

Democrats Continue Top-Heavy Control Of Congress

By JACK BELL and WILLIAM T. PEACOCK WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats won continued top-heavy control of Congress in Tuesday's elections and whipped Richard M. Nixon in California, but Republicans snatched the governorships of New York, Michigan, Ohio, and Pennsylvania—bastions of power for the 1964 presidential contest.

House: 244 Democrats and 169 Republicans; Democrats leading in 17 contests still unsettled and Republicans in 5. In the present Congress there are 261 Democrats and 174 Republicans with two vacancies.

Massachusetts, and former Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff, elected in Connecticut. But the liberal vs. conservative division in the House, where Kennedy's legislative proposals have encountered their toughest going, apparently was little changed.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown claimed victory over Nixon in the California governor race, Nixon, whose race against President Kennedy in 1960 was a near miss, refused to concede the defeat.

With his second-term victory, Rockefeller went to the head of the class of potential GOP nominees to oppose Kennedy in 1964. But a couple of newcomers also were possible enrollees—Govs. elect George Romney of Michigan and William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Republicans engineered overturns in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wyoming, Colorado and Oklahoma. Democrats retained by taking GOP governorships in New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, New Mexico, Iowa and Hawaii. In five undecided races, Democrats led in two, Republicans in three.

There was ample evidence that the voters made their decisions on personalities rather than on overriding issues. For example, they elected a Republican governor and a Democratic senator in Ohio, Oklahoma and Pennsylvania. In Iowa, they chose a Democratic governor and a GOP senator.

Biggest Tax Check Handed To School

Snyder School trustees witnessed the presentation of the largest tax check in history to the school district and then dispensed with a short business agenda last night. R. E. McBride, Standard Oil Co. of Texas tax expert presented a check for $1,261,331.10 to Hardy Scarborough, the school district's tax collector. The payment covered the school tax bill for Standard's own 100 per cent operations in the district, as well as that for SACROC, which is now operated by Standard.

Borden Goes With Demos

GAIL—Borden County voters favored all the Democratic nominees in yesterday's general election. Gubernatorial candidate John Connally trailed all the other Democratic party nominees but still won handily over Republican Jack Cox, 167-127.

Election Set By Chamber

Snyder Chamber of Commerce directors last night accepted a nominating committee's report and made plans for the organization's annual election. The nominating committee presented 12 names as candidates for posts on the board. From this list, Chamber of Commerce members will elect directors. Ballots will be submitted to members by Saturday, and they must be returned by Nov. 21.

Mantz Service Pending Here

Funeral services are pending at Bell Funeral Home for Mr. Charlie Mantz of Snyder. Mr. Mantz died at 9:15 Tuesday evening in a Roscoe nursing home.

NEW HIGH MARK SET IN FOOTBALL CONTEST

Upsets involving teams matched in the past week's Daily News Football Contest were held to a minimum, and as a result W. M. Suttle of 1807 Thirty-ninth Street is the most admirable effort compiled by a contestant during the current season. Suttle missed the boat on Houston's 7-0 upending of Florida State, Big Spring's 26-14 clouting of Odessa Permian, and the 16-16 tie between Phillips and Levelland. His choice in the latter was Phillips.

United Fund Still Short Of Budget

At the last formal report meeting of the Scurry County United Fund campaign yesterday, a total of $33,023.13 was reported. This represents 87 per cent of the campaign goal of $38,000. E. H. Williamson, general campaign chairman, advised that as assignment cards are still outstanding and that workers holding these cards are urged to do all possible to call on prospects by the end of the week. Of the unworked cards turned in to United Fund headquarters, it was estimated that about half represent persons or firms who have been previous contributors to the fund.

Double-Barreled Experiment Fired

WASHINGTON (AP)—A double barreled experiment was lifted high over the Wallops Island, Va., space testing station this morning. It spread a vast pink and yellow vapor cloud visible for hundreds of miles. The tests, which involved two launches within minutes, were conducted to check on electron density and temperatures, and wind and diffusion rates in the upper atmosphere, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said.

Rutherford Is Casualty

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK Associated Press Staff Writer Texas democrats fought off the most spirited Republican drive in decades Tuesday to sweep all state-wide races but the GOP increased its number of U. S. House seats from one to two and possibly three. Handsome John Connally, who resigned as secretary of the Navy to run for the governorship, scored a decisive victory over his Republican opponent, Jack Cox, to

Merritt Is Easy Winner

In the only locally contested race in yesterday's election, Democratic nominee C. J. Merritt defeated Republican G. P. Proctor for the office of Justice of the Peace, Precinct 1. Merritt's margin showed him winning at a slightly more than 100-0 ratio. Proctor was the first Republican candidate to file for local office in many years in Scurry County.

THE HIGH ROAD

Handy Gauge Of Status In Office

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—How high is your place on the office totem pole?
Are you still climbing up, or slowly sliding down?
Sometimes it is hard for a fellow himself to be sure. The measurements between success and failure are often subtle in the modern business world.
But here is a handy guide of hints that point the way. You are probably getting to be a poobah in your firm if—
You get your haircuts on company time without a feeling of guilt—or that you are putting something over on someone.
You spend an hour to two hours at lunch, and no longer bring it to work in a paper bag.
If your swivel chair develops a creak, somebody promptly oils it for you without being asked.
They take you off the once-a-week payroll and put you on the once-a-month payroll.
The guy who used to be on the rung above you no longer steals your ideas and palms them off as his own. You steal his.
If the company has a parking lot, there is a space reserved for your car.
You get more and more sealed interoffice memos marked "important," "private" and "strictly confidential." In the old days you only got missives like that from your friendly neighborhood loan shark.
The elevator operator asks your opinion on business conditions and what baseball team in the National League looks good for 1963.
You give up bowling and take up golf.
There is only one buzzer on your desk that you have to respond to, but there are three buzzers you can push and make others jump.
When you want to see the boss, his secretary no longer keeps you cooling your heels while she tells him who you are. She smiles and says, "Go right in—he's waiting."
You spend more time reading the stock market reports than you do the sports pages.
The office boy says, "Yes, sir," instead of whining, "For Pete's sake, when do you want now?"
The chief office workers who used to ask you were the inside dope really is. Your wallet contains more new credit cards than old unpaid bills.
At home, the wife starts ordering more clothes for herself, and tells the kids to carry out the garbage to enable you to conserve your strength. Your dog wags his tail instead of barking at you as you enter. He senses your new importance—and hopes for better chow.
Yes, by these signs you can tell whether you have become a figure that must be reckoned with in the office—or whether you are still the same old, dreaming, white-collar zero.

Casual Outpouring Of Money On Movie Worthy Of Protest

BY INEZ ROBB
The morning's mail includes an invitation to attend "the invitation preview" of "Mutiny on the Bounty" in which Marion Brando co-stars with $27,000,000, give or take a few millions in either direction.
The invitation is a very rich affair, with a picture of the Bounty under partial seal engraved on gold paper. Very handsome, indeed, and worthy of a financially multi-megaton picture.
Still, I must refuse the kind invitation. Surely I am not the only cantankerous citizen who is outraged at the very thought of a motion picture costing $27,000,000, enough to endow a college, to build a medical center or support significant research in many important fields.
It is possible that I am in the minority and that multitudes will flock to see "Mutiny on the Bounty" precisely because it cost so much, and not because of any intrinsic merit it can boast.
But there will be others who will resent this casual outpouring of money as if the stuff were made by round-the-clock shifts in a basement. There is nothing sacred about money, granted. But most men work too hard to pay for food, clothing and shelter to applaud its transmutation into base movie metal.

Europe cried out against American tourists who, after World War I, lighted cigarettes with her paper currencies. "Mutiny" and its monetary rival, "Cleopatra," have been lighted by incredible piles of greenbacks—cum bonifires.
The behavior of the stars engaged in these two pictures has been trumpeted forth, ad nauseam. But what I find even more disturbing is the judgment in this brace of cinema. Who was mindering the store while the money was shovelled out as if Old Faithful were minting it every hour on the hour?
A Nepalese mystic spent two months wandering barefoot in the Mingo Valley of the Himalayas while a snowstorm raged. Though his hands and feet were swollen, the mystic suffered no frostbite. Physiologists found the Nepalese had an amazing ability to control the circulation of blood in his extremities.
The ancient Egyptians considered glass to be of equal value with gemstones and precious metals because it was so difficult and expensive to make.

Only recently I saw a great motion picture, "Long Day's Journey into Night." It cost $400,000, or approximately one-seventeenth as much as "Bounty." And approximately one-eighth of "Cleopatra," which is well over the $30,000,000 mark at the moment.
"Journey" includes a distinguished cast, one notable for its acting rather than its high jinks. The picture was completed in a matter of weeks, not years, with no public displays of tantrums, temperaments and amours. And no actor held up the shooting of the O'Neill work while he plugged for his own fuzzy brand of social significance to be written into the script, as was the case with "Mutiny."
Maybe there is a vast, ready-made audience for a film merely because it is the most costly ever made or because stars can never remember to close doors or pull down the shades. That remains to be seen.
For my part, I can imagine that the films might interest a certain public account of an audience, both of whom could claim a professional curiosity about where all that money went. Otherwise—
But then, "Mutiny" and "Cleopatra" may turn out to be the greatest movies ever filmed. However, if they do, it's a clinch that critics and audiences alike will sit back and say, "With all that money, why not?" or, "When you think of the boodle, it should have been better." Money is going to be the albatross of both.
I plan to sit both pictures out at home with a good book; perhaps with two or three good books—the originals of "Cleopatra" (Shaw, anyone?) Shakespeare, someone?) and "Mutiny on the Bounty."

Junior Editors Quiz on THE WEATHER

QUESTION: What is the difference between a fog and a cloud?
ANSWER: Fogs are similar to light clouds close to the ground or the water. Fog is composed of very small water droplets or ice crystals which are less dense than in most clouds. To understand clouds and fogs, study the water cycle diagram. Heat from the sun evaporates huge quantities of water from the ocean, lakes and streams, and the leaves of plants. This becomes the invisible water vapor in the air. As warm, moist air rises, it is cooled off. Cool air can't hold as much moisture as warm; so this rising air, as it cools, may be unable to hold all its moisture. The extra moisture "condenses," or turns into water droplets or ice crystals, which become visible as a cloud or fog. If the droplets become large enough, they fall in the form of rain. Our little picture shows how warm moist air, suddenly chilled by blowing over cold land and sea, can cause fog. At sea, fog is very dangerous. Jerry had gone forward to keep a lookout at the bow of his sailboat in a fog. Suddenly a steamer loomed up dead ahead. Tom, at the wheel, heard Jerry's shout steered out of the way just in time.
FOR YOU TO DO: Follow Jerry's program in a fog. If riding a bike, sailing a boat, go slowly. Above all, keep your senses alert, watch out.

Herd Viewed With Utmost Respect

A high degree of respect was voiced here Tuesday night for the onrushing Sweetwater Mustangs...

The Tigers and Ponies are to battle in Tiger Stadium at 7:30 that night in the final regularly scheduled game of the year...

Commenting on Friday's 19-21 loss to the Brownfield Cubs, Tiger coach Horace Young stated that "We had the opportunity to win it and didn't..."

On the bright side, however, he went on to stipulate that the Tiger team spirit is at its highest point for the annual grid duel and that "I'm sure our boys will play as well as they're capable of playing."

"They'll play as hard as they can," he continued, "and with a break or two in the right places we could win the game."

Injuries to several key players continue to plague the Tigers in their efforts to get back on the winning side of the ledger...

They've got them run wide a lot. They have good blocking, though. He added, "and do very well with it."

Referring to quarterback Marcy Stewart, he observed that the 155-pounder's main strength lay in his running ability, but that he is an excellent passer on the short...

Defensively, Tyrone sent up the warning flag when he stated that the Mustangs have a big forward wall, and are hard to run against.

Their defense was described as similar to Brownfield's, with a basic 5-4 set being used for the most part.

Oddly enough, the starting defensive unit of the Ponies is much lighter than the offensive eleven...

The defensive team tips the scales at 171 pounds on the average, while the offensive unit is a bulky 184.

Writer Likes Steers, Razorbacks, Ponies

By HAROLD CLAASSEN Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — How can you see the forest when the trees always get in your line of sight?

There probably are as many upsets hidden on this weekend's college football schedule as last week. The most recent visit to Upreti Gulch resulted in 40 correct guesses with 14 setbacks for 748.

Here goes for this week. Northwestern over Wisconsin: The Evanston Wildcats had their sinking spell last Saturday when they barely squeaked by Indiana.

That should alert the country's No. 1 team never to take anyone lightly, least of all the potent Badgers.

Southern California over Stanford: Stanford has demonstrated its ability to spill highly rated foes like the Trojan's Pale Bearhead won't let it happen here.

Alabama over Miami: A pitchy battle between the Crimson Tide's Joe Namath and Miami's George Mira with the Alabama quarterback getting a little more help.

Mississippi over Chattanooga: The Rebels get a weekend vacation for beating LSU in their most recent outing.

Texas over Baylor: The Longhorns' midseason sinking spell is over. Arkansas over Rice: Billy Moore gives Arkansas a definite edge.

Missouri over Colorado: Missouri has its eyes on the Orange Bowl. Louisiana State over Texas Christian: Sonny Gibbs, Texas TCU quarterback, brought Texas down with a single shot last year but doubt he can treat the LSU Tigers the same way.

Minnesota over Iowa: The Gopher line, anchored by Bobby Bell, is too potent for the Hawk eyes.

Penn State over West Virginia: Dave Robinson and Robert Keane make an awesome twoome for the Pennsylvania Lions.

Oregon over Washington State: Where is there a better lineman than Oregon's Steve Barnett? Georgia Tech over Florida State: Tech's squad on the rise since that Auburn debacle.

Duke over Maryland: This one is for the Atlantic Coast Conference crown. Washington over California: Washington was shut out last week. That rarely happens to a Huskie and never twice in a row.

Army over Oklahoma State: The Oklahoma State picked the wrong year to make the trip east. Dartmouth over Columbia: The Dartmouth team has the Ivy League's best offense and the stingiest defense.

Friday night Detroit over Cincinnati. Saturday EAST: Boston College over Texas Tech, Cornell over Brown, Colgate over Bucknell, Boston University over Connecticut, Rutgers over Delaware, Holy Cross over Virginia Military, Syracuse over Navy, Villanova over Massachusetts, Yale over Pennsylvania, Princeton over Harvard.

SOUTH: Auburn over Mississippi State, Memphis State over The Citadel, Richmond over Davidson, Florida over Georgia, Clemson over Furman, Kentucky over Vanderbilt, South Carolina over North Carolina.

George King's two-year record as basketball coach at West Virginia is 47 victories and 10 defeats.

Carolina State, Tennessee over Tulane, Virginia Tech over Wake Forest, Virginia over North Carolina, Georgia Washington over William & Mary.

WEST: Bowling Green over Ohio University, Oklahoma over Iowa State, Kansas over Nebraska, Miami (Ohio) over Dayton, Michigan State over Purdue, Michigan State over Illinois, Notre Dame over Pittsburgh, Ohio State over Indiana, Brigham Young over Western Michigan.

SOUTHWEST: Houston over Tulsa, West Texas State over North Texas State, Southern Methodist over Texas A&M.

FAR WEST: Arizona State over Utah, Arizona over Kansas State, Oregon State over Idaho, Montana over Montana State, New Mexico State over Texas Western, New Mexico over Colorado State University, San Jose State over Fresno State, UCLA over Air Force, Utah State over Wyoming.

The Trojan B team of Lincoln High School steamed past Colo. City B here Tuesday night in Trojan Gym, dropping the visitors by a 47-16 count.

Langston Powell led the way with 10 points, followed by Vernon Clay (8), Joseph Crayton (5), Dwight Davis (4), Thurmon Townsend (4), and J.V. James (2).

The Lincoln girls team was also an easy victor, gliding past Colorado City's team, 22-18. Lonnie Brooks meshed it to be high for the game, followed closely by Pearlite Scott and Emma Garrett with 16 each. Yvonne Sanders chipped in with Lincoln's other two points.

Colorado City forfeited the varsity game to the locals following a second quarter disagreement with officials, when the visiting coach instructed his boys to peek up their gear and make the restroom home.

Lincoln sees its next action Friday in Anson.

Army over Oklahoma State: The Oklahoma State picked the wrong year to make the trip east. Dartmouth over Columbia: The Dartmouth team has the Ivy League's best offense and the stingiest defense.

Friday night Detroit over Cincinnati. Saturday EAST: Boston College over Texas Tech, Cornell over Brown, Colgate over Bucknell, Boston University over Connecticut, Rutgers over Delaware, Holy Cross over Virginia Military, Syracuse over Navy, Villanova over Massachusetts, Yale over Pennsylvania, Princeton over Harvard.

SOUTH: Auburn over Mississippi State, Memphis State over The Citadel, Richmond over Davidson, Florida over Georgia, Clemson over Furman, Kentucky over Vanderbilt, South Carolina over North Carolina.

George King's two-year record as basketball coach at West Virginia is 47 victories and 10 defeats.

MIRROR, MIRROR, ON THE WALL—Who is the fairest of them all? Well, we won't really know until Friday's halftime ceremonies in Tiger Stadium when one of the above lovelies will be crowned homecoming queen of Snyder High.

SPORTS

Longhorns, Tide Likely Opponents

By WILL GRIMSLEY Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — No one team is definitely sure of a spot yet, but the pegs already have begun falling into place in the "battle of the bowls"—college football's frantic grab bag game.

With four more Saturdays to go—three for most of the teams—this is how the post-season picture looked today: Rose Bowl—Southern California (6-0) vs. Northwestern (5-0) or Wisconsin (5-1).

Sugar Bowl—Mississippi (6-0) vs. Arkansas (6-1). Cotton Bowl—Texas (6-0) vs. Alabama (7-0).

Orange Bowl—Missouri (6-0) vs. Army (6-1) or Penn State (6-1). Gator Bowl (Dec. 29)—Army (6-1) vs. Auburn (5-1) or Louisiana State (5-1).

Liberty Bowl (Dec. 15)—Pittsburgh (4-5) vs. Georgia Tech (5-2) or Miami (Fla.) (7-1). Gotham Bowl (Dec. 15)—Duke (5-2) vs. TCU (4-2).

Bluebonnet Bowl (Dec. 22)—Oregon (5-1) vs. TCU (4-2) or Arkansas (6-1).

The only bowl committed to conferences on both ends is the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, which matches the champions of the Pacific Coast's Big Six Conference and the Big Ten.

Southern Cal can clinch the host spot by beating Stanford this week and UCLA on Nov. 24 and perhaps can qualify by winning one of the games. Northwestern, the Big Ten leader, has a tougher task, playing Wisconsin Saturday and Michigan Sunday the week after.

The Sugar Bowl gets the pick of the Southeastern Conference and has, in the past, matched two SEC teams. Mississippi, almost certain to finish with a perfect season, and Alabama, also unbeaten, would be a natural but there are doubts that such pairing can be arranged.

Marshall David, president of the New Orleans game lists these teams under consideration: Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, Auburn, Duke, Georgia Tech, LSU, Miami and Texas.

Homecoming Planning In 'Full Swing'

Big things are in the offing for the enjoyment of Snyder High School ex-students Friday, when homecoming fever will grip the city.

Adding glitter to the occasion will be the district grid battle between a pair of arch rivals—the Snyder Tigers and Sweetwater Mustangs—who are to meet in Tiger Stadium at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Prior to the kickoff, a special musical welcome will boom out to the assembled exes when the Black and Gold band marches onto the field for a pre-game salute. Halftime activities will be highlighted by the crowning of the homecoming queen, also whose identity will remain secret until that time.

A tea honoring exes is planned by the Student Council in the school foyer from 4:30 p.m. Friday.

An elaborate display of past school yearbooks, newspapers, and pictures has been set up to offer visual proof of how things were "back then," which is expected to add considerably to the enjoyment of the planned tea.

Assistant principal J. M. Kayser reports that The Burro—the 1915—in on display. Other "old-timers" featured include a picture of the graduating class of 1910, a 1912 diploma, and a vintage copy of the 1923 Tiger's Tale, the school paper.

In addition, of course, yearbooks and periodicals of more recent years will be shown as part of the exhibit.

In conjunction with the scheduled homecoming activities, a special celebration is being planned by the class of 1952 as a tenth anniversary fete.

Soviet, U. S. Stars To War In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The Russians will be seeking their first victory over an American national team in basketball Thursday night when a Soviet squad meets the U.S. All-Stars at Madison Square Garden.

In the first game of the double-header, played under international basketball rules, a Russian girl's team will meet the Nashville Business College team, National AAU women's champions.

The Russians, led by Viktor Zolovkov, a 6-foot-8 center from Moscow, have scheduled an 8-game tour that will take them to Maryland, South Dakota, Iowa, Texas and Colorado. The team is rated stronger than the one which lost to the United States 61-57 in Rome in 1960 for the Olympic title.

Musial Has No Intentions Of Retiring

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Stan Musial said today he planned to play next season despite Branch Rickey's proposal to St. Louis Cardinal general manager Bing Devine that the great outfielder retire.

The proposal apparently set off a major disagreement between Devine and Rickey, who recently was hired as a senior consultant on player development for the Cardinals.

Cardinal President August A. Busch Jr. said Tuesday Musial not only would play with the Cardinals in 1963 but would become a club vice president when he decides to retire.

"We need Stan's bat. He'll let us know when he's ready to quit. You just don't cast someone aside who figures as a vice president in your future plans," Busch said.

Then Busch added, "Since when do you ask a 330 hitter to retire unless you've got his equal to replace him."

Musial is in St. Petersburg, Fla., with the Cardinals helping in the instruction league there for young ball players.

When he learned of the Rickey proposal to retire him, Musial declared, "I won't retire. If the Cardinals don't want me there are some other clubs that do."

Tribe, 'Cats To Vie For City Crown

ABILENE (Sp.) — If you can't talk politics or football, you'd better not try to make conversation this week in Abilene. Just as hot an issue as the Tuesday election is the coming city collegiate football clash between Abilene Christian's Wildcats and McMurry's Indians Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in Public Schools Stadium.

Previous records, statistics, and sometimes even abilities are stuffed into an old sock before this annual game for its usually anybody's contest — one of the most exciting football rivalries in Texas collegiate competition.

Saturday's meeting, the 30th annual clash between the Wildcats and Indians, carries added importance since both teams have defeated Hardin — Simmons, the winner of the ACC — McMurry game will wear the city collegiate crown for a year, a coveted honor in this three — college town.

Too, the Wildcats are still smarting from a 33-28 loss to McMurry before a 1961 ACC Homecoming audience which gave the Indians the 1961 city collegiate title. The Indians would like nothing better than to close the series gap a little more with their 14th victory in the traditional game. ACC has won 16 and McMurry 13 since the initial game in 1930.

For what they're worth, and it's already been indicated that they're not worth much, the Wildcats and Indians have similar statistics. ACC stands 4-4 for the year and McMurry 5-3; the Wildcats have averaged 13.3 points a game and McMurry 18.6; and ACC has averaged 220.5 yards per game against McMurry's 228.1.
