Arrest Of 40 Legislators Ordered As Terrell Hearing Adjourns In Turmoil

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

Old Seven Times Loser has journeyed on after writing several articles for this newspaper concerning prisons, a subject on which he was well qualified to speak having served seven terms in prisons in various parts of the country. Maybe his articles have spread a little light on this dark subject. We hope so.

Even if they had been disposed to do so, the staffs of the two newspapers here with whom Seven Times Loser came in contact would have found it impossible not to have liked him. He had a kindly appearance and a kindly way about him and despite his many years in prison he bore himself with a certain dignity. And his hopefulness called for admiration. He was hopeful that he would find a job at which he could make an honest living, hopeful that what he wrote might do a little good.

Somehow one got the impression on talking to this old derelict—but you wouldn't call him that—had that power or gift or capacity of rising above his environment and of calling to his use those gifts of the mind and heart that will give him an interest in life no matter if hungry and out of work or behind prison bars, and with it a certain happiness that will not be denied. You couldn't have a feeling of pity toward Seven Times Loser; you could almost envy him his imagination and a youthful spirit which saw hope and adventure ahead.

You could but wonder at the twist or turn of chance or fate or deliberate acts of his own choice which made him a lawbreaker so much of his life rather than a writer giving the gift of his imagination to an appreciative public or an employer making new discoveries and winning fame. How slight the turn that might have done this.

Nothing but silence has answered Talker's announcement that the city plan and zoning committee appointed two years ago would ask its discharge from the city council without submitting any recommendations. Can it be that Wichita Falls does not want a zoning plan, or is it that the public would rather have another committee? (Talker can make this inquiry since he is a member of the committee that is to ask its discharge).

This street talk about an anti-city manager ticket that Talker mentioned some days ago appears to have been just that. It now appears that there will be no contests in the city election either for mayor or for the two places on the city council. Wichita Falls is getting mighty peaceful in a political way, at least.

But this anti-chain store movement is provoking a lot of discussion. The leaders in this movement will show wisdom if they refuse to let it become a vehicle for political ambitions. These politicians can't help much in the fight on the chain stores but they can make mighty good use of the movement to promote their own interests, if they are permitted to do so.

C. O. Moser, president of the American Cotton Cooperative association is to speak in Wichita Falls next Thursday night and will present the government's plan for such associations. It is through such associations that it is hoped the farmer can improve his own condition. Mr. Moser is coming at the invitation of the agricultural committee of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce. The agricultural committees of the Iowa Park, Electra and Burkburnett Chambers of Commerce are joining in the invitation.

Conditions make it advisable for the cotton growers of the South to reduce the acreage planted to that crop, if they hope for anything like a profitable price next fall. Agricultural leaders in this section are urging the planting of a larger acreage of feed crops. They know that the feed crops can be used in the dairy and stock raising industries and they reason that if a larger acreage is given to feed crops there is likely to be a reduction in the acreage planted to cotton.

Jens Moller who died here Thursday had lived in Wichita Falls but a few years in the evening of his life so that this city saw little of the activities of his life. It was in Galveston whence he came and where he had lived for many years that the force of his vigorous personality was felt and left its deepest impress. Coming to Galveston in 1872 from Denmark Mr. Moller became one of a group of sturdy, forceful, enterprising men that made Galveston one of the leading ports of the country and made the government of that city a model for cities throughout the country. The name of Jens Moller is among a number which stirs a feeling of pride among Galvestonians and which will long be remembered by its citizens. As is fitting his ashes are to be taken back to the city in whose commercial development he had so conspicuous a part.

IMPEACHMENT FAILS TO DRAW HOUSE QUORUM

Fifth Special Session of Legislature Almost Ends Prematurely

BARRON IN WARNING

Arrests to Follow Failure of Absentees to Answer Wire Summons

AUSTIN, Feb. 20. (UP)—Arrest of approximately 40 members of the Texas house of representatives was ordered tonight in an effort to sustain a quorum to consider charges initiating impeachment proceedings against Sam H. Terrell, state comptroller.

Arrest of the 40 absentees was ordered in the house late today after only 91 of the 150 representatives were shown present by voting. Several members had been excused because of illness or other reasons but approximately 40 had been unaccounted for.

Inability of leaders to sustain a quorum even though charges against Terrell were being considered threatened to break up the fifth special session.

Senate Recessed

The senate had recessed until Monday.

W. S. Barron, speaker of the house, said he would attempt to reach each absent member by telephone. If that failed, he said he would telegraph them. Then if no response is received showing that the absentee either is en route to Austin, is ill or has a near relative seriously ill, an order will be issued for his arrest.

The house late today adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow. Without

'No Money Here' Sign Didn't Stop This Yegg

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 20. (AP)—Safe blowers are suspicious folk. For instance, on the safe in a soap company office here was placed a sign which read "no money or valuables in here."

It was all found out today.

Eva Dugan's Last Hours Spent Alone

Arizona Woman to Wear Shroud She Made to Gallows

FLORENCE, Ariz., Feb. 20. (UP)—At dawn tomorrow, Mrs. Eva Dugan, 52-year-old woman, will don the silken shroud she sewed in her prison cell and walk to the gallows that the state of Arizona may take her life for murder.

She was convicted of slaying A. J. Mathis, a Tucson rancher, for whom she worked as a housekeeper. A long and desperate fight to keep her from being the first woman ever to be hanged in Arizona failed when a jury decided Wednesday night she was sane.

Mrs. Dugan kept her own death watch in a silence seemingly intensified by the cheap timepiece bound to her wrist.

"Four o'clock and 18 hours more," she said in a husky voice.

TEXANS OPPOSE GRAIN BUYING

Fort Worth Exchange Wires Chairman Legge

FORT WORTH, Feb. 20. (AP)—Charging that Texas grain shippers were being discriminated against in purchases of wheat by the Farmers' National Grain corporation, the Fort Worth grain and cotton exchange today wired a protest to Alexander Legge, chairman of the federal farm board, and William G. Kellogg, manager of the grain corporation.

The telegram follows:

"Texas wheat growers and holders appeal to you for relief against discrimination resulting from fact that Farmers National Grain corporation local buyer has failed to take wheat on basis the Galveston loan value although such wheat tendered him, resulting in much wheat which naturally moves through this market being forced to move to Kansas where your agents are buying, also forcing much wheat of Texas and Oklahoma origin to be sacrificed at less than Galveston loan values.

"This rank discrimination against Texas and Oklahoma wheat holders is also crippling the organized market here."

This telegram was signed by Gaylord J. Stone, president of the grain exchange.

Difference in the ordinary market price of wheat and the price being paid by farm board agents at markets further north is said to be diverting much grain from Oklahoma and a considerable quantity from Texas to Kansas City and Hutchinson, Kan., despite the higher freight rates via those points.

'LIBERTY OR DEATH'

Liberty or Death

Henry Kahn, Houston, chief of defense counsel, closed for that side, shouting, "There is no middle ground in this case. If you believe she is guilty of foully killing her husband with poison, I'll tell you advisedly that I have talked to her and she told me to tell you, in the words of Patrick Henry, 'give me Hberty or give me death'."

It is a fight to preserve competition and repress monopoly."

'REPEAL' PARTY CHURCH'S IDEA

Carnegie Institute Head Expresses Views

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (US)—Creation of a new liberal "repeal" party to fight for repeal of the 18th amendment was advocated by Samuel Harden Church of Pittsburgh, before the house judiciary committee today.

Church, president of the Carnegie institute of Pittsburgh, declared the leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties are "too timid" on the prohibition question.

The new party would dedicate itself to repeal of the 18th amendment and all laws supporting it, as well as every law that rests upon a religious basis.

It would seek dissolution of every organization such as the Ku Klux Klan, which aims to subordinate citizens because of race or creed, and "banish from Washington every hypocritical preacher who comes here demanding laws to regulate the morals and manners of the people."

"The people are now realizing that the Republican and Democratic parties virtually have become amalgamated into one immense prohibition party, which is totally deaf to the wishes of the great masses of our people," Church declared.

Complete political revolution or civil war would follow any real effort to enforce prohibition, Frederic R. Coudert, New York attorney, told the committee.

From each came vigorous attacks against prohibition. They declared the dry law unenforceable.

States' right to permit or prohibit liquor as they choose was urged as the honest solution of present conditions, pronounced deplorable.

Crime, corruption, hypocrisy and general disregard for law have followed in the wake of Volsteadism, they declared.

Today's testimony followed up

The Texas association asked $50,000 damages against Henderson and the broadcasting corporation for alleged "circulation of malicious, willful, wrongful and false and defamatory" statements about plaintiffs and its managers. Twenty-five thousand dollars actual and $25,000 punitive damages were prayed for.

The petition was filed by E. G. Senter of Dallas, attorney for the association.

Protest to Washington

Barton Breden, president of the association, also wrote a protest to Ira E. Robinson of Washington, chairman of the Federal Radio corporation, complaining of "willful, malicious and libelous attacks, false and defamatory in every particular," made upon the Texas association by Henderson.

The petition in the suit set out that the Texas Anti-Chain association had been incorporated under the laws of Texas on Jan. 29, 1930, one of its chief aims being to promote "the welfare and enlarge the business of independent merchants and other owners of independent interprises." denunciation of such enterprises made and circulated over said broadcasting stations was and has continued to be so violent that he has thereby achieved considerable notoriety throughout the United States."

Agents in State

The petition said he had sent to Texas and other states a large number of organizers and collectors for the purpose of organizing opponents of the chain store system and of collecting subscriptions to be used by him at his discretion.

It declared that "the large degree of success which followed the efforts of plaintiff to organize the independent business elements of Texas along the lines mentioned has provoked the jealousy and antagonism of defendants, resulting in the willful and malicious attacks."

It also claimed that when the plaintiff applied for a charter, Henderson declared in writing his approval of the enterprise, but that "as soon as it became apparent that the activities of plaintiff would make it impossible for defendants to extend their organization to Texas and to collect revenues there for among the independent business element of Texas, the defendants thereupon began to circulate false and malicious reports about and concerning plaintiffs and its managers."

40 LAWMAKERS FACE ARREST

Terrell Hearing Fails to Draw Quorum

a quorum the body could recess no longer than a day. Little expectation of completing a quorum this week was expressed.

Four Don't Vote

The vote ordering arrest of unjustified absentees was passed, 45 to 42. Four members present did not vote.

The house was thrown into a turmoil when it was discovered the quorum had been broken.

Representative George Purl said he would introduce a resolution for sine die adjournment of the legislature if a quorum cannot be held.

As the hearing of charges against Terrell were resumed today, Moore Lynn, state auditor, took the stand. He testified $18,247.76 was "unaccounted for," according to his audit of the comptroller's department. He said the auditors employed by Terrell reported a $12,289.19 deficit.

Lynn said that most of the difference was represented by funds deposited in the state treasury on Jan. 27, 1930, and was not investigated in the audit he made recently.

The state efficiency expert said that when he requested information from Terrell on escrow title items, court ruling on the gasoline tax and inheritance taxes the state comptroller advised him "each of the items passed over two desks of the department filled by appointees who have died."

Shultz. The anniversary celebration has been carried on in all parts of the country for the past several days.

the smashing attack against dry law enforcement made yesterday before the committee.

Besides Coudert, the witnesses included Benedict Crowell of Cleveland, former secretary of war; Ralph H. Shaw, Chicago attorney; George H. Williams, former judge and state senator of St. Louis.

The attack of opponents of prohibition has gained such magnitude that the committee will hold its hearings open next week, Wednesday and Thursday, to permit additional testimony, it was stated.

Congress would not order an honest attempt at enforcement because it knows "it will not be done, cannot be done and is not being done," Coudert declared.

It would require the army and navy and cost hundreds of millions of dollars, he said, and fill the jails.

"You would have to make jail accommodations for between 50,000,000 and 60,000,000 of the 120,000,000 citizens," said Coudert.

Declaring a nation-wide upheaval would result from a real enforcement effort, Coudert said:

"Perhaps the recollection of the attempted reconstruction of the South through federal bayonets has not completely faded in the minds of many ardent drys.

"The creation at Washington of a huge bureaucracy to spy upon the homes, dinner tables and the clubs of 120,000,000 people is repugnant to fundamental principles of Anglo-Saxon liberty, local self-government and individual personal dignity.

"The 18th amendment is not only anti-constitutional, but it has proved itself futile. Prohibition enforcement in New York is a farce. All the federal government is doing is to terrorize the people. When a hotel is raided, half a dozen speakeasies spring up to meet the demands of the people.

"We have 10 speakeasies today compared to one saloon before prohibition. Popular feeling has been more thoroughly aroused than at any time since the civil war. It is a dangerous thing in Anglo-Saxon communities to violate the rights and liberties of the individual citizen."

Allred to Address Four Anti-Chain Meetings

James V. Allred, candidate for election as attorney general, was the principal speaker at a meeting of independent merchants in Cleburne Thursday evening. Mr. Allred left here by plane Thursday afternoon, going by way of Fort Worth.

His schedule for the week includes an address before an all-West Texas rally of independent merchants at Abilene Friday night. He will speak again at Waco on Saturday night, the address to be broadcast over station WACO.

Next week he will speak against the chain stores at Ballinger on Monday night, at Lubbock Thursday night, and at Brownwood Friday night.

Mr. Allred has announced that the present speaking tour is strictly in the interest of the independent merchants of the state and that his political campaign will not open for about 60 days.

NEW YORK.—The skin of what is said to be the largest snake ever killed on the American continent is at the New York Zoological park. It is the skin of a South American anaconda, 22 feet long and 3 feet wide. It was killed by a native on the river San Lorenzo in Brazil. It is dark olive in color, with round dark spots.

POISON CASE COMES TO END

Jury Takes Fate of Widow Into Consideration

Long, and the accused woman in a compromising situation.

"If we saw a young man embracing our brother's wife, what would we do? We'd kick him out or shoot him. What did John do? Nothing," he declared, "but tell his brother, Jim."

Two Kingsville lawyers, equally soft of voice and calm of demeanor, were matched off during the afternoon—Gus L. Kowalski for the defendant and E. H. Crenshaw Jr., special prosecutor.

Crenshaw, retained by the local painters union of which Long was a member, was terse and spoke slowly and bluntly.

Sketching in brief the prosecution's testimony he said "these facts are uncontroverted."

"Jim is dead," he said. "He died while the shadows of life for him still were in the West.

"It was not an accident. It was not a suicide. Somebody must stand before the bar of judgment for his death.

"He died of poison.

Wife Accused

"Maude had ample opportunity to put that poison where poor Jim ignorantly would swallow it.

"Our contention is that this poor fellow was struck down by the hand of his own wife—the hand that held his 12 years ago and promised to love, honor and obey; the hand that of all others he thought he could trust.

"It was God's mercy that Jim Long died in ignorance. Had he been permitted to realize that the wife—the wife for whom in his last breath he expressed his love—had prepared for him that lethal dose he would have died ten thousand deaths in the agony of that realization.

"The case of the state of Texas stands or falls upon the truth of the testimony of the witness, J. E. Rhodes (who declared the widow bought poison from him three days before Long's death.)

Affair Described

"The motive was none other than the lecherous affection that Maude had formed for this 14-year-old boy (Pat Smith.) I admit the case is unusually bizarre, almost unparalleled so far as I know. But it goes back to this sinful infatuation."

Kowalski began by declaring that the jury could not under the court's charge on circumstantial evidence find Mrs. Long guilty. He declared the chain was broken by contradictions and by impeachment of state witnesses. Especially he turned upon the boy, Pat, the widow's alleged paramour, and on his mother, Mrs. Gilbert Smith.

The mother, defense witnesses had sworn, had been accused by her son of having killed Long herself.

Of Rhodes, Kowalski said: "I do not think he is deliberately falsifying, but I think he is mistaken."

"This motive," he went on, "that they set is the most preposterous thing about the case." He wanted to know why Mrs. Long would want to do away with her "big blond, good looking husband" to go away with "a boy who couldn't even earn a living."

Stronger evidence, Kowalski asserted, could be found that Mrs. Smith herself was the slayer.

Out of the Past

VIENNA.—The carcass of a giant rhinoceros, thought to be more than 100,000 years old, has been unearthed in an oil field in eastern Galicia. It was found about 300 feet underground. Examination of the remains showed the hide and the hair of the animal to be in good condition.

Mrs. Eva Dugan To Hang Today

"And after that, there's 13 steps."

The death march will began at 5 p. m.

Mrs. Dugan will die in loneliness. She has had five husbands, only one of whom is living. She received a letter from a daughter in New York today, the first communication she has had from either of her two children, and it brought tears to her eyes. No relatives are here.

Even as death approaches, Mrs. Dugan can smile grimly while tears course down her cheeks.

"My daughter says she is sorry for every cross thing she ever said to me," the condemned woman wept.

Mrs. Dugan will be executed in a small, drab room that permits about 25 witnesses. It is on the second floor of the prison, above the condemned cells.

Her body will drop through a trap to the room below. In the latter a glass case on three of the four walls contains the pictures of the 16 persons who died there at a rope's end—all men.

Around each photo is a grim frame—the noose on which each man died.

When Mrs. Dugan steps from her cell she immediately will start to climb the 13 steps to death. She will enter the death chamber a few feet from the scaffold, one guard on each side of her. On the platform a noose will be slipped over her head and adjusted by one of them.

After Mrs. Dugan has been given an opportunity to speak her last words, a guard will slip a black cap over her head. In the small group of spectators a third guard leaning casually against a water pipe will touch a button.

A light will flash in a room adjoining and the executioner will release the trap. Dr. A. L. Love, prison physician, who testified he believed Mrs. Dugan insane, will peer through a small hole in the door of the room into which the body drops. Finally he will enter and pronounce her dead.

Mrs. Dugan will be buried in the little graveyard of the prison. Her coffin will be more expensive than that provided by the prison. She earned the money for it by selling beads.

ports and across the Atlantic to North and South American landings. When he landed at Galveston in 1872, it was with the intention of going later to Boston to become master of his own ship, but yellow fever had broken out and he was quarantined with hundreds of others, forced to remain and engage in business in the Texas port.

Active Life

He still followed the sea trades, working as ship chandler and sailmaker and later as the first of the ship brokers at that port. Other occupations filled his life from that time, illness having caused him to give up the broker's trade in 1890. He came to Wichita Falls in 1924 to live with his son here following the death of his second wife.

His ventures in life included also a term in the state legislature from 1909 to 1911 and various business enterprises in this city and Galveston. He returned from a trip to Europe in 1900 to land at Galveston on the eve of the great storm which cost so much in life and property in that city. He became chairman of the relief committee which was hastily organized to alleviate the suffering and damage caused by the storm.

C-C INDUSTRIAL GROUP POSTPONES MEETING

Owing to the death of Jens Moller of this city, and the funeral of Mrs. A. M. Bourland at Vernon Thursday, the meeting of the industrial committee of the chamber of commerce was postponed until the first of next week, it was announced Thursday evening.

Numerous members of the committee were absent from the city because of the two funerals, it was said, and an hour for the meeting next week will be selected Friday.

BUDAPEST.—Born to Jewish parents here recently, Manci, weighing only 21 ounces at birth, is progressing rapidly. At first it was feared that the child would not survive, but blood transfusions from her parents pulled her through. She is normal in every respect. At three weeks old she was only 12½ inches high.

Neuralgic Pains Stopped By Capudine

Capudine quickly relieves the neuralgic headaches, rheumatic pains, and the aches accompanying colds that make life so miserable for so many people, especially during the winter months. It soothes the tense nerves, quickly stops the pain and affords peaceful relaxation. Being liquid, Capudine acts almost instanly—much quicker than tablets and powders. Contains no opiates and does not upset the stomach, therefore is most desirable.

The next time you suffer from such pains take two teaspoonfuls of Capudine in a little water and note how quickly the pain fades away. Capudine has been sold by druggists for more than 30 years. 30c and 60c bottles.—Adv.

Every Day Take Your Vitamins Straight— Live Long--Keep Healthy

Precious Vitamins of Cod Liver Oil Extracted and Put Into Tablets.

Now Doctor: when you prescribe McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets for anemia, run down condition, loss of weight, nervousness and other ailments where real Vitamins are sorely needed you can rest assured that your patient is getting all the good substance that Cod Liver Oil contains—the oily, useless fat is discarded.

Cod Liver Oil at its best is ill-smelling stuff that your patients hate to even look at, so now that you are able to give them the same Vitamins by prescribing McCoy's, isn't it the part of wisdom to designate these health building tablets?

Another thing to consider is this: people won't take Cod Liver Oil in summer because it often becomes rancid and no stomach could stand it.

But how different is McCoy's, Doctor: your patient can take them winter and summer and carry a week's treatment in his vest pocket if he cares to do so. Then there are the undeveloped kiddies to consider, Doctor—Forcing them to take repulsive Cod Liver Oil for rickets and an under-nourished condition when McCoy's in dainty sugar coated tablets is just as rich in Vitamin A and D is really cruelty to children.

In McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets sickly, rundown, nervous people get the same beneficial substance—the same Vitamins that they get in pure Vitamin tested Cod Liver Oil.

They are sure to get them.

Even in two tablets of McCoy's your patient gets the equal of one teaspoonful of pure Norwegian Vitamin tested Cod Liver Oil and for every ailment, malady or rundown condition for which you prescribe Cod Liver Oil you will find McCoy's just as good. And you know, Doctor, that we would not be allowed to make this statement if it were not true. All druggists dispense them—precious but inexpensive. 60 tablets 60 cents.—Adv.

Signs of Spring Include, Besides First Robin, Showmen's Activity

By SAM LOVE

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (UP)—Although the first robin was reported from a Yonkers lawn today, a surer harbinger of spring has appeared in New York.

Atlas, the tooth powder worker, returned from the southland.

Atlas is a thin sort of person with a set of extraordinarily white teeth which look like they would be good for useful as well as ornamental purposes. However, Atlas is distinctly willowy. His aims are not so mundane as to quiver surely in the bull's eye of food. Tooth powder, to Atlas, is only a means on end. It is a universal seller, due to the presence of teeth in practically all of the human species. What Atlas really enjoys is warm weather. Where he appears—there warm weather is. Atlas is better than a ground hog.

Showmen Aroused

The late afternoon editions carried the story about the Yonkers Robin and "The Billboard" carried several almost hysterical appeals from a Mr. Harris, out in Kansas, for a 32-foot "Little Beauty" merry-go-round.

Although Mr. Harris wants his 32-foot "Little Beauty" merry-go-round so badly he inserted several advertisement for same, he is far from alone in an evident desire to be in on the ground floor for the saps that begin to move in the spring.

The lascivious odor of sawdust already has penetrated the nostrils of open air showmen all over the land, and they are making ready for a banner season, which is what every season is in the spring to an open air showman. He is the original optimist. Also, he must have foresight or the next winter will be very tough indeed.

Opening Dates

Cook's Victory shows will open at New Britain, Conn., on Saturday, April 26. The great Sutton shows will open March 22 in Osceola, and the Carl J. Folk Greater shows will swing into action at Fort Wayne, Ind., exactly one week later, and the Waterman Greater shows will give the public the works "near Boston" on May 1.

Preparations for these and two dozen other shows which have nothing to do with Barnum & Baileys, Ringlings, John Robinson's and the other ponderously commercialized summer festivals are now going on apace, because it is spring. The performers are being signed and the concessions are being let.

The Barker Amusement company is in the market for a Hawaiian act, wax show, a few minstrel people and piano, drum and trombone players. Unfortunately, the cook house and corn game concessions have already been let. If you have a corn game, cook house or palmistry tent, you had better consult Cook's Victory shows.

Palmist Needed

The Carl J. Folk Greater shows emerge from the winter in pretty good shape. However, they can use two bucking mules, if you happen to have a pair of bucking mules. The Majestic shows have an opening for a good American palmist, and none of your Egyptians need apply.

Two innovations may be expected this summer along the pleasant mid-ways. One is a tooth brush-holding device which holds four tooth brushes and gives off germ-killing fumes, guaranteed to put the little fellows to rout in case any other party mistakenly employs your tooth bursh. The other is a fine application of scientific amplifying advances to side show ballyhooing, which makes it possible for the voice of the Barker to reach the ears of each and every person within half a mile of the tent.

With these pleasant prospects, the cook house men, the grab stand men, the strong act cradle-bearers, the tumblers, the sketch teams, the comics, the head balancers, and the air calliope players all are dickering pleasantly for jobs. It is spring, as announced by the presence on Broadway of Atlas, the tooth powder worker, who hates winter.

ROTARY HEARS OLNEY PASTOR

Rev. Townsend Talks on George Washington

"Today, though he has been dead these many years, Washington lives in the hearts of millions, because he forgot self in simple service to the world. Some people die and never live; some people live and never die," members of the Rotary club were told Thursday by Rev. W. H. Townsend, former pastor of the Lamar Avenue Baptist church here and now pastor of the First Baptist church at Olney.

Rotarians of Olney and Wichita Falls joined Thursday in an inter-city meeting, with the Olney group furnishing a program for the regular weekly luncheon of the local club. Rev. Townsend was the principal speaker, choosing as his subject, "George Washington."

Mrs. H. A. Hollister of Archer City, daughter of Will Harrell, who was in charge of the program, gave two vocal solos, accompanied by Miss Fannie V. Noah of Olney. Miss Noah also accompanied Mrs. B. C. Shulkey and Mrs. J. C. Lovelace in a violin duet.

Visitors from other cities were introduced by Mr. Harrell, who also announced the numbers on the program. O. T. Kimbrough, president of the Wichita Falls Rotary club, announced special services at the First Methodist church next Sunday evening in observance of the 25th anniversary of Rotary International.

Senators Rescind Webster Approval

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (INS)—The senate today rescinded its action in confirming Charles Augustus Stone, of New York, as a member of the board of regents of Smithsonian institution.

This reversal was demanded by Senator LaFollette, Republican of Wisconsin, who told the senate that Stone was chairman of Stone-Webster and Co., one of the "nation's greatest power organizations." He protested against placing "representatives of the power trust" on the board of Smithsonian institution, since that institution had "sent out propaganda recently against government operation of Muscle Shoals."

"We must meet this issue," said LaFollette. "We cannot permit the filling of these positions with representatives of the power trust."

Senator Smoot, Republican of Utah, announced the nomination of Stone would be considered again at "some time when it will not interfere with the tariff."

March Bride-Elect Honoree At Pretty Bridge Shower

Among the gay affairs filling the calendar of Miss Jewel Rose Akin, whose wedding to Dan Thomsen of Amarillo is announced as an event of March 5, was the smart bridge shower given in her honor Thursday afternoon by Mrs. H. S. Ford at her home on Alma.

The bride's chosen colors of green and white were noted in the decorations of lilies of the valley and ferns. White covers with dainty green numbers, were on the bridge tables and the bridal tallies and scores were exquisite hand made pieces of artistry in the same colors.

At the close of the game, the bride-elect was presented with a beautiful makeup box, the white tissue wrappings and green ribbons holding a pretty corsage of lilies of the valley. Mrs. Jerry Vinson was winner of high score and received a lovely piece of Dresden china, wrapped in the same manner; a tray of French molded soaps in pastel shades was given as second prize to Miss Dorothy Nolen and the cut prize stressed the motif in a pretty vase won by Miss Marguerite Fisher.

Card tables were covered with lovely Madaira cloths and centered with nosegays of sweet peas and green ferns before the dainty refreshment course was served. The bride's colors were carried out in the white cakes with green decorations and ices of white roses and white lilies with green leaves.

The surprise feature of the afternoon came when with a clang of warning, a small auto drove in through a rear door with a 5-year-old groom in tail green hat and green colonial costume in the driver's seat and in the rumble seat, a 3-year-old bride in white wedding gown with cap caught with lilies of the valley and tulle veil hanging down her back and carrying a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Bride and groom were Margaret Cochran, 5, and Mary Cochran, 3. Dorothy Ford, in a dainty green sprigged frock, performed a ceremony which consisted principally of the dignified groom announcing "With all my worldly goods, I thee endow," and the bride lisping her promise to love, honor and "beybey." But when the groom endowed the bride with all his worldly goods, he brought from the rear of his car a green wagon trailer, piled high with gifts for Miss Akin, all wrapped in her colors.

Guests who were invited to honor the pretty young bride-elect were Mesdames Odell McDuffey, M. Mitcham, R. O. Frame, Dan T. Whatley, Jimmie Allred, Lee Flowers, F. M. Hansen, A. L. Hecht, J. J. Thomas, J. H. Cochrun, Thomas McDonald, Bert King, E. B. Lehrack, Robert Nolen, Jerry Vinson, Melvin Hobbs, Garnett Parker, John Wallis, Orville Carpenter, J. W. Akin Jr., P. King Smith, Walter Hugh Caldwell, P. P. Langford Jr., Misses Mary Tancred, Marjorie Bright, Dorothy Nolen, Marguerite Fisher, Ruth Moore, Retta Barnard, Gene Nelson, Margaret Hines, Thelma Fisher, Ida Ruth Walker, Anabel Couper and Emma Francess McFall and Mrs. John Akin and Mrs. Ford.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

We were a little depressed in our idea of our good judgment, but not to say "squelched" when we were handed the following communication Wednesday:

"It seems that one of your editorial writers is taking a 'pot shot' at us hosiery merchants.

"Tell the old girl to buy a pair of service weight hose. In buying chiffon and the lighter weight hosiery, she is getting style which she demands; but if she wants service, buy service weight or the lisle thread hose than can be had around 75 cents and $1.00 a pair.

"The poor retail merchant has enough to contend with without 'shots' of this kind from daily newspapers."

We thought all the time we were taking a pot shot at the manufacturers but our aim must be poor.

"Old" rather subdues us, but "girl" pacifies our wrought up feelings.

We have had some half dozen women tell us the best wearing brand to buy since that column appeared.

Only Wednesday morning, a man stopped us and said "My wife says tell you she votes for ..... hose since reading your column." We want information and we are ready to stand by our colors.

But people are different about the small things of life.

What to Solomon Parsons of Worcester, Mass., was a solemn rite when he deeded 10 acres of his land to "Almighty God" (according to Ripley in "Believe It or Not.") was ridiculous to us because we thought that the whole earth was already owned by "Almighty God."

Another thing we thought strange was the answer a woman made when an attorney questioning her about whether she had poisoned a man, asked "You said you did not poison Jim,—If you had, would you admit it?" "Yes sir, I'd be lady enough to admit it," was her answer.

It seems that "poisoning" would not affect the status of a lady. One may kill, but one must not lie, according to this interpretation of ethics.

"Oh, well."

Mrs. Kilgore Honoree At Farewell Party

Mrs. J. A. Kilgore, who is leaving at an early date to make her home in Plainview, was honoree at a pretty party given by Mesdames Charles Nachtigal, Edgar Weehunt and Clyde Carey at the home of Mrs. Nachtigal on Grant street.

Mrs. Kilgore was presented with a lovely gift and after a social hour, a delicious refreshment plate carrying out the George Washington colors, was served to the honoree and to Mesdames A. L. Williams, P. B. Curd, J. A. Kilgore, Bevie Kerr, Gerald Smith, Rex Lindsay, Clyde Carey, Edgar Weehunt, Charles Nachtigal, C. C. White, J. P. Chastain and Rev. and Mrs. Patrick Henry.

Mrs. Held Honored With Pretty Shower

Mrs. Paul Cobert complimented Mrs. H. Held with a pretty miscellaneous shower at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Following a social hour, refreshments were served to Mesdames August Gebert, Herbert Crook, W. H. Seeker, Ira Miks, Otto Kelm, Ernest Gebert, E. H. F. Rathke, William Fehler, H. Held, H. Gebrig and Miss Nadine Rathke and the hostess.

Illiteracy and Education Make Poor Marriage

Can True Love Bridge the Gulf of Poverty and Boredom—Why the Husand Should Take His Turn at Minding the Baby—Should Two Redheads Marry?

Dear Miss Dix—I am a young man, 20 years old, a junior in college. My parents are well educated, thrifty and very ambitious for me, their only son. I have fallen in love with a girl who is beautiful, sweet and good, but she belongs to a very uneducated family and has had little education herself, as she had to go to work when she was very young and clerks in a 10-cent store. My family objects to my marrying this girl. My mother thinks that because she is illiterate and doesn't care about reading or studying that we could never be happy together, but I know better and I want to quit school and marry her. I believe that when two people love as we do those little differences do not matter. I think that we consider the material side of matrimony too much, and that love is all that counts. What do you think? —THOMAS L.

Answer—When an educated, cultivated man thinks he is in love with an ignorant, illiterate woman he mistakes his feeling. What he thinks is love is infatuation. It is a physical appeal that she makes to him, and that is all, for beyond that they have nothing in common.

Real love is founded on a community of interests. It is the feeling that two people have for each other who speak the same language who have the same interests and desires, who can enter into each other's thoughts, who can be real companions. The physical element is a part of real love, but it is subordinated to the soul.

Infatuation is the shortest lived off all emotions, but real love is deathless.

You say that love is all that matters in marriage, but, alas, our ability to love depends to a large extent upon material things. It is very hard, for instance, for love to outlive abject poverty.

A young couple may be ever so much in love with each other, but if they marry without some adequate support their romance seldom survives the ordeal of squalid surroundings and poor food and shabby clothes and doing without all the comforts of life to which they have been accustomed.

Even the most sentimental do not feel like billing and cooing when they do not know where the next meal is coming from, and when they are dodging creditors and are torn with anxiety about the future. Nobody wants to kiss when they are hungry. Nobody feels like indulging in poetical rhapsodies when they are overworked and harried by debt, and when they are cold and miserable. It takes ease and comfort and a full stomach to make us think about the state of our hearts.

And so you will find that the love in the garret myth has small place in real life and that those misguided couples who have undertaken to live on bread and cheese and kisses have deleted the kisses and are quarreling over the bread and chese. The happy homes are those that have an adequate financial foundation and a menu that includes plenty of beefsteak.

Now take your own case. You are sure it is folly to consider that you and the girl come of different classes, and you think that it will make no difference in your love because you are educated and she is ignorant. It may not now in the days of courtship, when she is young and pretty, and all that you talk about is how much you love each other.

But marriage is for the long pull and how it is going to be when she has lost her good looks and when you have grown tired of asking her how much she loves you, and is she utterly surely sure that she never loved before and will never love again and would die if anything should happen to you?

Nothing else kills love so quickly and so surely as boredom. How, then, are you going to keep in love with a woman who is ignorant and illiterate, who never reads a book, who has no interest whatsoever in anything outside of her kitchen and her nursery and the gossip she hears over the back fence? What are you going to talk about during the 30 or 40 years when you are shut in with each other for companionship?

You can't talk over with her the books that you read because they are sealed volumes to her. You can't discuss world problems with her because she never heard of the League of Nations or the war in China. You can't even confide your hopes and plans and ambitions to her because she wouldn't know enough to comprehend them.

And shame also kills love. Will you still be romantically in love with a wife who murders the King's English and makes mistakes in grammar and pronunciation, whose opinions show up her ignorance and whom you are ashamed to present to your friends?

And how about her shiftless, neer-do-well family who will also be your family if you marry her, who will be your children's grandparents and aunts and uncles? Will you enjoy having them about your house? Will they make for the happiness of your marriage?

These are some of the material things that you have to consider in marriage and you also have to consider that if you quit school in order to marry this girl you jopardize your future. You deprive yourself of the education that your father was willing to give you and thereby lessen your chances of success in life, and you tie yourself down with a family before you are ready to take upon yourself such a responsibility.

For the boy of 20 who marries has hopelessly handicapped himself. He has to take any job he can get if he has a wife to support and he can never hope to get ahead because it will take every cent he can possibly earn to provide for those dependent upon him.

Believe me, son, you will make the mistake of your life if you marry this girl at this time of your life. She is not suited to you. And you are too young to marry, anyway. Wait until you grow up and then choose a wife in your own class.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Patriotic Luncheon Given By Standard Study Club

Patriotic colors and figures made unusual and artistic decorations in the luncheon of the Standard club held at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Thursday. A handsome Statue of Liberty at one corner of the long table, wreathed with red carnations and ferns, faced the grouped blue candles at the diagonal corner, while down the length of the table red carnations, graceful sprays of fern, blue candles and groups of flags emphasized the patriotic motif. Place cards were in the colonial colors and George Washington hats were nut cups at individual places. Colonial figures on the table took part in the historical contest that was part of the program.

Mrs. W. C. Hamilton and Mrs. S. L. Conn received prizes for winning the contests. Miss Laura Jean Patillo gave a reading and Miss Harriett Bradley, accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. J. W. Bradley, sang two selections. Little Miss Francis Lou Hamilton gave a clever tap dance.

Those in attendance were Mesdames C. E. Bailey, C. L. Baum, L. L. Boardman, R. D. Bone, W. E. Brothers, S. L. Conn, J. M. Isbell, T. P. Kelm, W. R. Little, O. P. Maricle, A. C. Price, C. W. Grass Fire Threatens Traction Line Bridge

Grass fires in two widely separated sections Thursday afternoon threatened a halt in street car service in one instance and property loss in another, quick work by firemen having averted both, according to reports at central station.

Burning grass in a field adjoining the street car lines running out to Lake Wichita and the factory district about 1:40 o'clock Thursday afternoon ignited a bridge over which the tracks run and would have resulted in a forced halt in street car service had the bridge been destroyed. The fire was extinguished and service continued on schedule.

Grass in a vacant lot on Austin street between Tenth and Eleventh streets caught fire about 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon and for a time threatened to ignite an old wooden structure now vacant, at one time used as a garage and apartment on the alley.

There are now 21 cables across the Atlantic ocean.

Mrs. Ben G. Oneal Guest of First District Clubs

Mrs. Ben G. Oneal, president of First district, Texas State Federation of Womens clubs was honored Wednesday and Thursday at club meetings in her district. A colonial setting was given by pictures of George Washington and by the old spinning wheel before the open fireplace. Mrs. Allene Hinton sang "Priscilla's Spinning Song," at the spinning wheel. Mrs. W. H. Hagerman of Ranger, who is a member of the state executive board, brought greetings from the state, and Mrs. Oneal gave an address as district president.

Austin School Study Club Has Morning Program

Members of the Austin Study club met at the school Thursday morning for a lesson on "Parental Education," when Mrs. R. L. Underwood read an interesting paper on the subject. Mrs. Underwood pointed out that "parent education is the foundation of the parent-teacher association, the purpose of which is training parents to rear children in such a way that they may grow up into healthy, happy, worthwhile men and women."

"It is a new phase of adult education but has been carried on for years by doctors, nurses and social workers who have given advice to parents in matters of home making and child care.

"A few years ago when science and invention developed so slowly that the environment of one generation was about the same as the next, little adjustment was necessary. The child whose parents do not keep abreast of the times is greatly handicapped. Such parents and children are on different planes where understanding and sympathy are next to impossible."

Mrs. Underwood pointed out that parent-education is not cultural alone but has a physical side which also pertains to all matters of health.

Mrs. J. B. King read an instructive paper on "Emotional Problems With Children" saying that "parent education along this line would solve all such problems, if applied." Emotions of childhood were defined as anger, temper tantrums, stubbornness, fear and jealousy.

"The first step to be taken to prevent, or cure this condition is the exertion of self control by the parents. The child who is taught to control himself from infancy is free from most emotional evils."

The lesson for next week will be "Wise Use of Leisure," the topics to be assigned by Mrs. Felice Downs, leader of the circle. Those taking part in Thursday's lesson were Mesdames Robert Nolen, J. B. King, Lige Lewis, H. R. Cloughley, J. L. Garner, W. W. Knaust, and R. L. Underwood.

STORE GIVES STYLE SHOW

Expert Tells of New Modes And Use of Materials

W. B. McClurkan and company had a crowded store Thursday afternoon when Miss Hester Miller of the wholesale piece-goods department of Marshall-Field company presented a style show of dresses made up from dress materials carried by the local firm. More than 40 styles were shown on the long runway through the center length of the show.

Slenderizing styles with inset godets, high waist lines, princess gowns and coat suits were shown for all sizes and ages and were modelled smartly by the proper mannequins for the gowns. Miss Miller stated, as a model showed a highwaisted, new silhouette dress, that a year ago when she showed these high waist line fashions on a fashion show tour, women shook their heads over them, believing they would never be popular. When they were shown Thursday, they were much applauded.

Two gowns pinned together on models on the platform in approximately 10 minutes time proved how little material was needed for the proper cutting of the new fashions and how easily they may be made. This dressmaking stunt was extremely popular with the audience.

New ideas in trimmings and new combinations in colors were especially stressed. A corn colored frock and orchid coat made a striking ensemble combination. A smart black and red print was shown by Miss Miller to owe its individuality to the egg shell trimming.

A young girl who styled all models for the grade school children drew a round of applause at each appearance. Velveteen used for the child's smart coat was recommended to the audience and a dry sponge advised for brushing it. One frock she wore was of a silk pique that was emphasized as good style.

Morning and afternoon dresses were said by Miss Miller to be even lengths while afternoon and evening gowns were longer and uneven. "Smart people," she said "do not wear exaggerated uneven lengths on the street." Dainty flowered chiffons showed elbow sleeves with long circular ruffles and others had long collars that took the place of sleeves.

Hours for Shows

Miss Miller will conduct another style show Friday evening at 7:45. Saturday morning at 10:30 she will give an informal style lecture, answering questions so far as possible and discussing style problems. Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, school girls and misses are particularly invited to attend the show that will be given, and on Saturday evening the series will be closed with another promenade of styles at 7:45 o'clock.

• Would you be willing to use, "As is," this recipe for Rhubarb Pie?

Cut rhubarb into inch lengths to make a quart, and place in the lower crust in the pie tin. Sprinkle a mixture of 2 tablespoonfuls cornstarch and pinch of salt over the rhubarb. Cover with a top crust and bake at 450° for about 15 minutes. Finish at 350°.

RHUBARB PIE without sugar! Imagine it. Yet you would have such a pie, in all its sourness, if you used this recipe. Two cups of sugar are needed.

Many meals served today in countless homes are unpalatable and lacking in enjoyment because sugar has been left out. Vegetables are flat, fruits are sour and cereals tasteless. Try a dash of sugar on these most essential foods and see how much better they taste.

Sugar on protective foods makes them a pleasing carrier of the roughage, mineral salts and vitamins they contain. It does not change in any way their delicate, valuable elements.

Think of this as you plan your meals. Make meals not only nourishing, but pleasant, with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

CHICAGO ABLE TO WEAR SMILE

Millionaires Come to Aid of City Employes

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (UP)—Policemen whistled on their beats and school teachers hummed at their desks today because Chicago's millionaires agreed to dig down into their pockets for as many millions as are needed to pay the long overdue salaries of more than 43,000 public employes.

Modest homes all over the city where since before Christmas the press of poverty has been heavy were gay because of the action taken by 70 emissaries of big business at a conference in the somberly magnificent Mid-Day club yesterday.

"We will do our part," was the keynote of the conference and there was not a discordant tone as Chicago's capitalists, railroad executives, packers, department store owners, utilities executives and other leaders of commerce and industry pledged their aid in the financial crisis.

"It was indicated that we could raise $43,000,000 at once," was the cheery assurance of Attorney Silas H. Strawn, who as head of the citizens' "rescue committee" has been tireless in his labors to evolve a way out of the morass of debt that has crippled operations of the local government for months.

Pledges of an additional $7,000,000 are expected immediately and as soon as they are received the plan worked out at the "conference of the millions" yesterday will become effective.

City, county, school board and sanitary district officials have listed their essential needs for the period until July 1, when tax moneys will be available, at $74,000,000. Whether each will be forced to curtail operations approximately one-third to keep within the $50,000,000 emergency loan or whether the additional money can be obtained was conjectural today.

The money is to be raised through sale of tax anticipation warrants.

If you are NOT yourself

Are you being denied the happiness that is due you in life?

IT is easy to abuse our golden life-given body, but Nature has a way of signaling danger. If heeded, graver troubles may be avoided. That tired, exhausted feeling, lack of appetite, aches and pains, flabby flesh, skin troubles—all speak of a body weakness—a lack of the normal count of red-blood-cells.

Every normal person's blood should contain about 5,000,000 red corpuscles to the cubic millimeter—those vitalizing, tiny red-cells which give blood its color and are carriers of nourishment to every part of the body. It is dangerous to let the red blood count remain below normal.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells, you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people. It helps Nature increase the red-blood cells. It promotes healthy body building. It is time-tested and has a successful record of over 100 years back of it.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It is easily assimilated. Pleasant to take. It is on sale at all drug stores in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

Infant Mortality Rate in America Highest in World

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (INS)—Chicago physicians were more or less stunned today by the statement that it is more dangerous for a baby to be born in the United States than in any other civilized country.

The assertion was made by Dr. J. Whitridge Williams, professor of obstetrics at the Johns Hopkins university before the American Medical association.

"The infant and maternal mortality rate is one-third higher in this country than in any other," said Dr. Williams. "This is due in great part to the inadequate teaching and training of our doctors.

"Compared with graduates from the women's clinics at German universities, our obstetricians are no better than first-class mid-wives. In fact we are 40 years behind Germany in this science."

Senatorial Campaign Inquiry Proposed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (INS)—A sweeping inquiry into expenditures in all senatorial campaigns this year similar to the famous Reed "slush fund" investigation of 1926, was proposed in the senate today by Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, insurgent leader.

He introduced a resolution, directing Vice President Curtis to name the investigating committee.

RAIL OFFICIALS' ARREST ASKED

Brotherhood Files Affidavit In Court

HOUSTON, Feb 20. (UP)—The Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship clerks, freight handlers, and express and station employes today filed an affidavit in federal court here requesting the arrest of three Southern Pacific line officials.

The three are H. M. Lull, executive vice president; G. H. Wald, vice president and general manager, and J. G. Torian, his assistant.

The affidavit refers to an arrest order written by Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson, Feb. 11, 1928.

In writing the order Judge Hutcheson said the three officials should be arrested by the United States marshal if they failed to comply with certain instructions regarding their activities toward organization of a company controlled union of railway clerks.

The affidavit charged these instructions had not been lived up to.

Handicap Speed Record Shattered

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 20. (INS)—Sending his streamlined monoplane, Miss Silvertown, through the air at a rate of 175.997 miles an hour, Lee Schoenhair, veteran Akron, Ohio, pilot, today set a new world's speed record for added weight over a 100-kilometer course.

Carrying an extra load of 2,204 pounds, Schoenhair also lowered the record for the 500-kilometer course, beat the former record held by Capt. H. S. Broad, of England, by 15.71 miles an hour.

The Akron pilot, who began his speed trials here by smashing the world's speed records for streamlined planes over the 100 and 500-kilometer courses, planned to continue his assault on existing added weight records.

Communists Plan to Stage Demonstrations

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 20. (INS)—Communistic organizers plan to stage "unemployed world-wide demonstrations" in the principal cities of the United States on Feb. 26, according to a bulletin of the Associated Employers of Indianapolis, issued here today.

The bulletin, prepared by A. J. Allen, secretary-manager, urged all Indianapolis employers to take steps to increase employment to prevent predicted red agitators from successfully operating.

Further Improvement In Taft's Condition

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (INS)—Further progress was reported today in ex-Chief Justice Taft's condition.

The physicians' bulletin at noon said: "The condition of the former chief justice is a little more satisfactory this morning."

Justice Taft is still too ill, however, to receive visitors. His successor on the bench, Charles Evans Hughes, called to pay his respects but was not allowed to see the patient.

SLAYER ADMITS NINTH MURDER

'Pleaser Killer' Confesses Ohio Shooting

DETROIT, Feb. 20. (INS)—James Bakerien, 25, self-styled killer for pleasure, confessed to another murder today, making a total of nine men whom he says he murdered.

His latest admittance was that he killed Cyril Parks, a farmer living near Warren, Ohio, in 1923. He said Parks beat him and he retaliated by shooting the farmer.

"I have killed nine men, no more or less," said the prisoner, a former sailor and chemist's assistant. "If you think I am lying, why ask me?"

Small Shoes For Sunday Espoused By Accused Man

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (AP)—It remained for John Coin to reveal that a man who would be well dressed should wear a smaller shoe Sunday than he wears week days.

"Ordinarily," he told Judge Immenhausen, "I wear a size 11. On Sundays I wear a 10. The smaller size is more suitable for dress."

"What size have you on now?" inquired the court.

"Tens," said Coin.

"But this," interposed Judge Immenhausen, "isn't Sunday."

"That is on account of George Washington," replied Coin. "I'm dressing up in memory of George Washington."

"And where did you get those size tens?" asked the court.

"I would rather not discuss such matters here," replied Coin, with hauteur.

"I believe those shoes are George Niculita's, and that you took them from his feet without his knowledge," said the court. "Ten days in jail, including Washington's birthday. Leave the number tens here for Niculita."

Herbert Kaufman's
HIS MILLIONS FOR BRASS TACKS
Daily Editorial

MR. FORD, as is proper for a man likely to die possessed of more millions than anybody ever before accumulated, begins to consider to what best philanthropic use he can devote so much money.

Experience has taught him—and he has had slight instruction except from experience—that folk headed in a definite mental direction are more apt to prove valuable to society and themselves than Jacks-of-all-thoughts-and-trades.

Mr Ford is essentially a single-purposed man. His processes are emphatically intensive; they incline to depths, rather than breadths of view. He began life with a specific last and is still tapping away at it.

The fact that circumstances didn't permit him to make an exhaustive choice of careers, of course, had a lot to do with his becoming a mechanic.

But even if he had been privileged to finance his curiosity into protracted academic adventures one may logically assume that his interest would have been focused upon exactitudes rather than contemplations.

Mr. Ford's inclinations are congenitally constructive, not cultural. History, philosophy, empiricism and the dialectics of pure science do not stir his peculiar temperament. His imagination is not a star-gazer—Betelgeuse and the unscanned nebulae fail to engage his fancy.

He does not vibrate to the twang of Homer's lyre, and the sweet singers of the ages find him incurably tone-deaf.

The Mona Lisa, the Portland Vase, and the Morgan ceramics are no soul-mates of his.

And archaeology's chance of inheriting a single penny of his billion, is so remote that Dr. Janes, himself, can't calculate the impossible fraction.

MR. FORD is an entirely matter-of-fact person. By being practical and staying so, he managed to create one of the world's most important businesses and acquire one of history's most amazing fortunes.

And he accomplished this without recourse to any of the road-maps or suggestions dearest to higher education's heart.

Consequently, it isn't strange that his coming benefactions will take the form of huge brass-tack-hammers.

Mr. Ford discovers a surplus of veneer and a dearth of sound grain in our university product.

As one of the country's principal employers of labor and intellect, he detects an arresting lack of concentrative capacity—i-dotting and t-crossing talent, and that respect for precision and detail which all the balance sheets, from Dan to Beersheba, lately and loudly lament.

He has reached the conclusion that the worthiest cause of which he can delegate his means is the establishment of vocational schools where boys and girls will be shaped for selective ends and trained to perform given tasks with technical skill and accuracy.

He perceives less and less opportunity for the tid-bitters, and smatterers whom our colleges are promiscuously dumping upon a civilization, long in rebellion at the expense of whittling so many square pegs to fit the round holes of departmental duty.

Industrial overhead can't afford to waste its precious substance to conform unfit university yields to its efficient specifications.

Mr. Ford wants more specialists—and so does tomorrow.

DAVID BRANCH'S DAILY FILOSOFY

"He who accumulates more wealth than he needs is selfish and greedy."

There should be a legal standard strive for. Everyone reaching this peak, should then become a benefactor to his fellowmen by helping others to reach the peak. Anyone keeping unto himself above this standard peak, should be branded with shame for his gluttony.

A Philadelphia judge released a man caught robbing poor boxes in the churches on condition that he join the army, navy or marines. The idea probably being to build up the military morale.

Clarence Darrow says you can't get wisdom simply by growing old. But at least, Mr. Darrow, you begin finding out things you cannot eat.

The Matter of Service

THE FACT that Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia American league baseball club, has been given the $10,000 Edward W. Bok award for "having rendered the most outstanding service to Philadelphia" during 1929, opens the way for a bit of meditation.

Rendering a service to your home town can be done in lots of ways, and probably there is no reason why a baseball pilot isn't just as eligible as anyone else. Yet one cannot help wondering; just what sort of service did Philadelphia's people give their city during 1929 if, at the close of the year, a committee of serious, intelligent men found that the victory of a professional baseball club was the most noteworthy of the lot?

There is just a little bit more to this than you might think. We get a little confused in our sense of values, every so often, and this Philadelphia incident illustrates it perfectly.

Philadelphia, of course, is very much like every other American city. It is a little bigger than most of them, and some of the doings of its politicians and its underworld are perhaps a little below standard; but, on the whole, it is probably a typical American city in every way.

Think over the situation of the average big city and see if you can spot a few of the opportunities for improvement.

They are rather numerous.

A citizen looking for the chance to serve his town could find plenty to do, in Philadelphia or anywhere else.

A judge could find plenty of ways to make the law more respected and honored.

A politician could find plenty of ways to make the city government more responsive to the people's will.

A police official could, quite easily, make the city safer for honest men and women.

A school official could help to give the city's children a good preparation for the adult life that lies ahead of them.

A business man could do his part toward promoting happiness by making industry stable and efficient.

An artist could make his city a pleasanter place by adding, a little bit, to the beauty and color available in it.

You could lengthen that list indefinitely. It's long enough, though, to make one suspect, either that Philadelphia's citizens missed a lot of chances last year, or that the prize committee might have looked a little bit farther.

When an American city names a professional athlete as the man who has served it best through an entire year, it is quite obvious that either performance or judgment has gone slightly askew.

Either way, the situation is a trifle discouraging.

Speaking of Speeches

AT the close of a conference held by a large number of business men in this city recently, one of those present referred to one of the after-lunch speeches which had been given with this remark:

"Now that kind of delivery is what makes a man shy away from meetings of this kind. From what little I caught, my opinion is that he had some good material that I should like to have heard. If he had given his attention to us instead of juggling the change in his pants' pockets, and had looked at us instead of at the tablecloth, his speech would have been a good one."

After which the sincere critic eulogized the service clubs for the training which they have given business men in general in public speaking, and pointed out the opportunity which they have for continued and increased service in the same field.

"Business relations and business friendships improve with frank exchange of ideas," he went on, "and I think the service club's greatest contribution to a community, perhaps, is its development of the ability to stand up and tell the other fellows plainly what you think about it."

From which the various service clubs receive not only a palm, but a letter to carry to Garcia.

Value of Technical Schools

"EVERY BOY should learn a trade," remarked Henry Ford in a breezy article. "He should have something to fall back on, something to keep his mind active and keep him out of trouble. I believe there should be a technical school in every industrial institution."

Editorial criminologists, crime wave experts, preachers and politicians who are ever in the public eye are invited to swallow and then digest these words of the billionaire manufacturer:

"The reason we have so much crime and racketeering is because schools do not each our young men how to fit into the world. Racketeering is nothing but a revolt against the present improper and ineffectual system of teaching."

Of course this should not be taken as a balm in Gilead save for those who insist that satan and sin have corrupted the morals of the rising generation.

While developing their heads, train their hands, see to it they are taught trades, give them employment at fair wages and then let nature take its course.

Disarming Mexican Pistol Toters

PRESIDENT PASCUAL RUBIO of Mexico has launched a campaign against the automatic. That is he has instructed the police authorities of the City of Mexico to confiscate the pistols of all persons who are without permit. It is a very drastic order. Rubio plans to take pistols away from the entire civilian population of the republic. After he has recovered sufficiently to direct the work personally he intends to withdraw all pistol permits. It is another noble experiment. Rubio is an engineer. There is an engineer president of the United States. He is wrestling with a noble experiment and all its perplexing intricacies.

Man About Town

Cecil Beaton, of Britain, who hocus-focuses the celebrated of the stage and screen with his $5 camera, and has the portraits published in Vogue and Vanity Fair, feels simply wretched about his recent pilgrimage to Hollywood. . . . He went there, it appears, with the express aim of snap shooting the elusive Garbo, and to adore her at close range. . . . But Greta, who isn't at all bi-hat, but who Just Can't Be Bothered, couldn't be met. . . . And Cecil so groaned in Dinty Moore's corned-beef-and-cabbage place on 46th Street the other after-theater-time. . . . Perhaps when Garbo comes to Manhattan again, Mr. Beaton will meet her. . . . Via the only New Yorker, who possibly could arrange it. . . . Robert Reud being the siren's only contact when in New York—who knows where she dwells. When she arises. When she retires or this and that. . . . It is all so weird.

Peggy Joyce will tenant elsewhere upon her discharge from the hospital, and the only thing over which she was concerned when the ether melted was the size of her appendicitis scar—which isn't large, at all. . . . The night cashier at the Christopher Street station of the I. R. T. subway plays a banjo when not making change. . . . The Fred Stone return triumphant was best summed up by G. Gabriel, who put it this way: "Stone Gathers No Moss." . . . The local Orientals migrate to Newark on the Sabbath, one taxi firm averaging over 1,200 Chinese passengers, these calls, turned into gold, supporting 20 cabs of the company. . . . Phyllis Povah has reconsidered matters and has called off her Giant escort from thrashing commentators who offend her with printer's ink. . . . In Memoriam: Walter J. Kingsley died a year ago. . . . The Thomas Edison sign at 66th and the Grand-est Canyon, which features the inventor's likeness, hasn't been lighted for at least a month. . . . Col. Hayward's son, Leland, is on his way to Texas to remarry the wife he hasn't seen for six years.

Harry Thaw confines his playboying to the hideaways, seldom frequented by the Park Row prowlers and apparently is not cured of being "clipped" by night club hostesses who take matters to court and win huge sums. . . . Vaudeville certainly cannot be in a bad way, considering that the specs are getting $8.80 for a duo of fifteenth row Palace theater pews. . . . It is worth that tariff, however, with such stellar stars as Fanny Brice, Adelaide Hall and Phil Baker on the same menu. . . . Robert C. Benchley wishes it published that he is "that way" about Mrs. Benchley. . . . Mrs. Reginald Fellowes, best remembered over the report that a jealous wife attempted to hurl acid at her in Yurrup, has penned a lengthy and erotic poem, which she threatens to have put between covers even if she pays the bill.

The last of the Big Spenders has wearied of giving away a $1,000 bill to the cafe entertainers. . . . Instead, he presses one of them into a pretty gal's paw the first time he meets her, and never refers to the gift again. . . . "Some day, perhaps, some day?" . . . Girls must live. . . . Paul Stone is so pretty. . . . She is being adored here and there. . . . The Chili Villa, an all-night tamale place, is enticing People Who Matter, who crunch crackers and doonk crullers in tasty java after Curfew time. . . . The lad who had his skull crushed in a cafe because he dropped a chunk of ice down a strange woman's bosom, was intoxicated, of course. . . . A grand commentary on the current brand of gay goo. . . . He never touched likker in his life, his intimates vow, and this is what happens. . . . Too bad . . . He probably won't survive. . . . Dear, dear, the things you hear about Miss Selwyn's personnel!

Mrs. Willebrandt may consider her last season Broadway encounter something to cheer about. . . . It isn't the same old Stem. . . . The cafe impresarios will tell you that "everybody's in Florida," but that is merely something to say. . . . But one nocouvert gay place is thriving, because it offers a diverting floor show with undraped cuties. . . . The other no-couvert spots are depressing. . . . The Salon Royale where La Guinan was once raided enjoys the chassier riff-raff and the stage favorites who find Florence and Sneeze entertaining. . . . The rendezvous is doing a handsome trade, $4 week nights and $5 on Saturday nights being the entry fee. . . . You bring your own canned heat, the management not risking "possession or sale," having escaped Atlanta via the miracle route. . . . In sum, you pay as much as you would to witness a Broadway hit just to hear two ebony-skinned shouters shout and then press a bill into their paws when they warble before your table. . . . However, you may rub elbows with Marilyn Miller, Adele Astaire, Libby Holman, a cinema person, a stage personality and fear no disturbance about the Mayor's curfew law, the rendezvous being immune because it is in a hotel of over 50 rooms.

Robert H. Davis, the grand old gent of the Sun, has loaned his collection of photographs of local "somebodies" to an art gallery at 57th and Madison. . . . Davis summoned the subjects to his office at No. 280 Broadway and sans artificial lighting "took you as you are" . . . . when you least expected it. . . . and there has been no retouching. . . . He says that someday he will will them all to a museum or library so that posterity will be awed by "People As They Are Today." . . . The intelligentlemen of New York are heavily represented, all of whom autographed the likenesses, the outstanding inscription being that of Aline MacMahon, the play actress, who is pictured in the profile manner, but with her back showing. . . . She scribbled: "To Robert H. Davis—the only man who ever turned my head."

Here's another caper in support of the rumor that ladies must live: The other midnight, a top-hatted, tail-coated young man, despairing of getting a taxi, struck across town on foot, traversing one of the cross streets in the Sinful Seventies. As he entered a darkened area he was accosted by a hesitant young woman. She went into her spell with the tremolo stop all the way out, and a mournful tale she told. "It's this way," she said tearfully, "I haven't had a bite to eat for 36 hours. My landlady has seized my clothes and unless I pay her something tonight I shall have no place to sleep. I have tried to get a job, but there is nothing for me. I can't go home to my people because they are too far away. The town has me licked and I'm ready to admit it. I want no charity from you, old boy. Just give me some money and I'll be a good sport. I can't go straight any longer."

Touched by her story, the lad thrust a big bill into her hand.

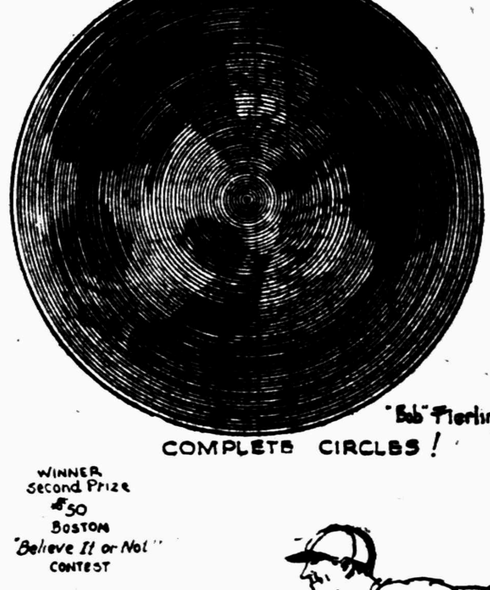

"Good God, gal," he choked, "what do you take me for, anyway? I want nothing from you. Keep the money and take this advice. No matter how tough it gets, stay straight. It pays. Good night."

Thereafter for several days the benefactor went about with the glow that comes of a good deed performed. In fact, he might still feel like a Boy Scout had he not encountered the same lady a night ago doing the same act in the doleful monologue.

He feels that the gel has been reading O. Henry.

"LOVEJOY" : By : Beatrice Burton

CHAPTER XLII

Steve came swiftly down the platform toward her. A little knot of station loafers were watching him, and so was Sheila. But he caught Lovejoy's face between his hands, and there in front of them all he kissed her on the mouth.

"This sure is a sight for sore eyes—to see you on this station platform!" he said, grinning down at her boyishly. "I'd begun to think I'd never get you here!"

He picked up her bags and they went down the platform side by side, Lovejoy's high heels clicking like castanets on the wide boards.

The train moved slowly past them from a platform as the train disappeared into the deep-blue darkness of a Nevada night.

"I'll bet he's sorry to lose us!—All the tips we gave him!" Sheila called to them as they came toward her.

She struck Lovejoy as oddly out-of-place with her cigaret, her satin suit and her hat with its tiny lace nose veil. Above her was a new moon, larger and whiter than the station lights. In the air was a faint spicy smell of sage-brush and dust, and a feeling of wide spaces all around them.

Lovejoy was glad when she called out to say that there was a 15-mile drive ahead of them.

"This place where I stayed was not exactly a hotel," she explained. "It's a ranch house—the kind where they take people to board, you know. You'll love it, both of you! We can ride in the morning if you like, Lovejoy."

"Are you talking about a horse-back ride?" Lovejoy asked her with alarm in her voice. She had heard about the wild bucking bronchos of the west, and she hoped that nobody would expect her to ride one of them.

"They have some awfully good horses at Hill's," Sheila answered. "You're going to love this place, Lovejoy."

At that time Lovejoy herself thought she was going to love it. That is, if she did not have to ride!

She sniffed the good, clean air as if she couldn't get enough of it. It was like a tonic after the smell of liquor and perfume and cigarets that had been in her nostrils for the last day or two.

"You'll want to send a wire to your aunt, won't you dear?" Steve asked her. "Let's see, I wired ahead for a car to meet us—"

As he spoke a tall figure moved into the light of the nearest lamp post. A tall, broad-shouldered, narrow-hipped man in tan shirt and trouser and a broad-brimmed Stetson.

"Mr. Oglebay?"

"That's right," Steve told him. "You the man from Hill's. Here are our bags.

The cowboy picked them up and carried them easily across the station to a big, open car that was standing in the shadows beyond the station.

"Stunning, isn't he?" Sheila whispered into Lovejoy's ear as they left the town behind them and started out into the wide scented country.

The wind was cold and Lovejoy pulled her hat-brim down and snuggled close against Steve . . . This was like a dream. The stars coming right down to the ground along the horizon, the strange scenery, the cowboy on the front seat, the howling of a coyote coming to her ears above the hum of the engine.

"I'm not going to sit back here with you two any longer!" Sheila said suddenly. "You're so wrapped up in each other that you don't know I'm alive. Ten minutes ago I asked Lovejoy a question and I'm still waiting for her to answer it!"

Lovejoy laughed. "How could I answer it?—How could I tell you that our driver is stunning-looking when Steve's right here beside me, listening?"

"Well, anyway, I'm leaving you flat!" And Sheila swung her long silk-covered legs over the front seat and dropped down beside the surprised young driver of the car.

"Want a cigaret?" Lovejoy heard her ask him, and in two minutes they were chattering like a couple of long-lost friends.

"Don't you make eyes at any of the good-looking cowboys around here while I'm down in California!" Steve whispered to Lovejoy. "Remember that you belong to me now!"

He laughed but she knew that he meant what he said. He did feel that she belonged to him now that she had taken this last step—now that she had crossed all her bridges and come to Minden. There was something of ownership in the kisses that he pressed on her mouth now—and all at once she remembered the kisses that Tom had given her almost two years ago on the night when they had come home for the first time to the little flat in Hewlett street.

"Don't kiss me, Steve!" she whispered, pushing him gently away from her. "I don't want—that cowboy to see you—kiss me."

Hill's ranch house was a long, low white building, ablaze with many lighted windows.

It was everything that a ranch house should be. There were Indian rugs on the floor of the big center hall. The chairs and tables were in Mission style and there were antlers and deer heads on the polished brown wood walls.

Opening off the hall was a great dining room. In the middle of it stood a long table covered with a red and white cloth. There were plates and glasses and silver at one end of it.

"I've a cold bite for you all," Mrs. Hill told them when she came into the hall to make them all welcome. "Just some cold baked ham and a bowl of salad greens. I remember how you like your salad, Mrs. Nettles!"

The food was delicious. And the coffee that followed it was the best coffee that Lovejoy had ever tasted. It was golden-brown and it was smooth and rich with heavy cream.

But she was sorry she had drunk it when she went upstairs to bed late that night. For it kept her awake and she kept tossing and twisting in her bed for hours.

Downstairs in the stillness of the great house a clock struck one, and then, after an eternity, it struck two.

It will be hours before the telegraph office in town is open, thought Lovejoy, getting up on her elbow to stare out into the moonlight. Hours and hours—and Aunt Em doesn't know where I am. Suppose the baby should be sick—

She got out of bed and began to walk up and down the bare floor of her room, too nervous and unhappy to even try to sleep by this time.

It must have been a little before half past two when someone knocked softly on her door. So softly that at first she wasn't sure it was a knock.

She went swiftly across the room in her felt slippers and opened her door. There was a lamp at the far end of the hall and in its dim light she could see Steve standing there in his bathrobe.

"What's the matter, sweetheart? Can't you sleep?" he asked, just above a whisper. "Worried about anything?"

Lovejoy nodded her tousled red head. "I forgot to send my telegram to Aunt Em," she said, "and I'm worried about the baby."

He stood, thinking, for a few seconds.

"The telegraph office is probably closed at this time of night—or we'd drive into town," he said quietly. "But I'll tell you what we can do. There's a telephone in the hall downstairs. We can telephone your aunt and find out everything you want to know. How will that be?"

That would be fine, Lovejoy told him. She slipped into her new pink wool dressing gown and followed him down the long, chilly hall, down the uncarpeted stairs to the big table in the hall below.

"Steve, you're so good to me," she said to him while they waited for long distance to get Aunt Em on the wire. "Steve, sometimes I'm so sorry for you—"

He looked up at her, his eyes full of amusement.

"What are you talking about?" he asked.

"Well, you deserved better treatment than I've given you," she told him. "I ought to have married you two years ago when I married Tom. Even Aunt Em said so at the time. . . . Of course, she meant that I should have married a man with money instead of a poor man. But she was right, all the same."

He came around the table to her and drew her into his arms. "It doesn't matter what happened then. Things are all right now, aren't they?" He kissed her. "We'll be married in six months and you'll have your baby—and everything will be fine as silk."

The telephone bell rang sharply in the night-time stillness of the house.

The Once Over
By H. I. PHILLIPS

Elmer Twitchell on Presidential Angling

Elmer Twitchell isn't impressed by President Hoover's fishing prowess as pictured in the newspaper dispatches. Elmer thinks it's all done by mirrors.

PHILLIPS

"You noticed that when Mr. Hoover caught all those big fish," said Mr. Twitchell, "he was accompanied by close associates and stalwart Republicans. I'll believe he caught a 45-pound sailfish when I hear there was some Democrats and strangers in the boat."

"When Mr. Hoover goes fishing he is accompanied by his secretary, his personal physician, his favorite newspaper correspondent and his great friend, Justice Harlan Stone," continued Elmer. "You never hear of him letting anybody like Senator Walsh of Montana in the boat, do you? Not much!

"Personally I've got a hunch that Herbert Hoover ain't so hot about fishing, anyhow. I think he really dislikes it and that the Republican party is just building up a Hoover fisherman myth.

"It's a well known fact that the first thing a party tries to do with a new president is to get him into the public mind as a sportsman of some kind or another. It helps to popularize him and make him more human. Now Mr. Hoover don't hunt, he ain't a dashing horseman and he don't play golf. Those stories about his morning handball games didn't get across big, so they decided to make him a fisherman.

"The public always warms up to a man who goes fishing. Look how it worked with Calvin Coolidge. Cal was about the most colorless president the G. O. P. ever had on its hands. It knew it never could put him across as a lion-hunter, a great athlete or a man who got 300 yards with his wooden clubs, so it made him a fisherman and got away with it.

"If any man ever suffered when fishing it was Calvin Coolidge and I think that was one reason he refused to run again. If the party had agreed to let him burn his tackle he would have consented to renomination.

"It's the game all over again with Hoover. The G. O. P. is determined to put him over as a mighty fisherman, the Florida Chambers of Commerce cooperating to the limit."

"No sir," concludes Elmer, "I'm not being fooled. If the Republican party wants to convince me Herbert Hoover dashes to the Florida keys, rushes out in a boat and spins back in no time with a 45-pound sailfish, let it send him out in a boat with Al Smith or Mr. Raskob or somebody like that."

Food for the Jokesmiths

The Smithsonian institution has grown a tomato without the use of dirt. It is to be hoped it will get busy at once with spinach and strawberries.

The Fascisti administration in Italy has forbidden all jokes about the order. This is a certain sign it must be getting pretty weak.

The department of commerce announces with a glow of pride that the United States leads the world as a producer of false teeth. But somehow or other it's hard to get the little boys and girls to burst into an orgy of flag-waving over that.

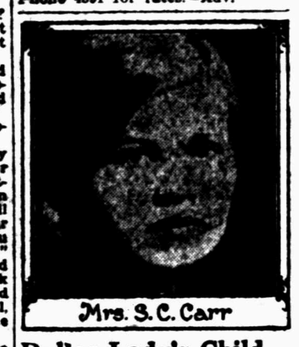

How do we stand in the glass eye industry? And, now that our curiosity is aroused, can it be true that America has dropped to third place in the international league as a manufacturer of false mustaches?

More Evidence for Padlockers

Among the many proofs that there is a less than lukewarm support of the dry law is the fact that most of the new hotels in the country have a combination corkscrew and cap-remover attached to the wall.

Chicago authorities ordered a roundup of all gunmen and thugs the other day. Probably for a news reel or something.

Mrs. S. C. Carr

Dallas Lady's Child Gained Weight Fast

Mrs. S. C. Carr's experience with her little girl is just one of the many cases which we hear about. Mrs. Carr says, "My little Nettie Virginia had something like the flu. When it left, she was puny, had no appetite, and was very cross and feverish. I had known for years that Nature's Remedy is such a dependable medicine and I decided to give her a course of the Juniors. Nobody knows how happy I am to see her eat heartily again, and laughing and playing like she used to."

Very often those simple little chocolate coated Nature's Remedy Juniors (NR Jrs) are all the system of a child needs to straighten it out. Then the wastes can't remain in it to form the acids which sour the stomach, bind the bowels and rob the blood of the red corpuscles it must have plenty of to keep child from becoming puny, feverish and pale. Any druggist will recommend NR Juniors to you for your child. Only 25 cents.—Adv.

TAX ESTIMATES NOT REALIZED

Collections Fall Short of Treasury's Hopes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (INS)—Income tax collections for the year ending June 30, will fall far short of the $2,480,000,000 estimated by the treasury department at the time the 1931 budget was sent to congress last December.

Officials point out today that $80,000,000 would be lost by the one per cent tax reduction on the normal tax of corporations and individuals, while a substantial loss is anticipated from the stock market crash and the business decline at the end of 1929.

Whether the tax reduction, which applied only to incomes of 1929, can be recommended to congress for incomes of 1930 has not yet been determined. This depends upon two factors:

1—Business and industrial activity in 1930.

2—Losses sustained by the government by the decline in stock prices and the business let-down in late 1929.

As to business, it is simply a waiting "problem." So far there has been a slight pickup from the last months of 1929, although it has not greatly influenced government revenues.

After the March 15 income tax returns are tabulated the treasury will know approximately what losses resulted from the market break and last year's business. Statistics will be available by the end of March.

On the basis of the tax cut alone the March collection of income taxes will be about $551,000,000, since more than one-half of the $80,000,000 to be lopped off taxes during this fiscal year will fall at the March payment. Another $80,000,000 will be cut off of the 1931 fiscal year returns.

There is no way to estimate the stock market loss before March.

In March, 1929, the collection of $601,563,000 was a gain of $86,000,000 over March, 1928, and that increase was attributable chiefly to stock market profits. It was not anticipated that the loss in March, however, will be as great as the gain of last year over the preceding March.

Officials agreed that the collection for the current fiscal year would be substantially less than $2,400,000,000, and for 1931 would be less than $3,380,000,000, compared to an estimate of $2,460,000,000, unless business and stock market conditions improve materially.

Assassination of Hoover Schemed

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 20. (INS)—Police today are investigating what they are inclined to believe was a "stupid hoax" purporting to reveal a plot to assassinate President Hoover, by Mexican plotters.

This was revealed in a dispatch from San Luis Potosi to the newspaper LaPrensa saying police there had arrested one Vicente Aurrecochea, a student, who had in his possession a letter from another student who is now in the United States, revealing the plans of the purported plot against the American president. The letter expressed satisfaction, police said, over the recent attack on President Orth Rubio.

Notwithstanding that they expressed doubt as to the authenticity of the letter, the police began a thorough investigation of Aurrecochea and the circumstances of his having possession of the letter.

The American embassy here was not advised of the incident, but George Price Shaw, American consul at San Luis Potosi was said by police to have transmitted full details to the state department at Washington.

Packing Millionaire's Affairs Aired in Suit

PARIS, Feb. 20. (INS)—The domestic and financial affairs of Nelson Morris, Chicago packing millionaire, and his wife, the former Jane Aubert, Paris music hall star, were aired in the courts here today.

Morris is attempting to have the court reduce the $2,000 a month alimony granted to Mlle. Aubert pending decision of her divorce action.

Through his attorney, Morris submitted evidence tending to prove he had already given her property and cash to the total value of 5,000,000 francs (about $200,000).

The court reserved decision on Morris' application to reduce the alimony.

Terrific Hurricane on Newfoundland Coast

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Feb. 20. (INS)—A terrific hurricane swept the south coast of Newfoundland Sunday wreaking damage estimated at $100,000, it was learned today when communications were restored.

Two steamers, two schooners and a score of fishing boats were driven ashore. Most of the damage was reported from Burgeo, where two houses were smashed by the wind.

Train service has been disrupted for the past four days, the tracks completely covered by ice and snow.

Ganderbay also felt the full effects of the storm and considerable damage was reported. There were no casualties as far as could be learned.

Shipping Board Head Asks to Be Replaced

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—Chairman O'Connor of the shipping board today requested President Hoover to replace him as head of that government agency, but said he would retain his membership on the board.

O'Connor said his health made it necessary for him to be relieved of the chairmanship. He said, however, he felt he could perform the duties of a commissioner if some one else took the chairmanship.

Grand Jury at Alva Called to Convene

ALVA, Okla., Feb. 20. (UP)—On petition of 108 Woods county citizens, District Judge A. G. Sutton today ordered a grand jury convened here Feb. 26.

The purpose of the investigation was not known. Judge Sutton could not be reached for a statement and court attaches refused to comment.

CHIROPRACTOR STUMPS COURT

But Divorce Is Granted Technical Plaintiff

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (AP)—To those who understand the meaning of the words, this may mean something. The one point that seems absolutely clear is that Dr. William Parker, a chiropractor, was granted a divorce yesterday on grounds that his wife's backbone was faultily constructed.

The chiropractor stated his case to Judge Lynch this way:

"That part of the mesoblast near the notchord forming the primitive segments in Mrs. Parker's craniata, was so 'muscle-bound' that she was given to frequent impulses to strike me with missiles of varying proportions.

"On March 30, 1929, it was a rolling pin. On St. Valentine's day it was a hammer.

"Her verebral aponeurosis failed to respond to the touch of my finger tips."

"By which you mean to say—what?" inquired the court.

"That the facia covering the muscles of her back in the thoracic region were not functioning properly, causing her to be irritable and hot-tempered."

"I told her when we separated last May," added the chiropractor, "that she might keep the neurocalometer in lieu of alimony, to which she agreed."

He was given a decree.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help kep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. —Adv.

Social Savants' Tendency to Agree Disrupts Marriage Debate Plans

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (UP)—The Illinois Women's Athletic club, just returning to normalcy after staging a garden of Eden in which the snake took sick and Eve balked at wearing a fig leaf, became entangled tonight in another unfortunate affair.

Members of the club, after hearing Mary Garden discourse upon the business of being beautiful as a means of obtaining a husband, decided to apply to known authorities of divergent opinions for methods of retaining husbands after getting them. The idea was to have them debate before a selected group of club members.

So to Prof. Arthur J. Todd, Northwestern university sociologist, and Dr. Horace J. Bridges, leader of the Chicago Ethical society, the club women sent their plea. Specifically, it said:

"Should divorce be made as easy as marriage?"

Unexpected Answer

The savants pondered the question while the club women waited expectantly. They got their answer tonight, an answer totally unexpected and an answer which they couldn't hush up because someone thoughtfully saw to it newspapers and press associations also got a copy of it.

Professors Todd and Bridges in effect said that in their opinion the club women had their question twisted and it really should have read:

"Should marriage be made as hard as divorce?"

The two authorities agreed that perhaps it should.

"Juggling divorce and marriage around as is the custom today, suggesting making one easier and the other more difficult, is like transferring old tires from back wheels to front wheels, or reversing the process, and expecting 10,000 more miles without a blowout," said Professor Todd.

Sentimentality Rules

"What is needed is the application of modern knowledge and scientific methods of both marriage and divorce if one of the most serious social ills of modern times is to be remedied.

"Sex appeal now is the primary basis of marriage. No wonder the divorce courts are jammed as the result of the silly sentimentality on which present day courtship is conducted and marriage contracted. Intelligence in mating is a sorely needed quantity."

Unfortunately for the plans of Mrs. M. J. Seifert, club chairman, who incidentally is happily married, Doctor Bridges agreed and even went further:

"Marriage is a profession and preparation should be made for it as such. If you train your daughter properly she won't elope with your chauffeur. Divorce is as necessary as a surgical operation sometimes."

What to Do?

Mrs. Seifert, it seems, had planned a debate between the two distinguished critics of social institutions. The debate was to have taken place March 6 and had been almost as widely advertised as the ill-fated garden of Eden which the ingenious club women carried to success despite the snake with a cold in the nose and even with skin she vowed she wouldn't display to the public gaze. Faced with all those difficulties, the club members merely called their garden "a modern" garden of Eden, covered the snake with a blanket, put a dress on Eve and everyone was happy.

Now with the two savants who agree and yet who are scheduled to debate, Mrs. Seifert hasn't quite decided what to do. She intimated, however, she likely would call the debate "a discussion," and maybe if she supplied plenty of tea and cakes for the audience it might turn into a successful event after all.

Barricaded Negro Taken by Police

BALTIMORE, Feb. 20. (AP)—For nearly two hours after he had wounded a police lieutenant, John Loftus, a crazed negro, maintained a barricade in his home here last night besieged by more than a score of police. More than a hundred shots were fired on both sides, while several thousand spectators surged against police lines at either end of the block. Tear gas bombs finally were brought into action, and, weakened by their fumes, the man was captured. Police Lieutenant John W. Robinson was shot by Loftus when the officer attempted to arrest him on a warrant charging him with assault.

Don't Go to Extremes To End Constipation

When bad breath, or a coated tongue, biliousness or headaches warn of constipation, don't take violent purgatives. There's no use when a candy Cascaret will stop the trouble in a jiffy; will cleanse your system pleasantly, and completely.

The relief you get so promptly from Cascarets is lasting. Cascarets are made from cascara a substance which medical authorities agree actually strengthens the bowel muscles.

So Cascarets are a blessing to old folks with weakened bowels; to children; to anyone in need of establishing regular bowel habits. Ten cents a box—all drug stores.—Adv.

WOOL GROWERS HEAR CHARGES

Boston Interests Accused of Opposing Co-ops

SONORA, Texas, Feb. 20. (AP)—Wool growers of the Southwest today were considering a charge made by F. J. Hagenbarth, Spencer, Idaho, president of the National Wool Growers association, that Boston wool buyers were seeking to hamper cooperative wool marketing activities sponsored by the federal farm board.

Hagenbarth, in an address here yesterday to representatives of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association and the Texas Association of Wool and Mohair warehouses, declared that scouts of Boston wool buyers had been attending wool growers cooperative meetings in various parts of the country and sought to hamper activities of the National Wool Marketing association sponsored by the federal farm board, by turning wool growers against it.

Roger Gillis of Del Rio, vice president of the National Wool Marketing association, presided. A committee of six members from the Sheep and Goat Raisers association and the board of directors of the Wool and Mohair Warehouse association, attended.

More than 278,665,000 bronze one-cent pieces were minted during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, in the United States.

MILLIONAIRES WAR ON CRIME

Wealthy Chicagoans Back New Movement

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (US)—Plans for a gigantic drive against crime, with unlimited financial backing, will be presented to the Chicago Association of Commerce tomorrow for its approval.

Details of the program have been worked out by the association's secret vigilante committee, none of whose members are known except the chairman, Col. Robert I. Randolph.

Cost of the campaign is estimated at $1,000,000, but Colonel Randolph said several times this amount would be available if needed.

One ironic phase of the program lies in the plan to divert the tribute heretofore paid by business men to the racketeers into the association's fund for extermination of these same racketeers.

Many of the association's members have been forced to pay regular toll to one or another of the city's organized rackets which are dominating business life. This they simply will stop paying and contribute it to the association's anti-crime fund instead.

Col. Robert I. Randolph, president of the association and chairman of the vigilante committee, said today that war would be made first on the racketeers, labor fakers, extortionists, "trade association" promoters and other business leeches since association members had first-hand knowledge of their operations.

From that starting point the inquiry will be widened to include the activities of such booze, beer and vice organizations as the Capone-Gusick and the Moran gangs, and the connections between these gangs and corrupt officials and politicians.

Three sets of investigators independently will probe every phase of the crime situation thought worthy of study. None will know the identity of the others. This is to provide a check and prevent the association from being "sold out" by its own operatives.

As sufficient evidence is collected it will be turned over for prosecution to the state's attorney's office who will have expert assistants employed at the expense of the association of commerce.

Church Prepares For "Every Member Canvass"

The First Southern Presbyterian church of Wichita Falls will do its part in the "All for the Kingdom," theme in which members of the church are making intensive preparations for the 1930 national "every member canvass."

Through this plan the Presbyterian church plans to raise $15,000,000 for the purpose of carrying on the work of the church. This amount will be budgeted into foreign missions; assembly's home missions; Christian education and ministerial relief; religious education; assembly's training school; Bible cause; for the work of synods and presbyteries; for the work of local churches, including pastors' salaries, church building and other current expenses.

The program for the canvass calls for the cooperation of 17 synods, 92 presbyteries, 3,581 churches, 2,386 ministers, 15,877 elders, 17,579 deacons and a total membership of 453,883.

The third Sunday in March is set aside, according to Dr. Gaines B. Hall for the day when local members will be canvassed for the amount they will give which will be budgeted into the different departments.

Venire of 150 Drawn For Trial of Hoobler

The names of 150 special veniremen for the second trial of D. J. Hoobler, charged with the murder of Arthur Pendergraft, were drawn in the 89th district court here Thursday morning. The trial is set for March 10, and attorneys have indicated that both sides will be ready.

Hoobler was sentenced to death at the end of his first trial here last March. The verdict was reversed and the case remanded by the court of criminal appeals at Austin several weaks ago. The defendant is charged with having shot his former employer, a wealthy farmer of Cotton county, Okla., several miles out on the Henrietta road in January, 1929. Hoobler claimed that he shot in self-defense.

'Beats Anything I Ever Heard of,' Declares Rayborn

"There's No Doubt About It, Orgatone Is Best Medicine Going," Says Sweetwater Locomotive Engineer

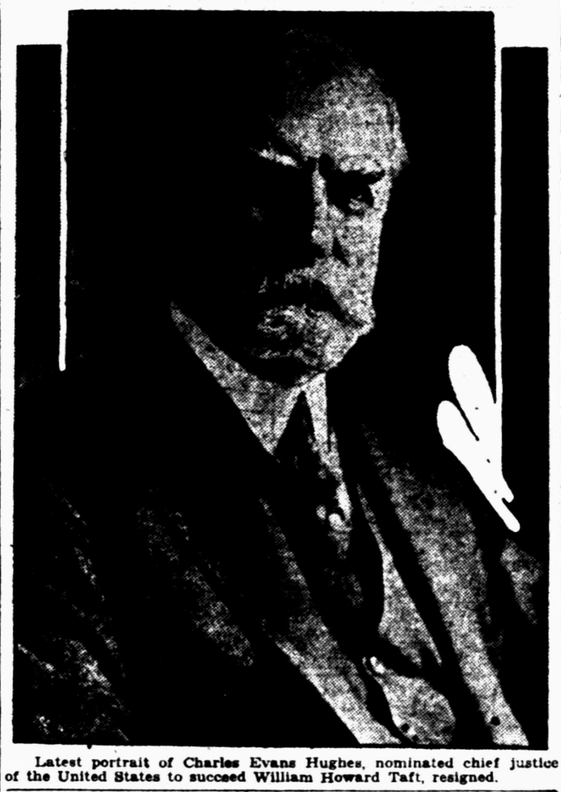

"When it comes to getting rid of bad stomach and liver trouble, Orgatone beats anything I ever heard of," said Esber F. Rayborn, who lives at 706½ East Broadway, Sweetwater, Texas, and is a well known locomotive engineer.

"If there is anything that will make life miserable for a fellow," he continued, "it is a real bad case of stomach trouble. More than ten months ago my stomach went back on me and I have had a highly tough time of it ever since. I lost my appetite to start with, and could hardly eat enough to keep my strength up so I really dreaded the meal time to come around for what little I did eat would sour as soon as I ate and the gas would form and would cause awful pains in the pit of my stomach. I had occasional headaches which I think was from billousness and was constipated most all the time.

"I had heard much about Orgatone and the good it seemed to be doing so many people, so I decided to try it and see if it would do as much for me. Well, sir, I honestly feel like a brand new man today and I have taken Orgatone only a very short while. I am hungry all the time now, and eat three big meals a day and I never suffer from it one bit and I note from that, my stomach is in good condition. In fact I am feeling better in every way than I have felt in a long time. There is no doubt about it—Orgatone is the best medicine going and I am glad to recommend it to everybody."

Four Held On Peonage Charge

tion. They lived on the farm occupied by Cobb and worked for him. I issued a warrant on the complaint and so I'm charged with peonage. I am 59 years old, have served 10 years as justice of the peace and never before in my life has my name been entered in any court as a defendant."

Parker said he owned a half interest in a farm of 108 acres, but works a good deal of the time as constable in Shepherd's court. "I served the warrant on the negro, and that's all I did or know," he asserted. He has lived in Leon county practically all his life and is 44 years old.

Cobb is a tenant farmer, 48 years old and has lived for 15 years in Leon county. The negroes over whom the trouble started worked for him, he said.

Jamison has been city marshal of Normangee for the past eight years, and is 62 years old. "I have no idea how they got me into this," he said.

The charge alleged that Lee Wooley, a tenant on Cobb's farm, having failed to make a crop, came to Waco to seek employment leaving his wife on the Cobb farm, and that the accused men were involved in the filing of a desertion charge against Wooley, on the strength of which he was brought back to Normangee in an attempt to make him work out a debt.

Fish With Horns Found In Underground Stream

ALPINE, Texas, Feb. 20. (AP)—Blind fish with horns on their heads for boring in the mud have been reported discovered in an underground stream 12 feet below the surface in Presidio county southwest of here.

The find was made by a concrete crew engaged in placing cement work for the extension of the Santa Fe railroad from Alpine to Presidio. J. P. Swazell, superintendent of the work, said he found strange creatures while his men were excavating for concrete bridge piers on the second crossing of Alameda creek south of Alpine. Though the fish had eyes, they could not see, and when molested, tried to escape by boring frantically into the mud at the bottom of the underground stream. They were only three inches long.

Cyanamid Head Given Warning

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—How he had advised W. B. Bell, president of the American Cyanamid company, to stay away from Washington lest he be called before the senate lobby committee was related to that committee today by Chester H. Gray, the representative here of the American Farm Bureau federation.

The lobby inquisitors of late have been examining efforts to influence the congressional course of Muscle Shoals legislation. The cyanamid company for years has had a proposal up to lease the war-time project in Alabama.

Gray also said he had suggested to Bell that he appear before the house military affairs committee to testify concerning the company's Muscle Shoals proposal, which is advocated by the farm organization.

The committee has announced that Bell will be called before the Muscle Shoals investigation is completed. The examination of Gray will be resumed tomorrow.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

"Marie, How Do You Keep Your Skin so Lovely?"

"THATS easy. I just use Resinol Soap as my regular toilet soap every day, and if I have a pimple or any suggestion of a rash or roughness, I put on a little Resinol Ointment and it clears it right up."

Many women whose complexions you admire are using just this treatment. They find that Resinol Soap not only helps to overcome pimples, blackheads, oiliness, etc., but its daily use tends to prevent those conditions. Its clean tonic odor is delightful and its action is so gentle it is agreeable to the most sensitive skins.

They use Resinol Ointment too because it so quickly heals those minor skin irritations which everyone has sometimes, and they find it a soothing dressing for burns, sore corns, chafing, blisters, etc. At all druggists.

FLIERS' BODIES TO COME HOME

Soviet Airman to Carry Remains to Nanuk

By JOE CROSSON
(Member Aviation Corporation's Eielson Relief Expedition)
(Copyt., 1930, by Universal Service, Inc., and The Toronto Star)

MOTORSHIP NANUK, NORTH Cape, Siberia, Via Point Barrow, Alaska, Feb. 20.—Our long, long, grim search is ended at last.

The body of Carl Ben Eielson was found Tuesday by the Russian searchers. It had been thrown clear of his plane at least 200 feet and 150 feet from where we found the body of his mechanic, Earl Borland, last week.

Although the body was found Tuesday, the Russian plane that was to have brought the news to the Nanuk was unable to fly because of lack of gasoline. Pilot Harold Gillam, also at the wreck scene, could not take off on account of engine trouble and Gillam finally got away today, bringing with him Commander Slipneov, representing the Soviet government here, who has been untiring in his aid to the searching parties.

Commander Slipneov will return at once to the wreck scene in his Junker's plane with more gasoline and he will bring the bodies of the two aviators to the Nanuk.

I can not say too much in praise of the Soviet representatives who have been of such great help to us. We are forever in their debt.

Women Winners At Baccarat Throw Fortune to Crowds

NICE, France, Feb. 20. (UP)—Shouting crowds scrambled in the streets today for a small fortune slung to them from hotel windows by an American and English woman who had won heavily at baccarat and were seized with a sudden irresistible impulse to scatter thousands of dollars to the wind.

The women were Mrs. Philip T. Farling of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Robert G. Hardy of Nottingham, Eng. Mrs. Farling won 400,000 francs (nearly $16,000), and Mrs. Hardy, 200,000 francs, playing baccarat at a 2,000 franc limit.

Their hotels are in different parts of the city, yet they were taken with the same idea at the same time, and opened their windows to fling their thousands in paper money to milling, fighting crowds below.

The colored thousand-franc notes fluttered in the sunlight and brought great crowds under the windows. They struggled and fought for the money.

Daniel Barron, teacher of the class, will follow Mr. Martin, drawing such conclusions as to the effect of the sport on a nation's well being. Coolidge Views Bottom of Ocean

AVALON, Catalina Island, Calif., Feb. 20. (UP)—Calvin Coolidge, fisherman, went out in a glass-bottomed boat today and got a glimpse of the home life of the fish he delights in catching.

Accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge, the former president of the United States came here from the mainland shortly before noon as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Wrigley Jr.

Only a few people were waiting at the dock when they arrived.

A short time later, the Coolidges went for their trip over the submarine gardens. Mr. Coolidge seemed intensely interested in the view through the bottom of the boat, both he and Mrs. Coolidge expressing amazement at what they saw.

After returning from the boat trip, the party went to the beautiful Wrigley summer home. The Coolidges probably will return to Los Angeles tomorrow.

CAVERN PARTY AT ROSWELL

Carlsbad Explorers Near Scene of Work

ROSWELL, N. M., Feb. 20. (AP)—Equipped with balloons, rubber boats, radio and much scientific apparatus which will be used in exploring the giant underground caverns at Carlsbad, N. M., the Frank Ernest Nicholson party of 11 persons arrived here today from New York.

The party, headed by Nicholson, will establish a base inside the cave for exploring uncharted recesses of the caverns.

"We may be sure of one thing, at least," Nicholson said, "we are going where no man has gone before. We are expecting to find great and unusual things and I am positive we will not be disappointed."

The collapsible rubber boats will be used in exploring an underground river which Mr. Nicholson believes will carry them to the second entrance of the caverns, if such a place really exists. The balloons will be used in lowering men from precipitious cliffs a thousand feet underground to determine what lies at the bottom.

Also the party will carry a short wave radio outfit with which it expects to keep in contact with the outside world.

The Carlsbad caverns are owned by the United States government.

The Nicholson exploration party, which outfitted here, will furnish news articles to The Record News through the New York Times, during the stay at Carlsbad cavern.

Negro Caught in Dice Tourney Swallows Evidence

When police officers walked up on a group of negroes shooting dice Thursday, one of the dark lads was noticed swallowing as though his heart had leaped up in his throat and he was attempting to get it down again.

Officers said there was about 15 cents in the pot when they surprised the group. It did not occur to them to wonder where the dice had gone until the heavily swallowing negro turned to one of the others and said:

"Boy, ah'm gonna get me some of those little craps. This makes the fo'th pair of these big 'uns ah's had to swallow."

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Is Your Daughter Well and Strong?

There are three trying periods in a woman's life, when the girl matures to womanhood; when a woman gives birth to her first child; when a woman reaches middle age. At these times Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps to restore normal health and vigor. Thousands testify to its worth.

Daughter of Mrs. F. Butcher, R. No. 2, Gridley, Kansas

"My thirteen year old daughter Maxine was troubled with backache and pain when she came into womanhood. I knew Lydia E. Now she does not have to stay home from school, and her color is good, she eats well and does not complain of being tired."—Mrs. Floyd Butcher.

Daughter of Mrs. J. Bartholdi, Thompson's Addition, The Dalles, Oregon

"My daughter Magdalen did not seem to develop as she should. At times she had no pep at all and couldn't get her school work very easily. For four years we doctored her, off and on. Then a friend told us about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I got a bottle for Magdalen. Her nerves are quieting, her general health is better and she is now as normal as other girls. I really think the Compound helped her more than all the other medicine I gave her."—Mrs. J. Bartholdi.

Do you Offend? Probably

The only one who doesn't realize that he or she has halitosis (unpleasant breath) is the victim. Social ostracism follows. Don't fool yourself that you are always free of halitosis. That is folly. Surveys show 1 person out of 3 is a victim—due to the fact that the mouth is the constant scene of germ activities, come of which result in bad breath.

Don't take a chance

Keep yourself ever free of halitosis by the systematic and frequent use of full strength Listerine as a mouth wash.

The Treatment of Infantile Paralysis

The spinal cord is really an extension of the brain, and the brain or cord cannot withstand for very long an inflammatory process or it will become weakened and scarred by the ordeal. The difficulty is that the brain or nerve tissue once destroyed does not reproduce itself, but other nerve centers must be trained to take over the functions of the dead centers, and this is naturally a slow, tedious trial in some cases. It is principally a matter of re-educating the muscles and nerves which can be done by passive exercising and taking different kinds of electrical treatments.

The exercising given should be of slow controlled movements. For example, if the arm is affected, the child should be taught to play checkers with the hands. It is a good training simply to move the checkers about on the board, trying to place them from one spot to another, starting and stopping the movement until accuracy is developed. The leg muscles may be exercised in a similar manner, that is the affected foot can be moved about to touch various places on the floor which have been marked with chalk. The physician should make a special effort to find out exactly which muscles are affected, so that these may receive most of the attention in exercising. At first the child may not be able to move the muscles without help, and the limbs should be moved for him, but he should nevertheless be taught to concentrate and make an effort to move in the same direction as the movement.

It is usually a good plan to precede the exercising with hot applications or massage of the muscles to stimulate the circulation. It is also a good plan for the parent to obtain the services of a physician who understands electrotherapy and can treat the affected muscles and nerves with the use of the sinusodial and galvanic currents. It will be up to the parent, however, to do most of the actual exercising and muscle training of the child as no one else would probably have enough interest, patience, and be able to secure the confidence of the child.

The United States government has prepared a pamphlet in the treatment of infantile paralysis which outlines a very complete set of exercises which may be taken and taught to the child. I would advise every parent of one suffering from this affliction to write to the United States Health Service, Washington, D. C., and obtain the pamphlet on "Muscle Training in the Treatment of Infantile Paralysis." It is called Reprint No. 1197.

It is usually best not to begin the exercises too soon, but to wait until the patient's limbs can be moved without pain. This is usually about three weeks after the initial attack. If the exercises are begun too soon, the maximum recovery may be retarded. Since the muscles are so weak, it is also a good plan during and immediately after an acute attack to arrange the blankets so that no weight falls on the limbs, and to support the feet with pillows or sandbags at the side so that they will be approximately in the proper position. Otherwise, a top drop or toeing out, or sagging shoulder, etc., may result. The patient should not be permitted to walk too early, at least not until all of the soreness has disappeared. Be persistent in the exercises long enough to fatigue the patient. The exercises cannot be left to the patient, alone, as usually stimulation of speech and encouragement are necessary because of the patient's weakened condition.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Sore Lip

Question—P. R. writes: "I am a man 40 years old and for two months I have had a sore smaller than a match head on the inside of my lower lip, caused from occasionally biting there. It seems to have a hard grisly-like center and keeps filling and breaking, with a clear sticky fluid."

Answer—It is impossible to diagnose a sore such as you describe without making a careful examination, including a microscopic examination and blood test. Get an opinion from your doctor, then write me again, and I will be glad to give you whatever suggestions I can.

Trembling

Question—Mrs. O. W. asks: "Will you please tell me what causes internal trembling of the nerves?"

Answer—The trembling you write of is usually produced by the pressure from excessive gas on the solar plexus or other sympathetic nerves in the abdomen.

Goiter

Question—A. V. K. asks: "In the case of a girl having exophthalmic goiter and having been successfully operated on and the metabolism having gone down to normal, if her heart is still very fast, should she ever marry?"

Answer—I see no objection to this girl marrying if she will only put herself in good condition through dieting properly to prevent a recurrence of the thyroid trouble. An operation cannot be depended upon for a permanent cure.

Eastep Hearing Set Saturday

DURANT, Okla., Feb. 20. (UP)—Judge Porter Newman Saturday will hear arguments for a motion for severance of trial from A. J. Eastep filed today by Mrs. Ila Hughes charged with murder in the death of her husband, Will Hughes.

The trial of Eastep will open Wednesday, Feb. 26, at Tishomingo. The case was taken to Johnston county on a change of venue order.

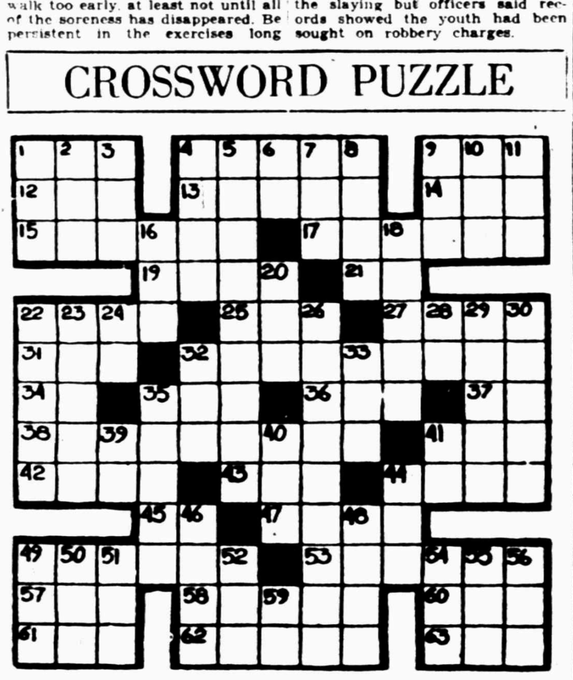

Attorneys said that Mrs. Hughes probably would be tried in Bryan county because she refused a change of venue. She will appear as a witness against Eastep, attorneys said.

Gangsters Blamed for Kansas City Murder

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 20. (UP)—A rattle of gunfire awakened residents in northeast Kansas City early today and they peered from windows to see a lifeless form on a sidewalk and a motorcar speeding away.

The murdered man, identified as Roy Moore, 28, was killed, police believed, as a result of gang activities. Questioning of Moore's relatives failed to reveal a motive for the slaying but officers said records showed the youth had been sought on robbery charges.

DISTRICT BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT OPENS HERE TODAY

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

What a pity, what a pity, indeed, that more baseball players don't have the ability of self-salesmanship as it is seen in the person of Arthur The Great Shires.

It is a pity, a great pity, indeed, that so many players who have abilities that sooner or later could be downright astronomical are kept in the mire of monotony solely through timidity.

Take the case of one Gordon Nell, a performer who hails from the region around Tipton, Okla. Gordon is right now in what is called among the initiated, a pickle. Two summers ago he was signed by the Pensacola, Fla., team, and was ordered to report last spring. Well, after he got off and thought it over, he decided that Florida was too far away from that nice old Oklahoma farm he was so used to, and so he just didn't show up last year when the season's training started. Instead he barnstormed over several Oklahoma towns, among them Mangum and Hollis, and got a great kick out of playing with those teams. But he got very little money, whereas he could have been drawing down a fairly good salary had he pulled up stakes and gone to Florida. And another and a greater disadvantage was that he was placed on the suspended list by Pensacola for failure to report for training.

Now in his playing in the Oklahoma towns, Nell showed himself to be a real first baseman, and, moreover, a natural born slugger. He could swat the hosshide with vigor. Eventually he came to the notice of the Spudder powers, and they took one look at him and decided he was quite the stuff.

Well, now there is where the process of getting into a pickle started. Nell wanted to go to Abilene, as the Spudders asked him to. But, being on the suspended list in Florida, he could not be signed up with the Spudder farm, at least under his right name. So Nell just changed his name. He changed it to Bell. And he journeyed out west and finished the season last year in splendid form, his long, loose swing with the bat pleasing his owners immensely.

But things couldn't go on like that forever. Eventually it got out that the alleged Bell wasn't Bell. And that brings the story up to the present. Now Nell, alias Bell, wants to get back into organized baseball. And he is prevented by the fact that he is on the Pensacola suspended list.

Well, Mr. B. Q. Nell, father of Nell, alias Bell, journeyed to Wichita Falls Thursday and laid the problem before President J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas league. Now President Gardner looks on such cases as this one just like Manager W. Carl Williams does. He saw the situation as one involving a young, timid, farm boy, possessed with unique baseball ability, but just lacking in ability to put himself over. In other words, the youngster lacked everything that The Great Shires has, or says he has. President Gardner listened to Mr. Nell's story and in a jiffy had this suggestion to make, to-wit, that timid young Nell, alias Bell, ought to be put in the care of Manager Williams for a while, because Manager Carl is a man that understands human nature to the nth degree, and can instill confidence where there is none.

Of course that was just a suggestion. What Mr. Gardner did was to write a letter to J. H. Farrell, secretary of the National Association of Baseball Leagues, and place the case before him. Then he advised Nell, alias Bell, through his father to wire Pensacola and make an effort to obtain his release. That accomplished, he can play anywhere.

If Nell ever does get straightened out, he's going to be a handsome addition to some baseball club, in the opinion of Mr. Gardner. He is only 23, and though he lacks mastery of the intricate duties of a first baseman, he has the inborn knack of a ball player, the president said. In addition, how he can hit!

Speaking of timidity and other delicate qualities in some ball players, Mr. Gardner recalled one player whom he sent far, far away from his home some time ago. The poor fellow just broke down and cried when informed that he had to go, the prexy said. Alas, this cruel, cruel world!

The element of modesty also was revealed in the Wichita Falls baseball atmosphere Thursday. For as the whole town was positively a-tiptoe for news of the Spudder players, when they will arrive, what they look like, how they feel towards the coming season—when, in fact, the old burg was just palpitating for something to talk about, it was learned that Hal Wiltse was in town, and had been here since Wednesday. Now is that the proper way to treat the fans? Even Prexy Huff didn't know the first player of the season to report had arrived until Thursday morning, when Hal tripped into his office.

Of course, if Hal had been Arthur The Great, he would have had the newspapers all ribbed up for his arrival, and wouldn't even have deigned to enter the city without an escort of cameramen and scribes.

But Hal had something to think of other than publicity, to-wit, a charming bride of a few months. The couple journeyed hither by car from Hal's home in Clay City, Ill.

Cawthorn Has High Hopes for Matadors

DALLAS, Feb. 20. (AP)—Hope that he would be able to boost the Texas Technological college Matadors to a point where they could compete with Southwestern conference teams was expressed here today by Pete Cawthorn, new athletic director and head coach at Texas Tech. He said he had reached agreement with President P. W. Horn in accepting the position offered him last month by the Texas Tech board of trustees.

He announced he would take up his new duties in April and immediately would begin holding spring football training for a period four weeks or more.

FAVORITES TO CLASH FIRST

Olney-Nocona Bout to Open Two-Day Meet

With the two favorites, the Olney Cubs, defending district champions, and the Nocona Indians matched in the opening game, the annual interscholastic league gasket ball elimination tournament for district No. 4 will get under way Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock on the Junior college court.

Nine county champions and the Wichita Falls High school team will participate in the tournament. The semi-finals will be played Friday evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock, and the finals will be played at the same hour Saturday evening.

VOLLEY BALL TOURNEY

High school girls will hold their annual district volley ball tournament at the Junior college Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, it was announced.

Teams from Iowa Park, Holliday, Throckmorton and Wichita Falls will compete for the championship. The Wichita Falls is composed of the following: Evelyn Chastain, Anna Lee Cherry, Glenn Carbell, Zoe Beth Duncan, Wynona Gregg, Buena Vista Mann, Irene Morton, Edna Myers, Lela Porter, Sybil Walker, Jessie Warren, Mary Coffman, and Grace Williams.

TO DISMISS CLASSES

The Wichita Falls High school and Junior college student bodies will be dismissed from classes at 2:20 o'clock Friday afternoon in order that students may attend the Coyote game at 2:30 o'clock. The Coyotes at that hour will meet the winner of the Olney-Nocona game.

Nocona Indians, who this year built up an enviable record. The teams will clash in the opening round Friday morning, through a queer result of the drawings.

Immediately after the first game the Harrold High school Hornets scrap it out with Holliday for the right to enter the second round. Both teams appear equally strong on paper. The Holliday five, champs of Archer county, went to the finals in last year's meet and have practically the same team this year, so the Wilbarger county entry will encounter a fighting aggregation.

Third Game at 12:20

The Spring Creek team, winners of Throckmorton county, is booked with Bellevue High as opponents in the third game of the day, starting at 12:20. Not much is known of the Throckmorton entry, but the Clay county champs had a hard fight for the right to enter the district meet and are not favored to advance very far in the eliminations.

The fourth game is scheduled between Seymour, Baylor county representatives, and Jacksboro, Jack county champions. Jacksboro enters the series for the fourth time in four years and looms as one of the strongest teams in the running. The Jack county lads always have a fighting team and this year is expected to vary little from their showing in the past.

The fifth game promises to be the most interesting to Wichita Falls basket ball enthusiasts. The Coyotes will meet the winner of the Nocona-Olney clash at 2:30. The Coyotes have been conceded little chance to defeat the winner of game number one, but Coach Barry Holton's charges are out to win and it will take full steam on the part of Olney or Nocona to beat out the less favored Pack. Only a fair showing has been made by the red and black aggregation this year.

Wichita Champs Play

Starting at 3:40 the winner of game number two will clash with the Wichita county representatives, the Clara High Greyhounds, in the first game for the latter team. Wichita Falls and Clara drawing byes through the first round, Clara High displayed real basket ball in winning the Wichita county cup and may defeat the winner of the Holliday-Harrold battle. If Bellevue defeats Spring Creek, they will find a tough foe in the winner of the fifth game between Wichita Falls and the winner of the Nocona-Olney scrap. In the other semi-final game either Seymour or Jacksboro will fight it out with the winner of the Clara and Harrold-Holliday melee for the right to enter the finals.

The semi-finals are scheduled to start at 7:30 Friday night. Saturday night at 7:30 the winners of game numbers 7 and 8 will fight it out for the district championship.

Knight to Referee

Eugene Knight, assistant coach of Southern Methodist university, will referee all of the games, according to B. D. Dinsmore, athletic director of this district. Knight refereed games in the district meet here last year and his work has been of the highest standard of fairness and accuracy. The visiting teams will be assigned dressing rooms in the school building and the Junior college cafeteria will be available to all visitors. Pregame warm-up practice may be had in the back gym while the games are being played in the front gym.

Team Wins in Extra Chukker at San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 20. (AP)—Battling against a nine-goal handicap, Wichita Falls was forced to an extra chukker to score its first victory as defending champion in the present polo tournament by defeating Milwaukee, 11 to 10, in the Southwestern circuit cup series on Brackenridge park field Thursday afternoon.

Wichita Falls carried a handicap of 13 goals, three by Jack Lapham, two by Horrace Robbins, six by Captain Wilkinson and two by C. H. Featherston, while Milwaukee was handicapped four goals, one by Captain Zeev Lawhon and three by Captain Craig, who scored the only goal, which was in the second chukker.

Lieutenant Aloe, playing No. 4 for Milwaukee, was strong on the defensive and prevented Wichita Falls from scoring in numerous instances.

Leading Porkers Meet Texas Aggies In Two Skirmishes This Week-End

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Feb. 20.—Approaching his goal—a gasket ball championship in his first year at Arkansas university—Coach Charles "Chuck" Bassett will lead his lank Razorbacks into College Station this week-end for a pair of bouts with the same boys he was tutoring this time a year ago.

GAYLE TALBOT, JR.

The Texas Aggies, reports say, are "laying" for their former coach and his gang of sharpshooters. They would like to prove Friday and Saturday night that he drilled them last year not wisely but too well. The knowledge that they have an opportunity to knock the Porkers out of their fifth straight Southwest conference tiara should put vim and vinegar into their play.

While the Aggies are trying to improve an indifferent season by stopping the Porkers, Texas university likely will stay just a step behind the leaders by trimming the Texas Christian Horned Frogs Saturday night at Austin. All the Longhorns can do is plug along, winning their games as they come to them and hoping somebody will trip the Razorbacks. As they handed the Frogs a 35-21 licking two weeks ago, there is no good reason to doubt the Steers will do it again.

Baylor and Southern Methodist, with nothing in particular at stake, round out the week's warfare in a skirmish here Saturday night.

Owls in Offing

If the Razorbacks pass safely through the barrage awaiting them the next five nights they will be deserving of the championship, even if they did get some help from the Mustangs in beating off the Texas threat. After tackling the Aggies Friday and Saturday, Bassett's loopers hop over to Houston for a brace of battles with the Rice Owls Monday and Tuesday.

All they need do to grab the title is win all four, but it promises to be a stiff assignment even for an Arkansas team. They will be playing on a strange court and against two rivals that are primed to the last notch. Also, there will be the mental strain of knowing they must win every game.

Captain Keeton and Hoke are the mainsprings of the Aggie five that will endeavor to upset the champs the next two nights.

Conference standing:

MAULER HINTS HE'LL RETURN

Former Champ Replies to N. B. A. Query

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 20. (UP)—Jack Dempsey, boxing promoter, business man and former world's heavyweight champion, today announced his answer to the National Boxing association's query as to whether he will re-enter the ring.

"I prefer to remain in retirement, but I might fight under certain conditions," he said.

"The first thing to arouse my enthusiasm would be the threat of a foreign heavyweight champion," he declared.

"Secondly, I must convince myself that I can still fight. I have been out of the ring since the bout with Tunney in 1927, and only a rigorous training campaign would answer that question.

"Again I will never fight unless the public wants me to."

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Feb. 20. (AP)—Although he has not yet said whether the contract offered him was satisfactory, there is proof that Art Shires has been in touch with the Chicago White Sox office by telephone. Abundant proof.

Yesterday he placed a call and was connected with the Chicago operator.

This is Shires and I want to speak to the White Sox office," said the modest first sacker.

"Who?" asked the operator.

"Shires," this time a trifle impatiently.

"Who's Shires?" the operator wanted to know.

"Who's Calvin Coolidge?" shot back the impetuous Art.

Former Brooklyn Star To Coach This Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (UP)—Ivy Olson, Brooklyn shortstop from 1915 to 1924, will return to the Dodgers this season as coach. Olson was the star and sparkplug of Brooklyn's 1920 pennant winning team, but never was popular with the fans. He was reputed to wear cotton in his ears to deafen the hisses of the grand stand "jockeys" who delighted in razzing him.

MILK PLANT TO OPEN SOON

Condensing Operations to Start by March 1

Continued increase in milk deliveries from Wichita and surrounding counties promises the opening of the milk condensing and powdering plant of the Southwest Dairy Products company within the next few days, according to information given The Record News Thursday.

Installation of machinery for the manufacture of condensed and powdered milk in the building formerly used by the Kraft Cheese company was completed several weeks ago. Production and delivery of milk was so materially curtailed by the continued frigid and stormy weather during the month of January that opening of the new plant was postponed.

Three new routes will begin delivery of milk here at the first of next week, it was said, from Montague, Clay and Wilbarger counties. The Clay county route will be from the neighborhood of Buffalo Springs. It was said that these three carriers will bring in approximately 4,500 pounds of milk daily, of which about 15,000 pounds will be diverted into the manufacturing processes at the condensing and powdering plant. With the addition of the supply expected within the next few days from the Bowie, Buffalo Springs, and Vernon communities, it was pointed out, inauguration of condensing will probably take place by March 1, or before.

Slight decline in production during the past week in comparison with the unusually heavy yield, for this season, during the preceding two weeks was attributed by dairymen indirectly to the heavy weather of January. Many dairy herds were shut in closely during the cold, it was said, with very little drinking water available over a long period. After being turned out, with warmer weather prevailing, many of these cows drank water abnormally for a considerable period, according to the reports given, with the result that the flow of milk was unseasonably heavy. That the cattle had used much more than the usual amount of water in recovering from the cold-weather drouth was indicated by unvarying low butter-fat percentage in practically all milk handled between Feb. 1 and Feb. 15, it was said. With the consumption of water again becoming normal several days ago, buyers stated, the production of milk dropped back slightly to the season's usual standard.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 20. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Hog trade around the 11 market circuit today was slow at prices unevenly steady to 25c lower. The chief depressing influence was a narrowing in the demand for fresh pork due to the relatively high temperatures prevailing at many of the consuming centers. St. Louis had a top of $11.25 on light weight butchers. Offerings 95,600, a decrease of 20,500 from a week ago and 15,500 short of the corresponding day last year.

Fat lambs weak to unevenly lower. Aged stock held steady with slight strength developing at some points. Chicago scored $11.60 to $11.85 on choice light weight lambs. The supply approximated 50,500 against 53,878 last Thursday and 31,102 a year ago.

Receipts of cattle 23,400, slightly under a week ago and 3,000 less than a year ago. Killing classes of cattle met a slow demand at values unevenly steady to 25c lower. Best light weight steers in Chicago $14.50 while $14.40 was obtained for weighty beeves.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (AP)—Cotton was nervous and irregular today but early declines influenced by relatively easy Liverpool cables and keaness in wheat were followed by rallies on trade buying and covering. May contracts sold up from 15.44 to 15.67 or 11 points above yesterday's closing quotations but reacted partially under realizing in the last few minutes and closed at 15.58. The general market closed barely steady at net advances of 1 to 6 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 3 to 9 points with active months showing net losses of 7 to 12 points during the first few minutes under liquidation and scattered selling. The latter included some pressure from the South, apparently, while there was also Liverpool selling here and a good deal of March liquidation.

Cotton was less importantly influenced by weakness in the wheat market than recently and there was quite a flurry of covering in the last hour which sent the price of March up to 15.40 and October to 16.04 or 11 to 14 points net higher. This was checked by realizing and increased near-month liquidation in the last few minutes and the market at the close showed reactions of 7 to 11 points from the best.

Liquidation of March contracts continued and a good deal of switching was reported from near to late months in preparation of the probability of notices next Tuesday. The closing quotations for March was 30 points under May and 66 points under October compared with differences of 28 and 62 points at the close of the previous day.

Liverpool cables reported local, continental and Bombay liquidation absorbed by covering and trade calling in that market.

Port receipts today 4,568. U. S. port stocks 2,333,035. Exports 10,580, making 5,304,766 so far this season.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 20. (AP)—Cotton continued nervous and erratic today, any disposition to trade being checked by the impending holiday and the fact that Monday will be first notice day for March deliveries.

The close was at a small net gain. May, after trading down to 15.21, rallied to 15.50 and closed at 15.39, or 8 points net higher. The general market closed steady at net advances of 8 to 12 points.

Initial transactions showed losses of 3 to 4 points. Prices eased in early trading and March traded off to 14.96, and July to 15.45, or 7 to 10 points below the previous close.

Later shorts covered in advance of the holiday and active positions rallied 12 to 16 points from the lows. In afternoon trading there was covering by western shorts and some demand influenced by the rally in wheat and before the buying was supplied active positions showed recoveries of 24 to 29 points from the lows with March at 15.20 and July at 15.73.

Realizing developed towards the end and final prices were 8 to 12 points from the best. March closing at 15.12, and July 15.61.

Receipts 4,730; for week 56,726; for year 7,640,236, last year 8,376,397. Exports 10,580; for week 88,363; for year 5,177,201; last year 5,900,194. Stocks 2,309,118, last year 2,108,553. Professional Bears Victorious In Bringing About Stock Declines

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (US)—Professional bears finally achieved a victory in the stock market and broke the list wide open at the close today. Commodity prices decline was the one bear factor that was stressed but the real influence to the break was the constant pressure from professionals in the South. Steel lost 3¾, while Radio declined 2, General Electric 2, Consolidated Gas 1⅜, New York Central 7, American Telephone 5, Westinghouse 7¾, Union Carbide 2¾, American Foreign Power 2, Public Service 2½, Canadian Pacific 3, and Vanadium 2 points. Oils and coppers remained irregular under quiet but steady offerings. Call money remained at 4½ per cent throughout. Turnover increased to over 3,600,000 shares.

Further drop in cotton, wheat and other commodity prices was the main topic of conversation again when the bears renewed efforts to depress the market. There is no doubt that the declining tendency of commodity prices is causing worry in some quarters. Heads of leading food companies and organizations refuse to express definite opinion as to reason or probable length of decline. Such refusal usually represents doubt as to the immediate outlook. However, there does not seem to be undue worry in Washington nor in important banking circles. The drop in cotton and wheat is due entirely to big crops. How far it will go depends entirely upon the extent to which the administration will permit and help stabilization measures, especially insofar as cotton is concerned. Drop in wheat is mainly due to bumper crops throughout the world. Thus far the main result of the downward price trend has been to give the bears ammunition with which to stir up unsettlement.

Waves of selling that swept over the list at intervals were credited to Danforth, Livermore and other professional traders now in Florida. They were reported heavily short of Gillette, Simmons, Foreign Power, Fox and others. If attacks at such standard leaders as Steel, Can, etc., proved successful a better covering level would be obtained. Although selling enhanced nervousness of the general speculative community there did not seem to be any undue fear in leading banking circles. Expectation was voiced that the market would continue to show a firm undertone although no great advance was looked for.

Once again there was report of the Consolidated Gas-Brooklyn Union merger negotiations. The story told was that the Mellon interests are definitely decided on a price of $300 a share for their Brooklyn Union holdings, either in cash or the equivalent in Consolidated Gas securities. Inquiry among the Consolidated folks reveals no likelihood of any definite action in the immediate future. Activity in American Telephone was accompanied by splitup talk. Expectation of a four for one exchange is held in most quarters although action thereon seems unlikely right away. There was report that both puts and calls could be purchased on Warner "at the market" for 30 days at regular rates. This would indicate that important interests in the stock expect it to hold to a trading zone for awhile or else that they were willing to take a loss on their options to enhance general interest in the stock's activity.

Increase in brokers' loans was about as expected. In some quarters it is taken as indication of further important increase in public interest in dealings. Except for outright odd-lot buying of good stocks there is little outside interest in dealings. Inquiry of leading odd-lot houses confirms this opinion. With the added facilities for trading, both on the floor and in brokerage offices professional trading now averages close to 3,000,000 shares at least and when the public is in the volume of quick trades by professionals who like to make a "profit a day" increases.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (AP)—Possibilities of wheat at less than a dollar bushel in the United States this season found expression among Chicago wheat traders today.

With the market here overwhelmed by stop-loss selling and showing about 12½c a bushel drop since last week as a result of severe curtailment of transatlantic buying, comparisons were circulated showing that Liverpool wheat prices today were almost the same as on May 31, 1929, and that Chicago May delivery of wheat sold then at 93¼c. Today was the fourth consecutive day that wheat values here collapsed.

Indications of crop damage in connection with present unseasonable weather led to sharp rallies of wheat prices today, but the close here was nervous 1c to 2c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to ¼c higher, with oats varying from ⅛c decline to ⅜@½c advance, and provisions unchanged to 20c down.

It was pointed out today by one of the foremost commission houses in Chicago that Liverpool March wheat today was quoted at $1.11 a bushel and May $1.16, and that on the last day of May in 1929 Liverpool May was quoted around $1.11 with Chicago selling about 17c a bushel lower. The statement was added that if Liverpool and Buenos Aires reflect world appraisal of wheat values, United States prices are not 15c out of line. Assertions were also current here today from a leading British trade authority that European import buying of wheat will again become active until April.

Corn, oats and rye yielded temporarily to influence of wheat market weakness today, and went below any bottom-price levels heretofore reached this season. Subsequently, however, corn developed relative strength owing to signs of a falling-off in the volume of receipts. Notice was also taken of reports that the tariff bill may finally put some increase on the duty against blackstrap molasses, with a view to encouraging larger use of corn in the porduction of alcohol. Oats were swayed by corn.

Provisions averaged lower, sympathizing chiefly with hog market downturns.

NEGRO GIRL HELD

A 15-year-old negro "flapper" who bought one pair of 69-cent silk stockings and couldn't resist pocketing another four pairs, was being held in the juvenile ward of the Wichita county jail Thursday night. The girl was arrested by city police as she left the store and turned over to Juvenile Officer James A. McDonald.

CLASHES MARK RATE HEARING

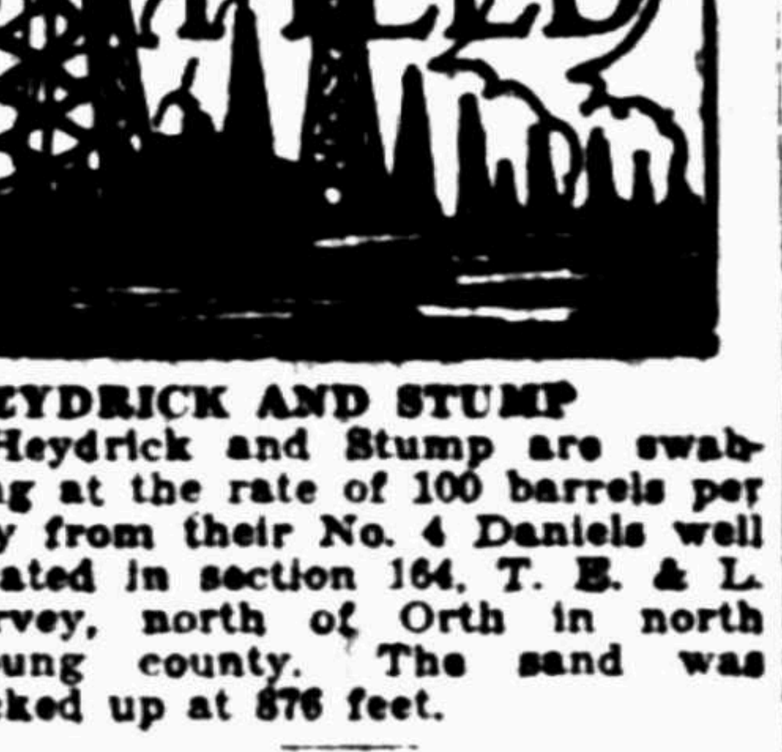

Attorneys Argue Over Admission of Exhibits

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 20. (AP)—Clashes between attorneys as to what exhibits would be placed in the records consumed most of the morning at the differential freight rate hearing today.

Attorneys for the railroads made application to submit a detailed statement of all operating costs on certain lines in West Texas. This was opposed by attorneys for the Texas industrial traffic league, and William A. Disque, examiner for the Interstate Commerce commission, said he would have to get authority from the chief rate examiner before authorizing experts from the two carrier commissions hearing the case to obtain the data.

R. T. Waggener, chief engineer for the Texas & Pacific railroad, was on the witness stand for a short time and identified the annual reports of the company for the years of 1926, 1927 and 1928 which were submitted by attorneys for the shippers.

Waggener testified that the investment cost of the Texas & Pacific was greater between Big Spring and Fort Worth than between Big Spring and El Paso. This evidence was sought by shippers' attorneys as having a bearing on the higher rates charged on the Big Spring-El Paso division.

HEYDRICK AND STUMP
Heydrick and Stump are swabbing at the rate of 100 barrels per day from their No. 4 Daniels well located in section 164, T. E. & L. survey, north of Orth in north Young county. The sand was picked up at 876 feet.

CONSOLIDATED OIL-HARMEL
Drilling 10 feet into a rich oil sand topped at 1439 feet, the Consolidated Oil company No. 1 H. F. Harmel located in the northeast portion of section 2490, T. E. & L. survey, in Archer county is swabbing between 250 to 300 barrels. The well is located some distance southeast of the Shell Petroleum corporation No. 1 Dupriest and is the means of giving the pay sand a nice extension to the southeast.

PRAIRIE OFFICIALS VISIT
O. E. Randolph of Ranger, superintendent of production for Texas, and K. E. Crouse of Roswell, N. M., district agent, both of the Prairie Oil and Gas company, are in the Wichita Falls district.

PANDEM OIL COMPLETION
The Pandem Oil company drilled out the plug from the sand at 1396 to 1406 feet in its No. 3 J. A. Young test located in section 2426, T. E. & L. survey in the Duke pool, southwest Archer county, and is rated between 125 and 150 barrels daily.

SOUTH OF SWASTIKA
Perkins and Cullum No. B-1 Richardson located in block 14, South Anderson ranch sub-division in Archer county, is feeling for the pay and drilling at 1270 feet.

ARCHER COUNTY TEST
W. R. Duke and others No. 1 T. J. Ellers located in the center of their 160 acres out of abstract 883, northeast of the Norday pool in Archer county, is drilling at 1100 feet.

SOUTHEAST OF OLDHAM POOL
Hodges and Wiley No. 1 W. J. Logan located 150 feet south and 150 feet east of the southeast corner of the J. M. Black tract in Allison Arms survey, No. 5, in Archer county, has set and cemented pipe on a good looking oil sand at 1175 feet. The test, a wildcat, is located about one mile southeast of the Oldham pool, a few years ago one of the most active spots in the county, and in the event of a well it will add considerable new land for further development in the adjoining sections.

The Reader's Opinion

The columns of The Record News are open to its readers for the discussion of questions of current interest or import. Letters should be not more than 300 words in length, preferably shorter, and should be signed with the name and address of the writer. Initials, or pen-name, will be substituted upon request. Letters must be free of personal abuse or libel, and the editor reserves the right to reject parts or all of letters.

READER HAS PRAISE FOR PRISON ARTICLE
Editor, The Record News:

I enjoyed reading your unusual contribution, "What's Wrong With the Prisons," and also your implied breadth of editorial view, in acknowledging that someone outside of an alleged moral or ethical organization might have views worth reading.

One of the difficulties of existing law enforcement, or reasons for lack of law observance, is believed by some to be the fanatical ideas of those who seemingly believe all things are cured by acts of a legislature. Since the enactment of the Volstead act, the educational forces, and the religious forces have in part seemingly abandoned issues on merits, and abdicated their former spheres of molding public opinion and teaching as basis of conduct, and are running to legislative halls in increased numbers, oblivious of the probable provable fact, that no law regulatory of human conduct is enforceable or is likely to be observed without more or less breakdown of respect for all law, in a democratic form of government, if enacted into law before public opinion demands it without aid of lobbies. Highpowered salesmanship in established lobbies at legislative halls is about as disastrous waste of private and public funds as anything in social activities. The laws they secure add to chaos and confusion without compensating benefits, and likewise create the laws that help to fill prisons with individuals that you or I would as soon form business partnerships with as some pharazaical deacons we could name in some leading churches.

When the public learns varying views of prison problems as you seek to give, a small part of the thinking few may learn that sales resistance to lobbyists and fanatics, is a social need of the hour as well as the essential requirement for solvency commercially. Following your current series, I suggest that you have written a series showing relation (if any) to respect for law in our fee systems where incentive to arrests and punishment is likely limited to instincts of greed. I have no objection to men taking the consequences of their conduct, nor any sympathy for one getting an overdose of his own medicine, but question the social merit of desire for punishment eminating only from those financially benefitting.

Sincerely yours,
—F. T. SWANSON.

THOSE WHO SECURED TUBERCULOSIS CHARTER
Editor, The Record News:

I observe in the morning Record News an article suggesting that the Wichita County Tuberculosis association had just been granted a charter, and as the article is somewhat inaccurate, and as I am somewhat familiar with the facts as I prepared the charter, I wish to correct this.

No one of the three names referred to as incorporators signed this charter though they are directors of the association. Dr. F. R. Collard, J. N. Sherrill and A. A. Spencer were the names used in procuring the charter. The directors are as follows: Jack Barnard, Dr. J. W. Cantwell, Dr. F. R. Collard, Mrs. C. R. Hartsook, Mrs. O. W. Hines, George D. Fairtrace, O. A. Jones, Dr. Austin F. Leach, Judge John P. Marrs, C. E. McCutchen, J. R. Ogle, W. L. Robertson, J. N. Sherrill, Pat H. Simmons, Dr. C. W. Stevenson, Mrs. R. P. Willis, all of Wichita Falls; A. L. Gregg, Dr. I. D. Russell, Burkburnett; Dr. John F. Burton, Mrs. W. A. Gault, Robert Hall, Mrs. I. K. Williams, all of Electra; Dr. Gordon Clark, and Mrs. Mamie Dale, of Iowa Park.

Yours truly,
—J. R. OGLE.

New Temperance Step Taken in Germany

BERLIN, Feb. 20. (INS)—The economic committee of the Reichstag took another step in the direction of temperance today when it passed a sweeping resolution governing the sale of liquor and tobacco.

The measure would prohibit the sale of "hard liquor" to all persons under 18 years of age, and the sale of all alcoholic beverages as well as tobacco to persons under 16.

Known drunkards would be prohibited from purchasing liquor. The measure threatens severe punishment to saloon-keepers refusing to serve meals to guests unless they order liquor.

Government Station To Check All Broadcasters

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (INS)—An $80,000 "constant frequency monitoring radio station" will be erected at Grand Island, Neb., to provide a government check against all broadcasting stations, under a bill approved today by the senate commerce committee. The federal radio commission recommended the project as a means of checking broadcasting stations and for the conduct of radio experiments.

New Well Added In South City District

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 20. (UP)—Prairie Oil and Gas and T. B. Slick added another big producer in the South City field on the Hiddleston lease today, when the No. 7 Hiddleston blew in.

ZONING GROUP MEETS FRIDAY

Committee to Draft Final Report to Council

Members of the city plan commission created last year by the city government for study and recommendations on zoning of this city will meet at the directors room of the chamber of commerce at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon to prepare a final report for the city council, it was announced Thursday.

Letters which have been sent to members of the commission set out that the fiscal year of the municipal government ends in about five weeks, and that the work of the commission should be completed if possible under the present city administration.

Reports which will enter into the final resume of the commission's activity, it was said, will show that intensive study of the needs for zoning in Wichita Falls was made over a period of several months, and that efforts were made to arouse public interest to the point of bringing about adoption of a zoning plan by the city. According to W. S. Curlee, chairman of the commission, efforts were made to have provision made in the city budget during the past year for a series of skeleton maps on which could be shown various phases of Wichita Falls' ground plan. Such maps, it was said, would provide a basis for outlining a plan for zoning the city for all future building.

Thorough discussion of the matter will be held Friday afternoon, Mr. Curlee said, with a view to obtaining a report on which the city will base some early action relative to the plan. Besides the chairman, the committee consists of Dr. J. W. Cantwell, Mrs. C. R. Hartsook, W. B. Hamilton, John W. Thomas, C. Y. Tully, Harry Naylor, C. E. McCutchen, R. H. Rhine, J. Wilkie Talbert, H. J. Awker, S. A. Covington, J. C. Barnard, B. D. Donnell, Dr. C. W. Stevenson, A. F. Kelly, M. A. Bundy, W. Daniels, G. R. Pate and Julian Montgomery.

Youths Face Charges In Theft of Tools

Roy Pittman and Fay White were charged with theft Thursday afternoon after the recovery of a kit of carpenter's tools taken from the new school building at County Line. The tools and kit were valued at around $100 and the charges were filed by Sam B. Spence in the district attorney's office.

The youthful defendants were arrested Thursday morning in Vernon and brought back to Wichita Falls in the custody of Dick Morris and H. L. White, deputy sheriffs.

The number of stars is estimated to be between 30,000 and 50,000 millions.

MAJESTIC: "Half Way to Heaven," with Buddy Rogers and Jean Arthur. Sports review. Sound shorts.

STRAND: Doug Fairbanks and Mary in "Taming of the Shrew," comedy farce. Mack Sennett all-talking comedy, "Uppercut O'Brien." Sound news.

STATE: "Romance of the Rio Grande," with Warner Baxter, Antonio Moreno and Mary Duncan. Talking shorts. Sound news.

GEM: Tom Tyler in "Idaho Red." Chapter 12 of "Tarzan the Tiger." Fable comedy.

Further development of the adaptation of current literature to the sound screen is seen in the exhibition of "King of the Kongo," the first continued story adopted by the talking pictures, at the State theater weekly, which began on Thursday of this week. The story is by Harry Sinclair Drago, and will be carried on much in the fashion of stories published by instalments in popular magazines. Perusal of the plot and settings might indicate that Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson's African explorations, as revealed in "Simba," have been studied carefully for atmospheric amalgamation with romance for the new production. Diminutive Jacqueline Logan will appear as the heroine for whom Walter Miller will face carnivorous beasts of the jungle.

Looking further down the booking page of local theaters, the interested eye halts at the date of Friday, Feb. 21, where the names of Doug Fairbanks and Mary Pickford announce the opening of their one and only joint production, "The Taming of the Shrew." This modernized version of Shakespeare's famous comedy will play at the Strand. More effect has been spent by Hollywood's model married pair in building raucous comedy than in retaining the flowing beauty of Shakespearean lines.

Other entries on the Strand's menu for the next few weeks include Ramon Novarro's "Devil May Care," Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in "Sunny Side Up," John Boles (of Greenville, Texas) in "Song of the West," and "No, No, Nanette." Following that preparatory course in musical comedy will come the romantic light opera, "Vagabond King," with the inimitable Dennis King.

Between now and April 1, considerable departure from the musical comedy field will be reflected in pictures at the Majestic. Following the Zeigfeld production for Mary Eaton, "Glorifying the American Girl," which opens next Saturday, Dick Arlen will win an automobile race, Harry Green will pictorially define "Kibitzer," and George Arliss will further immortalize his histronic greatness in "Disraeli."

Burns Seeks to Identify Bandits at Amarillo

Chief of Police Frank Burns left Wichita Falls early Thursday for Amarillo, accompanied by Melford McFarland, youthful filling station attendant who was held up last week by two unmasked bandits who robbed his station here. The two will attempt to identify two men arrested in the Panhandle city for a hijacking there.

The same pair arrested in Amarillo are believed to be connected with the theft of an automobile from El Paso and are known to have been in Wichita Falls on the night when young McFarland was held up. The suspects will be brought to Wichita Falls following completion of legal processes on the charge of hijacking facing them in Amarillo, the chief said Thursday morning.

LICENSE FEES TOTAL $134,000

Collector Sends Checks to State and County

Automobile license fees paid into the coffers of the county treasury for 1930 reached $134,000 Thursday when Charles E. Parker, in charge of the automobile department in the collector's office, gave a $34,713 check to T. W. McHam, county treasurer. The payment was the fourth made since the first of the year and brought the account up to Feb. 15, Mr. Parker said.

Wichita county gets all of the first $50,000 paid in license fees, the official explained. That amount was paid into the treasury weeks ago. After the first $50,000, the fees are split equally between the state and the county. Mr. Parker mailed a $35,000 check to the state Thursday, the additional funds having accumulated from transfers and chauffeur's licenses allotted to the state alone.

Burkburnett Concern Granted State Charter

The Kinko Products company of Burkburnett, a merchandising concern, was granted a state charter Thursday by the secretary of state at Austin, according to an Associated Press dispatch. Incorporators of the company, which is capitalized at $50,000, were given as R. W. Kent, G. S. Kent and R. S. Ragsdale.

Motorist Sues Owner of Mule For $9,900 Following Road Collision

Charging that a collision with a stray mule on the Henrietta road wrecked his car and injured both himself and his wife, Ira Miks Thursday afternoon filed suit against D. W. Wiley, owner of the mule, for approximately $9,900 damages.

The petition, filed by E. E. Fisher, local attorney, described an accident on the Henrietta road, where the mule is alleged to have suddenly walked across the road. The plaintiff claims that the animal was at liberty in violation of the Clay county stock laws and that its owner was negligent in leaving it at large.

The petition sets forth various injuries, including $400 damage to the car, $2,000 for disfigurement of Mrs. Miks, $5,000 for injuries suffered by Mr. Miks, the sum of the damages asked reaching around $9,900. The fate of the mule was not indicated.

HELD ON INDICTMENT

22 AUTOISTS FACE CHARGES

County to Press 'Hot Check' Cases

Swindling complaints will be filed next Monday morning against 22 Wichita county automobile owners who paid for their 1930 licenses with hot checks unless the checks are redeemed at the collector's office here before that date. Charles E. Parker, in charge of the automobile division, announced Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Parker mailed final letters of warning to the delinquents Thursday afternoon and is preparing to present the complaints in the office of the county attorney on Monday morning. Several charges have already been brought and will be pushed in the county court-at-law.
