Our Farewell Bark

It seems we are in the dog house. Or should I say out of the dog house? At any rate this is our final bark and growl for the year. We are off the leash for the summer. Hope to be writing and having you for loyal readers next year. May your vacation be as well as we hope ours will be.

Carlsbad Or Bust

We Seniors left the Weinert school building at 10:00 o'clock Friday morning May 20. We journeyed almost as far as Roby without any trouble. Then pop-bang—we had a blow out from there to Carlsbad and back we had one bit of bad luck after another. Being happy-go-lucky people we pretended it was fun and enjoyed the trip.

Mother nature's work of art, Carlsbad Cavern, made the trip worth while. It was just as glorious as we had been told.

Our last flat happened between Haskell and Stamford Sunday night. By this time we could all sleep standing up on concrete. We finally reached Weinert about four o'clock Monday morning. Just in time to begin exams.

Our Seniors

John Mark Whitman
John Mark is our last senior but not the least thought of. John came to Weinert from Abilene and ever since has taken a great interest in the senior class. He did not come out for any sport, but played with the seniors in our football class tournament, and proved himself able to stay in there and fight. All the teachers in Weinert will say that John Mark is a good student, and that they were proud to have him in their classes. On all the trips we have made this year John Mark has always gone and done his part. Good luck, John. May you fare well after you leave Weinert.

Canning Discussed By New Mid H.D. Members

"A canned product I have improved and how I did it" was answered in the roll call during the New Mid Home Demonstration club meeting at the club house May 18.

Beans, peas and corn were products improved and how; an hour from the garden to the can or jar, pressure vegetables in shorter time, just long enough to cook tender; and pack corn in can cold, pour boiling water over and seal, leaving seasoning until ready to serve.

After the business part of the meeting this program was rendered.

A talk over the backyard fence—By Mrs. S. W. Hutchens and Mrs. M. L. Mayo.

Reading—By Floy Mae Hutchens.

How much to can—By Mrs. E. W. Hester.

Nutrition and Vitamin—By Mrs. F. M. Hutchens.

The following members were present: Mmes. G. O. Ballard, E. A. Hutchens, S. W. Hutchens, M. L. Mayo, E. W. Hester, and F. M. Hutchens.

After the bedroom tour Mrs. Rathgeber served ice cream and cakes to Mmes. Johnson, Patterson and Harwell of Center Point; Garret Spitzer of Old Glory, P. H. Martin, Wallace Rogers, G. E. Russell, G. A. Leach, A. Gray, Roy Wierke, N. Scheid, W. L. Schroeder, G. A. Diers, John Clark, G. L. Laughlin, Fred Ebling, Billy Tabor and Miss Vaughan.

New Officers Installed For Senior-Junior Club Friday

The Senior-Junior Magazine Club met Thursday night, May 19, at the Methodist church in a call meeting. This was the last meeting of this club year Miss Odell Williamson was hostess and the interesting program was directed by Miss Ann Taylor.

Among other things the following business was dispensed with. Mrs. Jack Mickle was voted into the club as an active member. The vacancy occurred with the resignation of Ethel Irby.

A very interesting discussion was given by Ann Taylor and Mrs. T. R. Odell of the district meeting of Federated Clubs of Texas, held recently in Fort Worth, Texas. The report was given in a very clever manner and made other members more club minded.

A candle light program for the installation of new officers was very effective. Each of the old officers lighted the candle held by the new incoming officers. The officers for this year were: President, Ann Taylor; First Vice-President, Mrs. Marvin Branch; Second Vice-President, Janie Lyle Martin; Recording Secretary, Eleanor Foote; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Elmore Smith; Treasurer, Hazel Wilson; Board Member, Mattie Letha Phippen; Parliamentarian, Wilda Phippen; Reporter, Vada Thomas; Historian, Margaret Ratliff; Counselor, Brucille Reynolds; Sponsors, Mesdames T. R. Odell and W. H. Cox.

Officers for 1938 club year are as follows: Mrs. Marvin Branch, President; Mrs. Virgil Reynolds, First Vice-President; Mrs. Carl Powers, Second Vice-President; Vada Thomas, Recording Secretary; Elsie Bradley, Corresponding Secretary; Mary Grindstaff, Treasurer; Ethel Friserson, Board Member; Mesdames T. R. Odell and W. H. Cox, Sponsors; and the nominating committee: Mrs. Ed Day, chairman; Mattie Letha Phippen, Ann Taylor, Mrs. Rogers Gilstrap and Mrs. Viars Felker.

The club has an enrollment of 38 active members and 2 associate members. They are as follows: Lucille Akins, Mrs. Carl Arbuckle, Mrs. Marvin Branch, Elsie Bradley, Bufah Cass, Eloise Couch, Mrs. Buford Cox, Ethel Frieron, Eleanor Foote, Mrs. Rogers Gilstrap, Mary Grindstaff, Betty Ann Hancock, Mrs. Chick Henshaw, Mrs. Bob Herren, Wynelle Hellums, Janie Lyle Martin, Mary Pearsey, Mattie Letha Phippen, Wilda Phippen, Mrs. Carl Powers, Mrs. Virgil Reynolds, Mrs. Ira Hester, Mrs. Elmore Smith, Mrs. Cecil Jetton, Ann Taylor, Vada Thomas, Odell Williamson, Mrs. John A. Willoughby, Hazel Wilson, Mary E. Whiteker, Mrs. Marie Womble, Mrs. Jack Mickle, Mrs. Ed Day, Mrs. Red Henshaw, Mrs. Bill Woodson, Mrs. Leon Pearsey, Frankie Brooks and Mrs. Viars Felker. Mrs. Sam Herren Jr., and Lucille Foote, associate members.

The Senior-Junior Magazine Club is in District one of Federated Clubs for Women of Texas. The Study Course for 1937-38 was "Famous Women of Today" and miscellaneous programs. Mrs. Virgil Reynolds is chairman of program committee for 1938-1939.

The first almanac was published in 1629.

Midway H. D. Club Has Bedroom Tour

The members of the Midway H. D. Club with Foster H. D. Club as guests met at the home of Mrs. Samuel Herren Jr. after viewing the modern country home of Mrs. Herren we continued our tour of the homes of Mesdames Scott, Lott, Lusk, Smith, all of which scored hundred per cent in bedroom work. On account of illness and part of our bedrooms being in hail stricken areas our tour was not what it would have been otherwise. We then went to Mrs. Bailey's who was second place winner in bedroom work in the county. Here we enjoyed a social hour. A refreshment plate of Snacks, choice nibbles and guests was served to fourteen guests and ten members and the Home Demonstration agent.

The following is Mrs. Bailey's story of her work as turned in to the judge of bedroom work.

"When I was appointed bedroom demonstrator of the Midway H. D. club for 1938, I thought—Oh! What a responsibility, but after I began my work and began to see the improvement I was making from day to day I decided it was not a responsibility altogether, but a privilege, an honor that our beloved chairman had bestowed upon me. A privilege because it has enabled me to work directly with our home demonstration agent in making improvements of permanence and value in my home. An honor because it has shown me that the members of my club have confidence in my ability to do the work and I hope to be able to pass on to my friends and neighbors the information I have gained in the demonstration.

"Achieving a comfortable bedroom is not an accident but the result of thinking, planning and working. No other room in the house lends itself so fully to informal, original and interesting treatment. No other room offers such delightful opportunities of decoration as the bedroom. My old furniture has been made to look like new that has been in use over twenty years. My bed is now a standardized bed. My bright rug and soft, inexpensive curtains which tie back to allow plenty of fresh air and sunshine, add beauty to my room. I have added a center for writing, reading and study, have storage for books, magazines and writing materials. All undesirable articles and furnishings have been removed. Wall, floor and woodwork have been refinished. Daily care of my room has been made a lot easier. A clean orderly room is necessary for hygienic reasons.

"My room as a whole offers much chance for real fun in creating something interesting and something different for our room of comfort."

Mavis Branch Laird Becomes Bride of R. J. Peace Sunday

A wedding that came as a surprise to their many friends, was that of Mavis Branch Laird of this city and R. J. Peace of Ralls, Texas, solemnized Sunday afternoon, May 22, at the home of her father, Manly Branch. The bride was very attractive in a Parisian tailored dress with white accessories, and wearing a harmonizing corsage of apricot gladioli. She has been a resident of Haskell most of her life, having attended public schools here and Randolph College in Cisco. The groom is a native of Paris, Texas.

After a short wedding trip to Carlsbad, New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Ralls, Texas, where Mr. Peace is District F. S. A. Supervisor.

The Magic Stone

"CAN the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots?"

About 30 years ago a great many people evidently believed that the first half of that question could be answered "yes" and, for a time, this belief threatened to give Tulsa, Okla., the largest negro population of any city in the United States.

It came about when J. Burr Gibbons, a reporter for the Tulsa Democrat, wrote a news story announcing the discovery of a negro having an oil lease near Sapulpa who had succeeded in making a white man out of himself by drinking from a mineral spring on his lease. At first, white spots began to appear on his body. Then they gradually spread until he was as white-skinned as any Caucasian.

When this story was widely reprinted in other papers, an avalanche of mail descended upon the Democrat. It almost swamped the Tulsa post office. It came from negroes all over the United States who wanted to know more about this magic spring, what were the chances for finding employment in Tulsa so they could bathe in it and enjoy its wonder-working powers.

Of course, they were doomed to disappointment but it was a long time before the last inquirer was convinced that he had been hoaxed.

For y-five years ago L. Foster of London bought a nice coffin at a bargain, having been informed by his doctor that he had not long to live. A few days ago he sold the coffin at a good profit.

State Prison Suits Will Be Used In Play

Through the influence of Hon. Bruce W. Bryant, several stripped suits from the Texas Penitentiary have been sent to Mrs. C. M. Kaigler by Hon. O. J. S. Ellingson, General Manager of the Texas Prison System of Huntsville, to be used Friday night, May 27th, in the stage play, "Number Six". In a very interesting letter Hon. Ellingson explains that stripped suits are not used by the prisoners except for certain kinds of punishment for offenses by inmates.

Following is a quotation from the letter: "The men who come to prison for the electric chair are held in death row for electrocution date, and when they arrive they are dressed in white duck shirt and white duck pants. They are allowed to purchase or use any suit they may care to wear in which to be executed; however, as a general rule they wear one of the Prison System's regular discharge suits."

The play "Number Six" is a strong moral play comparable to the "Valiant" that has been produced in Haskell a number of times within the last decade. The cast are: John Guest, Labry Ballard, Jim Ferguson, Jack Wallace Watson, Jack Morris, Stanley Smith, T. R. Odell Jr., and Willie Lee Medford.

The public is invited to be present at the Haskell High School auditorium tonight, Friday 27th at 8:15 o'clock. There will be no charges.

Increase In Old Age Insurance Payments Shown

Lump-sum claims for Federal old-age insurance are now being approved by the Social Security Board at the rate of one every 30 seconds of each working day, according to J. Gordon James, manager of the Wichita Falls office of the Board.

During the first 19 days in April, claims were certified for payment by the Washington offices of the Board at the rate of approximately 740 per day, of which 436 were death claims. The remaining 304 were filed by workers reaching the age of 65.

The average lump-sum payment at the present time for the country as a whole, James said, "is approximately $39. The size of these payments is increasing steadily, since they are based on total wages received from covered employment since January 1, 1937."

A lump-sum benefit payment represents 3 1-2 per cent of total wages received from covered employment since January 1, 1937, and up to attainment of age 65 or death. James said all office managers have been instructed to explain to wage earners the lump-sum claim procedure and to assist those who are eligible to file applications for these benefits.

"The procedure," he said, "is very simple. The claimant is usually requested to file one brief form at the nearest field office of the Board. Ordinarily, the only information required is the claimant's name and address, and place of birth, and security account number, and amount of wages received."

In County Court, Haskell, Texas, April Term, to all those indebted to Addie Stone, deceased, all those holding claim against the said estate, being duly appointed administrator of the said estate, Chas. M. Conner, Judge of the County Court of Haskell, Texas, on the 13th day of 1938 hereby notifies all indebted to said estate to forward and make settlement of those having claims against the estate to present them within the time prescribed at his residence, Haskell, Texas, on the 7th day of May 1938.

Growth of Process Industries

During 1936 and 1937 more than $300,000,000 was invested in new plants and equipment for what are known as the process industries, headed by pulp and paper, rayon, chemicals, petroleum products, asbestos, glass and asphalt. During recent years these industries have enjoyed great expansion, largely in the southern states. More than half of the new investments of capital in these industries recorded for the past two years went to southern states.

Texas, however, is not getting her share of these and other industrial developments. It is not a long story. Texas has the resources but is not making the right efforts and offering the right inducements to obtain new industrial enterprises, such as Louisiana has obtained, along with other southern states keenly alive to the drift of industrial operations from the older industrial centers to the south.

That the south has natural advantages attractive to many forms of manufacturing or processing ought to be common knowledge, by this time. It ought to be known to every schoolboy and girl in the south—and it ought to be taught in southern schools as an important part of the useful knowledge the schools are trying to impart to the manufacturers and capitalists of the future who must carry on the cotton textile, the paper, chemical, petroleum, cellulose and other industries of the south.

Even under the present system of encouraging the development of industry through private interests, without that assurance of state cooperation which Louisiana offers, no doubt many new industries would come to Texas. But capital is justifiably distrustful of states where taxes are high and state government costs more than it should, creating the constant threat of increased taxation to meet the soaring costs of government.

A corporation with a million dollars to invest in new enterprises, or $20,000,000, will not go into a state where the credo of the politicians is, "Soak the rich," or "Pile it on the big corporations, they can stand it." Louisiana's intensive campaign for new industries has brought into that state some $50,000,000 of new plant investments. It has been said, and said truly, that "When Texas takes some definite steps to remedy the tax situation and check extravagance in government, industry will seek Texas."

Industry will seek the Lone Star state because it has salt and sulphur, limestone, petroleum and natural gas, lignite and coal, agricultural products with a high content of cellulose, great forests of pine and other resources useful to modern industry. —Beaumont Enterprise.

Scented Armies

The world may not be growing up very fast just now, but it's getting cleaner. At a plumber's convention in Philadelphia it was disclosed that the bathtub business is getting better and better all the time.

It was also disclosed that Italy and Germany are spending "millions of dollars" on bathtubs and showers and such for their armies, feeling that a cleaner soldier is a better soldier. Which suggests a new plot that might be tried as a measure of war prevention.

Send some high-pressure tub-and-soap salesman out to cover the world. Let every military leader see baths in the light Hitler and Mussolini have seen them in. Then send out a first-class crew of scented bathtub drummers. And follow that up with dusting powder and follow that up with lavender sachet for the clothes, and then foundation creams for the skin.

One Minute Stories of 100 Texans

By W. T. CARLEY

DR. GEORGE W. TRUETT

In the early summer of 1897, a zealous young graduate of Baylor University, known as George W. Truett, was called to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church in Dallas, and there he has remained to this good hour. This Dallas Church then had a membership of 715, a Sunday School of 500 members, a church property valued at $75,000 and the membership between four and five thousand dollars per year. This church now has a membership of more than 8000, a Sunday School of more than 6000, a church property valued at $1,250,000 and the membership now raises for all purposes more than a quarter of a million dollars per year.

You visit Truett's Church and look into the faces and hearts of his devout followers and feel that you've left the world and its vanities on the outside and have visited a House of God for the one and only purpose of divine worship. You hear Truett then from the pulpit and his simple, childlike faith makes an indelible impression upon every fibre of your soul. You hear him speak as one having authority to speak with a charm and burning devotion that the prophets of old might have employed. This soothing, pleading, plaintive voice that has stirred the hearts and souls of millions plays on the lute-strings of your heart like the soulful strains of some golden harmony. Your very soul is lifted above the fears and foibles of this finite realm into the very presence of The Great Comforter, and you leave this man of God with the thought that you've heard the greatest Churchman that has walked upon this earth since the Apostles.

Care Should Be Used to Prevent Bites of Snakes

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges everyone to be careful to prevent snake bites. In Texas the chief offender is the rattlesnake, it does not always rattle before it strikes.

About seventy-five percent of all bites occur on the lower extremities and could be prevented to a large extent by wearing high top boots or leggings. Care should be exercised in not putting the hands in invisible places when climbing rocks, and to look before picking up anything that may be obscured by vegetation rocks.

If one is bitten prompt action is necessary and a physician should be summoned as soon as possible. No time should be lost in removing the poison by suction; this can be done with a suction cup. First, a tourniquet should be applied above the wound, so as to increase congestion and assist in washing out the poison. A cross cut incision with a sharp, clean knife or razor blade should be made over each fang mark, or preferably to connect the two tang punctures. These cuts should be at least a quarter of an inch deep and at least that long. Suction should be applied for at least a half hour. The tourniquet should be released every ten or fifteen minutes for a minute at a time.

If bitten by a snake, do not run or get overheated; do not take alcoholic stimulants; do not use potassium permanganate (which is now known to be of no value as an antidote) to cauterize the wound; and do not depend on home remedies.

Miss Lillie Maud Martin left Monday for Roswell, N. M., where she will meet her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. John T. McBride and go to Rudolia, a summer resort, to spend the summer.

The City Council has passed a "Go To Work" ordinance which will go into effect in the near future. The ordinance was drafted along lines of similar measures being enacted in a number of cities, and provides that every able-bodied man between the age of 18 and 50 either enlist, go to work or "travel."

Pupils of the Vontress school rendered a patriotic program at the Methodist Church in Haskell Monday night which was enjoyed by a very enthusiastic audience. Pupils taking part on the program included Willie Chapman, Bailey Guess, Arlis Weaver, Hallie Chapman, John Arend, Mona Thomas, Cecil Weaver, Bernice Weaver, Opal Weaver, Annie Woolsey, Nora and Dora Thomas, Clifton Chapman, Veta Weaver, Artie May Weaver, Raymond Mercer, Mabel Guess.

..Proof that Electric Cookery Costs Less

Interview with Mrs. McFall:

- Q. First of all, Mrs. McFall, are you pleased with your electric range?
- A. Indeed, I am!
- Q. Would you recommend it to other women as the coolest, fastest, cleanest and most economical method of cookery you've ever used?
- A. Yes. During the 14 years I've been keeping house I've used most of the other types. After making this test, I know that electric cookery is cheaper as well as cooler, faster and cleaner.
- Q. With five in your family, how many kilowatt-hours did the meter show your range used on a monthly average during the test period?
- A. 109 kilowatt-hours per month.
- Q. You get a special low electric cookery rate on this current, don't you?
- A. Yes. All over 50 kilowatt-hours cost only 2 1/2¢ each. Since this same low rate applied to lights and refrigeration, too, we actually reduced our average previous fuel and electric bills by $1.14 a month.
- Q. You mean, then, that by using electric cookery, with its lower rate, and by reducing your consumption of other fuel, you had a cooler, cleaner kitchen by far and it actually cost less money?
- A. Believe it or not, that is true!
- Q. Were there any other savings you noted?
- A. Well, during the test period my records showed an average-per-month saving of $3.83 in groceries and incidentals connected with cooking. I give the electric range credit for that, too.
- Q. Then your savings totaled $4.97 per month—practically enough to make the monthly payments on an electric range?
- A. Yes. But I am prouder of the fact that cooking has been made easier for me and that my kitchen is so cool and clean!

Jr. Commencement Committee Named

It has long been a custom for high school juniors to serve as hosts and hostesses at commencement ceremonies. The class officers, by right of their office, always lead the processional and the recessional; and a junior student (this time also a class officer) always plays the processional march on commencement night. In addition a group of six boys and six girls are named to form with the class officers a commencement committee. This committee is supposed to decorate the church and arrange the seating. They also hand out programs and serve as ushers at the services—half of them serving at the commencement sermon and the other half at the graduation ceremony.

This is a privilege which juniors enjoy. They realize also that it is a service which they must perform to the best of their ability, since they are selected by their fellow class members to represent the entire class in a dependable and efficient way.

Last week the juniors made their selection by ballot, and the following members were named: Madge Leon, Eula Faye Glass, Mary Beth Menefee, Mary Jo Free, Kinzie Tucker and Christine Lowe; Jack Watson, Jack Simmons, Joe Maples, Quinton Bailey, Paul Roberts and Paul Crawford.

Eugene Rogers, class president, and Louise Pierson, class treasurer, will lead the processional on both occasions. Jim Bob Webb, vice-president, and Winona Francis Post, class reporter, will lead the recessional on Sunday morning—there will be no recessional on Monday evening. Eva Jo Ratliff, class P. T. A. representative, will play the processional march at the graduation ceremony.

Random Remarks
The staff of the Warwhoop wish to express their sincere appreciation to Mr. Roberts for his courtesy in granting us space for our Warwhoop for this school year.

We wish to thank the various students in high school who have helped the progress of the Warwhoop in any way—by copying articles or suggesting items of interest or even lending their fountain pen to the cause.

The seniors have been wondering if every senior class has as much trouble deciding what to do with their money as they have had. Oh well, not every senior class has had as much money to worry about!

The long, lazy, hot, sleepy days have been having their effect upon school. You just can't please everybody. First it is too cold to study and then it is too hot.

Speaking of the weather, Martelle has offered a very novel idea for graduation exercises. She proposes to let a senior march down the aisle, then let a sandstorm come, next a senior, and then let it snow, another senior, and a pause for a hail storm, and so on until every type of weather that we have had this year has been represented.

The proposed plans for changes in the schedule of the school sound as if school will be rather fun next year. Maybe!

Items of interest around school—FFA barbecue, presentation of stage furniture by Senior class, Mr. Vannoy keeping a study hall, Gypsy Rambler swimming party, discussion of the "tall man" and last, but by no means least—as the old expression goes—final exams.

Characteristics and Feelings of a Senior

Is it any different being a Senior? No, not especially. But you do "kinda" feel your superiority. Being a Senior is all right until about the last three weeks of school. Then something in your heart and mind makes you hurt all over. It is sort of sad too. Leaving the old friends, and your teachers and the building, is no easy matter. But the saddest thing about it is—leaving the fellow Seniors. Some will go to college; some will get married; some will go far-off and live; and some will leave us forever. But it is fun being a Senior. And we should think that if our classmates do these things that I have mentioned above and if they are happy, we should be also.

When you enter high school, you first think of the time when you will be a Senior. As the time draws nearer, you still have that longing; and it is a great honor. So, the Seniors of this year, wish the Seniors of next year, all the happiness the class can have. We hope that their whole year will be full of sunshine, and there won't be a cloud in it to darken their happiness and keep their undertakings from being a success.

Boys Given Awards In V. Agriculture

Mr. Vannoy states that it is his custom each year to award a medal to the outstanding student in each of his classes. He bases his judgment on the following merits: high class grade, project work, general attitude, and general improvement. The medal in first-year work goes to Willie Lee Medford, who has an average of 95 per cent. Willie Lee is a junior in high school and a transfer from the Howard school. The medal in third-year work is awarded to Burl Darnell who makes an average of 93. Burl is also a junior student. In third-year class Quinton Bailey and Junior Perdue were also close contestants for the honor.

Medals will be awarded personally to these boys by Mr. Vannoy.

Senior Class Gives Stage Furniture

Every Senior class likes to present a gift to the school, and this year's class is doing it handsomely by presenting a wicker living room suite for the stage. This is a particularly appropriate gift, since there is hardly any sort of stage presentation possible without some kind of furniture being used. This year since we have had the use of our auditorium and stages it has been necessary to borrow for every occasion. Now, with this new gift of furniture, we will not have to borrow so much, and it will be a great satisfaction. The students and teachers are indeed grateful for this splendid gift from our departing Seniors.

Musings of a Senior

It's been a swell year, hasn't it? There have been so many "first times" this year that one hardly knows where to begin. But let's go back to last September.

There was a first time to wander into the study hall and exclaim how nice it was. Then we learned where all the different rooms were.

Do you remember the first football game on the new "Indian Field"? And all the rest of football season when every Friday was a big affair? The new gold and black uniforms? Pep Squad activities? What about the bonfire that got burned ahead of time? And the second and better bonfire? The disappointment of "Bull Dog Day"?

Do you recall our interest in the new auditorium? The Halloween carnival—Mary Jo Free crowned queen? Ex-students visiting high school? Senior rings arriving? Christmas holidays? The misery of mid-term exams? The first announcement period in the new auditorium? The high school orchestra practicing—and practicing? Senior play practices? Gypsy Rambler buying curtain for stage? The Senior play? Seniors receiving invitations and memory books?

Yes, it has been a swell year, hasn't it?

"Tis Said"

Well, this is the last time this column will be written unless someone happens to think that the Warwhoop can't possibly do without it and just must be continued. So this is still the last time, it will be written—When you're a freshman or sophomore, you think that the happiest moment of your life will be when you at last finish, but you are wrong; it is the saddest moment. The Seniors this year really do hate to leave you fine people, but it must be—Martelle has two handsome pictures of the prettiest boy in the Senior class, Marion Joscelot. Another one of our fine Senior girls Frances Reese, has entered the field of matrimony. We wish her much happiness throughout her life.—Bushels of fun (if it can be measured) was had by all attending the F. F. A. boys barbecue.—Tribute to Mr. Banks and Vannoy for making school more spicy.—Good luck, goodyby and adieu.

47, who is buying 141 acres from Charles Kaiser for $5648; and Ayres A. Cox, 25, who is buying 120 acres from J. P. West for $6665.

Cox, the youngest of the five, is also the only one who has previously received Federal aid. He says he started farming three years ago with "a one-eared pig and six hens." He still lives in a one-room house upon the J. P. West place, where he has worked 200 to 300 acres for the past three years. But he has built up his assets from practically nothing to the point where he shows a net worth, above indebtedness, of more than $1,000. He borrowed more than $1600 from the Farm Security Administration, and has repaid more than $1,000 of it. He owns a good tractor and adequate plow tools, four milk cows, and one beef cow, two calves, four hogs and 75 chickens. He is a common stockholder in two co-operative associations, and is scheduled to handle a Jersey bull which is being bought under the FSA cooperative plan for use in the neighborhood.

One of the outstanding facts about all five of the selected tenants is that they grew at home the greater part of their food. Cox, for instance, spent only $72 cash for food last year, the food which he grew at home being valued at $210. A plan of farm and home operations is made a part of the agreement, along with each loan. Cox's plan shows that he should make 200 pounds of cotton to the acre, which will yield on his 46 acres, at 10 cents a pound, $920, and an added $98 for seed. He expects to sell butter from five cows to bring in $170 a year, eggs from 200 chickens for $282, and to sell three cows a year for $30, nine hogs for $75, and 200 chickens for $55. Including an AAA payment of $307, his total cash income is estimated at $1,937 a year above $247 worth of home-grown food. His farm operations cost is estimated at $895 cash, his cash living expenses at $475, leaving him a net cash income of $657. Out of this he will pay $324 a year upon the government loan, which will care for the three percent interest which it bears, and an additional 13 per cent annually which will amortize the principal in forty years.

Similar plans have been worked out for each of the other borrowers.

While only two of the borrowers were able to make a cash down payment, all of them have assets, in livestock, equipment and household goods which amount to $1,000 to $3,000 more than their liabilities. Most of them have been living upon the same farm for a number of years. Oates has been working the same 100 acres of A. J. Sego's land since 1927, practically his entire farming career, and his cash income has been $400 to $600 a year on land which is not so good as that which he is to buy. In fact, the new farm is reported by FSA appraisers to be far above the average, and expected to yield 200 to 500 pounds of cotton per acre in a season of adequate rainfall. Oates is putting his entire $7500 loan into the land purchase, for 120 acres, and is using his own savings to build a new house, which will have two bedrooms, living room, kitchen, dining room and bath. One of many reasons that caused him to be selected by the county committee was that his implements were always fresh-painted, and under sheds. His assets were valued at more than $3,000, with no debts against them.

Presentation of checks will be made by a regional official of the Farm Security Administration from Dallas, to be announced later, and a well-known speaker will be invited to talk on the farm tenancy situation and what the Federal government is doing to improve it. Before the meeting at the theatre, there will be a luncheon, details of which will be announced. The public is invited to both affairs.
