Budapest General Strike Is Broken By Communists

Farm Couple, 3 Children Die In Fire

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—A farm couple and three of their five children perished today in a roaring fire that leveled their frame house.

Dead were Linus Ball, 42; his wife Hilda, 36; and three of their children, Dennis, 8; Frank, 4; and Arthur, 9 months. The bodies were recovered.

Two daughters, Elaine, 15, and Kren, 6, jumped from upper windows. Elaine suffered a cut arm. Karen, apparently uninjured, was taken to the home of friends.

Karen told police that she had been awakened by their father calling up the stairs. She said her parents and two of her brothers, Frank and Arthur, were sleeping downstairs.

A neighbor, Ben Licata, told police that Elaine woke him up and said, "The house is on fire. Mommy and daddy are trapped inside."

He said he ran to the house and broke open a window but the smoke drove him back. He called firemen.

Lockport is near Niagara Falls.

MOVERS FIND HOARD IN LAMP—George DeGroat, left, and Sam Bergsted, employes of a van and storage company at Los Angeles, Calif., display $2,200 in cash and jewels valued at more than $22,000 which they discovered in a floor lamp purchased with other used furniture by their company from Mrs. Emma Maizlishe. Mrs. Maislishe acquired the lamp when she recently bought the home and furnishings of Mrs. Emma Soverign, who died about a year ago. Now attorneys will have to help decide whether the hoard belongs to Mrs. Soverign's estate, to Mrs. Maizlishe, or to the moving company.

Cold Front Blows Into State Today

By The Associated Press

A cold front from Colorado blew into the Panhandle Monday. The Weather Bureau forecast snow flurries and subfreezing temperatures for Northwest Texas Monday night.

The cold air mass passed Amarillo at mid-morning. North and northeast winds up to 21 niles an hour were recorded at Amarillo. Northerly winds at 10 miles per hour kept temperatures at a chilly 33 degrees at Dalhart.

The Weather Bureau said the cold air may touch off showers in other sections of Texas as it moves deeper Tuesday.

Heavy fog and thundershowers were reported early Monday in East and South Texas.

A thundershower estimated at more than half an inch fell at Longview. Lufkin reported a predawn shower of .03 of an inch and Dallas and Fort Worth had a sprinkle.

Fog closed in on a number of areas. Visibility was reduced to 1-16 of a mile at Alice. Heavy fog also was reported at Lufkin, College Station and Houston.

Overnight minimum temperatures ranged from 30 degrees at Amarillo to 68 at Brownsville Monday.

A hard freeze was forecast for the Panhandle and upper south plains Monday night.

Sunday was mild with highs ranging from 62 degrees at Dalhart to 78 at Presidio.

Viet Nam Is Hit Hard By Typhoon

PARIS (AP) — A typhoon which hit South Viet Nam last week was reported today to have destroyed 53,000 homes and left 20 or more persons dead or missing.

The French News Agency, quoting a report from the Vietnamese Red Cross, said the typhoon was a true "national catastrophe" which left "hundreds of thousands of people homeless."

The hardest hit area was 125 miles southwest of Saigon where 30,000 homes and 80 per cent of the crops were said to have been destroyed.

Acquitted On Charge

ROME (AP) — Gilberto Pontecorvo, whose atom-scientist brother Bruno quit England for Soviet Russia five years ago, was acquitted today of encouraging sedition.

Strike Hits Rail Freight

NEW YORK (AP)—An embargo on all rail freight for East Coast and Gulf ports was expected to be called today as no signs of a break appeared in the four-day longshoremen's strike which has shipping tied up from Maine to Texas.

About 700 carloads of freight a day normally come into New York alone for overseas and coastwise ships. An official of the Assn. of American Railroads said he expected the embargo to be called by the organization's headquarters at Washington in a few hours.

Picketing was resumed along New York's piers as union and management negotiators returned to the conference table. They did not meet Sunday, an idle day in most ports.

Contract talks between the International Longshoremen's Assn. and the New York Shipping Assn. broke up Saturday after a bitter meeting.

About 60,000 dock workers walked off the job on the East and Gulf coasts when their twice-extended contract ran out at midnight Thursday. More than 150 ships were idled.

Meanwhile, longshoremen on the West Coast planned to stop work today for a 24-hour period. The walkout was scheduled by Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU).

The ILWU called the work stoppage ostensibly to consider its own contract talks with the Pacific Maritime Assn. ILWU spokesmen did not deny, however, that the East and Gulf coast strike figured in their plans.

The West Coast union has already staged a "sympathy" tieup of 10 ships in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Coos Bay, Ore., and Bellingham, Wash. The union refused to work ships arriving from or leaving for Atlantic and Gulf ports involved in the ILA shutdown.

Other forms of transportation began to feel the strike pinch.

In Washington, railroad officials were reported to be considering an embargo on export freight because of the backlog of cargo in ports.

A trickle of ships managed to dock in some ports. The Cunard liner Parthia and the Holland-America liner Maasdam docked in the Port of New York yesterday. Company personnel helped passengers unload their baggage.

The main issues in the strike are demands by the Independent ILA that:

1. The New York employers sign a single contract for all East and Gulf coast ports.

2. Men called to the piers for any task be guaranteed at least eight hours' pay.

3. The employers set a definite limit on the amount of cargo to be lifted in a single slingload.

The work gang size for general cargo shipments remain at no fewer than 20 men.

Old Ship Is Located By Dredge Crew

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston shell dredging crew, operating in Galveston Bay, may have discovered the grave of one of two Union gunboats sank in the Battle of Galveston Jan. 1, 1863, it appeared today.

Capt. B. K. Parker, head of the Parker Bros. Sand and Gravel Co., said one of his crews discovered the old ship Saturday night, and recovered a rigging block, other bits of ship timbers and an ancient colt's revolver and scabbard.

Parker said the crew was dredging shell when suction pipe of the dredge became clogged. The dredge backed off and when the pipe was cleared, bits of the ship's timber and the old gun were recovered.

"The handle of the gun is gone and the pistol is all rusted," said Parker. "The leather seemed to have withstood the submersion better than the metal."

Parker said his company was not interested in salvaging any other parts of the ship.

"But we marked the spot and if any one is interested in investigating the wreckage, they are welcome," he said. "I think it is a Union gunboat."

The federal gunboats Neptune and Westfield were sunk and the Harriet Lane captured in those waters when Confederate forces recaptured Galveston in January, 1863.

Fruit Loaded By Strikers

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—A steamship agent said stevedors from the striking International Longshoremen Assn., began loading perishable fruit on ships in Brownsville today despite protests from union officials.

Jack Eidman, owner of the Port Brownsville Steamship Agency, said the strikers began loading fruit on the German ship Pireaus about 10 a.m.

Eidman said the union men agreed to load the fruit because they had an interest in the port and did not want to see the fruit spoil. He said they had instructions from the New York union not to move the perishable fruit.

The agent said the stevedors had agreed to load the citrus now on the docks.

Mrs. Luce Quits Diplomatic Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce resigned today as ambassador to Italy. President Eisenhower accepted the resignation with an expression of "great personal regret" and congratulations for "a job superbly done."

The White House announced the resignation after Mrs. Luce had conferred with the President for an hour.

The effective date of the resignation was left up in the air. But Mrs. Luce told reporters she plans to return to Italy and to leave her post after the Christmas holidays. She said she supposed the resignation would be effective "when a new ambassador is appointed." some time that James Zellerbach, 64, San Francisco industrialist, was under consideration as her successor. Zellerbach was foreign aid director in Italy from 1948 to 1950.

Mrs. Luce, 53, has been ambassador to Italy since early 1953. In her letter of resignation, which the White House made public, she mentioned her recent poor health and said she would require several months of real rest. She asked that her resignation be accepted "at the earliest convenient moment."

In his letter accepting Mrs. Luce's resignation, Eisenhower said that he sincerely hoped that "your return to private life is only temporary and that your government may soon again have the benefit of your services."

She said there was no mention in her conference with the President of the possibility of her becoming ambassador to India.

A woman reporter asked the ambassador whether she had found "being a woman a disadvantage."

"I couldn't possibly tell you," Mrs. Luce said with a twinkle.

"I've never been a man."

Cuba Asks United Nations To Stop Hungarian Deportations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba today brushed aside Hungarian protests and pressed for urgent U.N. action to demand a halt to reported Soviet deportations of Hungarians.

Hungarian Delegate Endre Sik told the 79-nation General Assembly that the reported deportations were "invented by counter-revolutionary circles" to create distrust in the government of Janos Kadar.

He acknowledged that arrests had been made in an effort to restore order, but said "not one of the persons arrested has been deported."

Cuban Delegate Emilio Nunez-Portuondo said the deportations were not propaganda but were a fact. The criminals, he said, were not those arrested, but those who are loading Hungarians on trains for deportation to Russia.

The Cuban delegate urged support of Cuban proposal demanding a halt to the reported deportations.

Hungarian Foreign Minister Imre Horvath was expected to deny the charge of deportation, as Budapest radio did yesterday.

In its revised form, the resolution cites "the principle" of the genocide convention and notes particularly provisions against subjecting a group to unbearable conditions and against transferring its children to another group.

The United States has never ratified the genocide convention. Hungary, the Soviet Union and 52 other countries have.

Backers of the convention said two U.S. delegates, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), had fought to keep the genocide charge out of the resolution. They laid this to a U.S. Senate factions "fear of treaties and entanglements."

These sources said it was pressure from Lodge and Knowland that also led Cuba, Ireland, Italy, Pakistan and Peru to drop a genocide charge from their resolution—adopted Nov. 9—which called for withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary and free elections there under U.N. auspices.

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation would make no comment on the genocide feature of either resolution.

The new Cuban draft contained further changes intended to win over countries that felt earlier versions went too far on the basis of the evidence at hand.

Instead of blaming the Soviet government for the deportations, it blamed "the Soviet army of occupation in Hungary."

ESCAPE ROMANIAN LEGATION—Mrs. Gheorge Coman, wife of a chauffer in the Romanian legation in Buenos Aires, with her 11-month-old son after the family escaped from the legation and sought refuge outside Communist control. Crowds of Argentines helped the fleeing couple obtain release of the baby boy from the legation. Coman and his family were about to be returned to Bucharest after duty tour in Buenos Aires when the incident occurred.

Two Local Firemen Injured At Fires

An explosion blew the front windows out of a house and fire which followed damaged clothing and the interior of the house about 10:15 o'clock this morning at 1512 Avenue R.

The explosion and fire was the second general alarm fire here within a few minutes this morning.

Two firemen were sent to Battenfield-Jones Hospital-Clinic for treatment from injuries received fighting the two fires.

The first general alarm fire was at about 10 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bob McMullen, 3012 Thirty-eighth Street. A washing machine motor caught fire there, but only the machine was damaged. There was no damage to the house.

H. A. Smith, paid fireman, received a burned hand and went to the hospital for treatment following the washing machine fire however.

At the second fire, which was caused by an explosion of gasoline which was being used to wash clothing, Henry Treet, another paid fireman, sprained an ankle and went to the hospital for treatment.

The explosion was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bishop, 1512 Avenue R.

D. A. Porter, fire chief, said Mrs. Bishop was washing some clothing in a tub of gasoline when the gasoline exploded.

"She actually had her hands in the gasoline when it exploded," Porter said.

But neither the explosion or fire which followed caused any injury to Mrs. Bishop or her son who was in the house with her.

The front windows of the house were blown out by the explosion, and the fire which followed did extensive damage to the kitchen of the house, and the rest of the house was damaged by smoke and water.

Employes of the Weltex Jet Services Co. office across the street from the fire put most of the fire out with fire extinguishers.

Former Mayor Of Dallas Is Dead

DALLAS, Nov. 17 (AP)—J. B. Adoue Jr., president of the National Bank of Commerce and former mayor of Dallas, died unexpectedly today.

The longtime Dallas civic leader had been head of the bank since 1924. Adoue was mayor from 1951 to 1953. In his younger days, he was a tennis star.

Freight Rate Cut Approved

All feeders of hay and roughage in Texas' major drought disaster counties previously designated are now eligible for reduced freight rates on the feed, according to a wire received here by Edgar Taylor, county judge, from Gov. Allan Shivers.

Shivers said in the telegram that all persons feeding hay and roughage, not merely those approved by the Farmers Home Administration for federal subsidy on such feed, are eligible for the program if they live in counties in Texas designated as major drought disaster areas.

Applications must be approved by county judges on persons who have become eligible under the new program and who require hay and roughage for use and not for resale.

Authority for this program was given by the secretary of agriculture after consultation with officials of the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association, Shivers said.

Certificates for reduced freight rates on hay and roughage may be issued by countny judges to be presented by applicants at purchase points.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland today went into its 18th day without its three big daily newspapers.

Few Return To Plants

BUDAPEST (AP) — The Soviet army and its Hungarian Communist allies today broke the general strike in Budapest, but sullen Hungarian workers immediately resorted to a defiant slowdown strike.

Between 30 and 50 per cent of Budapest's industrial workers reported for work in the city's factories today.

Many of them declared they returned not because they believed the promises of Janos Kadar, the Soviet-imposed Premier, "but because we realize that winter is here, with its misery of cold and hunger."

In the workshops which Western correspondents were permited to visit they found workers standing around in groups—talking but doing little if any work.

A Vienna report that the Russians were replacing their tank troops in Hungary with 20 fresh infantry divisions lacked confirmation here. No correspondent in Budapest can claim reliably to know anything of the kind.

Of the industrial situation, Radio Budapest said that, although 45 per cent of the working force appeared at some of the nation's major plants, in most cases production could not be resumed for lack of power. It attributed the absence of other workers to "transport difficulties."

At Csepel—the Danube island that is Hungary's biggest industrial complex—workers remained defiant. They showed up in their work clothes, but nobody did any work. Even though they predicted more of the work force would show up tomorrow, they said there would be no real production in the island's huge iron and steel works in the near future.

"We think this is the only sound thing we can do for the moment," a spokesman said. "We show up at the plant because we have got to get our wages and also because we have to stick together here. If we continue to remain at home the plant gates would be locked against us one day and it would be easier for the government to pick us off individually to deal with at home than if we are here in the factories and stand together."

Only two men did any work in the plants Western correspondents were able to visit today. It turned out they were repairing their own bicycles.

About half the workers at the Hungarian Optical Works and the GANZ electrical works in Budapest appeared this morning. Each has about 4,000 employes.

Out of the 10,000-man work force of the MAGAG state machinery factory, about 3,000 turned up. About 30 per cent of the 38,000 workers reported at the Csepel iron and steel plants.

Russian army officers, as well as Western newsmen, visited these plants this morning. The Russians politely inquired what the Soviet army could do to help and asked how the workers reacted to the government's request to end the general strike.

The president of the Workers' Council in the GANZ factory said:

"We told the Russians that the only help we needed from them is that they should leave us alone."

He added that the Russians "promised some weapons for our factory guards."

"But we told them," the council head added, "that we had kept our own firearms and we now have our own guards for our factory.

"Apparently our contact with the Russians is better than that of the Kadar government. We succeeded in obtaining the release of 68 students and 4 workers who were arrested by the Russians."

(The deportation of student and worker rebels, originally reported last week by Radio Budapest and then denied by the same station, has been one of the sorest points with workers prolonging the strike.)

Otto John Testifies In Trial Today

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP)—Dr. Otto John testified today that "The Russians didn't break me down, but in order to prevent that, I had to go along with them."

John, former chief of West Germany's intelligence office, is on trial on charges of treasonable relations with the East.

On cross-examination, John said he was never "in direct physical danger, but I was facing threats and I knew from reports what the Russians had done with the cardinals and the strongest of men."

He made the statement when he was asked to explain statements he made in news conferences, radio talks and in the Communist press while he was in East Germany.

"I do not understand it all myself," he said, "I simply did not have time to think it out."

Dr. Franz Muellenmeister, chief deputy of the West German criminal investigation bureau, testified "We never considered it a possibility" that the country's top intelligence and criminal chiefs would ever be kidnaped by the East.

Dag Will Present Mid East Report

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold arrived back in New York today to tell the U. N. General Assembly the results of his talks with Egyptian officials on guarding the cease-fire in the Middle East.

He planned to launch arrangements for U. N. help in reopening the blocked Suez Canal — a gigantic salvage job expected to take at least six months.

Before leaving Cairo, Hammarskjold said the Egyptian government had asked for assistance to clear the waterway and he had agreed in principle. He declined to discuss other matters taken up with Egypt's President Nasser before making his report to the Assembly.

Nasser's chief political aide, Wing Cmdr. Ali Sabry, said in an interview Egypt would clear the canal with U.N. help. The Egyptians have already protested British clearance operations under way at the north end of the canal as a violation of Egyptian sovereignty and of the cease-fire.

Hammarskjold talked with Nasser and other Egyptian leaders for three days about the duties of the new U.N. police force, which now has more than 500 men standing by at a base in the canal zone, and other details of the cease-fire the General Assembly ordered 11 days ago between the Egyptians and British, French and Israeli troops.

There was no indication the Egyptians had modified their demand for speedy withdrawal of all foreign troops and stationing of the U.N. forces only at points on the old 1948 armistice line between Egypt and Israel. Sabry said Egypt expects the withdrawal to begin during the coming week if possible, without waiting for the U.N. troops to take over.

One of the British-French conditions in agreeing to the cease-fire was that the U.N. police force should be competent to "secure and supervise" reopening of the canal. They have made clear they expect the U.N. troops to take over occupation of the canal when they pull their own forces out. The British and French hold the northern third of the waterway.

Woman Wounded In Fuss With Husband

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Mrs. Vera Jones was in a serious condition today from a gunshot wound police said she suffered during an argument which developed when her husband threatened to leave home.

The husband, Arthur, was booked for assault to murder. Both are 33.

Snyder Boy Killed In Fall From Truck

Victor Lance Orr, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Orr, Clairemont Road, was killed yesterday afternoon when he fell from a truck traveling on State Highway 350 just south of Snyder.

The child was one of the four Orr children riding in a 1950 Chevrolet truck driven by their mother, 23. The right-hand cab door came open and the child and his twin brother, Cedar Vance Orr, both fell out of the truck.

Both of the children were taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by a man who was driving on the highway when the accident occurred.

Victor Orr was pronounced dead at the hospital. His brother was only skinned and bruised and was released after emergency treatment.

The accident occurred at about 4:45 p.m. just south of the curve in the highway south of Snyder and not far from the hospital.

Bill Zimmerman, highway patrolman, and Homer Whisnand, sheriff, investigated the accident.

The body was taken to Bell Funeral Home for funeral arrangements.

Survivors include the parents, the twin brother, and the other two brothers, James Walter Orr, Jr., 4, and Merlin Orr, 5.

Poland Signs Soviet Pact

MOSCOW (AP) — The Communist leaders of the Soviet Union and Poland have signed a declaration of "indestructible union and fraternal friendship" but have agreed their future relations will be on a basis of "complete equality."

Winding up four days of talks, the two regimes agreed Russian troops must remain in Poland. But the Poles were given veto power over Russian troop movements in their country, as well as promises of help in meeting Poland's economic crisis.

Results of the talks were summed up in a communique issued before the departure for Warsaw last night of Polish Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka, Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz and their delegation of officials and experts.

The agreement was signed by Gomulka and Cyrankiewicz, and Premier Bulganin and Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev.

Gomulka, who had led the move for Polish freedom from Moscow's domination, said at a reception after the signing:

"We came here with fears that the leaders of the Soviet Union would not evalute fully and correctly the changes which are taking place in our country.

"We can say with joy that our fears were not confirmed by the position the Soviet government took on the questions we brought them."

The polish Communist party in a statement hailed the agreement as a "great success for Poland." Observers in Warsaw said it appeared Gomulka had gotten all he asked for.

A communique summing up the talks said the two regimes "expressed confidence that the indestructible union and fraternal friendship between the U.S.S.R. and Poland will widen and consolidate, developing on the basis of complete equality and respect for territorial integrity, national independence and sovereignty, and of noninterference in internal affairs."

Attempt To Break Strike To Be Made

HOUSTON (AP)—A federal mediator will try to break the deadlock of the west Gulf portion of the nationwide longshoremen's strike.

Commissioner James Hubbard of the Mediation Service said today he is "pointing toward a meeting Tuesday of both sides," probably in Galveston.

"I will probably work out a meeting wherein — will confer with both sides in an attempt to find a basis for negotiation," Hubbard said.

He talked with Ross Dunn of Galveston, head of the negotiating committee for the Galveston-Houston Maritime Assn., and with officials of the International Longshoremen's Assn. Union leader Ralph Massey was in New York but expected back tomorrow. Massey is president of the South Atlantic and Gulf Coast District of the ILA.

The strike has tied up 28 ships in Houston alone. Hubbard estimated at least 60 ships were idle west of New Orleans.

The dockers struck Friday. Their contract expired Oct. 1.

At least 60,000 Atlantic and Gulf Coast ILA members are on strike.

Austria recently began compulsory drafting of a new army, the draftees being obliged to serve a minimum of nine months.

Conference Called For By Brownell

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell today called a conference to plan a course of action for federal authorities in the South under the Supreme Court decree striking down racial segregation on public buses.

Summoned to a meeting here Dec. 10, were the 34 U.S. district attorneys stationed in 14 Southern states.

Brownell said in a circular letter to them the conference "will consider and decide upon measures most appropriate to secure observance of the United States constitution and laws by carriers and all others who may hereafter require segregation of white and colored passengers on common carriers."

The attorney general instructed the Southern prosecutors to bring with them copies of any local or state law in effect in their district relating to racial segregation.

Brownell said that in view of the Supreme Court decision of Nov. 13 invalidating Alabama and Montgomery, Ala., statutes on the subject that "it is now clear that any such law, statute, ordinance or regulation must be regarded as dead letter."

The conference here involves district attorneys in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

Of the segregation statutes, Brownell asserted:

"It is also clear that the enforcement or observance of any such discriminatory measure by any common carrier of passengers will constitute in the future and in the light of the unmistakable declaration of the federal courts a willful deprivation by the carrier of the constitutional rights, privileges and immunities of those discriminated against the United States. Anyone who commands, induces, procures, counsels, aids or abets the carrier in the commission of any such crime is equally guilty."

After the Supreme Court decision Montgomery city authorities announced they would employ "every legal means available" to continue separate seating arrangements for white and Negro passengers on buses in that city. City officials said this policy was safety and promoting order in the city.

Young Conductor Is Happy

NEW YORK (AP)—A couple of batons flew out of tiny hands—but the music went right on—as a self-possessed 7-year-old boy made his debut as conductor of the Symphony of the Air at Carnegie Hall last night.

But the baton mishaps can't be held too much against Joey Alfidi, billed as the "world's youngest conductor."

Batons sometimes slipped out of the grip of Joey's predecessor Arturo Toscanini, onetime conductor of the orchestra.

Associated Press arts editor W. G. Rogers observed:

"It was not a big audience but it was a happy one, and Joey was happiest of all. He knew all the gestures, and he used them all, and the orchestra did right by him."

Joey was on the podium in white suit and white socks, with bare knees. His face was sober as the orchestra — formerly the NBC Symphony—played the overtures to Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro" and Rossini's "William Tell" and two symphonies, Haydn's "Surprise" and Betthoven's Fifth.

The concert was a benefit for the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph's Hospital, Yonkers, N.Y., in which Joey was born. His father Frank Alfidi is a trumpet player.

The on-stage doings during intermission were more in the realm of a 7-year-old boy than the long-hair music.

Steven Ridzik of the New York Giants presented the kid with a ball and a bat in behalf of the ball club.

A red bicycle, gift of the hospital, was presented to Joey by swimmer Buster Crabbe.

Joey thanked the donors, hopped down from the podium and ran off behind the scenes. For a few minutes he was a 7-year-old boy again—with a ball and bat from the Giants and a new red bike.

US Pacific Fleet Ready For Orders

HONOLULU (AP)—The U.S. Pacific fleet, it's atomic weapons cocked, is ready to roll anywhere on orders if the Middle East crisis erupts.

Ships operating close to Asia have disrupted the normal rotation schedule. and others are speeding to that area in view of the crisis.

Secrecy blankets the movements of many vessels and the Navy has discontinued the practice of disclosing the destination of craft leaving Pearl Harbor.

The Pacific commander, Adm. Felix Stump, recently cancelled a good-will trip to Australia and the Olympics by an aircraft carrier, a heavy cruiser, eight destroyers and a submarine.

A Stump spokesman said the fleet "is carrying out week-old orders to increase and improve our defense positions through redeployment.

"When there's trouble in any part of the world you try to get in the best position you can. But we are not hysterical. We are not canceling leave or mobilizing or anything like that.

"We're as ready as can be. And if anyone says we don't have the A-bomb on the ships, they don't know what they're talking about. We always have had."

The spokesman added:

"Every aircraft carrier has nuclear weapons."

Woman Does Things Despite Handicap

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Although paralyzed shoulders down by polio for 21 years, Miss Celia Surovsky, 45, can do these things:

Open and close the door to her room, use the telephone, turn on the light and her television set and operate a tape recorder.

She does it by pulling cords with her teeth. Five electronics experts, working a year, developed the equipment for her.

By telephone she solicits magazine subscriptions and thus has paid for her electronic aids.

Large Scale Water Haul

ALTAMONT, N.Y. (AP)—It was a bucket brigade on the grand scale.

Seventeen fire trucks were linked with 1,000-foot hoselines over the 3½ miles from a lake to a reservoir when a severe water shortage developed here during the weekend.

The trucks pumped half a million gallons of water into the reservoir. More than 200 men were employed in the 16-hour project.

One village reservoir was empty and the other was dangerously low. The village depended on surface run-off water to fill its reservoirs but Altamont (pop: 1,250) received only about six inches of rain since July 15.

Workers began laying a pipeline yesterday from the lake to the reservoir.

Hungarian Flag Is Unfurled At Statue

NEW YORK (AP) — The red, white and green flag of revolt-torn Hungary fluttered briefly from the freedom torch of the Statue of Liberty yesterday.

A venturesome Hungarian youth climbed up into the torch and unfurled the flag of his native land. He also tied the Stars and Stripes to the torch.

Park Service employes removed the flags a short time later.

Band Members Help Pay For Operation

BALDWIN PARK, Calif. (AP) — Director Robert H. Greenwell, 30, has been absent from rehearsals of the Baldwin Park High School band since last Monday. That's the day a brain-tumor operation was performed on his 18-month-old daughter Cheryl, who's still on the critical list.

The 93 band members pitched in to win a West Arcadia invitational band review for Greenwell. Rehearsing and competing under drum majorette Carol Oglesby, 16, they took third place.

They presented their $150 prize money to Greenwell — to help pay for the operation.

Clouds Cover Wide Section

By The Associated Press

Cloudy skies were the main feature of the western picture today with snow forecast for the Rocky Mountains, higher temperatures in prospect in the eastern half of the country and generally colder weather in the West.

Partly cloudy and warmer weather was in the works east of the Mississippi with scattered showers in the northern Lakes region. Partly cloudy skies ranged along the Mississippi Valley with lower temperatures in the north portion.

Cloudy and colder was the forecast for an area from the Dakotas southwestward through the central Rockies.

Temperatures continued to drop along the Eastern Seaboard yesterday, particularly in portions of the South Atlantic coastal states and New England, which reported its first now storm of the season.

Bible Thought

Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear: But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear. Isaiah 59:1-2.

Keepers Of Peace

When the first planeload of Danish troops stepped off their transport plane near the midway point on the Suez Canal "with the morning sun gleaming on their bright blue helmets," the Egyptians standing around were impressed by their "smartness and discipline."

Soon thereafter a contingent of Norwegian troops dedicated by the U.N. to keep peace in Egypt made a like impression on their more or less involuntary hosts. The two planeloads added up to 92 men and officers, all wearing the identifying U.N. shoulder patch.

A small force, indeed, but destined to be added to day by day until between 4 and 5 thousands more arrive—unless there is a hitch of some sort.

This was the boldest action yet taken by the U.N., this sending in of a multi-nation task force to keep the peace. When U.N. forces entered Korea the peace was already shattered beyond repair.

Granting that they are allowed to settle down to their chore—as this was written Egypt, backed by Russia, was still trying to make them get out of the canal zone and take up position on the 1949 armistice line—these U.N. troops are likely to be around a long time, subject to replacement individually and by nation. Their numbers are small, but their potential moral force is tremendous; for whoever lifts a hand against them must reckon with the might of more than 70 nations.

The question of creating and maintaining just such an international force has been argued inside and outside of U.N. since that organization was chartered. Had U.N. sent in an armed force to patrol the armistice between Israel and her Arab neighbors back in 1949 much of the trouble that now shakes the peace of the whole world might have been avoided.

Instead, U.N. sent in a scant handful of unarmed representatives from many nations, without authority to act except to report on border incidents and, try to quiet the combatants.

More than twenty of these hapless "keepers of the peace" lost their lives in line of duty, including the first commissioner, Count Bernadotte of Sweden. Somewhere near 75 were wounded.

Presumably the inflowing small army of U.N. troops are prepared and instructed to shoot to kill if necessary.

Why not a much larger U.N. force, kept ready at all times, to ride herd on our shaky world? It is easier to put out a small fire at the source than to stamp out a conflagration.

Spontaneous Rebellion

In an interview a masked Hungarian just in from that strife-torn country threw some light on the question whether radio Free Europe or the Voice of America had played any part in touching off the anti-Communist rebellion there.

It is something Americans have wondered at and argued among themselves, so interest in the subject is intense.

This Hungarian, apparently a young man, and masked to protect his family against possible reprisal, said in effect: No, the organs mentioned did not touch off the revolt; it had been building up for a long time, and finally there was this explosion. The people, he said in effect, did not need to be reminded of Russion oppression; they were quite well aware of it. They knew little of what was going on in the outside world, but they had been living with oppression a long time, and they knew all about that.

So, in short, the rebellion was spontaneous and entirely home-grown.

President Eisenhower said at his press conference this week that the U.S. had not promised any military help to oppressed peoples, and had not encouraged un-armed people to go up against their ruthless oppressors.

However, it is not surprising that a good many people on this side of the water felt that our "propaganda" had encouraged the uprising. There was a lot of talk about ditching the Truman-Marshall-Acheson policy of "containment"—that is erecting barriers against the spread of Soviet power—and its replacement with a policy of "encouragement"—that is, encouraging the oppressed people by every legitimate means to throw off their yokes.

The Korean affair could be said to have exemplified the "containment" policy, for after all is said and done it did stop the Communists from taking over South Korea by force.

So don't be surprised if it becomes necessary to revive that virtually discarded policy to meet the facts of life.

If Winter Comes-

Years Have Made Gentle Philosopher Out Of Former 'Fiery' Little Priest

By DWIGHT PITKIN

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP) — The years have mellowed the fiery priest of the Shrine of the Little Flower.

At 65, the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin in his pulpit at the Roman Catholic shrine speaks and looks like a philosopher. He gave up his controversial radio career 16 years ago.

No longer is he a Don Quixote tilting with political windmills. But he still has the eloquence that made his name a household word a generation ago. Today, instead of denouncing politicians and bankers, he is centering his fire on the Devil.

Except for his parish activities in this thriving suburb of Detroit, Father Coughlin leads almost a cloistered life.

The priest used to hold news conferences and voice off-the-cuff opinions about almost anything. In this campaign year he has given no interviews.

His sermons today reflect sweetness and light. But the old punch is still there when he tees off on the Devil.

He recently warned his parishioners:

"Your adversary is the Devil—a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour."

The priest exhorted the people not to put their trust in material things but in "the sword of truth, which is the Word of God."

Father Coughlin's fame reached its peak in the depression days of the '30s as a champion of the poor.

His eclipse as a national political figure began in 1936. That was the year he backed a political loser. And with returning prosperity, radio listeners lost interest in him.

Father Coughlin supported the New Deal in its early years. He turned against Roosevelt in the 1936 election and threw his support to a third party candidate, Rep. William Lemke, North Dakota farm congressman and advocate of monetary reforms.

Roosevelt won a second term by the biggest landslide of his four terms.

Father Coughlin lost political face. He announced his retirement from radio speaking. He denied there was any compulsion from the Church. In the heat of the campaign he had called Roosevelt a "liar and betrayer." This was reported to have caused a painful impression at the Vatican. The priest apologized.

Tired of political warfare, Father Coughlin said he wanted to return to the life of "a simple parish priest." But late in 1937 he started a new series of broadcasts. He soon was in hot water again although these radio speeches were on the mild side.

He was quoted as saying at a news conference that a good Catholic could no more be a member of the CIO than a Mohammedan. His superior at that time, Archbishop Edward Mooney of Detroit, who later became a cardinal, said the priest was in error. The archbishop said there was no incompetability between the CIO and the Chuurch. Father Coughlin canceled his broadcasts.

Back on the air in 1938, the priest became subject of bitter controversy again over the position of the church on labor. He also got into a row with Jewish groups over who started the revolution in Russia, but he denied antisemitism.

Father Coughlin definitely left the air waves in 1940. He disazine Social Justice he had founded sociated himself from the magazine Social Justice he had founded to advocate the political and economic views of the National Union for Social Justice.

Abandoning public controversy, the priest devoted his full attention to his parish. When he founded it in 1926, he had a small shingled church and a congregation of 50.

Radio listeners, Protestant and Jewish as well as Catholic who were charmed by the priest's eloquence, poured in gifts that helped build a new church. It is an imposing octagonal stone structure with a crucifixion toward standing as a landmark on the main northern entry into Detroit.

The replacement value of the church property, including schools and convents, is estimated at more than 13 million dollars. More than 8,000 persons attend Sunday masses.

In celebrating the shrine's 25th anniversary, Father Coughlin said, "If I had to to do over again I would not talk about economic and political change, but would speak in terms of ethical changes and Christ's way of life."

In the pulpit, Father Coughlin sums up his philosophy today:

"God is in his Heaven. Don't worry about the political situation or economic disaster or threat of war. You are in the care of God."

WASHINGTON LETTER

Capital Again Choosing A 'Host With The Most'

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — With the striped pants set cutting a swath this season in an unprecedented flurry of lavish shindigs, capital partygoers are up to their old game — voting for "Host with the Most," on Embassy Row.

The concensus up to now has been that Spanish Ambassador Jose Areilza and his chic and titled wife, the countess of Motrico, are Perle Mestas of the diplomatic shirl. Since their arrival here two years ago they've completely redecorated the embassy. Its ballroom is now the largest, most elegant in the capital. Their receptions have been the talk of the town.

Now the new French ambassador, Herve Alphand, and his glamorous, Dior-dressed wife have arrived with a reputation as noted party-givers, and some competition is expected.

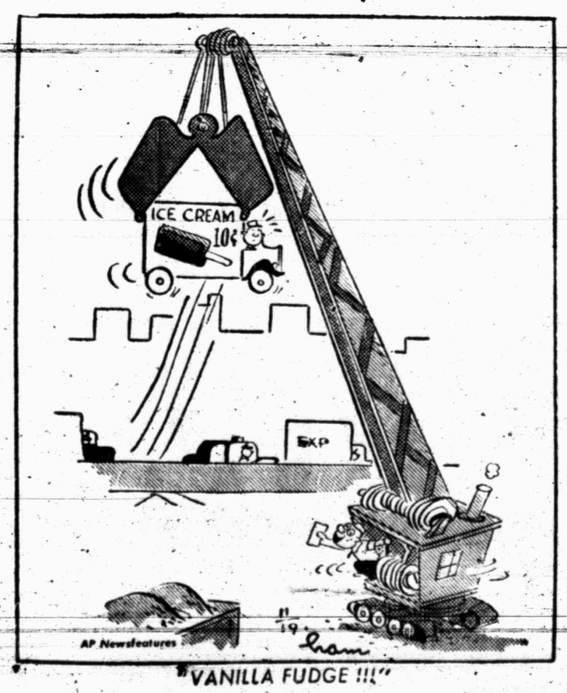

Oddly enough, the two envoys look somewhat alike. Both are slightly balding, with their remaining gray hair slicked back, their eyebrows darkly-defined over eyes that twinkle with amusement. Both are dapper, courtly and witty.

Guests at the Spanish embassy are always in for a surprise in the way of entertainment—an imported dancing troupe, a famed musician or artist, a new dance step, perhaps a game or some special Spanish feast.

The Alphands brought their talent with them. The ambassador is a superb mimic and story-teller. His wife, an accomplished singer, also possesses an unusual flair for arranging very chic and highly diverting parites, big and small. The Alphands have hardly had time to go in for any big-scale entertaining yet, but they made quite a reputation as hosts par excellence in New York, where the diplomat was ambassador to the U.N.

Meanwhile, the Spanish couple, who have a private fortune, continue to make the headlines. An example is the fete they gave in honor of famed pianist Jose Iturbi after his concert at Constitution Hall. Guests not only met the great artist but were treated to a brief recital by another Spanish musician — guitarist Yepes. Among the distinguished guests were the Alphands.

Illness Of Dulles Opens Ill-Concealed Battle For His Post In Ike's Cabinet

By HOLMES ALEXANDER

WASHINGTON, D. C. — With Secretary Dulles apparently past the crisis of his emergency operation, it's time to note that his rush to the hospital started a stampede for succession and that it forcast one of the critical contests of the Eisenhower Administration II.

So instant and shameless was the dash to get Mr. Dulles' job as soon as he was bedridden that the conspirators betrayed themselves as laughing heirs. Thomas Dewey's name and picture hit the front pages as the "next" Secretary of State in some of the same editions which used the mordant word "cancer" in reporting Mr. Dulles' operation. There was something unceremonious and even indecent in the way Mr. Dulles was written off and in the way Mr. Dewey's name was used to nail down the number one job in Eisenhower Administration II, either for Mr. Dewey himself or his assign.

That was only half of the strategic pincers movement to snip this plum from the bough. It almost seemed that the same scalpel which opened the Secretary's abdomen flashed like a scimitar toward the head ofthe Deputy Secretary, Herbert Hoover, Jr. The same persons who were so premature concerning Mr. Dulles wanted to make certain that Mr. Hoover did not get lined up for the succession.

The long distance telephones were humming with conspiratorial talk, and it was about that time that Candidate Estes Kefauver gave out a statement which connected Under Secretary Hoover with Arabian oil. The statement brought forth one of the very few angry retorts to come from former President Herbert Hoover, the Under Secretary's revered father. Mr. Hoover pere said that neither his son nor any of the family had dealings in Arabian oil and that any statement to the contrary was "an absolute lie."

This was enough to silence Senator Kefauver, on whom the national election soon put another quietus; but the conspiratorial damage was already done. It goes without saying that nobody with real or rumored Arabian oil in his background is likely to be acceptable as Secretary of State during these tense days in the Middle East. Mr. Hoover was thus virtually eliminated as a candidate for succession.

But it could be that all this scheming might have been averted with a consequent sparing of personal feelings. Mr. Dulles seems to be getting along much better than the schemers thought he would. On the day after the election he was pestering his State Department office to find out the latest word on the Kentucky Senatorial race in which Thruston Morton, an assistant Secretary of State this time last year, finally won out. Mr. Dulles' friends believe that he will return to his desk. They set his probably retirement from the State Department at his 70th birthday which falls in 1958, a termination date which the Secretary has planned for a long while.

As to Under Secretary Hoover, there never was much chance that he would become Mr. Secretary, except on a fill-in basis. The Under Secretary is exceedingly shy. He is especially leery of the press and, I think, has never held a press conference since coming to Washington. He has submitted to a couple of interviews, one with the "New York Times" which came out very unfavorably and, Mr. Hoover's friends think, in very poor taste. Secretary Hoover had another painful experience a few months ago when he was haled before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and given the polite third degree about some arms shipments to the Middle East. Things like that happen all the time to professional diplomats and ambitious careerists, and it's to be expected that anybody in politics or political service will occasionally get rough treatment in the press and on the Hill. But Mr. Hoover is a political amateur without ambitions. He isn't expected to go anywhere except back to California when he signs off this stint.

But the conspirators look upon Mr. Hoover as a conservative and a nationalist, and this will never do in Administration II. Even the Hoover name is distasteful to the persons in and near the White House who are coaching Mr. Eisenhower on "modern" Republicanism.

There is another group, The 4-H Club, including Secretaries Hoover and Humphrey, who hope to continue a balanced budget, accompanied by reduced public spending. But this would mean a cutback in welfare at home and foreign aid abroad, a backslide to pre-Ike Republicanism. For that reason, whenever a cabinet officer falters or vacates his post, we must expect in Administration II that modern, nay ultramodern, Republicans will be rushed into the breach.

Grandma Used To Practice That Modern Cold Remedy

By INEZ ROBB

During the past few days, as I have been picking feebly at the coverlet of my cot, to which I have been confined by that vicious aggressor known as the common cold, I have made a small therapeutic discovery.

It is, to wit: Medicine is either years behind the time or else Grandma Callaway and all her generation were years ahead of their's.

Dr. Guy T. Vise of Meridian, Miss., has just told the annual convention of the Southern Medical Association that the best bet to lick the common cold is—if you will pardon the expression—sweat. Common cold, so to speak, vs. common sweat.

The good doctor calls his system the "dehydration method" and is being hailed far and wide for this new and original contribution to the pesky, unsolved problem of licking the common cold.

Well, for land's sake! Grandma practiced this method, which she called "sweating it out," from the time I can remember. And she got the recipe from her grandmother.

Grandma, just as Dr. Vise today, wrapped the victim in a sheet and then in as many blankets and home-pieced "comforters" as she could lay hands on. Once the sufferer was helpless in this homemade cocoon, Grandma began applying the external heat in the form of hot water bottles, hot bricks or hot rocks.

But Grandma, both out of compassion and conviction that it materially aided the process, also stoked the natural or inner fires. Before the victim was trussed up in blankets, Grandma stood over him and saw that he downed a powerful elixir known as Grandma's Red Hot Toddy.

Grandma had unshaken faith in bourbon as the eau-de-vie for three things and three things only: In the treatment of mince meat, plum pudding and colds. We couldn't have had too many colds, for a quart lasted a twelvemonth.

But when someone in the family did catch a cold, Grandma knew what to do as well as Dr. Vise. She made a compound of boiling water, bourbon, sugar and lemon that went down the throat like a benevolent fire. It hit the inner man like a small conflagration and there it burned with a pure and gem-like flame.

In the meantime, the blankets, egged on by hot bricks, rocks and water bottles, were blazing too. The victim began to steam like suet pudding. Before long, he was literally boiling inside and out, and perspiration was gushing from him as if he were a hot spring or a leaky boiler.

It should be obvious by this time that if the sufferer recovered from this trial by fire, he was a cinch to lick a mere cold.

Grandma and her generation also said, "Stuff a cold and starve a fever," a medical dictim that has been out of fashion for years and years. But I'll bet a cookie that in another year some young medico will advocate stuffing as a brand new cure-all for colds.

As Grandma used to say, "The more things change, the more they are the same." And to her, that meant castor oil and bourbon.

Gen. Gruenther Becomes Living Legend In Europe

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther is known to the world as supreme allied commander in Europe, a post he will resign next Tuesday to enter private life after 38 years a soldier.

But at Buckingham Palace in London Gruenther also is known as the man who once brought presents, not for the Queen, but for her children.

Palace attendants, accustomed to seeing packages arrive by a service door, recall that the general arrived for a courtesy call on Queen Elizabeth trailed by a Scots aide whose kilt flounced in the breeze while he used both arms to clutch a large box wrapped in ordinary brown paper.

When the Queen opened the box she found a mechanical doll for her daughter, Princess Anne, and a mechanical bear for her son, Prince Charles.

The presents made a hit with the whole royal family and served to illustrate the general's attention to the little, personal things that have kindled friendship and the spirit of alliance in the west.

Such personal attention and his amazing capacity for the detail have made Gruenther a living legend in Europe and he has come close to hero status through peacetime duty as any soldier could hope.

Considered one of the Army's best brains, Gruenther was appointed supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense forces in Europe after President Eisenhower pulled Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway off the job to make him U. S. Army chief of staff in 1953. Ridgway retired last year and was succeeded by Gen. Maxwell Taylor.

When he was boss of Supreme Headquarters, Allied Power in Europe, Eisenhower called Gruenther his "right hand."

Gruenther has been at SHAPE since 1951, first as chief of staff to Gen. Eisenhower then as chief of staff to Gen. Ridgway, and finally as supreme commander. He will be succeeded next week by Gen. Lauris Norstad, who has served as his air deputy.

Gruenther was in on the tortuous negotiations and difficult parliamentary maneuvering that led to German rearmament and the general feeling is that he knows more about the subject than any man in the world.

Shape now controls more than 48 active divisions along a 4,000 mile front that extends from Norway to Turkey. A similar number of reserve division reportedly are ready for front line duty within 30 days of an outbreak of war.

Mail, Attentive Ear Can Reveal Interesting Facts

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail—or listen at cocktail parties:

That most pawnbrokers have charged the same interest rate on loans—17 per cent—since the 17th Century.

That scientists have found they can make a normal cell cancerous by cutting down on its oxygen supply.

That the "realistic effects" in movies run up their budgets. It costs $5 in Hollywood to create an icicle, $50 for a shell hole, $50 for a rain-splashed window, and $24,000 for a 24-foot model of the Mayflower.

That of the 2,200 accidental deaths by firearms in the United States last year the largest victim group consisted of children between 2 and 14 years old.

That fires killed 6,500 Americans in 1955, and a lot of them were smokers who lit a last cigarette in bed just before dozing off. That a carpet sweeper manufacturer has started a national campaign to get an 8-hour work day for housewives. The reaction of the average husband: "What wife will stand for working that long?"

That DuPont company engineers asked to name the six inventions most important in forging our civilization, chose: movable printing type, clocks with interchangeable parts, the telephone, the steam engine, the automobile and the airplane.

That words, in their lifetime, often change as much as people do. "Villian" originally meant merely "a farm laborer." "Hussy" at one time meant, not a jade, but an ordinary housewife.

That laboratory dogs, subjected to periods of alternate overeating and reducing, developed high blood pressure. Human hypertension, doctors feel, may result from these same dietary errors.

A PIECE OF MY MIND: REFLECTIONS AT SIXTY. By Edmund Wilson. Farrar, Straus & Cudahy.

Ten articles, a lot of them of immediate interest as when Wilson writes of Jews and Arabs, science and sex, or war, make up this welcome offering from an author whose ideas in general, even when he does not mention sex, are as likely to arouse antagonism as the banned "Memoirs of Hecate County."

The "Memoirs," now a decade old, were reflections at 50; but at 60 Wilson hasn't mellowed, and his tough, thorny mind gets around behind things and observes from a fresh angle; even when he is not profound, he is provocative.

You find him now benign, now even reactionary: He cannot imagine killing anyone in cold blood in wartime, he "loathed" the army, he opposed both world wars, he writes nostalgically of his childhood; on the other hand, he cannot "abide" the radio, rarely watches TV, detests the word "movies" and sees himself as something of an "old fogey"—which is a sort of reactionary. But he is an old curmedgeon, too. Some Catholics will pounce with glee on his accusations against Protestants, some of whom in turn will be thrilled by his charges against Catholics. He writes bitingly about science; some forms of education; some notions of sex and love; the misuse of the term "Americanism."

It is not "A Piece of My Mind," but pieces; and it is his mind and his only, too, with no commitments to creed or institution, beholden to no man.

FOR GOOD EATING

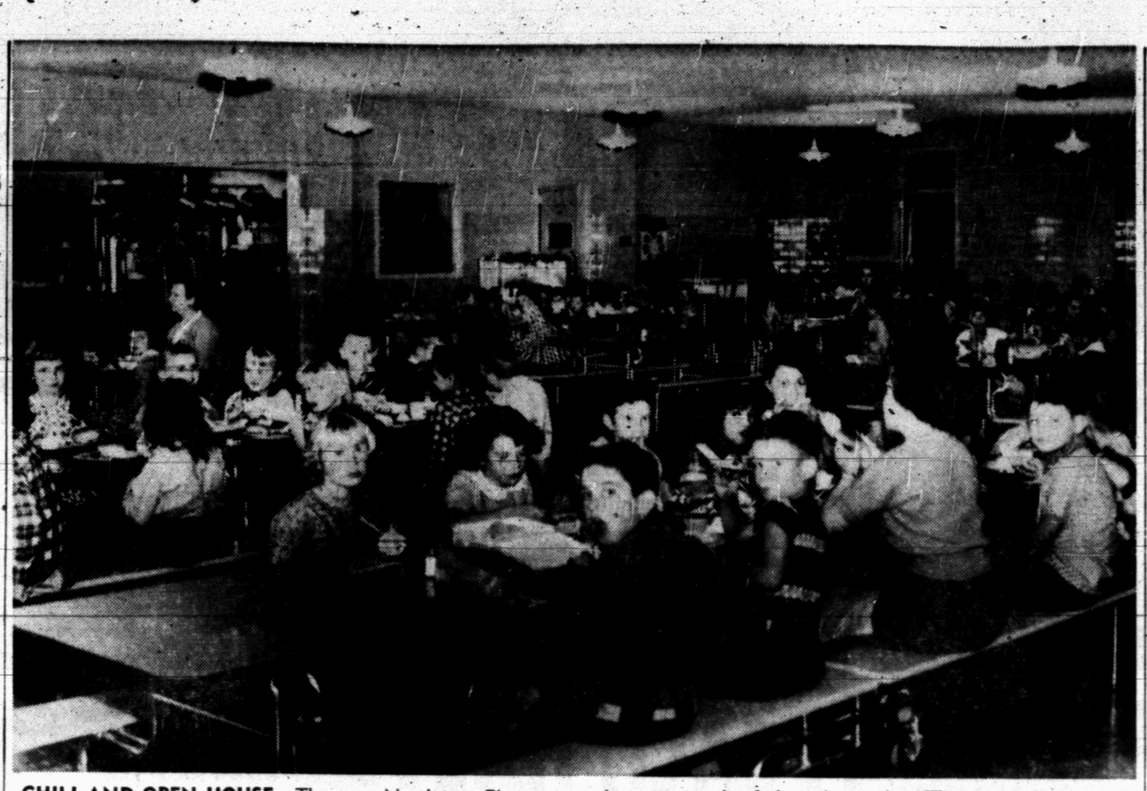

Some foods seem to belong to a particular time or season of the year. Kraut in combination with pork and apples typifies autumn to most of us. For our harvest dinner we especially like this apple-Ridged Pork with Kraut accompanied by baked beans and lots of brown bread.

Apple-Ridged Pork With Kraut

(Makes 6 servings)

1 2½ pound smoked, boned pork shoulder butt
1½ cups water
2 medium-sized apples, sliced
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 1-pound 11-ounce can sauerkraut

Remove pork shoulder from casing; make 1-inch deep cuts 1-inch apart across top of meat. Place in shallow roasting pan; add 1 cup water and bake in slow oven (325) 1 hour. Arrange half of apple slices in meat; arrange remaining apple slices in bottom of pan. Combine brown sugar, remaining ½ cup water and mustard; heat to boiling point, stirring frequently. Pour brown-sugar mixture over meat. Bake 30 minutes; arrange undrained kraut around meat. Bake 30 minutes, or until kraut is thoroughly heated.

CHILI AND OPEN HOUSE—The new Northeast Elementary School will be initiated tonight at a chili supper which will be a feature of the open house at Snyder's newest elementary school. It is located at Thirteenth Street and Avenue I in northeast Snyder. The above picture shows the cafeteria of the new school. (Lee Watson photograph)

YOU AND YOUR TEEN-AGER

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

Some teen-agers are not allowed to invite their friends to their homes in groups. Why? Because their parents, who have a love for beauty and ornamentation in their homes, refuse to risk having it marred by the joyful abandon of untaught teen-agers.

Can you blame them?

Other moms and dads, perhaps who are not so particular about their furnishings or who can afford to have them replaced as they are broken or soiled, resign themselves to "natural youthful exhuberance."

But is careless destruction natural? Perhaps for the undisciplined teen-ager it is, but for the teen who has been brought up with a wholesome respect for the property of others, it is no more natural to ring the finish of a piano with a wet cold drink bottle than it is for him to eat with his fingers.

Much of what is "natural" in a human being must be refined if he is to take his place in society as a desirable person. He must not only learn the etiquette of eating with silverware, but he must learn to keep his feet off the coffee table and his fingers from the knick nacks on the what-not shelves.

This refining process falls into the realm of the duties of conscientious parents.

By the time a boy or girl reaches his teens, he is almost grown. The arrival of a teen-age guest should be no cause for dread. Why then is it?

Too many teen-agers are too poorly trained. Being considerate of the property of a host or hostess does not come easy because they are not in the habit of keeping their feet on the floor and their hands to themselves at home.

Parents who teach their children to deal carefully with furniture and ornaments at home, however poor and shabby these items may be, need have no fear that their children will be a menace to the most delicate of antiques when visiting in the wealthiest home in town.

Teen-agers, like the rest of us, usually do what comes naturally. If property is respected and care is taken never to scratch, chip or otherwise abuse it at home, property in the homes of others then is safe.

If you want your child to be welcome in any home, begin today to teach him thoughtfulness.

Asthma and Hay Fever Relief Comes in Minutes ...and Lasts For Hours

Tiny Tablet Now Available Without Prescription!

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Medical science has developed a new, tiny tablet that not only stops asthma spasms ... but brings relief to those who also suffer from hay fever attacks.

Authoritative tests have proved that this remarkable compound brings blessed relief in mere minutes—and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful spasms.

This fast-acting formula is prescribed by doctors for their private patients who suffer from both asthma and hay fever. And now sufferers can obtain this formula—without prescription—in tiny, easy-to-take tablets called *Primatene.

New Primatene opens bronchial tubes, loosens mucous congestion, relieves taut nervous tension, helps dry up nasal passages.

All this without taking painful injections, and without the inconvenience of nebulizers.

The secret of Primatene is that it contains medicines found most effective in combination for those who suffer from asthma and hay fever distress.

Primatene is available at all drug stores. The price is only 98¢ for a bottle of twenty-four tablets. And remember—if not entirely satisfied, your money will be refunded promptly.

So look forward to sleep at night and freedom from anxiety by day. Get Primatene today! *Trade Mark

TWO GIRLS, A CHEVY AND A RECORD!

A meaningful achievement in automobile performance

Most automobile performance records you read about these days are set on a track or closed course. The results are usually pretty difficult to relate to the kind of days in, day-out driving most of us do. Running at safe and legal speeds, a '57 Chevrolet recently chalked up a new coast-to-coast record on the road. And the way it set this record is even more important than the record itself!

A new '57 Chevrolet recently proved it has the qualities most people look for in a car—and proved it on the roads you travel, under the same conditions you drive in every day. It broke the record for the coast-to-coast run from New York to Los Angeles (certified by NASCAR). It was a strictly stock, V8-powered Chevy. It was driven by two young ladies.

This last fact, we think, is even more important than the impressive new record set by Chevrolet. Oh sure, it's nice to know that a Chevrolet can cross the country in one uninterrupted span—and do it in less than 57 hours. It's a tribute to Chevrolet's great-hearted V8 engine and solid road-worthiness that it could travel day and night for 2,913 miles at safe and legal speeds—and better the existing record for the trip by more than three hours. But it's only when you consider that all the driving was done by 98-pound Betty Skelton and her friend Caroline Russ that the true significance of this record run becomes apparent.

When a pair of young ladies step into a car and drive it round the clock to a new transcontinental record, you know that car is easy to drive. You begin to see what we mean by smooth-cruising comfort . . . by nailed-to-the-road stability by sweet-feeling sureness of control . . . by quicksilver responsiveness.

We'd like you to get to know this new Chevy. Stop in and see how beautifully it does all the things a car should do.

Tito Is Accused Of Showing Tendencies For Interference

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda today accused Yugoslavia's President Tito of showing "tendencies to interfere in the affairs of other Communist states."

A dispatch from Belgrade to the Soviet Communist party's newspaper told the Russian people for the first time that Tito had criticized the current Soviet line in a speech at Pula Nov. 11.

Pravda said the speech "contained certain statements which both in form and essence contradict the principles of proletarian internationalism and the international solidarities of the working people."

The dispatch linked Tito with "reactionary propaganda" in explaining the causes of Stalinism. Stalin kicked Tito's Communist party out of the Cominform in 1948 for "nationalism." But the present Soviet leaders have been trying to restore good relations between Russia and Yugoslavia.

Pravda added that Tito said that "the cult of the personality of Stalin was 'the product of a definite system.'" The paper claimed that this "is precisely what reactionary propaganda" is trying to do in its struggle with Marxism-Leninism.

Pravda said that the idea "seeps through" the Yugoslav press as well as Tito's speech that "Yugoslavia's road to socialism is the only true and even the only possible way for Socialist development in almost all countries."

The dispatch said this view "contradicts the Marxist-Leninist tenet that each country can have its own method, forms and tempos of transition to socialism."

Referring to the Hungarian revolt, Pravda said Tito blamed the government of the then Premier act more energetically, for the intervention of Russia troops.

The party paper deplored Tito's "attempt to divide the Communist parties into 'Stalinist' and 'non-Stalinist.'"

Khrushchev Hurls New Tirades At Western Nations

MOSCOW (AP) — Red-faced and gesticulating, Nikita S. Khrushchev told the West last night: "We will bury you."

For the second consecutive night, the Soviet Communist party boss delivered an anti-Western tirade so bitter that diplomats from Atlantic Alliance nations and Israel left the room. Khrushchev's main themes at a Polish Embassy reception were Egypt and Hungary.

Obviously speaking to the Western diplomats in attendance, Khrushchev said:

"If you don't like us, don't accept our invitations and don't invite us to come to see you.

"Whether you like it or not, history is on our side. We will bury you."

The Western envoys, including U. S. Ambassador Charles Bohlen, retired to an outer room where one said, "The atmosphere is much more pleasant." They returned to the hall where the Poles were toasting a just-signed Moscow-Warsaw joint declaration after Khrushchev finished speaking.

The night before, Khrushchev had denounced "Fascist gangs" in Hungary and "imperialists and their puppets" in the Egyptian war during a Kremlin reception for the Poles.

On that occasion the Western diplomats stalked out and did not return.

Last night's party followed agreement on a joint Polish-Russian statement some Poles considered a virtual declaration of independence — although Poland remains firmly within the Moscow-led alliance of Communist nations.

Khrushchev began calm:

"We are Bolsheviks. We stick firmly to the Lenin precept — Don't be stubborn if you see you are wrong, but don't give in if you are right."

He said the Communist countries can find solutions to all their problems on the basis of mutual understanding and equality.

But then, seemingly directing his remarks at the Western diplomats, he said:

"We say this not only for the Socialist states who are more akin to us. We base ourselves on the idea that we must peacefully coexist. About the capitalist states, it doesn't depend on you whether or not we exist."

Khrushchev then announced that history was on the Communists' side and that "we will bury you." Other Russian leaders burst into applause.

Of Hungary, Khrushchev said:

"We are very sorry that such a situation exists there. We are sure that the Hungarian working class will find the strength to overcome the difficulties. But the most important thing is that the counterrevolution must be shattered."

Of Egypt:

"The Western powers are trying to denigrate Nasser. . . . The situation is serious and we are realists. The fire must be put out. I think the British and French will be wise enough to withdraw their forces and then Egypt will emerge stronger than ever."

Again referring to the West, Khrushchev said:

"You say we want war, but you now have got yourselves into a position I would call idiotic. . .

"But we don't want to profit by it. If you withdraw your troops from Germany, France and Britain — I'm speaking of American troops — we will not stay one day in Poland, Hungary and Romania.

"But we, Mister Capitalists, we are beginning to understand your methods. You have given us a lesson in Egypt. If we had a quarter of our present friendships for the Poles, Czechs and Slovaks before the war (World War II), the war would never have started."

Group Finds Body Of Second Brother

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Searchers found the body of the second of two brothers who disappeared a month ago on a National Guard artillery range east of Boise.

John Soto, 26, and Julio Soto Jr., 23, were looking for scrap metal.

An exploded mortar shell was found beside John's body. He apparently thought the shell was a dud.

As Sheriff Pat McCarthy reconstructed the tragedy, Julio also was wounded in the explosion. He covered his brother with his denim jacket and struck out across the desert for help. He collapsed after going a mile and a half.

Hypnotize Turkey Before Killing Him

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A hypnotist has telegraphed President Eisenhower suggesting that he "lead the nation in a humane Thanksgiving" by putting his turkey in a trance before the ax falls.

"This is easily done by first talking to him (the bird) softly, laying his head quietely on the ground where you stretch a piece of white string," messaged Arthur Ellen.

"His eyes focus on the string, thereby allaying his fears and virtually putting him to sleep. The bird is not frightened at the time of the execution, tastes better due to the absence of adrenalin in the bloodstream and plucks easier because the muscles holding the feathers are relaxed."

Constable Is Out Enforcing Blue Law

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A number of service stations closed up because coastable Clarence Prevatt was out enforcing Sunday blue laws again.

Signs at several stations said they were closing because the owners wanted to stay out of jail.

Prevatt nabbed 10 operators of drug stores and service stations — charging all with operating businesses on the Sabbath.

Tigers To Seek Title In Tornado Land Friday

The chips will be on the line Friday night when the Tigers journey to Lamesa to meet the Golden Tornadoes in the final scheduled game of the season for both teams.

The Tigers can sew up their second straight title by either defeating or tieing the Tornadoes. A Lamesa win, however, will throw the final standings into a 3-way deadlock for first place between Lamesa, Sweetwater and Snyder.

Sweetwater has already completed its season and now must await the outcome of the Tiger-Tornado tilt.

Sweetwater stayed in the running with a 20-13 win over Lamesa last Friday night which knocked Lamesa out of the unbeaten ranks in conference play. Sweetwater thus finished with a 3-1 conference mark, the lone loss being to Snyder, 3-0.

The Tigers kept their conference and full season unbeaten record intact Friday night with a 49-6 victory over Colorado City.

The other game involving a 3-AAA team, Lake View dropped non-district affair to Kermit, 14-7.

The Tigers may have lost the services of halfback Bobby Pollard in the Colorado City game. Pollard received a knee and wrist injury in the C-City game.

It was first believed that Pollard fractured his wrist but a later examination revealed that it may only be sprained. Pollard, in any case, is a doubtful participant for the Lamesa game.

In addition to the Tiger-Tornado tilt this week, Colorado City goes to Lake View in a battle to see who escapes the cellar. Both C-City and Lake View are winless in three district starts and the loser in Friday's game will finish in the cellar.

John Middleton of Lamesa scored one touchdown against Sweetwater to boost his season scoring total to 78 points, tops in the District 3-AAA ranks. The Tigers' Milton Ham is second with 57 points.

Following is the District 3-AAA scoreboard:

DISTRICT 3-AAA STANDINGS

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

IN JOHNNY (THE JET) Middleton the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes may have the finest running back in the state.

And with this in mind the Tigers may well have their hands full Friday night when they go against the Tornadoes at Lamesa.

Moddleton ground out 93 yards against the tough Sweetwater defense last Friday night.

If this isn't enough proof that Middleton is a dangerous runner, further proof that the boy is great may be derived from the fact that the 93 yards gained against Sweetwater was his lowest rushing mark of the season for a single contest.

Middleton, too, has a running mate that goes by the name of Roger (The Rocket) Shipp. Some critics have been heard to say that Shipp is the better runner of the two although Middleton has gained the most yardage and scored the most points.

Middleton, incidentally, leads District 3-AAA in scoring for the season with 78 points, 21 more than the runner-up, the Tigers' Milton Ham who has 57 points.

Anyway you look at it, the Tornadoes are to be considered a dangerous outfit. The Tigers will have to be at their best to take Friday night's contest from the Lamesans.

Upsets Continue In College Ranks

College football teams continue to stump the "experts" around the country. Who would ever have thought Hardin-Simmons, winner of only one game this season, would defeat College of Pacific Saturday night, loser of only one game this campaign.

And College of Pacific has played a pretty tough schedule this year as has Hardin-Simmons. The lone COP loss prior to its 20-19 defeat to H-SU Saturday was a 14-13 affair to highly regarded Tulsa.

Then Minnesota turned the tables on the "fools" that go out on the limb in predicting football games by defeating potent Michigan State, once the No. 1 team in the nation this season.

An odd incident that happened in the SMU-Arkansas game Saturday that may have robbed SMU of a victory reminded us of an incident several years ago in a game involving ACC and Daniel Baker, the latter of which has since given up football.

The similarity of the SMU and Arkansas uniforms in Saturday's game resulted in SMU's Charlie Arnold throwing a pass directly to Arkansas' Gerald Nesbitt who was completely out of the play.

SMU was on the Hog 20 and was threatening to break a 7-7 tie when Arnold tossed directly to Nesbitt standing on the goal line and 20 yards away from any SMU player. Nesbitt returned it to the mid-field stripe and proceeded to score from this point and SMU was never the same after that.

Teams Switch Uniforms During Game

In the ACC-Daniel Baker game, which was played on the Hardin-Simmons field, the two teams had similar uniforms and the DBC coach stopped the game in the third quarter to do something about the uniform deal.

You see Daniel Baker had a passing team and was having difficulty getting its passing attack going.

The situation was solved when Hardin-Simmons offered to loan Daniel Baker its uniforms completely different from ACC's purple and white. The game was stopped while Daniel Baker made the change but the change was made too late.

It was an important game for DBC since a win would have given her the Texas Conference title.

ACC went into the game with 13 straight losses and Daniel Baker with 13 straight wins. The game was played on Friday the 13th.

All these "jinxes" piled up on Daniel Baker and ACC broke it's 13-game losing streak and to make it complete, ACC upset the Hill Billies by 13-7.

Texas Western Gains Spot In Sun Bowl

By The Associated Press

Halfback Truman Hobbs booted Texas Western College to a six-game sweep of Border Conference competition Saturday. The Miners appeared headed to a host's position in the Sun Bowl.

Hobbs' 38-yard field goal in the closing seconds against West Texas State gave the Miners a 16-13 victory.

The defeat pushed West Texas back into third position.

Arizona State at Tempe claimed second beating Arizona 20-0.

Only New Mexico A&M and Hardin-Simmons have conference games left. The two meet each other Saturday. Both have no victory in three conference matches.

Gail Drops Season Finale

Gail's Coyotes lost a 20-12 heartbreaker to Loop Friday night in their final bid for the District 7-B (Six-Man) title.

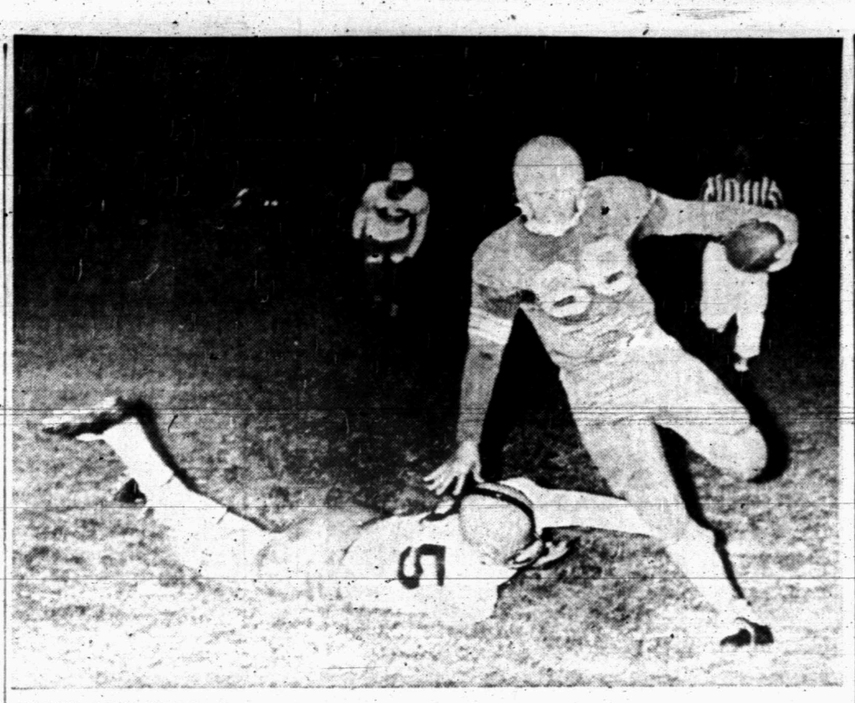

Loop, by winning, took the 7-B crown with a 6-0 record. Dawson, which defeated Klondike Friday, finished second with 5-1 and Gail ended in third place with 4-2.

Had Gail won Friday, the race would have ended in a 3-way tie for first place between the three teams mentioned.

Rueben Vaughn scored one of Gail's touchdowns Friday and passed for the other. Vaughn went 60 yards for the first Gail tally in the first quarter and passed to Lloyd Ramsey for 45 yards and the second touchdown in the fourth.

Loop led 8-0 when Vaughn broke loose on his 60-yarder. Loop scored in the last three seconds of the first half to take a 14-6 halftime lead.

Gail, composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores, posted a 5-4 season record.

HAYS SCAMPERS—Doyle Hays, Hobbs quarterback, is shown evading a Norton defender for a long gain in Saturday night's bi-district six-man game at Ballinger. Norton, however, with an explosive first quarter, dumped the Hobbs Six, 61-22. Norton scored 28 points in the first quarter before the Panthers got rolling. (Staff photo by Daryl LeBoeuf)

Bowl Picture More Confused Following Weekend Clashes

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Instead of thinning out, as they should at this late stage of the college football season, the ranks of contenders for the major post season bowl games swelled a bit over the weekend.

The only definite bowlers, at the moment, are Colorado, headed for the Orange Bowl; Iowa and Oregon State, tagged for the Rose Bowl; and Tennessee, apparently able to pick either the Cotton or Sugar Bowl.

And you probably can put Georgia Tech in that class too since a sixth consecutive bid seems assured for the Wrecks, beaten only by Tennessee (6-0). A Tech-Vol rematch in the Sugar Bowl would be a dandy.

But beyond those five, the picture is as confused SMU's Charlie Arnold was Saturday he threw a "perfect" pass to an Arkansas player standing alone on the goal line.

Clemson was figured a sure bet to be the Atlantic Coast Conference's entry in the Orange Bowl against Colorado. But with Clemson's 21-0 thomping by Miami (Fla.), the team that's bowl-banned by the NCAA, South Carolina and Duke have popped into the picture as possible being the ACC's "most representative team."

Clemson (5-1 with two ties) plays Virginia Saturday and Furman Dec. 1.

South Carolina (6-3) finishes against Wake Forest Thursday. Duke (4-4 with one tie) against North Carolina Saturday. South Carolina beat Maryland 13-0 Saturday. Duke beat Wake Forest 26-0.

Texas Christian, Southern Methodist and Baylor are in on the scrap for the host spot in the Cotton Bowl. The Southwest Conference champ usually gets that berth, but the front-runner, Texas A&M, is in bad with the NCAA. That leaves it to the runner-up. TCU has lost only once in the conference (to A&M) and plays Rice this week. SMU the next. SMU and Baylor already have dropped two in the conference and battle to stay alive in a showdown this weekend.

The Gator Bowl, usually accorded the &'leftovers" apparently has a good crop of contenders to chose from. In the East alone, there's Pitt, which beat Army 20,7; Syracuse; and perhaps Penn State and Navy. Also under consideration are unbeaten Wyoming, the Skyline champ, and the Southwest's third-place team.

Colorado, beaten by Oregon (35-0) and Oklahoma (27-19) and tied by Missouri (14-14), down Utah 21-7 Saturday and made it to the Orange Bowl as the Big Seven conference runner-up. Oklahoma, now a nine-time champ of the league, is banned from a consecutive repeat.

With Iowa, beaten only by Michigan (17-14), having locked up the Big Ten's Rose Bowl berth (except for formal approval), only the conference title remains to be decided. Iowa gained at least a share by defeating Ohio State 6-0, and should Michigan beat OSU this week, Iowa gets it all. Ohio State is barred from the bowl.

Oregon State, which beat Idaho 14-10 Saturday, needs only a formal pat on the back from the Pathe Rose Bowl. The Beavers can lock up the PCC title by beating Oregon Thanksgiving Day.

In the Ivy League, Yale can clinch the group's first official title by defeating Harvard Saturday after knocking off Princeton, 42-20.

Cotton Bowl Completely 'In The Dark'

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Cotton Bowl knows practically nothing about either the host or visiting team.

Confusion about the former was expected but not about the latter.

Banning of Texas A&M from the Cotton Bowl because it couldn't get from under an NCAA probation brought the trouble. The Aggies are expected to win the Southwest Conference championship outright by beating Texas Nov. 29 and they can't finish lower than a tie. But who will wind up second and furnish the host?

TCU appears to be the best bet. It is in undisputed second place right now, and through its 46-0 walloping of Texas last week indicated it was capable of knocking aside the last two teams left in its path—Rice and SMU.

But many things can happen from the five games left. It is possible for five teams to wind up in a tie for second.

However, the most logical seems to be for TCU to beat Rice and Baylor to lick SMU Saturday. That would eliminate three of the five prospects for a second place tie—Arkansas, Rice and SMU and would put TCU in the Cotton Bowl.

Then the only team that could tie TCU for second would be Baylor. TCU would get the Cotton Bowl by having beaten Baylor. But if SMU should beat Baylor, then it could tie TCU for second by beating the Horned Frogs next week. SMU would thus get the Cotton Bowl spot.

The Aggies clinched a tie for the title last week when they beat Rice 21-7. TCU took over second with its trouncing of Texas since SMU lost to Arkansas 27-13.

Baylor beat Nebraska 26-7.

Arkansas plays the last intersectional game on the schedule Saturday against Louisiana State at Shreveport.

Boston College has beaten Boston University 21 times in 25 football meetings. One game ended in a tie.

You Gotta Be Tuff To Play For Aggies

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—As Texas A&M rolls down the Southwest Conference championship trail on the way to an unbeaten season Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant speaks of his "Junction Boys" with reverence.

It's the story of his success in rebuilding the football fortunes of Aggieland in three tempestuous years.

When Bryant came here from Kentucky in 1954 he found a bunch of gangling kids, most of whom resembled football players only by coincidence. But Bryant first asks if the boy wants to play and next he wants him to be a "hard nose." This means is he willing to take all the knocks and come back fighting for more.

He pitched his football training camp at Junction in the west Texas hill country. The work was tough and quite a few of the boys quit. But there was a hard core that stuck it out and became football players.

Bryant has announced plans to name a new athletic dormitory "Junction Manor" honoring the men who brought A&M back.

Tough guys are the Junction boys. Dee Powell, 189-pound guard, has had his nose broken four times. He'll wait until the seasonis over to get it fixed. Jack Pardee, the fullback who's being mentioned for all-America, had his shoulder disjointed on the first play of the game with University of Houston. He played 55 minutes without telling anybody about it.

Others are Lloyd Hale, center; Eugene Stallings and Bobby Keith, ends; Don Watson, halfback; Dennis Goehring, guard, and Bobby Lockett, tackle.

Layne Top Star In Pro Grid Ranks

By JIM KENSIL
The Associated Press

Pro football has apparently found a successor to Otto Graham, but he won't do Cleveland Coach Paul Brown a yard of good. He plays for the Detroit Lions.

For almost a decade, Graham, the fabulous quarterback of the Browns, was the game's glory boy, a role which falls traditionally to the leading quarterback. Only twice in the last nine years did Graham fail to win All-Pro honors — in 1950 when the Chicago Bears' Johnny Lujack, now retired, picked up the marbles and in 1952 when Bobby Layne of the Detroit Lions was honored.

And now it's Layne again who has emerged as the top headliner in the National Football League. He's sparked the Lions, Western Division tailenders in 1955, all season and yesterday he again played the major role as the Lions whipped Baltimore 27-3 in the Motor City. The win kept the Lions (7-1) tied for the division lead with the Chicago Bears, who won their seventh straight, 30-21 over the visiting Los Angeles Rams.

Late-starting Washington continued to cause trouble in the East. The Redskins, who lost their first three games, have now won four in a row, the latest a smashing 33-7 against the New York Giants, division pacesetters, yesterday at Washington. The Giants (6-2) managed to hold the whole top rung only because the Chicago Cards (5-3) lost in Pittsburgh 14-7 to the Steelers.

The Browns, who have been floundering all season — their first without the great Graham — stopped the host Philadelphia Eagles 16-0 to move into a three-way tie for fourth in the East. The Eagles, Browns and Steelers are all 3-5.

Fourth spot in the West was also tossed into a three-way deadlock. The San Francisco 49ers traveled to Green Bay for a battle of the have-nots and edged the Packers 17-16. The Rams, 49ers and Packers are all 2-6 behinds Baltimore's 3-4.

Yesterday Layne passed for one touchdown and kicked two field goals and three conversions. His passing allowed Leon Hart and Gene Gedman to score on the ground after the Colt defense had been shot full of aerials.

Ira, Highland Cagers Divide

Ira and Highland broke even in a basketball doubleheader Friday night at Highland.

The Ira girls won 74-35 while the Ira boys were defeated by 50-38.

Baleria Eubanks was high for Ira girls with 45 points, followed by Peggy Taylor with 17 and Joan Ford with 10.

Gabler was high for Highland with 13.

In preliminary games, the Ira grade school teams (7th and 8th grades) broke even, with the Ira girls and Highland boys winning.

Ira goes to Coahoma tonight and will host Highland at home tomorrow night.

GRID TICKETS ON SALE HERE

Tickets to both the Tiger-Lamesa and Hermleigh - Van Horn games are now on sale at the Chamber of Commerce Office.

Nearly 700 tickets to the Tiger-Tornado game were sold by 10 a.m. today, only two hours after they were placed on sale.

The CoC office reported that only a few seats on the top and bottom rows on the Snyder side of the field remained to be sold. Snyder, in addition, has been allotted one section on the Lamesa side of the field.

The Tiger - Lamest game is carded for Friday night at Lamesa. Tickets will remain on sale as long as they last until Friday but the CoC office will be closed Thursday

The Hermleigh - Van Horn tickets will remain on sale until Wednesday afternoon afterwhich they'll be available at the stadium ticket office Thursday.

The Hermleigh - Van Horn bi-district game is carded for 2:30 p.m. at Tiger Stadium Thursday. The Hermleigh-VH tickets are also on sale at Hermleigh High School.

Easy Carpet Cleaning Discovery Hailed
What is said to be the easiest and "cleaningest" home rug cleaner, known as Blue Lustre, is now available after years of research.
Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue to cause rapid resoiling. The pile is left open and fluffy as the colors spring out like magic. So easy to apply with a long handle brush (like playing shuffleboard) and is safe for all types of carpets.
Use Blue Lustre to clean the entire carpet or remove spots and traffic lanes. It's economical to use as ½ gallon of consentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

19 Killed Over State

By The Associated Press

Violence in Texas killed at least 19 persons over the weekend. Twelve died in traffic.

A train crashed into a house at Houston Sunday and killed three persons.

A switching freight pushed a boxcar into a Houston home and killed Hilliard Harris, 31; his wife, Johnny, 21, an expectant mother, and their daughter, Jacqueline, 1.

A highway accident near Grapevine in the Dallas area killed Edna Stringer, about 60, of Grapevine, and James Lancaster, about 22, of Alvarado, Sunday.

Andrew Johnson, 39, Dallas Negro, was shot to death Saturday.

Ed Robinson, 54, of Jewett, was killed when an auto overturned west of Buffalo Sunday.

A headon collision north of O'Donnell Sunday killed J. E. Weir, 46, of O'Donnell, and Asque Flanagan, 30, of Lubbock.

Mrs. William Pipkin, 48, of Talco was killed Sunday in a two-car crash north of Paris.

Ann Sothern Will Open Sewing Center

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Hollywood's Ann Sothern stopped here briefly in a $7,500 pastel mink coat on her way to Sun Valley, Idaho, to open a sewing center.

"Oh my, it is going to be fun," she bubbled. "We're going to have simply wonderful things. There will be fabrics, gifts and even sewing machines."

LAUNCH LONGSHORE STRIKE—Longshoremen Walter McNeil, left and Edward Rossy check their watches at midnight as they began picketing a pier in New York in the coastwide strike of the independent International Longshoremen's Association. The strike immediately tied up the Port of New York and spread all along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts to Texas.

Dulles Hits Out At Soviet Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday Soviet Russia has been guilty of "arrogance and ... violations of basic principle" in attacking Hungary and interferring in the Middle East.

He said Kremlin rulers "engaged in war on Hungary, with promiscuous slaughter" and that in the Middle East "they have tried to substitute themselves for the United Nations, instead of acting as a cooperative member."

Dulles read a statement on the steps of Walter Reed Army Hospital, where on Nov. 3 he underwent surgery for removal of a section of intenstine later determined have been cancerous.

The secretary shortly thereafter flew to Key West, Fla., for several weeks of recuperation. He plans to return to his desk Dec. 3. On his arrival at Key West with Mrs. Dulles, he commented, "That sunshine sure feels good."

As for his own condition, he said before leaving here that his doctors say "that I am making an excellent recovery—and I certainly feel that way."

He said U.N efforts toward achieving a stable peace in the Middle East are "on the right track" and added:

"It would, however, be a great mistake to believe that stability and tranquility can be permanently established merely by emergency measures to stop the fighting.

"It is necessary to attack the basic problems of the area. The many nations which want peace must also be prepared to struggle for the conditions necessary for a just and durable peace."

Referring then to Russia's actions in that area and in Hungary, Dulles added: "The free nations cannot relax their vigilance in the face of such arrogance and such violations of basic principles."

Train Backs Into House, Kills Three

HOUSTON, (AP) —A switching freight train backed a box car into the bedroom of a home about dawn yesterday, killing a family of three and an unborn baby.

They were: Hilliard Harris, his wife, Johnny, 21, an expectant mother; and their daughter, Jacqueline, 1.

The box car, on the end of a 21-car Southern Pacific train, smashed through a steel safety bumper into the house where the trio slept. It also pushed 15 feet into an adjoining bedroom occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Williams. They were bruised.

Detectives E. L. Kennedy and Virgil Harte quoted a train crewman, A. J. Peterson, 29, of Houston as saying:

"It was all my fault. The spur track only holds 19 cars but I miscounted and put 21 on it.

The train was being backed onto the spur to clear the main line and he did not count the cars as they entered, he told the detectives. The detectives said there was no trainman at the end of line of cars as they were backed in.

The detectives reported Peterson, W. D. Hicks, 42, of Houston, the engineer, and other members of the crew declined to make written statements.

Stolen Cars Found Easily

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Drivers of two stolen cars became frightened at the same highway patrol car red lights — flashing at the scene of an accident—and fled . . . on foot.

So owners Robert F. Wisecarver and Kenneth Hallmark had their autos back today.

Both reported their cars stolen Saturday.

That night Patrolman Art Dossey, investigating a minor traffic accident, saw an automobile stop suddenly and the driver flee into a field.

Minutes later, a second car braked to a stop and the driver fled.

Dossey assumes both drivers thought they'd come to a roadblock.

Turkeys Are Stolen Just Before Holiday

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — With Thanksgiving less than a week away, someone broke into Fishman's Market over the weekend and stole 5 turkeys.

Also stolen was a meat cutter's knife.

Body Found In Dugout

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — The body of a man found in an abandoned dugout north of Burkburnett, Tex., yesterday was tentatively identified as James Black, 35, who disappeared March 7.

The skull was crushed in two places and was found apart from the rest of the bones.

Mrs. Black said articles in the clothing, including a pocketknife, belonged to her husband.

Black, a Negro, was last seen sitting in his parked car talking to two white men.

He was a state witness in the case of Jean Paul Norris, a white ex-convict charged with theft of engine equipment valued at $4,413. Deputy Sheriff Willis Hartley said, however, no link had been established between Norris and the slaying. No warrant had been issued for Norris' arrest.

Norris is out on bond.

It Takes Long Time To Find Classmates

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Twenty six members of the 1899 class of Washington elementary school here held their first reunion yesterday.

It took professor Benjam F. Cummings III of Brigham Young University two months of research to locate all 26.

And it took a long time to answer the questions: "Where have you been all these years?"

"It's strange," said one. "I've kept in touch with most of them and they don't seem to be getting any older. But those I haven't seen —they're really aging."

Ireland's export trade to the U.S. increased by almost 40 per cent in 1956.

SHUTTERBUG MONARCH—King Gustaf Adolf of Sweden, a devoted amateur photographer, kneels to focus his camera on a piece of ancient sculpture in an art gallery in Florence, Italy. The King, also an amateur archaeologist, spent much of his Italian vacation visiting excavations.

Red Premier Of China Hits U.S.

HONG KONG (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Red China told 100,000 North Vietnamese in Hanoi today the United States has "obstructed and sabotaged" the unification of Viet Nam.

The visiting Red leader chose the United States as his main target in his first major address since leaving Peiping Saturday on a tour of North Viet Nam, Cambodia, Burma, India, Nepal, Pakistan and Afghanistan.

Speaking in the huge Ba Dinh Square in the capital of Communist North Viet Nam, Chou declared:

"In the Geneva agreement it is stipulated that Viet Nam should achieve peaceful unification through nationwide elections. Due to the obstruction and sabotage by the United States, this has so far failed to materialize."

Peiping radio said North Viet Nam's Premier Pham Van Dong, at a reception for Chou in Hanoi, expressed thanks for Peiping's assistance to North Viet Nam. Red China supplied the Vietnamese rebels with Arms and instruction during the eight-year Indochina War ended by the Geneva agreements.

Chou replied that Red China and North Viet Nam are "members of the big family of Socialist states headed by the Soviet Union." He claimed that the United States plotted to divide Viet Nam permanently, obstructed unification, and attempted to turn South Viet Nam into a military base. He added:

"Such disregard of international obligations and the wrecking of the Geneva agreement will impel the nations participating in the Geneva conference to take up their inescapable responsibility and adopt measures for complete implementation."

The Geneva agreements separated North and South Viet Nam. Elections to unify Viet Nam were to be held last July, but pro-Western South Viet Nam balked on the grounds that the Communist North would prevent free balloting by its people.

New Record Being Set For Poultry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Production of eggs, broilers and turkeys is setting a new record this year, the Agriculture Department said today, and a further increase is likely in 1957.

Except possibly for broilers, prices for these products are likely to average a little lower in 1957 than in 1956, when prices received by farmers were comparatively low, the department said.

In the face of narrowing profit margins in egg and poultry production for 10 years, producers have enlarged their scale of operations as steps to maintain income, the department said.

With income and employment expected to continue high, the department said consumer demand for eggs and poultry meat likely will continue about the same as in recent years.

Poultry and eggs are the third largest source of gross farm income, exceeded only by meat animals and dairy products. Gross income from poultry and eggs in 1955 was nearly 3½ billion dollars and present estimates for 1956 are at about the same level.

Sign Of Youth

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A sandwich shop near Philadelphia's Wagner Junior High School has put this sign in the window:

"Teen-age Spoke Here."

Appeal For Smaller Babies Is Sounded

ENFIELD, England (AP) — The Rev. Gordon Girling appealed to his parishioners today to baptize their babies sooner — and spare his aching back.

"To have thrust into one's arms at the font a baby weighing anything up to 30 pounds to hold and baptize at the same time is no light thing," he wrote in his parish magazine. The vicar, who is 41, added

"I shudder to think how I am going to handle such heavy babies in 25 years time."

Refugees Arrive

MONTREAL (AP) — Six refugees from the Hungarian rebellion have arrived here. They're the first to come to Canada.

IN FRIGID NORTH

Canada Conducts Special Research

OTTAWA (AP)—Development and defense of Canada's frigid North is being worked out by a group of Canadian scientists tackling problems created by subzero temperatures.

Their work ranges from the development of civilian and military equipment able to operate in arctic and subarctic regions to the design of buildings and clothing necessary to enable men to live and work in extremely low temperatures.

Most of the research is centered in three divisions here of the National Research Council—mechanical engineering, biology and building research. Experiments already have solved many problems.

One recent development is a special oil which can be used to lubricate machinery at temperatures as low as 65 degrees below zero.

The biology division is conducting an extensive research program to find a method to permit commercial production of frozen concentrated milk to be marketed like frozen soups.

This division has also discovered why some frozen turkeys and other fowl are so tough. Extensive tests show that the meat of fowl will be tender only if the bird is not frozen until it has been dead 24 hours.

The mechanical engineering division operates two cold rooms in which the temperature can be dropped to 70 degrees below zero. Work now is in progress on methods to enable ground radar installations in the arctic to shed ice. Experiments are also being made on de-icing equipment for aircraft and helicopters and to prevent jet engines from accumulating ice.

Land vehicles are being tested to see how they act under arctic conditions. This includes the development of new brake fluids, greases and fuel systems.

GOP, Demo Farm Plans Are Blasted

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The master of the National Grange said today America's political parties have been fighting over "how to modify an obsolete part of our farm program."

Herschel Newsom, an Indiana farmer, made his report to the convention of the Grange, which claims 860,000 farmer members. He said:

"Neither alternative providing direct price support by the United States government will serve agriculture well so long as we adhere to such an obsolete program."

The Republican party based its bid for farm votes in the past election on a system of flexible price supports which return the farmer a high price when commodities are in short supply and a low price when there are surpluses.

The Republicans coupled this principle with a soil bank plan to take some farm land out of production to reduce surpluses. The Grange also has criticized the soil bank.

The Democratic party's approach to the farm program was a plan for high, rigid price supports to return top prices to farmers regardless of the amount of commodity in supply. Such a system was junked after President Eisenhower first took office.

In calling both systems of price support of basic farm commodities obsolete, Newsom argued for a commodity-by-commodity approach long advocated by the Grange. He cited marketing agreements for some commodities and an individual approach to problems of the sugar industry in 1936 as examples of such an attack.

29 Persons Killed In Airliner Crash

CALI, Colombia (AP) — Twenty-nine persons have been killed in the crash of a Colombian airliner in the mountains west of Cali.

The Aerolinas del Pacifico liner, en route to the Pacific coast, burst into flames after the crash yesterday.

The dead included the North American pilot, John Relay, co-proprietor of the small airline with local routes; a native of Chicago, Rafael Barrett, manager of an ink works in Cali and his son Guillermo.

Foreign Minister Of Israel Speaks In US

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Foreign Minister Golda Meir of Israel says her country "will plead guilty to a charge of wanting to live, and live only in peace."

Mrs. Meir, a former Milwaukee schoolteacher, who is to address the United Nations General Assembly this week, told a dinner last night that Israel did not attack Egypt to make "territorial gains" but in self-defense.

Large Money Cache Probed

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Sheriff's officers today were checking into a discovery made by three young sisters—$16,420 in cash hidden in the cab of an abandoned dump truck.

The children found the money yesterday while playing in the truck that had been parked in their grandfather's yard for three years.

R. L. Fletcher, the grandfather, said a man had asked permission to leave the truck there "overnight" but had never moved it.

Sheriff's Deputies J. M. Thomason and J. M. Mills said bank deposit slips and payroll checks found in the truck indicated the money belonged to W. C. Dunaway of Memphis.

Dunaway told a newsman, "We'll have to see what we can find out." He declined further comment.

The money was found by Ruby Thomas, 11, and her sisters Cathryn, 9, and Minnie Lou, 7, daughters of Mrs. Raymond Fletcher of Aubrey, Ark.

Delicate Operation

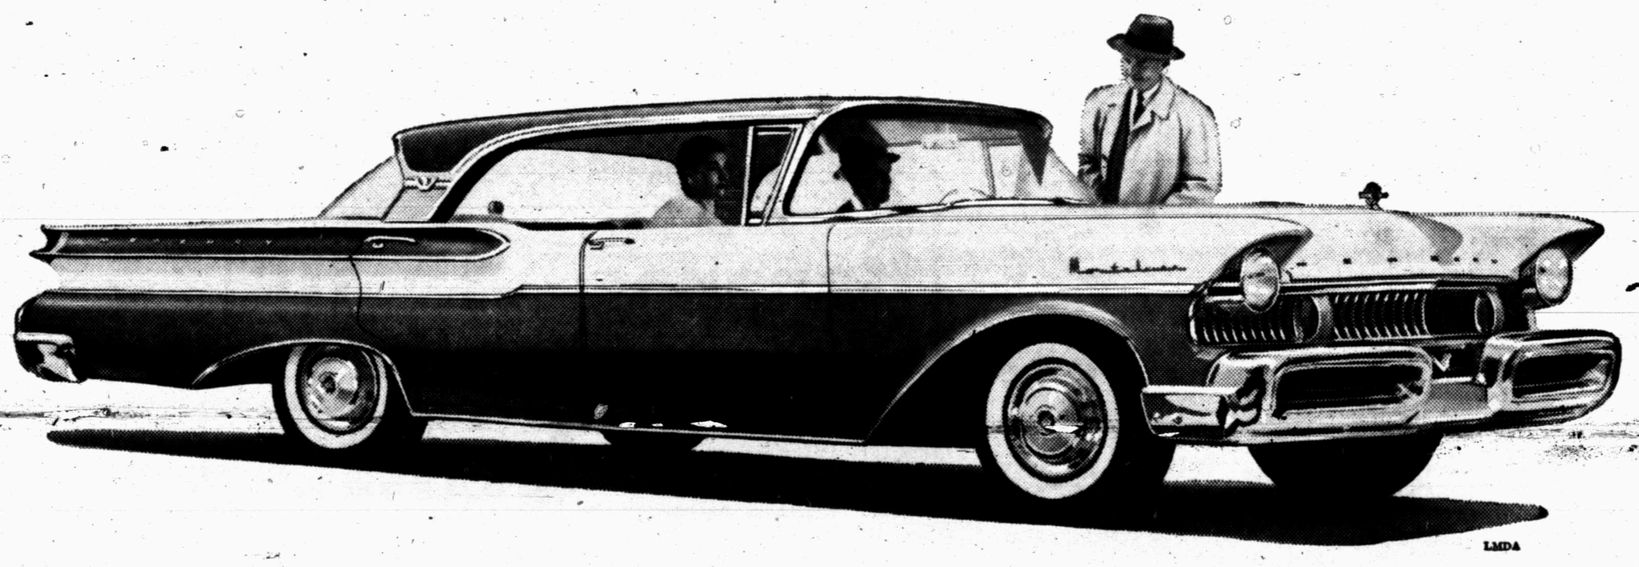

CHICAGO (AP) — Timothy Robert Flanagan is taking his meals from a bottle like any normal month-old baby now. He was born Oct. 10 with no connection between his mouth and stomach. In a five-hour operation, surgeons joined his esophagus to his stomach. Until the surgery healed, he was fed through a tube inserted into the side of his stomach.
