Speeches Are Postponed In Deference To Kennedy

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona say they plan no political speeches for a month in deference to the late President John F. Kennedy.

Rockefeller, who has declared himself a candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, said Monday he will not make any political speeches during the 30-day period of mourning which he has decreed for New York State.

Goldwater, who leads polls as a potential GOP presidential nominee but has yet to declare himself in the running, told a reporter he has canceled three television appearances and will make no more political speeches this year.

Since the assassination of Kennedy "there is an absence of anything political to talk about," Goldwater said.

Rockefeller said in a statement that during the 30-day mourning period "I shall not participate personally in any public activity in connection with the Republican presidential nomination, nor in any other public activities with the exception of those falling within my official duties as governor of New York State."

Goldwater said that so far as he is concerned, the tragic sequence of events has removed the Kennedy administration as an issue.

Jack Ruby Trial Set

DALLAS (AP)—Dist. Atty. Henry Wade today said Jack Ruby was indicted today for murder in the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy.

The trial is scheduled for Dec. 9 in State Dist. Judge Joe E. Brown's court. Such trials often are postponed, however.

The grand jury which indicted Ruby was that of Brown's court.

The indictment was for murder with malice, for which the maximum penalty is death.

Ruby, 32, owner of a strip-tease night club and dance hall, shot Oswald to death Sunday as the man accused of killing President Kennedy was being transported between jails.

The shooting was viewed by newsmen, officers and a nationwide television audience.

Oswald, 24, who spent considerable time in Russia, died some time after the shooting.

President's Address Will Be Televised

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson's address to a joint session of Congress Wednesday will be carried live on all television and radio networks.

The program begins at 12:30 p.m. on the National Broadcasting Co., Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co. The Mutual Broadcasting System will carry the message on radio only.

"We want to see what President Johnson will do," he said. "We do not know what course he will take, whether he will change some of them."

"We want to give him all of our support," he said.

Arbitrators Rule On Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal arbitrators ruled today that 90 per cent of firemen's jobs on diesel yard engines and freight trains should be eliminated.

The seven-member arbitration board in the long dispute over railroad work rules was set up under a law enacted by Congress in August which provided that its findings would be binding on both parties.

However, a spokesman for two of the five railroad unions said the arbitration award and the law under which it was made would be attacked in federal court.

Soviets Dreading Hardened Attitude

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Moscow propaganda in the wake of President Kennedy's assassination seems to reflect a feeling of dread.

In the Kremlin's reaction there is detectable a fear that the American public will turn its wrath upon communism, as such, because a man labeled a pro-Castro Marxist was accused of killing the President.

Premier Khrushchev and his supporters, beset by enormous economic problems, and a deep split in the world Communist camp may be apprehensive that Soviet foreign policy could collapse before a hardened U.S. attitude.

The propaganda is full of veiled warnings. The government newspaper, Ivestia, which can be considered a voice of Khrushchev himself, said "President Kennedy's death has undoubtedly aggravated the situation in the United States."

"The struggle between sober-minded Americans and the forces of rabid reactionaries who will not miss the chance of using the situation for their own ends, will be very tense." "Ivestia's" editorial said Monday.

Khrushchev's policy is pegged to peaceful coexistence, as he calls it. This implies that since war is unthinkable, the two greatest powers must agree on dangerous issues. As practiced, coexistence has involved probing, testing, edging close to danger — as in Cuba and Berlin — and retreating when there is risk of a collision which could trigger war.

Kennedy confronted Khrushchev with show of strength in Berlin and in Cuba. But the Kremlin knew Kennedy and respected him as an antagonist.

and all of the help he needs. It would not be fair for the opposing party to heckle him while he is getting organized in his new job. Let's give him a couple of months to see what he can do."

Chairman William E. Miller postponed a Dec. 11-14 meeting of the National Republican Committee and said "total suspension of partisan political activity is called for" during the period of mourning.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., wrote Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., Monday suggesting that the conference of all GOP senators pledge political silence for the remainder of the year.

Saltonstall, who heads the conference, is expected to react favorably. Scott is a former Republican national chairman. Scott said he thought the Republicans could be of service to Johnson "by sparing the President the need to divert his attention from matters of national security as might be occasioned by political addresses around the country during the remainder of this calendar year."

Court Asks Bids On Barn Addition

The Scurry County commissioners court this morning voted to advertise for bids on a 94 by 200 foot addition to the county show barn in Towle Park.

The addition will be an extension to the existing building, and will be constructed of galvanized steel, the same as the present building. Bids will be received in a special meeting on Thursday, Dec. 12.

The special meeting was called in order to give the successful bidder as much time as possible to finish the construction before the scheduled stock show this spring.

The court also voted this morning to set the Christmas holidays. The courthouse will be closed on Dec. 24 and 25.

Connally Recovery Said 'As Expected'

DALLAS (AP)—Gov. John Connally was described today as having spent a restful night and being in good spirits.

His doctors at Parkland Hospital said his recovery is "proceeding as we would expect it to."

Connally underwent surgery after being wounded in the chest, hand and leg by the assassin that killed President John F. Kennedy last Friday.

Market In Strong Rally At Opening

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market launched a strong rally today upon reopening after being closed for the funeral of President Kennedy.

Trading was heavy and the New York Stock Exchange ticker tape lagged behind floor transactions.

Brokers reported a tremendous accumulation of orders to buy stocks.

The surge to buy was in sharp contrast to the panicky selling that followed word of Kennedy's assassination Friday afternoon.

At that time prices plunged and exchanges were closed early.

Opening of trading in many key issues was delayed until buy and sell orders could be matched.

Chrysler advanced $3.25 to $82. Other gains included General Telephone $1.25 to $29, Standard Oil (New Jersey) $1.62 to $69 and Texaco $2.25 to $65.25.

A New York Stock Exchange spokesman said the trading floor was more crowded than usual. He estimated 2,300 persons were on the floor, compared with the normal 2,000.

Goodfellows Appoint Chairmen

Several appointments of key committee chairmen were made Monday night at a meeting of the Goodfellows.

Jim Erwin, president of the Goodfellows, said that the food committee chairman would be Bobby Easterling. He will have the assistance of Roy McCloskey.

The Beta Sigma Phi Sorority has accepted the responsibility of clothing committee.

Mrs. J. Nelson Dunn, along with the Twentieth Century Club members, will handle applications for Goodfellow assistance.

Fire Near Big Spring

BIG SPRING (AP)—An oil well fire burned out of control near here today.

The well was being drilled by a seven-man crew of Forest Blacklock of Midland, Tex., on the farm of J. E. Brown, 15 miles northwest of here. No one was injured.

The well had been drilled to 9,000 feet in 1952 and the crew was making a re-entry when it hit oil at 9,065 feet.

Firemen said the slush pit caught fire early today. A 30-in. line leading to the well broke. There was an explosion and flames leaped 50 feet into the air as the fire spread to the well.

The drilling rig collapsed.

WASHINGTON (AP)—London B. Johnson moved full-time into the presidency today and signaled the shift by transferring operations to the oval office of chief executives in the White House.

He was early on the job, driving into the executive mansion grounds at 8:45 a.m., just 11 hours after the close of a long day given in large part to last honors for his slain predecessor, John F. Kennedy, and to somewhat ceremonial contracts with world leaders who came to mourn.

On tap for the first day in the new office were meetings with foreign dignitaries and preparation of an address Wednesday to a joint session of Congress.

Johnson, in his first speech since becoming chief executive, made his Monday night bid to his belief that the Kennedy assassination puts the American system to a severe test and must prompt renewed efforts to prove that the system, despite one sniper's act, is superior to any other.

Beyond that, Johnson pledged "continuity without confusion"—a continuation of Kennedy administration programs and policy aims without any immediate shakeup of top officials that might puzzle and perturb the nation and the world.

Johnson's assessment of the needs of the day was delivered to the 35 state governors who met with him long after sunset.

This was not his final meeting of the busy day. His schedule was topped off by a late evening session with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and the Council of Economic Advisers. This meeting took up the tax cut proposal and the broad outlines of the federal budget that will go to Congress in January.

Johnson headed for his home in the Spring Valley section of the city at 10:45 p.m., giving every sign that, even before moving into the White House, he was operating under a full head of steam.

For today, Johnson lined up conferences with some of the many foreign dignitaries who flew to Washington for the Kennedy funeral.

Johnson arranged to visit with the new British prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home; with the president of the Philippines, Diosdado Macapagal, and with the new West German chancellor, Ludwig Erhard.

The President saw all three—and many more—at a reception Monday night at the State Department, before he met with the governors.

In addition to greeting all foreign delegates to the Kennedy funeral, Johnson spent 18 minutes privately with President Charles de Gaulle of France, eight minutes with Prime Minister Lester Pearson of Canada and 12 minutes with Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda of Japan.

Johnson told the governors that at his meeting with De Gaulle, "we did not finish" the conversation "so we have another meeting set up for early in the year when he comes back to this country."

In this offhand way Johnson announced for the first time that De Gaulle, who has been taking sharp issue with the United States for nearly a year, would make the American visit he had planned before Kennedy's death.

US-French Thaw Seen

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—A thaw in the chilly U.S.-French relations appears possible following the announcement that Presidents Johnson and Charles de Gaulle will meet here early next year.

The surprise announcement came from President Johnson after he had spent 18 minutes in private conference with the French president at a reception late Monday for foreign dignitaries who attended President John F. Kennedy's funeral.

Johnson, obviously plunging into the monumental tasks before him with rapidity, came from the conference room and said, "We have decided he would come back and talk more early next year." To give it further emphasis he told newsmen: "Sure, you can quote me."

De Gaulle originally had planned to meet with Kennedy, probably in February, and arrangements had been completed. It appeared the two men would meet in the near future to discuss the need for early talks to clear up standing differences between the two long-time allies.

The tall French president was given the center of attention at the reception, as he has been since he arrived Sunday for the funeral. He was in relaxed, chatty form.

Announcement of the meeting came amid general speculation on how Johnson and De Gaulle will get along.

The answer would appear to be that they will get along well personally, but any changes in policy would have to come from the American side.

De Gaulle, who regards world affairs in the broad, historic sense, is a stubborn man with fixed ideas, devoted to France. He is not malleable, as he frequently illustrated in his differences with Kennedy.

Problems confronting Kennedy's successor and the French chief of state are manifold. Some of the most important are De Gaulle's go-it-alone atomic defense policy, his uncooperative attitude toward the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, his chilly attitude toward the limited nuclear test ban treaty and his lofty position on the Common Market.

another 1,000 stood in silent homage as yet to mark his passing, a hero cop rests today on a gentle hilltop near the southern limits of Dallas. He was J. D. Tippett, a decent, dutiful police officer, betrayed by a tragic moment of American history.

As he turned away Monday from Tippett's grave, police chief Jesse Curry recalled: "He was an ideal officer. He was a man of very fine morals. He was a very quiet and friendly man, and all our officers had the highest respect for him."

Tippett, like all cops, never liked to be a hero. He went home for lunch Friday to his modest three-bedroom house and decided he couldn't stay long. Said his widow, Marie: "He said he might be needed, since most of the officers were downtown for the president's motorcade."

So Tippett returned to duty, and within a short time was felled by three bullets from the gun of Lee Harvey Oswald.

Thus he became a minor figure in an awesome chain of circumstance. For Oswald, to the best knowledge of authorities, was the assassin of President John F. Kennedy. And on Sunday, Oswald himself was gunned down by a Dallas night club operator during a jail transfer.

Tippett is credited by superiors with having checked Oswald in flight long enough to ensure his capture.

Monday all three men went to their respective graves — Kennedy in Washington with the Panoply and solemn dignity befitting a world leader, Oswald furiously in Fort Worth, Tippett humbly but beloved.

Tippett's funeral began in mid-afternoon, about the time President Kennedy's was reaching an impressive climax.

Four hundred persons were admitted to the small, red brick Beckley Hills Baptist church, outside in warm November sun, to stand with him in his life.

Several police departments from over the state have started voluntary funds for Tippett's family. Chief Simons said this morning that anyone wishing to help the family could make their donation here at the police station or through any officer.

Governor John Connally has also said that he hoped his friends would donate to the Tippett fund rather than send flowers to him during his recovery from wounds received in the attempt upon his life.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I met a widower 14 months ago, and he seemed sincere when he told me he would marry me as soon as he had unweiled his wife's monument. The unveiling took place last July, and now his excuse is that he doesn't think he should marry until his daughter is married. (She is 20 and as yet isn't even going with anybody). He has also said in a kidding way that maybe I am too old for him (I am 59). He doesn't take out anyone but me, and is very good to me. He's bought me some nice gifts and his family

Mexico Also Mourns For Kennedy

MEXICO CITY (AP) — You didn't lose him alone. All humanity lost him. That's the way one Mexico City newspaper mourned the death of President Kennedy. "To the end, the world with Kennedy," another newspaper said. Gathering in the churches of this predominantly Roman Catholic country were thousands of solemn worshippers. Crowds watched on television the slain President's funeral in Washington. The bizarre series of events surrounding the President's assassination provided rumors of new deaths and assassination attempts. Telephone callers asked news agencies, newspapers and radio stations frantically if it were true that an attempt had been made on President Johnson's life, that President Kennedy's father had died, or that Jack Ruby, the slayer of President Kennedy's accused assassin, had committed suicide in his jail cell in Dallas. Some radio stations broadcast the rumors as if they were news accounts, spreading unrest. One newspaper published a cartoon showing a Mexican who said: "After what has happened lately in Texas, we feel almost satisfied that it doesn't belong to us any longer."

Says Cuba Refused To Accept Oswald

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban government said Monday night that Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy, tried Sept. 27 to get a visa to go through Cuba on the way to the Soviet Union. Oswald's request was turned down, the Cuban government said in a statement broadcast by Havana radio and monitored in Miami. Foreign Minister Raul Roa said the request was not granted because Oswald did not have authorization from the Soviet Union.

Jacqueline Kennedy Faces Quest For A Way Of Life

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The day for Jacqueline Kennedy had been a long and crushing one. But shortly before midnight she slipped out of the White House and rode through the darkness to place a sprig of flowers on her husband's new grave. An eternal flame placed at the head of the assassinated president's grave at her request—flickered on the silent hills. Her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, was at her side. Only hours earlier, world dignitaries had crowded the area during graveside rites for the fallen leader. At night, the two stood alone. After 10 minutes they went back to the executive mansion. Some Mrs. Kennedy's plans for the future may be known today, according to White House press secretary Pierre Salinger. She must seek a new way of life for herself and her two children. Among the foremost questions are how long will she remain at the White House, where will she make her new home and what will become of the White House school she set up for daughter Caroline and some 20 other children. Mrs. Kennedy, a widow at 34, never sought nor relished the public role she came to play as the wife of John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

When Buick builds a LeSabre - Buick builds a high-priced car, and puts a low price on it.

Lots of cars are in LeSabre's price class, but that's where the resemblance ends. For instance: Does anybody else in LeSabre's class treat you to that gentle Buick ride or impressive Buick performance and new gas economy? No. And who else gives you 15-inch wheels, fitted aluminum front brakes, extra cushioning for middle-seat travelers, and separate heat ducts and controls for the rear seat? Right again: Nobody in LeSabre's field but LeSabre. If all this makes you think a LeSabre would look awfully nice in your garage, you should see how nicely it fits a budget. You know who to see about it, of course: your Buick dealer. Who else? Above all, it's a Buick.

Snyder Men On Legion Committees

Two Snyder men have been named to national committees of the American Legion, according to an announcement by John E. McKelvey, commander of the Texas Department of the American Legion. Frank D. Stephenson has been appointed a member of the Legion's National Counter-Subversive Activities Committee, and Renal B. Rosson has been appointed to the National Distinguished Guests Committee. The appointments were made by National Commander Daniel F. Foley of Wabasha, Minn., and were confirmed by the National Executive Committee of the Veterans organization at its recent meeting in Indianapolis. The national committees and committees of the American Legion are responsible for studying Legion programs and activities in their special fields and for recommending new changed policies. Under the commission plan of volunteer activity, the American Legion has become the largest organization of veterans the country has ever known, Commander McKelvey said.

National Holiday Thursday

Thanksgiving Day exactly a century ago was a very special holiday indeed. Its unusual quality was not apparent at first glance, however. Families gathered, just as we do today, to feast on plump turkeys garnished by platters of vegetables and cranberries, mince pies and other goodies.

True, Thanksgiving has been observed many times by Americans in the years since the Pilgrims' Thanksgiving of 1621, but its celebration had been haphazard. Even to Plymouth Colony, as in succeeding American colonies, Thanksgiving was held irregularly and at varying times of year, sometimes falling in July.

George Washington proclaimed a national day of Thanksgiving in 1789, the year of his first inauguration. He issued a proclamation, calling upon the people to thank God for a constitutional form of government. A national observance of the day was again celebrated in 1815 by proclamation of President Madison. Otherwise, Thanksgiving was left to the discretion of state governors — with the obvious result.

A permanent, yearly Thanksgiving Day was one of the fondest dreams of one tiny, persistent New Hampshire lady. That woman was Sarah Josepha Hale who saw Thanksgiving Day as the great home festival. Born in 1788, Mrs. Hale had been widowed at the age of thirty-four with five small children to support. She soon developed into a prolific writer and later became the first editor of the first ladies' magazine, Godey's Lady's Book, pace-setter for the 19th century woman.

Mrs. Hale's campaign for a national Thanksgiving was one of the few issues on which all states seemed to be in harmony. Indeed, it was because of this that President Abraham Lincoln finally capitulated to her demands. In a country torn with war, he hoped that the holiday might help to unite the nation once more. In 1863, he proclaimed the last Thursday in November as a day of national Thanksgiving.

Let Children Help At Thanksgiving

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

YOUNG CHILDREN deserve a chance to "help" at holiday time. Letting them do so is worthwhile because this way they feel they are an important and happy part of the family.

Here are some suggestions for chores they'll enjoy and that may save busy mothers some time.

- CELERY STUFFING: Prepare one package herb-seasoned stuffing according to directions and add 1/2 cup dried celery.
- MUSHROOM STUFFING: Prepare one package herb-seasoned stuffing according to directions and add 1 cup drained, sliced, cooked or canned mushrooms.
- CRANBERRY STUFFING: Prepare one package herb-seasoned stuffing according to directions and add 1 cup chopped raw cranberries.
- OYSTER STUFFING: Prepare one package herb-seasoned stuffing according to directions and add 1/2 pint (1 cup) drained, chopped, fresh or frozen oysters.
- GIBLET STUFFING: Simmer turkey giblets with a celery stalk, an onion and a sprig of parsley for about 4 hours, or till tender. Drain and chop giblets. Prepare one package herb-seasoned stuffing according to directions and add chopped giblets.

Grinding dry bread crumbs in a food chopper for turkey stuffing.

Crumbling corn bread for turkey stuffing. Clean hands needed here, as in all other kitchen chores.

Garnishing. Young visitors at our house adore using tiny canape cutters, cutting out miniature leaves from canned pimiento to garnish the crackers they spread with cheese.

Grinding out seeds from pumpkin or squash. A paddle-type wooden spoon plus fingers help along this work.

Making a centerpiece for the holiday table. Fruit or vegetables are easier than flowers for small boys and girls to handle.

As an extra-special, you can show your youngsters how to make cornucopias from aluminum foil. They'll enjoy filling these with raisins and nuts for flavors. Or the cornucopias may be filled with seasoned mashed sweet potatoes and oven-heated as a garnish for the holiday bird.

FOIL CORNUCOPIAS — Tear off 2 sheets of super-strength aluminum foil (12 inch roll) so that they are 1 1/2 times (about 9 inches) the length of a small fruit juice glass (about 6 inches). Place 1 sheet of foil on top of the other. Placing rim of glass along the long edge of foil, roll the double piece of foil around the glass. Gently crush the portion of foil that extends beyond the bottom of the glass so as to form the tapered end of the cone into a small ball. Remove glass and place fingers inside cone to mold into cornucopia shape. At the opening, crush and bend in edges until one side is shorter than the other, forming the traditional wide slanted mouth of the cornucopia.

An Eternal Flame Burns At Grave

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Staff Writer
ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—The 53rd president of the United States had joined a parliament of silent men.

By 5:06 p.m. the cannon had ended their soliloquy to dusk, and night came quickly.

At graveside, when it was to be finished, and when it was done the headlights of cars pointed the way through the winding cemetery roads.

There were still guards, of course. And down below along the rim of the cemetery, the curious and sympathetic passers-by searched the darkness for the small glint of the eternal flame that burns at Kennedy's graveside.

Seven minutes before midnight, the President's widow returned to the cemetery. By the light of the flickering flame, she placed a sprig of flowers on his newly covered grave.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — There are some pretty tragic feelings around town these days after the prediction by some Washington sports that the dollar will be devaluated.

Personally, I had never given it a thought. Any time I can find a dollar I simply go to the nearest bank and trade it for as many pesos as the bankers are willing to part with.

The crisis, however, seems to have occurred because Washington owes itself something over 300 billion dollars. Devaluating the dollar will simply raise this alleged debt and create havoc in other nations.

The dollar has become a standard of measure like a quart of whiskey or gin. And certainly, no one would dream of devaluating the quart to a pint and one sixth and still call it a quart.

What then is to become of the dollar?

It just happens that I pilfered a copy of the local Financial Bulletin to see if there isn't a more feasible remedy than devaluation. The Bulletin has (in Spanish) all sorts of rules and regulations about money and what it is worth, based on the dollar.

(Actually, the dollar is not worth a dollar and hasn't been for generations. A tourist lady who teaches algebra in Idaho says it is worth only 28 cents plus a free ride on a carnival ferris wheel.)

And up in the top right corner of the Financial Bulletin there is a chart which says the dollar is purchased at 12.49 pesos and sold at 12.49-13.25 pesos. Frankly, I find this hard to believe.

How would they manage to work out the amount of a sale of a sock full of dollars? Did you ever see an adding machine with a "1-32" key on it?

Then you have the British Pound which is bought at 34.9380 and sold at 34.9560 but it doesn't say WHAT nor explain all the decimals) so someone's engine is making money.

If the good old dollar is sliced to, say, 89.2 cents (current alleged value) and still called a dollar, can you imagine what would happen? The bank gentlemen here, with help from some engineers and a couple of weight lifters, would be faced with multiplying (or perhaps dividing) 12.49-13.25 by 89.2 and then adding a cup of sugar and two well beaten eggs.

Go into a gift shop here to ask the price of silver platter and the lady would say, "Two hundred and thirty one pesos."

And, typically, you would ask, "How much is that in dollars?"

If the lady is at all intelligent, she would reply, "An electronic brain would explode trying to figure that one. However, I can quote you the price in Belgian or Swiss Francs."

But since the dollar figure cannot be quoted, a small U.S. flag is placed in your lapel and you walk out in a chauvinistic hull, tried, naturally, because you didn't get the silver tray you wanted to appease your wife.

And the sales lady sulking because she failed to complete her transaction.

Frankly, it would be stinking for the tourist and good neighbor business. Nobody would know just what he had in his pocket except a few keys and possibly a bottle opener. A gentleman in the panhandling industry might well stop you on the street to ask you for a coin with which to buy the afternoon paper.

Of course, you would give him one.

Then, he would say, "Well, thanks, chief. How much is this anyhow?"

You shrug and reply, "I should know? Go see what they will give you for it."

Probably all he could get would be a sneer.

Representatives of 104 nations attended the recent World Food Congress in Washington. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman served as chairman.

FBI To Prepare Detailed Report

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has ordered the FBI to prepare a detailed report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and that the people be told all the facts.

The report is to cover, too, the fatal shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused slayer of the late president, the White House announced Monday.

Johnson has "directed all federal agencies to cooperate," the White House said.

The announcement came after Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, the assistant House Democratic leader, suggested a high-level congressional investigation of Kennedy's assassination.

Citing the fact that the killing of Oswald, 24, obscured the normal public disclosure and weighing of evidence in a trial, Boggs said he thinks Congress should conduct a careful inquiry to determine the facts, assemble them for public consideration and try to answer any questions that may linger in Americans' minds.

Authorities in Dallas, where a sniper's rifle bullets ended Kennedy's life Friday, say the case is closed—so far as the question of Oswald's guilt or innocence is concerned.

Perhaps feeling that there is still some uneasiness in the public mind, Dallas Police Chief Jesse Curry said his department intends to make all the evidence public unless federal agencies want some withheld.

A further problem is the persistent campaign by some Soviet propaganda agencies to depict the killing of Oswald, who had steadily protested his innocence, as part of a right-wing plot that took the president's life.

Boggs said he favors a "blue-ribbon inquiry, far above any suggestion of partisanship."

Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, said he will introduce legislation making any assault on the president, vice president or other high executive or judicial officers a federal crime. Such a statute would guarantee quick FBI action in any such case, Ayres said.

The killing of the President was considered likely to revive interest in a bill now pending in the Senate Commerce Committee to regulate the sale of firearms by mail.

The FBI has said the rifle with which the President was shot was bought by mail.

The pending bill, by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., would require persons buying firearms by mail to certify they were not under 18, had not been convicted of a felony and that the purchase would not violate local law.

Renames Auditorium To Honor Kennedy

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — The city of Santa Monica, proud of its occasional association with John F. Kennedy, is renaming its civic auditorium in his honor.

Mayor Rex Minter said Monday that at a name-changing ceremony in about two weeks. The building will be known as the John F. Kennedy Memorial Auditorium.

During his public life, President Kennedy often visited the Santa Monica beachfront home of his sister, Mrs. Peter Law-

School Has New Ruling On Discipline

HOUSTON (AP)—The suburban Spring Branch School Board has authorized school principals to discipline students for off-campus misconduct.

Supt. H. M. Landrum said that under the new policy students may be disciplined for "any actions which reflect on the school"—even if such acts occur during non-school hours in the students' own homes.

"As citizens in school and in society, the students have a responsibility," Dr. Landrum said. "When they do something to bring shame and disgrace to their student body, they can no longer be considered members of that student body and must be dealt with accordingly—whether the incident happens in Houston or in Galveston."

Dr. Landrum said the new policy was not prompted by any specific incidents. In presenting the policy to the board, however, he mentioned recent beer bust incidents.

"In dealing with youngsters involved in these beer busts, we were told we didn't have any authority because they weren't at school," the superintendent said.

Dr. Landrum said at the school board meeting Monday night he wanted to emphasize that "we are not trying to replace the parent in the control of the behavior of the youngsters—our discipline will just be supplementary."

He said he thought the new policy would serve as a deterrent to some misbehavior by students "because a child places a great deal of value on their right to go to school."

He said expulsion would not be the only disciplinary measure under the new policy but it would include such things as taking away the right to participate in certain activities.

Ruby Said 'Gentleman'

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP)—Jack Ruby, Dallas night club owner charged in the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, is an "impulsive, excitable, generous and goodhearted man," a former Army Air Corps buddy says.

"I always found him a gentleman, through and through, impulsive like we all are at times," said James Whalen, 46, who roomed with Ruby prior to 1948. He has not seen Ruby since, he said.

Whalen said Ruby once offered him a job as production supervisor in a novelty factory but he turned it down.

"I haven't heard from him since," said Whalen, "but I recognized him immediately on television."

Whalen referred to the slaying in Dallas' police station of Oswald, the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy.

Washington is nearer to Moscow than to Buenos Aires.

Reporter Says President Is The Ultimate Politician

By RELMAN MORIN

Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — Sunshine tinged the tops of the pines and sycamore trees, swept across the town of Stonewall, Tex., and glowed in the room where Sam Ealey Johnson Jr. was shaking his son's foot.

"Get up, Lyndon," he said. "Everybody in town's got a two-hour head start on you."

Lyndon Baines Johnson began running. He has never stopped.

Today, he is president of the United States.

But the greatest race of Johnson's life lies ahead of him. In less than a year, another presidential election campaign will be under way. To be serving by reason of tragedy is one thing. To be elected president is the supreme goal of any American politician.

And Johnson is the ultimate politician.

Johnson was born on a ranch near Stonewall Aug. 27, 1908. On that day, so the story goes, his grandfather said, "He'll be a U.S. senator some day."

True or not, only a few years were to elapse before Johnson was on his way.

He had a political background. His grandfather and his father both served in the Texas House of Representatives. Another forebear was a signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence.

On his mother's side, his relatives were Baptist clergymen and educators. His great-grandfather headed Baylor University for two years.

After Johnson finished high school, at 15, a curious hiatus came in his life.

He neither went to college nor showed any interest in a career. Instead, with some other boys, he walked and hitchhiked to California. Seven months later, he was home, working as a highway laborer, driving a truck, pushing a wheelbarrow, welding pick and shovel.

Finally, after a heart-to-heart talk, his parents persuaded him to go to college. Johnson borrowed $75 and enrolled in Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos.

"I took 40 courses and got 35 A's," he says.

To help pay his expenses, he worked as a janitor. Having enrolled in a public-speaking course, he practiced speech-making while sweeping out the classrooms. He graduated in 1930.

The following year is an important one in the Johnson story.

He went to Washington as secretary of Congressman Richard Kleberg and fell head over heels in love with politics. In short order, he won his first election—speaks of the "Little Congress," a mock legislature composed of congressmen's secretaries.

Next, he was appointed state administrator for Texas of the National Youth Administration. He returned to Texas in that capacity in 1935.

Johnson married in 1934. Claudia Alta Taylor has been known all her life as "Lady Bird." When a Negro nurse first saw her, she said, "She's as pretty as a lady bird." Even the congressional directory today lists her under the nickname.

They have two daughters, Lynda Bird, 19, and Lucy Baines, 16.

Johnson's first big political move came in 1937. After the identical election campaign will be under way. To be serving by reason of tragedy is one thing. To be elected president is the supreme goal of any American politician.

He waged a shrewd, boldly conceived campaign which was fortuitous for two reasons—it won, and it brought him to the attention of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Nine others were in the race. Johnson concluded that, to get on that day, so the story goes, his grandfather said, "He'll be a U.S. senator some day."

Roosevelt, fishing off Corpus Christi at the time, was delighted. He invited Johnson to ride with him to Washington on the presidential train.

He also arranged to have Johnson seated on the important Naval Affairs Committee—a rare thing for a freshman congressman—and brought him to the White House for Sunday breakfast.

Johnson was close to the throne from the start of the political life. "He (Roosevelt) was like a daddy to me," Johnson often said.

Johnson's first try for the Senate, in 1941, failed. Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel beat him by 1,311 votes. Johnson went back to the House.

Then came Pearl Harbor. Two days later, Johnson, a naval reserve officer, obtained leave from the House and went to war. He served on a three-man commission inspecting conditions in the Southwest Pacific and rode on some bombing missions. Gen. Douglas MacArthur decorated him with the Silver Star. In mid-1942, Roosevelt ordered him back to the House.

His victorious 1948 campaign for the Senate is notable in several respects. He campaigned by helicopter. And he defeated Gov. Coke Stevenson by 87 votes out of nearly a million cast.
