SWISS POLICEMEN CLEAR PATH FOR SOLZHENITSYN

Writer Arrives In Zurich By Train

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Alexander Solzhenitsyn arrived in Zurich by train today, and six Swiss policemen had to clear a path for him, his lawyer and a woman interpreter through more than 200 newsmen and well-wishers at the railroad station.

The roar and applause of the crowd, mixed with the screams of women who were shoved to the ground by the surging crowd, and a smile on Solzhenitsyn's face quickly faded. Solzhenitsyn made a half-hour stop in Basel before arriving in Zurich.

The Russian Nobel Prize winner, who was kicked out of the Soviet Union for his latest book about Stalinist labor camps, had spent two nights in the rural West German village of Langenbroich. Awaiting the exiled Soviet writer in the Swiss financial center were the large fortune his books have accumulated for him in the West and the voluminous records of lawyer Fritz Heeb's dealings on Solzhenitsyn's behalf with publishers in Europe and America for the past five years.

It was not known how long Solzhenitsyn planned to stay in Switzerland. But Heeb indicated earlier that he would probably settle in Scandinavia. The Paris newspaper France-Soir estimated that the writer has amassed at least $6 million in royalties from the publication of his books outside the Soviet bloc.

Heeb has said that Solzhenitsyn told him two years ago that he wanted his royalties used for humanitarian purposes inside the Soviet Union. But that was in the days when the writer thought Soviet law protected him from expulsion and that he would live out his life in Russia.

Solzhenitsyn talked by telephone with his wife in Moscow after he arrived in West Germany Wednesday, and they had another conversation for 25 minutes Thursday night, friends said. But his host in West Germany, novelist Heinrich Boll, told newsmen today

Mrs. Solzhenitsyn would remain in Moscow until her husband finds a permanent home.

The family includes the couple's three sons, Mrs. Solzhenitsyn's 11-year-old son by a previous marriage, and her widowed mother. Friends of the family thought the Soviet government would let all of them leave.

Boll said Solzhenitsyn spent most of Thursday conferring with his attorney at Boll's country home in Langenbroich and now wants to decide in Zurich on his future moves and where he will eventually settle.

"He wants to gain clarity about his entire situation," Boll said. "During his two days in Langenbroich, he used the time to recover physically and relax psychologically while making his first direct contacts in the West."

MEET RICHARD M. NIXON — Richard M. Nixon, above, 19, of Fontana, Calif., says he has learned to take the teasing he gets from sharing the same name with the President in stride. His name causes him to be the butt of a constant round of jokes. "It isn't even funny, anymore, but I try to be polite and smile once in a while," says Nixon. His middle name is Mark.

Escaped Convict Is Kidnap Leader?

BERKELEY (AP) — Authorities are reported investigating the possibility that an escaped convict is the leader of the terrorist group which kidnaped Patricia Hearst.

The San Francisco Chronicle and television station KQED said Thursday night that the man is Donald David DeFreeze, 30, who escaped from California's Soledad Prison last March 5 while serving a term for robbery, assault and possession of stolen checks.

Both the newspaper and the station said DeFreeze is the "Cinque" of the Hearst kidnap case.

PRIME SUSPECT

However, the FBI said DeFreeze "is not a prime suspect at this time."

DeFreeze is "one of several people who are known to have used the alias 'Cinque,'" said John Kelley, assistant in charge of the San Francisco FBI office. Cinque was the name of a leader of a slave ship revolt in the 19th century.

The Chronicle said the man who called himself "Cinque" in a tape recorded message to the Hearst family on Tuesday was actually the leader and founder of the Symbionese Liberation Army.

Miss Hearst, 19, was dragged from her apartment near the University of California on Feb. 4. Her execution was threatened by "Cinque" unless Miss Hearst's father finances a huge food giveaway for California's needy. This was called preliminary to negotiations for her release. The cost of such a food distribution has been estimated at as high as $400 million.

The girl's father is Randolph A. Hearst, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner and chairman of the Hearst Corp.

'CONTRACT'

The Chronicle said the black man named in its copyright story had astonished local long-time protest groups by offering a "contract" to kill Oakland's black school superintendent, Dr. Marcus Foster. They refused, the story said. Foster was killed in a barrage of cyanide-filled bullets last November.

Two white men were arrested and charged with the killings and are now being held at San Quentin Prison.

The Chronicle and KQED reports came after a day that saw a transcontinental clash between U.S. Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe and the FBI's position in San Francisco over basic strategy in the case. At one point, Hearst called the nation's top prosecutor "damn near irresponsible." Saxbe shortly backed off from his remarks.

SHOOT PLACE UP

Saxbe had said in a Washington news conference that authorities would be alerted if they learned where the cad was being held and didn't attempt to rescue her.

Hearst said angrily that Saxbe's statement "that you're going to bust in and shoot the place up from Washington is damn near irresponsible. Mr. Saxbe is not the father of Patricia."

Saxbe said later, "I wholeheartedly subscribe to procedures being pursued by the FBI on its investigative endeavors in this most delicate case."

Some Service Station Operators Close Down

By The Associated Press

Angered by federal fines for catering to regular customers and a federal price freeze which they say cuts profits, some service station operators have closed their stations in several states and threatened shutdowns in others.

The situation was most serious in the metropolitan Norfolk, Va., area, where an estimated 20 service stations out of 300-400 opened today at the start of what some dealers said would be a four-day strike.

Hundreds of commuters lined up at the few open stations and still others waited in vain at pumps that remained closed.

The area has a population of nearly one million persons. Virginia Gov. Mills E. Godwin was urged to declare the area to be in "a state of emergency" as city officials in Virginia Beach met to discuss the situation. Bill Grimes, speaking for the Chesapeake Chamber of Commerce, said federal and state officials "don't know how serious this is. We've got a genuine emergency."

In Waterbury, Conn., where dealers closed down 54 stations Wednesday and Thursday, stations reopened to long lines of customers.

Protests there and in other states showed strong opposition to a ban on special sales to regular customers and to the federal price freeze which operators claim is strangling profits.

Seven gasoline retailer groups meeting in Fresno, Calif., representing 3,400 of the state's 20,000 service station operators, said they would take a "vacation" March 22 unless they are granted a gasoline price increase.

The 300-member Southern California Retailers Association said it was planning a shutdown of service stations for Feb. 24.

About 2,000 service station dealers in Washington and Oregon issued an ultimatum to the federal government saying they would pump their tanks dry if their demands were not met by midnight Monday.

Liberace's Gems Stolen

DALLAS (AP) — Thieves raided the hotel room of pianist Liberace during the night and made off with valuable and irreplaceable jewelry, his manager, Seymour Heller, said today.

Police acknowledged they were investigating a burglary at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, where the musician has a 20th floor room, and it involved "a very large loss."

Heller placed the value of missing items, which he described largely as gifts from admirers, at "more than $75,000." He said they were stolen from a locked case between 7 p.m. and 12:30 a.m. while Liberace was playing a concert at Southern Methodist University.

Newsman Arrested

McKINNEY, Tex. (AP) — Two newsmen for KDFW-TV of Dallas were arrested today when they attempted to film a session of the Collin County Commissioners Court.

The court has been at odds for some weeks over the Texas Open Meeting Law.

Arrested and accused of contempt of court were Bob Phillips and Jim Carroll.

County Judge W.G. Proctor ordered the two to pay a $25 fine immediately. They refused to pay without due process of law, Phillips said. They then were arrested by two sheriff's deputies.

Ballard Trial Will Wind Up In Lamesa

GARDEN CITY — District Judge R. W. Caton Thursday afternoon heard Whitmer Jean Ballard, 48, plead innocent to robbery of the Steven Currie home on Dec. 2, 1970.

And the 118th District Judge ordered a change of venue to the 106th Judicial District in Lamesa. Judge George Hansard will preside, and District Attorney Bob Moore, Big Spring, will prosecute.

Ballard was returned from prison for the arraignment in Garden City Thursday. He is to be returned to the Texas Department of Corrections pending trial.

Building Permits Boom In January

Building permits for January totaled more than most full years in Big Spring, topping out at $4,570,075. This included the long awaited hospital permit of $4,500,000.

Last year January permits were also high at $1,039,159. That figure included an apartment complex.

February's listings show several new residences, including one filed by Douglas Bartosh, $25,000; Stanley Garrison, $30,000; Roy Beck, three at $15,500 each; and Heinz and Little, $31,000.

Trial Set For Accused Assassins Of Deputies

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — Jury selection begins Monday in the second murder trial here of two Dallas men who pleaded innocent Thursday to charges of having participated in the 1971 assassinations of three sheriff's deputies along the banks of the Trinity River.

200 JURORS

Rene Adolfo Guzman and Leonardo Ramos Lopez entered the pleas when arraigned before District Court Judge R.T. Scales following a 90-minute pre-trial hearing filled with motions from defense lawyers.

A panel of 200 prospective jurors was to be called beginning at 9 a.m. Monday. Another 100 veniremen were on standby.

The two men are specifically accused of the murder of Deputy A.J. Robertson on Feb. 15, 1971. It is the same charge on which they were found guilty and sentenced to the electric chair in a June 1971 trial.

That conviction here was overturned by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals because of improper remarks to the jury made by Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade when he referred to the number of officers killed in the United States the week the three Texas deputies were slain.

LONELY AREA

The two men are accused of capturing five deputies who had gone to a Dallas residence on an investigation.

According to the state, the two men took the deputies to a lonely bottom area along the Trinity near Dallas and killed three of them. Those killed were William Do Reese, 30, of Rockwall; Samuel Infante, 32, of Irving; and Robertson, 59, of Waxahachie.

A fourth deputy, Wendell Dover of Ennis, was wounded. Deputy A.J. McCurley of Dallas got away and reported the massacre.

Scales, a Dallas judge, was assigned to 27th District Court here to preside at the trial.

He turned aside a number of motions from the defense at the Thursday hearing.

He denied a motion from each defendant to sever the trials. The men claimed testimony linking the other to the crime would prejudice each other's chances.

Adolfo Guzman's attorney, Patrick McDowell, cited testimony from the 1971 trial that said Ramos Lopez had tied the hands of the deputies, was seen with one of their guns and fired at Deputy Dover.

Ramos Lopez' attorney, Don Scoggins, cited testimony from the first trial that Lopez did not understand English, that it was Guzman who gave the orders and that Guzman directed the cars driven to the river bottom.

Scales also denied a motion to suppress evidence on the basis of faulty affidavits for arrest warrants.

Wholesale Prices Zip Up, Up, Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices boomed upward in January at the second highest monthly rate on record as the inflationary spiral stretched across the entire economy, the government said today.

Wholesale price rises mean that the higher costs will be translated into higher retail prices in the weeks ahead, as inflation shows no letup for the consumer.

Sharply higher wholesale costs for farm products, industrial commodities, consumer finished goods and fuels pushed the wholesale price index up by a seasonally adjusted 3.1 per cent, a rise exceeded only by the record 6.2 per cent of last August.

If January's rate is computed on an annual basis, it comes out to an annual rate of inflation of 37.2 per cent — 3.1 per cent a month for 12 months.

Wholesale prices, accelerating in the past few months, have risen at an annual rate of 32.3 per cent in the past three months, a record. In the past 12 months, they have gone up 20.8 per cent, the second highest rise for any 12-month period since October 1947.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said wholesale prices in January actually rose at a monthly rate of 3.5 per cent when usual seasonal influences are subtracted.

TEXAS Earthquake Centers In Panhandle

PERRYTON, Tex. (AP) — An earthquake centered in the Panhandle shook parts of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas today.

It "shook the rafters," said Mrs. Richard Burke of Perryton. The U.S. Geological Service said some walls were cracked.

No injuries were reported.

The Geological Service said the quake was located between Perryton and Borger. The seismograph center at Boulder, Colo., said the center was 10 miles south of Perryton.

It also was felt in Spearman, Pampa and Borger and surrounding Texas towns, and in Guyton, Goodwill and Hardesty, Okla., and Liberal, Kan. A man in Beaver, Okla., said the tremor caused dishes to rattle in his home and also resulted in a few minor cracks in the walls.

The Texas Safety Department set the time at 8:34 a.m. and said the quake lasted three or four seconds.

The Geological Service said the tremor registered between 4 and 4.5 on the Richter scale.

The Richter scale is a measure of ground motion recorded on a seismograph. Every increase of one number means a 10-fold increase in magnitude. A quake with a reading of four can cause moderate damage and one of five considerable damage.

Earthquakes are infrequent in Texas. They have occurred in 1925, 1930, 1951, 1966 and 1971. They have caused little damage.

Mail Fraud Juror Dies

DALLAS (AP) — One of the jurors died Thursday during a lunch break in deliberations on a verdict on a mail fraud case involving 16 counts.

U.S. District Court Judge Sarah Hughes learned that the jury of six men and six women had reached guilty verdicts on three of the counts and was still weighing the others.

As a result, Judge Hughes accepted the guilty findings against the defendant, Dallas broker, Bryan Wilson Taylor, and dismissed the remaining counts. Sentencing will be later.

Juror W. T. Misenhimer, 66, a retired motor freight operator, suffered a fatal heart attack moments after members of the panel separated for lunch.

Rochester Reveals Plans For Major Sub-Division

ODESSA — Details for a $100 million sub-division, to be identified as University Gardens, have been announced by real estate developer Louis Rochester.

The project will be situated on a 418-acre parcel of land immediately south of the University of Texas of the Permian Basin.

Rochester said the land purchase is the biggest single real estate transaction in Odessa's history. The price, however, was not revealed. Plans for the development include an enclosed shopping center, two high-rise apartment buildings, other apartments, a quick-food service area, townhouses, condominiums, two motels, a church, a site for a grade school, a multi-story of-

Team Enters NIRA Rodeo

Members of the Howard College Rodeo Team will compete Feb. 21-24 in the first spring rodeo sponsored by Nation of the Southwest Region to be held at Fort Stockton. Byron Hedges, the local team's sponsor, said cash prizes would be given and 20 colleges from New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas would compete. The rodeo is sponsored by Alpine's Sul Ross University.

From Howard College, Jerry Davis of Midland will compete in bull and bareback riding. Rawleigh McCullough of Big Spring will compete in bull riding. Scott Welch of Midland will compete in calf roping. John Hawk of Big Spring will compete in bull riding, bareback and bronc riding. Randy Davis of Midland will rise saddle broncs.

Hedges also said Miss Proctor "is currently leading the region in the barrel race and Rawleigh McCullough is leading the region in bull riding."

LOCAL REALTORS THING Bigger Cities Benefit More From Decision

In January, the government decided to release $6.6 billion for home construction in a government National Mortgage Association Tandem Plan through reduced mortgage interest rates on FHA and VA loans. Most local realtors and contractors agree this will have little effect on Big Spring housing.

The plan should reduce interest rates on government housing loans from 8 1/2 to 8 1/4 percent. But one realtor said, "It's still a high interest rate. It'll help big towns quicker than smaller towns, because you need volume in contracting to take advantage of it."

A contractor also said, "They're having some kinds of difficulty with it. It's unrealistic, and it's not going to make a bit of difference here."

Another local contractor, Keny Thompson, said in an interview last month that the program held little promise for Big Spring housing.

"All this does is make payments less over a 30-year period on a house on FHA and VA loans, and it has nothing to do with commercial loans. I can't see it affecting house construction costs. It may, but we've had a reduction in house construction due to higher cost and more apartment competition. If they'd do something about the high cost of materials, it would help. A house costs a third more now than it did five years ago. The program shouldn't figure here too much. There aren't that many government-loan houses built here," Thompson said.

DEATHS

Unlike at tournament bridge, overtricks are of relatively little importance at rubber bridge. Making or breaking the contract is the paramount concern. On today's hand from a rubber bridge game in Philadelphia, West was aware of this fact and declarer was not. The result was a huge gain for the defenders.

When South rebid his hearts at the three-level, North decided that his doubleton ten was adequate support. Since he had every side suit controlled, North felt that his side had good play for six hearts, and got there by the shortest route.

Sitting West was "Skippy" Becker, brother of B. Jay Becker who is one of the game's all-time great players. He led the queen of diamonds, taken by dummy's ace. The ten of hearts was run, and Becker decided that the time had come for drastic action. He followed smoothly with the four of hearts! Impressed with his success, declarer repeated the heart finesse. Becker won the queen of hearts and shifted to a low spade.

Declarer saw no need to risk the contract with a spade finesse—after all, his losing spade could be discarded on dummy's fourth club. Therefore, he rose with the ace of spades and tried to get back to his hand to draw the outstanding trump by leading a club to the ace. West ruffed and cashed the king of spades for down two.

Had the queen of hearts been in the East hand, declarer's line of play would have brought in all 13 tricks. However, once both the defenders followed to the ten of hearts, declarer had a sure-fire play for 12 tricks. Only three trumps were still outstanding, and declarer could afford to lose one trump trick and still make his contract, for he had no other losers. The winning play was to ignore the second finesse in trumps in favor of laying down the ace and king. If the queen does not drop, declarer concedes a trick to the lady, and claims the balance and his slam.

As the cards lie, declarer would then have made all the tricks. But that does not detract from a fine defensive maneuver—Becker gave declarer the chance to go wrong, and that worthy seized it with both hands!

Tommy Lockhart On Dean's List

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Lockhart, Gail Route, have received word that their son, Tommy Lockhart, is on the dean's distinguished honor list for the fall semester at Baylor University in Waco. Tommy is among the select group making 3.80 or more on a 4.0 scale and carrying 15 or more hours. He is a 1971 graduate of Borden High School and is a junior major in biology and art.

Fryrear Suggests Means For Minimizing Erosion

Conditions that could lead to severe wind erosion are expected to occur in the Southern Great Plains on an estimated 67 days during 1974, with the worst during March and April, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture scientist here.

Donald W. Fryrear, agricultural engineer with USDA's Agricultural Research Service, Southern Plains Sandyland Field Station here, said there has been little rainfall since September and the soil is dry. He said the top one or two inches of the soil is loose and powdery and is thus highly susceptible to wind erosion.

The pressure for all-out agricultural production could result in thousands of acres of the highly wind erodible sandy soils of the region being plowed and planted to dryland cotton.

Such large-scale plowing of croplands coupled with present soil moisture conditions and a long dry period could prove catastrophic in his view. In addition to the damage caused to the land, blowing soil can block highways, reduce visibility and add to the maintenance costs of homes and industrial installations.

Fryrear said that if the dry soil must be tilled the recommended practice for the area is deep chiseling to bring large clods to the surface. The clods will make the surface rough and tend to break up the wind at ground surface thus reducing erosion. Chiseling should be 8 to 10 inches deep on about 20 inch centers.

In the cotton-growing areas of the Southern Plains, Fryrear recommends that cotton farmers not mow their stalks, but rather let them stand until tillage is necessary, then chisel without mowing. The unmowed stalks among the chisel clumps will aid in reducing the tendency of the soil to blow. If cotton gin trash is available, spreading it on the more erodible soils may also prove helpful, Fryrear said. He added that if the problem areas are treated first, there will be less tendency for the rest of the areas to blow.

Real Estate Book Adopted In State

Thirteen colleges and school systems already have adopted "Modern Real Estate Practice in Texas," published last fall as a text for their classes in real estate, according to Real Estate Education Company, Chicago, the publisher.

The 387-page volume is the first comprehensive textbook on real estate written with specific relationship to Texas law. Authors are Milton A. Morse, Jr., and Conway Taylor, Austin Realtors and college-level educators on real estate subjects. Howard College at Big Spring is among those adopting the text.

Dr. Edgar To Be Honored June 18

AUSTIN — Educators from all over Texas will honor the retiring State Commissioner of Education, Dr. J. W. Edgar, June 18 in Austin's municipal auditorium.

Edgar has announced his retirement effective June 30. He has served a quarter century as the state's first appointed commissioner of education under the Gilmer-Aikin school program established by the Legislature in 1949.

Edgar is a native Burnet County and began his teaching career in the rural schools of that county in 1923. He later was superintendent at Orange and Austin, from where he was chosen as state commissioner in 1950.

Revenues Off In January

Revenues were off somewhat in January for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, principally to a difference in returns from sales to oil field and industrial users.

Sales of $177,765 to municipal user were up some $3,000, but those of $145,793 to the oil companies were down by $27,400. Recreational income was steady at $8,925, making a total of $332,517 for January. This compared with $355,967 a year ago. SACROC was down by $31,000 and Sun Oil by $9,000.

Operating expenses, however, were down by $15,000, amounting to $105,150, most of this decrease due to not having to make a $21,000 payment to the retirement fund as was the case a year ago. Excess of income over expenditures was $227,337, down from $235,103 for January a year ago. This net revenue goes to provide for debt service and other indebted funds.

Revenues were based primarily on sale of 1,290,967,000 gallons of water, which was up by six million gallons over January a year ago. Of the total water billed, 444,666,000 gallons came from Lake Spence, 559,643,000 from Lake Thomas, and 113,926,000 from the Ward County well field.

4-H Club Views Holy Land Film

Films of his trip to the Holy Land were projected by Herb Smith, Forsan, and reports were heard on the community game night at the February meeting of the Gay Hill 4-H Club.

Jackie Buchanan treasurer, said the club realized $92.55 from the game night. New members introduced were Patsy and Vicki Rich.

Participating in the meeting were Ronnie Wegner, president, Mike Peterson, Paul Dean Ray, Dana Westbrook, and Bren Rhoton was in charge of refreshments.

Larry Dan Shaw On Honor List

Larry Dan Shaw has been named on Texas Tech University's Dean's Honor List for the fall semester. Shaw's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shaw of Knott.

Students must achieve a grade point average of 3.0 or better to qualify for this honor. Shaw is a junior majoring in Agriculture Communications and was recently elected president of the Agriculture Communication Club. The Club's aim is to promote agriculture among Tech students and the general public.

By MARJ CARPENTER will host the Presbyterian and the Baptist Churches of Garden City and Baker AME Church of Big Spring.

Some 25 members of the Baker Church, to include their pastor, their choir and their choir president, Charlie Merritt, will journey to Garden City on Sunday evening February 17 at 7:30 p.m. to participate in a presently serving on the Redemptorist Fathers Mission band out of Corpus Christi. The general public is invited to come hear him preach.

THE WORLD FAMOUS original gospel singing group "The Galileans," will present a concert in song at Evangelical Temple Assembly of God, 2205 Goliad Big Spring, tonight at 7:30 p.m.

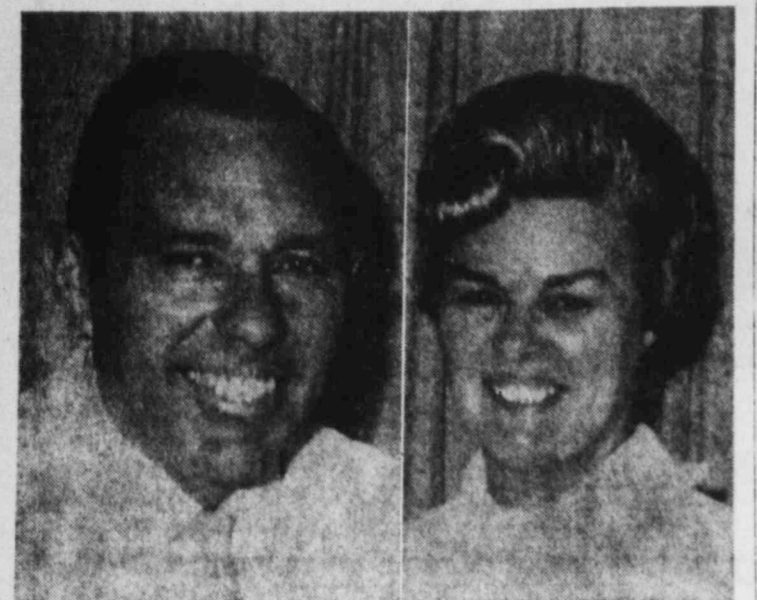

Originality of style, combined with professional performing talents, has been a hallmark of the Galileans, who make their home in Dallas, Tex. All had had a taste of the entertainment business in earlier years and like Paul De La Torre, the group's leader, found it "empty."

Paul De La Torre describes gospel music as "one of the most beautiful ways to talk about Jesus." "We don't sing songs that we don't feel," says Paul.

In addition to their work in the states, The Galileans travel extensively on concert tours in Central and South America, including Peru, Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Panama and Costa Rica.

Setting aside a month of their time each year to sing in Latin American countries, The Galileans consider their overseas work as an evangelistic type of ministry.

AT WESTBROOK — Nila and O. A. Kinnison, Lubbock will present a program of Gospel music at the First Baptist Church in Westbrook 7 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 17. Formerly they were members of the Gloryland Quartet of Roswell, N.M. Everyone is invited to hear them, said the Rev. Gene Farley, pastor.

covered dish dinner and a "Sing-Spirational" worship program.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arner, of Kentwood United Methodist Church will lend their talents, as will others. All in all it promises to be a tremendous evening of worship, fellowship, and the making of a joyful noise unto the Lord. The worship "Sing-Spirational" will begin at 7 p.m. and a cordial invitation is extended to all who delight in worshipping the Lord through music.

Church Changes Service Time

Sunday worship hour of the Kentwood United Methodist Church has been changed from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Mrs. Joe Hamby, chairman of the board, stated the change became necessary when the nation went back to daylight saving time.

Mrs. Hamby said that she was also pleased to announce that Wesley Deats of Big Spring will be sharing the pulpit with the Reverend Fred Witt Jr. and urges his friends to visit and worship with us.

Planning Tour

Dr. and Mrs. Joe Weldon Bailey, Calvert, are planning another tour of the Orient this summer. He is the brother of Mr. H. M. (Mildred) Jarratt, Big Spring, who with her husband Dr. Jarratt, toured with the Bailey party in 1970. Dr. Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Calvert, said the tour would depart June 22 and will include visits in Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Thailand, and Singapore.

WIND OF FAITH

Old-timers used to rely on this mill. This mill used to depend on the right wind. Despite man's most valiant efforts the wheel was frequently at a standstill. What then? Waiting, waiting, waiting! What patience they must have learned—only faith sustained them. The wind will blow again.

The patient life also requires a foundation of faith. It can come early or late, slowly or fast.

If you lack the necessary faith to fulfill your life's needs, turn to the Church. The wind will blow again.

Campbell Golf Has Nicklaus, Palmer Touch

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It had the look of a tournament from five years ago.

There was Jack Nicklaus in his customary spot atop the standings, leading the $150,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament with a five-under-par 66 after Thursday's first round.

And there was the burly figure of Arnold Palmer in hot pursuit with a 68 despite a demoralizing three-putt green when, for a moment, he thought he had a chance for a share of the lead.

Still, the magnetic man who once dominated this game was tied for second with former PGA champion Dave Stockton and red-haired tour sophomore Tom Watson.

Lee Trevino headed a half dozen at 69 with John Schlee, Tom Kite, Buddy Allin, Jim Simons and Chuck Courtney.

BIRDIE TRY MISSES — Jack Nicklaus tries for a birdie, then shows his unhappiness after missing it on the ninth green during the first round of the Glenn Campbell Los Angeles Open Thursday. Nicklaus, winner of the Hawaiian Open two weeks ago, shot a five-under par 66 to take a two-stroke lead.

Lee Looking For Clincher

Midland Lee and Abilene High will tangle tonight in the main event on the Dist. 5-AAA basketball card, and it'll be a one-fall card.

Lee can sack up at least a tie for the crown by beating the Eagles tonight, and the Rebels could win the crown outright if they get past AHS and Abilene Cooper stumbles against Midland High. The Rebels are on top in 5-AAAA with a 5-0 mark, while Abilene and Cooper follow at 4-1.

In other action tonight, San Angelo hosts Odessa Permian and the Big Spring Steers visit Odessa High, trying to climb out of the second half cellar.

Abilene could work its way into a post season playoff with Lee for the title by beating the Rebels tonight and then sinking Cooper on Tuesday.

Cooper, which tied Lee for the first half honors, must win its two remaining games and hopes the Rebels can be knocked off by either AHS tonight or by Midland in the district finale Tuesday.

Trevino Snubs Masters Again

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lee Trevino, looking for a chance to spend more time with his family and get in a little fishing, is bypassing the Masters Tournament again this year.

"Oh," Trevino said in mock surprise, "hadn't I told you? I sent their invitation back to them a month ago."

The flamboyant Trevino, one of the game's greatest attractions and gallery favorites, said his decision to skip the famed Masters—again—is in line with his program of making severe cuts in his playing schedule.

"I'm only gonna play maybe 20 tournaments this year," Trevino said Thursday after completing his first round in the $150,000 Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament. He had a two-under-par 69.

"Next year I'm gonna cut it back even more... play maybe 15, something like that." The reason, he said, is simple.

"I want to watch my family grow up. I've got a girl eight and a boy four and a boy that's just a baby. I haven't spent much time with them in a lot of years. Now I want to watch them grow up," he said.

And about the Masters? "I'm going fishing," he said. "I'm gonna take the wife and the kids in a camper and go down to Mexico and go fishing that week."

This is the third time that Trevino has declined the coveted invitation to the Masters, generally regarded as one of the world's four major tests of golfing greatness.

Steers, Ector In Dual Meet

The Big Spring Steer track team and Odessa Ector's runners will meet today in a "very informal" dual meet at Memorial Stadium. Action begins at 4 p.m. with field events, and it will end around 6 p.m.

"This is going to be a very informal meet," Steer coach Glenn Petty explained. "We're not even going to keep points. It's just some outside competition for both of us."

Ector will be strong in the sprints, and the Eagles boast a swift sprint relay team. The foursome has already legged a 42.3 clocking this year.

The Steers will be without the services of Donald Walters, the leadoff man on both the mile and 440-yard relays. Ector isn't expected to bring any competition for Steer vaulter Sam Dodson, who cleared 14-0 last week in the Astrodome Federation meet.

Both Ector and Big Spring will help kick off the West Texas track season next week with the annual Comanche Relays in Fort Stockton.

Tors Trim Steerettes

LAMESA — Lamesa's girls volleyball team scored a 15-10, 15-12 victory over the Big Spring Steerettes Thursday in the final action for the Big Springers prior to Dist. 5-AAAA play.

It was the second setback of the year at the hands of the Lamesas for the Big Spring girls, who battle Abilene High in the league opener Monday in Abilene. The Steerettes are 7-4 on the year.

Helen Ray was the high scorer for the locals in the first game with four points, with Sallie Graves, Cynthia Dennis and Debra Woods doing the work at the net. In the second game, Debbie Nikolai was tops with eight points while Ray, Graves and Dennis were at the net.

The Steerette Junior Varsity remained unbeaten in seven games, topping their hosts 15-8, 12-15, 15-11. Diane Pipkin, Danise Way and Denise Burchell were the top scorers in the three games and Jody Grant, Janice Banks, Lana Williams, J111 McWhorter and Sherre Sprabery stood out at the net.

Amarillo Jumbles League With Win Over HC Hawks

AMARILLO — Sometimes, even when you lose it's not so bad.

The Howard College Hawks played without team leader Taylor Williams for more than half the game, dropped a crucial 98-96 decision to Amarillo's Badgers, but HC coach Harold Wilder wasn't the least bit bitter.

"In our other three losses I felt terrible, because I thought we should have won the game," Wilder said. "But I really didn't feel bad about losing this one, even though it was probably our most important game, because our guys did everything possible to win it."

"I thought everybody played great, and they showed a lot of character. They've got the satisfaction of knowing that," he added.

The Amarillo victory, played before some 2,500 fans, throws the Western Conference race into a different picture for the first time this year. The Badgers are 11-2 in conference play with three games remaining, road dates with Odessa College and New Mexico Junior College and a home game with Clearwater.

The Hawks, 10-2 in WC action and 30-4 on the year, play Frank Phillips College tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Borger, and the two teams have their speedy rematch Monday in the HC gym. Western Texas and South Plains are the other two Hawk foes prior to the Region V Tournament March 7-9.

"We can't afford to lose any more, and we realize that," the Hawk boss said. "But it's obvious that Amarillo has a great team and great personnel, so we're not crushed by this defeat. Now we've got to win tonight against Frank Phillips, and that's going to be a chore."

The Plainsmen are 10-10 on the year and 5-7 in Western Conference, two of the losses one-point setbacks at the hands of Amarillo.

Things looked bleak for the Hawks Thursday night when they fell behind by 10 points with just over two minutes to play, but a quick comeback revived hopes of saving the game. Thomas Bledsoe, who got 23 of his 27 points in the second half, hit a basket with 1:30 remaining to make it 95-93. Amarillo, and with 24 seconds left it was Bledsoe again cutting it to one, 96-95.

But the Badgers went into a stall and David Nevarez sank a pair of free throws with 10 seconds remaining to give the hosts the lift they needed. Leroy Lumzy was fouled on a drive with three seconds left, and after making the first free throw he tried to intentionally miss the second with hopes of a Hawk rebound was foiled when Harold Rhodes, who led the Badgers with 23 points, got the loose ball.

Rhodes had plenty of help, as 6-8 Daryl Peterson hit 22 points and Mike Harris notched 20 before fouling out with six minutes remaining.

For Howard College, Bledsoe was tops with 27, Bobby Beall rang up 16, Mike Randle has 12 and Williams hit 10.

Williams and Bledsoe both received three quick fouls in the game, and the Hawks were on top by eight points when they left with seven minutes remaining in the first half. But Amarillo tied it with a flurry of baskets in the final minute.

and the game was knotted 46-46 at the intermission.

The 6-7 Williams got his fourth personal in the first minute and a half of the second stanza and was pulled from the action, but Wilder put him back in when Amarillo began to dominate the boards. He received his fifth foul less than a minute later, with 15 minutes left in the game.

"When Williams went out Bledsoe just took over. He really played well," Wilder said. "Beall had the best game of his career. He scored 16 points, and he got them in traffic, too."

"I thought Randle did a real good job — he had a number of assists — and Williams played well when he was in there."

AMARILLO (98) — David Nevarez 15-27; Daryl Peterson 8-4-22; Harold Rhodes 9-3-23; Mike Harris 10-20-20; Tony Wooden 7-8-14; Mike Morris 1-2-4; Paul Cook 1-0-2; Wes Banks 3-0-6; totals 40-18-98.

HOWARD COLLEGE (96) — Bobby Beall 8-16; Thomas Bledsoe 13-17; Leroy Lumzy 4-1-9; Mike Randle 5-12; Taylor Williams 4-8-10; Alfred Gladden 2-4-8; Johnny Harris 1-0-2; Willie Young 0-2-2; David Telfer 2-0-4; Tetsuhiko Hattori Score — Howard College 46, Amarillo 96.

Toros Finish With Victory

The Big Spring Freshmen Toros closed out their basketball season Thursday with a tense 56-55 overtime victory over the Lamesa ninth graders.

Mike Harris went out in style for the Toros, banging in 25 points and grabbing 13 rebounds for the winners, who ended the season at 11-6. Elroy Greene added 12 points and Steve Evans hit 11 in the win.

For Lamesa, Price led the way with 14 points and Blake had 12.

Lamesa rallied in the fourth quarter to tie the game at 52-52 at the end of regulation play. But the Toros hit two quick baskets in the overtime and then held on to the lead. Harris got one of the baskets and Frankie Rubio made the other.

Rubio and Dave Daniels each pulled down seven rebounds, and Daniels also made a crucial steal that led to one of the overtime scores. The Toros out-rebounded their visitors, 38-28.

TOROS (56) — Mike Harris 11-25; Elroy Greene 6-12; Steve Evans 12-17; Frankie Rubio 3-0-6; Dave Daniels 10-21; totals 24-56.

LAMESA (55) — Price 6-14; Blake 5-2-12; Spencer 3-0-13; Strahan 4-0-8; Peterson 2-1-5; Page 2-8-4; Thomas 1-0-2; totals 25-55.

Mustangs Capture 10th Straight Title

LAMESA — The Sands go with his 20 rebounds in Mustangs, who lost six of their sparring the triumph.

Union was paced by Collie Booth with 28 points and Dickie Fought with 10.

Sands now must wait for the title. 7-B race is to be decided, and three teams are still in the running. Mustang Coach Phil Mowrey said the Ponies probably wouldn't play the game until Feb. 25 or 26. Meadow Smyer and Sundown are vying for the 7-B title.

Frosty Floyd and Danny Coldiron were more than Union could handle. Floyd hit 35 points and pulled down 16 rebounds, and Coldiron had 20 points to

Western Texas Topples Texans

SNYDER — Western Texas got 22 points from Danny McDaniel and Harold Ward Thursday and rolled to a 74-66 Western Conference triumph over South Plains.

Western Texas now stands 18-8 on the year and 18-8 in WC play. South Plains is 11-20 and 4-9.

Seals Net Finley Handsome Profit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Charles O. Finley hinted he turned a profit by selling his hockey team, the Seals, then returned to the arbitration table where his Oakland A's baseball players are seeking more money.

"I still think hockey is a great sport," the Chicago insurance millionaire said Thursday after the California Golden Seals were turned over to the National Hockey League for more than $6 million.

The team was a loser, both on the ice and at the box office, in 3 1/2 years of Finley ownership. The Seals, who left Oakland today to start a road trip, are last in the NHL Western Division and averaging only 5,000 fans per home game.

Finley bought the team in 1970 for a reported $4.5 million. He said he was "completely satisfied" with the amount he received from the NHL.

Finley discussed the sale, which had been pending for two months, at a news conference after A's captain and third baseman Sal Bando argued over the arbitration table why he should receive $100,000 for the coming baseball season.

Ted Kubiak's hearing was held Thursday afternoon. The cases of Gene Tenace, Joe Rudi and Reggie Jackson, three stars of the world championship team, are scheduled be-

8th-9th Volleyball Meet Set Saturday

The Big Spring High freshmen girls volleyball team opened its season on a winning note Thursday, but both local eighth grade squads were unsuccessful in their debuts.

Snyder, Travis bowed to the Big Spring frosh 15-10, 15-3 and Goliad dropped a 15-10, 15-10 decision to Snyder's eighth graders in the high school gym, while in Snyder, Lamar topped Runnels 15-5, 16-14 in the "A" game.

The game was also a warmup for Saturday's annual Eighth and Ninth Grade Volleyball Tournament, with four local teams set for action. Goliad will meet Lamar at 9 a.m. and Runnels takes on Travis at the same time in the two local junior high gyms; while Big Spring Gold battles Lamesa at 9 a.m. Big Spring Black tries Lamar at 10 a.m. in freshman action at the BSHS gym.

E.T. Williamsons To Be Feted At Stanton

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Williamson of Stanton will be honored on their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday at the Cap Rock auditorium in Stanton. Calling hours will be from 2 to 5 p.m. Hosts will be the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. L.

Alexander, Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. James Williamson of Brownsville. Assisting in the house party will be the couple's sisters, brothers and their families. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson were married Feb. 14, 1934, in the First Methodist Church parsonage in Big Spring with the Rev. C. A. Bickley performing the ceremony. Williamson was born April 17, 1906 in Eastland County, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ras Williamson. He moved with his family to Ackerly in 1926 and was engaged in farming.

Last year he had an operation which left him practically impotent, and since then I couldn't ask for a more devoted husband. He phones me if he knows he's going to be half an hour late. He buys me presents, sends me flowers, and even takes me on business trips, which he never did before.

Of course I'm enjoying all this, but why in your opinion has my husband suddenly turned over a new leaf?

DEAR ABBY: For years I have cherished the friendship of a very fine woman. She's a lady of character, intelligence and charm. She is very devout in her religion, as I am in mine, though our religions differ vastly.

Lately whenever we are together she tries to convert me to her religion. I have told her emphatically and repeatedly that her efforts to convert me are futile, but she is persistent.

How can I convince her that she is wasting her time and trying my patience? I don't want to end our otherwise pleasant friendship of many years.

DEAR ABBY: I am a registered nurse interested in working on the hospital ship "S.S. Hope," but I don't know where to write for information about it. Can you help me?

DEAR ABBY: Write to Hope Project, 2233 Wisconsin Ave., N. W., Washington, D.C. 20007.

Party Will Precede BSP Ball

Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, will have a cocktail party at 7 p.m., Saturday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, preceding the annual BSP Valentine Ball at Dora Roberts Community Center.

The plans were made at Monday's meeting in the home of Mrs. David Smith, 94-A Ent. Mrs. Coy Mitchell presided as initial plans were made to sponsor a puppet show March 29 in the Municipal Auditorium. A request was read from West Side Day Care Center, asking for items to be used in arts and crafts. A mizpah charm was presented to Mrs. Tom Pickens who is moving from the city.

The program, "The Connoisseur", was presented by Mrs. Kent Harrington and Mrs. Rick Isaacs. The women discussed various forms of art and the things people collect, becoming experts on the subject of their interest.

The next meeting will be held at 7 p.m., Feb. 25, place to be announced.

Orientation Training Scheduled Saturday

The last Girl Scout leader's orientation for this school year will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at First United Methodist Church. The informal session will focus on the future of Girl Scouting, and there will be a general question and answer period.

"Adults involved with Scouting, who have not received their orientation yet, are urged to attend," said Mrs. Lin Bell, field director. It is the policy of the West Texas Girl Scout Council to ask all new registered adult Scouts to participate in leader's orientation. The sessions help the new participant to become informed in the purposes of Girl Scouting, its programs and how it functions.

"More importantly, it gives an opportunity for adults to grow within themselves and enjoy experiences with children in the process. Girls need adult leadership to grow into responsible leaders of tomorrow, and this is achieved by well-informed leaders of today."

Wienie Beanie's A Winter Dish

If winter wonderland too often means wondering what to have for dinner, here's some inspiration. For variety, serve a hearty Wienie Beanie Salad with a steaming tureen of soup. Add hot rolls, and dinner is ready!

For the salad, drain a one pound can of kidney beans and combine with one package (10 ounces) of cooked, drained frozen lima beans. Garbanzo beans could be added, if you like. ## Mrs. Newman Selected Delta Delta Sweetheart

Mrs. Fay Newman was crowned "sweetheart" of Texas Delta Delta Chapter, Phi Sigma Alpha, by last year's title holder, Mrs. Jimmy Mason, at a Tuesday meeting in the home of Mrs. W. E. Moren, 1301 Eleventh Place.

MRS. FAY NEWMAN

Mrs. Newman is the chapter's secretary and serves on the scrapbook and yearbook committee. A retired school teacher, she still substitute teaches and is president of the Retired Teachers Association. Also, she is a member of NRTA, TSTA, TRTA AND AAUW. At College Baptist Church, Mrs. Newman is a substitute teacher for her class and is piano accompanist for the Adult III Sunday school class. She has done volunteer piano teaching at West Side Center and helped at local nursing homes.

Mrs. Ernest Bauch, president, named a nominating committee composed of Mrs. Herman Shifflett, chairman; Mrs. Johnnie Winham and Mrs. Newman. Mrs. Winham reported on the recent area executive meeting in Lamesa. Attending from Big Spring were Mrs. Betty Johnson, Mrs. Moren and Mrs. Mason. The spring assembly in Odessa was discussed.

Mrs. Moren served an old-fashioned stew dinner, and used kerosene lamps for lighting. The next meeting will be March 5 in the home of Mrs. Mason.

Forty-Two Club Plays At Forsan

FORSAN (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Camp entertained the Forty-Two Club at a monthly meeting in their home, with 12 persons attending. Refreshments were served after the games. The next party will be held March 7 in the home of Mrs. J. H. Cardwell.

C. J. Lamb recently underwent knee surgery at Medical Center Hospital, Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Shoultz had as recent guests their son, Jackie Tillman Shoultz, and his family of Woodrow. The elder Shoultz also visited in Hamilton with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Griggs.

Recent weekend guests of Mrs. H. H. Story were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stockton of Colorado City, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Wallace Stockton of Sand Springs.

Mrs. Jesse Overton, accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Cardwell and Mrs. T. R. Camp, drove to Jal, N.M., to get Mrs. Overton's mother, Mrs. T. A. Rankin. While there, they visited Mrs. Overton's sister and family, the James Miles.

Event At Tarzan Slated Saturday

The Newell Tate home, located four miles west of Tarzan, will be the setting Saturday for the 50th wedding anniversary celebration honoring Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tate. The couple's children and their families will host the event, and all friends and relatives are invited to attend. Calling hours will be from 3 to 5 p.m.

Will View Problems Of Military Wives

"Fitting the New Wife into the Air Force Community" will be the main subject considered when Webb Women of the Chapel meet Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. in the Chapel Annex.

After Chaplain Kenneth Summy introduces the subject, discussion groups will try to define the problems a new military wife faces and will suggest ways in which WOC and individuals can work toward solutions. Discussion leaders will be Mrs. Treva Fellows, Mrs.

Paula Howard, Mrs. Liz Lamb, Mrs. Marta Marsh, Mrs. Bertie Shafer, Mrs. Dennis Vander Ven and Mrs. Sue Williams.

Also speaking at the meeting will be Mrs. Brenda Holland who will describe the aims and activities of the Ebony Corporation.

Every military wife is invited to become a part of WOC. Membership includes Protestants and Catholics, wives of enlisted men and officers. Participants are provided free babysitting at the base child care center.

The Chapel Annex, Bldg. 226, is located on Second St., near Wright Ave.

Board Told Of Progress

The West Side Day Care Center open house held Sunday was "an unqualified success," Julian Patterson, president of the day care center board of directors, reported Tuesday to the West Side Community Center board. Mrs. Ben Boadle, president of the latter board, presided.

Mrs. Don Wiley, day care center director, reported that 26 children are now enrolled. Goods and services are being donated to the day care center by many local people. Three students from Howard College sociology department were volunteer workers with the children, enriching the program beyond what the regular staff can provide. The pre-teen girls club from West Side Center gave a valentine party for the day care center children Thursday afternoon.

A group of Stanton people toured the day care center Monday, following a suggestion of the Texas Department of Public Welfare, according to Mrs. Wiley.

The Rev. Jim Collier, program chairman of West Side Community Center, announced that Mrs. Ron Stovall is the new arts and crafts co-ordinator and Romero Salazar is the third adult working with the Boy Scout troop. The Scouts held a bake sale Saturday, according to Mrs. Eiren Abreo. The troop of 27 boys, sponsored jointly by West Side and the Kiwanis Club, has gone on several hikes and is planning toward Scout camp in the Davis Mountains this summer.

The children's arts and crafts program is in need of the following materials: egg cartons, baby food jars, nylon stockings, yarn and fabric scraps and plastic egg-shaped pantyhose containers. Persons having any of these items to donate are asked to take them by the center, 1311 W. 4th, on a weekday afternoon.

Saucepans Should Have Even Surface

Skillets or frypans, like saucepans, should be flat on the bottom so the food will brown evenly. If your skillet is warped, it will not perform efficiently.

Warrants A Study

During the course of Constitutional Convention hearings, the University of Texas at Austin has taken considerable flack from proponents of divying up the Permanent University Fund with other state institutions.

One criticism was that the Austin campus has too few minority students, the implication being it is either doing a poor job of encouraging them to enter or a good job of discouraging them.

And the figures are forlorn. The total enrollment on the Austin campus is around 40,000. Of that number, only 400 — about 1 per cent — are black students. Only 4.41 per cent have Spanish surnames.

Well, Dr. Stephen H. Spurr, president of UT-Austin, has marshalled figures in defense. He notes that the 1.01 per cent black students receive 3.91 per cent of the financial aid dispensed on the campus; the 4.41 per cent Spanish-surname students receive 14.59 per cent of the aid.

About all this proves is that minority group students often need more aid than Anglo students.

That's no surprise. And it does nothing to explain why the state's largest university campus remains almost lily-white.

Perhaps there are valid explanations. The university is striving for excellence, with success. It could be its requirements for entrance are too great for many minority students to meet, and that compromising them would be unacceptable. Or perhaps minority students are drawn

Policy Of Consistency

As might be expected, the Texas Manufacturers Association is leading an assault on efforts to keep out of the proposed new Texas constitution any language which would negate the "right-to-work" principle.

In this, the association is joined by many regional and local chambers of commerce, boards of trade, associations, etc. Considerable weight is given to the argument that states with right-to-work laws (which is to say non-compulsory unionism) are more to campuses near major urban centers — Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston — where they can attend school and live at home.

But the question is one that needs serious study, as indeed, do the claims of other elements of the University system for a greater share in the Permanent Fund proceeds. However, the case should be well established before changes are made for light or transient reasons.

getting the lions share of new and expanded industry.

This, however, is not the best reason, which is simple equity and fairness. It is, and should be wrong to penalize or discriminate against any person because of membership in any organization or desire to become a member; simple logic tells us that it is equally wrong to force individuals to join any organization as a condition of employment. And, if the principle is valid for labor, it is valid for professions, also.

Cutting Back

Around The Rim
David Carren

I have a friend in Dallas who's attacking the energy crisis in what he feels is exactly the right fashion — through sacrifices.

"I'VE DECIDED to cut out what I thought were many essentials to daily life. It's been hard, but it's working. Somehow, just somehow, we've done without cigaret lighter fluid. Matches are a poor substitute, but something has to go," he wrote me last week.

This isn't all he's doing for the nation's fuel supplies. His family has a 12 passenger limousine with a six cylinder engine in the trunk just to run the power windows. From now on, the windows will be kept in the "up" position.

"That's not all. You know that neon light I have on my roof that says 'Welcome' to visitors at night in nine foot letters? Well I turn it off on week days now. Who wants visitors during the week anyway?"

There are so many more little things he's done. Like using his electric toothbrush only on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Or keeping the alarm system on only when the family is out. Or driving the dogs to the manicurist only once a week instead of twice. Perhaps we can all learn something from my friend.

"THE ENERGY crisis is everybody's responsibility, you know. It's up to all of us to cut down, trim the unessentials. Our Great Dane is a nervous wreck unless he's massaged by a Doggy Vibrator at least twice a week. And you know what it's like to have a nervous Great Dane around the house? You soon have no house. But we've cut his massages down to once a week, and he's learning to adapt. So must we all," my friend happily wrote last week.

Since then, he's called and told me a few crises have upset his schedule. His dog saw a female Great Dane around the block that drove the animal up the wall. Two massages a week. The limousine became so stuffy that the power windows just had to be put into use. And it was so dangerous driving while trying to light a cigar with a match!

"But we'll work things out. We've got to. This power thing will never go away," he said.

That's true.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

We had a happy marriage for twelve years, with three fine healthy children. Then suddenly I discovered my husband was being unfaithful. We considered divorce, but when he repented, we decided to give it another try. I forgave him alright, but I can't forget. Can you help me? Y.C.

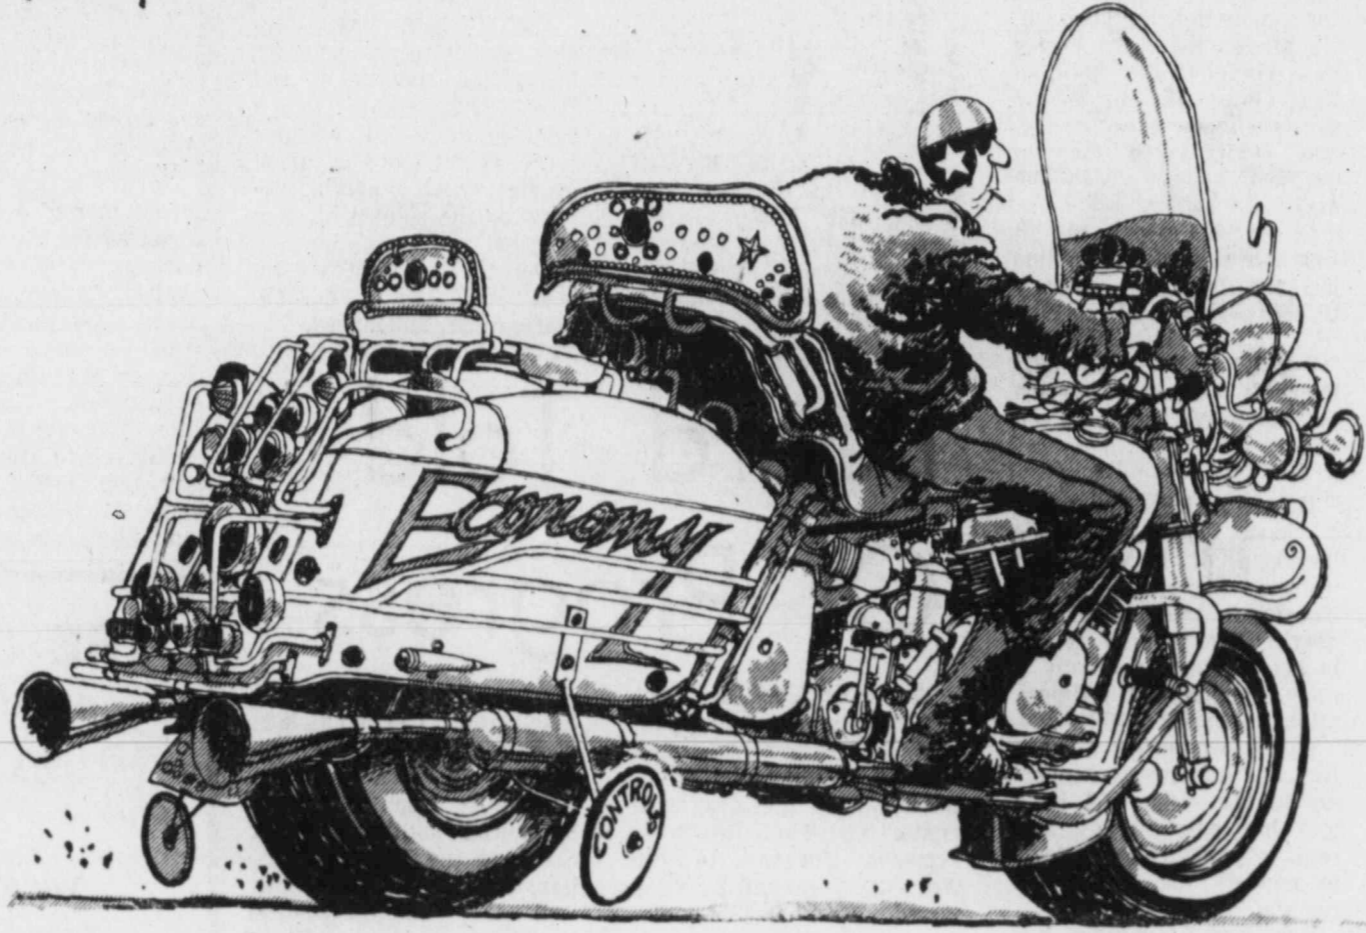

The act of infidelity is so destructive that Christ made it the sole reason for divorce (Matthew 5:32). Even if a society condones extra marital activity, it does not lessen its damaging effect on the whole family unit. God made us, and He knows the limits beyond which we cannot function as a whole and happy person.

But now your husband has evidently recognized all this, and I judge has given no subsequent cause for concern. If a couple can restructure their relationship, after some disruption, all involved will be better off. Getting a divorce or a separation may seem momentarily attractive, but it is at best a poor solution.

Have you maintained good and open communication? This is needed to allay future suspicion and more importantly, to eliminate any reason for disenchantment.

The wonder of God's forgiveness is that He couples it with forgetting as well (Hebrews 8:12). He can help you to do the same. The question is — are you flexible enough to adjust now, and do you have sufficient trust to maintain compatibility? I agree that the relationship is not the same as it was prior to his involvement. But it can be better if both of you want it to be, and will work at it.

Timid Congress

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Putting a terminal date on the present state of draft in government is almost certain to be a vain exercise. Congress is too timid, too in awe of the presidency, to remove Mr. Nixon from office by the impeachment route.

CONCEIVABLY the House of Representatives might by late spring muster a majority vote for a resolution of impeachment requiring the Senate to sit as a jury.

But it has long been clear that that jury — with 43 Republicans — will never come up with a two-thirds vote, as called for under the Constitution, to convict a Republican President. Short, that is, of some heinous crime as yet nowhere evident.

THIS CAN be interpreted only as a failure of the constitutional process which clearly prescribes impeachment as the way to remove a defaulting officer of government.

The cries that go up for the President's resignation are raised in the futile hope that he will take himself off the scene and take the politicians off the hook of an impeachment vote.

"Those who would harass a President out of office by resignation," former Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York said at the Republican rally last week, "would not only circumvent but abrogate the Constitution of the United States."

"THEY WOULD leave a great and unresolved doubt as a heritage of this troubled time. That would be an injustice not only to Richard Nixon but to those who follow him in the presidency."

Rockefeller was speaking at a rally in Illinois given for one of the ablest Republicans in Congress, Rep. John B. Anderson. The four-term governor of New York, considered a leading candidate for the nomination of his party in 1976, has been under pressure to dissociate himself from the Nixon administration and the Watergate scandals.

In his Illinois speech Rockefeller stressed, as have many in his party, the need to get on as quickly as possible with the impeachment process.

THE INTENTION of the Founding Fathers was unmistakable. Considering every means to preserve a free and independent government, the great minds assembled in Philadelphia nearly 200 years ago gave through study and much debate to the process of impeachment of Federal officers up to and including the President.

Discussing the Senate as the jury to sit in impeachment trials, Alexander Hamilton, in Paper No. 65 of the Federalist Papers said:

"The subject of its jurisdiction are those offenses which proceed from the misconduct of public men, or, in other words, from the abuse or violation of some public trust. They are of a nature which may with peculiar propriety be denominated POLITICAL, as they related chiefly to injuries done immediately to the society itself."

COULD ANY words be more aptly applied to the Nixon presidency? In the same paper refuting the objections to designating the Senate as the trial body Hamilton declared:

"If mankind were to resolve to agree in no institution of government, until every part of it had been adjusted to the most exact standard of perfection, society would soon become a general scene of anarchy and the world a desert."

With the Congress timid, cowardly, facing the challenge of impeachment, the White House and certain Nixon allies are playing a cat and mouse game that is ridiculous not to say despicable.

TO SUGGEST, as Sen. Hugh Scott has done, that evidence on tape is available which would exonerate the President of any complicity in the Watergate break-in or cover-up — and then to decline to give out this evidence, is the surest way to convince even loyal Nixon partisans that the truth is being concealed.

This goes, too, for the White House hints about falsehood in the testimony of the former White House counsel, John Dean III.

NEW YORK (AP) — When I first started writing a newspaper column, I had visionary ideas of changing mankind, toppling thrones by day and relaxing in the evenings in the boudoirs of famed movie queens.

But a wise, old editor shattered these youthful dreams by taking me aside and telling me, "Son, if you want to stay out of trouble, avoid writing about three subjects — religion, politics and sex."

I took him at his word. That is why, after 30 years at the typewriter, I can number the thrones I have toppled on one hand — and still have five fingers left over. But no matter how humble his nature, a columnist feels he has to show the world he is someone to be reckoned with — that the power of the press is a very real thing.

So as my first adventure into controversy, several years ago I came out with a bitter denunciation against poison snakes as a menace to the American way of life. I thought that was safe enough.

However, when I later made a tabulation of the mail that came in, I found, much to my disgust, that 212 readers supported me and 475 came out in favor of poison snakes — some even castigating me and asking why I didn't pick on something my size.

Since then, I've been as meek as a columnist can be. My pen has been dipped in lamb fat. But meekness is not enough. You can get in trouble about anything. Even buttermilk.

The following letter is self-explanatory:

"Mr. Boyle: 'Just want to tell you that I think you are an ignorant nincompoop. Your most dumb statement that you never met a man who enjoyed drinking buttermilk who didn't show signs of having other character defects is a statement that comes from a sick mind.

"My husband drinks buttermilk and he is so far superior to you in every way that I would not speak his name in the same sentence with yours. ...

"You owe an apology to men who drink buttermilk.

"My husband doesn't feel a need to make ugly statements against other men because they do not have a taste for buttermilk or anything else they might drink. ...

"Wife of a real man."

I am unwilling to apologize to all men who drink buttermilk. But I will make a compromise. I plan to send a pint of the milk of human kindness to the lady who wrote the letter. Maybe a quart.

Pyorrhoea's Potential

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I went to the dentist to have a loose tooth pulled, and he told me I had pyorrhoea and all of my teeth were infected and it would ruin my health. He suggested that I have all of them pulled as quickly as possible.

What I would like to know is what kind of trouble can it cause? I know I don't feel good at all anymore but I thought maybe it was from the change of life. Just what kind of trouble can my teeth cause if they are not pulled right now? — Mrs. C. Y.

Almost any kind of misery! Pyorrhoea involves loosening of the gums from the teeth. As a result pockets form in the gums and become infected. This is called "focal infection," a continuing infection that saps your energy in general and may be a source of trouble anywhere in your system. The infection may spread to the kidneys, but that is just one of many possibilities.

Anyway, those infected gums are quite likely the reason for your "feeling bad."

To illustrate the importance of gum infections, I have known physicians who refuse to undertake a complete physical examination until the patient has been cleared by a dentist as being free from tooth and gum problems.

Sometimes surgery on the gums can control pyorrhoea successfully, but after the condition has progressed to a certain point, extraction is the only way to eliminate the infection. This would have to be judged by your dentist. I urge that you not postpone the matter.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a bad hernia on both sides. I have tried two or three trusses without success. I am 72 and have high blood pressure. The hernia does not hurt me, but feels uncomfortable. Would you advise an operation at my age? — W. H.

I am guessing from your letter that you have been advised to have surgery. A hernia operation carries a very low surgical risk in a healthy patient, and if your blood pressure has been brought under reasonable control and you have no other health problems, the operation should be well tolerated.

If, on the other hand, you have not been advised by your doctor to have surgery, my advice is that you ask him about it. He can give you a more valid answer than, at this distance, I can.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What causes hives? Is it an allergy? If so, an allergy to what? — A.L.G.

Hives generally are the result of allergy — but when you ask what, you are asking the impossible. It may be a food, drug or something you touch, or breathe. Allergy is an individual thing, a reaction to something a particular person is hypersensitive to; it's not the same thing for everybody.

For a comprehensive discussion of how to cope with the change of life, including scores of pertinent questions and their answers, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for his booklet, "Make Menopause Easier," enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed (use zip code) envelope to cover cost of printing and handling.

Exciting Outlook

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — If you're one of the many potential homebuyers who is waiting for interest rates to come down you'll be concerned with what the Federal Home Loan Bank Board has to say. It says you'll have a very long wait.

That forecast was contained in an overview of the industry in 1980, published in this month's board Journal. The board is the regulatory agency for the nation's savings and loan associations, which write most home mortgages.

OFFERING HIS view of conditions in 1980, Harris Friedman, chief of economic research, wrote:

Interest rates will continue to reflect an inflation premium and the chances for the level of long-term interest rates to come down significantly are remote.

Aside from that gloomy prediction, the outlook for users of S&Ls looks pretty good, even exciting, and by all means reassuring. The unbalanced checkbook, for example, might finally be resolved.

Looking into "A day in the life of an S&L customer — 1980," another board official lists some of the services being offered.

THE DAY begins with John Doe preparing to pay his bills. He reviews the monthly statement he has received from the 10th Federal S&L Association. As he had instructed his employer to do, his paychecks had been deposited in his account.

On the 10th of the month the association automatically withdrew his mortgage payment from his account, and had transferred some other funds to higher yielding savings accounts.

One of these, a long-term account paying 8 per cent will be used for retirements or college tuition. Another account, yielding only 6 per cent, will be used for the family's annual vacation.

He notes that the S&L received and paid his electric and gas bills during the month, an arrangement he accepted when the companies established a preplanned budget, enabling him to know in advance what each bill would be.

As he reviewed his statement, he noted that his wife had taken $250 for food purchases and other items during the month. She had accomplished this merely by offering a plastic card to the foodstore clerk, who then inserted it in a gadget hooked up with the S&L.

MAKE WHAT you will of this additional service: "The clerk also could charge an extra amount so that his wife could receive some change for other shopping."

Delicate Ground

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — When Sen. Edward M. Kennedy was asked over CBS' "Face the Nation" last Sunday about his conduct just after the 1967 Chappaquiddick tragedy, his careful response precisely followed a long-devised strategy which deeply alarms many Democratic politicians, including some longtime Kennedy partisans.

THOUGH IT scarcely seems conceivable, the program produced the first substantive Chappaquiddick question ever asked Kennedy on national television during the nearly five years since the accident. Kennedy responded, as he and his aides decided long ago, by referring the questioner, Martin F. Nolan of the Boston Globe, to the Senator's 1969 explanations of Chappaquiddick and the now public transcript of the coroner's inquest. What's more, Kennedy intends to answer all future questions the same way.

TO MANY Democrats (pro-Kennedy and anti-Kennedy alike) outside the Senator's inner circle, this smacks of President Nixon's handling of Watergate, despite dissimilarities, and risks similar consequences. Kennedy must, they say, explain Chappaquiddick and again apologize for it. At stake is a deeper issue: deep-seated unease by many Democrats about the increasingly probable Kennedy candidacy for President in 1976.

At the heart of both the dispute over Kennedy's political tactics and this unease is the fact that Kennedy never has been subjected to probing cross-examination about what happened at and after Chappaquiddick. The issue was not raised by Republicans during Kennedy's 1970 Senate reelection campaign.

HENCE, KENNEDY and his closest advisers have concluded that Chappaquiddick is a burning issue only with Kennedy-haters who would oppose him anyway. They believe it has become a dead issue that can safely be handled by referring questions to the written record.

One savvy Democratic operative, an important adviser to both JFK and RFK has disagreed strenuously. He recently urged Kennedy to respond to any questions about the accident with a detailed and precise explanation, thereby drawing a vivid contrast with Mr. Nixon's self-destructive obfuscation on Watergate, Kennedy listened to the advice, nodded, but expressed neither agreement nor disagreement.

IN FACT, his disagreement seemed clear on Sunday after Nolan asked why he took seven days "spent with political advisers and lawyers and speechwriters" to make a televised response to the tragedy. Kennedy simply chose not to answer the question by saying, less than accurately: "I've responded on the questions of Chappaquiddick." He added that "there's a full response" plus the transcript of the inquest; that "I've accepted the responsibility"; that it's up to the people to judge him.

HIS LIEUTENANTS concede that as a full-fledged presidential candidate, he might well be barraged by 15 minutes or more of tough questioning over television. Such an examination could for the first time probe apparent contradictions in Kennedy's own version of the accident and seek his own interpretations of his conduct. There appears no inclination to change this line.

A Devotion For Today

Wait on the Lord: be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart. (Psalm 27:14)

PRAYER: O Lord, strengthen us as we reach out hands of love to help those struggling amid troubles, defeats and sorrows. Amen.

"Volume Selling", "Fair & Honest Trading" and "Service after the Sale" has kept Bob Brock Ford as Howard County's leading volume new car dealer for many years.

35 Pickups Now In Stock! Make Your Selection Now.

Our February Sales Objective Is 88 New Cars and Trucks!! It Will Be Accomplished!

FORD MERCURY LINCOLN

BOB BROCK FORD

"Drive a Little, Save a Lot!"

BIG SPRING, TEXAS • 500 W. 4th Street • Phone 267-7424

"First, I'll quote you a good pickup price.

"Then I'll quote you some features you could never get before!"

New for '74—International rides 2 inches wider than any pickup ever rode before!

This new wider ride made it possible to add a lot of other great improvements to the new '74 International Pickup. Like moving the suspension springs further out for improved stability.

The rear shocks have also been improved—staggered to reduce 'power hop'.

This means your International is a better riding, better handling pickup than ever before.

Hard Working Options

Beds up to 8 feet • Thrifty 6 or V8s up to 400 cubes • Automatic and 3, 4 and 5-speed manual transmissions • All-wheel drive • Axles and suspension systems up to 9,000 pounds GVW.

"You can get as ritzy as you like inside, too. Power steering, air conditioning, AM-FM radio, you name it."
