2 MEN HELD FOR TAILOR'S MURDER

Ten-Year 'Naval Holiday,' Scrapping of Sixty-Six Warships, Is U. S. Proposal

WOULD AFFECT BRITAIN, JAPAN AND AMERICA

Replacements for Ships Twenty Years Old Would Preserve Relative Status.

By LAWRENCE MARTIN.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—A sweeping program for limitation of naval armament was proposed today by the United States. Secretary of State Hughes, speaking in behalf of America before the arms limitation conference, proposed:

1. That a holiday in naval construction of capital ships for the next ten years be declared by the powers.
2. That all capital ship building programs be abandoned.
3. That certain older ships be scrapped.
4. That a general record should be made of existing naval strength.
5. That capital ship tonnage, not numbers of vessels, be the basis of limitation.

Destroy 66 Ships.
Under the program, which primarily affects the United States, Great Britain and Japan, there would be immediately destroyed of the navies of the three great powers sixty-six capital ships built and building, with a total tonnage of 1,878,046 tons. It was proposed by Hughes that three months after the agreement for arms limitation is reached, the navies of the three great powers with respect to capital ships should be as follows: United States, 18 ships; Great Britain, 22 ships; Japan, 10 ships. The tonnage of the big ships after the reduction is made will be as follows: United States, 500,650; Great Britain, 604,450; Japan, 299,370.

Under the program, the United States will scrap thirty capital ships built or in the process of construction, at a total reduction of 845,740 tons. Great Britain would scrap nineteen big ships, with a total reduction of 411,375 tons. Japan would destroy or cease construction of seven new capital ships with a tonnage of 289,100, and scrap ten other ships with a total tonnage of 159,829.

Replacement Proposals.
Hughes then discussed the gradual replacement of the three great navies. He said: "With respect to replacement, the United States proposes:

1. "That it be agreed that the first replacement of tonnage shall not be made until ten years from the date of the agreement.
2. "That replacement be limited by an agreed maximum of capital ship tonnage as follows:
"For the United States, 500,000 tons; for Great Britain, 500,000 tons; for Japan, 300,000 tons.
3. "That subject to the ten-year limitation, standard capital ships may be replaced when they are twenty years old by capital ship construction.
4. "That no capital ships shall be built in replacement with a tonnage displacement of more than 35,000 tons."

Hughes also proposed a limitation

WACO SHERIFF SUED BY WIDOW OF RIOT VICTIM

WACO, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Inez Crow, widow of Louis Crow, who died from injuries received when Sheriff Robert Buchanan attempted to stop a Ku Klux Klan parade at Lorena last month, has filed a suit for $50,000 damages against Sheriff Buchanan and his three official bondsmen.

Half of the amount asked is for actual damages and the remainder exemplary. C. H. Graves, J. L. Pipkin and W. N. Lazenby, who are sureties on Sheriff Buchanan's bond, are also made parties to the suit.

Mrs. Crow filed suit in the Seventy-fourth district court, through her attorney, former District Judge Erwin V. J. Clark. Her husband, Louis Crow, prominent Waco laundryman, was the only one of ten persons shot and stabbed at Lorena on the night of Oct. 1, who died from his wounds.

WILSON ON OUTSIDE BUT WILL LOOK IN

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Ex-President Wilson, central figure of the Versailles peace conference, will stay aloof from the present arms limitation conference, perhaps a more potent factor for peace than was the great session in France.

Wilson will follow the proceedings carefully, but merely as an onlooker, and will attempt in no wise to exert any influence upon the deliberations.

JURY TAMPERED WITH, CHARGE IN EDWARDS TRIAL

Defense Counsel Says Former Sheriff to Blame; Two Bailiffs Discharged.

Special to the Times.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 12.—Charges that G. E. "Jack" Johnson, former sheriff of Oklahoma county, had attempted to tamper with the Annabelle Edwards jury, made by Norman Pruett, chief defense attorney, resulted in the courtroom of Judge Edward O. Oldfield, before whom the pretty 23-year-old Edwards widow is being tried for the murder of her husband, being thrown into wild turmoil Saturday morning.

Charges and counter charges flew across the table between state and defense attorneys. Attracted by the shouts of the attorneys a hundred eager spectators crowded into Judge Oldfield's small courtroom. Sensation after sensation followed in quick succession Saturday morning.

Jury Taken Out.
Shortly after 10 o'clock Pruett asked that the jury in the box be taken from the room. Then he made charges to Judge Oldfield that former Sheriff Johnson had attempted to tamper with the Edwards jury in the lobby of the Lawrence hotel on Thursday night. He charged that Johnson had talked with W. J. Tobin, one of the jurors. An investigation was immediately held by Judge Oldfield, an instant summons was issued for Johnson, who is staying at the Lawrence hotel, commanding him to appear immediately before Judge Oldfield. R. B. Puckett, bailiff in the court of Judge Oldfield, and A. C. Sims, assistant bailiff, after being placed upon the stand were discharged by Judge Oldfield from further custody of the Edwards jury.

A. A. Crossley and Frank Laffoon, deputy sheriffs, were sworn in to replace the bailiffs and will have charge of the Edwards jury during the rest of the trial.

Johnson, the former sheriff, is said to be wanted on a charge of wife-beating by Denver, Colo., officers. A warrant for his arrest was received by Oklahoma City police several months ago. Johnson has just been in the city for a week since his exit from the sheriff's office. He has been in Spokane, Wash. He just returned from there this week and has been staying at the Lawrence hotel.

Moman Pruett in his charges also named Oscar Gordon and charged him with being "active in the prosecution."

Juror Had Permission.

A. C. Sims, assistant bailiff, was called to the stand and questioned as to whether Johnson had talked to W. J. Tobin three or four minutes shortly after 7 o'clock Thursday evening in the lobby of the Lawrence hotel. Sims said he remembered seeing Johnson shaking hands with Tobin. Tobin was then brought down from the jury chambers. He said he had permission from Bailiff Sims to talk to Johnson. After hearing both bailiffs' story Judge Oldfield of his own motion discharged both bailiffs from further custody of the Edwards case. He scored them both, saying that they had been in charge of juries for years and they should have known better than let anyone talk to a juror.

Former Sheriff Johnson was then placed on the stand. He admitted talking to Tobin on both Thursday and Friday evening.

THRILLS, SUSPENSE, COMEDY, MAKE MERCHANTS' RODEO A BIG SUCCESS

Featured by a miniature bombardment, unconscious and otherwise; hard riding and a number of thrills not contemplated by the program committee, the Retail Merchants' Charity Rodeo was presented yesterday afternoon to a packed grandstand and crowded sidelines at Nitro park. The Armistice day celebration threatened to take on the nature of a Mexican fiesta when two giant Jersey bulls locked horns before the grandstand as they were being driven to the corral and one went down in a cloud of dust and much bellowing. The bronc riding contest assumed a serious aspect when Shorty Ricker, national contender, was pinned for a moment beneath "Holy Roller" and the snap of a broken bone was distinctly heard in the fall. Not until the horse scrambled to his feet, with his left foreleg dangling, did everyone grasp that the animal's and not the rider's leg had been crushed in the fall.

Crowd Enthusias.

The holiday crowd responded enthusiastically to the charges of Ranger merchants and business men in the wake of fleeing calves and awarded Raymond Teal the bleacher decision as champion roper of his class. They thrilled to the bronc and bull riding of Angelo Hughes, three times champion of the world; his wife, Florence Hughes, woman champion, and that of Shorty Ricker, a consistent contender in national rodeos; and their cheers testified to their pride in Eugene Reynolds, whose daring and skilful trick riding was one of the features. Reynolds was awarded second place after Mrs. Hughes in the riding contest with Angelo Hughes and his wife and performed feats that have seldom been equaled by any rider.

The rodeo opened with a round fired from the three field pieces of the Prairie company, manned by Hamon-Kell crews and commanded by J. A. Boze, the electrician of the road, who fired by means of an electric keyboard, a series of mines and a number of bombs, manufactured by himself of high explosives which he largely donated.

Best Persuaders Win.

No decisions were awarded in the fire department bucking burro contest and the prizes were awarded to the department. The comedy came in the business men's calf roping contest participated in by seven "ropers." Raymond Teal and E. J. Barnes were the only contestants who could persuade their respective calves to being roped, but they were disqualified and the prizes awarded to charity. Teal slipped up on a calf near the west goal of the football gridiron and Barnes corralled his in right field. It was with difficulty that Dr. Bob Hodges, Gifford Clegg, Dr. Craig, Karl Jones and Scott Hill could be persuaded to give up their hopeless chase and return to the grandstand.

Angelo Hughes on "Two-Step" won first place in the bronc riding contest, with Shorty Ricker on "Midnight" a close second. Keno Durning was awarded first place when he generously turned over "Midnight" to Ricker after Ricker's horse, "Holy Roller," broke his leg by hard bucking, soon after Ricker swung into the saddle. "Holy Roller" was the property of W. R. Kelly and was a valuable pitching horse.

As the only contestant, Blackie Ricker carried away all honors in the mule riding contest.

Swift Takes Prize.

Wade Swift won first place in the cowboys' free-for-all calf roping, roping and tying his calf in 27 1-2 seconds; Lowe Wallace was second with time of 29 2-5; W. R. Kelly, third in 30 seconds; E. Hicks fourth in 43 seconds.

PRIVATE LAW ENFORCERS OVERSTEP BOUNDS IN MEXICO

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 12.—Civil defense societies which have been organized throughout the republic for protection against roving bands are to be dissolved by federal order, due to the fact that many such organizations overstepped the limits of protection and became in themselves violators of law. Several train robberies and other acts of violence of late have been charged to persons who claimed to be civil defenders.

TEMPLE WOMAN IS KILLED BY FIRE TRUCK

TEMPLE, Nov. 12.—When a fire truck crashed into a sidewalk curb in the main business section of the city Friday morning, Mrs. Daniel Greer was instantly killed, and her husband, a contractor, is believed to have sustained injuries which will result in his death.

The accident happened during the busiest hour of the Armistice celebration and the big truck ran against the curb and onto the sidewalk, where hundreds of persons stood.

Jammed Into Window.

Mr. and Mrs. Greer were jammed into a large plate glass window, which was broken into fragments. Both were badly cut by the flying pieces of glass. Greer underwent an operation today. His condition is regarded as very critical.

The accident is said to have been caused by a broken spring on the fire truck which caused the steering gear to become "jammed" and the vehicle thereby became unmanageable.

Fire of unknown origin swept the interior of the Mackey telegraph office on East Avenue A, destroying the contents and inflicting damage estimated at $2,000.

SLAIN MAN KNOWN TO CARRY LARGE SUMS

Fiebrich's apparent fear of banks and his custom of carrying large sums of money on his person was evidently well known to local criminals, as his murder last night was the second attempt made to rob him since the first of last month. Friends of the tailor state that since the closing of the Guaranty State bank that the tailor had not deposited one cent in banks.

The attempted robbery a month ago occurred as Fiebrich and M. M. Barnes were driving their car into a garage in the rear of the tailoring establishment on Pine street. Fiebrich kicked one of the would-be hijackers in the face, knocking him down, and the other took to his heels. Both men escaped after firing at Fiebrich and his companion when they started in pursuit.

Photographs of Fiebrich in his shop, show him in the uniform of the Bohemian or Austrian government and later in the uniform of the United States. He is said to have served partly at Camp McArthur during the war.

NEW JAPANESE PREMIER NAMED

By United Press.

TOKIO, Nov. 12.—Baron Korekiyo Takahashi today was named premier of Japan, to succeed Premier Hara, who was assassinated.

Baron Takahashi was finance minister in the Hara cabinet. He is considered a friend of China, and opposed to the plans of the Japanese militarists there. It remains to be seen whether he has sufficient strength to carry out the liberal policy against the militarists. The late premier Hara failed in such an attempt.

ROBBERY BELIEVED MOTIVE FOR SLAYING OF JOE FIEBRICH

Shot Plows Through Heart as He Sits in Car Near Tiffin Road, Early Last Night; Women Give Clew.

Lloyd Lyons, 28, rooming house proprietor, and Johnny Boyd, 24, police character, were held without bail this morning by Justice McFatter for the first degree murder of Joe Fiebrich, 30, Ranger tailor, who was shot through the heart early last night while seated in his car in a lonely spot just off the Tiffin road on the outskirts of the city. Both Lyons and Boyd were rushed to the Eastland jail for safekeeping, following the partial confession of Lyons to a robbery plot and the statements of two women to the police and county officials. Three other men picked up in the police drag net last night hurriedly left town this morning when released from custody.

Murder charges were filed against Lyons and Boyd following the inquest this morning and Justice McFatter's verdict, holding the two men for the murder. Boyd, who attempted to simulate illness when taken into custody by the police, last night and who later claimed that he had not left his bed during the day or night, refused to talk further when his alibi was shattered.

WAR VETS ASK PRESIDENT TO RELEASE DEBS

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—President Harding today planned to issue at an early moment the proclamation of peace between America and Germany. It had been delayed, awaiting word of exchange of treaty ratifications, but this step was taken yesterday in Berlin between Commissioner Dresel of the American Berlin commission, and Chancellor Wirth, of Germany.

American business men welcome the actual establishment of peace, since lack of it has curtailed the trading up to this time.

With peace re-established, it is expected President Harding will act favorably on release of Eugene V. Debs. A delegation of World War veterans were to call on the president today, urging the freeing of men imprisoned for utterances during the war. There are about 150 so-called political prisoners, many of whom will probably obtain freedom fairly soon.

PRIEST IS BURIED IN SACRED SOIL AFTER LAPSE OF THIRTY YEARS

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 12.—

The body of David Jardine, Episcopal priest who was the storm center of a scandal that rocked the church throughout the country thirty years ago, rested in the consecrated ground of a church cemetery today after three decades in a public burial ground. With him was buried the heavy iron chain which it was discovered after his alleged suicide, that he wore about his loins throughout his priestly office, as a penitence.

Removal of the body was brought about by members of his flock who maintained his innocence in connection with charges of immorality against women and which led to his being inhibited. These followers stood by his side when he conducted services with a gun strapped to his waist before congregations that were almost antagonistic mob.

JUVENILE SCHOOL TEACHER DISCHARGED AT GATESVILLE

GATESVILLE, Texas, Nov. 12.—Miss Lula Brigman, one of the teachers who gave testimony at the recent investigation of the state juvenile training school here, has been let out by the management of the institution.

Alone When Shot.

Fiebrich, an ex-service man, was dressed in his uniform when found dead by W. T. Ritchie, service car driver, who had been summoned to start his car by Stella Winks, a woman companion, after the machine had broken down as the couple were returning to town from a house in the vicinity. The woman had gone some 300 yards to a phone and returning with the service car driver, found Fiebrich leaning over the wheel. A cigar still dangled from his lips and the body was warm. Thinking that the tailor was merely intoxicated, Ritchie attempted to lift the body and remove it to his car, when it was discovered that he had been shot through the heart, the ball ranging downward to the right and entering the upholstery in the back of the seat.

Two large diamond rings, a watch and a pocketbook containing about $27 in currency, were found on his person. The tailor had the reputation of carrying large sums of money on his person and the authorities have not been able to establish whether he was robbed of a large amount after being murdered or not. A watch chain with a $20 gold piece is the only possession known to be missing, and the opinion has been expressed that the murderers were frightened away before accomplishing their purpose.

Tells of Plot.

On statements from the Winks woman that there had been a plot to rob Fiebrich by Lyons and Boyd, the men were taken into custody last night. Lyons was arrested on South Rusk street by officers Ingram and F. Daniels, and until this morning refused to talk. Boyd was found in bed at the Elite rooms, run by Lyons, by Chief Davenport. He claimed that he had been ill and had not left his bed. His wife protested against his being removed and supported his assertions. Lyons's wife, however, later admitted to the officers that she had let Boyd in by the back door last night, whereupon Boyd refused to make any further statements. Lyons this morning is said to have admitted the existence of a plot to rob the tailor and to his part in it, but claimed that after the Winks woman had gone to telephone for a mechanic, he had driven away after leaving Boyd in the vicinity of the car.

According to the statements of Stella Winks and another woman, at whose home the tailor and his companion visited just prior to his murder, Lyons and Boyd attempted to get them to assist in robbing Fiebrich but were refused. Later the two men are said to have left the house after Lyons attempted to borrow a gun. Lyons later returned and after taking a drink to steady his nerves, hurriedly drove away alone.

The Winks woman, in a statement to the police, testified that she had met the tailor in a downtown lunch room and that they had driven in the latter's Overland roadster to the house of the other woman, just off the Tiffin road in the neighborhood of McCleskey avenue. Lyons and a man whom she later identified as Boyd, came in when she was alone. She stated, as the house was empty, that they offered her money to let them in. She refused and they left.

Winks, who gave testimony at the recent investigation of the state juvenile training school here, has been let out by the management of the institution.

A "FLARE WAY."

Speaking of white ways, how many ever noticed the flambeau lights around an oil well?

Why wouldn't they make an unusual "white way" for Ranger—distinctive, symbolic of Ranger's greatest resource, and having a barbaric splendor that would be bound to attract attention?

What is to prevent?

Drillers say the state railroad commission would call it waste of gas and would refuse permission. Is that necessarily true, if figures on the amount of gas required were obtained and the object explained.

They also say that they would be extinguished in windy weather.
Couldn't they be turned out then?
Couldn't a pilot light be placed to insure the gas would not escape without burning?

What of the fire hazard? If properly placed, would there be any at all?

The cost? It was roughly estimated last night at about 15 cents a night for each—provided the obstacles were smoothed away.

What do you think? If such a lighting system were possible, wouldn't it present to the passerby a suggestion of the freshness and vigor and haphazard lightfulness of Ranger that no other lighting system possibly could?

RANGER HIGH'S SLASHING DRIVES
TRIM CISCO FOOTBALLERS, 24-0

Cisco Defense Couldn't Stop Ranger Backs, Who Make Sixteen First Downs; Cisco Threatens to Score Only Once During Melee; Ranger Line Smothers Rushes.

With the assurance and precision of a steam roller tamping down rocks Ranger High rolled Cisco High into the dust yesterday afternoon, 24 to 0. Two touchdowns in the first quarter, a field goal from the well-trained toe of the versatile Charley Mills in the second, and a touchdown by the same young gent in the last session, were the finishing punches in the scrappy melee.

Scrappy is both etymologically and legally the proper descriptive term to be used, for the Cisco players early in the fray let it be known that aggressive football was not considered proper in that balliwick and would be resented. And Ranger, somewhat riled, retorted in kind at various times, though as rough stuffers it must be admitted the Ciscoites were far the best. A near riot resulted early in the fray, when Cisco became aggrieved at Fat Pruitt smearing a play all over the gridiron, and an irate contestant hit him from behind and dumped him into the dust. Minor incidents, one of which ended in good humored laughter that made the game seem more sportsmanlike for several minutes, then filled up the combat communique until the last quarter, when a Cisco player, after the whistle had blown, again sprung a rear attack without provocation, and another argument ensued. It appeared from the side lines that on at least two occasions, a Cisco player should have been ejected from the game and his team severely penalized. Such measures will promote more sportsmanship in high school circles. Aside from refusal to punish such childish rough stuff, Doug Herring refereed a good game.

To the long legs and shifty footwork of Austin Huffman, Ranger's offensive is largely to be credited.
That ruthless runner virtually returned Cisco punts as far as they were kicked, and threw in several slashing dashes that put the ball in striking distance of the goal. Also he, in close co-operation with the line, bucked over two of three touchdowns. Captain Happy Schertz had an ill-fated day, perhaps his best of the season. It was his twenty-five yard march through Cisco's right tackle early in the fray which largely put across the first touchdown.
Tackle after tackle slipped from his gliding form and the safety man was forced to throw himself into the melee before Happy stripped his gears and came to a stop. That put the ball inside the ten-yard line and it was bucked over nicely.

The second touchdown was made just like the first: A steady march down the field, with the backs taking their turn at pushing the pigskin forward, until Huffman went across on a shift play for the score. His twenty-yard dash through the line, in which he shook off several tacklers, was the feature of the march.

On the first play of the second quarter, T. Alworth intercepted a Cisco pass, and successive gains by Schertz, Huffman and T. Alworth, put the ball on Cisco's twenty-yard line. There Cisco braced, and Mills attempted a place kick from the 23-yard line. It hit the goal post, however, falling by a narrow margin.
After an interchange of punts, T.
Alworth for the second time grabbed a Cisco pass from the air, and just before the half ended, Mills educated toe put the ball squarely between the posts from the thirty-yard line. It was a beautiful boot. That made the count 17-0.

The third quarter was hard fought, with Ranger unable to gain consistently and Cisco showing its first and only dangerous offensive. After holding Ranger for downs, the home team took the ball on its own forty-yard line, and carried it without a

RANGER ALSO
WINS GRAMMAR
SCHOOL TITLE

It was a double victory that Ranger footballers scored yesterday. Not only did the High school mop up, but Central school beat Cisco West Ward 25 to 0, for the grammar championship of the county. The Central bunch has not lost a game this year.

Central hopped into the lead by scoring a touchdown four minutes after the kickoff, and added six points to the score in the last minute of play. No attempt at goal was made, in order to clear the field for the High school game.

A running attack was used almost altogether, with Ranger steadily marching to scores. Henshaw made two touchdowns and Davis and Thompson one each. Cisco's only threat was in the third quarter, when they had the ball in half a yard to goal, with three downs in which to put it across, but was thrown back.
Healer was the outstanding star of the defense on this occasion. A long run, which Henshaw stopped just in time, had put the ball in striking distance.

The Central lineup: Thompson and Hatfield, left end; Cornelius, left tackle; "Glenn," left guard; Healer, center; Hatfield and Dreinhofner, right guard; Lowe, right tackle; Hamilton, right end; Henshaw, quar-
Thompson and Davis, right halfback; Althausen, fullback.

HOWARD PAYNE RUNS UP
SCORE ON SOUTHWESTERN

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 12.—The Howard Payne Yellow Jackets, keeping up with their fast stride, Friday, crushed the Southwestern university eleven by the score of 34 to 7. Although Southwestern fought dogged-ly every minute of the game, the Baptists kept marching down the field with the most brilliant and versatile attack that Kirkpatrick's machine uncovered this season. The five touchdowns were scored by the Yellow Jackets through the use of every variety of football, from a line plunge to forty-yard passes.

Howard Payne scored early in the game, after Southwestern fumbled a punt. A pass to Russell and a run by Dutch Woodward, made possible the score. After that Southwestern came back and tied the score and fought desperately to stave off defeat, but after the Howard Payne machine began to function properly the attack was unbeatable.

BULLDOG AND TIGER CLASH IS
DAY'S BIG GAME

By Associated Press.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 12.—
The second of the eastern football classics for the season of 1921 will be played in the Yale Bowl here this afternoon when the eleven of Princeton and Yale meet in their annual struggle. Dating back to 1873, the annual gridiron battle between the two famous universities is so surrounded and entwined with 'varsity and football tradition that, with the possible exception of the Harvard-Yale contest, it exceeds in interest from an eastern standpoint any other game of the year.

Year in and year out, regardless of whether the two teams are of exceptional power or merely mediocre in comparison with other college teams of the same section, the battle of the Bulldog and Tiger fanned in song and story, attracts record attendance.

Today's game is no exception for the huge football amphitheatre of the Blue has been sold out for weeks and tickets would command many a hundred per cent premium were they available to the speculators.

Unusually Keen Interest.

Interest among the undergraduates, alumni and general followers of the football chances of the two elvers is particularly keen this year for some unusual circumstances surround the coming contest and there is a possibility that traditions of the game may be shattered. After several seasons of rather indifferent playing form and power, Yale appears to have developed a combination more in keeping with the football history of the Blue. Under the coaching of Tad Jones, a former Eli star of magnitude, Yale appears to possess a fast, rangy, alert eleven, each player possessing that keen football instinct which is a gift and seldom acquired by the dull, practice routine. Team after team has gone down before the attack of the Elis without scoring and ever the strong Army eleven was defeated 14 to 7.

Against this rejuvenated Bulldog, the New Jersey university will hurl what several months ago was expected to be the best team of the season in the East. Injuries and the loss of several star players due in ineligibility, scholastic or otherwise, has sapped some of its gridiron strength and notwithstanding the splendid showing of the Tigers a week ago in the game with Harvard, the eleven is not the invincible combination which the supporters of the Orange

STATE RUNS UP
BIG SCORE ON
MISS. AGGIES

AUSTIN, Nov. 12.—Relying mainly upon straight football, the Texas Longhorns Friday tore through the Mississippi Aggies on Clark field for another overwhelming victory, running up a final score of 54 to 7. In this game, which is the last before the big Thanksgiving clash with the Texas Aggies, the Longhorns were given fifteen penalties, seven of which were fifteen-yard setbacks. It was due to two successive fifteen-yard penalties upon the Texans that the visitors were enabled to make their only goal; the last of these penalties placed the Aggies upon the Longhorn one-foot line, from which McGowan experienced little trouble in carrying the ball over.

The much heralded Mississippi passing machine failed to operate successfully against Coach Whitaker's team in yesterday's contest. Only two passes were completed for material gains. McGowan's passing was masterful, but the Texas men covered and intercepted well. McGowan was easily the leading player for the Mississippians. He was their passer, kicker and the only man on the visiting team who could make headway against the hefty Texas line.

CENTRE SQUAD INVITED TO PLAY PACIFIC COAST ELEVEN

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 12.—A committee of San Diego business men invited the Centre College football team to play the All-Pacific Fleet eleven here Christmas day. The Pasadena Tournament of Roses association announced it had extended no invitations to any football team to play here New Year's day and would not until after the regular football season closes.

and Black hoped for at the beginning of the season.

Defeats by both the Navy and the University of Chicago in midseason checked Princeton progress. These setbacks while sobering the conquering prospects of the Tigers have increased their desire to complete the season with a victory over their traditional rival. The entire squad from 'varsity star to third string substitute will consider the Princeton football season of 1921 a complete success if Yale can be defeated on its home gridiron.

RICE OUTPLAYS AGGIES
IN TIE GAME AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Nov. 12.—Rice and
A. & M. played a 7-7 tie here Friday. In the third quarter Rice scored a touchdown, mainly through the use of forward passes which advanced the ball from the infield to A. & M.'s five-yard line. From this point Rice battered her way across.

In the first period Rice was again in striking distance, but was held for downs on the enemy's twelve-yard line. In the closing moments of play both teams opened up strongly on forward passes or punted on early first downs.

In all Rice gathered eight first downs to A. & M.'s two.

The Owls gained at least three times as much ground during the game as A. & M.

The first half of the game ended with A. & M. leading by a score of 7 to 0. The touchdown was made by Wilson, A. & M.'s left end, when he recovered a poor pass by Rice's center on Rice's twenty-yard line. On picking up the ball he had a clear field to the goal. Despite the seven-point lead by the Aggies at the end of the half, the Aggies did not register a single first down in plays, from scrimmage, during the half. Rice made two in the first period and none in the second.

TWO MEN HELD FOR TAILOR'S MURDER

who told of an attempt to rob him of his watch. They had driven a block and a half toward the Hamon-Kell tracks, she stated, when the car broke down. Lyons and Boyd who had apparently followed them, drove up and offered assistance. Later the two men apparently drove away and the woman went to a store about 300 yards away to telephone. It was on her return with the service car driver that Fiebrich was found dead, she stated.

Asked for Gun.

The other woman testified at the inquest to the arrival of Fiebrich and Stella Winks at her home and of the unsuccessful attempts made by Lyons and Boyd to get the two women to assist them in robbing the tailor. Lyons, she said, asked to borrow her gun but was refused when he explained that he wanted to "take the diamonds off Fiebrich." Fiebrich, she said, entered the house but left soon and got into his car. The Winks woman, after saying that the tailor was "all out" and that she would have to put him to bed, left. Lyons and Boyd left the house soon after the couple departed, the witness said. Some twenty minutes later she heard a shot, and some ten minutes afterward, Lyons appeared at the house, took a drink "to steady his nerves" and drove off alone without any explanations. The woman's small son testified to seeing the party at the house and to hearing the shot.

Slightly Different.

Jeff Howard, an employee of the Texas Pipe Line company, testified to seeing the Winks woman at the store and to allowing her to ride with him toward town. On their way in they met Ritchie, Howard said, and the woman directed him to proceed to McCleskey avenue. Howard then drove the Winks woman to town and on her request took her back to "meet them." They met the service car driver about the same spot and the woman got out and drove off with him in an easterly direction. Howard testified to overhearing her say "Hurry, somebody might have hijacked him."

The statement secured by the police from Ritchie is said to bear out that of the Winks woman in the main details.

County Attorney Overson arrived here this morning about 10:30 from Eastland and took detailed statements from the witnesses appearing at the inquest. He was accompanied here by Sheriff Sam Nolley and several Eastland deputies.

Relatives in Austria.

Fiebrich's body is being held at the Milford Undertaking establishment pending attempts to locate some of his relatives in this country. The tailor is said to have been a native of Austria or of Bohemia but to have lived in this country for some time and to have served in the World war. Before coming to Ranger, he lived at West, Texas. Personal papers found in his trunk indicated that his mother and other members of his family are living in Austria.

Justice of the Peace McFatter was appointed temporary administrator of his estate this morning by Judge Jones of the county court at law, and authorized to take charge of his tailor shop on Pine street. All customers of the shop having unfinished business with the tailor or clothes in his possession, are instructed to call at his office, McFatter announced.

FULL O' PEP AT NINETY-EIGHT; TOBACCO PRESERVES HIM

YAKIMA, Wash., Nov. 12.—Dr. Henry Green, who celebrated his 98th birthday anniversary, is a great disappointment to those people who would have the chief maxim in the copybook read: "Do not use tobacco." It is harmful to the human system." At 98 Dr. Green takes a great comfort in his pipe and in an occasional chew.

"Used tobacco most of my life," he chuckles, "and look at me."

But two years from the century mark, Dr. Green takes a keen interest in all the affairs about him. He is well enough to go to the business section of Yakima, about a mile away from his home, chat with "the boys" and select his own tobacco.

His garden, which is a model for the neighborhood and which in war days was adjudged the finest in the city, is his special pride. He does all the work in it, from preparing the ground to harvesting the crop of vegetables and fruit, and still keeps "farmers' hours" so as to care for it properly.

TRINITY WINS

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Nov. 12.—The Trinity University Tigers, after having lost their three previous T. I. A. games, came back here Friday afternoon and in a hard-fought game at Jungle park downed the husky Daniel Baker eleven of Brownwood, 7 to 0. The Tigers got the jump in the first minute of play when Daniel Baker kicked off. Kuykendall took the punt and tossed it to R. Morrison, who punted back to the Daniel Baker ten-yard line, where a Trinity end recovered and advanced five yards. The play took the visitors by surprise, but they quickly rallied and held the Tigers for downs, Rex Morrison narrowly missing a field goal.

Trinity scored early in the second period after she recovered one of her own punts on the Daniel Baker five-yard line. Captain Morrison plunged center and on two attempts placed the ball squarely on the line. R. Morrison kicked goal.

Though most of the game was played in Daniel Baker territory, it does not indicate the difference in the two teams, as the Daniel Baker eleven was fighting all the way, but fumbles at critical stages cost them much territory. Few passes were attempted by either team, each being content with end runs and line plunges.

BAYLOR BEATS SIMMONS

WACO, Nov. 12.—The Baylor Bears displayed a flashy brand of open football here in taking the Armistice day battle from Simmons college Cowboys before a crowd of about 3,000 people, by a score of 21 to 0.

Simmons could do nothing with the slashing line drives and sweeping end runs of the Baylor backs.

Baylor used an open game almost the entire game, played a strong defensive game. Simmons had one chance to score, that being about the middle of the fourth period, when Bradshaw fumbled Yeager's punt and Bradshaw covered for the Cowboys on the Baylor's fifteen-yard line. Three line plunges failed to gain, and when Williams blocked Yeager's attempted place kick, Simmons' chances for a score went glimmering.

In the second period Baylor started her open formations which swept through the Simmons' defense to the forty-yard marker. Bradshaw made eighteen yards around right end and Tanner got back fifteen yards behind the ball as if to pass. On a pretty fake play Tanner went straight over center for twelve yards and the first touchdown of the game. Weathers kicked goal.

Second Touchdown. Again in the third quarter Baylor's offense got under way and after Burk kicked off fifty-five yards to Bradshaw, who returned thirty-five, a pass, Bradshaw to Cairnes, placed the ball on Simmons' forty-yard line. Another pass, Bradshaw to Cairnes, was good for twenty yards, and Cairnes kicked goal.

TEXAS SURVIVOR OF ZR-2 NOW AT HOME ON VISIT

COMMERCE, Texas, Nov. 12.—Norman O. Walker, the lucky American of the ZR-2, is home on a furlough. He arrived unannounced on the morning of Nov. 8 at 2 o'clock a. m., and going direct to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pink Walker of this city, awakened them. The entire household stayed up through the remaining hours of the night from sheer joy and thankfulness. Walker appears to be in good health and is inclined to be reticent concerning his terrible experience with the ill-fated ZR-2. His leave of absence calls for thirty days.

CORPSE REFORMS HIM BUT NOT FOR LONG

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Some months ago, Walter White, who burlesques for a livelihood, entered a house and placed his hand on something that shines like silver. It refused to be removed. His flashlight showed the silver nameplate of a casket. In the casket was a corpse. When he had caught his second wind a mile away, White proclaimed he was going to be an honest man.

He swerved from the resolution recently, however. Yesterday he was booked for another term at Sing Sing. He said his profession had obtained so strong a grip on him no influence could shake it off.

nes ran the remaining yards for the second touchdown. Weathers again kicked goal. The final Baylor marker came in the last few minutes of play, after line plunges by Pittman, Tanner and Bradshaw had placed the ball within striking distance of the goal.

BOY SCOUTS ON HIKE; TO CAMP OUT TONIGHT

Ranger's Boy Scout troop is on an outing today at Wilson springs, three miles east of town, and unless the weather should be bad, will stay overnight, hiking back Sunday afternoon. Assistant Scoutmaster M. J. Herrington is in command of the expedition. The boys will carry their own eats and will pair off in preparing them. Each patrol of eight will build itself a brush tent, and there will be a competition between the four patrols as to which prepares its shelter in the most workmanlike manner. Regular scout exercises will then keep them busy until time to return home.

TEE PEE'S NEWELL FIVE MAKING ONE THOUSAND

No. 5 is in the northwest corner of the Newell lease and proves the entire lease productive. The old Stribling well on the Owen lease that has been idle for months has been reopened by the Maryland Drilling company. The well made a flow of thirty barrels yesterday and is looking good for a producer.

$250,000 IS LOSS AT BLAZE IN SHAWNEE

SHAWNEE, Okla., Nov. 12.—Fire originating on the loading dock of the Choctaw Cotton compress here at 1:30 o'clock this morning caused an estimated loss of $250,000 before being brought under control four hours later. The compress was destroyed and 9,900 bales of cotton burned.

Fifty cars, loaded with cotton, which were on a siding by the compress, also burned, as did a quantity of lumber belonging to the C. R. I. & P. The railroad lumber yard was maintained in connection with its car-building shops.

The fire was believed to have started from a spark from a locomotive. The compress and cotton was insured for almost its total value, officers of the company said.

IOWA PARK WOMAN IS DEAD FROM BURNS

IOWA PARK, Wichita County, Texas, Nov. 12.—Having failed to regain consciousness since the burns received when the home burned Tuesday evening, Mrs. J. W. Busby died at 11 o'clock Wednesday night.

A boy about 14 years old that was burned at the time is still in the sanitarium in a very critical condition. The three children that received less serious burns at the same time, are being cared for by neighbors since having been removed from the sanitarium Wednesday.

onds. Eugene Reynolds, Jim Searcy, M. H. Kelly, Henry Wood, Keno Durning, Jim Ingram and Shorty Ricker were disqualified on missing their first throw.

The trick and fancy roping contest was won by Shorty Ricker, who had the arena to himself.

The ladies' relay race, participated in by four "cowgirls" in colorful costumes was won by Miss Harriet Schaffstall. Miss May Ford won second place, Miss Marion Schaffstall third place, and Mrs. Lowe Wallace, fourth.

Mrs. Florence Hughes was awarded first place in the trick riding, Eugene Reynolds was awarded second place and Angelo Hughes, third. Reynolds on his paint pony, "Buck," proved himself an embryo world champion. Mrs. Hughes and her husband, themselves former residents of this section, again gave the community a thrill of pride by their riding.

Small Boy Stars.

Shorty Ricker came first in the bull riding contest and Angelo Hughes second. An unknown contender, no less than a small boy, entered unofficially in the bull riding events and rode a plunging bull and a no less plunging milch cow with ease.

Lowe Wallace won first place in the roping and bulldogging contest, in 18 seconds. Jim Ingram came second, in 19 seconds; Jim Searcy third in 30 seconds, and Wade Swift fourth in 38 seconds. Keno Durning roped and threw his calf in 52 seconds and was eliminated from the prize winners. W. R. Kelly, E. Hicks, S. Ricker, Henry Wood, Smith and Angelo Hughes, were disqualified.

Lowe Wallace again won first honors in the goat roping contest in 19 seconds. E. Hicks came second in 23 seconds, Wade Swift third in 26 seconds. Angelo Hughes, Jim Ingram, W. R. Kelly, Eugene Reynolds, Jim Searcy and H. Pugh were disqualified.

Wade Swift won first place in the officers' roping contest in 34 seconds. Jim Daniels and Jim Ingram were disqualified.

The rodeo committee was well pleased with the success of the performance and the support of the city, which enabled them to realize a substantial sum for the Thanksgiving dinner for the Ranger poor.

WAR'S LAST VICTIM

BALLINGER, Nov. 12.—Luther Yeager, 25-year-old son of D. W. Yeager, county commissioner, was shot and instantly killed at Winters, eighteen miles north of here, at 1 o'clock Friday morning, while standing on the sidewalk with friends. The tragedy occurred during a celebration staged by the American legion in which more than 100 guns were used and more than 1,000 shots were fired.

A bullet from a .38 pistol struck the young man in the eye and lodged in the back of the head. He fell backwards in the arms of his brother, who was standing near him, and died without speaking.

The tragedy took place during the first hour of Armistice day and the remains were laid to rest by American legion on Armistice day afternoon. Yeager was an ex-service man.

At the next general election held in England, nine women will make a fight for election to Parliament.

POSITIONS THAT PAY WELL, AND ARE ALWAYS TO BE HAD

The perfecting of typesetting key-boards has brought new and unusual opportunities in the printing business. The business that gives development to great minds.

Positions of this kind always have paid well and perhaps always will, and doubtless they will always be plentiful, because the printing business expands as civilization develops. Anybody who could learn to operate a typewriter can learn to operate a typesetting machine. If you want to learn how to do the work of a monotype machinist; if you want to learn to do the work of an intertype or a linotype machinist; if you want to learn to operate any of these machines; if you want to learn the work of the business office—if you want to get into a work that will always pay you well, and if you can spare three to four months for preparation, write for Prospectus to American Publishers' and Southern Publishers' TYPE-SETTING DEPARTMENT of the GEORGIA-ALABAMA BUSINESS COLLEGE, Macon, Ga.—Adv.

KISSED FRIEND THEN SHOT HIM ON OWN REQUEST

Metal Worker Claims He Was Forced to Murder Despond- ent Companion.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Frank Pas-syno was despondent and wanted to die. He asked his friend, Alexander Savin, to shoot him. When Savin refused to do this, Passyno threatened to kill him. Thereupon Savin, to save his own life, acceded to Passyno's request and shot him to death.

This is the gist of a remarkable confession which County Detective Fred David, of New Brunswick, N. J., obtained yesterday from Savin, who was arrested in New York Thursday night.

Passyno lived in South River. His body was found Sunday afternoon last with several bullet holes in his head, lying at the Russian cemetery at South River.

Savin and Passyno were roommates and both worked for the Reliance Metal company in Brooklyn. Savin, according to the alleged confession, said that his friend had been despondent because of his failure to find work after he had left the metal company. He tried to starve himself to death and when this failed he asked Savin to shoot him.

Savin remonstrated, he said. Upon Passyno's threat to kill him unless he complied, he said he couldn't do the job in New York, so it was agreed that they would go to New Jersey.
They went to South River and picked the cemetery as an ideal place for the deed.

Again Savin pleaded with his friend, according to the confession, and again Passyno said that he would kill Savin if Savin failed to kill him.
According to the police, Savin's confession continues:

"I took the pistol then, and I kissed Passyno three times, and he kissed me three times, in the Russian way.
Then I fired at his head. It was necessary to shoot four times before he was dead. I dragged the body away from the road, so that people could more easily find it."

Savin, the police said, admitted taking a five-dollar bill from Passyno's pocket after the shooting, saying that he thought the dead man had no further use for it. Later he said that Passyno gave him the bill before he died.

of auxiliary naval craft, submarines, airplane carriers and aircraft.

Adjourned Till Tuesday.
The conference adjourned at 12:26
p. m. until 11 a. m. Tuesday.

Applause interrupted Hughes, as he said with emphasis that "competition in armament must stop." When he said the conference had been called for action rather than mere resolution, the house and senate rose in a body and the famous "rebel yell," familiar in the house, broke out.

The Japanese delegates smiled and whispered together. "Briand!" the galleries shouted. Applause which far exceeded even the welcome given the president greeted the French premier.

"When the President invited the nations to this conference," said Briand,
"My country instantly answered here."

"My country was actuated first by gratitude and by her aspirations for peace."

The tonnage of the nations was to be in relation to other ships besides capital ships as follows:

United States, 450,000 tons; Great Britain, 450,000 tons; Japan, 270,000
tons.

Submarine Tonnage.

Submarine tonnage would be limited to the United States, 90,000 tons, Great Britain 90,000 tons, and Japan 54,000 tons. The submarines whose keels have been laid before yesterday should be completed. Naval airplane carriers would be limited as follows:
United States, 80,000 tons; Great Britain, 80,000 tons; Japan 48,000
tons.

Regulations to govern merchant marine for war purposes must be provided, Hughes said.

With the exception of this plan,
Hughes said the burden of meeting the demands of competition in naval armament will be lifted. Enormous sums would be released to aid the progress of civilization.

JAP SAYS AMERICAN PROPOSAL IS DRASTIC

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The American armament limitation plan, as outlined to the armament conference today by Secretary Hughes, was described by Baron Kato, of the Japanese delegation, as very drastic, but a good proposal to have been placed before the conference.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY—

Can Ranger be established without God? Can our city live long and be worth while if God is dethroned in the hearts of its citizens. Do we want to live in a city where God is loath to come? These are serious questions, none more so to the citizens of Ranger. If we believe God is essential to the life of a city, then professing Christians must seek to live so that God will come and honor his works.

The Sabbath and the church are means through which we may attest our desire to have God help build our city and then go out into the city to exemplify our faith in God and man.
