

SAFE AT HOME BASE

Jackie Pendleton of the Little League Dodgers slid in home as Joe Brock, catcher for the Braves, reached out for the ball, Umpire Bob Crawford called it safe. This is typical of the action that is repeated over and over in Little League games at Marian Airpark Ball Park four nights a week, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Sometimes there are double headers. In every game, pint-sized players give big-time thrills. Pictures of two of the teams are on other pages of this issue of The Wellington Leader, and pictures of the remainder of the teams will be shown in future issues. This year, all four communities of the county are involved in kid-baseball, Dodson, Wellington, Quail and Sannorwood.

Wheat Harvest Almost Over With 267,000 Bushels Cut

Collingsworth county's wheat harvest neared its end this week with more than a quarter million bushels harvested — a yield that far exceeded expectations when the first combine rolled into the fields.

Wednesday morning, the five buyers in the county reported a total of 267,000 bushels bought, or the equivalent of approximately 133 cars.

There are two market points in the county, Wellington and Dodson, with some of the wheat in the north part of the county going out of the county to Shamrock.

Elevators and buyers set the overall yield at around 16 bushels per acre. Some cut as low as 7 bushels per acre, but dry land wheat cut up to 20 bushels and there were yields of 30 and 35 bushels and even better in irrigated sections.

The highest yields of the season appear to be in the irrigated area between Dodson and Arlie.

Rains, necessary to the cotton farmer, were hard on the wheat men.

All buyers reported that after the rain, all wheat bought dropped to No. 2, and the weight, 60 and 61 pounds at the beginning of the harvest, dropped to 58 and 59 pounds.

Rain also had a bleaching effect, and much of the latter part of the crop sold as No. 2 yellow.

L. L. Finley, new as a buyer in Dodson this season, shipped a considerable amount of the crop there to Spearman and Gruver to be used as seed wheat next year.

The wheat market here remained unchanged since the opening of harvest, with wheat still bringing $1.82 in Wellington, while at Dodson the price was $1.85. Since this is around 15 cents per bushel above the government loan, after deductions, all of this year's crop has gone on the open market.

While most growers are concerned only with getting this year's crop out, a few, particularly in the southeastern part of the county, are speculating on next year's crop, and most say that barring government action, setting up restrictions, they intend to plant all of the wheat they have the acres for.

Camp Fire Girls to Hold Day Camp June 25 to 28

Wellington Camp Fire Girls will hold their annual Day Camp from Tuesday, June 25 through Friday, June 28 at the traditional camp site, the Willie Smith farm on Buck Creek.

Plans for this year's camp were announced by Mrs. J. B. King.

"This year's camp will be mostly a study of nature collections and observances, and for recreation there will be wading and playing in the out of doors," Mrs. King said.

There will be no crafts sessions, and the fee will be only $1 to cover the cost of insurance and food.

On Wednesday and Friday there will be cook-outs; on the other two days the girls will bring their own sack lunches.

On the first three days, the girls will leave the elementary school each morning by school buses at 7 a.m. and leave the camp at 11, returning to the school.

On Friday, the closing day, the girls will go out at 4 p.m. and their parents will join them at the Council Fire ceremony and supper that evening at 7 p.m.

This year, all leaders are in charge of plans for the camp, and each leader will be responsible for her own group. These include Mmes. Cecil Masten, Floyd Chandler, John Sherman, Jim Cochran, J. B. King, Henry Sullivan, James Sullivan, Ed White, and Harold Watkins.

Clyde Clement, Norwood Farmer, Dies Monday

Clyde Clement, 65, widely-known farmer of the Sannorwood community, died in St. Joseph's Hospital early Monday June 17, three days after suffering a heart attack at his home.

Mr. Clement moved to that area, then Plymouth, with his family in 1917, and had farmed there since then. The family moved from Wilbarger county, where Mr. Clement was born July 23, 1897. He was the son of the late Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Clement.

He was married July 22, 1923, to Miss Alma Bradley at Plymouth.

A man of quiet and retiring nature, Mr. Clement nevertheless had worked in many ways for his community and its improvement.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. at the Sannorwood Baptist Church with the Rev. J. B. North, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Plymouth Cemetery, under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Joe Bailey, Truman Howard Brashear, Vernon Sherman, Luther Thompson, Glen Moody and Wallace Biter.

Surviving Mr. Clement are his wife of the home, and two daughters: Mrs. D. V. Brashears of Amarillo and Mrs. Henry Kimball of Elk City, Okla. There are four grandchildren.

Seven brothers also survive: T. C. Clement of Wellington; Charlie Clement, Houston Clem-

Baptists Plan County Wide Revival in August

A group of Baptist ministers and laymen met Sunday afternoon, June 16, at First Baptist Church to lay final plans for a county-wide Baptist revival crusade in August.

The outdoor revival services will be conducted in the Wellington high school stadium.

The services will be sponsored by the Baptist churches of Collingsworth county. Dr. Winifred Moore, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo will be the evangelist and John McKay of Fort Worth will direct the music. The date set for the crusade is August 4 through 11.

"We feel that the old-fashioned, outdoor revival services still have a great appeal for the people of today and that many may be reached in this way who could not be reached otherwise," Dr. Glenn E. Hickey, general chairman of the crusade, stated.

Members of the crusade steering committee and participating churches, besides Dr. Hickey are C. T. Hubbard, First Baptist church; the Rev. Kenneth Quaid, vice chairman, and Henry Wolf, Faith Baptist Church; the Rev. Verrell Leeper, secretary-treasurer, and Selba Rainey, Lottie Baptist Church; the Rev. Fred Porter, and Herman Moseley, Quail Baptist Church; the Rev. Tillman Rodabaugh and Truett Holland, South Baptist Church, Dodson; the Rev. J. B. North, and E. E. Darrow, Sannorwood Baptist Church. The Lillie Baptist Church will also be participating in the crusade. Several other Baptist churches are expected to participate also.

New Postal Zip Code Effective on July 1

Our five-digit ZIP Code is 79095, Postmaster L. B. Bratten announced today.

"Everyone in Wellington will use this ZIP Code on all their correspondence to speed mail deliveries and reduce the chance of mis-sent mail," Bratten said.

ZIP Code, the post office department's revolutionary new system of improved mail dispatch and delivery, goes into effect nationally on July 1.

The importance of all citizens of Wellington learning this city's ZIP Code and using it in their return address on all correspondence. In answering mail, he said, ZIP Codes taken from return addresses on incoming mail should be used.

"The ZIP Code is literally the last word in mail addressing," Bratten said. "It should FOLLOW the city and state in addresses."

Kiwanis Gives $200 to Youth Ball Program

Members of the Kiwanis Club voted in their Friday meeting to give $200 to the Kid Baseball program in operation this summer, Rufus Sweat, president, reported.

This is part of the money raised by the annual pancake supper earlier in the year, and traditionally all proceeds from this go into youth work.

Kiwanians responded with this donation after they were told the Little League program was badly in need of money and requests for voluntary donations had not brought in enough money.

Following this action, two Wellington pastors who are members, described the vacation Bible school programs under way in their churches. These were Dr. Glenn Hickey of the First Baptist Church, which this year sponsored Bible schools for the colored children; for children of the Spanish Baptist Mission and First Baptist Church; and the Rev. Jack Durham, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene.

Her family, like so many in the two decades that followed the Civil War, found that opportunity lay to the west and they came to Hardeman county.

There she was married to Mr. Lawrence on July 29, 1889. Still later they moved to Roger Mills county, Oklahoma, while it was still largely Indian country, then about 1899, they settled in the Arlie community.

Here Mrs. Lawrence joined other pioneer women of that section who made homes for their families and did much to mold community life.

She became a member of the Church of Christ early in life.

Car Flips on Mangum Hiway

An Olton couple were treated at St. Joseph's Hospital and released following the accident Sunday, June 1, in which their car overturned on the Mangum highway.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Aikman, who were returning home after visiting in Oklahoma.

Police Chief Troy Marsh, who talked with the couple, said the accident occurred about 11:15 a.m. when Aikman came upon cattle being moved by Herbert Bearden. Upon seeing the cattle, Aikman stepped on the brakes, got on a soft shoulder and the car turned upside down.

Bearden brought the couple to town, according to officers. Patrolman Bill Lusk was the investigating officer, assisted by Deputy Kenneth Hodge.

Stock Market Facts for the Week of June 10 thru 14
Dow Jones Industrials: Open 722.41; close 722.03; change, off 0.38; record high 734.91; 1962 low 535.76.

Approximate New York Stock Exchange volume: Latest week 23,000,000 shares; previous week 27,312,755 shares; 1962 weekly average 19,090,385 shares; 1963 weekly average to June 1 21,195,400 shares.

Current Trend of Market: Prices reflect backing and filling trend, a consolidation at near-record levels. General position of market favorable from standpoint of continued rising economy.

Late Business News Highlights

Moody's Stock Survey forecast 1963, second quarter corporate earnings will show a 10% increase over earnings reported in the second quarter of 1962. • Standard and Poor's Corp. said 45 extra dividends were declared by companies during May, compared with 34 in May 1962. The financial service said outlook is for further liberalization of dividend payments as the year progresses. • Railroad freight carloadings rose during the week ended June 8 for the sixth straight time from year-earlier levels. • The Securities and Exchange Commission reported that U.S. citizens put away $7.2 billion into savings accounts during the first quarter of 1963, the highest for any period. • A tightening of bank credit by the Federal Reserve System in recent weeks led to speculation that a discount-rate rise could be effected later in the year. The discount rate is the amount of interest charged member banks for borrowings from the Federal Reserve and currently is 3%. • Retail store sales rose during the week ended June 8 to a bit more than $4.8 billion, up 4% from the 1962 level and 1% from the prior week. • Steel output dropped in the week ended June 8, 3.6% from a week earlier and the sharpest decline of the year. It is believed to be the first of a series of drops to be registered for two months to come. • And new car sales gained 6% in the initial third of June from a year earlier to 172,000 autos. Scheduled production for this week at 173,145 would be the largest output of the year.

PRICES CARVE OUT IRREGULAR PATTERN

The stock market took a breather last week as volume dwindled from the previous week's pace. Prices were clearly mixed on the exchanges and in the over-the-counter market.

Trading on the New York Stock Exchange reflected this in two of its busiest sessions, Monday, when the Dow Jones Industrial Average was off almost 6 points and Wednesday when it gained back almost 5 points.

On Monday 730 stocks advanced, while 327 declined. On Wednesday, in a reversal, 627 rose and 411 dropped. The Dow Jones Industrials wound up off .38 for the week at 722.03. Volume on the Big Board approximated 23 million shares, off from 27.3 million the previous week.

It seemed to be a week of consolidation in the markets. Heaviest action centered in issues where specific news stimulated buying and selling. Tobaccos, for instance, were topped early in the week by continued adverse publicity from health organizations, but rebounded later in the week.

Steel stocks were depressed somewhat from the generally drab outlook for the industry in the next couple of months. Steel output dropped in the latest reported week by 3.6%, its sharpest setback of the year. This was attributed to completion of strike-hedge buying by big steel users. A new steel contract is being negotiated by labor and management.

A rise in rail freight carloadings and speculation that there will not be a crippling strike helped support rail stocks. On Thursday, 13 of the rails in the Dow Jones average gained, while five were hit for losses.

Standard Oil of New Jersey hit a new 1963 high of 68 3/8 during the week, but closed at 67 1/2. Sperry Rand was traded heavily on persistent rumors that Martin Marietta is buying more of the company's stock.

Twentieth Century Fox, feeling the impact from mixed reception opening night of the $40-million movie Cleopatra, dropped 1 1/8 Thursday to 31 7/8. The stock rebounded on Friday to close at 32 1/8.

Color television makers reported excellent sales and as result their stocks bounced up Tuesday.

A major factor in the market continued to be profit-taking. Brokers noted several of the blue chip stocks were being nicked for profits after having run up in the past few weeks. Business news remained favorable. Factory sales are expected to hit a record $104.6 billion in the quarter to end June 30, the Commerce Department said. Retail sales during the week ended June 8 scooped up 4% from 1962 level, and auto sales during the first 10 days of June were 172,000 units, up 6% from the similar

One Hour of Farm Labor Produces More than Before

One hour of farm labor now produces more than four times as much food and other crops as it did in 1919-21.

Crop production is 70 percent higher per acre. Output per breeding animal is 90 percent greater.

One farm worker supplies food, fiber and other products for 27 people; in 1920 he supplied 8. Output per man-hour on America's farms in the 1950s increased 5.1 per cent a year, while output per man-hour in non-farm industry increased by 2.2 per cent a year.

Farming is still the nation's biggest industry.

Plan Now for Retirement

It is never too early to make plans for your future retirement, according to Hal Geldon, social security district manager in Amarillo. He said the folks in the social security office will be glad to tell you what papers you will need when you file your claim for payments.

"You should make your claim for social security retirement payments two or three months before you actually retire," Geldon said. By doing this, you will get your payment on time when you retire.

Geldon warned older workers against waiting until after retirement to make their first visit to the social security office. Some often find that they could have gotten benefit payments even though still working. The best way to avoid this kind of loss is to check into social security before you retire.

If you are near age 62 and have never checked into your social security, do so today. Even if you are not ready to retire, you should check on your social security when you reach age 62, 65 and 72, Geldon advised. The social security office in Amarillo is located at 1006 Adams Street.

NEWS LETTER

from Congressman
WALTER ROGERS

THE "SEPARATION OF POWERS" DOCTRINE

Our U.S. Constitution separates the power of government among its three great branches—the legislative, the executive and the judicial. Behind the very sound "separation of powers" doctrine is the theory that by keeping the three branches independent of one another, and by keeping their authority in balance, a concentration of tyrannous power is made impossible.

Man has yet to devise a better system of government than that by which we are governed. A keystone of our system is this "separation of powers." And, despite some stir recently over a "Fund for the Republic" pamphlet entitled "The Elite and the Electorate," there is not the slightest consideration being given in the Congress to changing the Constitutional balance of power.

The pamphlet is NOT a government publication. The "Fund for the Republic" has NO connection with government. The pamphlet argues that some authority now vested in the Congress should be transferred to the President in order that the United States might act more swiftly to meet sudden challenges at home and abroad. I'm strongly opposed to any such change—to any move to reduce the power of Congress, the people's most direct voice in their government.

I'm certain the great majority of Congressmen and Senators share my conviction, as does the great majority of the American people.

From time to time in our history, one branch or another has been dominant in the exercise of power granted under the Constitution's broad outlines. In some periods, the Congress has acted most forcefully. Occasionally the U.S. Supreme Court has acted so strongly as to be accused (and I have raised the point) of exercising powers properly resting with the legislative branch, the Congress. We have had strong-willed Presidents who wielded their powers so vigorously that they were accused in their day of being near-dictators.

Of all our Presidents, Abraham Lincoln (whom we now all revere but who was a bitterly controversial President in his own time) cornered more power for the executive than any other.

Consider these actions of Lincoln: Under the war power he proclaimed the slaves of those in rebellion emancipated. He devised and put into execution his own plan of reconstruction. He increased the Army and Navy beyond the limit set by statute. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus was suspended wholesale and martial law declared. Public money in the sum of millions of dollars was spent without Congressional appropriation.

Lincoln knew his Constitution. He did none of these things innocently. He knew how far he could go in taking for his office the powers of a divided, weak Congress.

Thus, through history, one branch or another of our government has been in a position somewhat more powerful than the other branches.

Today, in my view, Congress must be extremely wary about extending any further delegations of authority to departments in the executive branch. Because Congress has sometimes not been specific enough in its delegations of statutory authority to executive departments, or too generous in the powers it has passed along, the departments (constituting the government bureaucracy) have assumed larger responsibilities than legislators envisioned.

Occasionally the Congress seeks to return to itself grants of authority. As an example, I have introduced a bill to bar the Federal Communications Commission from collecting license fees, a step the FCC said it was preparing to take. I submitted a bill to require that no fees be charged without the express Congressional consent.

Generally it can be shown that the "separation of powers" doctrine has been respected, that fluctuations in the exercise of power have through history been contained within the broad confines established by our Founding Fathers in the Constitution.

A sweeping, drastic change in the balance of legislative, executive, and judicial powers could not be made without the adoption of a Constitutional amendment. So fundamental to the entire Constitutional framework is the separation doctrine that, in my firm view, no major change could be made short of outright repeal of the Constitution—and such a step is beyond any possibility.

Even an amendment is most difficult to obtain. Only 13 amendments have become part of the Constitution since the original ten, the Bill of Rights, were adopted.

To amend the Constitution, resolutions so providing must be approved by the judiciary committees and then by majorities of the full House and Senate—and then by majorities in at least three-fourths of the 50 state legislatures.

Right now, resolutions calling for amendments on 25 different points of the Constitution are pending before the House Judiciary Committee. It is extremely unlikely that any of these proposals will emerge for House floor consideration this year. The road is long and hard for any Constitutional change. Altering the Constitution is a serious step not to be taken without great and prolonged deliberation—and not without a clear call from the American people saying that the change is needed.

Measles Major Threat in Many Parts of World

AUSTIN.—Measles is almost as much an accepted part of childhood as bumps, bruises and abrasions. Over 90 per cent of children will at some time have clinically evident measles. Although the national death rate for measles in the U.S. is relatively low, its after effects in deafness and mental crippling can be serious.

In many part of the world, measles poses a major threat. In Africa and South America the death rate among children may be as high as 25 per cent.

Breakthrough in Measles Control

An average of 50,626 cases of measles were reported per year in Texas during the last six years. Thousands of cases of measles occur annually with minor epidemics appearing every other year. The epidemic pattern is based upon a new group of susceptible children capable of supporting an epidemic.

Scientists made a breakthrough several years ago in research on the measles virus. A strain of the virus was isolated in 1954. Work continued, and in the spring of this year two types of measles vaccines were licensed for manufacture. The two type vaccines—one prepared with live but greatly weakened virus, and one made with a chemically-killed virus—may be administered separately or in a combination.

Honey and Syrups Substituted for Sugar in Cooking and Canning

Many women this year plan to use honey or syrup instead of sugar in their canning and freezing fruits, Kathryn Barjenbruch, home demonstration agent, says, and points out that sweeteners may be used interchangeably in many instances.

Mrs. Barjenbruch has given the basic rules for substituting other sweets for sugar.

"Fruits will have a better flavor, texture and color when canned in syrup, but they keep as well without sugar as with it," Mrs. Barjenbruch said. "The final product will be slightly different when using corn syrup. The liquid in the jars will be slightly thicker. Corn syrup is especially good for canning pineapple and peaches."

Syrups

Syrups made with honey and sugar: Thin syrup is made with one-half cup sugar, one-half cup honey and two and one-half cups water. Medium syrup is made with one cup sugar, one cup honey and four cups water. In either case, bring water and sugar to boiling, add honey, stir and return to boiling.

Syrups made with corn syrup and sugar:

Use one cup sugar, two cups corn syrup and six cups water. If corn syrup is to replace all the sugar, use three-fourths cup syrup to one cup water.

JELLY: One-fourth the sugar required for making jelly may be replaced with corn syrup.

PRESERVES: One-half the sugar required for making preserves may be replaced by corn syrup.

JAMS: One-fourth the sugar required for making jam may be replaced with corn syrup. Honey may replace up to one-half of the sugar in jams and preserves.

Freezing

When freezing fruits with corn syrup, use one and one-third cups of corn syrup to three and one-half pounds of fruit. Treat for discoloration.

Fruit may be canned with non-caloric sweeteners (not saccharin). "In home canning procedures, you use the non-caloric sweetener in much the same way you would use sugar—adding it during the preparation for processing. Either the liquid or tablet form may be used for this purpose.

The conversion table for sugar in baking also was given by Mrs. Barjenbruch.

Honey

Honey may be substituted cup for cup. In substituting honey, Mrs. Barjenbruch said that for each cup of honey used, liquid should be reduced by one-fourth cup. To insure a quality product, about half the sugar should be retained and honey substituted for the other half.

In baking, use one-fourth teaspoon soda for each cup of honey in addition to baking powder in the recipe. Better results were obtained to use recipes which were developed to use honey as the sweetening agent.

MOLASSES or SORGHUM: Use one and one-half cup of molasses or sorghum for each cup of sugar called for. Reduce liquid one-fourth cup for each cup of molasses or sorghum used.

CORN SYRUP: Two cups of corn syrup may be substituted for each cup of sugar called for. Reduce liquid one-fourth cup for each cup of corn syrup used.

CANE SYRUP: One and one-half cups of cane syrup is equal in sweetness to one cup of cane sugar.

In cakes and cookies, replace sugar with syrup, measure for measure, and reduce liquid one-third. Cakes and cookies made with corn and cane syrups are not as sweet as when sugar is used.

biggest of them all; the 570-foot San Jacinto Monument, commemorating decisive battle of Texas history; Gulf Coast Beaches, some of the finest in the world; the Alamo, "Cradle of Texas Liberty," and in the center of the state, Texas Longhorn Cavern, biggest cave in the state and third largest in the world, one of Texas' most spectacular natural wonders. Sightseeing is fun in Texas.

Agriculture

The stunning upset of Administration proposals for the nation's wheat farmer was probably the most significant item of the month of May, if not the year, as far as agriculture was concerned. Another less dramatic perhaps but no less important to Texans, was the beginning of committee consideration of proposed cotton legislation. These two subjects will be discussed briefly here, with other proposals that have a bearing on the agricultural economy of our state.

WHEAT: As you are no doubt aware the wheat farmers of America said "no" to an Administration proposal that would have placed them in an economic and agricultural straight jacket. Their vote was an example for all Americans, particularly for those cynical ones in our midst who say the trend toward complete socialization cannot be reversed. In my opinion, the American people owe the wheat farmers a vote of thanks, for if the vote had approved the Administration's proposals it would have been taken as an indication that complete regimentation is the order of the day.

Thirty years of artificially inspired circumstances cannot be abandoned overnight, however, without unfavorable reactions for the people involved. It is for this reason that we must enact legislation that will protect the wheat farmer while at the same time continuing the march to agricultural freedom. Ultimately the government should get out of the business of regulating and controlling the American farmer. In the meantime the farmer should have more choice in the matter of crops, with price supports used as a guarantee against disastrous prices, rather than as a means to jack up the price of agricultural commodities so high that they cannot move in trade channels.

COTTON: Efforts are now being made to effect a compromise that might lead to legislation this session. At present the cotton industry is in deep distress. The so-called "two-price" program, wherein foreign users can purchase American cotton cheaper than our own users can purchase the same cotton, has led to extensive inroads being made by synthetic fibers. Shortly after this session opened, Congressional committees began working on the cotton problem. No sooner had this task begun than the Secretary of Agriculture jumped into the act with pronouncements that did nothing but muddy the waters. This action by the Secretary, in my opinion, did much to delay any solution. He was as far out of touch with farmers at that time as he proved to be later in the wheat referendum. And, if no corrective legislation is forthcoming at this session, we can thank those bureaucrats who insist that the farmer (and everyone else) play the game their way or not at all.

CATTLE: I have joined with Senator Simpson of Wyoming and others in sponsoring legislation designed to restrict the importation of cattle, beef and veal. The measure, S. 557, would establish an annual quota equal to the average annual quantity imported during the five-year period ending Dec. 31, 1962. Beef and veal imports have jumped 41% in the last year, from 689.1 million pounds in 1961 to 970.9 million pounds in 1962.

Live cattle imports are up about 20% and exports of beef and veal are down about 9%. It must be remembered that the cattle industry is not under federal subsidy. Ranchers have resisted the temptations of a floor under their prices, despite the fact they must buy feed that is grown under subsidy. Under these circumstances I believe they deserve all the help they can get.

I do not believe they should be driven to the wall by an unanticipated flood of foreign cattle and beef dumped on the American market by an Administration that seems to think more of the wishes and desires of foreign governments than it does our own people. We shall endeavor to attach the bill as an amendment to the first appropriation vehicle that comes out of the Senate Finance committee.

POULTRY: We were extremely unhappy to hear that the European Common Market has increased its already high tariff against the importation of American poultry. Some time ago, as a result of letters from Texas constituents, we asked the Secretary of Agriculture if more legislation was needed in order that America might negotiate more favorable trade relations with foreign markets for our poultry. The European area has been a comparatively lucrative market for American poultry farmers, a great many of whom are Texans. The Secretary of Agriculture assured us, and the letter is in our files, that no new legislation was needed; that the government intended to accelerate its efforts in this field, and implied that things would get better. Now, with the announcement that tariffs will go even higher, the results of this government's efforts are obvious.

Yep, there are 110 acres on each side of the river where you can camp, fish, swim or picnic at Blanco Park. It's located where the Blanco River crosses U.S. Highway 281 north of Lubbock.

Fish are reported to be plentiful, and especially tasty when cooked right there in the open. If you don't like to fish, it's a perfect place to just rest while the kids keep busy on the playground.

KIT CARSON'S LAST FIGHT

"Kit" Carson, famous frontier fighter, had his last encounter with hostile Indians at the Battle of Adobe Walls.

Site of this battle is marked just 30 miles northeast of Stinnett, Texas in the northern Panhandle area. Under the protective cover of the adobe walls in Hutchinson county, Colonel Christopher "Kit" Carson, commanding a few companies of U.S. troops, bravely battled a band of Kiowa and Comanche Indians, killing over 60 braves.

Though only a highway marker remains at the site, such battles and bravery have left a greater mark in the minds of all Americans.

Baseball Is a Big Thing for the County's Small Fry This Summer

The county's kid baseball activities are under way and will go into full swing as soon as the rainy season is over.

The enthusiasm of the youngsters will make it a going concern, without further support, but summer baseball needs and deserves the backing of the adult community just as do the winter sports.

This year, kid baseball is county-wide, certainly a step in the right direction. It is making a livelier program.

Besides the enthusiasm of the boys, Wellington's kid baseball program is carried by a few men who give their time after a full day's work to coach and sponsor the teams.

Most needed right now are bigger crowds. These games, beginning at 5:30 are in the comfortable part of the day. There's nothing like an audience to bring out the best in these young players. It's the greatest morale booster in the world to know that a lot of people are sitting in the bleachers cheering.

Kid baseball is fun for the spectator, too. It has its thrills and mishaps. It's a great builder of young citizens, and again, you'll enjoy watching Collingsworth's own version of the most popular of all American sports.

A smart girl is one who can hold a man at arm's length without losing her grip on him.

Modern girls adore spinning wheels — four of them and a spare.

If your doctor doesn't worry about your illness, remember, you wouldn't worry about his either.

Marriage is just another union that defies management.

"I Wonder if They'll Drive Safer This Year?"

Other Days and Familiar Names

From the Files of The Wellington Leader . . .

10 Years Ago—1953

A twister formed five miles southwest of town, but it dipped to ground in an open field and there was no damage. The business section of town, however, emptied in nothing flat and there was general agreement that there was more danger from the drivers than the tornado. One car accident did occur, but it had no connection with the storm and the driver was not aware of the funnel cloud.

Wayne Cudd concluded his term as president of the Texas Motor Transport Association, and in his concluding speech at the Fort Worth convention, urged more four-lane highways for Texas.

30 Years Ago—1933

The first class graduated from the new Loco school. Members were Glenn Thompson, Goldie Sanders, Mary Ruth King, Bessie Stout and Cecil Elbert.

The Farmers Gin declared $2,300 in dividends. Paving of the road from Salt Fork River north to the Wheeler county line, and from Wellington south to the Childress county line was under consideration. Pruden Drug moved to a new location on the east side of the square, three doors north of the First National Bank.

50 Years Ago—1913

"J. T. Box, S. L. Young and L. A. Hall expect to leave next Monday for Electra where they will begin actual work of putting down a well on the holdings of the Wellington Drilling Co."

Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Pritchard left for a visit to Southern California.

Rev. Bowman, the popular pastor of the Methodist Church, had the misfortune to run a nail through his foot.

Houselog: Bert Christoph, Willie Meaders and Ernest Winters returned Sunday from where they spent the past week end trapping.

NO-TRUMP?

Four Kankakee, Ill., women who have been playing bridge together since 1931 reported that each of them was dealt a perfect hand in one game. The first player bid seven spades and the others looked at one another and showed their hands.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where a pair of U.S. Senators are saying government by the people is outmoded and what we need is government by the Elite.

My peoplism neighbor says he is highly in favor of government by the elite, and when he is voting for government officials he always tries to pick the elite's ones available.

But he says it's sometimes hard to tell, like in the case of the two Senators, whether a candidate is genuinely of the elite, or just thinks he is.

I see where a factual economist suggests solving the unemployed youth problem by encouraging boys and girls to marry at 18 and start raising dependent children.

He figures by maximum effort they could have 14 youngsters by age 30 and in most states would draw upwards of $1,000 a month from welfare and wouldn't need a job.

My cankered neighbor says this program would also give Progress a mighty shove, when each of these batches of kids grew up to cancel out 14 more reluctant taxpayer votes.

My suspicious neighbor says the talk about Equal Employment Opportunity for Negro citizens is a chicanerous deal to trick colored people into doing more of the work.

Says this noble-sounding program will not make any more jobs, but will just put a lighter colored average complexion on the unemployed.

He notes this deep interest in equal working privileges didn't blossom until after welfare was installed, and it's figured that setting more Negroes to labor will leave more room for white people on the subsidized-leisure list.

I see where U.S. Congressmen have noticed their plummy new House Office Building has not got enough doors in it, and aim to put in another $200,000 worth of same.

Obviously there was politics or something involved in letting the contract for this edifice to an anti-door architect, but what are taxpayers for, except to pay for government mistakes?

After all, we can't risk our World Image being disrespected by trying to operate one of our main tax hatcheries with a door deficit.

I note that holding riots seems to work better than writing letters to get Congress and the governing elite in a tizzy about citizen problems.

My peaceful neighbor says he knows it's an anti-Progress viewpoint, but he liked it better back when people just pe-tioned government for redress of grievances instead of throwing rocks and pop bottles at policemen.

Says he is pretty busy these days, and just don't have time to take off and go help hold a riot every time society or the government needs straightening out.

Tally Rural Highway Wrecks for 5 Months

The Highway Patrol investigated one rural accident in Collingsworth county during the month of May according to Sgt. J. W. Wilson, patrol supervisor of this area.

This wreck accounted for property damage in the amount of $1,150.

The rural accident summary of Collingsworth county from January through May of 1963 shows a total of four crashes, resulting in two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $1,990.

"It might well be said that many of our so-called good citizens in their thinking do not associate good citizenship in a democracy with safety. We are reminded that these two are so closely related that they can not be separated. The word Safety, as we understand it, implies everything that is good for the citizen. And citizenship also stands for everything that is good. If a person lays claim to being a good citizen, yet is careless in traffic, or disregards traffic rules and regulations, then he cannot be considered a good citizen," said Wilson.

Here is the report for other area counties for May:

Childress county: 3 accidents with $2,990 property damage. Cottle: 5 accidents, 6 deaths, 5 injured, $3,405 property damage.

Donley: 4 accidents, 3 injured, $1,723 property damage.

Hall: 4 accidents, 1 killed, 3 injured, $2,750 property damage.

Wheeler: 6 accidents, $3,460 property damage.

Theda Martin to Teach at Clovis

Miss Theda Martin, a spring graduate from West Texas State College has been elected to teach mathematics in the Clovis, N.M., junior high school.

This year she will teach math in the seventh and eighth grades, but this is preparatory to the introduction of the "modern mathematics program" into the Clovis schools.

"Modern Math," the newest trend in teaching math to children, is a coordinated program beginning in the lower grades. At Clovis it will begin in the third grade. Modern algebra will then be introduced in the eighth, Miss Martin said.

The aim of the program is to teach children to reason rather than to memorize, she explained.

Miss Martin will be married in August to Charles Wright, who will graduate from WT this summer in the field of business administration. He also will work in Clovis.

Joan Calendar of Monohans is spending two weeks with her grandmother, Mrs. Theo Parker.

Vinson Girl to Music Camp at Lawrence, Kan.

Patty Overton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Overton of Vinson, is attending the Midwestern Music and Art Camp, which opened at Lawrence, Kansas, Sunday June 16.

The camp is sponsored by the fine arts division of the University of Kansas. Patty is one of two girls from this area to attend, the other being Sammy Lou Thompson, who will be in the art division of the camp. Patty will be a senior in Wellington high school this fall, and this is her second year to attend the camp.

Patty, like Sammie Lou, will study for six weeks under instructors who are on the faculty of the KU school of fine arts.

Enrollment in the camp is limited, but the students come from all sections of the United States. Its purpose is to develop gifted students and create greater interest in their fields of work.

Each student attending must be recommended by her instructor in the field in which she studies.

New Enlistment Policy for Navy

The U.S. Navy recruiting service has announced a new policy that should be of interest to former enlisted men of that branch of the armed forces, according to Wayne A. Robie, U.S. Navy recruiter for this area.

This new policy provides for the reenlistment of former Navy men in their old rate and pay grade, in more than 30 ratings, provided their reenlistment is effected within four years from the date of discharge.

Those interested may contact the Navy recruiter in Amarillo or see Robie at the Wellington post office between 1 and 2 p.m. on the first and third Mondays of the month.

TOO SHIFTY TO TRUST

Many a sailor and ship place their trust in a lighthouse. But when the Aransas Pass Lighthouse was built in 1865, you can bet no one counted on the Pass moving.

However, shifting sands now have moved the Pass a mile south of the old lighthouse.

Though this old beacon has been closed since 1952, others still are in use on our Texas Gulf Coast. Some of our Texas lighthouses have been designated as museums or parks and now are used only by sight-seers.

USS GURKE.—Jimmie O. Phillips, machinists' mate fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Phillips of Wellington, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Gurke, a Pacific Fleet unit which recently participated in First Fleet exercises off the coast of California during the President's two-day visit June 6-7.

The operations included amphibious/mine warfare demonstrations, anti-air warfare exercises involving the attack aircraft carriers USS Oriskany and Kitty Hawk, missile demonstrations and anti-submarine exercises.

The Gurke is homeported at Puget Sound, Bremerton, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Wilson were Sunday visitors in the home of Mrs. Ella Smith in Lubbock, where they met their daughter-in-law, Mrs. B. V. Wilson of Pasadena. Mrs. Smith is Mrs. B. V. Wilson's mother and both are former residents of Wellington.

Assembly of God Scene for Wedding of Venita Howard and James Poteet

Miss Venita Howard and James Walter Poteet were married in a double ring ceremony at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 16, in the Assembly of God church, with the Rev. F. A. Burns directing the couple in the exchange of vows.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Howard, 707 Childress street, are the parents of the bride, while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Poteet, 1007 Floydada street.

Altar decorations were an arch covered with foliage, in which were scattered yellow and orchid baby mums, with baskets of orchid and yellow gladioli, candelabras, and baskets of greenery at the sides. A row of orchid tapers outlined the bridal aisle.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Edna Smith, pianist, Mrs. Nita Harmon and Miss Linda Goodner, vocalists, cousins of the bride.

Mr. Howard gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride wore a gown of tulle and lace over satin, with seed pearls accenting the dainty collar and yoke of the lace bodice. Sleeves were fitted to the wrists. Appliques of lace were scattered over the tulle skirt that extended into a semi-train. Her waist-length veil fell from a crown of pearls and rhinestones, and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Kay Chandler, the maid of honor, wore a yellow chiffon dress with a scoop neckline, a princess bodice and gathered skirt, and she carried a nosegay of lilac carnations. The bridesmaids were Miss Linda Sikes and Miss Vickie Mayhugh, who wore lilac chiffon dresses of similar design and carried yellow flowers. Each wore a matching flower headpiece.

Dwayne Poteet, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and ushers were Oliver Bishop and Billy Wilkerson. Buster Howard and Mike Poteet, brothers of the couple, lighted the candles.

The flower girl was Debra Stallings, and Loren Winston Harmon of Amarillo was the ring bearer.

The reception was held in the club room of the community building. The bride's table was covered with a cream lace cloth over orchid. Double orchid candles lighted the table, and the appointments were crystal. Miss Laquita Martin served the wedding cake and Miss Barbara Atkinson poured. Miss Wilma Spinhermie of Vega was at the guest register.

As the couple left, on a short wedding trip, the bride wore an off-white batiste dress accented with brown schiffle embroidery. Her accessories were brown and her corsage was of red roses.

The bride was a student in Wellington high school and will be a junior next year.

The bridegroom was graduated with honors this spring and will enroll in September at Southwestern Bible College in Waxahachie, where he will study for the ministry.

The couple will be at home at 701 Tenth Street this summer.

TWICE AS MUCH COOLING

With the patented features of Paramount Coolers

Yes! This famous Paramount 5000 c.f.m. evaporative cooler gives you up to twice as much cooling because of these patented features:

— Many coolers lose as much as 70% of cooling efficiency because dust, dirt and salts clog the filters. Patented No-Clog Sta-Fresh Filters are guaranteed clog-proof, assuring 100% cooling efficiency all summer long.

— Filters saturated with water become heavy and often sag and settle from the top, drawing hot, unfiltered, uncooled air into the cooler which may create as much as a 70% cooling loss. Patented Grip-Lock Filter Holders are guaranteed to prevent sagging and settling of filters assuring 100% cool, clean, filtered air.

— Without correct water trough adjustment, sections of the filters remain dry, resulting in substantial cooling loss and costly service expense. Patented Free-Flo Visible Water Troughs with external adjustment assure 100% saturation, and 100% cooling for the entire life of the cooler.

— Added feature—Patented Window Closing Attachment lets you close and lock your window. Eliminates entry of dust, rain and drafts into your home.

the hotter, the better!

Horned toads don't mind the heat. But you do! As hard as you try, you can't beat the heat with fans . . . or pitchers of cold drinks . . . or shades drawn tight against the sun.

Besides, this method of keeping cool leaves you listless all summer long. You know the feeling—all your energy is sapped. You have no desire to move even a muscle.

Electric air conditioning—the modern way of keeping cool—gives you refreshing spring air all summer long. It allows you to keep windows closed against outside noise, dust, dirt and pollen. Inside, you have clean, cool, filtered air for your whole family to work, eat, sleep and play by.

Choose from many compact room units, or install a central system. Whichever you choose, electric air conditioning is your best buy under the summer sun.

Visit your electric appliance dealer, air conditioning contractor or rural electric representative. Do it now—before you sizzle.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Up to now outer clothing that costs less than $10 has been exempt from the state sales tax, but on July 1 the 2% sales tax will go into effect on these garments. The next ten days might be a good time to look around for some of the clothing your children will need at school next fall. Two per cent is not much, but it mounts up when people have a large family.

Buster Hughs wanted to know how much the sales tax brought in each month. I told him I did not know, but that I would make an effort to find out. In May the limited sales tax brought in $33,285,722 to the coffers of the state government, and the total for the year to date is $133 million dollars plus as compared to $102 million plus at this time last year.

The oil and gas industry does not contribute as high a percentage of the total taxes as it once did, but it is still a tremendous amount. The tax on the production of crude oil has brought in $91 million plus up to June 1 and the tax on the production of natural and casinghead gas accounts for an additional $48 million plus and motor vehicle licenses added $80 million to the state revenue. Thus oil and gas and motor vehicles accounted for $219 million during the first five months of the year. The ad valorem tax was $39 million and the total receipts from all sources was slightly over a billion dollars.

Farmers in the Wellington area had their share of trouble in getting their crops planted, but on the whole we have been extremely fortunate and a lot of cotton is either planted or up to a stand. Tuesday night Littlefield received an inch and a half of rainfall in 45 minutes and Matador, Tulia, Canyon and Hereford experienced similar cloudbursts.

Two weeks ago The Leader carried a story on the efforts of local people to bring back Guar as a cash crop in this area. Blackening of the seed due to fall rains is no longer a critical factor in marketing Guar as long as the beans are fully developed. Due to improved processing techniques the black beans have a ready market. Guar is a natural to plant the year before cotton.

Business firms continue to move and improve in Wellington. Three firms are in the process of moving and improving at this time.

I thought the art of making sour dough bread had disappeared from our county, but Tuesday Mrs. D. E. Scott brought a loaf by our house and it was delicious. Perhaps this might be a good place to get a starter. The starter must be used at least once a week to keep it alive. In other days many women made sour dough biscuits and bread, but many of them did not think of it as sour dough. They called it everlasting yeast and kept it in a stone crock in a cool part of the house. Does anyone else around here make sour dough bread?

Our son is very good about notifying us where he is going, but the other evening he was gone for maybe an hour without explanation. His mother asked where he had been. "Oh, I have been over to Ernestees and Willoughbees."

New Postal

He cited this example of the proper use of ZIP Code:

L. B. Bratten, Wellington, Texas, 79095
The new ZIP Code plan, Bratten said, for the first time will permit the post office department to short-cut repeated address reading.

"The address on mail must often be read as many as eight or ten times by postal employees, to get it to the proper destination," Bratten said. "Each handling slows the process of mail dispatch and adds to the opportunity for human error."

"With ZIP Code, a clerk needs only glance at the code to know immediately to what national area, state and post office the letter is destined, and to speed it on its way, cutting up to 24 hours off the time between deposit and delivery."

Bratten said that when ZIP Code is in full swing, the United States will have "the most modern system of mail distribution and delivery in existence."

OK, LOOK ALIVE!

This advice was given the youthful Dodgers by their coach, Walter Neeley, and they must have taken it, for they won their game 16 to 12 Monday evening, just after this picture was made. The team has won two games, lost one, and had one called on account of rain. In the back row

Owens Station Adds Service

Robert Owens, who operates Owens Super Service at Lucky Corner, has announced the addition of a new service for farmers of the area.

This is field service for tractors, in which tractor tire trouble can be taken care of in the field.

Owens recently bought and put in service a new truck especially fitted and equipped to handle this type of service for farmers.

"Delay that a farmer has when his tractor tires give him trouble is not only a bother but it is costly," Owens said.

"We feel that this new service not only does an unpleasant piece of work for the farmer, but it also is one of the things that can help him meet the cost-price squeeze that is on today."
