favors. They knew they could pass up a tournament and not be missed.

Snead Favored In Dallas Tourney

DALLAS (AP)—Texas' biggest golf tournament both in money and quality—the $70,000 Texas International Open—started today with Sam Snead in the familiar role of favorite but with a score of others strongly backed.

It's the second half of Dallas' $100,000 golf show. Don January, the Abilene, Tex., freshman to pro ranks, won the first one, the $30,000 Dallas Centennial Open, last weekend.

January is in this tournament too but isn't among the favorites.

He plays in the opening round today with Gene Littler, singing Mills, Calif., and Freddie Haas, New Orleans.

Snead, who fired a 3-under-par 67 over the 6,216-yard Preston Hollow Country Club course yesterday but still complained about his putting, hits his first tee shot for keeps this afternoon, being in a threesome with Wally Ulrich, Rochester, Minn., and Dick Mayer St. Petersburg, Fla.

Some observers figured the Texas International might be between Snead and Ben Hogan, the Fort Worth great. They are longtime rivals. Both Snead and Hogan have been playing well from tee to green and as Jimmie Demaret, another well-liked entry, says, "Hogan will start putting and boy how he will move."

Hogan had 277 to tie for 13th place in the Centennial Open.

Kefauver Makes Determined Fight For California Votes

By The Associated Press

Sen. Estes Kefauver, fighting to regain ground lost in his Florida primary defeat, campaigned at full throttle today in an effort to whip Adlai Stevenson in California's climactic Democratic presidential primary.

Stevenson obviously was buoyed by his Florida victory over Kefauver—narrow as it was—as he too pushed a drive for votes in the California primary next Tuesday.

The rival candidates quickly resumed their in-fighting. Kefauver blamed his Florida defeat on support given to Stevenson by what he called "Talmadge-type" politicians. Stevenson retorted that Kefauver was a "sore loser" and accused his opponent of "mud slinging."

The California primary is a winner-take-all proposition, with 68 convention votes the jackpot prize. It also is the last direct Kefauver-Stevenson test before the Democratic nominating convention in August.

While Stevenson and Kefauver continued to knock heads in California, President Eisenhower arranged to give a pep talk to the national Citizens for Eisenhower Committee. This group, meeting in Washington, also was expected to hear from Vice President Nixon — the other half of the all-but-certain Republican ticket this year.

Kefauver, ranging the San Diego area yesterday, flung at Stevenson the old age pension and "bossism" issues he used in Florida, where Stevenson won a slim popular vote majority, but pocketed 22 of the state's 28 national convention votes.

With only 23 of Florida's 1,778 precincts unreported, Stevenson had 221,718 votes to 209,447 for Kefauver — an edge of slightly more than 12,000.

Kefauver said his record reflected unflagging solicitude for the elderly. And he repeated his Florida accusation that Stevenson, while governor of Illinois, vetoed a bill that would have raised old age pensions. Stevenson has called that charge unfair, saying he vetoed the bill because the State Legislature failed to appropriate money to implement it. California, like Florida, has a substantial number of retired citizens.

On the "bossism" issue, Kefauver said, "One of the great dangers of the present campaign in California is that the Old Guard politicians are using the campaign of Mr. Stevenson to climb back ing power."

He said the "main reason I lost in Florida" was that "Talmadge-type politicians" were for Stevenson and "against me on the civil rights issue." The term "Talmadge-type politicians," Kefauver said, referred to former Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, a strongly prosegregation leader who Kefauver said carries considerable influence in north Florida.

Although Stevenson never once mentioned Kefauver by name during yesterday's swing through California's northern coastal valleys, he opened up on the senator when he got to Los Angeles.

Stung by Kefauver's charges, Stevenson issued a statement today, saying:

"Sen. Kefauver is engaged in mud slinging that will hurt the Democratic party. I shall not stoop to those tactics. I am sorry that he has resorted to personal abuse and deceit in these last days of the primary campaign."

Like Kefauver, Stevenson passed up a Memorial Day break yesterday to seek out as many potential voters as possible in advance of the primary.

Leading a motorcade into several smaller communities, he reiterated criticisms of Eisenhower administration policies, particularly in the foreign field. He said the United States "is neither as strong as it was three years ago nor does it command the respect it did" then. He depicted Eisenhower and his aides as using "boasts, threats, slogans and nonsense" in dealings with other nations.

In Atlanta, Democratic Gov. Marvin Griffin hinted yesterday that Georgia's 32 convention votes may go to Stevenson on the first ballot. Griffin said he was pleased by Stevenson's Florida victory, but he declined to say flatly what the state's delegation would do in Chicago. He did say he is "satisfied" it will not vote for Kefauver or Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, regarded as a potential candidate for the party's presidential nomination. The Georgia delegation will vote as a unit.

In South Carolina, Strom Thurmond, 1948 States Rights presidential candidate, said that if a "suitable candidate" is not nominated at the Democratic convention "it may become necessary to nominate a third candidate or to set up a third set of electors."

Oil Compact Group Meets

DALLAS (AP)—Elimination of conflicting regulatory practices among the states was urged here yesterday at the opening session of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

"The industry generally wants uniform (regulatory) practices and if this committee will state its conviction, it is very likely that the industry will jump in and get the necessary laws amended," O. P. Nicola Jr., Bartlesville, Okla., proration engineer for Phillips Petroleum Co., said.

He said that there were conflicting rules on accounting for oil production, production reports, distribution of well allowables, and gas well practices.

Herbert Hoover Jr., undersecretary of state, will be the principal speaker tomorrow. Other speakers will include Gov. John Simms of New Mexico, Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas and Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma.

COMPLETES TRAINING — Arland D. Thompson, 18, son of J. B. Thompson, route 1 Snyder, is completing his Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB. His Lackland training is preparing him for entrance into AF technical training, or for an AF duty assignment.

Wife Kills Policeman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Memorial Day argument with his wife ended in death for an off-duty San Francisco policeman.

Lt. Al Nelder said Patrolman Roland Holm, 32, handed his revolver to his wife and told her to shoot herself.

When she didn't, Holm said: "All right, shoot me, then. You're a coward."

Nelder quoted Holm's 34-year-old wife:

"When he gave me the gun, I just grabbed it and it went off. I don't know what happened. It went off so fast I thought he was just faking. I didn't want to hurt him. I love him. He's my husband. He put the gun in my hand . . ."

Mrs. Holm's sister, Mrs. Vivian Mohr, said Holm and his wife had been arguing about a vacation.

U.S. Cotton Problem Is Considered

LUBBOCK (AP)—The chairman of the American Cotton Congress said today the only solution to cotton surpluses is more markets and more acreage.

Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro, head of the congress and chairman of the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas, was keynote speaker at the opening of the Congress' 17th annual meeting.

Lower costs, improved quality, and aggressive promotion provide a three-point formula for cotton to build greater markets and achieve dynamic consumption speech.

"The world is using the equivalent of 5 million bales of fiber a year. United States cotton now is supplying only 12 million bales of this. Looking to the future, we know that fiber consumption is going up and up—by millions of bales a year. Then and right now, the customer will buy what appeals to him most through price, through quality, and promotion. Will he buy our cotton? That depends on us. It depends on the extent each of us accepts his responsibility toward the objectives we have outlined," Jackson said.

He said the industry must continue to press toward greater ginning efficiency and cost savings in processing cottonseed, to economies in merchandising and in turning the raw fiber into the finished textile.

He lauded the progress that has been made in greater production efficiency in the High Plains area, which accounts for more than a tenth of the nation's total cotton crop and provides an income of better than 225 million dollars annually at the farm level.

"Here is a region, more than any other, truly adapted to mass production, to high volume, and low unit costs. Here truly is an area where low-cost production and processing have a chance to reach their optimum."

Race Report Is Approved

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. has adopted a report calling for total elimination of racial segregation in this country.

The report adopted yesterday at the conclusion of the assembly's 168th annual meeting was directed toward employers, homeowners and politicians.

"Nowhere in this land," said the report, "can Negroes, and to a lesser extent other minority persons escape the indignity of segregation or discrimination in one form or another."

It recommended specifically that:

1. Christians preparing to sell their homes keep uppermost in their minds "the need of minority families for equal housing opportunities . . . and make their houses available to all qualified purchasers regardless of race."

2. Employers take all necessary steps to "break the pattern of discrimination in employment."

3. Politicians "work for the removal of the poll tax and other restrictions which prevent many American citizens from exercising their legal rights . . ."

Hot Suit Might Get Even A Little Hotter

DALLAS (AP)—Note to the thief who stole a size 43 suit from the Main Street Cleaners:

That charcoal-colored suit may get uncomfortably hot for wear on Dallas streets and not just because it is flannel.

The suit belongs to M. W. Stevenson, chief of detectives of the Dallws Police Department.

There are about 170,000 black bears in the United States.

BUILDING DOUSED—A 60-foot geyser of water played on and over this Greenville, S.C., building after workmen, digging an excavation shattered a city water main. Rocks and chunks of street were hurled upward breaking windows and tons of water flooded the building. Damage was extensive to the interior.

Radar Unit Is Planned

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Capt. A. B. Metsger, deputy chief of naval research, announced today a special readio and radar tracking station will be established in the West Indies.

He said it will be set up in the eastern section for use in connection with the space satellite to be launched more than a year hence from Patrick Air Force Base in Florida.

"The purpose of this station is to obtain an initial fix on the satellite right after it has been launched," Metsger said in an address prepared for the Aviation Writers Assn.

"This will make it possible to determine whether the vehicle actually was established in an orbit, and to estimate the orbit in a preliminary and a very rough fashion.

"The nited States plans to launch a small sphere, 20 inches in diameter, into an orbit around the earth at an altitude of 200 miles or more. Its lifetime might be 15 days."

Metsger said the initial information could enable scientists to "localize" the time of arrival of this sphere over any given ground location to within six minutes and its position to within several hundred miles in the initial orbit.

Experiments Being Made To Aid Schizophrenic Patients

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Joel LeBlanc, 34, a quiet, gray-haired intellectual, stared through his glasses at a doctor lighting a cigarette.

"Why is he doing that?" he wondered.

Suddenly, he thought he knew.

"He hates me. That's why. He hates me."

Joel saw another doctor smile. "Why is he smiling? Because he hates me too. They all hate me. They want to hurt me."

Joel wanted to hurt them first. he saw a stool. "I'll bash that smiler's head in," he decided. He rushed to the stool. Then he stopped short.

Have you guessed what was wrong with Joel? He was showing symptoms of schizophrenia—a dread mental disease.

If Joel was a real schizophrenic, he probaby would be taken to a mental hospital like 350,000 other victims in this country. His chances for full recovery would be slight.

But Joel's symptoms disappeared in less than two hours. He was not a schizophrenic. He was a subject in a dramatic experiment that may point to a cure of the illness that accounts for half of our mental patients and a quarter of all those who lie in hospital beds.

Joel had been injected with a substance isolated from the blood of actual schizophrenia patients. He and another volunteer, Fred Couderc, 25, who also is a prisoner at the Louisiana State Penitentiary, took the shots in experiments conducted by psychiatrists and biochemists of Tulane University's medical school.

It is part of a study to learn whether mental illness is associated with specific chemical or other changes in the body. Whether the substance isolated from patients' blood is a cause of the disease, or is something produced by it, cannot yet be answered.

Psychiatrists call Joel's symptoms paranoic — he was afraid the world was against him.

"You don't know what you're angry about," Joel said afterward. "At first, as the anger builds up it is not unpleasant. But later as you try to control the anger, there is something hellish about it.

"I had that uncontrollable desire to take the stool and hit him over the head with it. It's natural to hurt the thing that is hurting you. If I hadn't known in the back of my head all the time that this was an experiment, that the medicine was doing all this and not me, I couldn't have controlled myself. I would have hit him. I kept myself back finally by beating my hands against my chair and the table."

Joel has felt much better since the experiment. "Blowing my stack for a while seemed to help me," he said. "I haven't even been mad since then."

Opposite symptoms were shown by Fred, a thin young man who often slouches in a chair, his hands loosely touching, as he chews gum and talks. Fred sometimes gets violently angry but, after the injection, "I became more like a zombie than anything else."

Fred showed what psychiatrists called catatonia — he was in a stupor, his limbs soft, yet half-rigid.

"I lost all emotions," he said afterward. "I couldn't joke or smile or laugh. I had no feelings or desires. I couldn't think about myself. I couldn't even stand up. I just didn't care about anything."

Fred's final reaction to the strange state:

"That would be a good way to do time. You don't worry about nothing."

These reactions of Joel and Fred are only fragmentary evidence that schizophrenia could be caused by a substance in the blood. The Tulane researchers — psychiatrist Robert Heath, head of the team; his assistant, biochemist Byron Leach; psychiatrist [illegible] and biochemist Matthew Cohen — say the experiment is still only in the early stages.

Dr. Heath first announced the experiment at a meeting of the American Psychiatric Assn. in May, and has declined to discuss it publicly since.

One next step is to give the blood substance to more persons, who are not prisoners.

While psychiatrists find that both of the men are sane, both Joel, a registered nurse, and Fred have had minor scrapes with society and are being punished for it.

Researchers also have to be sure Joel and Fred actually became schizophrenic and not something else. Scientists know so little about schizophrenia they are not sure whether it is one disease or several.

Scientists also have to find out exactly what is the substance that changed the personalities of Joel and Fred. They have to discover when it develops in schizophrenia.

This will have a bearing on a general theory for the cause of the malady. For years, some psychologists said a schizophrenic became ill because he could not get along in this world. Other scientists looked for a physical cause, like brain damage or imbalance of body chemicals.

Still others said it was a combination of the two — the body and mind interacting. The physical troubles made it harder for a person to meet his problems in the world, and the personality problems, in turn, hurt him physically.

It may turn out that getting rid of the blood substance, which may be inherited, will cure the patient of schizophrenia. But the patient also may become mentally ill in another way because his personality problems still are unsolved.

Obviously, Dr. Heath and his team are a long way from any cure or preventive. But the results with Joel and Fred indicate science may be knocking at the door that hides the solution to the problem of wasteful, terrifying schizophrenia.

Marie McDonald Is Released By Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marie McDonald has been released from Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, where she was taken last week or observation. The actress is expecting a baby.

Miss McDonald is scheduled to appear in Superior Court June 8 to answer the divorce suit of her husband, shoe manufacturer Harry Karl. She and Karl were divorced once before, but they remarried.

Water Consumption

DALLAS (AP)—Water consumption in Dallas during the past month has averaged 97,720,000 gallons daily, compared to 76,100,00 for the same period during 1955, an increase of 19 per cent.

California had about 13¼ million people at the end of 1955.

RECENT GRADUATE of Texas A&M College is Steve G. Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Fisher, 112 Ash. Scott received a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force and is to report next Jan. 25 to Randolph Field, San Antonio, for active duty. The Fishers have another son, C. G. Fisher, Jr., in the Navy Air Corps at Norfolk, Va.

Effect Noted From Florida Negro Boycott

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A Negro boycott of city bus service has been judged about 50 per cent effective after one day of operation.

About 200 Negroes met Tuesday night and voted to boycott the buses until seating of white persons and Negroes on predominantly Negro lines is made on a first come, first served basis. They also want Negro drivers on the predominantly Negro lines and what they termed more courtesy from white drivers.

The meeting followed the arrest of two Florida A&M University students who had taken seats in the front of a Cities Transit Co. bus and refused to move to the rear.

Charges against the two women, Wilhemina Jakes, 26, and Carrie F. Patterson, 20, were dropped by police yesterday. Chief Frank Soutamire said the cases would be turned over to authorities of the all-Negro institution. They were charged with placing themselves in a position to incite a riot and were released in $25 bond each.

The boycott started before the charges were dropped.

Boycott leaders estimated the number of Negro passengers had been cut in half. They said a 21-car pool was providing transportation.

Highway Is Turned Into The Milky Way

DANVERS, Mass. (AP) — There was plenty of spilled milk to cry over on the Newburyport turnpike —3,500 gallons to be exact.

Truck driver Jesse Bolles, 48, veered his tank truck to avoid a car and the truck, Boston-bound with 3,500 gallons of Maine milk, jackknifed and overturned.

Bolles and his son, Paul, 12, escaped with bruises but holiday traffic on the busy turnpike was held up nearly four hours while firefighters washed the milk from the highway.

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Odessa Junior College tomorrow will confer an honorary degree on U.S. Rep. J. T. Rutherford of Odessa at its commencement exercises.

Pope Pius Has Checkup

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII underwent a general medical and cardiograph examination last night. Doctors said the pontiff, who has suffered a slight weakening of the voice, showed no sign of throat infection or other physical disturbance.

The report said the slight lowering of the Pope's voice had been caused by a general tiredness after the heavy work load he has been carrying this month.

Vatican sources quoted the doctors as saying the examination "confirmed that there was no reason for preoccupation' 'over the pontiff's condition.

These sources said the physicians expressed belief a few days of lightened work would rest the 80-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church and permit his voice to return to normal.

The Pope received some 200,000 persons in daily audiences during May. In addition, he gave 17 major speeches and spoke many times to small groups of pilgrims.

Chevrolet hangs up a new round-the-clock performance record...

The hot one averages 101.58 miles per hour for 24 hours . . . tops Indianapolis 24-hour stock car record by 280 miles at famed Darlington Raceway, Darlington, S. C.

Here was a test worthy of Chevrolet—the car that's been writing a whole new chapter in the record book of automobile performance. Twenty-four hours at a sizzling, tire-searing pace that few other cars could even attempt! Twenty-four whirling dervish hours at near-peak performance!

This was no mere test of speed—that's measured best on a straightaway run. This was a test of all the Chevrolet qualities that go to make your driving more pleasant and safer on the road. Stamina. Sureness of control. Wedded-to-the-road stability. It was a test of every inch and every ounce of the new Chevrolet, timed and certified by NASCAR.

It was no specially modified Chevrolet that hung up this new closed-course record. You can stop in any time and drive a Chevy with the same power (horsepower ranges up to 225!), the same built-in balance, the same sweet-feeling sureness of control. Come in and drive the champ!

2438 MILES IN 24 HOURS!

5:59 P.M. Chevrolet flashes away from the starting flag in late afternoon sunlight. It faces 24-car-killing hours of operation at near-peak performance.

11:00 P.M. Through the night Chevy continues its blistering pace. Expert drivers take turns at the wheel to keep Chevrolet rolling toward a new closed-course record.

9:30 A.M. Whirling through a tight turn, Chevy shows its wedded-to-the-road stability. Curves come up fast on this mile-and-three-eighths oval track.

5:59 P.M. Twenty-four hours from starting time—down comes the checkered flag. NASCAR timers report a sizzling new performance record—2,438 miles in 24 hours!

RUN FOR LIVES — Volunteer firemen, fighting one of Ketchikan, Alaska's worst fires in history, run for their lives as a wall of the Coliseum Theater there starts to fall in this dramatic picture by Paulu T. Saari. The fire lasted 5½ hours and wiped out 12 business firms, causing an estimated $600,000 damage. Many other business houses suffered heavy smoke damage.

Bad Storms Hit Oklahoma And Kansas

By The Associated Press

Stormy weather hit sections of Kansas and Oklahoma and rainy weather extended from eastern Colorado over wide areas eastward into New England today.

Severe thunderstorms broke out last night along the eastern border between Kansas and Oklahoma. Funnel clouds were reported from north of Oklahoma City northward to near Hutchinson, Kan., and eastward to the Missouri border.

Electrical storms and strong winds swept areas in southeast Kansas. Rain was heavy in some sections. Showers and thunderstorms continued this morning from eastern Colorado through Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, northern Arkansas, western Kentucky, southern and central Indiana, into Lower Michiran and around most of the lower Great Lakes region.

Light showers fell in central New York and in parts of Central New England. Scattered showers and thunderstorms were reported from the mountain areas of southwestern Idaho and in northern Oregon and central Washington.

Cooler air moved into the northern Great Lakes region, the upper Mississippi Valley, the northern and central plains and the eastern slopes of the northern Rockies. Strong winds, with showers, accompanied the cooler air as it pushed into the eastern Dakotas and western Minnesota.

South of the cool belt, generally mild weather prevailed.

Mrs. Coffey Makes Long Memorial Trip

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Annie Coffey, 97, was up to decorate her husband's grave in the Ashland Cemetery on Memorial Day.

She came all the way from Gadsden, Ala., to perform the ritual she began in 1928. Her husband John died in 1908.

Mrs. Coffee has traveled more than 28,000 miles on her annual trips since moving to Gadsden to live with a daughter.

Water Skier Swept Away

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP) — The swift-running Snake River swept a water skier over the brink of 212-foot Shoshone Falls yesterday as outlookers taking the Memorial Day sun watched in horror from the shore.

Still missing today was the body of 32-year-old Melvin W. Hulbert of Boise, Idaho.

Witnesses said Hulbert lost his balance and fell into the water of a lagoon about 1,000 yards upstream from the falls, one of the highest cataracts in the west. He splashed around in the water, apparently unconcerned, while the current edged him over closer to the lip of the falls.

"About 200 feet from the falls he seemed to realize he was in trouble," one witness said. The boat which had been towing him and another craft made desperate, dangerous last-minute passes in an attempt to rescue him almost at the brink.

The current swept him the last hundred yards in a matter of seconds.

BRITISH BOTHERED

Airmen To Ban Banbury Cross

By HAL COOPER

BANBURY, England (AP)—Some 3,000 U.S. airmen, it was disclosed today, have decided to ban Banbury until they bury the Banbury ban.

The ban declares the town out of bounds for British troops. It was imposed by the British army's Western Command last week "to prevent trouble with U.S. servicemen." Spring has come to England, and it seems there has been a certain amount of Allied friction over girls.

The inference that they needed help from Western Command in such competition did not sit well with the Americans. After thinking it over, they arrived at a decision:

Until the town is opened up again to the British, the Yanks themselves will no longer "ride a hot bus to Banbury Cross," which is the way the old nursery rhyme goes these days.

"The fellows," said an officer at the U.S. base in Upper Heyford, "are real upset by the treatment given the British troops. They have decided to give Banbury a miss as a token of sympathy."

Among the 1,000 British Tommies at nearby Kineton, the news touched off a positive wave of British - American friendship. The general feeling spread that the Yanks are pretty good blokes at heart.

In Banbury's saloons, pronounced "pubs," there were silent cash registers and deep gloom. "Those Yanks," said one publican, "are the best customers we ever had."

Meanwhile, in Parliament, indignation was brewing in the person of Lt. Col. Marcus Liton, a Labor member from London's Brixton district.

A fine thing, the colonel said last night, when a British soldier becomes an undesirable alien in his own, his native land.

So the colonel filed this motion in the House of Commons:

"That in the opinion of this House the military order banning British troops stationed nearby from visiting Banbury so that only American troops are permitted there should be countermanded fortwith."

Nobody knows what will happen next. But what with one thing and another, there hasn't been so much excitement in Banbury since Cynric the Saxon clobbered the British here in the Battle of 556.

High Traffic Toll May Be Cut In U.S.

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council declared today "there is still time" to halt the trend toward a new record high number of highway traffic deaths.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, made the statement on the basis of a recently completed tabulation showing the April death toll of 2,96 was the highest for the month's history.

The previous high of 2,851 was set in 1953.

In addition, Dearborn said, traffic fatalities for the first four months of this year claimed, 11,550 lives, an all-time high. The old mark of 11,281 was set in a comparative period in 1937.

He called for "resolute and prompt action" by public officials local organizations and individuals to curb the increasing death rate. At the current pace, he said, the 1956 traffic death toll could reach 42,000, eclipsing the previous high of 39,969, set in 1941.

"April was the 14th consecutive month in which traffic deaths were higher than for a corresponding month in 1955, Dearborn said.

Price Control Chief In Argentina Resigns

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The man responsible for enforcing Argentina's price controls has resigned, declaring that big business exerts an increasing influence on the government.

Price Control Director Andres Lopez Accotto said he supports the provisional regime of President Pedro Aramburu, but that he fears the government is hurting itself by antagonizing the little man.

TURKEY DIVAN MAKES DIVINE DISH
. . . green beans on mounds of leftover stuffing

RINONES CRIOLLOS OF ARGENTINA
. . . mushroom and kidney stew in rice ring

Regional Products, Recipes Promote Eating Inspiration

As historic and traditional as New England baked beans is the boiled dinner. Mrs. James H. Stanton of Cambridge, Mass., a community health educator, gives us her recipe.

Use corned beef brisket, a fairly thin, flat piece of boneless meat with layers of lean and fat. Good quality has four times as much lean as fat.

The secret of a good "boiled" dinner is simmering. Cook brisket in a large kettle completely immersed in water. Bring to a boil and then keep at simmer until the meat is done.

New England Boiled Dinner

Four to 5 pounds corned beef, 6 medium potatoes, pared and cut into pieces, 4 parsnips or 2 white turnips, pared and quartered; 1 medium cabbage, cut into wedges.

Wash corned beef and place in a large deep kettle. Cover with cold water and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 3 to 4 hours, or until tender. About 30 minutes before meat is done, skim excess fat from top of cooking liquid. Add potatoes, carrots and parsnips or turnips and simmer 15 minutes. Then add cabbage and simmer 15 minutes longer or until all vegetables are just tender-crisp. Slice corned beef and arrange with vegetables.

Horse-Radish Sauce

One small can (2-3 cup) evaporated milk, ½ cup day-old bread crumbs, ½ cup horse-radish, ⅛ teaspoon Tabasco, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Spoon 3 tablespoons of the evaporated milk over bread crumbs. Add horse - radish, Tabasco and salt; let stand. Chill remaining evaporated milk in freezer tray of the refrigerator until ice crystals form around edges. Turn milk into chilled bowl and whip with Rotary beater or high speed of electric mixer until milk is stiff. Add lemon juice and whip until very stiff. Fold in horse - radish mixture. Serve immediately with New England boiled dinner.

BLUE LAKE BEAN IS GROWN FOR CANNING

Ever hear of a "green - bean wife?" Well, that's what Mrs. Robert C. Paulus of Portland, Ore., calls herself.

The Blue Lake green bean — plump, straight and stringless — is a new variety especially developed in the Pacific Northwest for canning (under many different labels)

Mrs. Paulus has perfected several dishes using the Blue Lake beans because her husband is an important processor of them.

She says they are at their best as a vegetable dish if only heated (preferably in a double boiler)—never boiled — and then topped with a pat of butter. Sometimes she marinates them and serves as a salad.

Sometimes she prepares this Green Bean Turkey Divan with leftover turkey.

Green Bean Turkey Divan

Leftover stuffing (optional), 1 No. 303 can Blue Lake green beans, heated; 6 servings leftover turkey, 1 can undiluted condensed cream of mushroom or celery soup, ¼ cup milk, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ cup mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons cooking sherry or water, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ½ cup heavy cream, whipped; 1 cup grated Parmesan cheese.

Spread any leftover stuffing in bottom of shallow, oven - proof platter. Place 6 servings of hot beans in piles on stuffing in platter. Arrange slices of turkey on each pile of beans. Heat, while stirring, the soup with milk, nutmeg, mayonnaise, sherry or water and Worcestershire; fold in whipped cream. Pour sauce over turkey and beans. Sprinkle on cheese.

Broil until bubbly and tinged with brown (about 5 minutes).

PURPLE PLUM ALSO PRIDE OF PACIFIC

The Pacific Northwest brags—and justifiably—about its purple plums. Walter L. Smith, food technologist of Stayton, Ore., brags about his wife's purple plum pinwheels.

The Smiths have five children all under eight and Mrs. Smith is active in P-TA, serves as Room Mother for the second grade, is a cooking expert and enjoys entertaining.

Purple Plum - Pinwheels

One-half cup granulated sugar, 1 cup juice drained from can of purple plums, 1 cup water, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ cup butter or margarine, 2 cups sifted, all - purpose flour; 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¾ cup shortening, ½ cup milk, 1 No. 2½ can purple plums, pitted and chopped.

In saucepan, combine sugar, juice, water, cinnamon, nutmeg and butter or margarine. Bring to boil and cook until butter or margarine is melted. Meanwhile, sift together flour, salt and baking powder. With pastry blender work in shortening until it looks like coarse corn meal.

Pour in milk; mix quickly and lightly with fork. Gently shape dough into ball and roll into 9-inch x 16-inch rectangle. Arrange plums on dough. Roll dough long-side up (jelly roll fashion). Cut into 1-inch slices. Place slices cut side up in creased 8 x 8 x 2-inch baking dish. Pour on syrup. Bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) for 40 minutes. Delicious with cream or ice cream.

RECIPE OF ARGENTINE FRO MMUSHROOM AREA

Mrs. Evelyn C. Persen lives in Kennet Square, Pennsylvania, in the heart of the mushroom growing and canning area. Her husband and two children say her "Rinones Criollos" (Argentina's name for mushroom and kidney stew) proves that a mother who works in an office can serve meals just as good as one who stays home all day.

Here's the recipe which she developed when living in Argentina.

Rinones Criollos

Two tablespoons butter or margarine, ½ green pepper, chopped; 1 minced onion (medium), 1 beef kidney deveined and sliced, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 No. 2 can tomatoes, one 8½-ounce can peas and carrots with liquid, ¾ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 bay leaf, one 14-ounce can sliced mushrooms with liquid.

In butter or margarine in skillet saute green pepper and onion until tender. Add kidney (soak kidney in cold salt water for ½ hour before using). When kidney slices are nicely browned sprinkle on flour. Stir in tomatoes and peas and carrots with liquid. Add salt and pepper and bay leaf.

Cover and cook slowly for 30 minutes. Add sliced mushrooms and liquid; cook 2 minutes longer. Serve in steamed rice ring.

ITALIANS INSPIRE HAM TETRAZINE

2 cups cooked ham
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon marjoram
½ cup cheddar cheese
1 4-ounce can mushrooms
2 tablespoons pimiento
1 7-ounce package spaghetti
½ cup bread crumbs

Melt butter or margarine and blend in flour. Gradually add milk, pepper and marjoram and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Add grated cheese and stir until blended. Add sliced mushrooms, chopped pimiento and ham. Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water. Drain. Arrange spaghetti in a greased 2-quart casserole. Pour ham mixture over spaghetti and sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. 6 to 8 servings.

FISH SANDWICHES BAKED IN CASSEROLE

1 7-ounce can tuna fish
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons minced onion
12 slices bread
1½ cups cheddar cheese
3 eggs
3 cups milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon celery salt

Mix together tuna fish, mayonnaise and minced onion. Spread on six slices of bread, cover with remaining slices and fit into six individual casseroles. Top with grated cheese. Beat eggs until frothy, stir in milk, Worcestershire sauce and celery salt.

Pour over sandwiches. Let stand for thirty minutes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 25 to 30 minutes or until puffy and golden brown. Garnish with green peas and mushrooms. Serve very hot.

BRAISED LAMB CHOPS BAKED FOR GOURMETS

4 pounds lamb chops
Bacon strips
Salt, pepper, flour
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
Bouillon or water
1 small glass MZadeira wine
1 cup cooked mushrooms
4 truffles

Flatten chops, grease them with the bacon strips, wrapping them around chops and fastening with toothpicks. Dredge chops with salt, pepper and flour. Saute them quickly in hot butter, lift them to a tray. Add the flour to butter in pan, blend well, slowly add hte bouillon, wine and little salt, to make a sauce. Place chops and sauce in caserole, cover and cook slowly until almost tender. About 15 minutes before meat is done, skim fat from sauce, add mushrooms and truffles. Serve chops and sauce on same platter. Serves 6.

'Oliver Twist' Type Burglary Is Solved

DALLAS (AP)—Police solved an "Oliver Twist" burglary.

They rounded up four pint-sized partners in crime after four silver dollars and a carton of cigarettes were taken from the home of Roy Crowell.

Two 8-year-old boys and a 7-year-old admitted they boosted a 3-year-old boy into the house through a tiny window.

However, just like Dickens' bedraggled little hero, the 3-year-old crossed up his pals. He reported back outside with no loot.

Later, he returned alone, he told police, and took the cigarettes and money all for himself.

There is enough ice on Greeland to cover the whole earth to a depth of 17 feet.

Mississippi Fights For States Rights

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) —Mississippians for States Rights, a virtual rebirth of the 1948 Democratic party split, organized yesterday a platform based on what they termed loyalty to principle rather than to party.

About 250 cheering, applauding persons from throughout Mississippi agreed to qualify independent presidential electors in an attempt to create a foothold for bargaining with either the Republican or Democratic party for full states rights.

Circuit Judge M. M. McGowan of Jackson, a founder and keynoter of the organizational meeting, offered the hope that if 100 unpledged, independent electors voted in a bloc, they could throw the election into the House of Representatives where each state has one vote.

Visitors from Alabama and Louisiana reported similar plans afoot in their states.

McGowan said Mississippians for State's Rights was organized on the assumption that neither major party would nominate candidates acceptable to the South. His group, however, does not have the backing of the governors of the states involved.

Instead, the group criticized Governors J. P. Coleman of Mississippi, James Folsom of Alabama, Earl Long of Louisiana and Orval Faubus of Arkansas for what it called a lack of leadership against federal encroachment upon states rights.

The charter members of the states rights group elected W. B. Fontaine of Jackson their permanent chairman. Fontaine was administrative assistant to the late former Gov. Fielding Wright, vice presidential candidate on the 1948 States Rights ticket. Strom Thurmond, former governor of South Carolina, was the presidential candidate.

Several legislators, two former candidates for governor, Citizens Council leaders and members, and a newspaper editor were present at yesterday's meeting.

Cautioning against compromise, McGowan said, "You can't settle principles by manipulation. You have to stand on them.

"There is no such thing as an acceptable civil rights program. Civil rights laws are foreign to the concept of English law, the basis for our government, and are connected with socialism."

Weather Is Calming Down

By The Associated Press

The siege of turbulent weather, which brewed up tornadoes, hail and rain storms over Texas during the earlier part of the week, is apparantly calming down.

A severe weather alert in the Panhandle area was issued for Wednesday night but the danger period passed without any tornadozs or violent thunderstorms reported.

Lufkin, Beaumont and Houston reported showers yesterday afternoon but there had been no further moisture reported by early Thusday.

The forecast calls for continued partly cloudy weather with widely scattered thundershowers.

Early Thursday skies were clear over the northen half of the state but clouds from the Gulf of Mexico were reported moving up into Texas. There was a ground fog at Lufkin.

Temperatures Wednesday afternoon ranged from 83 at Beaumont to 107 at Presidio.

Federal Highway Bill Denounced By Shivers

DALLAS (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers denounced the multi-billion-dollar federal highway bill as a severe and costly blow to states' rights in a speech yesterday before members of the Oak Cliff Lions Club.

His main objection, he said, was a provision that would allow "a bungling bulreaucracy" in Washington to set minimum wage rates in various states.

Shivers said the people will get a third less highway mileage under the federal bill than they would get otherwise.

He also charged that the U.S. Supreme Court is not amending the Constitution the way the Constitution provides and that the court has moved out of the judicial field and into the legislative.

GRADUATING Friday from Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, is Collenn Soles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Soles, Arah Route. Miss Soles is a senior favorite at the school.

Postmaster Seeks Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Postmaster H. Wayne Parker still hasn't located "Mickey," who wrote a touching letter to "Mommy, care of God, Heaven," but stacks of mail and at least one $25 check are waiting.

Mickey's unstamped letter found its way to Parker's desk May 17. News reports of the letter touched off a flood of answering mail. A check came for "Mickey" Monday from a banker in Elmore City, Okla., who said: "This little girl must not lose her faith."

"Mickey's letter bore no return address or last name.

The letter said:

"Dear Mommy, I miss you very much since you went to live with God. I hope you're happy. I'm lonesome without you and Daddy since you have gone away. Please tell God to help me be good so I can come to heaven by you. Love, your baby girl, Mickey."

Leave Shoes Behind

INGLEWOOD, Calif (AP) — Siren wails prompted a couple of burglargs to leave a car agency so hurriedly they left their shoes behind. The wails were from a fire engine hastening to a false alarm.

With 27,600,000 gross tons, the United States leads the world in merchant - ship tonnage, says the Twentieth Century Fund.

Evangelism Called For By Bishop

DALLAS (AP)—Bishop William C. Martin called yesterday for increased evangelism in the North Texas Methodist Conference and said it would be one of the most important points in the conference's four-year planning.

Bishop Martin was a main speaker as the conference opened. The sessions, at which 355 churches and 135,000 Methodists are represented, end Sunday.

Alexander Nunn, editor of "Progressive Farmer," asked the conference for a reawakening of interest in rural chuches.

Nunn said "The church must face the issue of how to handle an exploding population, and that involves giving more attention to the small, rural church." Nunn is from Birmingham, Ala.

The conference will act tomorrow on a $400,000 benevolent budget, including scholarships at Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University, a fund for superannuated ministers, and promotion of Methodist education program.

The conference honored The Rev. Ozrow Kemerly of Quinlan and The Rev. Doyle Smith of Cumby as "country preachers of the year."

Clements Pleased With New Support

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Sen. Earle C. Clements, pleased by pledges of support from the enemy camp in his own party, said today the Democrats will carry on in full harmony in the November general election.

The Senate's majority whip said wires of encouragement were received from all opposition leaders, including Gov. A. B. Chandler, after his hard-hitting victory over Joe B. Bates in Tuesday's Democratic primary.

Bates had solid Chandler backing.

Unofficial tabulations on 3,882 predcincts out of 4,036 showed:

Clements	211,501
Bates	131,089

On the Republican side, Thruston B. Morton was a shoo-in choice to oppose Clements in November, with a 27,000-vote edge over this closest rival, Julian H. Golden.

Their tally for the same number of precincts showed:

Morton	39,691
Golden	12,265

While most political observers expressed puzzlement at the size of Clement's victory and searched fort he significance of the reversal as it affected Chandler, Clements beamed pleasure.

After naming the more important opposition well-wishers, he said:

"This evidence that the Democratic party will be united behind the full Democratic ticket in the November election provides assurance of a sweeping victory.

Whether such unity will last, however, is a question in the minds of some political observers. They want to know: "Can it survive the upcoming party conventions?"

Chandler is known to nurse hopes of wresting control of the Democratic State Central Committee from Clements.

To do so, he must show a strong hand at county conventions June 30, when delegates are chosen for the state convention July 3.

The state convention will have two important duties this year. It will name Kentucky's slate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in August and it will determine the makeup of the central committee, which is the controlling body of the state organization.

Chandler's prestige rides on the outcome of both.

Chou Is Quoted As Impressed With Ike

BOSTON (AP) — Red China Premier Chou En-lai has been quoted as expressing "high regard" for President Eisenhower as a "force for peace."

Miss Edith Wall, traveling companion of Indian Health Minister (Princess) Amrit Kaur, said Chou made the comment to the princess in the form of a "factual statement" in October 1955 while President Eisenhower was recovering from a heart attack.

Miss Wall said the princess repeated the statement to the President Tuesday.

There are about 950 grizzly bears in the United States.

SLAYER CAPTURED—Hulking Clarence Edward Young, 25, center, is shown with Wichita, Kan., detectives Frank Parsons, left, and James Reeves, after he admitted the March 14 slaying of Robert B. Chapman of Lansing, Mich., near Canyon, Tex. Reeves said Young admitted the fatal stabbing and robbing of Chapman and waived extradition to Texas.

Indian Chief Remembered

CACHE, Okla. (AP) — Quanah Parker was remembered yesterday by Topay, the last surviving widow of the famed Comanche Indian chief.

The old and crippled Indian woman visited Parker's grave and said she is "looking forward to joining him." The great chief died 45 years ago, but Topay, the last of his eight wives, has lost track of her age. She admits to having married Parker when she was 25.

Topay was brought to the Comanche cemetery about eight miles northwest of here at Post Oak Mission. Rolling her wheelchair to the edge of the 17-foot granite monument, erected by the government 30 years ago, she laid on the grave paper floral wreaths which she herself had made in recent weeks.

Then speaking through an interpreter, she told a newsman that "life is not as rich and bountiful as in the old days."

New Size Cokes To Circle The Globe

Snyder is helping launch two new bottles that may well go round the world eventually.

The king-size and family-size Coca-Cola bottles, now on sale here, are "big brothers' 'to the present 6½-oz. bottle, which is known from Boston to Bangkok and back again.

Its fame is such that during World War II, a German prisoner stepping off the gangplank at an American port spotted a familiar red sign and, turning to an MP, said: "I see you have Coca-Cola here, too."

The soft drink is sold in over 700 countries, according to Clyde Hormer, Manager of the Sweetwater warehouse. "Just about everywhere,' 'he added, "except behind the Iron Curtain."

But in at least one instance the Curtain was pierced, Horner pointed out. That was when Gen. Eisenhower sent Marshal Zhukov a case of Coca-Cola after the Soviet military leader enjoyed a bottle during the Potsdam Conference.

Horner said definitely the "big brothers" would not replace the standard-size bottle, designed in 1915 at the recommendation of a bottling official who urged: "We need a Coca-Cola bottle which a person will recognize even if he feels it in the dark. It should be so shaped that, even if broken, a person could tell at a glance what it was."

Although about 80 per cent of all the Coca-Cola sold is in bottles, the man who invented the drink never intended it to be more than a soda fountain beverage. In 1886 John S. Pemberton, a druggist, prepared a soft drink syrup in his back yard in Atlanta, using a three-legged iron pot heated by a wood fire.

He took a jug of the syrup to Jacobs' Pharmacy at the historic Five Points, where soda water was added and the new drink put on sale.

The first year only 25 gallons were sold, bringing in $50. Of this, Pemberton spent $47 on advertising. Most of it consisted of oilcloth signs pinned to drugstore awnings.

When Pemberton died two years later, rights to Coca-Cola were bought by a 37-year-old wholesale drug salesman, Asa Candler. "Back in Candler's day The Coca-Cola Co. changed offices several times," Horner said. "One time when it moved a one-horse wagon carried all the firm's equipment and furniture."

Candler was a keen merchandiser. He originated the Coca-Cola poster and calendar, using Lillian Russell's picture on one of them. He was the first to use the slogan, "Delicious and Refreshing," which appeared in 1889. And to get the public acquainted with the new drink, he gave away millions of tickets for free Cokes.

"The tell me in Atlanta," Horner said, "that even today someone comes across one of these tickets in an attic. If they send it in, they get a free case of Coca-Cola."

It was 13 years after Pemberton invented Coca-Cola before the drink was bottled. A young Chattanooga lawer, Ben Thomas, who had come across a locally bottled soft drink in Cuba during the Spanish-American War, hit upon the idea. He and another lawyer, Joseph Whitehead, went to Atlanta and asked Candler if they could bottle Coca-Cola.

Candler, busy with his soda fountain sales, gave them the bottling rights to practically the entire country. This was one of the most amazing contracts in history--Thomas and Whitehead didn't pay a cent. And the man who had given them a letter of introduction to Candler didn't think enough of the product to ask for even a single share for himself.

Horner pointed out the early bottling equipment was far different from today's. "Bottles were washed by dropping buckshot in them and whirling it in water. They also used those old-fashioned sewing machines, equipped with a brush to scour the bottles."

Coca-Cola was the first soft drink company to use coolers. "The early ones were actually wooden tubs, sawed in half," said Horner. 'The first electric cooler came out in 1933."

Horner thinks the secret of Coca-Cola's success is best summed up in the way the trademark is phonetically translated from Chinese. In China, where Coca-Cola is a popular drink, it means: "Made man mouth happy."

New Jet Airplane Revealed By Navy

DALLAS (AP)—A jet plane which can raise or lower its wing position to change the speed of the aircraft when it is in flight was revealed by the Navy.

The Navy said the plane, the F8U-1 Crusader, now being delivered by Chance-Vought, Inc., Dallas, is designed for carrier use.

The wing hinges at the rear and raises in front for takeoffs and landings. The raised wing permits the plane to take off quicklyy from carrier decks and slows its speed for landing.

Churches Adopt New Methods

NEW YORK (AP)—Religion is adopting a do-it-yourself approach.

The prime convert perhaps is the National Council of Churches, which is engaged in a program aimed at helping Americans to "live right" seven days a week.

To get it established on a practical basis the council is using a "living right" kit that puts workaday ethical problems squarely up to the individual for solution.

The kits are used in discussion groups.

"Experience has shown," says a council director, "that the 'do-it-yourself' approach to practical ethics has considerable appeal."

The Rev. Cameron p. Hall, executive director of the council's Department of the Church and Economic Life, explains further:

"Many of us feel that Christianity is a little too 'impractical' to apply seriously in a highly competitive modern world. We hope this new program will help people to see how Christian ethics can become a living, vital force to help solve the different decisions we all face Monday through Saturday."

What are the kits like?

Each kit is a collection of five film strips, five long-playing records and five discussion manuals.

All the material deals with practical ethical problems anyone is likely to run into. After the film is run, the members of the group discuss the problems from their own experience and points of view.

Pilot discussion groups are already operating in more than 20 states, and churches in 16 Protestant denominations report tremendocs interest in the kit.

Horse Falls Into Well

in 2-24 horse

TAD, W. Va. (AP)—Delbert Igo's horse fell into a 35-foot-deep well Tuesday. Igo frantically called Bob Morris' Wrecker Service in nearby Charleston.

Morris winched his heavy wrecker to a tree, dropped a rope over the horse's shoulders and hauled him, dripping wet and still as death out of the well.

For 15 minutes, Morris and a bystander gave artificial respiration, pumping the horse's muscled chest. A sudden heave, a snort and the bewildered and bedraggled animal stood wobbly on his feet.

Veterinarian F. E. Hersey says the 4-year-old animal is in danger of dying, but not from the 3½-hour dunking in the well.

According to Hersey, the rope thrown around the animal's shoulders to hoist him out of the well apparently slipped up around his neck and almost choked him.

Model Aviation Meet

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—One of the largest model aviation meets ever scheduled in East Texas will be held at the Gregg County airport Saturday and Sunday. The tri-state model airplane contests are being sponsored by the Longview Exchange Club, and sanctioned by the National Academy of Model Aeronautics.

Strike Work Loss Heavy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that strike idleness was higher during the first four months of this year than for any comparable period since 1952.

About 7,700,000 man days of working time were lost from January through April, the Labor Department said. The comparable figure for last year was 5,410,00 man days, that for 1954 was 4,610,-00 and that for 1953 was 6,400,000. In January-April 1952, strike idleness amounted to 9,680,000 man days—the time of one man for one day.

The department said last month saw 450 strikes in effect, idling 210,000 workers for an aggregate of 1½ million man days. This compared with 350 stoppages involving 175,000 workers for two million lost man days in March.

ADVENTUROUS BACHELORS' PUT OUT TO SEA — Starting a three-year 'round-the-world cruise in the Wooden Shoe II, a former Dutch fishing vessel, five men who call themselves the "adventurous bachelors," sail down New York harbor, bound for Trinidad and South American ports. The 44-foot shallow drift former North Sea craft is powered by sails and a 45-horsepower auxiliary engine.

DURING HOLIDAY

Nine In State Are Killed

By The Associated Press

Violent deaths claimed at least nine lives in Texas during the Memorial Day holiday.

An Associated Press tabulation beginning at 6 p.m. Tuesday and ending at midnight Wednesday showed that traffic accidents claimed four lives, a plane crash killed two persons, two drowned and one was shot to death.

Killed in the plane crash Wednesday were The Rev. William Lowry Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Iowa Park, Tex., and a neighbor, Carolyn Ann Whittenburg, 15. The minister was taking the girl on a pleasure hop when the plane crashed near Wichita Falls.

Two Beaumont area persons drowned in separate accidents in Jefferson County Wednesday. They were Bailey Neely Jr., 15, who drowned in a reservoir when seized with cramps, and Frank Simmons, 36, who drowned when the motorboat in which he was fishing capsized.

Charles Robert Babbitt, 14, Dallas, was accidentally shot to death Wednesday by a gun being handled by a friend, who said he didn't know the gun was loaded.

Morris Roper, about 35, was killed Tuesday night when his car left the highway and overturned near Andrews, Tex. He resided at Midland.

Patricia Ann Martin, 3, Plainview, was killed Wednesday when she was crushed by an automobile on which she was playing. Highway patrolmen said Marion S. Butcher, 16, started to drive away from in front of the Martin home, not knowing that the child was on his car's front bumper. She fell off and two wheels ran over her.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lee Brimberry of Bellaire, a Houston suburb, were killed Wednesday in a head-on collision nine miles south of Huntsville. He was 57 and she was 53.

Highway Bridges Are Moved In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahomans never throw away old bridges—they just pack up every plank and spar and take them where needed.

A new span was needed at the Lake Texona Lodge site. Highway officials recalled an abandoned bridge in eastern Oklahoma. Bids will be let this summer to move the structure. It will furnish access to a new recreation area.
