ROY AND MARTHA BOYD

The Hansford Report

by JAMES JARRETT

If the worth of a man can be measured by the number of lives he touched, then Nick Gray made an indelible impression here in Hansford county.

With his casual manner and almost infectious smile, Nick had become a steady and dependable hand here at the newspaper. There was little he wouldn't attempt in order to put the paper together.

The lives he touched are recorded in pictures within these pages and in countless pages which ran before -- the record a lasting one which will grace countless scrap books in both Gruver and Spearman and be permanently bound in the archives here at the newspaper office.

Being a newspaper photographer can be a thankless job. Few people are totally satisfied with their own portrait in the newspaper and -- like the fabled fisherman -- a good photographer is always chagrined by the "one that got away".

Nick not only took the pictures, but he developed the film and printed them as well. His expertise came from the school of hard knocks. We all know what a demanding teacher experience can be.

In the few short months that I've been associated with Nick, I watched his raw talent with the camera become refined and polished. He was developing into an excellent photojournalist.

That is no small accomplishment for a man who switched careers at the age of 54. Because of Nick the old cliché will have to be modified to "You can't teach an old dog new tricks -- unless the old dog is willing to learn."

Nick was willing and eager. And our readers have been the beneficiary of his ability to learn.

There are many who may not have known Nick other than as the paper's photographer. And that's alright. Nick wasn't out to impress anyone. He was a man doing his job and, for the most part, doing it well.

Just in the few short months we've been in Hansford county, Nick's camera recorded hundreds of shots, hundreds of people. Many of you have had your life affected in a small way by Nick Gray.

Hopefully, our readers have appreciated Nick's efforts. And, the paper will suffer for a while without him here.

Mostly, we'll miss Nick not because his pictures aren't here to grace our pages, but because we've lost a friend and a companion. From his gently teasing manner to his calm smile and encouraging words, Nick had become a regular around the office.

We'll hire another photographer, but we won't be able to replace Nick. We wouldn't be able to if we tried.

Nick had two ambitions that we know of -- he wanted to be the best photographer he could be and he wanted to enter some of his pictures in the Texas Press Association's annual contest. We'll see to it that those pictures are entered in next year's competition.

Meanwhile, we'll continue putting out papers. It's all we know how to do. They won't be quite the same without Nick's touch. And, we'll miss him.

It hurts to say it, but goodbye, old friend. We'll meet you later for that cup of coffee.

It's finally starting to feel like the good ol' Panhandle we've known and loved for years. I was beginning to believe I had stepped into another world.

It's been a wet year, friends. But Monday evening we missed an opportunity for rain which could only happen in the Panhandle.

Now that's the kind of weather I'm used to -- where it threatens rain, but doesn't.

Yes, I'm definitely beginning to feel at home in Hansford county.

Ah, the glory of being a farmer. What other profession can you go out and tie up hundreds of thousands of dollars, pour blood, sweat and tears into an operation only to find yourself at the mercy of the weather, the market place and -- worst of all -- the federal government and politicians?

As if this year's late snow wasn't enough, as if this spring's overabundance of moisture wasn't enough, as if the light test weights and yields weren't enough -- now congress

With a 1977 modified Chevy Vega . . .

Family has different type project

Family projects will take on a new definition now that Roy and Martha Boyd and their son, Scott, of Amarillo have placed in a national event with the fruits of their family project -- a modified 1977 Chevy Vega Station-wagon.

The Boyds -- with Scott in the drivers' seat -- took fourth place in the ET bracket of the Super Chevy Sunday races held June 20-21 at the Amarillo Speedway.

The ET bracket -- Estimated Time -- requires a special type of driving skill. Not only is speed important, but timing plays as important a factor.

Before the race begins, drivers mark their estimated time for making the 1/4 mile strip. In the Boyd's case, they estimated their time at 13.35 seconds.

Then drivers make eight to ten runs through the strip. The driver who most consistently runs his estimated time each run is the winner.

Go ahead, estimate 35 hundredths of a second.

Roy, 48, and his son, Scott, 27, worked in their spare time over the course of some eight months modifying the 1977 Vega in Roy's garage here in Spearman.

It was a natural for Roy who quit a mechanic's career to become the local Beaver Express agent in Spearman. And it was a new experience for Scott.

"This is something I've always been interested in," laughs Roy. "Scott and I were talking one day last fall and, the next thing you know, we're rebuilding a car."

How much does a project like this cost . . . not as much as a person would think. At least, not if you have a lot of friends.

"We probably have about $500 of our own money tied up in the car," reports the older Boyd. "But most of everything was given to us. We couldn't have done it otherwise."

Those donations include the car itself which was given to the Boyds to rebuild.

The labor is their own. But L&M Body Shop provided a paint job and Paul's Machine Shop did all the grinding work for the Spearman crew.

And what did Martha do? She stood by and let it happen without saying too much. Now she's Roy's and Scott's publicity manager and number one cheerleader.

The Boyds took out the standard 4-cylinder Vega engine and dropped a rebored 400 cubic inch V-8 into the wagon.

Rural power cooperative to receive $10-million rebate in SPS rate case

A pair of rulings from the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) and the Texas Public Utility Commission (PUC) may result in a return of some $10 million in refunds to 12 rural electric cooperatives and the customers they serve -- including Hansford county customers served by North Plains Electric Cooperative out of Perryton.

The ruling is in favor of Golden Spread Electric Cooperative -- a power company cooperative which is comprised of 12 members cooperatives in both Texas and New Mexico.

Golden Spread member cooperatives serve more than 90,000 customers in 48 counties in Texas and New Mexico, including the seven counties covered by the North Plains Electric Cooperative.

The FERC and PUC rulings follow Golden Spread protests over two wholesale rate increases by their power supplier, Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS).

Judges for the FERC have ordered substantial reductions in wholesale rates charged by SPS in addition to the refunds. Currently, Golden Spread is waiting for the FERC to complete its review of the initial decisions of the administrative law judges rulings.

"The electric cooperatives are working together through Golden Spread to achieve lower wholesale rates and to resolve common problems," reports J. C. Roberts, chairman of the Golden Spread board of directors.

In the three years since its inception, Golden Spread and its members have protested two wholesale rate increases by SPS.

Meanwhile, Hansford county rural residents, served by North Plains, may realize more stable rates for electric power.

North Plains Electric Cooperative, headquartered in Perryton, is one of the members of Golden Spread. Besides Hansford and Ochiltree counties, North Plains also serves customers in Lipscomb, Hemphill, Wheeler, Hutchinson, and Roberts counties of the Texas panhandle.

Golden Spread is the only electric cooperative subject to the jurisdiction of the FERC. In addition to regulating Golden Spread, the FERC regulates 186 investor-owned electric utilities, five federal power marketing agencies and oil and gas pipeline companies.

The federal agency, in an order dated June 18, authorized Golden Spread Electric Cooperative to wholesale electric power which is purchased from SPS to its 12 member electric cooperatives.

Golden Spread's unique status as a FERC regulated cooperative is due to the fact that Golden Spread has received no loans from the Rural Electrification Administration.

All of the Golden Spread members are locally owned, non-profit electric distribution cooperatives which serve individual customers.

Ten of the Golden Spread member cooperatives are located in the Texas Panhandle and on the South Plains. One member serves in the Oklahoma Panhandle while a 12th member, Rio Grande Electric Cooperative, serves along the U.S./Mexico border, but will not purchase electricity from Golden Spread at this time.

The electric cooperatives formed

Golden Spread in 1984 in response to rising wholesale power costs. The objective of Golden Spread is to provide dependable, low cost electric service for its members and their retail consumers.

Sunday Plainsman to be distributed Friday afternoon

Distribution of the Sunday Hansford Plainsman will come a day early this week due to the July 4 holiday falling on Saturday.

The paper will be distributed to newsstands and vendors Friday afternoon rather than the regular Saturday distribution.

Mail delivery will be delayed until Monday since the post office will be closed Saturday. It is possible, however, that those subscribers who receive their paper in post office boxes will have their paper posted by late Friday evening.

July 4 weekend gets Friday start for some

The July 4 weekend will begin Friday for most government offices in both Gruver and Spearman with city and county offices closed all day Friday.

Post offices in both Hansford county cities will close at noon on Friday. Regular carrier delivery as well as box delivery will be completed Friday, however.

There will be no mail posted on Saturday, July 4, reports the two Hansford post offices.

In addition to the governmental offices closing, a number of retail establishments in both Gruver and Spearman will observe the Friday closings as well.

Most retail outlets will remain open, however, on Friday but will observe the Saturday holiday by closing.

USDA is out of money . . .

Farmers facing dilemma on crop

Hansford county farmers -- already beset by a less than hoped for wheat crop -- are now faced with another dilemma about what to do with the 1987 crop they are harvesting and the options open to them promise only a limited cash flow.

The dilemma is complicated by the grain market, the county loan rate established by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, an appropriations bill stalled in the U.S. congress and federal payments grain producers have applied for.

At present, the $2.15 per bushel market price appears attractive when compared to the $2.15 per bushel USDA-established loan rate for Hansford county.

Under the loan through the federal Commodity Credit Corporation, the farmer would net $1.95 per bushel after paying storage fees and other reductions.

But, that is where the problem begins, report commercial grain handlers in Hansford county.

The biggest problem seems to be in the disparity in the USDA loan rate between counties. The CCC loan rate in Potter county is $2.36 a bushel while in Sherman county the rate is $2.19.

While the disparities have been questioned, no good answers have been forthcoming from the state and Washington, D.C. offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The ASCS administers the federal commodity programs.

Most producers expected a rate some 12-13 cents higher. The 1986 rate was $2.28 per bushel which gave farmers a net of around $2.09.

The cash dilemma is developing with Hansford producers in the middle of the 1987 harvest. It's a dual problem of no money received on applications already made and no money appropriated for the current crop. In short, the USDA is out of money.

The funds, in the form of an emergency agriculture appropriations bill, are tied up in congress. And the farm payment bill is carrying a list of amendments -- from AIDS testing to nuclear arms control.

The stalemate now appears to be over the Arms Control amendment to the appropriations bill.

"I've been expecting to hear something any day now," reports Keith Martin of the Hansford county ASCS office. "We're hoping to get the bill through congress this week."

Meanwhile, payments due from the federal government are running 90 days behind to both elevators and grain producers alike from advances

Nominations needed from area

Entry deadline for nominations to the Farmers Home Administration county committee is slated for July 15, reports FmHA county supervisor, Larry J. Goetze of Perryton.

Eligible farmers in Hansford, Lipscomb and Ochiltree counties are invited to become nominees for the FmHA county committee. To date, no nominations have been made, Goetze notes.

As a result of the 1985 Farm Bill one of the members of the FmHA County

Federal grand jury indicts 9 in mail fraud

On June 24, a Federal Grand Jury in Fort Worth, TX, returned a 40-Count indictment charging nine defendants with mail fraud, wire fraud, aiding and abetting, and conspiracy, involving a distributorship franchise scheme, according to D.C. Strader, Postal Inspector in Charge, Fort Worth Division, Fort Worth, TX.

Strader said that the nine defendants were part of a scheme that defrauded investors beginning in March, 1985, and continuing through December, 1986. Approximately 700 investors throughout the United States answered ads in local newspapers and purchased distributorships ranging in prices from $7,900 to $9,900 each. Over one-half of the investors did not receive all of the merchandise for retail marketing as promised in the distributorship agreements.

The companies named in the indictment included - Raphael Cosmetics, Inc., 8150 Brook Drive, Dallas, TX 75247; Max, Inc., 7929 Brook River Drive; Movies, Inc., 7929 Brook River Drive.

The nine defendants indicted were Carl Ray Helms, Charles Vandervort, Paul Earl Briggs, Larry M. Stout, Shirley Harris, Dennis Harris, Fred Ellis, Carl Dunn, and Ron Perry.

Strader said that Assistant U.S. Attorney Jane Jackson is assigned to the case and has worked closely with Postal Inspectors in the Dallas office throughout this investigation.

Committee must be elected. The Hansford Lipscomb and Ochiltree County Committee assist the FmHA county office in determining the eligibility of applicants for certain types of FmHA loans.

Generally, farmers who are resident of the county but not FmHA borrowers are eligible to become nominees for the FmHA county committee.

"Farmers in this county, serving on the committee, play an important role by assisting in the process of loan applications and reviews," said Larry J. Goetze.

For this election, only one member will be elected at this time. All terms of service will be for three years each on a staggered basis.

Additional information and application forms for those who are interested in becoming nominees for the County Committee are available at the FmHA county office, 403 South Amherst, Perryton, Tx 79070 or by calling 806-435-6859.

Registration will be on August 10 at 10 a.m.

on federal commodity programs to those for participation in the Conservation Reserve Program.

Without the assurance of immediate cash through federal CCC loans, one alternative open is the cash market where wheat is selling for $2.15 bushel.

But, if the farmer sells, it puts him in a precarious situation. He could lose his deficiency payment or end up owing the federal government.

The deficiency is based on the difference between the national target price of $4.38 per bushel and a 5-month average national market price.

During the program signup, however, grain producers could apply for a 50 percent payment payment -- an estimate based on the difference between the USDA-established target and its own national loan rate.

That calculates out to a payment of $1.05 per bushel.

FARMERS

If the market goes up, the farmer has taken himself out of the market by selling. If the prices goes high enough and remains, the grain producer could owe the federal government money and have no means to pay it back.

With wheat under a CCC loan, the farmer could at least take it out of the loan and sell the grain to cover the payoff.

"The best thing right now for the farmer is to do nothing with his wheat," one commercial grain dealer notes. "But that won't pay his bills or make his loan payments."

In addition, they had to change out the rear end and the transmission to handle the new engine.

Despite the major changes, they were able to bring the weight of the vehicle from 2800 pounds gross to 2670.

While timing in the event was important, the car still ripped off from a dead stop to over 96 mph in the 1/4 mile run.

There were some 60 vehicles in the Super Chevy Sunday competition. And, in their first race, the Boyd's brought home fourth place and some $100 in prize monies.

"Yeah, laughs Roy, "I figure we spent about $150 at the races, so we did pretty good."

Racing is nothing new for Roy who participated in racing events off and on through 1973.

But, through urgings by his wife, he backed off the races after that time.

"I just didn't want my son growing up to be a hot rodder."

Martha says, "Racing at a track where they have all the safety precautions and regulations is one thing -- racing on a country road is altogether different."

Scott is a grown man now and had displayed his prowess at the wheel by placing in the national event.

Now all the Boyds have to do is to decide when to go again.

Society urges caution in fireworks

The Fourth of July celebration is a time for parades, picnics, baseball games and the grand finale -- the fireworks display. According to the National Society to Prevent Blindness - Texas Affiliate, fireworks are not always handled by professionals and many fireworks are readily available both legally and illegally. The result is an alarming number of injuries each year.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission estimated that 12,600 people were injured in fireworks-related accidents in 1986. Alarmingly, these injuries have increased 22 percent over the 1985 figures.

While some of the 1986 increase can be attributed to a dual celebration of the Fourth of July and the Centennial of the Statue of Liberty, it should be noted that fireworks injuries have been increasing steadily every year for the past decade.

"Of particular concern to the National Society to Prevent Blindness is that more than 15 percent of all fireworks injuries reported by Product Safety Commission involved the eye(s)," said Tod Turriff, Manager of Eye Safety programs for the Society.

In 1985, the American Academy of Ophthalmology, an organization of eye care physicians, established a national reporting system to collect fireworks eye injuries. Of the 659 cases reported, more than 40 percent caused permanent eye damage, and almost 25 percent of the injured (mostly youngsters) either had their eye destroyed or lost some sight.

Another cause for concern is that despite the increasing number of injuries, many states are relaxing their laws regulating the sale of Class C or ordinary fireworks. Class C fireworks include the following:

Fountains, California candles, spike and handle cylindrical fountains, Roman candles, rockets with sticks, whistles with report, toy smoke devices and flitter devices, helicopter-type rockets, party poppers, missile-type rockets and fireworks with no more than 50 mg powder.

The National Society to Prevent Blindness - Texas Affiliate warns against the use of fireworks. Unfortunately, the range of state laws and illicit market make fireworks available.

Almost as many injuries occur in states with firework laws as without.

Brooks attends Charolais 1987 conference

Spearman's Chris Brooks was one of 135 youth and adults from across the United States and Canada to attend the American - International Junior Charolais Association 1987 National Leadership Conference at the Oklahoma State University in Stillwater June 15-19.

Junior members tried their hands at judging contests, formulating rations, learning how a cow's stomach works and a fitting contest.

In addition to the educational seminars, there were field trips to dairy farms and other agricultural businesses and a variety of social events during the 5-day conference.

Public speaking contests, including both prepared and impromptu, were a featured item during the conference.

has stalled the commodity credit corporation's funding, leaving the farmer high and dry while they play politics.

There's something rewarding about being a farmer, tilling the soil and seeing your efforts grow before your eyes.

But the reasons for being a farmer are becoming more esoteric each year. And the reward at the market place is getting thinner.

This I know . . . it's easier to write about it than live it.

For what it's worth, gentlemen, the reward is still there. You have to work harder and longer to settle for less, but it's still there.

And, believe it or not, your community, your friends appreciate your seemingly thankless tasks. You've helped to make Hansford county one of the strongest agricultural counties in Texas.

That's no small feat.

Spearman girl gains post in Girls State camp

Paige Pittman was elected fire chief of city B during a 10-day stint at the Girls State camp held June 16-26 as a part of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State.

Miss Pittman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Mathews of Spearman. She will be a senior this next year at Spearman high school.

Girls State was organized as a national Americanism activity in 1937 by the American Legion Auxiliary. The purpose of this non-political program are to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age, to afford them an opportunity to live together as a self-governing group and to inform them of the duties, privileges, rights, and responsibilities which they will assume when they become adults.

They learn the problems of government by simulating the duties of city, county, and state officials. Each year citizens are selected at local levels from students who have just completed their junior year in high school.

The selection is based principally on leadership, citizenship, character, and scholarship.

The 1987 session of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State has grown from an experimental conference of 94 girls, held at Baylor University in 1941, to become the largest single extracurricular educational program for high school girls in Texas.

This year 580 girls were in attendance making a total of more than 18,500 girls in Texas who have participated in this top-level citizenship program.

During the 10-day session the citizens heard talks from several prominent persons. Among them were two former citizens of Bluebonnet Girls State: Ann Richards, state treasurer, and Carole Keeton Rylander, former mayor of Austin, and former member of the Texas State Board of Insurance Commissioners.

Mrs. Marie Gregory, president, American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Texas; Mrs. Betty Jean Jones, mayor of Seguin; and Commander John W.J. Richter, American Legion, Department of Texas, spoke to the citizens during opening ceremonies on June 17.

Supreme Court Justice Robert M. Campbell administered the oath of office to the elected state officials of Bluebonnet Girls State Monday, June 22, in the rotunda of the state capitol.

Secretary of State Jack Rains represented Wm. P. Clements, Governor of Texas, and addressed the citizens during the inauguration of the Bluebonnet Girls State officials.

Behind the arch on the platform was a gold arch candelabra and two spiral candelabras. The pews were marked with candelabras tied with greenery, mauve silk flowers, baby's breath and mauve and slate blue bows.

The unity candle and mothers candles were to the right of the couple on a round table covered with an ivory moire taffeta cloth and mauve votive candles around the edge. The family Bible was on the left on a potem covered with an ivory crocheted scarf and a cascade of flowers and ivy on the front corner.

Jonathan and Shannon Nuckles, cousins of the bride, from Saratoga, Texas, served as candlelighters. Shannon wore a mauve jacquard satin dress and wrist corsage, Jonathan wore a black tuxedo with a mauve bow tie and cummerbund. Samuel and Judy Nuckles sang, "Bind Us Together" as the couple lit the unity candle and signed the Bible. Lesa Deakin sang, "Household of Faith" and "We Are One." A slate blue basket of silk blue rose buds and mauve baby's breath adorned the table along with the wedding book and white plume pen. The pen was borrowed from Judy Nuckles.

The bride's mother wore a antique blue street length dress with a lacy collar. The groom's mother wore a French blue street length dress with a corsage of white pixie carnations and mauve roses. Each mother was presented a mauve long stemmed rose by the bride.

At the reception following the ceremony, hostesses were, Lucy Jo Scott, Sharon Maples, Treva Sprabary, Debbie Salvey, Tony Witt and Karen Cook. The bride's table was covered with a floor length lace cloth with a slate blue undercloth and silver accessories were used. The three tiered wedding cake was atop a fountain of flowing blue water, with stairs connecting to the lower tiers of cakes, with brides maids and groomsmen on the stairs. The Bride and Groom cake top was Trenda's parents cake top at their wedding. The Grooms table held a silver coffee service and a chocolate cake in the shape of a Bobble with their initials on top.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN -- Impeachment remarks flew like bullets in an old-fashioned "cowboy shootout" and partisan politics filled Capitol halls when lawmakers reconvened last week.

The heat on Gov. Bill Clements has never been hotter as some lawmakers scorched him for his role in the ponygate scandal, as depicted in the freshly released Methodist bishops' report.

Two House members, Paul Moreno, D-El Paso, Al Edwards, D-Houston, filed a resolution to begin an inquiry geared to Clements' removal. Lena Guerrero, D-Austin, and Debra Damburg, D-Houston, were also vocal for in starting the probe now.

Attorney Gen. Jim Mattox said his office is investigating whether Clements broke any state laws during Ponygate or committed other impeachable acts.

By the end of the week, cooler heads urged members to work instead on the task they couldn't finish in regular session, the forging of a new state budget in the face of dwindling revenues.

Hobby Sets Pace

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby quickly established the pace of the special session by zipping his previous budget plan through the Senate in a quick two days.

His opening gambit was to retake his position held when the curtain rang down a month ago. (Clements responded in kind, promising to veto Hobby's budget because it needs new taxes.)

And it was Hobby who effectively signaled House liberals to lay off the impeachment calls for awhile.

"His administration has been unfortunate for the state, as there have been other unfortunate administrations, but I see no grounds for impeachment," Hobby said.

Make no mistake about it. The opposition is intense between the Hobby and Clements political camps, and may diminish only with the political demise of one or the other.

Here It Comes!

So stuck in the middle again with the burden of forging a budget compromise is Speaker Gib Lewis and the House.

Their package doesn't spend as much as Hobby's, but opposes Clements because it will necessitate almost a penny increase in the state sales tax.

Thus, the House leadership prepares to make the end-game run voters have anticipating for months: pass a tax bill in the face of Bill Clements and then override his veto.

Even veterans will learn new tricks in the coming political hardball which will change the course of this state forever.

Clean House Movement?

Speaking of change, some say that wholesale changes will occur almost immediately out of this special session. A larger-than-usual number of lawmakers in both parties, because of the forced vote on new taxes, will opt to retire or be defeated in the '88 elections.

Other Capital-watchers are beginning to speak quietly of the possibility of a "clean house" movement by the voters.

The political squabbling, the budget failures, and the charges of improper conduct on the part of several officials have some observers wondering how long voters can stomach it all.

No matter the outcome of this special session, lots of people are going to go home mad.

Partisan Survival

But partisan survival instincts probably won't let Texas walk gracefully into the next decade.

This Legislature is already controversial for many reasons. Judgment Day lies ahead.

The '88 presidential election, particularly if a Texan is a candidate, will attract many Texans to the polls to approve or disapprove the acts of these legislators.

In '90, political parties will want to tilt the Legislature in their favor as they begin to redraw boundaries. That, too, will pull all the stops out of the election.

Texas First

Recent elections here have forged a rather strong block of independent voters, folks who split their ticket in the voting booth.

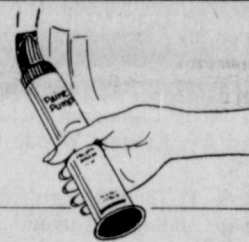

Lawmakers may do well to try to view the Legislature through their eyes.

We have calls for impeachment of the governor and supreme court justices. We have shrill warnings of hot state checks and loss of credit ratings. We have leadership practicing brinksmanship.

We don't have enough money. We have no budget. We have one month left. We have the eyes of the nation on us.

The average Texan can identify with it. He or she just wants Texas to rise above it.

SS recipients need to check 1987 earnings

People in the Panhandle area who receive Social Security checks and who also work should take time to check their earnings.

Those who earlier estimated that in 1987 earnings would not exceed the annual limit should check to make sure they have not earned more than they anticipated. The 1987 annual limit is $8,160 for people 65 through 69 and $6,000 for people under 65 all of 1987.

If a person's annual earnings exceed the limit, $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings above the limit. A person will have to repay all benefits that were incorrectly paid.

If a person finds that he or she is earning more or less than expected, he or she should notify Social Security right away so that benefits can be adjusted and an overpayment avoided.

If a person's earnings are less than expected, benefits may be restarted if they have been stopped.

More information about the annual earnings test can be obtained at the Pampa Social Security Office, located at 125 S. Gillespie. The telephone number is 669-1018.

OIL & GAS REPORT

UNITED STATES RIG COUNT
1967 VS 1968 & 1985

U.S. Rig count for the week June 22, count 800 change from previous week down 14.

Comments

After scraping the bottom of the barrel for 18 months, the U.S. oil industry is beginning to see signs of life. The number of active drilling rigs in operation has reached 800, and the Petroleum Information Corporation, a Denver consulting firm, estimates that the weekly rig count will average 950 to 1,050 for the whole of 1987. That would mean about 38,000 new wells drilled this year, compared with 35,000 last year.

Meanwhile, OPEC oil ministers are gathering for their first meeting this year and are generally agreeing to stick with the cartel's current $18-a-barrel price for crude oil.

Manei Saeed Al-Otaiba, the oil minister of the United Arab Emirates, told The Wall Street Journal in a recent interview, "You don't want to see the price go up because this will harm the oil demand recovery."

Among the Neighbors

By Helen Fisher

Mr. and Mrs. John Scott and family returned Saturday from a two weeks vacation in Los Angeles with her sister. A new experience for Mrs. Scott and the children was their first train ride.

The Scotts drove to Denver where they boarded the Amtrak train for Los Angeles and enjoyed every minute of it.

Another milestone was the first birthday of son Tyler Mark which occurred on Saturday, also he celebrated with a party on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Osborne of Amarillo visited in the home of Maxine Banister one day last week. Mrs. Banister and Mrs. Osborne are step-sisters. Joining them in the afternoon was another old friend formerly of Amarillo, Mrs. Opal Schaeffer.

Sandi Moore, 16-year old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blant McGee, caught a plane Monday to return to her home in Cincinnati.

She had been here a week and during the week they went to Hollis, Ok. so she could visit her other grandmother and also help her great grandmother celebrate her 88th birthday.

Once a year for 54 years, a group of six ex-school girls and former roommates have met for a re-union. This year they were re-united at Liberal, Kan. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mindenhall.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kyle, of Beaver; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Blair, Gray; Mr. and Mrs. Owen Pendergraft, Spearman; Lura Adams, Hooker; Vera Grey, Ulysses, Kan. and Lillian Ottaway of Tyrone, a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Pendergraft spent the rest of the week-end at Tyrone with Mrs. Ottaway and her daughter, Mrs. Gray.

Guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jackson for about two weeks have been their daughter and family, Ann and Dave Burch, with Janna and Nicole.
