Overall Coal Production Is Sharply Cut

50,000 "Captive" Miners Take Part In Wide Stoppage

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, July 6—A walkout embracing 50,000 of the nation's 400,000 bituminous miners was launched today in the two leading coal states—West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Most of the idle were miners protesting lack of a contract in steel company captive mines. The rest were commercial coal diggers in western Pennsylvania who stayed home in sympathy.

Steel production was hit at once. The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., a U. S. Steel subsidiary, announced at Pittsburgh the banking of at least eight blast furnaces and 28 open hearths. Its Bessemer output at Youngstown, O., was cut in half.

Production Is Cut

Captive mines idle in West Virginia included those of the American Rolling Mill Co.

Overall coal production in western Pennsylvania, which employes 56,000 miners, was only 20 per cent of normal.

U. S. Steel corporation reported all 14 of its Pennsylvania mines, employing 11,000 men, were idle, causing a daily loss of 55,000 tons of coal.

One-Third Of Normal

Among other captive mines closed were those of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. and the Weirton Steel Co. captive mines are those whose output goes to a parent firm, like a steel company.

The Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators association reported commercial coal production in the Pittsburgh-Uniontown area was only one-third of normal, with 30 pits and 10,000 men idle. The output of commercial mines is sold on the open market.

The captive miners stayed away from work because of lack of a contract. Steel companies refused a new contract because of a union shop provision.

Extension Of Vacation

The majority of the 400,000 bituminous miners had a new contract from commercial coal operators granting a $1-per-day pay increase and a welfare fund royalty doubled to 20 cents a ton.

The walkout actually was an extension of the 10-day miners' vacation which ended yesterday. The captive miners held to the United Mine Workers' tradition of "no contract, no work."

Extra Session Is Considered

ST. LOUIS, July 6 (U.P.)—President Truman said today in a letter to Rep. Frank Karsten, D., Mo., that he is seriously considering the calling of Congress into special session for housing legislation.

Karsten, who had urged the recall, made public the President's reply today. In it Mr. Truman said:

"Of course, I am well acquainted with the seriousness of the housing situation and I am sincerely sorry that the 80th Congress did not see fit to take action.

Matter Is Considered

"However, I can't see very well the necessity for calling back the same Congress to do nothing about it, although I have the matter under serious consideration."

Karsten said he had pointed out in his communication to the President that the people of the nation were shocked by failure of the last Congress to pass adequate housing legislation.

Russia Handed Stiff Protest

Holy Land Fighting Expected Friday; Peace Plan Rejected

(By The Associated Press)

CAIRO, July 6 — A delayed Tel Aviv dispatch said the Israeli government voted last night "complete rejection" of the main parts of the United Nations Palestine peace proposal.

The account quoted an official government statement as saying the proposal was turned down with 27 negative votes and four abstentions after a three and a half hour session.

To Resume Fighting

The Israeli decision will be handed today to Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. Palestine mediator, who is now in Tel Aviv, the dispatch said.

In Cairo an Egyptian cabinet source said there is little doubt the Arabs will resume fighting in Palestine when the four-week truce ends Friday, despite U. N. appeals for an extension.

The final decision of the Arab League on the truce extensions is expected to be taken up by the league's political committee today.

The informant said last night the majority of Arab leaders oppose the extension request made by Count Bernadotte.

Forces Digging In

In Jerusalem, where Arabs and Jews engaged in gun duels Sunday and again yesterday, Israeli forces have begun digging in for an all-out resumption of war.

A Jewish military leader in the Holy City said Irgun Zvai Leumi and the Stern group will fight on until Jerusalem is a part of Israel, even if the Israeli army accepts a truce extension. The two Jewish extremist groups are still separate from the Israeli army in Jerusalem.

Arab League officials in Cairo said their organization had a dual aim; speedy conclusion of the Holy Land war and creation of an "Islamic bloc."

A league informant said creation of an Islamic block is being considered to enable "Moslem countries to stand in front of the western powers and America." The source said the Egyptian government had drawn plans to call 21 Islamic nations to a parley here to discuss the project.

The cease fire was broken in Jerusalem early yesterday for the second time in two days when Jews, entrenched on Mont Zion and Arabs in the old city exchanged mortar and machinegun fire.

A Jewish leader commented:

"So what does it matter if the Israeli army accepts an additional truce? Irgun and Stern will fight on and the Arabs will fight back against the entire Jewish population. The Israeli army will have to defend itself and its people."

Most Jerusalem Jews resent Bernadotte's mediation suggestions, particularly the one which would place the Holy City under Arab rule with Jewish autonomy in certain sections.

Soldiers and civilians alike say: "Let's get on with the fighting."

Telephone Company Will Move Offices

Officials of the Southwestern Associated Telephone company, an independent utility which has maintained general offices here for several years, today confirmed reports out of Dallas that the company will move its offices to Dallas, but they said time of the move was indefinite.

Latest report on the move came in an Associated Press dispatch from Dallas quoting the Times-Herald as saying the move would be made shortly after Jan. 1, 1949, but D. E. Van Ness, secretary of the company here, said the time is indefinite due to construction delays in an office building there.

Was Member Of Machine Gun Kelly Gang

Albert L. Bates, Outlaw And Kidnaper, Claimed By Heart Ailment At Alcatraz

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Alcatraz marked off a long-time resident today—life termer Albert L. Bates, notorious outlaw-kidnaper of Charles Urschel, wealthy Oklahoma oilman, in 1933.

Bates died Sunday of a heart ailment, Warden E. B. Swope announced last night.

The one-time member of the notorious George (Machine Gun) Kelly gang was 57.

The Urschel case, in which the millionaire oil prospector was released after payment of $200,000 ransom, "ended kidnaping in the southwest before it got started," Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaught said at Oklahoma City.

Vaught was the judge who sentenced Bates.

The case was the first important test of the "Lindbergh law" providing life imprisonment for kidnapers.

Urschel was abducted from his Oklahoma City home July 22, 1933 and held blindfolded and shackled nine days near Paradise, Tex. His exact timing of an airliner that passed overhead daily enabled the Federal Bureau of Investigation to discover the hideout and to arrest and convict nearly everyone of the 20 in the kidnap gang.

Harvey Bailey, leader of the notorious Memorial day break of eleven convicts from the Kansas prison, was captured at the hideout. Bates was seized two days later in Denver. Kelly, last of the gang leaders, was trapped at Memphis Sept. 26.

The FBI recovered about $124,000 of the ransom.

NORTH CONCHO RISING RAPIDLY

San Angelo Sector Drenched By Rains

(By The United Press)

New flood threats loomed for Texas today, as rains unofficially measured at 6.5 inches fell at points along the North Concho river.

The heavy rain fell at Sterling City, Garden City and Water Valley, and the river, already up 20 feet at Sterling City and still rising, was reported rising rapidly at the downstream city of San Angelo.

Traffic Is Blocked

High water had traffic blocked between Sterling City and Garden City, and travel between San Angelo and Sterling City was temporarily halted.

As flood warnings went out, contractors on an $18,000,000 dam on the North Concho three miles from San Angelo began moving equipment from the lowlands.

Rainfall totaling 2.15 inches was measured at San Angelo during the last 48 hours, with 1.78 inches having fallen last night.

Midland Is Drenched

A 2.10 inch rain was reported at Midland, and the weather bureau forecast another day of scattered thundershowers for the entire state.

Big Spring 1.55, and Junction .46. Waco had .25 of an inch, Austin .14 and Fort Worth .38. Showers measuring less than .10 of an inch fell at widely scattered points over the state.

Cloudy Skies Forecast

Cloudy to partly cloudy skies were forecast by the U .S. weather bureau for both East and West Texas today and tomorrow, with scattered thundershowers. Little change in temperatures was expected.

Maximum temperatures yesterday ranged from 79 at Big Spring

Newton To Be Freed July 12

HUNTSVILLE, July 6. (U.P.)—Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron is scheduled to be freed from prison on July 12, a penitentiary official said today.

Dr. Newton, who received his fifth 30-day commutation of sentence yesterday after he donated blood to a fellow prisoner, is serving a two-year sentence for assault to murder Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield in May, 1942.

J. C. Roberts, record clerk, told the United Press the latest commutation means Dr. Newton would be released July 12.

He added that an official copy of the commutation issued by Gov. Beauford H. Jester in Austin yesterday had not reached the prison, but expected it late today or tomorrow.

Dr. Newton thus will have served less than one year actual time in the penitentiary since prison doors closed on him on Aug. 1, 1947.

The governor took his action yesterday on recommendation of the state board of pardons and paroles.

Couple's Argument Turns Into Battle

FORT WORTH, July 6. (U.P.)—A husband-wife argument that turned into a family free-for-all landed the wife in the hospital in serious condition today, while the husband nursed a sore head and the wife's father a bite on his arm.

Police said the husband clouted his wife on the head with a hammer when she followed him from their home clad only in her scanties. The wife's mother and father helpfully slugged the husband on the head with a two-by-four.

In the melee, the father-in-law was bitten on the arm.

Allies Demand That Blockade Be Abolished

Soviet Ambassador Is Called To Take Marshall's Demand

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, July 6—The United States, Britain and France protested strongly to Russia today against the Soviet blockade of Western Berlin.

The notes were handed to the Soviet ambassadors in the three capitals.

Demand Is Made

In Washington, Soviet Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin was called to the State department to receive personally from Secretary of State Marshall a demand that the 18-day blockade be lifted.

In London, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin summoned Ambassador Georgi Zarubin to the foreign office for an interview which lasted only a few minutes, and handed him Britain's note.

In Paris a special messenger handed the French protest to Ambassador Alexander Bogolomov at his embassy.

Differences Cited

A French spokesman said the main differences in the notes were these: The American note referred to a letter from President Truman to Prime Minister Stalin; the British document referred to the Potsdam conference.

The spokesman declined to discuss other details prior to publication of the texts, but he said the notes did not constitute an ultimatum. Other sources said the three notes made up one of the strongest protests the Western Allies yet have made to the Soviet union.

These sources said all three notes offered to negotiate overall settlement of Berlin problems if the Russians would lift the blockade of western Berlin. One diplomatic source in Paris said he doubted whether the Russians would raise the blockade for anything less than general four-power discussions on the future of all Germany.

To Asail Assistance

Meanwhile, foreign office sources said the western European union nations—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—are ready to ask security assistance from the United States.

Ambassadors of the five nations will open talks on the subject with the U. S. State department in Washington today, the informants said.

Dallas To Waco Bus Permit Is Granted

AUSTIN, July 6. (AP)—The Railroad commission today granted a permit to the Texas Electric company for operation of bus service between Dallas and Waco.

Commission Chairman Ernest Thompson said the permit requires the company to provide "adequate" service.

Asked if the bus service would replace the present electric railway interurban service between the two cities, Thompson replied that he believed that was the company's intention.

Ex-Convict Sets Lumber Fire To Regain Shelter Of Prison

(By The United Press)

WACO, July 6—An elderly ex-convict's desire to return to the shelter of a prison apparently will be granted, but authorities were highly displeased at the manner he chose to gain his objective.

James C. Wood, a two-time loser to the law, signed a statement admitting that he set fire to 95,000 feet of redwood lumber piled under the Waco 18th street viaduct yesterday.

Wood is 68. He arrived in Waco on a freight train Thursday night. After two nights spent under the viaduct during heavy rains, he appealed to the sheriff's office for temporary shelter.

Refused, he was sent to the Salvation Army. But he didn't like it there and got into an argument. He walked back to the viaduct.

Then he said he thought, "what the hell? I'd rather be back in prison."

The fire followed.

Assistant District Attorney H. C. Pittman, Jr., said Wood

Holiday Death Toll Hits 550

Total Higher Than That Reached For 1947; Two States Report No Victims

(By The Associated Press)

The nation's death toll in violent accidents over the three-day Independence day holiday soared far past the 500 mark today and higher than the total in 1947.

Four persons lost their lives in fireworks accidents. An undertermined number of persons suffered injuries in fireworks mishaps.

A final survey of accidental deaths from 6 p. m. local time Friday until last midnight showed:

296 persons killed in traffic accidents; 184 drowned; 66 fatally injured in miscellaneous accidents, and four deaths from fireworks.

The toll of 550 compared to 546 killed in accidents over the three-day Fourth of July holiday last year. The 296 fatalities resulting from accidents on highways were more than the 235 estimated by the National Safety Council.

Clear skies and hot weather lured millions to lake resorts and vacation lands. The council had estimated 30,000,000 cars would be travelling during the three days. The traffic deaths compared to 264 last year, while the 184 drownings compared to 114 in the Independence day holiday in 1947.

Only two of the 48 states—New Hampshire and South Dakota—reported no accidental deaths. Pennsylvania had the heaviest state toll—44, including 23 traffic fatalities; 14 drownings; six miscellaneous and one fireworks. California, Iowa and Oregon each reported one death from fireworks.

Michigan followed Pennsylvania in total violent deaths—36, while 35 lost their lives in California in accidents. Ohio's toll was 31; New York's 27, Illinois' 22 and Texas' 20.

ANTI-RED DEMONSTRATION STAGED

Czechs Wave U.S. Flags In Streets

(By The United Press)

PRAGUE, July 6 — Czechs waved United States flags and shouted praises of Benes and Masaryk today in what appeared to be an organized protest against the Communist regime in Czechoslovakia.

The demonstrations occurred during a five-hour parade in Prague of the Sokols—Czech gymnastic societies — through the streets.

Officials said there were 70,000 marchers with 111 bands in the parade.

Three Arrested

Police appeared powerless to halt the demonstration, but eye witnesses said that at least three young men, who shouted "there is no republic without Masaryk, were arrested.

The demonstrations erupted suddenly all along the five-hour line of march of the Sokol paraders. Individuals and groups whipped out American flags they had concealed in their clothing, and waved them.

They shouted such slogans as:

"We want the republic of Benes and Masaryk."

"Long live those whom we like. They can't dictate those whom we must love."

Crowds Joined

"We wish health to Benes. Let him return to the Hradancy (the presidential palace.)"

Crowds on the sidewalk joined in the cheering, and took up the slogans.

The shouts referred to Eduard Benes, resigned former president of Czechoslovakia, who gave way to Communist pressure a few weeks ago, and to the late Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk, who was killed or committed suicide last March 10.

It was the first major public protest in this country against the Communist regime.

The Sokol leaders defied unpublished warnings of the Communist-controlled police to carry out the demonstration. Police were instructed last week to identify parading units which shouted for Benes.

Hague Wants HST To Okay Gen. Ike

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 6 (U.P.)—Former Mayor Frank Hague, New Jersey Democratic political boss, called on President Truman today to ask Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to accept the Democratic presidential nomination if it is offered to him at Philadelphia.

"Any other action would lead to disastrous defeat for the Democratic party," said Hague who predicted a 300,000 vote Republican majority in New Jersey next November unless Eisenhower is the Democratic presidential nominee.

With Eisenhower as the standard bearer, the Democrats can poll a 200,000 vote majority, Hague said.

Women Urged To Take Lead

FORT WORTH, July 6 (U.P.)—A recommendation that women take the initiative in bringing about lower prices was likely to be considered today before the biennial convention of Business & Professional Women's clubs here.

The suggestion came from the chairman of the public affairs committee, Mrs. Sara Sparks of New York City.

Necessary Steps

She recommended that the committee take steps to find better buying practices, lower prices and sound credit. She classes these as necessary steps to decrease inflation in every American community.

Meanwhile, attention was focused on candidates for the various offices. Mrs. Nina Horton Avery, Richmond, Va., and Dr. K. Frances Scott, Northampton, Mass., have been nominated for president. Miss Salley Butler, Indianapolis, is the outgoing president.

First vice presidnet nominees were Judge Sarah T. Hughes, Dallas, and Mrs. Katherine S. Carpenter, Jersey Shore, Pa.

Other nominees to be named Friday include:

Second vice president: Miss Ethel Murray Johnstone, San Francisco, and Mrs. Arabelle P. Hanna, Superior, Neb.; third vice president: Miss Helen G. Irwin, Des Moines, Ia., and Miss Florence V. Cartwright, Shawnee, Okla.; recording secretary: Miss Lula K. Baum, Leavenworth, Kan.; and Mrs. Kathleen K. Miller, Albany, Ore.; treasurer: Miss Maude Doyle, Albuquerque, N. M., and Mrs. Anita F. Calhoun, New York City.

At a meeting last night, all women were urged to join the battle to defeat Communism.

Plot To Drive Out Allies Is Revealed

PARIS, July 6 (AP)—The French foreign office announced today it has received from the British embassy documentary evidence of a Russian plot to drive the western allies from Berlin.

The foreign office said the British information was that Communists in Berlin were instructed by Moscow to touch of incidents which would cause intervention by Soviet forces.

Many Leaders Ignore Signal To Halt Boom

President Truman Reported Cheered By Ike's Stand

(By The Associated Press)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower flashed a "stop" sign today at the Ike-for-President bandwagon, but many of his Democratic supporters ignored the signal.

The general called for the brakes in a statement which said: "I will not at this time identify myself with any political party and could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contest."

Makes Views Known

Now president of Columbia university, the former Army chief of staff made his views known last night through the university's public relations director in a memorandum released to the press.

President Truman, en route back to Washington from a speaking trip in Missouri, was reported cheered by Eisenhower's action. His only direct comment, when awakened and told of the news in St. Louis, was that General Eisenhower "is an honorable man."

But Mr. Truman's aides interpreted the statement as a death blow to the movement to sidetrack the President at the Democratic convention in Philadelphia.

Profoundly Touched

Eisenhower said he was "profoundly touched by the renewed suggestion that I could satisfactorily fill high public office." But, he said, he had not changed his mind since telling Republicans last January that he was "not available."

That had stopped the Republicans. But some of the general's chief Democratic boosters held on grimly today.

James Roosevelt, chairman of the California state Democratic central committee, was one of them. The son of the late President, who had joined with 17 other Demo leaders to issue a call for a pre-convention anti-Truman huddle, said in Los Angeles:

Will Answer Call

"General Eisenhower's statement clearly indicates that he will not serve as a partisan President but will answer a call to national duty. I am tonight therefore, reissuing the call for the caucus to be held in Philadelphia this coming Saturday night."

The Eisenhower - for - President headquarters in Philadelphia announced that it was remaining open for business in a statement which said "we still have faith in his Americanism and patriotism and are certain that he will bow to the will of the people."

Loot Is Light In Burglaries

Two burglaries were investigated this morning by police, who had had a comparatively restful day of it over Monday's deferred celebration of the Fourth of July.

J. J. Murphy Lumber yard, at 330 Ave. H. was entered through a window, screen over which was torn. A cash drawer containing approximately $2 was pried open, but the burglars are believed to have dropped it and to have lost most of the loot they would have taken. Coins and stamps were found on the floor when George Hall and Doyle Clark, radio patrolmen were sent there to investigate.

No Attempt On Safe

No attempt was made to open a safe, Murphy said. "There was no money in it anyway," he said.

O. G. Bates of 1808 Nineteenth said his place of business there was entered and that small footprints on a freshly-painted floor were found. Nothing was believed taken from the building, Bates said.

A car that was described as "not in running condition" was reported stolen from Charlie Nickerson. It was listed as a 1936 brown Oldsmobile sedan that had a 1945 license plate, ED 6557, mounted. It was taken seven miles south on the Slide road, Nickerson said

Only One Arrest

Only one arrest was reported in the face of dozens of flagrant violations of the city's anti-fireworks ordinance.

There were the usual numbers of disturbances attendant upon a holiday observance. Calla Mae Jones, a negro woman, charged that a man listed as living at the same address "had come home and thrown rocks through all seven windows" of the place. He was listed as Allen Williams. Police said a disturbance charge was filed.

The sheriff's department said a prison transfer agent removed Willie Roberson, 40, a negro con-

Texas Newspapers Warm Up For Approaching Primary Election

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Texas newspapers are warming up to the primary election campaign.

For weeks, the candidates have been busy, but the headlines have gone to Congress, the Republicans at Philadelphia and other un-Texan topics. Even Russia has found a place in the news.

But from now until July 24—voting day—the primary campaign is the big news story of the state.

Papers Endorse Johnson

From a standpoint of coverage, the senatorial campaign has been given the most space in the news columns of Texas newspapers, with the governor's race running next.

About 30 papers have endorsed Lyndon Johnson, Coke Stevenson is second in number of endorsements and George Peddy's headquarters at Houston has given no report on the number of papers backing him.

Regardless of editorial endorsements, the newspapers of Texas have tried to parcel out equal amounts of news-column space to each of the candidates in the senate and governor's race.

Good Play Locally

Generally the activities of the candidates have been lumped into a round-up political story but when a major candidate appears in a town he is almost certain to get good headline play in the newspaper of that town.

Coke Stevenson, for instance, drew a long, front-page story in the Galveston Tribune when he visited that city last week. He was quoted as saying he would win the race without a runoff and also stated that he knew more about West Texas windmills than the flying windmill Lyndon Johnson uses for transportation. Johnson's helicopter, however, has been of big advertising value. It has been extensively photographed. The photos have been on many front pages.

Peddy Not Spectacular

Less spectacular, George Peddy's campaign has been simpler for newspapermen to cover. Peddy has specialized in statewide radio broadcasts and the texts of these speeches are distributed to newspapers and press associations well in advance.

Beauford Jester, attending celebrations over the state as a part of a governor's normal routine, has had a good share of newspaper space. Caso March, in the same race, has proved himself a tireless campaigner and has achieved considerable news mention by visiting every newspaper office from the Panhandle to the Rio Grande. March marches right in among the reporters and nearly always rates an interview.

Jim Griffin, candidate for state agriculture commissioner, uses the same tactics to advantage.

Another candidate for governor, Roger Evans, hit the headlines when he and Stevenson were endorsed by the State Federation of Labor. Previously, Evans had drawn newspaper attention as Texas commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Boom For Ike

vention votes were pledged this week to Eisenhower Archibald S. Alexander, Democratic candidate for senator, commented that ne felt the draft Ike movement might not "necessarily be finally closed."

Expresses Similar View

A similar view was expressed by Hugh Mitchell, former senator from Washington, who earlier yesterday had wired President Truman urging him to lead the draft-Eisenhower movement. "What I said in that telegram still stands," Mitchell said in Seattle.

Georgia's Democratic chairman, James S. Peters, said that state's 28 convention votes, previously instructed for Eisenhower, now will go to Senator Richard B. Russell as favorite son.

Leon Henderson, chairman of Americans for Democratic Action which had supported the general, indicated that he considered the Columbia statement a flat refusal.

Showed Up Weakness

So did J. Oliver Emmerich of the southern states' rights group which also had backed Eisenhower. In any case, Emmerich said in McComb, Miss., the boom "showed up the weakness of Truman. People already are convinced that Truman is a dead duck."

But even before the general had called halt to the movement to place his name before the convention opening in Philadelphia Monday, Mr Truman's friends had reported he was so confident of the nomination that he was making plans for his first campaign speech next month

If those plans materialized, they said, the campaign kickoff would take place in Minneapolis. Subject: Farm problems.

Mr. Truman, they added, doesn't plan to begin active campaigning until September, about the time Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the GOP nominee, is expected to get into action. The Minneapolis speech would be a one-shot affair.

Certain Of Victory

The President was reported certain not only of victory in Philadelphia but victory in November

The Dewey-Warren ticket drew support from an unexpected source in Charles A. Edison, former Democratic governor of New Jersey. He said in West Orange that the government needs a housecleaning and the GOP nominee is the man to tackle the job. Edison is a one-time Republican.

Meanwhile Oklahoma voters went to the polls to name both Republican and Democratic candidates for senator, eight House seats and some state offices. The vote was expected to be light.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Woman Compares Du Nouy's Views On Child Psychology With Other Writers Of Note

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have always thought you were a wonderful columnist, because your interpretations go down to unconscious sources.

Then I read your article of May 26, addressed to the baffled mother of a very spoiled 4-year-old, who is savagely rough with his younger brothers and especially vicious toward the 3-year-old.

It seemed to me you very astutely put your finger on the crux of the problem in citing the mother's indulgent pride in her first-born's precociousness, which leads to unconscious favoritism; and I also agree that her attempts to discipline him have been "fitful and chickenhearted."

But of all things, to recommend Lecomte du Nouy's treatise on "Education and Instruction" in his book "Human Destiny" (Longmans, Green & Company) as a source of guidance in correcting her mistakes!

If du Nouy is right in those pages you mention, then Freud, Jung, Adler and Horney are all wrong, because his rules for infant and child training all conspire to completely repress the child's individuality by the age of three. . . .

HIS THEORIES ARE REPRESSIVE

IT seems safe to say that du Nouy has never open-mindedly observed in a good nursery school and never read anything on child psychology by such writers as Madeleine Dixon, Ruth Wendell Washburn, Anna Freud or Luck Sprague Mitchell, to mention a few of my favorites.

Young children have a sense of wonder that can grow into communion with God himself, if they aren't constantly thwarted by adult bombing. The child has an eagerness to learn-by-doing that can grow into happiness in work and into skillful helpfulness, if his mentors take time to guide and encourage him.

I am not a mother; but I am an aunt, and the sons that my brother and his wife reared are the sort of men who give you faith in the future. My sister-in-law was consistently firm in the enforcement of a few simple rules and the upholding of certain basic principles. But a thousand times a day, she requested or suggested or said nothing, and my brother's sense of humor and proportion lightened his discipline.

Signed E. D.

DU NOUY'S VIEWS ARE PRETTY TOUGH

DEAR E. D.: I agree with you that du Nouy's uncompromising advocacy of controlled behavior, as a first premise of moral nurture, does seem suddenly rough and tough as compared to the very tender atmosphere of specialists thought that has begun to solidify about all considerations of constructive child development.

Also I agree that he writes as one who never communed with Freud, Jung, Adler, et al; but I think his views are bracing and valuable, nevertheless, and ought to remove the beam from the eye of our correspondent of May 26, who lamely refers to books on child psychology as her authority for dealing diffidently with her son's willfulness instead of cracking down on him.

ADVISES SIMPLE, ABSOLUTE RULES

DU NOUY says, "The reaction of the young child to its limited universe can only be instinctive, animal-like; it is, therefore, regressive from the standpoint of evolution . . . The task of parents, or those who assume the responsibility of the elementary formation of the child, is limited at first to the application of a small number of absolute and very simple rule. . . . afterwards, he (the child) must be taught to control himself . . ."

Isn't that what the mother needs to know?

Incidentally, for all your quarrel with du Nouy, you stress your sister-in-law's "consistently firm enforcement of a few simple rules" and her "upholding of certain basic principles" as the substance of her success in rearing fine sons, which is certainly the essence of the du Nouy treatise, it seems to me. M. H.

Mine Walkout

clared the pits open and promised the captive miners all the benefits of the unsigned contract—except the union shop.

Under the union shop, employes are required to join the union after they are hired. Steel claims this violates the Taft-Hartley law.

Steel company spokesmen are reluctant to discuss the size of their coal stockpiles which are believed to be high. Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., largest U. S. Steel subsidiary, has an estimated 30-day supply or 300,000 tons in its Clairton, Pa., stockpile.

Carnegie-Illinois banked the equivalent of four or five blast furnaces during the mine vacation because of a shortage of beehive coke. Shenango and Youngstown Steel also curtailed operations.

Stiff Protest

tors of the city, western licensed German newspapers said.

American officials said they still were checking but that the press accounts "apparently are true."

Loads Are Inspected

The newspapers said acting Police Chief Seidel in the Soviet sector ordered his force to inspect the loads of German trucks heading for western Berlin from the Russian section of the city. He directed the confiscation of foodstuffs, scrap, building materials and telephone equipment.

Such an order would erect another wall through the heart of the city, dividing the eastern from the western parts as did the introduction of two rival currencies by the Russians and western powers.

The new Russian move was reported as bad flying weather at Frankfurt lamed the American air fleet which has been carrying essential supplies to Berlin.

Only Two Planes Arrive

At mid-morning Tempelhof airport said two U. S. cargo planes had arrived since midnight. Normally more than 50 planes have unloaded their supplies here by that time.

Berliners in the American sector who have become used to the almost steady drone of planes overhead suddenly missed the sound. They began asking worriedly: "What's happened?"

British officials reported weather conditions in their zonal base were good and the RAF was flying normally to maintain its end of the Allied air bridge from western Germany to Berlin.

Meanwhile, the Russians implied that they are using the blockade as a weapon to bring about new four-power talks on Germany.

Attendance Increase Expected At Conference On Visual Aids

Passing of the July Fourth holiday was expected to bring sharply increased attendance today, particularly at the night session, of the sixth annual audio-visual aids conference now under way at the First Christian church under sponsorship of the department of education and psychology at Texas Tech college.

The announcement came from the office of Dr. R. E. Garlin, head of the sponsoring college department, who said that more than 75 secular and religious education leaders attended opening sessions of the three-day conference Monday.

Churches Are Cooperating

Churches of the city are cooperating in the project, and Monday night's general session, held in connection with a dinner in the cafeteria at Tech Recreation hall, drew special comment from sponsors and others as an outstanding session.

Rev. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of St. John's Methodist church here, was in charge of the religious phase of the program that included showing of films. An address on "Trends in the Use of Audio-Visual Aids in Education and Religion," by John Gunstream, president of Audio-Video Institute, was among other features of the program.

The conference is featuring the latest pictures in promotion of religious and secular education, and demonstrations on the use of religious films for church services.

Film Is Outstanding

One film which was shown yesterday was considered especially outstanding. This was "Reaching For Heaven," a 60-minute film costing $60,000 that was released July 1, according to Dr. Lewis B. Cooper, of the college, who is taking a leading role in the conference. The film was produced by the Lutheran Laymen's league.

Dr. Cooper said today's sessions also were to present outstanding films, and several speakers, together with another dinner session starting at 6:45 o'clock tonight at the Tech cafeteria, and a religious service at the church, with Rev. Travis A. White, pastor of the host church, in charge.

The afternoon program, the third general session, will open with an address by O. L. Caskey, instructor in education at Texas Tech, at 1:25 a.m. G. H. Peters, principal of the high school at Spearman, will speak on "School Journeys", and Dr. W. C. Holden, professor and head of the division of graduate studies at Tech, will address the group on public education, after which more films will be shown.

Highlighting the evening program will be a dinner program at 6:45 p.m. in the cafeteria at Texas Tech, with Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, professor of education and psychology at the college, as chairman. Harry Erickson, regional director of RCA Victor company, will deliver the dinner address, the title of which is "Know Your Projector."

After the dinner program, the group will reassemble in the First Christian church, where Rev. Travis A. White, pastor of the church, will conduct a religious service with films, which will conclude today's activities.

Wednesday's program will be similar except for changes in speakers and other details, and will bring the conference to a close late in the afternoon.

Bad Tempers And Upset Emotions May Be Due To Ultra-Violet Rays Of Sun Spots

PHILADELPHIA, July 6 (AP)—If tempers flare and emotions are unbalanced, it may be due to the ultra-violet rays from the sun spots now nearing their maximum number and intensity for the first time in 11 years, says Dr. Roy K. Marshall, director of Fels planetarium.

These beams of invisible energy coming from the sun 93,000,000 miles away can easily affect tempers of people, he said today.

Then too emotions are controlled by various glands of the body which readily may be disturbed by the sun's ultra-violet rays, Dr. Marshall told a reporter.

Previous Peak Was In 1937

He pointed out the last time the sun spots reached their maximum frequency was in 1937 when Hitler began his plan of world conquest.

"Dr. Marshall said scientists say they don't know the "why about sun spots," but the ultra-violet rays emanating from them affect every living thing on earth.

Some scientists, he explained, contend these very short rays have produced a more prolific growth of foliage on trees and produced more abundant crops this year.

Others say the abundant rainfall this year has been caused by sun spots.

Rays Are Also Bad

Aside from the beneficial properties, the rays also have some annoying characteristics, Dr. Marshall said.

For instance, blackouts in radio and telegraphic communication has been traced to sun spots.

Dr. Marshall said the most disturbing effects come at or just beyond the peak of the sun spots and probably will cause radio fadeouts for the next two or three years.

The first men to set foot on the moon will have to learn to walk. Since the surface gravity on the moon is only one-sixth that of the earth, every muscular effort will result in a six-fold response, so that each step will carry him six times as far.

Coal Miners' Holiday Ends

NEW YORK, July 6. (AP)—Hard coal miners are due back at work today after a 10-day vacation during which a new agreement was reached between anthracite operators and the United Mine Workers.

The agreement reached here over the weekend gives 80,000 Pennsylvania hard coal miners wage increases of a dollar a day and increases the employer contribution to the health and welfare fund from 10 cents per ton to 20 cents.

Union vice president Thomas Kennedy said the union now could plan to provide a pension system for its men similar to the $100 a month pension planned for soft coal miners after the age of 62.

Best Agreement

Kennedy said he regarded the new agreement, an extension of the present contract, as "the best agreement negotiated in the United States this year."

The present contract expires July 10 and the new pact goes into effect July 16, the six-day lapse attibuted to bookkeeping difficulties.

Union spokesmen said under present wage scales men classified as company miners average $11.10 for a seven-hour day, company laborers $10.53 a day, and men operating on a piece-work basis average $13 a day.

Southern Pacific Official Claimed

OAKLAND, Calif., July 6. (AP)—A heart attack killed Leslie B. McDonald, vice president in charge of the Southern Pacific railroad's western operations, while he was visiting at the home of friends here yesterday. He was 64.

McDonald was a native of Wylie, Tex. At onetime, he was vice president and general manager of the S. P. lines in Texas and Louisiana, with headquarters in Houston.

He had been with Southern Pacific and its subsidiaries for more than 46 years. He started as a stenographer-clerk at Victoria, Tex., in 1902.

In 1933, McDonald came here as general manager of the company's Pacific lines. He had held his last position since 1942, running the company's lines west of El Paso, and Ogden, Utah, and south of Portland, Ore.

Survivors include his widow, Katie Clark McDonald, and a daughter, Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph, III, whose husband is an army officer at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

The family home is in Oakland.

Talented Huston Family Hopes To Team Up On "Family" Movie

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, July 6 — The talented Hustons have hopes of teaming up on a movie that would be strictly a family affair.

Evelyn Keyes (Mrs. John Huston) tells me on the "Enchanted" set that her director-husband is scouting scripts for a feature which would star her, and his parents, Walter Huston and Nan Sunderland. John, who is a good actor himself, would direct the film.

Evelyn may stay with Samuel Goldwyn for another role before returning to her home lot, Columbia. She is being considered for "Million Dollar Baby," a lavish musical.

Love scenes of Ava Gardner and Robert Taylor in "The Bribe" were too hot for the Hollywood censors. The scene-snippers decreed the romancing had to be played in dressing robes instead of bathing suits. Too much flesh on the screen.

Broderick Crawford is well prepared in case of an actors' strike. He has done six pictures since returning from the service and all are unreleased. His latest is "Last of the Badmen."

Turhan Bey is fed up with the treatment he has received at Eagle-Lion and plans to abandon Hollywood for a whirl on the stage. He also hopes to make some pictures in England. Another item on his agenda is a return to his native Turkey next year.

Picking Peck Partner

Lana Turner, Deborah Kerr and Ava Gardner are being mulled for the lead opposite Gregory Peck in "The Gambler." Which gives you an idea of how highly MGM thinks of Greg.

Linda Darnell has worked for a solid year and is telling 20th-Fox she'll take a vacation after "Three Wives." She still wants to get away to Taos, N. M., and buy some property there. If the studio plans to star her in "Lydia Bailey," it hasn't told her about it. At any rate, the film probably won't be made for years because of the expence.

Margaret In Summer School

Today's feature: Hollywood Sights and Sounds.

Cornel Wilde limping around "The Lovers" set with an ankle he sprained on a loose stone in his back yard . . Margaret O'Brien enduring summer school to make up for time lost on her European trip . . . Richard Greene appearing in the studio lunch room in hair curlers for his "The O'Flynn" role . . .

Sir Ralph Richardson letting out an unknightly "peep" as a vocal tuneup before "The Heiress" scenes . . . Mary Hatcher trying out the bowling alley in her new home . . . Anne Baxter attired as a rugged pistol packin' mama for "Yellow Sky." . . .

Resistance Nearing End In Grammos Area

ATHENS, July 6 (AP) — Gen. Demetrios Yadzis, Greek Chief of Staff, contends the Communist-led guerrillas are nearing the end of their resistance in the Grammos mountain area — their greatest stronghold.

At a news conference last night at second corps headquarters in Kozane, Yadzis said the guerrillas are using their full strength in the Grammos fighting near the Albanian border and are "playing their last trumps."

A break in their "inner security belt" is expected quickly, he said, adding: "I am very satisfied with our progress."

The guerrillas were putting up savage resistance in one key area there — the Kleptis (thieves) Heights. Greek army troops were turned back yesterday after trying four times to storm the heights. Some of the Greek units got as close as a few hundred yards from the summit before they fell back.

The army is trying to capture the heights to gain a corridor into a rebel flank.

In a modern, heated building as many as four generations of moths can be produced in a year.

"How To Box," in case anyone gets fresh . . .

Teresa Wright staying after hours in her dressing room to sew a dress for her daughter . . . Shelley Winters and Marta Toren, who have become fast friends, house-hunting for bachelor-girl quarters together . . . Pat Neal taking her first ride on a horse for "The Fountainhead."

. . . He Forgot One Thing

He was prepared in every way but one. All his affairs were in order—his investments, his insurance. In only one respect he failed to relieve his family of a sad responsibility: He neglected his family memorial program.

Yugoslavs Said To Be Offering Their Support To Marshal Tito

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

BELGRADE, July 6.—Yugoslavs were reported today to have given evidence of support for Premier Marshal Tito, who has been denounced by the Soviet-controlled Cominform.

The Yukoslav Communist newspaper Borba said last night that in five days the public Communist subscribed $50,000,000 of the $70,000,000 national loan.

Messages Sent

Other press accounts said local committees of the Communist party all over the country are sending messages to Belgrade that they are "with the marshal." The national organization of war invalids resolved that its members will renew their efforts toward helping build socialism under Tito.

But there was an air of contradiction in the press. On the front pages appeared reports of blistering replies by Yugoslav Communist leaders to the Cominform charges that Tito and his lieutenants were deviating from the orthodox Communist line and were pursuing a hateful policy toward Russia.

The back pages of the same papers carried news items telling of normal operations between the countries belonging to the Cominform, or Communist international information bureau.

Relations Strained

Borba said the members of a Bulgarian cultural delegation asked upon their arrival in Belgrade last week that no dinner be given in their honor. However, the Yugoslavs solved the problem by telling them there would be no toasts at the dinner, thus eliminating the need for praising Tito or anyone else.

Yugoslav-Albanian relations apparently remained strained. The Yugoslav legation in Tirana said Albanian police had blocked all food for Yugoslavs in the border town of Scutari.

Borba, which carried the report, said: "This made the feeding of Yugoslav representatives impossible."

Still In Albania

It was assumed in Belgrade that the Yugoslav representatives were supervising one or more of the numerous Yugoslav-Albanian trade agreements

Albania severed trade relations with Yugoslavia last week and ordered the expulsion of military, political and cultural mission but there was no indication that any of them had left Albanian soil.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said in London that Bulgaria and Yugoslavia have signed a one-year agreement for cultural cooperation. The report indicated that the backing Bulgaria's ruling Communists gave to the Cominform's denunciation of Tito has not impaired diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Meeting Thought Held

Well-informed sources in Bucharest, Romania, said they believed the Cominform met there over the weekend, possibly to discuss its controversy with Tito.

Foreign newsmen there were unable to verify the report and the Romanian press did not mention any meeting.

Tired, "All-In"—Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic Helps Build Sturdy Health.

Food Plane Crashes At Berlin Airbase

FRANKFURT, Germany, July 6 (AP)—U. S. airforce headquarters said today an American plane flying food to blockaded Berlin, crashed last night, slightly injuring three crewmen. They said the plane, a C-47, was badly damaged.

Officials said the ship, trying to land in bad weather, struck a clump of trees several hundred yards from Wiesbaden airbase. It was the first accident in more than 1,100 food-shuttling flights, to Berlin, they said.

NTSTC President Will Resume Post

CANYON, July 6 (AP)—Dr. W. J. McConnell, who had resigned as president of North Texas State Teachers college at Denton, agreed today to stay on another year.

The Texas State Teachers college board of regents, meeting here today, asked Dr. McConnell to remain as head of the college for a year.

He agreed to wait until the end of the 1949 summer session to retire. He has been president of the college since 1934.

DENNIS, Mass., July 6 (AP)—Film Actor Jackie Cooper fashioned a rope of bedsheets to rescue his wife and two year old son when lightning started a fire in their summer home last night.

After being stunned momentarily, Cooper knotted the sheets, helped his wife and son out a second floor window and then slid to safety himself.

The flames were confined to a bathroom on the second floor. The damage was reported by police as slight.

Sleep Walker Steps Right Into Chimney

BOSTON, July 6 (AP)—Paul Lawless, 26, went sleep walking right up to his armpits in a chimney.

Summoned by neighbors, police found him wedged in the flue last night.

They quoted him as saying he was sleeping on the roof of his home and did not wake up until he toppled in the chimney.

Lawless' plight was discovered by a neighbor who heard bricks falling. City hospital attaches said he apparently suffered no injuries.

Texas Delegates Left In Air By Eisenhower Announcement

(By The United Press)

Texas' delegation to the Democratic National convention was left up in the air today by the announcement of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower that he "could not accept nomination for any public office."

The announcement of the Texas-born war leader came just as the Texas delegates, anti-Truman to the last ditch, got ready to place the state's 50 convention votes squarely behind him.

The big question today was which will the Texas delegation turn? And political observers said the answer probably would not be forth-coming until an anti-Truman caucus is held in Philadelphia next Saturday.

Texans To Go East

This is the week the Texans shove off for the east. Part of them are going on a "Katy" special—six pullmans, a lounge car and a diner—which leaves Dallas Thursday night. Another group leans to the Missouri-Pacific sunshine special and will travel in special sleepers to be attached to the train at Longview Thursday night.

The leaders of the Texas delegation—Gov. Beauford H. Jester, National Committeeman Wright Morrow and Democratic State Chairman Robert W. Calvert—had agreed that anti-Truman Texans would go for Eisenhower in a big way.

Calvert had suggested that a ticket of Eisenhower and James A. Farley would get enthusiastic national support.

Slugging Match Going On

Interest in the clouded presidential picture tended to overshadow the slugging match going on at a grassroots level between the three "big" U. S. Senatorial candidates—George Peddy, Lyndon Johnson and Coke R. Stevenson.

Peddy let loose a double-barrelled blast in a Dallas radio speech last night.

Stevenson became "Trader Coke," and Peddy suggested that, in return for endorsement by the Texas Federation of Labor, the former governor had made "an undercover agreement to vote for repeal of the Taft-Hartley bill."

He did not call Johnson by name, but obviously was referring to the third major man in the field when he talkd about "a Johnny come lately who was raised in a bureau drawer in Washington." Labor was Peddy's principal issue. He said Johnson had CIO support and assistance from Henry Wallace in his unsuccessful bid for the Senate in 1942.

Johnson In South

Johnson was in the lower Rio Grande valley. Speaking at Harlingen, he plugged for a program to assure the farmer a "fair share" of the national income and a vigorous save-the-soil program.

He planned to visit the valley towns of San Benito, Mecedes, Donna, Edinburg, Pharr, Weslaco, Mission and McAllen today.

Like Peddy, Stevenson was in Dallas last night for a radio talk. He accused Johnson of "showing off" in his helicopter campaign travels and attributed the high cost of living to high tax rates.

"Thirty cents of every dollar you earn is taken by the tax collector. That is too much," he charged, promising to fight to reduce federal taxation and stop "waste and extravagance" in government.

Stevenson Schedule Shown

Stevenson's schedule today takes him to Ennis, Corsicana, Mexia, Teague, for a noon address to the service clubs, and Waco, where he will spend the night.

On the gubernatorial front, Gov. Beauford H. Jester was at the end of his six-day "non political" tour. He was a guest last night at a Gladewater testimonial dinner for John Ben Shepperd, retiring president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Jester, seeking a second term, will issue another "report to the people" Wednesday from his statehouse office.

Roger Q. Evans and Caso March, his principal opponents, campaigned over the holiday in the lower Rio Grande valley.

SINGER VISITS HOME TOWN—Anita Gordon, nationally known radio singer, is the honored guest of the Corsicana centennial celebration. She was also in Corsicana to help observe the 87th birthday of her grandfather J. D. Gordon. Earlier in the week she visited her other grandparents in Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Chalie Harwell. With the singer is her husband Dale Sheets, whom she married three weeks ago.

Twelve men from the South Plains were enlisted by the Lubbock Navy recruiting office during the past week and are now taking their recruit training at the U. S. Naval training center at San Diego.

Seven of the group entered under the high school graduate training program and will attend a trade school upon completion of recruit training. They are James Nail Jones and Edwin Jerrell Bryant, Brownfield; Edgar Eugene Heath and James Lee Oswalt, Abernathy; James Elmo Ward, jr., Levelland; Kenneth Cecil Burke, Sundown; and B. N. Chaffin, Big Spring.

Chaffin, Burke, Ward, Bryant, and Jones will attend electrician's school at San Diego following recruit training, and Heath and Oswalt will go to storekeepers school.

Others who enlisted are Billy John Hogg, route 3, Lubbock; B. W. Roberts and J. R. Cunningham, Big Spring; and Alton Carrol Alston and Billy John Fletcher, Crosbyton. They will receive assignments after completion of recruit training.

Group To Plan Mental Society

Groups and individuals interested in basic organizational plans for a Lubbock chapter of the Mental Hygiene society of Texas are to meet at 8 o'clock tonight in room 192 at Senior High school.

The Mental Hygiene society of the state is interested in forming a local chapter, believing Lubbock now is ready for such an organization, it was announced.

State Official Here

Mrs. Elizabeth Gardner, Executive secretary of the state society, will be in Lubbock today and Wednesday to assist in basic plans for organization.

A community meeting will be conducted about the middle of July with Dr. Robert L. Sutherland, director of the Hogg foundation.

"If Lubbock can develop an active chapter, it would enable the citizens to have the advantage of counselling and speakers distinguished in the field of mental hygiene," George A. Heath, acting committee chairman of plans for the chapter, stated. Those who are members of the state and local chapter also are entitled to literature sent out by Hogg foundation.

Dr. True Heads Committee

Dr. Agnes True, associate professor of education and psychology at Texas Technological college, is chairman of the committee making plans.

Those interested in plans for the chapter are expected to include representatives of welfare groups, the Community Chest, schools, women's clubs, religious groups, Scouts, Parent-Teacher associations, crippled children's organizations, doctors, civic groups and others directly interested in mental hygiene of youth and adults.

The air in an average room weighs about 169 pounds.

Farmer Finds Safe Stolen At Lamesa

LAMESA, July 6. (Special)—A safe taken in the burglary of Sanders Grocery over the weekend was found Monday noon, hammered and burned in a field about 17 miles southwest of here. It was found by a farmer who said that he thought it was 'an old stove at first.'

An officer said that oil had been poured over the safe and fire set to it. Apparently the books and other papers had also been burned, he reported. It was believed that a sledge hammer had been used to open the safe.

Fred Sanders, owner of the store, estimated the loss between $400 and $500. The heavy safe contained the store's receipts for Saturday and all books and records.

Mrs. Fred Sanders, wife of the store's owner, who was bookkeeper, said the amount of loss could not be definitely determined until the books carried away with the safe are recovered, which now appeared unlikely.

Texas Ranger J. L. Rogers was assisting in the investigation.

RETONGA HAPPY FIND FOR HOUSEWIFE WHO WAS ONCE MISERABLE

Plagued by Nervous Indigestion for Many Miserable Years, California Woman Describes Relief Brought Her by Famous Gastric Tonic

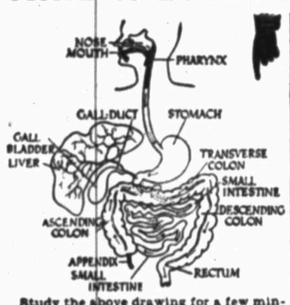

"It's hard to express in words the grand relief Retonga brought me after years of awful discomforts from nervous indigestion," rejoices Mrs. Grace Vreeland, respected resident and home-owner of 636 E. 78 Street, Los Angeles, Cal.

Mrs. Vreeland describes her case as follows: "I would bloat up terribly after almost every meal and suffered agonies from gas pains. I had trouble sleeping and the hours I lay awake seemed like ages. I felt so fagged out and sluggish that I'd put off doing my housework as long as I could and then would only half do it. My bowel action was very poor, so I had to resort to regular doses of harsh laxatives. None of the medicines I tried—and I tried a lot of them—seemed to do me much good, until I tried Retonga.

"The relief Retonga brought me was just too grand to describe in words. I can now eat almost anything without fear of discomforts afterwards. I have no trouble sleeping, feel full of pep and able to do my housework as it should be done. My constipation has been relieved, too, and the harsh laxatives stay on the shelf. I feel wonderful and my husband says he can see a big difference in me since I started taking Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. If the first bottle fails to give you gratifying relief, your money will be refunded. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores, including Mark Halsey Drug Stores.—Adv.

TAKE A LOOK AT YOUR INSIDES

Study the above drawing for a few minutes. Notice particularly how the bile flows from the liver into and out of the gall-bladder and thence into the small intestine where it mixes with the partly digested food just below the stomach. Bile is a necessary adjunct to proper digestion. Its absence from the intestines inevitably causes putrefaction and fermentation.

NATURE'S DANGER SIGNALS

When your stomach, liver, and gall bladder have been upset by improper eating or drinking, or when they are not working well because retained and putrefying food matter in your intestines is poisoning your entire body, you, sooner or later, begin to feel some of the following symptoms:

Your breath may become unpleasant (halitosis), your tongue coated, a bad taste in your mouth, your coffee (and tobacco) lose their natural flavor, your food does not agree with you; you may have heartburn, gas and dizzy spells, you may be troubled with belching; at night the gas in your bowels may press upon your bladder making you get up frequently, thus breaking into your sleep.

In the morning you are tired instead of refreshed. Gradually your health is impaired.

Your complexion may become sallow or bilious; dark rings may appear under your eyes, you may feel lazy, dull and irritable or blue and melancholic. You may have frequent colds (catarrh) or dull head-ache; your bowels stop their free, full and natural action; you have constipation, gas, putrefaction and self-poisoning ("intestinal toxaemia" or "acute gastritis" as many doctors call it).

HOW TO GET RELIEF

You can relieve this condition, usually overnight, by taking Calotabs at bedtime and drinking water freely next day.

The beneficial effects of Calotabs lie in the fact that they are (1) laxative, (2) antiseptic to the intestines, (3) diuretic to the kidneys, (4) effective in relieving symptoms of biliousness and acute gastritis due to constipation or faulty digestion.

Calotabs are pleasant to take (sugar coated), prompt and effective. Try them and see. Follow label directions. At your druggists'.

Hubbers Split Double-Header To Climb Into Second Place

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

The Glorious Fourth has come and gone, leaving in its wake all sorts of baseball and other sport records. The usual huge crowds turned out to see the national pastime, while the Soap Box Derin Lubbock probably drew as many persons to a local event as anything in years. All in all, it was quite a day and the major leagues reached the season's halfway mark without any startling changes.

It generally is customary to write a column on the Fourth and yesterday's scribbling was along that line, without any reference to the pyrotechnics generally expected. Instead, we filled most of 18 inches with the home run production at Rosenthal Field this year. If that isn't fireworks, we're as wrong as wrong can be. And Chick Fowler, who was called in as a replacement to Abilene's Ernie Falappino at the last minute for the All-Star game Saturday night, proved that his game-winning homer in Abilene was no fluke. He hit another Sunday that outdid all the firecrackers kids were shooting off from time to time.

In line with the All-Star game, some things stood out that couldn't go in the straight story. First of all, the Hubbers stood out in that contest as conspicuously as a sore thumb on a violin player. Manager Jackie Sullivan, whose selection at shortstop drew objection from at least one sportswriter in the league, made a lot of the same men eat newsprint. He had a ringing double and a sharp single in two times at bat; he made the initial out and the last assist in the game; he fielded his position flawlessly and sparked the South to the only double play of the game. All in all, it was an impressive performance by a man rated "not good enough" by some writers.

Big Virgil Richardson dropped a tremendously high pop fly knocked by Bob Crues, but otherwise played his usual brilliant game at first and drove in one of the South's runs with a single. Rich said in the car after the game that he almost broke his neck following the fly. He never lost the ball but he had to stand there with his neck crooked back so long that he almost fainted. Fact of the matter is, he had time enough to go in the dugout, get a drink of water, smoke half a cigar and take a five-minute nap before the ball finally came down from the vicinity of a cloud.

Fowler, of course, appeared at the plate only once, but that won the game for the South. He drove a 2-1 pitch over the leftfield fence between the scoreboard and a milk bottle signboard and the game virtually was over. He also accepted two chances in the field perfectly. Don Moore, while he didn't get a hit, called a good game behind the plate and when he left the game, the South had a lead. And Royce Mills protected the Rebels' two-run lead with as neat a piece of hurling as he has done all year. He was faster than we have seen him all year and his curves were breaking fast and sharp. With Fowler's homer and Mills' relief hurling, Sullivan's fielding and Richardson's steady work and Moore's handling of the pitchers, the South won its fourth straight and fifth in six games.

The outstanding catch of the game was made in right centerfield by Manager Art Bowland of Abilene. It was a beautiful running catch going away from a long fly that was headed for the wall. Bowland reached across his chest, arched his body up and gathered the ball in one-handed at the last possible minute. It was such a great catch that the runner on third scored easily and the runner on second went to third without any play being made.

Abilene's Fred Fazzio, the elongated drink of water who serves as a pitcher, almost stole the show and provided the home fans with plenty about which to cheer. He came up twice in the six-run third, starting the rally with a sharp double off the leftfield wall and, after the side had batted around, drove a single through the box that brought in two runs. His pitching also was good, although he was reached for two runs in the fourth.

The crowd at the game was disappointing. It naturally favored the home town boys; it behaved demurely when any other player came to bat; it applauded politely when another player did something of note; but it failed to whoop and holler for the South, other than the reception given the team when it went on the field. It was a small crowd, disappointingly small, which probably can be accounted for by the fact that it had rained most of the afternoon and threatened all evening. It's all over for 1948, but we hope that the 1949 game returns to the customary rousing crowd and partisan spirit.

All of the fireworks in the West Texas-New Mexico League weren't exploded on the Glorious Fourth, most of them taking place yesterday, with both Lubbock and Albuquerque having their winning streaks stopped at 10 and 13 games respectively.

But the Hubbers came out of it in better shape, splitting a twin with Borger's Gassers and moving into second place, as Clovis came up with a pair of victories over Pampa. At the same time, Amarillo kept pace with Lubbock by dividing two with Lamesa, but Albuquerque, the hottest team in the league, lost both ends of their twin to Abilene.

Abilene Takes Two

The scores yesterday were Lubbock 11, Borger 1 in the first game, but Borger 4, Lubbock 3, in the second. Over at Abilene the Blue Sox won the first game 7-5 from the Dukes and then repeated in the nightcap 11-1. The Gold sox kept step by losing to Lamesa 2-1 in the opener and copping the second 5-4. And Clovis turned giant killer by taking Pampa twice, 7-2 and 9-3.

A pair of "iron men" traded victories at Lamesa in the outstanding pair of pitching performances of the day. Jack Schumacher went the route twice for Amarillo and Stan Grzywacz did a ditto act for the Loboes. They could come out of it with no better than a draw, Schumacher losing the first and taking the second.

Brings Four Home

Lamesa won the first game with a rally in the last half of the seventh that was good for two runs and the ball game, with Jim Skidgel driving in the winning run on a single. But Bob Crues, who has been in a slump, came out of it with two home runs in the second game, even though his blows came with no one on base. Tony Fiarito, new Lobo manager, set a mark for his teammates to aim at by driving in all four Lamesa runs in the second tilt.

Schumacher gave up six hits in the first tilt and seven in the second, while Grzywacz allowed six in the first and only five in the second. But four Lobo errors handed the winners an unearned run that made the difference.

The Hubbers did everything right in the first game of their twin bill against the Gassers, hitting and fielding well, while Bob Clodfelter hurled an magnificent game. Then things went sour in the second tilt, mainly because Red Ramsey was inefficient, despite allowing only six hits and walking five men.

Homers Are Hit

The Hubbers took the first game via the home run route which is their favorite weapon. Don Moore, who had a pair of circuit clouts, started it off with a homer in the second. Then Clodfelter smashed a three-run homer in the fourth and Moore got his second blow, another three-run homer, in the fifth. Charley Scarborough, who hit into three double plays in the second game, two of them in succession, slammed a fourmaster in the sixth to end the Hubber scoring.

But Borger came back determined to win the next game and they did, banging Ramsey at the right time. Most of the damage came in the fifth, when Leon Mitchell poled a two-run double into left field, the ball barely falling inside the foul line. The Hubbers threatened in the sixth, only to have Gene Hixson and Frank McAlexander leave three men stranded.

The Hubbers really put the squeeze on Borger in the seventh, when Floyd Walker pinch hit and singled. Wilcox got his third straight single and, with no outs, it looked like the Hubbers might pull the game out of the fire. But Scarborough hit into his third double play of the night, Cotton Russell, who had run for Walker, scoring.

Manager Jackie Sullivan walked, bringing the dangerous Virgil Richardson to the plate. Sullivan, intent on getting into scoring position by stealing second, took too big a lead off first and was trapped by Ray Edwards' fast throw to Mitchell, the first baseman tossing to Larry Gilchrist for the final out.

Tonight the dangerous league-leading Albuquerque Dukes come to Rosenthal Field for a crucial four-game series, which may go a long way in determining the final winner. Manager Sullivan will send Russell to the mound in an effort to get off to a good start against the team that has been burning up the league with its 13-game winning streak.

J. B. McCauley Qualifies With Net 61

Pairings For Directors Cup Play For Week Are Revealed

Thirty-two matches have been scheduled for this week in the annual Directors Cup Handicap tournament now underway at the Lubbock Country club.

J. B. McCauley established himself as low qualifier in the tournament with a net 61. Following preliminary play, competition got underway in the tournament Monday.

One match will be played a week. It was announced that any matches not completed at the end of each week would be forfeited.

"The first man listed in each match bracket should call his opponent and make arrangements for the match," golfers were instructed.

A large permanent trophy will be placed in the trophy case in the new club house, and the name of the winner of the Directors cup tourney will be inscribed on it. Should anyone win the cup tourney three times — it would not be required that the winnings be consecutive — permanent possession of the cup would go to him, and the club would replace the trophy and "commence again."

Cards Set For Two South Plains Boxers

CLIFFSIDE PARK, N. J., July 6 (Special) — Lubbock's and the South Plains' latest contributions to the professional boxing ranks, Bill Henderson of Levelland and Lubbock, and J. D. Kirkpatrick of Petersburg, will go after additional ring honors Wednesday night in six-round bouts at the Jamaica, Long Island, N. Y., arena.

Henderson will appear in a six-round fight, it has been announced.

Henderson, who only last Wednesday fought and won his first six-rounder, will be making his second appearance in the Jamaica arena. It was here that he won a clean decision, over Joe Mincilli, a good puncher who had won ten straight pro fights.

J. D. Kirkpatrick of Petersburg, Joe Vella's outstanding light heavyweight, also will make a start again on the same card, fighting a six-rounder.

Kirkpatrick fought June 29 at the Queensboro Club on Long Island, and knocked out George Washington in the second round of a four-round fight.

Both will be making their last appearances in metropolitan rings, leaving New York City Sunday for Lubbock where they will be featured in six-round fights on a Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce fight card. There will be 44-rounds of boxing, with two eight-rounders, four six-rounders and a four-round fight.

Pro Gridders Train At Tech

Footballs are soaring through the air again at Texas Tech, but the professional gridders, not the Red Raiders, are the ones responsible.

Four former Red Raider lettermen daily are running and tossing a football around as they get in shape before reporting to training camps of professional teams. They are Walter Schlinkman of Dumas, Ralph Earhart of Lefors, Roland Nabors of Lubbock, and Bernie Winkler of Temple. Joe Smith of Electra, a fifth Techsan under pro contract, is expected to join the group soon.

Schlinkman for the past two years has been a fullback for the Green Bay Packers, and last season was placed on the second National Pro league team. Earhart recently signed with Green Bay as a halfback and will be trying out this summer.

Nabors, a center, will report early next month to the New York Yankees of the All-American league. He received All-America mention with Texas Tech the past two seasons.

Winkler was signed with the Los Angeles Dons of the All-American circuit, while Smith will seek a place on the Baltimore Colt eleven of the same league.

Floyd Lawhorn, signed with the Washington Redskins of the National league, is working out at his home in Temple. Bull Rankin, Plainview, is a member of the Chicago Cardinals of the National league, a seventh former Red Raider in pro ranks.

Lubbock Men Enter U. S. Golf Tourney

Two Lubbock Linksmen have given their intention of participation for sectional qualifying of the First Junior Amateur Championship of the United States Golf association by mailing their entrance fees. The two, Ross Mitchell and Bill Tatum, airmailed their fees Monday, it was announced.

Chick Trout, who has been named a member of the committee of Fred Hogan of Midland, sectional affairs committeeman of the USGA, said Mitchell, a runner-up at the recent State High School championship, and Tatum would qualify in 18-hole stroke play at Dallas Country club July 27, under direction of Ben Lee Boynton president of the Texas Golf association, of Dallas.

The tournament proper will be played Aug. 11 to 14 on the University of Michigan golf course, at Ann Arbor. Those who qualify at Dallas will be eligible to go to Ann Arbor, Trout said.

The per capita consumption of ice cream in the United States every year averages about 2.9 gallons.

Indians, Braves In Big League Saddle

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves will meet in the world series next October if the old baseball axiom—"the team in first place on July 4 wins the pennant"—holds true this year.

The end of the holiday activities today finds the Indians still pacing the American league by one full game and the Braves on top in the National by two.

Average Holds True

In the American league's 47-year history, the team in first place Independence day won the pennant 30 seasons as against 17 winners who had not led on July 4. That is a .638 percentage.

Nearly two-thirds of the teams which led on July 4 became the eventual pennant winners.

The Indians were held even in their double header with the Tigers in Cleveland yesterday, but lost no ground to their closest pursuers as the second place Philadelphia Athletics also split a twin bill and the third place New York Yankees were handed a rousing double dousing by the Red Sox in Boston.

The Indians won the opener, 6-3, for Bobby Lemon's 12th triumph.

Two Homers

The Tigers took a 7-5 victory in the nightcap.

A bright spot for Cleveland was Ken Keltner's two home runs which put him on top in that department once again with 19.

Held to six hits and defeated 3-1 by Mickey Haefner and the Senators in Washington, the Athletics bounced back in the second game, mauling five Washington pitchers for 14 hits and a 12-5 triumph. The split left the A's still one game behind the tribe.

Bobby Doerr clouted three home runs, two in the second game, as the Red Sox topped the Yankees twice, 6-5 and 8-7.

The Yankees appeared en route to a split, holding a 7-5 edge in the eighth inning, but Doerr's third home run with Ted Williams on base tied the count. A single by Matt Batts, a sacrifice, and Dom Di Maggio's single broke up the game in the ninth.

White Sox Win

Kramer had easy sailing in the opener until the last two innings. Ahead 6-0, he allowed two runs in the eighth. Then, with two out in the ninth, the Yankees scored three times on Johnny Lindell's homer with one on and three singles.

The Chicago White Sox, season long occupants of the American league cellar, climbed within a game and a half of the seventh place Browns by sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from St. Louis, 3-2 and 5-4.

After losing a heart-breaking 6-5 decision in 13 innings, the Braves bounced back to whip the Giants, 4-1. However, they lost a full game to the St. Louis Cardinals, who moved past Pittsburgh into second place, two games behind the Braves. The Cards swept a double header from the Chicago Cubs 6-3 and 5-2.

Split Games

Ralph Kiner belted three home runs in the first game for the Pirates. The Bucs split with Cincinnati, winning the first 10-3, and losing the second, 6-4. Kiner batted in five runs. It was the third time Kiner has hit three homers in one game. Johnny Mize of the Giants holds the record, five. Lou Gehrig, Yankee immortal, was the only other batter to own three.

Gerry Staley, who had not won a game all season, received credit for both Cardinal victories, in relief. Stan Musial rapped two hits in each game to boost his batting average to .410. The second game was halted after five and a half innings by rain.

Rex Barney pitched the second complete game of his big league career as the Brooklyn Dodgers polted the Phillies in both ends of a Philadelphia doubleheader, 4-3 and 10-1.

WINS AUSTIN MEET

AUSTIN, July 6 (AP)—Walter Benson, jr., of Austin is champion of the second annual Austin Golf association tournament. He defeated Jay Smith, University of Texas student from Vernon, 6 and 5, yesterday.

The summer air over an acre of woodland possesses more moisture content than the air over an acre of water such as a lake at the same temperature.

Ben Hogan Is Detroit Victor

DETROIT, July 6 (AP)—Little Ben Hogan the Hershey, Pa., dynamo, was a lot wearier and $2,600 wealthier today after defeating seasoned E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Albuquerque, N. M., by one stroke in the 18-hole playoff of the $15,000 motor city open golf tournament.

Complaining that he was "dead tired" after the match yesterday, Hogan carded a two-over par 73 while Harrison's last minute spurt gave him a 74. The playoff was necessitated after both golfers had finished with identical 275's over the regulation 72 holes.

The victory gave Hogan, leading money winner of the year, a total of $21,000 won so far this season. Harrison took second prize money of $1,900 while Marty Furgol of Albuquerque and Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., each received $1,275 for their third place tie in Sunday's final round.

Both finalists conceded that yesterday's play was poor. Harrison, who appeared almost as weary as Hogan, was somewhat more enthusiastic however.

"Anytime I can win $1,900," he smiled, "I'm doing all right."

Harrison, who held the lead over the nation's top pros during the greater part of the tourney, might have won the event several times had he not been dogged by misfortune on the greens.

C. R. Skidmore Is Winner Of Flag Golf Tournament Here

Topping the field for grand prize honors in the Flag tournament conducted at Lubbock Country club Sunday was C. R. Skidmore.

Under Flag tourney rules, the individual is allowed par plus his handicap in determining how many strokes he can use up. The one who goes fartherest around the course in that number of strokes is winner.

Skidmore's last shot stopped about 27 feet from the cup on the 20th, or No. 2, hole.

Runner-up was L. O. Robertson, whose last shot stopped just off the green on the same hole.

In addition, the following were winners in three classes of play:

Class A: Charles Townes, first; Ray Biggers, second; Jimmie Marshall, third.

Class B: Frank Baker, first; B. F. Hutson, second; George Carter, third.

Class C: A. C. Jackson, Jimmie Morris and Dr. D. C. Williams tied for first.

Prizes Are Given

All winners received gold balls, as prizes, from the shop of Professional Herb Schroeder.

Among the women, Mrs. T. E. Patterson holed out on the 18th green to win the grand prize. Mrs. George Soash was on the edge of the green to win in Class A, Mrs. Glenn Watson was 100 yards short of the green to win the class B tourney.

Eighty-three players entered the tournament.

Among low scores posted over the weekend at the club were a 68 by Charlie Townes; a 69 by Tom Murphey; a 70 by Jimmy Goldman, and numerous scores of 71 (par) to 75.

Golfers pronounced the course in probably the best condition it ever has been. Among visiting golfers was E. C. Nix, jr., recent winner of the Hobbs Invitation. He went around two days with Lofton Burnette, Amos Howard and Goldman, and was near par both days.

Odessa Moves Up To Second In Longhorn

Odessa trimmed Sweetwater 8-1 and 10-9. Big Spring beat Midland 3-2 and 2-1.

In the only other game played in the loop Del Rio trimmed San Angelo 5-0.

Vernon at Ballinger was postponed because of rain.

Twins Increase Lead In Big State League

(By The Associated Press)

The Sherman-Denison twins, who had been tottering on their perch at the top of the Big State league, could breath easier today.

The Twins licked Greenville twice last night while second-place Austin was idle because of rain and thus increased their lead to three games.

Sherman Denison strapped Greenville 5-1 in the opener and 3-1 in the after-piece.

In the only other action Paris blasted Texarkana in a double bill, winning the first 10-0 and the nightcap 5-0.

Ralph Rivas allowed Greenville only four hits in the first tilt. In the second game Greenville left 13 men stranded while Will Rocs pitched a six-hitter.

Jim McDowell won his eleventh pitching victory of the season in limiting Texarkana to two scratch singles in the first game and Bob Mistele elbowed a five-hitter in the after-piece.

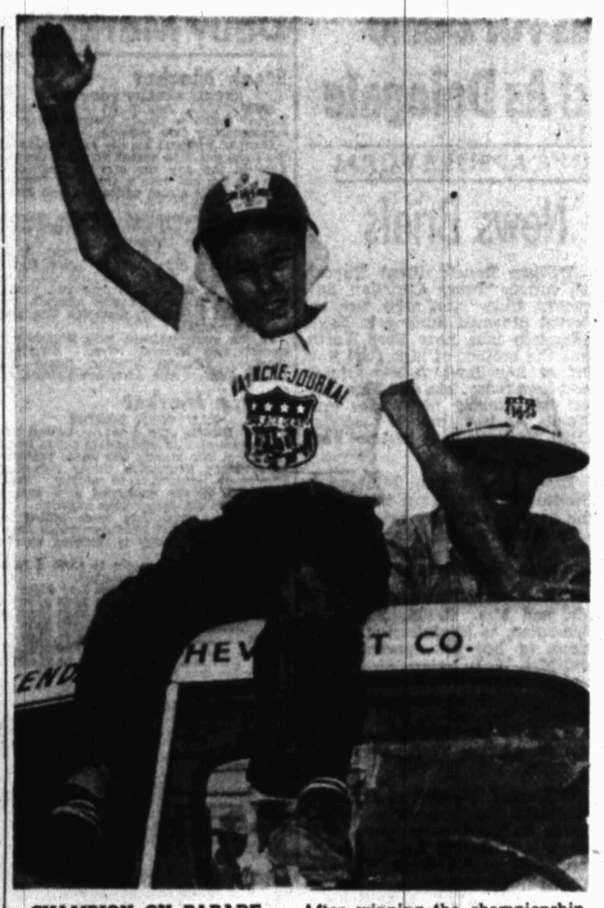

Wichita Falls at Gainesville was rained out.

The clubs all change stands tonight with Wichita Falls at Greenville, Sherman Denison at Gainesville, Paris at Austin and Texarkana at Waco.

Tulsa Oilers Profit In Holiday Games As Other Teams Split Up

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Tulsa's Oilers were the only ones getting any profit out of the Texas league's full round of holiday double-headers yesterday—that is, except the club owners and hot dog salesmen.

Tulsa walloped Oklahoma City in both games while all other twin bills were being split. Thus the Oilers advanced within a game and a half of second place Houston.

Crowds totaling 26,309 turned out for the eight games. Oklahoma City had only 3,363 but the weather was bad there.

With 8,574 watching league-leading Fort Worth and Dallas divided, the Cats taking the first 3-2 and Dallas triumphing in the after-piece 6-3.

Beaumont beat Houston 6-4 in the opener while the Buffs took the nightcap 4-3 with 9,349 fans looking on.

San Antonio beat Shreveport 5-0 and Shreveport clipped San Antonio 5-4 at Shreveport where 6,023 came for the fireworks.

Tulsa swept over Oklahoma City 9-2 and 6-1 with Harry Perkowski winning his fourteenth game of the season in the opener

Fort Worth Takes Opener

Home Matney drove in three runs with a double in the seventh inning as Fort Worth beat Dallas in the opening game In the second tilt Lefty Quentin Altizer limited Fort Worth to five hits to notch his eighth victory.

Kent Sterling and Maurice Newlin combined to let Houston down with only three hits in the second game after a free-clubbing first tilt.

San Antonio pounded four hits and Shreveport made five errors and the Missions scored all their runs in the last frame in winning the opening game. Emory Rudd allowed Shreveport four scattered hits. The Sports turned the tables in the second game, scoring all their runs in the fifth inning.

Dallas goes to Fort Worth tonight but the other teams continue their stands with Tulsa at Oklahoma City, Beaumont at Houston and San Antonio at Shreveport.

Citation Is Horse Of Year After New Handicap Victory

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—Incredible Citation was more firmly established today as "horse of the year" while Ben Whitaker's My Request, sneaking from the shadow of the Calumet flyer, had a strong bid in for runnerup honors among the season's three-year-olds.

These were the principal conclusions of a holiday racing program that saw a total of 292,132 fans turn out at 11 tracks and wager $14,339,158.

Citation, having beaten the best of his age in winning the triple crown, took on a formidable field of older stars in the $56,100 stars and stripes handicap at Arlington park and won by two lengths.

A record track crowd of 46,490 saw the three-year-old sensation tie Armed's mark of 1.49 1/5 for the mile and an eighth route in winning his seventh in a row.

Meanwhile, My Request was showing a return to his spring form at Aqueduct in speeding to an easy victory in the $57,300 Dwyer stakes.

My Request, looking every inch a champion, streaked the mile and a quarter Dwyer route in 2:02—just three fifths of a second off the track record. He beat King ranch's Better Self by four lengths with Alfred Vanderbilt's Loser Weeper, a 50-1 shot, coming in third. The winner paid $4.40.

Texan And Horse, Both 37 Years Of Age, Have Been Companions For Three Decades

WICHITA FALLS, July 6 (AP)—J. D. Craft, who lives near Jacksboro, is 37 years old and has a horse the same age.

The horse, Old Lightfoot, has no teeth and his legs can hardly support him but he can still get around. He bears no resemblance to the fine Indian pony he was 30 years ago, but Craft considers him "one of the family" and wouldn't sell him for any price.

Old Lightfoot is fed special formulas and no one has ridden him for 20 years.

When Craft was six years old his father bought the pony for him. The younger Craft saw the pony and "put up such a howl" that his father hardly had an alternative.

Man And Horse Inseparable

From that day on, the man and the horse practically have been inseparable, Glenn Shelton, agriculture editor of the Wichita Times, says.

Craft estimates Old Lightfoot has eaten $2,300 worth of feed since he was "pensioned" and the horse must be carted around in a special trailer.

But when Old Ligtfoot was young, he was a skilled and powerful cutting horse and served his master well.

And Craft is not forgetting.

Other probable starters include Mack Taylor, first base; Neil Sikes, second; Johnny Tatum, third base; Dan Adkisson, short; Tom Brown, left field; Bobby Sexton, center field; and Jimmy Sexton, right field.

Two other district tussles are scheduled today, with Plainview going to Morton and Littlefield invading Brownfield.

FOUND DRIFTING IN LIFEBOAT

Crew Saved After Explosion On Ship

(By The Associated Press)

SEASIDE PARK, N. J., July 6—The fishing trawler Reliable blew up in a 50-foot burst of flames within sight of the New Jersey shore early today and all seven crew members were found uninjured in a drifting lifeboat several hours later.

The rescue was made by a picket boat from the Barnegat inlet Coast Guard station which came upon the small lifeboat after previous searching vessels reported they could find no survivors at the scene of the blast.

Drifted Several Hours

Coast Guard spokesmen said the seven men needed only to be taken to the Barnegat inlet station and given transportation home. They had drifted in the darkness for several hours after their 110-foot trawler blew up and burned.

George Morehouse of Long Branch, captain of the Reliable, said there had been an explosion and the vessel burst into flames. He gave the order to abandon ship approximately two miles off Island beach between Seaside Park and Barnegat.

The explosian and resulting ball of fire on the darkened ocean was spotted by the lookout tower at the Seaside Park Coast Guard station. Police also received reports of the blast from witnesses at scattered points along the shore.

Ambulances were rushed to the beach front here from neighboring municipalities and firemen brought up floodlights in preparation for what was expected to be the landing of survivors as rescue craft rushed to the scene.

First Coast Guard boats there, however, reported they had found the burning hulk but could spot no survivors or bodies. They circled the area for more than an hour and a half before returning to port.

The floodlights already had been extinguished and the ambulances ordered home when the second Coast Guard boat came upon the drifting lifeboat. The trawler was listed as a total loss.

Youth Activities Are Featured At Lions Club Meeting Today

Youth activities featured the luncheon meeting of the Lions club today at Hotel Lubbock.

The club recognized Joe Teal, winner of the Soap Box Derby yesterday, heard a report by the sponsor and four youths who attended Boys State at Austin earlier in the summer, and then were cautioned by Rev. Travis W. White, pastor of First Christian church on adult responsibility to youth.

Plaque Is Displayed

Young Teal was introduced by Roy Finley, Soap Box derby director, who exhibited a plaque to be awarded the young winner in a ceremony tomorrow night. The youth, a 14-year-old Star Scout, expressed his pleasure at winning and prospects of competing in the national derby in August at Akron, O.

Representatives to Boys State who appeared at the meeting were Charles Galey, W. J. Blake, Jack McCabe, and Jack King, each of whom spoke briefly on various phases of the work except King, who was caught by time and was only introduced. They were introduced by G. B. Morris, their sponsor at Austin.

The Rev. Mr. White listed five things he said were a definite responsibility of adults on behalf of youth. One, he said, is home life, which he charged is suffering so from preoccupation. Others he listed as adequate educational opportunities and vocational incentive, adequate social and recreational facilities, a well balanced spiritual program by churches, and personal examples in living by adults that will lead youth to a better life.

Governor-Elect Present

Club President Wayne (Mickey) Henly, president for his first full meeting since election, introduced R. M. (Bob) Arnold, district governor-elect of District 2-X, of Gatesville, who brought greetings from his district, and praised the Lubbock club for its rating of tenth among all clubs of the organization throughout the world.

Henly announced that Ray Wells had been named program chairman for the year, and called for volunteers to have the evening meal Friday with Girl Scouts at the new camp at Buffalo Lakes sponsored by the club. Six club members are to attend, with Arnold Maas as committee chairman.

Space Available

Club Secretary Groves Denman announced that three or four vacancies exist on the club-sponsored special pullman to New York City for the convention of Lions International. These are available to friends of members.

Members of the club were to go to Idalou tonight to put on a program for the club there in the school auditorium.

The luncheon program brought an innovation by the incoming president that included dinner music, with Lawrence Ivy at the piano, and five minutes of news by Jimmy Stiff of radio station KCBD. Invocation was by Dr. J. Ralph Grant.

Dow Chemical Plant Employes On Strike

MIDLAND, Mich., July 6. (U.P.)—About 5,200 employees of the Dow chemical company struck over a wage dispute today and set up picket lines at the huge plant's main clockroom at the start of the day shift.

Wage negotiations between the United Mine Workers of America and the company broke down last Wednesday and the strike deadline was set by Harold J. Bowers, UMW local president.

Police said 200 pickets at the plant were orderly although spectators created a traffic jam. Officers were on hand in full force to keep order when all work stopped at the plant at 8 a. m.

Odessa Causes No End Of Suspense

DALLAS, July 6. (U.P.)—The name "Odessa" created quite a bit of suspense around Dallas early today.

It began when two men entered an elevator at Southland hotel shortly after midnight and demanded of Karl Hart, a bellman, that he tell them what floor Odessa was on.

Hart said he didn't know Odessa. The men called him a liar, whipped out a pistol and beat him over the head. The bellman was taken to Parkland hospital.

A few minutes later a man and a woman appeared at the Jefferson hotel. The man produced a .38 caliber pistol and ordered Sam Moon, an employe, to tell him on which floor was Odessa.

"If you don't tell me, I'll blow your—out," said the man. Then he changed his mind and turned and walked out.

About 2 a. m. a man fired a pistol through the window of the Texan cafe. Preston Parker, a cook, said about five shots were fired.

Police put ends together and made three arrests. (1) A 33-year-old husband overcome with jealousy, (2) a 26-year-old man at whom No 1 had fired as the former sat in the cafe with No. 1's wife, and (3) the wife herself—Odessa.

Oklahoma Election To Have Light Vote

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 6 (AP)—The forecast for today's primary in Oklahoma is light voting with intermittent thundershowers.

A dull campaign and last-minute souring of the weather are expected to trim the vote to 350 to 400 thousand, compared to previous vote highs of 800,000. Polls open at 6 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

The main prize is the United States Senate seat to be vacated by retiring Republican Sen. E. H. Moore. Eight seats in the House of Representatives are also up for the bi-annual tussle, along with a large number of the lesser state and county posts.

Ten Democrats and six Republicans have turned out for the Senate race.

Leading the Democrats in general estimation is former Gov. Robert S. Kerr, a millionaire oil man who was keynoter at the 1944 Democratic National convention.

On the Republican side another Congressman, Ross Rizley, is considered to have his nomination cinched.

Texas Banker Dies At Home In Dallas

DALLAS, July 6 (AP)—John Wilfred (Fred) Hoopes, 73, a banker in Texas for 58 years, former president of the Texas Bankers association and first cashier of the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas, died of a heart attack last night at his home here.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

When the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas was set up before the first world war, he became its first cashier. He was later made a vice-president and then a deputy governor.

He left Dallas for a time to become vice-president of the South Texas Commercial National Bank in Houston but came back in 1922. He joined the Mercantile National Bank in 1924.

Johnson Lands In Spite Of Protest

BROWNSVILLE, July 6 (U.P.)—U. S. Senate Candidate Lyndon Johnson settled down upon Brownsville's parade grounds today—just as if one of rival George Peddy's supporters had never protested his helicopter landing.

Mrs. Volney Taylor, member of the Brownsville school board and a Peddy campaign manager in Cameron county, filed the protest with the school board claiming a 'copter landing at the parade grounds would endanger the lives of nearby junior college students.

The school board, which owns the parade grounds, ignored the protest.

Mrs. Taylor then protested to the city, the other co-owner of the grounds.

Mayor H. L. Stokley's comment: "We went ahead and granted a permit to land."

So, Johnson drifted in, delivered his speech to about 300 supporters, and buzzed out again.

C. L. Harris Leaves For Demo Convention To Act As Delegate

Reiterating opposition to President Truman's civil rights program that has drawn fire from all over the South, and expressing the belief that Gen. Eisenhower would accept the Democratic nomination for the presidency if it is tendered him, C. L. Harris, Lubbock attorney and one of two delegates from this congressional district to the Democratic national convention, left today for Philadelphia.

Accompanied by his wife, Harris planned to drive through, and following the convention, visit other places in the East before returning.

Whiteside May Go

H. B. Clements of Whiteface, other convention delegate from this district, has already left for Philadelphia, and Clarence Whiteside, alternate delegate from here, said he hoped to attend but would not be certain before Thursday whether he could go because of public and private business matters.

Whiteside, member of the city commission, cited the commission meeting Thursday afternoon as an important session he does not wish to miss. He said he would combine his convention trip with attention to matters concerning the city's business.

The Texas special train to Philadelphia leaves Dallas Thursday night, and Whiteside said it might be that he could fly to Dallas Thursday evening in time to catch the train.

He believes that the southern revolt against the President's civil rights program is an issue that is deep-seated, and would split the party wide open. He said there is no indication of a softening of the President's views, nor is there anything to indicate that southern Democrats will change their views on the issue.

Primary instructions to the Texas delegation provide for last-ditch opposition to the President's civil rights program, and for restoration of the two-thirds rule on nomination. Harris believes that the latter has a good chance of approval because several mid-western states have agreed to join the South in the movement.

Eisenhower Only Hope

The change would provide for a two-thirds majority for nomination on the first three ballots, but a simple majority would rule beyond the third ballot.

Regarding Eisenhower, Harris believes that the Texas votes will go to him, and that the general would accept if he is nominated. He said he has been informed that it is probable a member of the Texas delegation will place the general in nomination.

Harris feels that Eisenhower is the only hope of Democrats to win this year, and that if he will not accept the nomination, the remaining hope is to turn to someone who at least "could preserve the party" even though he could not win the election.

Farley Suggested

For this potential assignment, he mentioned Jim Farley, a long time strong party man, or some similar individual.

Harris said, however, that no definite decisions have been made by the Texas delegation on candidate choices, but that he anticipated some kind of commitment from a caucus scheduled to be held in Philadelphia at 2 o'colck Sunday afternoon, prior to opening of the convention Monday.

Fort Worth Holds Narcotics Roundup

FORT WORTH, July 6. (U.P.)—Federal and city officers today conducted one of Fort Worth's largest narcotics roundup in recent years, confiscating nine ounces of marijuana and arresting seven persons.

Federal charges of dope violations were faced by six suspects. Another was arrested.

Inspector H Clay Bishop of city police said the raids still were in progress. Police were searching for the source of supply of marijuana.

Two cab drivers and two ex-taxicab operators were seized in the roundup. Authorities said four cars had been used in the dope traffic. Evidence was gained by the purchase of marijuana cigarets.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ma, Chinese students at Texas Technological college, will be the guest speakers at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the first of four meetings on China to be held during the month at St. John's Methodist church, Fourteenth and Ave. X.

The second of the series will be held July 14 and will include a film, "My Name Is Han." The July 21 program has not been completed, but on July 28 George Hollister, missionary to China and a delegate to the general conference which met recently in Boston, Mass., will be the feature speaker. The public is cordially invited to the meeting.

Creager Heads GOP Campaign

SAN ANTONIO, July 6 (AP)—In an explosive session here today Col Rene B. Creagor, veteran Brownsville Republican leader, with his followers took control of the state-wide Dewey-Warren campaign organization.

Creager forces, dominating a meeting of the state headquarters with delegates to the recent national convention in Philadelphia, named a state-wide committee for the Dewey-Warren ticket containing only two officers from the old Dewey forces.

Refuses To Serve

Named as chairman of the organization was H. J. Porter of Houston

George C. Hopkins, state executive chairman and a leading Dewey supporter, was named vice chairman of the committee but refused to serve.

Carlos C. Watson of Brownsville, a Taft supporter, was named secretary treasurer of the group

Bitter Exchange

Stock Market

FINDS STEADY FOOTING

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP) — The stock market found a steady footing today in comparatively slow trading.

Demand centered on the rail section at the start but soon spread to other groups. Late in the day the carriers and some other issues ran into a few mild flurries of selling and closed under the best levels of the session.

Turnover approached 1,000,000 shares, or about on a par with last week's comparatively slow business.

Ending higher were St. Paul, Erie, Chesapeake & Ohio, Katy preferred, Union Pacific, Zenith Radio, Richfield Oil, Sinclair Oil, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Caterpillar Tractor, Douglas Aircraft, International Telephone, American Can and Allied Chemical.

In the minus column were Studebaker Consolidated Natural Gas, American Smelting, General Electric, Santa Fe, Illinois Central and American airlines.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP) — Cotton futures were easy in moderately active trading today. The market was under pressure of scattered liquidation partly reflecting evening-up operations in nearby July, prompted by the continued slow export demand for old crop cotton supplies.

There was some fair trade selling in nearby October and December which dealers attributed partly to hedging operations.

Futures closed 70 cents to $1.70 a bale lower than the previous close.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP) — The July corn delivery broke the 8-cent daily limit shortly before noon today. Today's selling was a continuation of Saturday's liquidation, and spread to all corn deliveries. Later some recovery was made.

Wheat was weak on mill and commission house selling, the result of record receipts of wheat of 4,578 cars at Kansas City over the long holiday. A mild rally near the close lifted prices from the day's low.

Oats carried a fairly steady undertone most of the session, but the break in corn caused some nervousness.

At the finish wheat rallied sharply and closed unchanged to ¾ higher than Saturday's close July $2.28⅞-¾. Corn was unchanged to 4½ cents lower. July $2.08¼-08. Oats were ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, July 87¾-88.

Peru Seeks To Dispel Revolt

LIMA, Peru, July 6 (AP)—Virtual martial law existed in Peru today as the government acted to restore public order following Sunday's revolt by the army garrison at Juliaca in the southeast.

An official announcement last night said Brig. Gen. Federico Hurtado, inspector general of the army, has ordered the Rebel garrison to surrender and told them the rest of the army is loyal to the government.

Placed In Command

The announcement said Hurtado has been placed in command of all armed forces, the police and the republican guard.

Anyone on the streets after midnight must carry a safe conduct pass issued by the army, the announcement said. Only essential vehicles may move after that hour.

The military has been given control over communications. Censorship has been established in the cable and telegraph offices.

La Tribuna, organ of the radical Aprista party, said last night that leaders of the party had informed the government of their support.

There was no indication as to the reason for Sunday night's revolt.

Paul P. Elliott Is Optimist Speaker

Members of Optimist club met for their weekly luncheon today at Lubbock hotel, and heard Paul P. Elliott, lecturer in physics at Texas Technological college, evaluate some of the benefits now being gained through knowledge of atomic energy and its power.

Elliott came to Tech after working on the Manhattan atomic project at Oak Ridge, Tenn. He was introduced to the club by Dr. C. C. Schmidt, head of the physics department at the college and Optimist club member.

What use atomic energy is to be put to depends upon us, Elliott said. Whether we use it for beneficial purposes, or for the destruction of mankind is something that mankind must decide, and decide soon. He closed his talk with the statement that prayer for world peace is the greatest weapon with which to cope with the threat of destruction through atomic energy

W. C. Mauzey, chairman of the club's publicity committee, made a brief report, and Dr. A. W Young enumerated some of the accomplishments of the Lions club which were reported at the club meeting last week, and at which he represented the Optimists.

Arias Flees To Canal Zone As Riots Claim Three In Panama

PANAMA, Panama, July 6 (AP)—Arnulfo Arias Madrid, his election to Panama's presidency challenged, many of his supporters under arrest and he himself a political refugee, says 'my little country is going to hell."

Arias showed up in the United States-controlled Canal Zone, where he took refuge yesterday with a dozen other top leaders in the wake of political riots which claimed three lives in Panama over the weekend.

Emergency Declared

Panama's government declared a state of emergency Sunday following a shooting incident between Panama police and Arias' followers. The district attorney's office in Panama said 310 Arias men are under arrest.

Although Arias apparently was victorious in the May 9 election, there was a question whether he would get the post.

His eligibility has been challenged on grounds that Panama's constitution bars anyone elected as president from running again until two terms have elapsed from the date he last held office. The 47-year-old nationalist leader was ousted from the presidency in a coup d'etat in 1941.

Unofficial Victory

Arias won an unofficial count in the May election, but a recount now is underway on behalf of his liberal party opponent, Domingo Diaz Arosemena.

Arias, who is staying in the town of Gamboa at the home of his nephew, George R. Yates, told newsmen: "For the time being I am awaiting developments. As you see, my little country is going to hell."

A spokesman for the Panama Canal administration said the policy there has been to grant political refuge, He added that, according to practice, Arias and the others signed statements agreeing not to engage in political activity while in the Canal Zone.

Hot Oil Convictions Reported For Year

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP) — Nine convictions under the Connally "hot oil" act returned $89,800 in fines during the 12 months ended June 30, Secretary of Interior Krug reported today.

The amount was third largest in any fiscal year since enactment in 1935 of the law prohibiting interstate transportation of oil production in violation of state laws.

Of the nine cases, three fines totaling $79,000 were in West Texas, three amounting to $4,000 were in East Texas, one of $2,500 was in South Texas and two totaling $3,000 were in Louisiana.

In fiscal 1937 fines under the act amounted to $160,200 and in 1942 a total of $142,300 was collected.

Since 1935 there have been 165 convictions and fines totaling $597,630.

Playground Olympics Scheduled Thursday

Final preparation for the Playground Olympics, in which entrants from city playgrounds will compete Thursday afternoon, will occupy the attention of directors and children today and tomorrow.

The affair will be held at 3 p.m. at Pioneer park, seventh and Ave. T. The recreation staff is being assisted by Tech students and Junior Welfare League volunteers.

Awards To Be Given

In most events, the number to enter from each park is unlimited, and a bus will make stops at the three visiting parks—Burns, Carlisle, and Wagner—to pick up the boys and girls who have entered. The bus will be at Burns park at 2:30 p. m.; at Carlisle at 2:40 p. m.; and at Wagner at 2:50 p. m.

Events have been planned for girls nine and under; boys nine and under; boys 11 and under, girls 11 and under; boys 12 and over; and girls 12 and over.

First, second and third place ribbon awards will be given in each event in which individuals compete. Four places will be judged in team events. The park winning most points for individual and team events will receive a plaque. A similar plaque will be awarded the runner-up.

Individuals are limited to three events, but parks may enter as many individuals in most events as they wish.

Riverside, Calif., Says "Never Again" As Motorcyclists End Three-Day Visit

RIVERSIDE, Calif., July 6 (AP)—As the last of "those wild motorcycle boys" chugged off, citizens of Riverside began sweeping their way today out of the dust and debris.

Signs of relief were audible on all sides, but perhaps the loudest came from Sheriff Carl F. Rayburn, sponsor of the three-day meet which disrupted the city.

Last Time For Sheriff

"That's the last time I'm inviting the motorcycle crowd," said the sheriff. "I don't think it's a good thing for a little town like Riverside."

Sheriff Rayburn, however, placed the blame on "a bunch of crazy kids," and said American Motorcycle association members were not responsible for the wild riding down main streets and fist throwing in sundry bars.

When the 2,000 cyclists departed, the box score stood one dead, one injured and 54 arrested.

The AMA 100-mile tough track race on the Box Springs course was won by Ed Kretz of Wilmar, Calif.

The winner's time was two hours, 26 minutes and 2.15 seconds, which seemed a short race to some residents after the impromptu series of street dashes Saturday and Sunday nights.

Flying beer bottles, firecrackers and fists punctuated near riots which brought all available police and sheriff's officers into action.

It was the second time in a year that Riverside dug itself out after a motorcycle invasion. Last labor day two were killed, 15 injured and more than a score arrested.

Husband Sues Wife For $1,500 Back Pay

TAMPA, Fla., July 6 (AP) — A Tampa husband today sued his wife for $1,500 in back pay.

Ervan L. Bauer filed suit in Hillsborough circuit court, declaring his wife had not paid him that amount in salary for 33 weeks.

Bauer said he operated therapeutic devices for his wife who owns a sanatorium.

Youth Dies Making Giant Firecracker

AMBLER, Pa., July 6 (AP)—Edward Foulkes, jr., 18, was killed yesterday while attempting to make a giant firecracker with a piece of pipe and some chemicals, Coroner W. J. Rushong of Montgomery county said.

Rushong said the youth, son of a prominent attorney, had gone to an estate at nearby Blue Bell with three other boys.

The coroner said the four purchased some chemicals and dragged the pipe onto the estate lawn. After they had put the chemical in the pipe, young Foulkes started jamming in some rags when the mixture exploded, Rushong said.

Foulkes was taken into the house on the estate but was pronounced dead on the arrival of a doctor. The other youths were not hurt because they were out of range of the flying particles of pipe, Rushong said.

Suspect Leaps Fence And Lands In River

NEW YORK, July 6 (INS)—A suspected automobile thief raced away from two pursuing policemen in the Bronx today, vaulted a four-foot fence—and landed with a splash in the Bronx river.

During the short, hot chase the policemen had fired several shots at their quarry.

A man identified as Frank Boullosa, 25, was fished out of the river and taken to Fordham hospital suffering from three bullet wounds.

Authorities said he had been spotted driving a car stolen Sunday night.

Russian Legation Planned In Siam

MANILA, July 6 (AP) — Russia will make her new legation in Siam a base for Communist activity in all southeast Asia, qualified observers predict.

More than 40 Russians are in Bangkok, setting up their first legation in that rubber-rich, tin-rich capital. And one Siamese official said in Bangkok recently that there weren't more than 10 Soviet citizens in all Siam.

There is no strong oriental leadership against Communism the American-owned Bangkok post points out.

". . . The vacuum caused by British withdrawal from many areas in Asia is slowly being filled by Russian ideology," it said. "The process may be slow, but it seems to be a certain one . . ."

U. S. Ambassador Edwin F. Stanton stated: "The game Moscow is playing is not just a European game or a China game . . . if all Southeast Asia becomes a solid, hostile Communist bloc, it will be a cause of great concern to all the world."

The Russian legation staff already has set up an information service. It distributed its first bulletin to all Bangkok newspapers June 22.

Newly Formed Group Will Oppose WCTU

NEW YORK, July 6. (AP)—The Sons of the Whisky Rebellion, "opposed to blue noses and to red noses as well," was organized at the Statue of Liberty yesterday.

Walter A. Kennedy, president of the Associated Taxern Owners of Brooklyn and a director of the Association Tavern Owners of America, said a delegation of 100 had met to form the new group to fight prohibition and excessive liquor taxes.

Kennedy said the group will be a public body in opposition to the Women's Christian Temperance Union and that he hoped to enroll 10,000,000 members nationally.

Mix sliced cucumbers with finely-cut onion and green pepper; add a dash of sugar, tarragon vinegar and some sour cream. Serve on salad greens with cold meat or broiled fish.

HOLLYWOOD, July 6 (AP) — "Prince" Mike Romanoff, favorite caterer to many Hollywood celebrities, mixed business with pleasure today.

He was back greeting visitors to his Beverly Hills restaurant and accepting congratulations on his marriage to Gloria Lister, 22, at Las Vegas Sunday night.

Joe Teal Wins First Soap Box Derby

Lynn County Youngster Grabs Class B Title In Race Classic

A little guy named Joe, weighing only 96 pounds, rode to glory down East Broadway hill Monday afternoon to earn the title of Lubbock's first Soap Box Derby champion before an estimated crowd of 15,000 persons.

The winner and champion was Joe Teal, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Teal, 1919 Thirty-first, who won the right to represent Lubbock in the All-American Soap Box Derby at Akron, O., Aug. 15.

His tiny blue streamlined racer, made of banana crate wood and covered with one of his mother's old bed sheets lacquered to a fine sheen, nosed down the 1,000-foot flag-decked straight-of-way course five times for an average of 35.9 seconds to capture the top honors from 231 other South Plains youngsters competing in Lubbock's first derby.

But close on his tail as he crossed the finish line was a Lynn county youngster, Willie A. Nieman, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Nieman, route 4, Tahoka, who reside in the New Home community approximately 25 miles south of Lubbock. The farm youth, a seventh grade student in the New Home school, captured the class B championship over 98 other boys in that division.

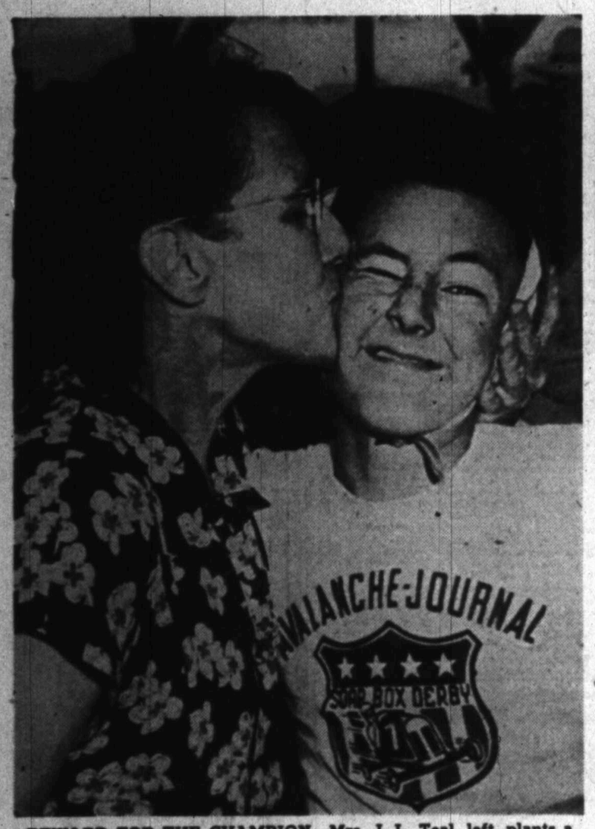

Bruce McCarty, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. McCarty, 2812 Twenty-first, who won second place in the class A finals, nosed out Mickey Ham, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Ham, 2312 Twenty-sixth, for third place. Young Ham, who could barely see above the cowl of his racer, was fourth-place winner.

The Derby, sponsored jointly by The Avalanche-Journal, Kuykendall Chevrolet company and the Lubbock Exchange club, was witnessed by an estimated 30,000 people throughout the six-hour period required to reel it off in four-car heats.

Spectators lining the course were on edge every heat during the last thirty minutes of the Derby when race after race was decided with close finishes and cheers rang up from hundreds of throats as the champion ended his final run down the track and came riding back up the hill to the starter's stand atop one of the pick-up trucks waving his right arm high and grinning from ear to ear.

It was a thrilling finish to a six-hour grind of racing the tiny cars down the highway hill, marred only by a 45-minute interrup-

Students Will Get Awards

Eighteen graduates of Lubbock area high schools have been chosen to receive the annual Dunlap scholarship awards at Texas Technological college, James G. Allen, dean of men, stated Monday afternoon. Only 15 of those chosen have accepted, but replies from the other three are expected soon, Dean Allen said.

The three students from each of the 43 high schools in Lubbock county and the eight surrounding counties who have the highest scholastic average, are given tests and interviewed each year to determine their college potentialities, and the student ranking highest on the tests is given the scholarship.

The awards are $50 per semester, given to the student in cash at the end of the first nine weeks of the semester, provided he has maintained a B average for that period. The tests must show that the student has the ability to maintain such an average before he can qualify for the scholarship.

The 15 students who have been named and who have accepted the scholarships include Weldon Wells of Anton; Barbara Crosslin of Brownfield; Marvin Kitten of Cooper; Billy Scott of Floydada; Zelda Mitchell of Frenship; Patricia Findley of Hale Center; Maragret Israel of Levelland; Edwin Langford of Lockney; Marilou Williams of Plainview; Twila Welch of Post; Savannah Tunnell of Tahoka; Nathalene Golden of Union; Wanda Jean Hicks of Meadow; Bonta Vance of Shallowater; and Sharon Cone of Cotton Center.

Sixty-five applicants from 34 high schools have been examined up to now, and another group have been invited to report for the tests August 1. Since the initiation of the scholarship awards three years ago, 60 students have attended Texas Tech with their aid. The purpose of the scholarships is to bring to Texas Tech the best and most capable young men and women of the area, Dean Allen said.

CHICAGO, (U.P.) — Mistaking an Army recruiting gray limousine for a cab, an elderly woman climbed in at a stop light and ordered the sergeant driving it to a hotel. She left $1.50 on the seat for fare.

Carole Landis, Star Of Films, Suicide Victim

LOS ANGELES, July 6. (AP)—The glamorized movie career of actress Carole Landis came to an abrupt end yesterday with the finding of her body in the bathroom of her Pacific Palisades home. Police said she had taken her own life.

Clutched in her hand was a satin ribbon with the Lord's Prayer imprinted in gold lettering. On a nearby dresser was a final note addressed to her mother.

Sleeping Pills Found

Capt. of Dectives Emmett Jones csaid: "This is definitely a suicide." The detective said there were four bottles of sleeping pills in Miss Landis' bathroom and dressing room. He said an empty bottle was found near the body.

Capt. Jones reported the beautiful blond actress, 29, had died perhaps 12 hours before the body was found by film actor Rex Harrison, who said he had been unable to reach her by telephone regarding a business matter.

Maid Was There

The officers said a maid was in the home but had thought Miss Landis was still in her bedroom and did not notice the body huddled in a corner of the bathroom.

Miss Landis left a note, written on her own stationery, which read as follows:

"Dearest Mommie—

"I'm sorry, really sorry to put you through this but there is no way to avoid it—I love you darling, you have been the most wonderful mom ever—and that

SHE'LL COMPETE AT PORT ARTHUR

Carolyn Koonce Is Victor In 1948 Miss Lubbock Contest

A transplanted Dallas girl, Carolyn Koonce, captured the "Miss Lubbock of 1948" title last night from 14 other pretty South Plains girls competing in a beauty and talent contest sponsored by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Lubbock Supper Club.

The final decision came after the 15 girls had presented their talent numbers and judges had decided that the contest had ended in a three-way tie, Miss Koonce, Bennye Joyce Brown and Glynna Addington returned and repeated their numbers. The judges awarded the title to Miss Koonce, placed Miss Brown second, and gave third place to Miss Addington.

Miss Koonce sang, "I'm Confessin'" as her talent number. The title holder is 18 years old, brown haired and brown eyed. She is a graduate of Woodrow Wilson High school, Dallas, class of 1947. She moved to Lubbock shortly after her graduation. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Keeling, 1412 Ave. T.

Horace Gearhart, newly elected Jaycee president, congratulated Miss Koonce upon her victory. On tap for "Miss Lubbock" is an attractive wardrobe, courtesy of the Jaycees, and an all-bills-paid airplane trip to Port Arthur to compete in the Miss Texas pageant scheduled there Friday, July 9.

Terry Sanders, vocalist for Wes Jones orchestra, acted as master of ceremonies during the contest at Lubbock Supper club. Miss Dorothy Ray Bivins, Miss Lubbock of 1947, repeated the reading, White Cliffs of Dover, with which she won last year's contest.

SET FOR DESTRUCTION—Dead but not buried, impotent but still radioactive, the battleships Nevada (left) and New York ride at moorings in Pearl Harbor. Their destination: the deep six, Navy language for anything heaved over the side at sea.

Nevada And New York, Colorful Veterans, Will Get "Deep Six"

Two Old Seadogs To Meet End At Sea

BY HARRY J. LAMBETH
NEA Special Correspondent

PEARL HARBOR, July 6 —Two veteran seadogs of World War I, who refused to lie down and admit they were too old-fashioned to fight in World War II, will stand out to sea this month for their fnial target practice.

For the second time in their long careers, the two old vets — the battlewagons Nevada and New York — will be unable to fight back. Their final target is death.

Targets Marked

Riding at rusty mooring buoys now in Pearl Harbor, the two battleships are being measured for the deep six by a dozen men who carefully stalk the radio-active decks to mark out the bull's-eyes for the final blow.

The Navy, Marines and Air Force will jointly direct the funeral of the ships that outlasted two World Wars and two atomic bomb blasts. Planes and other men-o'-war will be the pallbearers.

The New York, first to go, early this month will be the target of planes from the carriers Boxer and Princeton and shore-based aircraft. Destroyers and destroyer escorts will handle the surface bombardment and submarines will deliver the final underwater punch.

The Nevada is scheduled for similar rites at the end of the month, with the battleship Iowa and the cruisers Astoria, Pasadena and Springfield providing the shelling. In advance of this concentrated attack, a series of explosions are to be set off aboard the Nevada by Navy technicians.

The two sinkings will give the Navy its first opportunity in more than 20 years for a non-combat test of its weapons against such

Democratic Platform Drafters Face Problem Of Civil Rights

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Democratic platform drafters talked today of writing in a strong states rights plank to help cool off southern bitterness over civil rights.

The issue of granting greater rights to Negroes and other minority groups has stirred up a major problem for the platform writers as they got ready for their first meeting in Philadelphia tomorrow.

This is the reported aim of the platform committee, headed by Pennsylvania's Senator Francis J. Myers:

To find some compromise satisfactory both to the backers of President Truman's controversial civil rights program and to the southerners who have threatened to split the party wide open over that program.

Public Hearing Planned

The group plans to hold public hearings tomorrow, Thursday, and probably Friday. The convention opens on Monday. The civil rights question is expected to get a full —and possibly violent—airing before both the committee and the full convention.

Leaders of Negro groups, representing substantial voting strength, have asked to be heard by Myer's committee. They are expected to demand a plank calling for anti-poll tax, anti-lynch, fair employment and other civil rights legislation.

Meanwhile, at Minneapolis, Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey, a member of the platform committee, announced that 50 party leaders, including Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., will try to squeeze Mr. Truman's entire program into the platform.

Move Would Get Reaction

Any such move would be sure to set off furious southern reaction.

Caught between the two disputing groups, the compromisers were reported to be considering this tack as a middle ground which might hold the support, however reluctant, of both factions:

1. Put into the 1948 platform the same general language on civil rights that was incorporated in the 1944 platform after a bitter struggle; 2. Follow this up with a strong plank stating the party's opposition to federal interference with states' rights.

The 1944 Democratic race plank said:

"We believe that racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop and vote equally with all citizens and share the rights that are guaranteed by our Constitution. Congress should exert its full constitutional powers to protect those rights."

Language Accepted In 1944

Dixie Demoerats accepted this language in 1944. But they launched a bitter attack on Mr. Truman early this year when he sent a message to Congress calling, among other things, for a fair employment practice bill and legislation against lynching, poll taxes, and segregation on interstate transportation.

Congress passed none of these measures.

The Republican party, in its Philadelphia convention last month, wrote into its platform a plank favoring legislation against lynching and poll taxes and opposing racial segregation in the armed forces.

Negro leaders, reminding the GOP platform writers that the 1944 document had said nearly the same thing, accused the party of having failed to deliver on its promises.

Senator To Receive 1948 Freedom Award

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, has been selected to receive the 1948 freedom award.

Freedom house, donor of the award, announced yesterday Vandenberg would be honored for leading "the united American people in the service of a free world."

Presentation will be made at a dinner here Oct. 10. Previous award winners include Wendell Willkie, Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower, Secretary of State George C, Marshall, Walter Lippmann and Sumner Welles.

The ratio of steam locomotive production to that of diesel-electric types is shrinking sharply. One manufacturer alone reports that diesel-electrics accounted for 85 per cent of its production in 1947, a rise of 60 per cent over 1946.

Scholastic Council Okays Tech Chapter

The national council of Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary scholastic society for women, has approved a chapter of the organization for Texas Technological college, Pres. W. M. Whyburn announced Monday afternoon.

The approval will be submitted to member chapters of the national society for their vote, which, if favorable, will entitle Tech to a chapter of the organization. Tech acquired a chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, honorary scholastic society for men, two years ago.

Rescue Troops Continue Climb

ORIZABA, Mex., July 6 (AP) — From the steaming jungles to the land of perpetual snow high on the 18,225-foot Orizaba volcano, rescue teams struggled today to reach the wreckage of a United States plane which crashed last Friday.

The rescue team left Jesus Maria near the village of La Perla about noon yesterday on horseback, but the last part of the climb up the rugged sides of the volcano had to be made on foot.

Aboard the plane when it crashed were 16 employes of the Mexican-United States foot and mouth disease commission, eight of them Americans. They were enroute from Minatitlan to Mexico City in a commission-leased plane.

At Jesus Maria officials in charge of the rescue said it was unlikely the rescuers would be able to reach the advanced base with any of the bodies today.

However, in Mexico City, the Department of National Defense said the bodies would be brought out by soldiers under forced march if possible today.

Meanwhile, an army transport was due to land this morning in Mexico City to take bodies of Americans to the United States.

Because the rescue team had no radio transmitter equipment, officials said they could receive no word until Indian runners returned with messages.

GOT QUICK RHEUMATIC RELIEF WITH MERTOX

"For the past 15 years I have been bothered with frequent rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. This trouble later spread to my right shoulder also," writes Mr. J. C. Kirkland of Dallas. In my work I have to use my arms a lot, and my shoulders were beginning to stiffen up. After taking Mertox Compound for a short time this condition was quickly corrected, so that now I am free from rheumatic trouble and free of the aches and pains. I was also troubled with gas and bloat, which were very painful. I felt tired and rundown; just seemed to have no life or pep at all. Had severe headaches, too. The gas would seem to press against my heart and lungs and make it hard to breathe. Now I can eat anything, even meat, which was impossible before taking this splendid medicine. My bowels are now regular and I do not have to get up at night as I did before."

You can get Mertox Compound from any Texas druggist at the new REDUCED price.

That Girl on Broadway says the doors to opportunity are marked "Push," and "Pull"—and in this day and time one is used about as much as the other!

A deficit is what you've got when you haven't got as much as nothing!

That Man on Avenue Q says about the only time he is inclined to go along with the politicians is when they are denouncing one another!

Tip to Recent Bridegrooms: The first time she asks you to wipe the dishes, comply cheerfully — but drop and break at least half of 'em!

THERE'S an old adage to the effect that if you feed somebody whipped cream for awhile he'll soon turn up his nose at ordinary milk.

Last Summer, Lubbock baseball fans feasted almost exclusively on a diet of whipped cream. This Summer they've had more of a variety: mostly ordinary milk; sometimes skimmed milk; occasionally, a dash of whipped cream —which, paradoxically, serves to make everybody "remember last year."

Naturally, local fans have been upset from time to time. They haven't been upset because the team isn't getting anywhere. In comparison with the league, as a whole, the 1948 club is doing above the average. But the fans have been upset because last year they got used to having everything their own way and when a fellow's had his own way for a long time, he's apt to be a little unreasonable when the tides change.

He may be miserable, as some fans are because the Hubbers aren't 10 games out in front.

* * *

But if it is true that misery loves company, let none forget that the whole West Texas-New Mexico league is "off" this year.

The loop doesn't have a first class ball club, let alone several as was the case last year with Lubbock, Amarillo and, at the season's close, Albuquerque.

Pitching is off over the whole circuit. There are not more than six first class hurlers in the league. Fielding is off, too, and so is hitting to the extent that no club in the WT-NM entourage nas anywhere near the explosive power of last year's Hubbers, or even the 1947 Amarillos and Albuquerques. Offensive decline isn't so noticeable in the percentages. It is noticeable on the playing field where too many players are getting their hits when there are two out, no ducks on the pond — and pitchers are easing up.

THE decline in baseball proficiency in Lubbock and over the WT-NM league is fairly representative of the general decline in proficiency in baseball around the nation — including even the major leagues.

There are two principal reasons for the decline.

First is, the number of leagues. In operation this year are 58 professional leagues — more than for a long, long time, if not more than at any time in the history of the sport. Each of these leagues must have players and there are not enough experienced performers and promising rookies to go around. The war years interfered with the experiencing of many youngsters. They were "lost" years as far as baseball was concerned.

The second reason is that many youngsters who ordinarily would be in professional baseball have turned to more prosaic ways of making a living, due to high wages and salaries of the current period. "Why," they ask themselves, "should I play ball for a couple of hundred bucks a month, or less, for six months of the year; why should I put up with the inconveniences of many minor leagues; why should I take a chance of not getting a good Winter job because of my inability to promise to stay with the organization, due to having to report for baseball again the next Spring?"

The answer to these questions frequently is not to the benefit of baseball today.

Of course, "things will settle down" in baseball, as well as in everything else.

When the powers of organized baseball operate sufficient schools for young players (all such schools operating now can accept only a fraction of kids seeking entrance) and when today's inflated economy returns to something like normal, there will be players.

But this year, from Yankee Stadium to the sorriest bandbox park in the bushes, baseball is short of talent. Like OPA and wartime shortages, baseball's woes must be put up with until conditions change.

OF FAR more importance — over the long run—than the current player shortage, and promising to be more difficult of solution, is the shortage of able umpires. Or, better said, the shortage of umpires who give some promise of learning their trade.

The average fan doesn't stop to think about it, but the fact is that umpiring is the most important part of play in any league

Whenever a circuit does not have better umpiring than it has playing, it becomes a lousy league from the standpoint of the spectator. If the umpires do not know their business; or if they do not have what it takes to keep the players under proper control, no matter how sparkling the play may be, the games are marred — often to an extent that there is little pleasure in watching them.

Organized baseball is going to have to do more about the umpire problem than it is doing, or ever has done.

First, it must be more careful in choosing umpire personnel, from the standpoint of knowledge, all around ability and temperament.

Second, it must train umpires better than it does.

Third, it must get the pay of umpires up to a point where able men will be attracted to the officiating side of the business.

Unless and until umpires become more proficient, as a group, baseball — and, more important, its spectators — will continue to suffer.

* * *

PERHAPS it would be unfair, even untrue, to say that the umpiring in the WT-NM league this year is sorrier than the ball-playing.

But it is neither unfair, nor untrue to say that it is no better.

Sloppy umpiring behind the plate has marred — even ruined —numerous ball games in Lubbock this year by forcing pitchers to "groove" the ball too often.

Failure of base umpires to be in the correct position to call their plays — even failure to check whether or not runners touch bases properly — has been frequent.

Even worse, failure of umpires to control stalling and beefing tactics on the part of players and managers too often is the order of the night. So the league's decline is not alone chargeable to the playing. The officiating must bear its share of the responsibility.

Perhaps the best way to generally describe the sad condition of baseball over the nation this year is to say that the business is undergoing the operational pains which many other forms of commerce underwent during the war years, when baseball was not generally operating.

At any rate, the men charged at topside with the responsibility of making baseball work right—and to the public's satisfaction — have problems confronting them which they must solve before the "easy money era" — which means big gates regardless of everything else—has gone by the boards.

Truman Spurns Political Advice From Hannegan

WASHINGTON. — Bob Hannegan, the man who made Harry Truman, had lunch with his ex-boss in Washington just a week ago. Since he retired as Postmaster General and became head of the St. Louis Cardinals, Hannegan has seen little of the President. However, he hoped at this luncheon to tell him frankly that he had no chance to win next November.

However, court jester George Allen is now chuckling over the fact that Hannegan never got a chance to open his month. Hannegan is quite a talker; so, perhaps suspecting what was coming Truman had the scene all set.

PEARSON

Genial George, the gentleman from Mississippi, originally appointed to the White House secretariat on the recommendation of Hannegan, was at the luncheon apparently to monopolize the conversation. Long ago he and Hannegan broke. In fact, Hannegan tried to get Allen euchred out of the White House because of his reactionary influence.

During the luncheon conversation, Truman described Governor Dewey as a "pushover." He was cocksure and full of confidence. Senator Taft, he admitted, was the man he preferred as the Republican candidate, but Dewey would be just as easy.

George Allen, equally confident, chanted the song of victory.

Hannegan had come prepared to give his ex-boss a careful analysis of the political situation. He was going to tell him frankly that he should double the current talk about deflection in the Democratic party. And when it came to reports of defeat, he should triple them. But Hannegan never had a chance. He wasn't asked anything. And, somewhat miffed, he didn't volunteer anything.

Almost as if to prevent Hannegan's advice, Truman volunteered this amazing statement:

"Connelly and Allen are my best political brains."

Anyone who has a speaking acquaintance with Matt Connelly, the presidential secretary, and George Allen, partner of G. O. P. national Treasurer James Kemper, knows that when it comes to campaign strategy, they are as spunky as a dishrag.

Hannegan departed, vowing never to come back to Washington until January, 1949.

DEMOCRATIC ROLLCALL

Democratic bigwigs are starting for their Philadelphia convention with more dismal faces than in the last 24 years. Just one week before they settled down to the serious business of picking a leader to buck the formidable Dewey-Warren ticket, here is a cross section of how the men who put Harry Truman in office now think about his renomination:

Bob Hannegan—You can't put a bush-leaguer in against a big-leaguer. The crowds get wise. I couldn't do it on my baseball team, and the Democratic party can't do it with the voting public. There are four men around Truman who are a menace to America. They have him coked up so he thinks he can win.

Ed Kelly, ex-mayor of Chicago — Justice William O. Douglas and General Eisenhower are both fine men, well equipped to lead the country.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky — unenthusiastic but loyal.

Ex-Speaker Sam Rayburn—Worried. A lot of good men will be snowed under in the congressional election if Truman heads the ticket.

Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, Pa.—Pennsylvania Democrats are rebelling against Truman.

Ed Flynn, boss of the Bronx—will sit this one out. No use talking to Truman. He's got his back up and nothing can change him.

Jimmy Roosevelt—The majority of Califoria delegates feel they should not be chained to a dead horse.

Frank McHale of Indiana—Indiana delegates would like to vote for someone besides Truman if there was anyone else to tie to.

Mayor Kennelly of Chicago —Sympathetic to Truman. Feels sorry for him.

Paul Fitzpatrick of New York — Federal patronage came his way. He is standing by Truman, though most of his delegates aren't.

Robert Tehan of Wisconsin —never saw such a stampede for Eisenhower as at the last caucus.

Senator McClellan of Arkansas—It is not a matter of saving the Democratic party. It's a matter of saving the nation and the world.

Senator Brien McMahon of Connecticut — If the Democratic party is snowed under in November, the two-party system will be weakened if not jeopardized, not for four years but for twelve years.

Senator Olin Johnston of South Carolina—Mr. Truman should realize that no man is bigger than his party.

In brief, only one or two important Democratic leaders are for President Truman's renomination. The rest feel chained, politically shackled, unable to get away from the man whom they know will drag them down to defeat.

And they don't appreciate the fact that the Republicans seem to think the situation is awfully funny.

CHICAGO Democratic leaders tell this story of how Ed Kelly, who served for years as mayor of the windy city, finally bowed out.

Kelly, who had carried Chicago for himself and FDR three different times, wanted to run again and remained blissfully ignorant of the fact that he had slipped politically. Precinct leaders were slapping him on the back, telling him how popular he was, then go to the office of Jack Arvey to report that Kelly couldn't possibly win.

After various surveys substantiated the latter view, Arvey finally went to Kelly. He dreaded the visit, but without beating around the bush, told the venerable mayor that all the political surveys showed he couldn't win.

Kelly didn't hesitate.

"I'm not bigger than my party," he said. "I'll be glad to step out. Who else have we got?"

Arvey then proposed Martin Kennelly, got Kelly's enthusiastic OK and then went round to seek Kennelly. At first Kennelly acted like Eisenhower, said he wasn't a candidate, didn't think he should run, wanted to know if he would have to face a primary battle. When primary opposition finally was withdrawn, Kennelly agreed to take the nomination. He is doing an outstanding job as mayor of Chicago today.

Note—Democratic leaders say they wish Harry Truman was as co-operative as Ed Kelly.

The Feminine Viewpoint

MAKE these concessions, wives, on your vacation trip this summer . . . just for your husband's sake.

Don't pack enough clothes to last you six months if you are going on a two weeks' automobile trip.

Sure, it's a vacation and you hate to be hurried, but do try to speed up your dressing time, so that your husband doesn't feel like he is wasting half of his vacation waiting for you to get ready to do this or that.

Don't insist on looking up acquaintances in every town you go through, especially if they are friends of yours who have never even met your husband.

PACK SYSTEMATICALLY

DO be systematic about your packing so that you aren't constantly asking your husband to haul in half a dozen bags every time you stop for the night.

If you have left the children behind, don't keep wondering out loud if they are getting along all right. If you can't help worrying about them, worry silently.

Don't insist on doing everything and going everywhere "the girls" have told you that you mustn't miss.

Don't let a single argument mar the fun of your trip. It takes two to argue so all you have to do to keep peace is keep still when things don't go just right.

But above all ACT as though you're having fun. So many wives wear their worries on their faces even when they're supposed to be vacationing to "get away from it all."

We give about as much credence to reports Russians are on a "buying spree" as we would to a report that nudists are playing strip poker.

Atomic Commission Is Harmed By Uncertainty Of Congress

WASHINGTON—Of all the problems dumped on the White House doorstep by the departing Congress, none has caused more debate and more anxious study than the question of what to do about the Atomic Energy commission. To begin with, of course, it was put up to the President on a take-it-or leave-it basis.

CHILDS

In accord with the McMahon act, passed last year, President Truman sent to the Senate for confirmation the names of the five present members of the commission. Chairman David E. Lilienthal was named for a five-year term and the others for terms ranging from four years to one year.

This was all—supposedly—on a nonpolitical basis. But majority leader Robert A. Taft promptly served notice that he would oppose Lilienthal's confirmation as he had the year before.

A prolonged and bitter fight, to come on the very eve of the selection of a Republican nominee for President, was threatened. The Republic chairman of the joint Senate- House atomic energy committee, Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper, wanted to avoid such a fight if he possibly could. So did Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who had been largely instrumental in obtaining Lilienthal's original confirmation for a one-year test period.

Together Hickenlooper and Vandenberg agreed on a strategy. They would ignore the President's appointments, which would not even be considered by the joint committee. Instead they would put through a bill amending the McMahon act so as to extend the present terms for two more years.

This is the bill now before the President. His advisers have urged him to sign it, and that is his present intention. In fact, before this is in print he may reluctantly have put his signature to what he feels is a poor compromise and a deliberate effort by the legislature to rob him of his constitutional right of appointment.

Poor Choice For Truman

But what it comes down to is half a loaf—or, in this instance, a quarter loaf—being better than none. If he vetoed the bill, all the president could do would be to give the five commissioners interim appointments that would expire when Congress returned in January.

In other words, continuity of direction over the vast Atomic energy project would be for six months. The Hickenlooper-Vandenberg measure at least gives an assurance of two years under present management.

You have only to translate this into terms of a business operation to see what it means. At the Hanford atomic plant in the state of Washington one of the largest construction projects in peacetime history is going forward under the customary secrecy as to its objective. It was initiated by the present commission. The effect of suddenly removing the whole board of directors, or announcing that their tenure was limited to a few months, can easily be imagined if this were a private business.

The same tremors of uncertainty, with resulting delay and confusion, apply to perhaps an even greater degree in government. It comes on top of the current of hostility, doubt and resentment released by the loyalty investigation into the background of all scientists connected with the great enterprise. As shown in a series of articles in the New York Herald-Tribune, the reports on some of the scientists were based on the flimsiest kind of gossip in the "guilt by association" technique.

THIS in turn came on top of the campaign directed against Dr. Edward U. Condon, head of the Bureau of Standards, by the House committee on un-American activities. Dr. Condon was publicly charged with being the "weakest link" in the chain of atomic security. Yet he was never given an opportunity to answer the charge at a public hearing of the commitee.

Not long ago, the Scientists of Chicago, Inc., took a poll of the organization's 144 members, asking them what effect the Condon case would have on their own willingness to accept government positions. Sixty-three per cent answered it "made me reluctant to accept" and 12 per cent replied it "made me decide to decline any such offer." Almost without exception ,these men replied that they were well aware of the need for legitimate security provisions.

This relates directly to whether American atomic science will continue to lead the world. If scientists are frightened out of government

Today's Journal Editorial

THE MUNICIPAL TAX PROBLEM

Those attending a recent meeting in Houston of officials of numerous Texas cities were agreed that many municipalities are near the limit of taxes they can levy. In many cities tax rates are about as high as they can go legally. Many are taxing about everything that can be taxed.

Discussions were concerned apparently with just one subject: How cities might raise more revenue. Suggestions were various. One dealt with an organized movement to try to persuade the Texas legislature next January to empower cities to raise their present maximum tax rates. Another proposed that cities seek legislative authority to levy taxes in suburbs outside of city limits. All the talk apparently was about trying to get more money, with nothing being said about trying to save it.

Perhaps economy talk would have been futile. But many taxpayers will wonder just the same what the result would be if officials would give as much thought and study to economy as they do to spending. Such an experiment surely would be worth trying.

NOTICE OF SALE, TEMPORARY LOAN NOTES
HOUSING AUTHORITY OF THE CITY OF LUBBOCK, TEXAS.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Housing Authority of the City of Lubbock, Texas (hereinafter called the "Local Authority") at its office at 323 Avenue P in the city of Lubbock, Texas until twelve (12) o'clock Noon (C.S.T.) on July 13, 1948, for the purchase of its Temporary Loan Notes (Seventh Series) in the aggregate principal amount of Four Hundred Fifty-Two Thousand Dollars ($452,000.00), at which time such proposals will be opened and canvassed.

The Notes will be dated August 5, 1948, and will be payable to bearer on February 11, 1949. The proceeds of said notes will be used to pay expenses incurred or to be incurred in the development of a housing project or to refund, renew or extend outstanding notes issued in connection therewith, and for which the Public Housing Administration has agreed to make a loan to assist in the development thereof.

For the prompt payment of the principal of and interest on said notes the full faith and credit of the Local Authority will be pledged and said notes will be further secured by a requisition agreement between the Local Authority and the Public Housing Administration under the terms of which agreement the Public Housing Administration agrees to purchase an advance loan note of the Local Authority prior to the maturity of such temporary loan notes and in an amount sufficient to pay the principal and interest of all said temporary loan notes and agrees to cause so much of the proceeds of such advance loan note as shall be sufficient to pay the principal of and interest upon any of said temporary loan notes to be deposited at the respective banks at which said temporary loan notes are payable for the benefit of the holder or holders thereof.

Said notes will bear interest at the rate or rates per annum fixed in the proposals accepted for the purchase of such notes, will be issued in such denominations, and both principal and interest thereof will be payable at such incorporated bank having trust powers or incorporated trust company as the purchaser designates in his proposal; such Bank or Trust Company must be a member of the Federal Reserve System and must have an unimpaired capital and surplus of not less than the aggregate principal amount of notes designated in the proposal or proposals submitted by the purchaser, provided, however, that such unimpaired capital and surplus need not exceed One Million Dollars. The notes will provide that they are not valid until after such Bank or Trust Company has signed the agreement, appearing on each note, to act as paying agents. The notes will be transmitted to such Bank or Trust Company for delivery to the purchaser upon receipt and disbursement by such Bank or Trust Company of the purchase price thereof in accordance with instructions from the Local Authority. After taking delivery of the notes the purchaser shall obtain the signature of such Bank or Trust Company upon the notes as aforesaid. All fees or charges, if any, of such Bank or Trust Company shall be paid by said purchaser.

Complete certified transcripts evidencing the lawful organization of the Local Authority and the validity of the notes and the requisition agreement will be furnished the attorneys designated by the purchaser to approve the validity of said notes and said requisition agreement, at least five (5) days prior to the date of said notes. The fees or charges of such attorneys shall be paid by said purchaser.

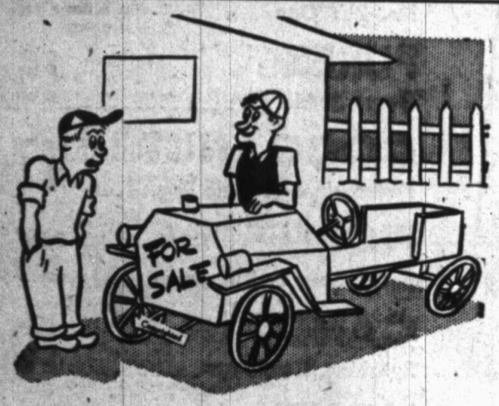

All proposals for the purchase of said notes shall be submitted in a form approved by the Local Authority. Copies of such form of proposals may be obtained from the Local Authority at the address indicated above or from the General Counsel, Public Housing Administration, Washington 25, D. C., or from Regional Counsel, Public Housing Administration, in the cities of New York City, New York; Chicago, Illinois; Atlanta, Georgia; Fort Worth, Texas; and San Francisco, California.

Proposals may be for all or any part of said notes and separate proposals will be required for each part of said notes for which a separate interest rate is bid. Said notes will be awarded at the lowest net interest cost to the Local Authority under such bid or bids, and in computing such interest cost the Local Authority will take into consideration any premium which any bidder offers to pay. No bid for less than $50,000 principal amount of said notes or for less than par and accrued interest (which interest shall be computed on a 360-day basis) will be entertained and the Local Authority reserves the right to award to any bidder all or any part of the notes which such bidder offers to purchase in his proposal, upon the basis of such proposal. If only a part of the notes bid for in a proposal are awarded by the Local Authority the premium, if any, offered in such proposal shall be pro-rated, and said notes will be issued in denominations in the order of the lowest denominations specified in such proposal; provided, that one note may be issued in a smaller denomination than is otherwise specified. The further right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Movie Actress

applies to all our family. I love each and every one of them dearly—everything goes to you—look in the files and there is a will which decrees everything—

"Goodbye, my angel—pray for me—your baby."

Had Been Ill For Week

Harrison told police that Miss Landis had been ill for a week, suffering a recurrence of an amoebic infection she incurred during a wartime entertainment tour in the South Pacific. The actor said he and Miss Landis had been discussing plans for a film they were to make in England.

Only last March 22 the actress filed suit to divorce her fourth husband, theatrical producer Horace Schmidlapp, on grounds of cruelty. Schmidlapp, who was at Cincinnati, O., said he was shocked by his wife's death and was leaving immediately for California.

The actress' mother, Mrs. Clara Landis of Seminole Hot Springs, Calif., did not arrive at her daughter's home until about four hours after the discovery. She collapsed, crying:

"Oh, my baby, I want to see my baby. Why didn't somebody call me?"

Accompanied By Sister

The mother was accompanied by Miss Landis' sister, Mrs. Walter L. Ross, of Long Beach, Calif. Other survivors are the father, Alfred L. Ridste of Richmond, Calif., and a brother, Lawrence B. Ridste, San Bernardino, Calif.

The body was taken to a Santa Monica mortuary.

Miss Landis, daughter of a railroad mechanic, was born Frances Ridste at Fairchild, Wis. She moved to San Diego, Calif., as a small child and was educated there and at San Bernardino.

She had been in films for 11 years and made her first real hit when she appeared in a leopard skin in the film "1,000,000 B. C." Thereafter she starred in many films.

Before her marriage to Schmidlapp she had been the wife of Major Thomas C. Wallace, author Irving Wheeler and yachtsman Willis Hunt Jr. All three marriages ended in divorce.

by police-state methods, this country will not long hold that lead.

At the University of Virginia commencement Mr. Lilienthal urged that every citizen with the privilege of a college education consider devoting several years of his life to government service That is a remarkable prescription from one who has given so much and at the same time endured so much, fending off the attacks of those who seem to want to destroy all government.

French Disclose Red Orders To Germans

PARIS, July 6 (AP)—The conservative newspaper Le Figaro said today Moscow has given secret orders to German Communists to help drive the Western Allies from Berlin.

Figaro printed the text of a document it said it had received from a reliable source, calling on Berlin Communists to act as "shock troops" in a campaign to make Russia sole tenant of the city.

The radical-Socialist paper L'Aurore carried about the same information and said its story came from London sources.

Soap Box Derby

tion because of rain and three minor accidents.

Injuries Not Serious

At the start of the race, in the first heat, one boy's ca went out of control and banged into the scuff board but he was not hurt. Later on in the day, another youngster's racer went into the fence after the finish of a heat and he suffered a skinned leg.

A woman spectator was injured late in the afternoon when a boy not a contestant in the race took a racer up the east side of the canyon hill and came down, striking the woman spectator near a tourist court outside the fence and injuring her slightly.

Otherwise the race went off as scheduled, even finishing up ahead of the time set for the finals despite the interruption caused by the rain.

Fastest heat of the day was made by the winner of the first heat—34.5 seconds—before the wind got up. Thomas Taylor, 1416 Fourteenth, was winner of the heat and will receive a $10 sports jacket given by the B. & A. Transfer company.

Other Winners Named

Prize for the best constructed car went to Billy Frank Eger, 12, of 412 Ave. L. Donald R. Cowart's racer was adjudged the best upholstered of the group.

The 1948 Lubbock Soap Box Derby champion is quite a handy little fellow with tools, his pals in Boy Scout Troop No. 3 said after he had won the race.

"He can build anything," one of them said.

Later his mother and father said the youngster was adept at airplane modeling and designed and built his car without even seeking their advice and counsel. His car with young Teal in the seat weighed only 182 pounds. The car is 73 inches long, 14½ inches wide and 22 inches high.

Streamlined to a knife-like nose, the car was constructed of wood from a banana crate, covered with a bed sheet and then lacquered with waste automobile synthetic paint. The racer cost him a total of $4.02, young Teal's driver's license showed. His floor board cost 70 cents, pulleys, 40 cents; spring 15 cents; hardware $1.60; lumber 10 cents, leatherette upholstering material 10 cents and pulley hardware 72 cents.

Derby champion Teal will be in the ninth grade in O. L. Slaton Junior high school next year. He is a member of Sam Henry, jr.,'s Scout troop No. 3 and a member of the First Baptist church.

He had lived in Lubbock 12 years. His father is in the used car and automobile loan business and his mother is a teacher in O. L. Slaton Junior High.

The champion's car was sponsored by the Snodgrass-Maner Motor C. Runner-up, Willie Nieman, sponsored by the Watson Furniture company and third-place winner, Bruce McCarty, was sponsored by Manicapelli's Studio. Fury Food stores sponsored fourth-place winner, Micky Ham.

In addition to his trip to Akron, O., where he will have a chance to compete for a $3,000 college scholarship, a new Chevrolet car and a host of other prizes, young Teal is to receive a handsome plaque and a gold wrist watch.

Young Nieman will receive a Mission Orange plaque and a $100 security bond. A Firestone cruiser bicycle and a Pioneer Airlines round-trip will go to McCarty and a Goodrich bicycle and a radio is young Micky Ham's prizes.

Red Pamphlets Found In Korean Hospital

SEOUL, Korea, July 6 (AP)—Police said today anti-American pamphlets and Communist propaganda have been found in nurses' quarters in the Seoul Red Cross hospital.

Some of the Korean nurses and doctors are being questioned but none has been arrested, Police Chief T. S. Chang announced. He declined to give details until he completed his investigation, but said that Dr. Sohn Kum Sang, board chairman of the hospital, had found the literature in a large bag in a nurses' room.

Hospitals have not previously been involved in the Communist movement in American-occupied south Korea.

heavily armored vessels.

The orange-red Nevada, which served as the bull's-eye ship for the 1946 atomic bomb test at Bikini, rides low in calm Pearl Harbor. Although the bomb missed her by 5000 feet, her stack is crushed, her starboard yardarm and her radar gear are gone, and the bright zinc-chromate paint was scorched from her port side by the blast.

Got Underway

A sister ship of the Oklahoma, the Nevada was the only vessel caught at Pearl Harbor Dec. 7 to get underway. Although heavily damaged, she was slipped out of her berth and beached elsewhere in the harbor to prevent blocking the narrow harbor channel. She later cracked the toughest pill boxes the Nazis could offer at Normandy, Cherbourg and Southern France.

In the Pacific, she blazed at the Japs in the Aleutians, Iwo Jima and was kamikazed at Okinawa, Eleven of her crew were killed in the four years of fighting.

Active In War

The New York, from its commissioning in 1914, never missed a show. She was at Vera Cruz in 1914 for the "Mexican incident," aided the British in the North Sea during World War I and was present at the surrender of the German fleet at Scapa Flow in 1918.

Under repair at Norfolk when World War II began, she spent three years with the Atlantic fleet trading shells with French coast artillery at Safi, and under German torpedo attacks at the North African invasion.

In 1944 she was dispatched to the Pacific for the remaining 276 days of the war to help return a Japanese visit.

In 1918 Emperor Hirohito, then Crown Prince Admiral of Japan, visited the New York. Twenty-seven years later the New York repaid the visit by firing more ammunition than any other U. S. warship at tiny Iwo Jima. She was back again at Okinawa where she received only superficial damage from a Japanese suicide plane.

Moored alongside the Nevada, the New York's gear hangs limply from her mast and the glass in her portholes has long been blown out.

The two ex-battlewagons are already dead; they quietly await assignment to an ocean grave.

Television Casts A Different Light On Political Convention

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 6—Television should teach the politicians a lesson but it will take them time to learn it.

That's why the Democratic convention in Philadelphia next week will be pretty much like the Republican convention there two weeks ago.

There'll be the same long speeches, the same hoopla demonstrations intended to show the great joy of the delegates, or something.

Provides New Problem

And the endless hours will drag by, hours that could be packed with action to get the convention over and done with Television gives the politicians a problem they never had before.

Until television came, whatever they did was seen only by a few thousand of themselves, a sort of in-the-family affair.

Now the whole nation will be looking at their every word and gesture on an ice-cold television screen that makes the most rosy-cheeked politician look gray.

Here's an example of what's meant:

When a bullthroated orator shouts for 15 or 30 minutes—rolling his eyes, waving his arms, rocking and weaving and brushing back the hair that's fallen in his eyes—he may affect the delegates because he's near them, in the flesh.

Could Be Shorter

But that same speaker—on the gray glass of television, yelling at a farmer 2,000 miles away—may seem like a ghostly windbag without sense or dignity.

The Republican convention started on Monday and ended on Friday. It could have been ended in two days or so, instead of five.

The Democratic convention will start on Monday—July 12—and probably end up on Friday. It, too, could be wrapped up in a couple of days. For example:

Instead of starting at 9 a. m., the Republican convention got under way around noon.

Recess For Speeches

After a couple of hours of speeches and business the first three days, it recessed until 9 p. m. for more speeches, instead of going right on.

In the past delegates have gone to conventions reconciled to sweating it out in a jampacked hall four or five days.

This was all right for them, since they were the ones enduring it and they knew they were trapped when they started.

And nobody except themselves, and their friends and relatives in the galleries saw what was happening or took part in it.

Soon the whole nation can sit in its living room and watch the performance on a television screen, passing judgment.

Audience Will Vote

Throwing a convention in the face of the nation, by way of the television screen, for five days is asking for a lot of patience.

As they're arranged now, the convention speeches and demonstrations are too long-drawn out to keep a television audience interested a whole week.

So what good will the high-flown speeches and cooked-up demonstrations do if they turn a television audience away in disgust or boredom?

They may lose plenty of votes, since it's the audience that's going to do the voting.

North Carolina Has Bad Polio Outbreak

RALEIGH, N. C., July 6. (AP)—The third worst outbreak of infantile paralysis in North Carolina history showed no sign of abating today.

Through yesterday the state had counted 369 cases this year. Sixteen new cases were reported during the day to the state board of health.

Dr. C. P. Stevick of the board of health reported the polio outbreak still is concentrated in the central portion of the state. The disease already has been classified as epidemic in several central counties.

Officials of the National Association for Infantile Paralysis noted that the current outbreak is the worst in the state's history for this time of year. Outbreaks in 1944, which counted 878 cases, and 1935, with 675 cases, were generally later in the summer.

Jap Paper Attacks Red Prisoner Policy

TOKYO, July 6. (AP)—The newspaper Asahi said today Russia is slow in sending Japanese prisoners home because they are needed in Russia for "smooth execution of the new Soviet five-year industrial plan."

If all Japanese were sent home immediately some Soviet industries would be paralyzed and some areas, including collective farms, entirely deserted, Asahi contended.

An estimated 619,000 Japanese still were held in Soviet-controlled territory last June 24. An American-Soviet agreement calls for repatriation of 50,000 a month, but Asahi said this goal was not being met.

Geology Professor Resigns Tech Post

Dr. Waldo S. Glock, professor of geology at Texas Tech, said today that he had resigned his post at Tech to become head of the Department of Geology and Geography at McAlester college, St. Paul, Minn.

Dr. Glock said the geography and geology divisions at the college are being combined, effective Sept. 1, and that he had been employed to head the new combined department and to conduct research. The Minnesota college, he said, is developing its research program, and is adding a number of men to the department with research records.

Dr. Glock said he would complete his summer school instructing duties at Tech. Mrs. Glock and his son, Waldo, will leave Lubbock Wednesday for St. Paul.

From 1924 until 1931 Dr. Glock was with the geology department at Ohio State university. In 1931 he joined the Carnegie Institution at Washington, D. C. and was engaged in research work at Tucson, Ariz., and Stanford university. He joined the Tech Department in 1938.

More than 58 scientific papers have been published by Dr. Glock, and a large number of popular papers have been authorized by the Tech professor.

During the war Dr. Glock was attached to the Army Air Forces headquarters in Washington.
