College in Peril!!

Is a total income of $100,000 per year for Clarendon Junior College impossible? If it is, then the local college, a landmark in Clarendon for the past 64 years is tottering and could fall by the wayside within the next two years.

It is not the intention of the administration and the local school board to drop this bombshell in your laps in order to scare you and cause you unnecessary concern. However, it is the intention to give you the simple facts, so that you may know where the college stands and act accordingly if it is your desire to keep it in operation.

CAN IT STAND ALONE?

First of all, we want it known and understood that no member of the school board is AGAINST the college. We are all 100% FOR it. However, we also feel that it must stand alone so far as finances are concerned. It is no secret that for many years the college has been a burden, financially speaking, on the public schools. (The utility bills and janitor's salaries have long been paid from public school funds. Practically all the supplies and equipment have come from public school funds and at least a part of the faculty salaries.) This may be well and good so long as the public school funds can stand it. But the time has come when the public school can no longer contribute so heavily toward the support of the college.

$60,000 IN DEBT!!!

Every year for the past several years the public school budget has been over-spent — not for public school expenditures, but for help toward support of the college. The public school fund is now $60,000 in debt and it could well hit the $80,000 mark within the next two years. For obvious reasons, we feel that this is the wrong direction to be heading, and that we must stop and turn the other direction and wipe out this debt.

IS COMPLETE SEPARATION POSSIBLE?

By conservative figures, it is estimated that it will take a minimum of $100,000 per year to operate the college complete and separate from the public schools. Where is this money going to come from? This year we will receive $40,600 from the state as a per capita apportionment. That is all the funds we receive besides that we raise locally. Tuition rates are $50.00 per semester for local students and $60.00 per semester for out-of-district students. With our present enrollment we can expect to bring in approximately $14,000 from this source. Our district has an evaluation of $3,688,600 which we collect a tax of 20c per $100 which brings in another $7,000. This amounts to $61,600 which is considerably short of the amount needed. Our present college district comprises 297 square miles as compared to 922 square miles in the public school district. By expanding the college district to coincide with the boundaries of the public school district and changing from county to public school evaluations, we could bring in an additional $16,000 in taxes. That would give us a total income from taxes of approximately $23,000. That still is not enough.

In order to make the college a complete and separate unit we must have an income of around $50,000 from local taxes.

STATE REGULATIONS

We are at present meeting the minimum regulations as required from the Texas Education Agency and the Association of Texas Colleges and Universities. This year they told us to have a minimum of five departments and by Sept. 1, 1964, to have eight departments. These departments must have as their head a person with a master's degree and that person shall not teach in any other department. This year we have six such departments.

ENCOURAGEMENT

The enrollment is up some this year. We are told by those who have many years experience in the junior college field that complete separation will tend to increase enrollment. This has happened in every instance in the state of Texas where a junior college separated from the public school. We know that our potential enrollment is not great, but we do feel that we could attain an enrollment of 200 to 250 students.

It is our sincere belief that our college must either go forward or cease to exist. We, the undersigned members of the school board, are ready to GO FORWARD. Are YOU ready???

We are hoping work will be completed this week and we can notify you to come in for these payments — watch your mail as you will be notified by letter of this information. At the time you receive final payments we will need to know what kind of cover you have on the diverted acreage or what other plans you have that will require the County Committee's approval.

Zone 4 Soil Conservation Election October 2

Zone 4 residents of the State's 182 soil conservation districts have an election date to keep on October 2, 1962. H. M. Breedlove, County Agricultural Agent, says the election is very important and he urges all eligible voters to cast their ballot.

Zone 4 voters in the Donley County Soil Conservation District will elect a farmer or ranchman who will serve as their supervisor and representative on the Soil Conservation District Board for the next five years. Time and place for the October 2 balloting is the Hedley school house at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 2nd.

Breedlove says a qualified voter is a Zone 4 landowner who is over 21 years of age or older. Wives of eligible landowners can vote and should do so since they have an interest in their soil conservation district.

Zone 4 is all land that lies north of Highway 287 to the river, west of Highway 70, north of Clarendon and east to the county line. Your present supervisor is W. P. Doherty of Hedley.

The Agent points out that soil conservation districts are political sub-divisions of the State of Texas and by law are charged with the responsibility of carrying out a soil and water conservation program in their district. Through them such items as technical service, equipment, leadership in small watershed projects and many other services are provided to cooperating landowners.

If you are a qualified voter it is of the greatest importance to the district and supervisors, who direct the programs, that all eligible voters participate in the October 2nd election, states Breedlove.

Sabin Oral Vaccine To Be Administered Sunday, October 7th

Donley County has an opportunity seldom before presented to a community . . . to take another step towards completely eliminating poliomyelitis.

Since the introduction of the Salk vaccine in 1955, the incidence of polio has been cut back sharply, until the epidemic in south Texas this year. Even one case of a crippled child, or of a stricken parent is one case too many.

To help wipe out polio for good, the Junior Chamber of Commerce has organized a drive to provide the Sabin oral polio vaccine at no charge other than a modest donation to cover the cost of the drug. The Sabin vaccine requires no injection. It need only be swallowed. Type I will be administered Sunday, October 7th, at the Donley County Courthouse between 2:00 and 5:00 p.m.

We urge all citizens of our community to get behind this drive and wipe out polio. Because of the epidemic of polio in south Texas this year, it is important that all persons in Donley County receive this vaccine whether they have previously received the Salk vaccine or not. Later this fall, with the influx of migratory workers from the valley into this area, the real danger of polio exists.

Sabin oral vaccine Type II, scheduled Sunday, November 18th. Type III has not been scheduled as yet. Circle these dates on your calendar and come to help wipe out polio.

Moisture Totals .82 Inch Past Week

According to our official weather observer, we have received a total of .82 inch moisture since Wednesday of last week. This put smiles on the faces of wheat growers and ranchers but the cotton farmer wasn't quite so jubilant as the cotton and grain harvest is near at hand in a big way. The rain was of a soaker type and went on into the ground with very little run-off.

Tuesday of this week was the coolest day of the current season so far with a low high of 65 degrees and Tuesday night was the coolest with a reading of 54 degrees.

JAYCEES TO SPONSOR GRAIN FOR BOYS RANCH PROGRAM

The Clarendon Jaycees will join the other Jaycees of Area I in an effort to get enough grain for the boys at Boys Ranch to feed their cattle through the winter months.

It was brought to the attention of the Jaycees at the last Area I meeting that these boys had a hard time getting enough feed for their cattle through the winter months and Area I Jaycees voted to make this their annual project.

Pledge cards are being passed out to farmers at this time and as soon as they harvest their grain, the amount of grain they pledge will be left at one of the local elevators until all pledges are in, at which time the local club will take it to Boys Ranch.

PRIZE SHOOT SUNDAY AT COUNTRY CLUB

The first prize trap shoot of the season will be held Sunday afternoon at the Clarendon Country Club Trap Range at 1:30 o'clock. Prizes of ham, bacon and other items will be given. Ammunition will be available at the range for those who want it. Everyone is invited to participate.

HAT MAKING CLASS TO MEET TONIGHT

The Hat Making Class will meet in the Clarendon College art room 109 Thursday night, Sept. 27, starting at 6 p.m. for the organization of the class.

The Clarendon High School Bronchos are braced to meet another big team Friday night when the Class AA Shamrock team invades Broncho Stadium. Game time is eight o'clock.

Both Shamrock and Clarendon have won one game while losing two this season. The Shamrock team holds a 19 to 0 win over the McLean Tigers and have lost to Class AAA Phillips, 28 to 0 and to Class AA Childress, 38 to 8. Phillips is a perennial power in Panhandle football circles, and this year Childress is sporting one of the better Class AA teams in the state. So, the Irish can still be plenty tough although losing to those two teams.

Shamrock is reported to be big and fairly fast. They will outweigh the Bronchos 28 pounds per man in the starting line-up. The Bronchos are getting off to a slow start although they have played two good teams. They have lost to Gruver, 42 to 12, and to Panhandle, 32 to 6, and won over Class B Claude, 23 to 6. Both Gruver and Panhandle are still undefeated after three weeks of play.

Coach James was pleased at least to some extent with his Bronchos last week against Panhandle. It was the middle of the second quarter before the big Panthers could score. Also, the passing of Dwight McAnear looked much better since the veteran quarterback has apparently recovered from an early shoulder injury. Teddy Graham also did some fine punting.

Homecoming Slated At CHS September 29

Coffee and donuts will be served by the Student Council at this time.

For separate class or group meetings space will be available and information regarding these meetings will be posted on the bulletin board near the registration desk.

A business meeting and election of officers will be held at 3 p.m. At this meeting classes of 1918 and 1928 will be honored. The meeting will be held in the College Auditorium.

The banquet will be held in the new school cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. This is an hour later than first planned. Tickets will be $1.25 per person. Following the banquet there will be a dance in the College Gymnasium. Music will be provided by the Charlie Grimes Orchestra of Amarillo with admission $1 per person. There will be free baby sitting at the Methodist Church.

FARM SALES UP --
NET INCOME DOWN

COLLEGE STATION — Farmers, like other businessmen, in recent years have increased their gross sales but have received less net income, reports C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

The nation's farmers have increased gross sales since 1945 by 46 percent but their net income has declined more than 9 percent, Bates adds. Gross income in 1945 was $25.7 billion and production expenses were $12.9 billion. Net income equaled $12.8 billion. By 1960, gross income was up to $37.9 billion but expenses had jumped to $26.3 billion, leaving a net of only $11.6 billion.

Farmers have sought to improve their situation, says Bates, by shifting the inputs or "mix" of production resources. They have substituted machinery for labor. In 1940, U. S. farmers spent $1.75 on machinery and buildings for each dollar spent on hired help. By 1960, they spending $2.77 on these items for each dollar spent for hired labor.

Another effort to boost efficiency is reflected in the amounts spent for fertilizer and lime. By 1960, U. S. farmers were spending 4.8 times more for these items than was spent in 1940. This means a great increase in quantity since prices for fertilizer and lime have increased only 50 percent.

Although comparable figures are not available on farmer expenditures for pesticides and herbicides, the trend has been sharply upward, says the specialist. These inputs have tended to keep down the cost of food to consumers, he adds.

The question is often raised, points out Bates, why do farm units continue to increase in size? A major factor behind the pressure for larger units is the use of machinery and the narrower margin received on products marketed, explains the specialist. Today's farmer must invest three to four times as much capital in fixed assets as was needed in 1940 to obtain net returns on a comparable level and the price-cost squeeze is continuing, he adds.

OCHEYEDAN, IOWA, PRESS: "Official word has it that the United States government wound up its 1962 bookkeeping year with a budget deficit of $700 million less than estimated in January. The final figure was $6.3 billion — that's more than the entire budget of 25 years ago."

Return To Jeffersonian Concept Of Constitutional Government

This week our great Nation celebrates the anniversary of an event that motivates the very lifeblood of each of us — the adoption of the Constitution 175 years ago. As a mark of profound respect, I addressed myself to my colleagues in the House in a short message which I repeat here for your thought and comment.

The observance today of the 175th Anniversary of the Adoption of our Constitution is reason sufficient for jubilation and I wholeheartedly rejoice with every free American on this great occasion. But as I reflect upon the real significance of this event, my heart tells me that we, as legislators, must redouble our efforts to return to the true concepts of the Constitution. I speak not as a Democrat but as an American to Americans. Patriotism is universal and transcends all narrow partisan confines. Let us unite in marking this day with a vow to heed the danger signals that are so prevalent today and resolve to restore the principles of constitutional government expounded by Thomas Jefferson, one of the founders of our great American democracy.

Historians regard Jefferson as the sculptor of the first ten amendments which we commonly refer to today as the Bill of Rights — THE REAL KEY TO AMERICANISM!!!!!!

Otherwise this great document has been amended 13 times. But just a few weeks ago, right here in this Chamber, under parliamentary procedure which blocked free and open debate, another amendment to the Constitution was approved. But approved, I might point out, over the protestations of members like I who believed that the abolition of the poll tax was just one more abrogation of states rights — and another insult to Thomas Jefferson who said, as long ago as 1825, "I see . . . with the deepest affliction, the rapid strides with which the Federal branches of our government is advancing towards the usurpation of all the rights reserved to the States . . ."

This is not to suggest that I have lost faith in the Constitution nor in the American people. On the contrary, the Constitution has withstood the fire and brimstone of practically daily attack from both within and without and, I am proud to say, it stands today as the bedrock of the government of free man. It is the perfect answer to Communism and any other ideology of those who would subject mankind to slavery.

The theme of my protest is rather that "the people, to whom all authority belongs" as Jefferson put it, are being robbed. The authority of the people, according to the Constitution, should be voiced through duly elected representatives to Congress. But the prerogative of the Congress, if we are not more prudent, will be further encroached upon by the Executive and the Judicial branches. Did we not have repeated examples of this piracy during the reign of the Reorganization Plans when the Executive Branch sought repeatedly to vest adjudicative powers in civil service employees?

And the Judiciary Branch has sought by "constructions" to usurp the rights reserved to the States. Certain decisions of the Supreme Court in recent years have absolutely nullified many State laws by the doctrine of Federal preemption which is predicated upon the supremacy clause contained in the Constitution. I do not propose that we alter that. However, there is an area of concurrent legislative jurisdiction where both the Federal government and the State government may constitutionally legislate and where both a Federal and state law may be effective at the same time. It is from this area that the Supreme Court by its "constructions" is evicting the jurisdiction of the States.

Thus it remains for us, the Legislative Branch, to protect the people whom we represent and whose rights are thus being usurped. This we have attempted to do and will continue to pursue either by Congressman Howard Smith's bill, HR 3, the States Rights bill, or any other proper legislative means. To correct this trend, I have introduced H.J. Res. 70, which proposes an amendment to the Constitution to empower Congress, by statute, to limit the authority of the courts of the United States to determine that statutes of the United States or of any State are repugnant to the Constitution.

If left unchecked, the Supreme Court can stray far afield of the powers given to it under the Constitution. Should it do so, and many recent decisions would indicate a definite trend in that direction, we may witness proof of the soundness of the fears of Thomas Jefferson when he warned, "... the germ of dissolution of our federal government is in the constitution of the judiciary . . . a . . . body . . . working like gravity by night and by day, gaining a little to-day and little tomorrow, and advancing its noiseless step like a thief, over the fields of jurisdiction, until all shall be usurped from the States, and the government of all be consolidated into one."

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

The following notes got lost this Summer in the shuffle. "The Cactus and the Crown" by Catherine Gavin is a novel about two Americans, Sally and Andrew Lorimer who leave the ruined South, after the Civil War, to live in Mexico.

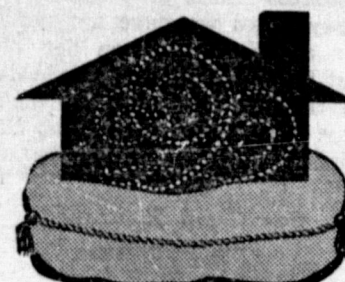

They are barely settled, when friends, and the fact that Andrew is a doctor, bring them into contact with the ill fated Archduke Maximilian, his wife Carlota and a French soldier Pierre. From that time on all five lives are for better or worse interwoven not to be broken until Carlota goes insane and Maximilian is executed. Quoting Quoting from a review: "The experiences of Andrew, Sally and Pierre in this troubled country propel them into intimate relationship with its people and its problems and the results is a powerful drama which conveys an extraordinarily vivid picture Mexico. Here are Mexico City, Cuernavaca, Puebla, San Miguel Allende, Vera Cruz — places as vital and colorful today as they were in these turbulent years. It is a story rich in history and rich in the personal dreams and conflicts which marked the making of a nation."

Catherine Gavin's zeal for historical authenticity need not scare you and keep you from reading the book, as her history blends in so completely you do not realize you are getting facts as they actually happened along with a tense dramatic piece of fiction. Too many of us have to have history read like fiction or we will have no part of it. Author Gavin gives her readers tense fiction with plenty of history to boot.

More and more people from this country are spending their vacations in Mexico. There are of others have started to sag and sigh: new flush and dry rocker panels under the doors to guard against rusting . . . self-adjusting brakes . . . Delcotron generator for longer battery life. If you ever wondered why Chevrolet leads its field, a drive in this '63 should answer all your questions.

GO CHEVY II for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

'63 CHEVY II NOVA SPORT COUPE

Hard as it may be to believe, this year's Chevy II is better, better than last year's and better than anything in its class. It combines all the new easy-care features of the big Chevrolet with its own wonderful attributes of parkable size, four- or six-cylinder fuel economy and interiors that'd do justice to cars with twice its price and half its charm.

GO CORVAIR for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

'63 CORVAIR MONZA CONVERTIBLE

Change it? Calm yourself, nobody's going to mess with a winner like this one! We did add self-adjusting brakes and a more fully aluminized muffler; interiors and outside trim are refined a bit, but the rest is pure Corvair with all the over-the-road goodness that implies. Oh yes, we changed the taillights so all those people you pass will know you're driving a '63.

small ad in a Texas farm magazine. The result was not staggering except for the fact that one lady, Mrs. Bertha G. Hayes of 307 No. 4th Street in Temple, Texas, ordered a lone copy. Since that time she has re-ordered dozens of times for gifts. On top of that I enjoy her encouraging letters. But this week she writes that her home is to be sold. From the description including the pecan trees, the fireplace and the like, it sounds like a house that has all the makings of a home. "It takes a lot of living in a house to make a home," and we'll bet the words of wisdom could well have been spoken about this home. Write to her, if interested . . .

A note this week from our Childress friend Miss Ruth Fite. Many times we have mentioned her as she lives upon her bed just inside a big picture window on the south side of the highway. She didn't say about the window but the family has recently moved 5 blocks east of the old address to 805 Avenue F Northwest. To the first reader who writes us as to the picture window we will acknowledge the information by sending along a little gift. Not a large gift and only to the first letter received. Ruth has been bedfast for a long time . . . Still browsing through our mail . . .

Providing fun for the whole family, and individuality for Mom and Dad, the top offering in Ford's 1963 station wagon line, the Country Squire, will have optional bucket seats. A nine-passenger car, the Squire has the only forward-facing third seat in the low-priced car field, and one of the widest tailgate openings in the industry—more than 50 inches.

Described as "the most service free standard-size American car ever produced," the 1963 Ford Galaxie features complete re-styling, a new 260-cubic-inch Challenger V-8 engine, 36,000-mile major lubrication intervals and 6,000-mile minor lubrication intervals, and "cushion link" suspension. Through use of improved lubricants, a complete "run-in" of each engine while it is being electronically analyzed, and an engine flush procedure, Ford has been able to eliminate the historic 1,000-mile inspection on all of its 1963 cars, except the three van-type vehicles in the Falcon line.

Last week we wrote about growing old. Our first vote for the person whom we think has set the most wonderful example of handling the years without growing old would be Miss Laura V. Hamner whose address when home is the Herring Hotel in Amarillo. This week we had a wonderful letter from this grand person. It was both encouraging and full of good advice. Among other things she wrote: "The only thing that old age has done for me mentally, as I see it, is to rob me of the ability to remember names." Note; just as she mailed the letter she was taking off for Alabama.

Miss Mary Vincent who writes from Cardinal Cottages in North Ferrisburg, Vermont, wants to know if we still write the funny papers. She saw our column in the issue or so of the Handicapped's World which we helped edit. But, this is the first person to compare our writings with a funny paper . . . Uncle Zeb will want all this credit to go to his handsome picture . . .

Along this same line one reader whose name we will not for a good reason mention wrote recently that in his opinion we should change the heading to our column. His idea was for something a bit more serious. More in line with the deeper thoughts which we sometimes try to write about. But, how could we? . . . For some 16 years we have written under this heading. Now, even a book with this name and cover . . . We like to get mail anyway so why don't each of you write in your ideas. We won't promise to use your letter or take all the advice, but we will treasure your opinions and we would in all seriousness like to know what you the readers think.

Uniform Distress
Signals Adopted
By Forty-Six States

Have you ever been in distress beside the roadway with a flat tire, out of gas or any of the other numerous things that seem to plague us as motorists on our highways?

"Forty-six states including Texas, have adopted uniform distress signals to be used by motorists in trouble. The problem now is to educate the public to their meaning and use," Major Harry Hutchison, Commander of Region No. 5 of the Department of Public Safety said today.

The American Association of State Highway Officials is responsible for crystallizing and standardizing the following rules.

In an emergency on freeways, whenever possible, drivers should stop their cars on the right hand shoulder well away from the thru traffic lane.

At night the tail lights and the interior lights of the stopped vehicle should be turned on. If the vehicle is equipped with a turn signaling indicator having an "emergency" switch, it should be turned on so that both the right and left turn signals will flash simultaneously. Where a disabled vehicle is stopped in such a position that part or all of a traffic lane is occupied, portable warning devices should be placed to the rear of the stopped vehicle to notify oncoming drivers of the traffic hazard.

Whenever help is needed, a white cloth or handkerchief should be displayed from the stopped vehicle so that it readily can be seen from other vehicles on the highway. For example, the white cloth may be hung from the window next to the driver's seat so that it is conspicuous to passing motorists. In addition, when practical, the hood of the car should be raised.

While waiting for help, motorists should remain within their cars or nearby in a safe position off the traveled roadway. They should not stand or walk in or near traffic lanes, or leave their cars unattended.

After observing a distress signal, passing motorists should notify the nearest police, highway, or automotive service official at the first convenient opportunity, giving the location of the motorist in need of assistance.

"If all motorists will remember and use these rules," Major Hutchison said, "much of the safety hazard now existing will be eliminated. Too many people are being killed or injured in Texas because they don't know what to do when they get into trouble out on the highway," he concluded.

ORANGE JUICE & PEARS
HEAD SEPT. FOODS LIST

COLLEGE STATION — Planning September menus can be easier if Texas homemakers take advantage of the abundance of current farm produced foods, suggests the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The official list of September plentiful foods is an excellent guide for best buys in the back-to-school month, the Service says. The list is developed by the Agricultural Marketing Service in cooperation with producers and the food trade.

Frozen orange juice, fresh pears, fluid milk, grapes, late summer vegetables and salad oils make up the list and all are in good supply this month. Grocers will probably feature these foods so that consumers may take advantage of their abundance.

An ideal item for school-day breakfast is one of the many frozen orange juices on the market this fall. Fresh pears and grapes offer unlimited possibilities for adding appeal to fruit cups, salads and desserts, and make delicious additions to school lunch boxes.

The current abundance of fluid milk is a good reason for serving it with all meals and snacks. Fresh vegetables add color, flavor and nutrition to all menus, the Service says.

Also in huge supply this year are finished vegetable oils like salad oils and cooking oils and baking and frying fats.

SHOWERS SCATTER NORTH ZONE DOVES

AUSTIN—A quick glance across the state via reports from I&E officers for the Texas Game and Fish Commission indicates that the dove hunting situation in the Northern Zone isn't too good.

From Tyler comes the report that the largest concentration of doves seems to be along the Red River. The numbers gradually diminish the farther south you go. When the rains began a few days ago there were some doves concentrating in numbers in some areas. But with the rains, even these birds have scattered. There is still some fair hunting and many hunters who find a hot spot are getting their limits. The birds are small.

Dignity is one thing that cannot be preserved in alcohol.

Waco reports conditions in that area and along the northern section of the state are about the same as those in East Texas. There are no county-wide concentrations. The flights are spotted with the best hunting around large fields of sunflowers, croton and water holes in the late afternoon.

Word comes from San Angelo that up in the Panhandle area it was poor before the rains and worse now. It is estimated that there was a 20 percent reduction in population from last year. Last year was down 20 percent, placing the population about 40 percent below the good hunting level. There is some fair hunting along the Canadian River.

Generally, all reports indicate that up in the Northern Zone offers some fair shooting if a person is willing to wait the birds out. The large doves from the northern states haven't moved into the state yet, and they aren't expected until there is a change in the weather in those states. This shouldn't be long, so look for some better hunting.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION IT CUMBERLAND, MD., CITIZEN: "We have mortgaged the wealth and fruits of labor of our forebearers who worked so hard for themselves and our free way of life. Yes, we have mortgaged our wealth and our children's children's wealth and work. Now the question is, 'How long can one continue such a policy without bankruptcy and dire results?'"

We are telling the Nation's industrial leaders that...

EVERYTHING IS... "GO!"

...in this West Texas area

Because the space age we live in is a fast moving period of business and industrial expansion, we are working hard to see that this area gets its share.

We advertise the area's industrial advantages in national publications, and send factual mailing pieces to selected lists of business leaders. The Wall Street Journal advertisement and the colorful area folder shown above are current examples of this material.

In addition, our Area Development Representatives make periodical trips to the North and East, for personal contacts with these business executives.

WTU is enthusiastically engaged in this continuing program because we are convinced the Center of the Southwest faces GROWTH UNLIMITED.

We are backing this belief with a multi-million dollar expansion program of our own to serve more people, more businesses, more industries.

Panhandle Panthers Drop Bronchos, 32-6

The big Panhandle Panthers turned back the Clarendon Bronchos at Panhandle last Friday night by a score of 32 to 6. The Panthers outweighed the Bronchos at least 20 pounds per man and showed several fast backs as they ground out the victory.

The Bronchos were unable to move on the ground against the Panthers as they were able to pick up only a scant 16 yards rushing during the game. However, one bright spot in the Broncho attack was their passing which has been lacking in the other games this season. They picked up their touchdown on a 65 yard pass and run play from Dwight McAnear to Glenn Judd and in all, completed five of 11 passing attempts for a total of 125 yards in the air.

It was midway through the second quarter before the Panthers could score on the lighter Bronchos. The Bronchos were forced to kick from deep in their own territory and the Panthers brought the ball back to Clarendon's 32 yard line. A penalty against the Bronchos set the ball on the 17 yard line and the Panthers scored five plays later when David Slagle plunged over from the 1-yard line. A few plays later Panhandle recovered a Broncho fumble on the Clarendon 35 yard line. A 34-yard pass put the ball on the Broncho 1-yard line where quarterback Bill Addington plunged it over. The Bronchos had put up a gallant fight but found themselves behind, 16 to 0, at the half.

The Panthers got their third touchdown in the third quarter on a 14 yard left end run by Addington and closed out the scoring in the fourth period with a 5-yard touchdown run by Mike Eklund. They made all their two-point conversions good. The Bronchos got their score in the early minutes of the fourth quarter.

The Panthers held a big edge in all the statistics except the passing department. The Panthers gained 235 yards rushing and completed four of 12 passing attempts for 43 yards. They made 17 first downs as compared to Clarendon's 6 and lost only 40 yards in penalties to Clarendon's 70.

Rep. Walter Rogers Proposes Amendment

Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Texas) this week proposed an amendment to the Constitution requiring the advice and consent of the House of Representatives in the making of treaties.

Under Section 2 of Article II of the Constitution, the President is granted power to make treaties provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur.

The Rogers amendment would call for further consideration by also requiring ratification of a treaty by a simple majority of the House of Representatives.

"Such provision would more properly reflect the will of the people," Rogers said, "and would place the responsibility for treaties directly with their duly elected representatives where it should rest."

Aside from the "additional and much-needed safe-guard" the Rogers amendment seeks to provide, the Texas Congressman emphasized the value of his amendment in settling the dispute created by the so-called "Bricker Amendment" with relation to the scope of treaties.

Mr. and Mrs. Javan Tucker returned to their home in Waurika, Okla., last week after spending ten days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tucker.

College Students Elect Officers

General student body officers were: president, Alvin Scott of Quanah; vice-president, Keith Dishman, Lelia Lake; secretary-treasurer, Bobby McBrayer of Clarendon and reporter, Andra Bradshaw of Clarendon.

Sophomore officers are, president, Neel Carter of Clarendon; vice-president, Eddie Hunt of Dodson; secretary-treasurer, Susie Romo of Wellington and reporter, Norma Self of Clarendon.

Freshman class officers elected were: president, Keith Barbee of Clarendon; vice-president, Wayne Mann of Clarendon; secretary-treasurer, Cleta Koonitz of Clarendon and reporter, Nona Ruth Beck of McLean.

Mae Hollowell of Abilene and Lela Modrell of Sweetwater visited Wednesday with Mrs. A. O. Hefner. Both are nieces of the late Mr. Hefner.

Sam Jacobs spent the week end with homefolks. He is attending West Texas State College at Canyon this year.
