

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

Dear Santa Claus:

We can get into some most peculiar messes.

Like, for instance, the one we're in right now.

We've tried to be a pretty good boy this year, and we did a medium-sized job of it, too, until here lately.

We've tried to solve our own problems, and help the C. D. A. and the town solve a portion of theirs. We've tried to share in the joys and sorrows of the community.

We stayed at home pretty close, too. Made only one trip to Big D this year—as compared to two last year. We didn't get to see one of the big time football games this fall.

Didn't even get to see Oklahoma whip the sox off Texas this year, on account of State Fair officials kinda got their agenda mixed up, so far as we were concerned, and we only saw North Texas State and Austin College.

As we said, we stuck pretty close to home. And we kept paying debts, as most everybody else in our social standing have done. Had most of them paid off, except on that gas consumer we're driving.

Then we decided to build a home. And that's where the mess started that we're in up to our neck!

We had it all figured out pretty close. We'd get some of that money that we and nearly everybody else have been paying to Uncle Sam every year. Although a glance at our national debt makes us wonder how Uncle Sam has any money to loan!

We started out, but, Santa, it seems that Uncle Sam had lost some of his toys!

It took him, we believe, between 60 and 90 days to find that little trinket marked "F. H. A." and decide to open it up and allow us a pretty good slice out of it.

But while he was doing this, he kinda got off the beam at his job of keeping down inflation—and the prices of building materials advanced nearly 10 percent while he was looking for that F. H. A. toy and toying around with it.

It seemed, though, we had gone too far to back out. Uncle Sam had just about lost all control of inflation control, and the longer we waited the worse it got.

So we decided to go ahead. And that's where the mess we're in started to commence.

The house is nearly completed, and we're nearly completely finished! In fact, we think we are finished unless you come to our rescue.

We want to move in our new house sometime in the fore part of the New Year. And, now, Santa, here's what we want you to do:

We're living among the best people on earth. We guess every editor thinks that, or he'd go some place else to edit.

A lot of these fine people are getting our paper. In fact, Santa, we print 1,725 copies every week. Based on an average of 3 person per family, if heads of a family only get our paper and other members read it—then we have at least 5,175 readers. Sounds fantastic, but not unreasonable.

Some of our subscribers have sort of neglected paying their subscriptions for another year. That's to be expected, too, with them trying to get out their cotton while the weather was pretty—and then the weather became too pretty for their wheat, and they had to worry about that.

Atkeison's To Stage 39th Birthday Sale

Thirty-nine years is a long, long time.

It's also a long time for one business to be operated in Munday, or any other town. Atkeison's Food Store, which has been operated in Munday for that period of time has increased from a small beginning in those pioneer days to one of the leading stores in this area.

And Atkeison's this week announce their 39th anniversary sale. The sale opens on Friday, and all prices quoted for the sale will be good through the remainder of this month.

"With prices advancing all along, it's been a problem to give you a sale that will save you money," Hugh Beatty, manager of the store, said. "However, we believe you will find items in our page ad this week that will convince you we're trying to continue to hold down the prices of groceries."

"We invite you to visit our store during this anniversary sale."

OUR NEEDS FOR 1950

1. Completion of our portion of the Throckmorton road, giving the farmers of that area an all-weather outlet.
2. A farm-to-market road to the north and east of Munday, possibly connecting with the Hermer road.
3. A U. S. Federal building. Munday needs a new post office home.
4. More homes in Munday. We did a good job in 1949, but there's still a housing shortage.
5. A new telephone system, giving the town adequate telephone service and tapping the rural area surrounding the town.
6. Greater cooperation of business man, farmer, and citizen toward long-range development for our community.

THE COUNTRY PRESS SAYS

SAN DIEGO, TEXAS, DUVAL COUNTY FACTS: "Americans are willing to tighten their belts as much as necessary to finance rearmament. However, many of them are distinctly unwilling to tighten their belts further in order to finance 'welfare state' projects."

CARLSBAD, NEW MEXICO, DAILY CURRENT-ARGUS: "We have a number of office-holders in Federal and state governments who are actively spending their time and the taxpayers' money to promote government ownership of the some of the nation's basic business, such as electric power production and medicine. . . . Why try to fool the people of our country into thinking our government can go into commercial business at public expense, to the ultimate exclusion of private citizens, and still not have socialism here?"

SEAL BEACH, CALIF., POST AND WAVE: "Any offer of something for nothing from any government, where in the guise of 'free' state medicine or any other sugar-coated paternalism, is a cruel hoax."

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY., JEFFERSONIAN: "From where does the central government get that increased power through which it is enabled to enhance its bureaucratic influence and regiment its constituents? Remember, there is just one place from which it can come, and that's from the people?"

DON'T LET DEATH TAKE YOU HOLIDAY

Once again American armed forces are in action trying to protect and uphold the ideal of freedom. Once again the spirit of Christmas will be mocked by the hate and bloodshed of the battlefield.

In many American homes the roar of the cannon will make it hard to hear the ringing of the Christmas bells. That is to be deeply regretted, but throughout history the torch of man's dignity and freedom has been held aloft only through the sacrifice of its bearers.

We can do little to prevent such personal tragedies. But we CAN do a lot to prevent another kind of tragedy which is equally poignant at the Christmas season—and more cruel because it is needless.

We refer to the preventable tragedy of accidents. The National Safety Council has called for intensive accident prevention effort during the holidays—usually a very dangerous period of the year.

That is an objective which has our wholehearted support, not only because it is better to have a joyous Yuletide, but also because we cannot afford to waste the resources of manpower and material so necessary these days to our national strength.

The waste is enormous—much more than most persons realize. The American Medical Association has shown that accidents rob the nation of more working years than any disease, because accidents strike all age groups, not just those whose productive years are largely behind them.

The traffic accident problem this year is serious, with a death toll of 35,000 in prospect. That would be the largest number of automobile victims since the record year of 1941.

Rigid enforcement of the laws by state, county and municipal police, plus individual determination to play it safe, can keep the Christmas spirit—and all of us—alive this year.

WHERE SHALL WE SHIP THE REMAINS?

Sometimes a touch of humor will bring home a serious truth.

There is a hotel sign in Salisbury, Maryland, which says, "If you must smoke in bed while here, please notify the office so we will know where to ship the remains. Business is good here, but we do not have guests to burn."

Commenting on this, the Dillon, South Carolina, Herald, observes, "When a guest is tempted to light a cigarette in bed he should think of the Atlanta Hotel holocaust two years ago when more than two hundred guests were burned to death."

It is an ironical fact that smoking in bed is a major cause of death by fire—to say nothing of the great property loss that also results from it—and that is also one of the least excusable and unintelligent things to do. The smoker does off, the lighted cigarette drops onto flammable sheets and blankets—and the next step is the morgue.

Many of the destructive fires stem from such simple causes. A minimum of thought will prevent them, and a minimum of care will banish the danger. The main goal of fire prevention lies in public education—for it is the human factor that keeps our fire waste at such terrible levels.

A party of hunters met with great misfortune in an early incident in the history of Texas. In 1719, a thousand Europeans were sent out to people the French colony of Louisiana among them M. de Belisle, who is described as a gentleman of distinction.

The vessel was carried beyond its intended destination and the captain found himself in Matagorda Bay, off the shore of Texas. A boat was sent ashore for water. Belisle and four friends went along. The five passengers decided to do a little hunting and when the boat came back to them, they were not alone. The captain became impatient and sailed away without them.

Abandoned in an unknown country, the men were soon starving. They were going to kill Belisle's dog but the animal, sensing their intention, fled. Belisle saw his companions die and, as he was about to perish, his faithful dog returned, and on the opposite bank, he had killed. Soon after, the dog was wounded by a wild beast and the master had to kill the creature to end his sufferings.

Now completely alone, the Frenchman left the coast and headed into the interior in an effort to find men. He saw footprints, followed them to a river and on the opposite bank, he saw Indians who were drying meat. He entered the camp and they took most of his clothing.

Motors Need Special Care During Winter

Winter weather has arrived in Texas. The last "blue norther" settled that question. The rapid changes that can be expected in the weather during the next few months can be taken in stride and without disrupting the farm chores and operations if farm machinery is correctly winterized, says W. L. Ulrich, extension agricultural engineer of Texas A. & M. College.

The radiators on all motors that require liquid for cooling should be drained and filled with a good anti-freeze. A cracked block cylinder head or radiator on the tractor, car, truck or pick-up is not only an expensive way to find out how cold it is on the outside, but delays caused from having the equipment laid up in the garage may be even more expensive than the actual repair job, says Ulrich.

Before filling radiators with anti-freeze, Ulrich says they should be checked and if the hose is damaged, it should be replaced. Most of the anti-freeze will leak through holes that do not show up when water is used. Use enough of the anti-freeze to give the motor all of the protection it will need even in the coldest weather, says Ulrich. The radiator should be checked regularly to make sure the solution is all right. Check the strength of the solution so unusually cold weather will not catch you with a weak solution in the radiators of your machines, says Ulrich.

The thermostats should be checked in all engines to make sure they are working correctly. If the thermostat remains closed, the motor becomes hot while the liquid in the radiator remains cold, and no liquid cooled engine, says Ulrich, can perform properly unless it runs at the correct temperature. The radiator shutter should be used on the farm tractor when the weather is extremely cold, and should always be used when the engine is being warmed up out of doors. A word of warning comes from Ulrich regarding carbon monoxide gas. He says never start a motor in a tight building unless you have opened a door or window or have provided for ventilation. This gas can easily cause death.

He says the transmissions and

Safety Was Their No. 1 Crop

Charles F. Kettering, world-famed inventor and research consultant to General Motors, came to Chicago to address the 29th annual National 4-H Club Congress and also took time off to congratulate eight farm youths who each won $300 college scholarships plus a free trip to Chicago as the guests of General Motors for their outstanding contributions to farm safety. GM has sponsored the 4-H Farm Safety program for the last six years. Left to right are: Carolyn Younker, of Utah, Milton Spain, of North Carolina, Sally Hornecker, of Oregon, Mr. Kettering, Lawrence Beymer, of Indiana, Virginia McCoy, of Arkansas and Marian Linn, of Ohio. differentials on farm machines should be drained, flushed and refilled with the correct weight lubricant. A lighter weight motor oil should be used in the motors because the heavier oils and lubricants do not flow freely during the cold weather and bearings and gears may be damaged before the lubricants warm enough to flow freely.

It is good, cheap insurance, says Ulrich, to winterize all farm equipment that may be damaged from cold weather. Weather reports may give the warning that a cold snap is on the way, but it is up to each individual to see that his equipment is protected from the elements.

Be careful. Obey state and local traffic rules.

Put Safety In Santa's Gifts

Christmas time is always looked forward to as a joyous season, but unless safety is considered in choosing Christmas toys, the surprises left by Santa may prove tragic. Mrs. Eloise T. Johnson, specialist in family life education with the A. & M. College Extension Service, gives a few pointers for buyers of children's toys.

Remember the child's age, his interest, and stage of development, Mrs. Johnson reminds, because children naturally are curious and constant supervision is not always possible. A two-year-old in the hand-to-mouth age should have washable toys with no sharp points or edges and nothing flammable nor with poisonous paint should be included.

Stuffed animals, the specialist points out, sometime offer hazards if they have glass eyes or buttons which may come off. She suggests rubber balls, plastic bathtub toys, solid wood toys, or light weight hollow blocks.

For children between the ages of six and eight, electrical toys are popular. Mrs. Johnson advises, however, that these should have the seal of approval from Underwriter Laboratories — a guarantee of proper construction against fire hazards and shock.

A place to keep toys can be a safety measure. A box, cupboard or open shelf is handier than drawers or a cabinet with doors which are hard to manage and sometimes stick. "Playthings are the tools which help children to learn," says Mrs. Johnson, "so it is an important job to select safe toys and teach safe habits in using them."

Texas 26 and 28, corn hybrids developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, outyielded other hybrids and varieties in tests during 1950 at 18 widely scattered locations in the state.

Simple Rules For Christmas Safety

TRAFFIC—

1. Use extra care for the extra holiday hazards.
2. Put the Christmas spirit of "good will" into your attitude toward drivers and pedestrians.
3. Don't let Christmas packages obstruct your vision when walking.
4. Don't drive if you drink—and vice versa.
5. Start in time and take it easy. Allow for winter weather and extra holiday traffic.

HOME—

1. Check your home for anything that might cause an accident.
2. Keep your Christmas tree in water and away from flames.
3. Use electric tree and window lights—no lighted candles ever. Don't leave tree lights on when you are out room for a considerable time.
4. Check your electrical connections for shorts and worn-out wires.
5. Keep flimsy Christmas decorations and wrappings away from the fireplace.

Make it a responsibility to see that the coming Holiday Season is a safe and sound one. Safety practiced in the home, on the farm and highway may save your own life or that of a member of your family.

"Teen-Way" Rayon Suit

One suit for every occasion — here's a budget-wise buy for your grammar school son! Extra jackets, vests and trousers of smart worsted-type rayon fabrics make endless combinations for school, parties or "Sunday Best." Plaid, checked and solid colored, the rayon fabrics in this suit are sturdy enough for romping, yet handsome enough for dress-up occasions. Made with Avisco rayon, the fabric is long-wearing and wrinkle-resistant, with a smooth soil-resistant surface!

Now is the time to prune the orchard and to clean up all refuse that may serve as wintering quarters for insects and diseases.

Set the Christmas tree in water. This will keep the tree green, will make it fire resistant and will help hold the needles or leaves on the tree.

When the cold winds blow, don't forget the little friends, the birds. They'll appreciate the tid-bits that provide for them.

HARDWARE—FURNITURE

Double Treat

Your youngsters will find double enjoyment in their new candy-coated puffed wheat cereal—whether they have it for breakfast with milk or cream, or as a snack right out of the colorful new package, 4-times protected to insure lasting freshness.

"Mmmmm! It's good!" That's what the pretty little twins pictured here have to say about their candy-coated puffed wheat cereal. Presweetened with sugar and honey, it has a wonderful flavor that all youngsters love.

And because it's so good eaten right out of the package, too, your little ones will want you to keep a package on hand for after-school snacking or to pass around to their friends when they come over to play.

The whole family will love it as a cereal with milk or cream (no sugar is needed), as a snack or as a confection. And this sugar-crisped cereal will stay fresh and tasty in its gay new carton, doubly protected with a layer of aluminum foil and a colorful wax overwrap.

Volunteers Asked For Naval Service

Seaman recruits and seaman apprentices who were members of the Naval Reserve prior to September 1, 1950, can now volunteer for active duty in the Navy after they have received draft induction notices, Eighth Naval District headquarters announced.

The Commandant of the Eighth Naval District said the new ruling will affect approximately 14,000 men in the district who are in the above category.

Until now, he said, regulations had prevented men in the Naval Reserve's two lowest pay grades from volunteering for active duty unless they had at least six months' previous full time duty on their records. Under those regulations, a number of these men have been drafted for lack of required regular duty. The Navy cannot now take draftees.

These reservists may now be placed on active duty on the Naval Reserve while they are being processed under selective service, at any time prior to the actual selective service induction date, the Navy ruling stated.

The procedure is as follows: The reservist wishing to volunteer should contact his nearest Naval recruiting station or substation. He must meet the same mental, physical and other standards as the regular Navy recruit.

He will be required to sign an agreement to serve 24 months on active duty.

He will then be sent into recruit training with regular Navy recruits, but will maintain his identity as a Reservist in Class V-13 of the Naval Reserve.

Reservists in the rates of seaman and fireman, and petty officer in certain ratings, still are being accepted as volunteers, the Commandant pointed out.

THE PRESENT WITH A FUTURE

They waited hours and had a lot of trouble staying awake, and had almost decided to give it up and wait until morning. Just then—Santa came! Big and bright and cheery and carrying a bag as big as a house. In the bag they saw toys and candies and gifts for mother and dad, and they saw on the very top—United States Savings Bonds, the present with a future for them!

Orchard Jobs Need Attention

Next year's fruit crop may depend on the care you give your orchard during the next few weeks. High on the list of jobs that should be done now, says John E. Hutchinson, associate extension horticulturist of Texas A. & M. College, is pruning. This job should be completed during this month, he says, because bad weather may make outside work impossible later in the winter.

Each tree in the orchard should be checked for San Jose scale, he says. This ashy-gray scale, if it is present, can be found on the trunk and limbs of the tree. Limbs that are severely infested with the scale should be removed and burned. A 3 percent oil emulsion spray, says Hutchinson, will control the insect provided the tree is completely covered with the solution.

All "dried-up" peaches whether on the trees or on the ground should be gathered up and destroyed. This mummified fruit contains the spores of brown rot and if they are not destroyed, will become a source of infestation for brown rot disease next spring. This sanitation practice will not eliminate the need for spraying, says Hutchinson, but will lessen the degree of brown rot infestation.

In those sections of the state, dry weather has not prevented the planting of a cover crop in the orchard, but Hutchinson strongly urges that orchard owners plant such a crop in sections where there is still time, if rain comes soon. He suggests that you get from your local county extension agent a copy of B-73, Orchard Management, and check it for other practices that should be carried out in the orchard at this time.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Offers More Aid To Washington In Getting The Banks To Tighten Down On Loans

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has another odd idea this week, which is customary for him.

Dear editor:

I was out here the other day not lettin anything worry me, dozin comfortably and feelin satisfied with my farm and wonderin why the rest of the world couldn't feel the same way, looks like them energetic people who're always stirrin up things and pushin out for more territory and bringin on turmoil could settle down once in a while, although I'm here to tell you I'll stew about the world a reasonable amount but I don't go around feelin like the burden is on my shoulders alone, anyway, as I was sittin here I was amusin myself with a favorite pastime, wachin a strong south wind blow a newspaper along the ground, wonderin if it was gonna get close enough to me so I could reach it without gettin up, and after circlin a few times it swooped down right at my feet and I lifted one foot enough for it to blow under and let it hold it down until I was rested enough to start readin.

The first thing I noticed was an article sayin Washington was urg'n banks to tighten down on loans, to avoid inflation.

Accordin to this, some banks are loanin much money, looks like everybody's credit is good, and Washington is askin em to clamp down.

I sat almost bolt upright and read that article clear to the end, followin it from the front page over the inside, and I wish to report Washington is still as careless as ever. I can understand the importance of tightenin down on bank loans, but what the article left out, and what I wanted to know above all, was what banks is doin this?

What I want is a list of them banks. All the banks I know is way ahead of the government, they clamped down on loans long ago, in fact, I imagine they did not open in the first place until they had the clamps in place and that may be the reason they are still open, but if Washington is gonna be of any service to me in this matter, it ought to let me in on where I can find one of them reckless banks. I will be glad to do some business with a few of them and I guarantee I will convince em of the importance of tightenin down on loans. I could help the government a lot in this matter, if they'd only give me a chance.

Your faithfully,
J. A.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—"Your child can be protected from whooping cough by the use of anti-serum available for the immunization of youngsters," according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, as he advises parents not to take this communicable disease lightly.

"Since whooping cough is particularly dangerous for babies the need for early protection against it is undisputed. Research has shown that preventive treatment may be safely and effectively given at the age of two months or earlier. Older children who have been previously immunized should receive booster doses of the vaccine."

Pointing out that Texas has had over 10,700 cases of whooping cough so far this year, Dr. Cox reminded parents that whooping cough is sometimes fatal to young children. It may also leave the lungs and other affected parts permanently damaged.

"In an effort to control whooping cough, emphasis is placed upon the great importance of calling the family physician at any time when a child is not in normal health. If the first signs of a cold do not disappear after a few days of good home care, including rest in bed and isolation from other children, the physician should be called

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Here's An "Expert" Example!

When our Main Street parking problem cropped up again, we announced a strict one-hour parking policy, and swore in extra deputies to enforce it.

We also sent over to the State Capitol for a traffic expert, to give us pointers. He turned out to be real helpful—spent a whole afternoon with us talking about zoning and such. And when he left the building he found a ticket on his car for overtime parking!

Could have gotten sore, I guess—or asked us to "fix" the ticket. But instead, he insisted on going over to the Sheriff's Office and paying his fine.

From where I sit, it's good to know people, like that young fellow, who refuse to be treated any different than anyone else. City people and farmers—those of us who prefer cider and those who'd rather have a cool glass of temperate beer—we're all entitled to the same privileges. That is, so long as what we do doesn't conflict with the law of the land.

Brad Rowland, McMurry Star, Gets Honors

ABILENE—Attending a small college is no handicap to an athlete who has ability.

Thus, Vernon Hilliard, McMurry College athletic director, summed up the case of Brad Rowland, the Indians' stellar halfback from Hamlin.

"Many footballers probably think that if they go to a small school they lose out on their chances for glory," Hilliard commented. "But Brad Rowland has now received the highest honor most footballers can seek."

That is an invitation to play for the West All-Stars against the East All-Stars in the 26th annual classic at San Francisco, Dec. 30. Selections are based upon recommendation of leading coaches.

Another highly-prized honor—this one limited to small-college stars, however—to come last week was Rowland's second successive selection as a halfback on the Associated Press little All-America.

Papers over the nation carried Rowland's name in headlines. As Robbie Robinson of the Stamford American and Collier Parris of the Abilene News-Reporter pointed out, Rowland got more headlines for making little All-America than he would have for getting a berth on one of the "regular" All-Americans.

Rowland's recognition has not been confined to the continental borders of the United States.

His chances of getting a professional football offer are considered as bright as those of any so-called "big-time" player.

McMurry has been and will continue to be thankful that Rowland turned down an opportunity to play football for Baylor University of the Southwest Conference. And Rowland has not seemed to mind it either.

"APPLEKNOCKER" SPENDS TIME IN THE HOSPITAL

J. C. "Appleknocker" Harpham took a sudden and severe pain in his left ankle last Sunday night. When relief didn't come within a reasonable time, he went to see his doctor who promptly dispatched him to the Knox County Hospital.

It was revealed that Jim had a blood clot—which was rather serious business, although the pain was stopped in short order. By Monday night he had been "shot" practically all over the arms and hands, and nurses were threatening to shoot him in his bald head.

HUGE PLANE LEAVES STREAK ACROSS SKY

Munday's people were attracted by a wide streak of white smoke, or something, across the peaceful sky on Wednesday afternoon at about four o'clock. Looking skyward, they saw a huge plane winging its way northwestward, leaving the trail of white vapor.

Some surmised it must have been a jet job, then decided it wasn't built right.

They watched as the big ship went on over the Benjamin and Knox City areas, then turned and came back. It was quite an attraction to us "country people."

Give something for the Kitchen

Christmas gifts need not be limited to the purely pretty or decorative. Mother, or any woman who likes to cook, will be equally pleased with practical kitchen gifts. Every cook, for example, needs a good set of cooking thermometers. Roasting, baking, cooking, refrigerating and freezing all require accurate temperatures, and thermometers remove the guesswork from these culinary operations. Shown above are four types of cooking thermometers. In the foreground is a stainless steel thermometer for roasting meats and one for deep fat frying and candy making. The black pedestal-type thermometer checks oven temperatures; the white one is for the refrigerator and home freezer.

TWO REASONS WHY MORE FARMERS WANT

GOOD YEAR SUPER-SURE-GRIP TRACTOR TIRES

1. Deeper Soil Penetration — Greater Pull
2. Balanced Straight Lug Tread Design — Longer Wear!

Goodyear's open center tread has straight deep-biting lugs. No curves to cut traction — no hooks, knobs or elbows to blunt their bite. They cut cleanly into the soil, penetrate full depth, full length. Straight bars closer together at the shoulders wedge the soil for firmer grip—don't "plow out" soil at the edges.

Goodyear open center lugs are all straight, all equal in size and spacing. That's why every lug works equally, pulls fully, wears more evenly. This means a smoother, steadier pull, less vibration and wobble — more riding stability — plus longer life. Get Goodyears for your tractor — they don't cost a penny more.

Green Bay, Wisconsin.—The Green Bay Packers of the National Football League, players and coaching staff have signed up 100% for the regular purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds. Gene Konzani, coach of the Packers, noted for his serious, hard work that produces results, said, "Today, millions of American workers have the good habit of thrift by investing part of their savings regularly where they work through the Payroll Savings Plan. The Green Bay Packers in setting the pace for industry in the Treasury's fall campaign urges every American wage earner to save NOW for his personal future by the systematic purchase of bonds and help provide the dollars to pay for material and equipment needed for defense and help prevent inflation on the home front."

Proper Care of Milk Cans

WHEN milk or cream is downgraded or rejected, at market, the cause often can be traced to the condition of the dairy farmer's milk cans. Dented, battered old cans are a menace to the farmer's profits and should be discarded promptly.

Damage to the tin inner coating of milk cans many times is the result of bad washing practices on the dairy farm. Even though cans are washed at the dairy they must be washed also at the farm.

Observe these simple precautions for greatest safety: Use cleaning compounds exactly as recommended by the manufacturer. Be absolutely sure that all moisture is removed from cans after cleaning. Cans must be dry before covers are replaced.

Proper care of milk cans usually pays off in the form of larger milk checks. Other common-sense rules to observe in handling milk cans are these:

1. Carry cans to desired location; do not drop, throw or roll them.
2. Leave covers off empty cans when not in use.
3. Avoid scratching the insides of cans with stirring rods. It is vitally important to remove rods after stirring.
4. Do not allow sour contents to remain in cans for long periods.
5. Keep cans moving. Avoid long periods of storage and idleness.
6. Inspect cans regularly. If cans have been damaged so that their safety as sanitary containers is questionable, replace them with new cans.

Corn Hybrids Yielding Well

Texas 26 and 28, corn hybrids developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, out-yielded other hybrids and varieties in tests during 1950 at 18 widely scattered locations over the State.

Some seed of these yellow hybrids were available for farmer planting for the first time the past season. Since they made up about half the seed corn production this year, the acreage planted to them should be increased greatly in 1951.

Dr. John S. Rogers, head of the Station's corn research, says the two new hybrids should do good in most of Texas' corn growing sections. They are particularly recommended for the Blackland and Grand Prairies, and for East Texas, although Texas 20 also has given excellent yields at Tyler.

Of the white corn hybrids, Texas 11W continues to out-yield at all locations, but generally does not have the high yields as the best yellow hybrids.

Average yields during 1950 in tests over the State in bushels per acre of hybrids developed by the TAES, include: Texas 28, 55.1; Texas 26, 53.9; Texas 24, 51.5; Texas 20, 49.9; Texas 18, 48.5; Texas 12, 47.9; Texas 8, 47.3; Texas 11W, 50.3; and Texas 9W, 46.2.

Although Texas 26 and 28 are not as resistant to root lodging as Texas 24, they have a high resistance to stalk breakage, Rogers said. Texas 24 and 28 should produce corn of better quality than the other yellow hybrids since they are damaged less by earworms and have fewer unsound ears. Texas 26 has slightly higher shelling percentage of the yellow hybrids and, with the exception of Texas 8, is the earliest.

Corn performance tests were conducted during 1950 at Lockhart, Brenham, Holland, Temple, Mart, Garland, Greenville, Paris, Denton, College Station, Kirbyville, Nacogdoches, Tyler, Mount Pleasant, Prairie View, Stephenville, Chillicothe, and Weslaco.

Guild Members Enjoy Christmas Party On Monday

The enchantment of the Christmas season was present in the varicolored lights which adorned the house and grounds and in the silver and red decorations throughout the entertainment rooms in the home of Mrs. C. P. Baker last Monday evening at 7 o'clock when members of the Wesleyan Service Guild held their annual Christmas party.

A beautifully decorated silvered tree was the center of attraction in the living room, and a snow scene, complete with Santa and reindeer, was arranged on the mantel. Red candles banked with evergreens added a warm glow to the picture, while a tiered table loaded with fruits tempted the appetites of the guests as they entered the dining room. Tables with centerpieces of red tapers and evergreens were laid for 27 guests.

After a delicious dinner served buffet style, the group sang

MR. D.A.'S CRIME CALENDAR

NOVEMBER is the Month For . . .

SPORTS SCANDAL: You'll hear charges and counter charges of fixed fights and crooked games this month. There will be repercussions, particularly in professional sports where gambling is rampant, and repercussions can lead to a full-blown scandal. Whether you can put your finger on it or not, this is a time for upsets and strange outcomes of athletic contests. Gambling booms in November and there's bound to be a rash of scandals in the sports world.

BREAKING AND ENTRY: This is a bad month for house burglars. There will be a sharp decline, I predict, in the breaking and entry field this month. The bad weather keeps people indoors and the mere fact of occupancy in the home discourages prowlers. To keep out the cold and wind people keep their windows tight shut and bolted, and it's tough for the expert at jimmying windows to make it over the window sill. You're safer at home than at the race track.

SHOPLIFTING: "There are . . . shopping days left before Christmas . . ." This reminder is repeated time and again this month and it reaches the honest and dishonest alike. The amateur shoplifter is short of money and prowls the stores for suitable gifts—but the amateur is in the great minority. The real pro at shoplifting takes advantage of the holiday spirit and crowded department store, and plies a healthy trade. Honest shoppers who report evidence of shoplifting are a better thorn to this trade than store detectives.

Mr. District Attorney heard Wednesdays on NBC

Several Christmas carols led by Rev. R. L. Butler. Mrs. Bob Hicks then introduced Mrs. Fred Broach, Jr., who gave to a deeply appreciative audience a most beautiful and heart-warming review of "The Little Mixer", by Lillian Nicholson Shearon, a delightful Christmas story portraying the emotional struggles of a small Jewess in her attempt to capture the true spirit of childhood's Christmas.

Following this, gifts were distributed for the tree by Ruth King, each gift going to the person whose name the donor had previously drawn. These gifts, consisting of children's toys, were later packed to be distributed to children who might otherwise have very little Christmas.

BILL & JOE CALLAHAN
AND THE
BLUE RIDGE MOUNTAIN FOLKS
IN A SCENE
from Monogram Picture, "Springtime in Texas"

Bill and Joe Callahan will appear in person here Friday night, December 15, under the sponsorship of the American Legion and Boy Scouts.

They are the country's finest entertainers. You have heard them on Radio Station KWFT, Wichita Falls, and they have appeared in several movies with such stars as Jimmie Wakley and have worked with Gene Autry, Roy Whitley, the Weaver Bros. and Elvira.

Be sure to see them Friday night at the high school auditorium.

Oscar Spann, who has been in the Baylor Hospital in Dallas, returned home Sunday, and is reported to be improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Yarbrough were visitors in Wichita Falls Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kane left Monday night for Waco to attend the bedside of Mr. Kane's niece, who is reported to be very ill.

Be careful. Observe state and local traffic laws.

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Goudly)

FORT WORTH, Dec. 8.—The storm during the past week resulted in curtailed movement of livestock all around the marketing circle and the extremely active demand for both slaughter and stocker classes of livestock generally resulted in higher prices.

The trade, eyeing the rising price list and with an ear turned in the direction of Washington, was again fearful that rationing or price controls or both may be in the offing as the war situation becomes more critical.

Fifty-cent to $1.00 advances on cattle and calves, hogs and fat lambs were chalked up at Fort Worth this week, some calves and cattle more than a dollar higher.

Dry conditions remain in most of the Southwest, though some moisture and snow in the North Texas, Plains and Panhandle sections offered some relief. Stock water has not become critical at many points, since the Central and Northern parts of the State caught lots of tank water during the summer. South Texas depends to a great extent on windmills and though grass is very short there, watering has been possible at most points.

Despite the continued dry weather, stocker demand has been keen. Many cattle of all ages are being put into dry feedlots.

Latest estimate from the American Meat Institute says that next year Americans should have an average of four pounds more meat per capita than during 1950. Average is estimated at 149 pounds per person, against 145 pounds during the past year.

The Institute says: "The meat and livestock industry desires and intends to cooperate fully with the government's mobilization program. However, it is the belief of this industry that the application of price controls and rationing to livestock and meats is fraught with such difficulty and has such potentialities for reducing, rather than increasing production and for disrupting instead of facilitating distribution that, in the interest of the producer and consumer alike, such controls should be avoided."

Lambs hit a top here this week for the first time in many, many weeks. The lambs came from G. L. Beck, Munday, Texas, they averaged 90 pounds at $30.

The current controversy between the Livestock Auction and Commission Sales Association on the one hand and Clarence Achgill, writer for the Oklahoma Livestock News, is creating wide interest.

For many months, there has been a smoldering controversy between the community livestock sales and the central public markets, with the community sales in some cases accusing the larger markets of trying to saddle them with restrictive rules and regulations of the Packers and Stock Yards Act of 1921 as supplied by the Packers and Stock Yards Administration.

We personally feel that community sales have a place in the movement of livestock. A big part of the livestock sold at Fort Worth has been through one or more of such sales before finally arriving at its final destination, which is either the packing house, or the pasture or feedlot.

Much more important, to our way of thinking, is the fact that livestock producers realize the important service a qualified livestock salesman has to offer.

A good livestock salesman who is in touch with many buyers, in touch with market demand and market trends, is as important to successful livestock raising as your doctor, dentist, lawyer or other specially trained men you need from time to time.

Imagine if you can what a quandary the farmer and rancher would be in if all competitive markets and news from them were denied him? He would not know whether steers were worth $10 or worth $500.

Competition between central markets and community sales is natural and entirely proper. Competition is the keynote of American business. Less name calling and better service to the livestock producers should be the goal of all concerned.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hines of Wichita Falls visited relatives here over the week end.

K. R. bluestem, like other grasses, does better when it is not continuously and closely grazed.

If a legume pasture is not available, the developing gilt should be fed a leguminous hay. This can be fed from a hay rack.

The entire family's welfare and disposition may well depend upon how well the farm kitchen is planned and used.

Misses Carolyn and Charlotte Hannah were visitors in Wichita Falls last Saturday.

Mrs. Paul Pendleton and daughter, Jan, were visitors in Wichita Falls last Saturday.

Insects Destroy Eleven Percent Of 1950 Cotton Crop

BRYAN—Insect damage to the 1950 cotton crop in Texas amounted to approximately $107,035,000, destroying 11 percent of the total harvest, according to an unofficial preliminary estimate compiled by the National Cotton Council, George G. Chance, chairman of the Texas unit of the Council, said here today.

Insects kept approximately 456,000 bales of cotton and an estimated 187,000 tons of cottonseed off the market this year. Based on average prices, this lint would have brought Texas farmers some $91,119,000 and the seed would have meant an additional profit of $15,916,000," the Council spokesman said.

"Throughout the Cotton Belt," Mr. Chance said, "an estimated 16.5 percent of the crop, valued at approximately $598,565,000 was destroyed. In dollars and cents, losses in 1950 were second highest on record, exceeded only by 1949 when damage amounted to more than $617 million. Chairman Chance announced

Goree Bible Class Meets On Munday With Mrs. Bates

The Goree Bible Class met on Monday night, December 4, in the home of Mrs. Reuben Bates.

The president, Mrs. Barton Carl, presided during the business session. The devotional corresponded with the theme of the lesson and ended with the poem, "The Common Tasks," given by Mrs. Allgood.

The class started a new study, "The Women of the Bible." For the first lesson, Mrs. Billie Hutchens gave an interesting discussion about the first women mentioned in the Bible.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. S. Y. Allgood, Homer Moore, Buster Coffman, Barton Carl, Billie Hutchens, Tiny Jamerson, and the hostess, Mrs. Bates.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Billie Hutchens on December 18. Visitors and new members are welcomed.

Dodge Trucks Selected For Truck Rodeo

J. E. Reeves of Reeves Motor Company, local Dodge dealer, has received word that 49 of the 86 state champions who competed in the three major events of the 1950 National Truck Rodeo in New York chose Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks to drive in the spirited contest for national titles.

Six of the nine national championships awarded in the straight truck, the tractor single-axle semi-trailer and the tractor tandem-axle semi-trailer classes were won by Dodge trucks.

Richard Wold, of Minneapolis, drove a Dodge GA-152 (1½-ton) truck to win first place and the national title in the straight truck event. R. D. Wallace, of Charlotte, N. C., drove the same truck to win third in that event.

All places in the tractor tandem-axle semi-trailer event were won by drivers who drove a Dodge YA-142 (4-ton) truck. O. E. Chapman, of Denver, won first place and the national title. Robert Rudesill, of Minneapolis, won second, and Harry W. Pollock, of Baltimore, won third.

Frank Kilpatrick, of Portland, Ore., drove a Dodge JA-128 (2½-ton) truck to win third in the tractor single-axle semi-trailer event.

Twenty-one state champions who won their titles in state eliminations while driving other makes of trucks switched to Dodge trucks on a New York practice course. Ten manufacturers offered trucks for the 83 contestants in the national finals. Thus more champions chose Dodge than all other makes combined.

Improvement Of Pastures Mean More Returns

Pasture returns is the idea being stressed in the pasture improvement investigations that now being conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, says Dr. R. C. Potts, associate professor of agronomy, in charge of forage investigations.

Recent experiments show that pastures produce as much livestock feed per acre as high yielding corn or sorghums on comparable land, according to Dr. Potts. He says that improved pastures produce total digestible nutrients equal to a 75 or 80 bushels per acre corn crop. On irrigated land, as far as cash income is concerned, pastures compare favorably with cotton.

Studies of comparative costs show that the cost of 100 pounds of digestive nutrients from pastures is $1.26; from hay, $1.74; from silage, $2.07, and from concentrates, $4.23. Dr. Potts points out also that the return per man hour of labor is much higher than from cultivated crops—six times as much as from corn and nine times as much as from oats.

Dr. Potts states that success in today's improved pasture program depends up on the correct use of pasture plants. The new deep-rooted grasses and legumes recently selected show much promise. Madrid clover, one of the most important of these, is valuable for fall to spring grazing, in Texas if it is combined with oats.

Planting shotgun mixtures of white clover, perennial lespedeza, and new introductions such as coastal Bermuda hold special promise for pastures in Texas. Even Johnson grass, traditional scourge of the cotton fields, is a good pasture plant when combined with certain legumes and properly fertilized and managed.

Bur-clovers, crimson clover, 15 to 20 grasses and legumes at high seeding rates, hoping to obtain a stand of the suitable plants, is a poor practice, says Dr. Potts. He says that simple mixtures, usually one grass and one legume, are all that are necessary to do the job. Specific information regarding suitable pasture mixtures are available through the local county agent's office and other farm agencies.

Dr. Potts adds that plenty of fertilizer is another must for productive pastures. Large initial applications may be necessary to insure good stands of the desirable pasture plants. Additional al applications will also be needed to replace nutrients removed from the soil.

Grassland management begins with a farm-wide plan to fit livestock needs and make full use of soils and climate, says Dr. Potts. Although the plans may differ from farm to farm, they have certain features in common. Here again is a chance to ask for assistance from local agricultural experts in planning a program that is fitted to the farm, the land, and to the farmer.

1951 COTTON LOANS SET AT 90%

Cotton loans for 1951 have been set at the maximum of the permissive range in order to encourage farmers to boost production to at least 16 million bales. B. F. Vance, chairman of State PMA Committee, pointed out today. For the same reason farmers were told early in October that marketing quotas and acreage allotments would not be in effect for the 1951 cotton crop.

Both domestic and foreign demand are very high. Mr. Vance reminded growers, and at least 16 million bales should be produced next year to meet these demands. 1950 production was only 9.9 million bales.

Mr. Vance said that supports on next year's crop are mandatory at from 75 to 90 percent of parity, when no allotments and quotas are in effect, and Secretary Brannan has put the support for 1951 at 90% of parity as of August 1, 1951.

"With major cotton policy decisions made and announced, farmers are in better position to make advance plans for next year's crop," the chairman stated. "The fact that no marketing quotas or acreage allotments will be in effect for cotton, and this early announcement of 90 percent price support loans, should help insure the needed production."

GRAIN SORGHUM SUPPLIES FOR 1950-1951 LARGEST OF RECORD

Grain sorghum stocks in all positions on October 1, 1950, totaled 59.5 million bushels. This is 3 times as large as a year earlier and 8 times the two previous years of record. The biggest factor in the large carry-over was the large holdings of the CCC which totaled over 48 million bushels on October 1. This compares with around 10 million held a year earlier. Farm stocks of old crop sorghums totaled a little under 5 million bushels or nearly 2 million less than a year earlier. Based on the November estimate of production, supplies for 1950-51 amount to 256 million bushels or 85 million more than for 1949-50 and 117 million above the 1948-49 supplies.

Despite the lower prices and larger supplies, disappearance last season was 8 million bushels smaller than the previous season and totaled 111.7 million bushels. Exports of grain sorghums last season amounted to 31.3 million bushels which were nearly 9 million below 1949-50 but 15 million bushels above 1947-48. The use of sorghums for the production of alcohol was small the first 9 months of the season. However, with the outbreak of the war in Korea and the need for industrial alcohol over 3 million bushels of sorghums were used to produce alcohol in August and September. Despite larger livestock numbers the amount of sorghums fed during 1949-50 dropped 2 million from the previous season and totaled 74 million bushels. With the exception of 1947-48 this was the smallest quantity fed since 1939-40.

Reflecting the larger supplies and smaller disappearance grain sorghum prices at the farm dropped to the lowest point since February 1949 and average $1.63 per 100 pounds in October 1950. This was 9c below a year ago and 35c below the April peak of last season. Prices of No. 2 Yellow Milo averaged $2.46 per 100 pounds at the principal markets during the 1949-50 season. This compares with $2.62 per 100 pounds in 1948-49. At Kansas City, No. 2 Yellow Milo averaged $2.04 per 100 pounds in October compared with $2.01 a year ago and $2.27 2 years ago.

The target for the 1950 grain sorghum crop is being supported by loans and purchase agreements at a national average of $1.87 per 100 pounds. This compares with $2.09 for the 1949 crop. Farm prices averaged about 30c below the loan level last year from August through January, the period when loans could be made. As a result of the wide spread, farmers placed nearly 82 million bushels under support program. Of this, 76 million bushels were turned over to the Commodity Credit Corporation at the end of the loan period. This compares with 34 million bushels from the 1949 crop.
