Sanctions Get Big Majority Against Cuba

OAS Ministers Take Test Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign ministers of the American republics by a 15-4 vote early Sunday slapped diplomatic and economic sanctions on Communist Cuba, denounced the Fidel Castro regime for aggression against Venezuela, and threatened to use armed force if the Havana government continues its subversive activities against hemisphere nations.

The historic decision of the hemisphere's foreign ministers, meeting in their ninth consultative session, was voted shortly after midnight Saturday at a plenary session in the Organization of American States' headquarters building.

It was one of the toughest actions taken collectively by American nations since Castro came into power Jan. 1, 1959. It will be formally signed at 11 a.m. Sunday.

The 15 votes were two more than the 13 necessary for adoption. An official of the Organization of American States said Bolivia abstained on the committee vote, with Chile, Mexico and Uruguay voting no.

Conference resolution No. 12—the one approved by the general committee late Saturday, also contains a warning to the Castro regime that future aggression against an American republic, such as that against Venezuela last year, could bring armed attack by any one of the American nations.

The preamble of the resolution—declaring that Cuba's aggressions against Venezuela "conflict with the principles and aims of the inter-American system"—was approved 18-1, with Mexico the only dissenter.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk spoke out Saturday in favor of the sanctions and condemnation of the Castro regime and told a closed-door meeting that, "Failure to act now might create a situation of the highest possible danger."

Uruguay and Bolivia, which accompanied Mexico and Chile in opposing sanctions, are expected to abide by them.

The sanctions are to be mandatory, but no time limit is provided in putting them into effect.

Latin-American delegates opposing the Castro regime said they are pleased that final act of the conference is to be signed Sunday. July 26 is observed by Cuban Communists as a day of festivity marking the start of the Castro revolution in Cuba.

"This will give the Castroites something to think about," said a Venezuelan delegate, "and make July 26 a day of true rejoicing in the hemisphere."

Mexico and Chile expressed objections to sanctions at a midday session of the conference.

Twisters Cause Little Damage Across State

By The Associated Press

Tornado funnels whipped earthward in West Texas late Saturday as intense heat, broken sporadically by brief thundershowers, covered the state.

At least two points, Wichita Falls and Breckenridge, reported afternoon temperatures of 111 degrees.

A tornado swooped down a dairy farm west of Weatherford, lifted a roof from a barn and knocked down trees as a thunderstorm dumped .90 of an inch of rain on the locality.

The farm's new hay barn was scattered over a 300-yard area on a nearby hillside.

Five funnels were sighted near Breckenridge and at least two of the twisters struck the ground near the Shackelford County town of Ibex.

The Breckenridge police dispatcher said at least three other funnels spun harmlessly in the air just south of the old West Texas oil town.

The Albany-Breckenridge area was heavily overcast as the funnels snaked out of dark clouds. Some thunderstorms and thundershowers dotted the state to temporarily break the day's blazing heat.

A thunderstorm packing 40 mile per hour winds lashed Houston just before dusk. Temperature at the state's largest city dropped from 98 to 82 between 4 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Scattered thundershowers fell over much of the state but nowhere was the rainfall enough to break the burning drought, now in its sixth week in most areas of Texas.

Late in the day, scattered thunderstorms extended from just south of Eastland to 25 miles west of Waco. Others fell in the vicinities of Alvord and Jacksboro.

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Spotted and varying sharply in intensity, showers touched this area during the week. The most that can be said is that they helped in some instances, provided barely enough moisture to hang on a little longer in others, and raised hopes for the remainder. The belt seemed to arch like a cantaloupe slice from Lomax in southwest Howard, up across Fairview-Ackerly, over to Luther and Vincent in the Northeast.

Old timers held their 40th Howard-Glasscock reunion Friday, and there was a wonderful turnout. Each year a few less of the real pioneers are there, and now many who couldn't qualify for attendance when the reunion started are now considered real old timers.

We knew we were on thin ice in carrying a list of old timers. Sure enough we overlooked a bunch, including Mrs. G. E. Fleeman, whose husband in 1905 planted a lot of the cottonwood trees at what became Ropers Grove east of town where the first old settler gatherings were held later. While writing, we fell to talking with Rupert Ricker, who walked up Centralia Draw in Reagan County behind a wagon in 1906, but we neglected to include him in the list. Of course there were many, many others. Speaking of old timers, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ripps observe their 56th anniversary Monday.

County tax rolls have been completed following board of equalization hearings. It now appears the total will be $60,484,000 (on a 20 per cent factor), which will yield upwards of one and a quarter million dollars for the county, state and junior college. Oil values accounted for $32,723,440 of the total roll, down $200,360 from last year.

Athens Girl Wins Miss Texas Title

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Miss Athens, Sharon Rontaine McCauley, a stunning brunette, is the new Miss Texas, named Saturday night in a pageant here.

The brown-haired, hazel-eyed, olive-skinned beauty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen F. McCauley of Athens, Texas.

The first runnerup was Miss Fort Worth, blonde Lenda Lee Varley.

Miss Charlotte Mac Anders—Miss Big Spring—was close to the winners' spotlight Saturday night, as she was chosen one of the five finalists in the contest.

The new Miss Texas is 5-5 and measures 37-24-37. The first runnerup is a petite 5-2 and measures 34-22-34.

The two young beauties were selected from among five finalists in the annual Miss Texas Beauty Pageant held in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

Both sang in the talent part of the contest. Miss Texas sang "Let Me Entertain You" and "Everything's Coming Up Rosy." Miss Varley sang "Makin' Whoopee."

Miss Anders, a Howard County Junior College student, was selected Miss Big Spring in city auditorium April 4 in competition with seven other contestants. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Anders, Dallas, and was sponsored by the American Business Club of Big Spring.

The 19-year-old beauty has had considerable training in voice and piano and plans to attend North Texas State University after leaving HCJC.

Five finalists emerged Saturday night from among 58 girls seeking the title of Miss Texas in the beauty pageant at Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

The five finalists included:

Miss Space City, Leta Kathleen Ormsby, Alvin; Miss Arlington, Marilyn Kay Lewis, Dallas; Miss Athens, Sharon Rontaine McCauley; Miss Big Spring, Charlotte Mac Anders, Dallas; and Miss Fort Worth, Lenda Lee Varley.

The finalists were selected from 10 previously picked semi-finalists including:

Camilla Carrolle Kothmann, Odessa, Miss West Texas; Judy Marie Chelette, Miss Port Arthur; Donna Lou Dellinger, Miss Conroe; Frances Margaret Whitley, Robstown, Miss Corpus Christi; and Janice Elaine Kinnard, Miss Abilene.

The announcement of the semifinalist selections launched competition among the 10 in three divisions: talent, swim suit and evening gown.

The pageant had been underway here nightly since Wednesday.

Sammie Jo Watson, Miss Dumas, was named Miss Congeniality of the pageant. She received the award in a vote among the contestants.

Miss Texas will represent the state in the Miss America contest next month.

New Rioting Breaks Out In Rochester

Troopers Rush In, Two Deaths Listed

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — One white man was reported killed Saturday as new racial riots erupted in defiance of a curfew clamped on in an effort to prevent renewal of violence that began Friday night.

Police said the man reportedly was hit on the head by a looter and staggered into the street where he was hit by an automobile.

Another death was reported in a riot area but it was not known immediately whether that death was connected with the violence.

Groups of Negroes in automobiles sped from one part of the city to another, hurling stones, smashing windows and looting stores in a hit-and-run manner.

Police also reported that they had been warned of 12 carloads of people heading toward the city and roadblocks were ordered to stop them.

Police used tear gas in an effort to quell the mob.

One policeman was reported to have fired into the air.

The new violence broke out despite a strict 8 p.m. curfew clamped down in an effort to prevent renewal of the rioting that broke out Friday night and continued into Saturday, leaving more than 90 persons injured, stores looted and smashed and more than 100 persons in jail on the felony charge of rioting.

The scene of the new outbreak was on the city's Southwest Side. Negroes recently have been moving into the residential area that formerly was a white neighborhood.

LOOTING

Some looting was reported in this section Friday night although the main violence then was on Joseph Avenue, a Negro section near the downtown business section of this city of 300,000.

As the curfew hour neared Saturday night, city and state police moved quietly along Joseph Avenue clearing it of pedestrians. The section previously had been closed to automobile traffic.

But in the other trouble section, hundreds of Negroes still were on the street an hour after the curfew took effect.

The state troopers were rushed across town on city buses. They were greeted by a shower of bricks from the Negroes.

The trouble centered at the corner of Jefferson and Bartlett streets, a neighborhood of neat, well-kept homes with lawns and flowers that make it a far better neighborhood than Joseph Avenue.

HOOTING

Hundreds of Negroes, some holding beer cans, hooted and jeered at the troopers as they hurried off the buses, lined up in military fashion and double-timed down the street.

The jagged, red bricks were hurled from second-story porches and rooftops.

Burglar alarms, set off as store windows were smashed, jangled in the dark.

Rochester city patrol cars cruised the area, six of them bumper to bumper at one point.

One Negro man rushed up to

Rubbish littered the streets in many places, dumped there by angry demonstrators.

Gun shops were ordered closed. So were most motion picture theaters in downtown Rochester. Bars and liquor stores were directed to close at 5 p.m.

Jet Crashes Into House, Three Die

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP)—A Navy jet attack plane crashed into a house Saturday killing its pilot and two women who were inside the house.

A third woman was burned critically.

Police identified the dead women as two sisters, Miss I. V. Cassidy, 61, and Miss Ostella Cassidy, 58. The burned woman, who was visiting the house at the time of the crash, is Miss Idell Pickens, 58.

The pilot was not identified pending notification of his next of kin.

A Navy spokesman said the single-seat plane, a Marine F1E Fury jet, was making its final landing approach to the naval air station when the crash occurred about one mile from the west end of the runway.

Both the plane and the house were demolished.

The pilot was a member of Marine Reserve Fighter Squadron 351, based at the Atlanta Naval Air Station, the spokesman said.

New Coins Keep The Same Date

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has approved a measure calling for the use of the date 1964 on all new coins until the current nationwide shortage of coins is over.

Monetary experts say the minting of billions of new coins with 1964 on all of them "will make them less valuable to collectors and dealers and thereby make them less attractive for hoarders."

Police Stop Red Leader's Parade

NEW YORK (AP) — Police broke up an intended anti-police parade in strife-torn Harlem Saturday, dispersed the intended marchers and arrested their Communist ringleader.

The leader, William Epton, a Negro and avowed Communist, was bundled into a police car shortly after he arrived at the starting point at Lenox Ave. and 116th St.

He protested that his followers only intended a peaceful walk but a Negro policeman told him:

"You are under arrest."

Instead of the thousands of paraders that Epton had predicted only about 300 marchers and spectators were on hand at the scheduled 4 p.m. starting time.

A heavy detail of helmeted police waded into them, shoving them from the intersection and shouting to them to go home.

The parade was intended to stress Negro charges of police brutality —a recurring complaint since rioting broke out in Harlem a week ago. The disorders here spread to Brooklyn.

The disorders were sparked by the fatal shooting of a 15-year-old Negro boy by a white policeman who said the boy was coming at him with a knife.

Police who broke up the parade also arrested Conrad J. Lynn, Epton's attorney.

"We are under arrest—we are under arrest!" Epton shouted as they were taken away. Both were charged with disorderly conduct on the ground they had caused a crowd to collect.

Half an hour after the arrests, the intersection was virtually back to normal except for a number of onlookers strolling the sidewalks and peering from tenement windows. Police kept the strollers moving.

Leaders of some Harlem organizations opposed to the march strove to persuade its sponsors to call it off to avoid violence.

"We don't want to get black people killed in Harlem to defend Peking and Moscow," said James Lawson, a black nationalist leader. "We don't want to swap one slave master for another."

Lawson said black nationalist and Muslim groups, including those led by Elijah Muhammad and Malcom X, cooperated with other Harlem groups in trying to "prevent this holocaust."

NEWS BRIEFS

Jury Studies Hoffa Case, Singapore Tension High

CHICAGO (AP)—The jury deliberating the $20-million mail fraud and conspiracy case against Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and six codefendants quit for the day at 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

Deliberations will be resumed at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

The jury deliberated 4½ hours Friday night, then resumed at 9:10 a.m. Saturday.

The jurors face the prospect of delivering 147 verdicts. Each defendant is charged with 20 counts of wire and mail fraud and one of conspiracy.

Conviction on all counts could add up to a maximum penalty of 105 years in prison and $30,000 in fines—five years and a $1,000 fine on each fraud count and five years and $5,000 on the conspiracy count.

SINGAPORE (AP)—Two breaks in Singapore's daytime curfew came off peacefully Saturday and Malaysian officials said the racial violence between Chinese and Malays appeared to be tapering off.

But fears of a wave of gangsterism were heightened.

Government officials said they had reports that gangsters and numbers of illegal secret societies were trying to stir up more racial troubles in Chinese and Malay villages where tension was reported still high.

The mobsters, officials said, want to re-establish their protection rackets, snuffed out recently.

Bank Acquires Remainder Of Downtown Tract

Acquisition of two pieces of property which will give it the entire southeast quarter of a downtown block has been announced by the State National Bank.

John Currie, vice president, said Saturday that the additional land would fit into plans for expansion. These have not yet crystalized, but the first phase likely will include additional drive-in window facilities.

The bank now operates from the building which covers the south 50 feet of the quarter block facing east on Main and north of Second. The bank had acquired from the late Harry Hurt the 25 feet immediately joining the bank on the north. To this now has been added the 50 feet acquired from Prager (the buildings house Hartley Cleaners and Army Surplus) and the north 25 feet of the quarter acquired from Mrs. Armour Long. The latter building dates back almost to the time of the erection of the historic J. & W. Fisher Company location immediately north across the alley.

Currie pointed out that there would be no immediate development in order that the businesses involved would have ample time to make necessary arrangements for relocation. Moreover, development could take place in stages to avoid disruptions.

"We believe that the downtown area of Big Spring is still a key part of our business life, and that the property offers as good location as we could have to serve our patrons and the community," said Currie. As soon as is practical the bank plans to jell its plans for development.

AFTER 3 MILLION MILES IN 36 YEARS

Mail Carrier Slowing Up Pace

By SAM BLACKBURN

Three million miles and 36 years ago, L. J. Hale, 80, Sand Springs, began carrying the mail for Uncle Sam. This month, the veteran star route driver is retiring. He has turned his route over to another man and proposes—"if I can work out just how to do it"—to take things easy.

The 3,000,000 plus miles, this unusual man has driven his trucks in the years he has been a mail carrier, have been accident free. He has not had a mishap of sufficient importance to immobilize his vehicle.

NONE SERIOUS

"A few slightly bent fenders," he said, "none of which kept the truck from running."

One thing that he is doing now is familiarizing himself with Big Spring, its stores, streets and shops.

It is not that Hale is a newcomer to this county—on the contrary he has lived in Big Spring 22 years. The reason he doesn't know the town is that for those 22 years, Hale has had few opportunities to see the town in daylight.

He has risen each morn, driven to the T&P, loaded out his mail, and headed for Lubbock, before the sun was up. At Lubbock, he turned about and made his way back to Big Spring—arriving around 8 to 9 p.m.

This has been his daily routine, seven days a week, at all seasons, for more than two decades.

"I haven't had a chance to see the town," he said. "My wife guides me to the places I want to go."

280 DAILY

His run from Big Spring to Lubbock has required that he drive 280 miles each day—representing 15½ hours average time he was on the job.

"Hobbies?" he commented. "What hobbies? I haven't had time to adopt any hobbies."

His worry now is what he will do to occupy his time.

He and his wife recently moved from Big Spring to an attractive dwelling in Sand Springs. They have a huge backyard and so far, the retired mailman has kept fairly busy digging up a huge garden and plotting how he will plant his pecan and fruit trees.

"When I finish that and what odd jobs there are to do about the place," he said, "I don't know what I will do. One thing for sure, I must find something to keep me busy—I can't just sit around."

'I Know This Road Inch By Inch'

Veteran mail carrier L. J. Hale has traveled the route from here to Lubbock 8,030 times in the past 22 years for a total of 2,200,000 miles.

He is half way embarrassed by a softening up of his established regime the past two years. For 20 years, his daily program was up at 5 a.m. at the station half an hour later and on his way—stopping at Ackerly, Lamesa, O'Donnell and Tahoka, before terminating the run at Lubbock.

GOT HELP

"About two years ago," he explained. "I developed a sort of arthritic condition in one arm and arranged for a fellow to help load the mail. Then I got in the habit of not getting up until 5:30 each morning."

Hale operated two trucks in his Big Spring-Lubbock mail run.

"I use a two-ton truck on the first leg from here to Lamesa," he said. "The mail load out of here is heavy. At Lamesa, a lighter load awaits and I have a three-quarter ton truck there which I drive on to Lubbock and back to Lamesa."

He traded off his trucks when they had accumulated 100,000 miles of service. The one now in service, he said, has a few extra miles "about 140,000, I guess."

What kind of trucks?

"Started out as a star route driver in 1928," he recalls, "on a run from Snyder to Lamesa. I began with a 1928 Model A Ford. I have never changed brands."

FIRST RUN

On the initial route he ran from Snyder to Lamesa, he logged 152,880 miles in three years. Then he shifted to the run from Lamesa to Seagraves where he made 115 mile runs, seven days a week for 11 years for a total of 400,400 miles.

Twenty-two years ago he began his daily 280 mile run from Big Spring to Lubbock. This aggregated an additional 2,200,000 miles to bring his overall score to the equivalent of 13 trips to the moon.

"I have bought all of my trucks in Lamesa," he said. "The reason was that I did not have time to get acquainted with dealers here or make trades with them. Their places were not open when I left in the morning, and they were closed down when I got back at night. I had a few hours each day in Lamesa and I made all of my car deals there."

Hale has been on the go most of his 80 years. He was born in Howard County, Ark., and he worked as a young man hauling loads of freight behind six mules.

CAMPED

"We camped by the road at night," he said, "and, like the mail, our freight had to go on regardless of the weather."

Mrs. Hale, who is acting as her husband's guide while he gets oriented in a town he has lived in for 22 years, used to make the ride with him to Lubbock frequently. Not too long ago she had a severe heart attack and had to cancel her trips. She is recovering now, however, and is about as active as ever.

Hale recalls how rough it was in the old days.

"Unpaved roads and deep sand," he said, "bad tires and trouble. It's a far cry now to what it was when I began hauling the mail."

He is still under contract to the government but he has relinquished the actual operation of the route to D. C. Duncan.

VACATIONS

Vacations?

"Well," said Hale, "I didn't use to take any but for the past 10 or 11 years I have made it a yearly custom to attend the national conventions of the Rural Mail Carriers Association. I suppose you might call that a vacation.

He will attend the one this year, he said, possibly his last.

The Hales have six children.

Stanton's Wells Stay Busy Meeting City Water Needs

By M. A. WEBB

STANTON — This year's extremely dry weather is forcing Stanton's water users to use an average of 665,000 gallons daily. The city's 10 wells are running around the clock, according to Johnny Preston, water superintendent.

Stanton has one elevated storage tank with 75,000-gallon capacity, one underground storage tank of 100,000-gallon capacity and two 50,000-gallon storage tanks. These tanks are refilled about two and a half times each 24 hours, Preston said.

The 10 pumps will provide up to 1,300 gallons per minute if operated at full capacity. Two booster pumps are used to keep the elevated tank full, and are also in operation full time.

Stanton water users pay a minimum rate of $3 for the first $5,000 gallons.

Lawns in Stanton are kept looking green, but are not lush as in the past. Preston said the normal usage is around a half million gallons per day.

One of the superintendent's problems, after taking over the operation of the water system, was to coordinate pumps and boosters and work out timing devices to prevent boosters from running when the storage tanks were empty.

"Eventually we will have the wells set to come on when the supply goes down in the tanks, and get the boosters operating to fill the elevated tank," he said. "We will have electronic controls as fast as we can get them, but they cost a lot of money. In the meantime we try to see that all tanks are filled while sprinkling systems and other major water outlets are dormant — mostly from midnight until 5 a.m. In this way the pumps can easily keep up with the demand."

The City of Stanton has no plans for increasing the water supply in the near future. The supply available is more than the demand. The main problem is keeping ahead.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Students Chalking Up Lots Of Flying Time

By M. A. WEBB

Two men, both members of the new Howard County Flying Club, made two flights each for five days last week in getting instruction toward private licenses in the club's Colt. They were Donald and Elbert Long who chalked up 10 flights. They had been up before, also. Others flying during the week, were: McClure (6), Byrd (3), Allen (1 and cross country), Davis.

Big Spring Flying Club members up were: Colt—Cootes (3), Weaver (5), Nerton (2), Jo Polone (cross country); Skyhawk—Bartlett (cross country seven days).

Webb Aero Club had only one airplane checked out during the week, and that was the Mooney 20 which is on a 27-day cross country trip flown by Lt. Hayes Bryan.

* * *

A look at another story in this issue of the Herald will be of interest to several young pilots. United Airlines and American Airlines are seeking pilots for their lines, and need applications from those with private licenses. The companies are offering special training to qualify eligible men as commercial airline pilots, and will pay salaries during the training of those qualifying. The two lines need new men to replace those retiring, and to fill places on new flights added. United's salaries range up to $1,100 per month.

* * *

Several "bigger than usual" airplanes came into Howard County Airport this week to bring representatives of various companies. A big Martin flew in Thursday just long enough to let some oil company representatives get off, and then returned to its Fort Worth base. This big twin-engine craft had a rear-end ramp for boarding and getting off. It had been modified for executive use and had heavy, wall-to-wall carpeting, four divan-type seats which could be used for sleeping, and four booth-type seats with tables in the center for meals or for work.

Then two big Beechcrafts came in Friday carrying petroleum products representatives, and a securities company man.

In addition to these, there was a Skyroamer and a Lodestar in at the airport.

Clyde Fisher, a member of the new Howard County Flying Club, went to Lubbock last week for his check ride and now boasts his new private license. He was the first of the new members to get a license.

Several Entered In Junior Rodeo

Several youthful rodeo hands have sent in their entry applications to the 19th Annual Howard County Junior Rodeo to be staged here on the night of Aug. 6, 7 and 8, Herb Helbig, county agent, said Friday.

This 4-H Club sponsored yearly event has contracted for stock from the Sandhills Rodeo Producers of Brownfield and arrangements are well in hand for the opening night.

Each night's performance of the American Junior Rodeo Association approved show will be at 8 p.m. Tickets are on sale now—adults $1 and children 50 cents.

A parade, at 4 p.m., Aug. 6, through downtown Big Spring, will set the stage for the night performances. Rodeo contestants, 4-H members, the Howard County Sheriff's Posse and junior riding clubs from surrounding towns will take part. The parade will form at Tenth and Main, traveling north to Second west to Scurry, south to 10th, where it is to disperse. Trailers are to be parked at the south side of Runnels Junior High School in the playground parking area.

The Big Spring Junior Rodeo requires contestants to be 19 years of age and under. The excitement and the events scheduled are as rough as in any adult rodeo. Big Brahma bulls and bucking horses will be on hand to unload the riders, and a complete and exciting night's activity is in store for all who attend.

Events scheduled are: bareback bronc riding, calf roping, barrel racing, bull riding, pole bending, ribbon roping, breakaway roping and bull dogging. Girls will be taking an active part in the roping, barrel racing and pole bending events. An added attraction will be a wild calf race, and a goat sacking contest. Rodeo entry blanks can be obtained from the county agent's office in the basement of the Howard County courthouse.

At the conclusion of the show the all-around cowboy or cowgirl will receive a hand engraved trophy saddle, and a trophy belt buckle will be given to the winner of each major event.

More than 150 club members, their parents and other 4-H supporters will have a hand in putting on this year's rodeo.

Major Airlines Needing Pilots

Two major airlines in the United States are conducting a nationwide search for airline pilots, and they are going to the ranks of those holding private pilot's licenses. The main target is the pilot between 20 to 29 years.

Howard Loyd, of Big Spring Aircraft, has been notified by both United Airlines and American Airlines that the search is going on among some 50,000 private pilot license holders, many in local flying clubs. United needs 1,000 flight officers, and American about the same number of commercial aircraft of both companies. United has extended the upper age bracket to 35 for those holding commercial pilot licenses.

Private pilot license holders may now apply for student flight officer positions prior to obtaining the required commercial pilot license.

United's requirements for applicants are: must be United States or Canadian citizen with private license; five feet, seven inches to six feet, four inches; excellent physical condition; vision rate of 20-50 corrective to 20-20 with glasses, and a minimum of two years of college work.

American Airlines' requirements are the same except that vision must be 20-20 without glasses; hold a valid commercial license with instrument rating; valid FCC restricted radio telephone operators permit, and hold a valid standard clearance FAA medical certificate.

When a student has obtained a commercial license with United, he will be employed as a student flight officer at a starting salary of $350 per month, increased to $500 upon successful completion of the first four weeks of training to qualify him for instrument rating. The next 13 weeks enable him to acquire a certificate required for second officer responsibilities, and the final four weeks are devoted to pilot proficiency training.

Second officer salary will approximate $735 per month for the second year of service, increasing to $925 per month for the third year, and $1,100 per month for the fifth year.

American Airlines did not mention salaries, but they are comparable.

United Airlines' training school is located at Denver, Colo., and American's at Fort Worth.

Local members of flying clubs, and those already holding private or commercial licenses, may get information by writing United Airlines Employment Offices in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Denver, Pittsburgh, Chicago, New York, Washington, D. C., or Seattle.

The American Airlines personnel manager for this area is in the airline's offices at Love Field, Dallas.

Wins Quarterly Airman's Award

Airman 2.C. James F. Allen, radar electronics mechanic from the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, outdistanced six other Webb AFB airmen to win the Airman of the Quarter Award. It was presented Tuesday by Col. A. F. Taute, wing commander, at the wing staff meeting.

For winning, Airman Allen received a $25 Savings Bond, a three-day pass, relief from fatigue duties for 30 days and a night's stay at the Holiday Inn.

Humorist To Speak Here

One of the region's outstanding humorist-philosophers, Dr. Philip Earl Williams, will address the awards dinner Wednesday at Big Spring State Hospital.

The dinner affair, which will recognize the winning ward staff for the past six months, will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Allred building.

Dr. Preston Harrison, hospital superintendent, expressed delight at having secured Dr. Williams as the speaker, noting that from having heard the Dallas dentist, he regarded his humorous dissertations as being the equivalent of "a Broadway hit."

Miss Josephine Lamb, Austin, chief of psychiatric nursing service for the state hospital system, will be in charge of the awards event.

The award is made semi-annually to the staff of the ward which is rated highest by a team of 12 inspectors on patient care, cleanliness, personnel, etc.

Dr. Williams took his bachelor of science degree at Southeastern Oklahoma State College at Durant, his DDS degree from Baylor College of Dentistry and his MS from Northwestern University. He combines his whimsical observations with a rare talent for humorous stories, BSSH staff members noted.

Old Hand Tries New Arrowhead Making

B. A. Reagan shows out to turn flint into Indian relics. Upper insert shows sketch on flint and hammer ready to make first blow.

Lower insert shows collection of arrow heads —some genuine and centuries old; others made by Reagan in the past month.

Retired Builder Makes His Own Arrowheads

By SAM BLACKBURN

There's no market for them now, but if a demand should develop, B. A. Reagan, a retired building contractor, will be on the ground floor and ready to supply them.

He has found the answer to a question which has bothered him for most of his 77 years—how did the early day Indians produce their flint arrowheads?

A month ago, he decided to try his hand as an arrowhead maker. He assembled some pieces of flint and a collection of assorted tools. Then he sketched the outline of a head on the flat side of one of the flint fragments. He started chipping away.

NOT HARD

"It's really not hard to do," he said, "once you get onto the trick of it."

His sample arrowheads have caused much favorable comment among collectors. A handful of his home-made samples was dropped into a small stack of real arrowheads. Only experts who had made a study of the subject could pick out Mr. Reagan's work from that of the early settlers of this country.

His tools range from a small hammer to pieces of hacksaw blades.

"You have to find the line of cleavage," he explains, "and then chip away along this line to match your pattern."

He is now planning to turn out some agate arrowheads.

There is no shortage of raw material. You can find good flint, he says, nearly anywhere in the county. However, finding pieces of flint which work effectively is another matter.

Making arrowheads is only another hobby for Reagan.

OTHER HOBBIES

He has others. He is an ardent fisherman and just returned from a trip to one of the big lakes near Austin. He owns and uses half a dozen cameras and has been taking pictures since he was a boy. He has hundreds of early day photos made in Big Spring.

Reagan has been a resident of Big Spring all of his life. He was born here in 1886, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reagan, who came here in 1884 on the heels of the T&P Railway. His father, like himself, followed the building trade.

He attended the city schools and has made his home at 1310 Main Street since 1925. He retired about two years ago "but I can still do a good day's work if I wanted to." In fact, he recently visited one of his daughters who lives in another state and while there finished a big residence she was having built.

He has seven children, all of whom live here with the exception of the one who lives in Rochester, Minn.

His wife died in 1956.

What with fishing, Indian arrowhead making and picture taking, time passes smoothly enough for Reagan. And, of course, anytime he feels like it, he can go back to his old trade as a builder.

SKILL

Meantime, he is sharpening up on his skill as an arrowhead maker. When he finishes one, he compares it with one of the many genuine Indian arrowheads he has.

"I think I'm getting a little better with each one I turn out," he said. "Maybe ultimately I can do as well as the Comanches did when they used to come through here on their way to Mexico."

Bond Issue To Finance Town Parking, Links

LAMESA (SC) — Dawson County voters will decide two issues in a $18,000 bond election here Tuesday.

The issues: Shall the commissioner's court issue $18,000 in tax bonds to construct off-street parking on the courthouse lawn; and, shall the court issue $100,000 in tax bonds to construct a nine-hole golf course, complete with clubhouse, putting greens, driving range.

About 60 acres is needed for the golf course tract, but no site has been selected pending results of the election. Proponents of this proposal have sold 130 annual memberships for the course, noting that these will assure $12,000 in revenue. Backers contend that the course would be self-supporting.

The parking proposal calls for the addition of 86 diagonal parking slots on the east and west sides of the courthouse lawn to relieve congestion in the downtown areas.

A tax increase of three cents on each $100 valuation would be necessary if both issues pass.

Terrorism Wave

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Authorities fear a wave of terrorism in this racially segregated nation after a time bomb explosion at Johannesburg's main railroad station.

Kilgore Leaves Hospital, McDonnell Fills Position

James S. Kilgore, administrative assistant to the chief of staff at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, has been assigned to the Augusta, Ga., VA Hospital as a management analyst trainee. He will leave the last week in August and report to his new post Aug. 31.

Kilgore's position, which has been eliminated here, will now fall under the direction of Charles McDonnell, chief of medical administrative service.

Both Kilgore's new assignment and McDonnell's new duties are promotions.

Kilgore, who has had his present position since September, 1961, has been on the staff since July 5, 1950, when he began as an admitting clerk on the midnight to 8 a.m. shift. Work as a statistical clerk, claims examiner, chief of patients' control section and assistant registrar followed before he was elevated to his current job by Hospital Director V. J. Belda, replacing Carlton L. Carr, who went to a VA post in Washington, D. C.

Kilgore, 36, was born May 25, 1928, at Iraan, but came to Big Spring two months later with his parents. He graduated from Big Spring High School in 1945 and spent almost three years in the Air Force in administrative work in the communications and personnel branches before being discharged as corporal in 1948. During his service career he was stationed in Japan; Lackland AFB, San Antonio; Lowry AFB, Denver, Colo.; Camp Kilmer, N. J.; Schofield Barracks in Hawaii and Kearney, Neb.

He returned and attended Howard County Junior College for 1½ years, working at the time on the construction crews building the hospital, before leaving college to assume his hospital duties.

JAMES S. KILGORE

CHARLES McDONNELL

He and his wife, Letha Lou, a West Texas native, have four children: Letha is 13 years old; Donna, 11; James, 9; and Jerry, 8. They attend the Church of Christ.

Kilgore's new post is to assist and advise operating officials in VA Hospitals in an attempt to find the most effective methods of accomplishing various tasks. He will receive one year of specialized training in Augusta before being assigned to a VA Hospital.

McDonnell, 32, who is directly responsible to Dr. J. C. Ernsting, chief of staff, has been with the local VA Hospital since May 24, 1963, when he became chief of the registrar division. He assumed his present position approximately a month ago under the reorganization.

A native of Altoona, Pa., he graduated from the high school there in 1949 and went into the Army Counter Intelligence Corps, spending the majority of his time in Bayreuth, West Germany. Before being discharged a sergeant in 1952, he attended a branch of Rutgers University at Fort Dix, N. J.

He joined the registrar division at the Altoona VA Hospital early in 1953, and remained there until 1960 when he went to the VA center in Dayton, Ohio, as a registrar trainee. A term as assistant chief of the registrar division followed at the VA Hospital in Fort Bayard, N. M., before coming to Big Spring.

He and his wife, the former Margaret L. Young of Altoona, have two children, David, 8, and Russell M., 5.

McDonnell is a member of a New Mexico branch of the American Legion.

CHANGES DUE IN AT LEAST SIX

Commissioners Must Revise Voting Boxes

By SAM BLACKBURN

Redesignation of at least six of the county's 16 voting boxes, the possible creation of one or more new boxes and the potential elimination of another will be the task before the Howard County Commissioners Court at a meeting sometime in August.

The situation, which undoubtedly will upset the voting habits of hundreds of Howard County electors, is the product of a special amendment to the Texas Election Code enacted at the last session. This amendment, Art. 2.04, became effective June 24 and stipulates that the commissioners must comply with its provisions so that the new precinct boundaries and organization will be in effect for elections to be held in 1965.

The changes scheduled to be made this coming month do not apply to the general election of next November nor to any special elections which may be held this year.

Chief feature of the new amendment is a provision which says that in cities and towns of 10,000 population or more, a voting precinct within such town cannot include territory outside the city limits.

In Big Spring, all but one of the town's voting precincts—Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 8 and 16—include areas beyond the city limits and are thereby affected by the new amendment. Precinct No. 15 (Runnels Junior High School) is the only city voting box which does not have the problem of urban-rural voters. The precinct's southern boundary stops at the municipal line.

Urban Only

Under the new law, the county commissioners must revise the lines in such a way as to limit voting in these urban precincts to residents of the town alone.

Officials think the only possible solution in the case of the southwest corner of the county will be to create a new voting box at Elbow which is reasonably close to the geographical center of the district. The law also precludes the creation of a new voting precinct using parts of two commissioners districts or two justices of the peace districts. All of the Lomax-Elbow community, as well as all urban voters who ballot in Big Spring Boxes 3 (Main Street Fire Station) and 16 (Parkhill School), are residents of County Commissioner Precinct No. 3.

Shift Due

Voters living outside the city limits, who now ballot in Big Spring Precinct No. 4 (city hall fire station) will likely be shifted to Voting Precinct 11 (Center Point) or, if it is more convenient, to Precinct 6 (Gay Hill).

The voters who live beyond the city limits north and west of town, who now vote at Big Spring Precinct 1 (North Side Fire Station), will probably be diverted to Precinct No. 12 (Moore) or perhaps to Precinct No. 13 (Knott) or Precinct 14 (Vealmoor).

The voters who live outside the city and now vote at Big Spring Box No. 4 (city hall fire station) may find themselves voting hereafter at Center Point School, Precinct 11. Or, in some cases, they may vote at Precinct 6 (Gay Hill.)

Voters who live south and southeast of the city but who have heretofore voted at Precinct No. 2 (Washington Place School) will probably find themselves voting now at Forsan (Precinct 10).

There had been some talk earlier that the number of voting places might need reducing next year as an economy measure, but this new amendment will prevent this. There is some talk that Precinct 12 (Moore) might possibly be eliminated and its voters shifted to Coahoma (Precinct 9), but all of these things will have to be worked out later.

Another provision of the new amendment specifies that no voting precinct can have more than 2,000 voters as shown by the certified voters lists. Where this occurs, a new voting box must be created to divide the total.

There is one such box in Howard County at this time—Big Spring Precinct No. 4, voting at the city hall fire station. The total poll tax and exemption certificates credited to this box is 2,283.

However, the county commissioners believe that with the boundaries of Precinct 4 chopped off at the city limits, thereby eliminating voters who live outside of town but have been balloting in this box, that the total will drop well below the 2,000 maximum.

Another development seen for 1965 is that the number of qualified voters for that year will probably be much reduced over the total this year. The current year is an "election year"—important major balloting is on the program and there is accelerated political interest. Next year, on the contrary, no elections of any great interest are scheduled. In such years, the poll tax lists dwindle sharply.

Next Year

The action the commissioners will take in August to comply with the new election code amendment will become effective in February, 1965 and the new voting precinct boundaries will be operative in all elections from that month on.

Reunion Was Successful, Prexy Says

Jess Slaughter, president of the Howard-Glasscock Old Settlers Reunion, Saturday expressed his appreciation to everyone who helped make this year's reunion and barbecue a success.

He expressed particular appreciation to Cecil Long, reunion vice president, who directed crews of cooking volunteers throughout the night Thursday and during the morning Friday. "This type of sacrifice and volunteer work typifies the kind of spirit which helped make this year's reunion one of the most successful ever held," Slaughter said.

The men barbecued more than a ton of choice beef for the dinner Friday, and they served huge pots of salads, pickles and beans with the meat. About 1,000 persons attended the barbecue Friday. Up to 3,000 participated in the reunion, he said.

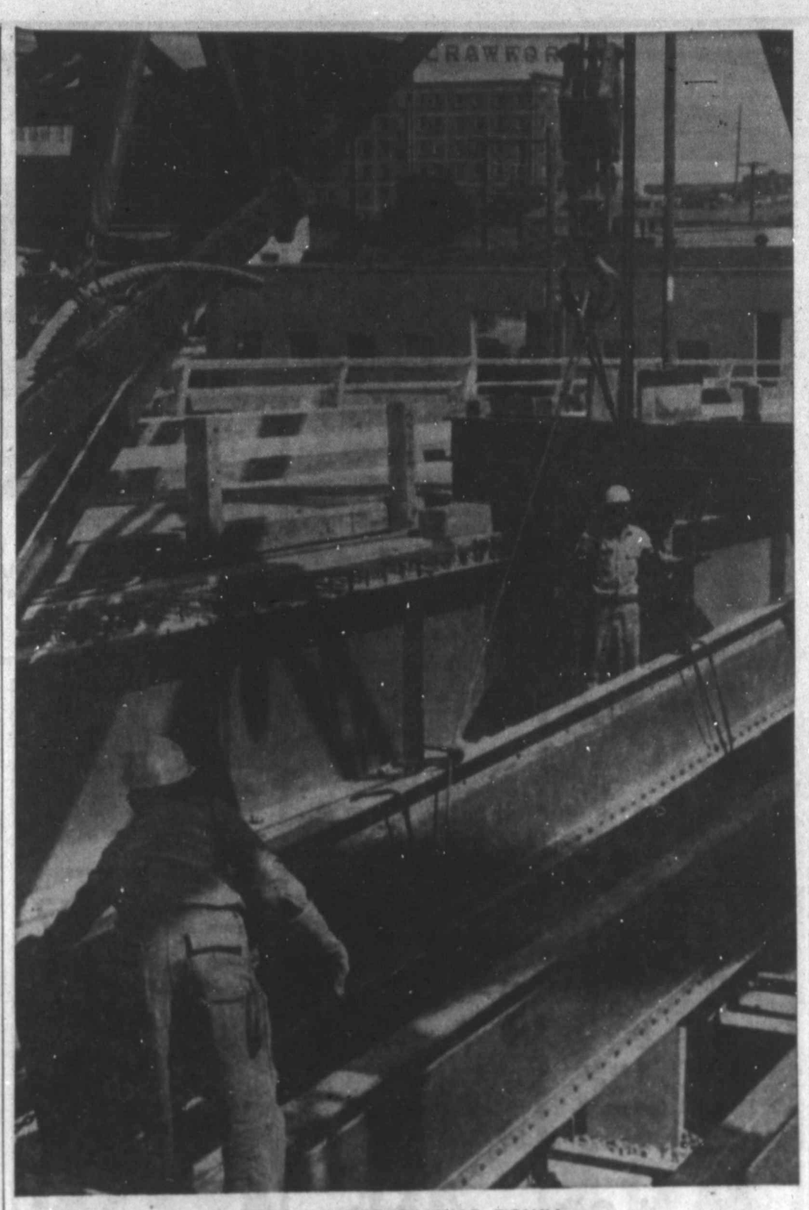
"I want to thank everyone who helped make the reunion a success," said Slaughter. Without the help of many volunteer workers, the reunion would not have been as enjoyable for the many oldtimers, the veteran justice of the peace observed.

He said several persons helped stage the dances that were held Friday. The value of their contribution can be gauged in the number of persons who attended the dances, said Slaughter.

The honor of being the first Old Settler was split four ways: Mrs. Nat Shick, Charlie Robinson and his brother, Walter Robinson, and L. McDaniel. They came here in a group from Abilene to attend the reunion and recalled they originally arrived in Big Spring in 1890.

The fiddlers contest generated plenty of enthusiasm. Competition was divided into two age groups—60 and over and under 60—and each contestant played two tunes. A woman, Mrs. Veda McKee, won fourth place in the under 60 division. She was accompanied to the reunion by eight daughters and one son, all of whom play musical instruments. She was accompanied in one number with the bass fiddle, piano, guitar and banjo.

Eddie Rose won the fiddling contest for persons under 60. Joe Hibler was second, and Jack Coffman was third. Tom Castle won top honors for older contestants, and R. C. Luce was runnerup. Bill Killough was third.



OLD BRIDGE COMING DOWN
Contractor was unable to sell structure

Old Bridge Goes To The Scrap Pile

Efforts of Oldt Construction Co. to sell the ancient steel bridge, which spans the Texas and Pacific yards on Gregg Street, have been unsuccessful and workmen are now razing the structure.

The concrete flooring is being broken out and the floor girders removed. As rapidly as possible, the superstructure will be taken down. Cross beams to support the cantelever arch are being placed pending removal of the upper steel.

The old bridge, which has served here for three decades and prior to that was a railroad crossing over the Mississippi river, will probably wind up as scrap iron.

The contractors offered the 250-foot span for sale hoping that some county, city or state might need it for some river or ravine. Some interest has been shown but no buyers have appeared.

The work on the $800,000 overpass which is to replace the ancient viaduct has now reached the point where the bridge had to be demolished. The outer lanes on the new bridge are now complete and open to the public. Traffic has been making use of the old bridge while the east and west structures have been under construction. North bound traffic is using the 10-foot eastern approach, and southbound cars, the west segment.

When the old bridge is out, the contractor will begin laying steel to couple the two finished wings. The floor of the old bridge is 4.5 feet lower than the crossing level of the new construction. The finished viaduct will offer a wide four lane crossing over the tracks with a walkway on the east side for pedestrian traffic.

A median will divide the two road segments.

Ben Wilkerson, state highway department engineer who is in charge of the viaduct job, said that Oldt is now about 65 per cent toward completion of the job, and well ahead of schedule on days worked.

No official estimate on completion date was made but it was possible, officials said, that the crossing could be complete by the end of October.

TB Group Needs Funds

Dr. Fred Lurting, president of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association, announced an urgent need for funds, during the organization's meeting last week. He said the treasury had been depleted by the large number of X-rays financed in the association's program of carrying out its case finding program.

Three new members were welcomed to the organization. They are Dr. W. H. Cashion, Harold Bentley, Champ Rainwater.

Bo Bowen, who attended the State TB Association convention, reported that Howard County is in the top 10 per cent of all Texas counties in capital receipts, mailing list, gross income and gross receipts.

Committee chairmen named include Mrs. John Norton and Col. Julian Baird, seal sales campaign; Mrs. H. A. Sherrill, case finding; Dr. John Norton, Dr. Lurting, Dr. Cashion and W. B. Sanders, medical advissory; Dr. Cashion, speakers; Mrs. George Peacock and Mrs. Floyd Mays, mail sale; Champ Rainwater, bond sale and special gifts; Mrs. E. P. Driver, poster contest.

Another industry observes open house here Monday. It is Prestige Aluminum, makers of metal frames, doors, windows, etc. This underlines the point so frequently made that one of the best ways to get industry is to grow it at home. Take time out Monday to seek this enterprise, and with it the neighboring Math Master and GAMCO.

Howard County Junior College is well into its second half of summer school with a modest two per cent increase over the same period last year. If this same factor holds (and the rate of gain should be substantially higher), the autumn semester will see over 900 enrolled.

Our fair city became the center of two sporting events last weekend which attracted visitors from a couple of dozen area communities. The puppy show drew 150 entries (including 54 breeds) from 11 cities. The YMCA-City of Big Spring swimming meet drew 240 entries from a dozen cities. Both naturally were considered outstanding successes.

A high honor came to one of our townsmen—Ted O. Groebl. He was named at the imperial meeting of the Shrine in New York to be a member of the Shrine hospitals oil properties committee. He's exceptionally well qualified to serve in this important place.

One of the T-38 Talons from Webb AFB last week logged the 250,000 flying hour for Air Training Command super-sonic jet trainers. This was fitting, for Webb inaugurated use of the T-38 as a student training instrument, and the job was done so well that the ATC-wide program has been stepped up by a full year.

The Big Spring School board lost a valued member by resignation last week. Wendal Parks stepped aside to permit a niece to apply for a teaching post with the system. He has given long and faithful service and won't be easily replaced.

Announcement came last week of the advancement of another home towner (we consider him such although he was reared in Dallas). Dr. Charles Webb, who was stationed two years at Webb AFB and who is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, has been named assistant dean of the school of Music at the University of Indiana. He's been an instructor there since 1960 when he started work on his doctorate. For 12 years he's been on the Fred Waring summer staff and dean of it for the past three years.

The City of Big Spring last week destroyed bonds which have been paid off. For years these have accumulated until there was a stack which represented over $2,000,000 in issues dating back to 1923. That's a lot of money, but the wisdom of these expenditures is seen on every hand in civic improvements which are still returning benefits.

The Rev. John D. Statum, Jackson, Miss., sends a clipping and challenge to his father, the Rev. Harold D. Statum, telling of a rattlesnake killed in Jackson. "This one will make Texas snakes look small," he noted. It was a 6-ft. 6-in. diamond back with 23 rattles, and weighed 23 pounds. Hmm! Wonder how that Texas snake got over to Mississippi?

Graveside Rites Slated Today

Graveside services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Sunday for Michael Todd Mahoney, the two-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mahoney, 700 W. 18th. The infant died in a local hospital early Saturday.

Rites will be at Trinity Memorial Park, with the Rev. Robert F. Polk, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

In addition to the parents, survivors include a brother, Mitchell Scott Mahoney; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Washington; and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mahoney, all of Big Spring.

Curtis Powell Dies Saturday

STANTON (SC)—Curtis Powell, 40, a former resident of Stanton, died at 1 a.m. Saturday in a Sunray hospital following a heart attack.

Rites are pending at a Sunray funeral home. Mr. Powell lived at Stanton from 1930 to 1957.

Survivors include his widow, Sunray; one daughter, Mrs. Glenda Baugh, Canyon; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Powell, San Angelo; two sisters and seven brothers.

A brother, A. C. Powell, is a Stanton resident.

Mrs. Cain Back Here In Hospital

Mrs. A. J. Cain, 701 Goliad, was reported in satisfactory condition in Howard County Hospital Foundation Saturday. She was injured in an auto collision at Greenwood, Miss., last week.

Mr. Cain was also involved in the collision but was not hospitalized.

Scouts Due Monday From Jamboree

Boy Scouts and leaders, reported Friday to be en route home from the Valley Forge Boy Scout Jamboree, will not be in until some time between 5 and 6 p.m. Monday. An error in reporting the date of arrival had them coming in Friday afternoon.

Big Spring Scouts and Scouters are traveling in chartered buses, and friends propose that they be met at the city limits by city police and escorted to the courthouse square for a "Welcome Home."

Rites Held For Mrs. Shelton

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Funeral services will be held Friday at 3 p.m. in the Kiker and Son Chapel in Colorado City here for Mrs. Millie Shelton, with Dr. P. D. O'Brien, Houston, officiating. Burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery under direction of the Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

Mrs. Shelton, 76, died early Thursday in the Brazos Valley Care Home in Knox City where she had lived for seven months.

She was born in Alabama July 4, 1888 and she and her husband, George Shelton, came to Colorado City in 1912. They moved to Baytown in 1955 and Mr. Shelton died shortly thereafter.

Mrs. Shelton was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Jim Venable, Baytown, and Mrs. E. S. Miles, Colorado City; four sons, George Shelton, Albuquerque, N. M., Carl Shelton, Knox City, Mason Shelton, Baytown, and Wendell Shelton, Dallas; two sisters, Mrs. Ada Condor, Lawton, Okla., and Mrs. Rosa Phillips, Houston; 13 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Church Requests Zoning Variance

The zoning board of adjustment will consider a request for a variance on property of the First Church of God, 2009 Main, at a session at 4 p.m. Monday.

The request is to allow the church to build a canopy on the front of the structure, with a variance to the setback ordinance. The canopy would come within eight feet, three inches of the front property line.

BYPASS ALMOST COMPLETED
Plans drafted for opening celebration

Almost Completed IS Bypass Route Includes 22 Bridges

Big Spring's multi-million dollar bypass highway, stretching seven miles east and west along the north edge of the city, is near enough to completion that officials are beginning to draft tentative plans for a celebration to mark its opening. The eastern segment of the road is 95 per cent complete; the western segment is 85 per cent along.

The superhighway loop, taking off from IS 20 just east of the city limits and returning to the road proper near Webb AFB west of town, has been built at a total cost of more than $5,000,000.

The four-lane roadway features 22 major bridges—one of which is rated as the longest of its type in this highway district.

The east leg was started Nov. 5, 1962. Winters Inc. of Johnson City was awarded the contract for $2,350,000. The project began east of the city and terminated at the US 87 intersection 2.929 miles west.

The west leg started at US 87 and extends 4.442 miles west rejoining IS 20 near the Webb 331st FIS location. Parker and Parker Inc., the contractors, were awarded this job for $2,682,000. They began work Jan. 3, 1963.

Both segments, it is believed, will be completed by October.

The eastern leg, to all practical purposes, could be put into service today if the contractors and highway officials desired. The contractor is 95 per cent complete on his assignment and his crews are now engaged in cleaning up operations and final touches. Guard rails are being erected and some of the signs are being put in place.

The higher grades are being provided with low culverts on the outside which will guide flow of water along the road to outlet points and then down concrete aprons to prevent erosion.

The hot mix black topping is completed on the east leg, and Joe Smoot, state highway department resident engineer, said that the road, technically is complete.

On the western leg, none of the hot mix has yet been applied and at the extreme western end, approaches were being built to one of the bridges last week.

If weather continues good, the two jobs will be ready for final inspection and acceptance within a few weeks, Smoot said.

Some Trends Better Than Others, Teachers Report

MRS. BERNICE SLATER

Long Careers In School System Here

By JUDY BARNEYCASTLE

Educational trends, from the disappearing rural schools to the new ungraded primary and modern math, have been witnessed by Mrs. James W. Wilcox in her 35 years as a teacher and by Mrs. Bernice Slater in her 40 years in the profession.

Mrs. Wilcox began teaching third graders in 1929 in Central Ward, located where the post office is now. She has taught all grades from third to eighth and now teaches reading in the eighth grade at Goliad Junior High School.

RETIRED

Mrs. Slater, who retired in 1963, spent 12 years of her career teaching in Big Spring. She began teaching in 1911, and, except for a few years when her children were small and when she was completing her education, she taught continuously.

Both veteran teachers have earned master's degrees.

"When the one, two and three-teacher schools began to disappear and the rural children were transported to town by bus, I and many other teachers regretted to see the unity of the small community centers break down," Mrs. Slater said.

"This trend did away with a lot of the individual attention that the pupil could receive," she said.

Mrs. Wilcox listed the study of listening habits as a trend of a few years ago.

"Educators involved in research contend that listening habits are important in the child's ability to learn and retain. They say that listening is a skill and exact science," she explained.

She said that, according to recent research findings, a person only uses 25 per cent of his listening capacity at the peak of attention.

"A child's ability to listen depends a great deal on the way he was listened to at home," she continued.

According to the two teachers, the newest methods being tried in Big Spring are the ungraded primary and modern mathematics.

"In the ungraded primary," Mrs. Wilcox explained, "the first three grade levels are combined into one section. If a student is able to do the work of a fourth grader at the end of one year, he will be promoted to that level. For others it might take the regular three or even more years."

She said that, even though they are still in the experimental stages, modern methods of teaching mathematics are being used in many school systems.

"Under this system a student is not taught a set of hard, fast rules, but learns the meaning of numbers and their relation to each other," she said. "With this method the student gets a basic understanding of the tools before he begins to add, subtract, multiply, etc."

TRENDS

Mrs. Slater cited several trends that were either not accepted or proved to be inadequate.

"Doing away with the teaching of ABC's is a prime example of a failure," she said. "Words and spelling were taught by teaching the ABC's and their sounds for many years.

"Not long ago the trend was to teach sounds and spelling with whole words and sentences. For example, I taught the word mother not as m-o-t-h-e-r, but as a unit—one sound meaning one thing.

"I found the method unsatisfactory — evidently many others did too, for soon we were requested to begin teaching the ABC's again," she laughed.

Another failure she saw was the "progressive education" ideas.

UNSOUND

"The philosophy that a child should study only the things that he is interested in is unsound," Mrs. Slater said. "A child has to be taught a variety of things for many years before he can decide what he is interested in."

Mrs. Wilcox pointed out that education is slow to change and that when a new method is introduced, teachers have a hard time adjusting.

"The teachers must learn to go with the changes," she said, "and not be determined to stick with the old way of doing things."

Another trend that Mrs. Wilcox cited is the teacher's awareness of each student's likes and dislikes.

"A teacher must respond to each pupil's personality, ability and ambition while at the same time teaching him to be a useful member of society—a person who has thoughts and ideas of his own but who can get along well in most any group situation," she explained.

Both teachers agreed that textbooks have improved greatly in the past few years. They said that the books are being written with more true life situations.

BOOKS IMPROVED

"Not long ago," Mrs. Wilcox said, "the only concept most young school children had of grandmother was the little old lady who lived on a farm. Of course, grandmothers can be seamstresses, journalists, doctors or just anything," she said.

"The textbooks are being written now to introduce children to more realistic ideas about people and places," Mrs. Wilcox continued.

Mrs. Slater noted a marked improvement in the covers, illustrations and print quality of the textbooks for all grades.

And how do parents and students react to the new ideas?

"Most students adapt readily to changes," Mrs. Slater said, "but a lot of the parents resist change and feel that 'what was good enough for me is good enough for my child.' "

Mrs. Wilcox said that children are always ready to accept things because they look up to the adults to make decisions—they expect the adults to take the lead.

DON'T CHANGE

"Children are basically the same year after year," she continued. "But some have had more advantages than others. Pupils today come to school with the benefit of educated parents, television, radio, motion pictures and greater access to books."

The greatest difference Mrs. Wilcox has found in her pupils through the years is that now they are less willing to show affection for the teachers.

"For instance, children used to bring gifts to teachers—now it is considered a bribe," she said. "It is not that I expect gifts, but I liked the affection and personal feelings that were present in my classroom a few years ago."

Mrs. Slater also believes that children are basically the same except they know more these days because of mass communications.

"Children will always be the same," she said. "They like to play and want to be accepted."

MRS. JAMES W. WILCOX

DEAR ABBY

He Faces A Long Wait

DEAR ABBY: My wife is going to leave me and my two children in the near future. I would like a nice-looking woman between 30 and 40 to keep house for me and the children. I am very lonely and in need of female companionship, and maybe I could fall in love with her. I can't get married again because of my religion so I had better make that plain, but I am sure there are many women who wouldn't mind living like that. She would have to be about five feet two or three. No taller, and not too fat. But I would prefer one a little too plump to one who is skinny. She'd have to be a good cook and housekeeper, and in good health. I can't stand to hear a woman complain about her health. She would have to like baseball, football and roller skating. I can't pay much, but I have a nice home, automatic heat and a power lawn mower. Thank you very much.

WAITING

DEAR WAITING: If you expect to find a good - looking cook, housekeeper, companion, playmate and nursemaid, who will work like a horse in exchange for a roof over her head, forget it. No woman in her right mind would assume all the responsibilities of a wife with none of the benefits.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: For the past four years my husband has been wearing a hair piece. As far as I know, nobody has ever kidded him about it, although I would just as soon he didn't wear it, and so would our children. Lately he has become very self-conscious about it. He doesn't want to associate with anyone. When someone comes to the door unexpectedly he runs to the bathroom and locks himself in. When we go any place he always wears a hat, no matter how hot it is, and he never takes his hat off. He is getting so unfriendly he's not fit to live with any more. Can you help me?

WORRIED WIFE

DEAR WORRIED: Apparently your husband has developed a fixation about his hair piece. Try to convince him that he looks better without it. If he's unconvinced, perhaps he has been kidded about it, in which case he should shop around for a better one. If that fails, do him the kindness of steering him to a doctor. Could be it's not what is ON his head, but what is IN it that is really bothering him.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion on something that has caused a big argument between my mother and me. I am 19 and my boy friend is 20. Sometimes he and I will sit in his car right in front of my house and talk for a little while before I go into the house. I am not saying that he has never given me a good night kiss in the car, but we DO NOT sit out there and neck up a storm. We talk mostly. We don't do anything in his car that we would not do in my house. My mother says that the neighbors are getting their eyes full, and they will gossip about me and ruin my reputation. I couldn't care less what the neighbors say. Can you settle this?

CLEAR CONSCIENCE

DEAR CLEAR: "Avoid the appearance of evil." As long as you don't do anything in his car that you wouldn't do in your house, do it in your house. A girl's reputation should be as clear as her conscience. Don't muddy yours needlessly.

Coahomans Are Building Homes

COAHOMA — Along with two new business centers, residential construction in Coahoma has picked up during the past few months. Four new brick residences are going up or have been completed between the north end of the high school property and State Highway 820 north.

A new shopping center on First Street, across the street from the bank and post office, and a new lumber yard on US 80, were completed earlier this year. The new cafe in the shopping center was scheduled to open for business this week and will hold a formal opening Aug. 1.

Residential property, especially rent houses, have been scarce in the city for some time, although some new homes have been built outside the city limits north on Highway 820.

Johnny Justiss, cashier of the Coahoma State Bank, is moving into his new home, just off the high school campus, this weekend.

The James Renfro family has a new brick home under construction just west of the Justiss home; the S. L. Newsom home, west of the Renfros, has been completed and occupied three or four months.

Fraser and Milliken, building contractors, are constructing a large brick residence, to be sold, on the corner of the highway. More will be built if the demand is big enough.

"Building has started now, since Coahoma has a good water supply, and maybe the growth will continue," Justiss said this week. "We are still short on rental property. Every house suitable for occupancy has been rented for as long as anybody remembers."

Attendance Holds High For Summer Programs

Attendance at summer recreational programs continue steadily high.

After a slight sag last week, the Citywide Summer Recreation program is back above the 900 mark in cumulative attendance. The YMCA regular activities for boys and girls showed a slight drop, but this was due wholly to the conclusion of the Tiny Tot swimming program.

Jim Gilbert, director of the program, sent out reminders to parents that this will be the last week of this activity for the summer. He urged them to make every effort to have children get in on the sessions.

During the week there were 960 at the Space Clubs of the Citywide Recreation program—595 at meetings in the Central Y and 365 at Lakeview Y branch. This compared with the week before. After a slow start, Lakeview attendance has been climbing steadily until one day last week there were 80 in attendance. Sam Dawson, who is now directing that portion of the program, is planning a parents affair on Aug. 1.

The Y attendance last week was 1,185, down from 1,419 the week before. The now-completed Tiny Tot swimming program, with 240 enrolled, was the difference. All summer long, said Curtis Mullins, Y general secretary, the Y program has ran over 1,000 attendance. Cumulative attendance of the two programs has approached 2,000 per week.

The Citywide Summer Recreation Program is made possible through cooperative support of the United Fund, the Big Spring Independent School District, City of Big Spring and the YMCA.

School Dropouts Are Stemmed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Big city school systems have made progress in stemming school dropouts, the National Education Association reported Friday.

A study showed that since 1960 the "holding power" of the large city school systems has risen 2.5 per cent compared with a national increase of 1.6 per cent. The study defined holding power as the ability of schools to keep pupils from a specified grade through graduation.

Here's why you should choose a TSO Doctor of Optometry to prescribe and fit your Contact Lenses.

If you are considering CONTACT LENSES, undoubtedly, you would like to know the factors which contribute most toward providing maximum wearing comfort with the greatest amount of visual efficiency.

First, there is the experience and proficiency of the practitioner who examines your eyes, measures the curvature and diameter of the cornea (front of the eyes), and interprets and specifies the ophthalmic prescription and dimensions for your contact lenses.

Then, there is the skill and precision with which your contact lenses are made in accordance with the Doctor's prescription and specifications. There is the design of the lens, and then the care taken in assuring accuracy and perfection of processing in the laboratory, to produce the finest . . . the ultimate in contact lenses.

Considering these requirements, here's why YOU SHOULD CHOOSE A TSO DOCTOR OF OPTOMETRY TO PRESCRIBE AND FIT YOUR CONTACT LENSES:

In the past fifteen years, TSO Doctors of Optometry have fitted over 40,000 patients with contact lenses, a vast experience which results in precision and skill in the interpretation of examination findings . . . assures you of the correct optical and physical elements in your prescription specifications. These are factors which often determine the successful wearing of contact lenses.

In the laboratory, again the experience of producing many thousands of contact lenses has resulted in important improvements in design and in the processing and finishing techniques used. TSO Contact Lenses, with a multi-curve design and highly polished edge bevel, are produced under strict, rigid inspection at every processing stage. Only the very finest grade, cured optical plastic is used.

Because of these factors, a typical TSO patient readily achieves minimum adaptation time* and maximum wearing comfort.

So, if you are considering contact lenses, and have been wondering which practitioner to choose to prescribe and fit them, you will be wise to first consider a Doctor of Optometry at TSO.

Famous TSO Contact Lenses, worn by thousands, are unsurpassed in technical excellence, yet they are reasonable in cost. Single vision TSO Micro-Sight Contact Lenses are only $65.00, including examination and fitting. Bifocal contact lenses are also available at reasonable cost. YOU CANNOT GET FINER QUALITY, BETTER FITTED CONTACT LENSES NO MATTER HOW MUCH THEY MIGHT COST ELSEWHERE.

*Average adaptation time for all-day wearing: 10 to 14 days.

City's Pay Study Back On Agenda

City commissioners will again consider the proposed pay scale-job classification plan in a regularly - scheduled meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday in city hall.

The agenda will also include consideration of a renewal of the fire-fighting contract with the county. Howard County has been paying some $6,000 per year to the city for fire calls outside the city limits.

At the July 14 session, the commission discussed but tabled for consideration at a later meeting a request for a water lease agreement with the city from the Big Spring Country Club.

Two representatives of the club appeared at the July 14 session and asked that the city agree to club use of the city's pipeline to the Section 33 water wells, south of the city. The city previously held the lease to the wells, but the club made arrangements to obtain the lease after the city allowed it to expire earlier this year. R. H. Weaver, club representative, said he had a letter of transmittal from the Texas and Pacific Land Trust, which owns the land, for the water lease.

The wells are capable of supplying 1½ million gallons of water daily. The club asked that it be allowed to use the water until needed by the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

The final reading of the ordinance for codification of the city code, under way by a Florida firm, is scheduled for the meeting. Also on the agenda are second readings of several other previous actions of the commission, including on-premises consumption permits for the Melody Club, 3407 West 80, and Specks Drive-In, 710 Lamesa Highway, and a dance hall transfer permit for 2605 West 80.

The pay scale and job classification plan went to the city commission July 1 and was again considered July 17 in a called meeting. No action has been taken for adoption of the study.

Additional recommendations were being prepared this week by a representative of the management consulting firm which conducted the study, for presentation to the commission Tuesday night.

The pay scale was set to provide raises of 2½ to 7½ per cent for each city employe. At the meeting July 14, City Manager Larry Crow told commissioners the system could be put into effect at a cost of about $38,000 for the first year, using a step-a-year basis.

Police salaries were the focal point of consideration in the July 17 meeting. Discussion included possible adjustment upward of patrolmen's salaries and reduction of the work week from 48 hours, with one hour overtime, to 44 hours.

Hamilton In Rodeo Lead

DENVER — An Arizona cowboy, Bill Hamilton of Phoenix, was pro rodeo's top money winner of the week today, after lassoing $3,448 at the annual California Rodeo in Salinas.

Hamilton's bulging wallet marked competitive highlight of the west coast cowboy classic where another lucky 84 contestants divided remainder of the prize money, $38,095, up in six events.

Hamilton, 28, who learned to rope working with his father on northern Arizona cattle ranches, partnered with Ted Ashworth, 36, Fresno, Calif., to snare team roping victory worth $2,250 to each man, and then added a third place in calf roping for another $1,198. This gold strike rushed Hamilton to seventh among big-hatted money winners so far this year, with an overall $13,284 in his account.

Dean Oliver, 34, Boise, Ida., zoomed to the front in both all-around and calf roping title races last week after a major roping grab, which garnered $868, at the Calgary Stampede. He donned his first sweepstakes mantle last season but has won the calf roping championship six times in the last nine years.

Leaders in the various categories include:

ALL-AROUND — Oliver $20,191, and Guy Weeks, Abilene, Tex., $18,602; SADDLE BRONCS — Marty Wood, Bowness, Alta., $12,029 and Jim Tescher, Medora, N.D., $10,478; BAREBACK BRONCS—Jim Houston, Omaha, Neb., $13,958, and John Hawkins, Hart, Calif., $9,050; BULL RIDING—Bob Wegner, Ponca City, Okla., $11,021, and Bill Kornell, Palm Springs, Calif., $9,584; CALF ROPING—Oliver $14,825, and Olin Young, Albuquerque, N. M., $13,155; STEER WRESTLING—C. R. Boucher, Burkburnett, Tex., $14,703, and Harry Charters, Melba, Ida., $8,312.

KLONDIKE SCHOOL GYM GETS NEW ROOF

First roof on this building collapsed before gymnasium was used

Klondike's New Gym Roof Almost Finished

By M. A. WEBB

KLONDIKE — The roof of a brand new gymnasium at the Klondike Schol collapsed before the gym was used last Sept. 5, and the school was without the building's facilities during the entire 1963-64 school year.

But the new roof, and a new floor, will be ready for use when school opens Sept. 1.

A new canopy, with a scalloped design, has been placed across the front of the building, and the roof raised higher than formerly, with extra - strong steel on top of the supported wall to handle the heavy archtype roof. Most of the walls had to be built up.

Architect Howard Allen, Lamesa, designed the new roof and structure, and the work is estimated at $100,000. Buildings adjacent to the gymnasium, including cafeteria, vocational agriculture section and dressing rooms, were not damaged and were used.

Bo Barkowsky, principal, said work started in February in cleaning away the rubble left when the roof collapsed after a heavy rain. He said it had leaked during the rain and the gym could not be used. The floor had to be replaced also.

Good weather has made it possible for the work to progress rapidly on the building, workmen said last week, and it is expected to be ready for use well before school opens.

Water District Officials To Visit C-City Groups

Officials of the Colorado River Municipal Water District plan to visit early this week with Colorado City and Mitchell County interests regarding the district's amended application to construct a dam on the Colorado River above Robert Lee.

The original permit application in 1960 named a site in southern Mitchell County, and six telegrams were dispatched to the Texas Water Commission last Monday protesting the CRMWD's decision. Signers—Mitchell County Commissioners Court, Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, City of Colorado City, City of Loraine, City of Westbrook, the Lions Club of Loraine—served notice that a brief of formal protest might follow.

Mitchell County interests said that they felt that if the amended permit is granted, this will preclude the impounding of a lake on the river in Mitchell County. Charles Perry, Odessa, president of CRMWD, said that while board members would personally prefer location of the lake at a nearer point such as Mitchell County, weight of engineer recommendations was preponderantly in favor of the amended site above Robert Lee. Perry, General Manager E. V. Spence and possibly a few CRMWD board members will explain to the Mitchell groups the principal basis on which the decision was reached.

Seek Evidence Of Sabotage

ALGIERS (AP)—Government officials are trying to learn whether sabotage was involved in an explosion that sank the Egyptian ship Alexandria and sent flames shooting through the port of Bone.

Unofficial casualty reports ranged widely. The newspaper Alger Republicain said 182 persons were killed in the blast and fire 260 miles east of here Thursday night. The Algerian Defense Ministry said the ship was unloading munitions at Bone.

Given 5 Years On Guilty Plea

Lorenzo Cevallos, charged with possession of heroin, pleaded guilty in 118th District Court Friday afternoon and was sentenced to serve five years in the state penitentiary.

Saturday morning, he was on his way to the Texas Penitentiary at Huntsville. A. G. Mitchell, deputy sheriff, left for Huntsville with Cevallos, Kendall Webb, Steve Roberts and John Ewing.

Webb was not indicted here but has concurrent sentences of seven years from several other counties hanging over his head. Roberts is under three year sentence for theft over $50 and Ewing under two year sentence for car theft.

Coahoma Shopping Center Restaurant Is Now Open

COAHOMA—Coahoma's newest business, the Village Restaurant, was opened Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sellers, their son, James, and daughter, Shirley, experienced restaurant operators, are owners of the new business in the new shopping center, east of the bank and post office.

Other businesses in the shopping center opened several weeks ago, but the restaurant was delayed because of slow delivery of equipment. A formal opening is planned for the center around Aug. 1, according to Brimberry & Madsen, real estate firm in charge of leasing.

The Sellers have operated restaurants in Cuthbert, Lamesa, Colorado City and Snyder for 26 years. They operated the Village Restaurant in Snyder for the past 10 years.

"We plan to be open from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily," Sellers said. "Two shifts are employed to keep the business going. In addition to regular menus, with plate lunches offering a choice of from four to six meats, we will feature special steaks, pastries made in our own kitchen, good breakfast menus and varied desserts. We plan to serve fresh strawberry pie, with syrup we make here, as a special feature.

"We have an electric restaurant with a special charbroiler for steaks," Sellers continued. "Our dining room at the rear will seat 50 people and is suitable for private parties, club meetings and civic gatherings. We can seat, with present furnishings, 98 people in the restaurant, but can add seats for up to about 115."

The 10-place counter has individual tops, with the space between used for napkin-holders, sugar, condiments and other items. Sellers said this was the newest styling for counters and gave the diner plenty of elbow room, and eliminates the necessity of leaning over the counter because of the lack of knee space on a straight wall.

The interior is finished in teakwood paneling, with an arched mantle behind the counter. Pendant type lighting fixtures, with colored shades, provide illumination for the interior of the air conditioned restaurant. A sliding door separates the private dining room from the front.

There are five booths in addition to the counter and the tables in the center of the dining area. Rest rooms are included in the building.

"There is some equipment not yet in," Sellers said, "but we hope to have it before too long, and this will speed things up for us."

A small foyer in the northwest corner of the shopping center building will provide all-weather entrance for restaurant customers.

Cooks for the restaurant are James Sellers and Henry Hernandez on the morning shift, and Fred Harvey on the second shift. Others on the staff, including waitresses and helpers are: Cherie Collins, Mrs. Alma Sellers, Joe Cervalles, Shirley Sellers and Cheryl Childers.

Hansen, Long Break Own World Records

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dallas Long and Fred Hansen set world records Saturday to spark the United States to an amazing show of strength against Russia in the first day of their two-day track and field dual.

Long hit 67 feet 10 inches in the shot to erase his own world mark of 65-10½ and his pending mark of 66-3½.

Hansen vaulted 17 feet 4 inches, eclipsing his pending record of 17-2.

At the end of the first day the American men led Russia 61-46.

The meet was widely heralded as a preview of the Olympics, since Russia and the United States are the two great powers of the track world.

It was a day of surprises and probably the biggest came in the women's events, where the United States scored one-two slams in the 100 meters and high jump and won the 400 meter relay to wind up the day leading 27-25 in points.

Short of a calamity, the United States will win the men's side of the competition by a wide margin, stay fairly close in the women's events, and probably achieve for the first time in the history of the meet an over-all triumph.

There was one bitter disappointment for the American team. Ralph Boston, the Olympic champion in the broad jump was beaten by one quarter of an inch by Leonid Barkovisky of Russia, who did 8.03 meters or 26-4¼ inches. Boston did 26-4, 8.02 meters.

Mike Larrabee, Ventura, Calif., and Ollan Cassell, Houston, Texas, were one-two in the 400 meters, Larrabee doing 46.0.

Gerry Lindgren, 18-year-old Spokane youth, engineered a major upset in winning the 10,000 meter run, and the U.S. scored slams in both the men's and women's 100 meter dashes.

Henry Carr and John Moon teamed up for one-two in the men's 100, Carr winning in 10.3, and Edith McGuire and Wyomia Tyus scored a decisive victory over the veteran Russians in their event, Miss McGuire taking first in 11.5.

The victory of the two girls from Tennessee State was a big surprise as the Russian girls, Galina Popova and Maria Itkina, had both been credited with better times than the Americans.

Carr was off to a fast start in his 100 and won by four meters, but Moon had a hard battle to nose out Edvin Ozolin.

Blaine Lindgren of Salt Lake City scored a big surprise in the 110 meter hurdles when he beat out his teammate, the veteran internationalist, Hayes Jones, by inches in 13.6. Anatoly Mikhailov of Russia, who won the event last year, was a badly beaten third. This was the third sweep of the meet for the United States.

Eleanor Montgomery, an 18-year-old high school student from Cleveland, Ohio, won the women's high jump at 5-7¼, another big surprise. It was the first time in the history of the meet that the event had been won by an American.

Russia scored its first slam in the women's javelin, Elvira Ozolina taking the event in 180-8½, followed by Yelena Gorchakova, 176-½. Ranae Bair of San Diego took the third with 171-8.

The United States took another one-two victory, this time in the 400 meters, won by Mike Larrabee of Ventura, Calif., in 46.0, followed by Ollan Cassell of Houston, Tex., who stood off the stretch challenge of Vadim Arkhipchuk of Russia.

Terrezene Brown of Los Angeles was awarded second place in the women's high jump at 5-5¼ on the basis of fewer misses at lower heights than the Russian veterans, Taisia Chenchik and Galina Kostenko.

Tourney Will Start Monday In Baseball

ANDREWS — The District 3 Little League tournament begins here Monday in the American Little League Park with four Big Spring nines on hand to vie for the title.

Entered in the four-day tournament from Big Spring are the International, Texas, American and National Little Leagues.

The Big Spring National Little League will open the tourney with a 5:30 p.m. game against the Andrews American LL while Monday's slate will be completed by a 7:30 p.m. contest between the Big Spring American International Little Leagues. The Big Spring Texas LL, which received a bye, will play the winner of the former game at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday while the winner of the latter game will meet the Andrews National LL, which also received a bye, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. The winners will meet Friday at 7:30 p.m. for the title.

Gooch, Soles Will Compete

RANGER—When the 19th annual six and eight-man coaching school convenes here on the campus of Ranger Junior College Wednesday through Saturday, two Forsan athletes who starred during the past year will be putting their talents on display.

Kenneth Soles, a 6 foot, 1 inch, 175-pound right halfback for the Buffaloes who was easily selected to the all-district squad in 6-B, will be on the West's eight-man grid squad. Donnie Gooch, at 6 feet 3 inches and 150 pounds, will make an appearance for the West's basketball team.

The eight-man football game will highlight the four days of coaching tips as it is slated for the final night at 7:30. The all-star basketball game is set earlier on Thursday at 8 p.m. The other sports contest scheduled, the six-man game, will be at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Coaching the West all-star hardwoods squad will be F. W. McDonald of Sterling City while the opposition will have Merle Watson of Lone Oak in control. In football, J. R. Dillard of Sterling City will have control of the West in the eight-man contest while Leon Dunn will head the East. The six-man game will see Dwain Bunch of Coolidge be the top mentor for the East while his opponent will be Bill McGuire of Balmorhea.

Kasko Beats Chicago, 5-3

HOUSTON (AP)—Eddie Kasko rifled a double in the eighth inning Saturday night, driving in two runs and giving Houston a 5-3 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

Kasko's double off Bob Buhl with two out knocked in Joe Gaines, who started the inning with a single, and Walt Bond, who sacrificed but reached first on a fielder's choice.

Venturi, Besselink Tied At 54 Holes

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi and Al Besselink shot identical 69s Saturday to remain in a tie after 54 holes in the $50,000 Insurance City Open Golf Tournament.

BESSELINK

Their three-round total of 202 was 11 under par at the Wethersfield Country Club par 35-36—71 layout and set the stage for what could be a dramatic climax Sunday.

The 33-year-old Venturi has put together rounds of 70-63-69. The 40-year-old Besselink has 66-67-69 rounds.

Challenging the leaders were Sam Carmichael with 203 and Jack Rule and Bert Yancey with 204s.

Venturi collected three birdies and one bogey in his 34-35 round and took 28 putts. Besselink picked up four birdies and two bogies in his round.

"I played my best round today," said Besselink, who has promised the press a case of wine if he wins on Sunday. Tony Lema started the custom by buying champagne after all his victories. Besselink said he couldn't afford the bubbly stuff.

One of Venturi's most exciting shots came on the par four 371-yard seventh hole, where he chipped in for a birdie from 40 feet with his pitching wedge.

LEAGUE RECORD TIED

White Sox Score Two In 13th For Victory

CHICAGO (AP)—Mike Hershberger singled across two runs in the 13th inning, boosting the Chicago White Sox to a 6-5 triumph over Minnesota in a see-saw battle Saturday.

Hershberger's single off Dick Stigman came after the White Sox loaded the bases on three walks. Gerry Fosnow walked J. C. Martin and Tom McCraw and Stigman came in and walked Floyd Robinson.

Stigman was the Twins' ninth pitcher in the game. That tied the major league record for the number of pitchers used by one team.

The two-run rally overcame a one-run lead the Twins took in their half of the 13th. Jerry Zimmerman's single knocked in the run.

Zollo Versalles homered off Hoyt Wilhelm in the top of the 12th, but the White Sox came back in their half of the inning for a run when Bill Skowron singled in Pete Ward from second.

Rote Broadcasts

NEW YORK (AP) — Former SMU and pro football star Kyle Rote, WNEW sports director, will handle the radio commentary of all 19 football games to be played by the New York Giants this season. He will be assisted by Al De Rogatis.

CITY TOURNEY SLATED

All Stars Named

The American Softball League's annual tournament among the top four finishers in the loop will be Friday and Saturday at the City Park diamond, with action slated to begin each night at 6:30. There will be no admission charge.

Spectators will be able to see a lot of baseball, with three tilts set for Friday and two for Saturday. Hester's and Skateland will meet in the opening game of the tournament and this will be followed by a Texas Electric-331st contest. The two losers will play the final game of the night with the losing team in this game being eliminated entirely from the double-elimination tournament. At the close of play Friday, Saturday's draws will be decided.

A trophy will go to the first place team.

The league's all-star team was recently announced with 15 men making the list which was selected by the managers and commissioner of the loop. They will play the church league all-stars at an announced date in August.

Players selected to the all-star team were:

Catchers Gheling of Hesters and Berry, TESCO; Pitchers Camp of Skateland and Riceman, Hesters; Infielders Blake of Forsan; McMahan, Treadaway and Stoval of Skateland, Graham, Coahoma, and Arencibia of Hesters; Outfielders Sorley and Williams of Skateland; Boyce of 331st; Hale of Hesters and Barbee of TESCO.

Yankees Thunder By Detroit, 14-2

DETROIT (AP)—Bobby Richardson stroked four hits and Joe Pepitone drove in four runs as the New York Yankees burled Detroit 14-2 Saturday under a 20-hit assault.

The victory moved the second-place Yankees to within one-half game of the American League-leading Baltimore Orioles, who played a night game with Washington.

New York knocked out starter Dave Wickersham in a four-run first inning and tattooed two Tiger relief pitchers for eight runs and eight hits in the second before rain halted play for 48 minutes.

Pepitone singled home two runs in the first and doubled in a pair in the second. Richardson and Tony Kubek each singled and doubled in the second, when the Yankees sent 12 men to the plate.

The 20 hits, biggest AL output of the season, enabled Jim Bouton to coast to his 10th victory against eight defeats.

Orioles Sneak By Senators

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jerry Adair's run-scoring single capped a four-run rally in the eighth inning that vaulted Baltimore to a 5-4 victory over Washington Saturday night.

Sam Bowens delivered a key single in the uprising, driving in two runs with two out and the bases loaded. His hit came off Ron Kline, who had just relieved starter Bennie Daniels.

A CHALLENGE IS THERE

Spike Dykes May Make Coahoma Into Contender

By PAT WASHBURN

COAHOMA — A big challenge could well make the Coahoma Bulldogs one of the area's top football teams this fall.

"Football presents a challenge," said new head coach Spike Dykes Friday. "It's always been that way for me and it always will be. Why did I come here? Because I saw that the kids in this town wanted to play football and they want to win very badly, they've got a tremendous spirit. And then, too, the situation here presents quite a challenge.

"It was a hard decision to make to leave the San Angelo coaching staff. I was there two years as line coach and we won the District 2-AAAA crown twice and went to the quarterfinals of the state both years before being defeated. And this year the Bobcats are coming up with another fine team. I had a great job down there—a lot of time to coach football, a lot of topnotch youngsters, and a tradition of winning that was instilled in everyone. The spirit was always there.

"But I want to get places as a coach and being an assistant at a school that large makes it pretty hard. At a school like that they get a good head coach, like Emory Bellard, and he's liable to be there forever. And if you're an assistant, there's no way of telling if you'll ever get to move up to the haed coaching position and you get in a rut. The challenges aren't there any more, and football loses a lot of its thrill.

"So I decided it was time to strike out on my own. I applied at several schools, Lamesa being one, and I was a top candidate for the job there. But they said, 'You've never been a head coach. That's too bad,' and I didn't get the position. But I was lucky enough for them to sign me here at Coahoma. I like it here, I like the people and the kids seem great. That can make all the difference in the world. And at this school I'll have my first chance to really make something of myself in this coaching rat-race. The challenge is here, that makes me happy, and now all I've got to do is live up to it."

Dykes has a big job in front of him in attempting to shape the Bulldogs into contenders for the District 6-A title. But no one really knows how big that job is, not even Dykes. His only association with the players has been indirect, through films of last fall's games that saw Coahoma play brilliantly at times and at other times show nothing at all.

But if a tradition of being a coach on a winning team means anything, the rest of the district better take careful notes and prepare for some tough games because Dykes is far from giving up. He's been a coach on three district-championship squads in the last three years, beginning at 6-AA Ballinger in 1961 and following at San Angelo in 1962-63. He'd like nothing better than to continue the string with the Bulldogs.

The 26-year-old easy going native of Lubbock, who lived in Big Spring at one time, played his high school football in Ballinger as an offensive center and defensive linebacker, graduating in 1955 after receiving several district honors. He continued as a center throughout college, attending Houston's Rice University one year, San Angelo College one year and finishing up at Stephen F. Austin in 1959.

COACH SPIKE DYKES

In the fall of that year, he reported to Eastland High School in 10-A as a line coach and head basketball coach, compiling a 14-14 record in the latter sport. Four more years as a line coach at Ballinger and San Angelo followed before the one - year contract was signed at Coahoma that made him head football and track coach.

He inherits a team from Jimmy Spann which the magazine Texas Football says "may take a back seat to no one." Although four starters are gone from last year's unit, Eddy McHugh is back with fine credentials at halfback, along with backs Tony Butler, Dwayne Allen and Marshall Williams, and linemen Mike Mosley, Ted Cearley, Wesley Wright; Eddy Wiski, Ted Merrick and Jerry Sanders. Sixty-three boys signed up in the spring for football, and although some have dropped by the wayside, Dykes expects to have 50-plus out on the first day of practice Aug. 17.

In molding the offense around a balanced T, Dykes will have the services of two new coaches to Coahoma whom he calls "Two of the greatest guys I could have gotten to come up here. They really know their football."

Line coach Don Fuqua, a former Sonora footballer who went on to play college ball at SMU and Howard Payne, will be coming from Falfurrias where he's had the same position. Bernie Hagins, who will take charge of the backs, comes from Cameron where he helped with football along with being the head basketball mentor. A former Snyder great, he attended San Angelo College and Stephen F. Austin and was a teammate of Dykes.

If Coahoma takes the top laurels in 6-A, they must overcome two top-notch elevens.

Merkel is ranked fifth in the state in pre-season polls and is definitely the team to beat. The Badgers, who reached the quarterfinals of the state a year ago before finally being stopped by eventual state champion Petersburg, 14-6, have seven offensive and eight defensive starters returning along with 12 lettermen. Weldon Tittle, a 6'1", 195-pound fullback - linebacker, is being called one of Class A's finest players and he will be the boy to watch.

Aspermont will also be tough as they return seven offensive and nine defensive starters along with 17 lettermen. Fullback James Ray (6'2", 235-pounds) will be a big key in the Hornets' drive for a district championship.

And where does Coahoma fit into this intricate puzzle?

"Except for Aspermont and Merkel, I think we're more than capable of winning every game," Dykes said. "But those two teams are going to be tough, and the outcome will depend on how far our boys have progressed. But no one is unbeatable."

Coahoma could be on the threshold of enjoying one of its finest years ever in football.

Games Slated Here Today At Steer Park

Two exhibition games are slated today at Steer Park as the Big Spring Tigers old-timers meet the Alma Latina club in the first outing and the current Tigers play the Sacred Heart Cardinals in the second contest. Game time is 1:30 p.m.

Sonny Dutchover will manage the old-timers in the first game while Pat Martinez will coach the Alma Latina club over the four innings.

For the Alma Latina Club, the starting lineup will include: W. Menchaca, shortstop; S. Duran, right field; C. Paradez, third base; D. Gomez, left field; B. Rubio, center field; D. Nunez, second base; A. Mendez, first base; C. Gonzales, catcher; and C. Moralez, pitcher.

In the seven inning second game, the Sacred Heart Cardinals will put this team on the field: Pano Rodriguez, first base; Pat Martinez Jr., shortstop; Domingo Rubio, right field; Pete Parras, second base; Juan Rodriguez, left field; Guy Lara, third base; Benny Marquez, center field; Avel Ramirez, catcher; and Joe Cadenhead, pitcher.

For the Tigers, the starters will be: A. Mendoza, center field; H. Garganious, left field; H. Perez, second base; D. Gamboa, third base; B. Weatherall, first base; T. Arista, right field; R. Renteria, shortstop; S. Swangstu, catcher; and J. Fierro, pitcher.

Bauer Still Talks Of Casey Stengel

BALTIMORE (AP) — When Chuck Estrada reported for spring training with the Baltimore Orioles' new manager, Hank Bauer told him, "it's your arm, take care of it. This baseball is better than picking up a lunch pail."

Estrada is happy that Bauer kept him on the squad. Through the first half of the season Estrada hadn't pitched as many as seven innings in one game, but in June he won his fifth start for his first decision. His next two relief appearances also brought victories and because Bauer has shown patience with San Luis Obispo native, Estrada could be a big help in the Birds' drive for their first pennant.

For three years Estrada was one of the bright young pitchers with the Orioles. He won 18 games as a rookie in 1960 but won only three times last season and had to call it quits. He didn't pitch an inning after June 1. His arm was so bad he could hardly comb his hair.

When surgeons operated on the 26-year-old Estrada's right elbow last Sept. 25 they found a bone spur and an abundance of calcium deposits. Chuck was only 25 then.

It seemed strange that a young pitcher who never had any arm trouble until 1962—when he won 9, lost 17—would come up with a pitcher's elbow, also strange that he waited so late to have it cut.

"Well," said Bauer, "he had to wait until the swelling went down. And if you remember when Paul Richards had the Orioles there was quite a bit of competition between three young pitchers—Steve Barber, Milt Pappas and Estrada. You know how it is, one tried to outdo the other.

HANK BAUER

"I'm really not counting on Estrada coming back this season but he says his arm feels fine and I'm going to give him every chance to pitch. Anything he does for us I will consider a bonus. Allie Reynolds had a similar operation when I was with the Yankees and he came back."

So naturally the conversation swung to the Yankees with whom Bauer played 11 years, got in nine World Series and set a record that may never be equaled—hitting in 17 straight Series games.

It amazed many people that Bauer, a big brute of a 200-pound man, should be the leadoff hitter most of his time with the Yankees.

"I asked Casey Stengel about it once and he had a few pretty good reason for letting me hit first," says Bauer. "I told him I never got many walks."

" 'You can start a game with a home run,' Casey told me. 'Or you can get an extra base hit; you can score from first on a two-base hit and if you're on first you're pretty good going into second base to break up that double play.'

"I disagreed a number of times with Casey's reasoning but he often proved right with the moves he made. I think I hit eight home runs while leading off for him one year.

"One time Stengel took me out after I had hit two home runs and a double. When he did that I couldn't see straight. He called Gene Woodling, now one of my coaches, to hit. I could have cut Woodling down with the bat, but he made the old man look good by coming through with a hit.

"Another time he took out Gil McDougald and put up Johnny Mize. 'I'll tell him something,' McDougald pouted. Bing, Mize hit a home run.

"I called McDougald on the side and said 'Now, what were you going to tell Casey?'

"McDougald just dropped his head and said 'nothing.' He grinned on the way to the dressing room."

It was that way with the Yankees. Some of them disagreed with Stengel's moves but each fall they had a wide grin on the way to the bank.

Mets Maul Braves, 10-0

NEW YORK (AP)—The last place New York Mets exploded for a 10-0 victory over the Milwaukee Braves Saturday that featured four straight hits by Tim Harkness and homers by Joe Christopher and George Altman.

Tracy Stallard pitched a three-hitter for the Mets, and made his record 6-13. It was Stallard's first major league shutout.

Harkness singled in the first and scored when Christopher hit his 10th homer, and singled again in the sixth in front of Altman's fourth homer. The Mets also got six runs in the fifth after two were out.

Phils Almost Catch Fleeting Cardinals

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mike Cuellar's relief pitching and a key double play snuffed out a ninth-inning Philadelphia rally after seven runs had scored, and St. Louis escaped with a 10-9 victory Saturday.

SIMMONS

The fantastic rally almost nullified the hitting of the Cardinals' Ken Boyer, who clouted two homers, including his second grand slam of the season.

Curt Simmons, a former Phillie, went into the ninth with a 10-2 lead. But Philadelphia filled the bases on a single by Gus Triandos and walks to Bobby Wine and pinch hitter Wes Covington. Cookie Rojas and Johnny Callison each singled in a run, and Glen Hobbie replaced Simmons with the bases still loaded.

Hobbie walked pinch hitter Tony Gonzalez for another run, and he lft for Bob Taylor with a 2-0 count on Richie Allen, Taylor completed the walk to Allen and gave up a two-run single to Alex Johnson, playing his first major league game.

Cuellar then came in and got pinch hitter John Herrnstein to loft a fly to center fielder Curt Flood. Allen scored from third, but Johnson tried to go to second and was out, Flood to Gerry Buchek. Triandos then popped up for the final out.

Pirates Slug To 6-3 Win

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bill Mazeroski homered and ignited a three-run rally with a single as Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 6-3 Saturday.

Mazeroski's homer off Joe Nuxhall in the second tied the game 1-1. The Reds scored on Vada Pinson's homer in the first.

Mazeroski led off the fourth with a single, went to second when Nuxhall balked and scored on pitcher Vernon Law's single. Bailey then doubled in Law and came home on Bill Virdon's second of three singles.

The Pirates increased their lead to 6-1 in the seventh on Roberto Clemente's single and Donn Clendenon's home run.

Nags Are Undependable, Just Try Some Betting

NEW YORK (AP)—The recent disqualification of the first three finishers in a race at Delaware Park emphasizes the hazards of betting on horses.

You can win, but still lose.

This fact has been generally overlooked with the recent big payoffs in the twin doubles, such as the $132,232.80 April 28 at Roosevelt Raceway, a harness track in Westbury, N.Y.

This is the world record payoff for a $2 bet, but don't think the group that collected bet just $2. It could happen, of course, accounting for the interest of the small bettor in the TD. But ordinarily you have to bet a bunch of combinations at two bucks per to hit the jackpot.

In the case of the $132,232, the seven men in the group revealed they had bet $160 worth of combinations.

On top of everything, you have to be lucky, too.

For instance, there was a man who had four winners one night and still didn't cash a ticket. He didn't bet the horses straight but just played them in the daily double and twin double. He had one-half of the DD and three of the four winners in the TD. He won but still lost.

In another case, a bettor had four winners and collected on each—but he lost, too. It was a simple case of having only $2 on each winner and $20 on each losing race.

There is another case on record of a bettor who hit a five-horse parlay (ask any horse player the odds on that) but didn't collect a nickel. Why? Another easy answer—the last horse was disqualified.

And how about the player who collects a $20.20 daily double but loses $3.80 because he bet 12 combinations for $24?

The bettor accepts these hazards as part of the game, however, as attested by the steady increase in betting and attendance in the annual year - end surveys by The Associated Press.

In 1963 a total of $3,927,324,774 was bet at the nation's thoroughbred and harness racing tracks by 56,976,363 people. The various states collected in revenue $316,570,791 from this nearly $4 billion. Another $150 million or so went to the tracks, leaving $3.4 billion returned to the bettors.

If anyone shows a yearly profit betting the races, he understandably keeps it quiet. Usually the money that goes back to the bettors in effect passes around as in a poker game with 15 cents being taken out of each pot for refreshments. Sometimes someone hits a streak, but if he keeps betting, eventually he will lose.

The New York Racing Commission banned the daily double on thoroughbreds in 1946 because "it had assumed the proportions of a gigantic numbers game." But it was restored after a year because of popular demand.

Few horse players fail to grin at this story related years ago by Toney Betts of the defunct New York Mirror.

A friend marked the program for a newcomer to the tracks. In the first race he circled No. 1, "a cinch." In the second, No. 3, "you can borrow money on this one." In the third, No. 7 "will win by 20 lengths."

"In the fourth it was No. 1, "a copper-riveted certainty." In the fifth No. 8 "will lead all the way." In the sixth No. 9 "as sure as death and taxes." In the seventh No. 5, "shift in weights makes him a standout." In the eighth No. 2 "can't lose."

For the ninth and last race the pick was No. 4 "get even with this one."

Powell's Batting Feared By Opposing Moundsmen

By The Associated Press

One of the most improved sluggers in the American League has to be John (Boog) Powell and if you were to talk to this miniature Johnny Mize you'd have no trouble realizing why pitchers fear this giant of only 22 summers.

Powell's muscles have muscles. Freddie Hofmann, the former catcher who played with Babe Ruth, raved about a big high school kid he followed from Lakeland to Key West. The kid was Boog Powell, and the more Freddie talked the higher the bonus payoff seemed to go.

Hofmann stopped short of $100,000 when he called Boog "the new Ruth" in 1959, the year Powell hit a home run every 14 trips to the plate for Bluefield, W. Va.

Actually, Boog signed for a $35,000 bonus and it was paid over a three - year period to avoid the big tax bite.

Powell weighs 235 pounds and stands 6-feet-3 and every statistic about him is well proportioned. And he's all right in left field.

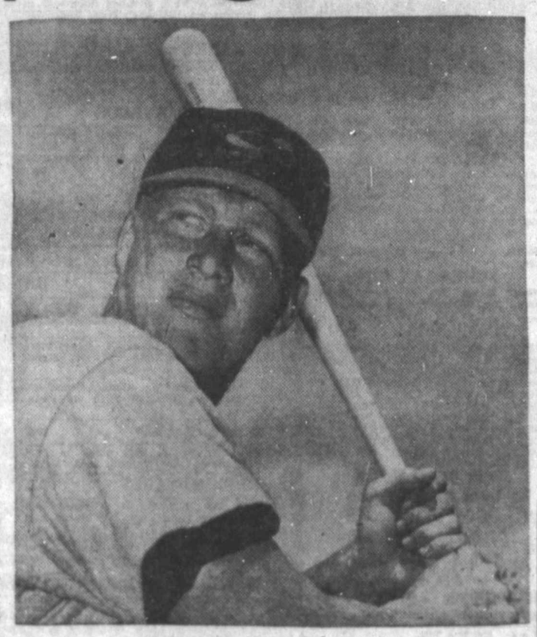
As a rookie in 1962 he came up from Rochester where he led the International League in home runs with 32. He hit .321 but fanned 118 times.

Clyde King, who managed Rochester, predicted he would NOT fan 100 times as a big league rookie. Boog made Clyde look good. He struck out only 79 times and hit 15 home runs. Last year he fanned 87 times but he batted 91 more times and hit 25 home runs to lead the Orioles. He moved his average from .243 to .265.

If the Orioles can hang on to win the American League pennant Powell will have had a hand in the surprise. At the halfway point of the season he had 21 home runs and 50 runs batted in.

There is no telling what Boog might do this year.

"I sure would like to get up to 40 home runs," the red-faced Boog told this writer the other day. "and 100 runs batted in would be a good goal to shoot for. Now, I'm making no predictions but I figure it this way:



JOHN (Boog) POWELL

"Last season was the first time in my five-year career that I played in the same league two years in a row. I learned more about pitching, what they were throwing and how they were getting me out.

"There's one guy I'd like to figure out. That's Jim Kaat, the southpaw with Minnesota. He got me out regularly the last two years.

"The first time I faced him I hit my first big league home run, and I don't think I got a hit off him since. He has a hard sinker. He's a big tall, lanky guy and throws the ball right out here (outside to the lefty swinging Powell) and I can't pick him up."

In one five-week span last summer, Powell hit 11 homers in 33 games. Such a streak suggests he might someday hit 60 homers.

Powell also had a spell in which he failed to get a hit in 30 attempts.

"When you get into a slump you try to make drastic changes," admits Boog. "Maybe I made a few too many, but I really never gave up the battle."

Coaches Will Be Gathering For School

FORT WORTH (AP)—The far-flung Texas high school football season starts officially Sept. 4. But in the minds of schoolboy coaches, it traditionally gets under way at the annual Texas High School Coaches' Association coaching school.

The 32nd annual gathering of coaches is set to start Monday Aug. 3. The all-star basketball and football games will be played Wednesday and Thursday, respectively, of the same week.

An all-time high of 4,000 coaches are due in Fort Worth for the four-day get-together. An 18-hole golf tournament for the mentors is scheduled in conjunction with the meeting.

Some observers look for the South to take the football honors and the North to win the basketball game. But upsets have been frequent in the past in both affairs. All four teams this year are virtually loaded with talent.

The South football squad gets the nod mainly because of two San Antonio sensations—Warren McVea and Linus Baer. In last year's bi-district game, Baer scored 55 points and McVea 48. And that's football, not basketball.

Standout gridders for the North are All-America quarterback Mike Livingston of Dallas South Oak Cliff, San Angelo tackle A. Z. Drones and Garland fullback Ralph Weaver.

The North basketball team features such talent as Mike Lochner of AAA champion Graham and Billy Arnold of Fort Worth Haltom City.

On the South basketball squad are Jimmy Dale Lenox of Clear Creek, Larry Miller of San Antonio Lee and Larry Black of South San Antonio.

Besides the all-star games, the coaches will have their hands full listening to lectures by Wayne Hardin of Navy, Charles McClendon of LSU, Babe McCarthy of Mississippi State, Gus Ganakas of East Lansing, Mich., high school, Bill Easton of Kansas, Cliff Gustafson of South San Antonio High School and Elmer Brown of TCU.

No More Rain

The final skylight, a 7'x3' 4" acrylic plastic aluminum-framed rectangle was in place Friday to complete the roofing of Houston's domed stadium. The air-conditioned domed stadium is the future home of the National League Houston Colts, the American Football League Houston Oilers and the University of Houston. The dome contains 4,596 skylights, each weighing 80 pounds. The 642-foot clear-span dome is now completely roofed and rain will no longer delay inside construction. The stadium is 70 per cent complete and is due for official opening in April, 1965. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Kiwanis Slips Past Legion

The Kiwanis nine, winners of this year's Hi-Junior Teen-Age League, staged a four-run rally in the bottom of the fourth inning Friday night at the Teen-Age Park north of town and raced past the American Legion, 4-1, in an exhibition game to raise money for the upcoming state teen-age tournament to be held here in August.

With one out, Johnny Stone hit a single, Kirby Horton and Charles Burdette walked, Hank Pope doubled, and Eddie Crittenden singled to score the four runs. The rest of the way was a breeze for the leading Legionnaires, though, as the Kiwanians could manage only one more hit, a third inning double by Crittenden.

Burdette was the winner, tossing a two-hitter and giving up a triple to Van Tom Whatley. Bobby Griffin was the loser although he had relief help from Freddie Miears.

Crittenden was the game's only batter to hit safely twice.

Gate receipts totaled $96 while $56 was cleared at the concession stand. All the proceeds will be used for the tournament.

CHICAGO (AP)—A record fleet of 114 craft, ranging from 30-foot yawls to a 72-foot sloop, hoisted sail Saturday afternoon in the start of the Chicago to Mackinac Island yacht race.

One of the longest fresh water events in the world, the race extends a 333-mile northeasterly course the full length of Lake Michigan.

Whitey Is Troubled By Bothersome Hip

DETROIT (AP)—Whitey Ford's hip is hurting, and the pitching coach of the New York Yankees is worried.

The pitching coach, of course, is Whitey, which raises another problem for Yankee manager Yogi Berra.

"Really, all a pitching coach is for is to tell your troubles to," Ford said Saturday. "But I have to tell my troubles to Yogi."

Ford, now 35, is 12-3 on the year, but the hip has been getting steadily worse. His career record is 211-81.

"I took an extra day's rest," Whitey said. "I did nothing after pitching last Sunday, didn't run or pick up a ball. I just took the diathermy and ultra-sound treatment.

"I really babied it, and I thought it would be fine tonight. But it started hurting while I was warming up. That's earlier than usual. It's been getting to me about the seventh inning."

Ford said he thought it best to skip his next turn, which would come against Los Angeles next week.

Berra agreed, and said he would hold Ford out until the last game in Minnesota, on Aug. 2.

WHITEY FORD

"Then I'll have him ready for the first one against Baltimore on Aug. 7," the manager said.

Ford was looking ahead to the Orioles, too.

"We play nobody but Baltimore and the White Sox for 15 straight games in August," the pitcher said. The White Sox are in third place.

"I'll rest the hip, and hope it gets better like it did before," Ford said. "My arm feels fine."

Whitey's troubles in the right hip apparently started on opening day, when the mound at Yankee Stadium was too high. It has come and gone all season.

Induction Slated For Hall Of Fame

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Seven new members of the Baseball Hall of Fame will be inducted Monday on the site where the institution was dedicated 25 years ago.

Those receiving their plaques will be Luke Appling, Urban Faber, Burleigh Grimes and Heinie Manush. John Montgomery Ward, Tim Keefe and Miller Huggins will be inducted posthumously.

Appling, a brilliant shortstop with the Chicago White Sox from 1930 to 1950, was elected by the Baseball Writers' Association of America last Feb. 20. The others were appointed by the 12-man Veterans' Committee on Feb. 22.

One of the features of the silver anniversary celebration will be a clash between the Washington Senators and New York Mets in the annual Hall of Fame game at 1 p.m., EST, on Doubleday Field.

Commissioner Ford Frick will preside at the ceremonies to be staged on the porch of the Hall of Fame. League presidents Joe Cronin of the American and Warren Giles of the National, will participate. Former American League president Will Harridge, who officiated at the original dedication on June 12, 1939, also will be there.

The induction of the select seven swells the Hall of Fame membership to 101. Faber, like Appling, spent his entire major league Career with the White Sox. A right-handed pitcher, he won 253 and lost 211 from 1914 through 1944.

Grimes, an aggressive campaigner from 1916 to 1934, worked for seven clubs, almost entirely in the National League. His record was 270 victories and 212 defeats. Like Faber, he was a spitball pitcher.

Huggins, who managed the New York Yankees to six pennants in an eight-year period, from 1921 through 1928, was named for his skill at holding the reins. He joins such other illustrious diamond strategists as Joe McCarthy, John McGraw, Connie Mack, Hughie Jennings, Bill McKechnie and Harry Wright.

Keefe pitched 19 straight victories for the New York Giants in 1888 and won 345 games in his career. Ward, who played from 1878 to 1894, was a great shortstop and an outstanding pitcher. He also played second base and outfield. As a batter, he collected over 2,000 hits. As a pitcher, he won 160 games, including a perfect, no-man-reach-first performance for Providence against Buffalo, June 17, 1880.

Manush, a strapping outfielder, compiled a .330 batting average in 17 years in the majors. He led the American League in hitting in 1937 with a .378 batting average. Appling, with a .310 lifetime batting average, paced the American League twice, with .388 in 1936 and .328 in 1943.

Bobcats Name New Mentor

SAN ANGELO—Jack Cauthen, Edison Junior High School head football coach, has been named to the grid staff of San Angelo's Central High School by athletic director Emory Bellard. He fills a vacancy created when Spike Dykes signed to become head mentor at Coahoma.

Cauthen, who has been with the Edison coaching staff since 1960, will be junior varsity line coach, assistant track coach and will coach varsity linebackers and centers.

Jack O'Lantern

Country Club of the highway

Legend, history, whim, religion, industry, geography, the heritage of the Scots, man's triumph over the soil or his despair in beholding it, the Indians, color, elements, hills of every conceivable description, land configurations and, of course, terms generic to the game itself, are immortalized in the names that Americans have given their golf courses.

Here are some of the most colorful:

JACK O' LANTERN COUNTRY, WOODSTOCK, N. H.— This is a resort club long on history. The Indians burned down the first plank clubhouse almost 200 years ago and the Green Mountain boys were quartered at the site during the War of 1812. Across the street from the main inn, Billy Walker mineral water was sold 75 years ago. Walker's spring kept the sunrounding soil saturated and pumpkins grew abundantly in it. This gave rise to the eventual course name. . . .

KISSING CAMELS, GOLF COURSE, COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO. — This club, less than five years old, is located on a mesa overlooking the Garden of the Gods. Its backdrop is famed Kissing Camels Rock, which gives the appearance of two camels touching noses. In keeping with the background, the clubhouse is furnished and decorated with a Moroccan motif. At night even more drama is added when a searchlight is played on the camels . . .

SHOW LOW GOLF COURSE, SHOW LOW, ARIZ. — It seems that a rancher and an Indian scout were playing cards, probably in some adobe, when the rancher supposingly said: "Show low and the whole ranch is yours." Deuces were shown and a town and later a golf course had names . . .

LOST TREE CLUB, OLD PORT VILLAGE, FLA. — This course is wrapped up with the history of ghosts and legends or Florida's lost rail line, the "Celestial Railroad," that ran from Jupiter to Juno to Venus to Mars. When surveys were made in Lost Tree area (near Juno) between 1800 and 1948, trees that had been used as landmarks or starting markers had mysteriously disappeared. Thus when the promoters built the course in 1948, the name came naturally . . .

HOLE-IN-THE-WALL GOLF COURSE, NAPLES, FLA. — Before the Tamiami Trail was built some 60 years ago, Naples consisted of two settlements separated by a cypress swamp. It was known as the "Wall." Then the Indians cut through the barrier and the rough road they built became known as the "Hole-In-The-Wall." The Hole still remains and had its part in the naming of the course. . . .

IRON MASTERS GOLF COURSE, ROARING SPRINGS, PA. — Iron ore was mined on the site of the course more than 150 years ago and reduced to ingots in furnaces located in surrounding towns. These were then shipped to Pittsburgh to be converted to steel. The supervisor of a furnace was known as an "Iron Master" and when the course was founded, this breed of men was honored . . .

SHOW LOW COUNTRY CLUB

JUG END IN THE BERKSHIRES, SOUTH EGREMONT, MASS. — There are three versions as to how the name Jug End originated. One is that the mountain, near which this resort course is located, resembles a huge jug that is tipped on its side. Another is that Dutch and German settlers dubbed it the Jug End (young mountain) and the name was eventually anglicized. The third is that miners who once worked on the iron-rich mountain sipped from their jugs as they ascended. When they reached the top the jugs were usually empty and so they were pitched over the sheer face of the peak. The Jug End resort is at the base of the mountain . . .

Like To Horse Trade? Go To Lexington, Ky.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The world's most elite sale of horseflesh, the Keeneland summer sale of yearlings, will draw many of the smartest horsemen during the next two days.

But with all their knowledge, each will be praying for luck in the four sales sessions Monday and Tuesday.

Yearling sales might be considered the biggest gamble in racing, perhaps the biggest gamble in any business. Thousands of dollars can return you nothing or a comparative pittance can hit the jackpot.

John Olin paid $130,000 in 1961 for Swapson, a son of the great Swaps. The colt won a total of $10,370 in two seasons of racing.

Hurry To Market went for a mere $15,000 in 1962 and banked $203,529 in his juvenile year alone.

Racing victories aren't the only profit makers for horses bought at Keeneland, of course. A well bred colt or filly always can be used for breeding, and often that's where the most profit is made.

The eight best bargain horses sold at Keeneland in 1962, for example, went for a total of $123,000. The next year they earned a total of $753,306 in purses.

Five of the all-time top priced horses, who had raced through 1963, sold for a total of $456,000. Their winnings at the races were a disappointing $61,030.

In stakes races last year, 54 horses sold at Keeneland won 93 races for a total of $1.8 million. Combing all other sales in the nation there were only 21 winners of 32 races for $596,483.

In addition, 131 winners of $100,000 or more have been through the Keeneland sales ring, including Kentucky Derby winners Determine, Venetian Way, Jet Pilot and Dark Star.

For the dreamer, consider these past bargains:

—Determine sold for $12,000 in 1952, won $573,360 and sired many winners, including 1962 Derby winner Decidedly.

—With Pleasure sold for $3,600 in 1944, won $280,660 and sired winners of $1.4 million through last year.

—Turn-To went for $20,000, won $280,032 and sired winners of $2.9 million.

—And Dark Star sold for $6,500, then won $131,337 and has sired winners of $1.6 million.

Muscle-Building Work

Steve McComb, a senior offensive tackle and defensive guard for the Big Spring Steers, is keeping in shape this summer by doing various jobs at McMahon Concrete Co. on the Snyder Highway. In the above picture he's loading a 50-pound concrete fence post onto a small crane. A one-year letterman, he is 5'11" and weighs 210 pounds. He'll be one of head coach Don Robbins' starters this fall.

Women Needed To Teach Golf

By The Associated Press

The lady golfer had a complaint.

"I've taken up golf seriously the last two years and I've already come to one conclusion—that men professionals who teach just don't have the patience with women. I think more women golfers ought to teach the game to women."

"We're getting to that more and more," says Marilynn Smith, former Ladies Professional Golf Association president, "because we've learned that 60 to 70 per cent of the golf lessons now being taken are taken by women."

In other words more women today are leaving the kitchen sink to sink putts.

"That's right," says the popular Miss Smith who is 35 and has been a pro since 1949.

"I've just signed a contract to teach every January and February for the next three years at the Trelawny Country Club in Runaway Bay, Jamaica. More and more of us girls on tour are going in for teaching the game.

"I think it will also help our tour because the more women who understand the game the better it will be for our attendance."

Miss Smith then went down the list of the Ladies PGA tour golfers and it was amazing to see how many girls are giving lessons.

Judy Torluemke is only 19 but next winter she will assist Bob Toski at Ocean Reef, south of Miami.

Peggy Kirk Bell gives lessons at Pine Needles, Southern Pines, N. C., a place she and her husband, Warren Bell, own.

Shirley Englehorn often teaches at a Los Angeles driving range, and in the summer Shirley Spork is at Sugar Bush, Vt. Wanda Sanches gives lessons at Sunset Country Club in Kirkwood, Mo.

Sybil Griffin has had a teaching job at Lake Worth, Fla., and Lesbia Lobo takes time out to give lessons at Livingston, N. Y.

"The coming year," says Marilynn Smith, "will find more women pros than ever giving lessons. There may come a day when the golf manufacturing firms will insist on it because they're selling a lot of golf equipment to women these days."

Will Cardinals Move? No One Gives Answer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An unknown element held up the expected announcement early Saturday that the football Cardinals would stay in St. Louis and forget about moving to Atlanta.

The club's torment over enticements offered by the two cities had actually been solved by Friday morning when The Associated Press learned the team's owners had said that "St. Louis has given us everything we wanted."

However, Charles and Bill Bidwill, president and vice president respectively of the Cardinals, later denied they had made a decision to keep the National Football League's oldest team in St. Louis.

"The Cardinals have sold us out," says an indignant Atlanta official. "They used us as a whipping boy to get what they wanted."

The AP learned that the Bidwell brothers decided to stay in St. Louis after city and civic leaders made some concessions.

Bill Bidwell said Friday afternoon a decision would be announced "before the week is concluded." But, he said later, "it might not come this weekend."

His brother, Charles, contacted at the Cardinals' training camp at Lake Forest, Ill., said he had called a meeting to make an announcement Friday afternoon. Shortly before the scheduled meeting, Charles talked with Bill on the telephone and canceled the meeting.

Charles told the St. Louis Globe-Democrat:

"We almost did make a decision in favor of St. Louis. Then this came up. It is something personal and we want it ironed out before we announce our decision, which possibly now will be Sunday or Monday."

He declined to elaborate.

In Atlanta, mayor Ivan Allen, told Furman Bisher of the Atlanta Journal, he was convinced the Cardinals would eventually land in Atlanta.

Late Homer Is Decisive

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ed Bressoud slammed a home run in the ninth inning, giving Boston a 4-3 victory over Cleveland Saturday.

Bressoud connected off reliever Don McMahon with two out. His 10th homer sailed over the left field fence.

Dick Stuart earlier clouted two homers for the Red Sox, his 25th and 26th.

Footballer Dies While In Hospital

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—A Stanford football player who was paralyzed from the neck down by a dummy scrimmage injury in May, 1963, then recovered enough to resume school work in a wheelchair, died Saturday after a brief illness.

Lowell Wilson, 20, of Honolulu entered Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital Friday, for tests of urological and lung functions.

Wilson, 218 pounds, was bidding for a guard position as a sophomore when he fractured his spine while smashing into a blocking bag.

We will appoint a sincere man or woman to use our sales aids in establishing and servicing a number of sensational self-service "TOY SHOP" Displays in markets, drug, variety stores, etc. You get expert Company advice and guidance. However, you must replace toys each week and collect money.

REQUIRES ONLY FEW HOURS EACH WEEK

This is not a job but a chance to get into something you may have always wanted—a business of your own. One that can be handled in spare time and still leave room for full time expansion.

NOT A GET-RICH-QUICK SCHEME

If you have a desire to better yourself—if sober, honest, and really sincere, have a car & $298 (minimum required), apply at once, giving complete details about yourself, phone number, Airmail or wire:

Independents Blame Ills On Foreigners

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Committeemen finished most of their work Saturday on means for Texas independent operators to seek cures for oil industry ills.

Reports drafted for the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association blamed economic advantages credited to foreign oil for most of the independents' troubles.

Recommendations will go before the annual TIPRO meeting Sept. 13-15 in Fort Worth.

The imports committee, with John Hurd of Laredo and Thornton Huddle of San Antonio as chairmen, added naphthalene to to the items it wants considered. It said a considerable amount of naphthalene is imported for processing into ethylene without being charged against import quotas, and said this should be changed.

Stating that imports by the end of 1964 will equal 29 per cent of domestic oil production, the committee urged an overhaul of the government's mandatory imports program.

The group called for limiting growth of oil imports to a stable ratio with domestic production, encouraging use of more domestic oil on the West Coast and deduction from authorized import levels of foreign oil purchased by the government.

Another recommendation was that the Interior Department be directed "to halt further disproportionate growth in production from offshore federal leases."

From the legal and engineering committee came a suggestion that TIPRO back a proposed amendment to the Texas Common Purchaser Act "which would require any common purchaser-common carrier serving an area to take a ratable part of the allowable of all crude oil tendered to it, thereby avoiding discrimination between producers."

J. D. Tompkins of Abilene, John Ben Shepperd of Odessa and Lee Jones Jr. of San Antonio head the legal and engineering group.

The conservation committee, with Walter Koch of Austin and Ed Kendall of San Antonio as chairmen, recommended that TIPRO prepare and offer the next legislature a pooling bill. Specific proposals have been under study of a special drafting subcommittee for months.

Gas committeemen proposed that TIPRO call on the Texas Railroad Commission to start exercising full authority to prorate all gas fields, adding that an adequate yardstick formula should be devised. This group's chairmen are Malcolm Abel, of Midland and H. D. Harkins of Alice.

Oil May Not Be An Issue

HOUSTON (AP) — Oil problems should not figure too prominently in a presidential campaign between President Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

Congressional records of both men, as members of the Senate, show almost identical roll call votes on major oil and gas problems.

Rep. William Miller, R-N.Y., Goldwater's vice presidential running mate, also cast favorable House votes on major oil issues in 1953 and 1955.

Johnson drew support from Goldwater when he guided the Submerged Lands Act through the Senate in 1953.

Goldwater also voted with Johnson when the then senior senator from Texas championed the controversial Harris - Fulbright natural gas bill on the Senate floor in 1956 after holding public hearings on it as a subcommittee chairman.

Both were with the majority in beating down Senate efforts to cut oil's 27½ per cent depletion tax allowance in 1958 and 1959. Goldwater was absent but had announced his position against a cut when Johnson made his final Senate defense of the depletion allowance in 1960.

Four more Senate floor amendments attacking oil's depletion tax have been defeated since Johnson was elected vice president —twice in 1962 and twice last Feb. 6. Goldwater was absent all four times but had announced his opposition each time.

The natural gas bill that both Johnson and Goldwater voted for on Feb. 6, 1956, was vetoed 11 days later by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

About two weeks before the final Senate action, however, Goldwater had told the Senate poor regulations at the municipal or distribution level were responsible for high gas prices that might exist in some areas.

"I have been unable to find one instance when the federal government came into the picture that the ultimate cost of the consumer did not increase," Goldwater said.

The Harris - Fulbright bill would have removed federal controls over wellhead prices of natural gas sold into interstate commerce. Former President Harry S. Truman vetoed a similar bill in 1950. Eisenhower blamed his 1956 veto on what he said was arrogant actions in behalf of the bill by a small segment of the gas industry.

The Submerged Lands Act supported by Johnson, Goldwater and Miller in 1953 recognized tidelands title claims to historic boundaries of the individual states. Miller also voted for the Harris - Fulbright bill when it received early House approval in 1955. There has been no House roll call vote on the depletion allowance, however, since Miller was elected to Congress in 1950.

Johnson also championed the 1955 legislation that led to the current mandatory program to control oil imports.

Scientists Attempt To Locate Energy

DALLAS (AP)— Scientists in the world's largest private fusion research program are trying to get energy equal to 350 gallons of high octane gasoline from a gallon of water.

No witchcraft or alchemy surrounds their efforts. The approach is pretty universal in the scientific world.

There is some mystery to the layman since on the rarefied scientific level on which the scientists work they can talk to each other only in mathematical formulas. Anything else is too primitive.

Ten Texas private electrical companies began the research in a hunt for cheaper electricity and a limitless source of power. Joined with them is General Dynamics Corp.

Their work in seven years has taken them into the world of plasma physics and into experiments with a bottle whose only sides are a magnetic field.

Plasma is a collection of atomic particles created when gases are heated to extremely high temperatures.

Nothing now recognized as a container will hold plasma. So a "bottle" has been created by a magnetic field.

The big trouble is that the bottle leaks easily and quickly. If it can be stabilized to hold the atomic particles long enough, a limitless source of energy may be harnessed.

The energy may be in the form of heat to turn turbines for electric generators. Or it may be used as a direct source of electric power.

"The possibilities of the force and application of the hydrogen atom are almost beyond comprehension," says John Hume, secretary and treasurer of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation, formed by the utility companies. "I think there is no question but that this is the most complex physics research attempt in the world today."

Fusion —the opposite of the fission reaction of the atomic bomb—is the collision and joining together of the atoms of such heavy hydrogen elements as deuterium, found in unlimited quantities in water in oceans, rivers and lakes. The uniting of the atoms releases tremendous energy.

The difficulty is that it takes some 400 million degrees of heat to make deuterium atoms smash together and fuse—a heat rivaling that at the center of the sun.

This heat, created with an electrical charge, vaporizes iron and tungsten and any other material which might otherwise make a container.

The problem is not unlike handling a very hot potato.

LAKE THOMAS

By MERRY JO BRIGHT

Shimmering like a jewel, an occasional tree forming the prongs of its simple setting, Lake J. B. Thomas spreads over Borden and Scurry counties—less than 50 miles from Big Spring.

The lake is owned and operated by the Colorado River Municipal Water District, an organization set up by special act of the Texas Legislature and encompasses the cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder. It was created as a water source for the cities, but in addition to this vital function, it has become a leading recreational center serving dry West Texas.

The dam was started in 1951 and closed early in 1953 but did not catch a volume of water until the autumn of that year. This is the eleventh year that it has been used for recreational purposes such as fishing, boating, swimming and water skiing.

When at capacity it has 12 square miles of surface area and 52 miles of shore line. The average depth is 24 feet, and the maximum depth of the lake in the channel at the dam is 90 feet. The present level is 10 feet below the spillway and the surface area a little over nine square miles.

Since 1954, the Texas Fish Hatchery has supplied 1,409,525 fish as stock. This includes bass, catfish, bream and crappie. Currently, the biggest catches are being made on bass, followed by channel cat.

There are several concession points for the convenience of weekend sportsmen and year-round residents. Equipment and food are available at Lake Thomas Lodge, Sportsman's Paradise, Lakeview Grocery, Shady Grove Grocery, Jenkins Grocery, Brown Grocery, Lem's Bait Shop and Boyd's Lodge.

Nearly a hundred families make permanent homes on the lake shore, and there are about 1,100 cabins used as part-time residences.

For a weekend away from home—only an hour's drive away—thousands of West Texans are finding Lake Thomas to be a pleasure playground.

MRS. JAMES ELTON NIPP

Nipp, Aton Wedding Solemnized Saturday

Wedding vows solemnized Saturday evening united in marriage Miss Sherry Lynn Aton and James Elton Nipp. Dr. R. Gage Lloyd read the double ring ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Aton, 2609 Rebecca, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Nipp, 1202 Main.

The altar was decorated with candelabra flanked by palms and baskets of white gladioli. White tapers nested in green plumosis fern were arranged on the altar rail which was draped with white satin ribbons and accented with large satin bows.

The bride was accompanied by her father down the aisle marked with white satin bows. As the couple knelt on a prie dieu, Mrs. Van Jones sang the "Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Mrs. Max Maguire at the organ. Other vocal selections were "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest."

The bridal gown of imported hand-woven brocade satin and tulle was fashioned with a fitted bodice and formal skirt interspersed with tulle gores. The tulle yoke of the semi-empire gown was edged with pearls, and the long fitted sleeves ended in petal points at the wrists. An elbow-length veil of illusion was attached to an organza and Alencon lace pillbox.

The bride carried a hand-styled bouquet of white feathered carnations and white orchids tied with satin ribbon.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Kay Aton served her sister as maid of honor. She was attired in a blue satin frock fashioned with a bell skirt and a short lace jacket of blue. She wore matching slippers and a satin headband with a lace veil.

Larry Gene Nipp, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were Gordon Morris, Billy Horne and Larry Jones.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a two-piece knit suit of light blue and white. She chose white accessories and the orchid corsage from the wedding bouquet to complete the costume.

Following the honeymoon, the couple will be at home at 1315 Wood.

The couple are 1964 graduates of Big Spring High School. She is employed at the First National Bank, and he is affiliated with Furr Foods.

RECEPTION

The bridal couple, their parents and the bridal attendants, received guests at a reception held in the church parlor following the ceremony.

The bride's table was laid with an organdy cloth tied with blue bows on the scalloped skirt. Silver candelabra decked with blue bows and the bride's bouquet decorated the table. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells and a crystal punch bowl completed the table appointments.

Mrs. Billy Horne, cousin of the bride, registered guests at a table centered with the attendant's bouquet. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Stasey, San Angelo, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Supulver, Midland.

House party attendants were Miss Linda McNew, and Wanda Boatler, cousins of the bride, Mrs. Jimmy Mays and Miss Patricia Stasey, San Angelo.

Residents Host Guests

FORSAN (SC)—Recent guests in the Gordon Hodnett home were Mrs. Hodnett's brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Buford Bishop, and their children, Cecilia, Sue, Danny and Sandy. The Bishops were en route home from a stay in Snyder and at Lake J. B. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Beckham, Connie and Hilton were visiting here from Austin with Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Barton and Van.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Hoard of Hobbs, N.M., were here to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoard Sr. The senior Mrs. Hoard was dismissed last week after surgery in Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital in Big Spring.

Joy Flynt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Flynt, has been dismissed from Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital.

Visiting this week with friends in Forsan were former residents, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Bills, now of Stephenville.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Swann is their niece, Joan Arnold, Sanford.

Pre-Nuptial Shower Fetes Miss Cutright

A pre-nuptial shower was held Friday evening honoring Miss Cheryl Gay Cutright. Mrs. Charley Kelly, 3227 Auburn, was hostess.

Assisting Mrs. Kelley were Mrs. Garland Conway, Mrs. H. D. McElrath, Mrs. O. B. Hughes, Mrs. Earl Plew, Mrs. Marvin Francis, Mrs. S. A. Lewis, Mrs. Ruben Englert, Mrs. Cecil Arnold, Mrs. James Banks, Miss Melba Burton and Mrs. W. A. Huse.

The honoree, attired in a blue sheath with white accessories, was presented a white carnation corsage and a bedspread by the hostesses.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of blue and white were used at the refreshment table. A white lace cloth covered the table and a wedding cake decked with a heart and wedding bells was in blue and white.

Approximately 25 guests attended. Out-of-town visitors were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. H. L. Ross, Baird; his sister, Mrs. Randall Capps, Abilene; Miss Katie Lou Walker, Baird; and Mrs. Dwight Mays, Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Cutright will marry Robert Malcolm Ross Aug. 21 at the Coahoma Church of Christ.

Bride-Elect Honored At Party

Miss Helen Hull, bride-elect of Airman 1.C. Benjamin F. Daughtery, was honored Thursday evening at a pre-nuptial shower. Mrs. W. T. Shockley was hostess.

Assisting Mrs. Shockley were Mrs. Maurice Chapman, Mrs. J. B. Shockley, Mrs. Lester Owens, Mrs. Mike Shockley, Mrs. Carlye Petty, Miss Mona Russell, Miss Judy Shockley, Mrs. Ira Dement and Mrs. Frank Goodman.

The honoree wore a white and navy silk suit with white accessories.

Refreshments were served to 40 guests at a table laid with a white crocheted cloth. Crystal and silver appointments were used, and a pink and white color scheme was used in the punch and cake.

The wedding will be an event of Aug. 8 in the Church of God. Following the ceremony they will reside in Reno, Nev., where he is stationed in the Air Force.

MRS. CARROLL E. STATON

Curley's Studio

Miss Brenda Dobbs Marries C. E. Staton

Miss Brenda Joyce Dobbs became the bride of Carroll E. Staton in a double ring ceremony performed Friday evening. The wedding was held in the First Baptist Church, Garden City.

The bridal couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dobbs, Rt. 2, and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Staton, Carlisle, Ark.

The Rev. D. D. Smith read the vows before an arch trimmed with greenery and ribbons and flanked by baskets of white gladioli. Twin candelabra with white tapers completed the altar decorations.

Mrs. Marck Schafer, Garden City, played traditional wedding music at the piano and accompanied the vocalist, Mrs. Jack Berry of Garden City, who sang "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full skirted ballerina - length gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice formed a V at the waistline, and was styled with a sweetheart neckline embroidered with seed pearls. She wore gauntlets of matching lace that came to a point at the wrist and a tiara of seed pearls and crystals attached to a shoulder-length veil of illusion.

BOUQUET

Her bridal bouquet of feathered carnations and chrysanthemums was showered with picot ribbons and carried atop a lace covered Bible.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Howard, Scott, Ark., served as best man and matron of honor. Mrs. Howard, sister of the bridegroom, was attired in a pale blue two-piece frock of lace and wore matching shoes. Tommy Dobbs, brother of the bride, and Bill Seal were ushers and lighted the altar tapers.

The bride attended Garden City School and was a member of Future Homemakers of America and the pep squad. She was a majorette and participated in sports. The bridegroom attended school in England, Ark., and Carlisle where he took part in the glee club, football, basketball and track. He was affiliated with the Future Farmers of America.

The couple will reside at 204 W. 12th. He is stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

RECEPTION

At the reception, held in the parsonage, guests were received by the bridal couple, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Bessie Dobbs of Megargel.

The bridal table was covered with a blue lace cloth over white and decorated with an arrangement of gladioli. The three-tiered wedding cake was adorned with roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Miss Linda Clements registered guests. Out-of-town visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dobbs, Paula and Patty of Winnsboro. Also, guests from St. Lawrence and Garden City attended.

House party members were Mrs. Jack Woodley, Miss Alice Hoelscher, Miss Sandra Seidenberger and Miss Carlita Ragland, Seymour.

MRS. FRANK PERRY

Mrs. Frank Perry, 1207 E. 18th, will start the fall club season as president of Alpha Chi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha. She has been a member of the club for two and a half years and served as recording secretary and as a member of the social committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry have two children. They are Henri Ann, 16, a junior in high school and Lance, 4. Perry is chief of planning and programming in the Civil Engineering Division at Webb Air Force Base.

The family came here 12 years ago. They are originally from Lamesa so have had no trouble adjusting to the climate of the area.

Henri Ann is planning to attend Howard County Junior College with a view to entering the secretarial field. Lance still does nothing but play. He prefers baseball so the rest of the family plays with him quite often.

Mrs. Perry likes to cook and has been sewing recently. She enjoys reading and accompanying her husband on fishing trips. However, she remains at home when he goes hunting. At one time she was a member of the Housewives' Bowling League.

The Perrys attend First Methodist Church and are members of the Couples Sunday school class.

Mexico Vacation Set By Marcums

Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Marcum and daughters, Kandy, Pamela and Erin, 1506 Dayton, will leave this week for a visit in Acapulco, Mex.

They have rented a bayside Villa for their two-week stay and will fish and swim from their own shore front. Dr. Marcum plans to do both deep-sea fishing and fresh water angling during the vacation.

Miss Linda Ranson Weds L. B. Lasater

LAMESA (SC)—Miss Linda Jean Ranson and Lesley Brent Lasater were united in marriage at 8 p.m. July 25 in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church here with Dr. Guy H. Ranson, uncle of the bride, officiating the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Ranson, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lasater of Gorman.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a full-length bridal gown of delustered satin. The scooped neckline, wrist-length sleeves and the train were accented with appliqued lace. Side pleats of the bell-shaped skirt and back fullness cascaded into a chapel train.

A teardrop crown of crystals enhanced her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

Mrs. John Dale Lewis and Mrs. Mike Jenkins served as matrons of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sue Shipp of Lamesa, Miss Merry Sue Howard of Poteet and Miss Suzie Wheat of Lubbock. Best man was Bill Spencer of Friona, and groomsmen were Tom Franklin of Poteet, Bill Blythe of Dumas, Fred Gray of Gorman and Jerry Tate of Abilene.

A wedding reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony.

Following a wedding trip the couple will make their home at 110 Church Street, Smyrna, Tenn. For traveling the bride wore a blue lace suit with white accessories. A corsage from her bridal bouquet completed her traveling ensemble.

The bride is a graduate of Lamesa High School and McMurry College. The bridgroom is a graduate of Gorman High and McMurry. The bridegroom is an officer at Stewart AFB, Tenn.

Group Named By Mrs. Coleman At HD Meeting

Mrs. Robert Coleman, president, named a nominating committee when the College Park Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Arthur Smith, 2400 Main. To serve on the committee are Mrs. Bill Bodin, Mrs. Nelson Ball and Mrs. John Birdwell. They will submit a proposed slate of officers who will be elected the first meeting in September.

The program for the remainder of the year was planned. Mrs. Paul Bruns was named program chairman and Mrs. Birdwell is the new parliamentarian.

Refreshments were served to five members and a guest, Mrs R. J. Smith of Belton, from a table covered with green linen and appointed with brown pottery.

The next meeting will be at the Birdwell home in Silver Heels when 4-H girls will present the program.

MR. AND MRS. R. C. SHAVER, MARK, SCOTT AND JILL

'Dirty Work' Traps R. C. Shaver Family

By JO BRIGHT

There's going to be "Dirty Work At The Crossroads"—and surprisingly—it involves a clean cut, All - American type couple, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shaver.

That's the name of the upcoming production by the Big Spring Little Theater, and the Shavers, strangers in town, walked right in—center stage—and captured the two plum roles.

"Rehearsals have begun," said Mrs. Shaver, "and we are all having fun with it."

That "all" means the rest of the family—three good-looking, precocious children, Mark, 12; Jill, 10; and Scott, 5. The youngsters can speak with authority of such things as grease-paint, props and cues but not because they have heard the theater jargon used by their parents. The youngsters are experienced actors.

Playing "people" is simple enough, but Mark had a rather challenging role when he portrayed a dog in "The Wizard of Oz."

FAMILY AFFAIR

"At first, I was the only one in the family interested enough in drama to accept roles in local productions," explained Mrs. Shaver. Dick thought I was being funny when I suggested he help out backstage, but we needed him and he did. By the time the show closed he was anxious to get started on the next one."

Mr. and Mrs. Shaver are natives of Akron, Ohio, which, Mrs. Shaver pointed out, is the home of the National Soap Box Derby. They met there while attending the University of Akron. He was a war veteran, majoring in chemistry, and she was an education major. They were married in her parent's home Aug. 17, 1949.

"I started teaching during Dick's senior year," continued Mrs. Shaver, "and have taught for eleven years, the last eight at third grade level."

Shaver is associated with the Sid Richardson Carbon Co., arriving here in April while the rest of the family remained in Akron until the school term ended. After acquiring a home, he sent an emissary back to Ohio—a horned toad named "Horace" who was a delight to the neighborhood children there.

The Shavers are vitally interested in so many things that they have never ended up in a rut. It's more of a groove. Shaver was active for 11 years in the Weathervane Community Playhouse and the Coach-House Theatre in Akron. During most of this time the others worked, too. If not acting, they helped construct sets, served in the stage crew or assisted with makeup or lighting. In college, he was a Phi Kappa Tau and is now a member of the American Chemical Society.

Mrs. Shaver belonged to the College Club and Zeta Tau Alpha sorority and her name is now on the rolls of the National Education Association. Thriving greenery about the home at 2713 Lynn attests to her gardening ability and she sews for herself and Jill when there is time. Before leaving Akron, she had "six or eight" art lessons and is completing an oil painting now.

EXACTING ARTIST

"It took me two hours one night just to put in some windows that satisfied me," she remarked a little ruefully. (It may be some time then before it graces a living room wall.)

Mark collects coins and golfs occasionally. He is an avid reader and prefers biographies or historical stories, but follows Tom Swift's adventures, too. Jill, also a coin collector, hopes to do children's theater work here. Both youngsters plan to participate in Scouting. Young Scott still spends his time collecting horned toads. He enjoys their company for a little while then sets them free less they end up like "Horace"—a victim of too much attention. Now the family pets are "Smudge," a Siamese cat, and "Gretel", a dachshund.

The Shavers like to refinish useful antiques. He has redone two rockers and she used her imagination to remodel an old desk which is used in their living room. The pretty chaise lounge was one they retrieved from a junk yard and had redone into a handsome piece.

The family has been attending Unitarian Fellowship in Midland and was active in the Unitarian - Universalist Church in Akron.

Webb Windsock

Dr. and Mrs. Alan Swearingen have recently returned from a 4,500 mile trip through the western states. They traveled with a couple from Waterloo, Iowa, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Spragg. Dr. and Mrs. Swearingen spent one week in Morton, Ill., with their parents before joining the Spraggses. The trip took the two couples to Utah, Nevada, Arizona and Colorado. Mrs. Swearingen spent three weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hess, and then was accompanied by her parents and a friend, Lynne Freeman, back to Webb.

Last week Lt. and Mrs. Kenneth Monroe were treated to an authentic Oriental dinner in the home of Lt. and Mrs. Steve Oka. The Okas are from Hawaii and were very helpful in showing Lt. and Mrs. Monroe how to eat with chopsticks.

Come take a jet to enjoyment! That is the way to go to the next all-day bridge. Play will begin promptly at 9 a.m. and last until 11:30 a.m. which will be the break for lunch. Play will begin again at 12:30 p.m. and last until approximately 3 p.m. Each person must bring her own partner. Reservations must be made, so call Mrs. Kenneth Monroe at AM 3-6185. There will be cash prizes, door prizes and travel prizes in each section—beginner, intermediate and advanced. The bridge is being sponsored by the students wives which means that each class will have some part in the arrangements. Bring your partner and be at the Fireplace Room at 9 a.m. and win 500 points for being on time.

Capt. and Mrs. Ron Storz have as a guest, Miss Maxine Storz, Capt. Storz's sister. Miss Storz is from Long Island, N. Y.

Tuesday, Mrs. Dave Glasser was hostess for two tables of bridge. High score was won by Mrs. Charles Beck, second with Mrs. Kenneth Monroe and low was Mrs. Tom Hensley.

Friday evening Lt. Kent Schneider and Lt. Sammye Hubbard were dinner guests in the home of Lt. and Mrs. Kenneth Monroe.

Tuesday, July 28, there will be a Flag Tournament at 8:30 a.m. followed by luncheon at the golf clubhouse. Luncheon will be at 12 noon. Reservations may be made by signing the list at the clubhouse or phoning AM 4-4813. Reservations must be made by noon Monday, July 27. Plan to attend.

The bridge lessons are continuing at 9:30 o'clock each Tuesday morning. If you know how to play and would like to brush up and improve your game, please attend.

Workers Take Summer Trips

Vacation season has Cosdenites traveling in all directions, enjoying their holidays.

The Warden Mayes family is off to cool Colorado for a week of fishing and relaxation.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Brown and Ronnie have returned from East Texas and Houston, where they visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Casburn.

Fishing at Devil's Lake next week will entertain the O. C. Mason family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy, accompanied by her sisters, Virginia and Delores McKee, are headed for Colorado and New Mexico for a week in Denver, Culver Springs and Albuquerque.

E. J. Russell and family will spend their two weeks visiting friends and relatives in Amarillo.

The vacation itinerary for the Richard Grimes family includes Yellowstone National Park and Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Harvell enjoyed last weekend in Abilene. He and other members of the Hoyle Nix Band visited the Bob Wills bandsmen.

Mrs. J. M. Stanley of Winters is the guest of her son and family, the Delbert Stanleys. A Stanley reunion was planned for this weekend at Lake J. B. Thomas.

Mrs. George Grimes is resting well after a heart attack last weekend. She is in Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital.

T. A. Harris Jr. has been on two weeks of National Guard duty at Fort Hood.

Otto Peters Sr. and the Otto Peters Jr. family have as guests their son and brother, Huff Peters, and family from Tulsa, Okla. They have spent part of this week fishing at Lake Colorado City.

Mrs. Jack Alexander is convalescing in Temple at Scott and White Hospital after having undergone major surgery Tuesday. She will remain there for an extended period.

Mrs. Wayne Vaughn was to have undergone surgery Friday morning in Dallas at Gaston Avenue Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Randle left Thursday night for a weekend in Santa Fe and Taos. They planned to see one of the operas produced by the Santa Fe Opera Association. For the return trip they will be accompanied by Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach, who has been visiting in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gulley left Saturday to collect their children. Barney has been attending Presbyterian Church camp near San Saba and Mary Jane has been at Camp Boothe Oaks near Sweetwater.

Say Goodbyes

Friends gathered Friday evening in the Blue Room at Cosden Country Club for a farewell party honoring Maj. and Mrs. Eugene Schuster. The Schusters will leave Saturday morning for his new station at Chanute Air Force Base in Illinois. Maj. Schuster has been assistant training officer of the Air Force ROTC at Webb. Sixteen persons attended the dinner affair.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Summer trips continue to interest our people—some are small and others take our people around the world but no matter where they go it's fun and fine for a while, then it's good to get back to the old stomping ground.

* * *

Today young RAY TOLLETT, 15, is on the Island of Hong Kong and it's busy capital, Victoria. This is one of the stops on the around-the-world trip he is taking with the Porter Randall Adventure Tour. Last Sunday he talked to his mother, MRS. RAYMOND TOLLETT, from Honolulu, and he was fascinated with the islands but a little put out with the 75 cent price of soft drinks. Since leaving Hawaii he has been in Hokyo, Yokohama, Numazu, Kyoto, Nara and Osaka. There was time to visit all the places of interest in the old cities.

When the tour leaves Hong Kong they will go to Bangkok and Singapore where they will spend several days touring the area and seeing all the interesting temples and take a view of the city from the "Gap." They will have an overnight stop in Calcutta then proceed to Darjeeling, the "hill station" high in the Himalayas. At one point the tourists will get an early morning view of the sunrise over Mount Everest. On August 11 there will be a tour of the Ganges River and the temples lining the banks; afterwards they will depart for Agra where they will view the fabled Taj Mahal of Shah Jehan. An elephant ride is in store for the group when they go to Amber Fort.

Two days will be spent in Delhi and later they will see New Delhi before going to Tehran and Beirut. From the latter city they will go to Athens visiting numerous buildings of historical importance. The tour arrives in Rome on August 24 and will remain there until the morning of the 28th when they depart at 10:20 a.m. for New York and will arrive there at 4 p.m. Some of the group plan to remain there for the fair and others will leave New York at 7:50 p.m.

* * *

MRS. C. A. JONES has gone to Trinidad, Colo., to be with her mother, MRS. MARY ABDOU, who is ill. During the past week the Joneses entertained long-time friends, MR. and MRS. ELMER HOWARD, who spent three days here en route to Corpus Christi. The Howards live in Pooleville, Okla.

* * *

JOE SMITH left Friday for Ozan, Ark., where he will spend the remainder of the summer with his uncle, HOWARD SMITH, at his ranch.

* * *

MRS. CLEVELAND L. PUCKETT and her children, Steven and Linda, of Ann Arbor, Mich., have arrived for a three week visit with her parents, MR. and MRS. H. W. SMITH.

Other grandchildren of the Smiths, Jack, Clem and Lesley Howell, who have spent the greater part of June and July here, have gone to Amarillo to join their parents, DR. and MRS. FRANK HOWELL, who have just recently moved to the Panhandle city. Dr. Howell has joined Drs. Streit and Murphy in practice. The home address is 6210 Dreyfuss Rd.

* * *

A Texas-sized post card came from the BROWN ROGERS who are enjoying a visit in San Antonio. They have been sightseeing at the Alamo, the Spanish governor's palace and other points of historical interest. They also have a trip through the capitol building planned.

* * *

Nassau was the vacation spot for MR. and MRS. DAVID HODNETT who returned here early Wednesday from a fabulous week of fun. They had flown from Dallas on a chartered plane filled with winners in a contest sponsored by the Chevrolet people.

Among the many who were on board were former Big Springers, MR. and MRS. RAY ADAMS, of Dallas. The group went from Dallas to New York where they spent a day and a half at the World's Fair and especially enjoyed the Bell Telephone, General Motors and General Electric exhibits. They were feted with a Hawaiian luau at the Hawaiian pavilion and learned how to eat poi. Another enjoyable trip was the one by boat around Manhattan Island.

Nothing on the trip compared to their stay in Nassau. Here the climate was wonderful, the food was good and the people were very friendly. Also, they visited in the home of MR. and MRS. DARRELL D. WARREN who are cousins of John Gary of Big Spring. Warren is head customs official at Nassau but plans to leave the Bahamas and come to Dallas at the end of July in order to place his children in American schools. Also, the Hodnetts met a cousin of JOHN COLE. He was the desk clerk at their hotel but they never learned any more of his name than Buddy.

In addition to the beauty of the island, the group had a fine time on the sea garden trip which is made on a glass bottom boat. Of special interest were the wood carving shops that provided lots of take home gifts.

Mrs. Hodnett is learning about curing out starfish and cock shells. She has decided on the quick boil method which the salesman suggested. When the shells are cured she plans to lacquer them in order to retain the pretty color of the pretties that will be a pleasant reminder of their trip to Nassau.

* * *

MR. and MRS. MILLER HARRIS are in Durango, Colo., where they will spend several days before continuing on their trip which will take them to Lakewood, Calif., where they will visit their son and his family, MR. and MRS. JIMMY HARRIS.

Old Cook Book Holds Key To Homemaking

By MARY COCHRAN

Grandmother's cook book was not an illustrated journal on foods with lots of pretty pictures and step-by-step illustrations. It was the family friend and guide. She turned to it in times of sickness, when household hints were needed for washing feathers, mending a cement crack in the floor, or making soap.

When she needed a recipe for preparing beef, there were instructions detailing steps from hoof to cooking pot. If there were time for feminine vanity, she could find a recipe for cologne or a method to increase the hair in the brows. She could learn how to make her own dyes for food or clothing as well as small points on table etiquette.

Mrs. Robert H. Hartzog, 76-A Ent, is the proud possessor of the White House Cook Book, first published in 1887 and dedicated to "The wives of our presidents, those noble women who have graced the White House, and whose names and memories are dear to all Americans." Mrs. Hartzog's copy was published in 1915 and contains many items that never appear in any modern cookbook.

MARTHA HARTZOG

GOOD MEDICINES

She took the book to several doctors to find out about the medicines and remedies outlined in the book and was told that the ingredients actually paralleled the modern medicines we buy in pill or liquid form today. Of course, many of the procedures have changed in certain treatments.

If grandma's children took a cold or were hoarse, they could dissolve a lump of borax, the size of a pea on the back of their tongue or cover their chest with a flannel dipped in boiling water and sprinkled with turpentine.

For the children that were too lean, they were urged to get rest, plenty of water, eat oatmeal, apples and beef, cultivate jolly people and bathe daily.

Black pepper and sweet oil on a piece of cotton batting placed in the ear was good for ear ache. If one of the family was wounded, the bleeding could be stopped by covering with brown wrapping paper. A deep cut was treated by pressure on the artery but it was also recommended that cobwebs and brown sugar on a cut would help stop the flow of blood. The final treatment was arnica or laudanum.

The white of an egg, a tablespoon of vinegar and a tablespoonful of spirits of turpentine was the mixture for applying to severe sprains.

ETIQUETTE

Not only did grandmother have access to a glossary on French words, but she had table manners detailed. She was warned not to use the affected way of holding the knife halfway down its length as if it were too big for her little hands, and was told it looked awkward and weak.

Her face powder could be made of a quarter of a pound of wheat starch with eight drops of oil of rose, 30 drops of oil of lemon and 15 drops of bergamot.

Her tooth powder was prepared chalk, powdered myrrh, camphor, orris root and alcohol.

For dying cloth, the women of yesteryear could find the exact recipe for many shades and details for dying either silk, woolen or cotton.

She didn't have access to foods that were pre-packaged or meats in cellophane wrap, but she had all the instructions for preparing mouth-watering foods and how to make the initial steps in getting them ready for the cook pot.

Her cook book was her constant reference guide and the mentor of her homemaking art.

Lake Party Marks 40th Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. Lad Cauble, 800 Johnson, are being honored today on their 40th wedding anniversary at the family cabin at Lake Thomas. Hosts for the event will be their three children, Richard, Jack and Mrs. Charles Hood.

A barbecue will be served to family members, which will include their four grandchildren and friends. Fishing and boating will be a part of the day's celebration.

The Caubles operate a cleaning and pressing plant at 206 E. 2nd., and spend their spare time fishing and bowling. Mrs. Cauble rates as one of the high-average bowlers in the city and her husband is her most avid fan.

On July 24, 1924, Miss Olive Rogers and Lad Cauble were secretly married in Quincy, Ill., while he was serving as a musician in a vaudeville troup in Terre Haute, Ind.

En route home they were stopped by a sheriff on orders from the young bride's father. After Rogers relented and asked that they be released, the couple was allowed to go if Cauble would prove to the amused sheriff his ability at playing the violin. The law officer liked what he heard and sent them on their way with good wishes. Cauble can still play that song on that same violin.

MR. AND MRS. LAD CAUBLE

With the exception of 18 months spent in Plainview and Carlsbad, N.M., the Caubles have spent their married life in Big Spring.

Travelers Entertained In Forsan

FORSAN (SC)—Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cardwell are their grandchildren, Beverly and Karen Breithaupt of Odessa. Mrs. Cardwell's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Edens, of Dallas are here for the weekend.

Mrs. George Abee and Glenda of Andrews were here to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Howard.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Strickland and Marie have been Mrs. Albert Strickland and Norma of Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Jones were in Kermit to visit a son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hood Jones and daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Craig were in Andrews to visit Mr. and Mrs. Bob Baker and children.

Hubert Bardwell recently visited with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. King and Harry at Mercury.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Klahr and children of Eunice, N.M., have visited here with his father, F. J. Klahr and Jeannie.

Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr., 1200 W. 16th, honored the Philathea Sunday school class of the First Methodist Church with a Saturday morning coffee in her home.

Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. J. B. Apple. The guest list included the 100 members in the class of which Mrs. Stripling is currently serving as president.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Rogers Hefley, Mrs. Merle Stewart, Mrs. Robert Strickland and Mrs. L. B. Maulden from a table covered with a white linen cloth. The centerpiece was a hollow watermelon filled with fresh fruit and surrounded by hibiscus blooms.

Other flowers included roses and white chrysanthemums in arrangements in the living room.

Map Plan For Home Landscape

If you're going to build this summer, don't put it all in the house. Leave something over for landscaping.

A modest investment in a sound landscaping plan at the outset will grow into a major asset over a 10-year period and set your house apart in a way you'll be proud of.

You needn't wait until the house is complete. Even while it is still in the planning stage, a landscape artist can be tremendously helpful in assuring the best eventual use of your land. Then later, working with your architect or builder, he can create outdoor areas to complement the rooms and give you the added living space that is so important during the warm months of the year.

A paved patio or terrace should be a part of the original house plan to be sure it is properly related to living and dining areas. A small structural change, like shifting a door or substituting a sliding glass panel for a window, will cost little or nothing if planned early but a great deal if neglected until the house is finished.

TRAVEL TALK

South America Offers Much

By HULIN FOWLER

West Texans are missing a good travel bargain in South America and, being nearer, they can travel more economically then their neighbors to the north and east.

South America, as yet relatively undiscovered by the American tourist, offers fabulous sightseeing. Accommodations are mostly European-style and more economical than on the Continent.

Travelers are usually pleased to find that service and customs of the Old World prevail in most hotels and restaurants.

Contrary to popular belief, you are not placing your life—or your digestive tract—on the line when you travel south. Water is safe in large cities and resorts, and good bottled mineral waters are available everywhere.

Excellent restaurants are available. The continental style of the culinary arts prevails, but American food is popular. In Argentina and Brazil, big beef countries, you can get an excellent filet mignon with potatoes and heart of palm salad at about one third of the cost in this country.

Breakfasts are both continental and interesting. A typical breakfast in Rio de Janeiro will consist of a pot of strong, fresh coffee, slices of watermelon and fresh pineapple, a slice of papaya and French bread.

In comparison to European travel you are "roughing it" a bit in South America but there are sights unequaled on any other continent.

Leaving Miami by jet you are on about a nine hour flight to the furthermost tip of the continent. Let's take it easy, and stop over in Panama for a camera at considerable savings and some souvenirs. Don't try to buy a "Panama" hat, though. They are produced only in Ecuador.

It's just a short hop on to Lima, Peru, where you may want to stop over for some famous pisco sours, Spanish-Indian type cooking and visits to the famed Inca ruins before going on to Brazil.

Now on one of the most beautiful jet flights in the world, you will enjoy the towering Andes, which you can see easily from the air. You will fly over Lake Titicaca, on the Bolivia-Peru border, which is, at 12,500 feet, the highest lake in the world. You will also cross over La Paz, the Bolivian capital which, at 13,358 feet, has one of the highest airports in the world.

In Brazil you stay in a luxurious hotel right on Rio's famed Copacabana Beach before going on to Brasilia, the new and ultra-modern capital. Then turn south again to Sao Paulo, the great industrial city, and Santos, famed coffee port, which has some of the most beautiful beaches in the world.

In southern Brazil, you will stop at a first class hotel near the majestic Iguassu Falls, one of the natural wonders of the world. Then you are off to Uruguay, most advanced country on the continent, and the beautiful beach at Montevideo, the capital city.

By now you are on your way to Buenos Aires, sophisticated capital of Argentina and largest city in South America. The hotels, shops, public buildings and subways are the ultimate in progress.

On the return flight to the States, you will take along with you wonderful memories and the wish to come back someday to these marvelous countries of Latin America.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SECTION D — BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JULY 26, 1964 — SECTION D

Home-Grown Firm Adds To Booming Development

Expanding what is already a booming business-industrial development nearing the half-million-dollar annual volume mark, Prestige Aluminum, Inc., is the newest addition to a corporate structure which began as an off-hours investment by a Howard County Junior College teacher.

Prestige Aluminum, Inc., was founded through the efforts of George McAlister Jr., whose idea for manufacture of instructional aids for math teachers was the basis for GAMCO, Inc., and Math-Master Labs, Inc. McAlister started production of graph chalkboards in his garage some nine years ago.

Formed in February, the new company can handle production of some 2,000 doors and 8,000 windows a month. Some 50,000 pounds of aluminum a month will be involved when the plant is in full operation.

By August or sooner, Prestige Aluminum will begin shipping doors and windows into the Dallas-Fort Worth area, in addition to shipments already beginning to California.

Last month the new company was joined by formation of a subsidiary, Prestige Aluminum, Inc., of California, which is 80 per cent owned by the local company.

Prestige Aluminum is beginning its Big Spring operation with production of patio doors and horizontal sliding windows for homes, but other architectural designs including single-hung windows and store fronts are already on the company's drawing boards.

The aluminum operation is housed in an 11,500-square-foot structure adjacent to the GAMCO, Inc., building. The modern air filtering system will keep the Prestige Aluminum production line clean and neat throughout operations.

Aluminum is purchased from Texas Aluminum Co. in Rockwall. Production facilities here include five punch presses and two steel saws, with the aluminum going through a cutting process prior to being punched for later assembly. The aluminum is cast from among some 86 dies maintained for the Big Spring company.

The aluminum door material is annodized—it will not tarnish. The firm's first operations involve shipments to the West Coast company of unassembled doors and windows, where the subsidiary operation will assemble them, putting in glass and installing the finished products in homes in the Los Angeles area.

While no glass installation, or glazing, operations are being carried out in the Big Spring plant now, plans include possible initiation of the process here in September or October.

While present customers need only the finished aluminum materials for assembly of windows and doors, Art Graves, vice president for sales, pointed out that future customers will probably require fully assembled windows and doors.

The West Coast operation will consume the majority of present production, with additional shipments going to West Texas cities as well as later to the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Future plans include expansion into a national marketing program, Graves said.

The initiation of glazing operations will require purchasing of bulk glass quantities, Graves said, plus possible expansion of the 11,500-square-foot plant for the added production area. The assembly of glass into the aluminum frames, or glazing, is primarily a labor operation, Graves said, with the major capital expense of the Prestige facility involved in the purchase of the punch presses.

The punch presses now include five and eight ton pressure equipment, with about 25 dies, allowing interchangeable production.

The aluminum is purchased in economical cutting lengths of about 18 to 24 feet, Graves said. It is stamped on four presses at the Texas Aluminum Co. in Rockwall, ranging in size from 850-ton-pressure capacity to 2,500-ton.

While the present operation involves sale of semi-finished products for later assembly, the installation of assembly operations here would make available a finished product, ready for installation in homes or businesses, Graves said.

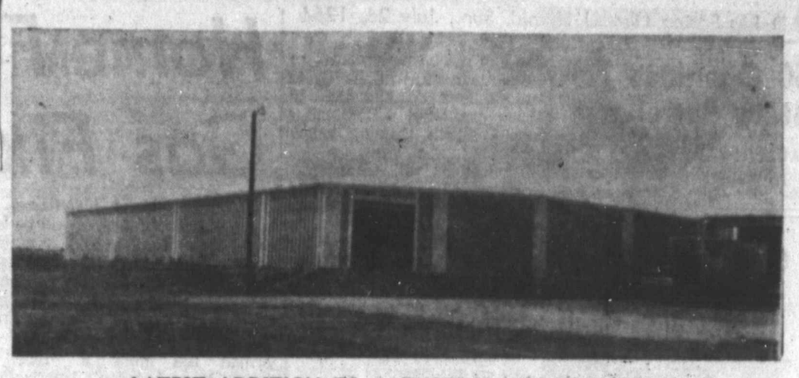
The operation may in time be expanded into production of aluminum products for schools, offices and commercial buildings, Graves pointed out.

GUIDED TOURS SCHEDULED MONDAY OF NEW ADDITION

Visitors will have an opportunity to take a guided tour of Big Spring's newest industrial development Monday.

An open house—1:30-3:30 p.m.—is planned at the Prestige Aluminum, Inc., plant northeast of Big Spring on the Snyder Highway. The plant, completed recently, contains 11,500 square feet.

Officials of the company will conduct tours to explain the operation. Members of the Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors Club will cut a ribbon formally opening the new plant, which is adjacent to the Math-Master Labs, Inc., and GAMCO, Inc., plants.



LATEST ADDITION TO A THREE-PLANT OPERATION
The new Prestige Aluminum, Inc., plant contains some 11,500 square feet

Prestige Aluminun Joins Expanding Industry Here

The formation of Prestige Aluminum, Inc., puts the third company into the expanding operation northeast of Big Spring already including GAMCO, Inc., and Math-Master Labs, Inc.

The total operation of the three companies now involves some 40,000 square feet of floor space and about 35 employes.

In addition, the aluminum operation includes a subsidiary company, Prestige Aluminum, Inc., of California, 80 per cent owned by the Big Spring company.

And although each of the three local companies are separate corporations, they share facilities for accounting, shipping and secretarial help. The same board of directors oversees all three operations.

The new company was acquired for Big Spring when George McAlister Jr., president of GAMCO, Inc., and Math-Master Labs, Inc., learned that a friend, Arthur A. Graves of Dallas, was planning to start a door and window operation in the Fort Worth-Dallas area. Graves had been associated with a major aluminum door and window company as sales manager.

"As I had known this young man for some time and admired his ability in sales know-how and because I was interested in furthering industrial developments in my own city, I immediately expressed an interest in trying to obtain this new business venture for Big Spring," McAlister said.

In January he called a meeting of the principal stockholders of Math-Master Labs, Inc., and GAMCO, Inc., and discussed his plan to acquire the business, estimating the capital needed to get it under way here. With authorization from the stockholders to proceed with preparation of a definite plan of organization for presentation to Graves, McAlister began efforts to acquire the company.

After several business meetings, McAlister and Graves agreed on terms and on Feb. 21, 1964, Prestige Aluminum, Inc., was chartered.

Construction then began on a building and purchases began of necessary tools and equipment for production of aluminum doors and windows.

The original plans included opening a West Coast operation under supervision of Keith Ward of Fullerton, Calif. Ward operates 12 trucks with 12 installation crews in the Los Angeles area, installing about 1,000 patio doors and 8,000 windows each month.

During June, the formation was carried out, with organization of a new corporation, Prestige Aluminum, Inc., of California. Ward is general manager of the firm, located at 1057 South Leslie Street, LaHabre, Calif. The building occupies some 11,000 square feet of floor space.

The Big Spring operation will ship unassembled doors and windows to LaHabre, where the California facility will assemble them with glass and install them in residential homes in the Los Angeles area.

Ward will sell directly to the general contractor and install all windows and patio doors in the homes contracted for, McAlister pointed out. The California operation will contract for 80 to 100 homes at a time in this manner.

Officers of Prestige Aluminum, Inc., are McAlister, president; Harold L. Davis, vice president; R. Clyde Hollingsworth, secretary - treasurer; and Graves, vice president in charge of sales. Graves will move to Big Spring from Dallas during August.

Stockholders of the company include McAlister, Davis, Graves, Hollingsworth, Math-Master, Inc., GAMCO, Inc., Joe A. Moss, Larson Lloyd, Horace Garrett, R. L. Tollett, J. Y. Robb, Hayes Stripling Jr., and R. W. Whipkey.

Home Features Gas Fixtures

An early-Colonial blue-flame home at 2903 MacAuslan will be on display from 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday for interested residents. The display is jointly sponsored by Robert Heinze, builder, and Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Spokesmen for Pioneer termed the home a "blue flame" home because all major appliances are gas-operated, including the air conditioning.

A spacious abode, the home rests atop a hillside and includes a large patio and double garage. Sliding glass doors which open onto the patio afford a panoramic view of the city below.

Heinze, in constructing another "picture book" home, included three carpeted bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen, den, and two baths. The spacious den has flagstone flooring as does the entrance hall. There are bookshelves and a fireplace on one wall of the den, and this room has ceiling-high paneling. The outside exterior of the house is red brick and white trim.

The first thing visitors to the house will notice is the gas lights in the yard. Other gas-operated appliances include a hot water heater, broiler, heating and cooling unit, automatic range and bathroom heater.

The public is invited to attend the open house and inspect the house with its gas appliances. Visiting hours are from 1 p.m. through 6 p.m. Sunday.

$45,000 ANNUALLY

City's Light Bill Gives Protection

By PRESTON MAYNARD

A dark street and crime walk hand in hand. This is a theory behind planning of municipal street lighting programs.

A person who would commit a crime on a dark street many times will not do so on a well-lighted one, Police Chief Jay Banks said.

"Lighting of streets, alleys and business establishments makes a decided difference in the number and type of violations that occur," he said. "Lighting and the elimination of old, dilapidated buildings work toward the same end."

COSTS

It will cost about $1.40 per person in the city of Big Spring to finance the street lighting program this fiscal year. Total costs are estimated at $45,000.

This amount represents a $15,000 increase over the past four years in street lighting costs for the city. Budget estimates for 1960-61 were for $29,635.

In 1962, the city had 1,400 street lights, with a recent survey by city engineers showing 1,800 lights in operation. Increased cost for lights has been caused primarily by the increased numbers, according to Public Works Director Ernest Lillard.

A lesser factor has been the larger amount of current which is used by the mercury-vapor lights which are being installed in areas of the city such as Air Force Boulevard and Washington Place, in addition to the downtown section. Cost of operating the mercury - vapor lights averages about $3 per month. Cost for the older incandescent lamps is about $1.15 monthly.

PROTECTION

Each new light installed in the city results from a study made by city engineers, according to Lillard, in which a justification is made for the light as a contribution to traffic safety or crime prevention and protection of property.

"We're going to update the downtown lighting," Lillard said, "by installing additional high density or mercury-vapor lighting in the south portion of the central business section."

Locations have also been selected for installation of lights on Brent Street and in the Settles Heights addition, according to Lillard.

Part of the city's lighting needs involves gradual replacement of older types of lights by more modern ones.

Some of the older lights in the city provide about 1,250 to 2,100 lumen—or unit measures of light. More modern lights provide from 4,800 to 21,000 lumen.

"I came here in 1927 and they were in use then," R. L. Beale, division manager of Texas Electric Service Co., said of the older lights.

OLD TIME

"That kind of fixture came into being about the time the arc-light went out," he said.

Of about 550 of the older lights formerly in use in Big Spring, about half have been replaced, according to Beale. During 1963 some 150 of the lights were replaced, with about the same number of change-overs to be made during the current year.

Beale also pointed out that the company can only install lights in new locations when specifically requested to do so for locations selected by city engineers.

The city now has three main types of street lights, the older incandescent type which provides about 2,100 lumen, the newer residential type producing 4,800 to 6,000 lumen and the mercury-vapor lights which produce 19,000 to 21,000 lumen.

"Street lighting is important for many reasons," City Manager Larry Crow said. "It makes a major contribution to traffic safety, it reduces crime, and it creates a more attractive city."

TRAFFIC LIGHTS

A lesser cost to the city than the street lighting program is the operation of traffic signal lights. Cost of a three-face signal with time control is about $500, according to Lillard. Cost is higher when traffic actuation divides are included, which provide for light changes according to the density of traffic. The light currently being installed at NW Fifth and Gregg Streets will cost about $1,200. The installation includes two signal lights for each direction from which traffic approaches the intersection.

A traffic-actuated signal at Ridgeroad Drive and State Street will cost about $850 for materials, not including installation costs, Lillard said. Operational costs for a traffic signal light are nominal, he pointed out, with costs about similar to operation of an electric clock.

Sites for traffic lights are recommended by the traffic commission to the city commission for action. The 1964 - 65 budget estimates include $23,126 for traffic signal operation.

Few Delinquent Taxes Reported

Howard County taxpayers are most faithful in payment of their taxes, a check made by Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, has shown.

She has found that total delinquent taxes accumulated and unpaid on property in Howard County in the interval 1919 through 1963—45 years—is only $154,531.34. To this total can be added $31,812.73 taxes which have been declared delinquent in 1963. This brings the grand total to $175,849.52.

Divided by 46 years, the annual delinquent tax total for the county breaks down to $3,800 per year. This year, Mrs. LeFevre's office has collected $10,194.55 in delinquent taxes and the collections, she said, for the current year, are not unusually heavy.

The delinquent taxes on her books are due to the county, the state, Howard County Junior College and the common schools, Mrs. LeFevre pointed out.

| | |
|---|---|
| State | $31,622.30 |
| County | $72,502.75 |
| HCJC | $35,389.33 |
| Common schools | $15,016.96 |

To these totals must be added the 1963 delinquencies: State $5,576.75; county $15,060.30; HCJC $9,173.34; common schools $1,002.84: Total $31,812.73.

As of June 30 the state has $35,346.79; the county $83,059.30; HCJC $41,516.27; and the common schools $15,927.16 due in unpaid taxes. The total is $175,849.52.

County officials, including County Judge Lee Porter, expressed satisfaction at the exceptionally happy state of affairs in the delinquent tax department.

"I am surprised," said Porter, "to learn that the average delinquent taxes per year for that long span of time is so low. I think it reflects a healthy attitude on the part of the taxpayers of the county."

Defense Outlay Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee has recommended an outlay of $46.7 billion for defense for the fiscal year which began July 1. The Senate probably will consider the bill sometime next week. It accounts for almost half of all federal expenditures.

More Cadets Due Here For Training

The second contingent of Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets will arrive today at Webb Air Force Base for a four-week summer training period. More than 190 cadets will be in this complement. The first group was graduated earlier this month.

Commanded by Lt. Col. Bedford R. Underwood, the Summer Training Unit will provide the AFROTC cadets with practical experience in Air Force day-to-day operations.

Other officers reporting as cadre for the second unit are Lt. Col. Tyler B. Hunneycutt Jr., training officer; Lt. Col. Dewey S. McClellan, administrative officer; Major Jack B. Ford, commandant of cadets; Major Eugene N. Schuster, assistant training officer; Major John O. Canfield, personnel services officer; and 1st. Lt. Stephen Berry, supply officer.

After initial processing, the cadets will participate in the Royal Canadian Air Force basic exercise plan (5BX) which consists of a series of physical exercises designed to achieve and hold a high level of fitness.

Subsequent instruction over the four week period will include survival training, junior officer military training, aircraft and aircrew indoctrination, small arms familiarization, organizations and functions of an Air Force base, physiological indoctrination, demonstrations and field trips, military justice and physical training.

Emphasis during all phases of training will be placed upon high standards of military courtesy, discipline and Air Force procedures.

Pleads Guilty To 19 Cases

SNYDER — Horace D. Atkinson, 20, Big Spring, entered a plea of guilty in 132nd District Court to 19 cases of burglary Wednesday. He was assessed a nine-year prison sentence on each count, the sentences to run concurrently.

The cases involved thefts from cabins in and around Lake J. B. Thomas. Eight were filed in Scurry County and 11 in Borden County. Charges were brought against several individuals following cooperative investigation by officers from Scurry, Borden and Howard counties as well as Ranger John Wood.

MEN IN SERVICE

James D. L. Phillips, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest H. Phillips, 1201 Mulberry, Big Spring, is serving aboard the Navy radar picket destroyer USS Frank Knox, operating out of Long Beach, Calif. The Knox is equipped with the latest radar and is designed for the detection of the approach of enemy aircraft.

Terry W. Lewis, son of James G. Lewis, 702 Marcy Drive, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army after being graduated from the Officer Candidate School at the Army Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla., July 21.

During the 23-week course Lt. Lewis received instruction in such subjects as communications, electronics, combined arms tactics and map and aerial-photo reading. The 21-year-old officer entered the Army in December, 1962 and was last stationed at Fort Sill, Okla.

He was graduated from Big Spring High School in 1960.

* * *

Thomas A. Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Grant, Box 5, Coahoma is the hundredth local man in 14 months to be enlisted in the U.S. Army by Sgt. Raymond J. Wolverton, local Army recruiter.

Grant has enlisted for three years and has reported to Fort Polk, La., for initial processing and eight weeks of basic combat training. When he completes his basic, he will return home for a short leave before attending his advanced individual training.

THOMAS A. GRANT

He graduated from Big Spring High School in 1963 and attended Howard County Junior College for one year. He was employed by the Big Spring Herald prior to his enlistment.

A Devotional For The Day

Ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart. (Jeremiah 29:13.)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee that through prayer we can find Thee and that we can have a living, growing fellowship with Thee. Grant that we may grow to know Thee better and love Thee more. In the name of Thy Son. Amen.

Violence Won't Do

The spectacle of riots in Harlem and Brooklyn have borne out what many from the hinterlands have been predicting, namely that no one section of the country has a monopoly on difficulties arising out of the race upheavals.

It makes no difference where the disorder occurs—New York of San Augustine, Brooklyn or Cambridge—it is still an ugly situation. And one is no more excusable than the other because it may be one color or another.

Officials are justified in dealing positively and forcefully with these outbreaks. Individuals have a right to different viewpoints and reactions; they do not have the right to provoke or participate in violent, lawless acts.

Three decades ago many nations agreed to renounce war as an instrument of national policy. There is now a need for understanding that violence will not do—indeed will not be permitted or condoned—as an instrument of action. This is the attitude of the overwhelming majority of the public, and force of opinion must also be directed against those who make open or veiled threats of violence.

Reminders And Inspirations

When old timers met here Friday, a check during the morning revealed that 1890 was the earliest date when any of those present arrived in Big Spring. That's 74 years ago—and a mighty, mighty long time.

Yet, not so many years ago there were many who had come in the 1880's, some right at the start of the decade when Big Spring came into being. Most if not all of them are now gone. Each year sees a further thinning of the ranks.

This is inevitable; but it is not unavoidable that reminders of their contribution should pass with them. There ought to be some means of preserving the stories of these good people whose vision, hard work and faith changed this area from open range land to one of a prospering, varied economy. In many of these families are priceless photographs of the early days, and of landmarks in our economic and civic development. There are family and other records which are historically important. There are clothes of half and three-quarters of a century ago, tools, household items, etc. All of these would serve as reminders of our heritage and of past accomplishments as well as an inspiration to our generation.

One naturally thinks of a local museum. We have had some experience in this field, since our community was one of the first to attempt it. One of the foremost problems is that of a place; the other is arrangements for continued maintenance and operation. Perhaps someone or some group would want to provide a building designed specifically for this purpose and also a local historical library. This being the case, perhaps some agency, such as the college, could make it a part of its mission and service to the community.

Khrushchev's Navy

WASHINGTON — The date is July 26th any year. The place is Leningrad. The occasion Soviet Navy Day. The Neva River is packed with sleek gray ships flying the white and blue ensign with red star, hammer and sickle. Holiday crowds line the old embankments and bridges. Patriotic banners hang from lamp posts and public buildings.

THIS DAY—always the last Sunday in July—is set aside by the Russians to honor their navy, now the second largest in the world.

For the U.S.S.R. sea power is not the primary security requirement. Supremacy on the land is more important. Sea power is getting increased attention in Moscow however.

CONSIDER THE geography of the Soviet Union. It occupies the greater part of the Eurasian land mass, but expansion to the west is blocked by the thriving West European countries protected by U. S. nuclear power. Eastward expansion meets American forces in Alaska. The Soviets have looked south for new fields to conquer—mostly to lands across oceans. India, Indonesia, Egypt, Algeria, and Cuba have been the prime targets for Soviet penetration. Each of these countries commands important sea routes.

INDIA, WHICH receives more Soviet economic aid than any other country, dominates the Indian Ocean. Soviet military aid to India totals $130 million.

Indonesia fronts on the strategic Malacca and Sunda Straits. It has received more Soviet military aid than any other non-Communist country, including jet bombers, submarines, destroyers and a cruiser.

EGYPT, which controls the Suez Canal, has received $1.3 billion from the U.S.S.R.

Algeria has a coast near the western entrance to the Mediterranean Sea which is to be the site for a Soviet submarine base, according to an article in the French newspaper Figaro. Algeria recently got $126.5 million Russian loan.

CUBA FRONTS on the Florida Strait and the Windward Passage, entrances to the Caribbean Sea. Cuba reportedly costs Big Brother one million dollars a day.

Soviet and Communist interest in sea power has been shown by:

1. The sinking of the United States Aircraft Transport Card in Saigon Harbor in May.

2. Increased Soviet fishing off the New England Coast this summer.

3. Increased Soviet merchant ship construction.

4. PROTESTS against a U.S. Navy cruise to the Indian Ocean in April and May.

5. Development of a new ground-effects craft called Raduga (Rainbow), a photograph of which appeared in Pravda on June 3. The Raduga may be the civilian version of an amphibious vessel already in service in the navy.

THE RUSSIANS seem to be using sea power more and more to support what they call the "national liberation movement." This neutralist, anti-American, or pro-Soviet cause has the long-range goal of drawing the underdeveloped nations into Moscow's orbit.

The Soviets have put billions of rubles into the "national liberation movement." Whether or not they will collect on their over-seas investment will depend to a large extent on their sea power.

Billy Graham

Will you please explain the various translations of the Bible?

I. A.

There are many translations of the Bible, both the Old and New Testaments. The Old Testament was originally written in Hebrew, and the New Testament in Greek. All of our translations are derived from these. Each translation has its merit and each one has been criticized in its time. Each national language has the Bible in its own tongue, excpet some of the tribal groups of retarded nations.

The King James Version is most widely accepted by English speaking people and possesses a beauty of expression seldom rivalled. Read Psalm 23 and John 13. Your heart will be warmed and comforted when you do. Then read Romans chapter five in a modern translation such as Phillips or Williams and you will feel the Bible is a contemporary book. Get a copy of the Amplified New Testament and read John, chapter three and Romans chapter eight. You will find it slow reading but the meaning of the text becomes very clear.

But whatever version you read, read prayerfully asking God to enlighten your mind and heart to receive the truth.

Business, Diplomacy Wonder About Election

WASHINGTON—Like fate in a Greek drama, the Goldwater phenomenon hangs over world politics and economics. And the denouement—like the shoe of the man in the apartment above—won't drop till November 3.

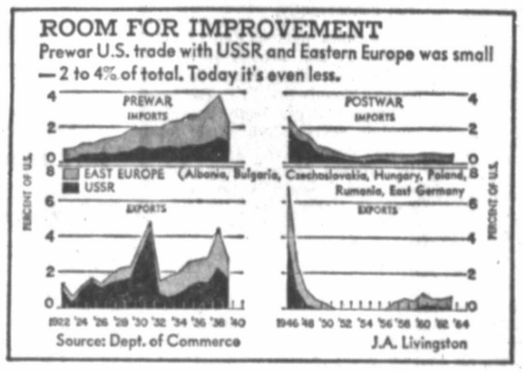
The Republican nominee, Sen. Goldwater, is a threat to continuity. Even some Republican businessmen have misgivings. They know their way around the Washington bureaucracy, represented as they are by lawyers, public relations men and trade associations. So they're not afraid of Big, Bad Government, the fount of many profitable contracts. Those who derive comfort from big government won't relish the "least government" as the best government.

IN DIPLOMATIC circles, the nomination is equally traumatic. One question dominates the thinking of foreign diplomats—both Western and Communist. "If Mr. Goldwater is elected, won't that change everything?"

In the State Department, uncertainty is openly expressed. Will the subtle, complex policy to combat communism be abandoned if Sen. Goldwater becomes President?

SECRETARY OF State Rusk explained this policy in a brilliantly - clear address to the AFL - CIO Electrical Workers' Union in February, "Why We Treat Different Communist Countries Differently." For example, we grant most-favored-nation tariff rates to Poland and Yugoslavia so as to lessen their economic dependence on Moscow. We also grant them credit. But most-favored-nation concessions are not extended to the Soviet Union or other satellites.

THIS DIPLOMACY is as open as a chess board. The certainty of thermonuclear destruction in a major conflict has anachronized the von Clausewitz doctrine that war is a "political instrument, a continuation of political relations . . . by other means." The means today are economic.



American purpose is long-term—ten years, 20 years, 30 years—to convince Soviet leaders that world dominance is costly and not worth the price. That's the basis of the wheat deal. We swapped a surplus product for Soviet gold.

THIS IS NOT new. Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, as well as Lyndon Johnson, tried to lure Khrushchev onto the road to consumerism instead of communism: Russia for the Russians instead of Russia hell bent for conquest.

The Republican party platform sweeps away such diplomatic nuances, saying, "We reject the notion that communism has abandoned its goal of world domination, or that fat and well-fed Communists are less dangerous than lean and hungry ones . . .

"Republican foreign policy starts with the assumption that communism is the enemy of this nation in every sense until it can prove that its enmity has been abandoned . . . We hold that trade with Communist countries should not be directed toward the enhancement of their power and influence but could only be justified if it would serve to diminish their power."

THIS IS AN understandable position. Certainly "communism uber alles" is still the Khrushchevian goal. Coexistence is his tactic to gain time and strength and ultimately to show the world that communism can outproduce capitalism. But President Johnson and Secretary of State Rusk know this.

For Americans, these are the questions: Do we carry on this political contest by differentiating between and among Communist countries, hoping to diminish the pull of Moscow as a center of power? Or do we treat all Communist countries as one and the same in a monolithic mass and thus erect our own Berlin Wall, saying, "This is war until you make political concessions"? Our hope is that concessions will flow out of a change in political direction.

ONE POWERFUL economic force will exert pressure on whoever is President. Before the war, 2 per cent to 4 per cent of total U.S. trade was with Eastern European countries, including the Soviet Union. Now, this proportion is less than 1 per cent (see chart).

Yet, the British, West Germans, French and Italians are widening their markets whenever possible. Our share in total East-West trade is less than 3 per cent, and we are losing points every month because Western Europe's volume is expanding rapidly. Will we—because of a doctrinaire, anti-Communist line—wall ourselves out of a market which our allies are calculatingly entering?

To Your Good Health

Mongolism A Congenital Malformation

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: After having normal children, I had a mongoloid. It passed away shortly after birth. I am very depressed and long to have another child, but my husband and I don't want to go through such heartbreak again.

How does such a birth occur? Is it more probable for women in their 40's? Can chromosome tests be made on the mother and father to predict whether the next baby will be mongoloid? Can such a birth be prevented? Can the percentage of risk be determined? — MRS. W. V.

This is a difficult letter to reply to because only a portion of the answers are as yet apparent. (A mongoloid baby is one which is mentally retarded. It also has some physical characteristics, slanted eyes, flattened nose, etc., which led to the term mongoloid.)

It was only about five years ago that monogolism was scientifically determined to be a genetic defect, the baby having 47 instead of the usual 46 chromosomes.

This difference in chromosomes may be inherited, or it may not; apparently it can also be a freak of development independent of the cellular make-up of the parents.

Anyway, some discrepancy in the chromosome count has been traced back as far as grandparents. The tendency may be present, yet no mongoloid babies appear for a generation or so. We need to know more about this. Much more.

Again, we also know that mothers under 30 seem to have about one mongoloid baby per 1,000 births. At age 40 or above, this increases to 2 or 3 per 1,000 births. The mother's age is the important factor; the father's doesn't seem to be a factor.

For practical purposes, I can say only that if a young mother has a mongoloid baby, complicated tests may show that she should not have any more children. In some cases, the advice will be a firm "NO." In others, we cannot say.

With older mothers, we can't say whether age or genetics is at work.

I wish I could give a nice, simple, concise answer here, but I can't. For one thing, it is certainly possible to have a mongoloid baby, yet have a perfectly normal baby afterward.

So here is the best answer I can offer to Mrs. W. V. or others concerned with this problem:

1—Yes, tests can be made but they are not conclusive in all cases. Only in some. Most of the big medical centers now can make such tests. They are too intricate for individual doctors to make.

2—Age of the mother is a factor.

3—There is no known method of preventing mongoloid babies. A mongoloid can occur along with normal or even exceptionally superior children.

Around The Rim

No Part In The 'Big Story'

The Abilene Reporter - News (no commercial announcement) carries one of those "looking backward" columns to 30 years ago. Currently the time covered is that depression-ridden span when I was a cub reporter on its staff with more brashness than sagacity.

So I scan the items being resurrected, to see if I can recall having been the original recorder.

LAST SUNDAY a paragraph told of a candidate and a heckler in his crowd exchanging blows. Another told of the county's old-settler reunion. I may have turned in the stories on both, but if so they have not been put under glass for the enlightenment of posterity.

But there was another item for the latter part of July, 1934; "John Dillinger died in a fusillade of bullets in north Chicago when 15 federal agents cornered him after he came out of the Biograph Theater x x x"

NOW THERE WAS a story, but I didn't cover it. All I can do is embroider a fanciful tale to make it sound like "I was there," which wouldn't fall within the realm of truth. Well, maybe just a teensy-weensy bit.

This was the time of vacation, and two couples had steamed their way to Chicago in a pretty smart-looking Model A, to take in the Chicago World's Fair. I don't even remember much about that extravangaza either, except that Sally Rand was there.

ANYWAY, John Dillinger got his, you may remember, late on a scorching Sunday evening. Our foursome had chosen this day to flee from the city, and spent the day on the eastern shores of Lake Michigan.

We huffed back into the city about dark, heading through the central business district toward our quarters. At the first traffic light, one could sense something electric in the air, something of terrific excitement. People were on street corners in clusters, talking excitedly. Drivers were exchanging shouts from their cars.

AS WE GOT a little closer in, the army of newspaper vendors engulfed us, as they did all traffic. They waved their papers with black headlines and screamed "Dillinger Slain!" You must recall that there was no television, and precious little spot radio coverage, so this was a newspaperman's eternal reward.

So we bought all the extras we could find, and absorbed the story of the outlaw and his sudden demise, all about the picture that was showing, and particularly, about the "lady in red" who supposedly led old John to the slaughter.

IT WAS ENOUGH to stay up all night and gab about. Telling of old tales permits more and more exaggeration as time goes on, and by now I can almost fancy myself standing in the lobby of the Biograph, jumping out of the G-men's line of fire. Truth is, I never saw the theater, Dillinger, the lady in red or any of the feds. I was just in Chicago when it happened. Isn't that enough to go on to make a big windy?

—BOB WHIPKEY

Barry Now Under The Spotlight

WASHINGTON — When it first was known that Sen. Barry Goldwater hoped to spend his post-convention vacation in Germany two of his Republican colleagues in the Senate were appalled. They felt that for him to go anywhere near Berchtesgaden, Hitler's mountain retreat, would be the worst possible identification for the campaign ahead.

But they were reluctant to approach Goldwater. They went to the minority leader, Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, to ask him if he would suggest to the man certain to be the party's nominee that this was an unhappy choice for a vacation.

THE ONLY WORD for the episode, and particularly when it is put alongside Der Spiegel interview, is incredible. The New York Times reported from Bonn that earlier Goldwater had given an interview to the Soldaten Zeitung, an extreme right-wing and militantly nationalist weekly published in Munich. In the June 28 issue the newspaper carried a banner headline in English: "Welcome, Mr. Republican."

From Goldwater's own personal view the German vacation had a perfectly reasonable motive. His good friend, Lt. Gen. William Quinn, commander of the Seventh Army, had invited the Goldwaters to come over for a rest when the turmoil of San Francisco was ended. Quinn is rated as exerting an important influence on Goldwater's military concepts.

NOW THE candidate is furious at the news media for reporting—distorting and lying, he says—his motives in wanting to visit Germany. What angered Goldwater in the initial Columbia Broadcasting System report was the statement that he intended to address a right-wing German group during his stay. He says this was untrue and he wanted only to relax with his friends.

The whole strange episode shows that Goldwater has not begun to learn that as the leader and the symbol of one of the two political parties his every act and every word will be held up to the most-searching scrutiny. He sometimes gives the impression he does not care.

THE WORD for Der Spiegel interview, published as reports of the proposed vacation came out, is also incredible. Of all the statements the candidate made none is more extraordinary than this: "Had not Germany in both wars been subjected to the supreme command of men—or a man in any case—who didn't understand war, I think Germany would have won both (World War I and II) of them."

EUROPEANS—left, right and center—have had a lot to say about the Republican choice of Goldwater. This runs the gamut from cries of horror from the left-liberal press to approval from the neo-Fascists of Italy and the Franco press in Spain. While it is probably impossible, it would be wise if in the campaign ahead we could ignore these outside kibitzers. As never before, this is our moment of truth when without flinching we must confront our own failures of omission and commission.

Communists In The Race Riots

WASHINGTON — The Communist conspiracy to provoke trouble inside the United States is at last coming out in the open. The riots in Harlem and Brooklyn have been participated in, and to a certain extent incited, by Communists—and Paul R. Screvane, acting mayor of New York City in the absence of Mayor Robert Wagner, publicly and officially said so last week.

COINCIDENTALLY, Senator James Eastland of Mississippi, Democrat, in a speech in the Senate, has called attention to the ways in which Communists have become a part of the race controversy by stimulating demonstrations and training student agitators.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been working on this problem for a long time, but it's one thing to be able to detect who the Communist agents are and quite another to make an arrest and get a conviction. For today the police as well as the courts are being frustrated by the Supreme Court decisions that put technicalities in the way of effective prosecutions, as criminal after criminal goes free even though guilty.

ALSO, THE House Committee on Un-American Activities and the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee have been badgered so much by the left-wing and so-called "liberal" elements that they have been hindered in carrying on penetrating investigations such as would expose to the public eye all that the Communists are doing in America. A persistent campaign has been waged to abolish the congressional committees concerned with these investigations, and it has gone so far as to enlist the support of unwitting and naive members of Congress—most of them "liberals."

WHEN A BIG city like New York is rocked by race riots in which the Communists play a substantial part, and hundreds of persons are injured and much property is damaged, it seems certain that the American people will demand sterner measures of protection than have been taken thus far by this and preceding administrations.

The left-wing and "liberal" groups in America which have been denouncing as "McCarthyism" the arguments about the Communist menace will have to do a turnabout if they wish to elect their candidates this fall, whether the nominees for congressional seats run on the Republican or the Democratic ticket. The public is fed up with the idea of letting the Communist apparatus continue its deliberate infiltration in the racial controversy.

MANY OF THE sensible, well-informed leaders of the Negro groups have been aware of the Communist activities and rightly have denounced them. But often they are powerless to get rid of the Communists because the latter have been able to deceive many of the rank and file of the Negro groups. All the facts about the intimacy of certain Negro leaders and the Communists have not as yet been revealed, but progress in that direction now may be expected.

President Johnson will find that the Communist involvement in the "civil rights" movement will have to be explicitly denounced and drastic measures taken to deal with the problem. Otherwise, if he wins the election, this may be viewed as another triumph for those groups in both parties which belittle Communist plots and brush aside as mere expressions of free speech the very demonstrations which result in violence.

NOW THAT extensive injury to innocent citizens has occurred, and violence is sweeping area after area in other parts of the country as well as the South, the persons who have triggered this part of the crime wave in America should be exposed and punished. Both the Democratic and Republican leaders would be well advised to note that the grassroots sentiment is aroused on the whole subject.

Oklahomans Building Theater Into Fixture

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—The converted warehouse at 1108 W. Main in Oklahoma City is the unpretentious site of an ambitious dream to make resident theater as important an element of community culture here as it is in Europe.

Once inside the double doors, you enter a world created and maintained by the Mummers, a semiprofessional acting company which borrowed its name from the roving acting groups of 14th century England.

"Our driving force," declares Mack Scism, the theater's energetic director, "is the desire to make the resident, repertory theater a basic part of the community's cultural and social life."

SINCE 1949

Scism, 36, has been with the group since its beginning in 1949 and became its full-time director in 1950.

There was a similarity between the acting group which held its first season in a second-hand circus tent on an open lot, and the Mummers of old.

"That summer," Scism reflects, "the wind blew so much we spent rehearsals holding the script in one hand and a corner of the tent with the other."

Civic groups picketed the theater as "unwholesome" and a "public nuisance."

"The publicity made people curious enough to come see us," he said.

"The next season we moved into a more protected spot at Will Rogers Park," Scism said. "The trees kept the wind away, but about half of our performances were rained out because the top of the tent kept tearing."

The next year found them playing to audiences in the Municipal Auditorium.

They only had part-time use and were forced to keep props mobile and at a minimum.

The group's flexibility came in handy when it took on the job of turning an unused warehouse into a theater.

The stage consists of a cleared area in the center of the room surrounded by tiers of rising seats.

Scism's determination was given a boost in 1959 by a $10,000 Ford Foundation grant to spend a year visiting theaters in Europe, Canada and the United States.

FORD-FINANCED

The Mummers are also participating in another Ford - financed venture, the Theater Communications Group, with eight college and 15 community theater bodies.

Scism says he hopes the group can nurture dying theater crafts such as wig making and costuming—crafts now restricted largely to Europe.

Next season will see the Mummers well along toward becoming a professional instead of a semiprofessional company.

The eight-play schedule will run 41 weeks instead of 32, and the acting company will be expanded by players who will devote their time to stage roles and not double as office personnel and prop and costume makers.

STAMPS IN THE NEWS

New Issue By India Salutes Late Nehru

By The Associated Press

The late Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru has been honored by India on a new 15 nay a paisa postage stamp, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The gray stamp depicts a smiling portrait of Nehru looking out on all the people of India. He was the first prime minister of India when the republic was established in 1950. Nehru's activity in the political field made him second in popularity to Gandhi. The new stamp also features Nehru's signature and his dates, 1889-1964.

Another new stamp from India is a 15 np gold green and dark brown commemorating the 100th anniversary of the birth of Asutosh Mookerjee, noted judge and vice chancellor of Calcutta University.

The Nevada Centennial Commission, which is going to great lengths to publicize its anniversary celebration, is also beating the drums for the 5 cent Nevada Centennial Stamp which goes on sale July 22. In addition to the post office in Carson City, the new stamps will be sold from a headquarters located in an old caboose from the rolling stock of the abandoned V & T Railroad built in 1870 to go between Carson City, Virginia City and Reno.

* * *

Here is a quick rundown on upcoming U.S. stamps to be issued after the Nevada Centennial on July 22. The 5 cent "Register and Vote" stamp at Washington on Aug. 1; 5 cent Shakespeare at Stratford, Conn., on Aug. 14; The Mayo Brothers at Rochester, Minn., on Sept. 11; The 8 cent airmail for Dr. Robert Goddard at Roswell, N.M., on Oct. 5; The 5 cent American Music at New York on Oct. 15.

Tunisia has issued a new stamp honoring its Labor Day. Depicted on the new stamp is a portrait of Mohamed Ali, Tunisian labor leader, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. Other stamps issued by Tunisia are: a stamp honoring the first anniversary of the Conference of the Heads of African Nations held in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia; also a set of two for National Day 1964 bearing a portrait of President Bourguiba.

* * *

Liechtenstein will issue on Sept. 1 four new stamps featuring famous coats of arms of various families. The 20 r is for counts of Werdenberg-Vaduz, 30 r for barons of Bradis, 80 r for counts of Sulz, and the 1 fr for the counts of Hohenems. On the same date Lichtenstein will issue a 50 r stamp dedicated to Europa. Depicted will be a Roman Castle in Schaan.

* * *

Ghana has issued a set of four new stamps commemorating the fourth anniversary of Ghana independence. The 3 pence features harvesting corn in a state farm. The 6 pence shows an oil refinery. The 1 shilling 3 pence illustrates communal labor. The 5 pence depicts an outline of people following the flag. Each stamp also bears a vignette portrait of President Nkrumah.

* * *

Tunisia has issued a new 50 —millieme stamp as part of the UNESCO campaign to save the Nubian Monuments, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The illustration on the new stamp features an arm, the hand of which holds a monument above the water. Another new issue reported is a 40-millieme commemorating the fourth World Meteorological Day.

Alan Ladd Stars In Jet's War Drama, 'Deep Six'

Alan Ladd as Lieutenant Alec Austen, one of the most exciting roles of his career, arrives Thursday at the Jet Theatre in Warner Bros.' "The Deep Six."

The handsome actor, who was one of the all - time favorites of the screen world, portrays the part of a naval officer on combat duty in the Aleutian Islands during World War II. Although of Quaker upbringing, he is assigned as gunnery officer aboard a destroyer on a hazardous mission to rescue trapped American fliers on a Japanese-held island.

The conflict between the character's moral obligation and his duty and honor to country and ship make for some of the movie's memorable moments. "The Deep Six" was adapted by John Twist, Martin Rackin and Harry Brown from a novel by Martin Dibner.

Ladd gathered some talented performers around his Jaguar production for Warner Bros., namely British stage star Dianne Foster as his most beautiful fiancee, William Bendix, Keenan Wynn, James Whitmore and Efrem Zimbalist Jr., as rough-and-rugged shipmates.

Zimbalist, the son of the famed violinist, has become a screen and TV favorite within the last years. The handsome actor scored heavily in roles in "Bomber B-52" and "Band of Angels."

Produced by Martin Rackin and directed by R. Mate, "The Deep Six" was filmed in WarnerColor. It is a Warner Bros.' presentation.

Sellers, Bride Expecting Baby

LONDON (AP)—Actor Peter Sellers and his bride of seven months, Britt Ekland, are expecting a baby, says the Daily Express.

The newspaper said the baby is due next January.

Sellers, 38, still is recuperating from a heart attack he suffered in Hollywood last February, six weeks after he married Miss Ekland, 21-year-old Swedish actress.

'Vertigo' Has Hitchcock Touch

Suspense as only producer-director Alfred Hithcock can dish it out will be offered film fans with his Paramount thriller, "Vertigo," starring James Stewart and Kim Novak, when it opens at the Jet Theatre.

Filmed in Technicolor and VistaVision in San Francisco and Monterey, Calif., the melodrama co-stars stage and television personality Barbara Bel Geddes, and features Tom Helmore and Henry Jones.

"Vertigo," based on the French novel "D'Entre Les Morts" (From Amongst the Dead), by the authors of "Diabolique," tells the kind of tension - terror tale with which Hitchcoek's name has become synonymous. It concerns the involvement of a retired detective (Stewart) in the affairs of an old schoolmate, (Helmore).

The latter talks the reluctant Stewart into shadowing his beautiful but neurotic wife (Miss Novak) whom he believes is contemplating suicide. Stewart's reluctance is partly based on the fact that he is afflicted with acrophobia (fear of heights), which caused the accidental death of a colleague and which led to Stewart's resignation from the police force.

Complications are compounded when Stewart falls in love with the wife, whose mysterious behavior leads him into all kinds of strange and dangerous predicaments before the surprise ending.

Miss Novak portrays two roles in "Vertigo"—but, like the ending, that's a part of the intriguing story it wouldn't be fair to talk about. Suffice it to say that "Vertigo" looms as another Hitchcock hit.

From Collection To Box Office

NEW YORK (AP)—Off-Broadway's oldest theater, the Gramercy Arts, is marking its 50th anniversary.

The playhouse, at Lexington Avenue and 27th Street, opened as the Bramhall in a building previously used by a fraternal society, two religious groups and a spiritualist organization. For 34 years the only box office was a collection plate. Regular ticket rates were established in 1959 when the house was refurbished and dropped its experimental performance pattern in favor of professional Equity presentations.

ARTHUR A. GRAVES JR.

Graves To Handle Sales Of New Firm

Vice President in charge of sales, Arthur A. Graves Jr., has taken over that office for Prestige Aluminum, Inc., and is in the process of moving to Big Spring from Dallas.

Graves is a native of Seattle, Wash., and is a graduate of the University of Washington with a degree in history and political science. He met Mrs. Graves while attending the university.

He went to Los Angeles, Calif., from Seattle and was with the Reynolds Metal Co. for five years. He was then general sales manager for the Ador Corporation, fabricators of windows and doors, before moving to Texas. His entire experience has been in the aluminum and glass business since 1950.

The executive met George McAlister, president of GAMCO and Math-Master in Big Spring, while he was stationed in Dallas, and the new company was organized in February to fabricate aluminum windows and sliding glass doors for residences. The products are to be sold nationally.

Graves said the Big Spring plant, in the GAMCO building on the Snyder Highway, is the only fabrication plant between Dallas and the West Coast, and that production would be stepped up to start immediately for national sales.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves are members of the Episcopal Church. They have four children: Arthur A. Graves III, 12; Cynthia Anne, 10; Kimberly, 8, and Kevin, 5.

Sales Continue Ballooning Up

From offering one item in 1955 to more than 1,000 today, the GAMCO, Inc., and Math-Master Labs, Inc., operations have grown from a total sales of $59 that first year to more than $500,000 during the 1963-64 fiscal year ending in April.

From 25 graph chalkboards a weekend, constructed with hired student help, production has risen to more than 500 a day in the modern plant northeast of Big Spring.

And although the original $32.50 chalkboard is still offered for sale, the catalogue now includes teaching aids ranging from small items such as compasses to a complete laboratory and classroom setup. The catalogue itself began as a mimeographed letter sent to schoolmen and now is a four-color printed booklet.

From a beginning in the garage at the home of George McAlister Jr., the operation has grown to the six-acre installation near the Snyder Highway, which with the addition of the new Prestige Aluminum, Inc., structure encloses more than 40,000 square feet.

The operation began when McAlister decided math teachers needed instructional aids not then being supplied by manufacturers. Hiring students who wanted to earn some part-time money on weekends, McAlister began constructing chalkboards ruled for graphs. The first year, October through December, 1955, saw sales total only $59, but the mimeographed letter sent to schoolmen paid results and sales jumped to $3,730 the next year. Passing the $200,000 mark in 1962, the operation has grown to production of some three to five van loads during the peak season and an inventory of more than $100,000.

The factory operation includes a 90-foot continuous oven which is one of the largest such automatic-controlled baking ovens in the United States. The surface of chalkboards are baked in infra-red ovens with heat of 100 to 300 degrees.

Equipment also provides construction of fabric boards, aluminum framing and bulletin boards, shadow boxes and cases for classroom use. Even though the operation has expanded to include manufacture of numerous items, the best selling single item remains the chalkboard with graph lines which is guaranteed to last as long as the building in which it is placed.

Included in the Math-Master Labs, Inc. catalogues are items from a range of major supply houses, such as the Royal math keyboard, Graflex projectors and Technifax overhead projectors.

The inventory involves cork imported from Holland, plastic models from West Germany and teaching aids from Sweden and England. The distribution and sales extend into all 50 states and numerous other countries.

The two companies, though operating under the same board of directors and using the same business offices, are entirely separate firms. GAMCO, Inc., is a manufacturing firm which sells to Math-Master Labs, Inc., as well as to other customers.

Math-Master Labs, Inc., does not manufacture, but buys both from GAMCO, Inc., and other companies and sells products both through its catalogues and to other outlets.

Superintendent of the plant operation for all three firms, including Prestige Aluminum, Inc., is H. D. McAlister, with each company having a sales manager. Derle Everett is sales manager for Math-Master Labs, Inc., and Roy D. Smith directs sales for GAMCO, Inc.

The buildings were completed in September of last year and include executive offices, reception and general offices, warehouse and shipping areas and manufacturing areas. The newer Prestige Aluminum, Inc., building was completed in June of this year.

The growth in the sales of Math-Master Labs, Inc., is shown in the total volume for each year.

The total volume for 1963-64 fiscal year topped the $500,000 mark.

GEORGE McALISTER JR.

From Garage To A Many Faceted Plant

After a teaching career which included Howard County Junior College, George McAlister Jr. has founded a business which from a beginning in his own garage in 1955 has now grown to include three operations in a 40,000-square-foot area northeast of Big Spring.

The business career launched in in a garage during weekends some nine years ago has become a position of overseeing two established firms now with an annual volume of more than $500,000, as well as a new company which will supply aluminum windows and patio doors for homes in Dallas, Los Angeles and eventually to cities in other parts of the nation.

McAlister now serves as president of all three companies—Math - Master Labs, Inc., GAMCO, Inc., and the new Prestige Aluminum, Inc., which includes both the Texas firm and subsidiary, Prestige Aluminum, Inc., of California.

Beginning his production of a graph chalk board invention in his own garage in October, 1955, he saw the business rise from a mere $59 that year to more than $72,000 in 1960. In 1961 he resigned from the college to devote full-time efforts to the booming business activity. In 1963 the sales of the firm, with two operations and marketing a wide range of teaching supplies, passed the $350,000 mark.

From 25 chalk boards a weekend as production — using students hired as help in the garage operation — McAlister has watched his idea grow into a modern manufacturing operation, with production now at more than 500 boards a day.

Davis Joined McAlister As Key Man In Operation

Not many businessmen are holding down three vice president positions at the same time, but Harold Davis is doing so as one of the key men in the tri-company operation involving GAMCO, Inc., Math-Master Labs, Inc., and the newly-added Prestige Aluminum, Inc., all of Big Spring.

Davis became a close friend of George McAlister Jr., president and founder of the firms, when both were on the faculty of Howard County Junior College. Davis later resigned from the school to become head basketball coach at Texas Western College at El Paso. In 1961, after the business started in a garage by McAlister boomed into a growing operation, he returned to Big Spring to become vice president.

HAROLD DAVIS

A native of Fort Worth and Denton, Davis graduated from Denton High School in 1939 and entered North Texas State University. Interrupted by wartime service, he later completed both his bachelors and masters degrees at the school.

His wartime service included duty with the Marines in the Pacific. Davis is now a lieutenant colonel in the Marine reserve.

Directs Three Plant Operations

H. D. McAlister has the complicated task of directing plant operations for three separate companies under one roof. In addition to the previous plant operations of Math-Master Labs, Inc., and GAMCO, Inc., McAlister now oversees the production for Prestige Aluminum, Inc., the newly-added company.

The aluminum company employs some 10 persons and is housed in a structure of about 11,500 square feet. Total size of the tri-company plant northeast of Big Spring is some 40,000 square feet.

McAlister left a successful automotive business to join the operations here when the original two companies were founded. A former student of East Texas State College, he has worked for E. I. duPont Company in Dallas and Memphis, Tenn., and with automotive agencies in Archer City and Jonesboro, Ark. He held a working interest in the latter firm.

A native of Commerce, McAlister is married and the family includes a daughter, Barbara Lou. Members of the Baptist church, the family lives at 2713 Ann.
