Rev. A. G. Chauncey Is Host At Dinner Here On Sunday

Rev. A. G. Chauncey, of Abilene, was host at a dinner served Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Chauncey, 1624 12th St., honoring the birthday of his wife, whose death occurred in their home in Abilene, 758 Amarillo Street, April 6, 1922.

Mrs. Chambliss' S. S. Class Has Tree And Program

The Sunday school class of Mrs. J. Chambliss, of the First Methodist church, had a Christmas tree and exchanged gifts Monday evening at the church. Miss Martha Alice Penny was the Santa Claus and before she distributed the gifts she made a clever talk advising the girls about their actions near Christmas time. Members of the class who did not attend sent gifts.

Clayton E. Lewis and Miss Verma Murkham and Hugh Charles Smith and Ruby Rogers (colored).

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hamilton and daughter, Betty, are spending the holidays in San Antonio. Mrs. J. F. Morris and Mrs. Harry Morris are visiting relatives in Fort Worth. Miss Lulu Hubbard of Littlefield, is spending a few days in the home of Mrs. Christine Hall and children. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Howard left Saturday night for Austin. Mrs. Velma O'Brien and son have gone to Alford to spend the holidays. W. M. Woodall of Austin, visited in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Neil H. Wright, Sunday.

Another of those cases where the poor despicable creature of a wife deserves to lose the spouse so temperamentally and intellectually her superior! So her acquaintances say.

Hit hark! Like most snap judgments, what lies behind it? Does any one stop to think? Suppose when they were married the husband was a poor clerk. In order to manage at all on his small salary his young wife had to be awake nights planning how to make ends meet. She did her own work and wore the cheapest clothes so he could make a decent appearance at the office. When the baby came she dismissed the nurse and got up and around before she really awoke. She started in again on the daily routine with the added burden of a child to care for. The chances are she did all the night nursing, too, so her husband could get his rest and be fresh for work in the morning.

Christmas Party Given Members Mary Helm Auxiliary

A Christmas party was given members of the Mary Helm auxiliary of the First Methodist church, Monday afternoon with Mesdames Dyke Cullum and Allen T. Stewart as joint hostesses at the home of Mrs. Cullum. Following the devotional led by Mrs. Claude Burrus, games were played. Miss Dorothy Cooper gave a reading and gifts were distributed from a Christmas tree. Lollypops dressed as miniature Santa Claus were plate favors with dainty refreshments.

Brief Social Items

Mrs. Roy Watson of New Castle, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Scott, 1961 Main Street. Mrs. J. T. Bullock and daughter, Leslie, are visiting in Amarillo. Lucas Schenck is leaving tonight for Fort Worth to visit during the holidays. Noel McCollom, Orville McCoy, Judson Todd, Paul Hargis and Marion Bentley have returned to Lubbock from College Station for the holidays. They are students in A. and M. college. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Martin and baby are spending the Christmas holidays here. Mr. Martin is principal of the consolidated high school at College Station. Marriage licenses were granted Monday to Dean Havins and Miss Lois Foster, W. C. Wilson, of Slaton, and Miss Nina E. Peebles, of Thorndale.

The Woman's Daily Editorial

AND USUALLY THERE'S A MIGHTY GOOD REASON! "But she hasn't kept up with her husband!" "You've heard it a thousand times—accent on the 'up'! That he has ramed for recreation, intellectual companionship, or into a higher social realm is inferred. That the wife is to blame also is inferred. Another of those cases where the poor despicable creature of a wife deserves to lose the spouse so temperamentally and intellectually her superior! So her acquaintances say. Hit hark! Like most snap judgments, what lies behind it? Does any one stop to think? Suppose when they were married the husband was a poor clerk. She started in again on the daily routine with the added burden of a child to care for. The chances are she did all the night nursing, too, so her husband could get his rest and be fresh for work in the morning. Suppose, as her family increased, she found less opportunity than ever to dress herself decently, or to keep up with her reading or her friends. At night no doubt she was too tired or too busy to give any time to physical or mental improvement. She got out of touch with things and people and as the years rolled on she became conscious of her shortcomings. She lost her poise and self-confidence when others were about. Her husband, daily in touch with business, people and affairs, didn't know the meaning of petty jealousy. He was confident and self-possessed. He developed an air of a man of the world. He saw opportunities—luck perhaps was with him. A little capital may have been his. Invest, thanks to his wife's thrift, and he made good. "A big man! A smart fellow!" say his friends. A middle aged woman finds it difficult to adjust herself to new conditions. A man who has come to it gradually needs no new adjustment. But he is inclined very often to think he needs new thrills and seeks another to help him find them. Then the world says that his wife couldn't keep up with her husband. Well, if the devil is saving an ex-

Miss Betty Richardson Hostess To S. S. Class Monday

Miss Betty Richardson, assisted by her mother, Mrs. H. D. Richardson, and by Mrs. M. M. Dupre, entertained her Sunday school class of the First Methodist church Monday afternoon. The party was at the Richardson home, 12215 16th Street. Games were played and gifts were distributed from a tree, which was decorated for the occasion. In addition to the presents there were sacks of candy for each one in attendance and wafers and Jello were served. Mrs. Dupre is the teachers of this class. Among those present were Maxine Burrus, Louise Burrus, Lella Lane, Dell Kennedy, Myrtle McCarthy, Verma Page Partain, Josephine Powell, Sofia Alle Hardgraves, Irene Wilson, Lorena Odum, Sarah Sue Stewart, Margaret Griffith, Louraine Richards, Eloise Smith and Beth Holland.

PHYSICIAN'S BODY SENT TO GEORGIA

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 21. (AP)—The body of Captain Frank A. Wynne, 55, physician, army officer and advertising man, who died here last night, was to be sent today to Cedartown, Georgia, for burial. Captain Wynne came here from Atlanta, Ga., where he had been a practicing physician until his health failed. In Atlanta he married Miss Mamie Polson, daughter of Montgomery M. Polson, one of the foremost of Georgia poets and writers. First serving as a captain in the Mexican border campaign, Captain Wynne added to his military record in the world war. He was a captain-quartermaster at Camp Bowie, Fort Worth until he went to the machine gun school at Leavenworth, Kansas. Transferred to the machine gun service, he went overseas and fought through major engagements of the Argonne and Meuse campaigns. SEEK TO DISMISS OIL CHARGES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—Motions to dismiss the Fall-Sinclair Teapot Dome conspiracy indictments were taken under advisement today by Justice Jennings Bailey after the conclusion of arguments in the District of Columbia supreme court. Levi Cook, in behalf of Fall, said the 88th congress was a "grand inquisition and that any trial based upon its actions was in the nature of the case not due process of law. If Mr. Fall faces trial in this honorable court and is acquitted he and his counsel are denounced as abject traitors in the senate of the United States," he said. "If we make a motion, we are accused of seeking delay. If we do nothing, we are guilty." Justice Bailey will rule on the motion at 10 o'clock, Thursday morning. Meantime arraignment of the defendants and the fixing of a trial date will be delayed. Arguing the dismissal proposal today, attorneys for Albert B. Fall and Harry P. Sinclair declared the whole proceeding should be invalidated as not constituting "due process of law" and Owen J. Roberts, of government counsel, replied that the move was "unquestionably dilatory."

Nursery Rhyme Of Banbury Cross To Go

BANBURY, Eng., Dec. 21. (AP)—Unimaginative townfolk are about to cut an old nursery rhyme adrift. Banbury Cross, to which many an American youngster has ridden a cock horse, will be sacrificed to Progress. It stands, a heavily ornamental obstacle to traffic even to such privileged characters as fine ladies who ride white horses and who have rings on their fingers and bells on their toes. Therefore it will be removed. The cross was erected in honor of the marriage of the Princess Royal of England, the Kaiser's mother, to Frederick, the Crown Prince of Prussia.

All Resources Used In Rescuing Miners

HAELTON, Pa., Dec. 21. (AP)—Mines units, all available resources, human and mechanical, in the work of rescuing five men, entombed for eight days in a mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, in excess of $100,000. Some ties bind the residents of the little mining villages in the Pennsylvania mountains, so when news came to the village of Tombeckon that a creek had broken through its banks and flooded a mine there was an immediate response to the call for relief workers, and the general manager of the mine labored by the side of his men.

Waterfront Boy Is Said Lured By Sea

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 21. (AP)—Boys who watch ships go down to sea level in ships. So a survey of Orleans Parish public schools has revealed to Miss Emma Pritchard Cooley, director of vocational guidance. Boys living along the waterfront, or attending schools near the river, from whose windows they could watch sea-going vessels on the Mississippi escorted by tugs, showed a decided tendency toward nautical pursuits, Miss Cooley found. The survey revealed, she said, that environment to a considerable degree is the deciding factor in determining what occupation a boy will select.

Tames Wild Skunks For Value Of Furs

WABENO, W. Va., Dec. 21. (AP)—Caring for more than 400 skunks and colony of about 100 muskrats proves to be a full time occupation of William Stivers and L. C. Brahat, who observing the decreasing number of fur-bearing animals, established probably the only skunk farm in this section. The skunk, though carefully avoided by those acquainted with its habits, takes to domestication more easily than many other animals, according to the owners and it is even possible to tame skunks raised in the wild.

BREAK ICE JAM

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—Three powerful little tugs and the giant ferry Saint Marie ended the greatest ice blockade in the history of the Great Lakes navigations when they freed 100 vessels which had been held a week in a jam of ice.

Let the Merry Christmas Bells Ring Out

Their musical tones upon the frosty air carry melody to the hearts and minds of our friends everywhere. And to their happy chimes we would add our heartiest wishes to be borne along with their other messages of joy not only to our friends but to your friends, bespeaking for each a Christmas rich in the association of friends and loved ones, merry with the lighter joys of the season, and musical as the voices of the bells with laughter that will ring in your hearts throughout the New Year which we hope will be happy, prosperous and fruitful for you.

BIG BASEBALL TRADE SHIFTS CARD MANAGER

NEW YORK SAID WINNER DESPITE TRANSFER OF FRISCH AND RING

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The biggest deal in modern baseball history, involving players whose diamond worth is estimated at more than half a million dollars having Rogers Hornsby of the world's champion Cardinals to share the metropolitan spotlight with Babe Ruth.

The transaction was completed last night over the telephone after Hornsby and President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis team had failed to bridge a gap resulting from Rogers' demand for a three year contract. Although rumblings of negotiation for Hornsby's services by Manager John McGraw had reached baseball row, many observers believed that Breadon would be unwilling to part with his brilliant second baseman, the first manager to bring St. Louis a pennant in 35 years.

Said Worth the Price
Baseball men today insisted that Hornsby was worth more to the Giants than the players McGraw gave in exchange—Infielder Frankie Frisch and Pitcher Jimmy Ring. They maintained that a cash payment of at least $100,000 in addition to Frisch and Ring would be required to satisfy the Cardinals. Presidents Breadon and Charles A. Stoneham of the Giants denied, however, that any money payment had been involved. Hornsby's value is estimated at $250,000.

For several years McGraw has cast longing eyes on Hornsby, six-time National league batting champion. A few years ago the Giant manager offered $250,000 and several players for the great Cardinal second sacker.

Frisch accepted the deal as one of the breaks of the game. One of baseball's fastest and best hitting infielders, he is indeed that he would not balk at the shift to St. Louis. "It's pretty hot out there, but I suppose I'll play," he said.

"Doesn't Look Right"—Hornsby
Hornsby said that "it doesn't look right" to be traded from a club he had pitched to the world's championship but "if they want to trade me, it's all right with me."

He intimated that the trade would not be the "end of the matter," but would not explain what he meant by the statement. The trade, he said, "is not a pretty good exchange, but I don't know."

Breadon, however, was more optimistic. "I am sorry over the loss of Hornsby, but I have obtained a great star to take his place at second base."

In A New Role

Now it is Captain Matt McGrath, if you please. The former Olympic champion who not so many years ago starred in the hammer throw and shot put when not patrolling his boat or handling traffic, was recently elevated to the rank of captain in the New York City police department. Here we have him at his desk in the West 30th street station.

Billy Evans Says:

Give 'Em New Faces

"When you can't give the public a winner, the next best thing is to give them new faces."

Such was the remark made to me one day last summer by a major league owner. Said owner's ball club was having a tough time of it.

Since the close of the season it seems a lot of major league clubs have adopted the above expressed theory and they have started with the manager.

Several clubs in the majors, almost half of them, have made a shift in their leaders, five in the American, two in the National.

Many Changes Certain

When a ball club signs up a new manager, it is a certainty that a number of changes will be made in the playing personnel.

Every manager has his likes and dislikes in baseball. In taking over a new club, he first seeks to eradicate any evils that he believes exist, then infuse a certain amount of new blood.

I look for a number of trades to be made before the opening of the season, in which the new managers will play a most prominent role.

Very often a change of scenery adds greatly to the ability of some player who seemed to be in a rut amidst old surroundings.

Concrete Examples

Take the cases of Owen Bush and Dan Howley, who will manage the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Browns next season.

Last season Howley managed the Toronto club of the International league. At the opening of the season he told me that he believed he could win, due largely to the addition of Steve O'Neill to his catching staff.

"I look for Steve to get great work out of my pitching staff, for it needs a brainy veteran backstop to properly handle it."

Pitching Great Asset

Toronto won the pennant and Howley gave much of the credit to Steve O'Neill. When Howley was named to lead the Browns, the very first thought he did was sign Steve.

I understand O'Neill will receive considerably more as Howley's assistant than he did when he was the best catcher in the American League.

Owen Bush, as his first step, secured Leon Stange, who was the star catcher of the Detroit club when Bush was the big noise at short.

Both Howley and Bush realize the value of good pitching. They will put it up to O'Neill and Stange to see that they "get it."

Case of Carrigan

Then there is the case of Bill Carrigan at Boston. His coming will do much to restore the prestige of the Red Sox in that city.

The fans there remember Carrigan as the developer of great pitchers like Mays, Wood, Ruth, Leonard, Shore, Penneck and others.

Carrigan's material is limited but the fans will have far more patience with him than with any other man who could have been named for the position.

They will set back and give him time before turning thumbs down. Variety is a great stimulant and for that reason baseball should profit by the many managerial changes that have been made.

Seymour Telephone Man Electrocuted

SEYMOUR, Texas, Dec. 21. (AP)—A. H. Furra, 30, storekeeper of the Seymour office of the Haskell Telephone company, was instantly killed by electrocution today. He had gone up a pole in the rear of the telephone office and was discovered dangling from high tension wires.

Delaney Wins Easy Victory Over Bud Gorman

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., was in step with leading contenders for the heavyweight crown of Gene Tunney today as a result of a sensational two-round triumph over Bud Gorman of Wisconsin at Jersey City, N. J.

Conceding 25 pounds to his rugged foe, the light heavyweight champion last night stopped Gorman after four minutes and 35 seconds of fighting. The referee intervened after Gorman was dropped twice.

Delaney held even in the first round and cut about the nose at the outset of the second, suddenly lashed out with a right smash to the chin which toppled the 200 pound Gorman for a count of eight. Another right drive sent him down for a toll of five. Groggy and bleeding, Gorman staggered to his corner after the intervention of the referee, his handlers requiring several minutes to fully revive him.

Sparring to an accompaniment of boos and cat calls, Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, world's bantam champion, unrecognized as such in some states, received a unanimous newspaper decision over Petie Mack, Jersey City, featherweight, in the 10 round semi-final. Rosenberg, who scaled 124½ pounds, did his most effective hitting in the fifth and sixth rounds when he staggered Mack.

Tunney Next?

Jack Delaney, of Bridgeport, Conn., last night won an easy victory over Bud Gorman, sending the Wisconsin fighter to the mat in the second round twice, once for a count of eight, and again for five. The bout was then stopped by the referee. Delaney is now touted by his friends as a leading contender for a bout with Gene Tunney, heavyweight champ.

almost exclusively in order to get by. Sent to the Oakland club of the Coast League, Pruett changed his style, developed a pretty fair fast ball and a mighty good curve, resorting to the "screw ball" in the pinches only.

"That fellow Pruett sure had my number," remarked Ruth recently in discussing the ease with which the collegian struck him out.

"I knew when I stepped to the plate that I wasn't going to get a fast one to hit, nothing but the 'deceptive' screw ball.' Knowing this I believed would enable me to connect but I always just missed. Pruett threw me only one fast ball in all the games he worked against us and I hit that one for the circuit."

"If I had only waited him out, he wouldn't have made me look so foolish as the pitches at which I swung and missed were usually balls. However, they looked so soft as they floated up to the plate I just couldn't resist the temptation."

He says he is up in the big show to stay this time.

Hub Pruett Back To Big Tent And Ruth Thoughtful

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—Herb Pruett, former southpaw of the St. Louis Browns, who jumped into fame overnight by striking out Babe Ruth the first three times he faced him, is to return to the majors after being shunted back to the bushes for a couple of years.

Pruett, who was a jinx to Babe Ruth during his stay with the Browns is to return to the National League as a member of the Phillies, for which the Bambino is very thankful.

The career of Pruett reads like fiction. A scout of the St. Louis Browns giving the once-over to two independent teams down in Missouri, picked Pruett as a big league prospect rather than the pitcher he was sent to look at. The offer was so attractive that Pruett gave up his college course at Missouri to become a big leaguer.

What is known in baseball as a "screw ball" was Pruett's best bet. It acts like the fadeaway, and thrown by a southpaw is poison for a left-handed batsman. During the season of 1922 Pruett struck out Ruth 16 out of 11 times, Ruth hitting a home run on the only occasion he wasn't set down on strikes.

The "screw ball" is hard on the arm. Pruett's slight build, of physique, couldn't stand the strain of using it.

Clark Joins 20th Couple In Wedlock

Justice W. A. Clark has married 20 couples since he took oath of office last month; the 20th wedding being held in his office this afternoon when he joined a negro couple in the holy bonds of wedlock.

"I have married people in the telephone office, all over the court house and in theatres, but so far I have never married a couple in jail. I am ready though, and will tie the knot when called," he said.

General Baseball Cleaning Intimated

CHICAGO, Dec. 21. (AP)—Intimations that baseball has had a new house cleaning as drastic as that which outlawed eight stars from the game several years ago, are given in a story published in the Chicago Tribune today.

The action, the Tribune says, came after months of investigation, but the paper declared that details of the investigation, reported to have been carried on by a corps of detectives, the names of the players involved, and the league in which the reported shakeup occurred, had not been given out.

Reporters who questioned Keneaw M. Landis, baseball commissioner, were unable to obtain any comment on the rumored baseball situation, beyond a statement that the baseball head might have something to say today at 4 o'clock.

Hitting Sports Highspots With James R. Dow

Well, Breadon could not see his way clear for a raise in the Rajah's salary for the coming year so he trades the playing-manager champion leader to the New York Giants. As far as the Texas lad is concerned he figures that the trade will come out all O. K.

The recent trade of Roger Hornsby to New York will bring about much criticism by the sport critics over the nation.

Is no difference to the high school recruits for the quintet—training is going on just the same even if it is Christmas holidays. The Westover five will make a trip over Eastern New Mexico next week meeting high school teams of that section.

Who is going to suggest any idea as to how Lubbock may have a base ball club? This column is open for suggestion and will gladly publish any that may be sent in if the writer signs his name. Lets get something started for 1927 baseball in Lubbock.

Bellfonte and Randolph will meet Christmas day at Cisco. This game will bring many people to Cisco for the grid performance. The Bellfonte crew is the champion of the National Academies of America.

"Sheriff Miller and Ernie Wilson, two former Texas Tech lads, are playing with the Randolph crew at Cisco. They have both had a good year in football there.

The Bellfonte-Randolph game will likely bring the close of the football season in Texas. It is about the last scheduled game to be played in college circles.

It has been suggested to me several times that the members of the city league in baseball this past summer get together and form a basket ball league. The suggestion is a good one—but where would there be a place sufficient for a basket ball court?

Yanks Get Collins In White Sox Trade

NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 21. (AP)—The New York World says the New York Yanks today completed two deals sending infielder Aaron Ward to the Chicago White Sox and pitchers Sam Jones and Walter Beal to the St. Louis Browns.

In exchange for Ward, the New York team will get Jack Grabowski, catcher, and an infielder from the Chicago club. Eddie Collins, depose White Sox manager, may be the second player to come here in the exchange.

For Jones and Beal, St. Louis will exchange Cedric Durst, outfielder, a lefthand pitcher and two other players, the World says. Joe Girard is mentioned as likely to be the moundman.

Park Planned For New Power Project

SEATTLE, Dec. 21. (AP)—A national park rivaling Yellowstone and Yosemite parks in beauty, is planned by J. D. Ross, Seattle electrical superintendent, in conjunction with a $75,000,000 power project now under construction in the Cascades, one hundred miles from here.

A 365 foot dam on Ruby creek will form a lake reaching four miles to another dam, 320 feet high. The higher dam will create another lake extending northward into Canada. The lakes will be utilized for an inland tourist route, winding through a rugged section blanketed with varicolored vegetation, and timber.

Elevators will hold passengers from one lake to another. Fishing, boating, swimming and camping will be available. The power plants will be beautiful landscaped gardens and parks.

Three Ways Offered For Reading Bible

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 21. (AP)—Penny Bible books, the broadcasting of a chapter a day, and the printing of a chapter in newspapers constitute part of the plan for a simultaneous Bible reading "revival" for the first two months of the new year.

The plan is sponsored by the Commission on Evangelism of the Federal Council of Churches. Copies at a cent each of the books of Luke and Acts, which will be read during the period, will be furnished by the American Bible society of New York. Newspapers have been asked to reproduce a chapter a day. Listening to the reading of a chapter over the radio will count as one day's reading.

DALLAS—Federal Judge Meek appointed Judge C. E. Davidson of Ozona as receiver for a 30,000 acre pasture in Crockett county in connection with suit of the Interstate Cattle Loan Company of Kansas City against Paul Willoughby, Southwest Texas ranchman. Defendant was restrained from collecting pasturage money. The pasture is owned by the loan company and is in possession of Willoughby.

AUSTIN—The prison commission reported 3,210 prisoners in the state penitentiary.

GOVERNMENT IN ITALY DECRIES PIUS CRITICISM

ROME, Dec. 21.—The Italian government considers "strange surprising and uncalled for" "Pope Pius' pointed criticism of Fascism's religious policies contained in yesterday's allocation, the Associated Press today was informed by a government spokesman.

The Papal declaration, which is felt to have eliminated any hope of a speedy reconciliation between church and state in Italy, came as such a shock to political circles, generally that the greatest reticence is being observed. While the newspapers have not printed a single word of comment.

Violence Charge Denied
Incidents of violence against Catholic individuals and organizations, upon which the pontiff based his criticism, it was declared, are definitely things of the past, having occurred as an spontaneous and momentary reaction lasting for but a few days after the most recent attempt on Mussolini's life.

The true source of the Holy See's criticism, said the informant, lies in a recognition of the growing strength of Fascist organizations for youths—the Benettoni, for boys of 8 to 14, and the Vanguardisti, for youths of 14 to 18. These organizations, it was said, it is feared by the Vatican as anti-religious, monopolistic and strong competitors of Catholic youth organizations such as the Catholic boy scouts.

To Strengthen Training
Fascism intends to continue to strengthen its training of the youths of the nation, but feels that black shirt boys, instead of clashing with Catholic boys, can live on terms of friendliness provided the latter scrupulously

SAINT AND SINNER

BY ANNE AUSTIN COPYRIGHT 1926 NEA

The chief of police laid an affectionate hand on Bob Hathaway's shoulder as he shook hands. "Hello, Hathaway. Neat business. I've known your nose for twenty years. One of the finest men on God's green footstool."

"This is Faith Lane, Mr. Morehouse," Bob introduced with a flourish. "Farrel insisted that she come with us. She's naturally pretty much cut up and I'd appreciate it immensely if you'd get through with her as quickly as possible. Her mother's a very sick woman heart trouble. Could you see Miss Lane now and let her go?"

"Sure, Hathaway. No need to keep the young lady waiting. I'll be right with you, miss. But I thought maybe you could give us a line on your sister's whereabouts."

"Cherry didn't go to Mr. Morehouse," Faith began eagerly, warmed by his friendliness. "Please don't concentrate on her and overlook clues that would point to the real murderer."

"Reckon we won't overlook anything," Chief Morehouse grinned faintly. "Just come in here, Miss Lane."

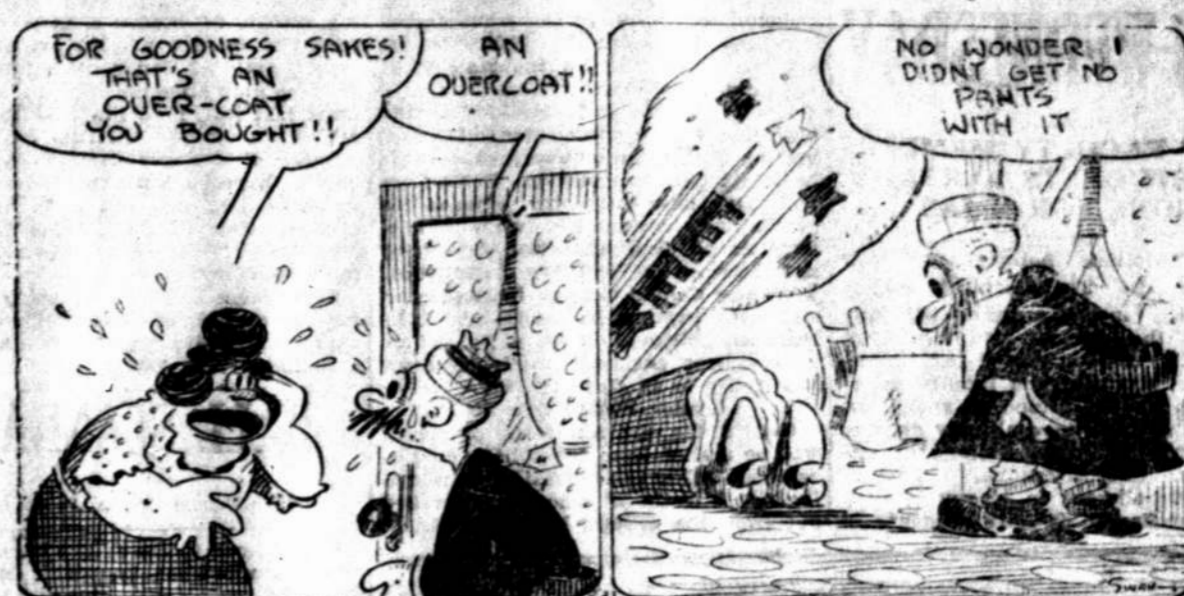

"Don't see why not, Bob. If you don't try any monkey business," the chief grinned.

TECH STUDENTS BEGIN HOLIDAY ON WEDNESDAY

MANY FACULTY MEMBERS AND STUDENTS ALREADY GONE FOR XMAS

The Christmas holidays officially begin at the Technological college Wednesday morning and officially close on the evening of January 2. Dean J. M. Gordon stated this morning that most students and faculty members, who do not intend to spend the time in Lubbock, have already departed, however, with the closing of examinations this afternoon.

Enrollment is Heavy
The enrollment of 1,374 students in the four schools of the college this fall was an increase of a little more than 50 percent over the enrollment of 915 during the fall session last year. Probably about forty or fifty additional students will enroll with the opening of the winter term, approximately one-half the increase of last year. E. L. Dohoney said, the smaller number being due to financial conditions, he stated. There was an increase of 85 students last January.

A few courses will be added at the beginning of the winter term of school but no definite announcements could be made this morning by Dean Gordon. One new instructor, known as Inverton, is to assume his duties in January as physical education instructor and director of military instruction. A former Center College football star, and army captain, he comes here from Bucknell College, Lewisburg, Pa., where he has been assistant coach for three years. He is in the city now.

Grades Mailed Dec. 30
Grades for the fall term of school will be mailed from the college on December 30. Mr. Gordon said this morning. A bulletin is also being mailed out from the college, beginning today.

This gives, in addition to the general information concerning the college, specific data concerning the fall term of school this year.

Two hundred and ninety Texas cities were represented in the enrollment this fall in addition to 30 cities in Alabama, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma and Wyoming. With 24 students, New Mexico sent the largest number of students here outside of Texas, with Oklahoma sending nine students. During the fall term last fall, students enrolled from 217 Texas towns. Amarillo led in the number of students enrolled from one city both years, with the exception of Lubbock, and this fall there were 15 students from Dallas. This fall 453 counties in Texas sent students here, the new bulletin states.

Enrollment in the four schools this fall is as follows: Agriculture, 101; engineering, 265; home economics, 129; and liberal arts, 783.

BALL SCANDAL

ed conditions in the future require it," the commissioner remarked. He refused to amplify the statement.

Denies Knowledge of Bet
Cobb, here with Speaker, for a hearing granted by Judge Landis declared today that he did not know of the bet until long afterwards and that the bet score of the contest which Detroit won 9 to 5 would show that neither he nor Speaker could have been implicated in throwing the game.

Cobb related that "Dute" Leonard, Detroit pitcher, and Joe Wood, Cleveland pitcher, had bet $100 against $420 that Detroit, then in third place, would win from the second place Cleveland club on September 25, 1919. Wood did not play in the game, Cobb said. Speaker, accused of having knowledge of the plan for Cleveland to lose made three hits, two of which were doubles, while Cobb, charged with knowledge of a prearranged Detroit victory, but one hit in five times at bat. Boland pitched for Detroit.

"That ought to show," Cobb declared, "that neither Speaker nor I were in on it."

Didn't Bet, Cobb Says
Cobb did not bet on the ball game, he said.

"I have played baseball for 23 years," Cobb said with a catch in his voice.

"I couldn't think of anything but win every year, every month, every week, and every day, I did my best level best to play good ball and to live so that I could play good ball. I never bet on an American League ball game in my life. I don't believe anybody ever played the game any harder or cleaner or squarer than I am involved in this smudge seven years after the thing happened. My position is vindicated in the testimony and so is that of Speaker. I refer to baseball fans of the country to my record in baseball. I am proud of it and I will leave my case to them."

Cobb said that Leonard, now in California, came east last September and sold to American league officials for $2,000 a letter from Wood and one from Cobb, written, the latter declared, in all innocence.

"Speaker and I have tried repeatedly to get Leonard to face us at a hearing and Landis has tried any number of times to get Leonard here from the coast, but he would not come."

Involved Leonard's Charge
The investigation involved a specific charge made by Leonard, the Tiger pitcher. In pursuing the investigation Commissioner Landis failed to obtain Leonard's agreement upon a meeting place and finally went to Leonard's ranch near Sanger, Calif., and interviewed him October 29, this year.

The substance of Leonard's statement to the commissioner follows:

"After the first game (meaning the first one of the regularly scheduled games to be played between Detroit and Cleveland) Detroit on September 24-25, 1919, Cobb, Speaker, and Wood and I happened to meet and get together under the stand and of course the talk was about baseball and that is (Detroit) wanted to finish third."

Says Agreed to Set-up
"Speaker said 'don't worry about tomorrow's game, we (meaning Cleveland) have got second place cinched and you will win tomorrow, and every body then just agreed that if it was going to be a setup that we might as well get some money on it."

"Then we talked about getting the money down on the game, that is how to get up the dough, and how much we could put up, and Cobb said he would send West down to see us."

"I was to put up $1,000 and as I remember it Cobb $2,000 and Wood and Speaker $1,000 each. I had pitched that day and was through for the season, and so I gave my check for $1,500 to Wood at the ball park and went to the hotel packed my things and I left that night for Independence, Mo."

Received Letter and Check
"Several days later on I received the Wood letter at Independence with a check for $1,620. He wrote that West was only able to get up part of the money and that my share of the win was only $120. During the talk under the stand about the next day's game, Speaker said he would go in and pitch himself if necessary."

"There was not very much talk and we did not stay there very long. There was just the four of us there and no other player was in on it. When I met Wood the next spring I said to him 'what do you think, Cobb wrote me that he did not get up any money on that game' and Wood's says 'he told me the same thing'."

Quartet Heard On Pro Law Charge

George Henry, W. A. Duke and wife, and M. Montoni, arrested Saturday night by members of the sheriff's department on charges of violating the prohibition law, will be given examining trials late this afternoon.

At the time of their arrest the four were engaged in the manufacture of liquor, and a large quantity of whiskey, as well as the still itself, were taken by the officers. Approximately 70 empty fruit jars were also found on the premises.

Officers are of the opinion that there is more liquor on the premises, but they were unable to find it on the night of the raid. The 15 quarts brought in is sufficient for evidence, they say.

O'DELL ROBBERY

Huffman is alleged to have attempted to cover the officer with a gun while clutching more than $1,000 in bills in his free hand. One bundle of $10 bills amounting to $500 had a wrapper bearing the name of the City National bank, Wichita Falls, Texas, and was stamped with the date November 23, 1926. The money taken from the men totalled $3,629.56 and a bill of sale on their automobile accounted for $400.

Sheriff Ryder said he had no information as to the robbery of a bank at Odell, Texas, last Saturday.

Wanted At Odell
A special dispatch to the Omaha World Herald from Wichita Falls said three men were wanted at Odell, fifty miles from that place, on a charge of robbing an Odell bank of which the City National bank at Wichita Falls is a correspondent. The robbers were said to have been seen escaping in Oklahoma in a sedan. Two of the men were described as being young and the third elderly.

Although Stratton was not armed, he admitted ownership of a gun found in the coupe.

The men refused to talk when questioned, other than to say they came from Juarez. They were to be questioned further today.

Part of Loot Found
Some of the loot from the Odell bank previously had been found hidden on a farm near Albus, Okla. This included $200 in one-cent pieces, $100 in dimes, $25 in pennies and $30 in mutilated currency.

ARMY FLIGHT

to duck to save himself from being hit.

Order of Flight
Then followed the other machines at minute intervals, the San Francisco, with Captain Ira C. Eaker and Lieut. Muir S. Fairchild, the Detroit with Captain Clinton F. Woolsey and Lieut. John W. Benton, and the St. Louis with Lieut. E. S. Thompson and L. D. Weddington.

The ships circled about the field, each awaiting until the one following had caught up. When they were all bunched they spread out in a V-shaped formation and headed toward San Antonio. They circled the Alamo City and were then off to the south for the Mexican border, which they expected to reach before 2 p. m. General Patrick's plane was about half a mile in the lead, then came the New York at the apex of the V-shaped formation.

The pilots waved goodbye to the throng on the ground as they rose into the clear air.

Escort Planes Follow
There were about a dozen escort machines in the air following the flight planes. The roar of the motor was like thunder as the ships passed overhead.

Once on the runway, the heavy machines with their 4,000 pounds of weight, wanted no time to be free of the flying field mud. The "dog" ship's wheels bounded along the concrete and headed for the air at 10:51 a. m. The New York was in the air at 10:52. Between the take off of the New York and that of the last ship there was an interval of only four minutes, the St. Louis going up at 10:56 a. m.

High officers of the army were present to see the ship away.

Planes Brought Out
KELLY FIELD SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 21.—The Pan-American flight planes were taken from their hangar here at 9 a. m., and wheeled down the concrete runway, along the smooth mile stretch of which they were to take off on the long flight.

The ships were trim and clean after several score workmen had given them a night of "beauty doctoring." The grease parts shone in the light of a pale morning sun, which struggled through clouds to dispel the gloom that had hung over the flying fields for days. The mud which held the planes in its tenacious grasp yesterday was gone, and the wheels moved smoothly down the runway.

Patrick to Lead
It was announced that General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the air service had planned to go up to lead the squadron for a few miles. He expected to fly out about fifteen miles in the reserve ship. This ship then was to be brought back to Kelly Field to deposit the general, and the plan was for Lieut. H. A. Halverson, the ship's pilot, to take it on to Brownsville.

A tire on the ship New York had a

Reach Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Dec. 21 (AP)—Flying in perfect V-formation the airplanes of the Pan-American flight passed over Point Isabel at 1:36 p. m., and turned their sharp prows down and lighted on the placid waters of the Laguna Madre twenty miles to the east of Brownsville, seven miles above the mouth of the Rio Grande.

The waters of the Laguna were sparkling in the bright Texas sunshine as the huge amphibian planes gently came to rest, completing the first lap of their long voyage and the last landing in the United States until their circuit of the Latin-American countries had been completed.

Four army escort planes which accompanied the flyers, left the squadron to the east of Brownsville and landed at the Fort Brown landing field in Brownsville.

A special train which had been sent from Brownsville will bring the aviators to Brownsville. They were greeted by Mayor A. B. Cole, Colonel William T. Johnson, commander at Fort Brown, General B. Serrato, commander of the Matamoros military district and General Gabriel R. Cervera, commander of the Matamoros garrison.

The aviators will be feted tonight at the Hotel El Jardin, recently completed half million dollar structure, where they will meet border military and civil officers from both sides of the Rio Grande.

Reported Ranch Raid Denied By Manager

EAGLE PASS, Texas, Dec. 21 (AP)—Flat denial that the Cleote ranch was raided by bandits said to have driven off cattle and horses, was issued here today by F. C. Stockley, manager of the ranch, 90 miles from the border in Mexico.

Stockley said he had just left the ranch leaving his wife and babies there "unalarmed," and that the reports as quoted in a dispatch from Del Rio Monday, were absolutely unfounded.

The Del Rio story said Mexican officials had refused to confirm or deny the story.

DALLAS.—Red Grange and four other members of the New York professional football team say they made too much noise too late at night and were not drunk and disorderly when arrested here early Monday.

Woman Makes Bond In Husband's Death

LONGVIEW, Texas, Dec. 21 (AP)—Mrs. John Clary, whose fear of her husband, John Clary, she says, caused her to crush his skull with a hammer Sunday night at their home near Kilgore, was at liberty today under a $1,000 bond following her arraignment yesterday in district court on a manslaughter charge.

Clary was found by officers with his skull crushed from the blows of a carpenter's hammer. Mrs. Clary surrendered yesterday and claimed she attacked her husband because of his cruel treatment and fear for her own life. One of her sons, was at home at the time, but did not witness the killing.

MENU FOR XMAS IS TAKEN FROM OLDEN HISTORY

TRADITIONAL TURKEY IS REPLACED BY MENU OF HISTORICAL VIANDS

(By the Associated Press)
 LONDON, Dec. 21.—Francis Lairy, genial chef of the Savoy Hotel, master of the mixing spoon and baking oven, scholar and food artist, has rebelled against the orthodox Christmas dinner he has been designing for the past twenty years.

Instead of the traditional turkey and plum pudding, he has prepared a Christmas menu of historical significance including the choice viands of Cardinal Richelieu, Queen Elizabeth, Henry IV, King John (the first English gourmet) and Catherine de Medici.

"The Christmas dinner, like nothing else in the world must be a thing of imagination, sentiment and perhaps a little mystery," Lairy said earnestly, in his kitchen.

Offers Historical Delicacies
 "No meal in the world has had such a history as our Christmas dinner. Why not offer a meal, every dish of which used to be the favorite Christmas delicacy of great historical figures?"

He produced his menu. It read: Le Pot Henry IV, Les filets de Saule Richelieu; Le Dindonnet a l'Anglaise a la Reine Elizabeth; Cranberry Sauce; Les Petits Choux aux Marrons; Christmas Pudding flambe Joyeux; Doria Fiorantina de Catherine de Medici; Le Mousse au Cيقوت; Les Gourmandises du Pere Noel.

Tells How They're Made
 "The soup has a history going back to the battlefield of Arny-le-duc, where Henry IV distinguished himself in 1549," he explained. "It was first made by King Henry's soldiers on the battlefield, under his instructions. Simple, it is made from capon flesh and is flavored with rice and tomatoes."

"The sole was one of Cardinal Richelieu's favorite dishes. The filets of sole, after being buttered, are braised in white wine for about 12 minutes over a slow fire, with pepper and salt. A sauce is made of fish stock, white wine and butter, boiled to the consistency of syrup, and it should be poured through a muslin before use. An additional garniture of green marenne oysters completes the delicacy."

New Turkey Trimmings
 Lairy's attention was called to the Turkey which he had included on the menu.

"Ah," said Lairy, "that, alas, is a concession to those conservatives who would insist on its presence. But it is made according to an old recipe originated in 1572 when Turkey became an English dish. In those days it was stuffed with sausage meat and bread-crumbs and it is still the best way to serve turkey."

"Catherine de Medici's favorite sweet is made similar to our Christmas pudding, with all kinds of fruits, highly spiced and baked to a dark rich mixture. Catherine made it peculiarly her own by covering the whole with almond paste, laying the mixture in the paste like a tart."

WELLINGTON C. C. LEADERS NAMED

(Special to the Journal)
 WELLINGTON, Texas, Dec. 21.—At a meeting of the Wellington Chamber of Commerce, Thursday, December 16, the following officers and directors were elected for 1927: S. H. Pinkston, president; W. H. Lynn, vice-president; Directors: W. W. Fletcher, J. B. Castleberry, W. W. Sugg, A. N. Hutchinson and O. B. Crawford. These officers and directors will appoint two Collingsworth county farmers who will act in the capacity of agricultural directors.

The new officers will commence work immediately on raising the 1927 budget. The annual banquet will be held early in January, at which time the program of activities for 1927 will be announced. The Chamber of Commerce was organized last April, with the actual work commencing May 1st. Since that date many accomplishments have been made. Chief among them are: The securing of the building of a new toll telephone line from Shamrock to Wellington; The election of a Wellington man as vice-president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; the sponsoring of the Wellington band, which won second place in the band contest for four year old bands at the Amarillo convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; the securing of the convention of the Panhandle Area of the Boy Scouts of America; the securing of the 1927 North Plains District convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; the establishment of a local Retail Merchants association; the establishment of a Chamber of Commerce Luncheon club, and many other projects.

MUSIC TEACHER GETS APPROVAL

Director Of Conservatory Is Viewed As Leader Among Lovers Of Music

AUSTIN, Dec. 21 (AP)—Texas musicians are showering congratulations upon Miss Bertha Baur, director of the Cincinnati (Ohio) Conservatory of Music, which is just entering upon its sixtieth year. Many Texas students have graduated from the Cincinnati school, and twenty-two are enrolled there this year.

Starting with only a handful of pupils, the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music now boasts an annual enrollment of 2,000 and is one of the largest and most important centers of musical education in the United States.

Miss Baur herself has attained the distinction of having supervised the teaching of music to more than 20,000 students, a record that cannot be approximated by anyone now living in America, and by few in Europe.

The Cincinnati Conservatory had its beginning in two or three small rooms in a West Seventh Street residence in April, 1867, just following the close of the civil war. Miss Clara Baur, an aunt of Miss Bertha Baur, was the founder.

Forty-eight years ago, Miss Bertha left her home in Ann Arbor, Mich., and came to Cincinnati to study music with her aunt. Upon arrival, she found the financial affairs of her aunt's school in a precarious condition, and she pitched in to help. She rolled up her sleeves, both literally and figuratively, and went to work. She did about everything, most of the time studying her music after 11 o'clock at night.

The Conservatory eventually prospered, despite stiff competition and early day epidemics. Miss Baur and her aunt, who died 15 years ago, brought the greatest artists of their time from Europe and succeeded in getting the best in America.

In 1920 the Conservatory was incorporated, several public spirited citizens of Cincinnati taking an active interest, including Mrs. Mary M. Emery and Mrs. Charles P. Taft. The school now occupies a series of fine old residences, in addition to a large dormitory and a concert hall on Mt. Auburn, one of the many beautiful residential hillsides of the city.

Friday Will be Saturday and Saturday Will be Christmas

All Stores, Banks, Etc. in Lubbock Will be Closed Dec. 25th

Merchants should keep in mind that there will be two holidays together—Saturday (Christmas) and Sunday. So the business usually done and expected Saturday will be carried through on Friday. Grocers should keep in mind this fact and call attention to FRIDAY specials instead of the usual Saturday specials.

To avoid hardships by reason of the two holidays—lets all prepare for them in advance of the rush sure to be experienced later on in the week.

We'll be glad to help.

SET THE PEGS

At this season of the year there is always more or less re-adjusting. Cleaning up and beginning over among the business men of the community. As individuals we also check up a bit about this time of the year, and as a community as a city, why not do the same. We have had a busy year. Many splendid achievements have been ours. Lubbock has continued to go forward in her usual even tempo. She has bridged the good with the bad. She has held the good will of the surrounding country. She has maintained her position as the "hub of the plains." Many things we have accomplished to be proud of. But still there are many more things to be done. Now, as we round out the old year, and the pages of the new ledger are before us, let's open some big accounts and let them start out to balance them by a combination of the things that we do not do upon the pages of the new book. Let us have a definite program outlined. Let us set the pegs and work to them. The Board of City Development can well afford to spend some time in laying out plans for the year. Of course there will come about as many things to be done as there are taken care of that we have no knowledge of at this time. But we can name some of the things that we should have some time in putting on the slate for 1937. As we have it, we will have a plenty of it for domestic and commercial purposes. The matter of gas has been a headache to the establishment of factories heretofore. This will be removed when cheap gas is connected up in this section. Then we should have some manufacturing plants more than we have. We should have a company plan to take care of the products of this section of the country. We should have a big brick cutting plant, and possibly a large brick manufacturing plant. We should be able to increase our packing plant, and we should be able to induce a cotton mill to come here, and many other things that could be maintained in this section of the county. Then we should have on the program of development the building of a large municipal auditorium, the expansion of the South Plains Fair, the building of a new fire station and its equipment, the more efficient fire-fighting facilities so that our insurance rates can be kept to the minimum. We should have out a better street lighting system, and a larger program of cement sidewalks and paving. Hundreds of other things should be put on the list for 1937. Let's be definite. Set the pegs.

PENNIES FOR HEALTH

Twenty years ago, tuberculosis claimed the lives of 200 out of every 100,000 people in this country. Its ravages were on the increase. In the year 1907, little stickers bearing the Red Cross of health began appearing on the Christmas envelopes and packages at Christmas time. In that year the sale of a penny each amounted to $2000, not much, but a starter. Last year $4,996,000 was realized through the sale of these Christmas seals and the campaign against the dreaded white plague went into its nineteenth year. With what results? The death rate from tuberculosis has been cut more than half during these 19 years, last year's toll being 98 out of every 100,000 people. Over the period of years that the sale of stamps has supported the anti-tuberculosis campaign, the lives of 1,200,000 people have been saved. A little more than one one-hundredth of the entire population of the United States! Capitalizing the lives that have been saved is $5000 each, the saving in health alone amounts to $6,000,000,000. But there is an intangible saving greater than mere figures and numbers can tell. It is represented by the bloom of health upon a cheek that was pallid. Your sins may find you out occasionally, but more often they will find you in—Spartanburg Sun. The business is looking up. The possibilities of commercial aviation are attracting leaders in commerce and industry.—Lancaster New Era. There is said to be a marked demand for mud. Certain entrepreneurs are laying in their supply for early use.—New York Commercial.

Old Masters

JAKUES—Can you nominate in order now the degrees of the lie? TOUCHSTONE—O sir, we quarrel in print; by the book, as you have books for good manners; I will name you the degrees. The first, the "pretent courteous"; the second, the "quip modest"; the third, the "reply churlish"; the fourth, the "reproof valiant"; the fifth, the "counterscheck quarrelsome"; the sixth, the "lie with circumstance"; the seventh, the lie direct. All these you may avoid but the lie direct; and you may avoid that, too, with an "if." I knew when seven justices could not take up a quarrel; but when the parties were met themselves, one of them thought but of an "if," as "If you said so, then I said so," and they shook hands and swore brothers. Your "if" is the only peace-maker; much virtue in "if."—Shakespeare: From As You Like It.

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING AND BROADWAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—New York is not generally regarded as much of a church town.

Yet, upon a Sunday morning, you can find scenes along Fifth Avenue and Madison or Park streets that would make Broadway envious.

Several there are where the standing-room only sign is out hours before the doors open and where lines gather in front, just as they gather before a popular movie theater.

There may be another church that issues "beat tickets," but I am acquainted only with one—the Park Avenue Baptist Church, where Rev. Henry Emerson Fosdick preaches.

Not the least attractive of this church is the arrival of John D. Rockefeller for this is "his" church.

I saw him come in out of a cold, snowy morning, looking for all the world like a venerable farmer.

His ears were padded with warm ear-muffs; his thin, aged hands covered by heavy gloves; his spare, awkward figure muffled in a heavy coat.

Beside him came his valet. The moment the old magnate removed his hat the valet jumped to his task of fixing the very famous Rockefeller hair—or rather lack of it.

Visitors from all over the world are drawn by the Fosdick reputation, but few grasp the church doors at the first attempt.

In the basement below a service is held for the overflow and here the Rev. Fosdick appears for a few moments, the general service being given by a substitute pastor.

Those who go through the novelties of several overflow meetings become the best candidates for admission tickets. It is taken as an indication of their sincerity and interest.

Those who stand in line make at least the overflow, and if they are patient eventually get into the "ticket" list and may pass in.

The "little church around the corner" seldom is missed by visitors, particularly those who are interested in romance and thousands who have been there come back on pilgrimages, while sons, daughters and grandchildren inhale a bit of its romantic tradition.

One couple made it a practice to visit the church on each anniversary of their wedding. A year or so ago it was noted that they did not come. Inquiry showed that the wife had died. A few weeks later the bereaved husband appeared to find some solace within its walls.

Down the "avenue" just opposite from Wannamaker's is Grace Church, built in 1846, and the scene of more fashionable weddings, perhaps, than any church in the country.

Here have been performed most of the services by which American society girls acquired titled husbands, and its interior breathes antiquity and its entire atmosphere is quite out of harmony with the modern flare for luxury that has marked scores of weddings within its walls.

That Happy Yuletide Spirit

WASHINGTON LETTER

CHRISTMAS GOOD WILL PERVADES CAPITAL AND G.O.P. SMILES UPON SHIPSTEAD

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The sweet and gentle spirit of forgiveness permeates the august precincts of Capitol Hill.

The Christmas feeling is in every heart. Conciliation and peace are the watchwords of the hour; yesterday was bitter strife and division.

The great generous heart of the Republican party even threatens to cover such an alien as Senator Henrik Shipstead, the farmer-laborer senator from Minnesota, with its kindly wing.

For control of the Senate in the seventies is a precarious thing indeed. There are only six of them. Shipstead is likely to vote generally with the Democrats and the fact that the president of the Senate may vote to break a tie has never meant quite so much since Vice President Dawes lost a mad tax-labor race to cinch confirmation of Charles B. Warren's appointment as attorney general.

But how contagious is this sweet and gentle spirit of forgiveness! Will it spread, for instance, to the great northward that elected such men as Brookhiser, Nye, andrazier?

Will the quality of mercy be not strained in Iowa, or North Dakota if men elected over regular Republican candidates as red-hot progressives begin to cool under administration blandishments?

Pressure on the irregulars here has long been notoriously tremendous. It even has its social phases. Worst of all handicaps to a senator is a lack of patronage.

Imagine a senator, besieged by constituents for political plums, forced to answer:

"I don't stand in very well down here. You had better see the fellow I beat in the election, who still has the support of the administration."

Yet, what seemed for a moment the other day to be the situation which confronted Senator Nye.

Nye andrazier, while assured of their patronage, have indicated no abandonment of their irregularity.

The northwest has been its so-called "reds" and "pinks" turn lily white before Cummins of Iowa, once a rank progressive, was a star example. He died, a staunch standpatter. So did Knute Nelson of Minnesota. Lengert of Wisconsin, just going to Congress as a La Follette progressive.

Other mere progressives have been convinced that they were actually radicals and in seeking to tone down plain progressivism became conservatives.

Every man knows so little in comparison to what there is to be known that he has no right to be conceited about his knowledge. "We are but of yesterday, and know nothing," says Holy Writ, "because our days upon earth are a shadow."

Even if a woman cannot reason matters but logically she can make a lot of mighty shrewd guesses.

Ordinary men are governed by circumstances. Great men make their own circumstances.

Red hair, snub noses and almond eyes are undoubtedly hereditary, but there is no evidence that wisdom is.

THE HOLIDAY SPIRIT

Two weeks more and the happy days will be with us again. Two more weeks and we will observe the birthday of the Prince of Peace. Two more weeks and folks will be in a holiday mood.

Many of us have been planning for several weeks for the coming festive season. Many people have been preparing gifts for their friends and relatives. The next two weeks will be filled with much rushing about, much commotion.

There will be the last minute rush of frantic buying. A jam at the postal stations will cause many of our fellow beings to be deprived of their Christmas to a large extent.

Merchants are urging their customers to do their buying now. Postal authorities have requested early mailing of packages, this is being asked in order to help progressively.

The public should give the folks who have to bear the brunt of the rush holiday season their best cooperation.

All packages going away should be securely wrapped and tied and put in the hands of the mail service as soon as possible.

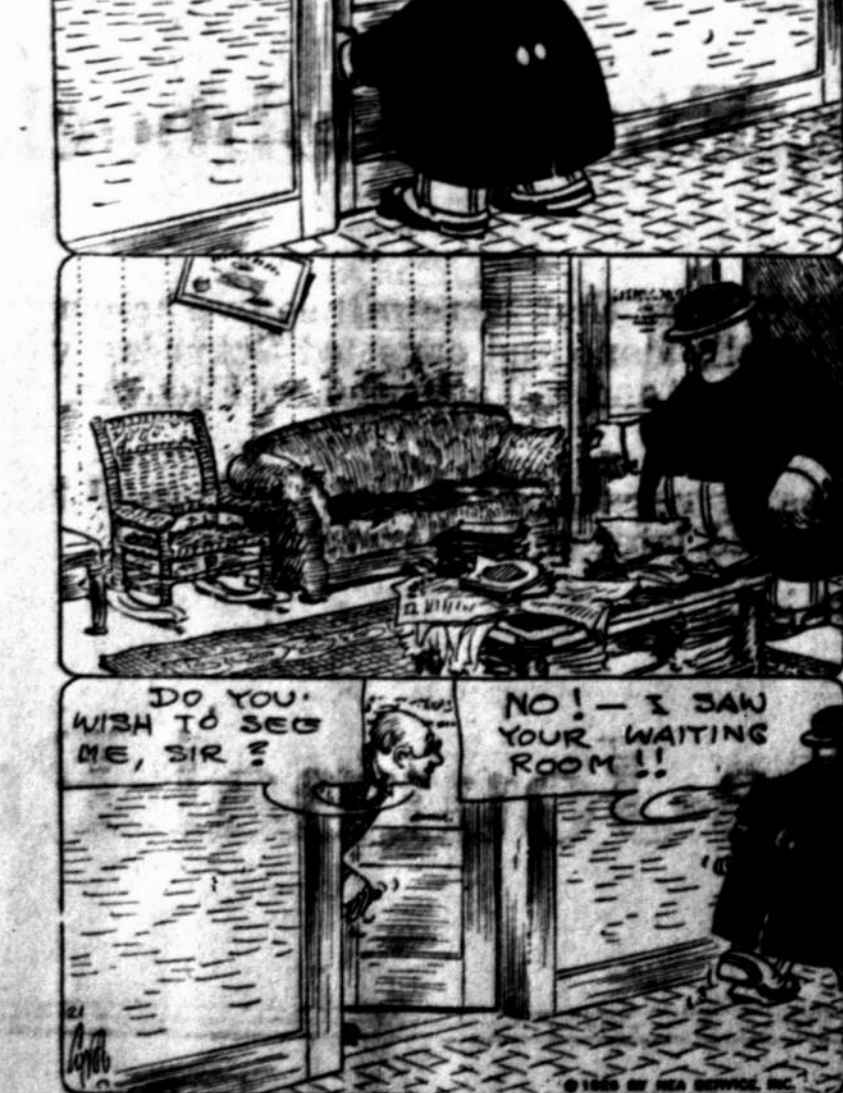

We should not wait until Christmas eve to start our buying. Do it now and get more satisfaction and better service.—Exchange.

Saint And Simmer

"I don't know what to think, honey," he turned his face from her.

"You've got to believe in her, you've got to know she couldn't do it!" Faith sank to her knees beside him and gripped his cramped, brown hands. "For Mother's sake, for Cherry's sake, for Dad, don't you realize that we've got to help Cherry by showing in every word and look that we know she couldn't possibly have done that terrible thing? Cherry has disobeyed you, flouted your authority, but she's good, Dad, in spite of everything. You will stand by her, Dad," she pleaded.

Jim Lane's tired, dim brown eyes filled slowly with tears, before he answered. "Cherry's my daughter, Faith. I reckon she can count on her Dad."

Faith kissed him with passionate gratitude, then she asked, "Where's Junior, Dad? The detectives told him to stay here until he was called for."

It was a few minutes after eleven when Bob Hathaway came to the little house on Myrtle street, bringing Junior, grim, white-faced, with him.

"The coroner will hold his inquest tomorrow morning at ten, at Uncle Ralph's house. They won't remove the body until after the inquest, Bob told Faith and her father. "Dr. Murdoch—he's the coroner, you know, told Morhouse that Uncle Ralph had been killed between eight thirty and a quarter in p.m. They may fix the time more definitely tomorrow. I got there at a quarter to nine, or a minute or two after, and offhand I'd say that it looks as bad for me as it does for—anyone else," he finished lamely, unable yet to link Cherry's name with the crime.

"Oh, Bob!" Faith breathed, new terror stamping lines into her ravaged face.

"Tomorrow: Dawn brings news of Cherry and newspaper shrieking in accusations of murder against her."

Bodies Of 10 More Men Lost When Boat Capsizes Are Sought in River

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Police and firemen today continued grappling among the ice floes of Hudson river for the bodies of 10 men believed missing from among more than two score workmen in search of jobs, who were drowned yesterday when the launch Linseed King capsized.

Thirty Bodies Recovered
Thirty bodies had been recovered. Relatives who visited the morgue failed to find at least ten others they sought. Twenty seven of more than sixty men who drowned the 42 foot launch in its perilous trip across the river from 55th street, New York, to Edgewater, N. J., were rescued after clinging to ice cakes and the sides of the ship for almost an hour.

Captain John Rohwiler, the 29 year old skipper of the craft, who swam more than a mile towards the Jersey shore before he was picked up by under police guard at the Knickerbocker hospital today suffering from shock and exposure and threatened with pneumonia. He was under technical charges of negligence and homicide.

Number Reported Varied
The launch was owned by Spencer Kellogg and Sons, linseed oil manufacturers. More than 100 men, most of them answering an advertisement, gathered at dawn at the company's Manhattan pier for the trip to the plant across the river. Captain Rohwiler says only sixty men, less than the boat's capacity, crowded aboard for the first trip, but some of the survivors place the figure close to 100.

More than 25 men were trapped in the small cabin of the boat. Those on deck leaped overboard and clung to the ice floes and to the ship's side, although many, their fingers numbed by the cold, lost their grips and slipped beneath the water.

Despite a slowing down in automobile production, most Michigan factories are bringing in large amounts of raw materials against the time when production will increase, according to a survey by the Pere Marquette Railway.

GERMANY PLEASSED AT LEAGUE VOTE

HAMBURG, Germany, Dec. 21. (AP)—Germany regards the agreement reached at the recent League of Nations council at Geneva for the withdrawal of the inter-allied military control commission, as recognition that Germany has disarmed. Dr. Gustave Stresemann, foreign secretary in the ministry which resigned several days ago, and who had a prominent part in the Geneva discussions, made this statement today, but added that it was incompatible with the spirit of the League of Nations for other countries to continue heavily armed, while for Germany alone there were detailed armament restrictions, at future meetings he declared. Germany "will raise the problem of bringing the idea of Universal disarmament nearer realization."

Dr. Stresemann was speaking at a banquet given in his honor by the free state of Hamburg. As for the country's foreign policy, he said, it would not be affected by the resignation of the Bourgeois cabinet of Chancellor Marx.

The German leader emphasized that another great accomplishment of the Geneva session was the successful bringing together of the European statesmen.

Loan Value Of Vets' Policies 90 Per Cent

AMARILLO, Texas, Dec. 21. (AP)—Adjusted compensation certificates on the ex-service men to whom they were issued can borrow 90 percent of their value as computed by actuary rates for the two years they will have been in force January 1, should be negotiable at any bank. Charles A. Fisk, president of the Texas Bankers' association, said last night.

The certificates provide that holders of the certificates may borrow at the rate of five percent "with or without the consent of the beneficiaries" of the certificates, which are in the form of paid up insurance.

Only very small amounts can be borrowed on the certificates this early in their twenty years of life.

Food And Drugs Act Amended By House

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 21. (AP)—The food and drugs act was amended by the house Monday to include a provision, sponsored by Representative Swine, Republican, California, that raw fruits and vegetables grown outside the United States and its territories shall be so labeled when sold in this country. An amendment by Representative Lazaro, Democrat Louisiana, to include rice in the provision also was adopted.

A gymnasium building which includes a swimming pool and running track will be a feature of the new $1,500,000 United States Veterans Bureau hospital now under construction at Fort Snelling.

RAIL MEN OFF FOR SCOTT FUNERAL

HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 21. (AP)—Eight Southern Pacific officials left here Monday night for California to attend the funeral of W. R. Scott, 46, President of the Texas and Louisiana lines. Mr. Scott died in the office of the company in Los Angeles Monday morning from heart disease while on his way to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives in Oakland and Berkeley. He was stricken while conversing with the division superintendent and died shortly afterward.

Mr. Scott left here last Friday night apparently in perfect health, those who were in close touch with him here said.

Houston officials making the trip are G. S. Ward, vice president and general manager; C. K. Dunlap, traffic manager; G. R. Cottingham, auditor; J. A. Power, superintendent of motive power and equipment; J. G. Torlan, assistant to the general manager; John Lamsdale, tax commissioner and valuation engineer; H. J. Muckebach, general superintendent and O. M. Longnecker, treasurer.

Officers who had known Mr. Scott since he came here in 1920 paid high tribute to his memory.

Hearing Of Railway Case Set February 7

AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 21.—Petition of the southern pine association et al vs. Atlantic and Southern Railway company for revision of rates on lumber rates in carload lots, was set for hearing February 7, by the Texas Railroad commission.

At the same time the commission will hear argument on the proposed cancellation of special mileage scales.

Holiday Rush At Postoffice Begins

After many weeks of watchful waiting the holiday mail rush opened Monday with a crash. This year, however, it is thought mail here will be handled with promptness as the local office has larger quarters and more room for handling the mails.

Rural patrons are asked to have some representative of the family at the box when carriers arrive so that registered and insured mail may be signed for.

Big Year Expected By Poultry Raisers

Poultrymen on the South Plains are looking forward to a banner year, for at no time in the history of this section has there been a greater demand for poultry and poultry products, while cotton and feed crops are rotting in fields simply because farmers can not afford to hire help to gather their crops.

Hatcheries on the South Plains during the past year distributed more than a million baby chicks in this section, and all are planning for a greater business this season.

Give Him the Gift He Would Buy Himself

For street or dress wear these English leather gloves are very suitable. Other leather gloves, wool lined—and then very warm driving gloves will be practical.

Certainly a sweater makes a fine gift. Slip over styles in colorful designs and big-collared coat styles are both popular. Lumber-jacks are the ideal wraps for sport-wear. Let us show you these wraps.

A good looking shirt is always a welcome gift. Two or three of them will be still more welcome. There's a great variety here, from striped madras with collar to white English Broadcloth.

White and colored shirts in neckband styles will be appropriate for those who prefer that style.
