City Council Meeting Held

(By Mike Skipper)

The Abernathy City Council met Monday night in its regular monthly meeting. The meeting was held in the City Hall Club room and continued until 12:30 a. m.

The previous minutes were read and approved by City Manager Charles Norwood to open the meeting. Bids were then brought before the Council on a new police car. The low bid was from Chevrolet. The old car has been in service for two years and has been a very good car.

The Council then discussed an amendment to the water ordinance which was adopted on September 28 of this year. At that meeting, the new water rates were established. The Council discussed the proposal and voted to make the minimum for all meters in the city limits $3.00 for the first 2000 gallons. Before, the larger meters had higher minimums.

The City Council passed a resolution to request that a Highway patrolman be stationed in Abernathy. The Council then decided to appoint a permanent Board of Water Research made up of approximately seven men of the community. No action was taken on appointing the Board.

In other business, the Council voted to drill three more test holes on the airport section. This action was recommended by the engineers.

Besides Mayor Roy Jones and City Manager Norwood, aldermen present were W. T. Settle, Dan Z. Ward, Billy F. Skipper, Royce Henson and Jim Bob Smith.

T. A. Fleming entered Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, Monday, and was scheduled to undergo major surgery Wednesday morning, Nov. 11.

Mrs. A. O. Drake of Friona visited here in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frances Howard.

Dene Gray moved to 509 Ave. F.

Boxes Here Favor LBJ and Humphrey

Over 1,600 votes were cast in South Hale County and North Lubbock County in the General Election last week. All boxes voted Democratic majorities, with the Johnson-Humphrey ticket winning over Goldwater-Miller, and Ralph Yarborough defeating his Republican opponent, George Bush, for U. S. Senator from Texas.

Abernathy, Hale County, counted 709 ballots, and Lakeview, Hale County, had a total of 131, with all Democratic candidates receiving a majority of the votes; all amendments being favored, and the mosquito district and tax levy being favored in both boxes.

Abernathy Lubbock County, had 282 votes, with all Democratic candidates receiving a majority. The two Lubbock County boxes at New Deal had a total of more than 459 votes, with both boxes giving a majority of votes to Democratic candidates.

Mosquito District Favored; Increase In Tax Rate Loses

Voters in Hale County favored the creation of a countywide mosquito control district by a vote of 4,621 to 2,390, yet turned down authorization of a tax of 25 cents on the hundred dollars' valuation by a vote, Nov. 3, of 3,380 to 3,218.

The district carried in every voting box, while eight boxes voted against the tax.

Public reaction was that the tax rate of 25c was excessive, above the requirements, and that the necessity of increasing valuation to enable the county to levy adequate tax to meet the budget would likewise raise state tax take by thousands of dollars with no direct benefit to the county.

Another factor was effectiveness of control measures and the mosquito's true relation to the overall encephalitis incidence.

Antelope halfback Pat Hale broke away on many long runs this season and this picture shows him on a ramble around the end at Morton. He is being pursued by Morton players. ((All football action pictures in this week's paper are courtesy of J. Frank Jackson.)

Rondall Preston is a Junior end on the Antelope team and he caught many passes just as pretty as this one against Floydada. No. 25 for Floydada seems to have a problem.

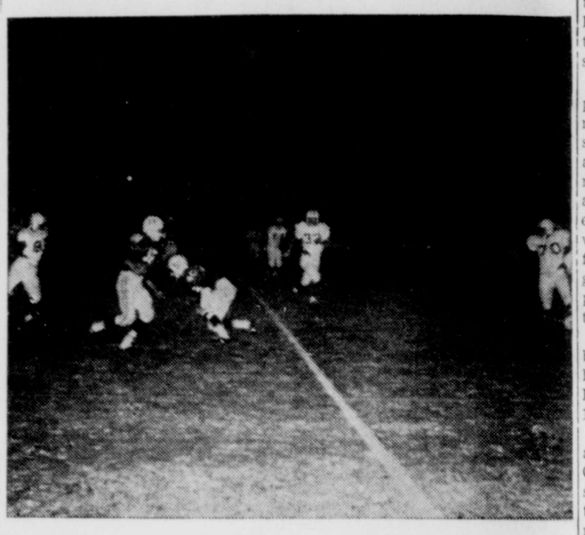

Pat Hale looks for an opening in the Morton defense on this play as guard Terry Barton (62) goes after a block. Fullback Nathan Knight is bent over taking care of the Morton defender in the center.

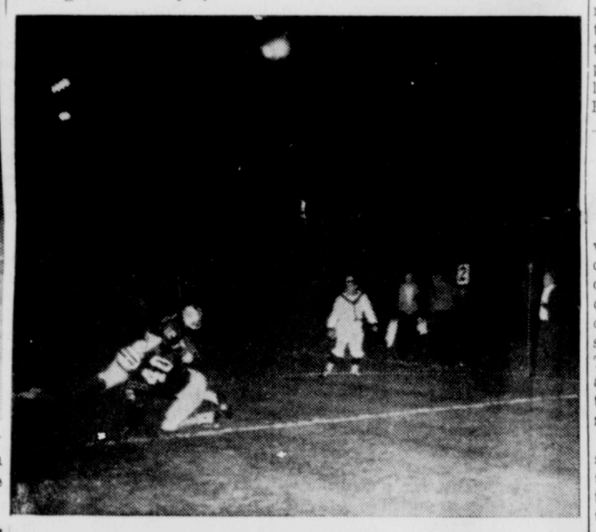

Split end Boyce Paxton pulls down a pass from Lane Wade against Morton as the defender looks on. Paxton repeated this play quite often this season.

The Morton ball carrier and quarterback Mike Tannehill seem to be sizing each other up over the white line in this action shot. Tannehill, far right, played quarterback this fall. Other Antelopes in the foreground are Larry Crowder (76), Terry Barton (62), and Lane Wade (12).

Pat Hale seems to be preparing to tackle his own teammate in this action picture, but he is actually crouching to block out the pursuing defender. Quarterback Lane Wade carried the ball a short gain on this play.

Quarterback Lane Wade is pulled down from behind by a player from Morton as he tries for a first down. Halfback Pat Hale observes the tackle.

AHS Basketball Girls To Attend Clinic At Wayland

Plainview, (Special): Wayland Baptist College's world-famous Hutcherson Flying Queens will hold their eighth annual basketball clinic for all high school coaches and players November 14, at 9 a. m. in Plainview High School Gymnasium. The announcement was made by Harley J. Redin, coach of the team and director of the clinic.

Coach Mitch LeMoine will take his AHS girls basketball squad to Plainview to attend the clinic.

Plans are underway for a bigger and better clinic this year. The annual clinic will consist of short periods of demonstration by different coaches and their teams, incorporating as many different techniques and styles as is possible.

The Flying Queens, six-times National Women's AAU champions, and the Queen Bees (Wayland's freshman team) will be used in demonstrating fundamentals, ball-handling and actual game play. Also several high school coaches will use their own players to demonstrate methods.

Tuition for the clinic is $10 per school, regardless of how many attend. Following the instruction period in the morning and early afternoon a scrimmage session will feature eight area teams pared for four games. Those games will get underway at 4 p. m. and will be free for all coaches and players registered for the clinic. Other persons will pay $1 for the entire slate of four games.

Holt's Sporting Goods, Lubbock will again sponsor a luncheon for all coaches at Plainview's Congress Inn at 12:30.

Pre-registration for teams may be obtained by sending the $10 tuition fee along with the approximate number of players to: Ed S. Billings, athletic director, Wayland College, Plainview, Texas.

Farm Census Is Set For Nov. - Dec.

Charles Leroy Saul of Plainview, Texas, has been named a crew leader for the 1964 Census of Agriculture, Percy R. Millard, director of the regional office of the U. S. Bureau of the Census at Dallas, announced today. The new crew leader is one of about 1,825 persons throughout the U. S. to receive this appointment.

The new crew leader will supervise a team of census enumerators who will visit all farms and ranches in Hale county to collect official census questionnaires from farm operators. Enumeration of all farms in the county will take place in November and early December.

The census will be taken in the following way: Shortly after November 5, the Bureau of the Census , an agency of the U. S. Department of Commerce, will mail census questionaires to all rural boxholders. Those required to fill out the forms should do so and hold the questionaires until a census enumerator comes to collect them. At that time, the enumerator will help answer any questions that may have proven troublesome.

The crew leader is a key person in conducting a Census of Agriculture. He recruits and trains the enumerators, schedules their work, reviews the accuracy of completed forms, and conducts difficult interviews.

The Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in years ending in "4" and "9 " to gather information on the nation's agriculture resources and production.. Such information is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U. S. economy. Data gathered include the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock inventories, and information on farm equipment and improvements and income and some production expenditures.

The information will be published starting in 1965 for counties, States, and the nation.

Antelopes End Season Here Friday Night

(By Mike Skipper)

The Abernathy Antelopes met a fired-up Dimmitt Bobcat team last Friday night and were defeated by a score of 12-6. The win was the first of the season for the Bobcats, but they had to fight the scrappy Antelopes for it.

The 'Lopes put the first score on the board with 7:33 left in the first quarter. The TD came on a 44-yard scamper by halfback Pat Hale. The first extra point kick by Mike Tannehill was good, but an offside penalty against the Antelopes, and he had to try again. This attempt was wide.

The Antelopes got the ball again late in the quarter, and Dimmitt got its first TD off a pass interception. Jim Mitchner picked off a Lane Wade pass and ran it back 60 yards. The extra point kick was blocked and that was all the scoring for the first half.

Early in the third quarter, the Bobcats drove into the Antelope end zone for their second touchdown and the victory margin. The extra point kick was no good and the score stood at 12-6.

In the fourth quarter, the Antelopes could not get the ball past the midfield stripe as the Bobcats held them.

The Antelope defensive team played a fine game last Friday night as they kept the Bobcats in the middle of the field most of the game. Halfback Lane Wade and Linemen Terry Turner, Barry Selke and Terry Barton turned in especially good games.

Score by Quarters

Dimmitt	6	0	6	0-12
Abernathy	6	0	0	0- 6

PANAMA CITY, PANAMA (AHTNC) — Army Pfc. Cecil R. Sooter, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Sooter, Route 1, Shallowater, Tex., and other members of the 20th Infantry's 4th Battalion (Mechanized) provided emergency aid when a large fire destroyed businesses and residences in Panama City, Panama, early this month and left hundreds homeless and hungry.

Sooter and his unit provided assistance when it became apparent that Panamanian authorities would not be able to help all the homeless. The fire destroyed more than 15 buildings and left about 2,000 people in the streets without food or clothing.

At the request of the Government of Panama, the U. S. Forces Southern Command sent soldiers, regularly stationed at Fort Clayton, Canal Zone, to aid in the rescue work. Working with the Red Cross and Panamanian soldiers, members of the 4th Battalion set up tents in the city's National Stadium to provide shelter for the people. The soldiers constructed and operated two field kitchens, sanitation stations, and water points. Army trucks supplied the tent village with water and gasoline.

The aid and comfort that Sooter and the other members of his unit initially provided is still going on as other soldiers in the Southern Command continue to help the people until new homes can be built and personal property replaced.

Sooter, a driver in the battalion's Company A at Fort Clayton, entered the Army in August 1963 and received basic training at Fort Gordon, Ga. He arrived for duty in the Canal Zone in January 1964.

A 1958 graduate of Shallowater High School, the 24-year-old soldier attended Texas Tech, Lubbock. He was engaged in farming before entering the Army.

One of America's most serious educational programs is conducted by the Internal Revenue Service. The tax folks attempt to recruit outstanding young college graduates specializing in accounting and other technical skills needed in the various tax specialties.

These outstanding young men and women must be trained in the complexities of the tax law in order to carry out the various highly technical tasks of auditing, collecting, and enforcing our tax laws. They have to go back to IRS tax schools throughout their career.

If the tax man gets to feeling comfortable with his knowledge, Congress changes the tax law—and if this doesn't put him back in the classroom, it at least puts him to studying all over again.

And some of us wonder why we can't win our argument with the tax man, when we haven't even read the instructions.

NMS Qualifying Tests Set at AHS

All 1966 graduates of Abernathy High School who wish to enter the 1965-66 National Merit Scholarship competition should register now at the school office, Mr. Curtis Davenport, principal, announced.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test will be given in the school at 9 a. m., Tuesday, March 9 (or Saturday, March 13), 1965.

Students who will complete secondary school in 1966 and enter college in the same calendar year are eligible for scholarship consideration in the 1965-66 Merit Program. Merit Scholarships are four-year awards. The extent of a winner's financial need determines the amount of his stipend.

To receive consideration, the student must take the test when it is offered in his school. Participating students pay a $1 fee. If the test is administered on a Saturday, the school may charge an additional fee up to $1 for special administrative costs for testing on a nonschool day. Any interested student who is unable to pay the fee should consult Mr. Davenport.

A student's performance on the qualifying test also provides him with information that is useful in career planning or in selecting courses in high school and college, Mr. Davenport stated.

After the test, each participating student receives a Handbook for Merit Program Participants, prepared by Science Research Associates, the testing agency. The Handbook is designed to help students understand their individual test results, to make comparisons with scores of high school students across the country, and to use this information in making educational and vocational plans. Thus, Mr. Davenport said, students can learn more about their educational strengths and weaknesses, whether or not they plan to attend college.

In addition to the awards made by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, about 230 business corporations, foundations, colleges, professional associations, unions, trusts, and individuals give scholarships through the Merit Program. A considerable number of other scholarships agencies utilize the services of NMSC in awarding their scholarships.

NMSC was established in 1955 through grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. An additional Ford Foundation grant to extend the Merit Program through 1970 was announced in 1962.

In the period 1956-64, about 9,100 students have received Merit Scholarship awards and thousands of other high-scoring students have been assisted in obtaining financial aid from other sources.

Don't Die Tonight

National Safety Council figures tell us that the death rate per miles driven is nearly three times greater at night than during the day. They also tell us that night time fatalities could be lowered by 75 per cent if people would follow a few simple safety rules. Assuming that your car is in proper operating condition, let us concentrate on some of the human elements.

The first lesson is a simple one—don't try to fight drowsiness. If you feel tired, pull off to the side of the road and take a short nap. Even half an hour will do wonders for you. According to Pennsylvania Turnpike Police, last year's statistics showed that falling asleep at the wheel accounted for almost 40% of all turnpike fatalities, making it the number one cause of sudden death. While they may be helpful under certain conditions, never place too much faith in pills, tablets, etc., designed to keep you awake despite lack of sleep. As one trooper put it, "I guess they do help, but I've taken too many partially empty bottles of those things off of dead bodies to bet my life on them."

Turnpike Troopers keep a special lookout for weaving cars that indicate a dozing driver. Sleepy motorists are ordered by the "Yawn Patrol" to take an hour's nap. Those who return to the road sooner are arrested.

Traveling at high speeds, a one - second nod can easily stretch into something longer and more permanent. It is not only the one second, but the two or three required to re-adjust to driving conditions. By the time you are once again in control of the car, you will have driven well over the length of a football field—unless a bridge abutment happens to be standing on the 50-yard line.

Dim your headlights when approaching a car from the rear, as well as when meeting an oncoming vehicle. Never cut back after passing a car until its left headlight is visible in your mirror. If the oncoming car is using his high beams, give him a quick flick of your own lights to call attention to his discourtesy. Should he fail to respond, control your fighting spirit and keep yours down anyhow. Blinding him and having him smash head-on into you is expensive revenge.

Fog, too, requires low beams. High beams cause too much reflection and light diffusion in the driver's line of sight, interfering with vision.

"SPEED KILLS" is a famous highway safety warning. It also happens to be true. "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE" is similarly famous and true. Remember the first one, and follow the second, particularly during night time driving. Observe all speed limits, and never drive so fast that you cannot stop within the distance illuminated by your headlights. Do not crowd the car ahead of you. A good rule of thumb to follow in such cases is to allow one car length for each 10 miles of speed you are traveling. This should be doubled in bad weather.

One major safety precaution is almost always neglected by motorists, and the odds are excellent that you are among the offenders. The precaution?—signal flares; universally used to mark accident areas or other emergency hazards. Despite frequent urgings by the National Safety Council, less than one car out of 27 carries these life saving devices, even though they are standard equipment in police and fire department vehicles, ambulances, and with roadwise truckers.

The use of flares could practically eliminate night time "sitting duck" accidents—those involving cars parked by the roadside. If tire or motor trouble hits you after dark, be sure to pull as far off the road as possible. Mark your position with a flare and keep your rear lights on. Follow this procedure whether you are working on the car, or heading for the nearest service station with an empty gas can.

Available at most auto supply stores, flares cost approximately 25 cents each and burn for 15 to 20 minutes, providing working light as well as safety. Although no matches are needed to light them, they cannot be ignited accidentally, and are safely carried in the trunk of a car. A flare could easily be your best insurance buy. Carry them and use them.

Unfortunately most drinking is done in the evening. Slower reaction time coupled with night adds up to (J driving hazards automatically adds up to additional fatalities. For your own safety and the safety of others, don't mix the bottle with the throttle. Park your car and take a cab home. Police will be happy to aid you under such circumstances. It takes them much less time to find you a cab or put you on a bus than it does for them to write up a fatality report in quadruplicate.

News Of Men In The Armed Forces

PANAMA CITY, PANAMA (AHTNC) — Army Pfc. Cecil R. Sooter, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Sooter, Route 1, Shallowater, Tex., and other members of the 20th Infantry's 4th Battalion (Mechanized) provided emergency aid when a large fire destroyed businesses and residences in Panama City, Panama, early this month and left hundreds homeless and hungry.

Sooter and his unit provided assistance when it became apparent that Panamanian authorities would not be able to help all the homeless. The fire destroyed more than 15 buildings and left about 2,000 people in the streets without food or clothing.

At the request of the Government of Panama, the U. S. Forces Southern Command sent soldiers, regularly stationed at Fort Clayton, Canal Zone, to aid in the rescue work. Working with the Red Cross and Panamanian soldiers, members of the 4th Battalion set up tents in the city's National Stadium to provide shelter for the people. The soldiers constructed and operated two field kitchens, sanitation stations, and water points. Army trucks supplied the tent village with water and gasoline.

The aid and comfort that Sooter and the other members of his unit initially provided is still going on as other soldiers in the Southern Command continue to help the people until new homes can be built and personal property replaced.

Sooter, a driver in the battalion's Company A at Fort Clayton, entered the Army in August 1963 and received basic training at Fort Gordon, Ga. He arrived for duty in the Canal Zone in January 1964.

A 1958 graduate of Shallowater High School, the 24-year-old soldier attended Texas Tech, Lubbock. He was engaged in farming before entering the Army.

Income Tax Fax

One of America's most serious educational programs is conducted by the Internal Revenue Service. The tax folks attempt to recruit outstanding young college graduates specializing in accounting and other technical skills needed in the various tax specialties.

These outstanding young men and women must be trained in the complexities of the tax law in order to carry out the various highly technical tasks of auditing, collecting, and enforcing our tax laws. They have to go back to IRS tax schools throughout their career.

If the tax man gets to feeling comfortable with his knowledge, Congress changes the tax law—and if this doesn't put him back in the classroom, it at least puts him to studying all over again.

And some of us wonder why we can't win our argument with the tax man, when we haven't even read the instructions.

NMS Qualifying Tests Set at AHS

All 1966 graduates of Abernathy High School who wish to enter the 1965-66 National Merit Scholarship competition should register now at the school office, Mr. Curtis Davenport, principal, announced.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test will be given in the school at 9 a. m., Tuesday, March 9 (or Saturday, March 13), 1965.

Students who will complete secondary school in 1966 and enter college in the same calendar year are eligible for scholarship consideration in the 1965-66 Merit Program. Merit Scholarships are four-year awards. The extent of a winner's financial need determines the amount of his stipend.

To receive consideration, the student must take the test when it is offered in his school. Participating students pay a $1 fee. If the test is administered on a Saturday, the school may charge an additional fee up to $1 for special administrative costs for testing on a nonschool day. Any interested student who is unable to pay the fee should consult Mr. Davenport.

A student's performance on the qualifying test also provides him with information that is useful in career planning or in selecting courses in high school and college, Mr. Davenport stated.

After the test, each participating student receives a Handbook for Merit Program Participants, prepared by Science Research Associates, the testing agency. The Handbook is designed to help students understand their individual test results, to make comparisons with scores of high school students across the country, and to use this information in making educational and vocational plans. Thus, Mr. Davenport said, students can learn more about their educational strengths and weaknesses, whether or not they plan to attend college.

In addition to the awards made by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, about 230 business corporations, foundations, colleges, professional associations, unions, trusts, and individuals give scholarships through the Merit Program. A considerable number of other scholarships agencies utilize the services of NMSC in awarding their scholarships.

NMSC was established in 1955 through grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. An additional Ford Foundation grant to extend the Merit Program through 1970 was announced in 1962.

In the period 1956-64, about 9,100 students have received Merit Scholarship awards and thousands of other high-scoring students have been assisted in obtaining financial aid from other sources.

Don't Die Tonight

National Safety Council figures tell us that the death rate per miles driven is nearly three times greater at night than during the day. They also tell us that night time fatalities could be lowered by 75 per cent if people would follow a few simple safety rules. Assuming that your car is in proper operating condition, let us concentrate on some of the human elements.

The first lesson is a simple one—don't try to fight drowsiness. If you feel tired, pull off to the side of the road and take a short nap. Even half an hour will do wonders for you. According to Pennsylvania Turnpike Police, last year's statistics showed that falling asleep at the wheel accounted for almost 40% of all turnpike fatalities, making it the number one cause of sudden death. While they may be helpful under certain conditions, never place too much faith in pills, tablets, etc., designed to keep you awake despite lack of sleep. As one trooper put it, "I guess they do help, but I've taken too many partially empty bottles of those things off of dead bodies to bet my life on them."

Turnpike Troopers keep a special lookout for weaving cars that indicate a dozing driver. Sleepy motorists are ordered by the "Yawn Patrol" to take an hour's nap. Those who return to the road sooner are arrested.

Traveling at high speeds, a one - second nod can easily stretch into something longer and more permanent. It is not only the one second, but the two or three required to re-adjust to driving conditions. By the time you are once again in control of the car, you will have driven well over the length of a football field—unless a bridge abutment happens to be standing on the 50-yard line.

Dim your headlights when approaching a car from the rear, as well as when meeting an oncoming vehicle. Never cut back after passing a car until its left headlight is visible in your mirror. If the oncoming car is using his high beams, give him a quick flick of your own lights to call attention to his discourtesy. Should he fail to respond, control your fighting spirit and keep yours down anyhow. Blinding him and having him smash head-on into you is expensive revenge.

Fog, too, requires low beams. High beams cause too much reflection and light diffusion in the driver's line of sight, interfering with vision.

"SPEED KILLS" is a famous highway safety warning. It also happens to be true. "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE" is similarly famous and true. Remember the first one, and follow the second, particularly during night time driving. Observe all speed limits, and never drive so fast that you cannot stop within the distance illuminated by your headlights. Do not crowd the car ahead of you. A good rule of thumb to follow in such cases is to allow one car length for each 10 miles of speed you are traveling. This should be doubled in bad weather.

One major safety precaution is almost always neglected by motorists, and the odds are excellent that you are among the offenders. The precaution?—signal flares; universally used to mark accident areas or other emergency hazards. Despite frequent urgings by the National Safety Council, less than one car out of 27 carries these life saving devices, even though they are standard equipment in police and fire department vehicles, ambulances, and with roadwise truckers.

The use of flares could practically eliminate night time "sitting duck" accidents—those involving cars parked by the roadside. If tire or motor trouble hits you after dark, be sure to pull as far off the road as possible. Mark your position with a flare and keep your rear lights on. Follow this procedure whether you are working on the car, or heading for the nearest service station with an empty gas can.

Available at most auto supply stores, flares cost approximately 25 cents each and burn for 15 to 20 minutes, providing working light as well as safety. Although no matches are needed to light them, they cannot be ignited accidentally, and are safely carried in the trunk of a car. A flare could easily be your best insurance buy. Carry them and use them.

Unfortunately most drinking is done in the evening. Slower reaction time coupled with night adds up to (J driving hazards automatically adds up to additional fatalities. For your own safety and the safety of others, don't mix the bottle with the throttle. Park your car and take a cab home. Police will be happy to aid you under such circumstances. It takes them much less time to find you a cab or put you on a bus than it does for them to write up a fatality report in quadruplicate.

WILTON MANLEY
. . . West Texas State University Tackle

Canyon—Wilton Manley has arrived as an outstanding football player at West Texas State this year. Manley has started every game at right tackle this season and has done a fine job both offensively and defensively according to the Buffs' coaching staff.

Probably Manley's roughest assignment came against the giant All-American candidate, Harry Schuh, of Memphis State. schuh weigs around 280 and during the game belted one of his teammates for drawing an unnecessary penalty, but Manley (6-5, 230) didn't shy away from the tough Tiger and did a good job against him. Memphis State wiped out the Buffs in the game 41-0, but the coaches insist it was not the fault of Manley. It would have been difficult for anyone to stop the Tigers that Saturday.

Coach C. E. Dierking, who coaches the tackles, calls Manley "a real consistent ball player," and said probably Wilton's two best games were against Ohio University and Texas Western. Manley plays almost every minute of the Buffs' games, but is given brief rests when the alternate unit plays.

"One of the reasons Wilton's having such a good year is that he reported in excellent shape this fall and has made such an improvement over last year. Manley has always had a good attitude and has been greatly aided by his desire and determination," said Dierking. The coach also added that Manley's blocking has been his most outstanding accomplishment. Manley did a real good job of blocking on the pitch-out plays against Ohio University and Texas Western.

Manley is majoring in physical education and hopes for a career in coaching after a try at pro football. Manley, a senior from Abernathy, has been a real asset to the young, but tough, West Texas State football team, '64 style. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Manley of County Line community.

Cotton Vote Set Dec. 15

The United States Agriculture Department last week set Dec. 15 as the date for a grower referendum on the cotton allotment program.

The USDA also proclaimed marketing quotas on the 1965 cotton crop and set the national planting allotment at 16.2 million acres.

The control program must get the support of at least two-thirds of growers voting in the referendum in order to become effective.

Next year's national acreage allotment is the same as this year's and is the minimum permitted by law. It includes 200,000 acres for new farms.

The department announced a 1965 domestic acreage allotment of 10,425,000 acres.

Under existing stipulations, farmers who plant only 65 per cent of their national allotment will get price support premiums and price support loans. Amounts will be set later.

Farmers who plant their full share of the national allotment will be eligible for price supports only.

The over-all program is designed to strike a favorable ballance between supplies and markets.

In 1964 the domestic allotment was 67 per cent of the national allotment and 67 percent of an individual farm share of the national allotment.

The department also proclaimed marketing quotas on next year's crop of extra long staple cotton and set the national planting allotment at 77,758 acres, compared with 112,500 this year. It said the referendum on these quotas likewise will be held Dec. 15. Approval is required by at least two-thirds of the growers of extra long staple voting.

Quotas were approved for both types of cotton for this year's cotton crop in referenda held last December.

BATTLE RECORD TO DATE

SPRAYING	ACRES SPRAYED	COMMENT
Number 1 (Beginning Sept. 15)	303,000 acres (Originally estimated 240,000 acres. Total includes Skip-row)	First application was hampered by rain, wind, etc. Migrating weevils caused increase in size of control zone. Extremely high adult and unemerged weevil populations encountered.
Number 2 (Beginning about October 4)	281,000 acres (Reduction due to acreage desiccated or harvested)	Field checks indicated effective kill of adult weevils but continuing emergence kept new weevil population up. Additional planes brought in to speed up sprayings.
Number 3 (Beginning about October 13)	230,000 acres (Continuing harvest and desiccation)	Field examination showed great reduction in number of adult weevils, with low occurrence of weevils in diapause stage. Also fewer unemerged weevils.
Number 4 (Beginning about October 21)	190,000 acres	Few unemerged and very young weevils left. Practically no weevils in diapause stage.

CONCLUSION: Remaining unemerged and young adult weevils will be kept from going into hibernation either by frost or a fifth spraying.
Entomologists agree that hibernating weevils will have been reduced by more than 90 percent by end of this year's program.

Financial Arrangements

- Compresses to collect 50c per bale, and remit to a special boll weevil control fund in bank — no connection with P.C.G. regular funds.
- While compresses collect on all cotton, the contribution is voluntary for individual farmers who may request and receive refund.
- All funds are under direction of a Certified Public Accountant firm.
- Monthly financial reports by U.S.D.A. and Boll Weevil Steering Committee will be made — Complete audit will be published at the end of season.
- Any unexpended Steering Committee funds will be placed in interest bearing account for continuation of Boll Weevil Program next season. Unexpended U.S.D.A. funds must return to Treasury, as all appropriations are on annual basis only.

Tax Information

When Junior says he is a double income tax exemption, it comes as a surprise to thousands of Dads each year. Dads have had 10 years since the law was changed in 1954 to learn about the student exemption—but they haven't.

The student must claim his own exemption on his own return. If he is under 18 or a full time student and is receiving principal support from Dad, he can be claimed on Dad's return too.

However, the mixup continues. A lot of Dads send word to the teacher teaching the little IRS tax course at school that they are teaching the course all wrong. Dad tells the teacher that you can't "double-dip." Well, Dad, in this case Junior gets an exemption and you also get an exemption.

Warmest personnal regards.

POST OFFICE HELPS COUNT LIVESTOCK

Rural mail carriers from the Abernathy Post Office will leave some livestock survey cards along their routes beginning November 13.

"Information reported on these cards is used to set the yearly inventory of livestock and poultry on Texas farms," Postmaster Herman Lambert explained.

Rural carriers distribute the cards at random in boxes along their routes. "This means that not every box will get a card," Mr. Lambert said. "For this reason, it's important for everyone who gets a card to return it filled out so that USDA can get a true sample of the State's livestock holdings."

Carriers assisting with the survey are J. D. Webb, Route 1, and Jack Hackler, Route 2.

"Thanks to our electric heating-we never worry about Shawndi kicking off the covers!"

Individual room control gives the Danny Smith family of Earth, Texas comforting assurance of desired warmth!

Shawndi, like any other normal child, occasionally kicks off the covers when taking a nap or sleeping — thanks to the constant, controlled temperature, the Smiths know from experience that Shawndi will stay warm.

The Smith's home is completely electric. Here in their attractive electric kitchen, Shawndi helps Mother serve Daddy's coffee by bringing his cup to him.

■ Mr. and Mrs. Smith specified ceiling cable electric heating when they built their Gold Medallion home because they could have a thermostat in each room to insure individual room control. The Smiths set the thermostat in their bedroom at 60 degrees; in Shawndi's room 70 degrees; with appropriate settings in other rooms. So even is the temperature and so accurate that Mrs. Smith's tropical fish (in the family room) have not required auxiliary heating. In short, the Smith's enjoy comfort for all, all through the house.
