Voters may decide annex question

by John Cordsen

Garza County and Post voters may be asked to decide the fate of the proposed courthouse annex following the second public hearing on the matter Monday night. The idea of taking the decision to the voters in a bond issue was broached by former Garza County Commissioner Ted Aten at the July 26 meeting.

He asked if the commissioners had explored the idea of a bond issue to fund the project instead of the certificates of obligation that the court was looking at using.

"You're talking about a lot of money," Aten told the commissioners of the proposed annex. "Let the people vote on it."

Garza County Judge Giles Dalby said a bond issue would be more expensive than funding the project with certificates of obligation, but if that's what the people of Garza County want, he would back the idea. He did say though, that a bond election would take some of the burden of making the decision off of him and the other commissioners.

Judge Dalby used the public forum to meticulously describe in great detail the problems and possible costs faced by the county in meeting American with Disabilities Act (ADA) requirements on the 70 year old courthouse.

"We understand there are some problems with the current building," said Judge Dalby. "We have been able to work around them in the past, there have always been rooms down stairs we could use. ADA prohibits us from doing this though."

ADA requires that the courthouse be totally accessible to handicapped individuals. According to the law, they should be able to go and do anything non-handicapped people can do without assistance. Buildings that are not totally handicapped accessible are mandated to be renovated to meet the strict ADA requirements.

"Obviously, with a building built 70 years ago it's a little hard to do this," said the Judge.

All the county options were laid on the table and open for discussion. The direction the commissioners are reluctantly leaning towards is the building of a 10,000 square foot annex to the south of the existing courthouse. This new building would allow the county to meet the ADA requirements and provide the county offices room to grow. It is also the easiest when construction and planning are looked at. This options biggest drawback though is its price tag. Judge Dalby said the county would be looking at close to $1.2 million for the building, engineering, architectural and furnishing costs. The building alone carries a hefty price tag of

LONG LINES have been common during the Garza Theatre's popular run of "A Harley Sadler Show" featuring the play "Natalie Needs a Nightie".

Harley Sadler Show a hit at Garza Theatre

by John Cordsen

This summer's box office hits aren't confined to the big screen. The Garza Theatre's production of "The Harley Sadler Show" featuring the play "Natalie Needs a Nightie" has sizzled, drawing 2,476 theatre goers through the first four weeks of the 20 performance run. The ever popular show completes its five week run this coming weekend, July 29 through August 1.

Reservations for tickets began pouring in long before the show opened July 1 and continue to go strong as the production winds down.

"My phone never quits ringing," said Garza Theatre office manager Renae Boren.

With the success of the "Harley Sadler Show" the Garza Theatre has continued to be one of Post and Garza County's premier tourist attractions.

"It's been amazing seeing all of these people," said Boren. "I didn't know all of these people lived in Texas and were interested in theatre."

As of last Friday, (July 23) over 400 reservations have already been made for the final four performances of the show. Boren says she expects somewhere near 600 to end up seeing the show next weekend.

Boren says the theatre has had patrons come from as far away as California during the Harley Sadler Show. Those people aren't the winners in long distance though, Boren says during the final weekend there will be two Russian citizens visiting in Lubbock who will make the trip down Highway 84 to attend the show.

According to Boren, the vast majority of those attending the theatre come from outside of Garza County. When they come to Post, they not only spend time in the theatre, they also walk Post's Main Street visiting and buying goods from Post merchants. Boren reports that a good number of people, when they call to make reservations also inquire about times when the shops will be open. All of this translates into dollars that help fuel Post's economy.

Theatre management anticipated the popularity of the Harley Sadler Show going into the production and increased the show's run from the customary three weeks to five. Theatre managing director Jane Prince Jones also went back to a Thursday night show just for this special run.

"I didn't know if our Thursday night shows would pick up after we dropped them from our regular run," said Boren. "But the numbers have been pretty good."

Tickets for the Friday and Saturday night shows are hard to come by, but

Rumors surface in Blodgett disappearance

by John Cordsen

There are no new clues in disappearance of Post resident Edna Blodgett according to Garza County Sheriff Kenny Ratke. This despite rumors surrounding the disappearance of Blodgett that arose early Monday of this week.

Talk that Blodgett's body had been found in a shallow grave near her home were quickly put down by Ratke. "That information is incorrect," said

Ratke when questioned about the rumors. "I don't know where they got started (the rumors) but there is no truth to them."

Sheriff Ratke said his deputies did make a search Sunday, July 25 of the area near Blodgett's home following a report that a shallow grave had been found there.

"We ran over there on a possibility and it didn't check out," said Ratke.

"We are chasing even the shakiest leads," explained Ratke. "You have to at this point."

The 76 year old Post woman was last seen on June 2 by mental health workers. She was reported missing soon after and was officially listed as a missing person on June 14.

Ratke suspects the rumor started after someone saw law enforcement officers making a search of the area where the grave was reported.

LONG TIME SUPPORTER of the Post Stampede Rodeo and parade, Harold Cass will serve as the grand marshal for this year's parade. The parade will be held on Saturday this year instead of the opening Thursday.

Harold Cass to serve as Post Stampede parade marshal

Annual event moved to Saturday afternoon, Aug. 14

by Laura Puma

Once again the picturesque historical Garza County Courthouse will be the focal point for the annual rodeo parade extravaganza.

The enjoyable job of selecting a special Garza County resident for the honor of Parade Marshal each year belongs to the twelve man Board of Directors of the Rodeo Association. A difficult task for sure; nevertheless, the group made yet another exceptional choice this year. This prestigious title belongs to Harold Cass, longtime Garza county farmer, ranch hand and old time cowboy. Cass, sporting a straw cowboy hat, a twinkle in his eye, and speaking in a low modest voice, explained, "I was surprised. I've ridden in every parade, except two ever since there was a parade. I love the parade". Sitting atop his treasured nine year old paint horse, he will be leading the procession this year, as the 53rd Parade Marshal.

Cass has been a resident of Garza county since 1924 arriving one icy day with his parents, a brother and sister after crossing the windy Texas plains from Hollis, Oklahoma in two covered wagons. The children slept in one wagon, while the parents occupied the other. Making this trip in the dead of winter.

"It was so cold, the water bags hanging on the outside of the wagon banged around in the night. They were frozen and they beat on the side in the wind; it was cold", Cass remembered. "We moved to Post to help my grandmother farm cotton and feed north of Post, out on top of the cap," recalls Cass, who will be 78 in October. He retired about 10 years ago after the ice storms got the best of him as he rode 26 miles a day in all directions as a ranch hand.

"I enjoy life and try to do the best I can," he states shyly.

He enjoys his horse, Jim, who tagged along in his first parade when he was a mere three months old, and will be seen carrying his adoring owner this year in yet another parade. Harold's longtime friend Floy Richardson will be riding along side him as he has for many, many years.

"Me and Floy went to school together in Rag Town, some folks won't know where that is," he said with a laugh, "known him ever since I came to Garza County."

Harold's only daughter, Sonya, also lives in Post. He has two grandsons, one granddaughter, and seven great-grandchildren. Like all the folks who love the parade, Cass stated, "I hope the Saturday parade will bring out more people."

With the Parade Marshal chosen, the Post Chamber of Commerce leaps into action as the producer/director of the parade every year. On behalf of the Chamber, this extravaganza is coordinated by the Chamber Secretary, Dru Ann Laws. This bubbly, brown-eyed, high spirited lady is dedicated to making the parade a great experience for all. Laws explained with a visible warmth, "I have been with the Chamber for two years, and my first assignment was the rodeo. My love is the rodeo, and I don't mind doing it."

Growing up in the Grassland/Draw area, she attended Post schools and graduated from Tahoka High School in 1978. She presently lives in Grassland with her husband, a Post Deputy Sheriff, and her 2 children, ages 9 and 15.

Laws, selected as Tahoka Rodeo Queen in 1977, sadly explained, "the rodeo is a dying art; the parade's western theme keeps the rodeo in the atmosphere." Not only will she ride in the rodeo grand entry, she accepts the parade entries and will also be on site to organize and line up the entries behind the courthouse for the parade.

The procession itself will travel east

SPAG meeting in Post to select minority representative

A minority representative on the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) will be elected tonight (July 28) at a meeting in Post. The 6:30 meeting at the Chaparral Steak House is to select minority representation for a seven county area that includes Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, King, Lynn and Motley Counties. The single representative will be named to the board of directors of SPAG.

According to Nancy Banvelos, secretary to SPAG Executive Director Jerry Casstevens, one representative will be elected to represent all seven counties. Banvelos explained that under the organizations charter, at least 25 percent of the board of directors for the 15 county organization must be designated as belonging to a minority. The remaining members on the board are all elected officials from member counties.

Interested minority residents in these counties are encouraged to participate in this important selection process. Banvelos said the meeting will be presided over by Garza County's representative on the SPAG board, Post Mayor Jim Jackson. The first order of business at the meeting will be for those in attendance to elect a chairperson to chair the meeting.

Delegates will then be chosen and the minority representative elected from this group.

To be eligible to serve as a minority representative on the board, a person must be at least 18 years of age, a U.S. citizen and a resident of Texas. They cannot be an employee of a private corporation receiving money from SPAG.

Mrs. Chet Byerly

Crenshaw, Byerly wed

Amber Renee' Crenshaw and Chet Allan Byerly exchanged wedding vows July 3, 1993 at First Baptist Church of Post. Paul Jones, minister, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Crenshaw of Post and the granddaughter of Della Crenshaw of Post and Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Freeman of Ore City. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Byerly of Andrews and the grandson of Lucille Grindstaff of Tyler and Osa Byerly of Coleman.

Georgie Wilson provided the music as the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an elegant gown of white satin and alencon lace. The bodice heavily beaded with sequins and pearls featured a v-neckline, short lantern sleeves, and an elongated waistline. The full skirt, adorned with beaded lace motifs, flowed to a semi-cathedral length train.

To complete her attire the bride wore a floral and pearl tiara highlighted with a silk illusion pouf and two-tiered fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of lilies and roses cascading with different types of greenery.

Following the tradition for something old was a gold bracelet that was her great grandmother's. Something new was her wedding dress and veil. Something borrowed was her slip and something blue was a blue garter. She also carried a penny in her shoe, representing the bride and groom's birth year.

Honor attendants were Laura Williams of San Angelo, sister of the bride and Melanie Morris of Post. They wore a cranberry colored gown with a overlay bodice. They carried a bouquet of lilies and roses.

Flower girl and ring bearer were Jordan Williams, niece of the bride and Kristopher Crenshaw, nephew of the bride.

Serving as best man was Steve Harrington of San Angelo and groomsmen was Marc Byerly, brother of the groom.

Ushers were Donald Crenshaw, brother of the bride, Kevin Harrington of San Angelo and Matt Conrad of San Angelo.

The groom wore a black double-breasted tuxedo with a white shirt and a white paisley tie. His boutonniere was a cranberry rose.

The groomsmen and ushers wore a black double-breasted tuxedo with a white shirt and a black paisley tie.

The church was decorated with ficus trees and highlighted with candles and greenery accents. Haley Langford of Graham and Angie Offutt of Munday, registered guests in the foyer of the church. The reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The brides cake was a three-layered, basket woven white cake with silk roses and lilies tying up the cake.

The groom's table featured a rich chocolate cake and a watermelon fruit basket. Coffee was served from silver appointments.

Wedding guests threw birdseed at the bride and groom departed. Following a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will make their home in San Angelo.

The bride is a 1989 graduate of Post High School and is currently attending Angelo State University and majoring in Early Childhood.

The groom is a 1989 graduate of Brownwood High School and is also attending Angelo State University and majoring in Kinesiology.

on the legendary bricked Main Street of Post, passing the beautifully landscaped center divider and familiar store fronts filled with excited spectators to the railroad tracks where the splashy processional march will execute a 180 degree turn. Prancing horses carrying brightly dressed cowboys and cowgirls, colorful surreys and floats, clowns, marching units and convertibles filled with waving dignitaries will continue delighting the crowd as it proceeds west to the courthouse to complete the afternoon's festivities.

This spectacular prelude to the rodeo began in pre-war days with the birth of the Post Stampede Rodeo. Over the years, with families spanning the globe, commitments throughout each day of every week, and participation waning a bit, the energetic committee has tried various ideas to improve this exciting portion of the rodeo. This year, the Chamber of Commerce and Post Stampede Rodeo Board have come up with the idea of moving the parade from the last day of the rodeo to Saturday afternoon, August 14.

Special activities already planned include awards from the Post Merchants for the best rodeo clown featuring two divisions, ages 1 to 6 and ages 7 to 12. Prizes will also be awarded to the best dressed cowboy and cowgirl riding horseback in the parade for youngsters under 8 years of age. Additionally, awards for the best floats will be presented. An exciting line up is already in the making with many entries already submitted including the Lamesa Sheriff's Posse, and the Llano Estacado Driving Society to name a few. Of course, many other exciting groups will be representing as the deadline draws near. No entry fee is required to participate in the parade, whether it's a float, a horseback rider, or a convertible full of energetic cheerleaders. The deadline for entries is August 11, just call the Chamber at 495-3461. The lineup gets under way at 3:00 p.m., with the big parade beginning at 4:00 p.m. for your enjoyment.

Boren says the Thursday night and Sunday afternoon shows usually have openings. This last Sunday though was almost a sell out according to Boren.

"We nearly had a full house Sunday," said Boren. "And we almost never do that!"

Another yardstick to the success of the show is the number of people who have returned to watch it for a second time.

"People are calling to come back a second time," said Boren. "And they say they are bringing friends with them."

The secret of the shows success seems to be in the laughter and atmosphere generated by the antics on stage and during the two intermissions.

"Most of the people coming to these shows were young when Harley Sadler had his tent show and was traveling around," said Boren. "They know what to expect with all of the extra things that go on during the intermissions."

"Laughter is contagious, even the actors backstage get caught up in the laughter," she continued.

As for the play and show, one word sums them up. Bravo! It is live theatre at its best.

Natalie Needs A Nightie stars David Weaver Jr. Jon Steele, Charles Somerville, Rick Fay, Alison Hoefler, Keren Weaver and Raina Kennedy.

As if the play weren't enough to draw in large audiences, theatre patrons are treated to a legacy from a bygone era. The tent show portion of the Harley Sadler Show includes musicians, singing, dancing, vaudeville acts, prizes and an old fashioned candy sale.

Theatre management and actors will barely have time to catch their breath before they present "Picnic". The summer romance will be directed by David Weaver Jr.

Post area host families needed for foreign exchange students

Foreign high school students will be arriving soon into the Post area for homestays, and the sponsoring organization urgently needs a few more local host families for their upcoming academic programs.

According to Pacific Intercultural Exchange (P.I.E.) Executive Director, John Doty, the students are all between the ages of 15 and 18 years, have their own spending money, are fully insured and are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families. P.I.E. currently has programs to match almost every family's needs, ranging in length from a semester to a full academic year, where the students attend local high schools.

P.I.E. representatives match students with host families by finding common interests and lifestyles through an informal in-home meeting. Prospective host families are able to review student applications and select the "perfect match". As there are no "typical" host families, P.I.E. can fit a student into just about any situation, whether it be a single parent, a childless couple, a retired couple or a large family.

Families who host for P.I.E. are also eligible to claim a $50.00 per month charitable contribution deduction on their itemized tax returns for each month they host a sponsored student.

For the upcoming programs, P.I.E. has students from Spain, Germany, Poland, Russia, Italy, Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Australia, New Zealand, France and many other countries. P.I.E. is a non-profit educational organization that has sponsored more than 18,000 students from 18 countries since its founding in 1975.

Post area families interested in learning more about student exchange or arranging for a meeting may call P.I.E., toll-free at 1-800-245-62323.

Theta Eta Chapter members attend conference

Carman Camp, Adene Dixon, Connie Flores, Fern Niles, and Nancy Vaughn represented Theta Eta chapter at the Southwest Regional Conference of The Delta Kappa Gamma Society International in Wichita, Kansas July 14-17.

The 600 women educators registered represented eleven states, Mexico, Costa Rica, El Salvador, and Guatemala.

A theme of "Visions...to dream, to dare, to do...Realized" was followed with most activities planned by Bettye Mischen, Plano, Texas, who is serving as Southwest Regional Director, with the assistance of the society's international officers and headquarters staff.

Featured speakers were Ruth Johnson, of Dallas, the Texas state president, who gave the keynote address at the first general session; and Deanell Tacha of Lawrence, Kansas, a judge on the 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and a University of Kansas law professor, who spoke at the concluding conference banquet.

The 1993 Educator's Award was given to Ruth Mitchell for authoring the chosen outstanding book, Testing for Learning.

Committee reports during the general sessions informed members of the structure, purposes, policies, programs and projects of the society. Over 40 workshops and interest sessions provided opportunities for group interaction and member participation.

Other conference highlights included the Kansas Night program featuring the ethnic backgrounds of Kansans, a performance by the Southwest Regional Chorus a procession of state presidents, and receptions hosted by Kansas and Texas members.

Pre conference bus tours were conducted to several points of interest in Kansas. A special Night on the Town gave those attending an opportunity to visit one of Wichita's entertainment centers.

Letters to the Editor

Letters to the editor are encouraged and invited. Letters will be presented exactly how the Post Dispatch receives them. Errors in spelling and grammar will not be corrected. All letters must be signed, but names may be withheld from publication if requested.

Dear Delbert:
I very seldom listen to "they say" comments. However, it has come to my attention on several occasions, that you, along with others, have said "that the sole purpose of my announcement to run for the mayor's position is to change the city manager." I consider this an improper and serious accusation. I would like for you to know, unequivocally, without a doubt, your position as interim city manager has absolutely no bearing on my decision to seek the office of Mayor for the City of Post.

You should be aware that under the law governing all General Law Cities, a Mayor has no authority to hire or replace a city manager or any city employee. Only by vote of the entire council can the position of city manager be determined.

The new council alone can make any decision pertaining to the city manager's position. If the new council requests resumes to be reviewed, certainly yours would be welcomed. You, a Post resident and having recently had experience certainly should be a factor.

My sole purpose in seeking the Mayor's position is to effectively maintain and continue the future of Post for the benefit of all. Please know, if I am successful, I would anticipate a good working relationship with you.

Sincerely,
Giles C. McCrary

Dear Editor,
My sincere thanks to JoAnn Mock, Linda Puckett, and all of the hard working people of the CCA Board, the artists, the musicians, and others, who gave Sand Creek Gallery such a fun and successful Grand Opening. Also, many thanks to every person who took the time to come by and wish us well. We appreciate it very much. My wife Wanda found out first hand why I love Post and the Caprock Area so much. On our way back to Lubbock after the party she said, "I've never seen so many friendly people".

Lending Money Within The Family

No matter how close and loving a family is, money is money. And affection may stay warmer if loans are written formally "at arm's length" to protect both parties especially taxwise.

Most basic: the loan must be in writing and the rate of interest at or near market, or the IRS will impute the unpaid interest as a gift to the borrower. A mortgage should appear on both tax returns; interest to one, a document to another. It should be formally recorded with the jurisdiction as a lien on the property.

A parent lending money to a child for a business venture needs protection--and a tax write off--in case the business fails. Two good choices: make a non-recourse loan, stating on the note that the lender will look only to collateral (or income from its sale) for repayment; or have the borrower incorporate the business and lend directly to the corporation. The borrower/relative is protected and won't be liable for payment on the debt from other funds; the lender/relative can write off the loan if it's not repaid.

Tax questions are important in many family decisions. You'll get good answers from the tax professionals at

There were Many individuals too numerous to name who gave hours of labor and for their help. We Say "THANKYOU", also.

We accomplished alot this year and we hope for your continued support so that we may continue to have a good organization for our children.

SILVER & GOLD Make New Friends and Keep The Old

Carillon has been a place where neighbors become family since 1975.

Carillon is people just like you. Some you've grown up with and some who are waiting to meet you for the first time.

Spend the morning with friends at our continental breakfast or at an exercise or painting class. Cook in your own kitchen or dine in the restaurant-style Skylight Inn, then relax in the library or the heated indoor pool.

Enjoy your own furnishings in your choice of a studio, one or two bedroom apartment, or a cozy cottage home. After you choose to buy or lease, the future is yours to enjoy at Carillon.

Visit all your friends at Carillon today.

Card of Thanks

The family of A.J. Stone would like to express their sincere and heartfelt thanks to all those who supported the family during their time of need. To all of you who brought food and flowers and kept us in your prayers, your time and efforts are greatly appreciated. A special thank you to Paul Jones and the choir for an uplifting and inspirational service. Thank you also to all the ladies of the church who contributed their time and efforts. Much thanks to Dee and Janet Justice and the funeral home for their compassion and attention to detail.

It is a great source of comfort and strength to know that there are so many who are willing to lend a helping hand and give all the support that is needed.

FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR IN-HOME FAMILY SUPPORT

The Community Services Division of the Lubbock State School still has available funds in its In-Home & Family Support (IHFS) Program. Persons with mental retardation, autism, and children under age 4 with developmental delay may be eligible for financial assistance if they have unmet needs relating to their disability.

This program is intended to help with special needs to maintain the disabled person in their home. Some examples of needs would be unmet medical or dental problems, purchase of therapy/mobility equipment, modifications to the home, transportation expenses, and respite.

For more information please contact a Case Manager at (806) 763-3415.

Post Group of Alcoholics Anonymous meets every Thursday night at the First Presbyterian Church, 910 W. 10th at 8 p.m. Closed meetings are held except on the last Thursday night of the month, which is an open meeting. Darla Doss appointed to state board by Gov. Ann Richards

Darla Doss, a 1965 graduate of Post High School and the current chief appraiser and tax assessor-collector for the Crosby Central Appraisal District, was recently appointed by Texas Governor Ann Richards to the Board of Tax Professional Examiners. Doss's appointment by the governor is to fill a vacancy on the board. Her term runs through March 1 of 1999.

Along with the new appointment, Doss currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Texas Association of Appraisal Districts, the Education Committee of TAAD and the Regional Trustee for the Great Plains Chapter of the Texas Association of Appraisal Districts. She is a certified instructor for the Property Tax Division for several of the required courses to attain certification as an appraiser and/or tax assessor/collector.

She began her ad valorem taxation career in November of 1987 with the city of Crosbyton. She moved to the Appraisal District in January of 1981, taking over the chief appraiser duties January 1, 1988.

Doss is the daughter of Louise Pierce and the late Sid Pierce, both formerly of Post.

Mrs. Ricky Bullock

Beth Stolle and Ricky Bullock exchange wedding vows July 24

Beth Cecilia Stolle and Ricky Don Bullock were united in marriage Saturday, July 24 at 6:30 p.m. at Grace Lutheran Church in Slaton. Rev. Paul Bortnem officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stolle of Slaton. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Karen Washington and Mr. Jerry Bullock, both of Tulia.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white jacquard brocade gown. The gown featured an open, off the shoulder neckline with short cap sleeves. Delicate Schiffler lace embellished with pearls and white sequins accented the bodice and the sleeves. A fitted basque waistline allowed the ball gown skirt to float to floor length where scalloped lace finished the hemline.

The maid of honor was the sister of the bride, Robin Stolle of Slaton. The brother of the groom, Rusty Bullock of Yukon, Oklahoma served as best man. Attendants were Gina Jenschke and Paige Bickford, both of San Angelo, Michele Vickers of Slaton, Chuck Jenschke and Cliff Wright, both of San Angelo, and Richard Payne of Mertzon.

Lorena Barnett of Canyon registered guests. Ushers were Joel Hagood of Levelland and Eric McClellan of Allen, both cousins of the bride. Karis and Kyle Cowen of Amarillo, cousins of the bride, served as candlelighters.

Aunt of the bride, Carol Cowen of Amarillo served as organist and Rev. Pat Dietrich of Hewitt was soloist.

A reception and dance followed the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Slaton High School, South Plains Jr. College, and Angelo State University. She is employed by San Angelo Independent School District as a second grade teacher. The groom is a graduate of Tulia High School and Angelo State University. He is a data processing analyst for GTE in San Angelo.

After a wedding trip to Jamaica, the newlyweds will reside in San Angelo.

Wallace receives Level II certification

Johnny Wallace, staff technician in Southwest Research Institute's Automotive Fuels and Fluids Research Department's Fleet Laboratory, has recently received notification of completion of written examination requirements for Level II certification in Industrial Instrumentation Engineering Technology. He is the son of Johnie Wallace and brother of Charles Wallace and Dicky Wallace of Post.

Wallace is a 16 year veteran at the San Antonio based firm. He worked at Automotive Proving Grounds in Pecos before joining Southwest Research Institute in 1976. As a Level II certified technician, Wallace joins an elite group of only 11 other certified Level II technicians in Texas. To achieve Level II certification he had to provide documentation to support exemplary past work experience in addition to passing 28 general and special written work elements. These discrete work elements form the basis for an evaluation of the candidate's knowledge and are based on industry-wide accepted job duties and associated responsibilities of industrial instrumentation engineering technicians.

In addition, Wallace has completed 22 of the required 28 additional work elements necessary for Level III certification. There are currently only three Level III technicians and none at Level IV, the highest level of NICET certification, in the state of Texas.

He earned his Associate's degree in Applied Science, Electro-Mechanical Technology, from Western Texas College in Snyder. He is currently enrolled at Our Lady of the Lake University, working toward a Bachelor of Art degree in management.

Wallace learned of NICET certification through his involvement with the Instrument Society of America. He is past president of the Alamo Section and is also director for the Automotive and Vehicular Division of the Industries and Sciences Department of ISA. He has recently been appointed to the position of District 7 ISA Annual Conference and Workshop Coordinator.

When not busy with Saturday NICET testing and ISA activities, he enjoys his involvement with the Southwest Players, a not-so-amateur theater group, the Habitat for Humanity program and is an avid recycler at home, work and at his church.

The Bible and Homosexuality

Homosexuality is constantly in the news. If you are for that lifestyle you are considered a loving, kind, understanding, non-judgmental, normal person. If you oppose it, you are a right wing radical or a fundamentalist that is filled with self righteousness and arrogance. You are unloving, unkind and certainly a judgmental person. You are un-American. Maybe we need to seek an authority higher than either group (gays or Christians).

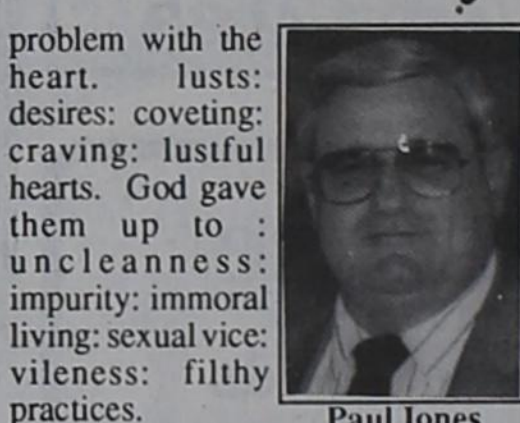

In the Bible, we read with all assurance that Jehovah is God, the creator and sustainer of the universe. Since He created man, with all of man's needs and desires, we can expect God to give us guidelines on how man is to live. HE DOES!

When we talk about the 'gay' lifestyle, we want to know what God says. We ask that you read passages on the subject. See Genesis 19; Leviticus 18:22; 20:13; Romans 1:18-ff; 1 Timothy 1:9, 10; 1 Corinthians 6:9-11. We are going to concern ourselves with the Roman passage, beginning in verse 18. We will see how different translations express God's law on the subject in view. Space will not allow us to quote the verses. We will just give the different words used by the translators.

Verse 18: Folks guilty of ungodliness and unrighteousness do what to the truth? suppress it; smother it; keep it down; hold it back; stifle it; repress and hinder it; make the truth inoperative. (God's word is truth and these folks cannot stand it, so they change it).

Verse 21: What kind of heart do these folks have? foolish: stupid; misguided; ignorant; senseless.

Verse 24: In this verse, we see what God gave them up to and the cause of it. Problems, caused by a problem with the heart. Lusts: desires: coveting: craving: lustful hearts. God gave them up to: uncleanness: impurity: immoral living: sexual vice: vileness: filthy practices.

Verse 26: God gave them up unto: vile affections: passions that were vile, disgraceful, shameful and dishonorable.

Verse 27: After writing of the lesbians and then the homosexuals, Paul says these did acts that were: unseemly: shameful: indecent: an abomination.

Verse 28: Notice the kind of mind God gave these over to: reprobate: base: outcast: disapproved: degenerate: Other translations call this result depraved thoughts: unworthy impulses.

This passage should remove all doubt as to what GOD says on the matter. God does not approve the gay lifestyle. It is repulsive in His sight.

It is interesting that 'gays' use the Bible to demand we have a loving, gently, compassionate and understanding attitude towards them. They use the Bible to say they love God and He will allow them into heaven, His very presence throughout eternity. These same folks then reject what the same Bible says on their lifestyle. Also, if you disagree with them, they forget the Bible injunctions on being loving, etc. to us.

We must love the 'gay' community, but hate their sinful lifestyle. The sin can be forgiven when repented of (1 Cor. 6:9-11), but the one practicing the sinful life will not go to heaven.

We need to remember the words of Jesus in John 12:48 "You may reject me and my sayings, but my words will judge you in the last day."

The hangup is SIN. SEXUAL SIN. It will ruin your life.

Another option is taking close to 1,000 square feet of floor space in an already crowded building, constructing an elevator and new restrooms. Rich Oller, the county's engineer for the project, estimates that this would cost close to $500,000.

Complicating this option though are several factors, not the least of which is the lack of blueprints for the existing building. Without these plans, engineers have little idea where utility lines are and Oller said finding them in the 18 inch thick concrete and steel floors would not be easy.

A final option is for the county to do nothing and ignore the ADA. This could prove the most costly of the three. ADA is a Constitutional law and is part of the Bill of Rights. As such, it carries more teeth than statutory law. Ignoring the law would open the county up to a bevy of potential lawsuits.

County planner Donald Windham said he has heard from different law firms that layers expect more lawsuits from ADA than they have had in recent years from workers comp.

Violating ADA would be violating a persons civil rights and the county could face fines as high as $1,000 a day until the offending building is brought into compliance. With the time it takes to plan, finance and construct the renovations, the county could find an additional $100,000 to 200,000 added to the cost of compliance.

The ramifications of voters turning down a bond issue would place the county at risk for a number of lawsuits, something Post businesswoman Patty Kirkpatrick said was a possibility.

"In a bond election people could vote nay or yea without taking into consideration whether we come into compliance," said Kirkpatrick.

"Do you do something pro-active or do you take the chance of being sued," asked Oller.

Which is the better option though is still up for debate. Judge Dalby asked "If we're going to do an expenditure, let's do it where it can help us maybe not 70 years down the road, but at least 20."

The Judge said initial estimates on the cost of the annex option could add close to $25 a year to the property taxes of homes with a valuation of $50,000.

He agreed to develop a more detailed cost estimate and a cost comparison of holding a bond election versus certificates of obligation and then hold another public meeting as well as getting the information out in the media.
